Kirk Douglas Getting Plenty Of Fresh Air In New Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: Kirk Douglas, who was about as outdoorsy as Ronald Coleman when he began his movie career, still is choking over the open air movie roles that are falling his way.

Uncle Dan Has Right Idea

Uncle Dan Vinson's idea of providing toys to police departments for distribution at Christmas time to underprivileged children, 2,000,000 of them, is a marvelous undertaking which undoubtedly will benefit both the youngsters and the policemen involved.

Then, checking further, Uncle Dan was horrified to find that many officers have a natural distrust, and perhaps in some instances a dislike, for underprivileged kids.

Unfortunately, this condition exists in most cities and communities throughout the nation, and if Uncle Dan's idea works, the kids and the cops will be brought together at Christmas time, under conditions which just naturally promote friendship and understanding among all persons.

Uncle Dan's idea brings to mind a suggestion offered recently by a Reporter-Telegram reader that this newspaper conduct a campaign to promote a closer bond of friendship between policemen and citizens in general.

Just a friendly exchange of greetings when passing on the street or sidewalk would work wonders in promoting friendship between Friend Officer and Friend Citizen.

Yes, peace officers should be numbered among our best friends, and as such, they are entitled to the same respect and consideration afforded our very best friends.

Much can and should be done to bring about a closer bond of friendship between citizen and policeman.

Uncle Dan's Christmas toy idea is a step in the right direction.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: HST pans Ohio's Democratic Governor Lausche; RFC almost lends millions to suspect saboteurs; Harvey Company uses political pressure to browbeat officials.

WASHINGTON—Jovial Mike DiSalle, the price administrator, went down to the White House the other day and broke the news to President Truman that he wanted to retire from his prickly, unpopular price job on December 1.

Turman vigorously demurred. He protested that Mike must stay on, finally agreed only that he would discuss the matter again with DiSalle in November.

During the course of the conversation, the President asked DiSalle what he wanted to do when he went back to private life, and the price administrator replied he wanted to wait and see what Frank Lausche, the present Democratic governor of Ohio, did. Lausche, who refused to oppose Taft last year, is popular with Republicans and may run against GOP Senator Bricker.

"When we have a Democratic senator from Ohio," shot back the President, "let's have a real Democrat. Not a counterfeiter like that fellow Lausche."

Huge Loan Stopped Forty-six million dollars may not seem like a lot of money in these days of huge billion-dollar defenses, but several hundred thousand dollars and little taxpayers have to chip in to the withholding taxes every week to raise it.

With this backing, the Harveys camped out in California Congressmen King's office as if they owned it, became so insolent with War Assets Administrator Jess Larson that he almost threw Leo Harvey out of the office, and so riled Secretary of the Interior Chapman that he described Harvey as "impossible."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Dick Kahn was unquestionably the star of the recent national tournament held by the American Contract Bridge League in Washington. The young New York expert was a member of the team that won the Mixed Team championship, played on a different team that got to the semi-final round of the Open Team championship, and won the Master's Paid championship with Peter Leventratt. He'll need an extra room at his Card School just to hold the trophies.

One reason for his success is that he is a very accurate bidder. The hand shown today is taken from one of the early rounds of the team championship. The other team climbed all the way up to one no-trump and then collapsed. When the dummy came down the declarer discovered that he had mised a game.

As usual in such cases, there was much recrimination. North said he had made one try for a game by bidding his four-card major rather than his five-card minor.

However, each time a government bureau balked at Harvey's terms, he would unloose the congressional wolves, which came swarming down on the executive branch of the government yelling monopoly and claiming that all government orders were going to three aluminum firms—Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser.

This desire to help little business and to broaden the president's monopoly of aluminum was the chief and justifiable reason why men like Jess Larson and Oscar Chapman stuck with the deal.

Chapman, however, almost threw in the sponge when he discovered that his former assistant secretary of the Interior, Girard Davidson, was one of the Harvey lobbying team, employed to push through the $46,000,000 loan.

