Union Wildcat In N-C Nolan Sector Flows Canyon Oil

Flowing production from Canyon sand has been developed in Union Oil Company of California No. 1 TXL wildcat one and three-quarter miles south of the Lake Trawell-Canyon field of North-Central Nolan County.

After injecting 1,000 gallons of Stratifrac into the sand through perforations at 5,150-70, 5,174-82 and 5,308-32 feet, operator ran swab for two hours. The well kicked off and flowed at the rate of 12.11 barrels of new oil per hour. Tubing pressure was 240 pounds. The flow was through a 3/8-inch choke.

After the four-hour flow, operator killed the well and re-set packer at 5,113 feet. It was at 5,149 feet for the above gauge. After packer was re-set, operator started swabbing from 3,000 feet and was continuing to swab at last report.

Location for No. 1 TXL is 860 feet from south and west lines of section 33, block X, T&P survey.

Total depth of the hole is 6,010 feet and plugged back total depth is 5,353 feet.

New Pay Opened By Cities Service In SE Ward Pool

Cities Service Oil Company completed its No. 2 Grimes as a discovery for a new pay in South Ward field of Southeast Ward County.

The new oiler was finished from the lower Seven Rivers or Queens sand for a daily pumping potential of 70 barrels of 37.4-gravity oil plus 36.88 per cent water.

Regular pay in the South Ward field is the Yates sand and the Seven Rivers.

Production in No. 2 Grimes is coming through perforations at 2,950-2,954 feet. Plugged back total depth is 2,987 feet. Pay was topped at 2,950 feet.

Location is 2,310 feet from north-east and 330 feet from southeast lines of section 14, block 24, H&TC survey.

The well was completed natural.

Gas-oil ratio was 642-1. Operator used 6,000 gallons of Hydrac to final the well.

Sun No. 7 Mrs. W. A. Hutchison, 960 feet from south and west lines of section 42, block 26, T-3-S, T&P survey, was completed for a daily pumping potential of 41.36 barrels of 36.3-gravity oil plus 12 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,800-1. Production was from open hole at 7,460-7,573 feet. Operator used 3,000 gallons of Hydrac to final the well.

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 E. B. Gidney is a new producer in the Four Corners area of Northwest Reagan County. It was completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 720 barrels of 37.2-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 6,397-6,487 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 603-1. Location is 960 feet from south and 1,993 feet from east lines of section 37, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Dunlap Ready To Fire More Tax Employees

WASHINGTON —(P)—Former Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle testified Tuesday that he and Charles Oliphant, chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, were Florida fishing guests of a North Carolina manufacturer under investigation for tax fraud.

Caudle told a House Ways and Means subcommittee he and Oliphant flew to Palm Beach, Fla., in the Summer of 1947 in a plane owned by Troy Whithead of Charlotte, N. C.

The witness, fired recently by President Truman from his Justice Department post, denied that he knew a tax fraud case was in the works against Whitehead June 28, 1947.

"If I had known Mr. Whitehead was in tax trouble, I would never have invited Mr. Oliphant," Caudle said.

Tuesday's testimony came as Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap prepared to let loose with the biggest broadside yet in his announced drive to improve efficiency and weed out employees "who have betrayed their high trust."

A fully informed official, declining to be quoted by name, told a reporter several employees will be ousted from offices not yet publicly linked to the current series of firings in the tax collection service.

Dunlap also will announce final decisions on most of the 14 employees in San Francisco and New York who have been suspended pending investigations, this source said.

The impending announcements of further bureau shakeups, it was learned, will be made by Dunlap. (Continued On Page Ten)

Wilkerson Resigns From Police Force To Enter Business

Capt. Jim Wilkerson resigned Tuesday from the Midland Police Department, effective December 15, to enter private business.

A member of the police force for the last three and one-half years, Wilkerson said he plans to open a cafe on the Garden City Highway in mid-December.

"I feel that I will be able to better myself financially in private business," he said in his letter of resignation submitted to Police Chief Rube Hemmingsway.

From Sweetwater

"I do regret leaving the force as they are a real fine bunch of men."

Wilkerson, who came to Midland from Sweetwater nine years ago, joined the force as a patrolman in May, 1948.

He subsequently became a sergeant and lieutenant and last Spring was made captain when Jack Ellington resigned as police chief and Hemmingsway still was attending the FBI's National Police Academy.

"We have a city government," said the letter of resignation, "which is police-minded and I feel there are great things in store for the Police Department in the future."

NPA Experts Will Discuss Controlled Materials Program

Two National Production Authority experts will be in Midland Wednesday to advise with business men concerning controlled materials.

The two, Milton E. Hopper and Jesse E. Rodehaver, are representatives of the El Paso district office of the NPA and will be at the Midland Chamber of Commerce office at 9:30 a.m.

It was pointed out Tuesday that a new NPA order has been issued which provides a method whereby retailers of controlled materials—steel, copper and aluminum—may obtain reasonable inventories of these metals.

This order affects retail hardware stores, retail variety stores, department stores and other retail outlets for copper wire and other controlled materials.

More Speed On Europe's Army Asked

ROME —(P)—The United States and Belgium introduced separate resolutions to the North Atlantic Council Tuesday designed to speed up establishment of a European army.

Both resolutions quickly were referred to the NATO deputies, who will try to combine them into one plan to put before the council Wednesday.

The council chairman, External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, said he thought the "margin between (the two plans) was not very great."

He described the plans as an effort to give a "push forward" to the move for the European army and for bringing in countries other than those belonging to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, presumably a reference to West Germany.

Other developments Tuesday at the NATO meeting included:

1. A private breakfast at which General Eisenhower entertained British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. Eisenhower appealed for the appointment of an American naval commander for the North Atlantic and adoption of 30 caliber ammunition as the standard for the Atlantic Armies' small arms.

2. A meeting of the Big Three foreign and defense ministers to discuss the proposed Middle East Command.

3. A report to the council on the military might of Russia and her satellites in which, among other things, it was said the Soviet Union is speeding her MIG-15 jet fighter—of Korean fighting fame—to the air forces of her partners.

4. The council approved the report from the NATO chiefs of staff on stepping up the program for building a combat-ready force by the end of next year. Informed sources say the report calls for up to 40 divisions by the end of 1952, and up to 70 in a longer range program by the end of 1954.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

Midland's annual Santa Claus parade, heralding the opening of the Christmas shopping season here, will move at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Thousands of Permian Basin youngsters and their parents are expected to line streets in the business district to see it.

As if to signal the main event, the city's beautiful Christmas lights will twinkle on at 6 p.m.

St. Nick is expected to arrive here by plane about dusk, after a long and hazardous flight from his North Pole home and workshop. He crossed the U. S.-Canadian border early Tuesday, winging his way to West Texas.

"I am expecting all my friends from Midland and other Permian Basin Empire cities to be on hand to greet me in downtown Midland," Santa Claus said in a radio message to JayCee officials here.

Santa Claus will be met at the airport by a welcoming party and rushed into Midland in time to participate in the Santa Claus parade.

The parade, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will form at the intersection of A and Illinois Streets. It will proceed east on Illinois to Main Street; south on Main to Missouri Street; west on Missouri to Loraine Street; north on Loraine to Texas Street; east on Texas Street to the Big Spring and Marienfeld intersection, where it will break.

Santa himself will leave the procession at the courthouse, there to greet his young friends of Midland, personally.

Former Hatchet Man Ousted By Czechs, Jailed For Treason

LONDON —(P)—Moscow-trained Rudolf Slansky, one-time hatchet man of Czechoslovak communism, has been fired as vice premier and arrested for "activities against the state," the Prague radio announced Tuesday.

The arrest was ordered by Communist President Klement Gottwald at the suggestion of Premier Antonin Zapotocky, the announcement said, because "investigations into activities of subversive groups" brought out facts that convicted Slansky.

Slansky was removed from his job as secretary-general of the Czechoslovak Communist Party in a move tied by Western observers to Moscow orders to tighten their ranks against "Trotskyism."

Oasis Case Backfires

The announcement at that time said Slansky would get "another important state post," but did not say what the post was to be.

The Czech government shakeup was believed to have been linked with growing unrest in Czechoslovakia at the rising demands of the ruling Communists for greater production to feed the Soviet war machine. The demands on Czech economy created critical shortages and passive resistance among some of the workers.

An underground source reported from Czechoslovakia last month that the Slansky ouster came because the Oasis case backfired. The Czech Communists imprisoned and convicted Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis as a "spy," sentencing him to 10 years. The trial was denounced throughout the non-Communist world.

WASHINGTON —(P)—Federal Judge William H. Atwell Tuesday ruled that Midwestern University here could not deny admission to six negro students.

WASHINGTON —(P)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen Tuesday walked out on hearings before a presidential emergency board, saying they were "doomed to failure" in advance on their demands for shorter hours, more pay and revised operating rules.

WASHINGTON —(P)—Keichi Tatsuoka, a special envoy, arrived Tuesday from Tokyo with documents on Japan's ratification of the peace treaty and security pact with the United States.

PARIS —(P)—The United Nations Steering Committee Tuesday voted unanimously for a full General Assembly airing of Soviet charges that the United States Mutual Security Act constitutes aggression against the USSR.

City Faces Deadline On Water Fields

Faced with a deadline three days away, the City Council will meet Tuesday night to reach a decision on the acquisition of water rights to a large area in northwest Midland County on which options were taken several months ago.

Exploration work has been completed on at least half of the area and City Manager W. H. Oswalt Tuesday said he is preparing a recommendation concerning the acquisition.

Purchase of the water rights would assure the city of additional water supplies by the Summer of 1953.

Adequate Potential Supplies

While Oswalt did not disclose the nature of his recommendation, it was reported the exploration had proved adequate potential water supplies for development.

Under the agreement by which options were taken on four sections of land belonging to Forrest King, exploration work was to have been completed by November 1 while the purchase of the water rights must be accomplished by December 1.

Two sections of the land definitely have been ruled out but the other two sections, it was reported, are capable of producing 3,000,000 gallons of water daily "forever."

