Stoddard Accuses Standard Of Texas In Counter Action

Four executives of the Standard Oil Company of Texas were accused Saturday by one of the company's former West Texas officials of conspiring to destroy his reputation and standing as a geologist.

The accusation was contained in a suit for bill of discovery filed in 70th District Court against the oil company and four executives by Gail H. Stoddard, former superintendent of exploration for Standard's West Texas division.

Stoddard was named in a suit filed by the oil company last February which accused him of using company information for his benefit after leaving Standard's employ.

Stoddard now an executive in another oil company in Midland, worked for Standard from 1938 until November 20, 1950, at which time he resigned.

He alleged in the suit that he had tried for a year previously to resign but company executives had asked him to remain, praising him for his work.

Peace Or War Up To Enemy, Says Ridgway

TOKYO —(P)— The Peiping radio Sunday again blasted the Allies for allegedly bombing the Kaesong neutral zone and gave no hint whether the Reds were ready to resume armistice talks.

The broadcast by an unidentified Red spokesman did not purport to be an answer to the broadside fired into the Communist camp Saturday by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander.

Ridgway in tough language rejected the Red charges that an Allied plane bombed and strafed Kaesong Wednesday. And he told the Reds he was ready to resume talks even though their charges were "so utterly false" and "preposterous" they merited no reply.

The Peiping broadcast zeroed in its attack on Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior UN truce delegate. It accused him of distorting the "facts" of the incident which led the Reds Thursday to suspend the talks.

It maintained that the Communist delegation was forced to suspend the conferences because it was "exposed to possible attack at any time."

UN Command Ready Ridgway, in his message Saturday, said flatly he had talked to his air officers and no UN plane was anywhere near Kaesong at the time of the purported incident.

The UN command, ready for any renewed attack, nevertheless said it clear that the issue of war or armistice in Korea was up to the Communists.

In his official reply to the Chinese and North Korean Red commanders, the Allied supreme commander said their charges of Kaesong neutral zone violations were "malicious falsehoods."

Some quarters in Tokyo expressed grave doubt the Reds would accept Ridgway's spade-calling message as "satisfactory." But they might, and then tell the world they were doing it for the sake of peace.

Strawberry Blonde, Bogus WAF Officer, Faces New Charges

AUSTIN —(P)— Mrs. Madeleine Frances Evans was arrested Saturday and charged for the second time with impersonating a Woman Air Force officer. She also was charged with cashing two worthless checks.

The shapely strawberry blonde was taken into custody at her Austin residence by U. S. Marshal O. T. Martin at the request of U. S. Commissioner Henry Clifton in El Paso, where the alleged offenses were committed in July.

She was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Robert N. Sneed, Jr., who set her bond at $1,000 on the new charges.

Mrs. Evans then was returned to the Travis County jail. She had been released on $1,000 bond 16 days ago pending federal grand jury investigation of the first impersonation charge. That charge resulted from her spending four days on Bergstrom Air Force Base posing as a WAF officer.

The latest charges accuse her of presenting herself as an officer and cashing two worthless $75 checks at the Bergstrom Air Force Base branch of the Southwest National Bank at El Paso.

Labor Day Fete Ticket Sale Slated

Plans are nearing completion and tickets will go on sale Monday for the annual Sheriff's Posse - sponsored Labor Day celebration to be held September 3 at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80.

The afternoon and evening program, according to Publicity Chairman Joe Beakley, will be the outstanding holiday attraction of the Permian Basin Empire.

The matinee performance at Fair Park will include a jack-pot calf roping, mounted relay races, barrel races for both cowboys and cowgirls. Cutting Horse contest, and a gaited horse exhibition. A square dance, scheduled at 8:30 p.m. in the patio at the Mackey Motor Company, will conclude the celebration.

Five Ticket Booths Tickets will go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday at five downtown locations —Athletic Supply, Hotel Scharbauer lobby, Chamber of Commerce, Tallorfine, Inc., and S&Q Clothiers.

Admission prices for the afternoon show are $1.25 for adults, and 40 cents for children, tax included. Beakley announced Square dance tickets are priced at $1.25 per couple.

Ed Darnell is the Midland County sheriff, and Jim Tuttle is the captain of the posse.

Sherwood O'Neal, chairman of the calf roping contest, Saturday advised show officials that 25 tough calves have been obtained for the jack-pot roping. A number of cowhands already have entered and others are expected to do so this week, he said.

The barrel races also are attracting a number of capable entries, according to Eddie Simms, chairman. Gaited Horse Show W. Chapple Davis of Midland, who has one of the Southwest's best-known strings of gaited horses, is in charge of the show's gaited horse exhibition.

John Dublin, Jr., is chairman of the Cutting Horse contest, and Foster King is in charge of the relay races. Ted Thompson heads the concessions committee.

Charles W. Blackock, square dance chairman, said the popular Lyles Square Dance Band of Crane will furnish the music for the evening festivities. The dance is "open to the world" and a large attendance is expected.

Judge Overruled On McGee Sanity Hearing Resigns

LUBBOCK —(P)— Seventy-Second District Judge Dan Blair mailed a letter of resignation to Gov. Allan Shivers Saturday.

He said he will enter private law practice. Blair's resignation followed by 10 days an order of the State Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin to grant a new insanity trial for Richard W. McGee. He had been sentenced to die September 1 for the slaying of R. L. Allison, Lubbock grocery executive, in 1948.

McGee's attorneys had appealed Blair's refusal to grant an insanity hearing to the state court.

Teacher Housing Is Sought Here

An urgent appeal was made Saturday for bedrooms, apartments or houses for school teachers.

School officials said several teachers have no place to stay. Midlanders with any of the three types of living quarters were asked to dial Charles Mathews at 4-5589. Previous appeals helped but did not fill the demand, Mathews said.

Iran Looks In Vain For Oil Buyers

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)— Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government, with a billion-dollar oil industry left on its hands by a breakdown of negotiations with the British, sought customers Saturday to stave off a possible political crisis.

For the first time since Mossadegh became a popular hero by nationalizing the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, parts of the press began speaking out against him.

Possibly even attempts to defeat the premier on a vote of confidence may be in the offing.

No More Royalties He made good on his promise to nationalize the AIOC. But so far he has not been able to deliver on the other part of his promise, to bring a "life of ease and comfort" to Iran's 15,000,000 people through control of Iran's oil riches.

Since Mossadegh nationalized oil he has received no oil royalties—which formerly made up half the Iranian budget.

The Abadan Refinery, the world's largest, has been shut down since July 31.

Now the British negotiators have gone home, and most of the remaining British technicians are being sent home. AIOC withdrew 226 more from the oil fields to Abadan Friday and began chartering planes to fly them home. This was almost a third of the remaining 780 British, who formerly numbered almost 3,000.

British and American oil experts here discount talk that Iran can market her own oil. They say no big oil company could risk the enmity of AIOC by making such a deal unless guaranteed a steady supply for years at a competitive price.

The same experts say there are only 40 or 50 independent tankers available for charter and this world shortage would keep shipments to private individuals to an uneconomical level.

70-Home Veterans Housing Project To Start Here Monday

Construction will start Monday on a 70-home veteran housing project in Midland.

Plans for the project, which will be located in the Crestview Heights Addition of Midland, were announced Saturday by Raymond Thompson, Sr., Abilene home builder, who is enlarging his activities to this section of West Texas.

"They will be two-bedroom houses with attached garages," said Thompson, "and will be available under the provisions of veterans legislation."

The houses, which will range in price from $7,700 to $8,100, will occupy lots with 58-foot frontage. Thompson said approximately $850 will handle the down payments and closing costs. Approximately 15 per cent of the houses already have been sold.

The homes are being built by Thompson and others under the firm name of House Beautiful Homes, Inc.

Captivated by Midland The firm includes Raymond Thompson, Jr., who last week appeared before the City Council with a proposal to establish a bus transportation system in Midland. Final action on this proposal is expected Tuesday night.

The elder Thompson said he is enthusiastic over Midland's prospects for continued growth.

He is active in Shrine work and, as potentate of the Suez Temple in San Angelo, is well known in Midland.

"I came here a year and a half ago on a Shrine visit," he explained, "and I was thoroughly captivated by the city."

"As soon as I could get clear in Abilene, we decided to begin operations in Midland. We're not only building 70 houses here. We plan to build a lot of houses."

49 Bodies Found In Plane Wreckage; FBI Hints Sabotage

OAKLAND, CALIF. —(P)—Forty-nine bodies were brought down Saturday from the seared, isolated hillside where 50 persons died Friday in the fiery crash of a giant airliner.

Searchers combed the tangle of wreckage and underbrush for the missing body. Tom Berge, Alameda county coroner, announced positive identification of 43 bodies. His men sorted jewelry, clothing and watches, and FBI men studied fingerprints in an effort to identify the other six and determine identity of the untraced body.

Smith Seeks Newest Seat In Congress

AUSTIN —(P)— Former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith Saturday became the first to announce formally his candidacy for Texas' new—and important—congressman-at-large seat.

He is one of the few who have broken from a big "wait-and-see" circle of top-notch Texas politicians apparently engrossed in playing cat-and-mouse games with each other.

The majority are not ready to tell you what office they will seek in the lush 1952 campaign year.

Fact is, they don't know for sure themselves. Much depends on what somebody else does.

Two other figures well known in political leagues also have made passes at the congressman-at-large post. They are former Congressman Martin Dies of Lufkin and Maury Maverick of San Antonio. Dies has indicated, however, that he may have the U. S. Senate in mind instead.

It is that senatorship and the governorship that particularly are under scrutiny.

Intentions of Senator Tom Connally have been made clear. He has said he intends to run for reelection next year. Washington sources say he is planning to return to Texas just as soon as Congress adjourns. That may be about October 1.

What About Shivers? But what about Gov. Allan Shivers? Will he seek his own personal second term? Or will he consider the 18 months he served of the late Gov. Beauford Jestes' term sufficient to tag the term he is now serving as his second? And the big question: Will he run against Connally for the U. S. senatorship?

Giles Says Gossett Back Home To Hike Telephone Rates

AUSTIN —(P)— Land-Commissioner Bascom Giles lashed back Saturday at critics of his "pessimistic attitude" on the fate of legislation aimed at assuring states ownership of Tidelands.

Giles was particularly resentful of a charge made Thursday by former Rep. Ed Gossett that Giles was "hurting the Tidelands case."

"Mr. Gossett is no longer a leader in our Tidelands fight," Giles said in a prepared statement. "He has come back to Texas to raise the telephone rates."

Gossett left Congress to become general counsel for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Dallas.

Tuesday, September 4, Is Day Of Days For 6,350 Young Midlanders

A week from Tuesday, 8:55 a.m. will be the zero hour for 6,350 young Midlanders.

That's when they'll land in the classrooms each morning for 178 teaching days.

School officials Saturday said all was ready for the big invasion September 4 — so far as the schools were concerned—but it appeared many parents still were hazy on the schedule their school-aged children would follow.

They want to know when students entering Midland schools for the first time must register. From the first grade through junior high they will register alphabetically according to the first letter of the last name. Here's the schedule:

Monday, August 27—A through F, 8 a.m. to 12 noon; G through L, 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 28—M through R, 8 a.m. to 12 noon; S through Z, 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Registrations will be at the school they are to attend. As for the lunch hour, students for the most part will have a choice. There will be two lunch hours in order to speed up cafeteria operations. One group will lunch at 11:50 a.m. and return to class at 12:35 p.m. The second group will have lunch at 12:10 p.m. and be back in class at 12:55 p.m. Students, perhaps, are more concerned about the hour school turns out than are their parents. Both senior and junior high school students will be released at 4 p.m. The first grades will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Second grades will be dismissed at 3 p.m. Third grades will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. Fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be released at 3:40 p.m. (Continued On Page Five)

The $15 tax for registering out-of-state automobiles is included in a new automobile sales tax law becoming effective September 1. Speed urged owners of such automobiles to bring all available papers on their automobiles when applying for a Texas license.

Eagle's Nest In Crow's Nest Ruled Surplus Property

MOBILE ALA. —(AP)—An eagle's nest inside a crow's nest had government officials up in the air.

Marine Surveyor John Pettigrew was inspecting the freighter George Gipp, prior to its reactivation, when he came across the eagle's nest, a four-foot wide cluster of sticks and twigs.

While the ship was laid up in the Tensas River, the eagle set up housekeeping high on the forecast in the ship's lookout station—by nautical tradition, the crow's nest.

Maritime Administration regulations require all of a ship's property to be catalogued and accounted for. The eagle's nest wasn't on the inventory. Officials met the problem by declaring the nest excess and surplus property. Now it can be pulled down.

'People Are On Their Way Out As Movie Stars,' Says Francis

By FRANCIS, THE MULE
(For Erskine Johnson, who is on vacation)
HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Folks, don't send your talented son or daughter to Hollywood in the hope that he or she will crash the movies. Send your dog, cat or jackass. Or if you have a skunk, send that.
Because we animals have taken over in the film studios. No longer do talent scouts peer appraisingly at pretty faces and shapely limbs, or listen hopefully to the singing voices of talented youngsters.
Instead, they're following the spoor of wild and domesticated beasts, tracking down the talent, as it were.
The number, and not the contours, of a prospective star's legs are what interest the casting directors now. The human biped, being limited to two, is at a disadvantage. The girl who has spent her youth in drama classes also is handicapped. Her ears aren't long enough. So unless you have reared a duck-billed platypus, an sardvark, a wombat or a garden variety of domestic quadruped, you haven't raised film fodder.
Three years ago, Universal-International Studio, for example, was making pictures starring people. There were no bars on dressing rooms and no brooms and shovels cluttered up the sound stages. It was a business by, of and for the people.
Then, apparently, Noah backed his ark up against a breach in the studio wall and sent a snake inside to infiltrate and make a few suggestions. No anti-hiss-tamine being available, the studio bosses gave ear.
Title Role
Noah's first order was for me, Francis, the talking mule. They even named my first picture for me. After the producers saw the film, they began to view human actors with distaste. Hastily they ordered another screenplay for me and called it "Francis Goes to the Races," and ordered more animals from Noah.
Down the ark's gangplank trotted a smart chimpanzee named Bonzo, who made a comedy and became better known than anybody in the United States except Harry Truman and Douglas MacArthur.
Then Noah simply opened the end-gate of his barge, the orders came so fast, and out of his prehistoric LST screeched, bellowed, barked and yammered almost every species of animal known to the cracker manufacturers.
For a picture titled "One Never Knows," in which Dick Powell has the role of a dog that has been reincarnated in human form and Joyce Holden is the reincarnation of a horse, more than 125 animals ranging in size from elephants, rhinos and lions down to squirrels and mice, were ordered. A score of dogs and a dozen cats were included in the order.
The film features an animal heaven, called Beestatory, populated by denizens of the forests and fields who behaved themselves while on earth.
When a film called "Fine Day" went into production co-starring Academy Award winner Josephine Hull, Howard Duff and Mona Freeman, the cast included a skunk named Annabella, a cat known as Mr. Conley, a cow by the name of Miss Butterworth, a calf known as George and a passel of chickens referred to throughout the picture as the Stebbins family.
Skunk May Star
The animals have as much to do with the ultimate outcome of "Fine Day" as the people in the cast. Annabella, the skunk, in fact, may be starred in her next picture as the result of her performance in this film.
"Oh Baby," which went into production next starring Tom Ewell, Julia Adams and Evelyn Varden, features a small dog which appears in 90 per cent of the scenes and was given excellent opportunities to run off with most of them as he would with somebody else's old bone.
"Flame of Araby," which followed, stars a beautiful Arabian horse, supported by such incidental characters as Jeff Chandler and Maureen O'Hara.
Roll a cannon ball down any street at this studio and you'll break more animal legs than human underpinnings, and it looks like the rest of the major studios are trying to keep up in this regard. Hardly a picture being made today doesn't feature horses, a dog or cat.
Leslie has gained gargantuan stature for the canines. Rhubarb is doing all right for the felines and Topper, Trigger and Champion are upholding the prestige of the equines.
Verily, it's a great day for us animals in Hollywood.

