Long Extension Is Seen For Midland Sweetie Peck Pool

Possibilities of a long two-mile north extension to the Ellenburger pool of the multipay Sweetie Peck field of Southwest Midland County were indicated Tuesday in Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 7-C Sanders.

A drillstem test taken in the interval from 13,298 to 13,335 feet developed 90 feet of free oil, 1,800 feet of oil and gas-cut water blanket, 1,300 feet of gas-cut water blanket and 8,800 feet of gas-cut mud.

After the tool had been open two hours and 20 minutes, gas showed to the surface. The packer failed after three and one-half hours.

To Test Again

Operator was to drill five feet deeper and take another test of the same section.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,283 feet, elevation 2,892 feet.

The prospector had indicated that it might produce from the Wolfcamp when that formation was drilled.

Location is 860 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 9, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey and 20 miles southwest of the City of Midland.

Queen Sand Oil Is Found In Sterling

A shallow wildcat in West-Central Sterling County, Parochial Petroleum Company No. 1 Mrs. H. B. Bode has developed interesting shows of possible production from the Queen sand of the upper Permian at 1,100-13 feet.

That shows flowed at the rate of 10 barrels of new oil per day, natural and did not show any formation water.

Operator then Hydratraced the 1,100-13 foot section with 750 gallons. The hole was loaded with 150 barrels of oil.

After the project was opened up following the Hydratracing 112 barrels of fluid was swabbed out. Most of that was load oil. However, some of it was thought to have been new oil.

Hole Sands Up

After the 112 barrels of oil had been recovered the hole sanded up and operator was unable to swab out any more fluid.

The tubing is to be pulled and the hole balled to bottom to clean out the sand, and then swabbing through tubing will be resumed.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 22, block 22, H&TC survey. The project was started to go to 5,000 feet to explore through the Permian lines.

The wildcat is five miles east of Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 TXL, a small pumping discovery which opened the Herrell field several months ago.

Third Oiler Finaled In Parks-Ellenburger

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. F. Haley has been completed as the third producer in the Parks-Ellenburger field of Central-West Midland County.

The new oiler, one location east of the same operator's No. 1 Collins, a producer, was finished for a daily flowing potential of 652 barrels of 47.1-gravity oil and no water.

The Railroad Commission of Texas on potential was gauged through a 20/64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 1.78-1.

The new producer is 900 feet from east and 600 feet from south lines of section 7, Matt Daugherty survey No. A-1448.

Production is from casing perforations opposite the Pennsylvanian at 10,444-74 feet. Total depth is 10,527 feet.

At present there is no Ellenburger production in the field.

Andrews Wildcat Is Out Of Pay Section

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Tom Peay, Central-North Andrews County discovery for flowing production from two sections of the Permian lime, is apparently through the oil zone of the Wolfcamp—the second producing formation it has encountered.

The prospector is to make more hole. It is contracted to 14,000 feet to test the Ellenburger.

This development had flowed oil at the rate of 16.2 barrels per hour from the Wolfcamp at 9,308-29 feet, and it had a recovery of 1,710 feet of free oil in a test of the upper section of the same horizon at 9,225-51 feet.

It flowed 28.7 barrels of oil in one hour and 15 minutes in a drillstem test at 8,170-8,200 feet in a lime section thought by some geologists to likely be the Wichita-Albany.

The project ran a three-hour drillstem test at 8,310-31 feet on a soft lime section. Gas surfaced in six minutes.

No fluid came to the top while the tester was open. The fluid re- (Continued On Page 11)

Annual Clinic Is Blessing To Crippled Tots

By TANNER LAINE

Case No. 21, a little boy strained ever so hard to inch his fingers up the wall.

The skilled physician's fingers played along the boy's arm and shoulder. Tears of anxiety welled up in the eyes of his mother, then joy when the doctor said:

"This boy needs only more physical therapy. It can be done at home."

All this cost the boy and his mother nothing at the Crippled Children's Clinic in Midland Tuesday. It's free to those who can't pay and is sponsored by the State Department of Health, Crippled Childrens Division, cooperating with the Midland Health Unit and its staff.

Wonderful Job

Doing a wonderful job with food, entertainment, transportation, clerical work and many other duties was the Children's Service League of Midland. Volunteers, these kind Midland women were, and stacks of sandwiches, cookies and other good things for the children to eat were only one of many contributions.

In the City-County Auditorium the young patients waited. Braces clanked against steel chairs. Some were on stretchers. Others were held in the arms of their parents.

A heart-touching scene, this clinic for the crippled children of West Texas. It is an annual event. More than 100 children came last year. More than 60 had registered by 11 a.m. Tuesday.

Children Tuesday were brought from Midland, Howard, Ward, Ector, Winkler, Glasscock, Reagan, Andrews, Crane, Hockley, Upton, Lubbock and Reeves Counties.

Banner and Borden dairies furnished milk and ice cream. The deliverymen smiled broadly when they saw the children go for the milk and ice cream.

Case No. 16, a little girl, was carried tenderly into the doctor's office. She was in a Bradford frame, a sort of stretcher home, where she may spend one or more years. She suffers from tuberculosis of the spine.

Cold Front Hits Texas Panhandle

By The Associated Press

A stampeding cold front hit the Texas Panhandle early Tuesday, cutting visibility with its swirling dust to five miles at Amarillo and causing gusts of wind up to 60 miles per hour at other points.

No severe cold was anticipated elsewhere but the entire state could expect scattered showers and buffeting winds.

And while the Panhandle was blasted by high winds and sand storms, the rest of the state was for the moment, enjoying fair and Spring-like weather.

Monday, the tail-end of another front that crossed Texas brought squally weather, thunderstorms and hail to the Gulf Coast area.

Hail, Blowing Sand

Hail damaged tomatoes, corn and truck gardens in the Yoakum area and broke windows in downtown and residential areas of Gonzales.

But the whole mess cleared before daybreak.

Tuesday, the new front from the northwest brought blowing sand throughout the Panhandle with winds averaging 40 to 45 miles per hour and gusts up to 60 miles per hour at Dalhart. Amarillo had gusts up to 51 mph.

Temperatures ranged from 35 at Dalhart to 59 at Childress.

The front was expected to hit the Dallas-Fort Worth area by mid-afternoon, and weathermen said it would be out of the state within 36 hours.

A few snow flurries were predicted for the Panhandle Tuesday night and Wednesday, and showers were expected in the Panhandle and South Plains.

House Votes To Lift Assistance Ceiling, Hear Gas Tax Bill

AUSTIN —(P)—The House voted Tuesday to remove the ceiling on old age benefits and immediately decided to take up a controversial natural gas tax bill.

The gas tax measure is one by Rep. Jim Sewell of Blooming Grove. It would levy a tax of one cent per thousand cubic feet and mark one-tenth of the funds for farm-to-market roads.

The House voted 105-15 to take it up and then recessed for lunch.

Final vote on removing the old age ceiling was 104-3.

The measure, a proposed constitutional amendment, now goes to the Senate. If approved there, it must then be adopted in a statewide election.

Opponents Die Hard

The Constitution now limits state spending for public welfare to $35,000,000 annually.

Opponents fought to the bitter end against removing the ceiling. They said it merely would allow more people on the rolls and spread thinner what money is available.

The House locked its doors to keep members in until it voted on removing the ceiling. It also voted 58-7 to instruct the sergeant-at-arms to go out and pick up absent members.

Connally Says He's Ready To Take On All Comers In '52

DALLAS —(P)—The Dallas Morning News Tuesday quoted Senator Tom Connally as saying he would be a candidate for reelection in 1952.

The Washington Bureau of the News said Connally has told friends he is ready to take on all comers, including Gov. Allan Shivers.

"I hope the governor won't run," Connally said. "I hope nobody will run. But if Mr. Shivers or anyone else enters the race, I'm ready."

Shivers has made no announcement of his political plans for 1952.

Connally, 71, has been a Texas senator since he defeated Senator Earle B. Mayfield in 1928. Before that he served five terms in the House.

Pentagon Names Divisions In Line For European Duty

WASHINGTON —(P)—Two Regular Army divisions and two National Guard divisions stand high on the list of units that may be sent to reinforce Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Western Defense Force.

Pentagon sources, reporting this to newsmen Tuesday, said the regular divisions are the Fourth Infantry, now at Fort Benning, Ga., and the Second Armored Division at Fort Hood, Texas.

