Water District Sets Deadline For Midland City Must Decide Within Month On Joining In Project

The City of Midland Tuesday had a maximum of 30 days in which to join the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

That was the deadline set at Big Spring Monday afternoon in a meeting between Midland city officials and members of the district's board of directors.

Meeting with the Colorado River group were Mayor Pro-Tem Johnny Starr, Councilman J. B. McCoy and City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

The deadline was established as S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, engineer for the water district, which already includes Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder, said that within that time material for a critical section of the district's pipe line will be scheduled. Present plans call for a 33-inch line from Big Spring to Western Martin County.

If Midland joins, the 33-inch line will be increased to 36 inches and the other to 30 inches.

The additional cost at this time will amount to $1,000,000. If Midland joins the district later, an additional line probably would have to be laid at a cost of $3,000,000.

Oswalt said the city had little hope of reaching a decision within 30 days. Last week, the City Council took option on 17 sections of land in Northwest Midland County for development of a possible water supply.

Exploration of this land will not be completed for three months to six months.

Emaciated Controls Measure Awaiting Truman's Signature

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Truman's key stabilization aides reportedly have advised him to sign the new economic controls bill Tuesday—and also to block it as inadequate to curb inflation.

In Congress, the general expectation was that Truman will approve the bill by midnight, when the present law expires.

The White House said only that the President was not expected to act on the measure until late in the day, probably in the evening.

Some lawmakers termed the bill they sent to the White House Monday a good one and said the President has no justification for complaint. Others criticized it and declared more legislation will be needed to check inflation.

The United Labor Policy Committee, representing most of organized labor, blasted the measure as a "callous betrayal of the consumers" and said it would back Truman if he vetoes it.

The measure provides for continuing wage, price, rent, consumer credit and defense production controls through next June, but in some cases it eases curbs the President wanted tightened or unchanged. It lacks most of the additional anti-inflation powers the President requested.

The House approved the bill Monday, 294 to 80. Senate passage was by voice vote last Friday.

Price Director Michael V. Disalle reportedly has told Truman it is a quit claim bill.

The Supreme Court has ruled the federal government has paramount rights and full dominion over the submerged lands.

Congress, the court said, could decide the question of ownership.

Indictments Voted Against 12 Reds

LOS ANGELES —(P)—Indictments were voted Tuesday against 12 California Communist leaders. A federal grand jury acted against the 12 on charges of criminal conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the government of the United States by force.

One indicted was William Schneiderman, 46, described as the pinch-hit national party leader since the conviction of 11 top party leaders in New York last year.

Three Officers Die When Bomber Crashes

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, VA.—(P)—An Air Force B-26 bomber crashed near Langley Air Force Base Tuesday, killing its three occupants. The plane was on a night intruder training mission. All the dead were officers. Names have been withheld.

WHEAT IN THE STREET—Heavy rains have left the ground so soggy farmers got permission to pile more than 10,000 bushels of newly harvested wheat on the main street of Hamilton, Mo., since elevators and railroads can't keep up with the incoming harvest. Here, a trucker unloads wheat which usually is piled on the ground during harvest.

Business Happier Than Consumers At New Controls Bill

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK —(P)—Businessmen adjusted their sights Tuesday to the new controls bill under which they expect to live for 11 months. They are happier than the consumers, who can hope for very few rollbacks in prices and are braced for some price hikes.

Businessmen find many things in the new bill they prefer to the old one which expires Tuesday night—some ailing industries think the new bill will give their business a shot in the arm by relaxing credit curbs. Others see plenty of headaches, too.

On the bad side of the ledger, as they see it, are:

1. Labor's opposition to the new bill seems to foreshadow a new wave of wage demands. If the cost of living rises, as labor says it will under the new bill. And the new bill allows for raising prices to take in rising labor costs—but only up to last Thursday. Any wage hikes from now on apparently would require special rulings to prevent a squeeze on the company involved.

Paper Work Landslide

2. A landslide on new paper work may descend upon many companies as they refigure their costs and prices policies. And an even larger landslide of new rules, regulations and amendments.

3. A great many businessmen feel the new bill still is much tighter than necessary. They claim it aims to stop the law of supply and demand from operating on the upside, while letting it operate on the downside—businessmen say they are.

Richard W. McGee Gets 30-Day Stay

AUSTIN —(P)—Gov. Allan Shivers Tuesday approved a 30-day stay of execution for Richard W. McGee.

The reprieve was granted on recommendation Monday of the State Pardons Board to permit time for a sanity hearing.

Board Chairman Lyle C. Harris said the board's action was unanimous after receiving word during the afternoon that the sanity hearing was contemplated.

The Lubbock district clerk advised the board both by telephone and telegram of plans for the hearing, date of which apparently still is to be set.

McGee had been scheduled to die in the electric chair Thursday for the slaying of grocery executive R. L. Allison in Lubbock three years ago. Before the shooting, McGee had quarreled with Allison, Allison's wife, and their then 17-year-old daughter, Betty Jane, whom he insisted he was going to marry.

The new date for McGee's execution will be September 1.

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA. —(P)—The youth charged with reckless driving had an excuse—he had a snake in his hat.

He told police he became unnerved when the reptile slithered out of captivity and down his arm.

Lattimore Labeled Pro-Red

WASHINGTON —(P)—A former Russian general testified Tuesday that in the early 1930's, the head of Soviet Intelligence referred to Owen Lattimore and Joseph Barnes as "our men."

Alexander Barmine, head of the Russian unit of the State Department's Voice of America, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee he was supplying arms to a Western China province in 1933 while serving as a Russian Intelligence officer.

He said he asked his superiors for additional personnel.

He quoted a General Berzin, chief of Soviet Military Intelligence, as first offering several of his men and specifically mentioning Lattimore and Barnes among others.

Barmine said these were "the first two American names" that ever came to him in his intelligence work for the Soviet government.

Barnes was identified in the committee record as a former foreign correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, who from 1931 to 1934 was the secretary of the American Council of the Institute of Pacific Relations (IPR). Barnes no longer is with the Herald Tribune.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins University professor, then was editor of the institute's magazine "Pacific Affairs."

The Senate subcommittee is inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

The inquiry now is centering on the IPR.

Lattimore, who has had an occasional consultant relationship with the State Department, was named by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) last year when the senator charged Communist sympathizers had infiltrated the State Department.

Lattimore denied he ever had been a Communist or a sympathizer.

30 Men Called For Jury Service In County Court

Thirty veniremen have been called for petit jury service in County Court next week, when three "driving while intoxicated" cases and one aggravated assault case have been set for trial.

County Clerk Roseline Cherry Monday announced the following men have been summoned to report to County Judge Clifford C. Keith at 10 a. m. August 6:

R. B. Walker, Evander Sparks, Billy Rae, Joe W. Barnett, Charles E. Barron, William S. Evans, William B. Neely, Jr., Bill Edwards, Romaldo Mondosa, J. L. Pledger, Shackelford Reeder and James G. Hicks.

Others include Ray Burns, Paul Ricker, Irvin Wallace, William Pife, Daniel W. Graham, Charles F. Henderson, C. A. Stroud, W. H. Alkman, John D. Hamilton, F. E. Curtis, Jr., E. J. Cramer and L. H. Cardwell.

And J. W. Parker, C. E. Reese, Elias Velarde and J. C. Whigham.

Survivors include a daughter, Sherry Lynn, 16 months old, and the father, E. Russell Lloyd, Sr., of Midland, and a sister, Mrs. John W. LeSasser of Houston.

British Company Shuts Down World's Largest Refinery

ABADAN, IRAN —(P)—A red-haired Scotsman pushed a button Tuesday and halted the last gasoline producing machine of the world's largest refinery... closed in the bitter oil row between Britain and Iran.

The Anglo-Iran Oil Company's giant plant at Abadan Island has been slowing down production a month. Tuesday it ceased altogether because no room remained in the acres of storage tanks to put any more gasoline, kerosene and other products.

More than a month ago, the traffic of oil tankers was halted by the nationalization dispute which centered over Iranian seizure of the AIOC's vast holdings. Both the Iranian government and AIOC demanded payment for oil shipments and, as a result, the company pulled out its tankers.