With The Services Midlander's Fire Siren Routs Enemy

A Midland soldier in Korea recently found a howling fire siren almost as effective as a chattering machine gun in routing the Chinese Communists.
He is Sgt. Clyde Green, a member of the 3rd Battalion of the 3rd Regiment of the 25th Division.
Commanded by Lt. Col. James H. Lee of Dallas, the battalion engaged the Chinese in the battle for the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyongsang triangle.
The enemy attacked with a wide assortment of sounds, ranging from cowbells to cymbals and the battalion answered in kind.
Sergeant Green, reports Colliers' Magazine in its current issue, "ran from one to the other of two 30-caliber machine-gun positions, cranking a fire siren."
"It added a haunting wail to the general uproar on the front, in which every imaginable sound from Korean cowbells to Chinese cymbals joined the clamor of mortar shells and the rattle of small arms fire in an insane concerto."
"Finally the Chinese quit. U. S. casualties stood at 13 killed, wounded or missing. Chinese losses were estimated at 150 killed, 300 wounded."
Lt. Col. Walter Waime, vice president of Moore Exploration Company, who has been stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., has been ordered to duty in Korea.
Col. Frank Whitaker, assistant division superintendent of the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company when he entered the service at Camp Chaffee, Ark., has been ordered to Korea.
Lt. Tom Hogan, Jr., left Crane last week for Seattle, from where he will leave for assignment in Yokohama, Japan.
This is his third assignment overseas. During World War II he was with the 88th Blackhawk division in Europe, earning the bronze star with a cluster, the silver star and other decorations.
He spent a year in the Philippines, training guerrilla units.
Lt. Baker Davis of Crane has received orders to report September 24 to Fort Knox, Ky., where he will train for three months with the First Armored Division.
He has been employed as a soil conservationist in Lamesa where he and Mrs. Davis are making their home.
Lt. (jg) Michael K. Lake, USN, 1204 West Storey Street, is serving with Attack Squadron 115, now based at the naval air station at San Diego, Calif.

Eight Men Killed As Lightning Sets Off Dynamite Blast

WONDERFUL, COLO.—Eight men were killed and 10 hurt Friday when lightning touched off a dynamite blast at a damsite, and searchers still checked Saturday to see if there were other casualties.

The explosion sent boulders and debris smashing down on the site of a $12,000,000 dam project in South Boulder Creek Canyon, a gash in the front range of the Rocky Mountains.

The damsite is about 35 miles northwest of Denver and is south-west of Boulder, the site of the University of Colorado.

Between 50 and 60 men were working in the area.

Texas Senator Calls For Deeper Cuts In Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Tom Connally of Texas, veteran Democratic leader, Saturday called for deeper cuts in foreign economic aid, saying, "We can't go on forever supporting the whole world."
Connally spoke out at a news conference, one day after the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which he heads, and the Armed Services Committee had voted to cut about $675,000,000 in economic aid and $290,000,000 in military help from President Truman's $8,500,000,000 foreign aid request.

President Truman was reported to have protested vigorously against these cuts but that failed to sway Connally, who lately has rebelled against some of the Administration's foreign aid policies.
Connally said he would prefer to see the $290,000,000 military reduction restored to the bill when the Senate acts on it. If it is not restored, he said he still would favor making the economic cut an even $1,000,000,000 instead of $675,000,000. "Sooner or later we have got to cut this economic program," he said. "We can't go on forever supporting the whole world with hand-outs to these nations just because we like them—or for any other reason."

Pressing Business May Keep Connally From Frisco Meet

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Connally of Texas may pass up an opportunity to sign the Japanese peace treaty at San Francisco.
Aides said Connally, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and has attended many international conferences, had not decided definitely to reject the State Department's invitation.
Connally would not comment but indicated he is of a mind to stay in Washington to help shepherd the $7,535,000,000 foreign aid bill and the tax bill through the Senate.
The foreign aid bill probably will be before the Senate when the conference opens September 4.
Friends said Connally's probable absence from San Francisco does not reflect any dissatisfaction with the new Japanese treaty. Instead, they said it might be influenced somewhat by the Texas political situation.

If Connally doesn't go to San Francisco, his place at the treaty signing table will be taken by an alternate.
Connally and Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, top Republican on the committee, were the only senators designated to put their signatures on the treaty. Wiley has indicated he will be on hand.

Officer, Car Thief Die In Gun Battle

REFUGIO, TEXAS—(AP)—A deputy sheriff and a suspected car thief were killed when the officers tried to stop two men fleeing in a stolen car.

The other suspect shot himself critically a few moments later as officers closed in on him.

Killed at a police roadblock Friday between Refugio and Cuero was Chief Deputy Peter S. Lantermo. He was killed instantly by five bullets fired from the stolen car as he and another officer tried to stop the car.

After the shooting, the stolen car, a 1950 Ford, stopped and two men ran into a pasture.

Robert Quillen Cena, about 20, of Houston, was shot down in the pasture by Sheriff A. C. Taylor and deputy D. W. Gentry, who had been chasing the stolen car.

Cena's companion, Faustino Silvas, about 17, of Houston, shot himself in the temple as officers approached. He was given slight chance to recover.

With the two men when they took the Ford from Allie Johnson, a Cuero negro, was a third man. Cuero Police Chief Bill Hartman said he believed the third man was forced by Cena and Silvas to accompany them.

Bank Purchases Downtown Site For Customer Parking

The purchase by The First National Bank of a 90x125-foot tract of land at the corner of Wall and Baird Streets in the downtown business district, was announced Saturday by M. C. Ulmer, president of the financial institution.
The site, Ulmer said, will be used to provide free automobile parking space for customers while they are transacting bank business. Due to lease contracts, the parking arrangement will not be available until later this year, he stated.

The property, the east 90 feet of Lots 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, Block 67, Original Townsite, was purchased from Carris Crofton of Abilene at an undisclosed figure.
A building, 40 by 115 feet, is located on the northeast corner of the property.

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—W. J. Egan, St. Louis, will succeed James T. Hinchey, St. Paul, Minn., as president of the National Association of Livestock Dealers and Order Buyers.
He was elected at the closing convention session Friday. Joe Lane, Fort Worth, was elected vice president.

Delegates voted to hold the annual mid-winter meeting next February at Fort Worth.

Delegates, representing traders' livestock exchanges in nine cities, agreed that the most encouraging recent development in the livestock industry is the increasing demand for feedlot cattle.

Bitter Mississippi Governor's Race To Be Settled Tuesday

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—Mississippi's bitter gubernatorial race will be decided Tuesday, when voters choose between a 70-year-old former governor and a 36-year-old son of a former governor.

The candidates, former Gov. Hugh White and Paul Johnson, Jr., have waged a whirlwind battle of harsh words since the first Democratic primary August 7.

White challenged Johnson's loyalty to the States Rights movement, popular in Mississippi. Johnson accused White of deceiving thousands of acres of state land "to cronies" during White's former term of office.

Doswell had mineral leases on more than 15,000 acres of land in the San Juan Basin area, and at his death was preparing to sink another well.

An Admirable Resolve

With commendable speed the United States acted to spike at the start Russia's obvious plan to wreck the Japanese treaty at San Francisco.

The Kremlin has formal notice that the coming meeting is a final conference for the "concluding" and signing of the pact. Neither we nor any major power associated with the treaty drafting intend at this stage to allow the Russians to re-open negotiations on detailed terms.

This is admirable resolve. But we must lay careful plans to meet every trick Moscow may conceive. We must assure not only that the Soviet Union does not wreck the treaty but that it does not so twist events at San Francisco as to gain an important propaganda victory.

Almost certainly Russia will protest that it is being frozen out without a hearing. This, of course, is not the case. John Foster Dulles had three meetings with Jacob Malik on the progress of negotiations. It was Malik who broke off the talks.

We should be ready at San Francisco with the whole history of Russia's relation to Japanese treaty discussions, from the moment World War II ended. And we should not hesitate to remind the world that Moscow joined the war against Japan exactly one week before it ended.

Army Shows Imagination

A unique experiment in troop training is being initiated by the United States in Korea.

The expanding South Korean army will be re-trained intensively in the field. One division at a time, the South Koreans will be pulled back a few miles from the front and given eight weeks' schooling in tactics.

As the individual outfits complete their training, they will move back into the line.

This is an unusual and imaginative program. And it will serve a valuable double purpose.

If the cease-fire talks by some means should succeed, ultimately the South Korean army must shoulder most of the burden of defending free Korea. It is not now equipped for the job.

The story of the South Korean army generally has been one of brave men untrained and often ill-equipped for tough fighting. The new plan is the first real step to end that dangerous state of affairs.

A budget is what people straighten out every day so they'll have something to borrow from until next pay day.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Czech government is silent about Friendship Balloons; Operation winds has hit its mark; Chief credit for balloon venture goes to magazine executive C. D. Jackson.

MUNICH — At this writing it looks as if the Czech Communists had adopted the same strategy toward the "Winds of Freedom" operation as the U. S. Army did toward the Japanese balloons of death.

Each of these balloons, written on waterproof paper, and they scatter down in all directions. Incidentally it takes two hours for them to descend.

The other type of pillow balloon probably is treating Czechoslovakia to a siege of flying-saucer hoax-jokes. For they are smaller editions of the huge plastic pillows made by General Mills which sky-plane pilots have sighted in the air.

The much smaller plastic pillows, made by General Mills, which we have been showering over Czechoslovakia, have the same eerie quality as the flying saucers. They come to earth gradually and bounce along the ground, the word "Syboda" or "Freedom" being printed in red letters on the side.

It now is possible to tell some of the inside facts as to how operation Winds of Freedom was conceived and executed. Chief credit belongs to C. D. Jackson, dynamic executive of Time, Life and Fortune, now on loan to the Committee for Free Europe.

Meanwhile, the percentage of "hits" by operations Winds of Freedom must be almost 100 per cent. For, instead of sending balloons 5,000 miles across the Pacific, we have been working from just 10 miles from the Czech border.

By this time a total of about 15,000,000 messages have been raised in on 12,500,000 people in an area somewhat smaller than Virginia and West Virginia combined. Most of these messages fall from the sky like rain. They are released from an altitude of 30,000 feet when the Dewey and Army rubber balloons burst. Two thousand messages are in the air.

So They Say

Russian communism has little appeal in a Buddhist country. Communism makes little headway where the family is a strong social unit.

It is our prayer that with high courage and with the support of our peoples (Atlantic Pact nations) and with the grace of God we shall not fail to eliminate the fear of the cell-block and slave camp.

Outside of Mississippi, we're not giving away anything (in next year's elections).

We Americans have entered an age of appalling alternatives. We are spending billions in preparation to win a global war which we are spending other billions to prevent.

Except for a brief period when Wendell Wilkie represented the lone voice calling for a reform in the thinking of the leadership of the party, the Republican members of Congress have been the sole policy makers of the party.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for the NEA Service

My advice on the bidding of certain hands is to copy the strategy of the shy young maiden. Take plenty of cooling water. Take care where you wanted to be in the first place.

In today's hand, for example, South was pretty sure that North had five or six spades to the ace and a singleton for his raise to four spades. Where could the singleton be? Not in hearts, where South was void. Conceivably in clubs—but more probably in diamonds.

South knew he could make six spades, but he wanted to be coaxed. So he let West nudge him into the slam. Then West doubled happily, satisfied with a good deed well done.

There was no play to the hand.

Bridge hand diagram showing North (D) and West/East hands with suits and cards.

of course? West could take one diamond trick, and then South could spread his hand.

Why did South bid his hand so coyly? The reason becomes clear when we see what happened in the other room.

The other South player went to six spades with great firmness. The other West bid seven diamonds as a sacrifice. North decided it was time for him to step in and put an end to the monkey-shines. He therefore doubled seven diamonds.

Everybody passed and North snapped the ace of spades down on the table as his opening lead. Thereupon West ruffed, drew trumps, and ran the hearts.

Now we can see the difference between the two styles of bidding. The shy young maiden winds up with a profit of 1,600 points. The bull in a china shop winds up with a loss of 1,630 points.

The difference between the styles was 3,200 points on a single hand.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Spade Pass 2 Diamonds Pass 2 Hearts Pass 3 Clubs 3-2 Hearts J-4, Diamonds K-Q-J-6-3, Clubs K-5-4. What do you do? A—Bid two spades. This is a simple preference, not a raise. You have shown fair strength by bidding your diamonds at the level of two. Now you show that you like spades better than hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the previous question.

THE STORY: My name is James (last name Malloy) and I've been arrested of the murder of Charlie Berman, who bribed a corrupt cop to get my lease on state land, where I maintained an amusement park. My lawyer says bribery can't be proved, but there's a legal way to get my land back.

"And if it had been? Would you have watched me go to the chair?" She eyed me with casualness. "I don't owe you a dime, Jimmer Malloy. Not a dime."

"Then why did you come here and tell me what you have?" "Because I'm on the hook. Earnie knew I was to be at Charlie's house that night. He'd heard Charlie coaching me. And he knew the money he got from the bank was to be used as a pay-off at Charlie's house."

"Did he know who was to be paid off?" "No. Nobody but Charlie knew that."

"But he trusted you." "All right, I've had a past. Charlie was hep. Why do you think I'd have put up with a creep like him? If I hadn't had to, now Earnie's got me just as high on the hook as Charlie had. I want off. So I've leveled with you about that night. You want off the hook, too. You want to know you didn't kill Charlie, just as I want to make sure that Earnie can never point a finger at me merely because I was there that night. This kick D. A. might get ideas."

I got the idea—or thought I had it. I walked over to the three-stool bar built into a corner of the room and poured myself a drink. Watching me, Cleo said: "I'll have bourbon, too." I carried her a drink. She swallowed it, unmindful of the absence of a chair. I drank my own. I had been a long time since I had

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Vaughan's Dominican Medal Stirs Interesting Speculation

By FRANK EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Award of the latest medal to the White House's senior military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry W. Vaughan, has started some interesting speculation in Washington. General Vaughan's newest decoration is the Order of Juan Pablo Duarte, awarded him by the Dominican Republic.

Reason for the raised eyebrows over this move is that the Dominican government has for some time been trying to get a contract to manufacture small arms for the U. S. government, or for the military assistance program to help re-arm other foreign governments.

But even as an innocent victim, by allowing himself to be decorated, he has contributed to the system of personal favor-giving which many foreign governments and their diplomats feel they have to follow to get what they're after.

In the case of the Dominican arms factory, it has tried the usual front-door business approach and the hiring of an American agent. Official name of the concern which runs the plant is Armeris, S. A.—the two letters being the equivalent of English, "Inc."

According to papers filed with the U. S. Department of Justice under the Foreign Agents' Registration Act, Armeris is a branch of the war department of the Dominican Republic.

Several months ago, Armeris retained as its American agent an organization known as Clark-Tuckerman, with offices in New York. Head of this organization is Edwin N. Clark, a retired U. S. Army reserve brigadier general.

Clark-Tuckerman's contract with Armeris calls for services as technical adviser and for assistance in getting U. S. war contracts. Fees to be paid are eight per cent of all money received from contracts.

This raised the usual five-percentage take for Pentagon influence peddling. But so far, Clark-Tuckerman has obtained no contract for Armeris. In this interval, the American agents are supposed to be paid $5,500 a month.

The full story of the Armeris plant goes back to 1948. Its existence has been known and its progress has been watched by U. S. defense officials. It could be a quite disturbing factor to the Caribbean, Central American and South American peace, if it ever got into wide production.

The Dominican Republic shares the West Indies island between Cuba and Puerto Rico with Haiti. Several revolutionary attempts have been launched from Cuba to overthrow the Dominican government.

In putting down these and other home-brewed uprisings, long-time President Trujillo has charged that his real enemies were the Communists of Cuba, Guatemala and whiskey. The stuff burned all the way. "So you think I can take what you've told me and turn up Charlie Berman's killer?"

I said: "I wouldn't have to turn up the killer to clear myself. All I need to do is to take you to the sheriff."

Cleo smiled cryptically. "Oh, yeah? I'm afraid you couldn't make me repeat my story to the sheriff. Besides, you wouldn't—not after I've done my share to clear this up and get both of us off the hook. I wouldn't have come here if I'd have thought there was a chance of your turning me in. A girl can tell when a guy's a heel."

"It was a build-up, but it was a cinch to work. She had me and she knew it. She conveniently changed the subject."

"Now about Earnie. He and a muscle man named Babe Tumbler are going to work you over if they can. Earnie figures he has to do it to save face after the jury freed you. Babe will help him."

I nodded. "Earnie was plain enough at the courthouse."

"And he'll have to come through. Have you got another gun in the place?" "I didn't answer her. I was thinking of what Gene Sawyer was saying. If I carried a gun to protect myself from Earnie Berman and had to shoot him, I would be worse off than I would be if I took a beating. No, I wasn't going to kill anybody. Neither an instinct for self-preservation or an impulse to become what people thought I was could make me do that."

"If you don't have another gun, said Cleo very seriously, 'you'd better get one. Earnie means business. I hate to think of what he would do to me if he knew I'd come here to warn you.' "I'll give you three guesses," said a voice from the doorway. "We both turned. Cleo let out a little yip. Earnie Berman stood there. The man behind him was a head taller, and he had the low, sloping shoulders of a prizefighter. Berman walked into the room, and the big man followed. The latter would be Babe Tumbler. (To Be Continued)

You wonder if it is necessary to buy a gift each time a friend has a child. WRONG: Feel that you must always give a new baby a present—even though it is quite a strain on your budget. RIGHT: Give the new baby a gift if you want to and if you can afford it. But don't feel that it is an absolute necessity.

City Executes New Five-Year Contract On Use Of Airpark

A new five-year contract with the West Texas Flying Service for the use of Midland's Airpark was approved Friday afternoon by the City Council.

