S-C Mitchell Gets Three Wildcats To Drill To 200 Feet

Priggs, Bailey-Shatto of Colorado City have filed applications with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permits to drill three 200-foot wildcats in South-Central Mitchell County.

The explorations are to try for production in a shallow sand section which has logged some oil in core holes which have been drilled in that territory.

The projects are Priggs-Bailey-Shatto Nos. 1, 2 and 3 Elwood estate.

No. 1 will be 1,500 feet from east and 201 feet from north lines of section 4, block 16, SPRR survey.

No. 2 will be 978 feet from east and 320 feet from north lines of section 4, block 16, SPRR survey.

No. 3 will be 1,306 feet from east and 600 feet from north lines of section 4, block 16, SPRR survey.

The shallow explorations are approximately 12 miles south of Colorado City. They are to be drilled at once.

Discovery In Martin Flows 234.6 BO In 24 Hours Of Testing

Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1 E. B. Dickenson, Central-South Martin County Ellenburger discovery flowed 234.6 barrels of pipe line oil in 24 hours through a one-half-inch tubing choke.

There was no formation water. Gas-oil ratio was approximately 350-1.

The production is from perforated section in the top of the Ellenburger at 12,087-105 feet.

That interval had been washed with 200-gallon mud acid slush.

Operator is due to report the official potential test gauge soon.

The new field opener is nine miles west of Stanton, 12 miles north and east of Midland, and 600 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Blackwood & Nichols Reports Potential On C-W Reagan Opener

A small pumping discovery from the Spraberry has been completed one and one-quarter miles north-east of production from that formation in the Bendum-multipay field of Central-West Reagan County.

The new opener is The Blackwood & Nichols No. 1 L. T. Clark, 600 feet from south and east lines of section 43, block Y, MK&T survey.

It was finalized for a daily potential of 33.2 barrels of 38-gravity oil and 23.2 barrels of salt water on a full 24-hour pumping test.

Gas-oil ratio was 700-1.

Completion was from open hole at 6,589-6,537 feet.

Texaco Spots Two Tests In Lea Area

The Texas Company has spotted locations for an offset to a recently completed Wolfcamp discovery in Central-West Lea County and a flanker to an indicated Devonian discovery in the northeast portion of the same county.

The firm's No. 1-AV State will be drilled two locations west and one location north of the firm's No. 1-AS State, the Wolfcamp discovery.

Drill site for the new test is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 31-14-32e.

Texaco No. 1-AW State will be dug 600 feet from south and west lines of section 35-10e-37e and one location northwest of the concern's No. 1-AR State, possible Devonian discovery which is now fishing for lost swab.

More Ellenburger Pay Is Found In Lea Exploration

Skelly Oil Company, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and J. C. Maxwell, Inc., No. 1-J Mexico indicated multiple discovery in Southeast Lea County, N. M., is at total depth of 10,245 feet taking a drillstem test with packer set at 10,220 feet.

A drillstem test in the Ellenburger from 11,200 to 11,220 feet, with tool open three hours, developed 2,900 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud, 5,500 feet of clean oil and the water blanket used. No formation water was present.

Bottom-hole flowing pressure was 8,875 pounds and 15 minute shutin pressure was 3,675 pounds.

A previous drillstem test in the Ellenburger flowed oil.

This well also indicated as a discovery from the Queens sand, Tubb of the Clear Fork and the Fusselman when those sections were drilled.

Drill site is 900 feet from south and east lines of section 32-24e-38e, and about one mile from the Andrews County line to the east.

Oil Allowable Set At Record High

24-Day Flow, Statewide, Is Latest Order

ABILENE — (P) — The State Railroad Commission Thursday set the state's September daily oil production allowable at a record 3,059,367 barrels—an increase of 76,861 barrels from the August 11 daily allowable.

It is the first time Texas' daily oil production has been set at more than three million barrels.

The commission set 19 production days for the East Texas field and 24 for the rest of the state generally.

Representatives from the Petroleum Administration for Defense told the hearing here Thursday that Texas must help alleviate the shortage of oil production caused by the shutdown in Iran.

A. P. Frame, deputy administrator for the PAD, told the commission the world oil supply situation may be aggravated by a strike reported Wednesday in the giant Aruba Oil Refinery in the West Indies.

He said that refinery had a 400,000-barrel-a-day capacity, but it was reported that production already was down to 285,000 barrels a day.

Frame said a large part of the oil exported from Iran had been going to Western Europe and indicated that Texas will have to play a big part in taking over.

Allowables By Districts

The daily allowables in barrels, by districts, with increases:

District 1—37,504, up 407.

District 2—175,303, up 5,223.

District 3—324,614, up 11,763.

District 4—324,187, up 3,108.

District 5—89,586, up 1,522.

District 6 (Ogallala)—134,612, up 2,551.

District 6 (East Texas Field) 232,478, up 4,586.

District 7B—104,048, up 3,076.

District 7C—111,545, up 2,182.

District 8—1,053,000, up 30,507.

District 9—199,647, up 3,306.

District 10—102,329, up eight.

Totals: 3,059,367, up 76,861.

U. S., Philippines Reach Agreement On Defense Treaty

WASHINGTON — (P) — The United States and the Philippines Thursday announced agreement on a mutual defense treaty pledging each nation to "act to meet the common dangers" in event of an armed attack on the other.

The pact will be signed early next month.

The announcement said the agreement will embody commitments which already exist between the United States and the Philippines. These result from agreements on American use of bases in the islands and American aid in building up Philippine armed forces.

The American-Philippines treaty is one of four now projected for signing next month in connection with a Japanese peace.

The others are the proposed Japanese peace treaty, restoring Japan's independence and permitting its rearming; a mutual U. S.-Japanese security treaty to permit American armed forces to operate in and around Japan after the occupation ends; and an American-New Zealand-Australian defense treaty.

South Koreans Give Out Sound Advice

MUNSAN, KOREA — (P) — A large banner with the slogan of a South Korean division Thursday was put across the road near the entrance to the Allied base.

In English and Korean, it said: "Sharpen your bayonets."

Injection Of Wrong Drug Brings Death To Two Volunteers

VERMILLION, S. D. — (P) — The deaths of two University of South Dakota staff members Wednesday night, after they served as "human guinea pigs" in a drug experiment, Thursday was described as a tragic accident.

Dr. Donald Slaughter, dean of the university's medical school, said the deaths occurred after a doctor on his staff "picked up the wrong bottle."

The staff doctor, whose name was withheld, had planned to participate in the experiment, along with a fourth person.

Slaughter said the staff physician called him after injections had been given to Jack Clifford, 30, laboratory technician, and Mrs. Ardy Pearson, 26, a secretary. The injections were given Tuesday afternoon.

Clifford and Mrs. Pearson died 24 hours later.

Dr. Slaughter said all known antidotes were given without effect after his assistant phoned to say: "I've made a mistake."

Classed As Sedative

Clifford and Mrs. Pearson had submitted voluntarily to injections of a new drug, which was classed as a sedative.

President I. D. Weeks of the university withheld comment on the deaths except to say the drug which the four participants in the experiment were supposed to have received was one in common use for research.

He added that its experimental use here was under a private grant from a drug firm, and that the university was not supervising the tests directly, although its facilities were used.

Clark Gunderson, attorney serving as legal adviser to the university, said:

"All evidence pertinent to an inquiry has been collected and will be made available at the call of the authorities. Names of the researcher, or researchers, involved will not be made public" until an inquest is held.

Arlene Davis Paces Powder Puff Derby

FORT WORTH — (P) — Arlene Davis of Columbus Thursday was the first contestant in the All-Women National Air Race to reach Fort Worth, only required landing point between Santa Ana, Calif., and Detroit.

Touching on Meacham Field at 10:10 a. m., the tiny blonde flier of national note received a corage, sandwich, mints and gum from members of the Fort Worth "99's," women fliers' organization sponsoring the race.

Permian Bowl Grid Ducats On Sale Here

One hundred tickets, on the 40-yard-line, for the East-West All Star Football Game at Odessa Friday night were to go on sale Thursday afternoon at Tailorline, Inc., 113 North Colorado Street.

"Tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis at $1.80 per ducat," Al Kelley, owner of Tailorline, said.

Kelley obtained the tickets through the Odessa Kiwanis Club for the convenience of Midlanders who plan to attend the game in which several Midland boys are playing.

Smaller Group To Take Over Truce Parleys

MUNSAN, KOREA — (P) — Truce talks moved into a new and informal phase Thursday as Allies and Reds sought to break their long impasse over a demarcation line.

Negotiators created a small subcommittee to try to untangle the snarl over where a demarcation line should be drawn between armies.

It was the most encouraging step they have taken toward solving this issue.

The change in tactics came amid growing, but cautious, optimism the Reds may be willing to compromise on their demand for a demilitarized zone back along the 38th parallel. The Allies want it right where they are now, along the present front in defensible terrain.

The subcommittee was created Thursday. It will meet at 11 a. m., Friday (7 p. m. Thursday, CST).

Negotiations have been locked over this point more than three weeks.

The UN command said it will issue no communiques during these meetings. The press will not be briefed. The purpose is to allow negotiators complete freedom in trying to find a satisfactory recommendation.

Daily Sessions Suspended

Daily sessions of the full, five-man delegations will be suspended while the smaller group of four works.

The subcommittee idea was advanced by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN delegate. He suggested a small group meeting informally might solve the question which has plagued conferences of the full delegations for 16 consecutive meetings.

The Communists accepted.

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, proposed two delegates from each side instead of one, as Joy had suggested.

The UN accepted.

The change permitted Nam Il to name both a Red Korean and a Chinese general to the subcommittee. He appointed North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Bong-Cho, and Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang.

Joy named only one of his delegates immediately—Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, deputy chief of staff of the U. S. Eighth Army.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN spokesman, said the other will be named Friday.

The subcommittee's job will be to recommend location of a military demarcation line and a buffer zone separating opposing armies for the duration of the armistice.

Joining the Crane lodge as hosts are lodges from Midland, Pecos, Iran, Odessa, Rankin, Big Lake, Goldsmith, McCamey, Kermit, Wink, Imperial, Grandfalls and Monahan.

John A. Sewell, worshipful master of Midland Lodge Number 623, A.F.M., Thursday said approximately 50 Masons from here would attend the annual meeting. Midland is one of the host lodges.

Midland's group is not officially organized for the trip but the individuals going to the ceremony will total at least 50, Sewell said.

Featured speakers will be W. J. Burris of McAllen, most worshipful grand master of the Texas Grand Lodge.

A barbecue at which 2,800 pounds of beef will be served, is to be an entertainment feature.

Of interest to guest women will be a bazaar given by the Crane women in the Community Hall. An annual OES meeting also will be held by the women.

Record Attendance Of 2,000 Expected At Hilltop Meeting

CRANE—A record attendance of 2,000 persons is expected here Saturday for the annual Hilltop meeting for Masons. The ceremony will be held on a hilltop south of the town on the Caliche Loop road.

Thirteen area lodges will join with the Crane unit as hosts. Lodge representatives from every state and some foreign countries are expected to attend.

Joining the Crane lodge as hosts are lodges from Midland, Pecos, Iran, Odessa, Rankin, Big Lake, Goldsmith, McCamey, Kermit, Wink, Imperial, Grandfalls and Monahan.

San Angelo 'Phone Workers Walk Out

SAN ANGELO — (P) — Telephone service was disrupted Thursday when some 200 of 250 San Angelo Telephone Company employees left their jobs at 8 a. m. in a wage-increase dispute.

They are asking an 18 per cent raise. The company was standing fast on an 11 1/4 per cent increase offer.

Company and union officials started discussions Tuesday.

Only emergency long distance calls were being put through Thursday. Administrative personnel manned the equipment.

Council Calls Off Thursday Meeting

For the second time this week, a scheduled meeting of the City Council was postponed.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said the regular Thursday afternoon session had been cancelled because it would be impossible to have a quorum.

Terminal Man Burned By Butane

A 35-year-old Terminal man was burned seriously Thursday when escaping butane caught fire after his truck had knocked off the fittings of an underground tank.

The victim was identified at Midland Memorial Hospital as Albin H. Hughes, a painter.

Hughes was doing some painting at the Kingsway Tourist Motel on West Highway 80.

When he started to move his truck, Midland firemen reported, it knocked the fittings off an underground 100-gallon butane storage tank.

When he attempted to start the engine of his truck again, the escaping butane caught fire, burning him seriously.

Firemen extinguished the blaze and, unable to cap the tank, set it off again to prevent it from settling in dangerous pockets.

Hughes was rushed to Midland Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment.

Two Die As Blast Rips Esso Plant

BATON ROUGE, LA. — (P) — A giant explosion ripped through a naphtha treating plant at Esso Standard Oil Company's refinery at 5:50 a. m. Thursday. Two persons were reported killed and 11 injured.

House windows and shop panes were shattered in areas leading to the 1,100-acre Esso refinery on the Mississippi River bank in Northern Baton Rouge.

Black smoke soared from a fiercely burning area of five or six gasoline storage tanks at the naphtha treating plant.

Plant officials were unable to give the cause.

Most of the burning tanks were demolished. Esso firemen were fighting the fuel-fuel flames. Several railroad freight cars were reported turned over by the blast on nearby tracks.

Plant officials said the naphtha plant is a complex system of tanks and agitators that purify gasoline with chemicals.

The Esso plant hospital reported eight injured, three seriously. Three more were taken to Our Lady of the Lake Sanitarium and two to the Baton Rouge General Hospital.

Midland, Austin In Little League Game

HOUSTON — Midland's Little League baseballers were to meet Austin at 5 p. m. Thursday in the first round of the Regional Little League Baseball Tournament here. Midland is winner of District Four, while Austin is the District Three champion.

Five More Bombing Suspects Are Jailed

DALLAS — (P) — Five new suspects in the South Dallas negro bombing cases were jailed Wednesday and early Thursday.

