Marshall Pictures UN Objectives

Says Beaten Reds Will Have To Ask Negotiated Peace

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Marshall said Tuesday the United Nations aim to win the Korean war by inflicting "terrific casualties" on the Chinese Communists, breaking their morale and destroying their trained armies.

The defense secretary gave that answer to senators pressing him as to what "foreseeable end" the Administration's Korean war policies promise.

He was at the Capitol for the second day defending those policies against the bitter attack made by General MacArthur, deposed Far Eastern commander who contends they offer nothing but a "bloody stalemate."

Marshall told the senators, too, that he is "disturbed" about the possible effect on United Nations men in Korea of statements from their commander (MacArthur) "which accentuate the casualties that they are suffering and in effect that it is without justified purpose."

"We should find some way," Marshall said, "of proceeding with this investigation that does not destroy us in the field by serious reaction in the way of morale."

Marshall said the Administration's plan for Korea has been to "inflict the greatest number of casualties we could in order to break down not only the morale, but the trained fabric of the Chinese armies."

At this point the censor deleted 50 words from the public version of Marshall's testimony.

Then the secretary of Defense continued: "That is, inflict terrific casualties on the Chinese Communist forces. 'If we seek the morale of their armies, but more particularly, if we destroy their best trained armies as we have been in the process of doing, there, it seems to me, you develop the best probability of reaching a satisfactory negotiatory basis with those Chinese Communist forces, without getting ourselves into what we think would be a great hazard toward developing a much enlarged struggle with consequently larger casualties or a complete world war.'"

The references to "negotatory basis" indicated Marshall and the joint chiefs of staff hope that if

Bandit Trio Robs South Texas Bank

POTEET, TEXAS—(AP)—Three young men, wearing gloves and white handkerchief masks, robbed the First State Bank of Poteet about 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Cashier E. O. Mangum, who was in a back room and didn't know what had happened until afterward, said "They didn't get more than about $1,500."

Mangum said all three were young men in their twenties and strangers in this South Texas city of about 2,500.

One stood at the door while a second approached Teller Helen Franklin and demanded money. Another went to another cage.

The one at the teller's window scooped up loose bills and silver on the counter there into a small valise. The three men fled.

Miss Franklin ran to the back door in time to see them speed away in a dark blue Buick sedan with the license plate DX-2286.

There was no one in the bank at the time except Mangum, Miss Franklin and two clerks—Margaret Mangum and Dorothy Yow.

Poteet is about 20 miles south of San Antonio.

All three men had revolvers but there was no gunfire. The whole thing was over in a minute or so.

"They overlooked a lot of money and didn't even mention the safe," said Mangum.

A car bearing license number DX-2286, a 1949 model, was reported stolen May 1 from Mrs. Frances X. Chadwick of San Antonio.

The robbery immediately set off a manhunt in South Texas. Bexar County Sheriff Owen Kilday ordered all available deputies into the search and he headed a group leaving for the Palo Alto road intersection.

Texas Ranger Zeno Smith and state highway patrolmen also joined in the hunt.

Phillips To Build Gas Plant

BARTLESVILLE, OKLA.—(AP)—Phillips Petroleum Company announced Tuesday it will build a natural gasoline products plant south of Midland, Texas. It will be known as the Spraberry Plant.

The plant will serve the Tex-Harvey, Germania and Driver areas of Spraberry and developments in Midland and Glasscock Counties.

The announcement said it is anticipated ground will be broken for the project in the near future.

Phillips owns a substantial acreage in these fields and disclosed it already has contracted to purchase casinghead gas from other operators. The firm recently announced plans for a new crude oil line to serve the same general area which will supply gas to the new plant.

Truman Tells His Version

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman sought to convince his countrymen Monday night that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals might provoke another World War and "death blow" atomic attacks on America's great cities.

Tuesday, he observed the sixtieth anniversary of his proclamation of victory over Nazi Germany awaiting reaction to his declaration that victory can be won in Korea. The first comment from Republican senators was to the effect they'll have to be shown.

Truman took a personal hand in the Administration drive to rally public support for his course with a foreign policy speech to some 800 civilian defense workers here Monday night.

He declared that to expand the Korean war, as the general he ousted proposes, would bring the "real possibility" of Russia launching "death blow" atomic attacks on New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Seattle, Los Angeles, Washington and other cities.

On the other hand, he said, the free nations have stopped the march of communism in Asia and "dealt a heavy blow to the Kremlin conspiracy."

Industry Can Meet U. S. Defense Needs, Warren Tells IPAA

DENVER—(AP)—The oil industry can meet U. S. defense needs, says the president of the Independent Petroleum Association, J. Ed Warren of Midland, Texas, told directors of the association.

"The industry has met every challenge in finding and making available new and greater reserves. Capability has been the strength of the oil industry. We will retain this capability and productive ability as long as we retain the necessary incentive."

The oil men heard the U. S. will require 7,415,000 barrels of petroleum products a day during the year.

Governor Signs Law For Auto Inspections

AUSTIN—(AP)—A law designed to take death-trap jalopies off the highways was signed Tuesday by Gov. Allan Shivers.

The new law requires annual inspection of all automobiles. Failure to pass the inspection would disqualify a car for license tags. Inspection will cover brakes, lights, horn and steering gear.

The bill goes into effect 90 days after the end of the current legislative session.

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Senate Tuesday, by voice vote, knocked out a proposed one-cent-a-gallon boost in the state gasoline tax.

Accidental Pistol Shot Kills Midland Girl Scout Leader

Mrs. J. Lynn Metcalfe, 40, prominent Girl Scout leader, was shot to death accidentally following a traffic argument near the busy U. S. 80-State Highway 158 intersection in West Midland late Monday.

She was shot as she struggled to take a .38 caliber revolver from her husband, a Midland real estate and building contractor and former tourist court owner.

Metcalfe was released Monday night on $2,000 bond, set by Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson, on a technical charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife. Stephenson, as acting coroner, Tuesday returned a verdict of "death by accidental means."

Police said the scuffle followed a traffic argument between Metcalfe and three teen-age boys.

The three boys, according to investigating officers, had been stopped by Metcalfe when he claimed they passed his car on the wrong side. Metcalfe followed the boys, waved them to the curb and got out of his car to talk to them. One of the youths, age 18, got out of the car in which the boys were riding. The ages of the other youths are 17 and 18.

Officers quoted the 16-year-old youth as saying Metcalfe tried to get them to go to the police station, but the boys refused.

Metcalfe started walking back to his car and the boys started to drive away. The officers said it was then that Metcalfe reached into the glove compartment of his car and got a pistol. They said Mrs. Metcalfe pointed with her husband "not to shoot at the boys, and she was shot when the gun discharged in the

Wilson Bill Given Final House Nod

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Senate Tuesday okayed a conference committee report on the big state spending bill and immediately laid out an omnibus tax bill for debate.

AUSTIN—(AP)—A congressional redistricting bill which would make two pair of congressmen fight it out for survival was finally passed by the House Tuesday 73-34.

It now goes to the Senate. There was virtually no House discussion preceding final action although there had been violent opposition in preceding weeks.

The Senate had the big state spending bill in its lap and ready for debate, along with a suggestion from Gov. Allan Shivers to get the money by an increased natural gas tax, plus extension of last year's special 10 per cent boost in omnibus tax rates.

Regan vs. Fisher
The congressional reapportionment bill would pit Rep. Olin (Tiger) Teague of College Station against Bob Poage of Waco and Rep. Ken Regan of Midland against Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo. The latter pairing caused the biggest ruckus, but opponents were unsuccessful last week in an attempt to give Regan a separate district in the Trans-Pecos area.

Rep. Jim Bob Paxton of Elkhart, who helped to retain a separate district for Rep. Tom Picketts of Palestine, continued to fight the new plan, largely the work of Rep. Paul Wilson of Geneva.

"Why send this over to the Senate when it's not going to be passed over there anyway?" he asked, declaring the measure was not essential at this time.

Shivers told a press conference Monday he was dropping the idea of an added gasoline tax in favor of a boost in the levy on natural gas.

