Panel Approves Tideland Bill

States Win Round In Title Fight

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Judiciary Committee Wednesday approved by an 18 to 6 vote a bill giving the states clear title to the oil-rich lands beneath the marginal seas.

The measure gives the states control of the submerged lands out for a distance of three miles from their coast lines—10 1/2 miles in the case of Texas, because of conditions under which she joined the union.

Living Cost Index Climbs To New High

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government's cost of living index Wednesday climbed to a new record high. The rise means 1,200,000 railroad workers are entitled under their contract to a one-cent hourly wage increase July 1.

The index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics rose to 185.4 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This level was reached on both the bureau's new and old type indexes.

The figure is for May 15.

A month earlier, on April 15, the index stood at 184.5 on the old basis and 184.6 on the new.

TESTIFIES—Secretary of State Dean Acheson testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in behalf of the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program said the Soviet Union wants to see the U. S. try to "go it alone."

GOP Leader Asks For Ike As Nominee

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y.—(AP)—New York State's Republican chairman Wednesday called for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the GOP nominee for President.

Chairman William L. Pfeiffer said "I think we can be sure" that General Eisenhower's "special talents are available to the United States for that assignment of 1952—the presidency."

Foe Readies New Try To Crack Line

TOKYO —(AP)— Reds began pulling out of one buildup area in Korea Wednesday but poured fresh men and supplies into another center for a new try at cracking Allied lines. United Nations officers were not worried.

"They can hit us anywhere, at any time, in any strength," a UN briefing officer said.

Other officers predicted Chinese Reds would strike in the second week of July—probably along the Uijongbu-Seoul invasion corridor.

LONG, LONG TRAIL A-WINDING—Long lines of Yank infantrymen follow a zig-zag trail as they cross the rice paddies—taking care to stay on high mounds between slushy areas—and make their way to hillside positions somewhere in Korea. Men visible in the picture make up about two platoons of a rifle company.

Strong Communist screening forces Wednesday blocked Allied patrols probing toward four Communist buildup areas.

Chinese dug in even on the flat lands south of P'yongyang to protect their major buildup, north of the former Iron Triangle. This is the area into which Chinese commanders were reported pouring new men and materials.

Supplies Removed

East of the Iron Triangle Reds began hauling supplies out of a secondary buildup area near Kumsong. A four-mile Allied advance Tuesday endangered the Reds' Kumsong area.

Machine guns, mortars and artillery opened up on Allies trying to approach the other two buildup points, near Inje in the east and Yonchon in the west.

Chief front line topic continued to be the possibility of a cease-fire agreement. But the talk didn't affect action.

Chinese were mounting an unusually strong screening force in front of their main buildup north of the triangle. The fact they were digging in on flat land—for the first time in the Korean war—indicated their determination to keep the Allies from disturbing their buildup for an attack.

Chapman Ordered To Issue Pipe Line Rights Of Way

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Federal Judge Walter Bastian Wednesday ordered Secretary of the Interior Chapman to issue rights of way for a natural gas pipe line in Arizona.

The order requires Chapman to issue the permit needed by the El Paso Natural Gas Company of Texas to complete its 450-mile, $40,000,000 pipe line.

Chapman had refused to issue the permit because El Paso would not agree to expand its facilities, if necessary, to carry other companies' gas.

Bastian ruled that El Paso need not sign the proposed agreement.

He said El Paso had built its pipe line under a previous agreement with Chapman, so the secretary could not insist on another.

The judge did not decide what government agency has power to regulate pipe lines crossing federal lands. He said that was not necessary in deciding this case.

Mrs. Mary Williams Dies In East Texas

Mrs. Mary Williams, 712 West Nobles Street, died Tuesday in Sulphur Springs at the home of a daughter.

Funeral services and interment were to be held Wednesday in Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Williams, a widow, had been making her home here for the last four years with two daughters, Alma and Martha.

Tidelands Efforts Of Solons Praised

AUSTIN —(AP)—State Land Commissioner Bascom Gill Wednesday praised efforts of House members in Congress who worked for committee approval of a bill to give Texas title to its Tidelands.

He said the 18-6 approval of the House Judiciary Committee is "one hurdle" out of the way.

He noted however, that Texas had passed that hurdle before in a previous battle to win back its Tidelands.

"The big question is what will happen in the Senate," he said.

Among House workers praised for pushing the legislation were Texas Congressmen Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and J. Frank Wilson of Dallas.

Study Of Playground Facilities' Expansion Is Asked By Council

Midland's tiny diamond stars, who have been playing a fast game of baseball in the area east of Memorial Stadium, probably will have to transfer their activities elsewhere.

They're kicking up too much dust. And, as a result, the City Council Tuesday night recommended the city park commission study the possibility of expanding the playground facilities at Wadley, north of the city.

A delegation of residents in the neighborhood of the stadium complained Tuesday night to the council and suggested that baseball be found for them to play elsewhere.

"They've tried to make a baseball diamond out there," said John Rahifs, 800 West Cuthbert Street, one of the spokesmen for the group, "and all they've done is create a dust storm."

Assured Of Relief

"It's causing considerable damage to our property.

"Aside from that, the place is getting littered up with beer cans and other trash and we have to listen to all kinds of obscene language."

The youngsters playing baseball on the diamonds near the stadium are members of leagues sponsored by business men and civic clubs.

"We don't think it's right," said Rahifs, "for the baseball diamond to be there right in the middle of a residential area, especially when there is no grass there."

Mayor Perry Pickett assured the delegation some relief would be provided and the Park Commission was handed the recommendation to study possibilities at Wadley.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—With the aim of getting more beef on American tables, the government Wednesday raised July cattle slaughter quotas 10 per cent above those for June.

ABADAN, IRAN—(AP)—The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company Wednesday started calling its British staff from the oil fields in readiness to fly them out of Iran.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson said Wednesday there is "no thought" of United States intervention in the Iranian oil crisis.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Hugh Butler (R-Neb) declared Wednesday the two additional beef price rollbacks planned by the government would go beyond its authority under present law.

Kirk, Gromyko Talk Over Peace Feeler

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The West learned Wednesday some of the things Moscow had in mind in proposing the Korean cease-fire—and the first reaction was not hopeful.

In Moscow U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk talked for 20 minutes with Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union. Kirk himself made no comment before reporting to Washington, but the Moscow correspondent passed some pessimistic talk from other diplomats. These diplomats were not named in a Moscow dispatch from AP correspondent Eddy Gilmore. The tenor of their remarks was that Kirk's report to Washington would not get a whole-hearted reception.

One question left hanging by Jacob A. Malik's cease-fire proposal was what "belligerents" he had in mind. He suggested the belligerents get together for cease-fire talks and arrange a mutual withdrawal of troops from the 38th parallel.

That left the question whether Moscow considered the Communist Chinese would have a hand in the discussions.

Secretary of State Acheson said Wednesday withdrawal of the Chinese beyond the Yalu River, north of the 38th parallel.

City Manager W. H. Oswald said that the cost of the structure, which will be the height of a seven-story building, would be borne equally by the city and the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The CAA will operate the tower and will bring in a trained crew of eight persons for this purpose.

Other action by the council Tuesday night included:

Ordering a public hearing for 3 p.m., July 12, on the 122-block Group "E" paving project.

Authorizing the purchase of a half-section of land at a cost of $200 an acre for the new sewage disposal plant.

Awarding to the firm of Roger Smith a contract for construction of 7,300 feet of 14-inch water main from Cole Park to Rosedale, replacing the present 10-inch line.

The body of Navy Lt. Ben W. Sevier, 25, who died in the crash of his patrol bomber June 15 at Kodiak, Alaska, will arrive in Midland by train Friday night.

Relatives here were notified Wednesday the body was being sent from Bremerton, Wash.

Arrival here is scheduled at 11:20 p.m. Friday.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday in the St. Ann's Catholic Church. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

The Navy flier was the husband of the former Mary Frances Carter, 312 West Florida Street, and father of three children.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sevier, 1202 West Tennessee Street.

A brother, Gilbert Joe, and a sister, Marion, also survive.

The Newline W. Ellis Chapel is in charge of arrangements here.

Clear Fork Opener In NW Howard Area Reports Good Flow

Spartan Drilling Company No. 1 Roy Phillips, Clear Fork discovery in Northwest Howard County, is now shut in to take potential after flowing 90 barrels of new oil in six hours after acid treatment.

Operator acidized perforations at 4,668-4,700 feet with 2,000 gallons. When the well was opened up it kicked off without swabbing and unloaded its acid load and then made the 90 barrels of new oil.

No water flowed with the oil. Immediately after the six hour gauge was made operator shut in the well and started making preparations for official potential test.

Prior to the acid treatment the project swabbed 15 barrels of oil per hour for two hours.

Location of the discovery is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 19, block 33, T-2-N T&P survey and two and three-quarter miles northwest of the Bond-Canyon field.

Another SPC Test In Spraberry Trend Seen As Discovery

Another of Sohio Petroleum Company's wildcats in the Spraberry trend has found good possibilities of making an oil well.

No. 1-A Davenport, located in Southwest Glasscock County, is the firm's latest possible strike.

