Ridgway Issues Virtual Ultimatum

Note Leaves Red Leaders Little Choice

TOKYO—(P)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway Wednesday put it squarely up to the Communists to decide the fate of Korean war truce talks.

The United Nations commander curtly refused to re-investigate the alleged Kaesong bombing incident. But he said the Allies would resume armistice negotiations whenever the Reds are ready to end their "unjustifiable delay" of the conference.

The general view here was that Ridgway's 116-word message to the top Communist commanders left them almost no alternative but to back down or break off the disrupted conferences completely.

Ridgway did not even mention the Communist demand that he admit a UN plane bombed the truce site. He has called the whole incident a fraud.

His message to the North Korean premier, Kim Il Sung, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai dealt only with their request that he send his liaison officers back to Kaesong to look at new evidence. "A reinvestigation after this lapse of time," Ridgway said, "could serve no purpose other than to continue this unjustifiable delay in the armistice negotiations."

The UN commander observed that during the original investigation a few hours after the asserted bombing the night of August 23, a Red liaison officer "specifically refused the request of my liaison officer to continue the investigation during daylight and to leave all of the alleged evidence in place."

The UN command has said this all along. It was a flat contradiction. (Continued On Page Six)

Six Cadets Reinstated, Says Report

NEW YORK—(P)—A bar association hearing Wednesday was told that "at least six" of the approximately 90 West Point cadets accused of cheating had been restored to duty at the military academy.

The statement was made by Robert Daru, general counsel of the Committee on Justice of the New York Civil and Criminal Courts Bar Association.

At West Point, a spokesman at the military academy refused to confirm Daru's statement. Probe Still Incomplete

He said an investigation into the cheating scandal had not been completed, and that academy authorities said they could not give a breakdown on cases until the screening boards finish their work.

Daru told the committee holding an open hearing on the dismissal of the cadets that he had learned "at least six men in the last day or two have been restored to duty. I cannot figure out the restoration of these men, except as a forerunner for the restoration of all these men."

The West Point spokesman said 83 of the accused cadets had left the academy. Of these, 73 have received administrative discharges and papers in the cases of the remaining nine have been forwarded to Washington for final action. In case their separation becomes final, their papers will be forwarded to them at their homes.

The spokesman said the academy authorities have taken a position from the first announcement of the cheating scandal that some of the accused cadets possibly might be exonerated.

Labor Day Event To Be Exclusive Home Talent Show

One thing for sure—winners of the various events at the Labor Day celebration Monday afternoon at Midland Fair Park, will be Midland County residents.

Sheriff's posse officials said Wednesday entries in the jackpot call roping, mounted race races, barrel races and Cutting Horse contest are limited to Midland County residents only. The home county cowboys and cowgirls will have their day at the three-hour show, scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

The cash customer "division," however, is "open to the world."

Well Digger Dies Of Gas Asphyxiation

TYLER—(P)—A well digger, Charles Anderson, 53, was asphyxiated Tuesday by gas known as "black damp."

DeWitt Brooks, his assistant, was overcome when he was lowered into the 28-foot-deep well to see what had happened to Anderson—but Brooks was pulled up quickly and revived.

Hugh White Wins Mississippi Runoff

JACKSON, MISS.—(P)—Former Gov. Hugh White Wednesday won his second bid for governor of Mississippi on the basis of unofficial, but almost complete, returns from Tuesday's Democratic runoff primary.

The 70-year-old industrialist and lumberman from Columbia by mid-morning had piled up a 9,536 lead over his 35-year-old opponent, Paul B. Johnson, Jr., Hattiesburg attorney.

The count from 1,707 of the state's 1,782 precincts, gave White 191,467, Johnson 181,931. The missing 75 boxes were in 17 counties. In those Johnson was leading in 10 and White in the remaining seven.

With his victory, White became the second man in Mississippi history to win election twice to the state's highest office. The first was the late Senator Theo (The Man) Bilbo, who served from 1916 to 1920 and 1928 to 1932.

First Martin Bale Brings $1.10 Pound

STANTON—(P)—Martin County's first bale of cotton was auctioned here Tuesday afternoon and brought $1.10 a pound.

S. H. McGlaughlin, Midland cotton buyer, bid the price to 42 cents and Stanton merchants added premium bids to raise the price to $1.10. The bale, weighing 433 pounds, went to McGlaughlin.

The cotton was grown by Leslie Hull on his farm 11 miles northwest of Stanton. It was ginned free by the Farmers' Co-op Society No. 1, gln. County Judge James McMorris was auctioneer.

MHS Enrollment Now Exceeds 1,000

Midland High School will have more than 1,000 students this school year. In fact, a total of 1,007 students had registered Tuesday. Approximately 100 more are expected.

High school registration is not complete and a large percentage of the 100 more expected students may show up on the opening day of school.

Approximately 800 students were in high school on opening day last year.

Pre-school registration shows the following breakdown for the 1951-52 term: Freshmen 400, Juniors 250, sophomores 227 and seniors 130.

VETO EXPERT ARRIVES—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, at microphone, speaks to newsmen shortly after his arrival in New York aboard the Queen Elizabeth, enroute to the San Francisco conference for the signing of the Japanese peace treaty. Gromyko told the press Russia plans to offer its own ideas at the conference in defiance of the U. S. Behind Gromyko, right, is Semmen K. Tsarapkin, Soviet UN official.

Indictment Of Newsmen Stirs Senators' Ire

WASHINGTON—(P)—Three senators have indicated that if Louisiana officials don't do something about the indictment of five newspapermen for their activities in a campaign against gambling, Congress may look into the matter.

Senator Case (R-SD) said a congressional inquiry might be merited. Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) said it was not clear if Congress could act, but the question is "worth some thought." Senator Moody (D-Mich) said he hopes to see a Senate investigation of the case, and would spark it.

Senatorial reaction Tuesday generally was one of surprise at the indictments, and optimism that the State of Louisiana itself would clear things up.

The indictments were based on charges that the newspapermen, all connected with the Lake Charles American-Press, had defamed three admitted gamblers and some officials during a campaign against gambling law violations.

The newsmen are Thomas B. Shearman, publisher; his son, William Hugh Shearman, co-publisher; Kenneth L. Dixon, managing editor and well-known World War II Associated Press war correspondent; James W. Norrion, city editor, and Carter George, police and court reporter.

"I certainly hope the citizens of Louisiana will take action." (Continued On Page Six)

Texas Cattlemen's Freight Rate Slash Request Is Refused

DALLAS—(P)—A plea by cattlemen for cut freight rates on feed was turned down by Texas rail executives.

The railroad men Tuesday said the cattlemen failed to prove a reduction would be justified.

The ranchers asked the rate cut because of the drought. They said they were hard hit by lack of rainfall, and that all hay supplies in Texas and most of those in Oklahoma had been exhausted—meaning they had to obtain supplies from Arizona and Nebraska.

H. N. Roberts, chairman of the Texas-Louisiana Freight Bureau, announced the decision. Some 60 cattlemen, representing 80 Central and South Texas communities, attended the meeting.

Two Reasons Cited
Roberts cited two main reasons for turning down the cattlemen's request.

(1) A rate reduction for dairymen and stockmen, who he pointed out were "businessmen," was no more justified than rate reductions, for instance, for the small businessman, who also often undergoes difficult times.

(2) "It would not be consistent in one breath to ask the Texas Railroad Commission for this reduction and at the same time to cry on their shoulders for rate relief."

He referred to the railroads' pending hearings for a six per cent rate boost in Texas.

The cattlemen still can go direct to the Railroad Commission and seek the reduction they asked—a one-half slash on hay and one-third on other cattle feed.

Still No Action On Bus Franchise

Action on a proposed bus transportation system for Midland was delayed again Tuesday night.

Final action on a proposed franchise was scheduled by the City Council.

But Raymond Thomason, Jr., Abilene, who submitted the proposal, informed City Manager W. H. Oswalt he was unable to attend the session and would appear later this week.

Of course, you have an "out" for each of them—just quit driving. But if you want to stay behind

Seven Reds Free Under $5,000 Bail

HONOLULU—(P)—An accused Communist, free on $5,000 bail, Wednesday led militant sugar workers in wage talks with the management of the territory's $120,000,000-a-year sugar industry.

He is hulking Jack W. Hall, Wisconsin-born leader of Hawaii's sugar and pineapple workers and longshoremen.

Hall, five other men and one woman were arrested Tuesday in a dramatic series of FBI raids that carried the national roundup of suspected Communists into Hawaii.

All were charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Hall, 36, is regional director of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, the outfit headed by Harry Bridges, another accused Communist.

The seven were freed on $5,000 bail each.

U. S. Commissioner Harry B. Steiner first set bail at $75,000 each. Acting U. S. District Attorney Howard K. Hodrick asked the high amount because, he said, eight Communist suspects elsewhere had jumped bail.

Federal Judge Delbert E. Metzger cut the bail, saying: "Bail was never intended as a punishment" before trial.

Government attorneys said the $5,000 bail was the lowest in current Communist roundup cases.

They said a Baltimore attorney was freed on $5,000 but bail in all other cases was at least $20,000.

Chalk Up New Low In Business Ethics

HANAU, GERMANY—(P)—A German prosecutor Wednesday charged two Hanau hotelmen with damaging property and causing bodily injury, declaring they:

Bought 29 fat bedbugs at one mark apiece.
Turned the bugs loose in a rival hotel.

Midland County's Polio Chapter Gets Check For $4,700

A check for $4,700 from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was presented to the Midland County Chapter Tuesday.

Making the presentation was Ben Tankersley of Abilene, Northwest Texas representative of the National Foundation. Accepting were Ray Gwyn, president of the Midland County Chapter and John P. Butler, treasurer.

The $4,700 will be used in treatment of Midland polio victims, one of whom is a respirator case.

Gwyn said March of Dimes funds annually are divided here, with one-half remaining in the county and the remainder going to the National Foundation. The Midland Chapter fund had been exhausted.

When a county fund is exhausted, the National Foundation sends an emergency grant, Gwyn added. Record polio incidence has exhausted many county chapters over the nation.

Midland had but one polio case reported this year but continuing treatment for victims of other years is expensive, according to Gwyn. Midland County has had 11 cases prior to this year.

Senate Approves Aid Ban For Nations Who Ship Goods To Reds

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate has passed a bill designed to clamp down on—but not shut off entirely—U. S. aid to nations which ship strategic materials to Russia and her satellites.

The bill passed by the Senate late Tuesday by a vote of 55 to 16 now goes back to the House, where it originated. This step is necessary because the Senate made some changes, none of major importance.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) Wednesday predicted that Federal Judge Delbert E. Metzger of Hawaii will be replaced for reducing the bail of seven Communist suspects arrested in Hawaii.

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman Wednesday ordered the interment in Arlington National Cemetery of a Winnegabo Indian killed in action in Iowa, because of his Indian blood.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 81,422 Wednesday, an increase of 416 since last week.

HAMILTON FIELD, CALIF.—(P)—Two Navy torpedo bombers, carrying two men each, were reported overdue Wednesday at Moffett Field on a flight from Los Alamitos Base, Long Beach.

Here's What Texas' New Automobile Laws Mean To You

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN—(P)—If you own or drive a car, life isn't going to be quite the same for you—financially or otherwise—under some new Texas laws becoming effective September 7 and January 1.

The 52nd Legislature decided you will have to get annual car inspections, pay more for your drivers license, and prove you can pass off injury and damage claims up to $15,000 after your first accident.

Of course, you have an "out" for each of them—just quit driving. But if you want to stay behind the wheel, here's the new way of life:

Your first annual car inspection must be made before you can get your next year's license plates. A certificate showing the inspection has been made will be just as necessary as the cash when you show up at the tax collector's window to get the 1952 tags.
The inspection law becomes effective September 7 but the Department of Public Safety will need about a month after that to designate inspection stations and get everything organized.

So far, the department has received about 1,500 letters from garages, filling stations and the like interested in acquiring the designation.
When the stations are designated, you can go to any one of them for the standard checkup. It will include inspection of brakes, lights, horns, windshield wipers and steering gear. Whenever the old jalopy measures up to standard, you get a certificate and a little "good standing" sticker for your windshield.
Oh, yes. That will cost you $1—plus, of course, whatever it takes to bring brakes, lights, horns, windshield wiper and steering gear up to snuff.

Then you better keep another $1 handy instead of the usual 50 cents for expiration of your drivers license. Beginning September 7, a two-year renewal doubles in cost.
If your license expires soon after that date, however, you can beat the rising cost of driving by mailing in your license renewal stub with 50 cents before midnight September 6. Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison said any renewal request postmarked by that time would be filled at the old rate, regardless of expiration date of the present license.

Probably the biggest woe for the driver to wrestle, however, is the driver responsibility law that becomes effective January 1.
That law requires anyone involved in an accident on or after January 1 to show proof that he can pay claims and damages up to $15,000—that is, $5,000 bodily injury for one person, $10,000 for two persons, and $8,000 property damage.
If you don't ever have that first accident, you have nothing to worry

Fullers Are To Drill 6,250-Foot Project In SW Ector Area

W. M. and A. P. Fuller of Midland have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to start drilling by September 1 on their No. 1 Max David, et al, which is to be a 6,250-foot wildcat in Southwest Ector County.

Location is 690 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block B-15, pd survey. It is four miles north of Judkins.

The slated destination of 6,250 feet is calculated to take the prospector into the lower Permian sections. There is no production in the areas adjacent to the new wildcat from the pay to which it is projected.

McMillan Finishes Flowing Discovery In C-W Shackelford

J. G. (Guy) McMillan of Midland has completed his No. 1 G. R. Davis, Central-West Shackelford County wildcat as a flowing discovery from the Bluff Creek sand pay.

This new field opener is three miles southwest of the nearest production and is about 27 miles west of Albany and approximately the same distance northeast of Abilene.

Location is 150 feet from south and west lines of section 6, block 13, T&P survey. It reported a 24-hour flowing potential of 168 barrels of 40.1-gravity oil, and no water. The flow was through open 2-inch tubing.

From Open Hole
The production came from an open hole section in the Bluff Creek pay between the bottom of the 5 1/2-inch casing, cemented at 1,624 feet and the total depth of 1,642 feet. Top of the pay is at 1,624 feet.

This is the first wildcat to be drilled by McMillan, veteran Midland oil man, as an independent. He has been doing other forms of oil operations for several years—and this new discovery is the result of his first prospecting on his own.

McMillan No. 1 Baker, two locations northwest of the No. 1 Davis is bottomed at 1,478 feet in the lower Tanshill. It found a good show of oil and a heavy gas blow at that point.

