BATHTUB INTO KITCHEN—That modern-looking, tiled kitchen UN cooks in Kaesong are working in isn't a kitchen at all. It's a bathtub — Korean style. When UN cease-fire negotiating party took over the building, Army cooks transformed the one-time tub into a cozy kitchenette. In background, newsmen covering the truce talks are lined up for chow.

Non-Contamination Is Top Question In Sewage Plant Study

The City Council began a final examination Saturday of plans for Midland's new sewage disposal plant to exclude even a remote possibility the proposed site will endanger the city's water supply at Cole Park.

Bids on the construction of the plant are scheduled to be received Tuesday and negotiations already have been completed for the purchase of a half-section tract of land for a site.

Because the site is in the vicinity of the Cole Park water wells, the question was raised last week whether there was any danger of contamination from the oxidation ponds which will be a part of the sewage disposal plant.

Joe E. Ward, Wichita Falls, who designed the plant, last November assured the council the plant would not endanger any of the Cole Park water wells.

Bill Haneman, Jr., district engineer for the State Department of Health, told the council there was only a "remote possibility" of contamination.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt told the council Director J. M. Orman of the city's Department of Public Works had conferred in Austin Friday.

Police Seek Tall, Khaki-Clad Prowler

A tall, khaki-clad man was being sought Saturday by police after he entered two homes shortly after midnight Friday and beat one housewife when she started screaming.

Victim of the beating was Mrs. Lola Culp, 308 South Terrell Street, who was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital for treatment of face injuries.

Mrs. Culp told police she was in bed drinking a glass of orange juice when the stranger walked into the bedroom and turned on the light.

When she started screaming, he grabbed her and tried to put his hand over her mouth. She bit his thumb, she said, and he struck her in the face. As she continued screaming, he fled from the house.

Less than an hour earlier, Mrs. F. Y. Cook, 417 South Colorado Street, reported to police she awakened to find a man standing by her bed. He immediately fled the house.

Police said the two women gave the same description of the man and footprints found at the two houses matched.

Brothers Charged In Odessa Slaying

ODESSA —(P)— Two brothers have been charged with murder in the death of a 49-year-old man beaten to death in jail here.

The victim was Jack Strickland of Fort Stockton.

Police Chief J. J. Heaton said Strickland was beaten unconscious after a "kangaroo court" trial held by prisoners.

Charged with murder were Marlon C. Bunch, 21, and Floyd O'Neal Bunch. Both are oil field workers. They are being held in Ector County jail.

Midland's Building Permits Rise Almost $250,000 In Week

Building permits issued in Midland during the week ended Saturday totaled $243,800, to bring the 1951 construction mark to $8,265,320.

Commercial Construction Company received 18 permits for as many frame residences, each $7,000, total $126,000. Locations will be in the 3200 block of Delano Street, in Crestview Heights. Size of each structure will be 29 by 28 feet.

Hays Construction Company was issued five permits, total $59,000, for the following structures: 49 by 50 foot frame and concrete residence at 603 West Cowden Street, $13,500; 40 by 45 brick veneer residence at 607 West Exies Street, $15,000; 40 by 30 foot brick veneer residence at 2401 Cuthbert Street, $10,000; and 30 by 22 brick veneer servants quarters at 708 North Loraine Street for Mrs. Gertrude Watts, $6,000.

A permit for a 2000 West Tennessee residence at 2000 West Tennessee Street was issued to Floyd Pace, builder. Size will be 28 by 63 feet.

St. Mark's Parsonage Douglas Nix, builder, took a $15,000 permit to build a brick veneer residence at 1709 North Main Street. Size will be 66 by 38 feet. This structure will be a parsonage for St. Mark's Methodist Church.

J. L. Davis received four permits, total $12,500, for the following: move frame residence to 1903 North Bryan Street for Homer Denman.

Charles Atwood, manager of the carbide plant, said the tank contained 1,000,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol.

Fire departments from Charleston, Dunbar, Institute, St. Albans and Nitro answered the alarm.

James Keadle, who lives near the plant, said the lightning struck with such force he thought it had hit his home.

Two Splash Across English Channel DOVER, ENGLAND —(P)— Two men swam the English Channel Saturday, the first to make a successful crossing of the 21-mile stretch this season.

Seven others failed in the attempt, and a former successful channel swimmer plunged in to have a try at it the hard way—England to France.

The two who were successful crawled ashore in St. Margaret's Bay here. They were Abdel Litif Abou Heif, 22, an Egyptian student, and Phil Rising, 41, an English watchmaker. Litif had the best time—15 hours, 56 minutes.

Lightning Kills OPS Publicity Man WASHINGTON —(P)— Bill Huff, a publicity man for the Office of Price Stabilization, was killed by lightning Saturday night while at a miniature golf course.

A fellow OPS worker, W. W. McClanahan, was reported seriously hurt by the same bolt.

The mishap occurred at Hines Point, a public park situated on the Potomac near the Jefferson Memorial.

Huff, in his 40's, formerly was with the Wall Street Journal.

McClanahan is former managing editor of the Nashville Tennessean.

Peace Envoys Stymied On Neutral Zone

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA —(P)— Allied and Communist armistice delegates debated for almost two hours Sunday the touchy problem of a cease-fire buffer zone across Korea.

The thirteenth meeting recessed until 3 p.m. (11 p.m., CST, Saturday) after one hour and 50 minutes. It was the longest unbroken session thus far in the negotiations.

There was no indication of any progress on the hard bargaining for a buffer zone.

The Allies want it to run along the present battle-line, entirely in North Korea, except in the west. The Reds want the buffer strip along the 38th parallel, which divides North and South Korea.

Informed sources in Washington said the Allied team has been ordered to stand on its demand.

The talks began at 11 a.m. (7 p.m., CST Saturday).

When Friday's meetings ended, the Red and Allied negotiations were far apart on the buffer zone. There were overtones, too, of other differences.

Reds Want Armistice Now A Communist interpreter was overheard referring to the conference to Allied "air and naval power" and to the "bombing of peaceful Korean villages"—a long familiar Red propaganda twist for air strikes.

This tended to underscore reports the Reds want all the shooting to stop right now, even while the talking goes on.

While ground fighting has been desultory ever since the talks were first proposed, Allied planes and ships have continued daily attacks.

Rains Fade Away, Heat Lingers On Throughout Texas

Weather Bureau reports showed a lessening of shower activity in Texas as Saturday plenty of hot weather, and much the same in prospect for Sunday.

The only rain reported in a 24-hour period ended at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at Beaumont and Galveston. Both had light falls.

A small twister hit Frost, in North Central Texas, Friday night. Heavy rain also fell.

No injuries were reported from Frost, a community 21 miles southwest of Corsicana.

The lowest maximum temperature in the bureau's Texas readings Saturday was 89 degrees at Marfa. Mostly, the weather was in the high 100s: Laredo, Del Rio, Alice and Coahuila, 104; San Antonio, Victoria and Presidio, 103; Mineral Wells, Junction and Bryan, 102.

Obbliging Drunk Makes Life Easy For Police Force

The happy man in the white shirt staggered into police headquarters Saturday night and grinned foolishly at Captain Jim Wilkinson.

"I'm pretty drunk," he explained. "Can't even stand up. See that knot on my head. I fell down."

"I figured I'd better come on in, of my own free will."

"Save you the trouble of coming to get me. Can't fool you boys. Ain't no obbliging trying."

Police obbliging booked him for drunkenness and locked him up for the night.

Decision On Bus Proposal Is Near

A decision on a proposal to inaugurate a bus transportation system is due this week, City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Saturday.

The city manager said C. C. Spinks and Leroy Spinks, who have proposed to begin operations here, will be in Midland Wednesday afternoon to confer with the City Council.

They will bring with them one of the school-type buses which they propose to use here.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

SHREVEPORT —(AP)— District Judge Carlos Spahit Saturday night announced his candidacy for governor of Louisiana in the January Democratic primary as an independent and said he hopes to have the support of the present Long Administration.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS —(AP)— Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Saturday night he doesn't know now if he'll run for the Republican presidential nomination next year, but added: "I don't rule it out."

DETROIT —(AP)— Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, in a speech here Saturday night, held out hope Russia will decide, in the face of America's growing might, that the wise course is peace instead of war.

Final Action On Controls Due Monday

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman and Price Director Michael V. DiSalle traveled aboard the same plane Saturday and had a chance to discuss the new economic controls bill Congress plans to send to the White House Monday.

The compromise, approved by the Senate Friday night, opens the way for some price and rent increases and also would permit some rollbacks in those two fields. It also would relax consumer credit controls.

The bill will come up Monday in the House, where leaders are expecting passage.

The bill falls far short of providing the kind of anti-inflation powers Truman requested. But Congress members said they look for the President to sign it—and perhaps make a new appeal for additional legislation covering points on which the lawmakers refused to go along.

The present wage-price- and defense production law expires at midnight Tuesday, so Truman will have only 24 hours or so to act on the new bill after Congress completes work.

Aides of DiSalle said here he was prepared to outline his views regarding the bill to the President. DiSalle withheld public comment but a spokesman for the Office of Price Administration (OPA) said the initial reaction among officials of the agency seemed to be "one of disappointment."

OPA staff reportedly was being concentrated over the weekend on non-farm commodities to prepare two price provisions of the bill.

One would permit price rollbacks on non-farm commodities to prepare two price provisions of the bill.

Council Approves General Pay Boost For City Employees

A general wage increase for municipal employees, effective October 1, was approved Saturday by the City Council.

The increase will amount to $20 monthly for those on salaries and 10 cents an hour for those working on an hourly basis.

The increase was proposed last week by City Manager W. H. Oswalt, who said the living index had increased and that, under present wage scales, the city found it difficult to compete in the labor market.

Action was requested Saturday so the new figures can be worked into the 1951-52 budget, now in the process of preparation.

Oswalt told the council the city could afford to pay the increase and still continue with plans for a reduction in the new tax rate.

Proposed budgets will be given to the council this week for the first time for consideration.

Inking Of Bracero Pact Again Delayed

MEXICO CITY —(P)— Signing of the new United States-Mexican agreement for the hiring of migrant farm labor (braceros) Saturday was postponed until this week.

The slow work of making the Spanish and English texts agree exactly at every point delayed the signing, negotiators said. They indicated the document is about 30 pages long. They said it may be signed Monday or Tuesday.

Although the draft has not been made public, it provides for the recruiting of Mexican laborers in Mexico, their transportation to the U. S., and guarantee of contract conditions by the U. S. government.

GOP TARGET—Republicans want William M. Boyle, Jr., above, Democratic National Committee chairman, to testify before the Senate RFC subcommittee. GOP congressmen want to hear more about Boyle's "connections" with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, following a report by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch that Boyle got $8,000 from a St. Louis, Mo., firm after the company got a big loan from the RFC.

New Name Turns Up In Loan Probe

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senate investigators have been "alerted" and are keeping a close check on the unfolding story of an alleged "influence" loan to a St. Louis printing firm, Senator McClellan (D-Ark) said Saturday.

In St. Louis, the Post-Dispatch came up with still another name in its investigation of the $565,000 RFC loan which the paper charges was "influenced."

The new name: Max Siskind of Washington, former law partner of Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., of the Democratic National Committee.

Siskind was not immediately available for comment.

Exactly Two Weeks The Post-Dispatch said this was learned during an interview with R. J. Blauner, president of American Lithofold Corporation—which the newspaper says was granted the first of its RFC loans exactly two weeks after Boyle went on its payroll on Feb. 17, 1949.

Three previous applications for loans had been turned down.

"Immediately after Boyle went off the payroll, his law partner, Siskind, went on," the Post-Dispatch said. "Siskind's checks started (Continued on Page Five)

Action Brings Protest From Angry Texans

MARSHALL —(P)— The Treasury Department Saturday issued warrants for seizure of the personal property of rebellious Marshall housewives who refuse to collect social security taxes from domestic servants.

The housewives, through a spokesman, denounced "this gestapo tactic of our money-mad, power-mad government officials."

John P. Armistead, Treasury Department employee stationed at Longview, Texas, issued notices that the warrants have been issued and advised the housewives he is holding them in his office.

He said the warrants are being held to give the women a last-minute chance to pay the first quarter tax and penalty due April 20. The announcement said the department is asking immediate payment "to avoid inconvenience, embarrassment and additional costs x x x" that would result from seizure of property.

The warrants, according to the notice which Armistead sent the women individually, "authorize the seizure and sale of your property or rights to property, or levy upon your salary, wages or other income."

"The warrant now being held in this office," the notice continued, "commands the taking of such distraint action, if necessary, as a means of collecting the account."

At Least Seven Warrants The housewives had notified Secretary of Treasury Snyder they could not "in good conscience" comply with the law and thus "serve as a tax collector for the government."

They contended it is unconstitutional "to force either employer or employee to invest in insurance against their will." They returned unfiled tax forms to the Treasury Department and based their action on "an individual's right to petition the government."

At least seven of the 18 women who signed a letter to Secretary Snyder received notices of the war-

Get Ready, HST Warns Americans

DETROIT —(P)— President Truman Saturday gravely warned the American people to get ready for "any emergency." He laid down a bitter, detailed indictment of Russia's buildup for war "around the world."

He cited war-like moves in Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and the Russian provinces, as well as in North Korea, and even questioned whether the Communists "really desire peace" in that battle-ravaged area, despite their negotiations.

Truman spoke to a holiday throng in Cadillac Square after a flight from Washington to join in Detroit's 260th birthday celebration. Police estimated the crowd at 60,000.

Laashes At Opponents The President didn't mention General MacArthur, Republican Senators Taft (Ohio) and McCarthy (R-Wis) or other Administration critics by name, but he accused opponents of "trying to stir up trouble and suspicion between the people and their government."

"They are using the smear and the big lie for personal publicity and partisan advantage, heedless of the damage they do their country," he charged.

"Never, not even in the bitterest political campaigns, have I seen such a flood of lies and slander as is now pouring forth over the country."

Referring to MacArthur's Boston charge that the Administration has no policy, the President declared

Wichita Falls City Manager Quits Post

WICHITA FALLS —(P)— City Manager Frank Wood resigned his $11,500-a-year job Saturday, effective September 1, for "personal reasons."

Wood came here in April, 1949, from Fort Worth, where he was with the Public Housing Administration. No successor has been named.

Sudden Sandstorm, Light Shower Dips Temperatures Here

Another late afternoon light rain following in the wake of one of the Summer's worst sandstorms dropped temperatures in Midland sharply Friday, but the mercury climbed to the sizzling point again Saturday.

The sand began swirling through the city at approximately 5 p. m. Friday and reduced visibility for motorists to half a block. The Civil Aeronautics Administration office at Terminal reported wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour.

Travelers between Stanton and Midland said traffic was halted because of the storm. In Midland, utility poles and traffic signals swayed from the wind's force.

The rain followed in about 15 or 20 minutes, with the register at the Municipal Shop at 500 North Fort Worth Street indicating a rainfall of .29 inch. Only a trace was reported at Terminal.

At 4:30 p. m. Friday the CAA thermometer registered 96 degrees, only two degrees below the day's maximum. By 5:30 p. m., shortly after the sandstorm began, it had dropped to 85 degrees. One hour later the rain lowered the mercury to a cool 77. The overnight low was 68.

The effect was only temporary, however, with Saturday's maximum reaching 96 at the Terminal station.

Police On Lookout For Fleeing Bandit

Midland police were alerted Saturday to be on the lookout for a Latin American wanted for armed robbery in Kansas City, Mo., and believed to be in flight to Mexico with $22,000 in his possession.

Kansas City police cautioned he may be armed with a revolver. The message said the fugitive probably is driving a 1941 Plymouth with Kansas license plates. His 24-year-old wife and two children were believed to be with him.

The money was reported to be in $100, $50, $10 and $5 bills. The wanted man was described as weighing about 150 pounds and five feet, nine inches tall. His wife is about five feet tall.

DEER HEARTS AND GENTLE PUPPIES—Deer and dachshunds can live together in harmony—provided there's plenty of chow to go around. This happy "family group" on a farm near Bergen, Germany, proves it. A German farmer found two young deer, injured and abandoned. He took them home, only to discover that his pet dachshund had given birth to seven little long dogs. Now, all nine pets are growing up together.

Farmers, Mail Men Get Lift In Senate Money Bill Ballots

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Some 3,000,000 farmer and 800,000 postal workers appear to be chief beneficiaries from a burst of Senate activity Friday.

By a 65 to 6 vote, the Senate stamped approval on a measure providing considerably more than a billion dollars for the Agriculture Department and its farm programs. Included was $280,000,000 to make payments to the approximately 3,000,000 farmers taking part in the soil conservation program.

The House has approved $256,500,000.

