Oil Flows At Rate Of 30 BH On DST

Anderson - Pritchard and Green-ber No. 1 Windham ran a one hour flow test at 3,892-3,125 feet. Gas surfaced in five minutes. First came to the top in 20 minutes and oil started flowing out at the surface in 30 minutes. The well flowed oil at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour for 30 minutes. Gravity of the oil was 42.1 degrees. There were no signs of water. Operator is now pulling the test tool.

Humble Is To Drill 8,000-Footer Tester In SE Irion Area

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Pearl Williams is to be an 8,000-foot wildcat in Southeast Irion County to try for production in the Ellenburger. It will be 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 1197, T11R, S11E. Drilling is to start in the near future. The project will be about one mile north of the Schleicher County line, two miles west of the Tom Green County line, and approximately four miles south of the G. W. Strake No. 1-B Winterbotham. Prospective discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime at 6,590-6,608 feet. Some oil was unloaded from that project on a drillstem test of the zone now being tested. Strake's No. 1-B Winterbotham drilled to a total depth of 8,016 feet in the Ellenburger. That formation was entered at 7,610 feet. It did not log any shows of oil or gas.

More Pay Being Found In Humble Kent Exploration

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 W. M. McLaury, one location east of the East Polar-Pennsylvanian field in Southwest Kent County, 23 miles north of Snyder, continues to develop more pay as it drills and cores deeper. This project had its first indications of production in a drillstem test at 6,278-95 feet. It recovered 80 feet of drilling mud and 2,500 feet of free oil during a one hour drillstem test at that interval. That was followed by a one hour and 15 minutes test at 6,294-6,917 feet. Recovery during that investigation was 1,600 feet of oil and 180 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. A third test was taken at 6,914-37 feet. The tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in 25 minutes. Recovery was 500 feet of oil and 100 feet of mud cut oil. There were no signs of formation water in any of the three tests. Operator then cored at 6,937-57 feet. Recovery was 20 feet of lime, with good shows of oil and gas. That section is now being drilled to a depth of 7,000 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 14, block 4, H&ON survey. It is 26 feet high on the top of the Pennsylvanian lime to Kewanee Oil Company No. 5-D Will, the nearest producer in the East Polar-Pennsylvanian field, which is one-quarter of a mile to the west.

New Depth Record Is Set In Central Pecos By Gulf Oil

Gulf Oil Corporation has set a new depth record for oil and gas explorations for West Texas. That concern is No. 1 Theo Winfield et al, Central Pecos County wildcat, nine miles southeast of Fort Stockton had reached 15,315 feet in shale and was coring ahead from that point. At 15,315 feet it was 36 feet deeper than the previous depth record. That distinction had heretofore been held by Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Ada C. Price, another Pecos County wildcat. TD 15,315.

The Phillips project drilled to a bottom of 15,279 feet in barren Ellenburger and was abandoned there in 1944. Phillips No. 1 Price was 12 miles southeast of the location of Gulf No. 1 Winfield. The core on which Gulf No. 1 Winfield is outlying at 15,315 feet was started at 15,270 feet. Operators planned to core to 15,320 feet and then come out. It was hoped that the present core in No. 1 Winfield would find the top of the Ellenburger. So far the Gulf deep wildcat has

Saturday Is Felt Hat Day In Midland

The salesman rubbed his hand lovingly around the crown of the neat felt hat and held it up to catch the morning light. "She's a beauty, isn't she?" he sighed. "The best there is. It took years to collect the finest fur for this model and we may sell one or two." He placed it carefully back on the shelf and picked up another hat. "This is the one that will sell, though," he continued. "It's the standard western model with the thin band and the wide brim and it's just what they've been wearing around here for years. It's still the favorite." But whether they don a $100 model or a $7.50 bargain, Midland men will exchange their straw hats for felt hats on Saturday. For Saturday is official Felt Hat Day in Midland. "It's funny," the salesman continued. "You'd think with all these strangers coming to Midland from the North and East and other places, you'd see more of the conventional felt hats—the snap brims and the pinched crowns with the gay feather in the wide band. "But no. The first thing a newcomer does when he hits Midland is to buy himself a Western hat. "I guess kind the hats we sell are that kind because once a man starts wearing one, I guess he feels like he's a Westerner, sure enough." Other stores in Midland, too, carry a large stock of the neutral-color, narrow-brim western—not the old flapping ten-gallon job, of course, but a respectable grandbaby of the kind worn by the old-time range rider. "Of course, there still is a brisk demand for the more conventional hat. "The styles haven't changed much this year," explained one hat man. "The brims are possibly an eighth of an inch narrower, but the colors are the same and the styles have changed little. "They have the same brims and there's little bright color to them, although there is still the bright little feather, especially in the sportier models. "What about the distinguished-looking homburgs and the derby's? "Well, we have a couple of homburgs in stock," the salesman continued, "and we sell one occasionally. "But, derby hats? If a man walked down the street of Midland wearing one, he'd probably stop all traffic."

Area Plants Given Tax Exemptions To Aid Expansion

WASHINGTON—(AP)—In 110 cases it classified as exceptional the Defense Production Administration (DPA) Thursday approved tax benefits to assist the expansion of plants for defense production. Certificates granted, the amount of outlay approved for tax aid, and the percentage of the cost which may be written off rapidly include: Texas Gas Products Corporation, $4,052,000 for aviation gasoline operations in Upton, Midland, Reagan and Glasscock Counties, Texas, 70 per cent. Phillips Chemical Company, $1,741,000 for sulphur production in Ector County, Texas, 80 per cent.

Those aboard included 12 children, four of them babies. The plane belongs to the Compagnie Alpe-Provence.

Red Radio Hints At Price Of New Armistice Talks

TOKYO—(AP)—The Peiping radio hinted Thursday night the price for resuming Korean truce talks would be Allied admission that all Red truce violation charges are true. The United Nations command has rejected all of a long string of Red charges except one. It admitted the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone Monday. The Peiping radio asserted: "The cease-fire talks could start again immediately and agreement could be reached in a short time if the Americans accepted the military realities" and took the responsibility for all the alleged neutrality violations. The UN command said nothing. It would not even say what was in the latest Red note handed Allied liaison officers Wednesday. The envelope note was handed to Allied liaison officers at Panmunjom, Red outpost southeast of Kaesong, site of suspended Korean armistice talks. The Allied officers had just handed the Reds a note apologizing for the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone by an Allied B-29 bomber on Monday. The command usually releases copies of such notes as soon as they are received from the UN advance headquarters at Munsan. Sources in Korea said spokesmen at the advance headquarters were advised from Tokyo not to disclose the contents of the note until specifically instructed to do so.