The project topped the Spraberry at 6,920 feet, elevation 2,721 feet, and after drilling 22 feet to 6,942 feet, 3,500 feet of clean oil rose in the hole.

Before drilling into the Spraberry operator set seven-inch casing at 6,864 feet.

No. 1-A Davenport is now at total depth of 6,942 feet. Operator will swab out most of the oil before digging deeper into the pay.

Near Weiner-Floyd

The closest completed Spraberry well to No. 1-A Davenport is the opener of the Weiner-Floyd field two and one-quarter miles to the southwest. It is also two and one-half miles south of El Capitan No. 1 Whitehouse which was recently completed as the discovery from a new producing area in the Driver-Spraberry field.

Exact location is 669.6 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 14, block 37, T-5-S, T&P survey and 22 miles southwest of Garden City.

Other recent Sohio strikes are the No. 1 H. T. Boone in the undeveloped area between the Germania and Tex-Harvey field of Midland County. No. 1-A Hutt and No. 1-B Hutt, both west of production in the Driver-Spraberry field.

May Use Hydratrac

No. 1 Boone is at total depth of 7,140 feet with 3,500 feet of clean oil in the hole. Operator is preparing to lower the fluid level by swabbing. Open hole from 7,005 to 7,140 feet probably will be given a Hydratrac treatment.

Sohio No. 1-A Hutt is at total depth of 7,323 feet waiting for Hydratrac to break after 2,250 gallons were injected into open hole from 7,195 to total depth.

This test is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 18, block 37, T&P survey, T-4-N.

No. 1-B Hutt is drilling in the Spraberry below 7,282 feet with 3,000 feet of clean formation oil in the hole.

The Spraberry in this project was topped at 7,230 feet. Seven-inch casing is cemented at 7,175 feet.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 6, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Sohio Stakes Sites For Eight Projects Near Recent Strikes

Sohio Petroleum Company filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to drill eight projects around two of its recently indicated strikes.

Three of the applications are for tests which are to offset Sohio No. 1 H. T. Boone. No. 2 H. T. Boone is to be dug 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 42, block 36, T-2-S, T&P survey.

No. 3 H. T. Boone will be 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of the same section. The operator will drill No. 4 H. T. Boone 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 42, block 36, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Operator filed the applications for the Tex-Harvey field. Davenport Land. The other five new locations are in the area around Sohio No. 1-A (Continued On Page Eight)

Next Tyme Parket To Mouch Pays Fine

Practical joke or not, one Midland woman wasn't taking any chances Tuesday afternoon.

She showed up at police head quarters, handed Capt. Jim Wilkerson the note she'd found on her automobile and offered to pay the $1 fine.

But Capt. Wilkerson shook his head and sent her on her way after reading the following note scrawled on a blank piece of white paper:

"Sorry, You ever parked a mouch. Report to the police station please."

Gable Would Prefer Role In 'Life Of Ernest Hemingway'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively yours: Gary Cooper's welcome to play Ernest Hemingway's 50-year-old hero in "Across the River and Into the Trees," but Clark Gable would rather play in "The Life of Ernest Hemingway."

Not that Clark thinks there's a ghost of a chance of it. "You'd have to get Hemingway's permission," he told me. "Then here's the question of who is going to write Hemingway's life story. He's the only one who can do it. If he does it and says OK to a movie, I'd love to play it."

Clark's as two-fisted as any Hemingway hero in "Lone Star," now before the cameras, and admits that he's enthused about his return to Hollywood from war service.

Three fan mags have assigned writers to turn out yarns on Dan Dalley's stay at Menninger clinic, but Dan is ducking them. Irwin Shaw's new novel, "The Troubled Air," is set against the background of the Manhattan radio industry, but insiders insist that Shaw used at least two big film stars as his principal characters.

Yvonne De Carlo is crediting TV for her operatic debut at the Hollywood Bowl July 10 as Prince Orlovsky in "Die Fledermaus." Conductor Franz Waxman heard her warble on a New York video show and promptly signed her for the role. When Yvonne told her friend Jerome Hines about the male masquerade, he cracked: "Ye Gads, what a waste."

Boris Karloff on rumors that he battled with Jean Arthur in the Broadway success, "Peter Pan": "Nonsense. I have the greatest respect for Jean. She's just a very earnest personality who doesn't want to mingle with people and who rushes out of the theater the minute the curtain's down."

"The casting departments at the studios are driving us crazy. Everybody wants to see our TV pictures. Even Cecil B. DeMille sent over for one."

Bing Crosby's brother Everett talking as TV film chief for Bing Crosby Enterprises. And take it from Everett, movie actors already are "broken down" on the idea of shifting over to TV film.

"We're talking deals with Ann Sheridan, Gene Lockhart and Harold Lloyd," Everett said. "Look, it's the same as making a movie."

"Bing on TV film? He's a lazy boy, you know," said Everett. "But if a good idea comes up that won't work him too hard, he'll star in pictures for television, too."

Meanwhile, producers may yell and agents may scream, but movie actors are mapping their own television strategy under the banner of the Theater Workshop.

Arthur Kennedy, who formed the group, whispered it: "Bob Ryan, Hugo Haas, Akim Tamiroff and lots of others are in weekly TV dramatic stock company. If they can get away with it, actors like Alan Ladd and Kirk Douglas will play bits in the beginning. A theater group these days is a fast-changing Hollywood. It offers him security."

UI and Fox are growling at each other. Fox wanted to borrow Jeff Chandler to replace TV Power in "Lydia Bailey" and UI gave out with a big NO. . . . Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride will whoop it along the Rue de la Paix in "Ma and Pa Kettle Go to Paris." UI's brain trust also came up with "Francis Goes Home" as their mule star's next after next.

Harry Ciring again: "Whatever Rita Hayworth is worth, it ain't HAY!"

Short Takes: Deanna Durbin's baby is due in Paris June 30. . . . Bob Montgomery's TV show may move to Hollywood for filming—the first of many. . . . Liz Taylor is due for a new contract at MGM with a BIG boost in salary. She's winding up seven years on the lot. . . . Sir Cedric Hardwicke, quoted by the late James Agate:

"I can't act. I have never acted. And I shall never act. What I can do is suspend the audience's power of judgment until I have finished."

Charges Of Robbery Grow Out Of Desire For Natty Clothes

NEW YORK — A ven for natty clothes Wednesday brought robbery charges against a self-styled "actor-artist," accused of twice holding up the same midtown jewelry store for a total of $220,000 in gems.

The 34-year-old man-about-town, Arthur Chesler, said he picked on the fashionable Jean Schlumberger, Inc. shop because people believe "lightning never strikes twice" in the same place.

He even went back a third time, he said, but this time the store was wary and had a private detective on hand. The detective chased Chesler, who lost a Panama hat.

Police said they traced the Panama hat of an expensive and limited manufacturer, to Chesler.

A bartender, Thomas Keenan, 28, also was arrested in connection with the holdups. Keenan was charged with criminally receiving stolen goods.

But neither Keenan nor Chesler, police said, produced the gems. Authorities said Chesler admitted the holdups and Keenan admitted trying to dispose of the loot in Miami Fla., without success.

Keenan said he returned the gems to Chesler, police said, but Chesler said the bartender did not.

Chesler added, police said, that he thought the jewels were in Mexico. They quoted him as telling Keenan: "You know you gave the stuff to Moush."

There was no explanation who "Moush" was.

Chesler, son of a Dover N. J. resort operator, said he had hoped to realize a million dollars on two robberies he was planning but didn't carry out.

Three Persons Dead, 40 Hurt In Tornado Which Hits In Kansas

WAKEENEY, KAN.—(P)—A tornado slashed through this Western Kansas town Wednesday, killing three persons and injuring about 40. The vicious winds turned a five-block residential area into a mass of splintered wood and brick. Trees were uprooted, water mains broken, and power and communication lines damaged.

Dead were Mr. and Mrs. James Hladek, both about 65, and Dan Rohrbacher, 60. Mrs. Marie Engleman, a Hill City, Kan., newspaper woman, who toured the area, gave this description: "Devastation was everywhere in the five blocks. Automobiles were overturned and crushed under houses, some homes had the roofs blown off, others were flattened completely."

In one block, six new brick houses just built last year were leveled. Hallways in the Wakeeney Hospital were jammed with the injured. Many of the injured said they were awakened just before the twister struck but had no chance to take refuge in storm cellars.

Two oil workers—Bob Jackson of Holsington, Kan., and Robert Shon of Great Bend, Kan.—were injured when the tornado caught their car on a road outside Wakeeney and twisted it around.

Wakeeney has a population of about 2,000 and is 25 miles northwest of Hays. Ben J. Brungardt, the Hays city manager who was aiding in rescue work, estimated a five or six block area was badly hit.

He said the Wakeeney Hospital had adequate facilities for handling the injured but that a call had been sent out for more blood plasma. The Hays National Guard unit and volunteers from nearby Hill City were assisting in rescue operations.

Winds and heavy rain swept across a wide section of Central and Western Kansas Tuesday night and early Wednesday. In Hays trees were uprooted and some buildings damaged. Winds up to 55 miles per hour were reported at Salina.

