Humble Finds More Distillate Shows In W-C Lea Wildcat

Humble Oil & Refining Company has found more gas and distillate production at its No. 1 Federal-Elliott, West-Central Lea County, New Mexico, wildcat.

The latest show came in a drill-stem test at 13,121-178 feet in an unidentified sand and lime formation. The tool was open two hours. Gas came to the surface in 13 minutes. The water blanket started flowing out in 14 minutes.

Distillate started spraying at the top in 30 minutes. Operator tested the section for one hour through a 5 3/8 inch bottom hole choke.

3 BDPH
The project flowed distillate at the rate of three barrels per hour. Gas-oil ratio was 36.85-1. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 1,525 pounds and 1,640 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 3,595 pounds.

Recovery when the tester was pulled was 75 feet of distillate in the drill pipe. There was no formation water. The project is coring ahead below 11,194 feet in sand and lime.

Other Signs
It has already shown good signs of production in three formations it has penetrated above the present level of operations.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of lot I, section 1-18-34e.
The prospective new field opener for several pays is nine miles west of Lovington and eight miles south-east of the Saunders field.

TCC Narrows Gap Between Germania, Tex-Harvey Pools

Texas Crude Company has further narrowed the gap between the Germania and Tex-Harvey fields of Midland County with the completion of No. 1-20 Andrew Faskan.

The new well is one mile south of production in the Germania pool and one and one-quarter miles north of production in the Tex-Harvey field. The well was assigned to the Germania field.

It was completed for a daily flow potential of 654 barrels of 36.6-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from perforations at 7,390-7,265 feet. The formation was fractured with 6,000 gallons of Hydrafac. Gas-oil ratio was 710-1 and bottom hole pressure was 160 pounds.

Location is 867 feet from south and 675 feet from west lines of the lease in section 20, block 36, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Andrews Project Shows Oil, Gas In Ellenburger Zone

Council Plans Water System Bond Election

A $1,500,000 bond issue election—possibly for a larger amount—appeared certain Tuesday for Midland taxpayers during the early part of 1952.

City Manager W. H. Oswald disclosed that preliminary plans for the development of large new water wells in Northwest Midland County would cost an estimated $1,500,000.

And an even larger amount would be asked if the city proceeds with plans for a new and larger City Hall—a project which has been discussed informally by the City Council with increasing frequency.

While the City Hall project still is in the "dream" stage, the water development program is not. The city already has invested $128,000 in the acquisition of water rights to two sections of land and will spend that much more within the next few weeks on two more sections in the same area.

Exploration Almost Complete
Exploration work is nearing completion on the area owned by Midland Farms, for which the city already holds water right options and a recommendation is expected within the next few days as to which two sections to purchase.

In its options agreement, the city agreed to purchase a like amount from Midland Farms as from Forrest King, from whom two sections already have been purchased.

While the water rights will cost in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars, the actual development of the field and the transportation system, which will bring the water to Midland, will cost an estimated six times that much.

The only way to finance this is through the issuance of water revenue bonds.

Inasmuch as the Summer of 1953 has been set as the date for the delivery of the first water supply from the new field, city officials are anxious to proceed with the development at the earliest possible date.

At the regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday night, the Council is scheduled to take the first step.

Prospects Brighten For Relief Of Post Office Box Shortage

Prospects for obtaining a parcel post annex and more than 700 lock boxes at Station A, to relieve Midland's congested post office situation, appeared bright Tuesday, according to information received by Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing from Congressman Ken Regan.

Walter Myers, assistant postmaster general, has requested a post office inspector to make further investigation of the congested situation at Midland, Regan advised Downing.

French Waddie Yearns For Lone Prairie—And Midland

M. Sargo lives in a tiny hotel on the Rue de Berns, deep in the heart of Paris.

But his sturdy heart longs for the lone prairie.

M. Sargo has written to the Midland Chamber of Commerce, voicing his longing and requesting a job on a ranch—any ranch—near Midland.

Daniel Aims At Connally's Senate Seat

DALLAS—(AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel Monday night began a campaign to unseat Tom Connally of Marlin as U. S. senator from Texas.

Daniel, 41, never has lost a race. He trained most of his opening guns on the Truman Administration with accusations of graft, greed, extravagance and socialism. Many Texans who heard the broadcast which originated here said they expected a colorful campaign.

Iran Hands Britain New Body Blow

TEHRAN, IRAN—(AP)—Iran Tuesday refused to accept Robert Hankey as the new British ambassador to Tehran.

The British had submitted Hankey's appointment as a new move toward ending the bitter deadlock between the two countries over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holding, which Iran nationalized last Spring.

Explosives Truck Crash Kills Driver

NACOGDOCHES—(AP)—A large truck loaded with explosives collided with a street sweeper atop a viaduct Tuesday and plunged 50 feet to the ground, killing the driver.

The explosives did not explode, but officers ordered residents within a block on either side of the viaduct to evacuate their homes until all danger has passed. The viaduct was blocked off.

School Absenteeism Drops As Influenza Wave Passes Peak

Inroads of influenza apparently reached a peak in the Midland public school system over the weekend as Supt. Frank Monroe's offices Tuesday reported a decline in absenteeism Monday in all but two schools.

The current influenza outbreak has closed at least two schools in West Texas and threatened to shut down others. Forsan and Coleman were forced to suspend classes because of the disease.

The Terminal Elementary School was the only school listing an increase in absentees as compared to last Friday. The number of pupils away from classes Monday reached 30 per cent, as compared to 27 per cent last Friday.

Jim Lindsey Named Managing Editor Of Reporter-Telegram

The appointment of Jim Lindsey, a West Texas newspaperman for more than a decade, as managing editor of The Reporter-Telegram was announced Tuesday by Editor Bill Collyns.

Lindsey, who has assumed his new position, succeeds Wick Fowler, who resigned the post recently and who now is on leave of absence from the newspaper.

Formerly associated with the San Angelo Standard-Times as managing editor, Lindsey went to San Antonio almost two years ago as assistant managing editor of the Antonio Express. He also was state editor for both the Express and Evening News.

Lindsey joined the San Angelo newspaper soon after graduating from Texas Tech in the Spring of 1937. He edited the semi-weekly student newspaper at the Lubbock college two consecutive years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey have two daughters, Pamela Ann, seven, and Deborah Kay, 16 months. They have purchased a home at 2613 West Grove Street here.

Lindsey, well-known throughout West Texas, is the son of Mrs. O. L. Lindsey of San Angelo.

March Of Dimes Gets Shot In Arm By Mail Donations

Contributions to the Midland County March of Dimes, off to a very slow start the first two weeks of the drive, got a shot in the arm Tuesday when cash gifts received by mail totaled $1,438, Chairman James L. Daugherty said.

Total contributions received to date, however, were far from encouraging. Treasurer C. J. Kelly said the returns, including the Tuesday figure, total only $3,438—far under the $18,500 goal.

"We feel the campaign just now is getting into high gear," Daugherty said, "and surely Midlanders will give generously in an all-out effort to reach the quota."