Crashes In Alaska Bring Grounding Of Naval Air Squadron

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Naval air squadron in Alaska has been grounded by the Navy for "morale reasons" after a series of recent air crashes there. Francis P. Whitehair, undersecretary of the Navy, said a board of inquiry is investigating the accidents, which claimed 45 lives. Whitehair said three of the crashes involving Privateer bombers were suffered by Patrol Squadron Nine. For "morale reasons," he said, this squadron had been grounded temporarily by the commanding officer of the Alaska Sea Frontier. Death Toll Near 100. In addition to the Navy crashes, nine other craft have crashed or vanished in the Alaskan sector since July. Several were Air Force planes. The toll of dead or missing is close to 100. Whitehair termed the Navy's string of accidents "baffling" and "distracting." The most recent crashup involving the Navy's PB4Y-2, or Privateer, occurred August 24, out of Adak. Whitehair said the Navy hopes a lone survivor "may be able to shed considerable light on the cause of this accident as soon as his condition permits detailed interrogation." "In this case, as in previous accidents," Whitehair wrote, "no information has been received to indicate that the crash was caused by structural weakness of the aircraft." xxx

Government Creates New Super-Priority For Defense 'Musts'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Thursday set up a super-priority to break production bottlenecks in urgent military and atomic programs. The National Production Authority, announcing its new "DX" priority rating, said it hoped it will break an increasing number of logjams in which vital military orders are stalled in plants overloaded with other priority orders, equally entitled to preference. The agency said the new priority is "an emergency device, strictly limited in use," to be applied by the armed forces only when needed to assure completion of highly critical munitions contracts. A special headquarters unit in NPA will have sole power to grant the new rating. If the Army, for example, ran into a snag in the tank program, it would go to NPA for permission to use the "DX" symbol on orders for tank parts and materials. Orders so marked would get the right of way in every factory, overriding other orders which carry the present standard "DO"—or defense order—priority rating.

Here It Is: Your Reporter-Telegram On Writing Paper

It's here... The mechanical writing paper we told you about recently. Yes, this issue of your Midland Reporter-Telegram is printed on mechanical writing paper, which was obtained to help offset the terrible newspaper shortage. The mechanical writing paper is slightly off-white in color, but is a better grade of paper than regular newspaper. It costs more, too. But it is pretty. Yes, The Reporter-Telegram still has a limited supply of the grayish toweling with the crepe removed, on which it has been printing recently. In fact, some copies of the newspaper the last two days have contained three kinds of paper—toweling, regular newspaper and mechanical writing paper. The Reporter-Telegram is using any and all kinds of paper it can get to avoid rationing advertising and limiting circulation.

Santa Claus Gives Preview Of Midland's Christmas Plans

Santa Claus gave a preview of Christmas spirit at a meeting Wednesday afternoon of Midland merchants at the Chamber of Commerce offices. Bright new Christmas decorations will sparkle in the downtown area. The big Christmas parade sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be staged at 7 p.m., Tuesday, November 27. Then there's the thrilling Christmas Treasure Hunt which annually attracts thousands of persons to the show windows of Midland. But, first, a lot of work must be done. The merchants attending the meeting approved the purchase of new garlands of tinsel and lighted Christmas stars to supplement the decorations already bought, and they immediately will begin raising the necessary $2,400. These decorations will cover most of the downtown streets: On Main Street, from Front Street to Illinois Street; on Texas Street, from Colorado Street to Main Street; on Wall Street, from Colorado Street to Weatherford Street, and on Loraine Street, from Wall to Texas. Something New. Gerome Crayum, chairman of the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said his group had been making a study of Christmas decorations several weeks and had accepted the best proposition available. The Texas Electric Service Company will handle the installation. Permanent wiring will be strung between power poles to hold the heavy stars and garlands. "We've found that most merchants believe we should add something new this year to our decorations," Grayum said. "We believe we have found the best proposition

ABILENE —(P)—Players from five clubs shared honors on the Longhorn League's 1951 all-star team selected by sports writers.

Sugar Ray Regains Middleweight Title

NEW YORK —(P)—Sugar Ray Robinson is middleweight champion again after perhaps the greatest battle of his career in stopping Handy Turpin of England in the tenth round.

Two months and two days after he had lost the crown to the 23-year-old Briton in London, the pride of Harlem came back, bloody and tired, to unleash an onslaught which beat Turpin almost to insensibility and forced Referee Ruby Goldstein to spare the short-time title holder further punishment, with only eight seconds to go in the final, pulse stirring round Wednesday night.

TUGBOAT JONES
Head Coach

The largest crowd ever to witness a fight in this country outside the heavyweight division—41,370—packed the Polo Grounds and paid $767,680.96. The negro scored the 128th triumph of his 133-fight career.

Robinson is expected to pick up about $240,000, his richest purse for his 30-minute workout and Turpin about $200,000.

The fight was expected to go at least at $1,000,000 with movie and theater television rights contributing a minimum of $225,000.

Robinson is expected to pick up about $240,000, his richest purse for his 30-minute workout and Turpin about $200,000.

Woodrow Wilson Upsets Scots, 18-0

DALLAS —(P)—Highland Park of Dallas fell Wednesday night in an upset in schoolboy football.

The Scots, always state championship contenders, took an 18-0 drubbing from Woodrow Wilson of Dallas, a team not rated with favorites in its own district.

It was the first game of the week in a state schedule that includes more than 300 contests.

Highland Park and Woodrow Wilson both are AAAA teams, but are in different districts.

The feature AAAA battle sends Texas against Port Arthur at Port Arthur Friday night.

There are 35 more games in Class AAAA this weekend. Class AAA has 41, Class AA 130 and Class A 143.

One of the headline interclass games matches Waco of AAAA and Temple of AAA at Temple Friday night.

Willie Werle, Pittsburgh Pirates' pitcher, majored in entomology at the University of California.

SWC Teams Continue Two-A-Day Workouts

By The Associated Press
Rain splattered most Southwest fields Wednesday but coaches, close to the September 21 starting whistle, held their charges to a two-a-day workout.

Favored Texas A&M worked its top defensive units against the single-wing attack for the September 21 match against UCLA, whose chief attack weapon is the single-wing.

Boylor went through routine drills for its opener with Houston. Ed Monk, offensive tackle, rejoined the squad after 10 days illness.

Rains hampered workouts at Fayetteville, Fort Worth, Austin and Houston, but drills continued. SMU workouts ended shortly before rain fell in Dallas.

The Texas Longhorns worked toward their September 22 opener with Kentucky. Stress was on pass defense with first-line secondary men Bobby Dillon, Bob Raley, June Davis, Bulldog Cunningham and Don Merasac working against the tosses of Quarterback T. Jones.

Fullback Byron Townsend was reported injured.

TCU's frogs, checked by an improved defense in recent scrimmages, showed aggressiveness which brought smiles to coaches' faces.

The Rice Owls concentrated on blocking practice.

Bums' Lead Is Trimmed

By The Associated Press
Title hopes of the New York Giants took on a new spark Wednesday night. Their game with the St. Louis Cards was rained out but Brooklyn lost to Cincinnati, 6-3.

The Dodger lead over the Giants now is five and a half games.

Boston spanked Chicago 7-3 and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 8-6.

The Boston Red Sox gained in the American League race, the third place Sox ripped Detroit, 2-1. New York and Cleveland were idle. Chicago blanked Washington, 3-0.

How Bulldogs Fared In '50

Here's the record the 1950 Midland Bulldog team posted, and the record the 1951 outfit will be trying to beat on the gridiron:

- Midland 14, Ysleta 7.
- Midland 21, Forest (Dallas) 2.
- Midland 20, Mineral Wells 2.
- Midland 21, Sweetwater 6.
- Midland 13, Brownwood 21.
- Midland 26, Plainview 7.
- Midland 54, Big Spring 7.
- Midland 12, Odessa 28.
- Midland 38, Lubbock 33.
- Midland 12, Lamesa 13.

