COUNTRY . . . peace

Now that the war is over, that year of city people to move to the country seems to have become stronger than ever.

During the war the movement of people was definitely away from the farms and to the cities where lucrative war jobs were available.

MONEY . . . enjoyment

This desire for the rural life seems to exist more among the educated and well-to-do people than among the poorer classes.

He hopes, when he has his farm, to have plenty of time for hunting and fishing and riding.

ADVICE . . . danger

During the past few years dozens of books and magazine articles have been written to instruct these would-be farmers on what they are facing.

Probably, in the final analysis, it depends on the individual.

PROMOTED TO T/5

WITH THE 81ST INFANTRY DIVISION SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC—James E. Hall, son of Mrs. Florence Hall, Route 6, Hico, Tex., has been promoted from private first class to technician fifth grade in recognition of proven ability with an artillery battalion.

Corporal Hall is a member of Maj. Gen. Paul J. Mueller's 81st Infantry "Wildcat" Division, which last fall wrested the Palau and other Western Caroline Islands from the Japs.

Numerous Workers Soon to Have Paid-Up Insurance Policies

In another 18 months, thousands of workers will have a paid-up government insurance policy, according to George W. Hoke, manager of the Waco, Texas office of the Social Security Board.

By the end of 1946, Mr. Hoke said, "49 quarters or 19 years will have elapsed since Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance began to operate, and all workers in commerce and industry who have earned at least $50 in each of these quarters in covered employment since December 31, 1936, and up to January 1, 1947, will have acquired a permanently insured status, regardless of their subsequent employment or whether they ever work again.

Drivers Warned By State Police to Check Licenses

Austin, Sept. 11.—Better check up on your drivers license. Under the impetus of mounting traffic fatalities, the Department of Public Safety is about to begin a vigorous enforcement campaign against unlicensed drivers, Director Homer Garrison said today.

Estimating that Texas now has 250,000 drivers who either have no licenses or whose licenses have expired, Garrison said:

"The deliberately evasive person is likely to be dangerous, either because of known incompetence or in the case of many new residents and new drivers, ignorance of Texas safety rules.

"Of those who have expired licenses, probably a considerable number have developed defects or attitudes, or records of traffic violation and accident, that give them cause to fear examination.

Two War Prisoners Heard From; One Is On His Way Home

Good news for relatives and friends concerned over the safety of two local U. S. prisoners of the Japs was contained in messages concerning them received in the past few days.

Although no definite government telegram as to the whereabouts or situation of Coxswain J. D. (Tad) Robertson has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Robertson, a letter written in February of this year was received by the family.

Even more encouraging was the news received by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Abel of Hico Route 3 about their son, Pfc. Johnnie Louis Abel. A telegram from the Adjutant General's Department under date of Sept. 8, read: "The Secretary of War has asked me to inform you that your son, Pfc. Johnnie L. Abel, has been returned to military control 4th Sept. 1945 and is being returned to United States in the near future.

A Star-Telegram article by Sam Kinch, dated at Yokohama Sept. 5, listed Abel's name along with other Texans in a group processed last week prior to return to the States. Prisoners had told Kinch, according to the article, of starving men being beaten for most any or no reason and forced to work as stevedores at Osaka and to build dry docks at Tanagawa.

LABOR DAY REMINDED 'RED-IE' OF THE DAYS WHEN HE USED TO WORK

Cpl. Ray Cheek in a letter written from Manila, P. I., on Labor Day to his old boss, Hugh McCullough, indicated that he was willing to come home any time Uncle Sam was ready.

He had seen a number of following-up Japanese military men during the surrender proceedings, and said they really eyed our equipment and were impressed with the power behind the United States.

Replaces Stolen Doll

Little Anne Fitzpatrick of Dorchester, Mass., is shown with the doll which she gave for the shrine in Cedar Grove cemetery, after vandals had broken the glass shrine and stolen Boston's most famous doll, which for more than a half century kept a lonely vigil beside the grave of its little mistress.

Availability of DDT Hailed by Texans as Good Health News

Austin, Texas, Sept. 11.—Good news for the thousands of families in Texas, is the information that DDT, the almost miraculous insecticide developed during the war, is now available for civilian use, and if not already on the market in every community, the time is approaching when it may be purchased, wherever insecticides are sold.

Formerly restricted to military use for the suppression and control of malaria and other insect-borne diseases among the armed forces at home and abroad, civilians have awaited with interest the opportunity to use DDT in homes and business buildings, to rid them of flies, fleas, roaches and other common pests.

"If every householder in the State will spray his home and outbuildings with DDT," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State health officer declared recently, "there is a definite possibility of bringing the incidence of insect-borne diseases down to an absolute minimum. Such insects as fleas, lice, flies, mosquitoes, and roaches have been recognized as vectors of diseases for many years, but heretofore there has been no satisfactory method whereby they could all be controlled by a single poison. That is why DDT is referred to as a 'miracle insecticide.' It is as fatal to one of these pests as to another, and homes, business buildings, out-houses and premises can be rid of such insects through the use of DDT."

Dr. Cox urges that in communities where DDT is already available, every home and every business building be sprayed, as well as outbuildings, privies, and the outside surfaces of closed garbage cans. Even though closed garbage containers are kept closed, flies are sometimes attracted by the smell of food, and if they alight on a surface that has been treated with DDT, they are killed.

The State health officer advises that persons living in communities where DDT is not yet on the market should keep in touch with their local dealers so that as soon as it is received, they can use it in their homes. It is inexpensive and affords one of the cheapest and most certain of all health protections, costing only a few cents for a quantity sufficient to spray the ordinary home thoroughly.

M-K-T Lines Let Contract for 50 New Hopper Cars

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 11.—Missouri-Kansas-Texas Lines officials last week announced the granting of a contract to the American Car and Foundry Co. for 50 new 70-ton steel hopper cars.

The cars, to cost in excess of $200,000, were ordered to meet increasing demands by shippers of bulk cement in the Southwest, to be built by American Car's Madison, Ill., plant, they will be delivered early in 1946.

Sheriff Comments On Local Angle of Increasing Crime

State and national law enforcement officers are much concerned over plans for dealing with the increase in crime which always follows a great war. N. Y. Terral, sheriff of Hamilton county, has released the following statement on the local status quo, which points out expected dangers and seeks cooperation of the public in holding crime down:

"We are going into the post-war period, of which we are all very glad. But crime over the nation is steadily rising and we should prepare our county for the crime wave which is coming.

"Our State is full of ex-convicts. Some of them are well-educated in commitment of crime. Since rationing of gas is over, criminals can get from place to place easier, and we as officers can't detect a criminal by checking his gas any more.

