U. S. Tanks Occupy Former Red Stronghold

Immediate Spudding Is Slated For Two Midland Projects

Drilling is to be started immediately at two new wildcats in Midland County. One of them will be an Ellenburger exploration to 13,500 feet in the southwest part of the county. The other is slated to go to 7,500 feet in the northeast sector of the county, to try for production in the Spraberry sand.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 John Windham will be the Ellenburger wildcat. It is located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 32, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey.

That puts it 17 miles southwest of the City of Midland. It is four and one-half miles south of the south side of the Parks-Pennsylvanian field and seven miles north of the Pegasus-Ellenburger area.

Murphy Corporation and Husky Oil Company No. 1 Andrew Fackin will be the Northwest Midland County prospect.

It is to be 11 1/2 miles east of the City of Midland and one and one-quarter miles southwest of the nearest completed oil well in the Germania field.

The drillsite is to be at the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 14, J. V. Stokes survey, block 37, T-2-S. It is to hunt production in the Spraberry sand, the pay zone in the nearby Germania field.

NE Midland Test Is Now Swabbing

E. E. Fogelson and Edwin W. Pauley No. 1 W. C. Houston, Northeast Midland County wildcat, which had reported flowing new oil from the Spraberry sand Tuesday, after a Hydrafrac treatment, was swabbing Wednesday.

No information on the amount and sort of fluid being recovered was available.

This project had Hydrafracted the open hole section 6,970-7,009 feet with 1,500 gallons.

Responsible sources reported Tuesday after the treatment that the well had kicked off and was flowing an estimated 12 to 15 barrels of new oil per hour.

The well did kick off and it did flow for five hours and then the flow died.

After that happened interested observers made a check of the oil which was flowed out and most of them concluded that most of the oil which had been flowed out was load oil from the drilling fluid and from the Hydrafracting.

It is thought that some of the petroleum could have been new oil, as it showed some gas. However, it has not been possible to yet determine how much of the fluid might have been oil from the spraberry formation.

Further swabbing will probably determine whether or not the wildcat will make new oil in commercial amounts. Up to now it has apparently not done so.

Another DST Flows Oil In NW Upton

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 McKillop, Northwest Upton County Ellenburger discovery flowed oil naturally from a new section of hole at 12,282-228 feet.

The tool was open two hours. A 1,556-foot water blanket was used. Gas surfaced after 32 minutes and the water blanket started flowing out in 38 minutes.

Oil started flowing out at the top in 51 minutes. It was run to pits for nine minutes to clean and then flowed to tanks for one hour through a three-quarter-inch bottom hole choke.

The section produced 57 barrels of oil the first 30 minutes and 48 barrels the second 30 minutes. Gravity was 54 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 293-1.

Operator was pulling the tester at last report. There were no signs of water. The project probably will core deeper.

This new field opener has shown for production in the Ellenburger from the section from 12,102 feet to the present level of operations.

Location is 690 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 129, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey. It is 18 miles northwest of Rankin and 23 miles northeast of McCamey.

SW Flanker Staked In Midland Sector
Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 H. F. Timmerman is to be a one location southwest stepout from production from the Pennsylvanian line on the southeast side of section 8, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey. Projected destination is 10,600 feet.

Operations are to start immediately. (Continued On Page Seven)

300 Years Meted Out To Bill Cook

OKLAHOMA CITY—(P)—Admitted slayer William E. Cook, Jr., Wednesday was sentenced to terms totaling 300 years in "Alcatraz or another safe prison where he has no chance of escape" for the slaying of the five members of the Carl Mosser family of Atwood, Ill.

U. S. District Judge Stephen Chandler gave Cook, who showed no visible signs of emotion, 60 years for each of five counts in the kidnap-murder of Mr. and Mrs. Mosser and their three children.

Society stands indicted for permitting this child to grow up in inhuman conditions that permitted these crimes," Chandler said.

"These crimes might not have been committed if he (Cook) received civilized care and training," Chandler added.

The sentencing came as a sudden end to a sanity hearing to determine whether the 23-year-old ex-convict from Missouri knew right from wrong.

Judge Hails Hearing
Closing arguments had been scheduled Wednesday, but at the beginning of the session Chandler said he already had made up his mind and turned down an appeal by U. S. District Attorney Robert E. Shelton to continue the hearing until Monday for submission of further evidence.

Cook, dressed in a zipper jacket and khaki pants, sat as he had in past hearings, staring at the floor. Not once did he move or indicate he knew what was going on in the federal courtroom which was packed with more than 200 spectators.

Only when pushed by his court-appointed attorneys did he stand so the judge could pronounce sentence.

The five 60-year terms are to run consecutively.

Harrison Rites To Be Held At 10 A. M. Thursday

Funeral services for John S. Harrison, 50-year-old city electrical inspector who died Tuesday, will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday.

The services will be held in the Newline W. Ellis Chapel with the Rev. R. Luther Kirk, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Harrison came here nine years ago from McCamey, was with the Post Engineers at Midland Army Air Field during World War II and had been with the city for the last three years.

He was active in Masonic circles and was a member of the Midland Commandery and the Chapter and Council in Big Lake. He was a member of the Midland Shrine Club and the Suez Shrine Temple, San Angelo. Masonic services will be held.

He is survived by the widow, a son, three brothers and three sisters.

Vacancy Survey Is Ordered

Byron L. Simpson of San Angelo had been appointed Wednesday to survey a 40-mile-long strip of oil-rich land involved in a vacancy claim filed several weeks ago by a Fort Worth attorney.

Preliminary to the survey, a meeting will be held at 10 a. m. Monday in the Glasscock County Courthouse in Garden City to explain the procedure to all interested parties.

Simpson was appointed by Bacon Giles, commissioner of the General Land Office, after James C. Wilson, Jr., Fort Worth, filed the claim on the allegedly unsurveyed lands.

All Under Lease
Wilson claimed the vacant strip, cutting through Martin, Midland, Glasscock and Regan Counties, ranges from 600 feet to 250 feet in width.

The strip also cuts through the Germania and Tex-Harvey oil fields and all of it now is under lease to oil companies for possible development.

While the law allows 120 days for the survey, Simpson said it probably will be completed within a month. He then will submit his field notes, his report and a plat of the land to the land office. A hearing subsequently will be held.

The vacancy claim is based on reported discrepancies in the surveys of reservations granted the Texas and Pacific railroad.

Winter Makes Lie Out Of Calendar On First Day Of Spring

By The Associated Press
Spring arrived Wednesday and found Winter making a liar out of the calendar.

Spring's fresh, gentle breezes were missing except for a few spots in the deep South and in the far Southwest.

Temperatures were below normal over most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation. It was cold in the central part of the country from the Northern Rockies to the Northern Appalachians.

It was freezing in North Texas as Spring made its official entry. But present indications are for a pretty day Easter Sunday.

Temperatures as low as 23 degrees at Dalhart and Amarillo were reported in the Panhandle and other parts of North Texas just about the time Spring came at 4:26 a. m.

A weak cool wave moved southward across Texas under partly cloudy skies during the day. But it wasn't expected to bring bitter cold. Tuesday's high was 80 at Presidio.

Lows of 26 to 36 degrees were forecast for the Panhandle and South Plains Wednesday night, slightly above Tuesday night's minimums.

Warmer weather was forecast Thursday.

And the Weather Bureau said conditions were good at present for a warm and sunny day Sunday. Changes in other areas which affect Texas weather could change that picture before Easter, however.

