39 Dead And Missing After Tanker Crash

MOBILE, ALA.—(P)—With 17 dead counted and 22 missing men presumed dead, two tankers that collided and exploded into cremating flames in the Gulf of Mexico headed for ports Saturday night.

The two tankers—the 26,500-ton Esso Suez and the 10,000-ton Esso Greensboro—collided in dense dawn fog Friday, 200 miles south of Morgan City, La.

The Suez steamed Saturday under her own power for Mobile, but was accompanied by the Esso New York. The Greensboro was taken in tow by another tanker and headed to Galveston, Texas.

The Coast Guard announced an investigation of the collision would open at Mobile Monday.

One man on the Suez, First Mate Walter Brehm, of Lynchburg, N. J., died in the crash. Another man, ...

All the other casualties were from the Greensboro. Only five of the 42 men aboard had been picked up alive. Thirteen bodies have been recovered, 10 of them found within her burned hulk. The remaining 22 missing men are presumed dead, including Capt. Cyril C. Eden of Tampa, Fla.

Powerful Watchdog Panel To Check On Buying By Military

WASHINGTON (P)—A powerful new seven-man "watchdog" subcommittee has been set up to keep an eye on the way the armed forces spend their billions.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee announced the move and said the group will have authority to investigate all phases of procurement by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

This subcommittee, headed by Representative Hebert (D-La.), is comparable to the Truman Senate committee of World War II days. President Truman, then a senator, headed that committee. It made headlines checking into military buying.

The new House subcommittee has subpoena powers and the authority to put witnesses under oath. An investigation staff headed by John J. Courtney, attorney formerly with the Department of Justice, will aid in its work.

Keep Horse In Stable

Hebert said his committee will have an organization meeting this week. Other members include Representatives Fisher (D-Texas), De Graffenried (D-Ala.), Clemente (D-NY), Elston (R-Ohio), Anderson (R-Calif.), and Towe (R-NJ).

Hebert said the subcommittee's main objective will be to "keep the horse in the stable," rather than investigating after something has gone wrong. Hebert declined to discuss, ahead of the organization meeting, what inquiries will be tackled first.

Two-Inch Hailstones Fall Near Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, LA.—(P)—Hailstones estimated as big as two inches in diameter pelted an area four and a half miles south of Shreveport about 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The hailstorm lasted from three to five minutes. No damage was reported.

Midland Is Host To Lions

The Lions will take over in Midland Sunday through Tuesday!

Approximately 500 Lions and their ladies from a wide West Texas area are expected to arrive here Sunday for the three-day convention of District 2-T-2, Lions International.

Registration will get underway at 1 p.m. on the mezzanine floor of Hotel Scharbauer, convention headquarters. Midland Lions are the hosts.

The visitors will represent Lions Clubs of the huge West Texas district, which extends from Loraine to the East, El Paso to the West, Alpine to the South, and Lamesa, North.

A full schedule of events, both business and entertainment, will follow the registration Sunday afternoon. A reception and tea honoring International dignitaries is scheduled from 4 to 6 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills. The convention delegates are invited to attend the churches of their choice Sunday evening before going to the All-Star Talent Show scheduled at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The convention proper will be called to order at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the City-County Auditorium by C. Ed Pritchard, president of the Midland Lions Club. Mayor Perry Pickett will give the address of welcome. District Gov. Roy E. Carter of Kermit will preside at the business sessions. Business meetings are scheduled Monday morning and afternoon and Tuesday morning.

Distinguished speakers include S. A. Dodge of Detroit, Mich., third vice president of Lions International; Dr. Arturo Trabien Rosado of Mexico City, an International director; Dr. James H. Harbin of Waxahachie, governor of District 2-X and chairman of the Texas Council of Governors, and Marlowe C. Fisher of Austin, state secretary. Three Injured As School Bus Turns Turtle Four Times

HOUSTON (P)—A school bus carrying a girls volleyball team went out of control here Saturday, rolled over four times and catapulted 330 feet. Two students and one teacher were hurt seriously.

The bus was taking members of the Orchard High School volleyball team to Huntsville for a game. Orchard is 40 miles southwest of here, and Huntsville 75 miles north. Hospitalized here were Mrs. George Graf, 51, Wallace, a teacher; with back injuries; Georgia Macha, 15, Wallace, head injuries, and Margaret Petrash, 16, Wallace, broken jaw. Several others were bruised.

W. H. Conkling, president of the Kiwanis Club, said he and Emil Rasmann, Optimist president, had instructed their program chairman to pool a program for the joint meeting.

Kiwanis, Optimist Clubs To Hold Joint Meeting Wednesday

The Kiwanis and Optimist Clubs of Midland will have a joint luncheon meeting at noon Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer.

The joint meeting was arranged to permit use of the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer by the Lions Club for district convention sessions Monday and Tuesday which are, respectively, the regular meeting days for the Kiwanians and Optimists.

W. H. Conkling, president of the Kiwanis Club, said he and Emil Rasmann, Optimist president, had instructed their program chairman to pool a program for the joint meeting.

Panel Says Open Crime Flourishing

AUSTIN (P)—"Open and notorious violations of the criminal statutes of Texas" have resulted from laxity and failure of enforcement by local officials, the House Crime Investigating Committee charged Saturday.

The statement was made in the committee's first formal report. It was based mainly on testimony of the state police chief, attorney general, and witnesses from Odessa, El Paso and Dallas.

"It is no secret that flagrant violations of the criminal statutes of the state in certain localities could not continue without an apparent refusal of local enforcement officials to act in accordance with their sworn duty," wrote Rep. Fred Meredith of Terrell, committee chairman, adding:

"Indeed, in some isolated instances, such violations could not continue without either the protection of, or the connivance of, local authorities." No city in this category was named specifically.

The report gave little detail on organized crime in Texas that had not been made public during the committee's hearings.

Listed as major facts established by the committee were these: "1. Continental Press Service, a nationally syndicated bookmaking wire service, had some seven or eight drops in Texas for the purpose of furnishing daily horse race information for gambling purposes.

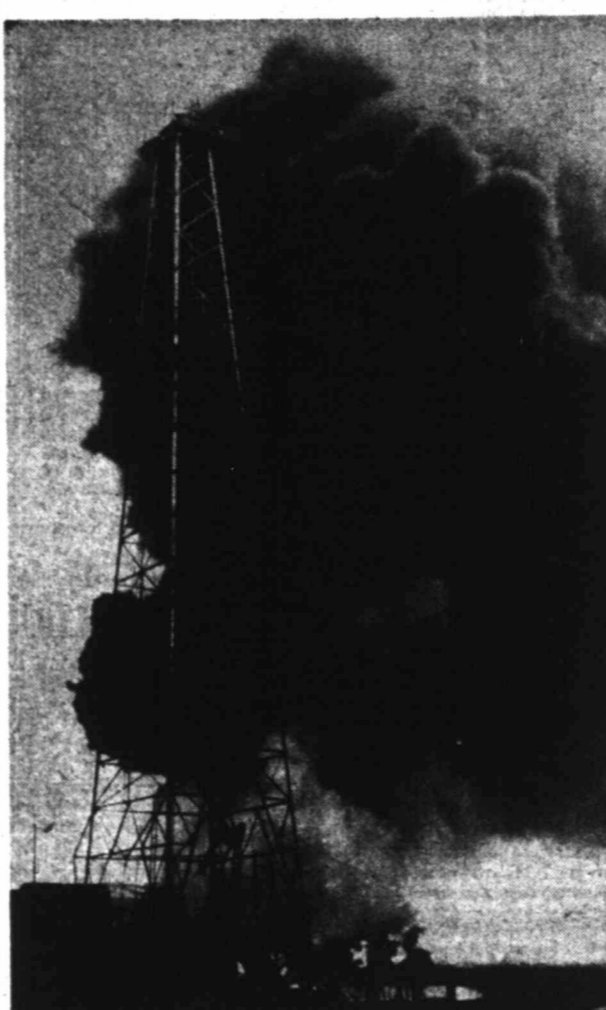

"2. Mickey Cohen has attempted (Continued on Page Nine)

MANILA (P)—Communist Huks ambushed killed five U. S. Airmen on Clark Field Saturday night on a highway 60 miles north of Manila. Two of their Filipino women companions were wounded.

NEW YORK (P)—District Attorney Frank Hogan Saturday night announced that Jack Goldsmith, 31-year-old former Long Island University basketball star, had been arrested for offering $3,500 to four LIU players to "fix" a Madison Square Garden game in January, 1949.

BELGRADE (P)—Radio Belgrade Saturday night reported Premier Marshal Tito's condition is "normal" after an operation two days ago for gall bladder trouble.

WASHINGTON (P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Saturday night, at the annual banquet of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, that the Truman Administration's refusal to bomb Chinese Red bases in Manchuria is "an encouragement to aggression, not a deterrent."

HOT OIL—Giant billows of black smoke rise from the flaming Tex-Harvey Oil Company No. 4-10 Floyd Estate well, 15 miles southeast of Midland. Firemen from Midland and Odessa fought the flames more than three hours before they were snuffed out. This dramatic photo by Lt. Bob Branson of the Midland Police Department shows the last gasp of the oil-fled flames. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

Overcrowding In Schools Prompts Bond Issue Ballot

Gymnasium bleachers are fine for watching basketball games. But, as students at Carver School in Midland know, they are not so comfortable when they have to sit on them to learn their reading, 'ritin' and 'rithmetic.

This is one reason why property owners of the Midland Independent School District are being asked to approve on April 25 a $1,500,000 bond issue proposal.

For in the proposal is a $100,000 item for the addition of six classrooms to the Carver Elementary School.

Other items include $150,000 for the addition of eight classrooms to South Elementary, $350,000 for the construction of a new elementary school in the Bauman Heights-Crest View area, and $900,000 for the construction of an additional junior high school.

There is little doubt of the necessity for an addition at Carver, school officials say. The last addition was in 1948-'49, when two classrooms were added at a cost of $7,309 to bring the total to nine.

Midland Rotarian Is Candidate For District Governor

A Midland Rotarian, Percy F. Bridgewater, will be proposed for nomination as governor of District 183, Rotary International, at its annual conference in Lubbock Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The Midland Rotary Club is sponsoring Bridgewater's nomination, and a delegation of Midland Rotarians will attend the Lubbock meeting to support the Midlander's candidacy. Lloyd A. Wicks of Ralls is the retiring district governor.

James N. Allison, club president; Dr. J. O. Shannon, president-elect, and the Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary-treasurer, will head the Midland group. Among others expected to attend the area gathering are W. Ily Pratt, Fred Wemple, John Wilkinson, Guy Breneman, Allen Wemple, Malcolm Breneman and Bridgewater. The wives of several of the delegates plan to accompany them to the conference.

Fred Wemple, a member of the Texas Highway Commission and a past district governor, and Allison are listed among the convention speakers.

The Midland club, at its last Thursday meeting, voted to support Odessa's bid for the 1952 conference.

The Rotary Clubs of Odessa, Big Spring and other area cities have endorsed Bridgewater's candidacy. Bridgewater is a past president of the Midland Rotary Club and long has been active in civic and service club affairs here. He is a former president of the Board of Education.

U. S. Sets New Price Yardstick

WASHINGTON (P)—The government Saturday night announced a "tough" new price control policy forbidding industries to raise prices if profits exceed a set standard.

Under this "yardstick" standard, no industry will be permitted to increase prices if the industry's dollar profits amount to 85 per cent or more of the average of its three best years during the four-year period 1946-49, inclusive.

The step was announced by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. It is one of a series designed to tighten inflation controls.

More Freezes In Works

In the works are a drastic revision of manufacturers' price ceilings and plans to clamp a freeze both on living-cost wage increases for labor and parity boosts for agriculture. The latter step would require legislation.

Johnston laid down the profit yardstick in an order to Price Director Michael V. DiSalle.

Officials said that, even though individual firms within an industry fall below the 85 per cent profit standard, they won't get consideration for higher price ceilings, except in "unusual hardship" cases.

"I want to emphasize that this is going to be a very tough policy," Johnston told reporters. "We will get a lot of squawks. It will mean that most cost increases will have to be absorbed."

The Defense Production Act requires that price ceilings must be "generally fair and equitable." Johnston's order fixes the 85 per cent industry-wide earnings standard as fulfilling that requirement.

He said the new standard is a "long-range policy," and will be effective immediately in those industries where dollars-and-cents price ceilings have been put into effect.

Midland Youth Is Regional Winner In Junior Declamation

LUBBOCK—Bill Robitsek of Midland Junior High School won first place in junior boys' declamation here Saturday in the Region I Interscholastic League contest.

Other Midlanders placing were: Charles Whitmore, second in senior boy's declamation; Royce Messers, second in boy's extemporaneous speech; Kathryn Carter, second in junior girls' declamation; Suzanne Young, fourth in feature writing (journalism).

Amarillo won the all-around AA Conference championship, which included both literary and track and field. Fort Stockton was first in Conference A and Canadian first in Conference B.

Truman Establishes Powerful Wage Board

WASHINGTON (P)—President Truman Saturday set up a new 18-member Wage Stabilization Board with powers to recommend settlement terms for most labor-management disputes.

The board is expected to start functioning this week after its members are named. George W. Taylor, University of Pennsylvania professor of industry, already has been designated chairman.

Push Places UN 10 Miles North Of '38'

TOKYO (P)—Allied troops and tanks rolled the main line northward up to five miles Saturday along a 30-mile front in the mountainous center of Red Korea.

But reinforced Chinese fought the Allies almost to a standstill before strategic Chorwon. The power-packed push in the center carried United Nations forces as much as 10 miles north of the 38th parallel.

There was token resistance in spots but elsewhere the Allies made no contact with the enemy.

The 30-mile front extended from the vicinity of Yonchon eastward to Hwachon at the west end of Hwachon Reservoir. Yonchon is six miles north of the 38th parallel; Hwachon is seven.

But the Reds, throwing in reinforcements, held the Allies to minor gains below heavily-defended Chorwon. At one point the Reds forced the Allies to withdraw.

Chorwon, a five-way highway and rail hub, is 18 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Allied artillery and planes broke up Communist efforts to reinforce battered units retreating before the UN advance in the center. North Koreans broke and fled in panic. Cut Reds To Pieces

Over at the eastern end of the 11-mile-long Hwachon Reservoir, big Allied guns cut to pieces Communist infantrymen trying to slip around the big lake.

Eighth Army headquarters estimated that 1255 Reds were killed or wounded in Saturday's ground action.

The central drive jumped off at dawn Saturday. Gains around Sechang put the Allied main line within about 10 miles of the big Red base at Kumhwa. Kumhwa, 20 miles north of the (Continued On Page Nine)

Dr. Campbell Found Guilty In Kidnaping

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(P)—Dr. Nancy Campbell, Santa Fe baby doctor, was convicted and sentenced Saturday to 10-15 years in prison as a kidnaper.

The 43-year-old woman doctor stood woodenly silent as the jury's verdict was read and again as District Judge Edwin L. Swope decreed prison instead of an asylum for her.

There never was any dispute about the kidnaping. The defense contended the brilliant physician was insane November 10 when she lured nine-year-old Linda Stamm from home and left a note demanding $20,000 ransom.

Linda's step-father, wealthy contractor Allan Stamm, notified the FBI. Dr. Campbell was trapped the night of November 11 as she reached for a dummy ransom package at the gate to the Stamm estate near Santa Fe. Linda was found in the doctor's car—drugged but unharmed.

Money to maintain her lavish $28,000 home was given as the motive. As the trial reached the climax (Continued on Page Nine)

Tex-Harvey Blaze Damage Is Estimated At Almost $100,000

Officials of the Tex-Harvey Oil Company reported Saturday that a three-hour blaze which swept one of its wells 15 miles southeast of the city had caused damages of almost $100,000.

A spokesman for the company said a survey of the damage at the No. 4-10 Floyd Estate had not been completed.

"But it probably will not exceed $100,000," he said. Most of the motors can be salvaged, the sub-structure was a total loss but the derrick itself was not damaged extensively.

The fire, apparently caused by a spark, broke out at 8:30 a.m. Friday and was extinguished at 11:45 a.m. with firemen from Midland and Odessa joining the fight. The fire broke out as workmen were preparing to complete the well. A new rig will be moved in for the completion within a few days, the company said.

Officers Quiz Man In Pistol Slaying Of Woman Merchant

WACO (P)—A 51-year-old woman antique dealer, member of a prominent Waco family, was shot to death in the kitchen of her home here Saturday.

She was Mrs. Evelyn McKie Williams, who died from a .38 caliber bullet wound in the heart. Police were questioning a 65-year-old man.

Mrs. Williams and her business partner, Walter B. Needham, had returned Saturday afternoon from San Angelo, where they had been attending an antique show.

Needham told police they had brought their jewelry and some baggage into the Williams' living room when the elderly man entered.

Needham said the man had been drinking. He quoted Mrs. Williams as saying to the man that she did not want him coming into the house "like that." The man grumbled something and left the room.

Needham called Mrs. Williams then went to the kitchen and shortly thereafter he heard her call: "Get my pistol; he is going to kill me."

Immediately, Needham told police, he heard a shot. The man attempted to follow Needham to a telephone in the house, but Needham slammed the door and held it. After failing to force the door, Needham related, the man said, "All right, I'll wait for you."

Needham called police and said he escaped the house through another door, passing Mrs. Williams' body as he ran.

He met police, who surrounded the house and captured the man as he attempted to dash out the back door. He had hidden his pistol, police said, on the rear of the lot, while Needham was calling police, and then returned.

Council Chairman To Attend Convention

Dr. James H. Harbin, chairman of the Texas Council of Governors, Lions International, will attend the District 2-T-2 convention here.

Former Policeman Gets Prison Term For Taking Bribe

HOUSTON—(AP)—A former police sergeant, C. C. Divine, Friday was sentenced to five years in prison for accepting a bribe.

Divine's wife fainted after a jury returned a verdict in district Judge Frank Willford's court.

When she revived, she walked over and struck a state witness — Mrs. Henry George — on the jaw.

Divine was charged with accepting a $100 bribe from Mrs. Clarice Gears, operator of a dine and dance place, on June 28.

Mrs. Gears testified she gave Divine a $100 bill as a weekly payment for the privilege of serving liquor to her customers after the legal closing hour.

Mrs. George testified she saw Divine sitting in a booth with Mrs. Gears in the establishment.

Defense Attorney Spurgeon E. Bill filed a motion for a new trial.

Welch Absolved Of Blame In New Mexico Slaying

LAS CRUCES, N. M.—(AP)—John Welch, held in Pecos, Texas, in connection with the killing of an East St. Louis soldier, has been cleared of any connection with the death of a Toledo, Ill. man last July.

State Police Capt. A. H. Hathaway said here the FBI had notified state police that Welch had no connection with the death of Foryst Dean Pinnell, 20, of Toledo, near Las Cruces last July.

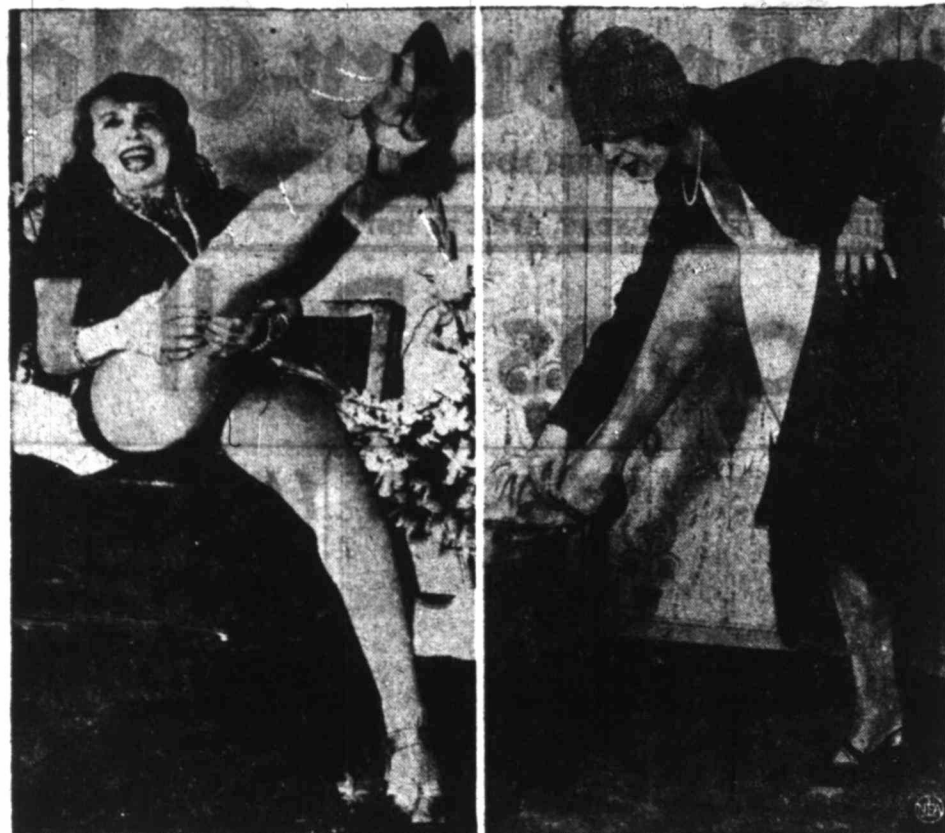

Welch is held in connection with the killing of Cpl. Dennis Miller near Toyah, Texas. The similarity between the two cases had led New Mexico officers to check the possibility that Welch might have been involved in the Pinnell case.

The Reeves County (Pecos) grand jury this week is to resume deliberations in Welch's case.

Step Up, Gal Drivers, And Take A Bow

By COPE ROUTH
Step right up, ladies, and meet your new champion.

He's Bertie A. Dunn, a nice looking 31-year-old man who probably knows more about the driving habits of Midland residents than anyone else in town.

"And the women drivers," said Dunn, "are certainly no worse than the men drivers."

"I would rate them about the same."

Now, Dunn ought to know what he's talking about.

He is the drivers license examiner for the Texas Department of Public Safety and during the last year and a half, he personally has observed the driving of almost 6,000 individuals in Midland, alone.

Above Average

There have been several thousand others in Andrews, Crane, Moghanah and Kermitt, where he goes regularly to give tests for drivers licenses.

"I have found this to be true of Midland drivers," he explained. "They are above average as drivers."

"Some of them fail, of course, to pass the tests but it's usually because they have failed to read properly the drivers handbook."

"And I guess their worst fault is failing to signal when they stop or make a turn. I think most of them know the proper signals but they just neglect to use them."

Dunn spends Thursday, Friday and Saturday of each week in Midland. On each of these days, he gives written examinations at 8 a.m. and tests at 9 a.m.

Both tests are important. A failure on either one will rule out the applicant.

Two Had Mishaps

"But they can come back the next day and try again," he explained. "Most of them do come back and pass the tests the next time. Some, however, have had to take the tests five or six times before passing."

"Some never pass."

During January, for instance, 458 persons took examinations.

Seventy-one of them failed the written tests and 78 failed to pass the driving tests.

Of those who failed on the outside tests, 38 flunked because of points deducted due to bad driving habits. Four failed to pass because of dangerous driving, 72 because of violation of traffic laws and two because of minor accidents.

"Those two accidents," he explained, "happened when the applicant tried to get into a parallel parking place."

During the first three days of each week, Dunn is traveling other parts of his territory.

On the first and third Monday he goes to Andrews. On the second and fourth Monday he is in Crane. Every Tuesday he is in Monahan and every Wednesday in Kermitt.

Judy's Double Isn't As Bad As Folks Back Home Think

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Gays and Dolls: Judy Holliday's understudy in the original Broadway production of "Born Yesterday" is whooping it up over Judy's Oscar award.

She's MGM's Jean Hagen and the studio's tagged her as a valuable property since she showed the Holliday spark as the mascara-dripping doll in John Huston's "The Asphalt Jungle."

Most of Jean's film roles have been on the bad-girl-with-heart-of-gold side and it's okay-dokay with her. But her mother back in Elkhart, Ind., is worried:

"She writes that I should ask the studio to give me nice girl roles. The neighbors see my pictures and say: 'Poor Jean, she's changed so. She was such a nice girl before she went to Hollywood.'"

Emmett Kelley, the dyed-in-the-wool circus clown, has joined the movie acting colony and makes his movie bow in "The Fat Man."

"It's a little too late in life for me to be a Barrymore," said-faced Emmett says, "I'm just trying to be my natural self."

The man who's made millions laugh as the circus "Weary Willie" began his career as a newspaper cartoonist. He's crowned as a circus star before Winston Churchill, Haile Selassie, King Alfonso of Spain and even Shirley Temple when she was a golden-haired moppet.

Lon Chaney was his idea of a star who could have been a tip-top clown and he picks Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Betty Hutton, Sir Laurence Olivier and Gregory Peck as stars who might click in the redoubled profession.

"Take Peck and lighten up his hair," Emmett suggests, "and he'd be a dandy rube character in the circus."

Joins Glamour Lobby

Hazel Brooks, the "Body" of 1949's "Body and Soul," is straining at the leash to join Ava Gardner, Florence Marly, Marlene Dietrich and Lisa Ferraday in Hollywood's back-to-exotic-glamour campaign.

Combing a wild head of hair with her fingers, Hazel announced:

"I still think that sex is better than popcorn."

Hazel's second chance may be just around a corner. There's a film test of her making the rounds—filmed by Josef von Sternberg for "Macao"—that's leaving male viewers bugged. Even Hazel admits:

"It's the most wicked looking test I've ever seen. And it's all done with my eyes."

Maybe Cary Grant won't sign the autograph books, but George Dzundza is scrawling his signature and saying "Thanks a million" besides.

After walking unrecognized on the Hollywood streets for years, he's now being thoroughly pestered by bobbysoyers with the release of the long-shelved "Vendetta."

He wanted it known that, at least, he's even a respectable breadwinner to his eldest son, Mickey, aged six.

"I took him to see the picture just to show him what I do for a living. He was being confused. He didn't know what to tell the teacher when she asked the class to describe their fathers' professions."

No Toga Roles

They'll never throw James Whitmore a toga and cast him in a "Quo Vadis" role.

He's as bow-legged as a retired cowboy and owns up to it.

"I have to get my pants cut a special way to get up," Jimmy confessed on the set of his latest, "Rain, Rain, Go Away." "It's not a picnic for my tailor, believe me."

Maybe the Whitmore stem don't measure up to Robert Taylor's, but he's zipping right along as a new star since "Battleground," "The Next Voice You Hear," and "Mrs. O'Malley and Mr. Malone." MGM even let him have an occasional whack at a supporting character role such as the hunchback he played in "Asphalt Jungle."

"It beats me why they haven't typed me," he sighed. "With this kisser of mine, it's a miracle."

A couple of months ago, word leaked out that nothing irked Jimmy more than well-meaning souls who gush, "My, my, you're the spittin' image of Spencer Tracy."

He says it's hokey. "I'm all for it. Tracy's the one who should regret it, not me. It would be presumptuous of me to get sore. Look, I'm glad to have a resemblance of any kind to an actor whose work I go down and admire."

Loretta Young's wise words to a group of young people in Minneapolis:

"Motion picture people aren't different from other people. Their circumstances are different. They have more material things, money and clothes. Whenever God gives people better circumstances, He also gives them more responsibilities."

Texas Highway Slaughter On Rise

AUSTIN—(AP)—Highway slaughter maintained its high rate in Texas last month. The Department of Public Safety Saturday reported 196 killed, compared with 175 in March a year ago.

This year's traffic fatalities toll soared to 541 compared with 498 in the first three months of 1950, a nine per cent increase.

Public safety experts estimated this year's final death figure will be 13 per cent above that of 1950.

Offers Of Hunting Dogs, Motor Fail To Budge Alert Officer

State Highway Patrolman Mac Stout is a man who likes his hunting and fishing.

"But duty, of course, comes first. Stout was returning to Midland Friday afternoon with a middle-aged Odessa oil man who had just been arrested for drunken driving.

"Do you like to fish, officer?" asked the prisoner.

"Yes, sir," answered Stout. "I sure do like to fish."

"Well, I tell you what I'll do," continued the Odessan. "I have a fine, brand new outboard motor. It's all yours if you won't take me in."

"I couldn't hardly do that, mister," the patrolman answered promptly.

They rode in silence for a few minutes.

"Say, officer," the prisoner finally said, "do you like to hunt?"

"One of my favorites," replied Stout.

"Hunting, mister," replied Stout, "is one of my favorite sports."

"Well, I tell you what I'll do," said the man. "I have two of the finest hunting dogs in West Texas. They're both yours if you'll turn me loose."

"Look, mister," responded the officer. "I'll tell you what I'm going to do if you don't shut up. I'm going to file on you for trying to bribe an officer."

The prisoner was quiet until he was brought before County Judge Clifford C. Keith.

He pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated, was fined $100 and his drivers license was suspended for six months.

New Colleges Okayed For Air Force ROTC

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Three more Texas colleges have been chosen by the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps units.

They are TCU, North Texas State at Denton and Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos.

The selections bring to 137 the number of institutions in the Air Force student training program.

Arthur MacArthur Sees First Major League Ball Game

NEW YORK—(AP)—Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur, who learned his baseball in Japan, saw his first major league ball game Saturday.

Accompanied by aides of his father, the youngster went to the Polo Grounds to see the Giants and Dodgers play.

Giants Manager Leo Durocher gave him a Giant cap, black with orange lettering; a player's jacket, black and gold-lined, and an infielder's glove.

Arthur took off the plum-colored jacket which he has worn since his arrival from Tokyo and donned the baseball jacket. It was a little big.

"He'll grow into it," Durocher said.

While the boy tried on the cap, Durocher added, "Can you play second base?" Arthur nodded assent.

Arthur was accompanied to the game by Col. Sidney Huff, an aide to General MacArthur, and Mrs. Huff and Lt. Col. Anthony Story, the general's pilot.

A&M Dedicates New Student Center

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—The two million dollar Memorial Student Center at Texas A&M College was dedicated Saturday "to those men of A&M who gave their lives in defense of our country."

Gold star families of A&M men were guests of honor at the ceremony. Five thousand persons attended.

The dedicatory address was given by Tyree Bell of Dallas, vice president of the Board of Directors, Mrs. E. P. Arneson of San Antonio spoke as a representative of the Gold Star Mothers and placed a wreath on the bronze plaque at the entrance of the building.

The plaque bears the names of 800 A&M battle victims, including that of Mrs. Arneson's son, E. P. Arneson, Jr., member of A&M's 1938 class, who was killed in World War II.

Shivers Signs New Hospital Tax Law

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers has signed into law a bill allowing counties to raise more money for hospital expansion and maintenance purposes.

The new law, effective immediately, increases from 20 to 50 cents on the $100 valuation the amount counties may levy for hospital improvements.

$148,850 in Permits For Homes Increase Total To $5,606,515

Building permits totaling $148,850 were issued during the week ended Saturday to bring the 1961 construction mark in Midland to $5,606,515. M. O. Wallingford was issued seven permits for as many residences, each $6,000, total $42,000, in the 1100 Block of East Pine Street. Some of the residences will be brick veneer, others frame, and some will be of tile and concrete. Size of each will be 42 by 26 feet.

G. O. Morrow received permits for two frame and pumice tile residences, each $11,000, total $22,000, at 2505 and 2507 West Kentucky Street. Size of each will be 24 by 26 feet.

A permit for a $15,000 frame and Austin Stone residence was issued to H. A. Chism. Size of the structure, to be located at 2605 Cuthbert Street, will be 26 by 65 feet. Midland Home Owners firm took out permits for 7 frame residences to be moved to locations on West Florida and West Dakota Streets. Each permit was for $1,600, total $11,200, and size of each will be 24 by 26 feet.

Miss Kellems Backs Texas Housewives In Anti-Tax Campaign

MARSHALL, TEXAS —(P)— Vivien Kellems, Connecticut woman industrialist, Saturday told a group of Marshall housewives they were right in their stand against collection of social security taxes from domestic employees.

Miss Kellems, widely known for her court fight against withholding federal income taxes from her employees' paychecks, addressed the Marshall group, which has threatened not to collect the tax from domestics.

"The law is neither social nor is it secure," Miss Kellems said. "There is no security until we return to the Constitution. Every dime of these funds has been used for government running expenses, and in their place are nice new government bonds. As payments are made under the Social Security Act, new taxes must be levied to pay them. This is dishonest, corrupt and immoral."

