Russia, Two Red Stooges Boycott Pact

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—Japan signed a treaty of peace with 48 former enemy states Saturday, but Russia refused to take part in the ceremony welcoming the Japanese back into the family of friendly nations.

The last to sign, Japan's Premier Shigeru Yoshida, a tiny man in a black cutaway coat, affixed his name to the treaty at 1:34 p.m. CST. The whole ceremony had taken a little more than an hour.

It was nine years, nine months and one day after Pearl Harbor, and six years and seven days after the Japanese surrendered aboard the battleship Missouri.

Andrei Gromyko, Russian delegate to the four-day session here, quit the conference while the other delegates were assembling for the concluding ceremony.

Gromyko held a press conference and branded the treaty as a "draft for a new war," adding, "The Soviet Union would fall in its duties" if it signed. He and the rest of his delegation then got into automobiles and drove from the conference site.

Delegates from Poland and Czechoslovakia, whose verbal attacks on the American-drafted treaty had echoed the Russian throughout the conference, also refused to join in the ceremony.

Japan and the United States signed a separate security pact Saturday afternoon. The pact calls for (Continued On Page Four)

Big Walkout Man Gets Liberal Dose Of Own Medicine

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—Andrei Gromyko, Russia's big walkout man, got walked out on Saturday.

Gromyko's news conference still was going on at 10:10 a.m. while the delegates of 49 nations were assembled next door at the opera house for the Japanese treaty signing.

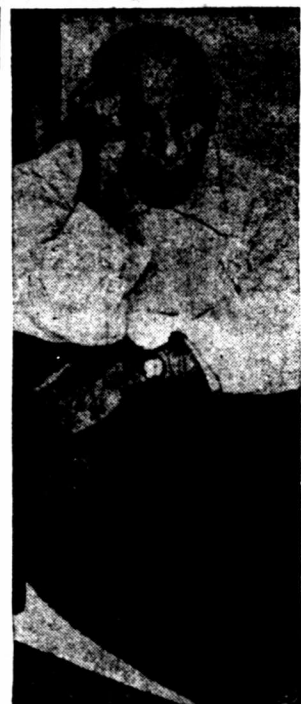

The 300 newsmen quizzing Gromyko got more and more restless, while Gromyko's answers got longer and longer.

One newsmen called out: "Why did you call us here? You haven't said anything new."

Then one man near the rear of the huddle called out: "You're just keeping us here!" A general break for the door ensued.

The correspondents puffed the 100 yards to the opera house in time for the opening gavel at 10:12 a.m.

Gromyko, blackbrowed, stalked to his limousine and drove off.

WORRIED MIND—A man with plenty of troubles is Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, seen resting in his hospital bed at Tehran.

Mossadegh bucks opposition from many quarters as his oil nationalization plan breeds new crises for Iran.

Iran Cabinet Makes Up Mind To Support Premier Mossadegh

TEHRAN, IRAN—(P)—Iran's cabinet Saturday night decided to support Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's tough oil talk with Britain even if opposition deputies block a vote of confidence Sunday.

The Majlis (lower house) deputies were threatened with assassination Friday night at an extremist National Front and Moslem rally if they continue opposing Mossadegh's oil nationalization policies.

Opposition deputies boycotted a Majlis session called last Thursday for a vote of confidence in Mossadegh's ultimatum that Britain must renew oil talks within two weeks.

The boycott caused a postponement until Sunday and the government is flying special planes to bring in government-supporting deputies from the Azerbaijan and Khuzistan oil field provinces. The Senate voted its support of Mossadegh Wednesday.

Mossadegh threatens to kick out the 350 British oil technicians remaining in Abadan if Britain refuses to reopen negotiations. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company refinery there has been closed by the nationalization dispute.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatima announced the cabinet decision to by-pass the Majlis, if necessary, after a session at the premier's house.

Reds Mass At Kaesong, Hint Truce Talks Elsewhere Okay

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(P)—Reports of three new Red armored divisions in Western Korea Sunday increased speculation that the Communists may be readying an offensive.

In addition to the buildup in Red armored strength, anti-aircraft batteries were said to be in place all along the important highway leading south from the North Korean capital of Pyongyang to Kaesong, site of the suspended truce talks. One or more batteries were reported in Panmunjom, six miles east of Kaesong. The anti-aircraft guns reportedly are manned by Caucasian puppet troops.

These reports followed only a few hours the disclosure by Allied officers that major elements of a Chinese Division, equipped with tanks, were in Kaesong. Heavy Tank Movements

Two of the new Red armored divisions were reported in the hills behind Communist lines on the western front. The third was said to be in reserve farther north.

In addition to the three Red divisions reported on the western front, Allied officers previously have listed an older North Korean armored division in this sector.

Throughout the area behind the western front, Communist engineers have been widening roads leading south, indicating that heavy tank movements may be in the offing.

Action quieted all along the battlefield Saturday.

There were a series of fierce attacks against Allied advance positions in Central Korea, northwest of Kumhwa, southeast base of the old "Iron Triangle." They were repulsed.

On the western end of the line, Chinese troops pushed Allied forces off a hilltop northeast of Korangpo. It is 15 miles east of Kaesong.

There were no reports of fighting on the eastern front.

Utah Blonde Named Miss America, 1952

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(P)—Twenty-five-year-old Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City won the 1952 Miss America contest Saturday night.

The Miss Utah entry, a blue-eyed blonde, is a veteran of Utah beauty pageants and holds several home-state titles.

The tallest girl in the contest at five feet, 10 inches, Miss Hutchins also was one of the three oldest contestants in the famous beauty contest.

She announced she plans to seek a career on the stage.

The trim, stately-looking University of Utah graduate student weighs 143 pounds, has a 24-inch waist, 34-inch bust and 36-inch hips.

Ikard Named To Vacancy In Congress

WICHITA FALLS—(P)—Democrat Frank Ikard, 37-year-old Wichita Falls lawyer and jurist, was elected to Congress in Saturday's special election.

The six-foot, four-inch district judge ran up a lead of almost two to one over his nearest opponent in the eight-way race in the North Texas 13th District. The lone Republican ran third.

Ikard credited his victory in part to "the people's concern over the apparent lack of personal integrity in Washington."

In his campaign he called for more careful spending, a cut in federal bureaus, and restoration of the Tideland to the states. Succeeded Gossett

He said he planned to go next week to Washington, where he will succeed Democrat Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, who quit Congress to take a $25,000 job as counsel for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Final unofficial returns gave the former Texas cowboy a lead of 8,874 to 5,154 over his nearest opponent, Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls.

The Republican oil man, Joe Jackson of Wichita Falls, polled 5,012.

The returns—from 280 of the district's 322 precincts—gave Wayne Wagonseller of Stoneburg 3,952; W. D. McFarlane of Graham, 2,641; Doug Crouch of Denton 2,359; Mrs. Edith Wilman of Vineyard 60 and James A. Stephens of Benjamin 7.

McFarlane, the candidate who was the most vocal in support of the Administration, ran fifth. The other Democratic candidates criticized the Administration on various grounds.

Zone Seven Lions Hear Travel Plans For Mexico Meet

George W. Crawford of Fort Worth, in charge of transportation of Texas Lions to the international convention in Mexico City next year, spoke at a Zone Seven meeting in Midland Saturday.

He outlined plans and facilities for transporting thousands of Texas Lions and their ladies to the party. Trains, planes and other methods of transportation will be utilized.

District 2-T-2 Governor Frankie Cochran of Odessa was present at the zone meeting here. Dr. Norman J. Maberry of Midland, zone chairman, presided. The meeting was held in the dining room of Hotel Scharbauer. Lions Clubs of Midland, Big Spring, Stanton and Terminal were represented.

Club presidents and secretaries were official delegates to the meeting. Other Lions club members attended, however.

Although it was indicated there will be less numerical growth in membership among zone clubs in this club year, there will be a more attractive program offered to all members, Maberry said.

Midland's Building Permits Zoom Past $9,000,000 Mark

Building permits in Midland zoomed past the $9,000,000 mark Saturday.

Permits for the week totaled $282,500, to set the 1951 figure at $9,012,580.

Raymond Thomason, Sr., was issued permits for 27 frame residences, each to cost $4,900, in the 3100 and 3200 blocks of Roosevelt Street in the Crestview Addition.

A permit for a $26,000 brick veneer residence at 1201 Bedford Street was issued to J. D. Henderson, builder for W. T. House.

C. W. Nugent was granted a $20,000 permit for an Austin Stone residence at 2500 Bedford Street.

Two permits for $18,000 structures were issued. One to H. A. Chism, builder, for a physician's office at 428 Andrews Highway. Another went to Jim Puckett, builder for Carl Davis for a brick veneer residence at 2513 Cuthbert Street.

Also, two $15,000 permits for residences were issued. One was granted Hays Construction Company for a brick veneer residence at 604 West Estes Street. The other to Jim Puckett for a brick veneer residence at 2512 West Storey Street.

L. E. Waynick received a permit for a $14,000 brick veneer residence at 2606 West Storey Street.

Other permits of the week included: E. O. Kemper, $5,400, for Standard of Texas steel petroleum warehouse at 600 East South Front Street; H. A. Chism for J. P. Bizzell, $3,500, alter brick veneer residence at 1211 West College Street; J. W. James, $3,000, frame servants quarters at 702 Andrews Highway; S. H. Midland Gets Slow, Drizzling Rainfall

Rain began falling on Midland near midnight Saturday in a slow drizzle.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration at Terminal said several light showers were reported generally and light rains and showers were reported by Lubbock and Childress.

The rain appeared from reports to be widespread, the CAA said.

GI-X Is Millionth American To Die On Field Of Battle

NEW YORK—(P)—The 1,000,000th American to die fighting for his country fell on the Korean battlefield last week.

His identity is unknown. He is "GI-X."

He was one of the soldiers killed on Labor Day or the following day, September 4, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies said Saturday.

But just which one cannot be determined because the exact order of their deaths is unavailable.

But of this much the association was certain: Since the first Minute Man fell in the Battle of Lexington on April 19, 1775, the number of Americans to die military deaths now has crossed the 1,000,000 mark.

25 Reported Dead As Brazil Airliner Crashes Into House

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL—(P)—A Brazilian airliner crashed into a house near the Congonhas Airport Saturday night and a news agency reported placed the number of dead as high as 25.

Airliner officials said their first reports were that six passengers and four of the plane's crew were killed as well as two occupants of the house.

The Meridional News Agency said 25 passengers and crewmen died in the wreckage.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

LONDON—(AP)—The Foreign Office Saturday night reported that Capt. Vyvan Holt, Britain's minister to South Korea, is missing since the Reds took Seoul soon after the war started in 1950, is a prisoner of war at Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—Prime Minister Nehru Sunday won the presidency of his Government Congress Party and a swift victory over Hindu conservatives who oppose his emphasis on the development of India as a modern, secular state.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) Saturday night said he thinks he could be elected president in 1952 if he is nominated. He added in a television interview: "I think any Republican could win."

LONDON—(AP)—Czechoslovakia's shaken-up Red regime Sunday named a comparative unknown—Krol Bacilek—minister of state control, to head a new drive aimed at boosting industrial production, as demanded by Russia.

Hurricane 'Easy' Rushes On Bermuda; To Clash With 'Fox'

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—A rare clash of hurricanes was in the making over the Atlantic Saturday but it appeared their sparring began too late to spare Bermuda a heavy blow.

The British vacation island, some 700 miles southeast of New York, was advised to take full hurricane precautions as the giant storm named "Easy" curved toward it with 150-mile winds.

Another hurricane, "Fox," containing 100-mile winds, was scurrying along at 20 to 24 miles an hour and curving on a path that would place it ahead of Easy, which it has followed three days.

The centers of the two hurricanes late Saturday were about 600 miles apart. Storm forecasters said the outer circulations of the two hurricanes were "very close together."

The storm "Easy" was centered only 200 miles south-southwest of Bermuda. Hurricane force winds extended outward 100 miles from the center.

The center was expected to pass near Bermuda before noon Friday.

The 6,111-ton tanker "African Grove" was caught in the outer fringes of hurricane "Easy" and reported a severe pounding from "extremely high seas" and 140-mile an hour winds.

San Francisco—(P)—From the deck of the battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay six years and seven days ago to the glided San Francisco Opera House Saturday, the world moved a full cycle from a day of retribution to a day of reconciliation.

There was high drama then, beside the leveled guns of the great warship. Fidgety and nervous Natoru Shigemitsu, Japan's last wartime foreign minister, limped to a green-topped table on the steel deck. There he unconditionally surrendered the remnants of Japan's lost empire to General MacArthur in cold silence.

Saturday, another Japanese leader in striped trousers and formal swallow-tail coat, Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, beamed with pleasure as he led his six-man delegation to the treaty-signing table at the opera house. He was greeted by warm applause.

His signature in Japanese script marked the return of Japan to the brotherhood of free nations.

At the surrender in Tokyo Bay, the day was cool and cloudy. The sun broke through only after the ceremony was finished with MacArthur's ringing words:

"It is my earnest hope and indeed the hope of all mankind that from this solemn occasion a better world shall emerge out of the blood and carnage of the past."

Ominous Threat

Saturday, the diplomats' peace was bright with sunshine—but heavy with the ominous threat of Soviet Russia that the seeds of new war in the Far East were being sown.

In 1945, the Soviet Army's broadcasted Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko stepped up to sign the surrender, shifting his chair forward to get a better position. MacArthur saluted him smartly.

Saturday, Russia's Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister, was not even present. He had spoken his angry piece in a press conference and stayed away.

There was one great moment of drama aboard the Missouri—probably greater even than when MacArthur began to speak.

That was when Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright of Corregidor and British Lt. Gen. A. E. Percival of Singapore—both thin and worn from long imprisonment—stepped forward to witness and to receive the pens with which MacArthur had signed the surrender document. ### Texas Construction In Slight Recovery

AUSTIN —(P)— Texas construction last week recovered somewhat from its prolonged slump. The Texas Contractor, trade publication, reported construction awards for the week totaled $17,869,000 almost twice the previous week's awards of $9,228,000. Non-residential work held a slight lead over residential contracts during the week. Schools, churches, theaters, hospitals, public and business building awards totaled $9,034,307. Residential work amounted to $8,144,693. It included 209 residences, apartments providing 699 one-family units and seven duplex apartment houses. Engineering awards trailed at $790,629. The year's construction total climbed to $779,794,342.

Vannaman Awarded Trip To Resort Ranch

George F. Vannaman, 606 North Carrizo Street, a representative of the Texas Life Insurance Company, has been awarded a three-day trip to Loft Valley Resort Ranch at Bandera, Texas for maintaining a high volume of business for the company during the 1950-51 fiscal year. Mr. and Mrs. Vannaman will leave for Bandera Sunday where they will be guests of the insurance company.

Most Cities Slowing Down In Construction Permits, But Midland Is Exception

By The Associated Press

National Home Week beginning Sunday finds many Texas cities with the two main ingredients of a housing shortage:

(1) A slow-down of building, and (2) an increase in population.

An Associated Press survey showed that almost every city is issuing fewer building permits than last year.

This comes at a time when defense and allied industries are attracting new families to the cities.

At Fort Worth, permits were issued in 1950 for 7,131 dwelling units. Through the first eight months of 1951, the total stood at 3,286 units—considerably less than half the 1950 total.

In Dallas, building permits issued through July this year total $39,189,732 compared with $66,493,501 through July in 1950. But what is happening is more evident from these figures: in July this year only 171 permits for single-family homes were issued. Last year 830 were issued in July.

There are exceptions, among them Midland, Wichita Falls and Orange. Orange, a coastal city with growing industries, has issued building permits totaling $3,300,000 so far this year, already more than double the previous annual record, $1,350,000 in 1950. Building permits at Wichita Falls, where the emphasis has been on home building, total $6,090,339 through August, an eight-month total approaching the $6,893,245 figure for all of 1950. At Midland, building permits Saturday totaled $9,012,580 and it appeared the 1950 record of $11,735,351 will be cracked by year's end.

There appear to be two main factors in the drop-off in building. One is the difficulty of getting money—long term mortgages at four to four and three-quarters per cent aren't attracting buyers. The other is the government limitation, beginning October 1, on the use of steel, copper and aluminum. Beyond the limitation is the difficulty of getting these metals, once permission to use them is granted.

Other samplings over Texas: Sherman: Four hundred seventy-four building permits through August this year compared with 647 for the similar 1950 period.

San Antonio: Permits for the first eight months of 1951 total $33,289,135, a decrease of $3,588,287 over the same period in 1950. Residential permits $22,369,398, down $3,670,807 from 1950.

Corpus Christi: Permits issued in 1951 through August for dwellings total 1,107, an eight-month total which is less than half the figure of 2,462 for all of 1950. Most of the 1,107 dwelling-unit permits issued this year are one-family units.

Odessa: Permits granted through August this year are for $6,263,194 in construction, compared with $8,590,163 at this time last year, a $2,326,969 decrease.

Austin: Total dwelling permits through August 1,183 this year, compared with 2,241 for the similar 1950 period.

Corpus Christi: Last year's total already topped, with building permits for first eight months of 1951 reaching $2,583,267 against $2,285,670 for all of 1950.

The increase at Orange is the result not only of housing construction but also of a major school building program and modernization and enlargement of business buildings. The Orange housing authority is building 300 low-rent units.

Midland expects to set another record this year. The $8,730,080 in construction for which permits were issued in the first eight months of 1951 already exceeds the $7,273,990 total in 1948, the record until 1950's $11,735,351. Residential construction takes up most of the permit total as hundreds of newcomers come to Midland to work in the area's expanded oil industries.

Wichita Falls' increase in building permits partly is the result of more than 300 new housing units being built by the public housing authority. The permit total through August, $6,090,339, is considerably higher than the $5,230,000 in permits issued in the first eight months of 1950.

WORRIED WEAVERS

NEW YORK —(P)— Underneath your Oriental rug may be the story of a rug weaver's worries. Charles Sahagian, president of the Oriental Rug Importers' Association, says the bottom side of the rug is regular. When they're worried, the weaving becomes uneven. The irregularity never affects the quality of the rug, but it certainly reflects the frame of mind.

Firm Ordered To Use Mats In Blasting Work

An Odessa construction company, working on a project in Midland, has been advised by the police department to use mats while blasting in the city.

The instruction for use of blasting mats came after a complaint from the telephone company here that some of its cables had been damaged by the blasting.

The cables were damaged in the Garden City and Cloverdale Road areas, police reports said.

Residence Here Damaged By Fire

A residence fire Friday did an estimated $3,000 damage to a frame residence at 2106 West Washington Street, firemen said.

The residence belongs to C. W. Fountain and is occupied by Ray Lindsey.

Firemen said no one was at home when the fire was discovered. It originated in the front part of the residence and was fanned by an air conditioner, spreading to other parts of the house.

Furniture was damaged badly.

Big Three To Offer West Germany Pact Similar To Japan's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Big Three officials worked out final details Saturday of a plan to offer West Germany a post-war settlement similar in many respects to the Japanese peace treaty.

Remaining differences over terms among the United States, Britain and France will be taken up by the Big Three foreign ministers at their meeting here this week.

The German settlement is the most pressing issue before the foreign ministers in their four-day session, which is expected to be dominated by strategy problems of the world struggle with Communist aggression.

Restoring an almost complete measure of sovereignty to West Germany.

Abolition of the three-power high commission, substituting for it a council of ambassadors to wield the few veto powers retained by the Allies.

Changing the status of the Allied occupation forces to defense forces. This follows the pattern of the arrangement worked out in the Japanese peace treaty and the accompanying security compact between the United States and Japan.

Mundt Says Demos About To Be Sunk Under Seven C's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Mundt (R-SD) Saturday night said he thinks the Democrats "are about to be sunk beneath the seven C's."

"Let me list them for you," he said, and he did:

"One—corruption. Two—crookedness. Three—communism. Four—Cannibals. Five—chiseling. Six—chicanery. And seven—and this is the one that it takes to make the others make the payoffs that have become so flagrant—seven stands for conspiracy. For without conspiracy there couldn't be the other six—there couldn't be the corruption, crookedness, communism, chiseling and chicanery that had made this Administration smell to high heaven."

Mundt offered the list in a radio interview with Bert Andrews of the New York Herald Tribune.

Hit-Miss Showers, Hail And Wind Cut Texas Temperatures

By The Associated Press
Hit-and-miss showers—ranging from light rains to gully washers—fell in Texas for the second straight day Saturday. In some areas there was storm damage.

Responsible was moist gulf air combined with the remnants of a late summer cool front.

The U.S. Weather Bureau wouldn't call it a permanent break in the prolonged drought and heat wave in Texas. But only one of the major weather reporting stations had as much as 100 degrees: Cotulla, 101.

It was 80 at Childress, 81 at Amarillo, Laredo and Del Rio had 99; Presidio 98. Other readings included: Abilene, Waco and Fort Worth, 86; Dallas, Tyler, Brownsville and Lufkin, 84; Houston, 90; Beaumont, San Antonio, Big Spring and Texarkana, 92; Midland, Corpus Christi and Palestine, 93; Wichita Falls, 88; Lubbock, Dalhart and Marfa, 85; El Paso, 87; Galveston 88.

In a 24 hour period ended at 6:30 p.m. Austin had 1.25 inches of rain; Big Spring 0.4; San Antonio 2.6; Galveston 2.9; Victoria 1.9; Wichita Falls 7.0; Lufkin 0.5; Alice 0.6 and Salt Flat 0.8.

Snyder Gets Good Rain
Snyder, in the oil boom country of West Texas, had its biggest rain of the year early in the day—2.02 inches. The rain began about 1 a.m. in a "slow fall" and kept up for hours.

During the day, showers occurred up and down the Texas Coast—from Brownsville to the Louisiana line, and dotted other sections of the state.

The heaviest rain in the last 24 hours apparently was in the Seymour-to-Graham area, southwest of Wichita Falls. Graham had 3.60 inches Friday night, while 3.44 inches fell on Seymour.

48 Nations Sign Treaty With Japan—

stationing U.S. troops in Japan until the former enemy state is able to defend herself from aggression.

The signing ceremony Saturday, Dulles said, was "the most significant demonstration of international unity shown in a long, long time."

It was Dulles who spent 11 months speeding from one country to another, working out details to secure a draft that would be as satisfactory as possible to everyone.

Dulles and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the presiding officer at the conference, were besieged by autograph seekers as they left the opera house.

The minutes the ceremony was completed, hundreds of people crowded down around the table on the stage to look at the treaty.

While helmeted military police order by routing the spectators past the signing table.

Argentina Is First
Argentina was the first to sign. Hipolito Jesus Paz, the country's ambassador to the United States, strode quickly to the platform and affixed his name.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, Philippines secretary of foreign affairs, led his delegation to the table.

Texas Plant Fire Heavy Blow, Says Lyndon Johnson

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A recent fire and explosion at a Texas butadiene plant will cost this country between 20,000 and 30,000 tons of synthetic rubber, Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) said Saturday night.

Johnson, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee, set forth the estimate in a letter to Manly Fleischmann, chief of the National Production Authority.

The plant, government-owned, is at Borger, Texas. It is operated by the Phillips Chemical Company.

Johnson said the plant is restored to full operation, approximately 20,000 tons of rubber will be lost.

Accused American Renounces Tale Of William Tell Slaying

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—William Seward Burroughs Saturday said he had opened his pistol to see if it was loaded, the carriage slipped and a shot was fired killing his wife.

His 27-year-old wife, Joan, was hit in the forehead and died in Red Cross Hospital here Thursday night.

Burroughs, 37, member of a prominent St. Louis family, was questioned 90 minutes before Criminal Judge Eduardo Urratis Jimenez Saturday.

After the hearing was over, he was held without bail for further hearing Monday. He is charged with homicide pending investigation.

His version of the shooting Saturday changed some points in his signed version to the police investigator Friday.

He testified that he and his wife had filed for divorce by mutual consent in Mexico about a year ago but later became reconciled.

Record Early Freeze Rolls Into Michigan

By The Associated Press
A record early freeze hit Northern Michigan Saturday as chilly weather nipped much of the eastern third of the nation.

