

Mac Flays Truman's Domestic Policies

Old Soldier Asks Return To Morality

FORT WORTH —(P)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur Saturday whiplashed the Truman Administration on the domestic front by charging the high cost of government rapidly is making the American people "servants of the state".

Winding up a whirlwind four-day speaking tour, the ousted five-star general protested against "the drift toward socialism," and a drift away from the moral standards "from which were evolved the American tradition."

He called for the American people to demand a level of morality in government that will restore confidence and faith.

And he asked "that truth replace false and slanted propaganda in public information . . . and that national policy be determined with primary regard to the ultimate well-being of our own people."

At no point in the speech delivered in a high school stadium did the general make any direct reference to foreign policy or to the Korean war—the major issues on which he has based his previous attacks on the Administration.

Smallest Texas Audience Once again MacArthur's crowd-pulling appeal failed to draw a full house. The crowd here was estimated officially at 15,000 — the smallest of all his Texas audiences.

At Houston Thursday night, city officials there had expected 70,000 people to turn out. Only about 20,000 showed up in the big Rice Institute Stadium.

Friday night, MacArthur spoke in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas which holds 76,000 persons. Officials estimated the crowd at 27,000.

MacArthur came to Fort Worth by automobile from Dallas — 35 miles away — after attending a breakfast given by the Texas Press Association. There the general (Continued On Page 12)

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)— U. S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady won from Iran Saturday a promise to give the British until Tuesday to answer a demand that they start paying this country the profits they make on Iranian oil. A Sunday deadline thus was extended 48 hours.

A personal appeal by Grady led Premier Mohammed Mossadegh to modify the ultimatum presented four directors of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company here Thursday by Finance Minister Mohammed Ali Varasteh.

Varasteh had told the directors the Iranians would not discuss oil nationalization with them unless they agreed by 8 a. m. Sunday to order the AIOC to turn over 75 percent of its profits to his government and bank the rest as a cushion against possible later claims by the company.

A Foreign Office spokesman in London indicated the British government, which owns 53 per cent of the billion-dollar company's stock, will reject the ultimatum, saying: "It is like holding a pistol to our heads."

British Attitude Stiffens He said Britain has offered to share 50-50 the profits of the company's operations in Iran, but Iran is attempting to set up a condition which should be one of the subjects of negotiation.

The British attitude toward Iran's demands for an oil settlement appeared to be stiffening. Commanders of regional air, sea and land forces conferred Friday at British Middle East headquarters at Fayid, Suez Canal Zone. Informed sources in London said increased anti-British propaganda in Iran has given a more urgent aspect to preparedness for safeguarding British lives in the oil field area.

Truman Signs Bill Extending Trade Act WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman Saturday signed a bill extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act two years, until June 12, 1953.

In a statement he said the U. S. will continue its efforts with other countries to expand trade by "the reduction or elimination of barriers, and thus to build up the strength of the free world."

Famed Jurist Is Dead

WASHINGTON —(P)— Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, 73, died unexpectedly Saturday night at his daughter-in-law's apartment here.

A close friend of the family said the noted jurist was visiting Mrs. T. Alan Goldsborough, Jr., for a Father's Day dinner. He also was celebrating his forty-second wedding anniversary.

Goldsborough attained prominence as the federal judge who twice punished John L. Lewis.

At two famous and melodramatic trials, in 1946 and 1948, Judge

T. Alan Goldsborough

Goldsborough, bald, black-robed, found Lewis and his United Mine Workers guilty of contempt of court because they had ignored court orders requiring them to cancel coal strikes.

Both times the judge said he thought Lewis ought to go to prison but he would yield to the government's advice and only fine him.

In the 1946 trial, he fined Lewis $10,000 and the union $3,500,000. The Supreme Court later upheld Lewis' personal fine but reduced the union's fine to $700,000.

In the 1948 trial, Judge Goldsborough fined Lewis $20,000 and the union $1,400,000.

The fines against the union were among the largest in American legal history.

Jets Reported Safe In Czechoslovakia WASHINGTON —(P)—Two United States jet fighter planes missing from the American zone of Germany Saturday were reported safe in Communist Czechoslovakia.

The pilots, one an American and the other a Norwegian who had been training with the U. S. Air Force, were unhurt, the Czech government reported after the U. S. government asked for information.

There was no word as to where or why the planes landed in Czechoslovakia.

The American pilot was listed as Lt. Luther G. Rohland (no address given).

Shivers Asks Tribute To Dads, Granddads AUSTIN —(P)— Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday asked Texans to pay "deserved tribute" to fathers and grandfathers Sunday.

He said he included grandfathers so families could "single out for special honors those older fathers whose influence has now extended into still another generation."

Midland Navy Pilot Dies In Alaskan Crash

Navy Lt. (jg) Ben W. Sevier, 25, of Midland, was killed in an aircraft accident Friday at Kodiak, Alaska, Naval Air Station, according to a message received here Saturday by relatives.

He was the husband of the former Mary Frances Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Carter, 312 West Florida Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert J. Sevier, 1202 West Tennessee Street.

Mrs. Sevier, the widow, and their three children were in Midland at the home of her parents when the message from the Navy Department was received.

The children are Ben, Jr., five; Cynthia Frances, two; and Danny Joe, five months of age.

The Associated Press reported from Kodiak that the big plane crashed and burned Friday night after overshooting the Kodiak Naval Air Station runway.

Ten men were aboard the big P2-V Neptune, the press service said. Three crewmen were injured, the pilot killed and six were unhurt. The plane was returning from a routine patrol flight.

The bomber plunged into an excavation beyond the field's boundaries after speeding off the runway, according to the report. The plane belonged to the Kodiak-based P2-V Squadron which recently won the safety award given by the commander of the Pacific Fleet's Air Force.

This was the first serious accident by a Navy plane in the Alaska theater during the last two years.

Lieutenant Sevier was a squadron commander and only recently had gone to Kodiak from Oak Harbor, Wash. He was scheduled for overseas duty and was in training at Kodiak.

He was a graduate of Midland High School, a former football star and had attended Texas A&M College. He entered Navy service after taking the Naval V-12 program in college and was graduated to flight training after being commissioned an officer.

Allies Storm New Enemy Buildup Area

TOKYO —(P)— United Nations troops stormed through ebbing Communist resistance in a two-mile advance Saturday toward the new enemy buildup area at Kumsong on the Central Korean front.

The Allies struck from an area east of Kumhwa, southeast pivot of the Reds' broken "Iron Triangle," nine air miles southwest of Kumsong. Kumsong is 29 miles north of the 38th parallel.

Other Allied units scored one-mile gains on the central front near Chorwon and on the east-central front north of Yangju. There, in the Yangju-Inje sector, the enemy offered bitter resistance. Some 3,000 Reds were observed digging in northwest of Yangju.

Censorship Hides Details Because of censorship, details from the front were meager.

From U. S. Eighth Army headquarters, AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported an enemy plane dropped four bombs early Sunday on the airfield at Suwon, 23 miles south of Seoul. No details were given. The field was bombed lightly two days ago.

Communists protecting vital escape routes hurled artillery fire at Allied units north and northeast of Yangju.

An Eighth Army communique reported a "limited objective" attack on the central front to "improve a local condition," but the exact area was not specified.

Newspapers in Tokyo were advised Sunday forenoon that new censorship restrictions were in effect which further slowed reporting of (Continued On Page 12)

PAD Official Sees End Of Controls On Oil Field Materials Lifting of government controls on critical oil field materials within the next 18 months was predicted here by Frank A. Watts, director of materials for the Petroleum Administration for Defense.

Watts addressed approximately 200 oil men Friday in a meeting called at the City-County Auditorium to explain the PAD program.

"A year hence—possibly a year and a half," he said, "the supply and demand will be pretty well in balance—barring an all-out war—and controls no longer will be needed."

Watts, who is on leave from his job as general sales manager for the Humble Oil and Refining Company, confined most of his talk to a technical discussion of the various PAD regulations.

But he discussed briefly the general outlook for oil field materials supply.

"During the third quarter of this year," he said, "you will be pretty well dislocated. There'll be considerable confusion and there isn't much we can do about it as we try to develop our control program."

She had resided in Midland 24 years.

Catholic Grey Nuns Sel Canadian Fire Death Toll At 36

MONTREAL, CANADA —(P)— Roman Catholic nuns Saturday placed at 36 the number killed by fire in the St. Cunegonde Orphanage and Home for Old People.

The Grey Nuns, who operated the home, said the total was made up of 30 recovered and identified bodies, four unidentified bodies and two persons missing and believed dead.

The identified dead were 27 women, all inmates, one man, an employe, and two nuns.

Fire swept through the old five-story stone and timber hospice in a matter of minutes Friday after it was discovered near the base of an elevator shaft.

Among the 400 persons cared for by 25 nuns were about a dozen blind men and women and some crippled boys and girls.

The Roman Catholic Grey Nuns, who operated the home, said funerals will be held Monday for Mother Superior Rita Gervais, 62, and Sister Antoinette Chauvin, 50, who lost their lives in the blaze.

The mother superior last was seen fighting with a fire extinguisher in an effort to rescue some of the inmates.

Calm Follows Wild Weather Rampage

Texas weather Saturday was generally peaceful—but a few hours earlier it was the stormiest state in the nation.

Tornadic winds swept Merkel, Fort Worth, Joshua, Athens, Abilene and Lubbock Friday night, causing damage, but no injuries.

Heavy rains fell at scattered spots throughout the state while many areas in the storm perimeter had hail and electrical storms.

Despite Saturday's relative calm, W. T. Thomas, 80, was killed by lightning at Cayuga in East Texas. Light thunderstorms played about the area all Saturday afternoon.

Saturday, the western half of the state was practically clear, and East Texas was generally cloudy. The forecast called for more stormy weather in East Texas early Sunday.

Weather observers thought West Texas might escape the elements' violence this weekend, although early forecasts predicted scattered showers in the Panhandle, South Plains and from the Pecos Valley eastward.

Merkel Street Littered The smashing winds left Merkel's Main Street littered with debris as they skipped destructively down its length, wrecking stores, damaging buildings and homes.

Hailstones as "big as baseballs" were reported at Colorado City. A dust storm cut visibility to practically nothing at Lubbock, and Abilene was pounded by a steady 45-mile-per-hour wind with gusts that reached 65 mph.

Buck Mac-Kado Rides Again, Says Kerr Of Oklahoma

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senator Kerr (D-Okla.) says that if General MacArthur is "not a candidate for president, there's not a steer in Texas."

He made his comment in reference to MacArthur's series of speeches in Texas criticizing the Administration for what MacArthur says is a policy of appeasement.

"He's running for president as hard as he knows how," Kerr said.

"The Mac-Kado rides again."

It appeared that Midland High's dedication game in Memorial Stadium that October night in 1948 would go into the record book as a loss.

Highly-favored San Angelo was leading Midland 20-19 with less than two minutes to play.

On fourth down, a scampering little Midland Bulldog back darted to the right as if to run, then straightened up and tossed the winning touchdown pass to a grinning end.

It was the only pass Bob Price ever threw in a game.

Bob Price now is 19 and a private first class in Korea. And on this Father's Day, his dad, J. A. Price, will be thinking about Bob and perhaps that October night when his boy won acclaim on the gridiron.

Throughout this nation, many thousands of fathers will be thinking of sons in Korea and Europe

The missing ship took off June 4 from Rudoso in a rainstorm. Aboard were James Roe, pilot, his wife and two women friends, all from Odessa.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★ Boris Karloff Denies Charge He Doesn't Like Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Guys and Dolls: Is Boris Karloff a new member of the Phoebe-on-Hollywood Club? The accusing digit has been pointed at him, but the gooseflesh-popper, back on the sound stages in U.S. "The Door" after a two-year absence, vows that the charge is pure fiction.

"An actor," he told me, "goes where there's work for him and I was weary of breaking my back in my Hollywood garden waiting for my next movie. So I went to New York." Then he added:

"People are always saying, 'Poor Boris, having to play those Frankenstein monsters.' Look, I'm darn grateful to that monster. But after three Frankenstein pictures, there wasn't anything left to do with him. I love that monster."

The scare king's idea of his three best movies: "The Day After Tomorrow," "Body Snatchers" and "Bedlam." "I only had to work with one head in those films," he chuckled.

Doris Day is hopping mad. A report that Doris and her groom Marty Melcher are spitting is the fuse that has set her off.

"What would they do to make us hot copy again?" Warner's top blonde raged on the set of "Starlift." "We're happily married and we like being dull. It's a pleasure. Marty's a wonderful husband and a father. My son, Terry, is crazy about him. He's calling himself Terry Melcher at school. We're real homebodies. Marty and I, and we don't go out. That's the way we like to live."

President Truman Signs Ratification Of Bogota Charter

WASHINGTON — President Truman signed the instrument of ratification of the Bogota Charter Saturday with a statement that the unity of the American republics is giving an example to the free world.

The document, drawn up at the 1948 Inter-American Conference at Bogota, Colombia, is similar in intent to the United Nations Charter. It provides, as Truman said in a statement, the "constitutional basis for Western Hemisphere unity."

The charter sets up the Organization of American States as the working body of the American republics and establishes it as a regional organization under the UN. It also provides for consultation and joint action in the political, economic and military fields to maintain the security of the hemisphere.