Exploration work on adjoining property owned by Midland Farms has indicated even greater water supplies there. However, the city has an additional three months to complete exploration work on this property.

While the quantity of water appears sufficient for development, there remained Tuesday some question about the quality of the water, and final chloride tests were being made Tuesday.

Henry E. Dunn, city water and sewage engineer, said tests indicated the water in the northwest area would be as good quality as the water in the city.

Red Feather Drive Still $10,365 Short Of Campaign Quota

Midland's six-week-old Community Chest Drive was $10,365 short of the goal Tuesday.

These dollars will be the hardest to raise, Chest leaders agreed in an emergency meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday morning.

So far, Midland contributors have raised the total to $45,111.

John E. Reid, campaign coordinator, told the chairman at the meeting, "It's really dragging its feet now."

All divisions were woefully short of the goals set for them in the $55,465 Chest budget.

"Thousands of persons have not contributed," said Pat Ruckman, campaign chairman. "If they would just mail their contributions to Community Chest, Midland, Texas, or turn them in at the headquarters (318 North Colorado Street) this campaign could be successful."

It's everybody's responsibility, the chairman agreed.

Participating in the meeting were Ruckman, Reid, E. N. Gideon, J. M. McDonald, Delbert Downing, C. L. Glass, Roy Minear and Wick Fowler.

First Session Described As Short, Sweet

MUNSAN, KOREA —(P)—Truce negotiators signed a cease-fire line agreement Tuesday and immediately developed two vital differences on how to supervise an armistice in Korea.

United Nations delegates insisted on:

1. Joint Allied-Communist inspection teams with "free access to all parts of Korea."

2. Provision against military buildups by either side.

Neither point was included in a plan proposed by the Reds, who never have permitted outsiders in Communist Korea.

The differences developed in a session described by the top Allied negotiator as "short and sweet."

The full five-man negotiating teams—all in full dress except for two drably clad Chinese generals—approved a cease-fire line agreement opening the way for an armistice within 30 days. Then they plunged into the next truce question. That is supervision of an armistice. Each presented its own ideas.

The two plans were in general agreement on four points: (1) Shooting to stop when an armistice is signed, (2) a joint commission to supervise the truce, (3) all forces to withdraw from the buffer zone and enemy territory after the armistice is signed, and (4) armed troops to stay out of the buffer zone.

Magnolia Announces Award Of Contract On Gasoline Plant

DALLAS —Magnolia Petroleum Company has entered an agreement for the construction of a gasoline plant to serve the Pegasus Field of Midland and Upton Counties in West Texas according to an announcement made Tuesday by R. D. Hanley, vice president and manager of the company's Natural Gas Department. The contract for building the compressor station, process and storage facilities has been awarded to the Hudson Engineering Corporation of Houston.

The initial capacity of the plant is designed for the handling of 30 million cubic feet of casinghead gas per day. Construction will be a next month.

The plant is to be located in the east half of Section 30, Block 4, Township 4 South of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company survey in Midland County, approximately 30 miles southwest of the City of Midland. It will be an absorption type plant with an amine gas sweetening process and a tri-ethylene glycol dehydration system. Gas will be compressed to a pressure suitable for the residue gas to be taken by a transmission line of the El Paso Natural Gas Company.

100,000 Gallons A Day

The total liquid products, which will be natural gasoline, butane and propane, will amount to more than 100,000 gallons a day. The plant is being designed so it can be expanded easily as the Pegasus field further is developed. The limits of Pegasus, a major field in the vast Permian Basin of West Texas, have not yet been fully defined. It was discovered in 1949 by Magnolia, an affiliated organization of Soccon-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc.

Rail loading of products manufactured will be at Warfield, some 22 miles north of the plant. Products will be carried there by a products line. There will be about 32 miles of gas gathering lines laid in the field. Plans include the construction of a plant camp, where eleven cottages will be built.

Clear Skies Come Back To West Texas

By The Associated Press

Dripping clouds had moved out of West Texas and were breaking up over East Texas Tuesday.

Light rain or drizzle fell in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

In far West Texas, a ridge of high pressure and clear skies combined to drop temperatures to 20 degrees at Salt Flat and 25 at El Paso and Marfa.

Heaviest rainfall in the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a.m. was in East and Central Texas, although Dallas reported .46 inch. Mineral Wells .31, San Angelo .13 and Fort Worth .21.

Jacoby On Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Back in 1928, when the National Open Pair Championship was staged for the first time (before most people had ever heard of contract bridge), Waldemar von Zedbut then had to find two more discards on the third and fourth trumps. He correctly decided that he could not afford to part with a spade, so he signalled with the eight and six of clubs.

That was all the information that Zedtwitz had. He proceeded to make his contract against the best defense, can you?

Declarer knew that West had started with six diamonds and four hearts. From East's club signal he deduced the rest of the situation. Hence he could play the hand just as though all the cards were exposed to view.

Zedtwitz merely led out his last trump, discarding a second club from dummy. East still couldn't afford to discard a spade, since South would then run four spade tricks. Hence East had to discard the ten of clubs.

Declarer then led a club, allowing East to take the queen. East returned a spade which dummy won with the king. Dummy returned the king of clubs to East's ace.

East now returned another spade, which South won with the queen. And at this point South's five and four of clubs were as good as gold.

was walked off with the national title. He repeated the feat in 1937, and will be trying to win it for the third time in Detroit next week.

One of the hands that Zedtwitz played recently makes it clear that he is at the top of his game. I'm willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that most of my readers won't find the winning line of play even though they can see all four hands.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen, forcing Zedtwitz to ruff. Declarer then drew four rounds of trumps, discarding a diamond and a club from dummy.

East also discarded a diamond.

Former College Editor Arrested For 15 Robberies

CLEVELAND —(P)—Police in suburban Parma quoted a University of Pittsburgh graduate Tuesday as saying he turned to armed robbery because it was "easier than working."

The man they arrested was Thomas A. Perkinson, 29, one-time editor of the "Pitt Panther," a top college humor magazine. Detectives John Magerko and Virgil Costley at Parma said the journalism department graduate was wanted for 15 robberies in the Pittsburgh area and had admitted two of them.

Alan Young Pulls Reverse Act; Prefers Movies To TV

By ERSKINE JAHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen: The video tubes will crack and the micro-wave relay will sputter, but a big-time TV star has confessed he'd like to do less television and more motion pictures.

Alan Young is his name. "Being a television star doesn't mean too much," the sad-faced comic told me between rehearsals of "The Alan Young Show." "It's more important when your name is up there on movie-theater marquees, too."

"I'm doing a TV show every week now. After I've built an audience following, I'll do television only once a month so I'll have more time for movies."

Alan completed a Paramount film, "Aaron Slick From Punkin' Creek," before the start of the Winter TV season and now he's working in "Andros and the Lion," with "Sad Sack" slated for filming in the Spring.

Judy Holliday, who's winding up "The Marring Kind" at Columbia, just uttered a big NO to the offer of a radio series based on her Billie Dawn character in "Born Yesterday."

"I have no intention of doing 'Billie Dawn and Her Electric Rifle' or 'Billie Dawn in the Balkans' just to capitalize on a successful play," Judy says. "Billie was great for me, but I like to think that I'm a versatile actress who can play a variety of roles."

Can't Ask $64 Question
The fan-mag scribblers have been instructed they can ask Fernando Lamas every question but the $64 one: "Are you in love with Lana Turner?" Betty Hutton is introducing Paramount dance director Charles O'Curran around town as "my next husband."

Inside reason for Jean Simmons' jump-for-joy act about her new REO contract: She will be paid in Uncle Sam's crinkly green. Until now, Jean's salary has been frozen in sterling in England.

Sylvia Gable, I hear, is prepared to wait until gamblers are in before she gives Clark a divorce. She's smiling over the surprise move that X-ed Clark's name off the MGM payroll and frustrated her plan to attach his salary.

Broadway Producer Lee Saberson's whopping offer to Groucho Marx to re-team with Chico and Harpo for a musical stage version of Moliere's "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" was flatly nixed. The boys vow they'll never work together again.

Republic is talking to Jack Smith about starring in "The Life of Stephen Foster." Wire from Ginger Rogers: "I am not going to play the Palace." Okay, Ginger, but the rumor still persists.

Jack Carson's four-year romance with Lola Albright now may be headed for the altar. Pals say she'll go along as Mrs. Carson when he hops to England in the Spring to star in "Matthew, the Matador," for J. Arthur Rank.

Now it's Walter Brennan headed for TV. He's huddling with Jack Rubin to star in "The Gentle Years," as a series about life in 1910. After giving out interviews on her ideal man—"he doesn't have to be rich, just understanding"—Peggy Dow said "I Want You" to Walter Heimerich and his oil wells.

Tyrone Power parked his spanking new $6,000 English sports car in Beverly Hills and returned to find an auto dealer's note on the seat reading:

"There's a hot deal waiting for you at — on your used car."

The Vic Matures are battling again. The last spat occurred in front of a Sunset Strip pitery.

It's Up To Congress

Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder wants all of us to lend a hand in cleaning up the scandal-ridden Bureau of Internal Revenue. "This whole business, he says, has caused him 'great anguish' and has been a matter of 'shock and concern' to him.

Snyder adds that the bureau is doing everything possible to purge itself of wrong-doers, and is cooperating with the King committee of the House to "ferret out any remaining irregularities."

These expressions of concern for the bureau's integrity are fine. There's only one thing wrong. They should have been made—and acted upon—months ago.

The evidence is on the record that when the first irregularities were called to the government's attention, it ought to have hushed up the affair rather than to plunge in with a whole-hearted inquiry. Snyder himself was a party to this effort at concealment.

For months, officials from President Truman on down insisted everything basically was all right. Disclosures of fraud and corruption among Internal Revenue collectors ranged from Boston to San Francisco. Yet the Administration continued to pretend that these major scandals amounted only to trivial transgressions.

The Revenue Bureau scandals are acknowledged to be the worst blot on the Administration's record thus far—much graver in significance than the mink coats and other signs of influence-peddling that have stolen so many headlines.