Veteran Cattleman Dies At Fort Worth

PORT WORTH —(P)—R. M. (Bob) Tadlock, 65, a veteran cattleman and first manager of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo, died Monday night. He had been critically ill several weeks.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, a daughter and two sisters.

MAKES PEACE WITH INDIANS—Republican Senator Robert Taft (Ohio) smokes a peace pipe presented him by the Accomack Tribe to make peace with the American Indians, after his address at the annual clambake of the Plymouth County Republican Club in Boston, Mass. He spoke on the best way to stop the Russians and, incidentally, on another of his favorite subjects: the best man to pick for the Republican presidential nominee in 1952.

Armistice Parleys Continue Snarled

UN ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, KOREA —(P)—Armistice negotiators argued stubbornly for an hour and 34 minutes Tuesday on where to draw the cease-fire line in Korea without getting any closer together.

It was the fifth successive day United Nations and Communist delegations devoted to the buffer zone issue.

The announced result of each session was the same: no progress.

"The area of disagreement has neither broadened or narrowed," an official UN spokesman said. The Reds want UN forces to abandon their present battle line and pull back to the 38th parallel.

Delegates met again at 11 a. m. Wednesday (7 p. m. Tuesday CST) in their sixteenth session at Kaesong for another try at breaking the deadlock.

"There was no indication of a compromise to me today," commented the briefing officer, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols. "On the other hand, as you know, a position can be adjusted very quickly. That is neither optimistic nor pessimistic."

No Perceptible Change

The official UN communique said: "There was no perceptible change in the expressed viewpoints of the two delegations" in Tuesday's sessions.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy amplified the Allied position, the announcement said, trying to show "the mutual benefit to be derived from acceptance of this view."

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il replied by repeating "his previously stated stand."

The UN wants the demilitarized zone established along present battle lines, cutting across North Korea for more than 80 miles.

From Tokyo came reports that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, UN commander, may be planning to issue a statement on the thorny issue of where to establish a buffer zone that has bedeviled efforts to end the shooting war.

There was no hint when such a statement might be made.

Contract Let For 30-Mile Pipe Line In Midland County

HOUSTON —(P)—The Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company Tuesday awarded a contract to Carl H. Dunn of Fort Worth for about 30 miles of pipe line in Midland County.

The line, 27 miles of which will be 8 5/8 inches in diameter and 2.70 miles 6 5/8 inches, will connect the Scharbauer and Sweetie Peck fields with the Midland station of the Basin Pipe Line System. The line is to be in operation in about 45 days.

Texas' Sizzling Heat Continues

By The Associated Press

It's hot in Texas—all over the state, and the forecast is for continued heat.

The highest recorded temperature Monday was 105 at Presidio and Cotulla. Other hot spots were Austin 103; Del Rio 104; San Antonio 102; Alice and Wink, both 101.

Folk in Corsicana complained that the thermometer had reached 100 or better 26 out of the last 28 days.

The Weather Bureau reported scattered showers. Dallas had more rain than anywhere else Monday night—1.17 inches since midnight.

The bureau forecast more showers in the Panhandle.

Ben-Gurion's Party Leads Israel Ballot

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL —(P)—Official returns from 87 of 150 polling places Tuesday showed Prime David Ben-Gurion's Mapai (Labor) Party leading with 38.8 per cent of votes counted in Monday's parliamentary elections.

The conservative General Zionists were second with 17.6 per cent throughout the nation.

City Sewage Plant Plans Are Changed

A last-minute change in plans for Midland's new sewage disposal plant—to insure the safety of the city's Cole Park water supply—was worked out Tuesday morning.

The changes were made at a conference between Joe E. Ward, consulting engineer who designed the plant, and a delegation from West Texas Geological Society.

The changes will mean no delay in the construction of the facility, for which bids will be opened at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Location Questioned

The geologists group had questioned the location of the plant's oxidation ponds, in which the treated sewage will be stored for evaporation. Some of these ponds were located within a few hundred feet of one of the Cole Park water wells.

It was pointed out there was a remote possibility of seepage from the oxidation ponds contaminating the water wells.

But, under the changes agreed on Tuesday morning, all oxidation ponds will be located "downstream" along Midland Draw from the water wells.

The location of the treatment plant itself will not be changed.

Representing the geological group were Ed Reed, Dave Henderson, Bob Spivey and John Galley.

House Votes States Title To Tidelands

WASHINGTON —(P)—The House has decided the states have undoubted right to the riches of their Tidelands for three miles out to sea—ten and a half miles in the case of Texas.

That includes the vast deposits of oil already known to lie under the coastal waters of Texas, California and Louisiana.

But Monday's 265 to 109 roll call decision by the House still is far from becoming law. It must be acted upon by the Senate, and, if passed there, would go on to President Truman.

The President, in 1946, vetoed a similar bill, and Congress did not muster enough strength to override the veto.

The Senate Interior Committee has before it similar legislation, a quit claim bill.

The Supreme Court has ruled the federal government has paramount rights and full dominion over the submerged lands.

Congress, the court said, could decide the question of ownership.

Super-Value Days, Sales Event, Slated Here Wednesday

The third of Midland's Super-Value Days will be observed Wednesday.

Super-Value Days are weekly events set aside by Midland merchants to offer special values in general merchandise. Super-Value Days were inaugurated July 18, and the first event proved so satisfactory to merchants and customers it was decided to make Super-Value Days a weekly event.

Super-Value Day advertisements will appear in each Tuesday's issue of The Reporter-Telegram and will be grouped together for convenience to customers.

Super-Value Days will not be observed when Wednesday falls on a holiday, or during weeks in which $100 Day is held.

Three Spraberry Wildcats Will Be Drilled In Midland

Three more Spraberry wildcats are slated for immediate drilling in Midland County, one by Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation and two by Anflo Oil Company of Denver City.

Mid-Continent will drill its No. 1-T TXL as an 8,000-foot test well and one-quarter mile southwest of production in the Tea-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County. Drillsite has been staked 660 feet from north and east lines of section 31, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Anflo will drill its No. 1 and 2 R. S. Davenport in the undeveloped area in the south portion of the Driver-Spraberry field of Southeast Midland County.

No. 1 will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 46, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

No. 2 is to be drilled 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the same section.

These two projects will be drilled under permit to 9,000 feet.

Murchison Is To Re-Drill, Deepen Yoakum Dry Hole

J. W. Murchison is to re-drill and deepen a 8,013-foot failure, abandoned in 1948 in Southwest-Central Yoakum County, as a wildcat to 11,500 feet.

The project is Murchison No. 1 Fouts, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 575, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Location is one-half mile north of the lone producer in the West San Andres field, and six miles southwest of Plains.

Permian Wildcat Is To Be Drilled In Sterling Area

Chapman and McFarlin Production Company No. 1 Sarah Bade is to be drilled as a 5,300-foot Permian wildcat in Southwest-Central Sterling County.

Location has been staked 660 feet from north and east lines of the west half of section 16, block 22, N&TC survey and 10 miles west of Sterling City.

That makes it one of three recently opened Parochial-Bade fields.

New Strawn Field Seen In Schleicher

Possibilities of the opening of a new oil and gas field from the Strawn line of the Pennsylvania in Central-North Schleicher County has been indicated by Wesley W. West of Houston No. 1 Christina Mittel.

All reports from the wildcat are from unofficial and unverified sources. Operator is withholding all official information on the project. The exploration is credited with flowing oil at the estimated rate of 15 barrels per hour by some interested observers in a drillstem test from the lime zone at 6,172-6,227 feet.

Made Gas

That test is said to have developed considerable gas. No details of the test are available. It is understood that operator was taking another test on the same interval.

Some sources say that the West No. 1 Mittel is on a separate structure from the North Holladay field which is two miles east and slightly south of the prospective new discovery.

The West prospect is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 77, block TT, Texas Central Ry. survey.

North Of Eldorado

It is 1 1/2 miles north of Eldorado and three miles south of the north line of Schleicher County.

No. 1 Mittel is said to have shown gas and distillate in a 96-minute drillstem test at 6,132-95 feet. Unofficial reports say that it showed gas at the surface in two minutes and distillate in eight minutes. The section is credited with flowing drilling mud at the top in 33 minutes.

