Completion Slated For Spraberry Test In NE Reagan Area

Operator is now installing Christmas tree for completion of a new Spraberry strike in Northeast Reagan County.

The prospective new field opener is The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-B J. D. Sugg Estate.

After drilling out plug on seven-inch casing set at 5,414 feet and deepening to 5,540 feet, operator pulled swab five times and the well kicked off and flowed 62.79 barrels of oil plus two per cent basic sediment and water through a quarter-inch tubing choke in four hours. Tubing pressure was 250 pounds.

During the next eight hours the well flowed 100 barrels of oil through 2 3/4 inch tubing choke. Tubing pressure was 310 pounds.

The next eight hours the well flowed 78.73 barrels of 45.5-gravity oil plus two per cent basic sediment and water through a quarter-inch tubing choke. Tubing pressure was 400 pounds.

The project is seven miles east of the Standard Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Wade, small pumping discovery five miles east of the closest production in the Spraberry Trend to the west.

Exact location for No. 1-B J. D. Sugg Estate is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 213, block 2, T&P survey. The above gauges were natural. Spraberry was topped at 5,495 feet. Elevation is 2,645 feet.

OPS Launches Enforcement Drive

Angry Reds Bolt Meeting At Kaesong

TOKYO —(P)— Communists officers Tuesday angrily stalked out of a meeting at Kaesong but General Ridgway asked them to return Wednesday for another try at reviving the stalled Korean truce talks.

The Reds walked out when Allied officers insisted on discussing conditions under which the truce talks could be resumed. The Allies earlier told the Reds Kaesong was not a satisfactory site.

The Communists wanted to get the truce talks going right away. They demanded that the first session be given over to plans for processing a string of charges that the Allies had violated the neutrality of Kaesong.

New Message To Reds

Eight and one-half hours after the Reds stalked out of the Tuesday morning meeting, an Allied officer left the advance camp at Munasan with a message for the Reds.

He made the extraordinary night flight to Panmunjom, near Kaesong, by helicopter.

The message, signed by Col. Andrew J. Kinney, under instructions from Ridgway said:

"Despite your unilateral action in recessing the meeting today and your abrupt departure therefrom, I am prepared to meet with you Wednesday x x x at 10 a.m. (7 p.m. CST, Tuesday) to discuss conditions mutually satisfactory for resumption of the armistice talks."

The talks have been stalled 33 days.

The word "conditions" left the situation just where it was when the Reds walked out of Tuesday's meeting.

Explosive Suddenness

The tense, 90 minute session ended with explosive suddenness.

Air Force Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior Allied liaison officer, had proposed that both sides discuss conditions which would guarantee uninterrupted talks by the negotiators.

Chinese Red Col. Chang Chun-San flatly rejected the suggestion, said the meeting was ended, and headed for the door.

The belief prevailed at Allied headquarters that the Communist breakout did not signal a complete breakdown of the stalled truce talks.

CROWDS KEEP VIGIL—Crowds surge around the railings of Buckingham Palace in London, England, to read bulletins announcing the condition of King George VI after he underwent an operation for lung resection.

Keep Rover Home, School Officials Ask

A schoolboy—with books under arm—followed by a trusting dog has become almost a legendary figure in American folk lore.

Midland school officials would be the last to want to disrupt such a harmonious scene but they are becoming a little concerned over the mass rush of dogs to the classrooms.

Rover has started following his junior master to school in such numbers that he has created a problem.

And—being a dog—he is more concerned with frolicking and fighting in the schoolyard than in seeing that the young master is attentive to his duties.

As a result, the school officials and the Society For Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have asked that all parents keep Rover penned up until the children are in school. They feel that if the dogs don't see the children leave, they are not likely to follow them.

As a last resort, if the dogs continue to flock to school in large numbers, the humane officer will be ordered to pick them up and owners will have to pay the pound charge to get them back.

City Sewer Plant Plans Strike Snag

Midland's City Council, already wrestling with the problem of providing the city with a long-delayed public transportation system, will be informed of another snag Tuesday night in its municipal improvement program.

The latest problem was disclosed Monday by City Manager W. H. Oswalt when he said it was possible the city may have to start over to find a contractor to build its proposed new sewage disposal plant.

Bids on the plant were opened almost two months ago and necessary funds were provided at a bond issue election more than a year ago.

The lowest bidder was the Abilene construction firm of Henning and Payne.

Before a contract was signed, one of the partners in the construction firm, Tom Henning, died, and technical difficulties have prevented the other partners executing the contract to construct the vital sewage plant.

The Abilene firm had submitted a bid of $185,815. The city already (Continued On Page 11)

This Is Inflation That Really Hurts

NEW YORK —(P)— A toy manufacturer Tuesday said his firm would turn out no more penny banks—just those that take nickels, dimes and quarters.

Mrs. Ann Payson said the changeover was due to the copper shortage and the penny's lost appeal to children.

Pennies by very little today, she said, "and most children do not show much appreciation for anything less than a dime."

Connally Placed High On AFL's Purge List For 1952 Elections

WASHINGTON —(P)— Republicans placed on the American Federation of Labor's roll call of its enemies Tuesday challenged the ability of labor leaders to sway the union members in 1952 elections.

Democrats generally were silent about Keenan's indictment.

SAN FRANCISCO —(P)— Nineteen U. S. senators, "the men who gave you Taft-Hartley," are on the 1952 purge list of the American Federation of Labor.

The AFL's seventeenth national convention Monday named the 19 as chief targets for defeat in next year's elections. Of the 19, five are Democrats—all from the South.

The AFL plans to raise an $8,000,000 campaign fund for '52 by asking its 3,000,000 members to contribute $1 each—and another $1,000,000 through penny-a-month contributions.

Here are the 19 as listed by Joseph D. Keenan, retiring director of the AFL's Labor League for Political Education:

Brewster (R-Maine), Flanders (R-Vt.), Martin (R-Pa.), Smith (R-NJ), Williams (R-Del.), O'Connor (R-Md.), Byrd (D-Va.), Connally (D-Texas), Stennis (D-Miss), Holland (D-Fla.), Bricker (R-Ohio), Butler (R-Nebr.), Jenner (R-Ind.), Kern (R-Mo.), McCarthy (R-Wis.), Cain (R-Wash.), Ecton (R-Mont.), Watkins (R-Utah) and Knowland (R-Calif.).

"These are the men that gave you the Taft-Hartley Law," Keenan said.

Keenan called for special efforts to defeat the senators he named from the South—which he described as an anti-labor "breeding ground."

Blind Woman Victim Of Criminal Assault

DALLAS —(P)— A blind woman was attacked, criminally assaulted and robbed early Tuesday.

Police said the woman, 28, alighted from a bus shortly after midnight, and enroute to her home, was hit over the head by a heavy object. She was carried to a school ground, where the attack and robbery took place. Her condition was undetermined.

Police Capt. Will Fritz said she alighted from a bus at about 12:30 a.m. and started home, tapping the white cane of the blind on the sidewalk before her. A piano player, she was returning home from Oak Cliff with $9 earned during the evening.

Upon reaching the school ground, her assailant criminally attacked her, took the $9 in her purse and left her to fend for herself on the dark school grounds.

A resident living near the grounds heard her sobs and came to her aid, notifying police.

City Traffic Lights Get Back On Beam

Midland's traffic control lights were back to normal Tuesday.

For five hours Monday, they operated in a puzzling erratic fashion, hanging on red, green or amber for long periods of time.

Workers of the Texas Electric Service Company, which maintains the lights, finally found the trouble and corrected it.

Oil Writers Get Look At Basin Area

Oil writers from 21 newspapers and magazines were taking a look Tuesday at the Permian Basin operations of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., and the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

Accompanied by top officials of the two companies, the group arrived in Midland late Monday in three DC-3 planes, remained here overnight, and then toured the area Tuesday.

Midland was one of five points in Texas inspected by the group. They traveled to Midland from Dallas and were to leave late Tuesday for San Antonio, Victoria and Beaumont.