"You are exercising your constitutional right to petition the government, which has no power to force you to pay this tax."

"The housewives have wired Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson and Rep. Wright Patman that the Social Security Act is unconstitutional. They also have sent petitions to each member of Congress protesting forced collection of the taxes."

Capital Gains Tax Ruling On Livestock Sale Is Announced

WASHINGTON —(P)— Texans who sell dairy and breeding cattle, draft horses and other livestock stand to save substantial sums on their income taxes.

The Internal Revenue Bureau ruled Saturday that profit from such sales sometimes may be returned for capital gains taxes.

The Bureau before has insisted that income tax rates apply.

The capital gains tax is 25 percent. The income rates may be much higher, depending upon the size of the total income.

Instances where capital gains tax is "generally available" were indicated by Commissioner George J. Schoeneman.

"If the animal is used for draft or dairy purposes, and in the case of breeding animals, if it is the practice of the seller to keep such animals for substantially their useful life as breeders."

Schoeneman cautioned the new ruling "does not apply to animals raised just for sale" or to "animals which are used only temporarily as breeders and producers, including ordinary hogs, chickens and turkeys."

The application of capital gains treatment to dairy and breeding cattle and horses under some conditions results, he said, from a special provision of the revenue laws dealing with "property used in business."

13 Lions Clubs List Entertainers For Talent Show Sunday

Thirteen Lions clubs of District 2-T-2 have entered performers in the all-star talent show scheduled Sunday evening in Midland High School Auditorium.

The Midland Lions Club will present its famous International Convention Orchestra.

The Big Spring club will present "The Hawg Callers," a male quartet. This quartet won acclaim in a minstrel appearance in that city.

Sharon Fincher, acrobatic dancer, will perform on the program of the Fort Stockton club.

Lion Barney Wieland, who gives "Lady Impersonations," will represent the El Paso club.

From Wink will come an all-Lion quartet composed of Alf Edwards, Troy Warren, Jimmy Childs and Dave Kraft.

R. E. Durrett, Jr., singer, will be a presentation from the Odessa Lions Club.

"Meller-Drammer," "Little Nell and the City Slickers," will be presented by the McCamey club.

Larry Pierce, "blackface impersonationist," is the Terminal Lions Club's presentation.

The Seagraves club will present a quartet.

Guitar music and singing comes from Fort Hancock.

Kermit Lions will present Mrs. Henry Shaw, Jr., harpist.

The show will start at 8:30 p.m. Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies.

Prizes will be awarded for the best three performances, based on audience applause.

So You Want A Post Office Box? Brother, You're Not By Yourself

So you want a post office box? So do 1,000 or more other Midlanders.

The Midland Post Office has 1,392 boxes in use and could easily rent that many more.

Vacancies occur only occasionally and a box holder can hold his box as long as he pays the rent.

A half-dozen persons have post office boxes here but live elsewhere and have lived away from Midland for years.

"The post office is powerless to do anything about this so long as they pay box rent."

The out-of-city box holders say they keep the boxes in Midland to maintain legal residences here.

Midland's postmaster repeatedly has appealed to the Post Office Department for more boxes to be placed in, perhaps, a sub-office, Station A, on Marienfield Street does not have rental boxes.

"The scarcity of post offices boxes is a handicap to new businesses here. They have to get their mail by carrier delivery. And this is not always satisfactory."

Many oil men get their mail at their residences because no boxes can be obtained. This is a handicap to their operation, they say.

Then there are some Midlanders who have post office boxes they first rented years ago. They haven't a business but keep the post office boxes in order to get Sunday newspapers sent by mail.

Awarded On Merit
The post office awards boxes on merit when a vacancy occurs—not according to numerical listing of applications. Several hundred applications are on file and hundreds more have tried to rent boxes but failed to leave applications.

"We hate to turn anybody down," says Postmaster N. G. Oates. "But what can we do?"

Some Midland individuals and firms have had the same boxes for more than 20 years. Some had boxes in the old post office location in what now is the Leggett Building.

Several Midland firms receive so much mail that a box will not hold all of it. They call for it at the back door of the post office.

Most of the 1,392 boxes here are the small type.

What really irks the postal workers are those "cob-webbed" boxes held by the out-of-city people who want to maintain mailing residence here.

"We could really use those boxes and they could go to those really in need of them," Oates says.

"We have tried to show the postal department our urgent need for more boxes here," Oates said. "Midland's case is unusual, the city is growing so fast. We need boxes and need them badly."

Angered Over Situation
Disappointed box seekers often are angered over the situation. One man wrote the postal department. His complaint was referred to Midland. He didn't get far.

An oil man whose mail is delivered once a day to his residence had to make a rush trip to the field beyond San Angelo one day. He left town early to get the day's mail. When he returned home, he found a letter telling him about a matter he could have taken care of that day had he known about it.

So, he had to return to the field to do what the letter instructed.

There is only one consolation at the moment—those who want post office boxes are not alone.

Three Midlanders Invited To Attend Boy Scout Council

Seven West Texans, three of them Midlanders, have been invited to attend the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, meeting in Chicago May 25-26.

Official delegates from the Buffalo Trail Council include Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., G. W. Brennenman and George Abell, all of Midland; J. M. Waddell of Kermit; E. L. Kent of Wickett; Dr. W. B. Hardy of Big Spring, and H. Lyman Wren of Snyder.

The 41st National Council meeting will be held in the Stevens Hotel.

Midland and the Buffalo Trail Council have been represented at the last seven council sessions.

P. V. Thorson, executive of the Buffalo Trail Council, may attend the meeting.

Welcome, Lions!

The Lions will ROAR, then ROAR some more in Midland Sunday through Tuesday when District 2-T-2, Lions International, holds its annual convention here.

Midlanders also are joining in a community-wide effort to see that the stay of the visiting Lions and their ladies here is most enjoyable.

The convention is one of the largest and certainly one of the most important held here in recent years, and this city signally is honored at having the opportunity of entertaining it.

The Midland Lions Club has done a remarkable job in planning and arranging the district convocation. Nothing has been left undone to assure the success of the gathering.

Lions International, the world's largest service organization, whose motto is "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," long has been a telling force for good from community to international levels.

Right here in West Texas, in District 2-T-2, Lionism has been a wonderful influence for community growth, improvement and betterment.

It is good to have these community workers and boosters in our city. We wish for them continued success in their civic endeavors.

Welcome to Midland, Lions! The city is yours!

On Saturday nights, when you put too much into them the goblets will get you if you don't watch out.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: FBI still probing South Carolina H-bomb plant tip; Senator Lehman avoids fist fight with junior senator from Indiana; Acheson tosses small orchid to MacArthur at Oklahoma luncheon.

WASHINGTON—The politicians would rather close the case, but the FBI still is investigating a high South Carolina official in connection with land speculation at the hydrogen-bomb plant near Aiken, S. C.

Senator Lehman made this slip of the tongue, Jenner booted out of his seat as if he had been given the hotfoot, and bounded halfway across the Senate chamber.

There is a dramatic story behind the recent futile attempt of the Chinese to stop the advance of U. N. troops by opening the Hwachon Reservoir floodgates and sending a wall of water crashing down on Allied-held ground.

Senator Brown hastily formed his real estate syndicate and bought options on 2,000 acres on November 27—exactly one day before the Atomic Energy Commission announced the H-bomb plant would be built in that area.

Senator Brown has explained to the FBI he didn't make a penny on the options, that he merely was trying to help the community by interesting a big housing contractor to build 2,500 homes convenient to the H-bomb plant.

Only a few bystanders knew what was going on, but two senators almost got into a fist fight on the Senate floor the other day.

Lack Of Logic Distinguishes Great Debate Over MacArthur

By FETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Some of the stuff flying around on the MacArthur firing and the great debate over sending troops to Europe should rate prizes as classic examples of lack of logic.

When the MacArthur case came along, however, the general's defenders supported him in the idea that he be empowered to bomb Manchurian bases and order the Chinese Nationalists to launch an attack on Communist China.

When the MacArthur case came along, however, the general's critics maintained this certainly would provoke Soviet Russia into direct participation in the Korean mess, and thus start World War III.

Four or five months ago, when UN troops were being pushed back in Korea, there was considerable agitation in Congress for the United States to pull out. Victory was considered impossible.

When President Truman relieved the general of command, the cry went up that he should have been supported. By jerking the rug, it was claimed that the President was trying to appease the Communists and lose the Korean war.

When General MacArthur in effect defied the civilian head of government, however, many of the same people who had expressed concern over military control of government leaped to the general's support.

Questions and Answers

Where is the original manuscript of the "Book of Kells"?

A—In Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland. The Book of Kells is one of the most beautiful of all illuminated manuscripts. It was written in Latin by Irish monks sometime between the sixth and ninth centuries A. D. in a semi-unic script first developed under the guidance of St. Patrick in the fifth century.

Is it true that domesticated dogs are sometimes bred to wolves?

A—In rare instances this has been done, and as a rule only in the far North. There are certain tribes of Eskimos who are said to mate their dogs occasionally with wolves.

What is meant by the term "I.Q."?

A—The letters stand for "intelligence quotient," and denote the intelligence of a person in relation to the average for his age; that is to say, it is the person's mental age divided by his actual age.

Are watermelon seeds edible?

A—In Turkey fried watermelon seeds are eaten just like popcorn in this country. In the absence of watermelon seeds, the Turks will take cantaloupe seeds.

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG
COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: In order to save Rosalind from the electric chair, her lawyer and my (Jim Marshall's) boss, did some sleight of hand. Exposure of the necessary new to prove Rosalind innocent or Star will be discarded. But Rose has been murdered and there have been two attempts on my life. I'm now at the La Jolla club for two reasons. All Nanabarro, the proprietor, has been connected with the two men who murdered her.

She stared into my eyes, then her gaze shifted to the approaching barman. She shook her head. "No, Roy. It's all right. I'll take him out." She turned toward the entrance. I released my grip and followed her out silently.

"Are you being annoyed by the customer?" It was a rhetorical question calling for a stock answer, but Louise didn't give him a stock answer.

"Go take a running jump into the drink, Lou. This is a friend of mine. An OLD friend."

The character addressed as Lou looked somewhat startled, then he looked me over with interest. I could see him make up his mind that he didn't like the way my hair was parted or something. He shot Louise a glance, then turned and walked across to the draped doorway of Nanabarro's office.

Louise looked frightened. "I should have said that, Mac, Retbarro's connection with the old Rod LaGrange gang?"

She looked puzzled. "How would I know?"

"You grabbed her wrist and gripped it tightly."

"You know, all right. Tell me, when did you see Ted Delaney last?"

"I don't know any Ted Delaney. I let go of her wrist. I laughed my discouragement."

"JUST as I thought. Nanabarro sent you out with me. You were to get the information, not me. When his little plot to rub me tonight misfired he sent you out to come."

"Why would Nanabarro want to kill you?"

"I'd like to know all the answer to that one myself. You tell me, and I'll get Nanabarro out of your hair."

"I'm not worried about him."

"The heck you aren't! You wouldn't be here if you weren't. How did a kid like you, who looks smart, ever get messed up with a guy like Nanabarro—especially after the Frannie Martin thing?"

She dropped her guard. I could feel her wince.

"I was a stranger in town. I got here right afterwards. None of the girls or none of the help at the club was discussing it. Al was nice enough, and I thought he was a good thing. Later I found different."

"Give me the information I need, and I'll free you of Nanabarro. Why, for example, was Rod LaGrange at the Bidault place today? What did he want there?"

But she was too cagey; she clammed up, and I knew I had made a mistake, calling her game as soon as I had. I should have played dumb instead of just being dumb.

I started the motor and backed out of the lot. It was all over—I had muffed it.

She thought: "You fool, you've probably given her all the answers she wanted to know. Nanabarro was probably curious to know if I'd figured a tie-up between him and the LaGrange gang, and I certainly answered that one for her!"

Statesmen And Diplomats Agree Allied Unity Aided By MacArthur's Removal

By The Associated Press
Statesmen in most of the world's capitals and diplomats at the United Nations generally agreed the removal of General Douglas MacArthur strengthens Allied unity in the fight against Communist aggression. But all seemed agreed the dramatic ouster gave little hope for a quick peace in Korea.

These opinions were the main ones reflected in reports from Associated Press correspondents at posts in the United Nations, and capitals around the world. In Tokyo, MacArthur's former doubt, and in Turkey, where top diplomats remembered that the general was a close friend of the great Turkish leader, the late Kemal Ataturk, there were differences. At these two key posts the feeling runs high that the general's removal may cause even greater bitterness against

Congress Will Get View Of MacArthur, Truman Differences

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department announced Saturday it will present to Congress "an analysis of the basic differences which exist" between the joint chiefs of staff and Gen. Douglas MacArthur. The general told Congress Thursday he understood that "from a military standpoint" the joint chiefs had shared his views on taking stronger measures against Red China.

This was the second time the Defense Department has spoken out formally in the controversy between the general and the Truman Administration. On the first occasion, Thursday night, the department stated the joint chiefs of staff were among the President's civilian and military advisors who had unanimously recommended MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern commands.

Operations in the Far East are being carried out in accordance with the views of the joint chiefs of staff. These views will be fully explained to the appropriate congressional committees. An analysis of the basic differences which exist between the joint chiefs of staff and General MacArthur will be presented at that time.

Apparently in preparation for the testimony, the White House and Defense Department are making a detailed study of the huge file of messages exchanged between MacArthur and the joint chiefs.

The idea is to find out exactly what the records will show in forthcoming congressional hearings on the Truman-MacArthur debate over the conduct of the Korean war. Conclusions Indicated
Administration officials familiar with the study said Saturday two conclusions are unquestionably indicated by it:
First, the record will provide considerable support for MacArthur's contention that certain of his key views on what United Nations forces should do about Red China were shared by the joint chiefs "from a military standpoint."
Second, on the same critical issues the decisions of the joint chiefs—taking into account not only military but broad political and other considerations—did not support MacArthur but did support the President.

Body Of Drowning Victim Identified

GALVESTON — The body of a woman found ten months ago in the Gulf of Mexico has been identified.
Chief of Detectives John S. Fox said she was Mrs. Ruth Long of Los Angeles, sister of Louis A. Fisher, Cleveland, Ohio, attorney.
The woman, clad in a fur coat, was found floating in the Gulf near Stewart Beach June 8, 1950.
Fox said a postal card which Mrs. Long wrote her brother the day before she died finally led to identification.

Pooch Plays Golf While Master Burns

Fido golfed Saturday while his master burned.
And Midland police hoped they'd heard the last of it.
It all started at 7 a.m. Saturday when Fido led his tired but happy master into an all-night cafe and joined him in a corner booth.
"What will you have?" asked the waitress of the citizen, as the well-behaved dog sat there peacefully.
"Ask my dog," was the astonishing reply. "He's the one that's hungry. Eats here all the time. Ask him what he wants to eat."
The waitress protested. The cafe carried no bill of fare for dogs or any other kind of animals, she said. And the man protested, too, that his dog was as good as any human being and deserved the best.

Police Settle It
Police Officer Bill Keel, hastily summoned to the scene, settled matters for the time being by deciding that the man was a little worse for a hard night's wear, hauled him to headquarters, booked him for drunkenness and started to lead him to the jail.
Again the man protested.
"Where I go?" he haughtily informed the officer, "my dog goes."
No, ruled police, the dog was acting the perfect gentleman and in no way deserved such ignominious incarceration.
Fido was promised the best of care, so the citizen reluctantly staggered over to the jail cell, unhappy at being torn from his four-legged companion.

Relief Short-Lived
Four hours later, friends of the man had paid his fine and carried him home, much to the relief of police.
But the relief was short-lived, for five minutes later the man telephoned headquarters.
"My dog," he informed police, "is not at home."
He added that he doubted the dog had even been delivered.
Burning under the indirect accusation, police launched a city-wide search for the dog which had been entrusted to their care.
Two hours later, the police phone rang again.
"I found him," reported the man to Dispatcher Mary Gay.
"I found my dog. He was out at the country club all the time, playing a game of golf."
"He had a fine time, too."

Corsicana Rounds Up Gaming Devices

CORSICANA — Thousands of baseball pool tickets, many punchboards, numbers jars, slot machines, 21 cases of bay rum and other equipment were seized in a series of raids in this area early Saturday.
Three men were arrested on charges of "knowingly permitting gaming paraphernalia to remain on the premises under his control." They were Al Keenan, R. I. Harris, Sr., and Carlton Harris.
County, city and state officers cooperated in the raids. County Attorney Hal Bookout said the cases may be presented to the grand jury for action there, as well as the misdemeanor charges accepted Saturday by Justice of Peace W. H. Johnson.

Reserve Officers Complete Tests

Physical examinations of approximately 150 reserve officers of the Midland area were given recently at Midland Airpark by a team of regular Army doctors.
Forms filled with information as to education and background of the reserve officers also were completed. The physical examinations and completion of the forms were part of an overall program of the reserves to get up-to-date information to their officers.

Parents Urged To Fight Polio

AUSTIN — Leaders of the Texas fight against polio are moving against a prime objective—to convince parents that infantile paralysis is not inevitable and if it does strike, prompt reaction is priceless.
Chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the 26 Texas counties are proceeding with their slogan, "Fight Fear With Facts." They are recruiting school children and adults in every walk of life in a gigantic educational program.

While the strategy has been determined on the national level through NFIP, Texas leaders against the scourge that has struck so violently in this state for three consecutive years have their own proof of precautionary benefits.

One dramatic example concerns Mrs. Frank Green, wife of a farmer living near Groesby. When their son, Billy, was 10, he became ill. Mrs. Green took him to Houston and University Women, Mrs. Tommy Thompson, director of the Tracy Tot Art School, and R. E. Cronyn, artist in residence at the Palette Club.
The school having two or more works selected as most representative of the Permian Basin will win possession of the oil painting.

Casualties in Korea

WASHINGTON—Only two Texans were listed on the Department of Defense Korean casualty list No. 282, released Saturday.
Injured, Army: Sgt. Robert W. Cowart, Rusk.
Returned to duty, Army: Cpl. Marvin Christopher, Paris (previously missing in action).

Four-Power Deputies Remain In Deadlock

PARIS — The four-power deputies ended their seventh week of talks Saturday, still deadlocked in their efforts to draw up an agenda for the foreign ministers' conference.
"The parents will have to clinch this conquest."
"With their cooperation, children may be spared altogether or, if they are stricken, they may recover without crippling affects."

Midland Bankers Attend Lubbock Meet

Presentation Of Oil Painting Stirs Art Interest Of Students

The presentation of an original oil painting to the Midland public schools by M. C. Ulmer, president of the First National Bank, has encouraged art competition among the students of the five elementary schools.
The fifth grades at North, South, West, David Crockett, De Zavala, and Terminal Elementary Schools have completed paintings typical of the Permian Basin which will be submitted in a contest to determine which school will own the gift painting, "Texas Canyon Cliffs," by Victor Anderson.
Each school has submitted five paintings, and from the 30 pictures, seven winners will be picked by the judges, Mrs. Robert Clark, art director of the American Association of University Women, Mrs. Tommy Thompson, director of the Tracy Tot Art School, and R. E. Cronyn, artist in residence at the Palette Club.

Carpenter Dies Of Crash Injuries

SWEETWATER — George Sellers, 28, Wichita Falls carpenter, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday when his car overturned four miles east of here on Highway 80.

Upton Ellenburger Opener Is To Final

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 McKinley Ranch, Ellenburger discovery in Northwest Upton County, 18 miles northwest of Rankin, is flowing mud and oil to pits to clean before taking potential test.

Casing opposite the Ellenburger was perforated from 12,036 to 12,046 feet.

No. 1 McKinley tested extensively on perforations opposite the Pennsylvanian. Although that zone made considerable oil, operator decided it did not flow enough to warrant a dual completion on the Pennsylvanian with the Ellenburger.

The Sinclair project flowed as high as 3,300 barrels of 53-gravity oil per day on one drillstem test in the Ellenburger.

The project will be completed natural from the above formation. Location is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 129, block D, CC&SR&NG survey.

Total depth is at 12,420 feet.

oil in one hour through a five-eighths-inch choke.

Gravity of the oil is 46 degrees. Gas-oil ratio on the drillstem test was 950-1. No water was made.

The project flowed oil on two previous drillstem tests in the section between 5,600 and 6,882 feet.

Operator will make production tests, take potential and put on production.

Location is 656 feet from west and 779 feet from south lines of section 70, block 25, H&TC survey. That makes it two and one-half miles northeast of the Raincocks field and about the same distance south of the Von Roeder field.

Wildcat In Midland Finds Salt Water; Waiting On Orders

Jay Simmons and William R. Whitaker, Ltd., No. 1 J. W. Counties, North-Central Midland County wildcat, four miles southeast of the City of Midland developed salt water, with only a trace of oil from the Pennsylvanian section at 10,744-814 feet.

Operator was swabbing while waiting on orders at last report.

This prospect is located 2,600 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 20, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey.

It showed some signs of oil and gas in a drillstem test in the Pennsylvanian at 10,710-814 feet. The tool was open five and one-half hours.

It surfaced in 14 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the test was open.

Recovery was 630 feet of drilling fluid and 180 feet of heavily oil end gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water shown in the test.

Operators then cemented 6 1/2-inch casing at 10,744 feet. After the plug was drilled out the hole was conditioned to the total depth at 10,814 feet and the open hole zone was then washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The section was swabbed and it developed the salt water with only a trace of oil. No information was available Saturday as to what was to be done with the wildcat.

Unofficial reports during last week credited the No. 1 McKinley with having topped the reef at 7,735 feet. Elevation is 2,460 feet.

The venture penetrated to 7,760 feet and took a drillstem test at 7,735-60 feet. No fluid came to the top while the test was open.

The unofficial reports said the first stand of drill pipe pulled after the test was closed was filled with drilling mud. Oil was found in the top of the second stand and that oil started unloading.

Unloaded Oil.

The pipe was said to have been full of clean oil down to about five stands from the bottom. A considerable amount of that oil unloaded while the drill pipe was being pulled.

The last five stands of the pipe was filled with water. Some sources said the water was salty.

After all of the drill pipe had been pulled and the hole conditioned an electric log was taken.

Some observers report that the log showed the top of the reef to be at approximately 7,660 feet—instead of at 7,735 feet—as had been picked from the samples.

To Test Through Perforations.

There is no official verification of that report—or of any other available information on the wildcat.

It was understood that a string of casing was to be cemented on bottom so the pay section already drilled through can be tested. That testing would be through perforations.

Location is 2,173 feet from east and south lines of section 367, block 97, H&TC survey.

NE Borden Prospect Slated To Set Pipe And Test Reef Lime

Production tests are to be undertaken at a possible wildcat discovery in Northeast Borden County as soon as cement curing on casing which is to be run in the prospect.

That activity is to be undertaken early in the week at the Vickers Petroleum Company, Inc., No. 1 McKnight, located 13 miles northeast of Gall, and about two miles west of the Scurry County line.

The prospect is reported by unofficial sources to be bottomed at 7,700 feet in a Pennsylvanian lime.

No Official Reports.

No official reports on the development are available. Vickers representatives in this area are not releasing any information on any features of the wildcat.

Unofficial reports during last week credited the No. 1 McKnight with having topped the reef at 7,735 feet. Elevation is 2,460 feet.

The venture penetrated to 7,760 feet and took a drillstem test at 7,735-60 feet. No fluid came to the top while the test was open.

Location is 2,173 feet from east and south lines of section 367, block 97, H&TC survey.

Crockett Discovery Reports Completion

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-E J. W. Owens, two-mile southeast outpost to Pennsylvanian production in the Clara Couch multiple field in Central-West Crockett County, has been completed as a gas-distillate discovery.

The well made a potential of 50,000 cubic feet of gas per day and 16 barrels of distillate per million cubic feet of gas.

On a previous test through a 24/64-inch choke it made 6,610,000 cubic feet of gas daily and 1202 barrels of 62.3-gravity distillate per day.

Production is coming from perforations at 6,270-75 feet.

Operator drilled to a total depth of 6,773 feet in the Ellenburger and tested water in that formation. Then the project was plugged back to 6,292 feet in the Pennsylvanian.

Location is 1,653 feet from north and 2,312 feet from east lines of section 14, block GG. It is two miles south and slightly east of Cities Service No. 1-B Owens, which discovered Wolfcamp pay in the Clara Couch field in May, 1947.

C-N Dawson Tester To Try Completion In Siluro-Devonian

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Adcock, Central-North Dawson County wildcat, is preparing to plug back and test the Siluro-Devonian after developing sulphur water on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger.

Tool was open four hours on the drillstem test from 10,829 to 10,868 feet. Recovery was 1,908 feet of water blanket, 463 feet of mud and 5,468 feet of sulphur water.

No. 1 Adcock has already shown for a discovery from the Siluro-Devonian on a drillstem test at 10,584-10,647 feet.

The wildcat is 467 feet from south and 1,530 feet from west lines of section 146, block 34, D&E survey, T-7-N. It is four miles south of O'Donnell and about 14 miles northeast of Lamesa.

More Pay Section Assured In Borden Canyon Reef Opener

A calculated daily flow of 2,296 barrels of oil from a new section in the Pennsylvanian reef was reported at Shell Oil Company No. 2 Sterling, discovery from that formation in Southeast Borden County.

After drilling out plug on oil string set on top of the reef at 6,600 feet and deepening to 6,717 feet, operator took a drillstem test from 6,675 to 6,717 feet.

Tool was open one hour and six minutes. Gas was at the top in two minutes, mud in four and oil in six minutes. It flowed 92 barrels

Val Verde Tester Is Coring Deeper

R. J. Caraway of Dallas is coring below 11,319 feet in the Ellenburger in his No. 1 Guida Rose, Northeast Val Verde County gas discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

It topped the Ellenburger at 11,298 feet on a minus datum point of 9,322 feet.

The exploration is located 18 miles northeast of Juno and 35 miles southwest of Sonora. It is in the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2, GG&SP survey.

Midland Spraberry Test To Take DST

Los Nietos Company No. 1 Joe Youngblood is at total depth of 7,708 feet in the Spraberry conditioning hole to attempt another drillstem test with packer set at 7,830 feet.

Operator went into the hole with tool to test that section Friday, but the drill pipe developed a leak and the test was not completed.

A core at 7,995-7,708 feet recovered four feet of sand bleeding oil and three feet of shale. This prospect topped the Spraberry at 7,833 feet. Elevation is 2,807 feet.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 40, block 39, T-4-S, T&P survey.

That makes its six and one-half miles west of the opener of the Midkiff-Spraberry field.

Canyon Discoveries Set For Final Tests

Potential tests are slated for two Canyon reef discoveries in Kent County by Kewanee Oil Company.

The concern's No. 1-E Will, exploration in the southwest portion of the county, kicked off after swabbing and flowed 196.63 barrels of fluid in 11 hours. The fluid is coming from open hole in the reef between 7,085 feet and 7,360 feet.

After the above gauge, the project flowed 369.4 barrels of fluid in 23 hours, cut with 13 to 80 per cent sulphur water.

This exploration is three-quarters of a mile south and one mile west of the nearest completed oil well in the East Polar-Pennsylvanian field and 660 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 9, block 4, H&CN survey.

The same operator's No. 1 Olliver, assured as a new field opener on a long extender to the Salt Creek field in Northwest-Central Kent County, flowed 86.82 barrels of oil in three hours on a potential test from perforations opposite the Pennsylvanian reef from 6,380 to 6,772 feet.

Location is 690 feet from south

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

Pennsylvanian Oiler Is Added To Pegasus

Magnolia Petroleum Company has completed its No. 1 State-Roy Glass as the third Pennsylvanian producer in the Pegasus field of South-West Midland County.

The well flowed 24-hour through a 24/64-inch choke to make an initial production of 415.8 barrels of 47.9-gravity oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 958-1.

Production is coming from perforations at 10,490-10,530 feet. Plug back total depth is 10,835 feet. Perforations were acidized with 2,000 gallons.

Location of the new well is 690 feet from north and east lines of section 24, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey. It is a south offset to Murchison and others No. 1 Canon, Pennsylvanian producer.

C-E Upton Field To Get Two Explorers

Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked location for two Spraberry projects in the Benedum field of Central-East Upton County.

No. 2 First National Bank of San Angelo is to be drilled 660 feet from north and east lines of section 5, block Y, GC&SP survey and 12 miles northeast of Rankin.

The test is projected to 7,600 feet with rotary tools, beginning at once.

It is three-quarters of a mile north and slightly west of the same operator's No. 1 First National Bank of San Angelo, producer from the Fusselman section of the Silurian.

Humble spotted No. 2-B Rosa H. Barnett, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 39, block Y, T&P survey.

It will be drilled to 7,600 feet with rotary tools. Operations will begin at once.

Val Verde Tester Is Coring Deeper

R. J. Caraway of Dallas is coring below 11,319 feet in the Ellenburger in his No. 1 Guida Rose, Northeast Val Verde County gas discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

It topped the Ellenburger at 11,298 feet on a minus datum point of 9,322 feet.

The exploration is located 18 miles northeast of Juno and 35 miles southwest of Sonora. It is in the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2, GG&SP survey.

Snowden Adds Oiler To Midland Germania

James H. Snowden and associates No. 1-17 Paaken is a new producer in the Germania field of Northeast Midland County.

A daily flowing potential of 368.58 barrels of oil is credited to the oiler, which is located 1,890 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block 36, T&P survey, T-2-S.

Open hole section from 7,077 to 7,151 feet was hydraulized.

The 24-hour gauge was made on a one-half-inch choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 536-1. Gravity of the oil is 39.4 degrees.

Three Sites, Oiler Given Midland Field

Three new locations and one new producer have been added to the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

Frank and George Frankel staked the three new projects to be drilled with rotary tools to 8,000 feet, beginning at once.

Frankel No. 1-F L. E. and Jay H. Floyd is 680 feet from west and 661 feet from south lines of section 19, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey and 18 1/2 miles southeast of the City of Midland.

Southeast Of Midland.

Drillite for No. 8-A L. E. Floyd and others is 662.3 feet from north and 669.4 feet from east lines of southwest quarter of section 2, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey and 15 1/4 miles southeast of Midland.

Location for Frankel No. 9-A L. E. Floyd and others is 669.4 feet from west and 662.1 feet from north lines of southwest quarter of section 2, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Joel Rosenthal No. 1-13 Floyd estate is a new producer in the Tex-Harvey field.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 7/16-inch choke to make an initial production of 296.11 barrels of 37.7-gravity oil. No water was present.

Good Gas-Oil Ratio.

Gas-oil ratio was 955-1. There was a packer on the casing and tubing pressure was 120 pounds.

Production was natural from open hole between 6,860 feet and total depth of 7,060 feet.

Location is 663.7 feet from south and 659.5 feet from east lines of lease in section 13, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Work Started On Midland Basin Pipe Line System

Permian Pete

By Littlejohn

Carrier To Serve Midland, Reagan, Upton, Glasscock

Construction has started on a new and major pipe line project to serve the Spraberry oil areas of Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton Counties. It will represent an immediate expenditure of approximately $1,250,000. The work will be completed as soon as possible.

The new construction is a joint activity of the Tex-Harvey Pipe Line Company, the Tex-Harvey Oil Company and the Ashland Oil Purchasing Company.

Included in the new construction will be 63 miles of main line of 10-, 8- and 6-inch pipe and in excess of 40 miles of 6- and 4-inch gathering lines.

More Main Line
The project includes the laying of 15 miles of 10-inch main line from the Basin Pipe Line System's main line station in East Midland to the Tex-Harvey Pipe Line Company's pump station in the Tex-Harvey oil field, in Central-East Midland County.

In addition 38 miles of other main line will be laid. When the new lines are laid and put in use the joint operation of Ashland and Tex-Harvey will be able to move 65,000 barrels of oil per day from the various Spraberry producing fields in the Midland Basin to the Basin System's main line station in Midland.

The joint operators are now moving an average of 11,000 barrels of oil per day from the Tex-Harvey field to Midland through the 8- and 6-inch main line they now have in operation.

Will Increase Capacity
Top capacity of that line is 15,000 barrels per day. The new facilities will add 50,000 per day more oil moving capacity to the petroleum transporting operations of this immediate area.