The contract was approved after a lengthy discussion by the council, with Councilman R. B. (Bum) Cowden presiding in the absence of Mayor Perry Pickett and Mayor Pro-Temp Johnny Starr.

Hal Rachal, one of the owners, represented the flying service in the negotiations.

Approval of a $70,000 city claim for resurfacing the runways has been held up because of that clause, Aviation Director Clyde Sharrer said.

The new contract, as did the old one, provided that at its termination the city would be obligated to purchase hangars and other buildings built at Airpark by Rachal at a price to be set by three disinterested appraisers.

The contract also gave Rachal exclusive gasoline sale privileges with the exception that the city would be permitted to enter into a contract to furnish gasoline to armed service planes.

Hospital Dope Ring Boss Is Revealed As Relief Client

NEW YORK—(P)—Mariano Rubino, alleged ringleader of a $500,000-a-year dope business conducted inside Bellevue Hospital, has been living on relief 26 months.

During that period the City Welfare Department said the 42-year-old Rubino, his wife and child, drew $3,285 in public relief checks. The family received $130.80 monthly until last March, when Rubino obtained rent-free residence as an apartment house superintendent and the relief allotment was cut to $81 a month.

Rubino, held without bail for a hearing Thursday, is accused of hiding illicit heroin in the hospital and of using Bellevue's main waiting room to contact dope customers.

Townsend had been living in his nephew's house about three years, he said. He said he and Criswell had trouble on previous occasions.

Senate Cuts Boost In Personal Taxes, Eyes Corporate Rate

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Finance Committee went to work on corporation taxes Saturday, lessening the increase the House has voted by about $55,000,000.

Still more cuts under the House amounts—and possibly some increases—were in prospect before the committee has a bill ready for the Senate.

Saturday's vote would allow each firm in a controlled chain of companies to claim the $25,000 minimum exemption from corporation surtaxes and excess profits taxes. The House bill would allow only one firm in a chain to claim it.

The committee went along with the House on a proposal to subject "collapsible corporations" to regular income taxes instead of the lower capital gains tax. This was aimed primarily at motion picture firms set up to produce a single picture and thus have a lower tax rate on its profits.

The House voted to tax corporations $2,855,000,000 more a year, in its $7,200,000,000 tax increase bill. It voted to take an additional $2,847,000,000 from individual income taxpayers, and most of the rest from higher excise, or sales taxes. The Senate committee voted Friday to hold the individual income tax raises to $2,409,000,000 making the effective rate for the most people an increase of 11 per cent, as compared to the house's 12 1/2 per cent.

Braves Take Over Third Spot In Loop

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Braves won their sixth straight and took over third place in the National League standings as they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5, Saturday to sweep their three-game series. An 11-hit attack, including three home runs by Jethro who stole his thirtieth base, tied the Braves' longest winning streak of the season and gave them a new high under Manager Tommy Holmes guidance. With a 5-3 count, Boston's Sibby Sisti led off the seventh with a double and went to third as Jethro's speed gave him a single on a well placed drag bunt toward second base. Bud Byerly, who had entered the game at the beginning of the inning, got Earl Torgeson on a short fly to right but Sid Gordon fled deep to left and Sisti grounded. It was Gordon's third RBI. The score: R H E Cincinnati 001 000 400-3 9 2 Boston 000 410 10x-6 11 2 Fox, Perkowski, Byerly, Kraut and Howell; Sain, Estock, Chipman and St. Claire.

SW Conference To Launch Gridiron Drills September 1

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor More than 400 vincible young men of all sizes and shapes, some with blinding speed, others with plodding power and still others able to make a pigskin do tricks that fool even the crowd, will hit the gridiron trail in the Southwest Conference next Saturday. It will be the thirty-seventh campaign to this storied football league and the gaudy intersectional schedule will give opportunity for some teams to lay claim to the national championship. That is, if it can win all its games. In the schedule of 49 games, 23 are intersectional, bringing the conference teams against such powers as Oklahoma, Kentucky, Clemson, Ohio State, Nebraska, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Kansas, Purdue, Navy, Tulane, and North Carolina. There will be 137 lettermen in the field of 410 athletes reporting to the seven conference camps. Texas A. and M., choice of the sports writers and co-choice of the coaches to win the championship, has 26 of them headed by that great back, bounding Bob Smith. Southern Methodist comes up with 22, Texas 21, Texas Christian 20, Baylor 17, Arkansas 16 and Rice 16. Most Likely To Win Baylor and Texas generally are considered the teams most likely to win the title if A. and M. doesn't, although Baylor complains about lack of manpower while admitting its first liners are tops. Texas is rated highly because it has lost little from the great defensive team of 1950. Texas Christian is the dark horse. The coaches fear the line is inadequate but aren't worried about the backfield with headlines Gilbert Bartosh, probably the best all-around back in the country. The conference figures it has at least five top contenders for All-America this year—Bartosh, Smith, Byron Townsend of Texas and Larry Isbell of Baylor, backs, and Dick Hightower, the tremendous Southern Methodist center. The first game of the season will be played September 21 when Texas A. and M. battles UCLA at Los Angeles. September 21 Baylor plays University of Houston, Southern Methodist tackles Georgia Tech, Texas Christian engages Kansas, Arkansas plays Oklahoma A. and M., and Texas takes on Kentucky. Rice does not swing into action until September 29 when the Owls meet Clemson.

Oilers Batter Shaky Tribe To Win, 6-5

The Midland Indians and the Odessa Oilers will meet in the second of their two-game series here at 4:35 p.m. Sunday at Indian Park.

The Odessa Oilers battered down the shaky defense of the Midland Indians Saturday night to win a 6-5 Longhorn League baseball game. Coming from behind in the eighth inning, the Oilers combined three of their own hits with a quartet of costly Midland errors to score four runs and roll up a winning margin. A threatening Indian rally in the last of the eighth fell short of overcoming a two-run Oiler lead. The two-hour and 30-minute ball game featured numerous controversies over disputed plays and was climaxed in the third inning with the ejection of Midland Manager Zeke Bonura, Pitcher Bruce Blumenthal and Third Baseman Julio de la Torre. But the Indians bounced right back over that fracas and staged a four-run spree, including a three-run homer by Center Fielder Stan Wilcox. The third inning controversy came after Umpire Sikes, calling the decisions on the bases, ruled de la Torre, who had just hit a sizzling two-base liner into left field, had failed to touch first base and was tagged out. Leo Eastham homered for the Oilers in the second inning with none aboard. ODESSA (6) AB R H O A Barerra, ss 5 0 0 1 6 Batson, lf 5 1 3 7 0 Peacock, cf 5 1 0 0 0 Eastham, rf 3 2 2 1 1 B. The score reverted to the seventh inning, as the rains came with the Dodgers at bat in the last of the eighth. Miss Doran was short with her third shot, chipped past the cup, and missed it coming back.

Doak Shines As Lions Beat Giants In Cotton Bowl Tilt

DALLAS (AP)—Doak Walker's home folks always expect the sensational when he plays football. The Doaker isn't a fellow to disappoint them. The former SMU All-American now a pro, did everything possible Friday night in carrying Detroit Lions to a 31-21 victory over the New York Giants in a National Football League exhibition football game. Dewitt Couler of the Giants, out of football a year, returned to the game without even a day's workout and played all the way on defense. The Doaker scored two touchdowns, one on a 37-yard line plunge; kicked a 28-yard field goal, barely missed another from a angle at 18 yards, and booted three extra points. He carried the ball for 47 yards, caught two passes for 11 yards, returned two kick-offs for 111 and punted twice for a 31-yard average. His former teammate, Kyle Rote, played his first pro game Friday night—with the Giants. Rote, outside of a 35-yard run with a Conery pass that set up a touchdown, did little. He gained only 15 yards rushing, caught a pass for 33 yards, ran one kickoff back 23 yards—and fumbled twice. One of his fumbles gave Detroit a touchdown as Jack Christiansen plucked the ball out of the air and ran 73 yards. Top Ball-Carrier Charley Conery, the ex-Mississippi great, passed for two touchdowns and set up the other for New York, completing 10 throws for an amazing 207 yards. Bobby Layne, quarterback for Detroit, connected on 11 passes for 92 yards, setting up one touchdown and piloting the Lions flawlessly. Bob Hoernschmeyer of Detroit gained 53 yards running with the ball as leading ball-carrier of the game. The Yank roster contains: John Redfern, III, Dick Campbell, Joe Tunnell, Charles Danley, Bennie Sanchez, Fred Hedges, Terry Palmer, Bill Farris, Ricardo Rodriguez, Herb Farris, Tom Shepard, Manuel Munos, Fred Sanchez, Florencio Costello, David Reed, Manuel Marmalejo, Mike Rardinun, Harry Harvey. The Pittsburgh Downs Philadelphia, 3-2 PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Reliever Jim Konstanty walked Gus Bell with the bases loaded and two out to force in a run in the 12th inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3 to 2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday. Dot Kirby Wins Fem Golf Crown

ST. PAUL, MINN. (AP)—Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, Ga., Saturday won the National Women's Amateur golf championship with a two-and-one victory over Claire Doran, Rocky River, Ohio. The Atlanta won the twenty-fifth and twenty-seventh holes and Miss Doran captured the twenty-sixth to make the afternoon turn with Miss Kirby three up. Miss Doran battled back, however, winning the twenty-eighth, twenty-ninth and thirty-first holes to even the match. But Miss Kirby dropped a 20-foot putt on the thirty-second hole for a birdie two and went ahead once more. She clinched the match on the thirty-fifth hole with a par 5 by sinking a seven-foot. Miss Doran was short with her third shot, chipped past the cup, and missed it coming back.

Yankees Trounce Tribe, 7-3

CLEVELAND (AP)—The New York Yankees, sparked by Gene Woodling and Mickey Mantle, climbed to within one game of the league-leading Cleveland Indians Saturday by whipping the Tribe, 7 to 3, before 66,110 fans.

Woodling, whose bat has been white hot for the last week, drove in three runs on two singles, while Mantle, recently recalled from Kansas City, smacked a double and home run to drive across two runs. Ed Lopat received credit for his seventeenth victory, but the crafty lefthander needed help from Allie Reynolds in the eighth inning. Big Mike Garcia, first of three Cleveland hurlers, suffered his ninth loss against 17 wins.

Bobby Avila hit a two-run homer for Cleveland in the fifth inning, but it wasn't nearly enough as the Yankees uncorked an 11-hit attack to win the rubber game of the vital three-game series.

Sends Yanks Ahead
After each team scored a run in the first inning, Mantle sent the Yankees ahead—to stay—with a treble home run over the left centerfield fence. The blow, coming with Phil Rizzuto on base, was hit into the teeth of a strong wind.

Rizzuto also figured prominently in the Yankees' clutch win, getting three singles and scoring four runs. The big moment for the Cleveland fans came in the eighth inning, when, with one out, Al Rosen looped his third single to centerfield and Ray Boone followed with a double down the third base line.

Reynolds replaced the tiring Lopat at this point, and struck out pinchhitter Barney McCosky and got Harry Simpson on a ground ball to third base.

The score:

RAIN POSTPONES GAME

NEW YORK (AP)—Rain caused postponement of the second and final game of the series Saturday between the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants, with the Redbirds leading, 3-1. The Giants were coming to bat in the third when the game was called due to wet grounds.

The "tugboat" will toot a work whistle Monday morning and 42 "sailors" will answer the call.

The "tugboat" is, of course, Coach Tugboat Jones, and the "sailors" are the 1951 Midland High School Bulldogs.

It's a brand new football season. Practice starting time Monday for the "A" and "B" squads is 7:30 a.m.

"We will hit the practice field at 8 a.m. sharp," Head Coach Jones said.

There will be workouts twice-daily for the varsity until school starts September 4. The "B" squad will work mornings only until school starts. The "C" Bulldogs will not report until September 4. The varsity's afternoon workout time is 4 p.m.

"A" squad assistant coaches are Audrey Gill and Red Rutledge. Gill will tutor the line and Rutledge the ends. Tugboat serves as head knocker and backfield tutor.

Invited To Drills

All citizens of Midland are invited to the workouts if they will take seats and not get in the way of the working boys, Jones said.

Forty-two huskies make up the "A" squad. They are Dalton Byerly, Jimmie Adams, Freddie Bilbo, David Breith, Dan Black, A. W. Boothe, Ralph Brooks, Bobby Cast, Keys Curry, Stan Coker, Walt Cremin, Russell Cox, Bill Eskrine, Pete English, Terry Fuglar, Larry Friday, Calvin Hancock, Harold Hensley, Jess Hatfield, Roy Kinsey, Robert Keisling, Johnny Kennedy, Jimmie Lineberger, Bill Leonard, Bill Mims, Barney McClendon, John Petty, Charlie Patterson, Harold Paden, Dan Ratcliff, James Reagan, Ronnie Rose, Fidel Ramirez, Harold Robbins, M. A. Rose, Loren Roberts, Darrell Spivey, Jay Schlichting, Dick Spencer, Jim Ten Eyck, Melton Jones and James McKandless.

Rest Hopes Of Club

Upon the shoulders of these young men rest the hopes of MHS for the 1951 grid season in which the school

By TANNER LAINE

The team this year will have a full-time trainer. He is Louis Greve, a junior high school teacher, who was trainer at Baylor University for four years.

Directing the expected 40 boys of the "B" squad will be Coach John Higdon, line, and Coach Keith Bobo backfield. "C" team coaches will be Pat Patterson and Jimmy Williams. New to the high school staff is Williams, who last year coached the David Crockett Elementary.

"More speed but less experience and lack of tackle depth, with a question-mark future," thumb-nailed Coach Jones of this 1951 squad.

Jones believes sincerely that the team has been overrated in pre-season forecasts. But he will put it squarely up to his boys whether they have desire and courage to turn such high forecasts into reality.

"Bulldogs Will Win"

"I have always said, regardless of the boys lost by graduation as compared with boys coming up, if a bunch of Bulldogs make up their minds to win—they will," stated Jones.

What is there for Jones and his staff to work with this season? There are three offensive starters from last year's team. They are Back Ralph Brooks and Linebacker Stan Coker, 200 plus tackle, and Dalton Byerly, 200 plus guard. Four defensive starters of last year will return. They are Larry Friday, back, and Jimmie Lineberger, Corder and Byerly, linemen. In other words, eight offensive starters and seven defensive starters are gone by graduation. Of the 23 boys playing in most Midland games in 1950, 19 were seniors. Twenty of the 42 boys of 1951 are juniors.

"You don't lose boys like Reed Gilmore, Jack Burris, L. C. Thomas, Charles Crowley, Jimmy O'Neil, Duane Bush, Bob Burks, Graham Mackey, Jerry Culp, Billy Medard, Bob Wood, Fred Underwood, Guy Vanderpool, Robert Melton, Billy Grissett, W. H. Black, Bill Spence, Glen Baker and David Laverty, and replace them immediately," Jones pointed out. "Last year's boys learned to work very well."

The Spring practice game in which the departing seniors licked the 1951 Bulldogs, rather soundly, showed coaches that the defense was weaker than the offense. Especially will the Bulldogs feel the loss of such key performers as Gilmore, quarterback, and O'Neil, center, along with all-district tackle, Bob Wood. And who will catch passes and block downfield like Bush? Who will prove a defensive gem like Medard? Who will show the fortitude against weight odds that Burks displayed?

Are Big Questions

Those are the 564 questions of the new season.

Capable Jimmie Lineberger has a big job ahead. The fine, 175-pound, end is being counted upon heavily for standout duty. But, a trick knee that hampered him last season must stand up for Lineberger.

He can be 20 per cent of our team," commented Jones.

If Jones had to start them tomorrow, offensively he would turn to Keisling and Lineberger, ends; Byerly and English, guards; Coker and Red Cast, tackles; Roberts, center; M. A. Rose or Ralph Brooks, tailback; Dick Spencer, fullback; Friday, blocking back; and Roy Kinsey, wingback.

The defense is another matter. The coaches will start working on it early.

Two Bulldogs with their early work cut out will be Friday and Spencer who may be plugged into the linebacker slots. Jones is a stickler for rough and rugged linebackers, as are Gill and Rutledge.

Not all of the football in Midland in 1951 will be played by the senior high performers. Not by a long shot. There will be game schedules for junior high and elementary teams.

Coach of the Bullpups, junior high) will be Don Powers and Dub Orr for the eighth grade and O. C. Penn for the seventh. Penn was moved up from South Elementary.

There will be tackling this season for all teams from the sixth grades up.

The elementary coaching lineup includes: Bob Milam at North Elementary; Dan Goodson at South Elementary; Ed Nixon at West Elementary; Elvin Kays at David Crockett; Robert Houston at Sam Houston; Tom Tibbetts at DeZavala; and Bobby Joe Jones at Terminal.

All of these coaches are carrying a full-time classroom teaching load along with their grid teaching.

All teams will be smartly uniformed.

