UN Artillery Smashes Red Attacks

Russians Suggest Field Commanders Make Peace Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced Thursday Russia has proposed the United Nations, North Korean and Red Chinese commanders negotiate a Korean armistice.

The Soviet Union suggested armistice terms limited "to strictly military questions."

The proposal was made

Wednesday to Ambassador Alan G. Kirk by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Gromyko in Moscow.

Gromyko, the department said, "indicated that it would be for the military representatives of the unified command and of the Korean Republic command on one hand and the military representatives of the North Korean command and of the Chinese volunteer units on the other to negotiate the armistice envisaged in Mr. Malik's statement."

Suggested in Talk

Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, put forward the original cease-fire suggestion in a speech Saturday.

Kirk, on instructions from Secretary of State Acheson, called on Gromyko Wednesday to seek a clarification of Malik's speech.

The State Department announcement said: "The armistice, Mr. Gromyko pointed out, would include a cease fire and would be limited to strictly military questions without involving any political or territorial matters." (Continued On Page Six)

Shorthorn Loop Play Suspended

The youngsters of Midland's Summer Shorthorn Baseball League, with no baseball diamond left to play on, laid down their bats and hung up their gloves Thursday.

Baseball play on the area east of Memorial Stadium was ordered suspended by the league following complaints of residents in the neighborhood that the afternoon games stirred up too much dust.

And the suspension threatened to spread to the Little League, which uses the same area.

The Shorthorn League, composed of 80 players on five teams, is restricted to boys 13 and 14 years of age and the Little League, composed of 106 boys, is for those between nine and 12.

Complaints against the baseball activities were voiced Tuesday night to the City Council by the residents, who also complained the area was left littered with beer bottles and trash and that the players and spectators used obscene language.

Backstops Ordered Down

"I can find no evidence of beer drinking," said John Redfern, president of the Little League.

"Certainly no one is going to drink those youngsters of drinking beer out there. I have talked to managers of most of the teams in both leagues and to league officials and they tell me they have never seen anyone—either players or spectators—drinking beer at the ball games."

"And I know I have never seen anything like that and I am there" (Continued On Page Six)

HST Joins Labor, Party Supporters In Blast At Critics

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman joined labor and party supporters Thursday in flinging a barrage at Republican critics.

"These confusers and dividers are jeopardizing the security of the country x x x," the President said in a message to a meeting sponsored by New York State Democrats.

The Republicans, declared State Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick, have "lost their identity as a party" and have been taken over by "reactionary Dixiecrats."

"No longer do these Republicans espouse the philosophy of the people who sent them to Congress," Fitzpatrick said. "They have become the tail of the Dixiecrat kite x x x."

State CIO President Louis Hollander said that General MacArthur "has become the rallying-point for all reactionary forces in the country."

"He has put aside the uniform of the United States Army and has come out in the uniform of big business," Hollander said.

Democratic National Chairman William Boyle, Jr., told the meeting President Truman has been "a pioneer in acting to make sure that our government was kept free of disloyal persons."

WORLD HOT SPOT—Iran government reportedly sent additional troops to Abadan refinery as result of Britain's dispatch of cruiser Mauritius to Persian Gulf. Cairo reports said British troops in Suez Canal Zone and on Cyprus were alerted should trouble develop during 72-hour evacuation of 2,500 oil technicians from Abadan. Meanwhile British officials charged the flow of aviation gasoline to RAF base at Basra, Iraq, has been cut by Iranians. Britain ordered 61 tankers in and around Abadan to leave at once, thus causing Agha Jari oil field (east of Abadan) to cease pumping.

Fraud Probe Bill Signed By Shivers

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Thursday signed an election code rewrite giving the attorney general broad powers to investigate fraud in statewide races.

Shivers delayed decision on the controversial measure until the final day on which he could have vetoed or signed it.

He said two weeks ago he was trying to decide whether the good outweighed the bad in the more than 100 changes made in present election statutes.

Provisions in the bill which particularly were hard fought will change convention procedure for political parties and allow a candidate to run for office under the nomination of more than one party.

Charges Made

Opponents charged the first of these two changes would permit Republicans, Dixiecrats or anybody else to move in and take over Democratic conventions.

They said the second change would rub out party lines.

The bill, introduced originally by Rep. Bill Stump of Georgetown but much-amended before final passage, was the result of recommendations made by an interim committee of legislators and citizens. Dean Abner McCall of the Baylor University Law School headed the group.

The new law, effective Jan. 1, 1952, removes the outmoded $10,000 limit on campaign expenditures but tightens up on reporting of expenditures.

It makes scores of minor changes designed to erase duplications and reconcile conflicts in the old statutes which have been confusing to election and party officials for years.

The provision permitting the attorney general to look into alleged election frauds was openly aimed at areas of machine-controlled politics.

Crane Dial System Put Into Operation

CRANE—Crane's new $130,000 dial telephone system went into operation at noon Thursday—six months ahead of schedule.

The change-over took only a few seconds and was made without interruption of service, John B. Moore of Big Spring, manager of Southwestern Bell's Crane plant, said.

Following a pre-arranged schedule in detail, a signal was given and the old telephone system was out of service and the new dial system serving approximately 600 customers, was in operation.

In New Building

Dial service extends into oil field camps adjacent to Crane, affording telephone service to scores of new customers, who long have been on a waiting list.

New telephone directories were distributed here last week.

The dial system, especially designed to meet Crane's telephone needs, was installed in a new building, which was completed recently.

Advance delivery of equipment and early completion of the new building made possible the starting of dial service six months before the original completion date, company officials stated.

Action May Be Offensive Forerunner

TOKYO (AP)—Thundering Allied artillery Thursday smashed a series of Chinese attacks which Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet warned may be forerunners of a new Red offensive in Korea.

The United Nations ground commander foresaw no "major thrust immediately." But, he said on a tour of the fighting fronts, "The Chinese appear to be building up for another effort 'to overrun' UN lines."

Neither Van Fleet nor the Supreme Allied Headquarters of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway would discuss a Russian cease-fire proposal.

Van Fleet said he knew nothing about it.

"Of course, in our hearts, we all want peace," Van Fleet said. "But we won't let up on the enemy."

Sharp fighting flared all across the central front as opposing armies continually probed enemy lines.

Heaviest action was near Kumhwa, where a Red battalion attacked a UN division Wednesday night. Allied artillery broke up the attack in the early morning hours.

Other attacks followed until daylight. All were smashed.

In the adjoining Kumsong sector, two other Red battalions beat back Allied efforts to probe defenses in that Red buildup area.

The Reds are "continuing to defend stubbornly all across the front," Van Fleet commented. "This stubborn defensive attitude shows that they do not want us to go farther north."

And, he added, it "could be screening an attack buildup."

On a visit to all three corps in his Eighth Army, Van Fleet reported he found the morale high—unaffected by Red tactics of cease-fire talk.

C. of C. Panel Seeks Improved, Expanded Airline Services

Improved and expanded airline service for Midland is the goal of the Aeronautics Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which met Wednesday afternoon in the office of Ted Lowe in the Midland Tower.

The committee members voted to request American Airlines to reinstate its original DC-6 flights in order to carry more passengers and to provide faster service. The company now uses Convair planes on its Midland flights. It also was pointed out freight service would be improved if the larger planes again were put into service here.

The committee was advised American now has lengthy waiting lists on most flights in and out of Midland.

Other Projects Cited

Improved service in Pioneer Air Lines' connections with flights in other cities also will be sought by the Chamber's Aeronautics Committee.

An effort to interest Continental Air Lines in expanding its flights in and out of Midland will be made. Additional facilities and services at Midland Air Terminal were discussed by the committee, which will follow-up on several suggestions offered by members.

Attending the session were Bill Collins, chairman; George W. Glass, Stanley M. Erskine, C. of C. president; J. Harvey Herd, Lowe, Clyde Sharrar and Delbert Downing.

Passenger Shoots Man Attempting To Hold Up Bus Driver

HOUSTON (AP)—Joe Willis Harp, 28, was shot in the head Wednesday night as he attempted to hold up a bus driver — the eighth bus driver holdup or attempted holdup here in two weeks.

Harp was shot by one of the 25 passengers. He has been charged with robbery by firearms and is under heavy guard at a hospital.

A. O. Murphy, 37, shot six times with his .45 caliber automatic as Harp leaned in the bus door. From only two seats behind the driver, Murphy slipped his automatic from a satchel and fired at Harp.

Casing Being Run In Gas-Distillate Indicator In Pecos

Operator is cementing five and one-half-inch casing in Greenbriar Oil Company No. 1 R. Levy, wildcat in North Pecos County, after a drillstem test in the Ellenburger indicated the project would make a gas-distillate producer.

The expected discovery developed 1,280 feet of gas-cut mud, including a 1,000-foot water blanket used, on a drillstem test of the Ellenburger from 9,298 to 9,400 feet. Tool was open two and one-quarter hours.

Another test was made from 9,263 to 9,400 feet. On this test the tool was open 25 minutes. Gas surfaced in two minutes. No gauges was made on the gas flow, however it was strong throughout the test. Recovery was 225 feet of drilling mud and 3.1 barrels of condensate.

This project had a good show of gas in the Devonian on a drillstem test when that zone was drilled.

The Ellenburger was topped at 9,247 feet, on a datum point of minus 6,773 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from west and south lines of the southwest quarter of section 104, block 8, H&G survey. That puts it three miles south of Grandfalls.

Parochial Schedules Ten Projects Near Sterling Discovery

Parochial Petroleum Company of Midland filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to drill 10 more projects around its Queen sand discovery in West-Central Sterling County.

All 10 will be dug on Mrs. Henry Bades land and in section 22, block 22, H&G survey.

No. 4 Bades is to be dug 330 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of the section. No. 5 will be 990 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines. Locations for the rest are as follows: No. 6, 990 feet from south and east lines; No. 7, 990 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines; No. 8, 330 feet from south and 2,970 feet from west lines.

No. 9, 990 feet from south and 2,970 feet from east; No. 10, 990 feet from north and 330 feet from east; No. 11, 990 feet from north and east lines; No. 12, 990 feet from north and 1,650 feet from east and 2,970 feet from west lines.

Each of the tests will be dug to around 1,200 feet with rotary tools.

Parochial No. 1 Bades was completed on the pump from open hole at 1,103-13 feet for a daily potential of 23.3 barrels of 32-gravity oil.

Shell Slates Offset For Borden Opener

Shell Oil Company and others have staked location for a one-location north offset to Shell No. 2 Sterling, discovery from the Pennsylvania lime in Southeast Borden County.

It is No. 4 Sterling and is 1,996 feet from south and 656 feet from west lines of section 70, block 25, H&G survey.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling toward the projected depth of 7,000 feet will begin immediately.

No. 4 Sterling is 10 miles southwest of Knapp.

The discovery well was completed for a calculated 24-hour potential of 2,008 barrels of 46.1-gravity oil from open hole at 6,614-6,717 feet. The flow was natural.

The new location is two and one-half miles northeast of the Reinecke field and about the same distance south of the Von Roeder field.

Twelve Spraberry Tests Set In Upton

Twelve more explorations have been staked in the Upton County portion of the Spraberry trend.

Havenstrite Oil Company of Midland filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to drill eight of the tests approximately one mile north-west of the Pembroke field of East-Central Upton.

All eight are to be drilled on W. L. Rawn land and in the east half of section 18, block N, HE&WT survey.

No. 1 will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the section; No. 2 will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines; No. 3 will be 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines; No. 4 is slated to be drilled 660 feet from north and east lines.

No. 5 drillette is to be 660 feet from north and west lines of the east half of the section. No. 6 Rawn (Continued On Page Nine)

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A 47-year-old Kerrville rancher was held in the Bexar County jail Thursday as an escaped Illinois convict, following his arrest here Sunday on a minor charge.

Tony Moran, assistant chief investigator to Bexar County Sheriff Owen Kilday, said the man admitted having been sentenced to one year to life in Illinois for armed robbery in 1937.

Moran said the man had been an honored resident of Kerrville 14 years, had served in the Seabees during the war and five years ago married a well-to-do ranch owner.

Plunging Necklines In Silent Movie Days, Too

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—A full-sized movie empress of the "Come the Dawn" era said pooh-pooh to the expense of chest that some television dolls are showing.

"Dad, she winked, got more of an eye for watching silent movie sirens. Letrice rolled the blue-green orbs that paralyzed the boys back in the days of the piano in the pit and the "Ladies Will Please Remove Their Hats" alids.

"We did it better in the movies than they're doing it on TV," Letrice said in a mink-rich voice. "Did we have plunging necklines? Oh, BROTHER!"
Letrice drew a finger across her midriff.

"Some of my gowns were cut down to here and the backs were even lower. We just didn't push up the bosom in the old days the way they're doing it now. Cecil B. DeMille used to dress me in chiffon gowns. You could see right through them.

Letrice, whose hair is gray now, threw back her head and laughed. Just the way she did it when Rod La Roque asked her to come up and see the new Toulouse-Lautrec in his bachelor apartment or when Thomas Meighan asked her to give up her wicked ways and live the good, clean life.