The National Guard divisions were named as the 28th from Pennsylvania and the 43rd, drawn from Connecticut, Vermont and Rhode Island. They have been in training since last September.

C. Of C. Directors Ask Submission Of County Bond Issue

Chamber of Commerce directors, at their meeting Monday afternoon in Hotel Scharbauer, voted unanimously to ask the Midland County Commissioners Court to submit to the voters a proposal to issue $1,250,000 in bonds for the completion of the Front Street improvement program and other highway projects, including a paved road into the Pegasus oil field.

Support in the bond issue election also was promised.

The directors heard several committee reports and endorsed the candidacy of Robert M. Turpin of Midland as president of the State Bar of Texas. Stanley M. Erskine, president, presided at the session.

The bond issue action followed a Highway Committee report by Chairman John P. Butler, in which it was recommended the Chamber of Commerce request the calling of a bond election. The recommendation was agreed upon by members of the road panel at a meeting last week.

More Funds Needed

Butler reviewed the Front Street program, including widening, drainage and grade separation projects, and explained that due to rising costs, between $775,000 and $1,000,000 in additional funds, will be needed to complete the overall job. He said some right-of-way already has been purchased and a $752,000 contract for drainage work has been awarded. Voters last year approved the issuance of $1,000,000 in bonds for the project.

"The important program has been started and should be completed," Butler stated.

State Department Bares Suspension Of High Naval Officer

WASHINGTON —(P)—The State Department Tuesday said the Navy has suspended former Cmdr. Stephen Brunauer "under Navy Department loyalty and security procedures."

Brunauer has been employed as a civilian on explosives research for the Navy.

Along with his wife, Mrs. Ester Calkin Brunauer, the former officer was named by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) last year in a list of government employes McCarthy regarded as subversive.

In announcing the Navy action, the State Department said it had suspended Mrs. Brunauer from a department job pending the outcome of Navy action on Brunauer. She has been employed by the department's United Nations relations staff as a liaison officer.

Employed As Civilian

Brunauer entered the Navy as a lieutenant on Oct. 23, 1942, and held the rank of commander when he was returned to civilian status Nov. 13, 1946. He then went to work for the Navy as a civilian.

Mrs. Brunauer, a native of Jackson, Calif., holds three college degrees, including the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Stanford University. She came to the State Department in 1944 after holding a post with the American Association of University Women. She has studied abroad in Geneva and Berlin.

White House Calls Off Interview When Legion Chief Talks

WASHINGTON —(P)—The White House Tuesday said it cancelled an appointment for national Legion Commander Eric Coker, Jr., because Coker first publicly announced what he planned to tell President Truman — that he supports Gen. Douglas MacArthur's controversial position on Far Eastern policy.

This eliminated the need for the conference which had been set for noon Tuesday, the White House said.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short told a news conference: "At 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, Mr. Coker called Mr. Connelly's (Presidential Appointment Secretary Matthew J. Connelly) office asking for an appointment, stating he had just returned from Rome and wanted to see the President before making any statement to the press."

"A couple of hours later there appeared on the news tickers interviews by Mr. Coker in which he informed reporters what he was going to tell the President. At that point, it seemed unnecessary for him to have the appointment. The appointment was cancelled."

Coker said Monday he supported Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposal to use Chinese Nationalist troops against the Chinese Communists.

MacArthur Stands Pat As Three Continents Simmer

By The Associated Press

The controversy over Gen. Douglas MacArthur's recent statements boiled on three continents Tuesday, but in Tokyo the United Nations commander indicated he intends to keep right on pressing for greater latitude in the Korean campaign.

In a two-hour discussion with Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., at his Tokyo headquarters Monday, MacArthur is believed to have asked for more troops and freer hand to wage war against the Communist Chinese.

MacArthur repeatedly has rallied against Red China's "privileged sanctuary of Manchuria" and in his talks with Pace may have sought the right to bomb Chinese supply bases, Tokyo dispatches said.

The supreme commander—criticized by Truman Administration supporters for urging use of Chinese Nationalist troops in a second front against Red China—authorized a spokesman to deny reports he had been reprimanded for the statement.

Informed sources said MacArthur stood his ground in his conference with Pace on his publicly expressed views that have provoked a storm in (Continued On Page 10)

Midlanders Warned Of Nearing Deadline For Tax Renditions

Only 30 days were left Tuesday for the rendition of property for 1951 city, county and school taxes. Midland County Tax Assessor J. M. Speed said that less than half of the taxpayers had rendered their property as the April 30 deadline drew near.

W. I. Pratt, assessor-collector for the City of Midland, said it is especially important this year that property be rendered.

Property valuations, he said, have been changed to conform with a re-survey of property items in the city.

"To know what your assessment valuations will be," he said, "requires rendition of your property."

"Property not rendered will be assessed according to the schedule of the recent evaluation survey."

Pratt accepts renditions of property for both city and Midland Independent School District taxes.

Texas Gain Sparks Nation To All-Time High Crude Output

TULSA, OKLA. —(P)—America's domestic crude oil production topped the 6,000,000-barrel-per-day mark for the first time in history during the week ended April 7, The Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The week's total daily average production, according to The Journal, was 6,056,625 barrels, a jump of 88,325 barrels over the previous week's output.

It also was 67,435 barrels above the previous all-time high of 5,989,190 barrels for the week ended January 27 of this year.

Texas, the No. 1 producing state, turned in most of the week's gain, soaring 108,825 barrels to 2,725,375 barrels, a new record.

Card Howie Pollet Ends Long Holdout

HOUSTON —(P)—Howie Pollet, the 30-year-old southpaw ace of the St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff, ended his long holdout here Tuesday at a meeting with Cardinal President Fred Saigh.

Saigh had asked Pollet to take a salary cut and the Houston insurance salesman refused.

"Just say we got together," Saigh said. "We don't care to talk over the terms."

Pollet was the last major holdout in the big leagues.

White Ties Ex-War Hero Says Joining Party Stupid

WASHINGTON —(P)—Movie star Sterling Hayden said Tuesday he joined the Communist Party in 1946, but that he now thinks this "was the stupidest, most ignorant thing I've ever done in my life."

"I went into it with an emotion and very unsound approach," Hayden told the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He said he joined the party in June, 1946, and broke with it in December.

He said he was turned against the party upon finding there wasn't anything democratic about it, something he had been led to believe while he was working with the Yugoslav underground as a Marine lieutenant during the war.

"It took me a couple of months to realize that they believe they alone have the key, that they know what is best for everyone."

"I decided to get out. And I got out."

Hayden said he signed up with the party at the request of a Bee Winters.

Miss Winters, he said, was a former secretary for a Hollywood agency, Allen Berg, Inc., which later became the William Morris Agency. He told the committee he doesn't think the agency knew about Miss Winters' beliefs.

Civilian Life 'Disturbing'

He joined the party, he testified, after his discharge from service in December, 1945, and his return to a civilian life which he said he found "disturbing."

The 35-year-old actor said he went back to Hollywood uncertain whether to go to his original job as a seaman, or whether to do something "about this political thing" he discovered while serving in the Yugoslav Partisan Movement as a U. S. Army agent.

The one-time Marine Corps captain, whose real name is John Hamilton, was the lead-off witness in the second phase of the committee's probe of whether Reds had infiltrated the movie capital.

Allies Reach South Shore Of Reservoir

TOKYO —(P)— Allied troops reached the southern shores of the sprawling Hwachon Reservoir Tuesday but heavy Red mortar fire stopped them short of the big North Korean dam and hydro-electric plant.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the central front battleground that the water behind the dam still is about 200 feet deep. The Reds opened 10 of the reservoir's 18 floodgates to near-normal levels in the Pukhan River, reservoir outlet.

American units paced the Allies' assault on the dam. The Communists fought back with a steady barrage of mortar shells.

Reds Resist Bitterly

Bradshaw said it was believed the Chinese lacked the equipment necessary to blow the dam.

In the air, American F-86 Sabre jets shot down one Russian-type MIG-15 jet fighter and damaged another. The air battle was fought at low level near Sinuju, in North-west Korea.

Bitter Communist resistance was reported from the western front as Allied patrols probed deeper into Red Korea. Intelligence reports said the Reds were sending more troops to this sector.

On the east coast, Allied warships hammered Communist supply dumps and traffic routes.

Tuesday's heaviest fighting swirled near the Hwachon Reservoir.