Additional $40,000 For Airport Is Asked
The Midland Air Terminal will have another $40,000 of federal funds to improve its facilities under a program proposed Tuesday to the Commerce department.

The $40,000, which would be matched by the same amount locally, is part of $2,000,000 proposed by the department for developing and improving of Texas airports.

The funds still must be approved by Congress.

Electrical Mishap Fatal To Oil Field Waterworks Chief

Orville Moore, 35-year-old waterworks superintendent for the Tex-Harvey Oil Company was electrocuted Monday when the gin pole of a truck came in contact with a high-voltage power line.

Virgil Fikes, 27, Big Spring, was burned seriously on the hands and feet in the accident in the Tex-Harvey oil field 15 miles southeast of Midland.

There were no other witnesses to the tragedy and company spokesmen said Tuesday few details were available.

Moore died in Midland Memorial Hospital early Monday night after valiant efforts for two hours to revive him failed. His heart still was beating when he reached the hospital and at one time breathing was noted briefly.

Fikes' Power Line
Fikes, under treatment in Midland Memorial Hospital, said he was on the truck from which a water pump was being lowered to the ground with a gin pole.

Midland Man Files Suit Contesting New Law On Beer Sales

A Midland retail beer dealer Tuesday had challenged the constitutionality of a new state law banning the sale of beer by wholesalers on a credit basis.

The challenge came in a temporary injunction suit filed in 70th District Court by Albert B. Cole, Jr., operator of Bert's Drive-In, at 301 North Big Spring Street.

A temporary injunction was issued by Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton against enforcement of a three-day suspension order by the Texas Liquor Control Board.

Named as defendant in the suit was Coke R. Stephenson, Jr., administrator of the board.

The petition filed by Cole explained that the suspension order, based on the new law which became effective March 17, was issued after one of its checks given in payment for a beer purchase, had "by error" been dishonored at the bank.

Returned Through Error
The check was given the Pearl Beer Distributing Company of Midland and Cole said "he had sufficient funds arranged in said bank to pay said check . . . but through error said check was returned unpaid."

The suit asserted the new law "is unconstitutional because the provisions violate every fundamental principle of contract and free trade, and that the Constitutions of the State of Texas and the United States do not prohibit the sale of merchandise on credit or authorized the Legislature to enact a law requiring cash on the barrel-head before the merchandise can be delivered to the purchaser."

Mrs. Donelson Dies In Stanton Hospital

STANTON—Mrs. LaVenia Jones Donelson, 66, wife of Lee Donelson, died Monday afternoon in a Stanton hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the mother of Morris E. Donelson of Midland.

She had resided in Martin County the last 24 years, making her home in the Greenwood community and the Lenora community until recently, when she and her husband moved to Stanton. She was prominent in the Methodist Church during her lifetime and active in community affairs.

Funeral services are to be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church of Stanton with the Rev. J. E. Harrell officiating. Interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery. Arrangement Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers will be Herman Fisher, John Priddy, Chalmer Wren, Jim Webb, Ralph Newman, Dave Foreman, Stanley Rhodes and Charlie Wise.

Mrs. Donelson is survived by the husband; six sons, Morris E. of Midland, Arron of Stanton, J. L. of Joshua, Henry of Houston, J. D. of Kress and Seth of Lampasas; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Thompson of Sterling, Colo.; two brothers, J. N. Sanders of Gunter and C. M. Sanders of Edinburg; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Cooper of Houston, and 12 grandchildren.

IT FELT LIKE A TON OF BRICKS—And that's what it was when this new Oldsmobile, driven by William Edward Trumble of McCamey, collided with a truck carrying a load of bricks at West Illinois and North C Streets. Two persons suffered minor injuries.

Ohio Finds Another Pay For Frankirk Field In Stonewall

Discovery of another pay was indicated in The Ohio Oil Company No. 2-A Anderson, offset to Ellenburger production in the Frankirk field of South-Central Stonewall County, when a drillstem test was made in the Pennsylvania reef.

Operator ran a nine-hour and 11-minute test from 9,211 to 9,065 feet. The 400-foot water blanket surfaced immediately and gas surfaced in eight minutes. Oil was shown to the top in one hour and two minutes. It flowed for eight hours and 15 minutes at the estimated rate of 10 to 12 barrels per hour through a 5/8-inch choke.

Coming Out Of Hole
Operator was coming out of hole with test tool at last report.

The Pennsylvania reef was topped at 5,009 feet.

Barrels the project indicated as a discovery for Canyon sand production on a drillstem test from 4,995 to 4,525 feet. The two-well Frankirk field gets its production from the Ellenburger.

Ohio likely will drill to that formation and test in No. 2-A Anderson.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 16, block U, T&P survey and seven miles slightly west of Aspermont.

Wellman-Wolcamp Test In SW Terry Reports Good Flow

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 4 Scales, project in the east side of the Wellman-Wolcamp field of Southwest Terry County, assured production from the reef on a drillstem test from 9,148 to 9,248 feet.

Tool was open two hours and 73 minutes. A five-eighths bottom hole choke was used. Gas surfaced in eight minutes and oil was at the top in 15 minutes. It flowed 212 barrels in two hours and eight minutes. Gas-oil ratio was 429-1 and gravity was 43.8 degrees. No water was made.

Operator is now preparing to run electric log surveys. Five and one-half-inch casing will then be run.

No. 4 Scales is 188 feet higher on top of the reef than the highest producer in the field, which is Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 2 Scales, one location north of Magnolia No. 4 Scales.

The Magnolia venture topped the reef at 9,148 feet, elevation 3,283 feet. Anderson-Prichard No. 2 Scales was finished for a daily flowing potential of 2,238 barrels of 44.5-gravity oil.

Location for No. 4 Scales is 660 feet from north and 1,966.5 feet from west lines of section 12, block G-36, pal survey and 10 miles southwest of Brownfield.

SW Martin Project Gets Show Of Gas In DST Of Spraberry

Seven miles north of the city of Midland and in Southwest Martin County, Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Stimson and Burley wildcat prospector is making more hole in the Spraberry after logging shows of gas on a drillstem test in that formation.

The test was made in the interval from 7,835 to 7,910 feet. Tool was left open six and one-half hours. Recovery was 1,300 feet of gas-out-mud with no shows of oil.

The Spraberry was topped at 7,833 feet, elevation 2,846 feet. That gives it a datum point of minus 4,987 feet.

Location is 660 feet from west and south lines of section 36, block 39, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Three Aspermont Wildcats Staked

Three wildcat explorations have been staked for immediate drilling in the Aspermont townsite of Central Stonewall County.

All three will be drilled to around 6,100 feet to explore for possible production in the Ellenburger in the north part of the town.

H. J. Mosser Oil Company of Alice staked No. 1 J. K. and Jessie Veazy, 137.5 feet from south and 131 feet from east lines of block 35, in addition 3 to the town.

Mosser Oil will drill No. 1 Veazy 37 feet from south and 131 feet from east lines of block 33, addition 3.

Sidney A. Sparks No. 1 Veazy will be 112 feet from south and 131 feet from east lines of block 31, addition 3.

High Court Writes Far-Reaching Ruling On Oil Pipe Lines

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In a split decision which the government warned might have far-reaching effects, the Supreme Court ruled Monday that companies carrying their own oil in their own pipe lines are free from federal rate regulation.

A majority of the court held, however, that such companies can be compelled to file reports and maintain a uniform system of accounts. The case involved the Champlin Refining Company of Enid, Okla.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which tried to force Champlin to file its pipe line rate schedules, had said the exemption granted by the court "might exclude from regulation a large segment of this oil industry."

Justice Clark wrote the majority opinion in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Frankfurter, Jackson and Minton concurred.

Justices Douglas, Reed and Burton concurred in part and dissented in part, holding that the company is completely exempt from the law bringing interstate pipe lines under the ICC. They would not require either the filing of rate schedules or reports.

Justice Black dissented, declaring the majority opinion makes "impossible" enforcement of the pipe line act as he said Congress intended.