Texans Take Oil Bowl Game, 20-6

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—A strong Oklahoma forward wall stopped all-star Texas backs, but the Texans flashed through the air to take their seventh consecutive Oil Bowl football game, 20-6.

The passing arm of Duane Nutt of Corsicana and the end sweeps of James Self of Wichita Falls added up the score Friday night.

Texas scored first in the second when Ray Howard of Childress took the ball from Oklahoma Quarter-back Buddy Foreman on the Sooner 44. In seven plays the Texan moved to the 23. Nutt passed to Ed Bernet of Highland Park (Dallas) for the score.

In the third quarter Oklahoma came back to score after a series of Texas fumbles. Max Boydston of Muskogee went over from the 12.

Texas scored again in 12 plays. Nutt picked up 17 yards and then pass for 33 more during a 66-yard drive. Frank Eldon of Fort Arthur scored from the one-yard line.

The Texans drove for a touchdown in the first four plays of the fourth quarter. Nutt's 44-yard pass to Self tallied.

Nutt was named the outstanding Texas back and Bernet the top lineman.

NE Mitchell Sector Is Site For 4,400-Foot Prospector

Eight miles northeast of Colorado City and in Northeast Mitchell County, Morty Freedman and Morris Jaffe-Truette spotted location for a 4,400-foot wildcat.

The project will be drilled as the No. 1 Chester Hart, 330 feet from south and 1,300 feet from west lines of section 21, O. Y. Williams survey.

The 4,400-foot destination should take the wildcat into the Wichita-Albany.

Drillite is 10 miles northwest of Lorine. Drilling is to be started by September 1.

Closest production to the wildcat is in the Sharon Ridge-1700 field seven miles to the west.

Mid-Continent To Final Ellenburger Opener In Callahan

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Blain Odum, Ellenburger discovery, in North-Central Callahan County is preparing to take potential test and complete.

This project had indicated the opening of a new field several days ago in a drillstem test of the section at 4,186-77 feet in the Ellenburger.

Operator then cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 4,186 feet. The plug was drilled out and the well kicked off and flowed an average of eight barrels of new oil per hour for an extended period.

The flow was natural, and was through a 15/64-inch tubing choke. There was no formation water. Shut in casing pressure was 800 pounds and flowing tubing pressure was 575 pounds.

Gravity of the oil was 42 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,470-1. Operator has now shut in the well. The official potential test will be taken early in the week.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 4,138 feet. That is on a datum of minus 2,304 feet. The zone between 4,138 and 4,186 feet apparently did not carry any signs of possible production.

The new field opener is 1,263 feet from west and 1,486 feet from south lines of the W. E. Pledger survey No. 229. It is 10 miles south of Baird.

Miami Is To Drill Ellenburger Tester In C-E Coke Area

Miami Operating Company of Abilene No. 1 R. G. Lewis is to be a 6,300-foot wildcat to test for production in the Ellenburger in Central-East Coke County, three and one-half miles south of Bronte and about two miles south of the Bronte field.

Operations are to start at once. Drillite is 690 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of Peter Prices survey No. 380.

It is on a deal worked up by Ralph O. Brown of Midland, and turned to Miami to drill.

Brown took a farmout from Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and Southern Minerals Corporation. He acquired some other leases in the adjoining area. He turned the deal to Miami to drill and retained an over ride.

More Pay, Water Found In Midland Offset Exploration

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 A. B. Harrington, one location west of a producing oil well in the Parks-Pennsylvanian field in North-West-Central Midland County found more oil pay and also found salt water in a drillstem test in the lower zone of the top Pennsylvanian pay section.

These shows came in a drillstem test at 10,580-581 feet. The tool was open two and one-half hours. Gas surfacted in seven minutes. No fluid came to the top while the test tool was open.

Recovery was 1,940 feet of free oil, 180 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, 900 feet of oil and gas cut salt water, 360 feet of salt water and 100 feet of drilling mud.

Operator is to drill ahead to the lower Pennsylvanian zone and test it.

This extension effort had flowed 14 barrels of clean oil in one hour through a 5/8th inch bottom hole choke in a 5/8th inch test in the top of the Pennsylvanian at 10,530-560 feet. There was no water in that test. Gravity of the oil was 44.3 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 2,014-1.

No. 1 Harrington is 348 feet low on the top of the Pennsylvanian at Magnolia No. 1 C. B. Haley, one location to the east, a completed Pennsylvanian producer.

Location is 690 feet from south and east lines of section 6, J. S. Daugherty survey, A-887. It is 10 miles southwest of the city of Midland.

Low To Oiler

Location is 1,318 feet from north and 902 feet from east lines of section 111, block 1, I&GN survey. That makes it 40 miles southwest of Ozona and in the extreme southwest corner of Crockett County.

In Southwest Corner

The drillite is two and one-quarter miles north of the Val Verde County line and two miles east of the Terrell County line.

Operator plans to drill the wildcat to 2,000 feet with cable tools and then move in rotary to go to 15,000 feet or a test of the Ellenburger at a lesser depth.

It is on a spread of approximately 10,000 acres in Crockett, Val Verde and Terrell Counties. The Sun acreage was secured from J. J. Perkins and Charles N. Prothro of Wichita Falls and W. J. and Howard W. Green of San Angelo.

On A Large Block

The 10,000 acre Sun has been checkerboarded through a block of 33,000 acres which was assembled for Perkins, Prothro and the Greens by John W. Hampton of Wichita Falls. Hampton took 10-year commercial leases on the spread and retained an interest in the property when he turned it to Prothro, Perkins and the Greens.

Drilling on No. 1 Mitchell is to start in the near future.

SW Glasscock Test To 7,200-Feet Is To Check Spraberry

Placid Oil Company No. 1 William Howard is to be a 7,200-foot wildcat to try for production in the Spraberry in Southwest Glasscock County.

The exploration will be 16 miles southwest of Garden City. It is set 660 feet from north and west lines of section 30, block 35, T-5-S, T&P survey.

That makes it four miles southeast of the Paul P. Barnhart No. 1 Bigby, recently completed Spraberry discovery.

Drilling on the Placid prospector is to start in the near future.

Dickens Prospector Has No Oil On Test

Placid Oil Company No. 1 Goetz West-Central Dickens County wildcat, five miles west of the town of Dickens is making hole below 6,748 feet in shale with streaks of lime.

This wildcat ran a one-hour drillstem test at 6,548-96 feet in an unidentified lime zone.

The tool was open one hour. Recovery was 10 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or formation water.

The interval covered by the investigation had logged some spotted fluorescence and some slight oil stains.

May Go To Ellenburger

Location is 690 feet from north and east lines of section 9, AB&M survey. The wildcat is projected to 8,500 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger—unless it develops production before reaching that horizon.

This wildcat is being drilled as a result of a deal worked up by Francis H. Miller, independent oil operator of Midland.

He blocked a large spread of acreage in the region around the prospector and then secured some financial contributions for the drilling of

Six Oilers, Four Sites Reported In Spraberry Trend

Six more oilers and four new prospectors were reported Saturday for the Spraberry Trend areas of Midland, Reagan, Glasscock and Upton Counties.

In the North Pembroke field of Northeast Upton County, Ashland Oil & Refining Company No. 3-42 Wilkins was finalized for a daily flowing potential of 123 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil and no water through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 6,977-7,124 feet.

That section was treated with 4,500 gallons of Hydracrac.

Location is 1,995 feet from south and 1,968 feet from west lines of section 42, block 37, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Pembroke Field

On the southwest side of the Pembroke field of East-Central Upton County, Ashland No. 3 Beal-Russell was finalized for a daily flowing potential of 131 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil through a 24/64-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 6,897 feet and 6,990 feet. That interval was treated with 4,500 gallons of Hydracrac.

Location is 1,975 feet from south and 1,650 feet from west lines of

Continental Oil Company No. 1 Rodgers, wildcat in Northwest Yoakum County and indicated discovery from the Devonian, is drilling below 12,230 feet after recovering sulphur water on a drillstem test from 12,178 to 12,230 feet.

Tool was open two hours. A good show of air was at the surface throughout the test.

Recovery was 540 feet of muddy brackish sulphur water and 2,890 feet of black, brackish sulphur water.

This prospector indicated as a discovery in drillstem tests of the Devonian above 12,178 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 106, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Complete Spraberry Story Published in Oil & Gas Journal

The Spraberry Trend play in the Midland Basin portion of the West Texas Permian basin is the most active area in the United States to date," according to a complete story on the Spraberry Trend authored by J. H. (Jerry) Bartley and printed in the August 16 edition of the Oil & Gas Journal.

Bartley, Midland consulting geologist, tells the history of the Spraberry play beginning with its discovery in Dawson County and gives a complete description of the Spraberry sandstones and the present known areal extent of the sands.

Accompanying the eight page story is a map of the producing areas, a cross section of the sandstones, pictures of electric logs and a table showing number of completed producers, method of completion, potentials, allowable, etc.

The story includes description of oil traps in the Spraberry, different pay sections of the trend, completion and drilling procedures, logging practices in the sands and an estimate of the amount of oil that may be recovered per acre-foot.

Magnolia Reports Division Changes

The advancement of four men in the exploration division and one in the producing division was announced by Magnolia Petroleum Company. They will be effective September 1.

Edward C. Cram has been appointed assistant to the coordinator of domestic production for Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc. He will be transferred to the general offices of Socony-Vacuum in New York. Cram has been regional geologist in charge of development for Magnolia in Dallas since 1948.

Before that time he spent five years as a geologist for Socony-Vacuum in Colombia and Venezuela and later served as geologist at Jackson, Miss. and Shreveport, La. for Magnolia.

Wayne R. Hammond, who has been an assistant geologist in Dallas for the past year and a half and before that a geologist in the company's Midland offices, will succeed Ed Cram as Magnolia's development geologist. C. I. Alexander is to be transferred to Dallas as regional exploration geologist. Alexander has been district geologist in charge of the company's San Antonio offices.

Kenneth F. Keller is being transferred from the San Antonio district and promoted to district geologist in charge of the Shreveport district.

In the producing division, Howard M. Walker is being advanced to assistant general superintendent with headquarters in Dallas. Walker has been assistant superintendent of the company's Gulf Coast Division at Houston.

Colombia Assumes Ownership Of Vast Oil Producing Area

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA — Representatives of the government and the Tropical Oil Company gathered Saturday at the Magdalena River Oil town of Barranca Bermeja to transfer control of the famous De Mares Oil Concession.

In the midnight ceremony, Colombia was scheduled to repossess 1,235,000 acres which has been producing 38,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

On hand for the ceremony are L. P. Maier, president of the International Petroleum Corporation of Toronto, Canada; E. C. Borrego, manager of Tropical Oil Company; Manuel Carvajal, Colombian development minister; Luis Emilio Sardi, head of Empresa Colombiana de Petroleos, and hundreds of invited guests.

Tropical, subsidiary of International which in turn is an affiliate of Standard Oil Company of (New Jersey) is relinquishing the De Mares concession after 30 years.

The concession will be exploited by Empresa Colombiana de Petroleos, a government company. Actual operation of the fields and refinery will be done under lease by International's newly established subsidiary, International Petroleum of Colombia, Ltd.

The value of the refinery and other installations built for the De Mares area by Tropical is estimated at $28,000,000. During the 30-year concession the government received about $20,000,000 in royalties.

Jones Is To Open First Session Of TM-CO&G Meet

DALLAS — W. Alton Jones, President of Cities Service Company and Chairman of the American Petroleum Institute, will address the opening session of the Texas Midland-CO&G Meet.

The new mill will produce electric welded thin wall API line pipe in sizes ranging from 4 1/2 to 8 5/8 inches diameters for use in oil and gas transmission and distribution lines.

Existing facilities in the plant for the production of light weight pipe in sizes ranging from four to 12 inches for use in irrigation and water pipe lines will be retained.

McCormick Is Being Moved To New MPC Job

R. L. McCormick, who has been a representative in Midland of the crude oil purchases and sales department of Magnolia Petroleum Company for several years, has been transferred to Wichita Falls.

In his new location McCormick will be in charge of Magnolia's crude oil purchases and sales work for the Abilene, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma areas.

He will take the place formerly filled by W. A. Wall, Jr., who has been promoted to a job in Magnolia's headquarters office at Dallas.

Pan American Gives Pipe Line Outlet To Huldale Oil Wells

Pan American Pipe Line Company, Houston, has completed an outlet for the Huldale-Pennsylvania pool of Schleicher County, where 14 producers have been completed.

The outlet, known as the Huldale Gathering System, consists of approximately four miles of six-inch line and six miles of four-inch laterals. The crude oil will be delivered to the Republic Pipe Line Company, which serves the North Huldale pool.

Rail Board Names District 8 Fields

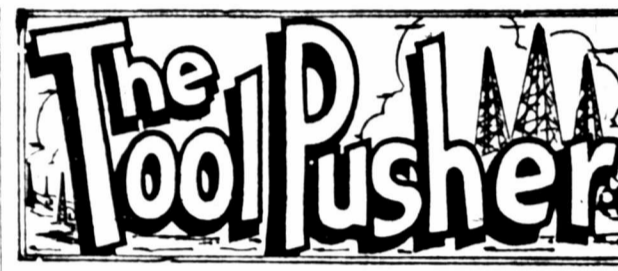

The Railroad Commission of Texas officially has named three new fields in District 8.

In Southwest Martin County, Gulf Oil Corporation's No. 2-B Glass has been named the discovery well of the Glass-Pennsylvanian pool.

Moore Exploration Company No. 1 Bauman is the opener of the Bauman-Pennsylvanian field in Northeast-Central Midland County.

In Pecos County the pool opened by Wood River Oil & Refining Company has been named Abell, Southeast-Clear Fork field. The discovery well is the concern's No. 2-A J. Williams.

Black exhaust smoke, sooty spark plug bases and insulators, dirty exhaust pipes, all may be symptoms of improper carburetion. In extreme cases, spark plug fouling and excessive deposits in the crankcase oil and on the filter also may spring from this cause.

CWSC To Install Electric Weld Pipe Mill In Berkeley

SAN FRANCISCO — A new electric weld pipe mill will be installed in the Berkeley plant of Consolidated Western Steel Corporation, it was announced Saturday by Alden G. Roach, president of this U. S. steel subsidiary.

The new mill will produce electric welded thin wall API line pipe in sizes ranging from 4 1/2 to 8 5/8 inches diameters for use in oil and gas transmission and distribution lines.

Existing facilities in the plant for the production of light weight pipe in sizes ranging from four to 12 inches for use in irrigation and water pipe lines will be retained.

Wimberly Will Be TIPRO Speaker

AUSTIN — Harrington Wimberly, member of the Federal Power Commission, will be the dinner speaker at the mid-year Directors Meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association in Tyler September 28.

A primary objective of the meeting, to be attended by some 200 TIPRO directors from every part of Texas, will be the formulation of a program designed to promote conservation of natural gas on a basis similar to that of oil.

"We feel it especially appropriate," said TIPRO Executive Vice President E. I. Thompson, "to have Commissioner Wimberly at this particular meeting. As a public administrator, he has earned the tribute of gas independents for his unflinching adherence to the principles of sound government."

TIPRO was born fighting attempts to extend federal jurisdiction over independent gas producers in direct violation of the Natural Gas Act of 1938. Commissioner Wimberly consistently has resisted efforts of some political pressure groups to force this unwarranted extension of FPC powers.

Sunray Announces Realignment Plans

This district will be established September 1, and will be headquartered in the Mills Building, Big Spring.

Delay Foreseen In Interior's Proposed Coal-To-Oil Project

WASHINGTON — A six-month delay, at least, should be in Interior Department plans to launch a $485,000,000 commercial-scale coal-to-oil industry.

W. C. Schroeder, synthetic liquid fuels expert of the department, told House Commerce Committee members last week in a closed session, preliminary paper work would take that long.

This includes justifying the project to the Defense Production Administration and other agencies, and signing contracts with industry to build and operate the facilities.

The DPA is being asked to finance the project by purchase contracts over a long period.

A further delay shapes up, however, in Schroeder's promise to committee members to hold up action until further consultation with committee members "before anything irrevocable" is done.

Before approval of the committee is forthcoming, a stronger case must be made, it is apparent. Representative John Heston (R-Mass.), who asked many questions in the executive session, told this reporter afterwards:

"There is sufficient difference of opinion as to the economic soundness of the coal hydrogenation process that I feel there should be much more careful study. I want to hear from industry before giving my approval, and this includes not only oil, coal and shale interests, but chemicals since the facilities are to produce toluene, benzol and other chemicals."

