New Scurry Wildcat Flows 18-20 BOPH From Pennsylvanian

Imperial Production Company and associates No. 1 Vernon B. Cox, Northwest Scurry County wildcat, 18 miles north and slightly west of Snyder is credited with having flowed new oil at the estimated rate of from 18 barrels to 20 barrels per hour from open hole in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef at 7,130-42 feet.

The flow is said to have come after the 7,130-42 foot interval had been treated with 500 gallons of acid.

Following the treatment operation pulled the swab several times and the well kicked off and started flowing. It flowed for a time and died.

Kicked Off Again

Swabbing was resumed Sunday night. After a few pulls of the swab the wildcat is said to have kicked off again.

The flow of several hours resulted. A one-half inch choke was used during the time the oil was being produced.

It is hoped by interested observers that the swabbing now in progress will get the pay section cleaned up where it can and will flow steadily.

The project topped the reef at 7,130 feet. That is a datum of minus 4,668 feet. A string of 5 1/2-inch casing had been cemented at 7,130 feet.

The plug on that pipe had been drilled out late last week and the acid treatment followed.

The indicated new discovery is 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 609, block 97, H&TC survey.

It is three miles west of the Cogdell multiphase field.

Spraberry Pay Opened In Upton Pool Near Rankin

Completion of Cities Service Oil Company and Continental Oil Company No. 1-AM University in the Southeast Upton County from the Spraberry has opened up a new pay for the Flat Rock-Ellenburger field.

No. 1-AM University was completed through perforations, opposite the Spraberry, at 7,088-7,138 feet for a daily flowing potential of 103 barrels of oil with a slight amount of water. The section was Hydratrac.

It was finished on a 22/64-inch tubing choke.

Location is one-half mile south of the same operators' No. 1-AH University which was completed as to discovery well of the field.

No. 1-AM University was drilled into the Ellenburger where it failed to make a commercial oil well.

It is 1,988 feet from north and 2,023 feet from east lines of section 32, block 3, University lands survey and eight miles east of Rankin.

The new oil is the southern most producer from the Spraberry in the Spraberry trend.

Stanolind Wildcat In S-C Terry Area Will Test Devonian

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has announced a new destination for its No. 1 C. L. Anderson-Taylor, wildcat in South-Central Terry County.

After failing to find commercial production in the reef, operator decided to take the project to around 11,700 feet for a test of the Devonian.

It is now being drilled below 10,100 feet.

The reef was topped at 10,016 by sample, elevation 3,274 feet.

Drillstem tests in that formation developed salt water with some shows of oil.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 120, block T, D&W survey and six and one-half miles south of Brownfield.

Swabbing Is Slated For Gaines Tester

Operator is preparing to swab and test on perforations, opposite the Pennsylvanian lime reef, in Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Gertrude Chilton, indicated discovery in Southeast Gaines County.

Drilled out total depth is 11,410 feet and the perforations are from 11,234 to 11,355 feet.

When the reef was drilled it was drillstem tested from 11,344 to 11,360 feet two hours. A good blow of air was at the surface the entire time 364 flowed at the top in 45 minutes. No fluid surfaced.

Recovery was 90 feet of clean oil, 1,610 feet of gas and mud-out oil and 90 feet of slightly oil and gas-out mud. No formation water was (Continued On Page Seven)

U. S. Naval Chief Dies In Europe

NAPLES, ITALY —(P)—The top U. S. Naval commander, Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, 54, died Sunday in a Naples hotel after suffering two heart seizures.

The body of the chief of naval operations immediately was removed to a U. S. warship in Naples Bay.

The admiral's body will be taken Monday to Naples Airport after simple services aboard the warship, the USS Mt. Olympus.

An Italian armed forces guard and an honor guard of American sailors will render final honors at the airport. Then a four-engine American plane will carry the body to Washington, taking off at 1 a. m.

To Arrive Wednesday

It will be accompanied to the U. S. by Sherman's aide, Marine Maj. Sherman Smith of Salt Lake City, Utah, and by Marine Capt. Clifford Miller of Toledo, Ohio, captain of the armed guard on the Mt. Olympus. The plane is expected to arrive in Washington Wednesday afternoon after a refueling stop in the Azores.

Sherman, boss of the U. S. Navy since 1949, had just completed a tour of Europe's Atlantic Pact defense area. He also had made a visit to Generalissimo Francisco Franco, during which he was believed to have reached a tentative agreement (Continued On Page Nine)

Jerusalem Turned Into Armed Camp By King's Slaying

JERUSALEM —(P)—The Jordan-held Old City of Jerusalem was turned into an armed camp Monday as 50 miles away, in Amman, cannon volleys sounded every minute for the funeral procession of assassinated King Abdullah.

The city was quiet and the usual early morning cries of peddlers were stilled as the clang of hobbled Arab Legion boots sounded on the cobblestones of the narrow twisting lanes.

Israelis living in the border zones could see clearly new sandbagged positions on the Old City's battlements. They were assured by Jordan that the military preparations were for internal security and not directed against Israel.

Nevertheless, the watchword in Israel was increased vigilance. This country felt time must elapse before a considered judgment of the effects of Abdullah's assassination could be made.

The diplomatic correspondents of the Jerusalem Post, unofficial spokesman of the Israeli Foreign Office, Monday said the government is keeping a careful watch on the situation.

Workers Report Beating, Robbery

Two oil field workers were beaten and robbed of almost $80 early Monday when they were attacked by a gang of six negroes in the eastern section of the city.

The two men were given emergency hospital treatment.

The two reported to police that the six men attacked them as they sat parked in their automobile.

Fearing violence, they said, they locked the car doors as the six approached but a window was broken and the men were pulled out.

They were forced to hand over their pocketbooks, in which one man had $20 and the other $53.

Humble To Open Offices In Stanton

The Humble Oil and Refining Company will open a district office in Stanton August 1 to direct its operation over the entire Spraberry area, Division Superintendent John W. House announced here Monday.

Plans for the Stanton operation were disclosed as House announced the appointment of key personnel, headed by M. M. Rogers as district superintendent.

While the company will rent space temporarily, plans are underway for the construction of an office building, 10 residences, a warehouse and a pipeyard.

Approximately 60 persons, including field personnel, will work out of the Stanton office.

House said the Stanton district is being created from areas now under the Odessa and Snyder district offices.

Rogers, who is being transferred to Stanton from his present job as district superintendent at Wink, has been with Humble almost 30 years.

Other Key Personnel

Named as assistant district superintendent was R. M. Lilly, who is being promoted from his post as tool pusher at Wink.

Other key personnel will include A. D. Duncan, tool pusher; R. M. Mosley, farm boss; M. L. Weatherall, district clerk, and J. C. Wisely and J. L. Robinson, assistant district chief clerks.

Other office personnel will include a district engineer and a petroleum and civil engineer and five clerks.

The move marks the opening of the first district office in Stanton by a major oil company.

Strategically located in relation to the Spraberry trend activities, Stanton is the county seat of Martin County, where rapid oil development is underway.

Operators Ask Road In Tex-Harvey

Representatives of oil companies operating in the Tex-Harvey Oil Field Monday asked Midland County Commissioners Court to build a road through the field.

The road would be used to service oil companies and camps for families of oil field workers which are scheduled for construction soon.

An approximate route for the road was suggested to begin at the Garden City Highway and run through the Midland County portion of the Tex-Harvey field south to within a few miles of the Midland-Upton County line and then west to intersect the Midland-Bankin Highway.

Appearing before the court were H. E. Chiles, Jr., and Lyle Bruck of E. Captain Oil Company and Ray Rhodes, an independent operator. With the three representatives were Stanley M. Kratkin, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Chiles, spokesman for the group, told the court the field now is a year and a half old and that roads are needed badly.

"This is a serious matter," Chiles said, "because the active center of the Tex-Harvey field is located in Midland County."

Chiles referred to newspaper reports that the Tex-Harvey field is a major part of the Spraberry trend development, which is said to be the most important discovery made in the United States since the East Texas field.

A road is needed to move oil company material in and out of the field, and companies are holding back construction of camps for oil field workers and their families until a road can be located, Chiles explained.

He said any route the court might work out would have the approval of the oil companies and that camps will be built along the road. When the camps are built, Chiles said, a road will be necessary to provide transportation for school bus routes from the field.

Warren Skags, commissioner of Precinct 3, said he and other members of the court have been attempting to negotiate a route with ranchers for about six months.

"We're being tied up on right-of-way problems," Skags said, "because we want to plan the road without undue hardship to property owners."

New OPS Ruling Permits Increased Clothing Prices

WASHINGTON —(P)—Higher prices on some clothing, especially wooleens, were permitted Monday under a ruling of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS).

The OPS also lifted a 23-day freeze on wearing apparel selling for 30 cents on a long list of clothing items. It followed a congressional move banning price rollbacks during July while Congress worked on new economic controls legislation.