Trial Of Woman For Murder Is Underway

ODESSA—(P)—Testimony began Wednesday in the trial of Marie Fondren, 30, formerly of Texarkana, charged with murder of her ex-husband, John Fondren.

Selection of the jury was completed last Tuesday.

Fondren was shot to death last December 4 while sitting in a car in downtown Odessa.

Emergency alarms had five ambulances and three fire trucks waiting beside the runway when the plane landed.

Col. O. F. Gorlup of Washington, chief of the Army Medical Service Corps, was a passenger. He said passengers noticed considerable vibration after the tire blew.

Other losses included the two fire trucks, two automobiles, a gas truck belonging to the Gulf Refining Company, and stores of national guard ammunition and equipment.

The building housed the Pioneer Air Lines' Sweetwater office. The Abilene office of Pioneer estimated the airline's loss at $5,000, including Tuesday receipts.

Joan Edwards Dies Early Wednesday At Home In Rankin

Joan Edwards' long fight for life and consciousness is over—Joan died at 5 a. m. Wednesday.

Her two years, two months and four days of unconsciousness touched the hearts of the nation. She died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards, in Rankin. She was 25 years of age.

It was at 8 p. m., Jan. 17, 1949, that the pretty young West Texas woman was knocked into unconsciousness in an automobile accident two miles east of Odessa in ice storm weather. She never regained consciousness.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday in the First Baptist Church of Rankin, with interment to follow in the Rankin Cemetery.

The Spalding Funeral Home of McCamey is in charge of arrangements.

The Rev. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Lake, and the Rev. Warren L. Capps, pastor of the Rankin First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Funeralbearers will be S. H. Bean, Jr., David Workman, Eugene Holmes, Henderson Scarborough, Clayton Damon and Winston Holcomb.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards of Rankin; a grandfather, Houston W. Baker of Altus, Okla.; and the following aunts and uncles: Mrs. G. R. Cearley, Mrs. Glenn Hunter, B. H. and M. L. Baker, all of Altus; Mrs. C. F. Wilkes of El Paso, Paul H. Baker in Texas, Mrs. L. H. Baker of Lorenzo, Texas, Mrs. Paul Romine, Matton, Ill., Lonnie L. Edwards, Vallejo, Calif., and I. L. Edwards, Albuquerque, N. M.

Joan Edwards was born April 25, 1925, in Los Angeles, Calif. She was graduated from Rankin High School in 1942 and Texas Tech in 1946. She was employed by The Reporter-Telegram March 10, 1947, and was an employe at the time of her accident.

26 Planes Destroyed In $200,000 Fire At Sweetwater Airport

SWEETWATER—(P)—A small plane exploded in the main hangar of the Sweetwater Municipal Airport Tuesday night, lighting a fire which destroyed the building and 25 other planes.

City Manager Henry Nabers estimated the loss at more than $200,000.

Otto Benlhauer, night watchman at the airport, said the explosion spread the flames so fast he was unable to reach fire fighting equipment and two city fire trucks parked in the hangar.

Nabers said officials had been unable to find what caused the plane to explode. He said airport records were destroyed in the fire and authorities would not know exactly how many planes were lost until the owners checked on them.

Two Fire Trucks Burn
Other losses included the two fire trucks, two automobiles, a gas truck belonging to the Gulf Refining Company, and stores of national guard ammunition and equipment.

The building housed the Pioneer Air Lines' Sweetwater office. The Abilene office of Pioneer estimated the airline's loss at $5,000, including Tuesday receipts.

One of the automobiles was owned by C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder oil man.

The hangar, built as a part of Avenger Field during World War II, housed the National Guard Armory. Exploding ammunition punctuated the fire.

Firemen were able to keep the flames from spreading to old Avenger Field barracks, now used for civilian housing.

'This Is Midland' Remains On Display In Hotel Lobby

The "This Is Midland" painting by Saint-Lou, noted French impressionist, remains on display in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer, where it is attracting widespread interest and comment.

Meanwhile, bids for the beautiful scene are being accepted by The Reporter-Telegram. The entire proceeds from the sale of the oil painting will go to the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Bids, accompanied by checks or other indication of good faith, should be forwarded to The Reporter-Telegram. Checks should be made payable to the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Body Of Murdered Cab Driver Found In Roadside Ditch

ORANGE—(P)—The body of Wallace C. Cormier, about 35, Orange cab driver, was found in a ditch on a highway near here Wednesday. His head had been blown apart by a blast from a shotgun.

Nearby was his blood-stained cab. His purse was missing and small change was scattered about the floor of the vehicle.

Officers were questioning an ex-convict, who lives at the address to which Cormier's last call was made about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Main Bulk Of Red Chinese Believed Now North Of 38

TOKYO—(P)—An American tank force Wednesday rumbled into the former Chinese stronghold of Chunchon. It met only flag-waving Korean civilians.

The Chinese, who had made the Central Korean road center their troop massing point in South Korea, apparently had withdrawn north of Parallel 38.

Chunchon is eight and one-half miles south of the Red Korean border.

It was from Chunchon that the Chinese mounted their two massive offensives in January and February against Wonju, deep in Central Korea.

On the western front, South Korean and American tank forces, ranging up the historic invasion route of Korea, bumped into bitter Communist resistance north of Seoul.

An American tank patrol on the road to Uijongbu ran into a heavy mine field.

"The small arms and mortar fire were so intense that it was impossible for the men to leave the tanks and remove the mines," an operations officer said.

On the east coast, South Korean units were placed officially within eight and one-half miles of the old border between North and South Korea. Patrols may have reached or crossed the imaginary line.

NPA Assists Midlanders On Permits

Two representatives of the National Production Authority conferred here Tuesday night and Wednesday with 25 individuals seeking information on commercial building permits.

The men were from the district office of NPA in El Paso. They are Milton E. Hopper, business specialist, and H. E. Dancy, Jr., analyst.

Hopper said the new order M-46 is the most important to this area. It provides priority to petroleum and gas operators in obtaining repair and operating supplies and also for obtaining oil field tubular goods for production operations.

Copies of M-46 regulations and a press notice explaining them were left at the Midland Chamber of Commerce for the use of interested persons.

Delegated To El Paso
Last week, Hopper said, the NPA gave authority to the El Paso office to process and approve or deny applications to begin commercial construction. This authority had been delegated in the Dallas regional office. The address of the El Paso NPA is: Chamber of Commerce Building, 310 San Francisco Street, and the telephone number is 2-1642.

"We are in a position to give assistance on any NPA problem or anything relating to business coming under the Department of Commerce," Hopper said.

Hopper also explained that under NPA Regulation 4 of Defense Order 197, any business is permitted to certify on purchase orders its own priority for maintenance, repair and operating supplies and minor capital additions.

They will conduct an open forum at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring Wednesday night and individual conferences there Thursday morning. Thursday night a meeting will be held in the Elliott Hotel in Odessa, followed by individual conferences Friday morning. The two will hold a meeting at the Monahan Chamber of Commerce Friday night and be in Pecos Saturday morning for conferences.

Businessmen Complain
Regulation 7 affects such commodities as clothing and furniture and most items except food and drugs.

The Associated Press reported OPS had been swamped with appeals from many of the 200,000 merchants affected by the order. The businessmen complained the busy Easter season didn't permit the heavy burden of paper work required by the OPS order.