That the President and his Treasury secretary could so long treat these irregularities with indifference is a telling comment on their power to recognize real moral rot when they see it. Unquestionably they were guilty of a serious lapse from the high standards of conduct we rightfully may demand of our top government officers.

Belatedly, the Administration has come to recognize, if not the genuine harm to the reputation of government in general, at least the political damage to its own cause.

The new national Democratic chairman, Frank McKinney, gave the first sign when he called for legislation to place revenue collectors under civil service. Truman, who previously had disparaged the idea, switched over to support the plan.

Now we have the spectacle of Snyder taken with sudden shock at thought of these embarrassing revelations of fraud. It is not a convincing performance.

In the light of what has transpired to date, why should any citizen put his trust in the bureau to cleanse its own ranks? Why should he accept at face value the Administration's pledges of cooperation?

The matter is in the hands of Congress now, and here it properly belongs. Let the King committee proceed with the broadest, fullest sort of inquiry it can manage. And may it come up with a whole host of recommendations for new laws which will take the revenue bureau out of politics for good and elevate it to a level where it can command the trust so vital an agency of government ought to have.

Correct Info, Right From The Supply Department

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Ex-Secretary Ickes rows with new secretary of the Interior; It is difficult for Congress to investigate itself; No one queried Congressman King.

WASHINGTON — Popular Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman trained for twelve years under Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, but today they aren't getting along so well.

In fact, it's got so the present secretary of the Interior won't always return telephone calls of the ex-secretary of the Interior.

The other day ex-Secretary Ickes telephoned his young protégé to urge him to oppose the granting of government electric power from Hungry Horse Dam, Montana, to the giant Anaconda Copper Company for the purpose of putting that company into the aluminum business.

Ickes wanted to tell Chapman about an experience he had during World War II when he was encouraging the Reynolds Metals Company to go into the aluminum business in order to break up the monopoly held by the Aluminum Corporation of America. Hearing of his plan, Undersecretary of War Bob Patterson, Averell Harriman and a delegation of top military brass called on Ickes to oppose Reynolds. Patterson waved his arms, chewed gum, strode up and down the room.

"Don't you know there's a war going on?" he exploded. "Alcoa knows how to produce aluminum. Reynolds doesn't. We need aluminum in a hurry."

Ickes listened, turned them down. He reminded Patterson and Harriman that under the Bonneville Dam Act no power was to be used to increase monopoly, and that Alcoa enjoyed an aluminum monopoly.

Meanwhile Reynolds did a good job, so the other day Ickes tried to telephone Secretary Chapman to remind him of this wartime incident, and urge him not to increase the monopoly hold which Anaconda has on the State of Montana by putting it in the aluminum business.

Chapman, however, harassed and trying to leave for Hawaii, ignored Ickes' phone call. And since Ickes is sensitive about the idea of trying to run the Interior Department from the outside, he did not call a second time. Instead he sat down and wrote a letter to President Truman, whose views on monopoly he felt sure he knew.

Within a few hours, word of this letter got back to Chapman. Immediately he telephoned his old boss, listened to his story on monopoly and Anaconda, wrote a letter to DP Administrator Manly Fleischman, stating he would not transfer to Anaconda the permit for Hungry Horse Power which he had given to the Harvey Machine Company.

Congressional hearings regarding the worst danger we face is the danger of being paralyzed by doubts and fears. When the ideas of... frightened men prevail... no progress is made.

—President Truman.

There lies before us now a difficult task... But I do not doubt we shall come through because we shall use not only our party forces but a growing sense of the need to put Britain back in her place—a need which burns in the hearts of men far beyond these shores.

—Winston Churchill, British prime minister.

A man is always trying to prove to himself that he's enough of a man. Every man doubts that he's really masculine. But a woman is afraid of being only a woman and not a person. She fears she hasn't enough to offer.

—Theodor Reik, psychoanalyst.

If enough of the people who want me to run for President in 1952... and I'll pay the expenses... I'll do everything I can to help God save this country.

—W. Lee O'Daniel, former U. S. senator from Texas.

appointment of Ernest Tolin as U. S. attorney in Los Angeles, and exerted a powerful hand in promoting U. S. attorneys to judgeships. One of the ablest and oldest California congressmen, he has sometimes been called "King-Maker King." Naturally this gave him influence with those handling tax cases, and sometimes the political grapevine is such that little is said about cases where close friends are involved.

None of these matters were examined very carefully at the closed-door investigation.

But one thing that did leak out was that Lamar Caudie, the recently fired Justice Department tax chief, had been concerned over failure to prosecute the Long Beach tax cases, and on March 3, 1951, had demanded an investigation of this failure.

Caudie wanted to know why the tax cases, involving Congressman King's friends, were not sent to Washington for scrutiny instead of being handled in Los Angeles by local officials friendly to Congressman King.

It is highly unusual for tax cases to be referred direct from the Internal Revenue Bureau in a local city to the U. S. attorney in that city without being sent to Washington. However, this was done in the case of Congressman King's Long Beach friends.

Note — The closed-door probe of Congressman King seemed more concerned with finding out whether witnesses had talked to this columnist than with getting to the bottom of King's alleged wire-pulling.

Both Counsel De Wind and Congressman Combs heaped criticisms as to whether they had "talked to Drew Pearson."

A friend does you a favor and you do not have a chance to thank him at the time.

WRONG: Let it go.

RIGHT: Either telephone him to say "Thank you" or write him a note.

PETER EDSON'S European News Notebook

Expect Churchill To Give Closer British Support For European Unity

LONDON—(NEA)—With Winston Churchill as prime minister of the United Kingdom, much closer British support for European unity is expected. The Labor government under Clement Attlee was really conservative on cooperation with continental Europe.

The Schuman plan for pooling of European coal, iron and steel resources was given distant approval, but not active participation by Attlee's foreign ministers. Churchill may work more closely with the Schuman planners. Churchill has been active in support of the Western European unification movement which now has its headquarters set up at Stuttgart.

Churchill and General Eisenhower are known to think alike on the need for creating a European army. Churchill and Eisenhower were close collaborators during World War II. An early meeting between these two leaders to further European unification now is considered most likely.

Needs Bigger Chest
PARIS—General of the Armies Dwight D. Eisenhower seldom wears more than three ribbons on his tunic—the Distinguished Service Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters, the Navy DSM and the Legion of Merit.

If he wore all his decorations, however, his whole chest would be covered. He has been awarded and won 50 military medals since his first service ribbon for the Mexican border campaign of 1917. In addition he holds 18 honorary degrees from as many universities, eight medals from municipalities and 13 awards from American societies.

McCarran Act Backfires
—BELGRADE—Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada is a great supporter of Yugoslavia as well as Spain. But the so-called McCarran Act, intended to keep subversive characters out of the United States, has made it extremely difficult for the U. S. to promote good relations with the Yugoslavians. State Department recently wanted to send Leon Davichio, prominent Yugoslav journalist, to the United States for a tour. He made the mistake of leaving Yugoslavia before his American visa had come through.

But on arrival in New York, he was sent to Ellis Island. Because there was a record of Davichio's having been kicked out of McGill University, Toronto, for Communist activity, the McCarran Act made it impossible for Davichio to enter the U. S. So he was shipped on to Canada, which let him in.

Government Favoritism
ISTANBUL—This old city has 26 daily newspapers, and with newspaper selling at $350 a ton on the black market, the competition is pretty keen. Papers seldom run more than eight pages, which of course cuts down newspaper consumption. There is little private advertising.

With the government controlling most of the business, it is able to exercise a subtle subsidy by placing what advertising there is in newspapers consistently favorable to the government. Independent and opposition papers which criticize the government get little or none of this help.

No Endorsement From Ike
PARIS — Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, President Truman's senior military aide, tried to get an endorsement out of General Eisenhower's headquarters, but it didn't work. General Vaughan wrote a letter to Ike, complaining about all the criticisms which had been thrown at him—Vaughan. The letter said he felt sure General Eisenhower didn't feel that way about him. The hint was that he would write back, giving Vaughan a letter of endorsement he could show around. But the letter went unanswered.

Expropriation Cycle
—BELGRADE—Out of gratitude for American aid at the end of the war and during last year's drought, Marshal Tito's government of Yugoslavia is making a gift to the United States. It's a new residence in Belgrade for the U. S. ambassador now George V. Allen, former assistant secretary of State in charge of information programs.

The gift, which will be accepted, is the residence of a former Yugoslav prime minister in pre-Tito days, when Yugoslavia had a king. Curiously enough, the ex-prime minister is most happy over the gift, although his residence has for all practical purposes been expropriated by the Tito government. The deal involved giving the ex-prime minister an office building—which had been expropriated from somebody else—in return for his residence.

Plenty Of Company
PARIS — General Eisenhower's headquarters is expecting lots of company between now and December 15. More than 110 congressmen have advised SHAPE Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe—they're coming over. All want to see Ike.

Allies Have 24-Hour Alert
HEIDELBERG—Although Soviet army maneuvers in the Russian zone of Germany were supposed to have ended early in October, the Russians haven't "relaxed" and go back to winter quarters yet. Overnight, they could move out of their present positions of maneuver for a genuine offensive against the Western zones of Germany and cause real trouble. There's a 24-hour alert, seven days a week, all along the Allied side of the border.

Air Arm Works As Unit
—FONTAINEBLEAU — In recent North Atlantic Treaty air maneuvers in Western Germany, almost 1,200 planes from eight different nations took part, operating under Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad's Air Force headquarters here. The planes operated from 20 airfields in Western Germany. At some fields, planes from three nations operated under a single control.

Air units were even transferred from one field to another and still another control, without confusion or crackups. About 25 per cent of the planes were British, 30 per cent American, the remainder from the other six nations.

In spite of language differences, there was close cooperation with General Norstad considered most impressive. "The exercise demonstrated that international air cooperation is no longer a problem," he commented. "We no longer have to work to work together."