The ceiling price rises in apparel items follow up recent ceiling raises on many manufacturers of wool yarns and fabrics and cotton textiles. There was no estimate of how much prices would increase under the new order. Leather shoes are not affected by the change.

Under the order, all apparel manufacturers who were granted ceiling price increases in an OPS order on June 14 now are allowed to put these increases into effect.

Leaders Predict Workable Controls Bill By July 31

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Truman's congressional leaders Monday told him they are confident a "workable" economic controls bill will be passed before the July 13 deadline.

House Speaker Rayburn (Texas) told reporters afterward neither the Administration nor opponents of the Administration proposals "will get all they want" but "I think we will work out a pretty workable bill in conference."

The weekly meeting of the President and his leaders was devoted largely to a briefing on the military actions still going on in Korea. The conferees wouldn't discuss what they were told by military officials.

A Senate-House Conference Committee now has the job of hammering out an economic controls bill from the differing measures passed by the two chambers.

The committee has one week in which to turn out its finished measure, because present controls are scheduled to expire July 21.

French Hero Of Verdun Dies Monday

ILE D'YEU, FRANCE —(P)—Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 85, the French hero of Verdun in World War I, died Monday on this bleak island where he had served more than five years of a life sentence for treason in World War II.

But he was not a prisoner when he died. The French government commuted his sentence last month, and he was moved from his prison cell to a private mansion here off the southwest coast of France.

The aged marshal succumbed at 9:20 a. m. in the island's military hospital. He had been in failing health for months and since an attack of pneumonia in April had suffered several relapses.

Two days ago his family and his lawyers again were called to his bedside. His 78-year-old wife, Annie, who voluntarily had shared his exile, was with him when he died. They Shall Not Pass

Ironically, death came to Petain only three days after it claimed the German commander—former Crown Prince Wilhelm—who opposed him at Verdun. Wilhelm died Friday at Hechingen, Germany.

SAN FRANCISCO —(P)—Fifty-three Texans, including a Midland man, who arrived from Korea Saturday aboard the Navy vessel U.S.S. Telfair, were enroute home Monday on rotation leave or on their way to new assignments.

They were among 1,946 combat veterans who arrived on the Telfair. The Texans, as announced by the Defense Department, included: Pfc. William McMurrian, 406 South Terrell Street, Midland; Cpl. Bernard D. Allison, Lamesa; Sgt. James D. Bentley, Abilene; Cpl. David J. Black, Albany; Cpl. Albert Curry, Jr., Lubbock; Pfc. Cecil H. Drake, Big Spring; Pfc. John L. Evans, Abilene, and Cpl. Scattered Showers Offer Promise Of Breaking Heat Wave

By The Associated Press

While most of Texas remained hot and dry over the weekend, Dalt, in the top of the Panhandle, received a real gully-washer—a 1.94-inch rain Sunday midnight.

Marfa, in far West Texas, also received a welcome rain—37 inch. Childress, Salt Flat and Wink reported showers.

Some Texas areas may receive a little relief from the current heat wave from widely scattered thunderstorms Monday night and Tuesday.

The Weather Bureau said the showers may begin during the night and last through Tuesday in the extreme east part of East Texas, and in the Panhandle, South Plains and Pecos Valley westward in West Texas.

Texas' highest temperature Sunday was recorded at Presidio. The border community broiled under 110 degrees.

And Vernon had its troubles too—the Longhorn League baseball game, Midland vs. Vernon, was called because of heat—104 degrees.

Other Texas temperatures reported were Cotulla, 103 degrees; Mineral Wells, Fort Worth and El Paso, 102; Junction, Salt Flat, Childress, Bryan, Dallas and Abilene, 100; Wink, Del Rio and Waco, 101.

Texas' most widely prevailing temperature ranged in the high 90's. Some low temperatures during the night were recorded at Salt Flat, 63 degrees; Dalhart, 64; Childress, 68 and Amarillo, 65.

Eisenhower Wants Unified Command, Says Touring Solon Home From Europe

WASHINGTON —(P)—A senator just returned from Europe Monday said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wants to form a non-national army under a single flag and command to defend Western Europe.

Senator Brewster (R-Maine), one of nine members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who returned Monday from an inspection trip to Europe, quoted Eisenhower as saying he is "going all-out" in support of this idea.

The British oppose the Eisenhower plan, Brewster said. He added that he was told France and Western Germany are near agreement, however, on the general principles of single-uniform army.

Eisenhower was given the task of building a Western European defense force. The original thought was that each nation would contribute troops but they would retain their national uniforms. The Administration proposes to put six U. S. Divisions into the force.

The senators came back from Europe in general agreement there is need for greater speed in building Western defenses against communism.

Brewster said the touring senators were unanimous in support of a proposal, made by Britain and France, for the admission of Greece and Turkey to the North Atlantic Pact group.

Britain and France have opposed permitting Spain to join, but Brewster said the senators were impressed in conferences with Franco that Spain has a large reserve of manpower "ready to fight communism."

Over-all, Brewster said he thinks Europe is "making progress" toward building its own defense but that "rearmament is moving slowly."

The nine touring senators took testimony in Europe which Brewster said probably will be made public this week, when the foreign relations group is expected to begin hearings on the program.

Hope Fades For 38 On Lost Plane

JUNEAU, ALASKA —(P)—Rescue planes fanned out over the rugged Alaska coastline early Monday in an expanding search for a missing Korean airlift transport and its 38 occupants.

As the search for the Canadian Pacific Airlines DC-4 widened with a gradual improvement in weather conditions, hope for the occupants diminished. Searchers said the area where the plane last reported was one of the wildest on the North American continent.

The transport, carrying among its passengers 26 Americans, including three "high-rated" civilians, left Vancouver, B. C., late Friday for Anchorage, Alaska, on the first leg of a flight to Tokyo.

Cloud Ceilings Lifting

The pilot, Capt. Victor Fox, last reported off Cape Spencer, Alaska, at 2:17 a. m. CST Saturday. Fox said the plane was on a course at 9,000 feet, about 80 miles west of Juneau, with a 5 1/2-hour fuel supply.

Low flying planes searched waters off the Alaska Panhandle Sunday, but poor visibility hampered their missions. Other planes scanned mountain peaks above the 8,000-foot level without success.

The U. S. Weather Bureau flight forecaster expected gradual improvement of Sunday's soupy weather conditions. He said slowly clearing cloud ceilings would permit steep studies of deep fjords and towering mountain peaks dotting the Panhandle.

Military passengers included 26 American servicemen, two from the Royal Canadian Navy, and a crew of seven Canadians, including two stewardesses.

Says Armed Forces Goals Due To Rise

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Truman Monday told Congress it probably will be necessary to strengthen the armed forces beyond the present goal of 3,500,000 men, regardless of peace prospects in Korea.

He called for "full speed ahead" on the military build-up, with no yielding to those who would discard the anti-inflation control system "or shoot it full of holes."

The message was Truman's midyear economic report.

It went to Congress along with a 255-page economic review prepared by his Council of Economic Advisors.

Truman set his sights on a $300,000,000 increase in the annual military spending rate in the year ahead.

That, he said, will require up to 2,000,000 more workers, a five per cent boost in national output despite cuts in civilian goods, plus stiff taxes and controls to offset a widening "inflationary gap."

At this moment, he disclosed, "we are reviewing our immediate goals for military strength, and it is quite possible we shall have to raise them in several important respects."

Interim Goal Inadequate

The President called the 2,000,000-man strength of the armed forces, now almost reached, an "interim goal" which may be inadequate against the worldwide threat of Soviet "blackmail" and aggression.

"It now appears, as we review our strategic situation in the light of world events, that these goals may need to be raised, whether or not we have an armistice in Korea," he told the legislators.

Allies Wait To Resume Truce Talks

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA —(P)—Allied negotiators gathered here again Tuesday, armed with final UN instructions for the resumption of Korean war cease-fire talks in Kaesong Wednesday.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief of the five-man United Nations team, flew back from Tokyo Monday night after a series of conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. He was accompanied by two other UN delegates, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke.

They talked with the supreme Allied commander Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Decisions Secret

The decisions made in Tokyo probably will remain secret until the ninth meeting of negotiators in a Kaesong schoolhouse Wednesday.

The Korean war will be 13 months old Wednesday. Whether it will end soon or flare up anew in bloody fighting hinges on settlement of one vital question: Shall the question of withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea be placed on the cease-fire agenda?

The Reds have insisted the question be debated in full-scale armistice talks, to start when the list of topics for discussion has been adopted.

The United Nations have said it is a political matter to be decided after an armistice.

Wednesday's meeting may produce an unbreakable deadlock, or a compromise that will permit the talks to go on.

Formula Found To Break Deadlock In Iranian Oil Crisis

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)—An Iranian cabinet member said Monday a formula has been found for reopening negotiations with the British on the oil nationalization dispute.