C. W. Dunnam, manager of The Dunlap Company, said the extension would be a relief to most business firms.

"We are just about through with our charts," he said. "But we had to work day and night and Sunday to get it whipped."

"It's the worst we ever got into as we had so many categories of items and had to dig up invoices on each one."

He added he knew of some merchants who had not been able to start on their price charts. The OPS extension will be helpful to them. Terrific Headache

John Mills, manager of Midland Hardware and Furniture Company, said he had hoped an extension would be granted.

"I know a lot of merchants who wouldn't have made the old deadline," he said. "They were too busy with pre-Easter business to take the time required to make out the charts."

Gerome Grayum, J. C. Penney Company manager and chairman of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said, "Getting an extension was a must for most merchants. This has been a terrific headache. And some were not going to be able to make the old deadline."

Last week the OPS conducted a one-night clinic on Regulation 7 for area merchants from 17 counties in the Midland County Courthouse. The meeting had been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce.

Extension Of OPS Filing Deadline Aids Midland Merchants

Extension of the deadline for filing price charts under OPS Regulation 7 brought relief to many hard-pressed Midland and area merchants.

March 29 was the previous deadline. But Office of Price Stabilization headquarters in Washington, according to an Associated Press dispatch, Tuesday extended the filing time to April 30.

There were reports in Midland that some business establishments coming under Regulation 7 could not have completed their price charts in time to meet the early deadline. The regulation permits a percentage margin of profit.

Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, said the March 29 deadline worked a hardship on most Midland merchants.

"Additional help was not available," he said, "and thousands of items and invoice listings had to be recorded. I'm pleased that they've seen fit to extend the time."

Lois Butler Is In The Lead
For Deanna Durbin's Crown

HOLLYWOOD — Several re-makes of Deanna Durbin's early musicals are in the drafting board stage at U.I. with Lois Butler leading the pack in the race to inherit Deanna's warbling crown.
There's a big new career looming for Lois, who starred in "Mickey," now that she's free of an Eagle-
Lion contract.

Reason why Yvonne de Carlo won't be docking in New York harbor on schedule is that she's in Spain with bullfighter-poet Mario Cabre. If Ava Gardner can get sonnets out of Mario, so can Yvonne.

Before June Haver agreed to accept an award for having a beautiful pair of gams, on a 10-best list which excluded perennial winner
Betty Grable, she checked with Fox executives. June was worried that Betty, also under contract at Fox, would do a bit of knife throwing. The studio gave her its blessing. So did Betty.

It was bound to happen. The sneak preview of "Father's Little Dividend," in which Don Taylor again plays Liz Taylor's movie husband, brought him this fan letter:

"Just saw your new movie with
Liz. You're so nice and treat her so well. I can't understand the divorce and how you can get into so much trouble."
He wanted to forward it to Nick
Hilton, then thought better of it.

Ginger Rogers' ex-husband, Jack

Briggs, is working on a TV station in San Diego . . . Rosalind Russell hasn't made a movie in a year and a half—her longest absence from the screen.

Rod Cameron's headed for a pic-

The ad line cooked up by Warners for "Lightning Strikes Twice" reads:
"Ruth Roman Is All Woman."
It may be followed by:

"Lassie Is All Dog" in "Shep of

"Francis Is All Mule" in "Francis

"Frank Sinatra Is One-Third

Man" in "It's Only Money."

Judy Holliday is the film version of Dorothy Parker's "Big Blonde"?
"Judy's the only woman in the world that I want for the part," the witty Dorothy told me. "Judy can be so pathetic."
I asked Dorothy the question literary critics throughout the country are asking: When would she write again?

"When I get through housebreaking our puppy," she smiled.
Then she shrugged and amended
it. "Actually, I am working on a story now."

Mark Stevens, star of "Target Unknown," is missing from the screen for three reels of the picture yet rates the film one of his best. He told me:
"I'd like to have been missing for eight reels in some of the pictures I've made."

Sanctuary Choir Will Present Sacred Cantata

"Olivet To Calvary," a sacred cantata on the last days of Jesus, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday by the Sanctuary Choir of the First Christian Church. The cantata will be a feature of the communion service to be held in the church.

The first part covers musically the rejoicing of the multitude with Hosannas and palms, the view of Jerusalem from the Mount of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the temple and the lonely walk back over the Mount at night.

The second part opens with the supper of the Passover at which Jesus washes his disciples' feet and gives to his friends the new commandment of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the pathos of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by His disciples, His utter loneliness among the ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the judgment hall and the tragedy and triumph of Calvary.

Soloists will be Nancy Webb, Mrs. Larry Meiser, Mrs. Charles Dixon, Jerry Sides and Mrs. W. E. Shipp, Jr.

Sensible Redistricting Bill

State Rep. Harley Sadler of Abilene rides to the rescue of various Texas counties and six Texas congressmen by offering a substitute bill which would offset the vicious congressional redistricting plan proposed by one Rep. Paul Wilson of deep East Texas.

Whereas Wilson's nightmarish proposition would separate Midland from other leading oil counties of the Permian Basin Empire and would force U. S. Rep. Ken Regan and five other congressmen into races against each other, Sadler's plan would create only one completely new district (Harris County) and would not legislate any congressman out of office.

Representative Sadler's action is most encouraging, as is the statement of Senator Hill D. Hudson of Pecos that he is "forcefully opposing all of the congressional redistricting bills leaving Midland out of the present district or adversely affecting Ken Regan."

Although we have not seen the county alignment as proposed by Sadler, it surely must be an improvement over the one which would place Midland, an oil and cattle center, in a sheep and goat district to the southeast; Abilene in a more or less East Texas district, and other cities and counties in areas completely foreign in so far as community interest is concerned.

Sadler at least is familiar with economic boundaries, particularly in West Texas, and he says he would rearrange districts on an equitable population basis without throwing any congressmen into races against each other. We have no idea what basis Wilson used in coming up with his proposition, but it would appear he studied long and hard to make it so completely upsetting.

Sadler said he sees no reason for a redistricting bill like Wilson's. Many Texans surely agree with him on that. They also will agree with him that it is the function of the people to elect or retire their members of Congress. Sadler's proposal at least should receive thorough study and consideration by the Legislature, while there is considerable doubt if Wilson's plan will receive much consideration.

What Price Destruction

We note that a single medium tank now costs $120,000 and a single heavy bomber costs around $4,000,000. Seems as if inflation has made war material so expensive that civilization can't afford to destroy itself.

Real lovers of the red, white and blue have sense enough to keep away from the black market.

Let's shake on the fact that it's mighty easy to pack a grip full of real friendship.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson - (Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Iron Curtain not hard to penetrate personally; Red satellite millions eager for information about U.S.; Voice of America with Berlin-to-Turkey radio network puncturing "curtain" would pay dividends for peace.

Ed. Note: Drew Pearson is making a flying tour of the Middle East and Europe, surveying the world situation.

BERLIN — This is the extreme northern end of the Iron Curtain. I started this trip at the Southern end where it begins, between Bulgaria and Turkey—a long line of barbed wire extending north—and now have reached the other end, where it isn't even barbed wire but fans out into the east zone of Berlin.

One of the most important conclusions I've reached on this trip is that Winston Churchill did the democratic world a disservice when he talked about the border between Russia and the Western world as an Iron Curtain, because the border isn't as impervious as the word "iron" indicates.

The border between Czechoslovakia and the American zone in Germany, for instance, can be crossed almost any night. In fact, it is crossed constantly by Germans who make their living smuggling goods back and forth.