Had they done so, they would have discovered not only the damning facts published by this column yesterday, but such notations as that of Commander J. S. Arnold, USN, who was stationed at the Harvey plant during the war:

"The Harvey family repeatedly put pressure on the Navy Department inspectors and were entirely unethical in dealing with the Navy Department." Commander Arnold wrote. He added that he could not induce the company to work on a 24-hour schedule nor on Sunday's despite the Navy's need for shells.

Another significant paragraph in government files is a statement by John T. Hughes, personnel manager for Harvey. Interviewed by government inspectors, he stated:

"The Harvey family is a group of individuals who thought they could buy anything on any person." In the present case, some officials feel that the Harvey company tried to bulldoze more than buy their way into one of the biggest loans of the cold-war period. For the time being, however, that loan has been stopped.

Crows Must Have Read Newspaper

PLYMOUTH, N. C. (AP)—Do crows read newspapers? W. V. Hays, Washington County farm agent for the State College Extension Service, thinks perhaps they do.

Hays said the County Wildlife Club recently arranged a "crow shoot" for one afternoon at 5 p.m., when the crows came in to roost—or were supposed to. The event, based on a successful shoot held last year, was well publicized in the local paper.

"The crows," says the county agent, "must have read the paper, since only one crow made his appearance. It is thought he was just passing through—which he did in a hurry."

MACHINE AGE NOTE

WASHINGTON COLUMN

NATO Members In Ottawa Worry Over U. S. Aid Cuts

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Problems before the North Atlantic Treaty Council at Ottawa are largely economic and apt to be dry as dust. They are important, however, in that they'll prepare the ground for the NATO Council and military meetings in Rome at the end of October. Also, they'll make a first report on the organization of defense production in the NATO countries.

The Ottawa session will be the seventh NATO Council meeting. The first was held in Washington in September, 1949. Foreign secretaries, Defense secretaries and Treasury secretaries for the United States, Canada and the 10 European countries all will be there. The deputy foreign secretaries in charge of NATO affairs will be there. They have their headquarters in London, with Charles L. Spofford as American representative and chairman.

Since the last meeting of the NATO Council in Brussels last December, when General Eisenhower was named commander-in-chief, the NATO organization has been considerably streamlined. Under the deputies there are a Defense Production Board (DPB) and a Finance and Economic Board (FEB). William Herold, International General Electric president, is U. S. member and chairman of DPB. William L. Batt, head of American SKF Industries, is U. S. member and chairman of the FEB.

Both these organizations will make their first reports to the council. Sessions will be presided over by Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium, the council president.

Ike Remains In Europe General Eisenhower will not be at the Ottawa meeting, although he is expected to be in Rome. At Ottawa he will be represented by his chief of staff, Gen. Alfred M. Grantham.

The Joint Standing Group, which really is General Eisenhower's boss, will be at Ottawa in an advisory capacity only, since this is not primarily a military meeting. On JSG are Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff of the U. S., Gen. Paul Ely of France and Air Chief Marshal Sir William Elliot of Britain. Adm. Gerald Wright of the U. S. Navy serves as representative for General Bradley on this full-time planning group, which has its headquarters in Washington.

All these officials and their staffs and assistants will be quartered in Ottawa's Chateau Laurier. For all except the very top brass and brain, they'll be quartered two to a room.

BY WILL HENRY

THE STORY: John Clayton, Confederate soldier, goes West after the Civil War, following a gun deal with a crooked gambler in Kansas City he is engaged to marry. On the road he is disturbed by the presence of a white man who he believes is trying to arrange a treaty with the Indians.

I told him I didn't know, that you came from far to the south of the Father of Waters, but that you were mighty in war, making big humbuns with the little guns.

"What is humbun?" I asked, my curiosity aroused by Dull Knife's interest in me, with its supposition I was an Indian.

"Strong medicine," Geary replied. "The chief was impressed. He paid you an Indian compliment."

