Three Red Planes Raid Seoul Area; One Knocked Down

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA (P)—Allied night fighters blasted one of three raiding Communist planes from the pre-dawn skies near Seoul early Saturday while U. S. infantrymen were locked in an inconclusive slugging match with the Reds on the eastern front.

The raid was one of the rare attempts in the face of Allied air superiority.

One two bombs were dropped without damage. Kimpo and Seoul City air fields were the apparent targets.

Spent 20-millimeter shells from the Allied fighters exploded near Seoul. One of the Communist planes was hit as it fled northwest and went down in flames about 35 miles northwest of Seoul and roughly 10 miles west of the armistice conference city of Kaesong.

The other two planes wheeled north and escaped. In the battlefield, American infantrymen fixed bayonets and twice stormed up the bloody slopes of "Heartbreak Ridge" Saturday in Eastern Korea—only to be thrown back each time.

The renewed assaults on the bitterly-disputed ridge north of Yangju marked the major reported action on the mountainous battlefield.

In northwest Korea—along "Mig Alley"—119 American and Communist swept-wing jet fighters tangled in what probably was history's biggest jet air battle.

Only three Russian-type MIG-15 jets were reported damaged. The dog-fighting lasted 25 minutes, involving 24 U. S. F-86 Sabrejets and 25 MIG-15s. The Air Force reported no U. S. losses.

The new dogfight coincided with a report by the Far East Air Forces that 26 MIG-15s had been shot down or damaged from June 21 to September 20. FEAF reported that in the same 90-day period, Red ground forces had shot down 55 Allied warplanes, including 40 fighter-bombers, using for close support for UN ground forces.

Cold Front Stalls Just Short Of Gulf

By The Associated Press A wet Colorado cold front that invaded Texas earlier in the week with a promise to bring Fall in an schedule had stalled just short of the Gulf of Mexico Saturday night.

Moist Gulf air that blocked the front let showers fall from Brownsville to Beaumont, with Corpus Christi getting 2.41 inches of rain.

Temperatures rose to summery levels as the cold front knocked its head against the Gulf atmosphere. President, in the fabled Big Bend country, had the state's maximum with 88 degrees.

Fall was to make its 1951 debut Sunday afternoon under Springlike skies, according to the Weather Bureau.

Gas Blasts Kill Three In New York

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(P)—A double investigation was underway Saturday in an effort to fix the exact cause of a series of natural gas explosions that claimed three lives in the fashionable suburb of Brighton.

A team of experts from the State Public Service Commission moved in.

The Rochester Gas & Electric Company president, Alexander M. Beebe, said a preliminary investigation indicated a regulator valve in a principal main might have failed.

He added that a workman's flare, left near a vent to the underground regulator vault, could have touched off the rapid-fire explosions, which demolished 16 houses, damaged 24 others and injured between 20 and 25 persons Friday.

The flare had been left to warn pedestrians on a sidewalk construction project.

Owners of the wrecked homes turned sadly to the task of salvaging something from the destruction. They faced a damage bill that may climb close to the $1,000,000 mark.

Just before the blasts, which began about 12:30 p.m., an eight-year-old girl called her father at work and told him the gas was leaking into the basement. William Maas, Jr., told his daughter, May Anne, to turn off the gas completely.

"I tried to and it won't stop," she cried.

She hung up the phone. Seconds later, an explosion tore the house to shreds. Mary Anne and her four-year-old brother, William III, were killed.

The other victim was Mrs. Louis A. Meyer, 77, who died of a heart seizure.

Police Capture Pair Of Thieves

Robbery of Harris' Grocery at 404 East Florida Street last Thursday was believed solved Saturday night. Midland police and sheriff's officers arrested two men with articles identified as stolen from the grocery which lost 20 cartons of cigarettes and 65 pocket knives to thieves.

The two men, one identified as an ex-convict on parole from Utah and the other only 17 years of age, were nabbed after Homer Thornton, 309 South Marlenfeld, returning from a movie, saw them stealing articles from his yard. He called police.

O'Brien, Ex-Mayor Of New York, Dies

NEW YORK (P)—John P. O'Brien, 78, whose brief tenure as mayor of New York began with the biggest plurality ever handed a candidate and ended with one of the smallest, died Saturday night.

O'Brien, a man of acknowledged integrity, became heir to the mayoralty in 1952 in the wake of the Seabury investigation that shook James J. Walker out of office.

WASHINGTON (P)—GOP National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson replied to criticism in the Senate by saying Saturday he had only done his duty in seeking extension of a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan.

TEHRAN, IRAN (P)—Deputy Mohammed Ali Shushtari took refuge in the Parliament building Saturday, saying his life had been threatened because he was one of 14 members who had declared their opposition to Iran's oil nationalization premier, Mohammed Mossadegh.

UN FORCES 'KILL COMMIES' PROJECT—UN forces have launched the biggest armored assault of the Korean war against Communist positions on the central front. Monster tanks support infantrymen moving up to front line positions, where they speared into enemy lines in the Iron Triangle sector in a limited objective attack designated solely to "kill Communists."

College Football Solons Act To Halt Costly Talent For Recruiting Program

WASHINGTON (P)—Army-Air Force arrangements to spend $688,000 on two radio programs to promote recruiting ran in hot Senate opposition Saturday but a military spokesman said there is no plan to drop them.

At issue are plans to sponsor programs featuring singer Frankie Lane and sports broadcaster Bill Stern, on radio networks this Fall and Winter.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he thinks these programs are of "doubtful value," that the draft is "the most effective recruiting agency."

He said he would try this week to have a stipulation written into the spending $50,000,000 defense money bill, to the effect that none of the money can be spent on such programs.

Grand Jury Charges 'Higher-Ups' Tied In With Bombings

DALLAS (P)—A blue-ribbon grand jury, making its final report before its discharge Saturday, said conspiracy to bomb and burn negro-owned Dallas properties "reached into unbelievable places."

Returning three new arson indictments charged that "lay and religious and community groups x x x entered into action x x x that resulted in violence and destruction."

District Judge Henry King, who discharged the grand jury—made up of prominent Dallas business men, including two negroes—said the bomb-firing probe would continue uninterrupted.

Judge King said the October term of the grand jury would carry the ball after law enforcement officers continued the probes begun by the group discharged Saturday.

Indictments returned Saturday included an action against Claude Thomas Wright, previously indicted in the bombings that have terrified South Dallas negroes.

The indictment charges Wright was an accomplice of T. D. Peacock, Jr., and Earl Foster, indicted earlier for burning a house sold to a negro woman.

The other two indictments were against Floyd Foster and George (Continued On Page Four)

End Of Efforts To Regulate Cattle Industry Is Urged

FORT WORTH (P)—Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Saturday demanded that "the ill-conceived effort to regulate the cattle industry be abandoned at once."

In their quarterly meeting here the directors also requested the Army to readjust its grading system for beef by including grades other than choice.

The cattlemen declared they would not take the responsibility for the present shortage of finished cattle but placed the blame on the "imposition of impractical and unworkable regulations and the constant threat of more or even worse controls."

Attorney Joe Montague, Fort Worth, who has been representing the association in Washington opposing the Administration's effort to place a quota program on slaughtering livestock, told the directors the Senate might pass the legislation but he felt sure the House would not.

"The President wanted the quota plan put in operation without even committee hearings," Montague said.

Churchill, Attlee Open Vote Drives

LONDON (P)—Winston Churchill and Clement Attlee squared off Saturday in a general election campaign which may mark the end of socialistic rule in Britain.

Churchill's Conservatives are favored in the betting to win control of Parliament—and thus the government—in the voting October 25.

His "shadow cabinet"—a group of Conservative leaders who undoubtedly will get top government jobs if the party wins—discussed strategy at a two-hour meeting in Churchill's London home.

Prime Minister Attlee's Laborites, split and weary after six years, are seeking to capture the voters' confidence on the basis of their Socialistic record.

Says Winnie Old-Fashioned Attlee told a Labor Party group Saturday at North Berwick, Scotland, that Churchill is an old-fashioned politician who "underestimates the intelligence of the Brit."

Villalobos Is Freed Of Slaying Charge

MEXICO CITY (P)—A federal judge Saturday freed Jose Villalobos of a charge that he killed a Texas sheriff last year.

District Judge Clotario Margall ruled the evidence was insufficient to hold Villalobos for trial and ordered his release. He had been charged with the killing of Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow of Presidio County, Texas, March 12, 1950.

The sheriff, shot by his own pistol, was found dead in his car. Villalobos, who had been a farm worker in Texas, was arrested in Mexico several days later. Officers said they had found his photographs in papers near the sheriff's body.

The U. S. State Dept. said the Mexican extradition. A federal judge ruled against extradition a year ago on the ground there was insufficient evidence to justify it. The case then was submitted to the district court for investigation.

The judge who set Villalobos free said his action was based on numerous contradictions in the testimony of border residents on which the homicide charge was based.

Pedestrian Next Problem As Parallel Parking Passes Test

By COPE ROUTH

Well, bless my bunions and cut off my corns! The poor pedestrian hasn't been forgotten, after all.

The city police led him off on a quiet side street Saturday, gave him a gentle pat on the back, delivered a kindly lecture on his rights and duties and then shook a gentlemanly finger in his face.

It all started when Sgt. Jack Truman began talking on his favorite subject—traffic.

This is only natural since Sergeant Truman is the policeman who is in charge of the police traffic detail and has kept a sharp eye during the last week on the effect of Midland's new system of parallel parking.

"Parallel parking," said the sergeant, "received its first stiff test Saturday and I think it passed with flying colors."

"The traffic is just as heavy as it has ever been but it has flowed smoother than ever before."

"Of course, the drivers have to learn a few things, such as keeping in the right lane for a right turn (Continued On Page Four)

Truce Talks' Reopening To Be Discussed

TOKYO (P)—General Ridgway Sunday agreed to a meeting of Allied and Red liaison officers to discuss terms for reopening the red-suspended Korean truce talks.

The Allied supreme commander, replying to a Communist offer September 20, suggested the liaison officers "discuss conditions mutually satisfactory" for resumption of the talks.

The Reds, in their Thursday proposal that the talks be resumed immediately at Kaesong, said liaison officers could meet in the neutral area to decide upon a date.

The Reds broke off the talks August 23, charging an Allied plane bombed the Kaesong neutral zone the night before. The Allies investigated the charge and denied it.

Ridgway's message to the Reds set the meeting for the liaison officers for 10 a.m. Monday (7 p.m. CST Sunday).

His message to North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Red Gen. Peng Teh-Huai again bluntly laid the blame for the suspended talks directly at the door of the Reds.

It further rejected Red claims that the Allies consistently had violated the Kaesong neutral zone.

The reply, broadcast to the Communist leaders, did not repeat an earlier demand that the talks be moved from Kaesong.

Earlier Saturday the Red China Peiping radio called attention to Ridgway's delay in replying and accused him of pulling "a new United Nations" trick.

The English language broadcast said a United Nations liaison officer notified the Reds Saturday that "important documents" would be delivered at 9 a.m. A few minutes later, the Allies cancelled the notification, Peiping said.

The broadcast was monitored in Tokyo.

Gabrielson Faces Skirmish To Retain GOP Chairmanship

WASHINGTON (P)—Guy G. Gabrielson, criticized in the Senate for Reconstruction Finance Corporation dealings, may face a fight to hang on to his Republican national chairmanship.

Three GOP senators have said that unless Gabrielson can explain satisfactorily his purported efforts to get an RFC loan extension, he ought to quit. They are Senators Williams of Delaware, Ferguson of Michigan and Nixon of California.

More important are signs that some supporters of Senators Taft (R-Ohio) are angry that Gabrielson apparently has given the Democrats a chance to counter charges made against William M. Boyle, Jr., the Democratic national chairman.

Boyle has been accused by the St. Louis Post Dispatch of receiving (Continued On Page Four)

Seaman Perched On Water Tower Won't Come Down

HOUSTON (P)—A merchant seaman was perched precariously on top of a 166-foot water tower here Saturday night, determined to stay aloft until daybreak.

"I came up here to get some peace and quiet," he shouted down to the hundred or so persons clustered beneath him, "and if I come down now they'll throw me in jail!"

In a shouted interview with a reporter the seaman said his name is Edward Michael Plute and that he is 43. He toiled down and identification card to prove it.

Plute, when last seen through the scudding fog about 11 p.m. was sitting on a narrow catwalk.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1955, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Army Engineers oppose Missouri Valley Authority, favor big utilities' interests over farmers'; Senator Capehart has embarrassing moment.

WASHINGTON — By accident a spokesman for the Army Engineers let slip the basic reason for the tragic failure to control floods in the Missouri Valley. He admitted the Army Engineers are opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority.

The admission has given Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of Army Engineers, catfish. For, as a loyal Army officer, he is not supposed to differ with his commander-in-chief in the White House. The difference is that General Pick and the Army Engineers take the side of the big private utilities and want flood-control dams for flood control and navigation only. However, thousands of farmers object to giving up their land for dams and reservoirs unless the dams also pay for themselves by generating electric power.

This is the Missouri Valley Authority plan—similar to TVA—but exactly what the private utilities and the Army Engineers do not want. The Army Engineers' position leaked officially during a flood-control hearing at which Congressman Homer Magese of Missouri asked Col. C. Snow, boss engineer for the Upper Mississippi River Valley: "Isn't it true that your chief of engineers, General Pick, is opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority?"

"Then I am opposed to it, too," snapped Snow in reply. "That's what I thought," muttered Magese. "You boys are... just a bunch of Charley McCarthy's aren't you?"

"No, sir, we are loyal," said Snow, beginning to squirm under the blunt interrogation. "You are loyal, yes, and loyalty means that you follow the leader."

"Snow: 'Yes, sir.' Magese: 'What do you think about the Tennessee Valley Authority on which the MVA is patterned? Don't you think that's been successful in stopping floods and providing power for the people of Southern States?'"

"Snow: 'I have read articles in the newspapers indicating that the TVA is successful, and I have no knowledge to the contrary.' Magese: 'Yes, but you don't want the Missouri Valley Authority, do you?'"

"Snow: 'No, sir.'"

Budget Board Picks Brady As School Site

AUSTIN —(P)— The Legislative Budget Board Saturday gave its approval to the Youth Development Council to locate a $400,000 boys training school at Brady if the council can get title to the old prisoner of war camp there.

The Brady site location for the boys school still is not definite, even with the board's approval. John H. Winters, executive secretary of the Youth Development Council, told the board the Bureau of Prisons is trying to acquire the Brady property and there is some doubt whether title can be obtained for the school.

Grand Jury To Quiz Mrs. T. W. Doswell In Fatal Shooting

DALLAS —(P)— The widow of Thomas W. Doswell will go before a grand jury within two weeks on charges accusing her of shooting the wealthy oil man fatally.

Assistant District Attorney Jimmie McNichol Saturday said the case is ready for the jury. Doswell, 55, an oil millionaire, was shot to death August 20 as he sat in his expensive automobile at the entrance of a residential hotel here.

Mrs. Doswell, 52, was charged with murder on August 23. She has been free under $25,000 bond. McNichol said the state's case is based on evidence that two shots were fired. Mrs. Doswell said she remembered only one shot.

A will left $100 to Mrs. Doswell from her husband's estate. The bulk of the state went to a brother, Houston J. Doswell of Weatherford. Doswell was active in several West Texas oil fields and had been an associate of Henry Ford, Jr. He recently struck a rich new pay zone in the San Juan field in Northwestern New Mexico.

Mother, Two Young Sons Arrested In 'Gold Mine' Slaying

MORGANTON, N. C. —(P)— Two boys, who explained their sudden wealth by reporting "we found a gold mine," were held Saturday in the slaying of a 65-year-old recluse near here.

Their "gold mine," Burke County Sheriff Ray Sigmon said, was at the home of Will Denny, a farmer whose gunshot-riddled body was found in a 20-foot well Friday night.

The sheriff reported he is holding the boys' mother, Mrs. Helen Carpenter, 30; a 19-year-old pulpwood cutter, James Helms; and the boys, Ralph, 14, and David, 12, for investigation.