The first specific statement of progress in settling the critical British-Iranian deadlock came from Dr. Karim Sanjabi, minister of education, after a six-hour conference between Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadeq, the cabinet and the Iranian Oil Nationalization Board.

Another member of the government indicated some formal announcement of the extent and nature of the progress might be made after continued talks Monday night with President Truman's global trouble-shooter, W. Averell Harriman.

Kazem Hassibi, a government representative on the oil board, said: "The cabinet and the joint oil board agreed on a memorandum which will be handed to Harriman tonight."

"It forms the basis on which negotiations with the British might be resumed."

May Start Oil Flowing

The memorandum apparently is based on the result of week-long talks between Harriman and Iranian leaders.

There was no immediate indication what specific points were contained in the memorandum.

If the British find, Harriman's mission may have cracked the deadlock which brought the world's biggest refinery at Abadan, on the Persian Gulf, to a virtual standstill and might have imperiled the peace of the world.

Although both sides were silent on details of the discussions taking place in the mirrored Saheb Gharanieh Palace, it is understood the talks included the possibility of resuming temporarily the shipment of oil from Iran under some compromise arrangement when and if the negotiations are reopened.

Sewage Plant Bids To Be Taken July 31

Bids on the construction of Midland's new sewage disposal plant will be received July 31, J. M. Orman, director of public works, said Monday.

Site for the plant, which will be located southeast of Midland, already has been purchased. The project itself is scheduled for completion in 240 working days.

'Old Soldiers Never Die,' However Movie Titles Do

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Darryl Zanuck everybody to the punch by registering "Old Soldiers Never Die" as a title. Then he edged out competition by ordering a quick screenplay to fit the title. Now the story will be filmed—but it won't be called "Old Soldiers Never Die."

On the Record:
Writer Stanley Roberts after coming out of an egg-laying preview:
"It was 20 per cent more miserable inside."

Young actor to starlet wife as reported by Frank DeVol:
"Sweetheart, this frozen food is delicious. Did you thaw it yourself?"

Vaughn Monroe, who owns a nightclub outside Boston, on why he and his ban haven't played there:
"I can't afford myself."

Ted Stauffer and Hedy Lamarr will stick it out in Hollywood. He's about to sell his Acapulco night club and land a job in movie town.

John Boles faces the cameras—TV cameras this time—for the first time since 1943. He's doing a three-minute video singing stunts for "Smaller Television."

Real estate in the San Fernando Valley say that a small tract home valued at $18,500 has been registered recently by new owners Veronica Lake and Andre de Toth.

Whose Old?
Eyespopping line from "The African Queen" now shooting in Africa, comes when Humphrey Bogart says to Katharine Hepburn:
"I ain't sorry for you no more, you crazy, psalm-singing old maid."

Valli, the Italian star who recently quit Hollywood, is in a Rome hospital suffering from a nervous breakdown. Jane Withers wants to come out of retirement—as the head of an hour video show.

Dorothy Shay's fan mail is surprising U.I. front office. She's a big movie click in the latest Abbott and Costello comedy.

Surprise of the year: Frank Sinatra and Shelly Winters doing an Alfonso and Gaston act on the set of "Meet Danny Wilson." Not a single argument, Frank, by the way, is telling pals he's happy to be out of that CBS TV contract which kept him in New York so much this year. He'd rather be in Hollywood—closer to Ava Gardner.

"Mr. Imperium," the Eric Pina-Lana Turner co-starrer, is being called "You Belong to My Heart," for the British market. It's being called some other things in Hollywood.

From Bloomers To Bikinis—No. 5

The first World War changed a lot of things, including bathing suits. These are some California damsels in the advanced styles of 1920. Stripes were the thing, and you can see a definite trend away from the form-hiding fashions of earlier years. But there are still some left-overs of the pantaloons-and-long-sleeve era. They all wear some stockings, either long or rolled down below the knee. And the bathing suits are all skirted (although briefly) with trunks underneath. The low sandal had just about replaced the high, laced bathing shoe, but the girl at the right hadn't heard that story yet. Not all of the 1920 beauties went in for the form-fitting suits, however. Here is Margaret Gorman, Miss America of 1921. Her outfit is as form-fitting as a tent. But her dainty dimpled knee is pecking.

Will Public React Favorably On National Defense Expansion?

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Pentagon brass currently is laying down a heavy barrage of statements for a bigger U. S. national defense effort. More men, ships, planes, guns and bases at home and overseas are being talked about.

First impression given by all this talk is that Department of Defense is planning for U. S. armed services far bigger than the three-and-a-half million man force now authorized. The cost of any such force of course would be far beyond the $60,000,000,000 authorization now being asked of Congress for this year.

Careful investigation reveals that none of these plans yet has jelled to the point of being a firm military program. Most of the estimates on future military requirements are in the nature of trial balloons, to see how the public will react to them.

Combined with this is a great counter-propaganda blast to offset any desire that Congress may have to cut back on this year's requests for Defense funds or to slow down the mobilization program as a result of the Korean cease-fire talks.

Points To Consider
A number of these statements are worth noting:

1. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg's reference to the U. S. "abstention" air force, to see how the public will react to them.

2. Admission by the Air Force that, with 95 wings now authorized, plans were being made for expansion to 120, 150 and 180 wings. Cost of such an Air Force is estimated at $30,000,000,000 a year.

3. Admiral Forrest Sherman, chief of Naval Operations, on his return from Korea, called attention to the fact that the three-and-a-half million man defense force now being built up was authorized before the Korean war broke out in June, 1950. The only difference the war had made was that the plan to build up this force by 1954 had been speeded up for completion by 1953.

4. The Navy's million-man share of this plan was to put 1,161 ships on active duty. This force is being built around 12 aircraft carriers, with 14 wings of planes and two and a half divisions of Marines.

5. Congress itself produced a plan for increasing Marine strength to four full divisions, but the Joint Chiefs of Staff are against it.

6. The Navy is planning now to try to activate another carrier and additional destroyers by reassignment of manpower now authorized. This would reduce shore personnel and increase the number of men at sea.

7. Army's original pre-Korean expansion plan called for one-and-a-half million men in 18 divisions, plus 18 regimental combat teams. Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins now talks of adding six more divisions. But new divisions are to come largely from reassignment of the regimental combat teams and men now in 10 training divisions. The additional divisions all would be activated from troops now authorized.

8. President Truman has just sent to Congress a request for $6,500,000,000 for defense bases, in this country and abroad. Air Force wants 77 additional bases, many of them on the perimeter of Soviet Russia's Iron Curtain. Army wants $50,000,000 for nine stand-by camps, to be readied for use in case of all-out mobilization and a bigger draft call.

All these projects, however, are included in the $60,000,000,000 budget estimate for this year. So they represent no new item of cost.

9. Assistant Director of Budget Elmer B. Staats recently shocked the Senate Finance Committee by saying the total government expenditures in 1953 would be $80,000,000,000 to $90,000,000,000. Of this, $35,000,000,000 to $45,000,000,000 would be for the military.

Peak Is Ahead
The catch in these figures is that they include approximately $10,000,000,000 for foreign military assistance and for the U. S. atomic energy program. So the peak of direct U. S. military expenditures would be $45,000,000,000 in 1953, as compared with $40,000,000,000 to be spent this year out of the $60,000,000,000 authorized budget.

For costs and size of the armed forces beyond 1953, nothing yet has been decided. There probably will be considerable changes in units in the next six months. But they all will come within the present three and a half million man armed force ceiling. To raise the armed forces beyond 4,000,000 men would require a new act of Congress.

So, barring some new emergency and an all-out war, no vast expansion of U. S. armed forces is considered likely before 1954. But the Pentagon is planning for such expansion, should it become necessary.

Portuguese Voters Name New President
LISBON, PORTUGAL (AP)—A 57-year-old airman, Gen. Francisco Craveiro Lopes, is Portugal's new President. Backed by "Strong Man" Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, Craveiro Lopes was elected without opposition Sunday.

The new president succeeded the late Marshal Antonio Oscar de Fragoso Carmona, who died April 18. Salazar, who with President Carmona had ruled Portugal 25 years, refused to seek the presidency for "reasons of conscience."

Danger Wanes As Mississippi Crest Churns Southward

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Mississippi crest, made up of the Midwest's most costly flood waters, churned southward from St. Louis Monday and was expected to spend itself between the massive dikes lining the big river.

A few spots still were in danger, but the Army Engineers were confident almost all of the major levees downstream from St. Louis will hold.

Nine hundred workers, including 500 airmen from nearby Scott Air Force Base, Ill., were toiling on levees reported in critical condition 60 miles south of here in Perry County, Mo. A break there would flood 23,500 acres of rich farmland.