Will Drill Deeper
Operator is to run 8 1/2-inch casing to the present bottom to control the gas so the project can be deepened to the Bluff Creek pay. It is expected between 1,623 feet and 1,650 feet.

Location of McMillan No. 1 Baker is 450 feet from south and 130 feet from east lines of section 1, block 14, T&P survey.

Schleicher Wildcat Finds Oil Shows On DST In Canyon Sand

Hawatha Oil & Gas Company and Dan Auld No. 1 Jeff Harkey, Central-North Schleicher County, is drilling below 5,084 feet in the Canyon sand after finding oil and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test in the top of the formation.

Tool was open two hours. Gas surfaced in 45 minutes. No fluid came to the top while tool was open, but when 300 feet of drill pipe was pulled it started unloading mud and oil.

It unloaded fluid most of the way out with the tester.

Total recovery was 3,480 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 1,652 feet of sulphur water.

The Canyon sand was topped at 4,945 feet.

Location is 690 feet from north and east lines of section 77, block H, GH&SA survey and 25 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Mid-Co Completes Flowing Ellenburger Opener In Callahan

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Blain Odum, North-Central Callahan County Ellenburger discovery has been completed for a daily flowing potential of 150.06 barrels of 42-gravity oil, and no water.

The flow was natural, through a 15/64th inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 2,295-1. Flowing casing pressure was 1,220 pounds and flowing tubing pressure was 780 pounds.

The production was from open hole between 4,156 feet, where the 8 1/2-inch casing is cemented, and the total depth at 4,177 feet.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 4,133 feet. That is a datum of minus 2,304 feet.

Jane Greer Gives Low-Down On Hollywood Double Talk

By JANE GREER
(For Erskine Johnson, who is on vacation)

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— After you have been in Hollywood for some time, if you're astute at all, you will learn to discern what I choose to call "floating phrases." I'm sure every industry has its equivalent in this form of double talk, but this type can only be found in Hollywood.

"This role we are offering you is the chance of a career. It's a switch. It will open up a whole new field for you." When a producer starts telling you your talents have been wasted on other, poorer roles, look out.

"Don't worry, honey, the director will take care of that. It will ALL be changed on the set." This cure-all takes wings when you bring in your script and point out some incongruity.

For instance, in one of my first parts in pictures when I was 18, I was assigned a role that had been written originally for Marlene Dietrich. It couldn't have surprised me more than if Little Eva had been cast as Simon Legree, but the "don't worry" line worked on me, and I'm sure it will be used again.

"You're just too good," is the preface, believe it or not, to being cut out of the picture. "The audience reaction," you are told, "was so intense during the scene you were doing, we were afraid they'd never follow the plot again." Apparently, some people would rather have an all dull film than one high spot to lighten the load.

"What do you want to do, give them too much entertainment?" is the variation of the above which is applied to musical films. You can bet, without looking, that your best song and dance number is on the cutting room floor.

"Honey, you can't tell a thing without the music. Wait till we get some music underneath the scene." A thousand violins won't produce a stir from this dead dog, and you know it. The scene is supposed to flow and it hovers like a lead balloon.

What An Effect
"How do you like the EFFECT? Look at the mood," is pure alibi. It is used when your face looks like a reflection in the Hall of Mirrors at Coney Island.

You've been stretched out of proportion, your forehead looks like the booty at a taffy pull, your eyes are egg shaped, with the egg standing on one end, and this guy talks about mood and effect. If you tell him what kind of mood it has effected in you, he screams, "Well, I told you to keep your head up!"

I've had producers say something like this: "Jane, I've got a part for you; it isn't the lead but you get the role with the meat in it. You can do more with it because you don't have to worry about carrying the picture." If you listen closely or look at the script, the producer is trying to say the part is better than the second or third lead.

Neophytes in that business will be subjected to a pitch that sounds like this: "Girlie, we're going to start the ball rolling. We want to let 'em know you're here. Not only in the hometown but right here in Hollywood. You've got to be seen."

This means get ready for cheese-cake. How anyone can tell what you look like posed as a witch on a broomstick for Halloween is more than I can understand.

Gimmicks
"Let's gimmick this up" is a director's phrase that any good actress will consider an insult. "Just pull your left ear" he will say "and that will indicate to the audience that you're angry." Every time you tug at the lobe, the audience will know that a storm is brewing.

Another example, is the gentle punch on the chin the hero gives the heroine as he leaves her following a near-violent love storm. If he raps her on the button, saying, "So long, Butch," you know they are buddies no more . . . it says here.

And finally, there is one "floating phrase" for which there is no defense. It's a sort of pre-alibi that actually doesn't float. It sneaks up on you. This is the way it goes. Before a picture starts, the cameraman walks up to you and says:

"You have a nice face."
"Thank you," you say.
"You have a very nice face. A

Monahans-Wickett School Program To Be Mapped Saturday

MONAHANS — The school program of the Monahans-Wickett system for the year will be outlined at a general faculty and staff meeting scheduled Saturday morning. The meeting, at which Supt. R. D. Lee will preside, will be held at the high school building.

Twenty faculty changes are announced for the 1951-52 term with 10 new instructors and two administrators added.

Various faculty members are listed on the program for the Saturday meeting.

New teachers and their assignments include: Mrs. W. M. Smith, high school librarian; Andy Everett, high school coach and physical education; Glen Whittis, basketball coach and high school social science; Betty Patterson, commercial subjects; Mrs. Ema Gresham, home-making; Joseph Collyns, sixth grade; Mrs. Charlene Collyns, fifth grade; Joe Holley, junior high coach and physical education; Mrs. Victoria Sutherland, first grade; Betty Beavers, elementary music teacher.

Other new faculty members include: Mrs. Cecil Turner, junior high music; Clara Jo Green, music at Wickett; Mrs. Julius Koelias, school nurse; Pat McLeod, high school arts and crafts.

Socialite Charged With Jewel Theft

MINEOLA, N. Y.—(AP)—A young Long Island matron who is listed in the social register also had her name on the police blotter Wednesday, accused of stealing $10,000 in gems from the home of a friend.

Nassau County Chief of Detectives Stuyvesant Pinnell said Mrs. Ethel Carhart Jones Taylor, 25, signed a statement admitting she took the jewels from the Syosset, N. Y., home of Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Chew Welch last March 29.

Mrs. Taylor's husband, John, is an executive in a New Jersey airplane parts factory, the detective said. Her father, Warner L. Jones, a New York broker, has estates at Glen Head, N. Y., and Aiken, S. C. The social register also lists Mrs. Welch. Her husband, Earle, is a young banker.

Pinnell said Mrs. Taylor was arrested at her new Hyde Park home after three pieces of the jewelry, located in a Manhattan store, were traced to her as the seller. Three other pieces were found at her home, Pinnell said.

Mrs. Taylor said she had "thrown the rest of the jewels in the Atlantic Ocean," the detective said. She pleaded innocent to a charge of grand larceny and was released in $8,000 bail.

Army Experiments With Air Delivery Via Flying Saucers

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Army is experimenting with flying saucers—yes, flying saucers—to supply troops in the field with water, gasoline and other liquids.

It announced Tuesday that dis-shaped containers made of synthetic rubber have been dropped from altitudes of 400 to 2,000 feet without bursting or spilling their five-gallon contents of liquids.

When they hit the ground, the Army said, they stretch to almost double their normal size, bound back into the air and then settle down near the point of contact.

Tests have shown the containers, made in cooperation with the General Tire and Rubber Company, may be dropped many times without damage.

The Army described these honest-to-goodness, junior size flying saucers as looking like inflated pancakes, about two feet across and weighing five pounds.

Reducing Institutes Are Back In Business

FRANKFURT, GERMANY —(AP)—West Germany is back on its feet again and with quivering arches: the reducing institutes are back in business.

Things got tough for the people who fasten their bankrolls by thinning waists before the war. Food became scarce, and anyway it was unpopular to go around with a bay window.

The reducing institute men began looking for new jobs. Then the war came and land on bread was a treat. There wasn't a lot of that either and some people had trouble working up a shadow. Post-war troubles kept punches below par, too. It was not until currency reform in 1948 that people with big appetites got up from dinner happy.

Today West Germany has become the mecca for whip cream makers and the boys who can dish up staggering strudels and cakes and schitzels. Three years of this has had its effect on waists. Many German hausfrau are eyeing themselves with mild alarm. After all, there is a limit.

The MATURE PARENT

How To Fight Off Attacks On Your Love For Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Recently, a mother writes, her husband has begun accusing her of not loving their 11-year-old daughter. Since he makes this charge in the child's presence, she is beginning to resist her mother's discipline. The home is so unhappy that the mother is beginning to wonder the way she should. She asks if I have any helpful suggestion to make.

I have a suggestion. I suggest that this mother stop worrying about whether she loves her child and start in loving herself.

Dr. Erich Fromm has given us a definition of love which this confused mother should ponder. "Love," he says, "is the expression of intimacy between two human beings, under the condition of the preservation of each other's integrity."

My correspondent's integrity is under attack. Let her repair the damage that has been done to it. When she has regained her sense of herself as a lovable, worthy person, she can begin to concern herself with loving her little girl.

It is very hard indeed for us to love anyone at all when we are tormented with fear that we are a wicked, unnatural person. Very few of us can endure such a fear without beginning to hate.

A parent who is accused of not liking his child should take account of this fear and laugh it out of existence. If he takes it seriously, he may end up by actually coming to resent the youngster who seems responsible for exposing his parent as a bad human being. My correspondent does not have to prove that she is lovable and good to either her child or her husband. Just to herself.

Simple Aggression

We should recognize as simple aggression any pressure that insists that we prove to others that we are good, efficient, and worthy. Envy, hurt, and discouragement always are saying to us, "Come on, let's see how good you are. Let's see you prove you're what you claim to be." We shouldn't fall for it. We prove what we claim to be to ourselves, and to God if we believe in Him.

I think that if my correspondent can accept this idea, she may be able to solve her problem. As she develops self-acceptance and self-appreciation, love for her little girl will just happen to her. It will happen so obviously that nobody will be able to question it.

When we are trying to work out a problem like this, the less we talk about our strategy, the better. One of the pitfalls is the trick that gets us into defensive arguments. We shouldn't fall for that, either. The business of rebuilding our sense of our own value is a deeply private one and our sincere effort should not be made the subject of discussion or argument.

Anything that tries to diminish or destroy our sense of ourselves as good is not helping us to love. It is helping us to doubt, to fear, to resent and to feel guilt.

The child psychologist has told us often that this is true of children. It's true of their fathers and mothers, too. (All Rights Reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Mrs. Halfast Calls For Promenaders

Mrs. Ed Halfast called for the Tuesday meeting of the Promenaders Square Dance Club. The club met in the Midland Officers Club. It was announced that the Promenaders would join the Circle Eight Square Dance Club. The next meeting will be a potluck supper September 11.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. A. J. Bell and Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Lindsey.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bell, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Bradberry, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Halfast, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hagler and Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Wood.

Pool, Mills Call For Square Dancing

Johnny Mills and J. R. Pool were the callers Tuesday night at the meeting of the Circle Eight Square Dance Club in the American Legion Hall.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dameron, Mrs. Johnny Mills, Mrs. J. R. Pool, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Van Landingham, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Art West.

ATTENDS REUNION

Mrs. Guy Vanderpool and sons, Harold, John and Roy, returned Monday from Houston where they attended a reunion of Mrs. Vanderpool's family. Nine of the 12 children in the family were present. The reunion was held in the home of Eldon Young, Mrs. Vanderpool's brother.

Aged Woman Dies After Witnessing Traffic Accident

NEW YORK — (AP) — A 78-year-old woman was frightened into a fatal heart seizure Tuesday night as she watched an auto jump a curb and pin a little girl against a wall.

The child, Antoinette Carucci, 18, was injured badly. The woman, Mrs. Anna Gherillo, was sitting nearby in a chair on the sidewalk when the car went out of control on a lower East Side street. Mrs. Gherillo was not touched by the auto.

Police had to rescue the occupants of the auto—Alberto Medina, 34, and his brother, Fernando, 38—after an angry crowd of about 500 persons milled about after the mishap. Police released the Medinas after questioning.

Prospective Buyer Changes His Mind

A negro man and woman walked into the Midland Pawn Shop at 110 East Wall Street Tuesday afternoon. The man approached Warren E. Sullins, who operates the business. "I want to buy an overcoat," he said.

Sullins took him to the back of the store and showed him the coats he had in stock.

A few minutes later the man joined the woman, who had stayed at the front of the store, and they left.

When Sullins checked the cash register, he discovered $361 in cash and a .38 caliber revolver missing. "And he didn't even buy the overcoat," Sullins complained to the police.

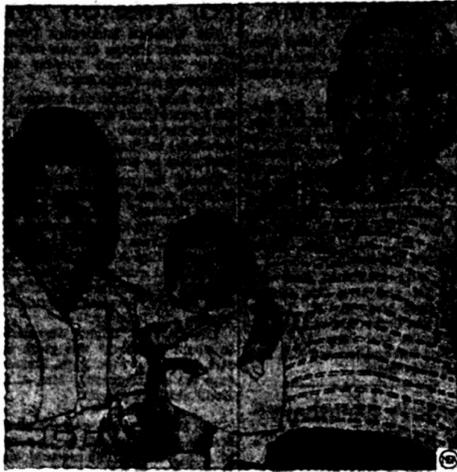

Emergency Message Awaits Midlander

An emergency telegram awaited a Galveston man here Wednesday.

The Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy of St. Ann's Catholic Church asked help in locating Larry J. O'Neil, whose father, John J. O'Neil, was reported critically ill in a Galveston hospital.

The telegram was sent in care of Father Kennedy but contained no information as to where O'Neil resides or works.

Hoosiers Find 'Little White Flower'

Under a pine tree Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herkless found "Little White Flower." Now, in clean clothes and a quiet Indiana home, she's Linda Mae Herkless.

ELWOOD, IND. — (NEA) — Most people who visit native Indian villages come back with a few Indian trinkets. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Herkless came back with an Indian. But a very little Indian.

The Herklesses left their quiet home on a quiet street for a summer vacation out West. They went to Colorado, to visit their adopted son, Gene, now a soldier. It was his being away that made their home a little too quiet.

One thing they wanted to do in Colorado was visit an Indian village. The three walked through like thousands of tourists, buying souvenirs and taking pictures. But their tour ended by being far from routine.

Mrs. Herkless heard a thin, crying noise.

"It was though a hungry little kitten was complaining at supper time," she says.

Follow Sound

They followed the sound and found a baby girl, wrapped in a dirty blanket lying underneath a pine tree. Mrs. Herkless picked the infant up and they walked back to the center of the village.

Local officials searched and decided that the six-month-old, brown-eyed, Cherokee girl had been abandoned. But they kept on looking for the parents. Gene Herkless had to report back to camp, as his furlough was up, but the parents stayed on.