Voluntary Loyalty Oath Okay, Says Attorney General

AUSTIN —(P)— A retroactive non-subversive oath delving 10 years into the past may yet be requested by state employers on a voluntary basis.

Such an arrangement was approved by an attorney general's opinion Friday. An earlier opinion had held invalid an attempt by the Legislature to make such a restrictive oath compulsory because it was enacted as a rider in an appropriation bill rather than in a law of its own.

The new opinion said there was nothing to stop a department head from accepting such an oath on a voluntary basis to determine background, character and loyalty of his employes.

Bridge City Creates Amazing Program Of Civilian Defense

BRIDGE CITY, TEXAS—(P)—The 3,000 residents of this Gulf Coast community do very little worrying about the possibility of being hit by an atomic bomb.

But in a spirit of neighborliness seldom matched in these times, they have done a lot of worrying about having that happen to the folks living to the north, south and west of them.

Not only have they worried, they've translated their fears into action and out of their efforts has grown one of the nation's most remarkable civil defense organizations.

Located midway between Orange and Port Arthur, along the north-south side of the 100-mile Sabine-Neches industrial triangle, Bridge City itself counts not a single property worthy of the attention of an enemy bomber or rocket-firing submarine.

The mile-long, 183-foot tall highway bridge over the Neches River which gave the community its name might rate a blockbuster but a wide intervening marsh would cushion Bridge City against the blow.

Elsewhere in the area the circumstances are different. Dotted along all the way from Beaumont, 25 miles west of Bridge City, to Port Arthur, 10 miles south, are big refineries which turn out a large part of the United Nations' oil products. Nestled among them is a synthetic rubber plant and other industries vital to the democratic nations' defense.

Eight miles northward, at Orange, is a major naval base, a big steel fabrication plant, shipyards and one of the nation's biggest chemical plants.

Just below Port Arthur is the Sabine-Neches ship channel, a narrow waterway through which last year passed 42,238,503 tons of shipping—one-third the total handled by all 14 of Texas' ports.

Two miles east of Bridge City is the intercoastal canal which was traversed last year by ships and barges carrying 14,272,775 tons of waterborne cargo.

Most of the men of Bridge City are employed somewhere in the surrounding industrial area. So they have first hand knowledge of its possibilities for attracting enemy explosives and, while at work, share the attendant dangers.

Months ago the residents of Bridge City took stock of the situation, noted their unique position as a strictly business and residential island in a sea of manufacturing and commerce, and acted accordingly. They set up a civil defense organization which exists for no purpose except to rush to the aid of any of the neighboring areas which might be struck.

Led by John Saint, who spends his working hours in a Port Arthur refinery, the community organized itself, devoted long hours to studying first aid and other subjects connected with disaster work, and then began coordinating its activities with other groups interested in civil defense.

At 2 p.m. Sunday, a theoretical atomic bomb will explode over Orange and the Bridge City civil defense organization will get up the first test of its efficiency. Operating from headquarters at the school, the group, joined by a long list of federal, state and volunteer organizations, will carry out a full-scale disaster relief demonstration unlike any undertaking in the U.S. so far.

The Orange Naval Station, which has responsibility for such work over a wide area of the Southwest, will furnish equipment and trained personnel for determining radio-activity. It also will supply ambulances medical and first aid teams and firefighting equipment.

Firefighters in the 42-county East Texas Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association will use the demonstration to find out how long it takes each member department to travel from its own city or town to the Sabine-Neches area.

Planes and personnel of the Civil Air Patrol will participate and will land a small airplane on what normally is a busy highway during the demonstration.

The amateur radio operators' network will be in action with dozens of portable and fixed transmitting and receiving sets.

Peace officers from police and sheriff's departments and the State Highway Patrol will participate along with scores of auxiliary police and firefighters.

It's going to be a big show, complete with a mimeographed "disaster edition" of the Orange Leader published from the temporary editorial offices in Bridge City.

Arizona Scientist Takes The Sting Out Of Scorpion

TEMPE, ARIZ.—(NEA)—The lethal scorpion is losing his sting of death.

The tiny, crab-like creatures are being captured and milked of their deadly venom to make an anti-scorpion serum that can save the lives of their victims.

Dr. Herbert L. Stahnke has appealed for 10,000 live scorpions to carry on his serum research and manufacture at Arizona State College. Residents of southern Arizona and adjoining states are going all out to comply.

They have good reason.

Although there are scorpions across three-fourths of the United States, and southern Arizona and portions of adjacent states have the only known deadly species, Centruroides sculpturatus and Centruroides gertschi.

The death-dealing ones are only about an inch and a half long, but in a 20-year period, deaths from scorpions outnumbered fatalities from rattlesnake bites four to one.

Arched Over Body
The scorpion's tail is arched over its body when disturbed and the deadly sting is delivered when it uncoils the tail and sinks the tiny, hooked end into the victim.

Many present-day residents live in constant fear of unknowingly disturbing a scorpion in a shoe, clothing, woodpile, or anywhere there is moisture.

The chances of adult escaping death from the sting are good with proper treatment, but for children under five years the risk is grave.

Sometimes immediate treatment of ice packs helps, but usually if stung by the lethal scorpions the child will go into convulsions and be unable to breathe. A hole is cut into the windpipe to permit respiration, but even that sometimes fails to save the victim.

Dr. Stahnke, director of the Poisonous Animals Research Laboratory at Arizona State College, has been studying scorpions since 1935 and says death from their stings can be eliminated. He is a nationally-recognized authority on scorpions and their habits.

His greatest problem has been obtaining live, mature scorpions. A scorpion must be five years old before it is mature enough for "milkings."

Another deterrent has been postal authorities who have such a healthy respect for scorpions they will not allow their shipment by mail.

Many persons with captured scorpions have not contributed to Stahnke's collection because of the inconvenience of setting them to the laboratory.

Stahnke hopes to have serum in every hospital in the deadly scorpion area by Fall, Spring and Fall are the seasons when most scorpions are encountered.

Prior to Dr. Stahnke's work, the only anti-scorpion serum obtainable was from a Mexico City laboratory, but U. S. customs regulations stilled its import.

Odessa Oilers Beat Roswell To Capture Longhorn Loop Title

ROSWELL, N. M.—The Odessa Oilers won their second Longhorn Loop championship here Saturday night, beating Roswell, 6 to 5.

Dean Franks went all the way for Roswell and Odessa slammed 10 hits off his pitches. Eddie Johnson started for Odessa and was relieved in the third by Evelio Ortega. Roswell had secured only one hit off Johnson when he was relieved, with Noboy out.

Ortega held Roswell scoreless until the seventh inning when Odessa was leading, 6-0. Roswell scored three runs in the seventh and two in the eighth, one of these a homer by Ray Hill with the bases empty.

Odessa's runs came in this way: two in the first inning, three in the fourth and one in the fifth.

The Oilers beat Big Spring four games straight last season to win the league crown and this year was the first team to win two titles straight.

Monahans Defeats Fort Stockton, 12-6

MONAHANS—A blocked punt and a recovered fumble set the stage for a pair of Monahans touchdowns Saturday night as the Lobos defeated the Fort Stockton Panthers in the first quarter when he blocked a Fort Stockton punt on Panthers' five-yard line and ran the ball over.

The conversion attempt was wide. The Lobos added another TD in the third quarter after Dave Hughes recovered a Panther fumble on their 40 yard line. N. E. Jenkins went three yards around right end to score.

In the fourth quarter, Darwin Parr of Fort Stockton passed from the Monahans 45-yard line to one of his halfbacks who took it on the 20 and ran the remaining distance for the marker.

It was the first time this season that Monahans has scored on an opponent, having lost to Wink and Snyder.

Freedom Crusade Enlists Man In Street To Think Up Ways To Fight Red Propaganda

They're getting ideas: In Greenwood, S. C., Dr. B. M. Grier, left, chairman, and Col. E. R. Rosenber, second from left, sit down with two other Greenwood Plan Committee members to look over anti-Red propaganda ideas pouring in from people in 200 communities all over the United States.

GREENWOOD, S. C.—(NEA)—A stenographer in Greenwood thinks refugees and displaced persons now in America are the people to "sell America to their countrymen abroad" on U. S. propaganda broadcasts.

A woman in Winston-Salem, N. C., thinks every mother in America should write an understanding letter to every mother in Russia and Red China.

Picked at random, these are a couple of the hundreds of suggestions pouring into the Chamber of Commerce from the Greenwood Freedom Plan Committee members to look over anti-Red propaganda ideas pouring in from 200 communities all over the United States.

The ideas are coming in from men, women and children all over the U. S. in a contest backed by the Crusade for Freedom. Originated by Chauncey Lever, manager of the Greenwood Chamber of Commerce, Commerce in Greenwood, which it has spread to 300 other communities in the U. S., Hawaii and Alaska.

Early this fall, a board of judges picked by the Greenwood group will select the three best suggestions for penetrating the Iron Curtain by radio broadcasts. And the three winners will get a free trip to Europe.

The winning ideas—plus any others that can be adapted to the battle against Soviet propaganda—will be utilized by the Crusade for Freedom's Radio Free Europe and by the Voice of America.

With stations now operating at Munich and Frankfurt, Germany, Radio Free Europe this year hopes to build at least two more broadcasting units by enrolling 25,000,000 Americans in the 1951 Crusade for Freedom. In a national campaign during September, the Crusade is seeking $3,500,000 in contributions.

Unlike the Voice of America, which is government-supported, the Crusade for Freedom gets its funds through private backing and support from the general public.

A housewife in California, however, had a still different idea on how to finance such broadcasts.

"If they would issue stamps or small baby bonds for $10 or $12 each," she wrote the Greenwood committee, "thousands of people would buy them and the money would be obtained immediately (instead of through more taxes) for an all-out propaganda campaign."

Like the stenographer who would use refugees to get America's ideas across, a California man suggested enlisting some of the former Russians in this country who have grown into the American way of life.

If they were to broadcast in the Russian language to the Russian people, he thinks, it would provide "a message about this country that the natives of Russia could understand and accept."

On their free trip to Europe the three winners will visit Voice of America transmitters, the World Freedom Bell in Berlin, and the Radio Free Europe station in Munich.

There will be plaques, too, for the originator of the best idea in each state.

Singapore Seen As Center Of Culture

SINGAPORE—(P)—Malcolm Macdonald, British commissioner-general for Southeast Asia, says he hopes Singapore will become one of the world's great cultural centers.

Praising Indian and other foreign artists who have given performances here, Macdonald said in a speech at Victoria Theater: "Singapore is a cross-roads where several civilizations meet. Here, the culture of Europe and India, China and Malay all mingle and mix."

"That is one reason why we hope, in due time, to make this city much more than the valuable and famous commercial center, which it is today."

Tax Boosts—

now is April 1. Bloc leaders estimated the deficit next July 1 would be between $9,000,000,000 and $10,000,000,000.

The Senate meanwhile voted in an unusual Saturday session to soften a finance committee proposal to apply corporation taxes to mutual savings banks and savings and loan associations. They now are exempt.

It approved, 41-28, a proposal by Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) to establish a broader formula than had been suggested to guide federal tax collectors in determining what "reasonably" portion of such firms' earnings should be exempted from federal taxes.

Wright, 42, is the same man whom Charles O. Goff, South Dallas labor leader and political figure, is charged with paying to bomb a grocery and market. The 68-year-old union leader and a former coal miner, James Paz Alvarez, are charged in the same bombing.

Foreman Ray Hubbard of the grand jury, which included managing editors of the two Dallas daily newspapers, said some "persons who had a part in these bombings and burnings had not been indicted" only because there was not enough evidence to sustain convictions.

chimed in, saying that "There is no rhyme or reason for this expenditure." He said he would go along with O'Mahoney, who is chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee that handles military funds.

Records show two similar radio shows costing $131,000 and some television shows costing about $260,000 which have not been protested, are now being financed by funds from the 1951 fiscal year budget that included $5,300,000 for recruiting promotions of all types.

Earlier this month the Army had backed down when Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) denounced as "socialistic" a "Sad Sack" comic book being distributed as part of a reenlistment campaign.

The army said Friday it had ordered the books destroyed. Capehart said the Army had printed 500,000 copies at a cost of $17,544. He objected to them because he said they discredited American industry by tending to show service men had so much trouble in civilian life they preferred to reenlist.

One of the shows now sponsored by the Army and Air Force is "The Big Inning," costing $50,000. It has been on a network since July 30. It calls for a total of 48 broadcasts.

The second is "The Game of the Week," costing $31,000. It will begin October 13 over 285 stations and run for seven weeks.

Records show costs of Army-Air Force television programs for 1951 will total about $260,000 for the "Madison Square Garden" sports events plus some smaller TV spot announcements.

ish people."

"I think they will want something more than harping on grievances," Attlee said. "I don't think they will want to give him a blank check."

The prime minister described the cost of living as Britain's greatest problem, but said "the fact is prices have risen higher and more quickly in those countries which have not a labor government."

Regardless of who wins, Britain's troubles at home and abroad still must be dealt with.

The problems are inflated living costs, raw materials scarcity, rearmament, an adverse over-all trade balance, loss of precious gold and dollars and British prestige abroad, fuel and manpower shortages, taxes and postwar austerity.

Britain must get 80 per cent of its raw materials and 50 per cent of its food from overseas with the money it earns from exports. It also must rearm at the same time.

Sergeant Trantum winced suddenly, though, as he watched a pedestrian dash across the street in the middle of the block, sidestepping a wild-honking sedan and safely reach the other side through the kind graces of one motorist who slammed on his brakes and skidded to a stop.

"That," said the sergeant, "is our next problem."

"We're going to have to do something about our pedestrians."

He pulled out a well-thumbed copy of Midland's Traffic Code and waved it with the enthusiasm of an old-fashioned revival preacher wielding a copy of the Good Book.

"In the first place," he continued, "that man was jay-walking and jay-walking is strictly against the law. It says so right here."

He turned to Page 33 and started reading:

"Between adjacent intersections at which traffic control signals are in operation, pedestrians shall not cross at any place except in a marked or unmarked crosswalk."

Sergeant Trantum explained this means the pedestrian, wanting to cross the street, has to go to the corner and cross when the light is green.

"Incidentally," he said, "that doesn't mean the pedestrian is supposed to walk half way out into the street while he is waiting for the light to turn green."

He read again:

"Whenever traffic control signals are in operation, pedestrians shall remain standing upon the curb until the light facing the pedestrian shows green before proceeding into the streets."

But once the light is green, the pedestrian reigns supreme and he can stand on his rights—even in the face of the fanciest Cadillac in town.

Sergeant Trantum turned back to Page 7 and read:

"Vehicular traffic facing the signal may proceed straight through or turn right or left unless a sign at such place prohibits either such turn."

"But vehicular traffic shall yield the right-of-way to other vehicles and to pedestrians lawfully within the intersection at the time such signal is exhibited."

Even where there is no signal light, the pedestrian can demand his rights, for the Traffic Code reads:

"Where traffic control signals are not in place or in operation, the driver of a vehicle shall yield the right-of-way, slowing down or stopping if necessary, so as to yield to a pedestrian crossing the roadway."

Those are the principal provisions of the Traffic Code regarding the pedestrians.

"And we're going to begin enforcing every one of them," said Sergeant Trantum.

"We think traffic, particularly in the business district, will move smoother when there is no jay-walking and the streets certainly will be safer."

Economy Wave And Lack Of Defense

PANAMA—(NEA)—Ships using the famous Panama Canal are traveling through troubled waters. All is not well, either in the U. S. Zone or in the Republic of Panama.

Moral of the 4,000 Zone employees, American citizens whose principal mission is to keep the Canal operating, is at rock bottom. Great numbers are threatening to go back to the States, claiming that they will be forced to do so.

Barely reconciled to a recent drastic cut in their number, Canal employees now are going through the first major reorganization of the Canal since 1912. The reorganization is aimed at making all of the Canal enterprises pay for themselves. Since it was opened, the Canal has accumulated a deficit of $193,000,000 for U. S. taxpayers.