A special three-judge U. S. District Court in Oklahoma City had ruled that Champlin did not come under the act at all and did not have to file annual reports or publish its rates. Monday's majority opinion reversed this lower court decision as to the annual reports, but upheld it as to rates.

Clark wrote that the court found it hard to conclude that Congress intended to impose "the duty of serving the public at regulated rates on all private pipe lines merely because they cross state lines."

The majority held the ICC could not require Champlin to transport oil for other firms as a common carrier and therefore could not assume powers over Champlin's own pipe line rates.

Black dissented this and said that because the transportation costs in a company's private pipe line become a part of the cost of the final product, private pipe lines should be regulated.

Champlin refines oil at Enid and pumps refined products through its pipe line, running through Hutchinson, Kan., and Superior, Neb., to Rock Rapids, Iowa.

Death Ends Suffering Of Warner Baxter, Original Cisco Kid

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.—(AP)—Death has stopped the horrible pain which handsman Warner Baxter, 52, the movie's original Cisco Kid, suffered for years.

The suave, virile matinee idol died Monday night at his home.

For years he had suffered from arthritis, the pain of which was so great that he was unable to eat. It also created a vitamin deficiency and the combination brought on slow starvation.

Three weeks ago, a lobotomy (brain operation) was performed to lessen the pain. Bronchial pneumonia set in to hasten the end.

Baxter was the second actor ever to win the top academy award ever to win the top academy award Oscar—and a scared jackrabbit was responsible.

In 1928, Raoul Walsh, the famed director, was directing and playing the top role of the Cisco Kid in the first outdoor all-talking picture "In Old Arizona."

While he was driving home from location scenes in Zion Canyon, Utah, the headlights on Walsh's car frightened a jackrabbit. It jumped and crashed through the windshield, blinding Walsh's right eye.

Baxter replaced him in the role. Both the picture and Baxter won 1929 Oscars. Emil Jennings had won the first male acting Oscar the previous year.

Although Baxter was one of Hollywood's top stars before and after the 1929 award, he always considered the Cisco Kid his favorite role.

Among his better known pictures were "Daddy Long Legs," "The Cisco Kid," "42nd Street," "Broadway," "The Great Gatsby," "Kidnaped," and "Under the Pampas Moon."

In recent years, he played "Dr. Ordway" in the "Crime Doctor" series but the movies soon became a sideline to real estate and other business interests.

Dennis O'Keefe Already Is A Refugee From Television

HOLLYWOOD—Dennis O'Keefe, screaming about the hectic confusion of New York television, is flashing Hollywood the red light signal: "STAY WEST, YOUNG MAN."

It had to happen. A dark-haired movie starlet has just taken the screen name of Joan Harlow . . . Barbara Bushman, grand-daughter of Francis X. Bushman, is flashing a Mona Lisa smile to pals who ask when she will wed Richard Quine, Susan Peters' ex . . .

Ava Gardner's voice is going on the sound track for those two songs in "Show Boat." It was Annette Warren's warbling, not Ava's, for the recent splash pre-showing. Metro executives changed their minds because of Ava's own larking of "How Am I to Know" on an MGM record side.

Nancy Davis' two-word answer to people who want to know if she'll be playing the perfect real-life-wife to Ronald Reagan one of these days: "No statement." . . . Robert Stack's answer to the same question about Claudette Thornton: "It's possible."

People who knew Audrey Totter and producer Armand Deutsch best are saying they no longer expect a marriage announcement . . . Actors who won't be working together if they can help it in the future: Kirk Douglas and Walter Brennan. The feud started when they made "Along the Great Dividing" for Warners.

Biggest hush-hush story project in movietown is the untitled original rushed out by L. Willinger, the photographer, and Capt. Malcolm Stratford. It's about a secret branch of the Air Force that never has been revealed to the public. A green light on a movie about the subject has been flashed from the Pentagon.

Stewart Hands Out Cigars In Paris

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Actor Jimmy Stewart passed out cigars in Paris Tuesday—for twin girls.

Mrs. Stewart, 22, the former Gloria Hatrick McLean, gave birth to the girls by Caesarian section Monday night at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

She has two sons by a previous marriage. The new girls are unnamed as yet. One weighed six pounds, six ounces, the other five pounds, 12 ounces.

Stewart, 42, could only say, "They're beautiful."

Parks, Columbia Films End Three-Year Pact

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Larry Parks and Columbia Pictures have terminated his contract by mutual agreement.

Parks, who told the House Un-American Activities Committee recently he once had been a Communist, was under contract to make one picture a year for three years.

Columbia withdrew Parks from the last of the three contracted films shortly after Parks testified March 21.

A spokesman for Parks said he has been offered a role in a new picture by another studio.

Senate Bill Would Penalize Those Who Employ Wetbacks

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate has approved a bill to recruit Mexican labor for seasonal U. S. farm work. The bill now goes to the House.

Accepted on voice vote was an amendment by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) which would impose a fine of up to $2,000 and a year in jail for any person knowingly employing any Mexican alien who entered the country illegally.

Originally, Douglas proposed the penalty for employment of any illegal alien but he modified it to "any Mexican alien," commonly known as "a wetback."

His amendment would require employers to make "reasonable inquiry" as to the alien's legal entrance.

Far-Eastern History

The focus of the nation now is upon the Senate hearings into the MacArthur controversy and our general Far Eastern policy.

Certain it is, however, that they—and we—would be better fit for this task if the American people understood Asia and the Asiatics more thoroughly than they do.

Asia we think of for the most part as a faraway place teeming with millions who are barely able—if at all—to keep body and soul together.

China and India particularly are vast enigmas. We do not even know their recent history well.

The blank spaces in our knowledge of the Orient are enormous. Yet we now are trying to lay the basis for decisions about the Far East which rightly demand of us the power to fathom the Oriental mind in its full setting.

Some of us eagerly assume that it would be sensible to back Chiang Kai-shek in an effort to re-enter mainland China from his Formosa base.

Evidence suggests that many guerrilla forces now operating in China proper would decline to accept his leadership, though they are as opposed to communism as he.

We don't really know, and yet that knowledge is of the utmost importance politically. We hardly can assume that our espousal of Chiang would be regarded by the Chinese as a friendly act, when the exact reverse might be true.

Even if Chiang's armies were deemed certain to be a military help—which is not the case—we might have to avoid their use because of the political consequences.

For that same reason, we cannot devise economic plans for the Asiatics without realizing the earthly elements of their struggle for a better way of life.

From the long-range viewpoint, it seems clear there ought to be more Far Eastern history taught in our schools and universities.

But that won't help adult Americans and their elected representatives in Washington, who need to know more about the Orient now.

Who's Kidding?

One proposal of the Kefauver committee ought to puzzle a fellow who might drop in on us from another planet.

In its report, the Senate group recommended that criminals and racketeers be taxed on their gross incomes, allowing no deductions for operating expenses and wagering losses.

What this seems to say is this: You're engaged in illegal activities, and you shouldn't be. But as long as you insist on going ahead against the law anyway, the least you can do is not pretend you're running legitimate enterprises in which expenses and losses may be fairly calculated.

Wouldn't it be better to concentrate on stamping out illegal activities, rather than to figure how we can tax them more heavily?

Today is what you were looking forward to yesterday and "a your own fault if you are disappointed."

When you object to work you have lots less chance of realizing your object in life.

We suspect some prices have taken that famous "will never take another drop" oath.

Why is it so many people bravely walk to the altar and say "I do"—and then don't?

Some folks go to a lot of trouble making pleasure—others have a lot of pleasure making trouble.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Newspaper denials regarding Korean war catch up with high officials; Some of MacArthur's press statements boomerang; MacArthur opposed more arms for South Koreans while urging arms for Chiang Kai-shek.

WASHINGTON — It isn't often that the newspaper denials issued by high public officials catch up to them so quickly as is now shown by the MacArthur Senate hearings.

Usually a newspaperman's word counts for little compared with that of a Cabinet officer, the President or a general—especially a general as high as Douglas MacArthur.

1. Home by Christmas—When The Associated Press cabled from Korea that MacArthur had made a statement promising to bring American troops home by Christmas.