For the postal workers, Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) succeeded in winning Senate approval of his proposal to increase their annual vacations from 15 to 20 days. The leave increase was written into the annual appropriation bill for the Treasury and Post Office Departments. The measure carries almost $3,000,000,000 for the two departments.

Douglas admitted the leave amendment might cost as much as $30,000,000 to $35,000,000 more annually. Earlier however, he had won Senate approval of his plan to shorten annual leave for some 1,500,000 other government workers from 26 to 20 days. He said that would save $200,000,000 a year.

Both the longer and shorter leave provisions and other Senate changes in the two money bills still are subject to House agreement.

HOLLYWOOD—Movies Without Popcorn:

The playback machine is spinning away on the big sound stage at Warners that houses the "Starlift" troupe and a trim, curly Jane Wyman is matching her lip movements to a song she has recorded a day earlier.

Extras garbed in red robes and pajamas move around the Army hospital set or lend an ear to Jane's warbling from their beds.

When the number is finished, I stroll around the stage looking at the pin-ups near each cot. Suddenly I stop in my tracks.

Some extra with a sense of humor, or maybe it's just a sense of plain devotion, has pinned busy Dagmar's picture on the wall.

Foreigners Arrive For Six-Week Look At How U.S. Lives

AUSTIN—(AP)—The first of 45 foreign students, teachers and officials from 20 countries will arrive at the University of Texas Sunday to get acquainted with the American way of life.

They will engage in a six-week orientation program of lectures, movies, tours, and visits to homes, government offices, businesses and farms and ranches in the Southwest.

The university is one of 20 centers selected by the State and Army Departments and the U. S. Office of Education to give foreign visitors a concentrated look at life in the U. S.

St. Helena, Calif., said the letter was from their son, Leland. The Department of Defense had notified them December 12 that he was missing in action. He said he was receiving good treatment, food and clothing.

The other envelopes, which the Slavens forwarded by mail, were addressed to Mrs. Cathline Gonzales of Weslaco, Texas, from their son, Gregorin; Mrs. Evelyn Hansen, South Reintree, Mass., from her brother, Calvin; Mrs. Wood Foll, Tylertown, Miss., from a son, Jack; Simon Cabello, Adrian, Mich., from a son, Simon, Jr., and Clyde Wilson, Darford, Ky., from a son, Clyde, Jr.

The letters were stamped with the propaganda slogan "The Chinese Peoples' Committee for World Peace and against American aggression." Postmarked in Canton, China, each bore several Chinese characters and the French notation "Service des Prisonniers de Guerre."

'Conchy' Problem Sends Draft Boss On Trip To Europe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Deferred conscientious objectors are reported a source of friction at home, so Maj. Gen. Lewis Hershey is on his way to Europe to see if they can be used there.

The Selective Service director left for Europe Friday. He told reporters draft boards report young men of military age, but with religious or moral scruples against military service of any kind, are a sore spot in their home towns, especially with families who have lost sons in Korea.

Hershey said there are some 9,000 of these, as distinguished from the larger group of conscientious objectors opposed only to bearing arms. They are classified I-A-O and used in unarmed military capacities, such as laundries, bakeries and medical services.

The all-out objectors are classified 4-E and deferred.

Hershey said he wants to see if they can be used in work with displaced persons, helping in technical aid to foreign countries, and similar non-military tasks.

Denton Makes Big Plans For Second Annual Observance Of Old Maids' Day, August 15

DENTON—(AP)—Old Maids' Day, brainchild of an old maid school teacher, will be observed for the second time on August 15.

Mayor Mark Hannah of Denton has issued a proclamation designating the day. Big plans are afoot.

Happily about it all is Dorothy Babb, Latin instructor at North Texas State College here. It was her idea, and she expects it to grow.

It was a year ago Miss Babb began thinking about the unfairness of an old maid's life.

Old maids, she said, spend a lot of their money buying wedding and shower gifts. When their married friends have babies, the old maids come through with rattles, infant clothing, etc. Then come the wedding anniversaries.

She sat down and did some pencil work. The result was an estimate that in 25 years she had spent $1,500 on gifts for others.

"Why," she asked publicly, "not have an Old Maids' Day?"

Most spinsters here just drew their cloak of modesty a bit more tightly around them. But some courageous souls joined Miss Babb. There was a party in a theater—with the old maids on the stage. About 300 old maids took part.

And, as a result of the publicity, Miss Babb received letters and gifts from all over the world.

"There were even a half-dozen marriage proposals. But Miss Babb kindly explained that the old maids wanted recognition, not men.

The 1951 Old Maids' Day here will include a free movie, a tea, corsages and presents from Denton florists and merchants. There'll also be a special stage show. Plans are in the hands of a special citizens' committee. They're married people, of course.

I turned to watch Ariene's reaction, but there's no Mrs. Lex Barker around. The smart cookie has raced for the nearest exit.

Fact and fiction are merged at Fox, where Susan Hayward is playing Jane Froman in "With a Song in My Heart" and David Wayne is pretending to be Don Ross, Jane's first husband. The background is radio station and Susan is telling David why she—I mean Jane Froman—can bring a special feeling to popular songs.

Suddenly Director Walter Lang calls out:

"Susan's lips are definitely too hot."

This, gentle readers, does not mean that Susan's pucker-uppers have become too sexy. Lang is referring to the light shining on her lipstick. A few strokes of the make-up man's brush and Susan's lips are no longer torrid.

It's women, women, women everywhere, more than 200 of 'em, on the set of "Westward the Women" at MGM. Pike-bonneted and long-skirted, they sit in a spacious courtroom waiting to be interviewed by John McIntyre and Robert Taylor for a westward trek to California. A sign on the wall reads:

The distaff-siders knit quietly as Denise Darcel states her reasons for wishing to join the wagon train and find a husband.

When Denise has delivered her diatribe, I overhear a blonde extra say:

The background is a small modiste shop and Director John Reinhardt is having his woes with young Gordon. The script calls for the moppet to attempt to break away from Judy, but Gordon doesn't know his own strength.

"Carefully, sonny-boy," yells Reinhardt as nine-year-old Gordon almost breaks Judy's arm. "She's only a grown-up woman."

Parents Of Captured GI Receive Letter Enclosing Notes From Five Other POW's

NAPA, CALIF.—(AP)—The parents of an American soldier, reported a prisoner of Chinese Communist, Saturday said they had received a letter from him, in which letters from five other prisoners of war were enclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slavens of St. Helena, Calif., said the letter was from their son, Leland. The Department of Defense had notified them December 12 that he was missing in action. He said he was receiving good treatment, food and clothing.

The other envelopes, which the Slavens forwarded by mail, were addressed to Mrs. Cathline Gonzales of Weslaco, Texas, from their son, Gregorin; Mrs. Evelyn Hansen, South Reintree, Mass., from her brother, Calvin; Mrs. Wood Foll, Tylertown, Miss., from a son, Jack; Simon Cabello, Adrian, Mich., from a son, Simon, Jr., and Clyde Wilson, Darford, Ky., from a son, Clyde, Jr.

The letters were stamped with the propaganda slogan "The Chinese Peoples' Committee for World Peace and against American aggression." Postmarked in Canton, China, each bore several Chinese characters and the French notation "Service des Prisonniers de Guerre."

Pentagon Charges Against Reds Stirs King-Sized Snafu

WASHINGTON—The Defense Department has scratched the official label on a briefing officer's virtual accusation that the Communists are setting a military trap for Korea with peace talks as bait, but it has not questioned his interpretation of facts.

Clayton Fritchey, information director for the Defense Department, Friday night said the statement given out earlier Friday by a briefing officer does not reflect official policy or views.

The whole affair assumed the proportions of a snafu of large-scale proportions.

The briefing officer had pointed to what he termed "tremendous buildups" of Communist strength since preliminary truce talks started, and expressed the hope this was not evidence of "bad faith."

Predictions were heard that the incident would lead to reverberations in Congress.

Boy, 13, Admits Robbery Of Store

Police Chief Rube Hemingway said Saturday a 13-year-old Midland boy had admitted breaking into a store here earlier in the week and taking between $60 and $100 in cash along with some women's wearing apparel.

The youth was taken into custody after the theft of his bicycle tires were found to match tracks found outside the Teen-Haven shop, 100 North Garfield Street on Wednesday, after the burglary was reported.

The police chief, who said the youth also led officers to cache of other stolen goods in his home, turned the case over to Juvenile Officer Harold Borland.

Regents' Vote On Loyalty Oath Hearing Sets Off New Scrap With Legislature

AUSTIN—The Texas Legislature and the University of Texas Board of Regents (or part of it) are scrapping again.

Regent Chairman Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of Dallas is leading the fight over who is going to run the university—the board or the Legislature.

It is the latest round in what has become almost a traditional feud during the last 30 years.

Woodward, a strong-willed, white-haired man of 70, brought the fight out in the open early this month. He charged the recently adjourned 52nd Legislature with political interference in operation of the university.

There is no simple answer to what has caused the latest revival of the conflict. Not all the regents are angry at the Legislature; not all the senators and representatives approve of laws enacted this year to bring the university (and other state colleges) under greater legislative control.

Battle Of Personalities

Personalities have played a great part. House and Senate members have told reporters Woodward provoked antagonism because of stubborn and sometimes wrathful defense of budget requests for the university.

The scrap over how much money the university should receive to educate some 15,000 young Texas men and women each year is, of course, a constant source of controversy. The issue was sharpened this year because the legislature thought colleges had not been making best use of the dollars given them in past years.

This time the Legislature had some factual material to back up its belief that Texas' higher education system has been operating uneconomically. A 173-page report of the newly created Texas Legislative Council's research staff gave credence to the theory.

Following his charge of political interference, Woodward added fuel to the fire two weeks ago by calling for an attorney general's ruling on whether a new loyalty oath enacted by the 52nd Legislature is constitutional. The regents' split, 5-4, on whether to make the request, with Woodward winning.

Aikin Backs Sealy

Tom Sealy of Midland, minority leader, said the decision was a bad one from a "public relations" viewpoint.

Sealy's views was shared by Senator A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris, who last week jumped on the regents for questioning the Legislature's action.

Aikin, the man who helped ramrod the Gilmer-Aikin public education laws—said he was sorely disappointed by the 5-4 vote.

"I sincerely hope the day is near when there will be better understanding between this governing board and the Legislature," said Aikin. "Then the board will do what many of them are doing now," working with the Legislature in an effort to make the institutions better and do better work."

The fight over the loyalty oath is only one indication of the battle being waged between the board and the Legislature.

Woodward apparently is determined to challenge the Legislature at every turn where he thinks it is invading the regents' authority to run the school as they think best.

Writes Influential Friends

In a letter to some 200 influential friends of the university, Woodward accused this year's Legislature of invading a number of these powers "to an extent which renders (the board's) valid exercise in essential particulars impossible."

Specifically, he said the Legislature had invaded the board's right to fix salaries, to determine officers, and to enact rules and regulations necessary for successful management of the university.

Woodward denounced the following particular actions of the Legislature:

1. The cutting of Chancellor Hart's salary, thereby repudiating the contract given Hart by the regents last year.
2. Reduction of C. D. Simmons salary from $14,000 to $12,500 and abolition of his title as vice chancellor for business and finance, reinstating the title of comptroller used five years ago.
3. Similar repudiation of a contract between the regents and the president of the main university, Dr. T. S. Painter, by dropping his salary from $18,200 to $15,000.
4. Reduction of appropriations for organized research and extension (extramural) activities by $200,000 a year, which Woodward termed an "arbitrary cut."
5. Adoption of riders in the general appropriation bill "vesting control of essential university operations in other agencies."

Woodward continued to drop last week, totaling $11,315,506. This was a million dollars under the previous week, which saw lettings decline abruptly.

The Texas Contractor, building trade journal, reported non-residential awards led the field at $6,197,498. Residential construction added $3,965,520 and engineering, $1,152,488.

Regional Directors included Don Ivey and John Blaine, El Paso; W. R. Derr, Abilene; W. F. Ehrhorn, Lubbock; Kenneth Anderson, San Angelo; Harry Hatch, Amarillo, and George Walters, Midland.

Woodward, himself a conservative man, is hopeful of lining up the support of Texas business men to win what he would consider a better deal for the university at the 1953 legislative session.

Though the vote on asking a ruling on the loyalty oath may not be indicative of which regents think there is too much legislative interference with the university's operations, it does to some extent reflect which members are willing to cross swords with a "legislative mandate."

Voting with Woodward to secure the attorney general's opinion were William E. Darden of Waco, James W. Rockwell of Houston, A. M. G. Swenson of Stamford and Mrs. Margaret Batts Tobin of San Antonio.

Voting against were Sealy, Dr. L. S. Oates of Center, C. W. Voyles of Austin and David M. Warren of Panhandle.

Pioneer Lists New Schedules

DALLAS—An additional daily flight to Lubbock and Amarillo and afternoon service to Albuquerque, Santa Fe and other New Mexico cities will be the highlights of Pioneer Air Lines' August 1 schedules.

W. W. Beene, local district traffic and sales manager for the company, announced.

Flight 24, which currently terminates in Midland, after leaving Houston at 3:15 p. m. and stopping at Austin and San Angelo enroute, will continue on to Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo under the new schedule. Connections for service to New Mexico will be made at Lubbock. Beene pointed out in Amarillo connections are made with Trans-World Airlines to Kansas City and the east and with Braniff to Denver.

Another advantage of the new schedules will be the connection made by Pioneer's Flight 42, leaving Midland daily at 6:45 p. m., at Dallas with American Airlines' Flight 22 for non-stop service to Chicago. This flight arrives in Chicago at 12:35 p. m. and in New York at 5:25 p. m., Beene said.

With the August 1 schedules, service to the south and east will remain on the same frequent basis of 16 round trips daily. Service to Lubbock and Amarillo will be based on two round trips daily.

Don't Boycott Iran Oil

At some earlier stage, it might have been possible to settle the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute in a way satisfactory to both sides.

The Iranians indeed have agreed to resume talks with the British, but only on the understanding there will be no backdown on nationalizing the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

The atmosphere is genuinely hysterical. Moderate men are prisoners of the nation's anti-British extremists.

Some American correspondents there feel the British don't realize how grim their prospects are. The time has passed when the Iranians would listen to better money offers for their oil.

The only question now is this: What can be salvaged, if anything, from a situation governed by Iran's immovable insistence on nationalizing its oil?

The Iranians themselves have abandoned their original hopes that British technicians would stay and work for a national oil company.

Where, then, will the Iranians find the men to produce the oil? Given enough time—several years—they undoubtedly can develop their own technicians.

The Iranian leaders certainly recognize the risk of letting the bars down to the Russians in any way. But oil is the chief support of the Iranian economy.

No matter how it is produced, there remains the question of where the oil will be sold. Up to now the West has provided the principal market.

The West is no longer as gloomy as it originally was over possible loss of Iranian supplies. It has decided ample stocks of crude oil are available to make up any deficiency.

If Iranian output falls off, the West will have no choice but to take up the slack elsewhere. The matter of a boycott of all Iranian oil is something else.

The West surely can use the oil. Reliance on other sources simply cuts down the safe margin of valuable reserves—a critical factor in war.

What it comes to, in other words, is how far we wish to penalize Iran for what we may regard as unfair, irrational behavior in violation of international law.

In our attention to other events, we may have forgotten that Tito has one of the most explosive borders in the world.

Shooting incidents between Yugoslav and satellite soldiers are a daily occurrence, and have been for many months.

These brushes are no accident. They are provoked on orders of the Soviet Union, so that if and when the Kremlin decides to attack Tito, it will have ready-made circumstances to fit its propaganda purposes.

In the meantime, they serve as clear evidence that Moscow is not relaxing in its campaign to crush Tito, the Communist who dared to rebel against his Russian masters.

So long as they go on, the world cannot lightly assume that Russia now is heading into a new era of sweet reasonableness.

Teen-agers should limit their phone calls, says a company official. Meantime, the calls remain the limit!

Most girls simply haven't the face to deny that they use rouge.

Can't Take It With You

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Kremlin's friendship overtures puzzle U.S. diplomats.

WASHINGTON — U.S. diplomats have been puzzled over what could be the most interesting political development since V-E Day—namely, a series of moves by the Kremlin urging friendship with the United States.

What that strategy is, U.S. diplomats do not know. It may be a trap. It could be a change of heart, though they doubt it.

That the Soviet Union and the United States have a common boundary is often forgotten, and the general belief is that they are separated by boundless expanses of ocean.

There have also been little hints dropped to the diplomats of other nations, that the U.S.A. and U.S.S.R. could end the cold war.

Now, however, comes an article by ex-Ambassador Alexander Troyanovsky broadcast over the Moscow radio urging friendship with the United States.

That Troyanovsky has been a genuine friend of the United States there can be little doubt. He served here as ambassador when the United States and Russia resumed diplomatic relations under Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, Troyanovsky has been living in obscurity in Moscow until a few days ago when he contributed an article on "Why I believe in Soviet-American Friendship" to a new Moscow magazine, The News.

