Marshall Defends Truman Policies

Says Mac's Plan Risked All-Out War

WASHINGTON—(P)—Secretary of Defense Marshall contended to senators Monday that General MacArthur's Korean war proposals would risk "an all-out war with the Soviet Union."

Replying to MacArthur's attacks on the Administration's Far Eastern policies, Marshall also said:

1. The Truman Administration's unwavering policy is to deny Nationalist-held Formosa to the Chinese Communists and to oppose seating the Reds in the United Nations.

2. A January 12 memorandum of the joint chiefs of staff, which MacArthur contended supported his proposals for fighting the Korean war by direct action against Communist China, was drafted for use if American troops had to withdraw from Korea.

3. The memorandum was discarded when it became apparent American troops had turned the tide of battle.

4. The memorandum contained 16 courses of recommended action, only four of which were quoted by MacArthur in his testimony last week to senators inquiring into his dismissal as Far Eastern commander and the policy dispute involved in it.

5. MacArthur was fired because of "basic differences of judgment" not only with the President, but the chiefs of staff and Marshall himself.

6. Testifying at a closed session with the "censored" testimony made public later, Marshall said MacArthur's plan would risk an all-out world conflict even at the expense of the United States.

7. The bill putting the axe to mere possession of slot machines was sent to the governor's desk Monday when the House agreed to Senate amendments 109-14.

8. The bill is one of several introduced in the 52nd Legislature to bolster an anti-crime crusade.

9. It provides a two to four-year prison term on conviction of possession of a coin-operated machine of chance, even if it is in a private home and used only for pleasure.

10. The multi-million-dollar state spending bill was laid on House and Senate members' desks, just one day before the end of the 130-day session suggested by the Constitution.

11. The Senate sent the bill raising the truck load limit to the governor by agreeing to minor House changes. The bill raises the present 45,000-pound limit to 55,420 pounds.

12. It was doubtful debate would begin on the state spending bill before Tuesday.

13. Cool weather and red-hot bargains were the popular topics of conversation in Midland Monday as crowds of Midland and area shoppers thronged the downtown section to take advantage of the Dollar Day special offered by practically all retail stores.

14. Streets and sidewalks were crowded and traffic was congested at times. Shopping was brisk in most stores throughout the morning and was expected to be even heavier during the afternoon.

15. The package-laden men and women seen on the sidewalks indicated shopping was particularly heavy.

16. Observers predicted crowds and sales volume at the May Dollar Day attraction might establish new records for the year.

17. A carelessly-dropped match was blamed Monday for the destruction of more than 50 airplanes here Sunday.

18. The flames spread so rapidly most of the damage was done by the time firemen arrived to extinguish the blaze, which also destroyed more than a $1,000 worth of needlepoint.

19. The planes were little plastic models which were included in the stock of the Hobby House, operated by Mrs. Joe Chastain at 1307 West Tenth Street.

20. The effect of the best order will be to cut back production, thus defeating the primary purpose of the Defense Production Act, Maybank said in a prepared statement.

21. Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson was called as the committee's first witness. The present law, which includes wage-price control authority, expires June 30.

22. The record clearly indicates that the public, through its demand and ability to pay, has been responsible for the current price of beef, Maybank said.

23. The chairman said the rollback will be unfair to livestock feeders on the basis of current feed costs and will work hardship on slaughterers and distributors even to the point of "severe monetary loss."

24. It will bring "chaos" in meat distribution, Maybank predicted.

25. "I will have as my primary objective uninterrupted production of meat and removal of any regulation which tends to interfere with the equitable operation of our system of distribution," he said.

26. The strong quakes, which began at 5 p.m. Sunday, destroyed many homes and public buildings. Many persons were said to have been buried in ruins. The exact number of dead is not yet known, but authorities estimate about 200 are buried in the debris.

27. Nearby towns, Nueve Guadalupe, Santiago de Maria, Uxulutlan and Casavieja, east of the Lempe River, also suffered great damage.

28. The Red Cross dispatched doctors to the scene and Public Works Ministry workmen started clearing blocked roads.

29. All the towns are situated in the neighborhood of San Miguel Volcano, but it did not erupt.

30. The quake was attributed to underground activity of the volcano, however.

STUDENTS FAIL QUIZ—When the dean of men asked 100 University of Delaware students who had been setting off fireworks in Harter Hall, the boys failed to come up with the right answer. So the dean ordered that they be expelled from their dormitory. Three of the 100 student DP's are pictured above, pitching a pup tent on the campus grounds. Others slept on living-room rugs in fraternity houses, went to nearby private homes or to their own homes.

American Troops Land In Iceland

REYKJAVIK, ICELAND—(P)—A contingent of American troops arrived by air Monday for the announced purpose of aiding Iceland's defense under the North Atlantic Alliance.

In Washington, defense officials said the initial detachment consisted of about 200 men under the command of Brig. Gen. Edward John McGaw of Philadelphia.

The arrival of the troops apparently was no surprise to the people of this old island republic, since it was known generally negotiations had been under way for some time. Nevertheless, the announcement of the arrival was published in extra editions of Reykjavik's newspapers.

At Island's Request
The government statement said only:

"When Iceland joined the Atlantic Pact, it agreed that if war broke out the Allies would have a similar position in Iceland to that they had during the last war. But it was entirely up to Icelanders to say when such a position would be granted."

During World War II Iceland was a major assembly point for convoys to Russia.

Members of Parliament's Democratic Parties were consulted, the government said, and it was agreed that now was the time to ask for defense forces. This island, with an area of 39,758 square miles and a population of only 140,000, has no Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Air Force of its own.

Iceland is the second North Atlantic island for which the United States has assumed defense responsibilities. An agreement for the mutual defense of Greenland was negotiated with Denmark only a few days ago.

200 Or More Dead Reported As Quakes Shake El Salvador

SAN SALVADOR, EL SALVADOR—(P)—At least 200 persons were reported killed in an earthquake Sunday in the Cities of Jucupaca and Chinameca.

Jucupaca is about 90 miles and Chinameca about 92 miles east of this capital. Jucupaca has a population of about 12,000 and Chinameca of about 17,000.

The strong quakes, which began at 5 p.m. Sunday, destroyed many homes and public buildings. Many persons were said to have been buried in ruins. The exact number of dead is not yet known, but authorities estimate about 200 are buried in the debris.

Nearby towns, Nueve Guadalupe, Santiago de Maria, Uxulutlan and Casavieja, east of the Lempe River, also suffered great damage.

The Red Cross dispatched doctors to the scene and Public Works Ministry workmen started clearing blocked roads.

All the towns are situated in the neighborhood of San Miguel Volcano, but it did not erupt.

The quake was attributed to underground activity of the volcano, however.

Ends Of UN Line Pushed Northward

TOKYO—(P)—South Korean infantrymen pushed the ends of the battle line northward Monday. Other UN forces took up the slack in between, while armored patrols probed for withdrawing Reds.

South Koreans pressed across the 38th parallel toward Red-held Inje in the east. Other Republican troops moved the western anchor of the Korea fighting line further northwest of Seoul.

