Potential Is Reported For Glorieta Opener In NE Yoakum Area

York & Harper, Inc., reported potential for its No. 1 J. E. Wright, flowing discovery from the Glorieta in Northeast Yoakum County.

The new field opener, three and one-half miles northeast of the closest production in the Cobb-Glorieta field, was completed for a daily potential of 360.88 barrels of 27-gravity oil and no water.

The final was gauged on a one-half-inch tubing choke. The oil is from perforations opposite the Glorieta at 5,940-6,007 feet. They were washed with 3,500 gallons of acid.

Total depth is 6,007 and top of the pay is at 5,940 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 265-1.

Location is 600 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 13, block D, John H. Gibson survey and 16 miles northeast of Plains.

Prolific Flowing Discovery Finaled In C-W Lea Sector

A prolific flowing discovery from the Wolfcamp has been potentialized in Central-West Lea County, N. M.

The new field opener is The Texas Company No. 1-AS State, 600 feet from north and east lines of section 6-15-32.

Operator gauged the well four hours on potential test, during which time it made 236.41 barrels of 41.5-gravity oil for a calculated daily potential of 1,418.46 barrels.

Gas-oil ratio was 563-1. The potential test was taken through a one-half-inch tubing choke, and from perforations opposite the Wolfcamp at 3,700-9,727 feet.

That set had been washed with 800 gallons of mud acid.

The new well is eight miles west of the Saunders-Pennsylvanian field.

Ellenburger Wildcat Is To Be Drilled By Hunt In Mitchell

Harris Hunt Trust Estate of Dallas is to start operations at once at its No. 1 Little E. Bennett, which is slated to be a 7,500-foot wildcat to test the Ellenburger in Northeast Mitchell County.

Location for the prospector is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 34, block 25, T-1-N, T&P survey.

That puts it one and three-quarter miles northwest of the town of Loraine.

Gulf To Dig Offset To Deep Discovery In C-N Dawson Area

Gulf Oil Corporation is to start operations by August 15 on its No. 1 T. E. Vestal, which is scheduled to be a 10,700-foot exploration to try for production in the Siluro-Devonian pay in Central-North Dawson County, 14 miles northeast of Lamesa.

The project will be a one-location south offset to Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Adcock, flowing producer from the Siluro-Devonian section which opened the Adcock, Siluro-Devonian field early in May.

Discovery is Flowing Well

That well was completed for an initial potential of 850.84 barrels of oil per day, flowing from pay at 10,608-615 feet. That zone had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The Amerada discovery is the only well so far drilled in the Adcock area.

It is located 467 feet from south and 1,330 feet from west lines of section 166, block 34, D&SE survey.

Gulf No. 1 Vestal will be 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 101, block 34, D&SE survey. The nearest town to the project is O'Donnell, which is four miles to the north.

NE Runnels Project Sets Casing And Will Test Morris Shows

G. W. Strake has set casing to make production tests of shows of oil and gas which have been encountered in his No. 3 Harris Davsporte, Northeast Runnels County wildcat.

This prospector drilled to a bottom of 4,350 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian. It did not have any

Reds Stand Pat On 'Truce At 38'

No Progress Reported In Latest Meet

MUNSAN, KOREA —(P)— The chief Communist armistice negotiator said Monday night Korean truce talks "will not make any progress" unless the United Nations changes its demands on where to create a buffer zone.

The statement from North Korean Lt. Gen Nam Il was broadcast 10 hours after he again had refused to change his own demands.

The Red position is so firmly fixed that in Monday's negotiation session, Nam Il rejected a United Nations statement as "not satisfactory" as soon as it was delivered.

Ridgway Pessimistic About Talks

WASHINGTON —(P)— Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, United Nations commander in Korea, apparently hasn't much confidence in cease-fire talks now going on at Kaesong.

But he's banking heavily on the fighting spirit of his men, if the talks fail.

In an interview published Monday by the magazine U. S. News and World Report, Ridgway said: "The ceaseless flow of falsehoods, perversion and slanted statements which continue to emanate from Communist-controlled public information media, together with the long record of Communist duplicity, deceit and faithlessness in contractual obligations, have dissolved all doubts in the minds of members of this command as to Communist objectives."

"The members of the United Nations command will now judge Communist intentions not by words, but by performance. This performance to date has produced no concrete evidence of honest, peaceful intentions. Our forces know why they fight and their spirits were never higher."

Of the American fighting man, Ridgway said: "He is unsurpassed in battle."

The interview between Washington and Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo was conducted by teletype.

And a UN communique said, Nam made the rejection while "speaking from a previous prepared and translated paper."

In the broadcast, Nam called on the UN delegation "to change its attitude" and "to take into consideration our demands" for a buffer zone along the 38th parallel.

He said if the Kaesong truce negotiations are to "make any progress at all," UN delegates must "change their distorted demands they have made up to now."

The UN has made it clear the Allies will not consider a demarcation line on the 38th parallel. They say the Reds must change their stand if negotiations are to progress.

No progress was made in Monday's one-hour and 20-minute session—the thirteenth devoted to the same question.

Communist delegates again rejected every United Nations attempt to break the deadlock.

Opposing representatives could not even agree on where their armies are.

Texas' Heat Wave To Continue Despite Scattered Rainfall

By The Associated Press

Good rains fell at scattered points in Texas Sunday, but weather officials warned Monday that the state's heat wave is due to continue "for two or three days."

The parched San Angelo ranch country had 2.03 inches in the 24 hour period ended at 6 a.m. Monday. Some points in the area measured as much as four inches.

Big Spring had .92; Follett, 1.26; Roscoe, near Dallas, .93; Maria, 40; Wink, 34; Claude, 20; Fannin, 75; Shamrock, 48; Coleman, 1.6; Santa Anna, 1.5; Bronck, 3; Talpa, 2; Miles, 3.2; Sterling City, 1.5; Water Valley, 2; Robert Lee, 2.83; Spearman, 40; Vega, 50; Ballinger, 28; Henrietta, .75, and Sherman, .06

Light showers were reported at Wichita Falls, Dallas and Gainesville.

San Angelo's Lake Nasworthy gained an estimated 3,500 acre feet of water, more than doubling its usable supply.

Rains fell over the watersheds of the Middle Concho River and Spring Creek, two of four streams feeding the lake.

Tom Green County Agent Marion Badger said the rain was worth at least 5,000 bales of cotton to the county, increasing the previous estimate by one-third.

Drouth Not Broken

He said the drouth wasn't broken, but waterholes are filled.

Much of the sheep country south of San Angelo to Del Rio and west to Fort Stockton, received little or no moisture.

The North Concho also was on a rise but no water was caught in a new $17,000,000 dam because the government hasn't yet given authority to impound the runoff.

Elsewhere, much of the state again blistered under a fiery sun.

Temperatures soared to 104 at College Station for the high reading Sunday. Maria, in the Big Bend Country, had the low maximum of 81 Sunday and the low minimum of 62 early Monday.

The forecast called for continued high temperatures through Tuesday. Some widely scattered afternoon and evening thunderstorms were seen for West Texas.

Congress Considers October Target Date For Ending Session

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senate Democratic Leader McParland (Ariz.) Monday set October 1 as a target date for adjournment of Congress.

House Speaker Rayburn said he had "no idea" when Congress would end its work. Rayburn said he hopes the House will be able to recess two weeks, beginning about the latter part of next week.

McParland and Rayburn said they were satisfied with the progress being made on the legislative program.

The leaders reported they and the President went over "the box score" on his legislative program Monday.

Rayburn said he advised Truman that the House likely will complete action this week on the bulk of its legislation except for conference reports.

Action Seen This Week

Rayburn said the House expects to act this week on defense housing and the authorization bill for foreign military and economic aid.