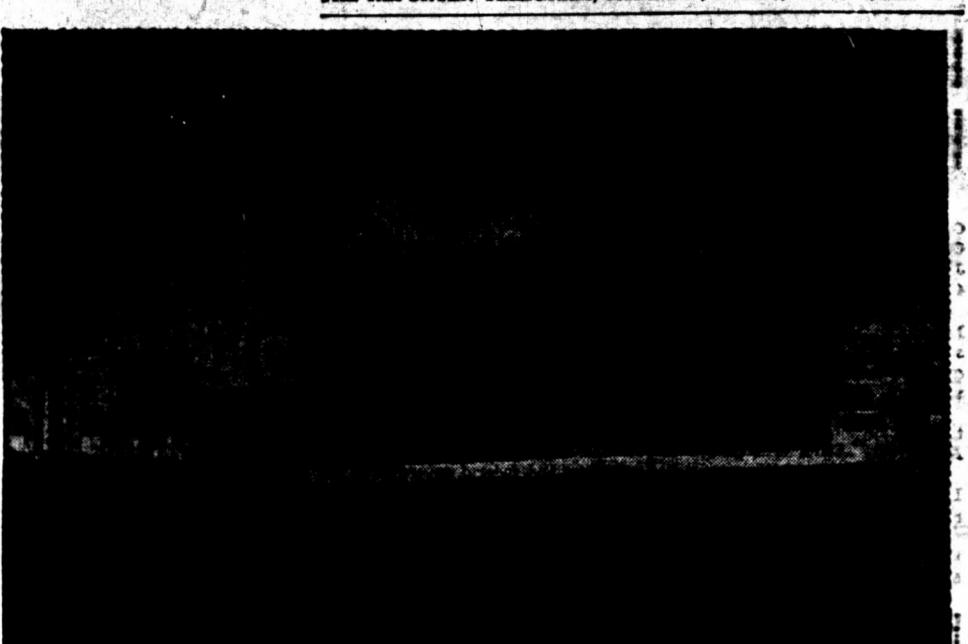

Await Major Studies

"I believe the government should await the completion of two major studies on the subject, one being conducted by the National Petroleum Council at the request of the Secretary of Interior, on the cost of producing petroleum by synthetic methods; the other by the U. S. Corps of Engineers on the synthetic petroleum potentials of coal regions, a study under way for years, which is to be completed in two months."

The Interior Department is proposing a 30,000 barrel daily coal hydrogenation plant to cost about $400,000,000, and to be located, probably in Southern Illinois. Other sites under study include West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana. It also proposes an 11,000 barrel daily oil shale plant to cost about $5,000,000, and to be located in the West. Interior says it has the authority for this in the Defense Production Act.

The Interior plan, which has been sent to the Defense Production Administration, was disclosed after Dr. James Boyd was displaced as head of the Defense Minerals Administration. It was disclosed this was partly, at least, because he had urged a "go slow" policy on synthetic fuels.

While he continues as head of the Bureau of Mines, his resignation may be coming, in which place, Schroeder would take his post.

NEW, MODERN MACHINE SHOP—The Baash-Ross Tool Company will open its new plant, one of the largest and most modern machine shops in the Southwest, September 1. It is located a mile north of Odessa on the Andrews Highway.

Twenty pieces of machine tools will be available for general oil field, refinery and gas plant repair work. The opening of the plant coincides with the firm's thirty-third anniversary. The company's district officials include L. L. Garren, manager; Phil Gibson, sales manager; Carl Prichard, service manager, and Gordon Ford, plant superintendent.

TEXAS OIL ROUNDUP—Some States Still Reap Wealth From Tidelands

AUSTIN — Some coastal states still are reaping rich cash crops of oil and other Tidelands resources for themselves while such oil income from Texas, Louisiana and California now goes to the federal Treasury.

The situation was spotlighted when Mississippi announced Tuesday that the Gulf Refining Company, and the Mebbin Oil Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., have leased 800,000 acres of its Tidelands and guaranteed to drill within a year.

The Mississippi leases run for five years. The state will get $50,000 the first year, $80,000 each year thereafter and one-eighth royalty on all oil.

The Mississippi Tidelands deal brought a new growl of "discrimination" from Texas' stocky, hard-hitting attorney general, Price Daniel.

Against U. S. Government

Daniel's complaint is against the federal government, not Mississippi. The essence of it is that if Mississippi can collect on its Tidelands oil leases, so should Texas, Louisiana and California.

Tidelands oil income totalling millions a year from California, Louisiana and Texas now is pouring into the federal Treasury as the result of the two U. S. Supreme Court decisions asserting that the United States has paramount rights to Tidelands minerals.

The rule of law stated in those decisions applies to the 21 other coastal states, but they have not been sued. They can not be enjoined from managing their marginal belted lands and collecting revenue from them unless and until the federal government files suits and gets judgments against them as it did against Texas, California and Louisiana, Daniel said.

That's why Mississippi can continue to make state leases and collect cash from its tidelands, while next-door Louisiana and nearby Texas cannot.

From Kelp Beds

Daniel noted that Maine receives substantial income from rich tidelands kelp beds; Florida from mineral leases and sponges; Connecticut, Delaware, Rhode Island and Maryland sell leases for shellfish cultivation the same way that Texas—before the Tidelands decision—sold oil leases for the benefit of its public schools.

Texas' attorney general wants those states and others to go right on collecting from such resources, but he also wants Texas, Louisiana and California marked back in on oil revenue.

Daniel spearheaded Texas' defense against the federal suit for its Tidelands in the Supreme Court and lost by a narrow margin.

Now Texas, Louisiana and other coastal states have taken the fight to Congress. They want not only to restore the lost oil revenues, but to guarantee state ownership of navigable waters and submerged lands within their boundaries. They are plugging for legislation to that effect now pending in Congress.

Bill Passes House

A bill confirming the title claimed by the states in such territory, by Rep. Walter (D-Pa) has passed the House and the struggle has shifted to the Senate. Any such legislation faces the positive threat of a veto by President Truman.

For oil and gas alone, the stake is a big one.

Off California there are 13,000 acres of Tidelands under lease, with 500 wells producing 15 million barrels of oil a year. Since June, 1947, the royalty income has totaled $36,000,000.

Louisiana has 64 oil wells producing from submerged coastal lands with an average daily production of 12,439 barrels. The state's revenue

Louisiana Expected To Join Texas In Hiking Crude Flow

WASHINGTON — Federal officials expect Louisiana to join Texas in increasing oil production to help offset a deficiency in the world oil market caused by the shutdown of the Anglo-Iranian company's big Abadan Refinery in Iran.

Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) officials urged the states to increase their production allowances. They want U.S. stocks kept in strong position to help offset the shutdown.

While a few companies have taken advantage of the agency's recent offer to support requests for increased allowances by states, officials say there seems to be some reluctance by producers to ask a production step-up.

"Some oil companies apparently take the position that we are overstocked at this time and they don't want to see stocks too high," one official said.

Stocks are staying fairly high now despite the increased foreign demand of the last few weeks. The agency expects a decline in the stock levels will begin to show up shortly if Iranian oil does not begin flowing in the market again soon.

"But," said the official, "we could go on for three months at least before we got into a tight stock situation. The forecasts are that there will be no rationing of gasoline or heating oils this Winter. But we don't know yet about next Spring."

New Mexico Land Sale Is Scheduled

The commissioner of Public Lands for New Mexico will hold the September sale of oil and gas leases on New Mexico lands in his office in the Capitol Building, Santa Fe, September 10.

Sealed bids will be received at his office up till 10 a.m. on September 10.

Oral bidding will be made on land in four tracts on the same day.

The National Geographic Society says fish account for about 95 percent of Iceland's exports.

from such oil lands has totalled $43,166,842 since August, 1945.

Texas has just Four Tidelands wells, but exploration is active. The total of all receipts from the Gulf producing area has been $9,366,067 and Texas officials have figured the potential revenue was better than 100 million dollars.

Washington Oil— Federal Power Commission Issues Majority Report In Phillips Petroleum Case

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Federal Power Commission formally stated last week something the natural gas industry and states officials long have known:

The higher the price of natural gas, the greater, in general, the degree of conservation of that gas.

"There is a direct relation between price and conservation," said the commission in a majority report in the case of the Phillips Petroleum Company.

"For the higher the profit, the longer it is economical to operate the well. And to the extent that the producer could obtain a profit higher than that permissible under our maximum-price regulation, the longer abandonment would be postponed. . . the easier it becomes for the state to discourage flaring of gas and to encourage the gathering and marketing of that gas."

1951 Directory Of Geologists Now Available

The 1951 issue of the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico Geological Directory is being distributed.

Members of the West Texas Geological Society, sponsors of the directory, have already received their copies. Other persons, firms and companies desiring copies of the book may secure them from J. H. Bratley, 206 East Wall Street in Midland.

The directories are to be sold for 50 cents per copy. All money from the sale of the books goes to the WTGS to carry on various activities of that organization.

The listings in the directory were compiled by the Membership and Directory Committee of the West Texas Geological Society.

C. H. Atchison is chairman of that group. Other members of the committee are Donald Bell, R. S. Borgardus, William S. Caldwell, Jay Crawford, C. R. Grice, J. W. Harp, Alan B. Leeper, Hugh M. Looney, John V. Norman and Robert C. Senning.

Sale of the directories is being handled by the Sale of Publications Committee of which Bratley is chairman. J. W. Skrabarek is the other member of that committee.

Schlumberger Well Surveying Corporation paid the cost of printing the directory. That concern has paid for the directories ever since the WTGS started compiling and issuing them.

Lists Contained

The book contains a listing of all oil companies and independent oil operators in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico who employ geologists. Under the name of each company is given the name of all geologists who work for that concern.

Another section of the book lists all geologists in alphabetical order, giving their company or other affiliations and their business telephones.

All independent geologists of the Permian Basin are also listed in both sections of the directory.

Representatives of WTGS society reveal that the telephone numbers in the directory for Texas Gulf Producing Company and the Ralph Lowe offices are incorrect. They suggest to all users of the directory that they write the correct telephone numbers of those two offices in their books before using them.

Roberts Quits Gulf; Is To Join Hamill's Staff In Midland

D. G. (Donkey) Roberts has resigned from his long-time job in the Midland zone land department of Gulf Oil Corporation and is to go to work for Claude B. Hamill on September 7.

In his new job Roberts will do land work in West Texas for Hamill. He will work with Robert Doyle, Permian Basin manager for Hamill, who also heads the geological department of that operator's district office in Midland.

Roberts has been doing land work for Gulf for several years. Prior to being put on that assignment he did scouting.

CSOC Opens New Roswell Land Office

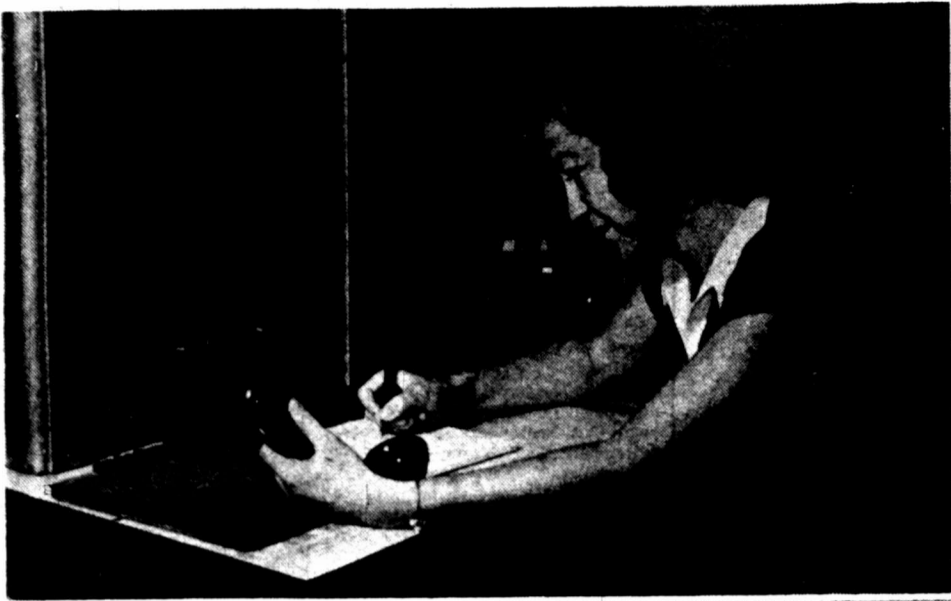

A new land-geological district office has been opened by Cities Service at Roswell with operations area to cover all of the state except that included in the San Juan Basin.

Raymond S. Hunt has been named district geologist, with E. Reed Holter as geological assistant. J. Emmett Williams is the new district landman.

Temporary offices are located at 27 East Third Street in Roswell. Permanent offices will be in a new building scheduled for completion within a year.

LANCER DIES OF POLIO

ABILENE—(P)—John M. McPadgett, 27, Clairmont rancher and Kent county commissioner, died of polio here Saturday.

RELAY RADIO —

Messages go out from Mrs. Nannett Luker, top, in Humble's Snyder district production office and are picked up and relayed through a 250-watt transmitter over the 300-foot tower at Sharon Ridge, right, to drilling rigs and production areas in the district. The message spoken into the telephone-microphone in Mrs. Luker's right hand goes out over a 50-watt transmitter to the receiver at Sharon Ridge.

Humble Speeds Up Messages Between Rigs And Offices

Communications between Humble Oil & Refining Company's Snyder production office and the various drilling rigs and production areas of the district are now being expedited by an automatic relay radio station.

The station is the first of its kind in Humble's operations. The 300-foot transmitting tower needed to cover the district could not be erected at the office in Snyder because it was too near an airport. Humble's communications engineers placed the tower at Sharon Ridge, 10 miles away, and installed automatic radio receiving and transmitting relays.

When a message is spoken into the telephone-microphone in the Snyder office, it goes out over a 50-watt transmitter to the receiver at Sharon Ridge. There it is picked up automatically and relayed through a 250-watt transmitter over the 300-foot tower.

Skelly Is To Drill 8,500-Foot Tester In SE Lea Sector

HOBBES, N. M.—Four miles north and slightly east of Skelly Oil Company, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware and J. C. Maxwell, Inc., of Fort Worth No. 1-J Mexico, flowing discovery from the Ellenburger in Southeast Lea County, Skelly spotted location for its No. 1-

M Mexico, which is to be drilled as an 8,500-foot wildcat. Drillsite is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 9-24s-38e.

The same operator spotted location for its No. 1-A Ginsberg which is to be drilled as a one and one-quarter miles southwest outpost to

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

(Continued From Page Seven) was used. Recovery was the water blanket very slightly cut with oil and 7,200 feet of slightly gas-cut salt water.

Operator probably will run pipe and complete the project as a flowing discovery from the Devonian. Discovery production was indicated on a drillstem test from 11,240 to 11,270 feet. Tool was open five hours and 45 minutes. Water blanket surfaced in one hour and 17 minutes and oil was at the top in one hour and 42 minutes. It flowed 186.21 barrels of 42.3-gravity oil in four hours. Gas-oil ratio was 17-1.

The Devonian was topped at 11,240 feet, elevation 4,364 feet. Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14-12s-32e and 20 miles west of Tatum.

The need for legislative action still is held to exist, although there is no disposition to try it at this time. In the event the high court rules for the power commission, a law might be sought to give the court's finding a permanent character. Next, an appeal to the court rules again the commission, a law will be sought to definitely free independent producers from control by the commission.

A study of costs of producing crude oil, that may pry loose upward revisions in ceiling prices, is to be completed by October 22, according to Russell B. Brown, counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

E. Carl Matern of Dallas, director of District Three of the Oil Workers International Union, has been chosen as "intermittent consultant" to the Petroleum Administration for Defense.

The move is in line with White House-level arrangements recently to bring in organized labor to the defense effort. PAD is one of the last agencies to fall into line. O. A. Knight, president of the oil union, is in charge of labor requirements of the National Production Authority.

A comprehensive oil transportation study has been completed, and is to be released as soon as PAD gets security-conscious officials to consent. It will call for laying of 4,400 miles of product pipe lines, and 6,500 miles of crude lines, and 1,000 miles of crude line extensions by the end of 1952.

Upton Benedum Pool Gets New Explorer

A. J. Slagter, Jr., of Evansville, Ind., has staked location for an 8,000-foot Spraberry project on the east side of the Benedum-multipay field of Central-East Upton County. The exploration will be drilled one-half mile east of the nearest Spraberry producer in the field.

It will be dug as his No. 1 Rosa H. Barnett and others 660 feet from north and west lines of section 41, block Y, TC survey.

Runnels Pool Gets Outpost Exploration

A three-quarter mile northeast outpost to the Patsy-Swaatika field in Runnels County has been staked by Paul C. Teas and others of Dallas.

The three test will be drilled to possible bottoms of 7,400 feet with rotary and will be in section 22, block UV, GC&SF survey.

No. 4-A J. M. Shannon, one-half mile southwest of the field will be 668 feet from south and 2,068 feet from west lines of the section; No. 5-A Shannon, one-half mile northwest of the opener of the field will be 2,003 feet from north and 2,068 feet from west lines of the section; No. 6-A Shannon, one-half mile southeast of the discovery will be 668 feet from south and 680 feet from east lines of the section.

