Magnolia Is Running Casing To Devonian In NE Lea Wildcat

Magnolia Petroleum Company is running seven-inch casing to total depth of 12,130 feet in the Devonian at its No. 1-B Santa Fe wildcat in Northeast Lea County, and the same operator is coring ahead after finding additional pay in its No. 1 Black wildcat in East-Central Lea County.

The Northeast Lea test, one and one-half miles west of the Crossroads multipay field, topped the Devonian at 12,130 feet. No elevation was reported. After pipe is set on bottom operators will continue to drill ahead to the expected Devonian pay.

The two feet of Devonian already cut has not been tested, but operator says the structural position is favorable for an oil well.

No. 1-B Santa Fe is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 29-9s-36e.

Magnolia No. 1 Black, five and one-half miles northeast of Loving and nine miles west of the Denton-multipay field, is coring below 10,360 feet in the Permian-Pennsylvanian lime after a drillstem test from 10,283 to 10,337 feet. Operator used a 1,410-foot water blanket. Recovery was the water blanket cut with oil and gas and 330 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 9-15s-36e.

SW Borden Wildcat Has Show Of Oil In Pennsylvanian Reef

Jackson, Douglas & Ritchie of Midland No. 1 W. E. Murphy, Pennsylvanian reef wildcat in Southeast Borden County is at total depth of 6,945 feet in lime and is circulating for a drillstem test.

The reef was topped at 6,935 feet. Datum is minus 4,568 feet.

A drillstem test was taken from 6,800 to 6,945 feet with the tool open one hour.

Has Gas And Oil

Recovery was 120 feet of gas in the drilpipe, 30 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 30 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud with some free oil. There was no water.

Operators will take another test over the same interval.

Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 22, block 25, H&TC survey and 18 miles southwest of Snyder.

The closest reef production is 7,480 feet to the southeast and in the Reinecke field.

Phillips Schedules Long SW Outpost To C-S Andrews Opener

Phillips Petroleum Company has staked location for a southwest outpost to the recently completed Kerr-McGee Oil Industries No. 1-B-11-23 University, a discovery from the Wolfcamp sand in Central-South Andrews County. It is No. 1-DD Texas University.

The Phillips tester will be 4,066 feet southwest of the new field opener and 2,002 feet from south and 2,033 feet from east lines of section 22, block 11, University lands survey.

It will operate under permit to 8,600 feet. That destination should allow for a test of the entire Wolfcamp section.

No. 1-B-11-23 University was completed through perforations in casing, opposite a Wolfcamp sand, at 7,956-7,970 feet.

Union Prospector In SE Gaines Gels Good Oil, Gas Signs

Union Oil Company of California No. 2 T. C. Weitzer, Southwest Gaines County wildcat, eight miles southeast of Hobbs, N. M., has indicated the possibilities of making an oil and gas producer and is coring for a discovery from the Clear Fork-Permian.

The prospector, located 1,866 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 16, block A-12, psi survey, topped the Clear Fork pay at 7,108 feet, on an elevation of 3,584 feet.

A drillstem test was run at 7,104-7,128 feet. The tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in two minutes. Mud and oil started spraying at the top in 25 minutes and continued to spray for the remainder of the period.

There Was No Water

Details on the amount of fluid recovered on the pull out of the tester have not been reported. However, there was no formation water.

The project deepened to 7,144 feet. (Continued On Page Five)

Three Killed In Highway Collision

Russian-Type Rockets Fired At UN Forces

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA—(P)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in World War II have landed behind Allied lines on the east central front, it was reported officially Monday.

There was speculation they might have been brought to Korea by Communist Caucasian troops, recently reported near the battlefield.

No Allied installation was hit. Official sources refused to disclose the number of rockets that landed.

In the air war, 30 American F-85 Sabre jets tangled with 80 Russian-type MIG-15's over Northwest Korea in one of history's biggest jet battles. Two Communist planes were damaged.

It was the second jet battle in two days. Sunday, the Allies shot down two MIG's and damaged another. There were no Allied losses in either scrap.

Army sources said Monday night they have reliable but not conclusive evidence that Russian pilots have been flying some of the MIG's in battles against the United Nations. Some rockets, to be effective, must blanket an area. It is possible those which landed on the east central front were fired accidentally. They apparently were not aimed at any specific target. Reports indicated only a small number were fired.

One Identified Definitely

Eight Army officers refused to say whether they could have been launched from a Communist plane. At least one rocket was identified definitely as being of the size used by the Red Army against the Germans.

The missiles are erratic, but awesome when fired in barrages. They are launched by skilled hand, which indicated they may be part of the arms to be used by the Red's Caucasian troops if and when they are thrown into battle.

No Second Winter For GI's In Korea, Says Army's Boss

WASHINGTON—(P)—All U. S. soldiers who fought in Korea last Winter must be brought home "before this coming Winter," the Army chief of staff said Monday.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins made the statement in a letter to Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho), who had protested against Army plans to use Idaho National Guardsmen as combat replacements.

Collins said "there is no satisfactory alternative" but to depend upon guardsmen now in federal service to help meet "a pressing manpower problem."

"The overriding need is the requirement for rotation of men from overseas, including the rotation before this coming Winter of all personnel who endured the bitter combat conditions in Korea last Winter."

"This situation alone is currently requiring replacement of some 30,000 men and officers each month."

District Court Jury Selected, Dismissed

A jury was selected from an 80-man venire in 70th District Court but no cases were tried Monday.

The jury was dismissed to report at 9 a. m. Tuesday. The case it will hear had not been designated Monday.

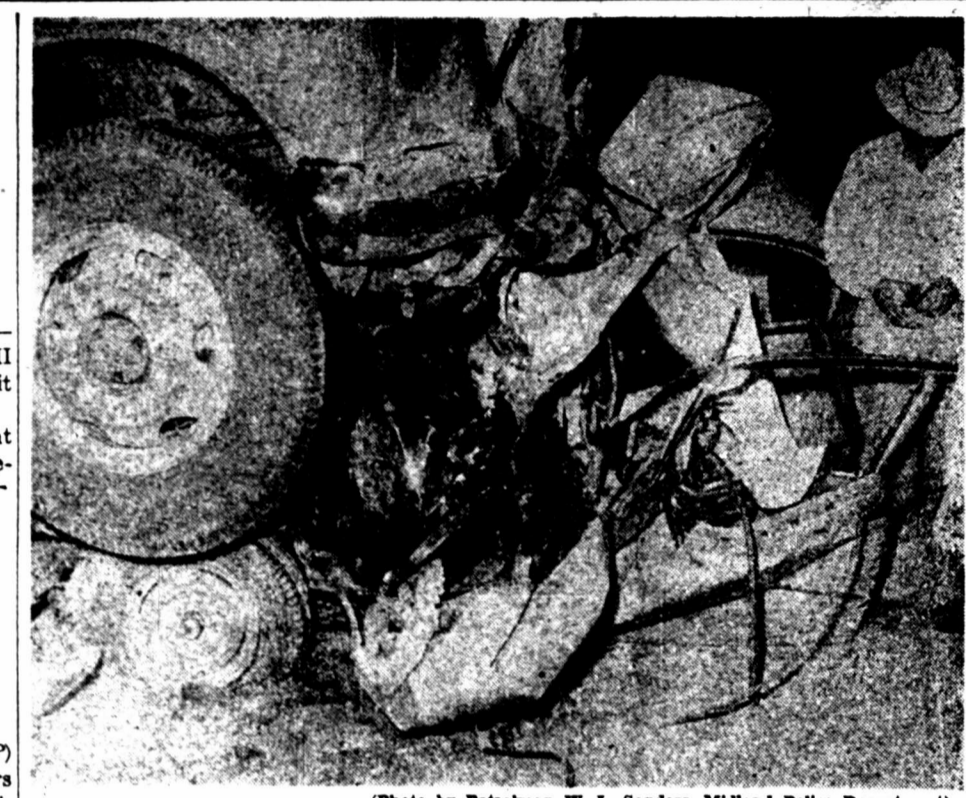

The 70th District Court is holding its September term here. Judge R. W. Hamilton is presiding.

Hurricanes Meet In Atlantic, Spare Bermuda Anticipated Crushing Blow

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—The two Atlantic hurricanes, their power broken by an encounter that saved Bermuda, whirled harmlessly over open water Monday, far from any major land area.

The unique meeting of the two great tropical storms knocked one of them, "Easy," off a baseline course to Bermuda as the British island braced for a 100-mile-an-hour blow.

"Easy" was churning northward at eight miles an hour toward Bermuda when the smaller, faster-traveling hurricane, "Fox," spun across its path. "Easy" ground to a

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAY—The bodies of three young persons were taken from the crumpled wreckage of the automobile shown above with a big bus liner resting on it. Note the large bus wheel and the smaller wheel of the car. Seventeen persons in the bus were injured in the crash, which occurred on U. S. Highway 80, 1 1/2 miles east of Midland. Looking on is Sheriff Ed Darnell, holding a flashlight. Two large winch trucks were used to get the bus off the demolished automobile.

18 Hurt As Car Smashes Into Big Bus

Death again rode the highways near Midland early Sunday.

Three persons were killed and 18 injured in a grinding collision of a bus and an automobile at 2:20 a. m. on U. S. Highway 80, 1 1/2 miles east of Midland.

The three persons killed were riding in the automobile. The 18 injured were occupants of the bus. Most of them were asleep when the jarring smash occurred. One passenger said: "We spilled all over the bus."

The dead are Billy Jack Johnson, 17, of 708 1/2 East Third Street, Big Spring; Alton Truett Bradshaw, 24, of Wellman, near Brownfield, and his sister, Doris Bradshaw, about 18, also of Wellman.

None of the 18 injured persons was hurt seriously. Two were hospitalized at Midland Memorial Hospital. They are Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lawson of Glendale, Ariz. Extent of their injuries was not determined immediately. But the injuries were not critical, hospital attendants said.

The three fatalities raised the death toll on highways near Midland to seven within a seven-day period.

Donald A. Sloan of Odessa died September 3 in a Midland hospital of injuries suffered in a car-pickup truck collision six miles south of Midland on the Rankin Highway the day previously.

Three persons were killed in a car-pickup truck crash September 3, 11 miles southeast of Midland on the Garden City Highway. They were Claude Fueston of Odessa and S/Sgt. Kenneth Hicks and L. C. Smith of San Angelo.

The injured bus occupants, brought to two Midland hospitals by ambulances, suffered bruises, lacerations and contusions.

Firing Squad Takes Life Of Utah Man Convicted Of Murder

SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—Guns of a firing squad killed a Utah convict, Elmer J. Mares, Jr., Monday as the penalty for murdering a motorist who had befriended him.

The marksmen fired at 6:53 a. m. (CST). A doctor pronounced the condemned man dead two minutes later.

Mares died without visible emotion. Only his heavy breathing, causing his blue shirt to stir slightly, was noticeable as he sat strapped in a chair against a prison wall.

In his hand he held a crucifix. As death relaxed his grip, the crucifix fell to the wooden floor with a clatter.

The 23-year-old son of a former sheriff was convicted of killing Jack D. Stallings, 21, a sailor, five years ago.

Sheriff George Fisher directed the execution. He placed his five marksmen behind a curtain, drawn across a corridor in an uncoupled cell block.

Mares sat in a chair on a wooden platform 25 feet away.