American tanks rumbled northward on the Chunchon-Hwachon road through the narrow Pukhan River gorge. They were putting the squeeze on 200-300 Reds who had been driven back into a narrow neck of land between the western end of the dam and the river.

On a 15-mile front to the east, Allied infantrymen ran into die-hard Communist forces. The Reds opened up with mortar, machine gun and artillery fire.

City Council May Accept Fire Station Bids Tuesday Night

Contracts for the construction of two new fire stations are scheduled to be awarded Tuesday night at the last regular session of the present City Council.

Bids on the projects were opened Friday and City Manager W. H. Oswald Monday said he would have recommendations concerning the contracts by the time the Council meets.

It will be the last regular meeting for Mayor William B. Neely and Councilmen W. F. Hejl, Frank Shriver and H. E. Chiles, Jr.

Ferry Pickett, victorious in last week's city election, will be sworn into office as mayor at a special meeting next Tuesday, along with Councilmen-elect J. B. McCoy, R. B. (Bum) Cowden and J. W. (Johnnie) Starr.

Vote Canvass Scheduled

The new officials will be elected officially after Tuesday night's meeting, at which the City Council will canvass the returns of last week's election.

Bids received Friday on the fire stations were on a fixed fee basis, although each of the three contractors submitted an estimated cost and a guaranteed low cost.

The Council will also award Tuesday night a contract for the extension of water and sewer lines in scattered sections of the city.

Joe Copeland was low bidder Monday with a bid of $20,507.50 for the water and sewer jobs, on which the city will supply the materials.

The projects include:
Water and sewer extensions in parts of South Park and Park Lea Place additions.
Water extensions in parts of Eastover and Southern additions.
Sewer extensions in parts of Haley Heights and Johnson-Moran additions.

Winkler County Sets Dry Election May 5

KERMIT —(P)— Winkler County commissioners Tuesday scheduled a local option prohibition election May 5 after crediting a petition they had received.

Kermit is the county seat of Winkler County and Wink is the only other town in the county.

Burlesque Beauty Patterns Strip On Bette Davis' Acting

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: I've got some news for Bette Davis that will make her eyes really pop. Bette is stripper Lili St. Cyr's inspiration on the screen.

Not Ava Gardner, Betty Grable or Paulette Goddard, mind you but Bette herself.

"She has such an expressive way of handling her body," gonfided frosty-eyed Lili, who, having worked night club customers, is heading for a movie career. "Other actresses float around, but the way Bette controls her body makes me feel what she does."

Lili isn't sure that Bette could succeed on the runways—matter of fact she wouldn't hire any movie queen as her understudy—but she rates Lana Turner and Hedy Lamarr as the Shebas most likely to score a mild hit in burlesque.

Lili doesn't know why movie producers persist in offering her "sweet girl roles"—"I want to play sultry women"—and they can count me out if they want me for a picture about burlesque.

Says the stripper:
"It's the roughest part of show business. I do it for the money."

Spencer Tracy and Pat O'Brien are trading lines like "Remember the old swimming hole?" on the set of MGM's "The People vs. O'Hara" and they're not in the script, either.

They were boyhood pals before they started looking in the mirror for chin fuzz. Last time Spencer and Pat worked together was in a Baltimore stock company back in 1928.

"Lean days," Pat reminisced. "On Christmas, we dined on baloney and rye bread. Talkies hadn't come in then and actors were afraid to gamble on Hollywood."

Has Spencer changed since then? Said Pat: "We've known each other

40 years. In my book, he hasn't changed since he was 12 years old." Live And Learn

"I think I was a little stupid. But you learn. You make mistakes and pay for them yourself."

Vivica Lindfors talking about the throne she abdicated at Warners in order to free-lance, currently as a blind girl with Sterling Hayden in "Skid Row."

But even without a big studio behind her shouting her queen-dom to the world, Vivica's not crying the blues.

"It's nice not to be pressed to do things and to be able to choose," she smiled. "I get more pleasure out of life this way. One makes a lot of mistakes, but who knows what a mistake is?"

The Swedish star, once heralded as a threat to Ingrid Bergman, heads for the Broadway stage soon to star in Jacques Deval's "Samar-kand." She'll play a tiger trainer.

The Paris critics may have said "Phoey" to Orson Welles' stage production of "The Unthinking Lobotomy," but Joseph Cotten still is roaring over the play.

"It was a terribly funny play about Hollywood," Cotten told me on the set of "Peking Express."

"The critics were wrong."

"The Third Man" wound up Cotten's long contract with David O. Selznick, but he's still hopping to Europe for pictures like, "September Affair."

Differences in picture-making in Hollywood and Europe?

"The only differences," Cotten said, "are the decorations in the producers' offices."

The true life story of Claire Phillips, filmed by Allied Artists as "I Was an American Spy," is rated by Ann Dvorak as one of the best roles of her career. Says the big-eyed brunet:

"I used to play parts that had no beginning or ending. This one has a beginning and ending."

Ann does a fan dance a la Sally Rand in one sequence for the picture.

"You won't be able to see anything but my head, my feet and two fans. At least, I hope you won't. The fans were improvised from bamboo and tissue paper. I got ready to do the dance and the orchestra started playing 'Alice Blue Gown.' I was hysterical."

Robert Newton, who played the pirate in "Treasure Island," made Hollywood eyebrows go up when he accepted a minor role in RKO's "The Blue Veil." Mike Connolly was the first to ask him how come.

Explained the British star:
"I'd rather excite an audience for 15 minutes in a small good part than bore them for two hours in a big good part."

OVERHEARD: Reaction at a showing of "Three Guys Named Mike" when Jane Wyman first appears in her airline stewardess uniform.

"Hmmm, the air hostess with the mostest."

The state flower of both Washington and West Virginia is the rhododendron.

HOW IKE'S COMMAND SHAPES UP

The Newsmag above shows general areas of the three major defense commands under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's new Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe (SHAPE). Noteworthy is the fact that Eisenhower's command extends into French North Africa, but not into the Middle East and the Eastern Mediterranean. This leaves undefined the future role of Greece and Turkey in European defense. The same is true of Western Germany. Lines of command throughout the new military organization aren't too rigid. For example, Adm. Sir Patrick Brind has overall command in Northern Europe, but Gen. Alphonse Pierre Juin commands only the ground forces in the all-important Central Command, while U. S. Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad commands the air forces there, and French Vice Adm. Robert Jaujard the Navy.

U. S. Attorney Gets Contempt Citations Against Gamblers

NEW YORK—The U. S. Senate has turned over its contempt citations of gamblers Frank Costello, Frank Erickson and Joe Adonis to U. S. Attorney Irving Saypol here.

Saypol told newsmen Monday he had received the official transcript of the records for study. He said he would present evidence to a federal grand jury for possible indictments.

The three men were cited for contempt after balking at certain questions asked them during the Senate Crime Committee hearings here last month.

Erickson is serving a two-year penitentiary term for bookmaking. If indicted and convicted, they would face a possible maximum penalty of 12 months imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Walker Counsel Asks For Look at Evidence

RIVERSIDE, CALIF.—Lawrence Walker's attorneys are demanding a look at evidence resulted in the 20-year-old negro's arrest on charges of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cook.

Dist. Atty. William O. Mackey Monday denied the defense request, and the lawyers said they would petition the justice of the peace.

The attorneys asked that the pistol taken from Walker and the bullet found near the body of Mrs. Cook be made available to the defense. These and other evidence were sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington for examination.

Your Child Will Forgive If You Forgive Yourself

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

If your youngster has been giving you a hurtful and difficult time lately, think a little. Have you done something to him which makes you feel ashamed? Do you feel that you have done him some injustice? If you have, forgive yourself. Then your child will forgive you. Try it.

Children can forgive the wrongs we do to them only if we take the leadership in forgiveness.

Mrs. M. abandoned her six-year-old son after her husband deserted her. But she loved her child. So she worked for another half dozen years to make a home for him.

He didn't appreciate it. He preferred the streets. One night when Mrs. M. protested his late hours, her boy said: "You walked out on me without telling me where you were going. Now it's my turn."

Her son said that because his mother still acted ashamed of herself, even though she had corrected her mistake. When she accomplished her self-forgiveness, she and her boy worked out the real home.

"Owe No Man Anything..."

It's very hard indeed to live with a child, or anyone else, for that matter, to whom we feel we are in debt. We are apt to say "yes" when we want to say "no." When we say "no," we may say it sharply and unreasonably. We have a tendency to see defiance and slight where they do not exist. When they do exist, we may be afraid to mention them.