It is not the existence but rather the absence of profound conflicts of interests that distinguishes the relations between the two great countries with their far-flung territories and vast natural resources.

"Russia's progressive men followed with deep interest and sympathy the struggle of the American people for independence (Radisheski) carried Catherine's wrath because of his admiration for the American revolution and his profound respect for America's great scientist and statesman, Benjamin Franklin.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. With the annual bridge championships just about to begin in Washington, D. C., my mind takes me back to the most dramatic hand of last year's tournament.

George Rapee played the South hand for our team. He won two rounds of trumps in his own hand and then began the spades. When both opponents followed to the queen and ace of spades. Rapee drew the last trump with dummy's ace. He could then run the rest of the spades, for a total of 13 tricks.

North (D) 28. AK 10872, 73, A94, 55. WEST: 84, KJ1092, 873, K96. EAST: J63, 854, 62, Q10873. SOUTH: Q5, AQS, KQ1105, A74. N-S vul.

1. North Pass 3. South Pass 4. East Pass 5. West Pass. Opening lead—8.

In the other room Helen Sobel played the South hand for the other team. The opening lead was the same, and she likewise drew two trumps and began on the spades.

After winning the first spade with the queen, however, she next finessed dummy's ten of spades.

This unexpected play turned out very badly. East naturally won with the jack of spades and returned his last spade. Mrs. Sobel had to ruff high to shut West out. That limited her to three discards in dummy's spades.

Eventually she had to try the heart finesse, and she lost the slam when that finesse failed.

The curious thing about this dramatic hand is that Mrs. Sobel's play, although it looked like a ghastly blunder, was really quite thoughtful and was only very slightly inferior on a percentage basis to the winning play made by Rapee.

Her play was safe if West had the jack of spades, or if East held only two spades to the jack, or if East failed to return a spade, or if the heart finesse later won.

It was very hard luck to have such a close decision go wrong in the finals of a national championship.

Q—With East-West vulnerable, the bidding has been: West North East South 1 Heart Pass Pass 2 You, South, hold: Spades K-6, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds 9-3-2, Clubs A-Q-7-5-4. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. This is a perfectly normal overcall. You would be very sorry to encourage a spade response. If partner bids spades voluntarily, after you have shown your clubs, that is another matter.

TODAY'S QUESTION. The bidding has been the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-6-3,

Will A Strong Control Bill Become A Political Football?

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There still is one long chance to get a tougher price and wage control bill out of Congress.

It is to work out a better bill in conference between Senate and House members, seeking to compromise differences in the two versions passed by the upper and lower chambers.

A lot here depends on the number of conferees. If five conferees are appointed from the Senate and House Banking and Currency Committees, the outlook for revision is dim.

If seven members are appointed from each committee, the outlook will be better for the Truman administration program.

The House conferees will deliver a Democratic working majority in either case. The four ranking Democrats are Chairman Spence, Kentucky and Reps. Paul Brown of Georgia, Patman of Texas and Rains of Alabama.

The three ranking Republicans, who will vote for a weaker bill, are Wolcott of Michigan, Gable of New York and Talle of Iowa.

If Brown and/or Rains bolt to vote with the Republicans, the fat is in the fire.

It's the Senate where the trouble may arise. On a five-man Banking and Currency conference committee, the three top Democrats would be Chairman Maybank, South Carolina, Fulbright of Arkansas and Robertson of Virginia.

Only Fulbright is reported to favor a strong control bill. The two top Republicans are Capehart of Indiana and Bricker of Ohio, both against controls.

So the majority here would be four to one for weakened controls. No Great Change.

Senator Fulbright may ask to be excused from service. He has been ill, and doesn't wish to over-exert. If he steps aside, Senator Sparkman of Alabama, fourth ranking member on the Democratic side, would take his place.

He is in favor of a strong controls measure, but substituting for Fulbright would not change the result on a five-man committee.

On a seven-man committee, Republican Senator Irving M. Ives of New York and Democrat J. Allen Frear of Delaware would be added to the group.

Both would be expected to give support for a stronger controls bill. And if Senator Robertson should not serve, the next Democrat in line for the conference committee would be Paul Douglas of Illinois, another strong controls supporter.

Conference committees cannot entirely rewrite bills sent to them for compromise. But they have considerable power in shaping final legislation. And it is on such slender political threads as these that the Truman administration must fasten its hopes.

Naturally, all the pressure groups with special interest in this price control legislation are concentrating their attention on the conferees, and on trying to influence appointment of five or seven-man conference committees.

Assuming that a majority of the conferees will vote to curb price and wage controls—which now seems the likeliest bet—Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston has a tough job on his hands deciding what he's going to do next.

"We have to decontrol meat. To avoid the evils of the black market, Johnston may be faced with the necessity of decontrolling meat altogether. This is just what the livestock raisers, feeders and the meat processing industry want.

Stabilizers Johnston and DiSalle are confident that this will mean higher meat prices, eventually. There might be a sudden rush of meat to market, which would bring prices down temporarily. But sooner or later the prices would go up again.

There is another hazard in this prospect of decontrolling meat prices. It is a political hazard. If Office of Price Stabilization takes the lid off meat prices, it will enable the Republican and Southern Democratic critics of the Truman administration to say, in effect, "See! They didn't want controls in the first place."

"We gave them a bill with price control authority, but without roll-backs. Instead of using this power, however, the first thing they do is take off all controls." It will be a hard charge to answer.

The alternative which Johnston might have to this program would be an attempt to ration meat. All plans have been made to ration scarce commodities in case of an emergency. But an effort to ration meat before there is a shooting war would be largely an attempt to bring down prices by equalizing distribution.

This is both economically and politically dangerous. It would lead to a different kind of black market. It would be an under-the-counter deal, in which best cuts would go to favored customers willing and able to pay premium prices. And it would bring storms of protest over the inconveniences of it, to butchers and housewives alike.

THE GILA MURDER

BY JULIUS LONG

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY. Laura Colton, a beautiful woman in Coltonville, died of a heart attack after being bitten by a Gila Monster, which Paul Baker, county promoter, says was put in the glove compartment of her car for the purpose of murdering her. The Gila monster is the Southwest, not the Midwest, and the question is, from where did it come here, the widow, lived in Arizona before his marriage to Laura. There are also a son, Lawrence, and a daughter, Pat.

PAUL BAKER pictured himself going around asking small boys and old men who had been looking for food for Gila Monsters. "Your father testified that the Gila Monster that bit your mother had not been fed recently. The sheriff would move the Gila Monster to Baker's house, and he would feed it. He would take it to the grounds out from under our defense mobilization."

So They Say

You have to study this subject (bill on whether manufacturers should absorb freight charges) hard for six months before you can understand it, and then it's so complicated you can't explain it.

—Ben. Russell B. Long (D-La.)

The young person today sees... that the things that separate men from one another are less important than the things they have in common.

—Thornton Wilder, author.

The business of the schools is not to break up the habits of young people of reading confessions, glamorized movie magazines, comic books... and the like, but rather to open new doors.

—Wallace R. Murray, speech educator, San Jose College.

Q—Why is it that freezing water purifies it?

A—When water freezes the molecules get together in a regular solid crystalline arrangement. The molecules of the impurities are too big or too little to fit into the same space in the crystal as the water molecules, and so they get shoved aside. This process is used to purify many commercial chemicals.

Q—How accurate can a clock be? A—A clock so accurate that if it continues at the present rate it will gain or lose only one second in 30 years has just been put into operation. It is expected to vary less than one ten-thousandth of a second per day.

GIANT AND MIDGET—Frankie Saluto, midget clown with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey circus, looks even smaller when he gets up against the world's largest incandescent light bulb, a 50,000-watt giant that produces as much light as one thousand 100-watt household lamps. Built by GE as a stunt in 1929, for "Light's Golden Jubilee," no practical use was found for the bulb until it was used recently in the filming of a circus movie under the big top.

U. S. To Stand Pat On Present Line As Korean Buffer Zone

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's truce instructions will permit him to make minor adjustments but no concessions in the UN demand that an armistice buffer zone in Korea follow the present battle line.

BOTTLE HOUSE FOR SERVICEMEN—The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee pointed to this house when it demanded that the Defense Department protect servicemen from being "shamelessly victimized by rent gougers." A Camp Breckinridge, Ky., corporal and his family of three pay $25 a month for this "home." The front is built of mortar and whitewashed whisky bottles, while the rear is constructed of several hundred empty beer cans.

on the North Korean military build-up areas.
The U. S. State Department and Allied officials have emphasized that all terms of an armistice must be settled before cessation of hostilities.
UN and Red delegates debated the location of a "buffer zone" two and a half hours Saturday and got nowhere.
Cool Military Formality
Up to 12,000 residents of Seoul paraded Saturday, protesting the trend of the Kaesong talks.
The marchers carried banners proclaiming "No peace on the 38th parallel."
The perfunctory Allied communique referred to an "atmosphere of cool military formality." It said that when the Saturday truce session ended, "the position of both delegations on the agenda item under discussion had not changed."
The usually taciturn two Chinese delegates gave frequent advice to Lt. Gen. Nam Il, the senior Red delegate, as he stated the Red views.
Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, Allied spokesman, said Nam argued "with more force and verve than on any previous occasion."
"I wouldn't say he was belligerent, but he certainly was forceful," Nuckols told correspondents, who are barred from the conferences in a pagoda-shaped former restaurant.

Scotland Yard Gets Set For 'Big' Case

LONDON—(AP)—Sleuths of Scotland Yard are off on their biggest case in years—a 10-year-old elephant called Rance.
Rance, who for years had tramped up and down the London Zoo with children on her back, was found dead 10 days ago.
A post mortem—the zoo holds these on every animal that dies there—showed Rance was full of lead poison.

J. D. Holleyman Is Roping Champ At Cheyenne Event

CHEYENNE, WYO.—(AP)—Pete Baker, hard riding cowpoke from Vinita, Okla., won the 1951 Brahman bull riding championship Saturday in Cheyenne's Frontier Days. The calf-roping championship went to J. D. Holleyman of Ozona, Texas.
Second in the bull riding was Elliott Calhoun, Las Cruces, N. M.
Holleyman's calf roping championship was based on a total time of 47.8 seconds for three calves. He also won the money for the second go-round—$1,260 for tying his critter in 13.4 seconds. His time Saturday was 16 seconds.
Clifton Lowery, Del Rio, Texas, was third with 53.2, and Doyle Riley, Ballinger, Texas, fourth with 53.8.
Bud Linderman of Red Lodge, Mont., rode off with the bareback bronc riding championship.
The steer bulldogging championship went to Les Connelly, Benson, Ariz. His time Saturday was 11.4 seconds, giving him a total for three steers of 39.8 seconds.
John Ealton, Brownfield, Texas, turned in 11 seconds for a third-place total of 47.9.

House Debate On Tideland Bill To Resume Monday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texas congressmen and other representatives supporting a bill to give states title to their tidelands continue their debate Monday.
The bill would fix state boundaries at three miles seaward from their coast lines except for a 10 1/2-mile distance in the case of Texas. It would declare the states owners of these marginal lands as well as lands under bays, lakes and navigable streams.
Debate began Friday. Voting on amendments, which could change the provisions of the measure, may be started late Monday, after completion of general debate.

Police Recover Lost Bag Of Mail

Police Saturday recovered a bag of United States mail which apparently had fallen from a train one mile east of Midland.
The bag, containing parcel post from San Antonio, was discovered by a woman living nearby. She reported it to police, who in turn delivered it to the Post Office.

MURPHEYS VISIT RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murphey, Jr., and their children, Hank, four, and Mary Lynn, seven months, of San Angelo, have been in Midland visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murphey of 107 North G Street.
The younger Murpheys, former Midlanders, arrived here Friday and were to return to San Angelo Sunday. Murphey was graduated from the University of Texas last January and is associated with a San Angelo department store.

Controls—

incurred up to last Thursday were taken into account. Members of a Senate-House Conference Committee which drafted the provision said it also would result in some price "roll-forwards" as a result of the cost-increase factor.
The other section under particular study at OPS would require the agency to fix retailers' and wholesalers' ceilings at a level assuring them their "customary percentage margins over costs."
Besides revising price provisions, the bill relaxes consumer credit controls and, among other things, would ban livestock slaughter quotas.
The consumer credit provisions would give automobile purchasers 18 months to pay installments rather than 12 as at present. The requirement for a down payment of one-third would remain. Credits terms on radios, television sets and other household appliances also would be eased.

VACATION TRIP

Mrs. Kathryn Anthony arrived by plane Saturday night from Richmond, Calif., to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robitsek and her brother, Bill Robitsek, of Midland for a vacation trip to Oklahoma.

HST Warns—

"this country is on the right track in our foreign affairs."
Truman said Russia's actions give no indication of "peaceful intentions" and declared her satellites "are rapidly being brought to a peak of military readiness."
"We know that Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary now have armed forces far greater than those allowed under the peace treaties they signed in 1947," he said in his bill of particulars.
"We know that Romania recently ordered the inhabitants moved out of a stretch of land thirty miles wide, along the Yugoslav border. Bulgaria and Hungary have done the same thing. Military preparations have been going on in those zones along the border. x x x
"In the Far East, the situation is much the same. The North Koreans and the Chinese Communists are getting a steady flow of new equipment from the Soviet Union for ground and air use.
"The Russians themselves have more than four million men under arms in Europe and the Far East. There are heavy concentrations of Soviet air, land and sea forces in the Russian provinces along the Manchurian border, across from Japan, and across from Alaska.
Danger Not Over
He said the Soviet rulers "are putting themselves in a position where they can commit new acts of aggression at any time."
"As your President, I am telling you that the danger in other parts of the world are just as great as they are in Korea," he declared.
"Every day reports come to my desk about Soviet military preparation around the world. If everyone of you could see these reports and receive this same information, you would give up any thought that the danger is over," he warned.
The Administration placed great store by the address, which was carried by the radio and television throughout the nation and beamed all over the world by the State Department's "Voice of America."
"We cannot let our guard down, no matter what happens in Korea," Truman asserted.
"The free world must have armed strength—and have it now—not in reserve, not later, but now. We must have men, ships, planes, tanks and bombs—on hand—ready for any emergency."
He said "We do not know whether the Communists really desire peace in Korea or whether they are simply trying to gain by negotiations what they have not been able to gain by conquest."

New GOP Move To Get Acheson Bobs Up In Senate Talk

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new Republican move to clip the wings of Secretary of State Acheson—this time on foreign aid—is developing in the Senate.
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Saturday he will call the Senate Republican Policy Committee together Monday to hear proposals for eliminating Acheson as policy head of the $3,500,000,000 foreign aid program.
"I don't think Congress is going to want this program run by the State Department," Taft said.
Taft has proposed a cut in the funds. He said Acheson's indication that $25,000,000,000 in foreign aid will be needed over three years "sounds too high."
As the program has been outlined to Congress, the State Department would have general supervision, so far as policy is concerned. Acheson has contended this is necessary to keep a close link between diplomatic and military moves.

Red Radio Declares U. S. Unit Mauled In Eastern Korea

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(AP)—Allied troops strove for the third straight day Saturday to wrest hills in Eastern Korea from the Reds. The Communist Pyongyang radio asserted the U. S. 38th Regiment was mauled badly Friday.
Fighting northeast of Yanggu was the only sizable action reported across the front.
Pyongyang radio said "the greater part of the 38th Regiment" of the second Division was cut down or captured while seeking to penetrate Red defenses. The claim was not substantiated.
The air war tempo was sustained, drawing another complaint from Pyongyang. The Red radio acknowledged air attacks on four North Korean areas but made the usual charge of "indiscriminate and ruthless bombing of non-combatants."
B-29's blasted Chinnampo, the port city for Pyongyang.

Negro Charged In Tulsa Rape-Slaying

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—A slight negro youth with a scarred face was charged with murder Saturday in the June 25 rape-slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Waldrop, 22-year-old expectant mother.
The suspect, Eugene Monroe, 20, pleaded innocent before Common Pleas Judge Leslie W. Lisle.
Police Chief Fred Graves said the department has a signed statement from Monroe admitting the crime.
Mrs. Waldrop's body, a dirty handkerchief knotted around her throat, was found by two boys at play near her apartment home.

New Woes Await Punch-Drunk Chigger

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—(AP)—Pity the poor chigger, already punch-drunk from scientific left hooks. An Ohio state entomologist struck two more blows Saturday at the pest.
Prof. Dwight M. DeLong, who already has staggered the chigger with his lawn sprays, announced repellent treatments for the body and clothing.
The Ohio state expert says the body can be treated with a few drops of dimethyl phthalate to prevent chigger bites.
He recommends benzyl benzoate for treating clothing.
In some sections of the Hawaiian Islands, wild raspberries grow as large as golf balls.