Need Unified Currency
PARIS—NATO and SHAPE officials who do much traveling about Europe have terrible times trying to keep their financial records in order, due to wide differences in currency values. The British shilling is worth 13.5 cents or about 7.4 to the dollar. The German mark has been running 4.2 to the dollar, the Turkish lira 2.8 to the dollar. The Belgian franc is fairly steady at around 200 to the dollar, the French franc very unsteady at 360 to 440 to the dollar, the Italian lira 630 to 680 to the dollar. Least valuable is the Greek drachma at 15,000 to the dollar.

Most confusing of all the Yugoslav dinar, at from 200 to 400 to the dollar, with a second currency for tourists, in putukas, which are worth 50 to the dollar. What Europe needs more than a unified army is a unified currency system.

Kefauver Receives Honorary Doctorate

LOS ANGELES —(P)— Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) received an honorary degree of doctor of laws Monday night at Pepperdine College.

Horse sense is the kind a jack-ass lacks.

Kitten in the Woods

By Kathleen Briggs

XXVI

WILD vines tore at her stockings, pine branches slapped her. She was unconscious of them. The sense of impending urgency was growing in her. The unfamiliarity of the path, the unevenness of the ground, slowed her. And the darkness! It was like a curtain, baffling, hindering.

It was all a clever scheme to empty Black Pits, was Elizabeth's unshakable conviction now. How glibly everyone had been.

Suddenly, as though the curtain of night had been torn aside, she came upon the now familiar gray stone walls. Caution or instinct made her pause. She stood there, breathing hard, clinging to the dark fringe of woods.

The path ended opposite the living room wing. Lawn and seldom-used gravel parking space lay between her and the actual house. She could see both the unattractive angular outline of the ivied porte cochere and the screen of wooden lattice that acted as a partition between the kitchen entrance and the lawn.

Something moved behind the lattice!

A man? A long sweeping shadow from one of the first There was still a breeze, the branches still stirred fretfully, whispering their annoyance with the wind. But the darker blur behind the lattice moved forward purposefully. Swiftly, like the quick dip of a raven's wing, it darted across the grass and into the trees. A shadow becoming one with other shadows.

Light, yellow and hazy, streamed from the front hall, bathing the steps, gilding the ivy. Abandoning the protective cover of the woods, she ran for it.

The upstairs corridor was empty, somehow alien. All the doors bordering it were closed. But that was as it should be. She went into her own room. Mrs. Seashart's night light was still rosily reflected in the mirrored door. Chas-ful, reassuring. The old woman's face was peaceful, her breathing slow and steady.

Elizabeth sagged onto the edge of a chair. She had been so sure that something would be wrong. And now she felt utterly depleted. As she ran her hand across her forehead she noticed that her fingers were trembling. She had built herself up for an emergency that did not materialize and the setback was as bad as a crisis.

Then suddenly she stiffened.

WHAT was that sound? A groan? It seemed to come from Ollie's room. She sat there, rigid with tension, waiting.

Was this, too, imagination? Were her sense so hair-trigger now, so high-tuned that they were playing tricks.

A strangled gasping, a panicky striving for air, again it came.

She ran along the deserted hall to Ollie's door. It swung inward, not quite shut, as though someone in haste had had forgotten to pull it to. The room was dark except for the gray luminescent night filtering through Ollie's bamboo shades. His bed was between door and window. She could see the silhouetted outline of his body.

Very still, very silent. Too silent for a person with a rasping chest cold!

Impulsively she reached for the bedside lamp switch.

Ollie stared up at her, unseeing, unblinking, his lids half open. And his mouth was open, too. But it was his face, purple, congested.

Elizabeth jerked back the covers. A necktie was knotted around Ollie's throat. One of his own gray ties. A silly absurd tie—a yellow background with little green bugs on bicycles riding all over it. Typically Ollie. But now it had been twisted into a strong rope, a garrote that was as deadly and absurd as a hangman's noose. And it defied Elizabeth's fingers.

There was so little time...

perhaps no time... perhaps it was already too late.

She glanced around desperately. No scissors, no pen knife. But what was that gleaming on the long shelf cluttered with Ollie's fly-tying paraphernalia? A peculiar curved little lancet, almost like a surgeon's scalpel! She seized it and went to work.

Finally it sawed through the silk. She got him by the shoulders, tried to pull his inert body higher in the bed. It was then she discovered that more neckties held his wrists to the iron rims of the springs on either side. She cut through them savagely. Ollie began to slide sideways. He was not a big man but he was corpulent. It took all her strength and some she didn't know she possessed to get him propped up. She began to rub his wrists. There was still a chance. She could see the pulse throbbing faintly in his throat.

If only she didn't have to be quiet. But Mrs. Steinhardt mustn't know. This would be too much for her frailty to bear.

Elizabeth left Ollie for a second, ran on tiptoe to his bathroom. There might be something, spirits of ammonia. She found them and went back. With his cold it was a risk, but a risk she had to take.

She had almost reached him when she heard the soft muffled steps in the hall. Cautious, uncertain steps. She froze in her steps, facing the door, her hand almost crushing the small bottle.

BILL DEVANTER was standing in the doorway. His eyes were narrowed against the light. He didn't move into the room. There was a queer expression on his face, an inability to cope with the scene before him.

"Elizabeth, are you all right?" Relief swept over her in a weakening wave. She swayed slightly, put the ammonia in her own nose and took a good whiff. Bill was at her side instantly.

"Bill, someone tried to murder Ollie."

He bent over the bed. "Looks as though they've succeeded."

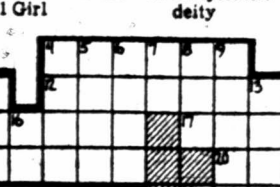

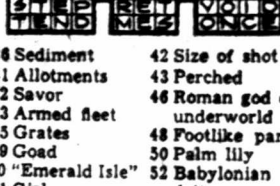

"No, there's still a chance. Get the downstairs phone and call Dr. Appleby."

Many Vexing Problems Still Face UN's Truce Negotiators

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(P)—Signing of a cease-fire line agreement in Korea is only a step toward an armistice. There still remain some vexing problems to be solved before there are any real hopes for a truce-peace in that uneasy peninsula.

A top problem, of course, is the task of getting the enemy to agree to let joint Allied-Communist teams travel freely to all parts of Korea to see that armistice terms are carried out fully. The Reds are reluctant to permit outsiders into their territory.

That stubborn "fear of the foreigner" may be the rock upon which armistice negotiations still will founder. But it is hard to see how the Allies can withdraw from their position.

Another thorny issue is the problem of prisoner exchange.

For one thing, the return of Allied prisoners of war will reveal the full toll of Red atrocities among the captives. Almost 11,000 Americans are listed as missing in action. The fact must be faced that only a fraction of these men remain alive.

The same uncertainty covers the fate of the other UN missing.

The Allies hold 160,000 prisoners on the island of Koje, off Korea. The figure includes 18,000 Chinese and 40,000 North and South Korean civilians considered dangerous.

Despite this ratio, the Reds are sure to press for a straight exchange of all prisoners.

But what will they do with them when they get them back?

A large number of the prisoners are deserters and defectors from the Chinese and North Korean armies.

Will the UN negotiators compel these men to return to the bitter revenge of their Communist leaders? Or will each prisoner be given his choice of going or staying?

As one officer put it: "If we force these deserters to go back, it won't look good to any future possible defectors."

New Records Set By All Phases Of U. S. Oil Industry

HOLLYWOOD, FLA.—(P)—The American petroleum industry in 1951 established new records in every phase of the industry. The Investment Bankers Association of America was told Tuesday.

A report of the Oil and Natural Gas Securities Committee of the IBA prepared for the association's 40th annual convention said new high marks were set by the industry in production, refining exploration, development and marketing.

Capital expenditures in the oil industry in 1951 were estimated at $3.3 billion, far in excess of the 1950 aggregate of $2.45 billion.

A record total of more than 44,000 wells will be drilled in 1951 as compared with 43,000 in 1950. Wildcat operations are running 25 per cent ahead of last year.

Pointing out that American oil companies pooled their resources and know-how to make up production lost in Iran, the report said investments in oil production in other areas of the world face political uncertainty.

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was trying to help the Huffen not to be afraid any more of the friendly night noises.

"I can't help it, I can't," said the Huffen. "The friendly noises of the night frighten me, they do."

"Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail, "what you need is a silencer." Well, the Huffen didn't know what a silencer was, and so Daddy Ringtail showed him how to make one. The Huffen worked hard with hammer and saw, until at last the silencer was finished. It was really a boxing glove on each side of the doorway. Yes, and each boxing glove

Owner Recovers Stolen Lion Cub

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Timba is back home and ready for a planned movie career.

The seven-week-old lion cub was taken from a cage at the Shrine Circus here Monday. City detectives found him at a Riverside residence Monday night after newspaper readers telephoned in tips on his whereabouts.

Timba's temporary owners said they bought the lion cub from a man who apparently had snatched the kitten.

"I wouldn't take $5,000 for him," said R. C. Buckley, who raised the cub. Buckley said he planned to fly the cub to California, where it would be trained for the movies.

Army Policy Denies Ousted Cadets Right To Be Reappointed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—None of the 90 West Point cadets dismissed for cribbing last August will be considered for reappointment under a policy laid down by the Department of the Army.

This was disclosed Tuesday after at least three members of Congress renominated boys who had been ousted for violating the West Point code of honor by accepting or giving help to aid in passing examinations.

The adjutant general's office sent to each of three House members—Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) and Representatives Davis (R-Wis.) and Cleveland (R-Ohio) similar letters stating that in view of the circumstances the boys would not be considered for reappointment.

An Army spokesman Tuesday told a reporter a flat policy has been adopted "by the Department of the Army" under which any cadet separated from the academy because of an honor violation will not be reappointed, even if renominated by a member of Congress.

The spokesman declined to say just who in the department drew up the policy. The adjutant general's office, he said, merely is carrying out this policy when it notifies members of Congress that the boys they renominated are being turned down.

The Army previously had said, on September 28, that the discharged cadets could be renominated but that their acceptance would have to be approved by the academy.

