McGee Hearing Ends In Mistrial

Illness Hits Jury As Case Nears Close

By COPE ROUTH
The sanity trial of Richard W. McGee came to an abrupt end Monday when Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton ordered a mistrial after one of the jurors became ill and was transferred to a hospital.

The case immediately was transferred to the 41st District Court in El Paso, and Judge David E. Mulcahy of El Paso will set the date for the trial.

The jury was discharged by Judge Hamilton at 9:45 a.m. after Sheriff Ed Darnell officially reported that W. E. Globber, one of the jurors, had become ill late Saturday night and was transferred to a hospital early Sunday.

Egypt Hurls New Charges At Britain

CAIRO—(P)—Egypt, her forces reported moving rapidly toward mobilization on a war basis, Monday accused Britain anew of "acts of aggression."

Britain sent fresh troops into the disputed Suez Canal Zone and Cairo newspapers said an Egyptian guerrilla movement was forming to drive the Britons out.

Egypt's government sent a new note from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to the British Embassy, accusing the British of "new acts of aggression."

British authorities in the canal zone wish also to provoke the Egyptian guerrillas.

"Not satisfied with defying the feelings of the 'civil' population, British authorities in the canal zone wish also to provoke the Egyptian guerrillas."

The note said British troops Saturday at Port Said mortally wounded an Egyptian soldier before Egypt's Governorate Office in Port Said.

A short time before, the Egyptian government made public a note charging that the British actions in the Suez area made it look as if the British were "moving in to conquer the country."

A British spokesman said the British Royal Navy now was controlling movements of shipping in the Suez area and carrying supplies for Britons guarding the strategic 104-mile canal, vital link in the Commonwealth's lifeline.

British warships guarded both ends of the canal.

King Says 'Family Skeletons' Sure To Keep Mama In Line

NEW YORK—(P)—Sheppard King III, whose wife has smiled benignly on his European romantic ventures, came home Monday to divorce her so he can pursue those ventures further.

King, Texas oil heir, said he would leave for Houston Monday afternoon to start divorce action against his wife, Gloria, so he can wed Samia Gamal, Egyptian dancer.

"The very day I get the divorce, I'm going to hop off to Cairo to marry Samia," he said, adding that he hoped to get the decree in four to six weeks.

His mother, Mrs. Bonner King, has threatened to disinherit him if he goes through with the marriage.

The 26-year-old Texan said he didn't expect any difficulty reconciling her to the marriage, however, particularly if he threatened to expose some "family skeletons," which he didn't describe further.

"I think she will find it necessary to settle with any trouble," he said. "She objects to anything I do. She just wants me around her so she can tell me what to do."

King said he probably would make a larger settlement on his wife than he did the first time.

"Those things are necessary if you don't want any trouble with your wife," he said.

He said he expects to marry in Cairo, honeymoon in Capri and Spain and bring his bride to the United States to live.

"I am very positive Samia is not marrying me for my money," he said. "She has gotten better marriage offers than mine."

AEC Sets Off 'Baby' Atom Blast

LOS VEGAS, NEV.—(P)—The smallest U. S. atomic explosion on record was set off at sunrise Monday by Atomic Energy Commission scientists.

Signalling perhaps the start of a new atomic weapon era, the infant A-bomb—if bomb it was—flashed sharply for about one-tenth of a second. It was seen on a mountain about 50 miles away.

To eager onlookers in Las Vegas, the flash was obliterated by the bright, early morning sun.

It was a letdown in contrast to the five brilliant flashes which lit up the desert sky in tests here last winter.

Witnessed by Newsmen
To scientists, it probably was a bigger thrill than many of the previous larger blasts.

To control the atom and its fissioning so that it goes "poof"—without much more force than a large artillery burst—that would stand as a milestone in nuclear science.

One of the few men outside the AEC test site to see the tiny weapon perform was Joe McClain, telegraph editor of the Las Vegas Review-Journal.

32 Killed, 100 Hurt As Earthquakes Rock Island Of Formosa

TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(P)—Earthquakes, which killed at least 32 persons and injured 100 or more, shook this Chinese Nationalist island for the second successive day Tuesday.

Thousands ran excitedly into the streets as the last shock came shortly after midnight.

Other thousands, sleeping on the ground because their homes were damaged in the first series of quakes Monday, were awakened by the tremor at 12:05 a.m.

The first occurred at 5:40 a.m. Monday, and other came throughout Monday and Monday night.

Nationalist sources said the worst damage and casualties apparently were at the east coast town of Hualien, with a population of 45,000. They estimated more than 20 persons killed and 100 casualties there.

Community Chest Dinner Plans Made

Final plans for the big Community Chest kick-off dinner Tuesday night were being whipped into shape Monday.

The dinner for Chest workers will be held at 7 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer.

Chest leaders will outline the campaign procedures to raise $55,447.25.

Wednesday night, Midland residents will be asked to turn on their porch lights as an invitation for campaign workers to call.

Ken Regan Urges Mineral Stockpiling

HAILLEY, IDAHO—(P)—R. E. P. Ken Regan (D-Texas) says more purchasing deposits should be established throughout the west.

The Texan, chairman of the House Mines and Mining subcommittee, Sunday said stockpiling of ore is a good answer to reactivation of old mines and development of new ones.

"If the miner knew he had a long-range program—five years or so—we could develop a considerable stockpile of strategic and needed minerals."

Three Injured In Stanton Crash

STANTON—Three persons were injured, one seriously, at 9 p.m. Sunday in a three-car collision three miles west of Stanton.

Underwood received a possible back injury in the accident while the Reeves girl received a fractured collar-bone.

Two other Stanton youths and Otha Leo Sudduth, 28, of Big Spring, driver of the third automobile, escaped injury.

Allies, Reds Set To Renew Truce Parleys

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—Everything was set Tuesday to resume Korean truce talks as Red negotiators ratify a security agreement.

Allied and Communist liaison officers completed the pact Monday, detailing ground rules for renewing armistice negotiations after a two-month break.

The United Nations Command promptly ratified it and called on the Reds to reopen talks "without further delay."

The Reds didn't answer Monday. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN Command spokesman, said if the Red answer is received Tuesday morning, a full scale negotiation session may be called for the afternoon.

The general view in this Allied peace camp was that truce talks would be underway again by Wednesday, at the latest.

The two five-man negotiating committees will meet in a faded yellow tent at Panmunjom, midway between opposing front lines. They will take up right where they left off at Kaesong—on the question of where to create a demilitarized zone for the armistice. The Reds suspended the Kaesong talks August 23.

UN and Communist liaison officers completed their arrangements for renewal of negotiations by signing an eight-point security pact at 10:45 a.m. Monday.

Three hours and 20 minutes later. (Continued On Page Five)

UN Forces Closing In On Kumsong

EIGHTH ARMY, KOREA—(P)—American tanks rumbled into flaming Kumsong Monday for the second time in three days as Chinese retreated before advancing Allied infantrymen.

For four hours the M-46 Patton tanks shot up the former Red stronghold on the central front. Then they lumbered back through mud and heavy mortar fire to their own lines.

Allied infantrymen, striking out of the fog, overran two hill masses, including the highest yet taken on the 15-mile Kumsong front.

The Reds put up a hot fight on one ridge for a little while. Then they withdrew, and the United Nations infantrymen advanced unopposed through the mud.

Despite the soggy going, the advance was so rapid engineers had a hard time keeping up with the infantrymen.

Forty-two Chinese didn't bother to retreat. They surrendered. Ground action quieted all along the front as liaison officers completed arrangements for resuming truce talks, but the air over Northwest Korea flamed with six jet battles.

Returning American pilots reported they probably destroyed two Russian-type MIG-15 jets and damaged another. The Fifth Air Force said all American planes returned safely.

Korea, Inflation Hit Toy Counters

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(P)—A record dollar volume of toys are in the stores this year—for a record number of children.

But the shadow of the Korean war and the defense program already lies on the toy departments. There are more plastic and wooden toys this year.

There still are a lot of metal toys in the stores—because the manufacturers speeded up production in the first four months of this year before curbs on metal use became stringent. But the makers of metal toys say they'll be hard put to replace them on re-orders in the future.

Toy prices, on average, are about 10 per cent higher than last Christmas, says William A. Wenner, president of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. He estimates stores already have ordered $30,000,000 worth of toys, at manufacturers' prices. This is $30,000,000 more than last year.

But there are a million more youngsters under 14 this year than last, says Melvin Freud, president of the Toy Guidance Council. Santa Claus will have more than 48 million names on his list—thanks to the war and postwar boom in the baby business.

Many of the toys reflect the tension of the times—atomic guns, a gun that smokes when fired. (Continued On Page Five)

New Tax Bite Takes Effect November 1

WASHINGTON—(P)—Higher taxes on income and many things people buy will go into effect November 1. They are included in the new tax act, expected to increase the federal revenue $5,891,000,000 a year.

The measure provides for individual tax boosts ranging from 11 to 12 per cent for most taxpayers, and excise (sales) tax increases on a long list of items including liquor, gasoline and household appliances, and bigger taxes for corporations.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

FORT WORTH—(P)—Bank statements issued Monday showed the 16 banks of Fort Worth and Tarrant County set all-time high records October 10 in both deposits, $474,663,878.10, and loans and discounts, $205,872,530.51.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Supreme Court Monday reversed itself and agreed to hear an appeal by six attorneys who got contempt sentences for their conduct during the New York trial of the 11 top Communist Party leaders.