Visit Pegasus Field

Monday night, they were guests at a dinner in the Midland Petroleum Club. After breakfast at Hotel Scharbauer Tuesday, they toured the Pegasus field and returned for a buffet luncheon at the Midland Country Club.

They were to leave Midland Airport at 3 p.m. for San Antonio. Company officials traveling with the group include J. L. Case, vice president and director in charge of production; F. H. Wilcox, coordinator of domestic production; D. C. McCarthy, assistant manager, public relations, and Emilio Desvermeine, Jr., of the public relations department, all of Socony-Vacuum, New York.

Steve Mitchell Dies In Electric Chair For Wife's Murder

HUNTSVILLE —(P)— Steve Mitchell, 47, died in the electric chair early Tuesday, a few hours after being named heir to the $40,000 estate of the wife he murdered.

The condemned man, a prosperous drive-in operator, designated a woman of mystery, Mrs. Katherine Pappas, his heir. Mitchell said she lived in Houston, but he didn't know her address.

Editor Don Reid, Jr., of the Huntsville Item saw a woman with five other persons in an automobile at the prison. He asked the woman if she was Katherine Pappas. She said, "Yes," but refused to answer further questions.

Mitchell made no statement before he walked into the death chamber at 12:02 a.m. Officials had difficulty adjusting the electric chair and he wasn't strapped in until 12:06. He was dead two minutes later.

Mitchell denied his guilt Monday.

"I am no more guilty than you are. I shot in self defense the same as you would do," he said.

His wife, Mildred Jean, was killed during a quarrel Dec. 16, 1948.

Cool Front Stalls In Texas Panhandle

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms played along the Texas gulf coast from Palacios to Galveston Tuesday.

In North Texas, a cool front stretched across the Panhandle and into Oklahoma. It was stationary. Children was on its fringes. It was at Hobart, Okla., but hadn't reached Wichita Falls, across the Red River.

Skies were generally fair except in East Texas and along the coast. High temperatures Monday were generally in the upper 80's and 90's, but Presidio had 101 degrees. Lows early Tuesday ranged from 47 at Dalhart to 78 at Galveston.

Western Allies To Cancel Italy's Arms Limitations

PARIS —(P)— The United States, Britain and France will publish a joint declaration Wednesday saying Italy "is no longer subject" to her peace treaty arms limitations.

Russia was the fourth major power involved in imposing the treaty terms on Italy.

Informants said the three Western powers would say in the declaration "changing circumstances" since the Italian treaty was written have made it no longer necessary to compel Italy to abide by certain treaty clauses.

These clauses mainly are those which restricted Italy to an army of 250,000, an air force of 350 planes and 25,000 men, and a navy of no more than 132 ships of all kinds.

British Technicians Ordered Out Of Iran

TEHRAN, IRAN —(P)— Premier Mohammed Mossadeq Tuesday ordered 300 British oil technicians to get out of Iran by October 4.

Deputy Prime Minister Hossein Fatemi said the Britons remaining at the huge Abadan Refinery could not stay under any conditions.

Three ultimatums to them in the British-Iranian oil dispute previously had given the technicians their choice of working under individual contracts with Iran or leaving the country.

Windsor Enters Hospital For Check

LONDON —(P)— The duke of Windsor entered a hospital Tuesday for X-ray examinations described as routine.

A spokesman for the former King Edward VIII said it was one of the regular checkups the duke has from time to time.

"His royal highness is in the best of health," the spokesman said.

The duke, 57, arrived Monday from Paris after his brother, King George VI, underwent major lung surgery.

The duchess remained in Paris.

Agents Check Meat Houses In 50 Cities

WASHINGTON —(P)— The government Tuesday threw all available price control personnel into a nationwide, pre-dawn check of some 500 slaughter houses in a drive to stamp out illegal practices in the handling of beef.

Price Enforcement Director Edward P. Morgan said slaughtering operations in more than 50 cities were being checked. He expected hundreds of packers would come under inspection before nightfall.

Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle ordered all regional and district price stabilization offices to help special enforcement agents in the coast-to-coast crackdown.

OPS agents were ordered to inspect records of slaughterers, their cattle weights, scales and invoices. The agency said the aim is to determine whether they are purchasing livestock in compliance with the control law, and whether anyone is selling beef at illegal prices.

Morgan said OPS agents had been directed to request the aid of other federal, state or local officers if needed.

Violations Uncovered

DiSalle said that as a result of a drive against illegal slaughtering practices in the last week:

1. Violations have been uncovered in at least eight cities. He named Chicago, Cleveland, Newark, Spokane, San Francisco, Portland, Los Angeles and Fresno, Calif.
2. Federal court actions already have been started in Newark, Portland and Cleveland.
3. One of the first alleged "black market" meat cases has been started at Wichita, Kan. Defendants are Bert O. Persons, doing business as the Eldorado Packing Company of El Dorado, Kan., and Calvin Virgil Adams, doing business as Willard's Fine Meats, Wichita.

OPS officials alleged that "ungraded and unmarked" meat found in Person's truck was traced to Adams' market, and then back to Persons' packing house.

Former Tax Agent Tells Of 'Payoffs'

WASHINGTON —(P)— James B. E. Olson, former U. S. alcohol tax collector in New York, acknowledged Tuesday that while on the federal payroll he solicited printing business from taxpayers and drew more than $5,000 from a printing firm, American Lithofold Corporation of St. Louis.

Testifying at a Senate inquiry, Olson vigorously denied, however, that this amounted to "a shake-down"—a term suggested by Senator Nixon (R-Calif.).

Asked whether he thought it was "proper to engage in business" with firms who paid alcohol taxes to him, Olson replied firmly:

"Yes, sir, I do."

Olson testified before a Senate investigations subcommittee which is looking into relations of American Lithofold with the government.

Only Scratched Surface

The St. Louis printing firm obtained $65,000 of government loans in 1949 after hiring William M. Boyle, Jr., as one of its lawyers. Boyle then was vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Now chairman of the committee, Boyle has said he gave up his law practice on taking that post and had no part in seeking the RFC loan.

American Jets Bag Five Red MIG's In Half-Hour Air Battle

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA —(P)— American F-86 Sabres won the longest jet battle in history Tuesday. They shot down five Communist MIG-15's and damaged five in a 35-minute fight in MIG Alley over Northwest Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said all the American planes returned safely. The fight roared from 35,000 feet to ground level. It produced the biggest one-day bag of Russian-type MIG-15's since April 12, when U. S. pilots shot down four, probably destroyed two and damaged 14.

On the ground, United Nations troops Tuesday captured a commanding peak west of "Heartbreak Ridge" on the rugged Eastern Korean front.

The mountain, like the ridge the Allies want so badly, looks down on a Communist supply and assembly base.

A UN unit battled to the mountain top, northwest of Yangju, through intense mortar and small arms fire. It kicked an estimated two North Korean battalions off the peak in almost three hours of fierce fighting.

There was a comparative lull Tuesday around "Heartbreak Ridge," twice lost to counterattacking Reds in 14 days of bitter fighting.

Grenade-tossing Communists drove U. S. troops off the highest peak in the ridge Monday for the second time in 10 days.

Abram is charged with the slaying last year of Marie Jackson, also a negro.

The district clerk announced a special jury venire, which had been called at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, would not have to report until 1:30 p.m.

Here's News! Bette Davis Loses Role In 'Ethan Frome'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Nea Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD —Hollywood and Grapevine.

Agents will scream, business managers will go into shock and even Margaret O'Brien's braids will stand at 90-degree angles, but a tip-top movie queen came right out with it and informed me she's been turned down for the part she has wanted to play for a decade.

The star: frank, outspoken Bette Davis.

The picture: "Ethan Frome," purchased from Warners by Stanley Kramer.

"I asked Kramer about it," purred Bette at a party tossed for Walter Hampden on the set of Fox's "Five Fingers." "Mr. Kramer said he did NOT want me. Not any part of me. Thus after 10 years of wanting to play it."

Bette snorted over the jibes directed at her by the British press.

"It was the British press, not the British press," she said.

"They've seen me the kind of questions that haven't been asked of an actress in 15 years. Like, 'And who gave you that piece of jewelry?'" Really?

