Patman Committee To Check Steel For Small Oil Companies

WASHINGTON — Rep. Wright Patman (D-Texas), chairman of the House Small Business Committee, announced Wednesday the committee will hold hearings early next year on the allocation of oil country tubular goods to small oil companies and related problems. The hearings will be part of the committee's continuing investigation of "Problems of Small Business Under the Controlled Materials Plan."

Patman also made public an exchange of letters with Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman regarding information requested by the committee in connection with its investigation of allocations to oil producers.
"We have received a number of complaints to the effect that 'gray market' pipe is being sold for as much as double the regular commercial price," Patman said. "To determine whether oil country tubular goods have been equitably and fairly allocated, we are interested in obtaining information regarding individual allocations to operators and footage drilled by each operator."
No figure announced
"To date, PAD has not made public any figures on allocations of pipe to individual operators, although these figures certainly should be of interest to the public. On November 15, approximately two weeks after the committee requested such information, PAD announced that it plans to publish individual allocations made to the 133 large producers. However, Mr. Chapman informed me on November 16 that compiling data on the 3,000 small operators would be an "enormous clerical and computation task."

"We have no desire to impose an undue clerical burden upon PAD, especially since Mr. Chapman has indicated his desire to cooperate with us to the fullest extent. However, it would seem that such data should be readily available to PAD in connection with its regular work of making allocations. If this is not the case, it is difficult to see how PAD could make allocations upon a realistic and equitable basis. We are hopeful that the figures will be made available to the committee as soon as possible."
Patman said the committee also plans to study the question of whether the Defense Production Administration has allocated sufficient steel to PAD to meet defense needs. He pointed out that the allocation of 1,800,000 tons to PAD for the fourth quarter was approximately 84 per cent of the amount requested, and that the first quarter, 1952, allocation of 1,708,000 tons was approximately 78 per cent of the request.
"The investigation will be part of the committee's general study of the distribution of materials under the Controlled Materials Plan," Patman said. "The committee plans to seek similar information from other claimant agencies to determine whether materials are being distributed in a fair and equitable manner."

Not-So-Tough Gable Pleased Lady Sylvia, But Not Fans

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Now it can be told—Clark Gable's memories of his marriage to Lady Sylvia Ashley include the advice she gave him about his movie, "To Please a Lady." In the original script he played the rough, tough, hard-drinking Gable of his early hit movies.
Lady Ashley read the script, was horrified at his suggestive, wantonly actions, and next day Gable got MGM to tone down the character—to please a lady.
The lady was pleased—but movie audiences were not.
The Dan Dailey-Jane Nigh romance is having tough sledding. Jane is waiting to pass:
"I can't figure him out. Yesterday morning he told me he loved me. In the afternoon he said he hated me."
Leo McCarey finally got his ending for the Helen Hayes-Robert Walker starrer, "My Son John" and it's an eye-opener. Walker, as a Communist in the State Department, is machine-gunned while riding in a taxicab past the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.
The cab, driven by movie stunt man Jimmy Dundee, spins out of control and overturns on the marble steps of the Memorial.
Jimmy did the stunt solo, with a double impersonating the late Walker in a subsequent dying-walk scene.
Forecasters Are Wrong
Bing Crosby's Pebble Beach, Calif. home is for sale... The crystal gazer who see a flare-up of the Peyton-Tone-West triangle are way off their images. Barbara's now telling pals that she wants to rock a cradle... Dolores Del Rio and Lewelly are denying the secret marriage rumors in Mexico City.
Dan Dailey's ex-wife, Lis, now is sitting across the aisle from Nancy Sinatra in UCLA's "The Origin of Words" class.
Only his close pals know the seriousness of George O'Brien's recent hospital stays. A blood clot of the leg. Medics now have pronounced him OK and he is resuming his movie career.
Jane Greer's big pitch to get out of her RKO contract has struck solid rock. Her studio asked her to agree to fork over a whole year's salary and to make three future pictures on a wage cut.
Now Jane says she will sit out the remaining two and a half years of her contract and let the fat salary checks roll in.
The Doris Dowling whom Artie Shaw will wed is the same Doris Dowling who appeared in "The Lost Weekend" and "Butter Field." A week before she arrived in London, Artie told pals and newsmen he would take songstress Sue Carson as wife No. 7. One look at Doris and Artie called off his engagement to Sue.

A movie queen of 29 years ago is back on the sound stages with the word that today's leading men are far more attractive than the screen's old-time lovers.
Faith Binnay, who fluttered her eyelashes at John Barrymore and went into eliches with Thomas Meighan, slipped me the word:
"As a mature woman who's raised three children I can tell you that boys like Jeff Chandler and Tony Curtis are far more attractive than Barrymore and Meighan. They were exciting and diverting but they lacked responsibility and equilibrium."
Faith, who is Dale Robertson's mother-in-law, just played a role in "Love Nest" at Fox and is up for several other pictures.
They're Just Friends
Those dates of Peter Lawford and Dawn Adams in London are studio-engineered and add up to zero romantically. They're both in "The Hour of Thirteen."
There's another remake cooking for "Seventh Heaven" if Diana Lynn and Keef Braselle can be signed for the young lovers... Fox wants Lisa Kirk for Dennis Day's heart-beat in a new musical.
There's a court battle brewing between Betty Hutton and her ex-husband, Ted Briskin, over financial support of their two children. Betty is waiting that $300 a month won't pay the bills.
Mario Lanza sent a check for $1,000 to that Founding Home in Pittsburgh where the nurses named a baby Mario... Carmen Miranda will introduce a new number for her Las Vegas engagement titled "Dese, Dem and Dic."
The MGM mail department included a letter addressed to John Barrymore in a stack of fan mail for Stan Laurel. Laurel returned the letter with a note reading:
"I hope you didn't send me this because you thought I'd be seeing John soon."
The Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, now claimed by Egypt, stretches westward from the Red Sea deep into the heart of Africa. It lies astride Africa's overland routes as well as the Suez Canal-Red Sea Lane.

American Girl, Defrocked Priest, Still Plan To Wed

MILAN — (AP) — Claire Young, Chicago girl who gave up her American citizenship in an effort to marry a defrocked priest, is selling nylon stockings to help raise money for the wedding.
The ex-priest, Luciano Negrini, also has plans to raise funds. To meet living expenses, he says he will give Chinese lessons—to whoever in Milan would like to learn Chinese. He learned it as a priest in the Orient.
The two also are signing up pupils for English lessons, and are selling writing materials manufactured by a company here.
They still need a number of documents to make their marriage possible. They did not know how long it might take to get the papers, they said.

Public Aid Rolls Down, Says Report
WASHINGTON — (AP) — The proportion of the population receiving some form of public aid has declined from 11 1/2 per cent in 1949 to less than four per cent at present, the Social Security Administration reported Wednesday night.
It said also public aid programs now take a penny out of the national income dollar, compared with three and one-half cents in 1946.
If it were not for the topsoil carried to its rich plains by the Nile River, Egypt might have been as desolate as the Sahara Desert.

Ginger Cake Is Old Favorite

GINGER CAKE WITH WHIPPED CREAM — It's a good, old-fashioned suggestion for dinner.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor. How about warm pungent ginger cake with whipped cream for dinner tomorrow? Good old-fashioned suggestion.

Ginger Cake
Two cups sifted flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking soda, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 2 3/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1 egg, 3/4 cup dark molasses, 3/4 cup boiling water, 1/2 cup shortening. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, sugar and ginger together; add egg and molasses; mix well. Pour boiling water over shortening in a pint measure; add to flour mixture and stir vigorously. Pour into well greased heat-resistant glass square cake dish, eight-inch size. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) Serve hot with whipped cream; this may be piped on with a pastry tube if desired. Or, if you prefer, cool and frost with whipped cream, fluffily icing or with confectioners sugar icing.

Applesauce gingerbread is another cold weather favorite.

Apple Sauce Gingerbread (9-12 servings)
One-half cup shortening, 1 1/4 teaspoon soda, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 1/2 cup sugar, 3/4 cup unsulphured molasses, 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 cup unsweetened apple sauce.

Heat oven to 325 degrees F. (moderately slow). Cream together first 5 ingredients. Blend in molasses. Stir in 1/2 cup flour. Beat in eggs. Add remaining flour alternately with apple sauce; beat 1/2 minute. Bake 1 hour or until done in a paper-lined, greased, 9-inch square pan. Cool 5 minutes. Remove paper.

If curtains shrouding a small window cut out too much of the light, or if a narrow window appears too insignificant to do justice to a room, try hanging your curtains or draperies on swinging side-arm brackets which hold the curtains well to the side of the window frame. Removable curtain hooks are handy for hanging your draperies on the rods. By this trick you gain both additional light and increased importance from your window treatment.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

DE GLANCES

"Supposing it is only puppy love! I hope you remember that's how we started!"

Daddy Ringtail And Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day had come to Daddy Ringtail's monkey house, high in the top of the very tall tree, there in the middle of the Great Forest.

The folks had just sat down to eat their dinner. Why, Uncle Bunkum was there for a visit from the zoo to eat a happy Thanksgiving dinner. Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was ready with knife and fork. Yes, and all around the table were seated the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, and Old MacDonald who has a farm; and the Featherman who lives in a nest instead of a house; and the Rainmaker. Even Doctor Shoobug was there for a rest from running to see about sick folks. Of course the doctor was wanting to eat a fine dinner of scrambled coconut and everything. Oh, what a fine Thanksgiving dinner Mother Ringtail had cooked. Daddy Ringtail was proud of her, and happy too.

Yes, and Daddy Ringtail was thankful for the fine dinner and the many friends, and so he asked that Mugwump please say a prayer of "thank you" to the Heavenly Father.

Said the Huffen: "People should always say it, they should, before they eat their dinner, and we should especially today, because today is Thanksgiving Day."

Said Mugwump: "Well, I don't have a Thanksgiving prayer, but I know that everything good that happens just wouldn't happen if the Heavenly Father didn't want it to happen. And we really do appreciate all the good things He gives us; and today is a special day for being thankful, but I am thankful so much all the time that I don't know what to be thankful for extra special today. I am glad that nobody's sick, and that all of us good friends are together, and that we have such a fine dinner to eat. Uhuh, and I hope that the Heavenly Father will please let everyone have a happy Thanksgiving like we are having. But I really don't know how to say a special 'thank you' prayer like ought to be said today."

Daddy Ringtail smiled to hear these words, but he said "Amen!" out loud because Mugwump really had said a happy prayer of "thank you," without even knowing it.

What a happy Thanksgiving Day it was! So may it be for you, and a happy Thanksgiving dinner, too. Happy day!

Thanksgiving Day, 1951

In these times many men find much to decry and deplore in American life. And any fair scanning of the national horizon must produce proof that the laments largely are justified.