Bobcats Rate Favorites In Opening Game

A near-capacity crowd is expected in Memorial Stadium here when the Midland Bulldogs and the San Angelo Bobcats kickoff at 8 p.m. Friday to open the 1951 grid season.

The Bobcats, from District 1-AAAA, will be rated a one to two touchdown favorite over the Bulldogs, of District 1-AAA.

Both teams have three starters off last year's team, and both have six lettermen. Both, too, will be heavy.

Dykes Says Tribe To Win AL Bunting

PHILADELPHIA —(P)—Cleveland is on top for good, says Manager Jimmy Dykes of the "spilling" Philadelphia Athletics.

"A first class mound corps that's really tough to beat and enough hitting support to do the job make the Tribe the best in the American League right now," Dykes says.

In two months, Dykes' A's collected 21 victories in 36 games, 30 with first division rivals.

During this span the A's dumped the league leaders out of the driver's seat five times. Three times within 22 days it was the New York Yankees.

"Those pitchers of Lopez, are hard to beat. You hardly ever take a close game from them. It's those one and two-run decisions they pack away that's deciding the race," Dykes remarked.

A look at the record of the Cleveland big four bears out Dykes' opinion. Bob Feller (22-7), Mike Garcia (19-11) Bob Lemon (17-11), and Early Wynn (18-12) have accounted for 76 of the 89 games on the win side of the Cleveland ledger. That's better than 80 per cent.

San Angelo's top lineman is Buzz Mills, a two-year letterman at guard, who is rated one of West Texas' top defensive specialists. Quarterback Duane McCullough leads the San Angelo offense.

Midland is stronger, supposedly, on the offensive side of the ledger than last year, and admittedly faster—but defensively, the team has looked much worse than the 1950 outfit which won seven of 10 games.

"We'll have to score at least three times or maybe four a game to win any games," one of the coaches said recently.

Fans expect a rip-snortin' scoring bee out at Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. Friday—and likely they won't be disappointed.

Midland, Plainview Named As Favorites, But Any Conference Team Could Cop The Bunting

What'da ya think about District 1-AAA, this year, Mac?

Somewhat, Midland and Plainview have been named as co-favorites—but don't sell Sweetwater's Mustangs short.

In fact, every team in the district could make a stubborn fight for the crown.

Lamesa, for instance, isn't rated highly in the pre-season talk—but the Tornados have four all-district performers returning, including triple threat quarterback Jerry Millsaps and a pair of rugged ends—Ray Taylor and Marshall Crawford. The Tornados are playing a rugged non-conference slate, meeting Paschal of Fort Worth, Brownwood, Thomas Jefferson of El Paso, Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, and Mineral Wells in addition to family foes in the district.

Big Spring coached by Carl Coleman and moving this year from the split-T formation, is the real darkhorse. The Steers expect their best team since 1940—and that outfit was the district champion. James Ellison, a 290-pound guard, is only one of several big boys in the Steer lineup. Backs Bobby Wheeler and Robert Cobb are expected to make the offense go.

Vernon has 10 lettermen back and is expected to be rugged all the way with a better-than-average backfield. The shortage, if any, is in the line.

Both Big Spring and Vernon have arranged impressive out-of-conference slates, with Vernon's perhaps more impressive. The Lions meet Wichita Falls, Quanah, Pampa, North Side Fort Worth and Altus, Oklahoma.

Big Spring will fight with Quanah, San Angelo, Bowie El Paso, Ysleta and Haskell.

Sweetwater could go all the way, and the Ponies appear to be the logical choice for the crown. Coach Pat Gerald last year said he would "play anyone, anywhere, anytime in 1951." Naturally, with the kickoff time approaching he's changing his tune—but watch the heavy Mustangs. Out of conference, they play a rugged chart showing Abilene, Pampa, Lubbock, San Angelo and Childress.

Plainview's hopes lie with Tom Caskey, an experienced and good halfback who will run behind a big, experienced line. The Bulldogs might give Sweetwater a real go for the bunting. They play Lubbock, Amarillo, Poly Fort Worth, Pampa and Austin of El Paso, other than conference tilts.

Midland? There's a question! Coach Tubgat Jones should have a pair of all-state boys in Ralph Brooks, rugged 180-pound back, and Stan Coker, 225-pound tackle.

Other stars are Dalton Byerley, 215-pound guard; Jimmie Lineberger, end; Larry Friday, back; Pete English, guard, and Dick Spencer, fullback.

A lack of defensive effectiveness might handicap the Bulldogs—but don't sell them short, either.

PAIR OF BROTHER ACTS

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(AP)—There are two brother acts on the Michigan State football team. They are Captain Bob and Bill Carey, twin ends, and Dick and Harry Tamburo, center and halfback respectively.

Oilers Lead Colts 3-1; Broncos Beat Roswell Rockets

ODESSA —(AP)—Pitching was razor-sharp Wednesday night in the Longhorn League playoff series as the Odessa Oilers battled to within one game of the championship round. Big Spring hung on in the other half.

Big Spring, trailing Roswell three games to one, took a 2-1 decision to extend the first round series another day. Odessa took a three to one advantage over San Angelo with the second 2-1 victory of the night.

Big Spring and Roswell move back to Roswell Thursday night for the final game or games of that series.

San Angelo has another game here. Eddie Johnson of Odessa bested Indio Beltran in the mound duel.

Mike Fornelias also gave up five hits and pitched Big Spring back into the playoff picture.

Aggies Hope For Comeback

AP Newsfeatures

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M College has reason to believe it is out of the athletic wilderness. Except in track, A&M hasn't cut any ice at all in Southwest Conference sports for almost a decade. The last football championship was 1941 and it has been a long, long time indeed since Aggie land knew glory in basketball. Seven years before it had managed a title tie in baseball.

The past year found A&M having its best record since 1944.

Coach John Floyd took the basketball team to a tri-championship and the NCAA playoffs.

The track team, which had finished second to Texas in 1950, won the title last Spring.

The baseball team tied Texas for the title and was chosen to represent the Southwest Conference in the national collegiate tournament.

Gulfstream Park race track has a running surface laid on a seven inch cushion of mud for safe, buoyant footing for the horses.

Monroe To Seek

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland schools, will leave by plane Sunday for Washington, where he will ask for permits for steel for two school plants here.

Monroe will confer with Congressman Ken Regan while in Washington. Also he will visit the U. S. Office of Education and the Washington office of the American Association of Schools.

Bonds have been voted for two new school plants here and permits for steel will be necessary when construction begins.

Monroe expects to return to Midland Tuesday of next week.

Stars Fall In National Tourney

BETHLEHEM, PA.—If anyone had told you seven Walker Cup stars would be on the sidelines after three days of competition in the fifty-first National Amateur Golf Championship, you'd probably have recommended a doctor.

That's just what has happened Oklahoma City's Charley Coe is the only big name golfer left in the tournament. Except for Harold Padgett of Aurora, Ohio, all of Coe's Walker Cup teammates, Frank Stranahan, Willie Turnesa, Bobby Knowles, Jimmy McHate, Sam Urzetta, Dick Chapman and Bill Campbell, are on the sidelines.

Defending champion Urzetta, usually a picture of consistency, fell apart Wednesday and was eliminated, 2 and 1, by a 39-year old Mamamonek, N. Y., father of five children.

Before the tumult was over, out went Champan, British amateur champion.