McParland said the Senate will get a tax increase bill from its Finance Committee by Labor Day and that there is every prospect Congress can finish work on all "must" legislation by the end of September.

"We are working toward that goal at the present time," he added.

The legislation tagged as "must" by the congressional leaders does not include many measures Truman has recommended, especially those in what he calls his "Fair Deal" program.

But McParland and Rayburn said this session of Congress will show a good record of accomplishment by the time of adjournment.

Distillers 'Hoarding Hangovers,' She Says

BOSTON —(P)— Liqueur distillers are "hoarding hangovers," she says, packing their warehouses, the WFOU was told.

WAC Plans Huge Personnel Increase

NEW YORK —(P)— Col. Mary Ballaren, director of the Women's Army Corps, Monday said the corps hopes to have 2,000 officers and 30,000 enlisted women next July 1.

Present strength of the corps is 1,000 officers and 11,000 enlisted personnel.

Sister Elizabeth Kenny

Sister Kenny Is Reported Incurably Ill

SYDNEY —(P)— Sister Elizabeth Kenny, a leader in the fight against polio, told a reporter Monday she is incurably ill and has little time left in this world.

The world famous nurse did not name the disease with which she has been stricken, but the reporter said she was shaking and looked ill.

Miss Kenny, who is 65, said she would continue her fight against the ravages of polio "until I die."

She will leave Thursday for the United States, enroute to an international poliomyelitis conference in Copenhagen, Denmark. She will be under a nurse's care on the trip.

"I am unwell and incurably so," she said. "I only hope I will be spared the time to come home again. I am very happy in my beautiful Toowoomba home among my own relatives and the people among whom I made my discoveries on poliomyelitis. I want to end my days at home."

Eisenhower Report On Soviet Strength Perks Up Senators

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senators generally were considerably perked up Monday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's reported assertion that it is "ridiculous" to be overly frightened by Russia's military strength.

But Senator Hunt (D-Wyo.), a member of the Armed Services committee, told a reporter he hopes the North Atlantic defense commander's estimate of comparable free world and Iron Curtain strength doesn't "lull Congress to sleep."

"I can agree with the general that the free world has a great preponderance of material, intellectual, spiritual, technical and professional resources," Hunt said, "but I hope that doesn't lull us into a peaceful sleep we were enjoying before the Korean war started."

Right Called Cautious

Eisenhower's views were in a subcommittee report prepared for the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees. These groups met jointly Monday to consider the Administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill.

The subcommittee, including nine members who visited Europe in July, reported that Eisenhower had told them:

"The material, intellectual, spiritual, technical and professional resources available to the free world are so overwhelming as compared with what the Iron Curtain and satellite countries have that it is almost ridiculous for us to be talking in terms of fright and hysteria, which we often do."

The report said Eisenhower acknowledged the Soviet bloc has a unity lacked by the North Atlantic Treaty nations but said it was brought about "by a gun and a sword held forever behind a man's back ready to chop off his head."

Iranian Officials Pessimistic About Talks With British

TEHRAN —(P)— Iranian officials expressed pessimism Monday about their oil nationalization talks with the British.

A new hitch developed when the British postponed submission of their proposal for a settlement of the dispute over the nationalization of Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holdings. Iranian coolness was the reason.

The British proposal was to be presented Monday night by Richard Stokes, chief of the British delegation.

Kazem Hassibi, undersecretary of Finance and adviser to the Iranian negotiating team, said: "In view of our talks in the first four meetings with the British, it is very difficult to be optimistic that their proposal will meet a satisfactory response from the Iranian government."

Higher Taxes, Spending Cuts Recommended

WASHINGTON —(P)— Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) Monday said there appears to be "general agreement" in his Congressional Economic Committee "that expenditures must be kept to a minimum and taxes increased."

The committee studied a staff report warning of probable rising prices, more inflation and three years of federal deficits.

"There was general agreement," O'Mahoney said, "that inflation is the most serious threat to the position that this country is taking in the world. The American economy is the principal bulwark of the free world."

He said that in the absence of a committee quorum, the report was not adopted Monday. But among members present, he said, there was no criticism of the report "and no objections."

Main theme of the report appeared to be arguments in support of:

1. A considerably higher increase in federal taxes than the $7,300,000,000 a year boost voted by the House. Senators have been talking of holding the increase to five or six billions.
2. Stiffer government controls over prices, wages and credit, with emphasis upon savings by individuals.

Pay-As-We-Go Basis

O'Mahoney told reporters: "My personal opinion is that the American economy can meet the problems providing the problem is clearly understood by the Congress and the country."

He noted that the Senate-House Committee had approved unanimously a "pay-as-we-go basis" for meeting the long-range multi-billion dollar defense and foreign aid program.

This was done, the senator said, "to avoid piling another deficit on top of the national debt now remaining from World War I and II."

Both O'Mahoney and his staff experts stressed the fact that a cease-fire agreement or even peace in Korea would not bring relief from the multi-billion dollar defense program for the next five to 10 years.

Both also agreed that a recent leveling off in prices—after sharp increases since June 1950—probably would end later this Fall and Winter.

"The problem of Congress is to determine how this danger may be counteracted," O'Mahoney said.

Hurts Send 50 Or More To Hospitals

Many of the accident victims were youngsters who were treated for injuries ranging from a mouth wound from a BB-gun to a foot injury resulting from a bicycle wheel.

More Than 12,000 Texas Employers Due Tax Refunds

AUSTIN —(P)— More than 12,000 Texas employers will get a $1,500,000 refund from their unemployment compensation payments.

The Texas Employment Commission Monday said that amount is refundable under an amendment to the State Unemployment Compensation Law.

The refund was made possible through a revision by the Legislature in the 1950 tax rate upon receipt from the federal government of 1949 interest earned by money in the unemployment fund, TEC said.

Eligible for the reduction are 12,266 Texas employers. Another 18,500 taxpaying employers did not qualify because they already were paying minimum taxes.

Coe Cuts Rattles Off Wrong Snake

ROTAN —(P)— Coe Hawkins killed a big rattlesnake behind his barn last week. Later at dinner, he told Mrs. Hawkins about it. She suggested he go back and cut off the rattles, a popular souvenir.

With flashlight and pocket knife, Coe returned to the spot. He planted a firm foot on the snake's back, lifted the tail, and snapped off the rattles.

On the way to milk his cows the next morning, Hawkins glanced at the dead snake. It still had its rattles. He had removed the rattles from a live one.

Dallas Telephone Employees Strike Because Of Heat

DALLAS —(P)— Protesting the lack of air conditioning at their switchboards, hundreds of employees of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here struck at 9 a.m. Monday.

Company officials placed the strikers at 750-550 operators and 200 plant workers. Other sources said about 1,200 were out.

Most workers were women who said they would be off all day. Many who left their jobs were sympathizers from other divisions.

A union official (CWA-CIO) said the strike was not sanctioned.

Service was being carried on by supervisory personnel.

The walkout occurred in the Haskell Street and downtown exchanges. Employees at the Haskell Exchange walked out first, saying tubes of ice and fans which had been placed by their switchboards as cooling aids were inefficient.

No Formal Complaint

Clyde L. Stewart, division manager of the telephone company, said no formal complaint had been made by employees.

"The present heat wave in Texas is uncomfortable for people in all walks of life. Our building is well ventilated and our operators are given regular 15-minute relief periods each morning and afternoon," Stewart said.

"Lounges are provided for the comfort of workers. We are at a loss to understand why the operators left their jobs x x x. We are doing everything possible to handle emergency calls," he said.

Western Electric workers at the Haskell Exchange also struck in "sympathy."

Bob Webb, spokesman for the CWA union, said the union had been urging the company seven years to air condition its building. He asserted the union is trying to persuade employees to return.