"The people as a whole can help prevent crime by preparing for the post-war period. If you are in business, fix your buildings where they are not so easily broken into. Keep close check on your merchandise by name and number. Know your employees. Notice the loafers—there may be some thing who knows if you are leaving money in your place of business, or if you are careless about checking your merchandise. We boys in the county will have to brand our cattle and watch our pastures closer.

"We must have the cooperation of the courts and the people as a whole and then we, as law enforcement officers, will use every method available to apprehend law violators. Listen—law enforcement is made up of the sheriff's department, the county and district attorneys, and judges of every court. It takes cooperation.

"We have just as much work to do in law enforcement according to population as any other county in Texas. Our 49th Legislature repealed some of our laws, but we still can raise the standard of law enforcement in Hamilton county. A county of our population and in our financial condition, with the aid of our commissioners' court, can have a more educational way of law enforcement.

With Peace Civilian Can Anticipate New Canned Foods Soon

Now that the postwar era has become a reality with the downfall of Japan, citizens of Hamilton county can look forward to dramatic developments in canned foods, many of which were first packaged for the armed forces, according to W. C. Stolk, vice president of American Can Company.

Mr. Stolk said that the approximately 1,078,000 cans of food opened annually by residents of the county undoubtedly will be largely increased with the arrival of the new postwar items. It will be no trick at all, he said, for a housekeeper to put together a three or four course meal by making use of the canned foods she should shortly find on the grocery shelves.

Among the new foods he listed are such items as canned hamburgers, canned bacon, seafood cocktails and salads in cans, as well as a long list of meats new to a can, among them chicken stew with dumplings, beef and gravy, pork with apple sauce, ham with raisin sauce, and honed turkey.

DAUGHTER IN HOSPITAL

Shirley Seago, who is in the Hillcrest Memorial Hospital in Waco for treatment (and not in the Medical Arts Hospital in Dallas as was erroneously reported to the News Review last week) is improving nicely, according to her father, Gene Seago, who received a letter Thursday morning from his wife who is in Waco with their daughter. He also reported that his mother, Mrs. J. J. Seago of Valley Mills, formerly of Hico, is ill with pneumonia in the Clifton Hospital.

W. A. STUBBLEFIELD SELLS FARM HE'S OWNED 39 YEARS

W. A. Stubblefield reported this week that he had sold his 409-acre farm between Hico and Fairly to Hobart Proffitt, formerly of Hico but now employed at Hobbs, New Mexico. Mr. Stubblefield, who plans to move between now and the first of next year, had owned and farmed the place for thirty years. Mr. Proffitt expects to do some fencing and make other improvements, it is reported.

Kal Segrist, constable of the Oak Cliff precinct at Dallas, has been spending his vacation in the old home town.

NATION'S BANKS GEARED FOR POST-WAR LENDING

Funds Available to Meet Broad Needs of Borrowers

With total victory, 15,000 national and state banks throughout the country are geared to meet the credit needs of postwar America, Robert M. Hanes, chairman of the postwar small business credit commission of the American Bankers' association, declared.

Since money serves as the great transmission belt permitting the flow of services and materials, Hanes' statement was not without significance to postwar prosperity. Backed by two years of study of the credit needs of the nation's economic machine, the banks' peacetime lending apparatus was oiled up for the inevitable return to normalcy even while the war raged.

"Banking has produced a new postwar credit product—the bank credit group," Hanes declared. "There are now 40 such groups with total resources in excess of $600,000,000, whose operations extend throughout every area of the nation. These credit groups are designed to provide a third source of bank credit within the banking structure itself, the local bank being the first and its correspondent the second.

"The individual banks themselves, with deposits in excess of $140,000,000,000, constitute the greatest reservoir of potential credit in the history of banking. In addition these banks are rapidly becoming skilled in the uses of credit methods that were developed in the years just prior to the war. Many of these were used primarily by large business, such as term loans, accounts receivable, and field warehousing. Today, however, all these useful credit methods are being applied by the banks to the needs of small business.

Backing up the local bank in this postwar credit activity is an active correspondent system whereby loans are being made in co-operation with the country banks in cases where the country bank, because of its size or for some other reason, is unable to make the loan itself. Too, many banks where the volume of business warrants are creating special facilities for providing expert counsel and special service to small business. Banking is determined that small business shall live and shall be given the opportunity to grow and prosper.

Banking's program, according to Hanes, will provide the means for making available jobs to the veteran and the war worker, and it will speed the reconversion process of business and industry and will permit many enterprises, particularly the small ones, to swing rapidly into peacetime production. He sees through his operations the re-establishment of many concerns blacked out by wartime restrictions, priorities and manpower shortages.

"This constructive credit program," Hanes declared, "will be made available to the people of America out of the credit resources and through the facilities of the banks of the nation. It will be done without placing any additional burden upon the taxpayer through the creation of government subsidized lending agencies or through the operation of new and unnecessary government bureaus for insuring, guaranteeing or making loans."

Duffau

By Elmer Glesecke

A. L. McAnally was painfully injured on the highway at the intersection of the Duffau-Clairette roads. Mr. McAnally is in the Stephenville Hospital, but we have no particulars as to the cause of the accident except that he collided with a truck.

The Christian meeting closed Sunday night, with several additions to the church.

E. E. and L. B. Glesecke were notified Saturday afternoon that their sister, Mrs. J. A. Nix, had passed away at the Baylor County Hospital. They left immediately and attended the funeral services at the Church of Christ in Seymour. Her remains were laid to rest in the Cache Creek Cemetery.

Our community was deeply grieved when we received word that little 4-year-old Frances Killecrease was fatally burned at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Killecrease. Frances was rushed to the Stephenville Hospital, where she died last Thursday, just a few hours after the tragic accident. Her body was buried in the Stephenville Cemetery.

Mrs. Estell Deskins and son, Robert, visited friends at this place last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Herring of Stephenville attended church here Sunday. Also Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bobo of Hico were at church and stayed for afternoon singing. There was dinner under the tabernacle.

Miss Joyce Fallin, who is a staff nurse in a Fort Worth hospital, and her sister, Delores, who is a stenographer at the same place, visited relatives and friends here last week.

Our school opened Monday, August 19. Marvin Lewallen has remodeled his house by putting on a new roof and repainting, which certainly helps the appearance of the place.

Hot and dry has been the order of the day. Corn-gathering is the important job just now.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Higginbotham and daughter, Louise, have returned to their home from Midland, where he has worked for the past several months.

C. H. Miller of Waco is up prospecting this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lively and children of Gustine visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lively, Sunday.