To get the big ditch on a paying basis it is likely that rates must be raised for ships passing through. And Zone residents fear their already high cost of living might go higher if government commissary prices go up, which is very possible.

Must Pay Taxes
In addition to that dismal prospect, Canal employees have just been given the shocking news that henceforth they will have to pay Federal income taxes, from which they have always been excused because they worked out of the country.

Zone employees also are very bitter because they feel the Army is seriously neglecting their safety in the event of an enemy attack on the Canal.

Accustomed to the war-time force of 50,000 troops, plus heavy naval and fighter plane defenses which guarded the Canal, residents are worried because no fighter planes are based in the area, that there is almost no naval defense, and that only a few antiaircraft battalions with antiquated radar—which they former President Arnulfo Arias have been asked to help maintain—Doesn't Have Means

Midland Edges Ysleta, 7-0

Indians Dig In To Stop TD Drives

By TANNER LAINE
Reporter-Telegram Staff

HUTCHINS STADIUM, YSLETA — Coach Tugboat Jones' Midland Bulldogs won their second game of the young 1951 season here on the border Friday night, dropping the Ysleta Indians, 7-0, in a fast and furious one-hour and forty-five minute encounter.

It marked the second win in as many weekends by the Bulldogs over a AAAA club. The Purple racked San Angelo in the opener, 21-6.

The Midlanders rode with Bruiser Ralph Brooks, who if you want to get Southwest Conference about it—chucked like Fred Benner and ran like Bob Smith.

The pion-legged tailback at 180 pounds was the heart and soul of the Bulldog offensive, which produced but one strike but drove several times to the doorstep of touchdown territory, once as close as the one-foot line.

The Purple had plenty at the finish, holding off a desperate Ysleta fourth-quarter attempt to tie it up.

Ysleta had planned a rube welcoming party for the Bulldogs. It was the home opener for the Indians.

GAME AT A GLANCE

MIDLAND	YSLETA

3 for 15 Penalties, Yds. 0	0

And Midland was on the Ysleta 20-yard line when the first half ended. The torrid-action half consumed but 40 minutes.

A pass interception and runback of 67 yards to the 15 by Back Dan Black helped send the Bulldogs as far as the one-foot line in the third quarter. But the ball went over on downs with only inches needed.

The Indians worked up their big threat late in the fourth quarter. They unleashed little Henry Dutch-over, subbing for the injured Whit-tenton, and he was a good one. He electrified the crowds with daring run backs to pass and then tucking the ball under his arm and taking off afoot. Bulldogs popped at him from every angle, but still he ran.

Ysleta opened up its drive on its own 27-yard line. A pass fell incomplete and the ball went over to Midland on downs with but a minute to go.

Midland killed time until the gun popped.

In a game in which the defenses of both clubs were at top pitch, Bill Leonard, Bulldog tackle, was a standout. He spent most of the night in the Ysleta backfield, the entire Bulldog line. Linebarger, Coker, Byerley and the rest had it when the blue chips were stacked high.

Brooks and his running mates took care of the offense.

Not only was the game speedily played in less than two hours, it

Yankees Bow To Red Sox

BOSTON—(AP)—Mel Parnell struck a crippling blow at the New York Yankees' hopes for a third straight pennant Saturday with a four-hit shutout win, 5-0, for the Boston Red Sox.

The 29-year-old lefthander whipped the Yanks for the fourth time this season to square this important series. The Sox backed him up with a 12-hit blast at loser Ed Lopat, Johnny Sain and Bob Hogue.

Boston thus kept alive the faint flag hopes, trailing the Yanks by four games with only nine to play.

Three hits drove home all the runs. Dom DiMaggio's two-run double in the second, Billy Goodman's single in the third and Ted Williams' two-run triple off Sain in the sixth.

The score: R. H. E.
New York 000 000 000—0 4 2
Boston 021 002 00x—5 12 1
Hogue, Lopat, Sain and Berra; Parnell and Moss.

Robertson's Passing Spills Horned Frogs

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The magic passing of Jerry Robertson threw an upset into Texas Christian University Saturday night as Kansas University swamped the Southwest Conference eleven, 27 to 18.

Robertson, a sub for Jerry Bogue, passed for two touchdowns. Then he topped his performances by running 18 yards for another tally.

To finish off the Horned Frogs, Charlie Hoag passed for another score late in the fourth when it appeared Texas Christian still had a chance to pull the game out of the fire.

Texas Christian, expected to toss a few passes itself, stayed on the ground, taking to the air mainly to loosen up the Big Seven Conference team's defense. In the fourth, the Horned Frogs crossed up the Jayhawks when Marvin Fowler tossed a four-yarder to John Mendanich for the final Texas Christian touchdown, but TCU got to the four mainly on the ground.

The Frogs got the Jayhawks behind, when after a dogged ground game, Bobby Jack Floyd blasted across from the one-yard line to tally in the second quarter.

The Jayhawkers came right back with a sustained 76-yard drive, pinpointed by Robertson's scoring pass to Jerry Taylor. It was good for 36 yards. Taylor was running hard to his left, took the toss over his left shoulder and scampered across without opposition. The attempted conversion kick was fumbled.

Kansas made it's second score in the third frame — as it made its first. Starting on the Jayhawk 24, the Kansans went to the TCU 22, aided mightily with a 29-yard sprint by Bogue. From there, Robertson loosed an aerial to John Konek, who was on the eleven. Taking the ball over his left shoulder, Konek wasn't touched as he went over. Konek converted.

Then Kansas really began to get its aerials clicking. Mainly in the air, it went to the TCU 13. Then Robertson, apparently unable to find a receiver, ran to his right, cut back sharply to his left and went over. Konek's kick was good. TCU still was in the ball game. Doggedly the Frogs drove from their 22 to Kansas' four, where Fowler threw his scoring aerial to Medan-ich who snatched the ball from a pair of defenders on the goal. Flow-ers failed to kick goal.

Indians Muff Big Chance

DETROIT — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians muffed another big opportunity Saturday as they bowed 9-4 to Detroit while the league-leading New York Yankees lost to Boston, 8-0.

Thus the Indians remained 1 1/2 games behind the Yanks and time is running out.

Lefty Bob Cain delivered the crusher with a four-hitter.

The Indians have only four games left to play, against seven for the Yankees.

With three fewer defeats, the Yanks can win the pennant by taking five of their seven games, even if the Indians win all theirs.

The Tigers simply overpowered the jittery Tribe Saturday with a 15-hit attack.

Detroit 010 210 818—9 12 1

Tommy Bolt, of Durham, N. C., was alone in the 214 class. Bracketed at 215 were Dave Douglas of Newark, Del.; Charley Bassler of Catonsville, Md.; Jerry Barber, Pasadena, Calif.; and Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, Texas.

Michigan State Whips Oregonians

EAST LANSING, MICH.—(AP)—Highly-touted Michigan State, plagued by an attack of fumbles, was lucky Saturday to win its opener from Oregon State, 6-0.

The one touchdown of the game, in the second quarter, was a freak set up by a fumble.

Michigan State had powered down to the Oregon State one-foot line when a bad pass from center was bobbled in the backfield on the fourth down. Quarterback Al Dorow scooped up the ball, lobbed out a lateral to Left Half Don McAuliffe, who went over standing up.

KING'S ROW

by LARRY KING

Texas High School football is going back 15 to 20 years.

Not that the teams are resorting to the Notre Dame box and the flying wedge, but the "old-powers" are coming back; namely, Wink, Midland and Odessa to name a few.

Odessa hasn't exactly been a weak sister the last few years, but anytime the Bronchos lose more than a couple of struggles a year, it's news.

Midland and Wink, once West Texas terrors, have been on some victory drouths lately—but the lean times appear to be about over.

Wink flashed the power of the old J. R. Callahan—Don Ezell—Dee Ezell—J. L. Dodd Wildcat teams of the last Friday night in upending Kermit, 20 to 7. The loss, by the way, was the first regular-season disappointment for Kermit since the Hobbs, N. M. Eagles turned the trick in mid-season, 1949.

Midland's story is familiar to all-football fans. From a pathetic group of youngsters who could hardly don football togs properly, the kids have progressed under Tugboat Jones to a potent eleven feared by all.

Of course, Midland's 7-0 win in the border city Friday night wasn't overwhelming—but look back two years to the Ysleta 40, Midland 0 score, and you'll see what we mean.

A place in the sun—some teams are being restored to theirs.

Still no heir-apparent for John Kimbrough's fullback post at King's Row's residence.

We missed the Ysleta-Midland game this weekend awaiting the arrival of same, but we've been disappointed.

Oh well, could be he's waiting for Spring training.

Texas Longhorns Stop Parilli, Wildcats, 7-6

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' steel-fronted defense knocked down Kentucky, 7-6, Saturday in a game of fumbles, fumbles and an uproarious finish.

The Longhorns cashed in on a recovered fumble for their touch-down, and Herb Hunt, Kentucky back, took too much time trying to place the ball for a conversion attempt—and that was the story of this intersectional battle.

A crowd of 47,000 roared throughout one of the finest football games ever played in Memorial Stadium. Once it got so noisy in protest over a pass interference ruling that Bobby Dillon, Texas defense star and team co-captain, left the field to ask the Texas fans to quiet down.

They responded to the sportsmanlike gesture.

A little later, Dillon intercepted a pass to halt one of the mighty surges staged by Kentucky in the final minutes.

Texas thus upheld its tradition of having never lost a home opening game and while doing so, kicked over the nation's seventh ranking team. The Longhorns are rated eleventh.

Kentucky, piloted by the great Babe Parilli, a mighty passer and ball-handling magician, knocked at the door to victory throughout the game but each time the Wildcats got what looked like a pay-off drive underway, a pass interception or fumble spoiled it.

Texas, noted for its defense and not supposed to have much of an offense, turned to the forward pass to win the game. The score came late in the first period. Paul Williams, huge Longhorn wingman, dashed through to jar the ball out of Parilli's hands, then fell on it on the Kentucky 28. Gib Dawson and Byron Townsend rammed the line for four. A pitchout got a first down on the Kentucky 13 with Don Barton carrying the ball. Then T. Jones passed to Barton on the five, with the fleet halfback ryaning across. Dawson kicked the extra point—the eventual difference.

Kentucky scored in the third period on a wild, 73-yard drive with Tom Fillion doing most of the gaining. He carried three times for 40 and Harry Jones then sped to the Texas 7. Harold Gruner and Jones smashed to the Texas six. Parilli went back to pass, was tackled but, as he fell, the Wildcat field general passed into the end zone to Gruner.

Hunt, back to hold the ball for the conversion attempt, bobbed the pignik but hurried to place it. Don Barton and Harley Sewell boomed out of the Texas line to fall on him and spoil the point-after-touchdown try. That was the ball game.

MARATHON—The Rankin Red Devils, last year a regional champion in six-man football, still are going strong. They bopped the Marathon High eleven, 59 to 14, here Friday night.

Six different boys scored for the Red Devils, with Don Murphy and Bruce McCain scoring two tallies each. Elbett Echols, Jimmie Yoacham, George Brylos and Norman Yoacham scored one tally each. Rankin led at halftime, 33 to 7.

Jimmy Hicks scored the lone marker for Midland when he ran the game's opening kick-off back 80 yards for a touchdown.

Crockett scored on a pass play just before the half ended and repeated the formula seconds before the game was over to win the contest.

Hogs Blast Oklahoma A&M, 42-7

STILLWATER, OKLA.—(AP)—Arkansas opened its 1951 football season Saturday and showed mid-season form in smashing a smaller Oklahoma A&M team, 42-7, before 25,000 persons.

The victory was double sweet for Arkansas, which was upset the opening game of last season by the Aggies, 12-7.

Arkansas had complete control of the game. The first time it had to punt was in the fourth quarter.

Fewlers Play Under Wraps

A fast, heavy line held A&M virtually stationary on the ground. The Aggies' bad kicking and numerous miscues added to the disaster.

Arkansas flashed a potent aerial attack that scored two touchdowns and set up a field goal. And Coach Otis Douglas kept his team under wraps as it showed its dominance in the first half. At the game's end, Arkansas had played everyone it brought.

The Aggies, hit by injuries, finished the game with two freshmen in the backfield.

The first time A&M was able to get into Arkansas territory was two and one-half minutes before the end of the second quarter. Suddenly opening up a spread formation, the Aggies moved 91 yards on nine plays with Bob Steele passing to Ron Shackleton six yards into the end zone. Skip Warden converted.

Arkansas' six touchdowns were spread among as many different players—Jim Rinehart, Bill Jurney, Lamar McHan, Buddy Sutton, Pat Summerall and Jerry Bogard. Summerall also made a 15-yard field goal and George Thompson hit three conversions.

Seminole, Tahoka Tie, 7-7, As Sparks Is Held Scoreless

TAHOKA — Unbeaten Seminole and here Friday night on a sand-blown and windswept field and when the smoke cleared neither had changed its status, as they battled to a 7-7 tie.

Tahoka earned the upset tie by the simple method of handoffing Indians' flash, Jackie Sparks.

Tahoka actually outplayed the Indians, rolling up more yardage from the single wing than the Seminole 'T' could muster, and getting 12 first downs to seven for Seminole. At the game's end, Tahoka was on the Seminole 27, after driving from its own 23.

The Indians scored first midway of the second quarter, moving 53 yards after recovering a Tahoka fumble on the Indian 47. Marshall Crawford gained two in the line, then Paul Sublett swept to his own left for a 51-yard converted punt. Crawford converted to put Seminole in front, 7-0.

But Tahoka rolled right back with the kickoff, picking up three straight first downs before Billy Foster ran 16 yards on a reverse for a touchdown. Foster then kicked the tying point.

Sparks, who had been Seminole's offensive spark the last two games, couldn't get started against the set Tahoka defense Friday night. Time after time the Bulldogs swarmed him to the ground behind the line of scrimmage or after he had gained but one or two steps.

Roby comes to Seminole Friday night.

Wink Wildcats Throttle Kermit Pound Out 20-7 Decisive Verdict

By COPE BOUTH
Reporter-Telegram Staff

KERMIT—Coach Glenn Frazier's smooth-working Wildcats of Wink High School have hit the comeback road to gridiron glory.

They roared past the first milestone here Friday night, crushing the Kermit High School Yellow Jackets by an impressive 20-7 score.

And the more than 6,000 fans who were on hand had little fault to find with the team which once rated with the top eleven in Texas' annual school-boy football carnival.

Under the expert generalship of 165-pound Quarterback Kenneth Vinson, the Wildcats ripped through the vaunted Kermit line with quick-opening plunges and perfectly-executed cross bucks, spread the defense with a respectable passing game and, by the end of the game, were rolling almost at will.

The tough Wildcat defense forced the Yellow Jackets to take to the air—a gamble which paid off with the lone Kermit score in the closing seconds of the first half.

Coach Neal Dillman's Kermit squad was weakened by illnesses during the last week but its weakness failed to detract from the Wildcat performance.

Both teams moved cautiously through the opening minutes of the first quarter, with Wink pushing the Yellow Jackets back slowly.

Then in the closing moments of the first quarter, the Wildcats took over on the Kermit 35-yard line and began to make their play.

Danny Villarreal, a scampering change-of-pace halfback who picked up almost half of the Wildcat's 277 rushing yards, ripped through the line on two plays that netted 12 yards.

Mixing up his plays, Vinson then called on the services of Dale Dodd, who smashed for another 12 yards and after a couple of sneaks by Vinson, the ball wound up on the Kermit one-yard line.

Villarreal slipped through right tackle for the six-pointer, and Wallace kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter, Kermit resorted to an aerial game which, until the closing seconds, was unsuccessful.

With a stiff wind roaring into the stadium, both teams settled down to a punting game.

With 10 seconds to go, Villarreal fumbled a pitchout and Kermit recovered on the Wink 42-yard line.

Karr Passes

On the first play, and with the clock running out, Kermit Fullback Benny Karr took the pass from center, raced back to his 45-yard line and uncorked a long aerial that settled neatly into the hands of Halfback Billy Mitchell, who was waiting on the six-yard line.

