Mayor Of Electra Tells Tale Of Woe, Collapses In Hotel

AUSTIN (AP)—The House Crime Committee has added the name of west coast gambler Mickey Cohen to Texas' long and lurid list of outlaws.

It questioned closely a dozen witnesses on what they knew about Cohen and his cronies in Texas and developed what Chairman Fred Merdith called "some good leads" Tuesday in its first public look at the workings of big-time organized crime here.

It started proceedings under which Cohen may be cited for contempt for failing to appear, an offense which carries with it a jail sentence and fine.

While Cohen himself stayed on the west coast and answered some charges hurled at him by Texas peace officers, his name was read

AUSTIN (AP)—"Not good, but fairly good" was the description hospital officials gave Wednesday on the condition of Mayor T. Leo Moore of Electra.

Moore suffered what his doctor believes was a heart attack after testifying before the House Crime Investigation Committee Tuesday.

Moore testified for several hours during eight hours of testimony-taking. Then the committee recessed subject to call, through for a while.

Says Life In Danger
T. Leo Moore, the colorful mayor of Electra, suffered a heart attack soon after telling the committee his life wouldn't be worth a plugged nickel if he related some things he knew in open meeting. Moore was one of the witnesses who said he had no contacts with Cohen, but he testified he had some oil business conversations with Harry Brook, identified by State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., as an associate of Cohen.

Garrison said Brook was an agent of the west coast operator sent to look the situation over around (Continued On Page Five)

Construction of Midland's two long-planned fire stations faced the possibility of new delays Wednesday.

Immediate fate of the project apparently hinged on the validity of efforts of the City Council Tuesday night to hasten their construction in the face of continually rising costs.

The Council, meeting in regular session, approved a recommendation to award the contract for the two stations on a "fixed fee" basis after hearing a report that bids were 50 per cent higher than the anticipated $52,000 cost.

The matter was referred Wednesday to City Attorney John Perkins for an opinion and no further developments were reported at noon Wednesday.

The "fixed fee" contract was suggested by City Manager W. H. Oswalt, who said he had talked separately to the three contractors who had submitted bids.

The firm of Dean and Shanks, which had submitted a low bid of $78,000, he said, agreed to undertake the project on a basis of its actual cost plus a "fixed fee" of $5,000.

The two other contractors, reported Oswalt, had agreed to "fixed fee" contracts but their fee was larger than that suggested by Dean and Shanks.

At Least For Him, It Wasn't Such An Ill Wind That Blew

Maybe it wasn't such an ill wind that blew Tuesday's sandstorm, after all.

At least it wasn't for one Midlander.

As he rounded a corner in the business district a crisp $10 bill hit him smack on the chest. He grabbed it.

He looked around but couldn't locate the loser. After all, he might have been in Lamesa.

So he pocketed the 10-spot with the comment: "Sandstorms aren't so bad at that."

Wholesale Food Prices Dip Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index, dropped this week to the lowest level since the end of January.

The index, at $7.21, compared with $7.23 last week and was lowest since $7.17 on January 30. A year ago it was $5.79.

HIT THE DIRT—This isn't a baseball term either. Maj. Gen. Robert Soule, commanding general of a U. S. division, while visiting the leader of Task Force Hawkins near Uijongbu, is pinned down by enemy sniper fire near his helicopter. General Soule is in the back, and the copter pilot, Capt. Robert Winkler, Planada, Calif., is in foreground. Ed Hoffman, Acme-NEA staff photographer, who made this exclusive photo, also was pinned down by the same fire.

U. S. Prepared To Order New Plan On Food Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government was ready Wednesday to order a new system of price controls on about 60 per cent of the food in your grocery store.

After weeks of wrestling with problems involved, the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) has completed two retail food orders and one wholesale food order. Issuance was expected late Wednesday.

The changeover will give the American public some price increases within the next few weeks—and Price Director Michael V. Disalle has predicted that the rollbacks will outnumber the increases.

The nation's approximately 500,000 grocery stores will be ordered not to exceed certain "mark-up" percentages on about 40 categories of foods. The orders are expected to cover canned goods, baby foods, coffee, sugar, salt, butter, packaged cereals, cookies and crackers, breakfast cereals, shortening, flour, flavorings, peanut butter, jams and jellies, and many other items.

They are not expected to cover bread, milk, eggs, fresh meat, fresh fruits, or fresh vegetables.

The new food orders will allow food sellers to pass on any increases in the cost of food items and will require them to lower their prices whenever their own costs go down.

Midland Lauded As Next Most Complete Oil City In Nation

Midland, the headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire, is lauded as "next to Tulsa the most complete oil city in the nation," in an article appearing in a recent issue of the Tulsa World.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND— Negro Sergeant Admits Sideswiping Death Car

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.—(AP)—The body of Doris Cook, 18-year-old wife of a youth found slain two days ago, was discovered Wednesday in a reservoir near the lakeshore road where her husband was found shot to death on Monday.

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.—(AP)—Investigators Wednesday said Lawrence J. Walker, an Air Force sergeant, has admitted sideswiping the automobile beside which Richard Cook, 18, was found shot to death Monday.

Chief Sheriff's Criminal Deputy W. W. Walrath quoted Walker, 20-year-old negro, as insisting he kept on going after the accident, however.

"Walker says he knows nothing about Cook's death nor the fate of Mrs. Cook," Walrath said Tuesday night.

The Cooks' infant son was playing on a blanket near the man's body when a motorist stopped at the scene. Mrs. Cook had disappeared. Air and land forces, searching for her almost continuously, have failed to turn up a single clue.

Walrath said Walker, stationed at nearby March Air Force Base, earlier would admit only that he passed Cook's car parked on the roadside. A 45 Caliber Automatic Walker had a 45 caliber automatic when arrested, Walrath said. Cook was killed with a 45 caliber bullet. During questioning, Walker is being held on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

DALLAS (AP)—Gambler Herbert Noble has survived an eleventh attempt on his life.

Mud Mires Allied Armor Above Seoul

TOKYO (AP)—American artillery firing from mud-mired positions Wednesday pounded Communist forces massed along the 38th parallel in Central Korea.

Field dispatches said the Reds were digging in south of the border on both the western and central fronts.

Along the east coast, South Korean troops moved more than six miles north of 38. They occupied four North Korean towns and a border village.

The focus of battle was on the central front; where 90,000 Communists were reported in defensive positions.

Allied infantry patrols advanced in rain seeking targets. When they met Communist fire they retreated to let the artillery lay down a barrage. Allied warplanes hammered the Reds with jelled gasoline, bombs and machine gun fire.

The Allies were pushing a scorched earth policy in reverse, mercilessly pounding the ground they hope to take if the Reds withdraw.

They also hoped to thwart any Communist plans for a counter-offensive.

The rains were a serious handicap for the United Nations forces. They slowed the air attack and bogged down the ponderous armored forces.

Northeast of Seoul, a Chinese regiment stubbornly stood off an Allied attack with a wall of mortar and small arms fire. Air observers reported Red forces ranging up to battalion size all along 38 in this area. They seemed determined to hold a jagged line overlooking a valley north of Uijongbu.

Other Cities Get Snow
However, all Panhandle roads were open and the new moisture was welcomed by hard-luck wheat farmers who have seen half or more of their wheat knocked out by green bugs, cutworms and drought.

Lesser amounts of snow were reported in other Panhandle cities, including Amarillo, Dalhart, Canadian, Pampa, Borger, Hereford and Clayton.

Winter Returns To Texas

By The Associated Press
A snow storm pushed by 40-mile-an-hour winds whipped across the top of the Texas Panhandle Wednesday. Colder weather was forecast for all of the state.

Some telephone and power poles were felled by heavy ice and wind in the Perryton and Spearman area. Two inches of snow lay on the ground there by mid-morning.

The storm area was confined to north of the Canadian River and westward to Dumas and appeared to be drifting southward along the west edge of the Panhandle.

Lesser amounts of snow were reported in other Panhandle cities, including Amarillo, Dalhart, Canadian, Pampa, Borger, Hereford and Clayton.

Midland Eagles Contribute $50 To Joan Edwards Fund

The Midland Aerie No. 2982, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Wednesday presented a $50 check to the Joan Edwards Fund.

The contribution will be forwarded to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Edwards of Rankin, parents of Joan Edwards, former Midland resident, who died last week after having been unconscious more than 26 months as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident Jan. 17, 1949.

Regan Named Head Of Group To Probe Lag In Stockpiling

Congressman Ken Regan of Midland has been named chairman of an interior and insular affairs subcommittee to investigate the lag in government stimulation of critical materials and metals production, according to information received here. The appointment was announced Tuesday afternoon in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan are expected to arrive here late Wednesday from El Paso. They arrived in El Paso Monday after touring the irrigated sections of the Colorado River, and were scheduled to come to Midland Tuesday, but could not make plane reservations, the congressman's office here said.

Regan's Washington office said hearings by the new subcommittee will get underway next week. Regan is a ranking member of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

The administration was given authority by Congress under the Defense Production Act of 1950 to facilitate a step-up in production and stockpiling of strategic materials for defense needs.

The subcommittee will probe the reasons for delay in the program, the authority and responsibilities of the various agencies and any policies or decisions which have been made.

* LATE NEWS FLASHES *

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist police opened fire Wednesday on American tourists in downtown Berlin. U. S. authorities demanded an immediate audience with the Russians for an explanation.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—James J. Carroll, St. Louis betting commissioner, was charged Wednesday on 26 counts of failure to report to federal tax authorities payments totaling $52,688.15 made by him in 1948 and 1949.

AUSTIN (AP)—The House Crime Committee Wednesday advised Mickey Cohen by telegram that it has started action leading to a contempt citation.

MEET THE CANDIDATES—

McCoy, Grube Oppose Frank Shriver, Lone Councilman Seeking Reelection

(First Of A Series)
The lone city councilman seeking reelection in next Tuesday's city election is being opposed by two other candidates—a 47-year-old drug store operator and a 54-year-old real estate man.

The councilman seeking reelection is Frank N. Shriver, 56-year-old tax commissioner for the Shell Oil Company.

The drug store operator is J. B. McCoy.

And the real estate man is B. H. Grube.

All are seeking Place No. 1, one of three council posts which will be filled Tuesday in the city election.

Shriver, who has been connected with the oil business since he shed his World War I uniform back in 1919, will be seeking his second term as councilman.

firm and roamed over Texas from one oil field to another.

Three years later he went to work for the Wilcox Oil and Gas Company at Pampa and in 1927 finally joined Shell at Rankin. Headquarters tered first at Sweetwater, he later went to Dallas and then to Houston. He moved to Midland in August, 1947.

Grube, one of his opponents, is also a World War I veteran.

A native of Cooke County, Texas, he went to Eastland after the war and engaged "in the same business I'm in now."

"I came to Midland in 1927 and I've been here ever since."

School Of Hard Knocks
He described himself as a graduate of "the school of hard knocks" and lists his occupation as "oil and Midland property investments."

Grube said he had no available picture of himself.

"I never had one made," he laughed, "and I'm not going to start breaking cameras now."

The third candidate for the Place No. 1 council post is McCoy, who operates the Palace Drug Store.

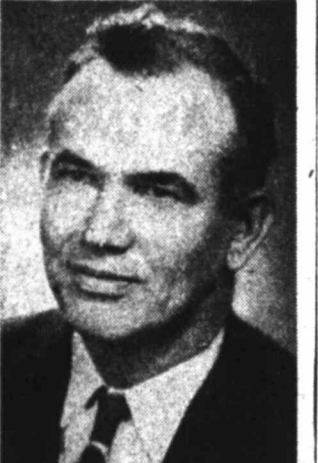

He is a native of Brown County, Texas, and was graduated from high school in Sweetwater.