Gas volume during that test was estimated at 15,000,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery when the tester was pulled was 10 feet of distillate. A previous test at 6,132-32 feet developed gas estimated at 5,000,000 cubic feet per day.

No geological markers are available on the West No. 1 Mittel.

City Must Decide Within Month On Joining In Project

The City of Midland Tuesday had a maximum of 30 days in which to join the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

That was the deadline set at Big Spring Monday afternoon in a meeting between Midland city officials and members of the district's board of directors.

Meeting with the Colorado River group were Mayor Pro-Tem Johnny Starr, Councilman J. B. McCoy and City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

The deadline was established as S. W. Freese, Fort Worth, engineer for the water district, which already includes Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder, said that within that time material for a critical section of the district's pipe line will be scheduled.

Present plans call for a 33-inch line from Big Spring to Western Martin County.

If Midland joins, the 33-inch line will be increased to 36 inches and the other to 30 inches.

The additional cost at this time will amount to $1,000,000. If Midland joins the district later, an additional line probably would have to be laid at a cost of $3,000,000.

Qwatt said the city had little hope of reaching a decision within 30 days. Last week, the City Council took option on 17 sections of land in Northwest Midland County for development of a possible water supply.

Exploration of this land will now be completed for from three months to six months.

City Sewage Plant Plans Are Changed

A last-minute change in plans for Midland's new sewage disposal plant—to insure the safety of the city's Cole Park water supply—was worked out Tuesday morning.

The changes were made at a conference between Joe E. Ward, consulting engineer who designed the plant, and a delegation from the West Texas Geological Society.

The changes will mean no delay in the construction of the facility, for which bids will be opened at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Location Questioned
The geologists group had questioned the location of the plant's oxidation ponds, in which the treated sewage will be stored for evaporation. Some of these ponds were located within a few hundred feet of one of the Cole Park water wells.

It was pointed out there was a remote possibility of seepage from the oxidation ponds contaminating the water wells.

But, under the changes agreed on Tuesday morning, all oxidation ponds will be located "downstream" along Midland Draw from the water wells.

The location of the treatment plant itself will not be changed.

Representing the geological group were Ed Reed, Dave Henderson, Bob Spivey and John Galley.

House Votes States Title To Tidelands

WASHINGTON—(P)—The House has decided the states have undisputed right to the riches of their Tidelands for three miles out to sea—ten and a half miles in the case of Texas.

That includes the vast deposits of oil already known to lie under the coastal waters of Texas, California and Louisiana.

But Monday's 285 to 169 roll call decision by the House still is far from becoming law. It must be acted upon by the Senate, and, if passed there, would go on to President Truman.

The President, in 1945, vetoed a similar bill, and Congress did not muster enough strength to override the veto.

The Senate Interior Committee has before it similar legislation, a quit claim bill.

The Supreme Court has ruled the federal government has paramount rights and full dominion over the submerged lands.

Congress, the court said, can't decide the question of ownership.

Indictments Voted Against 12 Reds

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Indictments were voted Tuesday against 12 California Communist leaders.

A federal grand jury advised against the 12 on charges of obstructing the government of the United States by force.

One indicted was William Schindlerman, 46, described as the pinch-hit national party leader since the conviction of 11-top party leaders in New York last year.

Emaciated Controls Measure Awaiting Truman's Signature

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman's key stabilization aides reportedly have advised him to sign the new economic controls bill Tuesday—and also to blast it as inadequate to curb inflation.

In Congress, the general expectation was that Truman will approve the bill by midnight, when the present law expires.

The White House said only that the President was not expected to act on the measure until late in the day, probably in the evening.

Some lawmakers termed the bill they sent to the White House Monday a good one and said the President has no justification for complaint. Others criticized it and declared more legislation will be needed to check inflation.

Labor Urges Veto
The United Labor Policy Committee, representing most of organized labor, blasted the measure as a "calculated betrayal of the consumers" and said it would back Truman if he vetoes.

The measure provides for continuing wage price, rent, consumer credit and defense production controls through next June, but in some cases it eases curbs the President wanted tightened or unchanged. It lacks most of the additional anti-inflation powers the President requested.

The House approved the bill Monday, 294 to 98. Senate passage was by voice vote last Friday.

Price Director Michael V. DeBalle reported he has told Truman Monday he has no choice but to sign the bill—that letting controls lapse would cause chaos in the defense production program and perhaps send prices soaring.

Super-Value Days, Sales Event, Slated Here Wednesday

The third of Midland's Super-Value Days will be observed Wednesday.

Super-Value Days are weekly events set aside by Midland merchants to offer special values in general merchandise. Super-Value Days were inaugurated July 16, and the first event proved so satisfactory to merchants and customers it was decided to make Super-Value Days a weekly event.

Super-Value Day advertisements will appear in each Tuesday's issue of The Reporter-Telegram and will be grouped together for convenience to customers.

Super-Value Days will not be observed when Wednesday falls on a holiday, or during weeks in which $1-Dollar Days is held.

Loretta Young Says: Spare The Rod—Spoil The Star

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood—A movie queen who's been toting the crown and septer high on to a quarter of a century in Hollywood dimpled her dimples and said that "most stars need a good sound spanking once a month."

Her majesty, Loretta Young, was getting right down to the bottom of what's wrong with gorgeous dolls who fall flat on their faces while sprinting to the big throne.

"Spanking?" I gaped.

"Yes," said Loretta.

Would she care to name some candidates for the woodshed treatment? About 10 or 12 would be just right. A "Ten Movie Queens Who Should Be Spanked" list. We could start with a shapely blonde and—

"I worry about them so," Loretta sighed. "Somebody new and exciting comes up. Then the divorce thing starts. I say 'Hang on, girl, get solid.' I'm pulling for her every inch of the way."

"Shelley Winters," I said. "Would you say that Shelley needed a paddling?"

Loretta ignored it.

"To be a star, you have to be a woman first," she opined. "Nobody likes a shell. Actresses are inclined to be shells in the motion picture business."

"It's easier for us. But you have to fill up that shell with real things to stay on top and hold the public."

You have to fill it up with everything your mother taught you."

"What about Ava Gardner in the spank-pank line?"

"Hollywood," Loretta went on, "lets its actresses get away with too much. Not saying anything to a star when she's two hours late for work in bad discipline. Forgiving her when she storms off the set isn't good, either."

"Hollywood falls down by not teaching stars that we're all in a very serious profession."

I coughed and weakly muttered: "Judy Garland, Barbara Payton, Gloria de Haven, Corinne Calvert?"

Loretta knitted her brows together thoughtfully.

"I was very lucky," she said. "I had a marvelous family behind me, a wise mother. If you can have this wonderful, moral background behind you, you have a chance of achieving something solid. Otherwise—"you live too quickly and you're gone at 21."

"Important responsibilities go with stardom. I've seen stars who were unwilling to take on these responsibilities come and go in Hollywood. They were interested in the money and the thrills and the glamor."

"I know it isn't easy to accept all sides of Hollywood. But there's nothing concerned with this business that I haven't learned to live with and even enjoy."

About the spankings, I reminded Loretta.

How did Pat Neal and Linda Darnell fit into the hairbrush-poised-over-the-backside picture?

Loretta clasped her hands together.

She said that actresses fret and worry their careers away.

"They brood because another actress has won a big role. They misuse their talents by being over-concerned with everything about a picture but their own performances. If you're an actress, you're not an exhibitor, cutter, editor, producer, critic or press agent. You're just an actress."

You don't catch Loretta whin- about the plum part that Jane Wyman just snagged or the it's got-to-cop-first-honors role that Irene Dunne is about to play.

She spurned membership in the Usher of the Month Club when she won her Oscar for "The Farmer's Daughter."

She laughed: "People said, 'Betcha you're going to be mighty careful from now on, kid.' An actress who is out to get an award is crazy. She'll never get it."

I made one last stab at pinning her down on the spanking angle.

"What," I small-voiced it, "about Rita?"

"Rita Hayworth?" asked Loretta. I nodded happily.

"Rita," said Loretta, "I have cried and cried over that girl. God love her. God help her, that poor, poor girl."

