Russia Fails To Stall Treaty Action

Tank-Led Red Chinese Slash At Allied Unit

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(P)—Thousands of tank-supported Chinese surrounded an Allied unit in a surprise attack Thursday on the western front. The Allies fought their way out in an 18-hour battle.

United Nations infantrymen and supporting airmen said they killed more than 400 of the 3,000 attacking Chinese.

On the opposite end of the front, North Korean Reds drove U. S. Marines back 400 yards on the northern edge of the Punch Bowl, 20 miles north of the 38th parallel. The Leathernecks counterattacked and regained the lost ground.

Chinese attacking on the long-quiet western front, seven miles north of Parallel 38, were supported by eight tanks. One intelligence officer said 20 Russian-type tanks were seen in the area.

The fight began Wednesday midnight and continued into Thursday night, when the UN force fought its way clear. It took out its wounded on tanks and armored vehicles.

One Allied officer said the abrupt attack by at least a regiment of Reds might be the beginning of a new offensive. An Eighth Army spokesman said it was too early to tell.

Another officer suggested it was a Red attempt to clean UN troops out of the "trans-Imjin" area, 30 (Continued On Page 10)

October Draft Call Is Hiked

AUSTIN—(P)—Selective Service Thursday boosted its October call for Texans from 742 to 807.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Defense Department Thursday raised its October draft call from 41,000 to 44,600 men.

The additional 3,600 men will go to the Marine Corps, which was asked for 8,600 in October. The remaining 38,000 will go into the Army.

The department also asked for 33,700 draftees in November. The Army will get 29,000 and the Marine Corps 4,700.

Since the draft resumed last September, it has been asked for a total of 712,480 men, including the October and November calls.

The Marine Corps resorted to the draft in August for the first time since the war. Its requests for draftees through November total 26,480 men.

Neither the Navy nor the Air Force has asked for draftees since the outbreak of the war in Korea and the raising of the military manpower goal to about 3,500,000 men.

KANSAS CITY—(P)—A flood threat to metropolitan Kansas City's industrial districts eased Thursday as rains diminished and the rampaging Kansas River dropped steadily upstream. The industrial areas remained on the alert, however. They still are recovering from a July flood that caused an estimated $2,500,000,000 damage in Missouri and Kansas. Army engineers expressed "reasonable confidence" no new flooding would occur but continued around-the-clock work on dikes.

Iran's Lower House Snags Mossadegh's Ultimatum To Britain
TEHRAN, IRAN—(P)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's proposed ultimatum to Britain on the stalled oil talks struck a snag Thursday when more than half the members of the lower house of Parliament boycotted a session called to approve the premier's policy. The ultimatum would give the British two weeks to reopen talks on the nationalization of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's properties. If they refused, Iran would expel 350 British technicians remaining at the country's giant refinery at Abadan. After trying vainly to round up the missing deputies for two hours, Mossadegh postponed the session until Sunday. The lack of a quorum was in sharp contrast to Wednesday's session of the Senate, which gave the premier a vote of confidence without a dissent after he said he would throw the remaining British out of Abadan if Britain refused to reopen oil talks. First Serious Opposition The boycott of the Majlis was the most serious expression of opposition to Mossadegh since he came to power last May. It was clear the deputies feared to vote openly against the nationalistic Mossadegh on the oil issue, but by staying away they avoided committing themselves. Parliament officers reported that a quorum of 67 was needed to conduct business but only 62 of the 138 deputies appeared despite insistent telephone calls to round up the missing members. There has been no public criticism of Mossadegh's ultimatum to the British, but privately many deputies expressed concern at his tough talking.

Dr. Michael, 28, earlier admitted he had injected methadon by mistake during an experiment in which he meant to test demerol, another sedative, as a pain killer. Two laboratory employes, Jack Clifford and Mrs. Ardy Pearson, died 24 hours after receiving the injections.

Higher Traffic Toll Predicted In Texas

ABILENE —(AP)— Capt. J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, Thursday predicted the state's highway death toll this year would top last year's 2,410. Lack of education and lack of superior law enforcement contribute to the carnage, he declared. Disregard for human rights on the part of the individual motorist also is a factor, he added. He said the present 450 highway patrolmen are "far from enough." Musick said drunken driving, high speed and violation of rights-of-way were main causes of the 45 Labor Day traffic deaths. "It seems we're powerless to do anything about it," he added.

Smole, in San Francisco for the Japanese peace conference, said: "Mr. Adamic's life was threatened four times, twice by an American connected with Cominform agents operating in the United States." The Cominform (Communist information Bureau) is a Russian propaganda agency.

Will The Glamor Boys Shudder Over This Hollywood Casting

HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: The lads with the flawless profiles must be worried. Danny Thomas is playing songwriter Gus Kahn opposite Doris Day in Warners' "I'll See You in My Dreams." Moviegoers accustomed to seeing Gordon MacRae, Dick Haymes, Mark Stevens, and Vic Mastore as struggling composers are in for a shock. "Hollywood's found out that it's hard to get sympathy for a real handsome leading man in a story about a songwriter," Danny slipped to me. "You look at me. The minute you see my puss, you know I have to be in trouble. You believe it when I can't find a job. No one in the audience says, 'Why is the bum talking about hard times. Why doesn't he go out and pose for a collar?'"

Price For Freedom

The new insignia for General Eisenhower's European headquarters depicts two golden swords against a green background symbolic of Europe's fertile fields.

We respectfully suggest that two blown-up reproductions of this insignia be dispatched to the United States Capitol in Washington, one to be hung above the main door of the Senate chamber, the other above the door of the House.

With such vivid reminders confronting them every time they walk into the legislative halls, America's lawmakers might be stirred more often to disport themselves like statesmen who recognize their country's peril.

They might then be less likely to reduce by 87 per cent, as the House did recently, the President's request for additional civil defense funds. That cut was made in the face of an informed warning by Representative Price, Illinois Democrat serving on the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee, that Russia today has more and bigger atomic bombs than previously believed.

The legislators might be less likely to slash the Voice of America program to the bone without proposing a suitable substitute, at a time when Russia and the satellite nations are ripe for a heavy propaganda barrage from the free world.

And they might think twice before chopping $1,000,000,000 from the foreign aid program which we must count upon to bolster Europe's defenses both militarily and in the broader economic sense.

Lastly, they might be able to get their minds off the past and focus on the problems of the present and future. The 82nd Congress has been a body of lawmakers largely intent upon investigating past deeds and attitudes, while the critical needs of a troubled present too frequently go unsatisfied.

Too many of these men behave as if they were living in a world all their own, free of external hazard. When some outside event does bring them up sharply, they look within their own realm for cause.

This seems to assume that the Kremlin is virtually incapable of decision, that it has no power to act on its own. But in truth the members of Stalin's Politburo are very active mentally.

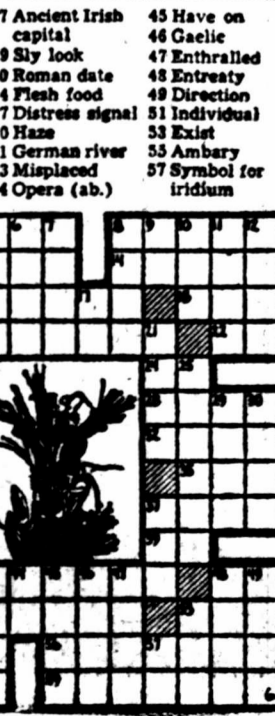

In a world containing Russian Communists, vigilance assuredly is the price of freedom. Until Congress, as well as Eisenhower's headquarters, makes that its motto, this country we live in will not be safe.

Short story on a person with a toothache—drill, fill and bill!

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Guy G. Gabrielson says: Magazine editorial inspires GOP comment; Republicans need more doorbell ringers; GOP looks ahead '52.

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Guy George Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National Committee.)

WASHINGTON — A number of letters to the Republican National Committee have commented on a magazine editorial entitled, "Here Is a Voter Who Wonders If the GOP Really Wants Him."

Dr. Eys said this caused him to wonder whether the party is interested only in large contributions. He added that Republicans might win a general election by accepting a few million of us one-to-five-dollar prospects.

Some of the letters on this editorial reported experiences similar to Dr. Eys's. Others thought the editorial was an unwarranted reflection upon tens of thousands of diligent, industrious Republican workers throughout the country.

Well, Dr. Eys has been asked to go to work. His neighbor, Edwin O. Bosten, is the new Dane County (Wis.) Republican chairman. He has invited Dr. Eys to take charge of their precinct, and reminded him in an open letter that "Our Dane County Republican organization is financed principally by the $1 contributions of a steadily mounting number of your fellow citizens—men and women in all walks of life who share your conviction that our nation must return to sound moral, economic and political principles if our country and our American way of life is to survive."

I hope and anticipate that as a new Republican worker, Dr. Eys will be effective. We need and welcome all the Eys—Mr., Mrs. or Miss—that we can enroll in the coming campaign. It doesn't make any difference whether they have been inactive Republicans, Democrats or Independents. We need their services and we need their contributions—from one dollar to the $5,000 permitted by the Hatch Act.