Stanley Glesecke and brothers, L. B. and E. E. of Duffau, were called to Seymour last Saturday by news of the death of their sister, Mrs. J. A. Nix. Mrs. W. J. Nix had left for Seymour Saturday morning but she had passed away. Services were held at the Church of Christ, Burial was at Cache Creek Cemetery beside her daughter.

J. A. Nix of Seymour is visiting a few days in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Caulder and daughter, Nelda, visited their cousin, Carl Hale, and family near Granbury last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. McCollum have moved to Hico.

Several attended the Church of Christ meeting at Duffau Sunday, and the singing in the afternoon.

HOUSE AND HOME

By MARY E. DAGUE

Fall cleaning is just around the corner with busy days ahead both indoors and out.

Outdoor yards and gardens must be cleaned and raked, dead plants burned and fallen leaves gathered for the compost pit. Houses must be gone over for repairs and screens and porch furniture put away in good order. All tools and equipment should be stored so as to keep them in good condition.

When you are cleaning house be very critical of the arrangement of the furniture when you return it to the living room because mere rearrangement may make for pleasant living. Every piece should have a definite reason for its placing. Easy chairs with foot rests invite one to sit before the fire and make a delightful grouping in front of the fireplace. A comfortable chair near a window is an attractive spot to knit or read in the daytime with a lamp on an elbow table by the chair-arm for light after dark. Chairs grouped with small tables suggest relaxed and pleasant hours of conversation for family and friends. A desk can be placed at a right angle to a window in order to insure good light for correspondence. Obviously the size and shape of your room will determine many points in the grouping of furniture but thoughtful arrangement can make any living room interesting and inviting.

As far as possible furniture should be scaled to the size of a room. Heavy furniture in a small room makes the room seem even smaller while too many small chairs and tables in a large room create a cluttered effect.

If you are fortunate enough to have an asparagus bed, don't neglect to give it a heavy top dressing of some stimulant that will insure thick tender stalks next spring.

As soon as growth is over for the season, the chances of success in transplanting trees and ferns from the woods are the very best. Be sure that you can supply the right natural growing conditions before you take up any plants.

You can plant bulbs for early spring flowering until the ground freezes but it's a good idea to get the bulbs in the ground just as soon as you receive them. Prepare the soil well in advance of the planting, digging it deep, working it up finely and enriching well with bone meal and wood ashes. Plant daffodils 4 to 6 inches deep and 8 or 10 inches apart. Tulips are planted 5 to 6 inches deep and 9 to 12 inches apart. Our American bulbs are most satisfactory so don't hesitate to use them.

Sow some flower seeds in your bulb beds and borders if you have bare spaces. Forget-me-nots, violas and pansies like cool weather and will blossom with daffodils and tulips if sown in the fall.

W. S. C. S. MET AT THE METHODIST CHURCH SEPT. 3

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the Methodist Church Sept. 3 for the regular business and spiritual life meeting.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. J. F. Isbell. During the business meeting, plans were made to attend the Seminar at Hamilton.

Mrs. C. D. Hanson was in charge of the spiritual life program taken from the book, "Three Gospels and a History" by Roy L. Smith.

The meeting closed with the Society benediction.

Six members of the W. S. C. S. attended the Seminar at Hamilton on Friday, Sept. 7.

District secretaries were present to give talks on the coming year's work. The general theme for the coming year will be "Peace."

An award of merit was presented to Hico W. S. C. S. for the study on "The American Indian."

Supplies of DDT, the new insect killing agent, are becoming available now. Be sure to read the label carefully. Handle the DDT with care—follow directions in mixing or using it.

Though it became known as an insecticide just before the war, DDT was first discovered in 1874 by a Swiss chemist, who was looking for a new kind of dye. DDT turned out to be colorless, so he discarded it. No insects contacted it, for it was winter. In 1939, a German chemist, also looking for a new dye, developed DDT, but this time it was summer and some flies came in contact with it, thus revealing its first insect killing qualities.

Dates on the Greater Pan-American Hereford Exposition at Dallas have been changed to November 9 to 18, according to Jack Frost, president, who says the new dates will allow use of the Dallas State Fair Livestock Building for showing and judging. Entries will close October 10.

Cotton growers in 39 West Texas counties voted almost unanimously at meetings at Sweetwater and Vernon last week to ask for a ceiling price of about $1.25 per hundred for pulling, $2.00 per cwt for picking, and 25 cents per cwt for hauling up to 15 miles from field to gin. All of the nine counties except Brazoria in the Gulf section which had a ceiling on cotton picking this year were removed from the ceiling regulations after the Gulf hurricane destroyed most of the crop remaining in the fields.

OPA has told congressmen that most rationing will end this year. Fats and oils, however, may still be short in 1946, the sugar situation is expected to improve. Tire rationing will continue at least till the end of the year.

State directors have been named in 30 States for the new Production and Marketing Administration of the USDA. Mostly they are ex-AAA men. In Texas, the State AAA committee is temporarily in charge of the production side of the agency, with George Slaughter of

Apoplexy Stroke

By Dr. J. E. Warren

When people tell you about their blood pressure they mean their systolic blood pressure, which is the blood pressure with the first beat of the heart when the cuff of the blood pressure instrument is tightened with air. This should be about 135 to 140. However, it may go up to 160 or 180 under excitement and still be normal. It is the diastolic pressure, when the cuff is loose with no air in it, that is most important. If it is over 115, then more rest must be taken and less food eaten to prevent a stroke.

Harvest Help

Harvest time... when the farmer is at his busiest! Especially so today when the crop he harvests is so vital. It is during these work filled harvest days when the farmer most appreciates the time-saving assistance his telephone offers. The little son of Mrs. Stacy Tidwell is reported to be getting along fine. All are sure glad he is now out of danger.

Mrs. Opal Reed and Mrs. Doris Reed of California are visiting their sister, Mrs. Howard.

IREDELL GIRL GETS JTAC DIPLOMA IN HOME ECONOMICS

Special to The News Review:

Stephenville, Tex., Sept. 8.—Wilma Chaffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Chaffin of Iredell, received her diploma in vocational home economics from John Tarleton Agricultural College on September 12. Wilma was a member of the Sine Cera social club, vice-president of the Home Ec. Club, a member of the Argettes, and the B. S. U. While at Tarleton she worked as secretary to the dietitian on the part-time student employment plan. She plans to enter NTSTC to prepare to teach home economics.

Clairette

By Mrs. H. Alexander

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Self and children of Carleton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Self Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie McAnally and son of Brownwood, Mr. and Mrs. Burrette Stanford and daughter of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stanford, Mrs. T. L. Thompson and baby of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Artie Thompson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stanford.

