A contract for the construction of a sewage disposal plant for Midland was approved Thursday afternoon by the City Council.

In approving the contract, the council accepted the low bid of $215,114 submitted by the N. and M. Construction Company of Hobbs, N. M.

City Manager W. H. Oswald said construction work would begin November 20 and that the contractors expected to have the plant completed within six or seven months. The council also authorized the issuance of a work order for the construction of a new control tower at Midland Air Terminal.

The contract already had been awarded the Abletine firm of Dean and Shanks, but work had been held up pending the allocation of necessary steel.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcetrane. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 39 Pounds

"I was really happy and surprised with the results obtained taking Barcetrane," says Mrs. Lillian Flowers, 214 Burnet St., San Antonio, Texas. "I have lost 39 pounds and feel so much better and look 10 years younger."

Lost 15 Pounds

Mrs. D. C. Baker, Box 31, Bryson, Texas, writes us as follows: "I weighed 215 pounds when I commenced to take Barcetrane. After one month I have lost 15 pounds and am going to continue taking it until I am down to 150 pounds. I have several of my friends taking Barcetrane and they are losing weight, too."

Officers Discover Big Liquor Cache

SWEETWATER — Liquor Control Board, city and county officers Friday found the largest liquor stash in the history of Nolan County when they discovered a huge tank operated by a hydraulic jack underneath a sink at a club containing the cache.

The intricate tank was located under the floor at the Hi-Way 80 Club, officers said. It contained an estimated $1,500 worth of whiskey, wine, gin, and beer. It was about one-third filled.

Two men, operators of the club, have been charged with possession of liquor for sale.

City Rejects Bid For Disannexation

The City Council Friday afternoon decided to reject a request to disannex a 70-acre tract of land brought within the city limits early this year.

The request had been made by Miss Laura Jesse, owner of more than 100 acres which was annexed by the city almost a year ago.

Her request for disannexation of a portion of the land was accompanied by an offer to give the city a five-acre tract for use as a park.

The decision to reject the request came following a conference between the City Council and the city's planning and zoning commission.

Childhood Spankings Fall To Dampen Samia Gamal's Ambitions To Become Torso-Tosser

By ED POLLAK
CAIRO — (AP) — Not many years ago, an Egyptian lassie was spanked every time her parents found her "belly-dancing" before a mirror.

Twenty years later the same girl was making big money and winning international fame as an Oriental dancer. When she danced for King Farouk at a special performance, there were headlines and stories.

Then Samia Gamal really hit the headlines.

It started when a young American, heir to a Texas oil fortune, announced he was engaged to marry Samia. Sheppard King, 26, of Houston, Texas, simultaneously announced:

That he was becoming a Moslem to marry the dancer and;

That he was ready to defy his mother's threat to disinherit him.

King and Samia met in a Paris nightclub. They said later it was love at first sight.

King then came to Egypt and became a Moslem, taking the name Abdullah (the slave of God). He came back to the states and got a divorce Friday in Juarez, Mexico, from his first wife, Gloria, whom he married twice.

King said he would return to marry Samia.

Samia Gamal was born in a village south of Cairo. She was the second daughter of a family of modest means.

"My parents brought me to the capital when I was a week old," she said.

Hours Before Mirror

"As far as I can remember, I was especially fascinated by Oriental dancing."

This is the world-famous belly dancing which delights all tourists.

"I used to spend hours before a mirror, imitating the gestures of dancers. This earned me a spanking every time my parents saw me."

But the urge of dancing was stronger than any opposition. In 1941 at 17, Samia, now an orphan, entered Badia, Cairo's best known Oriental nightclub, as a chorus girl. Success came fast. Six months later she was offered a contract by another nightclub, the Dollas. From then on she became more and more famous.

Successively she was the main attraction at all the swanky casinos and night clubs of Cairo. At the same time, she started her movie career.

'And I Met Shep'

Samia Gamal was established as an international star in 1950 when she danced at the Deauville Casino, in an Egyptian gala, and later at Monte Carlo at one of Europe's most famous charity events.

"This year I traveled to Paris, just for fun," she says, "and I met Shep." Then she added, "Mektoub," the Moslem word meaning "It was written."

Samia lives in a medium sized apartment in a Cairo suburb. Her sister is married to an Egyptian Army officer and lives nearby.

Her fiance, who spent some time with her in Cairo in October, saw

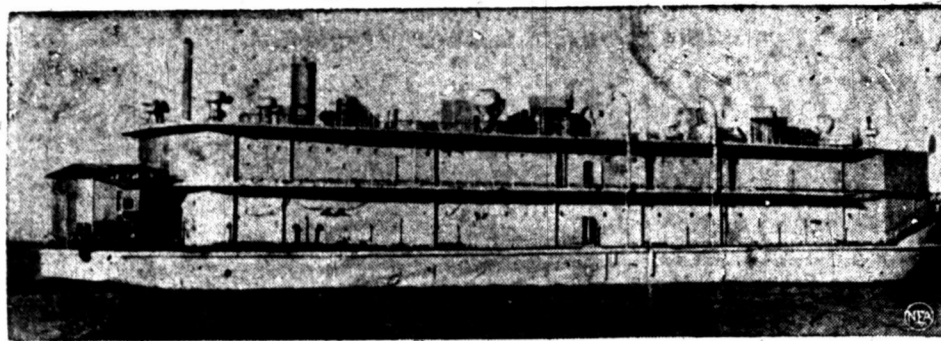

Atomic Blast Ruins Photographic Paper

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (AP) — Radioactive dust from an atomic explosion in Nevada has caused a photographic paper-coating plant to suspend operations.

The E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company Saturday announced its plant there had been shut more than 36 hours because the atomic dust had entered its air-conditioning system.

A company spokesman said the particles had the same effect that light had on photo paper.

The spokesman said a large amount of film stored in the plant for cutting and packaging had been ruined.

Russia Holds Out Commercial Olive Branch To Japan

TOKYO — (AP) — Russia came bearing a commercial olive branch to Japan last week.

The Soviet Union, which refused to sign the peace treaty at San Francisco September 8 and therefore still is in a state of war with Japan, made the Japanese government several eye-catching trade offers.

Among them were coal for $10 a ton, compared with $30 now being paid for American coal; markets for Japanese textiles, vehicles and light industry products; and Soviet cotton, iron ore and petroleum. If Japan will agree to expand mutual trade.

In addition, Russia invited the Japanese government to send representatives to her ceremonies November 7 celebrating the revolution.

When Russia quit the San Francisco Opera House shortly before the signing of the peace treaty with 48 other countries, observers wondered what the next Soviet move might be.

Apparently this was it.