The mercury skidded to 28 degrees in Cadillac, Mich. Muskegon, Mich., had a low of 31 degrees—lowest ever recorded so early in September.

Dayton, Ohio, had a minimum of 44 degrees—record low for the date.

The crisp, autumn-like weather extended from New England southwestward through the Appalachians and into the Great Lakes region.

MIDLAND'S HONOR IS UPHELD—Matt Kramer, district traffic manager of Continental Air Lines at Denver, Colo., points proudly to the addition of "MIDLAND" (Texas) to the window lettering of the airline's downtown ticket office in Colorado's capital city. "MIDLAND" was added to the list of cities served by Continental at the "suggestion" of the editor of The Reporter-Telegram, who visited Denver recently on vacation.

Suggestion By Vacating Editor Gets Desired Result

Suggestions offered in news releases sent back to his newspaper by a vacationing editor sometimes produce the desired results. At least this one, directed especially to Continental Air Lines, did. Here's the story:

Bill Collins, Reporter-Telegram editor, has a habit of writing an informal-style "tourist" column for publication in this newspaper while on his annual vacation tours.

A few weeks ago the Collins family visited Colorado, and while in Denver, Collins happened to notice that his home city of Midland was not listed on the huge plate glass window of the Continental Air Lines' downtown ticket office.

Most other cities served by the airline were listed. This omission, quite noticeable to the vacationing editor, who also is chairman of the C. of C.'s Aeronautics Committee, appeared to be the one thing he was not pleased with in "friendly and attractive" Denver.

Carlson Acts Promptly
In his next column, Collins "just happened" to mention what he had not seen on Continental's front window. He labeled that particular paragraph, "Attention C. of C. Manager Delbert Downing, Jim Carlson and others." Carlson, Continental's Midland agent, promptly forwarded copies of The Reporter-Telegram issue in which the column appeared to his company's headquarters office in Denver. That apparently did the job.

Saturday, Collins received by air mail a photograph, reproduced above, showing Matt Kramer, district traffic manager for Continental, pointing to "Midland," which had just been added to the window lettering of the airline's Denver ticket office.

A letter from Stew Faulkner of Continental's Press Relations Department accompanied the picture. It said, in part:
"Attached picture is self-explanatory. I am sure you will recall your 'suggestion' of sometime ago that we include your fair city—the name, that is—on the banner window of our city ticket office in Denver."

First Human Test To Halt Paralysis By Polio Completed

PROVO, UTAH—(AP)—The first test using humans to determine the effectiveness of a serum to prevent paralysis in polio ended Friday, 24 hours ahead of schedule.

Hundreds of children were turned away as the goal of 5,000 inoculations was passed during the afternoon. Supplies of gamma globulin were exhausted after 5,788 youngsters were given by their parents in a mass experiment, the success of which may not be known for a year.

Dr. William McDowell Hammon of the University of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Lewis Coriell of Pennsylvania University's Medical School, Friday night closed the last of five Utah county clinics.

Gamma globulin, the key to the experiment, is a human blood substance used with success in combating paralysis effects in poliostriken monkeys in previous research. The serum has been used millions of times in preventing or curbing measles. Whether it will prevent polio paralysis in humans may be discovered here.

The test was sponsored by the National Polio Foundation.

Catholic Rites Set Tuesday For Film Star Maria Montez

PARIS—(AP)—Roman Catholic funeral services for movie actress Maria Montez will be held Tuesday.

Physicians have decided the death of the 31-year-old Dominican star was due to a heart ailment while taking a hot reducing bath Friday. No autopsy will be performed.

A number of French film actors went Saturday to the villa in suburban Suresnes, where she lived with her husband, actor Jean Pierre Aumont, to pay their respects.

Blood For Freedom Program Will Start Monday At Lackland

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—"Blood for Freedom" will begin to flow Monday at Lackland Air Force Base as an armed forces-wide blood donor campaign starts across the nation to bolster Korea-depleted stockpiles.

The first donor will be Lackland's commanding officer, Brig. Gen. Wycliffe E. Steele. The 47-year-old general's donation will start a parade of volunteers expected to net 120 pints of blood daily.

"Blood for Freedom" is a Department of Defense operation to shore up the gravely low stockpile of blood plasma and is the first such campaign conducted by the military.

P-TA To Revive Air Series In September

AUSTIN—(AP)—A radio series, "Is Anybody Home," sponsored by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, is scheduled to be revived over 33 Texas stations beginning September 17.

The program is presented through the Texas School of the Air under the supervision of Hugh Proctor, audio-visual consultant for the Texas Education Agency.

Broadcast times will be selected locally.

HEAT CURTAINS SCHOOL DAY AT WICHITA FALLS

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Public schools here will operate on a curtailed schedule until the current heat wave breaks.

Dulles Telegraphs Congratulations To General MacArthur

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—A telegram of congratulation was dispatched to General MacArthur by John Foster Dulles as the Japanese peace conference came to a close here Saturday.

Dulles' message, addressed to the general at New York, read:
"As we are about to sign the Japanese peace treaty, my thoughts, like the thoughts of other delegates, will turn to you."

"You will be present in spirit, for the signing delegates and the witnessing multitudes all know that without your great leadership in war and peace, the results achieved here would not have been obtainable."

MacArthur, who was removed by President Truman as supreme commander of the United Nations in Japan only last April 10, was not invited officially to the conference.

Army Hopes To Ease Foot Soldier's Load

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army hopes to lighten the load the foot soldier has to lug on his back by as much as 65 per cent.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, called this desirable in testimony made public Saturday by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"Almost every item that the soldier carries is being examined and, wherever possible is being made lighter," Collins said. "We hope to save as much as 65 per cent, primarily by the use of lighter metal alloys and other lighter materials."

Texas Doctors Plan 'Phone Conventions

AUSTIN—(AP)—A giant "party-line" telephone hook-up is planned to blanket the state soon to permit practicing Texas physicians to hold conventions without even leaving town.

The plan was announced here Saturday by the Texas Medical Association.

The system will reach thousands of doctors simultaneously by private broadcast to keep them abreast of latest scientific developments.

Dr. M. O. Rouse of Dallas, chairman of the association's special committee on postgraduate work, said the first broadcast is scheduled in January, 1952.

"Our problem in the past is that the doctor has been so busy that he has had trouble attending scientific meetings in some distant city," Rouse explained. "This way, we will be able to bring the meeting right into his own medical society, provide him with programs by the state's outstanding medical authorities, and reach cities and small communities equally easily."

The broadcasts will originate before a medical audience at some medical center and from there be fed out over the statewide telephone lines.

City Dads Study Proposal To Close Hazardous Block

Midland's City Council is studying a proposal made at a recent meeting, to close to traffic the last block of West Missouri Street, between Garfield Street and U.S. Highway 80.

The proposal came from Councilman J. W. McMillen, who pointed out an impossible traffic situation exists at the Missouri Street-U.S. 80 intersection. He explained that westbound Missouri Street traffic, attempting to enter the heavy flow of traffic on the through highway, creates a serious and dangerous traffic hazard.

He suggested that barricades be placed at both ends of the Missouri Street block. He said the problem has worried him a long time.

Under McMillen's proposal, westbound traffic on Missouri Street would turn right one block on Garfield Street, coming into U.S. 80 at the intersection of Garfield and Wall Streets, where a traffic signal light is located.

MRS. GRAFA IMPROVING

Mrs. Barney Grafa is recuperating at her home 1610 West Tennessee Street from an illness of several weeks' duration.

Meeting Is Held By Women Voters

"A Secure Economy in the Face of a National Emergency" was the program subject at a meeting of the League of Women Voters Saturday in the Blue Star Inn.

Mrs. W. F. Buckthal was in charge of the program. Mrs. John Rodes, president, presided.

It was announced Mrs. Joe Beazley has been invited to join the state organization in the forming of new chapters in various cities.

A request by the Senior Girl Scouts to join the Midland chapter was read.

Mrs. E. P. Whealdon and Mrs. John Galley spoke on "Inflation Curbs."

The next meeting will be held October 6 in the Blue Star Inn. All members present were urged to write their congressmen, expressing opinions on current problems.

Abandoned Car Of Missing Monahons Osteopath Found

ALPINE—(AP)—The automobile of the long missing Dr. Robert H. North, Monahons osteopath, has been found in the rugged Big Bend country.

North disappeared in the Big Bend National Park June 5, 1947.

A flying forest ranger, George Sholly, sighted the car Tuesday while searching for horses.

The automobile was in an arroyo about three miles north of Gleen Spring. The spot is 22 miles from the point where North last was seen.

Automobile papers were locked in the glove compartment. The ignition key still was in the switch. It could be seen for little distance.

It had not been determined whether North's car was stuck in the sand or whether it was driven in and abandoned.

A widespread search was made at the time of the doctor's disappearance. Neither North nor his Boxer dog has been reported since June 6, 1947.

Kermit Wins Thriller Winters Drops Tilt Near End

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor
KERMIT—Hustling Don Handlin scampers 35 yards with an intercepted pass in the last 30 seconds to earn a 20 to 13 win for Kermit High School Yellow Jackets over the lighter Winters Blizzards here Saturday night.

The game, first of the season for both teams, was witnessed by 5,000 fans.

Handlin's last-minute scamper broke a 13-13 deadlock that had existed since four minutes deep in the final quarter.

Winters, behind, 7-6, at halftime, drove 90 yards to a touchdown, mixing a ground attack and a passing game with quarterback F. B. Wood on the throwing end.

The Winters touchdown came when halfback Awalt fumbled in the air on the Kermit six-yard-line and back M. L. Guy captured the ball for the score. Zane Hensley converted to tie the score at 13-13.

The first half was mostly Kermit's, as the Yellow Jackets ground out six first downs while Winters could muster only two. Winters, in the second half, tallied 10 first downs while limiting Kermit to one.

Six and one-half minutes deep in the second quarter, Wood passed 23 yards to Billie Buchanan, six-foot four, 180-pound end, who ran 15 more to cross the goal line. Hensley's extra point attempt was low and the Blizzards led, 6 to 0.

Handlin electrified the crowd shortly before the first half ended—going over his own left tackle, cutting back and romping 71 yards for a Kermit touchdown. James Barnett kicked the extra point.

On the third play from scrimmage in the second half, Kermit unleashed a bit of razzle-dazzle that produced six points. Bobby Almond, Jacket quarterback, tossed a 10-yard pass to End Krodel, who lateraled to Chuck Williams. Williams then swept up the left side line and went all the way.

The play covered 63 yards and put Kermit ahead, 13-6. Winters then stormed 90 yards to tie the score.

With a minute to go, Wood was tossed for a 17-yard loss back to his own 34-yard line as he attempted to pass. The next play was the big one. Back to pass again, Wood threw to Bobby Yost, who batted the ball in the air and stood numbly by as Handlin drug it down and scored untouched.

Broncs Nudge Rockets

ROSWELL—Big Spring's Mike Fornielas choked off a last-inning rally Saturday night to pitch his team to a first game win in the Longhorn League playoffs, 7-6.

The Bronco pitcher struck out the last two men up in the last of the ninth after Roswell added 1 in the tying run on third base.

The Rockets scored four in the first inning to take 4-0 lead. Big Spring came back for two in the second before Roswell added 1 in the third to go ahead, 5-2.

The Broncs picked up three runs in the sixth to even the game up at 5-5. They added 2 in the eighth to go ahead, 7-5.

Roswell came back in ninth to tally one run and place the tying run on third before Fornielas struck out the last two batters.

The two teams play the second game in Roswell Sunday night.

Hawkins Increases Empire State Lead

ALBANY, N. Y.—Fred Hawkins, 25-year-old El Paso, Texas, player, increased his lead Saturday to two strokes with a 54-hole score of 210 in the $15,000 Empire State Golf Tournament.

Hawkins, three under par with only Sunday's 18-hole round remaining, matched par 71 Saturday and those few who broke par were too far back to erase his halfway advantage. Hawkins has had rounds of 70, 65 and 71.

Buck White of Greenwood, Miss., shot a 72 Saturday to stand alone in second place with 212.

A 74 gave Chuck Klein of San Antonio a total of 217—good enough for eighth.

Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, shot 70 for a 218 total and tenth place.

Freak Homer Gives Reds 4-3 Triumph

CINCINNATI—Bobby Usher's freak home run which hit the left field foul line and bounced back into the outfield for an automatic home run Saturday gave the Cincinnati Reds a 4 to 3 12-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs. Usher's blow came off Paul Minner as he led off the last of the twelfth. It was Cincinnati's second straight extra-inning victory of the Bruins.

The score: R. H. E. Chicago 000 210 000 000—3 12 0 Cincinnati 000 021 000 000—4 12 1 Minner and Owen; Ramsdell, Perkowski, Fox and Pramesa, Howell.

Tribe Wins To Stay On Yanks' Heels

ST. LOUIS — (P) — The Cleveland Indians remained close on the heels of the leading New York Yankees by downing the St. Louis Browns 6-3 Saturday night before a slim turnout of 3,021. Pitcher Bob Lemon drove in three of the Cleveland runs and was credited with his seventeenth victory, although he was relieved when the Browns threatened in the seventh.

The triumph left the Indians trailing the Yankees, who defeated Washington in a day game, by only two percentage points. Thus New York and Cleveland are in a virtual tie for the lead in the red hot pennant race.

Lemon was touched for 10 hits before Mauneger Al Lopez sent Lou Brisse to his rescue in the seventh. Brisse allowed no hits in two and a third innings. Lemon had six strikeouts. He has lost 11.

The score: R. H. E. Cleveland 050 001 000—6 9 0 St. Louis 000 210 000—3 10 1 Lemon, Brisse and Regan; San-Tulsa, McDonald, Mahoney and Batts.

Wink Wildcats Take Monahans Lobos, 9 To 0

By WICK FOWLER
Reporter-Telegram Staff

MONAHANS — Wink's highly favored Wildcats, stunned by stout defensive play in the Monahans line, fought out a 9-0 football victory here Friday night.

An early second-quarter field goal and a final-minute touchdown, without the added point, marked the Wink side of the scoreboard.

An opening game crowd of 5,000 sat in Estes Field Stadium through ideal spectator weather, but the fighting young gridmen felt the early season heat in their hard-fought opener. Nevertheless, it was a teeth-to-toe fight from start to finish.

Coach Glenn Frasier's Wildcats moved into the non-district title as the Class A favorites for a state title. Monahans Coach F. O. Scroggins sent a team onto the field wearing green and white. But it was a green team that tied into Wink. And, too, his first-string fullback, Douglas Greamer, was sidelined and on crutches.

The Wink field goal was set up within two minutes after the second quarter opened. The ball was on the Monahans Lobos' 16 with a yard needed for a new start. Ken-

Monahans' Green Wave band marched onto the field with the lights out. In the darkness it formed in front of the home town students and the four majorettes spectacularly twirled their batons, on which flares were attached. The band moved to the other side of the field and formed the outline of a football with a "W" in the center.

The band moved to the other side of the field and formed the outline of a football with a "W" in the center.

Midway of the third quarter, Wink again began a drive toward the goal line from the 50. The hand-off plays from the T were to Dodd, Tommy DeWitt and Villarreal. But Villarreal fumbled and Monahans recovered on the Green Wave five.

Then one of the flashiest plays of the game took place. Reamy took the ball in a handoff and scampered and fought his way 45 yards. Spectators were certain he was loose but the Lobo was brought down on the 50-yard line. In the play the ball moved seven yards. Arlon Nelms, the Lobo quarterback, kicked and the ball was down on the Wildcat eight.

Wink started its fourth-quarter drive from its own 45. Vinson tossed a long pass to Villarreal, who had a clear field ahead. The ball came from behind him, hit the target, but slipped through his arms. Drive Stopped

A near-goal drive was stopped by Monahans with but six minutes of the game remaining. A combination pass interception and fumble played a prominent role. Vinson's pass from the Monahans' 27-yard line was intercepted. But interference against Wink was ruled and the ball was retained on the Lobo 10. One play moved it to the six. Villarreal picked up two more yards. Dodd crashed through for two but it was four down coming up with tough six feet between Wink and the goal line. On the next play Wink fumbled and Monahans took over.

Wink's touchdown play was registered with only a minute to play. With the ball on Monahans' 29, Villarreal took a handoff and raced around left end, where he was forced outside the field on the 11. Vinson hit center for three. DeWitt failed to gain on a line plunge but Dodd followed with a three-yard gain and Villarreal then went over. Wallace's kick for the extra point failed. The score: 9-0.

National Amateur Golf Tournament Will Open Monday

BETHLEHEM, PA. — (P) — Golf's giant "grab bag" — the National Amateur Tournament—opens Monday over Saucon Valley's green hills with 200 scrambling for the championship.

The best way to describe this fifty-first renewal of the sport's blue ribbon amateur event is to say there's no Bobby Jones around. It stacks up as a wide open fight, a possible frolic for the dark horses.

"There are at least 30 capable of winning," commented Bill Campbell, the insurance executive and Walker Cup performer from Huntington, W. Va. "Also there's not a man in the bunch who can't beat any other man on a given day."

"It's going to be a grab bag. The established players are losing some of their edge and a lot of youngsters are ripe to grab off the championship."

The defending champion is 25-year-old Sam Uzzetta of Rochester, who conquered Toledo's Frank Stranahan on the thirty-ninth hole of their overtime thriller last year at Minneapolis.

If the handsome Rochester stylist is able to win again—and he's playing fine golf—he will become the first repeater since Lawson Little bracketed a couple of titles back in 1934-35.

But it's the consensus of Uncle Sam's Walker Cup brigade, all of whom are here for the big chase, that Jim McHale, the towering Philadelphia veteran, is the hottest thing on the premises at the moment.

"If I had to pick a single man who I think will be toughest to beat, it would be McHale," said Uzzetta.

Colorado City will play McCamey in McCamey next Friday night.

Jacome Wins 29th Contest

Tribe Ends Season In Fifth Place

ROSWELL, N. M.—The Midland Indians ended the 1951 Longhorn League season here Friday night, exactly the way they started it—with a victory over Roswell's Rockets and with Eddie Jacome on the mound.

Jacome, who opened the season with a 6-3 win over Roswell in Midland April 20, hurled his twenty-ninth contest, 5-4.

It gave him a record of 29 wins and 13 losses. Only Roswell's Dean Franks had more—he won 30.

The win gave Midland undisputed possession of fifth place capping off a late-season drive by the Indians that carried them from the Longhorn League cellar to within seeing distance of the first division.

Scored First

Midland scored first in the 5-4 decision, when Rudy Escobar tripled Dick Campbell home in the second inning.

The Tribe added four runs in the seventh, to seal the game away.

Staa Wilcox fled out, before Hayden White sent in the eventual game-winning run with a single down the middle that whistled over the second base line. That sent Midland away with a 5-1 lead.

The Rockets added two in the eighth and one in the ninth, before Jacome closed the door with a nice bit of clutch pitching to gain his big win and allow the Tribe to end the season in a fine manner.

Longhorn League Clubs Wind Up 1951 BB Season

By The Associated Press

Regular play in the Longhorn League ended Friday night.

San Angelo, which finished ten and one-half games ahead, whipped Sweetwater twice, 6-3 and 7-0. Wayne Wallace of San Angelo hit his thirty-seventh home run. Steve Follett pitched a one-hitter in the second game.

Midland downed Roswell 5-4, as Eddie Jacome won his twenty-ninth.

Odessa at Vernon was cancelled by rain.

Yankees Retain Slim Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees protected their slender lead over the Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant chase Saturday by beating the Washington Senators, 4-0. Mickey Mantle's three-run homer in the seventh inning settled the issue.

The victory increased the Yankees' lead to four percentage points over the Indians who met the Browns in a night game at St. Louis.

Ed Lopat blanked the Senators on five hits in hanging up his nineteenth victory, the most he has ever won in a major league season.

The Yanks collected only three hits off their former mate, Bob Porterfield, but made the most of Bob's wildness. Porterfield walked seven including two in the seventh, before Mantle crashed his tenth homer to win the game.

EX-BULLDOG—Dunny Goode, ex-Midland High School grid great, has been shifted to left half for the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. Goode, who shares the Border Conference record for the most touchdowns scored on pass receiving, played at the right half slot for the Cowboys the last two years. He is a senior this year at the Abilene school.

It Was A Good Try, But Nothing To It

In spite of all Midland fans could do, the Indians didn't make the Longhorn League playoffs.

The Reporter-Telegram sports desk was swamped with calls Saturday by local fans who "had it straight" that San Angelo was getting "kicked out" of the playoffs for exceeding the veteran-player limit.

The reports had been circulating more than a week, some of the fans said.

But a check with Longhorn League president Hal Sayles Saturday brought this comment: "I haven't heard a word about it."

San Angelo, a fine ball club, went into the Longhorn League playoffs Saturday night with everything in order.

Cardinals Defeat Pittsburgh, 4 To 2

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals squeezed the most possible out of seven scattered hits Saturday to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-2, behind the steady pitching of Alpha Brazeal. Mel Queen, who held the Cards scoreless for the first three innings, was charged with the loss.

Rankin, Last Year's Regional Champs, To Be Back Strong Again

RANKIN—The sound of leather popping is the daily dish of this boom town as Coach Scrivner and his Red Devils prepare for their double tough football slate just ahead of them. Head-on blocking and tackling and lively scrimmages have held the spotlight the last week. The defending regional champions are fast shaping up into their old form.

Uniforms have been issued to 23 participants. Many of these are experienced but they are the foundation of future Red Devil teams. They are Norman Yocham, Bruce McCain, George Broyles, Paul Johnson, Loyd Yocham, Jimmy Yocham, Bobby Goodwin, Gentry Holmes, Don Murphy and Elbert Eckols. Bruce McCain, Norman Yocham and George Broyles were all-district players last season.

The Red Devils have a rugged schedule this year. The Rankin team will be one of the lightest in District Eight. The starting lineup probably will average 155 pounds. The Red Devils open with the Ackerly Eagles at home on September 14. Their schedule follows:

Sept. 14—Ackerly—here.
Sept. 21—Marathon—there.
Sept. 28—Open.
Oct. 5—Christoval—here.
Oct. 12—Garden City—here.
Oct. 19—Mertzon—there.
Oct. 26—Forsan—here.
Nov. 2—Water Valley—here.
Nov. 9—Sterling City—there.
Nov. 16—Klondike—here.

Sparks Stars As Seminole Earns 13-0 Win From DC

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Staff Editor

DENVER CITY—The heavy Denver City Mustangs had the weight, but Seminole's lightweight Indians had ramblin' Jackie Sparks, and that was the difference as Coach George Zoller's Indians took a 13-0 decision in the first game of the year for both squads here Friday night.

Sparks, a 162-pound fullback, jarred the heavy Mustang line for yard after yard, ripping off a 75-yard sprint for a touchdown in the early moments of the fourth quarter and turning in a great game throughout the contest.

Denver City had the best of the statistics, using its weight to press upfield for impressive yardage. But the Indians had it when the chips were down. Only once did the Mustangs move to a real scoring position, and the halftime game caught them on the Indian six-yard line. Denver City had a 14-pound-perman weight bulge in the forward wall.

The 8-AA Indians scored in a sustained drive after receiving the initial kickoff. Picking up a first down in four plays, the Indians then turned Sparks on their foe and he responded with a sparkling 41-yard run to the Mustang 17-yard line. He was apparently stopped on five occasions, but wiggled free to step off the long counter. The Indians drove for a first down on the seven yard line, then found themselves back on the Mustang 18 with fourth and goal.

Quarterback Jim Wilson cocked his arm and fired a perfect pass to End Jack Goshard over the goal line for a touchdown. Jimmie Hicks' conversion put the Indians up three, 7-0. The 87 yard drive took just four and a half minutes.

The teams muddled around midfield until the waning moments of the first half, when Denver City's aerial game found itself momentarily to drive forward. Big loss was a 25-yard gainer from Quarterback Dick Moore to Pat Case, on the Seminole 12. A thrust at the line put the ball on the six at the half ended.

Late in the third quarter, Seminole repulsed a Denver City fourth-down attempt and took over on its own 29 as the third quarter ended. A plunge at the line gained a single yard, then the Indians were pushed back to the 25-yard line for offense.

