'Meet Frankie Sinatra' In Crooner's Latest Role

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: It's top secret, but the "Meet Danny Wilson" script that's being prepared at UI for Frank Sinatra is practically an autobiography. There's a role in it that Ava Gardner can play...

writing a new composition, "World's Fair." . . . An average of two atom bomb stories is passing daily over the desk of Producer Aubrey Schenck, but he says his successful "Target Unknown" will be his last war film for a long time.

The idea for a film biography of famed water bells Annette Kellerman came from Esther Williams herself. But Esther found it was easier to swim through a dozen pictures than persuade MGM to buy the story.

"Annette and I cooked it up between us," Esther told me. "When I mentioned it to the studio years ago, they weren't interested. So I gave up. Then they bought it."

Will Esther ever take to diving into portable tanks or theater stages as Annette did years ago? "I've had lots of offers, but first I have to finish some more pictures she said. 'I'd like to do it someday and I will.'"

Vincent Price isn't bashful about admitting where he got the idea for his broad comedy version of a swabbing movie star in "His Kind of Woman." "He's a cross between Errol Flynn and John Barrymore," he says. . . .

Without A Song Elisa Maxwell has nothing on Lois Andrews as a party-tosser.

Lois "Come as a Song" party left Hollywood gasping. Some of the printable costume details: Linda Darnell was swathed from head to toes in purple as "Deep Purple." Writer Hal Conrad, with two alic bottles tops pasted on his shoulders, claimed to represent "Eli. Eli." Hestons Andrews, as the "Million Dollar Baby," was clothed in million-dollar bills.

Lee J. Cobb is huddling with Howard Hawks over "The Big Sky" and "The Left Hand of God." Nobel prize winner William Faulkner has a tough assignment whipping the latter into a screenplay. It's about an ex-flier in China who disguises himself as a priest.

A current movietown gag concerns the blonde star who insisted on seeing the sneak preview reaction cards of her new picture. The producer tried to talk her out of it, but the star screamed that she was going to see the cards or else. Half of the comments asked why the movie queen didn't retire and make room for new talent. And one card read: "Is it bad photography or does she really have a moustache?"

President Carmona Of Portugal Dies

LISBON, PORTUGAL — (AP) — President Antonio Oscar de Fagoso Carmona, 81, Portugal's head of state since 1926, died Wednesday after a brief illness.

With the members of his family gathered around him, the aged president confessed to Msgr. Carneiro de Mesquita and was given communion.

He died an hour and 15 minutes later.

He had suffered a sudden breakdown earlier this week and doctors said he was in a serious condition. His son, Dr. Antonio Aderito Carmona, arrived at his bedside Wednesday from Madrid, and his daughter, the duchess of Duasmet, came here from Rome.

Elected Four Times

A veteran military figure, Marshal Carmona became head of state in 1926 after the military coup of May 28. He was elected president in 1928 and since has been reelected three times. He began serving his fourth seven-year term in 1949.

Following his election as president in 1928, he bought Portugal's present strong man, Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, into the cabinet as finance minister.

Salazar soon afterward became premier and subsequently took over the actual control of the government he has held ever since.

Salazar, in accordance with the Constitution, now assumes the presidency until elections are held within the next three months. He is expected to be a candidate then to succeed Carmona.

Mrs. Gable Flies To Nassau, Leaves Her Hubby Behind

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The Clark Gables are apart and will remain apart for several weeks, but his studio says it's just because she wants to look at some property in Nassau.

Mrs. Gable, the former Sylvia Ashley, flew out there Tuesday night enroute to the Bahamas. Her departure topped a day of rumors and followed confirmation from the studio that the Gables "have had a marital spat."

Gable returned Tuesday from a vacation in Arizona and accompanied his wife to the airport. They embraced before she boarded the plane.

The studio explained the Nassau trip this way: The Gables tried to buy the property for a beach club last January and recently learned their offer might be accepted. Gable will be on movie location for several weeks, so Mrs. Gable went along. She is expected back, a spokesman said, by the time Gable returns from location.

Rumors Of New Peace Bid Heard As UN Delegates Study Text Of Red Cable

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—Reports of a new peace bid from Communist China circulated here Wednesday as delegates studied the official text of a North Korean cable interpreted by some as a peace offer and by others as a propaganda blast.

The 12 Arab-Asian members of the UN scheduled a meeting at the apartment of Entezam of Iran said he had taken the cable under consideration. Most diplomats refused to comment publicly since they received the complete text only late Tuesday afternoon and wanted a chance to consult their governments.

Members of the group hinted strongly that it would be a good guess that the "other developments" include a new message from Peiping, relayed through India's ambassador there, clarifying the Red Chinese views on a cease fire in Korea.

Rau denied, however, that he had received such a communication. A source with close Arab-Asian connections said the group had sent Peiping a cable saying:

1. Dismissal of General MacArthur created a favorable atmosphere for peace talks.

2. The United Nations is inclined to reach a Korean settlement on the basis of a cease fire near the 38th parallel.

3. The Arab-Asians plead for an equally compromising spirit on the part of the Peiping government.

The North Korean cable contained about 2,500 words of bitter denunciation of alleged American atrocities, boasted of eventual Communist victory, and concluded with a paragraph demanding that the UN "make peace in accordance with resolutions drawn up by the Council."

Another diplomat, who has played a leading role in peace negotiations, said the North Korean message constituted a new tactic—war by obscurity.

In May, 1949, Kennedy ousted the Hague regime, which had controlled the Democratic Party in the state 30 years. Hague, whose "I Am the Law" remark was made innocently but used as a campaign barb by his opponents, did not take part publicly in the primary fight.

Tuesday's rebuff was the second suffered by the 75-year-old Hague since his fall from power. In the 1949 general election, his candidate for governor was defeated by GOP Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll.

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A 22-year-old substitute mail carrier has been charged with mail theft. John G. Von Hecht of Altadena is accused by postal inspectors of throwing 200 pieces of first-class mail and many magazines and newspapers behind some bushes on a lonely street along his route.

"I was just too tired to deliver that mail," inspectors quoted him. Von Hecht was arraigned Tuesday before the U. S. commissioner, who fixed his bond at $1,000.

MacArthur's Pilot Tells Of Excitement As Mainland Nears

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — "You could feel the excitement" aboard the MacArthur plane as it neared the United States mainland, Lt. Col. Anthony Story, pilot of General MacArthur's ship, said Tuesday night.

The pilot of the four-engine "Bataan" said the general was as excited about his return to his homeland after 14 years absence as he ever had been on any danger-filled wartime flights.

"I know that everybody aboard the Bataan was excited — little Arthur most of all," said Story.

For 13-year-old Arthur MacArthur, the general's son, it was his first trip to the United States. He was born in Manila.

Story said it was smooth trip at 17,000 feet from Hawaii to San Francisco.

The general worked hard sometimes, and at others he simply sat back and relaxed," the pilot said. "He walked up and down the corridor for exercise. He always does that on flights. (Story didn't say at what the general worked.)

"He took a few catnaps. Also as usual, he'd come to see us in the cockpit and ask how things were going."

The pilot said Mrs. MacArthur seemed absorbed in thought most of the flight. He speculated she probably was mapping her family's future in America.

Impre Kovacs To Address K&F Club Wednesday Night

Impre Kovacs, a self-styled "New American," will address the Midland Knitting and Fork Club at its April meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the high school cafeteria.

A near-capacity attendance is predicted by officials of the club, including Carroll L. Thomas, president, and Newlie W. Ellis, secretary.

Kovacs, a native Hungarian who once was secretary-general of the powerful Hungarian Peasant Party, will speak on the subject, "Red Runs the Danube." He is expected to discuss behind-the-scenes moves of the Reds to dominate the modern world.

The guest speaker also is a former president of the American-Hungarian Federation for Democracy. He is said to be a militant believer in democracy and the ultimate triumph of religion and Western ideals.

This Indolent Wife Is Driving Her Husband Away From Her

BY RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

Any wife is foolish who doesn't make home a place where a man is comfortable, where he feels important, and where he can find peace to work or relax at the day's end.

Yet here is a young wife who, through indolence, is neglecting all of those important points.

She sleeps late in the morning while her husband gets up and cooks his own breakfast, or if he is in a hurry, leaves for work without eating.

Hiding behind the excuse that two children keep her so busy she can't keep up with her work, she seldom has dinner ready when her husband comes home at night.

She presses him into service as soon as he gets home, demanding help with the children, the meal, the dishes, etc. Then she decides the ideal time to get the washing done is when the children are asleep—and so she starts on that.

Like A Boiler Factory Her husband claims that in the evening their small house sounds like a boiler factory. If he has paper work to do at night, he has to go somewhere else to find a quiet place to work.

That young wife is by her own lack of foresight, driving her husband away from her.

What comfort does home offer a man if his meals aren't even considered important? How can he feel that he is important to his wife, if she doesn't understand his need for rest and recreation or a quiet place to work in the evening?

It may take a good deal of organization and more effort than she is putting into her job as she is doing it now, but this wife could make the kind of home for her husband that he needs.

If she doesn't, she is asking for trouble, and it isn't likely to be long in coming. (All rights reserved, NEA Service Inc.)

Pyraantha Garden Club Elects Officers

Pyraantha Garden Club officers were elected for the coming year at its meeting Tuesday in the Midland Officers Club. The officers-elect will be installed at the club's May 15 meeting.

Mrs. Willard Bumpass was elected president; Mrs. H. W. Mathews, first vice president; Mrs. Stuart Sisley, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Spivey, recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Murray, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. V. Mitchell, treasurer; Mrs. Ed Shakely, parliamentary and reporter, and Mrs. I. W. Hynd, historian.

Five new members were voted into the club. They are Mrs. A. J. Hill, Mrs. Clarence Nelson, Mrs. W. H. Oswald, Mrs. E. C. Ruhmann and Mrs. R. N. Parks.

Mrs. Frank Downey and Mrs. Paul Lathrop were hostesses for the regular meeting and covered dish luncheon. The decorations included an arrangement of darwin and santas rose-red tulips brought by Mrs. E. W. Cowden.

Mrs. Sisley led a panel discussion on flower arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Hynd and Mrs. Mitchell. The group participated in making floral arrangements after the discussion. The club's scrapbook also was on display at the meeting.

A report was given on bulletins of the National Rose Society of which the club is a member and the society's publication, "Rose Annual," was displayed.

Mrs. Eddie Trannell of Ballinger was a guest. Thirty members attended.

Bobby Ann Mason Is Honored With Announcement Tea

CRANE — The engagement and approaching marriage of Bobby Ann Mason to Cpl. Leonard Tomlinson was announced Sunday at a tea given for Miss Mason by her mother, Mrs. W. G. Slater, and Mrs. B. W. Erwin. The tea was held in the home of Mrs. Erwin.

Tomlinson is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Tomlinson.

Guests were received at the door by Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Slater, the Bobby Ann Mason honoree, Mrs. Tomlinson, Louise Tomlinson, Sue West and Mrs. A. L. Westbrook.

Others in the house party were Mrs. W. D. Gooch, Mrs. P. O. Vines, Mrs. H. B. Baker, Mrs. A. F. Taylor and Lova Lee Martin.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth over blue and was centered with an arrangement of roses. A bouquet of yellow roses budied centered the coffee table. The buffet was centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies flanked with blue candles.

Favors were perfumed rice packaged in white net and tied with blue ribbon. Tiny scrolls with the inscription, "Bobby-Leonard — June 3" were attached to the favors.

The bride-elect is a senior in Crane High School. Tomlinson is in the U. S. Air Force stationed at Sheppard Field in Wichita Falls. Approximately 125 guests attended.

'Daniel Boone' Sets Are Given Final Touches

The construction and painting of sets for the Children's Theater play, "Daniel Boone," is in the final stage, it was announced Wednesday by Art Cole, director. The play will open at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the City-County Auditorium with a special performance for the students of Carver School.

Other performances are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday and 2 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The Midland Service League, sponsor of the play, is assisting with the sets.

The three changes of scene include a salt spring at Blue Licks, Ky.; a Shawnee Indian camp at Chillicothe on the Ohio River, and a stockade at Booneborough.

Tickets to the three-act play now are on sale at Tailorline, The Book Stall and all public schools.

Brownies Plan Fly-Up Program

Eight Brownie Troops were to participate in a fly-up ceremony at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the parish house of the Trinity Episcopal Church.