B. & N. Preparing To Complete Flowing Opener In Midland

The Blackwood & Nichols Company is preparing to take potential test and complete its No. 1 Hofertkamp, flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian lime in North-Central Midland County.

This wildcat, located two and one-half miles northeast of the city of Midland flowed 63 barrels of oil in five hours on a 3 1/8 inch tubing choke. No water was reported with the oil.

The production came from open hole in the Pennsylvanian lime at 11,149-174 feet. That interval had been treated with 6,000 gallons of acid.

Had Been Shutin
The 5-hour flow came after the wildcat had been shutin several days while tanks were being erected.

As soon as the well is cleaned up the potential will be taken and the new field opener will be put on regular production.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 860 feet from west lines of section 19, block 38, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Flowing tubing pressure during the 5-hour test was 4,250 pounds at the start and 1,200 pounds at the end.

Gas-oil ratio was 1,700-1.

Water, As Well As Oil Found In New Pay In C-N Howard

Lario Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Cairnes, which flowed an estimated 20 to 30 barrels of oil per hour from a new and higher pay on the northeast side of the East Vealmoor field in Central-North Howard County is now making more hole.

The flow was from the interval at 7,101-36 feet. That section is about 300 feet above the regular Pennsylvanian reef lime pay of the East Vealmoor field.

The section which made the oil and gas is a sandy detrital, either in the lower Wolfcamp of the Permian or in the Cisco of the upper Pennsylvanian.

Net 2 1/2 pay
The new pay does not appear to be too important—as the recovery when the tool was pulled was 6,880 feet of pipe lin oil and 580 feet of salt water.

The project will go on and try to make an oil well from the reef lime. If it fails to produce there will be plugged back to the 7,101-36 foot section and completed there.

Location is 1,200 feet from south and 130 feet from west lines of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 18, block 77, H&TC survey. It is five miles northwest of Vincent.

Winkler Wildcat Is High To Failure On Pennsylvanian

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1-A S. B. Wigh, Southeast Winkler County wildcat to 12,500 feet to explore the Ellenburger topped the Pennsylvanian high to two deep dry holes in the adjacent regions.

Both of those failures had some shows of possible production—but not enough to make oil wells.

Stanford No. 1-A Wigh topped the Pennsylvanian at 8,010 feet, to give it a datum of minus 5,023 feet on that marker.

High From Two Sides
That makes it 117 feet high to Saxon Pe Oil Company No. 1 Wheelwell, a dry hole five miles to the west, and 35 correlates 75 feet high to Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Winkler, another duster four and one-half miles to the northwest.

It had reached 8,537 feet in line and was making more hole at last report. Up to now it has not reported having logged any possibilities of production.

The high structural position it has leads some interested observers to the belief that it might find commercial petroleum in some of the lower formations.

Runnels Prospector To 4,500 Feet Is To Be Drilled By Saxon

Saxon Exploration Company No. 1 Mrs. S. Bixby and others is to be a 4,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Runnels County. It is ten miles southwest of Ballinger.

Location is 2,333 feet from south and east lines of section 518, C. H. Williamson survey.

That makes it eight miles southwest of the Love-Sunlight sand field.

Big Lake Field Gets Ellenburger Tester

Big Lake Oil Company of Texas is to drill an Ellenburger exploration in the Big Lake field of South-Central Midland County.

Location is 2,333 feet from south and east lines of section 518, C. H. Williamson survey.

That makes it eight miles southwest of the Love-Sunlight sand field.

Fire Routs Guests On Thirteenth Floor Of Adolphus Hotel

DALLAS—(P)—Occupants of the thirteenth floor of the 25-story Adolphus Hotel were evacuated to the hotel lobby early Monday when a $12,000 fire swept through a room and hallway and damaged several other rooms.

It was the second Dallas fire in 12 hours. A wind-whipped blaze caused $85,000 damage to a two-story building in the 1600 block of Main Street Sunday afternoon.

Two women were overcome by smoke, a man suffered head and face burns and another man collapsed from shock in the hotel fire.

Investigator D. C. Dabbs said the hotel blaze started in a room occupied by Frank Phinney of Big Spring. Phinney told investigators he had left the room about an hour before the blaze was reported at 2:58 a.m. It was not learned how the fire started.

Four Persons Hospitalized
The fire burned into the hallway and destroyed the door panels to several rooms.

W. Sticker, 52, of Alice, a patron on the fifteenth floor, walked down an outside fire escape. He suffered a seizure, possibly from the strain and excitement, upon reaching the street and was given hospital treatment.

H. L. Borden, 45, of Philadelphia, was burned about the face and head. Investigator Dabbs said he was directly across the hall from the room in which the fire started.

Heleen Inge, 28, and Louise Guyer, 23, both of New York, were overcome by smoke and given hospital treatment.

The fire was brought under control at 3:33 a.m. and most of the people in the lobby returned to their rooms.

Weatherman Puts On Variety Show

Midland had a "variety show" of weather during the weekend. There was both bright sunshine and cloudy weather. Even a trace of rain fell between sandstorms Sunday. High winds fanned in two dusters.

Midland was in the path of a squall line which blew through Guadalupe Pass and extended as far east as Abilene.

Winds of approximately 58 miles per hour zipped through Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and other cities along the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

Visibility in Midland was cut sharply by blowing sand.

One unofficial weather observer in the city termed it: "blow—but no cold; clouds—but no show (of appreciable rain)."

Nine Killed, 25 Or More Hurt When Church Roof Falls

Buenos Aires—(AP)—At least nine children and adults were killed and 25 injured seriously Sunday in the collapse of a church roof during a communion instruction class for children.

Some 400 persons had jammed San Juan Evangelista Church, one of the oldest in the city's port area. The victims were crushed beneath falling stone and timbers.

Church officials expressed belief vibrations from heavy pneumatic drills used in making recent street repairs may have contributed to the accident.

Except for a few waterfalls and rapids, the Congo River is navigable by river steamer for almost 4,000 miles.

Sand, Rain Fail To Halt Oil Man Bob Hope's Show

Bob Hope grabbed the tip of his famous nose and tilted it a little further skyward as he made a careful sweep across his upper lip with a safety razor.

"Sure," he said, turning away from the mirror, and grabbing a towel. "I was here a couple of years ago. Never thought I'd be coming back to put on a show, though."

"You know I have a little oil property down here in Boliary County."

He rinsed his face carefully and made a couple of faces at himself in the mirror.

"Have any luck with oil?" someone asked.

"Luck?" he exclaimed, whirling around. "I guess I'm the luckiest character in the world."

"We started drilling down there and hit 28 wells in a row. Still trying to hit some more."

Another 100 Years

I guess I've made more out of those wells than I'll make in show business the rest of my life. I saw a geologist's report yesterday and it said there's still enough oil for another 100 years down there."

The irrepressible Hope was discoursing on the oil business as he moved around the sixth-floor suite at Hotel Scharbauer Sunday afternoon, preparing to leave for Memorial Stadium, where more than 4,000 persons waited for the show he was staging with Les Brown and his orchestra, under sponsorship of the Midland Shrine Club.

In the suite's living room, Mayor Perry Pickett waited to escort him to the stadium and in the dressing room blonde Marilyn Maxwell was putting the finishing touches on her make-up.

"I really hadn't planned on coming to Midland at all," Hope continued, as he dug through a bag full of golf balls, looking for a shirt.

"But we had this off day and we had to keep Les Brown and his boys working. It was just for them that we came out here."

"Well, you might as well keep on working," someone suggested to him. "After all, someone has to pay for all those warplanes and tanks."

Bright Pink Shirt

Hope grinned as he struggled into a bright pink shirt.

"That's right," he said, "but don't start stealing my gags. I have to use that one on my show. Come on, let's go."

Fifteen minutes later, he walked into the stadium and, through rain and dust, he kept up his chatter for the next couple of hours, giving way only long enough for the music of the orchestra and the warbling of Marilyn Maxwell.

"I want to tell you how thrilled I am to be here," he explained to the crowd and then turned to the orchestra leader behind him. "Where in the hell are we, anyway?"

He glanced up at the sun, shining down and then took off his maroon jacket.

"Anyway," he continued, "we're playing in God's own spotlight although it's been a long time since I've played in a pasture."

Then, he continued with his patter, always funny, sometimes a little naughty, and the crowd loved it. A couple of sandstorms interspersed with a few drops of rain drove the band to shelter, but Hope kept on with the show.

Fashion Show

One of the features was a fashion show, with Midland girls parading across the stage on the 30-yard line.

One of them, Gene Mason, 512 North Main Street, a secretary for the Cactus Drilling Company, stopped long enough to give the crowd an imitation of Doris Day's singing.

The other models were Emma Sue Cowden, Delores Franklin, Pat Garner, Mrs. Vergy Ann Willis, Mrs. Julia Floyd, Mrs. Sandy Horton, Vangie Theis and Mrs. Marcelline White.

Finally it was time to go. "We'll have to be having," explained Hope, "or we'll be doing that Kerrville show here."

The troupe performed at Kerrville Sunday night.