Texans Aim Two-Pronged Attack At U. S. Program Of Keeping Out Wetbacks

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texans Tuesday made a two-pronged attack on the government's plans for stopping the flow of Mexican "wetback" farm laborers into this country.

Representatives Wilson and Pickett sought changes in Administration-backed legislation proposing a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and a $2,000 fine for those found guilty of hiring or harboring aliens who entered this country illegally.

Billion-Dollar Navy Shipbuilding Bill Handed To Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A billion-dollar Navy shipbuilding bill was before Congress Tuesday as part of President Truman's request for a 30 per cent increase in defense spending here and abroad.

The bill would authorize construction of this country's second nuclear-powered submarine and its second giant aircraft carrier, of almost 60,000 tons and capable of berthing craft bearing an atomic bomb.

It also provides for 51 other new combat vessels, modernization of 10 additional warcraft now in service and the construction of 510 landing and service craft.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee introduced the $1,150,000,000 measure Monday before Congress heard President Truman's budget message.

They're asking for a lot more money," Thomas said, "and it would be just like throwing it through a knot hole."

Regan emphatically declared his opposition to expanded operations of the Immigration Service along the Mexican border.

"I don't think all these hurries, such as deporting Mexicans home in airplanes, is doing any good for either country."

"These Mexicans are not criminals. They're here looking for jobs, and we shouldn't be hounding them. We should cut down on such expenditures if there is any change in operations, certainly not spend more money in times like these."

Cold Front Hits Texas Glancing Blow

By The Associated Press
Texas got the sideswipe of a cool front Tuesday.

The bitter cold weather bypassed the state and moved to the northeast through Illinois and Missouri, but the fringe brought cooler temperatures.

Dalhart had a low of 14 degrees before dawn. At the other end of the state, Brownsville had a low of 71.

No bitter cold and only scattered, moderate rain in East Texas was the prospect.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Interior Committee Tuesday voted, 9 to 2, to send to the Senate floor a bill giving the Secretary of the Interior temporary control of oil-rich submerged coastal lands.

Record Crop Ready If HST Fails To Run

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A record crop of Democratic presidential candidates was sprouting suddenly Tuesday as President Truman kept mum on his own plans.

Some party politicians said the list may swell to 20 if Truman delays announcing his decision until near convention time in July.

Iran Hands Britain New Body Blow

TEHRAN, IRAN—(AP)—Iran Tuesday refused to accept Robert Hankey as the new British ambassador to Tehran.

The British had submitted Hankey's appointment as a new move toward ending the bitter deadlock between the two countries over the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holding, which Iran nationalized last Spring.

Hankey, 46, was to succeed Sir Francis Shephard, who has been British ambassador in Tehran through all the oil trouble.

Hankey's name had been sent to Premier Mohammad Mossadeq's government for approval under normal diplomatic procedure. Its rejection seemed bound to worsen relations, already almost at the breaking point, between Britain and this tumultuous Middle Eastern kingdom.

It was another roundabout slap at Britain from the Iranians, who 10 days ago ordered all nine British consulates in the country closed. The British, after strong protests, shut them down Sunday.

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—U. S. jets paced MIG Alley over Northwest Korea for 30 minutes in foul weather Tuesday without sighting a single Red swept-wing fighter.

Other United Nations planes roared through heavy clouds in continuing attacks on Communist rail lines in North Korea.

On the frozen ground front, the battle calm was disturbed only by patrol clashes.

Arthur Glatt, of Chicago, who won the National Open Pair championship in Detroit last December, has long been known as one of the outstanding players of the country. The defensive plays he made in the hand shown today explain why he is so well regarded by his fellow experts.

It could do him no good to discard a club from either hand, as Glatt calmly led a second heart, allowing declarer to ruff in his own hand and discard a club from dummy.

South finally decided that West must have the blank jack of clubs at this stage, so he put up the king from his hand. This play, induced by Glatt's unreadable defense, cost declarer his contract.

The Indo-China Headache

Before the Korean war, virtually every seasoned observer who went to Asia returned to describe Indo-China as the real hot spot...

It may not be much longer. Reports persist of a Chinese Communist build-up of from 250,000 to 350,000 men on the Indo-Chinese border...

Evidently the Communist insurgents are putting their lessons and their new material aid to good use. Battlefield accounts say they have abandoned guerrilla warfare...

Even without formal or "volunteer" Chinese intervention, the situation is becoming increasingly serious for the long-harried French forces in Indo-China...

Although we are shipping the French sizable amounts of war materiel, it plainly isn't enough to produce decisive victory. It may not actually be sufficient to hold the rebels off indefinitely...

The French themselves do not plan to augment their forces to any large degree. Their commitments to European defense would prevent that if there were no other obstacle...

Recently Gen. Alphonse Juin conferred in Washington with American and British generals on how to cope with this rising menace. Naturally he wants more help from the United States and other friends in the United Nations...

No one on the outside knows for sure what our generals promised Juin, if anything. Naval help we probably could give, for whatever it is worth...