Jack Benny and Mary Livingston talked Vic Damone and their daughter, Joan, out of a "too young" marriage. Joan has enrolled at Stanford University.

Jeff Chandler, now completely reconciled with his wife, is biting his nails. Fox wants him to play Jean Valjean in a re-make of "Les Miserables" and UI won't release him for an outside picture until 1952.

Wonder how Loretta Young, who first was offered the part, feels about the whisper that Jane Wyman is sure to win an Academy award for her performance in "The Blue Veil"? Loretta made a bet with Jerry Wald and Milton Krassna that the role wouldn't win an Oscar for the actress who played it.

Should Be Great

Ethel Barrymore, who first pooh-poohed rumors that she will jump into TV, now is admitting them.

Barbara Hale, the middle of a studio tug-of-war, Fox wants to share her contract with Columbia.

MGM is snipping Denise Darcel's long blonde hair for her role in "Young Man in a Hurry" . . . The Andrews Sisters just nixed a weekly TV show. They've decided on guest spots for a season or two.

Mala Powers will play the title role in "Texas Rose."

State censorship has the big brass at Warners trembling as "A Streetcar Named Desire" goes into release. The love scene between Kim Hunter and Marlon Brando is as lurid as any high-voltage smooching of the silent era.

Diane Douglas, Kirk's ex, is confiding to intimates that she's in love again. He's a New York actor.

John Hodiak slipped his lips about his sudden exit from MGM after five years of being a second-string Gable. A knock-down-drag-out battle with his former bosses for better parts?

"I'm not talking about it," snapped Hodiak. "It's just that I was looking for opportunities that could be found elsewhere. I'm not planning a thing. Being free is kind of exciting, though. It's a challenge."

He parried a question about a co-starring film with wife Anne Baxter at Fox. "Mmmmmmmmm," said Hodiak, mysteriously.

Embarrassing note: Joan Evans, named as the "Ideal High School Teen-Ager" by one of the fan magazines, plays the role of a high school hussey in "On the Loose."

Sounds Strange

Ida Lupino, in Nevada for a divorce from Collier Young, will work on a Filmmakers screenplay during her six-week stay, and will be in constant communication with the story—all about two people very much in love.

The Richard Green-Pat Media dating adds up to anything but a reconciliation. He's going to London to co-star with Vivian Leigh in a new film.

They're still using TV in movies despite Hollywood's anti-TV howls. Opening shot of "Too Young to Kiss" shows Van Johnson, as a concert impresario, looking at a ball game on a TV screen built into his desk while a tenor auditions for him.

Short Takes: Hollywood is in its greatest color spree in history—21 of 40 films currently in production are in color. . . Tyrone Power and Van Johnson have changed agents. . . A film version of the novel, "The Chain," has Rita Hayworth's name on it at Columbia. Whether it will be her comeback movie still hasn't been decided.

GE Tells Of New Weapon Against Deep-Seated Cancer

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A new weapon against deep-seated cancer was announced by the General Electric Company Monday. It is an apparatus to use radioactive cobalt in the same way powerful X-rays now are used in some hospitals.

A GE official, Dr. E. Dale Trout, told a reporter the amount of cobalt to be used has radiation power equal to that of the world's entire known supply of radium.

The company said the cobalt would cost about $18,000, and that radium of the same effectiveness would cost $28,000,000.

Officials said the device will make it possible for many hospitals which now cannot afford it to employ high-energy radiation treatment.

Stepfather Charged With Murder In Death Of Four-Year-Old Boy

DALLAS —(AP)—Rueben Perez Aguilar, 30, has been indicted for murder in the death of his stepson, 4.

Officials said he beat the boy with a leather strap. Bobbie Lee Harrison died September 8 of a ruptured intestine.

The indictment, returned Monday, said Aguilar killed the boy "by slapping, striking and hitting (him) with his hand, fists and with a strap and stick."

Cables laid in deep water are usually less than an inch thick.

Franchot Wants Rival Behind Bars; Blonde Barbara Admits Seeing Neal 'At Least Once'

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Franchot Tone has made it plain he wants his rival for the hand and heart of actress Barbara Payton put behind bars.

Tone and Miss Payton conferred Monday with District Attorney S. Ernest Roll. Tone told of the severe beating he was given the night of September 14 by actor Tom Neal.

Miss Payton, who has been engaged at various times to Tone and Neal, corroborated Tone's story of what happened.

Neal was to visit the district attorney some time Tuesday afternoon to give his side of the ruckus. He was under the impression the Nordic Miss Payton was going to marry him. The ceremony was set for San Francisco just a few days after the scuffle took place.

But his sweetie pie came home in the early hours with Tone and notified him she was discarding him. Tone asked him to leave, Neal said, and added that he'd see to that, even if he had to throw Neal out.

Neal maintains he did not strike first.

District Attorney Roll said Miss Payton admitted under oath that she had seen Neal "at least once" since the fight, but he said she claimed the meeting was "just to discuss the repercussions of the fight."

After Tone and Miss Neal had departed, Roll was asked if he felt a felony complaint was justified on the basis of their testimony. He said he could not answer that question "but Tone took a whale of a beating."

"It's one thing to hit a man and another to beat him and keep beating him," Roll added. Tone's face showed no scars of the battle but he'll have to stay in the hospital for a few days more.

Herbert R. Smiths To Live In Midland

Mrs. Herbert R. Smith

Following a wedding trip to California, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Randolph Smith will be at home at 400 East Maple Street.

The couple was married recently in Palestine. Mrs. Smith was Marguerite Huffman of Waco before her marriage.

Parents of the couples are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Huffman and Mrs. Bert Smith, all of Palestine.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bouffant ballerina length dress of pearl grey imported chantilly lace over petal pink taffeta. The bodice was highlighted with a portrait neckline and emerald-cut rhinestone buttons down the center. She wore pink lace mitts and carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses. The veil of imported illusion was caught with tiny rhinestones to a snugly fitting cloche and fell to a shoulder length in tiers.

Portrait Neckline

Mrs. Charles E. Moore of Houston, the bride's only attendant, wore a deft blue tissue taffeta dress designed with a fitted bodice and portrait neckline. The pencil-slim skirt was accented with a side drape. Her accessories were in matching blue. She carried an arm bouquet of pink radiant roses.

James Robert Smith, brother of the groom, served as best man. William Scott of Athens and the Rev. Jack DuPre of Palestine ushered.

Ruth Ritchey played traditional wedding music and Billy Gene Monk was soloist.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held at the Colonial Tearoom.

For traveling, the bride chose a suit of imported brown shakskin. Her hat was a muted lime velour which blended with her green orchid corsage. Her accessories were in brown.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Sam Houston State Teachers College and a past president of the Waco Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Smith was graduated from the University of Texas and attended the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. During World War II, he served as a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Supply Corps. Smith now is secretary-treasurer of the Tex Harvey Oil Company, Midland.

Mrs. Lancaster To Show Films

Mrs. Naomi Lancaster again will show her European travel films at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Palette Club Art Center.

The films were shown Saturday to approximately 25 members and guests of the Palette Club. When Mrs. Lancaster was in Salzburg, Austria, she took pictures of the Lipizan horse show. Other films show art treasures of Europe.

The showings are open to the public and no charge is made, but donations for the Palette Club are accepted, according to Mrs. Bryan Denson, acting president.

Well-Deserved Victory

The Senate Judiciary Committee finally got around to giving President Truman the bad news. It killed his two nominations for federal judgeships in Illinois, on the grounds the choices were personally obnoxious to Senator Douglas of that state.

The committee had allowed this thing to hang fire several weeks in hope Truman and Douglas would settle their quarrel. Since neither would yield, the Senate group acted, as expected, in support of its colleague.

The President hardly could have anticipated a different outcome. Senate custom gives senators the predominant voice in the selection of federal judges within their own territory. It was a foolhardy move for him to permit personal pique at Douglas to dictate this challenge to established tradition.

Truman was unwise, too, in thus displaying publicly his disapproval of Douglas. For many elements of his legislative program, both domestic and foreign, he has no more loyal supporter than the Illinois senator. To cast away Douglas' backing and good will because the senator insisted on acting independently upon occasion, was a profligate waste of the assistance the President so badly needs in Congress.