Sparks burst up the middle, turned on the power and broke into the secondary. Two Denver City halfbacks converged on him at the 45-yard line, but he shot through the two and on his 75-yard yardstick dash. That was the ball game, 13-0.

Denver City, with Moore on the throwing end, tried to come back with passes but couldn't make the grade. Seminole used alert play by Goshard, Jimmy Ivey and LaMoyné Livingston, ends Charlie McReynolds, tackle and offensive running by 126-pound Brad Crawford to stave the Mustangs off.

Special Contest Set Sunday At Annual Fall Skeet Shoot Held Here

A special contest in which any contestants who have been shooting since January 1 of this year will be featured is scheduled at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Midland Gun Club Ground, located near Midland Airport, north of the city.

The contest, the first of its kind to be held here, is a feature of the West Texas Open Fall Skeet Shoot now in progress at the club.

"Anybody can enter and they can bring their deer rifle, duck rifle or any other type of shooting iron," George Glass, president of the Midland Gun Club said.

Glass said the shooting contest for beginning shooters is being tried on an experimental basis this year but will be made an annual affair if successful.

Glass announced the second 100 birds of the all-birds contest would be shot Sunday also.

Meanwhile winners in the first two days of shooting at the annual skeet shoot were announced Saturday afternoon.

Mickey Michaels of Austin, won the championship honors Friday morning in the Sub Small Gauge Division by knocking down 96 out of 100 dinks, while Henry Adler of Dallas was crowned champ of the 28-gauge shoot Friday afternoon by downing 98 out of 100 dinks.

Others listed: Mean winners in the sub small gauge division are as follows: Runner-up D. W. Conway, Clint, 94 x 100; Class AA, Henry Adler, Dallas, 93 x 100; Class A, J. S. Caldwell, El Paso, 88 x 100; Class B, George Glass, Sr., Midland, 93 x 100; Class C, Newt Kennedy, Dallas, 87 x 100.

Follow-up winners in the 28 gauge Saturday afternoon are: Runner-up, D. W. Conway, Clint, 97 x 100; Class AA, Mrs. Ann Hecker, Tucson, Ariz., 97 x 100; Class A, M. W. Crawford, Roswell, 97 x 100; Class B, Tom Aron, Lubbock, 97 x 100; Class C, Mrs. Jim Alken, Dallas, 90 x 100.

Seven shooters were tied late Saturday in the 20-gauge bracket, with the score of 98 out of 100 dinks knocked down. A shoot-off was scheduled among the seven men to determine a champion.

Many outstanding skeet shooters, including Mrs. Ann Hecker, National Woman's Champion from Tucson, are here for the meet.

Pollsters Pick Tennessee As Country's No. 1 Squad
By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—Tennessee is the country's No. 1 college football team for 1951, a poll of 115 sports writers and broadcasters determined Saturday.

The Volunteers of Gen. Robert Neyland grabbed 60 of the first place votes and were mentioned on all but eight of the ballots as they swept through the field—just as they are supposed to do during the block and tackle parties scheduled for the next three months.

A year ago, in the Associated Press' first pre-season poll, Notre Dame was awarded the top spot but was nowhere at the finish after a season of four wins, four losses and a tie.

Power Pays Off In TD's

By BOB ADAMS
Reporter-Telegram Staff

Rome, the learned instructor informed us the day we went to school, wasn't built in a day.

Neither is a baseball team. But Henry (Zeke) Bonura, Midland Indian manager, came near forging a ball club in par time. Father Time, the indestructible opponent who never has been down for the count, did what other Longhorn League teams couldn't do—stop the surge of Bonura's Indians.

Echoing out of Midland now is the cry Leo Durocher made famous at Brooklyn and now is using in New York's Polo Grounds: "Just wait till next year, ya bums."

All because the Indians and Bonura got on the ball to an amazing degree in the last six weeks of the season.

During the last six weeks, the Indians won 31 games and lost 10—a percentage of .756, slightly better than the .715 percentage Midland had when the new management took over.

In that time, Midland took four of six from Rowell, five straight from Artesia, six of seven from the league-leading San Angelo Colts, five of eight from Odessa, three of four from Big Spring and four of five from Vernon.

That's enough to make the fans sit up and take notice.

Next year, Bonura will of course lose some of the present blood-thirsty Indians. Eddie Jacome, who won 27 and lost 18, is as sure to go to a higher league as Stalin is to be re-elected. Fact is, a Nashville scout from the Class AA Southern Association observed a couple of Eddie's hurling games along the last part of this season.

Others might go up, or stay here. In this class, we find Catcher Kenny Jones, Shortstop Scooter Hughes, Third Baseman Julio de la Torre, Pitcher Bruce Blumenthal, Pitcher Israel Ten and Center Fleider Stan Wilcox.

Of course, the odds are that most of these players will remain in Midland—which means good news to Midland fans who are pennant-starved.

Zeke is a recruiter who seeks and buys the players he wants. He has practically a free hand in Midland.

That's why we'd like to see the flag pole at Indian Park shined to a gleaming hue. It should be attractive, what with the 1952 bunting due to wave at Longhorn League opponents.

In a conference with the Midland High School coaches, here's what we got out of them about the boys due to be regulars or near-regulars this season:

Backs: Ralph Brooks: "Passing better than ever, a little faster at 180-pounds, looking great." M. A. Rose: "Quick and shifty." Dick Spencer: "Can go after he gets through the line. Has quick reflexes." Larry Friday: "A good fullback prospect, but our best blocking back and signal caller. Has a lot of confidence." Dan Black: "Pretty large and due to see some action this year." Johnny Kennedy: "Fast and improving." Roy Kinsey: "Slow starter, but fast when 15 yards out."

Ends: Jimmy Linberger: "It depends on his trick knees." Bill Mims: "One of our brightest sophomore prospects ever." Dan Ratcliff: "Hasn't learned to run relaxed in order to catch ball. When he does, should be fine end." Robert Keating: "Fairly speedy, grooming him for defense also."

Tackles and Guards: Stan Coker: "Doesn't know how good he could be. Really could be a goer if he makes up his mind." Dalton Byerley: "About the same as Coker. Boys like him don't come along every year." Pete English: "Not quite as fast as Coker and Byerley, but should go fine." Darrall Spivey: "Rugged sophomore who has earned a place for himself with the varsity." Red East: "Learning fast, is speedy." Bill Leonard: "Improving."

Centers: Loren Roberts, Milton Jones and A. W. Booth: "All inexperienced in game action and weak on snap-backs, but hope to see improvement soon."

LEVELLAND—The Levelland Lobos served notice on district teams they will be a definite title contender Friday night when they overpowered and surprised a potent Pecos team, 27 to 19.

Langford Sneed—remember the name—spelled the difference. A 50-minute ball player who is outstanding both on offense and defense, the 197-pound Sneed scored 21 of his team's 27 points. It was a pass intercept by Sneed in the fourth quarter which he ran back 75 yards for a touchdown that was the turning point in the ball game.

Both teams had exchanged point for point until Sneed's fourth quarter touchdown dash. And if the big left half didn't create enough havoc on offense, he made up for it by filling in as left tackle for Levelland on defense.

Pecos broke into the scoring column by striking first with an explosive attack after the Lobos' Philoran had fumbled deep in his territory. A jump pass from Orlando Gutierrez, Pecos quarterback to L. Eisenwine, left end, from the six-yard line was good for the TD. Langham failed to convert.

Pecos kicked off to the Lobos who promptly marched down the field in a series of power plays for a touchdown. Only an exchange of fumbles enroute marred their drive.

Philan, Lobo quarterback, carried the ball over from the one-foot line on fourth down and the big Sneed carried around end for the extra point.

Score at halftime was 7-6, Levelland. However, spectators were still heading for their seats to begin the second half when Levelland kicked off to the Eagles' quarterback, Gutierrez, who grabbed the ball on his own 20 and made an electrifying run through a host of Levelland players for Pecos' second touchdown. Langham kicked the extra point and the score stood 13 to 7, Pecos.

After the Lobos took the kickoff, Sneed, not to be outdone, took the ball on the second play from scrimmage, dashed through a big hole through right tackle, reversed his field and romped 63 yards to tie the score at 13-13. McAuley failed to convert.

A series of running plays, featuring the swift Langham around end, resulted in another third-quarter touchdown for Pecos. Langham carried the ball off left tackle for the tally and his attempted place kick was blocked to leave the count at 19-13 Pecos.

Levelland took the kickoff and advanced it through a series of running plays to Pecos' six-yard line for a first and 10 when the third quarter ended. After three running plays had only carried the ball to the one-yard line, Sneed took the situation in hand by carrying a round left end for the TD. He ran the ball over for the extra point and the Lobos led 20-19.

Pecos took the ensuing kickoff and advanced it for a first down on Levelland's 26 yard line. An attempted pass in the right flat by Gutierrez was intercepted by Sneed who ran it back 44 yards for the deciding marker.

GAME HIGHLIGHTS: Levelland resorted to power plays through the middle almost exclusively. Their few attempts to skirt the ends or to pass were for the most part unsuccessful. Pecos used deception and speed, featuring the shifty Langham around end and the passing of Quarterback Gutierrez to advance the ball.

Both teams will be definite title contenders in their respective districts. Levelland is in 7AA and Pecos is in 8AA. Levelland had 12 first downs to 4 for Pecos at the end of the first half.

Joey Maxim won the American light-heavyweight championship from Gus Lesnevich on May 23, 1944.

Brooks Turn Back Giants

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers edged a step closer towards clinching the National League pennant Saturday as husky Don Newcombe turned back the runner-up New York Giants 9-0, on two hits in the opener of a two-game series. The loss dumped the Giants 61 1/2 games behind the Dodgers and virtually killed New York's hopes of overtaking the high-flying Brooks.

The Dodgers have 20 games left to play and the Giants 17. Any combination of 13 Dodger victories or Giant defeats will give the Dodgers the pennant.

Newcombe had little trouble in turning in his eighteenth victory. The strapping right-hander and the Giants' Jim Hearn were locked in a 9-0 duel until the fourth inning, when the Dodgers broke the ice with two runs. A walk, two infield hits and a double play accounted for the first run, and Jackie Robinson scored the second on a wild pitch.

The Dodgers added two more in the sixth and clinched the game with five in the seventh.

The score: New York 000 000 000—0 2 1 Brooklyn 000 202 80x—9 8 2 Hearn, Jones, Spencer, Konikowski and Westrum; Newcombe and Campanella.

Forsan Ties Knott In Knot, 23 To 12

FORSAN—Back James Gauble made all the Forsan touchdowns as Forsan won a 23-12 six-man football game from Knott here Friday night. Dale Hayhurst converted all the extra points. Forsan also added a safety to its total.

The Tennessee team which found so much favor with the experts may well be General Neyland's masterpiece. Included among the 132 players who reported for practice at the Knoxville school are 66 hold-overs from the 1950 team which won 10 of 11 games and then bashed Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Oklahoma, ticketed for No. 4 after having taken the honors last season, has 18 returning linemen plus Halfback Billy Vessels.

The standings: (first place votes in brackets): Tennessee (60) 923 Michigan State (18) 728 Ohio State (8) 652 Oklahoma (16) 599 California (3) 403 Texas A&M 329 Kentucky (1) 316 Washington (3) 310 Alabama (2) 247 Illinois (2) 247

Famed Bowler Dies Of Heart Ailment
NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Falcaro, 55, whose name was one of the greatest in bowling the last 25 years, died Friday.

Falcaro, who bowled 60 perfect games during his 40-year career in the sport, had been ill three years of a heart ailment.

Block Buster—With two out and the bases loaded, Ray Boone's squeeze bunt landed a short 15 feet from the plate on the third-base side. Pitcher Vic Raschi lost his balance, never got hold of the ball, (1) shoved it along the ground to the left of Yogi Berra, blocking the plate. (2) Bob Avila crashed into Berra. (3) Avila flew through the air. (4) Berra was bowled over. (5) Berra was flat on his back and dazed, as Luke Easter also scored, and Avila headed for the dugout. Cleveland catcher Jim Hegan, shinguarded on but the next hitter, looked on, as Bill McGowan appeared to be holding him back. (6) Easter, Hegan and teammates Gil McDougald and Johnny Mize, left to right, gathered round as Trainer Gus Mauch snapped the catcher out of it and the umpire called time. The crash resulted in the Indians' only two runs in this edition of the big series at Yankee Stadium. (NEA)

Port Arthur On Spot After 48-0 Win Over Denison
By The Associated Press
Port Arthur is on the spot again. It required just one week of play to put the Yellow Jackets in their accustomed place—one of the state schoolboy favorites.

The Yellow Jackets whipped Denison, 48-0, Friday night in the feature game of the state as the schoolboy campaign moved through its first week. Denison is supposed to be strong this season—so that makes Port Arthur seem super strong.

In the other top game of the week, Wharton of Class AA strapped New Braunfels of Class AAA, 21-9. Wharton was Class A state champion last season and New Braunfels ranked high.

Adamson of Dallas was beaten, 25-20, by Little Rock. Marshall took a 25-13 licking from Fair Park of Shreveport.

Adamson is in class AAA, of which Port Arthur and Denison also are members. Marshall is the ranking power of class AAA.

In other class AAAA games Waco beat Ennis of class AA, 25-14, and Baytown defeated Independent St. Thomas of Houston, 20-6.

In class AAAA Denton and Mineral Wells played to a 13-13 tie. Edinburg lost to class AA Donna, 37-14, and Kingsville defeated Victoria, 7-0.

Post Boy Hot
Jack Kirkpatrick of Post ran for four touchdowns—one on a 105-yard jaunt. His other scores were on 85, 80 and 54-yard dashes as Post blasted Crosbyton, 39-7. Post is in class AA and Crosbyton in class A.

More than 150 games were played in the Texas Interscholastic League's six divisions Friday night.

Brady Wins In Last Minute, 18-12
BRADY — Jerry Season faded back to pass, found no receiver and threaded his way 42-yards to a touchdown here Friday night to break a 12-12 tie and give the Brady Bulldogs an 18-12 verdict over the San Saba Armadillos.

The sparkling run came in the final minute of the game.

Pennsylvanian Discovery For N-C Howard Is In Prospect

Interesting prospects for the opening of a new Pennsylvanian lime oil field have been developed in North-Central Howard County at Deep Rock Oil Corporation No. 1 J. C. McCrory.

That without sprayed and flowed oil, gas and mud for a considerable period during a drillstem test of the zone at 8,088-94 feet. No formation water was developed.

The tool was open for 40 minutes. Gas surfaced in four minutes and mud appeared at the top in 13 minutes.

Sprayed And Flowed
The drill pipe started to spray oil, gas and mud in 13 minutes. After that spray had been in progress 35 minutes operator closed the tool on the tester in the bottom of the hole. The drill pipe continued to spray oil, gas and a little mud for two hours before it was possible to start pulling and breaking down the drill pipe.

While the string was being pulled and racked it continued to unload fluid.

Final recovery was 720 feet of clean oil, 360 feet of mud cut oil and 90 feet of gas and mud. There were no signs of formation water.

Packer Stuck
The packer stuck in the hole when operator started pulling the drill pipe. It had to be jarred before it could be loosened and pulled. Informed observers say that the jar-ring of the packer allowed the drilling mud to drop to the bottom of the hole.

An electric log survey is now being run. After that is taken it is planned to make more hole, using a diamond bit.

Top of the reef line in the Pennsylvanian was called at 8,888 feet. Elevation is 2,644 feet.

Location Given
Top of the zone which is making the oil and gas is thought to be around 9,020 feet.

Location is 2,800 feet from east and 600 feet from north lines of section 1, block 33, T-1-N, T&P survey.

The indicated discovery is five miles north of Big Spring, and six miles southeast of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Burton, discovery well of and the lone producer in the Bond-Canyon field.

NW Iron Project Logs Shows Of Oil And Gas In DST

MJ&M&M Consolidated of Midland No. 1 Calvin H. Sugg, Northwest Iron County wildcat, 25 miles northeast of Barnhart, and 1,900 feet from south and 600 feet from east lines of section 1940, Alex E. Patton survey, ran a three-hour drillstem test in an unidentified Permian lime at 4,854-5,187 feet.

Recovery was 240 feet of gas and oil cut drilling mud. There were no shows of formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 110 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 210 pounds.

Operator is drilling deeper. The prospector is slated to dig to about 10,000 feet to try to find and test the Ellenburger.

Hiawatha Enters Ellenburger Zone In C-N Schleicher

Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company and Dan Auld No. 1 Jeff Harkey, Central-North Schleicher County wildcat, 25 miles northeast of Eldorado, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 77, block H, GH&SA survey, topped the Ellenburger at 5,974 feet.

Elevation on the prospector has not been reported. It had reached 6,047 feet in Ellenburger dolomite, and was making more hole.

No porosity had been developed and no signs of petroleum had been logged in the section of the Ellenburger so far drilled.

This wildcat had shown some oil and gas and some salt water in a drillstem test of the Canyon sand at 4,832-4,982 feet.

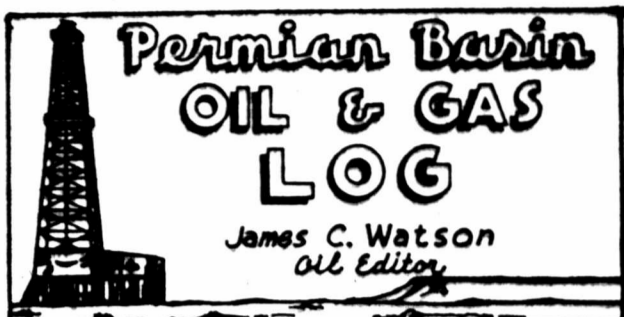

The wildcat is seven miles east of the North Huldale field which produces from Pennsylvanian lime.

Pennsylvanian Lime Opener In Midland Offset By Magnolia

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 C. L. Klapproth has been staked as a direct west offset to Moore Exploration Company and O'Gore Exploration No. 1 Bauman, recently completed Pennsylvanian strike in North-Central Midland County.

It will be drilled 660 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of the Klapproth lease in section 14, block 30, T-3-S, T&P survey.

No. 1 Bauman was completed for a daily flowing potential of 226 barrels of oil through a one-eighth-inch choke from 11,284 to 11,293 feet.

Spraberry Open Hole To Be Tested In Martin Wildcat

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company is preparing to hydraulic open hole in the Spraberry and test its No. 1-A Harry Lester wildcat in East-Central Martin County.

Total depth of the project is 7,422 feet. Seven-inch casing is cemented on top of the Spraberry.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 29, block 36, T-3-N, T&P survey and 20 miles north of Stanton.

The same operator's No. 1 Dickenson, wildcat in South-Central Martin County, is drilling below 9,205 feet in sand and shale.

It is to go on to around 11,000 feet for a test of the Ellenburger.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Spraberry Trend Gets Eight Sites, Four New Oilers

Eight new prospectors and four more oilers have been added to the Spraberry Trend areas of Midland and Glasscock Counties.

The locations were divided between the Midkiff-Spraberry, Tex-Harvey and Driver-Spraberry fields.

Two of the new oilers are in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County and one each in the Driver-Spraberry and Midkiff-Spraberry fields.

In the Midkiff area, Sinclair Oil & Gas Company will drill No. 19-A Lillie Midkiff, 1,800 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 2, block 34, T-3-S, T&P survey.

The same operator will dig No. 21-D Lillie Midkiff in the same area, 1,800 feet from south and east lines of section 48, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Humble Test
Humble Oil & Refining Company will drill No. 3 Lillie Midkiff and others 1,800 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 44, block 38, T-4-S, T&P survey and in the Midkiff-Spraberry field.

In the Midland side of the Tex-Harvey field, Magnolia Petroleum Company will drill No. 14 E. T. O'Daniel and others, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 4, block 37, T-2-S, S. Wright survey.

The same operator will drill No. 13 E. T. O'Daniel in the Tex-Harvey field, 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 3, block 37, T-2-S, S. Wright survey.

In the same field, Magnolia will dig No. 2 Louise Shackelford, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 34, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Glasscock Side
In the Glasscock side of the Tex-Harvey field, Phillips Petroleum Company spotted location for its No. 7 Judkins, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 43, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Magnolia also spotted location for a project in the Driver-Spraberry field of Southeast Midland County. It will be drilled as No. 1-A Sam Preston, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Phillips Petroleum Company and Amerada Petroleum Corporation each have completed a new well in the Midland side of the Tex-Harvey field.

433 BOPD
Phillips No. 1-C Mabel, 660 feet from west and 663 feet from south lines of the lease in section 21, block 37, T&P survey, was finalized for a daily flowing potential of 433 barrels of oil and no water from open hole section at 7,065-7,230 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 732-1 and tubing pressure was 100 pounds. Final gauge was on a one-half-inch tubing choke. Operator used 4,500 gallons of Hydracraft to complete the well.

Amerada No. 2-18 K. S. Boone, 660 feet from east and south lines of lease in section 18, block 36, T-3-S, T&P survey, flowed 387 barrels of 37.5-gravity oil and no water on 24-hour potential test from open hole at 8,975-7,005 feet. An unreported amount of Hydracraft was used in that section.

Gas-oil ratio was 518-1 and tubing pressure was 120 pounds. A one-half-inch tubing choke was used during the potential test.

Midkiff Field
In the Midkiff field, Sinclair finished its No. 8-A Lillie Midkiff, 660 feet from south and east lines of the lease in section 3, block 30, T&P survey, T-3-S, for a daily flowing potential of 214 barrels of 28-gravity oil.

Completion was from open hole section at 7,210-7,266 feet. Operator used 2,000 gallons of acid to complete the well. Gas-oil ratio was 810-1 and tubing pressure was 40 pounds. Final was through open two-inch tubing.

In the Driver field of Southeast Midland County, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3 Sam R. Preston, 660 feet from east and 1,800 feet from south lines of section 41, block 37, T&P survey, flowed 24 hours on potential test and made 466 barrels of 28.1-gravity oil and no water through a 24/64-inch tubing choke.

Gas-oil ratio was 688-1 and tubing pressure ranged from 600 to 340 pounds. Operator used 6,000 gallons of Hydracraft to complete the well from open hole at 7,043-7,286 feet.

Three Wildcats Are Staked In WT Areas

Three wildcats have been staked for immediate drilling in West Texas.

Deepest of the three will be an Ellenburger test nine miles northwest of the Reinecke field of North-east Borden County by Gulf Oil Corporation.

It is No. 1-A Long, 900 feet from north and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 24, block 30, T-4-N, T&P survey. That puts it seven miles southeast of Gall.

Progress Petroleum Company of Houston will drill a 4,000-foot wildcat in South-Central Concho County, seven miles northwest of Eden.

It is No. 1 Fritz Speck, 330 feet from south and 727 feet from east lines of section 1, GC&SF survey.

Drill site is 440 feet from west of Elter No. 1 Melinger, 4,408-foot dry hole.

George W. Strake of Houston spotted location for a Northeast Rannels County wildcat. It will be drilled eight miles northeast of Winters as No. 1-B P. P. White.

Exact location is 330 feet from south and east lines of a 1,564-acre tract in block 500, Wharton County school land survey.

It is also two miles south of Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Theodor, recently completed Morris sand gas-distillate discovery.

Amerada Offsets Shallow Discovery In N-C Crockett

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 2-K Todd is to be a 2,000-foot exploration to try for production from the Grayburg-San Andres lime in North-Central Crockett County, approximately one and one-half miles west of the multipay Todd field.

It is located 990 feet from north and 1,983 feet from west lines of section 15, block 10, GC&SF survey.

That makes it one location north of Amerada's No. 1-K Todd, recently completed small flowing discovery from the Grayburg-San Andres in open hole at 1,787-1,820 feet.

Drilling on the No. 2-K Todd is to start at once.

El Producto To Run Production Tests At Concho Prospector

El Producto Oil Company, Inc., of Sioux City, S. D., No. 1 Robert Wilson, Southwest Concho County wildcat, 11 miles southwest of Eden, is bottomed at 3,724 feet in lower Strawn lime and is preparing to cement the 3 1/2-inch casing at 3,645 feet and then make a production test.

This wildcat had headed oil and shown considerable gas from the section at 3,710-24 feet.