If you have ever forgiven someone else for doing you an injury, you know what forgiveness means. It means being reunited with yourself, being a whole person again. Your wholeness is what your child may be asking for by his impertinence, disobedience and irritation.

If you think you are the first human being to hurt someone and suffer for it, remember what was written hundreds of years ago: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another."

Moral Code Weakened

Americans are accustomed to tucking their criminal elements into nice, neat compartments, serene in the thought that however bad they might be they don't contaminate the rest of life.

That serenity ought to be disturbed, however, by facts now accumulating as result of the Kefauver crime inquiry and other investigations.

The evidence is unmistakable that many underworld leaders in many parts of the United States have heavily invaded legitimate business.

Frank Costello, alleged by Senate investigators to be underworld king, gave the Kefauver committee some notion of his legitimate investments.

Anthony D'Anna, alleged by the committee to be Detroit head of Mafia, the Italian terrorist ring, is described as holding a half interest in the motor carrier which hauls all Ford cars from Ford plants in the area.

But why multiply the illustrations? They are more than ample to shock us into realizing that in many parts of the U. S. economy the line between legitimacy and illegitimacy is almost rubbed out.

The mobsters' purpose is clear. First, it gives a cloak of honesty to all their nefarious underworld enterprises.

Secondly, it provides a lucrative investment outlet for the millions they make in gambling, vice, racketeering and such.

All this makes them richer and muddies the waters so thoroughly that it is hard for the law ever to nail them.

Sometimes the play of a hand looks miraculous, almost as though declarer could see through the backs of the cards.

West's opening heart lead was taken by dummy's ace, and a low diamond was returned at once.

Probably at no time in American history has there been a comparable situation between the White House and a powerful, popular military commander.

1. MacArthur has been an active candidate for President on the opposite ticket from that of Truman, entered the Wisconsin primaries in 1948, and maintained campaign headquarters at the Philadelphia convention in 1948—the same year Truman was reelected.

2. MacArthur maintains his own personal publicity representative inside the Republican National Committee—Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers.

3. MacArthur has the vigorous support of some of the most powerful leaders of the Republican Party, has entertained many of the nation's leading publishers, is the personal friend of Hugh Baillie, head of the far-reaching United Press; also of Roy Howard, whose Scripps-Howard chain newspapers and United Press are controlled by the same interests.

WASHINGTON — For almost a year the President and those around him have blown hot and cold regarding the most spectacular military leader in the nation—Douglas MacArthur.

The truth is that the administration has a bear by the tail and does not know how to let go.

However, all groups agree that the political and military tug-of-war between Tokyo and the White House probably has been the most spectacular and difficult ever to exist between any President and a commander in the field.

Purely in terms of selfish interest the citizens of the United States must support in every way the urgent and delicate operation in which General Eisenhower is now engaged.

Risky Maneuvers Test Practicality Of Using Airborne Troops In Alaska

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the most important military maneuvers ever attempted now is in progress in Alaska. Called "Fire-step," it involves parachuting the 500th Airborne Infantry Regiment of the famed 82nd Airborne Division, plus a supporting battery of 108-mm. howitzers and a platoon of airborne engineers.

This is the first time use of airborne troops ever has been attempted in Alaskan maneuvers. It is considered extremely dangerous. The survival problem is tough for men who might be injured in the drop and unable to group with their comrades in mountain wilderness.

Practically the whole of Alaska is involved in the maneuver. It will last more than 24 days. Main purpose of the Firestep game is to test Alaska's defenses. Canada is participating in the exercise and the territorial government of Alaska also is testing civilian defense.

Main military factor is to see whether airborne troops could be moved to Alaska from Fort Bragg, N. C., paratroop base with sufficient speed to put up adequate defense.

What's RIGHT?

Q—What is the period omitted after the middle initial "S" in President Harry S. Truman's name?

A—It is correct to omit the period, for the "S" in the President's name does not stand for a name. He was given the initial "S" for the given names of his grandfathers, so it is merely a sort of family memento.

Q—How many pitchers were used in baseball's longest game?

Q—What is the ancient custom regarding the King's messenger at the opening of the British Parliament?

West Promises Aid To Iran In Trade For Oil Settlement

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. and Britain have promised Iran in effect that a satisfactory settlement of the Iranian oil dispute will pay off in Western support and material assistance.

American and British representatives started a series of conferences here Monday on the problems resulting from Iran's decision to nationalize its oil industry, including the $500,000,000 Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

From the initial, three-hour meeting came a carefully worded joint statement which stressed American and British friendship for the Middle East country and the importance to the free world of its daily output of more than 500,000 barrels of refined petroleum products.

This supplies a large part of the needs of Britain and Western Europe. Secretary of State Acheson has expressed hope of a settlement which will insure its continued delivery to these markets without any diversion to Russia and the Soviet bloc.

Marge Shares Hubby's Fun; She's Not Lucky—But Smart

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Marge's married friends think she is lucky because she and Jim share many interests and have so much fun together.

If they gave the matter a little more thought, they'd see that Marge isn't lucky—she's smart.

Marge has never discouraged any of Jim's enthusiasms. Instead she has taken them on herself, not in the spirit of a competitor, but in the comradely spirit of sharing his interests.

When anything is important to Jim it becomes important to Marge. She doesn't begrudge the money he spends on a hobby or the time he devotes to it, so his interests are never her enemies. And Jim never feels his wife resents his doing the things he really likes to do.

Others attending were Mrs. E. J. Crater, Mrs. I. E. Daniel, Mrs. Bertha Day, Mrs. John Fitzgerald, Mrs. R. W. Hamilton, Mrs. Paul Kolm, Mrs. Daniel Purvis, Mrs. C. Puckett, Mrs. William Potts, Mrs. Ray Rhodes, Mrs. Don Sivalis, Mrs. F. N. Shriver, Mrs. J. D. Wheeler and Mrs. Carl Westlund.

The program topic at the Monday meeting of the St. Claire's Guild in the parish house, Mrs. Tom West was the hostess. Mrs. W. H. Oswalt led the program.

Daddy Ringtail And Happy Birthday

Birthdays for Uncle Bunkum had come again to the Great Forest. Where oh where was Uncle Bunkum? Why, he was still at the zoo, perhaps—But wait! A cloud of dust now was coming from way down the Elephant Path. A siren was making noise. A firebell was clanging. Yes, and the motor was roaring, too. Now the firetruck came roaring up to a stop. "Happy birthday, Uncle Bunkum!" Daddy Ringtail shouted to the someone sitting in the driver's seat. It was Uncle Bunkum, all right, all right. He made the firebell clang again. Down he climbed with a heavy laugh to be again in the Great Forest.

"It's the Monkey Catcher's firetruck," said Uncle Bunkum. "The Monkey Catcher let me use it to come to see you for my happy birthday."

"Yes indeed," said Daddy Ringtail, just as the rest of the folks slid down to the ground from the monkey house. "Happy birthday, Uncle Bunkum!" they all said. And then they gave him the birthday presents.

"Thank you, folks! Thank you!" said Uncle Bunkum. He laughed and began to unwrap his presents, one by one. He put them all away in the firetruck, after saying "thank you" again for each one, of course. And then Uncle Bunkum pulled a strange looking box out the back end of the firetruck. Uncle Bunkum sang while he did it. He sang: "Happy Birthday to Me! Happy Birthday to Me!" Everyone knew that the box had in it a present that Uncle Bunkum was giving to himself.

And what do you think the present was? Why, it was a television set to see what happened on the radio while the hearing of it was happening. "Oh, what a wonderful present," said everyone there. "We have always wanted a television set."

Again Uncle Bunkum laughed out his cackly laugh. He said that the television set was to stay right there in the forest for him to see when he came for a visit. Ah me, it was really a present for the whole family, you see. Happy birthday, Uncle Bunkum! What a fine old fellow you are. Happy day!

Here's How Midland's Clinic, Aided By Your Cancer Crusade Gift, Can Save Lives

The soreness in her arm was strange and, the tiny lump in her breast was annoying. So the 61-year-old Midland area grandmother did the only thing she knew to do; she consulted her doctor.

It was a simple decision but, thanks to the doctor and the kind of research sponsored by the American Cancer Society, it saved her life.

For the doctor immediately recognized the symptom as one of the seven danger signals which the deadly diseases is kind enough to flash as if it were a red traffic light.