The Word Is 'Foul,' Not 'Fowl,' Senator

OMAHA—(AP)—Senator Kenneth S. Wherry (R-Neb.) charged Saturday night the Democratic Party has become a party without national principles.
"It is split by quarreling factions racked by pain, full of misery," the Senate minority leader declared in a speech.
"When the Northern wing flaps up, its Southern wing flaps down and its head in the White House whirrs 'round and 'round on policies like a weathervane."
"On its tail sit the me-tooers, who are neither fish, flesh nor fowl. They are enemies of the two-party system and they lead only to confusion."

rants. Taxes on the 18 range from $1.98 to $14, with an average of $3. Penalties for non-payment the first quarter average 12 cents or $2.16 for the 18.
Armed said at Longview the warrants were issued by Ellis Campbell, Jr., Dallas, collector of internal revenue for North Texas. Campbell declined to say how many warrants had been issued. He did say they were fewer than 18.
Gestapo Tactics
After receiving the notices Saturday that warrants had been issued, the housewives issued this statement:
"The penalty of knowing that our country is free and democratic, to uphold the Constitution of the United States, has paid off with a writ of seizure for amount of the tax and penalty, without due process of law. Upon receipt of this warrant the ladies of Marshall, who have prayerfully and conscientiously petitioned the government, rebel at this Gestapo tactic of our money-mad, power-mad government officials."
One of the ladies, whose tax payment would amount to less than a dollar, declared:
"My privilege of fighting for what I believe is a stand against socialism is worth it. Article One, Bill of Rights, allows a petition of my just grievance."
Thirty-two members of the Harrison County Bar Association have asked Speaker Sam Rayburn to lead in helping repeal the household tax amendment.
Eight women not previously involved wired Rep. R. L. Doughton, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Saturday night. They asked that his committee act on a repeal bill and send it to Congress.
The News-Messenger says 48 Marshall residents have sent petitions supporting the rebellious housewives, plus others the newspaper hasn't heard about.
The Texas Senate, before adjournment, passed a resolution asking Congress to repeal the tax.

Three Cotton Labor Conferences Slated

ABILENE—(AP)—Plans for three regional conferences on labor problems facing West Texas cotton farmers were announced Saturday.
Dates and dates are: Wichita Falls, August 28; Big Spring, August 30; and Lubbock, August 31.
The conferences are sponsored by the Chambers of Commerce of the three cities, the Texas Cotton Ginners Association, the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Five Boy Scouts Will Attend Camp

Five members of Boy Scout Troop 152 of Midland, sponsored by the Midland Rotary Club, will leave Sunday to attend a week's camp at the Buffalo Trail Ranch in the Davis Mountains.
They are Van Outlaw, Byron Vest, James Johnson, Tim Bailey and Bucky Herndon.
Scoutmaster James Lee will accompany the boys. They will travel by automobile. Alfred Petty will drive one car and Lee another. West Texas Office Supply is furnishing an automobile.

Daughter Of Former Texas Publisher Dies

DALLAS—(AP)—Mrs. Jeannette Belo Peabody, 80, only daughter of the late Col. A. H. Belo and a former vice president of the Dallas News, died Saturday at her home in Cambridge, Mass.
A native of Galveston, where she was born June 23, 1871, Mrs. Peabody moved to Dallas with her parents after the Dallas News was established in 1885.

Police Seek Origin Of Fortune In Jewels

ROME—(AP)—Rome's police were reported Saturday seeking the origin of $150,000 worth of jewels seized by Venezuelan police after reaching Caracas on an airliner from Rome.
Reports here said the diamonds, rubies, pearls and other precious stones were found in a small package marked "Hold for owner."
Rome newspapers said Venezuelan police believed they had found a clue to an international jewel smuggling ring.

Negro Charged In Assault On Woman

HOUSTON—(AP)—Three charges were filed Saturday against a negro suspected of criminally assaulting a 32-year-old woman while two of her children watched helplessly from a doorway.
Louis Allison, 20, was arrested within 20 minutes. The woman's husband was at work.

day with officials of the State Health Department.
He returned with a letter approving plans for the plant, providing the oxidation ponds in the vicinity of the wells were coated with an "impervious lining" to prevent the possibility of sewage from seeping into the water wells.
$2,000 An Acre
J. B. Upchurch, representing Ward Saturday at the council meeting, said such a lining would cost approximately $2,000 an acre for the 40 acres of ponds.
He added, however, that these particular ponds could be moved farther from the area of the water wells without necessitating a change in the plans and re-advertisement for bids.
Ward was expected to arrive in Midland Tuesday for a final discussion of the situation.
Ceswell said Saturday night this meeting will be attended by representatives of the State Health Department as well as Midland geologists who have been interested in the problem.

Unemployment Reserve Now Tops Seven Billions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The federal government now has seven and one-third billion dollars salted away in the state reserve fund for unemployment insurance.
Secretary of Labor Tobin said Saturday.
Employer contributions have exceeded benefit payments for months, resulting in an extra $641,000 being added to the reserves at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.
This was in contrast to the step backward in 1950, when there was more unemployment. More persons applied for jobless insurance checks, and the reserves diminished.
There is $7,329,000,000 in the U. S. Treasury, earmarked for the states when they need it to tide workers over a period of unemployment.
Each state has its own account in the trust fund, and the accounts are not mingled. So a state can withdraw only the amount standing to its credit. That is why some states run short before others, and have to scurry around to get more money or to raise their rates.

May 15, 1949, and are still being sent. Through June 30, 1951, he had received 52 checks, $250 each, for a total of $13,000.
The newspaper said the company's records show the last check to Boyle was dated April 30, 1949.
The names of Boyle and E. Merl Young, central figure in the recent Senate probe of alleged favoritism and influence on RFC loans, already have been brought into the new inquiry, along with that of James P. Finnegan.
Finnegan's actions as collector of internal revenue in St. Louis are under scrutiny by a grand jury there. He resigned last April.
Slakind and Boyle, The Post-Dispatch reported, have received $14,500 from the Lithofold firm for doing "practically nothing."

Tide Water Martin Wildcat Flows Clean Ellenburger Oil

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1 E. B. Dickenson, Central-South Martin County wildcat, nine miles west of Stanton and 12 miles north and slightly east of Midland flowed clean oil for 30 minutes from the top of the Ellenburger at 12,098-140 feet.

During the 30 minutes of flowing through a 5/8-inch bottom hole choke, and a one-inch top opening on the tubing the wildcat made 9.3 barrels of clean oil.

At the end of the 30 minutes the flow died. Operator left the test tool open and since the flow died the well has been heading two or three times each hour. The fluid headed out has been 30 to 40 per cent drilling mud and the rest has been oil. There have been no signs of formation water.

Operator is leaving the tester in the hole until it is decided what to do next. The project could either be casing and attempt completion on the Ellenburger section between 12,090 feet and the present bottom at 12,140 feet—or it could drill deeper and possibly find more pay—or possibly find water.

It is expected the orders will be issued by Monday as to what to do with the prospective new deep discovery.

Interested observers think it has definitely shown for some sort of a commercial oil well and a new discovery.

The 30-minute oil flow of 9.3 barrels came during a drillstem test on the zone at 12,098-140 feet.

The tool was opened at 7 p. m. Friday. It was still open at 7 a. m. Saturday. It was due to be left open for several hours longer.

Gas surfaced in two hours and 55 minutes and gas cut drilling fluid started flowing out at the top in five hours and 55 minutes.

Oil began to flow at the top in six hours and 15 minutes. It was during the next 30 minutes that the 9.3 barrels of clean oil was produced.

At the end of that 30 minutes when the flow died. The tool was still open at 7 a. m., Saturday—12 hours after the test started.

The heading twice or three times per hour had been going on during all of the time after the 30-minute flow.

Ellenburger Top
Top of the Ellenburger is at 12,090 feet. That makes that point 9,244 feet below sea level.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 27, T-1-N, T&P survey.

This wildcat has shown some possibilities of producing in the Devonian and also in the Spraberry. However, it is doubtful if either of those higher sections would make much of a commercial oil well.

Magnolia Assured Commercial Oiler In SE Gaines Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company is assured of a commercial oil and gas well and the opener of a new field from the Pennsylvanian lime reef at its No. 1 Gertrude Chilton, Southeast Gaines County wildcat, 26 miles southeast of Seminole.

This prospector had flowed oil at the rate of 340 barrels per day from perforations in the reef at 11,354-375 feet. No water was developed with the oil.

There was a shakeout of five per cent basic sediment and one per cent acid water. Operator was continuing to flow to clean out, test and complete.

After Acid
The oil flow came after the perforated section at 11,354-375 feet had been re-treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. After the load and residue from that injection had been swabbed out the wildcat kicked off and flowed 85 barrels of new oil in six hours.

The flow was through open two-inch tubing.

Previous to the last acid treatment of 5,000 gallons the No. 1 Chilton had been treated with 800 gallons of acid and with 2,000 gallons of the same chemical.

After the 500 gallons it swabbed and flowed 145 barrels of oil in 15 hours. Then the 2,000-gallon injection was used.

Then the 5,000-gallon treatment was pumped in. The 85-barrel flow of new oil in six hours followed.

Operator will continue testing on the 11,354-375-foot interval for a time and will then probably perforate the casing on a 12-foot interval higher in the reef and test that section.

Both Sections
If the upper zone will flow oil the well will probably be completed from both sections.

The No. 1 Chilton appears to have proven that it will make an oil well and an important new discovery.

Location is 660 feet from north and 2,500 feet from east lines of league 258, Gray County School Land survey.

This wildcat drilled into the Devonian. It failed to find any signs of commercial petroleum in that formation and it plugged back and set casing to test and try to complete from the reef lime shows.

Production Tests Are Scheduled At S-C Crane Wildcat

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 3 Jax Cowden, South-Central Crane County wildcat, nine miles west of the town of Crane, is preparing to make a production test and try to complete as a flowing discovery from two sections in the Fusselman line.

This project is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 47, block X, CCSD&RNG survey. It is four miles northwest of the Crane-Devonian field.

The wildcat had swabbed and flowed a total of 115 barrels of fluid in 24 hours from perforated section in the upper Fusselman at 7,388-7,425 feet. Shakeout was 8.8 per cent basic sediment and water. The flow during that period was through a 25/64th inch tubing choke.

Operator had to pull the swab only twice during the 24 hours of testing. The rest of the time the well was flowing steadily.

Acid Treatment
The perforation at 7,388-7,425 feet had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and treated with 5,000 gallons of regular acid.

Another set of perforations at 7,340-90 feet had shown some free oil and a little water, after that section had been treated with 3,000 gallons of acid.

That zone had been shut off from the upper perforations by a bridging plug while the top interval had been tested.

That plug had now been drilled out. Operator is to swab both sets of perforations together and try to make them kick off and flow.

The perforated intervals will probably be given one more acid injection, and then the well likely will take potential test and be put on regular production.

Fourth Producer Is Seen For Pool In W-C Upton Area

The Wilshire Oil Company No. 23-129 McElroy Ranch is in prospect of becoming the fourth Ellenburger producer in the Wilshire-Pennsylvanian-Ellenburger field of West-Central Upton County.

On a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger from 12,014 to 12,086 feet, tool was open 5 hours, gas surfaced in 15 minutes, water gas started flowing in one hour and 30 minutes and oil was at the top ten minutes later.

It was flowed to pits 20 minutes and then turned to tanks for three hours during which time it flowed 131.25 barrels of 54-gravity oil. Skakeout was two-tenths of one per cent basic sediment and no water.

Calculated Flow
The calculated daily flow was 1,050 barrels. Gas volume was 740,000 cubic feet per day. Flow was gauged on a three-quarter-inch bottom-hole choke. Gas-oil ratio was 705-1.

The Ellenburger was topped at 12,028 feet by samples, making it 40 feet high on top of that formation to the same formation in Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 McElroy Ranch, discovery well of the field.

No. 23-129 McElroy is one location northwest of the field opener. Exact location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 129, block D, CCSD&RNG survey.

This prospector is 10 miles northeast of Winters and two miles north of the Skyes-Morris sand field.

It showed gas in the Morris sand between 3,683 feet and 3,721 feet. The two drillstem tests through that interval developed a little high-gravity petroleum fluid.

The section at 3,721-39 feet made salt water and gas.

It then drilled on down to 3,857 feet in the Fray sand and ran a drillstem test with the packer at 3,848 feet.

The tool was open 30 minutes. Recovery was 15 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. It then progressed downward to a

New Records Expected By Oil, Gas Industry For 1951.

TULSA — New high records of activity will be reached by every division of the oil and gas industry during the last half of this year, it is predicted in the annual mid-year report of The Oil and Gas Journal.

Already at its highest levels in history, the industry is planning to drill more wells and produce and market more oil to meet a demand which is increasing so fast that by the end of the year it will be 10 per cent above last year.

Crude-oil production this year will be 13 per cent higher than 1950, the authoritative industry publication predicts. Having established a new high record each succeeding month so far this year, production in the United States is due to average 6,093,000 barrels per day during 1951.

Operators plan to drill 44,496 new wells during the year, the Journal reports on the basis of a survey of working schedules. This is one and one-half per cent more than the 43,843 wells the Journal forecast for 1951 last January, and more than 1,000 wells above the goal of 43,400 wells which the Petroleum Administration for Defense set for the industry.

During the first six months of the year the industry completed 20,632 wells—a new high record for the first half of any year and an indication that the operators will be able to achieve their own schedules of 23,836 more wells before New Year's Day. Drilling activity normally is higher during the late months of the year, and the revised drilling schedules were based on quantities of steel the operators believe they will obtain.

The steel shortage may hamper other divisions of the industry to a greater extent, however, for scheduled construction projects include 18,000 miles of pipe lines, 750,000 barrel daily of new refining capacity, and field processing plants to handle 1,500,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Military needs and the high level of industrial activity are pushing domestic consumption of all petroleum products above last year. Representative increases forecast by the Journal are 11.1 per cent for gasoline and 25 per cent for liquefied petroleum gas. Total United States consumption of all oils during the year will average 7,187,000 barrels per day, far higher than during World War II or the early postwar years.

To meet this demand, United States refineries processed an average of 6,443,000 barrels per day during the first half of this year. This figure is 1,022,000 barrels per day, or 19 per cent, above the same months of 1950. Completion of new facilities will raise capacity substantially by the end of this year.

In the search for new oil, drillers are concentrating on wildcat wells, and these exploratory wells will total more than 1,000 during the year, or about one-quarter of all wells—the greatest exploratory effort in the history of the industry measured either by total wildcats or percentage of all wells. There were 4,677 wildcat completed during the first half-year, and 5,828 more are scheduled for the last half, the Journal says.

Iranian Oil Output Brings May World Production Near Record Level, Says O & J

TULSA—With Iranian output at a near record level, world crude oil production during May rose to a new high of almost 12,000,000 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal reported.

The trade publication pointed out that May was the last full month before the stoppage in shipments out of Iran as a result of the government's nationalization program. Daily average production worldwide during May, including estimated Russian and Eastern European output, was placed at 11,983,700 barrels daily.

The increase over April represented a gain of about two and one-half per cent. Some of this tremendous outpouring of crude oil during the month was due to efforts to add to stocks abroad in view of the then-apparent likely shutdown in Iran. During May, it appeared that the oil fields of the non-Communist world were producing at or near maximum possible levels considering field potential and what is even more important in some cases, capacity of oil-handling facilities such as pipe lines and treating equipment.

Venezuela showed a small gain of 9,000 barrels daily during May to climb to an average of just less than 1,700,000 barrels daily. Most of the increase in world production came from the Middle East, Canada, and the United States.

Production in the Middle East rose more than nine per cent to 2,199,800 barrels daily. Part of this was due to the fact that in April production in Iran was depressed as a result of strikes during that month at Abadan. Saudi Arabia showed a sharp increase during May to almost 740,000 barrels daily.

The oil output of Western Canada surged upward as shipping on the Great Lakes allowed full use of the new pipeline from Alberta. In the United States, production during May gained about 40,000 barrels daily to a new high of 6,167,000 barrels daily.

Wilshire Schedules Devonian Wildcat In SE Lea Region

HOBBS, N. M.—Seventeen miles southwest of the Denton-Devonian pool of Central-East Lea County, Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., reported location for a 12,500-foot wildcat.

It will be drilled as the firm's No. 1 Townsend, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4-15-35e.

That puts it four miles west of Lovington.

The 12,500-foot destination should take the project into the Devonian.

Skelly Oil Company, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and J. C. Maxwell, Inc., have staked location for a south offset to their No. 1-J Mexico, indicated Clear Fork and Fusselman discovery in Southeast Lea County.

