New Spraberry Area Opened In NE Upton By Barnhart Project

A new producing area from the Spraberry sand was opened in Northeast Upton County when Paul Barnhart of Houston completed his No. 1 V. P. Tippet, Sunday, for a daily flowing potential of 343 barrels of oil and no water.

The new well is about five miles northeast of the Pembroke-Spraberry field of Upton County. The 34-hour potential was gauged through a 2 3/4-inch tubing choke. Production is from open hole at 7,100-7,230 feet. That section was hydraulically fractured with 3,000 gallons.

The Spraberry was topped at 7,100 feet, on a datum point of minus 1,429 feet.

Exact location is 688 feet from east and north lines of section 46, block 30, T-5-S, T&P survey. That puts it 20 miles north of Rankin.

The same operator staked location for his No. 1 J. E. Hill one and one-quarter miles southeast of the No. 1 V. P. Tippet.

It will be drilled at the center of the northeast quarter of the north-west quarter of section 20, block D, CCSD&RNG survey.

Shallow Exploration Spotted In SE Ward

Lee Hays Company of Odessa No. 1 Grace Mankins and Anne Williams is to be a 2,500-foot cable tool wildcat in Southeast Ward County.

The Yates sand test will be 330 feet from southeast and southeast lines of the east 20 acres of survey 4,078, abstract 378, and 11 miles northwest of Crosslands.

Operations are to start at once.

Long Stepout Slated For C-N Howard Pool

One mile south and slightly west of Skeely Oil Company No. 9 Frances Gunn, recently completed one-half-mile southwest extension to the East Wellmoor field of Central-North Howard County, American Republics Corporation will drill its No. 1 Katie B. Barber to test for Canyon production.

Location has been made 467 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the west half of section 21, block 7, T&P survey. That puts it six and one-half miles northeast of Luther.

It will be drilled to a rotary bottom of 8,500 feet with possible toils.

Clear Fork Flanker Spotted In Sterling

One location east of a recently opened Clear Fork field in Central-West Sterling County, Duncan Drilling Company of Big Spring will drill its No. 1 TXL as a 2,900-foot cable tool project.

The unnamed field was opened by Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 TXL in September of 1950. Since that time the same operator finished its No. 1-B TXL as a one-location north extension.

Drillsite for the Duncan project is 330 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of survey 1, block 31, T-5-S, T&P survey.

That puts it 18 miles east of Garden City.

Midland Driver Area Gets Two Locations

James H. Snowden and Associates and Ashland Oil & Refining Company have each staked stepouts to production in the Driver-Spraberry field of Southeast Midland County.

Snowden and Associates No. 2-16 Driver will be drilled one location south of production and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 18, block 37, T&P survey.

The Ashland project will be two locations northeast of the nearest completed well and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 15, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Both projects will drill to around 7,000 feet to test the regular Spraberry pay of the field.

NE Upton Wildcat Is Testing Wolfcamp

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 V. P. Tippet, wildcat in Northeast Upton County, is at plugged back total depth of 9,073 feet in the Wolfcamp swabbing to test. Oil string was perforated from 8,970 to 9,060 feet. They were swabbed dry and then acidized with 2,000 gallons.

In two hours the project was swabbed for approximately two barrels of oil out mid.

The section being tested has a show for possible production when it was drilled through.

Reds Expand Wedge Below Choyang River

TOKYO—(AP)—Chinese Red troops Monday expanded a threatening bridgehead across the Choyang River on the Central Korean front despite the pounding of American guns.

These forces northeast of Chunchon may spearhead a second Spring offensive by the 500,000-man Red Army, expected in about 10 days.

Elsewhere along the 100-mile front, United Nations patrols probed no-man's-land with little opposition. However, two sharp clashes broke out on the western front.

One American tank force ran into a Chinese ambush and pulled back after a determined battle. The second prolonged fight began when an armored American outfit ambushed a Chinese patrol.

For the first time in the war, UN forces are getting a small but steady trickle of Chinese deserters, AP Correspondent John Randolph reported from the front. The deserters, often showing up with surrender leaflets, include some officers.

The Reds appeared to be avoiding strong contact while rushing fresh troops into buildup areas on the west and central fronts.

Bad weather screened their movements Monday.

AP Correspondent George MacArthur reported the Chinese deepened their penetration below the Choyang River despite a thundering American artillery barrage. There was little fighting between opposing infantrymen. Threat to Chunchon

The bridgehead poses a flanking threat to Chunchon, key to rail and road networks, 45 miles northeast of Seoul. Strong enemy units were moving north of the river and be-

Party Leaders See Bid By Warren For Nomination '52

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—A determined bid by Gov. Earl Warren of California for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination was forecast by party leaders Monday.

With Republican National Committee members returning to their homes after winding up a conference here with weekend blasts at the Truman Administration, Chairman Guy C. Gabrielson said the committee may meet next January in California to complete plans for its July presidential nominating convention in Chicago.

Although Warren was not represented at the Tulsa meeting by any active campaigners such as those who buttonholed delegates for Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, the California governor's name got frequent mention in lobby talk as a possible presidential candidate.

In previous years, Warren has shied away from any active drive for the nomination. He wound up in 1948 on the vice presidential end of a ticket headed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey has taken himself out of the presidential bidding and announced his support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who apparently would become a candidate only if he were offered one of the major party nominations in a "draft" move.

Warren has been conspicuously silent on his choice for the top spot in 1952. Some of his friends say this is because the Californian may have decided that next year is the time for him to go after the prize in an all-out drive.

Murder Trials Of Hillbilly Musicians Moved To Brownwood

DALLAS —(AP)—Trials of three hillbilly musicians, charged in the fatal shooting last January of Dallas Policeman Johnny Sides, were transferred Monday to Brownwood.

