McCamey-To-Gulf Pipe Line Planned By Six Companies

HOUSTON—(P)—Plans were announced Wednesday for building a 24-inch, 477-mile pipe line from McCamey to the Houston ship channel area. It will cost more than $35,000,000. It will have an initial capacity of 209,000 barrels of oil daily, and an ultimate capacity of 315,000 barrels daily.

It will be a multiple ownership project with six companies participating. Shell Pipe Line Corporation will design, build and operate the line. Other participants are to be Sinclair Pipe Line Company; Pan American Pipe Line Company; Phillips Pipe Line Company; Nantuxet Pipe Line Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Eastern States Petroleum Corporation, Inc.; and Tidewater Pipe Line Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Crown Central Petroleum Corporation.

The new facilities will be called the Rancho Line. It will run from McCamey by way of Eldorado, LaGrange and Genoa, to Pasadena, Harrisburg and Deer Park.

Plans call for receipt of oil from owners' connecting lines at connecting points. At Genoa, the Rancho Line will connect to a line terminating at Texas City, and between Harrisburg and Deer Park it will connect with the refineries of Eastern States, Sinclair, Crown Central and Shell, and with Phillips' Terminal, all on the Houston Ship channel.

Three pump stations will be built initially near McCamey, Eldorado and LaGrange, but eventually this number will be increased to eight, making it possible to increase the flow.

The three-hour exams have been open to all college students in the new Selective Service program for deferment. Test papers will be graded at Princeton, N. J.

Midland Streets Now 41 Years Old

Midland's two busiest thoroughfares have just passed their forty-first birthday.

Old records in City Hall disclosed Tuesday that Main Street and Wall Street were given their names formally on July 7, 1910, by the City Council headed by Mayor J. A. Haley.

However, Main Street is not Midland's first Main Street.

The old Main Street now is known as New York Avenue, as provided by the ordinance of 1910.

The present Main Street then was known as Abilene Street.

In the same ordinance, the old Iowa Avenue was changed to Wall Street, its present name.

Mrs. W. P. Menzies Dies Wednesday At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. W. P. Menzies, 76, mother of Mrs. Tom Sloan of Midland, died at the home of her daughter at 12:50 p.m. Wednesday after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Menzies had resided with her daughter at 102 South O Street the last five years. Her condition became critical a month ago.

She was the wife of the late Dr. W. P. Menzies of San Angelo.

Dr. and Mrs. Menzies were married June 8, 1897, in Brownsville, Tenn., and moved to San Angelo in 1907. They resided there 40 years.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning from the Robert Massie Funeral Chapel at San Angelo, by the Rev. B. O. Wood, First Presbyterian minister, officiating.

Survivors, besides Mrs. Sloan, include a son, Russell Menzies of El Paso; three grandchildren, Mrs. Ann Brumley of Marfa, and Tom and Susan Sloan of Midland; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Russell of San Angelo, and a niece, Elizabeth Russell, also of San Angelo.

Marine Corps Calls For 13,000 Draftees

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Marine Corps has joined the Army in calling for draftees in the next two months, but both the Air Force and the Navy will continue to depend solely upon volunteers — at least through the Summer.

The Marines Tuesday asked for 7,000 draftees in August and 6,000 in September because a slump in volunteering and the release of some reserves combined to hold the corps below its 204,000-man goal.

A shortage of volunteers also caused the Army to raise its August draft sights from 22,000 to 28,000 and to call for the same number in September. The August call will raise to 593,000 the number of Army draftees since the draft was resumed last September.

Although the Air Force fell considerably short of its June 30 goal of 850,000 men, it gained some encouragement from its June recruiting performance. The month produced 25,000 volunteers, some 7,000 short of expectations. The Air Force got only 11,000 in May.

A Navy spokesman said volunteering in June was somewhat better than in May, when only 13,809 new men signed up. The Navy's volunteering peak, since Korea, was the January figure of 38,515.

Like the other services, the Navy has a reserve release program, but it also has a well organized and available pool of reservists who have not seen service since the Far Eastern hostilities started. These men are being called up as needed to replace Korean veterans.

The Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District Tuesday night set August 23 as the date for opening bids on the three projects of the district's $1,500,000 construction program.

Plans call for construction of two new school buildings and an addition to another. A $900,000 share of the $1,500,000 total has been earmarked for the new junior high school, a board official said.

Also included in the program is a new elementary school building and an addition to South Elementary School.

Frank Monroe, school superintendent, said architects for the three projects have reported they will have plans ready for contractors by Sunday.

The board elected one new elementary school principal and 20 teachers to the school system.

Reds Insist Allies Leave North Korea

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—Cease-fire talks are progressing in "cold military formality" with every reason to be optimistic, a United Nations briefing officer said Wednesday night.

"The talks now are on the tracks," said the spokesman, Col. George Ruhlen of Las Cruces, N. M. "An armistice is much nearer tonight than it was 24 hours ago."

An official communique was less enthusiastic, however. It said "a better understanding between negotiating parties" developed Wednesday. It credited change of attitude by the five Communist generals.

Reds Relax Ban On UN Press Crew

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—The United Nations command announced Wednesday night that 20 Allied news representatives will accompany UN negotiators to Kaesong Thursday, third day of Korean armistice talks.

An official communique said the newsmen will be allowed within the area of negotiations but not in the conference room.

Allied correspondents were not allowed to attend the first two days of talks because of objections by Red negotiators.

Five Allied cameramen went to the conference city Wednesday. Accredited to the U. S. Army and the United Nations, they were permitted to make the trip as official Army photographers. The Chinese had agreed that up to five "Army photographers" could be in Kaesong.

Midland Memorial Hospital Schedules Open House Sunday

Midland Memorial Hospital will have a birthday party Sunday as everybody's invited.

The huge hospital, made possible by big-hearted contributors, will celebrate its first anniversary with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Visitors will be conducted through the many facilities of the institution and served refreshments. There'll be birthday cake, too.

The Hospital Ladies Auxiliary and staff members will conduct tours into every facility, including the nurses' home.

From a toddling infant, as new hospitals go, a year ago, with an average daily patient list of 17, to a walking anniversary with an average of 55 a day, Midland Memorial Hospital has numerous accomplishments to show the public.

Visitors will see the Cancer Diagnostic Center, the X-ray therapy department and the pathologic department, the iron lung and the oxygen pressure lock that breathes for infants. These and other additions to the hospital, manned by a staff that has grown from 23 to 34, enable it to rate high in the medical field.

Dr. Richard Harrell, administrator, said efficient operation has enabled room prices to be lowered from $11 to a $10.50 maximum and to as low as $7 a day. The hospital has been approved by the American Hospital Association and has provisional approval of the American College of Surgeons.

"It's built and operated for future needs," Dr. Harrell said of the 102-bed-capacity hospital. "We're proud of it and we want everybody to attend the party."

IN HOLLYWOOD

Presto! Now Susan Hayward Sings Just Like Jane Froman

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: Making like Al Jolson may have bothered Larry Parks, but Susan Hayward isn't showing the faintest worry line in her smooth forehead over playing Jane Froman in "With a Song in My Heart."

There's a reason for the smile on Virginia Mayo's face these days. Hubby Michael O'Shea, dogged by hard luck, finally has rubbed the jinx sign off his film career and is climbing the golden stairs again with an important role at Fox.

"I just make believe I'm singing and have this beautiful voice," she remarked. "For the first time in my life, I can stand myself singing."

"It's an over-the-rainbow thing, brother!" Scott Brady talking about his leap into big-time emoting as the co-star of Jeanne Crain and Thelma Ritter in Fox's "The Marriage Broker."

"I never thought I'd get out of cops-and-robbers pictures," Scott told me at the Beverly Gourmet. "Then this thing came out of left field. I'm playing comedy for the first time. I look at the screen and say 'Is this really me?' Is this the guy who smelled in all those other pictures? What happened?"

Scott recently wiggled out of his Eagle-Lion contract. The guy he's been playing, he walks, had no sense of humor. "Take Humphrey Bogart. He mixes the toughness with humor. Bogey says, 'Ah, shut up,' and you laugh. They made me play it straight."

Competition Bing and Garry Crosby may be having mother and daughter warbling competition from Loyce White-man and her sprig, 14-year-old Marty, whose papa is Loyce's ex-husband, one-time Rhythm Boy Harry Barris.

"It may be a year or two in the future," Loyce admitted, "but Mary's already got what Harry and I didn't have. When we sing together you can't tell our voices apart—she's got rhythm."

Loyce, on the comeback trail with a male trio, now that she and her husband, Ken Hubbard, have moved back to Hollywood from Santa Barbara, Calif., was a Coconut Grove star when Bing was gulping coconuts milk there—"I made more money than Bing then but don't mention it because it makes me very sad."

The Grove in 1931 was a star hangout with Loyce's name in lights on the marquee out front. "Our only problem," she remembers, "was Jack Oakie. He always wanted to be leading the band. The only way we could get him off the bandstand was to have the boys walk off, one by one, until only Jack was left."

There's a reason for the smile on Virginia Mayo's face these days. Hubby Michael O'Shea, dogged by hard luck, finally has rubbed the jinx sign off his film career and is climbing the golden stairs again with an important role at Fox.

"I thought I knew more than the studios," grinned Mike. "You know something? I didn't."

Mike blames bad pictures — "I did three stinkers in a row"—and miscasting for his career reverses.

He says: "I should have done character things. They had me doing romantic roles and I'm just not the lover boy type. Give me a love scene to do and I break up. I start laughing."

Slanted Their Way "Don't worry if your eyes slant a bit, girls—Hollywood will make you the perfect wife! It happened to Myrna Loy and now it's happening to Gene Tierney."

They tied domestic aprons around Gene's waistline in "The Matron" and "As Time Goes By" and she laughs: "Myrna had a nice career being the perfect wife. I hope I'm as lucky."

Hollywood producers had visions of Chinese junks, temple bells and palm fronds when Gene hit town and flashed those tilted peepers. She was cast as oriental dolls in a series of pagoda-and-incense flickers.

"I felt like screaming," Gene winces, "every time they pussed me against a gong. Now I guess I've escaped chop suey roles for good—I hope."

Short Takes: No money in television? Spike Jones will get $200,000 for five video shows next season.

Bing Crosby, and his boys will spend the Summer brushing up on their farming at his Elko, Nevada, ranch. Judy Garland's new personal manager is her boy friend Sid Luft, ex-husband of Lynn Bari.

The western states have more than 5,000,000 acres of arid and semi-arid lands under irrigation.