The border between East and West Germany is like a sieve while, in Berlin, thousands of people walk or ride back and forth daily between the Russian and American zones. I entered the Russian zone without even knowing I was in it and drove through several miles of its battered streets. The only way you have of knowing you are in the Russian zone is through the signs on the streets which say: "You are now entering the democratic section of Berlin."

This fairly easy access into restricted areas behind the Iron Curtain raises one of the most important omissions on the part of the United States government—namely, why are we not doing more to influence the people on the other side of the curtain? Obviously the curtain was rung down by Stalin for only one reason: Because he fears intercourse between East and West—he knew contact with the modern marvels of capitalism would make it difficult to Progress stops when a single class appropriates the result of the common labor, strengthens its rights by unfair laws, throttles the masses by suppression, and consumes in luxury what it has taken in greed. —Dorothy Frank Cowan, wife of U. S. Ambassador to Philippines.

So They Say

The evolution of jazz styles has bored the public. In general the American public isn't much interested in bop and progressive jazz. And the public is the same everywhere. The true initiates are rare. —Jacques Helian, French band-leader.

The United States has adopted the Japanese policy of expansion and has made the Japanese their accomplices. —Premier Kuo Mo Jo, Chinese Communist deputy.

It is only human nature for a taxpayer to take every deduction and every advantage he feels entitled to take under his interpretation of the law. Sometimes, we disagree with his interpretation. —George J. Schoenman, commissioner of internal revenue.

You can't do much fightin' with planes on order. —Lt. Gen. Ennis Whitehead, chief of U. S. air defenses.

German programs. And, being close to the scene, it covers local news, uses local wisecracks and disseminates local political gossip. Making the Voice of America effective from 4,000 miles away is like publishing a newspaper in Chicago from a news desk located in London.

If, therefore, we are to puncture the easily punctured Iron Curtain, what we need is a series of local radio stations extending from Berlin to Turkey—one along the Czechoslovak border in the American Zone of Germany broadcasting in Czech and Slovak languages, one in the American Zone in Austria, one in Yugoslavia to reach near by Hungary and Albania, and one in Turkey to reach Southern Russia.

Such a radio network would pay 100 per cent dividends in getting our ideas beyond and behind the Iron Curtain.

However, radio propaganda alone, while important, won't do the job. My examination of the Iron Curtain convinces me that, in addition, we could get all sorts of propaganda into satellite countries. Thousands of people in Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Poland are eager for information about the outside world and even are willing to risk their lives to get it and help disseminate it.

During the war we devised all sorts of schemes to get our propaganda behind the enemy lines. We devised waterproof propaganda leaflets which could not be destroyed by rain. We devised small printing presses, which one man could carry and operate. We printed messages in Bibles and got them distributed in churches.

But we are neglecting much of this today. We are spending billions to rearm a reluctant Europe, many parts of which don't particularly want to be rearmed. Meanwhile, only a few millions spent on getting our propaganda behind the Iron Curtain might pay a bonanza of dividends for peace.

Tax of Increases Pay Off Employees

Harry T. Klein, president of The Texas Company, has announced that the company has granted pay increases to its more than 51,000 employees in the United States.

Those increases, together with a six per cent general increase granted last Fall, make a total general pay increase of ten per cent above the wages and salaries paid on January 15, 1950.

This conforms to Wage Stabilization Board's General Regulations No. six.

The company president announced that the increases will be effective March 1, 1951, except that for all employees represented by unions, the increases will be subject to negotiation with local bargaining agents.

Researchers Ready To Give Age Of Elk

BOZEMAN, MONT.—Do you have an elk? Want to know its age? Just bring the elk or one of its teeth to Montana State College. Researchers will get out their calipers, measure the tooth, do some figuring and come up with the age of the elk.

The age of an elk may be of scant general interest, but it's important knowledge for big game managers who want to know the age of animals being killed. Managers know that the herd is healthy if many of the killed elk are young. But if older animals are numerous, some adjustment must be made to preserve breeding stock.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSS
Someone says that when a woman lowers her voice, it's a sign she wants something and when she raises her voice, it's a sign she didn't get it.
After a pupil in the fifth grade had given the names of all 48 states, the teacher said, "You did much better than I could have done at your age." The child replied, "Oh, you could have named them all—there were only 13 then."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
When today's hand was played in a recent team-of-four match, the bidding and the opening lead were identical in the two rooms. As a matter of fact, the play continued to be similar until the fourth trick—but then there was a great difference.

In both rooms dummy won the first trick with the ace of diamonds. Both declarers than made an attempt to get rid of the losing diamond on a high club. They cashed the king and ace of clubs, and then led the queen of clubs from dummy.

In the second room East ruffed the queen of clubs with the nine of hearts. South over-ruffed with the ten of hearts and led a trump. Dummy played the king of hearts, and East won with the ace. East thereupon cashed the king of diamonds, thus getting a diamond trump back for the trump trick he had apparently sacrificed. But the story was far from finished.

When South ruffed the third round of diamonds, he naturally led another trump towards dummy. West played the five of hearts, and declarer went into a huddle. Who had the missing jack of trumps?

If West had it, a finesse of dummy's eight would assure the contract. If East had it, no finesse should be taken. But how could East have the jack of hearts, South reasoned, and give up a sure trump trick by ruffing the queen of clubs with the nine?

Therefore South finessed the eight of hearts, and East got his trump trick anyway. West eventually got the queen of spades as the setting trick.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable you deal yourself the following cards: Spades Q-7-5-3-2, Hearts A-K-J-8-6, Diamond 3, Club 2. What do you do?

A—Bid one heart. As in yesterday's question hand, you open the bidding because of the excellent distribution. Bid the hearts first because they are longer than the spades. If possible, you will bid and rebid the spades later on.

TODAY'S QUESTION
With both sides vulnerable, you deal yourself the following cards: Spades Q-7-5-3, Hearts A-K-J-9, Diamonds 4-3, Clubs 6-3-2. What do you do?

GUNNISON, Colo. —(AP)—Dick Bratton of Salida, Colo., can hardly remember when he wasn't a class president. He is president of the freshman class at Western State College here. In Salida, he was president of the eighth, ninth, 10th, 11th, and 12th grades.

The Gold Mannequin By Myles Connolly COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Tim Reese, a crippled veteran, who has kept "Jean Paul" an exclusive gown shop, in business with his designer, "Jean Paul," learned to walk again. On his first night out since Normandy in 1944, he goes to New York to surprise Jean Paul, a beautiful model, who is half owner of the shop.

At first, Jean did most of the talking. It was a great happiness for her, she told Tim, to see him out of the wheelchair. Now, she intimated, they could be together often in New York. That is, she smiled, if he wished it.

Then, before he had opportunity to question her, she shrewdly sought to divert his mind of any doubts or suspicions he might have had. She had been so busy on her return to New York, she explained, she had not had a single minute to write or telephone.

The business of getting home had thrown her into complete confusion, and, on top of that, she said, the hasty preparations for the Ball had all but driven her mad.

Finally, she decided, she would not let Tim know of the Ball until it was over. She was certain, she said, the winter white gown would win the award. She thought it best to wait then and surprise him with the announcement.

But Tim had long since forgiven, or, more correctly, forgotten.