Judge Robert Hall granted the change of venue. He said widespread publicity and notoriety given the case might make jury selection difficult.

Under the ruling, J. W. Johnson, 22; Marvin Johnson, 21, and Maxfield Bill Pomeroy, 19, will be tried before District Judge A. O. Newman in Brown County in June.

Robert Lee Johnson, an uncle of J. W. and Marvin, was sentenced to death by a district court jury here for his part in the Sides slaying.

BOMBER PLANTS MUSHROOM—Dramatic photo shows an exploding napalm fire bomb dropped on a Communist supply dump somewhere in North Korea by a B-26 Invader of the 6th Air Force's 452nd Bomb Wing. A camera in the B-26's tail end recorded the billowing cloud as the pilot hotfooted it out of harm's way.

Red China Sanctions Pass Test

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United Nations Sanctions Committee Monday voted a worldwide ban on shipments of war goods to Communist China.

The vote was 11 to nothing, with Egypt abstaining. The sanctions group, formally known as the Additional Measures Committee, is a 14-nation body set up to consider punishment of Red China for her intervention in Korea.

The committee's vote is only the first step toward imposition of the worldwide embargo.

Following this, the ban must be debated by the Political Committee of the General Assembly, and then by the assembly in plenary session.

The Soviet Bloc is expected to fight it in both forums to the last ditch. India, leader of the neutralist group in the UN, also is expected to oppose the embargo as endangering any chance of peace negotiations with Peking.

All signs point to eventual assembly acceptance, however, and the U. S. hopes adoption will be by an overwhelming majority.

British and French opposition to the move, based on the fear that it might enlarge the area of conflict, evaporated last week.

Iran Crisis Puts British Parachute Brigade On Alert

LONDON—(AP)—Britain told its trouble-shooting 16th Independent Parachute Brigade Group Monday to bring itself at once to a state of readiness.

Simultaneously Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison—interrupting his Whitsun holiday on the Isle of Wight—kept in touch with the Foreign Office by phone on the latest developments in Iran.

There was speculation that the two events were connected, and that Britain was ready to make a strong stand, if necessary, to hold its rich oil concession in Iran.

But this speculation was without official confirmation. A War Office spokesman stressed that the parachute brigade was not under sailing orders. He described the alerting orders as routine War Office business.

The unit now is assembling itself at Aldershot, 35 miles from London. It is known as the "Fire Brigade," because it is geared for emergencies.

No Opposition To Water District Is Heard At Stanton

By COPE ROUTH Reporter-Telegram Staff

STANTON—The Martin County Commissioners Court took under consideration Monday morning a proposed water conservation district, the formation of which seriously could affect Midland's future water supply along with that of the Colorado Municipal Water District.

County Judge James McMorries, at the conclusion of a hearing during the morning, said a decision would be announced at 2 p.m. Monday.

A program of music, stunts and a speech will feature the kickoff dinner Tuesday night of the $125,000 Stewardship Campaign of the First Methodist Church of Midland.

The dinner for an expected 300 people will be held in the Junior High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Ray N. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Angelo, will make the principal address.

The church is launching a drive for $125,000 in funds for its operating expenses and for improvements and maintenance.

The drive will be conducted by more than 163 workers and will get underway here Wednesday evening, according to the Rev. R. Luther Kirk, pastor.

McDonald Trial Is Delayed Ninth Time

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The trial of former Texas Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald and others on charges of violating the federal lobbyist law, scheduled Monday, has been postponed for the ninth time. It now is set for June 18.

Attorneys for the Justice Department and the defendants agreed to the latest delay for the same reason as before. They want to await the outcome of a suit in which the National Manufacturers Association has challenged validity of the law.

GOP Solon Calls For Repudiation of Yalta, Potsdam Pacts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis) Monday called upon Congress to repudiate "private agreements" made at Yalta and Potsdam and said he was introducing a concurrent resolution to carry out his proposal.

"The free world is paying a staggering price for the private agreements made between Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill at Yalta and confirmed and concluded by Truman, Stalin and Attlee at Potsdam," Smith said in a speech prepared for delivery in the House. He added:

"The understandings reached at those conferences but never presented to the Congress for approval, have plunged the free world into a state of confusion and despair."

"The arrangements claimed peace as the objective and in this they have utterly failed, as we prepare for another war."

Political Chicanery

"The basis for a just and lasting peace rests on high moral grounds. At Yalta and Potsdam, moral principles gave way to expediency, wishful thinking and political chicanery."

Smith charged that the chiefs of state meeting at Yalta agreed to disarm Germany and Japan "and thereby removed all effective barriers that existed between Russia and the free world."

He contended also that they agreed to the partition of Poland in the absence of any Polish representative; "betrayed" China, and "induced" Stalin to enter the war against Japan "upon the promises of Roosevelt and Churchill that Communist Russia should get the Kurile Islands, South Sakhalin, Outer Mongolia and a preferred position in Manchuria, Port Arthur and special position in Dairen."

Vice President Of Korea Resigns In Criticism Of Rhee

PUSAN, KOREA—(AP)—The resignation of Lee Se Yung, 82-year-old vice president of the Republic of Korea, was accepted Monday.

The National Assembly vote accepting the resignation was 77 to 10 with 41 members abstaining.

Only last week the assembly, with only one member dissenting, had voted against accepting Lee's resignation.

Lee complained, in submitting his resignation, that he had no real authority. He also voiced criticism of President Syngman Rhee's cabinet selections.

In the repercussions following the resignation there was some talk among Rhee's opposition of bringing impeachment proceedings, but political observers were inclined to doubt the success of any such move.

Parent Labor Groups Must Sign T-H Oaths

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday decided the Taft-Hartley Act requires officers of "parent" labor federations such as the CIO and AFL to file non-Communist affidavits.

The court disagreed with a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board that the oath requirement applies only to union groups which take part in collective bargaining and are empowered to call strikes.