"How so?" "Said you were unquestionably a chief among your own people. That you had the eyes and beak of the hawk."

GEARY and I seated ourselves with the Army scouts, alongside Taylor's tent, a privilege arranged earlier through Captain Fetterman. Looking over the vast, restless panoramas of savagery, I was struck with the queer feeling that something was unnatural about the whole picture.

"It's the silence," Geary said. "You find it only in Indian gatherings. Always dumfounded a white man first time he locks horns with it."

Ruby Padgett of Midland was the maid of honor. She wore a melon-colored dress of lace and net over taffeta. It was fashioned with a small lace cape over a strapless shirred net bodice and a fitted lace midriff. The full skirt was ballerina length. She wore a Juliet cap of matching net and carried a nosegay of carnations to match her dress.

Carolyn Mairdoch, niece of the bride, lighted the candles and Charles Dunlap, Jr., of Oklahoma City, brother of the bride, was the usher. Arthur Smallwood of Slaton, twin brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Bridal Gown Described

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of imported white chantilly lace over satin. A tiny bolero with a roll collar was worn over the strapless bodice which was trimmed with a band of net at the top. The full ballerina length skirt, shirred at the waistline, fell into soft folds of lace with scalloped edges. The skirt was worn over crinoline to emphasize its fullness. The bride's veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace cap outlined with a halo of net entwined with pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with white rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church following the ceremony.

For traveling, the bride chose a classic-styled cocoa gabardine suit with dark brown accessories.

Mrs. Smallwood was graduated in 1948 from Texas Technological College in Lubbock. She now is employed by Shell Oil Company in Midland. The bridegroom attended Southland schools. At present he is employed by the Coca Cola Bottling Company in Odessa.

GUEST SPEAKER—Mrs. Kyle Blackerby of Coleman will be the guest speaker at the Midland Woman's Club meeting at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Nurse's Home of Midland Memorial Hospital. She will speak on "Home and Family." The Modern Study Club will be the hostess club.

CHAPTER GIVES COKE PARTY

The Alpha Theta Chapter No. 581, Unit 2 of Nu Phi Mu Sorority started its rush activities recently with a coke party in the home of Mrs. Randolph Rubin. Guests included Joanne Himmel, Norma Gentry and Elizabeth Houston.

Evidence has been found that sheep were domesticated in the stone ages.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Top Hat

It happened this morning in the Great Forest. Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was saying to himself: "Tsk! Tsk! Tsk! and ah me!"

And why did he say it? Why was he shaking his head from side to side as though he had a very great problem? Well, Daddy Ringtail knew that tomorrow, September 20, was going to be another birthday for Grandmother Ringtail. Grandmother Ringtail has a birthday every year on the 20th day of September.

And what was a problem about it? Well, every year, Grandmother

By WESLEY DAVIS

Yes, and Grandmother Ringtail was right, of course. No need to fret about a something that can't be helped. But Daddy Ringtail was hoping and hoping he could think of something to make the birthday

He thought and thought, and searched through all the thoughts he had in his head, until—Daddy Ringtail began to smile. Yes!

He hurried in the house to get the tall hat he used to wear in the Winter time. Ah yes, the tall hat stood high on his head, just as it used to do every Winter when the Rainmaker (the rascal!) would knock the hat off with a snowball. Daddy Ringtail hurried out beneath the trees with the hat on top of his head. And why was he doing all this?

Well, Daddy Ringtail had seen a somebody coming. The somebody was the Rainmaker (the rascal!) who liked very much to throw snowballs at the tall top hat on Daddy Ringtail's head. Oh, the day was much too hot for snowballs, remember.

Yes, but why be a Rainmaker-man if you can't be a Snowmaker-man when you want to? No reason at all, and so the Rainmaker said his magic words for snow, and the snow came snowing down for a cold, cold day. And the Rainmaker threw the snowballs at the top hat, and Daddy Ringtail laughed, and Grandmother Ringtail even threw a snowball for fun herself—all on a very happy birthday. Happy day!