As of 1935, when the beauty at left had her picture snapped, progress had arrived. In the last 13 years, not much has happened to the one-piece suit, except a different generation has begun to wear them. But one great big step forward remained. Next we see, in 1939, a bare midriff. This early two-piece suit heralded the coming of a whole new trend in styles. The girls liked it immediately. P. S. So did the boys. And the two-piece style gave rise to many improvements. Like the next little number—a two-piece bathing costume easily homemade from men's neckties. This model gives it the old college tie. Last, here is another modification of the two-piece suit. This one is part ahead of the times, in the expanse of bare blonde back, and part behind the times, in the old-fashioned bustle hanging on. But it's 1947.

Business—

(Continued From Page One) cramped when it comes to making money, but are given every opportunity to lose money. This school of thought is the large one which thinks any set of controls defeats its own purpose.

Prices of many consumer goods probably won't go up, for the simple reason that in many lines businessmen are looking much harder for customers than they are for an excuse to raise prices. The government still will be controlling prices under the new bill, even if at a slightly higher level than the Administration planned.

Businessmen who look for relief from the new bill point to these things:

1. Relaxation of credit curbs may lead to much better business in the auto and appliance industries. Merchants are hoping for an assist this Fall from the rising total of personal income which they have been promised when the defense program gets under full steam.

2. Housing financing controls are relaxed in areas around defense plants and military installations, where shortages of homes exist.

3. Businessmen who have been squeezed hard by rising costs this year while the price of their product was bumped tight against a ceiling are hoping for relief. They have a chance now to take into account all labor and material cost increases up to July 26.

4. Small businessmen theoretically are to be helped in getting a larger share of defense orders. Proof of that will have to await its operation, however.

And some businessmen are thankful, too, for the things that aren't in the new bill. Among the President's requests which were denied they cite:

1. The right to curb speculation on commodity exchanges.

2. The right for the government to build and operate defense plants.

3. Licensing of business, so that any conviction of breaking a control law would put the company out of business.

4. The right to curb speculation on commodity exchanges.

5. The right for the government to build and operate defense plants.

6. Licensing of business, so that any conviction of breaking a control law would put the company out of business.

Terror Marks Red China

Many sincere people with no Communist sympathies whatsoever believe that the Chinese are better off under their Red rulers than they were before.

The carefully fostered Communist propaganda that their victory signaled a genuine "people's revolution" has had effect on non-Communists. Past corruption, the clear need for reform, the apparent willingness of the Chinese to accept Red authority, all these made the Communist claims seem plausible to some.

Facts are always a convincing antidote to Communist fiction, but facts about Red China haven't been easy to learn. Only a few reliable eyewitness accounts have come out to us.

The latest, however, ought to go far toward stripping the illusions from any who still credit the Red fantasy that the Chinese are "better off" today. It comes from Wang Chung, a Chinese worker, who escaped from his native land and managed to give a full report to the recent Milan conference of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

Remember, this is touted as the "people's revolution." If the term has any meaning, then the people should benefit from a Communist regime. Has this been true of China?

The answer is no. According to Wang—and other eye-witnesses agree—the Chinese people in most every respect are much worse off now than before Communist control.

They are exploited to the absolute physical limit. Where they once worked nine hours they may now work 15. Where they once drew 800 pounds of rice a month, they now get 100 to 150. There is no concern for their health or welfare. They are "human hulks" to be used until they fall in sheer exhaustion.

That is the lot of the "good" Chinese. The anti-Communist, or even the man guilty of just the faintest show of uncooperative spirit, is marked for oblivion. With sickening brutality the Communists have murdered millions of ordinary citizens. As in every Red-dominated land, the secret police have made terror part of the daily diet.

The key words in Wang's report were these: "I'm sure I am voicing the unanimous opinion of my terror-stricken people when I say we prefer war to Soviet tyranny. In war there is hope for peace and freedom. In tyranny there can only be tremor, agony, despair and perpetual slavery."

This is a dramatic reply to those who imagine the Chinese in improved condition. It is cold water in the faces of men who continue clinging to the notion that a Red regime means social advance.

What man can honestly dream of "neutrality" in the global struggle against such tyranny? Who could passively accept Red authority or military occupation with the thought that living thus is better than fighting and perhaps dying for freedom?

The man who can do that is either blind to truth or utterly careless of his liberty.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Chicago Tribune wants defense tax benefits on printing plant; Air Force worries about Navy sniping under new Navy secretary; Big business "bureaucrats" lobbied for controls.

WASHINGTON — The tax gravy passed out by the Truman administration for building defense plants is so juicy that even the anti-Truman Chicago Tribune wants to get in on it.

The Tribune, believe it or not, has applied to the National Production Authority for special tax benefits for building a $2,022,285.17 enlargement of its composing room, engraving room, pressroom, and circulation room.

This seems to be a long way off from mobilization. Yet a request was made to amortize this new addition to the Tribune plant in five years—the same benefit given to manufacturers of guns, tanks, airplanes, and war goods.

In a way you can't blame the Chicago Tribune for trying to horn in on this tax gravy. So many companies have applied for it—and got away with it—that it's become one of the biggest giveaways of mobilization.

However, the Tribune's reasons are interesting. It stated in its official justification for the tax gravy that the newspaper industry has been accorded a special position relative to other industries since 1789; that newspapers were considered essential industries in the last two wars; and that the press is the only daily medium that can be used to explain and interpret complicated governmental regulations.

Finally, the Tribune justified its proposed tax benefits by stating that each day it carries a large number of classified help-wanted ads, and, by so doing, it is, in effect, maintaining an active labor market in its columns, thus helping the defense effort.

What Col. McCormick apparently forgot, however, was first his two long editorials warning newspapers not to become obligated to the government.

Note — Another company asking for special tax benefits is the Hoberg Paper Mills of Green Bay, Wis., which considers toilet paper essential to mobilization. It asked for tax amortization on $1,800,000 for buildings and machinery to increase its manufacture of toilet tissue. Both this and the Tribune's application were denied.

Big Business Bureaucrats — Defense Mobilizer Charles Wilson, who used to be head of General Electric, and Eric Johnston, who used to head the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, are certainly getting a reaction from their old business friends.

After Wilson's radio-TV appeal for price control, Congressman Jesse Wolcott of Michigan angrily stated: "The position of the Republicans is being badly misrepresented to the country by bureaucrats."

To which Rep. John Rooney, the sharp-witted Brooklynite, slyly replied: "I wonder if the distinguished gentleman means those two well-known bureaucrats, Charles E. Wilson, just recently president of General Electric, and Eric Johnston, former head of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce."

There was acid in the voice of the usually unruffled Wolcott as he snapped back: "I say most decidedly I very definitely had them in mind."

Less Unification — The Army and Air Force are keeping a worried eye on the new Secretary of the Navy, able, astute Dan Kimball. They figure that under him, the recent cooperation they enjoyed under straightshooting Secretary Matthews and the late Ad-

Taft's Left-Handed Compliment To Lewis Needs Johnson On Controls

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, who in 1950 wrote letters to the coal operators telling them not to let Republican Robert A. Taft make campaign speeches on their properties, has now received a grudging tribute from the Ohio senator.

It happened at a Senate committee hearing. Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston was the witness. He was testifying that without wage and price controls, U. S. wage levels would have advanced far more than they have. Senator Taft challenged this idea, saying he didn't think controls had made much difference.

"I disagree intensely," said Johnston. "Look what Mr. Lewis got for the coal miners in January before wages were frozen."

"Just supposing Mr. Lewis had had that business three months later," replied Taft. "I would be willing to bet you a hat that he would have gotten what he wanted."

As a matter of fact, you had to come in after he got it and approve it retroactively.

Fish-Eater Dislike — Price Stabilization Director Michael V. Disalle made a speaking tour swing out through Minneapolis, Duluth and Fargo. Disalle is no great fish-eater himself. But every place he went on this tour they served him fish. Finally he cracked: "I don't know whether you're serving fish in my honor, or because of me."

Can't Freeze Tombstones — The Office of Price Stabilization has just put out an order decontrolling tombstones. Reason given was that they had no appreciable effect on the cost of living.