Proposal Is Sidetracked To Sub-Panel

AUSTIN—A Senate committee on congressional redistricting, following a brief public hearing Monday, referred to a subcommittee for further study, a House-approved bill which would take Midland County out of the district with El Paso and place it in a district dominated by San Angelo. The vote was eight to one.

Experienced observers, believing the action meant virtual death for the bill, commented that due to the lateness of the legislative session, it is doubtful if the proposed redistricting legislation will reach the Senate floor before adjournment.

Mayor Perry D. Pickett and Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing of Midland, and William R. Blair, El Paso businessman, and William Hooten, El Paso newspaper editor, appeared before the committee, headed by Senator Crawford Martin of Hillsboro, to oppose the bill, which last week was approved by the House. They asked that Midland County be left in the district with El Paso. Senator Hill D. Hudson of Pecos spoke briefly in opposition to the measure.

Rep. Paul Wilson of Geneva, author of the bill, spoke for the proponents of the measure. He said an effort had been made to keep like industries together in congressional districts, and admitted to the committee that some adjustments perhaps should be made in order to accomplish this.

Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso asked favorable action on the bill which would leave Midland out of the El Paso district.

Senator George Broccoli of Houston called for substituting a plan to give Harris County another congressman. He noted it is the heaviest populated congressional district in the United States.

"It boils down to this: Either we must have a congressman at large or add a Harris County congressman. It is so close to the end of the session, there is not a great deal of chance for any bill to pass if we get into a redistricting fight."

A substitute motion by Senator George Nokes, Jr. of Corsicana ordered the subcommittee study. Only vote against the study was by Bracco.

The "aye" votes were cast by Senator A. M. Altkin, Jr., of Paris, Joe D. Carter of Sherman, Mrs. Neville Colson of Navasota, Otis Lock of Lufkin, Martin, Warren McDonald of Tyler, W. A. Schotter of Temple and Nokes.

The House-approved bill would place Congressman Ken Regan of Midland in a district with Rep. C. C. Fisher of San Angelo, and would leave the El Paso district without a representative.

The Midland mayor and Chamber executive told the committee Midland, the administrative headquarters of the oil industry in the Permian Basin Empire, should be left in the district with other leading oil producing counties of West Texas rather than being shifted to a district with counties to the Southeast with which it has only limited community interest.

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nobody can tell us whether we should or should not spank our children.

Spanking is an instrument of discipline. Instruments, whether they be of discipline, orchestras, or atomic laboratories, contain no magic in themselves. The kind of job they are made to perform depends upon the feeling, authority and perception of the person who uses them.

Within recent years, spanking has been frowned on as an instrument of discipline. Thus it has begun to hold for us all the fascination of a tribal taboo. If we regard spanking longingly as the answer to all our children's problems, but we are afraid to use it, we're wasting valuable time.

Some pleasant day for children, American parents will stop looking for the magic training formula that will change an angry child into a happy one.

They will accept themselves as people capable of making their own decisions. They will stop checking their ability to win friends and influence people by psychological charts in magazines.

If they decide to spank, they'll spank. If they decide not to spank, they won't be awake wondering if they shouldn't have spanked after all.

They will say, "This is what I think and feel should be done with my child"—and they will do that thing.

Wedemeyer Knew The Score

Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer called the turn in Korea with amazing accuracy. His long-suppressed Far Eastern report, finally released almost four years after its submission to President Truman, reads like a concise account of Korean history since 1947.

Why did we not follow Wedemeyer's recommendations as a military expert?

The government takes the position we could not officer the South Korean army because to do so would make it virtually an adjunct of the American Army.

It may be argued that we were not dissuaded from using American officers with the Greek army against rebel Communists, but Greece was not a product of the UN and we undertook to aid her outside the confines of the UN.

But wasn't this an unrealistic attitude for us to hold? It hardly seems likely that Rhee would have dared use his army for aggressive purpose if the U. S. or the UN cautioned him against it.

Our failure to take Wedemeyer's advice, on this score, together with top-level statements that we didn't consider Korea defensible, created a power vacuum which stood as an open invitation to the Communists to march in.

But no great good is now to be gained by dwelling upon this mistake. We are in Korea today with our own army, and the big question is how long and for what purpose. The Wedemeyer report can't settle that.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Greeks capitalize on cheap American ships; Real record of Greek ownership is obscured by financial juggling; Wealthy owners hang out at New York's St. Moritz.

WASHINGTON — There have been numerous headlines about the oil-tanker deals of ex-Congressman Joe Casey, Admiral "Bull" Halsey and the late Ed Stettinius. Real fact, however, is that these deals are peanuts compared with the way a fabulous group of wealthy Greeks bought American ships on a shoestring and parlayed their fleet into one of the largest in the world.

Further, they did it largely with the use of other people's money. One of the Greeks who purchased an American ship, incidentally, is the present premier of Greece, Spiros K. Karamanlis, though he did so before he became premier.

These Greeks, though private citizens, used the credit of their government to buy up bargain-rate American liberty ships, grew fat on the post-war boom, and now are operating hundreds of ships under a dozen different flags.

After the war a kindly Uncle Sam with too many ships on his hands wanted to help various governments rehabilitate their merchant marine.

But the Greek government bought no ships. Instead, Greek merchants, not living in Greece, had enough pull with the Tsaldaris government to buy 98 liberty ships from the U. S. A. using certificates from the Greek government and a Greek government loan guarantee.

Uncle Sam Wakes Up. By 1948, the United States woke up to the way its surplus ships were being used by foreigners, and a law was passed cutting out sales to foreign nationals.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY. Written for NEA Service.

South was very versatile in the hand shown today. He was very enterprising during the bidding but very cautious in the play. It was a good combination.

West's opening club lead was taken by dummy's ace and a trump was returned at once. When South played the king of spades, West cleverly played low.