The program was to be opened with the presentation of the colors, with other events as follows:

"What I Have Enjoyed As a Brownie," a talk by a member of Troop 35; "What I Am Looking Forward To As An Intermediate," a talk by a member of Troop 54; candle-lighting ceremony with the troops lighting the candles and repeating the Scout laws in rotation; Girl Scout promise led by a member of Troop 45; "Whenever You Make a Promise," a song led by a member of Troop 5; the presentation of Brownie wings and Intermediate Girl Scout pins, and "Girl Scouts Together," a song led by a member of Troop 33.

Two girls from each troop were designated as hostesses and two as clean-up girls.

Leaders of the fly-up troops are Mrs. J. D. Martin and Mrs. F. D. Breedlove, Troop 33; Mrs. J. Lynn Metcalfe, Troop 34; Mrs. J. S. McNulty and Mrs. T. Stall, Troop 35; Mrs. A. P. Belcher and Mrs. A. Mrs. Brown Gives Book Review

Mrs. Glen Brown of Stanton gave a book review of "Oklahoma" at the Tuesday meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Asbury Methodist Church.

The book was taken from pioneer life in the early 1900's. Mrs. Dennis Ford introduced Mrs. Brown. After the review refreshments were served.

Service League Plans Projects, Hears Reports

Projects were discussed and reports made at the Midland Service League's general meeting Monday in the parish house of the Trinity Episcopal Church.

Plans were made to pay for the support of the negro nursery for a month.

Mrs. F. B. Cochran gave a report from the Children's Diagnostic Clinic. She reported patients are being taken care of and the clinic is growing steadily. It is staffed by Midland doctors and members of the Midland Service League and the Children's Service League.

The league also decided to serve as aides to the county health nurse and to help sort the clothes gathered by the Boy Scouts to send overseas.

A total of 373 1/2 working hours were reported for the month of March.

Reports were made from the other projects now underway.

Forty-four members were present.

Mrs. Ruby Marks To Be Librarian

CRANE — Mrs. Ruby Marks was named clerk of the newly established Crane County Library at a meeting of the Commissioners Court. She will enroll in East Central State College in Ada, Okla., in May for a Summer course in library science.

Mrs. Ruby Marks will be Crane County Librarian.

Mrs. Marks came to Crane in 1944 with her husband and daughter, Sandra. Her husband is an employee of the Tide Water Associated Oil Company. Mrs. Marks is a Sunday School teacher in the First Baptist Church and is a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Art Exhibition Now In Progress

The Mary Butler art exhibition, being shown in the Palette Club Studio this week, was opened Sunday with a tea attended by approximately 125 guests.

Of her work, R. E. Cronyn, art instructor, said, "To me this exhibit is an inspiration—a challenge to anyone who has ever wanted to paint or felt the need to create something and yet didn't know how to go about it. Mary Butler in this exhibit shows that it can be done, for she has been painting for years without any training."

Mrs. N. A. Lancaster, Mrs. R. M. Barron and Mrs. R. K. White presided at the tea table. During the show Sunday afternoon Mrs. Butler and the club officers were interviewed by Station KJBC concerning the art activities in the studio.

Out-of-city guests included Mrs. R. P. Rinehart, the honoree's niece, and Mrs. W. O. Shackelford, sister of the honoree, Abilene; Mrs. Robert R. Truitt, grand-daughter of the honoree, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ringhoffer, great-grandchildren. Stanton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fleck of Taos, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jeffrey, Los Angeles.

The judging school is open to everyone and tickets may be purchased at the Midland Officers Club for one or all four of the lectures.

Workshop Members Entertain Veterans

Members of the Community Theater Workshop entertained the veterans at the Big Spring Veteran's Hospital Tuesday night. The show was sponsored by the Midland Elks Club.

Tommy Thompson was master of ceremonies. Mary Margaret Corbett, Jean Lewis, Larry Lees and Marilyn Parker gave a one-act play.

Can-can dancers were Bonnie Potter, Loraine Sparks and Virginia Dunagan. The girls were assisted by Bob Richards. Verda Bartlett was the accompanist. A lecture on "Atomic Energy" was given by Bill Adam.

Others accompanying the group were Mrs. Larry Lees, Jack Mogle and Waring Bradley.

Great Manpower Problem

When the Administration came up with its plan to defer better than average college students from military service, it touched one of the toughest issues confronting this country.

The prime puzzle is this: How do you get the men you need for the armed forces without wrecking the U. S. educational system and robbing the nation of sorely needed scientists, doctors, engineers and other technical specialists?

In World War II we failed to resolve this dilemma, and we're now paying a heavy price in a shortage of doctors and engineers. Fortune Magazine, reporting currently on U. S. rearmament, pin-pointed the engineering dearth as so critical it might handicap our defense effort. The armed forces need 50,000 trained specialists in the next two years.

Our educational system is at the root of our civilization. If it were to be seriously damaged by heavy diversion of college youths into the services, then Russia and the Communists would have gained a victory without firing a shot.

In narrower terms, U. S. education is the mechanism that produces the technical experts who set us apart from other countries whether in peace or war. We could not fight or win a war without these experts.

The government's new deferment plan is an attempt to crack this problem. It would allow for deferment (not exemption) from service for all college students attaining a prescribed grade level or achieving a specified score on an aptitude test. It is an interim program, to be superseded by another when and if UMT should become law.

But leading educators like Dr. James Conant of Harvard and Dr. Harold Dods of Princeton object to it. So do many other high-minded citizens. The sum of their criticisms:

- 1. By providing virtual blanket deferment of better than average students, it would set them apart as a huge class, thus violating the democratic rule of equality of sacrifice. Men who reach an arbitrarily chosen level of school marks would be deferred automatically regardless of special interests or qualifications—or the lack thereof.
- 2. Since college is beyond the economic grasp of many young men, the program would tend to establish higher economic status as a prerequisite to draft deferment. This is viewed as the most undemocratic discrimination of all.
- 3. Grade levels and aptitude tests place full stress on brains alone as a basis for deferment. But traits of character and leadership are equally powerful elements in the making of top caliber men in any field, civilian or military. If purely mental tests had been applied decades ago, some of our present leaders would have been ruled out.
- 4. Moreover, the Army itself cannot today be caught short even briefly on brains, character and leadership. To be sure, it needs many men trained in the very techniques under discussion here. But it also requires leadership and resourcefulness in combat—on a greater scale than ever before. The amateur and the timid, slow-thinking man have little place in today's warfare.

But if not this program, what then? None of the men of stature who protest this plan ignores our great need to develop specialists through the who spectrum of talents vital to our industrial and military life. Conant, for example, favors liberal deferrals of men needed for technical training. His objection is to sweeping deferrals of all college men of a certain group.

A liberal deferment plan hinging on careful action by local draft boards makes sense. Some people suggest preinduction training to get young men started in technical fields so boards can weigh deferment more sensibly when the youths reach draft age.

If such a plan still hits the colleges heavily, the government might have to consider financial aid to the schools, plus some plan for keeping faculties intact, to carry them until UMT should perhaps get working. For under UMT, all youths would be liable to duty but then free to attend full college courses on conclusion of their training.

It's hard to see how anything but a liberal draft board deferral plan would serve as a fair and equitable interim solution to this great manpower puzzle.

The Road Back

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: GOP reaction to MacArthur incident differs; Senator Taft discouraged impeachment of Truman; Joe Martin issued ultimatum to Sam Rayburn.

WASHINGTON — Capitol Hill cloakrooms have been buzzing as never before over the MacArthur incident. This is true of Republicans perhaps more than Democrats. The Democrats are glum, the Republicans elated—though not all of them.

Here are highlights from some of the most significant of these backstage conversations: Bob Taft expressed concern to Senator Wherry of Nebraska that the GOP may get stuck with MacArthur as its 1952 presidential candidate. Of course, this would eliminate him, though Taft didn't mention this to Wherry. Taft noticeably has been irritable, has snapped at Senate functionaries and fellow senators. He got in a private wrangle with Bob Kerr of Oklahoma over Kerr's statement criticizing MacArthur.

GOP Senator Millikin of Colorado also expressed worry that Eisenhower would oppose MacArthur, which would split the Republicans down the middle. Bridges of New Hampshire replied that Eisenhower was too smart to get in the middle, that Eisenhower also might differ with Truman and run the risk of being fired.

Bridges has been building around GOP cloakrooms more than anyone else. He told one group joyfully: "This is the biggest windfall that has ever come to the Republican Party."

On one occasion, Virginia's Senator Robertson, a Democrat, remarked to Bridges: "Well, you have a new candidate for President."

"He's better than the present President," the New Hampshire senator shot back.

"I guess there's a lot of life left in him even at 71," piped up Lodge of Massachusetts.

Actually, Lodge, Duff of Pennsylvania and Ives of New York have held some worried huddles about the MacArthur boom and how it would affect their Eisenhower boom. During one of these huddles, Ives snorted: "How in the hell are we going to get any unity around here!"

Smith of New Jersey, the former Princeton professor, has been quite critical over the fact that MacArthur wasn't left in Japan to keep the occupation intact and complete the peace treaty. But privately Smith seemed to approve of removing MacArthur from military command.

Senators Knowland and Nixon, both California Republicans, are eager-beavers on the MacArthur bandwagon. But Nixon had an interesting conversation with Duff of Pennsylvania just before MacArthur was fired.

"What party does Eisenhower belong to?" Nixon asked.

"Duff, one of the strongest boosters for Eisenhower, assured him that Ike was a Republican.

"I hope so," declared Nixon. "He's the man for us."

Nixon, however, now is beating the bass drum on the MacArthur bandwagon.

Taft Discouraged Impeachment. During the first Republican meeting in ex-Speaker Joe Martin's office on the morning MacArthur was fired, Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana demanded that Republicans immediately press for Truman's impeachment.

It was Bob Taft, however, who demurred. Such a move, he said, was insane. It would be much smarter, he advised, to bring MacArthur back to the United States and build up sentiment for his case before the Republican Party went all-out for him.

The impeachment idea then was dropped, though Joe Martin told GOP colleagues to keep talking about it. "We've got to keep the fire burning," he said, half joking.

Martin's Ultimatum. It was Joe Martin who adroitly masterminded the drive to invite MacArthur to a joint session of Congress. At first, Democratic leaders decidedly were lukewarm, argued it would set a bad precedent for Congress to roll out the red carpet for a general, especially one ousted for insubordination. They also felt it would be an affront to President Truman.

However, Martin handed a virtual ultimatum to his old friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn. He gave him until 2:30 Friday to agree to invite MacArthur to a joint session of Congress.

"MacArthur has been away 14 years," Rayburn drawled sourly. "What's all the rush?" So Martin extended the deadline to four o'clock.

Martin didn't say so, but the reason he pushed Rayburn was because MacArthur's office in Tokyo had given him a veiled ultimatum that the general might not speak in Washington at all unless conditions were to his choosing; also that he had to know in a hurry in order to plan his itinerary. It also was made clear that MacArthur was not anxious to answer questions before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

After getting his ultimatum from Martin, Speaker Rayburn called the White House, cautioned the President that MacArthur might be made a martyr by snubbing him, so it was decided the general would be given a chance to address Congress.

Rayburn then went back to Joe Martin, suggested they give MacArthur the same treatment given Eisenhower—namely, a meeting of both Houses of Congress in the auditorium of the Library of Congress.

Whereupon Martin issued another ultimatum. He demanded a full-day meeting in the House chamber. Otherwise, he warned, the Republicans would rent the vast Uline Arena—an ice palace where the circus is held—and announce to the world that the Democrats would not permit MacArthur to address Congress.

Wearily, Rayburn gave in. The Senate Armed Services Committee had agreed upon a secret list of witnesses for the MacArthur hearing before they received the general's first telegram declining to appear. The chosen witnesses are: Secretary of Defense Marshall, Gen. Bradley, General Wedemeyer and Admiral Radford.

The group was agreed upon after much debate in a series of secret meetings. First, the Republican members gathered in the office of Senator Bridges of New Hampshire and prepared an ultimatum that MacArthur must be called.

Chairman Russell of Georgia interrupted a brief vacation to fly back to Washington, conferred with Bridges and gladly agreed to call MacArthur. Later the full committee was called behind closed doors at which time Russell insisted that Marshall and Bradley also must be called to tell the other side of the story.

Bridges then demanded that General Wedemeyer and Admiral Radford—who tangled with the Air Force two years ago—also should testify, since they are expected to back up MacArthur's Far Eastern policy. In the end, it was decided to call all of them.

ACC To Entertain 1,200 West Texas High School Seniors. ABILENE—Abilene Christian College, host for the first annual Abilene Citizenship Day, is preparing a program of entertainment for the 1,200 West Texas high school seniors it expects as visitors Friday.