Executives of the Ashland-Tex-Harvey operations expect to have all the new lines in service in a few months.

The new 10-inch line will loop, or parallel, the present 8- and 6-inch line now in operation between the basin and the Tex-Harvey stations.

From the Tex-Harvey field station two prongs of new main line will be laid to serve new Spraberry reservoirs.

A line to the south will extend eight miles south to the southeast corner of section 14, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey. That line will be 10-inch pipe. A pump station will be built in the Southeast corner of section 14, which will be called the Driver station. It is in Southeast Midland County.

It will handle oil from the Driver-Spraberry area.

To Four-Corner Area
From the Driver station southward nine miles of 8-inch line will be laid to the southwest corner of section 7, block 37, T-5-S, T&P survey, which is also in Southeast Midland County.

The Braden pump station will be erected at that location. It will serve the Weiner-Floyd-Braden area which is located at the common corner of Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton Counties.

Ashland Operations Are Being Expanded In Midland Basin

Ashland Oil & Refining Company and its affiliated organization, Ashland Oil Purchasing Company are rapidly expanding their operations in the Midland Basin area.

John Crawford, an executive of the Ashland organizations moved to this city recently from Oklahoma City, and is temporarily located at the Crawford Hotel.

He is in charge of all of the operations of the Ashland companies in this territory.

In Temporary Offices
John B. Anderson, production superintendent, and Sam Weir, pipe line superintendent, have temporary offices at 407-A North Big Spring Street.

All of the Ashland work in Midland will be handled out of new offices to be set up in the McClinette Building as soon as the additions to that structure are completed.

Ashland Oil & Refining Company is now drilling, either entirely on its own, or in partnership with other operators, eight explorations in the Spraberry areas of the Midland Basin.

The concern has at least 150 locations in the Spraberry Trend regions of Martin, Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton Counties. Officials of the concern think most of those locations will produce oil when drilled.

Ashland is also acquiring other leases in the Permian Basin.

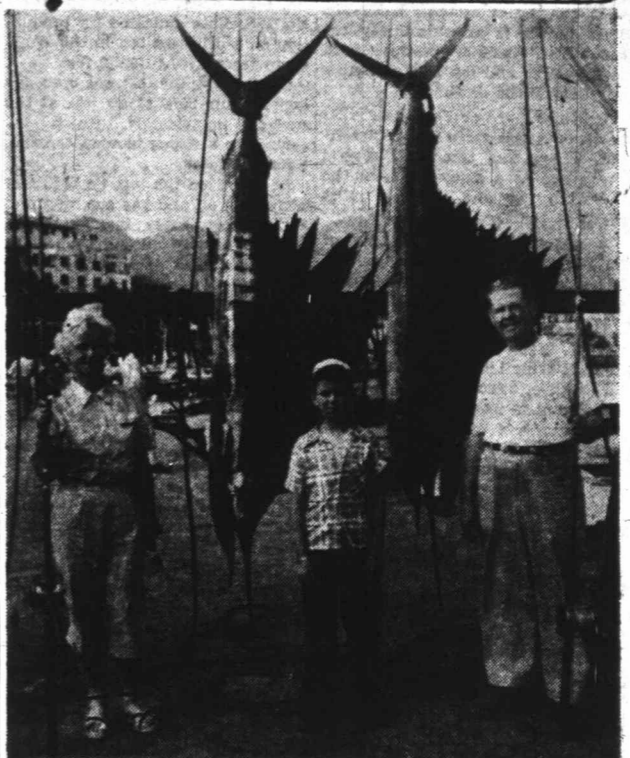

Interested In Pipe Line
The concern is one of the owners and operators of the Tex-Harvey Pipe Line Company. The other owner of that line is the Tex-Harvey Oil Company.

Ashland and Tex-Harvey are now engaged in a major expansion program of their oil gathering and transporting facilities in the Tex-Harvey oil field and others in Spraberry producing areas in this territory.

Ashland also plans to speed up its drilling program and the development of its leases in this sector in the near future.

The concern is now preparing to install its own radio communication system between all of its field operations and the Midland office. The radio system will tie in the Ashland drilling, producing and pipe line activities in West Texas with the Midland division headquarters.

MIDLANDERS AND SAILFISH CATCH—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. VanAlstyne and son, Clayton, are pictured on the beach at Acapulco, Mexico, with the giant sailfish they caught while taking a few days off for fishing from a recent Mexico vacation trip. The big fish weighed 98 pounds and the "small" one 96 pounds. "Best vacation we ever had" was the comment of the Midland oil man. Clayton is a student in the West Elementary School.

Midland Is In Lead In Permian Basin's Oil Drilling Activity

Midland County again leads the list of active rotary drilling rigs in the Permian Basin with a total of 77 operations.

Reed Roller Bit Company's survey for the two-week period ending April 15 reported 612 rigs as compared to 535 for April 15, 1950. There were 592 active rotary rigs in the basin on April 1, 1951.

Ector County has 62 rigs and Scurry County has 57. There were 45 operations in Upton County and 37 in Borden.

Terry has 20, Kent 15, Glasscock 12, Howard 10, Reagan six and

1951 Drilling Total Lags Behind Last Year

AUSTIN — (AP) — Drillers completed 199 oil wells last week, but the 1951 total lagged behind last year's comparable figure, 3,094 to 3,108.

Gas well completions numbered 19 and still were ahead of the year-ago total, 289 to 212.

Wildcat operators found fine productive oil wells, 11 gassers and 46 dry holes.

Plugged wells included 89 dry ones, five gassers, and 50 oil wells. The average calendar day crude oil allowable increased 9,272 barrels during the week and stood at 2,934, 854 Saturday.

Martin four active rotary drilling rigs.

Chourney Goes To Wyoming To Open Office For Wilshire

Ray Chourney has gone to Casper, Wyo., to open a district geological office for The Wilshire Oil Company.

Chourney resigned a position as an area geologist in the division office of Union Oil Company of California in Midland to take the job with Wilshire.

He had been in Midland about a year, having been transferred here from Casper.

Before coming to this city he had lived and worked in Casper and other Rocky Mountain oil areas for several years. He had been employed by Pacific Western Oil Company and by Union of California in his work in the Rocky Mountains.

The office Chourney is to open and operate at Casper is to be under the supervision of Wilshire's division headquarters in Midland which is managed by Frank W. Lake of this city, who is a vice president of the concern.

Open House Is Held In New Allen Building

Open house was held Friday by the 17 new tenants of the recently completed Allen Building at the corner of Big Spring and Texas Streets in Midland.

Hundreds of interested visitors moved through the offices of the one-floor structure, Midland's newest office building.

Among the firms with office space in the building are E. E. Fogelson & Edwin W. Pauley, Seminole Oil & Gas Corporation, Peeler Brothers, Standard-Fryer Drilling Company, Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company, Hayfor & Graham, Porter Rankin, F. L. Thompson & J. W. Hunt.

L. H. J. Harper & Clark Baker, Sivalis & Bryson, Carlton Beal and Associates, Carr & Daniel, C. O. Torgeson, Wm. H. Rhodes, Gaylor & Bishop and Perkins, German, Mims and Bell.

BS&B Adds Three Men To Sales Staff

Black, Sivalis & Bryson, Inc., Magnolia, Ark., have added two new sales representatives to their staff in the Permian Basin.

Ray D. Canada, former sub-branch manager for that concern has been transferred to the company's branch at Snyder in the capacity of field salesman.

Canada joined the company's sales force at Kilgore in 1947, after 12 years of service in the U. S. Army where he held the rank of major. He has a thorough knowledge of oil field equipment and a wide acquaintance among operators throughout the Southwest.

R. B. Francis Mallett has recently been employed by Black, Sivalis and Bryson, Inc., and will serve in the capacity of sales and service representative at their Hobbs, N. M. branch.

Mallett is a native of Arkansas and studied engineering at Arkansas Tech, Russellville, and Newark College of Engineering, Newark, N. J. He is married and a veteran of the U. S. Army Air Corps.

Lloyd M. Petrie, Jr., recently joined the engineering staff of the company in the capacity of chemical engineer.

He has been assigned to the Odessa branch where he will serve as sales and service representative. Petrie comes from the Oklahoma A&M College, is married, and saw service with both the U. S. Navy and the Marine Corps. He is a native of Oklahoma.

Forest Schedules Devonian Tester For NE Lea Sector

HOBBS, N. M.—Forest Oil Corporation is to start drilling operations in the future on a 12,500-foot Devonian wildcat in Northeast Lea County.

The project will be the concern of No. 1 H. L. Lowe, at the center of the southwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 25-13a-37e. That makes it about midway between the Gladolia multiphase field to the north and the Denton multiphase field to the south.

It is also seven and one-half miles north of Ralph Lowe No. 1 Dickinson, which was completed several weeks ago as a discovery from the Devonian two and one-half miles north of the Denton field.

It will be drilled on a spread of 1,250 acres of scattered leases which Forest recently acquired from Lowe.

Yates Discovery
Spartan Drilling Company No. 1 Turner, Yates sand discovery in Central-West Lea County, is at total depth of 3,338 feet balling oil at the rate of 25 barrels of oil per day.

Operator will shoot the open hole with nitro glycerin and run casing and complete the prospector as a new field opener.

The Yates was topped at 3,214 feet and pay was found at 2,270 feet.

No. 1 Turner is 1,980 feet from north and 690 feet from west lines of section 13-20a-33e.

The Ohio Oil Company staked location for its No. 1 Carruth-Federal 1,980 feet from north and 690 feet from east lines of section 24-9a-37e in extreme Northeast Lea County.

The venture will be drilled at a 12,500-foot wildcat to test through the Devonian.

Drillite is seven miles east of the Crossroads-Devonian field. Eddy Wildcats

Two more shallow wildcats have started drilling in Eddy County.

Lubbock Machine Company No. 1 Cockerham, 330 feet from north and east lines of section 34-18a-26e, is drilling below 55 feet. It is to go to a possible bottom of 2,700 feet.

Location is in extreme Central-South Eddy.

Welch & Yates No. 1 Welch, an 825-foot wildcat in Central Eddy County, is at total depth of 426 feet in time waiting for cement to cure on intermediate string.

Drillite is 1,850 feet from south and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 5-21a-27e.

Saunders Field
Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-3C State, located in the east edge of the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County, has been completed as a Pennsylvania producer for a daily flowing potential of 1,134 barrels of oil per day.

Production is coming from perforations in casing from 9,858 to 8,890 feet. They had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Tentative top of the Pennsylvania is at 9,400 feet. The 24-hour potential test was made through 24 64-inch tubing choke. Gravity of the oil is 42 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,375-1.

Hole is at plugged back total depth of 9,910 feet. Pay was topped at 9,550 feet.

Production is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 3-15a-33e.

Another Oil
The Texas Company No. 1-AQ State has been finished as a one-location southwest stepout to the Saunders field.

Operator reported a 24-hour potential of 1,152 barrels of 43.4-gravity oil, which flowed through a choke of unreported size from casing perforations at 9,870 to 9,895 feet.

The perforations were washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Pay was topped at 9,780 feet. Hole is at plugged back total depth of 9,890 feet. The Pennsylvania was topped at 9,903 feet.

Location is 2,270 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 3-15a-33e.

Approximately one mile southwest of The Texas Company No. 1-AN State, recently completed as a two-mile extension to the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County, the same operator's No. 1-S State is at total depth of 9,950 feet making production tests.

Oil Water
The assured Pennsylvania producer, made three gauges through perforations at 9,940-50 feet. In five hours the well made 42 barrels of fluid which was 75 per cent oil.

Another test, which lasted eight hours, made 42 barrels of fluid, 50 per cent oil. The third test lasted eight hours. It flowed 28 barrels of fluid during that time. The fluid was 50 per cent oil.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 28-14a-33e. Three locations south of Texaco No. 1-AN State, the same operator's No. 1-R State indicated for production on a drillstem test in the Wolfcamp from 9,780 to 9,773 feet.

On the test, the tool was open one hour. A fair blow of air was at the surface immediately, which increased to a strong blow at the end. Sulphur Water Recovery on the test was 550 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud and a 2,000-foot water blanket which was very heavily oil and gas cut.

The test also developed 480 feet of sulphur water.

Drillite is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 27-14a-33e. The Wolfcamp was topped at 9,160 feet on a datum of minus 4,949 feet. The project is now at total depth of 9,923 feet taking a drillstem test.

There is only one Wolfcamp producer in the Saunders field.

New Deviants
One location south and west of production in the Saunders field. Amerada Petroleum Corporation staked location for its No. 3-SP State, which will be drilled to test the Devonian pool of the field.

Drillite is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 3-15a-33e. Cellar and pits are being dug.

Amerada No. 3-BTC State has been finished as a Devonian oil from total depth of 10,965 feet in the Bagley-Highwater field of Northwest Lea County.

The producer rated a daily potential flow of 2,112 barrels of 46-gravity oil per day. Gas-oil ratio was 32-1. The potential test was made on a one-half-inch choke.

Production is from open hole at 10,985-10,965 feet. Pay was topped at 10,780 feet. The open hole section was treated with 500 gallons of acid.

SPLC Is Slated To Build New Line To Saunders Oil Field

Service Pipe Line Company has mailed specifications to prospective bidders for the laying of 13 miles of eight-inch line and about two miles of four-inch line in Lea County, N. M.

The proposed line would provide a transportation outlet for producers in the Saunders pool where four wells have been completed and five others are reported in the pay and nearing completion.

The company's New Mexico facilities are under the supervision of West Texas Division Manager C. E. Wilson, Lubbock. Oil from the Saunders field would enter Service Pipe Line's Caprock-Slaughter line at Bagtown station.

Vaughn and Taylor Construction Company, Wichita Falls, has started construction of about 17 miles of crude oil gathering pipe lines in the Talpa area to serve the Ogdan-Mabee, Burt and Saxon fields of Runnels and Coleman Counties for Service Pipe Line Company.

The sweet crude oil gathered by SPLC for producers in the area will be transported to Humble Pipe Line Company's Ballinger station thence via Humble Pipe Line to the company's pump station at Ranger for delivery to refineries.

Vaughn and Taylor will lay 13 miles of four-inch, three miles of six-inch and a mile of three-inch pipe. The job is expected to be completed this month, according to F. M. Willenbrg, Fort Worth, manager of Service Pipe Line's Central and East Texas division.

New Legal Firm Is Formed In Midland

Announcement has been made of the organization of a new law firm in Midland. The firm is composed of Col. John Perkins, W. P. Z. German, Jr., Joseph H. Mims and Kelly Bell, with Hal J. Rucker as an associate.

Offices are in the Allen Building at the corner of Big Spring and Texas Avenue.

Col. John Perkins has practiced in Midland since 1935 and throughout the West Texas area for approximately 30 years, during that time he has represented a number of the oil companies and other operators in this area.

German has practiced in Midland since 1938 except for four years on active duty in the United States Army and a period of two years during which he was associated with the legal department of the Skelly Oil Company in Tulsa.

Mims has just concluded four terms as county attorney of Midland County and is well known in the field of real estate and mortgage law.

Bell recently moved to Midland from Nacogdoches where he was a member of the firm of Bell and Reaver. Prior to practicing in Nacogdoches, he was associated with the firm of Vinson, Elkins, Weems and Francis in Houston.

Rucker was licensed to practice before the Kentucky Bar in 1949. After moving to Midland he was connected with the land department of Shell Oil Company for a short time.

In announcing the organization of the firm, the members expressed the view that it is in keeping with the growth of Midland as the oil capital of the Southwest, that the services of a new firm be made available to the oil industry, as well as to other businessmen and the general public in this area.

wildcat in extreme Central-West Roosevelt County, is drilling below 6,419 feet.

Lea Wildcat
Sharples Oil Corporation of Midland and Denver No. 1 Seth Alston, North-Central Lea County wildcat, is drilling below 13,003 feet in lime. A drillstem test in that formation from 12,740 to 12,825 feet, with tool open three hours, developed 840 feet of mud cut with 47.4-gravity oil.

Gas was at the surface in 44 minutes at the rate of 209,000 cubic feet per day. Total recovery was a 2,000-foot water blanket heavily gas cut and the 540 feet of mud cut with oil.

Location is at the center of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 17-13a-35e.

H. S. Moss of Dallas No. 1 State, wildcat in Northwest Lea County, is drilling below 11,277 feet in an unidentified formation.

No Oil Shows
Operator plans to drill a few more feet and if no production is encountered the prospector will be plugged and abandoned.

None of the upper formations showed any signs of commercial production.

Drillite is at the center of the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 3-11a-33e.

Harold T. Kelly No. 1 Quillen, wildcat in Northwest Eddy County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 4,284 feet in an unidentified lime.

Only sulphur water was made in a drillstem test from 4,100 to 4,008 feet.

The failure is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 12-19a-31e.

Project Plugged
Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 USA West Monument, Central Lea County wildcat, has been abandoned as a failure on total depth of 4,542 feet.

The formation the project quit in was not identified.

Phillips Wins First Round In FPC's Current Inquiry Of Natural Gas Operations

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—First round in the current Federal Power Commission inquiry into natural gas operations of the Phillips Petroleum Company, went to Phillips this week in a decision of the commission.

A four to one finding of the commission agreed to limit issues in the study, which began in Bartlesville April 8, to the question of whether Phillips is a natural gas company.

The question of whether Phillips' rates are fair is not to be taken up. The case, which may set the precedent for or against government action to control wellhead gas prices for independent producers who sell to interstate pipe lines, also is related intimately to issues in the congressional fight over the Kerr-Harris natural gas bill.

If the commission agrees it has jurisdiction it then may begin controlling wellhead prices of independent producers for the first time; presumably, it would move in on other producers than Phillips later. If the commission finds otherwise, it may drop efforts to take control of such sales.

Long Court Tear
While the new finding of the commission means speedier commission decision in the jurisdiction issue, the prospects are for years ahead before a final settlement. A tour through the courts, up to the Supreme Court, is probable before independent producers know just what the final verdict is on this issue.

The new decision also means the commission probably will fall to investigate the justice of Phillips (Continued on Page Nine)

Western Geophysical Opens Headquarter Offices In Midland

The Western Geophysical Company of America Saturday announced the opening of its new district headquarters at 2400 West Indiana Street in Midland.

Headquartered here will be two supervising geophysicists, George J. Shoup and Fred J. Di Giulio, both of whom are well-known in the petroleum industry. The Midland office will have charge of geophysical surveys in the West Texas and New Mexico areas.

The company was organized in 1933 by Henry Salvatori, now president of the firm, to furnish to oil operators a complete seismic exploration service. In the meantime, the company has grown rapidly, and now is said to be the largest firm of its kind.

During the last 17 years it has contributed to the improvement of seismological equipment and technique; has been responsible for many of the methods which now are standard practice in the industry; and through its affiliate, Western Geophysical Company International, scattered foreign areas.

Salvatori is sole owner of the Western Geophysical Company of America. At present, the firm has 40 fully equipped seismograph and gravity meter crews conducting surveys in the United States, Canada, Europe and South America. General headquarters of both domestic and foreign companies are in Los Angeles, Calif., with district and division offices serving all of the oil provinces of the United States and several foreign countries.

The Midland office is a part of the division, headed by Booth B. Strange, vice president, Shreveport, La. He has charge of all Western Geophysical operations in the Mid-Continent, Gulf Coast and Eastern States.

The Midland personnel further will include W. T. Ross, recording instrument supervisor; J. H. Frazier, shop superintendent; and D. F. King, drilling supervisor.

In addition to the administrative offices, the Midland headquarters will include shops, which will be devoted to the design and construction of specific items of field equipment, as well as the technical servicing of geophysical units.

Geophysicists May Form Mining Section

The increasing use of geophysics as a tool in the search for essential metallic ores has led the Society of Exploration Geophysicists to consider the organization of a mining section, according to Dr. Sigmund Hammer, director of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists, Pittsburgh, Pa., vice president of the society.

Mining scientists have been invited to attend a conference to be held April 23 during the society's annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo.

Although the SEG was organized in 1930 as a scientific group devoted mainly to promotion of geophysics in oil exploration, many of the methods developed during the following years have been used also by mining scientists seeking new metallic ore deposits.

Dr. Hammer stated that a mining geophysics section within the society would provide a better opportunity for oil and mining geophysicists to exchange ideas and thus aid in the development of more efficient techniques in both industries.

Landmen Will Meet In Midland April 30

The Permian Basin Landman's Association will meet April 30 at Ranchland Hills Country Club in Midland.

J. H. (Jerry) Bartley, Midland consulting geologist, will talk on reef formations and the Spraberry sand.

Bartley, a graduate of the University of Texas, formerly was associated with University Lands in Midland.

Reservations are to be made in advance by calling or writing W. P. Duncan, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Cost for each ticket is $1.75. Members are to contact Duncan at Magnolia Petroleum Company or by writing to him through post office box 663, Midland.

Advertise or be forgotten.

Dowell Opens New Operating Station In San Juan Basin

Dowell, Inc., has opened a new operating station in Asteo, San Juan County, N. M. It is under the direction of the Dowell district office in Midland.

Harry A. Riggs, Dowell sales engineer from Seminole, Okla., has been transferred to Asteo. He is a graduate in petroleum engineering from the University of Tulsa and has been with the company since 1948.

Riggs attended East Texas State Teachers College while in the U. S. Army and is a graduate of Tulsa Central High School.

Other personnel in the Asteo station will include Floyd Bushwar, G. E. Cole and R. A. Duncan.

This new station has been established to offer fast, complete and readily available acidizing, electric pilot and perforating services to operators in the San Juan Basin area.

Wishire Adds New Petroleum Engineer

O. H. Berry is a new petroleum engineer in the Midland district office of The Wishire Oil Company. He came here recently from Houston where he had been employed by Standard Oil Company of Texas on a petroleum engineering assignment in the Gulf Coast oil field.

NE Upton Wildcat To Test Devonian

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 V. P. Tippet, Northeast Upton County wildcat, is preparing to plug back to some point in the Devonian and test that section. It had a slight show of gas in one zone in the Devonian.

The project was drilled to a total depth of 12,964 feet in the Ellenburger. That zone had no shows of production and made only water.

It is 15 miles north and slightly east of the Benedum field; 14 miles east and slightly south of the Pegasus field and 660 feet from north and 1,989 feet from west lines of section 20, block 38, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Field Project Fails In E-C Coke Sector

Union Oil Company No. 7 Jim McCutchen, in the McCutchen, West (Claco) field in East-Central Coke County, has been plugged and abandoned at 4,080 feet in sand.

Location was 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 444, block 1-A, H&T-C survey. The No. 7 McCutchen is the third failure in the two-well field.

NW Mitchell Floy Has Been Checked

Reports which have been current for the past several days that a wildcat oil well in Northwest Mitchell County had made a large flow of oil have been checked.

The rumored flow was at the Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Dunn, which was completed in October 1949 as a producer from the Pennsylvania lime for about 500 barrels of oil per day.

After the completion the well was produced for a time and it went to 99 per cent salt water and was making very little oil.

Operator stopped trying to produce the well about eight months ago and ordered it temporarily abandoned. The casing was left in the hole and a control head was left on the pipe.

Standard of Texas representatives report that some unknown, unauthorized person, or persons, recently went to the well and opened the control head.

When that was done the well kicked out a strong stream of fluid for a short period. Some of that fluid was oil, which had accumulated during the eight months the project had been shut in. The rest of the fluid was salt water.

Standard of Texas officials say that they are checking the well now to see if there has been any decrease in the water. They do not think it will be possible to re-complete the well as a commercial producer.

SE Castro Explorer Is To Be Abandoned

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation, Forest Oil Corporation and Stalling Oil & Gas Company are planning to abandon their No. 1 Fowler-McDaniel, wildcat in Southeast Castro County, at a total depth of 9,650 feet.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—

Refineries' Processing Capacity May Surpass 7,000,000 Barrels Daily

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON—Processing capacity of the nation's oil refineries should soon exceed the 7,000,000 barrels a day mark with ease this year.

An American Petroleum Institute survey lists 204,400 barrels of new refinery capacity planned this year.

Most, if not all, projects approved by the Petroleum Administration for Defense were not included in the survey.

This 204,400 barrels alone would give the nation a December 31 capacity of 7,061,250 barrels a day, compared to a year earlier 6,856,850. Neither figure includes an additional 126,200 barrels of shutdown capacity the API survey indicates would require major repairs before being restored to operation.

There has been no indication as to how much the recently PAD-approved projects would add to plant output this year or next.

PAD officials, however, in recent weeks have been hammering at the necessity of boosting basic refinery capacity sharply.

Completion this year of some of the unannounced PAD approved projects could reduce materially the amount that would have to be made up next year if Brown's schedule is carried out.

But PAD does not want the expansion program to end with 1952. Brown said United States capacity by the end of 1953 should exceed that of last December by more than 1,000,000 barrels. By the end of 1956, he said, it should be 1,600,000 barrels a day higher.

Basic Refining Capacity
PAD therefore hopes to see the nation start 1957 with a basic refinery capacity approximately 8,500,000 barrels daily.

Most of the projects included in API's new survey involve refineries in Texas, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

Texas projects totaling 56,150 barrels a day would bring the state's capacity by next January to 1,884,500 barrels a day. Only 3,400 barrels of new capacity were listed for California, the second ranking oil refinery state, which completed 1950 with an estimated 1,176,800 barrels a day rating.

New projects for the Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky region approximate 65,650 barrels daily. Such improvements would boost the area's capacity 1,291,800.

Texas also was listed as having 73,100 barrels of the 126,200 nationwide total of shutdown capacity that would require major repairs before being placed in use again. California had only 9,800.

Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri had a total of 19,250, while Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky had 18,250.

It has been estimated that China has about 180 people per square mile compared with about 56 in the United States.

Phillips Wins

If, while the Phillips case is under study, the Congress should revive and enact the Kerr bill, to forbid the commission from controlling rates of independent producers, the Phillips inquiry might come to a halt.

Disseater in the commission decision was Thomas Buchanan, who wanted justice of Phillips rates considered along with the jurisdiction question.

Chairman Mon C. Wallgren of the Federal Power Commission is proposing that natural gas companies pay fees to the government to finance the commission expenses.

Chairman Albert Thomas (D-Texas) of the House Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of commission funds, expresses sympathy with the idea.

The federal government may have to spend $1,000 or $1,500 a day in working over and arriving at a conclusion. Why shouldn't that be paid for by the people who are seeking that service? Thomas asked the chairman of the FPC.

Thomas was referring to applications for certificates to build natural gas pipelines.

Said Chairman Wallgren: "I think we have come up here with something that is important. I think, really, there is quite a source of revenue here that just hasn't been tapped."

To put such a plan into effect, legislation by Congress would be needed.

Rising natural gas wellhead prices are foreseen by Chairman Wallgren.

"This gas price at the present moment is highly competitive with other fuels," he told the House subcommittee. "I don't see how we are going to prevent the price of gas from going up."

While natural gas prices have been put under OPS ceilings, effective April 16, after Chairman Wallgren spoke, observers believe Wallgren's statements are true over the long run. In putting on ceilings, the OPS honored long-term contracts, and made other provisions.

Basically, the natural gas ceiling orders producers to sell at no more than the price they sold at during the December-January base period.

The men and firms who drill oil and gas wells, chiefly on contract, were freed of all price controls last week by special action of the Office of Price Stabilization. So were the men and firms who fight oil and gas wells fires.

The hazards of both professions, the one financially, and the other to life and limb, justify the exemptions, the OPS explained. Exempted are:

1. Drilling of oil and gas wells, including necessary operations in connection therewith, such as electrical logging service, preparations of locations, shot hole and diamond core drilling, fishing jobs, pulling, salvaging and plugging operations, fees and charges for.

2. Fire fighting services in connection with oil and gas wells, fees and charges for.

Price control provisions affecting resale of oil country tubular goods are being worked out by federal price controllers.

A 12-man industry advisory committee told OPS that existing practices, including markups, should be continued in a forthcoming regulation affecting resale of iron and steel products.

Actual dollars and cents ceilings are not under study.

Committee members include: D. D. Bovard, Bovard Supply Company, Tulsa; Frank L. Hereford, Murray Brooks, Lake Charles, La.; Fred F. Murray, Oil Well Supply Company, Dallas; J. H. Lollar, Jr., Republic Supply Company, Houston; A. W. McKinney, National Supply Company, Toledo; Jerry Vinson, Industrial Supply Company, Wichita Falls; K. W. Davis, Mid-Continent Supply Company, Fort Worth; Sol Brachman, Producers Supply and Tool Company, Fort Worth; H. B. Wehrle, McJunkin Supply Company, Charleston, W. Va.; J. P. Harper, Franklin Supply Company, Chicago; Markley C. Brown, Jilman-Kelly, Los Angeles.

A hearing on legislation calling for a four-year extension of the Interstate Oil Compact opens before a House Commerce subcommittee May 2, it is announced. Prospects are excellent the legislation will pass. Representatives Oren Harris (D-Ark) and Lindsey Beckwith (D-Texas) are sponsoring the legislation in the House, and Senator Tom Connally in the Senate. A Senate subcommittee of Senators Kilgore, Kefauver and Ferguson will be set for its hearings. Interior Department, asked for its views, has given a warm endorsement.

Dr. Edgar Enters Hospital For Checkup

AUSTIN—Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, said Saturday he was entering St. David's Hospital for a thorough physical checkup on the advice of his physician.

He said he would relax from his duties about two weeks. Dr. Edgar suffered an intestinal upset Wednesday. Preliminary tests indicated his heart was not involved, he told The Associated Press. His doctor told him he probably was suffering from exhaustion.

Calendar Heavy As Legislature Heads Into Final Stretch

AUSTIN—The 52nd Legislature heads into its closing phase next week with a clearly defined picture of what it must do to finish its job.

It has to dig up 65 million dollars in new money—not the 110 million dollars originally figured.

It has to finish writing the vital big-money bills so the state can function during the two fiscal years after August 31.

With several well-advanced tax bills to furnish the cash for state services ready to be whipped into final form, and appropriations bills about to emerge from conference committees, the session could finish up within the 120-day limit suggested by the Constitution.

The session also has calendars loaded with an array of important bills which it could work out, but many of them are due to wither on the vine.

Legislative redistricting is out of the way. A bill providing around two million dollars for civil defense is being written and could be disposed of swiftly.

Important Bills Pending

Among the important bills still pending are a omnibus rewrite of the election laws and an equally bulky reclassification of the water laws. A substitute for the latter has been suggested and may get the last-minute nod.

The election bill—a 90-page document making more than 100 changes in the existing code—has come out of House committee, but has not been debated on the floor or reached the Senate.

Congressional redistricting also is unfinished business.

Other dangling controversial measures are bills to raise the gross weight limit of trucks and to tighten up enforcement of the load limit. The latter is in conference committee and the former faces floor debate in the House.

In the Senate State Affairs Committee for hearing Monday are two tax bills that would more than raise the needed new money. One is a boost in the all-purpose omnibus tax law, another would put a levy of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet on natural gas.

Both have been passed by the House.

Verily, Verily, The Ass Knoweth His Master's Crib

HAIFA, ISRAEL—(AP)—And it came to pass that a policeman in Haifa, while reading the Holy Scriptures, came upon the very words which led him to solve a netting crime.

The authorities of the land of Israel had apprehended a caravan of asses laden with contraband from the unfriendly lands of the Arabs across the River Jordan. But those who did own the asses and did smuggle the contraband had slipped away in the night.

A wise policeman read the words of the Prophet Isaiah, and in the third verse of the first chapter beheld the words which gave him an idea.

The asses were held several days without food and then were allowed to wander from the police crib. The hungry and braying beasts led the policeman to the den of the culprits in an Arab frontier village.

The culprits were some asses, as were the village folk and admiring fellow policemen.

So it was that the inspired policeman read them this message: "The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib."

Carlsbad Boy Found Hanged In Bedroom

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(AP)—A 14-year-old schoolboy was found hanged from a closet door in his bedroom Friday night and investigators said Saturday it was the result either of a childish prank or of foul play.

Dead was Charles Donald Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson of Carlsbad. The parents found the boy's body when they returned home from a movie.

He was found naked with both his hands and feet tied.

District Attorney Richard H. Robinson said city police have had reports that school children in the city have been "playing hanging" as a game.