West again refused to ruff. Thereupon South led a low heart, East won and returned a club, South ruffing. Now South ruffed a heart in dummy, returned to his hand by ruffing a club to ruff another heart in dummy, and then discarded his last heart on dummy's queen of diamonds.

Advertisement for 'THE FORM DIVINE' by HILDEGARDE DOLSON. Includes a small illustration of a woman and a man.

LUCILLA WEBB, age 37, started out that April morning to have lunch with an ex-schoolmate she hadn't seen in 17 years.

At the northwest corner of Tenth Street, a block from the Fifth Avenue bus stop, she paused before the Church of the Ascension to read the Thought for Today: Happiness Must Be Watered Like a Plant.

Today she was too restless, or too wary, to ask herself, "Do I Water Happiness Like a Plant?" Instead she read the other notices. Just below this, on the grass, was a brand-new sign: No Dogs. They might as well add "And No Children," she thought, measuring by eye the space between the iron bars of the fence surrounding the church.

She glanced in the little paneled mirror to reassure herself that her hat was still on straight. Arthur had always liked this hat. She reflected bitterly that when her husband once liked something, he never outgrew it.

Lucilla thought of Arthur as he had looked that morning half-dressed, when he called to her, "Mommy, where are my other nylon shorts?" Originally it had pleased and touched her, to have Arthur imitating Hoopy, calling her Mommy, but now she saw it as a depressing, callous indication of Arthur's feelings toward her.

A BLOCK beyond Best's she laid aside the case against Arthur, like unfinished knitting which she could pick up later without losing a stitch, and gave herself a last-minute dusting and straightening before getting off the bus.

There may have been the barest connection between this idea and the next: it will be nice to see Charlotte again (and let her see me). It resulted from being optimistic, inclined to think pleasant thoughts, especially about herself.

She passed a sad-mouthed woman dressed entirely in black, even to her stockings, and the woman became, in Lucilla's mind, a brave widow who supported three children by selling cakes through the Woman's Exchange.

She was working in a publisher's office . . . and a tall, dark tweedy stranger was smiling at her whimsically.

He doesn't smuggle drugs—he's ETHICAL. "Barrett Drugs is really owned by the Rub-dub Chest-Rub Corporation," she said, waiting for Charlotte to exclaim, as people did, "Oh, Rub-dub! Of course!"

The name, to Lucilla, carried only a sense of homeliness, but she nodded. "Well, when Ed and I were back at Jasper for a reunion last year, who should we see but Dorothea with this absolutely glamorous brunette. And you'd never guess who the girl was, Clarice?"

THE image that had evaded her came back. Clarice was the scuttled sidewise like a crab. "But she's our age."

"I know. That's what I said to Dorothea. I said, 'What on earth did Clarice do to herself?' Well, I nearly died when she told me, Clarice came to New York and went to the Beautiful-You School—you know, the one you see ads for in the magazines, the Before and After."

"But they couldn't have changed her that much." The skeptic was overlaid with hope, as when a child says, "But how could the crab turn into a princess?"

Charlotte shrugged. "Plenty, I'll bet." Lucilla returned to her fantasy. And now the whimsically cheek-boned man was saying, "You're so incredibly young and lovely. You must have been 16 when Hoopy was born." And Lucilla gave him a glamorous, enigmatic smile.

Annual GFWC Convention Opens Monday In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Homemaking responsibilities still have No. 1 priority among the modern women of today.

Among the 20 resolutions to be presented to the 60th annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is one to assure the protection of families during mobilization.

The majority of the 75,000 women in the 14,500 clubs that are members of the National Federation are housewives and mothers.

Two thousand delegates from these clubs started gathering here Monday. Their convention opens formally Monday night with a banquet.

Early arrivals were expecting a week of renewing acquaintances, attending study groups and listening to experts talk.

"Sometimes, though, we get some pretty heated discussion on our resolutions," said Minnie Porter Harris of Key West, Fla.

The resolutions already have been distributed to the various clubs in the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska. They will be presented to the convention Wednesday.

The first on the list declares that "a devoted affirmation of faith in God is the world's greatest need." Others call for economic stabilization, punishment for strikes in essential industries during an emergency, universal military training administered by a majority of civilian personnel and measures against communist infiltration.

On protecting the family, the resolution declares the "present and future strength of the United States is dependent upon the proper training of our youth and upon the protection of mothers and youth in the home." It asks that recruiting for industry be directed primarily to women with few homemaking responsibilities.

Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, national federation president, of Red Oak, Iowa, welcomed the junior federation delegates in a speech prepared for delivery Monday with a reminder of just how far women have pushed back their horizons.

The first club in the federation, she said, was founded in 1836 in Jacksonville, Ill., and was called "The Ladies' Association for Educating Females."

They studied for the first year Ripley's "History of The Rise and Fall of Rationalism in Europe," she said. "And then half way through the year, they decided it was too heavy and took up debates of common interest, and the first subject of any debate listed is 'Resolved That One Woman Can Love Two Men at the Same Time and in the Same Way.'"

"And the woman who took the affirmative side almost lost her happy home!"

Women are now studying the United Nations, the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Pact and reciprocal trade treaties, Mrs. Houghton said.

She asked them all to participate in the civil defense program, but above all to keep "the spirit of the home happy and gay, be a strong partner to your husband in a what ever sacrifice has to be made and live to the fullest in your home, in the support of your schools, in the work of your church and in the service to your community."

The ballroom was decorated with tulle-covered covered with angel hair and a ribbon and crepe paper hammock filled with balloons. A lyre covered with red roses was at one end of the room and the refreshments table, centered with imitation carnations, was at the other end.

Mrs. Keisling and Mrs. Earl Chapman poured punch.

Approximately 200 persons attended.