A tank-infantry column rumbled through Chuncheon on the east-central front, and a mile beyond, without meeting opposition.

Other armored groups fanned out all along the center. They found no Reds.

Communists sniped on tank expeditions in the west Monday. A U. S. Eighth Army communique said Reds reportedly fired rockets at tanks east of Uijongbu.

Jets Make Bomb Raids
American jets left their rockets behind for a mass bomb attack on Red troop, supply and transport centers north of the Communist capital of Pyongyang. Thirty-five Shooting Stars made bomb raids in three waves on railway yards in the Suncheon area.

The Pyongyang radio claimed six UN planes were shot down and five airmen captured. The Allied command does not comment on Red propaganda claims. The Red broadcast also listed these asserted wartime UN losses: 65,000 troops captured, 326,000 casualties, 1,900 planes destroyed or damaged.

Red ground forces made their strongest bid northwest of Seoul. South Korean troops made a limited advance against North Koreans who had been told there would be no big offensive because "the war is about over."

UN intelligence officers attributed this statement to a Communist officer. They did not make clear whether the officer had been taken prisoner or whether the report came from other captured Reds.

UN spokesmen offered no interpretation of the significance of the statement. Presumably the Red officer meant the war again had reached a stalemate; that neither side could win and therefore neither would open an all-out offensive.

Shirley Temple Has Emergency Surgery

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Screen star Shirley Temple underwent an emergency appendectomy here Sunday night after being stricken while driving through the city.

Hospital attendants described the condition of the 23-year-old movie actress as good.

She was driving with her husband, Charles A. Black, when the appendicitis attack seized her. She underwent surgery at 7 p.m.

No visitors were allowed at the request of Black, a Los Angeles television program salesman. He declined to disclose their destination, adding "I'd rather not say why we were coming this way."

New Phone Numbers Are Being Mailed

Midland telephone subscribers will receive postal card notice of their new numbers before the dial system is put into operation.

The telephone office said Monday that a number of cards already have been mailed to subscribers listing their new five-digit numbers. The new numbers will be listed in a new directory to be issued before the system change scheduled to take place the latter part of June.

23 Airmen Die As Giant Bomber Crashes, Burns

ALBUQUERQUE—(P)—A giant B-36 bomber crashed in flames as it tried to land at Kirtland Air Force Base Sunday, killing 23 airmen. The explosion made the base resemble a junkyard.

It was the fifth and worst B-36 crash since the Air Force put the 139-ton, six-engined bombers—the world's largest—into operation in August, 1946. The toll of 23 dead is just three less than the combined deaths in the other four.

Col. Perry G. Griffith, Kirtland commander, said the flaming wreckage "looked like a burning oil field. Flames shot up almost 200 feet in the air."

"I didn't want to look," said Lt. William S. Knipple. "I turned my back." Knipple is one of three members of the 188th Fighter Squadron who watched the crash.

The two survivors were in critical condition at Sandia Special Weapons Base Hospital. Sandia adjoins Kirtland.

Twenty-two men were killed outright. The twenty-third died at Sandia a few minutes later. The bomber, almost as long as a city block, had just finished a three-hour flight from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Texas.

Kirtland firefighters arrived at the scene—some two blocks from the Municipal Airport Terminal—less than four minutes after the crash. The three injured and bodies of 10 dead were thrown clear. Crash crews (Continued On Page Two)

City Plans Survey On Possibilities Of Getting More Water

A preliminary survey of the possibilities of getting more water from the Cole Park and Rosedale fields will be undertaken by water engineers, City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Monday.

Oswalt said he had conferred last week in Dallas with representatives of the Layne Texas Company, a water well drilling firm, concerning the possibility of getting more water from these two areas.

A representative from that company is expected here late this week to study this situation.

Cold Snaps In May No Novelty, Declares Midland Oldtimer

Cold weather is not uncommon in West Texas at this time of year, according to Luan Daugherty, native Midlander who has lived in this section all his life.

Daugherty recalls that 23 years ago Monday a killing frost enveloped Midland and West Texas. "And May cold snaps have been frequent in the intervening years," the long-time Midland resident said.

Amerada Completes Discovery In Dawson For 882.84 BOPD

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed its No. 1 Adcock as a flowing discovery from the Siluro-Devonian in Central-North Dawson County.

The new field opened flowed 662.14 barrels of 41-gravity oil and no water in 18 hours on the official Railroad Commission potential test.

The flow was through a one-quarter-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 422-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 250 pounds.

Potential Calculated
The calculated 24-hour potential is 822.84 barrels of oil. That is based on the flow actually made during the 18 hours of testing.

The production is from perforated zones at 10,805-815 feet which had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

This important new discovery is 467 feet from south and 1,530 feet from west lines of section 166, block 34, D&SE survey.

It is 14 miles northeast of Lamesa and four miles southeast of O'Donnell.

The wildcat drilled to a total depth of 10,888 feet in the Ellenburger. That formation made a large amount of sulphur water and had no shows of oil or gas.

The hole was plugged back for testing in the Siluro-Devonian—the zone from which the project has been completed.

Amerada Completes Long Extender In Tex-Harvey Sector

One and one-quarter miles east of the Tex-Harvey field of Central-West Glasscock County, Amerada Petroleum Corporation completed its No. 1 Eula Woody as a producer from the Spraberry.

The long extender was completed on the pump though it showed for a good gas-oil ratio, 442-1. The gas blow was not steady enough for a good flow.

A potential of 100 barrels of 34.9-gravity oil plus 19 barrels of water per day was reported for the new well.

It was completed from plugged back total depth of 7,900 feet. The open hole section from 6,823 to 7,890 feet was Hydratraced.

Location is 675 feet from west and 661 feet from south lines of section 10, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Andrews Explorer Flows Oil On DST

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Reed, Central - North Andrews County wildcat, nine miles north-east of Andrews has shown some oil and some water in a drillstem test at 9,096-9,170 feet in a lime, possibly Pennsylvanian.

That interval was tested for four hours and five minutes. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes, mud came to the top in 55 minutes and oil started flowing at the top in 65 minutes.

The oil was flowed to tanks for three hours.

During that period a total of 137.3 barrels of fluid went into the storage. After that three hours of flowing the remainder of the fluid to the drill pipe was reversed out.

Total recovery, including the 137.3 barrels which went to the tanks, was 242.89 barrels. Of that, 161.92 barrels was oil and the remaining 80.96 barrels was basic sediment and salt water.

Operator representatives have not yet determined the source of that water. Gravity of the oil was 22.1 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 517-1.

The prospect was deepened to 9,198 feet and a one-hour drillstem test was taken at 9,182-95 feet. Recovery was 150 feet of slightly gas cut oil. There were no signs of water. The prospector is to make more hole.

Interested observers think the oil is coming from a lime in the top of the Pennsylvanian.

This wildcat is about three miles east of the nearest producers from the Pennsylvanian on the east side of the Shafter Lake multipay field.

It is 1,984 feet from south and 1,981 feet from east lines of section 16, block 4-30, red survey.

The wildcat was started out to a depth of 13,800 feet, to explore the Ellenburger.