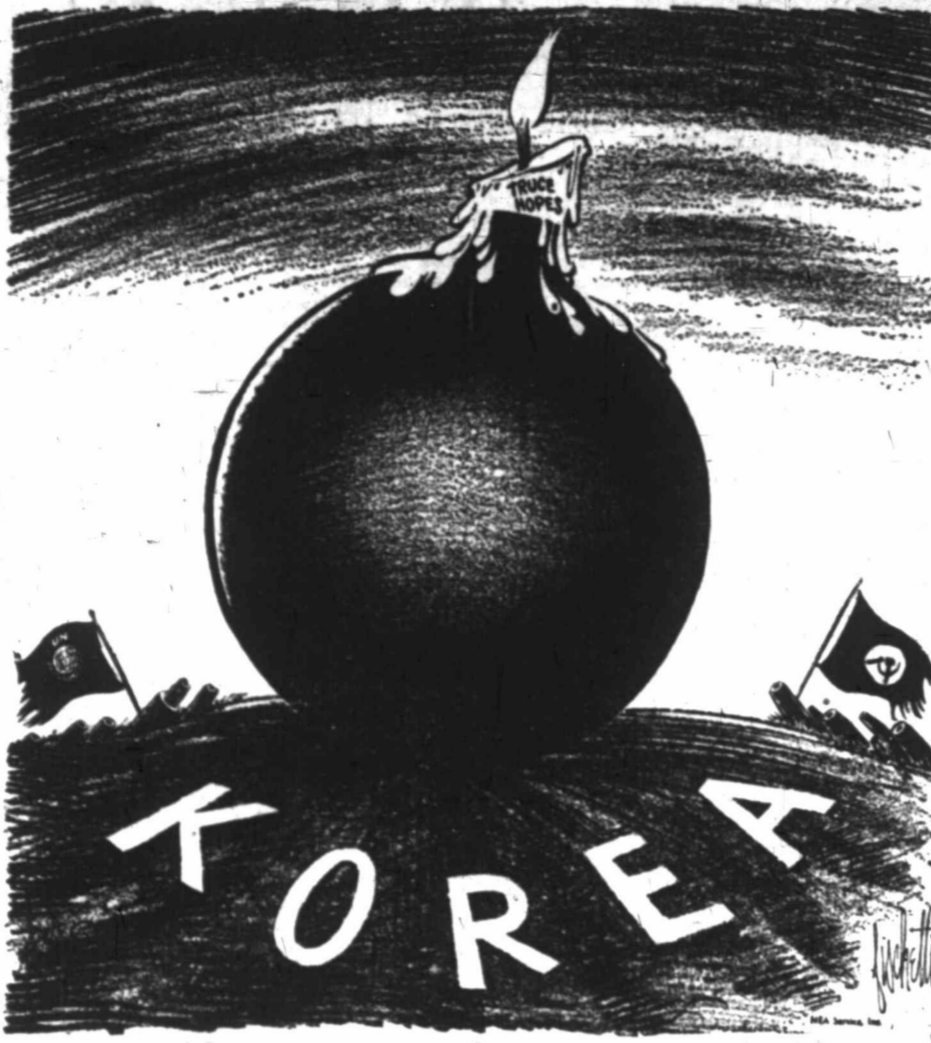

Undoubtedly we and the UN would do all we reasonably could to avert disaster in Indo-China. Whether that would be enough to achieve more than a prolonging of a strength-sapping stalemate no one can tell.

There does not appear to be any happy answer either for the French or for us, short of internal difficulties in Russia and Red China which might soften or destroy their aggressive punch.

The Vigil

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Tax delinquents protected by secrecy law; Outcome of New Orleans gangsters' tax liens may never be told...

WASHINGTON — Down in New Orleans two big shots of the underworld have been in tax trouble but, under the present rules of the Internal Revenue Bureau, not one word can be said about it.

The two men are Carlos Marcello and Silvestro Carollo, the first having served time in Atlanta for selling marihuana; the second, a leader of the Mafia, having been ordered deported. Nevertheless, both are protected by official secrecy as far as their tax delinquency is concerned.

What the Internal Revenue Bureau states is that if any details of tax delinquency or tax frauds are revealed to the press or public, that official would be subject to $10,000 fine and a term in jail.

This strict secrecy is one reason why tax influence has been so rife in Washington. It also is one thing the King Committee on tax frauds should study this week.

Here is how the secrecy order works in the case of the New Orleans gangsters: Carlos Marcello of Jefferson Parish, just outside New Orleans, was rated by the Kefauver Committee as the No. 1 bad man of the area.

He is the associate of Dandy Phil Kastel, the partner of Frankie Costello, got a year and a day for peddling marihuana, and had a tax lien slapped on him and his brother Vincent for $76,800.

Only Washington Knows This tax lien was filed by the Internal Revenue collector on May 19, 1939, in order to protect the government in its collection of taxes, but there is no record as to how that lien was settled.

Local Deputy Collector John J. Seht, when queried by the New Orleans Item, said he did not know the records, he said, had been destroyed.

Toward the United States the feeling (Russia's) underlying all the abuse is one of envious admiration. —Sir David Kelly, former British ambassador to the USSR.

Probe Of 'Mystery Man' Grunewald May Help To Shush Teitelbaum Case

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Federal grand jury investigation of mystery man Henry W. (the Dutchman) Grunewald and his Washington activities is looked upon here as a shrewd Department of Justice move.

The effect if not the purpose will be to thwart further disclosures on the Abraham Teitelbaum shake-down charges and tax-fixing case before California Congressman Cecil R. King's subcommittee.

Charles M. Irean, U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia, has announced Grunewald will be first witness when the grand jury is convened February 4. Grunewald is under subpoena to appear before the King Committee February 13.

The King Committee is by no means through with the Teitelbaum-Nathan - Naster - Knohl - Grunewald-Caudie-Oliphant-et al. case. Since receiving the hearings just before Christmas, committee counsel Adrian W. DeWind and his staff have been digging into the records of everyone involved in the Teitelbaum charges that he was the intended victim of a tax-fixing ring.

If all principals in the case are called to testify by the federal grand jury before the King Committee can get at them again, there is considerable fear their lips may be sealed. Testimony given before a grand jury is secret. Any grand jury witness called before the King Committee could plead that he could not discuss the case while it was still under investigation by the grand jury, and get away with it.

Records of the King Committee's open hearings have been submitted to the Department of Justice as fast as they've been completed. But closed hearing testimony and the mass of supporting evidence which committee counsel has accumulated have not been sent to Attorney General McGrath, nor to District Attorney Irean's office.

It is not the intention of the King Committee to turn over all this material till its own investigations are completed. So the grand jury will go to work with only part of the evidence in the fear that with witnesses blocked from giving further testimony to the King Committee, the whole case may be shushed up and possibly whitewashed.

Jo Davidson, American sculptor who died recently in Paris, had a lot of big ideas that never were carried out. One of them, in the early New Deal days, was to build a government dam with huge poured-concrete figures of workers leaning into the face of the dam, their shoulders and feet braced as though they were holding back the waters.

To explain this heroic concept, Davidson went to dinner one night with W. Averell Harriman and a Third Man. Never mind his name, because he's still quite a character around town, and it wouldn't do him any good to have this come out. So call him just the Third Man.

Davidson was a magnificent sketch artist, as well as a sculptor. So to sell his big dam idea, he took out a pencil and began to draw a picture of it on the tablecloth.

Averell Harriman became entranced with the drawing and after the dinner he called over the head of the table.

In the service he has made 119 leaps for a grand total of 1,090. He estimates he has parachuted 923 miles and spent 27 hours waiting for "chutes to open and bring him down."

Colwell served with the 82nd Airborne Division and taught at the Fort Benning, Ga. parachute school before he joined the parachute maintenance detachment of the 187th in 1949.

Army officers said he probably has made his last jump. Nature or extent of his injuries were not made public.

U. S. Prestige Low In Orient, Declares Air-Minded Solon SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-III), who flew in Monday from Honolulu on the homeward leg of his globe-girdling flight in a small, single-engine plane, says American prestige in the Orient is low.

The congressman completed the 2,436-mile flight in 16 hours, 16 minutes. Mack began the flight as a good will tour last October 7.

He said that he found American prestige highest in Turkey and lowest in the Orient, "although, generally, people all over the world are beginning to appreciate our efforts."

The 35-year-old congressman made stops in Madrid, Amsterdam, Oslo, Helsinki, Stockholm, Berlin, Brussels, London, Belfast, Dublin, Paris, Bonn, Rome, Tehran, Karachi, Calcutta, Rangoon, Bangkok, Saigon, Manila, Tokyo and Korea. He said the Russians rejected his request for permission to visit Moscow.

He planned to take off Wednesday for Dallas, Texas, enroute to Springfield, Ill.

B-29's forced down in Russian territory during the war were not returned by the Russians, who thereupon swiped the design.

Playing it deadpan, the Boeing house organ shows pictures of the two Soviet planes designed by Andrei Tupolev, and explains that, "the B-29 was invented by the Russians in 1946 and copied by Boeing about a half a dozen years earlier."

Commission's Face Is Red The U. S. Maritime Commission is greatly embarrassed because it has no medals to give the dauntless skipper, Capt. Henrik Kurt Carlsen, for sticking with his ship, the Flying Enterprise, until it sank.