He formerly was in the grocery business in Sweetwater and, as an employee of the Sweetwater Cotton Oil Company, came to Midland in 1943 to operate the Midland Feed Store and Planters Gin.

Shamrock Schedules 10,500-Foot Tester In NE Lynn Sector

The Shamrock Oil & Gas Corporation of Amarillo No. 1 William D. Green estate is a new 10,500-foot rotary wildcat in the extreme northeast corner of Lynn County. Drill site is two miles north of Wilson and 1,320 feet from west and 845 feet from north lines of league 1, Wilson CSL survey and in tract 7.

Midland Wildcat Is Testing Spraberry

Moore Exploration Company No. 1 A. R. Bauman, North-Central Midland County wildcat, three miles southeast of the city of Midland was running a drillstem test at 7,700-7,800 feet, in the top of the Spraberry section.

Operator tried a test on that zone late Tuesday but it was unsuccessful. The current investigation was due to be ended about the middle of Wednesday afternoon.

Top of the Spraberry is at 7,700 feet. Elevation is 2,778 feet. The section of the Spraberry so far drilled was cut using oil base drilling fluid. As a result it was impossible for geologists to determine whether or not the test samples from that zone had any shows of oil or gas. The drillstem now being run should determine that question.

Location is 467 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of the 220-acre Bauman lease in the southeast part of section 14, block 28, T-2-S, T&P survey.

It was started under a permit to dig to 10,500 feet to explore the Pennsylvanian lime.

SW Fisher Project Coring After Flow

The official report from Standard Oil & Gas Company reveals that its No. 1 M. A. Glass, Southwest Fisher County wildcat, one-half of a mile east of Pyron flowed oil at the estimated rate of 37 barrels of oil per hour, during the last 55 minutes of a drillstem test at 7,279-7,327 feet in the Ellenburger.

Operator is now coring ahead from 7,327 feet.

The drillstem test at 7,279-7,327 feet was open two hours. Gas surfaced in 3 minutes and oil started flowing at the surface in 65 minutes. The flow continued for 55 minutes until the tester was closed.

It was during that period that the oil flowed at the estimated rate of 37 barrels per hour. Gravity was 47 degrees.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 750 pounds and 1,875 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 20 minutes was 2,725 pounds.

The fluid left in the drill pipe when the tool was closed was reversed out. It was 200 feet of heavily oil cut mud. There was no water.

This wildcat had a recovery of 4,435 feet of gas in the drill pipe and 120 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud in a one hour drillstem test of the zone at 7,098-7,135 feet.

It recovered 1,880 feet of free oil and 570 feet of heavily oil cut mud in a five hour test at 7,281-7,313 feet. On that test gas surfaced in 10 minutes.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 7,304 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 246, block 3, H&TC survey. It is about one-half mile east of the Scurry County line.

North Pecos To Be Site For Explorer

Wayne Moore and W. H. Gilmore of Midland and G. H. Vaughn of Dallas have filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas to drill No. 1 Stanolind-Grant estate as an 8,500-foot wildcat in North Pecos County.

Location is 866.9 feet from north-west and 1,926.5 feet from east lines of section 1 1/2, block 202, C. W. Johnson survey. That makes it 18 miles southwest of Imperial.

Projected depth is calculated to take the exploration to the Ellenburger. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin in the near future.

Fullerton Sand Is Topped In NE Floyd

Houston Oil Company of Texas No. 1 John S. Lackey, Northeast Floyd County wildcat, 12 miles north and one mile east of Lockney topped the Fullerton sand zone of the Clear Fork at 3,660 feet, to give it a datum of minus 486 feet on that marker.

According to some correlations it is 271 feet high on that marker to the same point in the Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Merritt (Continued On Page Seven)

Only One Injured When C-47 Crashes

AUSTIN—(AP)—One man was injured Tuesday night when a C-47 transport plane based at Bergstrom Air Force Base here crashed into five feet of water off Matagorda Island. Sixteen others aboard the plane escaped injury.

Bergstrom officials said the plane was making a landing approach to the island's flight strip when the crash occurred.

The name of the injured man was not announced.

Younger They Are, Harder They Fall—For Ezio Pinza

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — GUYS AND DOLLS: Silver-haired Ezio Pinza's leading ladies get younger and younger with 19-year-old Elizabeth Taylor the latest movie doll pleading with MGM to let him warble into her ear.

First it was Mary Martin in "South Pacific," then younger Lana Turner in "Mr. Imperium" and now even younger Janet Leigh in "Strictly Dishonorable."

"Is it bad?" was Ezio's grinning comment about his younger-than-Springtime loves.

An opera sequence in the boy-meets-girl background for the Pinza-Leigh co-starrer, Ezio calls for his sword and Janet, by mistake hands him one that's been held over a hot flame. He goes berserk, starts a one-man riot and the scenery comes tumbling down.

"Hollywood is wonderful," sighed Ezio. "They couldn't find an opera in which such a thing could happen so MGM hired a couple of guys to write one."

Remember Lillian Roth, the big-voiced, lively-eyed lass who scored in "Flory" and "The Love Parade" in the early 1930's, then dropped out of sight for years?

Lillian's back in Hollywood and ready to hit the comeback trail—this time as a dramatic actress. She told me: "I was an actress before Ernst Lubitsch persuaded me to sing. I don't want anything big. I just want to work."

Her life story now is being edited by Mike Connolly of Variety and negotiations are under way for a publisher. In her book, Lillian will tell the full story of her struggle with alcoholism. And Hollywood can take a bow for making a picture that helped Lillian overcome her illness. She smiles: "It was 'The Lost Weekend.' I saw it and immediately went to Dr. A. A. Brill for help. Out of that came my cure."

Our Best Friend
Cy Howard can't wait for the critics to throw bouquets at him for "That's My Boy," the Jerry Lewis-Dean Martin flicker that he wrote. He's flipping the gladiolus in the air and catching them himself.

"I saw the picture and it's so intelligent that I couldn't believe I wrote it," Paulette Goddard's favorite escort told me. "This script wrote me instead of me writing the script. It's a big thrill to see a two-hour picture and know that every word is yours."

This Paul, Cy transfers his two brain children, "My Friend Irma" and "Life With Luigi" to the TV channels. With Marie Wilson, J. Carroll Naish and all the regulars, I wanted to know?

"Everybody has to be twice as good to get the same jobs on TV," Cy said. "There may be cast changes."

Gloria de Haven is giggling over her three year old Tommy who is well on his way to becoming another Bob Hope.

A rare full length shot of Kate Smith on her video program brought Tommy to his feet with the yell: "Look, ma, SHE'S got FEET."

Vic Demone's ready for kitchen duty, the obstacle course and even spud-peeling now that he's run the hazards of his first Hollywood movie, "Rich, Young and Pretty."

They may have to remove the clatter of his knees knocking together from the sound track, Vic confided, but "at least they're saying hello to me on the lot-and that's a good sign."

First peril that gave the warbler the shakes was the kiss he had to give Jane Powell.

"I was scared, but Jane said not to worry about it," Vic sighed. "The dancing threw me, too. They may have to take it out of the picture. I looked stiff. Why not be honest about it? I'm a singer, not a dancer."

Irish film newcomer, Dan O'Herlihy is making with the sword for the third time since he was brought to Hollywood following his click in the British-made "Odd Man Out." It's "The Highwayman" currently, but Dan recalled his first swordplay with Orson Welles in "Macbeth."

"We were using double-edged heavy swords. Orson suggested that we dismiss the doubles and do the fighting ourselves. I tried to fake it, but he yelled for me to aim at the center of his head and law it on. When I turned pale, he told me: 'If you kill me, there'll be no Orson Welles, but we'll have a great picture!'"

Welles is after him to jump to Europe for his production of "Salome" but Dan has too many irons in the Hollywood fire.

"Last time I saw him," mused O'Herlihy, "he hit me on the back and said, 'Come to Italy and LIVE my lad! I guess it's fashionable to sneer at Welles, but he still has more than the next guy.'"

Citizens Association Defeats Pendergast Machine In Election

KANSAS CITY —(AP)—The Citizens Association retained control of the city government Wednesday, beating back a determined bid by Democratic forces led by James Pendergast.

It marked the first time in a decade the Democratic organization was unified in its efforts to return to power. The Pendergast machine tumbled out of control in 1940.

In Tuesday's municipal election, Mayor William E. Kemp, heading the Citizens ticket, was elected to a third term. The Citizens Association, a coalition of Republicans, Independents and anti-machine Democrats, also won eight of nine posts on the City Council.

Kemp received 68,046 votes. His opponent, Ben W. Swafford, lawyer and member of a prominent Kansas City family, polled 66,413 votes.

Both men are Democrats. Municipal elections are non-partisan. Nephew Of Boss Tom James Pendergast is a nephew of the late boss Tom Pendergast, who headed the once-powerful Democratic machine during its years of rule prior to World War II.

The Citizens Association organized 11 years ago, wrested control of the city government from the Pendergast machine and has retained it ever since.

After boss Tom toppled from power and was sent to prison for income tax evasion, factional fights split the Democratic organization.

It was only after the slaying of factional leader Charles Binaggio last April that the group unified. Binaggio and his underworld pal, Charles Gargotta, were shot to death in a northside Democratic club. Their slayings never have been solved.

TO SING HERE—The McGuire Sisters, popular recording and radio artists, will perform here Friday night when the Veterans Hospital Program presents a special evening of entertainment at 8 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. The entertainment unit is headed by Ivy and Al Walsh, nationally-known entertainers. The public is invited to attend the program. Admission is free.

Hadacol Man In Governor's Race

LAFAYETTE, LA. —(AP)— State Senator Dudley J. Leblanc, the Hadacol-maker, will run for governor of Louisiana next year, his friends said Tuesday.

Louisiana primaries are in January, 1952.

Sources close to Leblanc said campaign literature is being prepared and that some preliminary pieces have been mailed. Leblanc has been an intermittent candidate for governor since 1932.

CATFISH CATCH PROVES THIS CRANE FISH STORY

CRANE—Here's a fishing story with the fish to prove it.

R. G. Deam, J. H. Hagie, Ned West, J. D. Faulkner, Snyder, and Jim Crow, Alpine, returned from a fishing trip south of Presidio on the Rio Grande with a catfish catch of 125 to 130 pounds. The fish ranged in weight from five to 20 pounds.

Our Enemy Is The Kremlin

When Hitler invaded Russia in 1941, he made many mistakes both military and political. None was more senseless than the brutal treatment his soldiers dealt to the people of the broad Ukraine in Western Russia.

Evidence continues to grow that in the beginning the Ukrainians greeted Hitler's troops joyfully as liberators, and would have gone over to the German side wholeheartedly if they had been accepted as friends.

But the brutalities of the Nazis swiftly quenched this uprising of spirit and drove the Ukrainians back to the support of the Russian Communist regime as the lesser of two evils.

The lesson in this event for us is that we must not make the same error. We must not assume that all Russians are bad because the Kremlin is bad.

The war permitted many Russians to escape permanently to the West. Almost without exception they showed that they were like the Russians of former days, and that they had not been taken in by Red propaganda.

One Russian engineer refugee, writing of his experiences in a personal document, goes so far as to declare that the Kremlin knows its propaganda takes no real hold on the people.

A veteran U. S. reporter who covered Moscow for many years declares that at 35 virtually every ordinary Russian is thoroughly disillusioned at the Red regime.

It is wrong for us to assume, furthermore, that the average Russian does not appreciate as well as we do that the Communist dream of a "workers' paradise" has not come true.

His real wages probably are lower than the Russian worker enjoyed in 1928, when the first Communist five-year plan began. His housing is much worse than in the 1920's.

He's tied to his job like a slave (15,000,000 are slaves in the most exact sense). Yet he can be sent anywhere in the Soviet Union, regardless of his wishes and his family's.