Guns of the riflemen protruded through holes in the curtain. One of the five guns had a blank. Four bullets ripped into the white target, pinned over his heart. A black hood covered his head.

Gromyko, Defeated At Frisco, Readies New Drive At Japan

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—Andrei Gromyko is going home from the San Francisco conference with Russia's worst postwar diplomatic defeat on his record—and with ammunition in his pocket for a new wrecking campaign against the Japanese peace treaty.

American diplomats, winding up their affairs in the conference city Monday, predicted Russia will do its utmost to undermine popular support for the treaty with a massive propaganda attack throughout Asia and the Far East.

Gromyko, who left by train for New York Sunday, prepared the ammunition for that assault in his speeches and actions at the peace conference—notably by his charges of American "dictation" and his repeated forecasts of a "new war" in the Orient. He also made much of Red China's exclusion.

Allies, Reds Swap More Hot Words

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—United Nations officers swapped sharp words with Reds in Kaesong Monday after investigating a Communist charge that an Allied warplane strafed the cease-fire conference city Monday morning.

The UN officers refused to give the Reds an on-the-spot report of their investigation. They also refused to concede an attack had occurred or that a UN plane was involved.

They acknowledged only that during a four-hour checkup of the alleged neutrality zone violation they found one bullet mark and a dozen 50 caliber slugs in and around a group of stone houses. The houses were about three-quarters of a mile from the site of the suspended armistice talks.

When the investigation was completed, the senior Allied officer replied a Communist demand for a reply to the charge.

Col. Don Darrow, Air Force officer from Tacoma, Wash., told the senior Red liaison officer, Colonel Chang, the evidence would be studied further. He said he would report his findings to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, and Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN negotiator.

Several times Darrow and Chang exchanged sharp words.

At one point Darrow called a statement by Chang "stupid," and Chang demanded Darrow be replaced by another UN officer.

New Evidence Found In Case Of Missing Monahans Osteopath

ALPINE—(P)—Texas Ranger Arthur Hill said two pieces of human backbone have been found near the abandoned car of the long missing Dr. Robert H. North.

Hill said one piece of backbone was about two feet long, another about a foot.

The Monahans osteopath's automobile was found Tuesday in an arroyo in the most rugged section of the Big Bend National Park.

North and his boxer dog disappeared in the park June 6, 1947. A widespread search failed to find any trace.

Hill said the skull of a dog also was found near the car, and a pair of pants with the laundry mark "North."

Mrs. North looked at the trousers Sunday and said, "There's his name!"

Sheriff Jim Skinner found portions of a blanket buried in the sand a half-mile down the arroyo.

Big Spring Girl Wins Hairbreadth Victory In Juarez Bull Ring

JUAREZ, MEXICO—(P)—The ear of the bull she killed. That's what Patricia McCormick got for courage in the bull ring.

Patricia, blonde, pretty, shapely, 22, and from Big Spring, Texas, stood in the Plaza de Toros Sunday with her cap. She was first reported from Midland.

With grace and precision she started off on the intricate passes to taunt the bull. But soon she became mired in the very intricacies of the passes.

And she stood too close to the bull—so close the huge beast lifted her on its horns and threw her at its feet. She was trampled, but she got up to start again.

The crowd shouted and yelled until it was near-hysterical.

"Get that girl out of there," one woman yelled.

But Patricia came back with the sword to kill the bull. On her first try, she missed completely. Her second thrust was far back, but finally the bull staggered and toppled. Patricia stood in the ring, her slacks and blouse smeared with the blood of the bull.

The crowd went wild. Tolerant judges awarded her one ear of the bull. It's usually given for unusually excellent performance.

Patricia left the ring quickly and went off to celebrate at a banquet given by her friends. She's a co-ed at Texas Western College here. She grew up wanting to be a bullfighter. She had fought in rings before, but Sunday she killed her first bull.

Chrysler Is First To Increase Prices

DETROIT—(P)—Chrysler Monday became the first auto manufacturer to announce proposed price increases under a new government relaxation of price controls.

The company filed a list of suggested new wholesale ceiling passenger car prices with the OPS, with an average boost of 6.5 per cent.

The list provides a $108 increase in the factory retail delivered price of the Plymouth Cranbrook four-door sedan, $117 on the Dodge Coronet four-door sedan, $147 on the DeSoto custom four-door sedan and $156 on the Chrysler Windsor deluxe four-door sedan.

'51 Cotton Estimate Hiked 25,000 Bales

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Agriculture Department Monday estimated this year's cotton crop at 17,291,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This figure is 25,000 bales more than the 17,266,000 forecast a month ago. It compares with last year's 10,012,000 bales and with the 1940-49 average of 12,030,000 bales.

The department forecast the acre yield at 290.8 pounds compared with 262.2 pounds last year and 265.9 for the 10-year average.

Condition of the crop September 1 was reported at 74 per cent of normal compared with 75 per cent a year ago and 77 per cent for the 10-year September 1 average.

The acreage for harvest was reported at 28,544,000 acres, indicating 3.3 per cent of the planted acreage.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Drouth and severe heat in August cost Texas about 200,000 bales of cotton, the Department of Agriculture estimated Monday.

The department, in its monthly appraisal of crop prospects, estimated the 1951 Texas cotton crop at 4,890,000 bales. This is 200,000 bales less than the previous estimate.

Many Texas Areas Get Rains As Cool Front Moves South

By The Associated Press

The heaviest rains in more than two months fell in some North and Central Texas areas Monday as a cool front pushed its way southward.

Lighter, scattered rains ranged from San Angelo to Texarkana and Galveston.

Paris, in North Texas, reported three inches Sunday and Sunday night.

Hillsboro, center of a cotton-growing area hit by the Summer's prolonged drouth and heat, reported 2.05 inches, heaviest since last June.

Other rainfall reports for the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a. m. included Texarkana 1.58 inches, Bonham 1.30, Dallas 1.18, Fort Worth .80, Tyler .50, Beaumont .30, Mineral Wells .18, San Antonio .13, Palestine .12, Galveston .08, Abilene .03 and San Angelo .02.

The cool front extended into Austin at 6:45 a. m., dropping the temperature to 68 and followed by good showers in the area.

Midland's first snappy-weather cool front of the Fall crept into the city shortly after midnight Sunday.

Mossadegh Gets Tough With Britain

TEHRAN, IRAN—(P)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh—having failed twice to get a parliamentary confidence vote for his "get tough" oil policy—says he will send Britain an ultimatum anyway on reopening the disrupted talks.

A continued boycott by opposition deputies blocked a second attempt by the premier to force action in the Majlis (lower house) Sunday.

Only 68 deputies showed up, instead of the minimum 75 needed for a vote of confidence.

Founding on a desk, Mossadegh declared—vote or no vote—he would go ahead with his ultimatum giving Britain two weeks to reopen the talks or face the ouster of the 300 British technicians still in Abadan—site of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company's vast refinery.

The cabinet decided late Saturday to back the premier's stand, even if the opposition continues to block a favorable vote.

During his speech to the Majlis, Mossadegh asserted: "I warn the British, if we are brought to our knees there is a

Two Killed, Son Of Air Force Boss Injured In Crash

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Two from Lackland Air Force Base were killed and two others were injured seriously in an auto collision that also resulted in serious injuries to Lt. Hoyt S. Vandenberg Jr., early Monday.

The accident occurred three miles from Castroville. Deputies Tony Wiatt and Billy Christoph reported.

Cpl. John L. Norwood, driver of one of the cars and WAF Pfc. Laura Harrison, were killed.

Cpl. Frank A. Heiman was reported in serious condition and WAF Pfc. Thelma G. Larsen, 23, was under treatment for injuries that included a broken leg.

Vandenberg, son of Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, was driving west and the other car was headed toward San Antonio. Vandenberg is stationed at Hondo Air Force Base.

Vandenberg suffered a compound fracture of the left thigh, fractured left elbow, minor fracture of the lower left leg, and face and body lacerations. He was alone in his car.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Banking Committee Monday rejected President Truman's demand for repeal of what he calls "the terrible Copehart amendment" to the price controls law.

LONDON—(P)—Tehran radio reported Monday Communist Czechoslovakia has offered to buy 700,000 tons of oil immediately from Iran's nationalized British fields.

LA SPEZIA, ITALY—(AP)—Two former American light destroyers, given to Italy under the arms aid program, arrived here Monday.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government plans to let butcher shops raise the prices of some fast-selling beef cuts—perhaps one or two cents a pound—because packers are getting less money for hides and tallow. Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said Monday.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Finance Committee Monday toned down its tentatively approved tax on farm cooperatives in the face of sharp criticism from rural areas.

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation

The vaccination of all of Japan's 80,000,000 people best illustrates the magnitude of SCAP's public welfare contributions to a nation that in 1945 was plagued by epidemics, bereft of sanitation facilities and woefully ignorant of modern health practices.

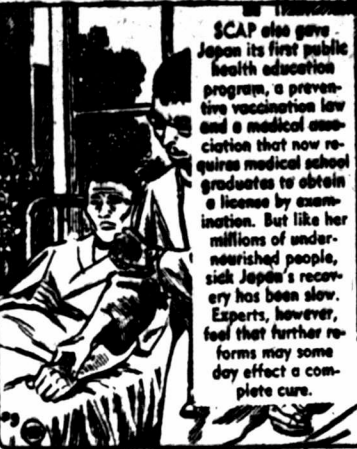

Superstitions and myths were as formidable a foe as the bacilli, flies and mosquitoes that bred in bombed-out sewage facilities. The presence of a rat in the home was regarded as a lucky omen by the Japanese. Nurses were scorned as mere servants. Relatives were permitted to live in a hospital patient's room.

The overcrowding of bombed-out families into railroad stations, tenements and makeshift shanties was another reason for 1945's appalling death rate of 25.2 per thousand persons. By 1948, SCAP's reconstruction of housing, hospital and sanitation facilities, and vigorous disease control program, had slashed the death rate to 12.6.

Illustrated by Ralph Lane

SCAP also gave Japan its first public health education program, a preventive vaccination law and a medical examination that now requires medical school graduates to obtain a license by examination. But like millions of under-nourished people, sick Japan's recovery has been slow. Experts, however, feel that further reforms may some day effect a complete cure.

Betty June White, Thomas Schalk Wed

Betty June White became the bride of Thomas Sterling Schalk of Midland Saturday in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Harry White of Wichita Falls. The Rev. Earle W. Crawford, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sterling Schalk of Casper, Wyo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of platinum Italian silk and hand-run Alencon lace. It was fashioned with a deep decollete neckline of folded satin filled in with embroidered lace. The princess lines of the gown were accented by a panel of Alencon lace which extended from the neckline to the hem. This panel was embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The skirt was caught at each side with big satin bows. It was ankle-length in the front and swept to a train in the back.

Her fingertip length veil of French illusion was made of alternating layers of pink and white and she carried orchids on a Prayer Book.

Johnnie Marie Waggoner of Wichita Falls was maid of honor and John Schalk of Fort Worth, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The reception was held in the garden of the White home. Mrs. Schalk is a graduate of the University of Texas and attended Mills College in Oakland, Calif.

Schalk attended Oklahoma A&M College and is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines.

After a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Grand Lake, Colo., the couple will be at home in Midland.

+ Jacoby On Canasta +

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"Please tell me the correct play in the following situation," requests a Chicago reader. "Both sides needed 120 points for the initial meld. Everybody began by throwing sixes and fives and fours with a few assorted high cards that fortunately got by."