Chest cold?
Letrice couldn't remember getting one or worrying about them in those slit-way-down days.
Real Windy
"It was the eyelashes that gave us influenza," she howled. "False ones hadn't been invented. We'd snip of long lengths of our own hair and fasten them to our eyelids with tweezers and spirit gum. You never saw such long eyelashes. I'd bat them and they'd stir up a breeze. They were pneumonia things, brother."

I muttered that publicity men must have had a picnic dreaming up copy about Letrice's low-cut gowns with all the white open spaces. Her eyelashes, too, of course.
Letrice frowned:
"No, publicity was different in those days, brother. I pick up movie magazines and read all those inside stories. "The Truth About Betty Hutton," "The Real Dan Dailey." There was more of a secretive feeling about stars when the movie industry was young. Nobody knew or cared what we ate for breakfast. We didn't do ad tie-ups.

"Our big publicity was about the trips we took. We'd go up to Big Bear Lake for a weekend. Wow. The public went wild. Or what we'd do to Chicago. Zowie. A star's make-up secrets were hot copy. And people always were naming their babies after me. I used to send out gold medals to all the little Letrices in the nation.

"People weren't let in on our romances. John Gilbert and I were the first two big stars to marry. I didn't make the headlines. We were together and separated, together and separated. Our marriage was hectic. But nobody dreamed of putting our fights on the front page. Nobody telephoned us for exclusives or broke down our door for scoops. It was a different kind of Hollywood."

Turns Domestic
Letrice retired from movies to devote her time to her small daughter, Letrice Joy Gilbert, but returned briefly in 1929 to prove that she could play in talks with the best of them in "The Belamy Trial" and "A Most Immoral Lady."

"Twenty years passed and she stayed away from the sound stages until she was lured back for "Red Stallion in the Rockies." "A WAC in His Life" is her first picture since "Red Stallion" became a TV classic.

She's now the wife of Arthur K. Westermarck and lives on a 50-foot boat off Balboa Island. She does her marketing in a dingy which she calls "Second Childhood" and feels sorry for people who have to live on terra firma.

House Committee Chairman Predicts Tidelands Bill Veto

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee predicts a veto for a bill his committee approved returning title to the Tidelands to the states.

Texas, Louisiana and California have oil deposits under the offshore lands.
"They will override in the House, but they can't possibly do it in the Senate," he said, recalling President Truman vetoed a similar bill four years ago.

The Supreme Court has asserted the federal government has paramount interest in the Tidelands.
The House is expected to take up the bill about 10 days after a July 4 recess. Speaker Rayburn has asserted he will support the bill.

Celler told a reporter after the committee session adjourned that he was confident a presidential veto could not be overridden.
"They will override in the House," he said, "but they can't possibly do it in the Senate."
He listed the following representatives as having been present and joining him in voting against the bill:
Byrne (D-NY), Feighan (D-Ohio), Ramsey (D-WVa), Lane (D-Mass) and Bakewell (R-Mo).

Rep. Rodino (D-NJ) sent in a proxy vote, said Celler, which would actually have made the division 18 to 7 if a record vote had been taken. Reps. Machrowicz (D-Mich) and Keating (R-NY) were present at the session but did not vote. Two members who were absent and did not send proxies were Reps. Frazier (D-Tenn) and Rogers (D-Colo.).
The list of Representatives supporting the state ownership bill was not available but Celler said Rep. Willis (D-La) was among them.

Walter Jenkins To Run For Congress
WICHITA FALLS.—(P)—Walter Jenkins has quit as administrative assistant to Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson and will run for congressman of the 13th District.
The 33-year-old resident of Wichita Falls announced his intentions Wednesday.
Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls has resigned as 13th District congressman, effective July 1, to work for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.
Gov. Allan Shivers has not yet set a date for the special election to fill the thirteenth congressional vacancy.

Texas Cattlemen Insist There's No Strike Against Government's Beef Price Controls

PORT WORTH.—(P)—Texas' billion-dollar cattle industry is busying like a nest full of angry hornets with denials that there is - or ever has been - a cattlemen's strike against price controls on beef.

Cattlemen insist there has been no deliberate effort on their part to hold cattle from the market as a means of fighting the Administration's price regulations.
One cattlemen, when asked about it, exclaimed: "We don't want to be regulated. There's no secret about that. We don't like the government messing into our business. But we don't strike against the government."

"How can a cattlemen strike? When a steer is ready for the market - it has to go to market. That's all there is to it."
Reports of a cattlemen's strike after receipts at the 12 big markets dropped to a trickle a few weeks ago.
There was talk the growers deliberately were holding back their steers in a fight against the beef price rollbacks ordered by the Office of Price Stabilization as a means of reducing the retail price paid by housewives in the butcher shop.

Wait And See Policy
But many government men, cattle buyers, stockyard men and newspaper farm editors agree there has been no strike by cattlemen although cattlemen have adopted a "wait and see" policy on price controls.
Here is their explanation of the situation:
Texas is the biggest cattle producing state in the union, growing one-tenth of all the cattle produced in the country.
For the most part, these cattle are fattened in the Spring on new grass. Some of them then are sold direct to the slaughterer - - but the great bulk of them are sold to "feeders" in the Midwest. There they are fattened further with grass and corn before going to the market. The feeders make their profit by putting the extra pounds on the cows and rounding them into prime beefs.

But Texas had a dry spring this year. The rain didn't come until late in April and early May. Then the grasslands turned green again and there was good, cheap grass feed.
W. L. Pier, manager of the Fort Worth Stockyard, said:

"Our season is five to six weeks late this year. I'm surprised we've had the receipts we have had."
"Our first good rains came in late April and with them the grass. That's the only free feed the cattlemen has to put poundage on his cattle."
The Administration contends controls are necessary to bring beef prices into line with other costs. OPS Director Mike DiSalle said unless it is done there will be "irresistible economic pressures to raise wages and other prices to the level of cattle prices."

David Warfield, 84, Dies In New York

NEW YORK.—(P)—David Warfield, 84, one of the great names in the American theater, died Wednesday night.

Warfield zoomed from burlesque to stardom at the turn of the century and retired from the stage 27 years ago at the peak of his success.
His fame has never died in theatrical circles. Oldtimers still recall how he started his career as a 64-a-week usher in a San Francisco Music Hall.

It was back in 1900 that Producer Belasco "discovered" Warfield doing a comedy routine with the Weber and Fields Burlesque Company. For the next 24 years, Warfield's named glittered in marquee along Broadway.
Some of his hits were "A Grand Army Man," "The Flying Dutchman," and "The Merchant of Venice."

Then, in 1924, he retired to his apartment overlooking Central Park, spinning a million dollar movie offer to make any single picture he chose. Warfield termed the movies "animated photographs."

It is estimated that there are about 1,000 miles of toll roads in the United States, and many hundreds of miles more have been authorized.

Crane Couple Repeats Vows

CRANE—Pvt. and Mrs. James H. Zaroferitis, Jr., will make their home in Fort Smith, Ark. The couple was married Saturday in the First Baptist Church.

She is the former Geneva Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Baker of Crane. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Zaroferitis, also of Crane.

The couple exchanged vows before an arch decorated with pastel daisies. Arrangements of white stock and maroon daisies were placed on either side of the arch and palm trees formed the background.

The Rev. O. E. Coleman of Vincent officiated at the single-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon dress fashioned with a V-shaped neck. She wore matching gloves and length. She wore matching length net veil and a lace-covered cap. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and white ribbons and feverfew.

A blue lace dress and matching accessories was worn by Patsy Dulin, the maid of honor. The best man was Sammie White. Joe Barron and Lloyd Wetsel were the ushers.

Sgt. Leonard Tomlinson of Wichita Falls sang "I Love You Truly" and the wedding music was played by Jenny Porter and Mrs. A. E. Galloway.

Floral arrangements of pastel daisies decorated the Gulf Recreation Hall where the reception was held. The wedding cake was decorated with silver bells and pink flowers.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Zaroferitis wore a navy blue voile dress and orchid accessories.

The bride was graduated with the 1951 class of Crane High School and Zaroferitis was a member of the 1951 class before entering the service.

Kansas, Louisiana Staggering From Weather's Effects

By The Associated Press

Two states staggered Thursday from effects of the weather—too much rain in Kansas; none in Louisiana.

Water ran knee deep in some Kansas communities. Thousands of acres of farmland were flooded. Rain, hail and wind has caused an estimated $22,000,000 to $24,000,000 damage to crops, livestock and stored grain.

The Kansas forecast: more rain. In Louisiana, farmers hoped and prayed for rain as they expressed fear of severe damage to rice and sugar cane crops. Milk production dropped 15 per cent below normal.

Planes flew over the drought area seeding clouds with dry ice in an attempt to bring rain to parched farmlands.

Drinking water was being hauled to residents of several communities between New Orleans and Baton Rouge. Wells were drying up and cutting off city water supplies in Louisiana's table Evangeline country.

Heavy windstorms struck several communities in Central Illinois Wednesday night, causing thousands of dollars property damage. One man was killed and more than 30 persons injured.

A tornado struck between St. Paris and Westville in West Central Ohio Wednesday night causing heavy property damage. Four persons were injured.

52 Counties May Be Unable To Get Mexican Laborers

AUSTIN —(P)—Fifty-two Texas counties may be unable to get farm labor from Mexico because of discriminatory conditions in the countries.

Thomas S. Sutherland, executive director of the Texas Council on Human Relations, disclosed the names of the 52 counties Thursday.

"Unless immediate action is taken to prevent it, careless human relations will rob the farmer of his labor and the merchant of his profit from sales to cotton pickers in about 50 Texas counties," Sutherland said.

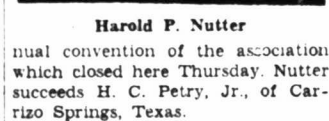

"This information should be known in the respective counties because otherwise farmers may invest in premature trips to Mexico in search of labor," he stated.

He said committees should work to eliminate discrimination in schools, by public officers, and in places serving the public.

Sutherland included the following counties as ones which "may find that they do not satisfy the clause requiring no discriminatory conditions when they apply for Mexican farm labor": Andrews, Coleman, Colorado, Crane, Ector, Upton and Winkler.

Nuzum Defense Witnesses Called

LAS CRUCES, N.M. —(P)—The defense was to call witnesses Thursday in the trial of Jerry Nuzum, Pittsburgh Steelers halfback.

Nuzum, 27, is charged with murder and manslaughter in the death in 1949 of a Las Cruces waitress, 18-year-old Ovida Cookler.

Miss Cookler disappeared the night of March 30, 1949. Her body was found in a sandy grave south of here April 16, 1949, by rabbit hunters.

Wednesday Dr. Dwight Rife testified that human flesh and blood was found on Nuzum's car in 1949. The substance examined by Dr. Rife, officers said, was scraped from the right rear spring shackles of the auto.

Testimony given by Ruby May Land, Littlefield, Texas, negro, was read. Her story was that her two-year-old son was hit by Nuzum's car sometime in 1949, but the boy suffered no injury.

Dr. A. D. Maddox testified Miss Cookler probably died from a blow on the head "by some blunt object." He said the blow might have been the result of being hit by an automobile.

Jesse Jones Replies To Criticism Of RFC Loans To Railroads

HOUSTON —(AP)— Jesse Jones answered criticism of Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad by saying the agency had made a profit of more than $20,000,000 on them.

The former chairman of the RFC, federal loan administrator and secretary of commerce, Wednesday made this assertion in a statement to the Banking Committee of the U. S. Senate.

And he said the railroad's present indebtedness to the RFC is secured by marketable and other securities worth three times the amount of the indebtedness.

The RFC's handling of B. and O. loans was criticized in a report made public by the Banking Committee in Washington June 1, nearly four years after it was submitted by Senator Tobey (R-NH).

The Tobey report said the "RFC fitted itself into the B. and O.'s scheme of things, allowed B. and O. to handle its funds in a way injurious to the RFC's own interest, but necessary to B. and O.'s plan for a reorganization in 1944, and by this course of conduct made itself an accessory before the fact to an unnecessary reorganization."

To Aid Railroads

Jones statement noted that the RFC was largely created in 1932 to help railroads in financial difficulty. He said the B. and O. was among the first to apply for help.

After detailing the B. and O.'s loan applications and other matters relating to them, Jones said:

"I am advised that B. and O.'s present indebtedness to the RFC of approximately $75,000,000 is secured by marketable and other securities having a value of approximately $200,000,000. I am also advised that B. and O. has paid the RFC slightly more than $59,000,000 interest on its various borrowings; therefore, instead of RFC suffering a loss on its loans to the B. and O., it has made a profit in excess of $20,000,000, since its loans have borne four per cent, and the average cost of money to the government for the past 18 years has been not over 2 1/2 per cent. The administrative expense and bookkeeping incident to these loans have been practically nil."