Our records show that last year, 78 per cent of the contributions to the national committee ranged from $1 to $50. In Massachusetts, for example, the Republican Party raised $625,000 from 35,500 contributors, or an average of $17.60 per contributor. The Democrats, in contrast, raised $72,000 from 1,365 contributors, or an average of $41 per contributor. That indicates pretty well which party gets the large contributions.

So They Say

I don't think Formosa needs any military aid so long as Chiang Kai-Shek is there. If he can't protect Formosa, he can't protect very much.

It is impossible in modern warfare to postpone or avoid decisive action in the air. No matter how much strength we may be able to assemble on the ground or the sea, we cannot hope to defeat Soviet power unless we have superior strength in the air.

You (Greeks) must adapt yourselves without delay to the idea that it is wrong to expect everything from Americans. Realize that American aid cannot be unlimited and never ending.

Never... should there be a fixed concept of fleet distribution between the two oceans. Strategic considerations which develop from the international situation will dictate the distribution.

New family formation in 1951—more than double the amount of new low-cost housing building this year—may create another housing shortage for lower income families during the next few years.

Q—Which of the colonies had the first Bill of Rights in America? A—Virginia.

Q—What is the American League record for most consecutive games won in a season? A—The all-time American League record of 19 consecutive wins was set by the 1904 White Sox and tied by the 1947 New York Yankees.

Russians Believed Reading Exhibition MOSCOW (AP)—Foreigners are speculating that Russia is readying a giant international exhibition, but so far no official announcement has been made.

A huge exhibition ground is being built on the edge of the city with a 15-story administration building, restaurants and amusement places. There also is a massive domed structure of brick and cement.

Roads leading to the grounds have been paved and new street car tracks laid.

An agricultural exposition has been announced, but the preparations appear too extensive for that kind of show.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. In rubber bridge you seldom deliberately overbid against silent opponents. In tournament bridge, however, you sometimes know that you need unusual results to produce a winning score, and in that case you sometimes bid the cards for a little more than they're really worth, trusting to luck and your good right arm to bring the contract home.

Today's hand was of that nature. South knew he didn't belong in a game contract. To begin with, his hand was a slightly doubtful no-trumper. Moreover, his partner raised to only two no-trump, showing that he lacked the strength to bid all the way to game. But South also knew that he needed a better than average result, so he bid the impossible game.

Incidentally, I should point out that North's response of two clubs was the Stayman Convention, asking South to show a major suit if he had one.

West led the four of diamonds, and South won with the jack. Declarer next cashed the king of hearts, and a low heart towards dummy. West allowed dummy's jack of hearts to win the second round of that suit, but had to take his king when declarer led a third round of hearts.

The contract could be defeated if West ever led clubs, but he had no way of knowing that. It seemed safe to lead the queen of spades, as indeed it was. East, knowing that he needed a club lead from the West hand, should have put up the king of spades to make sure that he would not eventually be stuck in the lead with a high spade. As it happened, East made the fatal error of playing the eight of spades.

South dropped the six of spades to make the eight look like an encouraging signal. West therefore continued with the jack of spades. Now declarer took the ace of spades, cashed the last heart to discard the ten of diamonds from dummy, and then put East in with a third spade. East had to lead a club, giving dummy the king of clubs. That card was the entry for the ace of diamonds and the last spade, both of which would have withered on the vine if anybody but East had led clubs.

Gamblers Are Targets Of Five Proposed Tax Bill Amendments

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The Senate's Kefauver's-O'Connor Crime Investigating Committee, in its 23 reform measures now before Congress, aims to break up the rackets by plugging a lot of legal loopholes.

One would make it a crime to run any lottery based on the report of any federal government agency. This is aimed at the numbers racket.

Another proposal would revise the old anti-lottery laws by adding a ban on "gambling enterprises or schemes of any kind." It would bar use of the mails and interstate commerce for transmission of lottery information. It also would ban punch boards.

Crime investigators have found that even the legitimate juke box or cigarette vending machine business tends to mushroom into punch board operations. The idea is to block this sideline.

Another committee proposal would make it a federal crime for anyone to use telephone or telegram for transmission of gambling information. This would not, however, bar the use of wires for placing of bets by individuals.

The Crime Committee's legal staff tried to write a definition of a gambler, and outlaw them. But the task so far has been impossible, so a new approach has been taken. It would make illegal the transmission across state lines of information used for gambling purposes.

Still another proposal is to revise the slot machine act of 1960, banning their shipment in interstate commerce. Definition of what a slot machine is has proved difficult. Also, opposition of some 400 carnival companies who run games of chance for lodges and church fairs watered down effectiveness of the law.

The Crime Committee now proposes a broader, prosecuting attorney's definition to ban from interstate commerce any device that pays off anything of value through an element of chance. It would exempt drug store pin-ball machines that pay off in a free game. But it would ban the one-ball games that have a cash payoff.

Five tax bill amendments aimed at gamblers are proposed. One would impose new penalties for violating slot machine and retail liquor registration regulations. Occupational tax returns by retail vendors in the past has been filled with false statements because there was no penalty. Another tax bill would require legalized gambling casinos—like Nevada's—to keep books and report daily totals. Illegal casinos would be required to keep records of every bet. This would either put them out of business or provide one more law for them to break and be prosecuted for.

All taxpayers would be required to keep their tax returns for seven years, under another proposal. Treasury regulations now require records for six years in fraud cases only.

Other bills would prohibit deductions from income as a business expense, any claims for losses on wagers. And they would seek to prohibit, as claims for deductions, any losses from illegal wagers. This would hit even poker playing, if it was illegal in any state.

Check Criminal Income In prosecuting big gamblers like Frank Costello and Frank Erickson, Department of Justice has found itself at a disadvantage because it could not get a fix on their net worth. So now comes the Senate Crime Committee with a proposal that every tax return showing income of more than $50,000 a year must attach a statement of net worth. This is expected to give a double check on tax enforcement and criminal income.

In still another field, the Crime Committee seeks to clarify the law on the granting of immunity to witnesses who testify for the state. This is a complicated and technical legal subject. Witnesses now may refuse to testify against criminals on the grounds they themselves might be incriminated.

In 1900, a law was put on the books granting immunity for witnesses testifying before Congress or its committees. In a Supreme Court test, however, this law was upset. In spite of it, some 25 federal regulatory agencies now have this authority to grant immunity to witnesses for their testimony.

The courts and Department of Justice never have had such power. The Crime Committee therefore now proposes to give immunity to any witness forced to testify, if he pleads violation of privilege. In a companion bill introduced by Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, this same immunity would be granted to congressional witnesses.

MEN prefer GIRLS by Florence Kertigan

THE STORY: Holly Dunstan believes to writer Steve Tracey, for whom she works as secretary, is a woman-hater, but a very Latin beauty Carmelita Hernandez believes differently: "He will be mine," she says.

"YOU will come up soon again for dinner?" Carmelita Hernandez said, her dark eyes eloquent as they looked up into Steve's. "Just you—alone! We will sit out on the terrace in the moonlight, you and I!"

"Afraid not," Steve Tracey said shortly. "I'm down here on business."

"But women, moonlight—these are part of your business, no? How can you write about women if you do not know them?"

"I've been around," he said, smiling, as Holly Dunstan appeared.

"I came back for my compact!" Holly sang out breezily, and Steve turned around with an expression something like relief in his face. "Did you find it?" Carmelita asked, lily.

"Yes, thank you! Right where I left it!" Steve, rescued, left with Holly and Ray grinned as they came up. "So you found him—I mean it," he observed, and Holly winked at him gravely.

"They wrote about politics the next day," Holly had been transcribing her notes on his book he had been interviewing people in Las Palmas and the village near the Porter plantation about the political and social conditions. Senior Hernandez had given him more information, and Ray Porter gave him an impartial view of the whole thing.

"One of these days," Ray said, "the lid will blow off and there'll be another revolution."

the deck of the ship down into the hold. Approaching that up a gang-plank from the dock was a double line of men who caught the stems as they were tossed from truck or freight car. Each one of a facing pair took an end of the stem, gave it a slight twist, and passed it to the next pair who did the same, so that by the time it reached the moving belt to be carried down into the hold, it had been inspected and either passed for shipment or tossed into a heap of discards. At the belt stood two men keeping tally of the number of stems.

"It was hard work, 24 hours of it, for they cut all night by the light of the moon and electric flood lights. The stems were too heavy for Holly to throw around, but she took her turn at slashing with a machete, at driving one of the pickup trucks from the Porter garage, and even relieved one of the men at counting the stems. But mostly she helped in the kitchen where sandwiches and coffee were being constantly prepared for the workers.

"How are you making out with Steve?" Elsa asked suddenly, as they were working together preparing food.

"Making out with Steve?" Holly stopped spreading a sandwich and looked surprised, and she hoped, innocent. "Why, I'm just his stenographer, Elsa."

"But pretty one since you've been stuffing out your hair and using a dash of makeup—and whatever happened to the glasses?"