"Eventually the pack contained natural canastas of sixes and fives together with some other valuable oddments. At this stage my right hand opponent melded the following cards from his hand: Joker-K-K-K Q-Q-2. Then he discarded a four, which happened to be quite safe."

"I drew from the stock and then held: A-A K-K-K Q-J-7-7-2-2. Assuming that everybody in the game was a good player, what was my correct play?"

"I actually melded A-A-2 K-K-K J-J-2 and discarded a seven. If this is not the best play, would you say that it is reasonable, poor, or horrible?"

The correct play is to discard a deuce, freeing the deck. To meld and make an unsafe discard is somewhat worse than horrible.

By the time the discard pile contains two natural canastas, nothing matters except getting the jile, or, at least, making sure that the opponents don't get it. It's better not to meld at all to let the opponents go out than to meld and lose a pack of that size.

Let's suppose that the next player has a seven and a wild card or a pair of sevens. If he picks up the pack with either of these holdings, he will get two natural canastas and an excellent start towards two or three more canastas. His side will probably score at least two of three thousand points and will surely win the game. That's the worst that can happen if you meld and discard a seven. What's more, it's very likely to happen.

Now let's see what can happen if you freeze the pack. You can probably discard safely by throwing kings and then whatever is safe by that time. Your partner can surely discard safely to a four-card hand. At worst, the enemy will meld out and catch you with your entire hand and maybe a red three or two.

They will score six or seven hundred points and will catch you with perhaps three or four hundred. Your net loss will be only about one thousand points. Moreover, the game will probably still be unfinished, and you will have another chance to win it on the next hand.

Mayor Sweeps Town Streets; Now, Is That Undignified?

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Ever hear of a mayor who gets up early to clean the streets of his town?

They have one in Hardy, Ark., who does just that. I read all about him in Eldon Roark's Strolling column in the Memphis Press-Scimitar.

It seems the town of Hardy can't afford a street sweeper, so the mayor, who wants a clean town, has added that job to his other duties. He told columnist Roark:

"We have too much gingerbread aristocracy, sham and false dignity in this country. . . . Who am I to think myself too good to clean the fifth and rubbish away from my door, and from the streets that run along my place of business, if it becomes necessary for the public health and safety?"

That is a question a lot of people might well ask themselves. Ever walk into a drug store where dirt and cigar butts were scattered around—because every body in the place from the manager on down to the newest soda jerk was too good to push a broom?

Ever go into a barber shop where everybody was too good to sweep the floor?

Ever go into a public rest room that was filthy because the public using it was careless and those responsible for it were above seeing that it was kept clean?

Public housekeeping gets sloppier and sloppier as more and more young people grow up with the idea that they are too good for any job but the one they are hired to do.

And yet who shows the most real dignity, the mayor who gets up early to sweep the main street of his small town or the store manager who leans on an elbow while the floor of his small place of business gets thicker and thicker with dirt? (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Inaccurate Declarations

The British Labor party did little to heighten its stature in the world's eyes when it claimed that Prime Minister Attlee's 1950 visit to America averted World War III.

There also was concern, the Labor statement relates, over prospects that General MacArthur might extend the war to the Chinese mainland.

Both these declarations are grossly inaccurate. Even though it is evident they are designed for domestic consumption, in expectation of a new British election soon, they reflect discredit on the Labor Party.

The fact is well known that Truman's press conference comment on possible use of the A-bomb was carelessly phrased. It was not intended to convey the notion the bomb was under consideration for Korea.

Hence, long before Attlee came to America he knew Britain's fears were groundless. He could not have dissuaded the President, since there was nothing to dissuade him from.

Admittedly, MacArthur's goals in the Far East were less sharply defined. His frequent digressions from declared U. S. policy were troubling Truman no less than Attlee. But it is clear from the record of the MacArthur Senate hearings this Spring that plans for extension of the Korean war never reached the concrete stage.

To argue, therefore, that Attlee's visit forestalled such extension is absurd.

The manufacture of foolish claims like these does more than tax credibility. It mars the integrity of the British Labor government. And it makes strongly apparent the fact that irresponsibility in politics is not a peculiarly American commodity.

Need Technical 'Brains'

At the time the furor broke over the government's controversial draft tests to determine deferments, a prime argument for the examinations was the need to assure the nation of sufficient trained scientific and medical personnel.

In its latest issue, Fortune Magazine documents that need in just one field—engineering. According to Lawrence Lessing, one of its editors, industry needs 30,000 engineers a year for normal growth and replacement. Besides that, it currently has a deficit of 60,000 engineers.

Lessing found that the number of engineering graduates is expected to taper off from 25,000 next June to a possible low of 12,000 in 1954.

Engineering enrollments are down sharply, and there appears little that can be done about this critical shortage in the next few years.

Fortune's analysis lays blame for the scarcity on: The low birth rate of the 1930's; a "national let-down" after World War II, marked by a turning away from "potentially destructive science"; the slowness of Congress in establishing a National Science Foundation to organize and direct basic research; and misleading government reports suggesting a surplus of engineers when the reverse was true.

A committee of Congress has proposed a national scientific personnel board to help the President channel technical manpower into critical areas of industry, government research, teaching and military service.

These seem sound proposals to deal with the immediate dearth of engineers. But attention must be given to the longer range problem of luring more American youths into engineering as a lifetime career.

Industrial Genius

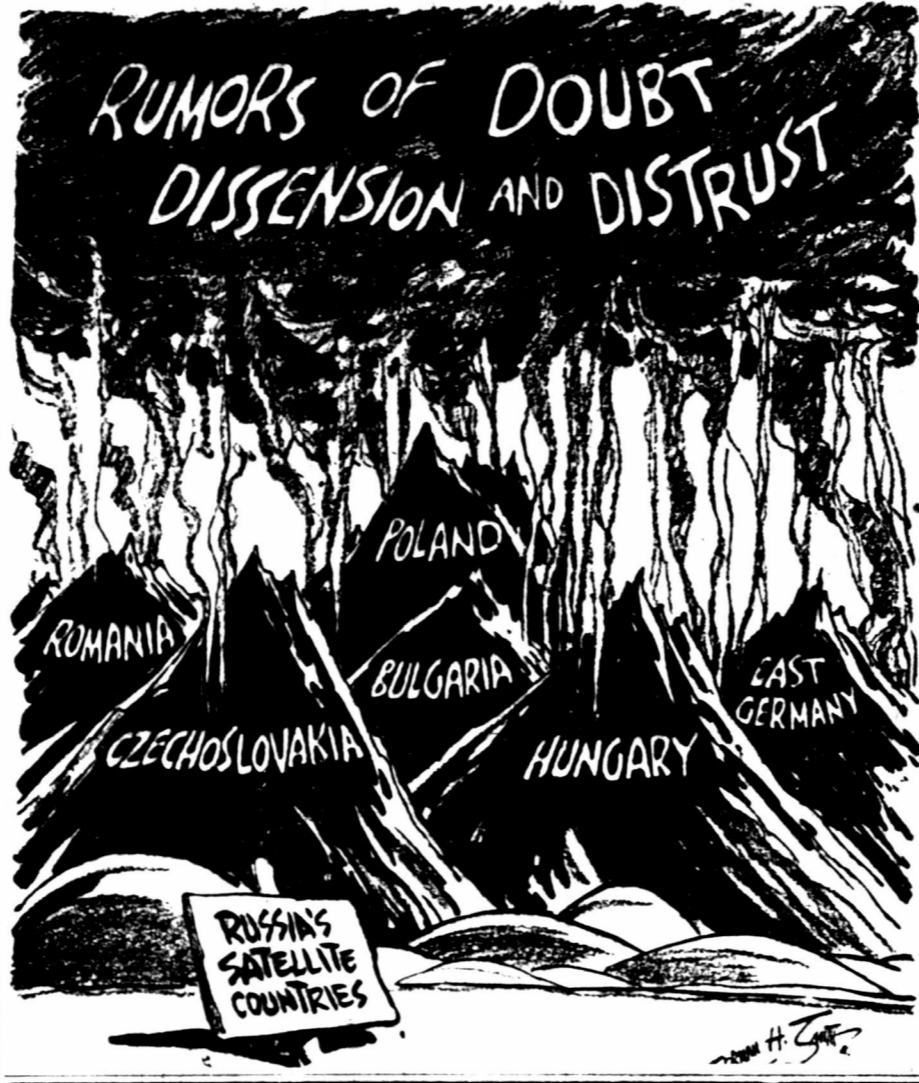

A little while ago a man who has extraordinary influence on American living passed his seventy-fifth milestone. He is Charles F. Kettering, long-time General Motors engineer, a technician who epitomizes U. S. industrial ingenuity.

Most of Kettering's research has been in the automotive field. But the impact of his work goes far beyond. His is a keen, searching mind that tirelessly pursues the new and undiscovered. To him, the quest for better scientific answers to our daily needs is a veritable crusade.

In a characteristic statement, he said on his birthday: "The fundamental things of the next 25 years are the little unrecognized things of today."

America's exalted reputation for industrial achievement is founded upon the works of men like Kettering. In paying homage to him, may we honor also his contemporaries and forebears who have shared in giving this country its technical supremacy; guarantor at once of our high living standard and our security.

There's Fire In Them Thar Hills

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) A government official says: Good men have been driven out of government; Competent replacements cannot be found; Congressmen should reform their own colleagues.

Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by distinguished guest columnist. Today's guest column is written by a high federal official on behalf of himself and a number of his colleagues in various agencies. It is unsigned for obvious reasons.

WASHINGTON — To members of the Congress: You gentlemen in Congress now are conducting what may prove to be highly useful studies of morals and ethics in government. On behalf of myself and others who are striving to bring good men into government, I respectfully urge you to look carefully at Congress itself.

Specifically, won't you take a good look at that small percentage of your colleagues who effectively are driving able men away from government? A few illustrations will tell the story.

There is a brilliant young American executive who, in his early 30's, made a careful study of communism. Intellectually curious, he purposely exposed himself to Communist recruiters, listened to all their arguments, and argued with them late into many nights. After some months of this, he emerged with the conviction that communism was a fraud. He became a vigorous anti-Communist—all the more effective because he knew what he was talking about. He still feels so strongly on the subject that, at substantial sacrifice, he recently took an important job in the civil war. He was, of course, investigated fully—and he received a clean bill of health.

Soon, however, he heard that two members of Congress were preparing to attack him publicly. Clean bill of health or not, they laid plans to lambaste him as one who "admits he once consorted regularly with known, card-carrying Communists." At this, the official took stock of the interests of his children, his wife, and his own reputation. He left government. Today he is a key executive in a major U. S. corporation.

One able executive from private business came into government for patriotic reasons. He made a remarkable record as a conscientious public servant. Recently he found himself publicly and bitterly attacked by a key committee chairman as an unconscionable squanderer of public funds. The only known motive for the attack was that the chairman, facing reelection troubles, felt he needed to make headlines as an "economizer." He picked the first handy victim. If he wanted to, vital legislation needed by his agency would have died in committee. So he bit his lip and took it.

Mr. C. a few months ago was

Q—Was a coat of arms ever actually a coat?

A—It was a light garment worn by a knight over his armor. It was often decorated with the personal emblem of the wearer.

Q—How does a so-called "flintless" cigar lighter work?

A—Usually such lighters use a thin platinum wire, which, when exposed to the flammable vapors of the fluid, speeds the reaction between these vapors and the air. It becomes heated to the ignition temperature and the vapors burst into flame.