Jones was head of the RFC at the time the railroad applied for its first loans.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), a member of the banking committee, commented on the Jones statement. He said he never did feel anything was wrong in the B. and O. transaction.

"While I am not familiar with the testimony in detail, it seems to me the loan was properly made," he said.

24 Boy Scouts End Their Outing

Twenty-four Boy Scouts returned to Midland this week after spending seven days at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch near Belton.

The group included nine Scouts from Troop 54 of the First Baptist Church under the leadership of L. E. Patterson and Dr. Glenn Walker; 10 from Troop 53 of Terminal, G. N. Hughes, Scoutmaster; and five from Troop 185 of the Midland Lion's Club, who joined Troop 53 for the camp period.

The Scout Ranch closed last Sunday for three weeks, to be resumed July 15 with an estimated 150 Scouts from the Buffalo Trail Council in attendance during the first of the remaining four weeks.

Fifty More Expected

Fifty Midland Scouts are expected to spend the week of July 15 to 22 at the ranch, and will represent Troop 84 of St. Ann's Catholic Church; Troop 85 of the Presbyterian Church; Troop and Explorer Post 152, First Methodist Church; and Troop 153 of the First Christian Church.

Council executive staff members scheduled to serve in leadership capacities during the remaining four weeks of camp include Henry Norris of Sweetwater, Stuart Painter of Odessa and Don Galbreath of Midland.

In addition, the staff will include a camp doctor and a number of young men who are specialists in various fields of Scouting.

Wetback Measure Heads Into Dispute

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A House-approved bill letting U. S. farmers contract workers from Mexico is headed into a dispute with the Senate over a provision opening the way for hiring "wetbacks."

The House approved its bill Wednesday 240-139. It would permit employment of Mexicans who entered the United States legally—but also wetbacks, provided they are otherwise eligible for admission and satisfactory arrangements can be worked out with the Mexican government.

"Wetback" is a term used in the Southwest to describe Mexicans who enter this country illegally, by such means as swimming the Rio Grande.

Exterminator For Boll Weevils Is Believed Success

HENDERSON —(AP)— A Texas tenant farmer made a dream come true and some of the folks who saw it think his home-made boll weevil exterminator may be the dream of the cotton industry.

Fifty skeptical Henderson farmers watched E. E. Perry demonstrate his exterminator Wednesday.

"I don't know much about cotton farming," said Phil Dibert, Tyler Morning Telegraph state editor, "but you should have seen the bugs that thing killed."

The 50-year-old Perry, father of 11 children, had a fruitless struggle with weevils in 30 acres of cotton last year.

Weevils Is Believed Success

Then he got the idea for his exterminator. "I saw it in a dream one night."

It works like this:

Two metal hoods, open at the front and back, hang on each side of a tractor engine. They look like oversized rural mail boxes with the front, back and bottom knocked out.

Each hood has metal springs or agitators inside which shake and jostle cotton as the tractor drives over them. A tank mounted on the tractor hood holds a special liquid insecticide. The tractor's exhaust is utilized to vaporize the insecticide and spray it into the hoods as stalks pass through.

APPETITE FOR PIPE

Shipments of pipe for the petroleum industry in 1950 totaled about four million tons. This was approximately 45 per cent of the total steel pipe shipments last year, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute. The pipe was used by the industry to drill a record number of wells and to keep an abundant supply of petroleum products moving to the American people.

HAND IS INJURED

Gerald F. Looney of 222 North Weatherford Street was given emergency treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday for a hand injury. His hand was caught between a drill pipe and the rig elevator.

MEDICAL PATIENT

Mrs. Jackie Stewart of Midland was admitted Wednesday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

FOR SURGERY

Mrs. Floyd Maberry of Midland was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday for surgery.

Texas Contribution To Polio Fight Listed

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texans contributed $1,950,632 to the 1951 March of Dimes.

The total was announced Wednesday by State Campaign Director Ed S. Stewart of Abilene. It was $388,899 more than was collected in 1950.

Stewart said the increased incidence of polio was a contributing factor in the increase.

Nevertheless, he said the high incidence in Texas the last three years has caused the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to spend more than it has collected in Texas for the period.

MEDICAL PATIENT

Joseph Finn of 206 East New York Street was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Thursday as a medical patient.

Rotarians Hear Convention Report; Install Officers

District Gov. Percy Bridgewater and Dr. J. O. Shannon, new president of the Midland Rotary Club, reported on the annual convention of Rotary International, which they attended recently in Atlantic City, N. J., at the club's regular meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Seabauer.

They reviewed convention activities and told of the convention's special entertainment, guest speakers and business sessions. Both speakers lauded the international aspect of Rotary.

Bridgewater also told of attending Rotary's assembly for district governors at Lake Placid, N. Y., prior to the convention. He said the session was the most inspirational experience of his life.

The Midland Rotarians, accompanied by their wives, visited in Bermuda before returning to Midland.

Carver Band Check

A check for $1,000 was presented by James N. Allison, retiring president, to the Carver High School Band for the purchase of uniforms. Wesley Martin, representing the Midland public schools, accepted the club's check. The Carver Band Fund has been a major project of the club this year.

Allison, after expressing thanks and appreciation to officers, directors and club members for their support and cooperation during the last year, handed the gavel to Dr. Shannon, who made a brief acceptance talk.

Other officers, including Paul Davis, vice president and Directors F. W. Barnett, L. E. Patterson, Jr., and Dr. Glenn Walker, were introduced.

R. L. Miller, a past president of the club, presented a past president's pin to Allison, with thanks from the club for "an excellent year in Rotary."

Watson Tells El Paso Club Of Basin Gains

EL PASO—James C. Watson, editor of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, told the Kiwanis Club here Wednesday of what the oil industry in West Texas and New Mexico is doing to meet the increasing needs of defense and civilian operations.

Watson said oil explorations completed had jumped from 973 in 1950 to 5,805 in 1950. He estimated the 1950 total would be equaled, if not exceeded.

"The new reserves here have far exceeded any other area of the United States," Watson said.

MORE AND MORE CARS

Total motor vehicle registrations climbed to 49,143,275 in 1950 from 44,670,588 the year previous, with passenger cars alone up 10.7 per cent to a record high of 40,315,175, according to the Bureau of Public Roads. The agency's annual report showed truck registrations increased 7.2 per cent to 8,604,448 in 1950, while buses increased 7.1 per cent to 223,652.

On lake Maracaibo in Venezuela is the fishing village of El Mojan built on stilts above the lake waters with swaying catwalks for sidewalks. It is near a great oil development in the lake.

Newspaper Plugs Leak In Oil Tank

Please, Mr. Thompson, you're making us blush!

"But," insisted George W. Thompson, "What I'm telling you is the truth."

The Reporter-Telegram did a fine job and we're proud of you."

Well, go ahead, then, Mr. Thompson, but pardon us while we coyly lower our eyelashes.

"Well, you see I'm station foreman for the Houston Pipe Line Division of Gulf Refining Company and we have our tanks out here three miles east of the city."

"The other day, one of the tanks sprung a leak and there were 60,000 barrels of valuable oil spouting at the rate of 50 barrels an hour out of that little hole about the size of a quarter."

"We just couldn't get the hole plugged so we put in a call for Mr. (R. R.) Russell, your circulation manager and he rushed a couple hundred pounds of The Reporter-Telegram out there."

"We tore the paper into little pieces, soaked it in water and started dropping it into the tank from a manhole on top. In no time at all the paper was drawn into the hole and the leak was plugged."

"It saved us quite a bit of oil, too, until we could drain the tank and repair the leak."

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Thursday morning that he had instructed city workmen to remove immediately the backstops the city had erected for use by the Shorthorn League.

Travel Is Problem

"It crowded the area too much with two diamonds," he said.

"So we are taking down the backstop at the north end and will re-see it for grass. I don't think the other diamond will be affected."

But the City Council Tuesday night suggested that the city park commission look into the possibility of building some baseball diamonds at Wadley, three miles north of the business district, for use by the baseball leagues.

"Wadley" said Redfern, "presents transportation problems which are practically insurmountable."

He said the youngsters participating in the leagues come from throughout the city and it would be impossible for some of them to reach the Wadley site.

ters; the military representatives would discuss questions of assurance against the resumption of hostilities.

"Beyond the conclusion of an armistice the Soviet government had no specific steps in mind looking toward the peaceful settlement to which Mr. Malik referred. Mr. Gromyko indicated, however, that it would be up to parties in Korea to decide what subsequent special arrangements would have to be made for a political and territorial settlement."

Unaware Of Views

"He said that the Soviet government was not aware of the views of the Chinese Communist regime in Mr. Malik's statement."

"The implications of Mr. Gromyko's observations are being studied. The Department of State is consulting with the representatives of other countries having armed forces in Korea under the unified command."

At the time of the department's announcement, Assistant Secretary of State John D. Hickerson was engaged in a series of conferences with diplomats representing many of the countries fighting in Korea.

American officials were described as encouraged over Russia's response to their first request for clarification of Malik's cease fire suggestion.

...WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(AP)—Americans sent 21,000,000 letters to relatives and friends behind the Iron Curtain last year as part of a peace campaign, a State Department official said Thursday.

holes" in the tax system, partly by reducing tax-reducing privileges of the oil and coal industries and by stiffening rules on taxing family partnership set-ups.

Snyder noted the House bill would yield only $2,847,000,000 in extra revenue from individual income taxes as against the $2,800,000,000 added by the Administration.

To make up the difference, he proposed a one percentage point increase in the tax rates in addition to the House-approved boost.

An extra percentage point in the rates would mean an additional tax of $1 on each $100 of the taxpayer's income after deductions for church, charity and so on and exemptions for dependents.

On the excise or sales taxes, Snyder observed the House bill generally follows Treasury proposals on which goods should be subjected to higher taxes, but he said it "does not raise the rates as much as proposed."

"Additional revenue could be obtained, particularly from the liquor and tobacco taxes and a number of consumer durable goods," he said.

He asked that the capital gains tax rate be increased to 37 1/2 per cent, as the Administration originally proposed, compared with the present 25 per cent rate and House-approved 28.1 per cent.

NEW OIL RECOVERY PROCESS UTILIZES SODA POP WATER

Carbonated water, the "life" of most soda pops, now is being used for water flooding of oil wells. Information about the new development is a guarded secret, but it has been reported that "carbonated water modifies the condition of many oil sands so that oil is more readily recoverable than by present water flood procedures."

The process is being tested in western New York where core tests show oil content up to 30 per cent still in the sands after conventional water-flooding. Secondary recovery is one of the industry's latter day tools to conserve natural resources by recovering the maximum amount of oil from each field.

DRY ICE FROM PETROLEUM

160 GOLFERS ENTERED—

Odessa's Bob French Shoots 68 To Capture Medalist Honors In Midland Invitation Meet

Natty Bob French of Odessa burned the Midland Country Club Golf Course with a blazing 68 Wednesday, to lead a huge field of 160 golfers in the qualifying round of the annual invitation tournament here.

Attired in two-toned brown and white shoes, tan slacks and a colorful sports shirt, French came in only one stroke better than Midland's Charles Wallace and J. W. Stone, who posted scores of 69. But French had enough to come through to earn the medalist title.

Defending Champion Billy Maxwell is competing in the NCAA tournament in Columbus, Ohio, and will not enter the Midland Invitation this year.

An oddity cropped up in the qualifying round Wednesday, when young Jimmy Conine managed a hole-in-one on hole number seven, yet finished with a score of 100. Conine used an eight iron on the 129-yard hole to sink his ace.

Schedule
Golfers teed off at 8 a.m. Thursday in the nine-hole flights. First flight linkmen began shortly before noon, with the championship light getting underway at 1 p.m. in the first day's match play. The meet concludes Sunday.

King's Row

by Larry King

President Hal Sayles won't believe it, but a packed house of Midland fans actually cheered Umpires Averill and Skillin here Wednesday night.

The earth-shaking event came about in the sixth inning when the Indians got a couple of men on base against Big Spring, and Catcher Valdez started his customary stalling tactics.

Umpire Averill strode quickly to the conference being held at the mound, waved his hands in sign language and convinced the Cubans he meant for them to play baseball.

That stopped what could have been a repetition of Tuesday's two-hour forty-five minute marathon, and the game was completed in an hour, fifty-three minutes—very, very speedy in this day of stalling baseball.

And to Umpires Averill and Skillin, thanks for making the Broncs play ball.

—KR—
Don Blair, the tall, left-handed rookie pitcher, has been released by the Indians. Blair lost one, won none here for the Indians in his stay here. He is a brother of Ralph Blair.

—KR—
There's plenty of interest in the Midland Invitation Tournament now underway at Midland Country Club.

Hugh Welch, likeable sports editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times is in Midland covering the tournament for his paper. We'll see you on the greens.

Murphy Eyes Maxim After Butchering Jake La Motta

NEW YORK — Irish Bob Murphy, the fighting ex-salador almighty, was in sight of his goal Thursday—a shot at the light heavyweight title—following his smashing seven round technical knockout of Jake La Motta.