Teeling off in the upper draw Thursday were Jo Gagliardi, Conqueror of Urzetta, Robert E. Evans, Unknown from Cleveland, George E. Victor, from Golf, Ill., Billy Pickard, Charleston, S. C., Tommy Jacobs, Jr., National Junior Champ from Monticello, Calif., Bob Eckis, Kenmore, N. Y., insurance salesman, and Edward P. Martin, East Cambridge, Mass.

The lower half sees Jack Benson, Pittsburgh, Laur Carnel of Dallas, Winner over Chapman, and North Texas State Teachers College star Billy Maxwell of Odessa.

Midland fans won't be confined to watching the Bulldogs, nor the 'B' and 'C' teams this fall.

No sir, for there'll be action a plenty.

Teams will be wearing the colors of John M. Cowden Junior High, South Elementary, North Elementary, Crockett Elementary, Terminal Elementary, DeZavala Elementary, Sam Houston Elementary and Carver School.

Boys are started at their football careers early, playing intra-city competition in "flag" football games in the fifth and sixth grades. In these games, the boys wear football equipment but have a flag stuck in their belt. When an opponent pulls the flag out, the boy totting the ball is "knocked."

After that, they go into Cowden Junior High School and play seventh and eighth grade ball against outside competition.

The next step is the 'C' team. Most boys then go to the 'B' team, finally graduating to the varsity Bulldogs.

"Our athletic set-up in the lower schools is complete," Coach Tugboat Jones reports, "and the help we receive from our elementary and assistant coaches is wonderful."

"When the boys get to the varsity, they should know a little about the game of football."

Retail Food Prices Continue Advancing

WASHINGTON.—Retail food prices rose seven-tenths of one per cent during August to bring the nation-wide index to 227.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Wednesday.

The new figure was one-half of one per cent below the record high of 227.7 reported last July 15, and about 12 per cent above the pre-Korean level.

PAIGE KNOWS WHEN IT'S TIME TO START

ST. LOUIS.—(NEA)—Manager Zack Taylor was more than a little disturbed when Satchel Paige coming on in relief for the Browns in a recent game against the Senators, filled the bases with none out.

"Don't you think it's about time to get somebody out?" he asked the ancient performer, acidly.

"Yassuh, Mister Zack," answered Paige, calmly. "We starts right here."

Sam Mele hit the next pitch into a double play.

ACTOR'S COLT TROTTER

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—(AP)—Movie actor Charles Coburn's two-year-old pacing colt turned out to be a trotter. His "That's My Baby" is a son of the pacing stallion King's Counsel and out of a mare by the world's champion pacer, Billy Direct. That's My Baby was tried on the pace but couldn't go fast enough. Finally trainer Jack Rodman slipped off the hobbles and put the colt to trotting. It now looks as though the youngster might make it at the new gait.

Salvage Crews Seek Bodies Of Three In Crashed Airliner

SAN FRANCISCO—Salvage crews Thursday combed the mudflats of San Francisco Bay and the mangled wreckage of a giant stratosphere airliner, for the bodies of three men killed when the huge plane plummeted into shallow water. The three—two veteran pilots and a flight engineer—were the only ones aboard when the $1,500,000 United Airlines plane went down 20 miles south of here 45 minutes after takeoff from San Francisco Airport Wednesday. Aboard the ship were two United senior captains, Fred Angstadt of Santa Monica, Calif., and Hugh C. "Pop" Worthington, San Mateo, Calif. The flight engineer was Charles Broaden, Millbrae, Calif. By nightfall, searchers had not been able to locate any bodies. However, fragments of bone and flesh were found in the twisted remains of the plane's cockpit. It was presumed the bodies had been thrown into the shallow water around the crash scene.

AOIC Warns Against Buying Iranian Oil

ROME—All Rome newspapers carried advertisements Thursday, signed by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company of London, warning against any dealings in oil with the Iranian government. It was the first public move here by the AOIC to protect its rights to Southern Iranian oil. Italy sometimes has been mentioned as a possible customer for the oil which Iran is attempting to take over by nationalization. PRESBYTERIAN MEN TO HEAR DISTRICT ATTORNEY District Attorney W. O. Shafer of Odessa will be the guest speaker Thursday night at the September meeting of the First Presbyterian Men of Midland. The dinner-meeting is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall. President Ed Stitt will preside. Mrs. James Noland will be presented in several vocal selections as a musical feature of the program. The program was arranged by Murray F. Kin and Hamilton McRae. The Pacific Ocean has an area of 68,634,000 square miles.

Ikard Can Take Seat, Says House Clerk, FBI Men

WASHINGTON—Frank Ikard, newly-elected from Texas' 13th District, can take his seat in Congress, even though he didn't file an election expense account. This view was taken by officials in the House clerk's office and in the Department of Justice. The question was raised in Texas during the campaign. The Federal Corrupt Practices Act calls for filing of expense accounts to 15 days before an election and within 30 days after an election. Observing that the House clerk's office simply acts as a depository for the statements, the officials scoffed at any idea that Congress would refuse to seat an elected candidate because he may have overlooked filing an expense account within the prescribed time limit. ## Use Common Sense to Take Off That Ugly Fat

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra pounds. A rigid diet over a protracted period of time, can also do harm. Why not try the Barconate way as countless others have done, with remarkable results? Barconate contains no harmful drugs. In fact, it contains ingredients to make you feel better. Just go to your drugist and get 4 ounces of liquid Barconate. Pour into a pint bottle and add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take 2 tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off bulky fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here Is the Proof
"I have taken Barconate and gotten wonderful results," writes Mrs. B. L. Peavy, 724 E. 41st St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 14 pounds and I feel so much better. I got rid of all my blot and got and can now get a good night's sleep. I ate anything I wanted."
Lost 13 Pounds
"Barconate not only made me lose weight, but it made me feel so much better," says Mrs. Ida C. Johnson, 702 Scott St., Daught, Texas. "I have already lost 13 pounds taking Barconate."
10 Pounds Lost
"I am very grateful to Barconate," writes Opal McKiver, 208 W. 9th, Bonham, Texas. "I have lost 10 pounds taking this wonderful medicine."

Chickenpox Is Mild Disease, But, Watch Out For Scarring

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The mildest and probably the most common of the contagious diseases of childhood is chickenpox. This disease like the others common to children is likely to come in epidemics but it is probably less of a problem in schools because so many have had it before they reach school age.

Chickenpox is rather a curious disease. Until about four centuries ago, it often was confused with the much more serious smallpox. Although both are caused by viruses, resistance to one does not give resistance to the other.

But chickenpox does have some peculiar relation to another virus disease—shingles or herpes zoster. Just what this is remains somewhat obscure, but children apparently have contracted chickenpox by being exposed to shingles, and grown-ups sometimes have developed shingles after being exposed to chickenpox.

Because chickenpox is so contagious, it is almost impossible to prevent children from being exposed. Fortunately the disease is usually, though not always, mild and about the only thing one needs to be concerned about is the prevention of scarring of the skin from scratching the blister-like pox.

For this purpose, soothing lotions or powders often are helpful. Older children must be warned against scratching, but those who are not yet able to understand may have to have the hands bandaged or splints put on the arms to keep them from scratching.

Local Rules Differ
It usually takes from 10 to 15 days for symptoms of the disease to develop after the child has been exposed. As is true for the other contagious diseases, communities differ on how long they require a youngster to be isolated.