The new test will be No. 1-L Mexico and will be dug 667 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 5-25-33e.

Contract calls for a 10,000-foot destination.

The multipay-Denton field gained locations for four more prospectors.

Two of the tests will be to the Devonian and one each in the Wolfcamp and Pennsylvanian.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 3-D L. R. Chamberlain will be dug as the Pennsylvanian test, 1,850 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 14-15-37e. It will go to around 11,500 feet.

McAlester Fuel Company will dig the two Devonian projects.

Its No. 1-D Pat McClure will be 1,860 feet from north and 1,990 feet from east lines of section 14-15-37e. It is to go to around 12,800 feet.

McAlester No. 1-A State will be drilled to about 12,500 feet, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 2-15-37e.

Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-E Bettie Dickinson will be the Wolfcamp exploration. Drillsite has been set 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 1-15-37e. That makes it east of production in the field. Destination is 9,500 feet.

WASHINGTON OIL— U. S. Looks To West Texas, Rocky Mountain Areas For Hiked Production Capacity

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
WASHINGTON — A forecast of continued high levels of operations in the nation's crude oil producing areas, to bring about a six to 20 per cent increase in production capacity in the next five years is at hand.

A subcommittee of the National Petroleum Council forecast last week that drilling will continue at the present rate, 43,000 wells a year, or something greater, for the next five years.

This, it said, can be expected to increase the nation's petroleum producing capacity from 7,300,000 barrels daily last January, to somewhere in the range of 7,789,000 to 8,838,000 barrels daily in five years.

The report, made to Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, who is also petroleum administrator for defense, identified availability as production plus reserve capacity. Output of natural gas liquids is included in the figure.

The report fails to say what areas of the country will account for the increase, although top petroleum men in government look chiefly to West Texas and the Rocky Mountain area.

"This is a most encouraging report," says Russell B. Brown, counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Give Him Men, Materials
"It proves that there is no use getting excited about shortages of oil, if you give producers the men and materials to get out the oil."

The figures, which apply to availability of both crude oil and natural gas liquids, are called "conservative" by Hines H. Baker, Humble Oil and Refining Company, who is chairman of the council's domestic oil availability subcommittee.

He explains that the oil industry usually beats all estimates of future production. In 1948, he says, the American Petroleum Institute estimated the domestic industry might reach 7,320,000 barrels daily by 1953. Actually, it made it two years ahead of time.

"Careful study of the prospects for future discoveries and development indicates that the present situation is about as promising as it was at the beginning of 1948," says the Baker report.

"The higher rate of production now means that there is a larger volume of normal decline which must be offset before drilling can increase availability, but on the other hand, drilling now is at a much higher rate than in 1948."

"The petroleum industry will be in a position to meet increased demands for oil and gas during the five-year period, 1951 through 1955." The forecast assumes settlement of the tidesland controversy and the renewal of drilling, and estimates 1,000 new wells on the Continental shelf in the next five years. These will bring in 100,000 to 200,000 barrels daily, says the report.

Greater Expansion Seen
Overseas, in non-Russian areas, an even greater expansion is foreseen. The forecast of the foreign subcommittee sees a 20 to 50 per cent increase in capacity over the January level of 4,704,000.

A bottom figure of 6,092,000 is forecast for foreign availability within five years, and a top estimate of 7,139,000.

John R. Suman, Standard Oil Co. (N. J.) chairman of the foreign subcommittee, explains:

"Between 70 and 80 per cent of the increase in foreign crude productive capacity during 1951-1955 is estimated to develop in the combined Middle and Far East."

"The availability of transportation facilities, rather than productive capacity, is likely to be the critical factor in determining the amount of petroleum supplies that can be made available to consuming areas."

Totalling up everything, the council's report sees an increase of up to 4,000,000 barrels daily in capacity at home and abroad, outside Russian-dominated areas. This is about 33 per cent above the present level.

But the report makes one condition. It is that the government must stop meddling unwisely with oil. Specifically, the industry must have fair taxes, including the depletion allowance and intangible cost provision, adequate men and materials, free, competitive markets, and conservation practices.

There was ironic praise for Interior Secretary Chapman last week. "You've done a good job claiming steel for oil and gas," said Senator Kenneth Wherry (R-Nebr.) often a Chapman critic. "You've done everything but get the steel." The man who parades down steel allocation for oil and gas, Arthur L. Anshen of the Defense Production Administration, was on the griddle before the other day.

Aides of Secretary Chapman say his trip to Mexico this week is to talk steel for Mexico's oil industry, not leases. "It's of generally known, but if PAD's order to curb new gas heaters dies, it will be because the Congress has halfway through legislation to ban the action."

Rep. Frank E. Smith (D-Mich.) has put in a "slow the natural gas expansion" bill. The annual report of the Arabian-American Oil Company is fascinating reading; it's printed in both Arabic and English.

Tide Water Wildcat—

bottom of 3,873 feet in the Goen lime. A one-hour drillstem test was run at 3,858-73 feet.

There was a good blow of air for a part of that period. Recovery was 740 feet of salt water and 90 feet of salty drilling mud. There were no shows of oil or gas. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 500 pounds.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 1,575 pounds. The wildcat is to drill on to the Gardner sand and it probably will go below that horizon—especially if it fails to produce in that zone.

Location is 330 feet from south and east lines of the 407-acre Thetford lease in Wharton County School Land survey No. 499.

SW Gains Venture Logs Gas On DST

Charles B. Wrightman No. 1 Will Terry, Southwest Gains County wildcat, five miles west of Boydell encountered shows of gas in a drillstem test in the San Andres lime in a test at 4,279-4,325 feet.

The tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced immediately and continued to blow at the top of the remainder of the period.

Recovery was 106 feet of gas cut mud. There were no shows of oil or water. The prospector is to drill deeper.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block A-28, pal survey.

The venture is slated to dig to about 8,500 feet to explore the lower Permian limes.

Recovery was 45 feet of mud, no shows of oil, gas or water.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,999 feet. Elevation is 3,160 feet.

No. 1 Peay has previously shown as a flowing discovery from the Permian section at 7,170-8,200 feet. It also had shown free oil at 9,225-51 feet and it flowed on a test at 9,268-9,308 feet.

The wildcat made oil and water in the Devonian.

Location is three quarters of a mile northwest of Florey and 1,736 feet from east and 879 feet from south lines of section 6, league 314, Gaines County School Land survey.

On a drillstem test of the Grayburg sand from 4,458-4,499 feet, operator recovered 300 feet of gas, 25 feet of free oil and 275 feet of sulphur water. The tool was open one and one-half hours.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 150 pounds; shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 300 pounds.

No Shows In DST
Operator then drillstem tested from 4,531 to 4,547 feet in the Permian lime and developed 30 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas. Tool was open one hour.

The wildcat is now being deepened below 4,720 feet in lime.

NW Reagan Wildcat Is Swabbing, Flowing

Sohio Petroleum Company No. 1 E. P. Williams, indicated Spraberry discovery in Northwest Reagan County, is swabbing and flowing to test from open hole at 8,747-8,850 feet after Hydracraft treatment.

The last gauge reported was 15 barrels of fluid per hour, some new oil and some load oil. No formation water is being recovered with the oil.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block 38, T-8-S, T&P survey.

Testing Is To Start At Glasscock Venture

Paul F. Barnhart of Houston No. 1-10 J. O. Bigby, wildcat in Southwest Glasscock County, is at total depth of 6,806 feet in the Spraberry and operator is pumping in breaker fluid after a 4,500-gallon Hydracraft treatment in open hole.

Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 6,855 feet.

Operator probably will start swabbing to test Sunday.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 10, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey.

B&N To Plug Back In Reagan Wildcat

The Blackwood & Nichols Company has given up trying to make an oil well in the Ellenburger at its No. 1 D. E. Hughes, wildcat in West-Central Reagan County.

After treating perforations in two sections in the top of the Ellenburger the project was swabbed and tested and made only salt water, acid water and a slight trace of oil.

Operator probably will plug back and test for production in the Spraberry and where it had some shows when that formation was drilled.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 22, W. M. Cleveland survey.

Discovery Offset
The same operator's No. 1 Boyd, one-location diagonal northeast offset to Blackwood & Nichols No. 1 Weddell, recently completed Spraberry discovery in Northwest Reagan County, is to be deepened to the lower Spraberry.

Operator swabbed and flowed 88 barrels of free oil and 39 barrels of salt water through perforations in casing opposite the Spraberry in 24 hours.

Plugs are now being drilled in the hole and deepening will continue to the lower Spraberry which produces in the discovery well.

Drillite is 1,680 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 16, block E, HE&W survey.

NE Upton Tester Is Fishing For Packer

Paul F. Barnhart No. 1 J. E. Hill, wildcat in Northeast Upton County, is at total depth of 7,165 feet in the Spraberry fishing for Hydracraft packer.

The open hole section from 7,007 to 7,165 feet was treated with 4,500 gallons of Hydracraft.

After packer is fished out operator will go in with tubing and make production tests.

Interested observers believe this project will make a commercial producer from the Spraberry.

Drillite is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 20, block D, CCSD&RNG survey.

SE Midland Project Plugged, Abandoned

Los Nietos Company No. 1 Joe Youngblood, Central-South Midland County wildcat, 20 miles south of Midland has been plugged and abandoned.

Refining And Transport Facilities Survive Flood

TULSA, OKLA.—(P)—Early reports from Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma—still incomplete and sketchy—indicate oil refining and transport facilities survived heavy flood damage and were rolling with the punch.

Loss of gasoline and other petroleum products in storage, outside of spectacular fires at Kansas City, appeared negligible.

The Great Lakes Pipe Line Company, handling runs for 18 refineries and two other pipe lines, was laying a by-pass around that terminus and expects to be back to 98 per cent of capacity in two weeks.

It will be two months, however, before deliveries can be made at Kansas City bulk plants because of extensive repairs to local installations, Great Lakes President Harry Moreland said last week.

Refineries and other pipelines reporting suffered negligible injury and were near normalcy as the weekend approached.

Crude gathering systems from water pressured wells in Kansas and Oklahoma had to shut down until the crests passed but damage was minor.

The Kansas River flood washed out several pipelines and another burst under the weight of water near St. Louis but pressure generally was maintained by rerouting runs.

What happens to the dollar income of an oil company?
One of the country's largest showed this breakdown in an annual report:

- For raw materials, producing, transporting, manufacturing and selling—62 1/2 cents.
- Payrolls and employe benefits—12 1/2 cents.
- Obsolescence and depreciation—7 3/10 cents.
- Investment in new properties and facilities—5 6/10 cents.
- Income and other direct taxes—5 9/10 cents.
- Dividends to investors—5 8/10 cents.
- Interest payments on borrowed money—4 1/10 cents.

The Williston Basin, an underground reservoir of oil 350 miles long—north and south—and 300 miles wide which spans North Dakota and Montana, is beginning to shape up as one of the richest discoveries in recent years.

Shell Oil Company disclosed that its No. 1 Northern Pacific, near Richey, Mont., had flowed 4,000 barrels of 38 gravity crude daily on drill-stem test.

Meanwhile, Amerada Petroleum Company's Clarence Iverson No. 1 near Tloga, N. D., after fishing tools, was back in production making 290 barrels of 39 gravity oil in 24 hours. It was the state's first oil well.

Both strikes are producing from the Williston Basin with the Amerada wildcat bottomed in the Devonian lime at 11,676-706 feet.

Shell said its discovery is flowing from 7,183-263 feet, indicating the possibility of an important new oil field.

Tribe Wins 'Protested' Game

Jacome Gets No. 19; Oilers Fall 9 To 4

Midland and Odessa meet again at 3 p.m. Sunday in Indian Park. Ernie Nelson will pitch for Midland. Juan Guerrero will get the nod for the Oilers.

Midland hopped on Odessa Pitcher Ray Miller for a 9-4 'protested' Longhorn League baseball win Saturday night.

Eddie Jacome was credited with his nineteenth win of the season, allowing eight Oilers hits.

Manager Bob (Pepper) Martin of Odessa protested in the third inning, when Eddie Jacome was waved from first to third base after a throw from Right Fielder Leo Eastham went in the Midland dug-out. Martin protested that the ground rules entitled the man to take second only.

Longhorn League President Hal Savley witnessed the game from a box seat directly behind home plate. He said he would have no comment on the protest until it was "made officially."

The Indians broke out with four runs in the sixth inning, to break a 1-1 deadlock. The big break of the inning was when Center Fielder Kenny Peacock allowed a single by Bill Crumley to roll between his legs. Crumley then tumbled the bases to score, with Zeke Bonura and J. B. (Clipper) Gibbs scoring ahead of him.

In the seventh, five hits—including doubles by Julio de la Torre, Bonura and Kenny Jones—accounted for four more runs and Jacome allowed but three hits until the eighth, when the Oilers exploded for four hits and three runs. One of the hits was a home run by Floyd Martin, with the bases empty.

Midland's infield play was tight, with Jacome, de la Torre, Crumley and Hughes all performing in brilliant fashion.

Vollmer Homer In 16th Wins

BOSTON (AP)—Clyde Vollmer, clutch hitting wonder of all baseball in the last few weeks, did it once again Saturday, slamming a four-run homer in the last of the sixteenth inning to provide Boston's Red Sox with an 8-4 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Vollmer now has won 13 games with his booming bat for the Sox, and Saturday's decision was well deserved by Lefty Maurice McDermott who went all the way.

McDermott, who only two weeks ago pitched 17 of 19 innings against Chicago, struck out 15 Indian hitters, walked only one and hit another.

The Sox now are six points behind the first place New York Yankees and 10 points ahead of the third place Clevelanders.

Vollmer had singled home Goodman in the fifteenth to pull the Sox into a 3-3 tie.

The Indians went ahead 4-3 in their sixteenth on Ray Boone's double and a single by Larry Doby.

Johnny Peavy walked with one out in the Boston sixteenth and scampered all the way home when Williams lofted his two bagger into the left field corner.

Vern Stephens drew three called balls and then Bob Feller, fourth Cleveland pitcher, was ordered to give Steve an intentional fourth ball. Bob Doerr flied out.

Billy Goodman ran the count to three and two and then walked. After the first pitch was called a ball, Vollmer rapped the next one for the ball game.

The score:

Cleveland 000 000 110 000 001 1-4 11 0
Boston 000 000 000 000 001 5-8 16 2

HUGHES HITS EIGHTH HOMER— Broncs Defeat Indians, Blumenthal By 5-3 Count

BIG SPRING—A 5-3 win by the Big Spring Broncs over the Midland Indians here Friday night evened the four-game series at two wins each.

The Broncs tagged Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal with the loss, getting to him for 11 hits.

Big Spring scored two runs in the first on a walk, single and a double by Manny Junco. A third run in the second inning was unearned, after a Bronc singled and took third on an outfield error. He scored on a fly ball.

Scouter Hughes was the offensive show for the Indians. He hit safely in all three appearances to the plate, including his eighth home run of the year in the fifth inning. It came with the bases empty. He also scored the first run in the initial inning, singling, stealing second, going to third on a hit by Rudy Escobar and scoring on an infield out.

Midland's final run came in the seventh inning when Bill Crumley singled, took second on a hit by Blumenthal, advanced to third on a walk and scored on a double play.

Pancho Perez hurled the win for the Broncs.

Perhaps in time—say about three years—tickets to the Cotton, Sugar and Orange Bowl games may be obtained from the athletic director at Texas Tech.

Which is our coy way of saying Red Raider football fortunes certainly are on the upgrade.

We came away from the Texas Tech ex-student meeting in Hotel Schubarber Friday night fully convinced Tech has lined up about the best coaching staff available, and highly impressed with the personalities and abilities of Coaches Dewitt Weaver, Jack Mitchell and Wade Walker.

Other Tech mentors—Wyatt Posey, Bobby Goad and George Scott weren't present at the meeting, but they also are known as capable men.

The Texas Tech coaches mince no words as to their football intentions. They are out "beating the bushes" for football talent.

As Weaver drawled in his Tennessee twang: "Ah'll tell you. The only way to have a football team is to get the players. And we're going after good, clean boys who want to play football and get an education."

"Of course," said Weaver, "we came down here to Texas without knowledge of the boys in this area, and we have to act on 'tips' from ex-students, coaches and friends of Tech. We investigate all prospects and we'll give every boy who wants it a chance to try out at Texas Tech."

Their unfamiliarity with Texas high school players hasn't handicapped them enough to be noticeable. Rick Spinks of Kermit, Mack Taylor of Lubbock and boys of that caliber already are ticketed for Tech. Mitchell—the Oklahoma University quarterback of a few years ago who has been called by experts "one of the game's greatest field generals"—said he would put the 1951 Tech freshmen against "any in Texas."

And, as hard-working Bill Holmes, publicity director for the Tech athletic department said, Red Raider football fortunes will certainly be on the upswing when two or three more crops of these capable first-year men enroll at the Lubbock school.