Off went the grandmother to the Midland Diagnostic Cancer Clinic, opened only recently and recognized by the national society.

When the staff of Midland specialists finished their preliminary tests, they agreed there probably was a malignant growth. Further tests were ordered.

A tiny bit of the living tissue was removed, carefully prepared for the microscope with the clinic's specialized equipment and then analyzed by a skilled pathologist.

There was, indeed, a cancerous growth. Special X-ray therapy was applied and, with the help of minor surgery, the growth was removed.

Now, after three weeks, there is nothing left but a tiny scar. Education and research had saved another life.

"Within a short time," one of the doctors said, "the growth would have spread to the extent that major surgery would have been necessary. Even then, it could have continued to spread if not caught in time."

To detect cancer in its early stages is one of the aims of the American Cancer Society which Monday launched in Midland and throughout the United States its 1951 Cancer Crusade.

"Money contributed during this Crusade," said Chairman Emil Rasmussen, "is an investment in the health and welfare of citizens of West Texas.

Highway 180 Group Names New Officers

ANSON—U. S. Highway 180 Association, at its annual meeting here Monday, elected H. R. Flanagan of Lamesa as its president.

The group also reelected Mrs. Matt McCall of Lamesa as secretary. Delegates from the 12 member towns located on 180, which extends from Fort Worth to El Paso by way of Carlsbad, attended the session.

Fred Wemple of Midland, member of the State Highway Commission, urged public education to the need of more expenditures for primary highways and less for farm-market roads.

Primary roads, he said, carry 92 per cent of the traffic while only a fourth of the available money is spent on their construction.

The association voted to employ a publicity expert to publicize the route and approved action for more money for advertising signs east of Weatherford and Fort Worth and west of El Paso.

Frank A. Kendal of Carlsbad, N. M., retiring president, presided at the meeting.

Big Spring Pastor To Address First Presbyterian Men

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring, will address First Presbyterian Men of Midland at their regular meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the church's Fellowship Hall.

President Ed Stitt announced Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Jane Noland will be presented in several vocal selections as a musical feature of the program. Stitt invited and urged all men of the church to attend the dinner-meeting, the first since officers for 1951-52 were elected last month.

PECOS—Theodore W. Heins, 64, a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y., died Monday in a Pecos hotel, apparently of a heart attack.

Heins and his wife were stopping over in Pecos on a vacation trip to the West Coast by way of Carlsbad Caverns when he was stricken. Funeral arrangements were awaiting the arrival of a son.

Samuel N. Rosoff, Unlettered Builder Of Fortunes, Dies

BALTIMORE—(P)—Samuel N. Rosoff, 68, who carved out a fabulous career as a digger of subways, owner of railroads and builder of tunnels and canals in many countries, died Monday night in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

A resident of New York, he entered Johns Hopkins April 1. He failed to rally from an operation Saturday for what a hospital spokesman termed a "chronic intestinal condition."

One of Rosoff's boasts was that he never went to school a day in his life. But he made and lost several fortunes—and was rich when he died, although he said it was fun to make money, not to keep it.

Rosoff left his native Russia as a youth after his father died. He worked his way to England on a cattle boat.

He arrived in the United States in the early 1900's and since then had: Worked as a candy and newspaper butcher on trains; Made some money raising a sunken vessel in the Gulf of St. Lawrence—then lost it all on a flyer in Irish potatoes.

Using what one biographer called "gall and promissory notes," turned a $200,000 profit by buying up scrap stone from quarries and selling it for use in Cape Cod Canal breakwaters.

Turned Down $200,000,000 Built what is believed to have been more miles of subway than any other man.

Constructed roads, canals, aqueducts and water tunnels in many countries.

Turned down a Russian offer of $200,000,000 to build subways and a water system in Moscow.

Scrapped a 41-mile railroad he owned (the Delaware and Northern) for metal for World War II guns.

Invested millions in such things as excursion boat lines, lumber mills, railroads, breweries, racing stables and Broadway shows.

"I haven't got any education," he once said. "What I got is what it takes to make guys with an education do the job I want done."

Nearing completion here is one of his last jobs—the construction of a 17-mile tunnel under North Baltimore and its suburbs that will link the city's water supply system with the Patuxent River.

He described the $18,000,000 undertaking as a rather small job—as such projects go.

Much of the network of subways honeycombing the rock underneath New York City was built by Rosoff and his "sandhogs."

DON'T ROB YOURSELF OF POISE AND SELF-ASSURANCE

Are you so conscious of your excess weight that your poise and self assurance is suffering? You needn't be that way— not when it's so easy to take off extra pounds without starvation diet or tiresome exercises. It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of body, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barocentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blood disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

"I have gotten wonderful results taking Barocentrate," writes Louise Bonham, Brookston, Texas. "When I started I weighed 220 pounds. I now weigh 150, a total loss of 70 pounds. I feel 100% better and am glad to recommend Barocentrate very highly to anyone."

Special X-ray therapy was applied and, with the help of minor surgery, the growth was removed.

Now, after three weeks, there is nothing left but a tiny scar. Education and research had saved another life.

"Within a short time," one of the doctors said, "the growth would have spread to the extent that major surgery would have been necessary. Even then, it could have continued to spread if not caught in time."

THE PAY OFF—Realistic, third-dimensional scenes, and souvenirs of the "pay off" of the Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo regimes are being shown in an exhibit Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday sponsored by the Midland Veterans of Foreign Wars, with proceeds going to the VFW hospital fund. The exhibit, shown in a truck pictured above, is located, from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. during the three days, on Texas at Main Street. The scenes were the result of two years' work by Clifford Cunningham, former exhibits designer for the War Department. The souvenirs include a gold and silver key carried by Mussolini.

Radio-Controlled Model Plane Makes Like Homing Pigeon

Midland enthusiasts were flying model airplanes and controlling them in flight by radio. The little planes were taking off at Midland Airport, two miles north of the city. Leon York's plane got lost. It flew out of radio control and disappeared toward Midland.

York, climbed into his full-sized airplane and took to hunt his model. Another passenger plane got into the search. But they couldn't find the elusive model in the air.

A Midlander found a crash-landed model on West Missouri Street. Knowing York was a model plane enthusiast he took the plane to the field.

When York landed the fellow was there with his model.

"Where did you find it?" York asked.

"On Missouri Street," the finder answered.

"By gosh, where on Missouri Street," York wanted to know.

"Near the intersection of H and Missouri Streets," the finder said.

"Well, what do you know? Maybe it was a 'homing' model," said York.

He resides at the intersection of H and Missouri Streets in Midland.

The little model plane had crash-landed down within a block of his home.

the Chinese, who get practically no fat, have practically no coronary disease.

Americans like salt and eat foods high in salt. But salt makes congestive heart disease worse, or may contribute to bringing it on. In this disease, the heart is overworked, perhaps because of high blood pressure or earlier heart damage. Salt promotes watery swellings in the body and the heart has to work even harder.

There are drugs that get rid of excess water, but precious vitamins can get washed out too.

Martin Dies May Seek Return To Washington In '52

ODESSA —(AP)— The 1952 plans of former Congressman Martin Dies may include a political campaign for another trip to Washington.

Dies, former chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, was questioned here Monday about his political ambitions.

"I have no earthly idea what my plans will be for 1952," he said, then added: "If the trend toward combating communism is strong enough, and the people sincerely want me to represent them, I may offer my services as a congressman-at-large or senator."

LESS SALT, LESS FAT— Specialist Offers Tip On Eating For Healthy Heart

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— To help yourself prevent heart disease, eat less fat and less salt.

Those are two of the main medical tips on eating for a healthy heart. They were described Tuesday at the annual meeting of Physicians' annual meeting by Dr. Thomas M. Durant, professor of clinical medicine, Temple University School of Medicine.

Many Americans are digging their graves with their teeth, by what they eat or don't eat, he said.

Four other heart diet tips:

Get plenty of vitamins and minerals. You need the vitamins especially to help burn the carbohydrates, starches and sugars you eat.

Get enough protein, meat, fish and milk, for your heart is a muscle, made of protein.

Get enough iron, vitamins and protein to avoid anemia. The heart has to work harder if blood lacks red cells and isn't carrying its normal load of oxygen.

Avoid overweight. Fatness adds extra miles of blood vessels and puts a strain on the heart.

Excessive salt and fat tend to be harmful for many people, inviting two kinds of heart trouble. Dr. Durant said if people used less salt and fat "it would delay the appearance of these diseases" and they might beat the fat-caused heart disease so well that they could live normal life spans.

