28 Persons Die As Plane Dives On Building

Councilmen Hear Tentative Details Of Water Program

The City Council was informed officially Tuesday night of the tentative details of a water development program for Midland, which will cost an estimated $1,500,000.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt outlined the plans and suggested that, as soon as details are worked out, a bond election be called to finance the project.

Meeting at its regular semi-monthly session, the council also:

Approved plans for a $95,000 sewer project, which will bring sewerage to an additional 700 homes and businesses.

Purchased four tennis courts from the Midland Tennis Club; and

Decided to pave, in certain cases, paving "leave-outs" where property owners fail to join in paving projects.

Good News For Consumers
In discussing the water development program, designed to more than double the city's water supply, Oswalt also had good news for the water consumer.

"We can finance this program through a bond issue," he said, "and we can do it without affecting our present water rates, I feel sure."

Pointing out that present figures were "very rough" and tentative, Oswalt broke down the development cost as follows:

Drilling of 10 water wells and construction of gathering lines at the well fields, $200,000.

Construction of a storage tank at the well fields, $25,000.

Construction of a 24-inch transmission line to Midland, $625,000.

Construction of additional storage space in Midland, along with other distribution facilities, no cost shown.

"But," he said, "it looks like we'll need an authorization for roughly $1,500,000 in water revenue bonds."

The city already has purchased two sections of land in Northwest Midland County and an adjoining two sections will be purchased shortly.

A final report on exploration work in the area will be presented to the council Thursday afternoon by H. N. Roberts of Lubbock, consulting.

C. Of C. Banquet Ticket Sales Brisk

Approximately one-fourth of the limited number of tickets available for the annual membership meeting and banquet of the Midland Chamber of Commerce already have been sold and a capacity attendance is assured, C. E. (Bud) Bissell, ticket sale chairman, said Wednesday, in urging Midlanders to make their reservations promptly.

The banquet is scheduled at 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 5, in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

"The only thing that worries us now is that we likely will not be able to take care of all the people who would like to attend," Bissell said. "The tickets are being offered on a first come-first served basis at the Chamber of Commerce office."

The guest speaker at the annual event will be D. A. Hulcy of Dallas, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and one of the nation's leading industrialists.

Officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce for 1952, headed by Jack Wicker as president, will be installed at the banquet. Stanley M. Erskine is the retiring president.

John P. Butler Named New President Of First National

John P. Butler was elected president of The First National Bank of Midland at a meeting of its directors Tuesday afternoon.

He was elevated from vice president to chief executive officer of the financial institution, succeeding the late Marvin C. Ulmer, who died at his home here January 8.

The directors meeting followed a continued session of the annual meeting of the bank's stockholders, which had been recessed from January 8.

The stockholders, at their meeting, reelected all present directors and named three new ones—J. T. Baker, Paul L. Davis and Barron Kidd of Dallas and Midland.

The reelected directors are J. L. Crump, H. H. Watson, A. N. Hendrickson, E. B. Dickenson, Mrs. Ruth Scharbauer, Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., Frank Cowden and Butler.

Other Officers Elected
Other officers named by the directors include Baker and E. D. Richardson, vice presidents, and C. J. Kelly, vice president and cashier; Crump, Watson and Clarence Scharbauer, Jr., inactive vice presidents, and Mrs. J. T. Baker, George Cone, C. M. Burke, Jay Edwards and Hoyle McCright, assistant cashiers.

John P. Butler

The new president has been associated with The First National Bank since Sept. 15, 1927, when he moved here from Littlefield to accept a teller position. He was named cashier in 1942, vice president and cashier in 1947, and first vice president in January, 1951.

A former member of the City Council, Butler long has been active in civic and service club, church and fraternal affairs. He is a past president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and has headed its Highway Committee the last several years. He also is a director of the Texas Good Roads Association.

Butler said bank personnel and policies designed to meet area growth and expansion are uppermost in the minds of the bank's management.

"The financial institution, which was established in 1890, will continue to serve its thousands of customers in an efficient, courteous, prompt and helpful manner," he said. "The bank is eager to meet new friends and customers and to broaden its scope of services."