An autopsy is scheduled Sunday by an El Paso pathologist. An inquest is scheduled after the autopsy.

Rites Set Tuesday For General Hoffman

BOSTON—(AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., for Maj. Gen. Hugh F. Hoffman, who died in a hospital here Thursday.

Hoffman, who commanded the First Brigade, First Cavalry Division, in the Philippines, was chief of staff of the Fourth Army, San Antonio, at the time of his death.

Mass Killer Might Be Eligible For Parole In 20 Years

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—U. S. District Attorney Robert E. Shelton said Saturday kidnap-killer William E. Cook might be eligible for parole in 20 years from his 300-year prison sentence in Alcatraz.

The development followed a 10th Circuit Court of Appeals ruling last week in Denver. The court held that three separate charges were in fact a series of continuing crimes and should be considered one offense.

Shelton said he believes the ruling applies to the Cook case too.

Federal Judge Stephen S. Chandler sentenced Cook to serve 60 years for kidnaping and murdering each of the five members of the Carl Mosser family at Atwood, Ill.

Cook's sentence was for 80 years on each of the five charges or a total of 300 years. If the new rule applies, he could appeal and might successfully reduce his sentence to one 60-year term.

Under the federal prison rules, a convict is eligible to apply for parole after 20 years on a 60-year term. Even if a parole is refused, a prisoner will complete serving a 60-year term in 40 years if he receives credit for good behavior.

Editors Told U. S. Suppresses News

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) heard Saturday there is "appalling evidence" that government officials are trying to withhold news from the people.

The Society's Committee on Freedom of Information, headed by James S. Pope of the Louisville Courier-Journal, reported there is a growing trend toward "arrogant suppression of news" and added:

"We editors have been assuming that no one would dispute this premise: that when the people rule, they have a right to know all their government does."

This committee finds appalling evidence that the guiding credo in Washington is just the opposite: that it is dangerous and unwise to let information about government leak out in any unprocessed form."

The Poe Committee report was one of the highlights of the final day of the Society's annual convention.

Hospital Names Nurse Director

The appointment of Mrs. Bernice M. Silen as director of nurses at Midland Memorial Hospital was announced Saturday by Dr. Richard Harrell, hospital administrator.

At the same time, Dr. Harrell announced the appointment of Mrs. Jane Moody as assistant director of nurses and educational director in charge of the training program for nurses aides.

Mrs. Silen, who has been serving as night supervisor of nurses, will succeed Miss Helen Jensen, who resigned, as director.

She is a graduate of Barton Hospital School of Nursing, Watertown, S. D., and served for two and one-half years as an anesthetist in the medical corps of the Army.

She has served as supervisor of nurses at Lutheran Hospital, Britton, S. D., and moved to Midland a short time ago from Big Spring with her husband, Almer A. Silen.

Mrs. Moody will also serve as night supervisor.

She is a graduate of the Regina School of Nurses, St. Joseph's Hospital, Albuquerque, N. M., and for the past four years has been superintendent and director of nurses for the Costa Rica hospital in Costa Rica.

Appliance Production To Drop 30 Per Cent

CLEVELAND—(AP)—U. S. manufacturers will produce 30 per cent less major household appliances this year than in 1950, the Magazine Steel reported Saturday.

However, that still will exceed the volume produced in 1949, the magazine said. Steel added a survey "refuted rumors that demand for appliances has fallen off sharply."

"Only in large television sets is demand off substantially," Steel continued. "Calls for gas and electric ranges, refrigerators and other appliances are well above 1949 levels."

New Agreements Cut Trade Barriers

TORQUAY, ENGLAND—(AP)—New agreements lowering still further some of the tariff barriers to world trade were signed Saturday by the United States and 38 other nations. The details are secret temporarily.

In addition to 147 separate tariff-reducing agreements between pairs of nations, cuts previously agreed on at two earlier conferences since World War II were continued until 1954.

Cowden Junior Band Given High Rating

ODESSA—The Cowden Junior High School Band of Midland rated first division in concert, second division in marching in an area event held here Saturday.

Bands were not ranked but were rated. First division is a top rating. Nine junior high bands performed, including Midland, Odessa, (two bands), Lamesa, Big Spring, Denver City, Andrews, Kermit and Monahans.

Midland and Odessa entered the Class CO category. The other bands were Class C organizations.

Several Midland soloists rated first division but final results had not been completed Saturday night.

George Gates is director of the Midland band.

Dr. Campbell

(Continued from Page One) there was not a flicker of a change in the expressionless mask that characterized Dr. Campbell since her arrest. Not one did she give evidence of the brilliance that gave her Phi Beta Kappa honors as a 19-year-old graduate of the University of Texas and one of the first women to be graduated from Yale Medical School.

The jury of 12 Albuquerque business and tradesmen took only 45 minutes in reaching the verdict ending a six-day trial, held here on a charge of venue. Thus they flatly turned down the defense plea of insanity.

Defense Attorney A. L. Zinn pleaded with the court to commit Dr. Campbell to an insane asylum instead of sending her to prison after the verdict was announced. But Judge Swope refused.

Zinn immediately arranged for an appeal. Dr. Campbell was released on $40,000 bond signed by three Santa Fe friends.

Schools

However, the elementary school still is overcrowded, according to Principal E. L. Jordan.

He reported an enrollment of 468 in the elementary school alone, an average of 45 students to a classroom, compared to 25 recommended by the Olin-Alken Act.

Largest class is the third grade, numbering 55. There are 73 in the first grade (two classes), 95 in the second grade (two classes), 48 in the fourth grade, 81 in the fifth grade (two classes), 46 in the sixth grade, 39 in the seventh grade and 43 in the eighth grade.

Carver's enrollment has increased by 125 students since September, and Jordan reports there will be at least an additional 75 by next September.

One class now is being held in the gymnasium, with students sitting on the bleachers.

The proposed addition would take care of the increase in enrollment and bring the average class size down to 34.

Lions

Breakfasts and luncheons are scheduled Monday and Tuesday in Hotel Schaefer. The banquet and ball honoring the district governor Monday night in the Ranchland Hill Country Club ballroom will be an entertainment highlight.

Special entertainment, including a tour of the city and a luncheon Monday, is scheduled for the visiting Lionses.

Midland Lions are invited and urged to attend the various convention sessions.

Open Gambling House

"Bennie Binion, a nationally known gambler, has a partnership with Paul Harvey of Odessa in the operation of a profit-sharing open gambling house."

"A horse-race bookie wire service had been established and was being furnished in the cities of Houston, Dallas, Odessa, Fort Worth and Galveston before the attorney general obtained an injunction against Western Union, and that such service probably now is being furnished by telephone to various parts of our state."

"Attempts have been made by organized gambling syndicates to enter the cities of Wichita Falls, Dallas and Houston."

Hungary To Free Robert A. Vogeler, U. S. Businessman

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY—(AP)—Hungary announced Saturday she is freeing Robert A. Vogeler, a young American businessman who has spent 17 months in prison on spy charges, in return for the granting of "various just Hungarian claims."

Nathaniel P. Davis, the American minister, said a Hungarian Foreign Office communique announcing the completion of negotiations was "correct and I am very pleased." He refused to comment further.

Rumors Saturday night said the 39-year-old Vogeler, assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company and its Central European representative, already might have been deported over the border without having a chance to talk to legion officials.

Vogeler was arrested Nov. 18, 1949, and charged with espionage. After a four-day trial at which he pleaded guilty, he was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment on Feb. 21, 1950.

A British associate, Edgar Sanders, was sentenced to 13 years.

Final Rites Held For Late Wisconsin Republican Leader

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—(AP)—The late U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who rose from a harness maker's home to influence the future of his people, was interred Saturday.

The 67-year-old Republican statesman went to his last resting place in ceremonies mingling gracefully the pomp and homage due a world figure and the simple Congressional rites.

In the forefront were more than 100 dignitaries of government. In the background were more than 5,000 of the hometown folk who saw his rise from a boy newspaper editor to become one of the architects of the United Nations.

The Rev. Edward Archibald Thompson, Vandenberg's friend and pastor for 20 years, performed the final rites in a broken voice in the family's Park Congregational Church and at the cemetery.

He hailed the dead senator as "a mighty crusader for peace" and "a matchless statesman."

Grand Jury Summons Is Expected For Hay

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Eddie Hay, Dallas police character, showed up at state prison Saturday to begin serving a burglary term, but there was some question whether he would stay behind bars now.

Warden H. E. Moore said Hay surrendered to Huntsville Sheriff T. A. Cauthen about 9:30 a. m. or some 15 hours later than he was to have been committed to prison.

Hay surrendered to begin a 12-year term in a Wichita County burglary case, but Dallas County was expected to summon him for grand jury questioning in the tavern slayings of Vincent J. Zupancic and John Charles McDowell.

Casey Jones Named New ASNE President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Alexander F. (Casey) Jones of the Syracuse Herald-Journal Saturday was elected president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He succeeds Dwight Young of the Dayton (Ohio) Journal Herald.

Whitby Bryan of The Atlanta Journal was chosen first vice president and, if ASNE follows custom, will become president a year from now.

The officers were elected by the society's Board of Directors. Hamilton Owens of the Baltimore Sun papers was elected second vice president; Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines Register and Tribune was re-elected secretary, and Basil L. Walters of the Knight newspapers was elected treasurer.

Fuchs Declared Able To Trigger H-Bomb

LONDON—(AP)—The Recorder, a weekly newspaper, said Saturday Klaus Fuchs, German-born scientist jailed for handing atom secrets to Russia, has discovered how to trigger the hydrogen bomb.

The paper, published in London, said its source for the report was "common gossip" among physicists.

Eight Texas Dead Being Returned To U. S. For Interment

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Defense Department said Saturday bodies of 180 men killed in Korea fighting were being returned to the United States aboard the Ocala Victory, scheduled to reach San Francisco Sunday.

The names of the dead—all Marines unless otherwise designated—include:

Texas—Pfc. Alex Casanova, San Antonio; Pfc. Jesse F. Domingue, Fort Arthur; Pfc. John Dukarn, Army, San Antonio; Pfc. Richard C. Garza, Corpus Christi; Opl. Weldon D. Harris, Dallas; Pfc. Henry A. Honsa, Ennis; Opl. James R. Patton, San Angelo; Pfc. Phillip R. Wing, Beaumont.

Fair Skies Chase Away Texas Rains, Squally Weather

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms and winds eased away in Texas Saturday. By late afternoon Weather Bureau reports showed the sky fair over most of the state.

There were a few showers in Southeast Texas earlier in the afternoon. Temperature readings ranged from the sixties in the Panhandle to the nineties in South Texas.

Rains which struck Friday and early Saturday had freed some moisture-hungry farmers. But stiff winds caused some damage.

Storm winds Friday night destroyed a dozen houses in a new negro residential addition in East Waco.

Earlier, a tiny twister wrecked a three-bedroom home south of Wichita Falls.

The biggest rains apparently were at Waco, in Central Texas, and in a strip across North Texas. These included Sherman, 1.86 inches; Gunter 1.50; Waco 1.48; Gatesville 1.35; Roanoke 1.02, and Decatur 1.01. There was a Saturday morning shower at Brownsville.

Wright Patman Gets Request For Apology

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Wright Patman of Texas said Saturday he had received a request he apologize for comments he made about General MacArthur.

The Marshall, Texas, Junior Chamber of Commerce studied for the apology. Patman told a reporter he received a request, "but it wasn't signed."

"You would have thought it would have carried the name of the president or the secretary, but it didn't. I don't know who to take the matter up with," he said. He declined further comment.

Interior Decorator Joins Midland Firm

Mary Henderson has joined the firm of Hardwick-Stewart Furniture Company in Midland as chief interior decorator.

She comes here from Pasadena, Calif., and is a native of Abilene.

The new decorator studied 10 years under M. J. P. Dunham of the John B. Holcławski firm in Hollywood. She studied marketing and interior decorating at the University of California.

The new Midlander was in the WAVES during World War II.

Prior to coming to Midland, she was employed at the Bullocks firm in Pasadena.

T. J. Powell Rites Conducted In Brady

Services were held Friday afternoon in Brady for T. J. Powell, 31, Midland insurance executive, who died Thursday while on a business trip in El Paso.

Powell, district manager for the Universal Life and Insurance Company, was stricken with a heart attack in a Dallas hotel.

The widow, two daughters and a son survived.

Detroit Streetcar, Bus Drivers Strike

DETROIT—(AP)—A surprise walk-out of bus and streetcar drivers Saturday tied up all municipal transportation in Detroit.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo called it "a strike against the public." He acted at once to invoke a state law that forbids strikes by public servants and permits their dismissal as a penalty.

Navy Recruiter To Be Here Monday

Chief C. R. Isaacs, U. S. Navy recruiter from San Angelo, will be on recruiting duty in the basement of the post office building here Monday from noon to 5 p. m.

Inoculate, Tag or No Tag, Is Advice Of Colonel Plavisc

Although the city's supply of dog tags has been exhausted, dog owners were urged Saturday to have their pets inoculated against rabies.

"We have ordered a new supply of the tags," said Col. Milan N. Plavisc, director of the Department of Public Safety, "but, until they arrive, the inoculation tags will be adequate for identification purposes."

The city's supply of 500 tags was exhausted quickly two weeks ago during a campaign, conducted in cooperation with the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, to inoculate every dog in the city against rabies.

Colonel Plavisc explained that when dogs are inoculated they are given tags, the serial numbers of which are kept on file at the veterinary hospitals.

Sale of the city license tags will be resumed as soon as the new supply is received.

Guard Outfit To Begin Series Of Bivouacs Sunday

Members of Company E, 112th Armored Cavalry Unit, Texas National Guard, will begin a series of bivouacs and training periods during the weekends beginning Sunday.

"We must get in 12 training periods before the departure to Summer camp in Louisiana," Commanding Officer Max A. Schumann, said Saturday. "While we may not go on these bivouacs every weekend, we will have some type of drill almost every Saturday or Sunday," he added.

Joining the 112th Unit for the bivouac Sunday will be the Second Battalion Medical Detachment. Approximately 63 enlisted men and six officers are slated to take part in the drills which will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday and end at 6 p. m.

"We will take an hour's hike," an officer said, "and spend the rest of the time in mock warfare. The troops are to carry full field packs during the drills."

Admiralty Orders All 'A' Class Subs To Remain In Port

LONDON—(AP)—The Admiralty Saturday ordered all its "A" class submarines to stay in port until it finds out why the Affray, carrying 75 officers and men, mysteriously disappeared last Tuesday.

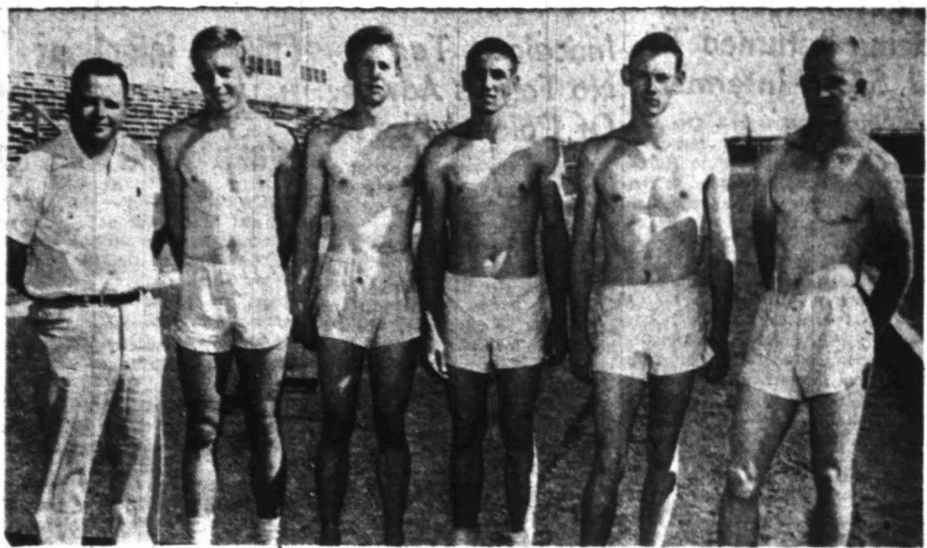

Britain has 15 "A" class subs. The Affray was the sixteenth. She failed to report from an undersea trip along Britain's South Coast. The Admiralty Thursday abandoned hope of finding any of her personnel alive.

The order barring all subs of her class from the sea was made as divers aboard rescue ships in the English Channel awaited good weather to investigate objects on the sea bed located by search planes Friday.

According to the British Press Association's naval correspondent, the Admiralty decision was not taken because "any mystery defect" in the type but as "a precaution against any further loss of life and submarines." He added "the fact that there was a succession of "A" class submarines which have given satisfactory war service and service since proves that there is nothing held against them as seaworthy craft."

Monahans Elects O'Quinn To Office

MONAHANS—In an election held here Saturday to decide a tie vote given two candidates in the April 3 city election, Garland O'Quinn defeated James P. Sparks.

Rockets Murder Indian Nine 22-3

Roswell's Rockets evened the series with the Midland Indians here Saturday night, slamming out 20 hits and taking a 22-3 decision. Glenn Patton went the route for the Indians. He gave up nine bases on balls. Tall Dean Franks gave up seven hits to the Midland team and six bases on balls. He struck out 10. Roswell's big inning was the eighth, when 10 runs came in on eight hits and four walks. Leftfielder Ray Hill got four hits in six times at bat for the Rockets while Shortstop Bob Souza got four for seven attempts. Pitcher Franks homered with the bases empty in the second inning. Hill clouted one with two on in the seventh.

Brooks Cash In On Jansen's Wildness To Clip Giants 7-3

NEW YORK —(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers capitalized on Larry Jansen's wildness and some lousy hittings by Jackie Robinson Saturday to trounce the New York Giants 7-3.

Robinson drove in three runs on a homer and a double as the Dodgers snapped a 3-all tie to win with a three-run rally in the eighth. Jansen held the Dodgers hitless until the fourth when, with two out, he walked Duke Snider. Robinson followed with a home run to shoot the Dodgers ahead 2-1. Jansen forced home a run in the seventh, then blew sky high in the eighth.

Gene Hermanski singled to start the rally. Snider and Robinson followed with doubles. Robinson stole third and scored when Catcher Wes Westrum threw low past third. The Brooks squeezed home their final run in the ninth. Lanky Chris Van Cuyk opened for Brooklyn and yielded all of New York's runs. Westrum accounted for two of these with a homer in the fourth. Van Cuyk left for a pinch-hitter in the seventh and Ralph Branca finished up with three scoreless innings to gain credit for the victory.

The score: R H E
Brooklyn 100 200 131—7 6 2
New York 100 200 000—3 7 2
Van Cuyk, Branca and Campanella; Jansen, Kramer and Westrum.

St. Louis Brownies Beat Indians, Lemon

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The St. Louis Brownies knocked Bob Lemon off the mound Saturday and beat the Cleveland Indians 9 to 1 for their first American League victory of the season. Right-hander Ned Garver handcuffed the Tribe with five singles in handling Cleveland its first defeat of the year.

The score: R H E
St. Louis 100 020 510—9 11 2
Cleveland 000 001 000—1 5 2
Garver and Moss; Lemon, Zuverink, Chakales and Hegan.

Boston Sox Rack First '51 Victory

BOSTON —(AP)—After three straight losses, the Boston Red Sox untracked themselves Saturday and won their first game of the American League's fiftieth season, whipping the Philadelphia Athletics 6-3.

Ted Williams belted his first homer of the season—a two-run poke 400 feet into the right field bleachers in the first inning—to give the Sox a 2-1 lead. Elmer Valo homered for the A's in their first inning.

A chilled audience of 13,254 cheered their favored Sox to four more runs in the eighth on two hits, three walks and a hit batsman. Those tallies put the game out of reach of the A's, who threatened in the ninth when they scored twice.

Stobbs Gets Credit
Left-hander Chuck Stobbs pitched well through the first eight innings to gain credit for the victory although Maury McDermott finished the ninth.

Stobbs had been touched for one run and had men on second and third when he was replaced.

Two walks, a misjudged fly which fell for a double, another walk and a double play gave the A's their last two tallies.

The Sox played with a revamped lineup. Walt Drogo was benched and his first base berth was filled by Billy Goodman, moved in from right field, where Utility man Tom Wright took over. The Sox also batted in somewhat different order than in their first three games.

The score: R H E
Philadelphia 100 000 002—3 6 0
Boston 200 000 048—6 10 0
Hooper, Harris, Coleman and Tipton; Stobbs, McDermott and Guerra.

Don Cooper Steals Kansas Relays Show

LAWRENCE, KAN.—(AP)—Don Cooper of Nebraska swiped the show from the famous millers in the Kansas Relays Saturday by clearing the pole vault bar at 15 feet, one-eighth inch for a new intercollegiate record.

But Cooper's new mark lasted only a few hours. Illinois' Don Laz vaulted 15 feet, one and three-fourths inches later in the day during a triangular meet at Los Angeles between Illinois, Michigan and Southern California.

Until Laz and Cooper turned in their record breaking performances Saturday, only one other man had ever bettered 15 feet in an outdoor meet. This was Cornelius Warmerdam who set the world's record of 15 feet, seven and three-fourths inches in 1942.

Cooper's vault from a damp take-off followed by half an hour FBI Agent Fred Witt's conquest of his No. 1 fugitive, Don Gehrman, in the first of their outdoor meetings and for the third time in a dozen tries this season. The slow time was four minutes, 16.8 seconds.

The University of Oklahoma Sooners dominated the university relays events just as they did in the Texas Relays three weeks ago.

Coach John Jacobs sent his baton men into four races and they won three, placed second in another. The Sooners broke the tape in the 440-yard, two-mile and mile relay and were second in the half-mile relay. Their best performance was in the mile, where the time was 3:18, only four-tenths of a second off the meet record.

Oklahoma got an assist in the 440 relay when Texas' anchor man, Ralph Person, pulled up with a lame leg after getting a six-yard advantage.

The college class boys did right well, too. Abilene Christian's winning time in the sprint medley relay, 3:30.7, was better than Missouri's 3:33.4 in the university class. Texas Winners
Other winners from Texas included: Darrow Hooper, Texas A&M, first, in discus throw, 145 feet, 5 1/2 inches; Howard Payne, second, and McMurry fourth in college distance medley relay; ACC first in college mile relay, 3:19.6; Texas A&M, third in university mile relay; McMurry, first, college two-mile relay; Paul Faulkner, ACC, first, javelin throw; Hayden Fields, Howard Payne, second, 100-yard dash; Ralph Person, Texas, fourth, 100-yard dash; Hooper, first, shot put, 51 feet, 8 1/2 inches; North Texas State, first, college half-mile relay; Charles Meeks, Texas, first, broad jump, 23 feet, 6 inches; Javier Montez, Texas Western, fourth, Glenn Cunningham Mile; ACC, first, college sprint medley relay.

THE UMPIRE—Rain spoiled the day at London's Rockhampton, as a tennis tournament got under way, but Ann John brightened things up with a sunny smile as she sat under an umbrella to umpire the matches. (NEA)

Aggies Beat Owls In Dual Track Meet

HOUSTON —(AP)—A Texas Aggie mile relay team, previously rated the school's number 2 team, and a couple of Rice Institute half-milers stood out Saturday as the Aggies defeated the Owls by handy margins in both varsity and freshman divisions in a track meet here. The Maroon and White mile relays whipped out a 3:19.9 for the quartet that went to the Kansas Relays this week, and Otha Byrd and Biff Graf of Rice finished almost in a dead heat in the 800 in the fine time of 1:54.2. Byrd was judged the winner. The Aggie varsity beat the Owls 87 to 45, and the Farmer fish beat the Owlets 72 to 52.

Midland's Glass Family Scores In Spring Skeel Shoot

Approximately 100 West Texas skeet shooters participated in the annual Midland Spring Skeel Shoot at Midland Gun Club's skeet grounds Saturday. All gauges were shot with the exception of 12-gauge. Finals in the 12-gauge—or all-bore—will be held Sunday.

The Saturday winners, with scores:

Repertoire Wins Wood Memorial

NEW YORK —(AP)—Repertoire, the Virginia colt with the misspelled name and the flying feet, won the $49,800 Wood Memorial at Jamaica Saturday and became the East's leading contender for the Kentucky Derby two weeks hence. Mrs. Nora Mikell's galloper flashed under the wire by a head margin over Cain Hoy Stable's Battle Woin, with Brookfield Farm's Intent third, another length and a quarter behind.

Repertoire's backers got $15,400 and $6,200 and his Dover, Del., owner pocketed $33,250. Battle Woin paid $8,000 and $5,700 and earned $8,000 second money. Intent returned $7,200.

Bears, Owls Divide SWC Doubleheader

HOUSTON —(AP)—The Baylor Bears and the Rice Owls split a Southwest Conference doubleheader here Saturday. The Owls won the first game 6-4 in seven innings, and the Bears won a 10-inning second game 10-7. Baylor's Ray Fitzgerald, who had hurled the Bears to six victories, lost the first game to Rice's Roger Edwards, who had a previous win over Ohio State. Clyde Robinson went the route for Baylor in the second game.

Big Spring Futurity Is Scheduled Sunday

BIG SPRING —(AP)—Sixteen Quarterhorses race here Sunday in the Big Spring Futurity for purses amounting to $10,900. Races will be at a quarter and half-mile, with a field of eight in each. Top choices in the short race are Brigand and Bardo, King Ranch horses owned by E. H. Lane of Odem. Hiram, Jr., owned by T. M. Johnson of Del Rio, is the favorite in the half-mile event.

Jacome Hurls Indians To 6-3 Opening Victory Over Roswell As Prince Homers

Brilliant Eddie Jacome limited the Roswell Rockets to eight hits, struck out two batters, handled five fielding chances flawlessly, drove in a run with a single and made himself generally obnoxious to the opposition here Friday night as the Midland Indians defeated Roswell 6-3 in a Longhorn League opener before an estimated 1,500 fans.

The veteran righthander had ample help from the booming bat of Jim Prince, who tagged a Rocket pitch for a home run in the sixth inning, scoring Jim Ackers, centerfielder, ahead of him. Ackers himself—who joined the Indians only Friday—led Midland at the plate with three hits in four trips and once made a one-handed spear of a deep-driven ball from the bat of a Roswell player.

Colorful pre-game ceremonies, including playing of the National Anthem, introduction of the Midland players and a pitch from Mayor

Perry Pickett to Police Lieutenant Jim Wilkerson got the Midland crowd in the proper spirit for the contest.

But the game itself was one of the most colorful ever played in Indian Park. The Indians got themselves in trouble in the first inning by committing the first three of eight errors, but pulled out with a double play and were behind only 1-0 after the first stanza. Both teams then were goose-egged until the fourth inning when the Indians scored their first run off Roswell hurler Bill Hees. Eddie Melillo walked, then Hayden White laid down a perfect sacrifice to send the runner to second. Ackers singled to drive in Melillo, but that's as far as the Indians could go and the fourth frame ended 1-1.

Cowser Doubles

In the fifth, Outfielder Bob Cowser lined a double off Hees. Catcher Gordon Tanner singled then went to third on an error, Cowser scoring. After Outfielder George Firnbach and Shortstop Dick Potak went out, Jacome singled over second base to send Tanner in as the Indians went in front 3-1.

Ackers singled to start the Midland sixth and then Prince came up, smacked the first ball Hees pitched over the scoreboard in centerfield with a tremendous wallop and came in to put Midland in front 5-1.

Roswell pushed across a tally in the seventh and that took care of all scoring until the Midland half of the eighth inning when White smacked a change-of-pace pitch for a single. Ackers coming through with a resounding triple to score Hees and put the Indians in command 6-2.

Final Gasp

The ever-dangerous Rockets got a final tally in the ninth inning after two were out when pinch hitter Dean Franks got on by error then took second on a passed ball. Bob West, rookie centerfielder for Roswell, then collected his fourth hit of the night to score Franks, but was thrown out at third base. Firnbach to White, trying to stretch it to a triple.

Defensively, the Rocket infield was superb, playing errorless ball. Monchak, second baseman and manager, went in the hole once to actually rob Jim Prince in one of the night's prettiest plays. Ackers and Bob Cowser made nice running catches in the outfield for Midland.

Roswell's pitcher—Bill Hees—gave up 11 hits and two bases on balls. Jacome gave no bases on balls in giving up eight hits. But he himself received a free ride on the shoulders of joyous teammates who carried him from the field of play.

Golf Team Wins Meet

LUBBOCK—Coach Audrey Gill's MHS golf team Saturday won the Region I championship and qualified for entry in state competition.

Midland had a comfortable margin to win. The team—composed of Graham Mackey, Johnny Ward, Roane Puett and Marcelino Moreno—scored 604 to second-place Amarillo's 643. The Sandie B team tied for third with Odessa. Each had 664.

City Major League To Start Softball Play Here Monday

Seven teams will begin loop play Monday night in the Midland Jay-Cee Softball League, City Major Division. The Church loop had its opening postponed because of lack of teams. Only three teams are registered for the Church loop and at least six are needed.

King's Row

by LARRY KING

One of the brightest spots in Midland's 6-3 opening night victory over Roswell Friday night was the play of Jim Ackers, centerfielder, who wandered into the Indian Camp only Friday and asked for a chance to play with the Indians.

A limited service performer who played with Newport, Tenn., in the Mountain State League last year, Ackers hails from Columbus, Ohio—the home of George Trautman, Minor League president.

"Could Ackers just have stumbled into camp, or did Trautman send him?" we asked Midland Manager Harold Webb.

"I don't know," he grinned, "perhaps Trautman remembers when he came to Midland in 1947 and presented the national Minor League batting crown to Jim Prince."

No matter where the dark-haired, tall outfielder came from or how he got here, he looked exceptionally good in the opener. Ackers hit three for four at the plate—including a triple—showed a lot of speed and was in the right place at the right time defensively. Once he came in on a fly ball and just as it seemed to sail over him he stuck up a glove and brought it down for the putout.

It looked good—but it was hard on fans with heart trouble.

Dick Potak, Midland shortstop, displayed a good brand of courage when a ball took a bad hop and gave him a painful injury.

Second later, another hard hit ball came at the Chicagoan and he went for it as if nothing had happened. "That kid has a baseball heart," Roswell Manager Al Monchak said after it happened.

Mayor Perry Pickett's comment after tossing in the ball to open the season here:

"At least I wasn't booed when I tossed in the ball like a certain fellow in Washington."

From Barboursville, Ohio, comes words that Quinten Basco who last year played second base with the Midland Indians now is playing the second sack for the 101st Airborne Division at Camp Breckinridge, Ken. Quinten's father, J. R. Basco, sends news of the former Indian.

Basco, Sr., who is a fight manager, has a featherweight going great guns now. He is Proctor Heindold who just beat Benny Alvarez and Eddie Berolingo. He meets Sandy Saddler Monday night.

The Ohio fight manager said he would like to show Heindold in Midland this summer if a professional fight card could be arranged here. That's something we would like to see. Several months ago we inquired into the possibility of having some pro boxing in Midland but couldn't arouse any interest. The biggest problem here, of course, would be where to hold it. The VFW Hall on West Highway 80 is the only indoor building that could house a boxing show.

Monchak Picks Up Pitcher For Rockets

Manager Al Monchak of Roswell announced here late Saturday the signing of Pitcher Jesse Grimes, who has been working out with Odessa.

Grimes pitched with Odessa two seasons ago and last year was scheduled to report to Longview of the East Texas League. He did not report, and was suspended. However, when the East Texas loop folded recently, Grimes was made a free agent. He had been with Odessa this year but never came to terms with the Otter club.

Monchak said Grimes arrived in Midland late Friday and signed a Roswell contract, the terms of which were undisclosed.

He will pitch against Odessa when the Rockets invade there Tuesday night.

DAVIS MISSES RELAYS

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Walt Davis, Texas A&M's ace high jumper did not compete in the Kansas Relays because of an ankle injury.

SMILING CHAMPIONS—Here they are, champion golfers (high school) of Region I and headed for the state meet. Left to right are members of the Midland High golf team, who Saturday won their ninth meet in 10 contests this season while taking a regional title: Marcelino Moreno, Johnny Ward, Graham Mackey and Roane Puett. Golf coach is Audrey Gill.

Sandies Capture Regional Crown; Midland Is Fifth

LUBBOCK—The Amarillo High School Golden Sandies won the Region I track and field meet here Saturday with 44 1/3 points.