The Indian couple was found, and it was quite plain they didn't want the child. When they learned the Herklesses wanted to help, the mother and father asked, simply why the strangers didn't take "Little White Flower" home with them.

Until the actual request was made, the Herklesses hadn't said a word about taking the child. But each knew the other wanted to, very badly. They talked to local authorities and to an attorney. And Gene got a 24-hour pass to give the final OK.

Gene asked only one question:

Secret Atomic Tests Scheduled In Nevada

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A new series of secret atomic tests will be held shortly on the Frenchman's Flats Proving Ground near Las Vegas, Nev., the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) announced Tuesday.

Radiation from some of the explosions will extend over Nevada and other parts of the country, AEC said, but "all necessary precautions x x x will be undertaken to insure that safe conditions are maintained."

There was no hint as to the exact nature of the new tests, other than announcement they will include explosions of both conventional and atomic explosives.

AEC said only a few official observers will view the tests, but it hopes to arrange a later one which may be viewed by news and radio men and civil defense officials.

Five test blasts were set off at the Nevada proving grounds last January and February, lighting the night skies for miles around.

Doswell Explorations In New Mexico Will Continue, Say Aides

FARMINGTON, N. M. — (AP) — Oil and gas exploration directed by Thomas W. Doswell will continue despite the death of the Texas millionaire, an associate has revealed.

Kim G. Lowry, attorney and fiscal agent for the Doswell group, Tuesday said lease owners expect to spend $2,000,000 in the next four months developing 50,000 acres in this vicinity.

Lowry said a published report that drilling might be curtailed was "entirely without foundation."

Doswell, 55, was shot and killed outside his Dallas apartment hotel last week. His widow, Mrs. Rebecca Doswell, 52, has been charged with murder.

School Plants Are Renovated

MONAHANS — The school plants of the Monahans-Wickett system were renovated and redeccored during the summer in preparation for the 1951-52 school year.

A complete overhaul of the junior high building was the first in 16 years. The homemaker building was redeccored. Also redeccored was the junior gym and auditorium. Twenty-eight new doors were placed in the junior high structure.

South Ward school rooms and corridors were repainted. The school yard was leveled and landscaped. North Ward received extensive painting and repair. Edwards School had routine maintenance. Wickett school corridors were repainted. Rest-rooms were enlarged at East Ward. The high school had a routine touch up.

Selective Service Outlines Rules For Graduate Students

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Selective Service set up a definition Wednesday to guide draft boards in determining when registrants may be regarded as graduate students.

It said such a student must devote himself primarily to graduate study and must progress at the normal rate of not more than two years of study for a master's degree and not more than four years for a doctor's degree.

The ruling is significant because: 1. A full-time graduate student may be deferred from military service as long as he maintains a satisfactory scholastic record.

2. There has been considerable confusion as to the definition of a full-time graduate student—whether a student devoting 60 per cent of his time to graduate studies and the rest to teaching would be eligible for deferment, for example.

Ruling Declares Part Of Loyalty Oath Is Invalid

AUSTIN —(P)—The attorney general Wednesday declared unconstitutional that part of the new state loyalty oath requiring state employees to swear they have not belonged to the Communist Party or other subversive organization for the last 10 years.

Attorney General Price Daniel said the "non-subversive oath" required by a rider in the general appropriation bill for the next two years is constitutional if used to bar present members of subversive groups.

He knocked out the retroactive application because such a law would be a matter of general legislation and therefore invalid in a general appropriation bill.

The opinion had been requested by a 3-4 vote on the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, with Chairman Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of Dallas leading the majority, who wanted a ruling.

Ridgway—

The Red general said "We did not on the night of the 22nd reject your making of the reinvestigation in daylight."

Peiping radio Wednesday asserted UN liaison officers agreed to return to Kaesong the next day with Allied newsmen for further examination. The broadcast, attributed to two Communist newsmen who were in Kaesong, continued:

"The agreed arrangement, we were told, was that UN liaison officer Col. A. J. Kinney would telephone and say what time he was coming. Until today he has never telephoned."

Ridgway's note told the Reds "when you are prepared" to resume truce talks "I will direct my representatives to meet with yours, with a view to seeking a reasonable armistice agreement."

Powerful Army radio transmitters began broadcasting Ridgway's brief reply at 9 a.m. Wednesday. Half an hour later, an English copy was delivered to Red liaison officers at Panmunjom, Communist outpost southeast of Kaesong.

Possibilities of a truce on the war-torn peninsula reached the most critical juncture since armistice negotiations began July 10.

Meanwhile, Communist ground forces have stepped up their attacks along the battlefront. Six Red attacks were reported beaten back in one rain-soaked sector alone. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said the Reds lost 8,900 killed, wounded and captured across the front from August 18 to 24.

A suspicion has been mounting steadily in some quarters that the Reds don't want to get on with armistice talks. This view is that they are creating incidents to afford time for greater buildups of their front line forces in preparation for a new offensive.

Long truck convoys have been carrying troops and supplies to the front under cover of clouds and rains that protected them from Allied air attack.

Speaker Says Town Judged By People And Civic Pride

"A town is judged by its people and their civic pride," Wick Fowler, managing editor of The Reporter-Telegram, told members of the Midland Lions Club at their luncheon meeting Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer.

Fowler relaxed his audience with humor and then solidly drove home a punch appeal for citizens to know each other and to work together for a better city, undivided in parts.

"Any citizen can make a survey of our city and find out what it needs. Good citizens are not strangers. A suggested project is to bring back the friendliness of old West Texas. The Lions Club could lead such a project," Fowler said.

"As we watch the city grow, we should know the people growing with it. We should do something with what we have. We should develop a local 'foreign' policy. West Texans are rugged individualists but together they can do much."

The speaker was introduced by Carl Hyde, program chairman. J. P. (Kit) Carson presided. Wesley May led group singing. Invocation was by L. V. Bassham.

Newsman—

(Continued From Page One) Louisiana will rise to the defense of these courageous men in their fight to expose the very bad gambling situation in their parish," said Katsauer, who headed the Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

He said the parish had asked the crime committee to investigate conditions there, but "we lacked the time to do it." He said he had been told gambling flourished openly.

Case, who has a long background of newspaper work, said he thought the people of Louisiana have enough pride in their press to handle the situation themselves, without congressional intervention.

When he first learned of the indictment, Case exploded: "I didn't think a thing like that could happen in America."

Moody, a former newsmen and the Senate's newest member, said he would call the case to the attention of appropriate committees. He said a paper that exposes crime is entitled to recognition for performing a major public service—not indictments.

Louisiana's Senator Long said he had heard Dixon sparked a crusade against gambling, but said he wanted to know more of the facts before commenting on the indictments.

Cutter Removes Crazy Crewman From Fishing Boat

NEW ORLEANS —(P)—The Coast Guard cutter Cartigan early Wednesday removed a deranged crewman from aboard a trawler in the Gulf of Mexico, about 200 miles southwest of New Orleans.

The Coast Guard here reported the Cartigan sped to the trawler, whose home port has not been established, after a message was received from the fishing boat's unidentified captain.

The captain radioed that the only other person aboard the trawler was "violently insane" and "attempting to take life."

The radio message, relayed to the Coast Guard here by the trawler Dutches, also in the Gulf, did not make clear as to whether the deranged crewman was trying to take his life or the captain's.

The Cartigan reported the deranged crewman would be taken to Galveston, Texas.

VFW Asks United Nations To Help Liberate Newsmen

NEW YORK —(P)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Wednesday called on the United Nations to help free William N. Oatis, associated Press correspondent, and a New Jersey "forgotten man" from prison in Czechoslovakia.

John Hvesada of Hillsdale, N. J., was identified by Adrian Grobomith of Syracuse, chairman of the VFW National Legislative Committee, as the "forgotten man."

He said Hvesada has been held in Czechoslovakia since May, 1950, on charges of spying for a foreign government while studying in the Russian satellite country. Oatis also was jailed on spy charges.

A resolution unanimously adopted by the VFW in its annual encampment there also proposed liberation measures ranging from cutting off United States trade with Czechoslovakia to an appeal to the Czech people to overthrow their government.

It also suggested that the United States government impose identical restrictions on Czechoslovakian and other Iron Curtain correspondents as are imposed on American correspondents in Czechoslovakia.

Blumenthal Hurls 1-0 Game

Colts Scoreless In Two Contests

SAN ANGELO—A tight pitching battle between Midland's Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal and San Angelo's Jimmy McClure was won by Blumenthal as the Indians took a 1-0 verdict here in Longhorn League play Tuesday night.

The win was the second consecutive shutout for the Tribe over the Colts.

Blumenthal limited the Colts to five hits in hurling the win. Monday night, Eddie Jacome had allowed but a pair of bingles.

The winning and only run came early—in the first inning. Hayden White drove in the only tally of the contest with a single, after Scooter Hughes had pumped a double. A later double by Midland Manager Zeke Bonura was the only other extra-base blow of the game.

Blumenthal allowed a lead-off single to Tony Guerrero in the first inning, then settled the Colts' bats until the fifth. San Angelo threatened in the sixth and seventh after walks and a couple of hits put men on the sacks, but in both instances Blumenthal pitched himself out of trouble. He struck out five and walked four.

Jimmy McClure tossed good ball for the losers, giving up but seven hits, fanning eight and walking one. But his teammates failed to get him any runs, and as a result Midland swept the two-game series.

Franks Posts 29th Longhorn Loop Win

By The Associated Press.
The man Franks is back again. This time he stopped the Sweetwater Swatters with six hits to pitch the Roswell Rockets to a 14-1 victory in a Longhorn League game. The victory gave Dean his twenty-ninth of the season against eight losses. And it practically assured him of 30 wins for the year.

But his fine performance had to take a back seat to Bruce Blumenthal's masterful five-hit shutout pitching against the San Angelo Colts. The Midland righthander bested Jimmy McClure, 1-0, in a thriller, and George Abbott, the Vernon handyman, also turned in a fine mound performance. He blanked Artesia on three hits to pitch Vernon to a 4-0 decision.

Abbott, who catches, plays first base and the outfield when not pitching, made it fast. The game was unrehearsed in an hour and 29 minutes for a league record.

Stasey Does It
Pat Stasey singled with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to give Big Spring a 14-13 victory over Odessa in a wild scoring affair. The Broncos splurged for 10 runs off nine hits in the third inning. Odessa had a nine-run inning of its own, the fifth.

Felix Gomez had a three-run home run in the Big Bronc inning. Charley Willis hit a grand-slam home run for Odessa while Kenny Peacock and Leo Eastham also had circuiters.

The Yankees, who won Monday could end the series with another triumph. If the Cubs win the third and final game will be played Friday afternoon.

Bulldogs Prep For Saturday Skirmish Here

Grid drills continued for the Midland High School football hopefuls Wednesday, as Coach Tugboat Jones sent his charges through the regular twice-a-day workouts.

No startling developments came out of the second-day drills Tuesday. Jones, along with assistants Red Rutledge and Audrey Gill, "eased up" on the gridders considerably Tuesday.

Although a scrimmage session was held, the gridders weren't pushed quite so hard as in first day drills Monday—but the workout still was strenuous.

See Action
Jones said it was "a bit early" to name a starting lineup for the scrimmage against Monahans Saturday, in a tilt scheduled for 4 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. But, the following boys have been considered for action during the workouts:

Ends: Jimmie Lineberger, Robert Keising, Harold Patten and Dan Ratcliff; tackles: Stan Coker, Red East, Keys Curry and Jay Schlichting; guards: Dalton Breyer, Pete English, Darrell Spivey and Bill Leonard; centers: Loren Roberts, A. W. Booth and Milton Jones; backs: Larry Friday, Ralph Brooks, Johnny Kennedy, Roy Kimsey, Harold Hensey, M. A. Rose and Dick Spencer.

From this group, the starting lineup probably will come for the scrimmage, and also against San Angelo September 14 in the opening game, although Jones hasn't indicated who will play.

"The lineup still is open to any hustling boys," he said Wednesday.

MANAGER SENDS IN BATBOY
INDIANAPOLIS.—(P)—Wheeler Don Gutteridge, manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association, gets mad he means it. Following a hectic argument with the umpires the night previous, Don refused to meet with the umpires at home plate prior to a game with Kansas City. Instead he sent the batboy with the lineup. The arbiters refused to emmentary and Don had to send one of his coaches.

Jennings, Maxwell Fire Below-Par Golf To Qualify In-USGA

Richard Jennings of Lubbock and Billy Maxwell of Odessa fired below-par golf on the Midland Country Club course Tuesday to qualify in the amateur championship sectional qualifying round of the United States Golf Association.

Jennings shot a seven-under par 137 for the 36-hole grind. Maxwell was right after him with a six-under par 138. Jennings' card read 71-66. Maxwell's read 70-68.

Lee Pinkston of Abilene, former Abilene High School links ace, was named first alternate. He shot 73-73 for a total of 146.

Entries here included seven golfers, none from Midland. Others playing were Bill Hightower, Ted Roden, Bill Breedren, and Bill Roden, all of Odessa.

Fred Hogan, sectional representative of the USGA, conducted the qualifying and certified the qualifiers.

Qualifying rounds were held in various sectors of the nation.

Eagles Move Into Second Spot; Cats Aim For Top Half

By The Associated Press
The Fort Worth Cats continued their drive for the first division in the Texas League Tuesday night but they now are chasing a new ball club. The Dallas Eagles moved ahead of the Beaumont Roughnecks into third place. Now it is the Roughnecks the Cats are determined to replace.

Dallas took the sugar game of its series with Beaumont, 7-3, to pass the Roughnecks and remain on the heels of the San Antonio Missions. The victor gave the Eagles a half-game lead over Beaumont, while the Roughnecks fell within a game and a half of fifth place.

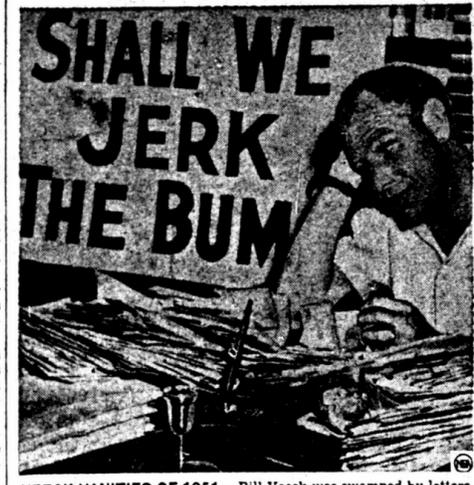

Fort worth made it fast against Shreveport, shading the Sports, 2-0, in a game played in an hour and 26 minutes. Vincent Lopez hurled the shutout that moved the Cats a half-game closer to their objective.