Allies Admit Bomb Charges; Reds Agree To Mark POW Camps

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—The Allied Command Wednesday acknowledged that UN planes dropped a bomb on Kaesong, former Korean truce site, and may have strafed a Communist armistice conveyer.

The bomb was dropped last Thursday by a pilot who pushed the wrong button when he was trying to drop a mine tank, the Allies said.

The United Nations did not question that a conveyer was hit by strafing planes Friday, but questioned whether they were true trucks or military trucks illegally bearing truce markings.

Simultaneously with the Allied answer to bombing charges, staff officers made arrangements to protect captured American and other prisoners from air attack in POW camps in North Korea.

Communist staff officers agreed to supply a map marked with the exact location of the 11 POW camps in North Korea. It also will show a camp where non-Korean civilians are interned.

Communists also agreed to mark these camps so they may be identified from the air by daylight. They refused to light the camps at night, as the UN asked.

Both sides also agreed to reveal the location of processing camps where prisoners first are questioned after capture, before they are sent to the rear.

Armistice negotiators again failed to make any progress. The UN's Adm. R. E. Libby commented, "It looks like a complete stalemate" ahead.

Russia Cites Fine Payments As Proof Of Airmen's Guilt

PARIS—(AP)—Russia Wednesday asserted the United States, by paying $120,000 in fines for four American fliers forced down in Hungary, had admitted they were spies.

Soviet fighters based in Hungary forced down a U. S. Air Force transport plane, flown by the four airmen, on November 19. They were freed December 28 after the United States paid fines of $30,000 on each to save them from 90-day prison sentences imposed by a Hungarian military court.

Soviet UN Delegate Jacob Malik told the United Nations Political Committee the U. S. "recognized the correctness of that judgment" by paying the fines.

Malik referred to the airmen as "wrong way" fliers. He said their flight proved they were "spies sent by Eisenhower."

March Of Dimes Reports Progress

March of Dimes contributions continued to roll in Wednesday, as Chairman James L. Daugherty reported—the day's returns at $1,168.

Receipts now total approximately $4,500, Daugherty stated. The goal is $18,500.

The general chairman urged Midlanders to send their dimes and dollars to March of Dimes, P. O. Box 3069, Midland.

Routes For Midland Coaches Announced

The city routes have been laid out, the women operators have been hired and five brand new metropolitan-type coaches Wednesday were on their way to Midland.

Gene Thummel, manager of the Midland Transportation Company, Tuesday night won the approval of the City Council for the routes over which the coaches will travel.

And Wednesday, he received word they had been shipped from the General Motors factory in Pontiac, Mich.

Actual service in Midland probably will be inaugurated late in February and a definite date will be set as soon as the new coaches arrive here.

The coaches will operate on a 30-minute service basis.

There will be three basic routes with additional service offered during peak traffic periods.

In addition to the basic routes, there will be "tripper" service through Grafalind offered early in the morning and late in the afternoon.

Before the inauguration of the service, the 12 women coach operators will go through an intensive training program, which will include not only the technique of operating the coaches but a careful study of safety regulations and other classroom work.

The coaches, incidentally, will be (Continued on Page 12)

Father Of Midland Woman Dies From Accident Injuries

STEPHENVILLE—J. M. McNeil, 65, father of Mrs. Dan Edgmon, 609 North Weatherford Street, Midland, died at 4 a.m. Wednesday in a Stephenville hospital as a result of injuries received in a car-train accident here Sunday.

McNeil was the second victim of the accident. Wayne, 11-year-old son of S. B. Witt, driver of the automobile, died Sunday.

Two other Witt children, Lou Ann, eight, and Harold Dale, 13, were in fair condition at the Stephenville hospital following the accident.

Funeral services are pending.

Robert Patterson, Former Secretary Of War, Is Victim

ELIZABETH, N. J.—(AP)—A fog-bound American Airlines passenger plane, groping its way into Newark Airport on instruments, nose-dived into a residential area Tuesday and brought flaming death to its 23 occupants and five other persons.