Q—Which is the deepest of the Great Lakes?

A—Lake Superior is the largest as well as the deepest. In some places it is more than one-fifth of a mile deep.

just about persuaded to give up a top-flight outside position to perform a vital job in the national emergency. Before actually making the change, however, he read the record of his able predecessor's appearance before several congressional committees. He found some of them all right, but two were shocking. When he finished reading the transcript of vitriol, insult and personal abuse in these two cases, he said "to blame with it." He remained in his more lucrative, comfortable, and secure private post.

Yes, Mr. Congressman, you and most of your colleagues want to see able and conscientious public servants bearing the enormous burdens of government today. But a relative handful of your colleagues, some spoiled by secure tenure in positions of enormous congressional power, are doing their best to see that good men are kept out—driven out—of government. While you are in a reforming mood, please take a good look at the conduct of some of your own colleagues on Capitol Hill. Perhaps you can find a way to help those of us who are striving desperately to get and keep able executives in government "Bureaucrat."

DULUTH, MINN. —(AP)— Three persons—two men and a woman—died a flaming death Sunday when their plane crashed into a forest ranger tower in the woods, 25 miles northwest of Duluth.

The plane apparently had been lost several hours in a dense fog which limited visibility in the area to 250 feet.

The victims were identified tentatively by authorities as: John P. Connelly, 30, manager of the Dayton, Ohio, Municipal Airport and a 1944 graduate of the University of Cincinnati; his wife, Janet, about 25, and Henry C. Mackall, Jr., about 25, assistant manager of the Dayton Airport.

The Dayton Journal Herald said the three left Dayton for International Falls, Minn., August 31 in Mackall's Piper racer plane, the type involved in the crash, and took off on the return trip Sunday morning.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

You may be tempted to deny it at times, but the simple truth is that bridge players are human beings. I do not point this out to win your sympathy for them, but just to show you how to take advantage of them.

Let's take a simple example. Today's hand was played in the recent national championships in Washington. The bidding was identical at two tables, but one declarer made the contract and the other lost it. The reason is very instructive.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and tricks.

At the first table, South won the first trick with the ace of hearts, laid down the ace of spades and followed with four more rounds of trump in rapid succession. West had some trouble finding three harmless discards, but he eventually released a club and two hearts. East discarded a low club and a low diamond. The net result was that South had discovered nothing.

The first declarer then continued by leading his singleton club toward dummy. West unhesitatingly played low, naturally enough. South thought about this for a while and decided that West was a good enough player to play low even if he had the ace. So South decided to put up dummy's king of clubs.

The rest of the defense was easy. East took the ace of clubs and returned a diamond at once. Dummy was permitted to win with the king of diamonds, and then South had to lose two diamonds and a heart. Down one.

At the other table, South was no technician. He just knew human nature. He won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led his singleton club at once.

At this table also West unhesitatingly played low, naturally enough. But at this table West's lack of a problem was very revealing.

The second declarer said: "When I fired that club right at him, West wasn't expecting it. If he held the ace, the chances were better than even that he'd play it right away. Even if he didn't play his ace, he might still hesitate or indicate in some way that he had a problem. But when he played a low club without batting an eye, I would have bet ten to one that he didn't hold the ace."

THE STORY: Holly Dunstan is married to a Lattie beauty Carmelita Hernandez sets out to land her beau Steve Tracey, the writer, as Holly says. Holly is a beautiful girl who is attracted to Steve because of his "manly" features. Holly is the daughter of Jose Montero, Carmelita's fiance.

VII "AMAPOLA DEL NORTE," Holly Dunstan repeated after him slowly. "What does that mean?" She moved away from him toward the fountain which was splashing its spray into a mosaic tiled basin.

"A kind of flower, senorita," Steve's mother followed her, and stood close beside her. "But it is not so beautiful as you, Senorita—you who are so pale and lovely!"

For one who didn't know the language, she thought with a glint of amusement, Jose was doing quite well. She wished it could have been Steve out there with her, and she sighed involuntarily. Jose heard the sigh and misinterpreted it. He caught her to him, swiftly.

"You sigh! The language of love, Senorita! It needs no words!" He kissed her several times, and although she struggled, she was angry to discover that the moonlight and the scented tropical night, and her lonely yearning for Steve had broken down her defenses. Jose was handsome, bending over her, handsome in the dashing Latin way so dangerously attractive to a redhead.

"I love you," he murmured, between kisses. "Marry me—to-morrow!"

She escaped him, finally, flushed and breathless. "Please—Senorita," she gasped. "I—I hardly know you. Why, I met you less than half an hour ago! And besides—I thought you and Carmelita Hernandez—"

"Ah!" he cried, and his face was radiant with joy. "So you have

Revised Legal Code Would Plug Crime Law Loopholes

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Making it tougher for racketeers to engage in illegitimate business is a primary aim of the revised legal code which the Senate Crime Committee is proposing to Congress. Being practical, court room lawyers, Senators Kefauver, O'Connor and their associates realize that as dope peddling and bootlegging are made more difficult, the crooks will start looking for ways to beat the rap.

Criminals have good lawyers, too. So as one highway of illegal trade is closed, criminal lawyers will advise their clients of legal alleys where they can operate with safety. The trucking industry, for instance, is beginning to attract the muscled-in. Looking ahead, the lawmakers are trying to put legal roadblocks on as many of these criminal byways as they can.

Senate crime investigators found evidence of a few cases of racketeering already in the trucking business. Joe Adonis and his pals were found to be interested in concrete with contracts for hauling new cars from Detroit and Edgewater, N. J., plants. Intimidation of competitors by blackjacks has been involved.

To meet this threat, the Senate Crime Committee advocates revision of national transportation policy law. Under present law, there is no provision for revocation of an Interstate Commerce Commission license. The only standards are public convenience and necessity. It now is proposed to add a requirement of good moral character for all licensees.

Narcotics Bill To Senate Exposure of the horrible conditions in the sale of drugs to minors resulted in introduction of 27 anti-narcotics bills in the House. Senate Crime Committee has picked one of these bills which already has passed the House, and will push it for passage by the Senate.

This bill would increase sentences for convicted dope peddlers. First offense would get two to five years, second offense five to 10 years, subsequent convictions 10 to 20 years. For sales to minors, the penalty would be 30 years to life imprisonment. But judges and lawyers who oppose statutory minimum sentences are fighting these measures.

A small but important change is proposed for the federal appeals act. It would grant federal prosecutors the right, now denied, to appeal court orders for suppression of evidence. Getting suppression of evidence orders is common practice in defending narcotics charges.

Tightening of liquor sale and transportation laws is recommended strongly by the Crime Committee. Under present law, every wholesaler and manufacturer must get a federal permit. But once granted, permits run indefinitely. The new idea is to grant permits for two years only. Renewals would be denied law violators.

Your strength, you must make sure of getting to game wherever a fit can be found. You have already suggested your major suit, and now you must indicate the full strength of your hand and its suitability for no-trump play.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-8-7, Hearts K-J-10-4, Diamonds 7-4-2, Clubs J-4. What do you do?

Petroleum derivatives are contained in ointments, anesthetics and drugs to stop bleeding, reduce blood pressure, treat kidney and other diseases, and for psychoneurotic therapy.

"That is hardly annoying. It is very flattering." He looked down at her with a puzzled expression. "Well, sure. Your hair is beautiful," he said. She sighed. "He's a tropical heat wave on feet!" she breathed.

"And he's engaged to Carmelita," he reminded her, sharply, "and he can have her. Carmelita's blessings be upon them."

"Not any more. Papa's making an arrangement with you which will leave Jose free to marry me."

"Well, isn't that big of him!" SHE isn't before she glanced away, that he was looking at her differently. At first, back there on the dock that first day, he had regarded her as an embarrassing mistake, an annoying blunder. Then he thought of her as an efficient employee. Now, suddenly she was seeing her as a beautiful girl to be danced with, perhaps to be taken out in the moonlight. The music stopped and he let her go abruptly. "You fell for it!" he fumed at her bitterly. "Any guy with a line—"

After the dance they all went down to the dock to see the ship set out for the open sea, through the bobbing stems of discarded bananas which floated on the black and silver water like some weird, aquatic plants. Then they went back to the plantation house which was heavenly quiet as a beautiful now, and there they could sleep as long as they wished undisturbed by chugging engines, smorting trucks, and shouting banana pickers.

The next morning Holly was in the study before Steve finished his coffee. She looked up at his article for the wanted to read again what he had said about Jose Montero. The book-type file which contained his manuscript carbons was misplaced on the shelf, which struck her as odd. But when she found the article she found something even more strange. The sheets were puckered under the staple at one corner, and when she glanced through them she discovered that one had been ripped loose, leaving a jaggedly torn corner under the staple.

"He told me he admired me, that my hair is beautiful, and he asked me for a date," she told him, feeling it might be wise to hold back

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

feet and it ran a two hour drillstem test with the packer at 7,120 feet. Gas surfaced in 18 minutes and continued in a steady blow for the remainder of the period.
Recovery was 230 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, 30 feet of free gas, 130 feet of free oil and 35 feet of slightly salty water.
Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 70 pounds to 130 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 2,600 pounds. Is Above Water Table Informed observers do not think the 30 feet of water was from the formation. They think it was from the drilling fluid.

At total depth of 7,144 feet the wildcat is thought to be several feet above the water table of the Clear Fork section.
The project is circulating while waiting on orders. Operator is expected to set casing on bottom and test the pay which has been penetrated through perforations.

Salt Creek Outpost In NW Kent Sector Is To Run Casing

Charles B. Wrightsman No. 1 Frank Stewart, Northwest Kent County exploration, three-quarters of one mile north of the Salt Creek-Canyon field is at total depth of 6,436 feet, and operator is preparing to set casing at some point off bottom and test the reef for production.
A drillstem test from 6,250 to 6,278 feet, tool open one hour, developed 90 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 90 feet of mud and oil, which was 50 per cent oil, and 30 feet of free oil.
Gas surfaced 40 minutes after the test tool was opened.
Operator drilled from 6,278 feet to 6,436 feet with out running a drillstem test.
Electric log surveys are now being run.
Top of the reef is at 6,250 feet, elevation 2,066 feet.
Drillsite is 1,300 feet from south and 1,680 feet from west lines of section 5, John Rodman survey and 10 miles northwest of Clairmont.

NE Howard Gets Ellenburger Test

Peeler Brothers and Norando Oil Corporation of Midland have filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permit to drill an Ellenburger wildcat in extreme Northeast Howard County.
* It is No. 1 William Bogie and is located 690 feet from south and west

NE Pecos Is Site Of New Venture

The British American Oil Producing Company and others have staked location for their No. 1 John McDonald as a wildcat in Northeast Pecos County.
It is located 690 feet from north and west lines of section 4, block F, TCRB survey and eight miles south of Girvin.
Projected depth is 5,500 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Crockett Test Gets Ellenburger Water; Plugs Back To Test

Continental Oil Company and Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-E L. F. Powell, North Crockett County wildcat, took a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 8,238-88 feet.
Tool was open one hour and 40 minutes. Recovery was 2,310 feet of salt water with no shows of oil or gas.
Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,000 pounds and shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,975 pounds.
Will Test Strawn
Operators have plugged the project back to 8,200 feet and it is now waiting on cement to cure on the plug back. Then pipe will be set at 8,200 feet and the Strawn will be tested through perforations.
That section showed oil on a drillstem test from 8,105 feet and 8,129 feet.
The Ellenburger did not have any shows of oil or gas.
Location of the wildcat is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 82, block BB, ELBARR survey and it is in the World pool which produces from a shallower depth.