Wilson Backs NPA — Old line government bureaucrats are finding Mobilization Director C. E. Wilson a tough nut to deal with. The Department of Agriculture recently went to him, asking that allocations of aluminum for rural electrification cables and tin rather have "wings". The Air Force now has everybody completely balled up by changes in designation of what constitutes a "wing." It's still apparently all right to say that the U. S. should have a 150 "group" Air Force. But the Air Force wish people would say a 150 "wing" Air Force. The 150 groups would be only the flying organization of combat planes, bombers, fighters or interceptors.

But each "wing" consists not only of the combat "group" but also of one depot or airbase group, one medical group and one maintenance and supply group. These last three groups have no planes. They are the supporting elements which make a combat group a complete and independent operating unit, or "wing."

The reason for this shift in names arose from disputes over command. Formerly, every airfield had its base commander. When a group moved in, the group commander often had a conflict of authority with the base commander.

Today, when a combat group is assigned to any base, both the group commander and the base commander will take orders from the wing commander. The wing commander will also have authority over the medical and supply group commanders.

Two or more wings make up an "Air Division." Two or more Air Divisions make up an "Air Force." Going down the other way in this table of organization, each combat "group" of fighters or bombers is made up of three "squadrons."

In a fighter squadron, there will be four "flights" designated A, B, C and D. That's 16 fighters a squadron and 48 to the group. Bomber squadrons usually have 19 planes each, but they're seldom broken down into flights. So, 39 bombers per group, only hereafter, please call 'em "wings," to keep the fly-boys happy.

Beef prices will soar and serious beef shortage will develop if controls are relaxed in any way, according to Department of Agriculture's latest survey of cattle on feed. It covers the 11 corn-belt states from Ohio to South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas, and shows nine per cent fewer cattle on feed than a year ago.

American Meat Institute, which is the packers' trade association, translates this into 117,000,000 pounds less beef in the next 30 to 90 days, than in same period of 1950. This is about one pound less per adult, but that's enough of a shortage to encourage black market, "without livestock slaughtering quotas."

There are still more cattle on ranges than ever before, but feedlot operators haven't bought them for conditioning and later marketing. The threat of price controls and roll-backs is blamed for this situation.

Whom was Constantine about to fight when he had the vision of the cross in 312 A. D. A—He was about to fight Maxentius, his rival for supremacy in the Western Empire.

Chief Mitchell exchanged a meaning glance with the prosecuting attorney, Baker asked blunting: "Do you think Lawrence put the Gila Monster in that glove box?" Dr. Creighton managed to find something on the floor to hold his gaze.

"I'm not making conjectures I'm only telling you what I think you should know. Have you checked on where Lawrence was last night?"

"His alibi was the first thing I checked on," Chief Mitchell answered curtly. "Lawrence was out driving, and so was Pat. Sam was at home, he says, but the servants were off for the night. Not one of the family has an alibi. Tell me, do you really think Lawrence is nuts?"

Dr. Creighton looked stumped. "It's my professional opinion that he's a mental case. If proceedings to have him declared mentally ill were filed in the probate court, I'd have to give my opinion that he was."

Baker asked: "In what way does his illness show itself?" "Well, lots of ways. Books, Baude-laire, Huysmans and other depressing writers. He just hasn't a normal idea in his head. Ask him his opinion on anything, and he gives you something outlandish. No stability of mind. And he gets excited so easy. Talks to himself and wrings his hands when he thinks nobody's watching him. And he's getting worse."

Chief Mitchell nodded understandingly. "People in this town have always thought he was crazy."

"Do you mind," Baker asked, "calling Johnnie McAdams here to your office?"

The police chief looked perplexed but reached for his phone. He located the lawyer and asked him to come at once. He hung up and said: "He'll be here. What's on your mind, Paul?"

"I just want to ask him one question."

Johnnie McAdams, arrived to evening sports clothes, arrived 10 minutes later.

I should tell you. I hesitated before because of the confidential relationship of physician and patient. However, in this case, I was really retained by Laura Colton only and not by Lawrence. I've decided to tell you all about it.

"Please do," said Chief Mitchell. "Sit down and tell us all about it." Both men eyed the physician with intensity as he spoke.

"As you know, I was the draft board physical examiner during the war. And I suppose you remember the talk when I put Lawrence in IV-F when he was drafted in 1941. People said I kept him out of the army because Laura paid me. They said a lot of fellows with flat feet, weak eyes and worse hearts than his were drafted. That's true enough, but what they didn't know was that Lawrence wouldn't have passed a psychiatric test, and I knew it."

"So I thought I'd save the family embarrassment by making his eyes a little weaker than they were and his feet a little fatter and throwing in a heart murmur to boot. I was never paid a penny for this by Laura, but I did tell her all about it. I don't know whether she told Lawrence why he wasn't in the army or not, but right after that he got hooked on abnormal psychology. I've known of that sort of fellows go into that field because they know that they themselves were a little abnormal, and they wanted to find out what made them tick."

"Always after that Laura insisted on Lawrence going to me for a physical check-up. But what she actually wanted was a mental check-up. Of course I'm just a country doctor and not a high-priced New York psychiatrist, but every time I examined the boy I saw that he was growing a little worse. Finally last week I told Laura that if there wasn't something done about Lawrence, I couldn't answer for the consequences."

Both sides vul. West North East South. 1 Pass 2 Pass 3 N.T. Opening lead—4 7.

South was John Gerber, of Houston, Texas, and the hand was played in last year's national tournament.

Gerber wanted to play the hand as four hearts and was afraid that the enemy would go to four spades unless he talked them out of it. His jump to three no-trump was an attempt to persuade the enemy that their hands really didn't fit well and that they couldn't make much. Gerber expected to be doubled at three no-trump, after which he might run to four clubs, and then four diamonds, and finally four hearts.

It was a good idea, but as it happened the opponents really didn't have very much. North was well satisfied with no-trump even though he suspected what Gerber was doing. So the Texan star wound up playing the hand at no-trump with a singleton in each hand.

West opened the seven of spades, and Gerber decided to duck completely in the dummy. His nine won the trick, and East obtained the impression that South certainly had spade strength no matter what else he might be lacking.

Gerber next led the queen of hearts and let it ride for a finesse. This was a fine guess, based on the assumption that East had raised spades because of distributional strength. Declarer then led a diamond to dummy's king, and East won with the ace.

East decided that clubs were the only hope for his side, so he returned a club. With the diamonds breaking favorably Gerber won all the rest of the tricks, putting the ace of spades to sleep. His 12 tricks at no-trump gave him a clear top score.

THE GILA MURDER

BY JULIUS LONG

Copyright 1951 by NEA Service, Inc.

IN the office of Police Chief Mitchell that evening, Baker gave his version of what had happened just before the murder of Laura Colton.

"I figure someone was to leave something for Mrs. Colton in the glove compartment of her car. He wasn't to be seen, so instead of her parking in her reserved spot at the front part of the lot at the community center, she parked at the back, where the light was dim. After the meeting of the Civic Betterment League, Mrs. Colton drove Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Billings home. She was about 100 yards from the Billings house before she reached into the glove box to get whatever was supposed to have been put there for her. But it wasn't there. Someone had removed it and left a substitute—a Gila Monster."

Chief Mitchell nodded. "Yes, I can go along with that. The killer had to count on her opening the glove box and doing it promptly after the lizard was put there. If it was left there very long it would make a fuss and scratch and she'd know something was in the box. The motor noise apparently covered any sound it made while she drove those two women home."

"It must have, for neither of them heard anything, though Mrs. Billings now remembers she noticed an odd odor. I think it's just her imagination working overtime."

"Could be," said the police chief. "Anyway, the guy who did it knew for a fact that Lawrence was in the car. He knew she was scared to death of a Gila Monster even when it was in a wire cage. It sure looks like it was somebody in the family or awful close."

Epilepsy, A Nervous Disease, Can Be Helped By Drugs

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The nervous system includes the brain, the spinal cord, and an enormous number of nerves running around the body and forming a connecting network of the utmost importance. If anything in this complicated system is poorly formed at birth or is injured by disease or accident the operation of many functions can go wrong. A few of the more common nervous diseases therefore will be discussed this week.