Robert P. Patterson, 60-year-old former secretary of War under President Truman, was one of the plane's victims.

The silver, twin-engined Convair, inbound from Buffalo, hurtled into a three-story frame apartment building and exploded in a mass of leaping, orange flame that enveloped two nearby dwellings.

A mother and her two children were killed as their home collapsed about them in a hurricane-like blast. A third child, trapped in another building, and an unidentified person also died in the flames.

Screaming residents ran for safety. Eleven persons were injured, including nine occupants of nearby homes. Also hurt were a fireman and a rescue worker, who joined disaster units at the scene, just 2.8 miles from Newark Airport.

For 90 minutes, no one could get near the raging inferno, where the 18 passengers, three crew members and two company personnel aboard the plane were burned beyond recognition. For a time the roaring blaze threatened to engulf the entire block.

Clouds of steam and smoke blanketed the area, which is less than a mile from the spot where a Miami Airline non-scheduled plane crashed in the shallow Elizabeth River 28 days ago, killing 95 persons in the nation's second worst commercial plane disaster.

Tuesday's crash brought immediate demands from New Jersey's two United States senators and a congressman for a full investigation of the plane and Newark Airport facilities.

Mayor James T. Kirk said this city of 112,000, about 12 miles southwest of New York City, has been living under an "umbrella of danger" and that Newark Airport should be relocated, "regardless of cost."

Positive identification of Patterson—the first of the dead named here—was made through dental charts.

President Truman, in a statement from Washington, described him as "a great American and a great public servant."

"Whenever his country called, he answered with unreserved service and he brought to every post rare judgment, understanding and energy," the President said.

Midlanders, Still Fighting Reds, Set Poll Tax Example

A lot of Midland guys have been fighting in Korea for the cause of freedom.

And darned if they're going to miss the chance to exercise that freedom when they come home.

They're making sure they'll be able to vote.

County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed revealed Wednesday that a number of poll tax receipts already have been written for men still fighting the war in Korea.

"They hope to be back home sometime in 1952," said Speed, "and they have written their parents or friends here to pay their poll tax for them."

The parents bring the necessary authorization to my office and we issue the poll tax receipts.

"It looks to me that, if these boys 10,000 miles away are that interested, every citizen here at home should see that his poll tax is paid and he can be able to vote in one of the elections this year."

Approximately 5,300 poll tax receipts had been issued Wednesday, along with more than 800 exemption certificates.

Deadline for payment of the poll tax is January 31.

Army Plans Closing Of San Angelo Dam Gates February 1

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The Army Engineers Wednesday said they will close the gates on the new San Angelo Dam on February 1 in hopes of catching some water from the North Concho River.

The river now is almost dry but the time is approaching for seasonal rains which the engineers said would help "relieve the crucial water shortage in this West Texas area."

The seven-mile long dam and reservoir was completed recently at a cost of $18,150,000. Its purpose is to conserve water and prevent floods.

Col. Delbert B. Freeman, district engineer, said some real estate in the reaches of the reservoir area still has not been acquired by the government. The lake area to be flooded consists of land along the North Concho from the dam to a point about five miles above the outlets of the dam. When the rest of the land is acquired, the water will be backed up higher to make a lake of 5,440 acres, if enough water comes down the North Concho.

Colonel Freeman said a major flood such as that of 1936 would fill up the lake in a matter of days and that a "wet year," such as 1935 or 1948, would fill it within a year.

STANTON—William Earl (Billy) Rowden, 16, Stanton High School honor student, football star, and FFA chapter leader, died Tuesday afternoon in a Stanton hospital, a few minutes after he had been run over by a tractor.

Witnesses said he was riding on the fender of the tractor when he fell in front of it and a wheel crushed his chest. The accident happened near the high school campus as a group of FFA members were returning from a farm demonstration.