Thousands of acres of farmlands in the state already are inundated from more than a month of heavy rains. McBride's To Observe Second Anniversary

A storewide sale will mark the second anniversary of McBride Furniture Company, 507 East Florida, according to Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McBride, owners.

Since June 27, 1949, when the firm first opened its doors for business, two major expansion and remodeling operations have taken place.

A store with less than 1,000 square feet of floor space held the opening stock, while the present 4,500 square feet of space is now considered insufficient by the owners.

Another expansion program is planned for the near future. Now helping Mr. and Mrs. McBride in the operation of the furniture company is W. C. (Bill) Baugh, former manager of Bert's Drive In Grocery and well known to Midland residents.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride have extended an invitation to all their friends and customers to call on them during the anniversary event, which will continue through Saturday, June 30.

California Private Kills 14 Commies In Single-Handed Fight

WITH U. S. FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, KOREA —(P)— This GI didn't hear the order to retreat, so-o-o-o-o. In a single-handed fight with Chinese Communists, he killed 14 Reds, captured five and secured the hill that had been the objective of his company.

The First Cavalry Division Wednesday told the story of Pvt. Leopold M. Carrillo, son of Mrs. Marino Carrillo, Los Angeles. Carrillo was in a hill assault when his unit was caught in a fiery rain of grenades and automatic weapons. They were ordered to fall back.

But Carrillo, on a flank of the hill, didn't hear the command. He advanced. "I got all the way to the top before I found no one was with me," he said. "I was afraid of getting shot in the back if I turned around, so I kept on going."

He was carrying an M-1 rifle. Just as he reached the crest, a Chinese soldier jumped from a foxhole a few feet away. With Single Shot Carrillo felled him with a single shot. Then the Californian moved across the ridge, clearing one Chinese position after another in spite of murderous fire from an enemy machine gun on another hill.

"I had only two rounds left when I ran into a Chinese soldier with a burp gun," said Carrillo. He got the Red with his next-to-last bullet, picked up the dead Communist's automatic weapon and continued to advance across the ridge.

Six more Chinese saw the advance of the one-man army and jumped from their holes to surrender. But one changed his mind and started to run. Carrillo killed him. Carrillo returned to his surprised unit with five prisoners, an American automatic rifle and the burp gun, both taken from the Chinese. In future one-man assaults, Carrillo will have more firepower.

He was made automatic rifleman of his squad. CIVIL SERVICE SEEKS SPECIALISTS FORT WORTH—A large number of positions for industrial property officers and contracting specialists are available in the Southern Air Procurement District, the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners announced Monday.

Suspect Reported To Have Been Under Bed Before Abduction

ARLINGTON, VA. —(AP)— Police quoted a 20-year-old bride Wednesday as saying that one of two men accused of having kidnapped and raped her claimed he spent part of the previous night under her bed.

Mrs. Nancy Ann Hotchkiss told police John Robert Polk, 19, related the incident and recalled to her part of a conversation she had with her husband. Police said Polk denied having been in the Hotchkiss apartment on Sunday evening.

Polk, a mechanic's helper at an Arlington Garage, and William Robert Payne, 25, of Bethesda, Md., are being held without bond on kidnap charges filed after the abduction of Mrs. Hotchkiss Monday. Police said both have admitted the crimes in signed statements.

Mrs. Hotchkiss, married only 11 days ago to Navy Ensign James K. Hotchkiss, said the two attacked her several times and threatened to kill her.

Mistake Indicated

Capt. C. Burns Presley, chief of Arlington detectives, said his investigation did not support a report that Polk had attempted to shoot Mrs. Hotchkiss. Other policemen said, however, the bride had been threatened with a rifle, and that a bullet half-way in the chamber bore a mark indicating a mistake.

Police said Polk told them he and Payne went to the apartment seeking money, and that his original intention was to take Mrs. Hotchkiss to help escape apprehension on a robbery charge.

He and Payne argued later, he said, over whether to hold her for ransom. Payne walked away. Later, Mrs. Hotchkiss said, Polk put on a glove and began choking her. She scratched and fought, and he loosened his grip on her throat.

Released from the car later, Mrs. Hotchkiss went to a nearby residence and gave the alarm. Descriptions she gave helped police pick up the two men a short time later.

Farm Income Runs 20 Per Cent Greater

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Farm income is running 20 per cent greater than a year ago, the Agriculture Department reported Wednesday.

Small Road Block Removed By City

A tiny stumbling block involving less than two acres of land was finally removed Tuesday night by the City Council to clear the path for the Front Street improvement project.

As a result, both the city and county Wednesday had signed an agreement with the Texas and Pacific Railway, assuring the project of needed right-of-way for its proposed crosstown super-highway.

The final details were worked out Tuesday night as a delegation of railroad officials met with the City Council and when it was over the city had agreed to rezone for industrial use a 55-acre tract at Midland's west city limits.

J. J. Finnegan, Dallas, assistant to the president of T. and P., told the council the rezoning of this particular tract was important to the railroad's plans for the industrial development of this area.

In return for the agreement to rezone this area, the railroad had agreed to contribute certain rights-of-way needed for the Front Street project.

The council finally authorized Mayor Perry Pickett to sign the amended agreement.

Other railroad officials at the meeting were W. R. McDowell of Dallas, attorney for the railroad; W. C. Higginbotham of Dallas, assistant land and industrial commissioner; G. L. Brooks, general agent at Big Spring; L. R. Stevenson, Big Spring, general roadmaster, and W. C. Foster, Big Spring, division superintendent.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Wednesday suspended Denis W. Delaney, collector of Internal Revenue for the Massachusetts District.

A White House announcement said the suspension is effective immediately "pending the investigation of certain charges concerning the manner in which Mr. Delaney has conducted the business of his office."

The White House would not elaborate on the one-sentence statement.

In 1947, a House appropriations subcommittee charged there were irregularities in the handling of tax returns and March of Dimes collections in Delaney's office. Delaney denied there was any mishandling of the tax reports and the Infantile Paralysis Foundation in Massachusetts said the dimes collections in Delaney's office were "in order."

There was no indication that Wednesday's suspension was in any way connected with that four-year-old probe.

Air Expert 'Amazed' At Terminal Growth

One of the nation's airport management experts expressed "amazement" here Tuesday at the growth and amount of traffic at the Midland Air Terminal.

He is Hans Omeritsch of Chicago, chief of the airport management consultant branch of the Civil Aeronautics Authority for the third region.

He said he was impressed with the cost control and operating procedure used at the airport, along with its traffic development plans.

"This is an unusual operation here," he said, "and I hope we can develop airports along the same lines in my region, which includes Indiana, Illinois and Ohio."

He was accompanied here by W. T. Brown of Fort Worth, who holds a similar position in the CAA's fourth region.

Radio Station For Seminole Is Asked

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Four Texans have asked permission of the communications commission to set up a radio station at Seminole. It would operate on 1,660 kilocycles and 250 watts power in daytime only.

The applicants are E. J. Watkins, George Burke, Mike A. Barrett and David R. Worley, doing business as the New Frontier Broadcasting Company.

The application is contingent on Radio KITPY changing its frequency from 1,050 to 1,300 kilocycles. The station has applied to do so.

Duval County Gets Another Recount

AUSTIN —(AP)— Duval County—land of many election disputes—got a $100,000 recount from the State Board of Education Tuesday.

Board Chairman R. B. Anderson of Vernon announced at a board meeting that a mistake had been made in copying Duval County's estimated oil wealth from state comptroller records.

The error resulted in a $100,000 mark-down in Duval County's contribution to the state school fund under the "economic index" system now used.

The board voted to correct the error, requiring Duval to pay $100,000 more than first figured and giving the other 253 counties equitable reductions accordingly.

Under the index method, the state adds enough money to county contributions to assure minimum standards of public education in each county.

Loaded Soap Brings Three Weeks In Jail

HONG KONG —(AP)— Kwo Tsun, wash woman for Hong Kong's Chinese YMCA, was jailed Wednesday for using the wrong kind of soap.

She was carrying three bars when police accosted her on the street. That was all right except for what was in the soap—tube of glycerine, a short fuse and other materials government analysts said were for "construction of a bomb."

Analysis said the bomb would not work.

The court said three weeks in jail.

Four Major Forest Blazes Are Raging

ALBUQUERQUE —(P)— Four major fires raged Wednesday in the parched national forests of Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

The U. S. Forest Service reported three new fires Tuesday, one in each of the states. In addition, mopping up operations continued on numerous smaller fires throughout the area.

The biggest blaze was the Gila National Forest fire in Southwestern New Mexico where more than 30,000 acres of timber, valued at $250,000, has been destroyed in the last six days. About 1,200 men from seven states are trying to check the fire which is still out of control.

New Mexico's new blaze was in the northeastern part of the state near Cimarron. The smallest of the fires, it was reported almost under control Tuesday night after destroying more than 600 acres.

Forest service officials said only ideal weather conditions would make it possible to control the Gila fire by Friday. They said the fire already has cost the government $100,000 to fight.