J. T. Stipe of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stipe and daughter were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stipe and children Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack McGough and children of Ranger visited Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wolfe last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Doggett and children of Fort Worth visited her father, Mr. P. C. Carr, and family Sunday.

Mrs. R. C. Elliott and daughters, Stather and Mildred, of Alpine spent Saturday night in the home of Mrs. E. O. Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Belights and daughter of Dallas spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Cranfill.

School began here Monday, with Mr. Heatley of De Leon as superintendent, assisted by Mrs. Heatley, Mrs. Flora Roberson, and Mrs. Mary Walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Dowdy of Fort Worth spent the week end here.

The members of the Busy Bee Sewing Club entertained their husbands and children last Thursday night with a picnic supper, followed by entertainment of forty-two and eighty-four. After the games, watermelons were served to all present.

Rev. Arch Jones was a dinner guest in the R. W. Sherrard home Sunday.

Mrs. John Goughly and two of her children, Charles and Betty Jane, accompanied by her father, Mr. A. J. Jordan and daughter, Hester, of Hico spent the week end in Abilene visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Estle Ammons of Stephenville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mackey Sunday.

England Again Produces Cars

While army ambulances are still seen in the background, the girls at the Austin factory in Birmingham put the finishing touches on the line of the brand new postwar 19 H. P. Austin. The order of the day is production of autos for civilian needs.

Fairy

By Mrs. J. O. Richardson

We are still needing rain in this section. However, farmers state that there is sufficient moisture in the fields.

Our school opened Monday with very good attendance, and it is hoped all can attend regularly and not be detained too much by gathering of crops, as the first period of school work is the most interesting to school children. Farmers will probably miss those teenagers who have been taking the place of our men in the service with farm work.

We erred in stating that one of our school bus drivers was Lawrence Porterfield. Instead, it should have read, Marvin Porterfield.

Our school has secured the services of Dewey Massengale as janitor.

Mrs. Curtis Wright and little son, Curtis Glenn, are moving today (Tuesday) to Hico. We regret very much to learn of her change in residence, but hope she is pleased in her new place of residence. She expects her husband to be discharged soon.

Mrs. Brittle Little spent Thursday night and Friday of last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Brummitt.

Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and little daughter, Carolyn Ruth, spent last Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Richardson. Her husband sent her a picture of the small town in Germany where he is stationed. The town is located at the foot of the mountains and looks similar to our mountains here, with a beautiful castle in the background located in the bend of the mountains. Private First Class Sellers is very anxious to start on his homeward journey. He expects to be there several months yet.

George Duncan of Dublin and his helpers have completed the deep well on the McAdams place southwest of Fairy and are now drilling on the J. O. Richardson stock farm near Agee.

Mr. Bob Hancock and his force have just completed some much-needed road repairs between Fairy and Agee.

Mrs. Emma Lackey spent a few days last week visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Andrew Hutton, and family at Hico.

Work is progressing nicely on the H. H. Wolfe home west of Fairy. The structure is cobblestone, with five rooms and bath. It will be modern in every way when completely finished. They will install butane gas as soon as tanks are obtainable. We know they will enjoy their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sellers and daughters, Joy Marie and Mrs. Wesley Jones and children of Hamilton visited with Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers recently.

Fred Duncan had his tonsils removed last week. We hope him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Barbee and family who live four miles north of Fairy are making arrangements to move up near Denton soon. We regret to learn of their plans, but wish them the best of luck and success in the change.

Rev. Grayson Tension filled an appointment at the Baptist church Sunday morning and night.

The Fairy Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Ruth Cunningham Friday afternoon, Sept. 7. The topic for the afternoon was "Being a Good Hostess and a Welcomed Guest." Roll call was answered by something we consider important in being a good hostess. Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Edna Lackey at 2:00 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 28. All the ladies are invited to attend these meetings, for we feel you will be benefited by them.

The Red Cross met with Mrs. W. L. Jones last Tuesday afternoon. Thirteen ladies were present to assist in tacking rug stripes for McCloskey Hospital at Temple, Texas. They are meeting with Mrs. Buster Glenn today (Tuesday).

FIGHTING PEACETIME FOLLOWERS

The majority of Americans think the atomic bomb was a very worthwhile investment, even though its perfection cost in the neighborhood of two billion dollars.

Because of that huge investment which made it possible to give the leading scientists of the world every possible tool they needed to speed their mastery of atomic energy, the atomic bomb was completed perhaps 500 years ahead of time.

If the American taxpayer will approve such huge expenditures for speeding a vital scientific discovery for war use, we wonder if he wouldn't be equally willing to have his government put up whatever sum is necessary to rid the world of peacetime killers—of cancer, which will take a toll of over a million lives in the next ten years, of tuberculosis, which will kill another million, and of infantile paralysis which is dreaded by every parent in our nation.

At present, not more than $5,000,000 a year is spent on cancer research. Perhaps $500,000,000 or a billion dollars would make it possible to wipe out cancer quickly.

VICTORY OVER INSECTS

DDT, the famous insect-killer used in the war, is now available to the public.

The stories which have been built up about the powers of this drug seem fantastic, yet the facts indicate that most of them are true.

DDT, put in paint and wallpaper, will bring death to flies and mosquitoes which touch them for several years afterward. It probably will end the moth menace. It may rid the country of flies and mosquitoes and other germ-carrying insects. It may be used to get rid of garden pests and at the same time not destroy necessary bugs and insects. Perhaps it will get rid of termites.

It will undoubtedly be produced in a form which can be used safely on the body to keep insects away.

Wee Bits of GESTURE

[Opinions expressed in this weekly feature are the writers', and not necessarily those of the News Review.—ED.]

Well, folks, I see where "Politics" has been uncovered in the Pearl Harbor case. My goodness! It's no wonder we have been smelling something all along with that kind of a scent injected into it. That's about the only way we the people ever get any real help out of Politics. "Its scent reveals its hiding place." This is not a matter that gives to any one of us American people the right to get up and make some kind of a speech about our confidence in "So-and-So's" ability and then expect the "hush, hush lid" to be clamped down so tightly that John Public can't even find a "peep hole." It is, instead, a matter of the deepest concern to all of us and therefore comes under the head of "mine and your business." Let the Big Wigs play politics if they want to. But you and I have a job to do. So let's all put "clothes-pins on our noses" and try to get this Pearl Harbor affair out on the line for a good airing before "Old Man Winter" comes sneaking in here upon us and makes away with all of our sunshine.

Yank With Courage

Pfc. James Wilson of Jacksonville, Fla., after having lost both legs and hands in a bomber crash, has learned to use both artificial limbs and hands.