Mobilization Boss Asks Slowdown In Public Borrowing

WASHINGTON — Charles E. Wilson, the nation's mobilization director, has called on state and local governments to get approval before they undertake any borrowing in excess of $1,000,000.

Wilson Sunday night asked that any state, city or county planning such borrowing first obtain clearance of the National Voluntary Credit Restraint Committee through its new Regional Investment Banking Committees.

The committee itself, a group of private bankers and others working with the Federal Reserve Board to restrict credit, said public works should be deferred unless urgently needed for public health or safety or unless directly related to defense needs.

Wilson also recommended postponing soldiers' bonus payments, war memorials and other sub projects not urgently needed.

He voiced the appeal in letters to governors, mayors and county officials, saying "it is vital that all practicable steps be taken" to reduce non-defense demands for goods and services.

★ RUTH MILLETT ★ Wife Who 'Lets Herself Go' Is Heading For Real Trouble

By RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

Maybe the right wife will read this letter. If she doesn't it still may help some other wife who is making the same mistakes.

A husband writes: "Having been a very interested male reader of your fine articles I should like very much to get your slant on the following problem:

"My wife, since the birth of our second child, has 'let herself go.' By this I mean that she has probably gained 25 pounds in the last year and seems to get more enjoyment out of pastries and sweets than out of most anything else."

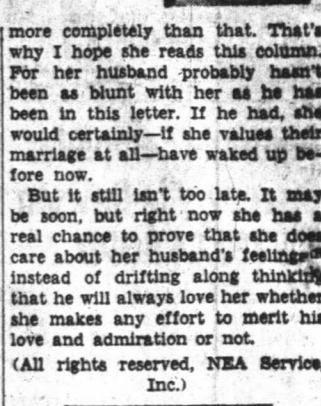

"She pays no attention to the few dislikes I have ever shown or expressed. When she jokingly says that she thinks her mother's weight just right (whe!) and tells friends that she knows I like her anyway, then I see that she will be like her mother—only 20 years sooner."

"What really worries me is whether I ever did really love my wife if this matter can make me feel so different toward her. But I just can't like seeing a beautiful woman let obesity turn her into a version of 'four by four.' Besides this, she no longer cares about what she wears, or whether the table looks appealing. Food is put on any old way.

"I just can't feel that if she cared at all about my feelings toward her she would let herself go this way." Child-Like Notion There's a marriage headed for trouble. And yet there is still time for the wife to wake up and see the danger signals. She is drifting along now, ignoring her husband's feelings, fooling herself into the child-like notion that he will love her, no matter what.

A woman can't fool herself much more completely than that. That's why I hope she reads this column. For her husband probably hasn't been as blunt with her as he has been in this letter. If he had, she would certainly—if she values their marriage at all—have waked up before now.

But it still isn't too late. It may be soon, but right now she has a real chance to prove that she does care about her husband's feelings—instead of drifting along thinking that he will always love her whether she makes any effort to merit his love and admiration or not.

Bobbie Collins Receives AAUW Scholarship

Bobbie Collins, Midland high school senior, received the annual scholarship award from the American Association of University Women at its branch meeting Saturday in Donohoo's Restaurant.

She will enter Texas Western College at El Paso this fall as an art major.

Mrs. William Sandeen, scholarship chairman, made the award and introduced Miss Collins and her sister, Mrs. Joe McQueen.

Mrs. J. A. Graves, treasurer, made the treasurer's final report.

Mrs. Terry Tidwell, new president, was the delegate to the state convention held recently in Galveston. Mrs. Tidwell reported 10 new branches have been added to AAUW in Texas in the last few years. The 1953 convention will be held in Lubbock.

Mrs. R. F. Carroll, outgoing president, recommended the branch to continue having two presidents — one to serve as chairman of the executive board and the other to preside at branch meetings. She asked that study group chairmen send reports of their year's accomplishments to Mrs. R. D. Monkress, historian, for her records and to pass along to succeeding chairman to aid in the continuation of the study group.

The table was centered with an old fashioned arrangement of rose-gold baskets made by the Beginners Garden Club.

Community Theater To Present Comedy

"See How They Run," by Phillip King, will open at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the City-County Auditorium. It is being produced in-the-round by the Community Theater.

The play as yet has not been on Broadway but it has been the rage of the Summer theater circuit after a successful run in London.

This type of farce depends on "sight" comedy and the building up of situations. "See How They Run" is a play of movement. It is based on the old device of mistaken identity with several new twists.

A new schedule is being planned for this production. It will open Thursday and run through Tuesday. A special performance for negroes will be given Wednesday night. This schedule is expected to take care of the anticipated large attendance.

Also a new policy concerning reserved tickets will be in effect. All reserved tickets not picked up or confirmed by telephone by 8 p.m. on the night of the performance will be sold.

Tickets will go on sale to Community Theater members Wednesday at Tailorline and the Community Theater. They will go on sale to the general public Thursday.

Light microscopes cannot show objects less than four-millionths of an inch in size.

Emphasis On Talk

The sad part of these "great debates" which seem to be the big feature of U. S. life in 1951 is that they put the emphasis on talk and take it away from action.

For instance, right now top U. S. diplomatic officials should be shaping up new political policies for Western Germany. Every day this task is delayed provides a propaganda advantage for the Russians. But our diplomatic and military men both are absorbed in the MacArthur controversy.

Last Fall the United States came out strongly for German rearmament. The idea met resistance in Western Europe, particularly in France, where fear of a militarized Germany runs deep.

But reluctantly these nations, including France, accepted the principle of German rearmament. The French even came up with a specific plan calling for use of German units of battalion strength to be incorporated into a European defense army.

Meantime, though, elections in Western Germany disclosed the fact that the Germans themselves had no wish to rearm, at least not until they had gained a more equal political status with the nations for whom they would bear arms.

General Eisenhower, commander of the European defense force, took full note of this problem in his Winter speech to Congress. He declared that the question of German rearmament was first of all political, and should be shunted aside until the political matters had been settled. Soon it was evident this had become the U. S. policy. Rearming the Germans was to come after the European army was in being, and after the knotty political issues had been solved.

But no great strides since have been made toward elevating Western Germany to higher stature among the western family. Reports from the country indicate German opposition to rearmament is dropping off somewhat, and this seems to be the wise moment for action.

Many will object, of course, on the ground that a conquered Germany doesn't deserve equality. This is a matter on which we have to make up our minds. If we wish to go on hating the Germans and treating them like an enemy, we cannot ask them to take up arms and help defend the West.

If we do want them on our side, if we want to encourage their healthy participation in the free world, we have to draw them toward us quickly and surely.

The Russians and their East German stooges are hounding the West Germans with ceaseless propaganda. Their prime effort these days is to frighten them into believing that rearmament means war, that siding with the West means death or slavery for whoever dares to defy the Reds.

It would be foolish to imagine this propaganda totally ineffective. The Germans who would feel the first weight of a Russian drive to the West, are not deaf to threats of their plight under a victorious Communist regime. Who can blame them for looking anxiously toward the United States for convincing signs that we mean business?

One Sad Aspect Of The MacArthur Affair

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Careers of two American military heroes, Generals Douglas MacArthur and George McClellan, similar; Generals rejected McClellan when he ran for President against Lincoln.