Houston continued to breeze along, downing Tulsa, 2-1. San Antonio whammed Oklahoma City, 12-6, in the only wild game of the night.

Swatters Invade Indian Park For Wednesday Contest

Sweetwater's Swatters start their final 1951 stand in Indian Park Wednesday night, meeting the Midland Indians at 8:15 p.m.

Bill Reed or Israel Ten probably will hurl for the Tribe. Midland meets the Swatters at the same time Thursday, then tangles with San Angelo here September 2 and 3, to wind up the home season. The "old timers" game will be played the last home game. It is to be of three inning duration.

VEECK VANITIES OF 1951—Bill Veck was swamped by letters from fans throughout the country who wanted to run the Browns for one night. Those making the request were sent passes for the game with the Athletics they "managed" from a section of the grandstand. The sign is one of several held up when the "managers" made a decision. FARMHAND PRODUCES

BROOKLYN.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers hope they have a future hurling star in pitcher Danny Hayling now doing his mound chores for Hazard in the Class D Mountain States League. Hayling, a righthander from Costa Rica, won 18 games in a row to start the season. After dropping one, he triumphed in his next three starts. At the end of July he had a neat 21-1 record.

A ROVING FIELDER

CHICAGO.—(P)—Ray Coleman, White Sox outfielder recently obtained from the Browns, knows what it means to cover the outfield. In his second game in a White Sox uniform he started against the Athletics in center field. In the eighth inning Manager Paul Richards switched Ray to left field. When the game entered the tenth inning, Coleman was patrolling right field.

JayCees Win Playoff Tilt In Shorthorn

Jim Garvin was the victim of unsteady fielding by his teammates Tuesday afternoon, as the JayCees defeated the Rotary team, 5-3, in the first game of the Shorthorn League playoffs.

Garvin allowed but one hit, although he was tagged with the loss. His mates made five errors, and the JayCees capitalized on all the miscues.

Dale Jobe, the winning hurler, allowed six bingles.

Jimmy Claiborne, JayCee shortstop, chocked off a threatening Rotary rally in the sixth inning, capturing a line drive and turning an unassisted double play with the bases loaded.

The score: R H E
Rotary 000 110 0-3 6 8
JayCees 301 010 0-5 1 2

Pro Grid Star Is Coach Jinx

AP Newfeatures
DETROIT — Bobby Layne, star quarterback for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, must be a jinx to coaches. During the last six years—in both college and pro ranks—he has played under seven head coaches.

During his sophomore and junior years at the University of Texas, Layne was coached by Dana X. Bible. Blair Cherry succeeded Bible during Layne's senior year.

In pro football since 1948, traveling Bobby has been with the Chicago Bears, New York Yanks and Detroit Lions. His pro coaches have been George Halas, Clipper Smith, Joe Bach, Bo McMillan and Buddy Parker.

Experts On Bowling Organize Loops In Western Europe

WASHINGTON.—(NEA)—Frank K. Baker, secretary-treasurer of the American Bowling Congress, will participate in a series of bowling clinics for United States servicemen in Western Europe.

Baker will spend two weeks during late August and early September helping to organize leagues and tournaments. The armed services have installed more than 700 alley beds there.

Trick-shot expert Andy Varipapa and Joe Norris, authority on alley maintenance, will accompany Baker.

THE TRAVELING COACH

DETROIT.—(P)—Earl M. Brown, newly appointed assistant coach of the Detroit Lions in the NFL, might rightfully be called the Marco Polo of football. Although only 35 years of age, Brown has held coaching positions at Brown, Harvard, Dartmouth, Canisius and Auburn. He also served a year as head Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y.

Yankees, Indians Keep Pace; Giants Lose Long Streak

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is this a pitchers' year or does Ted Williams know something when he insists the ball is dead?

Look what happened Tuesday. Early Wynn protected Cleveland's one-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League by besting Philadelphia's Sam Yoldak in a 1-0 hurling duel. A home run by Bob Kennedy settled the issue.

Brooklyn increased its National League lead to six games as Rookie Clem Labine outpitched Cincinnati's Howie Fox, 3-1, while Pittsburgh's Howie Pollet blanked Sheldon Jones and the runner-up New York Giants, 2-0, to end their 16-game winning streak.

Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cards shut out Bubba Church and the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-0, and Omar (Turk) Lown of the Chicago Cubs whitewashed Chet Nichols and the Boston Braves, 1-0. The highest run total was made by the Yankees, who took the St. Louis Browns, 7-3, in 10 innings with the help of 13 walks by Tommy Byrne. The Detroit Tigers nipped the third-place Boston Red Sox, 5-4. Chicago's White Sox took a 4-3 decision from Washington in 10 innings.

A seventh-inning home run by Kennedy gave Cleveland its twelfth straight triumph over the Athletics. It was the second time the Indians have beaten Zoidak, a former teammate, 1-0.

A crowd of 23,573 watched Wynn register his fifteenth victory. That brought Cleveland's home attendance to 150,187, tops in the majors. Wynn gave up five hits to four for Zoidak.

Byrne's thirteenth walk, a pair of fielder's choices, a long fly by Joe DiMaggio and a single by Charlie Silvera furnished the winning Yankee runs in the tenth. Bob Kuzava, fourth Yankee hurler, was credited with the victory. The Browns rallied for three runs in the eighth to tie the score at 5-5. A two-run single by Matt Batts climaxed the rally.

A brilliant pitching exhibition by Pollet ended the Giants' 16-game winning streak, longest in the National League since 1935. It took two unearned Pittsburgh runs, however, to cool off the New Yorkers.

The Pirates made only three hits off Jones. Only one of them figured in the scoring. That was an eighth-inning leadoff single by Rookie Frank Thomas. Jones then walked Ralph Kiner and ran the count to 3-1 on Gus Bell, when Dave Koslo replaced him.

Jack Phillips came in to bat for Bell and grounded into a double play on the first pitch. The Giants appeared out of the woods when Pinch Hitter Clyde McCullough sent a routine grounder to second but Eddie Stanky bobbled the ball and Thomas scored. Then Outfielder Don Mueller dropped a fly ball after an Alphonse-Gaston act with Teammate Willie Mays and McCullough scored all the way from first.

Pollet, however, deserved the victory. He struck out four, walked none and retired 17 men in succession. He gave up six hits, three of them to Bobby Thomson.

Duke Snider batted in all Brooklyn's runs with a fourth-inning single and an eighth-inning homer. His four-bagger came with one man

Council Approves All Proposed Changes In Zoning Except One

Proposed zoning changes, with one exception, were approved Tuesday night by the City Council.

The City Zoning Commission recommendations had included the changing from "A" to "B" the Morelan addition in the west section of Midland.

But E. C. Morelan, who owns property in the area, said he preferred to have it remain in "A" at this time and the council agreed.

Approved changes included: The remainder of Lots 1, 2, 3 and 4, Block 45, Cowdan addition, from "B" to "G" Zone.

Blocks 6 and 17 and 73, Haley Heights addition, from "G" to "K". Blocks 191, 192, 193 and 194 and the south half of Blocks 167, 168, 169, 170 and 171, Southern Addition, from "B" to "G" zone.

Blocks 1, Thorne addition, from "A" to "B" zone. Crestview Heights addition from "A" to "B" zone.

Seminole To Field Light, Fast Team

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Staff

SEMINOLE—A bevy of fine backs, but a shortage of talented line material is the story of the Seminole High School Indians as they prepare to open the 1951 season under new Coach George Zoller, former Texas Tech griddler and assistant mentor at Plainview last season.

Thirty-four candidates were all Zoller could count as the squad turned out for the first week of drills—and from this group must come both A and B teams.

But Zoller at least has the backs. There's experienced John Wilson at quarterback, and two sparkling halfbacks, Junior Paul Sublett and senior Alfred Sims. The fullback will be manned by either Donald Belt, a 170-pound lad up off the B team, or Richard Lindley who showed great promise as a freshman letterman several seasons back, but who has been out with injuries the past two years. Now a senior, Lindley may find it difficult to come back after the long layoff.

Still another bright back is Jackie Sparks, the terrific halfback who was a sophomore stand-out last season. Sparks has dropped from 174 to 165 pounds in weight, but has lost none of his flashing speed.

Up front in the line, is another question. A pair of top ends and a fine tackle return with experience. After that, its B and reserve lettermen.

The ends are Jackie Gothard and Jim Ivey, co-captains. Gothard, a junior, weighs 165. Ivey, a senior, is 10 pounds lighter. The tackle returning is Charles Smith, biggest man on the team at 188 pounds. Smith is a candidate for all-district honors.

The overall outlook for the Seminole team is a fast, light outfit which will be dangerous at all times, and which could surprise. But in view of the schedule, don't look for a championship or an unbeaten season. A 50-50 split would be sufficient this season. It's 1952 when the Indians really should roll. The Indians open in Denver City, September 7.

90-YARD REMINDER
DETROIT—(AP)—Jack Christiansen rookie halfback with the Detroit Lions from Colorado A&M, will never forget his first collegiate touchdown. Against Colorado University, Christiansen caught a punt and galloped 90 yards to score.

Gavilan Favored Over Billy Graham

NEW YORK—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan, confident and at the peak of his form, was rated a hefty 13 to 5 favorite to whip Billy Graham of New York in their 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

Although he lost one split decision to Graham and won the same way in the return, the sleek, flashy Cuban has been made the big choice on the strength of his recent form.

Sooners, Nebraska Loom As Big Seven Powerhouses

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska will come up with the sharpest offenses in Big Seven conference football history, but the overall power and the title remain at Oklahoma.

That's the consensus of coaches, newsmen and fans as the squads open Fall practice Thursday.

Ask just about any Big Seven observer and he'll list this finish: Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Missouri, Iowa State and Kansas State.

Such a finish would find the Oklahoma Sooners in the same lofty spot they have held for five years running. They tied with Kansas for the crown in 1946 and 1947.

Oklahoma, the 1950 National Champion, lost Fullback Leon Heath and about 10 other men who could have starred on any team, but Coach Bud Wilkinson again will be equipped with one of the nation's better balanced teams.

It isn't likely a Big Seven team will beat the powerfully-manned and well-coached Oklahomans this season. The Sooners haven't lost a conference game since 1946 and had a string of 31 successive victories before being stopped by Kentucky in the last Sugar Bowl.

Tackle Jim Weatherall is an All-America holdover and key of the Oklahoma line. Halfback Billy Vessels, a fleet and smashing junior, could wind up in the All-America class.

If split Oklahoma falters, then Nebraska, is given best chance to take the title. The Nebraska attack is propelled by Bobby Reynolds, junior halfback who made All-America last Fall.

Reynolds led the nation in scoring with 157 points, rushed for 1,342 yards, caught 11 passes for three touchdowns, averaged 37.7 yards on 37 punts and assisted with the passing. He scored against every opponent; got three touchdowns against Oklahoma.

Either Kansas, under Jules Sikes, or Coach Dallas Ward's Colorado Buffaloes could prove major surprises.

Kansas expects a fine attack spearheaded by Junior Halfback Charlie Hoag, 190.

Colorado people believe this will be a Colorado season. Senior Fullback Merwin Hodel is a wheelhorse in the single wing attack.

Unless he shows up with an amazing drive of freshmen—they're eligible for the varsity this time—Don Faurot is in for his worst season since taking over at Missouri in 1935.

Iowa State, under Abe Stuber, could improve over its fifth place, 1950 finish—at the expense of Missouri.

Kansas State, last in the league annually since prewar days, has a new coaching staff headed by young Bill Meek, former Tennessee star. The talent still is weakest in the loop.

Oklahoma has to do business with William and Mary, Texas A&M and Texas before jumping into family affairs.

From New England are Harvard, Boston College and Brown. New York City provides Fordham and New York University. Upper New York State, Philadelphia, the middle west, southeast and south are represented by Colgate, Temple, Marquette, Quantico Marines and Tulane, respectively.

NEW OLD STYLE
LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—Red Sanders calls the dressed-up single-line he introduced at UCLA a horse-and-buggy formation with a television set in the dashboard.

Meyer Bids For Hard Luck Title
PHILADELPHIA—(NEA)—No wonder Russ Meyer is so ill-tempered!

Well on his way to the hard-luck championship of the National League, the Phillies' right-hander dropped nine decisions—six of them shutouts. He's lost 1-0, 3-0 and four 2-0 games. He pitched a one-hitter against the Dodgers, and lost, 2-0.

In the line, 180-pound Wade Graham is a candidate for all-district laurels. He's a tackle. Another bright spot is letterman George Carruth, a 160-pounder, Billie Joe Walker, 160-pounder who performed at center last year, has been shifted to end.

The only trouble in the line is a lack of reserves—but that problem is an acute one.

Andrews opens against Dalhart, going there September 7—and with only eight days to go before the contest, the Mustangs hadn't received much contact work. Coach Taylor and assistants have found it necessary to run "dummy" plays to acquaint the backs with their assignments.

That's going to make the opening game a bit rough. Perhaps the Mustangs will improve over the season, but right now we'd place them at the bottom of District 8-AA.

DOTS AND DASHES: Midland pitchers have surrendered but two runs in their last three ball games... Most unusual... But liked by the fans... So Bob Feller is through as a pitcher and Doak Walker is too small for pro football?... That shows how much sports "experts" really know about it... Tommy Hart, the Big Spring scribe, has picked Plainview and Sweetwater as the teams to beat in District 1-AAA this season... And we agree with him... Dick Spencer one of the most improved boys on the MHS squad, from all indications in Spring drills thus far... End of The Row for now!

OPS Okays Wage Hike For Textile Workers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A nine and a half-cent-an-hour wage increase for 84,000 woolen textile workers was approved Tuesday by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The decision cleared the way for action on 111 other similar cases, the board said.

Affected were 24,000 workers of the American Woolen Company and 60,000 in other textile firms.

The increases will be effective as far back as March 15, depending on the effective date of the contracts.

The ancient Phoenicians are believed to have been the first traders to visit Travancore, India.

GOING ON A VACATION? TAKING A LONG WEEK END TRIP? DRIVING ON THIN SMOOTH TIRES?

Protect YOURSELF Against Blowout ACCIDENTS!

LifeGuard Safety Tubes by GOOD YEAR Make Blowouts Harmless

DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN
When a blowout occurs — it's the sudden drop of the wheel that may cause disaster!

LifeGuards ARE SAFE
You can put LifeGuard Safety Tubes in your present tires whether they're new or used... are recapped or still have original treads... and drive with your mind free from fear of blowout accidents.

LifeGuards ARE SURE
LifeGuard Safety Tubes are still the best blowout-accident protection that you can buy for your car today. There is no such thing as a blowout-proof tire but LifeGuards make any blowout as harmless as a slow leak.