Humble Is To Plug Back In Lynn Test

Humble Oil & Refining Company has given up attempts to complete its No. 1 Thomas as a producer from the Mississippian in Southwest Lynn County.

Extended swabbing tests were made in that formation on perforations from 10,710 to 10,750 feet, 10,990 to 10,910 feet and 10,896 to 10,914 feet.

The Ellenburger and Devonian also failed to produce. Operator will now plug back to around 8,000 feet and test through perforations opposite the Spraberry where some shows for production developed on drillstem tests when that formation was drilled.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 35, block H, HL&RR survey and 10 miles northwest of O'Donnell.

Three Stepouts Are Staked In Crockett

Continental Oil Company has filed applications for permits to drill three one-half miles outposts to the opener of the Elkhorn Ellenburger field of Crockett County.

The three test will be drilled to possible bottoms of 7,400 feet with rotary and will be in section 22, block UV, GC&SF survey.

No. 4-A J. M. Shannon, one-half mile southwest of the field will be 668 feet from south and 2,068 feet from west lines of the section; No. 5-A Shannon, one-half mile northwest of the opener of the field will be 2,003 feet from north and 2,068 feet from west lines of the section; No. 6-A Shannon, one-half mile southeast of the discovery will be 668 feet from south and 680 feet from east lines of the section.

John Williams of Odessa oil field worker, was given emergency treatment Friday at Western Clinic Hospital for a fractured finger suffered when tubing fell on his hand.

Outpost Scheduled In NE Yoakum Area

Cabot Carbon Company No. 1-B Wortham and others is to be drilled as a one-mile south and slightly west outpost to York & Harper No.

Prospective Home-Builders . . .
Building Regulations
Will Affect You!

Beginning October 1

Order M-4A of the National Production Authority is the new rule book of the building industry after September. Under this order, no person may commence ANY TYPE of construction which requires more than two tons of carbon steel, 200 pounds of copper, or ANY quantity of aluminum, alloy steel or stainless steel without authorization and allotment of materials. NO RESIDENCE may contain more than 1,800 pounds of basic steel shapes, 35 pounds of copper or any aluminum. If copper instead of steel pipe is used for hot and cold water systems, the steel allotment will be cut to 1,450 pounds, and the amount of copper increased to 160 pounds. The first report by the National Production Authority allotting 60 pounds of copper in this case was a typographical error. No limitations have been placed on the size of each house, or on the number of houses that can be started; all restrictions apply only to certain critical materials used. In brief, after September, your builder will face an increasingly difficult job in building the kind of home you want and deserve.

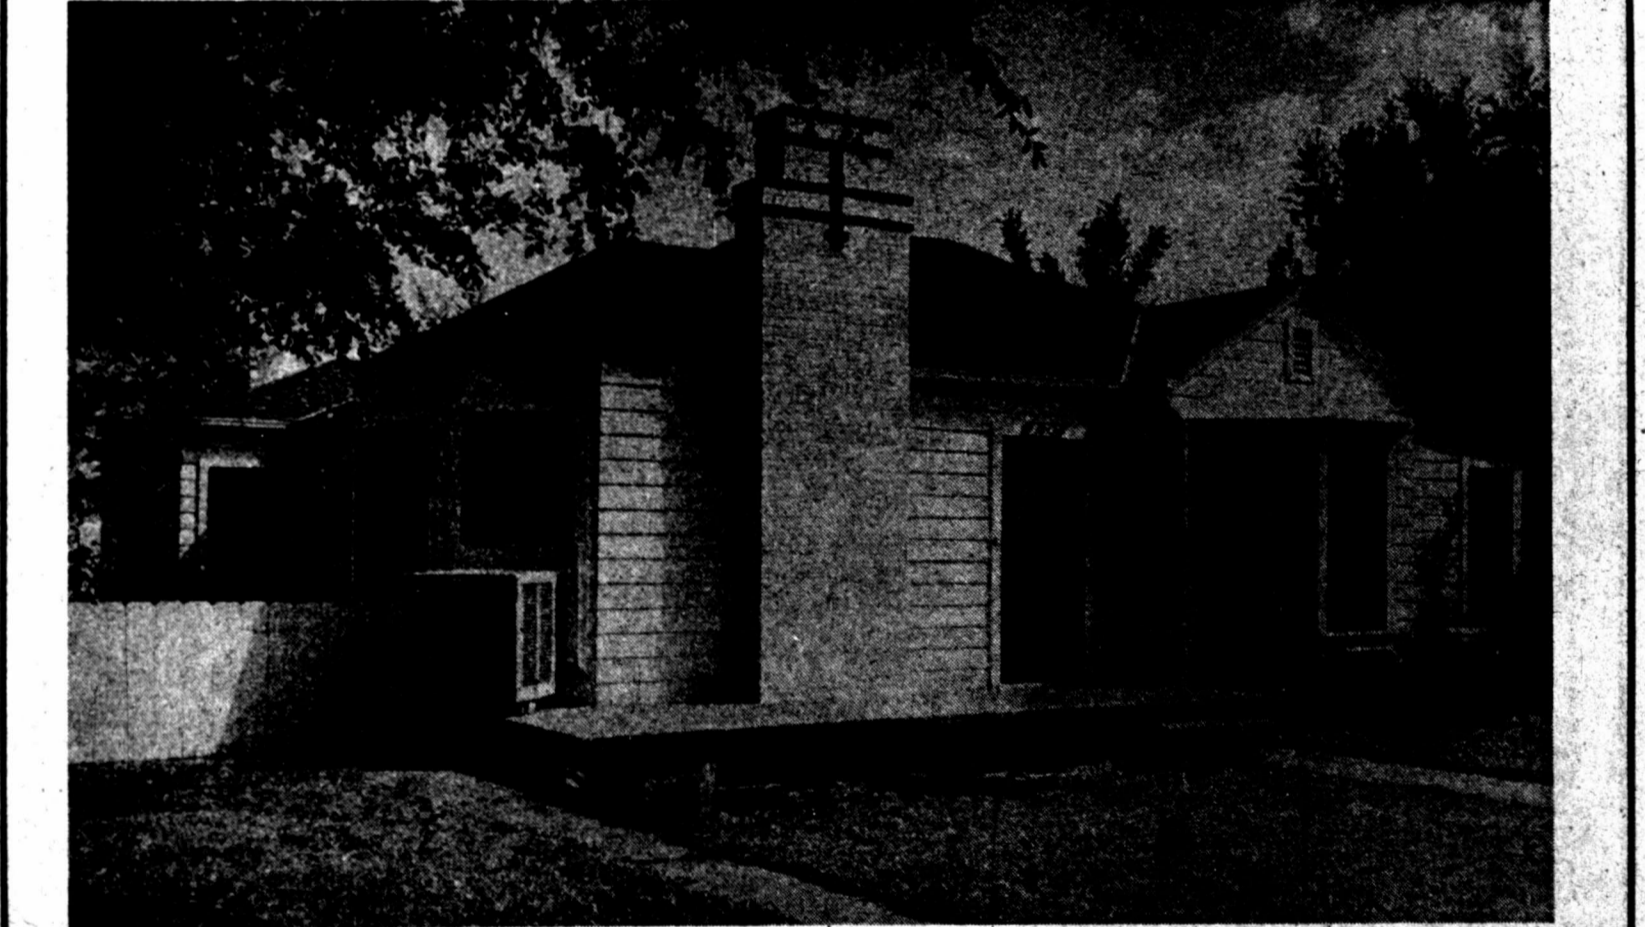

As Of Now

We can build the kind of home you desire . . . using the best of materials, at the lowest possible price. If you are considering building a home in the near future, why not call us or drop by the office and get the complete story of building restrictions . . . and how they will affect YOU and YOUR HOME. If your new home is begun by the end of September, WE CAN DO A BETTER JOB FOR YOU!

C. Of C. Proposal To Air Grid Games Gets Good Response

proposal of the Chamber of Commerce again this year to sponsor the radio broadcasts of Midland High School football games as a civic endeavor, is meeting with excellent response. Delbert Downing, C. of C. manager, announced Saturday. A similar program last year proved successful, attracting the attention of other Texas chambers of commerce.

The project would be financed by contributions from business firms, individuals, organizations and other friends of the MHS Bulldogs. Both home and road games would be broadcast.

Excellent Response
Letters went out last week to persons who helped finance last year's program, and Downing said the response to date has been excellent. Favorable replies have been received from 40 firms and individuals, while only two have rejected the proposal, Downing said. He added that the response through Saturday guarantees the broadcast of at least the first five games of the 10 game schedule.

The chamber this week will send out invitations to firms not previously contacted to join in the program.

The play-by-play broadcasts will be handled by Downing. Under the arrangement, the time usually devoted to sponsor's commercials will be used to publicize Ever-Growing Midland and its position of importance in the Permian Basin Empire.

Presbyterians To Form Liberal Arts College In Japan

SHERMAN —(P)—Using Austin College of Sherman as an example, American Presbyterians are organizing a liberal arts school in Japan.

Dr. George L. Landolt, professor at Austin College and former vice president, will help organize the school. As a specialist in men's education, he will be on loan to the Presbyterian U. S. Board of World Missions. The school will be called Shikoku College and will be located at Zentsuji, Japan.

Dr. Landolt expects to leave San Francisco on September 20 for Kobe, Zentsuji, a town about the size of Sherman, is in South Japan on a 75x150-mile island that has a population of more than four million. There the mission board bought and converted an old cavalry camp, set up the school last year and hopes to carry on the work of christianizing the people.

From the Presbyterian Program of Progress, an allotment of $800,000 has been made to Shikoku College.

"The mission board feels that the only approach to christianization of this people is through training laymen as well as ministers," said Dr. Landolt. "That is the primary purpose for which the new college, the only one on the island, is being developed."

Aly, Rita Arrive At Lawsuit Stage

HOLLYWOOD —(P)—Rita Hayworth and her lawyer mapped divorce plans Saturday against Aly Khan.

The actress wanted a $3,000,000 trust fund for the child—the same as the Moslem prince settled on each of his two sons by a previous marriage. Aly Khan is reported to have offered only $8,000 a year support for the daughter.

'Mail's Here' Is Magic Phrase For Midland Service Wives

SERVICE MAN'S WIFE—Receiving a letter from her soldier husband makes any day a red-letter day for Mrs. Richard H. Patton. On one of these lucky days, Mrs. Patton has a smile for everyone. She isn't wasting any time, either, in reading her husband's latest message. Private Patton, who joined the Army five months ago, now is stationed at Fort Sill near Lawton, Okla. Mrs. Patton is employed in Midland by James H. Snowden.

Mail call long has been considered one of the most important aspects of a service man's life. Whether he is stationed in a remote wilderness outpost or merely a few miles from his home town makes no difference. A letter or package from home always is a morale booster.

Nobody has ever bothered to prove statistically the value of mail to these same service men's wives, but it's a pretty safe bet that they think it's important, too.

Midland service wives, at any rate, agree that "the mail must go through."

It was the same story for most of them. When their husbands joined or were recalled into the service, a drastic change took place. The ex-civilians—now soldiers, sailors, Marines or members of the Air Force—were assigned to far away bases and letters were the only means by which husbands and wives could keep in contact.

"I don't suppose I'd ever more than glanced at my mail-box before," one wife said. "Now, I practically camp by it."

Not only do they believe in receiving mail, but they also manage to send out an amazing quantity of it.

As one of them said, "By the amount of stationery I use, you'd think I was writing a novel."

A letter a day is the motto adopted by most service wives. And even on their busiest days they keep their records clear.

Packages also are sent with unfailing regularity, particularly by the wives whose husbands are serving overseas. In exchange, many of the wives have received beautiful gifts, representative of the part of the world in which their husbands are stationed.

Several of the wives plan to use these presents as the basis of future Japanese or European-style rooms in their homes.

GOOD NEWS—The telephone suddenly has become the most important object in the house for Mrs. Burvin Hines. Mrs. Hines is one of the more fortunate service men's wives who expect their husbands home in the near future. In the meantime — well, that telephone could bring the word at almost any time. Corporal Hines, who is stationed with the Army at Baltimore, Md., is scheduled to return to Midland early in September.

LETTER FOR A SAILOR—Writing a letter to her favorite service man is a nightly ritual for Mrs. Claude M. Gray, but, like most service wives, she sometimes is stuck for news. Here she finds "something to write about" by studying her husband's latest letter. Gray, following his enlistment in the U. S. Navy, was sent to San Diego, Calif., where he now is stationed. Mrs. Gray is employed in Midland by Shell Oil Company.

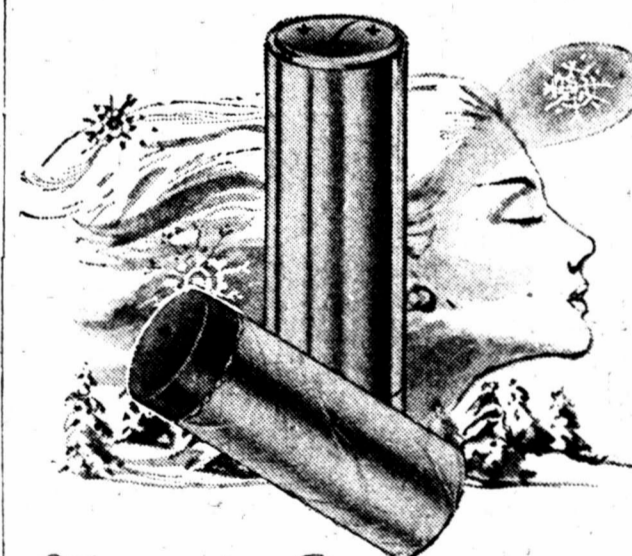

OVERSEAS PACKAGE — There's nothing like a package from home to boost a service man's morale. At least, that's what Mrs. Jimmy Weldon Parks has in mind as she packs a box to be sent to her husband overseas. Corporal Parks, a member of the U. S. Marine Corps, now is serving at Inje, Korea. Mrs. Parks recently was graduated from Wichita Falls High School. She returned to Midland several days ago to live with her mother, Mrs. Gerald D. Fuller.

DEAR POSTMAN—Mrs. S. M. Hedrick, 315 Pecan Street, drops a letter in the box for her husband, Sergeant Hedrick, who is stationed with the infantry in Germany.

GIFTS FROM FAR EAST—Mrs. Herbert S. Harris, 1121 North Colorado Street, and her children, Herbert III and Carol, display some of the gifts which Captain Harris has mailed to them from Japan. Mrs. Harris is holding one of several Japanese prints which her husband has sent, while Carol demonstrates the proper method of holding her fan. The children's richly-colored jackets also are gifts from their father.

City-Wide Youth Rally Set Thursday In Midland Church

The youth of Midland, representing the city's various churches, are sponsoring a Youth Rally to be held at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church.

The purpose of the rally, sponsors said, is to show that the youth of the various Protestant churches have an underlying unity and that strength can come through fellowship with other groups through Jesus Christ.

A covered dish supper is planned under the supervision of the youth of the First Methodist Church. The youth of the First Presbyterian Church will be in charge of the recreation program which will follow the picnic supper.

Devotional Planned
A sing-song, led by the Rev. Clyde Lindsay, is being arranged by the youth of the First Christian Church. Fun songs will be followed by spiritual hymns leading into a devotional period, which will be in charge of ministerial students from the various churches.

"Serving Christ Together" will be the theme of the devotional program. Bill Wolf of the First Methodist Church will be the principal speaker.

A near capacity attendance is expected. Judge a young ready-dressed go-go, or goosing, for his tenderness by his pliable bill, his easily-dented windpipe and his flexible breastbone. Oven-roasting is the best cooking method for this tender fowl.

TIME FOR AN Edwards SIZE-CHECK

Brother and sister are growing so fast it's hard to keep them in clothes. Clothes will stretch a bit, but remember, mother, their shoes can't stretch. And outgrown shoes can cause permanent damage to soft bones and muscles. Play safe and let us check their shoe sizes often. When a size change is indicated, we suggest famous Edwards shoes and our own fitting skill as the best safeguard for your child's feet.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Look Out!

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, once went to the picture show with the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. An old hound dog with droopy cheeks is the one who sat in the ticket window to sell them tickets. An old lion without any teeth is the one who took the tickets at the door.

Daddy Ringtail and the Huffen Puffen went to look for seats. The Huffen Puffen was about to say that he was afraid of the dark, but "Bahh!" said Daddy Ringtail. He explained how the dark of a picture show is a friendly dark indeed.

The Huffen shushed and sat back in his chair to watch the show, because now the picture was about a cowboy-man on a horse with some other men riding their horses to catch him. Yes, and in the picture, the men shot their pistols at the man who was riding fast to get away.

"Bang! Bang!" and the horses rode around the side of a mountain, and up and across and down again as fast as they could. "Bang!" "Ooooooh!" said the Huffen in a quiet voice of excitement. Now he was so excited and frightened by the shooting in the picture, he couldn't talk in his loud voice.