Epilepsy, which is the most common cause of fits, is certainly a nervous disease which causes many heartaches and raises many problems. This disease arises in the brain and its seeds, at least, are present at birth.

Epilepsy is inherited and this has given rise to many questions about marriage and children. On this question the best opinion seems to be that some victims of epilepsy can marry and have children without risk to the off-spring and others cannot.

How to decide this is difficult, however, and requires judgment and the careful interpretation of all the facts including the results of the electroencephalograph which shows the electrical brain waves.

In view of this knowledge it seems hard to explain the "attitude" described in S. P.'s letter:

"When a man's nervous trouble has been diagnosed as epilepsy what is his duty towards wife and family? If over a period of years the patient rejects and resents medical assistance what are his wife's responsibilities?"

To this one can say only that the man in question is being unfair to himself as well as his family and all the wife can do is to try to change his mind.

It is known that not all people who have the basic brain pattern for epilepsy have fits, and of those who do, some are mild and come far apart. But thanks principally to the electroencephalograph, it is possible to tell a good deal more about the outlook for a person with epilepsy.

Drugs A Help

There is constant study of epilepsy going on and several drugs are available which in many cases lessen the severity of the attacks and make them come at longer intervals.

Epilepsy, then, is a disease of the nervous system which has not yet been conquered, but about which much is known and which should not be viewed too pessimistically by those afflicted or by their relatives.

One Of Suspended Diplomats Cleared By Loyalty Board

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Oliver Edmund Clubb, director of the State Department's Office of Chinese Affairs, went before the department's Loyalty Security Board Tuesday to answer undisclosed charges against him.

Clubb's appearance before the secret panel follows full clearance Monday by the panel of John Paton Davies, Jr., another career diplomat. State Department Press Officer Michael McDermott said Davies had been heard and cleared on both loyalty and security questions.

Both men were suspended from duty on June 27 pending hearings, but the State Department did not disclose the development until July 12. It did then, it said, because the news began to leak out.

Under the board's regulations, the specific accusations against the men were not made public. Both served extensively in China and their names were mentioned during the recent Senate investigation of the MacArthur firing.

Davies' hearing began a week ago, and late Monday the State Department announced the board had returned him to active duty on the policy planning staff, following full clearance.

Millionaire Leftist Handed New Prison Term For Contempt

NEW YORK —(AP)— An additional six months contempt sentence has been handed millionaire leftist Frederick Vanderbilt Field for his refusal to give data in the government's probe of the flight of four top-rung Communist leaders.

The new sentence, to be served after Field completes a previous 90-day contempt sentence, threatens to keep the great grandchild of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt behind bars nine months.

Field drew his new six-month sentence from Federal Judge John F. X. McCoohey Monday for refusing to tell a federal grand jury the names of contributors to the Civil Rights Congress (CRC) Ball Fund. He is a trustee of the fund.

A total of $80,000 ball was forfeited by the CRC fund when the four convicted Communists jumped bond early this month. The government said a clue to their hiding places might be found in the identities of ball fund contributors.

More In Prospect

But Field denied the data to Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan on July 6 and received the 90-day contempt of court sentence.

Field is appealing both sentences. He faces the prospect of being sentenced repeatedly for contempt if he is called back into court after his release and refuses to give the information.

Another development was an order by Federal Judge Edward A. Conger that William Z. Foster post new $5,000 bail by Monday to replace his three-year-old bond originally put up by the CRC fund, now outlawed.

Foster, as titular chief Communist in the U. S., was indicted in 1949 but was not tried because of a heart ailment. His 11 co-defendants, including the four fugitives, were convicted of conspiracy to advocate and teach the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Denver Gets Vacationing Family, Rains
By BILL COLLYNS
The Reporter-Telegram Staff DENVER, COLO.—The rains (at least a cooling shower) and the vacationing Collyns trio arrived in this "Climate Capital of the World" at about the same time Friday afternoon after a warm drive from Colorado Springs. It was the first rain we had seen in a couple of days, and was well-received by us as well as by the natives, who say it has been hot and dry here of late. Anyway, it is delightful right now.

Most of the range country to the south of Denver was green and appeared to be in good condition.

And what is there to do and see in Denver? An attendant at this new, modern and attractive tourist court said, "It all depends upon what you want to see and do." Well, we had better not go into that right now.

But in Colorado Springs yesterday, I think we saw it all. It was the busiest day of this more-or-less non-planned vacation tour. First, there was the Pikes Peak trip; then to the ancient Cliff Dwellings; the Garden of the Gods; the Cave of the Winds; and finally the Seven Falls. Finally managed to get someone to eat about 9 p. m. (And the rainbow trout dinner was very good). And this morning, all that was followed by a trip to the famous Colorado Springs Zoo and the Will Rogers Shrine atop Cheyenne Mountain.

Pikes Peak Is Tops

Pikes Peak, of course, tops everything else—elevation more than 14,000 feet. One keeps going right on up past the timber line, past the snow and past most everything else except the rocks and the freezing weather. The hot coffee and the warm fire are about the most inviting things on top the Peak except the dramatic views in all directions. We went up by limousine and down by cog railway, and we recommended the trip most highly. But take plenty of warm clothes. In fact, everything we saw yesterday is worthy of recommendation. And there is plenty more to see, depending upon the time. Certainly everyone visiting this part of the country should visit the remarkable shrine to the beloved Will Rogers.

And whom should we find operating the Cliff Dwelling concession than an old McCamey friend, the widow of the late Peyton Priddy, who formerly operated a McCamey theater. We also renewed acquaintance with her now-grown son, David Priddy, whom we had not seen in 15 or more years. McCamey friends of the Priddy's will be interested to know that David Lee is just as red-headed as was his popular dad.

Assumes Credit

It is funny that most of the sights in the Colorado Springs area actually are located in the vicinity of Manitou Springs, but Colorado Springs assumes the credit, the glory and most of the financial benefits. The Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce has done a remarkable job.

Of course there is the Tamed Broadmoor Hotel with its innumerable facilities located to the Southwest of Colorado Springs. It, too, is something to behold, and it doubtless housed several Midlanders as we drove around the beautiful resort hotel in all its splendor. Bob Hope, by the way, was at the Broadmoor too, but I understand he followed us to Denver this afternoon. (Source—The Denver Post).

Tourist trade reportedly is a bit off this year from last, but there still is plenty of business to keep the natives busy most of the time. And Texans still lead the way among the tourists.

It is too bad we forgot our canvas water bag (the one we bought last Summer in Gallup, N. M., and which we never used) since the bags hanging on the bumpers of automobiles seem to be the mark of the tourists. Now, we are just travelers.

And we still haven't used those red swim trunks we used last year at Long Beach. But Lorraine is most interested in finding a swimming pool in these parts, and we may use them yet.

And it is funny, too, the pennies one accumulates in touring these sales tax states.

And that reminds me of a sign hanging in a lounge (every Texas tourist has to visit a New Mexico lounge) in Santa Fe, which advises, "We cash personal checks—Manana." Fortunately we still had a few Midland dollars left.

And now to see Denver and to visit a Colorado lounge or two.

Daily Crude Output In Nation Climbs
TULSA —(AP)— With a lot of help from flood-freed Kansas, daily average crude oil production took a 39,975-barrel leap during the week ended July 28. The Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

The industry publication figured the week's total daily average at 6,132,825 barrels.

Kansas rebounded by 37,850 barrels to make the state's per-day average 331,150.

Only three other areas recorded better than 1,000-barrel gains, Michigan rising 2,200 to 40,100, California adding 1,100 to 978,600, and Kentucky increasing 1,400 barrels to 30,300.

Other gainers were Louisiana, up 750 to 612,475; Mississippi, up 550 to 10,500; Colorado and Indiana, each 500 barrels to 72,100 and 30,000, respectively; Arkansas, 250 barrels to 76,850; Montana, 100 to 23,300, and Florida 75 to 1,725.

The biggest loss was in Illinois, which fell 1,900 barrels to 189,400. Also down were Oklahoma, 1,300 barrels to 506,750; the Appalachian fields, 850 to 60,000; Wyoming, 600 to 194,600; Alabama, 150 to 2,950, and Nebraska and Utah, each down 100 to 6,250 and 4,000, respectively.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,744,750 barrels, and New Mexico, 147,125.