Physician's Death Declared Suicide

LYNN, MASS. — (AP) — Authorities late Friday ruled Dr. Albert H. Copper, 53, a suicide. The Nahant specialist was found dead in Reading Woods October 27, 10 days after three teen-aged baby sitters took $20,000 from his home and went on a Manhattan spending spree.

Dr. Thomas P. Devlin of Stoneham, medical examiner, reported a Harvard University pathological examination showed Dr. Copper was a "suicide by morphine poisoning during a state of depression."

When Dr. Copper's body was found by hunters, police said, a small nitroglycerin bottle was found near his body. Several types of pills were in his pockets, the police also reported.

CONCERNING THE TEXAS MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY-RESPONSIBILITY LAW!

1. WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF THIS NEWLY AMENDED LAW?

Enacted to protect the public from the careless and financially irresponsible driver, this new law is designed to restrict the operation of automobiles to those who are financially able to pay for bodily injuries, death or property damage which their automobiles may cause.

2. WHAT IS THE EFFECTIVE DATE?

January 1, 1952.

3. TO WHOM DOES THE LAW APPLY?

To all residents and non-residents, including all individuals, firms, associations and corporations, except:

- (a) A qualified self-insurer, or
- (b) As to a motor vehicle owned by the United States, the State, or a local unit of government.

4. WHY IS THIS LAW SO IMPORTANT?

Because the law requires the Department of Public Safety to suspend the licenses of each operator and the registrations of each owner of a motor vehicle involved in an accident within the state in which any person is killed or injured or the property of any one person is damaged in excess of $100, unless:

- (1) Automobile liability coverage for the accident is certified as in effect for him, with minimum limits of $5/10,000 for bodily injuries and $5,000 for property damage, or
- (2) He is covered for the accident by other liability insurance having such limits, or
- (3) He furnishes security up to a maximum of $15,000, as required, to cover possible damages arising out of the accident, or
- (4) He is released from liability or finally adjudged not liable or enters a settlement agreement for the payment of all claims, or
- (5) At the time of the accident the car was legally parked or, as to the owner, was being operated without his permission.

5. IF AN OWNER OR OPERATOR DOES NOT HAVE ADEQUATE AND ACCEPTABLE AUTOMOBILE LIABILITY INSURANCE AND IS UNABLE TO FURNISH THE REQUIRED SECURITY, FOR HOW LONG MUST THE DEPARTMENT SUSPEND HIS OPERATOR'S LICENSE AND REGISTRATIONS?

- (a) Until the required security is deposited or, in lieu of such deposit, a settlement agreement is arranged, whereby the person injured or the owner of the property damaged will be paid an agreed amount in installments, or
- (b) Until he has been proved not legally liable by final judicial action or has been released of all liability for damages, or
- (c) Until the expiration of one year after the date of the accident if no action has been brought or counter claim filed.

6. DOES A DISCHARGE IN BANKRUPTCY RELIEVE A PERSON AGAINST WHOM A JUDGMENT HAS BEEN AWARDED FROM ANY REQUIREMENTS OF THE LAW?

No.

7. WHEN PROOF OF FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY TO COVER FUTURE ACCIDENTS IS REQUIRED, HOW CAN THIS BE FURNISHED?

Under the law, there are three ways that proof of financial responsibility can be furnished:

- (1) By filing a certificate of approved automobile liability insurance;
- (2) By filing a bond, either corporate or real estate;
- (3) By depositing $15,000 in cash or securities.

8. WHAT IS THE BEST WAY FOR AN OWNER OR OPERATOR TO PROTECT HIS RIGHT TO DRIVE UNDER THIS LAW?

The easiest and most dependable way is to buy adequate and acceptable automobile liability insurance now—before an accident occurs.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Double Header

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, sat fishing on the other side of the Whispering River. The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was fishing with him, and so there they sat and fished together.

"Got one!" said the Huffen, and he pulled a fish up out of the water. "I have one too!" cried Daddy Ringtail, and sure enough, he too had caught a fish.

Then from back of them, and behind the trees—back in the place where the train tracks are—there came a noise of a train whistle! "Whee-oo! Whee-oo!" Right after it came the whistle of another train whistle, and this train whistle said:

"Who-ee! Who-ee!" "That was two engines, it was," said the Huffen.

"Yes, indeed," said Daddy Ringtail. The Huffen put down his fishing pole. He put his fingers in his ears so he wouldn't hear an awful noise of two train engines bumping together. There is only room for one train, you know, back there where the train tracks are.

"Never mind, Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail. "The two engines will not bump together."

"No?" asked the Huffen.

"No indeed," said Daddy Ringtail, "because the two engines are on one train. The train is a double header."

"Oh!" said the Huffen with a little chuckle.

But just then, Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, came running up with great excitement. "Come quick, you fellows!" shouted Mugwump. "Come see the double header!"

"Now, now, now," said Daddy Ringtail. "There is no need to be all excited about a double header train. Long trains very often have two engines, you know."

"Sure," said Mugwump, "but I betcha they don't have the engines at front and back, both of them pulling the other way."

And so everyone ran quickly now to see the double header. The engines were pulling against each other sure enough, and they pulled and pulled, and the train cars stretched and stretched—until they were stretched into hundreds of little toy cars for children to play with, play-like. Happy day!

Home Planners Advised To Build Before Pinch

Those planning to some day build or remodel their home are urged to "get started now" and not postpone their plans in the mistaken anticipation of lower costs. According to Tom McDonald, vice president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, the indications are the general price trend will continue upwards despite a temporary slowness in some consumer goods. "Too many people are delaying home expenditures they should be making now," McDonald said. "There is, generally speaking, a plentiful supply right now of building materials, heating and other equipment needed for homes. However, by next year there likely will be a pinch because of the accelerated defense program."

Modernization Program
 McDonald viewed the modernization of older homes as an economic and effective way of relieving the housing shortage still existing in too many communities. Modernization of a 30 or 40-year-old home, if it is structurally sound, is often the most logical—and cheapest—road to ownership, he said, pointing out that remodeling has many advantages over new building. For example, there is no time limit on improvements and a family can space out financial commitments according to its budget. Obviously, this helps reduce the risk of buying a home to the lowest possible level, he added.

'Livability' Is Important Factor In Planning Home

Webster says a "livable" home is one that is "pleasant to live in or with." Ask any modern homemaker, and she probably will say the "with" is highly important, and that it takes more than attractive surroundings to give a house livability; it also requires recognition of convenience for housekeeping and the varied needs of a family's activities pattern.