Murder Trial Heads Court Docket Here

The murder trial of Moses Lerma, 38-year-old Latin American, heads the docket as 70th District Court enters the third week of its June term Monday.

Lerma, accused of the January 7 shooting of Pedro Ortiz, was indicted by a Midland County grand jury last February.

The 42-year-old Ortiz, identified as Lerma's brother-in-law, was wounded fatally just outside the La Hacienda Club on North Lamesa Road. He died the next day of chest and abdomen wounds.

Lerma also was wounded in the gun battle.

Other cases which District Attorney W. O. Shafter of Odessa said are scheduled for trial during the week include:

Juan Montez, possession of marijuana; Frank Russell, two counts of molesting a minor; Melvin Miller and Charles Jordan, forgery; D. L. Leonard, forgery; N. L. Jackson, burglary; Jack Brookshire, burglary; and William H. Hale, second offense drunk driving.

Ninety venemen have been summoned to report to District Judge R. W. "Bob" Hamilton at 10 a.m. Monday.

Submarine Victim Of Sudden Disaster

LONDON — The Admiralty announced Saturday that a preliminary survey of the sunken submarine Affray, lying 288 feet down in the English Channel, indicated that a sudden disaster overtook the vessel.

The cause of the sinking, which killed 75 Navy officers and men, still is a mystery. The submarine was reported missing during diving exercises on April 17, and no trace was found until this week. There were no survivors.

Bankers Confirm $18,960,000 Offer For Texas Ranches

LONDON — The vast Matador and Alamogordo ranches in the Texas Panhandle may be sold to an American syndicate for $18,960,000.

This offer was revealed Friday by Bankers Lazard Brothers, Ltd., of London and informed sources said the deal is expected to be completed "in the next month or two." The sale is not a simple one and the details are many.

The two ranches - - and the 47,000 Hereford cattle grazing on them now - - are owned by the Matador Company, a Scottish firm, and 77 per cent of its 800,000 shares are held in Britain. The rest are held by Americans, including H. P. Drought of San Antonio, Texas, one of the directors, and John Mackenzie of Denver, Colo., manager of the ranch.

Under the proposed sale, all the shares would pass to the new syndicate.

The ranch land is under lease for oil drilling and is near areas already producing oil and natural gas. Under terms of the proposed sale, the American syndicate would keep a half interest in all the mineral rights and pass over the other half to Matador shareholders. The Matador shareholders in turn would form a $1,000,000 American corporation with some American investors to hold their half of the oil rights.

The two ranches total some 812,000 acres. The Alamogordo lies in Oldham and Hartley Counties, on the New Mexico border, and covers about 400,000 acres. The Matador lies northeast of Lubbock and stretches almost to the southwest tip of Oklahoma, its expanse extending into five Texas counties - - Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Crosby and Dickens.

The Superior Oil Company holds the lease for oil exploration on the Alamogordo. Surveys already have been made and drilling on it is expected soon.

The Humble Oil Company long has had the lease on the Matador. It has drilled 13 dry holes on the property.

Mexico Orders Halt In Flow Of Braceros Across U. S. Border

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico went ahead Saturday with plans to halt the flow of seasonal agricultural workers to U. S. farms.

The Foreign Office ordered Mexican consuls in the United States to advise Mexican contract workers (braceros) not to renew their six-month contracts when they expire.

The bracero recruiting stations in Northern Mexico were told to close.

Washington sources said Mexico delivered a note to the U. S. Embassy here terminating the present bracero agreement in 30 days. The embassy declined to comment on the report.

Success And Adventure Measure 50 Years Of Marriage For Pioneer Midland Couple

In the hectic Oklahoma territory 50 years ago a young couple honeymooned in a wagon camp and vied with thousands of other land-hungry adventurers for a quarter-section of Indian land.

Saturday night, in Midland, the couple sat down to dinner with their family in celebration of a half-century of marriage which could be a yardstick for measuring wedded success and happiness — and adventure.

Saturday was the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orson, 410 West Illinois Street, pioneer West Texas ranchers. Mrs. Orson is 71 and her husband is 73.

Mrs. Orson, who had learned as a child to live the ranch life of a boy because she was the only girl of six children, was born in Goliad, a descendant of Texas patriots. Her husband was born in England and was brought to this country at the age of four. His family lived in Dallas and Breckenridge before moving to Snyder where he met the woman he married.

Moved to Stanton
Their wedding was at Bison, Scurry County, in the horse and buggy days and for a honeymoon trip they went by wagon to Lawton, Okla., to try for a share of the Comanche-Apache Indian land that was being distributed. The land rush was rough and hectic, too much for a young bride.

"It was there I heard a woman swear for the first time," she recalled. "I left Frank up there to see if he could get the land, and came back home." They moved to Stanton.

Orson was a cowboy and his bride could ride and rope. Together they worked their cattle.

But before the marriage, he was talked into buying half interest in a Snyder newspaper, The Western Light.

"They told me it would complete my education, make me smart, to run a newspaper," he said of the experience. "I mortgaged my 12 cows and bought in." He lasted 90 days.

"Made me smart, all right." He worked with a railroad bridge gang in Arizona to settle the mortgage.

In 1912, they visited relatives in England and decided then to return in 1914 for a two-year stay. World War I broke out as they and their five children waited in New York to sail.

Ox Wagons Here
"We'd sold our cattle and leased our ranch, had our tickets bought. Couldn't back out," Orson said. They stayed five years and returned with seven children.

He had been sworn into the British Army but was sent to the farm an uncle had left to them. During the war the British stopped horse racing.

"That was worse than what Truman's doing," Mrs. Orson said.

They lived at Stanton, with ranching interests in both Andrews and Martin Counties. In 1924, the Orsons built their home in Midland and for the most part have lived here since that time.

"Stanton was a good town, even then," he said, "and Midland was as good proportionately then as it is now. Trade came here from 70 miles away, some in ox wagons."

Two of their sons, John Robert and Francis, died. With them at the Saturday affair were their two daughters, Mrs. J. Alfred Tom and Mrs. Carl Covington, and three sons, Henry G. W. N. and Dr. O. W. Orson, all of Midland and their nine grandchildren.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Orson of Lamesa and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greenwood of Glenn, Texas. Orson, brother of the Midland man, were at the wedding. Greenwood is Mrs. Orson's brother and another brother, Jess Greenwood of Hobbs, N.M., was a member of the wedding party 50 years ago.

It is estimated that 4,000,000 people starved to death in the 1943 famine in Bengal, India.

Four Pillars Of Freedom

"WORK — SAVE — VOTE — PRAY" are the potent and meaningful catch words of a "How You Can Make America Strong" series of institutional advertisements being sponsored by the Texas & Pacific Railway and recommended for nationwide usage by industry, business and government.

Surely nothing can be of greater importance or of more lasting benefit than "working, saving, voting and praying"—patriotically and unselfishly—in helping to keep America strong.

It is something for us to consider, these four basic pillars, as we ask, "What can I do to help my country in its hour of need?"

W. G. Vollmer, T&P president, points out in a booklet, "The Four Pillars of Freedom," which now is being distributed, that most of us today are knee-deep in confusion and uncertainty. We are not quite sure which way to turn or what to do. Within the nation, we see and feel the effects of inflation upon our income and our savings. We see the communistic terrors trying to destroy the very foundation of our free government and our free economy.

Yes, America is in trouble, and our more-or-less indifferent attitude toward it perhaps makes it the most serious threat against our cherished American way of life that ever has existed.

In view of the turbulent present and the uncertain future which all of us face together, we need to—we must—examine the cause of our trouble.

And by looking deep enough, it can be determined the threat to our way of life is the root of America's trouble. Twice in one generation, we have fought world wars in defense of freedom, and today we stand on the threshold of a third world war. And again it is in defense of our freedom. Wars are expensive in many ways, but in dollars alone a large proportion of our public debt was created by wars fought to preserve freedom.

Yet, over the years, many of us have taken freedom for granted, but by this time surely everyone must recognize that freedom, like everything else in life, comes at a price. But regardless of how high the price, we must pay for it. Nothing would be worse than to lose our God-given rights and our human dignity. The only thing Americans cannot do without is their freedom.

We are at war right now, whether or not we choose to call it that, and when the smoke of conflict clears away, either the free people of the world or the Communist will emerge victorious. Democracy and communism cannot exist side by side. They are founded upon completely different principles with which we all should be familiar. It is either democracy or communism. It is just that serious.

Sure America has the money, the know-how and the productive capacity to turn out the goods and services essential to the preservation of freedom. But it is going to take more than money, guns, machines and know-how to win this all-out conflict. It is going to take the will and courage to WORK, to SAVE, to VOTE and to PRAY.

Here are four basic principles upon which we all can unite. We can preserve our freedom if we have the will and the courage to WORK, SAVE, VOTE and PRAY. Our forefathers made America strong by "working, saving, voting and praying." It now is up to us to return to the basic principles practiced by our founding fathers in order to keep this great country strong.

Let's WORK hard and earnestly at the task of strengthening ourselves spiritually, morally and economically.

Let's SAVE our free American way of life, no matter what the sacrifices may be.

Let's VOTE at every election for people who place the welfare of their country above their personal political welfare.

Let's PRAY for the wisdom and the courage to do our duty as good Americans, faithful to God and to our country.

Sunday is when the exceptional man does half as much as he planned to do.

How can two live as cheaply as one when just one can't?

One great trouble with a past is that it's often an ever-present difficulty.

Heck Of A Troop Leader He Turned Out To Be!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1961, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: American Army doctor tests Korean smallpox behind Chinese lines; Government officials join big corporations, then lobby against government; Senator Langer bows out Senator Kefauver.

WASHINGTON—The inside story has never been written, but American agents are playing a daring cloak-and-dagger game behind enemy lines in Korea. Since some have been captured and tortured, their activities are now known to the communists, and the story of their courage can be safely told.

The American operatives are given the tough assignment of entering enemy-infested territory to smuggle out enemy secrets, sabotage a key installation or rescue an important American prisoner.

Usually they are shipped ashore under cover of darkness from a blacked-out Navy patrol boat. They keep in radio contact with Korean agents behind the lines, and usually travel with trusted South Korean guides.

These American agents not only are expert spies and saboteurs, but are specially trained for close-quarter fighting. They are taught to kill swiftly and silently, and are certain death to any Chinese sentry who may cross their path on a dark night.

One of the most daring missions was headed by elderly Brig Gen. Crawford Sams, who isn't a commando at all but a Medical Corps doctor. Ominous reports had reached American Army headquarters that Chinese soldiers were dying of "black death." This meant American troops might run the risk of catching dread bubonic plague, and it required a man of General Sams' medical training to slip behind the lines and diagnose one of the sick Chinese soldiers!

Rode Through Surf
Sams volunteered for the mission and was assigned a trained agent, whose name cannot be revealed because he is still operating behind the lines.

The manner in which some government officials have used their government positions to do favors for private companies, then have gone to work for the same companies at higher salaries, has now become a national scandal.

Probable reason why the SEC is keeping silent is that the answers would be embarrassing. For example, SEC would have to tell how it reversed a recommendation to dissolve the United Corporation, after several former SEC employees were hired by United.

Organized by J. P. Morgan, United Corporation is a giant holding company which gives Wall Street bankers control over several power and electric companies. In 1942, the SEC staff recommended dissolving this parent corporation under the holding company act and on the grounds that it served no useful purpose except to perpetuate banker control.

However, the bankers turned round and hired several SEC officials, including some who had worked on the very recommendation to dissolve the United Corporation. First to move over to United was William M. Hickey, who had been assistant director of SEC's public utilities division. Suddenly in April, 1943, he became president of United Corporation.

In addition, John J. Burns, SEC counsel in the early days, became United's senior counsel; E. Carey Kennedy, ex-SEC analyst, became vice president of the company; and Edward Roll, formerly a minor SEC official, became assistant to United's president.

Following this, the SEC strangely had a change of heart and did not dissolve the United Corporation. Last year, a new proceeding was initiated, but again the bankers resorted to the same tactics, and the SEC's counsel in charge of the public utilities division legal staff, Harry Slater, overnight became assistant counsel of United's chief subsidiary.

This shocking case may be the reason SEC is afraid to answer Congressman Walter's simple question: "The last man in the country who might be suspected of stealing is Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, the effective and crusading crime-buster. Yet he was actually accused of a theft the other day by an outraged colleague, Senator Langer of North Dakota."

Kefauver innocently telephoned Langer and invited him to sign a minority report against the bargaining point. The bill would make it legal for big manufacturers to absorb freight rates and charge uniform prices whether their product was shipped 100 miles or 1,000 miles. Both Kefauver and Langer have battled against the bill, because it would knock a loophole in the anti-trust laws.

However, North Dakota's Langer had what he thought was the only copy of the minority report and planned to introduce it in the Senate himself. Therefore, when Kefauver phoned him to invite Langer to join him in signing the minority report, the bull-voiced Langer stormed over the phone, claiming the minority report as his own and accusing Kefauver of stealing it.

Afterward, the misunderstanding was cleared up. It turned out that the economist who prepared the report had actually made four copies. Kefauver got one copy and liked it so well that he decided to introduce it, not knowing that Langer was planning to introduce the same report. Meanwhile, Langer didn't realize that Kefauver had a copy, and thought Kefauver was trying to take all the credit.