Seven hundred men labored in an emergency reinforcement of the Chouteau Island levee, just north of St. Louis on the Illinois side, where several thousand acres of farmland were in peril.

Except for the immediate riverfront section, St. Louis is on high ground out of reach of the flood. Thirty-six miles of huge earthen barriers were protecting the heavily populated area across from St. Louis in Illinois were pronounced in good condition. They were being patrolled around the clock.

Peak Rolls By Sunday
The peak of the flood rolled by St. Louis early Sunday, when the river went to its highest stage in 107 years. The top mark was 40.28 feet, just .02 of a foot higher than the 1947 overflow. The high marks of both floods were recorded officially by the U. S. Weather Bureau at 40.3, or to the nearest tenth.

The loss at St. Louis has been estimated at $4,000,000—less than half that of the flood four years ago when industries in the vulnerable area had less warning.

By far the greatest part of the damage in the Midwest floods—variously estimated at from $650,000,000 to $1,000,000,000—was in Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri, along the Kansas and Missouri Rivers.

Nine Persons Die By Violence During Weekend In Texas

By The Associated Press
Two low flying crop dusting planes smashed together near Pecos Sunday, killing one pilot and injuring the other.

This was one of nine violent deaths in Texas over the weekend. Killed was Jim Cowan, 27, of Pecos, flying for Southwest Fertilizer and Chemical Company.

D. E. Miner, flying a spray plane for the White Rock Flying Service of Dallas, was injured critically.

Pecos City Patrolman W. C. Matlock said Cowan was dusting cotton on a farm about three miles west of Pecos. Miner was spraying an adjoining field.

Matlock said both pilots were completing their runs across their respective fields when they apparently saw each other for the first time. He said both planes pulled up sharply, but collided about 200 feet above the ground.

Night Club Shooting
Lee Andrews Sears, 26, was shot to death early Sunday in Houston. Mrs. Nelma Frederick, 24, a night club waitress, was charged with murder in Justice of the Peace D. F. Thompson's Court.

An 18-month-old boy was killed accidentally Sunday in Houston when a car driven by his father, Dr. J. T. Alipworth, backed over him.

Wanda Sue Conner, five, walked into a whirling airplane propeller at Corsicana's Municipal Airport Sunday and was injured fatally. Her mother, Mrs. C. M. Conner, saw the accident. The child had just been for a ride in the plane.

Bobby Ray Bryant, 10, touched a 14,000-volt power line on top of an 18-foot steel tower at Lubbock Sunday and died three hours later.

Tot Drowns In Fish Pond
Dwight Dobson, 22-month-old, toddled into a fish pond at his grandparents' home at Port Worth Saturday and drowned. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Dobson, Jr., were grieving the death of her father, Dr. X. R. Hyde, who had died 15 hours before the tragedy.

Doris Jean Jennings of Dallas and Douglas L. Wilson, 24, of Denton were killed near Denton Saturday night when an auto failed to make a curve, overturned and smashed into a tree. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Morrisale of Dallas were injured.

The body of Lonnie Alvin Rainey, 49, was found in a water-filled gravel pit in Southeast Dallas Sunday.

India's War-Like Behavior

Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan complains that India is massing troops on his country's border. India's Prime Minister Nehru acknowledges the troop movements, but says they are for defense. He charges Pakistan with "organized preparations for raids and sabotage in Indian territory."
—Dispatches from New Delhi disclose that the major part of India's 400,000-man army has been arrayed along the frontier or in other danger zones like Kashmir. Nehru insists India has no intention of attacking Pakistan, although this force seems a little large for combatting mere "raids and sabotage."
Americans thousands of miles from the scene are not qualified to judge who really is threatening whom. But they are not barred from passing moral judgment on the general India-Pakistan dispute.

That dispute has centered for a long time on the independent princely state of Kashmir, which both nations wish to absorb.

United Nations mediators have recommended that a plebiscite be held to allow the people of Kashmir to vote on where they shall place their allegiance. Pakistan accepts this plan, but India does not. Furthermore, India has put its troops into Kashmir to keep command of the situation, and Indian leaders say they never will allow Kashmir to get out of their hands.

No one can be positive which way the mixed Hindu and Moslem population of that state would lean. It might well favor India. But it is just and proper that the issue be settled by a peaceful vote, not by force. The presence of Indian troops there, plus India's persistent refusal to consider a plebiscite, amounts to violation of the letter and spirit of the United Nations charter.

Last Winter Nehru projected himself forward as leader in an effort to mediate the Korean war. At that time, he and his UN spokesman, Sir Benegal Rau, uttered many bitter words about the West's "stubborn reluctance" to permit mediation. He ignored the fact that his proposed settlement terms amounted to rewarding Communist aggression.

All through that period, the Kashmir controversy still raged, and India adamantly refused to accept any solution but its own. The attitude at New Delhi obviously has not altered one whit.

The Indian view seems to be that mediation is for the other fellow. Nehru wants the UN charter to apply to everyone but him.

In the light of India's record, men of character in the free world can have scant sympathy for Nehru's pretensions as a "man of peace." And they would have little patience with any action that would lead to an outbreak of war between India and Pakistan.

Hypocrisy is a harsh word, but it pretty well describes India's behavior. World peace never can be promoted by men who think that the principle of just settlement of disputes should guide all the world but the part they govern.

Yeah, But Can They Make It Stick?

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
Drew Pearson says: 82nd Congress sets new record for do-nothingness; Truman's shifting policies discourage party unity; Lobbyists and local interests prevail.

WASHINGTON — Most capital observers agree that not in years has there been such a tired, listless, indifferent do-nothing Congress as the 82nd. The famed 80th Congress, against which President Truman campaigned to victory in 1948, was a stem-winder by comparison.

Not only has the 82nd Congress failed to pass a single appropriation by the end of the fiscal year, on June 30, but a good many members don't seem to care. They don't even seem to care that they are being called the "horse-meat" Congress.

Never in my recollection have both morale and morals been so low, leadership so lacking.

Never in my recollection has there been less idealism, less patriotism, such poor party discipline, never such shameless absenteeism. Some congressmen are present in Washington only one day a week.

There are three main overriding reasons for this political paralysis:

1. This is the tail-end of a tired, uninspired administration—probably the end of a long period of Democratic rule. Nobody, except a few unsharable optimists, really expects this administration to be re-elected, and when that frame of mind exists in Congress there can be no party discipline, no leadership.

2. Without leadership every congressman adopts the law of the jungle—every man for himself. Instead of voting what's good for the country, he votes what's good for himself or the lobbyist who helped fill his campaign chest. He knows that, in many legislative problems, the nation's interest has to be put above his district's interest. A flood-control reservoir may dislocate a hundred or so people in his district, but their dislocation may save the lives and property of millions beyond the reservoir area. However, an "I'll get mine, you get yours" spirit has become rampant in this Congress. The law of the lobbyist and the local interest reigns supreme.

3. There has been no firm hand on the reins. This is true both of the White House and of the Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill. The President alternately has begged and scolded. He seldom has inspired.

Congress is like a team of horses. It knows from the feel of the reins whether the driver is competent, and, like a team of horses, you can't alternately lash congressmen into a lather, then coax them up a hill.

When the President calls the Alger Hiss prosecution a "red herring" one day, then rewards the Hiss prosecutor with a judgeship; when he calls the Fulbright RFC reforms "asinine," then adopts the Fulbright RFC reforms himself; when he vetoes the Kerr National Gas Bill, then appoints a Powers Commission chairman who adopts the Kerr bill—Congress knows that an unsteady hand is holding the reins.

Harry Truman will go down in history as a courageous President and on his major policies a correct President. But he also will be known as an unstable, unpopular President, and in leading Congress, popularity and stability are what counts.

The President's leaders on Capitol Hill are no better—partly because they don't particularly believe in the President's policies, also discouraged working for him.

Speaker Sam Rayburn, who once held a steady hand over the House of Representatives, now doesn't care much whether school keeps or not. Sam is older, more tired, more discouraged than in the days when he controlled the unruly House of South's bidding will interest those who have heard "an immediate jump take out must show a fit in the opener's suit." This is not really true. It is perfectly proper to make a jump bid with a very strong suit of your own; or with such great general strength that the final bid may be in no-trump.

In today's hand South's spades were good enough for a jump bid, even though support for diamonds was lacking. When North promptly raised spades, South was sure he wanted to be in a small slam and had a brief vision of a possible grand slam.

To find out, South bid four no-trump—using the Blackwood Convention. North's response of five diamonds showed that he held exactly one ace. (As most players know, a response of five clubs shows no ace, five hearts shows two aces, and so on.)

The response told South that he had to lose one trick to an ace. Hence he contented himself with a small slam. Even this took careful play.

West opened the jack of clubs, and South won in his own hand with the ace. The only problem was to limit the loss in hearts to one trick. This could be done if one long diamond could be brought in, otherwise it would be possible to lead a heart from dummy in the hope that East had the ace.