Too much fat is blamed for causing coronary heart disease, by a hardening or narrowing of the coronary artery that brings blood to the heart. The fat forms deposits on the inner walls of the artery.

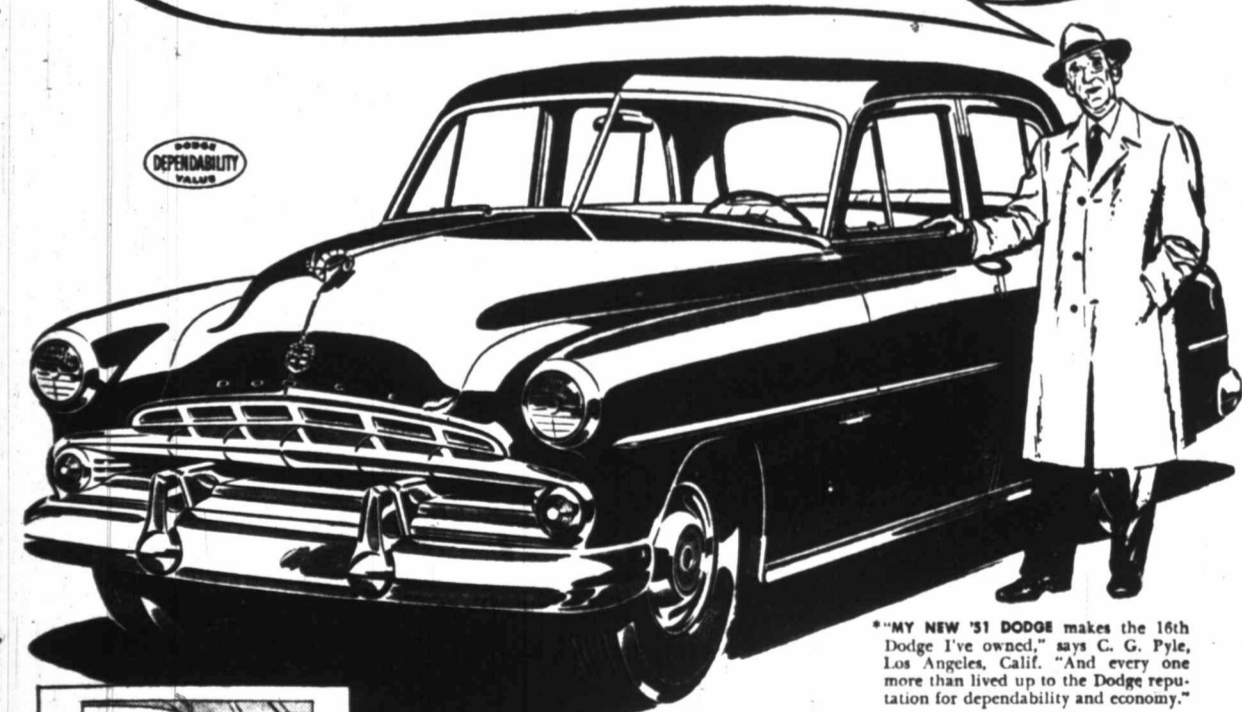

Since 1910, Americans have been eating more fat in proportion to starches and sugars. Coronary heart disease has increased, but there are many reasons besides fatty foods for this increase.

But in other countries, where fats in diet were cut during the war, deaths from coronary disease dropped considerably. And people like

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Texas Chili Night Is Held In National Press Club

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Events such as "Texas Chili Night" at the National Press Club are the kind of affairs which officials here welcome as relief from serious problems.

The Press Club provides some outstanding events of this kind, for its functions are planned without an axe to grind or cause to espouse.

Texas Chili Night (March 31) was a colorful affair. The Lone Star flag and cowboy trappings—cactus, a bear grass, high-heeled boots, sombreros and plain old dungarees—were much in evidence. Chili, tamales and beverages, all shipped from Texas, were featured on the menu.

Some semi-social affairs, sponsored annually by trade organizations also are enjoyed by weary congressmen and their wives.

In this category is the National Cotton Council's annual style and fashion show-cocktail party, where the leading model is a pretty girl from a cotton-growing state. "Miss Maid of Cotton for 1951," who was presented to Washington Wednesday is Miss Jeannine Holland of Houston. Miss Holland, 21, is a senior at Texas State College for Women at Denton.

Another group which holds an annual meeting in Washington, and stages an above-average dinner without business talk, is the Gulf Ports Association.

In charge of this affair is the local representative of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, Robert A. Nesbitt, a former Galveston newspaperman.

Port officials in Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas, comprise the association. The dinners are goodwill gestures for the congressmen from Gulf coast states, who would do what ever they could to stimulate commerce through their respective states, regardless of such social affairs.

If a congressman went to all the dinners to which he is invited, he would have few nights at home, so he turns down many invitations.

Chinese Workers Leave Singapore

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Malaya's rubber boom is attracting thousands of Indians while thousands of Chinese are leaving.

A government spokesman said "Indians are coming in because of the rather lucrative jobs as rubber tappers. More Chinese are leaving because of unsatisfactory conditions in the country and the promise of better living in China."

Many young Chinese also are leaving Malaya to avoid being called up for service with British forces fighting Communist terrorists in the Malayan jungle.

Annual Clinic-C. Of C.—

The clinic worked smoothly and efficiently. Discipline of all those crippled kids was wonderful. Not a loud word. Not a bit of boisterous play.

One of the big events of the day was the visit of Pat Decker of Midland. Pat is eight years of age and has been a stretcher case. Tuesday he walked into the clinic, a testimonial to what the clinic can do. Maybe he did have help from a crutch, but what does it matter?—he walked.

Children in a one-day diagnosis, are examined and recommendations are made by specialists. If plastic surgery is needed, the child is sent to state-designated centers. If braces are needed, they are provided by the State Department of Health, Crippled Children's Division. On duty Tuesday were Dr. E. T. Driscoll of Midland, Dr. Frank Hodges of Abilene and Dr. W. W. Schuessler of El Paso. Assisting were Nurses Marguerite Cunningham and Imogene Smith of the public health nursing service of the state department.

Staff Assistants
More than 25 members of the Children's Service League were helping. Staff members of the Midland Health Unit were on the job.

The spirit of the crippled children amazed onlookers. They could smile at ice cream when pain or discomfort pulled at their little muscles.

It was a joy to see the skilled doctors and nurses work with them and to watch the volunteer league women provide comforts.

Most of all, it was a joy to know that many of these crippled children would be happy at play soon—thanks to the work of such clinics as these.

Another item in the one-package bond proposition would finance right-of-way and fencing costs for a proposed paved road into the Pegasus field southwest of Midland. Butler said the proposed road would take off from the Rankin highway about 18 miles south of Midland, proceeding by the most direct route into the rich oil field. He said the road evidently is expected to connect with a proposed Crane County highway to the southwest.

No Rodeo Bus Trips
The directors voted to discontinue the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored bus trips advertising the annual Midland Rodeo after John Dublin, Jr., a Midland Fair official, and others said they believed other means of advertising would be more beneficial. The directors pledged the cooperation of the Chamber in other methods of advertising. It was suggested that service clubs be asked to distribute rodeo placards over the area.

A report on last month's Midland Livestock Show was submitted by Dublin, who expressed appreciation to merchants, ranchers, oil men, the Commissioners Court, Chamber of Commerce and other groups and individuals for their assistance in staging and financing the annual event.

Manufacturing Plants
Harlan Howell, chairman of the Chamber's Industrial Committee, said his committee has been working with three concerns interested in establishing manufacturing plants in West Texas. He did not identify the concerns.

C. E. (Bud) Russell, chairman of the Conventions Committee, said plans have been completed for CoC participation in decorating the city for the District 2-T-3 Lions convention late this month.

Membership and finance reports were made by Irby Dyer and Bill Collins, respectively.

MacArthur—

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman said Britain has expressed privately to the United States its concern over the MacArthur row. "Our viewpoint has been made known through our ambassador, Sir Oliver Franks, through normal conversations," the spokesman said. He insisted it was not a formal protest—usually a stern measure. Britain is anxious to keep out of the American political dispute over MacArthur.

In Washington, the White House maintained silence on any possible presidential rebuke that might be planned for the general. One highly placed congressional source said no drastic action against MacArthur was in immediate prospect, and that Truman has not yet reached a decision on the burning question.