NE Lea Exploration Tops Mississippian

Los Nietos Company is drilling below 11,430 feet in the Mississippian at its No. 1 Elliott-Pederal, wildcat in Northeast Lea County.
The Mississippian was topped at 11,422 feet, on datum point of minus 7,520 feet.

Two Midland Testers Are Drilling Deeper

Two wildcats in Midland County being drilled by The Blackwood & Nichols Company are being deepened after unsuccessful drillstem tests.
The concern's No. 1 Hofferkamp, exploration in North-Central Midland County, was drillstem test from 10,013 to 10,080 feet. Tool was open 45 minutes. Recovery was 135 feet of drilling mud with no shows.
It is being drilled below 10,212 feet in shale.
Blackwood & Nichols No. 1 Moss, Central-North Midland County wildcat, is drilling below 8,078 feet in shale and sand after a drillstem test from 7,884 to 7,944 feet.
Tool was open five hours. Recovery was 900 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas.
Site for No. 1 Moss is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block X, H. P. Hilliard survey and five miles northwest of the city of Midland.
No. 1 Hofferkamp is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 19, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey and two and one-half miles northeast of the city of Midland.

Runnels Test Plugs Back To Sand Zone

After drilling to 4,256 feet in the Caddo lime where no shows of oil were found, operator plugged back to 3,950 feet and set five and one-half casing in Vincent & Welch, Inc., and others No. 1 Ellwood E. Brown, Jr., wildcat in West-Central Runnels County.
The casing will be perforated opposite a stray sand section between the Fry and the Jennings. The sand will be given a Hydracraft treatment and tested.
The section had some shows of oil and gas when it was drillstem tested. The Gardner sand in the wildcat showed for commercial gas production.
Drillsite is 3,500 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the 249.25-acre lease in S. F. Austin and S. M. Williams, survey No. 263 and nine miles southeast of Winters.

Possible Discovery From Pennsylvania In Howard Cuts Core

Deep Rock Oil Corporation No. 1 J. O. McCray, North-Central Howard County wildcat which has developed some shows of oil and gas in the Pennsylvania lime from the zone at 9,038-84 feet, cored at 9,064-89 feet.
There was a 100 per cent recovery of lime, with some thin shale partings, and with slight oil staining and slight porosity.
There were some indications in the bottom of the core, according to informed, but unofficial sources. Operator is reaming out the core hole, preparatory to running another drillstem test.
This possible new field opener is six miles north of Big Spring and 2,980 feet from east and 660 feet from north lines of section 1, block 33, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Bank Possesses Burglar Tools

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The Bakers-town Savings and Loan Association has a set of burglar tools on hand. Not long ago a director saw a light burning in the office as he drove by. He stopped to investigate—in time to see a man flee from the building.

The director found the safe had been broken open and $200 in cash, along with some non-negotiable bonds, missing. Beside the safe was a full complement of burglar tools.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Cold Winter Day

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was safe and snug and asleep in his very own bed in his hollow tree house, there in the middle of the Great Forest. Yes, and the Huffen was dreaming a dream. It was a happy dream that the Huffen was dreaming, because a great big smile was on his face. His hands were folded on his chest, and his nose was pointed up in the air, and the Huffen dreamed and smiled, and smiled and dreamed.

He was dreaming of a cold Winter day last Winter. Ah yes, what a cold Winter day it was. Br-r-r-r! The cold north wind came whining and howling and clawing and shrieking around the hollow tree house where the Huffen was safe inside. The cold north wind was trying to get in, but it couldn't. Oh no!

And the sky was cold and gray. Ice had covered the Whispering River, and snow lay along the Elephant Path, and on the rocks and hills. Snow and ice had covered the trees where there used to be leaves. The frozen branches clinked and creaked with an icy sound when the northwind made them scratch and clink and creak together. Why, people could see their frosty breath, because the day was cold, cold.

Ah yes, because this way the day in the Huffen's dream. Cold! Cold! Cold! And in the dream the Huffen got up from his bed and walked to the window and opened it. Br-r-r-r! Snow slid off the roof just then with a sound of brum-m-m-p! when it hit the ground. And the howling northwind now was blowing at the Huffen, tugging at his nightcap, tearing at his nightshirt. Br-r-r-r! Cold, cold, and cold indeed.

"Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, who in the dream came walking up through the snow just then. "Huffen Puffen, you had better close the window before you catch a cold."

But the Huffen laughed in his dreams to hear the words. The Huffen laughed and laughed and laughed, and then he said: "Geehh! Daddy Ringtail, Sesshh! Don't wake me up, because really I am dreaming a dream of a cold Winter day on a day that is really hot, hot."

And the day really was so hot—and the day in the dream was really so cold—the Huffen decided to dream a while longer before he woke up to see how hot he really was, poor boy. Happy day!

1952's Miss America—Tall, Blonde And 25—Is Sunday School Teacher

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—The 143-pound, five-foot-10 Miss America of 1952 is a Sunday School teacher who doesn't smoke or drink.

Blue-eyed, blonde Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City, Utah, didn't believe it when she was chosen queen over 56 other contestants to climax this year's five-day annual beauty pageant Saturday night.

"I thought I was too darned tall," the statuesque beauty said in a posted cultured voice that reflects her dramatic training.

At 25, she is the oldest to wear the crown and matches the record height of Miss America of 1945, Bess Meyerson of New York City.

She is not bothered by the pageant rule that she cannot marry for the next year.

Strawberry Blonde New York Housewife Is Mrs. America, '52

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—(AP)—A hazel-eyed, strawberry blonde New York City housewife won the Mrs. America title Sunday, and says she has no ambition beyond her family.

Chosen over 32 other married beauties in a contest that measured homemaking talent equally with figure and face, 22-year-old Penny Duncan, said it was exciting and unbelievable to win.

Her prizes include $7,500 in gifts and a tour of the eastern states in radio, TV and personal appearance like her predecessor, Mrs. Betty McAllister of Detroit, Mich., and then?

"No more contests," said Mrs. Duncan. "My career is my family and I'll just stay home with them."

Two-Year-Old Son
Mrs. America of 1952 is the wife of Maynard Duncan, a student and the mother of a two-year-old boy, Craig. She won the title after displaying her five feet, 7 and one-half inches and 126 pounds in a fitted white bathing suit with straps.

She measures 36 inches at the hips and 24 at the waist, identical with the new Miss America, Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City, who is three years older than Mrs. Duncan. Both beauty winners claim sewing and painting as hobbies.

Runners-up for the married beauty title in the contest they placed were Mrs. Pennsylvania Marcella Marder of Allentown; Mrs. Central Florida, Peggy E. Creel of St. Petersburg; Mrs. Virginia, Patricia M. Stern of Hampton, Mrs. Connecticut, Elsie Cotter, and Mrs. Philadelphia, Jerl Haver of Roslyn.

Returned to duty, Army: Pfc. Victor L. Valek, Mineola (previously wounded).

Five Governors At Oil Compact Meeting

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The Interstate Oil Compact Commission opened a two-day meeting Monday with governors of five states to attend.

Governors Shivers of Texas, Johnson of Oklahoma, Edward F. Arn of Kansas and Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico arrived Sunday. Gov. Sidney S. McMath of Arkansas was expected to arrive Monday.

Shivers is chairman. The commission was scheduled to discuss unit operations, spacing and a recent opinion of the Federal Power Commission.

pounds were put together over her stately frame. She measures 36 inches at the bust and hips and tapers down to a svelte 24 inches at the waist.

Summer Life Guard
Before becoming Miss America, Colleen won the titles of Miss Utah, Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, Miss Armed Forces of Utah, Miss University of Utah and was homemaking queen at Brigham Young University.

She worked as a life guard this summer while vacationing from her graduate studies in speech and dramatics at the University of Utah.

She is a good enough swimmer to have entered the National AAU Backstroke race in 1947.

Miss America admits to needing a can opener as far as cooking is concerned but boasts that she makes most of her clothes. She is not expected to have much time for that in the next year of personal appearances.

The Miss America title gives her a $5,000 scholarship, numerous gifts, including a car and a check for the $30,000 earnings she chalked up by last year's queen, Yoland Betts, of Mobile, Ala.

Runners-up to Miss America in the order they placed were Miss Indiana, Carol Mitchell of Rochester; Miss North Carolina, Lu Long Ogburn of Smithfield; Miss Arkansas, Charotte Simmen of Little Rock, and Miss Florida, Mary Elizabeth Godwin of Gainesville.

Toll In Brazilian Crash Set At 16

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL—(AP)—Sixteen persons were killed in flaming wreckage Saturday night after a Brazilian airliner plowed into a home at the edge of the city airport after taking off.

Six passengers and four crewmen died in the crash. Also killed were four persons dining in the house and two unidentified persons found in the wreckage Sunday. Fifteen other were injured trying to rescue the victims.

The plane, a DC-3 owned by Viacao Aerea Sao Paulo (Sao Paulo Airline) exploded when it hit the house. Company officials said the cause of the crash is not known.

All the victims were Brazilians.

EGYPTIAN KING, QUEEN END LONG HONEYMOON

Even today with all the new drugs which now are available, some infections are extraordinarily hard to clear up. A difficult example of this kind was sent to me by Mrs. E., who writes:

"The doctor has been treating my six-year-old daughter for what he says is pus in the urine for the past two years. When this pus was first discovered, the doctor said it was a streptococcal infection.

Through laboratory tests, the germ was isolated and reaction of drugs tested on it. However, no medicine seems to get it out completely and it seems to return so easily with a slight cold and even sometimes without a cold.

"He has given her sulfa, penicillin, aureomycin and other drugs. These usually help the infection for a time and then the germ becomes resistant to the drug."

"Is this infection anything serious, and if it were not treated, would it be outgrown? The doctor has had X-rays taken and finds no obstruction. He also had my daughter's tonsils removed several months ago, but the infection is still there."

Now this little girl apparently has been treated very well. When pus is present in the urine, it means that there are germs present somewhere in the urinary tract between the kidneys and the external opening.

It is advisable, as was done here, to identify the germs and to try them out against some of the modern drugs. After this is done, it is possible to try one of the drugs to which the germs seem most sensitive, and this offers the best hope of complete recovery.

In this little girl the source of infection evidently cannot be discovered, although X-rays and other studies have been made. It is true that such infections sometimes come from infection elsewhere in the body, such as infected tonsils.

The fact that the child gets worse when she has a cold quite likely means only that her resistance is lowered at such times. Evidently the germs are quite resistant to most of the drugs which now can be used, and become more resistant to those drugs after a time.

It would not be safe to assume that the condition would clear up of itself or simply be outgrown. The proper thing to do is to continue with what treatments or other measures the doctor may recommend.

Congressman Ikard Will Seek Re-election To Newly Won Seat

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Texas' newest congressman, Frank Ikard of Wichita Falls, says he will seek re-election next year to the seat he won in special election.

The district court judge plans to go to Washington this week to succeed Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, who resigned the 18th District post to take a job as attorney for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Ikard won out in an eight-way race by polling 8,374 votes Saturday. Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls was second with 5,164, and Republican Joe Jackson was third with 5,012. An unofficial 28,109 votes were cast.