Average Mug Of Java Great U.S. Tragedy, Avows Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The great American tragedy today is the average cup of coffee.

The average cup of coffee is what the average man gets when he asks for a good cup of coffee.

It makes him madder than corruption in government, the decline of youthful morals, or a hole in his sock.

He is willing to put up with most of the blemishes of an imperfect world. He will face up to the fact life has him behind the eight-ball; he will, under pressure, admit to certain small defects in his own character; he does not, ordinarily, complain that all horse races are fixed just because the horse he bet on lost.

In most things, he will take the bitter with the sweet. But not when it comes to his cup of coffee. Here he stands four-square against any compromise. He wants exactly what he wants, and nothing else will make him happy.

The Real Issue

And the real issue before the people every day is: how to get a good cup of coffee. Not a good cup of nickel coffee. That issue has been lost. The problem is where to get an honest-to-goodness cup of coffee that will reach down into the gnawing morning anxiety of a man and say, "There, there, everything's going to be all right today."

Give a man the wrong cup of coffee, however, and nothing can make his day right. He will criticize his own mother-in-law and detect flaws in her daughter. He'll sing a song of woe until twilight.

Why is it so difficult to get a good cup of coffee? Brewing it is no magic art, handed down secretly from generation to generation. Basically, it is the alchemy of coffee, water and time. You mix them together in the proper proportions—and you get good coffee.

Hot, Black, Strong
The classic formula for coffee: "It should be hot as hades, black as midnight, and strong as a good woman's love."

If you get a cupful of that, it doesn't make much difference whether somebody dropped eggshells in the pot to settle it. You can thicken it with sugar, or thin it with fat cream. But you can't wreck it.

The average cup of drugstore or cafeteria coffee, however, is more likely to be nothing but lukewarm, grey liquid fog caught in crockery. It has the personality of swamp mist, strained through sulphur, and bitter as an old regret.

VERY MUCH ON THE BALL—A string saver for 36 years is Edwin Hoyoss of Minneapolis, Minn., and the fruits of his hobby are all wrapped up in this eight-foot ball, weighing 147 pounds. Because the big one is too much to move around, Hoyoss collects string in small balls upstairs and then transfers it to the big ball string in his basement.

Best Way To Get Rid Of Rats Is Clean Up Homes, Garbage

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
If our cities should someday lie in ruins as a result of a rain of death and destruction, rats in all probability would thrive mightily. Of all the warm blooded beasts, rats are the most likely to survive and inherit the earth if we insist on blowing it up for our own kind.

Even without disaster, rats are our enemies since they carry diseases like plague, eat our food, destroy our crops, and even bite us on occasion.

Rats are fierce, resourceful and increase their numbers at tremendous rates. They are hard to trap, to poison, or to kill in other ways—they learn to avoid traps and poisons with remarkable ingenuity.

But if we would avoid a whole host of dangers and economic drains we must keep battling these pests even though it will be difficult if not impossible to conquer them completely.

From Baltimore, where a few years ago a report came of almost a hundred people who were bitten by rats badly enough to require hospital treatment, comes an interesting study of rat control. Traps, cats, and poisons can keep the rat population low, but the lower it gets the harder it is to catch or kill the remaining animals.

But rats must eat and have places to make their nests. This is all well known, of course, but in this Baltimore study the rat population of three blocks treated by different degrees of sanitation was compared. The more the rat food—garbage—was cleaned up, and the fewer places there were for rats to nest—cleaning up the houses—the fewer rats were left.

Menace Of Rats
By sanitation, starvation, cats, traps and poisons the number of rats can be further reduced. This will lessen our chances of catching several serious diseases and it will save us other troubles.

Rats have chewed holes in dams and started floods, they have started fires by chewing matches, they eat corn on the farm—a single rat eats 40 or 50 pounds in a year—they destroy poultry, wild birds, bulbs and plants and they often ruin merchandise.