WASHINGTON — Of the long list of American military heroes since 1776, the two whose lives are most identical are Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Civil War Gen. George B. McClellan. Both had famous fathers, both ranked high in their classes at West Point, both were official observers of Russian wars, both rowed with the President of the United States and both had the President pay them the honor of making long trips to confer with them near the field of battle.

General McClellan, a Democrat, differed with homely and non-topical Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, a Republican. General MacArthur's dispute is with an unpopular Democratic President from Missouri. Unlike MacArthur, McClellan never differed with Lincoln in public. Also McClellan was criticized by Lincoln for being overly cautious and refusing to take the offensive, whereas Truman's criticism of MacArthur is over his aggressiveness.

However, both McClellan and MacArthur were candidates for the presidency, and in both cases the real conflict was one of civilian government versus military rule. McClellan, son of a famous surgeon and grandson of a Revolutionary War general, graduated from West Point second in his class which compares with MacArthur's record of more than 90. McClellan served as an observer of Russian tactics during the Crimean War in 1855, while MacArthur accompanied his father, Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, who was an observer of the Russo-Japanese war in 1905.

McClellan left the Army to become chief engineer of the Illinois Central Railroad, returning via the Ohio National Guard after jumping to the rank of major general. It was in the Summer of 1861 that McClellan, barely past 30, was given command of the demoralized Union forces when retreating almost into Washington. A few months later Lincoln, John Hay and Secretary of State Seward walked to General McClellan's house in Washington for a conference and were snubbed by him.

As told by Hay in his diary: "We had waited about an hour when McClellan came in and, without paying any particular attention to the porter who told him the President was waiting to see him, went upstairs, passing the door where the President and the Secretary of State were seated. They waited about half an hour and sent once more a servant to tell the general they were there and the answer coolly came that the general had gone to bed."

Five months passed, and as the public became impatient with the length of the war (as the public is today with the length of the Korean war) Lincoln, in March 1862, relieved McClellan as commander in chief but retained him as commander of the Army of the Potomac. Lincoln Bided His Time.

Continuing to thumb his nose at Washington, McClellan telegraphed Secretary of War Stanton on June 28: "If I save this Army now I tell you plainly that I owe no thanks to you or any other person in Washington. You have done your best to sacrifice this Army."

No ordinary subordinate would have dared insult the secretary of War and get away with it. However, Lincoln took it—for the time being. Just as Truman for some time took MacArthur's many public statements going over the President's head on foreign policy.

Lincoln even took a carriage drive

Questions and Answers

Q—Is it dark at the bottom of the ocean?
A—It depends on the depth. Some light penetrates the ocean to a depth of 3,000 feet, but at the depth of a mile, no light can be detected.

Q—Do all coins bear a mint mark?
A—Coins made at Philadelphia generally bear no mint mark, while those struck at Denver and San Francisco mints bear the letters D or S.

Q—How many points does a Maltese cross have?
A—Eight.

Q—Is the phrase "Tell that to the Marines" American in origin?
A—While the phrase, contrary to general belief, is not American in origin, it has become pretty well naturalized. The usual doubting sort to a tall story, "Tell that to the Marines—the sailors won't believe it," originated in England and was written by Sir Walter Scott.

Latin Americans Observe Their Cinco de Mayo

Latin Americans celebrated their Cinco de Mayo Saturday. They danced at Benito Juarez Hall and crowded into the Latin American cafes and clubs for fun, food and merriment.

Old-timers gathered in groups to talk. Plugs were flown from the Cinco de Mayo Recreation Hall. Cinco de Mayo means Fifth of May to Latin Americans and they observe it as one of Mexico's independence days.

Two other independence days are September 16 and April 7.

One aged "nor said," "It's for freedom of slavery from Spain."
Genial Albino Rodriguez, proprietor of the Cinco de Mayo, reported business flourishing. He was enjoying a visit with an old friend from Big Spring.

Juan Sanchez reported a brisk holiday trade at his cafe. Midland police patrolled the sector Saturday night and found little disorder.

The day belonged to the Latin Americans and they were enjoying it, each in his own way.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

When the contest for the Vanderbilt Cup was held this year in Chicago a team composed largely of university students eliminated one of the country's best known foursomes. This is just one sign of a rebirth of interest in bridge among college students.

Each year several hundred colleges take part in an intercollegiate bridge contest. The first round is played by means of pre-arranged hands, designed to select the most skillful pairs.

How would you like to test your skill as the students did? Just look at the North-South cards of today's hand and plan your play to make four hearts. Don't read on until you've made up your own plan.

West leads the queen of spades, and that suit is continued until South ruffs the third round. Now South must set up dummy's diamonds or ruff out his own losing clubs (or both) in order to develop enough tricks.

Since the diamond finesse must be tried, South enters dummy with a club to lead a diamond. The queen holds, and South lays down the ace of diamonds to continue the work of clearing the suit.

When West drops the jack of diamonds South has some warning that the suit may break badly. The time has come to draw trumps, but South cannot afford to finesse. He must take the ace and then the king of hearts.

The next step is to ruff a diamond in the hope of dropping both of the missing diamonds. This hope fails, so South gets to the dummy with a club to ruff another diamond. Finally South ruffs a club in dummy—and he has ten tricks. East gets the last trick with the queen of hearts.

If you didn't plan it that way, don't worry too hard about it. Many of the college students muffed it also.

Drive To Get U. S. Messages Behind Curtain Is Ballooning

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Toy balloons — the kind sold by pitchmen at circuses—are being used in increasing numbers to carry U. S. messages behind the Iron Curtain. Started by the European Marshall Plan organization almost a year ago, this campaign has proved so surprisingly successful that it will be enlarged this Summer, with some new counter-propaganda dodges.

Countries behind the Iron Curtain, in what now are becoming known as "the Zombie states," have become so annoyed by the balloon propaganda they are trying to offset it. Communist newspapers publicly have denounced the balloon barrage. Since the campaign utilized the best "box top" technique of U. S. advertisers, by asking finders to send back return cards, some of the Baltic countries have tried to impose a rigid postal censorship to catch anyone from the East trying to communicate with anyone in the West.

Perhaps the highest compliment paid to the balloon messages from free Europe has been a warning carried in one Russian newspaper, telling their people the cards were impregnated with microbes. There was a further warning that this was only the beginning of a bacteriological warfare campaign that the Western powers were planning to wage against the Soviet Union.

The main idea for this type of information service grew out of a mobile caravan which the Marshall Plan organization sent on a 6,000-mile tour of Western Europe last Summer. It visited fairs in France, Belgium, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Austria.

Reply Is Requested
Carrying its own tent and motion picture equipment, the caravan showed films on how Europe was rebuilding under the Marshall Plan. As a special attraction, visitors to the caravan were given a free balloon to release, if they would sign their names to the attached cards, so as to receive a return message from the finder.