"Come to think of it," he added.

watching a big cloud of sand rolling across the stadium, "if we wait long enough Kerrville will probably blow right by here."

After the show, the group boarded a Navy transport plane and left for Kerrville. From there they went to Corpus Christi where they will do their regular broadcast from the Naval Air Station.

Mrs. Chandler, who resembles Maureen O'Hara, now has an agent and will try for stardom with Jeff's blessings.

Overheard: I've got a great idea. I'm going to make some old movies for television."

"Sawdust Caesar," the screenplay by Robert Buckner about Mussolini's career, now may be filmed in Hollywood instead of Rome. The subject matter is considered dangerous for politically unsettled Italy.

The word's leaked out that MGM is paying a king's ransom to UI for Shelley Winters on a one-picture deal. Fletcher Markle, director-hubby of Mercedes McCambridge, will put Shelley through the acting paces.

Skip the rumors of Piper Laurie's engagement to UI producer Leonard Goldstein. He told me: "I'm four years older than Piper's father. The rumor is silly."

Cause of the blazing feud between Evelyn Keyes and Mary Anderson during the production of "I Want to Be Loved" in Mexico: Mary's tight-fitting red sweater. Evelyn objected to it.

Nancy Kelley's sister, Carole Le Kelly, is in the chorus line at the Riverside Hotel in Reno. Celeste Holm and Ingrid Bergman's ex, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, were a surprise twosome at the Mocambo.

New Child Rage

The happy word from the Reno world premier of UI's "Reunion in Reno" is that Hollywood has turned out a dilly of a comedy that will lasso the family trade around the heart. Gigi Perreau proves herself the town's best moppet Bernhardt since Margaret O'Brien.

Harry Richman joined the premier festivities and confessed that he's making another million or so on his cattle ranch near Reno. "You can see your dollars by looking out of the window," Harry tossed it to me.

"Your dollars have four legs. That's the cattle business for you. Why, it's Bing Crosby's biggest source of money."

Fredric March is admitting, out loud that his British-made starrer, "Christopher Columbus," was a "stinker." "It was a bad script," he told me on the set of "Death of a Salesman." "It took too long to get to the voyage but that was history's fault, not ours."

As the sixth actor to play Willy Loman in "Salesman," March isn't worried about comparisons with the stage portrayal.

"Every actor would play it different. I didn't see Thomas Mitchell's performance, but I did hear the records."

Nan Grey stepped out of a role in "The Tight Rope" that would have scored her movie stock again and the agent who handled the deal is tearing out his hair. Now Nan has decided to remain plain Mrs. Frankie Lane and run a San Fernando Valley antique shop, in which Frankie has invested a big bankroll.

Jennifer Fielacholy

The word from Europe is that Jennifer Jones is in a highly nervous state over Robert Walker's death and is unable to shake off her melancholy. The nation's 100,000 deaf persons will have no difficulty reading Mona Freeman's sign language to the deaf boy played by Tony Curtis in "Hear No Evil." She's studying three hours a day with a sign language expert.

It's a crushing blow for Hollywood mamas of moppets with bleached corkscrew curls, capped teeth and up-plunging skirts. Director George Cukor signed an unknown — seven-year-old Susan Hallaran of New Rochelle, N. Y. — to play Judy Holiday's daughter in "The Marring Kind."

Explaining his treason to the local product, Cukor told me: "Susan had a singular lack of two important elements. She has no front teeth. She also had no Hollywood precociousness."

Mrs. Wiley Etheredge

Norwood, Etheredge Exchange Vows

Pauline Norwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Norwood, Sunday became the bride of Wiley Etheredge, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Etheredge.

The double-ring ceremony took place in the Asbury Methodist Church before a background of yellow chrysanthemums and green foliage. The Rev. Cecil Hardaway, pastor, officiated.

Neila Norwood, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Troy Etheredge, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white ballerina length dress of imported French lace over white taffeta. Her lace sleeves came to a point at the wrists and buttoned, with taffeta and lace covered buttons. The yoke of her dress was nylon net.

The waist length veil of nylon net fell from her Juliet cap, made with French lace. Her bouquet was of white shatterd carnations tied with a love knot of satin.

Plaint was Mrs. Yates Brown. Pre-nuptial music included "Melody of Love," Engelmann; "Oh, Promise Me" by Deppen; "I Love You Truly," Jacobs-Bond, and "Because," by Harlelot.

Shirley Bunt, soloist, sang "Aloes," by Berlin, and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches also were played.

The maid of honor was dressed in a strapless blue taffeta ballerina length dress with a blue lace jacket. Her headdress was of white shatterd carnations. Her shoes were of silver brocade.

Mrs. Norwood, mother of the bride, wore an aqua crepe dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white shatterd carnations.

After the wedding a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. In the house party were Sandra Norwood, sister of the bride, Mrs. Troy Etheredge and Mrs. Albert Russell.

The table was laid in white with bronze chrysanthemums in the centerpieces and the two-tiered wedding cake topped with a bride and groom. Crystal appointments were used.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a navy blue suit with navy and white accessories.

Mrs. Etheredge is employed by the Sun Oil Company. She is a graduate of Midland High School and Odessa College.

Etheredge is a graduate of Midland High School and served three years in the Army. He is employed by White's Auto Store.

The MATURE PARENT

Be Calm Yourself To Ease World Tensions On Youth

Across this country a student exodus from high schools is in the making that threatens to rival the one of World War II when enrollment dropped by 1,250,000.

Worried parents everywhere are asking what can they do to halt the flight of teen-age children from classrooms into defense work and the armed services.

Maybe our fire-eating young ones would calm down if we calmed down. Maybe if we steadied ourselves, we could give more help to young people who are battling with the pressures of uncertainty and war tensions for the first time.

Long ago, we Americans decided that we owed certain fundamentals to youth. One of them, we figured, was education. We were right. It's helped to make us what we are.

If our children don't know that their best contribution to this crisis is standing by the job of getting the lessons—at least until they're drafted—we should know it. If they don't know that poise and balance are good things with which to face a crisis, we know it. And we should take a firm stand against rash and ill-timed action.

The pressures claim to be overwhelming. But I don't know what leadership is if it isn't the capacity to refuse to be pushed around by pressures.

My favorite story about pressure is one that concerns Winston Churchill and a Marx Brothers movie.

It was being screened for him when news was brought to him that Rudolph Hess had landed in Scotland. Imagine for yourself the excitement of his colleagues. What did this flight of Hitler's closest confidant mean? What would the Prime Minister do with the whole world waiting to learn the meaning of this flight of a top ranking Nazi to British soil? Did it signify peace—or a renewal of the struggle?

Self-Command. The Prime Minister did nothing. The great war leader, responsible for morale, for leadership, offered the movie to continue. While the jittery world let the Nazi keep it in suspense, Winston Churchill chose to let Hess cool his heels in Scotland. Churchill gave his undivided attention to Harpo and Groucho Marx. That is showing back pressure. That is self-command. That is wisdom that realizes that the living moment's joy and peace is what strengthens confidence to deal with the problems of future moments.

We show ourselves lacking in leadership when we deny young people the reassurances of our own calm in this emergency.

If your teen-ager is agitating for permission to leave school, your refusal to give in to anxiety and uncertainty will help him relax the tension that is driving him.

When he is relaxed, he will be ready to understand that Americans are people who move when they want to move, not when pressures try to dictate their movement.

When we have calmed ourselves down, our young people will grow more calm, too. They will be calm enough to listen to the proposition that ducking out of school—before they are needed elsewhere—means that Stalin has them on the run. (All Rights Reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Positive Program Needed

Any American who wants his democracy to flourish must wish for the continued health of at least two major political parties. For if he has only one, that great lever of the democratic system—the right to choose among alternatives—is missing.

Consequently, whether you are a Republican or a Democrat, you ought to be troubled about what might happen to the Republican Party should it go much longer without winning the White House in a national election.

Thomas Jefferson was a stout believer in the idea of rotation in office. After him the notion developed strongly that it was wise to change the leaders of government from time to time. The fear was that men who held power too long grew lax and irresponsible and corrupt.

It is furnishing that kind of evidence right now. A Democratic Administration almost 20 years in control of the White House is pock-marked with corruption.

Unquestionably a feeling of revulsion against scandal and confusion grips many Americans. Probably a good share of them would like a change. This would seem to be the moment, above all, for the Jeffersonian doctrine of rotation to come into play—for the good of Republicans and Democrats alike.

Yet the Republican Party can have no guarantee that it will ride back to power on this wave of revulsion. It may—but again it may not. The rules of modern political life are not so simple as "throw the rascals out."

The point is that elections are decided by a variety of factors. To rely wholly on your adversary's shortcomings is risky; they may not finally be dominant in the voters' minds.

In short, the Republicans, as has been said many a time, cannot count on winning with a purely negative approach. They must have a program—a program for all elements of the American population.

Public opinion polls offer the GOP no encouragement that it has yet devised such a program. Too many people still regard the Republican Party as the advocate of the rich and the privileged.

Time is running fast. American voters hitherto have shown themselves impatient of popular programs whipped up for election years only.

Unhuman Perfection

Arthur Krock, distinguished dean of the New York Times Washington staff, put his finger on a striking aspect of the capital scene the other day. He observed that the Administration practices what he terms the "doctrine of the non-admission of error."