FBI's 'Most Wanted' List Includes Tait

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The FBI Wednesday put Ernest Tait, whom it described as a burglar and chronic criminal, on its list of "10 most wanted men."

Tait, a native of Indianapolis, currently is sought for an attempted burglary of the Elks Club at New Castle, Ind., on April 1. Police engaged two prowlers in the building in a bloody gun battle.

The FBI said Tait, wounded, escaped after kicking one of the officers. His accomplice, Richard Schmidt, was captured, his spinal cord severed by a bullet. The bureau said it was possible Tait shot his companion "when caught." The latter was probably crippled for life.

Long Criminal Record Tait, now 40, has a criminal record dating back 20 years. He was shot and badly wounded once before, in 1935, during an attempt to burglarize an Indianapolis bank, and escaped from the Indiana Penitentiary while serving time for that offense. He later was imprisoned in Illinois for unlawfully procuring explosives and subsequently was sent back to Indiana to complete his earlier sentence.

The FBI said Tait talks with a pronounced lisp, frequents race tracks and has a weakness for odd-make automobiles. Slightly more than six feet tall, he is slender and brown-haired.

On the "most wanted" list, Tait replaces Anthony Brancato, who surrendered at San Francisco June 29, just two days after he was included among the 10 top fugitives. Brancato was sought for a May 28 holdup at Las Vegas, Nev.

Indictment Charges Munitions Firm In South Amboy Blasts

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—A massive indictment captioned 9,000 counts—possibly the most in U. S. legal history—accuses an Ohio munitions firm of negligence in a death-dealing explosion at South Amboy, N. J., in 1950.

The 2,800-page indictment returned Tuesday named the Kilgore Manufacturing Company of Newark, Ohio, in connection with the May 19 munitions blast that took 31 lives and caused $10,000,000 in damage.

If convicted on all counts, the Kilgore firm could draw fines of from $9,000,000 to $90,000,000, depending on the scope of the alleged violation.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph B. Schwartz said the indictment contained the highest number of counts in the history of New Jersey "and maybe anywhere."

Returned by a federal grand jury, it accused the company of violating Interstate Commerce Commission regulations by packing detonators in the same case as munitions.

It said 9,000 such cases packed into 10 freight cars blew up at South Amboy while being transferred to barges for eventual shipment overseas.

Schwartz explained that a violation of the ICC rule calls for a $1,000 fine on each count. A fine of $10,000 a count would be possible, he said, if it could be proved the violation led to bodily harm or death.

The fatal shipment started east from Van Atta, Ohio, near Newark on May 3, 1950, via rail. Nineteen days later it exploded on the South Amboy waterfront with terrifying force. Thirty-one workers were killed. South Amboy and surrounding towns sustained over $10,000,000 in property damage.

Kathleen Drewry Conviction For Shooting Overruled

ATLANTA—(AP)—Conviction of Mrs. Kathleen Merry Drewry for shooting a young woman who succeeded her as the wife of University of Georgia Journalism Dean John E. Drewry was overruled Tuesday.

The Georgia Supreme Court held that a remark by the trial judge was prejudicial and ordered a new trial. Solicitor General Marshall Pollock said he planned a retrial next week.

Mrs. Drewry, 45, was convicted of assault with intent to murder Miriam Thurmond, who later married Dean Drewry. She was sentenced to two to four years, but is free on bond.

Miss Thurmond was shot in her living room Dec. 23, 1949, as she sat at Drewry's feet. The dean was wounded, too, but Mrs. Drewry has not yet been tried on that count.

The Drewrys were divorced at the time of the shooting, but Mrs. Drewry claimed they were common law man and wife.

'M' Is For Myrtle And Mayhem
—In Most Wives' Alphabets

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Myrtle is a menace. Not just because Myrtle can "do anything," but because Myrtle insists on making it all sound so simple and easy—especially in front of her friends' husbands.

Any husband, after an evening in Myrtle's home is bound to think his own wife is either lazy or stupid or has for years been selling him a bill of goods about how hard she works.

To begin with, Myrtle specializes in impromptu entertaining. In a few minutes after her "unexpected" guests arrive Myrtle whips up a tasty buffet before their eyes. Only another woman would be catty enough to wonder just how really spur-of-the-moment the party actually was, with a baked ham conveniently in the ice box, a cake baked just that day and other happy "coincidences."

But the men go home wondering why, if Myrtle can have unexpected guests so easily, their own wives get upset when they invite the crowd over without checking to see if the icebox resembles Old Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

Then, too, if a wife makes an innocent remark like: "I'm going to get Mrs. So-and-So to slip-cover my davenport," Myrtle looks shocked. "Why don't you do it yourself?" she asks. "There's no trick to it at all. Why I wouldn't think of hiring a slip cover maid."

Myrtle wouldn't dream of hiring the kitchen painted, either. And she isn't content merely to say so, either. You've got to see the kitchen she painted herself and hear how easy it was to do so.

Myrtle can always tell women exactly how to do everything they were figuring on getting someone else to do. And if she keeps it up and many more husbands innocently remark to their wives: "How about it, Honey, don't you think you could paint the house?" or whatever, Myrtle is going to find herself boycotted by her women friends.

The Myrtles of the world are a menace to organized housewives.

New York Bakeries Reopen After Strike

But first the baking firms' employes had to return to work. The bakers were not on strike, but they had refused to cross the drivers' picket lines.

Rape Charged Midland Negro

The girl told police she was walking home through an alley in the 100 block of South Tyler Street when her assailant grabbed her. He dragged her five blocks deserted place, she said, where attack occurred among a clump mesquite bushes. She was examined at We Clinic-Hospital and was given emergency treatment for bruises and scratches. Connally Asks HST To Sign Bracero Bill

WASHINGTON - (AP) - Senator Tom Connally says he personally has urged President Truman to sign the bill authorizing importation of Mexican farm workers.
 Some groups have asked Truman to veto it. He has until Friday to act. The Texas senator said Tuesday the President had given him no indication of what Truman will do.
 Congress passed the measure June 30. On July 6 AFL President William Green and CIO President Philip Murray wrote the President, urging a veto.

Tahitian Woman Claims Hula Dance Is Worth $150,000

LOS ANGELES - (AP) - A Hula dance performed privately is worth $150,000 if commercialized, a Tahitian woman claims in a damage suit.
 Mrs. Arlette Pures Reasin, wife of John Russell Reasin, plantation operator at Papete, Tahiti, made the claim against RKO Pictures, Inc., Sol Lesser Productions, Inc., producer and distributor of the film "Kon-Tiki," and author Thor Heyerdahl.
 Her complaint related that after Heyerdahl and his companions on a raft journey across the South Pacific arrived in Tahiti in 1947, she gave the dance at a party for them. She said she had not authorized commercial use, in the film, of movies Heyerdahl took of her dance.

Port Newark Fire Is Out Officially

NEWARK, N. J. - (AP) - The $5,000,000 Port Newark propane gas fire is out officially after 68 hectic hours.
 Fire Chief Charles Burnett called back 12 fire companies after an inspection trip Tuesday night at the Warren Maritime Corporation tank farm.
 Two others were left at the scene of Saturday's rocket-like blasts as a precautionary measure. Earlier in the day, firemen extinguished a brief flareup in a tank filled with the highly combustible cooking gas.
 A series of explosions destroyed 71 of the tanks Saturday, rocked the surrounding area and sent orange flames thousands of feet in the air.

- * THIS IS THE DOOR that opens wide—10 to 12 inches wider than in the other two leading low-priced cars. It means easier, more graceful exits and entrances. And door openings are higher too.
- * THIS IS THE CHAIR-HEIGHT SEAT, highest in the lowest-priced field. With legs and back fully supported, you sit in an erect natural posture that means more comfort, less fatigue. There's ample headroom too.
- * THESE ARE THE CONTROLS and conveniences that only Plymouth offers in the lowest-priced field: An ignition key that starts the engine and puts the automatic choke in operation... electric windshield wipers that don't slow down when you step on the gas... and Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes that give you better, more certain control because they have a total of six hydraulic cylinders compared to four in the other two leading low-priced cars.
- * THIS IS THE ENGINE, and the only engine in the lowest-priced field, that offers the brilliant performance of 97 horsepower with 7.0 to 1 compression ratio.

'Unknown' British Negro Lifts Ray Robinson's Crown

LONDON—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, once considered boxing's invincible fighting machine, was stripped of his world middleweight crown Wednesday after absorbing a terrific beating by Randolph Turpin, a comparative newcomer to fist fighting's big time.

Turpin, 23-year-old negro almost unknown outside of his British homeland, as to tell him he looked the shadow of his usual self.

"I felt good," Robinson insisted. "Turpin is a real good boy."

Turpin's first stop after leaving the ring was Robinson's dressing room, where he told Sugar Ray "You were a real champion just like they told me."

"You were real good, just like they said you were," Sugar replied.

Robinson's wife, Edda Mae, her eyes filled with tears, told Turpin "You take good care of that title. Maybe we will be back to take it away from you."

From the ring, Turpin had told the roaring British crowd: "I hope I am able to keep this for you for a long time."

"I lost," he said simply. "Unawed by the champion's dazzling reputation, young Turpin bored in from the start to outpunch, out-box and outsmart the overwhelming favorite who has been hailed in recent years as the greatest fighter-punch for pound—anywhere in the world."

"I thought I was winning all the time," Turpin declared as he ran into his dressing room. "He never hurt me once." Randy was quite right.

Turpin finished without a scratch, while Robinson just barely escaped in the fourteenth round and ended up with a deep cut on his left eyebrow and another gash high on his left cheekbone. The eyebrow cut apparently came from a crash of heads in the ninth round.

The Associated Press scorecard gave Robinson, who had lost only one other fight in 131 bouts covering 11 years, just four rounds. Turpin got nine, with two even.

Out Going Chandler Bitter; Owners Discuss Successor

DETROIT—(AP)—Outgoing Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler said Wednesday he would welcome an opportunity to get back into baseball but denied a report he would replace Billy Evans as general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Chandler, whose resignation becomes effective Sunday, performed his last major official act Tuesday when he presided over the 18th annual All-Star game.

The former Kentucky senator outwardly appeared his old-smiling, jovial self as he visited each dugout, bidding goodbye to the all-star players, managers and coaches of the National and American Leagues. But to close friends he made no efforts to hid his true feelings.

"I don't remember when I've felt as I do now," he confided. "Why should they have done this to me? What reasons did they have. They still haven't told me."

Meanwhile, major league club owners said they hope to choose a successor to Chandler by August 1.

Owners of the 16 clubs agreed Tuesday to put in writing their recommendations for the $65,000-a-year job by July 20. The screening committee met with the owners to discuss the type of commissioner desired, but no names have yet been submitted.