"You hardly need glasses to find bananas!" snapped Holly. "Anyway, it does it better any more. I'm going back on this boat."

"So?" Elsa jerked her knife over her shoulder toward the window past which the Hernandez truck was roaring, with Steve driving and Carmelita sitting on the seat beside him, practically smuggling against his shoulder.

"Of course," Elsa went back to spreading slices of bread, "of course, if you're determined to go back to New York, you won't care. But—what'll you bet the Latin Bombelli lands him?"

Oklahoma Doctor Cleared In Death Of Borger Woman

MUSKOGEE, OKLA.—(AP)—A city judge acquitted Dr. Perry E. Hewitt, Jr., of manslaughter charges Wednesday, ruling he believed the brain specialist was "scared" rather than drunk while treating a Texas woman who later died.

Hewitt, 41, was accused of drunkenly injecting a drug known as intracaine into Mrs. Shuler, 38, of Borger, Texas, for a headache, then—panicked by her collapse—seeking to revive the woman with a slug of gin. She died August 9 less than 24 hours after treatment.

City Judge J. V. Beavers dismissed the first degree manslaughter charge after a lengthy preliminary hearing. He said, "In my opinion it has not been proved that a crime was committed."

"Five doctors have been unanimous in stating they didn't know what caused the death of Mrs. Shuler," Beavers said. "I don't think Dr. Hewitt has been uniformly honest in telling what happened. I believe the man got scared and extremely nervous when Mrs. Shuler failed to revive and then started drinking, not before."

Witnesses presented by County Attorney Ed Edmondson said the physician appeared to be drunk in his office afterwards. Dr. W. N. Weaver, who attended Mrs. Shuler before her death, said he saw Hewitt intoxicated some time after she was removed to the hospital.

Tribe Takes Drillers

Tie For Fifth In League

ARTESIA, N. M.—An 8-4 victory for the Midland Indians over the Artesia Drillers here Wednesday night pushed Zeke Bonura's Tribe into a tie for fifth place with the Vernon Dusters in the official Longhorn League standings.

Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal hurried the win, his fourteenth, allowing six hits. Five of the Drillers hits came in the first inning when Artesia scored three times.

Midland sent 10 men to the plate in the sixth inning to explode for four runs and ice the contest.

Hayden White and Kenny Jones walked and scored on a double by Julio de la Torre. Gordon Tanner was hit by a pitched ball, going to second on a single by Dick Campbell which scored de la Torre. Bonura singled to advance Tanner to third. Blumenthal singled Tanner home. Midland goes to Roswell Thursday night.

Longhorn Teams Move In For Last Games Of Season

The Longhorn League clubs switch sites Thursday night to begin their final two games.

Pitchers figured prominently Wednesday night.

George Abbott shutout the San Angelo Colts, 3-0, but failed in an iron man stunt. He worked six and one-third innings of the seven-inning second game but was hit hard to lose, 10-8, as Vernon got a split.

Roswell bested Big Spring, 6-3. Odessa shaded Sweetwater, 5-4, and Midland defeated Artesia, 8-4.

A wal' and two singles loader the bases and an infield out brought across the run that gave Odessa its margin.

Ray Hill, Roswell right fielder, had two home runs and turned in two great catches.

Committees Named By Optimist Club For Grid Tilt Details

Complete details for staging the college football game between Abilene Christian College and Texas Western here October 6 were worked out Wednesday night at a special meeting of the Optimist Club in Hotel Scharbauer.

The club is sponsoring the game and proceeds will go into the Optimists' Boys Workshop Fund.

John Grimland presided at the meeting, at which committees were named to take care of all phases of the project.

Co-chairmen of the general committee are Grimland and Lee Holman. Other chairmen are as follows:

George Park, program; Harold Borland, advertising solicitation; Bob Myers, ticket sales; Jerry Monroe, ushers; Ed Stitt, ticket collection; Bob Martin and Felix Welmaker, poster display; Arlo Forest and W. P. Z. German, Jr., parade; Wayne Harrell, radio and press and R. T. Venator, local publicity.

Dave Cole will be in charge of the PA system during the game. Emil Raasman, president of the Optimist Club, will be in charge of the committee to welcome presidents of the two colleges and their parties.

The parade, through the downtown section of Midland, will be held at 3:30 p.m. Game time is 8 p.m.

It is expected to have bands of both colleges in the parade.

Tickets for the game will go on sale September 17 at Tailorline. They will be on sale in Odessa at Eddie's Tailor Shop.

A broadcast of the game will be handled by KRQD, El Paso, over a nine-station network. In addition, two other El Paso stations and an Abilene station will air the game. Club officials emphasized the ACC Texas Western game will be the only topflight college football game to be played in this area this season.

Grid Tickets Still Available At MHS

Plenty of good seats still are available in the Midland High School football stadium, school officials said Thursday.

Only slightly more than 2,000 season tickets have been sold. Memorial Stadium seats approximately 11,000. Officials said many seats between the two 35-yard lines still remain.

"They are very good seats," a spokesman said.

A few ducats remain in the 40 to 40 yard zone. Tickets are on sale through Friday, at least, in the foyer of the MHS auditorium. School officials said the tickets would be sold "as long" as Midlanders want to buy them.

Jack Pennington Now Creating Sports Cartoons For Reporter-Telegram Readers

A young man with a lot of ideas and an amount of natural artistic ability is out to make his mark in the world.

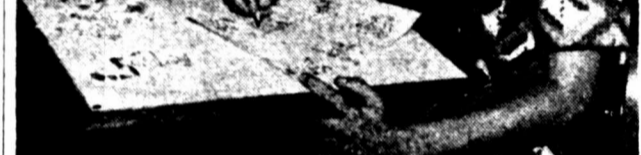

He's Jack Pennington, a 15-year-old Midland High School junior.

"Penny," as he is called by his friends, started drawing cartoons early in the baseball season and posting them on the bulletin in Indian Park Clubhouse. The players started looking forward to Penny's clever cartoons, and passed the word around.

He now is doing cartoons for The Reporter-Telegram. The first one, of Pitcher Eddie Jacome, appears in this edition.

The son of Maureen Pennington, 115 1/2 East Wall Street, the lad has been scoreboard operator at Indian Park since the Longhorn League started in 1947. In all that time, he has missed but five regular season games at home.

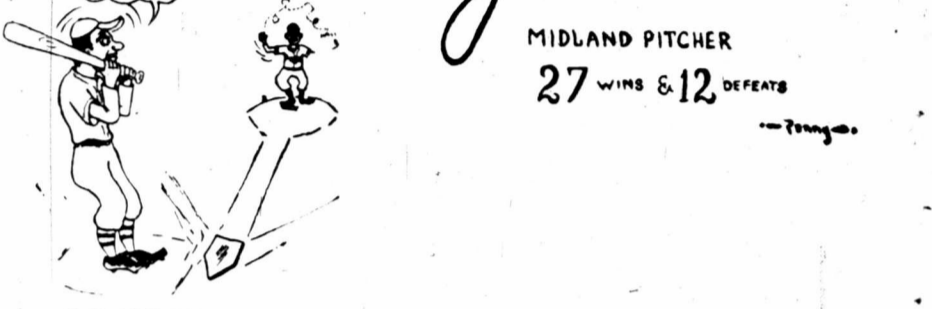

Jack hopes to be a commercial artist when he has finished his education.

CARTOONIST—Jack Pennington, young Midlander who is handy with a pen, works on cartoons for the sports page of The Reporter-Telegram.

JACOME AND BOB FRANK OF ROSWELL HAVE BEEN RUNNING A CLOSE RACE AS TO WHO WILL BE THE FIRST TO WIN 30 GAMES.

JACOME IS TIED FOR MOST GAMES COMPLETED AND LEADS IN GAMES AND INHITS PITCHES.

INDIAN HURLER—Eddie Jacome, Midland's ace pitcher, hurls so many games it's almost impossible to keep up with him. Jacome has won one, lost one since the above cartoon was drawn by Jack Pennington. His record now is 28 wins and 13 defeats, with the season coming to an end.

Ruffing Used Special Glove

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y.—(P)—Jim Denkert's secret ambition was to become a big league catcher, but the closest he ever got to the big leagues was making a special glove for Red Ruffing.

"When Red pitched for the Yankees he wanted a glove with a pocket big enough so he could hide the ball," says Denkert.

Denkert makes baseball and boxing gloves but the only special one he ever made was for Ruffing back in 1936. Ruffing, who recently said he was throwing a spitball on occasion, won 20 games that year and was a 20-

Cage Fixers Now In Hands Of Authorities

NEW YORK—(P)—An alleged big time basketball "fixer" who had been sought from coast to coast since July 24 surrendered to the district attorney Thursday.

Jack West, was indicted in July charged with offering a $10,000 bribe to Gene Melchiorre, Bradley University player, to throw a 1960 championship game with City College. Melchiorre said he refused the bribe.

The first trans-Atlantic cable ran from Newfoundland to Ireland.