The strike practically stopped all long distance calls to and from Dallas except emergency ones, company spokesmen said. Business calls were being refused.

Navy Bomber With 12 Aboard Missing

KODIAK, ALASKA —(P)— A four-engined Navy patrol bomber with 12 crewmen aboard was reported missing Monday in Alaska. It was the fourth plane lost along the Alaska and British Columbia coast since July 21. They carried 60 persons.

The Navy PB4-Y-2 Privateer disappeared Sunday after taking off from its Kodiak base on a routine mission.

Nothing was heard from the big plane after it gave a position report at 10:14 a.m. Its fuel supply would have been exhausted at 9:35 p.m. Sunday, Alaska time.

Names of the three officers and nine enlisted men in the crew were withheld.

An air and sea search was started Sunday after the bomber was presumed lost. Fog and rain curtailed rescue efforts.

Catholics In China Reported Jailed By Communist Police

HONG KONG—(AP)—Church sources report Communist police have jailed 19 Catholic priests and closed 13 of Peiping's 17 parish centers in the "most frontal attack" yet on Christianity in China.

The rest of Peiping's 80 foreign missionaries were reported under house arrest.

A similar drive against other Christians throughout Red China was predicted.

Catholics arriving here from the Chinese Communist capital reported that among those arrested July 25 was the Rev. Harold Rigney, former rector of Catholic Fujen University and the only American missionary remaining in China.

He went to Peiping after World War II, in which he served as an Air Force Chaplain. He is from Chicago.

The Chinese Reds have been campaigning for an "independent" Catholic church which would have no connection with the Vatican. Propaganda broadcasts from Peiping have mentioned the campaign frequently, but have said nothing about police action.

Arrested At Night
The official Red press previously had demanded suppression of the Legion of Mary in Tientsin and elsewhere throughout Red China.

The arrest of Father Rigney and other priests was described by sources who requested anonymity. They said police went to Fujen University at night, bound his hands and forced him and other priests into a car.

The priests then were taken to prison.

At the same time, police surrounded other church centers in Peiping and arrested other priests. Those not taken away were placed under house arrest.

The next day the Reds announced Father Rigney was charged with being "an imperialist and agent of a foreign government."

The sources said the arrests were preceded by official suggestions that the priests join the "independent church movement."

Black-Haired French Beauty Shoots, Kills Husband, Newly Named To Plevin's Cabinet

ORLEANS, FRANCE — (AP)—French authorities Monday ordered a sanity test for pretty Yvonne Chevallier, who shot and killed her war hero husband barely 24 hours after he took his first cabinet post.

Police said the black-haired beauty, who is being held in Orleans Prison, confessed firing five shots into a 42-year-old Pierre Chevallier Sunday when he told her he wanted a divorce.

Chevallier, World War II resistance leader, had just been named secretary of State for technical education, youth and sports. He was close to the new premier, Rene Plevin, and seemed to have a bright political future.

Police said she drew a revolver she had bought a few days earlier and shot him five times. He died instantly, physicians said later.

She then called police headquarters and asked the officer in charge to come to the couple's modest apartment. When Commissaire Antoine Gazoan went there, he said she let him in with the tearful announcement "I have just shot my husband."

Chevallier, who served as mayor of war-devastated Orleans, was a physician in private life. Yvonne, who, friends said, was in her late thirties, was a former midwife.

Reporters and photographers were barred during police questioning of Mrs. Chevallier. During the afternoon, Interior Minister Charles Brune arrived at the scene and a short while later Yvonne was hurried off to Orleans Prison.

The examining magistrate named to investigate the case will appoint a psychiatrist to examine Mrs. Chevallier.

Associates said the couple had been on the outs for some time and that she rarely accompanied him on his frequent trips to Paris made necessary because he was a deputy in the National Assembly (lower house of Parliament).

In a report for the second quarter and first half of 1951 released Monday, T. H. Barton, chairman of the board, and T. M. Martin, president, revealed that net income of Lion Oil Company after taxes for the first six months of the year was equal to $2.45 per share on the 2,340,846 shares now issued and outstanding.

Sales and operating revenues for the six months were $42,806,185.16, equal to $18.29 per share, an increase over the $40,407,459.61, or $17.26 per share, recorded for the same period of 1950.

Net income before provisions for income and excess profits taxes was $9,533,698.13, or $4.07 per share, as compared with $9,834,831.96, or $4.20 per share, in the first half of last year.

Income and excess profits tax provisions for the first six months amounted to $3,789,645.01, equal to $1.62 per share, in comparison with $2,687,224.67, or $1.15 per share for the same months of 1950.

Change In Tax Provision
This increase of 41 per cent was "due largely to the fact that no excess profits tax provision was required under the Federal Tax Law in effect during the first half of last year."

Net income after taxes was $5,744,053.12, equal to $2.45 per share, as compared with $7,147,607.29, or $3.05 per share in the first half of last year.

New York Tourists Don't Faze 'Big Town's' Natives

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — New York in mid-Summer is exactly like Hollywood in mid-Summer—a mecca for tourists. But there's a colossal difference.

New York's canyons and subways and theaters and restaurants swallow up the tourist-horde of Iowa farmers, Texas stenographers, Southern cotton kings and Montana cowboys.

They're shuffled like a handful of cards into New York's pack of 8,000,000 natives and, like all good children, they're not seen or heard as New York goes on as usual.

In Hollywood, in mid-Summer, the tourists take over the town—smearing traffic, disrupting night clubs, chasing movie celebrities around palm trees, galloping across Lana Turner's lawn and tripping over movie sound stage cables.

There are sighs of genuine relief all around in Hollywood when the Summer tourist season ends. In New York, it's only the departing tourists who sigh with relief at escaping from the sea of humanity in which they have been engulfed. Manhattan's cliff-dwellers don't even give them a parting glance or thought.

New Yorkers, I've discovered, seldom if ever even give New York a glance or a thought. It's the starry-eyed tourists who put the "Island-of-glamour-surrounded-by-romance" label on Manhattan.

I've been one of those starry-eyed tourists for a few days. "Never Been There"

Native New Yorkers will make strange sounds and will tap their temples when they hear that I've been thrilled into goose pimples by:

Climbing the 168 stairs to the crown of the Statue of Liberty. I asked 10 New Yorkers if they'd ever been up there and all said, "No, but I'm planning to, some day."

Taking a 35-mile, sight-seeing boat ride around Manhattan Island. It is a trip always recommended by New Yorkers who in the same paragraph say, "I've never made it, but I hear it's a great trip."

It is. Among other "sights" were five teen-age boys swimming in the nude in the Harlem River and the towers of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, to which the ship's barber pointed and said:

"That's where General MacArthur is fading away."

Then, with perfect stage timing, he added: "It's a nice place to fade away in."

The day or night view of Manhattan from the top of the Empire State building is another junket New Yorkers never get around to doing.

Methodist Building Contract Awarded

MONAHANS—Contract has been awarded to the Wicker Company of Pecos for construction of the $120,000 Methodist Church project, according to Jack Edwards, building committee member.

Actual start of construction was awaiting approval of an application for materials from the National Production Authority. A new, enlarged sanctuary with a seating capacity of 400 persons will be the principal construction project.

Serving on the building committee with Edwards are Chairman O. G. Rudy, Louis Pinkerton, J. S. Reynolds, E. S. Schimshire, Ray Beville, Edd Howard and Cliff Chapman.

Teen-Agers Run Gamut Of Vacation Jobs: From River-Measuring To Puppy Sitting

By GAIL DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—The teen-ager who hasn't yet earned money this summer can have a weekly pay check whose size is limited only by her ingenuity and initiative, judging by the activities of teen-agers across the country.

In a recent survey conducted by the Tide Washing Clinic, more than 145 different ways to earn a summer salary were described by school-going teen-agers in 715 communities. And four out of every five girls said that, in addition to the extra work, they took part in chores at home.