THIS AND THAT BY JOE SMITH DYER

TROMBONIST. The manager of a bookstore told me one time that a man who always postponed things was a trombonist. Just then I failed to understand just what he meant. Now I know.

A trombone is a wind instrument that makes plenty of noise.

It is never in the lead, however, regardless of how much noise it makes. The trombonist reminds me of the man who never forced his soup by suction, but insisted on stepping around to the other side of the spoon and blowing it in.

In large organizations where there are many people playing different instruments, the "let things slide" trombonist, the put-it-off player, swells the volume but there is just about as much harmony in the heart of a "let things slide" trombonist as there is in hearing a mule eat corn. The trombonist in an organization can easily and profitably be dispensed with unless the organization plans a side-show where plenty of noise is necessary. When duty is always delayed, the employee who delays it is as promising a prospect as the college boy who thinks his ukelele is a vital part of his college education.

The "put-it-off" trombonist does not realize that there is a vast difference between "late" and "too late" and it's surprisingly strange that we remove our shoe because there is a small pebble in it, but we work for days and days in the presence of delayed duties a mile high.

The purpose of the "postponer" is as dead as a door-nail because his purpose—whatever it is—is buried beneath a pile of things undone.

WEEK'S BEST BOOK

I think it's "Barrington" by Edward Tatum Wallace.

It's a story of small-town America in those early 1900 days of buggy rides and spooning and church suppers on the lawn.

As you start the book you'll get a mental picture of Barrington's Main Street and the third building on the left is the hardware store. In the year 1900 everybody in Barrington traded there. They did so because of Bart McKenzie who owned the store and who could sell you a nickel-plated cook-stove or a carriage robe any time he felt like it, whether you wanted to make the purchase or not. He has a dry kind of humor and he never makes fun of people, but if people want to make fools of themselves he is always willing to help them do it.

In the book Bart gets mixed up in everything that happens in Barrington (population 1200). He gets so hopelessly mixed up in the town's affairs that he wonders how he will ever get out, but he does and just how he does it makes "Barrington" a very interesting and entertaining book that you'll be glad you read.

It's published by Simon & Schuster, New York.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

Mrs. Opal Long of Los Angeles lost her wedding band one day while shopping. She had been to the grocery, to the drug store, and to the neighborhood post office.

When she returned home she missed the ring which had been too large for her ever since an operation she had had and after which she lost weight.

Mrs. Long went back to all the stores she had visited on her shopping tour. No one had seen the ring. She advertised, but there were no answers.

Two months later Mrs. Long became very sick one day and called the doctor. After the examination the doctor said:

"You have a return of your old trouble, Mrs. Long, and you must have another operation."

She did—at the same hospital she had been in before.

They found her wedding band.

Somehow Mrs. Long had swallowed it. She doesn't remember how or when, but she is very glad to have it back.

But before she started wearing it again she had it cut down because, as Mrs. Long says:

"It's just not good for people to swallow their jewelry."

JUST FOR FUN. The speaker had been haranguing the audience for more than an hour when an enebriate, who had become somewhat impatient, arose

The speaker smiled good-naturedly at the sudden interruption and replied, "About four years, my friend."

"Well," the enebriate remarked, "I'll stick around awhile longer, 'cause you must be nearly finished."

SHE WON BY FOLLOWING THROUGH

THERE is a grandmother working for the General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y. In addition to holding her job, she had made $500 on the side.

Her name is Mrs. Sophie Smith, and her husband works for the same company. She left school when she was in the eighth grade to go to work.

Her job was pretty humble—assembling insulators. She had to make a certain number of movements, punch the time clock, and go home. That was her daily round.

She decided to make it more than that. She decided to find out just how each separate part that came into her hands was made. So she went to the department manager and got permission to follow each item from the time it arrived at the factory until it came to her, and to find out how it was made. The other workers thought she was crazy. Said she could do just as good work without all this fuss and bother. But Sophie kept on and she learned a great deal about the pieces she was assembling.

One day she turned in an idea about a screw that was used in the work she was doing. The screw was copper-plated. Sophie wanted to know why, since the screw was hidden away and not seen by anyone, that a cheaper screw could not be used?

Finally the idea landed in the superintendent's office, and he sent for Sophie. He said that she was the first one from that department who had ever turned in a suggestion for doing better work. Then he gave her $30 for turning in the idea. The other workers in the department said she was a favorite, or she wouldn't have gotten the money.

The war came on. Mrs. Sophie Smith turned in more ideas. She was promoted to the transmitter inspection department where she checks delicate instruments for our armed forces. She has followed the same practice of following the metals through the factory and learning all about them. She has turned in 100 ideas, and about half of them have been accepted. For these suggestions she has been paid $500. There are better-educated people working in the same department, or similar departments, who have not made any extra money.

To the Public: There appears to be a misunderstanding of intentions relative to the conduct of the Hospital, as stated in the full-page prospectus published in the August 31st issue of The Hico News Review. The intent of the advertising mentioned above was only to secure your subscriptions to the fund for BUILDING the Hospital. All matters relative to the conduct of the Hospital, such as Location, Building Materials, Management and General Conduct of the Institution, will be under the control and direction of the stockholders, through the Directors and Officers elected by the Stockholders, and we can assure you that full and careful consideration will be given all matters affecting the policy of the Hospital. Trusting this explanation makes the matter clear to all concerned, and that you will send in your subscriptions promptly, so permanent organization may be had and the building started as soon as possible, which should be in the very near future. GREED—A PEACETIME FAILING

"Do you know how I'm going to celebrate, Mommy?" I overheard a child ask when the Japanese surrender was announced during dinner at a restaurant. "I'm going to drink two glasses of milk," she announced happily and then added "if I have room."

If instead of going back to our national habit of wasting food, we would adopt this little girl's wholesome standards of what is good to eat and, as she was prepared to do, know when we've had enough, we could help make the peace secure by relieving the world's hunger this winter. I think it can be truthfully said that none of us missed a meal during the war years, while thousands of our people ate better than they ever had before. So why shouldn't we be willing to continue sharing our food supply, since we have no long pent-up hunger to satisfy?

But already the rush to buy canned goods indicates that many families are substituting hoarding for the home canning they did last year. This is only one of many signs that greed is a human failing; we must always battle, in peace or war.

Let's consider some of the advantages to ourselves of pulling in our belts for another year or two. For one thing, if children are taught not to waste food they will be careful of it all their lives—and abundance as we once knew it may not return for many years, so the lesson will be valuable to them. I happen to know two persons who while they are free with money will go to a great deal of trouble not to let food go to waste. Both are southerners, both had learned frugality from their parents. The latter in their childhood had had it impressed on them that wasting food was a sin, as it was in the post Civil War days in which they had grown up. The South knew hunger—an experience the North was spared—and because of this, through three generations of well-to-do families respect for food had survived.