Odessa was second with 40 1/3 points. Lubbock took third place, scoring 21 1/2 points. Big Spring placed fourth with 18 tallies and Midland came fifth with 14 1/3.

Midland's W. H. Black, Amarillo's Isaacs, and Odessa's Holley tied for first place in the pole vault. All three cleared 11 feet, erasing the old mark of 10 feet, six inches.

Boone of Lubbock sped to a new record in the 440-yard dash in 50.8 seconds. The old mark was 51 seconds flat. Jack Burris of Midland was in the pack chasing Boone and placed fourth.

Roy Kimsey

Roy Kimsey, Coach Tugboat Jones' blond comet speedster, won two individual second places—in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. He was right behind Joe Childers of Odessa in the century in 19 seconds flat time and ran second to the tape to Lubbock's Boone in the furlong, time 21.6.

Second in Mile Relay

Midland's mile relay quartet got a second place. Odessa captured the event. The Purple foursome was composed of Kimsey, Burris, Johnny Kennedy and Robert Keisling. Winning time was 3:39.4.

Black of MHS, in addition to his pole vault place, took fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles. Winner was Hayes of Plainview who was first in a time of 15.3 seconds.

Records were broken in the mile run and discus throw. Bingham of Amarillo lapped in the mile in 4:44.8 to erase a mark of 4:46. Jackson, his teammate, threw the discus 100 feet, one and one-half inches.

Manley Wins North And South Amateur Golf Championship

PINEBURST, N. C. — (AP)—Hobart Manley of Savannah, Ga., a terrific competitor under fire, threw five finishing threes at Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., Saturday to win the North and South Amateur golf championship 1-up in a tense 36-hole final struggle.

The 24-year-old Georgia lumberman choked off Patton's bid to tie the match and force overtime play by coming in with a 30-foot putt on the final hole for a birdie three and a match-clinching halve.

The bespectacled, 29-year-old Patton, also a lumber dealer, raced into a 5-up lead through the first eight holes Saturday morning and at lunch time was on top 3-up.

Patton led by 4-up through 21 holes and was 2-up with five to play. Then Manley exploded his five straight threes—an eagle, two birdies and two pars—to pull out the victor and give the large gallery which included Defense Secretary George C. Marshall something to cheer.

For 36 holes over the 6,900-yard Pinehurst Country Club No. 2 course Manley was three over par on rounds of 40-36-76 and 36-33-71 for 147. Patton scored 34-33-72 and 38-36-74 for 146, two over par.

Yanks Blow Lead, Then Nip Sens 8-7

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The New York Yankees blew a six-run lead Saturday but recovered and rallied to nip the Washington Senators 8-7 to snap Washington's four-game winning streak. Rookie Mickey Mantle doubled home the winning run in the eighth inning.

LONGHORNS SMOTHER ACC IN DUAL MEET

AUSTIN — (AP)—The University of Texas smothered Abilene Christian College 99 1/2 to 36 1/2 Saturday in a lack-lustre dual track and field meet.

Both teams entered the non-conference meet without their top stars, who were at the Kansas Relays.

Money In The Kitty, As Longhorn League Clubs Draw Crowds

By The Associated Press

The Longhorn League celebrated a milestone in its history Friday night with opening games attended by approximately 7,500 fans in four cities.

The league increased its classification from D to C during the winter and fans signified their approval by making the turnstiles click for the opener.

San Angelo reported the best turnout with a crowd of 3,013 for a game delayed 15 minutes by rain. Midland and Odessa reported estimated crowds of 1,500 fans each mile 1,558 paid to see the first game of the year at Big Spring.

On the field Odessa shugged out a 9-5 victory over Artesia. Midland beat Roswell 6-3, Vernon nipped Big Spring 3-2, and San Angelo topped Sweetwater 9-1.

Ray Sims pitched the Odessa Oilers to their victory over Artesia, giving up only five hits over the distance. Tony Di Primo collected a three-run home run to spark the Otter attack.

Midland's Indians made eight errors in their game with Roswell but didn't let bother them a bit as they jumped on Rookie Bill Hees for 11 hits, including a triple by Jim Ackers and a two-run homer by Jim Prince to win despite the loose play.

Vernon and Big Spring tangled in a pitchers' duel with Paul Sanchez giving up eight hits to Vernon while Marshall Epperson allowed only seven. It took an unearned run to decide the issue.

Jim McClure walked seven men but was tight in the clutches in pitching San Angelo to its win over Sweetwater.

Tech Sets Clinic For High School Coaches

LUBBOCK — (AP)—A clinic for high school coaches of West Texas will be held here Friday by the Texas Tech coaching staff.

DeWitt Weaver, athletic director and head coach of Tech, has invited all high school coaches and their assistants to attend.

The coaches will witness the annual Spring intra-squad game of Texas Tech.

Braves Rout Phil Aces To Turn Back Champions 8 To 6

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—The Boston Braves routed the Philadelphia Phillies' Robin Roberts and Jim Konstanty in two big innings to turn back the National League champions 8-6 Saturday for their second victory in two days.

Sid Gordon with a double, two singles and a walk, led the Boston attack. Bobby Hogue pitched well in relief to save the victory for Vern Riffe, who was knocked from the box by a two-run homer by Del Bnix in the sixth.

Steers Outlast Texas A&M 14-10

AUSTIN — (AP)—The University of Texas, paced by four successive pitchers and a strong batting attack, outscored Texas A&M 14-10 Saturday.

A capacity crowd of 4,500 saw the lead change four times. The Longhorns surged ahead for good in the fifth inning.

The Aggie batters made a strong bid for victory in the fifth by pounding scores two hits for four runs in a melee of wild fielding by Texas. But the Longhorns rose up with four runs in the bottom of the fifth and overcame the 8-5 Aggie lead.

Here are the 4 main reasons why Crestview Heights is the choice of so many new home-owners:

DESIGN— Each of the many different designs used in building the two and three bedroom homes in Crestview Heights is distinctively modern... especially created for West Texas!

FEATURES— Only in Crestview Heights will you find such delightful home features as cove ceilings, colored stucco interiors, blanket spun-glass insulation, two closets in each bedroom.

QUALITY— The quality of materials used in this addition is the finest available for low-cost homes. Materials are constantly checked to assure durability and lasting good looks.

Here's how 2 suits make 4 wonderful suit changes:

AND HERE'S WHY "IT'S A WONDERFUL BUY!" Your Sacony suits of Palm Beach are made of a real suit-fabric— not a dress rayon. Palm Beach, the famous blend of rayon enriched with pure wool, stays shapely longer. It sheds wrinkles faster, thanks to a new special finish. It dry cleans or washes beautifully. And it's cooler— thousands of open "windows" in every square inch to let the fresh air circulate.

TURN A SACONY INSIDE OUT. It's tailored as a suit... not as a two piece dress. Collars are handset to lie flat. Facing in the lapels and bodice prevents curling. Button-holes are bar-tacked for strength. All seams are finished with pre-shrunk tape. The whole suit hangs right because it's cut right. That's true suit tailoring. And that's the best!

DON'T LET ALTERATIONS puff up the price of your suit. When you buy Sacony, you can be tall or tiny, slim or not, without paying heavy penalties for perfect fit. Sacony suits are scientifically proportioned to fit your figure. Most women can slip them on and wear them right out of our store!

OVER AND ABOVE ALL... let your own good taste be your guide. Notice the discreet styling, the understated simplicity that makes a Sacony suit right... any time, anywhere. In fabric, in long wear, in tailoring, in styling, we can't think of a better fashion investment than a Sacony suit at $24.50. Truly, "it's a wonderful buy!"

THE ONLY WOMEN'S SUITS OF PALM BEACH

Sacony suits of Palm Beach* ^{"It's a wonderful buy!"} 24.50

LIONS' FIRST LADY—Mrs. C. Ed Prichard will be a busy person this week. As the wife of the Lions Club president, she will be chief hostess when the members of District 2-T-2 of Lions International gather in Midland for their annual convention, Sunday through Tuesday. A special program has been planned for the wives of convention delegates, according to Carl Hyde, convention chairman. Sunday's activities will include a reception honoring International officials in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills, and an all-star talent show in the high school auditorium. Among the entertainment plans for Monday are a tour of Midland, scheduled for 10 a.m., a luncheon for the wives at 12 noon and the district governor's banquet and ball in the Ranchland Hill Country Club. Mrs. Prichard is pictured in the living room of her home at 501 West Holmsley Street.

Wives Aid In Lions' Convention

Midland today is a convention city. With Lions Club delegates and their ladies from an area extending from Lorraine to El Paso and from Lamesa to Fort Stockton pouring into the city, Midland is brushing off the welcome mat, preparing to show the visitors what West Texas hospitality really means. The District 2-T-2 convention of Lions International opens Sunday and continues through Tuesday. Convention headquarters will be in Hotel Scharbauer.

In conjunction with the convention, the wives of Lions Club members have planned a special program of activities to entertain the women visitors.

Regular activities in which the wives will participate include the registration scheduled from 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday; the tea and reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills, honoring the Lions International officials; and the all-star talent show Sunday evening in the Midland High School Auditorium.

The wives also will assist with the district governor's banquet and ball scheduled Monday night.

A special feature for the delegates' wives will be a tour of the city to be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday. Wives of members of the Midland unit will be in charge. Also strictly for women will be a luncheon at 12 noon Monday in Donohoo's Restaurant.

Yes, convention week in Midland will be an active one for the wives of the host club members, as well as for the Lions themselves.

LION TAMERS OFFICERS—Officers of the Midland Lion Tamers Club pictured above, left to right, are Mrs. Lex B. Smith, secretary; Mrs. James L. Daugherty, president, and Mrs. W. C. Kimball, vice president. Mrs. Leroy Butler is the club treasurer. Officers-elect, who will take over next month, are Mrs. Bill Collins, president; Mrs. Harry Rhodes, vice president; Mrs. W. E. Summers, secretary, and Mrs. John Sewell, treasurer.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN—Conventions just aren't conventions without the gaiety of decorations, and Mrs. Victor Horn is responsible for seeing that Midland's district meeting won't be lacking in that department. Mrs. Horn is the chairman of the committee in charge of decorating for the banquet and ball to be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club, honoring District Gov. and Mrs. Roy Carter of Kermit. Mr. Horn is the secretary for the State Highway Commission office here and, of course, he is a member of the Lions Club.

PAST GOVERNOR'S WIFE—Assisting with Lions Club activities is nothing new to Mrs. James L. Daugherty. Wife of the immediate past district governor, Mrs. Daugherty also is president of the Lion Tamers Club, a group composed of the wives of members of the Midland Lions Club. The club, founded in 1947, was organized to promote fellowship and to aid the Lions Club in every way possible. Membership in the auxiliary group is open to wives of Lions Club members. Initial officers were Mrs. Jim Noland, president; Mrs. John H. Biggs, vice president; Mrs. Kit Carson, reporter, and Mrs. Russell Conkling, treasurer.

WIVES OF LIONS CLUB OFFICERS—Mrs. Kit Carson, left, and Mrs. L. V. Bassham might be called the convention's second and third ladies, respectively. They are the wives of the first and second vice presidents of the Midland unit. In addition to Mrs. Prichard, pictured elsewhere on this page, other officers' wives are Mrs. Duke Jimerson, wife of the third vice president, and Mrs. C. E. Nelson, wife of the secretary-treasurer.

B&PW Club Has Luncheon Meeting

RANKIN—The Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday at the City Cafe for luncheon and a business meeting. Mrs. Tyson Midkiff, president, presided over the business meeting. The annual report was given and a nominating committee appointed.

The nominating committee consists of Elizabeth Rains, Edna Mae Patton and Lela King. Officers will be elected at the next meeting. Others attending were Mrs. Lella Workman, Mrs. Gertrude Rhorick, Mrs. Ann Clark, Mrs. Marian Cochran and Mrs. Dorothy Hurst.

APRIL BRIDE—The engagement and approaching marriage of Lynn Dell Taylor to Charles William Browning of Tyler was announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Moore. Browning is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Browning. The wedding will take place Saturday in Fort Hood.

P-TA Units Plan Joint Installation

A joint installation of officers will be held by all P-TA units May 7 in the John M. Cowden Junior High School. The candidates for graduation include 50 college sophomores and 38 high school seniors. Advertise or be forgotten.

P. E. O. Plans To Sponsor Bullet Barrage

The B. S. Chapter of the P. E. O. decided to sponsor a paper bullet barrage at its meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Paul Kolm.

Contributions will be collected for pamphlets to be made and sent to Eastern Europe and Russia. The idea is being promoted by Drew Pearson.

Mrs. Tom L. Ingram and Mrs. L. E. Patterson, Jr., will be co-chairman for the project.

The delegates to the state convention, held recently in Dallas, gave a report on the meeting. Those attending the convention were Mrs. John Casselman, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. W. H. Brimm.

Mrs. Maynard Kennedy of Oklahoma City and Mrs. F. C. Cummings of Ponca City, Okla., were guests at the meeting.

Other members present were Mrs. Van Camp, Mrs. Glen Mersham, Mrs. Joe Norman and Mrs. Donald A. Ross.

Mrs. Birdges Is WMU Hostess

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Westside Baptist Church met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Paul Birdges.

Mrs. F. E. Spratt gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Maurice Snyder led the Bible study. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Alton Towery. Others attending were Mrs. R. L. Christian, Mrs. Martha Christian, Mrs. Gene Stallo, Mrs. Frank Whitely and Mrs. Lonnie Hudgins.

DAVE MCKEE'S BACK FROM VACATION TRIP—Mr. and Mrs. Dave N. McKee returned late Friday from a vacation trip to Central, North and East Texas. They spent several days in Austin where they attended the annual Round-Up at the University of Texas. They were gone two weeks.

Wet Cake Of Soap Often Leads To Slippery Disaster

Among bathroom hazards taking toll in American homes are innocent-looking soap and harmless-looking radio. Baby (left), remaining in tub unguarded while mother answers telephone, makes rash remark that could result in fall or, if the faucet handle turns, a fatal scalding. Bathing beauty (right) may, with flick of wrist, dial death in place of gay dance music. Water conducts electricity.

BY ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Almost anyone, asked to name a few instruments of disaster, would produce a list beginning with an atom bomb and grading down to snub-nosed revolvers. Few collections would include a cake of soap.

That's the trouble. This slippery little household necessity doesn't look lethal. People forget to handle it with respect. Yet, according to the National Safety Council, these small bars account for a high percentage of bathroom accidents—which in turn are responsible for a large number of home fatalities. An estimated 31,000 mishaps serious enough to record, occurred in American homes in 1930.

Most adults, it was found, met their downfall, literally, while stepping out of their baths. Bars of soap, which were carelessly left in the slippery bottoms of tubs or showers or unknowingly knocked onto sleek floors of tile or linoleum contributed to the slipping and sliding when the incautious feet stepped on them. A quick check-up at the end of your scrubbing to make sure your soap is safe in its dish or rack, a rubber mat in your bath, and a non-skid mat outside your shower or tub are listed by the Council as safety musts.

Another source of danger to the unthinking are electrical appliances. Those who touch a live source of power while their bodies are wet are flirting with electrocution. One hand, grounded on a pipe or faucet is enough to complete a fatal circuit. Telephones and radios in the bathroom are dangerous; they're best left in their more conventional settings. Never, under any circumstances, should you attempt to switch radio programs while you are actually bathing.

The same rule applies to light switches and electrical heaters. If some adjustment must be made, wait until you're out of the tub and safely dry. Falls and scalds accounted for most of the bathroom injuries children suffered last year. An unguarded child, scrambling about the tub with his toys, can lose his toe and insure himself fatally. Another, unattended for just a minute, can twist the hot water faucet and flood the tub with scalding water. Only by constant adult alertness can such tragedies be avoided. To leave a child alone in the tub, even for the moment it takes to answer a doorbell or telephone, is inviting disaster. Either ignore the ring, wrap the child in a towel and take him along with you, or else transfer him to his crib, playpen or another place of safety before you answer the summons.

Add New Life To Furniture

Upholstery worn and shoddy? Let expert craftsmen at DAVIS UPHOLSTERY SHOP, 600 East Florida, recover it in your choice of decor-matching fabrics. You can have your furniture rebuilt into a handsome new style that your own family will have difficulty recognizing. Here's a low cost way to have just-like-new furniture. Experience plus fine quality fabrics is your assurance that furniture restyled here will give long and handsome service. Call 9543 for estimates.

Complete Advertising Service

Put your name in print—the best way to impress your customers. Book matches, calendars, playing cards, pencils and other novelties help publicize your firm name. A new advertising service is now at your disposal through the courtesy of R. J. (Bob) Maberry, owner and manager of THE SUPERIOR ADVERTISING COMPANY, temporarily located at 1400 West Illinois. This convenient advertising service is a boon to Midland's commercial development. Call 3069-R for orders. Mr. Maberry is a citizen of Midland and a Shriner and Mason.

For Happy Results

Let the fresh new beauty of paint and the bright sparkle of wallpaper "dress up" your home for the spring. Unless you're a professional decorator, however, you'll be wise to let an expert help you for happy results. HANS ROWECK, 1301 West Washington, is an experienced decorator, often doing the work himself, or he can supply experienced decorators for your complete satisfaction. Call 4481 for estimates.

Why Not Own Your Home?

Invest those rent dollars in a home for you and your family. It's so easy to own a home in Loma Linda. The C. L. CUNNINGHAM COMPANY, Edwards and Oak Drive, can offer them to you at low down payments not affected by the new building regulations. A home in Loma Linda gives you the following advantages: paved streets, central heating, tile bath, choice of decor, Venetian blinds, Youngstown kitchen, slab doors and casement windows.

HOSPITALIZED
Linda Robledo, 1006 North Minola Street, nine months' old child, was given emergency treatment Friday at Western Clinic-Hospital.

EMERGENCY TREATMENT
Mrs. C. B. Wilson, 802 North Dallas Street, was given emergency treatment Saturday at Western Clinic-Hospital for a face injury.

Billie Walker Weds V. F. Chancellor, Jr.

In a double ring ceremony Saturday night Billie Marthelle Walker became the bride of Victor Fleming Chancellor, Jr. The wedding took place in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Walker, West Highway 80. Chancellor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor F. Chancellor, Caracas, Venezuela, South America.

Bonnie Jean Cummins of Denton was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joyce Crawford, Kathryn Kendrick, Eleanor Simpson and Mrs. R. W. King, Jr., all of Midland. Jennifer Combs was the flower girl.

Attendants Listed
Charles Chancellor of Oklahoma City was best man. Ushers were Wilbur Yeager, C. W. Chancellor, Jr., R. W. King, Jr., and Janes M. Turner, all of Midland.

The church was decorated with an archway covered with greenery and white Marconi daisies depicting a garden wedding. In the background were palms and baskets of white stock and gladiolus. Altar rails were covered with greenery and Marconi daisies.

Homer Meek, Jr., organist played, "Evening Star," "In Summer," "Communion," "Melodie," "Romance," "O Perfect Love," "Bridal March," and "Wedding March." Everett Miles, soloist, sang "One Alone," "Through The Years," and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin and net fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline cut in pointed sections and softened with pleated tulle. The long sleeves extended into points over the hands. The fitted bodice was attached to a ballerina length skirt of net over satin. The skirt extended into a short train.

Her fingertip veil of ivory silk illusion was attached to a cap of satin leaves outlined with seed pearls.

Wore Lilac Dresses

The attendants were dressed identical in ballerina length dresses of lilac nylon net over matching taffeta. The dresses were fashioned with full skirts with a butterfly effect in back. They wore matching picture hats and matching mitts. They carried fan-shaped bouquets of purple asters.

The flower girl wore a lilac organza dress with a deep yoke of ruffles and a full skirt. She wore violets in her hair.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Walker wore a toast colored lace-over-taffeta floor length dress with pink accessories. Her corsage was pink camellias.

Mrs. Chancellor wore a silk formal with a lace yoke and aqua and white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink camellias.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church annex.

Reception Held
Those in the receiving line were Mrs. Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Chancellor, Sr., and the bridesmaids.

Others in the party were Alice Mattix, Mrs. M. S. Garrett, Mrs. Ellis Franklin, Mrs. S. P. Hall, Mrs. Robert Rapier, Mrs. Delbert C. Brooks, Mrs. LeRoy Gibson, Betty Cooke and Mrs. Felton Henry.

The bride's table was covered with a lilac satin cloth caught at the corners with purple asters and ribbon. The centerpiece was an arrangement of purple asters surrounding miniature bride and bridegroom figurines. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with miniature calla lilies. Silver candelabra holding purple tapers completed the decorations.

For the wedding trip to Acapulco and Mexico City the bride chose a navy and white wool suit with navy accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

To Live Here

After May 5 the couple will be at home at 406 East Cedar Street.

Chancellor is the purchasing manager for the West Texas Office Supply. Mrs. Chancellor is an employee of the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and Texas State College for Women. Chancellor was graduated from high school in Midwest, Wyo., and attended the University of Wyoming.

Out-of-city guests at the wedding were Mrs. A. B. Dunn, Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McGarr, and Mr. and Mrs. Graddon Trussler, San Angelo; Mrs. Pearl Cummins, Denton; Mrs. S. E. Simpson, Lamesa; Mrs. J. E. Pickering, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hudgens, Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Campbell, Andrews.

The bride was honored with a spinster supper Thursday in the home of Eleanor Simpson. Co-hostesses were Joyce Crawford and Pat Butcher.

The table was centered with a basket of daisies. Twenty guests attended.

Mrs. Victor F. Chancellor, Jr.

PLANS SUMMER WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Albert Arrington of Midland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patsy Lou, to Dorbandt J. Barton of Fort Stockton. Barton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorbandt T. Barton of Fort Stockton. The wedding will take place June 23 in the First Christian Church in Midland. Miss Arrington was graduated from Midland High School and attended Christian College in Columbia, Mo., and the University of Texas where she was a member of Chi Omega Sorority. Barton is a graduate of Fort Stockton High School. For the last four years he has attended Texas A&M where he has played football on the Aggie team. Barton will be a June graduate and is to report July 9 for military service.

Mrs. Hurst Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Ray Hurst was hostess to the Beginners Garden Club of the American Association of University Women when it met Friday.

Mrs. Robert Vernon Smith

Ceremony Unites McAuley And Smith

Vows were solemnized Saturday in the First Christian Church for Marcia Lea McAuley and Robert Vernon Smith. The Rev. Clyde Lindsley, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McAuley of Crane. Mrs. Lillian Smith of St. Charles, Ill., is the mother of the bridegroom.

Betty Gaines sang "Because" and "I Love You." She was accompanied by Mrs. Marion Alles who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The church was decorated with side and center basket arrangements of white gladiolus. Candelabras holding tall, white tapers also were used in the decorations.

Mrs. G. E. Kelley of Fort Worth was the matron of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. T. P. Frizzell, III, Carlene Carruth of Pampa, cousin of the bride, and Beverly Traber of Fort Worth.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown fashioned with a yoke of sheer illusion outlined with a diamond motif embroidered in seed pearls. The long sleeves came to a point over her wrists and the full skirt extended into a cathedral length train. The tiered fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a cornet of orange blossoms and was edged in Chantilly lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with a streamer of white satin ribbon and stephanotis.

The bride's mother chose a gown of chartreuse chiffon lace set off by a pink hat and gloves and a waist corsage of pink roses.

The attendants wore identical gowns in pastel shades of yellow, pink, green and blue. The dresses were fashioned with fitted bodices of lace which tied with a wide cummerbund sashes of matching satin. The gowns had high necklines and Peter Pan collars. Their headresses were of rolled net with shoulder length veils in colors to match the attendants wore lace mitts and carried colonial bouquets of deep pink carnations.

J. L. Huff was the best man. Ushers were Bill McAuley of Crane, both of the bride, Bill Flowers and James Hogan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cochran. The table was laid with a drawn-work cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded by a floral arrangement of sweetpeas and fern, stood at one end of the table. At the other was the silver coffee service presided over by Ann Tipton. The house was decorated with baskets of white gladiolus. Lillie Gilbert presided over the guest book.

For her wedding trip to New Orleans and Chicago, the bride wore a navy suit with navy and white accessories and a chartreuse topcoat.

After the trip the couple will live in Mineola where the bridegroom is employed by Shell Oil Company.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Texas Christian University where she was a member of Alpha Chi and Kappa Mu Epsilon. Smith was graduated from Purdue University.

Party Honors Miss Midkiff

RANKIN — Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Midkiff gave a birthday party for their daughter Carolyn Monday in the Park Building.

The table was centered with a copper platter filled with ivory. Alice Midkiff of Midland, sister of the honoree, presided at the punch bowl. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Darby Anderson.

Out-of-city guests were Mrs. T. O. Midkiff, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McDonald, Buddy McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Midkiff, Bobby Midkiff and Alice and Frankie Midkiff, all of Midland.

Crane Study Club Has Hobby Program

CRANE — Hobbies were featured on the program at the recent meeting of the Crane Study Club. The group met in the home of its president, Mrs. B. W. Ervin.

Hobbies represented included oil painting, Mrs. W. H. Haralson and Mrs. Wilson; tea aprons fashioned from handkerchiefs, Mrs. Addie Bell; handmade cowboy shirts, Mrs. Harry Cowden; azalea plants, Mrs. I. H. Haskins; products of a kitchen garden, Mrs. Ervin and crocheted bed spreads, Mrs. Wesberry. Mrs. W. N. Hanley presented her son, David, and his partner, Judy Simmons, in the dance, "Put Your Little Foot." Mrs. O. E. Stevenson recited poetry and Mrs. Max Leaman showed colored movies depicting a day in the life of her young daughter. A humorous note was introduced when Mrs. R. V. Wilson, Jr., showed a "Dagwood" sandwich which she had made.

Antiques shown included a 60-year-old glass pitcher, a bill of sale for a negro slave dated 1853 and a silk and linen bedspread brought from France more than 60 years ago. Among the members who collected antiques were Mrs. J. O. Coffey, Mrs. H. H. Everett, Mrs. Tom Hogan and Mrs. Wilson.

The house was decorated with bouquets of roses grown by Mrs. P. O. Vines. Mrs. Troy Kadel brought an arrangement of desert plants and cat-tails.

During the business session, Mrs. C. A. Shaffer, Mrs. S. D. Wimberly, Mrs. Curtis Cook and Mrs. Ruth Eden were elected to membership. The resignation of Mrs. Max Leaman as vice president was accepted.

Plans were made to begin the classification work in the library May 1 with June 1 set as the tentative date for the public opening. Mrs. Inez Elmore, library chairman, gave the report.

Mrs. O. E. Stevenson will review "South Pacific" at the club's next meeting, April 30.

Money IS Important, But It Won't Keep Love Alive

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A young wife, the mother of several small children says: "Why don't you write something for people like us?"

"We have so little money I can't follow a lot of the advice that is given wives—to dress up for their husbands, go out with them in the evenings, make home a peaceful, attractive place, and so on.

"On our budget I do well to get one new dress and one new house-dress a year. I'm always clean and neat when my husband comes home, but how tired he must get of seeing me always wearing the same thing. Yet he must have decent clothes to hold down his job, and the children which she had made.

That is putting it on the line, all right. And there are a lot of young wives and mothers in the same boat. There's no use evading the issue. It IS hard for a young woman to know that is lack of money that keeps her tied down, that keeps her from making the most of her looks for her husband's sake, that creates all sorts of problems and worries and frustrations.

It's plenty tough, and it takes a woman of unusual courage to work and go without while her youth slips from her, and never indulge in self-pity. But if she is doing the best she can—as I'm sure this woman is—for her husband and children, if she loves her husband and he loves her in spite of their troubles and worries, she need have no fear of losing her man simply because they are poor.

"Don't tell me money isn't important," this woman ended her letter. I won't. For money IS important. But it won't buy happiness, or keep love alive.

Actress Offers Tips On Mature Charm

BY MIRIAM HOPKINS
Written For NEA Service
Morale, it's often been said, is composed of many small things. A new hat, a bright lipstick, a new kind of perfume are all helpful for lifting a woman's spirits. But to a mature woman, perhaps the most important morale builder is the realization that her beauty was not extinguished along with the candles on her 40th birthday cake. She not only can, but should look her prettiest now that she's reached the mid-years.

Since I'm a part of the most glamorous business in the world, I learned long ago the importance of looking my best at all times. This includes stay-at-home evenings as well as public appearances. All of us must have our hair in pin curls at some time — movie stars, too. But we needn't look pin-curl'd, thus betraying our which hides pin-curls, is glamor trick for stay-at-home evenings; common sense diet at mealtime helps retain youthful figure contours while providing adequate fuel for energy.

and rapid combing. Experience has taught me that nothing is a substitute for the nightly brushing that was a part of our grandmothers' beauty routine. Whenever I have the feeling that I might, just this once, skip one night's brushing, I take a firm grasp upon both my will-power and my hair brush and perform this necessary beauty chore anyway. I always brush against the grain of my hair, from the scalp outward to the ends. I exercise my self-control when it comes to my diet, too. There are few actresses—and I believe few other women—who can really afford the luxury of a don't-care attitude toward the extra pounds that sometimes tend to accumulate with the mid-years. I've learned through experience which foods are vital as energizing and body-building fuel, and which are to be avoided. It's not difficult to do without foods that invite unwanted weight, once you realize what they are, and once you appraise these self-denials as a small price to pay for retaining your youthful contours. Sweets and starches are, of course, the chief villains, but this doesn't mean you are to eliminate them entirely from your meals. A lip-slip, unbalanced diet is not the answer to your weight problem. Unless you're extremely active, chances are your body actually requires less food than it did in your athletic teen-age days. By simply cutting down on your food intake, you may be able to pare off pounds. The large servings you customarily spoon onto your plate may very well be the result of habit rather than hunger. Early Pioneer Days Relived In Children's Theater Play

Redskins went on the warpath Friday night before a near-capacity crowd in the City-County Auditorium. The occasion was the Children's Theater production, "Daniel Boone," and the time was 7:30 p.m. The play, under the sponsorship of the Midland Service League, effectively recaptured the spirit of early America in the story of one of its hardest pioneers. Walter Cremin headed the cast as Boone, the man who braved the threat of Indian attacks to settle the wilderness. His sturdy followers included Harry Harrison as Tom Hancock and Dan Ratcliff as the comical Hardy Goodfellow. Joe Young played Colonel Appleby, the Army officer who listened reluctantly to Boone's advice on Indian fighting. His son and daughter, Flanders and Fanny, were played by Danny Page and Susan Alstrin and Mary Anne Searles took the part of his wife. Other pioneers were Israel Boone, portrayed by Richard Gibson; Je-mima Boone, played by Sally Breeze; Mrs. Hancock, Janeda Wilson, and young Tom Hancock, Bill Crothers. Leads Indian Tribe Randall Gibson, as Chief Blackfish, headed the Shawnee tribe which made Boone captive. The part of King Mouluntha was taken by Bill Robitsek. Joan Fitzgerald took the role of Sharp Nose, the suspicious Indian maiden who almost prevented Boone's escape from the Indians. Joe Hills, as Lone Boy, was a trouble-making brave with the Shawnee's war party. Bob Bliss was Wildcat, Tom Dilday, Big Arrow, and Dennis Dilday, Blue Bear. Other warriors were played by Bill Lees, Keys Curry, Jim Wilcox, Mike Flood, Terry Palmer and Bill Buckley. Ann Fitzgerald as Grey Eyes and Linda Davis as Yellow Flower were Indian maidens of the Shawnee tribe. Other squaws were played by Jan Drake, Judy Bliss and Judy Pittman. John McQuigan took the part of the British agent who bought American captives from the Indians. Other settlers were played by Betty Geas, Mary Hendrix and Wendy Bradley. The production staff included Art Cole, director; Mrs. Charles Marsh, assistant director; Sally Lees and Diane Perkins, student assistants; Mrs. John Walton and Mrs. Jack Wilkinson, construction and painting; Mrs. Murray Faskan, costumes; Mrs. W. F. Z. Germain, Jr., properties; Bill Lees, Eddie Zabin, Sylvia Kroenlein and Wendy Bradley, properties assistants. John McQuigan, scene shifting; Mrs. Charles Pierce, sound effects; Mrs. R. E. Throckmorton, Mrs. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Clem George, publicity; Mike Flood, lights, and Mary Ann Searles, Janeda Wilcox, Neal Sutton and Ann Wynn, programs, completed the production staff. HUFFMANS HAVE FISH FRY CRANE — A fish fry was given Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Huffman honoring Huffman's brother, Roll Huffman of Michigan. The party was given in the Community Hall.