The mixup has now been straightened out, and both Senators have now signed the minority report.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

One of the most remarkable hands to appear in a long time is reported from Holland. It caused quite a discussion of leading from honors.

West thought that his "solid" trump sequence furnished an admirable opening lead. Actually he could not have picked a worse suit to lead.

South won with the queen of trumps and led a diamond to knock out East's king. East returned the queen of hearts, dummy winning with the king. The ace of diamonds was then knocked out, and East had to flip the best return.

He felt he could hardly afford to lead away from his jack-nine so he returned a club. Now South was home.

Dummy took the king of clubs and cashed the queen of diamonds, South discarding a heart. Declarer next took the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy. He returned to his hand with the ace of hearts (a vital entry at this particular point and no earlier) to lead his last club.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, West, East, and South cards and a table of opening leads.

West was down to his four trumps. He had to play the eight to stop dummy's seven from winning the hand at once. Dummy over-ruffed with the ace and returned the seven of spades. South ducked, and West was in with the nine of spades. Now West had to lead from his ten-three up to declarer's king-six of trumps.

The curious part of the story is that not only did West begin his downfall by leading from his "solid" sequence in spades but also East completed the disaster by failing to lead hearts a second time from his broken holding in that suit.

If East had led a second heart—high or low—South could not have been in his hand to lead the last club through West when that play had only four trumps left. And his contract depends on being able to bring about that position.

Apparently the moral is that it's much safer to lead twice from Q-J-9 than once from J-10-9-8. If you find anybody who'll believe that, try selling him the Brooklyn Bridge.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

There's A New Lineup In The Defense Mobilization Office

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — There's a completely revamped first team lineup in the Office of Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson.

Some of the more controversial characters, who were accused of being too closely connected with "the interests" are gone. Among those departed are Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who has gone back to his job with Continental Can; Sidney J. Weinberg, who has gone back to his investment business in New York as senior partner of Goldman Sachs; Fred Searies, Jr., who has gone back to his regular job as president of Newmont Mining, a holding company for many mine properties.

These were the three top assistants to Wilson. They also were the three who provided the main argument for charges that the U. S. defense production effort was being run by big business. Rather than take this gaff of criticism, they chose to go quietly. So they're no longer working for the government and the public has lost the services of experts of proven ability.

Now occupying Sidney Weinberg's office is Charles B. Stauffacher. He is on loan from Bureau of the Budget, where he has been executive assistant director—the third-ranking man.

Stauffacher's principal job in ODM is to ride herd on Defense Production Administration and the other emergency agencies. He has a reputation as a sort of an expert on organization. During the war he served in the Navy, in the offices of the chief of Naval Operations and commander of the Western Sea Frontier. He holds degrees from Pomona, American and Harvard and first entered government service from Brookings Institution in 1941.

Replaces General Clay
Taking over General Clay's former responsibilities in stimulating production is Clay P. Bedford, executive vice president of Kaiser-Frazer. He has been with Henry Kaiser since 1925 and is rated as one of the country's best production geniuses.

A native of Texas, Bedford was transportation superintendent for the six companies that built Hoover Dam, then general superintendent at Bonville and Coulee. In 1941 he was switched to building ships. As head of Kaiser's Richmond, Calif., yards, he supervised the building of 729 ships. The Richmond yard record was the assembly of one Liberty ship ship in four days, 15 1/2 hours.

In charge of metals and materials supply, succeeding Fred Searies, is a newcomer to government, but another experienced engineer and businessman. He is David E. Irwin of Chicago. He retired in 1960 from the position of vice president in charge of transportation and supplies for Pure Oil. He had been with this company since 1933.

A graduate of Sheffield Scientific School at Yale, Irwin went into the mining business. He served first with Roan Antelope copper mines, a British company operating in South Africa. Then he was a general

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

Little Helen could not remember having seen her father's mother, who lived a long way off. One day the doorman rang and when the little girl opened the door, there stood a gray-haired lady who said, "Kiss me, Helen; I'm your grandmother."

"The little girl said, 'Grandmother Jones is my grandmother.' The lady said, 'She is your grandmother on your mother's side.' 'I'm your grandmother on your father's side.' 'Well,' Helen answered, 'you won't be here long before you find that you're on the wrong side.'

whereupon he gave a surprised yelp and dumped her down. They stood breathing hard at each other. "What came over you?"

She faltered and said weakly, "I'm sorry, but you knew I was married."

He laughed unpleasantly. "What has that to do with it?"

"A great deal," She didn't know whether she was embarrassed because of sounding moral, or because she hadn't sounded moral soon enough.

"The doorman's beyond the door," she said formally, "if you want to fix your makeup."

She had a confused feeling that under the circumstances, it wouldn't be cricket to use a man's bedroom mirror and bathroom. "No, I have to hurry."

Contrary to all the tenets of beautiful-you she marched out with her back turned full blast on her host.

BUT after she'd ridden a few blocks in a cab, she began to wonder if she looked disheveled. Naturally, she intended to tell Arthur the man meant nothing to her, and that there'd never been anything between them and never could be, but if she walked in looking all puffed, it might give Arthur the wrong idea. She asked the driver if he could stop at the Lexington entrance of Grand Central.

"Not allowed to park there," the driver droned.

"Oh," She told him to go straight down to Tenth, then got out her compact and tried to redo her mouth. She felt messy inside and out. If only Arthur could be late, just this once, she thought.

Gretel let her in, and Lucilla looked eagerly over the maid's shoulder into the living room. "Mr. Webb called and said he won't be home for dinner."

Lucilla's first reaction was annoyance; she'd only prayed for ten minutes' postponement, and now she'd even have time to kill. "Did he say how late he'd be working?" "He didn't say he was working," Gretel announced, with sly satisfaction. "He just said he wouldn't be home for dinner."

At 11, he still wasn't home.

NEW SCAP IN ACTION— Unaloof Ridgway Shows Japanese Mixture Of Austerity, Exuberance

By CLIFF McDOWELL and EDWIN HOFFMAN

TOKYO—(NEA)—In North Africa when Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was planning the first big-scale airborne assault in U. S. History, he liked to work off excess steam by climbing hills in the evening. He did the same thing in Korea, where Ridgway, marching back and forth across the skyline was, as an aide put it, "a terrifying sight."

Now that he is Supreme Commander of the Allied Powers in Japan, along with three other titles involving UN and American forces, there is little opportunity for hill-climbing.

Ridgway makes up for this with brisk 15-minute walks in the gardens of the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo, where he lives with his wife and two-year-old son, Matt, Jr. Usually he walks by himself after getting up at 6 a. m., and appears to be meditating on the day's business.

On rare occasions he invites some of his staff members to join him in this morning exercise, and they discuss SCAP problems while they walk.

There is a mixture of austerity and warm enthusiasm about MacArthur's successor, and to the Japanese it means getting accustomed to a personality much different from the aloof five-star general who ruled them for five years.

MacArthur avoided all social functions and his contacts with Japanese leaders and foreign emissaries in Tokyo were rare.

Ridgway feels that certain social functions are a part of his complex job.

Since his family is also a major part of his life, Mrs. Ridgway, a black-eyed widow he married in 1946, shares the spotlight in the new SCAP social life. A former secretary to a Navy committeeman, Mary "Penny" Ridgway knows her way around military circles, and handles the social problems and many of the semi-official functions for her husband.

Like the Japanese and the SCAP staff, American correspondents in Tokyo have been affected by the new attitude. They seldom saw or talked to MacArthur, but Ridgway has made it a point to know them and help them get accurate and complete information. Newsmen who turn up at SCAP functions are apt to find Ridgway introducing them to his wife—by their first names.

Colorado Governor Chides Cattlemen

WALSBERG, COLO. — (P) — Colorado Gov. Dan Thornton gave his fellow cattlemen a verbal spanking Friday night for complaints about beef price controls.

Their first job, he told more than 1,000 delegates to the State Cattlemen's Association convention, "is to raise enough to feed the armed forces and still feed the people at home."

At the same time they must fight inflation which he said Communist forces would try to use as a wedge to take over this nation.

"Labor is fighting business and business is fighting labor," he commented. "Now both of them look like they will be fighting the stockmen. It's time we stopped dickering and all got together to fight communism."

He suggested that production was the key to the problems of the cattle industry.

FINGER LACERATED — Ray M. Cox, a mechanic for Midland Tractor Company, was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital Friday for a finger laceration received when cleaning an oil filter.

OIL WORKER INJURED — James F. Hicks, Rodeo-Tel Courts, an oil field worker received emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Saturday after he suffered arm and leg bruises in a fall at a rig.

names. Ridgway likes to get to bed by 10:30 when possible, and spends what leisure time he has with his family. He manages to do some swimming, play badminton, see an occasional movie, and read (non-fiction is his preference). Every Sunday when he was in Korea, Ridgway attended Protestant religious services, and now in Tokyo goes to church with his family.

Along with a demand for military preciseness and firm decisions, Matt Ridgway has an exuberance that breaks down any barriers of austerity.

When he first got to Korea last winter, he started a Marine corporal, slogging along under a heavy combat pack, by kneeling down and trying the leatherneck's flapping bootlace.

When he read his orders from Washington last April and found himself suddenly boosted to SCAP, all he could think of to say at the moment was "Oh my gosh."

His staff, most of them veterans of the MacArthur regime, find Ridgway highly considerate of the people who work for and with him. He has never been known to be harsh to an enlisted man, one aide observes, "but he sure can give a Major General hell!"

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Chief Bottle Washer

Mother Ringtail stood looking at all the dirty dishes. Why, there were more dirty dishes waiting to be washed than she had seen in a long, long time. "Ah me," she said to herself, "so many dirty dishes." Mother Ringtail called for Mugwump please to come and dry them as she washed them.

"Mother Ringtail," said Mugwump, "how did you ever get so many dirty dishes?" Mugwump listened while Mother Ringtail explained she had made a scrambled coconut pit, and a scrambled coconut cake, and some scrambled coconut cookies. Oh, but all the cooking she had done couldn't possibly have dirtied so many dishes. She wondered maybe if someone had slipped in the house to dirty them while she wasn't looking. "Hurr?" asked Mugwump. "I mean -- what did you say, Mother Ringtail?" Mother Ringtail said it again. Said she: "I don't know where all

Siluro-Devonian Yields Oil In C-S Martin Prospector

Promising shows of possible production have been developed in Central-South Martin County from the Siluro-Devonian dolomite at Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1, E. B. Dickenson, wildcat which is slated to dig around 12,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger.

The prospector recovered 360 feet of 41.5 gravity free oil in a drillstem test at 11,740-780 feet. The tool was open one hour. No water was developed from the zone covered by the investigation.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from a minimum of 50 pounds to a maximum of 105 pounds.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 435 pounds.

To Make More Hole

The project is to make more hole. Top of the dolomite which is making the oil is at 11,750 feet. Elevation is 2,479 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey. That makes it nine miles west of Stanton and 12 miles north and slightly east of Midland.

This wildcat had some interesting shows of oil in the Spraberry formation. However extended testing failed to develop commercial production and it was decided to carry the exploration on down to test the Ellenburger, and all the horizons above it.

Stanolind Schedules Spraberry Explorer Near Martin Failure

One location east of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-A Mulkey, temporarily abandoned project in extreme Southeast Martin County, the same operator staked location for its No. 2-A Mulkey.

Drillsite is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 20, block 35, T-1-S, T&P survey and three miles southeast of Stanton.

No. 1-A Mulkey was temporarily abandoned after drilling to the Ellenburger where it made only water.

Some shows of production were found in the Spraberry, Devonian and Pussellman sections.

No. 2-A Mulkey is slated to go to around 8,500 feet. That depth is calculated to take the well through the Spraberry. No. 1-A Mulkey recovered an estimated 250 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 180 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test in the Spraberry from 7,645 to 7,730.

C-S Andrews Test Finds Petroleum In Wichita-Albany Lime

Kerr-McGee Oil Industries No. 1-B-11-23 University, wildcat in Central-South Andrews County is making more hole after a drillstem test of the Wichita-Albany of the lower Permian at 7,466 to 7,510 feet. The tool was open three hours. Gas was at the surface in one hour and 45 minutes.

Recovery was 115 feet of oil and 350 feet of very heavily oil and gas cut mud, with a salty taste in the bottom 90 feet of that mud.

Flowing bottom hole pressure was 425 pounds; shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 925 pounds.

Drillsite is 2,007 feet from north and 2,033 feet from west lines of section 23, block 11, University survey. It is one-half mile north of a small San Andres producer.

Shallow Wildcat Is Spotted In Culberson

H. H. Tracey, Jr., and others of Lubbock are to drill a 3,000-foot cable tool test in Central-East Culberson County, 21 miles southwest of Orla.

The test will be drilled as the No. 1 W. A. Scott, 660 feet from east and 330 from north lines of the southeast quarter of section 23, block 114, pal survey.

Operations are to start Monday.

More Producers Fined In Midland

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed three more oilers in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

The firm's No. 3 Hugh Dixon was finished for a daily flowing potential of 123 barrels of 36.9-gravity oil through a 24 64-inch choke.

Production is from open hole section at 6,980-7,065 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 639-1 and tubing pressure was 50 pounds. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 7, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

The same operator's No. 2 Hugh Dixon, 660 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 7, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey, was completed on the pump for a daily potential of 21 barrels of oil plus 14 per cent water.