Printed on the card, usually in four languages—German, Hungarian, Czech and Russian—was a short message:

"With this balloon you receive a sincere greeting from a peace-loving friend who has visited the Marshall Plan exhibition, 'Europe Builds.' . . . Our hope is that one day people and goods will be able to pass the borders as freely as this balloon can move over the land and sea. When trade barriers are removed, production can increase. . . . It also means increased employment and a higher living standard for all of us. The Marshall Plan—for a Democratic Peace."

About 400,000 of these toy balloons were released, beginning with the Brussels Fair in May. The cost was about four and a half cents apiece, paid for with counterpart funds. An Italian colony of balloon blowers was found in Sweden and brought to Paris to handle the job. A team of a dozen men was able to make about 8,000 balloons a day, filling them with hydrogen.

Nobody knew how far the brightly colored balloons would go. The best estimates were five to 10 miles. When return cards began to come in, however, distances of more than 100 miles were recorded.

The return messages varied in content. The big bulk came from East Germans living under Soviet rule. Some expressed hope that the idea of European unity would grow.

Others expressed despair, such as "It will be a long time before we get true European peace."
Many finders return messages telling of the misery in their communities. "I should much prefer a balloon package containing the things we cannot buy in the Soviet zone," wrote an East German woman.

A best field worker in Poland and a German burger at breakfast with his wife on Sunday morning merely returned friendly greetings, considering the friendly business an amusing souvenir.

Some of the cards were found by deep-eyed Communists who tried to reply with counter-propaganda. One such finder wrote to the sender of his balloon that he was glad to have the name and address and, "We'll take care of you when the day comes."

"Whether this kind of propaganda is worth its cost and trouble is debatable. It is at best a feeble ray of light, reaching only a few people. But it has penetrated the Iron Curtain when nothing else has been able to get through.

It also has made some Communist authorities jittery. After balloons were released at the Vienna Fair a few weeks ago, "Der Abend," Communist zone daily paper, warned its readers that "the postcard is meant to serve as an identification to refugees from the People's Democracies."

"However silly the whole balloon device may be," the editorial continued, "there is no denying the fact that the campaign is an assault on the People's Democracies. Marshall Plan propaganda is thus being smuggled across the frontier against the will of the governments of the neighboring state. And the way is being cleared for American espionage."

If it bothers them that much, it may be worth continuing.

So They Say

I want every Democrat to put patriotism above politics.
—President Truman.

This nation's foreign policy must be capable of quick adjustment to changing conditions, while we stand firm on basic principles.
—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Texas).

When you put on a uniform there are certain inhibitions you accept.
—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Some are now saying, "Either extend the war or get out of Korea." They are asking us to choose which of two roads to disaster we should take. Our choice must be to take neither if we can avoid it.
—Dean Rusk, assistant secretary of state.

His soldierly qualities were never more pronounced. I think this has been his finest hour.
—Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney on how General MacArthur took his dismissal.

I whirled. "Who's in there?" Wertheim half-smiled. I knew. "Don't move, Marshall! Just stand still. How can't possibly accomplish anything! Sonya Saraveta is in there. Tied up securely. She'll have to be more than a magician to get out!"

His use of tense gave me some faint encouragement. Evidently Sonya hadn't been in there too long. He assumed that she was not yet dead. She could still be saved.

The lever operating the hydraulic hoist was only three yards away. Yet it was so far. By the time I could reach it Wertheim could shoot me five times. There was no point in trying that. But I might be able to take Wertheim. He was closer—two yards.

I FEINTED a step toward the lever. I put me farther away from Wertheim but the advantage of surprise might make the difference.

"Hold it, Marshall!" He meant it. His hand trembled as it held the gun. I made as if to take another step, then turned and threw myself at Wertheim. Even as I dove I saw his eyes staring at something beyond me. Instead of firing at me he shifted the gun and shot at the glass tank. I heard the crash of glass.

I landed with my arms around his legs. The gun roared again as he went over backwards. Then I was fighting in water—water at least a foot and a half deep. Wertheim failed at me with the gun. I caught his wrist, twisted it, holding my head out of the water which did not seem to subside. I knew that it had come from the shattered tank. The first bullet and the water pressure behind it had released the flood.

Wertheim screamed as I kept up the pressure on his wrist. He let the pistol drop into the water. I scooped it up, got my hand on the grip, fought away from Wertheim as he tried to return the compliment and twist the gun from my hand. I brought the barrel forward and downward. There was a sharp crack as barrel met skull. Wertheim slumped back into the water. He would have drowned if I had not lifted him up.

NE Coke Wildcat Gets Oil Shows In Ellenburger DST

Humble Oil & Refining Company has found a little show of oil in the Ellenburger at its No. 1 Lee Lackey, Northeast Coke County wildcat two miles southwest of Blackwell. The show was in a drillstem test at 6,314-26 feet. The tool was open two hours and two minutes. There was a good blow of air immediately and gas surfaced in nine minutes. Recovery was 50 feet of clean oil and two feet of drilling mud. There were no shows of water. Top of the Ellenburger was called at 6,295 feet. The datum there is minus 4,308 feet. The section from 6,295 feet to 6,314 feet was hard, cherty lime with no porosity and no oil stains. The zone covered by the test was porous and had some signs of oil. After the drillstem test the project cored at 6,296-31 feet. That core was being pulled at last report. Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 27, block 1-A, H&V survey. It is four miles northwest of the West Fort Chadbourne-Pennsylvanian field.

The production is coming from open hole in the Spraberry sand between the bottom of the 7-inch casing which is cemented at 7,260 feet, and the total depth of 7,439 feet. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 39, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey. That makes it 23 miles southeast of the city of Midland. Old Air Base Use Is Urged

WASHINGTON—Rep Ken Regan, Midland, 16th District Congressman, was advised on the floor of the House last week that the House Appropriations Committee is insisting that the military use old established air bases where possible rather than spend money to build new ones. Regan asked Rep. George Mahon, Lubbock, to what extent the committee had been able to prevail on the Air Force to use such facilities as might be available to them without building new ones. "Many people in West Texas," said Regan, "where there are a number of inactivated fields cannot understand why these fields are not being reactivated when new installation are being constructed." Mahon replied: "This is one of the things we have strenuously insisted upon, that old installations which are adaptable and can be used, should be used rather than starting at the beginning with new installations. The Air Force has several hundred installations of one kind or another which are not now in use and which will not come into use unless there is an all out major shooting war. Generally speaking, the bases where construction is being provided are bases that were formerly in use and these bases are being reactivated."

The fact is that engine "improvements" happen every year... but a basically new motor car engine is a very rare thing. DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Open Wide
Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was sitting beside the Elephant Path. In his hand was a scrambled coconut pie. His mouth came open wide to eat it.

"Stop! Wait!" a voice called out very loud.
Mugwump closed his mouth to wait and see who the voice was. Uh-oh, because the voice was Huffy Tuffy, the huffiest—and the tuffiest —somebody in the whole forest. Quickly Mugwump's mouth came open again, but "Stop! Wait!" called out Huffy Tuffy again. Mugwump closed his mouth without taking even one bite of the pie. One bite was all he needed, you know, to bring the pie to an end, but he waited.