The smiling, red-haired slugger, boxing's latest boxoffice sensation and the pugilistic hit of television, set the stage for a crack at champion Joey Maxim by battering the Bronx Bull before 21,257 at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night. The gross take was $116,690.

From the fifth on La Motta, very slow afoot at a bulky 175 pounds, dripped blood from every pore. He was cut over and under both eyes, was cut on the chin and mouth, and there were dark bruises on his cheeks.

Just before the bell rang to end the seventh round, blood gushed from a deep cut over Jake's left eye.

Hernandez Hurls As Lions Win 11-9

Broncs Nip Indians 3-0

A neat pitching performance by Pancho Perez helped the Big Spring Broncs to a 3-0 win over the Midland Indians here Wednesday night, in spite of a fine mound game by Eddie Jacome.

Perez allowed but four hits, Jacome eight. Big Spring hit with men on base, and the Indians committed costly errors at the wrong time.

The Broncs cracked the ice in the fifth when Junco reached base by error, and scored on Quintano's hit. In the sixth, Gomez singled, stole second and scored when Hayden White dropped a pop fly by Juan Izaguirra. Perez singled Quintano home with the last run in the ninth inning.

Midland got a man past second only one time. Scooter Hughes, Eddie Melillo and Jacome singled for the Tribe, and Kenny Jones doubled. That was the extent of their offensive efforts.

The same two teams meet in Big Spring Thursday night.

Texas League—Eagles Win Again—But So Do Buffs

Dallas won another Texas League baseball game Wednesday night 3-1 over Tulsa.

Unhuh, so did Houston. So that leaves Dallas ahead by a game and one-half and continues a situation that's beginning to make Houston fans squirm. Houston can't catch the Eagles and the Buffs have been trying hard near a month.

In other games, Houston blanked Beaumont 1-0, Shreveport white-washed San Antonio 4-0 and Fort Worth downed Oklahoma City 5-1.

Good pitching featured every game, with Hal Erickson tossing a seven hitter at Tulsa; Al Pappal winning his 11th game on an eight hit performance; Cliff Coggins stopping San Antonio with three hits and Ray Moore stopping Oklahoma City with a seven hit job.

Dallas was without the services of First Baseman Herb Conyers and Catcher Dick Kinaman for the next few days. Conyers has an unexplained pain under his shoulder blade and Kinaman was hit on the knee by a pitched ball in the seventh inning and had to leave the game.

Black Indians To Meet Florida Cubans At 8:15 p.m.

Longhorn League—Oilers, Broncs, Dusters, Rockets Cop Contests

Happy days are here again in Odessa. The Oilers have finally defeated the San Angelo Colts in a Longhorn League game.

After losing 10 straight to the league leaders, the Oilers broke through Wednesday night, taking a 10-8 decision. But at that they almost let it get away.

The Colts counted four runs and had the bases loaded with two outs in the ninth inning. A long fly to centerfield was only feet short of the fence but it was pulled down for the final out and the jinx was laid.

The victory was a morale builder for Odessa but it failed to gain any ground in the fight for second place. Second place Vernon defeated Sweetwater 8-2 to retain its half game lead over the Oilers.

The Roswell Rockets and Artesia Drillers tangled in a thriller that went 11 innings. Roswell chased across three runs on two walks, a triple and single to take a 7-4 decision after coming from behind in the eighth to tie the score.

Artesia scored three runs in the first inning but found the going rough the rest of the way.

Big Spring tied with Roswell for fourth place, shutout Midland, 3-0. Vernon's Dusters scored five runs in the second inning to swamp Sweetwater early. Cotton Russell, a pitcher filling in on the outfield, clouted two home runs to lead the parade.

When serious delay in the delivery of new boiler equipment threatened to curtail an East Texas refinery's ability to produce military aviation fuel, a dozen locomotives were run onto adjacent siding and hooked rough manifold lines to the refinery's main steam system. The locomotives generated steam around the clock and enabled the plant to meet its commitments to the military. This is another example of the ingenuity displayed by the oil industry to serve the military and the American people.

DIESEL POWER SHOWS BIG JUMP OVER FIVE YEAR SPAN
The rapid growth of diesel electric motive power by railroads over the five-year period, 1946-1950, is indicated by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The gross ton miles of freight service powered by diesel oil rose from 9.73 per cent to 44.13 per cent of the nation's total. The share of passenger train car miles advanced from 15.28 per cent to 57.30 per cent. Yard switching locomotive use grew from 29.46 per cent to 60.45 per cent. Railroad men prefer diesel power because it is easier to handle, cleaner and more economical.

Youth Center Chatter

By GAIL BAKER

Well, hi, everybody! Here's your "lone wolf"—back again to give you more news of the teens of Midland.

The swimming team has been holding daily workouts under the supervision of Bill Gildewell, Youth Center director. From what we've heard, we have a swell team this year.

The archery team is planning a trip to Odessa around the second Sunday of July to enter into some friendly competition with the Odessa archers. Good luck, kids!

Raymond Leggett, Doyle Patton, Bill Franklin, Teddy Kerr (who also likes to practice putting around the swimming pool in his bathing suit), Roanne Puest and Johnny Ward have been seen practicing for the tournament being held at the Midland Country Club.

Well, well—Jon House, whom we had not seen in a long time since he has been away to school—is back in town. He often is seen riding around in his station wagon. This station wagon has musical horns to greet its passers-by.

Our friend, Earl Powell, was a back for a short visit with Emily Hamilton last week. After she was here a few days, her father came through Midland to get Earl and Emily, who are to spend some time on the Powell Ranch in New Mexico.

Nancy Steadman is still "at it." She has been swimming 30 links around the swimming pool each day—trying to get in shape for the YC swimming team. Hope you make it, Nancy!

Sarah Hendricks has left us—for awhile, that is! She and her family have gone on their vacation to Utah. Hope they have fun, but we do hope Sarah hurries back.

Charlie Byrd, who is spending the summer on his ranch in the vicinity of Andrews, was back the other day for a visit. Glad to see you, Charlie.

We were introduced to a very nice girl from Los Angeles the other day—Jane Hurdall. Jane is here for summer vacation. She will be a Senior in LA next year.

The show, THE THING, was quite popular with many of the teens. Sunday night we saw John Murphy, Jimmy O'Neal, Ann Billingsley, Gary Throckmorton, Roy Kinsey, Bill Mims, John Zant, Madelon Schabarum, Billy Lillis, Darrell Spivey, Jerry Giesler, and Betty Patton there. Get SCARED, kids???

Boy Scout Rancher

We wondered where Tommy Vannaman was hiding out for the summer—now we know! Tommy is a marksmanship counselor at the Boy Scout Ranch near Balmerhor. (He likes it mainly because it is only 35 miles from the Girl Scout Ranch!) What about that, Tommy?

Well, we told you the telephone company has employed many teens. We found two more who work there. Polly Rasco works in the business office, and Harold Madderra works in the plant. Both of these people graduated last year.

Also (we knew before, but forgot to mention it) Jo Underwood is working for Shell Oil Company, and Corky Moss has a job at Honolulu Oil Company.

"Lil' Earl" Chapman has a job as a roughneck—sun HOT enough for you, Earl!

Gregory Lovelady still is working at the show. Lucky boy—gets to see all the movies FREE!

Frances Tredway has left Midland for a week or so. Since the dial system is complete here, Frances had to go to Seminole to help them work on their dial system.

Speaking of Seminole—the two boys—Crowder Wharton and Tommy Gilmer—whom we told you about last week, are leaving Monday for Seminole, (their home town.) to work on the dial system. Guess they will return home without a visit to our YC. But if you boys are ever in Midland again, be sure to come by—you'll like it!

While at the drive-in Friday night, we discovered our Lubbock friend, Earl Padgett, was back in town. Glad to see ya, Earl!

Rosamond Turner surely has kept busy this summer. She is working on a summer project in Home Economics by helping keep the nursery school at North Elementary. She says she really does like it, too!

While in Odessa the other day, we ran into Carl Boone, a former Midlander, who moved away not too long ago. Sure good to see you, Carl!

Pat Douglass and Stanley Krist still are working hard—at tennis, that is. These boys surely must like to play, as almost every time we pass the tennis courts, there they are!

Midlanders On Vacation
Giffert Alstrin has gone to Cloudercroft, N. M., for a visit. Hope you hurry back, "Giff"!

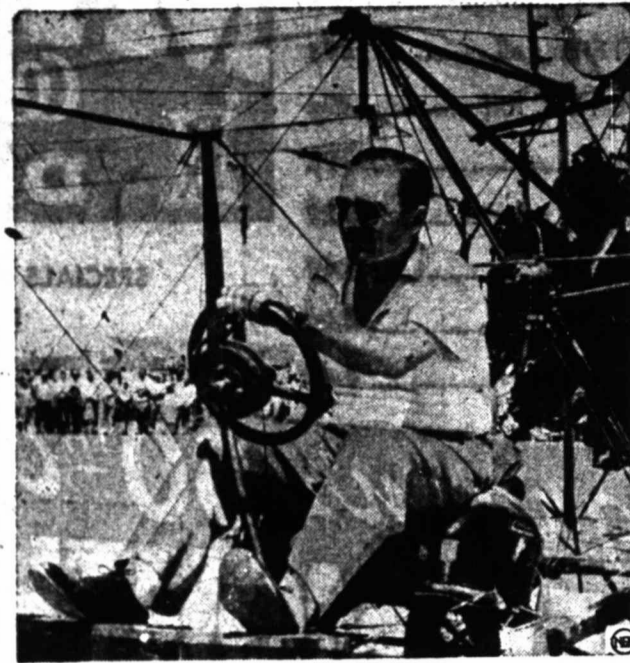

Lynn Griffith also has left for a vacation. Lynn is visiting in Rockport, Texas. Have fun, Lynn!

The other day we saw Max Allen—grad of '49—whom we have not seen in "many a moon." He now is attending the University of Southern California. Surely good to see you, Max!

Our thanks this week go to Nancy Steadman. If it weren't for Nancy, we wouldn't have as much of a column as we do—thanks loads, Nancy!

See you all next week. Hope we have more news to offer then.

Old Crate Sets Back Flying

Billy Parker: Nothing but a stick and a wheel in front.

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(NEA)—Billy Parker, of Bartlesville, Okla., sets aviation back 39 years every time he wobbles into the air.

Parker pilots a 1912 Curtiss-type plane that's held together with enough baling wire to see the summer hay harvest though. And he's the hit of every air show.

At a recent air review at Luke Air Force Base near here, for instance, thousands saw first-line jets of the Air Force, Navy and Marines swoosh by an impressive demonstration of speed and precision flying, but they went away talking about Billy Parker and his flying machine.

He headed his frail craft into a stiff wind blowing across the desert and leaped it into the air after a run of only 75 feet, and maneuvered his overgrown box kite up and down over the flight line.

The jet jockeys themselves are among Parker's most appreciative admirers. The 56-year-old pilot flies his pusher plane with a world of confidence, despite the fact there is nothing in front of him but a rudder stick and a wheel and very little in back except an 80 horsepower French Gnome rotary engine.

Parker built the plane himself. As manager of the aviation division of a large oil company, he exhibits and flies the crate at special events throughout the country, and has been flying as long as the plane ne demonstrates.

Flying the pre-World War I plane is a "different sensation from flying present-day stuff," admits Parker. "It doesn't fly itself."

He says the plane flies differently every time it's uncrated. The rotary engine that is sandwiched between the two wings spins all the time the propeller is rotating, but is still capable of pushing the craft at a top speed of 65 miles an hour.

A rate of climb of 1,500 feet a minute is possible and Billy says the plane can fly about 20,000 feet high. The engine turns at one speed only and to stop it there is a button that cuts the electrical circuit.

Parker can get a little variety in the plane's performance, however. He chokes the engine.

A $270,000 estate, including three manor houses. One of these, Caxton Manor, Cambridgeshire, has 1,000 acres including a private golf course. There are three smaller farms and the ancestral home, St. Michael's Manor, at St. Albans, Herefordshire. Plus paintings and heirlooms.

The reluctance of Gape, 46, a salesman with a wife and two children, to cash in on such a bonanza might seem puzzling. If he says no (and he has until June 30 to make up his mind), his younger brother, Kenneth, 45, of Grosse Point, Mich., is next in line. Kenneth is equally reluctant. A British nephew is the only other eligible heir.

But Britons whipped out pencil and paper and a copy of the tax laws and figured that it'll boil down to an income of about $2,400 annually.

The death duty cuts the estate, originally valued at the equivalent of $269,408, down by $102,000. There are debts amounting to $12,340, other legacies totaling $21,000 and the necessity of providing annuities, amounting to $1,680 annually, for an unrevealed period.

All that brings the estate down to roughly $112,000. The income from that is thought to be hardly sufficient to pay the taxes, leaving the owners no income. They would have to resort to periodic sales of the property, just as other once-wealthy British families have been doing since the war.