During the war, the Maritime Commission issued three awards; the Mariner's Medal, the Meritorious Award, and the Distinguished Service Medal.

Authority to present these medals was allowed to expire in July, 1947. Captain Carlsen's case may inspire the Maritime Commission to ask Congress for new authority to give decorations for heroism at sea.

A city judge was trying a bunch of "drunk" cases. To the first prisoner, he said, "What's your name?" "Patrick Flanagan." "Who did you buy the whisky from?" "An Eytalian I never saw before." The judge said, "Ten dollars; call the next case."

To the next prisoner, the judge said, "What's your name?" "Jim Jones." "Who did you buy your whisky from?" "A negro man in an alley." "Ten dollars; call the next case."

The judge asked the third prisoner, "What's your name?" "Sandy McDougal," in a strong Scotch accent. The judge inquired, "Who gave you the whisky?"

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Jennet Logan, whose well-ordered life is upset by her attraction toward the young and charming biochemist Peter Surdov, believes that by contributing to Peter's pet project she will win his affection and clear her conscience and rid herself of troublesome thoughts.

Jennet fumbled with the catch of her purse. She was again conscious of perspiring and she hoped that the little beads of sweat that were forming under her makeup would not be visible in the half-light.

"I-I'd like to know what I could get for this lavender, Mr. Chagiantz. It's a family piece—I don't know how old—but I think it's quite a good diamond, and the chain, of course, is platinum."

"You are sure you want to sell this?" Chagiantz said, leaning toward her, dangleing the pendant from his forefinger. "You say it's been in the family. Perhaps you will have regrets. So often women come in with things like this. Then later they are sorry. But later I cannot do anything. Not a thing. We send stones like these to our New York store. They rework them."

"I'm perfectly sure," Jennet said. "It has no sentimental value."

Chagiantz was th in no hurry. There was no one else in the store. He told her of a movie actress who had recently demanded that he buy back some of the things he had sold to her husband. He mentioned the actress's name, which was well known.

The story had absolutely no relevance, no point except name-throwing. Jennet could barely conceal her impatience.

With infinite weariness, Chagiantz sighed. "Just a moment," he said, and he strolled to the back room.

He returned in a few minutes with a magnifying lens bulging like a tumor under his brow. He unscrewed it, set it down on the counter as carefully as if it were his right eye. Then he let the pendant drop in front of her.

It was a little click. Was it a sound of quality? Or of paste? Had the magnifier found Great-uncle Barnaby out at last?

"How much?" Jennet asked doggedly.

Relief made her shoulders sag. She began to tremble. "Sold," she said, mustering an arch smile.

He counted the fifties and hundreds out on her palm, tasting each one. She did not follow the count, but concentrated on holding her betraying fingers stiffly.

HE watched her stow the bills into her purse very much as her father had once watched her accept the pendant. "If you should change your mind, Mrs. Logan, don't hesitate to call me this evening or tomorrow morning. I'll be only too glad to return it."

It was the father in his voice that wrung from her the impulsive confidence. "If you don't mind, Mr. Chagiantz, let's keep this a private transaction. I never talk."

He nodded obediently. "I understand. Happens every day. I never talk."

Except about movie stars, Jennet added to herself.

Outside, she was amazed to find it was daytime. She walked hurriedly, and then broke into a run. She had to get to the Beverly Bank before 3 to turn the cash into a certified check.

Tomorrow she would endorse it and give it to Peter. In that way, Peter would get the credit for having proselytized a friend.

Daddy Ringtail And Blue Monday

"Shhh! A marmoset is a small monkey. Yes, and now Daddy Ringtail saw Grandma Marmoset herself. Oh, it was Grandma Marmoset, all right, all right. She was wearing her checkered apron. She was sitting on her leg just ahead. Her chin was in her hand. Her elbow was on her knee. She was sitting on a log, looking around across the top of her glasses.

She was saying out loud in her Grandma voice: "Now you listen to me, my girl. Get yourself back home. You have to do a washing."

"Don't fret yourself, Grandma," said Daddy Ringtail, and he began to do some explaining. He explained that the day was really Tuesday, and so it couldn't be Blue Monday. Yes, and so Grandma Marmoset just couldn't be fretting now, because Blue Monday had come and gone, and all the clothes already were washed. Grandma laughed to hear the words, because she really had forgotten the day was really Tuesday after all. Up she jumped in the air and clicked her heels together three times. Happy day! Happy Blue Monday come and gone, oh my yes.

(Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

Don't you talk back to me! No, ma'am. Don't let me hear any talk about Blue Monday, either.

"Ahem!" said Daddy Ringtail, so the Grandma Marmoset would know he was standing near.

"Step right up, young man," said Grandma. "Don't stand there and say 'ahem.' Speak up, young man, if you have words to say."

And so Daddy Ringtail did step up, and he did speak up, all because he had some words to say. He asked the Grandma Marmoset who it was she was talking to. Daddy Ringtail said he couldn't see anyone there. And what was the talk about Blue Monday and about a washing to do?

The Grandma smiled a little smile. What a cross little old lady she could be if she wanted to! Oh, but she didn't want to. She liked for people to say the words they had to say—just as Daddy Ringtail had said the words he had to say. And so Grandma Marmoset explained.

She had been talking to herself.

Why, she had some clothes to wash at home, and so the day was Blue Monday, because Blue Monday was always the day she had to do her washing. Yes, and she was never happy until Blue Monday had come and gone, and so that was why she was fretting herself.

Dope—

to buy the stuff to satisfy their craving for more and more narcotics.

Less than three weeks ago, Federal Bureau of Narcotics agents staged the biggest crack-down on the slave-world in the nation's history. They rounded up more than 500 suspected peddlers believed to have supplied addicts with more than $18,000,000 worth of illicit dope yearly.

But the clean-up job is far from finished. The average dope addict spends at least $10 a day for narcotics and there are about 50,000 addicts in this country. That means the narcotics underworld takes $500,000 a day or $182,000,000 in tribute annually.

Once “hooked,” a narcotics addict will do almost anything for the money he needs to buy another shot of dope. Teen-age kids have admitted they needed from $10 to $30 a day for narcotics. And crime is the only employer who will pay that kind of money to a teen-age youngster.

The nation has been shocked in recent months to learn there is a slave-world including a growing army of youngsters less than 20 years old. This shock came largely from disclosures made by the Senate's Crime Investigating Committee headed by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and by hearings in New York and Detroit.

Fantastic, But True
No matter how fantastic the story—it is true. A school official in New York City has conceded that one of every 200 junior and senior high school students in the city probably is a user of narcotics. That's about 1,500 youths. And he said another 3,500 teen-agers who are not in school may be using dope.

Chew on that one awhile. Five thousand teen-agers in one city, each paying up to $10 a day of more in a desperate search for a “thrill” or to avoid with more dope the awful sickness and pains that come when the effects of one shot begin to wear off. They are on a treadmill which has no end unless they can be cured or denied narcotics.

Government officials, educators, experts on juvenile delinquency and others have become alarmed at the increased rate of addiction among the boys and girls of high school age. The average of the “junkies” has dropped in recent years.