FISH DON'T MIND

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(NEA)—Experiments conducted by the University of Michigan indicate that the use of outboard motors has no significant effect on fish.

Hank Soar and Cal Hubbard, American League umpires, were formerly pro football players with the New York Giants.

Lamesa Grid Team Has Four All-District Men Returning

LAMESA—Minus eight starters from the 1950 grid machine which won six and lost four, Lamesa High School's Golden Tornadoes face a rebuilding program for the coming season and the toughest schedule in the school's history.

Come from Coach C. W. Politz's squad are his '50 regular tackles, guards, center, halfbacks and fullbacks. Regulars returning this year will be Alvin Smith, defensive tackle; Marshall Crawford and Ray Taylor, ends; and Jerry Millspaugh, triple-threat quarterback. All four earned all-district honors on at least one team.

Other returning lettermen besides the four regulars are Jerry Howell, Kenneth Bartlett, Johnny Jones and Jimmie Robinson, all backs. Melvin Burns, a guard, may return to school from California where he worked this summer.

"We'll be extremely weak up the middle this year since losing most of the front wall," Coach Politz laments. The former East Texas State linebacker is beginning his first year as head coach, replacing Bob Harrell who is now coaching at Miller High School in Corpus Christi.

During the first week of practice drills with 39 players reporting and 18 more expected later, guard Billy Jack, center Carlos Berry, and Pat O'Neill husky tackle who was converted from fullback, showed they Midland, according to the official Longhorn League standings, is tied with Vernon for fifth place with a 66-71 record.

But, thanks to Tanner Laine of The Reporter-Telegram, a re-check of the standings may find Midland ahead of the Dusters.

Laine has compiled a game-by-game standing and score of each Midland opponent. His figures show 66 wins, 69 losses and one tie—the tie with Roswell due to be played off during Midland's current and final trip to the Rocket City.

Laine also shows a game with Roswell as being rained out there June 13 and never played. If so, that game also must be made up during the trip. The Indians and Big Spring never played a game scheduled here April 31, and canceled by high winds.

That would leave the Tribe a total of 136 "official" games, one tied for a 136 total and the two scheduled games with Roswell plus the rained out game to be played, or a total of 139—which is correct, since the one not to be unrec'd with Big Spring would make 140.

Longhorn League President Hal Sayles is having a check made on all the games, and promised to have some definite word on Midland's standing by Friday.

Here's how Midland has fared with Longhorn League foes this season, Midland's figures appearing first: Big Spring (8-11); Sweetwater (10-10); Vernon (12-8); San Angelo (8-12); Odessa (8-12); Artesia (15-5) and Roswell (5-11-1).

Midland has leads over Artesia and Vernon, and has split with Sweetwater.

More Indian data:

The Indians have won seven shut-out games, all coming in the last 47 contests. They have dropped seven shutouts. The Tribe has captured 18 games by one run, losing 18 by the same margin.

Worst hitting of the season was a 1-22 loss to Roswell April 21, the second game of the year.

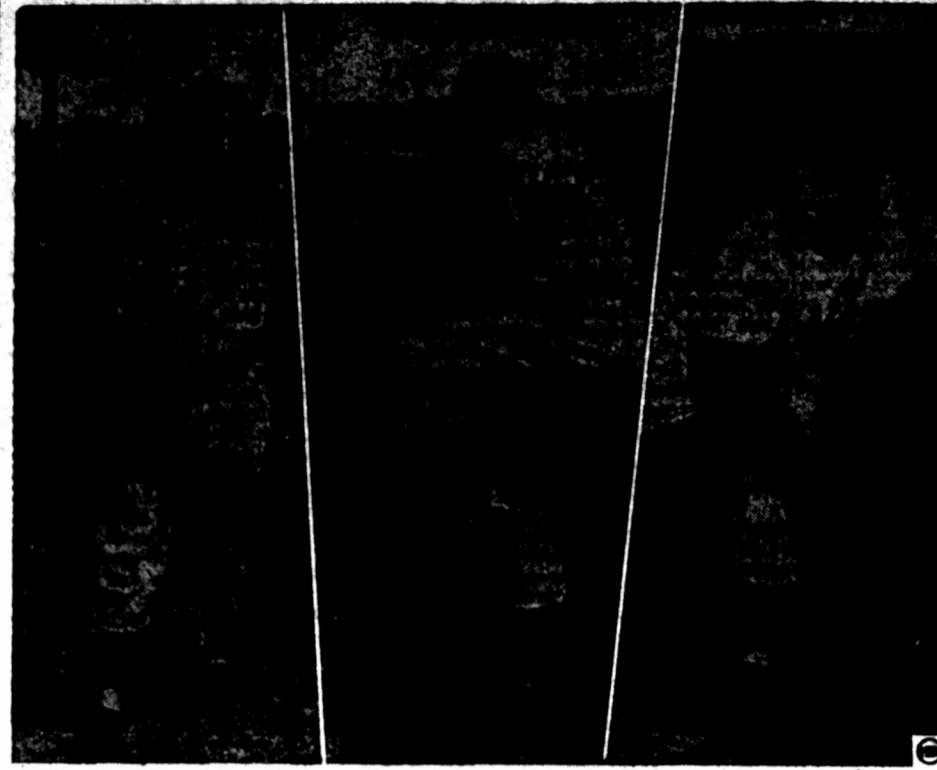

The most decisive win was a 22-9 win over Sweetwater August 30.

Midland has won 18 games by more than five runs and dropped the same number by five runs.

Thanks again to Laine for the figures.

CHAMPS MAKE APPEARANCE

BETHLEHEM, PA.—(P)—Two of amateur golf's most prominent figures in the U.S.—former champions Francis Ouimet and Charles "Chick" Evans, Jr.—will attend the 51st Amateur Championship of the USGA at Saucon Valley Country Club here September 10-15.

BIG BEAR—When Mike Garcia stretches, winds up and fires the batter gets either a blazing fast ball or a deceptive curve. Improved control gives the Indians' Maxican a low earned-run average and promises to win him 20 games. (NKA)

Tribe Back On Top In American Loop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Rosen and Luke Easter, Cleveland's classy one-two punch, are using their big bats to deflate the theory that the Indians are a "no hit, good pitch" club.

Rosen and Easter were the big guns Wednesday night as the Indians defeated the Detroit Tigers, 5-2, and regained first place in the American League. Each walloped a home run with a man on base to help the Tribe back up its sixteenth victory in 17 meetings with Detroit.

The Indians wrested the lead from the New York Yankees, who dropped a 4-2 decision to the visiting Boston Red Sox. The triumph moved the third-place Sox to within three games of the defending champions and left them four behind Cleveland. Boston trails the tribe by only one in the important "lost" column.

New York's Giants refuse to give up their fight to overhaul the National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. A sweep of a doubleheader from Boston, 3-2 and 9-1, enabled them to cut Brooklyn's lead to five and a half games. The Dodgers whipped the Philadelphia Phils, 5-2.

Philadelphia's Athletics took two from Washington, 4-1 and 9-7; Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh, 6-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals, and Chicago Cubs split. The Cubs won the opener, 3-2, in 11 innings and the Cards grabbed the nightcap, 6-5.

The homers by Rosen and Easter were all Cleveland's early Wynn needed to register his seventeenth triumph against 12 losses. The right-hander surrendered only four hits. Dick Kryhoski batted in both Detroit runs with a homer and single.

Hitting homers in the same game has become something of a habit to Rosen and Easter. Wednesday marked the ninth time this year the two sluggers accomplished the trick. The Indians won all nine games.

Brilliant pitching by Leo Kiely and Maurice McDermott, a pair of young southpaws, helped Boston to its tenth victory in 15 meetings with the Yankees.

Kiely, called up from Louisville last July, hurled seven runless innings before weakening. A brilliant rescue job by McDermott helped the 21-year-old from Hoboken, N. J., to his fifth victory in eight decisions.

Billy Goodman's two-run double in the first inning, Ted Williams' twenty-eighth homer in the third and Bobby Doerr's single in the fifth accounted for the Red Sox runs. All came with two out. Vic Raschi lost his ninth decision against 17 victories. Williams won his homered in every park, joining Eddie Robinson of Chicago as the only American Leaguers to accomplish the feat this season.

A grand slam homer by Gil Hodges, the sixth of his career, gave the Dodgers and Ralph Branca their victory. It was Hodges' thirty-seventh circuit clout and Branca's thirteenth triumph.

Sal Maglie pitched his first victory over the Braves and Sheldon Jones hurled his first complete game of the year as the Giants made it 23 wins in their last 26 games.

Don Mueller's run-scoring single in the eighth hung the twelfth defeat upon Warren Spahn in the opener. Monte Irvin slammed his eighteenth homer and drove in four runs in the nightcap as Maglie became the first National Leaguer to win 19 games.

By The Associated Press

The Fort Worth Cats have fought to within a half game of the Texas League playoff bracket with four games to go.

Dallas needs only one victory to clinch a playoff berth.

The Cats crowded close to Beaumont Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Dallas. Beaumont lost to Shreveport, 3-2.