Indians Take 10-8 Game From Drillers

ARTESIA—Three runs in the eighth inning produced a 10-8 win for the Midland Indians over the Artesia Drillers here Tuesday night in a wild Longhorn League baseball game.

Gabby Blumenthal hung up his fifth win of the year as against six defeats, as his mates pounded out 15 hits. Seven of the Midland runs were unearned, coming on a flock of Driller errors. Ray Riley got the loss.

Midland's runs in the eighth came when Fleem Flott reached base by error and was tripped home by Hayden White. White then scored on a single by Kenny Jones. A walk to Dick Campbell placed Jones at second, and he scored from there as Eddie Melillo rapped out a hit.

The Indians scored five runs in the initial inning. Flott started it by reaching base on a miscalc, and Scooter Hughes reached base the same way. A double by Hayden White scored Flott, with Kenny Jones following up with a single. Three more singles—by Campbell, Melillo and Ray Quartucci—produced the remaining Midland tallies.

In the third, Blumenthal singled Melillo in from second, after Melillo and Quartucci had walked.

Campbell got on by an error, advanced to second on a fly ball and scored on another error in the seventh.

The Drillers scored five in the second on four singles, two walks and a sacrifice. They led 8-7 before the Indians rallied in the eighth.

Midland moved to Roswell for the first game of a two-game series Wednesday night.

Houston widened its lead over the faltering Dallas Eagles to five and one-half games with a 7-3 victory over Beaumont. Dallas lost to Tulsa 2-0 although Bill Abernathie gave up only four hits while the Birds were getting to Jim Avrea for six.

Beaumont and San Antonio tangled in a doubleheader with the Missions taking the first game 5-0 but losing the second 2-1.

Longhorn League Pressley Gets Grand-Slammer In Managerial Debut

By The Associated Press
Julian Pressley, hard-hitting Sweetwater outfielder, took over the reins of the Swatters in the Longhorn League Tuesday and collected a grand-slam home run in the game with San Angelo to celebrate. But the Colts put a damper on his debut with a 10-7 victory over the cellar club.

Big Spring made it two in a row over the Roswell Rockets in that "crucial" series. Second place was at stake when the two opened the series but the Browns now hold a three and one-half game lead.

The Broncos blasted 18 hits off two Rocket pitchers for an easy 12-4 win. They had three three-run innings.

The Midland Indians scored eight unearned runs, five in the first inning, to beat Artesia 10-8.

Al Richardson pitched the Vernon Dusters to an 8-3 win over Odessa in the other game. He gave up four hits for his twelfth victory of the season.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Nationals Power To 8-3 Victory Over Americans

DETROIT—(AP)—The National League inner circle Wednesday saw an end to the American League's "reign of terror" and predicted a new cycle shifting the batting power to the senior circuit.

Gil Hodges, strapping Brooklyn first baseman and the National League's home run leader, said after Tuesday's 8-3 triumph over the American League:

"It is the National that has the home run hitters now, not the American. Yes, sir, times have changed."

Ralph Kiner, the nation's home run king for the last five years, echoed this sentiment.

"We're the big guys now and they are the little boys," he said. "I could see that before the game when we lined up for the national anthem. I looked over at the American League bunch and thought, 'Gee, what a bunch of little guys compared to a few years ago.' For the first time our boys looked like the big men."

Hodges and Kiner hit two of the Nationals' four homers as they bombarded five pitchers for a dozen hits and ran up the biggest run total ever made by a National League all-star team.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Elliott of the Boston Braves also smashed homers for the winners. Those of Hodges and Elliott came with a man on base.

George Kell and Vic Wertz of Detroit hit his solo four-baggers for the Americans.

Home Run Battle
The emphasis was strictly on the home run but little Richie Ashburn, fleet-footed Philadelphia Phillies outfielder, brought the huge Briggs Stadium crowd of 52,075 to its feet with a brilliant leaping catch in the sixth inning to rob Wertz of a near-homer. Ashburn caught the ball in front of the right center-

Julian Pressley Named To Pilot Sweetwater Nine

SWEETWATER—The Sweetwater Swatters had their sixth manager of the season Wednesday.

Julian Pressley, former Midland player, was named to pilot the Swatters when Jim Morgan asked for and received his release. Morgan joined the Swatters only two weeks ago, but said a back injury was forcing him to retire.

The 27-year-old Pressley joined Sweetwater as an outfielder two weeks ago. He started the season with Rowell, then went to Artesia. Pressley once performed briefly with Fort Worth in the Texas League.

JayCees To Sponsor All-City Swimming Tourney Saturday

Pagoda Pool Saturday morning will be the scene of an all-Midland swimming meet, sponsored by the Midland JayCees.

The splash tourney—to begin at 10:30 a.m.—was drummed up by Bud White and Ed Dillon, JayCee swimming instructors, to replace a cancelled TAAF meet.

Medals and ribbons will go to individual winners in the meet. White said several events would be held, with divisions for men, women and both boys and girls. He said any Midlanders may enter the tournament. It is not necessary to be a member of the JayCee team to enter.

"We want this to be a real all-city swimming tournament," White said Wednesday.

King's Row

by Larry King

That was quite a feat Billy Medart, the ex-HMS athlete, turned in Tuesday night when he fanned 17 batters in a baseball game here.

Of course the opposition—the Latin American Youth Center—wasn't too strong, but the manner in which Medart walked on the mound for the first time this year and proceeded to give up but one hit is remarkable.

Medart looms larger every day as one of Midland High School's best all-around athletes of all time.

He pitched some fine American Legion and high school baseball the last two years, and was an outstanding grinder for Tugboat Jones, performing as a defensive halfback.

Too, he captured the novice middleweight district crown last February in his first attempt at the manly art of self defense. Medart also was a better-than-average trackman for MHS last year, and seems headed for a brilliant collegiate career. Bill Gildewell, the Youth Center director, has been telling of Medart's exploits to DeWitt Weaver, the new Texas Tech coach.

We wouldn't be surprised to see him enter the Lubbock school in September.

DOTS AND DASHES Nationals defeated the Americans in the all-star tilt, as we predicted, if you'll overlook the personal horn-tooting. . . . And how about Randy Turpin beating Sugar Ray Robinson. . . . Must be the heat. . . . We were glad to hear of Fred Underwood's appointment to Annapolis. . . . Fred was praised by his Midland High School coaches here last year as "a fine, outstanding athlete and student." . . . Bob Wood, Jimmy O'Neal, Reed Gilmore and Duane Bush say they are starting to get ready for the Permian Bowl football game to be played in Odessa August 17. . . . The Longhorn League star tilt is just around the corner. . . . It's in Rowell, July 19. . . . End of the Row!

City Major Softball Playoffs Continue Wednesday Night

Four City Major teams in the JayCee Softball League tangle Wednesday night, as they fight for the championship of Midland.

In the first game, Rotary Engineering Company takes on Standard of Texas. Rotary won the first game Monday night 9-5. A Standard loss would eliminate it from championship consideration. The tilt begins at 7:45 p.m.

Western Plastic—winner of the regular-season crown—plays Shell Oil in a second game. Plastic defeated Shell 4-4 Monday night. Shell also would be eliminated from the championship fight by being defeated Wednesday.

Iron Premier Advised To Accept HST Offer

TEHRAN, IRAN—(AP)—An Iranian government spokesman said Wednesday Iran's oil nationalization commission has recommended that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh accept President Truman's offer to send W. Averell Harriman here to discuss the bitter British-Iranian oil dispute.

The premier appeared to have been stalling on an answer to President Truman's offer to send his personal representative. The commission, however, said it approved the idea "on the ground that Harriman's visit could not conflict with the oil nationalization law," the spokesman said.

Odessa Edges Crane 3-0 In Permian Game

CRANE—Jack Roberts shut out the Crane Gulf Oilers as Odessa's Tennessee Milk team defeated the Crane team 3-0 here Tuesday night. The game put the Odessa team into second place, and shoved Crane into the third slot in the Permian Basin Softball League.

A Shaughnessy playoff beginning Wednesday night finds the same two teams tangle in Crane, with Kermit and McCamey meeting in McCamey.

Deputy Sounds Off Too Soon On Mileage

BIRMINGHAM—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff A. Z. Glaze went to summon a citizen for jury duty Tuesday.

A housewife answered his knock. "Does he HAVE to serve?" she asked.

"Yes, ma'am." "Do you pay mileage?" "Yes." "Fine," said the housewife, brightening. "He's in Japan."

STANTON—A barbecue supper at City Park Tuesday night climaxed the 19th annual Old Settlers Reunion of Martin County.

It was attended by more than 500 members of the organization and their families. They registered from Colorado, California, New Mexico and Oklahoma, in addition to numerous Texas cities. One attendant, Warrant Officer Jess Heat, registered from Anchorage, Alaska.

"Men who wish to take advantage of the directive must act immediately," Wheelus said.

The policy was in effect approximately one month.

Testimony Against Texans Sought In Quickie Divorce Case

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Texas officers are trying to make arrangements for a 38-year-old negro man here to testify against three Dallas attorneys involved in a quickie divorce scheme.

Assistant Dallas County Attorney Jimmie McNichol said Tuesday Willie Hawkins had named the three Dallas attorneys and he hoped to take Hawkins to Texas next fall as a prosecution witness.

Hawkins pleaded guilty last week to two counts of petty theft and one of practicing law without a license. He will be sentenced July 24.

McNichol did not name the Texas lawyers.

New Equipment Now Being Installed To Handle Amazing Increase In Long Distance Traffic Originating Here

Installation of additional equipment to handle an "amazing" increase in long-distance telephone traffic in Midland was being rushed to completion here this week by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"It's the most amazing thing I ever saw," said J. H. Zumwalt, Dallas, state traffic supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

"At the time we designed this new plant, we thought we were being liberal to provide for 3,200 outgoing toll calls you might have in a couple of years."

"Well, three days in succession last week, the outgoing calls hit all-time highs and last Friday there was a total of 3,467 outgoing long-distance calls from Midland."

Switchboard "Kidnaped" Zumwalt literally kidnaped five switchboard positions which already had been delivered to Houston for installation and had them shipped here.

He dug up another four-position board at Freeport and made other arrangements which will give Midland an additional 17 switchboard positions.

In addition, the telephone company, which had been receiving all its calls through the main switchboard, now is installing its own PBX board, to cut down on the traffic through the main board.

"We've just tossed aside our timetable for Midland," Zumwalt continued, "and are making plans which we thought we wouldn't have to make for another two years."