Deputy Police Chief Harry T. Riddell, who announced the arrests after midnight, indicated the new suspects also might be connected with which broke out in the mixed-race sections of South Dallas.

Exodus Of Cadets From West Point At Halfway Mark

WEST POINT, N. Y. — (P) — The exodus of Military Academy honor code violators continued Thursday, with almost half of the 90 accused cadets back in civilian clothes.

A white glove sentry waved 11 ousted youths past the south gate Wednesday, bringing to 44 the total number of ousters for cheating at examinations.

How long they will remain in civilian clothes was problematical. Most have dates with draft boards after their 30-day terminal leave expires. Some hope to enter other colleges.

Most have resigned from the Academy under administrative orders specifying neither honor nor dishonor.

Mystery Slaying Of OSS Officer By Own Men Seven Years Ago Is Bared

WASHINGTON — (P) — A cold-blooded, "deuce of spades" killing of an American cloak-and-dagger officer behind enemy lines in Italy seven years ago has been solved, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

The department declared Maj. William V. Holohan, then 40, was killed by two fellow American servicemen with the aid of two Italians. All were attached to an Office of Strategic Services (OSS) mission parachuted into enemy territory to get the low-down on partisan guerrilla bands.

One of the former U. S. servicemen denied any connection with the killing; the other withheld comment.

Named by the department as the principals in the case were:

Aldo Icardi, then a 28-year-old lieutenant, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now employed in New York City. The department said in a formal mimeographed announcement that Icardi hatched the plot in a disagreement with Holohan over how much arms aid to give to Communist partisans.

Carl G. LoDolce, then a sergeant, from Rochester, N. Y. The department said LoDolce "drew the two of spades" and thus got the assignment of shooting Holohan when Icardi decided poison given him earlier might not be effective.

In his home in Peekskill, N. J., Icardi denied any part in the killing and said he assumed it may have been done by two Italians who, the department said, had told the entire story.

In Rochester, LoDolce's wife, Ruby, said "My husband does not want to make any statement until (Continued on Page Three)

Pioneer Would Give Monahans Air Service

DALLAS — Pioneer Air Lines has filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington two applications which would permit direct service between Abilene and Austin, service to Monahans from Midland and service to Brownwood as an alternate intermediate point between Abilene and Austin.

The application was filed by General Robert J. Smith, president of Pioneer.

Pioneer presently serves both Abilene and Austin on a route where the flying distance is 272 miles. The new application, if approved, would permit direct flying between the two points, a distance of only 189 miles. Secondly, it would permit Brownwood to be served as an intermediate point between Abilene and Austin.

Monahans, a large oil center for West Texas, does not have air service.

Juneau, Alaska, has an average annual snowfall of 105.7 inches.

Mrs. Thomas Attends Services For Mother

Mrs. Doyle Thomas, 1202 South Fort Worth Street, has returned from Vernon, where funeral services were held Tuesday for her mother, Mrs. W. F. Abbott.

Mrs. Abbott died Sunday in a Dallas hospital on her seventy-sixth birthday, following a lengthy illness. She had resided in Vernon since 1927 and was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Elmer Walker of Fort Worth and Mrs. F. J. Speed, Greenville; three sons, Lindsey Abbott, Fort Worth; Jack Abbott, Dallas, and Wilson Abbott of Vernon; a brother and several grandchildren.

Dies May Represent Marshall Housewives

MARSHALL, TEXAS —(P)—Former U. S. Rep. Martin Dies says he may take the case of Marshall wives who have refused to collect Social Security taxes from their domestic help.

Dies once headed the House Un-American Activities Committee. The wives talked to him Wednesday night.

Dies said he would take the case if it could be financed satisfactorily.

Guard Fired, Grand Jury Probe Ordered In Chicago Jailbreak

CHICAGO —(P)—Alleged "laxity" in the big Cook County jail was investigated Thursday as more than 1,000 policemen searched for an armed fugitive who killed a guard and escaped from death row.

"Shoot to kill" orders are out for Harry Williams, 20, six-foot, two-inch negro who beat lower guard Arthur Turley to death and scaled the wall to freedom Tuesday night. Williams, a rapist and slayer, was scheduled to be executed September 14.

One guard already has been fired. Edwin T. Breen, first assistant state's attorney, said the escape was "a case of gross negligence and laxity."

Breen said no search was made of cells in the death row occupied by "12 of the toughest men in the United States."

He said he also is seeking to learn how Williams obtained 16 sheets, from which he braided the rope he used in his escape.

Indictments Possible

"This evidence will be presented to the grand jury and indictments will be sought if we find grounds for prosecution," Breen said.

Sheets usually are delivered to inmates by a guard. Prisoners are supposed to return a used sheet before getting a laundered one.

The dismissed guard is Carl A. Anderson, 37, Warden Philip Scanlan, who discharged Anderson, said the guard had transferred Williams to a new cell in the death row after Scanlan refused to make the change.

Squad of police chased more than a dozen clues Wednesday and Thursday night. They set up a blockade in one block on the South Side and conducted a door-to-door search after Williams was reported to have climbed through a window into a home, showed a pistol and demanded money. Williams was not found in this search.

Many Things More Vital Than Politics, HST Tells Newsmen

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Truman Thursday said there are plenty of persons ambitious to be President, but they don't know what they are getting into.

That was his latest comment on presidential possibilities for 1952, almost a year before the nominating conventions. He didn't name anyone.

He admonished reporters that they are working politics to the vanishing point when there are plenty of other things more important to talk about.

The President said the Japanese peace treaty will be signed and he does not think the signing arrangements can be upset by anybody.

Asked about reports that General MacArthur would attend and speak at the treaty signing, he said he did not know but the deposed Pacific commander would be welcome.

Politics, as usual of late, broke open Thursday's news conference. A reporter commented that General Eisenhower is not a candidate and Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) isn't either, so "what is left, besides you?"

Truman said he could not answer that. Then he added there are plenty of people ambitious for the job.

The President declined comment on questions about "McCarthyism," especially the statement by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that communism in government would be an issue next year in the campaign.

Asked to comment on a magazine poll in which Douglas has voted the "best senator" and McCarthy the "worst," Truman said a similar poll was conducted when he was in the Senate and it found him in the same position as the current poll on Douglas. He said he compliments Douglas on being in that position.

The President said he still is studying personally the question of whether football is overemphasized at West Point.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Harry And Margaret Do Well At Press Conferences

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Truman and daughter Margaret, I can personally report today, could do mighty well in Hollywood teaching movie stars the ABC's of a press conference.

I've seen them both in action—Margaret in Hollywood a couple of months ago and the President here in Washington. They're a couple of smoothies, costing charm, wit and fast thinking.

With the exception of Carole Lombard, I've never seen a movie star more at ease than Harry and Margaret while facing a press mob. But privately, I can tell you, Harry says Margaret handles herself better in a press conference than her old man.

And now that I've met and chatted with Mr. President—I was introduced to him following his weekly press conference—I've got a flash for Hollywood talent scouts: Meeting him informally, he has the personality of Clark Gable and the charm of Errol Flynn. Or, as the Washington news boys like to put it, "The guy has political sex appeal."

TV Invades Mr. Vernon
The effect of television, I'm unhappy to report, is casting its shadow across the Potomac and over the home of George Washington.

As hundreds of tourists swarmed all over historic Mt. Vernon, I followed a young couple with a six-year-old daughter in tow to Washington's coach house.

The young lady, dressed in blue jeans, a cowboy shirt and a paper Indian hat, obviously was a horse opera fan. Immediately upon seeing Washington's fancy 18th Century coach, she said:

"Look, Daddy, this is where Washington caught the STAGE COACH!"

As a wide-eyed citizen, making the tourist rounds in Washington, I got a complaint and I intend to write to my Congressman about it. Those postcard photographs of the Mall between the Capitol building and the Lincoln Memorial, and of the Washington monument with its famed reflecting pool, are mighty pretty.

But I was shocked along with all the other tourists by the lack of loving care given to the heart of a nation.

The broad lawns are spotted with brown; are ragged and untrimmed. The reflecting pool is muddy, weedy and its corners are filled with rotting wood and other debris. A big chunk of stone pavement is missing from the landing of the steps leading up from the pool to the Lincoln Memorial.

The statues beside the Capitol steps need plaster repairs and a new paint job.

But the biggest blow comes at the $20,000,000 Jefferson Memorial. Jefferson heroically stands there in bronze, 18 feet high, surrounded by white marble—and all covered with dust.

A dusty Jefferson, I say, is sacrilege, and I hope all this starts a congressional investigation of Washington's weed pullers, vice presidents in charge of lawns and marble polishers.

Hollywood need not blush about its army of press agents and its special type of "five-got-an-announcement-to-make" cocktail party. There's a press agent behind every marble pillar in Washington and the free drink parties are on day-and-night schedule, like the New York automata.

By latest count, there are 500 government public relations experts, plus another 500 or 700 operating for private individuals and interests. Hollywood's press corps, I believe, numbers only about 1,000.

Washington cocktail invites are so plentiful that one brave newspaper reporter, I was told, went for exactly 83 days without paying for a single lunch or dinner. He existed solely on buffet delicacies such as rare roast beef and—pardon the thought—Russian caviar.

Traffic Light Wonder
There may yet be hope for the untangling of Washington red tape if the District of Columbia traffic light boys are ever given the reins of government.

They're just built the most amazing traffic circle in the nation—featuring 85 synchronized signal lights—and it works like a Swiss watch.

Half a dozen streets and avenues run into the circle and the compass-boxing auto and foot traffic merge and unravel on cue from the 85 signal lights which indicate left and right turns, stop and go and, for pedestrians, "Walk" and "Don't Walk." You have to see it to appreciate it.

Senate Passes Flood, Navigation Money Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed a $638,568,213 money bill for flood control and navigation works after beating all efforts to reduce amounts recommended by its Appropriation Committee.

The only money changes made on the Senate floor were two increases, totaling $1,300,000.

The items added were $1,000,000 to continue engineering studies of a power project for the Niagara River in New York, and $300,000 to construct water conservation facilities at Lavon Reservoir in Texas.

OSS Officer Killing—

She said he has been studying under the GI Bill at the Rochester Institute of Technology.

The Defense Department said it and the Justice Department have been poring over lawbooks seeking a way to prosecute Icardi and LoDolce in this country, and it added: "All possibilities have now been exhausted and it appears that the only hope of prosecution lies with action by the Italian courts."

They cannot be tried by civil courts here since the slaying the department accused them of took place outside the U.S., and they are beyond reach of military courts because both have been discharged from service.

The department said the death of Holohan occurred on the night of Dec. 8, 1944. It said that after the major was killed, his body was tied up in a weighted sleeping bag and dropped into 30 feet of water in Lake Orta, in the Alps near Trieste.

It declared two Italians who were attached to the mission, under intelligence officers' questioning a year ago last June, "finally broke down and told the real story of what happened to Major Holohan."

The department said LoDolce later located in Rochester, "finally confessed and wrote out a statement" which corroborated with that of the two Italians.

An investigation by Army intelligence officers, the department said, turned up evidence that Icardi "had apparently embezzled and converted to his own use a considerable large sum of money in gold currency entrusted to him by Major Holohan."

But it did not indicate that was the motive for the killing.

As for that, the department said there was a bitter quarrel between communist and non-communist par-

Holohan's Body Found

After the two Italians told their story of the killing, the department announcement continued. Holohan's body was found in Lake Orta—"well preserved because of the coldness of the lake."

"His wrist watch was still on his arm," it said. "Even the death gun was later found. Tests demonstrated it undoubtedly was the gun used in the killing."

The department said numerous efforts were made to clear up what had happened to Holohan, and that during one of them Icardi was questioned at length, but that the mystery was not solved until the two Italians confessed.

There was no official explanation of why the department told the story Wednesday.

But in New York, Holohan's brother, Joseph—who spells his name Holahan—said he assumed it was because an account of the case appears in the September issue of True Magazine.

'Woman Shopper' Needs No Defense From Mere Man

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

An enthusiastic press agent thinks he has a real "find" for me—and what a story it will make!

He actually has a client who is prepared to say that women shoppers aren't such heels after all. Or to use the press-agent's slightly more tactful words, that he is sure my women readers would be interested in this "champion of the female shopper."

No thanks. The 'female shopper' doesn't need any champion.

She does the bulk of family spending, so she is important. She usually does a good job of it, too.

When Mrs. America tucks her purse under her arm and starts out to shop she usually gets her money's worth.

For one thing she is tireless. If five stores don't have exactly what she wants, she is willing to trudge on to the sixth.

She's Nobody's Dupe

And she is hard to fool. She may insist that the grocer plug the watermelon, but she brings home a ripe one. She may take a lot of a salesman's time by asking such questions as "Is it washable? Is it guaranteed? Will it stand strong sunlight?" But when he has finished with her questions she knows considerable about what she is buying.

She is thrifty. She is a tireless reader of newspaper advertising, because she likes to take advantage of bargains. And she won't hesitate to walk a block to get one item at a store, simply because she knows she can save a few cents on that one particular thing.

And, like an elephant, the woman shopper never forgets. If she makes a bad buy she doesn't forget it. She avoids that particular store or that particular brand of merchandise in the future, like the plague.

Almost any woman could teach almost any man an awful lot about shopping.

But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory.—1 Cor. 2:7.

Just Six Short Years Ago

August 14, 1951, was just another day in the lives of most Midlanders. A few American flags were displayed here and there. At least one business house operated by World War II veterans closed for the day, but for the most part the day was ignored.

And yet, just six short years ago, August 14, 1945, occurred one of the most important events in modern history. On that day Japan surrendered unconditionally to end World War II hostilities.

It was a day of rejoicing for American service men in the Pacific Theater. It was a day of salvation for the prisoners of war held in brutal Jap prison camps. It was a day of elation for the families and friends of the service men. Celebrations were held in practically every city, community and hamlet of the nation.