Now, along comes a government research report on housing which stresses the importance of livability. Commenting on this trend, the Tile Council of America suggests to prospective home owners that they carefully consider some of the following points:

1. Location of the various rooms. Perhaps, for example, there is some good reason for moving the kitchen from its conventional rear-of-the-house position to the front of the dwelling.
2. Ease of housekeeping. Serious thought should be given to use of easy-to-clean materials such as clay tile for bathroom, kitchen, laundry and basement rooms. Children's Play Room.
3. Provision for children's play indoors. If space permits, children's activities should be "well provided for so the mother can conduct her household affairs without constant supervision of the youngsters."
4. Bathroom design. Conventional ideas about this room rapidly are disappearing. The "compartmentalized" bathroom, which has plumbing facilities to accommodate more than one person in complete privacy at a time and yet uses only the usual amount of space, is becoming popular.
5. Sunlight. Giving consideration to what is called "orientation," architects are designing many of the new homes to take advantage not only of the size and shape of the property but also to allow a maximum of sunlight to enter all rooms.

Home Ownership Reaches New High

Despite the enormous financial burdens placed on them in recent years by war and national defense needs, more Americans than ever before have been able to enjoy the benefits of home ownership, building industry spokesmen point out. The number of non-farm families who own their homes has increased from 15,000,000 to 21,000,000 since 1948. The new total represents about 55 per cent of all non-farm families in the nation. An increasingly large percentage of new homes, moreover, are being equipped with insulation, automatic heating, electric kitchens, multiple baths and other advanced features, builders say.

The National Geographic Society says the Koreans used rain gauges 500 years ago. The common American firefly flashes at approximately the same intervals.

Bear Conservation Is Under Dispute

ROME—(P)—Up in the "Little Alps" mountains of the Italian Alps there's a fight on to save the last dozen or so brown bears left in western Europe. The naturalists have proposed that a tiny national park in this section be enlarged into a 250,000-acre state animal and wild life preserve.

Mayors and representatives of a dozen mountain villages in the vicinity oppose the project because their villages would lose much of their revenue if the park were established. The villages got some profit from hunters who stay there during the big game season.

Star Explains Secret Of Double-Duty Time

Film Star June Allyson has discovered a busy mother need not limit her time with her children in order to keep up with her beauty routines. In addition to arranging fun-activities with daughter Pamela like story-book session (above), Miss Allyson has learned such double duty tricks as giving her complexion a freshening facial during good-night lullaby hour with her daughter and baby son Richard (left), and allowing Pamela to "help" with wave-setting during conversation time (right).

By JUNE ALLYSON
Written for NEA Service

There must be many young mothers who feel, as I once did, that the maintaining of a regular beauty routine requires more time than they can afford to spend. When there are so few minutes left over from a busy every-day schedule, you're likely to decide that you're faced with a choice between your dressing table stool and the nursery rocking chair. The latter almost invariably wins.

As any woman knows, it's important to share in small-fry fun and participate in their development; these are among the major rewards of having children. But it's also well to remember that you have responsibilities as a person as well as a mother. In my case, I simply couldn't abandon my beauty chores. A film career requires you to look your best. But for a time, I found it very difficult to balance these important elements in my, and every mother's, life. Then, suddenly, one evening I found a way to combining the two.

I was setting my hair at my dressing table, when, quite without prompting, my daughter Pamela came to stand beside me. She began handing me bobby pins, chattering all the while about her day. I discovered she loved to help, and that it made no difference if I rolled my curls while she talked, provided I gave her the serious attention and considered answers that every child craves.

Now, unless I am going out, my hair-setting time is our conversation hour. Not only do I find that I am, at the same time, building her sense of importance in being able to "help" Mommie with grown-up tasks.

Since that evening, I've discovered many ways of deriving double duty from my time. I've learned that children are not a critical audience when it comes to your appearance, provided your performance is up to par.

Quite frequently, at the bedtime of Pamela and my baby son Richard, I smooth on a facial cream before joining them in the nursery for good nights. In our family, good nights mean quite a bit more than a simple kiss. The routine varies.

Sometimes, it means rocking the baby a bit with Pamela close beside me in the chair; before I tuck them into their cribs. Sometimes it involves a quiet game with Pamela, or the singing of favorite lullabies.

Whatever we do, I usually find, by lights-out time, that enough minutes have elapsed for the facial to have accomplished its good work.

There are numerous other tricks you can work out to prevent your beauty hours from being lost time as far as your children are concerned. When you exercise, invite your daughter to work out beside you. You may find, as I did, that her young suppleness puts you on your mettle.

Or you might try having your youngster's musical moments correspond with your hand treatment. What with having two parents who fill the air with song on the slightest provocation, Pamela has developed at an early age a liking for sprightly tunes.

Right now, in the stage of musical exploration, she enjoys her record-playing more if Mommie listens, too. So, while she entertains with a selection of children's disks, manipulating the phonograph herself, I sit quietly with my hands in terry-cloth mitts, deriving the benefits of a cream treatment.

Pamela laughs at my paws, but she doesn't mind—nor does Richard—that her mother has learned through necessity to do two things at once.

eteer, handsome young hero of the comic strip that bears his name.

Welkin is a keen-minded, adventure-loving earth man who gets mixed up with some of the most amazing cosmic characters you've ever seen. Captured by space-borne invaders from a distant planet, he soon finds himself soaring through the endless universe in a "flying triangle"—headed for a fascinating career as a Planeteer.

Chris Welkin is the creation of a talented author-artist team in the headquarters of the world's largest newspaper feature organization, NEA Service. Russ Winterbotham is widely known for the scores of science fiction stories he has written for books and magazines. Art Sansom received this major assignment after several years of training in various techniques at NEA's comic art department in Cleveland, Ohio.

"Set In 1999"

"We have set the time of our story in 1999—a year many readers will live to see," Winterbotham explains. "And on the basis of present scientific knowledge and progress, it is highly probable that space travel may be a reality by then."

The author will have Welkin exploring "outer space"—the regions of the universe beyond our own solar system. This is because only a few "nearby" planets, like Mars and Venus, offer possibilities of life. But in the astral areas beyond, already explored by powerful telescopes, there are countless other worlds whose wonders will be depicted by the imaginative pen of artist Sansom.

Chris Welkin is an engineer, an expert in guided missiles, rocket power and astral science. He has sent rockets to the moon, and has the genius and courage to attempt personal space exploration. When confronted by inter-planetary bad men, he holds that principles of right over wrong are universal—and is ready to fight to back his theory.

To support this capable hero, Winterbotham adds a mysterious beauty, a sinister space villain, a comic professor, an eager college youth, assorted rocket ships, futuristic uniforms and weapons, and a generous portion of atomic-speed action. Sansom's illustrations hold unusual fascination for the reader, and their technical perfection will captivate science fiction fans.

Months Of Research

Both author and artist spent many months of research in the development of Chris Welkin. Winterbotham already was well qualified as a science adventure expert with his magazine stories. A graduate of the University of Kansas, he spent several years as a newspaperman before turning to fiction full time. He now is fiction editor of NEA Service.