The local rules must be followed, of course, but the American Public Health Association has expressed the opinion that there is no danger of passing the disease to others six days after the appearance of the first pox.

Santa Claus Feels Pinch Of Shortages

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Santa Claus, like everyone else, is feeling the pinch of metal shortages. His bag will be packed with more wooden toys this Christmas and playthings generally will be priced slightly higher.

That was the word from government officials charged with keeping a close eye on materials and prices. They said they based their predictions on information from the toy industry.

These officials said that, in anticipation of metal shortages, more toy makers than had been expected already have shifted to wood. Many will increase their use of plastic. Wood will be used for toys on an even wider scale in 1952.

One official told a reporter that in nine out of 10 cases prices will be higher this year than last. Already Raised
The official explained that many producers increased prices after the Korean outbreak when they swung into production of 1951 toys. The toy industry begins months ahead producing the big volume of playthings for the next year. Therefore the prices for 1951 toys already had been raised when prices were frozen last January.

These were the levels which prevailed last March at the industry's annual fair. At that time most dealers ordered toys for the 1951 holiday season. An official said about 80 per cent of the 1951 supplies have been shipped.

Even higher prices were forecast for 1952.

A government official said a number of toy-makers already have asked and been granted increases under the general manufacturers' ceiling price order. It allows post-Korean increases in costs of raw material and labor to be added to pre-Korean selling prices.

Retailers may pass increased costs on to consumers but may not increase their markups on any item.

It seems to me that chickenpox could well be studied more than it has in recent years. Any disease which is so common might someday become more dangerous and it certainly has interesting features even though, ordinarily, recovery is complete.

Youth Center Chatter

By June Hailip - Joyce Howell - Gail Baker

Hi, everybody! Now that a week and two days of the "drudgery" is over and there are only about eight and a half months more of school, how DO you feel???? Have you learned all that you did NOT know before???

Have you noticed a "different" air about the senior class lately? If so, maybe it is because they all were made "official" seniors last Wednesday when class rings were issued in the high school cafeteria.

Last Friday the first pep rally was held in the MHS gym. Students are getting "warmed up" for the big game with San Angelo Friday night. Many of the exes were there. A few of the exes we saw were Jerelyn Jowell, Lynn Griffith (who left the following day for Baylor University), Dehane Tabor, Mary Jo Hejl, Mary Nell, Margi Cramer, Margi Carter, Katherine Lewis, Peggy Charleton and Toya Chapple.

Peggy and Toya were called upon to assist the '51-'52 cheerleaders in leading the VICTORY yell. Plenty of school spirit was shown by all—students, faculty and exes.

Following the San Angelo game Friday night, a dance will be held in the Youth Center—as there will be after ALL the home games this year. So, fellas, grab your "gals" and come along! Of course, if you'd rather "stag it", you are welcome anyway—so be sure and be there—STAG OR DRAG!! (And "gals", if YOU prefer, YOU can come stag, too!)

MISS Nancy Webb will become MRS. John Tommy Klingler. They are to be married in Nancy's home.

John (grad of '50) plans to continue his education at MIT in Cambridge, Mass., and Nancy (grad of '51) plans to attend Boston University. Congratulations, and the best of luck to you two!

The YC is losing a new member! Yep—although "Dene" "Red" Kelly has been in Midland all Summer, he just recently became a Youth Center member. Now he is returning to Pasadena, Calif., to attend school.

"Red" says he will be back, though, next Summer.

Pete English is just "too, too, chick" in his new chapeau! It is a florentine pink—and we do mean PINK! affair with a cluster of green feathers in the band!

Nell Curran, Nancy Klingler, and Betty Bolton seemed to be having a ray "raffest" "tother" night. The congregation pulled chairs out and took advantage of the cool evening—drizzle and all!

Stan Coker, Pete English, Bill Leonard, Bill Mayfield and Jimmy Adams had quite a time playing football—no, baseball.—no football—oh well—anyway they seemed to be having fun! The game was being played using a football and a broken stick!

CHARLES GILLESPIE and Tommy Patterson wandered our way last week. Visitors, they were—from our neighboring town of Odessa. Russell Huckaby played "host" to the Odessians although he swore he would be an outcast if anyone discovered where the boys were from! (The "coaps" are at the request of Mr. Gillespie: Anything to oblige! Come again, boys!)

Next week you will see a new name in the "by-line" of the YOUTH CENTER SHATTER—Emily Studdert. Emily is going to help on the column, since June and Joyce will be off to college in a week.

So long for another week—you'll hear from us again—same day, same paper, etc. etc.

As this is the last time I will be contributing news regularly to the Youth Center Chatter, I want to tell all our readers just how much I have enjoyed having a part in writing the column. The last two and a half years of work with June Hailip and Gail Baker and all the other teeners who have helped out from time to time, have been a lot of fun. I also want to offer my personal congratulations to Gail Baker who will continue writing the column. In addition to writing the YCC, Gail is the editor of The Bulldog, the high school newspaper, which appears in The Reporter-Telegram each Sunday. I know the column is in "good hands" and I can hardly wait until I return home and can help with the column once again.

This will be my last column, and I bow out now—although I officially did LAST September. It has been fun and I want to wish Gail Baker the best of luck. Here's hoping she enjoys it as much as I did!

—June

Student tickets for the Midland-San Angelo game will be on sale Friday noon at the high school. (Admission is thirty cents.) Be sure and be there to support the BULL-DOGS!! (Here's a hint: WE ARE GOING TO WIN!!!)

One day while in the Center, Mary Jane Miller introduced us to some Odessan visitors—Conley Dean, Billy McQue, and Tommy Hendricks. Glad to meet you boys, and we hope you will visit our Center often.

Among the many persons who have left for school, Giffert Alstair was one of them. "Giff" left Monday for Dallas where he plans to attend school this year.

Girl Scout Troops One and Four had their first meetings of the year Monday night. Following the meeting, Troop One members visited the Youth Center.

While at the Center, Jo Dean Downing, Diana Daugherty, Emily Hamilton, Mary Ann McRae and Camilla Birkhead decided to play "Tangle Up" on the front lawn. Camilla was chosen to be "it", and her job was to untangle the girls' arms after they secretly turned and twisted around to get them tangled. Did you ever succeed, Camilla???