There were those who declared, "America never will forget this day."

The passing of a very few years can and does make a difference, as evidenced by the almost unnoted sixth anniversary of the Japanese surrender.

A Reporter-Telegram reader, a South Pacific veteran who did not forget, telephoned late Tuesday to inquire if we had overlooked the anniversary. Sure enough, we had—as did most other newspapers which reach our exchange desk.

We did, however, have stories stating that the armistice talks being held in Kaesong were stalemated; that 4,500 American troops probably are being held in Communist war prisoner camps, and that the House of Representatives had authorized a record program of military building.

And therein may lie the main reason why the Jap surrender date anniversary went practically unnoticed here and elsewhere throughout the nation.

America now is in the midst of another war, police action or what have you. Many young Americans have lost their lives in the current Korean campaign. Many veterans of World War II again are fighting, this time in Korea. Others are serving on European soil.

The Japanese surrender ended the shooting in World War II, but it did not bring the peace for which our service men and women fought.

Now perhaps, Americans generally are more interested in bringing an end to the hostilities in Korea and in curbing the spread of communism throughout the world than they are in looking back on former happenings, regardless of their importance.

Still, August 14, 1945, is and always will be a most important date in the minds of the World War II service men and their families.

All this points up the need for the proclaiming by Congress of a special day—a national holiday—for the combined observance of the several armistice days of both World Wars. On such a day America might honor properly and fittingly its heroes, both living and dead, of World Wars I and II.

Although the observance of the Japanese surrender anniversary generally was overlooked this year, America is nonetheless grateful to her brave and loyal sons and daughters who served faithfully in the war against Japan.

West Point Is By No Means An Isolated Case

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By JACK ANDERSON and FRED BLUMENTHAL (Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Jack Anderson and Fred Blumenthal say: Top Nationalist general juggled aid money, American taxpayer stuck for half a million; Internal Revenue commissioner recommends firing top aides.

WASHINGTON—Even as Congress is considering another $307,000,000 for Chiang Kai-Shek, this column has uncovered shocking documentary evidence about what has happened to the last $128,000,000 he received from the American taxpayers. The indisputable fact is that huge sums have disappeared into private bank accounts, and additional, unnecessary fees have been skimmed off by a series of middlemen.

For example, this column has traced $444,706.53 right out of the taxpayer's pockets into the private account of a fictitious company. This money was supposed to pay for war surplus equipment, but was transferred mysteriously to the Lee Sun Company's account in the National City Bank of New York. However, careful investigation indicates the Lee Sun Company is nothing more than a name in a bank book.

But here's the real shocker—the man who juggled these bank accounts is Chiang Kai-Shek's top general, C. J. Chou. This same General Chou also is in charge of all military purchases for the Chinese Nationalists. In other words, of the $307,000,000 proposed for Formosa, General Chou would direct the spending of $217,000,000 earmarked as military aid.

The story of the juggled bank accounts goes back to July, 1946, when the United States sold surplus equipment located in the Philippines to the Chinese Nationalists. The price, which Chiang Kai-Shek proposed, was $596,629.07. However, this latter was scaled down to $444,706.53.

The contract called for payment to be made in U. S. dollars "concurrently with the delivery." Accordingly the money was deposited in the Bank of China on Oct. 1, 1947. Yet General Chou kept haggling over minor details, and delaying the payment for three years.

Overdue Payment On Nov. 16, 1948, the Office of Foreign Liquidation filed a sharp letter to General Chou's negotiator in the Philippines, Maj. David Hsiung, demanding: "We request that action be taken to reimburse this office in the amount of $444,706.53 as quickly as possible, since this amount has been outstanding since 1946."

This finally forced General Chou to kick through the long overdue payment. But the incredible fact is that Chou paid the debt, not from his earmarked Chinese funds from American aid money. Chou called the Chinese Procurement Office in Washington on March 23, 1949, ordering the $444,706.53 payment made out of the balance of American aid. In other words, Chou took money from the American taxpayers to pay the American taxpayers—a neat trick if you can get away with it.

This left the money that originally was appropriated to pay for the surplus equipment, still in the Bank of China. On Oct. 18, 1949, General Chou signed five checks withdrawing this money. The checks were made out in the following amounts: $110,000; $100,000; $90,000; $80,000 and $78,996.02. All these checks were presented the same day, and were made payable to the Canton Trust Company. This made a total of $450,996.02, which the Canton Trust Company deposited in the National City Bank of New York to the

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY, Written for NEA Service

These days most of the good bridge players in St. Paul are busy polishing up their bidding and play in preparation for the All-American regional tournament to be played there in the middle of October. In my opinion some of them are already too slick to need any polishing, as today's hand proves.

West's penalty doubles were a bit on the heavy side, but he could have set either two diamonds or two hearts. East's double of three clubs were probably influenced by the fact that his partner had already doubled both red suits. This double turned out to be a little hungry, however, since declarer managed to make the contract.

West opened the jack of spades, dummy covered with the king, and East took his ace and then the queen of spades. When East continued with a low spade, South properly discarded a low diamond. West ruffed with the ten of clubs, and everything fell into place neatly for the declarer. Leo Seewald, of St. Paul.

It was obvious that West had good hearts and diamonds since he had already shown out of spades, and his ten of clubs was an obvious singleton. Seewald therefore had the advantage of knowing the location of every card as early as the third trick.

West returned a low heart, and dummy won with the queen. Declarer next cashed the ace of hearts, discarding the six of diamonds, and entered his hand by ruffing dummy's last spade. Seewald's next step was to cash the ace of diamonds and ruff the ten of diamonds in dummy.

When a low heart was returned from dummy, East could do nothing better than discard his last spade, and South was able to ruff with the seven of clubs. Declarer continued by ruffing his last diamond with dummy's jack of clubs. East could then hand to return a trump, allowing South to finesse the eight and win the rest of the tricks.

More wearily than just the heat warranted, Alan Barton and Lucy Villiers walked all the way to the hotel. Nobody followed them. Nobody molested them. There was no need.

"Look," Alan said. "Add it up. Peter Vroom guessed we had a blank case and say it was some dragon god's penality to swooping. The police will never find out any more than they did about any of the other killings on this same trail. If they do, it'll be too late. Vroom knows and he'll match it whenever Uncle Ho is ready."

They did not have to tell George Bennett. The four-sheet French newspaper had the swift follow-up of the monk's miracle killing. An outrage, it was headlined A desecration of a Buddhist temple that was revolting even to the European people of the whole colony. A ruffian gang of Al-Quods had scaled the walls with bamboo ladders, brutally beaten priests who opposed them, and wrenched out three of the silver tiers that held the offerings of the devout. They had then killed in taking the Emerald Buddha himself only because the police came. Too late, of course, the item concluded cynically, to prevent the senseless vandalism as well as the theft of various images.

"Too late," Alan said bitterly, "to prevent bloody revolution. If we should tell the police everything we know about Vroom," Lucy began.

"What can we prove about Vroom?" Alan was stumped by the monk's cleverness. "We can prove he grins like a cat, period. We can

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Liberal Or Conservative Is Main Issue In GOP Battle

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Behind the coming fight for control over Pennsylvania's 70 delegates to the 1952 Republican convention in Chicago is an involved story of state politics, state finances and conflicting state legislative programs.

Pennsylvania state legislature has been in session since January. This is the longest session in its history. But the legislature still hasn't come remain rock-ribbed and conservative. Senator Duff's side of the story is that the Grundy-Owlett machine has too long represented special privilege without doing anything for the state. Before he left the governorship, Duff pointed with pride to his record.

He claimed that Pennsylvania led the nation in highway construction. It planned extension of the toll turnpike to Ohio and New Jersey, with new spur north to go to Erie and the anthracite fields.

Duff Reforms Stream pollution was attacked to improve public health. State mental hospitals were cleaned up after sensational exposure. Educational facilities were improved and teachers' salaries raised.

It is claimed the Duff administration levied $133,000,000 in new taxes to pay for $150,000,000 obligations incurred by the Martin administration. While it was predicted the Duff administration itself would end with a $90,000,000 deficit, Duff claims he left it with a surplus of $18,000,000 in the general fund plus a $49,000,000 surplus in the motor fund.

All this and more, the Grundy-Owlett faction of the party disputes most emphatically. They picture Duff as a completely phony liberal, built up by a Steve Hannagan press agent. Though he served four years as state attorney general and was hand-picked by Governor Martin as his successor, it is now claimed Duff was a Republican compromise.

Grundy-Owlett followers claim Duff thought he could maintain control of this machine from Washington, through Governor Fine, and so dominate the state in national as well as local politics.

Financially, it is claimed the Duff administration left the state $112,000,000 in the hole. In all this squabbling, Governor Fine is caught in the middle. Saddened by the death of his wife last year, and inexperienced in administration, he has not made the forceful governor needed for this situation. Moving in on it, the Grundy-Owlett faction is trying to separate the governor from Duff to regain control of the state.

These authorities have the power to issue bonds and to contract debts for public works. Today the total of this indebtedness is roughly $500,000,000. It was $81,000,000 when Gov. (now Senator) James H. Duff took over from Gov. (now U. S. Senator) Edward Martin. And there's a big drive on to blame Governor Duff for building up all this indebtedness.

To service this debt, Gov. John S. Fine, Duff's successor and previously considered his man, proposed a budget of $1,220,000,000 for 1951-52. To raise this amount he proposed a flat state income tax of $5 on every $1,000, plus a 25 per cent increased tax on corporate net income.

Duff Opposes Tax The latter tax passed. The former passed the House but has been deadlocked in the Senate. Some of the former Duff lieutenants have had a hand in this. It is in conformity with his known opposition to flat income taxes.

There is now a wage tax levied in Philadelphia County. It applies also to residents of surrounding counties working in Philadelphia. Duff's position is explained as a belief that a state flat wage tax might easily lose Pennsylvania for the Republicans in 1952.

In shaping this tax program, the door of Governor Fine was thrown open to G. Mason Owlett. He is president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association and spokesman for the Pennsylvania regular Republican machine, long headed by Joseph R. Grundy.

In Gov. Duff's administration, this door was closed to Owlett. The story is that Owlett proposed a state tax on unincorporated businesses. Because this would hit small business, Duff would have none of it.

Their fight really narrows down to the issue of whether the Republican party in Pennsylvania shall follow the so-called liberal and progressive line, or whether it shall

Ethiopian Troops In Action In Korea. U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA. (AP)—Ethiopian troops are in action in Korea—the first African ground troops to be committed as a United Nations unit—the Eighth Army announced Thursday. The Ethiopians apparently participated in one of the short, sharp patrol clashes that have been flaring daily across the front. Wednesday's actions were light, the Eighth Army said, except for "stubborn enemy resistance" on the extreme eastern and western flanks. In both cases, United Nations troops withdrew after fighting running into the afternoon. The western fight was northeast of Korangpo, a 38th parallel town. Another UN reconnaissance in force showed back Reds between Korangpo and Kaesong, cease-fire negotiating site. The eastern battle was the fourth day of fighting for high ground west of Kaesong, 37 miles north of the 38th parallel. The cowpea enjoys greater popularity as a vegetable in the southern United States than elsewhere in the country.

Humble-Phillips Will Build Large Gasoline Plant In NE Upton

Plans for the construction of a large new gasoline plant in Northeast Upton County were announced Thursday.

The project will be a joint venture of Humble Oil & Refining Company and Phillips Petroleum Company. It will be at a site north of the Pembroke-Spraberry field.

That will put it in a region where a large area is already proven for production from the Spraberry sand pay section.

The plant is to serve parts of the Upton, Midland, Glasscock and Reagan County sectors of the Spraberry Trend.

Both Humble and Phillips have extensive lease holdings in that territory.

Contracts Already Made

Contracts already have been made with owners of other leases for the residue gas from those properties to be run to the new plant and negotiations with other interested producers are underway.

The new plant will be a modern and efficient installation.

This new project is in addition to a plant which is to be erected in the Tex-Harvey field of East Midland County by Phillips.

It is reported that material for the Phillips plant in Tex-Harvey is due to start arriving at the location in the near future.

Spraberry Trend 80-Acre Spacing Denied Magnolia

ABILENE — Request of the Magnolia Petroleum Company for 80-acre spacing in a part of the west Spraberry trend of West Texas has been denied by the Railroad Commission.

Magnolia joined by several other majors, had asked the commission to approve 80-acre spacing in a section of the Spraberry trend of Midland, Glasscock, Reagan and Upton Counties, where it has large holdings.

Upton Spraberry Field Gets Oiler

The North Pembroke-Spraberry field of Northeast Upton County received another producer with the completion of Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-A Tippet for a daily flowing potential of 137.50 barrels of 36-gravity oil plus one and two-tenths per cent water.

Production was through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from open hole between 7,122 and 7,370 feet. Top of the pay is at 7,146 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 400-1 and tubing pressure was from 75 down to 25 pounds. Open hole was treated

Shallow Prospector Spotted In Runnels

T. W. Murray and Richard King, Jr. have staked location for their No. 1 George Cathey, wildcat in Northwest Runnels County eight miles northwest of Winters.

Location is 987 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 33, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 4,500 feet, beginning at once.

The wildcat is two locations northwest of production in the Walker-Murray-Fry sand field which produces from 4,006-16 feet. Elevation is approximately 2,000 feet.

Wildcats, Offsets P&A In West Texas

Three more wildcats and two edge wells have been reported plugged and abandoned in West Texas.

Vickers Petroleum Company and Norwood Drilling Company No. 2-A Ganning, one location west of the lone producer in the Canning-Wolfcamp field of Southeast Borden County, was reported quit on total depth of 6,111 feet in the Wolfcamp.

Drillite was 653 feet from west and 667 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 142, block 25, H&TC survey and 13 miles southeast of Gall.