Baby-sitting, though it counts, isn't the only way for a teen-ager to earn pin money. Most teen-age girls find work in one or two ways: by canvassing established markets or by making an inventory of their own abilities with view to creating a job.

The results—These girls are thorough. They're drawn jobs at every store on Main Street. They sell flowers for the florist, tend counter in the book and record shop, check clothes for the dry cleaner, they pump gas and make sales at the service station, handle calls at telephone exchange, address envelopes for the printer, take messages for doctors and dentists. Some work in hospitals or libraries, others type, keep books and make out bills for lawyers, banks and commercial offices.

They find opportunities everywhere. They put on pretty uniforms and take over as waitresses in tearooms and luncheonettes.

Summer spending money: This teen-ager earns her pocket money by acting as a dog sitter.

They're cashiers, ushers, candy concessionaires and popcorn-machine operators for the local movie.

On the farm, they're busy, too. Farmers hire part-time hands for garden and harvest work. And there are wages for hoeing corn, picking beans and onions, washing, candling and packing eggs for market. Some of the sturdier girls even drive tractors, care for livestock and take produce to town. And all summer long, teen-agers pick berries, gather tomatoes and detassel corn.

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved

In 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"—may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern action. It exerts a remarkably soothing effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-killers or drugs! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's Compound is proved to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or see improved Tablets, with added iron!

If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"—you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quickening effect on the uterine contractions (see chart) which often cause menstrual pain!

cat sitting. It's profitable in many communities, teen-agers find, where householders prefer not to leave a frightened pet alone in the house.

Fashion Authority Says 'Thumbs Down' To Longer Hemlines

LOS ANGELES—A top California fashion authority Monday said thumbs down to Paris' decree of hems down.

The word from Paris is longer skirts, especially since Christian Dior came out recently endorsing the trend. That makes it official in the fashion-conscious French capital.

But G. Peter Rosenfeld, president of the California Fashion Creators, said his association will resist the trend.

"The American women have the most beautiful legs in the world. Why try to hide them?" asks Rosenfeld. The industry association he heads does a $500,000,000 annual business.

"Besides," he added, "Paris creates clothes only for those people who have nothing to do but dress up all the time. California clothes are functional."

During an interview, a Rosenfeld associate told how his wife bought a dress from a famed Paris designer but later found she couldn't sit down in it. Returning it to the salon, she was told that the dress was not made to sit down with.

"That tells the whole story," commented Rosenfeld.

The Paris decree would have the high water mark in skirts about 14 inches from the floor. Rosenfeld said such a length would look "ridiculous" on many women.

"American women now have found the becoming length in skirts—about mid-calf. They will not change."

The MATURE PARENT

Urge To Improve Yourself Builds Grownup Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"What makes a good 'cottage parent'?" I asked three executives of training schools for juvenile law-breakers.

They were attending the recent international forum on the institutional treatment of delinquents, conducted by the Berkshire Industrial Farm in Canaan, N. Y. Itself a noted correctional school for boys. I asked my question because the three executives all employ "cottage parents"—and I wanted to know what they require of the workers who are responsible for giving a sense of home and parenthood to children whose own homes and parents have failed them.

"For 'cottage parents,'" they told me, "we employ people who are interested in children, have contentment, a set of life values, humility, and a sincere desire for self-improvement."

They needn't have bothered to list the first four traits. The sincere desire for self-improvement includes all of them.

If Mrs. Brown sincerely is interested in improving her own human quality, she's unable to avoid being interested in her daughter Jane and Jane's human quality.

When Jane whines over losing a new hair-ribbon, her mother doesn't say irritably, "Oh, run along; don't bother me." Mrs. Brown, alert to symptoms of self-pity in herself, has found a way to deal with them when they appear.

She says to Jane, "Well, we can't let hair-ribbon steal our happiness. Come on out to the kitchen. I'll make a cake and you can whip up that chocolate icing you like to make."

Contentment is a by-product of the sincere desire for self-improvement. Mrs. Jones can't be very content if she is filled with resentments that she doesn't acknowledge or wish to correct. Her discontent keeps her so busy blaming other people's faults for her state of mind that she has no time to explore her own.

She finds it easier, for example, to nag Mr. Jones for neglecting her

Denise Darcel Heads Home With Divorce

Midland Group Escapes Injury

COLORADO CITY—Four Midland young people escaped injury Sunday in an automobile accident three miles east of Loring.

Two persons, occupants of another car, were brought to a hospital here for treatment of injuries. They were Amdor Castro, 20, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margarita Castro, 17, both of Loring.

The Midland group, enroute to band school in Abilene, included Randal Cooper, 19, the driver; Nancy Cooper, 16; Brenda Bottoms, 12, and Larry Mayfield, 17.

Highway Patrolman Eddie Koehne said both cars were traveling east when the Castro car started to turn right from the highway. The second car crashed into it on the slick pavement. Three other occupants of the Castro car were uninjured.

Red's 'Big Lie' Peace Talk

Two or three years ago, any kind of peace proposal from the Soviet Union sent the free world into a breathless frenzy. Hope often ran high that the cold war was about to end.

Slowly, the world's men of good will learned the bitter truth about the Russians. They learned that Russian peace offers were simply moves on a chessboard, tactical steps that often were offset by warlike gestures elsewhere at the very same moment.

The free peoples digested this lesson painfully and grudgingly. Their wish for peace is so strong that they found themselves tantalized again and again by the thought that "this time maybe the Russians mean it."

Of course they never have meant it, and so at length the illusions of the hopeful have been shattered. Once aroused, the scorn of the trustful is a powerful emotion.

Nikolai Shvernik, Russia's figurehead president, wrote a letter to President Truman the other day suggesting a five-power peace parley with the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and Red China taking part.

Our government promptly responded by labeling the offer a "propaganda trap" designed to lull the free peoples to sleep. The State Department challenged Russia to honor existing obligations before taking on new treaty responsibilities.

The French and the British joined us in deriding the Soviet maneuver as mere propaganda. No one anywhere in the non-Communist world saw in it even a faint glimmer of hope.

Thus, without perhaps realizing it, the Russians may have come to the end of a road. They may have reached the point where repeating the same old tired lies generates not only disbelief but damaging reaction among sincere peace-loving peoples.

It is an axiom of totalitarian propaganda that if you tell a big lie often enough it will be widely believed. But it is quite conceivable that the Russians have squeezed the last possible ounce of advantage from this technique, and now find themselves relying on a formula which is sterile and empty.

Is there anyone left in the free world who really believes that Russian mention of the word "peace" has any meaning? Honorable men today attribute no color of truth to any Soviet statement not issued under the pressure of opposition strength.

They generally ignore Russian words and watch Russian deeds. Perhaps this fact will now begin to sink into the Kremlin's consciousness. If it does, we might hope to be spared henceforth the wearying boredom of meaningless peace offensives.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: Russian bear has swallowed too much—can't absorb satellite nations; Western propaganda needed more than ever to encourage peoples behind iron curtain.

Clementis and four other Czechs had its effect. Finally, radio free Europe has sent such devastating barrages of propaganda into Czechoslovakia that the Czech government has demanded that radio free Europe be taken off the air.

Poland — Resentment against Moscow is so serious that Vyacheslav Molotov, now the No. 2 man to Stalin and seldom seen in public, made a special trip to Warsaw to warn the Poles against following Tito.

Further, messages of friendship and encouragement to the people behind the Iron Curtain at this time can help produce another Tito in Poland, Czechoslovakia or Hungary. That, of course, is what Stalin fears most.