Production is from perforations at 7,622-7,814 feet.

Gravity of the oil is 34 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 740-1.

Amerada No. 3 K. S. Boone, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 17, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey, pumped 97 barrels of oil in 24-hours on completion test.

Production is from perforations at 7,618-7,805 feet.

They had been washed with Hydrac. Gravity of the oil was reported to be 35.7.

Plymouth Finishes South Extender To Pembroke Oil Field

Plymouth Oil Company has completed its No. 1 B. R. Greathouse as a south extension to the Pembroke-Spraberry field of East-Central Upton County.

The well was completed for a 24-hour potential of 166 barrels of oil, flowing through a three-eighth inch tubing choke. Flowing tubing pressure was 50 pounds.

Gas-oil ratio was 602-1. Gravity of the oil was 36.7 degrees.

The oil and gas is coming from open hole in the Spraberry at 6,898-6,952 feet. That interval had been treated with 1,500 gallons of Hydrac.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 3, block A, CC&S&RONG survey. It is 14 miles northeast of Rankin.

Another Gas Show In Crockett Test

Another section in the upper Ellenburger developed a show of gas in Continental Oil Company No. 1-A Shannon, wildcat in Northeast Crockett County.

A drillstem test was made in the interval from 7,000 to 7,050 feet. Open one and one-half hours, gas was at the surface in 65 minutes. Recovery was 240 feet of gas-cut mud.

Previous test from 6,950 to 7,000 feet also showed gas at the surface and recovered gas-cut mud. No. 1-A Shannon is now being drilled below 7,050 feet.

Location is 2,000 feet from south and 2,068 feet from east lines of section 22, block UV, GC&SP survey. That puts it two and one-half miles northwest of the shallow Vaughn field.

Swabbing Continues At Martin Explorer

The Blackwood & Nichols Company was continuing to swab only salt water at its No. 1 Stimson & Burley, wildcat in Southwest Martin County at last report.

Operator is swabbing through perforations, opposite the lower Spraberry, at 6,895-8,707 feet and at 8,715-8,730 feet.

This project is 660 feet from west and south lines of section 38, block 39, T-1-N, T&P survey.

The above perforations had been given a Hydrac treatment.

Deep Wildcat Set For Scurry Area

Lion Oil Company has staked location for a 7,800-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northeast Scurry County.

No. 1 C. O. Helms will be drilled 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 631, block 97, H&TC survey, and 25 miles northeast of Snyder.

W-C Fisher Gets Ellenburger Test

Continental Oil Company has scheduled a 7,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat in West-Central Fisher County as the No. 1 A. N. Noles.

New Concern Formed To Operate Pipe Line For Spraberry Areas

Formation of the Plains Pipe Line Company, owned jointly by Phillips Pipe Line Company and Cities Service Company, has been announced by K. S. Adams, chairman, and Paul Endaoot, president, of Phillips Petroleum Company, and A. W. Ambrose, president of Cities Service Oil Company.

This new company, owned 50 per cent by Phillips and 50 per cent by Cities Service, will operate a new crude oil pipe line and gathering system in the Spraberry trend in West Texas.

Construction is well underway. The lines will extend through the prospective producing territory of Midland, Glasscock, Reagan, and Upton Counties and will be in a position to serve all production from this area.

The main line system will tie in at Goldsmith, Phillips' present 12-inch main crude oil line to Borger. This will enable movement of additional oil to Phillips refineries at Borger, Okmulgee, Okla., and Kansas City, Kan.

At Midland, the line will tie into the Basin Pipe Line system, of which Cities Service is part owner. Through this connection oil can be transported to Oklahoma, East Chicago and Eastern points and, through the proposed West Texas-Gulf pipe line, to the Gulf Coast.

Officers of the new company are D. M. McBride, president; B. F. Stradley, vice president and treasurer; W. H. Wallace, vice president and manager; C. S. Mitchell, vice president; Paul J. Parker, secretary and assistant treasurer; W. F. Mar-

Martin Prospector—

Tom Green Wildcat Is Being Re-Drilled

T. W. Murray of San Angelo and N. P. Powell No. 1 Mrs. Ronda Jones, wildcat in North-Central Tom Green County, is being re-drilled.

It was originally drilled as E. A. Poe, No. 1, by J. J. Perkins and T. W. Murray No. 1 Mrs. Ronda Jones to a total depth of 6,717 feet and temporarily plugged and abandoned in May 1950.

Murray and Powell will re-drill the project for a test in the Ellenburger. That formation was topped at about 6,450 feet.

Location is in the northwest corner of sub-division 29, Mason & Perry survey. It is four and one-half miles southeast of Bridwell Oil Company, J. J. Perkins and Charles M. Prothro, all of Wichita Falls and Howard B. Green of San Angelo No. 1 Mrs. Julia Parr Kenner of San Angelo, a Strawn gas-distillate discovery.

Spraberry Makes Water in Dawson

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 Dell Baron, wildcat in Central Dawson County, is drilling deeper after making water on a drillstem test of the lower Spraberry.

The test was taken from 8,120 feet to 8,150 feet. Tool was open four hours and 25 minutes.

Recovery was 800 feet of salt water and 180 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas.

This project made 2,000 feet of salt water and 300 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud on a three-hour drillstem test at 7,460-7,484 feet in the upper Spraberry.

Projected depth is 9,500 feet. Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of east half of section 9, block 35, T-2-N, T&P survey and one and one-half miles east of Lamesa.

Ellenburger Top Is Called in NW Howard

J. C. Barnes of Midland No. 1 Albaugh-Hamlin, Northwest Howard County wildcat, topped the Ellenburger at 10,555 feet. Elevation was 2,667 feet.

Operator drillstem tested from 10,550 feet to 10,617 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was a small amount of gas cut mud with no shows of oil or gas.

The project is being drilled deeper.

Pecos Prospector Drills After Test

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Glenna (formerly No. 1 Puck), wildcat in South Pecos County, is drilling ahead after a two-hour drillstem test from 8,002 feet to 8,063 feet in line.

Recovery was 200 feet of heavily gas cut mud and 458 feet of slightly gas cut mud.

It is 665 feet from north and 661 feet from west lines of section 28, block 101, TCRR survey and 30 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

SE-C Terry Tester Dry And Abandoned

Union Oil Company of California has plugged and abandoned its No. 2 D. J. Schreengost, project in the Brownfield, South-Canyon field of Southeast-Central Terry County. Total depth was 10,300 feet in shale with streaks of lime. There was no shows for commercial production.

Location was 660 feet from north and west lines of section 73, block T, D&W survey and four miles southeast of Brownfield. It was a one-location north offset to the same concern's No. 1 Schreengost, a producer.

Tom Green Venture Barren; Is Plugged

Hawatha Oil & Gas Company and Alaska Steamship Company No. 1 Henry Ripple, Central-East Tom Green County wildcat has been abandoned and plugged on total depth of 5,468 feet in barren Ellenburger.

The prospector made only water in that formation. It did not have any possibilities of production in any of the upper beds.

Top of the re-worked Ellenburger was at 5,190 feet. Top of the true Ellenburger was at 5,408 feet. Elevation was 1,887 feet.

Made Only Water
A drillstem test was taken at 5,400-58 feet. The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 25 feet of drilling mud and 180 feet of drilling mud heavily cut with salt and sulphur water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 75 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 1,100 pounds.

The project was 467 feet from south and west lines of section 61, district 11, SPRR survey. That made it two and three-quarter miles southeast of Wall.

North Pecos Tester Plugged In Permian

Woodley Petroleum Company of Abilene and William Y. Penn of Midland have plugged and abandoned their No. 1-32 C. J. Golden estate, wildcat in North Pecos County.

In drilling to a total depth of 1,890 in an upper Permian formation operators found no shows of oil or gas.

The failure was 1,650 feet from northeast and 330 feet from southeast lines of section 32, block 10, H&GN survey and three miles southwest of Buena Vista.

Eighth Oiler Fined In Schleicher Field

Another producer, the eighth, has been completed in the Huldale-Strawn field of Central-North Schleicher County.

The Ohio Oil Company No. 5 Thomson has been finished for a calculated 24-hour flowing potential of 328 barrels of 38.7-gravity oil.

The potential was based on an actual 12-hour flow of 168.9 barrels of oil cut one and one-half per cent with water and one and one-half per cent basic sediment. Gas-oil ratio was 580-1. Casing pressure was 30-25 pounds and tubing pressure was 485-500 pounds.

Production was through perforations between 5,771-78 feet and a one-quarter-inch choke.

Location is 467 feet from south and 2,138 feet from west lines of section 81, block TT, TC survey. It is a one-location east extension to the field.

Conoco Abandons Crockett Venture

Continental Oil Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 2 C. T. Harris, Northwest Crockett County wildcat, at a total depth of 9,834 feet in Ellenburger lime.

Location was 690 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 15, block 3, WCR survey and nine miles northeast of Iran.

WASHINGTON OIL—OPS Boost Of Coal For Heat Could Create Danger To Oil Industry In Years To Come

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The Office of Price Stabilization appears embarked Saturday upon a program to encourage oil-to-coal conversions in heating plants.

In announcing a boost recently in residual oil prices, the OPS explained conversions would be one result, adding:

"With the prospect of an acute supply situation developing this Winter, it is desirable and urgent that the industrial establishments, principally utilities, which are equipped to use coal through existing stand-by facilities, maximize such use."

"According to informed sources, more than 20,000,000 barrels of residual fuel oil a year may be saved through conversions and such conversions will be stimulated by these price adjustments."

The OPS, of which Orville D. Judd is head of the petroleum branch, went on:

"At present relative ceiling prices for residual fuel oil and bituminous coal, there is no incentive for consumers with stand-by coal facilities, principally utilities, to shift from the use of oil, which is in tight supply, to coal. Indeed, to the extent that oil is available, existing cost relationships favor the substitution of oil for coal."

While the petroleum industry is little affected at this time, the move could create a situation, if carried further, that could become dangerous to the oil industry at some future time when oil-coal competition again is keen. As a result, some in the petroleum industry are considering steps to halt the OPS from entering into the oil-coal competitive fight.

Further than that, some petroleum leaders in Washington point out that the OPS is probably acting illegally if it pegs prices at certain levels because they will make one fuel competitive with another. Criteria for price fixing set out in the Defense Production Act do not include this. In fact, a legal interpretation of the act, probably bars it.

SE Andrews Project Plugged, Abandoned

Buffalo Oil Company of Dallas has plugged and abandoned its No. 1-F Faskan as a failure in Southeast Andrews County.

The Grayburg failure was quit at 4,945 feet after failing to find any shows of possible commercial production.

Location was 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 19, block 41, T-1-N, O&MM&A survey. That made it 20 miles southeast of Andrews.

Kewanee To Plug NW Kent Project

Kewanee Oil Company is preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1-A Wyatt, Northwest Kent County wildcat on a total depth of 7,157 feet in Pennsylvanian lime and chert.

This prospector was located 600 feet from south and east lines of section 1, block 42, H&GN survey. It was two and one half miles northwest of the farthest out northwest producer from the Pennsylvanian reef line in the Salt Creek field.

Had Slight Show
It topped the Pennsylvanian reef line at 6,000 feet, which was a datum of minus 4,493 feet.

The project had some shows of oil and gas in a drillstem test at 6,893-6,703 feet. It made salt water with a slight show of oil and gas in a test of the zone at 7,023-7,105 feet.

The failure is 13 miles northwest of Clairmont.

Legendre Supervises Publication Of Book With Spraberry Data

"Spraberry Trend Fields," a book containing factual data of wells producing from the Spraberry and published under the supervision of Harry E. Legendre, Midland independent petroleum engineer, is now being distributed.

The first edition contains information on all Spraberry oilers completed in the trend through March 31. Monthly supplements, which can be inserted in the original volume, will make it possible to keep the book up to date.

Bottom hole pressures were not released in time to be included in the first edition but they will be carried in the monthly supplemental reports as they become available.

Field Division
"Spraberry Trend Fields" is a handy book divided into parts by fields. At the beginning of each section is the Railroad Commission of Texas' rules concerning that particular field.

Also included in the publication is data on well completions, gas-oil ratio tests, bottom hole pressure tests, production summary and monthly allowable and oil production.

The original volume sells for $50 and each supplement will be $12.50. They can be obtained by contacting Legendre at 400 North Baird or by calling telephone number 1135 in Midland.

Legendre is a registered petroleum engineer who has been connected with engineering and production problems in West Texas and New Mexico for the last 10 years.

Nichols Is Made An Executive Of State Exploration Of Texas

Karl E. Nichols is now associated with State Exploration Company. He joined the headquarters staff of that concern on June 1 as assistant manager of the land department.

In his new job Nichols will work with F. E. (Swede) Swenson, who is president and manager of the land department of State Exploration of Texas.

Nichols has more than 24 years experience in the oil business. After graduating from Colorado A&M College in 1927 he went to work for Skelly Oil Company.

He was with Skelly in various capacities in its land department until March, 1950, when he resigned to become district manager in West Texas for Charles E. Wrightman.

He severed his connection with Wrightman to take the position with State Exploration.