Yet we may be profoundly thankful for one thing. The nation's elemental character is untarnished. Its devotions have not lost their fire. Human dignity and freedom, individual integrity and resourceful accomplishment still are revered.

Fundamentals of freedom have been put in jeopardy by people who say they are defending liberty. In the crisis of limited war and threat of wider war, groups in our society have chosen not to submerge traditional jealousies and conflicts in a common cause, but to lift them up.

In New England this Thanksgiving week, some of the descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers, plus descendants of more recent pilgrims, participated in a new crusade for freedom to raise money to operate Radio Free Europe and to send freedom balloons across the Iron Curtain.

Destroying A Spectre
This surge for freedom inside the polyglot Russian empire has taken several forms. There have been revolts among the peasants. There are reported to be about 15,000,000 political prisoners in concentration camps.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

The hand shown today stands or falls on the opening lead. Against the best opening lead, the game cannot be made; with any other lead, it is clear sailing.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East hands with cards and suits.

East properly played low and South won with the king of diamonds. The next diamond went to West's queen, and West led a second trump.

My own opinion is that West should have led a trump against this bidding just as in the first round. However, the club had been bid, and the device of clubs looked like a "normal" lead.

Q—The bidding has been: East 1 Heart, South 2 Clubs, North 2 Hearts, South 3 Hearts, North 4 Hearts, South Pass, North Pass, South Pass, North Pass.

Answer Tomorrow
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-10-7, Hearts 5-2, Diamonds K-10-6-3, Clubs 7-3-2. What do you lead?

Tito Press Conference Gives Newsmen Ideas For Truman

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA—Marshal Tito, prime minister and boss of Yugoslavia, doesn't see the foreign and domestic correspondents assigned to his capital of ten days.

Right after the recent Zagreb peace conference, Marshal Tito managed to assemble some 200 American and European correspondents in Belgrade. Tito took advantage of the occasion to spread his particular brand of propaganda on the record in a three-hour press conference.

As he strode to the end of the reception room, a servant presented him with a tray containing small glasses of Yugoslav slivovica, or plum brandy, chartrouse and creme de menthe. Mind you, this was at 9:30 a.m.

Drinks 'To Health Of Press'
Tito took a glass of the brandy, raised it and said, "I drink to the health of the press." He downed it in a gulp. Then the press took a shot and Tito led the way into the conference room.

At times Tito played with a pair of horn-rimmed reading glasses, but he did not put them on. On his left wrist was a big gold watch, and on the ring finger of his left hand was a gold signet ring. It

Opera, Comedy, Dancing Girls Hit Road As Touring Shows Show New Signs Of Life

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The "road," smart Broadway producers said a year ago, was dead. But this year there are signs that the corpse is twitching. An NEA survey of Broadway producers shows distinct signs of life.

The resurrection still is feeble—possibly no more than 30 shows will tour the nation this season—but the prophets of doom who said road shows would succumb to TV and/or popcorn machines are changing their tune. People still like to see live actors.

As proof of the road's vitality, consider the Metropolitan Opera Association. For the first time in its long, pear-shaped history, it is sending a company on the road to present only one opera. The English version of Johann Strauss' "Fledermaus," dressed and streamlined like a musical comedy, is the opera which will tour.

A five-month schedule has already been worked out. From Philadelphia, the company will sing before audiences throughout the east, then across Ohio and western New York. In December they'll go to Indiana, Michigan and Washington, D. C. and in January they'll go from Chicago through the Midwest as far as Minneapolis. That won't be the end of the tour, but the remainder of the itinerary hasn't been planned.

Legitimate Broadway productions, possibly 30 strong, will pack up their scenery and take to the road. But that figure is still far below pre-war (and pre-high-cost) days. The statistic most quoted among Broadway is that this year's schedule is about a third under the pre-war average.

There still is a considerable

For the hinterlands: Caught in the midst of singing "Husbel and a Peck," this is the national company of "Guys and Dolls," one of 30 Broadway stage productions taking to the road this season.

difference of opinion among leading Broadway producers about which way the road will turn. This season's tentative total of 30 shows which will tour is easily better than last year. But some cynical Broadwayites point out that the 1950-51 season was the rock-bottom year of road show history and add that this season could hardly be worse.

There are some who say the future prosperity of the road hinges on how well Broadway does. If Broadway turns out big hits—things like "Oklahoma" and "South Pacific"—it is only natural that the folks west of the Hudson River will want to see them some day, too.

But, others point out, Broadway has learned to be careful what it exports. Serious plays, even with top companies and big-name stars, seldom make money. Only musicals and light, escapist comedies are fairly certain of prospering.

Effect Debatable
The effect of television on the future of the road is debatable. One school feels that the novelty of TV has worn off, and movies haven't turned out consistently good enough pictures, so people will turn to road shows. On the other hand, there are some Broadway producers who look on TV as the last straw because, as one man puts it, "it offers a lot more for a lot less."

The majority, however, feels that the people in the country at large are hungry for good theater. If Broadway "can send out salable attractions and beat the high-cost factor, the consensus is that the road will return to its pre-war popularity."

"Mister Roberts," the comedy about wartime Navy life, is one show that has been a consistent success on the road. This season it is going out again on a cross-country tour. Some of its stops will be one-nighters, tougher than ever because the railroads have cut out a lot of accommodation trains that show business relied on for its moves.

Many touring companies now use trucks exclusively. Some, like "Mister Roberts," occasionally resort to "rubber moves" and transport sets and cast by rented trucks and buses. Others try to by-pass the problem by avoiding one-nighters and sticking to the bigger cities.
In 112 cities

Some of the other shows definitely scheduled to tour this season are the prize-winning drama, "Death of a Salesman," booked into 112 towns; "The Moon Is Blue," a light comedy; Tennessee Williams' first comedy, "The Rose Tattoo," going on a two-year tour beginning in November; the comedy about GI's in a Nazi prisoner of war camp, "Stalag 17," which will go on tour in January; the hit musical, "Guys and Dolls;" "Season in the Sun;" "Black Chiffon;" "Angel in the Pawnshop;" "Kiss Me Kate;" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

The road decline of the last few years has been caused, say producers, by four chief factors. High costs have made producers shy away from touring, stars have been unwilling to tour because they can make more in movies or television; many legitimate theaters in city centers have been turned into cinema emporiums; and inroads have been made by radio and TV.

But, of late, those factors have changed. The inroads of TV haven't been so deep; some movie theaters are being changed back to legitimate stages; stars are showing renewed interest in touring; and producers are learning how to cut corners and costs.

So there are definite signs that the road is coming back. Slowly, but surely.

Road Blonde: Broadway saw costumes like this in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," now touring the country along with opera, comedy, a touch of drama.

Working Mothers Must Interest Children In Job

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When business reverses threatened Mr. G. with the loss of his suburban home, Mrs. G. walked out one afternoon, hired a part-time maid and got herself a job in a local real estate office.

The G. children did not react well. When Mrs. G. came home at night, it was usually to arbitrate disputes between the maid and her ten-year-old Nancy. As to five-year-old Skipper, he developed such an allergy to the sound of the telephone—which was keeping his mother away from him, he thought—that his mother was advised to consult a psychiatrist. She didn't. She solved her problem herself.

One evening, when the telephone rang, as usual Skipper ran to it to gag the mouthpiece with his palm so that his mother couldn't talk. She removed the hand and held her child firmly by his belt. She conducted and completed her conversation just as though squirms, kicks and roars were not going on.

When she hung up, she took Skipper on her lap and called her daughter.

"What," she asked her children, "do you think I do all day at my office?"

"You sell real estate," said Nancy sulkily.

"Those are just two grown-up words that don't mean much," her mother told her. "No, what I really do all day is to find homes for people like you and Skipper. Do you know who called me just now?"

"Somebody who wanted you to give them some real estate," Skipper said aggrievedly.

"It was a father," his mother said. "He has a little girl who has never had a room of her own or a lawn to play on in her life. He was so pleased that your mother—your own mother—had been able to find him a home with a lawn and a room for his little girl that he just couldn't wait until tomorrow to thank me."

"Will they live near us?" asked Nancy. "Is the girl near my age, mother?"

Mothers Need Insight
Don't suppose that Mrs. G. had any more trouble with her children's jealousy of her job, because she didn't. Her only problem was planning the evening stories about her clients whose problems had become more fascinating to her youngsters than their television programs.

Statistics tell us the majority of working mothers work, not because they like their jobs, but because they need them.

If we resent having to work outside our homes, our youngsters are going to give us bigger and better reasons for resenting it.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Untreated Diabetes Can Have Many Serious Consequences

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service
A question recently received from Mrs. S. S. puts the problem of treatment for diabetes in a nutshell.

She says: "I am a diabetic. When can I put the needle aside and just stick to my diet? What is the cause of losing weight? Knowing I am a diabetic, I am very nervous. It's an awful ordeal. I feel like calling it quits and live and eat like a normal person. What would happen to me—infection again?"

My dear Mrs. S.: You can put the needle aside and stick to your diet alone just as soon as your doctor finds out that the insulin is not necessary and you can prevent sugar from appearing in your urine by diet alone.

If you try to do this before the disease can be controlled by diet alone, you will not be controlling the disease, and you will be running a serious risk. Loss of weight in diabetes is one of the symptoms of lack of control of the disease.

A person who is losing weight usually will be found to have sugar in the urine as well.

One certainly can sympathize with your desire to call the whole thing quits and eat like a normal person, but this, too, would be a most dangerous thing for you to do—you yourself say that you have had infection before, and you certainly would be likely to get it again, and perhaps other things, if you ignored the disease.

The question of treatment for diabetes boils down to this: mild cases often can be controlled with diet alone, but in order to do this, the patient must stick by the diet and not cheat.

Follow Doctor's Orders
If diet alone does not prevent the appearance of sugar in the urine or relieve the symptoms of the disease, insulin injections have to be considered. It takes a little time for the physician to determine the exact amount of insulin necessary, and then the patient is responsible for seeing that he or she takes exactly the right dose at exactly the right time.

Both diet and dose of insulin vary from person to person depending upon the severity of the diabetes. It is impossible for patients to calculate these needs for themselves, and if they try to treat their own disease, they are running grave risks.

Just about the only exception to this rule is that properly instructed patients often can learn to test their own urine to make sure the disease is remaining under control between visits to the doctor.

Northland Has A Warm Heart

MONTREAL —(P)— Mrs. James Houston, wife of Canadian Artist Jim Houston, doesn't think of the Arctic as a vast, cold wasteland of ice and snow.

After eight months in the Northland, Mrs. Houston is more impressed by the warmhearted, hospitable people who live in snow huts and look mainly to hunting and fishing for their living. "They're such an honest, cheerful people."

Indonesia Economic Position Is Weak

JAKARTA, INDONESIA —(P)— In spite of record prices paid on war-jittery world markets for Indonesian tin, rubber and oil, Indonesia's economic position is weak. This was stated this week by the head of the Directorate for Trade and Industry of the Ministry of Economic Affairs. He was addressing a conference of economic officials.