Fortunately for South the diamonds were not too badly divided. Declarer first drew two rounds of trumps then cashed the top diamonds and ruffed a diamond. He re-entered dummy with a trump to ruff another diamond.

This cleared the suit, setting up dummy's last diamond. Now declarer got to dummy with a club to discard a heart on the established jack of diamonds. This accomplished, South could cheerfully give up one heart trick to the enemy.

A business committee advising the Munitions Board has recommended standardizing all automobile and airplane engines... A real blow to the Kremlin: since V-J Day the American steel industry has increased production by more than Russia's total production... The White House got a report last week that American industry now is delivering $300,000,000 worth of guns, tanks, planes, and radar to the armed services per month. This soon will jump to $500,000,000 per month... The recent price increase granted the machine-tool industry was ordered by Mobilization Boss Charles Wilson over Mike Di-Salle's head... General Ridgway has informed Washington that Japan will be able to put four divisions in the field in eight months. Training of the Japanese police force has been going on secretly. Ridgway reports, but a new democratic Japanese army soon will be announced.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade West
2 N.T. Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades A-J-7-5, Hearts K-8, Diamonds A-7-6, Clubs K-9-7-3. What do you do?
A—Bid six no-trump. There must be a sound play for that contract even if your partner made a slight stretch to bid two no-trump. A grand slam seems very unlikely since your partner was neither strong enough to open with two no-trump nor to jump to three no-trump at his second turn.

TODAY'S QUESTION
With East-West vulnerable, the bidding has been:
West North East South
1 Heart Pass Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades K-J-6-3, Hearts 8, Diamonds Q-J-4-2, Clubs Q-J-8. What do you do?

THE GILA MURDER BY JULIUS LONG

Copyright 1951 by NEA Service, Inc.

If you asked anyone in Coltonville what the Civic Betterment League did, you would be informed that it did whatever Laura Colton told it to do.

Laura had footed 90 per cent of the bill for the Community Center building in which the League held its monthly meetings, and she underwrote all its expenses. She was its president, of course, and it was only natural that she should enjoy the privilege of a parking space right at the front of the Community Center lot. But on the night of the August meeting Laura left her special space vacant and parked at the extreme rear of the lot, where the light was bad.

This puzzled everybody including Mrs. Billings and Mrs. Morton, whom Laura invited to ride with her after the meeting. They were also puzzled by the absence of Sam, Laura's husband, who kept her pencil sharpened at the meeting. Sam always drove Laura's big sedan, too, for, as people said, he was an engineer and the one thing he could do was drive. As she conducted her guests to the rear of the lot, Laura did not explain her choice of parking space, but she did touch upon the matter of Sam's unprecedented absence.

"His digestion has flared up again," Laura told Mrs. Billings and Mrs. Morton. "Poor Sam just wears himself out. I tell him not to work himself so hard, but he won't listen."

In the shadows of the parking lot Mrs. Billings and Mrs. Morton exchanged glances. Sam hadn't done a lick of work in 25 years, as everybody in town knew. Laura wouldn't even trust him to sort the mail. There was a manager of the farms and a manager for the factory that provided Coltonville's greatest source of employment. There was Johnnie McAdams, the flashy young lawyer, to give his prompt advice on any question that arose, and a broker's house at the state capital to advise Laura on her investments. All Sam had to do was to sit around and read.

Sam was probably at home reading tonight. He gobbled up detective stories by the hundreds, and doubtless a special one had kept him indoors this time. Sam was sly lately in making excuses to Laura. Well, it was about time he was learning how to handle her.

Mrs. Billings got into the front seat, and Mrs. Morton climbed in back. It was Mrs. Morton who lived nearer, and Laura drove her home first. She then cut out North Main, for Mrs. Billings lived just inside the corporation where Main intersected Ludlow Road. Both women thanked Laura profusely, and after Laura had left Mrs. Billings in the back seat, Mrs. Morton drove down the dimly lighted street.

BY this time Laura was hysterical, sobbing and screaming, running at a speed that seemed incredible for a woman of 60. She crossed the boulevard, and Bob Crawford, who had heard her cries, was on his front porch as Laura reached the sidewalk. Wondering why he moved to help her as she raced toward his house, half-way across his parking lawn she seemed to stumble and fall sprawling on the ground. Bob Crawford, a calm man, manly carrier by trade, at first did not know what had happened to the woman. Then he saw the thing that clung to her hand. His eyes widened in horror but without more than a split-second's hesitation he reached down and tried to tear it from the bleeding fingers. He realized after a few seconds that he could not pry it loose with his bare hands. He rushed back into his house, called for his wife, and tore down the basement stairs to his workbench. He found a hatchet and a chisel, and he grabbed them both and raced back up the stairs.

"What in the world's wrong with you?" his wife demanded. "Go out to that woman and don't ask questions!"

He raced on out to his front lawn, his wife following him without comprehending. He found the woman lying where he had left her, the thing still attached to her hand, now covered with blood. The thing that had bitten the hand lay perfectly still until Bob chopped the first time with his hatchet. After that the thing writhed and fought futilely even after Bob had all but cut it in two. Eventually he did accomplish this but one part of the body, little more than the head, still clung to the unconscious woman's hand.

BY this time Bob's wife was herself almost hysterical, and Bob realized the best thing she could do would be to call in a doctor. He sent her into the house to call any doctor, anyone at all, and she ran willing to do his bidding. Bob set about systematically to pry open the jaw of the decapitated creature and eventually he worked them far enough apart that the almost severed fingers of Laura Colton could be worked free.

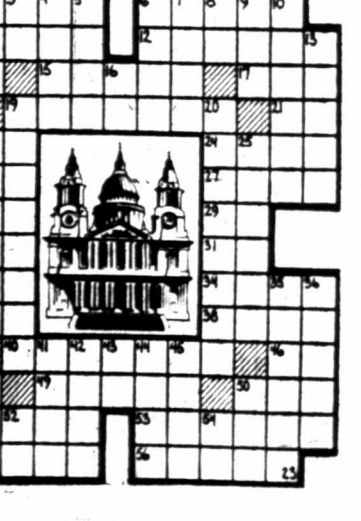

He picked up Laura and carried her into the house, where he placed her on a divanport. His wife was still frantically trying to summon a doctor. "Never mind," Bob told her. "This woman is dead."

IRAN: Cockpit for Conquest (1)

The Persian Empire was finally crushed by Alexander the Great at the battle of Arbela in 331 B.C. Though Persian leader Darius III commanded more than a million men and used elephants as offensive weapons for the first time in history, he was no match for the 47,000 soldiers of the would-be world conqueror.

Alexander's death ended the scheme for world conquest but it took him 500 years to recover his power. The general of Alexander fought among themselves for the throne. In one year alone, six rulers were worshiped and murdered!

In a bloody revolution, Persians, led by the courageous warrior Ardeshir, overthrew the Parthians in the year 226 A.D. As founder of a new monarchy, Ardeshir sent an imposing embassy to the Roman Emperor—then Alexander Severus—demanding that all of Asia be yielded to Persia.

During the next 400 years, the Persians fought 15 major wars with the Romans and smaller ones with the White Huns, Arabs, Turks and Khazars. As a result, the modern-day Iranian is the product of racial blending and his language one of many dialects.

Overeating Cause Of Fatness Despite Many Rationalizations

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Why do some people get too fat? Because they eat too much—obviously they can't make fat out of the air. But why do they eat too much? This is the real question.

There are many reasons for believing that the most common reason for eating too much stems from mental or emotional disturbances. It is astonishing how often one finds overweight children who are starved for parental affection or real companionship at school.

Women who are disappointed in their husbands or lack of any; men who are frustrated in one way or another in their work or progress in the world.

In circumstances like these, overeating becomes a sort of escape or an attempt to punish others much like taking to drink.

A large number of fat people feel guilty about it even though they often shelter behind their weight as a sort of shield which excuses them from games or other activities which they are glad to avoid.

It is interesting, too, how many claim to be very small eaters even though they can be caught at the refrigerator when the family's back is turned.

Face The Facts! It doubtless is disagreeable to be told such facts and some may wonder if in their case the cause does not lie elsewhere. This is possible but unlikely. There are a few—but very few—cases of obesity associated with glandular disturbances, and there are a few rare disorders accompanied by obesity.

Then there are some who say that naturally they are fat because all the members of their family are. This seems to be true, but it may be the result of a good appetite just the same.

Even in such cases studies of the food intake and energy output can be made and the excess poundage taken off by making the proper adjustments.

In summary, practically all fat people for one reason or another simply eat more than they need for their activities; the excess is stored in the body as fat.

New OPS Order May Put End To Nickel Soda Pop

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Nickel-a-bottle soda pop soon may be only a memory.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) Monday authorized soft drink bottlers to boost their prices to retailers to a top of 96 cents a case.