All of this the Russian citizen knows as we can never know. He can't rebel because he lacks the instruments of revolt. But potentially he is our ally, our friend.

Our enemy sits in the Kremlin.

President Truman recently awarded a well-deserved presidential citation to a largely unsung squadron of fliers called Mosquitoes.

These pilots serve as scouts and spotters for our bombers and jet fighters in Korea. Using a type of training plane never before employed in combat and never intended to be, they hedge-hop over the country-side looking for tanks, guns, trucks, troop concentrations—anything the Reds may be trying to conceal.

No small part of the amazing success of our Air Force in blasting Red supply lines and troops can be ascribed to the tireless work of the Mosquitoes. They're the brave Indian scouts of this war, and they merit the gratitude of us all.

The Red Herring

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It is a scientific fact that men who spend their lives working in sewers lose their sense of smell.

Coming back to Washington after several weeks' absence, I am struck with the fact that many officials of the Truman Administration also have lost their sense of smell.

Not only do they not realize what has been going on around them, but they fail to understand that these stories of graft, played up in the European press, are giving us a black eye everywhere.

What they further do not realize is that the men below take their cue from the top. This is one of the truest facts of political life, true in every administration whether Democratic or Republican.

Other significant cues followed. Cue No. 6—The President's personal physician, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, got caught speculating in commodities at a time when it was decidedly against public policy to speculate.

Cue No. 7—Another close friend of the President, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, also was loyal to his friends. His friends gave him deep freezes and he pulled wires in return.

Cue No. 8—For three years, despite periodic exposures in the press, a semi-underworld character named John Maragon occupied a privileged position in and around the White House.

Cue No. 9—Shortly after becoming Vice President, Harry Truman was given a well-deserved presidential citation to a largely unsung squadron of fliers called Mosquitoes.

These pilots serve as scouts and spotters for our bombers and jet fighters in Korea. Using a type of training plane never before employed in combat and never intended to be, they hedge-hop over the country-side looking for tanks, guns, trucks, troop concentrations—anything the Reds may be trying to conceal.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"I'm not sure whether or not this hand is a good advertisement of my bidding methods," my friend Sam Stayman said to me recently, "but maybe it proves that even the best bidding system won't take care of the play of the cards."

North's response of two clubs was, of course, the well-known Stayman Convention, asking Sam to show a four-card major if he had one.

This was very precise bidding. With slightly greater strength North would have raised to four hearts. As it was, South would have passed at three hearts if he had had a minimum no-trump.

Since South actually held a maximum no-trump (with a stronger hand, he would have opened with some other bid), he proceeded on to game.

The game contract could have been defeated. However, it was actually made. Moreover as Sam Stayman points out in his magnificent new book, "Expert Bidding," an expert wants to be in a game if he has somewhat less than an even chance to make it.

Regarding the merits of the bidding, there was a very neat point in the play of the hand. West opened the jack of clubs, and East hurried to play his ace when he saw dummy's singleton club. That was a fatal error.

East returned the king of spades, but South won with the ace, drew two rounds of trumps, and discarded dummy's remaining spades on the king and queen of clubs.

With no losers in spades, South could afford to lose two diamonds. The contract was now unbeatable.

East should have known from the bidding that South held the king and queen of clubs and the ace of spades. If East took the ace of clubs, it was obvious that South would lose no spade tricks.

Thus, if South were permitted to win the first trick with the queen of clubs, he would eventually lose two spade and two diamonds.

U. S. Defense Program Puts Rental Picture In New Light

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—National Association of Real Estate Boards President Alexander Sumner, of Newark, N. J., argued against the 90 day extension of rent controls just passed by Congress.

Reason given was that extension of federal rent controls would affect only 5.6 per cent of the people and the same percentage of total dwelling units.

Stated that way, the argument for continuing rent controls looked rather thin. But when you start translating the percentages into numbers of houses and numbers of people affected, the story takes on slightly different proportions.

A lot of things have happened to the U. S. housing picture in the last 10 years. Figures from the 1950 census of housing reveal some surprising trends when carefully analyzed, according to the office of Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods.

There are, or were, 45,875,000 housing units in the U. S. at the end of last year. If rent control authority had been allowed to expire March 31, approximately 2,800,000 units would have remained under control until June 30. That's where the 5.6 per cent figure came from.

In these 2,800,000 units under extended federal rent controls, however, there were some 8,500,000 people. Most of these people were living in the more congested and highly industrialized areas.

Housing shortages are greatest in these areas, and rent rates are highest. The question raised, therefore, is whether these 8,500,000 people should be thrown to the wolves, even if they do make up only 5.6 per cent of the U. S. population.

Computations Questioned
This isn't the complete picture, either. Actually under rent control are more than 9,000,000 dwelling units with some 30,000,000 inhabitants. This runs approximately 16 per cent of the total housing and 20 per cent of the population.

The basis for the NAREB percentage computations is also open to question. While almost 45,900,000 dwelling units were reported in the housing census of 1950, almost 6,500,000 were farm houses, which never were under rent controls.

Also, of the 39,400,000 non-farm dwellings, almost 2,700,000 were reported vacant at the time the census was made. This included 2,000,000 rent housing units normally occupied only at certain seasons of the year.

Of the 700,000 effective vacancies, about a third were for sale and not for rent. Another fifth was dilapidated housing, or units without bath or toilet facilities.

Owner occupied housing also must be deducted from the 42,500,000 housing units to get the true rental picture. There has been a tremendous increase in home ownership in the last 10 years. In 1940 there were 15,000,000 owner-occupied houses in the U. S. In 1950 there were more than 23,000,000.

This leaves only 19,000,000 housing units available for rent in the United States in 1950. This is half a million fewer units than there are in the U. S. today.

"Good morning, Miss Roland. I dropped in for our morning conference and found Mr. Reese here. I took the liberty of telling him how highly you think of him. He turned to Tim. "Here is your beautiful lady, Mr. Reese."

But Tim, unheeding, was laboriously getting to his feet. Tim suddenly saw the dark intensity on his face, flashed a questioning look at Mr. Panciera. But Mr. Panciera, having just discovered Tim's intensity himself, was as bewildered as she.

Tim, walking awkwardly and with difficulty, went to the table by the fireplace. He picked up the tiny gold mannequin, stared down at it.

Jean, disturbed now, went swiftly to him. "Tim, darling! You're walking without caring! She was rapturous. "It's wonderful! Wonderful!" He looked slowly up at her. His jaw was taut, his eyes burning. She was startled. "That—that mannequin—" She tried to interpret his hostility. "—that's from last night. That's yours."

Paul Panciera's comment on Tim's announcement that he had been thinking of forming a dress design firm of his own was immediate. "Naturally, Mr. Reese," he said. "With your talent for design you will have no great difficulty. Especially if you have Miss Roland with you." The limits of the Panciera added casually, "Only the business end might possibly prove a problem."

"I imagine you can always hire someone for a job like that," Tim Reese replied.

"The right man is not always at hand, I am sorry to say. If you saw a place for me in the firm—if firm there is going to be—I could very well conduct the business end for you."

"I might be able to use you at that," Tim, looking him over carefully, nodded. "I'll probably need someone to front for me. That's not in my line."

Mr. Panciera disguised his elation. "I shall be happy to be at your service, Mr. Reese," he said with a little bow.

At that instant, as Mr. Panciera was speaking, Tim, glancing about the room, discovered the tiny gold mannequin on the table where Mr. Panciera had put it the night before.

Dramatically, the little mannequin held his gaze. This was what Mr. Panciera was going to send him, while here it was before him, here where apparently it belonged.

The gold mannequin was a small thing, but as Tim stared at it, it grew until it hugely and brutally dominated his entire consciousness.

Slowly, it became for him a massive corroboration of the suspicion of lying and deceit he had entertained at the Ball.

NOW, gradually, Tim saw the man in the room, something he had not seen at first because of his

'Art Of Living' Discussed By Knife And Fork Speaker

Peaking more down-to-earth philosophy and humor into a one hour and 30 minute address than one would dream possible, Sidney E. Montague, former Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman, who now calls Hollywood "home," was the guest speaker at Tuesday night's meeting of the Midland Knife and Fork Club.

Smiling all the way, and stressing the importance of a sense of humor throughout, Montague pleased and thoroughly entertained the near-capacity crowd gathered in the high school auditorium.

He was introduced by Clarence E. Nelson, K&F Club vice president, who said Montague had filled more than 5,800 speaking engagements without being late at a single one.

Nelson also pointed out that the speaker had been cited by Kiwanis International as an "Inspiration for Good Living" to the youth of the world.

"Living-Not Killing" "Adventure is the art of living—not of killing," Montague said in opening his address, which was titled "High Spots in a Life of Adventure."

"If you are a pessimist, get out of the way and make room for an optimist, who is a person who has the faith and courage to live now."

"We give away everything for money," he declared. "We have forgotten how to be humble and to admit that we don't know everything."

"Connect humility and a desire for knowledge and you really have something. We should consider the fact we are only 18 meals away from being savages.

Declaring that grass is responsible for civilization, Montague said: "With grass you can get everything, including protein meat. Without grass civilization crumbles."

Montague discussed briefly the history of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and related some of his most thrilling experiences while serving as a member of that organization, which, he stated, "never in its 76-year history has been contaminated by petty party politics."

He said the Texas Rangers probably are the equivalent of the Mounted, but that the Rangers are handicapped by lack of operating funds—even in wealthy Texas.

But soon he was back to the "art of living."

"Living is a lot of fun," he declared. "Live today. Say hello as you go by. Take the day for what it is. Have a little vacation every day. Learn something every day."

"Follow this practice and you will be living optimists."

"It is not how long you live, but how well you live."

Evening Lions Club Directorate Studies Funds, Membership

A general membership campaign and fund-raising methods were discussed at a meeting of directors of the Evening Lions Club Tuesday night.

Directors of the club are Floyd Maxwell, the Rev. J. B. Stewart, Elmer Schultz and Bill Avery. Also attending the Tuesday night meeting was Ben Crites, secretary-treasurer of the club.

Dues for the new club were set at $1.50 a month. The club meets Thursdays at 7:30 p.m.

The new Lions Club had 31 charter members.

Clyde Beatty Circus Rolls In For Two Performances

Wednesday was circus day in Midland. Once again the callopes played at the circus grounds near Memorial Stadium, another way of saying that the huge Clyde Beatty show was in town.

A performance was underway Wednesday afternoon, the matinee headliner for youngsters. Another show is scheduled at 8 p.m.

The stars of Spangleland and their trained animals unloaded and proceeded to the circus site west of the stadium. The usual number of "sidewalk superintendents" were on hand to greet them.

Once on the lot, the circus personnel, amply supplied with youthful volunteer help, began the job of setting up.

All the familiar sights were revealed as ponderous elephants "spotted" the heavy wagons and struggled to pull the huge center poles of the big top into position.

Before noontime, the last of the scores of wagons, tableaux and clown carts, allegorical units, and such, together with the hundreds of tons of other circus paraphernalia were firmly lashed into place, ready for the performance of the afternoon.

Clyde Beatty, the world's greatest animal trainer, and other stars are here. There's the man who walks upon his forefinger, the Great Barton; Frank Doye, the leash-taking aerial star; the only girl ever to accomplish a two-and-one-half somersault in mid-air to a hand-to-hand catch while blindfolded, Eileen Harrold; sensational acrobats, the Caudillo Sisters; the Olivieras and Silva Brothers, high perch stars; and so on down a long list.

All these together with the herds of elephants, the super-educated horses, the trained canines, monkeys, ponies, lions, tigers and other beasts of the jungle—were here.

Altogether, there were 267 scenic stars and performers including 30 of the funniest clowns in the business.

A downtown ticket office was located at Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

The circus appeared here under sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club.

McCoy— (Continued From Page One) Store in 1947 and has operated it since.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for the City Council four years ago.