"Any drop in prices being paid for our main export products would seriously harm Indonesia's economy," he said.

Student Nurse Is Good Sailor

PROVIDENCE, R. I. —(P)—Brisk Fall breezes pushing her 19-foot sailboat helped pretty Shirley Whitcomb, 22, a student nurse, to prove she is a sailor recently. She owns the boat jointly with a friend. She used it during the Summer at her parents' Summer home at Old Lyme, Conn.

Fall arrived with variable winds that usually keep small boats in sheltered waters. But she wanted the boat in Providence so she could work on it during the Fall and Spring. So she sailed it the 100 miles to a Winter harbor.

She took three days to make the trip, sailing with a different person (two friends and her father) each day. On one trip of 27 nautical miles she averaged nine knots. She said she didn't see any other small boats on the whole trip. And sometimes she wondered if the sails would hold. But now the boat is in Providence and she plans to scrape the paint off and repaint it.

The snake-killing secretary bird often will soar high into the air, carrying its prey with it, then drop it on the hard ground, ending the battle.

Prudence Island Is Jalopy Heaven

PROVIDENCE, R. I. —(P)—Your old jalopy is cranky and has been acting up under the stress of urban life, may be you ought retire it to Prudence Island in Narragansett Bay where it can spend its declining years in peace and quiet.

Real oldies are just the thing Prudence Island. There are roads, no need for an operator's license or insurance, and no chafers for registration because Prudence cars are not registered with state of Rhode Island.

Your car will bump along driftways, a fancy name for cow paths. Fifteen miles of driftway wander around the small island. Bulldozers, a scraper and grader keep the driftways in good shape. The driftways serve 30 cars, second-hand, and another 100 belonging to Summer visitors. Most of those are second-hand too. It costs $7.50 to ferry a car out to the island. Few ever return.

Christmas Decorations—What fun it is to decorate for Christmas! This year your Christmas decorations are prettier and more novel than ever.

Token Of Our American Heritage—Thanksgiving Dinner... turkey with all the trimmings... symbolic of that first Thanksgiving when, after a year of intense hardships, our Pilgrim Fathers rejoiced with a table of plenty.

It's Plus Protection That Counts—The kind of "Plus Protection" that's contained in a coat of tough DuPont Paint, heat resistant, vermin resistant, economical.

Thanksgiving—Gratitude is one of the most beautiful of virtues, and ingratitude one of the most beautiful of vices. If children are under obligation to give thanks to human parents...

Carpet Fashions—Not only dramatic colors and patterns are featured in the carpets at WATSON CARPET COMPANY, 1108 West Washington, but revolutionary carpet fashions that work magic for your rooms.

Hear Ye! Hear Ye! It's Thanksgiving Time!—Time for all of us to give thanks for all the fine and good things we enjoy... time for this organization to thank you for your patronage and confidence in us.

Santa's Toy Parade—Santa and his helpers have been busy up at the North Pole and now JOHN BOAT-RIGHT FURNITURE, 2514 West Wall, has carloads of toys to show little boys and girls.

Let's Talk Turkey This Thanksgiving—Let's re-live the memory of our rich, historical past around a festive holiday table! Let's capture the gay spirit of family reunions and sing the hopes of a glorious future!

Headquarters For Fine Woodwork—ABELL-McHARGUE, MILLWORK, makes a specialty of always having the very latest improvements in corner cabinets, doors, sash, built-in kitchen and bathroom cabinets.

Happy Thanksgiving To All Our Friends—"This is a day that is purely American," said O. Henry—"day of glad reunions... happy feasting... sweet remembering... day of thanks for a proud heritage... a glorious present... a day that is purely ours... Thanksgiving Day!"

The Personal Gift Always Appreciated—When you want to give a personal gift—one with sentiment—yet have only a small gift budget—then, a beautiful portrait of yourself is just the thing!

Let Us Give Thanks—It is our American tradition... it is our religious inheritance to have this day of general Thanksgiving for the many great blessings we enjoy as a people and individually.

Be Enchanting In A Veil—Wear a veil for evening... be enchanting, look bewitching! FASHION SALON MILLINERY DEPARTMENT, features them in black net sparkled with sequins and rhinestones.

We Give Thanks—It's not enough to say "Thanks" for the many blessings we as Americans enjoy—it is indeed more fitting to give thought to the privileges and precepts that this very day stands for!

Custom Made Draperies—Choose the fabrics you want to use in decorating your home and let WILSON'S WORK ROOM, 504 East Florida, design and make your draperies just the way you want them.

We Have So Much To Thank You For—Throughout this great country, people are taking time out from their labors to express thanks through prayer and thanksgiving.

Real Estate Service—If you are seeking a home or if you have property of any kind to sell, JESSIE J. MORGAN AGENCY, 800 North Big Spring, guarantees you efficient service through years of experience.

On This Thanksgiving Day—On this truly American holiday, let us go to church... and within its sheltered walls, express the spirit of thanksgiving.

Kills Insects—There no longer is any excuse for putting up with crawling insects when No-Roach will handle the situation effectively and with very little trouble.

For Our Many Blessings—On this glorious American holiday we all pause from our daily activities to render our appreciation for the many blessings He has delivered us, for the freedoms we enjoy, for the richness of our fields and factories.

Vigilance Is The Price Of Liberty—As we express gratitude for the blessings of democracy and all the fruits this fertile tree bears, we, as our forefathers, are faced with the stern reality that "vigilance is the price of liberty."

Thanksgiving Greetings—Our sincerest, heartfelt wishes for a happy Thanksgiving Day—to all our customers and friends. The management and personnel of GIBBS-BLAETTER-WICK, (formerly Pauline's Style Shoppe), 211 North Main, extends this Thanksgiving message to you in appreciation for your fine patronage during the few months the store has been under new management.

Americans Are Grateful For This Heritage—Remember the story The date was September 6, 1620, when 102 courageous men and women set sail from Plymouth, England, to seek and establish freedom in America.

Keep The Landlord Away From Your Door—By no other means is it possible for homeowners to get so much for their money as one can by owning one of the beautiful Cunningham hardwood block houses in Loma Linda.

We Give Thanks This Day—We give heartfelt thanks for this, our America, "land of the Pilgrims' pride" which inspired this joyful harvest-time custom.

In The Thanksgiving Tradition—Joy and laughter as well as a sincere thanksgiving for the generosity of a kindly providence marks this day, for Thanksgiving without thanks is a holiday devoid of meaning.

Before The Turkey Is Carved—Throughout the nation, bright fires glow in open hearths—children sing as they eagerly set the table for the holiday feast... and the family is united on the occasion of traditional Thanksgiving Day.

Thankful For The Many Good Things—We sincerely hope that you have enjoyed everything you like best for your Thanksgiving dinner... golden brown oozing turkey... rich red cranberries... sweet potatoes topped with marshmallows...

Thanksgiving—An American Custom—On this day the people of our government itself, express their humble and heartfelt thanks to God for His protecting care and the abundance of His provisions to our comfort and welfare.

A Happy Holiday... That's Thanksgiving!—When family and friends get together for the most important meal of the year... giving thanks for the blessings that have been ours since Pilgrim Days.

A Hoover Cleaner—Just Right For You—Times being what they are, and Hoover being what it is—the cleaner so many women recommend to each other—doesn't it seem like smart planning for the future to go to MIDLAND HARDWARE AND FURNITURE COMPANY and look at the new models now available on easy terms?

4—THE REPORTER—TELSORAM, MIDLAND, TEXAS, NOV. 22, 1951

Midland College Students Are Home For Thanksgiving Holidays

Midland college students, from schools all over the Southwest, have returned home to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents. Dorothy Wolfe, Mary Lynn Manning, Barbara Walden, Gordon Mathburn, Alex Oates and Peggy Whitson arrived for their holiday visits Wednesday. The six Midlanders are students at McMurry College in Abilene.

Also here from Abilene are John Clifford Wilcox, Cecil Smith and Carroll McKnight, students at Hardin-Simmons University.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reigle of Norman, Okla., are spending Thanksgiving with Reigle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reigle, here.

Girl Scouts Have Thanksgiving Theme

The Thanksgiving theme was carried out at the meetings of Girl Scout Troops at the Little House Tuesday.

Brownie Troop 50 sang Thanksgiving songs and told stories. Table decorations for Thanksgiving were made by Brownie Troop 47.

Tray favors for the Midland Memorial Hospital and Western Clinic were made by Brownie Troop 62. Plans were made for its installation next week.

Brownie Troop 47 took a trip to the county museum.

A discussion of troop government was held by Brownie Troop 66, which planted its flower box. It was dismissed with the "Magic Tunnel."

Intermediate Troop 2 worked on its leather crafts.

Christmas gifts were made by the members of Brownie Troop 42.

To serve a different kind of party cake, bake the cake in a ring mold. Frost it with a butter frosting tinted pale green and fill the center with scoops of vanilla and chocolate ice cream.

Sell A Man On Yourself And Then Keep Him Sold

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Sue was repeating to Mary a highly complimentary remark that Mary's husband had made about her ability as a manager and shrewd judge of human nature.

Mary wasn't too surprised. With a little giggle she said: "Well, I guess what I've been telling George for years about how remarkable I am: has finally taken root. You know, if you tell a man anything often enough and long enough he not only believes it—he thinks he thought it up."

Truer words were never spoken. So don't ever sell yourself short to the man you want to admire you. Don't say "I did the most stupid thing today!" Keep quiet about that. You must have done something smart, too. Tell him about that.

Don't keep talking about those gray hairs of yours. If you hate them, hate them privately. Play up your assets and don't call your husband's attention to your liabilities. Let Him Think

Don't keep saying what a poor housekeeper you are if you have other qualities that make your house a real home. Instead of wishing out loud that your house always looked as perfect as Mrs. Jones' does, remind your husband how feet on the davenport and that his worn but comfortable favorite chair has a place of honor in the living room.

Don't ask him if he loves you as much as he used to—and so put ideas in his head. When he does something especially thoughtful, say with beaming pride: "You must love me an awful lot to have gone to so much trouble."

Don't envy what other women have. Take pleasure in what you have—unless you want to seem to be a failure in your husband's eyes. Sure, you can sell a man any idea you want to. That's why it is so important to sell him the right idea. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

SCHEDULES DANCE

The Midland Country Club will have its regular end-of-the-month dance Saturday in the clubhouse. Jack Free's orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will be held from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

Use leftover cooked macaroni this way: turn into a greased shallow baking dish and cover with a cheese sauce and bake in a moderate oven until heated through—about 15 minutes. If you like you can sprinkle the top of the cheese sauce with buttered crumbs before baking.