It even has been reported that one circus magnate had to kill three elephants because rats had chewed their feet. And I can't think of a single thing which rats do which is favorable to human beings.

Dan Hudson Named Sales Manager Of Fort Worth Hotel

Dan Hudson, former manager of the Petroleum Club of Midland, has been named sales manager of the new Western Hills Hotel at Fort Worth. He assumed his duties there Tuesday.

Hudson, a native of Fort Worth, resigned last month as manager of the Midland Petroleum Club, a position he had held since the club was founded in 1944.

He is a former manager of Hotel Scharbauer here and of the Settles Hotel in Big Spring, and has served as assistant manager of Hotel Texas in Fort Worth, Gunter and Plaza Hotels in San Antonio, the Baker and Adolphus Hotels in Dallas and the Rice Hotel in Houston. He resigned as manager of Hotel Scharbauer to enter the U. S. Army as a captain during World War II. He also is a World War I veteran.

Long active in civic and club affairs here, Hudson also holds memberships in the Texas Hotel Association and the Club Managers Association of America. He is one of Texas' best-known hotel men.

He left Fort Worth Tuesday on his first West Texas goodwill tour for the swank new hotel at Fort Worth, and is scheduled to be in Midland Thursday.

Mrs. Hudson said Wednesday she will move to Fort Worth soon to join her husband in establishing their new home there. They reside at 1008 North D Street in Midland.

Odessa, Midland, Kermit, Pecos, Stanton Picked To Win Grid Games

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

Two of the state's top grid games are scheduled in West Texas this week, with Port Arthur playing at Odessa and Wink going to Kermit.

Port Arthur, the state's number one team, comes into Odessa highly favored—but going right out on a limb. The Reporter-Telegram sports department picks Odessa in the upset of the week, 13 to 7.

The other top-rated game is at Kermit, where the Yellow Jackets tie into the potent Wink Wildcats. Last year, when both were in District 5-A (Kermit now is in 8-AA), Wink lost to the powerful Yellow Jackets by a single point—7 to 6. Kermit, while strong, isn't as powerful as last year's great team, and Wink expects to be stronger. That would indicate this is a Wink year, but The Reporter-Telegram strings along with Kermit in a whole of a battle, 20 to 13. The running of Don Handlin and the strong Kermit line should be able to overcome Bobby Vinson's passes and Dan Villarreal's scampering.

Another important non-district clash takes place at Ysleta, where Tugboat Jones' Midland Bulldogs vie with Roger McAdams' Ysleta Indians. Midland won last year, 14 to 7, but Ysleta has nine starters back off its '50 outfit while Midland has none.

Nonetheless, Midland gets the nod here by the skin of its teeth, in a 21 to 20 high-scoring, depending on Stan Coker to anchor the line and Ralph Brooks to offset the passing of Jesse Whittenton.

Seminole, unscored on in two contests, looks stronger each week in 8-AA—especially after downing Levelland, 12 to 0. This week the Indians travel to Tahoka, with Seminole and its jet back, Jackie Sparks, due to win by about three touchdowns. Make it 20 to 0.

McCamey of 8-A journeys to Pecos to meet the pre-season 8-AA favorite Eagles. The Eagles disappointed with a 27-19 loss to Levelland in 8-AA.

Lamesa runs into Brownwood, and what a battle that should be! Both teams are loaded, and both won last week. We flipped a coin and it said Lamesa, 28 to 27, with touchdowns as plentiful as oil in West Texas.

Other choices around the state are: Pampa 33, Austin (El Paso) 13; North Side (FW) 13, Borger 12; Lubbock 20, Capitol Hill (OC) 7; San Angelo 20, Big Spring 13; Jefferson (EP) 12, Cathedral (EP) 0; Paschal (FW) 14, Highland Park (D) 13; Austin 14, Arlington Heights (FW) 7; Weatherford 13, Fort Worth Tech 7; Poly (FW) 20, Forest (D) 7; Wichita Falls 14, Breckenridge 13; Waco 13, Corsicana 6; Baytown 19, Denison 6; Sunset (D) 14; Tyler 13; Stephenville 20, Mineral Wells 19; Arlington 13; Irving 12.