The three candidates have listed their platforms for the Midland League of Women Voters as follows:

Shriver—Provide all citizens with public utilities, maintain the development and growth of the city in an orderly manner, provide the best police and fire department possible, keep taxes as low as possible and still provide service on a high level.

Grube—Economy in city government by building a modern city with full value for every dollar spent. Business men to direct the affairs of our city, which has become big business, as evidenced by the taxpayers' dollars spent.

McCoy—For Midland to have good city government, adequate citywide fire and police protection, paving, sewerage systems, garbage disposal and unexcelled school facilities with fairness and justice for every section of the city.

Harvey— (Continued From Page One) Wichita Falls "to see if Cohen would be interested in setting up a gambling empire there."

The committee drew from three former El Paso law enforcement officers their stories of personal contacts with Cohen during three visits to the border city. Two of the officers have been suspended.

It also heard from Paul Harvey, wealthy Odessa sportsman who admitted he once ran a bookie shop there, some details of his business dealings with Benny Binion, a former Dallas gambler now a resident of Las Vegas, Nev.

Harvey told the committee he had a gambling partnership with Binion. Binion is under indictment in Dallas on a charge of being one of the operators of a million-dollar policy game. Nevada has refused Texas' request for extradition of Binion.

Harvey, who entertained Cohen for 30 minutes last summer in his $12,000 home in Odessa, said Binion had loaned him $60,000 to help build the home. He testified that the loan was unsecured, was given without a note, and that nothing had been paid on it since it was made.

Under their partnership agreement, Harvey said, Binion gets one-third take-off of his net gambling profits.

Harvey said that Cohen, during his brief visit last summer, had offered to pass along to him certain "lay-off bets," but that he wasn't interested. Harvey testified he asked Cohen to leave his home because of the publicity attracted by Mickey's visit to Texas.

Mayor Moore Weeps That was the time, last August, when the Rangers told Cohen to soot and not come back.

Mayor Moore wept as he finished his testimony, a few minutes before he became ill in his hotel room. The committee had questioned him about his contacts with Brook, then Chairman Meridith asked Moore if he had anything else to relate.

"There are some incidents I can't tell in public," he said, his voice breaking. "If I did my life and the lives of my family would not be worth a plugged nickel. I'm sick, I don't have long to live. I shouldn't be here at all, but I'll do all I can to help this committee. I'll work for you free. I hope to God if I die today that these rats that are carrying pistols will be brought before this bar."

The committee agreed to meet with Moore in private. The Travis County grand jury will meet Monday. District Attorney Bob Long said he would present at that time the committee's report on Cohen's failure to appear as summoned. Cohen has told the committee he couldn't come to Texas because he hasn't the money.

King's Row

In spite of a typical West Texas sandstorm—Chamber of Commerce representatives please excuse—we caught Tugboat Jones' Midland High School track team in the midst of a workout Tuesday.

The Midland youngsters struggled against the wind for the better part of two hours, going through their assorted paces.

"Don't you guys ever take a day off?" we asked Jones.

It seems they haven't. Tugboat related the MHS thimble-clads have worked out each and every day—Saturdays and Sundays included—since basketball play ended way back there before sandstorm weather.

The persistence of the Midland coach and the MHS kids might make you wonder why the Purples haven't scored more impressively in the two meets they have entered.

And, if you can believe the old "practice makes perfect" line, they indeed should be among the best.

But the fact remains: Midland actually has no outstanding trackmen, and Midland has entered two of the state's most outstanding meets.

Hence, no material, no points. It's as simple as that.

Ere we hear the outraged cries of parents and friends, this isn't meant to say the Midland youngsters are a group of two-footed clowns in track suits.

But glance toward Broncho City some 20 miles westward, compare that flock of speedsters with those here in the last few years, and you'll see what Midland is up against.

Multiply that times 50—the number of schools facing the Bulldogs in their two track outings—and you'll see what we mean.

We think the boys have done strictly all right, with the evidence submitted in their defense.

For instance, out of approximately 110 sprinters in the Blue Bonnet Relays at Brownwood last week, Roy Kinsey ran fifth in the 220, Jack Burris finished fifth also, out of a field of 90 boys, in the 440-yard dash. His 53.2 time was, in fact, the third fastest turned in during the preliminary races.

W. H. Black has gone higher in the pole vault than any poleman in the district.

Burris is a senior student, as is Black. Kinsey is only a Sophomore. So is hurdler Robert Kinsey, sprinter Dick Spencer and hurdler Harold Hensley.

All these boys are coming along and showing some promise. With a few meets under their belts, the kids probably will be better-than-average.

In fact, some of the boys might do OK, when the starting gun pops as the West Texas Relays pops Friday and Saturday.

We'll go out on a limb right now and say Kinsey will finish no worse than third in the 220-yard dash. Burris will be among the top four in the 440-yard dash and Black will win the pole vault.

And that in spite of Joe Childress and a sandstorm.

A little baseball talk: Harold Webb reports from Monroe, La., about an infield rookie who, according to said Webb, is quite sensational.

His last name is Cox—his first moniker escapes us at the moment—and he's reported to be a fine glove man and handles the stick well.

Look for him to be with Midland, Webb says.

The roundman also has gone into spasms of superlatives over Pitcher Eddie Jacone. "If he isn't a sure-shot 20 game winner, then the Longhorn League never had one," he sums it up.

Also working harder at any time in his life is one Glenn Patton, pitcher, of whom great things are expected.

Patton is capable of being an A-1 twirler if he wants to be. They now are saying he really wants to be.

We hope Harold's press agent spirit hasn't gotten the upper hand of his baseball know-how in giving these reports.

If it has, it's going to be a long, long summer.

DOTS AND DASHES: Overheard at the Booster Club: Yveta High School already has signs in its dressing room reading "Get Even—Beat Midland," with the September grid game still a long way off.

Brownwood, with the same outfit that defeated Midland 21-13 last year, is talking state championship for '51. Well, they have Leonard Fry. When Midland and Poly collide on the gridiron at Fort Worth this Fall, it falls on a Saturday. And is the night of the Texas U-Oklahoma U contest.

The MHS team may fly to some grid games this fall. Hotel and eating expenses make bus travel as high as plane travel would be. Then too the kids would get to sleep at home the night before each game, and therefore probably would be better rested.

Norman Drake had to give up track. The half-miler said stomach trouble was the reason. Bidding on Little League players will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 9, in City County Auditorium. End of the Row!

Kentucky Rallies To Maul K-State For NCAA Crown

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
MINNEAPOLIS—(AP)—Ever start your car up a long hill only to have it stop halfway to the top because it ran out of gas?

That's also a description of Lew Hitch, Kansas State center, Tuesday night in the NCAA title-deciding game which Kentucky won 68 to 58 with a rousing last-half rally.

But the first-half Hitch, a six-foot, seven-inch center, made seven-foot Bill Spivey, his Kentucky rival, look almost inexperienced.

Then came the second half. Spivey kept right on going. Hitch all but stopped. And when Spivey took command of the rebounding, Kentucky wiped out a two-point halftime deficit to saunter to its third NCAA title in four years.

Spivey's efforts brought a successful close to the second year of Coach Adolph Rupp's current three-year plan. He started some 17 months ago with a band of sophomores and incidental upper classmen. His aim was to win the 1952 NCAA crown and a possible trip to the 1952 Olympics.

But he has the big title a year early. Nine of the 10 men on the squad return next season.

Kentucky, replacing City College of New York in the NCAA top spot, was rated the No. 1 team in The Associated Press basketball poll.

In a foul-marked consolation game, Illinois defeated Oklahoma A&M 61 to 46. Fifty personals were called, 31 on the Aggies.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(AP)—Ed Stanky, pepper pot second baseman of the New York Giants, hasn't lost the knack of getting on base.

The veteran infielder batted six times in Tuesday's 10-4 victory over Washington—and he got on base five times. Stanky walked four times, batted a double, knocked in a run, stole a base and scored four runs.

KELL'S INJURY GIVES TIGER ROOKIE CHANCE
LAKELAND, FLA.—(AP)—George Kell's injury is giving former Ohio State Hal Daugherty a good chance to see what he can do for the Detroit Tigers.

Daugherty has been trying to make the Detroit team at third base.

Manager Red Rolfe said he's being given a thorough trial now with Kell benched on account of a spike wound in his hand.

SOX HONOR MEMORY OF LATE EDDIE COLLINS
SARASOTA, FLA.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox will suspend pre-season drills Wednesday out of respect to the memory of Sox Vice President Eddie Collins, for whom funeral services were to be held in Boston.

After Tuesday's standout performance as Boston defeated Detroit 5-1, Rookie Outfielder Charles Maxwell may catch on with the Sox. He batted in three runs and boosted his exhibition hitting mark to an even 500.

CUBS STRIP FOR ACTION
EL CENTRO, CALIF.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, who had five first basemen on their roster at the start of Spring training, have clipped this lead down to two—Rookie Dee Fondy and Veteran Phil Cavarretta.

KLUSZEWSKI'S BAT BACKS SEVEL'S BOASTS
TAMPA, FLA.—(AP)—If Spring training counts, maybe Manager Luke Sewell's boast that there is a possible batting room in store for one of his Cincinnati Reds isn't too far-fetched after all.

The apple of his eye is a strong-armed first baseman named Ted Kluszewski.

He's been knocking the ball at about a 500 clip or better during the Florida exhibitions.

NIPPY JONES PLAYS THIRD FOR CARDINALS
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(AP)—The fans looked twice Tuesday when they saw Nippy Jones playing third base for the St. Louis Cardinals. It was another of Manager Marty Marion's experiments and it worked—for the first game at least.

It may be a solution to the question of who will get the regular first-base berth—Jones or Steve Bilko.

GAME POSTPONED
WACO—(AP)—A Southwest Conference baseball game scheduled between Baylor and Rice here Tuesday was postponed indefinitely because of wet grounds.

Texas Stars Beaten In Benefit Match
CHARLOTTE, N. C.—(AP)—Texas golf stars will seek revenge in Dallas in May for a 221-2 to 131-2 match play defeat given them Tuesday by a North Carolina team.

Proceeds of the match went to Skip Alexander, pro injured in a plane crash six months ago.

DAZZLES CIRCUS CROWDS—In an awe-inspiring presentation on the high and lofty trapeze, Frank Esquedo, the daring, suicidal aerial star, will thrill the audiences of the huge Clyde Beatty Circus which plays here Wednesday at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the big tent to be erected near Midland Memorial Stadium.

City Bowling Tourney Draws 24 Teams; Schedule For Team Play Is Announced

The first of 24 Midland bowling teams will start play at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Midland City Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the City Bowling Association.

All of last year's champions are returning to the meet this year. This list includes Rotary Engineering Company, team champion; Ed Murray and Doyle Patton, doubles champions; Doyle Patton, singles champion, and Bob Hillin, all-events winner.

Playing schedule for the tournament was announced by Secretary Copper Daugherty Wednesday as follows:

Friday, 8:30 p.m.: Rotary Engineers, Standard of Texas, Dunagan Sales Company, Plymouth Oil, Scharbauer Hotel, Optimist Club, Lions Club No. 2 and Blatz-Pearl Beer.

Friday, 9 p.m.: Banner Dairies, Core Laboratories, Houston Hill Contractors, Honolulu Oil, Permian Mud Service, Eagles, K & K Tire Company and Willig Engineering.

Saturday, 1 p.m.: West Texas Reproduction, Kiwanis Club, Tex-Harvey Oil Company, Ohio Oil, Superior Oil, Guy Mabee Drilling Company, Seaboard Oil and Shell Oil.

Doubles, singles and all-events play will be held Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. Approximately 120 keggers are expected to enter the tournament.

Three More CCNY Stars Jailed In Cage Scandals

NEW YORK—(AP)—The fall from glory of the CCNY basketball team is complete.