There have been reports in previous years of trouble behind the Iron Curtain, but never as many as now. Two hundred Communist leaders in Bulgaria are reported under arrest; 22 Soviet generals and high Soviet officials have died mysteriously in the last seven months; four Czech generals have been arrested or committed suicide in six months; nine of the highest officers in the Polish army were tried for treason; 12 Polish seamen on a minesweeper mutinied, locked up their officers, and deserted to Sweden; four young Poles fled to Sweden in a stolen bullet-riddled airplane; three Lithuanians locked up other crew members on a Russian trawler and escaped.

This throbbing unrest inside the Iron Curtain has been caused in part by Soviet war preparations which have been going on for some time. When a government takes too much of the necessities of life—food, fuel, consumer goods—away from its people they rebel. When a Polish miner who hates Russia anyway is ordered to work harder to produce war material for communism, he gets restless. Likewise with the Czech uranium miner and the Hungarian farmer who never did like collective farming.

No nation in its right mind—though dictators seldom are in their right minds—makes war when the civilian population behind the lines is certain to rise up against the government. That's why the unrest behind the Iron Curtain is so important. To illustrate the seriousness of this situation and the importance of intensifying our propaganda, here is a brief summary of the best underground reports I can get of what is happening behind the curtain:

Czechoslovakia—The Czechs have now recovered from the stunned apathy which followed the initial seizure of their country by Moscow and are beginning to get their courage back. A serious food shortage, blamed on the Russians, is partly responsible. On top of this the Voice of America, which predicted the arrest of Foreign Minister Vladimir

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY, NEA Service

"If you like big swings," writes my old friend Jules Tilles, "you'll enjoy this hand. It was played in the Paradise Bridge Club, here in the Bronx, in a team match. We've been holding team matches several times a week for many years now, so we've had swing hands before—but this one set a new record. Incidentally, seven of the eight players were masters, and one was a Life Master."

"At the first table the hand was bid as you may see from the diagram. West thought he could knock the stuffing out of six hearts even though he didn't count on his partner to win a defensive trick. He didn't feel so happy when the dummy went down, disclosing the ace of hearts behind him; he had expected to find both top hearts in declarer's hand. But he felt even worse when South ruffed the first club.

"As you might expect, South led a low heart and finessed dummy's ten as a safety play. That was the end of our luck. West could get one trump trick, and South made his double slam for a score of 1,680 points.

"There was some talk about the double if West had passed instead of doubling. South might feel that to finess dummy's ten of hearts, he might fear a spade return if that trump finesse happened to lose. In short, West might wind up 100 points plus instead of 1,680 minus if he just passed instead of doubling.

"The actual result at the other table was far more spectacular. East started by bidding only one diamond. South was equally modest, with an overall of only one spade. West bid two clubs, and North raised to two spades. Then the boys came out from behind the bushes. East jumped to five clubs, and South went on to five spades.

"West pushed on to six clubs, and South stayed right in the fight by bidding six spades. This rode around to East, who went right on to seven clubs. South passed this to his partner, who thought his ace of hearts was well worth a penalty double. East redoubled, hoping to scare North away from a spade lead. (East didn't know that his partner had no spades.)

"The grand slam was ice-cold, of course, so East-West scored 1,910 points. Since their team-mates had already won 1,680 points, the total swing on this hand was 3,570 points. Not bad for just one hand, is it?"

I'm not surprised the hand set a new club record. It would be hard to produce a bigger swing in expert competition.

Pennsylvania GOP In Usual Presidential Election Row

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It is almost traditional that presidential election politics get hot and come to a boil over a big Republican row in Pennsylvania. This year is no exception. Anything can happen. At this early date, a year ahead of the national conventions, even a sure-shot, never-miss political seer would be foolish to try predicting the outcome. But here's what's cooking in the Keystone state political stew:

Sen. James H. Duff, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, is now openly plugging for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Republican nominee for the presidency.

Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., 1948 campaign chairman of the Republican national committee, has gone to Europe on congressional business. But while in Paris, Representative Scott hopes to sound out Eisenhower.

Just whom Representative Scott speaks for is not clear. As Governor Dewey's campaign manager in the 1948 presidential race, Scott could be scouting for what's left of the Dewey forces in GOP. Governor Dewey is of course for Eisenhower.

Representative Scott got his job as Republican national chairman, however, with the approval of the Old Guard Grundy-Owlett machine in Pennsylvania. So there has risen the interesting speculation that perhaps Representative Scott is doing a little advance sounding out for those tried and true friends of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association.

Thus far, aging ex-Sen. Joseph R. Grundy and his faithful man Friday, G. Mason Owlett, have made no official statement on whom they were backing for the Republican presidential nomination. It has been generally assumed they were for Ohio Sen. Robert A. Taft.

But in 1948 they were against Taft and for Dewey. And in 1948 Senator Duff, after vainly backing the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan for the presidential nomination, switched his delegates to Taft. Today Senator Duff is known to be dead set against Taft, believing that if the Ohio senator is the nominee, the Republicans might well lose Pennsylvania.

What all this switching around means is hard to say. Duff has now taken up this challenge. He has told the Old Guard that if they want a fight, they can have it. Since coming to Washington, he is said to have kept his hands out of purely Pennsylvania affairs. He has not interfered with Governor Fine's administration.

The objectives are three: 1—Election of a chairman for the 1952 Pennsylvania delegation to the 1952 Republican convention in Chicago. 2—Control over the 70 delegates themselves, to be elected next April. 3—Dominance over Pennsylvania's internal affairs.

Normally the chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation is the governor. That would be John S. Fine. He was backed by Duff as his successor for the governorship last year.

With the departure of Senator Duff for Washington, Grundy-Owlett forces have tried to regain their position of power over state affairs. And they have also been working to drive a wedge between Governor Fine and Senator Duff.

There is no reason to slow your partner up by concealing the diamond support. If he can bid a slam on the strength of your opening bid and diamond raise, you should be quite content.

So They Say

It should be clear why the State Department and its international do-gooders at the United Nations are pushing the (proposed) Covenant on Human Rights toward ratification. It is designed to stifle all criticism of the so-called Fair Deal.

I'm glad I've got protection now—President Truman, signing bill giving Secret Service permanent legal status.

This show-must-go-on stuff is a lot of baloney. The only reason the show must go on is for the manager.

Lionel Barrymore, actor.

We (the Republican Party) have got to get support from the Solid South and we can do this only by going to the South for cooperation, not by telling the South to come to us.

Speakers have been showering us with pearls of wisdom for centuries, and if all of their valuable advice were laid end to end, it would still be just as good as new. Very little of it has ever been used.

"All the comforts of home" is a phrase that covers more ground than it used to. The Newsearch above, based on data from the National Industrial Conference Board and the 1950 Census, shows how much U. S. homes have been improved by addition of modern facilities in the past ten years. Last year's census shows almost every home with electric lights and radios, four out of five homes have mechanical refrigeration, and three out of four have bathing and toilet facilities in the house. All showed big improvements over 1950. Noteworthy, too, is the fact that homeowners now exceed renters for the first time since the census began taking such information in 1890.

Woman Hitchhiker Injured Critically When Hit By Auto

ORANGE —(P)— Police Chief Alvin Keown said Monday a woman hitchhiker critically injured Friday when struck by a car near here has been identified as Mrs. Irene Hilton Constable, estranged wife of Lee Constable, Culver City, Calif., businessman.

Keown said Mrs. Constable had been the object of a widespread search since leaving a Culver City hospital several weeks ago.

Both of Mrs. Constable's legs were mangled. Both arms were broken. One leg was amputated soon after the accident and it may be necessary to remove the other.

The police chief said the woman's sister, Mrs. Lillian Ames, and mother, a Mrs. Hilton, live in Eureka Springs, Ark., and are en route here with the Eureka police chief. Keown said they had rendered the best of medical care for Mrs. Constable.