In 1946, there were only 26 teenage patients admitted to the U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth, Texas. In the last four months of 1950, the number in this age group had jumped to 700.

Most of these came from Chicago and New York and a few other large cities. Almost all of them came from broken homes, from families where there was no discipline, or from crowded neighborhoods which held out little hope of a bet-

Mayor Pickett Will Speak At District Boy Scout Banquet

Midland Mayor Perry Pickett Friday will give the principal address at the annual Appreciation Banquet of the El Centro District, Boy Scouts of America.

Beginning with dinner at 7 p.m., the event will be held at the Sam Houston Elementary Cafeteria. Special recognition is planned for volunteer Scouters who have given outstanding service to the program during the last year, and the new district officers will be installed officially by J. M. McDonald, district Chairman during the last year.

Midland Scout troops, in cooperation with the Midland High School music department, will present the opening and closing ceremonies.

All Scouters and friends of Scouting, unit leaders and their wives or husbands, committee members, and Scouters registered on a district or council basis are invited to attend. Tickets are on sale at Scout headquarters, 218 North Colorado Street. Ticket prices are $2.00 each.

The committee in charge of arrangements include Al Vineyard, J. M. McDonald, Mel Orman, Cecil Boles, and Dr. J. O. Shannon.

Barnes & Company Remodels Building

Barnes & Company at 120 North Main Street has started a remodeling program designed to make the firm the largest exclusive shoe store between El Paso and Dallas.

Business demands necessitated doubling of the store's space, building owner Ben Tamney and Store Manager Harry Krist said Tuesday. The store will have two entrances under the enlarged plans. Present doors face on Main Street, with the second entrance to front on Texas Street. A modern front also is scheduled for Texas Street.

Much of the additional space provided by the remodeling will be utilized in expanding the men's section of the store, Krist said.

The remodeling project is expected to be completed within three weeks.

It's a grave problem that is as hard to solve as it is to explain why anyone would dare enter the narcotics slave-world.

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Prompt Action Is Imperative If Blood Shows In Urine

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. R. K. asks if it is serious to pass blood in the urine. She says that her husband, who is 75, did some heavy lifting which might have caused it. Some people, she says, feel that this is not serious.

This letter raises an important question because far too many people tend to ignore the appearance of blood in the urine, especially since it is likely to be intermittent rather than continuous.

Actually, this never should be ignored, and even the matter of a month or two may mean the difference between life and death.

This symptom is not caused by a “strain” or a “cold,” but some more serious condition almost always is present. It means there is bleeding somewhere along the urinary passageways.

The blood may come from high up in the one or both kidneys. Bleeding from the kidneys can result from an injury, a tumor, an inflammation, stones, and from other disorders within these organs.

Needless to say, anything which causes enough bleeding in the kidneys to be observed in the urine should be investigated promptly and completely.

Most such conditions can be treated successfully either by medical means or by surgery if they are discovered early enough.

Convict, Free 16 Years, Surrenders

TEXARKANA—(AP)—State prison authorities are expected here within a few days to pick up Ed Starr, 40.

Starr, who escaped from the penitentiary at Huntsville more than 16 years ago, surrendered Monday.

“The main reason I've done it,” he said after walking into the police station, “is because I want to get married and settle down.”

Starr told Texarkana officers he had served a little more than two years on a four-year sentence for burglary when he escaped.

He gave his bride-to-be credit for helping him make up his mind to surrender.

He said he would settle on an Arkansas chicken farm he has bought when he is released.

The great tragedy, however, is that when they have been allowed to exist too long they often reach a stage in which successful treatment no longer is possible.

After leaving the kidneys, the urine passes down tubes known as ureters—one for each kidney. These tubes can be injured, can be pressed upon by tumors, or can be blocked by stones. Any of these may cause bleeding into the urine.

Below the ureters lies the bladder and especially in men other structures which can become diseased and cause blood to appear in the urine.

Blood may appear for a short time in the urine and then disappear, leading to a false sense of relief and security.

Specialists in the field maintain this irregularity of bleeding is responsible for many traffic delays and that many of their problems are made much worse because of neglect.

To take warning from such a symptom as the appearance of blood in the urine is just common sense. Untold suffering and often death would be avoided if more attention was paid to this dangerous symptom and if it was not ignored as something of no importance.

Sheep Sales Ring Procedure Outlined

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas Tuesday outlined the procedure to be followed in the handling of sheep at community sales rings in an effort to combat an outbreak of scabies.

The procedure is in line with a proclamation issued earlier this month by Allan Shivers, guaranteeing all sales rings and public stockyards in the state.

Any sheep removed from such sales places or stockyards first must be dipped in a wettable benzene hexachloride solution containing a gamma isomer concentration of not less than .06 per cent, under the supervision of a representative of the commission.

Sheep so treated must be marked with green paint on a portion of the body set up in a prepared schedule to indicate when the treatment took place.

After being dipped, the sheep must be placed in pens apart from those which have not been treated. Sheep sold for immediate slaughter purpose and consigned directly to slaughtering establishments are exempt from the regulations although they must be marked with red paint.

Most of the damage done to the city of Rotterdam by German bombing on May 14, 1940, has been repaired.

Short-Stop Drive-In Is Grocery Shoppers' Delight

The Short-Stop Drive-In Grocery, situated at 2410 West Illinois Street, is the grocery shopper's delight.

All you have to do is just drive in—give an attendant your shopping list—and the groceries will be delivered to your car.

But if you prefer, there is plenty of room to park and you may go in and shop at your leisure.

In addition to a complete line of groceries, the firm handles ice, beer, drugs, milk products, produce and fresh country eggs.

In business here the last six months, co-owners Lawrence Carr and Jack Merriott are well pleased with Midland's response to their drive-in service.

A huge expansion program, which will add 1,000 square feet of floor space to the grocery, is planned in the near future.

When the addition is built onto the present structure, a butcher shop with a complete line of meats will be added along with a stock of fresh vegetables.

Included in the expansion program is a plan to provide a separate department for beer which will not interfere with the grocery department.

Customers are returning to the Short Stop Drive-In Grocery again and again because of the courteous and friendly service.

The partners say "We depend upon the public and strive to make them realize that we can't operate a successful business without their patronage."

One of the big assets of the grocery is its convenient location, which permits the shopper to avoid the bothersome traffic with its accompanying parking problems.

Drive in and get acquainted at the grocery. You'll be well pleased with the service.

HOUSE OF CARPETS—This converted ranch house, located at 1502 North Lamesa Road, is known as the House of Carpets, which specialized in fine carpets in weaves and colors to suit the most discriminating home owner. Felix Weimaker is manager of the concern and Mrs. Winifred Beal is the receptionist and decorating consultant. The dial telephone number is 4-6862.

House Of Carpets Invites Patrons To Shop At Leisure

Midlanders and West Texans who are in the market for carpets have access to one of the most unique shops in this part of the state.

Called the House of Carpets, the two-story building is located at 1502 North Lamesa Road.

A visit to the building is a novel experience in itself. This genuine West Texas ranch house was purchased early last year and converted into a plush combination residence and business establishment with luxurious carpets in a blend of colors extending throughout its spacious rooms.