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, one day knocked at the door of a hollow tree house. The house belonged to the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf.

Knock, knock! "Yoo-hoo! Huffen Puffen!"

The Huffen opened the door. "Happy day from your old friend, the Huffen Puffen!" said the Huffen.

can like a shoe-polish can, right in Mugwump's hand.

"Uhuh," said Mugwump, "but it isn't shoe polish. Oh no! It is really apple polish."

"Huh?" asked the Huffen, because he didn't understand. And so Mugwump said again that the can was full of apple polish.

By Wesley Davis

"Happy day to you, Huffen," said Mugwump. "Look at what I have."

Mugwump held out his hand. The Huffen looked. "Look at what I have."

Mugwump held out his hand. The Huffen looked. Why, there was a with an innocent little child like you, he shouldn't."

"Toh! Toh! Toh!" said Mugwump. "Nobody should be unfair with an innocent little child like I am."

"No sir," the Huffen agreed, and so away he hurried to find the apple polisher man. The Huffen was going to give him a talking-to.

Then at last the Huffen found him. What a jolly little fellow was the apple polisher man! He was little and round with a great big smile, and he had not a hair on top of his head.

"Now you see here," said the Huffen, all ready to begin the talking-to. Then a something happened. What a surprise! I'll tell you about it tomorrow. Happy day! (Copyright 1951, General Features Corp.)

No Scales Exist By Which Korea's Cost Can Be Weighed

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—How much has the Korean war cost?

Lyle S. Garlock, acting assistant secretary and controller of the Department of Defense, says it's impossible to tell, and he should know.

How do you measure the cost of the 70,000 American casualties, for instance? Or how do you estimate the life and property damage in Korea? Questions like these indicate the impossibilities in trying to make any calculations.

There is only one rough figure that might be used on the cost of the first year's war in Korea. In the government's fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, Department of Defense spent $13,500,000,000. For the year ending June 30, 1951, expenditures will be about $19,500,000,000.

Make a simple subtraction and the answer comes out $6,000,000,000 for the first year, if you charge all the increased defense effort to the Korean war.

As for making any specific accounting on what it takes to run the Korean campaign, however, Defense officials say it can't be done. Books can't be kept on war the way they are in business.

There were a lot of World War II type fighter planes in the Pacific theater when war broke out. They rapidly were becoming obsolete as they were to be replaced by jets. Air Force was about to write off the cost of the old jobs and scrap them. But they saved the day in the early Korean fighting. So are the costs of the planes shot down in Korea to be charged off at zero—their scrap value—or at the full original price?

Slew Boat To Korea
It takes an estimated 210 days for supplies to flow through the pipe line from the United States to the Korean battle front. In between are U. S. warehouse stocks, reserves kept at ports of embarkation on the Pacific Coast, goods in transit by slow freighter, supplies at ports of debarkation and dumps behind the lines. Are the supplies to be charged off as a war cost when they enter the pipe line, or only when they are expended at the front?

Defense officials know how many tons of supplies they have shipped to the Korean front, but beyond that they lose count. They know what pay and subsistence comes to the six U. S. Army and one Marine divisions, the Air Force and Navy personnel in the Pacific theater. This is more than a third of present U. S. Army combat strength, though much less that fraction for Navy and Air.

But this is only a beginning of the outlay. There are 10 South Korean divisions which wholly are equipped and maintained by U. S. supplies. British Commonwealth, Turkish, Greek, French, Thai and other United Nations contingents also draw most of their supplies from the U. S. pipe line. This aid is furnished on a reimbursable basis, however, and it's the job of the State Department to collect for whatever is furnished.

All these are complicating factors to make accounting next to impossible. And a country doesn't go to war on a basis of what it can afford, anyway.

For next year, the Department of Defense budget requested by President Truman totals $60,000,000,000. Actual expenses will be about $40,000,000,000, or double the present year's rate. By comparison, the 1942 budget was $94,000,000,000 and expenditures were $23,000,000,000.

Stop-Gap Budget
This 1952 budget is terribly late in being submitted to the Congress. Appropriations Committee hearings beginning this week can't possibly be concluded and the bill passed by Congress before the fiscal year begins on July 1. Some kind of stop-gap legislation will have to be passed to give the armed forces spending money till the bill finally is approved and signed by the President.

Reason for the delay is that the Defense budget had to be completely recalculated in December. This was after the Chinese Communists entered the Korean war. It created a new world situation which made all past military estimates obsolete.

A team of some 45 Defense Department fiscal experts worked double time for two months, whipping the new budget in shape for submission to Congress on May 1. It had no more than been completed when President Truman called for a new review to cut back expenditures where procurement was proceeding too rapidly.

What they are trying to stop are cases like the one uncovered by Rep. John Tubey in which $8,000,000 coffee bags had been ordered for immediate delivery. It was enough to last for years.

How much Congress will be able to cut from the Defense budget is anybody's guess. Senator Taft has talked of a $35,000,000,000 U. S. Defense budget, for a 3,000,000-man armed force, instead of 3,500,000.

Assuming that the war does not spread beyond Korea, Department of Defense estimates that the 1953 military budget will be under $60,000,000,000, though spending will be over next year's $40,000,000,000. The leveling off period should begin in 1954.

Mickey Outdraws Rita Three To One

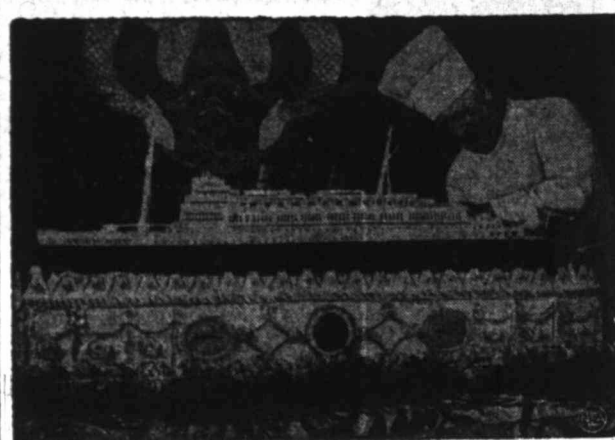

LOS ANGELES —(P)— Mickey Cohen's furniture preview outdraws Rita Hayworth's three to one.