Glasscock, Midland Spraberry Activity

The Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland and Central-West Glasscock County has been given two more producers and the Driver-Spraberry field of Southeast Midland and Southwest Glasscock Counties received one producer and location for another prospector.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Judkins, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 43, block 36, T&P survey, T-3-S, and in the Glasscock County side of the Tex-Harvey field, was completed for a daily flowing potential of 130 barrels of 35.2-gravity oil and no water.

Completion was from open hole section at 6,870-7,127 feet after 4,500 gallons of Hydracrac were injected into the formation.

Gas-oil ratio was 863-1 and tubing pressure was 90 pounds. Completion was on a one-half-inch tubing choke.

Midland County
 York & Harper, Inc. of Midland No. 6 P. K. Jones, 660 feet from south and 3,300 feet from east lines of the Midland County side of the Tex-Harvey field was finished for a daily flowing potential of 276 barrels of 39-gravity oil and no water.

Completion was from open hole at 6,980-7,200 feet after 4,500 gallons of Hydracrac.

Gas-oil ratio was 574-1 and tubing pressure was 125 pounds.

Final was taken on a one-half-inch tubing choke.

Driver Field
 DeKalb Agricultural Association and United States Smelting, Refining Company No. 6-F TXL is the new owner in the Driver-Spraberry field of Southeast Midland County.

Operator reported a daily potential flow of 114 barrels of 39.3-gravity oil and no water from open hole section at 7,006-7,107 feet.

Completion was through one-half-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 589-1, and tubing pressure was 100 pounds.

Location is 1,984 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 21, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

El Capitan Oil Company No. 3
 Whitehouse is to be a 7,200-foot Spraberry prospector in the Driver-Spraberry field of Southwest Glasscock County.

Drillite has been set 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 47, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey and 22 miles southeast of the city of Midland.

Five WT Wildcats Plugged, Abandoned

Five wildcats have been reported dry and abandoned in West Texas.

M. O. Rife, Jr. No. 1 M. M. Fisher, wildcat in Northwest Andrews County, was plugged and abandoned at total depth of 4,750 feet.

Location was 330 feet from north and east lines of section 5, block A-36, pal survey and eight miles northwest of Andrews.

In Northeast Concho County, Rock Hill No. 1 M. McIver has been plugged. Total depth is 1,431 feet.

Drillite was seven miles southeast of Paint Rock and 330 feet from south and 3,000 feet from east lines of section 336, T&N survey.

Failure In Crockett
 A wildcat failure in South-Central Crockett County is E. L. Rasbury & Sam Henderson No. 1 George Harrell. It was drilled to 1,170 feet without encountering any shows of oil or gas.

The dry hole is 330 feet from west and 1,650 feet from north lines of section 24, block XX. That makes it 20 miles south of Ozona.

Saxon Exploration Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Ben Schwerner, wildcat in Southwest Runnels County, on a total depth of 4,630 feet in Strawn lime. Top of the Strawn is 4,045 feet. No elevation has been reported.

Location was four and one-half miles west of Rowena and 330 feet from north and west lines of section 153, Hamilton survey.

In Tom Green
 In Northwest Tom Green County, J. R. Medlock has quit his No. 1 Lula J. Turner and others at 1,100 feet.

It was 330 feet from south and east lines of section 233A, F. Volmar survey and four miles west and

Pegasus Is To Get Two New Testers

Two new locations were staked in the Pegasus field. One in the Upton County side and the other in the Midland County area.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 4 John Windham, the Upton County project, has been scheduled to drill to 13,300 feet with rotary tools for a test of the Ellenburger.

Location will be 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 32, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey. It is a 3,800-foot southeast outpost to production in the north end of the field.

Magnolia No. 9 Roy Glass, the Midland County test, will be 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 30, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

It will be projected to 10,500 feet with rotary tools to test the Pennsylvanian.

B&N Is To Plug W-C Reagan Test

The Blackwood & Nichols Company is to plug and abandon its No. 1 D. E. Hughes, Ellenburger failure in West-Central Reagan County.

The project was drilled into the Ellenburger where it had some shows of oil, but not enough for commercial production. Total depth is 10,640 feet.

The wildcat was plugged back to 6,800 feet in the Spraberry where extensive tests were made without developing commercial production.

Drillite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 22, W. M. Cleveland survey.

Phillips Schedules Wildcat In Idaho

Phillips Petroleum Company is leveling location and digging pits for a 10,800-foot rank wildcat in extreme Southeast Idaho and in Teton County.

It will be drilled as the firm's No. 1 Horseshoe, at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 28-5n-44e.

The wildcat is scheduled to test to the Morrison.

Ellenburger Wildcat Is Staked In Reagan

The Blackwood & Nichols Company of Midland No. 1-B D. E. Hughes is to be drilled as an 11,000-foot wildcat to explore for production in the Ellenburger in Central Reagan County.

Location will be 775 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 2, block C, W. W. Pittman survey and 15 miles north of Big Lake and three and one-quarter miles southeast of Stiles.

It will be one and one-quarter miles southwest of Blackwood & Nichols No. 1 D. E. Hughes, an active Spraberry wildcat which was a failure in the Ellenburger.

Battered Body Of Pioneer Found In Field Near Muleshoe

MULESHOE, TEXAS —(P)— Colorful old Joshua Blocher, who spent most of his life trying to make a little town grow into a big city, was found beaten to death in a cotton field near here.

Blocher, about 85, was found Wednesday by two youths irrigating a cotton farm.

"It definitely is a case of murder," said Muleshoe Justice R. J. Klump.

Rangers and officers had been searching for Blocher since he disappeared Sunday from his one-room shack in Progress, the town he founded.

Sheriff Hugh Freeman said the body apparently was dumped just inside the cotton field while Blocher still was alive. Freeman said the cotton plants were beaten down around the body, indicating Blocher had thrashed around, attempting to rise.

Blocher had bruises on his head, a cut on his neck and his clothes were bloody. He was barefooted.

Freeman said two sets of footprints led from the body to a rural farm road.

Freeman said he thought robbery was the motive. Blocher had been reputed to possess a large sum of money.

Officers found $195 in small bills in old jars in his shack.

Three years ago, Blocher was beaten by thugs who searched his home for "hundred dollar bills." They left with only $13 and Blocher's pocket knife.

Pegasus Is To Get Two New Testers

Two new locations were staked in the Pegasus field. One in the Upton County side and the other in the Midland County area.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 4 John Windham, the Upton County project, has been scheduled to drill to 13,300 feet with rotary tools for a test of the Ellenburger.

Location will be 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 32, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey. It is a 3,800-foot southeast outpost to production in the north end of the field.

Magnolia No. 9 Roy Glass, the Midland County test, will be 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 30, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

It will be projected to 10,500 feet with rotary tools to test the Pennsylvanian.

B&N Is To Plug W-C Reagan Test

The Blackwood & Nichols Company is to plug and abandon its No. 1 D. E. Hughes, Ellenburger failure in West-Central Reagan County.

The project was drilled into the Ellenburger where it had some shows of oil, but not enough for commercial production. Total depth is 10,640 feet.

The wildcat was plugged back to 6,800 feet in the Spraberry where extensive tests were made without developing commercial production.

Drillite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 22, W. M. Cleveland survey.

Phillips Schedules Wildcat In Idaho

Phillips Petroleum Company is leveling location and digging pits for a 10,800-foot rank wildcat in extreme Southeast Idaho and in Teton County.

It will be drilled as the firm's No. 1 Horseshoe, at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 28-5n-44e.

The wildcat is scheduled to test to the Morrison.

Ellenburger Wildcat Is Staked In Reagan

The Blackwood & Nichols Company of Midland No. 1-B D. E. Hughes is to be drilled as an 11,000-foot wildcat to explore for production in the Ellenburger in Central Reagan County.

Location will be 775 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 2, block C, W. W. Pittman survey and 15 miles north of Big Lake and three and one-quarter miles southeast of Stiles.

It will be one and one-quarter miles southwest of Blackwood & Nichols No. 1 D. E. Hughes, an active Spraberry wildcat which was a failure in the Ellenburger.

NE Lynn Wildcat Is Dry And Abandoned

The Shamrock Oil & Gas Corporation of Amarillo has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 William D. Green estate, wildcat in the extreme northeast corner of Lynn County, at total depth of 9,974 feet in dry Ellenburger.

Top of the Spraberry is 6,440 feet, top of the Strawn is 9,056 feet and the Ellenburger was topped at 9,904 feet. Elevation is 3,132 feet.

Location was 1,320 feet from west and 8,645 feet from north lines of league 1, Wilson County School Land survey and in tract 7. That made it two miles north of Wilson.

Shallow Prospector Spotted In Runnels

T. W. Murray and Richard King, Jr. have staked location for their No. 1 George Cathey, wildcat in Northwest Runnels County eight miles northwest of Winters.

Location is 987 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 33, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 4,500 feet, beginning at once.

The wildcat is two locations northwest of production in the Walker-Murray-Fry sand field which produces from 4,006-16 feet. Elevation is approximately 2,000 feet.

Wildcats, Offsets P&A In West Texas

Three more wildcats and two edge wells have been reported plugged and abandoned in West Texas.

Vickers Petroleum Company and Norwood Drilling Company No. 2-A Ganning, one location west of the lone producer in the Canning-Wolfcamp field of Southeast Borden County, was reported quit on total depth of 6,111 feet in the Wolfcamp.

Drillite was 653 feet from west and 667 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 142, block 25, H&TC survey and 13 miles southeast of Gall.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail Amulet Of Gold

Mugwump Monhey, the monkey boy, slid down to the ground. He looked up the Elephant Path, and there came the Huffen, the friendly wolf. Oh, but the Huffen was walking with his nose in the air and his hands behind his back. He was doing it to show how important he was.

And why was the Huffen so important? "Huffen," said Mugwump, "why are you so important?"

Said the Huffen: "I am a very important fellow, I am, I am, because I have an amulet of gold!"

The Huffen held out his hand, and in it was an amulet of gold. "Yes," said the Huffen with a happy chuckle. "It's an amulet of gold all right." The Huffen explained how an amulet of gold is something not seen very often, because there aren't many to see. What an important fellow he was to have one! Uncle Bunham had sent it to him.

"Now you see here, Huffen Huffen," said Mugwump of a sudden. "I betcha that amulet of gold was really for me, and Uncle Bunham just sent it to you for a little mistake. And the Huffen answered that Uncle Bunham really had sent the amulet of gold to Mugwump, he supposed, except the amulet of gold had come by mistake to the Huffen,

Bronx Bean Party Held By Farmers

NEW YORK —(AP)—Long Island farmers recently staged their own version of a land-locked Boston Tea Party by dumping enough string beans to feed 112,000 people rather than sell at 25 cents a bushel.

Arriving at the Bronx Terminal Market with 14 tons of freshly picked beans, the farmers contended that they needed $2 a bushel to make a reasonable profit. Bidders blamed poor weather, saying the beans spoiled so quickly they were a bad risk, although they sell at retail for 15 to 19 cents a pound.

The farmers said the baskets alone were worth 25 cents, that pickers got from 50 to 60 cents a bushel, so they heaved as many as possible into a seven-ton street cleaning truck and drove the rest out of the city for dumping. They kept the 25-cent baskets.

LOWER PRICES

... SINCE 1930!

DON'T BE MISLED . . . KNOW THE FACTS!

In June, 1930, the first White's Auto Store was opened in a small building in Clinton, Oklahoma, with scarcely a truckload of merchandise valued at about $2,500.

That small beginning has grown to an organization of 41 company stores and over 125 Authorized Dealer Stores. This unparalleled growth can be attributed to one outstanding policy: ALWAYS QUALITY MERCHANDISE AT LOWER PRICES! This policy has been, and will continue to be, followed without deviation!

We believe you should know that just prior to the general price freeze many companies paid no attention to the call for price controls, and raised their prices to the limit in order to have the highest ceiling prices possible. We believe this action was un-American and not in the best interest of the buying public!

White's Auto Stores obeyed the President's request and voluntarily withheld price increases during the period just before controls went into effect. Therefore, our low prices SAVE YOU MONEY!

Argentina Cuts Off All Meat Shipments To Hungry Britain

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Critical meat shortages in Argentina have brought a 10-day stoppage of all shipments to meat-hungry Britain, the government announced Wednesday night.

The order issued by the Argentine Livestock Institute said the meat ban would continue 10 days or until conditions improve.

The new British-Argentine meat agreement signed last April provided that Argentina supply Britain with 200,000 tons of carcass meat and 30,000 tons of canned meat a year. Last month, the institute cut meat shipments to Britain by 10,000 tons monthly because of the shortage.

The Argentine shortage is due largely to recent droughts and reluctance of ranchers to ship meat to the markets because of their dissatisfaction, both with prices and government administration of the industry.

Leader Of Puerto Rican Revolt Gets Third Conviction

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO—(AP)—Puerto Rico's U. S.-hating Nationalist leader, Pedro Albizu Campos, got his third conviction Wednesday night on charges arising out of an abortive revolt last Fall.

After deliberating five hours and 15 minutes, a jury found Albizu Campos guilty of attempting to overthrow the government by force. He previously was convicted and sentenced for attempted murder and illegal possession of weapons during the revolt.

Albizu Campos has appealed both the two previous sentences and his lawyer says he will appeal the third. Sentence for the latest conviction will be handed down August 29.

The fiery leader was found guilty on all 12 counts of the indictment charging him with being the kingpin of the revolt—an ill-fated uprising which was linked with the attempted assassination of President Truman in Washington at about the same time.

Already sentenced to 17 to 25 years on the previous convictions, Albizu Campos faces from 12 to 120 years—one to 10 years for each count—on the latest charges.

Hitler's Yacht To Be Scrapped

NEW YORK—(AP)—A blowtorch will be put to Adolf Hitler's yacht Friday, starting the Nazi chief's $4,000,000 luxury ship on its way to the national defense scrap pile.