The Warsaw radio identified the defendants as Lieutenant Gen. Stefan Mossor, Maj. Gen. Stanislaw Tatar, Franciszek Herman and Jerzy Kirchmayer; Col. Marian Utnik, Stanislaw Nowicki and Marlon Jurecki; Maj. Wladyslaw Roman and Comd. Szcapan Wacek.

CRANE — Kathleen Kilpatrick daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kilpatrick of Cleburne, became the bride of Donald Denney Barnard Saturday in a candlelight service in the First Baptist Church of Cleburne.

The Rev. Charles Pitts, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and flanked by six-tiered candelabras.

Lighted tapers, white satin ribbons and commodore fern marked the bridal aisle.

George Prigmore of Fort Worth played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied the soloists. Mrs. Coy Simms of Fort Worth sang "Because" and "Through the Years" and Yolande Tyler read "Love" to the accompaniment of Liebestraum.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin nylon net dress, styled with a Queen Anne collar and full length sleeves. The hoop skirt was fashioned with a full overskirt of net. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a cloche of shirred satin. Her bouquet was of white rose buds and lilies of the valley.

Sister Is Attendant

Mrs. R. R. Robinson of Dallas attended her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. W. E. George, Jr., Betty Mattiza and Mary Lee Bridge of Glen Rose. Sylvia McPherson was flower girl.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids wore full length dresses of satin in a colonial design. Multi-colored Esther Reed daisies were carried in a satin fan bordered with nylon net.

W. J. Waller of Dallas was best man. Richard Robinson, Dr. William Jones and Malcolm Atwood were ushers, with Robinson and Atwood lighting the candles.

Mrs. Barnard, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of pastel green taffeta while Mrs. Kilpatrick's dress was pink organza over taffeta.

At the reception the bridal couple was assisted in receiving the guests by Mr. and Mrs. Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick, Mrs. Barnard, Mrs.

Homa Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Sullivan, Judge and Mrs. George McCall, Judge and Mrs. Penn Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Walker.

The bride threw her bouquet from an improvised stairway in the front yard of her parents' home.

Mrs. Barnard chose a navy blue suit with navy accessories for the wedding trip to Georgia and Alabama.

Barnard was graduated from Crane High School. He attended John Tarleton College, A&M College and Texas Technological College before entering the armed forces.

The bride, a graduate of Cleburne High School, attended Texas Tech where she was class editor of the annual and a member of Pi Alpha Lambda honorary society.

The couple will live in Fayetteville, N. C., where Barnard is stationed with the 82nd Air Borne Division.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

The new field opener is preparing to take potential test and complete. The production was natural from perforated section at 7,956-70 feet.

The flow during the 24 hour test was through a 1 1/4-inch tubing choke. There were no signs of water.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,600-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 625 pounds. Casing pressure was 1,100 pounds.

Location is 2,700 feet from north and 2,033 feet from west lines of section 23, block 11, University survey. The discovery is in an undeveloped area between the Embarras and Three Bar fields.

It drilled to a total depth of 9,398 feet in the Ellenburger. That formation made salt water with only slight shows of oil and gas. Operator then plugged back to 8,090 feet and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at that point for the testing of the Wolfcamp pay.

The pipe was perforated and the 282 barrel flow of new oil in 24 hours through the quarter-inch choke resulted.

Andrews Wildcat To Be Tested In Upper Formations

Having failed to find any production in the Ellenburger, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Tom Peay, Central-North Andrews County wildcat is expected to plug back to about 9,310 feet and test sections above that point which have flowed oil and try to complete from at least one of those sections as a commercial producer, and a new discovery.

No. 1 Peay ran a drillstem test at 14,028-085 feet in the Ellenburger. The tool was open two hours and 57 minutes.

Recovery was 900 feet of drilling mud and 11,700 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas. The Ellenburger was topped at 19,099 feet. Elevation is 3,180 feet.

The wildcat is 12 miles north of the town of Andrews and 1,736 feet from east and 573 feet from south lines of section 6, League 314, Gaines County School Land survey. It is three-quarters of a mile northwest of Florey.

This exploration flowed 16.3 barrels of oil per hour in a drillstem test in the Wolfcamp lime at 9,268-9,308 feet.

The zone at 9,225-51 feet recovered 1,710 feet of clean oil in three hours and nine minutes in a drillstem test.

The first oil flow was in a higher Permian lime at 8,170-8,200 feet. The project flowed 28.87 barrels of oil in 75 minutes from that interval.

Devonian Opener Is Indicated In NE Lea Sector

A Devonian discovery has been indicated in Northeast Lea County, N. M. at The Texas Company No. 1-AR State.

The wildcat was drillstem tested in the top of that formation at 11,490-455 feet. Tool was open three hours. Gas surfaced in two hours and 38 minutes. No fluid surfaced while tool was open, but recovery was 7,100 feet of high-gravity oil and 800 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. No water was made on the test.

Top of the Devonian has been called at 11,420 feet. No elevation has been reported.

After the above drillstem test hole was made to 11,500 feet where operator is attempting to take another test.

This wildcat is seven miles east and south of the Crossroads field and eight miles north of the Gladiolus pool.

Exact location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 2-11-37e.

Amerada Will Drill Project In Terry

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has spotted location for its No. 3 R. W. Powell at the south edge of the Adair-Wolfcamp field of Central-South Terry County.

It will be drilled to an approximate bottom of 9,000 feet to test for Wolfcamp production.

Drillsite is 660 feet from west and south lines of the southeast quarter of section 6, block C-37, pal survey and 20 miles northeast of Seagraves.

Weiner-Floyd In Upton Extended

Two and one-half miles west and slightly south of the Weiner-Floyd pool of Northeast Upton County, Gustave Ring and others of Midland completed their No. 1-22 V. P. Tippet as a producer from the Spraberry.

Leon Hayes Sold To Tyler Outfit

Hayes was used mostly in relief. He appeared in 20 games without winning one. He was charged with only one loss.

Yanks Win Again

By The Associated Press
The onrushing New York Yankees tacked another half-game on their lead in the American League race Monday. The defending world champions took a 5-4 decision from the Detroit Tigers in the only game played in the circuit.

Ed Lopat scattered 10 hits as the Yanks rapped up their thirty-third victory in the last 44 games to widen the gap over the idle Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. They now are two and a half games out in front.

The Brooklyn Dodgers likewise added a half-game to their substantial National League lead. And they did it the easy way. The Dodgers were not scheduled but received a helping hand from the Chicago Cubs, who spanked the second-place New York Giants, 7-6. The Giant-Cub game was the only daylight contest in the majors.

The Cincinnati Reds nipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-5, and the St. Louis Cards edged Boston's Braves, 4-3, in the other games.

Indians Swat Colts, 8 To 2, Behind Ten

It will be Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal on the mound for Midland Tuesday night when the Indians meet San Angelo in the second of their two-game series. No hurler has been announced for the Colts.

A large crowd of fans saw the Midland Indians keep their faint first-division hopes burning with an 8-2 win over the San Angelo Colts, pride of the Longhorn League, here Monday night.

Israel Ten, small right-hander, was the pitching hero. Ten scattered eight hits fairly well and struck out nine. Five of his strikeouts were in succession. He whiffed three straight men in the second and got two in the third before Charley Young broke the spell with a single to left field.

The Indians banged out 13 hits in taking the Colts and handing them their fourth straight loss. Two runs in the sixth inning broke a 2-2 deadlock. Bill Crumley walked and took second on a passed ball. Ten struck out and Hughes fled out. Escobar then delivered with a single to center field, the ball getting away from San Angelo's Bob Crues. Crumley easily crossed the plate and Escobar steamed into third. A single by Julio de la Torre brought Escobar home in the eighth.

Four runs in the eighth settled the issue beyond doubt. Biggest blow of the inning was a two-run double by Catcher Kenny Jones. Jones batted in four runs during the night.

Midland's defensive play—especially in the infield—was very sharp. The Tribe turned in three double plays, including a lulu from Scooter Hughes to Bill Crumley to Julio de la Torre that caught an Angelo runner asleep at third. Hughes performed in sparkling style at shortstop.