One year ago City College was acclaimed as the first "grand slam" champion in history. But Wednesday, 365 days later, all its first string players have been engulfed by the series of ugly betting scandals.

Irwin Dambrot, Norm Mager and Herb Cohen were the latest arrested by District Attorney Frank Hogan.

Hogan announced Tuesday night the trio had admitted shaving the point spread or trying to shave the point spread in three games in Madison Square Garden last season.

Hogan said the games were against Southern Methodist on Dec. 8, 1949; UCLA on Dec. 27, 1949, and Niagara on Feb. 16, 1950.

Last month Ed Roman, Ed Warner, Al Roth and Floyd Layne admitted they had helped fix other games.

Hogan said Dambrot, Mager and Cohen worked with Roman and Roth in the SMU, UCLA and Niagara games and said an unidentified fixer agreed to pay Roth, Roman, Mager and Dambrot each $1,000 per game and $500 to Cohen.

There was no payoff after the SMU game, however, CCNY won by 67-53, more than the seven-point spread agreed upon. Hogan said SMU played so badly the CCNY players couldn't do much about holding the score down "without just lying down on the floor."

The UCLA game was different. The Pacific Coast Conference team, a six-point underdog, won by 60-53 and all five players were paid off, Hogan said.

CCNY was favored by 11 points over Niagara, but lost by 68-61. Hogan said Dambrot and Roman refused to go along on this game so Roth, Cohen and Mager each got $1,000 with an extra $500 split between Roth and Mager.

Brownwood College Drops Gridiron Sport

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—Daniel Baker College dropped football indefinitely Wednesday because of uncertain national and world conditions.

The Rev. Wilford O. Cross, president of the senior Episcopal school, announced the decision was made by the Board of Trustees.

Ready Caskey, who became head football coach early last season after the death of Paul Tyson, will continue as athletic director and head of the Physical Education Department.

Johnson News Agency Plans New Building

The Johnson News Agency Wednesday announced through its owner, E. A. Johnson, plans for construction of a new building.

The location will be at the intersection of Weatherford and Indiana Streets. The one-floor building will front on Indiana Street.

Estimated cost of the building was $80,000 to $90,000. It will be constructed of tile, brick and steel. Construction was expected to begin before April 1.

The building will contain 13,000 to 14,000 square feet of floor space. The Johnson News Agency now is located at the intersection of West Front and South Loraine Streets. The building there is expected to be made into office space.

The news agency was established in Midland about four years ago.

Five Persons Hurt When Trains Collide

OMAHA, TEXAS—(AP)—Five persons were injured Tuesday when a Cotton Belt freight train rammed into the rear of another freight in the middle of this Northeast Texas city.

Twisted steel and timbers were scattered about when the boiler of one train exploded a few seconds after it plowed into the caboose of the other train standing in the yards.

One end of the Omaha depot caught fire and was damaged. The fire was put out by volunteer firemen, aided by a heavy rain falling at the time of the crash.

Injured were: Willie C. Hewitt of Tyler, brakeman; J. W. Wilcox of Tyler, engineer; R. L. Vickers, conductor; L. E. Williams of Tyler, fireman, and J. M. Falls of Omaha, a clerk in the depot.

Carleton Named Booster Prexy

Tex Carleton, former big league baseball player and now a Midland sporting goods dealer, Tuesday night was elected president of the Bulldog Booster Club.

George Gibson, 1928 All-America guard at the University of Minnesota, was named vice president. Conn Thomas was named secretary-treasurer.

The three new officials were elected to their one-year terms by acclamation of the Boosters present after a nominating committee had submitted the names. Stanley Erskine headed the nominating group.

Outgoing President Russell Cotton was thanked by the Boosters and the Midland High School coaches for the excellent job he turned in as club prexy during the past year.

Cotton reported a total of 220 active Booster Club members. The membership at the same time a year ago was 140 members, he said.

Midland coaches reported to the Boosters on track, golf and Spring football training plans.

The meeting was held in the Midland High School gym.

Rice Mentor To Address Ex-Students

Jess Neely, head coach at Rice Institute, is scheduled to appear before the Rice Ex-Students Association at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Midland Country Club.

Area Rice students from surrounding cities are due to be guests at the meeting, according to officials.

Neely was due to appear here last February, but was forced to postpone his appearance because of Spring workouts at the Houston school.

George Mentioned To Succeed Stiteler

BRYAN, TEXAS—(AP)—Ray George, line coach at Texas A&M, has been mentioned as a possible successor to Harry Stiteler, Aggie head coach, who resigned recently.

Earl Phillips, sports editor of The Bryan Daily Eagle, predicted Tuesday that George would be named. Phillips said George was very popular with the team and students.

George formerly was line coach at the University of Southern California.

Mantle Declares He Needs More Seasoning

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' super-sensational rookie prospect, doesn't think he's quite ready for the big leagues, even if everybody else does.

"I'm not a big league fielder," he explains, "and I hope I'm sent to Kansas City."

Mantle has been the talk of the Yankees' camp, and his hitting and running have caught the fancy of many veteran baseball men.

Magnolia Dealers To Hold Meet Here

Magnolia, Petroleum Company dealers from Midland, Odessa and McCombs will meet here Thursday night in their annual Spring meeting.

The dinner-meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

W. S. Kotch, Fort Worth, district manager, and other company officials will be here for the session, at which Anton Theis, Midland distributor, will be the host.

J. R. Cuffman Has Man-Sized Job Training 45 Students In Fields Of Farming, Ranching

J. R. Cuffman, agriculture instructor at Midland High School, is training 45 students this year in the fields of farming and ranching.

Each student has a project in feeding, breeding, or crop production. Some of the feeding projects are the feeding of beef, steers, lambs and hogs. Under breeding projects and water conservation, irrigation, fertilizing, cotton production, varieties of feed, farm shop, and leadership training.

At the end of the second year in agriculture, the students receive the Chapter Farmers Degree if they have completed the following studies satisfactorily: feeding livestock, controlling insects and diseases of livestock and poultry, insects of plants, pruning trees, care of lawns, fertilizers, farm machinery repair, and leadership training. Leadership training is the study of parliamentary procedure, which the student must know if he is to lead his community in the local agriculture organizations. Each boy must be able to conduct a proper discussion in some phase of agriculture for 15 minutes before he is eligible for the Chapter Farmers' Degree.

Shown Prize Stock
The agriculture boys showed lambs, steers, and hogs in the recent Midland Livestock Show. Two won top honors for feeding an outstanding lamb and hog. The boys were presented with handmade boots by the Chamber of Commerce.

Cuffman, who has taught agriculture in Midland High School for five years, is a graduate of Texas A&M College. He is the immediate past president of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas, and recently was chosen vice president of the National Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, Region 2, which includes Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Colorado. He also recently was presented with an honorary Lone Star Farmer's degree by the Future Farmers for "outstanding service to vocational agriculture and Future Farmer's organizations."

BEAUTY MARTIN ASSUMES SEVENTH FLEET COMMAND
TOKYO—(AP)—Vice Adm. Harold M. (Beauty) Martin took over command of the U. S. Seventh Fleet Wednesday and said he has enough warships to carry on the fight against the Reds in Korea and to protect Formosa.

Martin assumed command from Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble.

HOME LOANS
We have just returned from a 2-day mortgage loan school. We believe we have the answer to some of the questions "X". While in Dallas, we worked out arrangements with one of Texas' leading life insurance companies, whereby we can make loans on your home for as little as $2,500 and up to buy, build, remodel or repair. To our knowledge, this is the first time a life insurance company has offered to make loans this small in Midland. We have several advantages to offer you in placing your loan with us this company. We will make "F.H.A.", "Conventional", "Commercial" Farm and Ranch loans. You'll be surprised how simple it is to make these loans when you ask.

Youngest Watch Designer Possesses A Midas Touch

Martha Widmer, young Swiss watch stylist, thumbs through an old book picturing ancient time-pieces in hopes of gleaning ideas and inspiration.

By NEA SERVICE
LUCERNE, SWITZERLAND — You might almost call Martha Widmer's pencil a magic wand. What she sees, she draws. And what she draws is transformed into gem-encrusted gold.
 Martha is a watch designer—the youngest in the world, it's claimed. Still in her early twenties, she has already had four years experience in this field in the employ of one of Switzerland's leading time-piece firms.
 Martha finds inspiration everywhere for the exquisite drawings that are later converted into precious metals. One day it may be a contemporary Dutch fence that takes her fancy; the next an intricate design of an ancient Grecian urn.
 Although she's Swiss both by birth and residence, she frequently roams the museums and art galleries of Paris, Rome and Vienna in search of ideas. She gives Paris enthusiastic endorsement as the art center of the world.
 Not all of her time in her travels is spent amid dusty relics of another era. The shops and avenues claim her professional attention, too.

It's as a designer of up-to-date fashionably correct watches that Martha has gained her reputation. She considers a timepiece as much a costume accessory as a hat or purse, and styles them to suit specific occasions and attire. Femininity and elegance are her trademarks.

One design may flow from her pen in an hour; another may require an entire day. Others, no matter how hard or long she labors, don't come out quite the way she intended. These ideas, she says, are like good fruit or wine. They must be put upon the shelf to ripen for a time.

Once the basic idea is completely clear in her mind, the drawing is a relatively simple matter, she states. Art training as well as natural ability contribute to this ease of execution. Her talent is shared by her father, mother and brother, all of whom paint as a hobby.

It was her father who persuaded Martha to abandon her original yearnings to become a concert pianist. It was through his encouragement that she dared participate in admission examinations for the Zurich Art School, and through his assistance that she later obtained her position as an apprentice watch stylist.

Her father, she explains candidly, saw in a newspaper an advertisement inserted by a Lucerne firm. "He wrote an answer to the ad. I signed—and got the job."

Despite the maturity of her attainments, Martha has remained fresh and unsophisticated. In appearance, she resembles an American school girl, and her interests are similar.
 American jazz ranks high with her, even though the names of her favorite performers are "difficult to remember when you don't speak English."

HOW TO PET PORCUPINE IS TODAY'S NATURE LESSON
LOA, UTAH — Even porcupines can be friendly, but you must know which way to rub 'em.

Perry L. Jackson, tourist's guide, found a porcupine asleep. He didn't know how to handle the little animal with the sharp quills. He tried to rout it with his hunting cap. He got a capful of quills.
 His brother, J. Worthen Jackson, soothed the homely bark eater, stroked him and even picked him up.

No Early Action Seen On Food Fight To India

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Don't look for early action on the bill to send two million tons of grain as a gift to India.

It's being held up in the House Rules Committee until administration leaders can build up more sentiment for it on the house floor.

Students Sworn In For Jury Duty

NEW BRUNSWICK — One Morning in 1936 several students in the news reporting class at the state university's school of journalism found themselves moved out of the spectators' seats in Judge George Morrison's district court in New Brunswick, and sworn in as jurors.

That was the beginning of a unique learn-by-doing program which Prof. Hubert Ede's reporting classes have been carrying on regularly for the last five years.

"The reason I like to have students serve on juries is that they do such a fine job," Judge Morrison said. "I don't know that I've ever had any better, more serious jurors than the Rutgers kids."

"There is an age requirement of 21 years for jurors in this state," Judge Morrison explained, "but we hit on the practice of getting both attorneys in a case to waive that limitation, and it's worked out fine."

BOMB FIGHTS CANCER

LONDON — (AP) — The newest weapon in the cancer fight—a radioactive cancer bomb—will be installed in temporary quarters here at War Memorial Children's hospital about July 1. Described as the world's first, the "bomb"—a cobalt 60-beam therapy unit—comes from Canada's Chalk river atomic energy plant.

CRANE—Ninety square dancers participated in the Buttons and Bows square dance recently at Community Hall to music by the Clarence Lyles Band.