Maternity Suits, Dresses Invade Fashion Glamor Field

These maternity clothes with long life are designed to make a lady-in-waiting look pretty. Appealing voile (left) has scalloped organdy collar, black velvet belt. Two-tone broadcloth (center) is in mauve and purple, has dark green cummerbund. Polka-dotted yellow crepe (right) has brief navy blue linen bolero.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Maternity double purpose, double life and real clothes no longer appear to be maternity clothes. It's taken them a long time to evolve from frumpish, dowdy dresses into fashions with a glamor. But they've done it. Further, these budget-priced clothes can stay on the job in a wardrobe after the baby has come.

Judging School Closes With Exams

Twenty-five women from Midland and area cities took examinations Saturday morning for Flower Show Judging certificates.

These examinations were the closing event of the Flower Show Judging School held Thursday and Friday in the Midland Officers Club.

The school was sponsored by the Midland Council of Garden Clubs.

Lecturers for the school were Dorothy Biddle of New York and Mrs. C. E. Beavers of Fort Worth.

Miss Biddle spoke Thursday on "Principles of Flower Arranging." The afternoon lecture consisted of judging arrangements and giving illustrations.

Mrs. C. E. Beavers lectured Friday on flower show practice and duties of the committees. The afternoon lecture was on horticulture and judging horticulture specimens.

Approximately 120 women of Midland, McCamey, Stanton, Odessa, Snyder and Kermit attended at least one of the lectures. Fifty-nine women registered for the entire course.

Mrs. E. W. Cowden was general chairman of the school.

Beta Sigma Phi To Honor Founder Of Girlstown, U. S. A.

Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown, U. S. A., will be honored next Sunday with an invitational tea given by the members of Beta Sigma Phi. The tea will be held in Hotel Scharbauer.

Miss Anthony will be in Midland April 29 and 30. A banquet will be given in her honor Monday night.

Miss Anthony founded Girlstown in March 1949. As the first and only Girlstown in America it is operated with the purpose of exerting increasing force in the prevention of juvenile delinquency.

Located Near Whiteface

Girlstown is a small community located on a ranch eight miles south of Whiteface. Infants and girls up to 15 years of age are admitted as residents. Girls are not accepted who have been married or who have been in any sort of correctional institution. No girl living in the home may be adopted.

The girls lead a very normal life and attend the public schools in Whiteface. They are trained in the arts of homemaking and are taught dramatics, music, speech, voice and art. Girls who go there to live remain until they have completed their education at Texas Technological College or a business course.

Incorporated under a state charter and with federal approval, Girlstown is financed and developed through a simple partnership plan, rather than by a board of directors. Partnerships are received by giving to Girlstown. This way, everyone in America can have a part.

NEW YORK—Lightweight wool is cut into both the topper and the greatcoat this Spring. A wool that weighs only 12 ounces a yard, for instance, may have the texture look of a fine, heavy fleece. And a great-coat cut in this porous wool weighs little more than a dressmaker suit. A handsome topper designed (left) by Mangone is pure white virgin wool, suitable for Summer as well as Spring. Mangone gives this topper a long revere collar, detailed sleeves with split cuffs and beautiful white bone buttons. The deep pockets are slanted and detailed to harmonize with the cuffs.

In practically every British mystery film ever made, the sleuth turns up at some point in a greatcoat. Monte-Sano has done the feminine version of a greatcoat (right) this Spring. It's a distinct departure from the well-known pyramid.

It's a coat with character, light in weight, yet having the necessary, bulky look of the greatcoat. The appearance of fullness is gained by a gored skirt and back. Cuffs are deeply turned back and the collar has long flaring points to be worn curved under or spread wide. Bodice panels are used just above the waistline.

Adult Council Sponsors Party

The Adult Council for Youth sponsored a play party for the junior high and senior high students Tuesday in the Park Building.

Mrs. D. S. Anderson and Mrs. R. H. Johnson were hostesses. Co-hostesses were Mrs. W. A. Hudson, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Mrs. Tyson Midkiff, Mrs. Linton Clark, Mrs. W. L. Capps and Mrs. Ross Wheeler.

Mrs. Capps, Elbert Eckols and Coach Joe Scrivner were in charge of the games.

Sixty students attended.

Voters League Plans Activities

Plans for the coming year for the League of Women Voters have been announced by the president-elect, Mrs. J. S. Roden. The league will continue its voters service on all local, state and national elections. It will work to secure passage of the election law revision legislation and establishment of the family relations courts in Texas. It also will conduct a study of the Midland charter. The League of Women Voters was organized in Midland 11 years ago and was the only league serving West Texas until this year. The league is a non-partisan organization, its object being to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. The league takes a stand on issues but it never endorses or opposes a candidate for office.

Pakistan Plans For Surplus Of Cotton

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: New face looms on GOP political horizon; Democrats may choose Eisenhower if Republicans choose MacArthur; No rest for G.I.s in Korea.

WASHINGTON — Up until now, most of the top strategists in the Republican Party were reasonably sure the GOP national convention battle 15 months hence would be between two men—Taft and Eisenhower. Now they aren't so sure.

The man who has upset them is the general who came back from Tokyo last week. Even despite the general's disclaimer of political ambitions, the politicians are upset.

It would be a mistake to say that those who would policy inside the GOP are too enthusiastic about MacArthur as a candidate. In the first place, they couldn't control him. Secondly, patronage would be his, not theirs—and patronage is something without which no political boss can long survive.

This, incidentally, is one reason the party bosses never have been enthusiastic about General Eisenhower. For he likewise probably would not understand how the party system works. That is why Taft always has been the favorite of the chief architects of the Grand Old Party. Nevertheless, the glamorous MacArthur, plus the crowds he has drawn, the appeal he seems to have, the manner in which he has made President Truman take a back seat, has made GOP planners think twice. Some do so with great regret, because they had their heart set on Taft. Some are waiting to see how soon—if ever—MacArthur stubs his toe.

Some are wondering also what the MacArthur boom will do to Eisenhower. If the GOP nominates a military man for President, then the Democrats are certain to offset him with a military man of their own adoption—Eisenhower.

That is why the return of the General of the Army from Tokyo has turned the GOP candidate-pickers literally topsy-turvy. And it will take a couple of weeks for them to get their political predictions reshuffled and in place again.

Texas Vs. Kentucky Humor
Sharp-tongued Senator Tom Connally of Texas was ribbing Vice President Alben Barkley, a Kentuckian, about his reputation as a storyteller.

"That's the only way you can get elected in Kentucky—telling those hillbillies down there stories to keep them happy," said Connally.

"If you told more jokes and discarded that sour look, I'll bet you'd get all the votes in Texas" countered the Veep.

"I don't want all the votes, just a majority," replied Connally.

"I couldn't stand being obligated to everybody in Texas."

G.I. Gripe Bag

In order to help servicemen with their problems of adjusting to military life, this column periodically publishes excerpts from G.I. letters and tries to answer their complaints. Names are withheld upon request.

Company G, 15th Infantry, Third Division, Korea — "We have just been brought back from the front for a rest. As we understand it, we are supposed to spend this time to rest, write letters and catch up on much-needed sleep—plus a little recreation. Instead we have spent our rest period building a sidewalk in a Korean village outside of Seoul. We have been working long hours, hauling chunks of stone, weighing up to 100 pounds, from a nearby cliff."

Answer — Front-line troops should be entitled to a rest. The Army has promised a thorough investigation of the incident you report.

A private, Camp Stoneman, Calif. — "I was forced to travel to Camp Stoneman by train. Why shouldn't the Army let me spend the same amount of money for an airplane ticket, so I can spend more time at home on furlough?"

Answer — The Defense Department has an unofficial policy of giving the railroads priority on military passenger travel. This is partly due to the fact that in wartime the airlines have been so crowded that it is difficult to get space on them.

A Draftee, Fort Lewis, Wash. — "The Coast Guard is a haven for draft dodgers. Those who are lucky enough to get into Port Security units are exempt from the draft until M-Day. This isn't fair to the rest of us."

Answer — It is true that draft-eligible men have been able to get into Coast Guard Port Security units. It also is true that all they are required to do is attend 48 drills and serve two weeks active duty per year. This automatically exempts them from the draft.

However, the Coast Guard claims it has sent letters to 150,000 ex-Coast Guard men in an attempt to recruit 289 officers and 2,420 enlisted men for Port Security units. Only after all other methods failed, the Coast Guard claims, did it open these units to draft-eligible men. These units still are short 67 officers and 825 men.

Mrs. Otto Tassof, St. Louis, Mo. — "My son has been in Korea all winter, and in each letter, he asks for food. The mail rates to Korea are very high. Isn't there any way these packages can be sent cheaper?"

Answer — Congressman Cecil King, California Democrat, has introduced a bill to provide free parcel post for wives and parents of servicemen sending packages to Korea. It now is up to Congress.

Note — Several letters have been received from veterans of the Fourth Marine Division, asking whether the war will interfere with their annual reunion. The answer is there will be no interference. The reunion will be held in Chicago at the Hotel Sherman, June 28, 29 and 30.

Truman Telephones
President Truman was so pressed for votes during the fight on 18-1/2-year-old draft that he called a Republican Senator off the floor and lectured him.

Senator Wayne Morse, the energetic Oregonian, was arguing against the administration's 18-year-old draft when a page told him of an urgent telephone call.

It was the President.

"I have Secretary Marshall here with me," he said, "and both of us want you to know you're not helping him."

Morse was a little surprised, but replied:

"I respect you and the Secretary, Mr. President, but this is a matter of conviction with me."

In the end, Senator Morse won. Congress passed the 18-1/2-year-old draft, not the 18-year-old.

A man can spend an acre of land in about 15 days.

Girl Scouts Have Meetings

RANKIN — Girl Scout Troop 1 met recently with the leader, Mrs. D. O. McEwen. A party was planned for Friday.

Scouts attending were Gloria Morgan, Rachel Broyles, Mary Lou McCain, Jan Daugherty, Rovena Langford, Kay McEwen, Pat Dismann and Genevieve Poage.

Intermediate Troop 3 held its initial meeting recently. Leaders are Mrs. J. R. McSpadden and Mrs. T. E. Montgomery.

Officers elected were Sue Schlager, president; Beverly Bennett, secretary; Mary E. Baldwin treasurer; Rhoda McSpadden, reporter; Andra June Mitchell, song leader; Patsy Stephenson, first aid chairman and Colleen Duer, program leader.

Others attending were Susanne Hazel and Amelia Hernandez.

The troop met again Wednesday to study "Tenderfoot Requirements."

Garden Club Council To Have Program

The Midland Council of Garden Clubs will have its annual May Fellowship Program at 3 p.m. April 30 in the Asbury Methodist Church. The theme will be "Women At Work." The host church will provide during the social hour.

Anyone interested is urged to attend. The nursery will be open.

+Rankin News+

RANKIN—Mrs. M. L. Brown of Portland, Ore., visited in Rankin Monday after an absence of 14 years. The Browns, with their son and two daughters, are former Rankin residents. Mrs. Brown has been visiting a short time with her son, L. Z. Brown, and family in Andrews and expects to return to her home in Oregon in a few days.

Mrs. Tommy Workman has been ill with measles at her home on the ranch.

Mrs. Hamilton Still, Don and David, made a business trip to Dallas recently.

D. L. McKay, who has owned and operated the Elite Cafe in Rankin several years, has sold the business to Tommy L. Stephenson. The cafe is being managed by Stephenson's sister, Mrs. Beebe, who with her husband and family moved to Rankin in February.

Mrs. R. O. White and Mrs. R. H. Johnson of Rankin and Mrs. Ross Welch of McCamey, district officers of the WSCS, attended sub-district meetings of the organization in Junction and Mertzon last week.

Men Of Air Force Turn To Religion

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)—The men of the U. S. Air Force are turning to religion.

An average of 12,000 airmen now attend the 115 services offered by Lackland Air Force Base chaplains in the ten chapels on the base. There are more than 30 chaplains, representing all faiths.

So that all can attend, Sunday services are held from early morning until late evenings. Because the chapels won't hold the crowds, two theaters and a large assembly tent are used for religious services. More than a thousand men confer personally with chaplains each week.

Play Readers Club Observes 20th Anniversary With Tea

The Play Readers Club observed its twentieth anniversary Friday with a tea in the home of Mrs. C. E. Marsh.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. John FitzGerald, president; Mrs. James Martin, president-elect, and the hostess.

Arrangements of Spring flowers decorated the house. The tea table was laid with a pale yellow organdy cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow stock and white ranunculus. The appointments were silver. A fan-shaped arrangement of yellow iris and tulips flanked by brass candleabra was used on the table in one of the entertaining rooms.

A brief history of the club was given by Mrs. Elliott Barron, the only charter member in attendance. Following her talk, Mrs. Wilmer Stowe read to the group.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Charles Klapproth and Mrs. Wilson Bryant, members who had joined the club during its first year.

Mrs. J. Harvey Herd, Mrs. Bill Pennebaker and Mrs. Barron assisted in the dining room and Mrs. Ralph Barron was in charge of the guest book.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Wilson Bryant, Mrs. DeLo Douglas, Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. C. E. Marsh, Mrs. W. T. Schneider, Mrs. R. D. Scruggs, Mrs. Wade Heath, Mrs. J. E. Beakey and Mrs. A. A. Bradford.

Favors of match folders marked with the founding date and the current year were presented to the guests.

The club was founded by Mrs. Tom Flood in 1940-41 with five members. Its purpose is to read and discuss modern plays. Once a year each member must brief a modern play to one hour and read it to the group. One reader each year is elected to read at the Play Readers Tea, an annual guest event. Membership is limited to 20 women who must have mutual interest and training or experience in some field of dramatics.

Approximately 100 guests called.

Daisies Tell...

Justin McCarty $19.95

JUSTIN McCARTY embroiders tiny daisy patterns all over the bodice — back and front — of a young and charming date dress in chiffon voile. So soft and pretty . . . with wide shouldered neckline, snug waist, and full skirt . . . the fashion formula for a successful evening. Daisies do tell a fashion story here! Contrasting embroidery on brown, grey, navy, toast, or green.

WILSON'S

For daytime wear, I prefer clothes of tailored cut and simple fabric. Dresses of wool jersey or gabardine, suits of flannel or tweed are best, I feel, during the fall and winter season.

In summer, I still strive for a handsome, rather than a frilly, effect. My warm-weather piques, linens and chambrays are chosen for line and color rather than for their trappings.

Plain clothes, undecorated with fancy buttons or embroidery, enable me to add necklaces and pins of my own choosing to give my costumes a touch of individuality without an overdone look.

I feel many mature women make the mistake of over-adornment. I allow myself only one or two fancy touches for each ensemble. If my hat is trimmed with an eye-catching feather, I leave at home the outstanding bracelet which might vie with it for attention.

Simple accessories—gloves, shoes, handbags—are most practical for daytime wear. They are also most becoming for the woman whose nature enough to realize those clothes are best which don't overshadow the wearer.

Evening clothes present a particular challenge, I feel, to many mature women.

Wishing to look their very best, they tend to overdress, breaking the rules of good taste they scrupulously observe in daytime wear.

Extremes in cut do little for the woman in her mid-years. I find it a good policy to avoid any gown with exceptionally low décolletage. Too-deep necklines can be attractively filed in with a touch of lace or a yoke of chiffon.

As for bare shoulders, by all means soften their nude effect with straps. Even narrow spaghetti straps are helpful.

Since even the most handsome dress can be accessorized into mediocrity, I try to limit my adornments. Fresh flowers count in this category, too, so when I wear them in the evening I cut down on jewelry.

Although a bit of glitter is desirable to add sparkle and gaiety to an evening gown, too much of it can detract pointedly from your appearance.

King, Mrs. Richard Olson, Mrs. S. H. Rockwood, Mrs. Sam T. Crews, Mrs. G. C. Merket and Mrs. Charles Poole.

Church Of Christ Revival To Close

Revival services are scheduled to close with the evening worship service Sunday in the Church of Christ, North A and Tennessee Streets. James P. Miller of Tampa, Fla., is the speaker.

The meeting has been held the last 10 days with services at 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily.

American Uniforms, Arms Equip Soldiers Sailors, Airmen Of Non-Communist World

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — All over the non-Communist world, soldiers, sailors and airmen are wearing American uniforms and using American arms. There is no accurate count of how many troops are partially equipped in this manner, but it would run to at least 1,000,000.

Some of this equipment is new, but most is World War II surplus. Since the end of World War II, the U. S. has disposed of more than $10,000,000,000 worth of surplus military goods abroad. More than 40 nations received surplus military property ranging from side arms, smaller ships and tanks, to artillery and aircraft — fighters and bombers.

Some surplus property the U. S. gave away, much was sold. Sales brought in about $2,000,000,000. This post-war surplus disposal followed the pre-war and war-time lend-lease. The disposal program itself has been followed by special military aid to various nations and the Military Defense Assistance Program under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which is now in operation and providing our allies with large quantities of military equipment and training.

Most Of Europe
South America, Latin America, Canada, the British Commonwealth, most of Europe, Scandinavia, the Union of South Africa and the Philippines received surplus military equipment through the disposal program. Many of these nations now have troops in Korea, fighting with U. S. weapons which they came to know through this series of programs.

The scope of the surplus disposal program is shown by the great number of purchases. France acquired Fighting for United Nations, soldiers of a Turkish brigade wear American uniforms and man a U. S.-made machine gun as they guard an emplacement atop a hill somewhere in Korea.

262 Navy vessels, as well as great quantities of other equipment. Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia purchased military aircraft, small arms, ammunition and other material. Nationalist China received ammunition and explosives. Iran got small arms, ammunition, explosives and spare parts for weapons and aircraft.

Peru bought ammunition, artillery shells, six ex-Coast Guard vessels and a landing craft. Honduras purchased rifles, machine guns and howitzers. Switzerland and Italy bought aircraft and parts. Canada and the United Kingdom received ships, aircraft parts, electronics equipment and tanks. South Africa received tanks, trucks, cranes and aircraft equipment. Finland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden received ammunition, ships, explosives and aircraft parts and equipment.

All the North Atlantic Treaty nations have some troops familiar with U. S. equipment. Many of them are even used to wearing U. S. uniforms since the surplus disposal program.

Under the Military Defense Assistance Program of the NATO, the U. S. is providing even more guns, tanks, ships and planes to the NATO nations. Italy received three destroyer escorts. F8E Thunderjet fighters are being provided and more are forthcoming. So far the U. S. allotted 1900 tanks and vehicles, 600 aircraft and 50 ships under the program. Eight hundred thousand tons of new equipment have been delivered.

Besides providing equipment, the U. S. is training a great number of foreign service personnel in the use of the equipment. Some 2000 MDAF personnel are now training in the U. S.

Fort Benning, Ga., is the scene of infantry training, and many armored unit personnel are being trained at Ft. Knox, Ky. At Ft. Bliss, Texas, anti-aircraft crews are being trained. About 500 air-cadets — French, Dutch, Norwegian and Korean — are in training in Texas, and Naval air trainees are active at Pensacola, Fla. Foreign crews for ships to be turned over to MDAF nations are in training ashore and afloat at various Naval bases throughout the nation.

Besides the 2,000 now in training and 20,000 trainees expected in the U. S. by the end of 1951, the MDAF operates a broad training program under the European Command. The EUCOM group has five training units now operating.

Expansion of the North Atlantic Union defenses, under command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, is expected to call for even greater transfers of equipment and increased training of foreign forces by the U. S.

Apply Oil After Your Bath For Soft, Appealing Legs

An after-bath coating of baby oil helps keep legs soft and smooth, frees skin of winter scale and flakiness, adds attractive sheen.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Satin legs are not acquired by chance. Now that blustery winds and drying indoor heat are the regular order of the calendar, special care is necessary to avoid winter weathering.

Lubrication is your best bet, if you wish to avoid the roughness and scalliness that detract from hem-to-shoetip glamor.

To keep your legs soft and smooth during the cold months, try this quick and simple after-bath treatment.

Begin by giving your calves a brisk terry-towel to stir up circulation and scuff off dried skin particles. Then smooth on baby oil, blotting of any excess with a towel. This clear oil, which leaves no unattractive white residue, will not stain your clothing.

Rubbed on as a cosmetic touch when you are dressing, the oil also gives winter-pale legs a slightly darker look, and adds a rich sheen for eye-catching appeal beneath sheer hose or above bobby sox.

The average U. S. farm was mortgaged to about 20 per cent of its value before World War II, but averaged only eight and one-half per cent of its value in mortgage in 1950.

Remove Waterproof Mascara With Special-Purpose Pads

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Many women who are delighted by the resistance of waterproof mascara to rain and tears are also dismayed by its resistance to ordinary cleaning methods.

Recognizing this problem, one maker of this mascara is offering treated pads for wiping off eyelash make-up. Oils in the pads soften the mascara, making easy removal possible.

Never, they stress, should new mascara be applied over the remnants of an old coating. This is responsible in many cases for the "beaded" effect well-groomed women deplore.

The pads have a dual purpose.

according to their makers, who recommend them also for restoring oil to the delicate tissues around the eyes. As a quick treatment for flaky skin or telltale crow's feet wrinkles, try placing a fresh pad upon each eyelid for a brief period each day.

Mascara is removed quickly and cleanly with oil-treated pads designed for this purpose.

DECLINE OF THE FARM—Newschart shows how the number of farms in this country has declined over half a million—or about 8 per cent—in the last decade. Tentative figures from the 1950 census show a count of 5,379,043 farms, according to U. S. Census Bureau Director Roy V. Peel. Big decline is blamed on big farms swallowing up smaller ones; drop in tenant farming; city folk buying farm land for residential purposes, and rural people taking jobs in cities close by.

Present Home Affords Room For Expansion

Modern advancements in the glass industry are helping to push back the living area of the home all the way to the windows to provide more space for the growing family, a prominent architectural consultant observes.

"In these days when families often have to abandon the idea of a larger home because of higher costs and credit restrictions, many are discovering excellent possibilities for expansion in the attic, hallways and walls," Frank Sohn, architectural consultant, said.

The development of Thermopane insulating glass, for example, has enabled the family to utilize the living space of a room right up to the window even in the winter months. This is just one of the many contributions of glass to modern living.

Dark Areas Utilized
Areas which formerly were used for storage and heating equipment are being transformed into bedrooms for the children, playrooms, dens or studies. The problem of daylighting normally dark sections of the house can be worked out by the addition of large windows. In other cases, home owners are using glass partitions to diffuse daylight to the interior.

An attic offers a number of possibilities for extra bedrooms, a studio library or other living space. The extra width of large hallways also can be utilized. Functional closets or shelves, built along the hall walls, provide utility or storage space.

New Campus Signs Keep 'Em Off Grass

WACO—(AP)—"Keep off the Grass" signs weren't doing any good on the Baylor University campus.

"This ain't no pasture."
"Come on Joe, don't be a Schmo. Keep off the grass, and let it grow."
"Grass reserved for courtin' only."
"Kitchawalkinona Grass"

Slow Reading Bares Record For Hookey

KIEL, GERMANY—(AP)—A nine-year-old Kiel boy has set something of a record by playing hookey from school for five months before being caught.

He got away with it because his elder brother, who attended the same school, kept his secret. Little Fritz just went for dally long walks when he should have been in school. But he got caught when his grandmother came to school one day and demanded from the schoolteacher "Why our little Fritz hasn't learned to read yet."

EMPHASIS ON GYPSUM—Gypsum products, used in building since time immemorial, have many uses in the construction of a modern home, as illustrated in this "X-ray" drawing. Unaffected by "war" controls, since gypsum is not a critical material, manufacturers anticipate greater emphasis on gypsum products in new construction and remodeling and have, as a result, geared production to an all-time high output.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—How can I "tone down" the bright color of a red brick fireplace?

A—A softer, lighter color can be obtained by rubbing down the surface with a carborundum block available at paint stores. This will remove soot stains, leaving a new, clean surface.

Q—My house has gray shake shingle siding, light gray windows, darker gray trim and a red front door and flower box. I'm going to put on a new roof. What color do you suggest?

A—Use a light gray asphalt roof in a blend if your house is a low, one-story structure such as the popular ranch style. A light roof will give a feeling of height. If the house looks tallish, put on a dark roof, blue-black, or a dark slate blend. Either will assure over-all harmony.

New Home Furnishings
Q—My husband and I are furnishing a new home, and would like advice on whether to buy furniture in a light wood or a darker shade.

A—This is a matter of personal taste, since furniture in hardwood veneer is equally durable and attractive whether light or dark. It would be best to select a wood which harmonizes with wall paneling and other woodwork in the house. A light or blond wood gives spaciousness to small rooms.

Q—How can I remove a "cloudy" appearance from a lovely old cut-glass decanter? The outside seems clear, but the inside surface has a foggy cast.

A—Fill the decanter with a solution of ammonia and water and let stand for an indefinite period. This may have to be repeated several times before the cloudy appearance entirely disappears. After washing, do not put in stopper until the interior has become thoroughly dry because the moisture will cause clouding.

Home Accidents Kill More Than Korea War

NEW YORK—(AP)—Accidents in homes killed twice as many Americans since last June as the Korean fighting, says Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

And seventy times as many Americans were injured in home accidents as on Korean battlefields during the same period, he adds.

"The figures are a shameful indictment of our carelessness: over 20,000 killed, over 3,000,000 injured inside the American home in the 10 months since the end of June," Tobin said in a speech here.

Epidemic Diseases Rife Among Enemy

TOKYO—(AP)—A Harvard authority has reported captured North Korean and Red Chinese troops "have had an unduly high incidence" of epidemic diseases such as smallpox, typhus and typhoid.

Brig. Gen. James Stevens Simmons, dean of Harvard's School of Public Health, said United Nations forces have suffered very little from the same diseases.

Simmons is senior consultant on preventative medicine to the U. S. Army's surgeon general. His report was made after an extensive tour of the Korean battle front.

Location, Climate Are Important In Selecting Paint

COLLEGE STATION—In buying paint for farm buildings, the main thing to consider is location and climate, says E. C. Brown, extension buildings specialist, Texas A&M College.

He recommends using the harder type paints, which contain greater amounts of zinc oxide, in areas that have warm, humid climates. Soft paints, which contain a high percentage of white lead, are better for use in a dry climate.

In addition to climate and location, a farmer has to consider his income—because in a bad year, he may not be able to keep up a regular painting program. In a regular painting program, buildings are repainted every five years—or whenever the paint shows signs of falling.

Brown suggests that farmers consult their paint dealers about painting problems. These men are qualified to give specific recommendations that apply in the particular areas where they are located.

Home Ownership Trend To Spur Modernization

MINNEAPOLIS—The startling growth in home ownership—71 per cent since 1940—will play a large part in developing the expected boom in residential remodeling and modernization, Tom McDonald predicted recently.

McDonald, vice president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, pointed out that 94 per cent of these homes, or more than 23,000,000, are at least 30 years old and in most cases need reconditioning. Only one house in six is less than ten years old.

"Since many of these families will feel they can't manager to buy a new home under Regulation X, it follows there should be an acceleration of spending for home modernization. It is one of the surest ways for the homeowner to protect an investment which actually represents one of his largest financial transactions."

The owners of today's homes, according to a 1950 Federal Reserve Board survey, have the greatest accumulation of savings of any age group. This will influence their modernization program because American homeowners already have demonstrated a desire to bring their old homes up to date. National expenditures for remodeling, repairs and alterations to homes have been averaging a billion dollars a year for the last four years, he pointed out.

The United Nations has estimated that world population in 1949 was 2,351,000,000—and growing rapidly.

Who owns the farm lands in the Southwest? This question was the basis of a recent study conducted by John H. Southern agricultural economist with the U.S.D.A. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, stationed at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The study covered five states—Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Oklahoma.

Southern found that most of the farm land is owned by individuals. They owned four farms out of five—83 per cent of all farm lands.

Corporations, primarily land and cattle companies, held almost 11 per cent of the land in 1945. Almost 16 per cent of the farm land in Texas is held in corporate ownership.

Public Lands Of the individual land owners, the farm owner operators account for almost 50 per cent of all the owners in the Southwest. However, they owned only 23 per cent of the farm land, with an average of 192 acres each—valued at $7,674.

Twenty-five per cent of the owners in Texas held less than two per cent of the land; on the other hand, 30 per cent of the owners held 80 per cent of the land.

Texas A&M College has a $25,000 rodeo arena which cost only $11,000. The difference between the actual cost and what a contractor would have built it for is $14,000. And that $14,000 saved represents the "blood, sweat and tears" of the college's animal husbandry students.

Last year the Student Activities Committee of the college allocated $11,000 to finance the arena where college and intercollegiate rodeos could be held.

Members of the Saddle and Sirolo Club figured that $11,000 plus a liberal amount of elbow grease might equal the completed arena. At the recent Little Southwestern Livestock Show, the club's president, Tom Harris of Gorman, presented the completed arena to the college.

President Accepts Dr. M. T. Harrington, president of the college, accepted the gift with commendation for the student's persistence and hard work.

Accompanying the gift was a bronze plaque, which was unveiled during the ceremony. It bears the names of the 44 students who refused to let a matter of a mere $14,000 stand in their way.

The plaque dedicated the arena to the sponsors of the Saddle and Sirolo Club, F. I. Dahlberg and O. D. Butler of the Animal Husbandry Department, who backed the club members in carrying out the mammoth project.

Rural Roads problems facing West Texas farmers and ranchers will be discussed Tuesday in Abilene when the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meets, according to R. M. Fielder of Abilene, chairman.

The subject will be dealt with by a panel of leaders well qualified to discuss the rural roads question from every angle.

Friday's rainfall was good while it lasted, wasn't it? The only trouble was that it just didn't last long enough. But the limited moisture proved it still can rain in West Texas, and that is something. We had begun to wonder.

When the brief downpour was at its heaviest, DQ9 rared back with booted feet on the deck—ready to say "we told you so," when the rainfall stopped and the sun found its way through the fast-moving clouds. You will recall that last Sunday we predicted rainfall in more or less abundant quantities before the end of April. There is no use changing now. The prediction still holds. Here we go again—still hoping.

The market was strong and active on the 475 head of livestock consigned and sold Thursday at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale here.

Prices on most classes averaged $1 a hundredweight higher than the week previous. Bulls were up $2 a hundred and several old heavy fat bulls went to $33.50.

Fat calves and yearlings brought $32 to $35.50. Mediums brought $29 to $33. Fat cows went at $25 to $30; mediums $22 to $25, and canners and cutters $17 to $22. Bulls brought mostly $26.50 to $30. Stocker calves, steers and heifers were bid from $38 to $42, and yearling steers $32.50 to $37.50. Heifer yearlings cleared at $32 to $36.

Dr. William T. Hardy has been appointed superintendent of the Ranch Experiment Station at Sonora, effective May 1. He has been acting superintendent since the death of Wallace H. Dameron last October.

The new superintendent is a 1930 veterinary medicine graduate of Texas A&M College, and has been assistant veterinarian of the Sonora station since that time. He is well known throughout West Texas.

Jones Stadium at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, will take on the aspects of the Old West May 3-5, during the annual Tech Rodeo activities.

Rodeo events will include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping and bull-dogging.

Cowgirls also will get a chance to shine in goat tying and clover-leaf barrel racing.

The high-point man will be named "All-Around Cowboy" and will receive a $200 saddle. Other prizes include gold and silver belt buckles to be awarded winners of each event. Prizes also will be given the first four place winners in each event.

Funds raised by the dairymen will be used for advertising, merchandising and research programs. "When people in the cities realize the high nutritive value of milk and dairy products, they will increase their consumption of this healthful food," Gibson says.

Changes in milk production methods and especially in marketing milk and milk products have created new problems for dairy farmers, according to G. G. Gibson, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The 80 per cent of the people who live in towns and cities are not as familiar with dairy products as they were in former times.

"Whole milk processors and distributors are doing a good job of promoting the use of milk and dairy foods; it is up to the milk producers to step in and help with the promotional work," Gibson explained.