CRACKER CRACKS RECORD

A new record for continuous operation of a catalytic cracking unit has been claimed by a refinery in Oklahoma. Before the unit had to be dismantled for cleaning and inspection, it operated 677 days without stopping, passing the old record of 610 1/2 days achieved by a California plant in 1948. In its record-run period, the refinery consumed 6,802.21 barrels of raw charging stocks.

Modern rules for roasting meat call for an uncovered pan, low temperature, and no water or other liquid.

HOPÉ FOR A HEMOPHILIAC—Hope that his crooked legs, deformed by the "bleeder" disease hemophilia, could be straightened was high in the heart of 14-year-old Jerry Ince, right, as he arrived at New York's LaGuardia Field from his Lubbock, Tex., home. He was welcomed by Robert Henry, left, president of the Hemophilia Foundation and his 10-year-old son, Lee, whose affliction by the dread disease inspired Henry to organize the foundation. Jerry Ince, who will have four to six weeks of treatment at the Lenox Hill Hospital, was accompanied on the flight by his father, Earl W. Ince, behind him.

Develop A Hobby Now And Have Peace Of Mind Later

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
It was called to my attention recently that there are about 31,000,000 men and women in the United States between 45 and 64 years of age. With the standards of health as high as they are now most of us will reach the classical retirement age of 65. Many doubtless will keep right on doing what they were before but many will be faced with the loss of their customary occupations.

or any other particular year mark does not mean that one has seen the last of good health and zest for life. Of course there are the ailments of later years but often these can be taken in stride and interfere little with what one wants to do. Whatever the reason, keeping the mind and body well occupied often seems to affect the health favorably. It is common experience to know some active person who stops work suddenly, has nothing to do and whose health deteriorates speedily. We all think this would not happen to us but it might. Indeed it seems also that those who have developed active hobbies and keep working at them keep their health and interest longer after giving up their main jobs than anyone else. Sometimes they actually accomplish more in some hobby than they did in their principle life's work.

What all this leads to is that it is better to do a little planning (outside of the financial) before retirement suddenly strikes. And incidentally, though it is important enough—an active, healthy life in the later years will help to lessen the burden on younger people who have problems enough with making a living, raising children and the state of the world.

It is well known that one's mind has a great deal to do with the physical condition of one's body. The later years of life therefore should be faced calmly, confidently, and with the definite object of making the most of them with the least possible strain on the younger generation.

WHY IT'S CALLED 'SERVICE'

When the oil industry calls its retail outlets "service stations" it really means just that. Just how much service is given can be seen in the report by one statistically-minded oil company that in 1950 its dealers wiped 129,024,700 windshields, checked 123,863,700 tires, filled 78,834,300 radiators, and checked 47,739,100 batteries—all for free.

To keep nutsmeats in freshest condition store the kernels in a tightly closed jar in the refrigerator.

Being A Girl Is Important—Fun, Too, Clubbers Learn

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—In these days of female wrestlers and women mechanics, it's a rare occurrence when a group of small girls expresses enthusiasm about an embroidery hoop or a measuring cup.

Cooking is a lark for these potential homemakers, who are learning through their Girls' Club that being domestic is not only important, but fun.

In at least 35 spots dotted about the nation, however, the domestic virtues are still flourishing. In that many cities there are located chapters of the Girls' Clubs of America, Inc., all dedicated to the dignifying of time-honored feminine occupations.

This is but one of the aims of this organization, which is interested in guiding its members toward development not only as future wives and mothers but also as responsible citizens and well-developed personalities.

The clubs, which banded together in 1945 to form a national organization, are characterized, however, by their forthright approach to the feminine role in society.

Club directors assist their girls not only in physical mastery of the domestic skills they'll need as homemakers and child rearers, but they attempt also to impress upon their charges the fact that such tasks are worthy of their time and talents. The result is establishment of a feminine scale of values.

Club activities are not limited, however, to the dish and diaper departments. Annual programs, varying according to locale, include almost everything from a camping trip for juniors to a formal dance for teen-agers to an operetta featuring both. Members' ages range from six to 16.

"Girls are important," says the club slogan. This is a fact sometimes overlooked by other organizations for social good. The violent behavior of male street gangs often overshadows the needs of their sisters who express their repressions and frustrations less explosively.

The girl brooding alone on a doorstep is as much in need of help as the boy snatching bananas from a peddler's cart, Girls' Clubs directors feel, and their goal is to make their meeting places "second homes" for their members.

Those girls with inadequate or undesirable homes find in their clubs space to play and room to develop their growing personalities. Although the organization provides havens for the underprivileged, programs are still sufficiently broad to interest girls with more fortunate family backgrounds.

Members of varied economic brackets and racial strains work at playing together and play at working together, gaining a sense of social belonging as well as an understanding of democracy.

Since dues are kept at an absolute minimum—60 cents a year is an average fee—no girl is excluded because of lack of spending money. Civic contributions and other sources of support help keep membership assessments low.

Here is "Your Reward"

The health of yourself and your family is a mirror which reflects YOUR INTELLIGENCE, YOUR EFFICIENCY, and your COOKING METHODS. If you purchase your foods wisely, plan your menus carefully, prepare meals with minimum nutritive loss, and see that each body requirement is supplied to every member of your family daily, then you, your children, and your husband can probably possess vibrant, buoyant health. With this degree of health come beauty, clear thinking, co-operativeness, cheerfulness, and freedom from bickering and quarreling as well as freedom from illness and infections.

To the mother of such a family come pride of accomplishment and deep satisfaction of a job well done. To her comes ego-gratification infinitely more satisfying than she may once have obtained from such trivialities as preparing fluffy-textured cake or devitalized white bread. When she hears her physician praise the beauty of her children, when she sees her husband young beyond his years, succeeding because of his energies, when she feels the surge of vibrant health in her own body, she will realize that she is largely responsible. She has shouldered her tasks and has seen to it that good health has come from good food.

ALUMINUM PIPE LINES HOLD PROMISE OF LOWER OIL COSTS

A new development in petroleum transportation is the use of aluminum pipe lines. The lightweight lines are said to be easier and less expensive to lay than steel. Lighter construction equipment can be used, the pipe does not require preliminary cleaning, does not have to be wrapped, and is much easier to weld than steel pipe. In operation, aluminum pipe is reported to have less internal friction than steel pipe. Pipe lines speed the flow of oil and oil products from wells to refineries to consumers.

DETERGENTS GO TO WORK

Synthetic detergents are important to industry as well as the home. They are used by textile and steel manufacturing industries, in electroplating, metalworking, paper and leather processing. The most important detergents, volume-wise, are derived from petroleum.

TUNA TETRAZZINI, a wonderful meatless treat that will help remedy the scarcity or the high price of meat.

Tuna Provides Protein Source

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Don't let the scarcity or high price of meat get you down. There are lots of other foods, more plentiful and less expensive, that can give your family the protein and sense of satisfaction they need to be strong and happy.

Canned tuna is as good a source of "complete" protein as meat and there is an abundant supply of it in our markets. In this unusually delicious recipe, tuna is combined with the new instant chicken cubes, milk, eggs and flour to produce a dish manfully supplied with top quality protein.

Tuna Tetrazzini
(6 servings)
One-half pound thin spaghetti, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1/4 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika, 5 instant chicken bouillon cubes, 1 cup water, 1 tall can evaporated milk, 1 7-ounce can tuna, flaked; 4 hard-cooked eggs, coarsely chopped; 1/2 cup minced green pepper, 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese (optional).

Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender; drain. Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler; blend in flour, pepper and paprika. Add instant chicken bouillon cubes, crush and blend in. Add water and evaporated milk; stir over low heat until smooth and thickened. Cover; cook over hot water 10 minutes. Divide sauce in half; to 1/2 add spaghetti; blend well. Add tuna, eggs and green pepper to remaining sauce. Arrange spaghetti in serving dish.

CONCRETE FUEL OIL TANK
An all-concrete underground fuel oil storage tank for private homes has been developed. The spherical tank has no seams other than the cover, holds 600 gallons and is about five and one-half feet high. The manufacturer says the tank will last forever because it will not rust. Large concrete storage tanks have been used for several years by oil companies and by the Navy.

MR. FOOTBALL CARRIES ON
WASHINGTON, D. C. — (AP) — Slingshot Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins has been called "Mr. Football" by many folks. This year will mark Sam's 15th season in the National Football League. Every time he throws a football, completes a pass, gains a yard, or scores a touchdown via a pass he sets a record. During his pro career Baugh has tossed 2,829 passes and completed 1,622. He has thrown 178 touchdowns forwards.

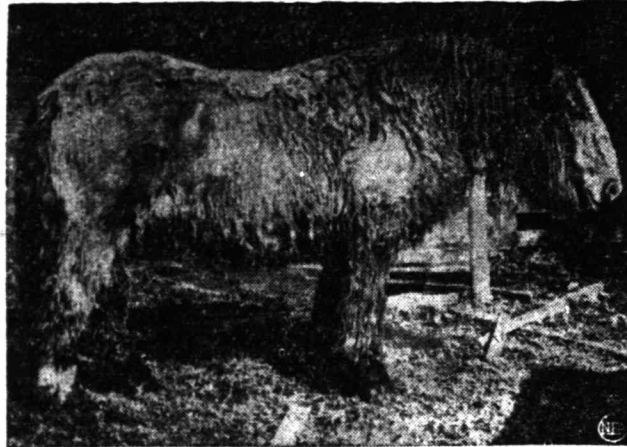

Only a small part of the world's castor oil is used as medicine.

top with tuna mixture; sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. For a Summer luncheon, deep sea treat.

Deep Sea Chowder
(6 servings)

One-eighth pound fat salt pork, diced; 1 medium onion, chopped; 2 instant chicken bouillon cubes, 2 cups hot water, 3 medium potatoes, diced; 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1 7-ounce can tuna, flaked; 2 cups milk, minced parsley.

Fry salt pork in saucepan until crisp and golden brown; drain on absorbent paper. Cook onion in salt pork drippings until soft but not brown. Dissolve instant chicken bouillon cubes in hot water; add with potatoes and pepper. Simmer until potatoes are tender (about 15 minutes). Add flaked tuna and milk; heat but do not boil. Garnish with parsley and crisp salt pork.

FINCH HITTERS PRODUCE

LOUISVILLE, KY. — (AP) — The Louisville Colonels of the American Association compiled an amazing pinch hit record of 500 for their first 39 pinch hit attempts. Fifteen of the swingers made base hits and nine drew bases on balls.

When a recipe says to "dust" meat or fish with flour, it means to sprinkle lightly.

BIG MONEY MISS

TORONTO — (AP) — Outfielder Frank Colman of the Toronto Maple Leafs missed receiving $1,000 by two feet. There is a hole in the sign on the outfield wall in the Maple Leaf Stadium. If a ball is hit through the hole, the player gets $1,000. Colman's drive missed by only two feet. He received $50 anyway for hitting the sign.

NEW ASPHALT MACHINE SAVES HIGHWAY COSTS

A machine which rips up deteriorated asphalt pavements and uses the old material to lay down a new pavement simultaneously has been developed by the joint efforts of an oil company and an allied firm. The mechanical monster permits roads to be rebuilt speedily and is expected to save up to 50 per cent in highway repair costs. The broken-up pavement which formerly was hauled away and discarded, is pulverized and mixed with a special asphalt softener developed by the oil company. Thus, not only are materials salvaged but inconvenience for motorists is reduced.

The free territory of Trieste is garrisoned by 5,000 troops apiece of the United States, Great Britain and Yugoslavia in their respective zones.

Makers Of Tin Cans Seeking Tinless Can

By ED SNYDER
MAYWOOD, Ill. —(NEA)—The people who make tin cans are looking for a way to build a tin can without using any tin. One big manufacturer already has come up with an almost "tinless" tin can. This can has only a speck of tin in the solder that seals up its side. The solder is three per cent tin, 97 per cent other stuff. Dr. B. S. Clark, research chief for the company (American Can), says this latest can means more than a 90 per cent saving in tin. Old-style can-making required a pound of tin to make 1,000 quart-size cans. The new method makes the same 1,000 cans and uses only five per cent of a pound of tin to do it.

The tin can makers readily confess that there never was an awful lot of tin in a tin can. The main ingredient of any can is steel. Tin was used to coat this steel so it wouldn't dissolve into the peaches, or paint, or soup, or whatever else it happened to contain.

A special enamel now keeps the steel from dissolving. The speck of tin keeps the solder from dissolving. The can makers have a couple of reasons for wanting to rid tin cans of even this little bit of tin: First, most of the world's tin comes from Malaya and Bolivia. Malaya is dangerously close to the Communist sphere of influence. The Reds could shut off Malayan tin just as easily as the Japs did during World War II. Secondly, tin is badly needed in defense production.

Science Continues Its War On Cancer

By PAT McGRADY
Science Editor, American Cancer Society
(Written for NEA Service)

In laboratories all over the U. S., brilliant scientists and young researchers alike are striving for one goal—the control of cancer. It has just completed a nationwide tour of these laboratories, to find what progress has been noted. And there has been progress, although no definite, complete cancer cure is yet known.