W. H. (Henry) Conking is vice president and chief geologist of State Exploration of Texas. J. R. (Jimmie) Day is also a vice president and is assistant chief geologist and secretary-treasurer.

Knight Is Now In Midland As Head Man For Barnhart

V. A. Knight is now located in Midland as production superintendent for Paul F. Barnhart of Houston.

Barnhart has already completed one discovery from the Spraberry in Northeast Upton County and is in process of completing another similar strike in Northwest Reagan County.

Knight is trying to locate a house or an apartment he can lease so he can move his family to Midland. He can be contacted through the oil department of The Reporter-Telegram.

Phillips Announces Production Changes

Three changes in the production department were announced in a joint statement by W. S. Adams, chairman, and Paul Madocosi, president, of Phillips Petroleum Company.

L. E. Fitzjarrald, general superintendent, has been appointed manager of the production department; H. H. Kaveler, assistant to the vice president, has been appointed assistant manager; and J. M. Houchin, assistant general superintendent, has been appointed general superintendent.

C. P. Dimitt, vice president and director of Phillips, will continue as vice president in charge of production.

Fitzjarrald, who joined Phillips in 1919, has been general superintendent since 1944. He has served in the production department since 1922 when he was appointed chief clerk. Kaveler started with the company in 1936, as assistant section chief in the production department, before which he served on the faculty at the University of Missouri and George Washington University and was with the Bureau of Mines in Pittsburgh, Pa. He became assistant to the vice president of production in 1944.

Houchin joined Phillips in 1933. He has served continuously in the production department, having been appointed assistant general superintendent in 1944. He is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma.

Halsey Is Known As Flying Mud Engineer

Gilbert O. Halsey of Farmington, N. M., is fast becoming known as the "flying mud engineer."

Any claim to such title can be based on a wide experience both in aviation and petroleum.

"Gib," whose family ties are linked with Admiral "Bull" Halsey of World War II fame, started to work in the oil fields even before his college days at the University of Oklahoma. His interest in aviation dates back to 1933 when he became a licensed pilot.

He has worked in all the larger oil producing states, as well as in Saudi Arabia, South America and Ethiopia.

In 1941 he joined the Royal Air Force in England and was transferred to the United States Army Air Force in 1942. He saw action both in European and Pacific theaters of war.

As flying mud engineer for the Indian Drilling Mud Company of Oklahoma City, it is Gib's job to get to the drilling wells in a hurry and know what to do when he gets there.

He is well qualified to do both.

Anderson Is Made Prexy For Houston Well Service Firm

John W. Anderson of Midland, veteran scout-landman for Humble Oil & Refining Company, is moving to Houston where he will be president and general manager of Premier Well Service, Inc. of that city.

Anderson resigned from Humble, effective June 15, after 11 years service with that company.

He scouted in Humble's Gulf Coast division, Southwest Texas division, California district and West Texas-New Mexico division.

Anderson is married and has three children.

He will report to his new job in Houston July 10.

The Ethiopian Kingdom is more than 2,000 years old.

This Country Needs Another Prolific Oil Producing Area, Declares World Oil Editor

What this country needs is another major oil discovery like East Texas or Scurry County.

Failure to find such a fabulous field means the tempo of wildcat drilling must rise to a veritable frenzy, and that may and more oil must be imported by this nation which was so long regarded as a bottomless reservoir of petroleum.

These conclusions, advanced by Editor Warren L. Baker in the June issue of World Oil, were reached by the simple device of plotting the trends of oil found against the trends of oil needed.

Already, the hour is late—almost too late—for the U. S. to remain reasonably self-sufficient in oil. Last year the country used 6,800,000 barrels of petroleum every day while producing only 5,891,000 barrels, being forced to import the remainder.

This situation, which could be calamitous in another all-out war, is bound to grow worse—barring the discovery of another huge oil field. World Oil points out that if U. S. petroleum use continues at exactly the same rate as it has in the last five years, the country will need 8,800,000 barrels of oil each day during 1955 and 10,000,000 barrels each day during 1960.

On the other hand, if the nation's production continues growing at exactly the same rate as in the past, the U. S. will be producing 6,750,000 barrels of crude and natural gasoline per day by 1955, and 7,500,000 barrels daily by 1960. Thus, the U. S. must have by 1960 1,700,000 more barrels of petroleum each and every day than it produced in 1950.

The only reasonable doubt concerning the accuracy of this forecast is whether the rising production rates can be projected to the level of 6,700,000 barrels of oil per day by 1960. That the nation will have need for that much petroleum plus another 3,000,000 barrels daily by 1960, there can be little argument. The trends are too plainly written.

For instance, the number of motor vehicles registered in the U. S. reached an all-time peak of 48,500,000 in 1950, which was almost 4,000,000 greater than a year previously and 17,000,000 more than at the end of World War II. Almost four times as many tractors were in use on farms at the end of 1950 as in 1935, and almost double the quantity in use during 1945.

Again, the number of domestic home oil furnaces at the end of 1950 was double those at the end of the war and more than four times the number in operation in 1925. Even more phenomenal is the fact that the 800 main line diesel locomotives in use in 1940 grew in number to 3,800 by the close of 1945 and 13,900 in 1950.

The certainty that this rate of consumption will increase is not balanced on the production side of the ledger. Year by year, the number of wildcats drilled has been growing at an amazing pace. The 7,783 wildcats completed in 1950 as industry tried to keep pace with demand were more than twice the 3,400 completed in 1941. Percentage-wise, of all the wells completed last year, 18.5 per cent were wildcats. This compares with 11.3 per cent in 1941.

But, as Baker points out, even this was not enough to surmount the increasing difficulty of finding new oil. During the five years immediately preceding the war, an average ratio of 947,000 barrels of new oil was found for every wildcat drilled. During the five postwar years, however, the amount of new oil discovered has been slightly less than 500,000 barrels per wildcat drilled, or one-half the prewar ratio.

Consideration of all wells drilled—wildcats plus those drilled in proven fields—does not materially brighten the picture. Wells drilled in 1950 totaled 42,000 in contrast to 32,306 drilled in 1937. But these 42,000 wells represented only 21.3 wells per million barrels produced, whereas the 32,306 wells completed in 1937 represented 25.3 wells per million barrels produced.

The solution to the problem is as easy to see as it is difficult to accomplish. The industry must be prepared to drill 50,000 wells annually within five years and 57,000 annually within 10 years—or it must find another East Texas.

McAlester Opens Offices In Lubbock

R. E. L. Brown, West Texas-New Mexico district landman for McAlester Fuel Company, has set up headquarters in Lubbock.

The oil operating concern, with home office in Magnolia, Ark., also is scheduled to move its district production and geological departments here from Lovington, N. M., in the near future.

Brown has established an office in the Petty Building at Fourteenth and Avenue M.

McAlester has been highly successful during the 18 months it has been operating in New Mexico. The concern's first three wildcats were discoveries, two of which have proven to be major openers. It found the Denton-multipay field and Gladiola—Devonian pool of Lea County.

"We have moved to Lubbock to enter more into the West Texas oil play," Brown said. McAlester has some production in Gaines County and a recently completed well in Stonewall County.

The oil division of McAlester was organized as a subsidiary to the coal company in 1937. Headquarters of the mother concern is in McAlester, Okla.

Three More Tests Staked In Permian Basin Area Of NM

NOBBS, N. M.—Magnolia Petroleum Company, Continental Oil Company and Newman De Beggar have each scheduled one wildcat in the Southeast New Mexico area of the Permian Basin.

Magnolia No. 1 Black is to be a 13,500-foot Devonian test five and one-half miles northeast of Loving and nine miles west of the Denton-multipay field of Northeast Lea County.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 9-15a-35e. Continental Oil Company will drill No. 1 H. W. Bass as a 9,000-foot test in extreme Central-West Eddy County, 34 miles west of Carlsbad. Location is 470 feet from south and 850 feet from east lines of section 5-22a-21a.

De Beggar Test

De Beggar will drill his No. 1 State as an 11,500-foot Devonian test in Northwest Lea County.

Drill site has been made 660 feet from north and west lines of section 28-12a-32e. That puts it three miles east of the Caprock pool and six miles west of the Bagley-Hightower field.

Skelly Oil Company has reported potential for its No. 1-F State, one-quarter mile south offset to Ralph Lowe No. 1 Dickinson, recently completed two-mile north extension to the Denton-Devonian pool of Northeast Lea County.

The new oiler was finished for 1,540 barrels of 45-gravity oil per day flowing through open two-inch tubing. Production is from perforated sections, opposite the Devonian at 12,322-12,438 feet, 12,460-12,550 feet and at 12,590-12,730 feet. Those perforations had been acidized with 13,000 gallons.

Pay was topped at 12,383 feet and total depth is 12,837 feet.

The new well is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 2-15a-37e.

Two More Oilers

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed two oilers in Lea County, one in the Saunders field and one in the Denton-Pennsylvanian pool.

Warren Names IPAA Group To Study Future Prospects For Western Hemisphere Oil

Appointment of a special committee in the Independent Petroleum Association of America to study and advise the organization on the supply and availability of petroleum in the Western Hemisphere, was announced here Saturday by J. Ed Warren of this city. He is president of the IPAA.

Appointment of such a committee was authorized by the directors of the association at a recent meeting of that group in Denver, Colo.

Purpose of the Committee

Purpose for which the committee is being set up include:

- 1—Study future availability of oil in the Western Hemisphere.
- 2—Study sources of supply, including means of making them available, for future use and security, and embracing new areas of development, synthetic processes, conservation and technological advancement.
- 3—Means of building excess productive availability for future industry expansion and emergency defense requirements.
- 4—Recommending legal means of correlating various sources of supply to encourage growth, without injury to individual areas.

Continuation of Policy

"Work of this committee," Warren said, "should assure the continuation of the long established policy of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, that the security of the United States is best served through the maintenance of a strong, competitive domestic petroleum industry."

"The study of other Western Hemisphere sources of petroleum supply, their extent and their availability, is at this time important to our national security," Warren asserted.

Japanese Petty Officer, Convinced War Is Over, Surrenders; 18 Still Hold Out

GUAM—Convinced after almost six years that the Pacific war is over, a Japanese petty officer has come out of his hideout on remote Anatahan Island.

But 18 other Japanese sailors and soldiers, with a single machine gun, remain on the island 61 miles north of Saipan.

Navy headquarters here Saturday said Junji Inoue, 43, an engineer in the Imperial Navy, was taken off Anatahan a week ago. More than 200 letters from wives, mothers and relatives of the remaining Japanese were left there, urging the men to believe war with the U. S. had ended and to return home.

Convicts Sought In Rape, Kidnaping Jailed In Louisiana

DELHI, LA.—Police Chief Hershel Morris said three escaped Alabama convicts arrested here admitted raping a 40-year-old mother at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The chief reported he captured the men at 4 a.m. Saturday in an Alabama taxicab.

"When the taxi driver jumped out and hollered something, I drew my gun on the three men in the cab, and they surrendered," Morris said. "I simply got the drop on them."

The officer said two of the men admitted in oral statements they dragged a Tuscaloosa, Ala., woman nude from her bathtub at her home Friday and raped her.

38 revolver and the other a 25 automatic. They loaded the two guns and dumped an extra supply of shells in their pockets.

As they started to leave by the same route they entered, E. A. Johnson, manager of the news agency, happened by his place of business.

He had left instruction for the lights to be left on inside and when he noticed the lights were out, he investigated.

He saw the two youths run back into the restroom.

Police were notified and Sergeant Allison, along with Captain Jim Wilkerson, Lt. Chester Sprague and Officer Lawrence Bartlett, arrived a few minutes later.

Meanwhile, the youngsters had hidden themselves in a small storeroom off the restroom. Allison kicked down the door and stuck his head through the opening.

The muzzle of the 38 revolver, in the hands of one of the pair, was only a few inches from his nose.

"Lay that gun down, son," said Allison.

The youth hesitated a moment, then dropped the revolver.

Tight-lipped under questioning, they refused to say what they planned to do with the two guns.

They were still being held Saturday.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Cattle were strong and active Thursday at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale. Receipts were up slightly and prices on most classes were about $1 higher than the previous week. Two hundred fifty head were consigned, including several groups of stocker cows and calves from dry country west of Midland.

Fat calves and yearlings sold from $22 to $26 per hundred; medium $23 to $25; commons and rannies $12 to $18. Fat calves went at $25 to $28.50; mediums $22 to $25; canners and cutters $15 to $22. Bulls brought $25 to $29.50.

Stocker steer calves drew $34 to $37.50 with light kinds higher. Heifer calves cleared at the same price. Stocker cows auctioned at from $22 to $26.50.

The mesquite problem facing Midland County farmers and ranchers is being tackled by means of the airborne technique.

The new method uses airplanes to spray mesquite trees with a chemical of the ester family which kills mesquite by starving the plants to death.

C. E. Champion of the Production Marketing Administration's Midland County Committee says the spray effects only broad-leaved plants and is harmless to grass and animals.

The chief object of the new spray, Champion pointed out, is to kill off the grass-choking mesquite so better grass can grow.

"We have found that cattle will move to sections of pasture that have been sprayed," Champion said. "They seem to like the grass in sprayed areas."

The spraying process is new to the state, the PMA administrative officer said. The total cost of the spraying is $3.31 an acre as compared to about $30 for ground control methods, and PMA pays $1.75 of the $3.31. PMA's financial help, however, is limited to one section per ranch.