Weaver told Tech exes Friday night that "we aren't going to play Southwest Conference with the idea of being a 'breather' to them."

Tech will, said Weaver, be capable of beating any and all of them within a few seasons.

Yesir, things are looking up on the South Plains. A father could do worse than send his son to Texas Tech.

Just watch 'em.

A while back we received some pictures from Tugboat Jones, showing Midland youngsters at work and play at Hidden Valley Camp for Boys in Colorado. We said we would pass the pictures along to Midland fans, but, unfortunately, they didn't turn out well enough to print.

We sent Jones the word, and hope to have some usable pictures soon.

DOTS AND DASHES—Midland now has won 19 games and lost 21 under the direction of Zeke Bonura. The record was 20 wins, 37 defeats under Harold Webb. Hayden White leading Kenny Jones, 31 to 27, in the "battle of doubles" on the Indian baseball team. Five more home games in this stand-off, 20 for the year, one doubleheader with Big Spring. Still time to get out and back the Tribe. Roy Kinsey, in addition to proving his track and basketball worth, is proving to be a swimmer of note on the JayCee swim team. If he'll get a bit more aggressive, he can be a whale of a footballer, too. Why doesn't some school latch on to Jack Burris, last year's fine MHS back? He's going to be a comer. End of the Row for now!

Jack Feeman Of Bradley Implicated In Cage Scandal

NEW YORK (P)—Jack (Zip) West, who twice outsmarted master fixer Eli Kaye by upping the latter's price to Bradley and Toledo basketball players, was still at large Saturday while Toledo, New York and Peoria authorities continued their investigation in the latest college basketball scandal.

District Attorney Frank Hogan Friday explained how West engineered a second betting coup by paying each of four Toledo players $500 to shave the point spread against traditional rival Bowling Green on January 11 of this year.

Kaye, who had been dealing with the players—William Walker, Carlo Muzi, Robert McDonald and Jack Feeman—asked the four to "do business" against Bowling Green. But they told Kaye he should bet on Toledo because they wanted to give Bowling Green a good beating.

Actually, Hogan said, they had no intention of trying to run up a high score against Bowling Green. However, as things turned out, the game got out of hand, and Bowling Green won it, 66-59.

School Has Top Coaches

SAN ANTONIO—The Texas High School Coaching Association's annual school gets underway here Monday.

The North-South grid game will be played Saturday night, August 4. The basketball contest is to be played the night before.

On hand to do the instructing this year are several of the nation's foremost coaches. Paul Bryant, whose 186 Kentucky Hooks broke Oklahoma's amazing string of victories January 1 in the Sugar Bowl, will guide the South football all-stars.

To oppose Bryant's T-formation will be Frank Howard's single and double wing attack designed for the North. Howard has achieved great success with the formation at Clemson College the last several years.

In basketball, Forrest Anderson of Bradley—on the hot seat because of the scandalous "fixes" involving his team just revealed last week—will attempt to accomplish what Adolph Rupp, Hank Iba and Jack Gray were unable to do—fashion a victory for the South.

In six games over the last five years (two games in 1949), the North always has been victorious. Inheriting this fine record is Cliff Wells of Tulane, who will tutor the Yankees.

Reed Gilmore, Midland High School's 1950 quarterback, is to play with the North all-stars in the North-South contest. Gilmore and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gilmore, will depart by automobile for San Antonio Sunday.

Other instructors scheduled to appear are Frank Anderson, SMU A&M track coach; Alex Hooks, SMU baseball coach; Eddie Wojcicki, Rice trainer; Morris Frank, Houston, public relations; Carmie Leslie, Kentucky line coach; Covington McMillan, Clemson backfield coach; and Dr. Arthur Steinhilber, George Williams College, special lecturer.

For the first time since 1943, the coaching school will extend over a six-day period. This year, 100 football writers will dominate the first three days, while basketball will have its glory the last three days.

North football all-stars:

Father-Son Night Set For Fans Here At Contest Monday

It's father-son night Monday at Indian Park, when the loopy-leading San Angelo Colts invade the Indians' reservation.

Baseballs autographed by Manager Zeke Bonura and all the Indian players will be presented to the father who brings the youngest son, the father who brings the oldest son, the father who brings the most sons and the father and son who travel the greatest distance to the game.

Officials of Midland Baseball Club, Inc., Saturday urged the fathers to "bring the neighbors' boys too. If your neighbor can't attend," Of course, they would be unable to compete for the prizes.

The baseballs will be presented during the traditional seventh-inning stretch.

Drillers Drop Fourteen Straight

By The Associated Press
Artesia ran its losing streak in the class C Longhorn League to 14 straight Friday night and the New Mexico mine skidded back to within a game of the cellar.

Roswell thumped the Drillers, 5-1, and stayed tied with Big Spring for second place. Big Spring dusted off Midland's Indians, 5-3.

League-leading San Angelo got clipped, 5-0, by Odessa and got its lead clipped to only seven games.

Wet grounds caused postponement of Vernon's game with Sweetwater.

Eagles Win, 2 To 0; Yanks Vanquish Realtors, 21-3

The scores were 2 to 0 and 21 to 3 in a Little League double Bill Saturday.

Jim Owens allowed but one hit in the first game, as he pitched the Eagles to a 2-0 win over the Cards.

Nine Realtor errors hurt as the cellar-dwellers lost to the pace-setting Yankees by a 21-3 score in the second game.

Owens fanned 12 in his winning stint. The lone hit he gave up was a double by loser Dennis Patton, who allowed only three hits and struck out 10. Catcher John George singled in the Eagles' runs in the first inning.

Bill Faris hit a grand-slam home run in the Yankees rout of the Realtors, to help his brother, Herbert Faris, get credit for pitching the win. Jack Crockett took the loss.

Lloyd Mangrum Leads At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, MINN. —(P)—Firing a record-shattering 62, 10 strokes under par, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago snatched the lead Saturday at the three-quarter mark in the St. Paul Open Golf Tournament.

That score gave him 54-hole total of 196, and put him well out in front of an avid group of golfers who made a mockery of par 72.

Mangrum's 62 was one stroke better than the previous mark of 63 for an 18-hole round, held jointly by Harry Cooper, now a professional in Hawaii, and Horton Smith. Cooper made his 63 in the third round of the tourney in 1936 and Smith carded his in the final round in 1941.

Mangrum's 196 set him well out in front of the field. It was four strokes better than the 200 held by E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill. Harrison, who played in the same trio with Mangrum, carded a five-under-par 67 Saturday to go with his first-day 68 and seven-under-par of Friday.

Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, another member of the trio, wound-up with a six-under-par 66, good for a tie at 201 with Fred Hawkins of El Paso. Hawkins also shot a 66 Saturday.

Knotted at 202 were Jack Burke of Houston and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, both with 67's Saturday. Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., was tied with Ed "Porky" Oliver of Wilmington, Del., at 203. Mayer shot a 67 Saturday, with Oliver scoring to a two-under-par 70.

Snead Trails Far Back
Amateur Dow Finsterwald of Akron, Ohio, had 204 total. Tied with Frank Stranahan of Toledo at 206 were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., and Bob Toak of Northampton, Mass.

Knotted at 206 were Gene Sarazan of Germantown, N. Y., Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill. Right behind at 207 were Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., Ted Krohn of New Hartford, N. Y., and Dave Doug of Newark, Del.

In the 208 bracket were Jimmy Demare of Ojai, Calif., Chuck Klein of San Antonio, and Earl Stewart, Jr., and Harry Todd, both of Dallas.

ST. PAUL TO GET WOMEN'S MEET
PORT WORTH —(P)—The Amateur Women's Championship of the U. S. Golf Association will be held August 20-25 at Town and Country Club, St. Paul, Minn. Mrs. Frank Goldswarte, women's chairman of the USGA, said Saturday.

Instead of two weekend hunts allowing four days of White-Winged Dove shooting, Dodger announced the season, probably will be Friday, September 14, Sunday, September 16, and Tuesday, September 18, with the usual 4 p. m. to sunset shooting hours.

Dell Morgan To Return To Rice As Assistant Coach
HOUSTON —(P)—Dell Morgan, former Texas Tech coach, will return to Rice Institute after a 10-year absence. It was announced at Rice Saturday.

Morgan will be a special assistant coach to Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Jess Neely, working only three months a year, according to the present setup. Morgan will work with the team September, October and November, spending most of his time with the line. He was line coach under Neely in 1940, then took over the head coaching job at Texas Tech. He resigned at the end of the 1950 season.

He will continue his farming and ranching work at Quanah between seasons. Dewitt Weaver succeeded Morgan as head coach for the Red Raiders of Lubbock.

Dodger Predicts Curtailed Seasons
AUSTIN —(P)—Curtailed seasons for the 1951 mourning and white-winged dove shoots were predicted Saturday by Howard Dodger, Game Commission executive secretary.

Dodger said he understood the opening dates for the mourning dove season would be those recommended by the commission, September 15 for the North and October 15 for the South, but the season will run only 40 instead of 45 days.

Bag limits of 10 per day and 10 in possession are expected to continue, but shooting hours likely will be from noon to sunset instead of all day.

Children's Rain Fashions Are Bright, Gay

There's style in rainwear for small fry this spring. This little girl (left) wears, with her hooded raincoat, rain boots in white rubber. By means of zippers, the boots open up wide so that she can slip them on herself. The little boy and girl wear (right) bright yellow raincoats for higher visibility and therefore, greater safety. The boy has a rubber patrol raincoat, matching hat, and yellow, four-buckle rain-tight boots. His little sister's raincoat has a plaid collar and plaid lined rubber hood. Her rubber boots are bright red.

Much Ado About A Fountain Pen

PECOS—City Secretary Dub Martin was promised a "double chocolate whipped cream sundae" by a somewhat embarrassed city council member this week—all over a misplaced fountain pen.

At the last council meeting, Mayor Cecil Cottrun picked up a pen from the table and eventually pushed it toward his position at the head of the table.

Councilman E. W. Beauchamp thought the pen was his, so after proceeding to tell the mayor about it, he retrieved the pen and took it home with him—only to find that his own pen was resting safely in his desk. Besides, Beauchamp uses black ink. Ink in the strange pen was blue. Beauchamp's face was red.

The councilman sought the mayor to apologize for high-pressureing him out of his pen. But it wasn't Cottrun's pen either, he thought it really belonged to Beauchamp.

It finally developed that the rightful owner was Martin.

RUTH MILLETT

Seeking 'Perfect Home' Is A Wild Goose Chase

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"In America Nothing Is Ever Good Enough," a home decorating magazine reminds its women readers. The article itself and the photographs illustrating it point up all the changes one family has made in their home during the past five years.

Says the magazine: "We have never encountered a more dramatic example of the speed with which the best turns obsolete. . . . Only five years ago we analyzed this house down to its last light switch and hailed it as a perfect fit for its occupants."

Is the fact that a "perfect" house can be outgrown and outmoded in five years something we ought to cheer about? Should we take pride in the fact that what we were happy with a few years ago is all wrong today?

Or should we maybe wake up to the fact that you can spend a lifetime trying to keep a house perfect by "present day" standards. You can spend so much time and energy and money and thought on the project that you never get a chance to settle back and enjoy the perfection. How can you, if you know that even as you relax in your perfect home it is with "dramatic speed" becoming obsolete.

When Grandma got herself a house and filled it with furniture she expected both to last a lifetime. In that house she expected to rear a family, receive the visits of her grandchildren, and grow old, still thinking it was a good house, and still prizing the furniture she bought as a young wife, as well as the family heirlooms that were handed down to her.

We don't have to be like Grandma, though it must have been a pretty comfortable feeling, at that. But we don't have to be so easily dissatisfied with the things we have, either.

That "nothing is ever good enough" attitude doesn't always mean progress. Sometimes it just means change—and change at too high a price.

Ask Papa. We'll bet any house he thought was "perfect" five years ago doesn't look obsolete to him. Because Papa foots the bills.

Pumice And Cream Are Aids In Making Elbows Lovelier

This two-in-one beauty routine, which will insure extra glamor for holiday evenings, includes a lemon bleach for discolored elbows and an oil bath for brittle nails.

By ALICE HART
NEA Staff Writer

Many women tend to treat their elbows like step-children, utterly neglecting them while lavishing attention upon other beauty chores. Since people tend to notice loveliness as a whole instead of giving credit for individually pretty parts, it's poor policy to adopt this out-of-sight, out-of-mind attitude toward anything so conspicuous as your elbows. Their glaring defects can spoil your entire beauty picture. One well known cosmetics firm offers one elbow kit to aid women whose arms are marred midway by enlarged pores.

Since smoothing is a logical first step in any elbow treatment, a pumice bag is provided for this purpose. This is a small silk pouch through which powdered pumice sifts for abrasive action as you briskly massage the rough areas. The next procedure is softening. This is done with an elbow cream especially rich in lubricants. For protection of clothes or bedding after the cream is smoothed on, elbow guards are supplied in the kit. Made of shining satin which has been mated with elastic for sleek fit, these guards add a touch of glamor to your elbow routine.

Dan hopes to go on a camping or fishing trip before returning to school again this September.

Peggy Whitson will leave her stenographic work at the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation this fall to return to McMurry College where she is a junior.

Shirley is Delta Zeta president at TU. At the first of the summer she attended the Presbyterian church camp at Mo Ranch near Kerrville.

Just Staying At Home

Carol Glahn and Bet Studdert are "just staying home" and enjoying it. Carol will return to Texas Tech as a sophomore when school begins again. Bet, who spent her freshman year at St. Mary's College in Raleigh, N. C., will enter TU this fall. She took two of her North Carolina friends to Santa Fe, N. M., for a week early this summer.

Also traveling this summer is Francine Weaver, an education major at TCU. Francine said that weddings and the visiting of friends has kept her quite busy during her vacation.

After taking a trip to New York, Harold Chancellor entered summer school at TU and will receive his degree in August.

Hard at work in summer school is Alex Oates, who is preparing to enter medical school soon. Alex is a junior at McMurry.

In Summer School
Two more Midlanders not taking a rest from studying this summer are Jessica Turpin and Helen Cartwright. Jessica is attending the university at Austin and Helen is at Texas Tech summer school.

Whether working or just resting, Midland college students are enjoying their vacation time but are looking forward to returning to school again this September.

Avoid Moist, Sticky Palms

By ALICE HART
NEA Staff Writer

One of the most unpleasant things about summer is the "feel" of unloveliness brought on by moist and sticky skin. Even though you manage to keep your looks fairly presentable, it's difficult to face the world with assurance when your confidence is undermined by an ungracious feeling.

A dab of cologne on her palms guards this young woman against moist, sticky hands, makes more pleasant her leisurely game of solitaire.

Particularly distressing to many women are moist palms. Whether you're enjoying a leisurely game of solitaire on a lazy weekend, or exchanging handshakes in the midst of a whirling social eddy, this condition is an uncomfortable one.

If this is your problem, you may find it helpful to pat the inner surface of your hand with toilet water or cologne. The evaporating alcohol will bring down the temperature of the surface skin, providing not only a sense of coolness, but building as well your grooming confidence and personal comfort.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL
David Sellers, 504 North Big Spring Street, was given emergency medical treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Friday.

Mrs. Homer E. Pace, Jr.

Hardy Traveler Is Best Vacation Suit

By GALE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Putting travel on a personal basis means not only what you will wear when you reach the ultimate spot, but how you will look en route. No matter what the conveyance, you don't really want to step from it looking as if you'd just made a cross-country trek by covered wagon in the winning of the West.

A suit that's a hardy traveler, therefore, is the suit that most women want. It should have simple, uncluttered lines and be cut from a fabric that can take it and still come out looking fresh.

Such a suit (left) is in pale blue rayon given a roll-and-crease resistant finish. It's useful both on the way and at the point of arrival. The single-breasted jacket with its double-cuffed pockets can be worn with other skirts, slacks and with knee-length shorts. The straight skirt can fill in with odd sweaters and blouses.

Another of these suits (right) is double-checked in gray-and-yellow. It has cuffed patch pockets, pearl buttons at the front closing, and a lapelled collar. Skirt is slim but sufficiently easy to allow for walking comfort.

Midland Schools To Open September 4

By TANNER LAINE

School bells will ring again in Midland September 4 and close to 6,000 students are expected to answer them at 11 installations of the city's system.

The estimate of 6,000 students is based on a number of factors, including attendance during the last week of school last term, as compared with enrollment of last Fall, population gain of the city, and graduations as compared with newcomers to school.

In preparing the physical plants and employing teachers, Supt. Frank Monroe has put the actual expected student load at 5,900.

"And that its conservative," the educator said. Enrollment in all Midland schools at the end of the 1950-51 term last May was 5,379. This is compared with the enrollment during opening week of 4,712.