At Culver City, Constable said he has been separated from Mrs. Constable three years and divorced for two years. He said she is about 33.

Constable, a gunsmith at M-G-M Movie Studio, said Mrs. Constable left Camarillo Hospital at San Fernando Valley without permission. He said the situation was unfortunate but, being ill himself, there was nothing he could do. He said he was glad to know her family was caring for Mrs. Constable.

Crisis May Unlock New Oil In Canada As New Way Sought To Tap Alberta Tar Sands

TORONTO—(NEA)—Great Britain's oil difficulties in Iran may unlock new oil fields in Western Canada.

British oil experts, including British Mines Minister George Prudham, have been traveling to the end of the railway in Alberta to look over the possibilities of a new source of oil. Early in September, experts from Great Britain and Canada will sit down at Edmonton to iron out problems of production and financing.

The first white men to travel in Western Canada in 1788 found oil bubbling out of the ground along the Athabaska River, about 250 miles north of Edmonton. It has been bubbling to the surface in various spots ever since in an area a little larger than the state of Connecticut.

But little of that oil has gone into making fuel, because it is mixed in with sand. How to get the sand and the oil separated at a reasonable cost has been the problem that has stumped the leading oil engineers of North America.

Along Sandy Bluffs

There's a railway that runs north from Edmonton to Fort McMurray on the Athabaska River, down which Indians and trappers have come for hundreds of years with fur. Along the sandy bluffs of the river and its tributaries there are no settlements. Prairie grass and shrubs cover the area. And underneath that overburden lie sands many feet deep impregnated with oil.

For more than 30 years there have been commercial attempts made to get the sand and the oil separated. One company has a small pilot plant in operation on several thousand acres, and has been extracting some oil for over 10 years. Some of the material has been used to pave roads in Canada's famed scenic Jasper National Park. During World War II the Canadian government spent many millions trying to

Daddy Ringtail Over The Hills

The sun was bright in the Great Forest. The air was warm. Birds sang in the trees above. Along the ground was grass of green and wildflowers growing. What a happy day for a happy adventure!

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was thinking what a happy day it was for a happy adventure. Said Mugwump to himself: "Uhuh, and right now—over the hills and far away—I betcha a happy adventure is happening right now. Yessir, I bet it is.

Mugwump looked away and up the Elephant Path, away and up where the hills were. Why, he would hurry

Let the birds sing up in the trees. Let the grass grow green along the way. Let the sweet smell of wildflowers fill the air. Oh, the day was a happy adventure, and so at last our friends had come to the top of the first high hill where the trees and grass and rocks seemed lonesome as lonesome could be. Yes, and over the hills and far away as far as our friends could see, all the world was lonesome.

"Whew! said Mugwump. "Sure is lonesome way up here."

"That it is, it is," said the Huffen. "Uhuh," said Mugwump, "and if we didn't know where we are, we would be lost."

"Ooooh!" said the Huffen, for the thought of being lost was frightening indeed, except it is always true, I guess: You are never lost, wherever you are, as long as you know where you are. Oh my no. Happy day!

"Happy day to you," said Mugwump, "and Huffen, would you like to go with me over the hills and far away, all to see the happy adventure that maybe is happening there?"

Reds—

 11 a.m. Tuesday (7 p.m. Monday, CST) will find them right back where they started.
 The Red generals again Monday refused to sidestep the deadlock and talk about something else. They ignored a UN invitation to express their views on a demilitarized zone based on the present battle line. And again they insisted on a buffer zone along the 38th parallel.
 The difference in view of present battle positions became apparent when Vice Adm. G. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, introduced a map comparing the Allied and Red concepts of the fighting front. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN briefing officer, said they were in general agreement but there were some differences—particularly in the center and on the flanks. Joy noted they were practically the same on parts of the line.
 Nam Il, head of the Red delegation, had introduced a map the preceding day showing the Red concept of the front.

Pills Called Threat To Apple Business

NEW YORK —(P)—Remember when an apple a day kept the doctor away?
 Now the apple industry is facing competition from "hormones, three-way cold tablets and the little pill guaranteed to cure everything from ingrown toenails to the barber's itch."
 That view was expressed Monday by Victor H. M. Joseph of New York, president of the International Apple Association.

31 Persons Stricken By Food Poisoning

AUSTIN —(P)—Food poisoning after a church supper had sent 31 persons to the hospital Monday.
 The outbreak followed a missionary conference at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, which opened Saturday with a supper.
 All delegates were youths between 10 and 26.
 Hospital attendants reported none of the patients was in serious condition.

Senate Committee Starts Hearings On New Tax Bill

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Senate Finance Committee Monday began closed door consideration of the new tax bill. Several members of the group predict it will trim down the $7,300,000,000 tax boost approved by the House.
 The bill is on the "must" list compiled by the Democratic leadership for action before Congress quits this year.
 Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the committee told newsmen he expects the 13 senators to finish writing their version within two weeks—by August 24 or 25.
 It will take another week for the committee staff and Treasury to write a report on the measure, he said. George predicted the bill will reach the Senate floor shortly after Labor Day.
 There appeared to be little or no sentiment for increasing the tax hike to the $10,000,000,000 asked by President Truman. Estimates by committee members on the amount their group would approve ranged from $5,000,000,000 up to the amount set by the House.

Acheson Addresses Assembly Of Youth

WASHINGTON —(P)—Secretary of State Acheson Monday told the World Assembly of Youth freedom is the "keystone of all genuine progress" toward a better world.
 "There can be no progress without freedom," the secretary said in an address relayed by telephone lines to the youth assembly meeting in Ithaca, N. Y.
 "It is tragic," he said, "that many people have followed the road to regimentation, thinking that it offered a short cut to progress. By now it should be clear to all that the path of regimentation can lead only backward—to tyranny, to servitude, to the degradation of man."
 TYPHOON REPORTED ROARING OVER PACIFIC
 TAIPEH, FORMOSA —(P)—The Weather Bureau here said a typhoon is blowing across the Pacific and warned ships to keep out of its path.
 The typhoon, if it keeps its present course, will pass between the Philippines and Formosa and strike the China mainland near Hong Kong.

Red Youth Hails Stalin As 'Fuehrer'

BERLIN —(P)—German Communist Youth bosses Monday publicly hailed Stalin as their "fuehrer." They did this in a message to the Soviet leader following up Sunday's screaming parade of Communist youth, a demonstration which far outdid anything the Nazis ever whipped up for Hitler.
 The West used the Communist World Youth Festival to get in some propaganda blows of its own. Hundreds of thousands of youngsters who slipped by the Red guards on the sector border saw things in "imperialist" West Berlin they never dreamed existed there.
 Anything-Loyalty
 The leaders of the Communist "free German youth movement" (F.D.J.) used the word "fuehrer" (leader)—once applied exclusively to Hitler—when they sent the Soviet prime minister a pledge promising undying loyalty to him and unflinching opposition to "western imperialists." Time after time the message, purportedly signed by 4,145,839 young Germans, addressed the Soviet leader as "Dear Joseph Stalin." It concluded with the words: "long live our wise teacher and fuehrer, our best friend, the great Stalin."
 Ernst Reuter, mayor of West Berlin, said the Red youth festival was "a great success for the free world." Some said the festival had given the Communists such a jolt that East Berlin would not be chosen for such a role again. It was too easy for the Reds to get a look at the other side of the curtain.

"FLYING TRAILERS" FOR FAST FREIGHT—Huge helicopters, each as big as a conventional air liner, carrying removable "pods" filled with freight, are expected to be in operation next year. The helicopters are a version of the Sikorski HO4S, now being built for the Air Force. The artist's conception shows a centrally located "helipod" in operation. At (1) an XB-16 is ready to take off with an attached pod, big as a cross-country bus, which a trailer-truck has just hauled in. Another helicopter (2) has laid its huge "egg," which has been coupled to a truck and is being hauled away. At (3) a third helicopter prepares to spot-land in the circle with its loaded pod. In foreground and background (4), trailer trucks leave and approach the helipod.