19 Escape Unhurt In Belly Landing Of DC-3 Airliner

SOUTH WEYMOUTH, MASS.—(AP)—With one of its two engines blazing, a Northeast Airlines plane bumped down a short runway in an emergency belly landing Sunday and 19 passengers and a crew of three escaped with a shaking.

Heroine of the crash landing of a Boston-to-Nantucket DC-3 was Stewardess Ruth Jenkins, 21, who telephoned her parents in Gray, Maine, later on to say: "I didn't have time to be nervous."

A Northeast spokesman in New York credited Miss Jenkins with "marvelous work" in leading the passengers to safety after the plane slid along a runway which wasn't long enough to give proper landing space for the airliner.

Sharing honors was the pilot, Capt. Wallace G. Robbins of New York, who panicked the big plane into a soft stop in a bog. The engine blaze was extinguished quickly by a crash crew.

Northeast said none of the passengers on the flight required medical attention and all were able to go on to their destinations.

Campaign Dates Set For Gonzales Warm Springs Fund Drive

GONZALES—Dates for the statewide drive to raise funds for Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, Texas' own treatment center for physically handicapped youngsters, have been set as September 16-30, according to announcement by Ross Boothe, foundation president.

Gov. Allan Shivers is serving as general chairman of the Gonzales Foundation Committee, spearheading the appeal for funds to expand the facilities of the non-profit, non-sectarian hospital.

Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation operates a 115-bed hospital chartered by the state but built by contributions from generous Texans from every corner of the state and dependent upon them for support.

Postal Clerk Wins Clam-Eating Crown

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Gulping down 199 raw clams in 20 minutes won postal clerk John J. Staines a champion's title Sunday.

He out-swallowed "Izzy" Weintraub, a 200-pound jitney driver who had been champ clam-eater the last seven years in the contest sponsored by the city.

Weintraub, who could take only 145 clams in 20 minutes, said he had no excuse. "I just can't eat as much as that guy," he sighed. Staines bested the 150-clam record set by Weintraub last year. Both are Atlantic City residents.

Each portion of said streets hereinabove described and designated by Unit Numbers constitutes a separate and independent Unit of the improvements and shall be improved and the improvements constructed therein as separate and independent from each and every other Unit of said streets, and the assessments to be levied for said improvements in each Unit or portion of said streets shall be altogether separate and distinct and independent of and from the assessments to be levied in every other of said Units and portions of said streets, and in making and levying said assessments against the property abutting upon one of said Units, no matter or circumstance in connection with any other of said Units shall be considered or have any effect upon the other, all as fully and to the same extent as if separate proceedings and contracts had been had and executed with reference to the improvements to be made in each of said Units.

A hearing will be given and held by and before the City Council of the City of Midland, Texas, on the 11th day of September, 1951, at 8:00 p.m. o'clock in the City Council Chamber of the City Hall of the City of Midland, Texas, to the real and true owners, whether named or correctly named herein or not, of all property abutting upon said streets within the limits above defined, and to all persons owning or claiming any such abutting property, or interest therein, and to all others owning, claiming or interested in said abutting property, or any of the proceedings, contracts or matters and things herein mentioned or incident to said improvements or contract herein described.

At said time and place all such persons, firms, corporations and estates, and their agents and attorneys, shall have the right to appear and to be heard and offer testimony as to the said assessments, and to the amount thereof, proposed to be assessed against said abutting property, and the real and true owners thereof, the lien and charge of personal liability to secure payment of said assessments, the special benefits to accrue to each such abutting property and the owner or owners thereof by virtue of said improvements, if any, or concerning any error, invalidity, irregularity or deficiency, in any proceeding or contract in reference to said improvements, and said proposed assessments and concerning and other matter or thing as to which hearing is a constitutional prerequisite to the validity of said assessments, proceedings and improvements and on which they are entitled to a hearing under the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, the Charter of said City, and the proceedings of said City Council of the City of Midland, Texas.

Following such hearing, assessments will be levied against each and every parcel of property abutting upon said streets, within the limits above defined, and the real and true owners thereof, for that portion of the costs of said improvements determined by said City Council to be payable by such abutting properties, and the real and true owners thereof, and said assessments shall be and constitute a first and prior lien upon said abutting property, from the date said improvements were ordered by said City Council and shall be a personal liability and charge against the real and true owners thereof, as of said date, whether such property is described or correctly described, or such real and true owners are named, or correctly named, in such proceedings or not, and no error or mistake or discrepancy in the names of such owner or owners or in describing said property in this notice or in any of said proceedings with reference to said improvements, shall invalidate any as-essment or certificate issued in evidence thereof, but nevertheless, each parcel of property abutting upon said streets, and the real and true owner or owners thereof, shall be charged with, and be liable for, said assessment which shall be valid whether or not such owner or owners are named or correctly named, or such property is described or correctly described, all as provided for under the Acts of the 40th Legislature of the State of Texas, First Called Session, Chapter 106, commonly known as Article 1105-b, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, as amended, and as adopted by Section 12, of Article III of the Charter of the City of Midland, Texas, a first and prior lien upon said abutting property, from the date proceedings and assessments are being constructed, performed and levied.

Of all said matters and things, all owning or claiming any such abutting property or any interest therein, as well as all others in anywise interested or affected by the things and matters herein mentioned, will take notice.

DONE by order of the City Council of the City of Midland, Texas, this 28th day of August, 1951. (Seal) J. C. HUDMAN, City Secretary CITY OF MIDLAND, TEXAS

KERMIT, SEMINOLE IMPRESSIVE—

West Texas Teams See Grid Action This Week

Kermit and Seminole came through with impressive victories as 8-AA football teams swung into action last weekend.

Pecos, Monahans and Andrews weren't so lucky—they lost opening clashes.

Minus the backs off last year's state finalist outfit but with top-hand linemen back, Kermit retained enough stuff to defeat the light Winters Blizzards, 20-13. The Yellow Jackets looked weak against passes, and their own pass game completed only two tosses of 11 attempts—but one of the throws was for 63 yards and a touchdown. This week the Yellow Jackets journey to Hobbs, N. M., for a battle with the rugged Hobbs Eagles.

Seminole, who looked farther along and more polished than any team in the district Friday night while defeating Denver City, 13 to 0, goes to Levelland this week.

Levelland shocked Pecos with a 27-19 decision Friday night. Pecos was the choice to win the 8-AA crown, gets a rest this weekend. The Eagles' offensive was potent against the Lobos, but the defense left something to be desired.

Monahans and Andrews both lost in opening games, but made a better fight than was expected. The Monahans lightweights battled with, but lost 9 to 0. Andrews caused a lot of eyebrows raising with a near upset of Dalhart, losing only 21 to 20.

Monahans this week plays host to Snyder's Tigers while Andrews is to be visited by rugged Littlefield.

Wink rests this week also. Other West Texas teams are to swing into action this weekend.

Coach Tugboat Jones' Midland Bulldogs tangle with San Angelo, at 8 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium. It is a non-conference game.

Other Friday night games for area teams include: Sweetwater at Pampa, Odessa at John Reagan (Houston), Big Spring at Quanah, Colorado City at McCamey, Del Rio at Port Stockton, Crane at Jal, N. M., Big Lake at Odessa, Lubbock at Plainview, Paschal (Port Worth) at Lamesa.

Big Spring 'B' will play at Stanton Saturday night.

EL PASO—With only 10 lettermen on hand, freshmen will play a key role in Texas Western College's 1951 fortunes. For this reason, Coach Mike Brumelow is happy that one of the most talented frosh squads in the history of the college has reported for drills.

Scrimmage sessions in preparation for the season opener against North Texas State on September 22 in El Paso have shown that a number of freshmen have a chance of breaking into starting offensive or defensive lineups.

Among the freshmen scheduled to see varsity action in their first year of college football are: Billy Davis, back; Haskell, Edward Ann, end; Monahans; Keith Witherspoon, back; Albany; LeRoy Gibson, back; Stanton; Jack Burris, back; Midland; Wade Hedgecock, back; Ruidoso, N. M.; Donald Cotton, tackle; Vega; Jerry Culp, tackle; Midland; Bobby Carman, center; Wink.

Harold Oswalt, guard; Killeen; Robert Lays, guard; Chicago; Richard Gilliland, tackle; Frederick, Okla.; Raymond Robertson, tackle; Chicago; Jackie Slover, tackle; Tahoka; J. D. Fairchild, guard; Yletta; Roger Hulsey, guard; Stockton; Wayne Lewis, back; Ruidoso, N. M.; Earl Riley, end; Clovis, N. M.; Duane Rush, end; Midland; Bobby Wheeler, end; Big Spring; James Spearman, back; Bryson; George Bowman, center; Hurley, N. M.; Horace Russell, center; El Paso; Noel McCormick, back; El Paso; Salvador Ramirez, guard; El Paso; Don Floyd, back; Andrews; Jerry Crook, back; Clovis, N. M.

Directors Of Ball Club Hold Meeting

Directors of Midland Baseball Club, Inc. met in a lengthy session Sunday at Hotel Scharbauer.

Manager Zeke Bonura said the group approved the purchase of a new bus, hiring Tex Carleton as full-time business manager and painting and repairing Indian Park. Bonura said the moves must be passed by President Marion Flynn, who was absent from the Sunday meeting.

According to reports, Carleton will sell tickets to the games at his sporting goods store daily until 5 p.m. when the Indians are in town. Bonura is to leave Midland Tuesday for New Orleans. He said he would make arrangements for Spring training and return sometime in October for a Lonehorn League business meeting.

Yanks Get Two As Tribe Wins One; Red Sox Defeated

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's lucky for New York and Cleveland they have so few games left to play against the Philadelphia Athletics. Thanks to Jimmy Dykes' animated A's, the American League race, for the time being at least, has become a two-team battle between the front-running Yankees and the runner-up Indians.

Boston's third-place Red Sox, hot on the heels of the leaders for months, saw their pennant hopes all but shattered Sunday when the seventh-place Athletics drubbed them in a doubleheader, 10-4 and 3-2.

The double defeat dropped the Red Sox five and a half games behind the Yankees and Indians. The Sox have 20 games remaining to 20 for the Yankees and 15 for the Indians. Fortunately, Boston has no more games with the Athletics who are scheduled to face the Indians two more times and the Yankees once.

The Yankees increased their slim first-place margin to four percentage points over the Tribe by sweeping a pair from Washington 7-5 and 3-0. Cleveland also won, 4-3, from the St. Louis Browns. The Indians have won two more games than the Sox, but they've also lost two more.

The New York Giants kept their flickering pennant hopes alive in the National League race, defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-1, to climb back within five and a half games of the lead. The St. Louis Cardinals entrenched their hold on third place with a pair of triumphs over Pittsburgh, 2-1, in 10 innings, and 7-4.

Boston's Braves trounced Philadelphia's Phils twice in their battle for fourth place, 5-4 and 4-1. Chicago's Cub emerged from the cellar, splitting a doubleheader with Cincinnati. The Reds won the second game, 7-0, after the Cubs had captured the opener, 7-3.

Chicago's White Sox edged out Eddie Robinson batted in three runs with his twenty-seventh home run and a fifth-inning double to help Saul Rogovin, White Sox right-hander, rack up his twelfth victory.

A fourth-inning home run by Monte Irvin when one man on base was all Sal Maglie needed to whip the Dodgers as the New York right-hander became the first National League pitcher to record 20 victories. Cleveland's Bob Feller, with 22, is the only other big leaguer with 20 or more wins.