Receptionists were Mrs. J. R. Todd and Mrs. Fred Schur and decorations were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Gines. In charge of refreshments were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Russell. Each member brought a pie to be served with coffee.

The Easter theme was symbolized with green and orchid.

Callers included C. W. Post, New London; J. C. Guyton and Mr. Ingram of the McCamey Club, Mr. Hardy of Odessa, and Bob Floyd, Marion Brunette, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Hester, Revis Griffith, Bill Hogsett, Mrs. Rusty Russell and Mrs. Horace Hendricks.

Mrs. George McCorkle entertained with a birthday party for J. F. Miller. Barbecued chicken with all the traditional trimmings was served at her home.

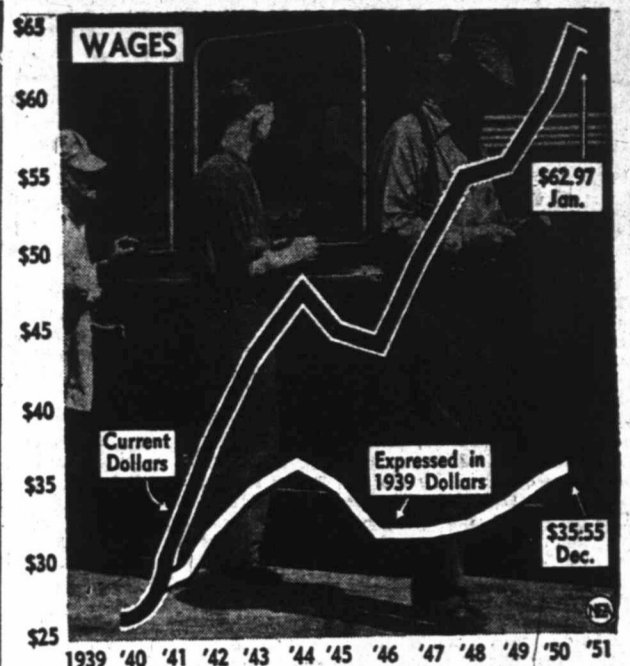

Mrs. Harry Ingle entertained the Wednesday Club with a Easter party in her home in the Gulf Camp.

Sam White, Jr., Boob Kelton and Tipton Murrell of the University of Texas spent the Easter holidays with parents and friends here.

Myron Holcomb, student at Arlington, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Holcomb, over the holidays.

Easter holiday student visitors included Billy Dan Lively and George Grounds of Texas Western College, El Paso.

Lannell Murrell has completed a course of study at Draughton's Business College and is now employed by an oil firm in Odessa. She spent the Easter weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Murrell.
 Audrey Wigginton, formerly employed by William Cameron and Company, was in Crane for several days while enroute to Port Arthur to visit with his parents. He has completed basic training in San Diego, Calif.

The average weekly earnings of production workers turped down slightly in January to a tentative figure of $62.97 after having reached $64.15 at year end. This may be compared with a 1939 average of $23.86, but expressed in dollars of the same buying power of those in 1939, today's average factory workman would be making slightly over $35.00 a week. Indications are that the wage figure will rise somewhat, based on recent "thaws" in the wage freeze order.

Marine Just Back From War Eager For Action Again

ATLANTA — (AP) — Maybe there's no rest for the weary after all, or at least one of 'em.

Marine Cpl. Don Reid, 23, is the first Leatherneck from Atlanta to return from the Korean war on rotation.

But the Purple Heart veteran said he had a 30-day furlough but might not take it all because "I'm not the kind of guy who can sit around doing nothing."

GAS MASK SAVES WEDDING

SANTA ANA, CALIF. — (AP) — Barbara Moore, a lady Leatherneck at nearby El Toro Marine base, never dreamed she'd need a gas mask to get married. But one of the gadgets averted a postponement of her marriage to overseas-bound Pfc. Robert Daniels. The couple were to be wed two days before Daniels shoved off. Just before the ceremony, the bride-to-be discovered her barracks locked and sealed with her trousseau inside while a fumigating crew was filling the building with gas. In resourceful Marine tradition, Miss Moore borrowed a workman's gas mask, waded in and recovered her trousseau. The wedding was only slightly delayed.

LOA, UTAH — Even porcupines can be friendly, but you must know which way to rub 'em.

Perry L. Jackson, tourist's guide, found a porcupine asleep. He didn't know how to handle the little animal with the sharp quills. He tried to rout it with his hunting cap. He got a capful of quills.
 His brother, J. Worthen Jackson, soothed the homely bark eater, stroked him and even picked him up.

More Research Is Needed To Solve Problem Of Blindness

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The appalling problem of blindness cannot be discussed too often, because much of it can be prevented. To do so requires some knowledge on the part of people generally as well as by the medical profession. Imagine all the people in a city the size of Miami, Omaha, or Providence being blind and one gets an idea of how many are involved. It has been estimated that 280,000 persons in the U. S. are blind. But this is only part of the story since each year about 22,000 more lose so much vision that they are able to see but little.

Much of this loss of ability to see could be prevented and some progress in this direction has been made, but we still are devoting too little money and time to the necessary measures. For care and services to the blind about $125,000,000 a year is being spent; for research in blinding diseases less than $1-000,000 and about half as much for preventive services.

Compare this with the almost $2,000,000,000 spent each year in the U. S. for candy and chewing gum or more than $8,000,000,000 for alcoholic beverages. We certainly must increase our efforts on the eyes.

What are the causes of blindness and what can be done about them? About one-fifth are the result of various kinds of infection. This is on the decrease, thanks in large part to the drops which by law go into the eyes of newborn babies. It is not unreasonable to look to the time when infections can be eliminated entirely as a cause.

Injury is another source of blindness. Loss of vision in one eye from injury is much more common than in both. This also can be improved by avoiding dangerous practices such as the use of air rifles or fireworks and by the establishment of safety devices in industry.

Eye Diseases
Two important eye diseases, glaucoma and cataracts, are responsible for more than one-quarter of all cases. Much can be done for these, especially if treated promptly. They have been discussed in this column on other occasions. But the methods of preventing some cases of blindness are unknown—hence the need for more research and the money to support it.

This column cannot be closed without paying tribute to a fine voluntary organization, the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, which already has done so much. May their great work continue.

ARMY GOAL: 1,500,000 MEN BY JULY 1

13 INFANTRY DIVISIONS
ABOUT 247,000 OFFICERS AND MEN

3 OR 4 ARMORED DIVISIONS
48,000 TO 64,000 OFFICERS AND MEN

2 OR 3 AIRBORNE DIVISIONS
28,000 TO 42,000 OFFICERS AND MEN

IN ADDITION PLANNED ARMY WILL HAVE 18 REGIMENTAL COMBAT TEAMS EQUIVALENT OF SIX DIVISIONS AND NUMEROUS SMALLER COMBAT OUTFITS SUCH AS ANTI-AIRCRAFT AND ENGINEER BATTALIONS AND COMPANIES

Since the outbreak of the Korean war the Army has more than doubled its manpower, increasing from about 600,000 to more than 1,200,000 officers and men. By July 1 the Army plans to have the equivalent of 24 divisions at least. Many of these will have to wait perhaps a year or so until war plants can turn out all the equipment they need for combat.

U. S. BUILDS WORLD'S LARGEST SEA ARMADA

3 BATTLESHIPS

19 CRUISERS

27 AIRCRAFT CARRIERS

250 DESTROYERS

100 SUBMARINES

800,000 SAILORS

Pre-Korea Navy strength was down to about 240 major combatant ships. Since then, more than 200 ships—from a battlewagon down to amphibious craft—have been demobilized. Others are in the process. By July 1, next year, the Navy will have a fleet of 500 warships. It also will have more than 500 support and smaller amphibious craft, plus hundreds of patrol and small carrier planes.

Cut Rate Is Offered On Parking Tickets

GREENVILLE, PA.—P—This little Western Pennsylvania town has a police clerk for the first time. The clerk is Mrs. Mary Etta Boudreau whose first responsibility will be to install a new system for handling parking tickets.

Motorists will be required to pay only 10 cents for overtime parking if they report to Mrs. Boudreau within 30 minutes after the tickets have been issued. If they're later than that she'll fine them $1.

5 LIGHT BOMBER GROUPS

18 TACTICAL FIGHTER BOMBER GROUPS

11 DAY INTERCEPTOR GROUPS

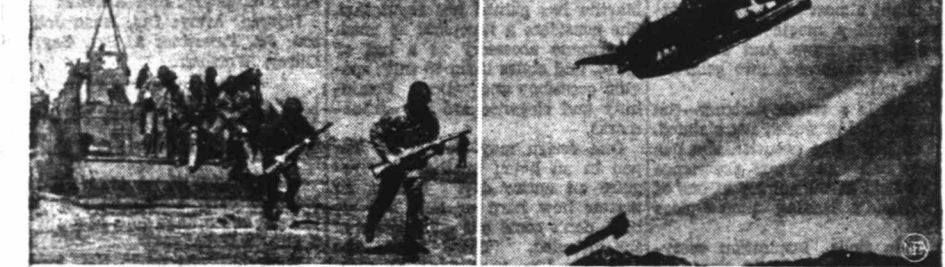

1,000,000 OFFICERS AND MEN

ROUNDING OUT 95 GROUP AIR FORCE WOULD BE 11 ALL WEATHER INTERCEPTOR GROUPS, 6 TACTICAL RECONNAISSANCE GROUPS, 6 STRATEGICAL RECONNAISSANCE GROUPS, AND 12 TROOP CARRIER GROUPS

When Communists invaded South Korea, the Air Force had only 48 groups and 412,000 officers and men. This has been upped to more than 60 groups and 620,000 uniformed personnel. Air Force is expected to have 68 groups by next July 1 and 84 groups by next January. Top officials say the 95 groups will be sufficient only for a cold war. For all-out war they would want three times that.

2 1/3 GROUND DIVISIONS

21 TO 24 TACTICAL AIR SQUADRONS

WAR STRENGTH DIVISION HAS 23,000 MEN; SQUADRON HAS 24 FIGHTER BOMBER PLANES

Marines had two under-strength divisions and 16 air squadrons at the beginning of the Korean fighting. Since then, manpower has jumped to more than 170,000 more than double the pre-Korean 74,000. Almost all Marine ground reserves have been called up. Nine Marine reserve air squadrons called up last January are being broken up and their personnel used to bring the 21 existing squadrons up to full strength.

Mr. Congressman...

It must not happen again!

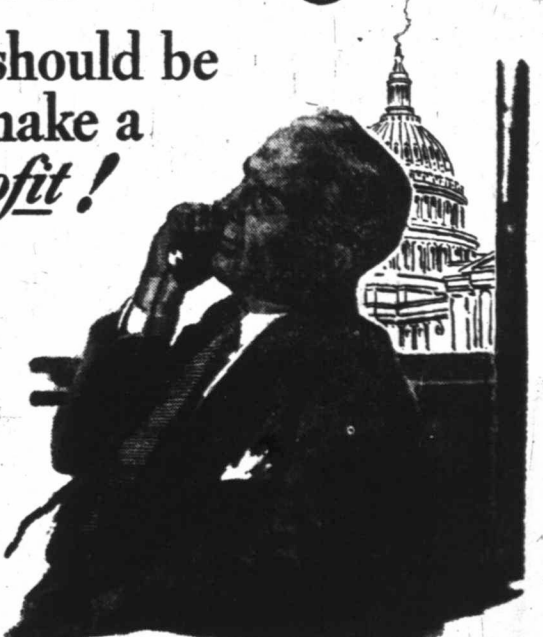

... no business should be permitted to make a tax-free profit!

THROUGHOUT the whole of World War II, Congress permitted thousands of big businesses to escape all, or a great part, of the federal income taxes collected from other businesses and individuals, including YOU. These TAX PETS of Congress include co-operative corporations and many so-called mutual companies—all of them either wholly excused from supporting our government or given special favors that enable them to escape most of the tax. During World War II, co-operative corporations, alone, escaped payment of nearly one billion dollars in federal income taxes.