Moreover, it amounted to saying that nothing but party-hack loyalty was of any use to the White House. This hardly seems a proper encouragement to statesmanlike thinking on Capitol Hill.

Morals Measured By Quantity

Frank Prince, a recently ousted junior official of the RFC, told a Senate committee the other day he had accepted certain gifts from the president of the American Lithofold Corporation, which got $565,000 in loans from the RFC.

Among the bounty, said Prince, was a "small ham." He testified that he saw nothing wrong in accepting such a present, provided that the ham weighed no more than 12 pounds.

With this statement, Prince has thrown a whole new light upon our moral dilemma. He has introduced the quantitative, as opposed to the qualitative, measure of moral behavior. Morality, he is saying, is something you can gauge by the pound.

Think how our lives would be simplified if we could just adopt Prince's thinking on a broad scale. All we need, apparently, is a system of moral weights and measures.

Given that, we can classify behavior as moral or immoral as easily as sorters grade oranges in a packing plant. Gone will be the excruciating, hair-splitting judgments of right and wrong according to qualitative standards.

Did the accused do wrong or not? Get out the scales or the calipers, mister, and we'll soon enough tell you.

Children in U. S. wear out an average of three and one-half pairs of shoes a year—and they can't help it to save their soles.

Tch, Tch, Don't You Know It's Rude To Peek?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: U.S. experts anticipate no World War III this year; Friendship balloons harass Kremlin; Senator McKellar blasts Tennessee colleague.

WASHINGTON — The month of September and early October when the harvest is in is the time when the chancelleries and general staffs of Europe watch closest for signs of war. If Europe can get by this period of dry, mild weather before Winter bogs down an attacking army, they figure there will be no danger of war at least until June.

Top U. S. officials, likewise, have made all-important surveys of the war possibility, and it is possible for this column to report what their general conclusions are:

1. Russia will not launch World War III this year. However, Russia is expected to continue pressing war by satellites.

2. China, not Russia, has been more eager for a truce. The U. S. war study indicates Russia came out with the truce proposal chiefly for propaganda purposes; perhaps to stall for time in order to get new arms to Korea.

3. Next step in Communist aggression is likely to be Burma, Thailand, and Indo-China. This area is all-important to the Kremlin, if the millions of China are to have rice. Moscow probably would gamble on starting World War III in these countries, although she doesn't actually want it.

4. In Iran the Russians probably will march into the northern province of Azerbaijan and take it by force—if the British go into Southern Iran to protect their oil refinery. Here again the Russians are willing to gamble that the West will not go to war over Iran.

5. In Germany, the U. S. analysis does not anticipate a Russian military move, but does foresee a continual army build-up.

Moscow's biggest drive will be pressure through local governments to stop the building of U. S. air bases in Europe and North Africa. Behind Iron Curtain.

Increasing evidence is coming back from inside the Iron Curtain to show that the freedom-friendship balloons and other incivilities of the Crusade for Freedom really have gotten under the Kremlin's skin.

In East Bohemia, for instance, fields where the balloon messages fell were declared "off-limits" to farm workers by security sections of the National Communist Committee. In another section of Bohemia, Communist officials offered rewards to the teams of youth brigades who collected the largest number of friendship leaflets.

Near the Czech-Austrian border, a patrol of border police reported "voluminous flying objects" which might be enemy paratroopers. When Prague got the report, it dispatched tank units amid great excitement.

The flying objects, however, turned out to be pillow balloons with the word "Svoboda"—"freedom"—written on them in large letters. They were bouncing along the ground in the early morning twilight like miniature flying saucers. Inside of them, of course, were friendship messages from the American people to the people of Czechoslovakia.

This is an illustration of how the American people, usually ahead of their government, have begun to penetrate the Iron Curtain on their own. At the same time aged senators drastically and dangerously have curtailed the State Department budget for winning friends and influencing people.

Note: The Crusade for Freedom is headed by Gen. Lucius Clay and supported by Americans in all walks of life from General Eisenhower to Dan Tobin, head of the Teamsters Union; Bill Green, head of the AFL and James Carey, secretary of the CIO.

Tennessee feud
It was meant for the eyes of a few select senators only, but erotochety servicing manpower.

"This manpower conservation program should be given top priority throughout the executive branch," the President added.

As a result, Ramepeck and Lawton sent a joint ultimatum to all agencies to "take steps to assure the most effective and economical use" of manpower. This will be followed up by on-the-spot inspections to make sure the drones exit.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

One of the best bridge players in this country is a real wizard if he has an expert partner. Give him a poor partner and he is bound to get into serious trouble. He simply never realizes that a bid or a play means one thing when it is made by a good player and may mean something quite different when it is made with a dud.

My expert friend held the North cards in the hand shown today. He thought that South had bid two diamonds and then three no-trump.

Opening lead—♠ 8

Maybe South also thought he had a good hand, but South's opinion wasn't very reliable because South wasn't a good player.

To begin with, South should not have bid two diamonds. He should have simply passed. If he did decide to bid two diamonds, he should have made the mental note that he had already overbid.

Having overbid, to begin with, South should have passed three clubs. But South was worried because he had a singleton club. Actually South bid three no-trump not to show a good hand but to rescue North. It was a poor idea, but weak players often have poor ideas.

When West doubled, it should have been obvious that South had crawled out on a limb. A sensible North would pass and take his medicine. A really sensitive North would run out to four clubs (at which the damage would be far less). My "expert" friend chose to believe that South knew what he was doing, so he redoubled.

The result was not at all pleasant for North and South. West opened the eight of spades, and declarer put up dummy's ace to take the diamond finesse. West held off once but took the second diamond finesse with his king. He held his remaining spade to East's queen and got a heart return. West took his five heart tricks and then led a club. East was then sure to get his two black kings. The defenders took nine tricks, scoring 1800 points.

If North had run out to four clubs, he could have escaped with a loss of 400 points. It certainly doesn't pay to be inflexible.

Editing Of Forrestal Diaries Has Made Cold Book Of Warm Man

WASHINGTON NEWS NOTEBOOK
EDITING OF FORRESTAL DIARIES
WASHINGTON —(NEA)—Diaries of the late Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal, soon to be published, have been edited down to such an extent they largely are dull historical fact. The desire was to release nothing that would give offense to any living individual. Consequently, all the rich anecdotes have been censored out.

Not in the diary, for instance, are an untold pair of stories from Secretary Forrestal's round-the-world flight at the end of the war.

When he got into Tokyo, the secretary naturally had a session with General MacArthur, for a report on the Japanese situation.

"The emperor wants to become a Christian," the general reported. Then he added, "But I don't think I can allow it."

Later, in Rome, Secretary Forrestal had a private audience with the pope. Forrestal related the story. It is reported on unimpeachable authority that his holiness laughed. Secretary Forrestal always was a man who liked his martini very dry. Before he left on this round-the-world flight, he had several jugs martinis mixed up according to his own formula—six parts of gin to one vermouth. And before dinner on the plane every evening, a jug would be brought out for a staff conference.

In China, however, Secretary Forrestal was invited to dinner with Chiang Kai-shek and Madame Chiang. She asked if the secretary would like a cocktail and he said yes—a martini, very dry, please. Madame Chiang clapped her hands and a servant brought in a big tray of bottles. A Naval aide stepped up to do the mixing according to the Forrestal formula, but the hostess waved him away.

She poured out one jigger of vermouth okay. Then she poured out one jigger of gin. And on top of that she poured a whole jigger of bitters. This she mixed and handed to the secretary. He drank it like the gentleman that he was, but everyone else in his party ordered straight whisky.

Didn't Come To Dinner
At the dinner which the city and county of San Francisco gave to the Japanese peace conference delegates after the signing, it was noted there was a vacant seat next to the Right Hon. Herbert Morrison, British for-

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-6-3, Hearts A-J-9-4, Diamonds Q-2, Clubs 9-7-2. What do you do?
A—Bid one spade. You may have to bid two majors in order to find the best contract. Then if your partner can take care of the clubs, he can bid no-trump and rely on you to stop the major suits. You cannot afford to bid the hearts first and the spades later since that would indicate that you have five hearts and four spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-6-3, Hearts K-J-9-4, Diamonds 8-2, Clubs 9-7-2. What do you do?