In each room of the building and even on the stairways, carpets have been arranged in a variety of colors to show just how they will look when actually installed.

And the site of the present building was selected so that customers can shop at their leisure and escape the heavy traffic with the accompanying parking problems.

The purchaser can buy specially-made carpets in any length, width or color and designed to suit the personal tastes of the buyer.

Has Wide Selection

And the buyer has innumerable types of carpets to choose from including Chenilles, Wiltons, velvets (high or low pile) or imported hand made. They are available in different designs in cottons and rayons and can be purchased in oval, round or rectangular shapes.

Expert mechanics install the carpets which may be purchased in stock sizes or may be made to order for any size room.

One of the most widely-heralded carpets handled by the firm is Wunda Weve. Loom-woven through the back and double-locked for extra wearing strength, Wunda-Weve is the only carpet made of cotton which is guaranteed to last as long as wool carpets.

In addition to the carpets, the firm handles a complete line of drapery materials with a personalized drapery service. When one drapery is sold in Midland, the House of Carpets permits the purchaser to have that design exclusively.

The firm also has its own decorator, Mrs. Winifred Beal, who can give expert advice on the best decorating scheme to use with the carpets.

Felix Weimaker is manager of the firm.

Recordings Link Families With Wounded Servicemen

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—On a magic carpet of tape recordings, the Weisinger family transports persons living here to the 279th General Hospital, Osaka, Japan, to visit their wounded sons, fathers and husbands.

The project, which the Weisingers themselves finance entirely as their "little contribution to the war effort," has meant to at least one badly wounded GI the difference between wanting to live and not wanting to.
 The "word airlift" works this way: Cpl. Martin Weisinger, 21, in charge of the hospital's theater, records a patient's message to his family. After overcoming their first mike fright, Martin says, the soldiers talk freely. One of them talked 23 minutes.

The tape is airmailed to the corporal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Weisinger, here. They notify the parents or the wife as soon as they receive the tape.
To Family's House
 Mr. and Mrs. Weisinger take their recorder to the family's house and play the message. The Weisingers give them the tape if they want it. Then the family records an answer which is airmailed to Corporal Weisinger. He plays it to the soldier, who in turn records a reply. Some of the conversations have been going on back and forth a half-dozen times.

The Weisingers have been doing this seven months.
 Mrs. Weisinger tells about one veteran recovering from critical wounds who refused to listen to a message from his parents. The soldier had shown no interest in living.
 Martin placed earphones on the 10,294-330 feet. Pay was topped at 10,235 feet, elevation 2,887 feet. Tubing pressure was 1,800-1,950 pounds and gas-oil ratio was 1,908-1. The pay section was treated with 10,000 gallons of acid.

 Location is 965 feet from south and 960 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 31, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

New Truck Added To Garbage Fleet

A new garbage truck was added Tuesday to the city's collection fleet. Public Works Director J. M. Orman said the addition of the new truck brought the size of the fleet to seven garbage packer trucks and three trash trucks.
 One additional packer truck has been ordered.
 Orman also said the city's new garbage dump, located at the site of the new sewer disposal plant will be in operation by February 1.

Resort Hopes To Recapture Fame

ISLE OF CAPRI, ITALY—(AP)—Capri is out to recapture its fame as a sports and carnival center.
 Sen. Ferdinando Casardi, president of the Tourist Association and from 1932-34 Italian naval attaché in Washington, announced these plans to lure tourists to the already popular resort island.
 1. Continuation of Capri's traditional carnival celebration this year and revival of the traditional carnival parade 2. A motorboat race from Cannes, France to Capri 3. Tentative plans for folklore festivals 4. A golf course on the top of the Anacapri hill for American and British tourists

Tom Green Gets Three Wildcats

West-Central Tom Green County received sites for three more shallow wildcats, all three by The Texas Company.
 Two miles south of Texasco No. 1 Sam Kelley, active Pennsylvanian test, the operator spotted location for No. 2 Kelly, 330 feet from south and west lines of block 870, German Emigration survey. It will go to 650 feet.
 Two miles northeast of Texasco No. 1 Bubenik, recent Pennsylvanian discovery 13 miles southwest of San Angelo the concern will drill No. 1 Rose Gandy, 330 feet from south and west lines of Frederick Dencker survey. It will go to 485 feet.
 The other new wildcat is No. 1 J. P. Lee, 4,100 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of block 964, German Emigration Company survey. That puts it two miles southwest of No. 1 Bubenik. It is to go to 490 feet.

Walcott Told To Fight 'Now'

Marciano Is Title Choice

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, who took 21 years to win the world heavyweight title, may lose it in 15 days—in New York state.

The crown, donned by the 38-year-old Camden, N. J., negro when he knocked out Ezzard Charles in Pittsburgh last July 18, will be without a wearer in New York state unless Jersey Joe agrees within 15 days to meet a legitimate contender.

The edict was issued Monday by chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Commission after conferring with C. B. Powell, another member of the three-man commission.

Christenberry said Walcott had failed to defend his title within six months as required by commission rules.

The Louisiana commission has withdrawn recognition from Walcott as champion.

But so far the National Boxing Association has declined to go along with New York and Louisiana.

Commissioner Abe J. Greene pointed out Walcott's six-month period does not end in NBA territory until March 14 since the rule was only adopted last September 12.

Greene said the executive committee might waive the six-month rule in Walcott's case if it was presented with good enough reasons.

In Philadelphia, Commissioner John (Ox) DeGross of the Pennsylvania commission said he favored giving the aging fighter more time.

Felis-Bocchicchio, manager of Jersey Joe, called Christenberry's statement "part of a squeeze play."

"I don't know why they're forcing Joe like this," Bocchicchio said. "We're going to defend the title when we get the right setup and terms."

Christenberry said he considered Charles and undefeated Rocky Marciano of Brockton, Mass., as the "foremost contenders."

Only the Marciano angle apparently fits in with Walcott's immediate plans.

Changes Made In Midland JayCee League Standings

Unexpected developments tossed standings in the Midland JayCee Independent Basketball League into a confused upheaval Tuesday, after two Monday night games and a league ruling combined to do the trick.

On the court, Rotary Engineering Company thumped cellar-dwelling Shell Oil, 58 to 20, and Western Plastic went on a last-half scoring rampage to sink Borden's 62 to 49.

Off the court, a ruling by loop officials caused the first blot on the Phillips Petroleum Company record. The JayCees were awarded a 2-0 forfeit on a game scheduled for last week, when Phillips failed to appear. Phillips had scheduled a game in Odessa with a traveling team, and fulfilled that date. Thus, they had to forfeit the tilt to the JayCees.

The result of all this leaves Phillips and Rotary Engineering Company tied for the league lead with 5-1 records, and puts the JayCees in a tie with Borden's for fourth and fifth places.

J. B. Collins meshed 25 points in Rotary's 58-20 win over Shell, as Leland Huffman hit for 12. The Rotary five rolled up a commanding 22-4 lead at halftime. Fanning led Shell Oil with seven tallies.