For another thing, could we respect ourselves if we knew that other children were going hungry while our own had more than they needed? Self respect is as important to a nation as to an individual. Third, that pestiferous greaser problem—the child who wouldn't eat, is much less apt to take the stage again if food has some scarcity value. Fourth, habits of overeating, acquired in childhood, are not easy to overcome. Later on, when boys and girls slow down from the ceaseless activity of childhood that excess food goes to fat and poundage.

Finally, and as we've been saying all along, it is time we outgrew the national reputation for a full garbage pail if we are to win the trust and regard of less fortunate peoples.

MARGIE LEE SIMONS BRIDE OF PVT. WILLIAM HOWLE OF BAILEYBORO, TEXAS

Wedding rites were solemnized on Saturday evening, Sept. 8, at 8:00 p. m., uniting in marriage Miss Margie Lee Simons of Hico and Pvt. William Howle of Baileyboro, Texas.

The ceremony was performed at the home of Rev. J. F. Isbell of Hico, pastor of the Methodist Church.
For the wedding the bride wore a black peplum-effect dress and white trim, with accessories of black. Her flowers were a corsage arrangement of white asters and lacy fern.

The bride's brother, A. D. Simons, and wife of Hico accompanied the couple and witnessed the ceremony. Private and Mrs. Howle left Sunday for a short honeymoon trip to Baileyboro, Texas, home of the groom's parents, and a few other nearby cities.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simons of Hico, having been born and reared in Hamilton county. She was graduated from Hico High School in May of 1944 and has been employed with the Knox & Tulloh produce house in Hico for several months. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howle of Baileyboro. He lived near Ireddell and attended school there before going into the service in February, 1943. Private Howle has just recently returned to the States from 16 months overseas duty. He and Mrs. Howle will remain at his home for a few weeks before he is to return to Fort Bliss, Texas.

Private and Mrs. Howle have many friends who wish for them much happiness and prosperity as they travel the path of life together.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Driver and daughter, Elvira, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rider arrived Wednesday from Clarkwood for a visit here with the ladies' mother, Mrs. C. W. Shelton, and other relatives.

This Week in WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C. (NWNS)—Discussion on the Murray Full Employment bill, which is the No. 1 problem before congress right now, revolves around a clause in the bill which reads: "To the extent that continuing full employment cannot otherwise be achieved, it is the further responsibility of the federal government to provide such volume of federal investment and expenditure as may be needed to insure continuing full employment."

The biggest problem in getting our economic machine into better gear, as some analysts here see it, is the outcome of the looming crash between labor unions and industry. Soon after Ford and Chrysler began producing new automobiles, some of their plants were tied up by strikes and production was halted. These strikes were of a comparatively minor nature, but there is grave danger that, if unions do use V-J Day as a signal to make new demands on management, strikes may knock out all plans for a quick return to full production.

It has been pointed out by many spokesmen that such a provision would lead to a condition where many workers might not make any effort to find employment, but would rely on the government finding work for them. The lack of a definition of "full employment" was pointed out as a serious omission in the measure. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, suggested that full employment be defined as "a condition in which the number of persons able to work and seeking work, shall be approximately equivalent to the number of opportunities for productive employment at suitable work, at not less than the prevailing wage standards and under prevailing working conditions for such work."

The present army plan is to release men from overseas service as fast as transportation facilities permit. The war department estimates that this can be done at a faster speed each month, beginning with 250,000 in September and rising to almost 700,000 in January. By July, 1946, between five and six million men will be discharged, reducing the size of the army to 3,500,000. This army will continue to be reduced if conditions in Germany and Japan warrant further reduction, and those remaining in the army will probably be replaced by 400,000 more men. This will depend on the willingness of congress to continue the draft.

Spokesmen for industry said that the measure intimated a lack of confidence in the ability of free enterprise to provide full employment and suggested that measures aimed at encouraging full production by industry would be a better answer to the fear of unemployment. It is expected that the measure will be revised and amended considerably, but will probably be passed in some form.

The navy will probably rely entirely upon volunteers for replacements of needed men and it is possible that the army will do that too. If the draft is not continued by congress the army will be forced to rely on volunteers or keep men now serving their country in the army indefinitely.

The point score will continue to be followed to determine which men are released first, but the number of points necessary for discharge will be cut to 80 and no man having over 60 points will be sent overseas.

AMERICAN HEROES

by JULIAN OLENDORFF

PVT. E. E. FRYAR single-handedly destroyed twenty-seven Japs in a rifle fight on Leyte Island and saved the life of his commanding officer. When a Nip rifleman arose from a ditch alongside the road and aimed at Fryar's platoon leader, the private jumped in front of his lieutenant and received seven bullet wounds in his chest and stomach. A medal of honor was awarded to Pvt. Fryar. At home we can help to keep such heroes adequately fed and equipped by buying War Bonds.

Carlton

By Mrs. Fred Geye

Sunday was a happy day for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geye, for their youngest son, T/4 Fred Nolan Geye, arrived home Sunday morning from Italy, after serving in the U. S. Army since Oct. 17, 1941, and had been overseas since Dec. 24, 1942. He and Pfc. Jake Roach, a former Carlton boy but now of Stephenville, made their homeward journey together. They received their discharges in San Antonio on Friday, Sept. 7.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. R. Wright Jr. of Amarillo visited Tuesday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright. They were on their way to Fort Worth from San Antonio, where he received his discharge Monday.

S. Sgt. J. W. Jordan Jr., who was wounded in Germany and has been in different hospitals for several months, received a medical discharge from the Army last week and has returned home.

A large crowd attended the memorial service Sunday morning at the Baptist church in honor of the Carlton boys who gave their lives while in service. They were as follows: T/Sgt. Page Barnett, Pfc. Toby Byrd, Pfc. Damon King, and Private Caston.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Whitehead had the pleasure of having all their children home last Wednesday. They were: Rufus Whitehead, S 2/c. Camp Parks, Calif. and his wife and two children of Dublin; Mrs. Jim Ray Anderson and two children, Mrs. Loys Landes and baby, Mrs. Corkey Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Whitehead and baby, all of Dublin; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elison and two daughters, Palm Rose; Margaret and Helen of the parental home, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright, parents of Mrs. Whitehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Littleton and daughter, Mrs. Dow Self and son, Connie Mack, and Mrs. E. A.