Houston and San Antonio already have clinched for playoff spots. San Antonio defeated Houston, 7-1, Wednesday. Oklahoma City took a 4-1 verdict over Tulsa.

Sinton Oilers In Finals Of Tourney

WICHITA, KAN.—(P)—The Sinton, Texas, Oilers are heavily favored to win their first National Semipro Baseball Tournament title Thursday night.

The undefeated Texans meet once-beaten Atwater, Calif., packers. Atwater moved into the finals by beating the Lafayette, Ind., Red Sox, 5-3, Wednesday night.

If Sinton should lose Wednesday night another game with Atwater will be played Friday to determine the titlist. The California club's one defeat was at the hands of Sinton.

The finalists are survivors of a 32-team field.

Pecos, Wink, Seminole Kermit Get Grid Nods

By LARRY KING

King football returns to West Texas this weekend, as all members of District 8-AA see their first 1951 action and Wink becomes the first 5-A team to go into battle.

Several other West Texas teams also pop the cork, although the majority of the teams meet next week in the lid-blasters.

Pecos, Seminole, Wink, Dalhart, Kermit and Colorado City get the nod from The Reporter-Telegram in their first contests.

The Pecos Eagles, 8-AA title choice, meet rugged D'Avalland at Levelland. The Lobos had a fine squad last year, but couldn't handle area teams. With Pecos loaded, there's no reason to think Levelland can handle Coach Don Mouser's and Mitford Johnson's boys this year. Pecos, 26-7.

Sayles Continues To Bring 'Em In

ABILENE (P)—Contracts of K-O-M. League umpires Orville Ekstine and Alton Sample have been purchased by the Longhorn League for 1952 delivery, President Hal Sayles said Thursday.

Ekstine is from Webster City, Iowa, and Sample from Girard, Ohio.

Bulldogs To Meet Snyder; Boosters To Meet Monday Night

Midland High School's 1951 Bulldogs will see their first outside action of the season Saturday, going to Snyder for a scrimmage with the rugged 5-AA eleven. Coach Tugboat Jones said the scrimmage would be held at 4 p.m.

"We may be surprised at our strength or appalled at our weakness," Jones said early Thursday. "I can't even tell how we look yet—it's just too early."

The Bulldogs again slipped through a snappy workout Wednesday, concentrating in the main on their ground attack.

Tex Carleton, president of the Bulldog Booster Club said at the Wednesday workout that the Boosters will meet Tuesday for the first time this year.

Carleton said the meetings would be held in the Midland High School cafeteria this year, rather than the junior high cafeteria, because of the growth of the Booster Club. All meetings will begin at 8 p.m.

Carleton said the first meeting will deal with new membership and organization for the year.

SEATTLE (P)—The Seattle Rainiers clinched the 1951 Pacific Coast League baseball pennant Wednesday night.

Only A Paper Fan, But It Air Conditions

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Dr. Peter Schlumbohm, who invents like other people do crossword puzzles, links a successful invention is "the nearest joy of life."

Schlumbohm, a big, jovial man, is as the immense wooden table, most like a butcher's block, that was, as desk, dining table and workbench in his apartment.

"When you get an idea for something," he said, "and build it and it works, and then it works perfectly—well, there is no inner joy pure as that."

In his 55 years, he's experienced at feeling many times. He holds 200 patents and about a dozen his inventions are still commercially successful. They range from impinged refrigerating devices to portable holders, from involved machinery to a garbage pail shaped as a funnel.

Head of Pan

He is proudest of his newest invention, a revolutionary fan. There are two of them running in the apartment. Schlumbohm (pronounced Schlumbuhm) demonstrated, launching into an involved technical discourse about vacuums and currents and molecules.

What it boils down to is that he has taken large paper circles, fitted them between smaller disks of cork and aluminum, placed the whole thing on a shaft and attached a motor. There are no blades, just the paper circles. Schlumbohm showed the whirling disks with his hand, to show that it was perfectly in constant use, but changing them is a simple job.

The fan does what Schlumbohm calls "homogenizing the air." He thinks it should be run even in the winter because it keeps warm air circulating instead of letting it all rise to the ceiling.

"Any home handyman can pick up a small motor," he says, "and attach this fan. Altogether, it'll be cheaper than an ordinary fan."

Own Manufacturer

Since he's his own manufacturer, Schlumbohm can do whatever he the profound scientist: "Schlumbohm is working on a champagne cooler.

That first invention turned out successfully. Schlumbohm stayed with the field of refrigeration, peddled patent rights, made money, and came to the U.S. in 1938. His most profitable invention has been the Chemex coffee maker.

"Women come up to me when they hear that I am the man who made Chemex," he says, "and want to kiss my hand. I let them."

Rice For Diabetics Is Recommended

DURHAM, N. C. — Dr. Walter Kempner of Duke University, founder of the famed rice diet treatment for high blood pressure, told physicians here that the diet also helps sufferers who have diabetes.

Dr. Kempner said he studied 50 patients who had diabetes in combination with hypertension and kidney disease and found that: "The rice diet is not only well tolerated by these patients, but in a significant number of patients it lowers the blood sugar level and the insulin requirements."

The Duke doctor addressed physicians here, under the auspices of the American Hospital. Dr. Kempner began treating high blood pressure with the rice diet 10 years ago. Last Spring he reported that more than 1,200 of 1,800 patients have received "marked benefit."

Flint Corn Needed For Ancient Mill

NANTUCKET, MASS. — If anybody knows where to get a supply of flint corn such as used to be raised here in bygone days, maybe the old Nantucket windmill will start grinding corn again.

Believed to be one of only two windmills still in working order in the United States, the one here hasn't ground corn since 1945. That, says Custodian Purcell, is because modern corn is ground to mush instead of meal between the old stones, and the Nantucket Historical Association, which owns the mill, doesn't want to grind and sell corn meal unless it can do it right.

Islanders used to grow the King Philip variety, he relates, but the few farms still operating produce little more than sweet corn.

Meantime the old mill still revolves atop its hill for the benefit of tourists.

The scenic town of Nantucket, in the Julian Alps of northwest Yugoslavia, becomes that country's unofficial capital in August when Belgrade gets hot.

He decided to invent something. In the highbrow laboratory, the word was whispered around among

Whooping Crane Nesting Tragedy

NEW YORK — (AP) — Another nesting tragedy for Crip and Jo, the only mated pair of whooping cranes in captivity, is reported by the National Audubon Society. As the result of a flood, their single egg was broken before it had a chance to hatch.

The birds are in the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas. This tends to show, says the society, that the crane's best chances for survival (there are only about 30 of the birds left) depend on its breeding successes in the far north. Most of the cranes winter in Texas, but just where they nest is not known.

Ground Broken For St. Andrews Church

Ground was broken Wednesday night for the proposed St. Andrews Presbyterian Church as Charles Gaylord, chairman of the building committee, turned the first spadeful of dirt at a brief ceremony held at the site of the structure, across the street north from the David Crockett Elementary School. More than 70 members and friends of the church attended.

Representatives of the building contractors were introduced. Houston Hill has the general contract; Mid-West Electric, electrical; and Sanitary Plumbing Company plumbing.

The Rev. Lewis O. Waterstreet, pastor, read a passage of Scripture and delivered a prayer to open the ceremony.

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke briefly on the subject, "Salvation In Suburbia." He traced the chapters in the growth of the new Presbyterian Church, the organization of which was sponsored by the First Church.

"The real challenge of the church today lies in the suburban churches," Dr. Lynn stated.

It was announced that pledges and gifts for the erection of the new church total $87,000.

Construction work was under way in full force Thursday morning.

Free-Play Marble Machines Banned Under New Statute

AUSTIN—(P)—Marble machines that pay off in free games violate the state's new ban on slot machines, Attorney General Price Daniel ruled Wednesday.

The question was raised by State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

The law becomes effective September 7. It assesses two to four years in the penitentiary for mere possession of any coin-operated gaming device which may, by element of chance, deliver "any money or property or other valuable thing."

The opinion said the term "property" is used in the broad sense so as to include free games.

The construction, he said, is in accord with Texas court decisions.

Gloomy Gus Gets Hospital Brushoff

By NEA Service
NEW YORK—The visitor at the hospital rushes in, grabs your hand, and quavers:
 "I came just as soon as I heard you weren't expected to live."

That's one kind of ray-of-sunshine visitor the defenseless sick in hospitals can do without. Dr. William Kyatt Gordon writes in OP, Journal of the Academy of General Practitioners.

He leaves the beam on others, but some of whom seem to come just for entertainment, for show, for a piece of candy, or occasionally I fear, for reasons of pure curiosity.

Like the hearty back-slapper, full of jokes, all old, who visits mainly because he is unlike his other listeners, the bedded patient can't run away. His best humor line: How well things are going at the office since the patient took sick.

Gloomy Gusie, trying to spread her own gloom to all corners of the earth. A typical line of conversation from her, says Dr. Gordon:

"You poor suffering lamb, how sick you look. I know you must be hurting awfully bad. What did the doctor say you had? Gastritis! Oh, that can be bad. My poor husband (brother, father, cousin), rest his soul, had something like gastritis."