While Administration supporters generally increased their criticism of MacArthur for urging use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops, Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the House Republican leader, supported a move to bring MacArthur home to report personally to Congress on the Pacific situation.

The Tuesday night meeting will supplant the regular Thursday noon meeting of the Rotary Club.

Pennsylvanian Oiler Finaled In Pegasus

Phillips Petroleum Company and Sharples Oil Corporation have completed their No. 1-JJ TXL as the first Pennsylvanian producer in the Pegasus field of Southwest Midland County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a one-quarter-inch choke to make an initial production of 503.90 barrels of oil. Gravity of the petroleum was 43.3 degrees.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,838-1.

Production is coming through perforations from 10,470 feet to 10,540 feet, which were treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

The project failed to produce from the Ellenburger and was plugged back from 13,236 feet to 10,588 feet.

No. 1-JJ TXL is 664 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 25, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey. It is a diagonal north-west offset to Magnolia No. 3 Glass, producer from the Ellenburger in the Pegasus field.

Magnolia Petroleum Company has scheduled a 10,600-foot rotary test in the Pegasus field as its No. 1-A John Windham.

This project is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 19, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Projected depth is calculated to take it to the Pennsylvanian.

Regan Says Lack Of Controls Slows Mineral Production

WASHINGTON — A House subcommittee on mines and mining partly blames delay in issuing price regulations for bogging down mineral defense production while demands for supplies are rising.

The group, headed by Rep. Ken Regan of the 18th District, plans to call at least 30 government witnesses. Regan charged that delays are cutting down on exploration for additional sources of needed metals and minerals and slowing existing production.

So far, he said, only two contracts for mining have been approved by the Defense Minerals Administration. Witnesses have testified that the government now needs six times the present production of tungsten.

"We are losing production because of no regulations, no contracts and no price control to permit operators to know where they stand," Regan said. "We are still trying to decide who is responsible for delays and inaction."

Administrator James Boyd of the DMA and Mann Ewing, chief of the metals branch, were recent witnesses called by the Regan subcommittee.

Spy Hunt Extends Into Activities Of 20 Years Ago

NEW YORK —(AP)—The government's hunt for more Russian spies is extending into espionage activities dating back more than 20 years, U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol says.

Some of the new suspects, Saypol says, "have been active in the Communist Party."

They operated in "not only atomic but other fields," he adds.

The U. S. attorney told newsmen Monday his men are gathering evidence dating from the late 1920's and early 1930's to 1948. The data will be given to a grand jury, Saypol said.

Saypol said on Sunday new arrests were to be expected in espionage investigations that culminated in the death-sentence convictions of Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel.

Wayne Gideon's Condition Better

HOUSTON —(AP)—Seven-year-old Wayne Gideon is feeling better but it will be about 40 days before doctors know if a dangerous operation on his throat was successful.

Wayne's throat bled almost constantly from the time he punctured a neck vein March 19 until the operation Saturday.

"His temperature is up a little but he is hungry and complains his throat is sore and itches," his father, Elmer Gideon, said Monday night.

The boy's rare O-RH negative blood does not clot normally and he had received 41 blood transfusions before the operation. There was fear before the operation that taking stitches in the throat would only cause the bleeding to increase.

Negligent Homicide Charged In Traffic Death Near Monahans

MONAHANS—Charges of negligent homicide were filed Monday against a McCamey man in the traffic death Sunday of a Dallas contractor, Jack D. Harrington, 51.

State highway patrolmen filed the complaint against W. D. Truesdale of McCamey.

A Crosley station wagon in which Harrington and his wife were traveling to Albuquerque, N. M., was struck from behind by a car the officers said was driven by Truesdale. Harrington died a few minutes after being brought to a Monahans hospital. His wife was injured critically but was reported out of danger Monday night.

Truesdale was released from a hospital Sunday afternoon. The two vehicles were damaged badly.

First '51 Polio Case Is Reported At Odessa

ODESSA — Ector County's first case of polio was reported Monday by the Ector County Health Unit.

A 12-year-old boy's illness was diagnosed as polio by spinal tap and he was sent to Big Spring for confirmation of the diagnosis. Attended physicians believed the case was a "minor involvement."

Three Yankee Big Guns Take Off For Hospital Checkups

DALLAS—(AP)—Phil Rizzuto, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds were hospital bound Tuesday.

On the results of their physical checkups at Johns Hopkins may hinge the New York Yankees' chance for another American League pennant and world's baseball championship.

Page, the Yankee's brilliant relief pitcher in 1949, was a disappointment last year, but before arm trouble popped up this Spring, he flashed his old form.

Reynolds, a 16-game winner last season, hasn't been able to do much at all this Spring because of his arm.

Rizzuto, the American League's most valuable player, said he didn't think his injury was serious.

"I expect to be on hand opening day," he said Monday night.

Rizzuto said he hurt his side playing and Monday, when tried batting practice, "it was a little bad."

But he insisted, "It's nothing serious. I'll be okay."

The three players were to leave here Tuesday afternoon by plane and expect to arrive at Baltimore, Md., late Tuesday night.

Rizzuto, who hit 324 last season, was given an orthopedic belt to wear.

The Yankees start defense of their world's championship next Monday in Washington. Without Reynolds they have only two regular starting pitchers—Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat.

Page and Reynolds could not be reached for comment on their injuries.

Texas League Clubs Blow Lid Off 1951 Race Tuesday Night

By The Associated Press
Another Texas League season—this one longer than usual—opens Tuesday night.

The 161-game grind starts with Dallas at Tulsa, Fort Worth at Oklahoma City, Houston at Beaumont and San Antonio at Shreveport.

They will be playing seven more games than last season.

Crowds totaling more than 27,000 are forecast for the opener. Two nights later, the second half of the opening will find Oklahoma City at Dallas, Tulsa at Fort Worth, Beaumont at Houston and Shreveport at San Antonio.

Six righthanders and two southpaws were nominated for starting pitching assignments Tuesday night.

At Tulsa, Dallas will use Walt Lanfranco (13-10) against Dave Jolly (5-11), both righthanders. At Oklahoma City, Fort Worth will depend on Vicente Lopez (20-8), a right-hander, while Oklahoma City will call on Lefty Al Gerheuser (11-9).

At Beaumont, Houston will use Al Pappal (5-2) and Beaumont will work behind Jim Schneib (5-8). Both are righthanders.

At Shreveport, Southpaw Jack Bruner (2-3) will toe the hill for San Antonio. Shreveport has nominated Hughie Sooter (6-16), a right-hander.

Omar (Turk) Lown Looms As Baseball's Top Draft Bargain

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs don't figure to go far in the National League pennant race, but it appears they have come up with the best "draft" bargain in more than a decade in Rookie Righthander Omar (Turk) Lown.

Lown, drafted from Brooklyn's Montreal International League team for $10,000, is the apple of Manager Frank Frisch's eye.

The 26-year-old New Yorker has been impressive throughout the Spring training grind and may turn out to be the best draft purchase since the Cubs drafted Hack Wilson in 1925 from Toledo.

Lown is extremely fast, has an average curve that sometimes is real good. His control and changeup pitch have improved.

Lown pitched the Cubs to a 6-1, five-hit victory over Little Rock Monday. He worked the first eight innings and never was headed after the fifth, when Hank Sauer poled a three-run homer.

An acute shortage of shearers is said to be a major factor in the decline of wool and lamb production of the United States.

Sugar Ray Kayoes Don Ellis In First

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Midweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson floored Don Ellis twice in the first round Monday night to gain a knockout in their non-title bout.

The champion met Ellis' wild charge with a jarring right to the jaw that sent him to the canvas.

With only 96 seconds gone, Sugar Ray hooked a left to the body that proved to be the knockout punch.

The champion weighed 157, Ellis 158.

It was the second fight in five nights for Robinson, who decided on Holy Mims of Washington in Miami April 5.

'I Have My Ball Club,' Webb Says Of Indian Players

"Except for a catcher and a couple of pitchers, I have my ball club."

So said Midland Indian Manager Harold Webb Monday afternoon at the Indians workout here.

"Unless something happens," he continued, "I think we're set. At least this bunch will open our exhibition season."

By "this bunch," Webb referred to a lineup of Jim Prince at first base, Spec Cox at second, Eddie Melillo at third, Dick Potak at shortstop, Elden Wiersig in left field, George Firnbach in center field and Hayden White in right field. Webb himself will catch during the exhibition games.