But each project is meaningful. A biophysicist is working on a new method of analyzing trace metals in blood. A cytologist has isolated a peculiar structure from cancer cells. A biochemist has found a particular protein change as cancer takes over the cell. An immunochemist has discovered that embryonic glands flow when transplanted to another animal species.

Some of these may never have any bearing on cancer. But each contributes a little something to our understanding of that basic unit of life, the cell. And it is an abnormal change in the cell that means cancer.

Has Hope Of
"Somehow a cell goes wrong. Maybe it's a cell in the lungs, or a woman's breast, or on the skin, or in the throat. Something happens to it, and cancer comes. What causes the change in the cell? That's what science is trying to find out. It may be due to an enzyme—a substance produced by cells. Or maybe it's due to a vitamin, or a hormone secreted by a gland. Perhaps it's the result of diet, nerves, habits, customs, drugs, rays, chemicals, viruses, other organisms.

Cancer researcher: Someday the disease will be caged, too.

In some laboratory in some city, some scientist is investigating each one of those possibilities and many others.

Each experimenter has hope. Each feels that his work is leading to an eventual answer to the riddle. Most of them, of course, will prove to be duds. They'll be duds as far as cancer is concerned, but they'll add a little something to our general store of knowledge, so they won't be complete wastes of time.

But perhaps one of the scientists is even now on the right track. You get the feeling after talking to hundreds of them that cancer will be controlled eventually. The answer will come from the basic of fundamental research now going on. It may not be for 20 years, but it will come.

It's impossible to describe every research project. Many sound far removed from the basic problem and others are far too technical for the average person to comprehend. But here are a few that are encouraging, that show how the dread disease is being attacked from every angle.

Viruses have been proven to be responsible for certain kinds of animal cancers, although no one has yet tagged them with causing human cancers. Nevertheless, work on viruses continues. In Bloomington, Ind., an immunochemist has found a way to explore the interiors of viruses and determine what chemicals comprise them. Protein molecules are the foundation of living matter. They are complicated creations, containing amino acids. Cancer builds abnormal (tumor) protein at the expense of other body proteins. A group of New York scientists have learned how to measure the rate of protein production and protein destruction in humans.

Hormones are substances secreted by glands. They may have a great deal to do with certain types of cancer. A Salt Lake City scientist has found, in experiments on mice, that an adrenal hormone plays a part in development of leukemia, a cancer of the white blood cells. He thinks it's partly the result of insufficient hormone production by the outer membrane of the adrenal glands, located above the kidneys.

SAVING OIL TO LAST DROP

As it rushes from the well, a thousand cubic feet of "wet" natural gas may contain as much as five gallons of natural gasoline, plus other liquids. Years ago, these liquids used to blow away along with the natural gas for which there was no use. Today, in keeping with the industry's conservation practices, several hundred plants in the nation's oil and gas fields squeeze and absorb from millions of cubic feet of natural gas more than 18 million gallons of valuable liquids daily. The natural gas then moves to domestic and commercial users, or is returned to the earth to maintain well pressure.

Frank Capra, noted screen director, was born in Palermo, Italy, in 1897.

Genes are even smaller than cells. Each cell has thousands of genes strung out like beads on long chromosome fibers. They control inheritable characteristics. Some scientists like a group at Stanford University in California, think gene changes cause cancer. This group has been able to cause gene changes with cancer-causing rays and chemicals.

Cause of cancer is, of course, basic in finding the cure. Hundreds of causes of cancer are already known, but there may be one underlying cause for all cancers. Science is trying to find out if there is, and if so what the chief cause is.

One interesting experiment took place in Portland, Ore., and at Stanford, where scientists gave one animal two known chemical causes of cancer. Strangely, the animal developed neither type of cancer. The two apparently cancelled each other out.

These are samples of some research projects being conducted in America's laboratories. Time alone will tell whether any of them are on the right track.

Fear Of Altar Sets Bachelors On Guard

NEW YORK —(NEA)— This is liable to panic the orange blossom business and throw a scare into the old shoes market, but it must be said, America's bachelors are organizing.

For better or worse, 25,000 unmarried males are now enrolled in the Bachelors Protective Association. But there's some doubt about what the Bachelors Protective Association is protecting bachelors against. It isn't the horror of marriage. You have the word of National Director R. W. Hemsch on that.

"We're not anti-social," says Hemsch. "We're not opposed to marriage."

The official BPA opinion on the subject of the wedded state is crystal clear. They think marriage is a fine, American-type kind of business and no couples should be without one.

Started As Gag

Hemsch's bachelor apartment is the national headquarters of the BPA. The apartment is a cozy place—thick carpets, two couches, three easy chairs, a bowl of goldfish and no etchings. Every evening, Hemsch and his cronies gather and get on with the business of protecting bachelors.

They started the organization about a year ago. It began mostly as a gag, and it still is. Members are sent a membership card and a mock insurance policy, which gayly promises to insure them against marriage, weddings and similar disasters. All this costs only 35 cents.

Business among the single boys is booming. Collegians, who like to think of themselves as established bachelors, are big customers. So are fraternal organizations, liberally peppered with unmarried men. Ditto salesmen, who feel a 35-cent gag gift to customers is a fine investment in good will.

For a buffet supper when company's coming line a baking dish with stalks of chicken or turkey, add a rich cream sauce, springle with grated Parmesan cheese and heat in a moderate oven until top is delicately browned.

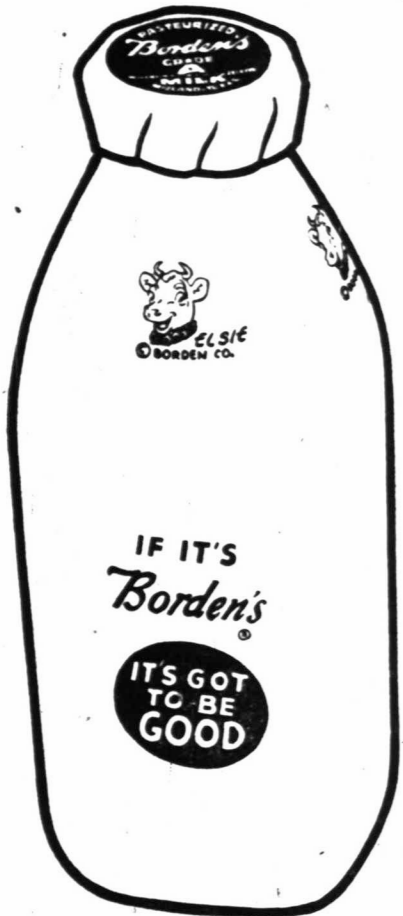

Glassware or china which contained eggs or milk may be cleaned easily if given a cool rinse first. Then wash in the regular manner, taking care that your sudsy water is not so hot that sudden change of temperature will crack the delicate ware.

MANAGES NEW STORE—Roy Holt, who came here May 1 from Littlefield, has been named manager of the new C. R. Anthony department store in Midland. Holt has been with the company for 13 years, and has managed stores in Littlefield and Chandler, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Holt and their two daughters, nine and 11 years of age, reside at 2304 West Kansas Street.

Growth Of Midland Was Top-Most Factor In Selection Of Site For New Business

A detailed survey of Midland as a prospective location for a C. R. Anthony store was begun three years ago.

The most influential factor in the choice of Midland as a site for the 108th C. R. Anthony department store was the growth of the city and its expanding population.

Clay Carroll, sales manager of the firm from Oklahoma City, Okla., said the company's survey has indicated that Midland needs another department store today even more than it did when the survey was begun.

Plans to establish a store in Midland were stymied for a while by the problem of finding a good location for the building. The company also was held up determining in which direction the city was developing. When it was decided by the surveyors that Midland apparently was growing along north and south lines, the location on North Main Street was picked.

Periodic checks were made in Midland to look into the competitive aspects and the type of goods and prices here.

C. R. Anthony, originator of the company, made most of the checks on Midland with one of the company's engineers. Carroll said more prospective store locations are found on routine business trips than any other way.

A man on a trip for the store may see a city that might make a good prospect and reports it to the firm's headquarters. Then surveys are conducted to determine its possibilities.

Carroll said it is a policy of the company to check.

Headquarters Office Handles 108 Stores

Much space, office and storage, is required for the headquarters location of the 108 C. R. Anthony stores.

This location is in Oklahoma City and recently a five-floor office and warehouse building was completed.

The top two floors of the building are for office personnel, who handle the volume of paper work required for a management and direction of 108 stores, scattered in seven states.

Staple merchandise is stored in the headquarters warehouse. All staples, merchandise without certain styling, such as sheets, etc., are stored in the Oklahoma City warehouse for distribution to all stores of the chain.

Styled merchandise is purchased to fill the needs of individual units of the store chain.

Anthony's Low Prices Will Raise Eyebrows

A few eyebrows will go up Friday morning when the customers see how prices have gone down at C. R. Anthony's new store in Midland.

For the string of C. R. Anthony chain of stores has been built on the theory of a small mark-up and a large volume.

"We'd rather sell a large volume," said Sales Manager Clay Carroll, "and make our money that way than try to make a large profit on a small volume."

"We'd rather cut down on the mark-up, knock off some of the overhead and pass the difference on to the customer in the form of a saving."

And that's going to be the policy of the new store from the time it first opens its doors for business at 9 a.m. Friday.

Building Fitted To Store Needs

The building that houses the C. R. Anthony store is about as new here as the department store.

It was built by W. A. Yeager of Midland, who had the building constructed according to the specifications of the C. R. Anthony Company.

The building was completed about May 12. It has approximately 17,000 feet of floor space with masonry walls and concrete floors for its two stories.

Yeager provided interior decorating and air conditioning and heating facilities, while the C. R. Anthony firm furnished counters, wall fixtures and display units.

Gene Brewer of Midland was the contractor.

From Orphan To Riches—

Anthony Story Tells Of Free America

The story of the Anthony Company, which operates stores in seven states, is more the story of a man—C. R. Anthony.

It is a Lincolnian story which also is a story of a free America. It is the story of a Tennessee farm boy who made good.

Charles Ross Anthony, as a young farm boy, moved with his parents from Tennessee to Missouri, and then from farm to farm. He can remember a life of hard work before he even reached his teens, for he was left without parents when he was 12 years of age.

His mother died and two years later his father died. He then hitched a ride with his uncle back to Tennessee where at 12 he worked in a mill for a while and then for a farmer, grubbing sassafras sprouts.

With a small stake, he yielded to the lure of the west and took the "Home Seekers Special" train to Indian territory to what is now Holdenville, Okla. He landed there in 1898 with five cents in his pocket.

That nickle wouldn't go very far and he needed a job, badly. Someone told him to talk to Mrs. E. J. Scales, a widow who owned the general store. She needed someone to help her at the store and with the chores. It was this first job that launched young Ross Anthony into the mercantile field.

He Bought Store
Mrs. Scales was influential in Anthony's life. She had been a school teacher and was convinced the boy needed more than the fourth grade reader. She financed his course in the Indianola Business College.

When Mrs. Scales retired, Anthony bought her store. He was backed by the local banker. In a year he paid back the $5,000 he had borrowed. But the following year, floods came and he granted credit to his customers until financially he could stand it no longer.

He didn't go bankrupt, but he barely got out with his shirt.

"That was one of the bad breaks which was about the best thing that ever happened," Anthony said. "I've never done a credit business since."

Then he went to work bookkeeping for the Wewoks (Oklahoma) Trading Company. It was there he met and married Lottie Mauldin in 1910. Soon afterward the company closed and he went to Muskogee, Okla., to work for the Grand Leader Store. He later acquired a second-hand furniture store, taking it over for a bank.

But the dry goods business was his first love. He took a job with the

J. F. Martin Company in Cleveland, Okla., stayed there for several years and then joined a chain department store organization in Idaho. He was interested in chain stores and wanted to learn about them. But J. F. Martin kept after him to return to Oklahoma. Finally he agreed, if Martin would let him have a partnership and would agree to open some more stores.

Revolving Third Interest
Martin sold him a third interest to be paid for out of profits. Anthony worked so hard he paid for it the first year. Then, according to the agreement, another store was opened out of the profits of the first, and the new manager got a third interest. Anthony a third, and Martin a third.

That's the system upon which Anthony stores have been organized. Profits from one store build another. The manager of each Anthony store trains another manager to be ready to run a new store.