Slow-Acting Treatment

The chemical, produced by the Du Pont Corporation and known as the 245-T ester, is a slow-acting treatment. Within 30 days after spraying leaves fall off the trees. The chemical attaches itself to the plant and is taken down into the roots. In experiments, Champion said, the spray has been averaging 98 per cent top-kills and about 75 per cent root kills. "What we're after is the roots," Champion said.

Initial spraying in this area began Wednesday on properties of Mrs. James Walton and Mrs. Carliss R. Judkins. Two planes of the Southwest Flying Service of Pecos did the two-section job. Airplanes used in spraying have to be licensed by the State Department of Agriculture after rigid inspections of planes and equipment.

Champion estimates that in 50 years there has been a 75 per cent increase in mesquite in Midland County.

PMA is a federal agency working under the supervision of three county committeemen who are elected each year by farmers and ranchers of the county.

Toots Mansfield, according to a Big Spring report, is laying aside his duties as president of the Rodeo Cowboy Association, an organization he helped to create, to devote more time to his ranching operations near Rankin.

Ben Hogan Stages Mighty Comeback In National Open

BIRMINGHAM, MICH. —(P)— Golf's mighty little "comeback man," Ben Hogan, staged another of his incredible finishes Saturday to win his third National Open championship in as many tries with a 72-hole score of 287.

Five strokes back of South Africa's Bobby Locke going into the final day, the wiry shotmaker from Fort Worth, Texas, climaxed his victory with a three-under-par 67, sinking a birdie 14-foot putt on the final green.

Up to this point, the trap-infested, 6,927-yard monster known as Oakland Hills had sneered back at the greatest stars of the game. Its par 35-35-70 had remained unscathed in face of some 350 rounds.

Hogan finished two strokes better than Clayton Heafner, the bull-shouldered professional from Charlotte, N. C., who later came in with his own par-breaking 69 for a 289. Locke drops to third.

Locke—old muffed face, the golfing golf propector from the diamond mine district around Johannesburg—lost his famous putting touch in the pressure of the last day grind and registered third with 291. He had final rounds of 74-73.

Bracketed at 293 were Lloyd Mangrum, the 1946 champion from Niles, Ill., and Julius Boros, a freshman professional from Southern Pines, N. C., just a year out of amateur ranks.

In effect, the victory was Hogan's third in a row since he triumphed in 1946 at Los Angeles' Riviera Club, setting an all-time record of 278, and in 1950 at Merion, in Philadelphia, where he won by a score identical with Saturday's 287.

He missed the 1949 tournament because of a near-fatal automobile accident from which it was feared he never might recover.

He becomes the third man in history to score as many as three Open conquests and he is the first repeater since Ralph Guldahl in 1937-38. Willie Anderson won four championships back in the early 1900's and the matchless Bobby Jones bracketed as many during the decade of the roaring Twenties.

"Under the circumstances it was the greatest round of golf I ever played," Hogan commented after his big 67 had gone on the scoreboard.

After going one over par when he was trapped on the par-three third, Hogan nailed the first of five birdies on the seventh by laying an iron shot within three feet of the pin.

On the tenth he registered his second bird after stroking what he described as his best shot of the tournament, a two-iron that rifled the ball within five feet of the cup.

"I felt good after that. I knew I had a chance," the tiny champion commented.

On the thirteenth, Hogan sank a 14-footer for a birdie duce. He was slowed on the fourteenth when he pitched over the green but recovered quickly by sinking a six-foot budge for a birdie three on the fifteenth.

Then came the rousing eighteenth, when he laced a drive straight down the middle and pegged his approach straight at the pin, while the crowd yelled wildly.

The 36-year-old champion was just as hot for most of the morning round, carrying a three-under-par score to the fourteenth. There he lost a stroke at par when he missed a four-foot putt and then dropped two more on the nightmarish sixteenth, where he had this sequence of shots—rough, rough, trap, short and two putts—for a big, fat six.

That left him two strokes back of the 54-hole leaders, Locke and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., entering the last round.

Then he started coming back in the afternoon while the words, "The little man is moving up," echoed around the sprawling meadow.

His nerve matched only by the cold steel of his deadly irons, Ben played boldly, firing at the pins rather than the fat part of the greens. He played meticulously, measuring every assignment carefully and dropping half-smoked cigarettes nervously on every green.

Demaret, who had equaled par 70 in the morning, folded completely in the afternoon with a 78 that left him far back at 296. The Open jinx prevailed again for him and Sam Snead, the West Virginian hillbilly, who after leading the first day, faltered to finish with 295. He had rounds of 72-74 Saturday.

Bob Cain Blanks Yankees

NEW YORK —(P)—Lefty Bob Cain, extremely effective against the Yankees, turned in his best performance of the season Saturday as he pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 4-0, five-hit triumph.

Cain, who beat the Yanks four times last year as a member of the Chicago White Sox, was in trouble in the third and ninth innings only.

Eddie Lopat, who went down to his fourth defeat, was the victim of shoddy fielding. The Tigers scored in the first with the aid of an error and wrapped it up with three in the ninth with the help of miscues.

The Tigers loaded the bases in the first on a walk, single and error. Vic Wertz bounded into a double play and Johnny Lapon scored.

Wertz socked his eleventh homer to open the Tiger ninth. One out later, Don Kolloway and Hoot Evers singled. Bob Swift forced Evers at second but when Gerry Coleman three wide to first attempting a double play, Kolloway scored. Cain doubled Swift to third and when Phil Rizzuto booted the relay, Swift scored.

The Yanks put two on with two out in the third but failed to score. They put two on with none down in the ninth but Yogi Berra bounced into a double play and Gil McDougal grounded out to end the threat.

Detroit 4 0 0 003-4 9 0
New York 0 0 0 000-0 5 3

Tribe Falls To Rockets By 9 To 7

First Baseman Ed Kenna of Roswell singled off arm-weary Eddie Jacome in the top of the ninth inning here Saturday night to score two runs and defeat the Midland Indians 9-7.

The Indians had led until the eighth when four runs off Gabby Blumental, starter, tied it at 6-6. Jacome batted in a run in the eighth to put Midland in front again 7-6, but Roswell came back to win.

Scooter Hughes sent Midland out in front early with a home run, scoring Rudy Escobar ahead of him, in the first inning.

Blumental walked 10 men from the third to the eighth inning, but managed to work out of it until the eighth, when the big blow came.

Jacome then took the mound and allowed two hits in the last inning. An error also helped the Rockets to the win.

Cearley homered for Roswell in the second with one on. Frank Grimes was the winning pitcher. Midland and Vernon tangled at 3 p.m. Sunday in Indian Park.

Conrad Captures Amateur

CORSICANA —(P)— Joe Conrad, North Texas State Teachers College player, won the Texas Amateur golf championship Saturday by defeating Capt. Fred G. Moseley of San Antonio one-up in 37 holes.

Both players shot the 37 holes in six over par. At no time was there more than two holes difference between the state finalists.

Conrad had 74-74 for 36 holes over the par 71 Corsicana Country Club course. Moseley had 75-72. In the extra hole, Conrad took 4 and Moseley 5.

Conrad held a one-up lead at the end of the first 18 holes.

An inch rain fell early Saturday, making the course soggy and the greens slow. A stiff wind also handicapped the players on their drives.

Counterpoint Runs To Upset Victory In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK —(P)— Sonny Whitney's Counterpoint, another flying son of the great Count Fleet, came hustling down the stretch Saturday to upset the dope and capture the $100,000 Belmont Stakes.

The strapping chestnut colt took charge of things midway on the final turn of the tough mile and one-half classic, and played follow-the-leader all the way to the wire, where he bounced home four lengths to the good of George D. Widener's favored Battledfield.

Counterpoint—paid $12.30, $5.30, and $3.70 at the mutuels. Battledfield was $3.50 and $2.70. Battle Morn was $4.20 to show.

Battledfield, the 1950 two-year-old champion, and the mutual choice at 9 to 5, never came close to the winner after Jockey Dave Gorman gave the word "Go." But Battledfield clearly was the best of the others, particularly in view of the fact that Jack Amiel's Kentucky Derby winner, Count Turf, finished seventh in the field of nine three-year-old colts.

Battledfield beat Battle Morn, owned by the Cain Hoy Stable of Harry F. Guggenheim for second place by a length and a half. Battle Morn was an easy nine lengths of daylight ahead of Texan Sam E. Wilson, Jr.'s, Royal Mustang.

Cattlemen Deny Beef Strike, Ask Rollback Annulment

TYLER —(P)— Straight-talking Texas cattlemen here Saturday branded as a "lie" rumors they were on strike against federal price rollbacks.

Ray Willoughby, San Angelo, president of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, told his board of directors here Saturday: "We can meet the nation's meat needs but not with the CTR-23 chain around our necks."

Willoughby referred to the 19 per cent price cut which he termed confiscatory. He compared it to an hourly reduction of a man's wages from $1 to 82 cents, with living conditions remaining unchanged.

By resolution, adopted unanimously, the cattlemen urged the beef rollback order of April 30 be rescinded to "prevent the beef industry from being thrown into a completely chaotic condition which would do immeasurable harm to the economy and welfare of our nation."

Unfair, Unworkable The resolution charged a nationwide shortage of beef already has developed from "this unfair and unworkable order."

Cattle raisers from all areas of Texas were urged in the resolution to protest to their congressman. The association has 9,065 members with 437,728 head of cattle in the last three months, mostly from the East Texas area.

Willoughby outlined efforts of the association to block legislation in Washington which would be unfair to the cattle industry. He charged the Banking and Currency Committee had failed to break down the cattlemen's figures showing cost of production to be higher than the price ceiling.

"We hope controls may be relaxed so we may remain in business," he said. Willoughby challenged Price Stabilization Director Michael D. Sallie's cost of production figures as "mythical," and said he thus far has failed to produce them.

Mac Flays—

(Continued From Page One) shook hands with all those present before taking off for Fort Worth. MacArthur told his audience he had found in Texas "a vast reservoir of spiritual and material strength which fills me with a sense of confidence in the future of our nation."

He said with such resources none can outstrip the United States in peaceful progress "nor safely challenge us to the tragedy of war."

Then he added: "These facts should be thoroughly understood by every American citizen to offset efforts which are being made to spread fear and timidity in the American mind, to portray our nation as weak and our potential enemies as strong."

There could be no greater disservice to our beloved country than is reflected in such a fantastic effort to lower our own self-assurance and enhance that of those unfriendly to us."

But then he warned that despite America's material and spiritual reserves, the people must "guard carefully the fundamental basis which produced them."

He went on to say: "For the drift away from our competitive system of free enterprise is threatening the initiative and incentive of our people and throttling the energies essential to maintain the level of our material progress."

The drift away from the truth is leaving the people confused and bewildered. The drift away from those high principles and moral standards from which we evolved the American tradition is creating doubt and uncertainty and lowering the moral tones of the American way of life.

The drift downward of the purchasing power of our currency, which has progressively fallen as it has become increasingly influenced by the political fortunes of the moment, continues unabated.

The drift upward in the cost of bureaucracy and the expenditure of public funds in complete disregard of the tax burden has accelerated so alarmingly that the people are rapidly becoming the servants of the state.

The drift toward socialism through indirect internal pressures faces us with the inevitable collapse of individual incentive and full personal energy."

This means, he said, that the safeguards must lie in the "ultimate power" of the people to rule. Old Soldiers Tribute In conclusion, MacArthur said his Texas trip was "not to receive tribute, but to pay an old soldier's tribute to a great segment of the American people."

In his speech in Austin last Wednesday, MacArthur hit at both the foreign and domestic policies of the Administration. But this time he concentrated his attack solely on the domestic side to broaden the range of his dispute with President Truman.

The President fired MacArthur because of their sharp differences over the best way to fight the war in Korea. But MacArthur has made it clear that in the future he will attack his opponents, not only on the foreign issues, but on the home front also.

During the last four days, the general has charged the Administration with appeasement in Korea, moral weakness in false propaganda, and an effort to mislead the people about the basic issues in the dispute over Korean war policy.

FIRE DESTROYS CATHOLIC HOME.—Thirty persons, mostly aged women, died when fire swept through a Roman Catholic home in Montreal, Canada. Here, firemen fight the fire which started from an undetermined cause. Approximately 400 inmates, including many orphaned children, were in the home when the blaze started.

MacARTHUR, THE HERO—Texans Flock To See Him, But Few Remain To Listen

DALLAS —(P)— It was MacArthur the hero and not MacArthur the foreign policy disputant who aroused the emotion of Texans last week.

They came by the hundreds of thousands to cheer his open courtesies through bunting-lined parade routes. There in the flesh was the historic figure whose picture they had seen so often it was engraved in their memory.

He looked just like his picture. They told each other so. But they came only by the tens of thousands, and cheered little beyond the margin of politeness, to hear the man sound his charges of appeasement and false fears.

"What a command of the language," they said as the general spoke. And they wished they could understand.

They perspired and grew restless on the hard stadium seats as the man sounded his call.

"x x x Every American must firmly share the responsibility attendant upon citizenship in a republic. All must rally to the demand that administration of the civil power be on a level of morality which will command the public confidence and faith; that truth replace false and slanted propaganda in public information; that cynicism give way to confidence that our course of right will prevail; that fear and timidity be repudiated as having no place in shaping our destiny; and that national policy be determined with primary regard to the ultimate well being of our own people."