Mitchell sprinted on across the goal line with no trouble.

Barnett kicked the extra point to tie the score at 7-7 as the half ended.

In the third quarter, Wink began a 97-yard touchdown drive after Bobby Almond had booted the ball out of bounds on the three-yard line.

This time, it was Halfback Tommy DeWitt who pounded out gain after gain against the Yellow Jacket line. Dodd bulled his way over for the touchdown.

As soon as Wink got its hands on the ball, it scored again, the payoff coming on 19-yard pass from Vinson to Jette to climax a 76-yard touchdown drive.

Fry Shines As Brownwood Throws Lamesa, 40 To 13

BROWNWOOD—Leonard Fry, Brownwood's mighty mite, used his football wizardry to lead the Lions up a 40-13 win over the Lamesa Tornados here Friday night.

Fry completed 17 of 22 passes for 286 yards, including two touchdowns. He gained 80 yards in 15 trips running the ball and kicked four of six extra points.

Jerry Millsaps kept Lamesa in the game for awhile with his passing to Marshall Crawford and Ray Taylor, but the Lions then pulled steadily away.

Odessa Scores In Last Minute To Tie Port Arthur

By BOB ADAMS
Reporter-Telegram Staff

ODESSA—The Odessa Bronchos won a race with the time clock Friday night but had to settle for a 13 to 13 tie against the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets in a top high school game of the week here in Broncho stadium.

More than 16,000 partisan fans were frantic as the Bronchos staged a story book finish. Trailing by six points, with less than two minutes remaining in the game, Odessa refused to concede defeat and marched up the field for a TD, scoring as the time ran out on the clock.

Port Arthur had scored what appeared to be the game-winning TD with two minutes and five seconds remaining in the game when Wylie, a 126 pound fullback, swept around left end behind beautiful interference for 47 yards to put the Yellow Jackets ahead 13 to 7.

Fans started to file out of the huge Broncho stadium when Port Arthur kicked off to the Bronchos, but no one had reckoned with the indomitable Odessa spirit. Swain Adams returned the kickoff to the Bronchos 25 yard line where it was first and 10.

Time For One Play

Carl Schlemeyer threw twice for 14 yards before handing off to Freeman who threw to Gene Colley on the Port Arthur 43. Schlemeyer threw twice more to end John Held and the ball rested on the Yellow Jacket seven-yard line with just enough time remaining to run one play. After a time out, Freeman bulled the ball over as the time ran out. The attempted try for extra point after the game was officially over failed and the fans stood in shocked disbelief.

Port Arthur broke into the scoring column first when O'Brien grabbed a punt on his own 34 and raced up the middle of the field for 66 yards and what appeared to be an easy touchdown with 6 1/2 minutes remaining in the first quarter.

Neither team managed to score then until the game was eight minutes and 45 seconds into the fourth quarter. At this point, the Broncho line ripped open gaping holes in the Yellow Jacket forward wall and in nine plays Odessa scored when Tommy Harris plungered three yards over the center of the line. Robert Baker converted and the Bronchos went ahead 7 to 6 with three minutes and 15 seconds remaining.

In the next three and one-quarter minutes, each team pulled the plug and scored one between them to provide a stem-winder of such proportions that Odessa fans will make it a topic of conversation for years to come.

Engineers Blast SMU Ponies, 21-7

ATLANTA—(AP)—In humid September heat and a driving downpour, Georgia Tech Saturday forgot it was supposed to lose, and while stubby Glenn Turner ripped through Southern Methodist like a berserk bowling ball, the Georgians scored a 21-7 football upset.

Except for the first 10 minutes, when SMU looked two touchdowns better than Tech, the Yellow Jackets of Coach Bobby Dodd were faster and far better runners than their opponents from the cow country.

During the first quarter and a half, SMU twice paid dearly for unsure ball handling on kicks and poor protection for kickers.

Tech Quarterback Darrell Crawford made up for his weak throwing arm to the 33,000 drenched fans by calling a near-perfect game, by finding where SMU was porous and punching right there.

Fifteen of Tech's 21 points were made by boys from little Talladega, Ala. Turner blasted six yards to score in the first quarter and kicked three conversions. A fellow Talladegan, Johnny Hicks, fastened himself to one of Crawford's better passes in the second quarter and covered 43 yards for another touchdown.

Rain was falling lightly early in the second quarter when the Methodists' string-bean pitcher, Fred Benner, looped a beautiful pass to End Ben White for the Texans' touchdown. The play covered 18 yards, and Sam Stollenwerk made the point after touchdown.

The final score came on a 29-yard run by Leon Hardeeman, one of about 10 first-rate Tech sophomores.

Tech's first big break came when Jerry Norton, Methodist punter, fumbled a high snap from center. Tech Captain Lamar Wheat baited down Norton in SMU's six. The ball went to Tech on downs, and Turner butted through for a touchdown on the next play.

A 10-yard kick by SMU's H. Russell, Jr., in the second quarter helped Tech again. Soon after the puny punt, Crawford passed to Hicks for Tech's second touchdown on a 43-yard play which caught SMU napping.

Sam Stollenwerk threw often but seldom effectively as Tech bottled him up and nocked either him or his passes to the ground.

Henry Stollenwerk and Quarterback Benton Muslewite were SMU's best weapons and they might have won against a team trying just a little less hard than Georgia Tech.

Pecos Raps McCamey By 41-14 Score

By RICHARD VENATOR
Reporter-Telegram Staff

PECOS—A high-riding Pecos High School eleven ran over the McCamey Badgers, 41-14, here Friday night in a non-district grid class which produced brilliant running and superb defense in spots.

The Eagles' junior fullback, Thomas Langham, was the head man of the show as he accounted for three touchdowns and muffed only one of six conversion tries.

Langham started the scoring early in the second quarter. McCamey didn't wait long to retaliate. Back Mack Patterson went 26 yards for a touchdown after taking a pitchout from Wolf. Garrison kicked the extra point.

But Pecos came right back. On the second play, after receiving a Badger kick on the 10-yard line, Langham took off on a 78-yard journey for the second counter for the home team.

Pecos rang up its third touchdown of the evening in the second quarter when Orlando Gutierrez shot a passing arm of Halfback DeVere Gray. Langham had carried for 10 yards, and other shorter gains had put the ball deep into Badger territory.

The half ended 21 to 7, Pecos. Early in the third period, Gray intercepted a McCamey pass and went 30 yards for a TD.

Shortly before the end of the third quarter, Patterson ran an Eagle kick back 79 yards and Stokes took it over.

Langham went through the line on a 14-yard plunge in the fourth quarter for another six points. Langham had received on his own 15 and ran the ball back to the Pecos 38 and a fine run for 25 yards by Gray set up the tally.

The final tally came when Gutierrez tossed to Louis Eisenwine previous play had gotten loose for a 50-yard sprint.

Air Power Brings Texas A&M 21-14 Victory Over UCLA

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A pair of sharpshooting Texans set UCLA's Bruins back on their heels Friday night, flinging Texas A&M to a 21-14 victory in the season's intercollegiate football opener here.

The evening wasn't a total loss for Coach Red Sanders. He uncovered two sophomore backs who almost ended a Bruin losing streak to Southwest Conference teams that goes back to 1939.

Dick Gardemal, the Aggie's first string signal caller, and his No. 1 understudy, Ray Graves, staged the aerial fireworks when the Bruins bottled up Bob Smith, the Cadets' candidate for All-American honors.

Graves pitched two touchdown strikes in the last 55 seconds of the first half, and Gardemal put the finishing touch to the attack with a perfect pitch in the fourth quarter. Graves' first was to End Eric Miller, good for nine yards. He set it up a moment before with a toss to Halfback Billy Tidwell, good for 70 yards. A UCLA fumble gave him his second chance seconds later, and he hit Half Yale Lary for 19 yards. The Aggies led 14-0 at the half.

Uelans Catch Fire

Sanders put a fourth string quarter, Paul Comeran, into the lineup in the third quarter and he promptly caught fire. He tossed two 12-yard passes to End Ernie Stocker, then twisted and powered his way across from 19 yards out. Moments later, another sophomore, Pete Duley, galloped 73 yards on a punt return to tie it up.

In the final quarter, Gardemal got away a pass to Halfback Chuck McDonald for 39 yards, followed it on the next play with a nine-yard bullyseye to End Charles Hodges for the score and that was the ball game.

Denver City Kicks Andrews, 21 To 6

ANDREWS—Denver City's visiting Mustangs made themselves at home here Friday night, branding the Andrews Mustangs with a 21-6 defeat. It was the third straight loss for Andrews, and Denver City's second win in three tries.

Andrews contributed to its own downfall with costly mistakes. A fumble on their own 10 got them in trouble in the first half, and Denver City turned it into a touchdown in two plays with Charlie Linnam and scoring. Pat Casey kicked the first of three extra points.

Dick Morris passed 10 yards to Casey for another marker in the early third quarter. Denver City again tallied in the last quarter, blocking a kick by Kay Don Chestre and recovering for a touchdown.

Guy Allen set up the Andrews score in the last quarter, sprinting 16 yards to the 13-yard line. In three plays, Olin Jobe worked over.

Larry Jansen Hurls Giants To 4-1 Win

NEW YORK—(AP)—Larry Jansen turned in one of his finest performances of the season Saturday as he pitched the New York Giants to a 4-1 triumph over the Boston Braves for his twelfth victory.

The triumph kept the Giants' slim pennant hopes alive. The victory moved the Giants to within three and one-half games of the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Jansen held the Braves hitless until the sixth inning when two singles and two errors gave the Braves their lone run.

The score: R H E Boston 000 001-1 6 0 New York 000 001-4 9 3 Spahn and Cooper; Jansen and Westrum.

One hundred twenty eight players will qualify for the Junior Amateur Championship which will be conducted at the University of Illinois, Champaign, Ill., July 25 through 28.

Important Reef Extender Finaled In NW Kent Area

Charles B. Wrightman of Houston has completed his No. 1 Frank Stewart, Northwest Kent County exploration as a good flowing oil well and an important extension to the proven limits for production from the Pennsylvanian lime reef in that territory.

The project reported a 24-hour potential of 554.22 barrels of pipe line oil and no water, flowing through a one-quarter inch tubing choke. The production came from open hole at 6,318-6,436 feet. That zone had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Flowing tubing pressure was 705 pounds. Casing pressure was 750 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 473-1. Gravity of the oil is 39.8 degrees.

THE REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, SEPT. 23, 1951-9

Reef Top
Top of the reef is at 6,250 feet. Elevation is 3,066 feet. The reef showed for production all the way down from 6,250 feet. The section from 6,250 to 6,318 feet is cased off with the 5 1/2-inch casing which is cemented at 6,318 feet.

The exploration is three-quarters of a mile north of the nearest completed oil wells on the northwest side of the Salt Creek-Canyon field.

It is 10 miles northwest of Claiborne and 1,300 feet from south and 1,800 feet from west lines of section 5, John Rodman survey.

Operator was taking a drillstem test at 7,142-7,200 feet at last report. The section at 7,102-42 feet had been tested for one hour. No fluid came to the top while the tool was open. Recovery was 525 feet of very heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water.

Operator likely will drill through the full thickness of the Pennsylvanian pay and then complete.

The well is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 14, block 4, H&GN survey. It is 23 miles north and slightly west of Snyder.

Then the well kicked off and flowed 121 barrels of new oil and 200 barrels of load oil in 12 hours.

Operators previously had been unable to obtain a steady flow. The prospect had been washed earlier with 500 gallons of mud acid.

No. 1-E Powell is 660 feet from south and 1,800 feet from west lines of section 62, block BB, EL&RR survey. That puts it 11 miles southwest of Big Lake.

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 Robbie Alexander, wildcat in Northwest-Central Reagan County, has been plugged and abandoned on plugged back total depth of 6,480 feet in the upper Spraberry.

The project, four and one-half miles west of the Weddell-Spraberry field, failed to develop commercial production from the lower Spraberry, as well as the upper horizon.

Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 8, block M, TC survey.

Field In C-S Terry Gets New Explorer

Union Oil Company of California has staked location for its No. 3 T. P. Christian in the Adair-Wolfcamp field of Central-South Terry County.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 5, block C-36, psi survey and eight miles southeast of Wellman.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 8,560 feet, beginning immediately.

Pitcairn Island, midway between the United States and Australia, was not inhabited until 1790 when missionaries from the British ship, Bounty, landed there.

Scarcities Of Labor And Of Equipment Are Major Headaches Of Well Diggers

An evaporating labor pool, added to mounting costs and scarcity of steel, has caused a widespread pessimism among oil well drilling contractors.

Accelerated mobilization, a continuing lack of trained crewmen and the desire of many for employment in businesses with more regular hours have made harsh inroads into the industry charged with drilling more wells, more wildcats and more footage than ever before.

A recently-completed "World Oil" survey points to the Texas Gulf Coast, East Texas, West Texas, the Texas Panhandle, and Louisiana as the hardest hit sections, each having a heavy personnel turnover.

However, a majority of West Coast, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Rocky Mountain contractors report only normal turnover and an adequate supply of qualified rig men.

Few Trained Men

The areas wracked by excessive turnover are also faced with a scant supply of trained men. One contractor whose operations range from the Gulf Coast to Oklahoma reported a 20 per cent average turnover of rig personnel of 18 wells during the first five months of 1951.

"The Gulf Coast is tight" another contractor said. "It's getting mighty hard to find drillers and roughnecks. We used to get the cream of young men from rural communities on a many-day week."

Many of them came from farms, but now, with subsidies theirs for the asking, they're staying on the farm. Roughnecks are drifting into steadier jobs, like pipefitting, at which they can make decidedly more money.

The general tendency of drillers to stay with a contractor was noted throughout the survey. The consensus among contractors is that drillers generally will remain with the well either because of their long service or their position in oil field hierarchy.

But the dwindling supply of other rig personnel was explained by a Gulf Coast contractor, whose operations extend to Louisiana, this way: "Bidding is vague."

"Since the depression, the practice of bidding on well drilling has been in vogue. About six to 15 bids are received on wildcats and field wells, too.

"This practice depresses price, forcing contractors to cut corners to compete. That was possible, from the labor standpoint, when we used to get a supply of good, young men whose speed made up the difference. Now, we can't take up that slack because of the decreasing supply of satisfactory labor."

In East Texas, the same general difficulties exist. Heavy turnover, lack of trained personnel, the disinclination of men to "go with the well" if the site is very far from adequate housing for their families, losses to armed services and to businesses with regular hours combine with a comparative lull in drilling to adversely affect efforts of contractors there to keep crews intact.

West Texas contractors, apparently, are in no better shape. One firm operating there reported 1146 employees on its rolls in 1950, as compared to the 450 normally required to operate rigs and offices.

No Labor Trouble

Reports from Oklahoma and Kansas indicate no labor trouble. California and the Rocky Mountain section likewise refer to no more than normal turnover.

At what point the labor problem will ease for contractors in the "difficult" zones is unknown. The contractors don't know; they are only hoping for an economic leveling off which, in some way, will erase the factors which have pushed them into such a precarious position.

McGhee To Talk On Near East Affairs At AIME Meeting

Assistant Secretary of State George C. McGhee will address some 800 American petroleum engineers on the political implications of the Near East oil situation in Oklahoma City, Wednesday, October 3.

The talk by the State Department official will be one of the highlights of a three-day meeting of the Petroleum Branch, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, the professional society for petroleum engineers.

The meeting will be held in the Biltmore Hotel. Some 38 papers will be delivered by the nation's outstanding petroleum engineers and scientists.

McGhee is considered an expert on Near East matters. His title with the State Department is assistant secretary of State in charge of Near East and African affairs. Well informed on Mediterranean affairs, he was designated to handle the Greek-Turkey aid program following the end of World War II. He has been active in the State Department since 1941 with time out for Naval duty.