What Happened To One Business Man!

This isn't a true story . . . it's a fable . . . but it could happen . . . and it has happened.

Once upon a time there was a big merchant, he got that way by attending strictly to business, taking seriously his customer's wants, and giving as much time to his advertising as it should have.

So, he grew . . . and he grew . . . and he grew. Business got so good he didn't need to think so much of his customers, nor of his advertising. In fact, he found he was wasting time by thinking of advertising. He got "smart." He couldn't help it, of course, if "advertising" expenditures more and more went into entertaining . . . and pamphlets . . . and booklets and for taking a good customer here, there and everywhere.

Well, this went on for several years. During that time, youngsters were growing up, customers were dying off, new people were coming to town. But our good friend wasn't getting this new business . . . he was too busy contacting the old ones, saying "yes" to every hit and miss sound. "I've got to advertise umpteen thousand dollars worth this year, so put me down for a page in your booklet!" Then one day, the foreman of his shop got in to see him. "We need to do some advertising, Mr. Blankety Blank," he said in no uncertain terms. "We can't afford to spend any more for advertising," said the boss indignantly. "Last year we spent umpteen thousand dollars for advertising," and he got out his private ledger to prove his point.

There were the figures, all down in black and white. So the shop foreman scratched his head and went back to his bench. Then he started looking for a new job . . . no use staying with a firm which couldn't be helped when umpteen thousand dollars were being spent for advertising. "I guess advertising just isn't as important as I thought," he said to himself. "We haven't had a new customer in months!"

Yet, in another part of town, a young man was going great guns. He was running ads regularly in the newspaper. Putting time and thought into his business. Asking his newspaper advertising writer for new ideas, accepting their suggestions for improvement of his campaign. He wasn't spending umpteen thousand dollars a year, that's true, but he was seeing that every advertising dollar was wisely spent in a medium capable of bringing in a constant flow of new customers. Now and then he had to explain to a good customer why he couldn't afford to take a "big ad" in the booklet or the club pamphlet, but that wasn't hard to do because he knew that to influence a customer or a prospective customer, it was necessary for his ad to be read . . . and to be read it has to say something.

He knew, too that advertising is, and always has been, a highly specialized field. There's a right and a wrong way to write advertising if it's going to pay off. That's why he put at least 80% of his advertising budget into newspaper advertising . . . that's why he built a sound business . . . that's why he continued to do well when others were failing.

Army Stands Firm On Penalties For Cribbing Cadets

WEST POINT, N. Y. —(P)—The Army held firm Monday to its stand that there will be no honorable discharges for cadets found guilty of violating the Military Academy's honor code.
 There has been a strong movement, launched last week by Heik Football Coach Earl (Red) Blank to allow the accused cadets to leave the Academy without the stigma contained or implied in other forms of dismissal.
 A restatement of the Army's position came Sunday with an official announcement that final hearings should be completed early this week on the 90 cadets facing dismissal for cribbing on examinations.
 "The action we are to take has been approved by the Department of the Army and the President himself," said Col. James B. Leer, the Academy's public information officer. He added:
 "There can be no deviation from the statement made last week by the superintendent, Maj. Gen. Frederick Irving."
 Irving had said cadets admitting guilt under oath would be given a chance to resign. Those refusing to resign, he said, would be discharged by Administration order.

Sister Kenny—

 is stated by the fact that the American Congress, in a special bill, granted her the "freedom of the United States." She is the second person in history to gain this distinction, which allows her to travel back and forth without passport or immigration formalities. The first was General Lafayette, who won the right for his services in helping the American colonists gain their independence from England in the 18th Century.
 "I have an abiding and deep love for America and the Americans," Miss Kenny said, "and it has been through American friends that I was able to return to Australia and now go to the Copenhagen conference."
 Miss Kenny lived in the United States from 1940 until February of this year, when she returned to her old home in Toowoomba, Queensland.
 The noted nurse will present a manuscript on her controversial concept and treatment of polio to the American Medical Association while in the United States.
 Bears No Grudge
 Miss Kenny's theories and treatment of polio threw U. S. medical circles into an uproar when first introduced. A survey earlier this year showed most doctors, by 1951, gave her credit for a "virtual revolution" in the treatment of polio, but still disagreed with her concept of the disease.
 The Australian sister (an Australian Army medical title) teaches that polio can strike any muscle or organ of the body. Most doctors think it is confined to the central nervous system.
 Despite this difference, The Associated Press survey showed, most doctors said she had spurred the medical profession into much greater use of methods designed to prevent crippling of polio victims.
 "I bear no grudge against the doctors who know nothing of my discoveries," she said Monday. "I have fought for 40 years to make my discoveries known and I will fight on until I die."

Probing Solons May Turn Spotlight On Wild Parties

WASHINGTON —(P)—Investigating senators Monday said they may turn a public spotlight on wild parties at which a contractor provided girls to entertain Army procurement officers.
 Committee members said they will decide within a week or two how many details to make public.
 Investigation started a year ago, to determine whether the contractor gain unlawful advantage in competing for defense contracts. The firm got contracts and is performing under them, these sources said.
 Two civilian procurement officers resigned after being suspended by the Army during the inquiry. The contractor's name also was kept secret.
 A preliminary report said the two had received "entertainment in the form of women and parties" but gave no details.

Hungary Charges Border Violations

BUDAPEST —(P)—Hungary Monday charged in a formal note to Yugoslavia that Premier Marshal Tito's border forces fired 105-millimeter artillery shells deep into Hungarian territory.
 "The note said the number of such 'border violations and provocations' have more than doubled since last May."
 The latest Hungarian note said the number of border violations reached 31 from July 1 to 27. This was in contrast to 14 such cases in May, the note added.

R-T Receives First Santa Claus Letter

Maybe it's the cool weather . . . The first Santa Claus letter of the coming Christmas season reached The Reporter-Telegram Monday, a couple of months ahead of the expected deluge from children.
 This letter, signed "Roger" on the front of the envelope, merely was addressed to "Santa Claus" in a child's scrawl. But the letter itself will have to be read with much make-believe.
 It's just lines drawn across the page like the graph of a business concern with good months and bad.

MRS. BENEDUM RITES HELD IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH —(P)—Funeral services for Mrs. Michael L. Benedum, 79, wife of the famous oil wildcatter, were held Monday at the home.
 Mrs. Benedum died Saturday. Her husband, now 82, is her only survivor.

Harrell Tells Club Of Hospital Gains

Members of the Kiwanis Club heard a report Monday on the progress made by Midland Memorial Hospital during the last year.
 The report came from Richard Harrell, hospital administrator, appeared as the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon-meeting of the organization at Hotel Scharbauer.
 "We have attempted and are still attempting to improve our services," he said, "and at a cost which you can afford."
 Harrell pointed out that since the hospital opened more than a year ago the room rates have been substantially reduced. Private rooms, which cost $18 a day a year ago, for instance, now cost only $10.50.
 Harrell also reported the employment of a dietician trained in the feeding of hospital patients.
 "I am not going to tell you we have reached any level of perfection," he said. "There is still much to be done and many problems to be solved."
 "But we are getting them straightened out and we are trying to provide a facility so that no person will have to leave Midland for the treatment of any type of illness."

Congratulations To

 Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Berry, Route 1, on the birth Saturday of a son, Michael Dean, weighing ten pounds, two ounces.

What's RIGHT?