Sansom has had an intense interest in man's conquest of space since school days. Even in art classes at Ohio Wesleyan University his doodles took the form of rocket ships and planetary figures. He since has directed his versatile pen toward cartooning, commercial art and fiction illustration, and has drawn a teen-age comic strip for NEA several years.

Pecos Community Citizenship Panel Holds Discussion

PECOS—About 40 persons — including high school students, mothers, city and county leaders, and club representatives—were generally agreed last week that the primary essential for any future youth program is the need for leadership, organization and supervision rather than money or new, elaborate buildings.
 At a meeting of the Community Citizenship committee, Jack Hawkins, Lions club president, served as moderator for a panel discussion on "What We Need in Our Town." The program was designed largely to enable the students to submit constructive suggestions toward development of a coordinated, inclusive program for the youth of Pecos.

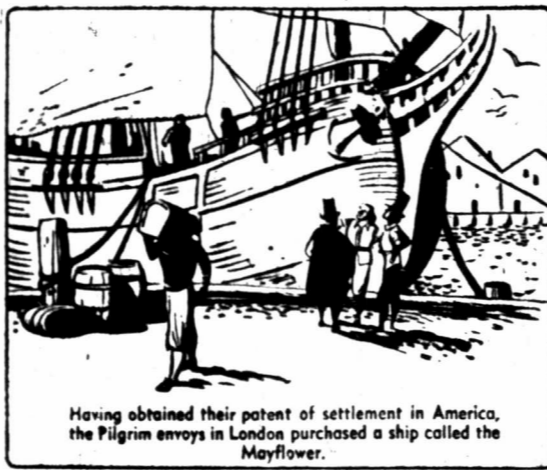

Chairman of the committee is Mrs. Darrell Glover, wife of the Reeves county attorney. Suggestions submitted by the students included those for a riding academy, billiard hall and free dance music in the Community Center. Glenn Stafford, former Pecos mayor, favored effective leadership for the youth program. He urged the group to concentrate on a "few things and get something done, rather than just think about many."

'Take A Look' Ends Week Of Minstrel Show Performances

Another Community Theater production closed with the last two performances of the fifth annual Minstrel Show Friday and Saturday nights. The minstrel is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club each year. "Take a Look," the title of the show, was about television. The music, the skits and the jokes were written by Midlanders.

The seven performances were well attended. For the last three shows there was standing room only.

To the members of the stage crew and the construction crew appreciation is due. They were the unseen members of the cast without whom the show could not have been successful.

Members of the cast are to be congratulated for their performances. To choose one member of the show and say it excelled is impossible. Each were outstanding from the opening chorus to the grand finale Sixteen Channels.

In Act I, the 16 channels took the audience through different shows on television. Channel one told what to expect. The skits started with channel two. It starred Karl Koch and Bill Cumberland in "Crime Story."

Next came C. G. Cooper with an importation from England called "Stately Homes of England." It is the story of why Englanders keep their homes. Leonard Swords' pantomime "Baby Sitter Jitters" was about the troubles and the hazards of diaper changing.

Seven-year-old Becky Blackmon was the tiny tapper of "Taps on TV." "That's All Brother" starring Fred Reiter, Cooper, Cumberland, Marymargaret Corbett, Jean Reiter, Louise Harless, Marie McSpadden, Lea Baranich and Constance Donoghue, told Midlanders about the hanky panky that has been going around.

Bill Adam as Chef Emile LeGarcie did a pantomime about making salad. In antics, from "slicing his finger off" to pouring a box of salt in the salad, the audience learned how to make a salad.

Mary Jane Noland, Ann Speers, Duke Jmerson, Art Cole, Myrl Thompson, Miss Harless, Miss McSpadden, Tinker Hemsell, Miss Donoghue, Miss Branich and Ann Webb starred in the Hawaiian number, "Travel Hour." Miss Speers did a native dance, Miss Noland sang "Blue Hawaii" and Thompson, Cole and Jmerson were the "girls" who hulu danced.

Psychology Lecture

Hall Shaner's lecture "Psychology Made Easy" went from the sublime to the ridiculous, but was excellently done.

Elizabeth Pennebaker, Bill Pomeroy, Cole and Cumberland did "Millionaire From Midland." It tells about Midland with the trees where the money bags grow.

"Home Sweet Home" was the skit in which a husband and wife were so engrossed in their television set that they were robbed of all their furniture. The couple thought the shooting of the cops was the neighbor's radio. It starred Paul Parker, Rena Allen, Waring Bradley, Henry Goulet, Reiter and Tommy Tate.

Miss Donoghue gave a lecture "Behind Television" which enlightened the audience on properties used in skits.

Five teen-agers, Audrey Young, Paula Smith, Jan Ball, Bobbie Majors and Sharon Shaw, were called the "Channel Challengers." Their dance routines were exceptional.

Has Everything

"Answer Please," the quiz show of the minstrel, had everything from meringue to black jacks in the consequences paid by Goulet, the contestant. Shaner, George Farmer, Parker, Tate and Koch were the cast members.

Mary Jane Noland sang "Hold Me" for the last channel of skits. Closing Act I was the finale "What Are We Coming To?" done by the entire revue cast.

Act II was the minstrel. It would be impossible to list the antics and wisecracks of the end men which gave the minstrel its life and laughter.

Pomeroy was the interlocutor. The circle was comprised of A. H. Hedden, M. E. Dehlinger, Tate, Reiter, Hoot Gibson, Koch, Dick Bigelow, Farmer, Goulet, Wesley Davis, A. P. McConnell, Jr., Shafer, Cooper, Parker and Thompson.

Opening the minstrel the ensemble sang "Alabama Bound." "Mr. Jefferson Lord" and "Bring Back Those Minstrel Days." The end men, Cole,

WASH CLOTHS 10 for 1.00

Many cooks like to point up the flavor of hamburger by adding a half teaspoon of monosodium glutamate to a pound of ground beef along with a teaspoon of salt and an eighth teaspoon of pepper. Mix into the meat well, shape into four to six cakes, and cook in a little fat in a heavy skillet.

If you use tea bags when making iced tea remember to use six of the bags to four cups of boiling water; let stand for about five minutes, then stir, strain, and pour into ice-filled tall glasses. Serve with lemon (cut in wedges so it's easy to squeeze) and fine granulated sugar that dissolves quickly.

Tunnell, Schuchard Wed In Fort Worth

In a double-ring ceremony, held recently in Fort Worth, Rose Mary Tunnell of Midland, became the bride of James Harold Schuchard of Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. T. A. Tunnell of Fort Worth. Schuchard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schuchard of San Antonio.

The Rev. Damian Wewers, O.S.B., performed the ceremony in Saint Mary's of the Assumption Church brothers of the bridegroom and F. H. Hoy of Fort Worth.