2. U. S. troops on Chinese border—On November 8, this column reported that "the State Department had warned that if we approached the Yalu River area, the Chinese would react in about the same way as the people of Los Angeles if a Mexican army should approach Boulder Dam which supplies much of their water."

3. How ever, when MacArthur reached the neutrality belt, this column reported on November 8, "He wired Washington for permission to send South Korean troops beyond to the Manchurian border."

4. However, when MacArthur reached the neutrality belt, this column reported on November 8, "He wired Washington for permission to send South Korean troops beyond to the Manchurian border."

5. No directives violated—Testifying before the Senate, MacArthur stated that in his long career as a soldier he never had violated any order from a superior.

6. The answer is that it's always correct when your second-best card (under the ace) is better than the dummy's best card.

7. "I saw Wertheim enter via the back door. I knew he wasn't the watchman, though at the time I didn't know he was Prater's sales manager. I followed him in. He must have heard me. He knocked me cold, and when I woke up I was in this room tied to the platform in the tank. Wertheim made himself and telling me how sorry he was about the whole thing."

8. "I told him I didn't know what he was talking about. He just laughed and said that if I didn't, you did, so it made no difference. It may interest you to know that after I had been suffocated, you were to get the same treatment. Then we were to be planted in your car and run off a bridge."

9. "Like Frankie." Wertheim was still out cold.

10. "Let's talk about one thing at a time. I'm interested in what happened in Larry Stone's apartment."

11. "You fool Wertheim tried to kill Sonya!"

12. "Cost gave me an almost pitying smirk. Merica laughed dryly. 'That rap on the head really fixed you up, Marshall. Why would anybody want to be a girl up and put her in a steel vault to suffocate her? There are lots of easier ways to kill people. And what motive could Wertheim possibly have for killing Madame Sonya Sareeta, the famous lady magician?'"

13. "I told you about the yellow bathing suit. We even had it when your cops took over."

14. "Let's talk about one thing at a time. I'm interested in what happened in Larry Stone's apartment."

15. "You fool Wertheim tried to kill Sonya!"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY. Written for NEA Service.

It was certainly very sad. South even offered to send out for a crying towel, but his kindness was not appreciated.

West opened the king of hearts, and East signalled enthusiastically with the eight. West next continued with the queen of hearts, and East completed his echo by playing the five of hearts.

While South was writing the score on the pad, the analysis began.

Bridge hand analysis table showing North, South, West, and East cards and scores.

Analysis, as all bridge players know, is the science of proving it was your partner's fault.

East began the attack. "Why didn't you open the queen of hearts instead of the king. Then, when you led the king next, I'd get the idea?"

West answered that one easily by pointing out that East might well play his ace at the first trick if the queen of hearts were opened.

It was correct to open the king of hearts, but the solution was for East to play the ace of hearts at the second trick.

If it happened that West had a third heart, nothing would be lost. If West had no more hearts he could ruff the third round and take the ace of diamonds to set the contract.

This hand raises an interesting question. Is it always correct to play the ace on your partner's queen when dummy has three small cards of the suit opened and when you have five to the ace?

The answer is that it's always correct when your second-best card (under the ace) is better than the dummy's best card.

In today's hand East had the ten of hearts (his second-best card in the suit) to best dummy's six of hearts.

This provides against J-x in the South hand, for then one of the defenders is sure to have the best card of the suit.

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

The Great Debate: Do Old Soldiers 'Fade Away' Or Just Run For Cover?

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There's a big argument going on in Army clubs among the real old soldiers—the retired ones—over the meaning of that song which Gen. Douglas MacArthur quoted at the close of his farewell address to Congress: Old soldiers never die. They just fade away.

The way General MacArthur cited the reference, it had to do with what happened to veterans when they became too old for active service and retired.

Other veterans say that wasn't the meaning of the song at all. It was intended as a warning to green and inexperienced soldiers. They say it was meant to express the idea that during battle, the young, blood-thirsty rookies and second lieutenants rushed into battle for glory.

These eager beavers usually got hit and died young. Not so with the battle-hardened old soldiers. They simply took cover under fire—faded away in other words—and therefore lived to a ripe old age or "never died."

Fresh-Air Fiend Oklahoma banker W. Elmer Harber, whom President Truman drafted as chairman of Reconstruction Finance Corporation in an effort to straighten out the affairs of the institution, is going back where he came from. A former state chairman of the Democratic Party, Harber was appointed for a two-year term as RFC director.

None of the RFC scandals touched Harber. He came to Washington last August, after all the monkey business was over. The President would have been glad to have Harber stay, but he just didn't like Washington.

That's why W. Stuart Symington was picked to try his hand at reorganization. As soon as he takes over Harber will head back to Oklahoma where, he says, "the air is a lot fresher."

Whommy On RFC? Incidentally, Symington's record as a Washington administrator doesn't make the future of RFC look any too rosy.

Department of the Air Force, of which Symington was first secretary, is still a going concern. But one of the early surplus property administrations, which Symington was brought to Washington to head, was reorganized out of existence soon after he took it over.

Windmill Yarns Shop talk at the helicopter show held recently in Washington was as screwy as an eggbeater. Designers, builders and operators all talked constantly about doing the impossible with their queer-looking contraptions.

Typical was Carl Agar, short, tanned, hard-bitten operator of Okanogan Air Service of British Columbia. "We've made the helicopter replace the pack horse in the Canadian Rockies," he boasted.

"Why we've even made sorties out of the soundgough. Once they've taken a ride up a 6,000-foot mountain in a helicopter, they never want to walk again."

Ultimately and inevitably atomic energy will affect the life of every person on earth if not in our generation, then certainly in the succeeding one.

I am becoming more, I am reluctant to speak on public platforms, because it seems to me that all the speaking nowadays is being done by generals and admirals. In fact, I can hardly get a word in edgewise.

What the (U. S.) citizen is entitled to by way of economic benefits seems to have become far more important than his political freedom. This attitude . . . continued to be the chief lure of communism.

John H. Crider, editor-in-chief, Boston Herald.

The first Russian settlement in this country was established in 1812 at Cazadero, 18 miles north of Bodega Bay on the Russian River, California. The party consisted of 90 Russians and 80 Aleut hunters from Sitka. It was evacuated by the Russians in December 1841.

KILLER'S PACE BY JULIUS LONG

STANDING on the tank platform was Sonya Sareeta. Her water-soaked dress fitted her like new skin and fragments of rope hung from her ankles and wrists.

"I'm not quite sure just how it happened, Sonya. Wertheim must have jumped to the conclusion that I knew everything just because I knew about Frannie's bathing suit."

"Yes, I went over to Wertheim and pulled two pieces from his coat pocket."

"I almost didn't make it," she said calmly. "Another club sandwich, and I wouldn't have been able to squeeze through."

She stepped down, crossed to the door and opened it wide. The water, which had been escaping through now went out with a gush. I waited till it had flooded the office outside, then let Wertheim drop.

"What happened, Sonya?" "I saw Wertheim enter via the back door. I knew he wasn't the watchman, though at the time I didn't know he was Prater's sales manager. I followed him in. He must have heard me. He knocked me cold, and when I woke up I was in this room tied to the platform in the tank. Wertheim made himself and telling me how sorry he was about the whole thing."

"I tried to talk him out of it, but I never had a chance. There was his wife and family, and killing me was the only way he could save them from the horrible scandal of his disgrace."

"I told him I didn't know what he was talking about. He just laughed and said that if I didn't, you did, so it made no difference. It may interest you to know that after I had been suffocated, you were to get the same treatment. Then we were to be planted in your car and run off a bridge."

Agar had a new adjective to describe the size of his operations. "They're glomorous!" he said.

He described his landing fields as "about the size of a double bed. Sometimes they were even holes in the ground. When he had something like a concrete mixing bowl to carry, too big to get in cargo space, he'd dig a hole in the ground, put the lead in the hole, settle the helicopter on top, lash the load to the 'copter and take off straight up. Unloading was always to similar hole in the ground at destination."