Pat Douglass certainly had on a pretty yellow linen shirt Monday—at least, all the girls thought it was pretty (So did we, Pat!!) Congratulations

Congratulations to Jack Pennington who draws cartoons for the sports page of The Reporter-Telegram. Keep up the good work, Jack! "Wedding bells are ringing in the chapel . . . This is the day that

Grim Days Of Korea War Brought Home By Visit Of Midland Young Navy Man

By TANNER LAINE
 December 15, 1950: "Reds Smash Over U. S. Outposts."
 December 18: "A fiery bombardment by warships and field artillery held at bay another Red Chinese assault on the UN's tiny beachhead in Korea."
 December 19: Allied naval, air and ground forces slam tons of steel at Chinese and Korean Reds pressing down on beachhead."
 December 20: "Allies Repulse Red Stabs At Beachhead... Planned withdrawal proceeding under protective fire of artillery and guns of warships standing in to shore."
 December 20: "Army and Navy big guns reach out and rip enemy when he still is well back from the infantry lines."
 December 28: "UN Forces Brace For Red Attack."
 December 29: "Carrier-based planes strike through snow and haze at Chinese Reds moving down on the tightening UN lines... Warships' barrage help hold Reds at bay."
 January 1: "Reds attack all along 150-mile front—aim to push allies off peninsula."
 January 4: "Reds capture Seoul; INCHON, KOREA—United Nations forces protecting this supply port west of Seoul withdraw by sea while naval guns shelled the path of the approaching reds."
 Remember the headlines of last Christmas and New Year's and the concern for the men in Korea who literally were being pushed into the sea with but a narrow toehold in Korea?
Floating Air Base
 A witness to the Navy's part in the dramatic evacuation at Inchon and the continued harassment of Reds by Naval guns and planes in those tense operations at the time is home on furlough in Midland.
 He is Charles A. Trauber, Jr., airman of the U. S. S. Princeton, a carrier.
 Trauber's ship, a floating air base, was a member of Task Force 77, strong UN flotilla which was off the coast of Korea for weeks.
 "Our planes went out every day," Trauber said.
 The task force contained carriers, battle wagons, cruisers, destroyers and other fighting craft.
 "Yes sir, it was imposing power, I guess," he said modestly.
 A good-looking, blond young man, Airman Trauber is a graduate of Midland High School. He's proud of his ship and his Navy service. His dad is a veteran of naval service in other wars.
 This is the first trip home for young Trauber in 13 long months. He has a 30-day leave while the Princeton is being overhauled at Bremerton, Wash. It had docked at San Diego, Calif.
Pride Is Keen
 But back to Task Force 77, Trauber and Korea.
 "I can't tell you how many planes our carrier has," explained the Navy airman. "But they are fighters that carry a punch, a jet-propelled punch."
 Trauber's job carries him to the flight deck for repair work and fire-fighting duty.
 He likes the pilots, many of whom were reservists pressed back into duty.
 "They never backed up a minute."
 Pride and morale of the carrier are reflected in Trauber's rather guarded remarks about his part in the war.
 He quickly says he's going back to his ship, "as soon as she's ready."

Photographer To Cows Is Successful

HELENA, MONT.—The pampered female was ready to have her picture taken—she had just come from the beauty shop and the photographer was all set up. Then she changed her mind and walked away. But Ed Saxton didn't get mad. He's used to temperamental cows—he makes his living taking pictures of purebred registered cattle.
 "You've got to have a world of patience to get by in this business," Ed claims. "after you've spent about 15 minutes getting the animal in the right pose it may get nervous and move, then you've got to start all over."
 There are only about five full-time beef cattle photographers recognized by the leading livestock publications. It keeps them all jumping to fill the needs of a business very few people hear about.
 Ed got started about 12 years ago at Billins, where he ran a commercial photo shop. He liked to take pictures of horses and cows and kept several large prints in his show window.
 Along came the editor of a Colorado livestock magazine and saw Ed's work. He ordered several prints for covers and told Ed that most purebred cattle breeders need photographs of their top cattle for advertising.
 Ed grabbed his camera and started calling on ranchers and has been doing all right photographing cattle ever since. He was out of it for three years while installing communication systems on Navy ships during the war.
 "I've learned to think like a bull," Ed tells people who ask how he can get animals to pose.
U. S. Official Tours Estates In Malaya
 PENANG—P. Warren S. Lockwood, chief of the Natural Rubber Bureau in Washington, thinks rubber planters in Malaya are doing a good job.
 Lockwood, touring Malaya to urge the production of more rubber powder for road-building said here, "If every American would take the trouble as myself to visit Malaya and see for himself the magnificent job being done in rubber estates under severest odds, I am sure the American government would realize the vital importance of increased use of natural rubber."
 Lockwood is going to Indonesia after completing a 12-day tour in Malaya.
 Lemon Snow makes a delightful hot weather dessert. Since the standard recipe calls for two egg whites, the two egg yolks left over may be used in a soft custard sauce and served over the Snow. Garnish with a little fresh fruit if you like.

Daddy Ringtail :: By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Witch House

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was telling a story to Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, far away in the Great Forest. The story was about little Hansel and Gretel, and the old witch, and her house that was made of candy and cake with chocolate icing for a roof.

How exciting was the story of Hansel and Gretel! But at last they escaped when the old witch was turned into a puff of smoke that went up the chimney. Hansel and Gretel hurried home with money and diamonds, and they both lived happily ever after. Daddy Ringtail explained.

"Umh," said Mugwump, "but Daddy Ringtail, did Hansel and Gretel take some of the witch's house to eat?"

"Well now," said Daddy Ringtail, "I suppose they carried away just enough for lunch, but the rest of the house they left as it was."

"Didn't anybody ever live there any more?" asked Mugwump.

Daddy Ringtail smiled to hear the question, and then he began to tell Mugwump all about it. They walked away through the forest as they talked, and Daddy Ringtail explained how the witch's house was now a home for the witch's great-great-great-great-great-granddaughter.

"Do tell!" said Mugwump. "Yes," said Daddy Ringtail, "and the witch's great-great-great-great-great-granddaughter is really sorta of a witch herself."

"Imagine!" said Mugwump. "Oh," said Daddy Ringtail, "we don't have to imagine it. No sir, because there through the forest ahead of us—look! there you can see the witch house!"

Mugwump looked, and sure enough, there was the witch house with chocolate icing for a roof; chocolate bars for walls; why, there was even a green mailbox all made of peppermint candy.

"I'm hungry," said Mugwump and he hurried closer to begin to nibble at the peppermint candy mailbox.

And what do you think happened next? Why, the witch's great-great-great-great-great-granddaughter came hurrying out of the house to ask Mugwump please to eat all she wanted of her candy house, because anyway she had to cook candy after every rain, all to build her house back again. Happy day!

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation

For Japan, 1951 is truly a year of destiny. Under the terms of the San Francisco Peace Treaty, Japan will win recognition as a "sovereign nation" possessing the right to arm in "self-defense." Though the empire boasted by Japan in 1942, shown above, will be reduced to four main islands, Red China has warned Nippon that if it signs the peace pact without Chinese and Russian participation, it will mean "a declaration of war against these two countries."

Illustrated by Ralph Lane

Today, after six years of occupation, peace and progress are written across the face of Japan. To the traditional farmer in the field, for whom "the reality of man" and "UN representation" are hollow words, democracy has meant improved seed and modern irrigation methods; for others: penicillin, fishing net and sewage drains. But only time can tell whether the Japanese have glimpsed, and will follow, the guiding principles of that star of freedom to which their rickety wagon has been hitched.

Chile's Stage Enjoys Boom

SANTIAGO DE CHILE— Broadway has come to town. Santiago is state-struck, and those who cannot become actors take the papers and writ-criticism of the current plays. Since 1941, university students and graduates have been training and going professional. The Santiago theater audience of today is gaining ground in the long battle against the prosperous film-showing theaters. The University of Chile started an experimental theater. Up to 1943, when their traditional soccer rival, the Catholic University started its testing theater, the University of Chile had shown only classical Spanish plays, with a couple of French and Russian authors thrown in. Wider Choice But competition fostered a wider choice. The cosmopolitan influence is shown not only in the plays chosen, but also in the fact that directors have spent years studying theater in Europe and the United States. Both Universities formed academies of dramatic art, and stag- craft was learned from its essentials. Not all were born actors, and good technicians are always in demand. Now, 10 seasons and some 30 plays later, theater is beginning to spread. The Municipal Theater, vast domed building with excellent acoustics, had formerly been used only for concerts given by Chile's Symphonic orchestra, for operas and ballet. The two university groups play to full houses here, but the magic of a small, intimate theater is lost. More recently, two professional groups have come into being, with their own theaters. Each of these has seating for less than a hundred people, and plays run for as much as four or five months. One of the two groups has only given one play so far, and that in a private showing. The owner of the prosperous Rex theater next door closed it down, calling it immoral. The wide publicity given to this is expected to attract a capacity house when the theater finally does open, with a vehicle approved of by its "chap-erone."