This probably will mean an increase to six cents a bottle at retail on the beverages whose bottlers take full advantage of the new ceiling, the agency said.

In the trade, it was reported unofficially that Coca-Cola will stick to its present price. However, some other large companies plan to change, OPS spokesmen reported.

The new ceiling applies to both six-ounce and 12-ounce bottles, effective July 23.

Higher Deposits, Too
OPS said it will relieve bottlers of "extensive and serious" hardship. The Senate Small Business committee, after a 1950 survey, estimated that two-thirds of the country's 6,500 soft drink bottlers were losing money or barely breaking even.

The new price will permit a wholesale boost of up to 16 cents for the 24-bottle case, so long as the resulting price does not exceed 96 cents. Some wholesalers may elect to take less than the whole 16 cents, depending upon their competitive situation.

The new order also permits an increase in the deposit charge for bottles, up to the amount it would require to replace them if lost.

The regulation does not apply to soft drinks mixed at soda fountains or, except as to deposit charges, to soft drinks in bottles of more than 12-ounce size.

Husband-Hunting Divorcee Fails To Find 'Dream Man'

VICKSBURG, MICH. —(AP)—Vicksburg's pert divorcee, Mrs. Jean Gregory, still is looking for her dream man.

The attractive, 27-year-old mother of three children offered through a newspaper to accept a marriage proposal from a man who makes around $100 a week and will support her children and mother.

But as yet, she said Sunday, she hasn't found the right husband from more than 200 applicants. Thirty have come to see her, she said, and more have made appointments to see her later.

Most of the applicants, the long-haired brunette said, "just aren't making enough money." The one she chooses, she says, will have to pay for an operation for her mother, Mrs. Amanda Farrow, 61, who suffers from cancer.

The most interesting offer, she said, came from a Chicago businessman and his wife. They came to see her personally and offered help with no matrimonial strings attached.

She declined their offer, she said, and will go along with her marriage plans "if the right man comes along."

Dick Contino Tells It To Judge

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—Dick Contino, $4,000-a-week accordionist who fled an Army camp on the eve of his scheduled induction was scheduled to tell a federal judge about it Monday.

The 21-year-old is charged with draft evasion. Maximum penalty if convicted is five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Contino reported to Fort Ord, Calif., for a physical last April, but ducked out overnight before reporting for duty. He said later: "I just couldn't stand to be in an enclosure."

Women's Clubs Ask Quarantine Of Dope Addicts

WASHINGTON —(AP)—City ordinances requiring a six-month quarantine of narcotics addicts have been proposed by the General Federation of Women's clubs.

In a letter Sunday urging its member units to work for such a law in their communities, Mrs. Hiram Cole Houghton, federation president, wrote: "Narcotic addiction could be stamped out by quarantining the present addicts in hospitals, as we quarantine for smallpox. Each addict causes perhaps four other persons to become addicts, and these four make 16, and so on. Dope is a communicable disease."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Boo To A Goose

Old MacDonald has a farm, as I see I do! Yes, and on the farm was plenty of trouble, and worry, worry, worry. Daddy Ringtail, your most key friend, was coming to help with the doing of something about all the trouble there was.

Old MacDonald was sitting on the steps of the porch with his head between his knees, all to show how much trouble he had, when Daddy Ringtail came walking around the corner of the house.

"Happy day, Old MacDonald," said Daddy Ringtail.

"Happy troubles, Daddy Ringtail," said Old MacDonald.

And a goose came out from beneath the porch and flapped his wings and stretched his neck to say, "Honk! Honk! Honk!"

"Aha!" said Daddy Ringtail. "So the goose was making the honking noise as I came walking up the hill. Old MacDonald said yes, because the goose was really a watch-geese of a kind that said 'Honk! Honk!' whenever people were coming near. You see, the watch-geese really, was a friend of a watch-dog who would always bark when strangers were coming, all so the people of the house would know about it."

"Wonderful!" said Daddy Ringtail. "Old MacDonald, it is simply wonderful for you to have a fine watch-geese. Why, your watch-geese can 'Honk! Honk!' when strangers are coming, and then you can put an extra plate on the table for them to have dinner with you."

"Yes," said Old MacDonald, "except I fear that my goose is a sage creature who might hurt people, and so I worry, worry, worry with trouble, trouble, trouble."

"Now, now, now," said Daddy Ringtail. "Surely this fine goose cannot be a savage creature. But Old MacDonald began to tell why he thought the goose was really savage. It seems that Old MacDonald had bought the goose from a man who wouldn't say 'Boo!' to the goose, the goose must be a savage creature indeed. Oh my yes! That's what Old MacDonald was thinking."

But Daddy Ringtail smiled with a different thought. He said he knew the man who wouldn't say 'Boo!' to a goose or to anything, and the man was not afraid to do it. Oh no! The man was just not wanting to hurt any feelings. Happy day!

Amarillo Conterfeiting Suspects Quizzed About International Crime Ring

AMARILLO - (AP) - Two persons, arrested here and charged with counterfeiting, have been questioned concerning a possible international crime syndicate.

And the Potter County sheriff said he had a tip a man was in town to shoot them if they get out of jail. Officers revealed Sunday that two Los Angeles detectives questioned the couple at length, particularly concerning the $12,000 jewelry and fur theft last month from the home of actress Ronda Fleming.

The Los Angeles policemen, Johnny Sublett and Jack Hooper, brought along approximately 20 pictures of suspected syndicate members and a list of many thousands of dollars worth of jewelry and furs believed stolen by the syndicate.

The presence of these high officials was considered significant and sensational. Western observers outside Poland speculated that the Cominform-Communist policy board—may be meeting, Cominform meetings often herald a sensational new move in international affairs by the Soviet Union.

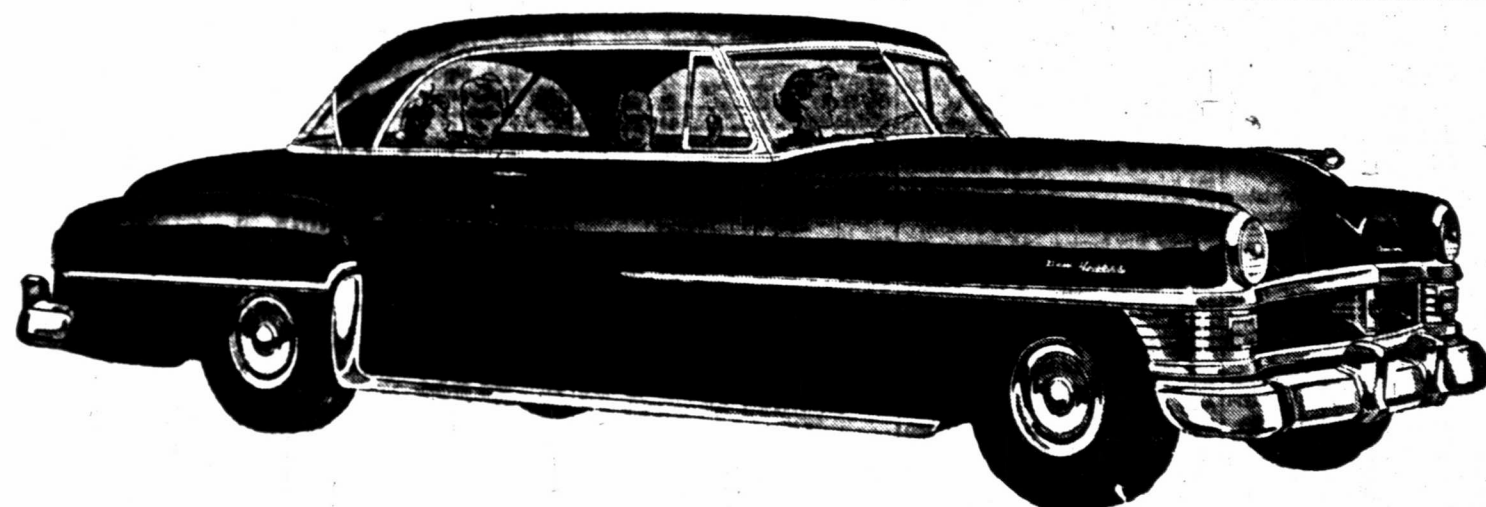

Molotov, in a speech Saturday, denounced Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia as an agent of the imperialists. He said Tito's regime will not last much longer.

MAJOR LEAGUES—

Yanks Take Lead With Double Win

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Cleveland and Boston Monday were locked in a virtual first place tie in the American League's gripping pennant race with Chicago's weary White Sox "resting" in fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Percentage-wise, the defending champions led the league. Sunday's sweep of two games from St. Louis—9-0 and 7-3—boosted them into first place by two percentage points over the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox.

The rampaging Indians made it 23 victories in 27 games and eight out of nine by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 6-4 and 3-1. The Red Sox stubbornly kept pace with a 10-9 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in 10 innings.