Agar trains his own pilots. Some of them have to make 40 trips a day, hauling building materials up mountain sides for mine construction jobs. What he wants now is a helicopter that will carry a payload of a ton.

Toll-Free Or Not Toll-Free Railroads are bucking St. Lawrence Seaway project on grounds that they could haul all the iron ore necessary and thus save government construction costs on locks. Comparative costs aren't mentioned. But railroads would like to have a business to provide cargo for return of coal cars from Atlantic seaboard to the Pittsburgh steel making area. Cars now have to be brought back empty after hauling export coal to Norfolk, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

If government insists on building St. Lawrence seaway, Association of American Railroads proposes that project be operated on a toll basis instead of toll-free, so as to pay off construction costs. Undercover Staff

Federal Trade Commission is taking steps to get "Made in Occupied Japan" labels out in the open. With flood of Japanese exports to U. S. building up, opposition of American manufacturers of competing goods is increasing. From government standpoint, this is good as it enables Japan to earn dollars to pay for needed imports. This takes burden of supporting Japan off American taxpayer. But enterprising Japanese manufacturers and American importers have been assembling their products as that the "Made in Occupied Japan" label required by law is hard to find. Formal complaints have been filed against mechanical pencil makers who put labels on the inside, where they can't be seen by unsuspecting buyers.

Protection Urged For Electric Cord

COLLEGE STATION — Better care of the electric cord is urged by home management specialists of the Texas A&M College Extension Service because such valuable materials as copper and rubber which the cords contain may not be easily replaced.

Disconnecting can cause wear and tear on the electric cord if it is not done right, the specialists said. If there is a switch on the outlet, turn it off before pulling the plug. This prevents sparking between metal prongs and the outlet which eats away metal and in time causes a poor connection. If there is no switch, disconnect the plug from the wall outlet first. Grasp the plug, never the cord; pull straight. If the plug sticks, rock it gently from side to side until it is free. The specialists say it is safest to disconnect the cord from the outlet each time after having used a heating or cooking appliance.

Storage of electric cords is important, too, they add. The specialists suggest storing them in a clean, dry, cool place. Rubber covered cords should be kept away from light which tends to deteriorate rubber.

Cords should be stored free from kinks, knots or sharp bends. They may be hung loosely over large, round wooden pegs, over two or more metal hooks, or placed loosely in a drawer. They should be protected from grease, heat, and dampness.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Senator Fans Hold Breath Over Play Of Bucky's Boys

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the most ardent Washington rooters are convinced Manager Bucky Harris is doing it with mirrors. Any moment they expect to wake up and be told it isn't true—that the Senators' place among the American League's elite is a mirage, just a wonderful, fantastic dream.

No wonder these faithful capital rooters, who have had little to cheer for almost 20 years, find the present picture too good to be true. For isn't the much maligned Washington castoff crew yapping at the heels of the pace-setting New York Yankees? Three weeks of the campaign have been disposed of and the Nats are atop of such highly regarded contenders as Boston, Cleveland and Detroit. Only the Yankees stand between them and the top rung. And the distance is not great—a mere game and a half.

Sanpalo Consuegra, Cuban pitcher, for the first time this season didn't have it Monday. However, his mates made up for this lapse by clubbing six Cleveland pitchers for 17 hits to outscore the Indians 11-10. The Nats tied off on starter Johnny Vander Meer and Rookie Gerald Fahr for eight consecutive hits in the fourth inning to tally five times. They added five more runs in the fifth. Consuegra, who had won his first three starts handily, couldn't stand prosperity, however.

He yielded four runs in the fourth and was blasted up in the fifth when the Indians added three more. Mickey Harris finished and received credit for the victory. Bearden Humbles Yanks
 Gene Bearden, recently sold by Washington to Detroit, was the star of the Tigers' 10-6 victory over the Yankees which snapped the New Yorkers' eight-game winning streak. Working in a relief role, the left-handed knuckler set the Yanks back with five hits in seven innings to gain credit for his first victory. Bearden also started at bat with a home run. It came in the eighth off Tom Ferrick and was followed by four baggers off the bats of Dick Kryhoski and Hoot Evers. The loss, however, was charged to Fred Sanford, who had replaced Starter Tommy Byrne and had given up the winning run in the sixth. Willard Nixon was the whole works as the Bo's Red Sox

Longhorn League— Colts Breezing By All Foes; Dusters Climb Into Second

By The Associated Press

The San Angelo Colts are threatening to spread-eagle the field in the Longhorn League. The Colts Tuesday enjoyed a four-game lead over the second-place Vernon Dusters and had lost only three contests out of 17.

They gained a half-game Monday night with a 17-2 victory over Midland while Roswell was losing to Sweetwater 11-3. Vernon third at the start of the action beat Artesia 19-8 to move into second place and Big Spring slapped Odessa 7-2 in the other tilt.

Roswell and Sweetwater were tied for third and fourth places but were four and a half games behind the leader. Vernon was four games back in second place.

San Angelo broke loose with 16 hits and 17 runs to lick Midland. Jorge Pilito and Lew Lozano teamed to let the Indians down with only four hits.

Torres Wins No. 5
 Jesse Torres stopped Roswell with 11 well scattered hits to pitch the Sweetwater Swatters into a third-place tie. Torres notched his fifth victory of the season without a loss and went the distance for the fifth straight time.

Vernon outlasted Artesia in a run-fest to jump into second place. Eight walks and two hit batsmen by Artesia pitchers offset six Vernon errors.

Big Spring used a three-run second inning as a springboard to a 7-2 victory. Mike Fornieles kept eight Odessa hits scattered to protect the lead.

The scores:
 Artesia 010 203 020—8 12 2
 Vernon 301 202 02x—10 11 6
 Dunn, Lopez, Delatorre and Perez; Richardson and B. Herring.

Odessa 000 001 010—2 8 4
 Big Spring 030 022 00x—7 7 1
 E. Johnson and Castro; Fornieles and Valdes.

Roswell 000 011 100—3 11 3
 Sweetwater 002 450 00x—11 11 3
 Hess, Groves, Atchley and Sanders; Torres and Abbott.

SA Colts Fail To Clear The Track, Thump Indians 17-2

Sweetwater's Swatters invade Indian Park for the first of a two-game series at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Jesus Zabala is the probable Swatter hurler. Eddie Jacome has been named by Harold Webb as the Indians' starter.

San Angelo's Colts failed to clear the track Monday night and as a result Harold Webb's nine lost a nightmarish 17-2 decision to the Colts' pennant-bound express on the Indians own diamond. The win was San Angelo's ninth straight without defeat. It was the Indians seventh defeat in their last eight games.

Poking 13 singles, a pair of doubles and a fourth-inning home run blast by First Baseman Wayne Wallace, the smooth-fielding Colts never were in danger during the contest.

Wayne McMellon absorbed the loss, pitching but one full inning yet falling behind early as the first five San Angelo runs were laid upon his shoulders. McMellon had a shaky first inning as he walked three, allowed one hit and saw two other Colts reach base by error. Behind 3-0 at the start of the second frame, he gave up a hit, a base on balls and hit a batter before Don McKenzie relieved.

McKenzie again—who had hurled seven innings Saturday night—didn't have it Monday. The Colts pounded out 14 hits off his offerings the remaining eight innings, including Wallace's home-run that came with the bases unoccupied.

The Indians only two scores came in the third frame off Starter Jorge Pilito, who received credit for the win although Lew Lozano twirled from the third on. Eddie Jacome, playing left field, singled to start the third, after which Catcher Kenny Jones and McKenzie walked. Eddie Melillo walked to score Jacome.

The press of duties with other business interests prompted H. W. Donohoo to sell back his part interest in the Midland Indians to the Harold Webbs, he said Tuesday.

Donohoo is owner-operator of one of the finer restaurants of West Texas in his Donohoo's Restaurant on West Highway 80.

"I bought a part-interest in the Midland Indians in the best interest of baseball," Donohoo said, "and I sold it back so that I could devote more time to my business. That is the only reason."