Milk producers operate their publicity program through the American Dairy Association, which is financed by the dairymen themselves. They send to the association one cent for each pound of butterfat produced during the month of June. The association is expecting its largest receipts this year, according to word Gibson received from Sam von Rosenberg, field director of the American Dairy Association for Texas. It costs the average dairymen about twenty cents per cow to participate in the program.

Equipment salesmen say more money—$4,900,000—may be invested in South Plains gins this year than in any other season. They do not expect the heavy cotton year of 1949.

They say also that the adding of new gin units and fill-in machines to present gins will be an investment of $2,995,000.

Eleven new outfits and buildings to house them will be added to present gins. In each case they will about double capacity of the gin. Including buildings, each will cost about as much as a new gin.

Equipment salesmen say more money—$4,900,000—may be invested in South Plains gins this year than in any other season. They do not expect the heavy cotton year of 1949.

They say many farmers are turning to cotton this year because of a poor wheat crop. The change from wheat to cotton is most marked in the northwestern part of the South Plains. In this section insects and drought have cut into wheat.

New cottonseed oil milling facilities will be built or added in Lubbock. The Lubbock Cotton Oil Company plans a new oil extracting unit. Already under construction at the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill in Lubbock is a new solvent plant.

All gins under contract ordered machinery before supplies shut down. Salesmen say no new equipment has been available since the first part of the year. Most of the materials for gin buildings have been received or ordered.

Ginners Set For 1,865,000 Bale Crop In South Plains

LUBBOCK —(AP)—Ginners are getting ready for an estimated 1,865,000 bale cotton crop in the South Plains this year.

There are plans to spend almost five million dollars for about 16 complete new gins, and new equipment for 12 existing gins.

Most cotton men temper their estimates of the South Plains crop—also whether all gins and equipment will be built according to contract with an "If it rains."

There are few more than 300 gins already on the South Plains. Sixteen new ones are under contract. Several of these are being built. Others will be built as soon as materials are delivered.

Salesmen of gin equipment report that about $1,900,000 will be spent for new gins.

They say also that the adding of new gin units and fill-in machines to present gins will be an investment of $2,995,000.

Eleven new outfits and buildings to house them will be added to present gins. In each case they will about double capacity of the gin. Including buildings, each will cost about as much as a new gin.

I AM AN AD!

Here's how I work for you to MAKE YOUR JOB MORE SECURE

Perhaps you think you have no interest in me. I beg to differ. . . The fact is, you have an actual INVESTMENT in me. I work for you. I make your job more secure. . . You see, I am an "ad."

HERE'S HOW U. S. NATIONAL INCOME ROSE IN THE LAST 36 YEARS—THE GOLDEN AGE OF ADVERTISING

This rise in the standard of living for you and yours is unequalled in all history. Advertising helped raise this standard—is needed even more today to sell industry's new developments.

You can watch me working for you right on this page. At this precise moment, people are reading the other ads you see here. They are listening to other advertising on the radio, seeing it in magazines, on posters. Soon they will be buying the goods advertised.

Then, what a wonderful "chain-reaction" will start!

As a result, storekeepers will do a better business. Far-off factories will make more things. Farmers will sell their crops. Ships will ply the ocean. Trains will cross and re-cross the nation. This means more people will be working more—earning more. Paychecks will be bigger—homes happier—jobs more secure—all because of the business that begins when people start reading ads!

You hear people say that America has more advertising than any other nation. That is true, and thank Heaven for it!

Because Advertising—the greatest salesman in the world—has done so much to make America the most prosperous nation in the world.

So next time you see me, say "hello" and wish me well. Whether I'm selling sink-stoppers or seal coats, I'm really working for you.

I'm making your job and your home more secure.

OTHER WAYS ADVERTISING HELPS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

- 1 Brings you better goods for less money.
- 2 Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
- 3 Gears consumer demand to production, to create prosperity.

Captain Richerson Goes To Reese For Assignment

Captain Robert D. Richerson of Midland recently was ordered into active military service and reported to Reese Air Force Base for assignment to the 3500th Pilot Training Wing there.

Captain Richerson entered the Air Force in 1943 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1943 at Reese Air Force Base, then known as Lubbock Army Air Field.

Upon receiving his commission he was assigned to that base as a multi-engine instructor.

During World War II, Captain Richerson served in the KTO as a four-engine pilot. He is the holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster and wears three bronze battle stars.

A graduate of Abernathy High School in Abernathy, Captain Richerson later attended Texas Technological College in Lubbock where he received his degree in business administration.

Before being ordered into active military service, Captain Richerson was employed as business manager of the Maat Clinic here.

Lonnie Cogburn, who formerly lived near Midland, is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cogburn, in Odessa.

A graduate of Odessa High School, he enlisted in the Navy last September and this is his first leave since that time.

Li. Ray M. Golden, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davis of Midland, now is attached to the ROTC unit of the Balboa High School in the Canal Zone.

Married to the former Miss Norma Jean Davis, the former Texas A&M student has been in Balboa since last August.

A native of Seymour, he went into service after being graduated from the Texas school.

W. L. Thompson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson, 810 North Loraine Street, has his sights trained on the Annapolis naval academy.

Home last week on leave after completing his basic training at Norfolk, Va., Thompson said he had just taken the examination for entrance into the academy.

MIDLAND WAF—Capt. Gertrude G. Waters, 2010 West Illinois Street, Midland, has been ordered to report for active duty Tuesday with the 3700th WAF Training Group, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. Captain Waters served three and a half years with the Air Force during World War II. She was assigned to headquarters, Air Forces, in The Pentagon in Washington, D. C., and was assigned to the 20th Air Force in the South Pacific when the war was concluded.

Physical Ability To Drive Auto Is Tested By Gadgets

Eyes Front is the command for reporter Richard Kleiner, as Lester Dr. Irmaene Nevins Holloway measures his ability to see things at the side.

By RICHARD KLEINER, NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—Pardon me while I blow my own horn. It turns out that I'm above average as a driver, psychophysically at least.

Being of a co-operative guinea pig nature, I volunteered to try a collection of fancy testing devices designed to see if you have the physical ability to make a good driver. The Greater New York Safety Council, putting on the show, calls the test a psychophysical one. They tested my eyes, reaction time — everything but my clutch and transmission.

The first gadget was sort of a stereopticon with big ideas. You look through it and the operator puts some cards in front of you. On one, for example, there is a line of numbers, from one through 15. An arrow points to one of them.

"What number is the arrow pointing to?" asked the operator. It was halfway between eight and nine, my eyes told me.

"OK, you're normal," said the operator. He explained that he was testing my "lateral balance," and that if I had said anything but eight, nine or 10, I would have been doubtful or unsatisfactory. It was a big relief to know my "lateral balance" was OK.

Test Balance

Other cards tested my vertical balance, fusion, color perception and usable vision. I was normal on all. Which was pleasant, as it's only natural to be worried about one's fusion. Especially if you don't even know you've got one.

Next was the "depth perception" testing device. Two miniature cars on two tracks are attached to long cords. Tracking 20 feet away, I had to pull the cords until the cars lined up—or at least looked lined up to me.

I pulled, and they seemed even. It turned out they were. Which meant, the man explained, that I could judge space, distance and the relative position of objects.

"That's how we test if a guy might cut in too soon after passing or follow too closely," he said. Then he leaned closer and whispered, "Don't let this get around, but unofficially we find women are worse than men on this. Now we know how they get all those banged-up fenders."

After sharing that great secret, he took me on to the next device, a thing which tests if you have limited straight-ahead "tunnel vision." You put this gadget, which looks like a mechanized ping-pong paddle, up to your face. You stare straight ahead at a white dot, while the operator moves two pointers at the sides.

Raise Your Hand

As soon as you see either pointer, you raise your hand. It indicates, not that you want to leave the room, but that you can see moving objects to the side. I saw them within the required distance, meaning that I'm not going to be surprised by a truck coming out of a side street.

Another test measured my reaction speed. You put your right foot on the gadget accelerator, and as soon as a green light turns to red, you jam on the brakes. The device tells you how long it takes you to shift your foot. I did it four times, and my times ranged from three-tenths to one-half a second. That was fast enough.

It turns out that young people are generally quicker in reacting than older people. A boy of seven had set the record but, unfortunately, his father wouldn't buy him a car.

All the test operators emphasized one thing: just because I was normal, I shouldn't get cocky. All that I'm normal at is certain physical things. I can still be a bad driver. If I take chances or drive under the influence of high-test alcohol or have a car with poor brakes or let my attention wander.

As far as any testing can show, however, I may yet grow up to be a taxi-driver.

WTCC Executives To Meet Members Of Monahans Area

MONAHANS—West Texas Chamber of Commerce members from 10 area cities will gather in Monahans next Thursday night to meet Fred Husbands, new general manager of the organization, and hear a discussion of WTCC aims and projects.

Husbands is to speak that night at 7:45 in the Monahans school cafeteria.

Accompanying Husbands will be James F. Melton, new manager of the WTCC taxation and legislation department. Both Husbands and Melton are from Abilene.

Cities expected to send representatives are Kermit, Andrews, Pecos, Van Horn, Alpine, Marfa, Fort Stockton, McCamey and Rankin.

Louis Pinkerton, Monahans, regional vice president of the WTCC, will also be present.

James P. Simmons, Monahans Chamber of Commerce president, expressed pleasure Saturday that the staff officials of the WTCC would be present to become acquainted with area members.

"Monahans," he said, "extends a warm welcome to members from other cities who will attend the meeting. We believe strongly in the value of the WTCC to West Texas' economic and civic enterprises and West Texans should embrace the opportunity to meet Husbands and Melton personally."

Simmons said the get-together would be strictly a business meeting.

More British Planes Are Sent To Malaya

SINGAPORE—(AP)—More bombing planes are coming from England to aid the RAF in its attacks against Communist terrorists in the dense jungles of Malaya.

The RAF Headquarters here said this means an intensification of the air strikes against terrorist hideouts. More planes of the Brigand light bomber type are earmarked for service in Malaya. Delivery flights also will start of Hornet fighter-bombers—Britain's fastest piston-engine aircraft. These are to replace the Tempest fighter-bombers now operating in Malaya, and will carry a bigger punch in the anti-terrorist war.

CRANE—The evaluation program at the Crane public schools has been completed and Dr. A. N. Foster, coordinator, of Sul Ross College, said a written report would be made shortly before the school term ends and be made available in pamphlet form to the public.

Mrs. W. B. Smith of Crane and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Anderreg, Jr., of Sherman, visited relatives and friends in Fredericksburg recently.

Brownie Troop No. 1 met at the elementary school auditorium to rehearse a play.

Mrs. W. G. Slater was in Sweetwater last week to be with her sister, Mrs. D. O. Elrod, who underwent a surgical operation.

Mrs. Frank Dempsey of Iraan has been dismissed from Crane Memorial Hospital where she was a medical patient.

Hames Coker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coker, has been dismissed from Crane Memorial Hospital following a tonsillectomy.

Ladies Of Leisure Like Practical, Pretty Robes

By GAIL DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — Fashion blended with comfort produces house robes this season which look pretty but are practical for the leisure hours at home.

Few women lead the kind of lives which permit them to trail feathery fronds into the butter over a fourth cup of coffee at breakfast. For busy women, elaborate satin and velvet negligees are impractical. So designers have created house robes which are new in line and color but well able to fit in with everyday living. The soft tent line shows up in these robes, frequently quilted in taffeta and cut to street length. The nightgown becomes a robe, too, when it's sashed or belted. The horseshoe neckline used for suits is used for robes, too, in combination with a tiny waistline.

The tailored robe looks new when it appears as an indoor flannel duster (left), cut like a coat and neatly finished with roomy pockets. This street-length robe, in gray, is piped and trimmed in red.

A finger-tip length lounging coat (right) is pretty over gowns or pajamas. In quilted acetate rayon crepe, it has a mandarin collar, double pockets with contrasting trim and self-covered buttons.

Crime Probe Helps Expose Immorality To Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

We can use the Kefauver committee's revelations to show our children the kinship between moral corruption and catastrophe.

You could preach for weeks—and fail to make the case for moral integrity as effectively as it has been made for us by the haunted, strained faces of the committee's witnesses as they have shown themselves in our newspapers, and on newsreel and television screens.

Tonight at dinner, why don't you recreate for your growing youngsters the emotions that must have beset these morally bankrupt men with the big bank accounts?

Let the young consider what these weeks have meant in terms of shock at the revelation that the Power-Money god could not help.

Let them give thought to the mounting panic, the waiting, the lost hope and the despair as the big shots with the big bank accounts were thrust into the blaze where truth shriveled them down to size.

Then say, "Wise men do not build their houses on the shifting sand of self-importance, dishonesty and deceit. They build them on the rock of personal integrity. Then when the storm comes, they eye it calmly, without fear, without hate, without evasion."

Don't quibble. These were disobedient men. It won't hurt Bill or Janet one bit to hear that disobedience to rightful authority brings suffering. Because it is the will to power. Because it is an act of self-segregation from the rest of us who do obey. Because it is self-interested. Because it is anarchy.

Let's Stop Being Tender
The Senate Crime Investigating Committee has done us an invaluable service by exposing an immorality so corrupt that we are revolted. We rapidly are reaching a saturation point in revulsion from immorality, from treason trials and the whole complex mess that has

McCAMEY—Dr. Hal Cooper will be guest speaker before the Oton County Home Demonstration Clubs Wednesday at 3 p. m. at the McCamey Park Building. He will speak on "Arthritis."

The VFW Auxiliary held a special meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. J. B. Stripling. Mrs. Cleatus Brooks, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Installation of officers will be held at the next regular meeting April 24.

Two airplanes carrying six McCamey men left this week for the Gulf of Mexico, just north of Tampico, Mex., Sunday morning where the group plan five days of fishing.

Bill Trumble flew one plane carrying G. W. Basham, E. P. Halamick, and Erle Bone; while C. N. Addison was accompanied by Willis Wolf.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hampton are in Fredericksburg this week where Mr. Hampton is undergoing a medical check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gibbs returned Tuesday from Fort Worth where they visited Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Milner, and Mr. and Mrs. Velt Rice. While they were away their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gibbs of Iraan, were in charge of the park building.

Mrs. V. V. Herring of Albuquerque, N. M., was a guest Tuesday and Wednesday of her sisters, Mrs. J. L. Adrian and Mrs. J. L. Werra. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kellerman of Midland were guests recently in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pulley, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kellerman.

Mrs. C. E. Lee has been in Whitney the past month with her mother, who has been seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Jacobson and children, Sonja and Sonny, spent last weekend visiting in the Big Bend country.

W. E. Pulley was a recent business visitor in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rike were transferred this week to Wink. Mr. Rike is employed by Hufible Oil and Refining Company.

Wallace Littlejohn was a business visitor in Midland Tuesday.

Mrs. James Sammons of Van Horn was a guest recently in the home of her sister, Mrs. A. L. Ohlenburg.

Newton Key, Jr., and Mrs. Key, left by plane this week for Dallas where Mr. Key was to undergo medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Whaley and children, Beverly and Penny, are visiting in Bonham with relatives. They were accompanied on the trip as far as Dallas by Mrs. Whaley's mother, Mrs. J. O. Carril.

Five men left from Local Board

No. 1, serving Upton, Crane and Reagan Counties last Thursday noon for induction into the armed forces, and 16 more left at the same time for physical examinations.

Those leaving for induction were Gerald C. Jones and Joe A. Forbes, of McCamey; Nolan E. Fright, Rankin; Leon S. Osborne, Jr., Big Lake; and H. B. Dawdy of Grandfalls.

Leaving for physical examinations were W. J. Brown, Alfredo C. Fuentes, Donnie R. Hees, and Charlie O. Peoples, all of McCamey; Norris O. Perryman and Jack R. Seals, Big Lake; Oscar J. Fittinger and Bernard E. Husted, both of Crane; Raymond Dixon, Rankin; Melvin D. Day, Texon; Era B. Teel, Monahans; Alvin V. Whaley, El Paso; Duwane A. Ginni, San Saba; Charlie E. District 2-T-2 Lions Convention Opens Here Sunday

Three-Day Event To Draw Approximate 500 Visitors

Its convention time in Midland. Slated to begin at 1 p.m. Sunday is a three-day District 2-T-2 Lions convention which is expected to bring upwards to 500 visitors to the city from a wide West Texas area.

The welcome mat is out. Host unit is the Midland Lions Club, drawing assistance from the Chamber of Commerce and other service organizations.

Lions and their ladies are expected from El Paso, Clint, Ysleta, Fabens, Fort Hancock, Alpine, Marfa, Sanderson, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Iraan, Sheffield, Crane, Kermit, Pecos, Monahans, Wink, Barstow, Toyah, Seagraves, Odessa, Goldsmith, Seminole, Andrews, Lamesa, Snyder, Hermleigh, Colorado City, Lorraine, Terminal, Stanton, and Big Spring.

Lions of the two clubs here will participate while hosting the party. They are the Midland Lions Club and the Evening Lions Club of Midland.

Convention headquarters are in Hotel Scharbauer. Business sessions will be conducted in the City-County Auditorium. The annual Governor's Ball and Banquet will be held at Ranchland Hills Country Club. There is a full slate of activities beginning with registration at 1 p.m. Sunday and ending with a report of the Elections Committee and a feature address shortly after noon Tuesday.

Featured Speakers will be made by S. A. Dodge, district president of Lions International; J. S. Arrington, Iraan; Rosado, Fort Stockton; J. R. Rogers, Fort Stockton; J. R. Shadden, W. M. Stewart, L. L. Wilmon, Wink; and L. L. Wilmon, Wink.

Several events during the convention are scheduled for Monday of the Lions. They will attend the reception Sunday afternoon at the Mills home. Monday morning registration is scheduled for 1 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce. Luncheon is at 11:30 a.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce. Dinner is at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce. The Governor's Ball is Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

Two convention officers are expected to be chief among the attractions of the three-day event. These are the all-star contest Sunday evening and the Governor's Ball Monday. The talent show is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Sunday in the High School Auditorium. Various clubs of the large district will present entertainment numbers in a two-hour show. Delbert D. Woodman, district secretary, will be master of ceremonies. The public is invited to this event. Business sessions will begin after lunch. Entertainment will begin after the feature address by Roy E. Carter.

Lionism Since 1914

Lions clubs are non-political, non-sectarian service organizations composed of a community's business and professional men. Membership is by invitation only. Lionism is an active and efficient medium for united community effort and enterprise. During the fiscal year 1949-50, Lions clubs successfully completed 118,276 separate projects. The history of Lionism dates back to 1914, when Melvin Jones conceived the idea of uniting, on a basis of unselfish community service, business men's clubs in the United States having no other affiliation. The International Association of Lions Clubs was formally founded in 1917, at an organization meeting in Chicago, attended by approximately 50 independent clubs. The first annual convention was held in Dallas, October 8-10, 1917, about 25 clubs participating. By 1920, the Association had more than doubled its membership and had extended into Canada. By 1927, it had extended into Mexico and China, and the number of clubs had increased to 1,810 and a membership of 61,000. The expansion and consolidation of Lionism have continued steadily ever since. For the last 10 years, new Lions clubs have been formed at the rate of one or more a day. The increase during the last fiscal year was 806 clubs. There now are 8,575 Lions clubs in 29 countries of the world on five continents—Australia, Bermuda, Bolivia, British Honduras, Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Denmark, Ecuador, England, El Salvador, Finland, France, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Netherlands, West Indies, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Peru, Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland, the United States, including Alaska, Guam, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, and Venezuela. Total membership is 420,000.

Lion Tamers To Share Lions Club Convention Activities

The Lion Tamers Club, organized for the purpose of promoting fellowship and giving aid to the Lions Club in any way possible, will help in many ways to make the District Lions Club convention a success.

The District 2-T-2 convention of Lions International will be held Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with headquarters in the Scharbauer Hotel. The Midland Club will be host.

The ladies program for Sunday includes helping with registration from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. The reception, to be held from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m., will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills. It is for all convention delegates and their wives.

An all star talent show will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Entertainment numbers will be presented by clubs of the district.

To Tour City
A tour of the city will be conducted at 10 a.m. Monday. The Lion Tamers will assist with the tour.

A luncheon will be held at noon Monday in Dembo's Restaurant for the wives of the Lions Club members.

The final event of the Ladies program will be the district governor's banquet and ball to be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Ranchland Hills Country Club. Mrs. Victor Horn is in charge of the decorations for the banquet.

Mrs. Bill Collyns is in charge of the flowers for the convention.

The Midland Lion Tamers Club is composed of wives of members of the Lions Club. It was organized Nov. 12, 1947 with Mrs. Jim Noland as first president.

Mrs. James L. Daugherty is the current president. Other officers are Mrs. W. C. Kimball, vice president; Mrs. Lee Smith, secretary, and Mrs. Leroy Butler, treasurer.

New Officers Elected
Mrs. Bill Collyns will take over as president of the Lion Tamers Club in May. Other recently elected officers are Mrs. Harry Rhodes, vice president; Mrs. W. E. Summers, secretary, and Mrs. John Sewell, treasurer.

Other members of the Lion Tamers Club are Mrs. J. P. Carson, Jr., Mrs. L. V. Bausham, Mrs. C. A. Churchill, Mrs. Joe Hulium, Mrs. Harlan Howell, Mrs. John Mills, Mrs. R. L. McCormick, Mrs. H. E. Dunn, Mrs. K. W. Edmondson, Mrs. Carl O. Hyde, Mrs. Noel Oason, Mrs. Tommy Henderson, Mrs. J. W. Williams, Mrs. Richard Harrell, Mrs. Charles B. Cobb, Mrs. Gerald Keeler, Mrs. W. D. Hargrove, Mrs. E. Rotary Club Joins Host Lions Unit In Convention 'Hello'

Officials of the Midland Rotary Club, one of the city's largest and most active service organizations, Saturday joined other civic and service units in welcoming members of Lions Clubs of District 2-T-2 to Midland for their annual convention. They also offered their services in entertaining the convention visitors.

"Our club takes pleasure in welcoming the visiting Lions and we hope their convention here will be the most successful in history," President James N. Allison declared.

"We congratulate the Midland Lions Club in bringing the district convention to Midland and in the arranging and staging of the conference."

Other officers, including Hilton Kaderit, vice president; the Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary-treasurer; Dr. J. O. Shannon, president-elect, and Paul Davis, vice president-elect, joined with Allison in extending the greetings.

The Midland Rotary club, organized in January, 1928, represents a cross-section of business and professional men of the city. Its projects and accomplishments are many and varied.

The well-known Rotary wheel, emblematic of service, well might be stamped on many worthwhile civic accomplishments sponsored by the Midland chapter of Rotary International.

Members of the Lions and Rotary Clubs of Midland have worked hand-in-hand in many worthwhile civic programs here. Both clubs were organized in 1928.

Organization of the Midland Rotary Club was sponsored by the Sweetwater Rotary Club, and was started with 24 charter members. W. L. Pratt was the first president. The club now has more than 90 members.

Percy F. Bridgewater, a past president of the Midland club, is being proposed by his home club as a nominee for governor of District 183, Rotary International, at its annual conference in Lubbock this weekend.

Magazine Section Of New York Paper Tells 'The Midland Story'

Pvt. Andrew W. McClintock, Jr., was a long way from his home in Kermit as he thumbed through the April 15 edition of the New York Times magazine section.

He was stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and as he leafed through the magazine, a big headline suddenly caught his eye:

"NEW BOOM TOWN.
"Midland, Texas, capital of the newest oil bonanza, is gushing millions."

He read the three-column story, illustrated with a picture of the city's growing skyline, and then mailed a clipping back to friends in Midland.

The story was written by Russell Owen and described the rapid growth of the city, following the discovery of oil in this area.

Symbol Of Wealth
"Midland, the symbol of this new wealth," said the story, "looks strangely modern in its raw setting. There are no oil derricks in sight for the city fathers have decreed that no one may drill a well within the city limits."
"There are some lovely ranch-type homes. Though trees do not grow easily here, the Chinese elm, with its feathery leaves, lines the streets and open spaces, and some homes are buried in shrubbery grown at great effort."

The Times describes the amount of building as "startling," pointing out that building permits last year totaled $9,000,000.

"Outwardly," continues the story, "the business section downtown appears drowsy at midday, but inside modern, air-conditioned buildings are busy geologists, physicists, engineers, business managers, junior executives and the girls who pound the typewriters and keep the files."

Pictures Trading Activity
The newspaper pictures the trading activity in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer.

"These people, intellectually isolated, must make their own social and cultural environment."
"They do it rather well. They have a little theater and a music association; a branch of the American Association of University Women, and a chapter of the League of Women Voters; and the Petroleum Club, which is the playground of the people with the most money. At bridge and canasta, conversation is likely to be on a fairly high level."

C. Of C. Assisting District Parley

The Midland Chamber of Commerce will give every assistance to the Lions District 2-T-2 convention scheduled here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Working in cooperation with the host Lions unit is the Chamber's Conventions Committee, composed of C. E. (Bud) Ellsall, Hershall Ezell, Frosty Barneth, Cal Boykin, R. H. (Rusty) Gifford and L. W. Began.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies at the all-star talent show (open to the public) Sunday evening in the high school auditorium.

Evangelist Devotes Career To Providing Integrity Of Bible

By WICK FOWLER

Dr. Harry Rimmer stood on a San Francisco street corner 30-odd years ago and bet his life on the integrity of the Bible.

He won—and has a full life of adventure and Bible facts, backed up by scientific research, to show for the bet.

This fountain of Good Book information is in Midland, not for his first time, conducting revival services this week at the First Baptist Church.

He's 60, plus seven months, now, but a keen outdoor existence, travel and delving into the ancient realm of research have cheated appearance of at least 10 of these years. He's handsome in a mannish way, robust and has a ruddy complexion, steel blue eyes and thick graying hair. He's one of God's children who dedicated his strength, his strong, scientific mind and heart to defending the infallibility of the Bible against infidels.

Take the story of the whale swallowing Jonah. People have said it couldn't have happened because a whale couldn't swallow a man. And if it did, the man couldn't survive.

Then there's the incident of the professor of mathematics telling his class years ago it was mathematically impossible for Noah to have loaded all the animals in his Ark that the Bible claimed.

Medical Student
First, though, a little more about the Bible's defense counsel.
Dr. Rimmer was born in San Francisco and lived a rugged life along the Pacific Coast. Medical talk around the house by his mother, a medical nurse, decided his career as a surgeon from the time he was 10.

There wasn't much money. While in medical school at Hahnemann College in San Francisco, he fought as a welterweight to help the budget.

"One New Year's I fought 29 rounds," he recalled. Who won? He did. His opponent went down for a long count.

"The referee raised my hand just in time. Otherwise, I might have fallen over on my opponent."

Bloodied and bruised, he walked home that night. A group of young people were singing hymns on a street corner. A doctor was preaching, much in the fashion of the Salvation Army.

Rimmer listened and was converted.

"Three months later I was preaching beside the doctor."

But his medical school classmates took a dim view of the change in him. Crazy, they said, and controversies involving religion raged.

Naah And The Ark
Then the prof pulled that assertion about Noah's overloading of the Ark.

Rimmer decided to test the Bible story. He set out to prove that Noah could have gotten two animals of each species in the Ark, which was 300 cubits long, 50 cubits at the beam, and 30 cubits deep.

"Nobody knew how long a cubit was," Dr. Rimmer recounted. "I went through all the tables of measurement and all referred to 2,200 B. C. when the standard was set at 22 1/2 inches to a cubit."

"But the Ark was built about 3,700 years before Christ."

He traveled to London and began his deep research in the British Museum. Still there was nobody who knew the length of a cubit in Noah's time. It was a variable measurement; could be the length of an arm or a man's height. Young Rimmer learned to read the ancient hieroglyphics and a smattering of Hebrew to enable him to study all the ancient records that had been excavated up to that time.

Then he started the quest of learning how many animals was placed in the Ark. Seven pairs of clean kinds and one pair of unclean were stipulated.

"I took 14 of every variety of animal that lived in Mesopotamia," he said, "and allowed one-half the Ark's displacement for hay and feedstuffs, using as a basis of measurement the 22 1/2-inch cubit as established by Hammurabi long after the Flood."

He found that each animal would have had 175 cubit feet of space in the Ark.

In Mesopotamia, the cradle of humanity, there are 720 animals between the size of a sheep and a mouse and 290 between a sheep and a camel. No elephants, he said.

He studied Hebrew in an effort to determine whether the Flood was local or universal.

"We knew the Flood was sent to wipe out a wicked race of men," Dr. Rimmer said. "The oldest remains, anthropologists agree, were found in Mesopotamia. This tended to indicate that the Flood was local."

He returned to the math prof with his report, told him he had found three variables in cubit measurement.

Jonah And The Whale
The Bible called it "the cubit of a man." This indicated that Noah had used his own height as a cubit measuring standard.

"I was thrown out of the class," Dr. Rimmer said.

Now, for those who find difficulty in swallowing the whale-Jonah story:

Dr. Rimmer joined the crew of a Monterey, Cal., whaling station where the huge mammals were floated in by ships for cutting up and marketing. He took measurements and studied whale anatomy. For instance, a whale weighs about a ton to each lineal foot.

Libraries were of little help and he discounted sailors' stories as imaginative. Another season in a whaling station and he was ready for the disbelievers.

The Balaenoptera Musculus is a huge whale. It spears along the surface with its gigantic mouth opened and scoops up its foods and anything else that gets in the way. Young Rimmer and another boy had crawled down one's throat almost side by side.

The whale can swallow but due to prong-like construction at the throat opening it cannot em't its food. Now, if something gets into the whale that it doesn't like—for instance, a man kicking around inside . . .

This whale has a huge air tank at its nasal sinus from which the lungs get air when it submerges. Dullied food are thrown into it where they are allowed to decay and be blown out.

Dr. Rimmer reasons that the whale didn't like Jonah's behavior so it tossed the unlucky one into the air chamber. Sick whales go to a beach and roll from side to side, then emit all that's inside them. Maybe Jonah hit the beach running.

"It's scientifically creditable that Jonah could have been swallowed and survived," Dr. Rimmer said. "All you can do in science is to establish the credibility or incredibility."

Years of Research
In his many years of research Dr. Rimmer turned to an intense study of archeology. Nine expeditions have taken him to Mexico, South America, Pacific Islands, Egypt, Palestine, Mesopotamia and Africa.

He is president of the Research Science Bureau, a 30-year-old corporation, that conducts research in all sciences that deal with the historical accuracy of the Bible. The Bible offers a standing reward to anyone who can prove that the Bible is contrary to a known fact of science. There've been many thousands of challengers—but no winners.

A Michigan girl, for example, who held a Master of Science degree, claimed the reward. Adam and Eve, she cited the Bible, were tossed out of the Garden of Eden, which was in Mesopotamia, for eating an apple.

"Apples don't grow in Mesopotamia," she challenged.

PREXY-ELECT — J. P. (Kit) Carson, Jr., is president-elect of the Midland Lions Club. He presently is a vice president.

Future Oil Scout Sees 'Deep Test'

Future oil scout sees "deep test." Little Stanley Allen Crane, one and one-half years of age, has been around rigs all his life.

His father, Allen D. Crane, is an employee of Barfield Well Logging Service and on many occasions the little boy and his mother take his lunch or supper to the job.

On one trip, Stanley took a long look at the V & J Tower Building under construction with its steel skeleton reaching up like a rig. Stanley thought a minute, then pointed and piped: "Wig, daddy's wig."

Experience Rates Above Education In Seeking Position

LUBBOCK —(AP)— Experience is more important than college training to the secretary seeking a job. But most important are dependability, efficiency and courtesy.

Those were the results of a poll conducted by the Department of Economics of Texas Technological College of Lubbock. Pollsters talked to businessmen in the fields of law, insurance, oil and real estate.

Thirty per cent of those contacted preferred secretaries with business school training; 25 per cent wanted some college training; 23 per cent a college degree, and 21 per cent a high school education.

A large majority—73 per cent—asked for secretaries with previous experience. Eleven per cent said they preferred secretaries with no experience.

Other attributes: pleasant personality, attractive appearance, poise, initiative, loyalty, pleasing voice, ambition and willingness to work.

Real Estate Firm Slates Open House

Open house will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday by Midland's newest real estate firm, H. A. Chism Realty Company, located at 434 Andrews Highway.