Today—now greatly expanded on tax-free profits—co-ops and other tax-exempt businesses are able to avoid approximately that much in federal income taxes EVERY YEAR. What they do not pay is, of course, added to the tax bill of everyone else. In the present emergency Congress still lets them get away with it... still adds it on to your already staggering income tax bill.

THE RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS TAX INJUSTICE RESTS SQUARELY UPON CONGRESS. WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMAN AND SENATORS. DEMAND THAT THIS TAX DISCRIMINATION BE ENDED IMMEDIATELY. CO-OPS AND OTHER TAX-EXEMPT BUSINESSES MUST NOT BE PERMITTED TO MAKE A TAX-FREE PROFIT. THEY MUST BE REQUIRED TO SUPPORT OUR GOVERNMENT—FULLY—JUST AS YOU ARE REQUIRED TO DO.

TEXAS TAX EQUALITY ASSOCIATION, INC.

Clip, Sign and MAIL this to your Congressman!

No business should be permitted to make a tax-free profit. I urge you to FULLY tax the untaxed, now, by repealing the pertinent paragraphs of the Internal Revenue Law by which co-ops and many mutuals escape income taxes and by declaring the income of these business concerns to be taxable income at the corporate level before distribution in any manner.

Pettie Styles Need No Alteration

These pint-size fashions, created by New York designers, are meant especially for the girl or woman five feet, five inches or under. A peacock wool dress (left) has twin Peter Pan collars and belt outlined in black velvet. Dress and jacket (center) are in toast-colored wool trimmed with brown velvet at collar and cuffs. A silver-gray taffeta dress (right) has rhinestone-dotted bodice, is collarless.

Proportioned fashions, meant for the girl or woman five-feet-five or under, are scaled to perfect size by New York designers. These are budget-priced fashions with a shorter waistline and skirt, a fuller bust and hips. And because they give the small woman the measurements she needs from shoulder to hip, from waistline to hemline, they eliminate expensive alterations.

One such design, a simple wool dress in peacock blue, has twin Peter Pan collars and belt outlined in black velvet. Simply styled, with sleeves which can be worn pushed up to a three-quarter length, this dress has a slim and therefore slenderizing skirt.

A third design, a dress and jacket in toast-colored wool, has jacket trim in brown velvet at collar and cuffs. Jacket sleeves are three-quarter length and the dress has a bodice in crepe dyed to match the toast color of the wool. The dress will, of course, see much wear without the jacket.

tiny cap sleeves and self-belt all aid in adding inches to the height of the tiny woman.

New Careers Out Of Household Beauty

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES—Because she believes art is something to be lived with every day, not an awesome thing to be admired from a distance in museums, Margo Findlay has made a new career out of household beauty.

Mrs. Findlay, who has been drawing and painting since childhood, now uses her talent for creating strikingly realistic designs for china. She regards overglaze painting as a serious artistic medium, and proudly tucks her signature into the design of each new piece she does. She is best known for the naturalness of her floral patterns, which she executes with botanical accuracy.

She acquired this exactness during her Montana childhood, as the result of field trips with her father, a naturalist. Her earliest drawings grew out of an urge to preserve on paper the plants and animals she discovered on exploratory walks with him.

Her husband, too, she explains, is due a large share of credit for her current success. It was at his urging, after their marriage, that she turned in earnest to painting.

A versatile woman, Mrs. Findlay decided while in her teens that the lure of the stage was stronger than that of her drawing board. Ballet and vocal training, coupled with Little Theater experience, led her to New York and eventually to California.

There, while studying voice on a scholarship, she met her musician husband. She abandoned her music in favor of family life, and turned again to her painting in her spare minutes.

Margo Findlay, talented young designer of floral china patterns, is in details of an apple-blossom sketch at her drawing board.

Through her own experience she learned the value of household beauty, and the importance of a family's sitting down together, "particularly at the end of the day, to a table set with beautiful china and silver."

Instead of the old practice of reproducing the dinner plate design in reduced size on smaller pieces in a set, Mrs. Findlay creates an individual motif for each one.

A pattern that enhances a plate

Grief Comes To Grief Following Auto Crash

PITTSBURGH—Grief piled up for a Pittsburgh motorist following an auto wreck.

He was charged with drunken driving, reckless driving and leaving the scene of the accident. His name? Robert C. Grief.

When you're buying fish steaks or fillets count on at least a quarter pound for each serving. Fresh fish are often a good buy if you know the kinds available in your market and the seasons of the year when each is most plentiful.

Although Mrs. Findlay's designing began by chance as the outgrowth of a friend's suggestion that she decorate a set of service plates, she has pursued it with professional zeal, and has learned to mix glazes and glazes and to fire her own pieces in a small electric kiln.

Fuehrer's Godson Is Studying To Enter Priesthood

INGOLSTADT, GERMANY—(AP)—Adolf Hitler's godson is in a Catholic monastery here, studying for the priesthood.

Had his godfather's thousand-year reich held together, he might have headed for quite a different career in the Nazi party elite. He is the son of Martin Bormann, Hitler's trusted lieutenant and second only to the Fuehrer himself in the last stages of the war.

Martin Bormann's life ended in a question mark in 1945. He was with Hitler in the Fuehrer bunker when Russian troops overran the city.

What happened to Bormann is a mystery. Rumors in the last five years have placed him in South America, Spain, Russia. Nobody knows for sure. Adolf Martin Bormann, student at the Brothers of the Sacred Heart seminary, says he doesn't know either.

"I know only what I see in the papers. I don't know if my father is alive or dead."

Young Bormann was baptized in the Protestant faith, with Adolf Hitler as his sponsor.

"After awhile, though, father made us all break away from the church," he recalls. "He wanted no Christian religion in his family. It was contrary to Nazi ideas."

"He put me in a special school near Munich. It was made up of students selected by special tests throughout Germany. It emphasized political education. It was a very bad school and morally it was terrible. There was outright perversion among some of the students."

Two prime factors ran their lives: Fear of punishment for misconduct and Nazi idealism.

Young Bormann last saw his father Jan. 9, 1945, when the latter left for Berlin to join Hitler.

Italian Cabinet Faces Crisis Over Commies

ROME—(AP)—Premier Alcide de Gasperi's cabinet faces a crisis early next month when its labor socialist are expected to resign.

The independent Labor Socialist party (PSLI) and the Union Socialist party (PSU) are joining forces in an effort to build a larger socialist group opposed to communism. The three present PSLI members of the cabinet are expected to resign after their party congress breaks with the government next month.

Contracted Wool Price Sets Mark

MILES CITY, MONT.—An eastern buyer has contracted to buy about 200,000 pounds of wool here for $1.48 a pound, probably an all-time high in the United States.

Roy Hanson, local wool buyer who handled the sale, did not give the name of the eastern firm. He said 20,000 fleeces were contracted, and these would average about ten pounds each.

DADDY RINGTAIL

By Wesley Davis

Daddy Ringtail And The Mighty One

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, had gone away to look for magic in them. He wanted to be a giant for a little while play-like, all for the fun of a happy adventure. Oh, it was really happening, play-like, you know, all on a far-away day in a play-like jungle, of dank, dark green.

wump, the monkey boy, 'don't you think maybe we ought to go find Huffen and see if he is doing all right?"

Daddy Ringtail thought that they had better do it indeed, and so away they walked and around the hill, all to follow after the Huffen and find him.

"Do you have your magic hammer?" Daddy Ringtail asked.

"Sure," said Mugwump, because he had it in his hand, the magic hammer that flashed and crashed with lightning and thunder whenever Mugwump, the mighty one, threw the hammer with his mighty arm. Did I forget to tell you that Mugwump now had a mighty arm, all on this play-like day in the very long ago?

"Look!" said Daddy Ringtail of a sudden. "Mugwump, look!"

Mugwump looked. Yes, and there was Good Giant Huffen Puffen, fast asleep on the ground. Oh, but what a mighty giant the Huffen had become. He was so very large that his ears were way up high above the ground. His ears were so high up that Daddy Ringtail could not call loud enough to wake him. Mugwump couldn't either. And so Daddy Ringtail suggested that Mugwump ought to throw the magic hammer up at the Huffen's ear to make a noise of thunder now, and wake the Huffen up.

Mugwump did throw the hammer up. "Flash!" was the lightning; "Crash!" was the thunder; all from the magic hammer bouncing off the ear of Good Giant Huffen Puffen.

But Good Giant Huffen Puffen only smiled in his sleep, and said: "Did a leaf fall down from a tree to hit my ear?"

Oh! because the Huffen seemed to think that the mighty blow of the hammer was only a leaf falling down from a tree. Yes, and so how mighty was Mugwump really? How mighty was Good Giant Huffen Puffen? Who had the strongest magic? For the answer to these and other important questions, don't miss tomorrow's adventure. Happy day!

Grace Is A Woman's Ace

Prising her gracefulness as a prime beauty asset, this young woman walks her best at all times, aided by shoes that are suitable and sensible as well as pretty. Sturdy heels of walking shoes (right) help balance weight of grocery bag. Low-heeled party pumps (upper left) enhance feet which will dance in comfort all evening. Low-cut shells (lower left), worn for social afternoons, are given extra support by dainty satin instep straps.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Grace is a hidden ace possessed by every woman, no matter how sparing nature may have been in dealing out to her the other attributes of beauty.

Proud posture and fluid movement, which are as often gifts of endeavor as of birth, envelop in loveliness any woman who possesses them.

If you wish to achieve the beauty that grace bestows, learn a few fundamental rules of walking, and make constant use of them.

Remember, first of all, to hold your head proudly. Never walk with your chin tucked upon your chest and your eyes fixed upon the ground.

Correctly chosen shoes will aid you in your campaign for grace. Too-high heels or inadequately supported ankles are often responsible for feminine awkwardness.

Aching feet, encased in inappropriate or run-down shoes, account for too much hobbling. Make sure your feet are sensibly, as well as prettily, shod.

Experts recommend walking, not the oft-praised straight line, but two parallel lines an inch or two inches apart. Placement of your feet will depend to a great extent upon the size of your thighs and knees.

A large woman will usually find she has better balance if her steps are spaced a bit apart.

Make certain your toes point straight ahead. No woman can look graceful when clumping along with a pigeon-toed or duck-footed gait.

Avoid mincing, too. This results when the weight of your body is first put upon the ball of your foot and then shifted to your heel.

It's better to reverse this motion, rocking your weight from your heel along the lower outer margin of your arch and onto the ball of your foot. This presents a solid, honest-looking walk.

Other taboos include the shifting of your thigh bones in your hip sockets, which produces swaying and jiggling; and the jerking of your knees, which gives an uneven gait.

When you are carrying bundles or packages, try to balance the excess weight so that your body will not be thrown into a sideward list or your shoulders hunched forward.

It's a good idea to avoid carrying extra-heavy bundles, from a standpoint of both fatigue and grace. A two-wheeled shopping cart will enable you to push your groceries home, walking as regularly in your everyday cotons as you do in your dress-up satins.

If your mother's cosmetics have suddenly become steady commuters from her dressing table to yours, it's high time you acquired your own.

Nothing destroys domestic harmony quite like the question of who mislaid the hand lotion or who left the stopper off the perfume bottle. Besides, your mother's beauty aids are likely to be unsuited for your own fresh, developing loveliness.

Most young teen-agers agree with this, but there is, they point out, a question of finances. The allowance of the average junior high student will not usually cover a big spree at a cosmetic counter.

The answer is planned economy. Build your budget around a general-aid hand lotion or who left the stopper off the perfume bottle. Besides, your mother's beauty aids are likely to be unsuited for your own fresh, developing loveliness.