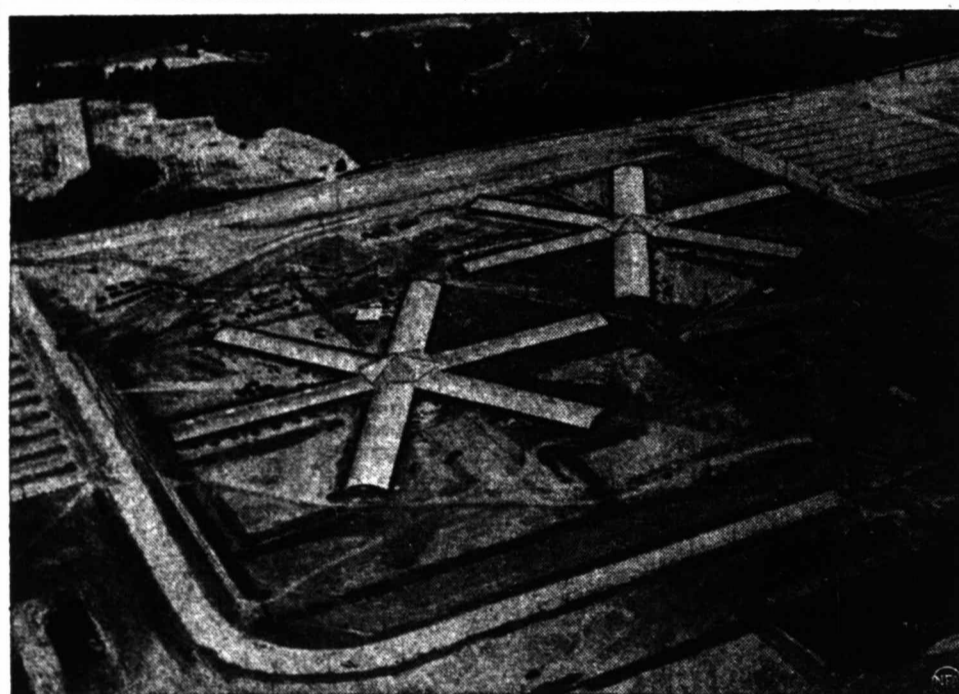

Six stores were opened under the system by Anthony and Martin. Then Martin decided he didn't want to open any more. The first C. R. Anthony store there was born in September, 1922, with the opening of the number one store at Cushing, Okla. The chain finally outgrew the partnership plan and was incorporated. But management still are a type of partner.

Anthony Officials To Attend Opening

Several officials of the parent company are expected to be present at the opening of a new C. R. Anthony store in Midland Friday. These include C. R. Anthony, head of the 108 stores.

Coming here from Oklahoma City to see the newest store of the chain well on its way will be Guy Anthony, its company director and personnel chief of all units; Clyde Davis, director and merchandiser; Duff Webber, a vice president and director; Fred Zahn, company engineer and a director; Bud Galloway, merchandiser; Clay Carroll, sales manager.

All are from Oklahoma City.

H-BOMB STARS ON THE SAVANNAH—An aerial view of the Savannah River atomic energy plant near Ellerton, S. C., shows the star-shaped construction of administration buildings of the Atomic Energy Commission and the DuPont Company. Built of steel and concrete, the building's wings measure 300 by 60 feet. The Savannah plant will be equipped much like the atomic energy plant at Hanford, Wash., with the additional capacity of working on hydrogen bombs.

Welcome to Midland—C. R. Anthony Company

I have known your stores ever since 1922, when you opened your first store in Cushing, Oklahoma, and was well acquainted with your operations in Pawhuska, Oklahoma.

I was living there in 1923 when you opened this store, which was the third in your large operation now totaling some 108 stores.

The excellent values and friendly atmosphere of your stores has been the basis of your big success, and your many friends in the Permian Basin are pleased that you have elected to come to Midland. You will meet many friends here that have known you elsewhere, and I am sure many of these will call upon you at your formal opening on June 29th.

I want to wish you a prosperous and pleasant business in Midland.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Kingfisher Huffen

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly old, had dreamed a dream of catching a swordfish way out in the ocean. Oh, but the swordfish was away, and he one knew that he caught it, because no one had one swordfishing with him in his dream.

Yes, and now the Huffen was reaming another dream. He was reaming this time of fishing for kingfish. "Call me Kingfisher Huffen," said the Huffen in his dream. "All right, Kingfisher Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail in the dream. Let's see you do some kingfisher fishing. "And so Daddy Ringtail at in the boat while the Huffen bowed it out in the ocean. This ought to be a good place, it ought," said the Huffen, and he stopped his owing at last with the ocean water all around.

The Huffen picked up his fishing pole and began to fish for kingfish. Really, though, kingfish fishing is supposed to be done while the boat moves along through the water, and the Huffen never would have caught a kingfish with the boat standing still, except along came a kingfish who didn't know all the rules of kingfishing. "Ker-gobbie-dy-gook!" the king-

By Wesley Davis

fish said to himself, I guess, but anyway, Old Mr. Kingfish took a big bite at the sandwich the Huffen had tied to the end of the fishing line. This was wa, down in the water, remember, where old Mr. Kingfish was swimming, while up in the boat where the Huffen was sitting, the fishing pole was bent almost double.

"Got one!" shouted the Huffen. "I have caught a kingfish, I have!" And the Huffen began to try to pull in the fishing line with the kingfish at the other end.

Oh, Mr. Kingfish pulled and tugged, and even leaped up high from the water, trying to jerk the sandwich loose from the fishing line, but the Huffen had tied it tight and it wouldn't jerk loose. And all the while Mr. Kingfish was dragging the boat around in the water, farther and farther and more away from the land, until — at last when the Huffen had pulled Mr. Kingfish into the boat, the boat was so far out in the ocean that the Huffen was lost. Never would the Huffen have found his way back home except but Mr. Kingfish pulled him back. But he made the Huffen promise to come again sometime with more sandwiches. Happy fishing dreams!

Giants Look Forward To Kyle Rote's Play

NEW YORK —(AP)—Coach Steve Owen of the New York football Giants, is looking forward to the coming season. He is especially anxious to see his new star, Kyle Rote, in action.

Rote, the All-America player from Southern Methodist University, is the most versatile back the Giants have had in years, says Owen.

In his first appraisal of the bonus pick star, the Giant coach feels that Rote can handle capably any of the backfield positions in his A-formation and almost all in the T-setup. Rote, in addition to being a great runner, is a quick kick artist, good kickoff and point-after-touchdown man.

Says Owen with a big grin, "Rote is all football player and the most valuable back we have had on the Giants since Tuffy Leemans."

Leemans was a leading ground gainer who played from 1936 through 1942 and who was elected to pro football's Hall of Fame.

Arranging Display Is Like Planning Battle

Designing the layout of stock in a modern department store is like planning a battle, says Clay Carroll, sales manager of the C. R. Anthony Company who is in Midland to see to the opening of the firm's new store Friday morning.

"Generally," Carroll said, "we adopt our technique of display and location of merchandise to meet the whims of women, because they do most of the shopping for the family."

place every woman needs it, and in the second place, because lingerie falls in the C. R. Anthony category of goods that are "bought on impulse."

Doesn't Need Reminding

On the other hand, women's dresses are seldom, if ever located on the first floor. In the new Midland store they can be found on the second floor.

Why? Well, said Carroll, a woman doesn't like to buy a dress in front of a window. Besides, she usually has a preconceived intention of buying a dress when she comes in and doesn't need to be reminded by a dress display in the front of the store.

All children's clothing, from the toddling age up to the high school bracket, is centralized in one spot.

In the case of the new store here, on the balcony. The reasoning behind this strategy is that a mother does not like the idea of jumping all over the store to outfit her youngster. "A woman will go from one department to the next for herself," Carroll said, "but she wants to do all the shopping for her children in one place."

Then there's a separation of merchandise for high-schoolers from that for the pre-high school ages. A high school boy or girl feels more grown up than the younger children, and doesn't care for having to buy clothes in the same place.

Men Not As Particular

Men don't present the problem women do in display planning. Men just aren't as particular about such things. But, nevertheless, there is some separation in the men's departments. Men's suits usually are located to one side and as near to the rear of the store as possible. Men are like women in this respect: they don't like to try on suits in front of windows or around a lot of traffic.

Shoes, for men and women, are located at the rear of the building so customers can try them on with out too much of a show.

The C. R. Anthony stores favor open type display of merchandise. "We like to put the items in easy reach of the buyer so he can get his hands on it," Carroll said. "Then it speeds up shopping if the merchandise is displayed openly and is accessible."

Shelves Of Anthony Store Loaded With Old Favorites

The shelves and showcases of the new C. R. Anthony Store which opens Friday at 211 North Main Street are loaded with many of the old favorites of discriminate shoppers.

But also they will feature many new brands which are strangers to customers who never before have traded with one of the many C. R. Anthony stores scattered throughout the Southwest.

"When our company adopts a line of merchandise, you can rest assured that it is the best obtainable. We are proud of these exclusive brands and we think they'll make a big hit with the people of Midland."

Just take a trip through the gleaming new store and, look at some of these items.

Look at the work clothes, bearing the brand "Buckhide."

Finest Lingerie

The brand name indicates just about the way they wear, too. Tough, sturdy work shirts and pants, ready to take punishment that may be required of them. And economically priced.

The store's favorite men's clothes are sold under the "Buckhide" trademark and not only they cut according to the latest fashions but are pleasing to the pocketbook as well.

And shirts. There are the popular Chambray shirts, trimly tailored, beautifully made and popularly priced. And the store's sports shirts are designed and made in California along the Atlantic coast with the full flavor of summertime breezes.

C. R. Anthony's shoe department is designed and stocked for the entire family with every type footwear from the dainty dancette slipper to the tough work shoe.

For the children there are favorite "Red Goose" shoes. For men there are the stylish and comfortable Friedman-Shelby makers, as well as the fashionable Hollywood Sooters.

For the woman, too, there is a lot of the finest Lorraine lingerie meet all the needs of the dainty yet thrifty shopper. Anthony's its own line of Stylespun hose along with other popular-advertised brands.

Large Piece Goods Supply

Go on up to the store's balcony and there you'll find the Teen-Tot Shop, displaying some of the finest and most durable styles for the youngsters, ranging from 1 sizes for the infant to the popular fads of the 14-year-old boys and girls.

For this group, there is every kind of wearing apparel. There are dresses for play, for dress and for sports wear.

The Nannette and Cinder lines of dresses are featured in the fashions that will meet the demands of the most discriminating. The junior girls, the misses and the women will find their ready-wear requirements met on the second floor. There is a wide and colorful variety of dresses and sportswear.

And on the second floor the products are displayed.

"We will have the biggest and most complete supply of piece goods in this part of the country," Carroll.

On the second floor the women can find their household linens, cotton rugs and other soft goods.

Shore Expedition Of Warship Captures Love Of 45 Orphans

Naval mission: Lt. (jg) Edwin H. Bahr is surrounded by some of the 45 Korean orphans he discovered on a lonely island off Korea. The U. S. cruiser St. Paul gave them a new lease on life.

ABOARD THE USS ST. PAUL (NEA) — The war communiques didn't mention it, but the crew of the heavy cruiser USS St. Paul thinks the incident of Fushhi-To was a pretty important part of the Korean war.

Not a gun was fired, not a drop of blood shed and the big ship didn't even move a nautical inch—but the St. Paul's officers and men have a good feeling about the job they did on Fushhi-To.

It started when the St. Paul, with other units of the fleet, was bombarding the Inchon area, smashing at Red-held road and rail networks. They were near a tiny, rocky island called Fushhi-To, which had a lighthouse on its highest point. The lighthouse didn't work.

Lt. (jg) Edwin H. Bahr, of Long Beach, Calif., assistant damage control officer, took a repair party off in a whaleboat, headed for Fushhi-To and a bout with the lighthouse. As the boat approached the shore, they noticed that a crowd of bare-footed Korean children were watching them from the beach.

Belong To Orphanage

Bahr and his men found that there were 45 children on the island, ranging in age from one to about 14. They belonged to an orphanage which had been pretty hard hit by the war. The orphanage home was the only building on Fushhi-To and it was badly battered. The interior was cold and bare, the windows broken, sanitary facilities virtually nonexistent.

The island supposedly had been evacuated, but the 45 youngsters with three adult overseers had somehow been forgotten. Some of the children were sick, all were hungry. They had torn and tattered clothing, and they huddled together for warmth.

Bahr, a prisoner of war held by the Japanese in World War II, learned by signs and pidgin-English-Japanese that the orphanage was absolutely devoid of supplies. They'd been living for days on a spoonful of rice.

Tells About Kids

Back on the St. Paul, Bahr told the skipper, Capt. C. C. Smith, and his crewmates about the 45 children on Fushhi-To. Over the ship's loud-speaker, they heard the story. The response was immediate. Sailors brought in clothing they could spare and money and soap and candy. In a few hours, 1500 pounds of clothing and $400 were collected.

The ship immediately had sent over 100 pounds of rice. And the next morning, the ship's whaleboat, loaded with the sailors' gifts, landed on Fushhi-To. With the gifts came one of the St. Paul's doctors, Lt. (jg) Francis J. Linchan. He found one case of pneumonia among the orphans, many cases of malnutrition, some rickets and beriberi.

In a short time, the orphans were dressed in cut-down Navy dungarees, wrapped in pieces of warm wool Navy blankets, eating a Navy meal, washing with Navy soap, and laughing at Navy songs.

Finds Containers

One of the crew found two large containers of powdered milk sitting in a corner of the orphanage. The supervisor was asked why he hadn't used them. He explained that they'd tried the stuff over their rice, but it didn't taste good. They decided it must be soap, but it didn't seem to clean anything. So they'd forgotten it.