Action Delayed On Farm Worker Bill

WASHINGTON —(P)— A dispute over penalties for employers who knowingly hire "wetbacks" was up for solution in the House Wednesday. It delayed, overnight, action on a bill to authorize importation of Mexican farm workers.

"Wetbacks" are Mexicans who enter this country illegally, often by swimming the Rio Grande River. In a farm worker recruitment bill it passed recently, the Senate included criminal penalties for persons who knowingly hire them.

Representative Celler (D-NY) sought to include the same provisions in a bill under House debate, but members from Southwest States objected that if it should become law farmers would not take the risk of hiring Mexicans for fear they might have entered the U. S. illegally.

Both Senate and House bills, in general, would authorize recruitment of farm laborers in Mexico for work on American farms.

New Group Of Lady Godivas Needed To Rescue Taxpayers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(P)— Will a new group of Lady Godivas arise to rescue the American people from high taxes?

This suggestion for cutting the rising price of government was made recently by Frank Tripp, sage of the Elmira (N. Y.) Star-Gazette.

He recalled the legendary ride of the original Lady Godiva nearly 800 years ago. As I get it, this beautiful Saxon dame told her husband, the Lord of Coventry:

"My lord, why have you lowered such a heavy tax boom on our peasant peasants?"

"Because it serves them right," punned her master. "Get it, my lady? It serves them right."

"Well, I don't like your humor at all," said the lady. "When are you going to give these poor people a break?"

"I'll cut their taxes the day you ride bareback through the town," scoffed old man Coventry. "Haw, haw, haw!"

Well, he knew Lady Godiva was one of the poorest riders in the whole countryside. She regularly fell off her mount at least twice during every foxhunt. And all her husband meant by saying what he did was that she wouldn't dare try to ride a horse without a saddle. But like any wife in any age, Lady Godiva took what her husband said literally. She thought he meant she wouldn't dare ride with her own back bare through the streets. No lady could resist a challenge like that.

So she put out an order for the peons to stay indoors. Then she saddled up a white horse, took off her robes and rode through Coventry adorned with nothing but her long blonde hair. One tallor, "Peeping Tom," looked out to see what all the hoofbeats were about. He was struck blind, probably by the bright sunshine.

On the way home Lady Godiva met her astounded husband, who demanded:

"Egad, and what the hell are you doing?"

"Cutting taxes," she said innocently. "And if you don't lower the rate, I'm going for another ride tomorrow. I've never had so much fun."

She went to bed with a bad case of sunburn, and the next day the peasants got the biggest tax rebate in history. Ever since then peasants figure it will happen again.

Today the House of Representatives has passed a new $7,200,000,000 tax bill, the biggest ever. Frank Tripp's idea is that 49 modern Godivas might help wash the day—come to ride through Washington, D. C., and each of the 48 state capitals.

It would probably be easy enough to find the 49 volunteers, but where would you find the 49 snowwhite horses?

What Makes Industry Vital Due For Debate When Doling Starts

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK —(P)— What makes a industry essential in the nation's defense?

The question is likely to be debated sharply when industries begin keying for favorable positions as the government starts to dole out raw materials.

The National Production Authority says its putting off until July the start of its controlled materials plan—a week's delay in the paring out of steel, aluminum and copper, so that mills will have more time to change over their schedules. But the basic question—what industries get how much of the supplies of scarce metals and chemicals—soon will get sharper.

Take corn refining. The companies to use corn not as livestock food but to extract other products from want stainless steel. They are modernizing and expanding their plants and they say only stainless steel will do their job properly. But stainless steel is a top essential in a defense program, and the government says what industries it what there is of it. So, it's up to the corn refining companies to prove that they, too, are essential. Most persons may think of corn refining as a process that produces rum for hotcakes and starch for puddings. That's only the beginning, says the corn industries research foundation, which represents many leading companies in the field. It says it isn't plugging for stainless steel. It just wants to be recognized as playing a part in defense.

Essential To Methods

Corn products, the foundation says, are essential to the current methods of manufacture of a long list of things used by the armed services. To an even longer list, corn products of one sort or another are irreplaceable if these essential military items are to be produced in quantity necessary for full defense production.

A corn refinery by product, steep-water, increases the yield of penicillin molds by 10 times. It is used in making streptomycin, and a derivative of steep-water is part of the Vitamin B complex. The corn industry is proud of helping to maintain the health of the military and in saving the lives of the wounded.

Soldiers use detonators. A corn product, dextrin, is used in making detonators.

The foundation also proudly points out that the makers of chewing gum use starch and corn syrup. And chewing gum, the foundation insists, is essential to a soldier. To this the foundation adds,

VFW Designates Mother Of Year

DALLAS —(P)— Mrs. J. e b b i e Choate, 57, of Texarkana, who had eight sons in the armed services, is the mother-of-of-the year of the Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Six of her boys served in the Pacific theater in World War II, two in the Army and four in the Navy. Now two of Mrs. Choate's sons are in Korea, in the Marines.

J. Warren Hoyt of El Paso, senior vice commander of the state VFW and nominated for new state commander, presented a plaque to Mrs. Choate.

All of Mrs. Choate's sons have come through safely thus far.

She was named "Jebbie" after the Civil War general, J. E. B. Stewart, whom her father admired.

"It's lucky I have that general's name, because I had a whole army to bring up myself," Mrs. Choate said.

Her husband died in 1934 and Mrs. Choate, who works in a wholesale florist's shop, reared her family alone.

The 21-year-old Bessard entered the death chamber at 12:02 a.m. He received the first shock at 12:05 and was pronounced dead at 12:08 a.m.

He made no last statement. The cheerful negro ate a lavish last meal.

The two negroes already executed for the rape were Eugene McFarland and Nathaniel Edwards.

Court-Appointed Lawyers To Be Paid Under New Statute

Attorneys appointed to act as defense counsels for felony cases in Midland County will be eligible to receive fees for their services when a new legislative measure pertaining to payment of fees to court-appointed attorneys becomes law.

Midland County Commissioners Court has authorized the fee payment for this county in accordance with new measure, which is scheduled to become effective in approximately 90 days.

The measure provides that court-appointed attorneys in felony cases, at the discretion of the trial judge, may be paid a fee of $10 a day for each day the attorney is in the trial court.

In case of appeals that are prosecuted to a conclusion, the appointed attorney may be paid $25 for each appeal. The fees will be drawn from county funds.

Heretofore, court-appointed attorneys have not received fees. The measure stipulates that the county commissioners court may determine whether the fee shall be paid by the county.

JACOME GETS FIFTEENTH—

Indians Rally To Defeat Big Spring Broncs 7-6

Speedster Flem Flott scored from third base on an infield out by Eddie Melillo in the eighth inning here Tuesday night to break a 6-6 tie and give the Midland Indians a 7-6 decision over the Big Spring Broncs.

Flott led off the inning with a double, was sacrificed to third by Scooter Hughes and sped home on Melillo's slow roller to the Broncs second baseman.

Eddie Jacome received credit for the win, his fifteenth. Jacome inherited the mound chores from Jim Haggard in the eighth. Haggard had replaced Bill Reed, starter, who pitched a good ball game until lifted for a pinch hitter in the Midland sixth. Haggard was treated roughly in his brief stay on the hill, but Jacome blanked the Broncs on one hit during his short but winning stint.

Pennington Doubles
Midland first scored in the fourth on a single by Scooter Hughes—who stole second—and a bingle by Hayden White. Big Spring punched three runs across in the sixth to go in front 3-2. Midland getting even the same inning as Kenny Jones scored on a smashing double by Woody Pennington.

The Tribe rallied for its biggest inning in the seventh on singles by Rudy Escobar, Jones and Pennington plus a double by Scooter Hughes—along with a pair of Broncs errors—to score three runs and go up 6-4. But the Broncs tied it up in the eighth and Midland had to stage another rally to win.

But in the seventh with Scooter Hughes at third base, Hayden White came to the plate, and after several moments of stalling by Valdez, he popped up between the mound and home plate. Valdez stroled easily out to the mound to make the catch as Pitcher Fernandez stood in the box majestically directing Valdez with the flick of a wrist, much in the manner of Tom Cantini directing a choice selection of classical music.

But when the ball popped out of Valdez's mitt and he turned to throw home, only Hughes and the umpire were anywhere near home plate. That was the turning point, and many minutes more of stalling were to no avail for the Big Spring team.

It would seem Umpires Skillin, Averill and Nugent could have hurried the game somewhat. The two-hour forty-five minute contest—no matter how exciting—could have been completed in less time and all concerned would have benefited.

We hope the umpires will eliminate such excess and unnecessary minutes of stalling in future Big Spring contests here. And a good time to start would be Wednesday night.

Fans pay their money to enter ball parks, and in so doing have the privilege of "riding" ball players and umpires. But one leather-lunged fan who sits in the stands behind first base is creating a bit of ill will among his fellow Midlanders. Some of the fans have asked us to ask the man to tone his talk down a bit. It gets raw at times, we are told by more than one fan. We're sure the man will react in true sportsmanlike fashion and be a bit more thoughtful. Even so, he still can have his fun and offend no one.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Sal Maglie Blanks Bums On Three Hits

Two rude jolts in three days have slowed Brooklyn's bid to make a runaway of the National League race. The latest blow to the Dodgers' plans was struck Tuesday night by the New York Giants. A three-hit pitching performance by Sal Maglie plus some timely hitting against previously unbeaten Preacher Roe sparked the Giants to a 4-0 triumph.