His point was that the top officials of this government seldom if ever admit they have made any mistakes. That they have committed errors is obvious to anyone.

As Krock pointed out, even where its basic case has been essentially good, the Administration has concealed minor shortcomings whose later revelation weakened the entire case.

But it ought to be added that Krock's doctrine is not practiced solely by the Administration. Have you heard any recent confessions of error on Capitol Hill?

The average dollar bill lasts nine months, according to the Treasury Department. Pardon us if we laugh!

As to the size of the government bonds you buy, the bigger the better to batter the enemy.

There is one good way to make hard work easier—just work hard!

It's a shame that love isn't as easy to keep as it is to make.

"You Sure You Feel All Right?"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) DREW PEARSON SAYS: Jessup debate highlights legislation by fear; some newspapers twist facts and veil truth; both Austin and Eisenhower backed up Jessup.

WASHINGTON—Historians who evaluate the closing days of the 82nd Congress will probably make special note of the confirmation debate over Ambassador Philip Jessup because of two things: 1. It marked the high-water mark in this country of legislation through fear.

On October 7 Harold Stassen accused Ambassador Jessup of lying. Jessup had sworn under oath that he did not attend a White House conference at which cutting off aid to Chiang Kai-Shek was discussed.

On October 9 the State Department showed Stassen that Jessup had not favored recognition of Communist China.

On October 10 Warren Austin, a rock-ribbed ex-senator from Vermont, now ambassador to the United Nations, stated that UN records showed Jessup to have been in New York on the date Stassen claimed he was at the White House conference on China.

On October 13 General Eisenhower confirmed Jessup's statement that on Feb. 5, 1949, the date of the White House conference on China, Jessup was in New York conferring with Eisenhower on extending his leave of absence from Columbia University.

On October 15 Stassen charged that Ambassador Jessup had urged recognition of Communist China at a State Department round-table discussion. He demanded that the record of the meeting be published.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

I often wonder why people do it. A bridge player will know in advance that a certain play cannot possibly work, but he'll try it anyway. Why doesn't he try something else?

Take today's hand, for example. South shouldn't have been playing the hand to begin with. North would have had an easy time with a contract of three no-trump, or even with five diamonds. The actual con-

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and a table of opening leads.

West opened the jack of spades, and declarer finessed dummy's queen. This lost to East's king, much to declarer's disappointment.

Nobody can blame South for taking this finesse, and nobody can be surprised at his chagrin when the finesse lost.

East returned the six of spades to dummy's ace, and declarer finessed the queen of hearts. This finesse lost to West's king, but this time South knew in advance that the finesse would lose.

West had made a vulnerable overcall on a jack-high suit; so it was clear that West needed all the missing high cards to justify his bid.

The result was exactly what South expected. He lost a second trump trick to East, and also lost a trick to the ace of clubs. Down one.

Now, there was a way to make the game contract so there was no need for South to grit his teeth and take a finesse that was bound to lose.

The right play is to take the ace of trumps at the third trick, after the first two spade tricks have been played. Then South leads a low trump from his hand in the hope that West will have to play the king whether he likes it or not.

Actually, West would have to play the king of hearts. That would leave South in position to draw East's remaining trump with the queen of hearts. South would lose only one trump trick, and would therefore make his contract.

A fine officer and a cool one he at once took command. Far from questioning my new status he singled me out at once. "What do you suppose all those Indians? They split off to let me through and now they're running off up the valley. I don't get it."

It was oddly true. The Sioux were streaming south up the Little Big Horn by the hundreds.

"Well, they've got us up a stump and we'll keep. My idea is they've got their eye on bigger game."

Bentzen looked at me sharply as I spoke. "The general!"

"Captain, there's a million of 'em comin' up that north ravine on our side. We can't stop 'em."

"You think you've got Indians? Look down there." I pointed him, gesturing to the slopes below, up which three or four hundred braves were belly-snaking and hissing their way. "What do you think those are?"

"Darned if I know," answered the trooper, a wild grin lighting up his dirty face. "But I sure know what those are!" His words and cross-valley-pointing arm were extended in the direction of the sweetest sound of Gabriel's trumpet—a U. S. Army bugle blowing the charge.

Across the valley, down out of the bluffs overlooking the grove we had just evacuated, came Bentzen's wanderers. They'd seen us trapped below and had started down at once but by the time their mounts drummed past that grove it was silent as a graveyard at midnight.

Reno, out of his head by now, jumped to his feet, started to run down the slope toward Bentzen before we could stop him, yelling and waving his arms hysterically. "For God's sake, Bentzen! Halt your command and help me. I've lost half my men!"

Military Items Are 'Hidden' In Published Russian Budget

By FETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Russia's explosion of a second atomic bomb has renewed interest in total Communist world military potential.

Atomic bombs alone cannot win a war, according to present military thinking. The important factors still are size of armed forces in manpower, guns, tanks and air-power to deliver the bombs and hold ground after any atomic attack.

Latest available information on this score comes from Comdr. William T. Greenhalgh, U. S. N., in a paper written for "The Reserve Officer." Commander Greenhalgh is a former member of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces, and chief of Production, Office of International Programs for the U. S. Munitions Board, now assigned to the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

Commander Greenhalgh has access to information not generally available, so his estimates carry considerable weight. It is his present conclusion that "Russia sees in her gigantic military forces the means of threatening the rest of the world with the prospect of destruction if the free nations do not allow the Kremlin to have its own way." He builds up his case carefully from these factors:

The Soviet budget lists military expenditures of 96,000,000,000 rubles, or roughly $24,000,000,000. This is about one-fifth of the total budget, but this fifth covers only pay, housing and upkeep.

Planes, tanks and atomic expenditures are concealed under a general "national economy" item. Military roads are under "civilian construction." New war plants are under "capital investment."

Military Budget Doubled A realistic evaluation, says Commander Greenhalgh, would be military expenditures twice the published sum, or almost $50,000,000,000. Furthermore, lower living standards in Russia permit support of two and a half times the military establishment obtainable in the United States for the same amount of money.

In other words, the equivalent Russian effort is $125,000,000,000 a year, compared with a U. S. military budget of about $60,000,000,000.

In World War II, Russia had 25,000,000 men in service, the highest number at any one time being 20,000,000. In 1945 Russia was planning for 550 divisions. Each Russian division is only half the size of an American division. But the maximum combined gop of U. S. and British forces was 140 divisions.

Today Russia has, according to French estimates, 5,000,000 men in uniform organized as 200 skeletonized divisions, with 15,000,000 reservists. A million men a year are drafted for five years service. Another million are on duty with satellite armies, which Russia practically commands.

Poland has 16 divisions, with seven more planned. Czechoslovakia has 14 divisions, Hungary four, Rumania six, Bulgaria perhaps five, for a total of 45 divisions. Total Communist bloc forces in uniform are estimated at 6,000,000 men, plus another 4,000,000 in Red China.

Russia has to supply almost all the heavy weapons for these forces. Russia would like to completely mechanize her own armies, says Commander Greenhalgh, but does not have the capacity.

Military Estimates Vary Russia has, however, a capacity to produce 40,000 tanks a year, with a two-year stockpile. Automotive vehicle capacity is under 400,000 a year, less than 10 per cent of U. S. production.

Estimates on Russian air strength vary greatly. Five East German plants are now producing, plus 37 in Russia. Their productive capacity is put at 30,000 to 60,000 planes a year. Reports that the Russians now have 50,000 planes in operation do not seem consistent with the reported Russian Air Force strength of only 700,000 men.

The Russian MIG-15 jet is by some authorities considered the equal of American jets, and heavier armed though inferior in fire controls. The Russian TU-4 copy of the American B-29 is inferior. Russia may have German MC-163 guided missile and rocket interceptors in quantity.

The Russian navy is now fourth largest in the world. It has three battleships, 12 cruisers, 110 destroyers, 250 submarines and numerous smaller craft, including 450 lend-leased by the U. S.

Recent "rumors" have indicated the Soviet is building, in German yards, four 35,000-ton battleships and first two aircraft carriers. The Soviet submarine goal is for 1,000 by the end of 1952. But these reports are unconfirmed figures. They are discounted further by lack of trained crews to operate them.

Commander Greenhalgh puts Soviet A-bomb stockpile at the more conservative figure of 25 to 50 bombs today. Some estimates run as high as 100.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSH

The busy business man had just dictated, very rapidly, a letter to the new secretary. She said, "Mr. Jones, what did you say between 'Dear Sir' and 'Yours Truly'?"

A minister noticed a group of boys with a dog. "What are you doing?" he asked. The leader said, "We're swappin' lies; the one that tells the biggest one gets the dog."

The minister was shocked; he said, "Why, when I was your age, I never thought of telling an untruth." They all yelled, "You win the dog."

Want permission to take D Company and go down there to join him. Reno had recovered somewhat, his answer indicating near rationality. "We're here and we stay here. With luck we might last till Gibbon gets up. Down there—no chance. If that's Custer, he's already beyond help. I won't sacrifice these men."

Well, he had no time to argue. "Then somebody is leaving without your orders. And it's I." Turning, he started angrily for his horse, to do so nearly running me down. "Still feel like playing orderly?" he challenged, his tone implying his certainty I would not.