Rowden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Rowden, who reside six miles northeast of Stanton, were in Houston at the time of the accident, visiting a daughter, Mrs. Mary Beth Ayres. They arrived back in Stanton late Tuesday.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Church of Christ here, with A. Elmore Johnson, minister, officiating. Interment was to follow in Evergreen Cemetery beside the grave of a twin brother, who died in 1935.

Corrine Leads In Third Round Of Verbal Battle With Zsa Zsa By ERKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD.—Exclusively Yours: Run for the bomb shelters, kiddies—Corinne Calvet and Zsa Zsa Gabor are at it again!

Corinne, the husky French pastry, accused Hungarian Zsa Zsa with acting like the countless from a mediocre light opera with her low-cut evening gowns, and defended American sweater girls. Zsa Zsa snapped back with: "There's more to glamor than sticking your chest out." Now it's Corinne digging Zsa Zsa again, "and I don't mind saying this to her face—both of them." Says Corinne: "My father, a well-known Parisian storekeeper, gave me a little advice many years ago. Papa said, Corinne, always remember this. If you have a particularly good, well-formed piece of merchandise in your store, keep it well-wrapped. If it's the real thing, people will be intrigued because it's covered. "If, however, you have a small, insignificant thing—open up the wrappings and expose almost all of it. This will give people the idea that that's really not there." Corinne, currently decorating the Martha-Lewis comedy, "Sailor Beware," smiled sweetly and almost dropped the dagger between her teeth as she said: "I've always followed Papa's advice." Hope, who just started "Military Policemen" at Paramount, vetoed all video appearances during January because of the film. Stay-Put Carlsen Congratulated By Inquiry Chairman NEW YORK.—Capt. Kurt Carlsen may return to the sea with the best wishes of the head of a Coast Guard Board of Inquiry which investigated the sinking of the freighter Flying Enterprise. Capt. Lewis Shackelford, presiding officer at the inquiry, told Carlsen Tuesday he realized what he had been through and hoped his ordeal will not be repeated. Shackelford added: "Go back to the sea with my best wishes."

Shackelford closed the hearing after Carlsen, of Woodbridge, N. J., had testified about the Flying Enterprise saga. The skipper said a wild storm, not improper cargo loading, sent the freighter to the bottom. Carlsen also answered some criticisms made of his seamanship at the hearing last week.

A Gesture Of Contempt

A few weeks ago President Truman jauntily promised "continued drastic action" in weeding out corrupt officials from the Internal Revenue Bureau, the Justice Department and other federal agencies.

He indicated at that time he would set up some sort of commission to make independent inquiry into these agencies. Judge Thomas Murphy of New York accepted leadership of this group, but later withdrew.

Thereupon Truman apparently changed his mind, too. He seems to have decided that matters were not so serious after all, and that it could "get by" without radical remedies.

Confirmation of this shift came a short time back when the President told the country that any government clean-up would henceforth be directed by Attorney General McGrath.

This was a sharp slap in the face to all American citizens who sincerely are concerned over the present moral standards in their government. McGrath heads a department which itself has been found guilty of corrupt activity. How he can be expected to bring to a clean-up task the necessary hard-headed detachment is a mystery understood only by Truman.

By this act the President has sought to minimize the scandals unearthed in his Administration. He has made it plain he is not, in spite of all he claims, really interested in a thorough airing of suspected agencies.

This is a gesture of contempt for the American people. It means Truman is most concerned with a solution which will put the best facade on his Administration and his party. In other words, he wants a political rather than a moral solution.

There is just a chance that the President is sufficiently aware of the impact these scandals have made, to realize that such feeble clean-up tactics will not likely impress the electorate.

If that is true, its probable import is that Truman is genuinely tired of the presidency, doesn't want to run again, and doesn't much care what anybody thinks about how he handles the scandal issue.

This may not be a proper interpretation of the President's action. But this much is certain: The designating of McGrath as chief of clean-up is farcical as an earnest move against corruption. Logically, it is the act of a man who is not concerned whether he ever gets another vote.

It's no wonder little Junior is so often called the problem child. He knows all the answers.