A geologist and a member of the AIME, McGhee was once a partner in the firm now known as DeGolyer and MacNaughton, consulting engineers and geologists in Dallas. He completed degree requirements at the University of Oklahoma, Southern Methodist University, Oxford and the University of London.

Washington Oil— Industry's Million Barrel Expansion Program Termed 'Too Little' By Military

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The oil industry's 1,000,000-barrel daily expansion program bears a military estimate today that it is too little.

"If we were to build that amount at once, it would not be so bad," says Rear Adm. B. B. Biggs, executive secretary of the Munitions Board Petroleum Committee.

"Since we are not at present, the good oil demand curve tells us that it is not enough. About the only answer I can give you is to build as much as we can as soon as we can."

Bruce K. Brown, deputy head of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, is understood to agree. He is the one who originally put a three-year target on the completion of the program, and now he's about to set a two-year time table on the job.

Industry is more than willing to do its part, granted the steel, says C. E. Davis, the PAD's director of refining. He says:

"In studies prepared by the National Petroleum Council, at the request of the PAD, it has been developed that the industry plans to build new refining capacity during the next two years at a rate in excess of 500,000 barrels a year and could increase crude intake by an additional 350,000 barrels a year by removal of bottlenecks in existing facilities."

The million barrel expansion was set as a target for the Western Hemisphere oil industry by Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman early this year. Chapman also is Petroleum Administration for Defense.

The National Petroleum Council, an industry advisory group, as a result, launched a major study of the cost in dollars and steel of the expansion, and is to report at its October 31 meeting. Another NPC committee, on crude availability, recently reported the crude is available for the expansion, if steel is made available for 43,000 wells at home and others abroad each year.

A third NPC committee estimated the pipe line, tank car and other transport needs. The PAD itself has said the crude is available for the task.

But steel is being allocated at but 75 per cent of the rate needed, indicating a slowdown.

Oil From Abroad

The million-barrel effort is sparking some concern, meanwhile, among independent producers, that it may lay too much emphasis on non-United States oil. Thus, the Independent Petroleum Association of America has announced the start of a study of the relationship of oil to U. S. security. The IPA's committee on this is expected to report October 22 at IPA's Houston meeting that U. S. oil should be the prime reliance.

The federal government, meanwhile, is looking abroad for oil, as well as at home. That's behind the visits of Chapman to Mexico and Venezuela recently, and set for Canada next month. Even Bolivia is eyed.

"It will not do simply to attempt an expansion of the industry here," Brown told the Louisiana Golden Jubilee at Jennings, La., last week, Suicide Viewpoint.

"Even from the shortest-range view of selfishness that would make no sense, there are still those 900,000 plus barrels a day of oil that we must import, much of it from Venezuela. What would be the point of increasing United States production in such a way that we reduced the Venezuelan? There'd be no slightest net gain. And from the long-range point of view—the point of view that considers the defenses needed for survival—there could only be a loss, a loss that could be suicidal."

"We must, then, insure the needed step-up in production both here and abroad, balancing the needs and the demands as best we can."

Stock To Operate Forchall Properties

Paul Stock of Cody, Wyo., an independent oil operator, has been in Midland the past several days with his auditor, Arnold Larsen, making arrangements for the operations of the properties of the Forchall Oil Company, which he has now taken over as an individual.

Stock will carry on the operations in the offices formerly occupied by Forchall Oil Company in the Wilkinson-Poster Building in Midland, with the same personnel.

Watson LaForce of Midland, who spent several years acquiring these properties, is to take a rest with his daughter in New York and will later return to his home in Midland.

Magnolia Slates Gasoline Plant For Midland Sector

Tentative plans for the construction of a jointly owned gasoline plant to take care of the gas produced with the oil in the Spraberry Trend area were made last week by several of the operators. It is contemplated that Magnolia Petroleum Company will construct and operate a gasoline plant to handle casinghead gas produced with the oil from Spraberry production in the general area where Midland, Upton, Reagan and Glasscock Counties join.

Among the operators interested in the project are Magnolia, Sinclair, Atlantic, Sunray, Stanolind, Tidewater Associated, Sohio, Sun and others. All operators in the area which will be served by this plant are invited to participate in the project.

Many Observers Look For PAD To Cut Down Soon On Spraberry Hole Drilling

During the past week a large flock of rumors have been in circulation regarding the possibilities that the Petroleum Administration for Defense would shortly issue an order limiting drilling in the Spraberry Trend regions of the Midland Basin to one well to 160 acres. The Reporter-Telegram has checked on those rumors with the PAD headquarters in Washington.

A spokesman for that organization told a Reporter-Telegram representative, "There is nothing to the rumor." However, the reports continue to come in, that despite the denial there is a strong possibility that PAD, even though it does issue a direct order limiting drilling in the Spraberry Trend, may adopt a policy of cut down on the allocations of casing and other oil field tubular goods which are given to operators who plan to drill Spraberry projects.

One source, which is well-informed, has revealed that if all the applications for tubular goods to be used on Spraberry wells were granted they would take all of the steel which is assigned to the PAD. It would not surprise many observers if PAD does soon adopt a policy that would cut down on the amount of casing, tubing and other field steel materials it approves for Spraberry drilling.

These tests revealed that many of the drilling-mud additives, notably the organic materials in relatively small quantities, have a marked effect on the properties of the cement. The results of this study emphasize the fact that precautionary methods should be taken to prevent contamination of oil-well cement with drilling mud.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON—

Texas Again Has Chance To Get New Cash Crop In Natural Rubber Program

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Once again Texas stands a fair chance of getting a new cash crop in the form of natural rubber production.

Back in the placid days following World War I, a then low-ranking officer by the name of Dwight D. Eisenhower conducted an Army survey of large tracts in Southwest Texas where guayule grew wild. Little came then of his recommendation that thousands of acres should be devoted solely to the latex-bearing shrub. He saw such a project as natural defense insurance, in the event rubber supplies across the Pacific in the East Indies should ever be cut off.

World War II revived interest in guayule but with V-J Day the program collapsed. Now, with the Korean war well into its second year, the issue bounds back into the picture.

If and when the cultivating and harvesting of guayule does become a profitable (without government subsidy) operation, credit must be largely to three Texans—Reps. W. R. Poage of Waco and Lloyd Benson of McAllen and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

A top-ranking member of the House Agriculture Committee and chairman of its subcommittee on natural rubber production, Poage was primarily responsible for the launching of a guayule program which was just getting underway when the Japanese surrendered.

He opposed what he called "a short-sighted, penny-wise, pound-foolish" economy policy of Congress which led to the abandonment of the program four years ago. Looks At Situation Early this year, when military demands for rubber sky-rocketed, Johnson as head of the Senate Armed Services subcommittee on preparedness took a sharp look into the supply situation.

He came up with a hard-hitting charge that the Munitions Board and others had fallen down on the job of stockpiling strategic materials. It wasn't long until there was action on his recommendations... which included stepped-up output at synthetic rubber plants in Texas and elsewhere, as well as launching of a guayule seed and seedling program.

Rio Grande Valley Congressman Benson then got busy. He conferred promptly with Agriculture Department officials who took charge of the program after the Munitions Board had allocated some of its emergency funds for the work.

Soon contracts were being signed with a score or more of farmers in two counties of his district—Mayer and Zavala to plant guayule seeds on some 850 acres. They have been growing on irrigated lands under nursery conditions.

Agriculture officials recently have informed Benson that they hope to begin a big transplanting operation late this year, or early in 1952. They have in mind planting the seedlings on some 12,000 acres of unirrigated dry lands in LaSalle and Frio counties.

Sooner The Better A department official said the sooner the transplanting is done the better, because the work can be done largely by machines if the plants are not too mature. Other- wise, considerably more hand labor is required and that runs up the costs.

The guayule plants, which later are put out where they have ample growing space even through much less moisture, reach a harvesting stage in about four to five years. Under their natural growing conditions, without irrigation while seedlings, they require about six to seven years.

The big question now is money. President Truman has requested Congress to appropriate $2,307,000 to carry on the guayule program. If the funds are provided the planting will be carried on in South Texas as planned. Part of the funds would be used at the guayule research center in Salinas, Calif.

Governors To Sniff Aroma Of Upcoming Elections At Parley

GATLINBURG, TENN.—(AP)—Governors of 48 states and five territories gather at this resort next week to sniff the rarefied air of the Great Smoky Mountains and the pungent political aroma of next year's national elections.

Political discussions are not officially listed on the agenda of the forty-third annual meeting of the governor's conference. But its sessions September 30-October 3 will bring all the governors together for the last time before next Summer's Republican and Democratic conventions.

The MATURE PARENT Watch Choice Of Words With Little Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The B. children have two magic words for making their mother give them their own way. To get the last cookie, all nine-year-old Dick has to say it, "Gee, I think you're mean, mother." To get permission to spend the night with neighbors Mrs. B. does not know, all 14-year-old Elsie has to say it, "I think you're a very selfish person, mother."

Dick and Elsie don't know why the words "mean" and "selfish" reduce their mother to complacency. Even Mrs. B. herself has no idea why she reacts to them the way she does.

She has no suspicion at all that she surrenders to those two words because her mother used to use them to force her, as a little daughter, to adjust herself to other people's convenience. Although Mrs. B. is 38 years old, she never has questioned anyone's right to call her "mean" or "selfish" for defending her point of view.

Many of us have not outgrown our childish horror of being called "mean" and "selfish" when we assert a claim to respect for our point of view.

If we have suffered from fear of these two words, it is time to recover from fear of them. They are two tyrants, those words. Our experience of their power to terrorize should teach us to refuse to ever apply them to our children.

To criticize a child for "selfishness" when he defends his childish sense of justice is as cruel as it would be to punish him for falling to understand the fourth dimension.

Unselfishness is the product of experience, humility and self-perception. Children have no material out of which to create unselfishness. They simply don't know what we're talking about when we call them "selfish." All they know is that we've thought up another reason for disparaging them.

When I call my little daughter "selfish" for refusing to lend her scissors to her brother, I make her feel guilty and ashamed of her child's point of view. She may lend the scissors to her brother but it won't be because she loves him as she loves herself. It will be because she fears my disapproval.

If I call her point of view "selfish" too often, she may begin to be afraid of ever having a point of view. That's not going to be good for her when she grows up and has neighbors, a husband and children to live with.

But if I permit my little daughter to be comfortable about refusing to lend her scissors, her peaceful self-acceptance may result in an offer to lend them.

When we force youngsters to perform "unselfish" acts, we force them to produce artificial, forced, hot-house behavior that has no resemblance whatever to authentic unselfishness.

Says Erich Fromm, the psychiatrist: "The selfish person does not love himself too much, but too little. In fact, he hates himself."

We should watch our language when we are tempted to toss words like "selfish" at little boys and girls.

If we do use them, we are not teaching them how to love. We are teaching them to fear to defend what they conceive to be their rights. We are teaching them lack of confidence in their decisions. We are teaching them to hate themselves.

Self-love, our psychiatrists tell us, is the basis of love for others. Unless we think we are pretty good people, on the whole, we are apt to be so worried about our shortcomings that we have no time to love anyone.

She has attended the American Art School in New York City and the Art Colony in Rockport, Mass. Last summer she was director of the Cloudercroft Art Colony in Cloudercroft, N. M.

Mrs. Kyle Blackerby, Coleman, was the guest speaker. She was introduced by Mrs. C. C. Keith. Her speech was based on material from Dr. David Terry's book "Back to the Home."

She said Dr. Terry stated that the greatest enemy of the home is infidelity. It was held that the home's best friend is the church and that we need to return to God.

Included with her talk on the home, Mrs. Blackerby read the poem "The Sheep Astray," author unknown, and "Home," by Edgar A. Guest.

Mrs. Douglas Edmon and Mrs. Earl Johnson greeted the guests. Those attending were served punch from a table set with a green cloth, centered with arrangements of pink carnations. Pale green candies flanked the table. White tea napkins printed in silver letters, "Modern Study Club," were used.

Movie Rating List Will Be Published Weekly By P-TA

Expanding its popular movie rating service in an effort to reach more residents of the city and section, Midland's city-wide Parent-Teacher Association, beginning Sunday, will publish its list of current movie ratings as paid advertising in each Sunday issue of The Reporter-Telegram. The list will appear on the newspaper's theater page.

The program this year is sponsored by the Audio-Visual Education Committee of the P-TA, in cooperation with the management of Midland theaters.

All films scheduled for showings at theaters here will receive adult, family, teenage or children ratings. The ratings are obtained through the national and state P-TA publications and the DAR movie rating list.

Midland's movie rating program was started by the Parent-Teacher organization about a year and a half ago, with rating lists distributed to students who were supposed to take them home to their parents. Sponsors believe the new method of publicizing the movie ratings will be more effective and will reach more parents. They urge parents to observe the list each week.

Committee Members Listed
The committee handling the program is composed of a representative of each school affiliated with the City County of Parents and Teachers. The representatives are: Mrs. Murray Farken, West Elementary; Mrs. Frank Monroe, North Elementary; Mrs. Tom Campbell, Sam Houston Elementary; Mrs. W. F. Shands, David Crockett, Elementary; Mrs. H. C. Rowland, Junior High, and Mrs. M. O. Gibson, High School. A South Elementary representative will be appointed to the committee.

Sponsors said the program in the past has been well received by students and parents alike, and the results have been most worthwhile. Under the expanded program, they expect the results to be even more beneficial to all concerned.

Take corned beef hash out of the can whole, cut in half lengthwise, then brush with a tablespoon of bacon fat mixed with a tablespoon of catsup and bake in a moderate oven for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with creamed potatoes and a tossed green salad to which coarsely grated carrots have been added.

ing Committee, read the report of the progress made since the organization of the committee.

Mrs. Brandon Rea, chairman of the projects committee, told of the historical plate which is to be for sale about November 15. She also announced plans of bringing Perry Grainger to Midland in March.

Miss Fannie Bess Taylor announced she had been appointed by Mrs. Hodge as chairman of the Women's Payroll Savings Committee for the National Defense Bond Drive here. She asked the cooperation of all the clubs. It also was announced five workers would be needed from each club.

Mrs. Rhodes introduced the newly elected vice president, Mrs. G. H. Higdon.

The following announcements were made at the meeting: Mrs. C. E. Bissell said the Midland Garden Club would hold a bulb mart on November 3 and 4 in the home of Mrs. C. E. Marsh, 1406 West Cuthbert Street.

Mrs. Westlund announced that Mrs. Herbert Emery of Dallas would review a book at the Tower Theater November 30, with the Modern Study Club as the sponsor.

Hostess for the Building Committee meeting will be Mrs. Britt. The meeting will be held in her home, 710 West Kansas Street, at 9:30 a.m. October 5.

The next meeting of the Midland Women's Club, Inc., will be held in the home of Mrs. Ernest Nance, 1600 West Michigan Street, October 18.

MIDLAND SPEAKER —

J. Louis Neff of Houston, executive director of the Texas division of the American Cancer Society, will be one of the featured speakers at the District 14 meeting to be held in Midland October 3. The public will be invited to the morning session on lay educational and service activities.

'Bond A Month' For 161 Months, Record Of Oklahoma Family

ENID, OKLA. — A bond a month for 161 consecutive months. That's the record of A. L. Smith of Enid. As a matter of fact, "a bond" a month is a minimum figure for, Smith says, "the last ten years we have bought at least two and frequently more per month."

And the Smiths never have cashed a bond prior to the maturity date, they proudly will tell you.

The Smiths, who moved to Enid in November from Elk City, bought their first bond on February, 1928. "We haven't missed a month since," he says.

Smith's bonds have run the full gamut of designations — always in the "B" series — from Savings Bonds, through Defense, War, Savings, Victory and now again to Defense Bonds.

$200 Monthly Income
"I told my wife back in '37 that we may not always have the earning power we do now and bonds will give us something coming in each month," he gives as the reason for beginning the purchase. His foresight has paid off because he says he has about $200 a month in income from the bonds at the present time.

A record of all the bonds is kept very carefully by Mrs. Smith in a big ledger. "She's the bookkeeper," Smith, whose eyesight began failing several years ago, laughs.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Foot In The Stirrup

Was Uncle Bunkum afraid? Was he?