The skidding White Sox suffered two stunning defeats by Washington Sunday 7-6 and 11-5—as the Senators concluded a sweep of the four-game series. It marked the longest skid of the season for Chicago—four straight.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to make a runaway race of it in the National League. Trouncing the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-2, for their ninth straight over the Redbirds, the Dodgers increased their margin to eight and one-half games over second-place New York.

Cincinnati held the Giants to a split of their doubleheader, dropping a 9-8 decision after winning the opener, 7-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-7, in 14 innings and led, 1-0, after seven innings of the second game of a doubleheader. The nightcap was halted by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law. It will be resumed the next time the Cubs come to Philadelphia.

Pittsburgh split with Boston, winning the second game, 5-2, after the Braves had taken the opener, 5-3.

Match Seen Action
Allie Reynolds surrendered only four hits and registered his eleventh victory and sixth shutout for the Yankees in the St. Louis opener. Held hitless for five innings by old Satchel Paige, the Yanks led off on the fabulous negro righthander for three runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to route Paige.

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek of Cleveland each pitched a seven-inning shutout for the Indians against Ken Holcomb and Harry Doriah to win the nightcap.

Carl Erskine racked up his tenth victory for Brooklyn with a seventh-inning performance against the Cards. Phil Cavarretta made a successful managerial debut with the Cubs as they eked out their 14-inning victory in Philadelphia. Hank Sauer doubled in the fourth and scored on two outfield flies as Jim Konstanty suffered his eighth setback against four wins.

The second game will immediately follow the first contest. Eddie Jacome will toe the mound for Midland in the first game against Marshall Epperson. Louis May Meet Jim Bivins In Bout

BALTIMORE (AP)—Former Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis will fight here, August 15, maybe against Jimmy Bivins, 31-year-old Cleveland boxer.

Bivins is one of four possible foes named by Promoter Benny Trota; the other three being Rocky Marciano, Rex Layne and Clarence Henry.

Trota said the fight would be promoted by the local squares athletic club with the aid of the International Boxing Club.

Bivins seemed the most likely of the four to meet Louis, and it was known that he had been contacted for the forthcoming bout.

He has a record of 72 victories, 17 defeats and one draw in 11 years of boxing. He was knocked out once and outpointed twice by former champion Ezzard Charles. Their last meeting, in 1948, resulted in a decision for Charles.

Bears Ink Wright Of West Texas State

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears of the National Football League Monday signed Charles (Wire) Wright, halfback from West Texas State College, nation's leading ground-gainer among small colleges in 1950.

Wright, a 200-pounder, gained 1,203 yards, averaging almost six yards per try, last Fall. He is 22.

King's Row

by Larry King

The Shorthorn League's all-star game will be played at 8:15 p. m. Thursday in Indian Park.

And right there is a chance for Midlanders to get some wholesome recreation, see a baseball game and help out a bunch of kids.

All profit from the game goes to the Midland Junior Baseball Association—the organization which foots the bill for all boys' baseball in Midland.

The Shorthorn youngsters haven't played in about three weeks, so they should be rarin' to go. John Redfern, Jr., the czar of boys' baseball here, said a place still hasn't been provided for the boys to play their regular schedule.

Stubby Green, the Artesia manager, evidently meant business when he fired the Cubans from his ball club.

Green said Monday he would play local semi-pro boys before he would use the Cubans.

Abe Fleitas, all-star first baseman, and Israel Ten, also an all-star and a pitcher, were among the Cubans dismissed from the squad when they struck in protest against suspension of Catcher Pancho Perez.

A Prentice-Hall book, written by Dave Bauer, just reached our desk.

Bauer, father of Midland's famed Bauer sisters—Alice and Marlene—calls it "Golf Techniques of the Bauer Sisters."

It's good reading, with plenty of illustrated pictures of the winsome ladies—but don't expect to shoot golf like the Bauers, simply by reading the book.

WT-NM League—Red-Hot Gold Sox Dump Lobos, 17-5

By The Associated Press
The Amarillo Gold Sox are just about the hottest thing in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

The Gold Sox continued their heavy hitting to blast the Lamesa Lobos, 17-5 for their third straight victory.

The Gold Sox got 20 safeties off Lobo pitching. Four of the blows were for two bases and three were home runs.

Borger was doing all right until Pitcher Red Stocky blew his top and was chased in the sixth. The Abilene Blue Sox jumped on Reliever Jim Cain for five runs and finished with a 10-5 victory.

Veteran Mel Kramer turned in the pitching gem of the day as he stopped the Pampa Oilers with one hit, a double by Frank Cain, to hurl the Clovis Pioneers to an 8-0 victory. He fanned 13 and walked two.

The Albuquerque Dukes scored two runs in the last of the eighth inning to nip Lubbock, 5-3, in the only night game in the league.

'Joe Palooka' Wins Blue Ribbon Money

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Joe Kirkwood, Jr., 30-year-old screen actor and golf pro, turned in a record-tying 64 on the North Hills Country Club course Sunday to win the Blue Ribbon Open Golf Tournament and $2,750.

Kirkwood, Hollywood's Joe Palooka, fired six birdies and an eagle in a seven-under-par finish to give him a 72-hole total of 271—13 under the 35-36—71 layout.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., came in second best with 273, earning $1,900 of the $20,000 pot which made the Blue Ribbon open the third richest meet of the season. Snead had a 32-34—66 finish.

Wortman Loses In Meet Finals

ODESSA—Midland's Bob Wortman was denied the Odessa Invitational Golf championship here Sunday, as Dallas' Dick Martin surged to a 7 and 6 victory in a 36-hole match.

Wortman—who recently finished as runner-up in the Midland Invitational meet—was 2-up at the end of three holes, but fell steadily behind after medalist and winner Martin got hot. Martin won the medalist title in a playoff with Odessa's Bob French.

French took the consolation title, defeating J. B. Copeland, Odessa, 4 and 3. French won the Midland meet last month.

Midland's Earl Wilson captured the second flight championship with a 5 and 4 win over Russ Webb, Odessa.

M. E. Montgomery, Midland, lost to H. D. Gibson, Odessa, 1-up for the third flight title. Another Midlander—A. A. (Poosty) Jones, fell to B. A. Bond, Odessa, 1-up. That battle was for the fourth flight title.

In a fourth flight consolation battle, Hugh Reynolds of Midland lost to J. A. Mehafee, Odessa, 2 and 1.

Weaver, Texas Tech Grid Mentor, To Appear Here Friday

A split-T convert who believes nothing will replace a good, clean block will address Texas Tech alumni and other friends in Midland Friday night.

He is DeWitt T. Weaver, signed last Spring as athletic director and head football coach of the Lubbock institution.

With Weaver will be staff members and Alvin Allison of Levelland, president of the Red Raider Club, Inc. Hugh and Ed McCullough of Midland and directors of the club.

Black Indians Win On Harrison's Hit

A line drive to left field by Manager Bennie Harrison in the last of the ninth inning sent the winning run across the plate, as the Midland Black Indians defeated the Big Spring Sluggers, 11-10, here Sunday afternoon.

Johnnie Williams was the winner. Harry Dooley, ex-Black Indian, was the loser.

Yancy Batts hit an inside-the-park home run for the winners.

The Black Indians have won 17 games and lost five.

JayCee Swim Team Fails To Score In Sunday Meet

TYLER—(AP)—Thirteen new records were set over the weekend in the annual state TAAF Swimming Tournament.

Texas A & M Coach Art Adamson's swimmers won the overall title with 143 points. Tyler scored 116 and won the women's and girls' divisions. College Station also took the men's and boys' division titles.

Jane Kneip of San Antonio set her sixth state record with a time of 30.9 seconds in the 50-meter backstroke.

Austin won the 300-meter medley in a record time of 3:40.8 and Wynant Wilson of Dallas set new marks of 1:08.5 in the men's 100-meter free style and in the 400-meter free style at 5:16.7 Sunday night.

The Midland JayCee team failed to score a point in Sunday action. Points were given for the first five places.

Roy Kimsey scored the only Midland points Saturday, getting three points when he finished third in the 50-meter free style swim.

TWF Prexy Calls On Sportsmen To Face Issues

WICHITA FALLS—Roger King, president of the Texas Wildlife Federation, called on Texas sportsmen Monday to "face up to two cardinal issues" affecting wildlife in this state.

He charged that Texas is one of the few states "holding to an antiquated system whereby legislation fixing game laws and bag limits is dependent on the state legislature, which meets every two years, and is one of the few states in which there is no universal hunting and fishing license law."

The well-known Wichita Falls sportsman made the remarks on the eve of the quarterly meeting of the TWF at Tyler, July 28-29. The TWF represents some 15,000 Texas outdoor sportsmen.