Representative Davis on October 16 renominated Ronald Clough of Waukesha, Wis., a senior honor student, one of the 90 dismissed. Davis said Clough was a superior student, one of the 90 dismissed. Davis said Clough was a superior student and received no information himself but merely helped tutor some of the football players involved.

The names of the boys renominated by McCormack and Cleveland have not been disclosed. The Army spokesman said he did not recall whether any of the other cadets had been renominated.

Clough now is enrolled at Notre Dame. He is one of a group who accepted the offer by an unknown benefactor who agreed to pay certain of the costs of any of the 90 who might enroll at Notre Dame.

The dismissals wrecked the Army football team, which this Fall had one of its worst seasons in history.

Vinson Predicts Early Completion Of UMT Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) one of the House Armed Services Committee Tuesday predicted early congressional approval of legislation to put Universal Military Training into operation.

Back from a trip to Georgia, Vinson announced hearings on the legislation will start before his committee on January 9.

When Congress reconvenes next January 8, he told newsmen, he will introduce a bill embodying the recommendations of the National Security Training Commission created this year by Congress to draft a UMT program.

While Congress already has approved the principles of UMT, with six months of training for 18-year-olds, it must enact another law before a program can become effective. Without another law, no youth can be inducted for UMT.

Sulfa Drugs And Penicillin Aid In Treating Mastoid Infection

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

"Two doctors have told me I have mastoid infection," writes Mrs. M. E. J., "but the treatment they recommend is so different, I am truly puzzled. One said I needed several shots of penicillin, and the other said to leave my ears alone. I do not have fever nor pain but a lot of ringing and pressure in the ears and some dizziness."

Because of the nature of mastoid infection, some differences in opinion as to how it should be treated are not unusual. That is particularly true today in view of the effectiveness of the sulfa drugs and penicillin and its relatives.

Mastoiditis usually develops from the spread of infection from the middle ear which is a small cavity lying just behind the drum membrane. When there is pus under pressure in the middle ear, the infection may spread to the air cells of the mastoid bone lying back of the outer ear.

In acute mastoiditis, the symptoms come principally from pressure of the infection and pus within the air cells. The mastoid process back of the ear becomes painful, redness and swelling are common, and especially noticeable is the tenderness when pressure is put on the mastoid bone.

Chills and fever often are present and the fever may be high. The hearing also is somewhat impaired. At the time when the mastoid cells become involved, the amount of drainage of pus from the ear (which probably was present before) tends to become much more profuse. An X-ray picture often is helpful in diagnosing mastoiditis.

Early Treatment
Since the discovery of the sulfa drugs and penicillin, the frequency of dangerous mastoiditis has dropped considerably. Many patients with severe infections of the middle ear are treated at once with the sulfa preparations or penicillin so that the mastoid never becomes seriously involved. In addition to such medication, early and complete drainage from the middle ear is of great importance.

In the past, many mastoid infections became chronic and an operation was necessary. Sometimes all that was necessary was a simple cut into the mastoid cells to allow the pus to escape.

In others, a so-called radical operation was required which meant going into the mastoid bone and scraping out most of the infected cells. Thanks to the new germ-attacking drugs, operation is not necessary nearly as often as in the past.

Violent Snowstorm Hits New England

By The Associated Press

A storm which hit the northeastern part of the country diminished Tuesday after leaving up to 12 inches of snow in Northern Maine. Light snow continued in parts of Northern New England and there were flurries in the Eastern Great Lakes region and the Appalachians. Strong winds were reported in some parts of the snow belt. Generally fair weather was reported in other parts of the country except for showers in the Northwest Pacific states as far south as Northern California and eastward into the Northern Rockies.

The weather was on the chilly side over the eastern two-thirds of the nation except in Florida. Some warming was reported in the west, and rising temperatures were predicted for most of the north central region. However, it was zero early Tuesday in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and near zero in some other Midwest areas.

Skeleton Crew Of Three Guides B-36 Down Safely After 16 Men Parachute

FORT WORTH —(AP)— A skeleton crew guided a crippled B-36 bomber to a safe landing Monday after circling the field six and one-half hours attempting to fix a damaged landing gear.

All except three members of the 19-man crew parachuted before the giant plane came down.

The 28-year-old pilot said a steady rain helped him land the plane safely.

"But someone else was pulling for us, too, I think," added Capt. Clarence F. Horton of San Antonio.

The heavy-set pilot, a West Point graduate, made a tricky five-engine landing with the giant atom bomb carrier after ordering 16 crewmen to jump. All but one parachuted without serious injury.

He was T/Sgt. Charles A. Karlovich, Petersburg, Va., a gunner. X-rays were made to determine if he had a fractured leg.

Two other crew members rode the sleek bomber to earth. Horton believed rain-slicked runways kept tires on the damaged side of the landing gear from exploding from heat after touching the runway.

Serious Situation

Rain and mist covered this section of Texas when Horton discovered shortly after a routine takeoff at 9:55 a.m. that something was wrong with the left landing gear. A pin holding apart the front and back wheels of one side of the gear had broken.

"It was a serious situation," said Horton, who was wearing moccasins-sock slippers with his flying suit, "but humor prevailed."

One crew member lamented: "Sometimes I almost wish I weren't on flying pay."

Repair instructions were radioed to the plane from technicians who helped build the plane. They didn't work. Horton said he realized about 2 p.m. he would have to try an emergency landing.

He gave orders for the crew to jump and made four passes over a pasture near the base. Two men jumped on the first pass, five on the next, five on the next and four on the last.

Lt. Col. Paul R. Paskvan, La Grange, Ill., aircraft commander from another crew, and First Lt. Ernest O. Benfield, San Antonio, first engineer, stayed with Horton.

Horton jettisoned eight 100-pound practice bombs in Lake Worth and "kicked out" 15,000 gallons of fuel to lighten the ship.

The B-36 glided to a graceful landing on the first pass Horton made at the runway.

Marihuana Ring Extends To One Junior High School

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— About 20 high school students were scheduled to appear before a special grand jury session Tuesday for questioning in the use of marihuana among Wichita Falls High School students.

Meanwhile, District Attorney Alan B. Haley Monday night said preliminary investigations at Reagan Junior High School indicated seven to 10 students may be involved in the use of marihuana.

Principal Dudley Gordon of Zundelwitz, the city's other junior high school, said he knew of no evidence that there is any existence of a marihuana ring in Zundelwitz.

Three Texas Rangers are here investigating the sale and use of marihuana at the high school. Thirteen persons, including four high school students, were arrested following raids last week.

Haley said he began checking Reagan Junior High School after he received a telephone call Sunday night from the mother of a student at the school.

Reagan Principal T. B. Parnell said he had been questioning students in his office, but that he had no idea of the number involved.

"As much soda as will lie upon a shilling," was called for in an old-time English recipe for "parkins," or crisp cookies.

President Appoints Roger L. Putnam As Economic Stabilizer

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The nation's new economic stabilizer is an industrialist and a noted amateur astronomer.

Roger Lowell Putnam, named to the job Monday by President Truman, also is a former three-time mayor of Springfield, Mass., and nephew of the late president of Harvard University, A. Lawrence Lowell.

Putnam was chosen to succeed Eric Johnston, who resigned effective November 30 to return to his job as president of the Motion Picture Association. He will assume office December 1, as a recess appointee, pending action by the Senate when it convenes in January. The job pays $17,500 a year.

Putnam said he thought "condolences rather than congratulations" might be in order about his new job. It makes him chief arbiter of prices and wages.

Serves Three Terms

Putnam is 58 years old. He was the first man in Springfield's history to serve three terms as mayor. He left office in 1943 to enter the Navy. The Package Machinery Company of Springfield, of which Putnam is president, used the five-day week and employee profit sharing plans as early as 1930. The Lowell family has for generations been prominent in New England industry, particularly textiles.

He told a reporter in Springfield Monday night he hoped he could take on his "tough assignment" with a smile of a man like Mike DiSalle, a round and jovial price administrator. DiSalle will be Putnam's right-hand man, and Putnam, as economic stabilizer, will be next down the line from Economic Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

Putnam is the father of six children. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard. He was a lieutenant commander in the Navy in World War II, and a lieutenant, junior grade, in World War I.

He is sole trustee of the Lowell Observatory at Flagstaff, Ariz.

Two Women Claim Self-Styled Amnesia Victim As Husband

DETROIT —(AP)— The tangled affairs of David Yerke, self-styled amnesia victim, who returned from the dead to find two women naming him as husband, started to clear Tuesday.

First, the slim, 28-year-old sponge fisherman, who vanished in the Gulf of Mexico on Dec. 26, 1948, entered a Detroit hospital for treatment. Doctors there will work to restore his memory.

Second, a New Orleans woman, who had identified him as her recently-missing husband, said she would "leave him go on his way."

The woman, Mrs. Odessa Dry, had claimed Yerke married her under the name of Reuben David Dry in Jefferson Parish, La., on Feb. 26, 1946, and that they had lived together since.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune said, however, that a check of the parish records failed to disclose any such marriage. Mrs. Dry then professed to be "hazy" about the date and place, the paper said.

Meanwhile, in Detroit, Yerke's known wife, Douglas, who came up from Florida after he returned to his parents' home here, reasserted her love for her husband.

"I'll stick with him whatever happens," she said. They have a daughter, Sharon, six.

Epidemics Threaten Italian Flood Area

ROVIGO, ITALY —(AP)— Carcasses of drowned cattle and horses burned on smoking pyres Tuesday as authorities worked to avert a threatened outbreak of disease in the flooded Po River Delta.

Gangs of workmen towed the dead beasts to fires on high ground in the Polesine and Rovigo areas. Monday, four cases of scarlet fever were reported there.

Officials feared epidemics might break out as the result of damaged sewer systems and the thousands of animals drowned in the vast flood area.

Taft's '50 Campaign Cost $100,000,000, Says Defeated foe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Joseph T. Ferguson Tuesday, contending spending to reflect Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in 1950 could be figured at $100,000,000—using the same approach Taft did in putting costs of the Ferguson campaign at $2,000,000.