EARLIER, when they left the Empire, Tim thought they would be gone only a few minutes. But Jean, at Guilio's, at ease and enjoying herself, made no move to return. When Tim sus-

WASHINGTON COLUMN

See Little Comfort For GOP In Missouri Election Victory

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Results in the Missouri 11th District special congressional election have led political experts to do a lot of plain and fancy predicting.

In this election for a successor to the late Democratic Congressman John B. Sullivan, Republican candidate Claude I. Bakewell won. He got 25,700 votes. His Democratic opponent, Harry Schendel, got 19,500. Both figures are in round numbers.

The winner, Bakewell, is a smart and good-looking young lawyer and Navy veteran. He served in the 80th Congress, 1946-48. He was defeated for reelection in 1948 and 1950.

The loser, Schendel, is an automobile dealer who had served in the state legislature. During the campaign he was accused of being the hand-picked candidate of Morris Shenker, counsel for some of the witnesses called before Senator Ke-fauver's Crime Committee hearing in St. Louis.

As a result of Bakewell's 6,200-vote majority, GOP National Chairman Guy George Gabrielson declared in Washington that "The vote . . . reflects the distrust and disapproval of the vast majority of the American people over the policies, performances and cronies of the Truman Administration."

Other seers have read into the result a prediction that the country would go Republican, overwhelmingly, in 1952. All such forecasts, now are challenged by Louis H. Bean, author of "How to Predict Elections," and "The Mid-Term Battle." A Department of Agriculture economist, professionally, Bean has made the study of election statistics his principal hobby.

Record Tells True Story
To get the picture of what happened in the 11th Missouri District special election, Bean looks at the record of past congressional election results there.

Table showing election results for Missouri 11th District from 1936 to 1951, including Year, Dem. Vote, Rep. Vote, and Pct.

First look at the difference between 1950 and 1951 results. The Democratic vote dropped 37,500. The Republican vote dropped 5,300. Almost two-thirds of the Democrats in the Missouri vote was obtained with a smaller vote than it has had in the last 15 years.

The same thing is shown in even more marked degree by comparing the 1948 results with the 1951 special election. The Democratic vote was off 58,500. The Republican vote was off 15,300.

What these figures prove to Bean is an old but basic fact in American political history. It is that the size of the total vote is crucial, and that the size of the vote always falls off from a presidential election year to a congressional election year. And it always falls off even more in special elections.

The total 11th Missouri vote of both parties was 119,000 in 1948, a presidential year. In the congressional elections of 1950, total vote was 88,000—a drop of 31,000. In the special election just held the total vote was only 45,000. The drop is 43,000—almost 50 per cent from last Fall. The drop was 74,000 from the presidential election in 1948.

There is a national American political spatey over congressional elections, says Bean. Forty per cent of the people don't vote in congressional elections and even more don't vote in special elections. And a light vote always hurts the Democrats.

Over and over this happens, he declares, and political experts always misread the results. They look at the margins of victory, and not at the total vote.

The recent special election in the 11th District of Missouri doesn't justify any belief that there was a great wave of revulsion, in Bean's opinion, because there were actually 5,300 fewer Republicans voting in 1951 than in 1950. Finally he declares the result has no bearing on what this district will do in 1952, for the record shows it always has gone Democratic in presidential years.

Questions and Answers

Q—How long did it take Charles F. Blair, Jr. to make his recent crossing of the Atlantic?

A—Blair, an American Airlines pilot, piloted a converted Mustang fighter from New York to London in seven hours and 48 minutes. He traveled at 37,000 feet, moving 450 miles an hour.

Q—What was the name of Lot's wife?

A—The name of Lot's wife is not mentioned in the Bible.

Q—Is the slash pine fast growing?

A—These trees rang high among the fast-growing, early-maturing pines. During the first 20 years they outgrow all other pines, sometimes reaching a height of 45 feet.

Q—How old is the tune "The Arkansas Traveler"?

A—This essentially instrumental piece goes back to the middle of the past century and is of unknown origin. In 1852, Currier and Ives published a lithograph giving the story of "The Arkansas Traveler" in six pictures, possibly our first comic strip.

Q—Is there any difference in the pay of draftees and enlisted men in the Army?

A—The pay of enlisted men in the United States Army is the same whether they are regular Army men, National Guardsmen, or draftees.

Automobile drivers tell Belgrade cops what they intend to do and the policemen, interpreting their horn signals, signals them on. The system is possible because there are so few cars in Yugoslavia.

gested perhaps it was time she should go back, she was amused. "You are much more fascinating than anyone there," she said.

"Now, wait a minute," Tim protested. "Whose design won tonight?" "But look who modeled it."

"A model is only as good as what she wears." She was all candor now. "Here you are in New York, walking around handsome and healthy? What could be more exciting? I haven't begun to get over the surprise of seeing you—"

She was intimate, physical now, "—and I have an idea it'll take longer than tonight to get over the pleasure of it."

"Take as long as you like," he grinned. "We're both young. It sounds fine to me."

Paul Panciera alone troubled Tim's evening. It was with some uneasiness that he mentioned him. Was he the Paul of the Jean Paul? Was he the ogre she had intimated the head of the firm to be?

JEAN was immediately wary. "I don't think anyone could consider him a Prince Charming—underneath."

"He has the old charm on the surface, I'll say that for him."

"He does make a pleasant appearance, and that is important in the business," Jean moved closed. "I don't want to describe him to you out at the hospital. I was afraid you'd be jealous."

Tim was pleased, soothed. "You knew even then I might be jealous of someone else?" She laughed her intimate little laugh. "No one could ever call you subtle, Mr. Reese."

Thus easily was Mr. Panciera disarmed. (To Be Continued)

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Champion Pig-Caller

Daddy Ringtail said that now was the time to feed the pigs. He filled a sack with corn and walked with the Huffen on down to the corner of the pasture where the pigs lived. Oh, but where were the pigs? That's what the Huffen wanted to know.

Daddy Ringtail explained that the pigs were out there in the pasture somewhere, maybe looking for acorns to eat. But now was the time to call them to supper, and please would the Huffen call them?

Yes sir, and yes indeed, and of course the Huffen would call those pigs, he would. Why, the Huffen was a champion caller of pigs, he

By Wesley Davis

The Huffen explained that he was a champion pig-caller one day at school when everyone else had a sore throat, and no one else could call the pigs at all. Oh, the Huffen was a champion, right, all right. And then the Huffen had a thought. Maybe these pigs didn't know he was a pig-caller champion. Yes, this was probably all the trouble. The pigs wouldn't come when the Huffen called, because they didn't know he was a champion pig-caller.

Yes, and this will show you how much a champion needs to tell how very much of a champion he is. Well, the Huffen went out to find the pigs, and he explained to them who he was, and then they came at last. Everyone was happy now, all on a very happy day. Happy day!

was, and so let him show what a champion he was.

The Huffen called out in a very loud voice: "Here, piggy! Here, piggy, piggy, piggy! Sooy! Sooy! Here! Here!"

Daddy Ringtail waited a minute, and then he said: "Huffen, I don't see them coming."

"Hah!" said the Huffen. "They ought to come, they should, when the Champion Pig-Caller Huffen calls them." The Huffen chuckled, and then added: "Champion Pig-Caller Huffen is who I am." The Huffen called again: "Here, piggy, wiggy, wiggy!"

Daddy Ringtail waited, but still no pigs. "Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "when was it that you were a champion pig-caller?"