NO SURVIVORS

BY WILL HENRY

Indians went after the horses the troops might reach the top of the ridge, where a circle of waist-high boulders offered some chance to stand off the attackers. The ruse worked and I cheered Fetterman, silently.

The whole pack of savages went yelling off after the big, valuable horses of the white men. Within the minutes of respite thus gained, Fetterman worked his command up into the boulders atop the ridge. At this point the Indians came racing back, the attack remaining full force.

If Fetterman had found a place to make a stand, he had also found one from which there was no escape. The ridge at this spot was no more than 50 feet wide, falling away in dizzy ice-patched slopes in three directions, with a gently rising slope behind. This slope was covered with savages, while at the bottoms of the other three declines waited the remainder of the horde. My own position was in the exact middle of the left wing of the attackers.

One bunch-erack or audible movement would have brought me swift and vicious death.

The Indians, forced to hesitate by the breech-loading carbines of the pony soldiers, contented themselves momentarily with firing showers of arrows into Fetterman's position. But all the while they were working up closer and closer under the rim of the ridge.

I now heard them calling back and forth to one another over the heads of Fetterman's men.

Like lightning then, a Minniconjou chief, Long Fox, leaped from cover, exposing himself to the rifles of the soldiers, shouting exultantly, "Hopoi Let's go." Go they went, like released red arrows, flying in among the high boulders, stabbing, braining, lancing their enemies at hand's length. The last white man to die was an officer, whom I believed to be an outside power. And it was done with full approval of the British government.

Trailers To The Rescue
U. S. government's Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency bought 1,000 trailers and has 200 more on order for emergency use in the Kansas flood area. This now is standard practice for disaster relief. Seven hundred and fifty trailers were bought after the Vanport, Ore., flood in 1948. And several hundred were rushed to the scene after the Texas City, Texas, explosion in 1947.

In Kansas, the trailers were leased by FHEHA to the cities at $1 a year. Kansas City got 947, Topeka 151, Manhattan 78, Ottawa 50, and so on. Cities in turn put facilities in trailer parks and leased trailers to homeless families for $35 to $40 a month. Most of this money will be retained by the cities, to pay their costs in establishing the trailer parks. If any rental money is left over, however, it will be returned to the federal government. After the emergency is over, the trailers will be used by the housing agency for emergency shelter at defense plant, sites or on military bases.

New Type Of Home
Trailer Coach Manufacturers Association estimates there now are about 1,500,000 Americans living in some 500,000 trailers. If they were all assembled in one spot, it would make a city just a little larger than Baltimore, just a little smaller than Detroit.

Actually, they're scattered in more than 8,000 trailer parks with the heaviest concentrations in Florida, California and defense centers. Last year there were 65,000 trailers manufactured by some 150 makers.

Most of them are small companies—none doing more than four or five per cent of the total. Production this year may be slightly higher. Peak production was in 1948, when 85,000 were sold. Average life of a trailer now is about 10 to 12 years.

It remained for Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to Washington and an eminent scholar, to call attention to another little-noted historical event that took place just before the Japanese peace treaty was signed. This was the tri-partite mutual defense treaty between Australia, New Zealand and the United States.

It was the first time in the history of the British Empire and Commonwealth that any of its members had made a military alliance with

Q—Has the legislature of the Soviet Union one or two houses?
A—The Supreme Soviet consists of the two legislative chambers, the Soviet of the Union and the Soviet of Nationalities.

Q—Is flax grown extensively in India?
A—Prior to World War II, more than half of the world's output came from South America and India. Today, North America has assumed leadership in flaxseed production, the emphasis being on exporting linseed oil rather than the unprocessed seed.

Q—Was Giacomo Meyerbeer the composer's real name?
A—His real name was Jakob Liebmann Jakob, but he later Italianized himself into Giacomo, and preferred to his own name that of a relative, Meyer.

Q—What language is spoken in Andorra?
A—The inhabitants speak Catalan, a Romance language also spoken in Catalonia, Valencia and vicinity.

Fetterman, who broke clear of the slaughter, backing up the ridge, swinging his carbine and firing crazily, shouting aloud as he went. While Bull rode him down, driving a war arrow squarely through his chest.

Then there was no sound except that of the Indians quarreling over the trophies among the dead. I buried my face in the frozen mud and snow where I lay.

I WAS aroused by the far-off clarion of an Army bugle. A few minutes and Captain Te Eyck appeared at the top of a high hill overlooking the battlefield. He had taken over an hour to arrive. Fetterman did not need his relief.

I believe the lives of this new command were spared by one of those weather changes which scourge the northern plains. In 15 minutes the temperature plummeted 20 degrees; a bitter wind full of icy snow rode swiftly in to blanket the dead with a merciful sheet of white. The Indians picked up their own dead, departed for the war camp on the Tongue. Their medicine men had promised them 100 white men slain. They had slain 100. It was time to go.

Sickened by the carnage on the hill, frozen to the marrow by the intense cold, stiff from not moving for an hour, half a mile from my horse, surrounded by battle-drunk hostiles, I found myself in but temporarily better position than my dead fellows.

A single file of mounted warriors loomed out of the swirling snows on my left. In the lead came a dozen braves, then a string of led-ponies bearing the corpses of the fallen.

It would be hard to say which force was the more surprised but I got in my introductions first. The right-hand revolver opened for me. I missed one of them, but five were down before the fight started. Just as the others rushed me, I thought I saw a new figure join their ranks, a salt upright chief in black wolf-skin, riding a black horse. My thought was, "Crazy Horse. Where did he come from . . ." Then a stone ax crashed into the side of my skull and I knew no more

Daddy Ringtail And Sheep From The Goats

Old MacDonald had a farm, as I know you. Yes, and Old MacDonald had a cousin, Old MacDonald said. The cousin was having trouble, poor fellow. Tuh! Tuh! Tuh! because Old MacDonald's cousin was needing someone to help him with all the trouble he had.

"I will help him," said Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, and so Daddy Ringtail put on his walking shoes—and away he walked up the Elephant Path—on past the there was trouble, right, all right, because Old MacDonald's cousin said there was trouble. Yes, and there were sheep, too—hundreds and hundreds of sheep, because Daddy Ringtail could see them there in the valley, eating the fresh green grass.

The sheep belonged to Old MacDonald's cousin, and so what, oh what was the trouble? The trouble was that Old MacDonald's cousin did not know how to separate his sheep from his goats. Imagine! What if you had sheep and goats, and you couldn't get the sheep away from the goats, and you couldn't get the goats away from the sheep? "Trouble, trouble, trouble," said Old MacDonald's cousin.

"Now, now, now," said Daddy Ringtail, and he meant for Old MacDonald's cousin please not to worry any more. And why shouldn't he worry any more? Why shouldn't he fret himself? "I can't separate my sheep from my goats," said Old MacDonald's cousin.

"Of course you can't," said Daddy Ringtail, "because all your goats are really sheep Look and see."

And sure enough, when Old MacDonald's cousin raised his head from between his knees and looked—all of his goats and sheep were really sheep, and so he hadn't a problem at all. Yes, sir, and next time he will look first before he worries, and then he won't worry at all. I guess, don't you? Happy day!

LIZ AND PHILIP: ROYAL BUT REAL—

When Only 10, Elizabeth's Destiny Was Throned

By ARTHUR J. MATHEWS
NEA Special Correspondent
LONDON—Before she was 10, Elizabeth, daughter of the self-effacing duke of York and his lovely Scottish bride, was caught up in the chain of events which was to envelop her for the rest of her life.

Polo Prince: Philip's a horseman as well as a sailor. Here he rides in a polo match.

While Philip was progressing through the various schools that finally led him to the Royal Naval College at Dartmouth, England, the golden-haired infant princess was ally designed riding uniform as colonel-in-chief of the Grenadier Guards, she invariably steals the show at the annual ceremonial "Trooping of the Color," a traditional full-dress parade which attracts visitors to London from all parts of the globe.