More than 10,000 persons previewed the gambler's household effects, personal guns and bullet-proof doors Sunday. The auctioneer's gavel falls on them Monday night to help the broke Cohen buy lawyers to fight a federal income tax evasion charge.

Auctioneer Marvin H. Newman commented on the record turnout for the preview:

"I've never seen anything like it. It beats Jimmy Roosevelt's, Marlene Dietrich's and even Rita Hayworth's. Mickey outdraws them all by the thousands."

He said the turnout for Miss Hayworth's sale was about 3,000.

Through a closely knit system known as Co-ordinated Distribution, Shell keeps petroleum products flowing smoothly from oil fields and refineries to industry, the Armed Forces, and motorists throughout the country.

KNIT TOGETHER - to fit your needs

Every day the petroleum industry delivers over 290 million gallons of petroleum products to meet the nation's needs. You expect and you get your share when and where you want it.

To fit your needs, Shell employs a sensitive system called Co-ordinated Distribution. This meshes crude oil supply, transportation, refinery output, and delivery of finished products. It knits the intricate machinery of petroleum production and delivery into an efficient assembly line stretching from the oil fields to you. And, as a result, petroleum products cost less here than anywhere else in the world.

Making oil more useful:
Oil contributes in hundreds of ways to the nation's economy, comfort, protection. It produces more than half of America's power.

Co-ordinated Distribution is another example of how the oil industry gets the maximum usefulness out of our petroleum supply.

And oil companies, to do this, work on 3 fronts: production, refining and distribution.

Joined to serve you best
Production finds new oil fields, gets the most possible oil from existing wells.

Refining gets more and better products from every gallon of crude petroleum.

Distribution anticipates the users' needs, and delivers the product where and when it is needed.

With production, refining, and distribution all joined "under one roof"—teamed to exchange ideas—Shell does its part to assure the most efficient flow of petroleum products to you.

To strengthen America:
Because they have plowed back over 10 billion dollars into new plants and equipment since the end of World War II, America's privately managed oil companies outproduce the world—are better prepared today than ever before to meet both civilian and military needs.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

National League Race Tightens; Yanks Drop Two

At long last those smart-alecky managers perhaps knew what they were talking about when they predicted an eight-team dogfight in the National League pennant race.

"Anybody has a chance to grab it all," said Cincinnati's Luke Sewell last March in Florida. His words were echoed by Eddie Sawyer, Leo Durocher, Billy Southworth, Charlie Dressen and all the rest.

With a month of the season gone the skippers look like first class crystal gazers. The eight clubs find themselves packed together like sardines in a can.

Separate three and a half games separate the cellar-dwelling Cincinnati Reds from the roof-roosting Brooklyn Dodgers. As a comparison, St. Louis' last-place Browns trail front-running New York by 11 games in the American League.

Cincinnati and New York chiefly were responsible for contracting the standings Sunday. The Reds twice subdued the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-2, 6-3. The Giants swept a twin bill from the Phillies, 11-2 and 4-2 to go into sixth place.

Brooks To Top Limb
Brooklyn displaced Boston in first place, overcoming the Braves 12-6. Chicago and Pittsburgh swept past the Cards into a third-place tie, dividing a doubleheader. The Cubs won the nightcap 6-0 after Pittsburgh had walked off with a 2-1 opener.

The high and mighty Yankees, American League pace-setters, received a double-barreled jolt when the lowly Athletics thrashed them 5-4 and 9-6 in Philadelphia. Boston defeated Washington 10-1.

Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland wound up in a three-way tie for third when the Indians whipped the White Sox 11-2, as the Browns held the Tigers even in a twin bill. After winning the first game 13-10, the Browns bowed in the nightcap 5-3. The second Cleveland-Chicago game ended in a 4-4 tie.

Longhorns, Aggies Collide This Week In SWC Showdown

Four teams stowed away their baseball equipment Monday but two others—Texas and Texas A&M—prepared for the showdown in the Southwest Conference baseball race.

Texas leads by two games but the Aggies have an advantage of playing both their final games at home against the Longhorns and could vault into a tie for the championship.

The Aggies and Longhorns get together at College Station Thursday and Friday. Texas needs to win one game to take the undisputed title. The Aggies have to capture both in order to share the championship.

Longhorn League—15 For Colts, As Oilers, Drillers, Dusters Also Win

By The Associated Press

It's downright monotonous what San Angelo is doing to the Longhorn League race.

The winninet club in Texas professional baseball, the Colts now have taken 15 straight and don't appear ready to stop in the immediate future.

San Angelo has a record of 20 wins against only three losses. That's enough to give the Colts a six-game lead over runner-up Vernon.

San Angelo showed over three runs in the first inning and went on to win easily over Big Spring Sunday. The score was 9-2 with Derwood Cox keeping eight Big Spring hits well scattered.

Artesia beat Sweetwater 8-3 with Lupe Lopez pitching and batting the club along. Lupe not only relieved in the first inning and hurled three-hit ball the rest of the way but he got four hits himself.

Odeessa downed Midland 6-1 behind the seven-hit pitching of Ray Sims.

Vernon outlasted Roswell 18-12 in a game that ran three hours and 12 minutes. John Follis hit a homer for Vernon and Al Monchak duplicated for Roswell. There were 32 hits on both sides, 19 by Vernon.