The visitor who drags in her whole family of young bellions, who leave the room in hurricane disorder.

OBJECT IN EYE
 Edward Roberts, an employe of Banner Dairies, was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Tuesday for removal of a foreign object from his eye.

FIVE HIT'S FOOT
 John Lee Kitchin of Stanton injured his foot Tuesday when a piece of pipe which he was loading onto a truck fell off and struck his foot. He was given treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital.

A new vehicle-speed counter makes the task of checking high-way traffic flow an easy one for the operator. The robot can tab the passing of a large number of cars, segregate them according to speeds, and record the speed of any given vehicle within an accuracy of plus or minus one thousandth of a second.

The visitor who peeks in, sees your eyes closed while you attempt a nap, and whispers loudly to a companion: "Did the doctor think he would make it through the night?"

And the person who comes to see you, and runs a monologue of telling you about his operation and how he feels.

Cornish Pasties Are Delicious

IRISH PASTIES filled with corned beef and cabbage make a hearty breakfast dish. Fold over and seal edges. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor. Cornish pasties consist of a round pocket or triangle of flaky pastry with a flavorful meat and vegetable filling inside. Wives of Cornish miners who came here to mine our copper in the 70's arose early in the morning and baked the pasties for their husbands to take with them to the mines. The husband stuffed the warm package inside his shirt as protection against the winter's cold. The original pasties were filled with cooked diced pork and beef but any good chopped meat filling such as barbecued beef or cooked pork sausage meat may be used. An adapted version of the old-time Cornish recipe, here's a suggestion for an Irish filling of corned beef and cabbage. The crisp corn meal crust is an American touch. Serve the individual meat pies on a large platter with a tart crab apple garnish. Pasties keep warm for several hours after they are baked.

Irish Pasties (Adapted from Cornish) (6 servings)
Filling: One medium potato, diced, 1 cup chopped cabbage, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 twelve-ounce can corned beef, chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup.
Cook diced potato in a small amount of water for 5 minutes. Add cabbage and onion and continue cooking 5 minutes. Drain. Combine all ingredients for the filling thoroughly.
Dough: Two cups sifted enriched flour, 3/4 cup enriched corn meal, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup milk.
For the dough sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle 12 by 18 inches.
Cut into 6 squares; place on baking sheet. Put about 2 tablespoons of filling on each square of dough.

Inventor Wants Smelly Talkies

AP Newfeatures
MILAN—Before long your neighborhood movie may be advertising: "Breathe the scented air of a south sea island paradise in the beautiful love story of..."
The thrills of speed and daring in the world's most perilous auto race replete and the odor of exhaust fumes...
All this and more may come to pass if Italian inventor Alberto Basso-Ricci has his way.
Signor Basso-Ricci, 28-year-old Milan radio engineer claims to have invented a machine which will add fragrances and odors to any film story as it is projected on the screen.
His machine, looking something like an army field radio, can be installed in a 1,800 seat movie theater for about $4,000.
The fragrances and smells would be piped to each seat in the movie house. The machine works automatically. Once started it can provide more than 30 different scents, fragrances, odors or smells as they are called for on the screen.
Signor Basso-Ricci's machine is equally efficient whether the movie's scenes are in the kitchen, the rainy tropics, or a beach.
The appetizing odor of a steak frying in butter, for instance, is something he guarantees.
For movie advertising, Signor Basso-Ricci thinks he has something that manufacturers have been waiting for a long time. For example, the candy maker's slide would be projected on the screen just as the fragrance of fudge in the making hits the nostrils.
The movie-goer allergic to smells or scents can turn off the outlet at his seat.
Unless you like meat with your garlic rather than garlic with your meat, you'd better avoid this seasoning with preparing foods to freeze. Garlic, like cloves, tends to become stronger during this storage. As for onions and sage, it's usually a waste of time to add them, since they will probably be too weak to taste by the time the food is used.

DOGGONE GOOD!—"Dusty," a Boston terrier in St. Petersburg, Fla., can put it on—the "dog," that is—any time he feels like it. Because the pup inherited $50,000 tax-free from his late owner, Mrs. Mary S. Morrow of Clearwater. Friends said Mrs. Morrow made the bequest because she feared "Dusty" wouldn't get the calf liver, steaks and pork chops to which he was accustomed. "Dusty" always turned up his nose at mere dog biscuits, they said.

TOLL ROADS INCREASE
NEW YORK—(AP)—The American Society of Civil Engineers reports that by the end of 1951 there will be 500 miles of toll auto roads in the United States.
A good method for cleaning extra-dirty clothes is to wet them, soap them well, roll them and then set to soak in a small quantity of warm water. After they have stood for a while, transfer them to clean suds for washing.
GALS LIKE SAILORS
CHARLOTTETOWN, CANADA—(AP)—Girls certainly love a sailor, claims Lt. Cliff Court of nearby Bedford. The barracks operations officer said in one hour last week he answered 68 telephone calls—all from girls requesting ship information.
When you're unmolding a gelatin dessert or salad use the tip of a paring knife to loosen the gelatin around the edges.

This compared with sales for the same 24-week period in 1950 of $491,411,668. Total net sales of Safeway and of all its subsidiaries in U. S. dollars were $648,962,975 in 1951, and $597,963,295 in 1950.

Warren reported 178 retail store buildings have been completed and opened for business during the 24-week period. Another 98 retail locations were under construction June 16, 1951.

"Our construction program has now passed its peak and future developments will be at a greatly reduced rate until such time as the emergency restrictions are removed, and building costs stabilized," stated Warren.

Daddy Ringtail And Foot In His Mouth

The Monkey Catcher from the zoo had come again to the Great Forest. Tall and skinny, silty chin-whiskers on his chin—oh, it was the Monkey Catcher, all right and sure enough.

Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, sound asleep in some green grass growing. "Huh?" said the Huffen in a sleepy voice. Said the Monkey Catcher who was now a Wolf Catcher: "I have caught me a wol. I have, and I am going to take it home to live at my zoo."

"School days... School days..." We could go on but since we realize this song quite probably is not on the Teen-agers hit parade at present, we won't. Generous, aren't we? (At least two of us can afford to smirk this Fall!) Yes... it's that time again and once more the Midland teenagers are off to school, that is... and the college crowd is around for smirking purposes only!

Reactions to the first day of school were quite varied. The freshmen were filled with awe for the huge school and all the students. Sophomores delighted in no longer being the "lowest form of life," while the juniors and seniors were ever so proud of being upper-classmen. Most seniors could be spotted as they floated around on a cloud saying over and over again, "I'm a senior, I'm a senior." We understand the most "lost feeling" teenagers were those who graduated last Spring. A few of them went down to the high school the first morning and later were seen wearing rather woe-begone looks and bemoaning the fact they no longer were a part of high school. Of course, the students who have had a little more experience as exes also visited the school, and we could tell they felt quite about being far away from their childhood days. All in all, though, the exes are anxious to be off to their respective schools.

Pop Rally Friday
The pep rally Friday afternoon is expected to be a huge success with the visiting ex-students. An invitation is extended to all ex-students to attend the rally—if they can find seats. Hope to see everyone there.

In addition to those students who are going to college, we have several who are attending schools outside of Midland. Giffert Alstrin leaves soon to attend St. Mark's School in Dallas. It is the former Country Day school which has been attended by many Midland teenagers in the past.

Many of the Midland boys will go to NMMI this year, and to get them off to a good start, Cadets John House, Bobby Floyd and Charles Paris, who will be seniors, and Watson LaForce, a grad of this last Spring, gave a party for them. The boys claimed it was strictly to "acquaint the new cadets with the customs." We wonder how the "new cadets," Teddy Kerr, Jimmy Cornell, Alvin Locamp, Charles Davis and Ronny Hisson, will like calling Bobby, John and Charles "Sir?" (This seems to be one of the "customs" which the boys spoke of.) Teddy and Jimmy will be juniors and the other three will join the ranks of the Sophomore Class. The new cadets left Wednesday.

day and the "old" ones will return on Monday.

Wanderers Come Home
With the end of Summer, home come the wanderers! Margie Jean and Mary Jane Miller have returned from Nova Scotia where they have been the last two months with their parents. Peggy O'Neal and Shirley Henderson also have been on a little pleasure jaunt to Ruidoso but have managed to make it back for the beginning of the school year. Mary Ann Searies is back, too! Back from where? Why, Arkansas, where the Searies spend each Summer. Carl and "Tody" Yeckel have returned from Arkansas also. But they weren't quite so lucky as Mary Ann! It seems they spent a large part of the trip in bed with mumps! Ann Ashby and Alan Olson hold this Summer's mileage record among the Midland teenagers! Ann is just in from a two month tour of Europe with her parents, and Alan is due home next week. We'd like to tell you more about Ann's adventures in Europe, but we have been unable to talk to her as yet. However we hear that Miss Ashby did all right! How about those Dutch boys, Ann? Pen pals, maybe? Donna Ingram also has spent the Summer away from home. She has been kept quite busy at ranch in Andrews.