The project is reported to have headed oil each two hours for a considerable period and to have shown gas at the estimated rate of 1,500,000 cubic feet per day.

There were no estimates on the amount of oil which was kicked out.

Casing To Be Cemented
The 3 1/2-inch casing set at 3,645 feet, to control water from above that depth will now be cemented to assure that the upper water will not hinder the testing of the section at 3,710-24 feet.

This wildcat is 330 feet from north and 997 feet from east lines of a 320-acre lease in the Thomas Green survey No. 1. It is 830 feet east of the Floyd C. Dodson No. 1 Robert Wilson, which pumped oil for a short time from the Strawn, and was then abandoned.

The El Producto No. 1 Wilson has already shown some oil from the Swastika at 2,124-36 feet and it had some wet gas at 3,610-45 feet in the upper Strawn.

Utah's Potential Oil Production Likely To Get Big Increase

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Disclosure of the results of an oil well test indicates that Utah's potential oil production may be increased considerably.

The disclosure was made by the Carter Oil Company. The firm, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, said a well being drilled near Duchesne, in Eastern Utah, has yielded oil at 2,000 feet. The well is a short distance from the first producing hole in the field, drilled to 7,800 feet.

If the second well becomes a producer at the shallower depth, oil men say that would indicate at least two separate producing strata exist in the Duchesne field.

Carter said that in a two-hour test, the well gave up 956 feet of heavy black oil and 16 feet of oil and gas cut mud. The pouring point was about 50 degrees.

That was in marked contrast with the oil now flowing from the first well in the field. It is producing paraffin base oil that will not flow at temperatures of less than 100 degrees.

Carter has done considerable experimenting in producing from the first well and at present is using heated oil as a circulating agent to cause the heavier petroleum to flow to the surface.

Carter has given no production figures. Other sources say the well's production, carefully controlled, now is between 200 and 300 barrels per day.

Utah has five oil and gas producing areas. The Clay Basin, in southeastern Utah, has yielded natural gas for about 20 years. The four remaining areas have been developed since September 18, 1948, when the first oil producer—in Ashley Valley—was completed.

Other producing areas are the Roosevelt field, the Red Wash field and the Duchesne field, all in the Uintah Valley which stretches across Utah from the eastern slope of the Wasatch Mountains to the Colorado border.

The state's oil production has ranged upward from virtually nothing before 1946 to 4,000 barrels per day late this summer.

Exploration is underway. In addition to the four oil producing areas and the Clay Basin, gas field drilling is underway in 27 areas.

Drilling for natural gas has been stimulated with the award of a permit to Utah Natural Gas Company to construct a transmission line from southeastern Utah to the Salt Lake Valley.

Byrd-Frost Company of Dallas has completed one well about eight miles northeast of Monticello, in extreme southeastern Utah. The company capped the well, estimating its production at 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The company began drilling another well about four miles away. Recently it said the well encountered a flow of gas so strong that drilling tools were jammed in the hole. The well is reported not yet cleared.

Byrd-Frost also is drilling on the Last Chance structure, about 35 miles southeast of Emery, and on the Clear Creek structure, 25 miles west of Price. Drilling in all three locations is aimed at producing fuel for the Utah Natural Gas Company's projected line.

Crude Allowable In Texas Jumps

AUSTIN (AP)—Average calendar day crude oil allowable in Texas jumped last week 12,404 barrels daily, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The commission also reported 7,447 oil well completions so far this year, compared with 7,292 in the same period last year.

There were 191 oil well completions during the week, of which 12 were wildcats.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 9, 1951-9

West Texas Crude Oil Getting Sweeter

Figures just released by National Oil Scouts' & Landmen's Association indicate that now, for the first time in oil history, more than half of West Texas production is sweet or semi-sweet crude.

While total July production is estimated at 1,053,000 for the West Texas area, the figure includes 548,700 barrels daily of sweet, and semi-sweet crude. This situation is in marked contrast to that which prevailed a few years ago when West Texas crude was a drag on the market because of its high sulphur content, with a corresponding damaging effect on pipe lines and refineries which handled it.

It is also interesting to note that about 80 per cent of the new production being found almost daily in the West Texas area is sweet crude.

In Southeast New Mexico where total July production was 143,000 barrels daily, sweet and semi-sweet crude amounted to 47,200 barrels daily. Somewhat more than half of new production being found in New Mexico is sweet crude.

Amerada Finishes Devonian Opener In NW Lea Sector

HOBBS, N. M.—Amerada Petroleum Corporation completed a discovery from the Devonian in Northwest Lea County and spotted location for an outpost to the new field opener.

The well, located 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 14-12a-32a, was finished for a daily flowing potential of 550 barrels of oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke.

Production is through perforations at 11,200-11,270 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 20-1.

The discovery is six miles west of the Bagley-multiphase field.

The outpost is Amerada's No. 1-ECC State. It is to be drilled 1,500 feet from north and east lines of section 11-12a-32a. It will drill to around 11,300 feet.

Amerada also staked location for a 2,500-foot wildcat in Central-West Lea County. It will be three-quarters of one mile southeast of the shallow Salt Lake field and will be drilled as No. 1 Fred Turner.

Location is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 17-20a-33a. Southern California Petroleum Company completed its No. 1 Bettie Reid as a one-half-inch casing at 10,840-888 feet and 10,928-952 feet.

Casing is cemented at 10,970 feet and pay was topped at 10,840 feet.

Operator used 5,000 gallons of acid to complete the well.

Amerada also added a new entry to the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County. It is the company's No. 2-SD State.

It was completed from the Pennsylvania for a daily flowing potential of 280 barrels of 41.4-gravity oil, natural, from perforations at 8,285-8,296 feet.

Pay was topped at 8,214 feet and plugged back total depth is 8,240 feet.

McAlester No. 1-B Pay McClure is a new entry in the Denton field of Central-East Lea County.

It was finished for a daily flowing potential of 326 barrels of 40.2-gravity oil through a 24 5/8-inch tubing choke and perforations at 12,673-694 feet, and 13,700-744 feet, both sets opposite the Devonian.

Operator used 8,500 gallons of acid

McMillan Names New Oil Field For Granddaughter

A recently discovered oil field in Northwest Shackelford County has been named for the nine-month-old granddaughter of two Midland couples.

The new field is the Matilda Perkins. It is located about 25 miles northwest of Albany and 25 miles northeast of Abilene.

The new producing area was opened a few weeks ago by the J. G. (Guy) McMillan of Midland, No. 1 G. R. Davis. The well gets its free oil from the Bluff Creek sand pay.

McMillan is the maternal grandfather of Matilda Perkins, the nine-month-old baby, whose name the Railroad Commission of Texas has put on the field.

Mr. and Mrs. John Perkins, II, the mother of the baby, The mother is the former Jane McMillan.

Capt. John Perkins, III, of the U. S. Army is the father of the baby. Captain Perkins and his family are living in Bryson while he is taking special training at Texas A&M College.

Cel. and Mrs. John Perkins of Midland are the parents of Capt. John Perkins, III, and the paternal grandparents of Matilda.

Grandfather McMillan now is completing his second oil producer in the new field and is preparing to drill three more explorations in that area.

Pennsylvanian Discovery—Liner Is Cemented In Martin Explorer

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Blinson and Burley, Southwest Martin County wildcat, is waiting for cement to cure on four-inch liner cemented on bottom at 10,889 feet.

Operator will condition hole and perforate the liner in order to test for production in the Ellenburger.

The last drillstem test was run in the project from 10,804 to 10,859 feet. Tool was open three hours and 45 minutes.

Recovery was 555 feet of fluid of which 255 feet was heavily gas-cut mud, 90 feet oil and gas-cut mud and 210 feet was gas-cut salt water.

Location is 600 feet from west and south lines of section 38, block 30, T-1-N, T&P survey and seven miles north of the City of Midland.

API Committee Is To Meet Wednesday

The Committee on Drilling Practices of the American Petroleum Institute for the Permian Basin will hold a meeting Wednesday in the Magnolia Building, Midland.

Speaker for the gathering will be W. C. Goins, Jr., of the Gulf Oil Corporation chemical laboratory in Houston. He will talk on "Down the Hole Pressure Surveys and Their Effect on Lost Circulation."

The meeting will start at 2 p.m.

H. J. Shumate of Gulf is vice chairman for the committee and David Johnston of Humble Oil & Refining Company is assistant vice chairman.

Jack Morse of Odessa is secretary.

Brown & Thorp Sets Outposts To Operate In NE Pecos Sector

Brown & Thorp Drilling Company and others of McCombs staked locations for two outposts to the same operators' No. 1 White-Gull, Clear Fork discovery in Northeast Pecos County.

One of the new tests will be No. 1 Seaboard-G. R. White, 330 feet from west and north lines of the south half of section 42, block 11, H&GN survey. That puts it one-half mile south and one-quarter mile east of the discovery which is waiting for potential test.

Brown & Thorp will drill the other outpost as No. 1 Sunray-White and Baker, 330 feet from north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 49, block 11, H&GN survey and three-quarters of one mile southwest of the discovery well.

Both sites are one and one-half miles south of Girvin.

DST Scheduled For N-C Midland Test

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Hofferkamp, wildcat in North-Central Midland County was to be drillstem tested in an unidentified section from 10,015 to 10,080 feet.

Operator encountered gas shows in that section.

The project, which has indicated it might produce from the Spraberry sand, is 1,900 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 19, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey.

The same operator's No. 1 Moss, Central-North Midland County

B&N Gives Up On Lower Spraberry In Reagan Test

The Blackwood & Nichols Company has abandoned attempts to develop production from the lower Spraberry in its No. 1 Robbie Alexander, wildcat in West-Central Reagan County.

After extended swabbing and flowing tests in that formation developed considerable amounts of salt water, operator decided to abandon the project temporarily.

When a workover unit is available operator will go back in hole and try to develop production in the upper Spraberry.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 6, block M, TC survey and 20 miles northeast of Rankin.

Casing Is Set In SE Mitchell Test

S. F. Hurlbut and others No. 1 E. H. Winn, Southeast Mitchell County wildcat, is at total depth of 7,507 feet in the Ellenburger lime waiting for cement to cure on five and one-half-inch oil string cemented at 7,505 feet.

Operator will perforate the casing at about 7,452-55 feet and acidize the Ellenburger and make production tests.

Top of the Ellenburger by samples is at 7,436 feet on a datum point of minus 5,414 feet.

No. 1 Winn recovered 70 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 20 feet of free oil on a three-hour drillstem test from 7,447-87 feet. A two-hour drillstem test from 7,487 to 7,505 feet developed 120 feet of free oil, 220 feet of heavily oil-cut mud and 30 feet of sulphur water.

Location is 720 feet from north and 683 feet from east lines of E. C. Bartell survey.

An eight county Spraberry trend map, extending from the north lines of Dawson and Borden Counties to the south lines of Upton and Reagan Counties, including all accessible roads to the producing areas and active operations, is now being distributed by Midland Map Company.

The map includes all state, federal and county roads in the area. Spotted on the map are all producing wells and new locations along with lease, mineral and fee ownerships.

Wescoat Added To Speaking Program

DALLAS—L. S. Wescoat, President of The Pure Oil Company, has joined the list of oil industry notables and ranking government officials who will address the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association's 32nd Annual Meeting in Beaumont, October 8-9, Charles E. Simon, association vice president and general manager, announced.

L. S. Wescoat is a director of the American Petroleum Institute and a member of the National Petroleum Council. Wescoat is a veteran of 25 years in the oil industry. Before joining Pure Oil in 1925 he was in the automotive and public utilities fields. He first served The Pure Oil Company as general sales manager and has been a director of the firm since 1936.

Wescoat is also a director of the Automotive Safety Council and the National Highway Users Council.

Eight Committees To Plan Annual IPAA Meet In Fort Worth

PORT WORTH—Oil men from throughout the nation will attend a series of industry committee meetings beginning here Monday in preparation for the 1961 annual meeting of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

J. Ed Warren, Midland, president of IPAA, said eight standing committees scheduled to meet here will prepare reports and resolutions to be presented at the 22nd annual IPAA meeting October 22-23 at the Shamrock Hotel, Houston.

"These reports and resolutions when adopted by the membership will become a part of the IPAA program," Warren said. He urged members who have suggestions on industry matters to either attend the committee meetings or write their ideas to the proper committee chairmen.

Some 250 oil men from every oil producing area will participate in the advance committee sessions. All of the groups will meet in the Texas Hotel.

Committees Listed

Warren listed the various committees, their respective chairmen and meeting dates as follows:

Nominating committee, J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, September 10.

Western Hemisphere Oil Study Committee, C. H. Lyons, Shreveport, September 11.

Interstate Oil Compact Commission committee, A. J. Brunini, Vicksburg, Miss., September 11.

Natural Gas committee, R. C. Kay, Amarillo, September 18.

Constitution and By-Laws committee, W. M. Vaughney, Jackson, Miss., September 19.

Oil and Gas Field Materials committee, Bryan W. Payne, Tyler, September 20.

Drilling Contractors committee, W. S. Churchill, Dallas, September 26.

IPAA Budget committee, R. J. St. Germain, Houston, October 3.

Tentative dates were listed for two other committee sessions. The Tax Policy and Advisory committee, headed by T. H. Marshall, is expected to meet October 1, and the Resolutions committee, chaired by Roland V. Rodman, October 3, both in the Apo Tower, Oklahoma City.

Service Pipe Line Operating More Gathering Systems

Service Pipe Line Company September 1 took over operation of two West Texas crude oil gathering systems it obtained from Magnolia Pipe Line Company and B. C. Pipe Line Company.

The system formerly owned by Magnolia Pipe Line serves the Dean (West Levelland) area. It includes approximately 25 miles of two- to four-inch pipe connecting 94 wells on 22 leases producing approximately 1,600 barrels of oil daily, subject to Texas Railroad Commission allowances.

Purchased from B. C. Pipe Line Company are gathering facilities connecting the Yellowhouse pool in Hockley County with the Consumers Cooperative refinery at Levelland. The facilities consist of approximately 20 miles of six- and eight-inch pipe and handle about 950 barrels of oil daily from 17 leases, subject to allowances.

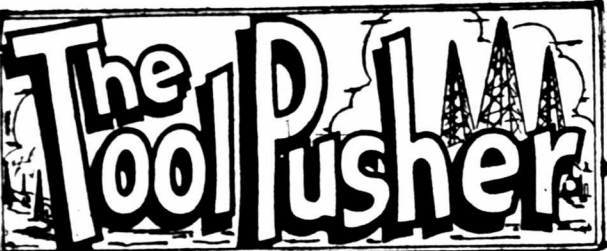

The Vatican, with more than 4,000 rooms, is the largest place in the world.

World Oil September Issue Features Permian Basin Of West Texas And New Mexico

The September issue of World Oil, monthly publication for the petroleum industry issued in Houston, features the West Texas and Southeast New Mexico region.

Included in the edition are stories by several Midland men about fields and operations in the immediate vicinity of the City of Midland as well as other "hot" areas in the Permian Basin.

Midlanders contributing to the magazine and what they wrote are as follows: R. C. Senning, "The Spraberry Play in West Texas"; John C. Ryan and Howard L. Fisher, "Deep Structures and Multi-Pay Fields Offer Significant Developments in West Texas"; J. H. Bartley, "Pennsylvanian Reef and Non-Reef Developments in West Texas"; Harry E. Legendre, "Completion Practices in the Spraberry"; R. S. Ousterhout, "Developments in the Chemical Treatment of Wells in the Permian Basin"; and James C. Watson, "Kingdoms of Oil: Midland, Texas."

Others whose works on West Texas and Southeast New Mexico appear in the publication are: Dr. Sidon Harris of Fort Worth, "What We Expect to Find in the Permian Basin"; Glenn Staley of Hobbs, "Pre-Permian Pays Productive in New Mexico's New Fields"; Russell C. Hartman, "Pressure Maintenance in Block 31 field"; Walter D. Powers of Kermit, "Keystone Field Operating Problems"; J. R. Hamilton of Fort Worth, "Gas Lift Practices in West Texas"; and Harold G. Teverson, "Gas Gathering Facilities of the Snyder Gasoline Plant."

Staff written articles include: "Scurry Conservation Plans Envisage Billion Barrel Payoff," "Permian Basin Maintains Position as Drilling Leader," "Permian Basin Yields Fifth of U. S. Oil Production," and "Efficient Techniques Used in Dolomite Completions."

Gulf May Drill Exploration In SW Chaves Area

Gulf Oil Corporation is reported to be planning a wildcat exploration in the extreme west portion of the southwest panhandle of Chaves County.

It is reported that it will be drilled in section 10-18a-18a.

That would put it 15 miles north of Sun Oil Company's No. 1 Pinon Unit, Chaves County active wildcat.

The Texas Company No. 1-AT State, wildcat in Central-West Lea County, is coring below 9,897 feet in lime, probably Pennsylvanian, after flowing oil and water on a drillstem test from 9,805 to 9,855 feet.

Tool was open three hours and seven minutes. Gas was at the surface in four minutes, oil and water in 54 minutes. It was cleaned to pits 13 minutes and then turned to tanks. It flowed 63.48 barrels of fluid in two hours. It was 55 per cent oil and 45 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 450-1.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 10-18a-32a and 2 miles north of production in the Saunders field.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. D. Black was being cored deeper from 10,317 feet in Northeast Lea County, after shows of oil were found on a drillstem test from 10,285-10,317 feet. Tool was open three hours. Recovery was 30 feet of clear water blanket, 1,320 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut water blanket and 210 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Drillstem is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 9-15a-36a.

PAD Approves Two Lines In Southwest

PONCA CITY—Continental Pipe Line Company, has received approval from the Petroleum Administration for Defense Act: two pipe line projects in the Southwest, aggregating an expenditure of $7,900,000. Construction will get under way soon.

W. L. Kye, president, said.

One of the projects, scheduled to cost $5,900,000, is a 12-inch line that will extend approximately 225 miles from Wichita Falls to Ponca City, carrying crude from Montague, Okla., Wichita and Young Counties in the Wichita Falls area, to Continental Oil Company's refinery at Ponca City. The line will have an initial daily capacity of 40,000 barrels.

Division superintendent for Continental Pipe Line in the North Texas area is E. O. Sturm, Wichita Falls.

The other Continental Pipe Line project is an 8-inch 100-mile line extending from the Rincon field, in Starr County in the Southern tip of Texas, by way of McAllen to Port Isabel, near the mouth of the Rio Grande River.

This line, costing $2,000,000, will have a capacity of 17,000 barrels daily and will move crude oil from the Rincon area to Port Isabel. In addition, still-life distillate from a cycling plant near McAllen and crude oil from the McAllen area will be carried to Port Isabel for Taylor-Mayfair Company.

Rice Institute is a 50 per cent partner with Continental Pipe Line Company in the construction of the Rincon line.

Phillips Officials Attend Man-Hour Safety Celebration

Top officials of Phillips Petroleum Company from Bartlesville, including K. S. Adams, chairman, were in Odessa Friday to help Western Production division heads of Phillips celebrate completion of a million man-hour safety record.

The delegation, in addition to Adams, included Paul Endacott, president; Stanley Learned, executive vice president and assistant to the president; C. P. Dimit, president of production; L. E. Fitzjarrald, manager of production; Jim Houchin, general superintendent of production; Hugo Riecken, industrial relations officer of production; Dennis Basinger, safety supervisor, and Harry Markee, safety director of employe relations department.

A barbecue served by the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang held Friday evening highlighted the day's activities. More than 400 employes, their wives and special guests attended this part of the program.

Western Production employes are the first producing division in the history of Phillips to achieve the million man-hour record which was started two and one-half years ago.

The division is made up of employes in Big Spring and Hobbs districts.

Russell Hayes is division superintendent having recently replaced Don Miller who was promoted to Western Region superintendent.

The visiting officials toured company property in Odessa.

Other members of the Bartlesville party were: Mrs. Endacott, Mrs. Learned, Mrs. C. P. Dimit, Mrs. Fitzjarrald, Mrs. Houchin, Mrs. Kaveler and Mrs. Riecken.

TCPC Announces Personnel Changes

R. H. Jackson, district manager of the Levelland district for The Chemical Process Company of Midland was promoted to assistant division manager and will office in Midland, it was announced by R. P. (Padge) Maddox, division manager for the West Texas-New Mexico division of the company.

Jackson will be succeeded in Levelland by H. C. (Chubby) Wohlford, assistant district manager of the concern's Odessa district.

Both Jackson and Wohlford have been with the company ten years.

It was also announced John T. Bedford, treasurer with the company in Odessa, was promoted to division engineer and assigned to the division office in Midland.

Herbert D. Alexander, treasurer of The Chemical Process Company in Seminole, Okla., was promoted to assistant district manager of the Odessa district.

In 1950, oil marketers collected more than $2,000,000,000 in gasoline taxes for Uncle Sam and the states.

Washington Oil— PAD Completes Program To Increase Flow Of Tubular Goods To Small Producers

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—A program to increase the flow of oil country tubular goods to small petroleum producers virtually was completed last week, and the Petroleum Administration for Defense will give the details soon.

Under it, warehouse stocks of casing and tubing, held by supply houses, are to be opened up for use by producers drilling a few wells a year. The tentative figure is 11 a year and less.

The pool has been for wildcaters only up to now.

Warehouse stocks would be upped from five to 10 per cent of total domestic allocations of oil country tubular goods or about 15,000 tons a month. The 13 warehouse stock locations may be augmented.

A PAD decision is coming, also, to allow producers to use an "alternate" base period, choosing either 1948, 1949 or 1950 in estimating steel requirements. The base period of 1950 has hurt some producers, and helped others, as casing and tubing are parceled out on the basis of past usage. One PAD official says the government has permitted the "alternate" system, but few producers knew or could take advantage of it.

The changes were outlined last week to officials of 14 oil and gas associations by PAD executives. The associations represented producers in all oil states. Bruce K. Brown, deputy head of the PAD, opened the two-day meeting.

"Harmonious," Warren says President J. Ed Warren of the Independent Petroleum Association, Midland, Texas, described the meeting as "harmonious" and said "we all have confidence in PAD."

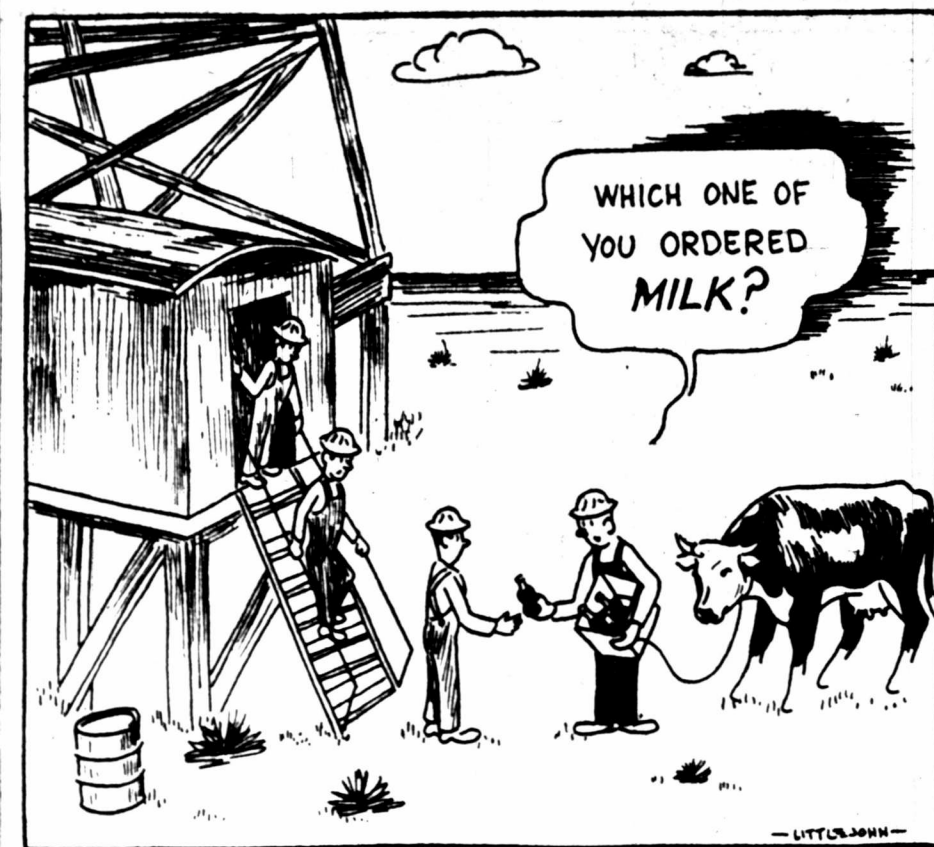

Details of the warehouse stock program were ironed out by PAD in a meeting with heads of oil field supply houses. In a third meeting, PAD called in oil country goods producers and asked two things: More production starting at once and continuing all next year, and an emphasis on "footage rather than tonnage." That is, said PAD, five and a half-inch casing instead of seven-inch.