This entertainment, along with citizenship instruction and vocational guidance, will make up a full day for the students.

Featured entertainment attraction is the ACC A Cappella Chorus, nationally known for its personal appearances and radio concerts. The 60-voice chorus will sing in the morning session following an address by John Ben Shepperd, Texas secretary of State.

Other entertainment will feature the ACC Wildcat Band and the college quartet.

The band will open the afternoon session with a concert after the seniors have lunched in the ACC Cafeteria as guests of the college. The quartet will sing at 2:30 at the close of the day's activities.

During the afternoon, 25 outstanding West Texas business and professional leaders will discuss their vocations with the seniors.

Another highlight of the striping, Midland, former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee, who broke the Alger Hiss case. His address will follow the A Cappella concert at 10:40 a.m.

A team game often separates the sheep from the faves, and the recent Eastern States tournament was no exception. When today's hand was played, the bidding and the opening lead were identical in both rooms, but the similarity ended at the second trick.

In the first room East overtook the queen of spades with his king, continued with the ace of spades, and then led the jack of spades. It was obvious to South that West would not be able to follow suit.

South therefore had to ruff high enough to shut West out. He couldn't tell that any trump in his hand would be big enough for the task, but he could afford to ruff with the eight of hearts. This naturally held the trick.

It was now clear to declarer that the queen of hearts was in the East hand. He therefore led a diamond to dummy's ace and returned the jack of hearts for a trump finesse. The finesse succeeded, of course, and declarer therefore lost no trump trick. He eventually lost a club trick, but fulfilled his contract.

In the second room East overtook the opening lead with his king of spades, but then abandoned the suit. He realized what would happen if he continued the suit. South would undoubtedly ruff high and then finesse through the queen of hearts. Instead of giving away the trump situation, East shifted at once to the queen of clubs.

South won at once with the ace of clubs, fearing that East had led a singleton queen. He had no information about the location of the queen of hearts and (perhaps unwisely) tried to drop it instead of finessing. When the queen of hearts failed to drop under the ace or king, declarer was set. He was bound to lose three tricks in the black suits and had managed to misguess the trumps.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

How College Deferment Plan Became Such A Hot Potato

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Selective Service System stirred up a real hornet's nest by its recently announced college students' deferment plan. From all over the country have come protests that the government was setting up a special privilege group of bright boys and rich men's sons who would be exempted from military service. Theme of this chorus was pretty well stated by President James Bryant Conant, of Harvard University, who said:

"The deferring of college students appears to establish a pattern in which boys who can afford to continue their education are given special privileges. . . . The demands of the emergency require that our youths be asked to serve in the armed forces."

There is much confusion—which probably will persist. And it probably will take no telling what kind of a congressional amendment to the new draft law now before Congress to straighten out this mess and set new standards for educational deferment that will stick for the duration of the present emergency.

An effort was made by Dr. Arthur Flemming, Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson's top manpower official, to pick up the pieces and put them together again. His Advisory Committee issued a clarifying statement.

But much of the need for clarification—the resulting hullabaloo—was due to bad public relations. The White House put out an order signed by President Truman. Another factor in the hullabaloo was the loose way in which this order was written. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, issued a short statement, plus a bulletin on the type of test to be given for deferment. There was a lot of detailed technical information in the bulletin and the order.

Confusing Words. In trying to translate all this into simple English and short explanations, some misunderstanding unavoidably crept in. This, plus hasty reading by some people, led to a pretty bad ball-up.

Most of the misunderstanding over the new system as announced by General Hershey's office results from confusion of two words—"deferment" and "exemption." Selective Service System never announced that high school graduates and college students who passed the aptitude tests or kept up their grades would be "exempted" from the draft. It merely said they would be "deferred for one year." Every case was to be re-examined every year.

Furthermore, it never was said and never intended to say that deferred students who kept up their grades would be excused from all military service. Their service merely was to be postponed.

As for setting up a special privileged class of students, Selective Service officials say they are not doing that, either. In clarifying this they point to several other classes whose military service is deferred and whose deferment is accepted without question.

First there are the men whom the Army rejects because they can't pass a much simpler mental test than is to be given high school graduates. Why isn't it equally all right to defer smarter guys until such time as they can receive further training which will enable them to give greater service to their country?

In this class of deferred students, for instance, there would be the almost 100,000 students taking Reserve Officers' Training Course courses in approximately 180 colleges and universities. Men studying to be doctors, dentists, engineers, scientists also would be deferred, they had completed their training, Navy and Air Force all need these trained men.

Present defense planning is for a long period—10 to 12 years or more of emergency. The college deferment plan is a temporary measure only. The ideal goal toward which manpower officials are working is to keep a steady supply of trained men fed into the armed services and into industry over this period.

Criticism of the college deferment plan arose also from a belief that too many students of poetry or landscape gardening would be deferred. And Selective Service didn't make clear what it was going to do about students taking "non-essential" courses.

Another class of men registered for the draft who are deferred without question are those with special skills—electronics experts, expert mechanics and the like. Manpower officials maintain that college students receiving training for a profession would be no more a special privilege class than the deferred workers in essential industry skilled trades.

In summary, Selective Service officials claim that the new program would defer fewer men from army service and provide more trained leadership and special professional skills at less cost. This is their story and they're sticking to it. But they haven't put it over yet in convincing enough form.

So They Say. You (Rep. Foster Furcolo, D-Mass) say "Very few, if any, nations tremble at the voice of America." That is true because we scuttled and ran in 1946. If we had stood guard we would have had a peace.

Women can interest a customer faster than a man and there is less psychological resistance to women.

Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn). Small-town boys make the big time more often than their big-city cousins and it doesn't matter what their line is.

Stephen S. Visher, geography professor, Indiana U. fool. But it would be interesting to learn who his principal beneficiary under Rose's will. I've a hunch it isn't anybody named Larry Stone.

"Hunch players go broke," said a voice at my elbow. "I was Star. I introduced him to Paul Waltz, and Star set down beside me."

"I overheard your remark about a beneficiary not being Larry Stone. I finally got to Grafton a while ago and asked him about Rose Bidault's will. She had one, all right. Guess who inherits her estate?"

I glumly asked: "Larry Stone?" He nodded. "Grafton has already told Heredia about that. He didn't want to tell me. I got nasty about one of his professional skeletons. Rose had ordered him to write the will right after her arrest. He brought it to the jail on one of his early trips there. He made lots of trips to see her about matters pertaining to the estate. He was sure she had murdered Barney, but there was always a chance she would walk out free, so he cultivated her."

"She wanted it kept secret about naming Stone in the will. She was afraid someone would find out about it and link Stone with Barney's death. After she found out that the accidental death story he had sold her wouldn't work, she changed her mind. Of course Grafton didn't know why. He only knew that after Andy Tanner's experts had testified that the gun couldn't go off accidentally, Rose phoned him from jail and said the first thing she wanted to attend to after the trial was a new will."

"Grafton figured she had thrown in the sponge and had decided she was going to fry in the chair. He knew she'd have little left if convicted, and he told her there was no point in bothering about the will till after the trial. After he heard of her acquittal, he drove out to see her."

"When he saw you he went away, planning to come back later. After Rose was killed, he figured Stone for the killer for he was sure Larry knew about the first will and Rose's intention to write a new one."

Questions and Answers

Q—For how long a period does the albatross remain at sea?

A—The albatross makes the longest non-stop flights in bird-dom. It spends about four months out of the year far out at sea, usually in a steady, continuous flight which begins in June, ending in November. He knows how to save fuel by taking advantage of air currents, never having to flap a wing for hours.

Q—How do scientists explain a mirage?

A—To scientists there is really nothing very strange about a mirage. It is merely an optical illusion produced by the refraction cast by hot air rising from a hot surface.

Q—In how many major league games did Ty Cobb play?

A—Cobb played in 3,033 major league games and scored 2,244 runs, 4,190 hits and stole 892 bases. His lifetime batting average was .367, the highest ever achieved by any player.

Q—Did the Pilgrims bring a hymn book to America?

A—The Ainsworth Psalter was the only book of printed music which the Pilgrims brought with them to America.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The question of canasta ethics is raised in a very frank letter from a Tennessee correspondent. "In our foursome," he writes, "there is a good bit of talking back and fourth that isn't intended to be talking across the board or cheating but which, of course, does oftentimes portray the nature of a person's hand. Typical remarks are: 'You don't need to be afraid to discard—I can't meld anyway.' 'Everything I have in my hand is what they have down.'"

"The other day during a game I had picked up in the discard pile a small stack that had in it six kings, and everybody knew there were six kings in it. Since these were relatively safe discards I started discarding them."

"As I was discarding the fourth king I said 'I hate to throw the last one of these down.' The opponent on my right said 'Have you discarded all six of those kings?' I told a deliberate lie and said 'ye.' On his next turn he proceeded to discard a king and I immediately picked it up with the two kings I had in my hand."

"He refused to allow me to do this because he said I had told a lie. Can you offer any statement on this?"

This would be an easy problem to solve if there weren't such a lot of talking in that game. Ordinarily, you're not supposed to say anything during the play of a hand. If everybody gets away with some sort of improper statement it becomes very difficult to draw a line between what can be said and what cannot be allowed.

If I had to make some rough-and-ready ruling in a case of this sort, I would cancel that whole hand. I would rule that even in a really talkative game a deliberate lie should not be allowed.

The only proper course is to say nothing at all during the play of a hand. If you feel compelled to pipe up, be as evasive as you like but don't tell a complete lie.

For example, if your opponent asks "Have you discarded all six of those kings?" it would be all right to say "You'd know if you were counting" or "I've never thrown so many kings in my life" or even "Try me out and see."

Better still, for the third time don't say anything at all. Don't ask any questions and don't give any answers.

McKnight To Add 200 Additional Beds
SANATORIUM — Dr. H. W. Poetter, superintendent of McKnight Sanatorium, announced Tuesday that 200 beds will be added to the state institution.

The old 115-bed children's hospital will be converted and expanded to adult use and two other buildings will be remodeled for 80 beds. Present capacity of the sanatorium is 656 patients.

The building program also includes a new duplex home for doctors, expansion of the surgery division, additional quarters for employees and a small store to be operated by the State Commission for the Blind.

Dr. Poetter took over operation of the institution March 15 when Dr. Rodger Smyth became clinical director.

B&PW Club Has Talent Program, Business Meet

A talent program was presented by the Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday at a dinner meeting in Hotel Scharbauer. The public affairs committee, headed by Iva Maxson, was in charge.

Vera McElroy served as toastmaster. The program included several piano solos by Marion Sevier; a reading by Barbara Munson; three dances by the pupils of Nadyne Griffin; vocal solos and piano accompaniment by Gene Franklin, and a talk on the principles and appreciation of art by artist Walter Lane. Lane also explained some of his own paintings.

Those participating in the dances were Ann and Kay Mackey and Judy O'Neil, first group; Diane Akon, Sue Petzel and Becky Blackmon, second group, and Becky Blackmon, solo dance.

Guests at the meeting were Nell Wright, Rachel Drake, Mrs. James Wilson, Eloise Cole, Mrs. C. P. Hale of San Francisco and Mrs. Earl Gramling of Chicago. Peggy McCourt and Elizabeth Harding are new members.

Approximately 40 members were present.

Contributions were collected during the business session to buy a hearing aid for a Midland school boy.

A letter was read from the Diagnostic Clinic thanking the group for donating $100 to the clinic recently. Thelma Gardner, president, gave a report on a film distributed by the American Cancer Society and announced the annual "Bosses Banquet" to be held May 15.

Stripling Is Guest Speaker At P-TA Meet

Robert Stripling was the guest speaker at the North Elementary Parent-Teacher Association father's night meeting Tuesday night in the school.

Stripling spoke on "What We Must Do To Defeat Communism." He said "Events of the last week were important because they shocked the people into knowing they are citizens of the country. The controversy between communism and democracy is the world theme today."

He continued to say the people in this country have been misled into thinking they are secure because of industry and resources. He discussed the position of MacArthur and Truman.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Hal Rachel, president, with the P-TA prayer. A review of the accomplishments of the P-TA were given for the benefit of the fathers.

MAY BRIDE—Mr. and Mrs. James L. Terry of Big Spring announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Clarice, to Carl B. Nance, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Nance of Brady. Both Miss Terry and Nance are employees of the Shell Oil Company in Midland. The wedding will take place May 25 in the First Methodist Church in Big Spring. After the wedding the couple will live in Midland.

Aggie Exes Plan Muster Saturday

Former Texas Aggies of Midland and vicinity will gather in the American Legion Hall Saturday for their traditional muster.