Maxwell Repeats As Colorado City Golf Champion

COLORADO CITY—With a blustery wind sweeping the fairways, play in the second annual Colorado City Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament was completed Sunday.

The championship battle between Bob Maxwell of Big Spring, defending champion, and Dilimus James, 18-year-old golfer from Ablene, was all square at the end of 13 holes of play. James weakened on the last nine of the 36-hole match and came in three down with two holes to play, to make Maxwell a repeating champion.

Women's Golf Tourney Begins At Midland CC

Midland Country Club's Fourth Annual Women's Invitation Golf Tournament got underway Monday morning, with almost 100 golfers shooting in qualifying rounds.

Match play in flights, will begin Tuesday and run through Friday.

Southwest Thinly Clads Look Toward Nationals In Seattle

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Southwest Conference tracksters, a record-smashing meet behind them, looked toward the nationals Monday.

At least seven of the stars of the annual meet held here last week-end appear capable of registering heavily in the NCAA at Seattle June 15-16.

Tops among them are Darrow Hooper, the mighty Texas A&M shot putter and discus thrower; Val Joe Walker, Souther Methodist's ace high hurdler, and Jim Brown, the crack Arkansas two-miler.

Hooper and Brown set records in the Southwest Conference meet when the former shoved the shot 54 feet, seven and one-half inches and Brown raced the two-mile in 9:24.4.

Walker ran a 14 1/2 high hurdles, as good time as registered anywhere this season, and he did it with a poor start, at that.

Other top marks were the 202 feet, seven and one-half inches in the javelin throw by Ray Marek of Texas, a 13-7 pole vault by Jack Simpson of Texas A&M and a 3:17.3 mile relay by A&M.

Walter Davis, who has done six feet-nine in the high jump, got 6-6 and Charley Meeks of Texas, who has gone more than 24 feet in the broad jump, turned in 23-10 3/4. Those fellows are good bets for high places in the NCAA.

Billy Bless of A&M ran the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.2 without the benefit of an appreciable wind. Hooper hurled the discus 162 feet, eight and one-fourth inches.

Sam Snead Wins Greenbrier Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(AP)—Sam Snead argued with a vengeance some element that he hadn't ever won his own golf tournament.

Snead put on a blazing finish Sunday to win the fourth annual Greenbrier Open. The West Virginian wound up with a six-under-par 64 for a 72-hole total of 283, 17 strokes under par.

El Paso Winner In Pistol Tourney

DALLAS—(AP)—Buck Fisher of El Paso took the grand championship of the 26th Southwestern Pistol Shooting Tournament here Sunday.

Fisher gathered 2,568 points by two matches, tying for one, and finishing second in another.

Thomas D. Park of Dallas was second with 2,568. James E. Clark of Shreveport, La., third with 2,532, and Charles A. Giglio of Shreveport, fourth with 2,549.

Oilers Pass Tribe With 5-1 Victory

ODESSA—Midland's Indians and Odeessa's Oilers traded places in Longhorn League standings here Sunday afternoon, and Midland got the short end of the stick. The Indians also got the short end of a 5-1 score as Ray Sims elbowed the Oilers to the win, holding Midland to seven hits.

King's Row

by LARRY KING

Suppose, while in the midst of an operation of, say, counting a column of figures, you get confused and rattled. What do you do? You start over, naturally.

And that's what the Midland Indians are going to do, says their manager, Harold Webb.

The Roundman-turned-slim reports the Indians will "reopen" the season at the end of the current road trip when Roswell comes here May 18. "We'll be starting over—getting a new lease on life," Webb reports.

That, we think, is an excellent suggestion. The Indians have been rather confused as of late, getting rattled in the column of figures known as the Longhorn League standings.

Awhile back we reported all that was holding the Indians out of the cellar was time, Artesia and Odeessa. Now it's just time and Artesia. And time is running out.

The Indians are journeying into the wilds of New Mexico for four games during the next few days, playing Stubby Greer's last-place Artesia Drillers a pair of games and then moving to Roswell for two before the Rockets come here.

Sunday afternoon we saw a movie about the Indians in New Mexico and, although they put up a valiant fight, they eventually were wiped out.

We hope that movie wasn't an indication of the things that will happen to our Indians when they move into the Driller and Rocket ball parks.

—KR—

That "new season" is a brave and fine idea, and we're glad to see Webb hasn't thrown his hands to the high heavens and given up on the Indian club.

The only drawback we can see lies in the fact San Angelo and the other Longhorn League teams won't back up and start over with the Midland team. They're getting along quite well, thanks, and will be prone to frown upon the "start-over" idea.

It looks as if the Indians have a long pull ahead and will have to do it all themselves. At least, they'll get little cooperation from their league brothers.

—KR—

Anyway, it will be the new Midland Indians when the team returns home, according to Manager Webb. It seems the Indians tried the same thing about mid-season last year but never could make it in their new-lease-on-life program.

At last, they are getting an earlier start this season.

We just hope they don't come back into town so far down the New Deal will be hopeless.

There's one consolation in the whole picture: They can't get much worse. There's no place to go but up.

MOREY REPEATS AS GREENWOOD CHAMPION GREENWOOD, MISS. — (AP) — Dale Morey of Dallas defeated Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., 5 and 4 here Sunday to take the 18-hole championship match of the fourth annual Greenwood Invitation Golf Tournament.

Morey was defending tournament champion.

The brittle star, a dweller of the ocean bottom, can shed any of its five arms and grow a new one.

NEW SLANTS—Allen Gettel, left, former American Leaguer, hopes to solve the Giants' relief pitching problem. He came back via the Oakland Coasters. Jim Wilson, center, once with the Red Sox, plans to make the Braves' Big Three a Big Four. He struck out 225, had an earned-run average of 2.95 with Seattle. Tom Morgan, right, up from Birmingham, clinched the Yankee opening left by young Whitey Ford's Army induction. (NEA)

Ahhh-Shoo! Hay Fever Season Is Just Beginning

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Already a few people are beginning to sniffle and sneeze with Spring hay fever. More will have trouble about the end of May and in June when most of the grasses pollinate. In August thousands of lives are made miserable for several weeks as end when the ragweeds and their relatives get going.