Of the group, Cox, Potak, Wiersig and White are rookies. The rest are veteran performers.

The pitching staff for the exhibition games will consist of Veteran Eddie James, Rookies Truman Altenbaumer and Charles Wheat and possibly Limited Service Hurler Sam Van Hooser.

Oklahoma City still hasn't returned Pitcher Leon Hayes and Glenn Patton, Shortstop Scooter Hughes and Catcher Kenny Jones. The OC officials are becoming interested in Hayes, as well as Jones, and both could make the OC ball club.

"What about Hughes?" Webb was asked.

"I don't know," the Indian's roundman said, "Right now I actually believe I have the best infield I've ever fielded at Midland. Sure would hate to disturb it."

Which might indicate Hughes really will have to work to break into the lineup that now is working together. If Oklahoma City should keep Hayes, then it's entirely possible Hughes might be traded for some pitching—although nothing along those lines has been termed official.

Midland's first exhibition game is at 8 p.m. Friday in Abilene. The Abilene club will come here for a tilt Saturday, this also at 8 p.m.

Webb urged the Midland fans to come out to the opening contest and take a look at the ball club. "They'll see a bunch of hustling kids," he said, "if we don't look good in the exhibition games, then we'll have to make some changes. This is a good chance to find out what we have."

Other Exhibitions
The Indians will have a busy exhibition slate after the opening Friday night. After Abilene comes here Saturday night, Webb and his crew will invade Odessa at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Oilers will repay the visit by coming here Monday, April 16. That contest starts at 8 p.m., as do all the games except the one visit to Odessa. Clovis, N. M., of the West Texas-New Mexico League will visit the following night. After a dress rehearsal the night of April 19, Roswell will come in to open the official league play at 8 p.m. Friday, April 20.

Wakefield Given Outright Release By Oakland Oaks

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Dick Wakefield, a 1941 bonus baby who signed a dollar-a-year contract to play ball with Oakland this season, has been given his outright release by the Pacific Coast League club.

The parting of the ways apparently was by mutual consent.

Wakefield, who left the University of Michigan campus in 1941 to sign with the Detroit Tigers for $52,000, wants to try to land in the major leagues, where his previous career was a stormy one.

"The management of the club has nothing but good feeling toward Wakefield," President Clarence L. "Buck" Laws said. "After a conference with Manager Mel Ott and Dick, it was agreed to give Dick an opportunity to make a deal for himself with a major league club."

Wakefield had an indifferent season after joining the Oaks as a left fielder last year. He saw action only as a pinch hitter in the early weeks of the current season. He went hitless in five tries.

In 15 exhibition games, including contests against the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Pittsburgh Pirates, he had a .342 average.

Before departing for Ann Arbor, Mich., by plane, Wakefield said he wanted to continue in baseball, but did not want to play minor league ball until convinced he cannot land a job in the majors.

Famechon Meets Cincinnati Negro In Comeback Try

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Ray Famechon, French featherweight king, gets his chance at the Cincinnati Gardens Tuesday night to redeem himself for the knockout given him a month ago by Eddie Burgin, Cincinnati negro.

He will try to prove that the TKO Burgin scored in their first meeting was accidental and due to a misunderstanding.

In that bout, Famechon was doped in the first round, and was floored in the second session after only 25 seconds of milling. He got up, then dropped his hands and walked away from Burgin. The referee understood Famechon to say he had quit.

The bout ended on that uncertain note.

A decisive victory over the little-known Burgin "is a necessity," Marcel Coletta, Famechon's manager, said.

Until Burgin, fighting his eighteenth professional fight, almost tore his head off with two punches, the Frenchman was rated nationally as just behind Willie Pep as the challenger for Sandy Saddler's crown.

Burgin, hardly known beyond Cincinnati's city limits, had no rating. Now he, along with Famechon, is rated by the NBA as among the half-dozen top contenders for Saddler's title.

The word "argosy" comes from "ragusy" which referred to ships from Ragusa, a famous port in the Middle Ages but now the town of Dubrovnik on the Yugoslavian seacoast.

Sweetwater Going All Out For Longhorn Loop Winner

SWEETWATER—Sweetwater is going all the way in its new Longhorn League deal with a change in ownership, field manager and front office setup.

Ownership now is in the hands of Sweetwater fans, who formed a stock company with Lee Ballew and O. O. Hollingsworth at the helm. The group purchased the club from Cy Fausett of Albuquerque at the close of the 1950 season.

The new pilot is Earl Harriman, second baseman with the Albuquerque Dukes last year.

The new business manager is Joe Bratcher, a veteran of many years in professional baseball as a player, manager and executive.

Just what the new combination will produce remains to be seen, but the fans are hoping the Swatters will hit the first division again—a feat the Sweetwater club hasn't accomplished since the league's first season of 1947.

The Swatters should have a good infield, an above average outfield, but the pitching and catching is questionable.

Harriman Key Man
Manager Harriman is the key man in the stellar inner wheel. With last year's pennant-winning Dukes club last year only a short while. The Swatters, however, are counting heavily on Jesse Torres and Jesse Zavala, Latin Americans purchased from Laredo of the Gulf Coast League.

Harriman figures the club is definitely set in five positions—the four infield spots and one outfield post. He's expecting some good talent from his old boss, Cy Fausett, in Albuquerque, and with an improved battery may give the leaders a run for the money.

"One thing certain, the fans will see a hustling club," Harriman says.

Only experienced backstopper in camp now is George (Chief) Abbott, who toiled in 28 games last year for Vernon and Ballinger and had a batting mark of .278.

Kefauver Probers Coming To Midland, On Screen, That Is

The famed Kefauver Crime investigating committee is coming to Midland. Not in the flesh but on the screen for 52 minutes at the Ritz Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The feature was filmed by Movie-tone News at hearings of the U. S. Senate group that observers say has broken the back of organized crime in this country. The screening brings a close-up view of members of the committee—Senators Estes Kefauver, Charles W. Tobey, Herbert R. O'Connor, Lester C. Hunt, Alexander Wiley and Chief Counsel Rudolph Halley. In action on the torrid witness stand are Frank Costello, the witness with the televised hands; Ambassador William O'Dwyer, Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, Anastasia, Virginia Hill Hauser, girl friend of racketeers, and Frank Erickson. Name of the 52-minute feature is Crime Investigation.

Cure For Chronic Alcoholism Is Difficult And Takes Time

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service
It used to be more common than it is now to rave against the evils of strong drink. Certainly alcohol has a lot to answer for and its abuse has brought misery into thousands of homes. Here is a letter sent me not long ago:
"Please help me. My husband drinks so heavily that he will lie and steal for drinking. Just last week he took some bonds on the sly and cashed them. I am working to make ends meet."
This is pathological or abnormal drinking, and sad to relate this sort of thing and worse goes on all the time. Many are the desperate wives, children and parents who are face to face with this terrible situation. Some inquire whether there isn't some drug they can slip into the coffee or food which will cure the craving.
No, there is no drug which will cure alcoholism, the term used to describe either the acute occasional cravings or the chronic addiction to alcohol. There appears to be only one answer for persons of this sort, namely, the complete removal from any alcoholic drink forever, including even the mildest ones.
Everyone seems agreed that this is the only solution for the abnormal drinker. Another thing is that no one can tell in advance whether the drinker will be able to follow the treatment through. The difficult thing is how to accomplish it since the flesh is weak even when the mind is willing. Scientists and physicians are working on the problem and have succeeded in some cases in helping the drinker overcome his habit.

Active AA
But to date one of the most successful methods has been established by a group of former heavy drinkers who have adopted the name of Alcoholics Anonymous. They have offices in many cities (often listed in the telephone book) and have done a great deal to help each other become assets instead of burdens to society.
But no one can do anything for the drinker unless he or she (yes, there are she's too) want to get rid of the tragic habit.

MAGIC DEATHS REPORTED IN EQUATORIAL AFRICA

KHARTOUM, ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN —(AP)—Fear of magic resulted in five deaths in a village in French Equatorial Africa, just across the Sudan border, according to reports from Yambio, in the Sudan's Bahr El Ghazal province.
A woman who was expecting a child was being attended by two other women. Her husband, entering the hut, thought the women were casting magic spells on his wife. He speared them both to death. A third woman on a visit to the hut was also speared and died two days later.
Meanwhile relatives of the slain women killed the husband of the pregnant woman, who then died of complications.