Midland Manager Al Case said the heavy toll traffic has rushed other plans, too, since the new dial exchange was opened less than three weeks ago.

Inter-Toll Dialing
In the old exchange building, for instance, an inter-toll dial system is being installed by which long-distance operators in Midland can plug directly into the destination switchboard and dial the desired long-distance number.

This system was not scheduled for operation for several months, "But to speed up the traffic, we've already got that working so far as Dallas and Fort Worth are concerned," he said.

"When a long-distance call is placed in Midland to one of those cities, the operator here actually dials the number desired in Dallas or Fort Worth."

"And Abilene, Lubbock and Odessa already are dialing their own numbers in Midland."

Case pointed to the two long switchboards at the telephone exchange and the scores of girls operating them.

"People used to ask what we would do with our operators when we changed over to the dial system," he laughed.

"There's your answer. We already have more stations on our toll switchboard here than we had altogether at the other exchange."

Employment Problem
The employment of girls as operators still is a problem.

Pretty Farm Girl, 14, Tells Story Of Kidnaping And Rape

QUITMAN, TEXAS—(AP)—A pretty, 14-year-old farm girl Tuesday night told Wood County Sheriff C. M. Barnett she was kidnaped and raped by a red-haired gunman.

She sobbed as she told Barnett a man about 35 years old forced her from her home near Mesquite, in Dallas County, and raped her three times.

"I was still in the process of picking up accounts which haven't been billed properly for a long time," she said.

He estimated some 500 accounts, which previously had been receiving water without getting bills, had been "picked up" in the last year or so.

He said much of the trouble could be traced to an incident three years ago when a quantity of sand and gravel entered the water mains and ruined the meters.

These meters were taken out, direct connections were made and no new meters put in immediately.

Oswald said the city has three meter readers to cover the approximately 7,000 meters each month. It normally takes them 20 days to read all the meters.

He promised to study the situation more closely and to effect changes necessary to see that all meters are read properly and regularly and that proper bills are sent to the consumers.

Reds Relax—

British Broadcasting Corporation television.

Chinese Red soldiers halted the photographers at an outpost along the way for an hour. The Reds turned down repeated offers of American cigarettes and candy. They apologized for lack of facilities to show their hospitality to the Allied photographers.

North Koreans made up for that lack when the Allied group arrived at UN House in Kaesong.

North Korean soldiers and a blue distributed North Korean drinks, Russian candy bars and Chinese cigarettes. The Americans readily accepted.

The five Allied cameramen, with an equal number of Red photographers in uniform, were allowed to move freely in the compound of the conference house and take whatever pictures they wanted. But they were not permitted to enter the conference room.

The Red negotiators agreed to the presence of Allied correspondents in Kaesong only after several requests by American delegates.

like manner."

He said he could not disclose just what has been accomplished.

Conferees are operating without a chairman. Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy leads Allied discussions as UN spokesman. North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, is the "dominant force on their side." Rubien described him as dynamic and a man with a strong character.

He said neither dominates the sessions—held around a long table in a room decorated only by the UN banner and a North Korean flag.

"There is a general feeling among United Nations delegates to the armistice negotiations that progress is being made."

Opposing delegations have not yet agreed on "priority of items for the agenda," it said. But "a better understanding of the intended scope" of cease-fire talks has been reached "by all concerned."

The language barrier has slowed negotiations considerably.

In the more informal words of Admiral Burke, progress has been "fair—fair, but you never can tell about these things."

Three-Point Demand
Communist radios in Pyongyang and Peiping said North Korean and Communist negotiators have laid down a three-point demand for a cease-fire agreement:

1. Establish a 12 1/2-mile buffer zone at the 38th parallel.

2. Re-establish the status quo as of June 25, 1950, when the Korean war started, with the 38th parallel dividing North and South Korea.

3. Withdraw all "foreign troops" from Korea and start talks immediately for exchange of prisoners.

When Burke alighted from his helicopter at this "peace camp" he was asked if he had any comment on Moscow radio reports that the UN delegation refused to discuss withdrawal of troops from Korea on "the grounds it was a political problem." The UN delegation announced at the outset it would not discuss political or economic questions.

"The withdrawal of troops probably would be political," Burke said. Then he smiled wryly and added, "I talk too damn much."

Burke said Wednesday's sessions were shorter than the four and one-half hours spent in talk opening day.

"We stayed too damn long yesterday, anyway," the admiral said. He explained the UN delegation was up half of Tuesday night writing reports.

Meetings Reserved
The meetings so far have been reserved, Burke said. Progress appeared to be fair, he added.

Asked how he felt after two days of meetings, Burke said: "I can tell you better after six months."

When Maj. Gen. H. I. Hodges, another UN delegate, was asked how things were going, his only comment was:

"The weather was better today than yesterday."

Information was scarce as to just what is happening in the Communist-guarded private home in Kaesong where the meetings are held.

Allied correspondents have been barred from the ancient Korean capital at the insistence of Communist negotiators.

But the North Korean Pyongyang radio and the Chinese Peiping radio broadcast a detailed report on what they said was the basic Red demand for armistice terms.

Nothing Startling
There was nothing startling about the demands. They have been voiced frequently by the Communists. They offer some ticklish points of interpretation and are divergent from expected UN demands.

It is generally understood in this peace camp that UN delegates will insist on an armistice commissioner, including neutral observers on both sides of the demarcation line. The UN also may demand a cease-fire line more nearly along the present front.

UN forces are 30 miles north of the parallel in the east, roughly 30 miles north in the center, and south of the line only in the west. Kaesong, where meetings are being held 12 miles south of the parallel, is three miles south of the line.

The Red demands would see the UN forces to do most of the withdrawing. Naval blockades, which the Red demand would halt, are maintained only by the Allies. And almost all air reconnaissance is done by UN planes.

Most important omission from the United Nations view was the lack of any provision for policing North Korea, and a similar plan for South Korea. Allied spokesmen have said such policing is necessary to prevent any buildup of forces during final negotiations or after a settlement.

The United Nations want the right of aerial surveillance over Communist Korea and are willing to grant the same privilege to the Reds in the south.

Matador Ranch Directors Vote To Accept Sale Bid

DUNDEE, SCOTLAND — (AP)—Shareholders of the Scottish-controlled Matador Land and Cattle Company Wednesday unanimously adopted resolutions looking toward the sale of their vast cattle ranch holdings in the Texas Panhandle to an American syndicate.

Unless there is a time extension, the shareholders have until Monday to accept or reject an offer of $18,960,000 for Matador's two ranches, which cover about 812,000 acres.

The offer was made by the Lazard Brothers banking firm of New York, London and Paris. The syndicate includes the Lazard Brothers and 17 newly-formed cattle companies.

Under the projected deal, the American syndicate would get the land, approximately 47,000 head of Hereford cattle and half interest in all mineral rights. The latter consideration is important, since all of the land is leased for oil drilling.

Matador shareholders would form a $1,100,000 American corporation in cooperation with some American investors to hold their half of the mineral rights.

Huge, New Floods Threaten Kansas

TOPEKA, KAN.—(AP)—Huge, new floods poured down Kansas streams Wednesday in the wake of torrential overnight rains and Kansas braced for a possible major disaster.

Precautionary evacuation of 10,000 residents from the low-lying areas of Topeka, the state's capital city, began as National Guardsmen were rescuing marooned refugees in other Kansas cities upstream.

The Red Cross at St. Louis predicted 19,000 would be homeless in Topeka by Thursday as additional floodwaters poured down the already swollen Kansas River. Less serious rises were reported in Northwest Missouri, which also had heavy rains Tuesday night.

Survey Shows Food Prices Unchanged

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A government survey Wednesday showed no change in food prices during the first two weeks of June. The special food index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics put retail food prices in mid-June at three-tenths of one per cent lower than in mid-May, but 12 per cent higher than a year earlier. The bureau said prices went up during the first half of June for pork, fish and eggs, but these were offset by price cuts for poultry, fruits and vegetables, and fats and oils.

LEG IS INJURED

Lyndell Evans of Littlefield, and employe of the G & W Well Service, received emergency treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday for leg bruises and a sprained foot. Hospital officials said he was injured in a fall while helping to move a rig.

Drunken Driving Brings $100 Fine

A 35-year-old Midland motorist was fined $100 and court costs in County Court Tuesday on a charge of drunken driving. His driver's license automatically was suspended for six months, the usual procedure in convictions for driving while intoxicated.

City Patrolmen Herb Runyan and Jack Tranum reported they were driving west on Wall Street Monday when the motorist's car approached them at the intersection of Wall and E Streets and forced their car to the curb.

Ingrid Bergman To See Daughter Late This Month

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Arrangements have been made for Ingrid Bergman to see her 12-year-old daughter, Pia Lindstrom, for the first time in more than two years. The visit will be somewhere in Sweden late this month.

Pia and her father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, prepared for the journey Wednesday. His lawyer said they will sail Saturday from New York on the Queen Mary, spend some time in England with friends, then go to Sweden to meet Miss Bergman. The lawyer's office said the place in Sweden is a matter between Dr. Lindstrom and his ex-wife.

Miss Bergman hasn't seen her daughter since she left Hollywood in March, 1949, to make the film "Stromboli" in Italy for Italian director Roberto Rossellini. Dr. Lindstrom divorced Miss Bergman here Nov. 1, 1950. He retained custody of Pia. After Dr. Lindstrom and Pia became American citizens last November, she took an Americanized name of Jenny Ann.

1951 Potato Crop May Be Record Low

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There will be no annoying potato surplus this year. An Agriculture Department crop report Wednesday indicated spud production this year may be only slightly above normal demands. Farmers cut potato plantings to the smallest level since 1871. This was attributed to withdrawal of government price supports which had cost the Treasury more than $500,000,000 during the last 10 years. This year's crop was forecast at 356,000,000 bushels, or almost a fifth less than last year. The sweet potato harvest may be down a third from last year and the smallest in two-thirds of a century.

LUMBER HEIR WEDS LAREDO, TEXAS, GIRL
LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—Honorary Wednesday are J. Phillip Weyerhaeuser III, member of the Tacoma, Wash., lumber family, and Clara Fuqua of Laredo, Texas. The couple was married Tuesday by the Rev. Frank Carter of the First Christian Church in a hotel chapel.