Donohoo took an active interest in the baseball club after buying an interest during the season last year. He was called on to direct the Longhorn League entry many times in the absence of Webb. He sincerely tried to raise the 1950 Indians to a playoff spot, and had been most helpful in the "comeback effort" for 1951.

The United States maintains 55 embassies and legations and 345 consulates in foreign countries.

come and Gordon Tanner walked to tally Jones. Jim Prince then ended the uprising by hitting into a double play with the bases loaded.

Kenny Jones got the Indians' only extra-base knock—a double. Three singles were the only other hits to come off the Indian bats.

ODESSA — Jackie Sullivan, manager and second baseman of the Odessa Oilers, has been sold outright to the Shreveport Sports of the Texas League, it has been announced here.

Oiler Owner A. D. Ensey said the deal was "an outright cash sale." He did not disclose the amount. Sullivan handled the Oiler team for the last time Monday night as it lost to Big Spring 7-2. His team was in last place at the time of the sale.

No successor has been named for the Oiler head man, but Ensey said there "probably will be a replacement for Sullivan within a few days."

Alarms Sent Out For Thieves Loaded With Deadly Germs

LONDON —(AP)—Scotland Yard broadcast nationwide alarms Tuesday for three thieves loaded with deadly tetanus germs, picked up in a stolen station wagon.

Radio news bulletins told the three men they had huddled into a nest of the dread germs when they stole the vehicle from the home of a veterinarian. It had been used to transport infected lambs and was to have been disinfected Tuesday.

Shortly after the first broadcast, the station wagon was found abandoned.

News broadcasts then warned the men that the automobile's upholstery and steering wheel were infected with the germ, and that their clothing now was full of the bacilli and could cause fatal muscular spasms or lockjaw.

They were urged to surrender for immediate anti-tetanus injections.

One Killed, Five Injured When SP Train Leaves Rails

EL PASO —(AP)—A crack passenger train, laden with Air Force troops, derailed on famed "Horse-shoe Curve" in desolate West Texas Monday. One crew member was killed and five others injured.

None of the passengers, including the three carloads of airmen from Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, was hurt.

Troy D. Tiner, El Paso, the brakeman, was crushed to death when the locomotive and gondola were derailed.

Fireman Jack Jorstad, El Paso, was pinned in the wreckage and was the most seriously injured.

Others hospitalized here were J. R. Lutton, El Paso; negro porter Leroy H. Morris, Houston; negro cook William Dennis, Houston, and engineer R. B. Elliott, El Paso.

The accident occurred 70 miles southeast of here near the Finlay, Texas, station on the famed curve between McNary and Sierra Blanca. The Southern Pacific (T&NO) Argonaut was westbound.

Richter Awarded Pulitzer Prize For Novel 'The Town'

NEW YORK —(AP)—Conrad Richter has been awarded the annual Pulitzer Prize for fiction for his novel, "The Town," a story of a 19th Century American family in the wilderness.

In the newspaper field, The Miami, Fla., Herald and The Brooklyn Eagle won awards for meritorious public service. Both were cited for crime reporting during 1950.

No award was made for drama in the theater.

Trustees of Columbia University announced the selections Tuesday. The awards in various fields of creative endeavor were established by Joseph Pulitzer, the late publisher, in a bequest to Columbia.

Two Associated Press correspondents, Reiman Morin and Don Whitehead, received prizes for international reporting. They were cited for work covering the war in Korea. Woman Writer Honored

Marguerite Higgins, 30-year-old New York Herald Tribune reporter, also was honored for Korean war coverage—the first woman to get a Pulitzer award for stories on actual combat.

Another Herald Tribune writer, Homer Bigart, also was honored for stories on the Korean war. It was Bigart's second Pulitzer Prize. His first came in 1946 for World War II reporting in the Pacific.

Two other prizes for international reporting went to Keyes Beech and Fred Sparks, both of the Chicago Daily News. Beech won his honor for articles on the Korean war. Sparks was selected for a series from Berlin on reborn German nationalism.

Cyrus L. Sulzberger, chief foreign correspondent for the New York Times, was given a special citation for a number of exclusive interviews, including one with Archbishop Stepanac of Yugoslavia in the prelate's prison cell.

Best Local Reporting

The prize for local reporting went to Edward S. Montgomery, of the San Francisco Examiner, on the basis of a series of stories which led to an expose in the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

William Harry Fitzpatrick, of the New Orleans (La.) States, was cited for the editorial writing award, with a series analyzing and clarifying the constitutional limits of American treaties.

A picture of refugees fleeing across a wrecked bridge in Korea, snapped by Max Desfor of The Associated Press, was selected as the best news photograph of 1950.

Reg. (Reginald W.) Manning, of the Phoenix (Arizona) Republic, was named top cartoonist for his work, "Hats." This cartoon showed a bullet-pierced helmet in Korea, in contrast to the silk top hats of United Nations diplomats.

Each individual winner gets a $500 cash award. Winning newspapers receive a $500 gold plaque.

WT-NM League—Dukes And Blue Sox Win—And So Does Amarillo!

By The Associated Press

Albuquerque and Abilene continue their torrid fight for the lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League—but the big news Monday night was Amarillo's third victory of the 1951 season.

The Gold Sox had to play two games to get it, but they did in the second half of a doubleheader with Clovis. Albuquerque and Abilene each won, with the former holding its half-game lead.

Amarillo lost the first game of a twin-bill to Clovis 11-5, but made it 13 losses for the year, but fought back in the second game to win 11-2. Albuquerque defeated Borger 9-4, Abilene edged Lubbock 2-1 and Pampa beat Lamesa 12-3.

Albuquerque built an eight-run lead and never was in danger. The Dukes made nine hits count for as many runs off three Borger hurlers.

Abilene had to go eleven innings to humble Lubbock and stay within a half-game of the leaders. Ed Fendolen doubled and Ralph Rahms singled in the eleventh with one away to cop the decision.

Pampa had an easy time with Lamesa as George Payte scattered six hits for his third victory of the season. Pampa collected 11 off three Lamesa pitchers.

Let us hasten to add that our upset state had nothing to do with our wife's cooking or the recent play of the Midland Indians, so we can safely go home and to Indian Park hereafter without fear.

But, as we said, we did miss the announcement and haven't talked either to Webb or Donohoo since the big transaction.

—KR—

However, we see in the papers where Webb said "Clear the tracks, come back to the ball park, Midland will bustle and Midland will win." Goodie, goodie! Maybe the lights will start growing shorter and the Indians will advance to a more esteemed position in the Longhorn League than their current position of sixth.

—KR—

We honestly hope the Indians will start to pick up, and with the addition of Scooter Hughes in the short-stop position, perhaps they will. We have no idea of Roundman Webb's other ideas on How to Win Games and Influence People, but the return of Hughes definitely should be the first step onward and upward. Not many non-hitters will reach first base via Hughes' lapse of efficiency—in fact, some hitters are going to be robbed of almost-certain base knocks if the hustling little shortstop is up to his usual standards this year.

—KR—

With Hughes in the lineup, the Indians will be fairly well set if more pitching is added. Webb has a fair hitting ball club—at times it's doggone good—and the fielding now should begin to be better.

Probably Webb will take on some additional hurling—at least, he will if the Indians go into the first division.

Meanwhile, we'll wait and see.

—KR—

Eddie Jacobs, the Midland hurler who won four games in the first six days of the Longhorn League season, rated an article in Sporting News, the Bible of baseball, this week.

It couldn't happen to a nicer guy. Jacobs is slated to pitch against Sweetwater Tuesday night.

The Midland-Sweetwater game should be interesting. Warren Sitter, the ex-Midland Indian and Midland resident, warned us all winter that he would knock the hide off the ball when the Swatters played here. Currently, he's hitting about .429. Can he do it here?

U. S., Russia Break Off Talks On Bill For Lend-Lease Goods

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The United States and Russia Monday broke off their lengthy talks aimed at settling Moscow's bill for World War II lend-lease goods.

Negotiations have been in progress here several months, but when the deadlock continued Monday they agreed to stop regular sessions. Talks may be resumed later.