Still others are: Iraan 21, Ozona 7; Eastland 34, Cross Plains 0; Cisco 33, De Leon 12; Stamford 10, Albany 7; Winters 19, Merkel 7, and Roby 6, Hamlin 0.

In a Saturday night game at Memorial Stadium, we pick the Midland 'B' squad to edge the Snyder 'B' eleven, 19 to 12.

Attendance Down In Texas League
DALLAS — (AP) — Attendance in the Texas League was the lowest since 1942 but it still was 1,345,371, League Secretary Milton Price said Wednesday. This was 303,457 under last year.

Houston gained 77,392 over last year. The Buffs drew 333,201. All other clubs decreased. San Antonio, was only three under last year with 180,577.

Dallas had the biggest loss. The Eagles played to 228,263 compared to 317,592.

The attendance of other clubs: Beaumont 109,893; Port Worth 160,278; Oklahoma City 109,181; Shreveport 78,073; Tulsa 147,907.

Midland High School 'B' Eleven To Meet Snyder Team Here Saturday Night

The Midland High School 'B' team sees its first action of the 1961 grid year Saturday night, taking on the Snyder 'B' team in Memorial Stadium. Kickoff time is slated for 8 p.m.

Coaches John Hugdon and Keith Bobo have been working with a small squad, but have seen signs of promise in several of the boys on the squad.

Standouts in workouts thus far have been Rusty Rutledge, back; Bill Beauchamp, back; Charley Crites, center; Jerry Ball, guard and Jimmy Mashburn, guard.

Other top-flight hands on the eleven include John Crowley, end; Jim Counts, tackle; Don Forest, guard; Jay Vanderpool, end; Irvin Overby, back, and Vernon Carpenter, back.

The Purple 'B' team will play a nine-game schedule this year, meeting several varsity teams from area schools.

Panther Hunt Ends When Gus Shakes Hands With Officer

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — The panther hunt has been called off—it was a Great Dane all the time.

San Antonio's "panther" story got started last week with reports of a "big black cat" and "big black panther."

The "phantom panther" is Gus, a friendly dog who had been missing 24 hours.

Gus, sleek and black and seven feet long from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail, is owned by George Husse.

One look at Gus will convince you that—if you were expecting to see a panther—Gus would look like a panther.

Deputy Sheriff Tony Watt, who's been in the thick of things since the panther reports started coming in, saw Gus Monday night and store he was a panther, until he shook hands with him.

Ralph Kimer, slugging star for the Pittsburgh Pirates, was born in Santa Rita, New Mexico.

'Got To Win Them All,' Says Lippy

CINCINNATI — (AP) — "We've got to win them all."

That was the very quiet observation by Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, after his ball club had climbed to within three games of first place in the National League.

The Giants had just staggered in for a 6 to 3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds while the St. Louis Cardinals were beating Brooklyn.

"I never predict anything. We just play to win today's game," he said.

It was then that he looked into space and said softly, "We've got to win them all."

Leo probably was thinking about the standings, which showed his Giants have lost five more games than the Dodgers.

Vanderbilt Coach Defines Freshman

NASHVILLE — (NEA) — "Freshmen are, at best, an unpredictable group," says Bill Edwards, football coach at Vanderbilt University.

"They are the youth, blind and illogical, but still the future hope of the varsity."

There is the raw spirit that will charge flaming walls — and occasionally break through unscathed. One may cause a coach to die a thousand deaths in a single afternoon, yet that very day reveal ability that will keep the coach looking to the future, all the more desirous of working with him and developing his talents.

Shivers Criticizes Capital Bureaucrats For Oil Grab Effort

NEW YORK—(AP)—Governor Shivers of Texas has criticized Washington "bureaucrats" and said the Supreme Court's Tideland decision is setting "the pattern of socialization."