Marie Lydon was the organist. Raymond Stewart sang "Ave Maria" (Schubert) and "Panis Angelicus" (Franck).

A reception was held at Saint Ann's Club after the ceremony. The couple was assisted in the receiving line by Mrs. Tunnell, Mrs. Holcomb, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schuchard.

In the house party were Mrs. W. E. Schuchard, Abilene; Mrs. H. R. Teague, Albuquerque, N. M.; Mrs. Harry Gleason, Hico; Mrs. W. W. Siddons and Mrs. William McDonald, Hillsboro; Mrs. Sara Siddall, Midland; Mrs. Don L. Pardue, Mrs. John W. Yaeger, Mrs. James T. Tuohy and Frances Morton, all of Fort Worth.

The reception table was laid with a lace cloth. Silver candlesticks adorned the table with the crystal punch bowl. The centerpiece was of white chrysanthemums and gladiolus.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Schuchard wore a grey suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

After Sunday the couple will be at home at 3112 South Fifteenth Street, Abilene.

Ushers were W. E. Schuchard, Abilene; C. C. Schuchard, San Antonio; R. D. Schuchard, Fort Worth.

Mrs. James Harold Schuchard

Use leftover beef in a hearty sandwich filling for the lunchbox. Grind the meat fine and mix it with finely diced onion, pickle relish, and mayonnaise or creamy salad dressing. Season with salt and freshly ground pepper.

Youngsters usually enjoy a Banana Split Salad. To prepare it arrange two banana halves on a lettuce leaf, put a mound of creamed cottage cheese on each banana half, and top with a little crushed pineapple and a maraschino cherry.

Many women who followed fashion's lead into the new era of pin-on chignons have discovered that such coiffures are not only becoming, but that they add a stateliness and look of serenity not possible with a two-inch cut.

Of these chignon enthusiasts who have gone all out for the long-hair look, discarding their hair pieces for their own natural uncut tresses, some have discovered one main difficulty in returning to the hair style of bygone generations. Shampoos aren't as simple as once they were.

If this is your problem, you may find helpful these tips for keeping your long, flowing locks in tip-top condition.

It doesn't matter too much whether you wash your hair in the shower, tub or wash basin, provided you realize in advance that this is a project requiring special techniques.

If you object to supporting the weight of wet, heavy hair, you'll find you can float the ends in a well-filled basin or tub. In the shower, your head must carry this weight.

Since it will take two latherings and at least three rinsings to complete the shampoo, allow yourself ample time. Begin by wetting your hair thoroughly. If you are using the basin or tub, duck your head and turn it from side to side. Make sure the roots are completely saturated by dousing that part of your hair with water from an unbreakable glass or cup.

Work up a thick suds, and concentrate first upon cleaning your scalp. The ends are tackled later, after you've rinsed the first lather and scalp soil and debris from your hair.

Then lather your hair a second time, working the shampoo into rich, fluffy suds. This time, fold the ends of your hair up, and scrub them clean, using your own head as a scrubbing surface.

Three rinses are necessary. It's a good idea to gradually cool your rinse waters from warm to tepid, in order to avoid too-open scalp pores. Such precautions against colds are sensible, since long hair takes much longer to dry than the two-to-four-inch tresses to which you may have been accustomed. A sunny weekend is a good time to attend to laundering your locks.

To squeeze the moisture out, twist your hair into a towel turban. Then use a fresh towel for a brisk rubbing of scalp and the ends of your tresses. Natural drying is best, since too much sudden heat tends to split the ends.

Long hair, properly handled, doesn't snarl any more than any other kind. It can be brushed while wet. Once tangles are worked out, you can use a comb with wide, blunt teeth for parting and arranging it.

Little combs, tucked here and there to restrain straggly ends and to secure buns or braids, are excellent allies for the woman with long hair who has not yet become too adept in dressing her hair. These, and all clips or barettes that you use to secure your tresses, should be kept as sparkling clean as your own gleaming long hair.

Efforts To Get Electricity Renewed

PECOS—Renewed efforts to obtain electrical services from the Rural Electrification Administration for farm homes and irrigation pumps here were launched last week by Artie Baker, former Lockney banker and now owner of Baker Pump Company.

Baker is circulating REA membership blanks among farmers in this area with the request for signatures and payment of the $5 membership fee. He announced that Coy McDougald, Lubbock field representative for REA, is expected here in the near future to explain the REA setup to farmers.

University Schedules Dads' Day

AUSTIN— University of Texas dads aren't going to get what's coming to them November 10. But students at the state's largest school are going to do their best to show their fathers—and mothers, too—how much they appreciate the folks' moral and financial support by celebrating Dads' Day.

So far, approximately 10,000 invitations have been sent to parents by individual students and by the University's Student Organizations Office. School officials are expecting the largest attendance in history.

The institution's students and friends, remembering how University of Arkansas dads helped spur their footballers to victory over the Longhorns earlier this season, are having no trouble whipping up enthusiasm for the day's climax: the annual Southwest Conference gridiron clash between Texas and Baylor University that afternoon in Memorial Stadium.

The special day will start with an informal breakfast for dads in the Student Union Building. Then they will hear Chancellor James P. Hart in an address at the annual Dads' Association meeting in the union's main lounge, while the mothers attend an informal reception in the Rare Books Collections library.

Prize To Be Given
At the fathers' session, a prize will be given to the dad who comes the greatest distance to the meeting, to the dad with the most children in the University, and to the oldest and the youngest dad. Identical prizes will be given sons and daughters of the winners.

The son or daughter of "the typical UT dad" will be given a tuition scholarship for the second semester and the "best all-around boy" and "best all-around girl" of UT will be presented.

After electing association officers, the parents will tour the campus, visit friends and attend the Texas-Baylor game.

Present officers of the Dads' Association are John W. Hampton of Wichita Falls, president; Dr. George Bennack of Raymondville, Harry C. Webb, Sr., of Houston, and Orrin L. Hilyard of Fort Worth, vice presidents; and Bob Armstrong of Austin, secretary. W. D. Blunk, assistant to the University dean of student life, is campus advisor.

Author, Folklore Authority Will Talk To AAUW

C. L. Sonnichsen, head of the Department of English at Texas Western College in El Paso, will address the American Association of University Women at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Sonnichsen, an authority on the Southwest, has published a number of books on his chosen subject. These include "Billy King's Tombstone," the story of a famous Arizona boom town; "I'll Die Before I'll Run," a book about Texas feuds, and "Cowboys and Cattle Kings," the story of the modern cattlemen which was written after the Rockefeller Grant Committee at the University of Oklahoma awarded him a fellowship for this purpose.