Then the friendly man on the horse rode fast around behind some bushes and stopped, while the unfriendly men rode fast away to try to find him, because they didn't know where he was hiding. Well, it looked like the friendly man was safe at last, but here came one of the unfriendly men who was slipping up, and slipping up—and the friendly man didn't see him.

Everyone looking at the picture was very afraid for the friendly man, but suddenly in all the quiet, a wolf voice shouted, "Look out!"

The man "looked out" and saw the unfriendly man about to catch him, and so the friendly man jumped away down from the mountain into a friendly river, and swam away, and that was the end of the picture show.

But the Huffen was very proud of himself, he was, for shouting "look out!" to help the friendly man get away. Daddy Ringtail never did explain how the friendly man would have got away anyway, just as they ought to do in a picture show. Don't you ever tell the Huffen! Promise! Happy day!

TINY TOTS, BIG BUSINESS

In spite of the size of its job of supplying American consumers with 270,000,000 gallons of oil products daily, the petroleum industry isn't too busy to take care of the country's tiniest citizens—babies. Sales of baby oil, which is made from a pure, highly-refined petroleum oil to which antiseptics have been added, came to an estimated $7,000,000 last year. Another $6,000,000 was spent on baby lotions, many of which may also be petroleum-deriv-

Another big TAX BITE out of your paycheck!

... but Congress still permits more than 35,000 profit-making businesses to go virtually TAX FREE!

The House of Representatives has voted to increase Federal taxes by more than seven billion dollars a year—most of it to come from Income Tax Payers. The increase on individual taxpayers (including all those who have their tax deducted from their pay checks in advance) is another 12½ per cent on top of what you already pay. Corporate (business) income tax goes up another 5 per cent so that if you are operating or own shares in an incorporated business, the tax will be from 30 to 70 per cent plus another 20 per cent withholding tax on the distributed profits after taxes.

At the same time these new taxes were saddled onto your paycheck or business, the Tax Bill continued the exemption from income tax given to more than 35,000 profit-making corporations. Building, Savings and Loan Associations and Mutual Banks will escape more than half a billion dollars in taxes this year... they are completely income tax free! Cooperative corporations and other mutuals, including many insurance companies, will get out of paying another half billion dollars... they are either wholly tax-free or pay only a fraction of what other businesses must pay.

The billion dollars they do not pay must come from somewhere! Make no mistake about it... that billion is included in the increases loaded onto You!

Write your two U.S. Senators! Protest this injustice!

This unjust Tax Bill is now before the United States Senate. They can rewrite the legislation to correct this rank tax discrimination against you and every other income tax payer. You owe it to yourself to write your two U.S. Senators and demand that they tax the untaxed first, before increasing your Income Taxes by as much as a single penny.

Unless you do, they will think you do not care and are willing to pay more Income Taxes than you should! There's no need to write a long, formal letter full of big words and fancy phrases. An informal letter—or even a post card—is far better and more effective. Do not delay—write Today! This legislation is now before the Senate. Your immediate action is required if this tax discrimination against you is to be corrected.

Lila Stewart

Couple Schedules September Wedding

The engagement and approaching marriage of Lila Stewart to Cecil C. Matthews was announced Saturday at a luncheon given by Mrs. Fife Bynum in the Midland Country Club.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. W. P. Newell of Albany. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Matthews of Tulsa. The ceremony will be held at 11 a.m. September 29 in the First Methodist Church in Albany. Dr. Harold G. Cooke of Albany will officiate. Green and white are colors.

The refreshment table at the party was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white Marconi daisies, feverfew and maline. Two wedding bells bearing the names of the couple and the date of the wedding were suspended from an arch over the flower arrangement. Alternating green and white ribbons ran from the centerpiece to the 24 pale green place-cards. Green and white, the bride's chosen colors, also were used elsewhere in the table decorations.

Similar corsages of white daisies were worn by the hostess and the honoree. The bride-elect was graduated from McMurry Junior College in Abilene. Matthews is a graduate of Texas A&M College.

Mrs. Bynum will serve as the honoree's matron of honor. The couple's other attendants will be Ruby Millard, maid of honor; John Matthews, Jr., of Tulsa, brother of the prospective bridegroom, best man; Rufe Bynum, groomsman, and Paul Ravesties of Midland and Walter Beal of Odessa, ushers.

The MATURE PARENT

Don't Short-Change Your Children On Appreciation

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She likes to look nice if it can be arranged without any personal inconvenience to her. So far as she is concerned, a plaid skirt is a plaid skirt, whether it is wrinkled or unwrinkled. As it is simpler to leave it on the floor at night than to hang it in her closet, she leaves it on the floor. She is eight years old.

Her mother says, "If you haven't the time to hang up your skirt when you go to bed, we'll have to make the time. We'll just start going to bed five minutes earlier."

She goes to bed five minutes earlier. She hangs up her skirt. Then she suddenly scurries over to the chair where she's flung her other clothing and arranges it neatly, shoes, underwear, T-shirt. Then she jumps into bed and calls her mother.

"It's been a long day and her mother, who is tired, says, "Did you hang up your skirt? Don't forget to do it tomorrow night. A big girl like you should be ashamed to have to have her mother on her heels every minute . . ."

She is a normal child. She can take it. But it would have been wiser for her mother to have said, "What a tidy room! And the shoes and underwear, too! What a good child to surprise her mother like this!"

It would have been wiser because her desire for her mother's approval is her mother's most dependable instrument for training. It is her control lever. It should be kept well oiled.

When a child alters her behavior to conform to our ideas of what it ought to be, we never should take that alteration for granted. The eight-year-old who has hung up her skirt is not at all convinced that the closet is a better place for it than her floor.

Her mother's promotion talk on orderliness is as meaningless to her as a talk on neatness would be to us. She has tidied her room for one reason only—to please her mother. She has deferred to her parent's judgment because her parent's approval is more important to her than her own convenience.

Desire To Please
If we wish to reinforce our control of youngsters, we'd better not short-change them on appreciation when they submit themselves to our control.

Professional workers with children will tell you how vital it is to note a change in conduct that is inspired by the desire to please a trusted adult. It is a little climax in the relationship between the adult and the child. If the desire to please is not fed with support and appreciation, it can die of hunger.

If we are going to force changes in behavior on children—and sometimes we have to—we can't just sit back with a sigh of relief when the change has been made. The child has surrendered her will to us. Our failure to give praise in exchange is often the reason that we find the skirt back on the floor at the end of the week.

If we are housekeepers first, we will be pleased that the skirt is where it belongs. If we are mothers first, we will be pleased with the effort that the small person has made to adjust herself to a requirement she doesn't really believe in.

This is evidence of trust that we dare not take lightly. We are going to need that trust for some time. If we don't nourish it by showing our appreciation for changes in conduct, the day may come when our appeal for a change may be rejected.

Girl Desires To Be Bullfighter, Does Something About It

EL PASO —(AP)—A pretty Texas girl, 21-year-old Patricia McCormick, wants to be a lady bullfighter, and she is doing something about it.

On a recent Sunday, Miss McCormick made her debut in the Plaza de Toros at Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from here.

"Ole, huera!" cried the Mexican bullfight fans. That's roughly equivalent to "Nice going, blonde."

Her appearance was the climax of many hours of working with cape and sword in the hot Summer sun. But, in Pat's words, "It's the beginning of a career I've been dreaming of for many years... to be a matadora, a lady bullfighter."

And it looks like a successful career is in store for the shapely young lady. Mexican fans, as hard to please as they come, loved her.

Knocked Off Feet
Pat was not required to kill a bull Sunday. Her work consisted of passing the bull with a cape. She was knocked off her feet twice by a bull which hooked at her legs instead of following the cape. This served only to make her mad instead of frightened. Her trainer, Alejandro Del Hierro, made her quit after the second spill because he feared her anger would make her too reckless.

"Afraid? No," Pat said, "but it sure made me mad getting dumped twice my first fight."

At present, Pat is an art major at Texas Western College at El Paso, Texas. The location of the school, directly across the Rio Grande from Juarez, makes it handy for her to indulge in her passion for the fiesta of the brave bulls.

Following graduation from Texas Western next year, Pat plans to study the art of bullfighting at a ranch in the interior of Mexico. She hopes to gain enough experience there to enable her to become a full-fledged killer of brave bulls.

Commenting on the oddity of an American girl becoming a matadora, Pat said, "I've had the ambition ever since I saw my first bullfight in Mexico City at the age of seven."

"And," she added, "I'm in dead earnest."

'Largest Possible' Sales Total Set As Defense Bond Quota

The "largest possible" total of sales will be the goal of the Defense Bond Drive to be held September 3 through October 27. Nathan Adams of Dallas, state Defense Bond chairman, announced Saturday.

There will be no dollar quotas, Adams said in a letter to John P. Butler, Midland County Defense Bond chairman.

"Instead," Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder has asked us to sell as many Defense Bonds as possible, to back up our armed forces and to help resist the pressure of inflation," Adams said. He urged the Midland chairman, however, to set for this county a goal "high enough to be a challenge to you and your committee."

"Buy Defense Bonds"
"The people want a part in the nation's defense effort," he said. "Right now the most practical way for them to help is for them to buy U. S. Defense Bonds."

Adams said volunteers are being organized in every community of the state to conduct intensive campaigns during the drive, which is the first since the outbreak of the Korean war more than a year ago. Emphasis will be placed on increasing sales through the payroll savings plan, which permits employees to buy bonds by having deductions made from wages or salaries, and the Bond-A-Month Plan, through which bank customers can buy bonds automatically.

Dope Addiction By Young People No Accident, Declare Narcotics Experts

By HELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK (AP)—A hypodermic needle, in the hands of a teen-ager, is one of the peculiar hall-marks of this day.

The use of dope by young people is no accident. It is not a fad that can be expected to run its course and eventually die out.

Narcotics experts say it is by no means a local phenomenon, either, or typical of a few delinquents in the crowded East. They warn that the use of drugs is spreading, and that it is more prevalent in small towns than is generally known.

What are the causes, and what are the meanings?

In the magistrate's court of New York, a wise and experienced observer of these cases is the chief probation officer, Doris Clark. She starts by clearing away two misconceptions:

1. That young people become addicts through ignorance. "A typical statement by adolescent addicts is that they are fully aware of the dangers of addiction, but consider themselves too smart to get caught," she says.

2. That plain, youthful curiosity was the cause: "These typical addicts will frequently deny that they took drugs the first time purely out of curiosity. They will say others they know started on drugs fully knowing the effects."

Miss Clark added:

"Many said they are fully aware that they are escapists, that they take drugs because they are unhappy or lonely."

Stresses And Tensions

Psychiatrists agree fully with that latter point, the effort to escape.

This is a world of stresses and tensions, they say, placing "immense demands" on young people. It is full of "all sorts of vague and terrible threats," the chief one being the menace of another world war. For the young man, that may mean an early and terrible death. For the young woman, it means the disclosure of all her half-formed dreams and plans. For everyone, it means confronting the most hideous armory of weapons the world ever has known.

"Hence, the desire to retire from the whole scene," says Dr. Robert P. Knight of the Riggs Foundation. "They are not always conscious of the fact they are escaping, although many of them are. When they take drugs it is like returning to childhood, back into a dreamy world of well-being and relative security."

Example Of 'Big Shear'

An equally powerful factor in the case, most experts say, is the example furnished by some prominent person.

With dope, as with crime, sexual misbehavior and general delinquency, the teen-ager frequently points to the conduct of a man or woman of prestige as a justification for himself.

Miss Clark said a number of very young addicts mentioned the name of well-known figures in the entertainment world in relating their own stories.

"If it's all right for a big shot like that, why isn't it all right for me?" they asked.

As the drug habit spreads among young people, it brings an inevitable by-product—the increase in crime by adolescents and young adults—law enforcement officers say.

They have evidence indicating youngsters are spending as much as $100 a week on dope. "What's more, they're getting gypped, because most of it is cut," the officers say.

Insane Craving

Narcotics experts know the habit creates an intense psychological as well as physical craving. So do the peddlers. When the drug addict is desperate, he'll do anything to get it.

At that point, an otherwise law-abiding young man, without criminal instincts, will try shop-lifting, burglary, armed robbery or any other means of obtaining the money. A girl turns to prostitution, first, or lines up with a "mob."

The cure?

Miss Clark said facilities for the care of drug addicts are meager. Moreover, the best efforts at effecting a cure frequently fail completely. Some youthful dope-users are committed, again and again to institutions. They may be hopeless cases.

Meanwhile a tremendous effort is being made, through education, vigilance, and repeated warnings, to prevent more young people from becoming victims of the habit.

Attempts To Make Rain Fall Aren't New, And Duval County Experiment Proves It

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—There's nothing new about attempts to make rain fall on dry farmland.

Had you been passing through Duval County on a quiet April day 60 years ago, you might have been knocked off your feet by an explosion.

Jonas Well of Corpus Christi was there, a youngster just out of school. He was secretary for the group, mostly Army personnel, who tried to make rain fall. Well says rain fell.

Duval County in 1861 was in the throes of the severest drought in its history. Cattle were dying by the thousands, their carcasses lined the banks of the Nueces River, where they gathered in hopes of water.

At Midland, El Paso

County and pitched camp a few miles out of San Diego on the Colima ranch.

For weeks the weather experts watched the skies, waiting for the right clouds. In April the clouds came. Small cloth bags were then filled with powder and soaked in nitroglycerine. A cumbersome cannon that guarded the King Ranch headquarters was hauled to the site. A huge cypress cistern, filled with water, was loaded with iron shavings picked up from blacksmith shops. A meteorologist made frequent trips aloft in a captive balloon to look things over.

Big Day Arrives

Finally the big day arrived. The powder-filled bags were made ready, the old cannon was put in place; and a large quantity of sulphuric acid was poured into the cistern water and iron shavings to create a gas with which to fill huge balloons that were to be sent aloft and exploded.

At a signal, pandemonium broke loose. The bags of powder were exploded; the high-flying balloons began to burst. Well had been put in charge of the cannon, and he fired away like a defender of the Bastille.

One of the balloons floated off horizontally instead of rising. When it exploded, every tent in the camp was knocked over.

Shortly the bombardment was over and the weary, powder-smoked rainmakers waited results. Onimous clouds gathered. And, says Well, it began to rain.

How much it rained, Well didn't say. But he remembers that water rushing down a raving forced soldiers and other members of the group to move their tents to higher ground.

This year another group of rainmakers is in Texas, seeding clouds with silver iodine. Ranchers in Jim Hogg and Brooks Counties have formed an organization. Well's nephew, Alex Well, who operates a large ranch in Jim Hogg County, is secretary. Well also has a grandson, Edwin Kessler III—majoring in meteorology at the Massachusetts Institute of technology in Boston.

Ranchers had heard of experiments carried on by the Army at El Paso and Midland in which explosives were fired into the atmosphere in the hope they would cause rainfall. The theory resulted from records showing above average rainfall where battles had been fought.

Duval County ranchers had to pay all the expenses of the experiment there. The Army, with all its paraphernalia, weather experts, and newspapermen, arrived in Duval

Two Ellington Men Killed In Air Crash

HOUSTON (AP)—Sgt. Thomas W. Matthews, 32, and Paul E. Kitcher, 27, both of Ellington Air Force Base were killed Friday when their plane crashed near Genoa, 15 miles from here.

Officers said the two owned the plane jointly with a third Ellington airman.

A witness said the plane came over his house, its engine popping and sputtering. It pulled into a loop, then flipped on its back and crashed into a pasture.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—Sidelights On Negotiating Bracero Pact Interesting

By TEX HANLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—With the Mexican farm labor agreement in operation and thousands of "braceros" crossing the border to help harvest crops it's interesting to note many sidelights in negotiating the pact.

Some farmers who desperately needed cotton pickers may have seen no excuse for the long-drawn conferences on the matter, both prior to passage of the Mexican labor bill July 12 and actual signing of a formal agreement with Mexico on August 10.

Rep. Lloyd Benson (D) of Missouri, one of those most active in the entire picture, says the translation problem itself probably accounted for days of delay. When you get to phrasing contracts in two languages, with hundreds of thousands of persons and millions of dollars involved, you have to be careful to make sure that each version conveys the same meaning.

Author Is Poet

Author of the bill which led to signing of the pact was Rep. W. R. Poage (D) of Waco, high ranking member of the house Agriculture Committee.

One of the angles that he had to keep in mind in drafting the bill was the understandable opposition of Mexico and most American farmers to inclusion of the "braceros" under the U. S. social security laws.

Under the existing law, which the Poage Mexican labor bill repealed, the "braceros" who worked steadily for three months in this country suddenly found Social Security tax deductions made in their pay. They then would become eli-

Rio Grande Valley's Cotton Is Superior, Committee Reports

McALLEN—(P)—The Rio Grande Valley, now harvesting its largest crop of cotton, is producing a superior product, according to the Cotton Research Committee of Texas.

"The soils and climate of the lower Rio Grande Valley and the coastal bend," the committee says in a report, "are conducive to the production of cotton with above average fiber properties."