Two years ago, her famous charger, "Winston," was maddened by Summer fly stings. He gave a full scale rodeo performance at the climax of the "march-past." The King was "at-the-salute" on his dais, but neither he nor the mounted guards officers moved an inch. It was a well-deserved tribute to a magnificent horsewoman.

Within seconds, and with little more than a whispered word, Elizabeth had her rolling-eyed charger back in position. From an American captain wearing the shoulder patches of the First Cavalry Division, there came a tribute as American and sincere as the Declaration of Independence:

"Now I've seen it," he said. "She looks like a queen; she acts like a queen, but, brother, she rides like an angel. I'd be proud to curtsy to a gal like that anytime I'm asked."

Nobody would be less likely to ask for such a gesture than Elizabeth.

Possibly this could be because "manners" were an important part of her early childhood training and lapses in politeness were among the few misdemeanors which called forth real punishment—administered when necessary, albeit with a light hand—by her papa.

Very Few Toys
Elizabeth and Margaret shared toys, and they had far fewer than most children of their age. The

Polio Baby To Be Named For Doctors Who Delivered Him

SHREVEPORT—A six-pound boy born by Caesarian operation after his mother died of polio in an iron lung will be named after the doctors who delivered him.

The father, T. Sgt. Raymond E. McCarty, said he would name the boy George David, after Drs. George S. Wolfe and David St. Martin. Dr. Wolfe is medical director of the polio center. Dr. St. Martin, an interne, assisted him.

The mother, Mrs. Shirley McCarty, 23, died Sunday night. The couple lived in Bryn Mawr, Pa., before coming to Barksdale Air Force Base here.

Dr. Wolfe said the baby normally would have been born about October 16. He said only two minutes lapsed between the mother's death and the child's birth.

"The youngster appears to be perfectly healthy," Dr. Wolfe said.

Royal horsewoman: An American officer decided Elizabeth "looks like a queen, acts like a queen, and rides like an angel."

three tons of gifts for Elizabeth and her sister which her parents brought back from the people of Australia were distributed among the hospitalized and crippled children of England. Nevertheless, each donor of a gift received a hand-written "thank-you" note.

On her first visit to the circus—she was five—Elizabeth burst into frightened tears when a grotesque made-up clown was brought into the royal box. Afterwards she sent the clown a message: "Please tell the ugly man that I did truly like him—it was just that I was frightened."

About the time Elizabeth was nine, her beloved Grannie (Queen) Mary, instinctively aware that the long and arduous reign of her husband, George V, was drawing to its close, set a new importance upon the child's education.

The eldest and favorite son, Edward, although he spent many hours playing boisterous games with Elizabeth and Margaret, still gave no sign of settling down.

Gradually the grieving, great-hearted, but iron-disciplined Queen Mary set a new curriculum for Elizabeth and gently guided the princess into the new and vastly wider learning required of her.

But apart from the introduction of a Scots governess into the household, Elizabeth's education remained for several more years in the capable hands of her mother and grandmother. The princess captured the bubbling sense-of-fun typical of her mother and the savoured, rich appreciation of humor of her grandmother.

Then George V—to whom Elizabeth always referred as "The King"—died. For the first time, as a tiny, tragic figure at the funeral ceremonies, she realized the finality of death.

Self-Discipline, Service
There followed the accession and abdication of her uncle, and the terrific period of strain through which her parents passed before the duke of York finally made the momentous decision.

It meant acceptance of a life—for himself, his wife and for the young Elizabeth—which spelled only self-discipline and service.

On her eleventh birthday, Elizabeth was living in Buckingham Palace—always called "Buck House" by the king and his brothers.

By 1939, above the glittering state apartments, the informality of a happy home had been firmly established in the great brownstone and granite palace, despite the clouds of war which had been gathering menacingly over Europe.

Italy Takes First Steps To Extradite Accused Ex-GI's

TURPIN, ITALY—(AP)—Officials here have completed the first step in a move to get two American ex-servicemen brought back here to face charges of killing their cloak and dagger commander, Maj. William V. Holohan, in 1944.

The Turin prosecutor sent a formal extradition request to Rome Monday night. It says former Lt. Aldo Icardi of Pittsburgh, Pa., and former Sgt. Carl O. LoDolce of Rochester, N.Y., are guilty of murdering Holohan and throwing his body in a lake.

The two men have denied the charges, made public by the U.S. Defense Department, which says it cannot prosecute because the men no longer are in the Army.

The two men and Holohan were in an Office of Strategic Services mission to Italian Partisans behind German lines when the killing occurred. It was charged.

One Dead, 12 Hurt As Flames Sweep Apartment House

OAKLAND, CALIF. — (AP) — A smoldering cigarette was blamed Tuesday for a fire that raced through a six-story frame apartment house, killing one woman and injuring a dozen occupants.

Fire Marshal James J. Sweeney said a cigarette apparently had been left burning in upholstered furniture in the lobby.

Almost 150 occupants—men, women and children—fled into the streets Monday as flames whipped from the lobby to the roof through stairwells, elevator shafts and garbage chutes. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

Miss Ferrande Ferguson, 59, a school teacher, was found dead in a sixth-floor hallway.

Mr. Katmai, Alaska, has a blue lake a mile long in its crater.

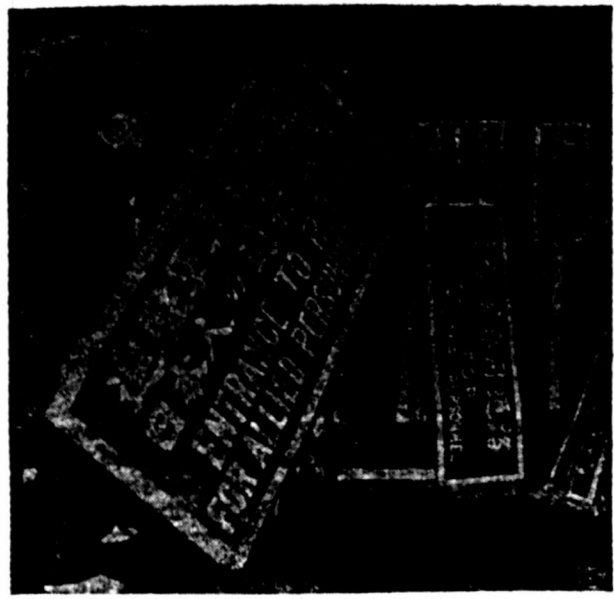

Appeal Is Renewed For Clothes, Bedding

Midland members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church renewed their appeal for articles of clothing and bedding for Kansas flood victims.

Mrs. Paul James, member of the committee in charge of gathering the articles, said the response was good Sunday following publication of a news story asking for aid for the flood sufferers. Winter raiment is needed, she said, and persons wishing to contribute money may do so to help defray shipping costs.

Church members will package the goods at a receiving station at the Seventh Day Adventist school building on Travis Street, two blocks north of the Ranch House. Clothing and bedding will be picked up if donors call Mrs. James at 4-5432.

More than 2,000 feature films are released by world movie studios each year, according to the National Geographic Society.

SIGN OF THE TIMES — Since the Japanese peace treaty was signed, Gen. Matthew Ridgway has ordered removed all occupation-force signs liable to give offense to the Japanese. All facilities, other than actual military installations, are to be opened to them as well as to occupation personnel. Above, a porter at the Tokyo railroad station stacks signs removed from passageway to the U. S. Rail Transportation office.

Newsprint Allocated To Foreign Nations

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A total of 15,800 metric tons of newsprint, to be diverted from this country and Canada, has been allocated to 10 countries found by a 14-nation committee to be in special need.

Almost one-third of the total—5,000 metric tons—would go to Western Germany, France and Yugoslavia which would get 2,000 tons each. Smaller amounts were allocated to Indonesia, Brazil, Uruguay, Spain, Chile, the Dominican Republic and Nicaragua.

The allocations were made by a special newsprint committee, representing 14 governments, including the U. S., which is part of the 28-nation International Raw Materials Conference.