Hay fever is an allergy that is caused by oversensitiveness to some plant pollen which floats around in the air. When a person becomes sensitive to one of these pollens he or she is bothered by running nose, sneezing, and perhaps irritation of the eyes. These symptoms occur whenever the offending pollen is present in the air in a sufficient quantity. Nobody knows for sure just why this happens. It may seem amusing to the onlooker but it's no fun for the victim.

In the Spring, hay fever generally is caused by the tree pollens. Hardwood trees are the most common source of trouble. Oaks, elms, beech, birch, willow, and several others have been incriminated. The trees do not all pollinate at the same time and they do not all grow in the same areas. So it may be possible to get away from the offender, though too often a person who has trouble from one tree pollen develops sensitivity to another.

A more frequent source of early hay fever are the grass pollens. Grasses grow practically everywhere and they pollinate heavily through a good part of May and June. Timothy, June grass and Bermuda grass are the most important sources of trouble, and everyone knows these grasses are almost everywhere.

Three Cures
If early hay fever causes too much misery there are three possible ways to lessen the difficulty. One is to go to some place where the particular pollen causing the trouble does not exist. This is pretty hard to do.

Another is to take injections which consist of gradually increasing doses of pollen with the aim of desensitizing. This is fairly effective for most people if kept up long enough.

Finally, in the new drugs, especially those known as antihistamines, we have an instrument which helps a great deal to relieve the worst symptoms of hay fever.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. H. L. Gebhart, Midland, and three sons, James Gebhart, Rockdale; Alfred Gebhart, Henderson, and Tommy Gebhart, Midland.

Jack Newton Wins Top Roping Honors In Monahans Rodeo

MONAHANS — Jack Newton of Abilene won top prize money in the annual Permian Basin Rodeo here Saturday night before a crowd of 1,750 that sat through a sandstorm.

In this final performance of the annual event, Newton topped 52 other cowboys by roping and tying down his calf in 11.9 seconds.

But there was a sad note in the show. One of Producer Bob Estes' best horses broke a leg and had to be shot.

Other winners in the calf roping were Mac McAlannah, Ozona, 13.4 seconds; Bill Eaton, Elda, N. M., 14 seconds; Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio, 14.3 seconds and Toots Mansfield, Big Spring 14.6 seconds.

Bill Barton of Clyde won first in bareback bronc riding. He was followed by Jim Brannam, Marathon; J. R. Akridge, Beaver, Okla.; Frank Smith, San Angelo, and Fuzzy Garner, Tulsa, Okla.

Saddle Bronc Riding
High honors in saddle bronc riding went to Manuel Enos, Fort Worth, followed by Paul Gould, Sweetwater; Adridge; Bob Fisher, Neutral Hills, Alberta, Can.; Eddie Taylor, Amarillo.

Duane Roseberger of Casper, Wyo., won in steer wrestling with a time of 6.9 seconds. Other top steer wrestlers were Duce Smith, 8.3 seconds; Akridge, 12.9 seconds; Polly Rushing, 13.6 and Paul Lanning, 13.8 seconds.

Judges gave first place in bull riding to Bill George of Shamrock, and placed, respectively, Cotton Proctor, Belton; Bill Ward; Pete Stanridge, Fort Worth; Ray Roberts, Amarillo, and Elliott Calhoun of Las Cruces, N. M.

Cowgirls barrel race winner was Amy McGilvery of Mertzon, followed by Latonne Sewalt, Brownwood, and Blanche Altizer of Del Rio. In a fourth-place tie were Janelle McGilvery, Mason, and Wanda Harper, Mason.

Miss Aledo, ridden by Jerry Christmas of Abilene, took first place in the cutting-horse contest, with second place to Snapper, ridden by Jim Trammel of Abilene.

Police Chief Jailed On Murder Charge In Airmen's Slaying

PERRY, GA. — (AP)—A police chief who claims he killed two AWOL paratroopers in self-defense has been jailed on a murder charge.

Thomas Bragg, 46, police chief at Hawkinsville, was arrested and jailed without bond Saturday night. Houston County Sheriff C. C. Chapman said he expects the case to go before a grand jury soon.

Bragg was accused of murder in a warrant sworn to by the mother and widow of one of the soldiers, Pvt. Louis L. Passmore, 27, formerly of Hawkinsville. The other victim was Pvt. Lon O. Asman, 21, of Woodlake, Calif. Both were stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C.

The officer said he shot the paratroopers to protect his own life when they attacked him and threatened to kill him. Bragg reported he arrested the men Friday night for being absent without leave and was driving them from Hawkinsville to Warner Robins Air Force Base when the shooting occurred.

He said the paratroopers, unarmed and handcuffed together, jumped him as he drove across a narrow bridge.

A Houston County coroner's jury listed the shooting as self-defense. Military authorities are investigating the slayings.

Hopalong Dennis Goes Down Fightin'

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP)—Five-year-old Dennis Smith pulled on his black cowboy pants and red plaid shirt Sunday and strayed from his Riverside District bunkhouse.

Just wanderin' around got a little dull so he ambled over to see how things were goin' at Sierra Passage.

When he didn't show up for chuck, Mrs. Celia Smith, his mother, called out a posse of 17 policemen. Plans were made to drag the Niagara River.

After a 10-hour manhunt, two policemen corralled Dennis in the theater where he'd sat through three showings of Sierra, another feature and selected shorts.

When the cops woke him up, Dennis was hoppin' mad and rarin' not to go.

He said he wanted to see how the movie ended.