Body Of Missing Girl Discovered In Windsor Park

WINDSOR, ENGLAND—(AP)—The strangled, violated body of little Christine Butcher—who vanished from a crowd outside Sugar Ray Robinson's training camp—was found Tuesday night. The seven-year-old child lived only 30 yards from the gymnasium where Robinson trained for his fight with Randolph Turpin. She had told her mother on Sunday she was going to show Sugar Ray her black-faced china doll. Two visitors to Windsor Park found the little girl's body Tuesday night concealed in long grass near the River Thames. It was covered with the blue coat she was wearing when she left home. Police said she had been assaulted. Robinson told reporters: "If I had known she wanted to see me, her daddy could have brought her in and then this would never have happened."

Petition Circulated To Force Action On Combat Pay Measure

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two congressmen are circulating a petition to force House action on legislation to give combat pay to fighting servicemen in Korea.

Reps. Olin Teague (D-Texas) and Charles Potter (R-Mich)—both purple heart veterans of World War II—sent letters to all House colleagues Tuesday urging them to sign the petition. It would squeeze out of committee a bill to pay $100 a month extra to officers, and $50 more a month to enlisted men, for time spent in combat.

Their letter said the bill was introduced by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee with Defense Department backing, but has not been acted upon by the committee.

If 218 House members sign the petition the committee would be required to send the bill to the House for a vote.

CHENNAULT TO U. S. A.
TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault (U. S. A., retired) left Wednesday for a one-month visit to the United States. He will travel via Manila on a Philippine Air Line plane.

A London curiosity shop exhibited a teapot with three spouts, permitting the pouring of three cups of tea at one time.

The Battle After The Cease-Fire

Defense Leaders Fear Demand For Arms Cut

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—America now enters the most crucial stage of the build-up of its armed strength as a defense against Communist aggression.

Will Americans have the patience and foresight to support a large Army, Navy and Air Force without the stimulus of war casualties?

That is the question which has been haunting Secretary of Defense George Marshall and all other military and civilian leaders in Washington ever since the Korean War inspired a major expansion of the services.

If history repeats, Marshall's worst fears will come true. With peace will come increasing demands for cuts in a high military budget, until the whittling process reduces America's strength to the pitifully weak force it was at the start of the Korean fighting.

Marshall's only hope is that the Korean lesson has been dramatic and shocking enough to convince Americans that the only thing that stands between eventual aggressive domination of the world by communism is an armed and strong America. Military leaders believe that there will have been a lot of white crosses planted in Korea in vain if the Korean lesson is dismissed.

The goal—3,500,000 men: Since the Korean War started, we've made a good start on building up the number of men in uniform.

U. S. taxpayers face a heavy load in keeping America strong, however. This year's military budget is $60,000,000,000. This, it is hoped, will pay for the Korean expenses and the good start that has been made towards the goal of putting 3,500,000 men in uniform.

Wistful Speaking
At this point the Pentagon spokesmen speak wistfully of maybe cutting that figure down next year and then lowering it further at a

SURVEY IN ONTARIO

FORT FRANCES, ONTARIO (AP)—A new search for sulphur deposits is under way in the Nickle Lake area near here where six holes about 1,000 feet have already been drilled. Of the large area being surveyed, much of the property is owned by Fort Frances residents.

Fighters, Spenders

It has shown the friends of America that Americans can be fighters as well as spenders. It has brought the democratic allies closer together for mutual defense than at any time since the end of the last level-off period. But secret plans now in the preliminary stage might make the $60,000,000,000 just a starting point for more increases.

The minimum job includes fully arming and equipping the 3,500,000 man force first, and then building up sufficient reserves of arms and equipment. The job after that, if the 3,500,000 man goal is kept intact, is merely replacing obsolete equipment.

Terrible as the price has been for America's part in the fighting in Korea, it has bought a tremendously improved strategic position in the Cold War, compared to the one the U. S. had before.

Probably most important of all, it has erased any doubts about the willingness of America to fight for freedom and liberty. This has stiffened the will of other democratic allies in the fight against communism.

Air Theory Thumped
The Korean action quickly jerked the military planners from the tempting theory that air power alone was an adequate defense for the U. S. in its international role, with the Army and Navy as secondary, supporting units. Planning now is based on the proven fact that the three services still are just about equal partners in the defense of the U. S.

The Korean War put on the books the first semblance of a universal military training law which the country ever has had. It creates a board to make UMT recommendations which Congress later will have to act on.

A complete cease-fire will bring a speed-up of release of reservists, since it will take the pressure off the need to keep men involuntarily in service.

The number and size of future draft calls will depend on the number of volunteers.

war. It has certainly speeded the terribly slow job of strengthening Western Europe.

American forces are very close to the announced goal of 3,500,000 men, with 3,250,000 men already in uniform. The Army has 24 good divisions, compared to 10 weak ones at the start of the fighting. The Air Force has expanded from 48 to 87 groups, is well on its way to the immediate 96-group goal and is in the planning stage for double that.

The Navy has been doubled in size and is just about at its fixed goal.

The combat experience that each service now has under its belt as a result of the Korean War is a tremendous advantage in the world situation. It proved the value of unification of the services. Korea was also a wonderful proving ground for the weapons and arms the U. S. has been developing since the end of World War II.

Early Diagnosis Of Polio Is Aid In Patient's Recovery

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Children are more susceptible to polio than grown-ups though the disease can and sometimes does strike them in their mature years. But parents have a special responsibility to watch their youngsters for any sign of illness which might possibly be polio since early diagnosis and treatment may mean a good deal for the outcome.

particularly cautious. The first signs of the disease may be similar to those of any other infection: low fever, headache, dizziness, irritability and similar vague symptoms are common.

Many youngsters who develop such signs will not have polio but it is better to be sure than sorry. Slight stiffness of the neck is quite common in polio but parents should not make an imaginative child too conscious of the importance of a stiff neck.

In other words it is the doctor's responsibility, not the parents', to make a diagnosis and all that the parents should do is to get medical help if they even suspect anything serious might be wrong.

Actually a definite diagnosis may be difficult or impossible during the first few days. Signs of muscle weakness in polio or other sure evidences of the disease usually do not show up for several days after the first symptoms. It may be impossible to tell until that time. However, the rest in bed and general care which can be given early, and the isolation from other youngsters which should be enforced, are all to the good.

There is a form of the disease known as bulbar poliomyelitis in which difficulty in breathing is the most important symptom and which often appears early. This is the kind in which the so-called iron lung is used. This instrument is designed to make breathing possible during the time when nature is unable to accomplish it.

Although newspaper readers are all familiar with stories of people who have lived for years in a respirator or iron lung, in most cases the need does not last very long. Many of those with this form of polio are really lucky because the paralysis clears up entirely and they frequently have no other effects.

The treatment of early polio already has improved enormously with the use of hot-wet packs and other measures. It is continuing to improve. With early diagnosis and prompt treatment an enormous number of those stricken with polio are recovering completely or so nearly so that they have little or no trouble leading normal lives in later years.

They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers. —Jeremiah 44:10.

Doctors Day, 1951

A busy Midland doctor called on the writer one day last week while raising funds in a church finance campaign. Surprise was registered that the physician could give time out from his busy schedule to raise funds for a church building project.

But it was nothing new for the doctor, who was surprised that we were surprised.

And thinking about it, we shouldn't have been surprised at all, for numerous Midland physicians and surgeons continually find time to take active parts in community affairs—serving in official capacities in civic and service organizations, assisting in fund-raising drives of all kinds, and devoting much time to free clinics and youthelfare programs. All this and much more in addition to their regular practices, which keep them on the go day and night. Yes, many of us who think we are too busy to participate in community affairs well might take lessons from our busy doctors.

Considering all this, it certainly is fitting that at least one day a year should be set aside to honor our friends and fellow citizens—our physicians.

Thursday has been designated as DOCTORS' DAY in Midland, and everyone joins in expressing congratulations and best wishes to our doctors on their special day. Many of the doctors doubtless will be called away from whatever type of celebration is arranged and staged for them, but they will appreciate the recognition anyway.

Yes, doctors are busy persons, and yet despite professional and civic demands upon their time, they still must be alert and ever on guard against the threat of socialized medicine and compulsory health insurance. His perhaps causes them more worry than anything else, because they realize just what a disastrous effect socialized medicine would have upon the high standards of health and medical care in America today.

It is something in which each of us should be concerned vitally, backing our medical men and their organizations in combatting this threat which hits at the very foundation of our cherished system of free enterprise. It is a serious situation indeed, and yet many of our so-called leaders in Washington would shove socialized medicine and, yes, socialized business in general down our throats, would socialize medicine and compulsory health insurance be instituted in America, other professions and their industries, yes, even your business and mine, doubtless would follow in short order.

The system of socialized medicine has been unsuccessful in England and in other nations which have tried it, leading always to deterioration of medical education, training and research; degeneration of medical standards and of medical care, and the steady decline of the health of the citizens. Under that system, too, doctors are responsible to politicians first, and their patients second.

America does not prefer this type of assembly line medical service, but combatting it presents an almost continuous struggle. The voluntary way is the American way, and we, all of us, must strive continually to preserve our great American way of life.

It not only is a fight for the doctors—it is a fight in which all of us should be engaged.

DOCTORS' DAY, 1951, would be an excellent time to consider fully what our doctors and our American way of life mean to us—pledging our best efforts in helping to strike a blow for American freedom whenever and wherever possible.

In the meantime, Hat's Off to the fine doctors of Midland and of the nation for the excellent jobs they are doing.

Another 'Scrap Of Paper'

People in the western nations are well aware of the Nationalist ferment that pushed the government of Iran into extremist measures on the issue of taking over the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

But Iranian officials may come to regret the violence of their tirades against any and all opposition. Recently they flatly told the World Court the issue was none of its business. Yet Iran is a signatory to the articles establishing that court, and thus is bound legally to respect its jurisdiction and its findings.

Some day Iran may decide it needs the court, or the United Nations. Its irrational flaunting of its own extremist views will not then stand it in good stead.

It's human to err—but watch out when the eraser wears out before the pencil.

We're for everybody aiming high except the folk who set prices.

If rationing comes again, the line will form to the right—to the left, around the corner and down the street.

To the pessimist, if something isn't wrong it isn't right.

House Built On A Rock — Well, Almost

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Three possible motives behind Moscow's peace move; Ex-Congressman Pace ordered from House floor; Senator Lehman pricked senatorial consciences during price-control battle.

WASHINGTON—It is impossible, of course, to know exactly why Moscow made a peace move at this specific time. But calls at the State Department by two embassies may give the answer.

One is the French Embassy which has informed Secretary of State Acheson that Chinese troops already are on the French Indo-China border and that airfields in South China have been enlarged—obviously for a new attack.

The other is the Yugoslav Embassy which has informed the State Department that Rumanian troops are maneuvering and that Tito believes there is a 50-50 chance the long-expected attack on Yugoslavia will begin this fall.