They're ECONOMICAL, too
LifeGuard Safety Tubes will usually outlast at least three sets of the same size tires besides helping you to get the last mile from your tires with safety. Proved blowout-accident protection for over 16 years.

Remember... there is no such thing as a blowout-proof tire!

ORDINARY TUBE HAS ONLY 1 AIR CHAMBER
LIFEGUARD SAFETY TUBE HAS 2 AIR CHAMBERS

When a tire with an ordinary tube blows out, the single air compartment suddenly collapses — the wheel drops instantly, usually throwing the car out of control.

When a tire with LifeGuard blows out, only the outer chamber gives way. The reserve cord fabric inner tire supports car — deflates slowly. You have ample time to bring car to safe, straightline stop.

Longevity Brings Variety Of Changes

NEW YORK —P— In many countries the population is growing proportionately older and this is bringing changing emphasis in medicine, retirement plans, and other social and economic problems. Look at France. "Geriatrics," journal of the American Geriatric Society, quotes French statistics showing that of France's 40-odd million population, 6,770,000 persons are 60 or more. Forty-three percent of them are living in poverty, nine per cent in distressing conditions, and 41 per cent live modestly.

TIME OUT

LINCOLN, ILL.—P— If the local laddies had been called to a fire, there might have been a birth on the way. Smoky, the traditional Dalmatian of the fire department, came up with just one pup. All hands waited anxiously because the pup was born on the seat of the pumper fire truck.

KNEE BOOTS—Lined guards, HIND SHIN BOOTS—Leather held up by suspenders, protect guards on rear legs of trotters against blows from opposite feet. Prevent cuts by the front shoes.

BELL BOOTS—Usually made of rubber, they fit over the front hoofs to prevent cuts on the tendons to guard horse's elbows from dirt, quarter, or heel, by hind legs. LEG SHOW—Standard bits of equipment protect the limbs of trotters and pacers. There are others designed by trainers and drivers constantly seeking to increase protection against injury and improve speed. (NEA)

Thank You...

For your tremendous expression of confidence in us... and in the future of Midland!

When we announced the opening Sunday of a new all-veteran addition in Crestview Heights, we expected quick response from the many veterans in Midland who had not used their G.I. Home Loan rights. But we were overwhelmed with the enthusiasm with which our announcement was met. We take this tremendous response as a solid vote of confidence in the future of Ever-Growing Midland!

OF THE 70 HOMES ADVERTISED SUNDAY, A FEW ARE STILL AVAILABLE!

If you are a qualified veteran, quick action will make it possible for you to own a beautiful 2-bedroom home in Crestview Heights. Full prices on these homes range from $7,700 to $8,100. The approximate down payment of 11% will include all closing costs.

Contact Mr. Fred Parker at the field office, located at 3100 Roosevelt — five blocks North of the Ranch House cafe. Open evenings for your added convenience.

Reef Prospect In
Dawson Sets Pipe

The Tee Oil Company No. 1-96
Briley, indicated Pennsylvanian lime reef discovery in Central-West
Dawson County is bottomed at 8,641 feet in lime and is waiting for cement to cure on 7-inch casing which has been set at the total depth.

Operator is expected to allow the cement to cure for 72 hours. When that is done the plug will be drilled out and the casing will be perforated between 8,570 feet and the bottom, and the section will be tested.

Correct Reef Top
Corrected top of the reef lime in this wildcat is at 8,570 feet, and not at 8,750 feet, as reported Tuesday through error. Elevation is 3,097 feet.

This prospector indicated possible production in a drillstem test at 8,802-41 feet. The tool was open three hours.

Gas surfaced in 30 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tester was open. Recovery was 4,030 feet of clean oil and 420 feet of salt water.

May Make Oil Well
Interested observers think the prospect has sufficient pay above the water to complete an oil well and a new field opener.

Location is 660 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of section 96, block M, EL&RF survey.
The possible new discovery is 15 miles northwest of Lamesa.

Crockett Wildcat
Gets Water In Reef;
Is Drilling Deeper

Southland Royalty Company and associates No. 1-8 Todd, Central-Northwest Crockett County wildcat is making hole below 6,665 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian after developing salt water in a drillstem test in the crinoidal reef at 6,640-65
feet.

The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 150 feet of drilling mud and 350 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The project is due to drill on to the Ellenburger which is expected

It had shown some signs of production in a drillstem test in the top of the reef at 6,615-40 feet.

Made Some Oil
The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 110 feet of free 36.8-gravity oil, and 198 feet of drilling water. Top of the crinoidal reef is at 6,614 feet. That is on a datum of minus 4,064 feet.

Location is 1,933 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 8, block WX, GC&SF survey.
It is four and one-half miles southwest of the Todd multipay field and two and one-half miles southwest of Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-H Todd, a lobe producer from the reef, which is two miles south of the Todd field.

Indian War Dead
Refused Interment
In Iowa Cemetery

SIoux CITY, IOWA —(AP)— A
Winnebago Indian, killed in action in Korea, has been denied interment in Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery because he was not a member of the Caucasian race.

Mrs. Evelyn Rice of Winnebago,
Neb., widow of Sgt. 1/c John R.
Rice, 37, said cemetery authorities stopped the services Tuesday as the body was about to be lowered into the grave.

The widow, a Caucasian, said she did not know Indians could not be buried there. Mrs. Rice said she bought the lot in the cemetery and signed the contract without notice of a clause which barred her husband from burial there.

Rice was killed in action Sept. 6, 1950, only two weeks after he landed in Korea, while serving with the Eighth Regiment, First Cavalry
Division. He also was a World War
II veteran.

Lt. Edward J. Krichel, budget and finance officer of the Nebraska Military District, said the body will remain at Winnebago until arrangements can be made to inter the veteran in a national cemetery.

New Wheat Variety
Is Grown In Iowa

DES MOINES —(AP)— A new variety of wheat, known as "Vigo" is being grown this year on two farms in this state. Farmers in the area are watching the new wheat with considerable interest.

The new variety, a red fall wheat, was developed in Indiana. It grows an exceptionally long head many of which measure more than six inches. Yield records indicate the large heads will produce 10 to 20 bushels per acre more than the standard varieties.

Teacher 'Get Acquainted' Event Slated Friday Night

Midland schools this year have many new teachers and all of them, along with faculty members who previously have taught here, will attend the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored Teacher Get-Acquainted Party Friday night as guests of honor.

On hand to welcome and to get acquainted with them will be several hundred members of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and their wives or husbands. The C. of C. members planning to attend the function are urged to make reservations not later than Thursday afternoon.

Judge Philip Gilliam of Denver, Colo., one of the nation's outstanding authorities on the prevention of juvenile delinquency, will be the guest speaker at the Friday night gathering. He is judge of the famed Juvenile and Family Court of Denver. The address by Judge Gilliam in the high school auditorium will follow the serving of a fried chicken dinner on the high school playground at 6:30 p.m. Several get-acquainted and entertainment features are planned, according to Russell Conkling, chairman of the Chamber's Education Committee.

The entertainments honoring faculty members prior to the opening of school each fall were started a number of years ago by the Chamber of Commerce. They have become increasingly popular each year as evidenced by increased attendance at each entertainment. This is the first year an out-of-city speaker has been engaged to address the get-acquainted assembly.

Judge Gilliam, a native of Denver, has been judge of Denver's Juvenile and Family Court since 1940. He also is a professor at the University of Denver School of Law, where he was awarded his law degree in 1932. He is an official of the National Juvenile Court Judges Association and has received numerous awards for his work with and for juveniles. Chamber of Commerce officials emphasized the fact all faculty members and their wives or husbands, and all C. of C. members and their wives or husbands are invited and urged to attend the Friday night function.

Remembering All Schools She Attended Is Too Big A Task For Society Editor

By WICK FOWLER

Most persons can remember where they went to school.

But not pretty Marilyn Parker, 23, society editor of The Reporter-Telegram. She—with the help of her parents—can list only 50 of the 88 schools and colleges she attended.

Listing the colleges was a comparatively easy mental trick. There were just three, Southern Methodist University, University of Illinois and Texas State College For Women at Denton where she was graduated with a journalism degree in 1950. But they've been working on the list of elementary and high schools for two weeks and eight schools are missing.

Educators may disagree that enrollment in 88 schools is a sound educational procedure. But Marilyn's case is clear cut. She never flunked a course.

When she was graduated from Fairview (Ark.) High School in 1945 after three months' attendance, she ranked fourth from the top of the class.

Wears Jasper Ring

But she wears a Jasper (Ala.) senior class ring.

"Well, you see," Marilyn said, "I was a junior at Jasper and we ordered our senior rings then, although I knew I wouldn't graduate there. Otherwise, I wouldn't have had a class ring."

For the last 13 years Marilyn and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Parker, have called a trailer home. Her father is with a road construction firm. Right now, home is Esperanza, a little town 60 miles east of El Paso.

Marilyn lives in a Midland apartment between visits home, and her stay here has broken a time-element record. Her 13 months in Midland are by far a longer period than she has stayed in one place since leaving Promise City, Iowa, 13 years ago.

And there's no need to trace this nomad life to any ancestor's allergy to feet that itch to travel.

Both sides of her parents' families reside within 30 miles of one another at Genoa, Iowa, where Marilyn was born. Three generations attended the country school, including Marilyn. This was the school where her mother was a teacher until she met and married Parker.

Iowa education circles saw her more often than other states. She enrolled in 31 Iowa schools, five in Tennessee, four in Arkansas, three in Illinois, two in Missouri and two Texas colleges. Her elementary and high school terms ranged from a week to six months each. But there was one much shorter.

She registered one afternoon in the fourth grade at a Rock Island, Ill., school and at daylight the next morning the Parker trailer was being moved to Lowden, Iowa.

The family bought their first home trailer when Marilyn was 10 and efforts to find an apartment in Pella, Iowa, the beautiful town of Dutch descendants, were unsuccessful. Soon, however, other employees of the company employing her father bought trailers and they moved in a group from place to place.

During School Terms

Most of the other parents, though, left their children with grandparents during school terms. Only two boys of the trailer-camp group attended school with Marilyn.

"I was too much of a mama baby to want to leave home," Marilyn said. "Besides, I loved every minute of it. Got to meet lots of people and see the country. I had to make friends quickly and learn to get along in strange places."

Then she added, thoughtfully: "I think that helped me a lot."

While away in college she learned to wait until her mother telephoned her the day before holidays began before making plans to go home.

"I never went home to the same town twice," Marilyn said.

Once, when Texas State College for Women turned out for the Easter holidays, Marilyn bought a round-trip ticket to Goldthwaite,

Record Crowd Expected At Labor Day Celebration Here

The advance sale of tickets for the annual Sheriff's posse-sponsored Labor Day celebration to be held Monday afternoon at Midland Fair Park indicate a near-capacity attendance from Midland and area cities, posse officials announced Wednesday.

Tickets, they said, are on sale at five downtown locations as a convenience to persons who plan to attend the event. The ducaats also will be on sale at the gate Monday afternoon.

Downtown ticket booths are located at Athletic Supply, Hotel Scharbauer lobby, S&Q Clothiers, Tailorline, Inc., and Chamber of Commerce. The tickets are priced at $1.25 for adults and 40 cents for children, tax included.

An "open to the world" square dance is scheduled Monday night in the patio of the Mackey Motor Company as a climax to the day's activities. The Lyles Square Dance Band of Crane will furnish the music. Price of admission is $1.25 per couple.

The afternoon performance at Fair Park will include a jack-pot calf roping, mounted relay races, barrel races for both cowboys and cowgirls, Cutting Horse contest, and a gaited horse exhibition. Numerous contestants already have entered the various events and a thrilling and exciting afternoon of entertainment is assured, sponsors said.

The gaited horse exhibition will be staged by W. Chapline Davis of Midland.

Capt. Jim Tuttle of the Sheriff's Posse said the celebration will be the top Labor Day attraction of the Permian Basin Empire.

Bonanza Is Sought In Coastal Jungles

HOUSTON—Joe Senkyrik, a 41-year-old cotton and corn farmer near here, decided to look into assertions that the wilderness at Houston's front door was unbelievably fertile—if only it could be cleared for cultivation.

Scientists at the University of Houston claimed the 4,000-square-mile wilderness surrounding Houston was "the largest body of alluvial soil in a humid climate outside the Mississippi Delta, and potentially richer than the famous delta."

Senkyrik bought a $17,000 diesel tractor and started clearing a section of his land on the edge of the wilderness. His neighbors asked Senkyrik to do the same for them.

Up to now, Senkyrik has cleared some 200 acres of his own jungle and even more for his neighbors. They predict the cleared land will produce per acre $100 worth of beef or more, $200 worth of cotton or $150 worth of corn.

Slavs Say Russians Have 'Taking Ways'

BELOGRADE—The Yugoslavs claim the Russians have "taking ways." The Soviet penchant for acquiring other people's property was lampooned here recently in a cartoon in one of the Yugoslav humorist publications.

It showed a swimmer emerging stark-naked from the ocean surf to be met on the beach by an astonished friend. "Why, comrade," inquired the friend, "what has happened? You are naked. Where is your bathing suit?"

"It was stolen," replied the swimmer. "That Hottentots took it from me."

"The Hottentots," exclaimed the friend, "but there are no Hottentots here."

How About Little Leaguers?

How about this matter of including 40-year youngsters in the "Old Timer" baseball game scheduled September 3 at Indian Park here? We just can't understand it.

In the first place, the exhibition is advertised as a tilt between "Old Timers."

Now, who in the world can consider a youngster in his forties being an "Old Timer." We can't. Sponsors of the game might just as well have included the Little Leaguers.

There was a time, we will admit, when we considered a man over 40 as "getting along in years," but that was 20 or 30 years ago. Times now have changed, in so far as the writer is concerned, and a man 40 something or other years of age is just a kid—more or less. Anyway, he isn't an "Old Timer" and he shouldn't be playing in an "Old Timer" baseball game. He rather should be shagging fly balls for the real "Old Timers" or sitting in the Knot Hole Gang stand.

Why, some of the stars listed on the "Old Timer" roster still are young enough to hold active Lions Club memberships. Some even are younger than the writer, who considers himself a young man, comparatively speaking.

Now don't get us wrong. This idea of an "Old Timer" ball game is excellent and the tilt should fill the stands to overflowing, but with the "kids" taking part it can't be considered a real "Old Timer" setto—at least by us. We are getting to the point where we consider a 50- or 55-year-old man a pretty young fellow. And besides a person is just as young as he feels.