Later, another working party from the St. Paul landed on Fushhi-To. There were carpenters, who began a project of repairing the building. There were men who measured each child for a pair of canvas shoes, which were made by the crew.

An officer and some enlisted men scoured the ruins of Inchon until they found an old pot-belly stove. They brought this back and put it in working order in the orphanage.

Other men reclaimed a well, easing the sanitary situation on the island. Ship's cooks came over to instruct the orphanage workers in the preparation of American food.

Sends Check

Commander Amos T. Hathaway, the St. Paul's executive officer, sent a check for part of the money the crew donated to friends in Tokyo. The money went for the purchase of vegetable seeds, which will be planted on the island for the children's food after the St. Paul is just a memory in their minds.

Many members of the crew wrote home, telling of the incident of Fushhi-To. Soon boxes of children's clothing and toys began coming from the U. S., and were given to the 45 war-battered orphans.

Now, on Fushhi-To, there are 45 well-fed and well-clothed youngsters. Perhaps the meals—mostly stew—don't seem luxurious, but they do to them. Perhaps the clothes aren't perfect, because most of them wear cut-down blue jumpers with the naval insignia covering the entire length of their arms, but they're warm.

$8,000,000 Increase In Property Values Is Predicted Here

An $8,000,000 increase in the property valuation figure for 1951 — jumping from $27,000,000 to $35,000,000 — was predicted Wednesday for the City of Midland.

At the same time it was estimated that the property valuations for the Midland Independent School District will jump from $34,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Both figures came from W. I. Pratt, who serves as tax collector and assessor for the city and for the Midland Independent School District.

Pratt made his predictions after a survey of property renditions and as he prepared to compile the city tax rolls for certification by the board of equalization.

The sharp increase in the valuation figure probably will be accompanied by a decrease in the tax rate which is expected to be cut from $1.75 to $1.50 in the case of city taxes and from $1.40 to $1.30 in school taxes.

"However," Pratt said, "these figures will not be definite until the rolls have been completed and the budgets for the new fiscal year are prepared and approved."

Accurate Picture

The new valuation figures, Pratt said, do not present an accurate picture of the actual increase in property values.

This is true for two reasons: First—The results of a valuation re-survey were applied for the first time, and.

Second—A different formula was used on actual values in arriving at figures for tax roll purposes.

Until this year, the city and school district has been using as a basis for its valuation figures the results of the last survey made in 1945.

In most instances, these changed under the re-survey, in most instances increasing, although, because of a lower tax rate, not necessarily meaning an increase in total taxes for the individual property owners.

Under the old formula, the property was entered at approximately 70 per cent of its actual 1945 value.

Under the formula applied this year, the appraised current property value was lowered from 20 to 25 per cent and then 50 per cent of this amount was entered on the tax rolls as the valuation figure.

Improved Treatment Methods Found For Cancer

By PAT McGRADY
Science Editor, American Cancer Society
(Written for NEA Service)

If you have a cancer which hasn't yet spread to other parts of the body, surgery is your best bet. Such cancers can be removed as a rule, and the cure rates are often high. If the cancer involves vital organs and the surgeon can't cut it out, X-rays or radium still may cure you.

Surgery and radiation have been the standard methods of curing cancer for years. And each year they become more and more effective.

Specialists in cancer centers of such cities as New York, Boston, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco now can remove great masses of tissue and an amazing number of important organs to cut out the roots and branches of a spreading cancer. Months and years later an appreciable percentage of these patients are without cancer symptoms.

And in almost all cases when the cancer seeds have migrated to other parts of the body—pain is relieved and patients live relatively normal, routine lives for varying periods.

Surgical progress has been made possible by improved anesthetics, new techniques and apparatus, control of infection by antibiotics, and plentiful blood transfusions.

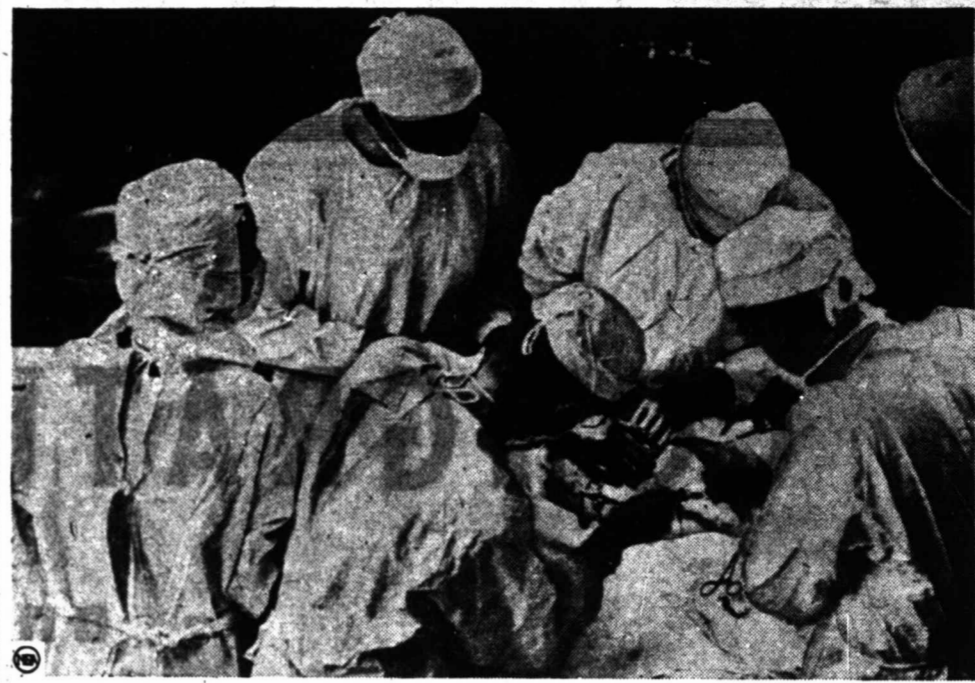

Radiation therapy is moving ahead very quickly, too.

In such centers as Cambridge, Chicago and New York, X-ray machines which generate 2,000,000 or more volts are hitting cancers which cannot be reached by the scalpel or conventional X-ray.

In addition to this, the patient may sit in a chair which rotates slowly while the X-rays are aimed at the tumor. Tumors thus are given a multiple of the normal X-ray dosage while intervening normal tissues receive only a fraction of it—to the decided benefit of the patient.

Radioactive iodine has shown tremendous powers of relieving thyroid cancer in a few cases, but other radioactive materials so far have not lived up to some of the early rosy predictions. They are not yet curing cancer.

A great and growing number of Best bet for cure is still surgery. If it hasn't spread, a cancer can be cut out of the body.

chemicals have come up from the laboratories, where they have shown in animal experiments that they do more good than harm. They are ready for use on patients in such cities as New York, Boston, Baltimore, Chicago and San Francisco.

Testing them on human cancer is a tedious business. Their failure to help one kind of cancer by no means indicates that they will be useless in other kinds as well—as a few experimenters are learning. Some chemicals declared useless last year are showing promise on other tumor types this year.

One of the newer efforts in the chemical treatment of cancer is concerned with keeping the toxicity of drugs down to a minimum. Usually when the poison is diluted so is the anti-tumor effect.

A slight start may have been made, however. A vitamin-like agent called the citrovorum factor seems to have reduced the toxicity of one or two anti-cancer drugs without proportionate impairment of their power against cancer.

Hormones continue to be the most effective treatments for some kinds of inoperable and hopeless cancers—female hormones for cancer of the prostate, male or female hormones for cancer of the breast, a female hormone called progesterone for cancer of the uterus, cortisone for temporary relief of acute leukemia.

Boston scientists have observed that some cancers of the uterus which resist X-ray treatment after the patient was given male or female hormones. And progesterone has shrunk up some inoperable uterine tumors to the point where surgery was possible and may have been successful.

Viruses of various sorts are being turned against cancers in New York and San Francisco. Every now and then a virus (like that of chicken pox or measles) has brought dramatic relief to certain types of cancer; but the effect has not been lasting. Now a variety of viruses are being tested in hope of finding some that will destroy cancer—and not the patient. A newly organized "pain clinic" in New York has found that the terror, anguish and discomfort of cancer can now be controlled without narcotics in virtually all cases. Psychiatric problems associated with cancer have been uncovered and some are being solved by Boston scientists.

These are small steps—but steps nevertheless—toward the conquest of cancer.

With continued support, research will have more progress to report next year. Eventually—no one now can guess when—cancer no longer will be the nation's second most common cause of death and the world's cruelest killer.

Midland Geologist Turns Horticulture Into Hobby That Pays Well In Cash, Fun

By TANNER LAINE

Ed Reed, Midland geologist, also has great success as a horticulturist, but it's his hobby.

Reed is senior staff geologist for Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's district office here.

In his spare time, afternoons, evenings and weekends, he raises flowers at his suburban home and 10-acre plot just north of the city. It's a hobby he shares with his wife and children. It's a hobby of some 10 years' duration and grows more interesting by the day, he says.

The Reeds have their own greenhouse, as large as one possessed by commercial growers. It is 28 by 104 feet.

In fact, they do furnish some flowers and plants wholesale to Midland florists.

The hobby is growing, literally.

The Reeds first built a greenhouse in 1943. Then another one, somewhat larger, was constructed in 1945. Both of these were small and of the ready-built type. The latest greenhouse is large and ample and would do credit to any horticulturist or florist.

Both Reed and his wife love flowers and have merged their skills. Along came David, Steve and Joe, the Reed youngsters, and they joined the hobby.

Youngsters Attend Plots
"In fact," Reed says, "they are my experimenters."

Chrysanthemums are the current major crop of the Reeds' hobby. They are producing these flowers in three crops a year. Some snaps and sweet peas will be grown this Winter but chrysanthemums are featured.

The Reeds use very little commercial fertilizer. They use regular garden soil and supplement it with peat and manure.

Experimental plots are maintained in the greenhouse and these are attended by the youngsters, who are anxious to find out "what will happen."

"Yes, the growing of anything in this particular location and climate is a challenge," Reed says. "However, it isn't a lost cause at all."

He has found that growing plants here in the Winter is no greater task than in many locations. Summer growing is another matter, with the winds and withering heat.

The Reeds also have found that growing things in West Texas is vastly different from procedures found in the textbooks and guide-books.

Therefore, they keep extensive data and records. Even the most minute detail is faithfully recorded. When the plants are pinched, disbudded, what insects attack them and what spray is most effective—all of these are carefully charted and logged.

Tech To Teach
"If we had a dominating urge for our hobby, it would be—what can be grown here?" explains Reed. "And of course, we want to know how best to grow it," he adds.

Some growing of the Reed hobby is in the field. But most is done in the greenhouse.

As far as the Reeds know, they are the only experimenters with cut flowers in Midland, at least on the scale that they pursue the hobby.

What they learn about growing flowers and plants, they are glad to pass on to others. And they constantly seek more information and advice.

They are looking forward to the establishment soon of a course in horticulture at Texas Tech, which will use a greenhouse the exact dimensions of theirs. Reed knows the professor at Tech's agriculture school who will teach the courses and experiment as well. His findings at Lubbock may prove valuable to the Reeds here.

Texas Tech is Reed's alma mater. He was graduated in geological engineering.

"In our growing program, we constantly are experimenting, manipulating and watching every phase of growth," he said. He gets at his problems in much the scientific manner he uses as a successful geologist.

"Horticulture is different enough from geology, that it is a real hobby," the geologist explains.

"And besides, it provides good exercise, fresh air and sunshine," he concluded.

Open Front Permits Unobstructed View In Anthony Store

The new C. R. Anthony store in Midland has the open-front-type street facing.

This type of front is relatively new to the department store field and first was used by Anthony's at its Temple, Texas, store.

Open-front-type permits an unobstructed view into the store.

Display window backgrounds are very low with this type of store front.

The store will be well lighted at night to allow the uninterrupted view into the store.

"It is like an invitation. We feel sure that West Texans will like the spacious, free look of the open-type-front," Clay Carroll, sales manager of the Anthony company said.

The U. S. Navy rations, during the war of 1812, provided most minerals and vitamins now recognized as essential, but totally lacked Vitamin C.

Veteran Driller Dies Suddenly

FORT WORTH—John M. (Jack) Loffland, 73, veteran drilling contractor, died Tuesday of a heart attack at his home here.

Loffland had been in good health, and planned to leave Sunday for a big game hunt in Alaska.

A native of Marietta, Ohio, he came to Fort Worth in 1919. For many years he and his brother, T. S. Loffland of Tulsa, Okla., owned and operated the Loffland Brothers Drilling Company whose operations were widely spread to Canada, Cuba and Venezuela.

The company was sold in 1946, the year Loffland retired, but continues to operate under that name. Loffland was an ardent sportsman.

He is survived by two sons, John M. Jr. and Tom, and five grandchildren, all of Fort Worth, a sister and the brother.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Ray Crowder Funeral Home, followed by a private interment service.