Order inexpensive fruit drinks at the soda fountain rather than gooey concoctions that cost half a week's allowance. Both your face and figure will be better for it. And instead of flattening your wallet and thickening your figure at the movies every afternoon, go in for active outdoor recreation that will keep you slim and alert.

Give thought to your own particular complexion problems and make up a list of cosmetics with these difficulties in mind.

University Has Dog Blood Bank

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—There is a dog blood bank in the University of North Carolina school of medicine's department of pathology.

Possibly it is the first. Certainly it is the first for saving the lives of dogs sick with hemophilia. That is the hereditary bleeding disease which occurs in human families, both royal and others.

The donor dogs give their blood for transfusions and seem to enjoy it. They are laboratory pets. When called they come running, tails wagging, jump on the laboratory table and roll over ready for blood-giving.

Hemophilia was supposed to be strictly a human ailment, until a case was discovered in a pet house dog. This discovery has made it possible to breed a race of hemophilic dogs, the first known, and thereby to make studies of much human promise. Thanks for success goes largely to the dog blood donors, who have no hemophilia.

Hoover's Report Is On Rocky Path

WASHINGTON—The path is likely to be rough and uphill for many of the Hoover commission recommendations from now on.

About half the suggestions for government reform made by the famous study group in early 1949 have now been put into effect. They included some major reforms, but the really tough nuts have yet to be cracked.

Here are some of the chief steps recommended by former President Hoover's group, called the commission on organization of the executive branch of the government, that have not yet been acted on:

Fair Trade Laws To Receive Test

CLOVIS, N. M.—New Mexico's fair trade laws will be given a test at the district court term next August.

Earl Denton, Clovis merchant, has announced plans to fight injunction suits brought against him by Remington Arms and Winchester. The companies allege Denton sold arms and ammunition below fair trade prices.

Denton said he considers the fair trade laws unconstitutional and he never signed any agreements to stick to the fair trade prices.

CZECHS INVEST IN RELICS
PRAGUE—The Czechoslovak government spent $3,216,000 last year for care of cultural and historical relics, says a report approved by the cabinet. Historical commissions were set up in some 30 towns.

Advice Of Her Mother-In-Law Proves Helpful

Mrs. W. O. Jones

There are a lot of jokes about mothers-in-law; in fact, comedians just can't seem to perform without making some reference to them. But there are many, many wonderful mothers-in-law in this old world who have the best interest of their sons-in-law and daughters-in-law at heart. Mrs. W. O. Jones, 7244 N. Bell St., Chicago, Ill., can certainly agree to that for when Mrs. Jones wasn't feeling well, her mother-in-law recommended HADACOL. And HADACOL seemed to be just what Mrs. Jones needed, and HADACOL may bring you the relief you are seeking if you are weak and run-down due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is what Mrs. Jones says: "I am a housewife and mother of three children. I had been feeling very run-down, and would tire so easily, and just felt listless. My mother-in-law suggested I take HADACOL, as she had heard of it through friends of hers. I just took it for a few days, when I noticed I was feeling stronger and seemed to have more energy. I continued taking HADACOL and it has certainly built up my strength. I am no longer run-down, don't tire nearly as much. I am now on my sixth large bottle of HADACOL, and intend to continue taking it."

HADACOL can help you if you suffer such deficiencies. Ask your druggist for HADACOL today. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful HADACOL feeling."

Big step up

that's easy to take!

You have to hand it to Buick engineers. What they've done to this 1951 SPECIAL is nothing short of a minor miracle.

They've stepped up its style with a brand-new body, an eager new thrust-ahead look, a gleaming new push-bar forefront that's as ruggedly protective as it is stunning to see.

They've stepped up the smartness of its interiors with the smartest fabrics that ever graced the interior of this Buick Series.

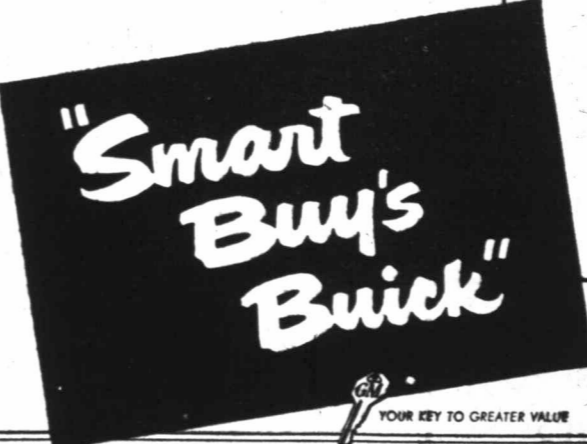

They've stepped up the safety, by the sharp new clarity of white-glow instrument markings more easily read at night.

They've stepped up the power to the highest ratings in SPECIAL history—

120 horsepower with Synchro-Mesh transmission, 128 with Dynaflo Drive.

They've come up with a car that's new in everything from the ground up—and a price that's the best news of all.

So, if you've been toying with thoughts of buying a lesser car—better come in and see how easy it is to step up to this thrifty marvel.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS!

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—softens strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models

Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Stop-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poloid engine mounting, Body by Fisher

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buick models

Cover-Up Look In New Beach-Wear

The covered-up look in resort fashions for the beach is demonstrated by these designs. The dry-off costume (left) is terry cloth with detachable hood. A polished cotton bathing suit (center) is in deep purple with matching two-faced cape. A three-piece swimsuit costume for the heat of the day (right) has cover-up jacket lined in terry cloth. The bra top is strapless.

This costume is meant to ward off breezes which chill swimmers in wet suits. Polished cotton satin in deep purple is used by designer Frances Sider for a shirred bathing suit with crossed bra top. A two-faced cape of waffle pique printed with life-size poppies and shaded in purple provides the cover-up here. The caps is very full and therefore can be truly concealing. A three-piece suit for sunning is done by Bestlyne in glistening chintz. Bra and shorts have a leaf design in deep rose on white. Cover-up comes with a brief jacket, in the same pattern, lined with white terry cloth.

Button Box Yields Jewelry

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

The urge to own a wide selection of costume jewelry is often thwarted by a cramped budget and the inability to find exactly what you want. One solution to both these problems is to make your own jewelry. With buttons, it's easy. Glistening buttons from the notions counter rival a jeweler's display, offering a wide variety of styles and sizes from which to choose.

- FRIDEN CALCULATORS
- AUDIOGRAPH DICTATING MACHINES
- SMITH-CORONA TYPEWRITERS
- VICTOR ADDING MACHINES
- STEEL CASE DESKS AND CHAIRS
- LEOPOLD DESKS
- GUNLOCKE CHAIRS

These pendants, suspended from narrow black velvet ribbons, combine with matching earrings to make glamorous evening ensembles. Also for wear with dance frocks are easy-to-make chokers, dressed up with a handsome button which is set with fake jewels. Simply sew it in place. Complementary earrings may be made from smaller buttons of the same design, or from sparkling buttons set with similar stones.

To make these attractive earrings, purchase earring backs at a notions counter, or buy inexpensive earrings and remove the setting. Attach the buttons of your choice to the backs with a good household cement.

The same method may be used for making tailored earrings, which are attractive when matched, in smaller size, with buttons on your dress or blouse.

A similar procedure should be followed in making pins. If pinbacks are unavailable in your town, break the original decorations from inexpensive pins and cement buttons in their place.

In case you have difficulty making metal buttons adhere to metal pin or earring backs, shred a piece of string and mix the floss with the cement before gluing the pieces together. Another method is to rough up one of the surfaces with a file.

The making of button jewelry is often simplified by removing the shank—the loop through which the thread would pass for ordinary button use.

This can usually be broken off with a little pressure, or removed with a small file from the toolbox. In some cases, it's easier to take off the entire back of the button by prying with a nail file.

In addition to earrings, necklaces and pins you can make cuff links by joining two buttons with a short length of twisted wire.

Weather Forecast Accuracy Is Cited

WASHINGTON — After a year of issuing summaries on the weather outlook 30 days ahead, the weather bureau is engaged in the pleasantly novel practice of dodging roses instead of brickbats. Its daily local weather forecasts for 24 to 48 hours are accurate 87 times out of 100.

Hits and misses are harder to score for the 30-day forecasts because they're not stated for precise places in precise degrees of temperature or inches of rainfall as the "dailies" are. They just talk about the whole nation or large regions and say it will be colder or warmer than normal and more or less rainy than normal. But laymen have showered a good bit of praise on their "accuracy" with some scoring it as 80 per cent or more.

The number of subscribers (at $4.80 a year) to the "average monthly weather resume and outlook" the bureau puts out twice a month has jumped from 350 to more than 3,000 in the last year and a half.

Germany Chooses Little Blonde As 'Woman Of Year'

FRANKFURT — A little blonde who got Hollywood's cold shoulder is Germany's woman of the year.

Fans rioted by the thousands to see Hildegard Knef in the title role in "The Sinner." Steel-helmeted police with rifles were called out. A row over Miss Knef's film characterization has split state cabinets and raised questions over constitutional liberties.

Not for 20 years have Germans blown off so much steam on an issue unconnected with guns or butter.

All this is a headline adventure for square-chinned, flaxen-haired Miss Knef, the first German actress to win an American studio contract after the war.

Wrapped in Cinderella dreams, she went to Hollywood but was left sitting around for a year without a part. Preferring work at home to well-paid idleness abroad, she came back to Germany.

Willi Forst, an oldtime producer and director, had an idea meanwhile for a startling movie. He envisaged the heroine as a prostitute—a latter-day German cousin of Camille and Manon—and he traced the heartbreak of her one true love against the backdrop of Nazi corruption in wartime and of blackmarket immorality in the era of defeat.

Under Forst's direction, "The Sinner" and her fatally ill artist-lover, played by Gustav Froehlich, cut across most of the historic taboos in the film business.

It ends in a double suicide after "The Sinner" has offered her body for sale to others, hoping to buy a surgical miracle for the artist, who is going blind.

SHE STOOD IN BED

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Alice Hollenbeck, 83, was held captive by a folding bed for two hours. She walked into a closet and the door slammed shut behind her. The shock brought a folding bed down on her, wedging her against the wall. A neighbor, hearing her cries, called the fire department. They had to saw a two-foot hole in the door to get her out—unhurt.

Glitter Brightens After-Dark Headwear

Evening hats for the holidays are small, dramatic with jewels and feathers. Walter Florell's white marocain pillbox (left) is webbed in black mesh caught with rhinestones. Brilliant sparkle (upper center) on John-Frederics' black mesh cap with ostrich waterfall. Sally Victor does a heavy ribbed silk cap (lower center)—in white, gives it a halo of tubular trimming. A close-fitting cap (right) of white mesh, a John-Frederics design, is dotted with rhinestones, edged and tied with black velvet.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

When evening comes, a woman wants a small hat. She hasn't always been able to get one in the past. But for the holidays, she can take her pick of small hats which have the brilliance of meteors.

This season, a man has a fighting change of attending the theater and seeing a whole play without craning. The lady in front of him may be wearing a cap so small as to scarcely be visible.

One such cap, designed by John-Frederics, is in white mesh studded with rhinestones. It's edged in velvet and has a tiny open crown edged, too, in velvet. This airy cap fits the head snugly and is therefore extremely convenient to wear.

Designers like white for these holiday hats. Sally Victor, for example, has a dramatic white evening hat in heavy ribbed silk. The hat is chiefly a halo created from spaghetti-like tubing.

White appears again in a marocain pillbox by Walter Florell. The heavy silk of the hat is covered by black mesh sprinkled with rhinestones. A spray of black ostrich is anchored to the front by a glittering clip.

Black, liked almost as well as white for these hats, is used by John-Frederics for a mesh cap lighted with brilliants. The look of height at the back of this shallow hat is achieved by a waterfall of shiny black ostrich feathers. There's a small, sheer veil which shadows the eyes.