James W. Mims, Midland Texas A&M Club secretary, urged all former Aggies in this vicinity to attend the muster which gets under way at 7:30 p.m. A barbecue will precede the program.

W. H. Oswalt, muster chairman, will conduct the traditional muster ceremony. Russell Hayes is president of the club.

Mims said a "surprise program" will be presented. "However," he said, "General MacArthur won't be here, so far as I know. I understand he has another engagement. But we will have a good program."

Significant is the fact that this is the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the college. This year, too, the new Student Union Building will be dedicated.

One-quarter of Canada's population is engaged in farming. Sixty years ago more than half the country's population were engaged in food growing.

African Safari Is Speech Topic

John I. Moore, who recently returned from a trip to East Africa, was the guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. The group met in the home of Betty Jo Greene.

Moore spoke about the natives and the African geography and showed the movies which he had taken on his 21-day safari. He left New York, he said, last December 26 and flew to London. From there his route was across France and the Mediterranean to Malta and on to Cairo. After leaving Cairo, he followed the Nile to Nairobi.

Following his talk, announcement was made of the Founders' Day Banquet to be held April 30 in Hotel Scharbauer.

Those attending were Elizabeth Bodenman, Annette Butler, Sue Hirsch, Ann Harris, Joyce Howell, Frances Hillin, Sue Hullum, Sara Johnson, Jo Kotch, Mrs. W. I. Pratt, Bernice Rubin, Vi Rubin, Jo Winders, Naomi Foy, Novella Bailey, Lynn Bohon, Evelyn Cox, Dorothea Hendrick and Mary Katherine McDade.

Only One Protest Heard As Council Starts Job Of Zoning Annexed Territories

An unsuccessful candidate for the city council furnished the only fireworks Tuesday night as the city began the job of zoning areas annexed last January.

Approximately 50 property owners showed up at the county courtroom as the new city administration swung into its first meeting to hear protests against proposed zoning changes.

Most of them came just to listen or to approve suggested changes from the "A" residential classification into which the areas automatically fell when they were brought into the city limits.

The only voice raised in protest was that of B. H. Grube, who trailed the ball for the Place No. 1 council post in the April 3 city election.

Grube rose quickly to his feet when Mayor Perry Pickett asks if anyone wanted to comment on the proposal to change from "A" to "B" the area included in blocks 21 to 35 in the Belmont Addition.

Just Wants "Fair Shake"

He explained that he had developed a housing project in the area prior to its annexation, and provided an area for a shopping center.

"What do you want us to do?" asked Pickett.

"All I want is a fair shake," answered Grube.

"What do you mean by a 'fair shake'?"

"Well, I'm not here to tell you how to run your business. Do what you want. If I can't go one way I'll go the other."

Grube explained that placing of the area into the "B" classification would prohibit the construction of a shopping center, which had been planned and promised in the original development.

He asked that provisions be made for permitting the construction of such a facility.

The matter was finally referred to the Planning and Zoning Commission for further study.

There was no opposition to the other 11 proposals.

The council will act formally on the proposals at a later date.

William Penn Gets Modern Headgear

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—There's a feather in the hat that crowns the statue of William Penn atop Philadelphia's City Hall. It's the antenna of one of two newly-installed radio stations that enables the city's fire department to maintain two-way communication with crews firefighting apparatus.

Radio Corporation of America designed and built the two 250-watt stations which provide the nation's third largest city with round-the-clock protection against disasters of any kind. The system, costing $87,000, is said to be the most modern in the U. S.

The two radio stations, within a few miles of each other, can be operated from either location. They are in constant contact with 150 30-watt transmitter-receiver units installed on fire engines, pumps and other motorized equipment.

According to estimates, a bee must visit 219,000 flowers for every ounce of honey it makes.

Blood Banks In Midland Hospitals Well Supplied To Take Care Of Needs

By TANNER LAINE

Blood!

It can be a mighty precious fluid. It may even save your life.

In case you need some of it, blood banks in Midland can supply you.

The two banks are at Western Clinic-Hospital and Midland Memorial Hospital.

Replacements keep blood in the bank. The replacement schedule at both banks is two pints in return for your first pint used and one pint for each transfusion thereafter.

If blood receivers cannot repay the bank with blood, they must pay cash for it. The hospital then gets the replacement from a blood donor on its list.

Actually, a blood bank is just an unpretentious icebox where blood in solution and in containers is stored—ready when needed.

The old method of giving a blood transfusion, laying the donor beside the patient and transferring blood directly, is no longer used.

Blood is drawn from the donor and put in the bank. Then as needed by patients, it is drawn from the bank.

"A blood bank works like any business bank," says Dr. Don McGrew, pathologist on the staff at Midland Memorial Hospital. "There is incoming blood and outgoing blood just as a regular bank has incoming money and outgoing money."

A lot goes on in the bank of blood laboratory between incoming and outgoing blood.

Blood Is Typed

The blood must be typed. Its Rh factor must be determined. When blood is to be transfused, it must be cross-matched—donor and patient.

You hear a lot about Rh factors. To the layman, that means blood has or hasn't certain anti-bodies. Rh positive blood has the anti-bodies; Rh negative does not.

There's more to it than that, but see your favorite laboratory technician or doctor for an explanation.

The blood that's in you is one of four types. In the widely-used international system, that means Type O, Type A, Type B, or Type AB. Under the Moss and Jenney system, it is listed as Types 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Type O blood is most common. About 45 per cent of the people have it. About 40 per cent have Type A, three per cent Type B and two per cent have the rare AB.

Blood in the bank is kept in a special container in a solution. The container, when emptied, is discarded as a sanitary precaution, of course, but they once used containers again and again.

The ideal blood bank vault, the friendly icebox, is kept at five degrees centigrade, just above freezing. And here's an interesting fact—blood in a bank requires quietness.

It will keep approximately 21 days, longer in some cases. However, both Midland banks do not overstock because freshly-supplied blood is desired. Western Clinic keeps about 10 or 12 pints of all types on hand and Midland Memorial has 30 to 40 pints available.

Supply Neighbors

In emergency cases, the two banks in Midland both have supplied blood to patients in neighboring cities.

The pint, or 500 cc's, is the measurement for blood transfusions. That much is taken from the donor and that much, plus added solution, is given the patient.

Technician N. N. Wakefield at Midland Memorial draws about seven cc's of blood to test for type and for cross-matching.

Midland's first blood bank was the one established at the Western Clinic in 1947. Dr. T. J. Melton came here and immediately started the ball rolling for establishment of a bank. He was assisted by Technician Howard Morrison of the clinic laboratory staff. They went to Dr. Lloyd Hershberger of San Angelo for helpful hints.

The Midland American Legion post members donated the first blood to get the bank started. The B&PW Club helped in setting up the type indexes.

Since then, this bank has checked out 37 pints. This includes 299 pints of Type O, 55 pints of Type A, nine pints of Type B and four pints of Type AB. Blood has been sent to Andrews, Big Spring, Odessa, Stanton, Seminole and other neighboring towns and cities.

Both technicians of Western

Clinic and Midland Memorial say a donor should not eat just before blood is taken. Four hours of fasting before giving blood is preferred. Alcohol is taboo for at least 12 hours before giving blood.

Midland Memorial since, getting its bank started, has checked out 188 pints of blood and 382 pints have been donated.

Both banks steadfastly keep up their register of donors, although the practice in Midland in earlier days was to issue radio or newspaper emergency calls for a certain type donor.

At one of the Midland hospitals the charge to a patient for a pint of blood is $30. If the blood is replaced in the bank by the patient, that charge is cut to $15, which is the service fee. The other hospital has a similar system.

Midland Memorial's refrigerator for storing the blood was donated by the Business and Professional Women's Club. It is large and ample.

The blood bank program of the American Red Cross draws praise from Midland doctors and laboratory technicians. As Dr. McGrew puts it, "that is money the Red Cross uses well. I have seen the program work well. It is commendable."

Blood banks have had an amazing growth. They began to appear in the United States about 1938. Blood typing was discovered in 1901.

One hospital here prefers that its blood donors not have served in the South Pacific. Even the hint of malaria is cause for not wanting the blood.

Blood banks have pretty well eliminated some of the earlier dramatic aspects of a blood transfusion, when the donor rushed in and, in the best movie fashion, bared his arm, lay down and watched his life-giving blood save the life of the hero.

However, the giving of blood is still dramatic in its final effect. It does save lives. It is that precious fluid.

Contino Plans To Give Up On Draft Evasion Charges

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Accordion player Dick Contino will surrender Wednesday on draft evasion charges, his attorney promised.

Contino, 30, disappeared last Friday from Fort Ord, near Monterey, Calif., the day before he was scheduled to be inducted into the Army.

Attorney Gerald Kales said the word from Contino came through "a member of the family."

"He will be handled just like anybody else," U. S. Attorney Joseph Karesah said of the $4,000-a-week musician, "except that his bail will be set at $5,000 instead of $1,000 because he skipped out once and he might do it again."

A Selective Service spokesman said Contino offered reports from three psychiatrists that he suffers from certain phobias, among them the fear of being cut. The reports were overruled, however, and Contino was ordered to Fort Ord.

His sister, Josephine, 18, collapsed at home when informed Dick was sought as a draft evader. Various other relatives said they were certain Contino would not knowingly evade the draft.

Smog Damage Suits Settled At Discount

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—Damage suits seeking almost $4,500,000 as the result of a fatal industrial smog which cost 20 lives have been settled out of court for about $220,000—five per cent of the claims.

Residents of Donora, Pa., 20 miles south of Pittsburgh on the Monongahela River, had filed 131 damage suits against the American Steel and Wire Company, a U. S. Steel Corporation subsidiary. Relatives of the deceased, persons among the 5,000 made ill by noxious fumes, and others who claimed property damages filed the suits.

They said fumes from the company's zinc plant polluted the air.

The first case was scheduled for trial Tuesday. But attorneys went into a huddle and came up with a settlement plan which a federal district judge approved.

U. S. Steel did not admit liability but said it would rather pay a percentage of claims than defend the suits at great expense.

Wisconsin ranks first among states of the Union in production of dairy cattle, milk and manufactured milk products.

Harry Krist, co-owner of Barnes Shoe Store, is taking a ribbing.

It seems Krist bought some sand to use for a window display of Summer footwear.

"My gosh, man, you don't have to buy that stuff here; just pull yourself a sack load or so out of the breeze," a business associate told him.

"Just sweep the sidewalk in front of your store after one of the sandstorms and you'll have plenty of sand," another one suggested.

Krist just grinned. "Maybe I did buy myself something that was free all around me," he admitted.

Final Rites Held For Britain's Bevin

LONDON —(AP)—The body of former Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was cremated Wednesday at a private service attended only by relatives, close friends and government and trade union associates.

Hundreds of men and women, many of them members of the giant Transport and General Workers Union which he founded, lined the roadway outside the Golders Green Crematorium. They heard the funeral service over loudspeakers.

Bevin, who died Saturday at the age of 70, once was a Baptist lay preacher. At the request of his family, a Baptist minister conducted the service.

Legion Would Send Mac Back To Japan

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—The American Legion Luncheon Club wants to send Gen. Douglas MacArthur back to Japan as civilian adviser to that government—at a cost of $100,000 a year.

The club voted a resolution containing the proposal Tuesday. The money would be raised by public subscription. A copy of the resolution will be sent soon to all Legion Departments in the country.

Thousands Made Homeless By High Mississippi Waters

By The Associated Press

Thousands were homeless and other thousands were threatened with evacuation Wednesday by flood waters from the mighty Mississippi, which is on a rampage in the Midwest.

The Red Cross estimated that 23,000 persons have been affected by Spring floods in five Midwest states.

Communities along the Mississippi from St. Paul to Quincy, Ill., braced for what may be the most disastrous floods in years.

The river, which hit a record 17.4 foot level at Winona, Minn., Tuesday night, was expected to crest slightly above that mark Wednesday in the worst flood in the upper valley in 70 years.

More than 300 families were evacuated in Winona, an industrial city of 25,000.

At Prairie du Chien, Wis., about one-third of the city of 5,000 population was covered by four to five feet of water. About 150 families have been evacuated from the flooded homes.

The Red Cross and civil defense agencies are busy caring for the homeless in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin and Northern Iowa.

Tribe, Pioneers End Even; Broncs Invade Wednesday

Big Spring's Broncs will invade Indian Park at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday for the last exhibition game of the 1951 season. Manager Pat Steiner probably will pitch either Fabio Labrador or Mike Fornelise against the Midland team. Indian Manager Harold Webb hasn't decided upon his starting hurler.