Russia got about $10,800,000,000 worth of U. S. lend-lease goods. She has offered to settle for $240,000,000. The U. S. has asked for at least $800,000,000.

Hughes, Campbell Slated To Join Midland Indians

Midland was slated Tuesday to get additional help for the Indian infield, according to Owner-Manager Harold Webb.

Stan (Scooter) Hughes, Oklahoma City shortstop, and another player were scheduled to arrive in time for the Tuesday game with Sweetwater.

The other player expected was Campbell, third baseman who has been with Lubbock and is the property of Texarkana.

Jerry Matajek And Engineers Tumble Western Plastic From Top By 6-3 Count

A four-hit pitching performance by Jerry Matajek cooled off Western Plastic and handed the Plastic team its first loss of the season in the JayCee Softball League. City Major division, Monday night. The speedy Matajek had a one-hitter until the final inning, but still had enough to give his Rotary Engineers a 6-3 triumph.

Texas League—Cats, Missions And Eagles Take Games

By The Associated Press

Northern Texas League teams set up shop Tuesday night for a lengthy home stand, and a couple would rather forget about that trip south.

Winding up the eleven-day road trip into southern territory, Fort Worth blasted Beaumont's nine-game winning streak 17-7; Dallas blanked Shreveport 5-0, and Tulsa lost to San Antonio 2-0. Oklahoma City and Houston were rained out.

Dallas comes home in sixth place and Tulsa firmly mired in the cellar.

Oklahoma City, second to San Antonio by two games, and Fort Worth, just a half-game back of Oklahoma City, found the southern climate a pleasure.

Roy Narleski stopped Shreveport on five hits to rank as the Eagles' No. 2 hurler behind Ace Walt Langanon. Home runs by Frank Torney and Ben Quintini in the eighth helped Dallas win.

Bill Elbert started his first game for San Antonio and did right well, spacing seven hits, as Mick Rutter batted in both runs against his former mates.

Fort Worth unloaded a 14-hit barrage against four Beaumont pitchers, with a five-run seventh inning the highlight.

Beaumont Manager Harry Craft protested the game. He said Frank Brown, who hurled the final inning for Fort Worth, wasn't a certified pitcher.

Brooklyn Options Rex Barney To Fort Worth Cats

BROOKLYN —(AP)—Rex Barney, who rocketed to the big leagues as a 19-year-old wonder in 1943, Tuesday was on his way back to the minors.

The likeable, 26-year-old flame-thrower from Omaha was optioned by the Brooklyn Dodgers to their Fort Worth Texas League farm after waivers were obtained from the other 15 clubs.

Barney, who threatened to quit the game last week, is very happy over the latest development in his strange case.

"I wish this had happened years ago," he said. "I know I'll be back. Bragan (Bobby) is a good manager and a fine teacher. He helped me a lot when he was with Brooklyn."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Pie-Face

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, again was sitting by the Elephant Path. Again his mouth came open wide like a big black cave, all ready to eat a scrambled coconut pie.

Again like yesterday, a voice called out loud: "Mugwump! Stop! Wait!" and so Mugwump closed his mouth with never a bite of pie. Uh-ah, because there was Huffy Tuffy, "you were about to take a bite of pie too big to be polite."

"Really?" asked Mugwump.

"Yesir," said Huffy Tuffy. "Here let me show you how to take some little bites."

"Go away," said Mugwump. "Yesterday you showed me how to take little bites, and you showed me, and showed me, until my pie was all gone."

Oh yes! It really had happened. Huffy Tuffy had nibbled and gobbled the pie all gone in a hurry.

"Please let me nibble," said Huffy Tuffy, but Mugwump wouldn't let him do it. He knew Huffy would like to nibble the pie all gone in a hurry again.

Huffy Tuffy begged. He begged and he begged and he begged. He blustered and flustered and he even cried a play-like tear, all to try to eat Mugwump Monkey's pie.

"Do you really want it?" asked Mugwump, and now there was a curious little smile on his face, as though he had an idea.

"Sure I want it," said Huffy Tuffy, and he was laughing inside with thoughts of how he was going to eat up Mugwump's pie.

"Give it to me!" said Huffy.

And so Mugwump gave it to him. Yes he did! but not the way that Huffy expected. Mugwump gave him the pie in his face. "kersplat!" Kersplat and drip and goo, all for a very happy day. Happy day!

"But you are not going to do it again today," said Mugwump, and

Discontent Reported In Red Ranks

TOKYO — (AP)— Allied troops Tuesday pushed cautiously north at both ends of the 100-mile Korean front for the second successive day.

Patrols hunted in the vacuum between these points for vanishing Red troops. Far north of the theoretical battle line, pilots reported new Communist build-ups in Red Korea.

Withdrawing and reorganizing Chinese and North Korean Reds were reported angry because they didn't get Russian tanks and planes to snuff their Spring offensive.

The current limited offensive is in the hands of UN troops. From west to east, front line dispatches show this picture of Tuesday's skirmishing.

Wide 'No-Man-Land' At the extreme west, where no action has been reported for weeks, UN forces on the Kimp'o Peninsula, northwest of Seoul, engaged in a mortar duel with Reds.

South Koreans making the western advance reached points 17 miles northwest of Seoul on the east bank of the Han River. Armored patrols fanning out from Uijongbu stabbed to points 20 miles north of Seoul.

Across the rest of the western and central sectors, AP Correspondent John Randolph reported, "There is no formal front line. Instead, there is a wide shelf of no-man's-land of varying width. In this belt, Chinese and United Nations patrols roamed back and forth."

For the second successive day an armored column rumbled unopposed into Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul. Patrols jabbed north into Red defenses.

Actress Mary Astor Attempts Suicide; Condition 'Good'

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)— Actress Mary Astor attempted suicide early Tuesday but her condition was described as good after hospital treatment, police reported.

The 45-year-old actress was taken to Valley Hospital, where her stomach was pumped out, and then transferred to Culver City Hospital for further treatment.

Police said the Rev. William J. Smith of St. Cyril's Catholic Church in Encino was called to the Astor residence but before going into the home he summoned police.

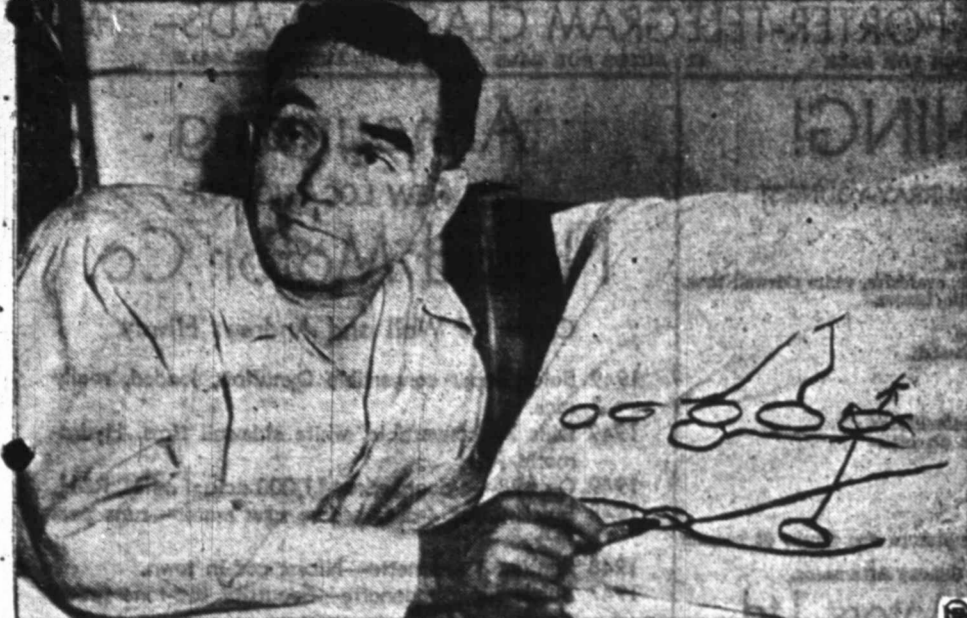

Miss Astor's husband, Thomas Whelock, was not at home at the time.