"Mugwump," said Huffy Tuffy, "you shouldn't take a great big bite of a pie that way."
"No!" asked Mugwump.
"Nostr," said Huffy Tuffy. "I guess you're going to try to take it away from me," Mugwump said.

"Nostr, I'm not," said Huffy. Oh, he wanted to take the pie away from Mugwump. He could have done it, too, but his father had just given him a talking-to about taking things away from people.

"Huffy Tuffy," said Mugwump,

"why can't I take a great big bite of my pie if I want to?"
"Because," said Huffy Tuffy, "it isn't polite to do it. Here. Watch! Let me show you. This is the kind of bite to take to be polite."
Huffy Tuffy took a little bite of the pie. "Did you see?" he asked. "Here. Let me show you again." And again Huffy took another little bite of the pie. "It isn't polite," said Huffy, "to take a great big bite, but of course you can take a whole lot of bites real fast if you want to—like this!" And Huffy Tuffy nibbled and gobbled so very fast the pie was nibbled and gobbled all gone before Mugwump could say a word.

Poor Mugwump. Poor boy. Oh, but if you feel sorry for him, wait and see what happens tomorrow. Happy day!

Home Cooking Overrated, Says Ozark Psychologist

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Get happy, girls, unless you want to wind up an old maid. Beauty and brains are not enough. Neither is good home cooking.

Dr. H. K. Moore, Arkansas A&M College psychologist, has blasted some of the old notions about why Aunt Minnie never married.

Dr. Moore compared 176 wives and 176 spinsters on a list of 104 traits. His findings:

Both groups are about equal in beauty, intelligence and enjoyment of housekeeping.

But the spinsters seldom smile. The study found that the old maids are not a happy group.

Furthermore, the spinster has an unhappy disposition, fears sex and childbirth, and is a self-centered fault-finder who always wants to have her own way.

Dr. Moore's results are published in an article in Family Life, the monthly organ of the American Institute of Family Relations here.

He writes that the spinsters' trouble is that they were educated too much for careers instead of for marriage. As a result, the old maid finds it hard to treat men naturally.

She is likely either to appear indifferent or over-anxious when men notice her.

The study did not point out whether the spinsters were unhappy and unsmiling because they were spinsters.

Execution Halts Jungle Romance

KUALA LUMPUR—(AP)—Chan Fung lost his head for love. Fung, president of the rubber workers union of Sepang Salak in Selangor state and a Communist, met a pretty girl of 20 in 1948 and fell in love. She returned his affection. The love affair soon became known to his comrades. They set to work to get rid of him.

They accused him of corruption, saying he had used his office as president of the union to make money. They also declared he was planning to quit being a Communist and surrender to the police. He was seized by his comrades and taken before Hung Po, the Communist district chairman for the Sepang Salak area. Charges were made and Chan Fung, the "deviationist," was condemned to death.

Hung Po denied his requests to see the girl he loved and that he be shot instead of hanged. He was quickly strung up to a tree.

"Clear The Track," Webb Declares After Purchase

Tribe Called To Warpath; Mrs. Webb Due In Office

"Clear the track, full steam ahead," was the announcement Monday from Harold Webb, owner-manager with his wife of the Midland Indians.

"Come back to the ball park, the Indians will be up there fighting them all," Webb declared.

The Midland Indians belonged to the Harold Webbs entirely Monday.

In a surprise weekend move, the one-half interest in the club of H. W. Donohoo was purchased back by the Webbs. No figures of the terms were announced.

Donohoo bought into the club in June last year.

Harold Webb immediately announced Mrs. Webb would serve as business manager.

"Clear the track," Webb warned the Longhorn League Monday.

"Those above us and those below in the standings as of now, take notice, the Indians are going on the warpath," shouted the jovial skipper, who tacked one league pennant in Indian Park and put Midland in the playoffs three years out of four.

Webb, who spent a lot of his own money getting the Longhorn League started and who has never asked fans and merchants for a penny to run the club, promised Monday he would "stay on the job and hustle Midland all the way."

Things indeed look better for the 1951 Indians at this writing.

Spotting The Players
Pitching has been a worry and help is on the way. Hook Hayes, lanky left-hander, is expected any day now. He's with Oklahoma City.

A pitcher was due Monday from Abilene. Not a bad tosser, Dave McKenzie, showed up Saturday night. Iron-man Eddie Jacobs is coming along. Rookie McMillon is coming along.

including White, Tanner and Cowser, all heavy stickmen. The infield may be shifted to make way for little Scooter Hughes, who will plug the gap where the errors have been coming lately. Big Jim Prince, the long-ball knocker, is a fixture at first base. Eddie Melillo, popular infielder, has been hitting well. And of course, Kenny Jones, hustling little Jenessy, will be there.

Attendance at home games is expected to take a sharp upturn with better weather and more Indian victories in the ledger.

"Thanks, Donohoo," Webb Monday thanked Donohoo for his help, which came at a time when the skipper really needed it—he was out of action most of last season.

Bubbling over with enthusiasm, the Roundman Monday was telling the world—"Clear the track."

Fred T. Hogan To Conduct Qualifying Rounds For Tournaments

Fred T. Hogan of the Midland Country Club will conduct sectional qualifying rounds for three important golf tournaments to be held soon, it was announced here Saturday.

Hogan will conduct the qualifying rounds at the Midland Country Club August 28 for the National Amateur Golf Tournament to be held at Saucon Valley Country Club, Bethlehem, Pa., September 10-15.

He will go to Amarillo Country Club June 4 to ramrod qualifiers for the National Open to be held in Birmingham, Mich., June 14-15-16. Birmingham is a suburb of Detroit.

July 17, Hogan will be in charge of qualifiers at Abilene Country Club for the USA Junior Amateur Tourney to be held July 25-28 at the University of Illinois at Champaign.

Entry blanks may be obtained by writing Hogan, Post Office Box No. 1888, Midland.

Longhorn League—Angelo Makes Hay While Wind Blows

By The Associated Press
San Angelo's Colts made hay while the wind blew in the Longhorn League Sunday.

Three games were postponed because of cold and high winds but San Angelo got in its stint against Midland and won 6-0 to increase its lead in first place in the circuit to three and one-half games. This game was called after six innings because of high winds.

Derwood Cox pitched a one-hitter in elbowing San Angelo to its win over Midland. Six Midland errors helped him along, too. San Angelo got eight hits.

Postponed were Artesia at Vernon, Odessa at Big Spring and Roswell at Sweetwater.

High Winds, Cold Cancel Three As Blue Sox Climb
By The Associated Press
Only one game could be played in the West Texas-New Mexico League Sunday and it allowed Abilene to go into a virtual tie with Albuquerque for the lead.

Albuquerque at Borger and Clovis and Amarillo were postponed because of cold, Pampa and Lamesa was called off due to dust and high wind.

Abilene beat Lubbock 10-6, using only five hits but as many Lubbock errors, plus seven walks, to make the grade. The Blue Sox pushed over five runs in the eighth.

The game was played in a dust and wind storm.

Russia May Join Davis Cup Battles

MOSCOW —(P)— Is Russia planning to challenge for the Davis Cup, emblem of international tennis supremacy?