A howling wind and sand storm forced the Midland Indians and Clovis Pioneers to halt their exhibition game at Indian Park after seven innings Tuesday night with the score tied at 6-6. Until the elements intervened, the game was by far the best played in Indian Park this year—and the Indians turned in their most sparkling performance.

Rookie Wayne McMellon, who was shelled by Abilene Saturday night, went the full seven innings for the Midland team, turning in a fine pitching performance. The tall right-hander gave up 10 hits, three bases on balls and struck out five Pioneer batsmen. Only one error hurt McMellon's game—and that let in a run in the initial inning.

The veteran-packed Clovis team got two runs in the first on two hits and an error and then was blanked by McMellon until the sixth, when four runs came in. Midland's rookie hurler gave up two hits in the first to the sixth inning, and then was banged for five in succession.

Three hits, a Clovis miscue and three bases on balls brought Midland a 4-2 lead at the end of the first inning. After Second Baseman Spec Cox singled, Outfielder Hayden White and First Baseman Jim Prince walked, Bob Cowser, left fielder, smacked a double driving in a run. Catcher Gordon Tanner walked and Shortstop Dick Potak rapped a sharp single that scored three tallies.

Midland added a run in the third on two walks, and a single by Prince. The final Midland tally came in the fifth canto on a pair of walks and a hit by Cowser.

Then, in the sixth, came the four Clovis runs that tied the ball game. McMellon also led the Midland team at the plate, getting two hits in three trips. Cowser had 2 for 4, as Midland got seven bingles. Calo, catcher, led Clovis with two for three.

Coleman Quits Odessa; Johnson Named Successor

ODESSA—Joe Coleman, builder of football champions, has resigned at Odessa High School to take the position of head coach at New Mexico A&M. Coleman was head coach and athletic director at Odessa.

He will be succeeded by Julius Johnson, assistant coach. Both took their new posts Wednesday.

Coleman, a former TCU griddier, joined Odessa High School in 1938. He came up with three district grid champions, two co-district champions and in 1946 won the state championship.

There was an interlude in Coleman's Odessa coaching. He served in the Navy during World War II. Johnson has been assistant coach since 1941. He piloted the Bronchos to the state baseball championship last year.

Coleman said he regretted leaving Odessa, but felt this was a "good opportunity" to get into college coaching. Two of Coleman's ex-Odessa High players will assist him at the New Mexico college—Harvey (Pug) Gabriel of Texas Western and Raymond (Sugar) Evans, who performed with Texas Western and later played professional football. Gabriel will tutor the backfield and Evans will handle the line.

Bosox Left At Altar As Yanks Win 5-0

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
 Is this going to be another bride-maid year for Boston's perennial left-at-the-altar Red Sox?

Vic Raschi's 5-0 handoutting of the Sox sluggers for the New York Yankees Tuesday may have been just one of those things. On the other hand, it might have been a sign of things to come. It smacked too much of "the same old Red Sox" of the last four years.

Watching the Sox being throttled with six little singles made it almost impossible to visualize them as the same pulverizing team that ran off 11 straight Grapefruit League victories.

It made it easy to recall the Red Sox of 1947-48-49-50. All-conquering on paper. All-powerful in the eyes of most experts. All-America choice for the flag.

Then they start to play for keeps. They stray away from friendly Fenway Park. And Boston's blasting batters become brittle and its hurricane hurlers become harmless Giants Goose-Egg Braves.

The season's opener proved a total loss so far as Boston was concerned. Not only were the Red Sox horse-collared, but the city's National League representatives, the Braves, were goose-egged as Larry Jansen of the Giants shut them out 4-0 with five little singles.

Philadelphia's defending champlan Phils downed Brooklyn's Dodgers 5-3 at Ebbets Field. Robin Roberts, whose final-day triumph over the Brooks gave the Phils their first flag in 35 years last season, again thwarted the Dodgers.

Bob Lemon, king of the 1950 pitchers, threw a brilliant two-hitter at the Tigers to pitch the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 triumph in Detroit.

Outfielder Al Zarilla blasted the St. Louis Browns pitching for a home run, a double and a single to lead the White Sox to a 17-3 romp before 5,660 at St. Louis.

Murry Dickson pitched and batted the Pirates to a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in Pittsburgh. The little righthander walloped his first major league home run and contributed a single in another scoring rally.

Cold weather held the inaugural crowd to a disappointing 171,678 fans at the eight parks. Last year the eight openers drew 252,700 fans.

The biggest crowd of the day—44,800 Yankee Stadium fans—saw Jackie Jensen steal the show from Mickey Mantle, the publicized New York rookie flash. Jensen smashed a two-run homer and doubled in the sixth inning. Mantle singled in four times at bat.

A crowd of 43,470 watched a pitching duel between Lemon and Hal Newhouser in Detroit. Tied at 1-1 after eight innings, the Tribe won in the ninth when Shortstop Johnny Ligon bobbled Jim Hegan's grounder and Larry Doby scored the winning run. Jerry Fridy got both hits off Lemon.

Slater, Ennis, Gollat
 Dick Slater, Del Ennis and Mike Gollat led the Phils' nine-hit attack at Brooklyn before 19,217 chilled fans. Slater, whose three-run homer beat Brooklyn for the pennant last year, hit two singles and scored twice. Ennis batted in three runs with a homer and a single. Gollat socked a four-bagger in the second inning to gain the honor of connecting with the first major league homer of the year. Carl Erskine, a surprise starter, was the loser.

Only 6,081 saw Jansen gain his first victory in four opening-day attempts. The right-hander out-pitched Vern Bickford, Boston's no-hit hurler, to give the Giants their first opening game since 1946.

Dutch Hiller went all the way for the Cubs before 18,211 at Chicago. The Washington Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 6-1 behind Con Marzaro in the first night opener in American League history.

Kermit Raps Crane In Softball Tilt

CRANE—Kermit defeated Crane 12-6 recently to hand the Olers their first defeat in Permian Basin League softball play.

The winners took the lead in the first inning with one run and added three more in the second. Crane bunched its six runs into the fourth inning, but Kermit scored four in the fifth and ninth innings to oop the decision.

J. W. Warden hurled the win, striking out seven, giving up five hits and four runs in three and one-third innings.

Wednesday is Double Green Stamp Day

Rook Out-talks Ole Case Stengel, Then Proves He's Right

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(P)—It is extremely seldom Casey Stengel finds himself out-talked, especially in the Spring, but the manager of the Yankees must be a happy man Wednesday that he let a brash youngster from out West stop him cold some six weeks ago.

The object of the unusual debate—and the winner—was Jackie Jensen, batting hero of the Bombers' opening victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday at the Stadium.

When Casey opened training at Phoenix he was fully determined that Jensen, former football and baseball great at the University of California, was going to be a pitcher if he expected to remain with the Yankees.

Jensen had been a standout pitcher in college, but he reported to the Yanks last year as an outfielder. He sat around all season, played but little and proved, at least to Stengel's satisfaction, that he couldn't hit big league pitching.

Stengel lost no time advising Jackie where his future lay when he reported this Spring. "You're going to be a pitcher," he informed the coast product. "You can throw harder than any man on my staff except maybe Allie Reynolds. You got four good pitches, all any pitcher needs. Some of those pitchers make pretty good money, too, just like outfielders. You can't play outfield for the Yankees if you can't hit."

Jensen wasn't impressed. He still wanted outfield. He even was a little stubborn. "You fellows signed me as an outfielder," he said grimly. "All those other clubs that wanted me seemed to think I could play out there. I still think I can hit if I get a chance to play regularly."

He finally induced Jackie to warm up two of three times. He and Fitching Coach Jim Turner made it a point to stand within earshot of Jackie and comment loudly on his blinding speed, his mastery of the curve.

After a few days of that, Casey announced that his problem boy was going to make his mound debut in an intra-squad game. But a cold wind chose that day to strike, and the game was cancelled. And that was the end of Jackie as a pitcher.

The next day he was outfielding, and as game followed game he began to hit.

When the Sox started Bill Wight, a southpaw, in the inaugural Tuesday, there was Jensen in left. Nobody much noticed because the phenom, Mickey Mantle, was in right, and you can't watch two phenoms at once.

First time up, Jackie fanned, swinging at a bad ball. Next time he caught hold of one on the end of his bat and dumped the ball into the lower right field stands, driving in what proved to be the winning run ahead of him.

On his third trip he launched a three-run rally that finally put the skids under the Sox with a sizzling double down the right field line.

It looks as though the boy who didn't want to pitch for the world champions is on his way to proving his point.

Texas League—Beaumont, Ocee, Dallas Rack Wins; Bufts, Padres Tie

By The Associated Press

The Texas League season's first big argument over an umpire's decision proved—that's right—the umpire was right.

The row came in the tenth inning of San Antonio's 3-3 tie with Houston Tuesday night. Houston players were involved, but the tie didn't change the Bufts' standing at the top of the standings.

In other games, Beaumont beat Shreveport 4-2, Dallas downed Fort Worth 3-1, and Oklahoma City went 10 innings to shade Tulsa 8-7.

The dispute at Houston came with one out, runners on first and second. Pinch Hitter Van Haring hit a short fly into right field that the tie didn't change the Bufts' standing at the top of the standings.

Texas Quadruple Amputee Gets Close Look At Old Boss

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—The second quadruple amputee of the Korean war got his first glimpse of his old commander in the St. Francis Hotel lobby Tuesday night.

Marine Cpl. Werner Reininger of San Antonio, Texas, came from Oak Knoll Naval Hospital at transbay Oakland and was given a seat in the front row.

The crowd was too great for greetings, but Reininger was cheerful. "I just wanted to see my old boss," he said, clamping his teeth on a large cigar.

Reininger lost both legs above the knee, all fingers and most of one hand after being wounded by two grenades and suffering frostbite December 2 in the Marines' fighting withdrawal from the Changjin reservoir.

Walt Lanfranconi set Fort Worth down on five hits and Jim Fridley hit a homer as Dallas won.

Bill Henry held Beaumont to four hits, but three of them—two singles and Art Mazmanian's triple—in the fifth inning, plus two walks, gave the Roughnecks all their runs.

Three runs in the ninth inning tied up the game for Oklahoma City, and John Creef's triple scored the winning runs.

The Houston-San Antonio game was halted to enable both teams to catch a train.

Bill (Dog) Dawson Leaves A&M Post
COLLEGE STATION—(P)—Bill (Dog) Dawson is leaving the coaching profession to manage the Gulf Fertilizer Company of Sugarland.

Dawson, end coach at Texas A&M, said Wednesday his resignation will become effective May 1.

Dawson served as the Aggie's varsity end coach last year and also had been a 'B' team coach at A&M.

Wainwright To See MacArthur Thursday
WASHINGTON—(P)—Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, the Texan who commanded a last stand of U. S. troops on Corregidor in World War II, will be with General MacArthur here Thursday.

Wainwright, now a resident of San Antonio, won the Congressional Medal of Honor for the Corregidor campaign.

The Statler Hotel, where MacArthur will stay, said it also has a reservation for Wainwright.

IPAA Is To Meet In Denver May 7-8

Independent oil operators and producers of the nation will hold their mid-year meeting in Denver May 7-8.

Members of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, a national wide organization of independent producers, closed Denver for their Spring meeting in recognition of the increased oil industry activity in the Rocky Mountain region.

J. Ed Warren, Midland, president of the association, has announced that program plans are nearing completion and that in excess of 350 reservations have already been received. All of the producing areas of the nation will be represented at the meeting.

The two-day meeting will get under way with an address by Warren. This will be followed by a report from the association's general counsel, Russell B. Brown, Washington, D. C.

R. W. McCann, of the Ohio Oil Company will speak on the Denver-Julesburg Basin. This northeast Colorado region, which includes part of western Nebraska and southeastern Wyoming, is currently the most active exploratory sector of the Rocky Mountains.

An important feature of the program will be talks by governors of the oil producing states of the region. Presiding at this session will be Governor Shivers of Texas, who is also chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

Midlander Held On DWI Charge After Highway Collision

A Midland man was being held on drunken driving charges Wednesday after his automobile collided with another Tuesday night on U. S. Highway 80 east of the city.

Police Officer Scott Clay reported that, while on routine patrol, he noticed the car swerving from one side of the pavement to the other.

At one point, the driver narrowly missed a head-on collision with a passing truck.

Before Clay could overtake him, the car collided with on driven by Charles Royston of Cisco.

The driver was brought to police headquarters by Clay and Lt. Jim Wilkerson and booked on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Murder Charge Filed In Houston Shooting

HOUSTON—(P)—An argument over a car payment resulted in one man being shot to death and another being charged with murder.