Bill Cook—

 uary 14 after one of the nation's biggest manhunt.
 After being caught, he admitted he forced the Mosser family at gunpoint to go with him on a three-day ride of terror which resulted in their deaths.
 The Mosser bodies were found January 18 at the bottom of an abandoned mine shaft in Joplin, Mo.—Cook's home town.
 After his capture Cook also admitted a sixth killing, that of Seattle salesman Robert Dewey in California.
 Cook at first pleaded innocent to the charges—which could have brought a death sentence—but later changed his plea to guilty in an effort to escape the electric chair.
 After Chandler said he had reached a conclusion, Shelton disagreed vigorously and said:
 "If ever a death penalty was deserved, this is it."

Rev. Luther Kirk Speaks To Club; Choral Group Sings

"The Easter season points out the blessings of fellowship," the Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of the First Methodist Church, told members of the Midland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer.
 "Jesus walked in the light. He walked in the light of understanding, the light of love and the light of sacrifice," Mr. Kirk said. "When have we sacrificed?" he asked.
 A choral group from North Elementary School sang a group of Easter songs. Director was Mrs. Doris Aldridge.
 Bob Baker was program chairman. Ed Prichard presided. Jimmy Locks was introduced as Junior Lion of the Week. Jack Goddard introduced the speaker.
 The War of 1812 between the United States and Great Britain was ended by the Treaty of Ghent, signed Dec. 24, 1814.

Field Is Freed Of Contempt Charges

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Frederick Vanderbilt Field, New York millionaire, was freed Wednesday of contempt of Congress charges.
 Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who presided at Field's trial without a jury, granted a defense motion for acquittal.
 The judge held Field was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer questions of a Senate foreign relations committee on grounds his answers might incriminate him.
 Field was charged with contemptuously refusing to answer 22 questions during an investigation of charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that Communists had infiltrated the State Department.

 Worship services also are held at 7:30 p. m. daily.
 The series of services will end Friday night, Dr. Lynn stated.

 The oiler made 432.22 barrels of oil during the 24-hour flowing test through a 7/16-inch choke. Tubing pressure was 100 and gas-oil ratio was 880-1.
 The production is from open hole 7,049-7,135 feet. Gravity of the oil is 37.9 degrees.

Prospector Staked In Midland Field

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 John Snowden is to be a prospector at the extreme west edge of the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.
 Drilite is one location north of the same concern's No. 1 John Snowden which is in the process of completing.
 Exact location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.
 Rotary tools will be used in drilling to a possible bottom of 8,100 feet.

Schleicher Huldale Gets Third Producer

Pan American Production Company has completed its No. 1 H. F. Thomson estate as the third producer from the Strawn in the Huldale field in North-Central Schleicher County.
 The well flowed 14 hours natural through a 20 1/2-inch tubing choke to make a calculated 24-hour potential of 312 barrels of oil.
 Gravity of the petroleum was 40.1 degrees. No water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 530-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 600 pounds and the casing was sealed.
 Production is coming from open hole between 5,810 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented, and total depth of 5,823 feet.
 Location is 467 feet out of the northeast corner of the south half of section 71, block TT, TCRS survey and nine and one-half miles north and slightly east of Eldorado. That makes it 1,401 feet south of Delta Gulf Drilling Company No. 1 Thomson, the discovery well.
 Delta Gulf No. 2 Thomson, west offset to the pool open, recovered approximately 4,000 feet of salt water on a 90-minute drillstem test from 5,998 feet to 6,110 feet.
 The project is now circulating while waiting on orders.
 The Strawn lime was topped low at 5,955 feet, 3,531 feet below sea level.

Salt Water Made In NE Borden Test

Thirteen miles northeast of Gall and in Northeast Borden County, Vickers Petroleum Company No. 1 McKnight, 7,500-foot wildcat, developed 2,430 feet of heavily gas-cut salt water on a drillstem test from 5,580 to 5,726 feet in the Spraberry.
 There were some pin points of oil in the recovery.
 Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged from 450 to 1,225 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,425 pounds.
 The prospector is now drilling below 5,726 feet.
 Drilite is 2,173 feet from east and south lines of section 367, block 97, H&TC survey.

Showdown Hearing On Tideland Laws Scheduled Tuesday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tideland laws come up for a showdown hearing before the Senate Interior Committee Tuesday.

An effort is expected to substitute a bill by 34 senators giving the states ownership of the rich oil lands beneath the marginal seas. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) is trying to ram through a bill for interim control.

Texas, Louisiana and California are most affected. The Supreme Court ruled last year the federal government has paramount interest in the tidelands.

O'Mahoney predicted the state ownership bill would be vetoed again by President Truman if it is passed by Congress.

He said he does not believe it can be passed over the President's veto, a procedure requiring a two-thirds favorable vote in both the House and Senate.

Bill To Outlaw One-Armed Bandits Sent To House Floor

AUSTIN—(AP)—Some Texas fraternal and veterans organization may have to return to the old-fashioned box supper for raising money.

That fate was pictured Tuesday night for them if possession of slot machines is outlawed in Texas.

The House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee listened attentively to the arguments at a two-hour public hearing, then voted approval of a bill to outlaw possession of the slot machines.

The vote was unanimous. It sent the bill to the House floor for action. Senate committee action Monday sent a similar bill to the Senate floor.

Fire Chief Issues Warning Against Careless Burning

A warning against careless burning of trash and grass came Wednesday from Fire Chief Jim Walker.

"Tuesday," he said, "we had two grass fires and one of them came close to causing serious damage.

"Our men managed to put it out just before it reached a lumberyard and, with the high winds we have been having, it was pretty dangerous."

Walker said that fire, just east of the city, was started by trash being burned on the city dump.

The other fire was at "A" and Boyd Streets and was extinguished with no damage.

"People should be extremely careful," added Walker, "in burning their trash or their lawns. One minute, the air can be still and 30 minutes later it can be blowing up a storm."

The best rule, he said, is to refrain from starting any such fires at all "unless you just have to."

RFC Reorganization Favored By Ken Regan

WASHINGTON—Rep. Ken Regan, 16th District, Midland, voted for the President's plan to reorganize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation this week, because, he said, he is in favor of "housecleaning" at the RFC.

He thinks it should be reorganized but the West Texas congressman is strongly in favor of keeping the RFC. Why? Because he says it has meant so much to small business and many enterprises which have no other means of getting financial aid, also because the RFC has served "a good purpose in the expanding growth of Texas."

"We have an expanding and growing country in Texas, and we need this type of lending agency in our government. If it has a capable, good man at the head of it, there is no reason why the RFC should not serve a good purpose for this government."

Regan said he also feels the RFC is needed "with our increasing defense requirements. If we abolish this agency now, we would have to set up some other lending agency."

One reform in the present system of RFC, however, that Regan favors strongly is for a hard and fast policy to keep any examiner or employee of RFC from taking employment in private enterprise to which loans are made within one year or more following his resignation of service with RFC.

Dawson County Holds Birthday Celebration

LAMESA — Dawson County's birthday celebration Tuesday turned out an estimated 20,000 persons to participate in the Fourth Annual Pioneer Day.

The observance was opened with an hour-long parade through the business section. This was followed by a reception for the old timers.

High school students staged a skit directed by Miss Patsy Duncan which depicted the election in 1905 when Lamesa edged out nearby Chicago by five votes for the county seat designation.

Miss Yvonne McDonnell, high school senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Millard McDonnell, was chosen "Pioneer Day Queen" by students. She rode on a special float in the parade.