Wally Westlake batted in four runs with a single and homer to help the Cards hand his former Pittsburgh mate the second beating of the day. A tenth-inning single by Solly Hemus, followed by Red Schoendienst' double, won the opener.

Home runs by Bobby Usher and Ted Klussekowski drove in five Cincinnati runs as Herm Wehrmeister pitched six-hit shutout ball over the Cubs, who whipped Ewell Blackwell in the opener behind rookie Bob Kelly.

Lefty Warren Spann won his nineteenth game for Boston in the opener and Rookie Dick Cole hurled his first complete major league game as the Braves whipped the Phils twice. Cole drove in three of Boston's four runs with a single, double and his first home run.

White shot 72, one over par, Sunday. He was two strokes better than Doug Ford. Fred Hawkins of El Paso, who had set a 54-hole pace at 210, skidded to 77 on the final day and wound up in a third-place tie with Jerry Barber of Pasadena, California.

Brother Of Ben Hogan Also Plays

BETHLEHEM, PA. (AP)—The wiry little man with the deep sun tan and white cap laced into a drive and started down the No. 1 fairway at the Saucon Valley Country Club.

Scores around the first tee watched the shot without interest. When the little man and his foursome moved along, nobody pushed to follow him.

The crowd waited. It wanted to see Sam Urzetta or Frank Stranahan or Willie Turnesa.

The man in the cap was Royal Hogan of Fort Worth, Texas. He has a brother named Ben. "When Ben hits a shot, thousands let out throaty gasps and swarm at his heels."

Yet if circumstances had been different, Royal Hogan may not have had his second shot in complete privacy—just another obscure contestant in the National Amateur Tournament.

"Sure, I've played golf as long as Ben, or just about as long," the other Hogan said Sunday after a practice round. "You see I'm 41, two years older."

"The reason Ben became a great golfer and I happened to be a week-end hacker is a long story, a quirk of fate or something, you might say."

"I was 11 and Ben nine when my dad died. I had a sister in the state university. Somebody had to go to work. I was older so I was me."

"I had to quit school and start work for an office equipment company. Ben was young and had to stay in school. Pretty soon he started caddying. And you know the story from there."

Royal, who has the same build, squinting eyes and easy swing of his famous brother, said he refused to take up golf at first, arguing with Ben it was a silly game to play. So one day I rented some clubs and we played. That was it. Ben and I used to play from 7 o'clock in the morning until dark on a nine-hole course at Fort Worth with sand greens, called Katy Lake.

"I could beat him for awhile but Ben kept getting better. He became a good amateur and then a pro. Naturally I couldn't keep pace with him. I had my work to do."

Royal Hogan's work consisted of building a business of his own in the office equipment field and today he owns one of the largest firms of its kind in Texas.

He's a weekend golfer who frequently shoots in the sixties and plays in the home town affairs around Fort Worth. This is his third National Amateur, but he's never gone beyond the third round.

"Now, I don't mind living in Ben's shadow at all," Royal said. "He's the greatest—and I think he's playing better golf now than ever in his life."

Andrews Quarterback Club To View Film

ANDREWS — "Football Highlights of 1950" in the Southwest Conference will be shown Monday night at a meeting of the Andrews Quarterback Club.

The film, provided by the Humble Oil Company, will follow a regular business meeting at which time members will be elected. James Roberts, president, announced.

The club will meet in the old school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Coaches Neil Taylor and Max Goldsmith will give a report on the Dalhart-Andrews game.

The horses aren't being spared by members of the Midland Optimist Club who are working on the publicity angle of the ACC-Texas Western grid title to be played in Memorial Stadium October 6.

Wayne Harrell and Bill Aiken intend to contact 21 radio stations and 23 newspapers this week.

The tilt itself should be a corker. With two ex-Midland residents—Garvin Beauchamp of ACC and Mike Brumelow of TWC—coaching the two squads, the crowds should pour in. Two, four Midland boys will be on the TWC squad—Eugene Duane Bush, Backs Billy Medart and Jack Burris and Guard Jerry Culp. Freshmen are eligible to participate in the Border Conference this season.

Odessa fans probably will turn out for the game, because of the large number of Odessa boys on the Minder squad.

Proceeds of the game will go to the Boy's Workshop here, maintained by the good Optimists.

Football returns to Memorial Stadium Friday night when San Angelo's Bobcats meet Tugboat Jones' Midland High School Bulldogs. The Purple worked out at length Saturday, and hopes to give the Bobcats a rugged time of it Friday night.

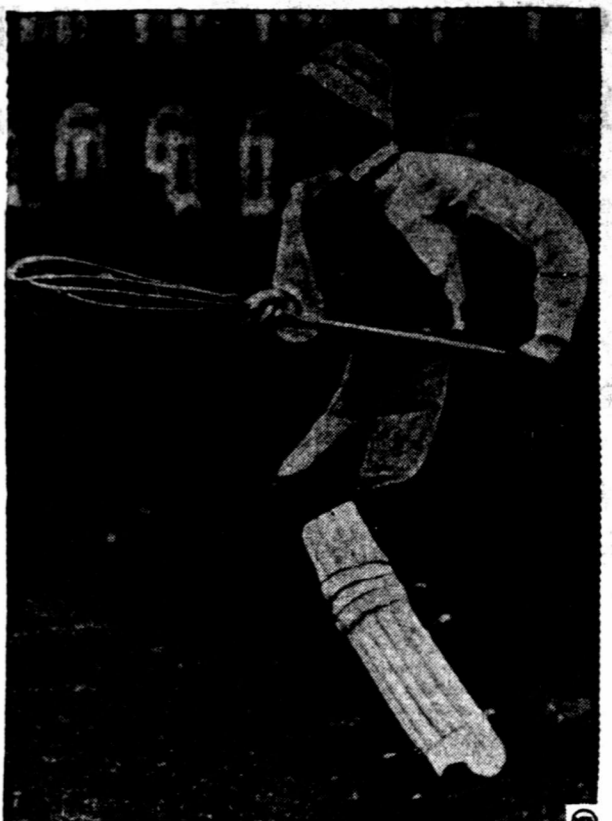

Season grid duets are available in the office of Supt. Frank Monroe at the high school.

Don't get excited—Julio de la Torre hasn't been sold to the Roswell Rockets.

The Rockets third baseman, Dellis, was injured recently and Roswell was allowed to "borrow" a third baseman for the playoffs.

So de la Torre was the man chosen. He hit a home run for the Rockets Sunday—but he's still the property of Midland.

DOTS AND DASHES: That 15-4 record in our frantically futile football forecast this weekend left the percentage at .789... Seminole, although light was the sharpest of the four high school teams we saw last weekend (Denver City, Kermit, Winters and Seminole)... the Indians Jackie Sparks also was best back, as far, we saw... Kermit's Don Handlin no slouch, either... Jack Cox, ex-MHS and Navy cager, wants to play on the Ted Thompson basketball team this winter... Several of the baseballing Midland Indians will be on the team... Cox is a fine hardwood hand... Red Roy, ex-MHS football star, now is the proud poppa of a little fullback... The seven-pound eight-ounce youngster was named James Kyle... And wonder if Kyle Rote's football exploits had anything to do with the naming of the youngster?... That was a large skeet shoot held here by the Midland Gun Club over the weekend... End of The Row for now!

Atomic Radiation Lights Old Camp Fires In Attempts To Trace Prehistoric Man

ANN ARBOR, MICH. (NEA)—Michigan's amateur archaeologists, hot on the trail of ancient man, will have the advantage of an atomic radiation process in their attempts to prove that prehistoric man was here 10,000 to 15,000 years ago.

The amateurs, organized recently as the Michigan State Archaeological Society, are busy cataloging known Indian village sites, burial grounds and mounds throughout the state for future diggings. Many of these sites have been explored before—but not in the light of "Carbon 13."

Carbon 13 is an isotope or variant of common, everyday carbon—the stuff you have left when your Summer campfire simmers down. The Indians, of course, scattered thousands of campfires over this and other states.

In the course of centuries, the common carbon's chemical structure changed and became Carbon 13, which, scientists have learned, disintegrates at a calculable rate over a period of 25,000 years until nothing is left.

Members of the Michigan State Archaeological Society are exploring the highest banks along rivers and creeks, seeking out signs of campfires which glowed centuries ago.

To them, a "lens" of carbon, indicating one of these campfires, is a far more exciting find than a cache of spearheads or the moulding bones of some ancient chief.

The University of Michigan's anthropological division is now using the Carbon 13 technique to calculate dates of prehistoric finds. Dr. Emerson F. Greenman, head of the Great Lakes department of this division, is secretary of the new archaeological group so the work of the amateurs won't go unnoticed.

Hottest find of the season had been the accidental discovery of two Indian skeletons at Elsie, Mich., approximately half-way between Saginaw and Lansing.

A group of youngsters, spading around in a gravel pit area, unearthed the remains. The pit's owner called sheriff's department officers and the officers referred the matter to the Michigan State Police. The last-named wisely turned it over to the professional archaeologists, after amateur archaeologists scented a real discovery.

The find is "hot" because the Indian burials were on a gravel ridge overlooking what geologists know as "Lake Saginaw." Lake Huron, during the retreat of the last ice-age around 15,000 years ago, was as far inland as Elsie—a good 50 miles farther west than now.

If found here, or of other vegetable matter, Greenman thinks it's entirely possible that America's most ancient man, will have been discovered, thanks to the Carbon 13 process.

BUTLERS ARE VISITING IN NORTH CAROLINA

John P. Butler left Sunday for North Carolina, where he will visit his son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. Hap Arnold. Mrs. Butler has been in North Carolina the last week. Lieutenant Arnold returned recently from an assignment in Korea.

FRAGTURED TOE

M. L. Kasey, Jr., 1006 South Dallas Street, a welder, suffered a fractured toe during the weekend at work on a rig. He was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Fighter Plane Spews Long Beach Homes With 1,576 Bullets

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(P)—Set off by a short circuit, 1,576 rounds of .50 caliber machine gun bullets were sprayed into an exclusive North Long Beach residential area Sunday by an anchored Air Force fighter plane.

Twenty-five homes were struck by the bullets. There were no casualties.

Sam McGill, owner of one of the damaged homes, said he counted 18 slugs in his house. "I thought the Russians were here," he exclaimed.

The armor-piercing, incendiary bullets, were fired from a P-51 Mustang fighter plane of the 188th Fighter Squadron, a unit on constant emergency alert. The plane was at its base at the Long Beach Municipal Airport. It was undergoing a routine check.

The trajectory of the bullets carried them over thousands of homes between the airport and the Virginia Country Club. In this area, which is on ground considerably higher than the airport, the bullets came hurtling into homes, garages and automobiles. They sheared off branches of some trees and frightened scores of persons from their beds at 3:45 a.m.

Southern Hunters Warned
One bullet whizzed through the nursery in the Ralph Kemmerer home but missed the two Kemmerer children, Phil, two, and Dawn, four. Mrs. Kemmerer said one slug showered plaster on her bed. Another blasted through the kitchen door, penetrating the steel jacket around a water heater tank.

The Virginia Country Club's seventh fairway was in the direct line of fire and scores of bullets dug destructive divots. Had the bullets been discharged later in the day there might have been several casualties on the fairway alone.