O'Neal Singleton, 29, was shot to death Tuesday night in the home of James Pratt, Jr., 22. Pratt was charged before Justice Tom Maes with murder.

In a written statement, Pratt told the sheriff's office Singleton came to his house and started an argument about a payment on a 1941 Buick which Pratt had purchased from Singleton. He said Singleton threatened him and he shot once with a 12-gauge shotgun in self defense. He said Singleton ran outside and collapsed.

Capt. J. D. Walters said the dead man was found in the front yard, and a butcher knife was found near his body.

Radio 'Hams' Set Lubbock Meeting

LUBBOCK—Amateur Radio Operators of the Southwest are to convene in Lubbock, Texas, April 21-22 for the annual Hamfest. Members of the South Plains Radio Club of Lubbock are to be hosts at the Naval Reserve Training Center in Lubbock on those dates.

The local club has planned to coincide with the Texas Technological College annual Engineering Show in order that "Hams" may attend both events.

Some 400 amateurs and their wives are expected to participate in the program which is being built around two-meter activity.

Guest speakers will include the Vice-President of the American Relay League, Wayland (Soupy) Groves, WSNW, and West Gulf Division Director David (Mid) Middleton, WSCA.

Registration fee for participants is set at $2 per person and will include two meals served buffet style. Amateurs are expected to come from as far as San Antonio, Dallas, Albuquerque and Wichita, Kansas.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-NW Reagan Wildcat Will Receive Shot

The producer was finished from open hole at 6,652-7,152 feet. That section was Hydratrapped with 3,000 gallons.

No water was made on the potential test, which was gauged through a 16/64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 532-1.

Location of the new well is 680 feet from north and east lines of section 31, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

NW Andrews Wildcat Finds Sulphur Water

Fulleton Oil Company No. 1 George L. Grogan, Northwest Andrews County wildcat, three and one-half miles northwest of the nearest Ellenburger production on the northwest side of the Fulleton field, made only sulphur water in the Ellenburger. It topped the Ellenburger at 10,228 feet. Operator drilled to 10,305 feet and took a 45-minute drillstem test at 10,235-35 feet.

Recovery was the 2,100-foot water blanket, 720 feet of water cut mud and 6,400 feet of sulphur water. There were no signs of oil or gas.

The prospector is circulating while waiting on orders.

None of the upper beds have logged any appreciable shows of possible production.

Location is 1,960 feet from south and 1,971 feet from west lines of section 21, block A-31, psi survey.

C-N Winkler Test Plugged, Abandoned

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 R. M. Evans, Central-North Winkler County wildcat has been plugged as a failure.

It drilled to a total depth of 13,638 feet in Ellenburger. That formation made only salt water.

The prospector did not find any shows of possible production in any section it penetrated. After getting water in the Ellenburger it plugged back to 13,638 feet and drillstem tested the McKee sand of the Simpson.

That zone did not develop any signs of petroleum.

Location was 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block T-1, TC survey. That makes it an east offset to the same operator's No. 1-B Thomson, a drilling prospect.

SW Gaines Sector Gets Exploration

W. W. Meeker and A. G. Slocum, both of Midland, have staked location for a wildcat in Southwest Gaines County.

No. 1-A E. H. Brechon will be drilled 660 feet from south and east lines of section 1, block A-27, psi survey, and 15 miles southwest of the town of Seminole. That makes it 1 1/4 miles northwest of the recent San Andres discovery in the Jenkins pool.

A combination of rotary and cable tools will be used to go to 5,000 feet to test the San Andres.

S-C Terry Slated For Deep Wildcat

Stanford Oil & Gas Company spotted a wildcat in South-Central Terry County as the No. 1 C. L. Anderson, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 120, block T, D&W survey.

Location is three and one-half miles southwest of the Brownfield South Canyon area and five miles northeast of the Wellman pool.

NW Reagan Wildcat Will Receive Shot

Ted Wether, et al No. 1-40 Proctor, wildcat in Northwest Reagan County, is at total depth of 7,128 feet in Spraberry sand, trying for completion.

Operator is preparing to shoot open hole from 6,914, where five and one-half inch casing is set, to total depth with nitrogen gas.

That section previously had been Hydratrapped. After that treatment operator swabbed out 60 barrels of clean oil in 24 hours.

Drillsite is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 40, block 37, T-5-S T&P survey.

SE Concho Slated For Shallow Test

Northern Ordnance, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., has filed application with the Railroad Commission for permission to drill No. 1 Dees Green, wildcat in Southeast Concho County.

Location is 900 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of John H. Gibson survey No. 1. That makes it one and one-half miles northeast of the Pringle field.

Projected depth is 2,150 feet. Rotary tools will be used to drill, beginning immediately.

Drillsite is three and one-half miles southeast of Eden.

In Southwest Concho County, Nash & Cook Oil Company of Dallas has plugged and abandoned No. 1 Mrs. Georgia Wooten on total depth of 3,574 feet in Ellenburger line.

Top of the Ellenburger was indefinite. The highest point picked was 3,440 feet and the lowest 3,540 feet. Elevation was 2,130 feet.

The wildcat was located 330 feet from south and west lines of section 166, block 72, T&NO survey.

Project Is Staked In C-N Schleicher Pool

Delta Gulf Drilling Company staked location for another test in the Huldale-Strawn field of Central-North Schleicher County.

The project will be dug as the concern's No. 2-B H. F. Thomson, 1,700 feet from north and 2,050 feet from west lines of section 82, block TT, TC survey. That makes it an east offset to the same operator's No. 1-B Thomson, a drilling prospect.

Tom Green Venture To Test Clear Fork

Operator is preparing to perforate casing and test in the Clear Fork after falling in the Ellenburger at Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Bob Sharp (O. D. Weston), wildcat two miles northeast of Knickerbocker and in Southwest Tom Green County.

Present plugged back total depth is 595 feet. When the Clear Fork was drilled it showed some oil stain in samples. That formation was topped at 540 feet.

The last drillstem test in the No. 1 Sharp was from 7,032-7,058 feet in the Ellenburger. Recovery was 30 feet of mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Ellenburger was topped at 6,780 feet, elevation 2,136 feet.

Two Wildcats Are Plugged In Runnels

Two wildcats have been plugged and abandoned in Northeast Runnels County.

E. F. White, Jr., of Dallas and others No. 1 Mrs. Luella Rampy was plugged at 5,923 feet in lime and sand.

Cameron—

(Continued From Page One) yard is expected to be open for business by the end of this month, Stolte said. Several buildings are being erected on the site, which is served by a spur track of the T&P Railway.

Porter, manager of the Midland yard, long has been associated with the oil field lumber and supply business and is well-known throughout West Texas. He has been with the Cameron company since 1927.

Active in civic and church affairs in Crane, Porter is a past president of the Crane Lions Club and now is serving as president of the Men's Downtown Bible Class. He formerly was general superintendent of the First Baptist Church Sunday School.

Church Worker
Mrs. Porter also has been active in civic, social and church affairs in Crane. She is a First Baptist Sunday School teacher and served, as a member of the church choir.

The Porters have one child, Nancy Blanche, who is a senior in Crane High School. Mrs. Porter and Jenny Blanche will continue to reside in Crane until the end of the present school term.

Another Communist Plan Fizzles Out

BERLIN—(P)—M-31 was a plan for distributing scarce raw materials to the "peoples-owned" industries for the five-year industrial plan.

It came into being in the Planning Offices of the "German Democratic Republic" and got the approval of the ruling Socialist Unity (Communist) Party. With great fanfare, party boss Walter Ulbricht ordered M-31 into action.

The bureaucratic gears ground and the red tape machines ticked. And nothing happened. Orders were placed and the stuff didn't show up.

It got to be a scandal and finally Fritz Lange, chairman of the central commission for state control, was hauled on the carpet.

Lange looked into it and came out with an indictment against M-31. He said it was a good plan for projects but the regulation-minded government employees had destroyed its effectiveness by surrounding it with red tape. Therefore, M-31 had to be banished and a new, more simplified method is being worked out now.

Congratulations To

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arthur Beaudry, 307 1/2 North F Street, on the birth Wednesday of a son, Donald Michael, weighing seven pounds, 10 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lauderdale, 601 East Maiden Lane, on the birth Wednesday of a daughter weighing seven pounds, 12 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gardner, 2618 Roosevelt Street, on the birth Wednesday of a son weighing six pounds, 11 ounces.

STORAGE SPACE SURVEY
A long range study into the role of marine animal and plant life sediments in creating crude oil has been launched by the American Petroleum Institute. The remains of prehistoric marine life buried in sedimentary rock strata generally are believed to be the source of oil formations.

NEW PT TAKES TO THE SEA—The Navy's new all-aluminum motor torpedo boat, the PT-812, slashes through rough seas off Cape May, N. J., in its first speed test. No figures have been made public, but officials call it the fastest PT boat ever. With a length of 105 feet, the PT-812 is much larger than the famed wartime mosquito boats.

THE ULTIMATE IN DESIGN

Only in Crestview Heights will you find in low-cost homes such features as spun glass insulation . . . colored stucco interiors . . . arch ceilings . . . two closets in each bedroom . . . and many other fine features.

But the big difference in the homes in Crestview Heights lies in the modern, typically southwestern design. One of the finest architects in the entire Southwest area has created the many different designs . . . from which you may select your new home!

Good-Natured Mob Scene Greets MacArthur Who Hoped To Slip Into Hotel Unnoticed

By PAUL KERN LEE

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Near San Francisco, General MacArthur remained . . . "We'll get in after dark and slip quietly in the back way." That's what he thought!

Arriving home from Tokyo, MacArthur landed at San Francisco International Airport at 8:29 p.m. (11:29 p.m., EST) Tuesday night.

So boisterous was his spontaneous welcome, so unruly were the cheering crowds, that he arrived at mally would take about 30 minutes later. His 15 mile drive that normally would take about 30 minutes required 100.

Even then, so close was the crush of pressing shoving, waving, clutching, laughing and screaming people, that Mrs. MacArthur and 13-year-old Arthur did not reach the hotel until nine minutes later.

How big was the crowd? It was anybody's guess. There are about 2,000,000 people in the San Francisco Bay area. Estimates—all strictly guesswork—ran up to half that number, including those at the airport . . . those who crowded off the curbs along the 15 mile route . . . those who fought for position and shoved police cars backward in a milling but goodnatured mob scene in front of the hotel.

Crowds Wave Flags
Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief adviser, guessed 1,000,000 people had seen MacArthur off from Tokyo Monday. They were spread out and very orderly, waving American and Japanese flags.

"The Tokyo show was very significant, but," he said as his eyes glistened, "nothing can beat what your own people do for you."
MacArthur's own people put on an uncontrollable demonstration.

His open car required more than five minutes to negotiate the last short block to the hotel entrance. There the crowd was thickest. It had waited with growing impatience for more than four hours, and was not to be denied.

At least five times it surged completely out of control. Numerous persons were knocked down or became faint, but no serious injuries were reported.

Hawkers of MacArthur buttons and small flags were on the job early but found business poor because they could not move about.

Can't Get Near
A handful of demonstrators identifying themselves as the "San Francisco Peace Crusade," attempted to approach the hotel, but could not get near. Their banners "Get Out of Korea" and "Don't Drop the A-Bomb," drew hoots, boos and ribald laughter.

Sailors seized some, broke the sticks and hurled them after the marchers. The crusaders retreated. A Chinese girls' band kept the waiting throng moderately amused. But was almost engulfed when MacArthur finally arrived.

MacArthur gave a quick wave and whisked into the lobby, where onlookers stood on desks and chairs and hung to railings to get a glimpse.

"I saw only the top of his cap—and after standing here for five hours," one woman complained.

She was luckier than most. A wise few men stayed in the stag bar, and witnessed via television the tremendous spectacle that was going on only 10 steps away.

Elevator Reserved
MacArthur was sped up to his sixth floor suite in a reserved elevator manned by Loreto Mondragon of Cebu City, Philippines.

"I smiled and bowed but the general didn't say anything," Mondragon reported. "After all, he had no chance; the governor and the mayor were with him and I made a quick trip."

Once in his five-room suite—specially lettered "M" henceforth—MacArthur got the chocolate milk shake and hot dog he had said he wanted, and all was silence.

The sound of sirens died in the street below. The crowd, so wild and jaunty five minutes before, vanished.

A half-empty cable car clanged its way over the thick litter of torn telephone directories that still drifted down from the hotels' upper windows.

MacArthur had returned.