"What's the first order, sir?" I threw him a Johnny salute and a grin. "Get a horse and come on. Reno refused. I can't take the company but I can take myself. And you. If you want to go."

WE went in silence a few minutes, riding hard. But 40 men and horses trying to keep company formation over terrain as rough as a porcupine's back don't make the kind of speed I knew was necessary. I drove my mount in alongside Weir's.

"Captain, I'm going ahead. I know a gully route that shortcuts us up to where I think they've got him cornered. A man can get through but not a company. All right?"

"Go on. Tell him to hold on. We're coming." As I topped the last rise before plunging into the gully which was to take me to Custer and the end of the trail for Cetan Mani, I had a last clear view of the bluffs on which I had just quitted.

I found Custer where I thought I would, caught in the flat of the broad trail leading from the east hills down to the ford across the Little Big Horn at Beaver Creek. This put him precisely between and in front of the Ogilga and Minnicoujou camps, these being the very boys who now had him fronted, flanked and hamstringing as I topped out on a ridge 400 yards north of the battle.

It was 4 p. m. when I got my first sight of Custer. (To Be Continued)

Baby Drowns, 58 Persons Injured In Weekend Mishaps

Fifty-eight persons were treated at Midland hospitals for injuries suffered in weekend accidents and there was one fatality—a drowning. Francisco Hernandez, 18-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Hernandez, 803 East Houston Street, was dead on arrival last Saturday at a hospital after the tot fell into a tub of water when the mother was hanging out clothes.

There was a round of industrial accidents in the oil fields and in the city. Emergencies totaled 19 each at both Western Clinic-Hospital and Midland Memorial Hospital. Most of the accidents were minor. In the more serious ones, a man was struck by a truck, a cowboy was thrown from his horse and kicked, a man was a victim of food poisoning, a meter reader was bitten by a dog and at least five oil field workmen were injured by pipe.

TEEN TALK
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

The football season is big-date season for most high school and college girls. Even the poorest freshman can manage to buy student tickets or wangle duets to take his girl to the big game.

There are three types of football dates... the local game, the out-of-town game and the weekend game.

If the game is in her home town, it gives a girl the opportunity to change her attire before she goes out to a party in the evening, either with the same boy or another, the out-of-town game means she must dress appropriately for game and dinner and possibly dancing, the weekend game means she must be prepared to dress for whatever entertainment her crowd suggests.

The most appropriate football game outfit is a suit and sports hat, of course. But if you are not going to have the opportunity to change later, and must go out directly after the game, a smart wool dress is your best bet. This can be worn with fur jacket, sports coat or dressy coat so that you will look well groomed any hour of the day.

Your date will not expect you to call signals for the game, although you should have some working knowledge of what takes place on the field, unless it is your first brush with football. If you've never seen a game before, ask your date some questions—at the right moment. Don't wait until everybody's eyes are fastened on a particular play, and try to draw his attention to you. Act alert, but wait until there is a lull in the game to get your information.

Some girls pretend to know everything about the sport, because they are embarrassed to admit they do not know the game at all. It is better to ask what a "first down" or a "punt" or a "lateral pass" is than to make stupid remarks because of your ignorance.

No boy appreciates his date powdering her nose while the stands go wild cheering a touchdown or a long forward pass. Another one of his pet gripes is to have his girl get up and leave her seat, disturbing everybody else, when a play is in progress.

It is a matter of common sense to cheer for your date's team. After all, he doesn't want to hear that you dated the captain or the water boy of the rival team. If you favor the opposing team, keep it to yourself.

If he brings you a chrysanthemum or violet—game flowers—be sure to wear your corsage to the game. He doesn't expect you to put it in the ice-box to wear with your next date.

A weekend football invitation brings a number of responsibilities. Just because you are away from home and with an exuberant crowd is no reason to go wild. Lots of wild parties take place after football games—around college campuses. Another danger is driving with a crowd after a game.

Automobile 'Trades' Described In Probe Of Revenue Offices

WASHINGTON—A Treasury agent testified Monday that Denis W. Delaney, ousted former tax collector at Boston, once obtained a new Cadillac and two new Chevrolets for $750 and a two-year-old Cadillac. He said two dealers who supplied the new cars were in tax difficulties.

John J. Callahan of Medford, Mass., special agent of the Intelligence Division, Boston Revenue office, related the story to a House Ways and Means subcommittee. The congressional group is investigating charges of corrupt practices by income tax collectors.

The investigation already has resulted in dismissal, suspension or resignation of 21 Internal Revenue agents. And the committee, headed by Representative King (D-Calif.), has indicated its probe may be widened to cover the Department of Justice.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, meanwhile, set out this week on the biggest job of inquiring into employees' financial affairs ever attempted by any government agency. Officials said Sunday they have decided to require about 40,000 of the bureau's 57,000 employees to submit to a painfully detailed questionnaire which, among other things, will ask how much money they have where they got it and how much tax they've paid on it.

The questionnaire was almost certain to be one topic at a three-day conference of bureau field representatives which opened here Monday.

Kiwanis View Grid Films At Luncheon

Ray Robinett, Dean Blakely and John Priddy, Odessa Kiwanians, screened films of the Permian Bowl football game for members of the Midland Kiwanis Club Friday noon at the Kiwanis luncheon in Hotel Scharbauer.

The game, matching West Texas all-star gridlers, was sponsored by the Odessa Kiwanis Club last Summer and was won by the West team, 16 to 14.

Robinett said the club made $9,000 on the project.

Plans were discussed for the Kiwanis minstrel show to be staged next Monday. A parade will kick the event off Monday afternoon.

Henry Conkling presided at the meeting.

Montgomery was criticized in Labor circles for making an apparently political speech favoring Churchill.

Tom Dewey Stricken By Virus Infection

ALBANY, N. Y.—A virus infection has forced Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to cancel all engagements for the next few days.

Dewey is confined to bed in the executive mansion by order of his physician, Dr. George Righter.

Dewey's secretary, James C. Haggerty, said the governor had a temperature of between 103 and 104 degrees.

McGee—

"There is a limit to our endurance," said Mrs. Holcomb. "It's been three and one-half years now and we have had almost more than we can stand."

Attorneys on both sides expressed disappointment.

"My God," said Col. E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, chief defense counsel, "I don't want to be dramatic."

"But I would gladly shed my coat and shirt and take 12 lashes from a black snake whip across my bare back if this trial could have continued."

"It was a most unfortunate development," said Special Prosecutor Lloyd Croslin. "I wish it could have been continued. I think both sides have had every possible consideration from the court and its officers."

Case Almost Completed

The end of the trial came as the defense prepared to rest its case.

Burton S. Burks, one of the defense attorneys, said McGee's case would have been completed by noon and the state would have begun its parade of witnesses in an effort to prove the 27-year-old condemned man is sane enough to die in the electric chair for the 1948 slaying of R. L. Allison in Lubbock.

As soon as the transfer of the trial was ordered, Simpson placed a telephone call to Austin to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles to arrange for another stay of the scheduled October 31 execution.

This was regarded as purely a technical matter, however, since McGee is in trial on habeas corpus proceedings filed with the State Court of Criminal Appeals.

Croslin said a 60-day stay of execution probably would be ordered.

Only a handful of spectators were on hand Monday to await the scheduled opening of the second week of the trial.

Allies, Reds—AEC—

In preparation for renewed negotiations, Reds removed the few Korean families from the thatched-roofed huts in Panmunjom.

Joint military police forces will police Panmunjom under the agreement. The MP force will consist of two officers and 15 men from each side when the conference is in session; one officer and five men from each side at other times.

"The military police," the agreement stipulates, "shall carry only small arms, namely pistols, rifles and carbines."

Last point to be ironed out was whether Allied planes should be permitted to fly over the protected areas. A compromise was reached providing Allied planes would avoid the areas "insofar as practicable."

The UN Command said it would install beacon searchlights and anchored balloons as navigation aids to keep Allied pilots away from the protected zones.

Along with his ratification, Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN negotiator, sent the Communists four signed copies of the liaison agreement—two in English and two in Korean. He wrote Nam II:

"On the day following receipt by me of such (similar) acceptance by you, the United Nations Command delegation is prepared to meet your delegation as tentatively arranged by the liaison officers, at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. for the purpose of resuming discussion of agenda item 2 of the military armistice conference."

Buffer Zone Is Issue

Item two calls for establishing a buffer zone across Korea. It is the first item of the armistice agreement negotiators have discussed. Item one was the agenda for the talks.

The Reds have insisted the cease-fire line be drawn along the 38th parallel, old political boundary between North and South Korea.

The UN Command insists it be based on the battle line, and leave Allied troops in defensible positions relatively safe from possible surprise attack.

Monday's detonation took place about 8 a.m. CST.

The AEC made only this statement:

"One of the nuclear detonations announced by the Atomic Energy Commission on August 28 was held this morning at the Nevada test site."

An AEC spokesman confirmed that the shot was made from the top of a 100-foot steel tower, similar to the structures used in the original A-bomb blast at Alamogordo, N. M., in 1945 and also later at Eniwetok.

British Election Campaign Moves Into Final Stages

LONDON—(AP)—British election campaigning moved into the closing stages Monday, and political forecasts were almost unanimous in predicting victory for the Conservative Party, led by Winston Churchill.