Shivers, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, addressed the American Bar Association Tuesday.

"Nationalization of the oil and gas industry is the goal of our busy little bureaucrats in Washington," he said.

"You see their fine hand in the promulgation of x x x theories x x x which would simply establish a dictatorship over fuel production in this country."

"You find them whispering in the ears of uninformed congressmen that the Interstate Oil Compact is a conspiracy between states and the oil companies to violate the anti-trust act."

Shivers attacked the Supreme Court's Tideland decision—from which, he said, is "emerging the pattern of socialization."

Cooperative American Way

The court ruled the federal government has paramount rights over the states to oil resources in offshore waters.

The Texas governor, in defending the 22-state Oil Compact Commission, said Texas once got 20 per cent of the oil in a pool, leaving 80 per cent in the ground.

That ratio is about reversed today due to conservation methods which the Interstate Oil Compact had a hand in shaping, Shivers said.

"The Interstate Oil Compact," Shivers went on, "provides another answer to the advocates of federal control. It represents the cooperative American way of getting the job done, with each participating unit maintaining its integrity."

"This is the theory and principal of 'states' rights; translated into effective action."

Warren Will Buy Gulf Interest In Devonian Company

TULSA—(AP)—President W. K. Warren of the Warren Petroleum Corporation said Wednesday his company has arranged to acquire the 25 per cent interest in the common stock of The Devonian Company now held by Gulf Oil Corporation.

Warren said the transaction would make Devonian a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Warren concern and permit the latter to acquire Devonian's organization and personnel.

Devonian, employing 107, has crude oil production averaging 5,478 barrels daily from 358 wells and 3,442,000 cubic feet of gas a day from three gas wells.

The producing properties are in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Mississippi, New Mexico, Texas and Louisiana.

The Warren Corporation acquired a three-quarter interest in Devonian in 1948.

Burvin Hines Back At C. Of C. Desk

Burvin Hines was back at his assistant manager's desk in the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday after 10 months of service with the U. S. Army in Baltimore, Md. He actually assumed his duties Monday, having spent the last two days in Austin in a Midland C. of C. witness in a truck transportation hearing before the Railroad Commission.

Hines was recalled to active Army duty from his reserve status late last year. He served several months at Fort Hood, Texas, before being transferred to Baltimore. He and Mrs. Hines vacationed in New Mexico following his release from Army duty about two weeks ago. He had been associated with the Chamber of Commerce almost a year before being recalled to military duty.

A Lions Club carnival at Terminal Friday night was announced. A short director's meeting was held following the luncheon.

Danes Give Consent To Greek-Turkish Admission To NATO

OTTAWA—(AP)—The last obstacle to an Atlantic Council recommendation that Greece and Turkey be brought into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization apparently was swept away Wednesday by a Danish decision to vote "Yes."

Military leaders of the Atlantic alliance were at work on plans to set up a new NATO Middle East Command centered on Turkey but designed to create a common strategy for anti-Communist forces throughout that area.

These plans were shaped up tentatively by the top-level standing group of the NATO Military Committee. The central idea of a Middle East Command, separate from General Eisenhower's Western European defense structure, is understood to have the backing of the United States joint chiefs of staff.

Dispatches from Copenhagen said Wednesday the Danish government has decided to accept Greek-Turkish membership.

Denmark has opposed extension of the pact into the Eastern Mediterranean region but reconsidered its position in view of the almost solid lineup of Allied countries in favor of it.

U. S. Announces Plan To Revive Iranian Oil Talks

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States Wednesday made public a proposal for reviving deadlocked British-Iranian talks over control of Iran's strategic oil industry.

Presidential Assistant W. Averell Harriman told Iranian Prime Minister Mossadegh Iran must be "practical" if her dispute with Britain—generally viewed as dangerous to Middle Eastern peace—is to be settled.