King asked that regulatory powers be placed in the hands of the recently-formed nine-man game commission.

HOUSING IS MUSHROOMING—When Italian architect Mario Cavalle of Milan says his business is mushrooming, he means just that. He built this "mushroom" house in the suburbs of Milan at a cost of some $3000. It has four rooms, kitchen and bath, plus polka dots. (Photo by NEA-Acme Staff Photographer Oth Kellerich.)

Borden Increases Bulk Milk Prices In Dallas Section

DALLAS.—(P)—A Dallas milk distributor Monday raised the price paid producers to $6.21 per 100 pounds and other distributors indicated they would follow suit. The 38-cent boost followed a 36-cent increase to $6.11 by a Fort Worth distributor Saturday. The Dallas increase was made by the Borden Company. "A (retail) price increase has to follow," Ted Robinson, manager of the Borden Company, said, "but distributors won't realize a cent from it. It will go to the farmer."

Truman—

(Continued From Page One) dies needed for such decisions have not been completed; if it is indeed necessary to raise our sights, I shall later submit to the Congress requests for the additional funds required. Whether or not new air groups, Army divisions and Navy and Marine units are added, he said, "we must move full speed ahead toward our present goals."

Topic For Wives' Clinic: Why Dinners Get Cold

An orchid per wife at the Wives' Clinic of a big New York company, with Vice President Martin Revson telling the wives of the salesmen that they should be more understanding.

NEW YORK.—(NEA)—The process of wife-education, if it's brightened up with an orchid corsage and a good lunch, is a simple one. A big company has decided it's worth the flowers and food to teach its employees' wives about company procedure. This company believes that when it hires a man, it automatically hires the man's wife, too. If she nags him, he doesn't work too well. If she's happy, he's happy. If he's happy, he sells and that makes the company happy.

Double Feature—But One Is Silent

PITTSBURGH.—(P)—Guns blazed on the screen of the Kenmore Drive-In Theater near Pittsburgh Sunday night as the patrons watched "Winchester 73." But they were unaware that gunplay was figuring in another little drama at the same time. A raincoat-clad man walked up to the cashier, Dolores Baroni, brandished a revolver and fled with $600 in cash.

Naval Chief—

(Continued From Page One) for American use of Spanish naval and air bases. A message from President Truman said the "country's loss is great," and Secretary of State Dean Acheson hailed the Naval member of the joint chiefs of staff as "a statesman who saw beyond the military problems to the objectives of national policy."

Marshal Henri Petain Dies—

(Continued From Page One) France's greatest military heroes. His immortal battle cry—"They shall not pass"—echoed around the world. With it he rallied the French to a memorable stand in one of the great battles of modern history. But the national hero of World War I and elder statesman of the between-war years became a traitor in the eyes of many Frenchmen after Hitler invaded France in 1940. Summoned at the age of 84 to the helm of a France reeling before the onrushing Nazi armies, it was his lot to surrender his country to the victorious Germans. Then he became chief of state of a semi-puppet government set up in Vichy, France.

Public Domain History Told

The history of the public domain of Texas was described here Monday at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Hotel Schaeffer. The speaker was John Campbell, Midland attorney and former head of the legal department of the state's general land office. Campbell explained how the federal government turned down an offer to pay off the state's $10,000,000 debt in return for taking over the state's public domain. At the time, this amounted to 173,000,000 acres.

C. of C. Groups Oppose Tax Hike

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce Monday told Congress it need not hike taxes again because the budget for the current year "can be balanced without additional revenue." And the Council of State Chambers of Commerce denounced the $7,200,000,000 tax increase passed by the House as the "worst of its kind in the history of the country."

Rangers, L-Men Raid Borger Clubs

BORGER.—(P)—Texas Rangers and members of the Liquor Control Board staged a series of raids here Sunday and confiscated beer, whiskey and slot machines found on the premises of several private clubs and fraternal organizations. Joe M. Sides, district supervisor of the Liquor Control Board, said the raids were touched off following "receipt of reliable information."

Triple Arm Outfit

In the next 12 months deliveries of military "hard goods" will triple their present billion-dollar-a-month rate, Truman said. Aircraft output will be tripled and tank and vehicle deliveries will be quadrupled. Because it would be a "military disaster" to lose vital materials produced by friendly countries, Truman urged full support for his $8,500,000,000 program of foreign military and economic aid. It will take the rate to 200 per cent of total production and 15 per cent of total security outlays.

IN BEDFORD PLACE — NEAR COUNTRY CLUB

IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY!

All of the refined features you have wished for are to be found in this beautiful red brick ranch style home, just completed by Edwin Brown at 1203 Princeton. Let us take you on a tour through this lovely home. Entering through the front door you step into an entrance-way with cloak and hat closet immediately to your left. A few steps to the right and you are in a cozy den with wood burning fireplace, built-in book cases and lots of light streaming in through the windows that line one wall; is of knotty pine throughout that lends an atmosphere of coziness and comfort. A doorway from the den leads into the kitchen that is a domestic's dream, with multiple storage space, tile drains, double sink, hooded space over a cook stove that has electrically controlled vent fan, connections for either gas or electric range, electric wall plugs galore, large closet for washing machine and another large closet for water softener and water heater. Adjoining the kitchen is a spacious breakfast nook from which a door opens into the large double garage, while another door leads into the dining room.

After entering the front door, a turn to the left leads one down a hallway past two huge clothes closets and the two large tiled bathrooms on the one side and the three spacious bedrooms on the other. One bath is with shower, dressing table, built-in mirror and modernistic fixtures. The master bedroom is of pink and gray tile, tub and very modern appointments. Here, too are to be found two other spacious closets. The bedrooms, all with southern exposures, are decorated in subdued, harmonizing colors. The large living room, which is situated between the bedrooms and the dining room, has a wood burning fireplace, and practically all glass southern exposure. Harriman Parleys Produce Optimism In Iranian Dispute

TEHRAN, IRAN.—An informed source Monday said President Truman's global trouble-shooter, W. Averell Harriman, talked with Iranian leaders about the possibility of reopening negotiations with a British delegation to settle the bitter oil nationalization dispute. There was an air of cautious optimism among both British and Iranian circles here that some kind of settlement could be reached. The source said one of the things Harriman has suggested is that a British mission be received to try to reach an agreement on operating the huge British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company installations under Iranian government nationalization control. Informed officials in London said Harriman asked Iran to invite a British cabinet minister to Tehran for the negotiations. He was said to have received the green light from British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd before proposing the idea to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. Shepherd was silent on the proposal Monday, but earlier he told newsmen Britain still is ready to talk over acceptance of the principle of nationalization under some sort of joint operation with the Iranians. Iran's Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi said the government is "optimistic" that direct talks with the British will reopen soon.

ON HIS METAL—This aluminum alloy home, designed by Thomas Edison Westall, was built near Marion, N. C. Said to be dustproof because all air entering the house is filtered by air-conditioning units, it has cornerless rooms, curved windows of transparent plastic and floor space equivalent to that of the average five-room, conventional house.

Eight Dead, 22 Hurt In Apartment Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO.—Eight persons burned to death and 23 were injured Sunday as fire roared through a wooden apartment house. Six other residents were missing but probably were vacationing. It was San Francisco's worst fire since 1944, when 22 were killed. About 70 residents scrambled from the four-story building as flames raced upward from the ground floor just after dawn. Some jumped, screaming. One woman bounced from a life net, struck the building and suffered a fractured skull. Sanni Wiertensen tried to escape down a drain pipe with her five-year-old son clinging piggy-back. She fell, fracturing her pelvis. The boy suffered a brain concussion. Ten of the injured were firemen. Acting Fire Chief A. J. Galli said the flames had a 20-minute start before a newsboy sounded the alarm. He reported suspicious circumstances and police began questioning known firebugs. Galli estimated damage to the 44-year-old building at $40,000.

Teacher, Wife Survive Fall Down 340-Foot Waterfall

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, CALIF.—A young teacher and his wife survived a battering, 340-foot fall down rocky Waterwheel Falls. Eric Yeoman, 25, Alameda, Calif., slid through uninjured. His wife, Norma, also 25, suffered spinal injuries and possible head and pelvis fractures. Forest rangers said it was a miracle either lived through the plunge down the ledge-ribbed waterfall high in the Sierra. The couple, both experienced mountaineers, were picnicking Saturday. Eric stopped to drink and fell in. His wife, trying to save him, also fell in. They were swept down the churning slide, falling, twisting, bouncing against the ledges. Finally they landed in a pool at the bottom. Eric crawled out. Mrs. Yeoman gasped driftwood. Vacationers pulled her out. A Dartmouth pre-medical student, Charles Davis of Lexington, Mass., gave first aid. Mrs. Yeoman was taken by litter on a six-hour climb to an ambulance and then on a three-hour ride to a hospital. Rangers said she smiled encouragement all the way.