Soviet Sport, the official organ of the Soviet Committee on Physical Culture and Sports Affairs, demanded in a lead editorial that tennis become a mass sport in the U.S.S.R.

The paper said tennis is an excellent game demanding great skill and stamina. It said everything possible should be done to develop brilliant young Soviet tennis players and send them out after international championships.

Colts Blank Tribe 6 To 0 In Short Tilt

The Midland Indians and San Angelo Colts are scheduled to meet in the second game of their current two-game series Monday night at Indian Park. The starting time is 8 p.m.

High winds and the San Angelo Colts blanked the Midland Indians in a Longhorn League game here Sunday afternoon while the visitors rang up six runs on eight hits and six Midland errors.

The game was called at the end of the sixth because of the wind.

Derwood Cox, the durable San Angelo hurler, allowed only one hit and never was in trouble. The win extended the Colts' victory streak to eight games. Cox also drove in a run in Sunday's wind-buffed tilt.

Only a handful of spectators was on hand to witness the tilt.

Wayne Wallace, Angelo first baseman, started the scoring in the second inning after he singled, Schneegold walked and Cox drove him in.

Angelo's big inning was the fourth, when the visitors collected three runs.

Pirate Southpaw Chucks No-Hitter At Boston Braves

By The Associated Press
The first no-hit, no run game of the year—and the first in the majors since last August—was in the records Monday.

Cliff Chambers, Pittsburgh's 29-year-old southpaw, turned it in as he shut out Boston 8-0 in the second game of a National League doubleheader Sunday.

Chambers was wild in carrying his masterpiece, walking eight batters. However, he received splendid support in the field.

Boston won the opener 6-0 behind the eight-hit pitching of Warren Spahn, who turned in his second straight shutout.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers 11-7 to draw a half-game ahead of the runner-up Braves.

The Philadelphia Phillies and the Chicago Cubs divided a doubleheader, the Phils taking the opener 5-4 and the Cubs the nightcap 9-7 in 10 innings.

The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds also divided a pair of games. The Reds won the first, 4-3 on Virgil Stallcup's tenth-inning home run. The Giants took a 3-0 lead on Hank Thompson's three-run homer in the first inning of the nightcap and never were headed.

The New York Yankees continued their murderous hitting as they bowled over Detroit 11-6 to stretch their winning streak to eight games.

The triumph enabled the Yanks to pick up ground on the Washington Senators and the Cleveland Indians, who divided a doubleheader in Cleveland.

The Senators won the first game 8-1 and the runner-up Indians took the second 4-2.

The Chicago White Sox beat Philadelphia twice 4-1 and 8-3, and Boston and St. Louis divided. The Red Sox won the first game 5-4 and the Browns the second 8-2.

Spring Grid Drills Half Completed

The Midland High School Bulldogs in Spring football training have rounded the turn and are going into the stretch.

In other words, the Bulldogs for 1951, have completed two weeks of Spring drills and have two more weeks to go.

The coaches promise that these next two weeks will be packed with action. There is going to be scrimmaging, scrumming and then some more scrimmaging.

To top off the month's work, an annual Spring training game is carded. In this, the exes will take on the future Bulldogs.

That should be quite a contest. It is due May 22.

Coaches said Monday not a position had been won on next year's ball club. They praised the attitude of the boys and commended it.

Steers Expected To Sew Up SWC Crown This Week

By The Associated Press

The Texas Longhorns are expected to sew up the Southwest Conference baseball championship this week and prepare for their third National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament in a row.

Texas can clinch the title by beating Texas Christian once and Southern Methodist twice. In that event, Texas A&M, even if it loses no games this week—and it plays Rice two—would have no chance even at gaining a tie for the title when the Aggies clash with Texas in a series next week to wind up the campaign.

Last week A&M beat Southern Methodist 5-4 and Baylor 9-0 and 12-8 while Texas won blasting Rice 11-1. Texas Christian won over Rice 4-1.

Texas, leading the race easily, has a 9-1 record. A&M, in second place, has 7-4.

Baylor and Southern Methodist play at Waco Monday while Texas and Texas Christian get together at Austin.

Friday and Saturday Rice and A&M meet at Houston, Texas Christian and Baylor at Fort Worth and Texas and Southern Methodist at Austin.

Texas League—Roughnecks Surge Into Top Flight On Nine-Game Streak

By The Associated Press

Beaumont's wild surge in the talk of the Texas League these days. It harkens to 1950 when what was considered the most impotent entry in the race suddenly caught fire and drove to the top, to stay there through most of the season.

This year the Roughnecks were marked off as contenders for the pennant before the campaign even started. Gone was that crafty manager, Rogers Hornsby, and most of the club that figured in that memorable drive.

For almost three weeks of this campaign, the Roughnecks either were on the bottom or close enough to be hit by a pebble. Then they started to move.

Now, Harry Craft's rambunctious boys have surged into the first division on the basis of the nine-game winning streak. They're tied with Fort Worth for third place and are two and one-half games away from leading San Antonio.

Sunday, they licked Fort Worth 4-3 on Ford Garrison's homer in the ninth with two on base.

Others Best Padres

Opposite extremes in the league race met at San Antonio as last-place Tulsa swiped at San Antonio. Tulsa won 4-2. It didn't help a lot as Tulsa still is mired in the cellar, but it shaved San Antonio's lead over Oklahoma City, in second place, to a game and a half.

Houston skidded into the second division by absorbing a 5-2 defeat from Oklahoma City. Johnny Bearley pitched shut-out ball until the ninth, when the Buffs came to life. The Indians pounded 11 hits and had a 5-0 lead going into that last frame. Houston got seven blows.

Dallas swept both ends of a doubleheader from Shreveport, taking the opener 2-1 as Walt Lanfranconi notched his sixth straight pitching victory on Bob Prentice's two-run double in the ninth, and capturing the nightcap 6-4. The second game was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness.

U. S. Court Suit To Save Doomed Negro Scheduled

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—A federal court suit to save Willie McGee was set for a hearing Monday afternoon, just 11 hours before the condemned negro rapist was scheduled to be executed.

Gov. Fielding Wright meanwhile held a clemency plea under advisement. There was no indication when his decision would be announced.

Barring another reprieve—he has had three—McGee will die in Mississippi's portable electric chair at Laurel at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday. The 37-year-old grocery truck driver has been convicted three times on charges of raping a white Laurel housewife on Nov. 2, 1945.

Time was running out again when defense attorneys filed a civil damage suit in U. S. District Court late Saturday during a weekend of pro-McGee protest meetings here and in Washington.

The suit charged McGee's civil rights had been violated. It asked for an unspecified amount of damages and for an injunction to bar the execution until the federal court disposed of the suit.

Israeli-Syrian Fighting Continues

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL.—(AP)—Syrian troops opened fire Monday with rifles and machine guns on an Israeli settlement near the frontier, dispatches reported.

An Israeli military spokesman said several houses were hit, including the settlement's children's home, but there were no casualties.

Near Tel El Mutella, where bitter fighting raged three days, no new incidents were reported. The sector and that around the disputed Huleh Swamp reclamation area to the north were reported quiet.