All Eyes, Not Ears But his ears were less alert to his message than were their eyes to the historic figure before them.

They were seeing MacArthur. Probably 1,500,000 Texans saw for the first time this man who, back on home soil after 14 years, is carrying to the people his appeal from the military man's court of last resort, the President.

At Dallas, it was a hero's welcome as two aides, back to back with the general between them, fought back a human tide and Mrs. MacArthur and the son, entirely separated, strained to reach the hotel.

The Dallas scene of uniformed men created an atmosphere of restraint in the presence of greatness. At Houston, San Antonio and Austin, where crowds were controlled, the people looked and were content to clap and cheer. They saw the man they had come to see, they clapped, they wondered if the general really was looking right at them when he waved.

"Well, we've seen him," they said, and put their children in their cars and went home.

Weather—

(Continued From Page One) las, and lightning chipped bricks from a large building. At Fort Worth, a hard, straight wind blew off the roof and one end of the Texas Christian University Field House. University officials estimated the loss to the frame building at $12,000.

The howling winds at Abilene frightened scores of persons into their storm cellars. One cellar, only six by ten feet in size, had 40 occupants, with others crying to get inside.

Well Anyway, It Was Predicted

ST. LOUIS —(P)— Saturday was the day for the annual Weather Bureau picnic.

You guessed it — it rained. Weatherman Harry F. Wahlgren had some consolation — he predicted the rain, but the picnic date was set long before.

Maritime Strike Ties Up Major U. S. Ports

NEW YORK —(P)— A maritime tie-up involving all major United States ports and 650 vessels began Saturday with more than 50,000 crewmen refusing to sail until contract demands for higher pay and other benefits are met.

Ships with Korean and other vital defense cargoes were exempted. The work stoppage came during a weekend lull, when most ships were not scheduled to sail. Its full effect was expected to be felt Monday, unless new contracts are signed meanwhile.

The walkout took effect on the east, west and gulf coasts at midnight, when old contracts expired without agreement on new pacts.

To avoid the tie-up, 111 ships sailed from American ports Friday.

President Truman rejected a management appeal to intervene with a "cooling off" injunction under the Taft-Hartley Law after being assured by the CIO National Maritime Union that defense cargoes would be carried.

The east and gulf coast unions involved are the NMU, with 50,000 members, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the American Radio Association, composed of ship radio operators.

Involved in the west coast walk-out are the CIO American Radio Association and the Pacific Maritime Association, the management group.

Summer Fun

Activities for Midland children didn't end with the ringing of the last school bell.

While adult organizations take their customary Summer breathers, the younger set is participating in a number of recreational programs sponsored by the city's schools, churches and libraries.

High on the list of popular pastimes are the church-sponsored Vacation Bible Schools. Churches which recently have opened such schools include the First Christian, Asbury Methodist, First Baptist, Calvary Baptist, Bellview Baptist, Church of the Nazarene, Trinity Episcopal and South Side Church of Christ. Those planning later schools are the Terminal Baptist, West Side Baptist, First Methodist, St. Mark's Methodist, Grace Lutheran and First Presbyterian.

The school-sponsored program now in progress features swimming, arts and crafts, band and recreational games. General director is Wesley N. Martin, principal of Cowden Junior High School. Division directors are George Gates, band; Keith Bobo, Tom Tibbetts and Mrs. Eugenia Wilson, swimming; Tibbetts, arts and crafts; Mrs. Wilson, Johnny Williams, Tibbetts and Bobo, recreational games.

Mrs. Faye Massey and Clyde Parmelly, high school home economics teachers, are in charge of the nursery school which is being held in North Elementary. This homemaking project offers school credits to the student assistants who take part.

"The Magic of Oil" is the theme of the vacation reading program sponsored by the Midland County Library. The contest is being conducted in the Children's Room of the Main library and in the Terminal and Dunbar branches.

THIS IS THE LIFE—At least, that seems to be the general opinion, as the youngsters practice their flutter kicking at the side of the pool. Swimmers, left to right, are Sue Mast, Ann Mast, John McKinley, David Hellinghausen, Tommy Marinis, Andrea Dewey and Judy Edman. They are participants in the Summer recreation program directed by Wesley N. Martin, junior high school principal.

ALL AGES—Vacation Bible School classes are not limited to pre-school and primary students. Here, the members of the First Christian Junior Department take time out to pose for a picture. Supervisors are, left to right, Mrs. George Ratliff, Mrs. W. G. Attaway and Mrs. S. P. Hall, general director.

Ancient Indian Camping Ground Provides Scout Camp Location

Girl Scouts are camping on the Fern Canyon, are relics of this site of the old Mesquiteros Apache peaceful, farming tribe. Indians home camping grounds. All The cost of this camp, purchased around the Mitre Peak Scout Camp, in 1946 by the Permian Basin Area, located 13 miles north of Alpine in is estimated at $30,000. The girls swim in a natural pool which is fed by springs. Since there is no man-made equipment, they use the rock ledges for diving into the 16-foot-deep pool. Seven natural cave pools are found in the 74 acres belonging to the camp.

It is said that early settlers found mounds where Indians were buried in a sitting position facing Mitre Peak, the huge cliff from which the camp takes its name. The rugged terrain of the area provides many spots for hiking.

Twenty-six Midlanders attended the camp last week. Having five units the camp can accommodate 65 girls. It will be open until August 5.

FORT WORTH LADY LOSES 20 POUNDS

"I like Barantra very much. It has done wonders for me," writes Mrs. V. F. Fann House, 4, Box 156, Fort Worth, Texas. "I had 150 pounds to lose. Barantra, I weighed 115. I had high blood pressure. I have now taken four bottles and lost 15 pounds. I do not have high blood pressure, sleep and feel fine. It is a wonderful medicine."

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barantra. Pour this into a pint bottle and add 18 ounces of natural grapefruit juice. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help retain slender, more graceful curves; if you lose 10 pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles. Just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 12 POUNDS

Bridal Gown Described

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace over tulle and satin. The lace was fashioned into a fitted bodice with a high neckline and long, fitted sleeves and descended into a tunic styled on a diagonal line. Clouds of tulle formed a skirt and cathedral length train, which was over heavy white satin.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of lace over satin. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

Other Attendants Listed

Mrs. W. W. Springer of Snyder and Royce Rae McKee of Midland, cousins of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore dresses fashioned like that of the matron of honor with pink tulle veils and wristlets of pink camellias and stephanotis.

John A. Burleson of Midland, twin brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Ushers were Lee Roy Woodward of Midland, Tom Nelson of Lovington, N. M., William C. Albright of Roswell, N. M., and Albert Feldman of San Antonio.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlor. The couple was assisted in receiving its guests by the parents of the bride and bridegroom and the bridal attendants.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. Felton Henry, Mrs. Stanley Fox, Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mrs. John Burleson, Mrs. Lee Roy Woodward, Dell Steele and Jo Winders.

Pink and white were the colors carried out in the decorations. The wedding cake was topped with pink carnations and surrounded with a ring of the same flower.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Roswell. For traveling, Mrs. Burleson chose a pink silk linen dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

She was graduated from Texas Technological College in Lubbock with a B.S. degree in home economics. For the last two years she has taught in the Midland public schools. She is a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and the American Association of University Women.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Justice Department lets Arabian-American oil scandal gather dust; Statute of limitations will soon expire; Ex-Governor Thompson capitalizes on leaving OPS.

WASHINGTON — If the Senate ever gets around to a real investigation of the Justice Department—which probably never will happen—it will find tucked in a pigeonhole a sensational report on Arabian oil which for three long years has been gathering dust.

The Senate Investigating Committee, of which Harry Truman himself once was chairman, sent this report to the Justice Department. It outlines a scandalous cheating of the U. S. Government, and a possible criminal case against the oil companies.

However, the Justice Department has done nothing. Furthermore the statute of limitations is rapidly ticking away, and it soon will be too late to act.

The Justice Department's stalling in the Arabian oil case is similar to its stalling regarding the radar grab by the Radio Corporation of America and the stalling regarding the wiretapping of Lt. Joe Shimon of the Washington police, who was paid by Senator Owen Brewster of Maine to tap the phone of West Coast aviation executive Howard Hughes. In the case of Shimon, the Justice Department did nothing until about 10 days before the statute of limitations expired. Then, upon the prodding of newspapers, a grand jury was called—too late to get any conclusive evidence.

Biggest Companies Involved
In the Arabian-American Oil Company scandal, some of the biggest oil companies in the country are involved—originally Texas and Standard of California, with Standard of New Jersey and Sunoco buying 40 per cent interest in Aramco later.

In 1948 the senate investigating committee found that Arabian-American Oil had overcharged the Navy millions of dollars by charging it $1.05 a barrel for oil, after originally promising President Roosevelt to sell oil for 40 cents a barrel. It was on the basis of this cheap oil pledge that FDR gave $99,000,000 of lend lease to Saudi Arabia in 1941.

"To induce the grant of aid to the Saudi Arabian government," says the senate report which has been gathering dust with the Justice Department, "the Arabian-American Oil Company offered to sell to the United States under a proposal to the President dated April 16, 1941, at prices based on fuel oil at 40 cents per barrel.

"When the United States needed oil because of its war demands, notwithstanding these prior proposals, the companies offered the Navy fuel oil at $1.05 a barrel on a take-or-leave-it basis. The Navy was forced to buy the oil on these terms.

"The oil companies were under moral, if not a legal obligation to disclose to the naval procurement officers their previous proposals for the sale of oil submitted to the President," continues the Senate report.

"The oil companies exploited the government by exacting high prices for their products despite the assistance granted to Saudi Arabia at the companies' behest to protect and preserve the companies' concessions."

The Senate committee goes on to tell how the oil companies claimed they had doubled their royalties to the Arabian government, and observes: "The U. S. government clearly was defrauded because the royalty payments were not doubled."

It has been almost three years since the Senate committee made this categorical charge of "fraud." Nevertheless, the Justice Department has made no move, and the statute of limitations will expire in a few more days.

"All-Out" War
Industry spokesmen were discussing government controls at a closed-door meeting with officials of the National Production Authority.

Several of the business leaders argued against "all-out" allocations of materials because, they said, we are not involved in an "all-out" war. As the question was debated back and forth, R. S. Gilliam, a pen manufacturer of Petersburg, Va., remained silent. Pressed for his views, he finally remarked:

"Gentlemen, it may be that we are not already in an all-out war, but nobody can make me believe it. 'You see,' he added, 'my son has just been killed in Korea.'"

Georgia's ex-Gov. M. E. Thompson is now making a lot of money out of his dramatic exit from the Office of Price Stabilization when he claimed he was given nothing to do and didn't believe in drawing his pay for pure idleness.

Since then Thompson has spent most of his time lecturing and writing about how he quit the government, and is even publishing a monthly newspaper in Metter, Ga.—the "Georgia Democrat"—is devoted largely to attacking the price control office.

However, the ex-governor doesn't tell his readers and his lecture audiences the full story.

He has never mentioned, for instance, that he signed a claim in order to draw the OPS salary which he said he didn't earn. He was on the OPS payroll for 12 weeks, during which time he stated publicly that he didn't do a lick of work.

What he didn't tell the public, however, is that he put in his voucher claiming his full pay of $53.48 per day, plus expenses, totaling $2,887.92 for only 12 weeks work.

In order to collect this pay, Thompson signed the following statement: "I certify that the above account is just and true in all respects. My statement of services performed, correctly sets forth my services on official business."

Yet, when Thompson resigned in a huff, he announced that he had been given "no assignments to do anything."

Thompson also hasn't told his lecture audiences how he used to annoy Price Boss Mike DiSalle by telephoning him at 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning.

Divide Living Room With Sofa; Set Off Area For Recreation

If your home needs an additional recreation area, try dividing the living room with a sofa. Placed in a strategic spot, a sofa can, in a definite yet informal way, set off a corner of the room for playing games, reading or recording, while other activities go on in other parts of the room.

In many homes, the best plan may be to leave the present sofa where it now is located and to buy another sofa or sectional to divide the room and provide needed seating. Although the size and features of a living room affect the possibilities of dividing it, oftentimes just the right piece or pieces of furniture can overcome the decorating problem. The complete sofa and sectional lines of large manufacturers offer a wide choice as to size, scale and styling.

Color Gives 'Eye Appeal' To House

Careful planning, good architecture and superior construction—what more could be asked of a house? Just one thing—eye appeal, in which color is the dominant factor.

Many builders now make color planning an integral part of their operations, particularly in large developments where a number of houses are of similar architectural design.

Color-consciousness has created a new vocation—that of the color stylist and consultant. A leader in this new field is Beatrice West who color-styled 60,000 homes in 20 states for more than 160 builders in the last three years. Miss West, who color-styled fabulous Levittown on Long Island, says, "color, and particularly the roof colors, provides the most diversified and economical way to individualize a single house, or a group of houses, or to integrate an entire community of houses."

Flower Homes, at Wantagh, Long Island, clearly demonstrate the value of color styling. The builder, Adolphus Flowers, is convinced that the services of a competent color consultant are as essential as those of a reputable architectural concern and the use of good materials.