Your school age child frequently rides on buses.
 WRONG: Don't worry over his manners in such public places.
 RIGHT: Teach him to stand or sit quietly while on a bus, to offer his seat to any woman who is standing, and similar courtesies.
 You are writing to a woman in public life and are not sure whether or not she is married.
 WRONG: Address the letter to Martha Brown—using no title before the name.
 RIGHT: Address the letter to Miss Martha Brown.

NEW "LEG"—Taskiki Takessa of Tobaru, Okinawa, who lost her leg and her mother during a World War II bombing raid, gratefully accepts a new crutch from M/Sgt. Samuel McLaren of Tampa, Fla., to replace the uncomfortable home-made one she had been using. The sergeant, a member of the 307th Bomb Wing of the 20th Air Force stationed on the island, discovered the girl's plight while touring the village. He and other airmen made the steel crutch with their outfit's sheet metal shop during their spare time.

Political Thunder Rumbles From West

WASHINGTON —(P)— Political weather vane swinging toward 1952 have registered a couple of sizeable blows from out of the west. California's Democratic organization Saturday endorsed President Truman for reelection.

Senator Thye (R-Minn) Monday predicted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will sweep Minnesota's "open" presidential primary next Spring, if his name is entered.

And Senator Cain (R-Wash) said Senator Taft (R-Ohio) would be elected President if he got the Republican nomination. Cain, interviewed on a television program, declined to say, however, whether Taft was his personal choice.

A California move to back Truman was made by the executive committee of the Democratic State Central Committee, which noted in a resolution that state election codes give it the power to become a state campaign committee working for election of the party's presidential candidate.

Stassen Involved
Truman hasn't said yet whether he will be a candidate. The Minnesota test—next March 18—is the first in which a candidate can be entered without his formal consent. They said he will not be surprised if Eisenhower is represented in some way in the bidding for Republican delegates.

If Eisenhower isn't publicly available at the time, this possibility might come through a maneuver by Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania.

Stassen could say he was seeking the state delegation in order to deliver it to the general if the latter becomes available.

MIDLAND FIRM MOVES
CHANGES BUSINESS STYLE
AUSTIN—The Secretary of State has announced an amendment to the charter of a domestic corporation in Midland.
The name of the McCutchin Drilling and Production Company has been changed to Alex McCutchin Drilling and Production Company. The place of business of the company has been changed from Midland to Dallas.

CLOSED TUESDAY, AUG. 14th

Some of you may have forgotten, but that is V-J DAY, and one which most of us never will forget. In 1945 many of us were in remote parts of the world, hoping we'd soon be home... hoping we'd never have to have more "V" days.
Things have changed somewhat since then, and we are hoping to see a "V-K" Day, but we want it to be a Victory day, and not one in which we lick the heels of the "I's"; in the Kremlin.
With your permission, we will observe this with the thought that a lasting peace isn't won by compromise, that America is great and strong sometimes despite our leaders, and that peace without fear is worth whatever price it takes to maintain it.

Republican Senators Promises Report On MacArthur's Ouster

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senators who spent almost two months investigating the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur apparently have come to an abrupt parting of the way over the need of a report on their findings.

Sunday, Senator Cain (R-Wash) said flatly he and seven other members of the two inquiry committees, Armed Services and Foreign Relations, already have signed a report. But on Saturday, Senator Russell (D-Ga.), who ran the 2,000,000-word hearings, repeated what he has said before—that he thinks no report is needed.

However, Russell told a reporter he would call a meeting of the joint committee soon to make a final decision.

Cain, appearing on an NBC television show, did not identify the senators who he said joined him in his report.

It was learned early last month that Cain was working on a preliminary report blasting President Truman for firing the Far East commander and declaring that MacArthur's Korean war program was "the only positive program" for winning the war.

Cain said then he was representing "six or seven" Republicans.

But Sunday, all Cain would say is that the report outlines the signers' view as to mistakes made in the Far East.

He said the eight would submit it to the joint committee for approval but would make it public whether approved, or not.

827 Escape Injury As Steamer Grounds

BOSTON —(P)— A beach-bound crowd of 827 passengers was jarred a bit Sunday when the excursion steamer Nantasket grounded on Peddock's Island after heavy fog trapped her in treacherous Hull Gut.

There were no injuries and no police as Coast Guard vessels, police and fireboats and passing lobstermen teamed to take off the passengers.

In about three hours all had been taken to safety and the 260-foot vessel was floated free.

Belgian Freighter Disappears At Sea

HAMBURG, GERMANY —(P)— The Belgian freighter Bess disappeared after flashing distress signals Sunday night.

The Bess radioed that the crew was taking to the lifeboats and that the 1,116-ton ship, loaded with sand and wire, was listing 30 degrees to starboard.

Seven rescue ships have combed the area of the North German Bight of Borkum, from where the freighter last was heard. They reported finding no lifeboats no floats.

Medical Treatment

Jack Harris, 1810 East Indiana Street, was given emergency medical treatment during the weekend at Western Clinic-Hospital.

THIS IS REALLY "BIG STEEL"—This giant steel girder, largest single shipment ever to be handled by the New York Central Railway, occupied three flat cars for its trip from New Market, N. J., to New York City. The girder weighs 107 tons, is 153 feet, seven inches long, and 11 feet, five inches high. It is the first of three main girders to be used to build a parkway bridge over New York Central tracks at Woodlawn, in The Bronx.

Largest Maneuvers Since World War II Open In Carolinas

PORT BRAGO, N. C. —(P)— Exercise Southern Pine war games opened Monday with a mythical enemy aggressor trying to crash through a defending U. S. force and capture the Raleigh-Durham industrial area.

The two-week maneuver, involving about 110,000 troops and airmen, is America's biggest field training test since World War II. Many of the ground troops will leave for Germany this fall to join Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact Army.

The mock war is being fought in the pine-wooded sandhills surrounding Fort Bragg in South Carolina. Troops and planes of a make-believe enemy have pulled a sneak invasion of the South Carolina coast and are moving up toward Fort Bragg.

They have aimed an armoured spearhead at Raleigh-Durham, about 60 miles north of the fort. The maneuver is designed to set up realistic battlefield situations for defending U. S. troops.

Ground troops of both sides have air support. The deputy maneuver commander, Maj. Gen. W. R. Weinfurber, commanding general of the Ninth Air Force, says "Air operations in Exercise Southern Pine will demonstrate once more that tactical air forces and army troops are inseparable partners in any successful land campaign." Jet planes also are being used.

The troops engaged include the 28th Infantry Division, the 43rd Infantry Division and the 82nd Airborne Division. Airmen are from the 9th and 18th Air Forces. The 301st Logistical Command, a former New York City reserve unit, is supplying both the aggressor and U. S. forces.

The director of the whole maneuver is Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commanding general of the Third Army.

Passengers Escape Miraculously When Crack Train Wrecks

FOUR OAKS, N. C. —(P)— Hundreds of passengers escaped death or serious injury near here Sunday in the wreck of the Atlantic Coast Line's streamline passenger train, the East Coast Champion.

According to C. G. Sibley, ACL assistant vice president for operations, more than 500 persons were aboard the Miami-New York train which crashed two miles north of here at 1:20 a.m. The railroad announced no one was killed and no one was injured seriously when the nine middle cars of the 18-car train were derailed and three cars plunged down a 20-foot embankment.

The fact that none were killed in the wreck was termed "the most miraculous thing I've ever seen" by Dr. Watson Wharton of nearby Smithfield, where nine persons were hospitalized following the wreck.

Six derailed cars held to the right of way, although one turned over. One of the three cars that toppled over the embankment landed on its side, one on its wheels and one on its top. The derailment left the diner crosswise of the double-track line, with one end in the air and the other buried in mud at the bottom of the fill.

A cloudburst hit the area Friday, and Sibley said: "Indications are that the cause of the derailment was the fill sloughing off while the train was passing over due to recent heavy rains."