It was the third straight loss by the Dodgers and trimmed their lead over the second place Giants to five games. In the American League things were different. The Chicago White Sox celebrated their return home with a 11-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

The Washington Senators gave the Sox a valuable assist by dumping the second-place New York Yankees 7-3. Now the White Sox have a two-game hold on the lead they have held since early in May.

Boston's third-place Red Sox remained four games off the American League pace with a 13-5 conquest of the Philadelphia Athletics. Cleveland stayed in the pennant fight with an 11-inning 6-4 win over the St. Louis Browns.

The Philadelphia Phillies pushed past Boston into fifth place in the National League, shutting out the Braves 7-0. The Chicago Cubs took third-place St. Louis, winning a 10-inning 7-5 verdict. Pittsburgh's Howie Pollock outpitched Cincinnati's Harry Perkowski 3-2.

Greater Production Efforts Are Asked

GALVESTON — Gov. Allan Shivers, praising organized labor in Texas for staying free of communism, said greater production efforts was one way of stemming inflation. He spoke Tuesday at the Texas Federation of Labor (AFL) Convention. Increased production, he said "is one of the most effective weapons against what the economists call inflation and what you and I call increased cost of living."

Federal Judgeship For Texas Is Asked

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Tom Connally (D-Texas) wants another federal judgeship in East Texas. He told the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday that a sharp increase in population and industrial development had thrown a heavy burden of work on the lone federal judge in the area. He also recommended the committee approve legislation to make permanent the third federal judgeship of the Southern Texas District.

FORT WORTH — (AP) — V. O. Vickers, 33, wanted for cattle theft, killed himself Tuesday in the barricaded home of his son-in-law at Waco. Vickers had been charged with cattle theft in Arlington. Vickers wounded himself fatally with a 410 gauge shotgun as Sheriff C. C. Maxey and a deputy and a half-dozen highway patrolmen approached the house. Read The Classifieds.

Report Indicates City May End Year With Surplus Cash

City Manager W. H. Oswalt Tuesday night submitted the following report of municipal activities for the month of May: Fire Department — Forty-three alarms reported with a total loss of $7,231.62. This includes four runs into the county. Defective wiring was the most frequent cause. Police Department — The police department received a total of 854 complaints, approximately 20 per cent over the preceding month. Arrests totaled 179, approximately equivalent to the April total. Value of stolen property recovered was estimated at $8,087. Police equipment traveled 22,480 miles. A total of 570 fingerprints were taken and approximately 8,000 fingerprints are now on file in the identification division. Ninety-one automobile accidents were reported with no fatalities involved. Aviation — A total of 7,050 airline passengers enplaned and deplaned at the Midland Air Terminal and there were 1,150 commercial airline movements. Terminal facilities were inspected by Civil Aeronautics Authority and an intensive maintenance of buildings and aviation facilities was initiated. Paving Job Awarded Water — New water taps totaled 63 and new sewer taps 112. Water production amounted to 143,674,000 gallons and active water accounts totaled 5,746. Nine additional fire hydrants were put in service, bringing the total to 327, and 20,502 feet of water mains and 6,398 feet of sewer lines were constructed in various parts of the city. Building — The following permits were issued: Building 108, electrical 96, plumbing 149. Value of new construction on which permits were issued totaled $731,725, bringing the total for the current year to $6,561,740. Total receipts handled by inspection division amounted to $14,925. Paving — Bids received and contract awarded to Collins Construction Company for Group E paving. Preliminary assessment rolls on this project was undertaken. Revenues — Ad valorem tax collections amounted to $11,065. Collections on the current roll total $437,659, approximately 90.6 per cent of the current roll. On June 2, the general fund cash balance amounted to $61,370. The water fund cash balance amounted to $76,031. It is apparent at this time that municipal operations will definitely end the fiscal year "in the black."

Eight Witnesses On Stand In Trial Of Jerry Nuzum

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — (AP) — A jury that was selected in 20 minutes Wednesday heard the testimony of eight state witnesses in the trial of Jerry Nuzum for the 1949 slaying of an 18-year-old waitress. Nuzum, 27, a halfback for the Pittsburgh Steelers professional football team, is charged with murder and manslaughter in the death of Ovida (Cricket) Coogler. While the jury was being selected Nuzum wandered about the courtroom shaking hands with friends and smiling. Here are highlights of the witnesses testimony: 1. Four men testified they saw Nuzum place Miss Coogler bodily in his car on the night she disappeared. 2. W. S. Howard, a lumberman at nearby Mesilla Park, said he found a red shoe such as Miss Coogler was wearing near the place where her body was found buried under a mesquite bush. Howard said he turned the shoe over to Dona Ana County Sheriff A. L. (Happy) Apodaca and that it was altered by scratches when he saw it again a few hours later. 3. A witness said a medical examination of Miss Coogler's decomposed body showed she suffered a broken jaw, a fractured collar bone, a heavy blow over one eye and numerous cuts and bruises.

Texas And California Quickie Divorce Mill Under Investigation

DALLAS — (AP) — A Texas-California "quickie" divorce mill is being investigated by the Dallas district attorney and a bar association committee. District Attorney Henry Wade said Tuesday his assistant, Jimmie MacNicol, would go to Los Angeles Friday: "to help collect evidence for possible charges of fraud and subornation of perjury" to be filed in Dallas. The inquiry started June 9 with the arrest of a negro law student in Los Angeles. This brought in the names of two attorneys at Dallas—where Los Angeles officers said the divorces were obtained. Los Angeles authorities said the law student was accused of passing on names of his clients to the Dallas lawyer; that proxies were secured to stand up in court and that Texas divorces were obtained in the names of California couples. In Short Time The negro allegedly told California couples he could get them divorces in Texas in 30 to 60 days without their having to establish residence in Texas. In California persons getting a divorce must wait a year after an interlocutory decree is granted. No such waiting period is required in Texas, but principals must have lived one year in the state and six months in the county in which the suit is filed. E. Taylor Armstrong, chairman of the Dallas District Grievance Committee of the State Bar Association, said he had invited Wade into the case. Wade said he intended at this time to handle only possible criminal aspects of the investigation. He said the part of the inquiry which could concern civil action for disbarment is being left largely to Armstrong's committee.

Three Jobs Keeping Aged Ohio Man Busy

CLEVELAND — (NEA) — Joseph LaBarge is a three-job man. He goes to work at 5 a.m. and quits at 11 p.m., except when he has an odd job or two lined up.

It's a pretty busy schedule for a man who's 94. But Joe likes it that way.

"A man has to work to live," he says. "Lazy men don't live long." Joe could never be accused of laziness. He's worked hard all his life, since he ran away from home in St. Joseph, Mich., at 16. He was a Great Lakes sailor for a time, bought a boat and sold it. With the profits he took a trip around the world.

When he got back, he settled down to a lifetime of different jobs. He was a stevedore, worked in factories, drove cars, ran a garage. Now he has two jobs as a custodian, one for a drug store and one for an office building, and he's a blacksmith for a machine repair company.

"Joe can do anything," says his drug store boss, M. R. Wahl. "Painting, carpentering, blacksmithing, furniture restoring — anything."

In all his 94 years, he never had time to get married.

"No woman ever made a hook big enough and sharp enough to catch me," is the way he explains it.

Joe's been paying his Social Security all these years, but never thought he'd get anything back.

"I thought these were payments on the war debt," he says.

He was quite surprised when he heard that employed workers over 75 were entitled to Social Security benefits. Now he gets a $44.50 check each month.

In six years, Joe expects to slow down a bit. He'll be 100 then, a nice, round age to think about retiring.

Exercise Caution To Avoid Hazards Of Lead Poisoning

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Lead poisoning used to be one of the most common and serious forms of industrial and accidental poisonings. Thanks to preventive measures it occurs less frequently than in the past but is still a problem. Recently a woman wrote me that her husband, who had been a body and fender repair man 16 years, was suffering aches in his arms and severe headaches and wondered whether this could be caused by lead poisoning from paint. Also there have been reports from Baltimore and Cleveland of lead poisoning in babies, probably resulting from chewing something bearing lead paint.

Now it should be said that the paint industry has done an excellent job in reducing or eliminating this hazard. A number of years ago it was agreed to eliminate lead from paints to be used inside houses or on things like children's toys. But if a person uses paint intended for outside use on the inside of houses or on toys there still would be a risk.

Diagnosis Of Disease
The symptoms suffered by the body and fender worker could be caused by lead poisoning. In addition to those mentioned, colicky pains in the bowels usually are present in chronic poisoning due to lead. This, of course, is not enough. The paint used would have to be analyzed for lead or other substances which might produce chronic poisoning. The man himself would have to be studied further; a blue line around the gums is common and studies of the blood are most important.

Besides chronic poisoning there is an acute form of the condition. This comes only from the rapid absorption of large quantities of lead and produces severe pain in the abdomen, vomiting, colic, cramps, and collapse. The skin usually develops a waxy color and the red blood cells have a definite characteristic appearance.