Borden's had a 31-23 halftime lead against Western Plastic, but couldn't stand the last-half pace as the tall Plastics made a blitzkrieg off the bucket. Dyess arched in 22 points for WP and Frank Branahney tallied 17.

The Price brothers again were the whole scoring show for Borden's. Roy scored 22 points and Howard 16.

Wednesday night, Rotary takes on Borden's in the first tilt at 7:30 p.m. with Western Plastic playing winless Shell in the nightcap.

The box scores.

Texas Tech Mum On Playing of Negro

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Texas Tech athletic officials declined to say whether Hadie Redd, Arizona University negro basketball player, would be allowed to play against Tech in Tech's gym.

Dr. William J. Davis, Tech Athletic Council chairman, said, "The matter hasn't been brought up officially. Arizona hasn't said anything, yet. Until there is official action, we have nothing to say."

Davis added that he believed the whole thing "could be handled more efficiently if it weren't aired in the newspapers first."

Tech never has allowed negroes to play on its home court on the grounds that it is illegal to mix races in Texas in sports.

HANDSTANDER—Carl Payne does a handstand falling over Jersey Jolter teammate Ken Monte at New York's 14th Regiment Armory. The New York Chief, flat on the track, looks up with apprehension, fully realizing that a pair of weighted skates is headed his way. (NEA)

Perhaps you haven't paid too much attention to it, but the Longhorn League has raised its class man limit, from five to six.

A class man is one who has played three or more years, professionally, on the diamond.

This move should make for better baseball in the loop this year, but even so it is surprising that the proposal ever went through.

As a matter of fact, the move was a "sneaker," according to General Manager Horace Busby, who attended the Longhorn League meeting in Abilene last week with President Marion Flynn of Midland Baseball, Inc.

Flynn proposed that seven class men be allowed, and Artesia representatives surprisingly gave a second to the motion. But Sweetwater hesitated and it seemed their representatives logically vetoed it since the club is having trouble financially.

With the exception of Sweetwater, all clubs seem very stable financially. This will mean great Class C baseball, because all clubs have indicated they'll spend money to field a team. Which, as you probably know, is the only way to field a baseball contender.

San Angelo and the Midland Indians look the strongest now on paper. The Colts have 26 men on the roster at present. That's a goodly number from which to choose.

The additional veteran will help Midland's pitching problems tremendously. In fact, Midland's main hurling "problem" right now is just which pitcher to keep.

Eddie became almost certain to return here in spite of his being drafted by Corpus Christi. Stranger things have happened in baseball. Eddie won 29 last year, some of them coming when the club was as weak as the Alley-Kat Kids outfit. Who can say he won't win at least 20 or 25 next time out?

Agay Zeke Bonura knows his oaks, to say nothing of his baseball, and you can bet he'll put most of his veteran talent on the pitching staff. That means the Indian Big Chiefs may, if they wish, easily retain all the hurlers mentioned above.

Barring paralysis at the plate, the Indians should be the class of the league unless someone else pulls some diamond rabbits from the hat. You can take vanilla if you want. Personally, we'll take the Indians from April 21 on through the season. They'll probably do some taking of their own, too.

Illini Named As Top Team

NEW YORK—(AP)—Illinois, one of the nation's four major unbeaten college basketball teams, stands at the head of the class in The Associated Press' weekly poll.

The Illini supplanted the Kansas Jayhawks as the best in the land.

Illinois, boasting an 11-0 record, defeated highly regarded Indiana, 78-66, in its only outing of the week while Kansas had a tough time beating Nebraska, 69-66, in its lone appearance. The victory was Kansas' thirteenth of an unbeaten season.

The 119 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll named Illinois first on 25 ballots. Kansas drew 17 first-place votes. The Illini received 860 points and Kansas 834.

Team standings, with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

	Points
1. Illinois (25)	860
2. Kansas (17)	834
3. Kentucky (7)	707
4. Iowa (12)	663
5. St. Bonaventure (10)	414
6. Washington (7)	401
7. Kansas State (5)	326

Ferrier Shoots 64 In First Round Of Thunderbird Meet

PALM SPRINGS, CALIF.—(AP)—An eight-under-par 64 by Australia's Jim Ferrier led the way in Monday's first round of the Thunderbird Club's $5,000 pro-amateur golf tournament.

Ferrier had a two-stroke lead as he set out in the second round of the 36-hole tourney.

Skee Riegel, Tulsa, finished with a 66, while 67's were turned in by Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C. Lloyd Mangrum, Los Angeles; Dutch Harrison, St. Charles, Ill., and Pete Fleming, Little Rock, had 68's. Ted Kroil, winner of the San Diego tourney last week, took a 71.

Top money goes to the pro who has the best 36-hole score with the assistance of his amateur partners. Harrison was leading as they started away Tuesday, his simon-pure assistants aiding to the extent that their best ball card showed a 57-15 under par. Grant Withers, Paul Prom and Pétis Letsinger provided the assistance.

Riegel was second, thanks to aid from Glenn Thomas, Joe Gilpin and Addison Holton. They have a 58.

BE ON GOLF CIRCUIT

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—This city will be a stop on the national tour of the Women's Professional Golf Association.

A 54-hole tournament will be held here October 17, 18 and 19.

U Of Texas Coach Defends Grid Game At Lamesa Confab

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

LAMESA—"There's a hue and cry now to plow up the athletic fields. Well, too many of us just got out of the fields to be anxious to go back."

Thus spoke Ed Price, University of Texas head football coach, at the District 1-AAA All-District and Sports Writers banquet here Monday night.

Speaking of the talk of de-emphasizing football, Price said: "Football is good for us and good for the boys. It is here to stay. At times, the scoreboard is considered too important in the football programs of high schools and colleges, granted. But when the sport is used as a training program, then it is great."

Lamesa Tilt Moved Up To Thursday; 'Dogs Play Plainview'

The scheduled Midland-Lamesa basketball game, set for Friday night here, has been moved up to Thursday night. The change was made in order to avoid conflict with the Midland High School football banquet Friday night. Midland and Lamesa B teams will see action at 6:30 p.m. Thursday with the varsity contest to follow.

Ferrier Shoots 64 In First Round Of Thunderbird Meet

Tuesday night, Midland is to play in Plainview. The Bulldog head departed for his initial conference game at noon Tuesday. The Purples opened their 1-AAA conference play with a 33-32 win over Big Spring Friday night. Plainview dropped its first tilt, 44-33, to Lamesa in conference play.

Pecos Quarterback Club To Hear Rice Mentor Wednesday

PECOS—The annual banquet of the Pecos Quarterback Club will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Country Club. Jess Neely, Rice Institute's colorful coach, will be the main speaker.

Formerly an annual affair honoring the local high school football squad and the coaches, this year's program has been expanded to include the 3-AA all-district players and their respective mentors.

Approximately 250 grid fans are expected. Barbecue supper will be served before Neely's speech and the probable showing of motion pictures of a Southwest Conference football game is planned.

J. V. Davis and Melvin Cooksey have been directing ticket sales. Certificates of recognition will be presented to players named by coaches to the 2-district team.

General chairman for the banquet is Glen Hunt.