The fight for steel for the whole oil and gas industry for the first quarter of 1952 was opened last week when PAD's ace trouble shooter, A. P. Frame, and its materials director, Frank A. Watts, met with officials of the Defense Production Administration. The DPA is in charge of steel distribution, and PAD can hand out only what it gets from DPA.

The Frame-Watts team proposed foreign oil operators obtain a larger share of their steel needs from foreign steel mills, an action which is difficult since foreign mills prefer to sell in America for dollars. The Economic Cooperation Administration and the Office of International Trade are chief claimants for steel for American oil operations abroad, while the PAD advises.

The PAD officials also asked DPA for 420,000 tons of oil country

Reed Survey Reports Record 97 Rigs Going In Upton Area

A record breaking 97 active rotary operations were reported for Upton County on September 1 by the semi-monthly Reed Roller Bit Company survey.

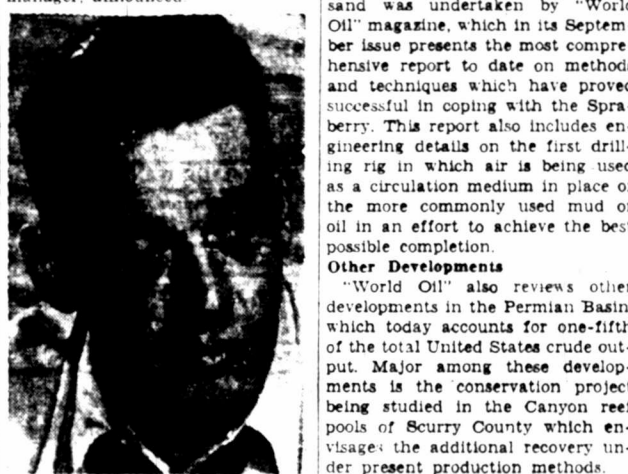

It was the third time in a row Upton County lead all others included in the Reed survey in operations. Two weeks earlier Upton was at the top with 84 projects going. The Reed survey includes counties in the West Texas and South-west New Mexico Basin areas.

Digging In Eight County Trend Should Last 20 More Years

A geological quirk of centuries past has given West Texas 20 more years of prospective drilling. That is the street-corner consensus of Permian Basin oilmen, now that the crude-laden, fractured Spraberry sandstone has come into its own Spraberry oil has unleashed a surge of leasing and wildcatting that has scattered

Haystead To Talk At TM-CO&G Meet

DALLAS—The American Petroleum Institute's agricultural counselor, Ladd Haystead, will talk at the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association at the organization's 22nd Annual Meeting in Beaumont, October 8-9. Charles E. Simons, Dallas, vice president and general manager, announced.

Ladd Haystead has a background in farming ranging from hired hand to owner. A well-known agricultural writer, he is the author of several books on farming and has had articles published in many magazines. For five years he was farm editor of "Fortune."

Midland Woman Is Featured In Howco Company Magazine

By PANBY BURRUS
Reporter-Telegram Oil Writer

A tribute to all wives of Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company is contained in the July-August issue of the company magazine, "The Cementer." The article salutes 4,300 "silent partners."

Mrs. Jewel Muse, wife of J. L. Muse, assistant division manager at Midland for the West Texas-New Mexico division, is featured in the article. She says that her outstanding memory of the oil fields is the time when as a bride she came to Jal. N. M.

Mrs. Muse had never seen an oil derrick and was unfamiliar with the oil field lingo. Therefore she found it rather confusing when called upon to "take jobs" over the telephone.

Among other Halliburton "silent partners" featured in the article and some of their experiences were: Remembers Early Days

Mrs. J. L. McBride, wife of North Louisiana division manager, J. L. (Mac) McBride, remembers early days with Halliburton in Wilson, Okla. She says they had one of the finest tents in Wilson. It was boxed up par. of the way and had screen wire around it.

When the McBrides were stationed at Graham, they bought water by the barrel. Sometimes, just before payday, cash was short, so they hooked the F. W. D. to a sled and hauled water on the sled.

Charlie Eyster, warehouseman at Corpus Christi, expresses the husband's viewpoint. His wife, Mildred, is employed in Howco's Southwest Texas division office at Corpus Christi.

Eyster says wives deserve almost as much credit as most of the men for the successes and good spirit that has developed in the company. His wife has worked the last three years sending their son Dick to Texas A&M, with her paycheck.

The biggest problem these wives have is adjusting themselves to new towns to which their husbands are transferred. Many feel their greatest satisfaction is derived from converting unsuitable living quarters into comfortable and pleasant homes.

Mrs. Ruby Bible, whose husband is district mechanic at Perry, Okla., tells of their transfer to a camp ten miles from Midland and ten miles from Odessa. Soon a small village grew up and it was called Terminal. Now Terminal has a post office, bakery, barber and beauty shops, churches, elementary school and other business establishments.

Darden And McRae Turn 95,000-Acre Block In Montana

John Darden and J. A. (Jimmie) McRae, Midland independent oil operators and brokers have recently turned a block of 95,000 acres in Sheridan County, Montana to Amerada Petroleum Corporation.

The leases were taken to Amerada Petroleum Corporation for an undisclosed consideration, plus an over-ride.

Sheridan County is in the northeast corner of Montana and on the west side of the Williston Basin. That region has been the scene of a widespread and spirited leasing play during recent months as the result of oil and gas having been discovered in the North Dakota sector of the basin.

Norwegian Hero Cleared Of Spying

OSLO—(AP)—Former Lt. Per Edvard Danielsen, a Norwegian wartime naval hero, was acquitted Saturday on charges he spied for the Russians.

The former officer, the son of Vice Adm. Edvard C. Danielsen, onetime Norwegian naval chief, went on trial Tuesday on charges of giving military information to the Russian naval attaché in Oslo.

He won fame for his wartime exploits as a motor-torpedo boat skipper along the Nazi-occupied coast.

NEW PUNCH FOR THE "BUCKAROO"—The TEMCO "Buckaroo," nominally a light trainer, is being demonstrated to the armed forces as a light, highly maneuverable ground support plane. The armed Buckaroo, equipped with two 30-caliber machine guns and ten 2.75-inch rockets, is seen above being inspected by Air Force officers at Goodfellow, Tex., Air Force Base.

Murray To Speak At AIME Meeting On September 17

William J. Murray, Jr., of Austin, a member of the Railroad Commission of Texas will address the September meeting of the Permian Basin section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers on September 17.

Murray's address will follow a dinner which will be served at 7 p.m. His subject will be, "The Oil Situation In West Texas In The Face Of The World Crisis, and Its Effect on the Engineering Branches of the Petroleum Industry."

Following Murray's address a round-table discussion will be held regarding the desirability of holding a two-day symposium in Midland in the near future for a study of the engineering problems presented by the Spraberry reservoirs of the Midland Basin and adjacent area.

Commissioner Murray is said to be anxious for such a session be held under the sponsorship of the AIME organization.

He had advised officers of the group that if sufficient interest is shown in such a study session he will attend and participate.

Jack M. Moore, chairman of the Permian Basin section of the AIME, will preside at the September 17 session. Joe Chastain, vice chairman of the organization will be in charge of the program.

Leases On Indian Lands In San Juan Basin To Be Sold

An auction sale of oil and gas leases on approximately 50,000 acres of land on the Indian reservation in the San Juan Basin of New Mexico and Utah will be held on September 28.

The sale will be in the form of opening sealed bids on the various tracts which are being offered.

The bids will be opened at 2 p.m., on September 28 at the office of the director of the Window Rock Area of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, at Window Rock, Ariz.

A complete list of the lands to be offered at the sale may be secured from the Indian Affairs Bureau office at Window Rock.

Sunray Completes New Gas Well In San Juan Area Of New Mexico

Sunray Oil Corporation has completed the first gas well on a principal block in its 11,000 acre holdings under lease in the Blanco-San Juan area of New Mexico.

Sunray's first well in its New Mexico development program just started is its San Juan No. 1 San Juan County, which is in the process of testing for completion. Tests to date indicate this No. 1 well is capable of producing 2.5 million cubic feet of gas daily. Location is 330 feet from south and west lines of section 10-30N-10W.

Although the rated daily producing capacity is relatively small the total gas reserve in this area is estimated to be quite large. It is contemplated that active drilling of these reserves will be continued.

Sunray's new well was drilled to a total depth of 5,617 feet in the Point Lookout sandstone.

Important NACE Meeting Is Slated In Odessa Monday

An important meeting of the National Association of Corrosion Engineers will be held in Gulf Auditorium, Odessa, Monday.

Corrosion tour plans, routes and exhibits will be discussed in detail. All officers and persons on committees and persons interested in any way are urged to attend the meeting, which will be the next to last scheduled meeting before the forthcoming corrosion tour.

The Monday meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. E. B. Ray is chairman of the association. E. A. McClendon and R. L. Elkins are first and second vice chairmen, respectively.

C. O. Bundrant is secretary-treasurer.

U. S. To Spend Hundred Billions For Armed Might

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators said Saturday the U.S. military soon will have more than $100,000,000 for guns, tanks, ships, aircraft and the new secret weapons President Truman labeled as "fantastic."

The biggest chunk of this fund took shape late Friday as the Senate Appropriations Committee unanimously approved a $81,103,856,000 military spending bill.

"That will give Pentagon leaders considerable more than a hundred billions," Senator Young (D-ND) told reporters.

He pointed to a report accompanying the multi-billion dollar measure showing the Defense Department has $44,278,000,000 of unspent funds previously appropriated.

Stanton Growth Seen In Schools

STANTON—Crowded school rooms at the opening of Stanton public schools reflected the rapid growth of the city.

On opening day, 539 students enrolled, and Supt. G. H. Goolsby said they would total 650 before the school year ends. Last year the top enrollment was 486.

A shortage of desks and books was reported, but shipments of these materials were on the way to Stanton.

TWO YOUNG MEN DIE IN LIGHT PLANE CRASH

The four told their stories to the Committee on Justice of the New York Criminal and Civil Courts Bar Association.

German Reds Start Early On Propaganda

BERLIN—(AP)—A woman official of the Communist youth organization Saturday aimed an open letter at six-year-old school beginners, instructing them to:

Hate and fear the Western Allies and West Germans, but love the "great Stalin" and "keep his words in your hearts."

Junge Welt (Young World) printed the letter, written by Margot Feist, secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist Free German Youth.

Examples of Our Many Values in Midland Homes:

FOUR-BEDROOM Austin Stone. More than 1,500 square feet of floor space. Two baths. Laundry room. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Corner location on Maple Avenue. Let us show you this home... you'll agree that it's worth more than the $17,500 we're asking!

THREE-BEDROOM brick veneer, plus den. Three baths, living room, dining room, attractive kitchen, large utility room. Carpets, drapes, air conditioning, water well. Fenced-in lot, in a good West location. Must be seen to be fully appreciated. The value is here! Full price, $28,500.

TWO BLOCKS from Sam Houston school, this 3-bedroom brick veneer home is one of Midland's better values. Very nice living room, convenient kitchen, tile bath. Carpets and drapes are included in the $20,500 price.

THREE BEDROOMS, three baths, in this highly individualized Austin Stone. Wood-burning fireplace in the lovely living room. Louvered patio. Back yard is completely enclosed, and includes custom-built barbecue pit.

SURROUNDED BY TREES, this comfortable home is of Haydite tile construction, with plastered walls. Three large bedrooms, two baths. Fireplace, central heat and air conditioning. Two-car garage. Situated on two full acres of ground, with private water system to turn it into a garden spot. The house is surrounded by poplars and very nice lawn.

WEST STOREY is a smart address, and that's where you'll find this 3-bedroom brick veneer—just off the Andrews Highway. Two baths. Lots of unusually nice features throughout. It's practically new. Double garage. Corner lot. Private water system. The price is $22,500, much less than reproduction cost.

VERY LIVABLE cottage on Lake Nasworthy. Every convenience. Four rooms and bath. Front entrance porch, with walk leading over the water to the boathouse, complete with motor boat. You'll like this for only $6,600.

OUT-OF-TOWN listings include property in Dallas, Fort Worth and San Angelo. If you're thinking of moving, let us sell your property here and find you a home in the city to which you're moving!

SELECT BUSINESS LOT on West Wall. Here is a location that will bring you more business volume... out of the congested area. Will sell or lease.

CHOICE RESIDENTIAL SITES on West Storey, 2500 block. Both North and South exposures. Extra-large frontages. And the price is right. We will be glad to sell you one of these select lots, or will build to suit you.

COMPLETE SERVICE in building your home! If you're thinking about building a home, we can save you money by handling the entire operation from one office... building site, construction, financing and insurance. We have many plans in stock, or will gladly draw plans to your specifications.

A Suggestion To Prospective Home-Builders

IF YOU WANT A "BETTER-TYPE" HOME —
 The homes now finished, under construction and in the planning stage in Baumann Heights are in the "better-type" class. If you are going to build, and would like a somewhat better residence in a neighborhood of homes in the same category, we urge you to consider the advantages of a home site in BAUMANN HEIGHTS.

IF YOU WANT TO BE CLOSE TO SCHOOL —
 Contract for a new elementary school within a few-blocks of the homesites in Baumann Heights has been recently signed. This school will be completed for the 1952 school year.

IF YOU WANT INVESTMENT PROTECTION —
 Exclusive restrictions protect your investment in these lots. All utilities will be available. Sizes of the lots vary from 80 to 235 feet in frontage, 140 to 213 feet in depth. Liberal terms are available if you desire. Let us show you these choice homesites, located in

MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1951

SECTION TWO

Midland Canines Lead A Dog's Life - And Love It

BOXERS—Mrs. F. B. Pennycook holds on leashes her two boxers, Junior and Saga. Junior, left, whose real name is Oden of Vingolf, will be entered in the West Texas Kennel Club show in Odessa Sunday.

SADY—Mrs. C. L. Davenport shows her Kerry blue terrier, Fairhaven's Blue Dahlia, known as Sady for short.

It's Dog Show Time In West Texas Sunday

The aristocracy of Midland dogdom will have a chance to strut its stuff Sunday when the West Texas Kennel Club sponsors its fifth annual all-breed dog show in Odessa.

The show will be held in the County Pavilion on West Tenth Street. Hours will be from 8 a.m. until 10 p.m. And, of course, Midland dog fanciers and their canine friends will be well represented.

One special feature of the show will be a class for young dog handlers. Known as the Junior Showmanship Class, it will be open to children from six through 14 years of age.

The dogs shown in this class also must be entered in one of the regular American Kennel Club classes, but they will not be judged in the junior division. Only the ability of the child in handling and showing the dog will be considered.

Local classes also will be conducted for dogs whose owners live within a 75-mile radius of Odessa. In these, no professional dog handlers will be allowed unless they are the owners of the dogs entered.

The number of entries in the show now totals 351.

President of the West Texas Kennel Club is C. L. Davenport of Midland. Other officers are George D. Woodford, also of Midland, vice president, and Mrs. Woodford, secretary-treasurer.

Dogs are a hobby with most of the women pictured—and a time-consuming hobby, at that. At least one of the women admits she was converted to her avocation.

"I didn't even like dogs," Mrs. C. L. Davenport said, "until someone gave me a Kerry blue terrier."

One thing led to another and the Davenports now own several dogs of different breeds. Two of their fox terriers, Sir Barton of Gaycliffe and 'Tisn't So of Westward Ho, will be entered in the Sunday show. Both Mr. and Mrs. Davenport are members of the show committee.

Show or no show, though, most of the dogs below are valued as pets first and prize winners second.

Midland dog fanciers agree dog raising is not a way to get rich quick, but it's fascinating work—and they love it.

BOY MEETS DOG—Mrs. Allan W. Johnson finds that a boy and a dog together can be quite a handful. The boy is her son, Chris, who recently celebrated his first birthday. Pepper, the black and white cocker spaniel, is one of many cockers owned by the Johnsons. The family lives at 2906 West Ohio Street.

THREE PETS—Mrs. Clarence Wiggins would have a hard time choosing a favorite among her three pets. That's Nanette, a miniature French poodle, on her lap. The cocker spaniels are known as Silver Countess (on the divan) and Bronwyn. The quartet is pictured in the Wiggins' home at 702 East Broadway.

WHAT'S IN A NAME—The big boxer belonging to Mrs. George Shelton, Jr., bears the registered name of Anthem von Dobar of Redrock, but around the Shelton household he is known simply as Abo. Mrs. Shelton and Abo take time out for picture-taking on the terrace of their home on the Andrews Highway.

The MATURE PARENT

Children Aren't Fooled By Dishonest Praise

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Somewhere, Corky's mother has read that children need parents' praise to inspire them to good conduct. She thinks that this means she should give credit to Corky that he hasn't earned.

At lunch, Corky is annoyed by his mother's refusal to give him another cookie. With his bright brown eyes on her face, he balls his hand into a fist and shows it deliberately into his mug of milk. As his mother wipes up the milk, she says, "My good little boy didn't mean to spill his milk, did he? No, Corky just made a mistake."

Corky doesn't react the way he should to this praise. He pushes his mother away when she tries to kiss him and is cross and out of temper all afternoon.

At five, Corky doesn't know anything about psychology, but his intuition is pretty acute. He knows that he did not feel like a good little boy when he spilled his milk. He knows that spilling it was not a mistake.

He feels that there's something wrong about his mother's insistence that he felt love for her when he felt something quite different. He senses that she is exerting some funny kind of pressure on him. Although he doesn't know it, Corky resents being flattered into believing something about himself that isn't true.

"Praise," says my dictionary, "is honor rendered for excellence and worth." "Flattery," says the same dictionary, "is the attempt to gratify vanity by artful or deceitful commendation."

Like us, children soon learn to distrust praise that is artful and dishonest. If we insist on praising what is unpraiseworthy, our flattery soon will lose its incentive value to better effort.

What exactly do we do when we credit a youngster with feeling amiable when he feels resentful? I think we invade his right to be himself unforgettably. I think that to try to manipulate a child's emotions by calling his anger love is a form of mental aggression that we cannot possibly justify.

A child who feels anger has a right to his emotion. If we want to help him rid himself of his anger, we should do so honestly and openly, so that he knows what's going on.

We have no right whatever to use psychological or any other kind of tricks on him to try to make him think that he does not feel what he really feels.

If this world could dispose of anger by calling it love, life would be a lot simpler for us all. If we have anger in a child to meet, we should call it by its right name to ourselves and to him.

We do not get rid of anger by pretending that it doesn't exist. We get rid of it by taking the time to prove to our youngster that his anger against us is baseless and unjust.

If we are tempted to try to flatter youngsters into being good, we should remember our own reactions to people who give us unearned praise. Do we trust them? Do we respect their judgment? Or do we write them off as people with some axe of their own to grind?

We should certainly praise every effort of children to show themselves truthful, considerate and just. But flattery then for good intentions that do not exist—and sooner or later, they'll get on to the fact that we're fooling them—and ourselves.

+ Crane News +

CRANE—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Pollock of Corsicana are visiting their niece, Mrs. A. E. Galloway, and other relatives in Crane.

New members of the Crane Lions Club presented Lions pins Tuesday at the regular luncheon program in the Community Hall include Bill Clayton, David F. Powell, Bert Jones and Bill Averitt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Teague and their son visited Gene Halamick in Pecos Sunday. He is hospitalized there following an automobile accident which occurred about four miles east of Pecos.

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Maynard of San Antonio were visitors recently in Crane with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Maynard. They were accompanied to Big Lake by Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Boone. Boone is a former resident of Crane.

R. T. Hubbard has returned from a three-month visit in Colorado with Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kuhrt and other relatives.

The Rev. J. A. Bell, pastor of the Methodist Church, was principal speaker at a recent meeting of the Men's Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

Crane's Clean-Up campaign has been postponed until a more suitable dumping ground can be found, according to Dr. Richard Fielden, campaign chairman.

Holiness Mission Revival Continues

Revival services will continue through next Sunday at The Holiness mission, it has been announced by the pastor, Rev. E. M. Jones. The evangelist is the Rev. Raymond Hart of Dallas.

Mr. Jones will speak in the morning service Sunday and the evangelist will be the evening speaker. Special music is presented in the services.

Wipe up spilled food in a refrigerator right away, because food acids may damage the finish.

If you have an electric coffee maker brew a little baking soda and water in it once in a while, just as you would ordinarily brew coffee; then wash the inside of the coffee maker well. The baking soda solution will help keep the coffee maker free of the flavor of stale coffee.

When you have an egg yolk or two left over use them to thicken a cream cheese sauce to serve over cooked vegetables or fish. The egg yolks give the sauce a luscious yellow color and a delightfully smooth texture.

Mold fresh pear halves in a gelatin base made from fresh lime juice for a fresh-tasting salad. Serve on salad greens with a dressing made from half mayonnaise and half sour cream. Be sure to color the gelatin with a few drops of green food coloring.

Lahoma Page, Ferrill Nixon Exchange Vows In Synder

ANDREWS—In a recent ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Synder, Lahoma Page became the bride of Ferrill Nixon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Page of Synder and formerly of Andrews. Nixon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Nixon of Andrews.

The ceremony was held before an arch decorated with fern and white satin bows and flanked on either side with tall baskets of gladiolus and palm leaves.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length white organza gown styled with a fitted bodice, full skirt and Peter Pan collar. Her cascade bouquet was centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Maid of Honor
Rosemary Stewart of Andrews was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of blue organza styled similar to the bride's and carried a colonial bouquet of pink asters.

Jimmie McAuley of Andrews was the best man.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a white linen suit with black accessories and an orchid corsage. They will be at home in Waco where Nixon is attending Baylor University.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nixon are graduates of Andrews High School. Mrs. Nixon is a graduate of Southeastern State College in Durant, Okla.

Gift Tea Honors Bride-Elect

Lila Stewart, bride-elect of Cecil Matthews, was the honoree Saturday at a gift tea in the Randolph Hill Country Club.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Maddox, Jr. and Mrs. Lee Courso, who assisted the honoree in greeting her guests. A white organza cloth with a white satin inset covered the refreshment table.

The centerpiece, a large colonial nosegay of white carnations, was flanked by smaller nosegays tied to the centerpiece with green streamers. Decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of green and white. Silver and crystal appointments were used on the table.

Mrs. Jim Sourlock and Ruby Millard poured the first hour and Mrs. Paul Reeves and Ruth Bynum the second. Ann Tolbert and Mrs. Nolan Hirsch alternated at the guest register. The honoree wore a corsage of white carnations. Members of the house party wore daisy corsages. Approximately 75 guests attended.

Mann And Adams Exchange Vows

CRANE — In a single ring ceremony recently, Joyce Mann and Curtis L. Adams were married in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church. The Rev. H. D. Christian officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Man of Crane. Adams is the son of Mrs. Frank Adams of Dalton.

For the wedding trip to Denton and Seminole, the bride wore a gray gabardine suit with black accessories.

After the wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Odessa where Adams is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Dedication Stated For Concho Dam

SAN ANGELO—A visitor's tour of the North Concho Dam and Reservoir at San Angelo will highlight dedication ceremonies for the world's longest earthen-filled dam September 16.

Visitors at the ceremonies will be guided on a tour of the seven-mile embankment that cost $16,200,000 to complete as a project of the U. S. Corps of Engineers. Ceremonies will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Congressman O. C. Fisher will be featured speaker at the dedication.

After you add boiling water to instant coffee stir the brew to make sure the coffee will be of even strength.