Thanks to many years of work and the development of many protective measures, lead poisoning gradually is disappearing. Most cases which develop now are the result of carelessness and adult should use care not only for themselves but for their children in lead poisoning once acquired is not only unpleasant and dangerous but hard to recover from.

Mowing The Lawn Is No Job For Sailor, Not Even One Who Has Retired From Sea

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Capt. Gustav Berg was as excited as a child going to his first circus. His pale blue-green eyes, the color of a spray of ocean foam, were alive with anticipation. His blue suit was pressed, his black shoes polished, his graying sandy hair neatly combed.

A year ago he'd retired after 43 years at sea. Now he was going back on one of the first trips of the new luxury liner, SS Constitution, owned by his old company, American Export Lines. All his old friends came over to talk to him.

"How do you like retirement?" everyone asked him.

"Yah, it's nice," Captain Berg would answer. "I'm catching up on doing nothing. One thing I won't do is mow the lawn."

"You know, I timed it. It took me an hour to mow the lawn. But my wife—you know how women are—she wasn't satisfied. She said I should mow it both ways. I said nothing doing. You hire somebody."

"So now I don't do the lawn. I help wash the dishes and maybe fix breakfast. That's all. No lawn."

Was A Farmer
It was 1901 when Captain Berg, fresh from Sweden, first went to sea. For six years he was a Nebraska farmer, but went back to sea again and stayed there until 1950. He served through two World Wars without ever being torpedoed.

"I was chased by a sub off Long Island, but that's the closest I came. I was very lucky."

An old friend walked by and hailed him. Captain Berg told him he liked retirement, but wouldn't cut the lawn.

"You know," he resumed, "I live in Summit, N. J. I've lived there for 29 years, but I'm just starting to get acquainted with my neighbors now. It's a nice life."

Somebody said that all retired sea captains become chicken farmers.

"Not me. The devil with chickens. The only way I like chickens are fried."

How about fishing?
"The fish market is full of fish. And you don't need any bait. No, sir, no fishing for me."

Do you help much around the house, somebody wanted to know.

"Sure, but not the lawn. You can't please a woman around a garden. She wants you to mow right up to all the bushes. It's too hard. Now I got somebody hired to do that job."

They wanted to know what he did with his time.

No Sea Stories
"I read a lot. People give me subscriptions to magazines and I get the newspapers. But I'm going to write the editor and tell him he should put in some shipping news."

Captain Berg said he read everything in the magazines except sea stories. They weren't any good.

They started talking about stowaways.

"You know what I used to do to stowaways?" said Captain Berg. "I'd bring them into my cabin and hit them in the snoot. That discouraged them."

They asked him if he'd like to have command of a beautiful new ship like the Constitution.

"No, sir," he said, "that's a mighty big headache. Passengers are a headache to a captain. The best berth at sea is to have a nice, fast freighter. That's the life."

Somebody else came along.

"Well, Captain Berg, how are you? How do you like retirement?"

"It's wonderful," said Captain Berg. "But you don't catch me mowing the lawn."

Real Contribution To Travel

Heartening signs have developed recently of a widening trend toward use of air coach or tourist reduced-fare service by the commercial air lines.

None of the lines would contend that air coach services are all pure gain. But those employing the service receive most of the return represents new customers who otherwise wouldn't travel.

The CAB, opposed for some time to extension of the coach-fare plan to overseas lines, changed its mind this morning.

Nevertheless, the principle now has been approved the decision brings within definite sight fares low enough to attract students, teachers and other moderate-earning professional groups, and a wide range of others heretofore could not even contemplate traveling to Europe either by air or sea.

One of them was that Congressman John Kluczynski, Illinois Democrat, who represents the Chicago stockyards district, voted against the housewife although his district is one of the poorest in Chicago.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Uncle Sam's Housekeeper Wants More Floor Space

By PETER EDSON. NEA Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON—Washington is a crazy place—in case you hadn't heard.

On the one hand, here is the Congress going through all the motions of trying to reduce the number of government employees.

And on the other hand, here is the General Services Administration (GSA), which is the government's housekeeper, doing its damndest to try to find more office space and more records storage space to meet demands of the rapidly expanding defense agencies.

Expanding Interior: Interior needs 34,000 square feet for 340 new defense activity employees. Commerce needs 200,000 square feet of storage space.

When the Pentagon ordered 10,000 desks for the 10,000 new employees it expects to hire next year, there was no place to store the furniture.

5. Clubs K-6-3. What do you do? A—Bid three spades. You are willing to play for game in spades if partner has only a doubleton.

THE STORY: No one believed me when I told that Carl Metzker, my employer, was a Communist courier and had killed my friend Caroline Lebek.

It was a good thing, in the next moment I needed all the coolness I could muster. It was all I could do to keep from running madly for the door—any door out the back one, where I had heard an unmistakable protest from the rusty old lock.

Half-way down the hill I looked back. There was a light in the room I had just left, and as I looked a bulky figure was silhouetted momentarily before a someone behind him turned the flashlight off.

What's RIGHT?

You are well aware of your children's shortcomings. WRONG: Discuss their faults with the mothers of their friends—labeling Johnny as "selfish" or Carol as "a poor mixer," etc.

RIGHT: Be loyal to your children—giving them a chance to make the best possible impression on others, something they can never do if you tell all their faults.

The vice president of the United States gets a salary of $30,000 a year and a tax-free expense allowance of $10,000.

I could see Carl chewing at his lower lip tunneling possibilities swiftly through his mind until he knew just how I had fed.

Without looking again at the house, perched dark and silent on its hilltop I set off across a field, climbed a fence, ran on.

I was past tears beyond hysteria. The three miles to Hollister stretched endlessly ahead.

Time and time again I stood still the rain coursing down my face like freshwater tears, and strained for some sound of pursuit. But there were none; only the wind-driven rain and my own hoarse breathing.

The gravel road lay to my left and once, when headlights bored stubbornly through the downpour, I threw myself flat and prayed. The car went on and I struggled to my feet.

Cautiously I changed course. Walking was rougher here; this was the creek bottoms and low brush was beginning to tangle my feet.

Somewhere ahead there was movement. I froze.

Here's Picture Of War That Continues In Korea, Regardless Of Peace Rumors

By FRANK R. KING

ABOVE THE FRONT, KOREA—The fighter planes dive. Fire bombs hit a ridgetop. Flames and black smoke sprouted fighting area near Kumhwa.

Kumhwa is the eastern point of the former Red "Iron Triangle" supply area in North Korea. United Nations forces hold the triangle now, but Communists still cling to a high point near Kumhwa.

In the valley beyond there was more fighting. From the hills artillery smoke plumes rose straight through the calm air.

The war continues in Korea, regardless of cease-fire rumors.

"We're a little too far north," said Lt. Col. James W. Ingram, Fieldon, Ill., quietly, as he swung the Fifth Air Force plane around.

Ingram and his co-pilot, Capt. Ira O. Casey, Richmond Hill, Ga., took me over the 125-mile battle line, from the Yellow Sea to the Sea of Japan.

Spread below is the strongest line the United Nations have held in Korea. Here is the hard-won territory that will be given up if the UN forces withdraw below the 38th Parallel, as proposed by Soviet Russia.

Fighter Planes Overhead

From 4,000 down to 500 feet as you skim the ridges, the ground the Eighth Army has gained in recent weeks to form its new strong line stretches out in jagged and tumbled panorama.

There are no frowning peaks but an endless monotony of hills from sea to sea. Above you the fighter planes are racing north at 6,000 to 7,000 feet. Below the little liaison planes seem to be playing hide and seek over the hills. The roads are heavy with traffic and choked with yellow dust. Men, ammunition and supplies are going up to the front.

In the narrow valleys the stair-stepped rice paddies rise up the hill as far as a foot of land can be cultivated. A few are green under cultivation but most are brown and deserted.

Swinging around beyond the east coast, the plane heads back and soon you are over the great Hwachon Reservoir. Five of its 16 gates are open and the water pours over the dam.

These gates were blown by American Navy airmen when the reservoir was in Communist hands to prevent the Reds from flooding the country below the dam, as they have done.

Down the Pukhan River you fly over the valley where the Eighth Army stopped the Chinese drive of late April.

The United Nations forces in Korea have learned by tragic experience to protect themselves by continued fighting.

On small airstrips the helicopters are alert for rescue missions.

In two hours your plane covers the whole battle area, from Inchon on the west, one of the strong anchors of the UN line, clear across to the east coast where American warships shell the enemy.

In the center is the strategic Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongyang triangle. To the west the ridges are higher, up to 4,000 feet, and are steeper. Beyond Chorwon they seem to run east and west but soon are scrambled in an unrecognizable pattern.

The western ridges drop precipitously to the sea, which is tucked under a blanket of white clouds.

Baseball Records Fall In Big Ten

CHICAGO — Seven baseball records were either tied or broken during the 1951 Big Ten season as Ohio State captured the Western Conference championship. The Buckeye hitters also capped individual batting honors.