Ten tightened up along in the latter innings—after weakening momentarily in the middle innings—and sailed to his second win without defeat as a Midland pitcher.

Ten pitched out for Garza in ninth. Israel Ten scattered eight hits and struck out nine men, five in a row, to pitch the Midland Indians to victory over San Angelo.

The game, to be played in Alamo Stadium, which seats 28,000, is expected to be a passing affair. Bobby Page of Leverett's Chapel was very impressive with his passing for the South. Boring was doing most of the chinking for the North.

Minoso, Stan The Man Lead Loop Batters

CHICAGO —(P)—Shooting for rookie of the year honors, Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox boosted his hitting percentage by two points during the week to continue leading the American League batting race with .346.

Washington's Gil Coan gained ground in second place with a six-point hike to .340. Ferris Fain is third with .334.

The other top 10 leaders through Sunday's games were George Kell of Detroit with .332; Ted Williams, Boston, .327; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, .323; Bob Dillinger, Chicago, .317; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .316; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .311; and Gil McDougald, New York, .308.

Stan Musial of St. Louis has opened up a sizeable 17-point lead on Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn in his battle for a fifth National League batting title.

While Musial rapped nine hits in 21 trips during the week for a four-point hike to .375, Robinson fell off five points to .358. Averages included Sunday's games.

Only Richie Ashburn of the Phillies is crowding the two leaders. The Phil centerfielder, having his best season with a league-leading 142 hits, is hitting .351. Next best is Johnny Wyrostek of Cincinnati, .335.

Roy Campanella of Brooklyn changed places with Bob Elliott of Boston in the batting lineup, taking over fifth at .333 while Elliott slipped to sixth at .327.

The late Will Rogers, Oklahoma's masterful sage of wit and home-spun information, once said in his own peculiar twang: "There's two things every American is firmly convinced he can do better than anyone else—cook, and run a baseball team."

We don't know about Zeke Bonura's cooking, but his baseball managing is quite sufficient, thanks.

Only short weeks ago, it appeared the Indians never would escape the fate of finishing seventh. In fact, some observers went so far as to hint the Longhorn Bruce cellar might have to be enlarged in order to hold the Indians and their seasonal losses.

But pot so today. Midland now feels it has an outside chance to make the playoffs. That feeling is running strong among the players themselves—and you hear it in the streets, in cafes over cups of coffee, in barbershops and other places where diamond fans habitate.

What is the reason for this new outlook on life, this feeling of near-optimism? There are several reasons.

One is the improved pitching staff. Now that Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal and Dave McKenzie have found the win column, Eddie Jacome has returned to his early-season form, Israel Ten is proving to be as good as Bonura said he was, Ernie Nelson still brings his crafty left hand to the mound, and Bill Reed is ready for relief—well, it's a far cry from the days of April showers of base hits that almost shell shocked the Indian hurlers.

Add to that timely hitting and hustles, plus heads-up play, and Bonura's recipe for a running a ball club is turning out to be a choice morsel.

But that isn't all. There's still another ingredient that makes the finished product even better. And that's cooperation.

Not only are the Indians cooperating with each other and with Zeke, the fans are getting into the act by rallying around and supporting the play of Julio de la Torre and Israel Ten, the two Cuban players. Both are delivering—and, consequently, the majority of the fans are all for 'em.

Of course, Zeke's long-ball hitting isn't hurting Midland's first-division aspirations any, either. Paul Richards, manager of the Chicago White Sox, was quoted recently in a Chicago paper as saying: "Of all the players I've ever seen, I'd rather watch Zeke Bonura. I'd give dollars to see him anytime. He tickled me more than any other player I've ever seen."

We're afraid Paul's $5 top wouldn't start it in Midland. The fans place an almost-limitless value on Bonura here.

After all, he's running the ball club well enough to have thawed the ice of the Dark Age that gathered on Midland baseball. Who knows, perhaps he'll even have it sizzling before long, and be ready to serve as a winner.

And if he does that, it will be mighty hard to convince folks hereabouts that the man who really can cook and run a baseball team hasn't been found.

Reed Gilmore No. 1 Quarterback For North All-Stars

SAN ANTONIO —(P)—Scrimmage was scheduled Tuesday for all-star football squads working out for their games Friday night.

The squads of 28 players on each side—one representing the Northern area of the Texas Interscholastic League and the other the Southern—held first practice Monday and after two work-outs, starting backfields of both teams took shape.

The North, coached by Frank Howard of Clemons, established a No. 1 backfield of Joe Boring of Sunset (Dallas) at tailback, Reed Gilmore of Midland at quarterback, Tommy Fields of Wichita Falls at fullback and Ronald Clinkscales of Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) at wingback.

The South, coached by Paul Bryant of Kentucky, had a backfield of Duane Nutt, Corsicana, quarterback; Billy Quinn, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), fullback; Richard Black, Temple, and Larry Graham, Lamar (Houston) at halfbacks.

The game, to be played in Alamo Stadium, which seats 28,000, is expected to be a passing affair. Bobby Page of Leverett's Chapel was very impressive with his passing for the South. Boring was doing most of the chinking for the North.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and Horace Busby, business manager of the baseball club, made the presentations.

Italy Will Deport Girl Who Hoped To Marry Priest

MILAN, ITALY —(AP)— A young American girl who came here hoping to marry a Roman Catholic priest she met in Chicago will be deported next week.

Clare Mary Gertrude Young, 20, of Chicago has been held in San Vittore jail since Saturday when, according to police, she insulted officials who refused to renew her permit to stay in Italy.

Police said she had falsified her birthdate in personal document and therefore they refused the extension. They said Miss Young will be held in the jail until she is escorted aboard the American liner "Independence" August 6. They said the American Consulate had approved their course of action.

The priest Miss Young says she came to marry is 43-year-old Luciano Negrini, a former missionary in China. He says he has been refused permission to see her in jail. The two met while Negrini was soliciting funds for Catholic missions in Chicago.

Identity of Victim In Louisiana Swamp Murder Still Puzzle

NEW ORLEANS —(AP)— Part of the mystery surrounding a man found dead in a Louisiana swamp is cleared up, but his identity remains a puzzle.

Sam Jones, the one first identified as the victim, gave officers his version of how the man died. Jones said Donald Easterwood, once tried and acquitted on a charge of murdering Jones, knew the man's name. Easterwood, 26, was arrested at his Baton Rouge home after this disclosure by Jones Monday and jailed at nearby Gretna on a charge of investigation of murder. He refused to say anything because his lawyers were not present.

Easterwood had been free on bond as a material witness. He first was arrested last week after Jones was found alive in Denver, Colo.

Put Body In Swamp
John Faulkner, chief deputy criminal sheriff, said the 40-year-old Jones signed a statement in which he said the man fell on a knife and killed himself during a fight. Faulkner quoted Jones as saying he put the body in the swamp.

Under subsequent questioning while under the influence of a truth serum (sodium pentothal), Jones said Easterwood knew the man's name.

John Painter, a friend of Jones who first reported Jones alive in Denver, quoted Jones as saying he felt much better now that he had told his story of the man's death and had "gotten everything off his chest."

Jones is being held under a murder charge in connection with the unidentified "John Doe."

National Council Urges Celebration Of Harvest Festival

NEW YORK —(AP)— The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. urges that churches select a Sunday in August, September or October for promotion of a "harvest festival."

The council said in a statement Monday night that the festival should be revived as a means of relating worship—to the ordinary pursuit of man.

The statement noted that the practice of the "harvest festival," dating back to primitive times, has been abandoned by numerous denominations in favor of Thanksgiving.

Churches were urged to schedule a "harvest festival" in addition to the regular Thanksgiving observances. It was suggested that food collections be made, to be turned over to the needy after display at the churches.

The council is composed of 29 U. S. Protestant and Eastern orthodox denominations.

Youth Who Started Apartment House Fire Faces Murder Charges

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— A 17-year-old delivery boy faced eight counts of murder Tuesday after tearfully admitting he deliberately started an apartment house fire that killed seven women and one man.

The San Francisco grand jury Monday night voted to indict Kenneth Skinner shortly after his mother prompted him, police said, to admit he deliberately started the early morning fire. Previously he had claimed he started it accidentally.