Coming Events

Book Of Acts Is Studied By Circle

Mrs. C. M. Chase was hostess to the May Tidwell Circle of the First Methodist Church when it met recently.

Mrs. Jack Walcher presided over the business meeting. Mrs. Joe Smith led the fourth lesson of the Book of Acts. She was assisted by Mrs. Richard Storey and Mrs. Lionel Craver.

Other members present were Mrs. George Stewart, Mrs. Willard Bumpass, Mrs. Earl Connor and Mrs. M. C. Newell.

Season the gravy for holiday turkey well: try adding a little celery or garlic salt, Worcestershire sauce or onion juice.

LISTENING PARTY PLANNED
A listening party for the California-Stanford football game will be held in the Midland Country Club beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday. A cocktail party also will be held and a dinner will follow the game. Dinner reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. H. A. Forgeron, P. O. Box 1975, by Friday morning.

The geyser, Old Faithful, in Yellowstone National Park, erupts at intervals of anywhere from 38 to 88 minutes.

Baptist WMS Meets For Mission Study

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Westside Baptist Church met Tuesday for mission study.

Mrs. F. D. Spratt gave the study on "Pilgrimage to South America." Mrs. Gerrell Stallo gave the opening prayer and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. J. C. Bradley.

Others attending were Mrs. Morris Snyder and Mrs. Homer Langford.

THANKSGIVING, 1951

On Thanksgiving, 1951, I again express my thanks for what is mine . . . the land in which I live, the freedom which I enjoy.

I am indeed thankful for my life in a land that measures its individuals by ability . . . not political belief.

I thank you, my customers, for the reputation you have given me . . . a reputation that is enjoyed by only a few in this area. I shall do everything possible to continue to merit it.

'Indoor Plants' Is Talk Topic

Mrs. H. W. Mathews of the Pyrantha Garden Club spoke to the Green Thumb Garden Club Wednesday on "Indoor Plants."

Mrs. Paul Jordan was hostess and Mrs. David S. Coogins, Jr., was a guest. Mrs. Mathews brought several examples to illustrate her talk.

Others present were Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. P. V. Anderson, Mrs. Dayton Bliven, Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Mrs. T. H. Cole, Mrs. W. D. Hamm, Jr., Mrs. Joe Huff, Mrs. Hugh Johnson, Mrs. John Leigh, Mrs. Gene McDaniel and Mrs. Bill Reeder.

The next meeting will be held December 12 in the home of Mrs. Leigh.

Elementary P-TA Discusses Homework

Mrs. Ray Howard conducted a roundtable discussion on "Homework" Tuesday at the meeting of the North Elementary Parent-Teachers Association.

Those participating were Mrs. T. R. Houghton, Hazel Cobb and Miss Gallagher. Hope Russell, North Elementary student, gave a Thanksgiving prayer and Mary Hanks told the story of Joseph and his brother.

Mrs. R. B. Gillies reported the P-TA had taken in more than $600 at the Halloween carnival. Mrs. Stanley Erskine reported on the recent state convention at which the unit was awarded a pin for selling 90 or more magazine subscriptions.

It was announced by W. D. Ladd, principal, that Christmas holidays would begin December 19, after classes, and would end January 2. Mrs. C. A. Shaw, vice president, presided in the absence of the president.

A few drops of Tabasco sauce adds pep to onion soup. To make the soup itself add sauteed sliced onions to a good beef stock.

HANDY KITCHEN TOOL

A small grapefruit knife is a handy tool to have in the kitchen; a good knife of this sort has a bent sawtooth blade made of rust-proof stainless steel.

'DIFFERENT' RELISH

New way to use a little leftover cranberry sauce and mince meat around holiday time: mix together, add some chopped pecans, and serve as a "different" relish.

Tuna fish mixed with canned macaroni and cheese makes a quick casserole for supper eating; season with a little grated onion and top with crushed potato chips.

TEEN TALK
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Christmas is the time when kids who've been separated from each other by school and studies can get together with their pals for holiday festivities. It is wonderful, of course, if you can be on the receiving end of an invitation. But it is fun also to give a party. It does take work—you can't expect your guests to entertain themselves. They must be made comfortable and happy every minute they are in your home.

So if you do plan a party at Christmas, be sure the invitations are pretty, decorations are in the spirit of the day, food is satisfying and entertainment is planned to keep the guests amused. You should have some new Christmas records for dancing, and some for singing carols.

If you want to insure having people accept your invitation, make sure it is pretty and really inviting. You can make a lovely star or small Christmas stocking of Yule tree ornament design out of red or white or green mat paper. Then you can write your invitation on it in either white, red or green ink.

Decorations need not be expensive. Pick up some trailing ground pine in the woods or buy similar vines at the florist and decorate your fireplace or hang a garland at the door. You'll find fresh greens are prettier and less expensive than the crepe paper kind. A row of red, white and green candles across the fireplace or placed on the piano or radio cabinet will lend another touch of Yule to your home.

While it is fun to sit down at a table, it is lots more fun and easier on the hostess to serve a buffet supper. But if you do sit down, cookie place cards would surely make a hit. You'll need a large soft cookie, narrow ribbon, a paper dolly, colored sugar and water frosting (2 tablespoons of sugar to 1 1/2 teaspoons of water).

Place cookie on dolly. Thread darning needle with ribbon and sew the cookie to the dolly. You can do this if you are careful to stick the needle through with ribbon all the way and then back again. Leave about five inches of ribbon ends on each side of the cookie which you will tie in a bow. Dip a toothpick in frosting to write the name on the cookie.

If you are working on a skimpy budget, serve foods which have plenty of bulk and are filling. You can cream hardboiled eggs and serve them on rice, and that is always a nice inexpensive dish. Add some green pepper and pimento and the dish will take on a Yuletide flavor. You can cook the creamed eggs in advance, and have them all ready to serve just by heating with a little additional milk. Hot buns or rolls are good with this dish.

A Christmas quiz would be lots of fun and really keep the guests on their toes. Here are some suggested questions:

1. When was the public singing of Christmas carols forbidden?
2. Did mothers read The Night Before Christmas to their children during the Revolutionary war?
3. What were the names of Santa's reindeers?
4. When was the first Christmas card sent out and from what country did it originate?
5. How did the legend that Santa Clause comes down a chimney originate?
6. What English queen requested Christmas gifts from her subjects?

Answers: (1) During the days of Oliver Cromwell in the Puritan-dominated 17th century. (2) No, because it wasn't written until 1822. (3) Francoer, Dancer, Donner, Blitzen, Comet, Cupid, Dasher, Vixen. (4) The first Christmas card originated in England during the reign of Queen Victoria. (5) In Teutonic times Hertha, goddess of the hearth and home, was supposed to descend through the smoke of burning fir boughs. Santa Clause was later identified in the same way. (6) Queen Elizabeth stipulated that her subjects give her Christmas presents.

Formal Opening Of Jewelry Store Slated Saturday

Ken Umberson's Jewelry Store, situated at 110 South Main Street, will hold its formal opening in Midland Saturday.

Umberson's will feature many nationally advertised brands of watches including Movado, Rolex, Longines, Bulova, Gruen, Hamilton and others.

In addition, two precision watch-makers, each with 20 years experience, will maintain a watch repair service.

Other quality merchandise which will be handled by the firm includes pottery, sterling silver, lamps, English Bone China, Bavarian China, Postoria glassware, all nationally known clock brands, Keep sake Diamonds, Parker and Sheaffer pens and Meeker bill folds.

A rock collector for 15 years, Umberson also has the delicate instruments which are used to identify stones and will gladly demonstrate them.

Mr. and Mrs. Umberson moved here from Truth or Consequences, N.M., where they owned a jewelry store 12 years. Previously, they were in business at Ranger, Texas.

Asiatic War Brides Take Off For Mainland

HONOLULU—(AP)—Eleven smiling Asiatic war brides and their American soldier-husbands stopped briefly in Honolulu Wednesday night on their way to new American homes. Their Pan American plane left for San Francisco at 11:30 p.m. 3:30 a.m. Thursday (GST). The shy group of 10 Korean and one Chinese were dressed in American style clothing.

The last successful invasion of England was that of William the Conqueror in 1066.

Ruffman Paces 46 Surviving Entries In Pan American

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico's border-to-border Pan American Auto Race went into its longest run Thursday with only 46 entries left of the original 105.

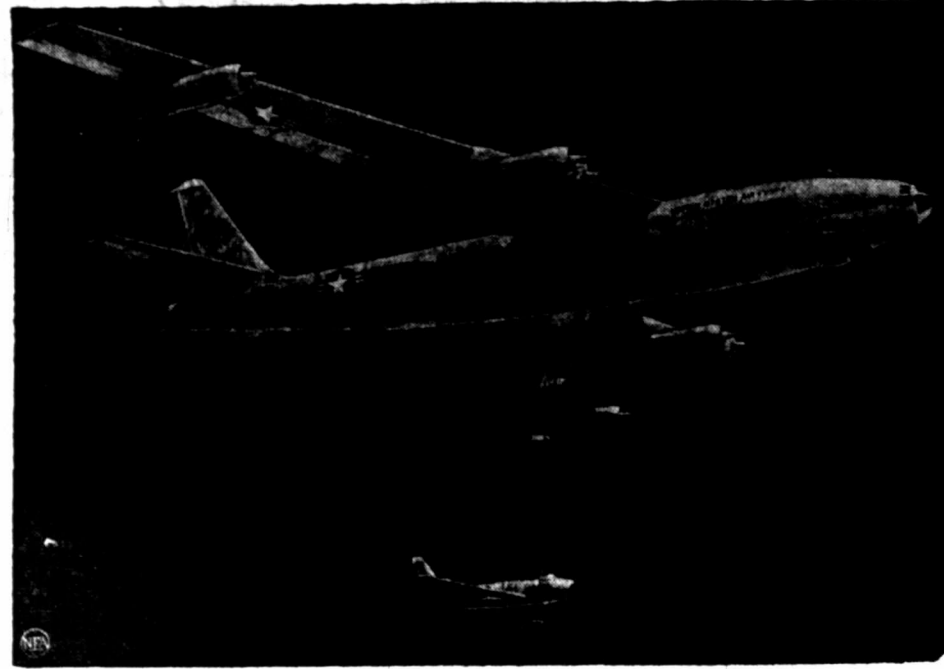

Thursday's two legs add to a total of 600 miles (967 kilometers) and leave the race in Durango. They include long level stretches and fewer mountains.

The first leg is Mexico City to Leon, a distance of 287 miles (430 kilometers). After a brief stopover, the cars leave in the order of arrival for Durango, another 333 miles (537 kilometers). The maximum time on the first leg is three hours 50 minutes; on the second four hours 30 minutes.

Troy Ruffman, Lynwood, Calif., snatched the race lead away from French expert Jean Trevoux in Wednesday's double leg from Oaxaca to Mexico City. Ruffman, piloting a Mercury, was three minutes and nine seconds ahead of his nearest competitor, Douglas Ehlinger of Puebla, Mexico, in a Packard.