A school system to accommodate 5,900 to 6,000 students has constantly been studied by school officials and the Board of Education.

Two new structures will receive students and one of them, an elementary school, will be opened for the first time. It is the new Sam Houston Elementary School, located near Memorial Stadium. The other school is the newly-enlarged De Zavala School for Latin Americans. Other schools include North Elementary, South Elementary, West

Campus Beautification Is Aim Of Extensive Program

By TANNER LAINE

A campus beautification and improvement program in progress at all Midland schools during the summer months is aimed at having well-kept lawns and playgrounds ready when students "come back to school" September 4.

Also the program aims at making the school grounds beauty-spot assets to the sector in which they are located.

Rich soil has been put on each school campus. The grounds have been leveled and knifed and then grass seed was planted. The city and county cooperated in furnishing heavy maintenance equipment.

The grass is well up at all schools and presently is being watered. A weed spraying program also was completed on all campuses.

A mower, maintained by the school system, is busy daily at one plant or another.

On Off-Peak Hours

School officials stressed that the campus watering project is done in strict accordance with water conservation. And school yards are watered on off-peak hours of the city's consumption of water.

To get an idea of the project, it required 2,100 pounds of Bermuda grass seed for planting at nine schools. Also approximately 3,500 pounds of fertilizer were used.

At five elementary schools, the planting of lawns was an entirely new project. At the junior high and high school plants, lawns were renovated and improved.

Campus beautification as two schools now under construction will be done later. These are Sam Houston Elementary and DeZavala School. Also, the lawn project was new at Carver High School and Elementary.

Maintenance men for the various buildings will take over care of the lawns when the initial planting project is completed. But the school system's mower will serve all.

Native Soil Is Good

Good native soil at David Crockett Elementary saved the system much expenditure. Little top soil was moved onto the campus at this school in a newly-developed sector of the city.

Not-so-good native soil at the South Elementary School has proved of concern to project leaders. Extra care and materials have been put into the project at that school so that it will be as good as the other campuses.

"We are almost ready for keep-off-the-grass signs," one proud workman said.

Beautification and grading of the campuses came as a result of hard work after much demand by citizens. The problem was studied by the board of education at many meetings.

Short Gowns For Summer

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The short dance dress, gaining in popularity for Spring and Summer, may be formal or informal. It has, without a doubt, a longer and more varied life than the formal gown. It's pretty, easy to wear and suitable for many occasions.

Further, many short dance dresses are now convertibles. They come equipped with little ruffled capes that can also be worn as aprons, with their own matching dusters, with brief boleros or with attached stoles. Thus, the length of their stay in a wardrobe is automatically lengthened.

The evening duster, incidentally, may be in two layers of colored organdy—chartreuse over turquoise, for example. It may also be in matched layers. That is, pale blue cotton lace is layered over nylon tulle.

Colors are frequently refreshing. Thus, an orange velvet belt may appear as accent on navy-and-white silk organdy, or sugar plum, a deep red-violet, may be used as contrast for chalk white.

Complete, careful attention to detail and graceful lines mark the new short evening dresses designed by Eisenberg. One of these dresses (left) is pure silk organza in black over aqua silk. Chantilly lace is set into the full, flattering skirt. The neckline is wide and square, and looks right with cap sleeves. Black velvet encircles the waist.

Another (right) is navy over pink silk makes another of these dresses. The neckline is a deep, wide V. Solid organza crescents band a billowing skirt.

Baptist Encampment To Open On July 30

MARFA—(P)—The annual Paisano Baptist Encampment—where ministers and church workers have gathered for 31 years for worship and study—will be held July 30-August 5.

The historic Paisano Pass Campgrounds are between Marfa and Alpine.

Cottages on the camp grounds are privately owned. Two new dormitories have been built to house 90 men and 90 women. Meals are served cafeteria style.

A new tabernacle to seat 1,800 persons was completed last year. It was named the "Crawford Mitchell Tabernacle" in honor of the Marfa man who has been the president of the Paisano assembly for many years.

Breakfast starts at 6:30 a.m. at Paisano, and the first classes start an hour later. Preaching services come every day at 11:15, and evening worship is held at 9:30 p.m.

Dr. Perry Webb of San Antonio and Dr. P. B. Thorn of Wichita, Kan., will be the preachers this year. Dr. Kyle M. Yates of Houston will be the Bible teacher; Dr. T. C. Gardner, Dallas, Training Union director; Eula Mae Henderson, Dallas, Women's Missionary Union leader; and Sam Allen, basketball coach at Wayland College, Plainview, will be the Youth Service and recreation director.

Touring Family Finds Midlanders And Rain Predominant In New Mexico Resort Region

By BILL COLLYNS
The Reporter-Telegram Staff

TAOS, N. M. (Tuesday)—Rain and Midlanders are about to take this country.

Here in this beautiful and scenic mountain resort, known far and wide as one of the foremost art centers of the nation, a terrific rain, the heaviest of the season, washed the pine-scented air and the green countryside a few minutes before our arrival. We could see the rain in the distance as we topped the mountain and glanced at the royal gorge of the Rio Grande and on in the direction of Taos.

Cots and blankets are much in order here tonight. A most delightful experience.

And no sooner had we parked at Jack Denver's Taos Motor Lodge here than we ran smack into a couple of former West Texans—Mr. and Mrs. Chick Buleot, who formerly resided in McCamey and Big Spring (12 or 15 years ago) and who now live in Fort Worth. They had driven from Andrews, where they have a new grandchild, for a brief mountain outing.

Visit With Shrivvers
And Tuesday morning in Santa Fe we saw and visited with Frank (former city councilman) and Mrs. Shrivver of Midland. M. T. Smith was another Midlander we saw there. Frank and M. T., both with Shell, were in Santa Fe to attend some sort of New Mexico oil hearing.

Other Midland oil men reportedly were in attendance, but we failed to see them as we took in the sights and visiting the numerous points of interest. Shrivver told us that Bob Wood and party of Midland were in Santa Fe earlier in the week. These Midlanders certainly get around.

Ran into another former Texan, Newsman Bill Bailey, at the Santa Fe New Mexican. He formerly worked on newspaper at Lufkin and in the Rio Grande Valley.

And then in the office of Will Harrison, editor and vice president of the New Mexican, we had a delightful visit with Mochtar Lubis, editor and co-publisher of the Djakarta, Indonesia, Raya newspaper. He is visiting newspapers while on a tour of the United States, and was to leave New Mexico later this week for San Antonio. He says newspaper is more than scarce in Indonesia, too, and that he can print only four pages daily. Indonesia, like America, has a free press, according to the visiting editor.

Santa Fe, by the way, is known as "The City Different," and it certainly is far different from anything we ever had seen before. Everything centers around the Plaza, and the spirit of the carnival reigns supreme. Never have we seen so many teen-age boys and girls roaming the streets, all apparently having a wonderful time and bothering no one. It is a sight to behold. And the capital city itself, its narrow streets and narrower sidewalks, is far different from any other city. A fine meal at the most unusual La Cocina de Santa Fe and a good night's sleep on a soft bed at the El Ray Motor Courts provided a lasting impression of the ancient and fabulous City of Santa Fe, many of whose buildings were erected before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock. And at Taos we find the same carnival spirit on a more limited scale, but with beautiful paintings by New Mexico artists displayed everywhere. Everyone is friendly and congenial and everyone is having fun.

Tomorrow we plan to hit Colorado if the rain holds out. It's showering around in this Sunshine State.

ABILENE—In 1950 the 132 counties served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce received $7,307,792 from truck license fees and truck gasoline tax payments for their road and bridge funds and for their schools, according to an article written for the July issue of the WTCC magazine, "West Texas Today," by James Taylor, executive director of the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

In addition, the State Highway Department spent in these 132 counties $12,138,928 for highway construction and maintenance that was derived from license fees on buses and taxes paid on gasoline used in trucks. The truck license fees provided $4,209,092 for road and bridge funds of the territory and the truck gas receipts amounted to $2,098,602 for support of schools. These counties also received $1,070,098 as surplus from the county road bond assumption funds, that is, money allocated to that fund to retire county road bonds that was not needed for that purpose.

There are 1,778 Texas communities that depend entirely upon motor transportation for their supplies and for shipment to markets of their products; many of these are in West Texas, some large towns, some county seats, Taylor wrote.

Last year, trucks carried 70 per cent of the nation's vital petroleum—one of Texas' chief products, he declared.

Taylor wrote further as follows: "James K. Knudson, defense transportation administrator, had pointed to the need for getting more work out of existing trucks, particularly during the national emergency.

"He recommended that the states enact laws carrying out a code promulgated by the American Association of State Highway Officials and endorsed by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"A Texas law that will go into effect September 7 follows the code, which is based on a scientific study which sought to determine how much weight trucks could carry without damaging the highways.

"Along with the law increasing the truck load, the Legislature voted a companion bill which provides that overloaded trucks must be unloaded on the spot.

"This measure, designed to tighten law observance of the weight regulation, was not opposed by the trucking industry after the bill had been amended to remove what it considered were certain, harsh and unreasonable restrictions."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Mr. Whimsy

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, has told a story of Mr. Whimsy. It seems that Mr. Whimsy, according to the story, was a whimsical fellow who once lived in a strange and faraway land. One day Mr. Whimsy decided he wouldn't be wanting to go to sleep any more. He was thinking that sleeping is a waste of time.

But how on how could Mr. Whimsy stay awake and awake and awake? Well, he couldn't stay awake and awake, you know, unless he talked with old Brother Sleep, and so that is what he did.

"Brother Sleep," said Mr. Whimsy "will you please not look at me with a sleepy look? Will you please not give me a look that will make me sleep? I want to stay awake and awake."

"Well now," said Brother Sleep, "I'll tell you what I'll do. Mr. Whimsy, I will not look at you with a sleepy look to make you sleep until it is time for you to sleep."

"Thank you, Brother Sleep," said Mr. Whimsy, "just remember not to look at me with a sleepy look until it is time for me to sleep, and don't let the time be coming too soon."

Brother Sleep promised again that he wouldn't be looking with his sleepy look until the time came for Mr. Whimsy to go to sleep, and so Mr. Whimsy stayed awake the whole day long and way past supper. Why, it was nine o'clock, almost, and the stars were bright in the sky, when Mr. Whimsy said to himself: "Soon the time for me to sleep will come, and so I had better hide so Brother Sleep will not be looking at me with a sleepy look. Aha, and yes indeed. If, Brother Sleep doesn't find me, then he can't make me go to sleep."

Having said these words to himself, Mr. Whimsy looked for a place to hide from Brother Sleep. Where oh where should he hide? Well, Mr. Whimsy decided to hide beneath his very own bed. Yessir, when Brother Sleep came looking with a sleepy look to find Mr. Whimsy, Mr. Whimsy would be hiding beneath his bed, and what a joke on Brother Sleep.

Mr. Whimsy laughed to himself to think of the joke, but the joke was really on Mr. Whimsy after all. No one can hide very long from the friendly old fellow who Brother Sleep is, and so it happened that Mr. Whimsy slept all night right there on the floor beneath his bed. Happy day!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1961, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
 Drew Pearson says: U. S. taxpayers to subsidize almost two-thirds of Greek food ration at cheaper prices than Americans pay for own food; OPS demoralized while awaiting Congress' action on controls.

WASHINGTON — No announcement has been made to the American people, but while their own food prices skyrocket, they will foot the bill to keep Greek food prices down. For the United States has agreed to subsidize over half of the Greek diet at cut-rate prices.

What happened in Greece is that a timid government permitted inflation to push prices out of reach of the average Greek. The Greek government refused to pass high taxes of inflation controls, so, to combat a sure breeder of communism, the U. S. A. has promised to underwrite a three-year rationing program.

Thus we will subsidize approximately 65 per cent of the Greek ration, or 1,500 calories out of a total daily ration of 2,400 calories. But what's more, the United States will not only guarantee the food, but will supply it at below-market prices. In other words, the American taxpayers will guarantee all Greeks two out of three meals a day—at cheaper prices than the Americans are paying for their own food.

This is on top of the $2,000,000,000 in aid that has already been poured into Greece since the end of the war.

Note — Real profiteers are the Greek shipowners, who have grown fabulously wealthy overnight shipping ECA cargo. They bought their ships at bargain-basement prices from the United States, and are now charging scandalously high rates for use of these ships. In return, they are paying no taxes to the United States and almost none in Greece.

Price Stalemate
 While congress has been haggling over price controls, the office of price stabilization has come to a virtual standstill. This is revealed in a confidential memo from price headquarters to all branch chiefs and section heads.

Marked "for internal use only," the memo shows how the price agency has bogged down and become demoralized while waiting for congress to make up its mind about controls.

"Naturally we regret the present situation since it has brought to a halt the development of five months of carefully considered and hard work," the memo declares. "However, neither recrimination nor looking for an easy way out will resolve our problems, and we ask that the agency continue to stand together as a team until such time as its immediate course can be more clearly charted."

The memo instructs price chiefs throughout the country that price boss Mike DiSalle "desires to maintain the status quo . . . in connection with our manufacturer regulations as well as with most other price actions."

"As just one example," the confidential memo points out, "Mr. DiSalle felt that if we issued our price-increase actions during this period, congress could take the position that we were showing pique and petulance and trying to place it in the worst light . . . accordingly, our job is to make the best of a bad situation until such time as it is resolved by Congress."

Headlines And Humer
 The most unpopular agency in the government, as everybody knows, is the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which collects our taxes. Actually however, the BIR is made up of human beings who, despite their unpleasant job, manage to get a few chuckles out of their relations with John Q. Public.

For instance, a disgruntled taxpayer recently wrote the bureau: "—And from him that hath not . . . shall be taken away even that which he hath."
 "That's from the Bible, you lugs, and I think it's the only part you believe in."

 Another taxpayer attached this note to his income return: "Only two things in life are certain—death and taxes. What I resent is that they don't come in that order."

The BIR has heard about every alibi in the book for the filing of delinquent returns, but the most unusual came from a man who confessed: "I would have paid this sooner only I was laid up with a fractured uncle." Another taxpayer, explaining why he listed his mother-in-law as a dependent, added: "She eats like a horse."

The bureau received an anonymous letter from a taxpayer who felt that his obligation to the government was greater than his tax. Enclosed was a substantial check, with an attached note: "Inasmuch as I wish to remain anonymous, you will please pardon me for not signing this check."

Another taxpayer being interviewed by a deputy collector was trying to get away with a whopping list of dependency claims. The deputy knowing that the man was lying, turned to another collector and jokingly inquired:

"John, what time does that bus load of people who have gyped the government leave today for the federal penitentiary?"

"Man, I just remembered," interrupted the startled taxpayer. "Scatch all those names off. I don't support nobody but myself."

Price boss Mike DiSalle probably doesn't know it, but one of his top consultants on price ceilings was once fined $1,500 for violating price ceilings.

He is Arthur B. Maurer, a Kansas City meatpacker, consultant to the Office of Price Stabilization. His job is to advise how high price ceilings should be on food.

Yet Maurer's own packing plant was fined $1,500 during World War II for violating price ceilings. He pleaded nolo contendere to 20 counts of overcharging. In other words, he placed himself at the mercy of the court and, on Oct. 8, 1943, was found guilty of selling at wholesale "beef

Time, and bathing suits, marched on leading to Norma Smallwood, Miss America of 1926, who looked like this (left) as she won her title. She was the first Miss America to wear a form-fitting suit. Among the also-rans to Norma Smallwood in 1926 was Miss Dallas, Rosebud Blondell. She went on to fame as Joan Blondell, and her suit in 1926 is the first to look almost like a present-day model. But there was still the stripe fad to get through before present-day models could emerge triumphant. Here, in 1927, is the very popular striped top, with belt and solid color trunks. Everybody wore it. Bathing belles in last picture show how the world was divided, in 1928, between the solid color suit and the one with a fancy top. It took a few years, but finally the solid one won out. Nobody mourns for the loser.

Youth Center Chatter

By JUNE HAZLIP

It's that time again and here we are. And we aren't alone this time! Nope, Joyce and Gall aren't back yet but we do have company! We are being kibitzed from the side lines by a couple of Teeners who have nothing better to do than sit around and get us frustrated as we desperately try to keep our mind on this work of art we call "Youth Center Chatter!"

First off, we think congratulations are due quite a few Midland Teeners. Right at the top of the list is Marcelino Marino, Marcelino, who is a member of the MHS Golf team, stroked a 74 recently in Abilene to qualify for the United States Golf Association National Tournament. The tournament, which is for Junior Golfers, is being held in Champaign, Ill. Congratulations, Marcelino, and the best of luck to you!