A MESSAGE OF IMPORTANCE TO EVERY AUTOMOBILE DRIVER IN THE STATE OF TEXAS:

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

- 1. Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952.
On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- 2. What Must You Do After An Accident?
Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- 3. You Don't Have To Carry Liability Insurance, But...
If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- 4. It's Easy To Establish Financial Responsibility
With a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- 5. What Is The Minimum Of Your Liability?
The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.
- 6. Select An Established Insurance Agent.
The agents listed below know the insurance business and represent well-known dependable capital stock insurance companies. These agents are not of the kind that are here today, gone tomorrow. Their names are listed in the telephone directory. A telephone call will find them ready to serve you—not only NOW—but YEARS from now. Call the one of your choice.

Now Koreans Hear All About Midland

News of the Spraberry Trend oil play and the continued growth of Midland have spread even to Korea, according to word received from Capt. Robert F. Prentiss, a former Reporter-Telegram staff member, who landed in Korea early in October. He is assigned as Public Information Officer of the Eighth Army.

The captain, who was recalled to active duty about a year ago, was stationed at Camp Chaffee, Ark., before being shipped to Japan in September. He was assigned temporarily to the PIO of General Headquarters in Tokyo, during which time he covered a Bradley-Ridgway press conference.

Captain Prentiss mentioned several Midland and area men he has contacted one way or another since setting foot on Japan and Korea. They include: Lt. Col. Walter Walne, G-2 with the 7th Division; Captain John Young, with the 3rd Division; Capt. Jess Roach, with the 3rd Division, and Capt. Walter Parr, Medical Service Corps, all of Midland; Capt. William Agee of Kermit; Poe Woodard of Stanton, and Lt. Alexander McLaurin of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Johnson also have received recent word from their son, Pfc. Joe R. Johnson, another former Reporter-Telegram employee, who is serving with the Headquarters and Service Company, 70th Tank Battalion, in Korea.

Joe reports "things are rough" in Korea and that he surely appreciates the letters and greetings he receives from friends in Midland.

The Midland soldier's father is press room foreman of The Reporter-Telegram, and his brother Bill is employed in the press-stereo department.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Russian jets powered by British engines; Friendship counts in adjusting income-tax cases; Oregon slot-machine operators finally get caught.

WASHINGTON—It has been kept top-secret in order not to embarrass the British, but the Air Force has just picked up a Russian-built MIG jet-plane engine which ought to be put on exhibition in London's Trafalgar Square as an illustration of how to help an ally.

For the Russian engine is an exact duplication of the British jet engine which Britain sold Soviet Russia in 1947-48.

At that time, fifty British Nene engines were sent to Moscow. And the Russian MIG-15 engine we now have captured is an exact duplicate. The Russian workmanship is a little rougher, but otherwise the two are identical.

These are the same engines now powering the Russian MIGs which have been outlying every American plane in Korea except the F-86. They have caused considerable loss of American life. So many Russian MIGs now have been sent to Korea that it no longer is possible for us to get anywhere near the Yalu River with bombing planes except at night.

Note 1—The British can come back at us with a reminder that in 1933-34, when Hitler had just started on the rampage, Cordell Hull permitted American fighter-plane engines to be sold to Germany despite our treaty banning munitions to Germany. These engines later powered the deadly fockers which heaped devastation on British troops.

Note 2—Before Pearl Harbor, the U. S. Army and Navy followed an extremely shortsighted policy of permitting American firms to sell plane designs and patent licenses to the Japanese and other potential enemies. As a result, Douglas Aircraft sold the blueprints for the DC-4 to Japan for $706,720, and the famed Jap Zero turned out to be a virtual duplication of the Curtiss P-36.

Slot-Machine Taxes

Getting your income-tax case "adjusted" these days seems to be partly a matter of hiring the right lawyer. Sometimes a man in tax trouble will go 3,000 miles, clear across the continent, to hire a lawyer who knows the right person.

Something like this happened in Portland, Ore., in regard to one of the biggest slot-machine tax-fraud cases in the country. The two tax defectors, slot-machine moguls Les Beckman and Bob Allen of Portland, have just been indicted, but it took a long time to do it.

An excellent case against them was completed one year ago by Agent Paul D. dePue in Portland and sent to Internal Revenue headquarters in San Francisco. There it suddenly stopped. Months passed and nothing happened. The case against Allen and Beckman continued to gather dust.

Meanwhile the lawyer Beckman and Allen hired was not a local attorney from Portland but Joe Burns, a member of the firm formed by Hugh Fulton, former counsel to Harry Truman on the old Truman Committee, and Rudolph Halley, counsel for the Kefauver Committee.

Their offices are in New York. Despite this, Beckman and Allen reached across the United States and hired a man out of their office.

The man they hired, able Joe Burns, once served as attorney in the Tax Division of the Justice Department, where he worked with Walter Campbell, then a lawyer in the Tax Division and now counsel of the Internal Revenue regional office in San Francisco. It was Campbell who had to pass judgment on the Beckman-Allen tax-fraud case.

West Texans View Grass Roots Revival Of Their Chamber

By WENDELL BEDIKHEK
WTCC Information Director

ABILENE—(AP)—West Texans have witnessed a grass roots revival of their chamber of commerce during the last year.

The 33-year-old West Texas Chamber of Commerce was in a critical position a year ago when Fred H. Husbands was hired as executive vice president and general manager. He had made an outstanding record as manager of the Waco Chamber of Commerce.

When the organization's 34th annual convention is held in Amarillo November 14, 15 and 16, husbands men that it has been brought back into direct contact with the 140 towns affiliated with it. He can report it has friendly relations with local Chambers of Commerce, some of which had become critical toward it. He can show substantial services rendered the whole region and progress toward solution of some of the problems common to the entire area.

Husbands' first action was to translate into an eight-point program the directors' general statement of policies and objectives. He proposed a budget calling for a very large membership growth and a similar expansion of the headquarters staff.

Termed Clearing House
The general manager says he feels the chamber's usefulness depends upon its being an efficient clearing house for expressions of the interests of all segments of West Texas economy.

"It is basically important that we enlist and organize leadership representing all phases of West Texas business," Husbands said as he finished his first year. "Each major phase of our economy has its own organizations. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the only agency with the responsibility of acting for all region-wide interests."

He added that his first concern had been to retain a staff of men qualified by education and experience, each of whom "can stand on his own merits" in directing various phases of organizational activity.

Staff members have covered the 151,475 mile territory almost like a local Chamber of Commerce manager covers his own community. The area is larger than any of the states except Texas and California. It is almost 52 per cent of Texas.

Believed Best Index
P. P. Bludworth of Brownwood, WTCC president, says he feels the financial support it receives is the best index to usefulness of an organization like this. He noted that hundreds of firms and individuals have raised their annual payments substantially.