In the second place, the players, according to sports page accounts, are expected to wear shorts on the playing field. Everyone knows most young men in the 40-50 age bracket are far too modest to wear the abbreviated uniforms, while that requirement will be met willingly by the real "Old Timers," who will be proud to show off their limbs. That is just something else the sponsors failed to consider, along with the fact the average life span has lengthened in recent years.

Speaking of limbs, however, we imagine the legs of the "youngsters" will be just as sore as those of the "Old Timers" the morning after the game.

Regardless of age, it will be a great and spectacular exhibition out there at Indian Park Monday night, Labor Day. The three-inning tilt will feature an Appreciation Night program honoring the Midland Indians of the Longhorn League, and every Midlander who possibly can should be there.

There is no age limit at the Indian Park gate.

Two-Bit Haircut

The now almost forgotten two-bit haircut still is a reality in at least one of the nation's thousands of barber-shops.

The shop is located at Smyrna, N. Y., where John Widger has been clipping hair 50 years—at 25 cents a head. It is not surprising that the barber is forced to do his clipping by appointment only in order to avert a stampede.

Widger says he sees no reason to change his price since he made a good living 50 years ago and still is making a good living now. Of course he puts in 15 1/2 hours a day, but that doesn't seem to bother him.

The two-bit haircut makes news in this day and time, when low-cost production and longer hours just don't seem to appeal to most workers in any line of endeavor.

Warning In Advance

The other day a truck and car collided on a four-lane highway leading northwest from New York City into the Catskill Mountain resort area. The truck overturned and blocked all lanes.

What followed is an eye-opener. For six and a half hours, traffic was stalled for a distance of 16 miles. Altogether, an estimated 15,000 automobiles were tied up. The wrecking crews reached the scene of the accident only with the greatest difficulty.

Civil defense authorities in our big cities with crowded highway exits ought to take note. Imagine the chaos if such a minor mishap had occurred as a sequel to an atom bomb attack on New York.

David's Dilemma

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Dr. Hugh Bennett says: Piecemeal flood control must end; Greatest flood hazard is loss of topsoil; Conservation measures increase per-acre yields.

(Ed. Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Dr. Hugh Bennett, chief of the Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.)

WASHINGTON — The recent midwestern floods again have shown with stark reality that the day of piecemeal flood control must end. Truly effective flood control must protect the millions of farmers on the land and in the small creek bottoms as well as our great cities and major river valleys.

In those July floods we had graphic proof that no single method of flood control can do the whole, watershed-wide job. We saw how some of our best soils became so saturated with the rains of May and June that even the pressures could absorb little more when the final big rain came. Even so, the water-holding capacity of the soil helped moderate the effects of the run-off. Likewise, we saw how downstream levees, high enough to have withstood the largest previous flood, were overtopped by this superflood of July.

We are confronted with one inescapable conclusion: Our efforts to prevent and control flood damages, wherever they occur, must begin where the rains first hit the earth and must not end until the flood water reaches the ocean.

By observing this principle, we can at the same time provide protection to every part of the watershed, both downstream and upstream. We not only can bring the water under better control but we also can reduce the silt carried by flood waters. In many cases silt is more destructive to property than water itself.

Most of the silt consists of eroded soil, washed out of upstream farms and overgrazed pastures. Great quantities of it are laid down on fertile bottomland. It destroys crops and, in case of frequent sandy deposits, lowers the productivity of the land for generations to come.

There was tremendous destruction in the upper watersheds during the Midwestern floods. Along the headwaters streams, above those points where major flood control works have been recommended, the flood damage exceeded 100 million dollars. Above the flooded valleys, the storm caused an estimated 110 million dollars of crop loss.

It has been estimated that about 75 per cent of the over-all flood damage in the country, year in and year out, occurs back along the lesser tributary streams above the bottomlands of the major channels. In the long run, however, the greatest damage from these tremendous storms is the erosion that takes place on upland farms. Seldom do the costly effects of erosion on these upland slopes make the headlines of our newspapers.

Although it is questionable whether dollars and cents can express the true value of the millions of tons of irreplaceable topsoil lost, the decreased productivity of these eroded upland farms is estimated at more than 200 million dollars.

These figures do not take into account other downstream damages, such as deposition in river channels, reservoirs, wells and drainage ditches. What we have read about flood damage has related largely to city property, bridges and highways. And this was terrible indeed. Still, much of this damage can be repaired. But we can do little to remove the layers of infertile sand spread deeply over thousands of acres of productive bottomlands. We can't haul back into eroded fields the topsoil that has been carried into the Gulf of Mexico.

Experience has proved that we can come pretty close to controlling floods on small tributary streams. With good conservation measures and upstream retarding structures, the small streams will not overflow so destructively even when we get rains like those in the Midwest. But that part of the water which reaches the larger streams must be controlled by dams, levees and other measures.

Funds Not Available. At present, the run-off from upland farms in small watersheds has not been properly controlled because farmers cannot get all the technically trained help they want and need to do the soil and water conservation job adequately on their own farms. And funds are not generally available for construction of small upstream dams and channel improvements.

So, in the recent floods in Kansas, Missouri, and neighboring states water went into the small streams much faster than it would if we had a watershed program for flood control.

If we ignore the little creeks of the upper valleys and the fields and pastures that feed these "little waters," we will have only a partial program of flood control. But we are not going to ignore these upper watersheds. The big job is still ahead of us, but we already are working on thousands of farms, and floods already have been controlled or greatly minimized along many creeks.

Conservation measures not only are putting more of the rainfall into the reservoir of the soil but are increasing per-acre yields. The water therefore gets into the small streams more slowly. We can further retard this water by small dams and waterway improvements in the upper watersheds. These "upstream engineering" methods together with conservation work in fields and pastures not only will protect thousands of people along smaller creeks but also will support and protect flood control measures installed along our major waterways.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

North might avoid a free bid of two diamonds if he had not passed originally. Ordinarily, this bid would compel South to bid again. In other words, North's response of two diamonds may push South to three clubs even when South has a near-minimum opening bid.

There is no such problem after North has passed originally. South is at liberty to pass two diamonds if he has a near-minimum opening bid. He will know that there is no game in the cards and that two diamonds is as good a contract as any.

As it happened, of course, South had a very good hand. He was ready to make a jump re-bid in no-trump, and he made it. His re-bid showed that his hand was too strong for an opening bid of one no-trump.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, West, East, and South cards and a table of bidding options.

but not strong enough for an opening bid of two no-trump.

West led the queen of spades, and South won with the king. Declarer then laid down the king of diamonds and led a low diamond to dummy's ace. East discarded a low heart, and South groaned mightily. Now what? How should South continue?

Declarer led the five of clubs from dummy and finessed the eight from his hand. West won with the jack of clubs and was stuck for a return. A spade or a heart would give declarer a free finesse. It was obviously foolish to cash the diamonds while dummy still had an entry in clubs. So West returned a club.

Dummy played the nine. East covered with the queen, and South won with the ace of clubs. Declarer next led a club to dummy's king and returned a diamond.

West was end-played for the second time in the same hand. He could take his two diamond tricks, but then either a spade or a heart return would give declarer a free finesse—and the ninth trick.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Spade Pass 2 Diamonds Pass 2 Hearts Pass

Q—You, South, hold: Spades J-4, Hearts 9-6-3-2, Diamonds K-Q-J-6-3, Clubs K-5. What do you do? A—Bid three hearts. Your hand is slightly better than average, and it is therefore worth two bids. You have shown your own suit, and now you must show good support for your partner's suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades J-4, Hearts Q-6-3-2, Diamonds K-Q-J-6-3, Clubs K-5. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

"I've already talked to the blonde girl," Sheriff Em Souders said. "Of course she says she told you to come here. Glad you admit it. One thing more we won't have to prove. Any other confession you'd like to make?"

"I thought I had better not say anything more till I had talked to my lawyer. 'Can I phone Gene Sawyer?'"

"Plenty of time for that," said the sheriff. "Plenty of time."

He got a pair of handcuffs from his belt and slipped one bracelet over my right wrist. He slipped the other over his own left wrist and handed the key to his deputy. All during the time I had been in custody charged with Charlie Berman's murder, the sheriff had never used the cuffs.

This time I was in for it. Everybody believed me a killer. That other time they had excused me. This time they wouldn't. It's not the thing, to stab a pretty girl.

"Let's go," said the sheriff, as if I had anything to do with it. "At the jail he let me call Gene. I gave Gene the bad news. I could hear him catch his breath over the phone. 'I'll be right over.'"

The sheriff let us talk in the women's quarters, which happened to be vacant. He looked around carefully. "What's the idea?"

"I'm looking for a bug. So far as I know, they have none."

Ewing Hospitalization Plan Gets Kicked Around Plenty

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing's new plan to provide hospitalization insurance to people of 65 and over for a maximum of 60 days a year has no chance of consideration by Congress now. Too busy.

Also, legislation to put this new plan into effect hasn't even been drafted. But the idea is to get a bill introduced before Congress goes home, get it talked about and kicked around this Summer and Fall, then hold hearings and get it passed when Congress comes back next year.

So far the reaction has been pretty good. Whitaker and Baxter, American Medical Association's high-priced publicity agents, have advised doctors that since the new Ewing proposal primarily affects the hospitals, the Blue Cross and other hospitalization insurance plans, they should make first comment, rather than the medical societies.

Whitaker and Baxter also reported to the medical profession that this was merely a new issue for Fair Deal candidates in next year's elections—"an effort to provide them with an escape hatch so they can avoid going before the people on the direct issue of compulsory health insurance."

This idea has characterized most of the other criticism that has so far appeared. With not-so-surprising uniformity, critics of the new Ewing plan have advanced three main arguments. (1) It is a backdoor approach to "socialized medicine." (2) If Social Security Administration has more money than it knows what to do with, it should reduce payroll deductions instead of broadening benefits. (3) Local communities can take care of their own aged people who need hospitalization.

Few Benefits. Actually, these criticisms seem to distort the existing situation with respect to the need for hospitalization benefits for the aged and the dependents of survivors covered by old age insurance.

Most private insurance policies will not provide hospitalization benefits for persons over 55 or 65, or after they quit working. Poor people of over 65 now may get hospitalization benefits up to the limit of their public assistance benefits. But in many cases this isn't enough. And America's over-crowded hospitals no longer can take care of the charity load, when costs average $13 a day.

So far, hospital officials seem to be overwhelmingly in favor of the new Ewing plan. And since doctors always must approve admission of any patient to a hospital, they would have veto control over the plan's operations. The medical profession therefore would be able to prevent abuses by hospital chiselers and charity patients.

Federal Security Agency now estimates that by 1953, when the plan would go into operation if approved, there would be some 7,000,000 people eligible for hospitalization benefits. They would be divided roughly into: 5,500,000 people of over 65, covered by social security; 1,100,000 children dependents and 400,000 mothers. There would be, in addition, another 7,000,000 not covered by social security insurance, but eligible for hospitalization under the public assistance programs.

Money to finance this, without additional social security taxes, comes from a prosperity windfall. Present income of the old age and survivors insurance plan was based on wage and salary payments to covered workers of $125,000,000,000 a year, with employer and employee paying 1 1/2 per cent tax on first $3,800 of income.

But under full employment, wage and salary payments have gone up to $141,000,000,000 a year. So there is more money in the trust funds. Instead of cutting back the taxes, the decision has been made to increase the benefits, as has been done several times in the past.

Atkinson Resigns Kermit Pastorate For Canyon Church

KERMIT — The Rev. Straus Atkinson has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Kermit to accept a similar position with the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

Pastor of the church here for almost six years, his resignation will become effective September 2 and he will leave the following day for his new post.

He came to Kermit from Moran in 1945 and during his ministry here a building was erected to house members of a West Side Mission, which later became Grace Temple Baptist Church.

During his pastorate here, more than 1,500 persons have joined the First Baptist Church.

He is a past president of the Kermit Lions Club and has been active in working with the Kermit Boy Scout troops.

"Murder" in Quotes

By Julius Long

"Earnie Berman, of course." I told him about Cleo's visit and the fight that followed when Earnie and Babe got there. Gene didn't like it. He paced the floor, his tall frame gaunt with its slightly stooped shoulders.

"So you stabbed Tussig! That makes it bad. It set a precedent for stabbing the girl!"

"But why should I stab her? She knew I was innocent. She was the one person who did!"

"I wish you had phoned me after she left. I might have been able to do something with her."

"My phone service has been cut off. I hadn't slept much for nights. I took a nap and then drove to Queen Point."

"Why there of all places?"

"You had given me hope that I might get the resort back. For the first time I cared to see what the Berman boys had done with it."

"Well, you set yourself up for a frame—if it was a frame. Don't lie to your own lawyer, Jimmer. Did you do it? If you tell me the truth I may have a chance to get you off."

I made a wry face. "I told you the truth that other time. You didn't believe me. I'm telling you the truth this time, an—again you don't believe me!"

"But Jimmer—" "Save it! If you can't see that Earnie Berman is framing me out of spite, that he killed Cleo because she talked to me, then you can't appreciate the obvious!"

Gene drew up his tall frame so that it no longer appeared to have a stoop. Jimmer, why don't you stop insulting my intelligence? The girl, Cleo talked all right, the way you said she did. But she didn't talk enough, and you blew your top. Don't try to kid your lawyer about what happened. To quote Samuel Butler, you're about as subtle as a dove and as innocent as a serpent!

"Quotes! First Matros, now Butler! It's a wonder you aren't telling me that I killed that girl because everybody thinking I was a killer made me one!"

Gene made a wry face. "No, I'll grant that public opinion can't work that fast. But you've hooked this time, Jimmer. The best I can hope to get for you is a life sentence with a possible parole in ten to twenty years. In the meanwhile I'll get your property back. You can sell it and have a nest-egg when you get out."

I LAUGHED bitterly. Then Gene rapped on the steel door, and it was opened by a deputy sheriff. Gene stalked out, not even saying goodby.

The deputy took me down to the bullpen. Everybody there was waiting. Somehow they had found out about my trouble.

Hal Hoover said: "I hear you stabbed a girl. How about that, Jimmer?"

I took Hal to a back cell and told him my story. I was "trying it out on the dog." I watched him closely. He wasn't having any. But he said:

"I still wish you luck, and I think a lot of people will. It all ties in with Charlie Berman stealing your lease. Anx I still wish I was in your shoes. If you could change places with me, you'd be going out of here a minute after midnight. That's when my time's up. Outside, you might be able to get a line on something that would help you."

I stared at him. For the first time I realized that he was about my size. At midnight the bullpen lights were doused. If I wore Hal's clothes a deputy would mistake me for him until I was out in the jail's office.

Hal read my mind. He held out his hand.