Coaches present included Assistant Mel Gregg, Sweetwater; Carl Coleman, Big Spring; Bob Russ, Plainview; O. W. Follis, Russell Coffee and Jack Whitel, Lamesa; Tugboat Jones, Audrey Gill and Louis Gravelle, Midland. Vernon representatives were not present.

Sports writers introduced included Collier Paris, Abilene Reporter-News; Bud Worsham, Sweetwater Reporter; Bill Holmes, Texas Tech Athletic Department publicity man; Larry King and Dick Venator of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, and Robinson.

Plan Encourages Photography Hobby

NEW YORK — An educational program is getting under way, sponsored by photographic equipment manufacturers, to interest youngsters in photography as a hobby.

Called the Darkroom Photography Youth Project, it is designed to reach potential camera bugs through the school, the photography dealer and photography clubs. Dealers and clubs will demonstrate the use of various equipment and materials.

Within six months it is expected that regular photography classes will get under way. Larry Fink, photographic darkroom specialist, is heading the project which also is aimed at interesting housewives and retired persons in photography as a hobby.

Judge Is Lenient To First Wave Of Parking Violators

Dozens of motorists, who forgot about the city-wide ban on angle parking, found a lenient Judge Fred Hartman in Corporation Court Tuesday.

But he warned them next time they will have to pay.

The motorists were among the estimated 1,000 who were given tickets by police Monday as the city began enforcing the parallel parking ordinance on a city-wide basis.

They told the judge they had been angle-parking for months and did not know it was against the law.

"I realize," said Hartman, "that most of you were not aware that the police have started enforcing the ordinance throughout the city, so I will only fine you $5 and then suspend the fine."

"The next time, however, you should know better and you will have to pay the fine," he emphasized.

American Freighter Grounded In Storm

CASABLANCA, MOROCCO — The 7,607-ton American freighter Newberry Victory ran aground in a storm Monday night off Casablanca. All crewmen were saved, but authorities feared the cargo would be lost.

The vessel, owned by the Seatrade Corporation of Delaware, was carrying material to the U. S. Air Bases being built in French Morocco, authorities said.

GOVERNMENT CLEANUP

GLACE BAY, N. S. — The town of Glace Bay collected 99.1 per cent of its tax levy in 1951, described by Mayor Dan MacDonald as "very satisfactory." Total tax levy in 1951 was $837,516.

TRISTE, because of its strategic location, has been fought over for centuries. Its fine harbor, protected by mountains that dominate the upper Adriatic Sea, has been the gateway for trade with the Danube basin and Eastern Europe. Austria claimed the port city for 500 years, but lost it to Italy in World War I, after 600,000 Italians died fighting in the snow-covered Julian Alps. In World War II, Hitler grabbed Trieste only to lose it to Tito, who tried for a time to bring the city into the then-expanding Soviet Slav empire. After the war, the Western Allies wanted to return it to Italy, but at Paris in 1946 they compromised on a "Free Territory of Trieste," under United Nations supervision and occupied jointly by East and West. Zone A has been occupied by Britain and America, and has enjoyed five times more American Marshall Plan aid per capita than Italy. Zone B has been under Yugoslav occupation. Recent reports from Belgrade say Trieste may soon be divided, despite Russian objections, between Italy and Yugoslavia along the border of the two occupation zones. The port of Trieste would become Italian, but would be open also to Yugoslavia and Austria. With Western Europe rearming, Trieste has enjoyed prosperity in its booming shipyards, oil refineries and with the income brought by 10,000 British and U. S. troops stationed in the northern zone. Trieste's largely Italian population, while working for reunion with Italy, would view with mixed emotions the end of their privileged status as a "free territory," subsidized by Allied funds.

British Troops Rout Egyptian Families, Probe Nun's Slaying

ISMAILIA, EGYPT — British troops Tuesday routed hundreds of Egyptian families from their homes in Ismailia, a tense Arab sector. While the operation was under way, an American nun, slain during British-Egyptian violence, was interred in a nearby British military cemetery.

A British military court will hold a closed inquiry Wednesday into the death of Sister Anthony to determine whether she was killed by Egyptian snipers who invaded a convent garden or by a stray British bullet.

Lamar Mulliner, U. S. consul in Cairo, is conducting an on-the-spot investigation.

Shops in the Arab sector were closed and streets were deserted. Egyptians milled behind barbed wire barricades and glared at British searching their homes and stores.

Suspects were herded behind rolls of barbed wire and forced to sit on the sidewalk. Some were held after screening by intelligence officers.

Arms Caches Unearthed

A military spokesman told reporters, "It has been a profitable operation."

He said several arms caches had been unearthed, including 7,000 rounds of anti-aircraft ammunition.

Thirteen guerrillas were captured in a cemetery battle with British soldiers, the spokesman said. One Egyptian who leaped out of a grave and shot a British officer was killed. The officer died later.

The British have said Sister Anthony was killed by Egyptians.

Egyptian Interior Minister Foad Sirag el Din Pasha declared Monday night Egypt's own investigation "proved beyond any doubt" that British bullets killed the nun. A post-mortem examination showed she was shot from long range, he said.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said Caffery took up the slaying "with the British as well as the Egyptians immediately upon knowing about it."

CONGRATULATIONS TO:

Mr. and Mrs. D. Addison Hammons, 2400 1/2 Holloway Street, on the birth Tuesday of a daughter weighing six pounds, 12 1/2 ounces.

Council—

Oswalt said Tuesday he would recommend the council call for bids February 21 for the sale of $1,000,000 in water revenue bonds, which were approved by the taxpayers in an election late in 1950.

These funds were voted for the purpose of the development of the water distribution system to keep up with the rapid growth of the city.

However, as soon as a new bond issue is approved, these funds can be used for the development of the new water supply, to be replaced with the sale of the new bonds.

This would permit the city to proceed with the development of the new supply immediately.

The major cost of the development will be the construction of a pipe line—probably a 24-inch line—from the wellfields to the city.

New City Hall

If the city proceeds with its plans to build a new City Hall, it is not certain whether a bond issue for its financing would be submitted with the water revenue bond issue or separately.

However, the need for additional City Hall space has become increasingly apparent.

This project logically would include a city jail, a police station and a central fire station.

At present, the city has no jail and city prisoners are housed in the county jail, under an agreement by which the city pays the county $1 per day per prisoner.

The police headquarters as well as other city offices are badly crowded.

Defects Of Red Industries Listed

HONG KONG — English-language Shanghai News took a critical look at government-controlled heavy industries in East China and listed the "most common defects" as follows:

1. Slow filling of orders, particularly electrical equipment.
2. Most factories operate at 50 per cent of capacity.
3. Some factory equipment is idle due to "shortage of technical workers, unbalanced production and lack of accessories."
4. Work is often interrupted by inspection visits and meetings (presumably Red indoctrination sessions).
5. Equipment maintenance standards are low.
6. Workers' safety and health standards have fallen.
7. Turnover has been too slow and there has been waste of raw materials, power and fuel.

Despite all these woes, the Red newspaper account ended with a typical Communist flourish: It said monthly output was eight times more than December, 1949. Also, total heavy industry production in 1951 was estimated at 90 per cent above 1950. Of course, specific figures were not given.