That's what Mugwump Monkey was wondering, because now he had come to see Uncle Bunkum do the riding of the wild and dangerous horse that Uncle Bunkum had said he would ride.

The horse belonged to Old MacDonald who has a farm. Old MacDonald was there, and Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend. And the horse was there, snorting and chomping and pawing at the ground, and Uncle Bunkum was there to ride, he said.

But was Uncle Bunkum afraid to do it? Was he? Could he? "Worry, worry, and worry," said Mugwump to himself. And now he was climbing the corral fence to watch everything happen.

Daddy Ringtail and Old MacDonald had saddled the horse, and they were holding it still as best they could.

"Whoa, now!" shouted Uncle Bunkum. He was trying to put his foot in the foot-place on the saddle, so he could get on. "Whoa, now!" There! Uncle Bunkum's foot had found the foot place which people call the saddle stirrup. Up went Uncle Bunkum! "Yippee!"

"Whoa-a-a-see!" answered the horse, and now it was loose to buck and pitch and try to throw Uncle Bunkum off. Yippee!

The horse ran with his head down and his front legs stiff. Run! Jump! Bounce and pitch! Jump! Run! Pitch and bounce! All with trying to throw Uncle Bunkum off. And was Uncle Bunkum afraid? No sir, and no indeed, Mugwump decided, but suddenly—Uncle Bunkum had jumped from the horse, and the horse went jumping away on three of his legs. What on what had happened?

Well, it seemed that the horse had put a foot in the foot-place on the saddle. And Uncle Bunkum explained how if the horse was going to ride, it was time for Uncle Bunkum to get down, and so that is what he had done.

And about the horse? Well, the horse was so ashamed of his trying to get up in the saddle on his own back—never again did he buck or pitch or toss or try to be a dangerous horse. Then and there the horse decided to be a good and faithful friend, and that is what he has done. And if anyone doesn't believe it, let him go to Old MacDonald's farm sometime and see for himself. Yeah, and happy day! (Copyright 1951, General Features Corp.)

sects, especially the boll weevil and pink bollworm. And third, as a direct result of improved soil and fewer insects cotton yields and profits are increased.

Ready For Plowing

To be effective, Gunter says, the program must be carried out on a community or county-wide basis or better still on an area basis. Right now moisture conditions are not favorable for plowing and this may prove to be a handicap but stalks should be cut and made ready for plowing when the rains do come. A shredder type stalk cutter is best but the heavy roller type cutters which cut the stalks into small pieces also do a good job. Removing the wings from the middlebuster will aid in making the plowing job easier if the ground is too hard and dry for normal plowing, says Gunter.

He points out also there still is plenty of time to plant a Winter lemons crop and suggests that this be done to further increase the yields of crops that will be planted next year.

Rural fires will take a toll of 3,500 lives and $102,000,000 in property this year unless farmers take immediate steps to eliminate the cause of these tragic fires, the National Fire Protection Association said.

In announcing that Fire Prevention Week will be observed October 7-13 by proclamation of President Truman, the NFPA pointed out that rural fires are occurring at the rate of one every five minutes. The NFPA asserts that 90 per cent are due to carelessness and negligence and are preventable.

As evidence, the NFPA says that invariably there is an abrupt and sharp drop in the number of fires during and immediately following Fire Prevention Week. Then, the fire loss sooms upward once again.

Cooperating with the NFPA and urging farmers to join in this year's campaign and to practice fire prevention the year round are the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural Extension Services.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds

"I was really happy and surprised with the results obtained taking Barcetrane," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 214 Burnett St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 10 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds

Mrs. D. C. Baker, Box 31, Bryson, Texas, writes as follows: "I weighed 215 pounds when I commenced to take Barcetrane. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to continue taking it until I am down to 160 pounds. I have several of my friends taking Barcetrane and they are losing weight also."

In a double-ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church, Rita Myrell Livingston of Midland became the bride of Virgil W. Krutsinger of Midland and Hobbs, N. M.

The Rev. R. Luther Kirk, pastor, officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Livingston of Midland. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Krutsinger of Centralia, Ill.

A program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony. Selections included "Indian Love Call," "Friml," "O Promise Me," "DeKoven," "When Thou Art Near," "Bach and 'Ave Maria,'" Schubert, Duke Jimerson soloist, sang "Thine Alone" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Other nuptial music included "Prayer," Gullmants, "O Perfect Love," Barnby, "Bridal Chorus," Wagner, and "Wedding March," Mendelssohn.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and green were used in the church decorations. Vows were read before a background arrangement of candles holding pink tapers and baskets of pink gladioli and green jades.

Attendants Listed
Mrs. R. D. Jones, Jr., of Midland, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and Betty Jean Wilson of Midland was the maid of honor. They wore orchid-colored dresses of organdy over taffeta, designed with sweetheart necklines, fitted bodices and full skirts. Their wide-brimmed, crownless picture hats matched their dresses. Taffeta bands around the brims were tied in the back with big bows from which fell ribbon streamers. They carried arm bouquets of Better Times roses.

Bridesmaids were Mona McGraw of Oklahoma City and Bobbie Rodgers of Midland. Their dresses and hats, styled like those of the maid and matron of honor, were of pale green. They also carried arm bouquets of Better Times roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organdy fashioned with a fitted bodice shirred at the sides and a full skirt. The long sleeves extended to points over the bride's wrists. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a flower headdress and she carried a bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis.

For "something old," she wore a gold, bedroom pin, more than 100 years old, which belonged to her maternal grandmother. Her "something new" was a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom. For "something blue," she wore a garter traditionally given to members of her sorority, and for "something borrowed," she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to the bridegroom's mother.

Her gift to the bridegroom was a five-jewel Shrine lapel pin.

Open House Planned For Dog Week Here

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will sponsor an open house at the Midland Animal Shelter Sunday beginning at 10 a. m. to initiate the third annual local observance of National Dog Week.

Mrs. Lee Flood is local chairman of National Dog Week here, which is sponsored nationally by the National Dog Welfare Guild.

Mayor Perry Pickett issued a proclamation to officially designate Sept. 23-29 as the week of observance here.

Using the theme, "At your service—All-Ways," in his proclamation, Mayor Pickett urged all Midland citizens to "pay tribute to the splendid quality of loyalty, faithfulness, and courage which since the beginning of time have linked dogs with the finest quality of human life."

In reference to the local situation, Mrs. Flood said the SPCA realizes that conditions at the Animal Shelter are not yet ideal. But she pointed out that the canine population here has increased right along with the human population.

She said the SPCA has spent close to $1,000 at the site of the present shelter on improvements since the last National Dog Week.

"Our concern, as an organization, is for animals in distress, the lost, the homeless, the injured and the sick," she said.

While the SPCA realizes there are situations where pets must be given up, they said they are appalled at the number of people who have brought a dog to the animal shelter and said, "We don't want it anymore."

"We think that an act of cruelty," she said.

She said a package of cigarettes or a carton of soft drinks a year from each taxpayer would provide enough funds to help care adequately for the dogs in distress.

During National Dog Week the SPCA urges Midland citizens to visit the Animal Shelter, located at the extreme end of East Wall Street, and take an animal home and become his "best friend."

The Boxer provided air support to landings since the Inchon invasion. Last year, the ship set a speed record by transporting 170 P-51 Mustang fighter planes from San Francisco to Yokuski, Japan, in seven days. Henson was detached from the ship July 9.

A farmer before joining the Navy following graduation from Stanton High School in 1936, Chief Henson has served aboard four main line fighting ships, including the cruiser

New Orleans. He was aboard the latter during the Pearl Harbor attack which exploded into World War II.

Henson will reside with his wife and three children in New Orleans.

Lockheed Contract At Pyote Air Base Will Be Extended

MONAHAN—H. H. Ogden, manager of Lockheed Aircraft Service at Pyote Air Force Base, has received verbal assurance through Air Force channels that the LAS B-29 contract soon will be extended by the addition of a substantial block of aircraft.

Ogden stated, "This extension will call for Lockheed Aircraft Service, Pyote, to start delivery of the additional aircraft beginning in February, 1952."

"With the present and added work load," Ogden continued, "it is necessary that our work force be enlarged and to this extent, we hope to obtain the same excellent cooperation from the labor exchanges and chambers of commerce in West Texas in helping recruit additional personnel as was received when LAS commenced operations on the Pyote Air Force Base."

He said Lockheed Aircraft Service always has practiced the policy of maximum utilization of local personnel for its operations, only transferring from its California and New York bases the minimum of supervisory personnel. He pointed out that Lockheed Aircraft Service is doing everything possible to encompass as much defense work as the manpower available in this area will support.

"The extension to our present contract," said Ogden, "should carry us through 1952 at the Pyote Air Force Base, which will give our present and future employees assurance of steady jobs extending into the future under better-than-average working conditions."

At the present time LAS-Pyote Base employs number approximately 200, including 10 supervisory personnel transferred from the California and New York bases.

The contract calls for the removal of bomber type aircraft from long-time storage, and preparing these aircraft for flight delivery to LAS, Marietta, Ga., division.

Commendable Action

Willard Thorp, U. S. assistant secretary of State, is in Geneva, Switzerland, continuing the American government's efforts to put painful pressure on Czechoslovakia in retaliation for the imprisonment of AP newsmen William Oatis.

Normally this Geneva meeting, devoted to tariffs and world trade, would be routine and somewhat dull. But Thorp's goal, to isolate the Czechs from the trade benefits of the free world lifts it above that.

Thorp's instructions stem both from presidential direction and congressional admonition. By resolution, Congress called for severing of trade ties with Czechoslovakia. While that action lacks the force of law, it is strongly influential.

If the government succeeds in tightening the noose about the Czechs at Geneva, the anguish in Prague soon should be acute.

The most effective step thus far is the Western powers' blockade of the Czech Air Line, which now is barred from flights into France and Britain and over Western Germany.

The Czechs formally are protesting the move as "open discrimination" against their "republic." It is indeed that, and no nation involved in the ban makes any pretense to the contrary.

The Communist puppets in Prague know, of course, that their protests will fall upon deaf ears in the West. They merely are shouting for the record, and to try to stir a little sympathy in those corners of the globe which still pay any attention to Communist words.

Actually they understand that to get rid of the air ban and other restrictions they will have to release Oatis. Publicly they declare this impossible, and Moscow even has joined the refrain. But privately the story is very likely a different one.

U. S. officials consequently have carefully avoided tying their various moves directly to the Oatis case. They want to leave the way open for a Red backdown without too great loss of face.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Drew Pearson says: General Ike lays down conditions of candidacy; Senate policy one-sided in approving ambassadors; Baltimore federal attorney sits on Warring case.

WASHINGTON — In heart-to-heart talks with trusted friends, General Eisenhower has laid down the formula for his running for President. He made it plain his sole interest is to defeat Senator Taft-Chicago Tribune isolationism. The main points in Ike's political availability are:

If the Republicans want him as their nominee, they must prove it by a genuine, grass-roots draft. This would be proof that the internationalists are in the saddle. The general will not roll up his sleeves and take part in a fast-swinging campaign for the nomination.

This refusal to be "branded" has split the Eisenhower backers on tactics. Governor Dewey wanted to open headquarters and carry on an aggressive campaign this Fall, but Rep. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., on his return from Europe told him Ike would not stand for this.

At the same time, Ike confused some of the politicians by saying privately that, although he preferred the Republican Party, he would not hesitate to run as a Democrat to knock off Senator Taft.

The most that his eager backers and friends have been able to get from the general is that next Spring he will survey the situation, and indicate then whether he will run for President and on what ticket.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was played in the team event of the recent national championships held by the American Contract Bridge League in Washington, D. C.

East made a rather risky vulnerable overall of two spades, and South thought that his double would settle that match once and for all.

West opened the king of hearts, since the bidding indicated that dummy was very short in spades. South won with the ace of hearts.

North ran out of the double since he had raised to two hearts with an unsound hand.

East stepped in with the nine of hearts, and declared discarded helplessly. South still had to lose two black cards and two trumps for a two-trick set.

"You could have made that hand," said West when the play was finished. "You simply refuse the first trick, take the second trump, cash the top diamonds, ruff a spade in dummy, and lead the diamonds. I have the last trump and the long diamonds. By the time I ruff the fifth diamond, you've had three discards and one ruff. You lose only two trumps and one black card."

"That's not true," said South. "If I refuse the first trick, you can still beat me by switching to spades at once. Dummy must ruff, and I can never draw East's second trump. Would you have switched to spades if I had let you hold the first trump?"

"We'll never know," said West. "Try me the next time, and we'll see."

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Diamond Pass 5-4. You, South, hold: Spades 7-5-4, Hearts 2, Diamonds Q-J-7-2, Clubs A-J-9-6-3. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. Your hand is strong enough for two bids, so you can afford to show your clubs first and raise the diamonds later on.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 7-5-4, Hearts A-J-9-6-3, Diamonds Q-7-2, Clubs 8-2. What do you do?

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Future Of American-Japanese Trade Still Is Question Mark

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Japanese businessmen already are flocking to the United States to promote trade. Thirty Japanese firms have opened U. S. offices this year.

In the 1926-35 period, according to a study made by Ada V. Espinshade of the U. S. Department of Commerce, this country took about one-third of Japanese exports and supplied the same proportion of imports.

Only a seventh of Japanese exports, however, were shipped to the U. S. If future trade is to be balanced, Japan will have to build up its exports to the U. S. and America will have to buy more goods made in Japan.

The nature of American-Japanese trade has changed considerably from prewar. Before the war, the U. S. imported from Japan 65,000,000 pounds of raw silk a year.

Fish liver oil imports from Japan were practically non-existent before the war. Now they are being imported at the rate of about $7,000,000 worth a year.

Other principal U. S. imports from Japan today are largely the prewar standby of canned fish, cotton textiles, ceramics and toys.

Whether the United States can hold this trade for a long-term period is considered doubtful. As Japan builds up its trade with Southeast Asia, U. S. exports to Japan may be expected to decline.

Japan's Premier Shigeru Yoshida's San Francisco peace conference statement that Japan's prewar trade with China was not important sent Department of Commerce experts scurrying into their statistics.

By nightfall, I was 50 miles north of the fort, five due east of the string of camps along the Tongue. Leaving Hussein tethered in a thick alder copse, I struck out westward on foot over the Wolf Mountains.

Four hours brought me to a ridge overlooking the lodges of the Oglala Sioux. It was now midnight. To the south of the Oglala, down river, ran the lodges of the Arapahoe and Cheyenne; to the north, up river, those of the Minuticonjou, Hunkpapa, and the Brule.

The Oglala lodges were pitched in a group of four villages, each village forming a corner of a large, open square. Within this square an enormous bonfire was burning, throwing its light back onto the flanks of the hills in which I hid, a distance of 200 yards.

I had my old draw-tube, pocket scope on the scene. A dance was in progress, probably had been for two days. This was not what shook me. But in the center of the ring of crazily wheeling figures was a tall pole, painted a vivid scarlet. From the top of this, sticks radiated in the manner of wheel spokes, a buckskin though hanging from each of these spokes to within about eight feet of the ground.

Good Preparation Is Vital In Painting House

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Indian Summer is a fine time to relax—and it's also a fine time to do outdoor painting, too, right on into October.

You can save yourself a lot of money painting your own house, providing you're not footloose (or allergic) about climbing ladders—and providing, also, that you don't communities; or they can be borrowed, of course, depending on how you stand with your neighbors.

Best Type Paint
Your paint dealer also will help you decide the best kind of paint for the climate you live in, such as whether to use a freely-chalking paint that is more or less self-cleaning as it weathers, or a harder finish. Don't fool around with unknown bargain paints.

If just brushing on the paint were the only thing involved in this job, a lot more people probably would do it themselves. But you'll run into all kinds of trouble unless you do a lot of preliminary work first.

Places where the old paint has peeled, cracked, blistered or checked, will have to be scraped down to bare wood and primed. You'll usually find the worst of these spots around the eaves and the door and window trim, which means you have to take down screens and shutters before you start.