It doesn't take even a smart mind-reader to figure out that the Kremlin has an awful lot to gain by prolonged peace talks in Korea. Here are at least three reasons:

No. 1—The United Nations is not going to go to the rescue of the French in Indo-China. That struggle has been going on a long time, and there is considerable feeling among some UN members that the French bungled things by hanging on to imperialism too long.

No. 2—The UN will not relish going to the defense of Yugoslavia. First, it's a Communist nation. Second, it isn't in the North Atlantic Pact. Third, it's in a corner of the world which is hard to defend.

No. 3—Peace talks are going to cause a letdown in the U.S.A. and this is exactly what the Kremlin wants. Inflation in this country can do more for Moscow than a dozen Chinese armies in Korea. Also, any letup of the American mobilization program will be greatly appreciated in Moscow, thank you. Obviously the Kremlin now realizes that the Korean war was a big mistake if for no other reason than that it got American preparedness into high gear.

It will be interesting to see how far the sooms in Congress fall into Moscow's trap. So far, in regard to inflation, they seem to be falling fast.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
It's always a great pleasure when your partner opens the king of a suit in which you hold a doubleton. You hopefully play the higher card of your doubleton, and follow with the lower card when your partner takes his ace. This leaves you in position to trump the third round. Lovely, isn't it?

That's what East thought when West opened the king of clubs in today's hand. East was very happy to ruff the third round of clubs. He wasn't so happy about it later.

After taking the third trick, East returned the queen of hearts. South won, entered dummy with a diamond, and finessed the queen of spades. When that worked,

Bridge hand diagram showing North, West (D), East, and South cards and trump lead.

South got to dummy once more with a diamond and took a second trump finesse. This ace of spades then drew East's last trump, and South spread his hand to claim the rest of the tricks.

The right defense is very ably and humorously pointed out by Otto Feuer in a recent issue of The Bridge World. East must not ruff the third round of clubs. He must discard a diamond, allowing South to win the queen of clubs.

Now South can get to dummy only once with a diamond. This allows him to take one trump finesse. After that he can wriggle and squirm, but he must still give up two trumps to East.

Don't let this hand stop you from ruffing the next time you have a doubleton in the suit your partner leads. But look at your trumps a second time before you ruff. If the ruff uses up a trump that would pretty surely be a trick anyway, you can always make up your mind then and there not to ruff.

CARD Sense

A—Pass. North would have bid three spades with any three cards in that suit, so your choice is between game at diamonds and game at no-trump. The latter is risky but quite possible, while game at diamonds is very likely to be set a sure and comfortable one or two tricks.

WILD WEST CHARITY STANDISH BY CHARLES JUDAH

and the best half of both." The rest of the way to town Douglas extolled the virtues of Ken Montijo until Charity out of sheer perversity disliked him.

"My," she said dolefully, when he kissed her good night, "You have such exciting friends, male and female, you'll get dreadfully bored with me."

Both were troubled. And they had been engaged less than a day. WHEN they had been engaged three weeks the situation was worse. Each day they fell more deeply in love and each day it was more deeply borne on them.

"I think you'd better marry me," she finally announced. "Of course, we'll get married." "I mean right away."

"You suggested waiting." "You're just kidding." "Why the change?" "How could she tell him she had changed her mind because of fear that if they waited they would lose one another?"

WASHINGTON COLUMN

U. S. Has Worked Hard To Prepare For Korea Peace

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Peace plans for adoption at the end of the Korean war have been worked on by the U. S. State Department since early this year. The planning has been done principally through Washington representatives of the 16 nations that have troops in Korea.

This group has been meeting twice a week at the State Department with Assistant Secretary Dean Rusk, who is in charge of Far Eastern Affairs. Original purpose of these meetings was to receive Pentagon reports and briefings on the Korean military situation. But the group soon got into policy questions for carrying on the war, and planning for peace.

It was admittedly a somewhat unwieldy organization. On any occasion, most of the diplomats wanted to change words and commas around. And all important questions had to be referred back to home governments for decision.

In spite of this complexity, the group has helped unify anti-Communist bloc action at the United Nations. And the principal awkwardness now has been removed by designating the United States as the sole bargaining agent with Soviet Russia over the Korean cease-fire proposal. This simplifies matters considerably.

U. S. objectives in Korea were analyzed carefully when Secretary of State Dean Acheson testified before the MacArthur dismissal investigating committees of the Senate. The secretary's testimony on June 1 and 2 really is the basic document for study of Korean peace prospects.

Acheson Testifies
Under prolonged and sometimes repetitious questioning by Republican Senators Brewster of Maine and Smith of New Jersey, Secretary Acheson emphasized these points of U. S. policy on Korea:

1. Korea never has been designated by the U. S. Joint Chiefs of staff as being within the American defense perimeter or of strategic importance to the United States.

2. Korea is important to the collective security of the free world of which the United States is a principal part, because Korea is the first country in which this collective security was attacked by outright aggression. If Korea were allowed to fall, the whole collective security system might fall with it.

3. UN objectives in Korea are two in number. The first is to repel the armed attack against the Republic of (South) Korea. The second is to restore peace and security in this area by military force. This is interpreted as restoring order on both sides of the 38th parallel, to prevent further aggression.

4. The long-term objective of the United Nations is to establish a free, independent and democratic Korea.

Considerable work has been done by the U. S. State Department and by the UN truce commissions in trying to make plans for this eventual unification of Korea. It probably is the thorniest of all the problems connected with future Korean peace.

Furthermore, any division of Korea at or near the 38th parallel will be resisted by the South Koreans. They will feel they have been betrayed if the Republic of Korea government does not obtain control over all of Korea in the peace settlement.

Secretary Acheson's statement to the Senate committees indicates that the UN action in Korea would be considered a success if a cease-fire were arranged near the 38th parallel. But he also says that unification of Korea remains the long-term objective.

Delicate Situation
For U. S. or UN negotiators to insist on unification of Korea under President Rhee's government, as a condition in the cease-fire agreement, now is regarded as bad bargaining technique. It is held that this might stop the negotiations before they start. But it is admitted that obtaining unification later, by diplomatic peace negotiations, is something that will require much time.

What the United States and the United Nations stand to gain by this kind of settlement is open to debate. Some of the people who formerly were most rabid about the advisability of pulling out of Korea now seem to be shifting towards the position that it would be better to go on fighting for a more decisive victory. That would permit the imposition of better peace terms. In opposition to that, there is the argument that at least the casualties will stop if a cease-fire can be concluded now.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is there any point from which both the highest and the lowest points in the United States can be seen at the same time?

A—From Dante's View in Death Valley, 5,860 feet above sea level, both Badwater, 279 feet below sea level, and distant Mount Whitney, the lowest and highest points in the United States proper, may be seen.

Q—What state other than Pennsylvania is named for the family of its founder?

A—No other state bears the family name of its founder. Pennsylvania was named by King Charles II in honor of Admiral Penn, the father of William Penn.

Q—For whom did Clement C. Moore write his poem, "The Night Before Christmas"?

A—He wrote it as a Christmas present for his two daughters.

Q—Why was April 14 chosen as the date to be observed as Pan-American Day?

A—Because, in 1890, the First International Conference of American States, meeting in Washington, was held on April 14. A resolution was adopted which resulted in the creation of the organization known today as the Pan-American Union.

Q—How much should a grown bulldog weigh?

A—Between 45 and 60 pounds. Moonlight is only reflected sunlight.

him that in only three days Charity would be his wife, he smiled at her and drew her into his arms. His eyes had not been wet as they were now since those evenings when he walked home behind the next day.

But when he failed to appear the next day she was not so certain, and by the following noon she began to wonder how far a man could run from a girl in three days. She hoped he was running West; she intended to go East.

That evening she climbed the mesa to look at what she resolutely told herself was her last sunset in New Mexico. Had she chosen, instead, a final view of the windmill on the Plaza, which had been the innocent cause of her coming to San Lorenzo, and which she had never seen "tastefully decorated," she would have heard rumors of a strange game going on in the Four Aces, which had been in progress for 40 hours. The Four Aces had seen games involving more money, and $5000 was not an unusual bet up the canyon at the Aztec, but no one remembered when a man had offered himself as the stake in a dice game. Some of the spectators were shaking their heads and saying it was not legal, but Duke Rogers and Angel said it didn't have to be legal.

CHARITY, however, had not chosen the windmill. On the mesa, where there was the peace of limitless horizons and where the air was clean as it was foul in the Four Aces, she watched the sun disappear behind the hills. Then she returned directly to her hotel. Three hours later, when Douglas forced his way into her room, her trunk was packed.

"I had come to say goodby," he told her, swaying precariously, speaking with studied precision. Charity, pretending to ignore his condition, pointed at the trunk. "You're just in time."

After a moment's concentration he replied with evident relief: "Smart of you to beat me to the draw."

"Just what do you mean?" "Mean you'd planned to run out on me, even before you knew we'd happened."

40 Midland Youths To Attend Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch

Approximately 40 Boy Scouts from four Midland units will attend the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch in the Davis Mountains July 15-22.

Local units to be represented are Troop 84 of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Troop 152 of the First Methodist Church; Troop 153 of the First Christian Church and Troop 85 of the First Presbyterian Church.

Troop 154 of the Midland Rotary Club will go to the ranch from July 29 through August 5.

The ranch is reopening Sunday after a three-week break, and an estimated 150 scouts and their leaders will spend a rugged week of outdoor living on the huge 6,000-acre ranch.

The program is built around activities including horseback riding, nature expeditions, swimming, archery, marksmanship, burro packing trips, campfires and just plain living in nature's own wonderland.

Executive staff members scheduled to direct the camp during the remaining four weeks include Stuart Painter of Odessa, Henry Norris of Sweetwater and Don Galbreath of Midland.

The ranch will remain open until August 12, with the final week of the season reserved for all negro scouts of the 17-county Buffalo Trail Council.

A young fellow who hadn't traveled widely got a job as assistant coach in a small Texas town. That summer he and several friends went to Galveston. It was his first visit to the Gulf and he was the first to dive in.

He came up, spewing the water out of his mouth, and said, "It's salty here." He went to another point, jumped in, came up blowing the water out of his mouth again and said, "It's salty here, too."

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail Shows How To Catch A Coon

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was sitting high on the limb of a tree with his legs around it. He had climbed up there to catch the coon that had run away. The coon was really a pet, you know, but he hadn't yet learned that he shouldn't be wild.