1. Senator Jim Murray, Montana Democrat, wanted to know whether senators could claim a share in Indian oil rights by being adopted into the tribe.

2. Senator Clint Anderson, New Mexico Democrat, sharply criticized the Interior Department for giving away oil leases by drawing names out of a hat.

The oil question was raised by Montana's meek, GOP Senator Zales Ecton, who observed: "As you know, we discovered oil in Montana and it is on Indian lands up there, and Senator Murray and I have been besieged by the Indians on every hand to get these leases out and jarred loose."

But Murray seemed more interested in whether senators adopted into an Indian tribe as a political stunt might be eligible for some of the Indians' oil.

"I wonder," mused Murray, "if this committee would have any jurisdiction over this question of whether or not it is proper for us to be adopted into the Indian tribes up there and become eligible for the Indians' oil."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

When the Life-Masters Pairs Championship is held in New York February 7th and 8th, Helen Sobel will defend the title she won last year. As the name of the tournament indicates, only life masters of the American Contract Bridge League are eligible to compete.

Since this is the highest ranking tournament player can get, and since it usually takes several years of top-flight play to earn the ranking, the life masters' pair game is a real dilly to play in and a joy to win.

One of Mrs. Sobel's recent hands will indicate why she is such a consistent winner. Just to test your own game, cover up the East-West cards of today's hand and decide how you would play the hand at a contract of six hearts.

You get a trump lead, and you draw two rounds of trumps. The opponents follow to both rounds of trumps, so you have no further trump drawing to worry about.

The big question is how to limit the loss in the minor suits to one trick. If you think the diamond finesse is going to work, you can run the spades to discard two clubs from the dummy.

If you think the diamond finesse is going to fail, you can discard a diamond from the dummy on one of the spades. This prevents loss of a diamond trick, but you will then have to make the right club play to bring home the slam.

Should you guess in this situation? If so, how should you guess? Mrs. Sobel decided to have more than one guess for her contract. She ran the five spades, discarding two clubs from the dummy. She then entered dummy with a trump to lead a club towards her hand.

East could have beaten the slam by putting up his ace of clubs. That would set up the king of clubs, which would be used to discard the losing diamond from dummy.

If West had shown up with the ace of clubs, Mrs. Sobel would still be in position to try the diamond finesse. Hence the slam would be made if East had the ace of clubs, or if East had the king of diamonds.

This was a double chance, much better than a single guess.

Economy Fog Of Election Year Fails To Dim Grim Tax Picture

By FETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Most people who try to read President Truman's new Economic Report to Congress will get no farther than the middle of page eight. That's where it says: "... even with the additional taxes I am recommending, there will be a large deficit this year and a larger one next year."

At this point they will throw the report in the waste basket and that will be that. In an election year, no politician wants to talk of higher taxes and bigger deficits.

As if to anticipate what the President would ask for, the Council of State Chambers of Commerce put out a significant statement on the day before the economic report was released.

This handout listed all the things that had been done in the first week of Congress to prevent higher taxes and to limit government spending. Senator Taft announced the Republican Policy Committee is opposed to further tax increases.

Senator George of Georgia and Representative Doughton of North Carolina, both Democrats and chairmen of congressional committees which handle tax matters, announced they're opposed to higher taxes.

Rep. John Phillips of California introduced a bill to cut national debt limit from $275,000,000,000 to $265,000,000,000.

Rep. Fred Coudert of New York introduced a resolution to limit federal expenditures to $60,000,000,000 and appropriations to $71,000,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

That's the economy gauze over the picture. What's the real picture underneath? The first bill that's passed in the House of Representatives is for a 10 per cent increase in pay for the armed services. It will cost $82,000,000 a year.

Navy Secretary Dan Kimball announces a plan to build one new super aircraft carrier a year for 10 years. The Air Force wants, and will probably get, authorization for more than the presently planned 143 wings.

President Truman intimates the size of the armed forces will have to be increased above three and a half million men.

And Senator Brian McMahon of the Atomic Energy Committee still is plugging for more money for atomic artillery and related activities.