Final conference statistics showed that OSU had the team batting title with a .328 average for 12 conference games. Buckeye third baseman, Bob Montebello, topped the league's hitters with .467. He also led in most hits with 21. Teammate Stew Hein topped the conference in runs with 16 and tied another Buckeye, Carl Parrill, in stolen bases with six. Montebello also tied teammate Elbert Gutzwiller in total bases with 27. Gutzwiller paced the Big Ten with 16 runs-batted-in.

The mosquito always was a nuisance but never regarded as an especially important insect until it was discovered that the blood-sucking female carries disease from person to person.

U. S. Navy Teaches Helicopter Fine Points Learned In Korea

By JOHN D. BENT
NEA Staff Correspondent

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Marine Lt. Max Nebergall is back from Korea, wearing a red baseball cap of luminous satin and teaching aviators how to do tricks in a flying windmill that would amaze even the birds.

He's one of the instructors in the Navy's first full-fledged helicopter school at Elyson Field, Pensacola, where HTU-1 is now training all Navy, Marine and Coast Guard HELICOPTER GRADUATION—At the end of their training, "whirlybird" pilot trainees learn how to haul a man up from the ground while remaining aloft. In the precarious flying along Korea battlefronts sometimes had to rest the nose wheel on the peak of a hill when delivering men and as one man left the balanced machine another had to replace him.

filers who want what others call a "whirlybird" career.

Nebergall is the only instructor at Elyson who flew 'copters in Korea, where the hovering aircraft really came into its own. One of the tricks he describes for his students was flying relief men to outposts in terrain so rugged that even a helicopter couldn't land.

Rested Nose Wheel

All he could do was bring the 'copter down far enough to balance the nose wheel on the peak of a hill. To maintain this precarious balance, as fast as one man left the helicopter, another one had to get in to replace him.

Nebergall wears the red baseball cap to distinguish instructor from students. Some of the teachers are seasoned fliers in other types of aircraft, and hold relatively high ranks. They wear caps that glow orange.

The eight-week course includes two weeks of ground school, four weeks in small, primary helicopters, and two more weeks in the big 'copters like those now in service in Korea.

The primary trainers have skids instead of wheels, the idea being that they can't taxi and thus the students have to learn to take off straight up.

In the bigger machines, they must learn how to haul men up from the ground or water while remaining aloft, using a winch in the cockpit. During training, sandbags simulate men being rescued, but for his final examination, each student hauls up an enlisted man from the field as a live load.

The "whirlybirds" have been taking over many jobs in the fleet formerly assigned to conventional aircraft. Cmdr. Ben Moore, who learned to fly 'copters in their pioneer days, has speeded up the program at HTU-1, of which he's skipper, to meet the new demand for pilots.

If any of the cadets training in other types of aircraft at Pensacola have doubts about the 'copter, they soon change their ideas when they see the training unit's whirlybirds rescue cadets who crashed in Pensacola Bay.

PACER SETS RECORDS

NEW YORK — If the roan pacer, White Mountain Boy, never does anything else he will still be remembered as the first horse to hold track records simultaneously at both New York City trotting tracks — Roosevelt Raceway and Yonkers. The five-year-old stallion established the track record at Roosevelt last year with a mile in 2:00.35. This season he did a 2:02.45 mile at Yonkers for a record.

SUNNY JIM GOES ON

NEW YORK — James Fitzsimmons, more popularly known as "Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons," has trained the Belair Stud horses in addition to the Wheatley Stable for 25 years. Fitzsimmons began his long association with the turf in 1884 when he abandoned a milk route at the race track to begin galloping horses for the Brannon Brothers at Sheepshead Bay.

AERIAL UMBRELLA WORKED

NEW YORK — The marvelous "aerial umbrella" of the New York football Giants of 1950 allowed only 11 touchdowns through enemy air action. Of these, six goals were scored in games the Giants won easily.

HEADS GARDEN CLUBS—Mrs. G. C. Spillers of Tulsa, Okla., will be the new president of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., an organization with 25,000 members in 7700 garden clubs in 41 State Federations. Elected at the annual meeting, in Missoula, Mont., she has been a director of the National Council for 12 years.

WIFE BRINGS LUCK

SPRINGFIELD, MASS. — (AP)—Ball players should bring their wives to the parks more often. This is the opinion of Fred Richards, first baseman for the Springfield Cubs of the International League. Richards' wife saw her husband play for the Cubs for the first time. Against the Toronto Maple Leafs, Fred smacked a grand slam homer, triple and double. He was hitting only .220 at the time.

Where Have You Been all its Life?

THIS ad is addressed to the fellow known as "the man on the street."

From that vantage point, you must have noticed that a lot of folks are driving 1951 Buicks.

You must have noted that you can spot one of these beauties—by its sparkling forefront—its gleaming fender ports—(three for the SPECIAL and SUPER, four for the ROADMASTER)—and by its fluent grace of lines and contours.

You've probably noticed, also, that these Buicks give a good account of themselves in traffic—ease to a gentle stop—get away to a nimble start when the light says, "Go."

You may even have noticed that these cars have a level-gaited stride that traces, as we've said before, to the fact that each wheel rides beneath its own coil spring.

But what we'd like to know is—when are you going to try one?

It's about time you climbed in the driver's seat. It's about time that you sensed for yourself the thrill that comes from feeling your shoulders sink back in the cushions, when your toe gives the gas treadle a gentle nudge.

It's about time for you to be on the receiving end of those admiring glances which are the due of folks smart enough to pick the smart buy of the year.

What's holding you back? It can't be price—for as you can quickly discover for yourself, you can own a SPECIAL for less than the price of some sixes—and SUPERS or ROADMASTERS are just as smart a buy in their fields.

So why not end the suspense? The welcome mat is out at our show-rooms. We hope to greet you soon.

No other car provides all this:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL ENGINE—high-compression, valve-in-head—gets more miles from every tank of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—assure greater clarity, especially at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—seals the chassis, steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions and levels the ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times of brake drum
- STREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models
- Plus! Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

Daddy Ringtail And Swordfish

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was dreaming a happy dream of fishing for fish way out in the ocean. Ah yes, in the dream the Huffen was dreaming, he was sitting in a little boat way out where the ocean is deep, deep. He sat in the boat and held his fishing pole in his hands.

And what do you guess was to happen next? Why, of a sudden the fishing pole almost was jerked from the Huffen's hands. A fish way down in the water had pulled on the string, but the Huffen held tight to the pole. He held so tight he was jerked head first right into the water "ker-splash!"

Well, fortunately, the fish turned loose of the string, and so the Huffen could swim to his boat and climb back in with the fishing pole, and begin the fishing all over again.

to take the swordfish home to show everyone what a big swordfish it was he caught in his dream. Teh! Teh! Teh! How sad, too bad. Happy day! (Copyright 1951, General Features Corp.)

What a monstrous fish it must have been to jerk the Huffen into the water, and the Huffen still was wanting to catch it.

Jerk again! The Huffen held on tight to the pole and braced himself with his feet against the side of the boat. What a fight and pull there was! The fish in the boat was fighting to pull the Huffen in, and the Huffen in the boat was fighting and pulling the fish out.

What a fight! What a battle! What pulling! With a last desperate pull, the Huffen pulled hard and out of the water came the fish to "kerpop" in the bottom of the boat.

The fish really was a swordfish with a sword on the end of his nose, and he wasn't yet ready to say he was caught. He began to sword-fight with the Huffen, and the Huffen was mighty lucky, believe me, that he happened to have a sword along to do the sword-fighting with.

Well, they sword-fought there all over the boat. First it seemed the swordfish would win, and then it seemed the Huffen would win. Oh, the swordfish was fast and furious.

Ah yes, but it happened at last that the Huffen's sword was knocked from his hand and out in the water, and so the swordfish had won the fight. Back in the water the swordfish jumped and swam away, and the Huffen did not get HILLSIDE PENTAGON—Out of a Maryland hillside the Department of Defense is carving an emergency Pentagon and while the military has kept the project under security wraps except for a terse announcement, excitement and curiosity among residents living in the area have been intense. It is called the Camp Ritchie project and recent orders issued to all Pentagon employes, giving them specific, secret points to report to in case of attack, indicate the project might soon be ready for partial use. This photo from Pathfinder is a long-range view of the project.

Huge Emergency Pentagon Being Carved Out Of Hill

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Night and day for more than six months, Army engineers have been tunneling into Raven Rock Mountain, 90 miles from Washington, to build a stand-by Pentagon for use in case of A-bomb attack.

Recent orders issued to all Pentagon employes, giving them specific, secret points to report to in case of attack, indicate the project might soon be ready for partial use.

What is called the Camp Ritchie Project has been kept under heavy security wraps. The only official announcement of its existence was a terse Department of Defense release a year ago which said, "plans are going forward for the establishment of a supplemental communications installation at and near Camp Ritchie, Md." The site is near the Pennsylvania-Maryland border.

Meantime, rumors of its size, location and use have been rife among Washington's defense employes. Excitement and curiosity among residents living in the area of the project have been intense.

Heavily Guarded
Day and night huge trucks rumble into the heavily guarded gates, loaded with all kinds of building materials and weird machinery. From a nearby highway you can see corrugated iron sheds covering what are apparently huge holes in the side of the mountain.