Israel has announced she will not heed a cease-fire order sponsored by the United Nations to end the bitter frontier dispute so long as Syrian forces remain in the demilitarized area northwest of the Sea of Galilee.

Two U. S. Soldiers Die In Truck Mishap

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY.—(AP)—U. S. Army authorities Monday announced the names of two American soldiers killed in a truck accident last Friday.

They were Pfc. James F. Tew of Longview, Texas, and Pvt. Aral Compton of Fishtrap, Ky.

The men were buried under ammunition carried in their six-wheel truck when the truck skidded down a nine-foot embankment at a highway near Bad Kreuznach.

Black Indians Win Over Crane Nine 11-5

The Midland Black Indians took the measure of the Crane Tigers 11-5 Sunday afternoon in a baseball tilt played here.

Despite the high winds and blowing sand, the Black Indians pounded out three home runs. Those knocking the homers were John Williams, Oscar Lewis and Perry Lampkins.

The Black Indians will play the Odessa Black Oilers Thursday night in Indian Park, it was announced. Another game in Indian Park at 3 p.m. Sunday, will match the Black Indians with the San Angelo Shepherds.

New President Of Austria Will Be Named In Runoff

VIENNA, AUSTRIA.—(AP)—Austria's presidency — a post of much dignity but little political power — will be settled in a runoff election within the next 35 days.

The candidates will be Dr. Heinrich Gleissner, 58, a conservative civil servant representing the strong Catholic People's Party, and Dr. Theodore Koerner, 78, bearded Socialist labor mayor of Vienna.

Gleissner was high man, with Koerner second, of six candidates in Sunday's presidential election. Gleissner failed, however, to obtain the necessary absolute majority.

The election results indicated a decided antipathy toward the Communists, who polled only 5.1 per cent—220,012 votes—of the almost 4,300,000 ballots cast—and this despite Russia's being the occupying power in Eastern Austria.

Egyptians Salute Their New Queen

CAIRO, EGYPT.—(AP)—Egypt joyfully saluted a new queen Sunday as King Farouk was married to a beautiful commoner, 17-year-old Narriman Sadek.

To the booming of 101 salute guns, all Egypt united in double celebration of the wedding and of the fiftieth anniversary of the 31-year-old monarch's reign.

While the bride waited in her widowed mother's modest home, a 20-minute all-male Moslem ceremony at Kubbeh Palace joined the couple late in the morning.

Six hours later, Narriman made her first public appearance as queen, driving the seven miles to Abdin Palace past more than 1,000,000 of her cheering new subjects.

Marshall—

ing our Allies and wrecking the coalition of free peoples throughout the world."

MacArthur has proposed intensification of the economic squeeze against Red China, blockade of its coasts, air operations over Manchuria and use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa.

Marshall said MacArthur "would have us, on our own initiative, carry the conflict beyond Korea against the mainland of Communist China, both from the sea and from the air."

Risk Of Involvement

"He would have us accept the risk of involvement, not only in an extension of the war with Red China, but in an all-out war with the Soviet Union," the defense secretary said, adding:

"He (MacArthur) would have us do this even though the effect of such action might expose Western Europe to attack by the millions of Soviet troops poised in Middle and Eastern Europe."

MacArthur had argued that his proposals ought to be acceptable to other members of the United Nations. But he said that if they were not, the United States should "go it alone."

MacArthur contended, too, that the moves he advocated would not involve any greater risk of Russian entry into war than had the first American troops intervention in Korea.

Marshall, at the outset of his testimony, said he deplored what he called the necessity for testifying in contradiction to "a brother Army officer."

Then, in later discussion of MacArthur, he said it is "completely understandable and, in fact, at times commendable that a theater commander should become so wholly wrapped up in his own aims and responsibilities that some of the directives received by him from higher authority are not those that he would have written for himself."

Nothing New About It

"There is nothing new about this sort of thing in our military history. What is new, and what has brought about the necessity for General MacArthur's removal, is the wholly unprecedented situation of a local commander publicly expressing his displeasure at and his disagreement with the foreign and military policy of the United States."

Several senators questioned MacArthur about the propriety of his action when the deposed general was against any "gap" rule. He also said he would have permitted officers under his personal command to communicate directly with members of Congress, even if the officers knew their words might be used in public debate.

MacArthur's discharge was blamed in large part on a letter he wrote Representative Martin (R-Mass.), endorsing the latter's view for use of Chinese Nationalist troops against the Chinese Reds.

Marshall told the senators:

"It became apparent that General MacArthur had grown so far out of sympathy with the established policies of the United States that there was doubt as to whether he could any longer be permitted to exercise the authority in making decisions that normal command functions would assign to a theater commander. In this situation, there was no other recourse but to relieve him."

Two Husbands Kill Young Wives, Then Commit Suicide

RICHMOND, VA. —(AP)— Two husbands shot and killed their estranged teen-age wives in Virginia Sunday and then committed suicide. The two incidents took place several hundreds miles apart. Deputy Sheriff Conley Fields, on a routine patrol near Lebanon in the southwest part of the state, was a witness to the slaying of Mrs. May Edwards Johnson of Lawrence, Ind., 15-year-old bride of eight months.

Auto Crash Hurls Woman 150 Feet

PLYMOUTH, IND. —(AP)— The impact of an auto crash Saturday night hurled a young woman 150 feet through the air to a 35-foot high barn roof, killing her almost instantly. State Police said Mrs. Agnes Grise, 21, of Bremen, Ind., was thrown through the windshield of her husband's car when it plunged into a ditch. They said the husband, Robert Grise, 23, said brakes on the car had locked and that he had been traveling about 60 miles an hour.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Those Who Suffer Stroke Often Are Rehabilitated

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
"What can be done for my father who suffered a stroke of apoplexy several weeks ago? What is the outlook for him?"
Questions like these come up more and more often because as the life span has become lengthened, the chances of having some disorder traceable to the blood vessels also have increased. A stroke is one of these.

answered with the usual medical ifs and buts. Take the second question first. The outlook depends on where the bleeding or clot was, the size of the damaged area and the state of the other blood vessels. If all of these are favorable the patient may get along well and not have any further trouble. If the contrary is the case, the outlook is poor.

In order to answer these questions intelligently one must know what a stroke is about. It is a condition in which some artery supplying blood to a portion of the brain becomes hardened or otherwise weakened and allows some blood to escape into the surrounding area. Or it allows a clot to form in a blood vessel thus cutting off the circulation to some part of the brain tissue. Usually either one of these events comes suddenly and is accompanied by symptoms which depend on the size and location of the injury to the brain. In other words, a small hemorrhage or clot in an unimportant part of the brain may pass unnoticed while a larger or less favorably located area of damage can cause such things as loss of consciousness or paralysis of one side of the body.

Doctors Optimistic
Concerning what can be done, doctors are more optimistic than they used to be and can do a good deal more. Many of those who have had a stroke now are started on slight physical activity quite early. This permits faster retraining of the muscles. Massage, braces and other measures are being used more and more often. Although no one should expect too much, it is true today as never before that many of those who suffer a stroke can be rehabilitated to a remarkable degree.

Twins are born about once in every 87 births.