Ferguson, Democrat who lost the election by 430,000 votes, fired back from the witness chair of a Senate Elections subcommittee at many of the statements Taft made from the same seat Monday.

"Ferguson said it was a 'deliberate lie' that the Democratic campaign was 'blueprinted by a Communist by the name of Hall.' Taft had said Communist Gus Hall wrote an article in a Communist magazine which 'blueprinted' the fight against his reelection."

Ferguson commented: "The only Communist—or ex-Communist—who came into Ohio—that I know of—was Ben Cullow, who made several speeches for Mr. Taft."

As for Taft's charge of "carpet-bagging" (out-of-staters) engaging in the campaign, Ferguson said there were plenty on Taft's side. He ticked off the names of Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), Harold Stassen, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) and Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

No contest is involved in the present hearing. The election subcommittee is hearing testimony on the basis that it may be helpful in developing improved election laws. Each side charged the other with excessive spending.

Parleys—

(Continued From Page One) telling the Communists their proposal wasn't broad enough on the general principles (for supervision). Then we gave them an idea of what we wanted."

The Communists asked for an adjournment until 11 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. Tuesday, CST) to study the UN plan.

The day's truce conference, set in a Christmas-like landscape in the snow of Panmunjom, opened with a series of agreements on a provisional cease-fire line—first by the staff officers who drew the line on a 14-foot map, then by subcommittees which had argued over a buffer zone for more than three months, and finally by the full truce delegations.

The truce teams also OK'd a buffer zone agreement, making the line the cease-fire line if a full agreement is signed within 30 days. Admiral Joy sought to speed settlement of the remaining points by proposing each side now begin compiling necessary data on the exchange of prisoners.

Communists Speak First

The Reds made no reply and the truce teams plunged into the problem of supervising the armistice.

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, clad in full dress uniform with gold epaulettes, red-striped trousers and fancy gray felt boots, presented the Communist ideas first.

A UN Command communique described the five-point Red plan as "some suggestions" for "detailed actions to be taken, rather than a basic approach to the question."

Then Joy, also in dress uniform, presented the detailed seven-point plan of the UN Command. It provides:

1. A cease-fire effective within 24 hours after an armistice is signed applying to all forces under either command.

2. A supervisory organization with an equal number of Allies and Reds to carry out armistice terms.

3. No increase in military forces, equipment, supplies or facilities.

4. The armistice commission and its joint observation teams "shall have free access to all parts of Korea."

5. Air, naval and ground forces, including irregulars, to withdraw from enemy territory.

6. Armed forces will stay out of the buffer zone.

7. The military commander of each side shall administer his half of the two and one-half-mile-wide buffer zone.

Joy said the immediate objective is "to get agreement on principles and then let committees work out details."

The Communist plan had no provision for either free-roaming inspection teams or a guarantee against a military buildup. These two points were expected to be most distasteful to the Communists.

The Red plan proposed:

1. Hostilities to end the day an armistice is signed.

2. Armed forces to withdraw from the demilitarized zone within three days after the signing.

3. Military forces to vacate coastal islands and seas off each others' coasts within five days.

4. Armed forces stay out of the buffer zone.

5. Create a joint commission responsible for armistice arrangements and supervision.

Three Persons Hurt In Highway Collision

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in an automobile-pickup truck collision Monday on the Cloverdale Road.

They are Willis Ratliff of Snyder and L. J. Westbrook and T. R. Edwards of Odessa.

Ratliff suffered head cuts and bruises and a hand contusion. Westbrook suffered a forehead laceration, lip injury and bruised leg. Edwards received facial injuries and an arm cut.

All were given emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital and released.

New Agreement May Double Test Range For Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The effective size of a sea range for testing U. S. guided missiles and pilotless bombers may be doubled by a new agreement with the Dominican Republic.

The arrangement, announced here and in Ciudad Trujillo Monday, gives the U. S. Air Force permission to set up tracking and control stations along the north coast of this West Indies island.

When built, these stations will extend the chain of radar and radio points authorized last year in the British Bahamas Islands.

When officials went before Congress to get the money to start the long-range missile center in 1949, they talked in terms of control and monitoring stations over the first 500 miles of a course which eventually would extend 3,000 miles into the South Atlantic.

Stations authorized on five islands of the Bahamas group provided a 500-mile stretch of close control. The stations to be built in the Dominican Republic will close the 500-mile gap from the Bahamas to Puerto Rico. The Air Force already has control points in Puerto Rico, about 1,000 miles from the launching base at Cocoa, on the east coast of Florida.

The present range of Air Force guided missiles is a secret, but officials now are talking about extending the range to send pilotless bombers as far as 6,000 miles into the South Atlantic.

Chase Addresses Optimist Members

Jack Chase, assistant division landman for the Lion Oil Company here, addressed the Optimist Club at its luncheon Tuesday noon in Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Chase gave the background for overall coordination of the various departments of oil companies having parts in the Permian Basin development program.

The speaker elaborated on the part which the landman plays in the oil program, including the original survey, contacting the landowner, and the role of brokers in the event the company prefers to remain anonymous.

He also told of some of the title problems which are encountered.

Club officials urged members to purchase Christmas Seals and explained that their purpose is to aid in the fight on tuberculosis.

Officials also lauded the work of the Community Chest and suggested that members who had not been solicited mail a contribution to the Optimist Club and it would be turned over to Chest drive leaders.

City—

Pumping tests on the first well drilling in the King area indicated a capacity of 800 gallons per minute—a production rate which more than doubles that of present city wells.

Oswalt said tests on subsequent wells in the new area had indicated a similar potential.

Purchase of the water rights, however, will not mean an immediate easing of the city's critical water supply problem.

Last Summer, the present waterfields were produced at their capacity and they barely were able to meet the demands of city residents.

Although present wells have been re-worked and, in some cases, acidized, the situation probably will remain just as tight next Summer.

Before the water from the new area can be made available to Midland users, an eight-mile line must be constructed, and Oswalt said this will take more than a year.

Soviet Bloc Remains Silent On Proposed Secret Arms Talks

PARIS—(AP)—The Soviet bloc remained silent Tuesday—possibly awaiting Moscow's decision—on proposed secret disarmament discussions while the Western Big Three appeared agreed that such talks would be useful in easing international tensions.

The United States was expected to press for a time limit on any secret disarmament discussions which might result from the proposal of the Arab-Asian bloc at the United Nations meeting here to take the arms debate off the world soap box and put it behind closed doors.

The General Assembly's Political Committee Tuesday continued its discussion of the Western proposal for a foolproof disarmament plan, and it seemed likely that discussion of the secret talk proposal might come before the committee Wednesday.

Dunlap—

The official said Truman may be called upon to act in the case of James G. Smyth, suspended collector at San Francisco. The White House appoints collectors.

Cleaning Own House
The action also may involve the Detroit office, where an investigation has been under way into reports of irregularities. It wasn't fully clear whether Dunlap will be ready by Wednesday for action in Detroit.

As for the new offices to be brought into the shake-up, Dunlap is said to feel the bureau should clean its own house, where it can, without waiting for investigations by grand juries or congressmen.

Altogether, more than 30 employees have been fired, suspended, or resigned, including six collectors. In many cases the bureau has placed some employees under suspension while it investigated charges against them.

Dunlap took over the Bureau August 1 after the resignation of George J. Schoeneman. As the irregularities developed, he proclaimed he would spare no effort to "eliminate from our service any employees who have betrayed their high trust."

RCA Patents Plan To Deflect Guided Missiles In Air

NEW YORK.—(P)—A system to deflect guided missiles, detect planes at greater distances and relay television programs overseas has been patented.

This method, announced Monday by the Radio Corporation of America, would combine airborne radar, television and microwave radio relay beams.

RCA said all the equipment involved already has been developed and is in use. It said the patent on the method was issued to RCA Board Chairman David Sarnoff, who assigned it to the company.

The announcement said the plan would work this way:

An enemy's control signals to a guided missile could be intercepted, then identical signals could be sent to divert the missile from its target.

To detect planes or guided missiles, a succession of planes would fly along a course with radar equipment. A television camera in each plane would record the radar information.

Then, by low-power microwave relay apparatus, the television image would be sent from the front plane to the next in line and so on back to a central intelligence station or command post.

This same relay system could be used to relay television programs across seas.

Grandfather Fights Charge He Murdered Tots For Insurance

VALDOSTA, GA.—(P)—Sentenced to death once but granted a new trial, a middle-aged farmer is fighting for his life against charges that he killed his two small grandchildren for insurance.

The defendant, 47-year-old Carthy Royals, is accused of murdering his four-year-old grandson, Cleon Browning, and his two-year-old granddaughter, Martha Browning.

Sam Phillips, already serving life in connection with the slayings, testified Monday that Royals told him he killed the two children.

The charred bodies of the children were found in Phillips' burned auto in September, 1950. The car had been stopped in a remote wooded section near a small pond where Royals and Phillips said they were hunting alligator.

Claims Fire Accidental

The state contends the children were murdered and the fire was set in an attempt to hide the crime. Royals says he left the children unharmed and that they met death when the car accidentally burned.

Royals was sentenced to the electric chair last year. He won a new trial when the Georgia Supreme Court ruled the jury was improperly in possession of a written statement by Phillips while deliberating the case.

Phillips said he went to the pond and Royals joined him about 45 minutes or an hour later and commented: "Well, I did it."

"Did what?" Phillips said he asked Royals.

"I killed those younguns," he said Royals replied, later warning, "Don't you tell nobody nothing."

The prosecution argued that the two farmers, both on Lanier County relief rolls, sought to collect a $500 double indemnity insurance policy on each child.

DUNNY GOODE NAMED—

Texas Tech Boys Top Border Loop All-Star Outfit

ALBUQUERQUE—(P)—Two freshmen were named to the all-star Border Conference football team selected for The Associated Press by coaches and sports writers.