Yes, and now Daddy Ringtail was sitting up there on the limb of the tree, holding the coon by the loose fur behind its neck. That way, he wouldn't accidentally hurt the coon, and the coon couldn't bite. Daddy Ringtail's other hand was busy with holding the coon's back feet, all so they wouldn't scratch him. But the problem was: How could Daddy Ringtail now climb down with his hands both busy with holding the coon? He couldn't. The coon was wiggling and squiggling too much for Daddy Ringtail ever to climb down with only feet and tail.

Daddy Ringtail thought and thought of what he should do, and while he was thinking, Daddy Ringtail saw a hole in the limb where he sat. Daddy Ringtail smiled to see it. Now he knew what he should do. He put the coon's nose down near the hole, and then he turned the coon loose. The coon scampered in the hole much faster than I can tell you about it, and so there the coon was, think he could wait until Daddy Ringtail had gone away. Yessir, that coon just hadn't learned that he ought to be a friendly pet.

But Daddy Ringtail knew what to do. He took off his hat and stuffed it in the hole where the coon had gone. He broke off a stick from the tree to push in the hole to hold the hat in place. There! Old Mr. Coon could not get out of the hole. But oh how was Daddy Ringtail ever going to get the coon home?

Simple enough. Daddy Ringtail hurried home to get a saw, and then he hurried back. He sawed off the limb where the coon was snug inside, and then Daddy Ringtail carried the limb and the coon both home together. Why, Daddy Ringtail didn't take his hat away to let Mr. Coon out of the limb until they were safe at home in the monkey house. Yessir, and today that coon is a fine pet, and he laughs out loud when anyone tells this story of how Daddy Ringtail caught him, and so I guess he is laughing now. Happy Day!

El Paso Natural Gas Company Gets Pipe Line Permit

WASHINGTON—(AP)—El Paso Natural Gas Company has received from Secretary of the Interior Chapman the pipe line permit it won in a lawsuit.

Chapman issued a right-of-way permit for the last leg of El Paso's 450-mile $40,000,000 San Juan pipe line.

The permit, needed to take the line across 16 miles of federal land in Arizona, was sent to El Paso's headquarters in El Paso, Texas, Attorney Joseph Smith told a reporter Tuesday.

The pipe line runs from gas wells in New Mexico and Colorado to near the California border. It is complete except for 32 miles, including 16 miles across private land.

Federal District Judge Walter Bastian had ordered the permit be granted within 10 days. It was issued on the tenth day.

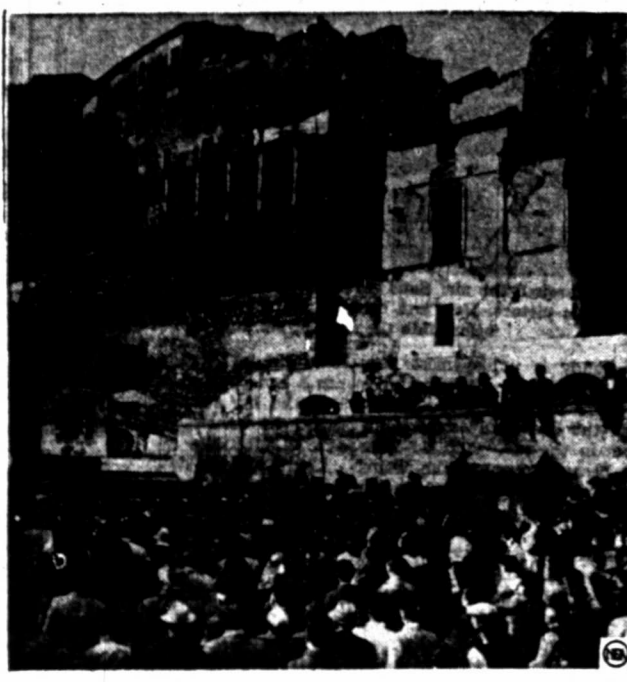

Government attorneys have announced they are taking the case to the Court of Appeals. They asked both the district and appeals courts to set aside the court order pending appeal. Both requests were denied.

Chapman had refused to issue the right of way permit because El Paso would not agree to enlarge its pipe line, if necessary, to carry other companies' gas. He accused El Paso of trying to evade its duty as a common carrier.

El Paso contended the Federal Power Commission, not the Interior Department, has power to regulate pipe lines.

Whiff Of Natural Gas Makes Northwest Glad

VANCOUVER, B. C. —(NEA)—Natural gas is the stuff the Northwest hopes to be sniffing before long. The aroma has excited people in British Columbia and across the international border in Washington and Oregon. When natural gas is piped into Vancouver and the main cities of the Northwest states, they look for an industrial expansion now being held back by electric power shortage.

The future will be assured, they feel confident, in the natural gas fields of nearby Alberta, and in the new area being developed in northern British Columbia.

Not since before World War II days has the Northwest been able to keep its power supply up to its population growth. British Columbia, Washington and Oregon now have a population of 5,085,969, or 38.4 per cent more than 10 years ago. The best average other areas can show in the same period is 14.5 per cent.

The big map on the wall of the office of J. D. Lineham, assistant controller of B. C.'s petroleum and natural gas, tells the story. More than 11,000,000 acres are under lease, out of 37,325,000 acres where gas and oil possibly might be found.

The land's not easy to work—swampy in the Summer and frozen solid in the Winter. But that doesn't stop the quick-riches hunters. At the end of last year, the province had 10,500,000 acres leased; only 2,300,000 were leased in 1949.

The private gas companies in Washington and Oregon can hardly wait for natural gas. Now they make their gas from fuel oil—consuming 12,000,000 barrels a year in the process. And it's expensive. Furthermore, the Northwest's booming aluminum industry needs more power.

Top Contenders

The two leading contenders to import the gas, via pipeline, are the Westcoast Transmission Company, Ltd., and the Northwest Natural Gas Company. Each has the money, and is only awaiting the official tap on the shoulder. Either project would cost more than $100,000,000.

Westcoast would build a 700-mile line from the Pouce Coupe field in the Peace River area, about 400 miles from here. It would shoot right down B. C. to Vancouver, thence going on to Oregon and Washington.

The Northwest Natural Gas Company would like to string a line from Northern Alberta, over the international border at Kingsgate, B. C., to Spokane, Wash., and then across Washington to Monroe, where it would branch toward Vancouver, Seattle and Portland. This would be about 585 miles long.

Residents of the Northwest aren't too particular which pipeline is built, as long as they start smelling natural gas soon.

POWER DEMAND HIGH

NIAGARA FALLS, ONT. —(AP)—Hydro power consumption here is not taking its usual Summer drop. So far the decrease in this city is only about five per cent, compared with a normal Summer reduction of 10 per cent.

Fourteen American towns are named Paris.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — For the good of the European Recovery Program, "Punch" has deserted "Judy." Now he's teamed with "ERPinnotto" as part of a traveling show bringing the story of ERP to the children, the teachers and the mothers of remote Italian villages.

Playing in schools, town halls, movie houses and wherever there's a room, "ERPinnotto" and his show are packing them in — up to a thousand a show. "ERPinnotto" (that's Italian for young 'un) appears as an American 12-year-old, T-shirt and all, to introduce the show.

Says the puppet: "I am ERPinnotto. I have come to bring you a story of your country and mine — and to tell you of the American ships that have brought coal, iron, machinery and food to Italy to help give your parents' clothes, houses and jobs. You can be proud of Italy's effort and its cooperation to get a better life with America's aid."

Especially, "ERPinnotto" tells of the projects that are helping the mothers and fathers of the children in the village — the road project, the work of building schools and dams and industry for the village. The show is followed by European Recovery Program documentary films and movie cartoons.

Recorded Music

The specially-built mobile unit also carries recorded music from the Italian Opera and ERP literature. The crew of three can carry the story of ERP to the most remote villages, not reached by other information sources.

Mrs. Doris Rutledge of Boston, a children's social worker for 25 years who now is with the Economic Cooperation Administration in Rome, arranged this information project and heads the show. Armando Carboni, a third-generation puppeteer, and a truck driver complete the crew.

Mrs. Rutledge got the idea for the program while watching the tremendous popularity of the "Pulcinella" shows in the Villa Borghese, Rome's public park. She was attracted by the mobility of the "theater" and by the fact that so few persons are required to operate the show, even though it presents dozens of puppets. Carboni, "ERPinnotto's" puppeteer, is one of the men she saw in the Villa Borghese.

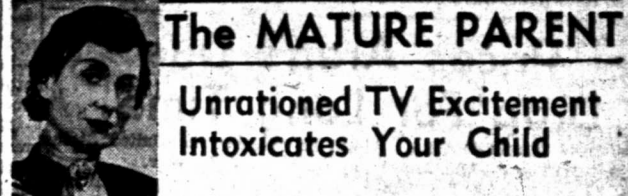

Barely a month on the road, the show has played to 25,000 children in villages of all sizes and now is booked 40 performances in advance. After the show, general discussions are held on the European Recovery Program. The unit currently is sponsoring a student contest for the best individual essay on the ERP.

In remote Pietri, a small mountain town in central south Italy, the townspeople cleared the food warehouse to make room for the show. Putting aside the salt fish, the flour barrels and the powdered milk and taking down the hams hanging from the ceiling, they set the children on boxes with standing room only for adults.

After tying down their goats and locking the water urns in the unit's truck for safekeeping, everyone in the town came to the show. Interested and pleased, the townspeople joined in a community conference on the ERP after the entertainment. They even served coffee and cakes to the puppet crew.

The children participate in the information program through "ERPinnotto" gift packages, which contain a cut-out game showing a whole ERP village including railroads, houses, buses and ships. A specially worded scroll in the package explains ERP aims and accomplishments to the youngsters.

The MATURE PARENT

Unrationed TV Excitement Intoxicates Your Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Butch is five years old. Every night his supper is served on a table before the television set. Although his bedtime is 7:30, he rarely gets to sleep before 10 o'clock.

"He's too excited to sleep," say his parents. "But he enjoys his programs so much we haven't the heart to turn them off."

Serve Butch champagne every night for supper and he'd probably enjoy that, too. He doesn't get champagne because his parents know it is improper to encourage an appetite for alcoholic stimulants in five-year-olds. It's hard to figure why they think it's proper to encourage an appetite for excitement in Butch. Maybe they think it's all right because so many other parents think so, too, these days.

If Butch's parents did their thinking for themselves instead of letting their friends do it for them, they would realize that the suspense, menace and violence that animate the people on his television screen are not theatrical emotions to Butch. They are the real McCoy. That is why they absorb him so he can't leave the set to eat his supper in the dining room. If they were unreal emotions to Butch, he would go to sleep the moment his head hit his pillow.