The proposal called for "competent" management of the Iranian oil industry, under the aegis of the company Iran set up after nationalization; compensation to Britain; and British control of overseas sale and distribution of Iranian oil products.

The king has not been in the best of health for several years and anxiety increased because he has gone through a series of illnesses in recent months. The British press has printed photographs of his tired, taut face, unloading much worried comment.

McCarthy Ouster Action Postponed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senate Elections subcommittee Wednesday postponed action on a resolution aimed at determining whether Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) should be ousted from the Senate.

The delay was asked by Senator Hennings (D-Mo.) a member of the subcommittee. McCarthy had suggested Tuesday that Hennings withdraw from consideration of the ouster proposal, sponsored by Senator Benton (D-Conn.).

Benton said he thinks McCarthy is "worried" about the outcome of the ouster move.

Authority On Texas Voting Laws Dies

OPS Lifts Price Lid On Weddings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Wednesday lifted the lid on the price of getting married by a justice of the peace. It also decontrolled the charges of process servers for delivery of court papers.

These were among 22 services exempted from controls by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS). The OPS took control off the fees of barbers and beauticians—previously exempted by congressional action.

Among services whose fees are exempted are real estate brokers and appraisers, labor relations and public relations counselors, advertising agencies, newspaper carrier and delivery services, notaries public, ticket services, tree surgery and wrecking services.

He said the firm did not get the job.

He described another call, Nov. 29, 1949, arranging an interview for an official of the Wren Manufacturing Company, and a third one Sept. 11, 1950, for Sam Marks, counsel for the Copper City Mining Company. Wren and the mining company already had received their loans, Willett said.

He was not asked immediately for further details.

The Senate investigator already has churned up a Grade A political fight.

Republican members of the investigating subcommittee charged that Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.), Democratic floor leader, was trying to "hamstring" their work.

The subcommittee heard Willett's testimony before calling another former RFC director, Harvey Gunderson.

"At Least 100 Times"

Chairman Hoyt (D-NC) and other subcommittee members questioned Willett closely as to whether Boyle ever had contacted him concerning $645,000 of RFC loans to the American Lithofold Corporation, St. Louis printing firm which got the loans after hiring Boyle as its lawyer.

"To the best of my recollection, I don't ever remember talking to Mr. Boyle about the Lithofold loans," Willett testified.

He said he had discussed the Lithofold applications with James P. Finnegan, former internal revenue collector at St. Louis, now under federal grand jury investigation in that city. But Willett denied knowing Finnegan was working for the Internal Revenue Bureau, saying he was introduced to him as "Judge Finnegan."

Willett testified he had been reached at least 100 times by representatives of the Democratic National Committee for loan applicants or job seekers.

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Allen, chief of information, general headquarters, said the UN liaison officers, accompanied by three correspondents, would meet with the Reds.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, has offered to send liaison officers to the outpost to discuss resumption of armistice talks any time the Reds wished. But he also has insisted the Reds are the ones to say if and when they want the talks taken up again.

The release from Ridgway's headquarters said the United Nations liaison officers who made the investigation Wednesday noted a marked change in the Communists' attitude as they drove through Red territory into Kaesong.

"Almost all the Communist soldiers along the road stood rigidly at attention as the United Nations command party passed," the announcement said. "One soldier held a stiff salute as the convoy entered and left the city."

"Many of the civilians in Kaesong smiled as the UN personnel passed by, in contrast with inscrutable countenances they have shown on other occasions."

Observers Hint Indecisive Barbara May Waver Again

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Franchot Tone may get out of the hospital within a week from the beating he absorbed Friday.

Tone's doctors have removed some of the bandages from his face, which was pounded into a pulp by actor Tom Neal, his rival for the affections of indecisive Barbara Payton.

Miss Payton visited Tone again Tuesday. Her visits are getting later and later and some wouldn't be too shocked if suddenly they ceased.

Barbara has been engaged first to Tone, then Neal, then Tone, and so on. She asserts this time it's Tone for keeps.