The team includes a trio of 60-minute men named to both the offensive and defensive platoons. But the real surprise of the voting was the number of players earning mention. A total of 57 players were named by fewer than 20 coaches and sports writers in the three-state area covered by the conference—Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

Tackle Ed Matesic of Arizona State (Tempe), a 235-pound product of Rankin, Pa., and Guard Ray Howard of Texas Tech, 195-pounder from Childress, Texas, were the freshmen voted to the team. Matesic was an offensive tackle while Howard made the defensive team.

Tackle Jerrell Price of Texas Tech, Guard Jim Donarski of Arizona and Center Aubrey Phillips of Texas Tech were voted to both the offensive and defensive teams.

The closest fight came for offensive quarterback with Junior Arterburn of Texas Tech edging Harold Self of Tempe by one vote. The toughest spot to fill was a defensive end berth won by Joe Spann of West Texas State. Seven players got votes for the spot.

The coaches of Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons said their views on all-conference players might change after next Saturday. The two clubs clash then for the conference championship.

"I would rather have waited until after that game," said De Witt Weaver, Tech coach. Mentor Warren Woodson of Hardin-Simmons expressed a similar sentiment.

Raiders Placed
The Raiders placed four men on both the offensive and defensive squads. On the offensive team, Arizona placed three men, Arizona State (Tempe) two, and Hardin-Simmons and West Texas one each. Defensively it was two each for Texas Western, West Texas and Hardin-Simmons and one for Arizona. The first team:

Bulldogs Dig Into Bag Of Tricks In Gridiron Workouts

There was something new under the sun for the Midland Bulldogs as they drilled Monday in preparation for the bi-district clash with Breckenridge here Saturday.

Some "new" stuff—or at least some plays the Bulldogs haven't pulled from the hat this year—were brought out for a brief airing.

Coach Tugboat Jones said his eleven was in fine physical shape and said he was "pleased with the attitude and hustle of the kids."

Taking up more time in the Monday drills was a defense against the Breckenridge passing attack, which last week struck for three touchdowns in the 40 to 6 route of Brownwood. Brownwood is the only team to defeat Midland, and it was by 19 to 13.

Jones said his boys were to go hard Tuesday and Wednesday with some rough stuff Thursday before tapering off Friday to await the kickoff. Kickoff time is 2 p.m. Saturday.

Fans Flocking For Breck Game Ducats

Midlanders Tuesday flocked in droves after ducats to the championship schoolboy football game here Saturday between Midland and Breckenridge.

High school officials reported the sale of tickets brisk.

Sometime before daylight—shortly after 6 a.m. Tuesday—at least six persons were waiting at the MHS building to file in and get their tickets in the foyer of the high school auditorium. At 8 a.m.—still an hour until selling time—the line extended across West Illinois Street.

The ducats will be on sale every day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., through Friday. Remaining tickets Saturday will go on sale at Memorial Stadium at 10 a.m.

A crowd in excess of 12,000 is expected for the clash.

Bulldog Boosters Meet Tuesday Night

The Bulldog Booster club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the cafeteria of Midland High School, President Tex Carleton announced.

Films of the Midland-Plainview game will be screened and Coaches Red Rutledge and Audrey Gill will report on the Breckenridge Buckaroos. Midland's foe here Saturday in a Class AAA playoff tilt.

It's a long time until the 1952 football season—especially in Midland, with the '51 season still very much underway—but its time again to play that annual sports writers' guessing game: What about next year?

Only one thing is certain: Snyder will be an addition to the loop. The Tigers have been placed in District 1-AAA by the Interscholastic League. It's a rather cruel joke on Snyder Coach Speedy Moffett, since his Tigers finished last in their AA loop this year and practically his entire starting team has gone the way of all passing seniors.

So it's safe to assume the Tigers won't make much of a splash in their first year in the big pond.

Almost that entire team of giants at Plainview graduates, which puts the Bulldogs, at least at this stage of the game, in the "character building" category for 1952.

However, the Plainview team was a pre-season favorite to win the title this year and flubbed off. A form reversal for next fall could be good for the coach and mean trouble for other 1-AAA outfits.

Big Spring loses five regulars off the outfit which didn't create much disturbance this year. They are: End Hollis Harper, Tackle Harold Haynie (the "Sueers" best lineman), Guard Bobby Porter, Back Spec Franklin and Back Richard Prahm—the latter a really fine back.

Returnees include End Raymond Gilstrap, Tackle Jimmy Phillips, Guard Bill Dorsey, Center Norman Dudley and Backs Bobby Hayworth and Doyle Maynard.

Lamesa drops five starters, including those fine ends, Ray Taylor and Marshall Crawford. Others are Guard Billy Jack, Jerry Millisaps, good quarterback and Jerry Howell, fullback.

Returnees are Tackles Alvin Smith and Hulan Preston, Guard Glenn Crecolius, Center Carlos Berry and Backs Jimmy Robinson and Johnny Jones.

That outfit could jell into a fine ball club.

Vernon loses seven starters: End Jerry Thomas, Tackles Joe Wayne Brock and Bill Herschman, Guards Roland Weaver and Ken Hodges, Backs Jimmy Layne and Duane Blair.

Returning are a couple of very fine backfield boys, Ramon Towery and Dale Dillingham. To go with them there's End Kenneth Hines and Center Jack Bolton. Reserves will be the Lions' big problem.

That leaves who? Sweetwater and Midland, of course, and those teams probably will battle for the loop crown. (Anguished cries come from Pat Gerald and Tugboat Jones in the background.)

But the Mustangs lose only four boys: Ends Derle Rudd and Charles Wilson, Guard Ira Hill and Center Lloyd Ware.

Returning are Tackles J. W. Patton and Alan Thompson, Guard Frank Glass, Backs Joe Feagan, James Butler, Don Reagan and Angel Olivera.

Midland loses such towers of strength as End Jimmy Lineberger, Tackle Stan Coker, Guards Dalton Byerley and Pete Engllah, Center Loren Roberts, Back Ralph Brooks and Johnny Kennedy.

But returning are Ends Bill Mims and Robert Keisling, Tackles Red Cast and Bill Leonard, Backs Larry Friday, Dick Spencer, M. A. Rose and Roy Kimsey.

To go with that, how about Milton Jones at center, Darrall Spivey at guard, Keys Curry at tackle, Jess Hatfield and Clyde McKandles in the backfield, off the present squad.

And, up from the B team, Rusty Rutledge, Paul Davis and Clinton Nobles plus others we feel sure will help out some.

Add that to the coaching given by Jones, Red Rutledge and Audrey Gill and it doesn't look bad for 1952—but first, there's Breckenridge.

Annual TCU, SMU Clash Is Saturday

FORT WORTH—(P)—Texas Christian and Southern Methodist play here Saturday and once more it is the most important game of the season.

This game has a way of being like that—of rolling the whole campaign up into one afternoon.

This time Southern Methodist is going nowhere but Texas Christian is and it must beat the Methodists to take the Southwest Conference championship and get in on the Cotton Bowl cash.

Through the years, the SMU-TCU battle has meant more than just two strong football rivals getting together.

Take 1929 when TCU won its first conference championship. A tie was needed with SMU to do it—and TCU got that. In 1935 Southern Methodist and Texas Christian played for the Rose Bowl. That was the day of "the $90,000" pass from Bob Finley to Bobby Wilson that put SMU into the Pasadena classic. SMU got $90,000 for playing in the Rose Bowl.

Even in 1938, when TCU was undefeated and untied and was named national champion, the Southern Methodist game was important. TCU had to win it to take the conference title.

In 1947, when Southern Methodist had an undefeated season, the Methodists had to the TCU to win the conference championship. SMU did.

And so the teams come up to the last game of the season with Texas Christian having to win to take the conference championship. It finds TCU in perfect condition and SMU badly battered. But Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian says it will be a tough one anyway.

SMU hasn't won over TCU in four years.

Coach H. N. Russell of Southern Methodist says his team won't do it this time either and he predicts that TCU will win by two touchdowns. "They're leading the league, we're almost on the bottom and have a half-dozen of our best men unable to play, so what can you expect?" Russell asked.

"We'd like to beat them, sure. They are our good friends but we like to play our friends and beat them."

Reminded that a victory by SMU might hand the title to Baylor, with whom SMU mixed in a very rough game at Waco last week—and caused some hard feelings—Russell said that doesn't matter, he still wanted to beat TCU.

Baylor could win the championship by defeating Rice in the event SMU licked TCU.

A sell-out crowd is expected.

Volts Rated First, Spartans Second; Baylor Team Ninth

NEW YORK—(P)—Tennessee's Sugar Bowl-bound Vols Tuesday enjoyed a sweet margin as the nation's top team in The Associated Press football poll.

The undefeated and untied terrors of the South piled up the largest vote of the season to retain their billing as the best in the land.

Wink Wildcats Back With Another Great High School Eleven

WINK—There have been some great Wink High School football eleven's—but this edition of the Wildcats may be the best of all time.

Coach Glenn Frazier's eleven has rolled up 466 points in eleven games, and hasn't come close to losing one. Wink is the favorite in a school-boy division that has produced two 400-point teams and four others that have rolled up better than 300.

The Wildcats, compared to the great Wink teams of the thirties, play Albany this week in the second round of the Class AA playoff. Albany has won nine, lost two and scored 243 points. Wink again will be favored when the Wildcats tangle with Albany at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Abilene.

This is the first year for Class A to have a playoff through to a state crown, but Wink probably would have won a flock of them in the thirties if the race had advanced that far. From 1932 to 1942, the Wildcats grabbed the regional title—as far as Class A teams went—six times and were undefeated four times.

This edition of the red and white will be trying to continue that winning tradition against the Albany team.

The team's records:
Wink 9, Monahans 0; Wink 20, Kermit 7; Wink 27, Pecos 19; Wink 42, Crane 20; Wink 48, Marfa 7; Wink 62, Fort Stockton 7; Wink 55, Alpine 19; Wink 48, Big Lake 19; Wink 55, McCamey 14; Wink 32, Iraan 14; Wink 47, Eden 6.
Albany 12, Ballinger 6; Albany 9, Electra 7; Albany 7, Stamford 21; Albany 0, Anson 8; Albany 20, Merkel 19; Albany 45, Munday 6; Albany 38, Roby 12; Albany 28, Roscoe 13; Albany 27, Haskell 12; Albany 27, Wylie (Abilene) 13.