"The cottons of the valley and coastal bend (the Corpus Christi area) are superior in some respects to those of the mid-South and Southeast. It would appear milk can effect a saving in the cost of raw material by buying cotton from the valley and coastal bend because of the excellent fiber properties of the cotton."

While the report does not make such distinction between the two areas in its conclusions, it presents statistics to show that the valley has a slight edge on the coastal bend in producing a slightly better grade of cotton.

West March Commission

This year, in particular, there is not much comparison, because the severe drought has decimated the coastal bend output. The report says that as of July 28 the coastal bend will probably harvest 50,000 bales out of an earlier estimated yield of 200,000 bales. The valley, on the other hand, may top 700,000 bales.

The steady growth of the valley and the coastal bend as cotton producing regions is noted. In the Twenties, the two areas grew one bale out of every 25 produced in Texas, the Union's greatest cotton-producing state. Now production has gone to one out of every eight.

"Valley and coastal bend cotton, when properly selected, will because of greater strength make stronger yarn than can be had from cotton of the same length produced in the mid-South and Southeast," the committee says.

The report also notes that the valley and coastal bend areas are producing cotton with above average fiber properties.

Prices Of Texas Land Are Climbing

COLLEGE STATION—(P)—Prices of land in Texas are climbing just like everything else.

The average price increased from $44.44 per acre to $49.58 during 1950—a 12 per cent hike—according to a survey made by John H. Southern and Joe R. Motheral of College Station.

Southern is agricultural economist for the USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics; Motheral is associate professor of agriculture economics and sociology.

In 24 representative counties sampled by the research men, the number of land transfers increased by 20 per cent, while the average changing hands increased by half over 1949.

Last year, Texas farm and ranch land prices were 182 per cent higher than the 1929-30 average.

The largest increases were in the Grand Prairie, with 40 per cent; the Rolling Plains, with 34 per cent; and the North-Central grazing area, with 31 per cent. Seven other areas gained 20 per cent or more.

In only four of the 18 types-of-farming areas in Texas did the average selling price decline in 1950. Fairly substantial decreases occurred in the Panhandle wheat area, the Edwards Plateau and Central Basin, and the Northeast Sandy Landa. A small drop in selling price occurred in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos grazing area.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The market was strong and active at the Midland Livestock Association sale Thursday. Some classes were 50 cents to $1 a hundred higher than the week before. Stocker calves and top grade butcher cows were up. Receipts totaled 619 head.

Stocker steers, calves auctioned for $24 to $37.50, a few higher, steer yearlings $29 to $34, heifer calves $33 to $38, cows, no young ones offered, $19 to $22.

Fat calves and yearlings sold for $28 to $32, no choice kinds offered, mediums $24 to $28, commons and culls $18 to $24. Fat calves cleared at $23 to $25, mediums $21 to $23, canners and cutters $16 to $21. Bulls brought $24 to $27, mostly medium grade downward.

The people down Rankin-McCamey way again know what a downpour is. It had been a long time since they had seen as much rain as fell in that vicinity the middle of the week. Unfortunately, however, the rainfall did not extend very far north (toward Midland). Learning Proctor says his country in Central and Southeast Midland County is as dry as ever.

Midland County farmers, ranchers and other interested persons will be given the opportunity of offering their opinions and suggestions for beneficial changes in the existing agricultural program administered by the various Department of Agriculture agencies, at a county-wide Family Farm Policy Review conference Tuesday night. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Valley View School. It will be conducted by the County Agriculture Mobilization Committee.

Brief discussions by representatives of the various agriculture agencies serving Midland County are scheduled. These include the Cooperative Extension Service, Production Marketing Administration, Soil Conservation Service, Farmers' Home Administration, and the Rural Electrification Administration. The work of other Agriculture Department agencies also will be summarized.

Committees Listed

The Midland County Agricultural Mobilization Committee includes W. E. Pigg, chairman; D. W. McDonald, and Z. T. Elkin, all members of the County PMA Committee; J. R. Cuffman, Vocational Agriculture instructor; C. W. Green and Pauline McWilliams, Extension Service; Cal Boykin, Jr., Soil Conservation Service; and Charles E. Champion, PMA.

Similar meetings are being held over the nation to obtain a comprehensive policy review of how well farm programs are serving farm families of the nation, and how they may be improved to better protect and preserve the traditional pattern of family farming. The public is invited to attend the Midland County meeting.

C. C. (Smoky) Swift, Crane County Commissioner and long-time rancher down Crane way, who was here Wednesday night to attend a high-way function, said he lost more sheep during the very wet year of 1941 than in any year since. Crane County received 42 inches of rain in 1941, and wild flowers bloomed in abundance there and elsewhere over West Texas. That, by the way, was the last wet year in these parts—and that was 10 years ago.

Midland County will be represented at the Dallas Fair Stock Show by a Marion Flynt steer being fed by Bobby Howard who resides in the Valley View community. County Agent Charles Green says the animal will weigh about 1,150 pounds at show time in October. The steer was held over from last Spring's stock show here.

Foy Proctor, prominent Midland rancher, is pictured along with a nice story concerning him and his ranch operations, in a recent issue of Stanley Franks' West Texas Livestock Weekly. A group of Proctor cows and calves also are pictured in the publication.

Proctor, according to the article, last week delivered 1,250 steer calves off his C and NA ranches north of Midland in an earlier-than-usual delivery. The calves were contracted earlier in the year by the Texas Livestock Marketing Association at 40 cents a pound.

The livestock publication refers to the Proctor call crop as one of the biggest and best in the nation. Best Herd Of Cattle

Proctor, long noted for his scale cattle operations in Texas and Arizona, has on his C and NA ranches what is generally regarded as the best herd of cattle of any comparable size in the United States. The article continues:

The Proctor calves were delivered early this year, because of the drought, but still they weighed 400 to 450 pounds. The animals were shipped to Corn Belt feeders.

The West Texas Livestock Weekly also reports the Schabauer Estate has sold about 2,000 Hereford mixed calves to Cecil Guseman of Hereford and Allan Dawson of Amarillo at 40 cents for the heifers and a fraction more for the steers. The calves will be delivered in October.

A farm labor conference highlighting West Texas' cotton harvest problem will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Settles Hotel at Big Spring. The following problems will be discussed: school-age children and the cotton harvest; contracting Mexican Nationals; how to handle migratory labor problems; what to do when your county gets on the black list.

The session is sponsored by the West Texas Cotton Ginner's Association, Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and 1-4 Texas Chamber of Commerce. Similar meetings are scheduled in Wichita Falls Wednesday and in Lubbock Friday.

The annual New Mexico State Fair horse show reflects a land where cattle still roam the range and where men go after them on horseback, according to dispatches released from Albuquerque.

It's not a show for the formal habit and flat saddle set. It is western through and through.

Top animals from half a dozen Western states will be on exhibit at Albuquerque during the 1951 exposition, September 29-October 7. They'll represent more than 100 breeders. They'll be shooting at close to $5,000 in premiums offered.

The two basic divisions of the show indicate its rangeland character. The tough, speedy Quarter Horse and the beautiful Palomino will compete in both halter and performance classes.

Pan American World Airways at Houston has announced that two additional ranch tours to South America and to Hawaii, New Zealand and Australia will be operated this year.

The third trip of this type to be offered, the South American tour will visit seven Latin American countries and the members of the party will visit typical working and show ranches in the various agricultural regions of the South American continent. This tour will depart from Dallas September 24 and will return to Dallas 26 days later. In addition to the agricultural aspect, the tour will cover well known tourist attractions in each country.

The Australian tour, the second to be operated this year, will leave Dallas October 30 and will visit Hawaii and New Zealand ranch attractions in addition to those in Australia. This tour will return 28 days later and ample time has been provided for shopping and sight-seeing in addition to ranch visits.

Higher Education Is Big Business In West Texas

ABILENE—That higher education is "big business" in West Texas is shown by results of a survey published in the August issue of West Texas Today, the magazine of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Twenty-seven of 33 universities and colleges of the 132-county WTCC territory participated in the survey.

It disclosed the following facts and figures:

Enrollment in 29 institutions totaled 55,124 in 1950. This included four universities, 11 senior colleges and 19 junior colleges.

The college students spent during the year an average of $1,100 or a grand total of more than $60,000,000. This was the average of estimates by officials of all institutions of all ranks, including municipal junior colleges, most of whose students reside at home.

Other totals reported for the 27 institutions taking part in the complete survey included these:

Investment in land, buildings and equipment—$101,590,021.

Total of budgets for 1951-52 operations—$28,544,388.

Total payroll for 4,796 employees—$14,418,076.

Eight non-tax supported senior colleges and universities reported endowments totaling $11,933,864.

Crusade For Freedom Opens On Labor Day

DALLAS—The Crusade for Freedom drive to halt Communist lies and aggression, opens Labor Day and runs through September. Lt. Gen. Preston A. Weathered of Dallas, state chairman, announced.

Goals for Texas in the nationwide drive are set at 862,500 signatures and $120,900 in contributions.

The freedom drive seeks to enroll freedom-loving Texans "to combat communism and send more messages of truth and hope to millions trapped behind the Iron Curtain."

Signers will be asked to make whatever gift they can to support crusade-operated radio stations pinpointed along the Soviet borders to refute propaganda.

Slogan for the 1951 crusade is "Help truth fight communism—Join the Crusade for Freedom."

Registration At Carver School To Start Monday

Registration of Carver School students will begin Monday, Principal E. L. Jordan announced.

The registration will take place at the school, he said, although a delay in the construction of an addition to the building will necessitate the use of space in four churches until late in October.

The schedule for registration follows:

Freshmen will register from 9 a.m. until noon Monday.

Sophomores will register after 1 p.m. Monday.

Juniors and Seniors will register from 9 a.m. until noon Tuesday.

All pupils new in Midland schools will report for registration at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Six-year-old pupils should be accompanied by parents and should bring birth certificates with them.

Careful Planning Will Make Modern, Convention Kitchen

Before modernizing a kitchen, floor and wall space and sizes of cabinets and other equipment should be accurately measured so as to utilize all available space for work centers and storage. Location of work centers should be planned so that work will flow from one center to another without waste motion. A great improvement will be effected in most old kitchens merely by re-location of work centers and using color liberally.

Space should be utilized fully for cupboards and floor cabinets. In rearranging the work centers, space usually can be found for many additional cubic feet of storage.

Studies show these minimum requirements: Wall, cabinets, six square feet of shelf space for each adult in the family; base or floor cabinets, not including range and refrigerator, two lineal feet for each adult. Additional space can be found on walls above refrigerator, range, sink and other equipment.

A harmonious color plan for walls, floor and cabinets should be chosen. Since all-white kitchens now are obsolete, colorfast greaseproof floors are recommended by interior designers, together with brightly-hued harmonizing walls, cupboards and cabinet tops. A black cove base of the material at the juncture of walls and floor helps add a contrasting note of color. The cove base is curved, making it easy to clean in corners.

Comfortable Heights
A variation in heights of work surfaces makes a more comfortable kitchen. The average woman finds a 32-inch height for the mixing surface is most comfortable, with a 36-inch height for the range, and the bottom of the sink 32 inches above the floor. This means that sink drainboards and side counters, at least 24x36 inches in size, will be about 38 inches in height. Some homemakers may object to these height variations for a continuous work surface along one or two walls of the kitchen, but the comfort attained deserves consideration. No shelf in the kitchen should be higher than 72 inches above the floor.

Each division of appliances, cabinets and work surfaces is called a "work center." These normally are the sink center, range center and mixing center. Greatest convenience results when the sink is located between range and mixing center. The mixing center, which includes the refrigerator, should be near the service door. The refrigerator door should open away from the mixing counter. Besides being near the sink and mixing centers, the range also should be convenient to the dining area.

Good Construction Lowers Home Costs

Look beyond the price tag when purchasing a home. Although attractively priced, a house is a good buy only if its construction assures economical maintenance and operation. The important details can be ascertained by inspection at various stages of the building operations.

With either a basement or crawl space, the center of the house should be supported by wood or steel columns or masonry piers topped with a steel girder or heavy beam. Sub-flooring laid diagonally provides greater strength, and joists should be braced at intervals with X-shaped bracing.

The roof should be of fire-resistant material, such as asphalt shingles which protect most American homes and farm buildings. Asphalt shingles are applied over a smooth, solid roof deck. An asphalt saturated felt is nailed to the roof deck before the shingles are applied. The most popular asphalt shingle is the three-tab square-but shingle. The three-in-one shingle, economical to apply, is designed for five-inch exposure to the weather. In areas where high winds are to be expected, use of a quick-setting cement to fasten down the tabs is recommended.

Another sign of good construction is sheathing applied diagonally instead of horizontally. This gives the walls more strength and usually indicates the builder will be particular about other details. Doors and windows should not stick or bind and stairs should be level and firm with no vibration under foot.

Apartment Tenants Tangled In Red Tape

MOSCOW — Persons living in an apartment house in Kiev are hoping a third appeal will get something done about the faulty sewage system, according to the newspaper Ukrainian Pravda.

They've been trying for six months to have the trouble fixed, without avail. The newspaper, organ of the Ukrainian Communist Party, said the occupants were taken for a "merry-go-round" ride in their efforts.

The paper outlined what they had done:

Sent a complaint to the House Administration, which then was forwarded to the district Housing Administration, state sanitary inspection authorities, chief state inspector, chief surgeon at the city sanitary and epidemic station, district sanitary station, back to the District Housing Administration and back again to the apartment building management. There it was filed without action, and another complaint went through the same channels only to get hidden in a desk when it got back to the house management.

They filed the third complaint because the place is said to be getting unlivable and the neighbors are suffering.

Class Prophecy Almost Fulfilled

CHICAGO — When Frank E. Martin was graduated from Newton, Ill., High School in 1913, the class prophecy read:

"Frank Martin will become vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad and some day he'll come back to see us in his office car and he's going to invite members of his old high school class to have dinner with him."

Part of the prophecy has come true. Martin became vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad recently—elected by the directors.

He said and worked for the I. C. for three months during his 1912 Summer vacation as an apprentice machinist at the Waterloo, Iowa, shops—he went back to work for the road right after he got out of high school, and worked up from a bill clerk in the freight house at Evansville, Ind., to his current post as vice president and comptroller.

Martin, 36, said he hopes to complete the class prophecy soon and invite the 1913 graduating class to reunion.

TWO MAIN CHOICES CITED IN LOCATION OF GARAGE

There are two main choices for location of the garage: Attached to one side of the house, or standing alone at the rear of the yard. The latter location generally is discarded today because of the large amount of space sacrificed for driveway.

Most widely-used is the garage attached to the front of the house because it is more accessible and convenient in all weather. Care should be taken, however, that the entrance is in harmony with the rest of the house and that a fire-barrier such as fireproof mineral wool insulation is placed between garage and house wall. A new idea is to provide a back door as well as a front entrance so the car can be driven into the backyard for washing or other work. Efficient automatic doors now are available at a cost which is not excessive.

Proper Fence Can Add Beauty To Home Setting

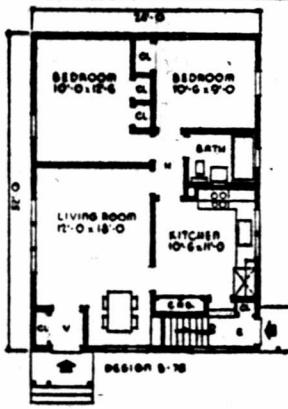

A fence often is used to set off a home and add beauty and distinction. It may enclose only a small area or extend to the sidewalk and boundary lines. It can be of almost any material or design, but it should follow the architecture of the house.

The traditional white picket fence is at home in any section. Rail fences are adapted to almost any type of rural, suburban or informal architecture, but more elaborate treatment is needed for the large or formal house. With such a house, a brick wall or an ornamental lattice fence is appropriate.

Determine Limitations
The gate should be at least three feet wide, well braced against sagging, swing easily on rustproof hinges without squeaking, and latch readily. At the same time it should harmonize with the fence.

Before planning any fence, it is best to determine what limitations, if any, are imposed by local building laws.

A fence always must be maintained in first-class condition because nothing will detract more from the appearance of a home than a sagging gate or dilapidated unpainted fence.

POPULAR DESIGN—The Bladen has a wide frontage, calling for a proportionately wide lot, a popular house design trend. Entrance to the living room is through a small vestibule, forming a dining alcove at one end. Dining space also is provided in the kitchen. Plans call for the use of siding on the exterior. The gable features vertical siding, while the roof has asphalt shingles. The dimensions of the Bladen are 24 by 32 feet.

PETROLEUM COFFEE BAGS

Now the petroleum industry has come to the aid of the coffee-drinker. The newest thing is individual coffee bags, packaged in saran film—a petroleum-derived plastic. The coffee bags are similar to tea bags, and are said to eliminate waste and to assure that each cup is fresh and brewed to individual taste.