A square dance exhibition on the courthouse square, followed by a square dance in the junior high school gymnasium, ended the celebration. Gus White, Jr., served as master of ceremonies at the dance.

Asking Neighbor's Advice Wastes Everybody's Time

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
 When we seek the answers to our children's misbehavior problems from our neighbors, relatives and friends, we're wasting their time and ours.
 The problems of Mary's bedtime tantrums, Jimmy's defiant manner and shy little Fred's chronic lying have answers. They are waiting to be found, not in other people's advice, but in us—in our secret fears that we are incompetent and unworthy of love and respect.
 Mary's mother, shaken and distressed after her little daughter's nightly bedtime scene, might begin solving the problem by first giving herself time to recover some calm. Then she might start to think like this: "That was a tantrum. Why does it frighten me so? Why should I kick and scream and disturb me? Perhaps they are not what disturb me. When I tell Mary to go to bed, I am taking authority. I am making a decision. Could it be that making decisions upsets me? Why should making decisions frighten me? Don't I trust myself to make good ones?"

 When Mary's mother has reached this point in her self-investigation, she might put down her darning and ask herself the really big question: "Who or what has made me feel incompetent to make good decisions for my child?"
Your Own Homework
 Jimmy's mother might take a little holiday from reproaching Jim for his impudence and think over thoughts like these: "This is impertinence I am receiving. Why does my child give it to me? Is there something about me that suggests that I am willing to accept indignity? Maybe. What could it be? Who or what has made me believe that I am not entitled to courtesy and consideration?"
 That last one is her biggest question.

There is the answer for Fred's mother too, if she really wants to find it. She might say to herself: "So it's another lie. He did break my dish. He tells me he didn't break it because the truth would show him up as careless. What have I done that has made my little boy feel that he cannot confide in a carelessness to me? Am I ever careless, weak and frightened? Of course I am. Then why do I pretend that I am above carelessness, weakness and fear? Am I trying to prove I'm different from the rest of the human race? Who and what has made me feel I have to prove such a thing?"
 When we begin to figure the answers to questions like these, we'll be too busy to ask other people to do our homework for us. If we keep on trying to find those answers, we'll get them for ourselves like mature parents.

THE WAY TO CALVARY

Many women wept at the sight of Jesus being led to Calvary. Among them was a girl named Veronica, who wiped the blood, sweat and dust from His face. It is written that He left the print of His countenance upon the cloth.

At one point, Jesus turned to the women to comfort them, saying, "Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and for your children."

Two thieves, Dimes and Gestas, condemned to die with Him, were in the procession to Calvary, another name for Calvary which meant "place of the skull." They too dragged the heavy crosses on which they were to die.

Child's World Is Wonderful

Carmelita Plonka

The world that children live in is mighty wonderful... filled with little daydreams and hopes and joys that make the older folks sometimes wish they were school-age again. But boys and girls have their ups and downs, too, particularly when they are not feeling well. Ten-year-old Carmelita Plonka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Plonka of 3202 S. Aberdeen, Chicago, Ill., was not feeling good recently and was just too listless to get the most out of her school days. Fortunately for Carmelita, though, her grandmother suggested that her mother give her HADACOL, because she had heard how much it was helping children deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. Now Carmelita feels fine and her mother says she has a big appetite.

Here is Mrs. Plonka's statement: "My daughter Carmelita, who is 10 years old and in the fifth grade, had always been underweight and I had to positively force her to eat. She had no interest in food whatsoever, but I knew that she had to eat. When we were visiting my mother in Missouri over the Christmas holidays she suggested I give Carmelita HADACOL. I bought a large bottle of it that same day and was amazed at the change in Carmelita. Her appetite picked right up and she now eats three hearty meals a day plus in-between snacks. I have really praised HADACOL, and highly recommend it for everyone." HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today.

Bigamist Gets Labor, Not Prison

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Some men go to jail for bigamy, but Edward Breault is going to have to get out and work for the two families he acquired.

Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose ruled Monday that the 42-year-old machinist must support the wife and two children he has in Modesto, Calif., and the wife and one child here, meanwhile remaining under probation.

Breault voluntarily surrendered last December, saying his conscience hurt him.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil" says Billie Smith, Photographer, San Antonio, Texas.

"WHEN A MAN BUYS A USED CAR from us, we want him to get his money's worth in performance and operating cost. That's why we put new Conoco Super Motor Oil in all our cars and tell the buyer to use nothing else," says H. C. Wheeler, Wheeler Motor Company, Denver, Colorado. "Conoco Super really does the job."

"I RECENTLY CHECKED A CAR that had gone 39,000 miles on Conoco Super Motor Oil," reports Joe Prestidge, Chief Garage Mechanic, St. Paul, Minnesota. "I found the connecting rod journals were within five ten-thousandths of an inch of the original factory specifications. I've never seen such a clean crankcase nor so little wear!"

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:
 After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings!
 AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

Kentucky Comes Through, Unbeaten Columbia Falls As NCAA Playoffs Begin

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four members of college basketball's elite top 10—Kentucky, St. John's, Illinois and North Carolina State—will square off at Madison Square Garden Thursday night in the semi-finals of the NCAA Eastern eliminations.

Kentucky, No. 1 nationally, will face a tired St. John's team, No. 9. Illinois, No. 5, will oppose North Carolina State, No. 8. Illinois and N. C. State are expected to play the first game at 6:45 p. m.

These four powers moved forward Tuesday night in opening skirmishes at Madison Square Garden and Raleigh, N. C.

Meanwhile, the Western NCAA will start catching up with the East Wednesday night, staging the first two quarter-final games at Kansas City.

Brigham Young, winner of the National Invitation Tournament last week, will take on little San Jose State while Kansas State will face Arizona. K-State and Arizona play first at 8 p. m.

Oklahoma's Aggies, favored to win the Western crown and play heavily-supported Kentucky for the title at Minneapolis March 27, will open their bid Thursday night against Montana State. Washington, the champion of the Pacific Coast, will oppose the Southwest's Texas A&M in the other game.

Wildcats Have Troubles
Kentucky had its troubles for a while at Raleigh Tuesday night but brought its class to the surface in time to trounce a fired-up Louisville team 79-68. N. C. State, performing on the same program and playing without three of its outstanding stars, thumped Villanova 67-62.

At Madison Square Garden, Illinois' Big 10 champions shattered Columbia's unbeaten record—the only one left—79-71, while St. John's disposed of little Connecticut 63-52.

Until they ran up against Illinois' Ted Beach and Don Sunderlage, Columbia's Ivy League titlist had piled up 22 straight victories this year and 31 over a two-year span.

Columbia's Lead Melts
Columbia led 45 to 38 at the half. But Beacher popped in seven out of eight long one-handed set shots in eight minutes just before the end of the half. Then Sunderlage went on a one-man scoring spree to catch Columbia 57-57 with ten minutes to go and send Illinois out front to stay.

Kentucky had its famous haags full with its neighborhood rival, Louisville, for a half, leading only 44-40 at the intermission. But Shelby Linville, scoring 22 points altogether, pulled the team's offense up by the bootstraps and the Wildcats breezed home.

TRIBE HITS NEW LOW IN LOSS TO BROWNIES
BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—In the old days, the Cleveland Indians were known as a hot Spring club that got colder as the regular season progressed.

So far this season, they can be called only a cold Spring club. Before Wednesday's game with the St. Louis Browns, they won two games and lost six against major league clubs. Their overall record is six losses in 11 exhibition games.