Trevoux, in another Packard, dropped to fifth place, 14 minutes and 28 seconds behind the leading time. Piero Taruffi, Italy, in a Ferrari, was in third place, and William Sterling, El Paso, with a Chrysler, was fourth.

Still in the race were 19 United States drivers, 17 Mexicans, five Venezuelans, three Italians, one Peruvian and one Frenchman.

FASTEST PAIR IN THE WORLD—Pictured together in flight for the first time, somewhere over Kansas, are the world's fastest known bomber, the Boeing B-47 Stratojet, and the fastest known fighter, the North American F-86 Sabrejet. The F-86, veteran of Korea air battles, holds the official world speed record of better than 670 miles an hour. The B-47, powered by six GE engines of the same type as the Sabrejet, can do better than 800 miles an hour.

Boss Of A-Plane Project Plans To Be Aboard First Flight—Time Uncertain

CINCINNATI, OHIO—(NEA)—Cramer W. LaPierre plans to be aboard when the first atomic-powered airplane makes its initial flight.

And well he might, because the genial, brilliant, 47-year-old engineer will more or less be the plane's daddy. As boss of General Electric Company's huge jet engine program, he now also takes over direction of the project which is to produce the first nuclear aircraft engine.

Nicknamed "Jim," for no explainable reason, he is of average height and weight, has deep-set, kindly eyes, a healthy laugh and a heavy crop of brown wavy hair.

Few men in the U. S. are as qualified as he for the big job he faces. He has been closely associated with atomic developments from their start. He helped work out many of the problems in the manufacturing process involved in production of the very first A-bomb.

Then he worked on the development of an atomic engine for a submarine, contributing solutions to many of the basic engineering problems, and helping to make the A-sub a reality in the very near future.

Just Disclosed
Some of the complex problems LaPierre will face have just been disclosed by Dr. Miles C. Leverett, another top authority on nuclear aircraft power who has been working on the project from the start.

Further details, cleared for public release by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Air Force, have been revealed by LaPierre, who is an efficient production boss as well as an engineer.

LaPierre has no desk in any of his various offices around the country. He keeps no files. He seldom writes a letter. He keeps a mass of scientific and administrative detail in his head and prefers to do business face-to-face, which involves a fantastic amount of travel.

Not the least reason for giving LaPierre this assignment is his ability to get along with people and keep harmony among working groups.

With the Air Force, Atomic Energy Commission, Convair—the firm making the A-plane air frame—and several other interested parties in-olved, too many cooks could spoil the stew. It has happened on similar projects in the past.

It will be LaPierre's responsibility, one expected to occupy a lot of his time, to keep all parties involved out of each other's hair and on the beam of the final objective, an atomic aircraft engine.

Just when he will be able to make his first flight in the A-plane he will not say because of obvious security reasons.

"But it shouldn't be very many years before we get concrete results on what we're trying to do," he says. There's not the slightest doubt in his mind that the job will be accomplished. He adds: "Gosh, I sure hope we will beat the Russians into the air with the first nuclear plane."

New Question
LaPierre raises a new question on the A-plane project.

He doesn't think the successful flight of the first one will necessitate a revision of the program.

Veteran Revived By Heart Massage Now Writes, Talks

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—A Navy veteran restored to life by heart massage after 15 minutes of death, now writes letters, feeds himself and recognizes hospital attendants by name.

Melvin E. Hewitt, 28, who surprised physicians by recovering from a long coma at the Veterans Hospital here, talks fluently for short periods and is able to play cards, attendants said Wednesday. But sometimes he has periods of blankness, staring vacantly.

Hewitt fell last October 3 during a scuffle in front of an El Monte tavern, and two doctors said he had no heart or respiratory action for at least 15 minutes. They opened his chest cavity, began squeezing his heart, and restored his breathing.

Doctors said the veteran still is on the hospital critical list, however.

POLLARD IS VISITOR
Fisher Pollard, a former Midland County deputy sheriff, is visiting here from New Mexico.

sarily herald mass production of atomic-powered airplanes. The Air Force will first have to decide whether the advantages of a nuclear aircraft are worth the tremendous cost and effort involved in making them and keeping them flying.

Also involved is the state of guided missile development by the time the A-plane is ready to fly. Bombers might easily be obsolete by that time. He does not now believe that there will be any civilian or commercial application for a nuclear aircraft.

It is estimated in Washington that somewhere near 1,000 persons will be employed on the project. LaPierre is now trying to hand pick his crew, which will include mostly engineers experienced in atomic work, draftsmen and machinists.

They will work in a heavily guarded building which is part of the GE Lockland jet engine plant, near Cincinnati. But the part of the project involving actual use of fissionable material will be done elsewhere—not in the Lockland plant.

Blind Alleys
Despite his assurances of success, he admits that there are plenty of blind alleys to be avoided.

The No. 1 problem to be licked, however, he feels, is creating a radiation shield which will protect the crew from the lethal effects of the fission process, yet be light enough to be carried aloft in the plane.

This scotches some reports that the plane will be a drone, run from a mother plane flying miles away from the dangerous radiation.

JUVENILE GAMBLERS
SINGAPORE—(AP)—A drive is underway against juvenile gamblers. The youngsters, who rarely are above 15, set up stalls in alleys and footpaths and start roulette and "wheel of fortune" games. First offenders face loss of apparatus and cash in hand. Other offenders can be fined up to $100.

Important among newly developed equipment for speedy jet-propelled fighter planes is an autopilot that will guide the craft through loops and rolls, and an electrically-heated windshield to provide clear vision regardless of weather conditions.

Texas Farm Bureau Asks 100 Per Cent Parity For Cotton

HOUSTON—(AP)—J. Walter Hammond of Taylor County, president of the Texas Farm Bureau since 1939, was reelected Wednesday. Election came as the delegates to the annual convention wound up business with a group of resolutions. One resolution called for 100 per cent of parity price support for cotton with quarterly, instead of annual, adjustments of parity. It also asked that the department have "substantial data" before publishing crop reports. The delegates also resolved that the "present chaotic situation in the livestock and meat industry" has proved that price controls a unworkable. Besides Hammond, other officers named were C. H. Devaney, Oklahoma, vice president; and J. H. West, Bishop, secretary-treasurer. On the ranches of Uruguay there are more than three cattle and nine sheep for every person.

Young Narcotics Agent, Posing As Student, Breaks Up Dope Ring In Texas High School

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—A narcotics agent, barely out of his teens, Wednesday broke up a major marijuana ring in Wichita Falls High School.

Officers, holding a rendezvous in a secluded farm house to get their surprising orders, fanned out to arrest five men, two women and four high school students.

Thursday, officers still were poring over lists of students strongly believed to have purchased marijuana. Still others were to be questioned as possible suspects.

Officers said arrests ranged from retailers to wholesalers.

The narcotics agent, only 23, enrolled in the large high school two years ago.

Since then, while posing to sellers as a high school boy, he purchased $18,000 worth of the habit-forming narcotic with marked bills. Identity Kept Secret.

Wednesday, just before officers made their arrests, he traveled to Fort Worth with one of the men who later was arrested and purchased another $3,500 of the weed.

Texas Ranger Jim Geer and District Attorney Alan Haley refused to reveal the name of the agent or his home city.

Geer and Haley said they "borrowed" the agent on the stipulation his identity would not be revealed.

Only 11 persons knew about the investigation. Wednesday, Haley called Wichita Falls Police Chief Bud Daniel at 2:30 p.m. and asked Daniel to bring 19 officers to a secluded farm. The 11 officers in the know were there.

When the 19 city officers arrived, Haley and Geer briefed them. In two hours, the arrests were made.

Canadian Navy Ousts American Pseudo-Surgeon

VICTORIA, B.C.—(AP)—The Canadian Navy's "mystery surgeon," Ferdinand Waldo Demara, Jr., of Lawrence, Mass., but apparently not of a medical school—language in immigration detention quarters Thursday.

The 29-year-old American was discharged Wednesday from Canada's sea service which, the Navy said, he had entered fraudulently by using the name and medical credentials of Dr. Joseph Cyr of New Brunswick.

Demara's father has said as far as he knows his son's only medical training was as an orderly in a Massachusetts hospital. But Demara, under the alias of Surgeon-Lt. Joseph Cyr, performed a series of shipboard operations in Korean waters.

Press accounts of his surgical exploits brought him to the attention of New Brunswick's Dr. Cyr—whose medical papers were stolen last year—and resulted in the exposure.

U. S. Rejects New Soviet Protest As Pure Propaganda

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The State Department, rejecting a Russian assertion that the U.S. is promoting subversive activities behind the Iron Curtain, says that charge comes with "singular ill-grace" from Moscow.

The Soviet regime, the department said in a statement made public Wednesday night, consistently has supported "subversive activity against the U.S. and other nations of the free world."

The Russian protest, made in a note handed to the U.S. Embassy on Tuesday, said the U.S. was guilty of a "new aggressive act x x x towards the Soviet Union."

"Groundless x x x propaganda," the State Department replied.

William F. Holt, 87, Dies In California

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—William Franklin Holt, 87, immortalized in a Harold Bell Wright novel for his work in changing the Imperial Valley Desert into rich farmland, died in a hospital Wednesday night.

He failed to recover from surgery performed October 27.

Holt built the first railroad into the area, then erected lighting plants and a telephone system and helped develop its water resources. He founded the town of Holton, now Holtville, and was instrumental in establishing El Centro.

Jefferson Worth, central character in Wright's book, "The Winning of Barbara Worth," was fashioned closely after Holt, for years a friend of the author.

Texas Should Have New Constitution, Says John N. Garner

UVALDE—(AP)—John N. Garner vows he's through talking politics but he is one citizen who thinks Texas ought to stop patching up its 75-year-old Constitution.

He spent his 83rd birthday Thursday hunting deer and turkey in the remote Edwards Plateau country north of here—as far as he could get away from public affairs.

That was all his birthday celebration amounted to. But before he left Uvalde he let down the usual "no quote" barriers enough to speak his mind on re-writing the Constitution of Texas and on voter apathy.

He told The Associated Press he meant it when he said he won't say he's for or against "this feller or that feller" in politics, but that the Constitution is another matter.

Raps Light Vote Turnout

"It's something both Democrats and Republicans are interested in," the former vice president said. "At least they ought to be. I think it's a shame on Texas when only 13 per cent of the voters turn out for anything as important as a constitutional amendment election."

Garner was among the 13 per cent who voted last week on five proposed changes in the Constitution. He didn't mind saying he scratched them all, and why.

"I don't think we will ever get a new Constitution in Texas until we stop patching this one up."

He called on the newspapers of Texas to campaign for a new Constitution.

"You can hit that just as hard as you want to," he said. "It could be done if the newspapers would get in behind it."