We find another golfer who will represent Midland in a national tournament. Roane Puett brought in a three over par 74 at Brackenridge Park course in San Antonio to qualify as Texas' second representative in the William Randolph Hearst National Junior Golf Tournament. The tournament will take place Monday through Tuesday at Pittsburgh, Penn. Good luck to you, too, Roane, and we'll be keeping our eyes on Midland's two national golf representatives.

Golf On Agenda
 But we aren't through yet. These Midland Teeners seem to have championship golf on the brain! When the Texas Junior JayCee golf team goes to the National Tournament in Durham, N. C. a Midlander will be the alternate. Graham Mackey lost out in the playoff for fourth place to win a berth as alternate. Roan Puett, Raymond Leggett, and Doyle Patton also played in the Texas Junior JayCee Golf Tournament, finishing up behind Graham. Congratulations to all of you boys, too!

You may think this is the end but it isn't! We have still more Midland Teeners to congratulate. Roy Kimsey came through for Midland in the state swimming meet at Tyler to place third in the 50-meter breast stroke. Roy tallied up Midland's only points and we think he deserves a big "well done!" Also swimming in the meet for Midland were Bill Mims, Bill Erskine, Bob Howard, Howard Hale, Joe James, Jarry Friday, Dennis Burton, John Crowley, Tommy Johnson, Enid Little, Mary Hearndon, Louise Burton, Mary Johnson, Jan Scott, Jo Ann Cunningham and Shirley Pulliam.

Mims, Howard, Kimsey, and Erskine placed sixth in the 200-meter free style while Jo Ann Cunningham, Jan Scott, Mary Johnson, and Mary Hearndon did the same thing in the girls 200-meter event. In the diving, Crowley, Friday, and Dennis Burton placed sixth, seventh, and eighth, respectively. Although these were not "winning places" they were qualifying and anyone who has attended a state meet will realize just how well these Teeners did. For, in any meet as large as this one, qualifying is done against heavy competition and those who make the grade have just cause to be proud!

So, we say, congratulations to every one of you who entered. Before we leave this business of swimming we would like to give credit to a gal who did a fine job in the qualifying heat for the 50-meter backstroke. Enid Little placed second only to Jane Knipe who is "Texas' best."

However, in the finals Enid was disqualified due to an accident. In a swimming meet a swimmer is disqualified if he or she touches the rope or leaves the lane. During the race the rope marking Enid's lane came loose and in trying to keep off it she touched it and was disqualified. We think Enid deserves congratulations although she did not place in the finals.

Bill Gildwell and Ed Dillon accompanied the group as sponsors and Mrs. Little went along as chaperon.

Nick Harrison, who is a midshipman in the United States Navy Reserve, left Saturday for Norfolk, Va. where he will board the Stanton.

Pecos Citizens To Pay More School Taxes Next Year

PECOS — Property owners here will pay more school taxes next school year although the tax rate has not been raised, announced W. S. McCree, school board chairman.

In order to provide additional funds for operation the board has decided to tax property valuations at the rate of 70 per cent of the equalized amount rather than the 60 per cent basis used previously.

McCree gave several reasons for the change. Valuation of oil properties in the district shows a decline of some half-million dollars, he declared, due to pro-ration in the Orla fields, to depletion and to other factors.

In addition, McCree continued, the tax problem is further complicated by the city's rapid growth.

Enrollment Growth
 City School Supt. Ray Whitley said the schools had a 14 per cent increase in enrollment during the last school year, amounting to an average of 23 new pupils every week. Whitley expects the increased enrollment trend to continue this year.

Said McCree, "Actually, the school board has very little to say in the matter of how much money must be raised. Under the Gilmer-Aikin program, minimum standards are fixed by the state and we must abide by them."

"If we do not comply with the state program, we lose Gilmer-Aikin funds; and we lose our affiliation. In other words, a school not in compliance with the state's requirements might as well close up," he concluded.

Gonzallas Hangs Up Shootin' Irons

DALLAS—(AP)—There's a Texas tale that's supposed to be true about a Texas sheriff who was afraid he had a race riot brewing.

So he called for the Texas Rangers.

The next day the train came—and off jumped a lone ranger, two guns slapping his khaki-cjod hips. "Where's the rest of them?" the worried sheriff asked.

"Heck, you just got one riot, ain't you?" the ranger drawled.

The Texas Rangers still send out only one man on a case, except in unusual circumstances—and the loneliest lone ranger of them all is Capt. Manuel T. (Lone Wolf) Gonzallas.

"I guess I got that nickname because I went into a lot of fights by myself—and I came out by myself, too," Gonzallas said.

Tall are the tales they tell in Texas about Lone Wolf Gonzallas.

Had Ranger Ambitions
 He grew up in El Paso on the Mexican border with a boy's ambition to become a Texas Ranger. And he did.

When Gonzallas joined the Rangers in 1920, Mexican bandits still made lightning raids across the Texas border. Gonzallas stalked the thick brush and canyons of South Texas hunting them down.

Soon oil was discovered in East Texas. Wild boom towns sprang up—minus jails.

In Gonzallas' office today is a long chain. Back in those hectic days the bad men who were caught were handcuffed to the chain and anchored to a tree or building. When the chain was filled up, the offenders were herded to jail in the county seat.

"Even the toughest of them were glad to promise to leave town to get off that chain," Gonzallas said. "It took the ego out of the hardest men."

You can't prove any of the tales

they tell by this lean, lithe man with the gray at his temples and the wrinkles around his blue-green eyes that Texans get from staring across wide open spaces.

He just doesn't talk about cases. "I've been in many a fight," he said. "Knives, guns and fists."

"I won all my fights. The good Lord must have been standing there with his hand on my shoulder a lot of times."

They say that on Captain Gonzallas' guns the notches have notches.

"But I don't notch my guns," Gonzallas said. Why? "Well, I just don't."

In 30 years as a ranger, Gonzallas collected 580 guns of all types. He's been getting rid of them this month, for he retires to go west to Hollywood as technical consultant on the radio program, "Tales of the Texas Rangers."

Gonzallas is keeping three braces of "hand guns"—all hand made. On each, these words are engraved behind the trigger: "Never draw me without cause nor shield me with dishonor."

Mark Of Ranger
 The mark of a Texas Ranger is his tan slacks and shirt, black tie, wide-brimmed white hat, high-heeled cowboy boots.

"And two pistols," Gonzallas said. "One of each hip. Two will shoot longer than one. In a fight you might lose one, or something go wrong with one. It would be mighty embarrassing if I didn't have another one handy."

Gonzallas went on: "You know, people get talking about the rangers and say it ain't like the old days." In his opinion the rangers of today are even superior—due to education and modern equipment.

"But don't let people tell you rangers don't ride horses any more. Every ranger has his own horses.

Only difference now is that we carry a horse to a job in a trailer behind a car, where he used to ride long distances. We still need a horse for rough country.

"We've got one of the finest technical labs in the United States down at headquarters in Austin. We've got radios and we've got teletypes."

Texas has just 50 rangers at the present time. The state is divided into six districts with a headquarters in each district.

Captain Gonzallas has been head of Company B of North, Northeast and East Texas, covering 58 counties, for many years. His headquarters is in Dallas.

"The rangers are a tightly-knit group—Gonzallas' first love. "I'm his second love; I admitted that long ago," said Gonzallas' wife of 31 years. They have no children.

Gonzallas had a German mother and a Spanish father. He was born in Spain because his parents happened to be visiting there at the time.

He is going to keep his home in Dallas and commute to Hollywood on his new job.

Gonzallas has, inscribed on parchment, the only honorable discharge the Texas Rangers ever gave. "In recognition of his courage, devotion to duty, fidelity, loyalty and integrity during his long and exemplary service to the people of Texas . . ." the inscription reads.

With him goes one of the last of the old-time, quick-drawing Texas Rangers.

The Stork Did Me A Great Big Favor!

All of a sudden it hit me just now, how lucky I am. Ninetenths of the world is afraid—but I haven't got anything to be afraid of. A lot of the world is hungry—I don't really know what hunger is.

Nobody decides what my "place" is, and best of all nobody wants to . . . I can rise and grow as far as I am willing to pay the price, in hard work and self denial.

What I have is mine—I can spend it or save it, and if I save it I can keep it, for myself or for my children; no man dares take from me what I have earned.

I can be lazy and just get by, or I can work and be paid more and more as I produce more. Or, I can go into business and be my own boss.

I can think and say what I want. I need never shrink in fear of anyone. No one commands me, no one will command my children.

I don't much care what you call all this . . . free enterprise or the American way, or democracy; names don't matter: It's America! I like it. Don't let anybody dare take it away nor change it. I like it this way. It isn't perfect but it is the BEST there is. I'm grateful. Let's fight to keep America that way!

Home Cost Can Be Lowered By Large Down Payment And Short-Term Loan

The total costs of a home can be reduced considerably by paying down as much as possible and paying off the mortgage principal as fast as possible. It is pointed out by mortgage officers of lending institutions that a total of $142 more interest is paid on each $1,000 borrowed at 4 1/2 per cent if loan runs 20 years instead of 15 years, for example. In the case of a $10,000 loan with a term of 20 years, total interest would amount to $5,190, whereas if the loan ran 15 years, total interest would be $3,770.

Landscaping Adds Value To Property

How much should the average homeowner invest in landscaping his property to put a real picture in his picture window?

That's one of the questions frequently asked by builders who view landscaping as an investment that enhances the value of the property, says Mary Deputy Lamson, landscape consultant for Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company.

"A rough rule-of-thumb is that the grounds can cost—and probably will before they are finished—from a fifth to a third of the total cost of the house and land," she explains. "This amount is a sound investment, while any greater proportion than that is unduly extravagant and frequently due to bad planning. Such an expenditure, of course, includes driveways, walks, grading, lawns, and planting—everything outside the four walls of the house."

Mrs. Lamson says that if the expenditure for landscaping is made as the result of careful planning and judicious use of the money, it is actually recoverable when the property is sold. However, she points out that it is not necessary to spend the entire amount on landscaping at one time in order to create a real picture. Economy can be practiced in landscaping just as it can elsewhere about the home. In addition, she said, economy can be served by purchasing quality rather than quantity.

Dry Summer Days Are Best Time To Paint

Best season of the year to paint a house is during the dry, hot days of mid-summer, because the less moisture there is in the air the smaller the probability of paint cracking and peeling a few months later.

The finest paints will prove unsatisfactory unless applied on a perfectly dry surface. Painting should not be done during humid or foggy weather, immediately after a shower.

Clean Surfaces
Before starting to paint, all surfaces should be made clean and smooth. Old loose paint should be scraped off with a stiff wire brush. Burning off old paint with a blow torch is widely practiced, although the open flame always constitutes a fire hazard. Electrically-heated paint-removing tools, now available, are safer.

While the exterior surface is being prepared to receive the new paint is also an ideal time to have the walls blown full of mineral wool insulation since the paint will cover all traces of the wall openings made by the insulation applicators.

Climate A Factor
Only top-quality paint should be used and its chemical content should be checked against local climatic conditions. In excessively dry climates, soft paint containing a high percentage of white lead is most satisfactory. In warm, humid areas harder types of paint containing greater amounts of zinc oxide give best service.

Too much oil causes paint to dry slowly, and to soil and fade. Too little oil causes it to wear off rapidly. Cracking is a characteristic of hard, quick-drying paint. Wrinkles appear when heavy oil paint is not thoroughly brushed out, and chalking usually is caused by too much thinner or skipping on the number of coats.

Professional painters recommend two coats, when the surface is in good condition and most of the old paint remains after sanding or scraping. Otherwise three or four coats are needed.

Interior Painting
These rules also apply for interior painting, and here it is even more important that surfaces be completely smooth. Old calcimine should be thoroughly washed off and walls and ceiling should be bone-dry before painting. Loose paint should be scraped off and the surface smoothed down with sandpaper. Fill plaster cracks with fine patching plaster. Large holes and cracks should be made wider at the bottom than at the surface before patching, so that the new plaster will stay in place. When the patch is dry, smooth it down with sandpaper and cover with a prime coat of paint to prevent the patch showing through.

Pre-Payments Advantageous
Even if financial circumstances do not permit a larger-than-minimum down payment, considerable savings can be effected through the years by making pre-payments against the mortgage principal every time accumulated savings or a financial windfall will permit. Each dollar paid on principal reduces the total amount of interest.

Before making such pre-payments mortgagees are advised to determine if this can be done without penalty. Many conventional mortgages (those not insured by the Federal Housing Administration or the Veterans Administration) carry clauses in which penalties up to five per cent of the face of the mortgage are chargeable against the borrower if pre-payments are made. Loans insured by the two federal agencies permit pre-payment without penalty.

First Floor Seen Best Location For Home Laundry Room
Washing the blues out of "blue Monday" is not a job for automatic laundry equipment alone. Whether wash day is pleasant or not depends basically on the attention given the laundry's location when a home is still in the planning stage.

By tradition that room has long been relegated to the basement. But, home economists point out, that location results in a great waste of energy, for a basement laundry means five to ten trips downstairs and up again each week with heavy loads of clothes.

A first-floor location, on the other hand, eliminates stair climbing and makes it easy for the homemaker to do the wash and at the same time supervise small children and prepare meals. The kitchen-laundry is a popular solution, and the laundry also can be combined with a bathroom or a special area for canning, freezing and storage space.

The laundry needs floor and wall materials that will not be damaged by steam and water. One of the most satisfactory is clay tile, since it is moisture-proof and can be kept clean and sanitary easily.

Space For Dryer
Maybe a drier will not be installed immediately, but space should be planned for it and other equipment that may be acquired later. Equipment should be arranged so that the sequence of sorting, washing, drying and ironing can be carried out easily.

Storage space is a necessity in the laundry. A cupboard about three feet long will take care handily of washing powders, bleaches and other needed supplies. Since color makes work more pleasant, the laundry room should be decorated in clear shades that will reflect light. Pastel shades of blue and green are very appropriate. They will make the room seem cool. A ceiling light is insufficient for the laundry. Additional light also should be planned at work centers, so the homemaker will not have her own shadow falling across her work.

T&P Places Orders For More Diesels
DALLAS —(AP)—The Texas and Pacific Railway expects to be completely dieselized by April of 1952. Purchase orders for 20 more diesel locomotives have been approved this Summer. They will be delivered early next year.

The T&P system stretches from New Orleans to El Paso.

Hail never occurs when ground temperatures are below freezing, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Built-Ins Can Solve Storage Problems

Looking for a solution to your home storage problems? Then borrow the techniques of an expert whose built-in storage units have been winning the plaudits of the 60,000 occupants of the houses he designed for them at Levittown, New York.

Ingenuous ideas for shelf and drawer combinations which you can adapt to your own needs and specifications come from Alfred Levitt, designer of the 15,000 homes his firm, Levitt and Sons, constructed at the now-famous Long Island community. Located so strategically that every spare inch of space in the house is utilized, the built-ins literally cover all the puzzling angles.

Ells formed by windows, shallow closets, corners that are too small or too irregular in size for standard furniture, narrow spaces between door jam abutments, the areas under long eaves—these are just a few of the blanks in a room that can be converted quickly into assets, maintains Levitt. Measure carefully if you're planning to install shelves or drawers for specific purposes, the designer warns. Sheets, blankets, books, records, toys, clothing or tablewares all can be stacked away neatly and conveniently in built-in units, but you'll defeat their purpose if they aren't wide and deep enough to accommodate the articles you plan to store in them. Remember, too, he cautions, to have the shelves or drawers continued right down to the floor. In this way, all of the available space is utilized and the problem of cleaning under the unit is eliminated.

Number Of PMA District Changed
Under a redistricting of Production and Marketing Administration offices in Texas the Midland branch has been changed from District 7 to District 6.

The new divisioning gives the state 12 districts instead of 16. C. E. Champion of the Midland PMA office said the redistricting reduces the number of field men by four and also increases the responsibility of PMA committees.

Field men will not be able to visit committees as often as they have in the past, Champion said. Field man for the new District 6 will be John Gamble of Lubbock.

Kitchen Should Be Planned As Informal, Cherry Guest Center

The kitchen must be able to receive guests at a moment's notice since it so often becomes the party's focal point.

Special planning should go into the choice of bright, gay color for walls and floor. Canary yellow, a cool sea-green, or a bolder color accented with bright splashes of brilliant color on drawer pulls and cupboard handles will give tired walls a lift. A harmonizing floor of asphalt tile will add further interest and beauty, and at the same time provide a soil-resistant surface that is easy to clean.

Colored composition work surfaces will contribute to the cheer and easy upkeep of the room. Washable curtains in solid color, or white with touches of the accent colors will brighten the windows. Pull-up stools in chromium with washable cushions in bright colors will be convenient.

Provide shadow-free brilliance by placing fluorescent lighting tubes above the sink, range and work surfaces, and replace the incandescent center light with a 4- or 5-tube fluorescent fixture with "egg-crate" baffles to diffuse the light.