The vessel, the 2,500-ton Grille, was presented to Hitler by the German people in 1935.

It was seized by the British, who sold it to Lebanese manufacturer George Arida for $165,000. Arida displayed the ship at charity exhibitions in this country.

Scrapping of the Grille will take place at the North American Smelting Company Docks at Bordentown, N. J.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Goes On Beer Binge

TUSCALOOSA, ALA.—(AP)—The Tuscaloosa News figured Thursday that since the sale of beer was legalized three days ago in this University of Alabama city, enough beer has been sold to give a bottle to every man, woman and child daily. The city's population is 47,000. Sales have hit 139,632 bottles.

Bonura To Return As Tribe Manager

Plans For 1952 Now Being Made

Zeke Bonura, the 42-year-old former major league slugger, will return next season as general manager and field manager of the Midland Indians.

Contract terms were agreed on Wednesday afternoon at a meeting in the Petroleum Club of Bonura and the board of directors of the Midland Baseball Company.

The board also:

1. Approved plans for a Spring training camp "in either Mississippi or Louisiana" for next year.

2. Discussed the possibility of constructing its own "modern and concrete" baseball stadium for use by 1953.

3. Approved employment of a full-time business manager to begin work by December 1.

Although financial terms of the contract with Bonura were not disclosed, it was for a 12-month period.

From New Orleans Home
Bonura explained he would handle Winter business details from his home in New Orleans, where he has other business interests, and would spend six months in active direction of the club's affairs in Midland.

Announcement of the contract agreement came from President Marion Flynn following the meeting.

"We think Bonura has done a splendid job with the baseball club and has proved popular with the fans," he said.

"Now that we are agreed on a manager for next year, we are going to do everything in our power to bring Midland a winning baseball club."

The agreement was quickly approved unanimously by members of the board, only one of whom was missing from the meeting.

To Finish In Black
Flynn also said the reorganized baseball club "will finish in the black" for the season. He pointed to the increased interest in baseball since Bonura took over the managerial reins on June 15.

Paid admissions for the last 31 home games, he said, had totalled 26,368.

Bonura told the directors he planned to return to New Orleans as soon as the Longhorn League season ends.

"But then my work will just begin," he explained. "There will be a world of correspondence and arrangements for next year."

He outlined plans for a Spring training camp to begin about March 5 and continue until about a week prior to the opening of baseball season here.

He said the Indians would be able to play a regular schedule of exhibition games with other Class C baseball clubs in Mississippi or Louisiana.

It was in Louisiana that Bonura—who was christened Henry John Bonura—began his professional baseball career in 1929 with the New Orleans Pelicans.

He later moved to Dallas and in 1934 graduated to the Chicago White Sox, where he played first base while wielding his bat with growing power.

"In 1939," he told the directors Wednesday, "I hit 347—the best of my career—and demanded a $500 salary increase."

"Nothing ever happened so I finally told Comiskey if he didn't pay it he might as well trade me."

"So he traded me."

He was traded to the Washington Senators and later played with the New York Giants.

In 1941 he entered the service and spent four years as an athletic director, organizing sports among the troops and the youngsters of Africa, Italy, France, Germany and Switzerland.

After the war he operated a Colonial League club in Stamford, Conn., selling out in 1948 to return to New Orleans because of the uniqueness of his mother.

The following year he helped organize the Border League in Canada.

Bonura came to Midland in mid-June after Midland citizens bought the interest of Harold Webb and took over operations of the club.

Since then, the Indians have played better than 500 ball and have risen from last place to sixth.

Henson Of Stanton To Guide West

By LARRY KING
ODESSA — The West team's fate in the Permian Bowl football game here Friday night may rest with a quarterback from a Class B school.

Stanton's Kenneth Henson, a baby-faced, fragile-looking up-back on the Buffs' bi-district champion eleven last year, is the man Coach Jess Neely has picked to guide his offensive.

Running behind Henson is Odessa's Carl Beard. A fine quarterback, Beard nee-the-less is having to take a back seat to Henson in pre-game drills.

The Stanton youngster has been most impressive at the passing game. In Wednesday drills, he completed eight straight passes—from five to 40 yards—against the West defensive secondary.

Neely also was using Kermit's Wayne Culhause, Pecon's George Christian, Kerrville's Morris Stone, Wichita Falls' James Self and Odessa's Howard Dye in his offensive backfield.

Reed Gilmore of Midland is being used as the punting specialist for the West. He also is seeing defensive action, as is Center Jimmy O'Neal. Another Midlander—End Duane Bush—alternated at offensive and defensive end Wednesday.

The East team, coached by Ed Price of the University of Texas, did not scrimmage Wednesday. Price said his team "looked ready." Neely, of the West, said he "wasn't completely satisfied" with his drills after the Wednesday session.

The East—by virtue of its large line and Back Billy Quinn of San Antonio, will be a slight favorite at kickoff time, 8 p.m. Friday.

Late Finishes Win For Colts, Drillers

By The Associated Press
Longhorn League fans who left the park early missed karrison finishes Wednesday night. San Angelo and Artesia waited until the last minute to down their opponents.

The San Angelo Colts scored three runs in the ninth to shade Vernon, 4-3.

Chuck Neal homered with one on in the top of the ninth to give the Artesia Drillers a 7-6 edge over the Midland Indians.

Odessa withstood a home run barrage by Roswell to drop the Rockets, 9-7. Big Spring exploded for 11 runs in the sixth inning to sink Sweetwater, 12-1.

The score:

Team	R	H	E
VERNON	000	001	200-2 3 1
Vernon	000	001	200-3 9 1
San Angelo	000	000	013-4 8 2

Drillers Defeat Indians, 7-6, On Homer In Ninth

Artesia makes its final 1951 appearance in Indian Park at 8:15 p.m. Thursday. Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal will pitch for the Indians. It's "kiddie night." Youngsters under 12 years of age will be admitted free by presenting a coupon clipped from The Reporter-Telegram sports page.

A stunning, ninth-inning home run by Right Fielder Chuck Neal brought the Artesia Drillers from behind here Wednesday night and sent them to a 7-6 win over the faltering Midland Indians.

Midland went into the top of the ninth with a 6-5 lead. Pitcher Israel Ten, who had been slammed a bit at the outset of the contest, had the Drillers on his hip and almost had himself a ball game.

But the leadoff man, Shortstop Chuck Cline, reached base by error when Scooter Hughes, muffed a grounder. Neal then came up, immediately had two strikes on him and with a 2-1 ball-strike count, he caught one of Ten's pitches and drove it over the right field wall. That was the ball game, as Midland couldn't score in the last of the ninth.

Hughes Doubles
The game started as a slugger bee, with both teams getting extra base hits. Scooter Hughes doubled in the first inning for Midland, scoring on Stan Wilcox's single to tie the score at 1-1. Artesia tied off on Ten to make it 3-1 in the third, before Midland tied it up in the same inning on two walks, plus singles by Jones and Ten.

In the fourth, the Drillers once again went a run in front as Cline doubled, scoring Pitcher Ray Riley, who had dumped a double along the right field foul line.

But Midland took the lead, 5-4, when Ten singled in the bottom of the fourth, circling the bases when the ball escaped the clutches of the Artesia right fielder, Dale Campbell also scored on the play, having walked just before Ten's single. Consecutive doubles by Hughes and Wilcox made it 6-4. Artesia picked up a lone tally in the seventh.

Then came the ninth inning and Neal's game-winning home run. Artesia 7, Midland 6.

Pro-Am Meet Is Underway

ODESSA — Gene Towrey of Brownfield and Buster Reed of North Texas State tied with Iverson Martin of Weatherford and Fred Moseley of San Antonio with eight-under-par 64's here Wednesday in the one-day "warm up" Pro-Am Golf Tournament at the Odessa Country Club.

Competition in the tourney will last through Sunday.

Midland golfers posted the following scores:
Dick Trout (74), Jack Sawyer (74), Abe Beckman (69), Bob Wortman (71), Boyd Huff (70), Van Ligon (72), Morris Williams (66), Graham Mackey (70), and Roane Puett (74).

Match play started Thursday at 9 a.m. over the Odessa Country Club Course.

Browns, Stars' Coaches Moaning

CHICAGO —(AP)—The College All-Stars and the Cleveland Browns, foes Friday night in football's annual Soldier Field classic, apparently were to take little more than a deep breath in final practice sessions Thursday.

Both coaches, the Stars' Herman Hickman and the Browns' Paul Brown, insist their teams are hobbled by injuries.

Harshaney Ousted; Tangles In Fight With Stu Williams

HARLINGEN —(AP)—Sam Harshaney, veteran minor league catcher and manager has been ousted as manager of the Harlingen Capitals after the threat of a player strike and a fist fight.

The Valley Morning Star reported that the removal came after the Harlingen players met Wednesday. The players voted not to go to Fort Arthur Thursday unless Harshaney was replaced.

After the meeting, The Star said, Harshaney and Stu Williams, a Caps outfielder, met in front of a Harlingen hotel and exchanged blows.

Officials said there had been trouble between the manager and players since early in the season and that it was brought to a focus recently when one of the players was fined and reprimanded.

Directors appointed Keith Carpenter playing manager. Harshaney was placed on the inactive list but retained in an advisory capacity.

The action apparently met with the approval of the threatening players. They are reported to have Wednesday night for Port Arthur.

YANKS ALSO WIN--

13 Straight For Indians; Garver Loser

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Nothing and nobody is halting the Cleveland Indians' mad dash to the pennant these days.

Wednesday seemed the ideal day for it. It looked like the right time to stop the runaway Redskins. All signs pointed to it.

The Indians were gunning for their thirteenth straight victory. Opposing them were the pesky St. Louis Browns who knocked them out of the 1950 flag race about a year ago this time with four straight liftings.

On the hill was Ned Garver, who already had whipped them twice without a setback this season. And by Manager Al Lopez's own admission, the Indians were "tired and worried."

But the fighting first placers overcame all these obstacles—in a mighty seven-run first inning—to batter Garver like he was a second rater, blast the Browns, 9-4, win their thirteenth straight, and protect their two and a half game margin over the New York Yankees.

Al Rosen's fourth grand slammer of the season, which equaled a major league mark, featured the first inning attack on Garver. It was Rosen's twenty-first homer.

The runner-up Yankees took an 8-5 decision in Washington; Boston's third-place Red Sox remained five and a half games out by beating the Athletics, 4-2, in Philadelphia, and Chicago's fourth-place White Sox shut out the Tigers in Detroit, 2-0.

New York's second place Giants took their second straight from Brooklyn, 3-1, to whittle the National League leaders' margin to 10 1/2 games. Boston's Braves handed the Philadelphia Phillies their fifth straight loss with a 9-0 victory. Cincinnati and Pittsburgh also scored shutout wins, the Pirates blanking the St. Louis Cards, 7-0, and the Reds shading the Chicago Cubs, 1-0.

The Indians wrapped up the victory before Garver could retire a batter. They had five runs in when Harry Simpson fanned for the first out. Early Wynn gained his thirteenth triumph although Steve Cromeck came to his rescue when the Browns threatened in the sixth.

The win tied Cleveland's longest winning streak set in 1942. Since August 2, the Tribe has beaten Washington, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis again without a defeat. After Thursday's clash with the Browns, the Indians move to Chicago for a five-game series in three days.

"The boys are tired and they are worried about that series with the White Sox," said Lopez after Wednesday night's victory. "If we get by those games in good shape, we'll be tough to stop. We open an 18-game home stand then."

Toji Berra and Joe Collins each slammed out four hits to lead the Yankees' 15-hit attack against five Washington pitchers. Berra drove in four runs with his eighteenth homer, a triple and two singles. Ed Lopat gained his sixteenth win but needed help from Bob Kusava in the eighth.

Dom DiMaggio singled twice, scored once and drove in another run to help Mel Farrnell register his thirteenth victory, as the Red Sox defeated the A's for the seventh straight time.

Saul Rogovin, traded away by the Tigers last May, handcuffed his former mates with five hits as Nelson Fox and Ray Coleman batted in both Chicago runs. Virgil Trucks lost a four-hitter.

Wes Westrum and Willie Mays teamed up offensively and defensively to give the Giants their victory over Brooklyn. Westrum's sixteenth homer followed a single by Mays in the eighth inning to snap a 1-1 tie and give Jim Hearn his eleventh victory and first over the Dodgers as a Giant. A fine running catch and a spectacular throw from Centerfielder Mays to Catcher Westrum doubled up Billy Cox at home in the first half of the inning.

Ted Kluszewski's fourth inning homer gave Cincy's Ken Raffensberger the nod in his pitching duel with the Cubs' Cal Mlish. Ralph Kiner blasted his thirty-second homer as Rookie Bob Friend shut out the Cards with two hits. Warren Spahn gained his fourteenth win and sixth shutout success, blanking the Phils with eight safeties.

First Division Clubs Still Boss In WT-NM League

By The Associated Press
First and second divisions in the West Texas-New Mexico League are so clearly defined the first four clubs rarely lose a game unless playing against themselves. Wednesday night, three of them won, the fourth lost to another member of the upper bracket.

Abilene, Lubbock and Lamesa won. Albuquerque, the fourth place club lost—but to Lubbock. Nine games separate the fourth and fifth clubs in the race.

Abilene blanked Borger, 9-0, with Hack Miller tossing. Lamesa staged an eighth inning rally to down Clovis, 9-6, and Lubbock tripped Albuquerque, 7-5. Pampa's Ollers trounced Amarillo, 9-1, in a second division battle.

Lamesa scored eight runs in the eighth on the hits, six walks, five stolen bases and one error to overcome a 6-1 Clovis lead.

Al Kavanaugh scattered seven hits to pitch Pampa to its win over Amarillo.

Ray Machado pitched and batted Lubbock to its win.

We've heard more crying in Odessa during the last three days than at any time since the wife lured us off to a tear-jerking movie and plumped us down in the ladies section.