"I think color is one of the most exciting and satisfying features of Flower Homes," he said of the work done by another color stylist, Barbara Bernie. "And when I say this, I am merely echoing the opinions of the people who go through our homes."

Miss Bernie points out that her objective is to have the eye flow smoothly from the main point of interest—perhaps the doorway or a picture window—on and around selected for Flower Homes—gray, brown and slate. Attractive features of Flower Homes include abundant storage space in the L-shaped kitchen-dinette. Base and wall cabinets of hardwood veneer have an attractive, durable painted finish—easily maintained by periodic waxing, plus an occasional wiping with a dust cloth. Flush doors of hardwood veneer also help to make house cleaning simple. Their painted surfaces, blending perfectly with the color schemes of the various rooms and their furnishings.

Roofs Should Be Replaced Before Leaks Develop

The time to put on a new roof is before the first leak develops in an old roof.

Citing the old adage that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, roofers point out that the cost of repairing cracked walls and ceilings and of repainting and re-papering is often greater than the cost of applying a new roof. Periodic inspection by a competent contractor of a roof which has given years of trouble-free service is the best and most economical way to prevent damage.

Spring or early Summer is a good time to have the roof inspected and, if necessary, to have new roofing applied.

When leaks occur in a localized area—as a result of damage from a fallen tree limb, for example—it may be possible to repair the roof, provided the roofing material isn't old and weatherworn. Generally, however, roofing tends to wear out evenly, and the first leak is an indication that more soon will develop. Consequently, patching an old roof seldom is recommended.

Re-Roofing Is Solution
 As pointed out by H. E. Snook of the National Bureau of Standards, "there comes a time in the life of a roof on every permanent structure when it is no longer practicable or economical to effect repairs. When that time comes, re-roofing is the only solution."

In re-roofing it is advisable to select a material which can be applied over the present roof, such as fire-resistant asphalt shingles which now fill about 90 per cent of the nation's roofing requirements. This eliminates the inconvenience and mess—as well as the expense—of removing the old roof before applying the new asphalt roof.

Air Force Veteran To Head ROTC Unit

DENTON — Lt. Col. Daniel B. Orr has been assigned to North Texas State College as commanding officer and professor of air science and tactics of the new NTSC Air Force ROTC unit.

Official activation date for the North Texas State College AF-ROTC detachment is July 1 with instruction to begin with the opening of the Fall semester.

The new commanding officer is a graduate of Texas A&M College and was born and reared at Graham, Texas. A veteran of 10 years in the Air Force, Col. Orr served in the Middle East, North Africa and Italy during World War II.

According to Colonel Orr, the detachment at the college will have a military staff of six officers and six airmen, instructors and administrators of the AFROTC detachment.

College Schedules Summer Workshop

DENTON — North Texas State College will conduct its ninth annual Co-operative Child Development and Health Workshop this Summer.

Six hours credit may be secured in the workshop course in either education or health and physical education.

Purpose of the workshop, according to Emmett F. Cambren, NTSC health co-ordinator, are to develop leadership, study health problems as they exist, initiate programs for existing conditions, and to co-ordinate school, home and community health education.

Water is such an effective absorber of radio waves that radar cannot be used to detect submerged submarines. Radar waves, which are similar to radio waves, have to reach the object and be reflected from it.

-Housing Briefs-

Washington, D. C., builders are seeking ways to soundproof home interiors. However, home-owners can do much to reduce noises by use of furniture, draperies and rugs. Generally speaking, the softer the furnishings, the quieter the room.

A strong trend toward use of larger window areas, well insulated, is indicated by a survey conducted by the National Association of Home Builders.

The trend started in California, but has spread to other parts of the country.

Home construction in the first three months in Miami, Fla., is down 44 per cent as compared with the same period of last year. National Association of Home Builders said the drastic drop was caused by government building restrictions.

An Indianapolis, Ind., building firm is erecting that area's first suburban development of new homes heated by radiant glass.

The low cost homes are heated by glass panels installed under a window in each room. Cost was said to run between two and three cents an hour during cold months.

The backlog of demand for new home building is large enough to warrant home building at a high level during the next few years, reports the National Association of Home Builders. Statistics show that at least one million families need new housing each year.

The ranch house and contemporary styles of architecture—largely developed in the West and Southwest—are spreading across the nation, according to the National Association of Home Builders.

Three centers, Southeast Asia; Northwestern and Central Europe; and Northeastern United States contain 75 to 80 per cent of the world's population.

Select House Plans To Meet Family's Needs

Any house plan should be selected to fit a family's specific requirements. It is explained by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

While most homes are bought today from models in builders' developments and virtues and defects of the floor plan can be observed in reality, a great many families buy a stock house plan and then depend on someone, not an architect, for advice on changes to fit the family's needs.

It must be remembered that if changes are necessary, they should be made by an architect or an experienced draftsman before the building contract is let. Amateur sketches by anyone are never adequate for actual construction and may cause unnecessary and costly mistakes, the Bureau warns.

Architects Name Committee Head

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)—William W. Caudill, research architect for the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, has been appointed chairman of the American Institute of Architects committee on school buildings. The appointments were made by the president and the board of directors of the Institute. The committee, whose duties are

"to study the principles of planning up-to-date school buildings," first was formulated four years ago. Caudill succeeds Ernest J. Kump of San Francisco, and Lawrence B. Perkins of Chicago, two of the nation's most prominent school architects, as chairman of the key A. I. A. committee.

Monroe To Preside At School Meeting

COLLEGE STATION — The 26th annual Conference of the County Superintendents and Supervisors Association, the 15th annual Texas School Administration Conference and the first annual conference of the Texas Association for Instructional Supervisors, will be held at Texas A&M College, June 25-27.

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland public schools, is president of the Texas School Administration Conference; O. H. (Bob) Stowe, Fort Worth, is president of the County Superintendents and County Supervisors Association and Irene Hardin, Travis county schools, Austin, heads the Texas Association for Instructional Supervisors Officers.

Four hundred and fifty are expected to attend one or more of the conferences.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Coastal States Lose Top Man In Battle To Keep Tidelands

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The coastal states, in their fight for control of oil-rich submerged lands, lose possibly their No. 1 advocate in Congress with the resignation from the House of Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls.

Just who will take over when he leaves for Dallas July 31 to start work as the chief lawyer for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company hasn't been decided.

It probably will be Rep. Francis E. Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat.

Although Walter is now chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee which handles Tidelands legislation, and introduced the pending bill to give the states quit claim title to the property, it has been Gossett who really has carried the burden of the fight.

Texas Attorney General Price Daniel was among those who wired Gossett when reports circulated that he had the telephone company job under consideration. Daniel pleaded that Gossett reject the proposition because of its value to Texas, Louisiana and California in their fight for ownership of the so-called Tidelands.

In this regard, it is known that Gossett announced his acceptance of the new position only after much deliberation and after virtually all of his colleagues had advised him to make the move.

Doubles Salary
The determining factor, he said, was the fact that he has a wife and five small children.

In a few years he expects to have three of his children in college at the same time.

As a congressman he gets just half the amount he will receive after August 1.

Dallas Congressman Frank Wilson is on the Judiciary committee and will step up one notch on the seniority ladder when Gossett leaves.

Wilson is not on the subcommittee handling Tidelands bills, however, and there is a question whether he will be put on that particular group.

The reason: The chairman of the full Judiciary committee is Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.), a staunch advocate of federal control of the submerged oil lands, and he may want to use his appointive power to pick a man who feels as he does.

Wilson, of course, thinks like Gossett on the Tidelands issue... and, on most all issues, so far as that goes.

Major Legislation?
They both usually go along with the Administration on national defense measures, but buck the traces on many domestic issues, including civil rights.

Whether Texas will be able to retain its two positions on the Judiciary committee—it is the only state with two Democratic representatives on the group—remains to be seen.

It is certain that many congressmen from other states will try to get the seat to be opened by Gossett's departure.

Two Texans who undoubtedly would like to get the assignment are Tom Pickett of Palestine, now on Public Works, and Walter Rogers of Pampa, on the Veterans Affairs Committee.

Pickett, under seniority procedure, would have the better chance.

Both men are of the same political school as Gossett and Wilson. Here's an excerpt from the latest weekly newsletter of Panhandle Congressman Rogers:

"The statement that this Congress has been slow in passing major legislation is certainly true if the major legislation referred to is the FEPC, the civil rights, the socialized medicine, and other socialistic legislation."

Housing Shortage Is Forecast By Noted Home Builder

WASHINGTON — The nation is headed back to a housing shortage, the Congress was warned recently by E. M. Spiegel of New Jersey, vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, while testifying before the House Banking and Currency Committee.

He declared that mortgage credit restrictions imposed by the government's Regulation X now have forced a sharp decline in building with growing unemployment in the building trades.

"We are heading right back into a serious housing shortage, perhaps even more acute than the post-war shortage which required five years to overcome," the builder stated.

Starts Drop Sharply
Although new houses were started in substantial numbers during the first six months following the imposition of Regulation X by the Federal Reserve Board, the rate of new construction now is dropping sharply, Spiegel said. He pointed out that only 88,000 new homes and apartments were started in April of this year, in contrast to 133,000 in April, 1950.

The committee was urged to relax credit controls now imposed on families of moderate means who wish to purchase their own homes.

Building Curbs Spur Remodeling In Business Area

While building restrictions are putting a curb on new commercial construction, building trade sources predict that a step-up in modernization and repairs will enable the nation's Main Streets to keep up a good front during the present emergency period.

The job of making an old building look and serve like new involves certain problems, but modern materials and techniques are available to help solve them effectively, builders report.

Keeping down material and labor costs is always desirable, they say, but it now is especially important in order to keep expenses within the limit of building controls.

Another concern in the remodeling of any place of business is to minimize the extent to which the work will interfere with business activity. Undue inconvenience to customers can prove to be costly.

Many businessmen are finding the answer to such remodeling problems by using insulating board interior finishes for walls and ceilings.

Moderately Priced
These popular products, which include insulating building board, tile-board and planks, are moderately priced and they are additionally economical because of their speedy application. Often they are put on right over old walls and ceilings.

Insulating board interior finishes also save time and money by building and decorating in one operation. They are attractively factory-decorated in a range of colors, and they derive further visual interest from surface textures, beveled edges and distinctive patterns formed from various sizes and shapes available.

As the name indicates, the material has thermal insulation properties which check the entry of outside heat in Summer and the loss of inside heat in Winter. It also helps quiet sound. An interior finish of insulating board thus not only gives a store a fresh, modern appearance that customers find appealing, but it also contributes to their shopping comfort.

Attracting Tourists Is Major Undertaking

McAllen — (AP) — Getting tourists into the lower Rio Grande Valley is becoming a major business here. Two more tourist promotion offices have opened here. One is a branch of the American Automobile Association. The other is headquarters for the Magic Valley Association. This brings to eight the number of tourist-promoting organizations with offices here. The McAllen Chamber of Commerce owns the biggest tourist entertainment hall, and the biggest shuffleboard court in Texas.

'Phone Firm Seeks Ordinance Relief

McCAMEY—Three representatives of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company met recently with the McCamey City Council seeking to have a new ordinance passed that would exempt the company from the gross receipts tax recently passed by the city. Under an arrangement offered by the telephone representatives, the company still would pay the gross receipts tax but on a contract basis. Jim Langdon, McCamey attorney, advised the council not to act on the proposal until changes had been made to conform to the interests of the city.

Automatic Dialing Opens In Sheffield

McCAMEY — Circuits of an automatic dial telephone system will be put in operation in Sheffield Sunday midnight to bring Sheffield its first community-wide service. It was announced by co-owner Walter Putnam. Monday morning 52 subscribers will have the new dial telephones. Heretofore, there has been only one telephone in the community, located at the Texaco Ranch Supply owned by H. C. Collett. All toll circuits of the system are direct to Southwestern Bell's telephone exchange in McCamey. Additional service on rural ranch lines is expected to be installed soon. Directories for the telephone company were printed and distributed to subscribers last week. Putnam said that equipment at his Sheffield Telephone Company will require only periodic inspection. Mrs. Putnam will handle the management of the firm. Mr. and Mrs. Putnam are long-time residents of West Texas. Putnam also is employed in the communications division of a major company in McCamey, a position he has held for 23 years. Wheat fields cover about one-fourth of Kansas and that state grows about one-fourth of the annual wheat harvest of the United States.

+ McCamey News +

McCAMEY—Pat Pauley, life-guard at the Upton County swimming pool, announced recently that free swimming lessons will be given ladies of the community each Monday and Friday mornings. A covered dish luncheon will be held at noon Sunday at the First Christian Church to honor all fathers. Everyone is invited to attend worship and bring a covered dish. Mrs. William Wolf of McCamey and Mrs. J. L. Martin and Mrs. Lela Wilson of Crane plan to leave Sunday for El Paso where they will attend a fine arts school from Monday until June 30.

A birthday party program will mark the closing of the Daily Vacation School of the First Methodist and First Presbyterian Churches at the Park Building Friday at 8 p.m. The program will be in observance of the 50th anniversary of the vacation church school movement. Samples of work accomplished in the two-week school will be on display. A choral speech group will present Psalm 24. Leaders of the current school and previous schools will be recognized. Attendance awards will be given to pupils who have attained a perfect attendance record.