The Air Force issued a warning to souvenir hunters and parents of children who may have picked up bullets. "All the bullets that did not explode when they landed will explode violently if heated or pounded," the warning stated. The bullets are designed to explode as they pierce armor, but few of the slugs hit anything hard enough to explode when they landed.

bigger power than Britain waiting in ambush for us."

He did not mention Russia by name.

Mossadegh told the House the ultimatum would be dispatched to W. Averell Harriman, President Truman's trouble-shooter, for relay to Britain.

Fatimi later said the note would be sent Tuesday afternoon to Iranian Ambassador Nasrollah Entezam in Washington for delivery to Harriman. He said the two-week time limit would start with the dispatch of the ultimatum to Entezam.

'Come And Get Us'

In his Malis speech, Mossadegh referred to talk in political circles of moves to bring a new government to power to solve the four-month-old oil nationalization crisis.

"I hereby declare," he said, "that if I knew any other government would safeguard our interests, I would resign and go, but because I believe to the contrary I am not going to leave this trench until this dispute is solved in the interest of Iran."

Hammering the rostrum, he said: "I declare with a loud voice, Mr. Britain, if you want our oil, come and get it. We will sell it to you."

Cotton—

Production of American-Egyptian cotton was estimated at 45,200 bales, compared with 64,200 last year and 25,400 for the 10-year average.

Production of this type by major states included: Texas 19,000 bales, New Mexico 6,000 and Arizona 20,000.

The percentage of the planted acreage abandoned, the acreage to be harvested, the condition of the crop as of September 1, the yield per acre, and production, respectively, by states included:

Arkansas 4.1 per cent abandoned, 2,251,000 acres to be harvested, 71 per cent of normal, 350 pounds per acre and production 1,640,000 bales; Louisiana 1.4, 996,000, 77, 414 and 850,000; Oklahoma 4.5, 1,600,000, 61, 186 and 623,000; Texas 4, 12,800,000, 63, 183 and 4,800,000; New Mexico 2.4, 330,000, 86, 436 and 300,000; Arizona 0.5, 357,000, 88, 707 and 820,000; California 0.9, 1,329,000, 92, 850 and 1,800,000.

Government Clamps Stiffer Regulations On Appliance Sales

WASHINGTON—(P)—New rules aimed at halting what the Federal Reserve Board termed a growing tendency to make phone "no money down" offers on household appliances were issued Sunday night.

The board issued new regulations for judging trade-in deals on television sets, refrigerators and other appliances under consumer credit controls. Violations may be punished by fines up to $5,000 and jail sentences up to a year.

The board said the new rules do not prevent any dealer from giving "any trade-in allowances, rebates or discounts that he desires," so long as they are "not used as a cloak to conceal evasions of the down payment requirements."

The board said it will consider credit controls have been violated where one or more of these things happens:

The dealer "in fact does not receive delivery and possession" of the article on which he made a trade-in allowance.

The dealer applies against the required down payment a trade-in allowance on property "having a value that was nominal or negligible, or that bore no reasonable relationship" to the allowance.

There has been an "increase in the price of the article sold" to offset the amount allowed for the trade-in.

The dealer does not keep records showing the cash value allowed for trade-in, plus anything else needed to establish that it was a good-faith transaction.

DAV, Auxiliary Pick San Angelo As Meeting Site

Disabled American Veterans posts of Region I and the DAV Auxiliary will hold their next meeting in June at San Angelo.

The groups ended a two-day session in Midland Sunday, which was described as "highly successful" by E. N. Beauchamp, who was in charge of the meeting.

Two top-ranking officers of the auxiliary, Mrs. Viola Shanks, state department commander, Dallas, and Peggy Mae Cole, senior vice commander, Kerrville, were surprise visitors to the convention.

The two auxiliary officers were here to explain to wives of the Midland DAV members the procedure for forming an auxiliary chapter here.

Leonard Miller, a member of the Midland chapter, extended the welcome to delegates in behalf of the host chapter and presented Mrs. Shanks with a bouquet of roses as a tribute to the auxiliary members.

A major problem to come before the session was filling the job of the national representative of the Region I at Lubbock. The group was assured by the officers that a replacement would be made.

Fire Department At Andrews Commended

ANDREWS—Fire Chief Virgil Lasater received a letter last week from Olin Culbertson, secretary of the State Firemen and Fire Marshal Association, commending Andrews Volunteer Fire Department for attaining an outstanding fire record.

A fire record credit is given each city by the state firemen's board by which fire insurance premiums are rated.

In 1948 insurance premiums amounted to $11,562, while fire losses totaled more than $17,000. Andrews was assessed a penalty of 15 per cent on fire insurance premiums the next year.

Since the organization of the volunteers, this 15 per cent penalty has been overcome and Andrews now holds a plus-26 per cent record. Twenty-five per cent credit rating is the maximum amount allowed by the state.

U. S. Destroyer Escort Is Damaged By Red Shore Guns

WASHINGTON—(P)—The U. S. destroyer escort Severling suffered some damage but no casualties Sunday when it received three direct hits from enemy shore guns at Wonsan, the Navy reported.

The ships' number two fire room was flooded and there was other minor damage from the hits and near misses. The escort was able to proceed to Sasebo Naval Base in Japan.

The Navy said combined air and surface bombardments silenced the enemy batteries, knocking out at least nine guns.

The Severling was the thirteenth U. S. ship appreciably damaged or sunk by enemy shellfire in Korea. Several others have received superficial damage.

Firemen Keep Busy Without Fire Calls

The Midland Fire Department had no fire calls during the weekend but was busy just the same.

Two members of the department were called to Andrews Sunday night to furnish a resuscitator and operate it for an automobile accident victim.

Also the department was called to furnish oxygen and mask for a Midland patient, ill at his home.

Police Come Up With Right Answer

All's well that ends well. Police found it easy Sunday to make a complainant happy.

A guest at a tourist court called to say indignantly he found someone in a room he had engaged.

Police simply suggested another room. The guest took it and was happy, he said.

Pakistan Foreign Trade Is Doubled

KARACHI—(P)—Pakistan's foreign trade has more than doubled since the inception of the new state four years ago.

Exports in the year ending March 31, 1951, totalled $508,000,000 while in 1947-48 the figure reached only $240,000,000. The 1950-51 total does not include exports to India.

Leading export commodities were raw cotton, raw jute, and raw wool.

India To End War With Japanese When Treaty Is Effective

TOKYO—(P)—The Indian Mission announced Monday India is ready to end its state of war with Japan "simultaneously with the coming into force of the treaty signed at San Francisco."

India and Burma boycotted the Japanese treaty conference which concluded Saturday with the signing of the document by 49 nations. Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia refused to sign.

K. K. Chettur, head of the Indian liaison mission in Japan, informed Sado Iguchi, acting Japanese foreign minister, of India's intentions. Chettur's letter, dated September 8, said:

"In accordance with the statement made by the prime minister of India (Jawaharal Nehru) in regard to the Japanese peace treaty and the declared intention of the government of India to terminate the state of war between India and Japan at the earliest possible date and to establish full diplomatic relations between the two countries, I have the honor to enclose herewith a draft notification which the government of India proposes to issue simultaneously with the coming into force of the peace treaty which is scheduled for signature at the conference now in session at San Francisco.

"On expressing the hope that the above proposal will be acceptable to the government of Japan, the government of India would be grateful for an early reply."

Iguchi replied: "On behalf of the Japanese government, I have the honor to state that the Japanese government heartily welcomes the intention of the government of India to terminate the state of war between Japan and India and to establish full diplomatic relations between the two countries. x x x"

Rapagos, Military Hero, Wins Ballot Victory In Greece

ATHENS—(P)—Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, military hero who smashed Communist resistance in the Greek Civil War, led decisively Monday in Sunday's voting on leadership in the government.

He had refused privately three times before to take the Greek premiership because he had not been elected by the people.

On the basis of unofficial returns from almost 60 per cent of the nation's precincts, Papagos virtually was sure to take command of the country with an absolute majority in Parliament. He appeared certain of from 90 to 100 of the 260 Parliament seats.

Unofficially dubbed "the man on the white horse," Papagos is a right wing leader counted on by his supporters to lead Greece out of the political instability it has had since it was liberated seven years ago.

Thompson Warns Against Slashing Oil Depletion Rate

AUSTIN—(P)—The United States does not have sufficient oil reserve producing ability for perfect national security, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson reported to Secretary of State Dean Acheson Monday.

The opinion was expressed in a formal report on the Third World Petroleum Congress to which Thompson was an official delegate for the United States.

"The reserve producing ability of the United States in excess of September, 1951, production at most efficient rates of production is about 400,000 barrels per day. This is not enough reserve producing ability for this country to be perfectly safe and secure," Thompson wrote.

"Safety requires that we should have in America an additional one million barrels per day producing ability," he added. "We must drill more wells in order to get this oil for national security."

Thompson urged that no curtailment should be considered in the current 27 1/2 per cent depletion recognition in the income tax law.

"To reduce the depletion allowance would reduce the operator's ability to drill. Only the drill finds oil. Think for one moment how embarrassed we would be were we short of oil," he said.

Hospital were Richard Trigliese, Air Force soldier, of Lancaster, Pa.; John Ashley, Phoenix, Ariz.; Dan Augustine, Wynnet, Ill.; Brenda Lawson, Glendale, Ariz.; Frank Lawson, Glendale, Ariz.; Kenneth Lawson, Glendale, Ariz.; O. D. Trihey, Victor, Ill.; Mrs. W. R. Fields, Taylor, Texas; John L. Turner, Jackson, Miss.; and Mrs. John Wells, Terre Haute, Ind.

Treated at Western Clinic-Hospital were Mrs. Lillian McCarty, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. T. B. Withrow, Dallas; Mrs. Ada Smith, Pittsburgh, Calif.; C. T. Reynolds, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Carl Reynolds, Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Pauline Summers, Sheffield, Ala.

Highway Patrolmen Mac Stout and Byron Warren said the two machines met with terrific impact, almost head-on. The heavy bus, a big red and white American liner, came to rest on top of the sauced automobile, a 1950 model sedan.

Two winch trucks from Midland pulled the bus off the automobile. The automobile, belonging to Bradshaw, with Johnson driving, and Bradshaw with him in the front seat, was traveling east. Miss Bradshaw was in the back seat. The loaded bus was traveling west toward Midland.

A witness, driving behind the Bradshaw vehicle, said the automobile "seemed to swerve right into the path of the bus after a sharp dip to the left shoulder of the road."

Patrolmen surmised the automobile occupants may have fallen asleep.

"It was one of the worst accidents in our experience," said both Stout and Warren. "The bodies were horribly mangled. The bodies of Bradshaw and his sister were taken to the Arrington Funeral Home in Stanton. The body of Johnson was brought to Neunie W. Ellis Chapel in Midland.

Ellis ambulances transported the injured to hospitals here.

California Woman Dies Instantly In Traffic Accident

PECOS—An elderly California woman was killed instantly Saturday night in a car-truck collision 34 miles west of Pecos on U. S. Highway 80.

She was Kathryn Lois Fligg, 67, frequently in the Korean war, primarily to blanket an area which infantrymen are going to attack.

Highway Patrolman George Summerhill of Van Horn said a truck driven by Richard DeSylva of Weatherford skidded 100 yards before it jack-knifed and struck the oncoming car. The truck driver was charged in Van Horn with negligent homicide and the owner of the truck, B. C. Matthews, also of Weatherford, was charged with permitting the driver to drive without proper license and was fined $109.

The body of the dead woman was sent to California Monday.