Latest reports from political soundings all over the United Kingdom, as reported by London newspapers, told the same story with varying details—a forecast the Conservatives will defeat the Labor Party.

Estimates of the expected Tory majority in the House of Commons ranged from 43 to 100 seats.

The single dissenting opinion came—as was expected—from the Daily Herald, a Labor Party journal.

October's Summer Turns To Winter In Panhandle Area

By The Associated Press
Texas, which has been having "mild summer" weather during most of October, is getting a touch of "mild winter."

A cool front moving across the state has brought a drop in temperature and scattered showers over some of the state. All parts of Texas, except the El Paso area, reported considerable cloudiness Monday.

Freezing weather was reported Monday at Dalhart, where the mercury dropped to 31 degrees. The maximum, reported Sunday was 92 at Cotulla.

Mineral Wells had a 19 inch rain. And a light rain still was falling there Monday. San Angelo, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth, Midland and Dalhart reported sprinkles.

The forecast for Texas is slightly cooler with continued cloudiness and scattered showers.

No Better Time to Order One!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

There are many motorists in our community who have reached that position in life where they feel themselves entitled to a Cadillac—and yet they have postponed placing their order.

They have heard, and quite rightly so, that there is some delay in delivery. And so, they have decided not to visit us until the car can be had more readily.

To them we say—there is no better time to order a Cadillac than right now. For each day you delay is costing you its price in motoring pleasure and satisfaction!

When you stop in at our showroom, we will talk to you frankly about what you may expect as to date of delivery. And we think you may be delighted, as have so many before you, to discover that the waiting period is not so long as might be expected—for so fine a car in such great demand.

And we think you will find, too, that once we have your order, it's a wonderful, satisfying feeling to know each passing day brings your Cadillac closer at hand.

But only when that day does arrive, and you take to the highway, will you know how well worth waiting for a Cadillac is.

For only when you experience its magnificent performance for yourself—so stimulating to the spirit and so restful to the body that you actually look forward to those moments behind the wheel—will you realize how completely Cadillac stands alone.

If you have already placed your order for a Cadillac—we sincerely hope you will continue to stand firm in your purpose!

Dealers who sell other cars are undoubtedly urging you to switch your order—for the sake of immediate delivery.

But just remember: immediate delivery means not in demand. You are waiting for a Cadillac because so many wonderful people, like yourself, want no other car. And they know that their waiting will pay its rewards.

So stand firm. Remember—each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail and Trailing Arbutus

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, one day met an Indian, right in the middle of the Elephant Path, far away in the Great Forest. "How!" said the Indian, and he held up his hand to be friends. "Fine, thank you, and how are you?" said Daddy Ringtail, and he held up his hand to be friends with the Indian.

By WESLEY DAVIS

The Indian said he was fine as fine could be and that his name was Trailing Arbutus. Yes, and Trailing Arbutus sat down on a rock and began to tell his story. Ah when they are born do not have a name of their own. An Indian baby does not have a name until his parents give him one, and what a pity! What a pity, too, that the Indian baby is much too little to say if he doesn't like the name that is given him.

Why, if Trailing Arbutus had only been able to talk, he said, he would have asked his parents please, please not to name him Trailing Arbutus. Why, since Trailing Arbutus was his name, he always had to be trailing and trailing the tracks on the ground, always trailing and trailing away. Why, he would barely have time to eat supper with Daddy Ringtail. Trailing Arbutus said, before he trailed away down the Elephant Path. Daddy Ringtail gave him a happy goodbye, and you and I are lucky, I guess, to have a happy name where we don't have to trail away forever like Trailing Arbutus. Happy day!

It's Gloomy Ahead, Warren Tells IPAA

HOUSTON—(AP)—Oil men of the nation were welcomed to Texas as the convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America opened Monday.

Olin Gulberson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, gave the official welcome, after the session was opened by Paul F. Barnhart, vice president of the IPAA for Southeast Texas.

J. Ed Warren of Midland, president of the association, took a realistic view when he said, in effect, that while some controls are necessary, it is necessary to fight against their extension to keep the entire economy of the nation from being controlled.

Warren looked ahead with gloom. "We are attempting to maintain an economy that is partly wartime and controlled, and partly peacetime and free," he said. "The conditions responsible for this situation will last for an indefinite and unpredictable period of time—except that present indications are that the end is not near."

Location was 13 miles southwest of Robert Lee and 467 feet from north and west lines of section 18, block 2, D&SE survey.

It was originally projected to the Ellenburger at about 7,500 feet.

Stanton Rites Held For Accident Victim

STANTON—Funeral services were held in the Arrington Funeral Home here at 2 p.m. Monday for a 72-year-old Latin American who was struck and killed by an automobile when he attempted to walk across the highway 12 miles north of Stanton Saturday night.

Dead is Matias V. Hernandez of Crystal City. State Highway Patrolmen who investigated the accident termed it unavoidable.

Patrolmen theorized that Hernandez had gone to visit his granddaughter, failed to find her at home and started to walk back across the highway when he was caught between cars approaching from opposite directions.

When he attempted to dodge the oncoming automobiles, he stepped into the path of a car driven by O. B. Graves, a farmer who lives north of Tarzan, Texas.

Hernandez will be interred in Evergreen Cemetery in Stanton.

World's largest "Cat" now on stream at Gulf's Port Arthur refinery

The largest catalytic cracking unit ever built is now in operation at the Gulf refinery at Port Arthur.

Needed ingredients for the military's stepped-up aviation gasoline requirements will be furnished by the "cat." It will also increase the output of high-quality automotive fuels and home-heating oils, and provide ingredients for synthetic rubber—all vitally needed for America's comfort and security.

This unit represents the last word in scientific, modern equipment.

But it is even more than that! It stands as a solid vote of confidence in the great State of Texas—a swiftly growing and prosperous section where Gulf was born and in whose future Gulf so firmly believes.

The World's Largest "Cat Cracker" works night and day. Every 24 hours up to 60,000 barrels of charge stock are literally torn apart and the molecules rearranged to increase output of high-octane aviation gasoline, automotive fuels, and home-heating oils. With this one unit, Gulf also will double its previous output of ingredients used to make synthetic rubber.

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE

PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

It takes a lot of money to build one of these "cats"—millions of dollars. But Gulf is used to making huge expenditures. This year alone, for example, it will spend nearly 200 million dollars on a company-wide enlargement program.

For the nation needs oil and oil products, and Gulf is moving rapidly to help meet these needs. Exploration, refining, transportation—in fact every branch of this great organization is now at a peak of operating-efficiency never before attained—not even during World War II.

You can depend upon this: whatever the demand for oil and its products, for defense or civilian needs, Gulf can be counted upon to do its share . . . and more!

Pro-Am Tourney At Ranchland Hill Club Underway

Three flights of amateur golfers and a large group of pro linkmen teed off Monday at Ranchland Hill Country Club in the first of five days' shooting in the annual West Pro-Amateur Tournament.

A women's flight also was set, although competition in the fem flight was unexpectedly small.

The number of golfers on hand for the tournament, which concludes Friday, was undetermined at noon Monday, although Ranchland Hill officials estimated more than 100 were present.

Golfers hit the fairway at 9 a.m. Monday in the 72-hole medal play meet, with $2,500 in prize money due to be split among the professional golfers and bountiful merchandise—donated by Midland merchants—to be awarded amateur competitors.

One of the largest tournaments in the Southwest annually, the meet last year was held at Hobbs, N. M. Golfers will be entertained during the week with a barbecue, dance and cocktail party at the Ranchland Hill Club.

Greens and fairways on the course are in good shape, according to the RH Club officials and prospects for a good, fast tournament loomed Monday.

Most of last year's winners were due to play this year. Gene Towry of Lamesa, Dick Turner of Amarillo and G. D. Taylor of Clovis, N. M., were the winners in the pro ranks last year.

Frank Freer, also of Lamesa, E. C. Nickles of Hobbs and Billy Phillips of Hardin-Simmons topped the amateur one-two-three spots.

Annual Fall Madness Hits Grid Elevens

NEW YORK —(AP)— The old maxim that most accidents take place right in your own back yard is something to ponder. Ask California, Texas or Texas A&M. They were rolling merrily along winning game after game—some from rivals all over the country—but they awoke with a start Monday to find their proud records smashed to smithereens by foes they expected to take into camp with no trouble.

The biggest reversal Saturday was Southern California's 21-14 victory over California, a team that had been tied only once in the last four years of regular season competition and which had held a virtual stranglehold on the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

That's all over now if the Trojans can get past Stanford, UCLA, their two remaining league foes. Further, those victories would assure Southern Cal a Rose Bowl bid, which automatically goes to the conference winner provided it has not played there the previous year.

In the Southwest, where the mad scramble for the Cotton Bowl bid is in full swing, no one would dare make a prediction on the future after Saturday's shenanigans.

Texas was supposed to have no trouble with doormat Arkansas. The Razorbacks won, 16-14. Texas A&M was a cinch over Texas Christian. The underdogs won, 20-14. Southern Methodist was set to sail past Rice. Rice won, 28-7.

Now the standings look like something dreamed up on Mars. Texas Christian is in first place with a 2-0 slate and Texas, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist share the cellar with 0-1 records. Baylor, whipped Texas Tech, 40-20, is the only league team with a clean record, 4-0. However, only one victory has been scored over a league opponent.