Those calling for the dance were Jim Daugherty, B. R. Mathews, Vic Reinhold, Mrs. Ed Halfast, Eddie Halfast and H. W. Shaner.

TO VISIT IN LONGVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Douglas, 811 South Weatherford Street, will leave Monday for Longview where they will spend several days visiting relatives. Douglas is employed by the Arrow Drilling Company.

If the set of instructions that comes with your electric cooking equipment states that the appliance needs to be oiled be sure that you oil it. Use special machine oil for the oiling and follow directions as to the amount to be used. Too much oil may be as harmful as too little.

Mrs. Terry Tidwell

Murphy. Mrs. Forbes Pennycook, a former field editor for Charm magazine, will serve as the commentator.

Models will include Mrs. C. R. Gaylord, Mrs. L. S. Peterson, Mrs. George Putnam, Mrs. L. W. Sager, Mrs. Ray E. Hurst and Mrs. Russell Ramsland.

Guests may sign up at the coffee for one of the AAUW study groups. The following groups will be active this year: Garden, Literature, Bridge, Symphonic Music, Piano for Fun, Social Studies, International Relations and the Evaluation of Education.

All college women who are interested in joining AAUW are invited to attend the coffee. No reservations are required. Further information about membership can be obtained by telephoning Mrs. W. H. Ahlers, membership chairman at 4-6977.

Mrs. Earl Johnson is chairman of the social committee. Assisting her are Mrs. Ralph Troesth, Mrs. Loyd Whitley, Mrs. Ramsland and Mrs. Lloyd Mills.

GARDEN ADDITION CLUB TO MEET WITH MRS. GALLE
Mrs. Edgar Galle, 112 West Maiden Lane, will be the hostess at 2 p.m. Wednesday to the Garden Addition Home Demonstration Club in her home.

"Short Cuts in Sewing" will be discussed by Mrs. Pauline McWilliams, county home demonstration agent.

Roll scoops of vanilla ice cream in ground peanuts or almonds; serve with chocolate-peppermint sauce.

Missionary To China Will Speak At PBBA Meeting In Odessa

The Rev. J. W. Stoval, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Odessa, will speak at 11:30 a.m. Monday at the first annual meeting of the Permian Basin Baptist Association for churches of the Southern Baptist Convention. The meeting will be held Monday and Tuesday in the Immanuel Baptist Church in Odessa.

The organization includes approximately 20 churches in Midland and Ector Counties.

The first service is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Monday and the devotional will be given by the Rev. T. M. Harrell, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Odessa. Other topics to be presented in the service will include "Evangelism," by the Rev. J. B. Dolan, pastor of the host church, and "Texas Baptist Benevolent Program" by the Rev. Vernon Shaw of Lubbock.

Dr. Ray To Speak
Reports on associational work of church departments will be given in the service Monday afternoon, scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Willis J. Ray of Phoenix, Ariz., will speak on "Missions in the West." Dr. Ray is the executive secretary of the Arizona Baptist General Convention. A. T. Bryant of Midland, director of music and education for the Calvary Baptist Church, will direct the music Monday afternoon and will be accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Teaff, also of Midland. The service will adjourn at 4 p.m.

The main speakers for the evening service at 7:15 p.m. Monday will be Dr. C. Wade Freeman, superintendent of evangelism for the Baptist General Convention in Texas, and Dr. W. Herschell Ford, pastor of the First Baptist Church in El Paso. Music will be directed by the Rev. J. Q. Woodard, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church in Midland, and the accompanist will be Mrs. Woodard.

Midlander To Speak
The Rev. J. H. Goins of Midland will speak in the morning service Tuesday. Mr. Goins, pastor of the Bellview Baptist Church, will speak on a missionary subject. Also scheduled to speak in the service, which will be conducted at 10 a.m., will be the Rev. H. T. Arnold of San Angelo. His subject will be "Civic Righteousness." Committee reports also will be made.

An executive board meeting and a Women's Missionary Union meeting are planned to be held during the concluding service Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. H. E. Gregory, pastor of the East Side Baptist Church in Odessa, will be in charge of a scripture reading and prayer. The sermon, "World Mission," will be presented by Dr. B. L. Nichols, a missionary to China.

Dr. Nichols was born Oct. 31, 1905 in Milan. He has attended the University of Texas, University of California and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. For more than two years he was an instructor at the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth and also taught for 11 years in the China Baptist Seminary in Shanghai, China.

The missionary pastored for eight years in Baptist churches in Texas. He also is the co-pastor of the Old North Gate Church in Shanghai and now is on leave of absence from the church with which he has been associated since 1947.

The guest speaker was awarded the Cloud-Banner Decoration from the former Chinese government for distinguished service in World War II and is the author of "It Happened in China," a mission study book published in 1948. In 1935, he was "Who's Who in the Clergy of America."

Dr. Nichols, along with his wife and three sons, hopes to be able to return to China within a year. He will be an instructor during the 1961-62 school term at Baylor University in Waco.

Special music will be presented in the services and the host church will serve lunch to guests attending the two-day convention. The public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Samuel Rice King

Hubbard-King Vows Read In Weatherford

In an evening ceremony Saturday in Poston Memorial Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Weatherford, Elizabeth Anne Hubbard of Midland read the bride of Lt. Samuel Rice King.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Arthur Hubbard of Weatherford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. A. A. King of El Paso and the late Colonel King.

Belle Hubbard, sister of the bride, played a program of nuptial music including "Claire de Lune," "Liebestraum," "I Love Thee," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and the traditional processional and recessional marches.

Sister Is Maid of Honor
Dorothy Hubbard, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of ice blue satin, fashioned with a portrait neckline and a bustle back. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white goddess lace over satin. The dress was styled with a yoke of illusion and a basque bodice. Her shoulder length veil fell from a bandeau of flowers. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis on a white ribbon.

Bob Green of Albany was the best man. Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

Schools Listed
Mrs. King is a graduate of Weatherford High School, Weatherford Junior College and Texas Western College. She is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic society, and Beta Sigma Phi.

Lt. King attended New Mexico Military Institute in Roswell and Texas Western College where he served as vice president of the student body. He is affiliated with Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity.

Woman's Club Plans First Meet

The Modern Study Club will be hostess to the Midland Woman's Club at 3 p.m. September 20 in the Nurses' Home at the Midland Memorial Hospital. The announcement was made by Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, Woman's Club program chairman.

Mrs. Richard Harrell, program chairman for the Modern Study Club, announced that her mother, Mrs. Kyle Blackerby of Coleman, will be the guest speaker. In connection with the year's study topic, "Everyday Living," Mrs. Blackerby will speak on the subject "Home and Family."

Mrs. George Kidd, membership chairman, and Mrs. C. H. Shepard, vice chairman, recently extended an invitation to all who would like to join the Woman's Club to attend the meeting.

Unhappy Marriages Due To Misinforming Youth, Expert Says

DETROIT—Many marriages are unhappy today, says a school psychiatrist, because young people have never been told what they're getting into.

Dr. Aloysius S. Church, administrative psychiatrist for the Detroit Board of Education, explained it this way before the 37th National Convention of Catholic Charities here:

"Women have been taught all their lives to think they'll marry a handsome man who will have a steady job and will be able to purchase a home for cash and buy a beautiful car and take an annual vacation with three healthy children."

"Actually, the man that many of them marry will be unable to hold a steady job. He'll be bald, have false teeth and may be an alcoholic. Their children may well be unattractive and have all sorts of illnesses."

Expect Meek Mama
"On the other hand, men anticipate a passionate woman and a meek wife. Actually, half the women who marry are frigid and most of them certainly are not meek."

"A husband learns to expect a good housekeeper, a woman who will attend to his every need and have his pipe and slippers in place each evening. But his wife—nine times out of 10—just won't be like that."

Dr. Church blamed parents and educators, as well as movies and popular novels and magazines, for what he called the "false patterns of thinking."

In Same Way
"All of us," he said, "should feel ourselves being victimized by certain styles of thinking in the same way that we are victimized by styles of dress."

The psychiatrist, consultant to numerous youth agencies and who has worked extensively with the mental and emotional problems of young persons, said the solution is a realization by parents and teachers that they must face sex and marriage realistically.

For instance, he said, a mother should tell her daughter: "Your father and I are having some trouble; he can't hold a job."

"A father should let his son know about some of the problems he will face," Dr. Church added. "And parents and educators alike should make it clear to youth that Hollywood and the magazines don't paint a true picture of marriage."

Have a damp cloth beside you when you're cutting a cake that has lots of soft frosting on it, then wipe the knife clean before each cut. This way you won't get cake crumbs onto the frosting and will have better looking slices.

Golf Association Has Luncheon In Country Club

Mrs. R. E. LeBlond and Mrs. Charles Linehan were hostesses to the Ladies Golf Association luncheon Friday in the Midland Country Club.

The centerpiece on the table was an arrangement of russet, bronze and gold chrysanthemums and huckleberry leaves.

It was announced the ringer tournament will begin Wednesday. It will be held at 9 a.m. Wednesday every week. The Scotch foursomes will be held every third Sunday of each month.

Mrs. Charles Wallace resigned as golf chairman. She will be replaced by Mrs. Roy Lockett.

Mrs. Charles Pierce won the door prize. Guests attending the luncheon were Mrs. Dayton Bliven, Maggie Murphy, Mrs. M. M. Kahn, Mrs. W. O. Ham and Mrs. Harry Hubbard.

Other members present were Mrs. Henry Murphy, Mrs. M. B. Garner, Mrs. Henry Oliver, Mrs. J. C. Welvin, Mrs. Neal Marks, Mrs. Ralph Lowe, Mrs. Duncan Aldridge, Mrs. John L. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Dillard, Mrs. L. C. Wahlenmaier, Mrs. John R. Parker, Mrs. W. L. Meadows, Mrs. P. F. Bridgewater and Mrs. Fred Bauchsens.

Kermit, Wink Seek Airline Service

KERMIT—Application for commercial airline service for Winkler County has been filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board by the cities of Kermit and Wink through the Kermit Chamber of Commerce.

An 84-page brief, designed to show the convenience and necessity of such service, was compiled by the Chamber of Commerce. Officials of the organization have been in consultation with Pioneer Air Lines and other airlines serving West Texas.

The Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been notified a docket number has been assigned, but that it probably will be several months before a hearing on the application is set. The delay is caused by the many applications filed prior to the Kermit-Wink request.

Chris Dutts Will Speak On India

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dutts, natives of India now attending school in the United States, will speak at 3 p.m. Monday in the First Christian Church under the sponsorship of the Christian Woman's Fellowship.

Mrs. Dutts, the daughter of an Indian princess, will speak of her life and what the Christian faith means to her. During the tea and fellowship hour following the program, she will show her native costume and will demonstrate how natives drape the five and one-half yards of material so that only one pin is necessary to fasten it.

The Dutts' parents are of the Hindu religion, although the speakers follow the Christian faith. After completing their education they plan to return to India as Christian workers among their own people.

The Dutts also visited Midland in August when they spoke at the St. Mark's, Asbury and First Methodist Churches. This will be their last speaking engagement before returning to Norman, Okla., for the Fall term at the University of Oklahoma.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. A nursery will be provided.

Just Be Yourself; Don't Let Other People Run Your Life

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Three-year-old Alice was starting off cheerfully to bed when the grown-ups started hurrying her. "Run along, Alice," they chorused. And then sweet-faced, strong-minded little Alice stopped short and made a three word stand for her own dignity. "he said sweetly but firmly: "Don't run ME." Let that be your life's motto, Alice. Remember it when you get to be a bigger girl and the crowd wants you to do something you know you haven't any business doing. Say "don't run me" to yourself—and make up your own mind. Remember it when you are grown up and have a husband and family of your own. Don't let any of them run you—your husband, your children, or your house. Remember it if you are ever tempted to live your life by the patterns other people cut. It's your life. Don't let anyone else run it for you. And then when you are older, remember it still. When your own children come home and try to make over your life and make your decisions for you, throw back your head, look them in the eye and say gently: "Don't run ME." Life's Biggest Battle Keep that for your motto, Alice, and the world and the people in it who are closest to you will never run you. And if they don't you will have won life's biggest battle—to be yourself, to stick to your own standards, to choose the kind of life you want, to decide for yourself what is important and what is not. You're only three now. But if you never forget those words, you will always be Alice—not some misshapen thing the world might make of you. Let those words be your motto and you'll get along. They're wonderful words, spunky words, fighting words: "Don't run ME." (All right reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Bonnie Lou Cron And Lieutenant Wed

McCAMERY — Bonnie Lou Cron of Rockport and Lt. Charles Robert Ruble of McCamey were married Saturday in a ceremony in the Sheridan Road Post Chapel at Ft. Hill, Okla. Chaplain W. C. Johnson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles F. Cron and the late Dr. Fletcher Cron of Rockport. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ruble of McCamey.

Pfc. Donald Austin, organist, played pre-nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches. He accompanied Pfc. William Wilcox who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her brother, Cyril Cron, the bride chose a ballerina length dress of ice blue satin with nylon tulle overskirt. An inset of alençon lace formed a pointed bodice in front and back and a yoke of illusion was edged in the same lace and also formed the cap sleeves. She wore ice blue tulle gauntlets and a half hat of matching blue satin and tulle.

Charlotte Ann Cron attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of pink net with velvet polka dots. The dress featured a boat shaped neckline and puffed sleeves. She wore a Juliet cap of matching pink net and pink net gloves. She carried a colonial nosegay of white carnations with white streamers.

Robert E. Johnson of Fort Worth was the best man.

For the wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the bride wore a charcoal satin suit with rhinestone trim. Her accessories were grey suede and she wore an orchid corsage.

The couple will live at Medicine Park, Okla., while Lt. Ruble is stationed at Fort Hill.

The bride is a graduate of Rockport High School and is a senior at the University of Texas. Lieutenant Ruble is a graduate of McCamey High School and Texas A&M.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Baracosta. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple way to lose belly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of waist don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and thighs, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds

"I was really happy and surprised with the results obtained taking Baracosta," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 214 Bureau St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 18 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds

Mrs. D. C. Baker, Box 21, Bryson, Texas, writes us as follows: "I weighed 115 pounds when I commenced to take Baracosta. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to continue taking it until I am down to 100 pounds. I have several of my friends taking Baracosta and they are losing weight also."

Mrs. Cantrell Transforms Nylon Hose Into Ornaments

NYLON FLOWERS—Mrs. Geneva Cantrell is busy making colorful corsages, ear-screws, chokers and other ornaments out of castoff nylon hose. The flowers are both dainty and durable.

By SUE POWELL

Finding that she has a hose with a runner in it makes Mrs. Geneva Cantrell very happy!

To most women that would be an odd statement. But to Mrs. Cantrell, who lives just outside the southwest city limits of Midland, unwearable nylon hose are stock in trade. Mrs. Cantrell uses these to make artificial flowers which she arranges into corsages, ear-screws, chokers, bracelet sprays, hair ornaments and curtain tie-backs.

One of Mrs. Cantrell's first memories is that of sitting on a low stool beside her grandmother, watching her make crepe-paper flowers. When there was a bit of bright-colored paper or a short piece of wire too small for her grandmother's use, Geneva was given the waste material and with her childish imagination and fingers imitated her grandmother's work. Ever since, she has used her spare time to copy nature artistically in some type of artificial flower.

"I have never found anything quite so adaptable to flower art," says Mrs. Cantrell, "as the nylon filament."

Removes Color
She first removes the color from the stockings. This is an exacting job since the material, while durable in many ways is rather temperamental to heat and dyes. Then she re-dyes the material, keeping on hand a supply of almost every shade, tint and tone of the rainbow. The dye she uses is a fast dye, particularly suited to her work. Like any other nylon product, the flowers can be water-sprayed to remove accumulated dust since everything that goes into their construction is water resistant; the material, the dye, the cement and the wire, which is non-rusting.

The flower petals are mounted on copper wire and leaves of the sprays are made in the same manner. Flower centers are made of contrasting or complementing colors of the nylon rolled and trimmed to make the velvety "daisy-eye" center. The type of material and durable construction of Mrs. Cantrell's flowers make them almost indestructible.

C. Of C. Directors Will Meet Monday
Decisions on several important projects will be made by directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce at their September meeting, scheduled at 4 p.m. Monday in the Private Dining Room of Hotel Scharbauer, President Stanley M. Erskine announced Saturday. A number of committee reports also will be heard.

Erskine urged all directors to attend the session, the first of the Fall season.

If you're using your pressure saucepan for canning it's handy to know that a four-quart cooker will usually hold three or four pints, a six-quart cooker five pint jars.

The Pearl and the Price

Most people know the parable of the "pearl of great price," and the man who sold all that he had to buy it (Matt. 13:46).
Have you ever asked yourself what it meant?
The "price" is our surrender of the addictive human thinking causing our troubles. How to give up these human fears, how to grasp and find freedom would indeed be "the pearl."
The way of this liberating understanding is explained fully in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Whoever will put its statements to the test will find this great Science of Christianity to be demonstrable.

Science and Health may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.

John King Has Subscribed To Midland Newspaper 50 Years

John M. King, Sr., pioneer Midland County farmer-rancher, has been a Reporter-Telegram subscriber a mighty long time.
The 79-year young (he will be 80 September 27), subscriber stopped by the newspaper office Friday to pay his annual subscription bill, commenting he has been making similar calls to Midland newspaper offices about this time each year for some 50 years.

He recalled that the late C. C. Watson, early-day publisher, accepted the cash when he (King) first subscribed to a Midland newspaper. It wasn't The Reporter-Telegram back in those days and the newspaper wasn't a daily. It was a good weekly, though, according to King.

That brought on questions and answers concerning the vast changes which have been brought about in Midland and in its newspaper during the last half century.

Unbelievable Growth
"The growth of Midland and of The Reporter-Telegram has been almost unbelievable," King declared. "But I have been right here and have witnessed it all since I came to Midland 54 years ago, December 1."

"When I stepped off an immigrant train here Dec. 1, 1897, Midland was not much to look at. There was not a foot of cement sidewalk in the town, but there were some scattered board walks."

"The Midland of 1897 boasted two saloons, a combination grocery and dry goods store operated by the late J. H. Barron, father of T. Paul Barron, and the Burton-Lingo Lumber Yard, managed by the late T. S. Wadley, father of Addison Wadley."

King ran for three years following his arrival here, before settling on his own place, a four-section ranch and farm located 10 miles east of Midland. He and Mrs. King have lived there ever since—almost 50 years.

Oil wells now are within two miles of the King place, and the Midland County pioneer says he yet may see a well or two on his ranch. But he is not overly optimistic or enthusiastic about oil production. He has made it a long time without oil.

Oil wells now are within two miles of the King place, and the Midland County pioneer says he yet may see a well or two on his ranch. But he is not overly optimistic or enthusiastic about oil production. He has made it a long time without oil.

King was born Sept. 27, 1871, in Pennsylvania County North Carolina. He came to Texas as a young man, residing for a time at Georgetown where he and Mrs. King were married in 1896. They lived at Ardmore, Okla., before moving to Midland.

The Kings have eight children, 26 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. The sons are Herbert, Lynch, John M. Jr., and Morris all of Midland, and Paul of Houston. Mrs. Mary Jo Collins of Fort Stockton and Mrs. Baswell Rogers and Mrs. Jesse Garrison, both of California, are the daughters.

Dry Weather Question
"How about this dry weather?" King was asked.

"Well," mused the veteran rancher, "I have seen worse drouths. The driest spell I can remember was back in 1916, '17 and '18, when most ranchers in this country had to sell their cattle."

"But it was pretty bad, too, back in 1910. I had to move up around Tahoka this year."

He agreed, however, that it is awfully dry throughout most of West Texas right now. He said Midland County crops this year are practically nil.

King has turned most of his farm and ranch operations over to two of his boys, John M. Jr., and Morris, and he is trying to retire.

Yes, John King has been a Midland County resident a long, long time. He has seen wet years and dry years, good crops and poor crops, fat cattle and lean cattle—and he has seen Midland develop from a small cattle town into the headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire.

And the 50-year Reporter-Telegram reader does not intend to let his newspaper subscription lapse. He is paid-up for another year, anyway.

Safeguard Your Children; Choose Sitter With Care

Realizing the importance of exercising caution in choosing and instructing those who are to care for her youngsters in her absence, this wise young mother (upper left), takes time for a leisurely explanation of important information jotted on blackboard. This insures her against some of the woes with their hurried good-byes to baby and inadequate instructions to too-young sitter. Mature sitter (lower left), devotes her full attention to keeping child safe and happy, while irresponsible girl (lower right) lets infant upstairs cry unheeded while she noisily entertains male caller.

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—Most Americans are pretty careful people when it comes to safeguarding their property. They check their bags when dining, insure their bags when traveling, and burglar-proof their homes against night-time prowlers. But when it comes to their most precious possessions—their children—arrangements are likely to be somewhat hit or miss. Almost any community can cite its own baby-sitter scare story to prove this point.

Extremists, reviewing this sorry situation, are likely to scream "parental negligence," and let it go at that, whereas cynics mutter these things can't be helped as long as mothers and fathers gallivant around.

Product of Modern Living
The National Safety Council, however, takes a broader view. Baby-sitting, they realize, is a product of modern living, since few households today include the elderly aunts or spinster cousins who performed this chore in another era.

Almost any young parents today, if they are to have any freedom of movement at all, must occasionally call in an outsider. Recognizing this necessity, the safety organization instituted a program for helping parents safeguard their offspring in their absence. There are numerous things mothers and fathers can do to take their away-from-home hours out of the crossed-finger division.

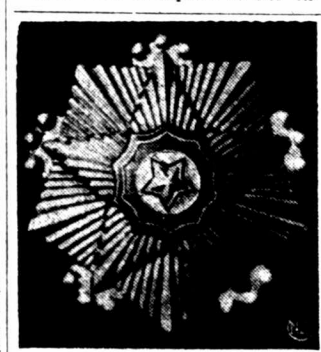

The first rule, of course, is to choose a sitter in whom the parents have confidence. It's best to employ someone you actually know, or someone recommended by a friend whose judgment you respect. Make sure, too, the sitter is old enough, both in years and experience, to respond to the very real responsibility you are imposing on her.

Woodford said a pre-show ticket sale indicates a large crowd of persons in this area will turn out for the exhibition.
Another outstanding quality of this year's exhibition is that two of the outstanding judges in the country will pass judgment on the animals.
Alva Rosenberg of Long Island, N. Y., and Alf Mitchell of Philadelphia, Pa., are the two judges. Judg-

Avoid frantic, last-minute arrangements. The first time a new sitter is engaged, you'll find it pays off to ask her to pay a preview call at your home so that both you and your children may become acquainted with her.
For her first sitting appointment, as well as for subsequent ones, ask her to arrive a few minutes before you're scheduled to leave the house. If you're standing ready with your hat and coat, impatiently tapping your foot, and dash out the minute she enters the front door, you're inviting calamity. It's better to arrive five minutes late for your engagement, than to give your children the feeling you're tossing them into the first arms that present themselves.

Hasty verbal directions, poured out in a flood while she's taking off her coat, will not do the trick. Either have them written out in advance, or jot them down in her presence, explaining exactly what you mean.
Emergency Instructions
A small blackboard, of the type that's kept in many nurseries, is excellent for this purpose. Information should include address and telephone number of your destination, the name and telephone of another responsible adult should she for any reason be unable to reach you there, your doctor's name and telephone number and possibly police and firemen's numbers.

Take time to explain to her exactly what your child's routine is and the way in which you customarily conduct it. Many an infant has refused his supper and gone to bed hungry simply because his mother forgot to mention to the sitter that he refused to eat cereal unless brown sugar was sprinkled on it.
When there's food or medicine to be given, specify amounts. Caution her about the temperature of the formula bottle, and if there's a bath scheduled, tell her about the elbow method of testing the heat of the water.

FOR RED "HEROES"—This silver star decoration, called the "North Korean soldier on the battlefield," awarded by North Korean Premier Kim Il-sung "for meritorious service," the badge carries with it the title "Hero."