The two services also claimed they had destroyed or damaged 23,068 railroad cars and 41,329 motor vehicles in Korea.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Cause Of Bed-Wetting Often Is Psychological In Teen-Agers

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Inability to hold the urine at night, commonly called bed-wetting and medically enuresis, is normal during the first year or two of life. However, when control of the urine during sleep is not obtained by the time a child is about a year and a half old, or if bed-wetting develops later on in life after being absent for several years, it causes a great deal of emotional distress as well as physical discomfort.

As a matter of fact, the condition is much more common among those in their teens and even older than often is realized.

There are some definite nerve conditions and a few diseases of the urinary tract itself which may be responsible, but the vast majority of older youngsters who suffer from bed-wetting seem to be in perfect physical health.

Of course the possibility of some physical cause should be investigated, and if found, should be treated as seems necessary. If nothing is found, which usually is the case, enuresis becomes largely a psychological problem.

In some cases continued bed-wetting appears to be the result of a sort of resentment usually directed towards the parents. The youngster unconsciously, of course, is trying to punish the parents for some real or fancied actions which the child does not like.

Physical punishment certainly is not the answer to the problem. The fact that enuresis almost invariably occurs during sleep indicates that it is not done purposely and therefore punishment would not be of the slightest benefit and in fact could be harmful.

From the practical standpoint, what can be done for bed-wetting? In some cases, the aid of a psychiatrist should be obtained with the aim of getting at the basic mental cause. In some cases, however, more simple methods may suffice to help a youngster to get over this unfortunate habit.

It usually is advisable to cut out fluids of all kinds as much as possible after three or four o'clock in the afternoon. If the time of enuresis during the night can be determined fairly accurately, and is about the same, night after night, it is possible to wake the youngster or set an alarm clock an hour or so beforehand.

Three psychological reasons are considered most important: the first is that the youngster has not yet grown up with reference to water control.

The second is that subconsciously the youngster wishes to return to or remain in the rather protected and irresponsible state of infancy, instead of assuming the normal difficulties of his or her age.

And finally, there is the point which has been mentioned previously, namely, there is subconscious resentment against the parents because they have been too critical or have otherwise frustrated the youngster.

It should be remembered that almost all of those who do develop enuresis eventually succeed entirely in overcoming the difficulty.

Kirby Vacuum Cleaner Has Eight Complete Work Units

The Kirby Vacuum Cleaner, with its eight complete units, is the busiest cleaner in the world, says C. C. Sides, Midland distributor. James B. Kirby invented the first vacuum cleaner and has devoted his lifetime to making the Kirby superior in quality. For example, the cleaner contains 38 exclusive patents no other company can copy. Life and New Yorker magazines recently ran stories and pictures of the outstanding services this cleaner performs. And the most important feature is that Midland residents are fortunate in having a Kirby Vacuum Cleaner Company, at 308 South

Senator Declares Dalhart Uranium Chunks Souvenirs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Those two chunks of uranium found in Texas Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) said Monday, were just the ordinary metal, not refined to the point where it could be used in an atomic bomb. McMahon, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said in a statement the metal was removed as a souvenir from the Los Alamos, N. M., atomic installation near the end of World War II. He noted the Army then had control of the project and said it was held accountable for uranium "on a ton-to-ton basis." The Atomic Energy Commission, which succeeded the Army, "accounts for materials on the basis of tiny fractions of a pound," McMahon said. Three Dalhart, Texas, boys found one 33-pound chunk of the metal. FBI agents who investigated were reported to have found a larger chunk nearby. The most common type of color blindness is confusion of red and green.

Pannell Brothers firm claims a big role in the city's growth, since it has supplied concrete for numerous business houses, office structures and residences. B&B Butane Firm Offers Fast, County-Wide Service

Installation of tanks to servicing equipment is provided in the complete service offered by B&B Butane. Heaters with or without vents are available at the company. Butane gas has brought the city to the country and if you still are using the old methods of cooking and heating you are invited by the B&B Butane Service to talk the matter over with them. The management of B&B Butane service would like to point out that living away from natural gas lines or other convenient fuel services need not mean that you must be denied the conveniences of modern living. B&B Butane is located at 321 South Fort Worth Street, and the telephone number is 3-3451, day or night. B&B says butane is one of the cleanest fuels obtainable. In fact, many users are hailing it as clean as electricity for cooking. Its economy is undebatable. Another advantage of butane gas is that you never have to worry about a shortage; there always is plenty available. Morris Sluder of Midland and H. S. Blocker of Stanton are co-owners of B&B Butane Service which has been operating here since last January 10. The territory covered by B&B is confined mostly to Midland County. In addition to butane gas, the firm handles appliances including heaters and cooking ranges, hot water heaters and other related items. A few plumbing fixtures and supplies also are carried in stock.

BUT IT'S A LONG WAY YET—

Giants Gain On Dodgers To Cut Once-Huge Lead

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Three teams are waiting for a miracle to take place—for only by such a phenomenon can the New York Giants, Cleveland Indians or Boston Red Sox win a pennant.

Leo Durocher and his Giants apparently believe in miracles. They are staying stubbornly alive when they must know they should be dead.

Monday, while Brooklyn Manager Charlie Dressen was announcing Preacher Roe as his pitcher in the World Series opener, the relentless Giants chipped another half-game off the Dodgers' National League lead with a 4-3 triumph over the Boston Braves. All other teams were idle.

Brooklyn now leads New York by two and a half games, its smallest margin since the opening week of the campaign. Since the Giants started their frantic and seemingly hopeless chase on August 16, they have chopped 11 games from the Dodgers' once-huge lead. The Giants have won 33 of 40 since then for an amazing .825 gait.

Bums Play Seven
The Giants' victory left the clinching combination for the Dodgers at four. Brooklyn has seven more to play, four in Boston and three in Philadelphia. A two-night twin bill in Boston is on tap for Tuesday night. The Giants' four remaining games are divided between Philadelphia and Boston. They face Robin Roberts (21-12), the Philly ace, Tuesday night.

The New York Yankees can clinch their eighteenth flag Friday. A victory over the Philadelphia Athletics Tuesday and a sweep of Friday's doubleheader with the Red Sox, all at Yankee stadium, would finish off the Indians and Red Sox with mathematical certainty.

A two-out single by Eddie Stanky in the last of the ninth drove in Davey Williams with the run that gave the Giants their third victory over the Braves in as many days. It was the Giants' last home game of the season.

Dave Koslo, who came to the rescue of Starter Sheldon Jones in the sixth, was credited with his tenth victory. Lefty Chet Nichols, 20-year-old rookie, went all the way and was charged with his eighth defeat.

The largest crowd ever to see a professional football game was 96,625 at Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles.

Witnessing the Midland-Ysleta game film Monday night at the Booster Club, we were impressed by several incidents, some of which were: A key block thrown by Sophomore End Bill Mims when Dan Black intercepted a pass and romped about 40 yards; the running of Guard Pete English after taking a lateral from Robert Keisinger on a pass play; Black's alert defensive play all night and the brilliant defensive performance of Bill Leonard, junior tackle.

Most encouraging of the lot, perhaps, was the game turned in by Leonard.

Only a B team had last year, Leonard was slated for duty at center but was moved to tackle because of his hustle and defensive spark in workouts.

The 170-pound kid hits much harder than his weight would indicate, and plays the game for fun, too.

"Old Bill just laughs and tackles and has a big time out there." Coach Tugboat Jones summed it up to the large crowd of boosters.

Also fine on defense for the Bulldogs Friday night was Pete English. English played a heads-up game, both when it came to blocking and being around for laterals.

When he took the backward flip from Keisinger, English turned on the steam like a halfback and only a shoe-string Ysleta tackle kept him from going all the way.

For Black, the interception was the second sparkling play against passes in two games.

In the opener with San Angelo, he set up a TD with a quick snare of an enemy aerial. His grab against Ysleta killed an Indian drive and allowed Midland to drive to the one-foot line before losing the ball on downs.

We've heard several fans around town predicting that Crozier Tech will beat Midland, because, "It's about time for Midland to get over-confident."