SASEBO, JAPAN—(AP)—The first contingent of American veterans of the Korean war enroute home on rotation arrived here Wednesday.

No Plans Made For MacArthur, Truman Meeting On Thursday

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—There is little likelihood of a meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur in Washington Thursday unless a direct invitation comes from the White House.

"There is no plan whatsoever for such a meeting so far as I know," said Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, spokesman and close adviser of the general.

Whitney told reporters MacArthur still is working on the speech he will deliver before a joint session of Congress Thursday.

"The general started working on it as soon as he found out he would be invited," Whitney said. MacArthur is expected to set forth in full his opinions on defeating the Chinese Communists with limited extension of the war in Korea.

MacArthur has strongly advocated Allied air attacks on Manchurian bases and aid to the Chinese Nationalist in amphibious assaults on the Chinese mainland.

Has No Comment
Whitney said the general had "quote no comment unquote" on the Chicago speech of Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff.

Bradley opposed both bombing Manchuria at this time and supporting amphibious assaults on the Chinese mainland. He said either step would spread the war.

Whitney said MacArthur would go to Chicago some time next week. A visit to Milwaukee also is being considered.

MacArthur's personal physician, Col. Charles Canada, declared the 71-year-old general is in fine condition.

"There's no question of him holding up," Canada said, and laughed. "But it's a question if I can."

Without Assignment
Whitney said there was no indication what post may be assigned MacArthur, if any. "His position is that of a dismissed commander, without assignment."

"He's taking this thing in stride," Whitney added.

He said there has been no decision on Remington-Rand's offer to MacArthur to become a director.

The bid, first made Dec. 24, 1949, was a fluid one, based on a time when his work in Japan would be completed. It was reported a $100,000 a year post.

Linda Stamm Tells Story Of Kidnaping By Woman Doctor

By PAUL KERN LEE

ALBUQUERQUE—(AP)—A cute, blonde fifth grader climbed into an oak witness chair made for grown-ups Tuesday and told how Yale-educated Dr. Nancy Campbell kidnaped her November 10.

Nine-year-old Linda Stamm's testimony, coupled with that of her parents, and followed by technical information from FBI men, completed the state's case.

Dr. Campbell, 43, was arrested as she reached for a $20,000 ransom package—a phony—just outside the gates to the Stamm suburban estate near Santa Fe. The women's specialist has admitted the kidnaping but pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Linda swung her legs, on which she wore white bobby socks, and squirmed as she told how Dr. Campbell took her from her home, drugged her, and took her bound to an abandoned, windowless ranch-house south of Santa Fe for the night.

Asked by special prosecutor H. A. Kiker if she were scared, Linda answered: "Yes, very."

Linda's mother, Mrs. Roberta Stamm, burst into tears as she told of the "cold and numb" feeling she got when she read the note left by Dr. Campbell, demanding $20,000 ransom for Linda's safe return.

And the little girl's stepfather, wealthy contractor Allan Stamm, related how he went to the FBI, without his wife's knowledge, and reported the kidnaping after promising the ransom.

Air Force Issues Official 'Apology'
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Sory Smith, director of Air Force public relations, Tuesday issued this official apology for the handling of press photographers covering General MacArthur's arrival in Honolulu Monday.

"The Air Force apologizes sincerely for its part in the reported mistreatment by Air Force Police of photographers in connection with General MacArthur's arrival at Honolulu.

"We are retracing the facts of the incidents. The importance of the most effective operations of the press are thoroughly understood and believed in by the Air Force."

Attorney Wins Case, Plus 15-Cent Bonus

LAWRENCEVILLE, ILL.—(AP)—State's Attorney Philip Benefiel gambled Tuesday and won 15 cents and a police court case.

Glenn Parks had filed suit to recover 15 slot machines which were seized in a raid at his home last week. He contended they were just cabinets of wood, brass and aluminum and were not workable as slot machines.

Benefiel walked over, put a nickel in one of the machines and pulled the handle. Four nickels came out. Magistrate Roy Walter ruled against Parks.

Ship Commander Faces Court Martial

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The commander of the hospital ship Benevolence, sunk off the Golden Gate after a collision August 25, will be tried at a general court martial, the Navy announced Tuesday.

The court will convene Monday to try Capt. Barton E. Bacon, Jr., on charges of neglect and failure to exercise proper care in navigating the Benevolence. The accident took the lives of 23 of the 526 persons aboard.

Hickey Succeeds Almond As Staff Chief To Ridgway

By PAUL KERN LEE

TOKYO—(AP)—An Army spokesman said Wednesday the appointment of Maj. Gen. Doyle O. Hickey as chief of staff to Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new Allied commander, is a routine "confirmation of a situation that has existed for some time."

The chief of staff job formerly was held by Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, a close friend and associate of General MacArthur. But Almond has been field commander of the Allied Tenth Corps in Korea since last Fall and Hickey has been acting chief of staff in Almond's absence from Tokyo.

The "acting" part of Hickey's title was dropped Tuesday in a routine Army announcement. Almond continues as Tenth Corps commander.

An aide of General Ridgway said the formal naming of Hickey to the job Almond and Hickey held under MacArthur was "paper confirmation" of the title given to the man doing the job.

Commenting on where that leaves Almond, the aide said "No change or prospective change in the status of the Tenth Corps command has been considered."

Banking Firm Heads Syndicate Trying To Buy Matador Ranch

DUNDEE, SCOTLAND—(AP)—The international bankers, Lazard Brothers, and an American syndicate are trying to buy Texas' vast Matador Ranch.

The offer to the Matador Land and Cattle Company, Ltd., was reported to be $19,600,000. The properties actually are two ranches of 803,000 acres in seven counties.

W. D. McDougall, chairman of Matador, said the offer will be under consideration "some time." Lazard has offices in New York, London and Paris.

Medina To Address Regional Bar Meet

DALLAS—(AP)—A highlight of the Southwest Regional Convention of the American Bar Association is an address Wednesday night by Federal Judge Harold Medina.

The judge won national acclaim for his conduct of the New York Communist conspiracy trials.

Tuesday night, the chief of intelligence for the Air Force, Maj. Gen. Charles Pearre Cabell, warned the 1,000 lawyers that no end of the Korean war was in sight. Cabell is a native of Dallas.

The MATURE PARENT

Have We Been Overrating Our Child's 'Smartness'?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Mrs. Tessie Greenglass, mother of two convicted atom spies, is shocked, angry and bewildered by her daughter's treason. She can't figure out how it happened. "Ethel was so smart," she tells a reporter. "Graduated high school before she was 16." What Mrs. Greenglass really means is that Ethel had a high IQ. Perhaps when Mrs. Greenglass has recovered from her shock, she may understand that the IQ and school marks measure only the raw material of intelligence. That they do not evaluate honor, loyalty, or the humility which process, purify and refine intelligence so that it becomes a social asset instead of a social liability. What do you say we cut out this talk of "smartness" when we refer to people who were unable to make the simplest equation between gratitude and the country which sheltered, fed and educated the supple brains under the skulls of the Golds, the Greenglasses, the Sobells, the Hisses, the Fuchs? I, for one, am a little sick of hearing about their "brightness" and their "brilliant" college records. Because I can't help wondering if this constant talk of superior minds has not been going on around them all their lives. I can't help wondering if the child that was Ethel Greenglass may not have been treated to a steady diet of awe and admiration for the "smart" school records until one day she figured that such a master mind was entitled to make decisions for you and me. Until she became convinced of her right to feel contempt for the dull-witted clods who don't know how to solve their problems. Until she began to feel hate for them because they wouldn't accept her solution to their problems. "Who Poisoned Their Minds?" "Who has poisoned my children's minds?" asks Mrs. Greenglass. Maybe you and I helped. For we are the people who have been overrating "smartness" and the quick brains with the quick conclusions from a long way back. We are the people who confused the IQ with intelligence, mental proficiency with moral proficiency. By so doing, we have abetted in the waste and wreckage of the high powered mental machines of Mrs. Greenglass' children. For we have been too preoccupied to exhort, teach and prove to them that such efficient machines are dangerous when they are unbraked by humility and love.

Who knows what might have happened if Mrs. Greenglass—and all of us who boast of A's our growing children bring home—tempered admiration with realism and told youngsters: That a strong brain is just part of their physical equipment, like good teeth. That they also must learn to give up something they want, to take disappointment without resentment. That they must also learn to be poised in the midst of confusion. That nations, just like children and grownups, need love and not hate to help them correct their faults.

If we do that, we're scoring our children's brains, not just by the quick A's they produce, but by the way they use those brains for living. (All Rights Reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

WILY RAVENS IRK TRAPPERS

PRINCE ALBERT, SASKATCHEWAN — (AP) — Flocks of ravens ranging over Northern Saskatchewan are keeping fishermen and trappers on the jump. The airborne predators are robbing fish nets, eating fish left on the ice overnight by fishermen, and ruining pelts of trapped fur-bearing animals. "They're as wily as a wolf," said one trapper. "If you are carrying a gun they keep their distance, but if not they strut around as tame as pigeons."

OIL FOR RAYON, PLASTICS

Acetic acid, used mainly for the manufacture of acetate rayon and plastics, is derived primarily from petroleum. Three-fourths of the U. S. acetic acid production goes into rayon and plastics. Of the country's annual output of 400 million pounds of acetic acid, petroleum is the raw material source for three-fourths.

Sheriff's Posse Futurity Set At Big Spring Sunday

BIG SPRING—Sixteen of the Southwest's finest two-year-old horses remain eligible for the final stakes in two divisions of the third annual Sheriff's Posse Futurity at Big Spring. They will be shooting at purses totaling $12,900 when final stakes are reeled off Sunday. From the 61 original nominees, from four states, 16 half-milers and 17 quarter-milers reported as starters. Quarter-mile purse amounts to $6,100 while the half-mile is $4,800. Five elimination trial heats were feature races on a nine race card at the Big Spring track last Sunday. Qualifying for the finals in the quarter stake; owner, horse, address, are: B-Bold, J. B. Wood, Victoria; Setting Pat, Joe Welch, Carlsbad, N. M.; Warrior, Elmer Hepler, Carlsbad, N. M.; Al B Jr., Bill Grounds, Carlsbad; Miss Winna, Jim Derrick, Carlsbad; Brigand, E. H. Lane, Odem; Red Danger, Judge George Farr, San Diego; Bardo, E. H. Lane, Odem. Half-Mile Winners: Half-mile division: Persaultum, W. Whitworth, Junction; Jo Anna, S. H. Hill, Cisco; Doctotic, W. L. Miers, Sonora; Eye Spring, Pat Rose, Sr., Del Rio; Hiram Jr., Dr. T. M. Johnson, Del Rio; Clay Wright, L. L. Huddleston, Abilene; Comwood, Henry Seiler, San Antonio; Air-Jet, Taylor Carter, Penwell. Three heats of quarter-milers were necessary to reduce the field of nominees to eight finalists. Winners of heats and their time was: B-Bold, 22.8 seconds; Warrior, 23.2; Brigand, 22.8. Two heats of half-milers were run with Persaultum, 50.4 seconds, and Hiram Jr., 49.5, being the heat winners.

Rent Is Free When Sun Doesn't Shine

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Members of the St. Petersburg apartment home owners won't charge for any day the sun doesn't shine here in May or June. "We're going to lean over backwards on that proposition, too," says Peter Stein, Jr., association president. "The advertising is handing back a day's rent now and then and should be worth more to us than the cash." He explained the apartment owners want to call attention to the attractiveness of St. Petersburg in the months after the end of the regular winter season here and when the Northern resorts come into their own. The idea is modeled on the one popularized by the St. Petersburg Evening Independent, which gives away its early street edition if the sun hasn't come out by press time.

DRY HOLES EMPHASIZE RISK ELEMENT IN DRILLING

The men who drill the nations oil wells must face the fact that not only eight out of nine wildcat wells are dry holes but also the problem that possible oil sites are seldom found in convenient spots. This was shown recently when an oil company spent as much money to build a road and move drilling equipment to a remote spot as it did to drill an 8,000-foot test well when it got there. To reach the site, located about a mile from a paved highway, oil men had to build length.

Leather fire hose was invented in 1872.

International Official Will Address Lions Parley Here

S. A. Dodge of Detroit, Mich., third vice president of Lions International will be among the dignitaries attending the annual convention of Lions District 2-T-3 here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The official of the international association is scheduled to address the convention Monday morning and again Tuesday. He is said to be one of the best-informed and most capable speakers in Lions officialdom. Dodge is expected to head Lions International as president in 1954.