Blanchard were shoppers in Fort Worth Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dove and son, John Lee, who have been in Fort Worth employed for several months, have moved back to Carlton to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren and daughter, La Juana Kaye, of Dublin spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Dow Self, and family and their parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geye and Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Thetford returned recently from an extended visit with relatives at Gatesville, Oglethorpe, Farmela, McGregor, Osage, and Mound.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lefevre moved back to Carlton Monday from Dallas, where he had been employed. Her mother, Mrs. Sid Clark, returned home with them after a week's visit in Dallas with her daughter and husband.

Mrs. S. S. Vaughn is in Fort Worth at the bedside of her son, Cleve J. Woolley, who had undergone a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Clark and children spent the week end with relatives in Dallas.

Walter Chambers, MM 2/c. returned Friday to his sea duties after a month's visit home from the Pacific with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chambers, and his baby son, Jerry Lynn.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Abel and son, Billy Bryce, John and Miss Nora Abel of Fairy visited Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Lilla Byrd and family.

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Thetford were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Thetford of Ropeville, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thetford of Mound, Monroe Chambers and family of Gatesville, and Bob Meyer and family of Farmela.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Cozby and two children of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Byrd and son of Stephenville were week-end visitors with their mother, Mrs. Lilla Byrd.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Barnett and daughters, Latrelle and Mrs. Agatha Prater, moved Tuesday to Dublin to make their home.

Big Ten coaches rate Michigan as top prospect in their circuit. . . then come the Gophers and the Buckeyes. The service teams won't loom as formidable as in the last four years. . . stars are being discharged and moved all the time. . . the winning spirit is gone too, say coaches. Rollie Williams at Great Lakes remarks, "what few players we have left are more concerned with their point rating toward discharges than playing winning football. It is possible that Great Lakes may cancel its entire schedule."

U. of Illinois stands to gain most from returning veterans. . . enough eligible stars could come back to win the title. Ohio State is getting some choice high school material, but these boys will not be ready for the big time this season. Whatever school can get its veterans back on the field first stands a good chance to speed through to victory, considering the still disorganized state of college football.

Bob Feller won his first game just two days after rejoining the Cleveland Indians. . . and against the tough Tigers, too. He had been in the navy for more than three years.

Art Cooper will undergo a second arm operation as soon as the season ends. Deb Garmus of the Cardinals has received a silver lifetime pass, an award for his ten years of service with the club. Eddie Lake, never before considered much of a hitter, has led the Red Sox since he became regular shortstop.

Rogers Hornsby's theory that a ballplayer can't make base hits on anything but a diet of beefsteak turned out to be 90 per cent wrong recently. . . the Cubs, well fortified with steaks and chops, lost to the Phillies, 2 to 1. Then, when they went to eat next day in New York, they found that, because of the victory celebration, there was no meat to be had but hotdogs. . . they ate them, and went to play the Dodgers. The Cubs won handily, 20 to 6. But maybe the Cubs could beat the Dodgers on K rations.

The U. of Tennessee plans to increase the capacity of its football stadium from 32,000 to 75,000. Charlie Brickley of Harvard has kicked 34 goals in 37 attempts. German and Japanese baseball teams will be barred from competition in the 1946 International Tournament, sponsored by the National Baseball Congress. Don Engleby of Vermillion, Ohio, winner of the Grand American handicap trapshoot with a score of 99 out of 100, had so little expectation of winning that he failed to bet on himself. The prize money is $2,000, but he could have picked up another grand in extra prize money by wagering on himself.

ROLINE LIKED "ROBERTA" SO WELL HE SAW "IT" TWICE

"Dear Boss," starts a letter to the editor from his former left-handed right-hand man now finishing up a special course of Air Corps instruction at Scott Field, Illinois...

Which was a welcome request, already granted, since the editor and his former employe had got mixed up as to who owed whom a letter and had been incommunicado for several months.

Corporal Roline A. Forgy was the writer of the letter, if you haven't already guessed. And he sent along in his chatty letter a copy of the overseas edition of the Boston Herald. Maybe he's still interested in newspaper business.

Roline has been a frequent attendant at operas during the summer season in St. Louis. The one he enjoyed most seems to have been "Roberta." Which is not so strange, considering as how that's the given name of his charming wife who is still drawing pay up at Convair's bomber plant at Fort Worth.

Mrs. Henry Nix received a letter this week from her son, Pfc. Doyle Nix, stating that he left France and was on the water for 37 days and is now stationed on Guam.

VETERANS' QUESTIONS

Ed. Note: This newspaper has arranged with the Washington Bureau of National Weekly Service, 1616 Eye St. N. W., Washington 6, D. C., to answer questions pertaining to servicemen and veterans. These questions will be answered in this column if addressed as above. No replies can be made by mail, but this paper will print answers to all questions received.

Q. If a serviceman is killed in action and leaves a dependent mother as well as a widow, will both be entitled to receive a pension?

A. The mother of a serviceman whose death was incurred in service in line of duty, or after service caused by disability incurred in line of duty, is pensionable if dependent, but dependency must be proved in her case. The wife and children of the serviceman are automatically considered dependent, and no need of private income limitation is involved with their pensionable status.

Q. Is it necessary for a man to be a high school graduate in order to qualify for training in radar in the navy?

A. The navy department says that it is not necessary that a person be a high school graduate in order to qualify for training in navy radar. The individual, however, should have a background in mathematics, physics and kindred subjects and demonstrate an aptitude for such training.

Q. Is a soldier's serial number ever changed, and if so, for what reason?

A. The war department says that it is possible for a man with more than one period of service in the army to have more than one serial number. For instance, an enlisted man who becomes a warrant officer, and then becomes a commissioned officer, will have a different serial number for each type of service.

Q. I am going to business college under the G.I. Bill of Rights.

HOPES TO BE HOME FROM PACIFIC IN TIME FOR A GOOD CHRISTMAS DINNER

c/o P. M. San Francisco Wed., Aug. 22, 1945. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGlothlin Hico, Texas.

Dear Sis and Bud: Will drop you all a few lines tonight in answer to your two letters received today. Sure was glad to get them, but sorry to hear about Fred Hyles' boy getting killed for I sure thought a lot of him.

Well, the war is over, and it won't be long until a lot of us get to come home. Am hoping to see Christmas dinner at home. I put in for my discharge today—it may be 90 days before I get to leave here, but I hope not.

You asked about the natives over here. You ought to see them and their grass houses. It is fun to see them plowing rice in water about knee deep. That is the way they have to farm their rice in water. There will be about eight or ten of them in one little field with a big water buffalo pulling a plow.

When we go to eat down there's always a bunch of them standing around the mess hall to get what we have left in our mess kits. It is still raining over here and the mud is getting deeper all the time. It will still be nearly two months until the rainy season is over.

You ought to have heard the natives holler when they heard the Japs had surrendered. They sure were glad. Japan's high commanders are in Manila now signing the peace terms.