With tears in their eyes, Coaches Pete Sikes, Pat Pattison, Julius Johnson and Tugboat Jones have moaned the old refrain of: "I ain't got it this year."

Of the three, we really think Jones has more basis for his attitude than any of the others. But more about that later.

Pattison, the Lubbock coach, has at least 25 returning boys off his fine Lubbock High School team of last season. That team was good enough to win the district.

Sikes has a line that will average about 190 pounds, and the situation at San Angelo High School isn't nearly so desperate as he would have you believe. He has six lettermen returning, three of them starters—an overwhelming amount of talent, but better than he will admit.

Johnson, who has replaced Joe Coleman at Odessa, moans about a shortage of backs—and, in comparison with last year's fine set of backs, he's right. But somehow, he always changes the subject when you mention his line.

You see, it's back almost intact from last season. One of the biggest belly laughs we've enjoyed in a long time came at Odessa a few days ago when Pattison was crying the blues about his prospects.

"Big Thumb! Tuba! former Andrews coach, drafted at Pattison: "Ya know, Ah sure feel sorry for these little towns like Lubbock and San Angelo who have to play these great big of towns like Lamesa and Plainview."

The resulting laughter helped smother Pattison's embarrassment, and clammed him up on his prospects for awhile.

And now lack to a most interesting subject: Tugboat Jones' outlook. "I just can't see how I can be favored to win the state AAA title—or even come near it," Jones said.

"I lost 19 boys. I had three starters returning. My seniors beat me 33-6 in Spring workouts. Of course, we expect to get all fan out of the youngsters and I'm sure we will have a fine ball club. But we aren't going to win state, unless the other teams have absolutely nothing."

Sweetwater, Plainview and possibly Big Spring expect to be loaded in Midland's own district.

Perhaps the state champion will come from this district—but unless the Midland team is one whole of a surprise, we can't see it coming from here.

And that's not to discredit Jones and his assistants or the Midland kids—it's just the plain, gospel truth.

DOTS AND DASHES: Darrall Spivey, the stocky little "C" team full-back of last season is to be moved up with the varsity, MHS coaches report. Duane Bush, the ex-MHS end, looked Texas Tech over but decided on Texas Western. We hear our information source that said Bill Hornsby now is batting .290 in the Texas League was incorrect. He's hitting less than .300, according to our latest info. LeRoy (Red) Gibson, last year's Stanton fullback, was a last-minute replacement on the West all-star squad for the Permian Bowl. Look for Brownwood to be loaded on the gridiron the next two seasons. Hayden White was lifted from the ball game at Inman Park Wednesday night because he'd just had a tooth pulled. Israel Ten got 558 from the fans for his single and three base error. Te, really came around the bases on the "error-run." End of the Row for now!

Ole Joe's Finding Weight Road Rocky

BALTIMORE —(AP)—Never fight light again says Joe Louis. Whether it be Rocky Marciano or Ezzard Charles next on his hit parade, the Brown Bomber will come in as close as he can get to 208 pounds.

He blamed Wednesday night's weight of 203, lowest for him in 10 years, for a disappointing although unanimous 10-round victory over Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland.

"I didn't improve none tonight," he said disgustedly. He was downhearted mostly at his failure to deck Bivins in the last round when he hit the 180-pounder with everything he had.

Vinegar Bend Whiffs 18 In Texas League

By The Associated Press
Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Houston's pitcher, all but pitched his way into the Texas League record books Wednesday night.

He stopped the Dallas Eagles with three hits in a 2-0 victory. He struck out 18, just two short of the all-time Texas League record and one shy of the modern mark.

San Antonio whipped the Fort Worth Cats, 17-4, to move past the Eagles into second place. Beaumont lost to Tulsa, 5-4, leaving the Cats just three games out of fourth place.

Oklahoma City wammed Shreveport, 9-3, to salvage one game of the three-game series from the cellar club.

New Navy Boss Succeeds Bridge Player; He's Battleship Admiral With Air Ideas

WASHINGTON (NEA)—With Admiral William M. Fechteler as its new Chief of Naval Operations the Navy gets a fearless, honest, hard-driving man steeped in the tradition of the sea-going service and completely dedicated to furthering its best interests.

He takes the Navy's seat on the vital jobs of staff with the respect of the other members, completely wise in the devious ways of Washington maneuvering and as one of the Navy's top ranking poker players.

His personality is best described in contrast to that of the suave, keenly intellectual, sometimes solemn and almost prim former CNO, the late Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, whom he replaces.

Fechteler is big, bluff, good-humored, completely candid in all of his dealings and exudes a "horse sense" type of intelligence. Fechteler has just about the same reputation as a poker player as Sherman had as a bridge player. A neat delineation of the personalities of the two men.

Although far from handsome in the Hollywood tradition of admirals, he has a square face with friendly grey eyes and an easy grin as his chief assets. He's not quite six feet tall, stocky but not fleshy, with just the trace of a stoop to his shoulders. Navy men say that's "bridge posture" from hours of leaning on the railing of a ship in a pitching sea.

Over his crop of short, steely-grey hair he prefers to wear his cap at a very jaunty angle, one of Fechteler's personal marks of identification in the Navy. He speaks with a deep, hearty voice and laughs from way down inside. Associates say he has a wonderful crop of funny stories and tells them well. When addressing men in official meetings he is completely down to earth.

If Fechteler brings any short-comings to his new job it's perhaps a sort of inbred impatience with the red tape and delays of shore duty and especially duty in Washington. He explains his love for a command at sea:

"A ship skipper's billet provides the greatest personal satisfaction and sense of accomplishment. When you are the captain of a ship, you are king and you can see immediately the results of your work. As an example, you order right rudder, and ship and all hands aboard come to the right immediately."

He claims that the toughest duty he has ever drawn in the Navy "was far and away the three years I spent as Deputy Chief of Naval Operations for Personnel."

Fechteler's love of the sea comes to him honestly.

As a small lad he was able to make frequent visits to naval ships under the command of his father, the late Rear Admiral Augustus F. Fechteler.

He has known practically no other life than that aboard ship or on some U. S. or foreign naval base. "I have no recollection of my boyhood when I did not want to be in the Navy," he claims.

One of the big assets he brings to the Joint Chiefs of Staff is a completely clean shirt as far as any involvement in past unification feuding goes. The job Fechteler did during World War II in guarding the landings of U. S. Army troops on more than a dozen beaches won him the unstinted praise of Gen. Douglas MacArthur many times.

The working unification he helped create in the Pacific with the Army and Air Force is expected to stand him in good stead for his bigger job of helping to direct the administration of unification.

Only Surprise

The only surprise of Fechteler's appointment as CNO arose over the fact that he is not an aviator. It was the belief that the job should go to a Navy flier in order to put him on equal terms with the Air Force's General Vandenberg on the JCS when the important subject of air strategy and tactics came up. He ended any fears at least on lack of fealty to air power in the first press conference after his appointment by saying:

"The Navy without a topflight air arm is totally inadequate to the job the Navy has today. A concrete example of my attitude toward air is my selection for the post of vice-chief of naval operations, Vice Admiral Donald Duncan, one of the foremost aviators in the Navy."

The Admiral's promotion to this important job will make a welcome addition to Washington's social life. His gregarious nature and love of people around him make him a popular guest.

Testimony Links Field And Barnes With Underground

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whittaker Chambers Thursday testified the head of the Communist underground in the United States once told him Joseph Barnes and Frederick Vanderbilt Field were members of the Red underground.

Chambers, confessed former courier for Communist spies, said he was told that by J. Peters, Hungarian-born Communist leader who fled this country several years ago.

Chambers gave his testimony to the Senate Internal Security Committee, inquiring into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy. The hearings are centered now on the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Barnes and Field have been connected with the IPR. Field is the New York millionaire left-winger now serving a jail term for contempt of court. The charge arose out of his refusal to give a federal judge information about sources of bail money for Communists.

Barnes is connected with a New York publishing firm. He formerly was a foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune.

IS FOG SPRAY The Answer To POLIO?

Science has so far been unable to determine very much about polio. But it is generally known and agreed that the common house fly, and perhaps other house pests, aid in spreading this dread disease. Marked decrease in the incidence of polio have been noted following campaigns against flies and other insects.

KILL ALL INSECTS With One Application! Flies, moths, roaches, spiders, and other common house pests may be completely destroyed FOR MONTHS with one application of FOG SPRAY, as applied by the TIFA (Todd Insecticidal Fog Applicator) method.

KILL ALL INSECTS

Complete safety for your family, your pets, and for delicate fabrics is assured with the TIFA Fog Spray application. Here is your opportunity AT VERY LOW COST to rid your home of the discomfort and health hazard of flies and other insects. The nationally known and widely endorsed TIFA application is your best answer to house pest problems. Call us today for free estimate on insect-proofing your home or other buildings.

PAD Order Curbs Natural Gas Use In Eastern States

WASHINGTON —(P)— Natural gas service to new customers in 15 states and the District of Columbia has been brought under government control.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) issued an order Wednesday prohibiting connection of additional burners for either central heating of homes or for industrial purposes, except under tightly specified conditions.

The order aims at assuring gas supplies for present users—including defense industries—in a threatened shortage, PAD said.

There was no actual ban on extension of service anywhere, and new users still may obtain gas for such purposes as cooking, refrigeration, water heating and incidental space heating to supplement other means of central heating.

Areas affected are Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia, Wisconsin, those parts of West Virginia served by a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas System, and those parts of Kentucky supplied by Columbia or by Louisville Gas and Electric Company.

Crane County Meets Red Cross Quota

CRANE—The quota of $200 for the Crane County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been reached, according to Mrs. J. O. Coffey, chairman of the Crane Study Club. The money will be used for the Kansas-Missouri Flood.

W. O. Murray, chairman of the American Red Cross Chapter, asked assistance of the Study Club in raising this quota. Mrs. Harry J. Cowden is president of the club.

Area Inspectors Given Promotions

AUSTIN—P—Dale Godbey, inspector for the License and Weight Division at El Paso, will become assistant chief of the division at Austin, September 1.

The promotion of Godbey and four others was made known Thursday by Kent Odum, division chief.

Named to fill four new sergeant posts are Sam J. Griffin, Austin; E. C. Law, Pecos; T. B. Gunter, Houston; and C. W. Bell, Big Spring. Godbey will replace veteran Assistant Chief J. W. Longley. Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said Longley will revert to the rank of inspector at his own request because of ill health.

The four sergeants will supervise newly created districts of the License and Weight Division. Griffin will be at Lubbock; Law at Dallas; Bell at San Antonio; Gunter at Houston.

ROK Army To Start Re-Training Program

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—P—South Korea's expanding army next week will begin intensive re-training under American officers in one of the most unusual programs ever attempted during a war.

They will be brought a few miles out of the front lines for about eight weeks of basic training in military tactics.

One division will be pulled out at a time, and none will leave its general battle sector.

Burned-Out Wreckage Of Bomber Located

KODIAK, ALASKA—P—Burned-out wreckage of a Navy patrol bomber which apparently carried 12 men to their deaths was due to be reached late Thursday on bleak Amak Island, off the Alaska Peninsula.

The possibility of finding survivors was considered remote.

The big plane apparently exploded as it crashed. The mountainside was seared for more than 100 feet on each side.

Road Project Bids Total $3,626,066

AUSTIN—P—Total low bids on 26 highway construction projects rose to $3,626,066 Wednesday in the second day of bid opening by the State Highway Department.

Wednesday's low bids on 14 projects amounted to $2,021,307. The day before, low bids on another 12 projects totaled $1,604,759.

Total estimated hydro power potentialities of Canada are placed at 43,700,000 horsepower.

Doctors Continue Mass Experiment On Polio Prevention

FROST, TEXAS —(P)— Despite criticism from state and national medical officials, a group of Texas doctors planned to continue their mass experiment of giving rabies shots as a possible preventive of polio.

Almost 400 volunteers are taking five rabies shots, to test the theory of Dr. Herbert E. Hipps of Waco that anti-rabies shots may provide up to three years immunity from infantile paralysis. The first shots were given Monday.

Dr. Karl Habel, a U. S. Public Health Service scientist in Washington, said Wednesday he knew of no evidence to substantiate the theory.

He also said that among persons receiving anti-rabies shots, a small percentage "will suffer severe reactions, which sometimes result in paralysis or death."

Texas State Health Officer George V. Cox said "The potential danger is too great."

Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the Corsicana-Navarro Health Unit, which is assisting in the experiment, said the critics were not considering the fact that only five rabies shots were being given here.

He said the regular anti-rabies treatment is 14 to 21 shots.

"The people demanded that something be done and we're doing it," Miller said, "and we think we know what we're doing."

Westex Dairies Will Distribute Cabell's Products

Cabell's Dairy Products will be distributed throughout West Texas by a new Midland wholesale firm—Westex Dairies, 3112 West Wall Street.

E. M. Chester, manager of Westex Dairies, has moved to Midland as manager of the concern. He said Cabell's famous dairy products will be processed in Dallas and shipped daily to Midland in refrigerator trucks for distribution to independent distributors in West Texas cities.

"Our distributors are residents of their localities and own their own business," Chester said.

Cabell's dairy foods will include pasteurized buttermilk, sweet cream butter, whipping cream, coffee cream, half-and-half, chocolate beverage, orangeade and creamed and salad-style cottage cheese.

Cabell's regular pasteurized milk is vitamin fortified with 400 units of sunshine vitamin D, Chester said. It will be sold in the new flat-top carton that is easier to open.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester soon will move their family to Midland. They have five children, Charles, 22; E. M. Jr., 16; Marilyn, nine; Stephen, two; and Stanley, 14 months.

Midland Agents Awarded Honors

Two Midland insurance agents have received high company honors from the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company.

E. Sherman White and James V. Lee were awarded high honors standing in an agency contest ending July 31, according to an announcement from Leonard A. Goodman, general agent at El Paso. The Midland agency office is located at 305 North Big Spring Street.