DOWN HOGAN'S ALLEY

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Ben Hogan, 1951's Golfer-of-the-Year, averaged 70 strokes in winning three of four tournaments.

Amos Melton, TCU business manager of athletics, said Tuesday. Thirty thousand tickets have been sold. The stadium handles only 34,000.

Tennessee amassed 1,508 points and drew 92 first-place ballots out of 168 from the sports writers and broadcasters to easily outdistance runner-up Michigan State.

The Spartans, boasting the same record as Tennessee, 9-0, collected 34 first-place votes and 1,379 points. Maryland, Tennessee's foe on New Year's Day, came home third with 18 firsts and 1,257 points. Illinois, the Big Ten's Rose Bowl representative, climbed from sixth to fourth place with 1,030 points.

Trailing the big four were: Princeton, unbeaten Ivy League champion, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Stanford, Baylor and Oklahoma.

Tennessee commanded its impressive margin by smashing Kentucky, 28-0, Saturday. Michigan State ended its season with a 45-7 triumph against Colorado. Maryland also closed out its season by romping to a 54-7 victory over West Virginia. Illinois squeaked by Northwestern, 3-0.

Stanford, Illinois' Rose Bowl opponent, dropped from third to eighth as a result of a 20-7 loss to California. Oklahoma replaced Kentucky in the Big Ten, grabbing tenth place. The Wildcats plunged from ninth to seventeenth place.

Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Baylor and Oklahoma have regular season games remaining. The Vols, seeking their twentieth straight win, take on Vanderbilt Saturday. Unbeaten but once-licked Georgia Tech takes on Georgia; Baylor, striving for the Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl berth, clashes with Rice and Oklahoma tangles with Oklahoma A&M.

Geologists To Hear Address By AAPG Candidate Tuesday

The West Texas Geological Society will hear an address Tuesday night by John G. Bartram of Tulsa. He is a consulting geologist in the Headquarters offices of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. and be held in the Jax M. Cowden Junior High School Auditorium in Midland. W. Dave Henderson, president of the WTGS, will preside.

Large Attendance Due
Bartram is currently a candidate for vice president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. Since the West Texas society is a regional affiliate of the AAPG a large attendance is expected at the Tuesday night meeting. Most of the members of the regional group are also members of the national association.

They will want to see and meet Bartram before casting their mail ballots in the election which is to be held during the next few weeks. Subject of the Tuesday night address will be "Regional Geology of the Pennsylvanian."

McKinney Pledges To Rid Party Of Political Termites

NEW YORK —(AP)—Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney says he and President Truman are ready to help expose and punish the "gaw" political "termites" in government.

"In my opinion," McKinney adds, "99/10 per cent of those entrusted with public office are honest and incorruptible."

He describes the others as "the termites we shall always have with us," and continues:

"The only way to deal with termites is to keep a sharp watch for them and get rid of them whenever they show up. That is just what the Democratic Party is doing."

McKinney's comments were made Monday night in his first major speech since becoming national chairman, October 31. He addressed a $100-a-plate banquet of the Democratic National Committee.

President Truman sent the dinner a message appealing for preparations that will make the Democratic Party "strong morally, strong in enthusiasm and strong in the material resources that will be required for a hard-fought campaign."

St. Mark's Men To Meet Wednesday

A meeting scheduled Tuesday night at the Blue Star Inn to start a men's organization of St. Mark's Methodist Church has been changed to Wednesday night.

The Wednesday night dinner meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. with all men of the church invited to attend. They may bring other men as guests.

This meeting was changed to avoid conflict with the annual Santa Claus parade.

Ellenburger DST Is Being Taken Midland Explorer

The Blackwood & Nichols Company No. 1 B. L. Moss, Central-North Midland County wildcat, is at total depth of 12,990 feet in Ellenburger dolomite taking a drill-stem test.

Operator has not called a top on that formation.

No. 1 Moss has already indicated as a Levenian opener in the section from 12,837 to 11,902 feet. A three-hour drill-stem test was taken over that interval.

C-S Andrews Test Misses Sand Pay; To Go On To Devonian

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-DD University of Texas, long stepout to a Wolfcamp sand discovery recently completed in Central-South Andrews County apparently has failed to find the pay from which the opener was completed and is drilling deeper.

The Phillips project is now making hole below 8,606 feet in basal Wolfcamp lime. It is 4,066 feet southwest of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., and The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1-B-11-23 University, the discovery from the Wolfcamp sand.

That wildcat was completed from pay at 7,956-70 feet. Phillips No. 1-DD University of Texas did not find any sand, or any shows of petroleum in the comparable zone.

Had Gas In Test

The latest in this project was in the basal Wolfcamp at 7,990-8,090 feet. The tool was open two hours. There was a blow of air throughout the period.

Recovery was 1,170 feet of free gas in the drill pipe and 125 feet of gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of oil or of water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 50 to 70 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 300 pounds.

Had Upper Shows

However, it has shown possibilities of production in drill-stem tests in the Wichita-Albany section above the Wolfcamp.

It is going on to the Devonian. Location is 2,002 feet from south and 2,300 feet from east lines of section 22, block 11, University survey. That makes it 18 miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

Phillips No. 1-CC University of Texas, 11 miles northeast of the town of Andrews and in East-Central Andrews County is bottomed at 6,016 feet in Permian lime and shale, and it has been temporarily abandoned.

More Shows Logged

It did not report having logged any shows of possible production in drilling to its current total depth.

It topped the San Andres-Permian at 5,080 feet. Elevation was 3,034 feet.

Location was 660 feet from south and 667 feet from east lines of section 42, block 5, University survey.

On Large Block

It is on a block of 2,588.8 acres of leases on University of Texas lands for which Phillips paid a bonus of $100,000 at the June 1951 auction sale of University leases.

The project may be drilled deeper at a later date. The contract between Phillips and the University Lands was for a 6,000-foot wildcat to test the San Andres.

SO&GC Completes Small Clear Fork Opener In Mitchell

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 1 F. A. Langley, Central-West Mitchell County wildcat as a small pumping discovery from the Clear Fork line of the Permian.

The project pumped 15.85 barrels of oil and no water in a 24-hour potential test. Gravity of the oil was 29 degrees.

The production was from perforated sections at 4,324-36 feet; 4,339-46 feet; 4,373-87 feet; 4,412-16 feet; 4,419-32 feet; 4,434-40 feet and 4,444-48 feet.

Those zones had been treated with a total of 6,000 gallons of acid.

Barren In Ellenburger

The wildcat drilled to a total depth of 8,180 feet in barren Ellenburger. It did not have any possibilities of production between the Ellenburger and the present plugged back total depth of 4,585 feet.

Argo Is To Acidize Wolfcamp Prospect Near Garden City

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 M. E. Cook, Central Glasscock County wildcat, four miles southwest of Garden City is preparing to treat the open hole at 7,330-7,501 feet with 2,000 gallons of acid and then try to complete as a commercial producer and the opener of a new oil field.

That zone had swabbed some free oil naturally—however the oil was swabbed to pits and no gauge was run on the recovery. Operator representatives did not make any estimate on the petroleum yield of the natural swabbing.

The section making the oil is in the Wolfcamp series of the lower Permian. Some geologists had originally called it Wichita-Albany—but they have revised their ideas.

No Shows In Bottom

This project drilled to a total depth of 7,958 feet. No shows were found between 7,501 feet and the bottom. It plugged back to 7,501 feet and set and cemented 5 1/2-inch casing at 7,330 feet for the testing and completion effort.

Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 17, block 34, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Stonewall Test Has Run Pipe To Finish

W. F. Neuney of Tyler has run casing for completion from the Canyon reef line at his No. 1 O. M. Sparks, prospect in Southwest Stonewall County, one and one-half miles northeast of the Double Mountain-Canyon pool.

The test flowed oil on a drill-stem test of the reef from 5,250 feet to 5,288 feet. Gas came to the surface in five minutes and oil in 59 minutes.

Flow Rate Not Given

The rate of the oil flow was not reported. Final recovery was 600 feet of heavily oil cut mud. Flowing pressure was 920 pounds and shut-in pressure was 1,590 pounds in 15 minutes.

Operator set 5 1/2-inch casing at 5,246 feet, one foot below the top of the reef, for completion in open hole. Top of the line was picked at 5,245 feet, minus datum point of 3,328 feet.

Location of No. 1 Sparks is 660 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 161, block 1, H&TC survey.

Texaco Swabbing Tom Green Tester

The Texas Company was swabbing to test at its No. 1 Bubenik, West-Central Tom Green County wildcat and possible discovery from a Pennsylvanian line.

Swabbing through perforations at 5,464-72 feet after a 500-gallon acid treatment, operator recovered 12.38 barrels of oil and 445.53 barrels of salt water in 24 1/2 hours. During the last seven and one-half hours of that period the well made 1.38 barrels of oil and 95.53 barrels of salt water.

Location is 3,330 feet from most northerly south line and 475 feet from the east line of 147.55-acre lease in section 826, Wilhelms Lunders survey.

That puts it two miles northeast of Tankersley.

Water Is Found In Andrews Project

Sulphur water was encountered on two drill-stem tests of the Devonian between 10,824 and 10,894 feet at the Woodward & Company and R. E. Fair No. 1 Bettie Cox-Sinclair, wildcat in Central-North Andrews County.

Two hour test from 10,824 to 10,864 feet recovered 60 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 90 feet of sulphur water-cut mud. Another test of the same length from 10,845 to 10,894 feet, recovered 50 feet of oil, gas and sulphur water-cut mud and 4,000 feet of sulphur water.

Operator is preparing to drill deeper.

Drill site is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 9, block A-33, psd survey, and five miles northeast of the Shafter Lake multipay field.