The fact that he doesn't sleep is clear evidence that he is in a state of intoxication. We don't have to reel and mumble to be drunk. We can express them, we cannot relax. If Butch could personally pummel the cattle rustlers who have aroused his fear and rage, his big feelings about them would be released.

But Butch can't. He has to take his rage and fear to bed with him, and they stay inside of Butch, waiting to attach rage and fear to any innocent object in his child's world that he doesn't understand.

Be Ready To Pay Bill

If his parents don't want to be faced with the problems of a little boy who develops unaccountable terrors and angers, they had better turn off his television set at 6 o'clock.

They should prepare for the turning-off evening carefully. If Butch is given enough loving and imaginative companionship by his parents, he won't mind losing the false satisfaction he finds in his exciting programs. He will fuss about their decision in the exact degree that his parents show their own uncertainty.

If we insist on allowing our little sons and daughters an unrationed diet of menace and suspense in television programs, movies, or other forms of entertainment, we have the legal right to do so.

But we should be prepared to pay the bill for our decision in bedtime scenes, silly fears of a flapping window blind, a shadow on the wall. We should expect rages over toys that don't go, the denial of a lollipop. The murders and violence of the gang fights and Wild West gun battles not only will haunt our youngsters; they will murder our own peace and joy in our parenthood.

Beef Prices Aren't Due to Drop For Long Time

By DON WHITEHEAD
KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Mrs. Ameri-

might as well gear her food budget to high beef prices for a long time to come.

In all the clamor about the high price of beef, there is this gloomy fact: Steaks aren't likely to become plentiful in any great quantity until cattle production catches up with consumer demand.

When will that be? Some experts in the business say it will be four to five years or more. That depends on weather, feed supply, reaction to government controls, profits to be made and increased production and other factors.

Mostly, though, increased production hinges on profits. Cattle growers, feeders, and others in the business have been doing all right in the last few years. Profits have been good. The number of beef cattle is increasing. Breeder herds are the largest in history. Next year's crop of calves will be larger than this year.

But also the nation's population is increasing at the rate of 200,000 beef-eaters each month. As a result, beef-eaters each month are increasing at the rate of 200,000. As a result, beef-eaters each month are increasing at the rate of 200,000.

Economists can produce figures to show an hour's wages will buy more meat now than ever before. Other economists can produce figures to show increases in beef prices are all out of line with wages.

Be that as it may, government records show the working man and his family are eating more beef. Each man, woman and child in the United States—all 154,000,000 of us—are expected to consume 63 pounds of beef each this year, in addition to other kinds of meat. And everyone usually prefers the choicer cuts when he can afford them.

One old-time cattleman said: "The beef shortage isn't hard to explain. There just aren't enough steaks to supply everybody who is willing to buy them."

In a nutshell, that's the basis of the shortage. The Administration's efforts to control prices has complicated the situation but basically the problem is one of supply and demand.

One livestock expert put it this way: "There are two ways we can get more and cheaper beef. One is to increase cattle production and that takes time. The other is to have a depression in which wages fall and the demand for beef falls off to lower the price."

"If consumer buying power holds firm, then demand will remain steady or increase. Only greater production can take care of the problem. And all the fixing by the government can't change it."

There is a possibility the barriers will be lowered in a few months to permit Mexican cattle to come into the United States. These cattle have been bred in recent years because of the hoof and mouth disease south of the Rio Grande.

But Mexico has been working to stamp out the disease. Some cattle men are predicting Mexican cattle will be entering the United States by the first of the year.

Any increase in supply naturally would ease the situation for the housewife. But the basic problem, cattlemen say, lies in American cattle production.

The ranchers and farmers in the great cattle country of the Southwest and Midwest have protested violently against losing any of their cattle profits through controlled prices.

The Administration has rolled back live cattle prices by 10 per cent. But Congress has given strong indication it will not go along with any future rollbacks in price to lower the butcher shop prices on beef.

The Administration failed in this case to sell both Congress and the farm country on the urgency of controls as a method to fight inflation. Congress appears ready to take the side of the farmers who argue controls will cut down on cattle production and thus make the beef shortage even more acute.

Throughout the cattle country, there is resentment that the Administration singled out beef as the farm commodity to be controlled. Most farmers will admit beef prices are too high, but they insist beef is not out of line with increased farm costs.

Farmers take the view most of their products are selling at too low a price, and that higher prices for beef merely help balance out the under-parity products.

Parity is a theoretical price for farm products which is supposed to be fair to both farmers and consumers. It fluctuates with the cost of things the farmer buys.

The farmers still remember vividly the lean years of low prices and mortgage foreclosures and their fight to hold onto their homes and land.

They reason they are entitled to their profits in these good years. And they have prospered in the last 10 years.

But in a three-weeks tour of the cattle country, I found no widespread feeling among farmers that the national emergency or inflation has reached a danger point which would justify the Administration forcing them to sacrifice any of their cattle profits.

Generally, there is no great sense of emergency in the Middle West. Some question the Administration's price control program as being more political than urgent—designed more for capturing the votes of the industrial East than to curb inflation.

Others say they recognize a need for controls. But there's no doubt this group is in the minority.

And with the peace talks coming up in Korea, the Administration is likely to have even a more difficult job in convincing people that the emergency has not slackened off.

Under all these circumstances, cattle experts see some seasonal changes in beef prices—but they expect no sharp drop in price which will make the housewife happier about her budget until production increases.

Seven-Year-Old Acrobat's Homework 'Backwards'

PALISADES PARK, N. J.—(NEA)—Sandy Dobritch looks like any other healthy seven-year-old boy, but he's quite different.

He's never been to school, but he reads and writes and spells and adds and speaks three languages and understands another. He doesn't have a permanent home but he has friends all over the country. He doesn't get an allowance, yet he's saved up $117.20.

"Don't forget that 20 cents, either," says Sandy. He's saved it up by getting one dollar for every time he performs in a circus or thrill show. And most of the time he performs twice a day, so that comes out to about $14 a week.

But you'll never catch him spending his savings," says his pretty mother, Pia. "Every time he wants ice cream, he comes to me or his father."

Sandy grinned shyly and fidgeted a little, like any other seven-year-old banker will do. Star Of Act

He's the star of the family act now, and they've even named it after him since he made his debut about 10 months ago. Now it's "The Sandys in Routh Weather Ashore." They do a semi-comic, semi-aerial, semi-trampoline act that has thrills, laughs and beauty.

Sandy supplies a good part of the thrills, as he lives the life of a circus youngster. He's a real-life counterpart of Donnie Carlyle, the current hero of the "Captain Easy" comic strip, whose story is being told right now on the comic page of The Reporter-Telegram.

The Sandys—Sandy and his parents—now are appearing at Palisades Amusement Park. Their trailer, the only home they have, is parked at the edge of the palisades, and they have a lovely view of the Hudson River and New York City from their front bumper.

Most of his things are all-boy things. He has a holster and two shiny cowboy pistols, some books, a deck of cards, a complete file of comic books and an assortment of odds and ends.

But Sandy is unlike most boys his age. He takes off every once in a while to practice his "backwards"—the backward somersaults he does in the act. And he loves school, because school to him means his mother teaches him and he can ask questions.

"He comes up with the most difficult questions sometimes," Mrs. Dobritch says. "Like what makes light. We explain to him. Actually, he's further advanced than most boys his age."

"I can say the alphabet," said Sandy, and proceeded to do it. He did get V and U mixed up, but otherwise it was perfect.

Sandy returns the favor, by correcting his father's pronunciation. Bulgarian Alexander (Sasha) Dobritch has a terrible time with some English words, and Sandy is constantly informing him that "mustard" is not "moostard" and "throat" is not "throath."

For Centuries The Dobritch family has been in circuses for centuries. Sasha has a certificate from a Turkish sultan dated in the 1700's making an ancestor a bey for his brilliant acrobatics. He himself has been in circuses all his life, and came to the U. S. in 1949 when Sandy was four.

Sandy was born in Poland and brought up in Sweden. He speaks Swedish, Danish, English and understands German, his mother's native language.

The family act appears in vaudeville occasionally, which Sandy likes best because he can see the movies. He also likes circuses very much, because he goes under the grandstand and looks for money that drops out of spectators' pockets. He likes circus animals, too, especially tigers. "If they're inside the cages."

Everywhere the act plays, Sandy makes friends. One of his best is a girl in Chicago. Her father ran a candy stand at a park there. He liked her so much he told his father he wanted her to join the act.

There are no definite plans for Sandy's future. His mother sensibly is not going to force him to be a circus performer, but she thinks he will be anyhow.

"It's in his blood," she says.

PECOS RESIDENT USES ALUM FOR SNAKE BITE

PECOS—(AP)—Mrs. Artie Justis, 59, was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake that was lying on her living room floor.

Instead of rushing to town for medical attention, she ripped her foot open with an upholstery needle and applied a common household item, alum, to her wound.

She was paralyzed for several hours, her foot turned green, but she recovered. Her foot still is slightly swollen.

He flies through the air: Sandy Dobritch, seven, is at the top of his act in this picture. He's just bounced off a trampoline, 'way down below, into the arms of his father.

Cab Owner Can't Live Up To His Ad

HOLYOKE, MASS.—(AP)—George Hamel, owner of a taxicab company, placed this advertisement recently in the Holyoke Transcript:

"Just tell us where you are and where you want to go and we'll provide cab service."

He got a request for a cab and had to turn down the job. The request came in a letter which said:

"We're about 16 miles beyond the 38th parallel. Take the main supply road, turn at the first right and we're in the first foxhole in a rice paddy without water. We'd like a cab immediately."

The letter was signed by 22 soldiers in Korea.

Those folks who've always had a great big year for a new Buick, but a big worry that Buick prices ran too high for their budgets.

Now we'll have to grant you that — on style and beauty and size and impressive appearance — a 1951 Buick looks like a pretty high price tag.

And we'll have to grant, too, that the zooming power and the luxurious ride and the heavyweight steadiness you get in a Buick would also indicate prices beyond the reach of most people.

But honestly, you'll find nothing farther from the truth when you note the price tags on 1951 Buicks.

You'll find that beauty with the big-power, big-mileage, valve-in-head Fireball Engine is really within your budget picture—with prices starting below those of many of today's sixes.

And you'll have to admit then and there that you can have Buick room and comfort, can have Buick ride and handling, can have Buick style and size—for little, if any, more than you've been paying for lesser cars.

That leaves the next step up to you—stopping in to see us.

Come in soon, look over the SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER you've always wanted—and let that happy glow go surging all through you as you sign up for your smart-buy Buick.