"It's a deal, Jimmer. I'm in here so much it won't matter if they keep me for helping you." (To Be Continued)

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Q—Why is the outer rail higher than the inner rail on railroad curves? A—The outer rail is elevated to balance the overturning forces that are set up by a train rounding a curve, for the same scientific reason that a circular track for motorcar racing is tilted upward from the inner circle to the outer rim.

Q—Have postage stamps been issued to honor all deceased U. S. Presidents? A—Yes.

Q—Who is the official keeper of the Great Seal of the United States? A—By the Act of September 15, 1789, Congress made the Secretary of State the official keeper.

Q—Are minerals essential to man's diet? A—There are 13 different minerals regarded as essential in man's diet for normal life and health.

Q—Who was the last emperor of Brazil? A—The last emperor, Dom Pedro II, was driven from the throne Nov. 15, 1889 by a revolution which established a republic, the United States of Brazil.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE A letter was received in a small town, addressed to "the Lord." The postmaster read it and it was a plea for $100 from a little boy whose father was ill.

The postmaster took it to the Rotary Club at the next meeting and members "chipped in" and the $50 reward was sent to the lad.

A few days later, another letter came, addressed to "the Lord." It read, "Much obliged—but next time, Lord, send the money direct; the Rotary Club kept out half."

Petitions Request Electrical Facilities

PECOS — Farm houses and irrigation pumps in this area soon may have electricity, furnished either by utility companies or by the Rural Electrification Administration.

Petitions already bearing scores of names are being circulated among Reeves County farmers requesting two utility companies to make arrangements for electrical facilities for irrigation and other farm uses. Otherwise, the petition promises, the signatories will be "obliged to proceed to procure an REA program for this area."

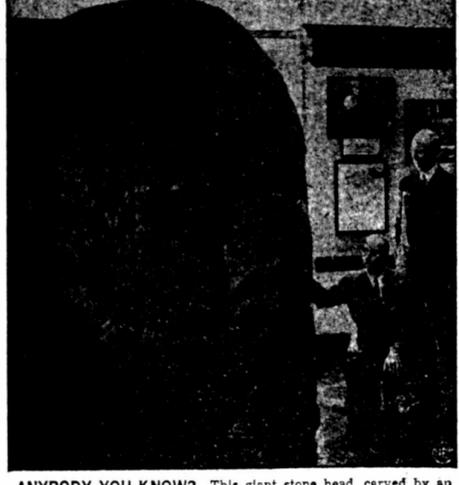

Originating the petition is Artie Baker, retired banker and large landowner, who thinks his campaign will prove there are at least 750 irrigation wells ready to tie onto the proposed power lines.

To Receive Proposals
Receiving the proposals will be the Community Public Service Company in Pecos and the West Texas Utilities company at Balmore.

Two firms re requested to build lines to each well with no cost to the consumers, to give a yearly rate with no charge other than farmer's obligation to purchase as much as $10 per connected horsepower yearly, and to set the rate at one and one-fourth cents per kilowatt used.

Emmett Beauchamp, district manager of Community Public Service, declined to comment until he has seen the petition.

He added, however, that he knows of no one who has been "refused service when they ask for it."

RUSSIA is strongly suspected by experts on the world dope crisis of using narcotics in the cold war.

K. W. Yu, of the Chinese UN delegation, flatly accused the Soviets of deliberately flooding dope into Southeast Asia and encouraging addiction.

"It's a diabolical plan, well-conceived," he declared, "to soften up these peoples. Their countries will undoubtedly become the Communists' next objective. Who could offer less resistance to a conqueror than a populace inert from hypnotics?"

The Soviet Union, however, maintains strict controls over its opium production in East Russia, Western Siberia, and Russian Asia. Russians never become dope addicts—within their own borders.

Another Marshall Plan to underwrite their losses.

May Double Figure
No one can safely estimate current opium production. Where it is cultivated under so-called national monopolies, the admitted harvest exceeds 2,000 tons annually. Opium produced under the Soviet might double this figure.

High medical authorities say flatly that the current global opium harvest is 11 times the world's medical needs of 450 tons.

Diverted from legal channels or harvested clandestinely in Asiatic mountain areas, 4,000 tons of raw opium become the equivalent of 8,000,000 ounces of heroin. One ounce of this opium derivative is harvested from every pound of the poppy drug.

In other words, today's opium production, translated into the outlaw drug heroin, is sufficient to provide 20,000,000 addicts with three caps" per day for a year.

The extent of the production and traffic in marijuana—the drug that paves the way for heroin—defies research. Indian hemp, whose leaves make the heady reefer, flourishes over millions of acres in virtually every country in the world.

Cocaine, entering the American market principally from Peru and Bolivia, has almost disappeared on the illicit market. This dearth has been attributed to the smashing of a giant cocaine ring by Peruvian and American authorities two years ago.

What does the world need to halt the international drug traffic? It needs peace to cure the financial ills of war-ravaged countries and to bring the recalcitrant Soviet bloc back into the family of nations.

German Boys Dive For Scrap Metal

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY—(P)—Bold young West Germans are making a living today from the German army's panic of defeat in 1945.

Along the placid Neckar River they are carrying on a daily job both dangerous and rewarding: diving for war material thrown away by retreating Wehrmacht troops.

It is not officially permitted, but the youngsters, ranging in age from 17 to 23, are doing it anyway. They say they can't find jobs and that scrap metal brings them at least enough to live on. West Germany is badly short of scrap and it is quickly snapped up by dealers. The youths have dragged up bazookas, bushels of rifle cartridges, small arms and other war equipment, now rusted beyond usefulness except as scrap.

Students Get Break In Summer Jobs

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(P)—For the first time in many years, part time and summer jobs have been abundant this summer for college students.

The student placement bureau at Rutgers University reports that jobs this summer have far outnumbered applicants and only the most lucrative positions have been filled. The bureau stated that demands for technically trained men have been particularly heavy and that one-third of the engineering students in the class of 1952 at Rutgers found summer jobs in their major field.

mission declares that if the world were at peace, the United States with its prestige and dollars probably could whip the rest of the world into line through international agreements. But the U.S., and the rest of the Atlantic Pact nations, need Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia and Iran—important opium producers—as eastern anchors of the wall against Russia.

Pooch Foils Jail Break In Illinois

CARMI, ILL.—(P)—A sheriff's pint-sized pooch foiled plans for a jail break recently.

Sheriff D. W. Griffith of White County pieced together this version: Oscar, the Griffiths' tiny Pomeranian, started barking at 1:30 a.m. It roused the sheriff in his quarters below the jail. He found the outer jail door and the cell cage unlocked, but a 14 year old trusty was missing. Five male prisoners seemed to be asleep.

The boy was apprehended later in front of the jail. He had returned after two prisoners who admitted complicity, but failed to join him at a prearranged rendezvous.

Opera Season To Open December 8

MILAN, ITALY—(P)—La Scala's opera season will begin this year on December 8, anniversary of Milan's Patron Saint Ambrose. In the past, the season usually started on the day after Christmas.

The program will include Giuseppe Verdi's "Vespre Siciliani" to be conducted by Victor De Sabata. Other operas to be presented will be Verdi's "Luisa Miller" and "Rigoletto," Wagner's "Tristan and Isolde" and "Die Meistersinger," Rossini's "Barber of Seville" and Beethoven's "Fidelio."

Meanwhile, construction has begun within the Scala building of a "Little Scala" theater. It will have a seating capacity of 800 and will be used primarily for ballets and chamber music concerts for which the big Scala is not available.

Dowries' High Prices Cause Difficulties

KHARTOUM, ANGLO-EGYPTIAN SUDAN —(P)—The official Sudan Monthly Record reports that the high price demanded as a bridal dowry is causing serious difficulties in remote Equatoria Province, just north of the African equator.

The record says two tribal councils recently discussed "the high rate of bride price with the consequent tendency to hire temporarily rather than buy for permanence."

Shadow Of Bridge Is Menace To Crops

KHARTOUM —(P)—There is something new under the sun—and in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan it's the shadow of a bridge. Cultivators on an island under the white Nile bridge at Omdurman are claiming compensation for loss of crops caused by the structure's shadow.

Authorities are studying the plea. Thus far they've failed to find any precedent in law.

Poppies and the weed: Opium poppies and marijuana grew side by side in the fields of the (left) being questioned by a narcotics inspector. But whatever he grew was a drop in the bucket compared to the fields of poppies that flourish in Europe and Asia, where 11 times the world's legitimate needs are harvested to spread the menace of dope.

NEW YORK —(NEA)—In the great sub-tropical belt stretching from the coast of China to the Adriatic Sea, papaver somniferum is a valuable, tenderly-reared plant on which hundreds of thousands of peasants depend for their bread.

The fact that the plant produces opium, the wrecker of untold thousands of lives, means little to the men, women and children toiling in the hot fields of Turkey, Iran, India or China.

To them it means ready money, not only for the opium but also for the millions of tiny poppy seeds, whose oil brings back 66 cents for every dollar obtained for the drug.

From these countryside dotted with swaying poppies, opium and its derivatives follow a tortuous and ever more criminal course. Eventually they slip past customs and border guards and fatten the wallets of the underworld.

To Stop Pushers
To stop drug pushers in New York and the rest of the U.S., experts agree you must go back to the fields, halfway around the world and plow under the crop which brings a living to peasants—and misery and crime in America.

The United Nations Economic and Social Council is studying means to limit world opium production to legitimate needs. But not even the most optimistic UN delegate believes global opium control will come in a year or two.

One UN spokesman from an opium-producing country put it this way:

"We'd gladly eliminate cultivation of the poppy overnight. But what revenue could we be assured of to replace our profits from opium? And unless we do replace this revenue, we face national bankruptcy."

Other producing nations have indicated similar sentiments and suggested subsidies, yet it would take

DADDY RINGTAIL

By WESLEY DAVIS

HERE'S A FRIENDLY WAY TO GREET HER—WHEN YOU MEET HER—SIMPLY TREAT HER... TO WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT!

Daddy Ringtail And The Monkey-Sitter

A monkey-sitter is really a baby-sitter for a monkey. The monkey's name was Pud'n Pie, and what a rascal she was! Why, she wouldn't let Mugwump sit at all, even though he was a monkey-sitter. Pud'n Pie kept Mugwump running to get the things she wanted, and how can a monkey-sitter sit if he is busy running? Oh me, what a problem!

Pud'n Pie was crawly-wawly baby-size, and she liked to open her mouth with a great big "Waw!" when she wanted something. "Waw!" cried Pud'n Pie when she sat on the ground by a tree. "Waw!" she cried. "Pud'n Pie want a drink of water..."

tiger himself. He got down on his hands and knees to do it, and to be sure that a tiger is really what he was, Mugwump said: "Gr-r-r! Or-r-r-r-r!" just like a real tiger. "Waw!" cried Pud'n Pie! "Waw!" Pud'n Pie afraid of the tiger! "Waw!" Pud'n Pie afraid of the tiger!

And so Mugwump stood on his feet to stop the playing of tiger so Pud'n Pie would not be afraid of the tiger any more, but when he stood up: "Waw!" cried Pud'n Pie. "Waw!" Pud'n Pie want a tiger!

And so Pud'n Pie was wanting a tiger, but she was afraid when she had one, and so what oh what could Mugwump do? Well, he got down on his hands and knees again, and he played-like a tiger some more, and he even said "Gr-r-r-r!" like a tiger. And he told Pud'n Pie to play-like she was a tiger, too, and she did with a "Gr-r-r-r! Or-r-r-r-r!" of a Pud'n Pie-size, and she wasn't afraid any more, and Mugwump, the monkey-sitter, got to sit down at last to be a sitting tiger with a "Gr-r-r-r! Or-r-r-r-r!" Happy day!

"Whee-ee-ee!" said Mugwump, trying to make a noise like a horse, but Pud'n Pie cried: "Waw! Waw!" because she really didn't want a horse, she said, because she really wanted a tiger.

Japanese Spend More Than Income

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese are spending more than they make. At least they were in May, and the sharp increase in cost of utilities, rice, bread and other necessities since then—without widespread boosts in wages—indicates they still are.

Figures on the income and outgo of Japan's $4,100,000 (June 1 estimate) population were compiled by occupation officials in General Ridgway's economic and scientific section.

Income of city workers' families, including the head of the household and all others picking up pin money regularly, averages 15,026 yen a month. That's $41.74 in American. Expenditures per family average 15,188 yen per month. That's $42.17 American.

Destructive Weed Harasses Canadians

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK.—P.—Thousands of dollars are being spent to eradicate the menace of two tough types of weed, the toad flax and the leafy spurge. These hardy perennials are a pretty sight and they decorate many gardens in western Canada, but they are damaging in grain fields.

Many farmers in Western Manitoba have been driven off farms rendered useless by these weeds. Chemicals won't kill the flowers of these weeds. In farm fields, it takes three full years of Summer fallowing to bring them under control.

Physical Medicine Gaining Prominence Among Doctors

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Way back in ancient times, the kings, nobles and rich men of the day often had themselves treated with hot baths, mud packs, or massages when they were ill. They frequently must have felt better from such treatments or they wouldn't have done it.

Today treatment by such physical methods (as differentiated from treatment by drugs or surgery) has become more scientific and a whole field of specialists devote their efforts to physical medicine.

There are many new kinds of physical treatment which are available now, and they are not the special privilege of the rich either. Various forms of electricity can be used, of which the most valuable appears to be diathermy.

This is a method of carrying heat deep into the tissues and often is of great value in aiding the muscles and deeper tissues to heal. Certain forms of light also have been found helpful. It has been reported that ultraviolet light aids in recovery from a form of tuberculosis involving the peritoneum (lining of the abdomen) or the intestines.

The use of physical methods in treatment covers a wide range. These are paraffin baths, whirlpool baths, specially equipped gymnasiums for stretching muscles and getting joints back into shape. All these are used in many diseases and after many kinds of injuries.

Older Methods

Not to be forgotten are the older methods. Heat and cold, whether applied by water, mud, or other method, act on the circulation by expanding or contracting the flow of blood through the arteries and veins.

Obviously the proper application of these methods can affect the body physiology in many ways. Just for example, hot packs are usually used early in paralytic polio; swimming or underwater exercises, both failing in the field of physical treatment, frequently are used later.

Massage also has its place in physical treatment. When it is indicated, and skillfully done, it frequently results not only in a great sense of comfort, but also in real improvement in the condition. By all these methods, and with increasing scientific precision, the contribution of physical medicine to the healing of the sick is marching steadily forward.

Even Yanks Now Buying Rebel Flags

AP Newsfeature

COLUMBIA, S. C.—The Flag of the Confederacy waved over a lot of Yankee territory now, courtesy of Clarence T. Langley.

Confederate flags in various sizes are fast-moving items in Langley's flag workshop and store here.