State Choice To Win Ohio State was the choice to win the Big 10 crown in preseason forecasts. But the Buckeyes have been staggering and after their 32-10 shellacking at the hands of Indiana, one of the league have-nots, they will be lucky to make it.

Defending Champion Michigan heads the class with two wins and no losses after polishing off Iowa, 21-0. But the Wolverines still must play Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern and Ohio State, so the race is far from settled.

In the South, Tennessee, Maryland and Georgia Tech still are in the thick of the fight for top national honors. Tennessee was the prediction for the No. 1 team in the land before the season started, and the Vols have held up admirably, their latest conquest being a 27-13 operation on Alabama.

But the South in general has been weaker than expected and this more than any other factor, probably has kept the Vols from going to the top in the weekly Associated Press poll. Maryland, which probably will win the Southern Conference title, roared past North Carolina, 14-7, and Georgia Tech knocked Auburn from the ranks of the undefeated, 27-7.

In the East in general, and the Ivy League in particular, the situation also is confused. But it should be ironed out come Saturday when Princeton and Cornell clash. The winner should wind up with the crown. The Tigers warmed up to their task by winning their seventh straight, this one from Lafayette, 60-7, while Cornell polished off Yale, 27-0.

During his tenure with the New York football Giants, end Bill Swacki caught 106 passes of the 217 completed by the Giants. Swacki scored 17 touchdowns. Now he is with the Detroit Lions.

District Warfare To Open In 1-AAA Loop This Weekend

Games that really count in conference standings will be played this week in District 1-AAA as the loop gets down to the business of wrangling over the district title.

Lamesa plays at Midland, Plainview is at Big Spring and Vernon goes to Sweetwater for the all-important contests.

Arkansas Students Gel Holiday After Win Over Longhorns

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. —(AP)— Coach Otis Douglas said Monday he did nothing special to inspire his Arkansas Razorbacks for their 16-14 upset of Texas Saturday.

"I didn't even talk to them in the dressing room before the game," he added. "The boys just had a quiet determination to win."

Arkansas fans did much to encourage the Razorbacks. Gov. Sid McMurry, an Arkansas alumnus who rooted from a box seat, had proclaimed "Beat Texas Week" and, in the proclamation, "ordered" the Razorbacks to upend the nation's fourth-ranking team.

Civic Clubs and individuals throughout the state peppered Arkansas Captains Pat Summerall, who kicked the game-winning field goal, and Dave Hanner with telegrams voicing support.

"This team," Douglas said, "has had a fine spirit all season. I didn't feel they needed to be inspired any higher. We've been strong enough to have won all our games but have been giving 'em away with our mistakes. We didn't make so many mistakes Saturday, and we won."

It was the best game they've played since they were here. To celebrate the victory, Dr. Jones declared Monday a holiday at the university. Classes will be resumed Tuesday.

Boudreau Named Red Sox Manager

BOSTON —(AP)— The Red Sox appointed a new manager Monday —Lou Boudreau, who for many American League seasons was a nuisance to the Boston team. Boudreau, who joined the Sox last Spring after his release as Cleveland manager, succeeds Steve O'Neill for whom he once played.

Boudreau, 34, was signed to a two-year contract. O'Neill, who was a coach at Cleveland when Boudreau led the Indians to the world championship in 1948, will continue in the Sox organization's farm system, it was announced.

The New York Rangers will be the last club in the National Hockey League to open their season at home. The Rangers' inaugural at Madison Square Garden will be Wednesday, Oct. 24 against the Boston Bruins.

SWC Teams In Crucial Grid Clashes

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Sports Editor

The Southwest Conference divides its time this week between throat-cutting at home and scuffling abroad.

Two more conference games—considered as the most crucial of the season, Saturday—are scheduled with Baylor, the last undefeated team in the league, meeting Texas A&M at College Station, and Rice, one of three unbeaten teams in the conference, going to Austin to battle Texas.

The shine was removed from both games last week when the most complete round of upsets in football history had the coaches talking to themselves, the fans shouting at each other and the gamblers hunting holes to hide in.

Texas, the nation's No. 4 team, was toppled by twice-beaten Arkansas 16-14. Texas A&M, the No. 6 outfit, was slugged into a 20-14 defeat by a last-quarter TCU revival.

Rice completed the upset picture by slugging SMU, 28-7. The conference is in a mess except in inter-sectional play. Against the powers from outside, the league has the gaudiest record in the nation—13 victories against five defeats.

Saturday it will have a chance to make the margin prohibitive. TCU, battered but happy, journeys to Los Angeles to play Southern California, the team that licked the nation's No. 1 eleven—California—last Saturday. Arkansas, busting its buttons over shooting down mighty Texas, plays Santa Clara at Little Rock in a night game.

Blaik Says It's A Long Grid Year

WEST POINT —(AP)— "Every time we lose a game it makes it just that much harder."

So said Coach Earl (Red) Blaik Monday acknowledging it's quite possible that Army's once-mighty football team will go through the season without a single victory.

"The boys' spirits are still good—as good as they can be under the circumstances, that is—but it's been mighty rough," Blaik added.

"Every team is playing us as if we're the Army of old. They're fired up—out to beat us. That's only natural. And, as for us, we've made a lot of mistakes just as any young team would."

"We're a very generous team. We give the other side a lot of breaks with fumbles, penalties for over-eagerness and so forth. But, that also can be expected."

A most interesting race is underway in District 8-AAA for the cherished conference crown.

And any team in the district seems capable of slipping into the title spot, with the exception of Andrews which virtually has been eliminated after two losses.

Seminole would seem to hold the upper hand, after beating Pecos—the pre-season favorite—21 to 14, Friday night.

But Pecos has been a disappointment, dropping two non-conference tilts and the Eagles are woefully weak in the middle of the line although they have shown a powerful offense.

Too, Seminole gets a week's rest and then takes on three straight conference foes on the Seminole home field. That's in the Indians' favor.

Kermit holds a 19-0 win over Andrews, and has lost but one contest this year—to Wink, who looms as a sure-shot to cop all Class A laurels. Kermit is big, though not too fast, and the Yellow Jackets have to be reckoned with in any title talk.

Monahans, blanked in four of its first six games, found its offense and rolled to a 32-13 win over Andrews last week. If the Lobes find some scoring power in their remaining tilts, their already-strong defense could make them rugged.

We're inclined to lean toward Seminole, since the Indians have defeated Pecos.

But the fight still is wide open, and the team which finally ends on top could have a defeat or so on its conference record.

Speaking of close races: District 1-AAA begins a dog-fight for the crown this weekend which should be as close as a Scotchman's pocketbook.

Midland, Sweetwater, Vernon, Lamesa and Plainview all seem about evenly matched.

Only Big Spring looks too weak to cause any damage. But then, so did TCU.

N.Y. Giants, Browns Cop Pro Games

NEW YORK —(AP)— The New York Giants, only team holding an advantage over the Cleveland Browns, take their unbeaten record to the gridiron of the once defeated National Football League champions in the pro circuit's top game Sunday.

The Giants, with a 13-13 tie by Pittsburgh the only blot on their record, chalked up their third victory Sunday with a great third period scoring spurge that dented the Philadelphia Eagles, 26-24.

The Browns' defense also proved their best offense as they blanked Pittsburgh's Steelers, 17-0, for their third success in four outings.

The Giants packed all of their scoring against the Eagles into the third period and the first minute of the final quarter with Ray Poole's 12-yard field goal providing the margin.

Touchdowns by Bill Stirling, E. M. Tunnell and Eddie Price in the third offset a great performance by the Eagles' rookie end, Bob Walston.

Steelers Shutout Coach Brown's defensive unit was the big factor in Cleveland's shutout of the Steelers. In addition to staving off two Pittsburgh scoring threats, the defensive players scored the two touchdowns.

The Cleveland tallies were scored by Horace Gillom after a blocked punt and Warren Lahr on an intercepted pass.

Glenn Lippman Tops SWC Ground Gainers

DALLAS —(AP)— The games produce high scores and astronomical yardage afoot and in the air, but there still is such a thing as defense in football.

Baylor is the only undefeated, untied team left in the Southwest Conference and has done it by keeping the opposition from scoring.

Baylor's defensive record is the best in the conference. It has allowed less yardage—just 198.5 per game—and fewer points—only 41 in four games.

The Bears have a sharp enough offense although it has not produced the most points. Baylor is second in offense with an average of 322 yards per game.

Texas A&M is tops in that department with 365 per game but the Aggie defense almost matches it.

Conference statistics Monday show Glenn Lippman of A&M topping the ground-gainers with 334 yards on 59 carries. Gib Dawson of Texas is second with 294 on 36.

Fred Benners of SMU is No. 1 in passing with 68 completions out of 132 throws for 780 yards. He is first in total offense although he has a 22-yard deficit in rushing. He has 758 yards on 151 total plays.

Larry Isbell of Baylor is second in passing with 40 connections in 82 throws for 571 yards and Lamar McHan of Arkansas is second in total offense with 624 yards on 134 plays.

Coach Overwhelmed By Team's Success

WEST LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Coach Henry (Red) Sanders of the UCLA football team was arrested and booked on a drunk driving charge Sunday night.