Truman —

(Continued From Page One) "Remembers this," Truman said "If we do have another world war, it will be an atomic war. We could expect many atomic bombs to be dropped on American cities."

"And a single die of them could cause many times more casualties than we have suffered in all the fighting in Korea."

Truman did not refer by name to MacArthur, who has advocated air action against Manchuria, a naval blockade and use of Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa against the Chinese Reds.

ALWAYS ON THE JOB—Clyde Lee was confined to a bed in Houston's Hermann Hospital for several weeks with a respiratory ailment, yet the coach put in overtime mulling over plans for his University of Houston squad in next fall's Missouri Valley Conference football chase.

Pilot Thrown Clear, Three Crewmen Die As Bomber Explodes

HOUSTON — (AP)— The pilot of a big jet bomber was freakishly blasted clear Monday night when the B-45 exploded. Three crewmen were killed.

Hundreds saw the bright flash of the exploding plane. And the burning wreckage as it fell to earth spurred reports of a two-plane collision.

Lt. Robert L. Hempen was not injured seriously when blasted clear. His first thought after catapulting into space was: "I hope it opens."

Only charred, twisted wreckage littered over a muddy pasture a few miles southeast of Houston was left of the Barksdale Air Force Base (Shreveport, La.) bomber.

The plane was on a routine flight from Barksdale to Ellington Air Force Base here and return when it exploded near Ellington, 15 miles southeast of here. It had just gone into a turn, ready to start home.

Names of the three fliers killed were announced Tuesday by Barksdale officers. They were: First Lt. Claude L. Cook, 23, aircraft commander, Cherryvale, Kan.; Maj. Robert C. Reecer, 36, navigator, Phoenix, Ariz.

Execution Of Negro Rapist Puts End To Long Legal Battle

LAUREL, MISS. —(AP)— Willie McGee, who fought a long, losing fight against being put to death as a rapist, died in the electric chair early Tuesday.

Political issues colored the final months of the legal battles on behalf of the negro convicted of raping a white woman five and a half years ago.

Up until the final hour, supporters sought a stay of execution from Gov. Fielding Wright; U. S. District Judge Sidney Mizz at Jackson, Miss.; U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Wayne O. Borah at New Orleans; Associate U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black, and Chief Justice Fred Vinson of the United States.

Political demonstrations at Jackson, Miss. and Washington, D. C. marked the final efforts made last weekend to save McGee.

Monday, about 25 persons picketed the White House carried signs saying "Old soldiers never die—but Lynch victims do" and "You fired MacArthur—Now fire Jim Crow."

McGee made no statement as he was led to the chair at 12:05 a. m. He watched with apparent interest as attendants adjusted the straps of the chair set up on the dais. Dr. P. F. Carr pronounced him dead at 12:10 a. m.

Soaking Rains Fall In Southeast Texas; West Remains Dry

By The Associated Press CLOUD-BLASTED rains fell on Southeast Texas Monday and left the area cool, damp and still.

A foot of rain gushed onto the Matagorda area, interrupting telephone service and flooding streets. Palacios, a few miles from Matagorda, had nine inches.

San Antonio had more than three inches; Victoria registered 5.34 inches, heaviest since that city's 5.64 inches in July, 1942.

A day-long soaking rain in the Houston area brought the May total to 11.3 inches. It ranged from half an inch in downtown Houston to 1.15 inches at Baytown.

Telephones Knocked Out Rain fell generally over Southeastern Texas and along the coast. At San Antonio, thousands of telephones were put out of service by the swirling waters.

Four and one-half to six inches of rain were recorded in the Llano area. Homer Lumborg, Llano rancher, said 3 1/2 inches fell at his place. The rain was accompanied by high winds.

Chairman Of House Foreign Committee Collapses, Dies

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Rep. John Kee (D-W. Va.), 77-year-old chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, died Tuesday of a heart ailment.

He collapsed during a routine session of the committee and was pronounced dead by Dr. George W. Calver, Capitol physician.

Kee had been ill some time and only recently returned from the nearby Bethesda Naval Hospital.

He had been a member of the House since 1933. Kee became chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee in March, 1949, following the death of the late Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.).

Kee is the third member of the 82nd Congress to die. The others were Reps. John Sullivan (D-Mo.) and Frank Buchanan (D-Pa.).

Survivors include the husband and a daughter, Mary Helen, nine, both of Midland; the mother, Mrs. C. D. Harris, a sister, Mrs. E. P. Branham, Jr., and a brother, Milton Harris, all of Ballinger.

Marshall —

Marshall said the course he had outlined would "retain our Allies, bring them to more satisfactory reactions before the United Nations as their confidence in our leadership in this delicate matter is increased, and generally improve the situation."

Downing Tells Club About Chamber Work

Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, addressed the Optimist Club at its luncheon Tuesday noon on some of the functions of the chamber.

The luncheon was held in Hotel Scharbauer with Emil Rasmann, president, presiding. W. P. Z. German, Jr., introduced the speaker.

Cliff Torgeson announced the next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday night in the Blue Star Inn. He also announced the "Stars of Tomorrow," a club-sponsored show, will be held June 1.

D. C. Baldwin, chairman of the New Members Committee, requested each Optimist to get two new members. He also presented silver pins to Walters Bodenman and Arlo Forrest for their membership work.

Mishap —

When he recovered consciousness, he said, he saw the stiff form of Moore lying to the rear of the truck. He apparently had come into contact with some winch cable and received the full force of the voltage.

D. M. Abercrombie, an uncle of Moore, arrived on the scene a couple of minutes later and pulled Fikes to safety.

Fikes was an employee of the Williams Waterworks Company of Midland, which was installing the water pump. Services for Moore being arranged for the New W. Ellis Chapel, will be held Thursday in Valley Center, Kansas.

This Little Piggy Gets Sidetracked On Way To Market

A squealing, 200-pound brown and white piggy finally went to market here Monday.

He was sidetracked once at the Midland County Courthouse. But the Midland police force, to the cheers of a dozen bystanders, sent him on his way again. It all started early Monday afternoon when Lee Jordan, who lives on Andrews Highway, loaded the animal into a trailer, with the help of Raymond Phillips, 1900 West Illinois Street, and headed across town to the packing plant.

Elks Schedule Club Room Hours

Club rooms in the temporary quarters of the Midland Elks Lodge will be open daily, beginning Friday noon, for the benefit of members. It was announced at a special meeting of the chapter Monday night.

Club rooms are located in the old First Christian Church building at the corner of Illinois and Loraine Streets. The club room hours will be from 10:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. daily. Lodge officials said plans are progressing for acquiring a permanent home for the Midland lodge.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Apparent Laziness May Be Disease Known As Hookworm

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Almost everyone has seen or heard of the poor and backward people sitting on a doorstep or under a tree just "doing nothing."

One of the most important reasons for this apparent laziness is disease, and one of the diseases often responsible is hookworm.

Hookworm is caused by an animal parasite which enters the body through the skin of the feet or by swallowing. This is the chief reason that hookworm is pretty much limited to climates which are warm enough to allow the people to go barefoot a good deal of the time.

Also if they do not have money enough to buy shoes, they are more likely to contract the disease.

Anemia, loss of energy, pallor of the skin, and slow growth in youngsters are common symptoms and it is not surprising that the victim finds it hard to work and does not have much ambition.

However, the disease can be wiped out by proper sanitation. The eggs of the parasite are passed in the human intestinal waste and hence if they are destroyed or prevented from reaching someone else, hookworm infections will cease.

It is because of this knowledge that so much progress already has been made. Improved methods of sewage disposal have done a lot.

The more careful preparation and handling of food also has helped, and the increased wearing of shoes has been a big step forward.

All this has done wonders for certain parts of the world, including some areas in our own Southern states. The better health has brought more work, more work has meant more money, so that the vicious cycle is broken.

Hookworm has been a world health problem and has been found in many places. Even during World War II it was a problem since one form of the parasite was picked up on some of the Pacific Islands. It caused some trouble to the men who were stationed there. But today it is a vanishing disease and can be controlled by those measures which are now well known.