U. S. Mobilization Plan Proceeding Smoothly, But More Speed Could Have Put Strain On Economy

U. S. might pass in review for President Truman and other officials at Fort Benning, Ga. America is getting strong according to a carefully controlled schedule.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The decision of the Pentagon to resist frantic demands for all-out mobilization last summer after the Korean crisis broke, now appears to have been the smartest move the military leaders could have made. That is the biggest single impression this reported has gained from an 11,000-mile, three-month tour of more than 100 key defense installations around the country. With the exceptions noted later, the expansion of the services is going very smoothly and efficiently. On that basis, and the observation of generally high morale among most of the men in service, the Pentagon's broad plan for the future gives good promise of being successful. The plan envisions a force of about 3.5 million men, which it is felt the civilian economy can support indefinitely. It envisions the training of a growing body of reservists as a result of a big input of young men each year, and output of highly-trained men who have served their tours of active duty.

Campaign Against Recklessness Opens
PARIS—(AP)—French prefects have been authorized to take away the licenses of drivers guilty of speeding, recklessness or drunken driving. This is another step in France's current campaign to curb reckless driving and reduce the growing number of deaths on the highway. A government decree gives the new power to the prefects, who are the governing officials for the 96 odd departments into which France is divided. France, however, still has no speed limit for its highways.

Secret Deals—
None of the reports has been confirmed. How he receives supplies also is secret. It seems obvious that someone in authority is looking the other way to permit gun-running. The flow is not believed to be very large. There are several former Nationalist Chinese generals in Hong Kong, who fled from the Communists in 1949 but refused to rejoin Chiang's forces. Most of them are experienced in guerrilla tactics. Asked their evaluation of Li Mi and his guerrilla build-up, they said they were not hopeful. They described his situation as tactically good if he could keep supplies coming, but that sooner or later his supply route would be blocked.

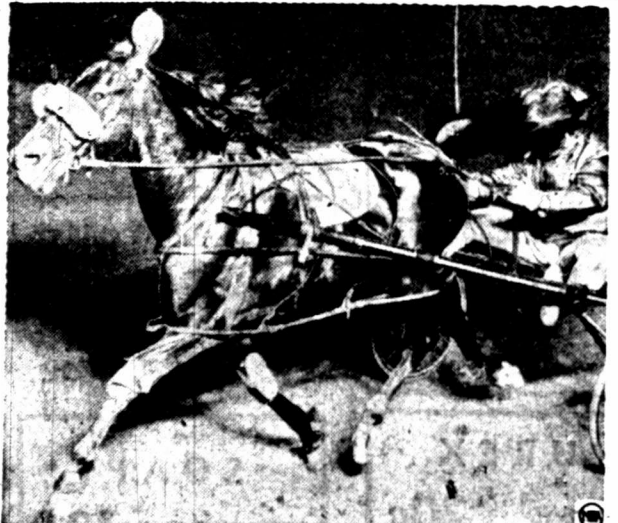

They regard the operation as a secret deal that violates the neutrality of at least two nations and risks war. If Formosa feels disposed to send important help, how is it going to reach Li Mi? Another costly airlift? The financial rain of airlifts in 1948-49 is blamed by some observers with hastening the final downfall of Chiang's army and government on the mainland. Today there's a big difference. The Reds have an air force themselves now. Chinese here who hope for development of a big resistance movement don't fancy Li Mi as its leader. One former Nationalist general commented: "It is too much of a Chiang man to ever cut loose in an independent command, take a firm, bold leadership that would stimulate the unhappy people of China to rush to his aid." "He stands too much for what was licked in 1949. He is not the type of man to become a symbol of free China on the march."

Everywhere you observe America's expanding forces you find proof that the plan is working smoothly. But you also see proof that the expansion is being pushed to the maximum limit of the country's ability to fight a war in Korea and still maintain a relatively normal civilian economy. At Camp Pickett, Va., the 43rd National Guard division was entering an advanced state of training, but the program was constantly dogged by shortages of shoes, clothing, bedding and ammunition. At San Diego, the Navy was turning out an increasing number of newly-trained boots, but the program there was moving in spite of shortages of classroom space. At most expanding Air Force bases, there were just barely enough airplanes, radar equipment and other facilities to meet training needs. At Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, you saw a program that was being pushed just a little too fast, with not enough quarters, medical attention or clothing for several weeks during a big influx of recruits. Fortunately this has been rare, and was quickly corrected. To Maximum Point The point is that the planners appear to be pushing the expansion right up to the maximum point which the training manpower and facilities and equipment available will stand. Despite the minor inconveniences the men face due to expansion their morale is good and they are being kept busy at constructive work and training. And a sampling of public opinion around the country indicates that the average citizen appears perfectly willing to support with increased taxes the present expansion, and senses that it is going well. What the situation would have been today if the U. S. had embarked on all-out mobilization last summer is another story. Hundreds of thousands of men would be just sitting in camps all over the U. S., probably living in tents, waiting for instructors, clothing, guns and all kinds of equipment needed for training. Just about every usable barracks left over from World War II now is occupied on activated posts. Public Disgust Industry would have been completely disrupted trying to supply these needs. And there would be wide public disgust with what was going on, without the presence of a war as an excuse for such confusion. Instead, America is getting strong according to a carefully controlled schedule, the way a boxer would train for a big match. This you see at Pensacola, Fla.

with an increasing number of Naval fliers getting wings in each class. You see it in the excellent state of training and high morale of the 4th Infantry Division which left Ft. Benning, Ga., for Europe and which was just reorganized after the Korean crisis. You see it in the eagerness and efficiency with which federalized members of the Air National Guard units are taking on their new assignments. This is not to say that the build-up is perfect, or without flaws. One of the worst aspects of the expansion of the services is the way the military has not let it interfere with the long week end. Theoretically, work at all bases and headquarters should continue through Saturday morning and resume Monday morning. Actually, at most bases many of the officers begin their week ends about noon on Friday and the big mobilization against Russian aggression slowly resumes full-speed about noon on Monday. At the same time, the expansion seems to have inspired more fancy military protocol and needless red tape. Big receptions for the brass, elaborate ceremonies attending the visits of generals and admirals, and other military pomp seem to be on the increase. Despite this, however, America's growing strength, the way we stand today, is a pretty encouraging picture.

Prisoners Approve Their Sentences
ANTWERP—(AP)—"Hearty thanks, Mr. Judge," the prisoner said as he was being sentenced to six months jail for stealing goods in a railway station in Antwerp. He had already totaled about 15 years in prison for various thefts. Another man seemed also to approve the sentence of six months' prison and $52 fine given to him by another Antwerp court for stealing $4,000 from a company he was working for. "This small sentence will enable me to reimburse the money," he said quietly bowing to the court president.