Officers C. F. Palmerton and C. L. Bahner said they saw Sanders drive through an intersection "very fast" and subsequently saw him drive "as much as five feet" on the wrong side of a highway center line.

Sanders was quoted in the arrest report as saying he had three drinks at a bar and felt "reasonably good." His team beat Oregon, 41-0, Saturday, its second win in five starts.

A Distinctive Home... Ready For Your Inspection Today Here is a home... a lovely home... a home you must see! At your convenience, we will be delighted to escort you through, pointing out the many reasons why we consider it to be one of the best values now available in Midland. Located at 2212 Harvard, on an extra-large corner lot, the unusual architecture of this home, its pleasing lines, fine masonry construction and asbestos roof present a picture of beauty. The lawn and shrubbery are planted... the home is ready for its first occupant. As you step into the semi-partitioned reception area, the striking interior liveliness is immediately apparent. To the left is the large dining and living area, floored in resilient, durable cork and featuring a wood-burning fireplace with raised hearth and etch-wood panelling. The first room off the long hallway to the right is the kitchen... with inlaid Vinyl plastic floor covering and drainboards, double sink, exhaust fan, and facilities for gas or electric range. The hall also leads to the three large bedrooms and the comfortable, etch-wood panelled den that may be used as the fourth bedroom. The master bedroom measures 14 by 26 feet. Two complete baths are finished in soft shades of ceramic tile, with ample closet space and showers over the tubs. Double doors lead off the living area to the double garage-carport in the rear of the house. SURVIVES BATTLE OF WORDS—

It's Easier To Die, But Vaughan Picks Hard Way

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan Monday said: "It is sometimes easier to die for your country than to live for it under the attacks of the character assassin, and I speak from no mean amount of experience along those lines."

President Truman's military aide, a central figure in the sensational congressional "five percent" investigation of 1949, teed off at his critics, and those of the Administration, in a magazine interview titled "Ethics in Government."

The copyrighted article was published in the U. S. News and World Report.

In it, Vaughan said both he and Truman felt that "99 per cent" of the criticism leveled against him in Congress "is political."

Headline Innuendo
"Declaring 'I have been accused of more things than almost any man in public life today,'" Vaughan added:

"The fact that practically all of the accusations were disproven completely on investigation makes no difference—the reputation never catches up, with the headline innuendo."
Vaughan was criticized sharply by the Senate subcommittee which conducted the 1949 probe into influence peddling, for accepting as a gift seven home freezers.

A friend of Vaughan's, John Maragon, first told the committee about the freezers. He said they were sent to Vaughan by a Chicago perfume manufacturer who wanted some favors from the government. Vaughan denied any wrongdoing.

Maragon was convicted of lying to the committee about his financial affairs. He was sentenced to from eight to 24 months in jail.

The committee was probing into the activities of men who charge a fee—sometimes five per cent—for representing others in business dealings with the government.

Those Deep Freezes
Vaughan had something to say

Monday about the "five percenters" and about the "deep freezes."
"Every government contract," he said, "carries a clause which permits a fee of a sum not to exceed 10 per cent—not five per cent—to be paid to any agent who assists in negotiating that contract."

There are people who make their living that way, Vaughan said, but he was not one of them.
"I think it would be entirely unethical for a man to receive a radio or jewels for his wife, or anything, if receiving it in any way influences his action as a public servant," Vaughan said.

Of his acceptance of a home freezer—other Washington notables, including the Trumans, also received them—Vaughan said it was delivered while he and Truman were in Potsdam. Later, when he learned who sent it, he said he offered to pay for it but was refused.

"Afraid For Truman
He said the sender, Dave Bennett, president of the Albert Verley Company, "never did business with the government and never attempted to do business with the government."

On other subjects, Vaughan said: 1. He's "afraid" Truman may be prevailed upon—against his wishes—to return to the White House for another term, "although I still hope for a miracle."

Vaughan said he would "like to see the President relieved of the necessity of running" again. However, he made no claim to knowing how Truman feels about his possible candidacy for reelection next year.

2. "Contrary to popular conception, that 'iniquitous Missouri gang' which is supposed to surround the President is a very small group. Actually, I am one of two Missourians on the President's staff."

Baby Killed, Mother Wounded In Accident With Officer's Gun

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Police Officer Andrew J. Bacquet, 32, was attending a Western movie at a drive-in theater with his family.

The roar of the cowboy-actors' guns was deafening. Suddenly Bacquet's wife stumbled from the rear seat moaning:

"The baby's dead—I'm hurt."

Bacquet's three-year-old son, Ronald, had climbed back into the rear seat of the car and found his father's service revolver. Holding it in both hands, he pulled the trigger.

The bullet passed through the neck of his four-month-old brother, Mark, and lodged in his mother's abdomen. The baby was dead on arrival at a hospital. Mrs. Bacquet was in critical condition.

Bacquet told fellow officers he had been sitting in the front seat with Ronald. His wife was in the rear holding the baby in her arms. Absorbed in the drama on the screen, the parents did not notice Ronald climb to the rear.

Bacquet said he had placed the gun in its holster on the floor of the rear seat for safekeeping. The first he knew of the shooting, he said, was when his wife stumbled from the car. The noise of the movie gunfire had drowned out the sound of the shot in the car.

Los Angeles police officers are required to be armed, even when off duty.

Texas Baptist Leader Criticizes Clark Appointment

HOUSTON—(AP)—An official of the Baptist General Convention of Texas says President Truman's appointment of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican "is one of the most unfortunate acts of his ill-fated Administration."

Dr. J. Howard Williams of Dallas, executive secretary of the Executive Board of the convention, said this Sunday night.

"Mr. Truman has demonstrated his willingness to sabotage our fundamental American concept of the separation of church and state and his cowardice is evident by his action at a time when the Senate cannot give its advice and consent because it has adjourned."

"The Vatican, with its 107 acres of land, has no significance as a political state," Dr. Williams said. "Our government has no constitutional right to form an official relationship with any religious organization, whatever its beliefs."

TV Contest Gives Blind Texas Girl Opportunity To See

NEW YORK—(AP)—This is the story of a young Texas girl, the piano-playing winner of a television talent program.

Her prize was a trip to Hollywood, but she was brought to New York instead. She wasn't choosing between a movie career and a Broadway concert career. Her choice was a chance for eyesight.

Nanette Tyson, 21, has been blind since birth. The Dallas typist was to be examined Monday by Dr. Ramon Castroviejo, a corneal transplant specialist at St. Clare's Extension Hospital.

She arrived Sunday with her mother and seeing-eye dog, "Hope." Miss Tyson said she was "very excited" and "very hopeful."

The sightless girl, who learned to play the piano and to type while in school and at college, said she had been treated here about two years ago and had been saving up ever since for corneal transplant operations.

Bookie Odds Against Labor Party Shaved

LONDON—(AP)—The betting odds against a Labor government victory in Thursday's national election were shaved to five to two Monday.

This was the price quoted by a leading London handbook which one week ago was willing to give seven to two that Prime Minister Attlee and his followers would not be returned to office.

Nine Killed, Four Injured When 'Dozer Blade Rakes Truck

CASA GRANDE, ARIZ.—(AP)—The projecting edge of a bulldozer blade slashed across a truck carrying 19 Papago Indians, killing nine and injuring four.

The 3,600-pound blade was being hauled on the back of a flatbed trailer. The accident occurred Saturday night on a bridge 16 miles south of here.

One victim, a 16-year-old girl, was cut in two at the waist.

Loen W. Joquin, 20-year-old Papago Indian, gave this description of the accident:

"There was a big crash, a lot of scraping and then a lot of screams." The trailer and its truck met the Indians' truck on a narrow, 18-foot bridge and in a second there was wild confusion.

Bodies Scattered
"I looked up just in time to see the blade sweep all the women (who were riding on the left side) off our truck," Joquin said.

"Our truck didn't turn over, but it rocked against the bridge x x x." "It was real bad afterward," he continued. "The bodies of the women were scattered all over the bridge and the little kids were crying."

"I think I got sick then," he said. One of the victims, Lucinda Manu, 16, was cut in two by the blow. Half of her body, and five of those who died, were hurled over the edge of the bridge into the dry wash below.

Naming Of Envoy To Vatican Stirs Senate Opposition

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A wave of protest against President Truman's decision to enter regular diplomatic relations with the Vatican promised Monday to touch off a heated battle when Congress reconvenes.

"There was little, if any, criticism of the President's selection of Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Roman Catholic Church State. The protests, some of them from the pulpit, were from Protestants who argued that the establishment of diplomatic relations violates the constitutional injunction that church and state shall be separate.

The Senate adjourned Saturday without acting on Clark's nomination, made only a few hours before. Some senators privately expressed displeasure at the timing of the move, which was such that the President can now give Clark a recess appointment. That likely will mean he will already be on the job in Rome before the Senate gets around to considering the issue.

Second Venezuelan Uprising Put Down

CARACAS, VENEZUELA—(AP)—Venezuela's military government Sunday put down the second unsuccessful revolt in nine days. It announced that one person was killed, two were wounded and 40 taken prisoner in a dawn rebel attack on an officer training school near Caracas.

Attempts also were made to bomb the transmitters of three Caracas radio stations. Sunday night, however, the national press office announced that order had been restored.

The press office blamed the disorders on the outlawed Accion Democratica Party and the Communists.