RETURN TO MIDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frazier, Janis and Beverly, 424 East Magnolia Street, returned recently from a trip to El Paso and Carlsbad, N. M.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Treatment For Chronic Vein Inflammation Is Improving

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Several people have written to inquire about phlebitis, milk leg or related conditions and what can be done for them. Several have had most distressing experiences and are desperately anxious for relief.

Before discussing these disorders it is necessary to know what they are. Phlebitis is an inflammation of the inside lining of the veins—almost always those of the legs. This may be associated with blood clots inside these vessels in which case the condition is called thrombophlebitis. Milk leg (called also phlegmasia alba dolens) is a phlebitis of a particular vein of the leg which causes swelling of that limb.

What causes them? They may follow a blow or some other injury. Sometimes they develop after an infection, an operation, or childbirth. At times they start in without any identifiable cause at all. They can arise with surprising suddenness or quite gradually.

But most cases of phlebitis or thrombophlebitis are rather acute at the start. As in any other acute illness, therefore, rest in bed is desirable. If the inflammation involves a leg vein, the leg is generally raised and heat is applied, all of these measures being aimed at reducing the inflammation and aiding the circulation.

Sometimes this treatment is enough and rapid and complete recovery takes place. Annoying as it is at the time, this is not as much of a problem as the chronic condition which sometimes seems to go on interminably.

Youth Center Chatter

By June Halali, Joyce Howell and Gail Baker

Greetings, "Pippies!" At your service... as per usual! This week certainly has been a busy one for Midland teens, what with swimming meets, Junior Olympics, and rush parties for the older teenagers.

First off we want to say Congratulations to the MIDLAND JAYCEE SWIMMING TEAM. (Thank you, Chuck!) for winning the third annual West Texas Invitational Swimming Meet and bringing home the Clint Dungan Memorial Trophy for the third year! Incidentally, any team winning the trophy three years in succession has permanent claim to it, and that is just what the Midland team did. It was a very determined group which showed up at the VFW pool Saturday morning, and when the meet was over the tired but very happy Teeners had the beautiful gold cup, in their permanent possession. It will be placed in the Youth Center along with the boxing and track trophies.

Midland Teeners who participated in the meet were Joe Turner, Pat Curran, Paxton Howard, Doug Muir, Don Black, Atrelle Pace, Bob Grisham, Louise Burton, Bill Mims, Retta Hazley, Mary, Bucky, and Jerry Herndon, Glenda McNeal, Dolly Hart, Enid Little, Roy Kimsey, Tom Johnson, Nell Curran, Gail Black, Bill Erskine, Dennis Burton, John Crowley, Jamie Curd, Larry Friday, John Lomax and Tommy Johnson. As the Teeners piled up point after point to the grand total of 297, they also received ribbons and certificates for the places. Some of the Teeners received as many as five awards! Many of these fellows and gals now are in Houston competing for the Southern Junior Olympics title. We wish them the best of luck.

More Congrats

Midland's outstanding teen-age athletes, we'd like to say "good work" to these boys who qualified for the finals in the Southern Olympics track meet Tuesday... Joe Ewing, Dale Jobe, Bill Mims and Jerry Greens who broke the old record in the 400-yard relay, and Stuart Chancellor, Leslie Whitley, Ray Phillips, Lesly Howard, Robert Keating, Johnny Kennedy, Dan Black, Roy Kimsey, Larry Friday, Jesse Hatfield and Harold Hensley. Roy Kimsey seems to be giving them something to worry about down there as he challenges Oklahoma's pride and joy in the 440-yard dash. Only one Midland Teener failed to qualify, due to an accident. Jimmy Hunt, who has done very well all season, tripped and fell on a hurdle in the 50-yard hurdle event. Rough luck, we say! By the time this column goes to press the final results on the track event will be in and we hope to be able to say... They won! Good luck, Fellas!

It seems to us as though Midland is becoming a city to be respected in the field of athletics. Not only have the Youth Center and JayCee teams "gone to town," but the "Little Leaguers" (who aren't teeners yet, but soon will be) are in there fighting for a spot in the national Little League play-offs. Yep... we rather think by the time Midland winds up the Summer, the people of Houston will be looking up to the young people of Midland!

All-Star Footballers

But we're not through yet... we have more congrats to pass around! Reed Gilmore and Jack Burris will "play ball" come Friday night with the "West" team in the Permian Bowl East-West game. Bob Wood also was scheduled to play but has withdrawn from the game. We're proud of you boys.

Now that the congrats have gone out for the athletes, we turn to others every bit as important... the newlyweds! This week we say "loads of happiness" to Richard Patton and Margaret Wilson. Richard now is stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., with the Army. Not to be excluded are Roy Gibson and Annelie Kinnard. Roy is a Navy man stationed in San Diego, Calif. And last, but far from least, are Ann Stephens and Bob Wood who were married 'way back last February. Best of luck and congratulations to all of you!

This week we "re-met" a friend of ours, Jo-Jo Newell, a Teener from Alpine, visited Carol Ann Walker. Carol Ann met Jo-Jo this Summer while at Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp near Alpine. Carol Ann spent a week end with Jo-Jo then so Jo-Jo came up to visit Carol Ann. Glad to see you, Jo-Jo, and come back to Midland again.

While downtown the other day, we happened to see a person who looked like a Y.C. member. After taking a second glance, we recognized Rosalynn Leggett who is working as a receptionist for The Western Company. My, Rosalynn, you looked like the model employe, reliable and pretty. Rosalynn will be a Sophomore at SMU this Fall.

Talk of schools for the college Teeners really is in the air and here is a short list of those who are planning to attend various schools. Texas Tech is a popular place for Midlanders. Jo Ann Nelson, Shirley Harrison and Isota Terry will be Freshmen there. Jerry Webb will be there as a Junior student, while Wayne Richardson will be a Sophomore. Jarsen Jewell, Nancy Webb, Rosalynn Leggett and Beverly Keating plan to attend Southern Methodist University, while Jean Ferguson and Glenda Hamblison plan to attend school in Mississippi. We don't have a complete list of "who is going where" yet, but before school starts, we'll try to complete the roster.

Rare Clay Heals Many Ailments

VANCOUVER —(AP)—A 400-acre plot of ground on British Columbia's north coast contains a deposit of rare clay for which enthusiasts claim remarkable cures for ailments ranging from simple cuts to arthritis and stomach ulcers.

Dr. Ernest A. Hauser, professor of colloid chemistry at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has devoted almost a year to studying the clay on King Island, 265 miles north of Vancouver. He said the clay is outstanding because of its colloidal quality. It is formed of particles as fine as the mist in a fog bank—and finer.

Dr. Hauser said its healing powers are due to the powerful absorptive action caused by the tremendous surface area of the clay's colloidal particles.

Insurance Policy For Horsemen

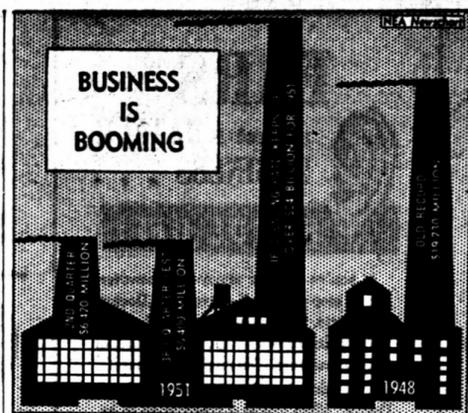

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(AP)—Old Dobbin may be a vanishing species in some of the country, but he's responsible for a brand new type of insurance in this western metropolis.

There are more horsemen here now than there ever were in the old days of the rootin', tootin', shootin' West, and, consequently, there are more riding mishaps. This community's leading, and most vocal, exponent of horsemanship, Gordon Hale, publisher of a paper for horsemen called "Hoof Prints", decided that what his readers needed was insurance against accidents caused by horses.

Old line insurance companies hesitated to write insurance giving medical expense coverage for accidents involving horses. But a local insurance company decided to take the risk. It now is providing $800 coverage at a $4 annual premium.

Warm weather warning: Sandwich fillings and salad mixtures spoil quickly unless they're kept refrigerated so store carefully until serving time.

Don't throw away the liquid from sauerkraut; it is nutritious and can be utilized. Mix it with tomato juice and serve well chilled as a first course.

Newschart above shows plant expansion expenditures by private commercial and industrial firms in 1951's second quarter (ended June 30), according to federal statistics. If businessmen keep expanding at present rate they will probably, as the chart indicates, spend about five billion dollars more for expansion than in the record year 1948.

A teener who is familiar to many is Adele Deavenport. "Babe" was visiting here not long ago and left word to say "Hi". She and "hubby" Jim and son John now are living in Stephenville where Jim will play football for John Tarleton. And who are their neighbors there???? Ahh... that's another story! The "neighbors" who live in the other half of a duplex are Mr. and Mrs. Don Deel... Midland teeners will remember Ann as Ann Brown. Ann and Don also have a son, and remembering the brand of football played by Jim and Don in their high school days, we wonder if these two young fellows won't grow up to be guards or tackles!

Summer Formal Time

Drag out those formal, gals, the big dance is almost here! Yep... August 31 has been set as the date for the annual Youth Center Summer formal. The music will be furnished by Jimmy Furman, and the dancing should be fine!

We hear that Jasper Ratcliff is doing some bragging! Yep... it seems that the hail storm of last week not only brought rain but also John Robert Ratcliff! Need we explain that John Jasper's "offspring" and that he arrived in the midst of the storm?? It appears that Mr. and Mrs. Ratcliff are doing fine, and Jasper swears that the "young 'un" brought the rain. P.S. Proud uncle Dan Ratcliff is passing out bubble gum!

Reckless Teens Ride Traffic To Learn Safe Driving Habits

The Ride With A Lesson: Phoenix teen-agers nabbed for breaking traffic laws ride with the highway patrol as part of their punishment. Here one of them (third from right) gets a graphic lesson in the results of reckless driving as he watches an accident victim being pulled from a wreck.

PHOENIX, A. R. I. Z. —(NEA)—Night rides with highway patrolmen are taking the wreck out of reckless youths in the Phoenix area.

Boys and girls between 16 and 18 years old who have been arrested for traffic law violations in Maricopa County must attend a 10-hour juvenile traffic violators' school. Then they ride the night patrol to learn first-hand how traffic accidents occur and how they could have been avoided by respect for the law.

Judge Charles C. Bernstein inaugurated the school a year ago to do something about "the most reckless group" of drivers. He instructed police to get tough with juveniles and arrest them for the slightest violation.

Appearing before the judge, the juvenile's license is suspended until he successfully completes the 2 1/2-week course.

Complete School
The first year a thousand youths completed the school. Only 18 graduates were arrested as repeaters for traffic law violations. Their licenses were suspended from 30 to 90 days.

Before the school was established, the judge said, there were so many repeaters among juvenile violators that they were referred to adult courts for prosecution.

The first thing juveniles get when they enter the school is a test to determine their attitudes toward other drivers, and traffic laws. Then follows an examination of how much they know about the mechanical operation of a vehicle and an actual driving test in city traffic.

A psycho-physical test is given and a movie which characterizes bad youthful driving habits shown.

Hostile Attitudes
Not only does the school change many bad driving habits the youths have developed, but it also eliminates hostile attitudes toward laws and police, an attitude that Judge Bernstein says is the heart of all juvenile delinquency.

A teen-ager's dislike for lawmen doesn't last long when he sits beside a patrolman for a night ride. As they cruise the highways, minor traffic law violations are pointed out and the more flagrant violators are stopped and issued citations by the patrolmen. The young riders are told why the ticket was written and how the seemingly insignificant violation endangered the lives of many.

"I never realized how many people break the law until I saw it out on the highway," a 17-year-old boy said after his ride.

Talk With Youths
The officers stop occasionally while on patrol to buy their young riders a malted milk, talk about what they have seen.

A 16-year-old relative of one of Arizona's high public officials and his girl were picked up one night for driving their cars side by side at 65 miles an hour along a main thoroughfare while they talked to each other.

Both were "sentenced" to attend the juvenile drivers school. The boy was riding with a patrolman as the final part of his training, along the same thoroughfare, when the officer picked up a man for speeding.

"The guy's crazy to take a chance like that through here," the boy said.

His attitude had changed. A month before, he had taken a more dangerous chance.

In one night patrol, for example, a juvenile learned first-hand that strict observance of stop signs eliminates many accidents, that driving while drowsy is inviting a ditch full of overturned automobile, and that drunk and reckless driving is a rush order for an ambulance and the corner.

The boy said: "That ride helped me to realize how dangerous a car can be when taken lightly. I think all kids should have to ride with a patrolman once."

The American Bar Association has recognized the school as the only one of its kind conducted by a juvenile court in the country.

Among the most enthusiastic supporters of the school are Phoenix traffic officers and state highway patrolmen.

Capt. George Stinson of the Arizona Highway Patrol says: "This school is going to make our lives easier for years to come."

The true horned toad of South America lives on birds, mice, and frogs, and will attack humans.

School For Safety: A teen-age traffic violator rides with Capt. George Stinson of Arizona's Highway Patrol for a night course in safe driving that makes good drivers out of bad ones.

Gun Collector Has Variety Of Pieces

HOUSTON—(AP)—Harry C. Knode, an enthusiastic Houston gun collector, estimates he has about 300 firearms, running from flintlocks to highly prized miniature pistols made in ancient times by apprentice gunsmiths.

Oldest guns in the Knode collection are matchlocks. He has both Asiatic and European models. Hammers on these weapons were called "serpentes", which released the trigger setting off a match into a pan for powder, which fired the charge in the barrel.

Knode is vice president of the Texas Gun Collectors Association, which has 217 members.