Dirty streaks down corners or outside walls generally mean leaky gutters and leaders; if you haven't checked them lately, do it before you paint, so your brand-new job won't be ruined the first time it rains.

Pick a dry day to paint—and make sure the wood, not just the weather is dry. Avoid a windy day, too, so all kinds of things floating through the air won't stick to the fresh paint.

Since there's almost always some sort of a breeze blowing, better make a deal with your windward neighbors not to burn leaves the day you're painting—unless, of course, you wanted the house black anyway.

Designers Working To Eliminate Bath Hour 'Bottleneck'

"Bottlenecks" in the bathroom of the one-bath home soon may be a thing of the past.

Architects all over the country are working at increasing the efficiency of a single bathroom so it may serve more than one family member at a time with complete privacy.

One notable example of this type of design, originated by a firm of California architects, but practical in any area, is an all-clay tile room combining two dressing-room-baths in a single area. It permits bathing and dressing in the same easy-to-clean room and provides more space and greater seclusion in the bedrooms.

A separate tub and shower and two toilet compartments, located in the center, divide this new bathroom into two units. Sliding doors on both sides of the shower compartment complete the separation.

At the outside wall, separated by the shower, are two wash basins with counters and a dressing table. Clay tile flooring next to the lavatories, tub and shower is radiantly heated, with coils also running within the shower walls, the shower seat and over the tub. Above the dressing table provided for the lady of the house are large, evenly-lighted mirror panels.

Under the lavatory counters are cosmetic drawers, clothes hampers and extra storage space, well out of the way of persons using the bathroom.

Rugged Simplicity, Comfort Mark Room For Man Of House

Comfort and masculine atmosphere, plain, rugged furnishings and simple decorative ideas are essential in a room that a man can call his own for reading or study, hobby work or play.

To mark the room as masculine and to remove the sleeping-room atmosphere, in case it must do double-duty both as study and bedroom, a bed without head or footboard should be used. By covering it with fabric which matches the draperies, decorative unity is attained.

Straightforward Furnishings
Furniture should follow simple, straightforward lines. Chairs should be deep and roomy. Use sectional drawer and cabinet units which can be fitted together in any desired combination to make dresser space, or build in drawers and cabinets with broad tops along one wall.

For rugged, masculine atmosphere, cover walls and floor with Kencork. This material has an interesting texture and men like its coloring—the woody browns of nature, ranging from light oak to dark walnut. The tiles are made from natural cork and thus have an added value as insulation against both noise and heat.

Colors For Walls
If it is desired to use color on the walls, a floor of this material will harmonize with any color chosen. If little sunshine penetrates the room, yellow, orange or any of the red tones used as wall color will provide cheer. In a sunny room, blues, grays and greens are restful. For the ceiling, a stronger or lighter shade of the wall color, or a con-

Facilities Can Be Added At Low Cost

A second bathroom, or at least an extra lavatory, has become a virtual necessity in the American home and such facilities can be added to most existing houses at a relatively low cost, according to the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

Most older houses have ready-made space in dining alcoves off the kitchen. A space six feet by six feet is adequate for lavatory, toilet and shower stall, or six feet by eight feet is large enough to include a bathtub with overhead shower. Quite often it is possible to find the needed space in an over-sized hall. Many families have built a small addition to house a second bathroom.

Numerous inexpensive plastic and metal waterproof wall finishes now are available in a variety of colors, together with colorful composition flooring material.

More Floor Area Is Exposed In Decorative Trend

A current home decorating trend which features exposure of more floor area and use of scatter rugs is becoming increasingly popular, experts say.

Where the floors are of attractive oak or other hardwood the practice has three important advantages which appeal to homemakers, the authorities point out.

It enables one to capitalize on the distinctive beauty of grain and coloring characteristics of fine hardwood floors. Rather than "wasting" this beauty by concealing it, the homemaker utilizes it as an integral part of the decorative plan. The rooms profit through an added note of charm and dignity.

A second advantage lies in economy. Particularly in these times, substantial savings can be effected by selecting small rugs, which serve well to set off the beauty of the hardwood floors.

In this connection a home management specialist at Texas A. and M. College pointed out recently that small, bright colored cotton rugs were coming into strong favor because they contribute cheerful color to a home at little cost.

Eating Quarters In Kitchen Show Popularity Gain

The new or remodeled kitchen of 1951 is likely to make provisions for eating quarters.

According to a recent survey of home owner performances in kitchen styling, the trend toward providing facilities for family eating in the same room where meals are cooked is gaining in favor.

Ideas for such dining equipment range all the way from a little drop-down "snack bar" for two persons to an entire alcove accommodating a full table and several chairs. One of the most popular is a stationary shelf, surfaced in waterproof material to harmonize with the rest of the kitchen, at which the family may draw up stools.

Small families have shown a decided preference for the drop-down snack bar. One which is only two feet square has sufficient area to hold all the dishes necessary for a simple breakfast for two. In some instances, the shelf long enough to accommodate several persons is installed in a drop leaf manner, folding out of the way.

Also popular, especially in rather large kitchens, is the built-in table with benches.

Builders also are finding that the permanent dining nook provides a lot of shelf space and storage area built right into the backs of the stationary benches. A current trend is toward constructing such nooks in the window area, not only to provide a view but also to utilize space otherwise neglected because it may not be suitable for appliance installations.

Housework Methods Strictly A Matter Of Individuality

Don't let anybody tell you how to do your housework.

That's the advice of modern home economists, who recommended that housekeeping methods are an individual matter of temperament, physical makeup and equipment available, and that Mrs. Jones system may be good for her, but not for Mrs. Smith.

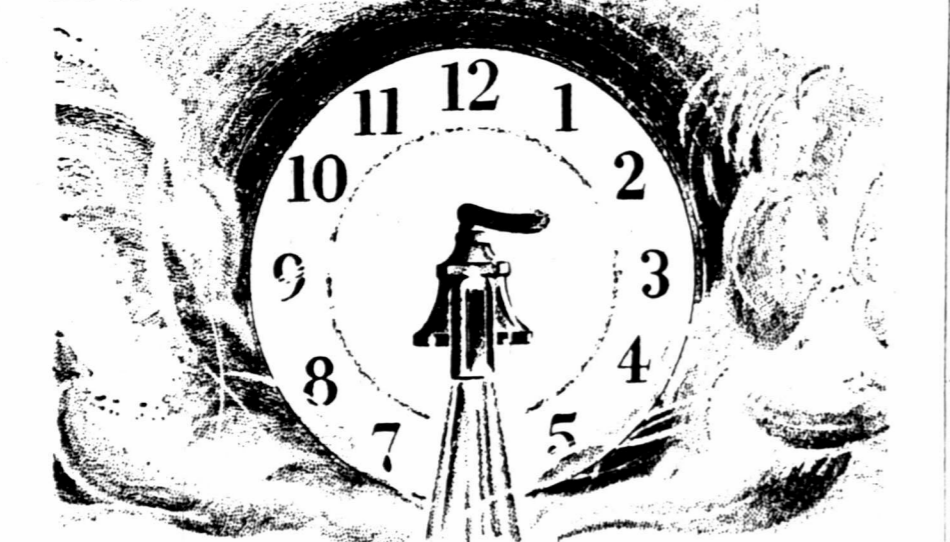

The experts suggest that every homemaker give herself a periodic checkup of housekeeping methods with regard to expenditure of time and energy. She might learn that she is wasting hours and strength because her kitchen needs modernization with time-saving, easy-to-clean material, or that her refrigerator, washing machine, or vacuum sweeper is so outmoded it is robbing her of efficiency.

Home economists recommend further that as the homemaker studies her work, she should simplify it by getting the latest information on home equipment suited to her personal needs. Again they stress the importance of individuality. The type kitchen or laundry a neighbor has, and her selection of appliances, may be ideal for that family, but unsuited to the needs of her own household.

Prejudices Cited
Prejudices about work methods, mostly inherited from mothers and grandmothers, can be a hindrance to homemaking efficiency, the experts warn. Just because Grandma preferred painted walls, or to wash on Mondays, is no reason the modern housekeeper should cling to old-fashioned methods.

Proper housekeeping, the home economists sum up, is not only homemaking efficiency, it is also personal pleasure. Make it more so by fitting methods to your own requirements.

Cooperation

(An Editorial)

Now that school is underway again, let us try to begin the year in a spirit of cooperation with our teachers and fellow students. There will be times when we will face situations and obstacles which we feel we cannot overcome. Sometimes we may feel we have been treated unfairly by one of our teachers, but bear in mind that no one is perfect and certainly no one can keep from making mistakes. Our teachers, on the whole, are trying their best to be fair to everyone and most of them will lean over backwards to help a student if he is really trying his best. Jack Mashburn, dean of students, and Don Mitchell, principal, are at Midland High School to help us. If we have some problem we wish to discuss, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Mashburn never will be too busy to see us.

In our studies we can expect to get out of a subject only what we put into it. If we keep up with our daily work and pay attention during class, we can expect good grades at the end of the year. If we do only what is absolutely necessary, we can expect indifferent grades and will have to "gram" before our final examinations to make acceptable grades. When we keep up with our assignments daily and try to remember what we have been taught, our finals will not be such an ordeal.

With these few thoughts in mind the Bulldog staff sincerely wishes you a successful year.

Half-Timers Make Impressive Debut

Forty-three colorfully-dressed girls made their debut September 14 at the Midland-San Angelo football game. With purple wool jerseys, bright gold scarves tied at the neck, white cotton skirts, saddle oxfords, and pert white beanies set jauntily on their heads, the Half-Timers made a snappy picture while doing a dance routine to the tune of "Saint Louis Blues."

This organization takes the place of the Gold Jackets, the former Midland High School Drill Squad, which was strictly military.

The Half-Timers are sponsored by Mrs. Eugene Wilson, and are led alternately by the five majorettes, Emily Hamilton, Barbara Long, Jean Waddill, Barbara Whitson and Barbara Ware. "Don't Disband"

This group will remain organized throughout the year. They will attend all home football games, and go to three out-of-town games, including Fort Worth. Members are Betty Spurgers, Pat Curran, Shirley Henderson, Jan Dickerson, Margie Hensley, Simone Walker, Joyce Baily, Kirk Kuykendall, Fay Henshaw, Estelle Hooper, Judy Walcott, Patsy Edgmon, Mary Row, Fifi Pryor, Peggy O'Neal, Inez Beauchamp, Eleanor Smith, Shirley Bay, Audrey Reppermund, Sue Walker, Judy Ridge, Judy Edwards, Paula Jane King, Margie Miller, Penney Jones, Retta Hazlip, Jane Calley, Janet Hooper, Diane Nichols, Mimi Speed, Margie Nell, Lanetta Early, Bobbie Moss, Sue Skags, Barbara Munson, Nina Wendt, Betty Johnson, Jean Waddill, Barbara Whitson, Barbara Ware, Barbara Long and Emily Hamilton.

Student Body Names Mayfield President

Larry Mayfield was elected president of the student body in the elections held September 13. Marion Sevier, runner-up, will serve as vice president.

The Student Council is one of the most active and beneficial organizations in our school. It is, therefore, quite an honor to be elected to this organization.

"Many projects which will benefit the school and interest all students will be planned this year," said Larry. A more definite program will be announced after the council has met.

Mayfield, a senior, is well qualified to hold this key position. A few of the previous offices he has held are: vice president of the junior class, cheer leader this year and last year and MHS representative to Boy's State. He also has been very active in band work for many years.

The friendly, brown-eyed, black-haired boy claims Trent, Texas, as his birthplace. His favorite food is fried chicken and favorite color is blue. There is no doubt his favorite girl is a cute, blue-eyed majorette.

Coach And Squad Demonstrate Grid Plays In Assembly

At the assembly on September 19 Coach "Tugboat" Jones and members of the Bulldog team ran through different formations and plays, showing the students some of the things that they could look for from the teams on the field.

The offensive team lined up for the T formation, the wing-T, the single and double wing, the spread and the box formations. Coach Jones explained the different advantages and purposes of each.

The boys then ran trap plays, pass plays, and the guard wedge. As the boys ran through the plays, Coach Jones explained the purpose of each man. He brought out the fact that if one man let down on his job, the play would flop. The team demonstrated how to "trap" an opposing player, how to "post" one and drive them back. They also ran some reverses and pass-lateral plays.

In closing, Coach Jones told of the importance of having the other boys out for football. He said the boys who were never seen in the game yet went out day after day were just as important as the boys on the field, and they are earning their letter the same as anyone else.

'SAN'—The students and faculty of Midland High School extend to friends and relatives of Nancy McKinley their warmest sympathy.

Assemblies Off To Good Start

The first assembly of the 1951-1952 school year was held September 4. The program opened with the "Pledge of Allegiance" and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" led by R. C. Michener, school choir director, and accompanied by Diana Daugherty. This was followed by group singing of "On Ye Bulldogs."

Frank Monroe, superintendent, welcomed the students and introduced Don Mitchell, the new principal, who greeted the students and introduced the new faculty members.

Clubs can add interest to school work and play was the theme of the assembly held September 12. Tommy Vannaman recognized and welcomed the freshmen and new students. The program was then turned over to Robert Stubbeman who introduced the representatives of various clubs.

The following clubs were explained: Student Council, by Larry Mayfield; National Honor Society, Jackie Ewald; Quill and Scroll Society, Mary Ann Searies; National Thespians Society, George James; the National Forensic League, Catherine Carter; Future Farmers of America, Jimmy Counts; Future Homemakers of America, Earline Hancock; "M" Club, Loren Roberts; Business Club, Camilla Birkhead; Distributive Education Club, Ann Mills; Spanish Clubs—Los Habladores and Pan American Club, Elaine Conger; and the Junior Classical League, Betty Sivalls.

The program closed with the singing of the "Alma Mater," accompanied by George James and Diana Daugherty.

Business Department Shows Large Increase

The business department of Midland High School shows a remarkable increase in enrollment, this year, with about one hundred forty students enrolled in typing, sixty-seven in shorthand, and fifty-four in bookkeeping.

Miss Fannie Reeves and Mrs. Evelyn Wink are the business education directors. The students who are eligible will take part in the Inter-scholastic League typing and shorthand meets this Spring.

Miss Reeves and Mrs. Wink are very pleased with the interest taken in business education, and they say the good condition of the machinery in the typing lab will help to turn out a number of good typing students at the end of the year.

One high producing cow can give the dairy farmer as many dollar bills above feed costs as three or four low-producing sisters.

More Than 1,000 Persons Attend First Pep Rally Of Year

Fanning themselves with their copy of new year, more than a thousand students and exes of Midland High School attended the first pep rally in the history of the high school gym. Corky Moss, Maxline Hill, Pat Boles, Larry Mayfield, and Sadie Nugent led the students in some new year songs and some regular favorites of last year.

For the first time in Midland history, both the East and West sides of the gym were filled with Midland students. Coach Tugboat Jones and his assistants, Audrey Gill and Fernon Rutledge, introduced the 1951 Bulldogs to the exes and students. Ralph Mills, the new band director, led the band in the rally's music. The school spirit and pep seemed to be the best ever at MHS. The pep rally ended with the customary singing of the "Alma Mater."

This pep rally preceded the many held in honor of the first football game of the season—with San Angelo.

Mrs. Winton Is Librarian

Mrs. Inez Winton is the new Midland High School librarian. She formerly was an elementary librarian at Long Beach, Calif., and was library supervisor at Riverside, Calif. She also served in the WAVES three years.

The new books for the term have not arrived and the magazines are arriving slowly, it was reported.

The freshman classes will be taught how to use the library at the beginning of the third week.

Journalism Students Name Bulldog Staff

Gail Baker was chosen editor-in-chief. As editor, Gail will have complete charge of the Bulldog.

Mary Ann McRae was elected assistant editor.

A letter on "cadet life" was received by MHS from some Midland boys who were attending NMMI.

A memorial meeting was held in memory of Coach Joe Akina, who was killed in action in Korea.