The WTCC led a successful effort to retain water priority rights of municipalities in the last session of the Legislature.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Cattle receipts were lower but prices were higher at the Midland Livestock Auction Company's sale Thursday. The market was strong and active and most classes of the 776 head sold were 50 cents to $1 a hundred higher than the previous week. Competitive bidding by several North Texas buyers for good quality stockers lived the sale.

Stockers: steers brought $33 to $39, heifer calves $37 to $43, yearlings $28 to $34.50 and stocker cows $18 to $25.
Fat butcher calves and yearlings cleared at $31 to $34, mediums $27 to $31, commons and culls $21 to $27. Choice butcher cows drew $24 to $27.50, medium to good cows $21 to $24, canners and cutters $15 to $21 and oil shelly kinds down to $13. Bulls, no fat ones offered, sold for $25 to $27.50.

Organization of the new Midland County Livestock Association will be a step nearer completion Tuesday when temporary officers are elected at a meeting of the 4-H and FFA Committee in the Chamber office. The session is scheduled at 3 p.m.

The temporary officers will serve until permanent ones are elected by the association membership. The C. of C. committee is sponsoring the organization of the new association.

Frank Lovelace of Howard County, the nominee of the Bankers Committee on soil conservation, as the outstanding district supervisor for 1951, served six years on the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

He was secretary-treasurer his entire time on the board. In addition to the additional time spent in keeping the accounts of the district, Lovelace held meetings with farmers to explain the district program and how soil conservation pays.

Conservation also has been practiced as well as talked on the Lovelace farm. His cultivated land has been terraced with level closed end terraces and farmed on the contour to conserve moisture. Cover crops of abuzzi, rye, madrid clover, hubbam clover, winter peas, and summer peas have been planted with success.

Frank Lovelace says his conservation farming has increased the production on his farm at least 25 per cent. The cover cropping and the leaving of crop residues have improved the structure of the soil and made them capable of holding the moisture that is trapped with the level closed in terraces and contour farming.

Pasture Improvements
The native pasture has been managed to improve the native vegetation by allowing the good grasses to increase and become more vigorous. Twelve acres has been seeded to a mixture of lemann lovegrass, sideots grama, weeping lovegrass and E. R. Bluestem.

Lovelace said the tract has been a life saver this year as it has been green and growing all summer. He is especially interested in grassland conservation and the use of grass in a coordinated soil and water conservation program. He harvested 2,000 pounds of native grass seed consisting of sideots grama, blue grama, and sand dropseed on the Big Spring Municipal Airport.

Lovelace took the lead in the purchase of grass seeding equipment by the district to be used in the district program. He believes strongly in a balanced program of livestock production in connection with rural farming operations of cotton and feed. He has worked closely with Soil Conservation Service technicians, assisting the district in applying and maintenance of his conservation measures.

R. S. (Dick) Miller, county agent at Uvalde, has been named agriculture agent of Extension District 7, with headquarters in San Angelo. He will succeed W. I. (Bill) Marschall, who retired October 1 after 31 years of service.

Miller's appointment was announced by J. D. Prewitt, associate director of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

The accomplishments of Texas 4-H Club boys and girls will be recognized and honored this week during the observance of the 1951 National 4-H Club Achievement Week. Volunteer local leaders of 4-H clubs will share in the honors.

In their efforts to meet the challenge of the 1951 4-H theme, "Working Together for World Understanding," 4-H members have worked to learn something about the cultures, contributions and problems of rural people in other countries.

In 1950, 118,237 boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age were enrolled in 4,793 Texas 4-H clubs. Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader, estimates the enrollment to be about the same during 1951.

Youth from 67,732 farm homes and 21,146 non-farm homes participated in 4-H club work last year. Valuable contributions to community improvement were made by 2,308 4-H Clubs in Texas.

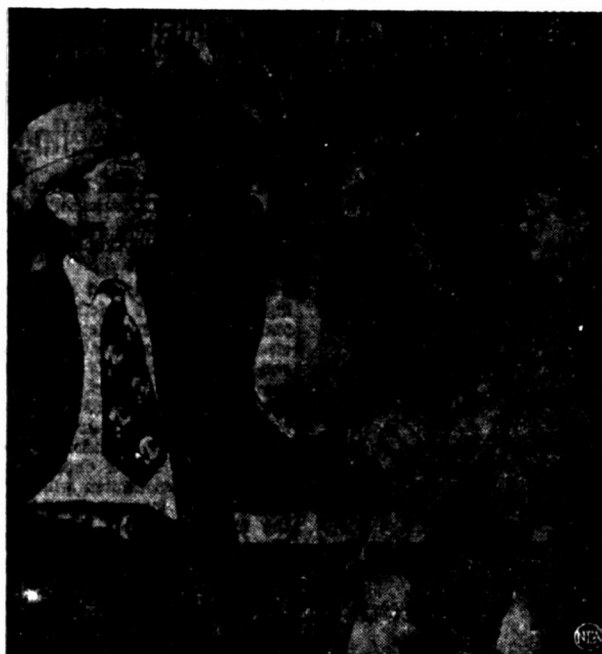

Plans for observing 4-H achievement week include luncheons, banquets and other special county events at which 4-H club members and local leaders will be guests and speakers.

Landowners throughout the Midland area will be interested in the announcement by the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors that a new publication, "Soil and Water," will be launched the latter part of December, designed to help further the conservation of land through the far-flung soil conservation district program which now covers 95 per cent of the entire state.

The Midland area is in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, served by SCS technicians with headquarters in Midland.

The publication is being sponsored by farmers and ranchers who are members of soil conservation districts, which now cover 142,327,400 acres in Texas.

Its purpose will be to help solidify the efforts of these 100,000 farming landowners toward a permanent land usage program which will keep Texas soil productive from

Discretion Is Necessary When Spending The Family Money

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

In figuring out how the family shall spend its money, the question parents should ask themselves is not "What can we afford?" but "What ought we afford?" says Eleanor Graham Vance in a recent issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

She is right, of course. Too many parents squander their money on things they can't afford at the moment but perhaps shouldn't, either because the money could bring the family more lasting good spent some other way or saved toward a larger, more important objective.

So when Sis or Junior is urging you to let her do this or let him have that, don't stop with thinking whether or not you can afford it. Go to the thinking in terms of whether or not you ought to afford it. Put the demand up against the other needs of the family and see just how important it is.

And do the same with your own adult wants. Maybe you can afford the household appliance all your friends are raving about.

But before you decide you ought to afford it, make sure it will do more lasting good than some of the other things you might use the money for.

Don't Go By Other People

All of us today tend to pay too much attention to what other people have and do. We let our children talk us into buying things simply because they report that "all the other kids are getting one."

We talk ourselves into thinking we need things simply because our friends are buying them and telling us. "You simply must get such-and-such."