Here To Stay
Here to stay are some teenagers who have started to Midland schools for the first time. Faye Henshaw, who is a junior this year, has attended schools in Odessa and Radford in El Paso. Another newcomer is DeLois Johnson a sophomore who hails from "Big D." (Dallas, that is!) Not new, these gals, but back from a three-year absence are Gail Black and Nancy Warren, who return as juniors after attending Radford, and Sylvia Metz, a freshman, who has been living in Calgary, Canada.

School has started and still we have visitors! Puffy Moore, a gal from "Cowtown" (There's only one and that's Fort Worth.) She is visiting Diane McDonald. From a little further away comes Harriet Magruder, who is here from Jackson, Miss.

The Labor Day weekend really was an exciting one for many teenagers. Uncle Sam let several of his current "employees" off for Labor Day, so we were able to see a lot of faces around Midland.

Pfc. Jimmy Chauncey, Pfc. Jimmy Greene and Cpl. Bill Adams all were home from Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. They returned in time for duty Tuesday morning.

Another teenager who still is here is Herman Britman. Herman is a member of the Air Force and is stationed in North Carolina. He will be in Midland several more days. One of Herman's friends in North Carolina is another well-known Midlander—Bobby Evans.

Back From Korea
The ex-Center member who has done more traveling than any of the other members of the armed forces is Cpl. Jimmy Coker. Jimmy, a Marine, has just returned from duty in Korea. He was over there a year. He has a 30-day pass right now, and then will go to Camp Jemie in North Carolina.

From a distance we have managed to see four other boys who now are wearing khaki colored uniforms. Unfortunately, we weren't able to talk to them, so we don't know the why and whereof of their present jobs. By this time you should be curious about just who they are —George Friday, Gene Skelton, Red Scott and Fred Harvey.

Have you noticed three girls with slightly swollen faces? Sounds like an odd question, but we've seen them! Katherine Lewis, Helen Cartwright and Carolyn Cook all have lost a part of their "wisdom" —in the form of teeth—lately.

We'd like to say "much grass" to all the fine "pippies" who gave us the notes in our "tip box" at the Youth Center. Without their help we might never have known some of these things!

New Cars
... anyway, cars seem to be a big attraction for Midland teenagers. At least two of the "critters" are causing comment in the teenage circles! One is the chartruse, 1929 roadster which Mark McKinsey has been scooting around in, and the other is "Shasta." Now we shall explain about "Shasta." "Shasta" is a convertible(?) of ancient vintage, which is maneuvered about by Stevie Olds. When we wondered about the name we were told... "It was named 'Shasta' because 'Shasta' have gas and 'Shasta' have oil!" Pretty clever, eh?

Hospital Brigade
The hospital brigade is at it again. This time it's Horace Greenstreet and Lee McCulloch who won't be back in school for awhile. Horace underwent surgery recently and will be out about three weeks. Lee is a victim of rheumatic fever and probably will be in bed several months. Best of luck to both of you boys and hurry up and get well!

Midland Country Club's Labor Day water show attracted a number of teenagers who took part or merely kibitzed. Seen in the crowd were Joe Johnson, David Laverty, Rosalynn, Carolyn and Waldo Leggett, Bill Franklin, David Angus, Paxton Howard, Timmy Cornwell, Teddy Kerr, Bill Erskine, Bill Mims, Roy Kimsey, Emily Hamilton, Joan and Joe Turner, Patti Curran, Nancy Steadman, Charles Worthen, Patsy Yeager, Rosemary Anderson, Donna and Mary Hurst, Nancy Warren, Roan Puett, John Ward, Marcelino Moreno, Margie Hensly, Sharon Herrell and Ray Leggett. They certainly seemed to be enjoying the holiday.

That looks like about it for now, but next week will be back with something a little bit special... see you then!

Blind Dog Has Seeing Eye Cat
GREENVILLE, S. C.—Blind people get seeing dogs to guide them about but a blind dog here has recruited a seeing-eye cat.

Penny, an eight year-old Eskimo Spitz owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cothran, has been blind seven years. Formerly, the Cothrans' maid took care of him.

The maid died a few months ago and Inky, the Cothran's 18-month-old black Persian kitty became Penny's eyes.

Inky leads Penny about the premises, shows him to his food, and occasionally takes him on jaunts through the woods near the house.

It was after several of these strolls that the Cothrans first realized that Penny never could have made it through the woods and back by scent alone.

Occasionally, the two animals argue over their food but it usually is short-lived. Inky is inclined to let Penny have his way and, in fact, treat him with un-catlike and touching gentleness.

Towards other dogs, however, Inky has a normal antagonistic attitude—especially those who try to bother Penny. Several of them have found out to their dismay that Inky is serious about this seeing-eye cat business and truly devoted to his blind friend.

Freddie Field Dedicates Life To Biting Hand That Feeds Him

NEW YORK (NEA)—Frederick Vanderbilt Field is a tall, thin, twenty, pipe-smoking man, with thinning sandy hair and heavily-rimmed spectacles. He looks like a college professor, lives like a multi-millionaire, and has dedicated his life, as well as his fortune, to biting the hand that feeds him.

The fortune runs to several million dollars, and it came to Freddie Field through a long line of what of the Communist Party; and in his own specialty—furthering the cause of the Chinese Reds—he evidently is a full-fledged "commis-sar."

For years, while still a secret member of the party, Field was executive secretary of the Institute for Pacific Relations, using that respectable front to propagate the myth that China's Communists were simple peasants, agrarian reformers, whose goal was an oriental version of Jeffersonian democracy.

He helped to found and finance the Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy, a notorious Communist front. He also was a founder of Amerasia, a small yet influential publication, which leaped into the news when 1700 top-secret Government documents were found in the possession of its editors.

He wrote for Amerasia under his party pseudonym, Frederick Spencer, a name he also used in writing for a pro-Communist publication called China Today.

Nor has Freddie confined his activities to China. He was head of the American Peace Mobilization, which picketed the White House, during the days of the Hitler-Stalin pact, with signs reading "The Yanks are NOT Coming."

Renames Group
Immediately after Germany invaded Soviet Russia, he renamed the organization the American People's Mobilization and started plugging for a second front. At the same time, he applied for a commission as captain in Army Intelligence. (He didn't get it.)

Field also was head of the American People's Fund, through which he financed several Russian war relief organizations, as well as a score of Communist fronts like the American Committee for the Protection of the Foreign Born. He deposited two dozen of his own dividend and royalty checks into the fund, and in addition collected $50,000 or more from wealthy socialist friends.

He also, for a reported $30,000 in cash, bought a three-story building in New York to house the fronts in school of Economics. There he came under the influence of Harold Laaki and the veteran Socialist Graham Wallis.

Returns Home
They didn't fully convert him to Marxism, but they filled him with a bubbling social consciousness.

Freddie's father, William B. Osgood Field, a well-known engineer who used to say, "I debased the genealogical line when I married a Vanderbilt," could trace his ancestry to Samuel Osgood, Postmaster General under George Washington, and Cyrus Field, who laid the first transatlantic cable.

A Communist Party member for the past 15 years or more, Field has invested his money wisely in some 30 capitalist corporations, among them E. I. du Pont de Nemours, the Norfolk and Western Railway, Gulf Oil, Pure Oil, Standard of Louisiana, and Shell.

Although he can prove conclusively—by the gospel according to Karl Marx—that capitalism is dying, these investments nevertheless give him a sufficient income to live in a four-story mansion, complete with private elevator and a staff of servants, at 16 West 12th Street in New York, and to vacation at such luxurious resorts as the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas ("the house that Bugsy Siegel built").

There is also, unfortunately, enough left over to make Field the most ardent angel of Communist cause in the United States. One of these is the $800,000 Civil Rights Congress, which puts up ball for Reds who have run afoul of the law by conspiring to overthrow the Government.

Freddie Field may not be the only millionaire Communist in the United States, but he unquestionably is the most important—not merely because of his money.

his father's New York mansion at 645 Fifth Avenue; and grew up with his brother and two sisters at the family's 901-acre estate near Lenox, Mass., a magnificent place with 53 buildings. The main building has a patio, a swimmingpool, and seven acres of lawn.

He prepped at Hotchkiss, and then entered Harvard, where he was a properly gilded young man who belonged to all the right clubs, including the Delphi, the Trojans, the Mountaineering, and the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770. He also was a frequent and lavish host to his fellow under-graduates at Locke-Ober's, a swank restaurant which even few Harvard students could afford.

After graduation, Field went to England to study at the London

When he returned to New York in 1928 he immediately plunged into politics as a campaign worker for Alfred E. Smith, who then was runner-up for President against Herbert Hoover.

Quickly becoming disillusioned with the Democratic Party, he joined the Socialists and started campaigning for Norman Thomas, but by 1931, as Thomas now recalls, Field became disillusioned with them, too.