Garner suggested a constitutional convention of about 75 members, and said they ought to serve without pay except for their expenses.

"They ought to be really representative," he added.

"Business men, lawyers, doctors, ranchers. Even a newspaperman."

He then commented that the voters still would have a crack at it when the new Constitution was submitted to them.

Tax Probe Spreads To Oklahoma City

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Internal Revenue Bureau said Wednesday, without elaborating, that a special investigation is being made of J. Frank Wilcox, chief of audits in the collector's office at Oklahoma City.

There was no indication of the nature of the investigation.

More than 30 Internal Revenue Bureau employes, including regional collectors, have been fired or suspended or have resigned this year. A widespread inquiry has been underway by the bureau and by a House Ways and Means subcommittee.

The subcommittee Wednesday announced an inquiry convinced it that its chairman, Representative King (D-Calif.), did not intervene improperly in three Southern California tax cases.

King had termed rumors that he did intervene "false and malicious" and asked an inquiry. The other four subcommittee members, two Democrats and two Republicans, joined in a statement saying King had not acted improperly. They said a full report will be issued later.

RATE PROBE POSTPONED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A proposed inquiry into the interstate rates charged by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and associated firms in the Bell System has been postponed indefinitely by the Federal Communications Commission.

Midland Stamp Club Exhibits To Feature Various Businesses

Midland merchants sponsoring frames of stamps in the first annual Midland Stamp Club exhibit have been surprised to find how well the exhibits fit into the theme of their businesses.

Cal Boykin and the Sheriff's Pose are sponsoring a frame of stamps depicting horses. The frame is to be on exhibit before the show in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer and as the work of William S. Keys, Jr. Horses have been used as the subject on stamps of almost every country.

The Muldrow Map and Reproduction Company is to display a frame of stamps portraying maps. The frame is the work of William Sandeen.

Midlanders also will see in the window of Key, Wilson and Maxson a display of four frames illustrating the use of stamps to disseminate propaganda. Jimmy Wilson, interested in the political uses of stamps, asked to sponsor these stamps, which were prepared in frames by Louis H. Michaelson and Howard E. Davis. The frames indicate the excellent use of the postage stamp as a medium of publicity and propaganda.

Oil Fields of World

The West Texas Gas Company is to have on display a frame illustrating the oil fields of the world as shown on stamps. Most of the major fields of the Middle East and Russia as well as the fields in Venezuela and other South American countries, are shown. Davis also prepared these frames.

Quincy Belles' Flowers will have on display a frame showing flowers on stamps.

The Midland Stamp Club show will be held in the City-County Auditorium, December 1 and 2. The exhibit will be open from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, followed by an auction, and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Weather Again Hampers Search For Missing C-47

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA—(AP)—Bad weather again kept search planes from Yugoslavia's skies Thursday in their hunt for a missing U. S. Air Force C-47 transport. The transport, with four men aboard, disappeared Monday.

The U. S. Embassy plane here and a Yugoslav civilian plane at Sarajevo both were grounded by poor visibility. Twelve U. S. planes were ready at Treviso, in Northeast Italy, and eight more in Rome, should the clouds and fogs break up.

The plane disappeared on a routine flight from Germany to Belgrade. It apparently got off course and was fired on by Hungarian and Romanian border guards, but the pilot's radio report of the firing made no mention of any damage.

It was believed the plane had turned back from the borders of the Soviet satellites and made a crash landing, out of gas, either in Yugoslavia or in the Adriatic.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

As America grew, it became the custom for the governors of each of the States to set aside a day of Thanksgiving each year.

Illustrated by Walt Scott

In the Fall of 1864, Abraham Lincoln, seeing in sight the victory that was to preserve the Union, proclaimed the last Thursday of November as a Day of National Thanksgiving.

Succeeding Presidents followed Lincoln's example. For a short period the date was changed to the third Thursday in November. More recently, Congress decided that Thanksgiving should fall on the fourth Thursday, which is now the day on which America thanks God for its many blessings—the greatest of which is that some freedom the Pilgrims sought and found.

McCamey News

McCAMEY—A union Thanksgiving church service was held at 8 a.m. Thursday in the First Methodist Church. It was sponsored by the McCamey Ministerial Alliance. The City Council recently voted to grant a rate increase to the southwestern Bell Telephone Company here. The rate increase will go into effect Jan. 1, 1952. Derwood Langston has been named general chairman of the unified budget campaign now in progress at the First Methodist Church here. A corps of workers will assist. The campaign will close before Christmas. The Rev. E. L. Mason, missionary from Liberia, Africa, recently returned at the Assembly of God Church here. Funeral services recently were held here for Mrs. L. C. Ash, long time resident of McCamey. She died after an extended illness at Proctor. The recently had observed a golden wedding anniversary. Interment was in the McCamey cemetery. The City Council recently voted to widen Fifth Street in front of business establishments, which recently have been moved back in a construction program here. Royce E. Durham has been employed as night policeman for McCamey. He succeeds Dean Collins, who resigned. Mrs. Dee Locklin and Mrs. Doug Pickerman were delegates from here to a recent P-TA party in Dallas. Mrs. Jack George and sons, Wally and Bruce, have returned from Albany, where they attended funeral rites for Mrs. Ella Duncan, their mother and grandmother, respectively. Absentee Balloting Ends Absentee balloting in a road bond election scheduled here November 24, closed Tuesday. A $1,050,000 road program is proposed. The Catholic parish here is conducting a clothing drive for Keweenaw. It will end November 25. Persons with clothing to give are asked to leave it at the rectory. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Sam Bedell and R. E. Collins recently attended funeral rites for R. E. Pollard in Corpus Christi. Pollard, who had visited frequently in McCamey, was a son-in-law of the Fred Gibsons. Truman Will Miss Army-Navy Clash

KEY WEST, FLA.—(AP)—President Truman will not attend the Army-Navy football game to be played at Philadelphia December 1. Presidential Secretary Joseph Short announced the decision Wednesday, shortly after the President returned to his vacation retreat after an overnight visit to Washington. The President, who has attended the service game regularly since entering the White House, plans to remain in Florida until about the middle of December.

HOLIDAY VISITORS IN G. J. SEVIER HOME

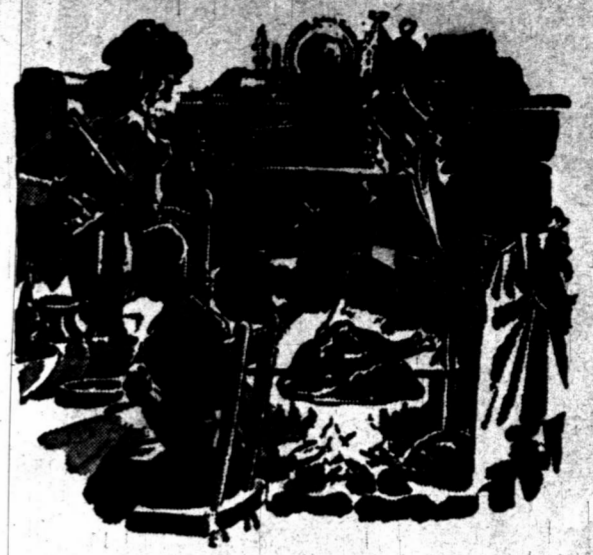

Mrs. Ben W. Sevier and children, Wylly, Cyndy and Danny, of San Angelo are spending the Thanksgiving holidays in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Sevier here. Gilbert Sevier, Jr., a student at Sul Ross College, Alpine, also is spending the holidays with his parents.

Postmaster Urges Early Yule Mailing

Postmaster N. G. Oates Thursday made his annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages. "It's later than you think!" the postmaster warned. "Most people wait until December rolls around before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought. The postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in Midland history. He predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1950 holiday season, when 875,000 pieces of mail were cancelled. "This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," he stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas. If the public cooperates wholeheartedly, Christmas packages for distant states should be mailed by December 5, he declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10. Christmas cards to friends and those in other states should be deposited by December 10. Greetings for Midland delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas. Preparations to handle this Yuletide rush already have begun. The Midland Post Office is setting up new sorting tables, hauling out reserve mail sacks, and overhauling delivery trucks. Thousands of bright new postage stamps are on hand, and even the post office pens are all getting new points. TO STAMFORD Mr. and Mrs. Luther Tidwell are spending Thanksgiving Day in Stamford.

Those Flying Saucers May Have Been Freedom Balloons

THE DUKE STEPS OUT—Grizzled Bono Clark, who sports the title "Metaphysical Theological Cosmologist," and wears a lampshade denoting his royal rank as "Duke of the Hobos," relaxes at a recent hobo party on New York's Bowery. The cigar butt, trademark of the hobo, and a tramp kitten add atmosphere.

Free air: Freedom "pillows" are blown up before flight.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The balloons now drifting on "winds of freedom" across the Iron Curtain with truth messages from the Western world are a scientific dream that took two years to become reality.

The idea was first advanced in 1949 as a weapon in the cold war with the Kremlin. Although a similar program had been studied for use against the Nazis near the end of World War II, nothing was done about it immediately.

A year ago leaders of the Crusade for Freedom took up the idea again as a possible way to aid the work being done by Radio Free Europe and Voice of America broadcasts to satellite countries.

Helped Crusade
A food company, strangely enough, helped the crusade develop one of its message-carrying balloons. General Mills scientists, who have been working on cosmic ray and high altitude meteorology since the end of the war, produced a balloon made of the same type of plastic American housewives use for wrapping food. The plastic is so thin that 300 of the balloons laid flat made a pillow only one inch thick. But they inflate into a "pillow" four and a half feet square that carries a payload of 200 single-sheet messages.

When they're released, the "pillows" float along on the wind a 20,000 feet, then return to earth in a "target area" pre-determined by the amount of gas used. Leakage of the gas through the pores of the fabric brings them down anywhere from 100 to 700 miles from the launching point.

Mistakenly Reported
During experiments in the U. S., some of these plastic "pillows" were mistakenly reported as flying saucers.

There is a ghostly effect when they come down, after which the balloon hops along the ground, catching on bushes and fences and making it easy for them to be found.

A second type of balloon which was floated on westerly winds into Czechoslovakia was developed by a Boston chemist's firm, which conducted experiments with rubber weather balloons for the Crusade.

This balloon has a shorter range, climbing steadily from the launching point until it reaches 30,000 feet, where it bursts, scattering its payload of 2200 single-sheet messages over many square miles.

Airborne: During test flights, some freedom "pillows" were mistaken for flying saucers.

Squirrels, Robins Are New To Visitors

BROOKLINE, MASS.—(AP)—Although she had seen numberless birds, small animals and fruit at home in Hawaii, Mrs. Rose L. Schroeder, 39, had never seen squirrels, robins or an apple tree until recently when she visited the U. S. for the first time.