Here's How Marines Get Their Recruits

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Marines needed 15 men when 89 draftees called up for Army service in New York the other day. Seven men volunteered. The rest were selected by the sergeant in charge of the group, Rudolph J. Spatarella, 21, an office worker, told how it worked:

"The sergeant said: One of you guys will have to go into the Marines. Then he looked at me and said: 'You're it!'"

The Agriculture Department forecasts a bumper 1951 cotton crop of 17,266,000 bales—7,245,000 bales more than last year and 5,236,000 bales above the 1940-49 average. Added to last year's carry-over, this will bring to about 19,166,000 bales the nation's total cotton supply for 1951-52.

Midland County Leads In New Sites For WT Area

During the latest seven-day period, Midland led the list of new locations for the West Texas area with 20 new field projects and one new wildcat. Five amended locations were also reported.

Factor came next with 15 new locations and two amended projects. Six new drillites were spotted in Pecos County. That county also reported a new wildcat location. Two amended applications were reported.

Cochran and Winkler Counties each reported three new tests. Two locations were listed in each of Andrews, Glasscock, Howard, Scurry and Ward Counties. Andrews also reported four amended locations and Scurry had one amended wildcat application.

Others Divided

The remaining new sites were divided among Borden, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Kent, King, Mitchell, Terry and Upton. Of these projects four were wildcats. They were listed in Borden, King, Lynn and Mitchell.

Amended wildcat applications were reported in Dawson and Hale. Gaines and Garza Counties reported two amended locations each, and Kent and Yoakum each reported one.

The total number of new locations in the West Texas district was 89. This report is based on appli-

Try Sauerkraut Summer Salad

TANGY KRAUT, drained and chilled, mixed with green peppers, radishes, on tomato wedges, makes a wonderful new salad.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Swedish Sauerkraut Salad (Makes 6 servings)

Crisp, chilled sauerkraut does wonders with the Summer appetite. Tuck it into sandwiches in place of the usual relishes, serve it instead of cole slaw with broiled or baked fish, carry it to picnics in an unopened container for a relish or salad.

Sauerkraut Summer Salad (Makes 6 servings)

One No. 2 can sauerkraut, 4 radishes, 1 medium green pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons sour cream, 4 tomatoes.

Place can of sauerkraut in refrigerator and chill over night or several hours. Open can of sauerkraut and drain off juice. Cut radishes into thin slices and green pepper into thin strips. In a large bowl, combine all ingredients; mix lightly but thoroughly. Chill several hours before serving.

Carefully cut orange sections help to give a fruit cup a professional touch. To prepare them cut all the outer peel and membrane away from an orange; then cut down on either side of the membranes that divide the orange sections, so the sections will be released.

Condensed milk first was produced in Connecticut in 1851.

Chilled Salad Has Soup Base

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Sparkling chilled salad from a can of condensed soup is a trick worth knowing about in torrid weather.

Soups and cream of chicken and cream of celery are rich with flavor and of a good consistency so they are naturals in the salad department. Blend each can of soup with one envelope of dissolved unflavored gelatin; then add about one cup of chopped vegetables, meat, or whatever makes a good combination. Pour the salad mixture into molds, chill until firm, and you'll have a nourishing hot weather special.

Tomato soup makes an especially good, perky-flavored gelatin salad. So does consommé, which jells after about 4 hours of chilling. When mixed with richer ingredients such as vegetables, the consommé needs added gelatin, just as the other soups do.

Chicken-Pineapple Party Salad
(Makes 6 servings)

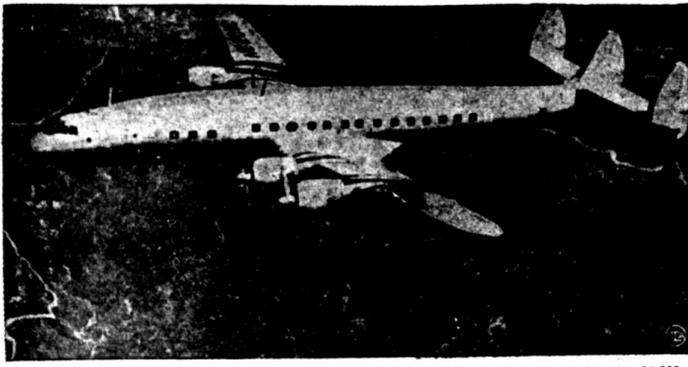

One 14-ounce can (1 2/3 cups) crushed pineapple, 1 envelope plain gelatin, 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed cream of chicken soup, 1 1/4 cup chopped almonds, 1 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. One pound can jelled cranberry sauce, 1 envelope gelatin, 2 tablespoons water.

Drain pineapple, soften gelatin in pineapple syrup about 1 1/2 cups. Heat soup over low heat; add gelatin and stir until thoroughly dissolved. Add drained pineapple (about 1 1/3 cups), the chopped almonds, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Rinse six individual or one large mold with cold water; fill mold half full with this mixture, then chill until firm.

Now make cranberry layer this way—crush cranberry sauce with a fork. Soften gelatin in water; set in a pan of boiling water and stir until dissolved. Mix gelatin thoroughly with cranberry sauce. Pour cranberry mixture on top of orange chicken-pineapple layers; chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens.

NOTE: A quick way to fix cranberry sauce for this salad is to chill it in the can while chicken cranberry sauce into 6 rounds. Unmold each chicken salad onto a cranberry base.

Want To Get Up On Time? Just Send Yourself A Wire

"Come on, get up, you wanna make a monkey outta the service?"

NEW YORK—(NEA)—People are always inventing things to make you get up in the morning. First somebody invented work then came the alarm clock and now there's something that is even more diabolic. This masquerades under the cheerful name of Western Union's Wake-Up Service. It is as effective as a bucket of cold water—only more expensive.

You, yourself, must place the order with the telegraph company. This makes the scheme, in the dull grey dawn, seem as ridiculous as if you went around socking yourself in the jaw.

Suppose you want to get up some morning. Maybe your alarm clock is busted or she's away for the weekend. And you have an important appointment you can't afford to miss.

You call Western Union and tell them you want to send yourself a wake-up telegram for, say, seven in the morning. The only cost is for a local telegram, charged to your phone.

Things Are Quiet
You go to sleep. Things are nice and quiet and you're happily dreaming about climbing up a mountain made of roast beef when suddenly there is a gravel landslide and you don't have a spoon. You're frantically beating it down the mountain when the phone rings.

It rings up to five times, unless the operator is soft-hearted when maybe she'll ring an extra time or two. You open a disgusted eye, heave a disgusted yawn, reach out a disgusted hand and pick up the phone. "Whagrapphoozit?" you say.

"This is Western Union," says a sweet voice. "The time is seven o'clock."

And that is that. You're on your own now. Western Union has done its duty. If you go back to sleep, you've only got yourself to blame.

More Than One
Some customers of the service know that they're probably going to do just that. So they send themselves more than one telegram. One sleepy New Yorker sends himself five, scheduled for delivery every 15 minutes starting at 5 a. m.

If you want, you can have messages especially tailored to your own drowsy taste. One patron sends himself this message every morning: "Ed, get outta bed. Ed, get outta bed. Ed, get outta bed." He says that's what his mother always used to say, and it works.

A young man got a wake-up telegram ordered by his fiancée the day of his wedding. He'd been to a wild bachelor party the night before, and the bride-to-be wasn't taking any chances on being stood up while he was lying down. She wired him, for bright-and-early delivery: "Wake up, dear, this is our wedding day."

Happy To Oblige
Occasionally, the operator delivering the call will be told to call back later. She is happy to oblige.

A few hardy souls call before their telegram is scheduled to be delivered. They'll tell the operator that they're already up, thank you just the same, so forget the whole thing. No charge is made in these cases where the awakener beats the awakener.

Once, an operator in San Francisco tried to deliver a wake-up special, but the recipient disowned it. He kept saying, "There's nobody here by that name." Doggedly, she kept at it, and he finally admitted that he was the person she was supposed to arouse. But he'd been so tired he'd hoped she'd give up and let him sleep in peace.

'Prettiest Princess' Comes Of Age

"Gay, vivacious, mischievous, charming"—these are the adjectives most frequently used to describe Her Royal Highness, Princess Margaret Rose, second daughter of England's King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, who celebrates her twenty-first birthday August 21. Here are camera glimpses of the life of the "kid sister" of the future British queen. Now, Princess Margaret, an attractive brunette, with blue eyes and lustrous complexion, comes of age, gets an annual allowance of about $20,000, and steps up her schedule of official court duties. As she turns 21, the question of possible romances and future marriage is one of increasing interest and speculation.

Plunging neckline. Margaret has shocked staid Brits in this and other ways. Her ambition, once, was to be the world's best-dressed woman.

At the coronation of King George VI, in 1937, Margaret was an impish six-year-old. More carefree and adventurous than her sister, Elizabeth—four years and four months her senior—Princess Margaret was always a palace favorite. Sometimes she wore Elizabeth's hand-me-downs.

Two pretty princesses—one eight, one 13—were Margaret Rose and Elizabeth, making a royal appearance at Buckingham Palace. Since earliest childhood, both girls were schooled in their duties as princesses. Margaret became an excellent linguist, pianist (inclined toward boogie-woogie) and sportswoman.

Riding at Windsor Castle—a favorite recreation of the Royal Family, Margaret likes swimming, too, but prefers ballroom dancing most of all.

Icebox Gives Up $13,815 in Cash

ALLENTOWN, PA. — (P) — Mrs. John Kropf, 66, yearning for modern convenience, gave away her old-fashioned ice box to a junk man and bought a new electric refrigerator.

The junkman carted the box away but left it aboard his truck which he parked on a vacant lot.

Two youngsters—Arthur Ross, 13, and Joyce Kline, 10—decided to play "house" on the truck. Accidentally, they kicked open the ice compartment of the ice box.

Inside was a small green box wrapped in newspapers. And inside that—$13,815 in cash. Some of the paper money was mouldy.

Arthur hurried to his father who inspected the box and found the Kropf address scratched on the side.

Mrs. Kropf was astounded. She said her retired farmer-husband now 82 and ill, apparently had saved the money and then cached it away in the ice box.

The Devon, England, style of wrestling permitted opponents to wear heavily soled shoes and to kick the adversary's shins, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

PURPLE HEARTS

The Order of the Purple Heart decoration for military merit was established by George Washington on August 7, 1782, when it first was awarded. Only three men, all non-commissioned officers, received the tribute at that time.

Mushroom Cheese Bake Makes Good Dish

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Hot!—yes. Hungry?—sure! Like to work in the steaming kitchen? Don't be silly. Well, let's solve this problem. How about a pair of recipes that provide the required amounts of protein, that need little preparation and taste so good even the most-wilted appetite will sit up and take nourishment.

Mushroom Cheese Bake
(Makes 6 servings)
One-quarter cup butter, 6 slices bread, toasted 1 3/4 cups cubed mild Cheddar cheese, (1 1/2 pound package), 2 cans (2 1/2 cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup, 3 eggs, slightly beaten.
Spread butter on both sides of each slice of toast. Cut each slice into 6 pieces. Then arrange the toast in a lightly-greased casserole (2-quart size), alternating toast with cubes of cheese.
Blend the soup with the beaten eggs, pour over the toast and cheese in casserole, mixing gently to be sure soup is well mixed with the toast. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for one hour. Garnish casserole by arranging additional toast points and greens such as watercress on top.

Red Devils (Makes 4 servings)

Four hard-cooked eggs, 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 1 teaspoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1 can (1-1/4 cups) condensed tomato soup, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon vinegar or lemon juice.

Cut eggs in half lengthwise; scoop out yolks and mash them. Into the yolks blend the mayonnaise, onion and parsley. Stuff yolk mixture into halves of egg whites. Place deviled eggs in a baking dish.

Prepare sauce for eggs this way: blend together the tomato soup, mustard and vinegar. Pour sauce over eggs. Heat in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 15 minutes.

Here's another quickie main dish: sliced hard-cooked eggs and flaked onion added to heated condensed cream of mushroom soup. Sprinkle top with crumbled potato chips and bake.

In using unsweetened chocolate in cakes, cookies, or other desserts remember that one square is the equivalent of one ounce.

Milk used for cooking should be measured and the container holding the rest of the milk returned to the refrigerator.

Almost Loses Blood Looking For Shoes

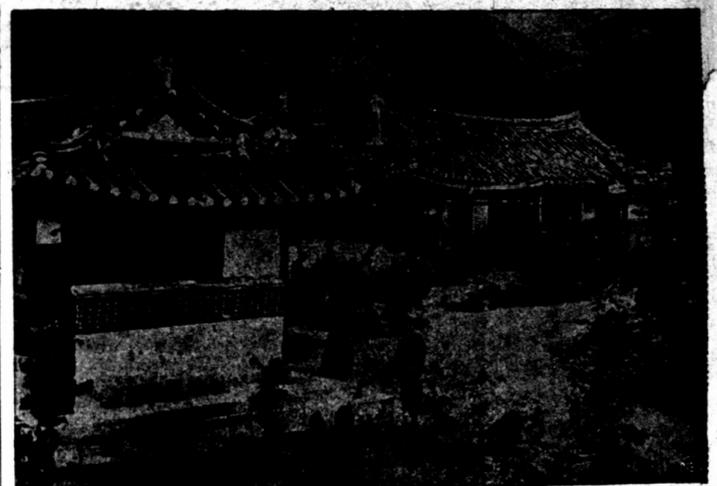

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—(AP)—A young woman walked into the Red Cross office here during a bloodmobile drive.

She gave her name and was whisked from department to department for a physical checkup.

Finally she reached the donor room and saw people on cots.

"Why do I have to go through all these tests to get a pair of shoes for my baby?" she asked.

She had been looking for the home service department.

WHERE UN TRUCE DELEGATES REST—This is the "UN House" in Kaesong, where United Nations delegates to the cease-fire talks go for rest, relaxation and food between meetings with the North Korean and Chinese Communist delegations.