RADIO AIDS MINES
CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—Three Southern Illinois coal mines have added radio to their operations. Fred Huff, superintendent of the mines, said the two-way FM radio could cut accidents and contribute to greater production. The mines are near Pinckneyville, Elkhart and Shaker.

HEADLESS HORSEMAN—Although you can't tell, it's Wayne (Curly) Smart driving Scottish Fenc. The Castleton Farms' stallion set new world half-mile track records for a mile and one-half, 2:06, and two miles, 4:13 2/5, at Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N.Y. (NEA)

American Travel To Israel Mounts

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL—(AP)—A sharp upswing in the volume of American travel to Israel is reported by the American Express office which opened here a year ago. In 1949, there were 22,000 tourists. Last year 33,000 visitors arrived. This year promises to break that record. One of the principal appeals of Israel is the Holy Land. But visitors also have an opportunity to observe here the day-by-day progress being made by the world's newest republic. The Negev area, for example, was a desert wasteland, populated by wandering Bedouins, a few years ago; but today, because of the government's land reclamation program, it is a fertile agricultural area dotted by communal farm settlements.

Sea anemones resemble delicate flowers. Their dainty "petals" are actually tentacles reaching out to trap unwary shrimps or other small marine prey, according to the National Geographic Society.

Smugglers—

life belt pockets and hollowed-out logs lying conspicuously in the hold," he explained. "One clever smuggler used magnetized metal boxes which he stuck on any steel surface." "Is dope a bartering commodity on the other side?" "Certainly is," Lipsky said, "but thieves fall out. Some seamen take gold to Europe and bring narcotics back. Others deal in nylons, canned goods and clothes. Then, a short time ago, sailors discovered they were getting phony money abroad for their contraband. Now they insist on the payoff being in dope." "This is the essence of the dope addiction scourge that is gripping young America today."

RED DAILY IN TROUBLE
BRUSSELS—(AP)—The Belgian official Communist daily newspaper "Drapeau Rouge" is suffering financial difficulties. Daily articles and boxes call the newspaper's readers to "Help avoid the paper being forced to cease publication." A leaflet inserted in one issue of the Red paper called on "its reader friends" to answer a few questions. Sample: "Would you prefer the paper title in red or black?" "Do you think the title in red ink would help increase circulation?" Oldest modern city in the New World is Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

Douglas Lives Up To Billing

No Party-Life For Him: Senator Douglas said he'd shun Washington's social whirl—and meant it. Here he relaxes at home with his wife and daughter Jean.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—When newly-elected Sen. Paul Douglas showed up to be sworn in at the 81st Congress, most observers looked at the huge, ungainly, rumped man a little dubiously.

Like so many big Washington entrances before his, the advance notices seemed too good. Nobody could be as smart and as honest as he was being billed. Then, contrary to past experiences with over-bally-hooded rookies, the Douglas batting average started soaring.

The cynics among the press corps were the first Douglas converts. And today there's probably not a single man in Washington who enjoys such unanimous respect of the town's reporters.

First, it turned out he has no press agent. That's unheard of. Then it turned out he actually wrote his own speeches, in ink in a scrawling long-hand on yellow legal sheets—also unheard of. They turned out to be darn good speeches which quickly earned the interest of his colleagues which few first-year men ever do.

Standard Procedure

It's standard procedure for a new official to declare he'll "ave no truck with the town's vaunted social life. To the amazement of all, Douglas lived up to his claim and never hit the high-proof paths. He even had the audacity to suggest publicly that if some of his fellow Senators would leave the stuff alone between five and 12 the upper chamber would get more work done.

About that time people outside of Washington began taking notice of this upstart from Chicago.

Douglas had pretty well scotched the pinko label his unsuccessful opponent, Sen. "Curley" Brooks, had tried to pin on him, by winning the election with a 406,000-vote majority.

But he was an avowed and outspoken liberal, and everyone eagerly waited to see what impact he'd have on the Senate that seemed dedicated to keeping cozy with a right-wing trend in the country. He quickly showed them a brand of independent liberalism which they hadn't seen in years.

Strong Backing

Although he had strong labor backing in his campaign, he refused to go along with labor's blatant demands for all-out repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. He said there was some good in it. Then he astonished the Senate by making a speech expressing some sympathy for the Southern members' side on the President's civil rights program.

When he voted against an amendment which would have forced a non-segregation restriction in an important housing bill he brought gasps of astonishment from the gallery. He explained that he felt the amendment was "not offered in good faith, but to wreck the bill, and therefore he was opposed to it."

About that time he took time off to write about life as a freshman Senator.

"Only the toad beneath the harrow can really feel the sharpness of the prongs. One must live the life of a Senator to know its pains. It is a soul-trying experience after weighing evidence and conflicting claims and interests to be compelled to decide what is best for the people of the United States and then, as one must, to assume full responsibility for that decision. And the strain is intensified by the fact that one is forced to make many such fundamental decisions in the midst of a crushing burden of routine work."

Humble Attitude

It was largely this fresh, humble attitude that led Democratic state leaders in a poll to elect Douglas as their first choice after Truman for Presidential candidate in 1952.

There are those who say that this poll is the real cause of the growing feud between Truman and Douglas. Douglas insists he feels no real ill will toward the President. Others say the basis for the trouble is Douglas' insistence that the biggest spender isn't necessarily the biggest liberal, which has led to Douglas' budget pairing activities.

In the midst of his feud with the President Douglas still goes along with an earlier statement on party loyalty:

"Support one's party in all procedural matters everywhere. Argue substantive programs within party caucuses in the hope of gaining a majority, within the party. But when the chips are down in the Senate, a Senator should vote his profound individual convictions on substantive matters regardless of who is with or against him."

Recreation Center Is Former Castle

BERLIN—(AP)—The East German government has turned over to the Communist "Young Pioneers" a Hohenzollern castle in Dresden to be used as a recreation center.

The Albrechtsberg Castle, built a century ago for the brother of Kaiser Wilhelm I, has been used as a Soviet tourist hotel-restaurant since 1945.

The "Young Pioneers" are the age group from six to 14 from which East German youth graduate into the blue-shirted FDJ.

INDIA BUYS ADS

NEW DELHI—(AP)—The Indian government in 1950-51 spent $126,000 towards advertisement in 158 English and 484 Indian language newspapers. Information Minister R. R. Diwakar announced in Parliament.

Many Chinese Yearn To Fight Commies

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Tan Kok Chor, leader of the pro-Nationalist Chinese in Singapore colony, says thousands of Chinese here and in Malaysia would volunteer to fight against the Chinese Communists—if they could.

Tan explained that under the state of emergency in Singapore and Malaysia in the war against Red terrorists that no recruiting could be undertaken.

Tan said proof of the fact that many Chinese would join up with the Chinese Nationalists is that there are "many Chinese in the colony today who are voluntarily risking their lives to help the government against Communism."

MODEL HOUSE PROJECT

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The University of California is building a model house in which six senior home economics students will live each semester. They will get training as teachers of modern living methods. The three-bedroom house with an apartment for the director and modern equipment will cost $60,000.

INDIANS SHUN RUSSIA

NEW DELHI—(AP)—Only five Indian students during the past three years desired to go to Russia for higher studies but none went because of lack of proper facilities there. Education Minister Maulana Abul Kalam Azad told questioners in Parliament.