But every family is different from every other family and each family has different needs.

Nobody can tell us how we should

Students Learn About Cooperation

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four foreign and American students of New York University are learning first-hand about international cooperation by living with one of their instructors in his three-story Manhattan home.

The boys handle the cooking and cleaning chores in addition to studying and entertaining together. They occupy the third floor of the house while Marketing Instructor Robert M. St. Clair, occupies the first. The second floor is a mutually shared lounge. The boys have access to a large record collection and a 500-volume library. The foreign students, Siong-huat So and Peter Cochran of the Philippine Islands, and Richard Crooks and Seymour March of the U.S., are all commerce majors.

St. Clair feels that many of the problems of foreign trade could be solved through such a program. He also hopes to get a better insight into student views on education. He first hit upon the idea when he was made unable because of his teaching schedule to commute daily to Petersham, Mass., where his wife and children live.

If the grown-ups in your family aren't drinking all the milk they should, serve them American cheddar cheese often; the cheese's food value is similar to that of milk.

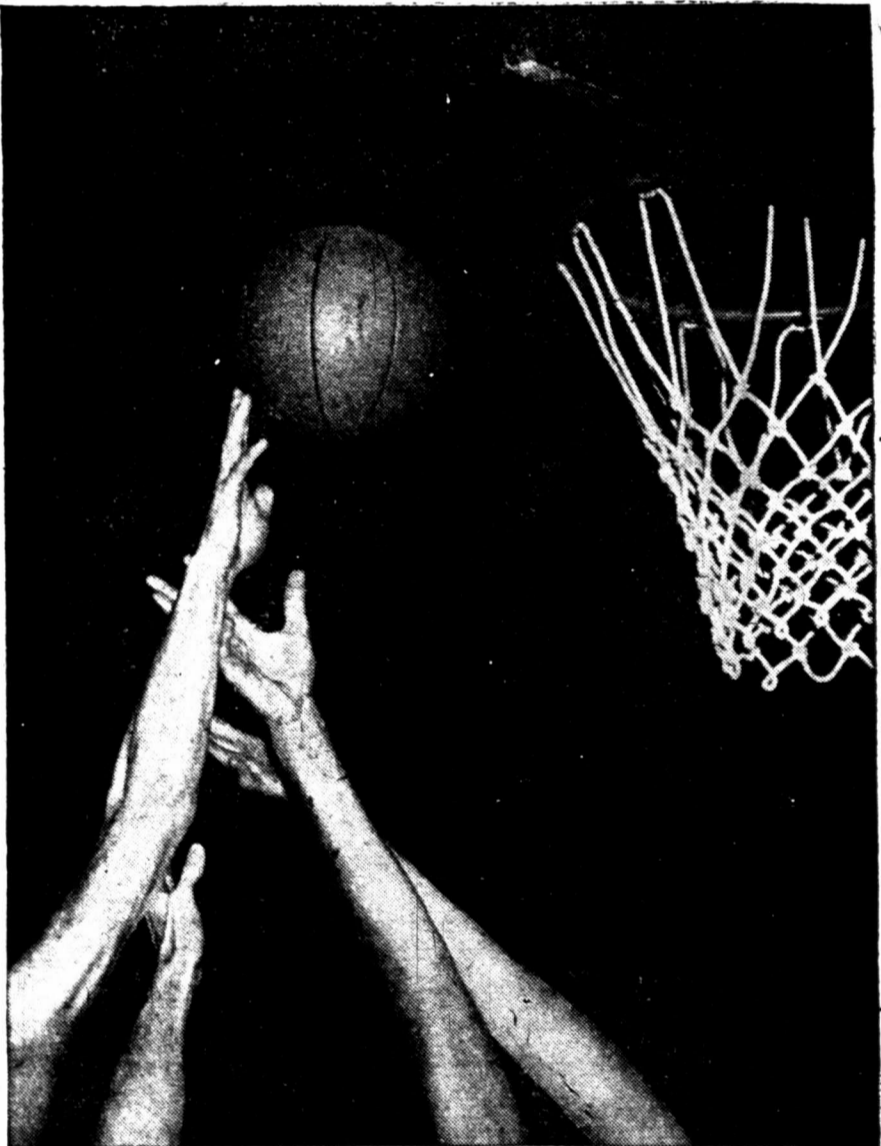

CONVENTION SPEAKERS—Dr. David L. Stitt and Dr. James I. McCord, president and dean, respectively, of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary, will be among the speakers at the five-state Presbyterian Men's convention scheduled next weekend in Dallas. Both men have conducted meetings in Midland's First Presbyterian Church and are well known here.

Presbyterian Men Of Five States To Meet In Dallas

W. H. Crenshaw, president of the Presbyterian Men of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Louisiana will convene in Dallas Friday, Saturday and Sunday for a convention, which is expected to be one of the largest "all men" religious gatherings ever held in Texas. More than 2,000 Presbyterian laymen are expected to attend the five-state convocation, which will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Dallas. "Christ and You, Partners for Action" will be the theme of the convention. The delegates will share the inspiration of nationally-known men speaking on subjects of vital concern to all men as fathers, businessmen, citizens and churchmen.

Convention speakers and their subjects include: Dr. James I. McCord, Austin, "Throughout the World;" Francis Pickens Miller, New York, "On Your Job;" Wade H. Bobbs, "In Your Home;" H. Roe Bartle, Kansas City, Mo., "Among Your Neighbors;" Ben S. Hodges, Jr., "In Your Church;" Dr. David L. Stitt, Austin, "Beginning With Yourself."

Basketball Players Admit Bribes. You asked: What players? What teams? What games did they throw? Who bribed them? For how much money? What action will the colleges take?

MAYBE YOU HEARD a flash report on TV or radio. But the minute you got a chance, you grabbed for your newspaper. You knew it was the only place to get the whole story—fast. There in the paper was everything... facts you couldn't get in a hurried broadcast... facts you couldn't wait for till they appeared in magazines. It happens day after day. Each day there are many stories that are only half-told for you—or not told at all—until you read your newspaper. You feel like a hermit if you miss a single issue. For it always turns out that something has happened that apparently everybody knows about but you. And everybody else feels the same way. Everybody reads the newspaper every day... though the big news for one may be an interview with Tito, and for another Hopalong Cassidy shirts for small boys. That's why, when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the place to reach all the people all the time.

In advertising, why deal in fractions? Magazines reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to some people—not to others. No magazine is read by everyone in town who can possibly buy. Radio and TV programs reach only fractions, too. Each one appeals to a limited audience—sport fans, homemakers, kids, etc. And how many of these can listen at the time you broadcast? The newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day for everybody. All your customers read the paper—at the time they choose, for as long as they choose. Only the newspaper is first with the most news... first with the most people, first with the most advertisers.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"