H. A. (Hank) Chism, owner-operator of the firm, is well known as a home builder to Midland residents. Prior to opening the new offices, Chism was associated with a contracting agency, serving as construction superintendent on one of the larger subdivisions in Midland.

The new business, according to the owner, will feature complete real estate service, including real estate brokerage. A specialty will be "package deals" for new homes of all price ranges, a service that will begin with sale of a home site and continue through construction, with all details being taken care of at the new Chism offices.

John Friberg, well known in Midland real estate circles, is associated with the new company as real estate salesman. Marjorie McKinney is receptionist.

Diogenes Can Blow Out Lantern Now

PEORIA, ILL. —(AP)— Blow out your lantern, Diogenes, and grab the next train for Peoria. There's an honest man loose.

Patrolman Harry Kelley reported a man came into the police station recently and asked "how much is the fine for going through a stop light?"

"Ten dollars," Kelley said.

"Well," said the man, digging into his pocket, "I want to pay the fine. I just ran through a light. No one saw me do it but I knew I violated the law."

Kelley explained the man couldn't be fined without someone making a charge against him. Since no one saw him, no one could.

The man departed with his $10, a clear conscience and without leaving his name.

Missionary To Give Address In Stanton

STANTON — A Southern Baptist Missionary, Cleo Morrison, will address the First Baptist Church of Stanton Sunday.

Recently returned from China, Miss Morrison has been engaged in Mission work in Communist dominated areas. During her many years of service in the Far East her experiences have been many and varied, including her three years' internment by the Japanese during World War II.

The Rev. T. R. Hawkins, pastor of the Stanton church, has extended an invitation to local people and those in surrounding areas to attend the services which are scheduled for 11 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Lions Work Closely With United Nations

Lions International is working closely with the United Nations.

It participated in the San Francisco Conference in 1945; it had representatives at the Paris Peace Conference in 1946; at numerous subsequent United Nations meetings in Lake Success and Flushing; occupies consultative status in the U.N.

JayCeos Organized In 1939

The Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1939, with W. M. (Bill) Holmes as its first president.

Holmes first started the move to have a Junior Chamber of Commerce for young men under 35 years of age. The Chamber of Commerce here decided it was a good thing and gave the ambitious young men the green light. Since that time, the JayCeos, as they have come to be known, have been one of Midland's most active service clubs.

During the war years since most of the JayCeos were of draft age, 90 per cent of the members were in the armed forces. Only six remained in Midland at one time and there was talk of disbanding—but the six remaining members met the challenge and dedicated themselves to carry on the home front for their fellow JayCeos who were in the armed forces. Shortly after World War II, when Midland began its rapid growth, the JayCee membership was 215—an all time high.

JayCeos concern themselves with the welfare of Midland and its citizens. Each Christmas baskets are provided for the needy and children are treated to shows at local theaters. The club also sponsors many cultural programs brought to Midland and help with the Summer recreation program here each year.

Present Officers
Art Joseph currently is the Midland JayCee president. He will go out of office June 1, and newly-elected president Frank Hawk will take over. Past presidents of the club include Curt Inman, Clint Dunagan, L. W. Sandusky, Rev. Hubert Hopper, Poosty Jones, Joe Mims, Ted Thompson, Riley Parr and Irby Dyer.

Today many members of the Midland JayCeos once again are serving in the Armed Forces, but the organization is carrying on its many civic and humanitarian activities.

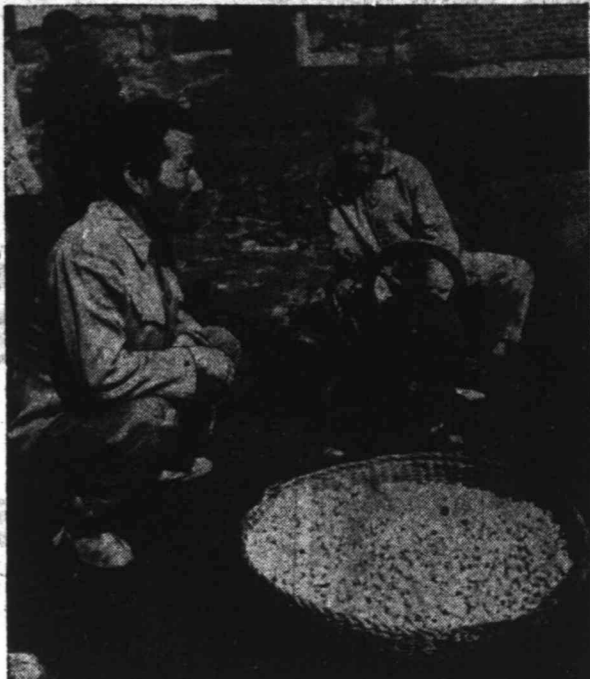

Car Parks Itself In Only Available Place

SANTA PAULA, CALIF. —(AP)— An unidentified woman driver parked her new automobile a half block from the city's busiest intersection and got out to pay a bill. She forgot to set the brakes.

No, that's not what happened! She was lucky. The car rolled 150 feet across the street and parked itself in the only available space, 20 feet from the intersection. It didn't touch the cars parked on either side.

The woman emerged from a store, spotted her car, evidently figured she had parked across the street, and drove away nonchalantly.

Mohammed died and was buried at Medina.

Herb C. Petry Prexy Of Lions International

Herbert C. Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs, Texas, president of The International Association of Lions Clubs, was elected to that highest office at the Thirty-Third Annual Convention in Chicago in July, 1950.

Born in Carrizo Springs, President Petry is a graduate of Westmoreland College of San Antonio, and the University of Texas at Austin, where he received his Law degree. He is a member of the Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity, and now is a successful businessman and attorney, because the law firm of Petry and Dean. He is president of the Dimmit County Bar Association of Texas and the American Bar Association. He is a director of the Union State Bank of Carrizo Springs.

Petry is very active in church and community affairs, and is a steward in the Methodist Church. He and his wife, Josephine, have two sons, Boothe and John.

Lion Petry rose to the presidency of Lions International through the offices of third, second and first vice president, having served capably for a year in each of these offices. He was an International Director from 1945 to 1947. Possessing an excellent command of the Spanish language, he served four consecutive years as the United States' delegate on the Board of International Relations, and each year was elected chairman of the board.

Serves Home Club
In the Association's intensely active district organization, Petry formerly served as zone chairman, deputy district governor and district governor of Texas District 2-A. Long active in the affairs of his home club of Carrizo Springs, he has served it as director, secretary and president. He is a charter member and a Master Key Member of his club.

Recognized as one of the most fluent and dynamic speakers in the Association, President Petry is in constant demand as a speaker. His forensic ability and ready wit, combined with an excellent vocabulary and resonant voice, enable him to present a forceful, yet most pleasant delivery of speech. An assiduous reader and student of world affairs, having traveled extensively and possessing an extraordinary background of enthusiastic and effective service to the principles of Lions International, he is uniquely qualified to serve in the highest office of the world's largest and most active service club organization.

Each Lion Has Code Of Ethics

The Code of Ethics of any Lion is:

1. To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

2. To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken nor because of questionable acts on my part.

3. To remember that in building up my business, it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

4. Whenever a doubt arises as to the right of ethics of my profession or action toward my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.

Not A Means
5. To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

6. Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give to them my unwavering loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means.

7. To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

8. To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

WELCOME DISTRICT 2-T-2 CONVENTION

It Truly Is International
Lions International is truly international. Stretching all the way from the Arctic down through North, Central and South America to the hemisphere's southernmost tip—spanning the islands of the Caribbean and the Atlantic to the heart of Europe—on its way to the Pacific to Hawaii, Guam, the Philippines, Australia and China—there's a vast network of flourishing Lions clubs. And wherever the Lion goes in his homeland—there is a club.

R. Roy Keaton Is Director-General Of Lions Clubs

R. Roy Keaton, director-general of The International Association of Lions Clubs, was appointed to this position as the active managing officer of the Association by its board of directors in July, 1950, after five years of outstanding service as assistant secretary-general. Born in Weatherford, Texas, in 1907, Lion Keaton is a graduate of Southern Methodist University at Dallas, where he received both his Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees. In 1929 he was married to Elizabeth Smith of Weatherford, and they now reside in Chicago, Ill., with their two children, Larry and Sherry. He is a Mason, Knight Templar and Shriner, and is a member of the Knights of Pythias. Lion Keaton became a member of the Lions Club of Weatherford in 1929, and subsequently served as program chairman, director, vice president and president of his club. Following a year as zone chairman

R. Roy Keaton in the intensely active district organization of his state, he was employed, in 1934, by the Lions International as a Special Representative. His earlier years in the Association were marked by extraordinary records in extension work. During his year as president of his club, he more than doubled its membership, and during his service as a Special Representative, he established as many as 33 new Lions Clubs in a single year.

In 1939, Lion Keaton returned to Texas, where he served as Lions State Secretary until his appointment as Assistant Secretary-General in 1945. During these six years, he established 191 new Lions Clubs in Texas, and it was largely through his efforts that membership in the state grew from 9,000 to 25,000 during this period.

Has Traveled Widely
Director-General Keaton has traveled extensively, having worked with Lions Clubs in every state in the Union, in Canada, Cuba, Mexico and throughout Central and South America. He organized the first Lions Club in Europe at Stockholm, Sweden, followed by other new clubs in Geneva, Switzerland, and Paris, France. He also has attended United Nations meetings in several countries.

Lion Keaton is in great demand as a speaker. Since winning first place in the Texas State Junior Declamation contests at the age of 13, Director-General Keaton always has been active in that field. For 11 years, he also wrote a syndicated weekly column which was carried in more than 50 newspapers throughout the country.

Recently, after Lion Keaton had made a visit to Canada, Bruce Malcolm, District Secretary of Ontario, wrote:

"Lion Roy has just about everything that is required. He is a Texan with that peculiar charm of manner and expression typical of those who come from the South. He uses plenty of humor in his addresses, yet he always leaves his audience with a message which is long remembered."

Any Lions Club Has Six Objects

Here are objects of any Lions club:

1. To create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the peoples of the world through a study of the problems of international relationships.
2. To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship.
3. To take an active interest in the civic, commercial, social and moral welfare of the community.
4. To unite the members in the bonds of friendship, good fellowship, and mutual understanding.
5. To provide a forum for the full and free discussion of all matters of public interest, partisan politics and sectarian religion excepted.
6. To encourage efficiency and promote high ethical standards in business and professions; provided that no club shall hold out as one if its objects—financial benefits to its members.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON— U. S. Navy Band To Tour 16 Texas Cities, Including Midland, April And May

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. Navy Band, managed by a Texan, is on a tour that will take it to 16 Texas cities this month and next.

Tour director of the famous musical aggregation is Gib Sandefur of Maryneal, near Abilene. He has managed seven tours for the Navy Band.

Sandefur's first experience in this kind of business was arranging appearances for the colorful Hardin-Simmons University Band when it travelled throughout this country and Europe.

On the current five-week tour, Sandefur travels in an automobile with Lieut. Commander Charles Brendler. They go ahead of the band to make last-minute arrangements.

Travelling in two brightly-painted special buses are the bandsmen. There are no Texans in the present band.

Neal Adams Was First Junior Lion

It is a tradition for the Midland Lions Club to each week honor a Junior Lion.

The Junior Lion is a high school boy who has earned distinction. The first Junior Lion was Neal Adams. He attended a luncheon of the club in February, 1949, as the first honored.

Committee Leaders Of Parley Work

International Convention—Dr. Glenn Stone, Monahans. Necrology Ceremony—Woodrow Adcock, Snyder. Key Member, Breakfast—Marvin C. Kay, Alpine. Presidents and Secretaries Breakfast—F. L. Cochran, Odessa.

Odessan Is District Governor Candidate

Strongly backed by his home club, F. L. Cochran of Odessa is a candidate for Governor of District 2-T-2. Election of the governor will be done at the convention in Midland.

Unheralded Work Of Kiwanis Club Directed Toward Helping Boys; Motto Is 'We Build'

The world little knows and the newspapers rarely chronicle, the good deeds of the Midland Kiwanis Club.

Hidden in the records of dentists' offices are the payments made by the club for badly-needed dental work on other children.

And scattered throughout the city are scores of others who have been given aid quietly by these men who meet once a week, enjoy luncheon and fellowship together and possibly hear an outstanding speaker.

Midland Lions Club Presents Navy Band In Concerts Here

The Midland Lions Club will present the United States Navy Band in concert here May 3, club officials announced.

Two concerts will be presented in the Midland High School Auditorium—one for school students at 3 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m.

Gib Sandefur, concert tour director, has completed arrangements with the sponsors for the engagement here.

Outstanding Soloists Composed of more than 50 members for its tour, the band will have an array of outstanding soloists. The tour was approved by President Truman and the itinerary includes engagements in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas.

The Navy Band, universally acclaimed for its sound musicianship and versatility, will play under the direction of Lt. Cmdr. Charles Brendler, USN, who has been with the band more than 37 years.

In 1925 President Coolidge signed special enabling legislation for the Navy Band to make annual tours. Thus, with the exception of the years of World War II, the band has been making friends with music lovers throughout the United States.

The United States Navy Band is featured weekly on the ABC Radio Network and is in constant demand for White House and other official Washington engagements.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail
And Willy-Nilly

Willy-Nilly had all the folks in the forest feeling sorry for him. Everyone said: "Poor, poor Willy-Nilly. The poor boy's hands just will not do the things he tells them to. Why, often his hands will grab away all the cookies from the plate, even though he tells his hands not to do it." Poor, poor Willy-Nilly, and so no one every scolded him for the things his hands did. His hands just wouldn't do what he told them. Well, one day Willy-Nilly climbed up to Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. No one was at home, except Grandmother Ringtail who had come for a visit.

Willy-Nilly. "Everyone feels sorry for me. Will you please give me some cookies to eat?"

And of course Grandmother Ringtail would give the poor boy

some cookies to eat. She brought him in the kitchen and let him sit at the kitchen table. She put a

Newton Heads USIS In Far East Region

By Wesley Davis

SINGAPORE (AP)—The United States Information Service in Singapore and the Federation of Malaya has a new chief. He is Elmer Newton, former head of the Far Eastern Service of the Voice of America.

Newton, a native of Newton, Mass., was educated at Harvard and New York universities and the Sorbonne. He joined the Office of War Information in 1944 after an extensive business and newspaper career. He became public affairs officer for the Department of State in Canton in 1946, and joined the Voice of America staff in 1948.

"Some other boy might come along and want some. But now he want have any. You have grabbed them all away. You have grabbed more than you can eat. You have wasted so many cookies."

Willy-Nilly laughed to hear her words. He said his hands were really to blame. They wouldn't do a thing he told them. "They won't listen to me," said Willy-Nilly, "and I don't know what to do about it."

But Grandmother Ringtail knew what to do about it. She began to poke the cookies into Willy-Nilly's mouth. She poked and poked and poked them in. Willy-Nilly thought he had eaten all he could, but he hadn't. Grandmother Ringtail poked and Willy-Nilly ate until the crumbs were falling out his ears, almost.

Oh, but it taught Willy-Nilly a lesson. He knows now that his hands will do what he tells them, and he always tells them to stay out of mischief. Happy day!

Freshman Class Leads With 88 Making Honor Roll

Band Gains High Rating At Contest

April 14 was the day of the District Band Contest in Monahans. The Midland High School Band was placed in the first division in marching and in sight-reading, and in second in concert playing.

The contest numbers which the band played were "El Caballero," "Early American Overture," and "Dramatiqui."

The clarinet soloists and their numbers were Skippy Clemens and Ellen DeChicco, "Andante and Finale Rhapsody in Blue"; Trenna Standley, Barbara Wilson, and Wanda Lou Steele, "Clouds in Summer."

Playing the baritone was Kenneth Wright, who played "King Carnival." Charles Worthen played a cornet solo, "Spanish Caprice," and Larry Mayfield played a cornet solo, "Grand Russian Fantasia."

"Merrymen" was the tune that Bill Mayfield played on the bass horn. Beverly Keisling, bassoon player, played "Concerto Opus 191" and "Last Nocturne Movement."

Anna Bea Doyle and Barbara VanLandingham played the drum solo, "Yours Rudimentally." Patty Hammon played a flute solo, "Sohata No. 1."

Trombone solos: Bill Critch and Joe Barnett played trombone solos. Bill played "Thoughts of Yesterday," and Joe played "Castles in the Air."

Patty Hammon played a piccolo solo, "Message of Spring." Shirley Pugh played a flute solo, "Adagio." Carolyn Reagle also played a flute solo, "Melody in F."

Sue Michener played "Romance," an oboe solo; Deneva Merrill played the same piece on the French horn. Ellis Long and Carol Loop played the clarinet. Ellis played "Song of India," while Carol played "Narcissus."

Joyce Howell played the string bass solo, "Gavotte." Two boys tried out for Student Conducting. Joe Barnett and Kenneth Wright directed the band to "Janus."

Bobby Peters played a French horn solo, "Nocturne." Agatha Tabor, Nancy Cooper, Nancy Klingler, Carolyn Cook, John and Sally Moore, and Carolyn Curd entered the twirling contest.

Brass Sextet: There was a clarinet quartet made up of Ellen DeChicco, Skippy Clemens, Trenna Standley, and Barbara Wilson; they played "Fughetta of Little Bells."

A brass sextet, made up of Earl Chapman, Larry Mayfield, Kenneth Wright, Charles Worthen, Joe Barnett, and Bobby Peters, played "Dramatic Prelude."

Wanda Lou Steele, Carol Loop, and Mary Beth Rolan made up a clarinet trio which played "Boone." Information on the outcome of the solos and ensembles are not yet available to the Bulldog staff; when these results come in, they will be run in the paper.

Club News

The Thursday group II Art Clubs made place cards for the DE banquet during club period.

Members of Louis Bohn's Science Club made hydrogen-chloride gas by mixing sulfuric acid with table salt and heating it.

Harry Harrison and Basil Weaver used the gas to make a fountain. They put hydrogen-chloride gas in a bottle, then placed it over a bottle of water with a tube leading from one bottle to the other. The gas, being soluble in water, caused a vacuum in the upper bottle which in turn caused the atmospheric pressure to push the water into the upper bottle forming a fountain.

Seniors making A's and B's are: Louis Beerton, Charlene Bleiker, Pat Boles, Jane Beakey, Stan Coker, Leora Crawford, Diana Daugherty, Jo Dean Downing, Janet Hoffer, Harold Hensley, Sarah Hendrichs, Gregory Lovelady, Fred Melisser, Ann Miles, Marion Sevier, Ruby Steedman, Jackie Stratton, Lynn Giddis, J. E. Grimes, Mary Beth Harrington, Swan Hagler, Joyce Howell, Richard Huff, Beverly Keisling, Jimmy Hull, Louise Nail, Mary Nell, Alan Olson, Bob Peters, Patsy Pyle, Roane Puett, Roy Ripley, Ann Stephens, Dephanee Tabor, Isleta Terry, Fred Underwood, Jo Underwood, Shirley Winter, Kenneth Wright, Suzanne Young.

That girl, Patsy Pyle, is really going places. Last week we announced that she was named Volleyball All-Star Player at Lamesa. This week we are proud to announce that she made the District Volleyball Team. Keep up the good work, Patsy; here's hoping you go all the way to state!

We guess we fooled Odessa! Midland entered the track meet in Odessa last weekend and everyone in our "fair necktie to the west" expected the Midland High School track boys to finish about sixth. But the boys refused to conform with public opinion; they went all the way at the meet and finished in second place. MHS is very proud of its tracksters!

Pardon, please! Last week we announced that Spring training would begin on April 16 but the date has been changed to April 23. Look for the Midland boys to have another good season next year!

On Wednesday, April 13, the Texas Western College Choir sang for the MHS student body. Everyone enjoyed the assembly and many students recognized Billy Stepp, one of the choir members, as an ex-Midland student.

If you happened to see a number of boys wearing big grins and pretty new white sneakers, they were the MHS players! The boys received their basketball sweaters on Monday and proudly wore them around school despite the rather warm weather.

Bill Gildewell, Youth Center Director, took 33 girls to Odessa last week to enter a swimming meet. Although the meet was unofficial, several of the girls placed and showed promise for the official meets coming up this Summer.

Notice to Seniors: West Texas Senior Class Day, which was to be held in San Angelo on April 23, has been called off.

The MHS Choral groups are busy getting ready for contest time coming up on April 26. Although neither the A Cappella Choir nor the Choral Club finished very well in last year's contests, they both hope to top top honors in this year's contest.

The Episcopal Church held a hajride on Friday, April 12. Although it was "bad luck day," that didn't keep the kids from having a swell time. They spent the evening at Cole Park, eating hot dogs and just having fun!

Poor Seniors! In the English classes the seniors are doing research themes of about a thousand words. Their topics range from atoms to perfumery! But good things are coming their way too—many Midland merchants are giving them little "gifts" for graduation. Among these are Grammer-Murphy's Store, who gave the boys tie clasps and the girls pins, and Midland Hardware and Furniture Store, who gave the girls Lane cedar jewel boxes. Thanks from the Senior Class to these merchants!

Poor Shirley Wenter, who she never learn! In a recent Volleyball game, Shirley was finally allowed to pass. The Midland team needed points badly and everyone was trying to help change the score a little bit. Finally it was Shirley's time for a set-up. Everyone depended on her to slam the ball across the net for a point but what did she do? She caught the ball! Needless to say, Midland lost the game!

You, Too, Can Be On The Bulldog Staff

Five weeks of school are left until you gain your freedom from books, schedules, and homework. Soon you will be selecting the subjects you will take next year.

Think upon this; the more you participate in your school activities the more you will make your school year a pleasant present and proud future, from which you can look back upon a written record or memory of your accomplishments.

You are now reading on this page about activities of many kinds—sports, scholastic, band, and others. Perhaps you do not realize it, but you are looking at an activity, no matter which article you may read on this page. There is one activity that lies under every article in the Bulldog. An activity carried on by the journalism students of MHS.

Each of these journalism students is doing a helpful job and being paid for it by every word you read in the Bulldog. Their payment is not what you could call pay value in terms of dollars and cents. Their pay is pride and satisfaction.

The journalism class is a good place for you to be, if you wish to share among the many benefits yielded by this type of activity. In journalism you also learn about newspapers, how they are made, and how you may take your place in helping make these newspapers successful. You actually study a profession that has a bright and advancing future.

Decide now to sign up for journalism next Fall. You cannot go wrong by doing so. Even though you do not wish to become a newspaper man, the knowledge you gain in the study of journalism will repay you threefold.

Musicians To Gather

Regional Meet Set Here

The Regional Interscholastic League Vocal Music Contest will be held at Midland High School Saturday, April 28.

About 20 choirs, 30 ensembles and over 100 soloists from 10 West Texas towns will be on hand for competition.

Towns which have entered in the contest are: Odessa, Denver City, Seminole, Kermit, Monahans, Crane, McCarney, Andrews, Pecos and Midland.

Midland will enter three choirs: the Cowden Junior High A Cappella Choir, the Midland High A Cappella Choir and Girls Glee Club. Midland High will enter 14 vocal soloists. They are: Peggy Greathouse, Mona Sue Biggs, Mary Jo Hejl, Evelyn Hejl, Mary Sue Adams, Virginia Webb, Nancy Webb, Wilma Like, Barbara Delay, Isleta Terry, George James, Theima Deel, Ruth Ann Rhodes and Ann Hughes.

Ten MHS piano soloists will enter. They are: Tommy Miller, Elaine Johnson, Mary Jane Miller, Virginia Kroenlin, Evelyn Hejl, Jerry Gelsler, Nancy Creswell, Marion Sevier, Wanda Burnside and Ann Hughes.

Judges for the choir and ensemble will be Dr. Frank McKinley from North Texas State Teachers College, Mr. Robert Bedford from Austin College, Dr. J. Campbell Wray from Southwestern Theological Seminary, and Mr. Gene Hemmle from Texas Technological College. Vocal solo judges will be Miss Nena Williams from Hardin-Simmons University and Mr. Rex Teachers College.

Judges for piano solo will be Mr. Thurman Morrison from Hardin-Simmons University and Mr. Tex Carnes. R. C. Michener, director of Vocal Music in Public Schools, is in charge of the contest.

The contests will be held in Midland High School with the vocal music room as headquarters. They start at 8 a.m. The public is invited to attend.

MacArthur Firing Backed

Students Still Admire General Over President

The Truman-MacArthur question has aroused the interest of many Americans throughout the nation, including Midland High School students. Here are some of the replies of the high school students who have kept up with the recent national affairs. The question asked was, "What do you think about the Truman-MacArthur conflict?"

Carolyn Curd—I think Truman was justified in doing what he did. Nancy Cooper—I think it's debatable, but Truman did what he thought was best.

Larry Mayfield—I think it's a stab in the back. Jo Ann Nelson—I don't know enough about the whole situation to voice an opinion.

Alan Harris—MacArthur got it in the ear! No further comment. Ruby Collins—I'm afraid I don't know enough facts about the situation to judge Truman's action.

Swan Hagler—I like MacArthur, but the people elected Truman to his office and they ought to accept his decisions. Beverly Keisling—I believe it was time for MacArthur to be changed. He was getting too hot in the Oriental way of living.

Guy Vanderpool—it will cause a lot of conflict in this country. Larry Watta—Doesn't make much difference just so every thing turns out all right.

Gene Schaefer—it was a poor thing to do at the time. Mark McKinsey—I favor MacArthur.

John Zant—I think Truman made a mistake. Madelon Schabaram—No comment until both points of view are expressed fully.

Jim Lineberger—I think Truman had to fire MacArthur, or he would have done a lot of damage. Josephine Weaver—I think you will have to hear MacArthur's side; then weigh evidence on both sides

Kimsey Batters Record

The most thrilling moment in the life of Roy Kimsey, a Midland High School sophomore, was when he set the new district record of 22.2 in the 220-yard dash at District Track Meet Saturday, April 14, in Odessa.

Roy entered the 220, 110-yard, and the mile relay in the meet. He also is active in other sports, having lettered in football and basketball. Roy is 15 years old, his birthday is June 19. He has blond hair, weighs 175 pounds, and is six feet tall. Roy hasn't chosen a "life's ambition" yet; however, his school ambition is to beat Odessa everytime in everything.

His schedule consists of English, general science, algebra, Spanish, and track. His favorite subject is general science; he likes all his teachers.

Band Plans Spring Concert April 27

The Midland High School band, under the direction of Jerry Hoffman, is planning their spring concert for Friday night, April 27.

The opening number of the band intends to play is "Band of America," a march. Other numbers they will play are "Overture Dramatique," "Bolero Ritmico," "American Patrol," "Varsity Rumble," "Early Americans We," another march.

The program will also include the cornet solo, "Spanish Caprice," played by Charles Worthen; a tap dance done by Carolyn Cook; a saxophone solo, "The Cutchess," played by Alan Harris; and a marimba solo, "Marimba Capers," played by Nancy Cooper.

This will be the last concert in the high school for twenty-six seniors—also the last for band director Jerry Hoffman. All of the band members, and the student body, also, are extremely sorry that Mr. Hoffman is leaving this spring.

Patsy Pyle On District Volleyball Team

We think that we can now safely say that warm weather is here to stay. It seems as though every time we say anything about Spring it rains arriving, it turns cold. We hope the jinx is gone and that everyone can really start enjoying "old man sol."

That girl, Patsy Pyle, is really going places. Last week we announced that she was named Volleyball All-Star Player at Lamesa. This week we are proud to announce that she made the District Volleyball Team. Keep up the good work, Patsy; here's hoping you go all the way to state!

The Editor Speaks

By LEON CLINE

The following letter was received by the president of the class of 1951:

"Dear Sir: This letter is to invite you, your High School Senior Class and your class sponsors, to attend the annual High School Senior Day at Hardin-Simmons University, Saturday, April 28. (If any of your Juniors and Sophomores want to come, bring them, too.) We are sending similar invitations to several hundred high schools and junior colleges in this area, and we sincerely hope you can attend.

The best program we have ever had will begin promptly at 10:30 a.m. in the Rose Field House. At 12 o'clock noon, a free barbecue with all of the trimmings and plenty of lemonade will be served back of Mary Frances Hall. (You can't afford to miss it.) As soon as you have finished eating, we invite you to visit the buildings on our campus—our laboratories, our class rooms, our dormitories, and any other phase of university life you care to see. We hope you come; you will enjoy it.

With every good wish to you for a most enjoyable day, Saturday, April 28, I remain Sincerely yours, W. C. Ribble, General Chairman of Senior Day Activities

P. S. For your information, Hardin-Simmons University is sponsoring the all Inter-Collegiate Rodeo which will be held at the Hardin-Simmons arena April 27 and 28. Student admission charge is 60 cents. The Saturday afternoon performance begins at 2:30 p.m."

Members of Louis Bohn's Science Club made hydrogen-chloride gas by mixing sulfuric acid with table salt and heating it.

Harry Harrison and Basil Weaver used the gas to make a fountain. They put hydrogen-chloride gas in a bottle, then placed it over a bottle of water with a tube leading from one bottle to the other. The gas, being soluble in water, caused a vacuum in the upper bottle which in turn caused the atmospheric pressure to push the water into the upper bottle forming a fountain.

Petroleum Industry Offers Scholarships At State University

AUSTIN—The petroleum industry is offering $30,000 in scholarships and advanced research fellowships for the 1951-52 school year at the University of Texas and has awarded the institution $3,000 in research grants.

Supporting research in chemistry, chemical engineering and geology, the Humble Oil and Refining Company is presenting a $1,250 fellowship in each of those fields, with $500 added for Summer field work under the geology grant.

Shell Oil Company is offering a

$1,200 petroleum engineering fellowship plus $300 for expenses, and a $1,200 geology grant plus tuition and fees up to $500 and $300 for expenses.

A $1,250 petroleum engineering fellowship is provided by the Standard Oil and Gas Company, which also will award a $1,250 geology grant plus tuition and fees up to $300 and $500 for Summer field work expenses.

Physical Chemistry
Magnolia Petroleum Company is offering a $2,000 physical chemistry fellowship; Pan-American Refining Corporation, a $1,250 chemistry fellowship; Pan-American Refining Corporation, a $1,250 chemistry fellowship; Gulf Oil Corporation, a $1,000 chemical engineering fellowship; and Sun Oil Company, a $1,000 fellowship plus $200 for expenses for chemical research on petroleum acids.

Four scholarships will be awarded. Socony-Vacuum Oil Company is presenting a $750 petroleum engineering grant, and Standard Oil Company of Texas, a $1,250 geology scholarship.

West Germans Get More Automobiles

BONN, GERMANY—(AP)—More motor vehicles are running in West Germany today than ever before. The latest traffic ministry figures show 2,155,355 motor vehicles licensed in West Germany, compared with only 1,798,745 in the same area in 1938, the most active prewar year.

But there is one serious drawback today: a horrible traffic jam. Germany has many narrow winding roads and crooked city streets which were designed before the motor era. The chief exceptions are the autobahns which Hitler built with military utility in mind.

Roaring Springs Man May Have Device To Aid Cotton Industry

ROARING SPRINGS, TEXAS.—(AP)—Mayor Emnis Moss of Roaring Springs, a cotton gin and grain elevator owner, is an inventor in his spare time. He believes he has hit on something which will mean a lot to the cotton industry.

Moss has perfected a cotton-cleaning device which he says adds $10 to $15 to the value of a bale of knotty, premature bolls. Attached to a regular cotton gin, the cleaner eliminates dirt and trash and leaves the cotton soft and fluffy.

Gin men have been visiting Moss' plant here to see the cleaner in operation. He gins the worst possi-

Not By Accident
Moss did not invent the cleaner by accident. He started working on the idea in May, 1950, and spent most of the Summer in Amite, La., in the Gullet Gin Machinery manufacturing plant, where he built the cleaner. He shipped it back to West Texas and installed the machine in his Roaring Springs gin about the beginning of the season. He had troubles: had to change the machine 12 times under actual working condition before he got the performance he wanted.

Jack Dempsey, owner of gins in Lockney and Woodrow, praises the device. He says "the fiber is not injured, and the cleaner is automatic. It is a great advance in the ginning business and will mean more profit to the cotton grower."

Moss is having difficulty getting materials to build the cleaner. He has offers from large gin machinery companies but plans to build and market the cleaner himself.