Tuesday, they hit bottom by letting the St. Louis Browns win their first major league practice contest 6-5 on an eleventh inning homer by Tommy Upton, a 237 hitter last season.

We watched Bill Glidewell's ragged Midland Youth Center baseball team perform in Odessa Tuesday afternoon, and saw them take an 11-5 licking from the Odessa High School nine.

We really mean the team was "ragged" too.

And that's not meant to be a slur on the playing of the Midland kids, but a description of their uniforms. The "uniforms"—if that they could be called—consisted of blue jeans, sweat shirts, old clothes and odds and ends from regulation suits.

Glidewell laughingly called his boys the "Raggedy Anns."

As of yet, the kids uniforms haven't arrived, though Glidewell is making plans to get some playing togs soon. He tried to buy the MHS uniforms after the school quit baseball, but school officials said they might go back to the sport and would hang on to the suits.

Although the lads were defeated in Odessa and made a flock of misuses, they didn't do so badly, everything considered.

It was the first time the entire team had been together. Some of the boys had worked out three or four times but one—Catcher Jack Rogers—hadn't been on a diamond since last season. At that, he caught all but the final inning and pitched in the last frame.

Glidewell says the team will play no more until after the track season is over and regular workouts can be held.

Attention, A. Z. Sturges. We missed your softball meeting Monday night, as we were out of town. Please call us and tell what was decided about a city loop, if you will. Thanks.

Reports coming out of Oklahoma City and other points say Bill Hornsby, infielder son of the famed Rogers Hornsby, may perform here this year.

But Warren Sliter tells us Hornsby was a rookie in the Illinois State League in 1947.

If that's the case, he likely won't perform here as he would be a class man. And the Midland team figures it is pretty well set in the vet department.

Spec Gammon, sport scribe from you-know-where, has slammed out at Tugboat Jones, Audrey Gill and F. D. (Red) Rutledge for buying that boys camp in Colorado.

"The Spectator" calls it "a football camp for Midland boys" among other things.

Maybe we're wrong, but it seems to us the camp is a fine idea for both coaches and kids, whether they play football or tiddly-winks.

If what Gammon says is true—and we don't think it is—perhaps he and yours truly could cover some good football games up Colorado way along about vacation time.

The Southwest Conference exhibition baseball schedule continued Wednesday with two out-of-state college squads and a military team gunning for pre-season wins.

Rice played Ohio State at Houston, TCU met Oklahoma at Fort Worth, and Texas A&M played Brooke Medical Center in San Antonio.

The Medical Center downed Southern Methodist Tuesday 5-4, giving the Mustangs two straight defeats. A towering three-run homer by Bernard Willis brought the San Antonio team from behind and sparked the victory.

The Texas Longhorns exploded in late innings, to defeat the Ohio State Buckeyes 4-3. The Longhorns had been hitless for four and two-thirds innings.

The Aggies trimmed the Sam Houston State Bearcats 16-8 in a slugfest of 31 hits.

Among the stars appearing on the star-studded revue are: Foy Willing and the Riders of the Purple Sage who have been heard and seen in the Roy Rogers pictures and radio shows.

Names of the 1,500 Marines enroute home include Pfc. William T. Keele of Lamesa.

U. S. Tanks—

Earlier reports placed American units five miles south of Chunchon. From Eighth Army headquarters, AP Correspondent Leif Erikson reported: "In pulling back from Chunchon, the Chinese Communists apparently have withdrawn their main forces back north of the 38th parallel."

On the east-central front, American artillery and planes decimated a small enemy concentration forming for an attack northwest of Pangam. About half the 200 Reds were killed.

A British general told Eighth Army correspondents the Reds would not remain the initiative in Korea. Lt. Gen. Richard Nelson Gale, director general of training in the British Army, said the UN forces slowly and methodically are pursuing their own course.

He did not say whether the Allies planned to cross the politically significant border, but said British troops in the Eighth Army would carry out any orders given them.

Western Flank Threat Erikson reported fresh Chinese troops were digging in on the western front north of Seoul. This may indicate the Reds are trying to slow down or halt the Allied advance up the center by posing a serious threat on the UN's western flank.

This Chinese and Red Koreans appear to be north of the border on the eastern front and withdrawing behind it on the central front.

Screening Withdrawal But on the western front, a fresh Chinese army corps, the 26th, has moved into position about 30 miles northeast of the battered old South Korean capital. It was screening the withdrawal of other Red troops.

This shift of forces, Allied officers said, may be a start of a maneuver by which the rest of the new Third Field Army may replace the Chinese Fourth Field Army all across the front.

The Third has been resting in North Korea since last December. It had fought against Allied forces in the Hungnam area of Northeast Korea.

AP Correspondent J. M. Becker said the Reds have manned defense positions on both sides of highway which runs northward from Seoul through Uijongbu. Chinese are on the east, North Koreans on the west. Uijongbu is 12 miles north of Seoul.

A severe ice storm gripped West Texas in January of 1949. Joan was with a group of young people enroute to Odessa from Midland when the tragic accident occurred. Their automobile slid into a culvert and overturned.

Five young people were lifted from the wreckage. They were Joan Edwards, William Davidson and Carroll Sanders from Midland, and David L. Johnson, Odessa, and Donald M. Starnes from Penwell.

They were rushed to an Odessa hospital. Joan suffered head injuries. Davidson suffered fractures of both legs and internal injuries. Miss Sanders received slight head injuries. Johnson and Starnes received only slight injuries.

Davidson, 23, an employee of S&Q Clothiers of Midland, never regained consciousness. He died January 21, a few days after the accident.

The others, except Joan, recovered. Joan lay still. A brain surgeon was flown from Dallas to perform surgery on January 21. It was to no avail. She remained unconscious. Friends were called in as blood donors. She underwent several transfusions.

To No Avail In the summer of 1949, Joan was taken to Dallas. Everything in medical science was done for her. A brain specialist performed surgery. He shook his head. There was nothing to be done for the brain injury.

The long trip back to Rankin and some was made with Joan. Then began the long vigil, weeks upon weeks of anxious bedside hours by the grief-stricken parents and friends.

Generous Midlanders, West Texans and others rallied to help. A Joan Edwards Recovery Fund was started. It reached approximately $5,000 over the period of two years. There were personal contributions and there were benefit events of all kinds.

Joan was taken to San Angelo for a brief period and received clinical treatment, but she did not regain consciousness. She weighed 110 pounds at the time of her accident and wasted away to less than 40 pounds.

Joan was fed intravenously for a period and then fed for a number of months through a tube in the nose. For the last several months, she was able to chew food to some extent and was fed by mouth.

She lay motionless most of the time. However, she was restless at times. The parents occasionally thought she showed some signs of recognition, but she was never able to speak. She sometimes made a "crying" sound.

Faithful Vigil Her faithful parents have kept the vigil. Her father, the postmaster at Rankin, only recently was released from hospital following a serious illness.

Mrs. Edwards said Wednesday: "We have had all the help human hands could give. Joan's case attracted wide attention and people have been more than kind and generous. They have done everything possible to make it easier on us, and their contributions made it possible to provide the best of medical care. We are more than grateful to friends and fellow citizens for everything they have done."

Joan Edwards went into her last decline at noon last Friday. A big change for the worse came at midnight Monday. The last food was taken at 8 a.m. Sunday, when she was fed a few spoons of oatmeal gruel.

Her mother said, "She slept away peacefully."