Mrs. Schroeder, the former Malle Lokelani Kohokikalani, lives in Hawaii. A 40-degree temperature she encountered here was the coldest she had ever known.

Cotton has become an important money crop in Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Some Fantastic Facts On Nuclear-Powered Aircraft

CINCINNATI—(NEA)—The first atomic airplane will be able to fly a mission anywhere on the globe under the constant protection of darkness.

With a minimum top speed of 1000 miles per hour, it will fly at the same speed as the sun travels around the earth, keeping the earth between it and the sun.

That fantastic peek into the future has been given by the Air Force and the Atomic Energy Commission with the partial lifting of the curtain of secrecy surrounding the atom-powered airplane.

As the big task of making such a plane a flying reality enters its final stages, officials have released some new details about it, as well as some of the immediate problems of its construction yet to be solved.

In its Lockland plant just outside of Cincinnati, General Electric Co. now is concentrating on making the first actual nuclear aircraft engine under contracts with the Air Force and the AEC.

The 1000-mile-per-hour speed would be required for a globe-circling "mission in darkness" near the equator. At the latitude of the U. S., such a mission would require a speed of about 750 miles an hour. These speeds, plus other data on the size and weight of the reactor and shielding needed around the atomic engine, make some other facts about the plane fairly obvious.

It probably will have swept-back wings, best design for its supersonic speeds. It will be somewhere between the size of the Boeing B-50 bomber and the B-36. Weight of the shielding necessary to protect the crews from atomic radiation is the biggest factor in the plane's size.

It is estimated that the shielding will have to weigh between 50 and 100 tons. Because the atomic fuel will weigh only a few pounds at most, the shielding will take the place of the fuel load on conventional planes as far as size and strength in design go. Weight of a fuel load of a big bomber is much more than 75 tons.

Explains Problem

Dr. Miles C. Leverett, one of the outstanding authorities on nuclear aircraft power who has been working on the project almost since its start, and who now is working on it for GE, explains a major problem in the plane's construction caused by the shield:

"The existence of a large concentrated weight, such as the shield and the reactor at one point in an aircraft, makes it necessary to redesign the structure of the aircraft to accommodate this weight. Although large aircraft are designed for very large gross weights, this weight is usually distributed over the wing and throughout the fuselage. Concentrating the weight in the fuselage greatly increases wing bending movements and necessitates structural redesign in many cases."

However, this would not necessarily affect the outer appearance of the plane. It would require heavy forgings inside the wing and fuselage structure. It has also been suggested that the shield itself could be used to give strength to the frame.

Another design problem is explained by Dr. Leverett:

"The very fact that only a small amount of the fuel is consumed in flight means that the gross weight of a nuclear aircraft will be approx-

Thanksgiving

As the Pilgrims paused in mid-Autumn during their building of a free Nation, counted their blessings, and called the day "Thanksgiving," so do we like to pause in our job of storekeeping and say "Thank You."

We have so much for which to be thankful—for the same free Nation—for the confidence you've shown in us—for your patronage whether it be large or small.

Your continued interest and friendship have been a source of great inspiration to us here at Hardwick-Stewart, and each of us hopes that through the coming years this mutual feeling will grow even stronger.

Tricks With Cards Brighten Christmas

This young homemaker has utilized Christmas greeting cards from friends to decorate a screen (upper center) that lends holiday atmosphere to home. She also places cards in cardboard train (lower center) designed for purpose. It can double as a toy. Cards typical of the 1951 greeting card collections are (upper left) for the man in service; holly-trimmed card (lower left) that opens like book; folding card (upper right) that stands by itself when open; and card with hearth-and-home theme (lower right).

By GAILE DUGAS
How best to display the Christmas cards that start to pour in anytime after the middle of December is a matter that must be settled anew each holiday season. What made a solution last year will not make one this year, unless you want to be thought of as lacking in originality.

This year, you might collect compliments by putting up a friendship screen in your living room. Any inexpensive screen will do; you'll cover the panels alternately in inexpensive red-and-green cotton broadcloth. The fabric can be stapled to the screen quickly and easily.

The friendship screen gets cards from your friends attached to it by means of gold foil cut into strips, formed into circles and fastened firmly with cellophane tape.

The design that you pick for your screen is a matter of your own taste. We used golden circles, bowknots and the silhouette of a Christmas tree. But you might want to fasten your cards to a star, or a reindeer or a snow man.

For those of you who prefer a ready-made solution, a greeting card firm has designed a small cardboard train, the right size for a centerpiece or for the mantelpiece. It has a locomotive, a caboose and three cars, two of them bearing the season's greetings. It's meant to hold a whole family's card collection and later, it can double as a toy for the children. If they don't get it first, that is. And it's pin-money priced.

The greeting cards preferred by Americans across the country are, in this order: floral designs, animals and birds, candles, Santa Claus, church bells, fancy titles, outdoor winter scenes, snowmen, children and cherubs.

These are the cards they most like to send and presumably, like to get in return. But specialized

91-Year-Old Republican Party Stalwart Dies

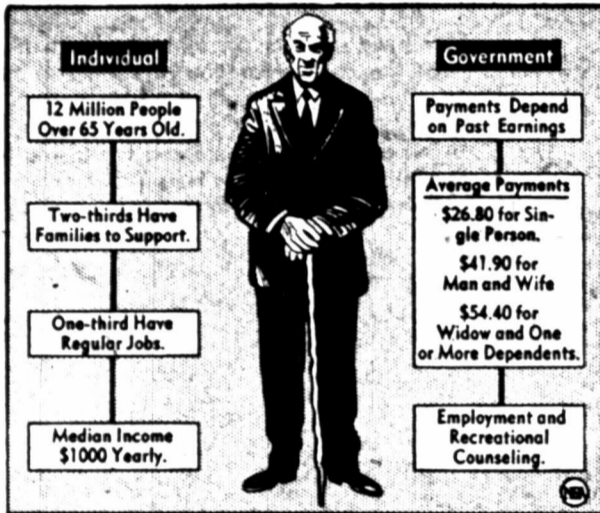

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH. —(AP)—John Wood Blodgett, 91-year-old multi-millionaire and Republican Party stalwart, died Wednesday of a heart ailment.

Blodgett, an intimate of six Republican presidents, succumbed at his palatial estate here. He had failed to rally since being stricken in late September.

Most of his millions came from the lumbering industry. He won wide attention in World War I by renting a steamship to bring home Americans stranded in Europe.

Mark Hanna appointed him Republican national committeeman in 1896, and he won reelection from 1900 through 1912. In those and succeeding years, Blodgett became a personal friend of Presidents McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, Taft, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

No one knows what the most distant star is. With the new telescope at Mt. Palomar Observatory, clusters can be seen that are a billion light years away.

PLIGHT OF THE AGED—Some 12 million Americans, or one out of twelve in the entire population, have passed their 65th birthday. This marks an increase of nine million since 1900. Because of this rise, each working person in the U. S. supports more older people out of his earnings than ever before. That's because there are more Social Security beneficiaries to take care of and also fewer workers hold their jobs when they reach this age. Newschart above shows what the aged are up against and what the Government is doing to alleviate distress among this group by Social Security payments.

Congratulations!

Who's going to win the state football championships? Don't look now, but four West Texas teams might make the grade. Wink is the A favorite, Kermit has an outside chance in AA, Lubbock is the AAA choice and Midland—yes, Midland might just make it in AAA.

Wink must prevail over a total of 31 other district winners, Kermit would compete with 31, Lubbock and Midland seven each.

Lubbock will be favored to rip Yaleta in the opening round game. Wink was the choice as the Wildcats tied into Eden Thursday and Kermit is a slight choice over Littlefield Friday.

Midland, playing Thursday in its final district encounter—gets Breckenridge here December 1. The Buckles, however, probably will be favored as they currently are rated the number two team in AAA and Midland is fifth.

Either Arlington Heights (FW) or Poly (FW), Sunset (D) or Woodrow Wilson (D), Waco, Wichita Falls or Texarkana, Ray Corpus Christi, Lamar (H) and Baytown will form Lubbock's opposition. The situation is to be cleared up in three of the districts this weekend.

Definitely joining Midland in the playoffs are Breckenridge, Grand Prairie, Temple, Conroe and Eldon (San Antonio).

Marshall and Longview meet for the title Thursday and Brownsville is due to win the other spot this weekend.

In Class AA, Shamrock, Anson, Tahoka, Winters, Ranger, Arlington, LaPorte and French (Beaumont) are top teams.

Kermit already has defeated Winters, 20-13, in a non-district contest which opened the season for both teams.

Wink can expect its toughest competition—on the past records—come from Eden, Abertany, Denver City, Wylie (Ablene), Albany and Plano.

Dunny Goode Needs 114 Yards To Crack Pigskin-Toting Mark

ABILENE —(AP)— Dunny Goode will be after the all-time ball-carrying record for a Hardin-Simmons football player when the Cowboys meet Arizona here Saturday night. He needs 114 yards to do it.

The record is 1,281 yards, set by Doc Mobley in 1942 when Mobley led the nation. Goode has rolled up 1,168 yards on 227 carries this season.

If Dunny doesn't get the 114 against Arizona he'll still have another chance — Hardin-Simmons plays Texas Tech December 1 in the season finale.

Mobley's record of 1,281 yards was compiled with a team that was undefeated but once tied in nine tilts.

TUCSON, ARIZ. —(AP)— Dunny Goode of Hardin-Simmons continues as the rushing and total offense leader in the Border Conference with a net gain of 1,168 yards rushing in 227 carries for an average of 5.1 yards a carry.

His rushing yardage also places him on top in total offense. His fellow player, Quarterback Bob Hart, is second in total offense by virtue of 934 yards in passing and 84 in rushing for a total of 1,018.

Goode also is the scoring leader with 13 touchdowns for 78 points. Jim Turner of Texas Tech is next with 10 TD's for 60 points.

Goode has earned his yardage on a team that has won five and lost four in nine games.

Co-holder of the all-time Border Conference record for his 11 touchdown pass grabs in 1949, Goode lacks 334 yards of tying the all-time national mark held by Wilford (Whizzer) White, Arizona State (Tempe) back, who established football history with a record of 1,502 yards to hand the Border Conference 113 national rushing championships.

Goode is certain to erase a national record from the books against Arizona. Current mark for the most rushes in one season is held by Byron Townsend of Texas who surpassed Mobley's all-time record of 227 carries in 1946 by one for 228 last year.

Should Goode score three touchdowns against Arizona and Texas Tech, he can tie Mobley's record of 16 TD's in 1946. Goode has scored 13 touchdowns this season.

Mackey Motor Team Of Midland Cops Bowling Tourney

AMARILLO—The Mackey Motor Company of Midland won the Fourteenth Annual Panhandle Bowling Tournament which concluded here Wednesday.

Ken Baker shot games of 200, 224 and 201 for a 625 total—highest of the meet.