Make a point, too, of letting your sitter know exactly what you expect of her. Chances are, you won't approve of her having her current swain calling at your home while she's tending your child. Tell her this is taboo, to forestall any claims she might later make that she didn't realize you'd mind. This should be handled tactfully, however.
Try to put yourself in her place, when you're deciding just what to tell your sitter. Remember, she's a stand-in trying to play, with no rehearsal, a stellar role in your household. It's your job to give her the proper cues.

Miss Eagleton Is B&PW Hostess
McCAMEY—Ethie M. Eagleton was hostess to the Business and Professional Women's Club when it met Monday in her home.
Plans were made for the Bosses' Banquet to be held September 24 in connection with Business Women's Week.
Eunice Tidwell, first vice president, resigned. Mrs. Hattie Ramsey was elected to take her place.
Committee chairmen appointed were Mary Newton, education and vocation; Norma Jean Caldwell, finance; Betty Jane Nibling, health and safety; Ethie M. Eagleton, international relations; Helen Cooper, legislation; Mae Rhea Williams, news service; Ruby Braly, radio and television; Anna Wolf, telephone; Bess Moorman, hospitality; Oquilia Holmes, chairman; Hattie Ramsey, Bertie Parks and Ola Mae Smith, courtesy and flowers.

All-Breed Dog Show Scheduled In County Pavilion At Odessa

Caniines of all shapes, sizes and colors have been entered in the Fifth Annual All-Breed Dog Show which will be held in Odessa September 16, according to George D. Woodford, of Midland, vice president of the sponsoring club.

Forty-four different breeds have been entered in the show, with 351 animals listed to compete.
Sponsored by the West Texas Kennel Club, the show will be held in the County Pavilion in Odessa.

Boredom head the list of entries with a total of 44, followed by others in this order: dachshund, 21; English Bulldog, 18; German shepherd, 17; chow chow, 15; weimeraner, 11. The latter, a hunting dog, is a comparatively new breed in this country. Called "Grey Ghost," this animal of German origin is said to be a very smart hunter.

Among the breeds of dogs entered which are comparatively rare are the French Bulldog, Yorkshire terrier, pug dog and the Golden retriever.

Not Rare Animal
The latter dog is actually not such a rare animal, Woodford explained, but said it is not very common to this part of the country.

Local classes of dogs, featuring animals which are owned by residents living within a 75-mile radius of Odessa, will be a top attraction at the show.

Woodford said a pre-show ticket sale indicates a large crowd of persons in this area will turn out for the exhibition.
Another outstanding quality of this year's exhibition is that two of the outstanding judges in the country will pass judgment on the animals.

Tickets On Sale For Family Fair

Tickets are on sale for the barbecue dinner to be held in the St. Ann's School in connection with the second annual Family Fair. The fair will be held from 5 to 10 p.m. September 29 on the St. Ann's school grounds. The atmosphere will be that of an old-fashioned county fair.

Besides barbecue, hot dogs, cold drinks and games, the booths will include home-made articles, sewing, candy, dolls and doll clothes, cakes, white elephants, used books and a parcel post booth. Movies and turtle races will be featured and there will be a fish pond for the children.

The fair is sponsored by the St. Ann's Altar Society, the Knights of Columbus and the St. Ann's Mothers' Club. Proceeds go to the school. Ray Kelly is general chairman for the fair. He is assisted by Mrs. W. B. Smith, Mrs. Ray Kelly and Walter Beardsley.

Sewing chairmen, Mrs. Thomas Eddleman and Mrs. Charles Turner, have asked that the completed sewing articles be turned in to them soon. Mrs. Vester Collins and Mrs. Fred S. McLaren, parcel post booth chairmen, also have asked to have the packages turned in soon.

The fair is open to the public. Tickets may be purchased from Eddie Flannery at the McClintic Building cigar stand or from Ray Kelly at Habit Cleaners. Francis Hencke is ticket chairman.

Natives Of India To Address Men's Fellowship Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Dutt, natives of India, will be the guest speakers at the September supper meeting of the Christian Men's Fellowship of the First Christian Church at 6:45 p.m. Monday at the church. Officers for 1951-52 also will be elected at the gathering.

The guest speakers will report on personal experiences gained in their work in churches, schools and orphanages in India. Fellowship officials said.

The Dutt's came to the United States separately on scholarships to study in American schools. They met and were married in this country. Mrs. Dutt, the daughter of a Hindu prince, was disinherited at an early age when she was converted to Christianity.

The couple next week will enter Oklahoma University for further study. Upon completion of their studies, they plan to return to India where he will practice medicine, and she will be associated with an orphanage.

All members of the churchmen's group are invited and urged to attend the Monday night meeting.

Kermit Schools Open With All-Time High Enrollment

KERMIT—Kermit schools opened Tuesday with the largest enrollment ever recorded in the history of the school system, according to Supt. G. E. Thompson.

On the second day of classes, a total of 1,647 students had registered. This number, Thompson said, exceeds last year's enrollment at the beginning of school by 115.

The Intermediate School is carrying the heaviest number of students, with 466 enrolled, while Junior High School reported 434. High school students numbered 377, and 351 youngsters were attending the first and second grades. Seventeen students had been listed at the Dunbar School.

Pre-registrations, which were held several days before classes began, were counted at 1,475, and Thompson said the total is expected to reach 1,700 by November 1.

The faculty of the Kermit schools is larger this year than before. Other than the superintendent there are four principals: W. T. Varnell of high school; Irving Clayton of junior high; O. M. Stewart, intermediate; and Mrs. Leta Bundell of the primary school. Gerald McGuire, former high school principal, has been named director of special activities.

The teaching staff is composed of 86 members. In addition a school nurse and a supervisor for the three cafeterias are part of the faculty.

The new $1,000,000 high school building, which originally was scheduled for completion more than a year ago, now is progressing rapidly. School officials now are looking forward to its completion by the Christmas holidays.

Superintendent Thompson also announced a new 60-passenger bus has been purchased and will be used for activities and transportation. A new 48-passenger bus is expected to be delivered soon and will be used for regular transportation of students.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

"In recent columns," writes a Miami fan, "you have tended to urge Canasta players not to meld early from the hand. You stress the importance of holding up your cards instead of melding when you need only 50 points. Is there any situation in which you meld from your hand when you need only 50 points?"

There are several. It is always sound to make the initial meld from your hand when you have a very good play for a fast out. For example, whenever you have two sets of three of a kind (or, better still, four of a kind), with a few wild cards, you have a poor play to win the discard pile.

With this type of hand, meld early to make sure that your partner adds to your melds instead of throwing away his matching cards. One other common situation develops when the opponents need 120 to your 50 points. In this position, the opponents are seldom able or willing to freeze the deck. For one thing, they need their wild cards to make the count. For another, they can afford to lose a small hand but cannot afford to freeze and then lose a huge hand. Hence they will usually suffer in patience if you meld from your hand.

For example, suppose you hold: Joker A-K-Q J-J-J 7-6-5-4-2 You have just drawn a card (that's why you have 12 of them) and it is your turn to decide whether or not to meld. It is good play to meld. Joker-jack-jack, followed by some sort of safe discard.

If the opponents fail to freeze, you have a device and five odd cards. You should be able to win the pack very quickly.

If the opponents freeze, you still have your odd jack. You may develop some more jacks and decide to play for ou. Or you may get the pack later on with a "air of jacks."

Tyler Rose Industry Depends On Tiny Bud No Larger Than Pea

Tyler — Tyler's famous rose industry depends upon a tiny bud the size of a pea.

Were it not for this bud, the roses would be ugly, dwarfed blooms. Also to be credited is the rose budder, a highly skilled specialist. It is he who inserts the buds of fine roses in the hardy "peasant" root stock—plants which otherwise would bear only ugly flowers.

The highly intricate operation, making it possible to grow fine roses on hardy but unlovely root stock, brings good money for the budders. The budders usually work in teams of from three to five men. They are paid from $7.50 to $12 per thousand plants budded. Many have developed their art to such perfection they can bud between 3,000 and 5,000 plants a day.

Goos In Advance

The first man in the team is the "doodler" who goes in advance of the budder clearing the sandy loam away from the main stem. The budder has a knife with a fine edge at one end and a kind of quill at the other. He cuts a vertical slit about an inch long just above the roots of the peasant stock. At the top of this slit he makes a smaller cross slit, forming a T. He then pushes the loosened bark away with his quill and inserts a single bud from a fine rose plant. Another man then ties the bud in place with a piece of special rubber which rots quickly and falls off.

The new bud stays dormant for several months. But the following spring the top of each bush is cut to within an inch of the inserted bud. The result is a strong, well-rooted plant with only one bud to develop into branches and bear gorgeous roses.

The result, over the years, has been a $10,000,000 Texas industry which supplies two-thirds of the more than 30,000,000 rose bushes sold annually in the United States.

Look at the label when you're buying orange marmalade and make sure you get the style you want. It comes with the peel sliced into thin strips, and it also comes "chopped."

Methodist Church To Sponsor Laboratory School

A laboratory school for church school teachers will open Sunday at the First Methodist Church. The school will be sponsored by the church and was recommended by the General Board of Christian Education. It will close Friday.

This will be a teacher-training type of school and will be open to all church school teachers in Midland.

A staff of four workers with outstanding qualifications was selected by the Conference Board of Education. The Rev. U. D. Crosby of Lubbock is executive chairman.

The staff includes Mrs. J. H. Monday of Little Rock, Ark., Mrs. Uel D. Crosby of Lubbock, Northwest Texas Conference director of Children's Work, Mrs. Paul Eppler of Turkey, Texas, and Mrs. R. O. Sory of Corsicana.

From Various Departments

These workers will conduct observations classes in the nursery, kindergarten, primary and junior departments. One children in the observation classes will be from the various departments of the First Methodist Church.

A meeting of all the student teachers and laboratory teachers will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday. Observation classes for nursery and kindergarten followed by an evaluation study will be held from 9 to 12 a.m. Monday. From 4:15 to 1:15 p.m. Monday observation classes for primary and junior departments will be conducted. Evaluation and study for primary and junior departments will be held from 7 to 9 p.m.

This schedule will be followed throughout the week.

E. F. Connor Buys Mid-West Motors From J. O. Hubbard

J. O. Hubbard, veteran Midland automobile dealer, Saturday announced the sale of the Mid-West Motor Company, 107 South Colorado Street, to Eddie F. Connor, well-known Midland resident. The change in ownership is effective immediately.

Hubbard has owned and operated the Mid-West Motor Company the last 11 years, during which time he has held the DeSoto-Plymouth dealership here. He has been in the automobile business here 17 years.

He expressed appreciation to his friends and customers for their patronage through the years. "Serving Midland and area residents has been a pleasure and privilege I never will forget," he stated.

Firm Name Unchanged
The new owner said the firm name will be continued, and that the Mid-West Motor Company will continue as the Midland dealer for DeSoto and Plymouth automobiles.

Connor pledged top-quality, efficient, and friendly and courteous service in both the sales and service departments. He said factory-trained mechanics will continue to be on duty in the firm's service department.

Hubbard said he will continue to make his home in Midland, where he is active in Masonic and civic affairs. He did not announce his future business plans.

OPTIMISTS TO ODESSA

A small delegation of Midland Optimists, headed by President Emil Rasmussen, attended a Zone F meeting Saturday in Odessa. The meeting got underway at 9:30 a.m. and the final business session was held Saturday afternoon.

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1961, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Senator O'Connor says: Crime control now hinges on local officials; Washington cannot solve all the problems.

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by distinguished guest columnist, today's being by Senator Herbert R. O'Connor, chairman, Special Senate committee to investigate organized crime in Interstate commerce.)

WASHINGTON — Out of the investigations and hearings of the Senate Crime Investigation Committee a question of far-reaching importance suggests itself:

Will local enforcement officials arise to their opportunity, as presented by disclosures of crime syndicate operations, etc., to rid their localities, their states and the nation of the octopus-like crime system which is threatening the judicial processes of our country?

Local enforcement must be the reliance of law-abiding citizens. If there is one development which millions of our people do not want to see, it is further encroachment by the federal government upon the local activities and affairs of our communities.

All too much, in recent years, has there been a disposition among states and cities, as well as individuals, to look to Washington for solution of problems which seemed difficult of handling at the local level.

People Are Final Authority

Naturally, therefore, when the Senate committee successively made its disclosures about various phases of criminal operations throughout America, some were ready to tread the path of least resistance and transfer to the central government the job of combatting lawlessness. But as one who always has fought against further intrusion of the federal government into local affairs, and as a former prosecuting attorney, I am convinced the answer to the nation-wide crime problem will be found only in the localities. The people themselves are the final authority in this respect. Only as they demand, and continue to demand, from local enforcement officers honesty and dutiful enforcement of the criminal laws, will the reign of the mobster and the crime syndicates be ended.

It would be very consoling to think there is some one agency to take the job out of the hands of all the millions of people affected and by some magic federal process eliminate the corruption which makes possible the operation of gangsters and racket organizations. But such was not intended to be America's way of handling problems. Moreover, it never would be successful even if the people of America were inclined to seek such a solution. Which they are not!

Cottage cheese, served with a salad, takes to seasoning since it is such a bland food. Mix a little onion juice and finely diced green pepper into it, or mix it with chopped canned pimiento and finely minced parsley. A little sour cream mixed into the cheese also makes it especially delicious.

Thanks A Million ...

My Friends ...

For Everything ...

Having disposed of my automobile business (Mid-West Motors) to Eddie F. Connor, it is with a feeling of humble gratitude that I express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the many friends and patrons it has been my good fortune and privilege to serve during the last 17 years in Midland.

Reflecting back on the happenings, the growth, and the progress of Ever-Growing Midland during the years I have been in the automobile business here, I am more than glad to have had a part in the development of our community, and in serving its fine and progressive citizens.

Yes, there have been many and varied changes and improvements in the garage and automobile business, too, and it always has been our earnest endeavor to keep pace with progress and to provide the very best of service to the residents of this city and section who have honored my firm with their automotive business.

I realize full-well it is utterly impossible for me to express adequately the sincere feeling of gratitude which is in my heart for the wonderful patronage given me by customers and friends—old and new. Serving you has been a marvelous and most enjoyable experience, which I never shall forget.

"Thanks a Million, My Friends, For Everything," is the best I can do in phrasing this message to my fellow Midland citizens. It is not a parting message, however, since I plan to continue my residence here.

And while expressing appreciation to Midlanders and West Texans, I also wish to recommend to them the new owner of Mid-West Motors, Eddie F. Connor, who is a well-known and reliable citizen of this city.

It is my sincere wish that you will continue to give him the same opportunity to serve you that you have given me in the past. The new owner pledges the same high-type of friendly and courteous service we always have attempted to provide.

Thanks and All Best Wishes.

Beauty Salon Opens Here

Formal opening will be held Sunday for one of the modern-equipped beauty salons in West Texas.

It is Damie's House of Beauty at 110 North Garfield Street. Owner-operator is Damie Young Anderson, who has been in Midland since 1945.

The attractive salon, for which equipment was built to order in New York, has five booth compartments, a facial room, drying and manicure room. It is smartly decorated throughout.

Mrs. Anderson, who formerly was in hair-dressing in 1941. She also has won several area and sectional awards.

Assisting her with operation of the salon are Thelma Steele, first operator and assistant manager; Mildred Evans, Ida Lou Conrad and Gene Hinton.

One of the services of Damie's House of Beauty is its "beauty cart" at Midland Memorial Hospital. Beauty salon service can be given in a hospital room from portable equipment.

Mrs. Anderson, who served three years in the WAC with overseas service, studied salon work in France.

HST Plans? Even His Own Brother Doesn't Know 'Em

INDEPENDENCE, MO.—(P)—President Truman's own brother Saturday said he doesn't know whether Truman will seek reelection.

But virtually everyone else among the President's close friends and political associates here are convinced his hat was tossed into the ring with his speech to a San Francisco Democratic Party rally Tuesday.

Among the majority of them, there hasn't been any doubt in weeks. This reporter talked with the President's brother, J. Vivian Truman of nearby Grandview, Mo., who has had several talks with the Chief Executive since he flew in here Wednesday.

"Frankly I don't know whether the President will run," he said. "He hasn't told me."

Retired Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman of Springfield, Mo., the President's first cousin and one of his strongest admirers, said he also is in the dark.

"I do not know," General Truman said. "I do know the President would like to retire to Missouri to devote his full time to the Memorial Library and to visiting with his friends and neighbors."

Public Meeting On Cancer Control Is Scheduled Here

An informative public meeting, with latest information and facts about cancer and how it can be cured, will be presented in Midland October 3.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. in the Nurses Home, Midland Memorial Hospital, and will be a part of the second annual meeting of District 2 of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division.

A physician will discuss cancer from the medical standpoint, describing just what the disease is and how it can be cured. He will emphasize the warning signals which cancer often gives, and the fact that cancer must be detected and removed by proper methods early if it is to be cured.

The meeting was announced by Dr. Roscoe B. G. Cowper of Big Spring. He is district medical director of the American Cancer Society. Cowper said that in addition to the open public meeting, county volunteer leaders of the cancer society will meet in the afternoon to discuss ways to broaden their local activities in the 21 counties which comprise this district.

Physicians from the district are being invited to a special teaching program to be held on the same day under the sponsorship of the Cancer Society. A medical program will be presented by members of the staff of the Baylor University-Jefferson Davis Hospital Tumor Clinic of Houston, which is supported by Texas Cancer Crusade funds and is devoted to the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

Balmorhea Teachers All Have Degrees

BALMORHEA — All members of the Balmorhea school faculty have college degrees this year, and five of them hold master's degrees. Superintendent E. V. Arnett announced.

Classes began Tuesday. Faculty members include Mrs. Ruth Jeffries, low first; Mrs. Madge Bruner, high first; Mrs. Charlene Huffman, second; Miss Louise Brookshier, third; Edward Huffman, fourth; Mrs. Orbie L. Harrison, fifth grade and elementary principal; Mrs. Marjorie LeVasseur, sixth, seventh and eighth grade social studies and English.

Mrs. Tisale Elliott, commercial department; Lloyd Prizzell, math and science; Sydney Turner, English; Al Durbin, high school principal, and Arnett, superintendent.

Absalom Mendenhall will serve as school custodian. Charlene Huffman and Lloyd Prizzell will coach high school girls, while Arnett will coach high school boys.

Saint Is Expected To Visit Singapore

SINGAPORE.—(P)—"The Saint" is expected to pay his first visit in 25 years to Singapore in the near future. So says Dr. S. C. Yin, 75, the father of Leslie Charteris, author of "The Saint" novels.

Dr. Yin said Charteris, who was born in Singapore, was named Leslie Charles Bowyer Yin but "by the time Leslie was 19 he already had adopted the nom-de-plume of Leslie Charteris, and later as a real name." Charteris, 44, now lives in Beverly Hills, Calif. He wrote his first book "Esquire" in Singapore.

Camouflage Works For Veteran Marine Gunnery Sergeant With First Division In Korea

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA —(P)— Good camouflage is designed to fool the enemy but when it confuses a Ma-seeing that his company carried out its camouflage orders that he was a bit lax in placing bits of foliage on his own helmet. The com-

Threats Will Not Free Oatis

The dressing-down given the new Czech ambassador by President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson over the Oatis case was necessary for the record.

Nor should we take too seriously the starchy protest of Dr. Vladimir Prochazka, the Czech envoy, that the Oatis affair is closed and that his government will not yield to pressures of any sort.

It should be obvious that Czechoslovakia's Communist regime will not knuckle under to American threats hurled publicly either by high officials or Congress.

But this does not mean nothing can be done. Note that Prochazka carefully specified that the Oatis case is considered closed from the "judicial point of view."

One thing that undoubtedly helps to explain Czechoslovakia's present obstinacy is our adamant refusal to curb the highly successful propaganda broadcasts from Radio Free Europe near Munich.

They may remember that one concession granted the Hungarians for Vogeler's release was a shutdown of powerful Voice of America broadcasts from Munich.

Some other bait nevertheless may appeal to the Czechs. The vital point to remember now is that the Vogeler talks ultimately were successful because they were secret.

There is utterly no reason to believe it will be any different with Oatis, if there is any hope at all of freeing him. When you're dealing with Communists, it's necessary to remember that bluster begets bluster.

Asylum For Refugees

There are about 200 Baltic refugees in the United States who are in danger of being deported. These people, mostly Estonians and Latvians, have no passports nor any of the other normal proofs of nationality and rightful entry.

For a good reason. They escaped from Russian tyranny in their native lands, and gravely made their way to American shores in tiny boats whose safe navigation called for stirring seamanship.

We in the United States hailed their courage as an example of the will of free men to regain their liberties. But inevitably they came athwart the legal necessities.

Saying only things of importance would mean a great saving of words.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Manly Fleischmann says: Traffic cops are never popular; Distributing scarce materials is necessary; There is a bright side to the picture.

WASHINGTON—The traffic cop's role is not an enviable or popular one—this is true whether the particular officer apprehends the traffic violator or whether, as in my own case, his job is to direct the flow of materials and equipment out of normal peacetime channels into mobilization supporting industry.

The answers to these questions I think are clear: First, such control actions certainly are necessary. Second, nothing whatsoever has happened to our industrial machine except that it is gearing up to produce more important lines than automobiles, radios and home freezers.

The subject is particularly appropriate at this particular time—in fact, painfully so. Last week it was the unpleasant duty of the National Production Authority to announce the distribution of steel, copper and aluminum for the fourth quarter of 1951.

It is not generally appreciated, but it is none the less true, that we have less of the critical materials available for production in 1951 and 1952 than in 1950.

Due to international political and market conditions prevailing in 1951, including the disruption of Far Eastern supplies and the difference between world commodity prices and domestic price ceilings, our importation of many of the most important metals such as copper, lead, zinc and tungsten is far less than in recent years.

Q—When was steam heat introduced in passenger trains? A—In 1881. Passenger cars were greatly improved in 1903 by the introduction of the vapor system of heating.

Q—How are underground telephone cables protected from gophers? A—They are wrapped with steel tape so gophers cannot bite into the lead covering and ruin the cable.

Q—Was slavery first abolished in England or the United States? A—Slavery in the British colonies was abolished Aug. 30, 1833. In 1808 the United States prohibited further importation of slaves, and while this act legally ended the overseas trade, slavery itself continued until after the Civil War.

Q—Who invented the ferris wheel? A—George W. Ferris, 1893.

Q—How did the grapefruit receive its name? A—From the fact that the fruit is borne in clusters like a bunch of grapes.

Q—What is the greatest bottleneck? A—The direct military items are not the largest part of the rearmament job—they represent in fact the one-seventh of the iceberg visible above the water. No nation can produce guns and tanks alone—before these must come the industrial facilities and the machine tools which today are our single greatest bottleneck. And at the same loved suit with the five of spades, since to drop the deuce would tell declarer that he had started with five cards in the suit.

Declarer now led the jack of clubs from dummy, allowing it to ride to West's king. West returned the six of spades (still concealing the deuce), and dummy won with the ace.

West could now lead the jack of spades, and South ruffed with the three of hearts. Declarer next laid down the ace of diamonds, and East chose this moment to throw a monkey wrench into the works.

South thought about this for a while. East apparently had no more diamonds, but there was only one spade out. It seemed that Stayman's remaining cards were K-8-6 of hearts and the missing deuce of spades.

Declarer therefore led his last club and ruffed in dummy. On this trick, however, West discarded his remaining diamond and East over-ruffed with the king of hearts.

Needless to say, the average declarer would have drawn trumps without worrying about the deuce of spades or king of diamonds. And, of course, drawing the trumps would have made the contract.

THE STORY: Holly Dunstun had been planning to return to the States, leaving her job as secretary to the writer Steve Tracy in Latin America, but Carmelita Hernandez, spoiled daughter of a plantation owner, is plainly out to land Steve as a husband and Holly changes her mind about going.

temper with difficulty and wondering what to do next. In the midst of the tableau Steve walked in.

"Holly, I wish you'd—" He saw Carmelita and stopped.

"Miss Hernandez insists on taking your manuscript home with her to read," Holly explained sweetly. "She says that as your future wife, she will translate it into Spanish, and your future father-in-law will see that it is published here and will bring you twice what your New York publisher will pay you. Shall I let her have it?"