He complained to his friends that "the Socialists have all the right goals—but no means." By mid-1935, he definitely was a Communist, according to Whittaker Chambers.

Mayes Electric Is Proud Of Many Satisfied Patrons

Satisfied customers have made it necessary for Mayes Electric Company, 1018 Loring Street, to expand three times in its six years of business here.

Mayes currently is in the process of completing a job for the Superior Oil Company. The firm also is installing the electrical fixtures in the new Hinkley store.

In business in Midland the last six years, the Mayes shop has been expanded three times to accommodate added equipment, which includes five service trucks.

Light Fixtures Stocked
 Mayes does all types of electrical construction and repair work and carries a fine line of light fixtures. The concern points to its service department with pride and says that Midland residents dial No. 2-1741 to report wiring difficulties. Quality materials and quality personnel provide a double-barreled service which the operators challenge you to "try for yourself."

You are invited to come in and look over the beautiful array of lighting fixtures which are designed for all purposes. Mayes Electric has the right fixture and the price are right, too.

Estimates on wiring contracts will be given gladly by Mayes.

Godfrey Says Most Television Is Bad

BERLIN —(AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who is a pretty big man in it himself, says that except for sports most television programs in the United States are no good.

"Pee-ew," said Godfrey of television programs in a radio interview broadcast here during his recent European visit.

The versatile Arthur, who handles his several radio and television programs like a juggler, said the only things he could commend on American television were the sports casts.

Insulated 'Shakes' Siding Featured By Roofing Firm

Even though most of Texas still is sweltering in record-breaking heat, it's not too early to start thinking about cooler weather—and ways to lower the cost of heating a house or business building.

Shepard Roofing and Sheet Metal Company at 1811 West South Front Street, Midland, is featuring just the thing to make homes warmer in Winter and cooler in Summer.

It's insulated "shakes" siding, which has many features pleasing to home owners in addition to the economy they effect.

Shepard Roofing and Sheet Metal Company not only performs many services to residential, commercial and municipal building in Midland, but serves customers in a 150-mile radius of Midland. The concern is a bonded roofing establishment and also performs every type of sheet metal work.

This new siding comes in four colors, is non-breaking and never needs painting. And, it's easy to put on new and old residences. It's made of asbestos-asphalt material, ideal protection against the elements plus the added safety of being fire-resistant.

The insulated siding offered by Shepard may be purchased conveniently under the Title I loan plan. The company, owned by C. F. Shepard and under the management of David Cole, handles all quality roofing, including clay tile.

The best in roofing products, properly installed, assure residents, business houses and municipalities of the most for their money, since the best in roofing means protection against time and the elements.

The Shepard Roofing and Sheet Metal Company telephone number is 4-4841.

Roy Marvin Cox is in charge of the firm's repair shop, which overhauls farm implements and tractors.

Highly-Trained Staff
 The repair department is staffed with highly-trained mechanics for special tractor and implement repair work and is equipped to take care of any job in this line with the least possible delay.

You are invited to call for free estimates on repair work as well as to get a comparison of prices on parts and repairs.

WINE FOR COWS

'Wild Bill' Elliott And Tommy Steiner Will Produce Rodeo Show At Monahans

MONAHANS—Rodeo fans in this area are due a treat September 27, 28 and 29, when a famous western motion picture star and one of the West's best-known rodeo contractors produce a show for the Permian Basin Rodeo Association of this city.

"Wild Bill" Elliott and Tommy Steiner have combined their talents to bring Monahans the most sensational rodeo in its history. Elliott, a top Western star will make personal appearances at each performance of the rodeo, and will invite kiddies of the audience to join him in the arena, where they will assist in putting Thunder, "Wild Bill's" famous movie stunt horse, through his many tricks.

The partners have spared neither expense nor trouble to gather the wildest, sportiest, pitchiest string of horses and Brahman bulls ever seen at one rodeo. More than $30,000 was spent in accumulating the 60-odd fighting Brahman bulls alone.

The Monahans Permian Basin show will be the most colorful and the most spectacular ever to be seen in the southwest, rodeo officials said. Elliott and Steiner have equipped their troupe with elaborate and colorful costumes and trappings. The matching shirts, chaps and horse trappings have all been custom-made for the show.

A pair of perfectly matched white horses will carry the bearers of the national and state emblems as the flag-bearers present a Pageant of the States at breakneck speed around the arena.

A Cutting Horse contest, held under the rules of the National Cutting Horse Association, of which Elliott is a director, will be conducted during each performance of the rodeo. This is one event in which "Wild Bill" himself will participate, riding his Reserve World's Champion Cutting Horse, Red Boy.

Some of the best cutting horses in the Southwest are expected to compete in this event during the three-days of performance. Shows will open each day at 8 p.m.

IN CRYSTAL BALL—

Harvard President Sees Peace, Synthetic Hooch

NEW YORK (AP)—No atomic world war, nor any other kind of world war, was the prediction made to the American Chemical Society Wednesday by Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard.

We shall come close to a world war. There will be smaller wars. But the turning point already has been passed. It came in 1950 when the free nations decided to rearm.

Dr. Conant's subject was "A Skeptical Chemist Looks Into the Crystal Ball." He was one of the top wartime scientists in making A-bombs.

"I see in this crystal ball," he said, "neither an atomic holocaust nor the golden abundance of an atomic age. On the contrary, I see worried humanity endeavoring by one political device after another to find a way out of the atomic age."

"The year 1984, for example, does not glare with menace in my crystal ball. Paris, London, Berlin, New York, Moscow, still stand physically undamaged by any enemy action since World War II.

By Narrowest Margins
"How did the industrialized nations avoid de-industrializing each other by atomic bombs? Only by the narrowest of margins, and only because time and again, when one side or the other was about to take the plunge, the expert military advisers could not guarantee ultimate military success.

"Of course the turning point was in 1950, the first year when collective security became a reality. For when the free world had once made up its mind to meet each type of military threat of Soviet Union with a defense against that threat, and no longer relied on the magic of atomic bombs, from that moment on hopes for an eventual disarmament revived.

"By the middle 1960's I see balanced forces again at the disposal of the Atlantic Treaty nations. It is then clear in Moscow that there can be no easy march to the charnel ports.

Not Worth the Candle
"To be sure, for a decade or more the series of battles in different parts of the globe and the economic sanctions time and again almost had precipitated World War III.

"I find the 1990's the time when constructive steps away from war are first being taken. Fifteen or twenty years after the first atomic bomb was fired, a sober appraisal of the debts and credits of the exploitation of atomic fission had led people to decide the game was not worth the candle."

Dr. Conant made some non-military predictions. He said our power would come in another half century from the Sun's rays, rather than atomic fission. Fresh water will be produced from the sea.

Birth control will be attained by diet. Coal will be converted to gas underground. Alcoholic drinks all will be synthetic—no more corn or grain. Microorganisms will make the flavors of drinks.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Seriousness Of Heart Murmur Is Decided By Individual Case

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Quite often letters are received such as the one from J. A. S. who writes, "I recently was told I had a heart murmur. Just what is this and how serious is it? What should be done for such an ailment?" Now these questions can be answered best by explaining just what a heart murmur is.

The heart contains four chambers which are separated from each other by partitions or valves. Also there are valves which separate the heart chambers from the large blood vessels into which they empty. Thus the heart is said to have four sets of valves.

When doctors speak of a leaky heart or a heart murmur, therefore, they mean that the valves between the heart chambers—or between them and the large blood vessels—do not hold back the blood as well as they should. This produces a rushing sound or murmur which can be heard when the doctor listens over the heart.

Parents of children with leaky hearts (and adults too) often are inclined to be badly frightened about such a condition. They should not jump to the conclusion, however, that because the doctor has found a murmur that the victim is headed for an early grave. In many cases the heart can function well with a slight leak for many years without causing any serious effects.

Some Are Serious
However, some murmurs are serious. Complete, careful examination and study is necessary to find out whether the damage to the heart valves is progressing, how much damage has been done and how well the heart has adjusted to the difficulty.

Second-Generation Stars At Duke

DURHAM, N. C. —(NEA)— No few than five sons of fine athletes are enrolled at Duke.

They are Bill Werber, Jr., first baseman son of the alumnus who starred in the majors; Henry Kister, Jr., son of the captain of the 1929 squad; track star Bill Anderson, son of Hunk Anderson, Notre Dame guard and coach; Tom Miller, whose dad is Rip, assistant athletic director at Navy; and Sam Eberdt, brilliant high-school half-back, whose father, Jess, played center for Alabama's victorious 1930 Rose Bowl team.

CHICKEN HOUSE PANIC

NORTH BAY, ONTARIO—(P)—A chicken hawk which swooped down on a farm near here killed 26 chickens without touching them. The chickens crowded into a corner of their coop trying to escape the invader and were smothered to death.

COOLING OFF PERIOD—A Frenchman sends up a spray as he hits the water at a hazard in the steeplechase event of a British-French meet at London's White City. A teammate grimaces in anticipation as he clears the hedge. Events like this could become a fad during heat waves if the jumps were lower and the water deeper. (NEA)