If the boys are over-confident, the predictions could be right—but we don't think they will be.

Blue Sox Defeat Lamesa For WT-NM Playoff Crown

LAMESA —P— Abilene's Blue Sox trounced Lamesa's Lobos, 8-3, Monday night to win the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league championship.

The Lobos led 3-0 through the sixth inning. Abilene scored once in the seventh; got four unearned runs in the eighth, and added three more runs in the ninth as Outfielder Walt Sexti homered.

Lamesa won the first game of the Class C league's playoff. Then Abilene took four straight.

Jim Melton, who was relieved by Izzie Leon in the eighth, was the winning pitcher. The loser was Harry Pilaraki, who gave way to Ted Wyberanec in the eighth.

Musial, Fain Lead Major Loop Batters

NEW YORK —(P)— Stan Musial, great all-around performer of the St. Louis Cardinals, appeared a certainty Tuesday to capture his fifth National League batting championship.

He was far out in front with a .358 average. His closest pursuer, Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies, was 17 points away. Ashburn was hitting .341 through games of Sunday.

Jackie Robinson, 1949 bat champ, was third with .334. Robby's teammate, Roy Campanella, was fourth with .328. Fifth was Johnny Wyrostek of the Cincinnati Reds at .313.

Rounding out the top 10 were Monte Irvin, New York Giants, .312; Al Dark, Giant captain, and Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh slugger, .308; Carl Furillo, Dodgers, .307; and Peanuts Lowrey, Cardinals, .301.

Ferris Fain, Philadelphia's first baseman, appeared to have sewed up the 1951 American League batting championship.

Through Sunday's games, Fain, who batted .282 last season, had boosted his average to .347 for a 22 point spread over Chicago's Minnie Minoso.

Minoso, boomed for Rookie of the Year honors, gained second place with .325.

One point behind at .324 was Boston's Ted Williams.

George Kell of Detroit, second last week, skidded to fourth place with a six-point drop to .316.

The other leaders include Johnny Pesky, Boston, .315; Gil McDougald, New York, .313; Gil Coan, Washington, .310; Nellie Fox, Chicago, .308; Bob Avila, Cleveland, .305; and Dom DiMaggio, Boston, .301.

Former Abilene Bootlegger-Boxer Slain By Gunman

BORGER—Police of three states Tuesday were searching for the slayer of Eddie Brock, 31, former Abilene bootlegger and champion amateur fighter who was shot fatally here Monday.

In recent months Brock had been an oil field driller here.

Object of the wide search was Clyde Davis Hanks, against whom murder charges were filed. Sheriff Hugh Anderson said Brock was shot as he descended the doorsteps at his home. He died several hours later.

Brock was a champion Golden Gloves boxer in the middleweight division in 1946 in Abilene, and champion of the light heavyweight division in 1947 and 1948.

Four years ago he was assessed a fine of $1,000 and a year in jail on a bootlegging charge. He was released after six months and his fine was reduced to $500.

Freight Reductions On Feeds Ordered In Drouth Counties

AUSTIN —(P)— Reduced freight rates on livestock feeds go into effect October 1 in 148 Texas drouth counties.

The rate order cuts charges on hay 50 per cent, and on cotton seed cake and meal, cotton seed hulls and peanut hulls 33 1/3 per cent.

The drouth rates granted Monday by the Railroad Commission extend through March 31, 1952.

They were authorized after stockmen said the long drouth has endangered basic herds, and that no matter how much rain falls now, the feed pinch will stay on through the Winter.

Protests were filed by many railroads. They said the same reductions do not apply to truckers, and that feedstuffs normally import much cutletuff in the Winter.

The counties to which rates were cut include Midland, Andrews, Coke, Crane, Crockett, Culberson, Ector, Glasscock, Loving, Martin, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Scurry, Sterling, Sutton, Tom Green, Upton, Ward and Winkler.

Kerr Sees Industry Shift To Southwest

OKLAHOMA CITY —(P)— Industry will gravitate from the North and East to the Southwest due to the threat of federal regulation of natural gas, Senator Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) declared Monday night.

Industrial centers will have to move to this area when producers refuse to pipe their gas to the Northeast, he predicted. The speech by Kerr, an oil and gas producer, was to the Independent National Gas Association of America.

The "fast-growing industries of the Southwest will have grown so big they will take all the gas that can be found" in a short time, he said.

Mrs. Florence Hemingway, 503 South Weatherford Street, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Monday as a medical patient.

Rail Board Orders Gas Flaring Survey

AUSTIN —P— The Railroad Commission wants to know how much gas is being flared in West Texas.

It asked all processing plants Monday to report on flaring volume between September 1 and September 24. The commission wants the reports by October 1.

At last week's statewide oil hearing, concern was expressed over flaring. The commission indicated it plans to crack down, and Monday's telegraphic request was regarded as the first step.

WORKMAN INJURED

Roberto Hernandez, a construction workman, was given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Monday for a hand injury suffered at work on the Front Street ditching project.

Magnolia Develops Cement To Offset Drilling Mud Losses

DALLAS—Losses of drilling muds up to $50,000 per well sometimes are incurred when oil wells are drilled through porous or cavernous underground formations. Annual industry-wide drilling costs which can be traced directly to lost circulation of muds run into the millions of dollars. To partially offset such losses, a new clay cement has been developed by the Field Research Laboratories of Magnolia Petroleum Company, an affiliate of Occoyn-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc.

The cement is designed to close off the permeable zones in which losses occur after they are encountered by the drilling bit. Thus loss of expensive mud, used for lubrication of the bit and for carrying off cuttings, can be averted.

Magnolia executives Tuesday announced technical details of the development will be presented next week by T. A. Pollard, J. U. Messenger and J. S. McNeil, Jr., staff members of the Field Research Laboratories, at the Fall meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, Petroleum Branch, in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

They added that the new time-setting clay cement has been successful in field tests for plugging off mud-loss zones where other more conventional materials failed. It also obviates excessive requirements of casing, cement, rig time, and the blowout hazards attendant to lost circulation.

Basically, Magnolia's new clay cement consists of an aqueous slurry of a specially selected clay, a smaller amount of an aluminum silicate to increase the strength of the clay after it sets, and a retarder for increasing the time during which the slurry can be pumped before it starts to set.

In a relatively short time after the mixture is pumped down to the permeable zone, the clay cement becomes plastic with sufficient strength to seal off the zone against mud losses during subsequent drilling operations.

Nation's Crude Oil Flow Soars To New All-Time High Mark

TULSA—(AP)—Domestic crude oil production, reversing a losing trend, soared during the week ended September 22 to another all-time daily average of 6,222,450 barrels. The Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday. The increase was 21,950 barrels over the previous week. Texas production was unchanged at 2,827,600. Kansas advanced 22,300 barrels to 329,750.

Other healthy increases were in the Eastern fields and Indiana, each up 1,200 barrels to 59,200 and 31,200, and Mississippi, up 1,000 to 97,800. Gains also were reported for Wyoming, up 800 barrels to 190,900; Arkansas, up 700 to 77,050; California and Kentucky, each 600 to 882,300 and 31,900, respectively; Nebraska, 250 to 6,400; Alabama, 200 to 3,050, and Utah 200 to 3,800.

Illinois lost 3,200 barrels to 164,300, while Louisiana fell 1,800 to 625,400.

The other losers were Oklahoma down 900 barrels to 505,700; Colorado, off 800 to 77,100; Michigan, 600 to 38,800, and Montana, 100 to 25,000.

Production was unchanged in Florida, 1,675, and New Mexico, 145,375.

SHE'S SUPER ON THE STAGE AND A "SUPER" AT HOME—Leading a double life is Evelyn Gilio, who has a dancing role in the Broadway show, "The King and I," and shares with her husband a job as superintendent of the seven-story New York apartment building where they live. At left, Evelyn is costumed for her Broadway stint; at right, she strikes a neat dance pose while cleaning the interior of a clothes-dryer in the apartment house laundry. Wielding the broom is hubby, Floyd Anderson, who, when not "supering," is a Mormon elder studying sociology at Columbia University.