Steve strode toward the desk, and Holly saw that Carmelita was more than half afraid. "It's an attractive offer," he said, "but I'm afraid Miss Hernandez isn't fully aware of what she is saying. Give me the manuscript, Carmelita, she snapped.

Carmelita handed it over, meekly. "Now," he said, gesturing toward the door, "don't ever come in here unless I bring you in—and you should live so long!"

SO Holly didn't reserve passage on the returning banana boat at all. Instead of being on board awaiting departure, she was attending the dance given by the American Club for the tourists who had come ashore to see the town. It was old stuff to Ray and Elsa Porter, but thrilling and ex-

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Allied Delegates Puzzled By Soviet Case At Frisco

By PETER EDSON

SAN FRANCISCO—Having shot their first wads, and missed the three Communist countries at the Japanese peace conference here still are just as much of an enigma as they ever were.

The Chinese Communists should feel considerably let down over the weak presentation of their interests, according to one American official's point of view.

Communist delegates offered only loken resistance to conference rules. It had been expected the battle over adoption of rules would take a day and a half. While this mere skirmish was going on, Ambassador John Foster Dulles, designer of the treaty, sat slouched in his center aisle opera house seat.

There was great temptation Friday to feel the conference was as good as over. There was some feeling that Russia was putting up only half-hearted resistance.

What the Russian stand at San Francisco did seem to reveal was that the Communists are greatly alarmed by developments in the Far East. Without going into all the technical ties which Gromyko slipped into his speech, these Communist fears stand out: Soviet Russia and Red China want freedom to trade with Japan. They want Japanese industrial production to serve their economy, not the anti-Communist countries.

Soviet Russia wants Japan completely demilitarized so that it will be helpless against Communist aggression by military force. Russia wants all allied forces removed from the Far East. Gromyko made this proposal in the name of furthering peace in the Far East. It really would pave the way for another war in that area.

There was some feeling that Russia was putting up only half-hearted resistance. There was some hope that Russia would do the unexpected, switch and sign. The U. S. congressional and diplomatic team was not allowing itself to be lulled to sleep in a false sense of security by this rosy prospect.

What the Russian stand at San Francisco did seem to reveal was that the Communists are greatly alarmed by developments in the Far East. Without going into all the technical ties which Gromyko

1 Diamond Pass 1 Spade Pass 2 Diamonds Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-8-7, Hearts Q-J-4, Diamonds Q-7-2, Clubs J-10-5. What do you do? A—Bid two no-trump. You have slightly better than average strength, so your hand is worth two responses. Your second bid must indicate the balanced distribution and over-all strength. Your club stopper is very sketchy, to be sure, but you can't always have a sure stopper in each suit. It's better to take a chance on the clubs than to make some unnatural bid at this point.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-8-7-3, Hearts Q-J-4, Diamonds Q-7-2, Clubs A-J. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

Have a Laugh

A diner pointed at a fish and said, "Long time no sea."

A motorcycle officer halted a motorist and asked, "Why are you driving so fast?" The driver explained, "My brakes are bad and I'm hurrying to get home before I have an accident."

Later, while Holly was dancing with Ray, he told her about Jose. "He's the local chief of police," he explained. "Papa Hernandez's choice for son-in-law, and until Steve appeared on the scene, I'd say Carmelita's choice too. See that heavy-set, middle-aged man over there, dancing with the tourist in the blue dress? He's Diego Vegas. He won the last election, but Hernandez was strong enough to put his own man in, even so."

"Oh, yes," Holly looked at him with interest. Both played a large part in the article Steve had dictated about the political situation, but she hadn't expected to meet them in person. Jose was handsome in a Latin way with self-assurance amounting to conceit written all over him. Vegas was a 20-year older edition of Jose and had probably looked much like him before he permitted rich living to make him fat.

LATER in the evening Holly danced with Jose, remembering that Steve had referred to him in his political article as "conscientious and avicious, riding to power on the wave of Hernandez's gold." He knew just enough English to get by—enough to tell her how beautiful her hair was, and how blue her eyes, and how red her lips.

At the end of their dance, Jose whisked her through the door to the patio, enclosed by a hedge of hibiscus. It was quiet and beautiful under the tropical moon. A fountain played, and in one corner a broadfruit tree made an irregular patch of black velvet shadow. Above them the fronds of a royal palm like an enormous feather duster were swirring in the breeze and trying to sweep the star dust out of the sky.

Jose's hand touched her hair. "It is beautiful, your hair," he whispered. "You too are beautiful, Amapola del Norte." (To Be Continued)

Another Service Added By Church

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation

Gone from modern Japan is the coolie system, the ruthless exploitation of human labor by tyrannical overlords. Under the Trade Union Law passed by the Jap Diet in 1945, which freed 2,500,000 coolies, Japanese workers were guaranteed the right to organize, bargain collectively and strike for the first time in the nation's history.

But the birth pains of Japan's trade unionism were violent ones. By 1946, two power factions, the General Federation of Trade Unions and the Red-dominated National Congress of Industrial Unions—each a million strong—fought for power. Enlightened members of the NCUI formed a third organization in 1949, envisaged by Red tactics that included assassination.

Communist labor's acts of terrorism prompted Democrats and Democrat Liberals in the Jap Diet to investigate the Communist Party proper. As a result of the inquiry and the outbreak of the Korean War, Gen. Douglas MacArthur dealt a death blow to the party's 3,000,000 members by ordering Red publications banned and party bigwigs seized.

Illustrated by Ralph Lane

As important as SCAP's removal of levies from communism from the labor scene has been the passage of a workmen's compensation law providing benefits for industrial accident victims. Unemployment insurance and other legislation has further helped to make Japan's 7,000,000 union members the nation's most politically-conscious class. Their role in Japan's future cannot be underestimated.

1,860 Enroll In Pecos Schools

PECOS—Supt. Ray Whitely reported a total of 1,860 students had enrolled in Pecos schools, representing almost a 20 per cent increase over the first-day enrollment figure of 1950. Schools opened Wednesday.

But Whitely predicted enrollment eventually will reach a peak of about 2,400 students.

Last year, 1,543 students had registered on the first day, and the year's peak enrollment was 2,047, Whitely declared.

Largest high school group this year is the freshman class, with 102 students, compared to 85 sophomores, 80 juniors and 48 seniors.

Pecos Quarterback Club To Present Minstrel Tuesday

PECOS—Residents were told last week by Chamber of Commerce Manager Alton Hughes not to be alarmed if they discovered their friends singing "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," or "Go Down, Moses."

"Chances are they're practicing for the second annual minstrel scheduled to be presented by the Quarterback club Tuesday night."

The cast includes Jack Hawkins as the interloper, Dan Peyton as Sweetpea, Don Mouser as Putnie, Cecil Jones as Mush-mouth, Mitford Johnson as Hallucination, Joe Hagar as Smokey, and David DeWitt as Snowball.

Men of the chorus will be Ruthie Thomas, Martha Holmes, Mary Lou Pointer, Ellen Jane Maria, Faye Hammett, Beverly Cothrun, Margene Hannon, Delpha Lauderdale and Sandra Townley.

Specialty numbers will include Ruthie Thomas singing "After You've Gone," and "Amen." Martha Holmes vocalizing on "A Good Man is Hard to Find," and "A Sixty-Minute Man."

Proceeds will go to support the high school football team.

Polio Cure Center Got Its Beginning From Hunt For Oil

GONZALES—(AP)—It started in a search for oil. Now it is a haven for the crippled children of Texas.

It was in 1909 that men drilled for oil in the hill 12 miles north of this South Texas city. Instead of oil they struck water—hot, gushing water.

Nestled around the artesian well now is the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for crippled children. White, brown, or black, the children come across the great distances of Texas.

No child is turned away for lack of money, because of religion or because of his color. To that there is one exception: school-age negro children are not admitted.

Whatever the crippled child needs he finds here. There is medical treatment, including hot-water therapy in water from the still-flowing warm springs. There is recreational therapy, vocational rehabilitation, braces for his stricken limbs and prayer. Above all, there is a pervading conviction that misfortune will be surmounted.

The men who came hoping to find oil in 1909 soon left when hot water spewed from their well. The flowing well was boxed in after a time and people came in after a time, suspecting the water might have some curative value. Doctors are convinced the hot water here has no more curative value than any other hot water.

Idea Is Conceived
But in 1937 three Gonzales men conceived the idea of a treatment center for the crippled children of Texas. They are Rosa Boothe, Henry Reese III and Joseph Grant.

At that time the Georgia Warm Springs had attracted national attention, largely because of President Roosevelt's connection there. The climate there, the warm springs and adjacent recreation area all suggested a similar institution for Texas. The three men founded the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation the same year.

Boothe now is president of the foundation, a non-profit, non-sectarian charitable corporation chartered under Texas law. Reese and Grant are members of the executive committee of the foundation's governing body.

Most of the patient's are young polio victims. But there are children crippled by other misfortunes, and even a few adults.

More Than 100 Patients
Admission depends solely on availability of bed space and on whether the patient will benefit from the treatment program, as determined by foundation physicians. There are more than 100 patients here now—close to capacity.

State law prohibits negro children from attending school with whites. The children's education must continue while they are under treatment at the foundation, and school facilities are there. But there are no duplicate facilities to care for school-age negro children. Younger negro children are admitted and get the same care as whites.

There are five large buildings at the foundation, nestled near the banks of the San Marcos River, and adjoining the Gonzales-Palmetto State Park. A paved road leads to the foundation from nearby State Highway 29.

Three More Erected
The first building, called the Gonzales Unit, was ready for patients in 1941. Late in 1947, three more buildings were erected and furnished. Two are named after the cities whose citizens contributed the necessary money: the Fort Worth Unit and the Houston Unit. The third 1947 addition is the Wheel Chair Chapel, donated by Mrs. Margaret Cullen Marshall and Mrs. Wilhelmina Cullen Robertson, daughters of Houston oil man H. R. Cullen.

Patients are financed in several ways. Many polio cases are sponsored by local chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, with March of Dimes funds. Others are paid by insurance policies. Some families pay only that part of the cost which they can; the rest comes from the Foundation's welfare fund, made possible by generous Texans. Sometimes all expenses come from the welfare fund.

The foundation's schools are a fully accredited part of the Texas school system. Grades one through 12 are taught. The youngsters are encouraged by the fact they can rejoin their classmates without loss of grade.

Architecture Conforms
There is a conscious effort to avoid the air of an institution. Even the architecture conforms. The air-conditioned buildings are Spanish in style, with white stucco walls and gray red tile roofs. Landscaping is attractive. With its shady lawns and flowering shrubs, the foundation seems more like a friendly and cheerful country estate than anything else.

The warm springs still flow more than 200,000 gallons of warm water daily, to both indoor and outdoor pools. The water is about 106 degrees—quite warm. There are 10 to 15 physical therapists, and from 15 to 20 registered nurses, on hand at all times. The nurses and some of the doctors live at the foundation in attractive but small homes.

Between 1919 and 1939 residential building construction followed regular cycles, reaching a peak approximately every 33 months.

Original Patent To Land Returned

VICTORIA—(AP)—The original patent to four leagues of land granted to the city of Victoria by the republic of Texas is back in the Victoria City Hall after an absence of 103 years.

The patent, bearing the signature of President Sam Houston, was taken to Jackson County as an exhibit in a law suit in 1864.

When it was discovered there, district judge Howard P. Green ordered a photostatic copy made for the Jackson County Court records and had the original presented to Victoria.

The patent is dated 1841 and covers essentially the same area included in Martin DeLeon's colony. DeLeon founded the town of Victoria in 1824 as the capital of his colony. It was named Guadalupe Victoria in honor of the first president of Mexico.

The palace of the Egyptian pharaoh, Amenhotep IV, built about 1365 B. C., had walls of glazed tile decorated with daisies and thistles.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Stardust

Once upon a time in the Great Forest far away and long ago, a play-like witch decided she would fly away on her broom to a school for witches. She wanted to be a Hal-lowe'en witch.

Before this play-like witch flew away, however, she called Daddy Ringtail to her, and said: "Daddy Ringtail, you are the friendliest, happiest monkey in all the world or any place else. Now I want to give you a box of something that will

But the Huffen said he didn't care if the stardust did disappear, just as long as he got to see it first. And he begged and begged to see it, and the begging was a lot of trouble—just as the witch had said the trouble would come if anyone knew about the stardust. And the Huffen begged and begged, and made himself trouble, until at last Daddy Ringtail let him open the box. Puff! A puff of smoke, and the box was empty, and the Huffen hadn't seen and stardust at all.

But it all happened the way Daddy Ringtail had decided it all ought to happen. The box was open and empty at last where it couldn't cause trouble any more. Happy day! Happy end to troublous troubles. (Copyright 1961, General Features Corp.)

surely cause trouble if people know you have it. If no one knows you have it, it won't cause any trouble at all. And what do I give you in this little box? I give you a pinch of stardust from far away and up in the sky.

The witch put the little box in Daddy Ringtail's hand. She whispered a few words to him. And then she vanished in a puff of smoke and was gone away forever.

"Humph!" said Daddy Ringtail to himself. "So I have a pinch of stardust here in the box and if I don't tell any one I have it, it won't cause trouble. Well, I must tell no one."

But from the bushes nearby a voice said: "You don't have to tell me, you don't, because I was hiding here and heard it." And out from the bushes came the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, smiling a happy, friendly smile. "I want to open the box, I do, and see the stardust there inside."

"Oh, but Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "the old witch whispered to me how the stardust will disappear with a puff of smoke, if any-one ever tries to see it."

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The Midland Livestock Auction Company sale here Thursday experienced a busy day and a steady to strong market as 1,083 head of livestock went through the ring. Most stocker calves and yearlings were $1 to $2 higher than the week previous. Stocker steer calves were bid from $35 to $41 cwt.; steer yearlings, $32.50 to $36; heifer calves, $23 to $27; heifer yearlings, $29 to $33; cows, $20 to $23; cows and calves by pairs, $200 to $285. Fat calves and yearlings went at $32 to $35; mediums, $28 to $32; commons and culls, $24 to $28; fat cows, $23 to $25.50; mediums, $19 to $23; commons and culls, $13 to $18. Bulls brought $23 to $27. One group of registered Hereford heifers, averaging 420 pounds, brought $225 per head. Out-of-state buyers were present from Nebraska, Kansas, Georgia, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Leonard Proctor, looking up at the cloudless skies, said Friday morning he never has seen it any drier than it is right now. And Leonard has been in these parts a long time. He said range conditions are pitiful on his extensive ranch holdings south and southeast of Midland. Sheep, he said, are doing pretty well right now, with supplemental feeding, but he hates to think of going into a cold winter with range conditions as they are now. "The Midland rancher is of the opinion good, soaking rains will have to fall pretty quick if grass is to have a chance before cold weather sets in. "It sure is dry," he moaned.

Calf selling time is in progress from the Mexican border through this section of West Texas and on into New Mexico, and reports indicate the producers are doing all right in so far as prices are concerned. The prices, according to reports, range between 35 and 40 cents, with most of them being nearer the 40 cent figure. A few top calves have topped the 40 cent mark. The demand for both stocker and feeder cattle continues strong and active throughout the Southwest.

The sheep market also is strong, with some lambs desirable as replacements in breeding flocks selling as high as 33, 34 and 35 cents a pound. Feeder mutton lambs are said to be bringing around 30 cents.

County Farm Bureau leaders from this area will gather in Big Spring Friday for a sub-district meeting. This is one of 24 such sessions being conducted throughout the state by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation during September. In attendance will be Federation President J. Walter Hammond and State Field Representative Leon Lane.

C. H. Devaney of Coahoma, state director for this district will preside. The all-day meeting will be held in the Settles Hotel, beginning at 10 a.m.

Purpose of the sub-district conferences is to give officials of the state organization an opportunity to confer with county leaders on present day issues affecting agriculture. Hammond will discuss the organization's program of work this year and the responsibilities of local leaders. Lane will present the enrollment plan which has been developed by the state organization and recommended to counties for use in their annual membership enrollment drives scheduled October 11-18.

Texas' own Original Prison Rodeo, where the toughest riders mount the toughest stock, will open in Prison Stadium in Huntsville October 7 this year. The 20th of the series, the 1951 show promises to be the biggest and best yet, and ticket sales and reservations by mail or wire already are being accepted, sponsors said.

The world famous rodeo pits cowboys against livestock owned by the Texas Prison System and has earned the name of "the world's wildest rodeo." More than 100,000 persons have paid to see this show on October Sundays in past years. When the rodeo starts with the Mad Scramble, the show's most dangerous event, the two hours that follow are jam-packed with saddle and bareback bronc riding; bull riding; wild horse racing; mule racing and the riotous Chariot Race.

The official premium list and program for the 34th annual Panhandle-South Plains Fair at Lubbock is ready for distribution, fair officials announced.

The catalog contains more pages this year due to several new divisions and increased premiums in some divisions. Catalogs are mailed each year to all county agents, home demonstration agents, newspapers and banks in the area, but "anyone who wants a catalog" can get one by writing the fair association, Homer E. Hunt, fair president, said.

Results of cotton defoliation tests conducted on experimental plots and in commercial fields at Lubbock in 1950 were released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

H. Bred, Stormproof No. 1, and Deltapine (TFS) were the most easily defoliated varieties in this test, in which Aero Cyanamid, special grade, defoliant was used, reported E. L. Thaxton, Jr., junior agronomist at the Lubbock Experiment Station.

In the test with three rates of several different chemical defoliants, best results were obtained with Sodium cyanamid at 10 pounds per acre and Shed-a-Leaf at seven pounds.

Six commercial defoliants were applied on a uniform field of cotton under the direction of a representative of each chemical company. The chlorate-based defoliants gave the best results for total defoliation in this test.

Thaxton reported at least 30 gallons of spray solution per acre were necessary to eliminate dry burn in a test on the best spray concentration.

Complete results of these experiments are given in Progress Report 1382, which is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

The 1952 Maid of Cotton contest is officially open, the National Cotton Council has announced.

The fourteenth annual search to find a fashion and goodwill ambassador for King Cotton will encompass the 18 states of the cotton-producing region. Winner of the contest will make a glamorous six-month tour in behalf of the U. S. cotton industry.

The contest is open to girls between the ages of 19-25 inclusive, who were born in a cotton-producing state, have never been married, and who are at least five feet five inches tall.

All entries must be postmarked before the contest deadline, midnight December 1. Entry blanks are available from the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tenn.

A preliminary judging committee will select approximately 20 finalists to come to Memphis January 2-3 for personal interviews and a public appearance. Girls will be judged on the basis of beauty, background, and personality. The 1951 Maid of Cotton will be announced January 3.

For the good of the soil, as well as preventing the loss of grazing crops, it is the obligation of everyone to help prevent destructive fires during the current drought emergency. All available range and pasture grasses and legumes are badly needed now for livestock feed, says A. W. Crain, associate extension pasture specialist of Texas A&M

College. In addition, he emphasized need of protecting the soil.

A vegetative cover, points out Crain, is protection against soil erosion. It forms a cushion to absorb the beating and washing from heavy, driving rains. This cushion or mulch also absorbs moisture very rapidly and allows for deeper moisture penetration into the soil. This residue of vegetation also replaces deficient organic matter which Crain says, is common to most Texas soils. The addition of organic matter helps to improve the physical and chemical condition of the soil and if this cover is lost by fire, the soil as well as the livestock suffer.

Crain urges that in areas where there still is a good vegetative cover, every possible means be used to keep out fires. He adds serious erosion losses, from wind and water, can occur where large areas are burned over.

He says there is no practical way to police the pastures and range lands of the state but urges every citizen to make it his business to see that the already short supply of forage is protected. Many stockmen already have been forced to sell a part or all of their livestock and this, in the months ahead, will have its effect upon the meat supply of the nation. It doesn't make any difference whether you live in the city or country, he says you still have a stake in preventing grass fires. So, for the sake of the soil, and to preserve the short supply of livestock feed and to insure a good growth of grasses and legumes when the rains do come, let's do our bit to prevent needless fires, says Crain.

Mexico Good Place To Live, But It's Not Easy Or Cheap

MEXICO CITY—(P)—Have you ever thought of coming to Mexico when you retire to live on your income?

The United States embassy says the number of Americans thinking about it has tripled in the last year. There are many requests the embassy has prepared a special circular on Mexican immigration laws.

Settling in Mexico is not easy and life here is not cheap, but it is cheaper than in most of the United States. You have to adjust yourself to a lot of things.

Many Americans like Mexico City best—it has good stores and theaters and climate. But some doctors say its 7,500-foot altitude is bad for persons with heart ailments.

Living outside the capital is somewhat cheaper. Guadalajara has a good climate and is only 5,000 feet high. A lot of Americans live in Cuernavaca, one of the most beautiful towns in the country—altitude 5,000 feet.

There are other pleasant small towns—Taxco, Oaxaca, Puebla among others.

$50 Rent Minimum
Rents range from about $50 a month up to whatever you want to pay for a furnished apartment. The $50 a month apartment may be dark, its halls smell of cooking, the walls may be scaling. You heat your own water in a little woodburning "rapido."

On the other hand: Your apartment would have a room for a servant. You could get one for as little as $10 a month, a good one for $20. In either case she would not know English but she'll help you learn Spanish.

In many towns you would have a dry, mild climate which lets you sit outdoors some 350 days of the year. The sun shines all day during the winter. The summer is the rainy season. Mexicans usually are friendly to foreigners. Food for an elderly couple with one servant can be as little as $50 a month but the cost of living here is going up and a $50 food budget gives no leeway for luxuries. Restaurant meals cost from $1 to the pocketbook's limit.

Bottled gas for the cook stove costs $1 a month in a cheap apartment. Electricity would be about $2, a telephone (if you are lucky enough to get one) $2 more. Movies are about 60 cents U. S. and a fairly good man's suit of Mexican material $40.

Wool Clothing Costlier
For women, some cotton clothes are cheaper, but most wool is more expensive. Mexico and U. S. women have different proportions and some ready made clothes do not fit foreigners.

Permanent residents and tourists live on different scales. There is a definite "tourist track" where hotels are good, transportation is admirable and everybody speaks English. Off the track, things are cheaper but living is harder. Lots of Americans prefer it.

U. S. citizens who come to Mexico to live indefinitely still can receive Social Security old age pensions and income from real estate, stocks and other property they own in the U. S. They may have to pay some U. S. income taxes.

Persons coming to Mexico to retire should not count on eking out pensions by part-time work. Mexican laws are very strict about permitting foreigners to work. Violation carries the penalty of fine and expulsion from the country under guard.

Must Be Outstanding
A fair possibility for working might be in the case of a retired teacher whose specialty is not taught in Mexico. Even so the teacher would have to have "marked proficiency" in this specialty.

The simplest way to come in is as a tourist. Any Mexican consulate gives a tourist card without delay for $3. Tourists can do anything except work. However, the card is only good for six months and cannot be renewed. The holder must go to the border, leave the country and return on a new card.

The trip to the border from Mexico City, necessary twice a year, would cost at least $50 per person. Living in Mexico on an expired tourist card can run into money—the fine is 10 pesos (about $1.15) for every day over six months.

Immigration papers, good for an indefinite stay, are harder to get. It takes from two to six months and they are fairly expensive. The government fees are 800 pesos (about $138) for the original papers. Law-years' fees and annual renewal fees run about $300 a year. After five years the immigrant pays another $200 pesos ($23) for permanent papers.

The simplest form is an "income immigrant." He must prove he has a regular monthly income of at least $115, plus $65 more for each dependent member of his family. Otherwise the immigrant may deposit $7,000 in a Mexican bank. This qualifies him as an immigrant and the money can be withdrawn at the rate of $115 a month.

The immigrant may come as an investor but must show he has at least $46,000 available to invest if he wants to live in Mexico City, or $23,000 if he wants to live in the provinces. He must post 10 per cent of this as a bond which is forfeited if he does not make the investment within five years.

Permanent immigrant papers, given after five years, give greater freedom. The immigrant can work and go in and out of the country without a visa. The permanent status does not affect U. S. citizenship but he can only remain out of Mexico 18 months at a time without losing the permanent status.

The President's flag consists of the President's seal in bronze on a blue background with a large white star in each corner.