With love, KYLR (Cpl. James K. McGlothlin)

PRIVATE HAROLD D. CODY, WHO STOPPED TOO MANY BULLETS, VISITS PARENTS

Replacements came so thick and fast last November to divisions in the heated action in the ETO that the "oldest" man in one local lad's outfit had only been there three weeks. He himself had only been on the scene seven days, and he was injured three days after he went into action.

Pvt. Harold D. Cody was at the home last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cody, Iredell Route 2. The Cody's have three other sons in service now, and another who recently received an honorable discharge. Harold, who is better known around here by his middle name of Desmond, made his home before entering the service at Sweetwater, while his wife and two children now live at Crowell.

Private Cody, who was returned to the States July 17, has been hospitalized since at Brooke General Hospital and at the Air Corps Hospital at San Antonio. Before that he was treated at station hospitals and at the 186th General Hospital in England after receiving rifle bullet wounds in battle with the First Infantry Division of the First Army. How he happened to be transferred from the Infantry into the Air Corps during the hospitalization period is one of those deep, dark secrets of the higher-ups.

Young Cody, 25, trained at Camp Fanning near Tyler, Texas before going overseas last November 2. He went into action Nov. 22, and was wounded on the 29th near Duren, Germany. While he stopped four German rifle bullets, he never lost consciousness, he said, and it was only the immediate and thorough work of the medics that saved his life. The wound that is giving him most trouble is where a bullet went through his chest, but he hopes the Army doctors will have that remedied soon.

Private Cody wears the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Purple Heart, the Good Conduct Ribbon, and the European Theatre of Operations Ribbon with one battle star. But that one star represents a lot of fighting.

LETTER TO SERVICEMAN'S WIFE DESCRIBES TRIP TO NAVY YARD AT BREMERTON

Mrs. Ernest C. Harris and three children of Mineral Wells spent the Labor Day week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Collier, and her two brothers, Billie and Clay. Mrs. Harris brought along some picture post cards from her husband, Cpl. Ernest C. Harris, who is stationed at Ephrata, Wash. She also received a letter her husband wrote following a trip while on 3-day pass, which said, in part: "Here to tell you we had a nice sight-seeing trip yesterday. We didn't get to go to Mt. Rainier, but went to Bremerton. That is the shipyards of Seattle. It also is the dry docks for crippled ships. In fact it is the largest dry dock in the world."

"We went aboard the USS Washington, a 35,000-ton battleship. That is really a ship. It is 260 feet from topmast to the bottom, and has guns from the 29 mm. size to 16-inches. There are plenty of them, too. It is one of the most heavily armed ships we have."

"We also saw one of our largest aircraft carriers, larger than the Washington. We could not go aboard it as it was getting ready to push off."

"We also saw two ships that had been hit by Jap planes. One of them had a hole as big as our house all the way through it. The other one had 102 feet blown off its bow. We also saw hundreds of smaller ships and boats."

"I wish you could have been here to see this with us. It has been a wonderful trip."

"I noticed in the paper this morning that all men 35 and older could get out. A fellow has to have at least two years service, though, and that lets me out for another six months. Love, and God bless you all."

OUR FIRST LETTER FROM TOKYO BAY—WHO'LL WRITE THE EDITOR FROM BERLIN!

Tokyo Bay, Japan September 1, 1945

Dear Mr. Hofford: I'll try to write you a few lines. I haven't much time now. They have us putting in pretty long hours. We are allowed to tell you that we were in the first landing in Tokyo Bay. As yet we can't tell about our work.

Things don't seem to be as badly torn up around here as I expected, but where I am there are very few Japanese people.

I should run into some of the boys from home around here. I know Albert Brown is around close but haven't had a chance to see him yet.

Time is short, so I'll close for now.

Sincerely, BILLY (B. G. McKenzie, S 1/c Mail Clerk)

Pfc. John Burks and wife and son visited here Thursday with his grandfather, J. W. Burks, and with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Blair. Private First Class Burks, who has been stationed at Camp Hood, was on his way to Fort Ord, Calif., for reassignment.

Pvt. Charlie M. Meador of Fort Bliss was called home again the first of the week because of the illness of his wife, Mrs. Meador is in the Goodall & Witcher Clinic at Clifton.

TAKE IT EASY ON THAT WORK BUSINESS, CAPTAIN—THAT'S A HARD LIFE

Capt. Kenneth P. Thomas, who has been stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. since his return to the States from overseas service in the ETO, was met in Fort Worth last Sunday morning by his wife, Mary Anna and her father, Guy Eakins Sr., and came back to Hico.

Captain Thomas and wife left Thursday morning for Fort Bliss, where he expects to receive his 60-day terminal leave before returning to civilian life. They went by plane from Fort Worth to El Paso, leaving their young daughter, Sandra Ann, here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Eakins.

After visiting in El Paso, nearly Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will return to Hico for another visit before going to McAllen for a visit with his parents. Kenneth intimated that he even might go to work down in the Valley if his money got to running low. Doesn't anyone around here want to hire a sprightly, good-natured ex-captain?

LOCAL MAN PROMOTED AT WRIGHT FIELD ASSIGNMENT

Special to The News Review: WRIGHT FIELD, Ohio—Announcement is made today by Headquarters, Air Technical Service Command of the promotion of 2nd Lt. John Martin Herald Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Herald of Route 3, Hico, Texas.

ATSC is responsible for the engineering, procurement, supply and maintenance of all planes and equipment used by the AAF throughout the world.

Herald's present assignment is in the equipment laboratory of the engineering division. He was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1938 and in civil life was an instructor at AAF technical schools. He entered service Nov. 13, 1943, and was assigned to Wright Field August 10, 1945.

The serviceman's wife and young son, Lary, are residing in Dayton with him.

IT'S A GREAT LIFE, SARGE EVEN IF YOU DO WEAKEN

A recent letter received by his parents from S. J. Cheek Jr. indicates that the red-headed youth is bemoaning the fact that he never paid enough attention to the girls to marry one of them so he would now have enough points to receive a discharge from the Army.

S. J. went overseas in time to roll up some of the hose after the fire in Europe had been put out. Then they put him on a troop ship and headed him through the Panama Canal to the Pacific and—yes, you guessed it—the Japs quit when they heard he was coming.

At last reports he had been on the ship for 57 days, with only a little time out in port for disembarking to stretch and get his legs untangled. He was somewhere in the Marianas when he wrote last.

Robert Rose says we got the nickname of his ship all fouled up last week when we called it "Fool Bird." The cox'n said the Phoenix was called "Phoe Bird" after the bird which lives always. Pardon.