S. A. Dodge

Convention registration will begin at 1 p. m. Sunday in Hotel Scharbauer, convention headquarters. A tea honoring international officials is scheduled for 6 to 8 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills.

Blue Star Inn Is One Of Area's Finest Restaurants

The Blue Star Inn, located at 2501 West Wall Street, opened just about a month ago, but already the management is amazed and gratified at the wonderful response of Midlanders and other residents of the Permian Basin Empire.

Joe Chung and Richard Yee, owners and operators of the modernistic restaurant which specializes in delicious Chinese and American foods, opened the restaurant here on the suggestion of friends. Today they are thankful for that suggestion since they have made many friends here and enjoy a thriving business.

"The modernistic eating establishment is the latest word in architecture. It has a circular entranceway, bordered by growing shrubbery, which complements the attractiveness of the interior.

The two large dining rooms have indirect lighting and pastel-colored walls. Tables and chairs are designed for comfortable seating arrangements.

Experienced Operators
Both Chung and Yee have been in the restaurant business several years. They first met 15 years ago in St. Paul, Minn., and later moved to Fort Worth where they gained an enviable reputation for their Chinese and American dishes.

The two dining rooms will accommodate approximately 250 persons. One of the dining rooms is arranged for use by civic clubs, private parties and similar events.

Ample parking space is provided. The kitchen is equipped with the latest type of equipment, from the automatic dishwasher with its superheated water, to the specially-built range for the delectable Chinese dishes.

Singer Turns Down Wealth For Music

NEW YORK — (AP) — Marjorie Lawrence, American concert soprano now on tour in Australia, recently wrote to friends here that she had found a young Anzac who preferred singing with her to having a share of a gold mine.

Miss Lawrence said James Wilson, a baritone with the National Opera Company, was in rehearsal when notified that his father-in-law, David Butterick, had struck gold at Wedderburn, Australia. Wilson was offered a share of the claim.

"If I had gone digging for gold, I wouldn't have had the chance to sing with Marjorie Lawrence," he was quoted as saying, "and I'd sooner do that than own all Australia's gold claims."

Coal, which has lost ground to fluid fuels in many heating and power jobs, has been growing in importance annually in the electric power utilities.

Industrial Might Forges Plan To Speed Jet Assembly And Minimize Air Attack

LOCKLAND, OHIO — (NEA) — The Air Force and General Electric believe they have discovered a brand new way to harness America's industrial might to war production.

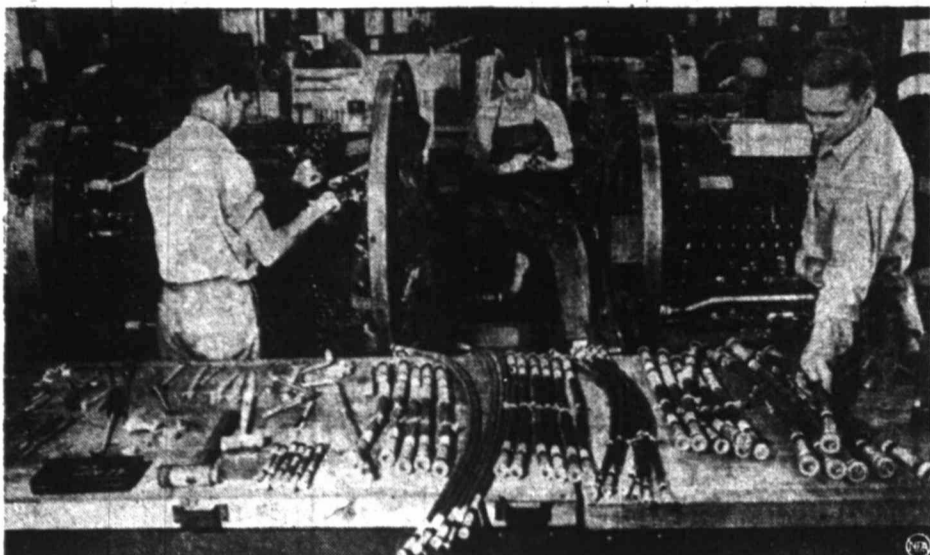

It is called the Lockland Plan, after the name of the jet engine plant here. On the basis of its success this plant is being expanded into the biggest jet engine production center in the world.

The Lockland Plan consists of buying parts and sub-assemblies from sub-contractors all over the U. S., with final assembly and testing of the engines here. Sub-contracting to this degree has never before been attempted. But its proved success is now guiding the Air Force in all plans for future production of aircraft and engines.

The advantages are numerous, an Air Force spokesman points out. By spreading the actual manufacture of parts around the country in large and small plants it reduces the inherent danger of America's industrial concentration. It is an effective method of decentralization without actually moving plants.

Multiple Suppliers
There are multiple suppliers of each part, so if one sub-contractor is bombed out production can continue. If the main assembly plant is bombed, it is much easier to restore a simple assembly line than a whole complicated manufacturing plant.

The Lockland Plan gives small industries all around the country a share of war orders. But most important it has proved itself capable of tremendously fast expansion. Since the Korean war started, jet engine output has doubled. Facilities which had been kept at minimum operation with small sub-contractors were able to expand quickly.

More than 280 subcontractors now furnish various parts for the new J-47 jet engine being made here. Parts flow in from all over the U. S. by truck, train, and even airplane at times. Sub-contractors range in size from the big Thompson Products Company of Cleveland, the Fairchild Engine Company and the Wright Aeronautical Company down to Z&W Machine Company of Cleveland, with 10 employees, and the Aircraft Precision Products Company at Ferndale, Mich., with about 100 workers. Even a big food company, General Mills, is a sub-contractor. It converted an appliance plant to jet engine part manufacturing.

Lockland plant manager, K. F. Houseman, says there has never been a production setback due to delayed shipment of any one part. And he sees no delay on the horizon, even though the increase of jet engine production has been made one of the top priority items since expansion of the armed forces began.

When the plant gets going full blast under present expansion plans, it will employ approximately 12,000 persons. Right now it is working six days a week with almost a full night shift. So far, Houseman says, there is no labor shortage and none anticipated. The plant has all of the greater Cincinnati area to draw from.

Expansion of jet engine production, until the Lockland Plan proved itself, had the Air Force worried because it was the one big item for which there were no World War II facilities to fall back on. Only a very few jet planes had been made by the end of the war.

This situation inspired the Lockland Plan in the Air Force. And when GE was approached to try it out, inasmuch as that firm had done so much of the pioneering in jet engine development, the company agreed to go along.

Carefully Guarded
This vital war plant is almost as carefully guarded as an atomic energy installation. Guards are everywhere. Each employee is carefully screened and checked for loyalty before being put on the payroll.

As the huge, round, cylinder-shaped engines take form moving down the assembly line, elaborate precautions and inspections have to be made. For instance, at the start of each stage of assembly, a carefully-counted package of bolts is handed to the foreman of that particular operation. If there is one bolt left over or one bolt short when that step is finished, the part has to be taken down and started all over.

After it reaches the end of the line, the engine is started and run for several hours in soundproof test cells made of thick reinforced concrete. Elaborate instruments record the thrust and performance. Then the engine is completely torn down and reassembled, and tested again.

The jet power plants are shipped out in big metal containers that will float in case they are dropped into the sea, an indication that the engines coming off this line are heading straight across the Pacific.

Houseman believes the Lockland Plan will also have wide application in private plants, operating on strictly peacetime contracts. He says it permits a big manufacturing operation with a relatively small capital investment, and that GE is seriously studying the plan for adaption to its non-military production plants.

I'LL TAKE THE HIGH ROAD—There's just no buts about it, it gets your goat—if you're a goat—to have to tramp around on flat sidewalks all the time. So this silly Billy at the London, England, Zoo decided to stroll along the zoo's metal benches.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

There Are Accurate Ways To Diagnose Ear Trouble

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Several good questions about Meniere's disease have been sent in by Mrs. W. Others, no doubt, are interested in the same things. "How," she asks, "can a specialist tell that a person has Meniere's disease?" First there are the symptoms of dizzy spells, ringing in the ears, and slight loss of hearing.

Then there are a number of special tests including spinning in a rotating chair and testing with tuning forks. In fact the special methods and equipment available are such that an accurate diagnosis almost always can be made.

Another thing Mrs. W. asks is whether Meniere's disease is related to a brain tumor. The answer to this is "usually not." Once in a while a brain tumor produces symptoms similar to those of Meniere's disease but this is the cause only in a small proportion of those who suffer with this condition.

Then Mrs. W. inquires about treatment. The majority of cases are caused by the accumulation of fluid in the inner portion of the ear (sometimes spoken of as dropsy). If the amount of fluid can be lessened the symptoms tend to improve.

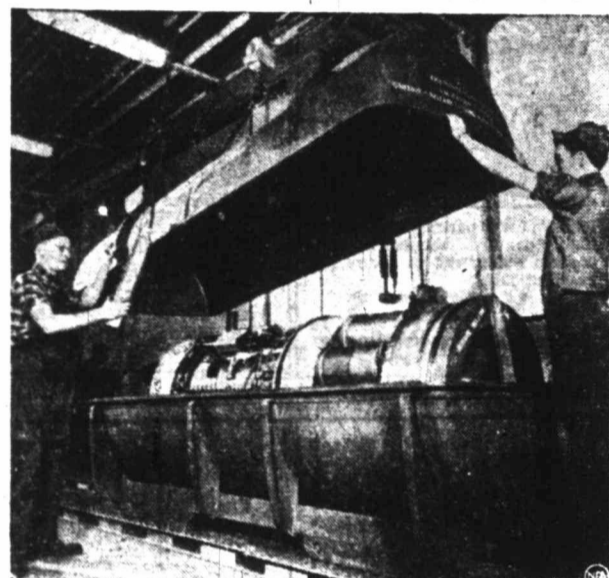

Hence one form of treatment has been aimed at cutting down the fluid intake of the body or removing excess fluid. Other medical treatments often are used involving the giving of certain drugs.

"Is Meniere's disease fatal and does an operation guarantee results?" are Mrs. W.'s final questions. No the disease is not fatal. Rather it tends to run on for years with gradual improvement in some of the unpleasant symptoms such as dizziness and ringing in the ears. There is apt to be some increase in the loss of hearing.

Operations Tried
As to operation guaranteeing results, this must be answered with a "no" also. In fact it is impossible to guarantee results from any operation. Although operation sometimes has been used for Meniere's disease, the results have been variable.

Space prevents saying much more about this disease now, but I should like to mention one thing more. Because of the dizzy spells victims of Meniere's disease are particularly liable to falls in which they may injure themselves. This is something they—and their families and friends—should guard against.

Testing a Jet is done by Bruce Roberts, Lockland test leader. ElabDonald Mains (left to right), put a metal container on the engine. If it falls in the ocean, it'll float.

Shipping a Jet is the final step at Lockland. James Schatzel and rate precautions—even to counting bolts—are taken with every engine.

DADDY RINGTAIL

TO HELP KEEP TEETH CLEAN AND BRIGHT— CHEW WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT DAY OR NIGHT!

Daddy Ringtail And Elephant Feathers

"Oh, feathers, feathers, feathers," said the Featherman. All he can think about is feathers, you know. He takes them home to feather his nest.

Featherman lives in a nest of a house. His whiskers are long and white. His coat is long and green. He always is looking for feathers, feathers, and more feathers. Sometimes he tries to grab away feathers, the chickens are using. He shouldn't, but he does.

And now the Featherman was busy with trying to grab away an Elephant Feather. An Elephant Feather? Why, an elephant doesn't have feathers!

Who said the Featherman was trying to grab an Elephant Feather away? "I said he was," said Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy. He said it to Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend.

all that he could see above the bushes. The elephant had to be an elephant-people, because her trunk was holding up a green umbrella. Uh-oh. Because sticking up was a long, long feather! It must be an Elephant Feather!

"Bang!" The Featherman and Elephant Lady had bumped together. What an awful cloud of dust! What a fight! And then the Featherman was running away as fast as he could with a bump on his head. The Elephant watched him go, and then she brushed the dust from her hat with its feathering arm. In it, yes, and the Featherman will think a long, long time before he tries to grab an Elephant Feather away again. Happy day!

"Not an Elephant Feather!" said Daddy Ringtail. "Only birds have feathers."

"Shhhhh!" whispered Mugwump. Daddy Ringtail looked across the top of a row of bushes where an elephant was walking along on the other side. Well, Daddy Ringtail guessed it was an elephant, although the elephant's trunk was

Why not give your Pride a Break?

LET'S see what it means to own a ROADMASTER.

It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadweight buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner.

It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.