Helping to revive interest in the Southern flag is the training at nearby Fort Jackson of the 31st (Dixie) Infantry Division.

Originally an Alabama-Mississippi National Guard outfit, the division now is laced liberally with Yankees. Its flag is the Confederate Stars and Bars.

And a transplanted Yankee, as any Southerner can tell you, often works up more interest in the South and Southern lore in a short stay than some natives do in a lifetime.

Of course there always is some local demand for Confederate flags. This apparently has increased by the flag fad the soldiers started.

Langley finds the two-by-three foot battleflag the most popular of the banners he makes here. This has the familiar white-starred blue cross on a red field.

Have You Wondered About Larry Parks?

HOLLYWOOD (P)—What has happened to Larry Parks?

Little or nothing has been heard about Parks since he testified before the House un-American Committee last March that he had joined the Communist Party in 1944 or 1945 and dropped out in 1946.

I record his replies:

Q: Have you done any work since you testified?

A: No.

Q: Why not?

A: Because there have been no offers for my services. You know how Hollywood is.

Q: Why have Sterling Hayden and Edward Dmytryk, who also testified they were Communists, been able to get work in movies and you have not?

A: Perhaps it is because I was the first to testify. The first one always reaps the biggest headlines.

Q: What kind of mail did you get about your testimony?

A: I received about 575 letters and only 14 were derogatory.

Q: You have concluded it was a mistake?

A: Do you think I'm crazy?

Plane Ride Cures Whooping Cough

DALLAS (P)—For a month, Leslie Simpson of McKinney, 34 months old, whooped.

Whooping cough shots were given to her. There was no effect.

Her physician at McKinney said she might get some relief by flying up to 12,000 feet or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe E. Simpson, hired a veteran flier, Al Sielaff, to give Leslie a treatment.

Sielaff took the plane up 13,000 feet.

When they came down, the little girl was talking a blue streak and coughing not at all.

"Dr. Sielaff's fee was $32.50."

El Campo Moderno Features 'True Western Hospitality'

El Campo Moderno means "True Western Hospitality" to the traveler. This tastefully decorated, 42-unit tourist motel at the western edge of Midland on U. S. Highway 80, adds friendliness and courteous service to the comforts of home life. This is why travelers who have stopped at least once at El Campo Moderno become "repeat guests." The motel caters only to the highest type of clientele.

Jewell Curtis, owner and manager of the motel for the last four years, has injected imagination with good taste in redecorating each of the units. Each of the rooms and combinations of rooms offer an immediate "feeling of home" as they are entered. This first impression is a lasting one.

Almost all the rooms are furnished with custom-built furniture. Some have the modern motif but most offer the Western atmosphere. Western Franciscan furniture, deep carpeting, plush chairs and solid furniture give the rooms the beauty and charm which is sought by persons away from their own homes. Each room has bed lamps or adjacent table lamps, in addition to other lighting arrangements.

And to make the comfort complete, each room is air-conditioned and has telephone service. There is all-night service at the central office. Radios are installed in most of the rooms.

Naturally, each unit has an attached garage to add to the convenience of guests and to protect their cars from the elements.

Across Highway 80 from the motel is the large Pagoda Park with its playground and public swimming pool.

The rooms are kept spot-and-span by a trio of room maids who have been praised upon numerous occasions by guests for their courteous and efficient service. The maids are Willie Mae Green, Jessie Mae Smith and Bertha Lee Sullivan.

Resident managers of El Campo Moderno are Mr. and Mrs. James T. McCall, who moved to Midland from Virginia.

Miss Curtis formerly operated an insurance agency in Greenville and is a graduate student of voice and piano.

Of course, there are tiled private baths, and of particular interest to those who spend a great deal of their time away from home are the combination dressing room, clothes storage and luggage roomettes which open into the main room.

Tastefully Decorated
A visit to El Campo Moderno's accommodations is a treat in variety of interior decorating schemes. Some feature wagon wheel bedsteads, some the Hollywood headboards. There are delightfully bright beds with tufted foot and headboards done in chartreuse, with chair upholstering and dresser decorating to match. Woven hickory beds grace some of the rooms.

Guests of El Campo Moderno find the huge, tree and shrub laden park, around which the brick-tile units are grouped, an ideal spot to relax. It is especially equipped with concrete tables and benches shaded by brightly colored umbrellas.

ELKS STAG SCHEDULED HERE FRIDAY NIGHT
An Elks "stag party" program, complete with buffet dinner and floor show, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the lodge's club rooms on West Highway 80, officials announced Wednesday.

All members are invited to attend and to bring guests and prospective members.

Total Of 94 New Locations Spotted In 21 WT Counties

A total of 94 new locations for petroleum explorations in the Midland district were reported to the Oil and Gas division of the Railroad Commission of Texas during the past week. These projects were scattered among 21 West Texas counties.

Included in the list were six new wildcats. The remaining developments are to be in or adjacent to proven producing areas.

In addition, amended applications covering minor changes on seven previously reported locations were listed. Three of these were on wildcat locations.

The wildcat applications were distributed one each to Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Glasscock, Pecos and Upton counties.

Midland County received 21 new field locations. Ector reported 17 new explorations.

Drill sites were established for 14 new projects in Glasscock County. Six new locations were listed in Cochran and five in Loving counties. Scurry reported for new sites.

Andrews, Gaines and Pecos each gained three new projects and Terry and Ward each received two new explorations.

The remaining new locations were divided one each among Borden, Crane, Dawson, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Winkler and Yoakum counties.

Amended applications on wildcat locations were filed one each in Crane, Terry and Ward counties. Coe ran, Ector, Midland and Scurry each reported an amended exploration.

For every 50-caliber machine-gun bullet fired at the enemy in Korea by the U. S. Air Force, the oil industry has had to supply almost two gallons of fuel. The Air Force consumed more than 150 million gallons of fuel from the start of the conflict to April, 1951.

The average car consumes about 8,000 gallons of gasoline in its lifetime, and at present rates, its owner will pay the state and Federal governments about $25 in taxes on that gasoline.

Many Iceland homes are heated with water from hot springs.

Plant Near Pecos Plans Expansion

PECOS — A $600,000 expansion project is underway at the Pecos Petroleum Company, located about 35 miles north of here and five miles east of Orla, announced T. C. Shaw, executive vice president and general manager.

Expected to be completed in six months, the construction will mean a daily gasoline production increase of about 10,000 gallons. Butane and propane output will be stepped up by nearly 12,000 gallons per day, Shaw revealed.

"This is to be a joint venture with the El Paso Natural Gas Company," he declared.

Plans call for installation of 18 miles of pipe line to meet the El Paso firm's line in New Mexico, in addition to extension of the concern's field system.

Also, a company-owned camp including six houses for employees will be built.

Petroleum and petroleum products accounted for about four-fifths of all tonnage transported over the New York state barge canal system in 1950.

Almost 60 million tons of steel, in the form of pipe lines, lie buried in the soil of the United States today, transporting oil, gas, and products to the American people.

Production of crude oil in the United States went above the six-million-barrel-a-day mark for the first time in history during the week ending April 14, 1951.

Petroleum and natural gas provided 54 per cent of the nation's energy supply in 1950, reaching the staggering total of 19 quadrillion B.t.u.s.

Automotive taxes were the biggest money raiser for state governments last year, providing almost a third of all state tax revenues.

Besides being sound power farming practice, fuel conservation helps in meeting enormously accelerated demands for petroleum products at this time of rising consumption.

You never tried a fine car like This One

YOU'RE right to set your sights higher when you buy a fine car. You can rightly expect more room—more comfort—more performance—and a lordly smoothness in the way it carries you. So we present these facts:

You'll find, in a ROADMASTER, more usable room than you'll find in any other six-passenger car in America.

You'll find the extra comfort of double-depth Foamtex cushions in ROADMASTER only.

You'll find that the ROADMASTER has a high-compression, valve-in-head power plant that is also Buick's own—a mighty Fireball Engine endowed with more performance than most owners will ever need.

And you'll find that a ROADMASTER rolls with unsurpassed levelness and poise, thanks to coil springs on all four wheels—which is still another feature found on no other car in the fine-car field.

But the thrill that is yours, when you get this willing beauty out on the open road, is something that can't be summed up in any listing of features, one by one.

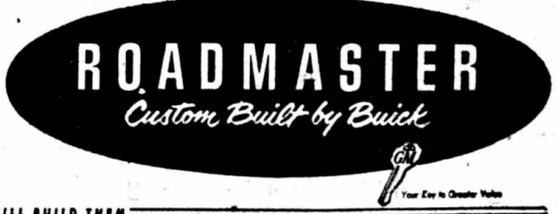

It's a "feel" which, we honestly believe, no other car can approach. It's the sure way this dazzling performer holds the road—the way it responds to your slightest wish—the quick answer you get when you nudge the throttle—the extra security you feel in the velvet grip of the brakes—the complete freedom from tension you find in Dynaflow Drive—the sense of mastery that makes every mile a joy.

And, confidentially, there's one more important way in which ROADMASTER stands alone, and that is in the modest cost of its pounds and performance.

Better come in soon and check for yourself what a great car and a great buy this one really is.

Equipment, accessories, price and models are subject to change without notice.

Despite Sudden Rise, Douglas 'Can't Conceive' Of Running For Presidency

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The phenomenal national prestige which Sen. Paul Douglas has won for himself in less than three years here comes as no surprise to those familiar with his unusual career.

At 58, the white-topped ex-Marine hero and economics professor finds himself almost overnight as one of the nation's ablest and most respected statesmen with a White House boom gathering behind him despite his best efforts to discourage it.

The big Lincoln-esque Senator—225 pounds and six-foot-two—is bone-weary from four vacationless years of hard campaigning, carrying the crushing burden of trying to do a conscientious job as Senator, climaxed by his current scrap with the President over federal judge appointments in Illinois. In this frame of mind he speaks for himself and the presidency:

"I couldn't possibly stand the terrible strain of being President. Just being a Senator is tough enough on me. I can't conceive of any circumstance or set of conditions now that would cause me to run for President. I tell that to the man who stands next to me waiting for a taxi. I tell it to you. I tell it to the waiters. And there is no such thing as a man being drafted for the job if he doesn't lift a finger for it."

Cynic Replies

To that cynical Republican congressman replies:

"Listen, bub, there's not a man or boy living in these United States who wouldn't be President if he could."

Douglas receives as many visitors as he can while he's lying down on a hard leather couch in his office. He says, "You know, I work hard and need all the relaxation I can get."

The standard line as he carefully settles himself prone is, "Now you pretend to be my psychiatrist."

You ask him something that excites his interest, however, and he's up like a shot, pacing the floor and waving his arms with the answer.

Campaigner: After winning with a whopping majority in 1948, Senator Douglas, left, campaigned again in 1950 in a futile attempt to help Scott Lucas, right, run for reelection.

And during these times he likes his own gags, following them up with an odd, smileless belly laugh.

A friend describes Douglas' motivation as "an overwhelming inner compulsion to follow the dictates of a scrupulously honest and brilliant intellect."

Takes Matter Home

Certainly he doesn't spare himself physically in following this compulsion. He's at the office at nine and doesn't leave until after seven. He gives his staff a five and one-half day week but his is a six and seven day week. He goes home each night with a big batch of official reading matter under his arm.

He never goes to a committee meeting or hearing without being expertly briefed on the subject. Only Sen. Bob Taft from Ohio is his equal on the Hill in this detail.

Elaborate research by his staff and long hours of meditation go into his beautifully concise speeches on the floor. He's one of the best draw-

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Few people know how to lose a minimum on a really bad canasta hand. The only reason they don't lose their shirts on such hands is that the opponents aren't in the market for shirts.

I see canasta played all over the country, and I'm really astonished to see how many people play for a fast out on practically every hand. Most of the time this doesn't cost much. But if your opponents are poor players and have a really bad hand, you can have their shirts and their skins too if you simply play for them.

To get back to the players with the poor hands, your best chance is that the opponents are uninterested in making a good score. If the enemy want to meld out quickly, give them your blessing and your thanks.

If you are playing against the exceptional opponents who are good enough to try for a big score, you must rely on your own efforts to avert disaster. The opponents will not be in a hurry to meld out. You or your partner must meld out to stop the slaughter.

The first rule about defensive playing in such a situation is that you can't defend at every point along the line. Let the opponents make a few canasta. If you try to stop them, your hand will get so cluttered with useless cards that you will never be able to meld out and will not even be much help to your partner.

The next rule is to concentrate on building up pairs, trios, and so on, in the ranks that the opponents have not melded. All you need is one canasta to meld out. Look for that canasta in an unmelded rank.

Watch your partner's discards. He also is trying to build up his hand. If he discards a queen, he isn't saving queens. Throw your queens also (unless, of course, you have quite a few of them), and leave room in your hand to save the same cards that your partner is saving.

Eventually, your two hands will match very well. The moment one of you can make the initial meld, the other member of the partnership will be able to complete a canasta. A fast meld out will almost always follow very quickly.

During the depression years he rose to national prominence in his own field as a writer of books on economics, a teacher and as a member of numerous state and federal boards on unemployment and social security matters.

Politically, he worked with Harold Ickes to help break up the Insull utility empire, made one unsuccessful run in the primary for the Illinois seat in the Senate and served several years on Chicago's city council. It is there that he got his grounding in the fine art of politics.

Further work at Harvard and Columbia.

Premature Birth Called Hazardous.

NEW YORK (AP)—A newborn, premature infant is almost 6,000 times as susceptible to death as a school child, says Dr. L. Emmett Holt, Jr., of New York University-Bellevue Medical Center.

If they can be pulled through, "fully 90 per cent are as healthy as one could ask." Famous premature babies include Isaac Newton, Voltaire, Charles Darwin, Victor Hugo, Napoleon and Winston Churchill.

Revenge Keynote Of Spartan Rivals

EAST LANSING, MICH. (NEA)—Eight of the nine teams on Michigan State's football schedule have lost their last encounter with the Spartans.

Six of the beatings were pinned on last Fall. They are Oregon State, 38-13; Michigan, 14-7; Marquette, 34-6; Notre Dame, 36-33; Indiana, 35-0; and Pittsburgh, 19-0. Penn State lost to the Great Green, 24-0, in 1949, and Ohio State's 1912 team lost, 35-20.

Colorado, the only school without a revenge motive, never played Michigan State before.

CHANGED STATUS

SINGAPORE (AP)—This British crown colony municipality is officially going to become a "city." Letters patent from King George VI so declaring will be handed over soon by Governor Sir Franklin Gimson. Singapore's constitution is to remain unchanged for the present, but the way may be eventually cleared for the election of a mayor.

Albuquerque, N. M., annexed more territory than any other city in the nation in 1950.