Surrounding towns such as Blue Ridge Summit, Penn., are booming with business from the thousands of construction workers. P. J. Healy Company, the firm which dug New York's Lincoln Tunnel under the Hudson, is the contractor.

With the Pentagon's top secret label on the project, it's only natural that it would inspire wild speculation. But some solid facts have emerged from the rumors surrounding the Camp Ritchie Project.

There's no doubt that its main function will be to serve as a stand-by communications center for defense officials to direct America's far-flung defense commitments in case the Pentagon is bombed.

It is doubtful whether the project is enormous enough to house all of the 31,000 Pentagon workers. But it will most certainly be used for key defense officials and their staffs. It is estimated that Raven Rock Mountain will have carved out of its insides about 3,000,000 square feet of office space. There is no estimate available as to the cost of the undertaking.

The orders given recently to Pentagon employes specify 20 secret points on the outskirts of Washington at which they should gather in case of enemy bombing attack on the Capitol. Just how many will be told to report to Camp Ritchie from these points is also a matter of secrecy.

Part of the Ritchie project includes living quarters for persons who might have to be working in the big hole.

Negro Cagers Draw Big British Crowds

LONDON —(AP)— English sports fans paid 10,000 pounds sterling ($28,000) to see the Harlem Globetrotters, famed negro basketball team, go through their antics at Wembley Stadium during the first week of their European tour.

The Trotters, who are touring Europe under the sponsorship of an American wine company, are being matched against an all-star team of American players.

The tour includes several cities in England, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Italy, Germany and North Africa.

The 1961 junket followed the most successful season the Trotters have enjoyed since the team was organized 24 years ago. Of 154 scheduled games, the Trotters lost only once.

TEEN TALK
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

You can prove you met that dream boy on vacation—if you have a snapshot to show the girls.

Borrow a camera if you must—but don't fail to take one on vacation. Even if there is no romance to record with your lens you will want to take photographs, perhaps, of bucolic scenes, seascapes, landmarks, historic buildings and new friends, to put in your memory book. Every young girl should have a photograph album packed with little treasures of "firsts" that make growing up a delightful experience.

Photography can be lots of fun, but learn how to take a picture, otherwise you might waste time, film and effort with no results. Just the book for amateurs is "Photography for Teen-Agers" by Lucile Robertson Marshall (Prentice Hall). This new book written by an expert gives you all the information you need to take a good picture. Or you can delve into it at great length if you want to make photography a real hobby.

The book explains how to understand your camera, outdoor and indoor photography, flash, color and portrait photography, making enlargements and even how to hand-color photographs, among other things.

Light, a camera and film are all that is necessary to take pictures. Miss Marshall shows, she explains that all cameras work on the same principle. So it doesn't make any difference whether you have a little box camera or a big important one when you are learning-basic rules.

You'll learn that by opening the lock on your camera, you can load the film and take it out; that an exposure button or trigger on the outside when pressed, opens the shutter, and lets light through the lens to expose the film, and exactly what your lens does as the heart of the camera. These things are basic.

But the things that make a good photograph, says Miss Marshall, are:

Photographic quality... If the film was underexposed or overexposed, or if the camera is out of focus, your picture will be ruined. The best negative can be spoiled if the print made from it is poor...

Proper Lighting... Choose it to bring out the best qualities of the subject are tone down its worst. Train your eye to look on every subject in terms of light and shade, whether it is a baby or a building...

Composition... The arrangement of the subject matter must have unity and balance.

And of course you should choose an interesting subject.

Here are some of the other tips suggested by Miss Marshall:

White seems to dominate, so a little bit of white requires a large amount of gray or black to balance it.

Hold the attention within the picture and don't have an interesting or dominant line leading out of the edge of the print.

Do not have two pictures in one by having two equal centers of interest.

If you are forced to include more material in a picture than you need—don't worry. It can always be cropped to cut off a part that spoils the picture.

North Atlantic Meeting Delayed By Allied Snarl

By LEON DENNEN

PARIS (NEA)—The North Atlantic Council meeting originally scheduled for the beginning of July has been postponed—ostensibly because of strong Allied disagreement over Japan and the defense of the Mediterranean.

John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the State Department who recently visited Europe, is reported to have hit a snag in his efforts to gain Anglo-French agreement on a liberal peace treaty with Japan.

Although repeatedly rebuffed by Mao Tse Tung, the British are believed to be still reluctant to engage in Far Eastern negotiations without the participation of Communist China. London apparently still thinks it is possible to come to some sort of agreement with the Chinese Reds.

On the other hand, France is opposed to either the Communists or the Chinese Nationalists being a party to the Japanese treaty. But the French are also against a liberal treaty which would restore Japan's sovereignty almost with restriction. They fear Moscow's reaction.

They are also afraid that if Japan were to be granted full sovereignty without any restrictions, Western Germany will sooner or later use this as a precedent on which to base similar claims.

Allies Differ

Allied differences over the defense of the Mediterranean go much deeper and involve Anglo-U. S. relations in the Middle East. The U. S. is providing the bulk of the naval air forces in the Mediterranean. The Pentagon would naturally like an American to head the southern flank of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's North Atlantic Command. The southern flank extends from Italy to the North African coast and includes the entire Mediterranean.

During his recent visit to Paris and London, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, is said to have urged that the entire Mediterranean command be given to Vice Adm. Robert B. Carney, commander of U. S. naval forces in the Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

The British would not agree. Later, Eisenhower named Carney as his commander for Allied Forces in Southern Europe under NATO. But the official announcement carefully pointed out that the appointment was "entirely separate from the solution to the Mediterranean problem."

Emanuel Shinwell, British Defense Minister, is said to have told Bradley that it was now practically impossible for the Labor Government to change the original plan for naming an American admiral as supreme naval chief in the Atlantic. But he insisted, in the interest of Anglo-American unity and cooperation, that a Royal Navy man head the Mediterranean command.

Franco Disliked

Bradley was equally unsuccessful in breaking down Anglo-French opposition to the admission of Turkey and Spain into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Spanish regime is universally disliked in the West European democracies. Not so the Turkish government. But Britain fears Turkey's membership in NATO will "extend the area of conflict" with the Russians. This, too, is the view of France which is now under strong Communist pressure in North Africa. The Scandinavian countries generally support the Anglo-French position. Meanwhile, the Turks are irked by the West's delaying tactics. They are ready to turn their backs to the West and resort to a policy of "armed neutrality."

Irving Brown, European representative of the American Federation of Labor, told this correspondent, Brown just returned to Paris from an extended tour of India, Pakistan and the Middle East.

Turks Are Alarmed

The Turkish government is alarmed over the latest concentration of Russian satellite armed forces close to their borders and along the entire Black Sea coast. Turkey's leaders fear the Anglo-French view that a potential Russian - Turkish conflict would be regarded as merely a "local war." This, they believe may encourage Soviet aggression and turn Turkey into "another South Korea."

Turkey, the best armed and most solid country in the Middle East and the Balkans, resents "being taken for granted by the West," Brown said. He warned that there is in Turkey "the beginning of a serious armed neutrality movement."

Ball Thrower's Name Throws Pronouncers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rookie Bob Chakales, righthand twiler for the Cleveland Indians, may have come up with the American League's most mispronounceable name.

The correct way of saying his name is "shackles." And that's exactly what the Indian chief, Manager Al Lopez and General Manager Hank Greenberg, hope the cocky, 23-year-old will do to the sluggers of the junior circuit.

Chakales made the big jump from the Class A Eastern League to the Indians. Last year with Wilkes-Barre, the six-foot, 185 pound southerner won 16 games and lost five. He had an earned run average of 2.04. Both marks were best in the league.

Young Bob is quite a hitter too. His first hit in the big league was a home run in big Comiskey Park in Chicago. In Detroit he smacked a two-out, two-run single to win his own ball game, 3-1.

Back in Richmond, Va., Chakales was an outstanding high school athlete. He was named on the All-State football, baseball and basketball team.

Now under the tutelage of those former great American League hurlers, Red Ruffing and Mel Harder, Chakales should make a go of it in the big time.

Chakales is one of the three bachelors on the Indian squad. Born in Asheville, N. C., he makes his home in Richmond, Va.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says W. R. Abel
Traveling Salesman
El Paso, Texas

"I travel 40,000 miles a year," says Mr. Abel. "Since I've changed to new Conoco Super I never have to add a quart between drains, and I've had no engine trouble."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a 50,000-mile test in blistering heat along the Mexican Border, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence; in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

SHOP FOREMAN
"I have 80,000 miles on my Chevrolet, using Conoco Super Motor Oil," says Nick Motzner, Shop Foreman, Twin Falls, Idaho. "The motor has never been torn down, oil consumption is at a minimum, and gasoline mileage averaged 23 miles to the gallon."

TAXI OPERATOR
"I have noted a decided decrease in maintenance costs and gasoline consumption since changing to your Conoco Super," reports Goddard Langinias, Taxi Fleet Operator, Lafayette, La. "I only wish that all the cabs in my fleet had been broken in with Conoco Super."