About two years ago this week... Mrs. Helen Rucker was the "featured person" of the week.

Midland High students were looking forward to a football game with Brownwood.

David Weaver was the "featured student" of the week.

Department Gets New Equipment

Equipment is being studied and bought for the homemaking department. The girls, teachers and administration are working on this big project together.

Earline Hancock, the area historian-reporter, was invited to the State FHA Executive Council which met in Austin, September 15. She was accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Cox, co-sponsor of the Midland Chapter of Future Homemakers.

The homemaking department appreciates the privilege of serving sandwiches and drinks to the press officials at all home games.

Student Council Elects Officers

Rap! Rap! Rap! went the gavel as Larry Mayfield, the student body president, called to order the first meeting of the 1951-52 Student Council. The council proceeded immediately to elect officers.

They are: Pat Boles, secretary; John Van Buskirk, treasurer; and Corky Moss, reporter. A suite of furniture was bought for the dean's office. The Council voted to sponsor a candy machine to be placed in the hall. Yvonne Shain was appointed chairman of the student directory committee. Marion Sevier was put in charge of the procedure for the forthcoming Howdy Week.

Cast Announced For 'Ever Since Eve,' Junior Class Play

The cast for this year's junior class play was announced Friday. The play, "Ever Since Eve," is a comedy of three acts written by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements. The play first was produced in 1941 by the National Drama Conference at Indiana University. It will be presented here October 22-23.

The cast includes Bill Robitsek as Johnny Clover, the 17-year-old editor of the school paper who always will have the audience's sympathy because of his troubles; Evelyn Hejl, who portrays Susan Blake, the 15-year-old girl who has caught up on most of the more mature young people and unintentionally makes life miserable for Johnny and Spud Erwin. Mrs. Clover, Johnny's mother, is played by Anna Bess Doyle, while Charles Whitmore is cast as Johnny's father.

Spud Erwin, who believes himself absolutely irresistible to girls, is played by Robert Stubbeman. Katherine Carter will play Betty Edwin, Spud's younger sister, while Miss Martha Willard, the teacher with some ideas of her own on how women should be treated, is played by Agatha Tabor. James Johnson is cast as the school principal, Henry Quinn, and officer Simmons is played by Royce Measures.

Girl With Accent

Lucy Belle Lee, the girl with an accent that definitely is south of the Mason-Dixon line, is portrayed by Barbara Whitson. John Petty is cast as the captain of the football squad, Preston Hughes, Johnny's friend and rival, played by Benny Bedford. Nick, played by Tommy Miller, Billy Beauchamp playing Hank and Walter Crenin cast as Bud. Sam is portrayed by Bill Aldrich.

The casting committee is Miss Dorothy Perkins, Miss Louise Boyd, Miss Josephine Weaver, Mrs. Elsie Magee and Miss Owen Gordon. The play will be directed by Miss Verna Harris, head of the speech department.

'Dead Languages' Department Has Taken On Vigor

The department of "dead languages" headed by Lucy Moore, seems to be thriving with vigor and immensely with its increasing membership of 88, this being more than any previous year in the history of Midland High School.

This year's Latin class membership is 40 more than last year's and 68 more than the membership of 1948.

Miss Moore disclaims any credit for her department's increase this year. One reason would be, of course, because of the increased enrollment of the school. Asked the reason she took Latin in school, she said Latin is the basis for understanding all languages, including English.

The Latin classes give an assembly program each year and many will remember their "classics" of last year, "The Life of Julius Caesar."

Midland High School Band Has Record Enrollment; Ralph Mills Is Director

The 1951-1952 Midland High School Band has the largest enrollment in its history. Due credit should be given to the new band director, Ralph Mills. He conducted a Summer band school through August in which the band started from scratch and progressed through the fundamentals in playing and marching.

Mr. Mills received his BS degree from McMurry College in Abilene. He taught at Lamesa High School, and later at Crockett Junior High School in Odessa before coming to Midland.

The band is especially proud of its new uniforms. They are of silver-gray whicord trimmed in purple and gold. Accessories worn with the uniforms are a white Sam Browne belt, white shirt and a black tie, and white shoes and socks. The caps are covered with gray mother-of-pearl plastic on the side and worn with them are seven-inch purple fountain plumes. Also new are many instruments, including basses, French horns, a bass clarinet and a complete set of marching drums.

For All Interested

This year's plans for the band include a project for anyone who is interested in joining the band, whether he has any experience or not, to be given instructions. As soon as he can qualify, he can join the high school band. The band plans to do many unusual football game maneuvers by the use of lights on the caps.

Later this year the band has scheduled a Christmas concert, a Spring concert, and a concert at the close of school. As for the trips the band will take, Mr. Mills says, "They will depend upon the progress of the band." An extra attraction in the band hall is a miniature maneuver board of the football field with one-half-inch to a yard. Representing the band members are lead men, one inch tall.

Leading the marching band will be its new drum major, Alan Harris. Following him are the majorettes, Agatha Tabor, Nancy Kilgiver and Nancy Cooper. Keeping order, and doing their various duties are the new officers, with Alan Harris as captain; Larry Mayfield and Horace Greenstreet, lieutenants; and John Murphy, Anna Bess Doyle, and Jimmy McClatchy, sergeants.

Miss Louise Boyd is the annual sponsor and Miss Helene Miley is the ad sponsor.

The staff is prepared to begin work as soon as materials arrive from the factory.

Dramatics, Debate Events Scheduled

For students of Midland High School who are interested in the fine arts of dramatics and debate, the following will give the highlights for this school year.

Students in acting will look forward to the Junior play, October 22 and 23; the Christmas pageant, December 17 and 18; the coronation, February 29, and the senior play, March 14 and 15.

Although the definite dates have not been set, a night of one-act plays will come during the first semester and the Thespian play will be given during the second semester.

Debate teams and extemporaneous speakers will be interested to know of a speech conference in Lubbock, October 20. Other speech conferences will be held at Abilene December 1 and at Odessa December 8.

The highlight for the debate teams will be the Waco Debate Tournament sponsored by Waco High School and Baylor University.

Lack Of Space Keeps Many Out Of Homemaking

More students are trying for homemaking than ever before, and many are turned down, because of lack of room.

The foods teacher this year is Mrs. Evelyn Cox, who was librarian in junior high for two years.

She was graduated from Texas Tech in 1949. The foods laboratory is studying the basic seven foods and food preparations. Mrs. Cox has boys' foods class fifth period, which consists of 14 boys, most of whom are football players. They also are studying the basic seven foods and food preparations.

Seniors Receive Their Class Rings

At 1:30 p.m. September 5, 135 students were officially recognized as seniors.

At a meeting called by Mrs. Mary B. Philpotts, rings were issued to the 135 seniors.

During the meeting seniors were asked to vote on whether or not rings should be the same in the future. It was decided to keep the same ring.

All seniors who have not ordered rings will be given a chance to order them soon.

High School Has 17 New Instructors

The man with the warm smile, swell sense of humor and the sparse collection of red hair is Don Mitchell, the new principal of Midland High School.

The student's first real introduction to this hard working man was in assembly on the second day of school.

He came to Midland High School from Tyler where he was principal of Gary High School for five years. This year marks the eighteenth year of Mr. Mitchell's teaching career. He also has been principal of the Vaughn School, superintendent of the Brandon Independent School System and principal of the Mount Cain High School.

He received his BS and MS degrees from North Texas State Teachers College. He is working on his doctor's degree from the University of Texas.

Mr. Mitchell is the outdoor type. He enjoys camping and fishing but said he hadn't found many places to practice out here.

During the war he served in the armed forces for three and a half years in the Navy.

He and his wife moved to Midland the first of July and spent the rest of the Summer moving in and getting ready for school.

Students and faculty join together in expressing a warm welcome to the Don Mitchell's.

There are 17 new teachers this year in Midland High School. Have you been wondering who they are? They hail from many places and by way of introducing you to them we have gathered a few facts about each of them.

Mrs. Inez Winton, librarian, taught at West Elementary School last year. She attended the University of Southern California, Eastern Mexico University and West Texas State University. Mrs. Winton has her BA and BS degree in library science.

Miss Wanda Myrick, who teaches freshman English and journalism comes from Abilene. Hardin-Simmons awarded Miss Myrick her BA and MD degrees. She taught at Arlington High School last year.

Miss Sarah Ward Connolly, English teacher, is a Dallasite. She has her master's degree from Southern Methodist University and taught in her alma mater for three years.

Gilbert I. Johnson is the teacher of general mathematics. He received his BS from North Texas State Teachers College, and also has attended the University of Houston.

The Editor Speaks

By GAIL BAKER

Sometime in the future—near or far—you will go out into this "big, wide, wonderful world" to make a good name for yourself. Of course you know this is hard to do with a C, D, or F average.

Your high school foundation of education will mean a great deal in many of your college courses.

Socially speaking, if you plan on entering a sorority or a fraternity, your grades are one of the main things that you are judged by.

However, if you intend to go to work immediately after your high school graduation, do you think higher grades would give you a much better chance for a good position?

Whether you are a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior, it is certainly not too late to really buckle down and bring up those grades.

Think it over—are we not right?

If there is anything in particular that you either like or dislike about this edition of the Bulldog, why not write us a letter and give us your suggestions. The paper is for YOU to enjoy!

Remember Leon Cline, last year's editor of the Bulldog? He certainly was a swell editor, and I do hope I can "fill the bill" as well as he did!

Swords Keep Disappearing From Statue

HOUSTON, TEX.—(P)—Houston's Dick Dowling, whose favorite pastime was practical jokes, may be chuckling over this from beyond the grave.

No matter how hard they try, his home town admirers have found it impossible to keep his gray granite statue in Sam Houston Park supplied with swords.

The dilemma was discussed by Tom H. Needham, former city councilman, who for the last 15 years has been the chief volunteer custodian of the statue in honor of the young Irish hero of the battle of Sabite Pass.

"Since the statue was moved from its original site at the old City Hall," Needham recalled, "Dick Dowling's sword has mysteriously vanished five times."

There Since 1937 The statue has been in its present location since 1937. Needham said the supply of swords ran out in 1947. When St. Patrick's Day neared that year, it was discovered Dowling's sword was gone again, and Needham donated his own Knights of Columbus ceremonial sword to the statue.

"When the next year came around, the Knights of Columbus sword was gone, too." The volunteer guardian continued. "So I had a length of cooper pipe cut and had it cemented under the left hand of the statue where the sword used to dangle. No one has disturbed the cooper pipe since and I've given up plans for replacing it."

Needham's theory is that souvenir-hunting youths throw rocks at the statue until they knock the swords loose. They were unable to do this before the monument was moved because its original location was in front of the old City Hall (now a bus station) right in the heart of town.

September 8 was the eighty-eighth anniversary of the War between the states battle in which young Dowling, only 25 years old at the time, saved Texas from invasion by the Yankees. Sometime later this month, the eighty-fourth anniversary of the death of the young Houston hero will be observed.

Programs Aimed At Keeping Texas Coast Island Uncivilized

PADRE ISLAND, TEXAS.—(P)—This long, thin island along the lower Texas coast is practically uncivilized, which is the way Texans on the other side of Laguna Madre want keep it.

They're planning vast programs to make the island a raw paradise for tourists and pleasure seekers. Laguna Madre is the water area between Padre Island and the Texas coast.

Corpus Christi citizens and citizens of other coastal cities are working to make the island a 100-mile-long playground. Their efforts have born some fruit, because Nueces County recently held a $300,000 bond issue, and that area of the island near Corpus Christi now is a small resort.

San Patricio citizens also have voted a similar bond issue to purchase the causeway leading to Mustang Island, which now is linked with Padre. Port Isabel is just about ready to bridge the span.

Harlingen and Brownsville are striving for a 2.6 mile causeway from Port Isabel to Padre, and their plans are nearing completion.

Padre Island is a narrow strip of heaped-up sand dunes running for miles up the Gulf Coast from Brownsville to Baffin Bay. It has been called one of the most romantic spots in the world.

Welch Richardson of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce wrote: "Pirates buried their loot there in the days of the Spanish Main. Ribs of old galleons and more recent casualties of the sea dot the long beaches.

"The island still is unspoiled. The sands are clean and sparkling."

There are now facilities on the terminal ends of the island, at Corpus Christi and Port Isabel. The ones at the upper end are far superior, since their causeway makes such development practical. At Port Isabel there are ferries and sand taxis, but no roads.

Devil's elbow the spot where most ship wreckage is found, is 25 miles from the island's southern tip. Here can be found coconuts, pineapples, broken spars, boxes empty and filled with ships stores. Out of the sand stick skeletal remnants of lost ships.

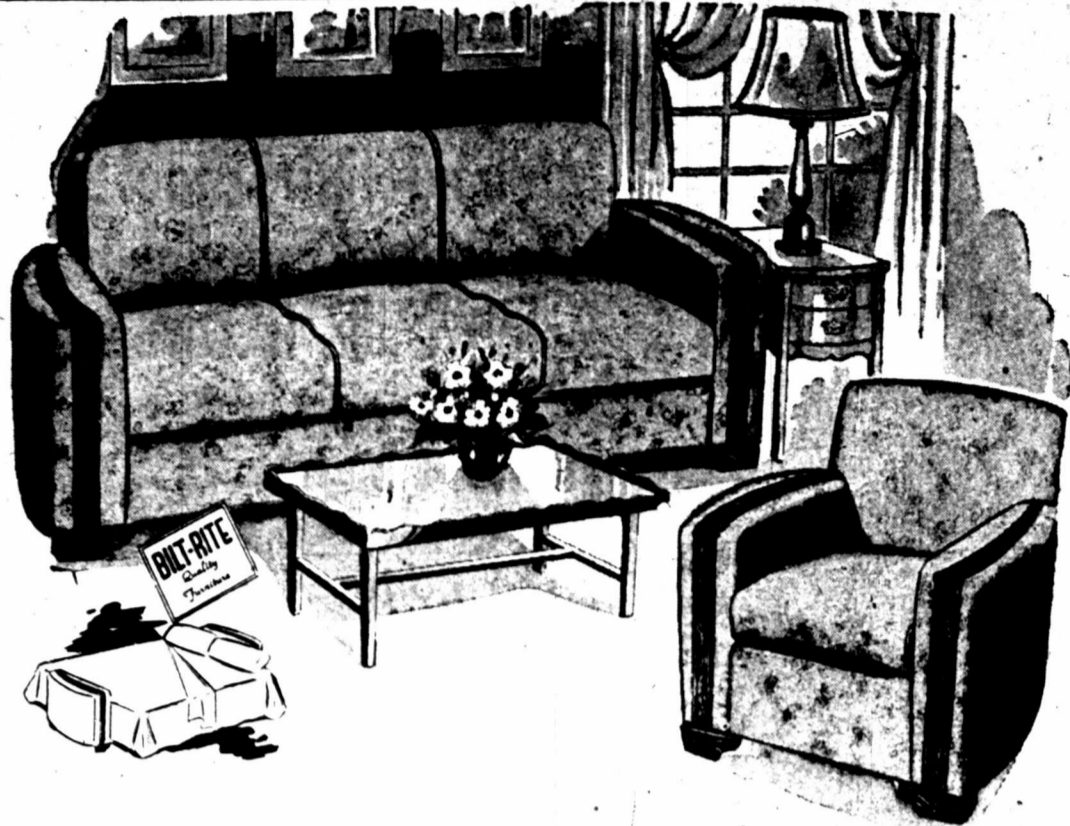

Such is the setting of the "Lost City" of Padre Island. Perhaps this was the location of the Santa Cruz ranch back in the early 1800's when Padre Nicholas Balli came to the island which today bears his title.

Pecos Lions Club Organizes Band

PECOS—The Lions Club of Pecos has organized a string band, one that "can play anything from hill-billy to semi-classical music," members report.

Musicians are Bond Bradford, Frank Cummings, C. C. Wilson, Bob Baker, Pete Smith and E. F. Bright. Beverly Cothrun, club sweetheart, will appear as the band's vocalist.