Other Midland scores were: Ernie Crites, 532; James Hill, 548; Copper Daugherty, 513, and Jack Mashburn, 511.

The 2,749 Mackey Motor total was only 28 pins off the all-time record of the 14-year meet.

Charlie Trippi, quarterback of the Chicago Cardinals, played in four college all-star games.

Midland Winds Up Regular Season In Plainview Tilt

PLAINVIEW—A large, colorful holiday crowd was due here at 2 p.m. Thursday when the Midland Bulldogs and the Plainview Bulldogs close out their regular football seasons for 1951.

But regardless of the outcome, Midland has a Class AAA playoff game in Midland December 1 with Breckenridge. Midland sewed up the 1-AAA laurels with a convincing 39 to 0 win over Sweetwater last weekend.

Still, that was to take little from the Thanksgiving Day battle here Thursday.

Plainview, pre-season pick to cap the loop crown, could atone for its miserable showing by coping this one from the Bulldogs of Midland. Hate The Size.

They have the size, at that. Plainview's line—largest to face Midland this year—will weigh in at 190 pounds per starter. Compare that with 181 for Midland. In the backfields, its Plainview going with a 177 average and Midland with a 167 figure.

Don Caylor, 190-pound halfback and Tom Caskey, 180-pound fullback, spearheaded the Plainview offensive. Caskey gained more than 200 yards last year in a losing effort as Midland won, 26 to 7.

Midland was expected to go with all-state candidate Ralph Brooks throwing and running from the tailback spot, and Larry Friday and Roy Kimsey teaming with Brooks.

Midland has lost to Brownwood, 19-13 and been tied by Poly (Fort Worth) 13-13.

The Purple holds wins over San Angelo, 21-6; Yaleta, 7-6; Crozier Tech (Dallas) 28-9; Lamesa, 34-7; Vernon, 14-13; Big Spring, 46-9, and Sweetwater, 39-0.

Plainview lost to Lubbock, 27-6; Pampa, 28-0; Big Spring, 21-20; Sweetwater, 27-6 and Amarillo, 19-7. Wins are owned over Lamesa, 6-0; Poly (FW) 40-27 and Austin (El Paso), 26-14. A 6-6 tie was played with Vernon.

Midland was ruled a two-touchdown favorite in most quarters.

San Angelo JC Team Is Selected For Oleander Bowl

GALVESTON—(AP)—The football teams of San Angelo Junior College of Texas and Hinds Junior College of Raymond, Miss., have been selected to play in the Oleander Bowl here January 1.

The announcement was made Wednesday by Homer Norton, chairman of the Bowl Selection Committee. He said both teams had accepted.

The game will be played at 10 a.m. (CST). Sponsors of the game figure that playing the game in the morning will eliminate competition from the radio broadcasting of the big bowl games.

San Angelo played in the last Oleander Bowl and beat Wharton (Tex.) Junior College, 6-0. San Angelo is this year's champion of the Pioneer Junior College Conference.

Hinds is one of the higher scoring junior colleges in the country. The Mississippi Junior College League team has racked up 341 points while beating seven of nine opponents. Defeats were by margins of six and four points.

San Angelo has won six and lost two and has a 4-0 conference record. San Angelo has scored 185 points.

RANGER JC WINS
RANGER, —(AP)— Ranger Junior College Wednesday defeated Schreiner, 27-0, to win its first Pioneer Conference football game this season. Schreiner, ranked second in the lead, had several players ill with the flu.

Rice, TCU Clash Seen As Toss-Up

By The Associated Press
Even the odds-makers have thrown in the towel since the wild Southwest Conference football race reached the stage where just about any team except Arkansas and A&M could get its hand on the championship crown.

Thursday, the men who set the odds figured the showdown battle between Texas Christian and Rice a toss-up. The same holds true of the non-conference tilt between Arkansas and Tulsa.

And Baylor was placed only a weak seven points favorite over Southern Methodist in a game where the score could look like a basketball melee if both teams are right. Most eyes will be on the Rice-TCU tilt Saturday at Fort Worth clash, barring a tie, a definite leader—for one week—can emerge. The eleven are deadlocked—each with three wins and a loss.

Wednesday, Rice worked again on a defense against TCU's unusual spread formation.

Rice Coach Jess Neely said his varsity had done a pretty good job of stopping the spread as run by the Rice freshmen.

Could Turn Into Riot
At Waco, the Baylor-SMU duel could turn into a double scoring riot. Larry Isbell of the Bears can produce a score just about any way. And when the Mustangs' Fred Benners is right the score is almost limitless, as Arkansas discovered a week ago when the Mustangs ran up a 47-7 score.

SMU, with a victory, can hang on to a mathematical chance for a tie for the Southwest title. Baylor can surge into a three-way tie for the lead provided Rice and TCU tie.

Arkansas, which led the conference in defense until the team fell apart Saturday, meets high scoring Tulsa in a non-conference clash in Little Rock this weekend.

Texas and A&M went through light drills Wednesday. Although most of the nation celebrated Thanksgiving Thursday, the traditional Thanksgiving clash between the two schools will not take place until next Thursday.

Alvin Dark, captain and shortstop of the New York Giants, was a star football player for LSU.

19 Haitians Saved From Battered Ship

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—The captain and 18 crewmen of the Haitian cutter Toussaint, l'Ouverture were brought here early Thursday by the Coast Guard, which rescued them from their battered and leaking craft about 15 miles off the Florida coast.

The Haitian vessel, a Coast Guard cutter 111 feet long, was on its way from Port Au Prince to Miami when it began leaking in rough, heavy seas.

Its captain, Jack Salgado of Port Au Prince, said one of the three missing men was Nicolas Beaussejour, the ship's executive officer. Salgado said the Toussaint l'Ouverture carried no radio and that the executive officer set out with two crewmen for the Florida shore to seek aid. Flares meanwhile led the Coast Guard to the stricken vessel.

A strong tide was running, and the men, in a stout dinghy, were believed to have made land without much trouble.

Salgado said the Toussaint l'Ouverture left Port Prince Monday and that for 48 hours took a rough pounding in heavy seas. When the boat began shipping water faster than the pumps could take it out, he said, the men tried bailing with buckets, but finally gave up and signaled for help.

It was then, he added, that Beaussejour set out with the two crewmen. Forty minutes later, the Coast Guard was at the scene, off Fowey Lighthouse.

Salgado said the ship now was anchored and that he hoped it could be salvaged. It was on its annual voyage to Miami to purchase supplies for Haitian Army canteens.

Andre Faubert, the Haitian consul at Miami, met the rescued men, provided hot coffee and food, and housed them at a Miami hotel.

Scraping Bottom Protectors Liners

SOUTHAMPTON, ENGLAND—(AP)—Contractors have dredged some 3,000,000 tons of mud from the approaches to Southampton, making the risk of big liners grounding off the port "extremely remote," the harbor committee stated.

Awkward curves have been ironed from the approach channels where the liner Queen Elizabeth was grounded 26 hours in 1947. In one place the width of the channel has been increased from 1,850 feet to 2,500 feet.

TANGLED DEER
CENTRALIA, ILL.—(AP)—Hunters along the Kaskaskia River happened onto a big five-point buck deer, trapped by grape vines twined rope-like in his antlers. While others held the buck, one man cut it free. Then, fearful the scared beast might attack, they used trees for protection. But the 300-pounder—perhaps grateful—bounded away.

Church Has Problem In Spending Million

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—St. James Protestant Episcopal Church here has a problem—how to spend roughly $1,000,000 while normally operating on a $10,000 annual budget.

The church has willed two of 140 shares of the residuary estate of the late Mrs. H. Sylvia A. H. G. Wilks, daughter of fabulous financier-recluse Hetty Green. Executors have estimated each share will be worth $500,000.

One Dies, Three Are Hurt As Homemade Propellant Explodes

HOUSTON—(AP)—A brilliant high school lad who wouldn't leave explosive alone blew himself to death Wednesday when he shook a pickle jar containing a homemade rocket propellant.

The powerful explosion snapped off the hand of another brilliant student and possibly blinded him for life, seriously burned and cut two other teen-agers, badly damaged an automobile and shook the neighborhood.

Killed was Ted Strong, Jr., 17, who only last week had been dubbed "My Exploder" by the chemistry teacher, Frances Hollingsworth.

Miss Hollingsworth said she had warned young Strong in the presence of his parents. She told the parents she called him "My Exploder" because of his interest in explosives.

"He told me he wouldn't fool with anything he wasn't able to handle," she said.

Occurs On Campus
Wednesday, said the teacher, she did not see the students "mixing anything" in her chemistry class in Lamar High School.

The explosion occurred on the campus.

Losing a hand and possibly blinded for life was David Dillman, 16. Suffering burns and cuts were John Cramer, Jr., 17, and William Calvin Montgomery, Jr., 17.

Strong, Dillman and Cramer were in the same class. Montgomery, also a chemistry student, was in another class.

The teacher termed her three pupils "very intelligent boys." Cramer had built a geiger counter which test radioactivity. Dillman was to have spoken before the Junior Academy of Sciences at the University of Texas next month.

Witnesses said the lads mixed four chemicals in a small pickle jar. The mixture was designed as a propellant to be used in a rocket to be built to a physics formula.

The witnesses said Strong shook the jar.

FIRE ROUTS HOTEL GUESTS
CHICAGO—(AP)—About 200 persons fled from their rooms early Thursday as fire swept through the four-story Madison-Oakley Apartment Hotel on the city's West Side. No one was injured.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL
Mrs. Betty Bounds, 935 North Fort Worth Street, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday as a medical patient.

Tito Reported Ready To Liberate Catholic Prelate

NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Times Thursday said Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia will announce "in the near future" the liberation of Archbishop Alojzius Stepinac.

In a dispatch from Rome, C. L. Sulzberger, the Times' chief foreign correspondent said:

"The archbishop will be sent back to his native village of Krasic, where he will be permitted to live as a private individual and clergyman with full restoration of his civil rights on the condition that he does not engage in political activity considered to be against the interest of the state."

Archbishop Stepinac, now in Lepoglava Prison, has served five years of a 16-year sentence on charges including wartime collaboration with the Axis powers.

Sulzberger said the Roman Catholic prelate would not be recognized as the Roman Catholic primate of Yugoslavia by the Belgrade government.

ATTACHED TO HIS JOB—Literally bolted to his job by a steel ball bearing wrist is Ralph Olson, cableway operator at Hungry Horse, Mont. Olson himself designed the special steel joint that connects his artificial left arm to the cableway speed control.

KEYS TO THE CITY—Ever wonder where those giant keys that city mayors present to visiting dignitaries come from? Well, in Rock Island, Ill., Mayor Melvin L. McKay makes his own keys in his home workshop. McKay is seen turning one out on a lathe as finished "keys to the city of Rock Island" hang on the wall.