Everybody loves national defense even in an election year. But every taxpayer will have the right to point out that if Congress really has its mind on economizing this year, and preventing further tax rises, this is a poor way to begin.

The President's economic report spells out in language anyone should be able to understand just what the

"On the hill opposite my rat hole near the science building. There's an old elm tree that'll serve as a beach umbrella."

PETER lay on the hard-packed ground, looking up through the spaces in the kinky foliage of a veteran live oak tree. Jennet sat beside him on the car blanket.

"I don't understand you, Jennet. I can't make you out. You have no more interest in the misfortunes of the poor than a debutante—and yet you went through all those shenanigans to raise this money. Why? Why did you do it?"

"I'm trying to be honest with you, Peter. I don't know. I don't know why I was so moved by that man's talk. Heaven knows I didn't enjoy it. The slums aren't new to me but still, I couldn't stop thinking about it. And I want to forget it. I'm buying my way out, that's all."

"But a dollar—two dollars—five dollars is all we were asking for, you know that. He took from his trousers pocket the check she had given him and unfolded it over his head, reading it off, still unbelieving. "One thousand and two hundred dollars!"

"Don't you want it? Then give it to me. I'll tear it up. I'm sick of it!" Angriely, she reached for the check, would have snatched it out of his hand, but he held it away when she let her arm fall, he slipped the check back into his far pocket. Peter said, "I won't give it back. You won't miss it—and, of course, they need it. I'm just trying to figure out what goes on in that mysterious head of yours. Not that I'm not glad to have the dough."

"All right," Jennet said, exasperated. "I'm an unstable character, a neurotic, an eccentric millionaire. I've got a Lady Bountiful complex. Or, if you like, I'm trying to impress you."

HIS head moved from side to side in a cradle of his hands. "I wish that were true," he said. "But I don't believe you did this for me. Nor do I think you are getting any satisfaction from it. You give against your will. You seem to be ashamed or afraid of your good instincts. I have a hunch you're a pretty mixed-up little girl." He said it in the pieces of sky, and when there was no reply, he said, "Are you?"

"I don't know what you mean by mixed up," Jennet said. "Are you asking me if I'm happy?" "Well," he grinned.

"Are you?" "I am," he replied. "I enjoy my work, my independence. Does that answer it?" "Only in a negative way, I think," she said, very low, and then, wondering how much she was saying, added, "That used to be enough."

State Ownership Advocates Plan Senate Sabotage Of Tidelands Control Measure

WASHINGTON —(P)— Supporters of legislation giving states ownership of the disputed Tidelands are making plans for continuing their battle before the Senate.

Tuesday, a bill which would give the secretary of Interior temporary control of the Tidelands was reported out of a Senate committee by a 9-2 vote.

"Although I would have liked to report out a states ownership bill, I am glad that we at least can get the issue into the Senate," said Senator Long (D-La.), a leading advocate among committeemen for state ownership.

He said it was impossible to forecast just when the legislation will be called up for debate, but declared he will urge Senate leaders to schedule it for action as soon as possible.

When it does come up, Long said, he or some other senator will offer various amendments or move to substitute the House-passed measure giving states clear title to the tidelands.

The House-approved measure has been tied up in the committee since August 1, 1951.

Strategy Meet Called
Strategy to be followed by advocates of state ownership will be discussed at a meeting called here February 4 of the Submerged Lands Committee of the National Association of Attorneys General.

In Dallas, Texas, Tuesday, Texas Attorney General Price Daniel said he would oppose vigorously the bill that was voted out of the committee. He also suggested the House-passed state ownership bill could be offered as an amendment.

The bill, as approved by the committee Tuesday, provides that for five years after it becomes law the secretary of interior can issue oil and gas leases within the three mile limit only with prior approval of the state concerned. In the case of Texas the state limit would be set at 1 1/2 miles because of the conditions under which Texas joined the union.

In Waco, Texas, Tuesday, Senator Tom Connally (D-Texas) said the committee action was "in response to my Senate resolution to discharge the committee so that the bill might be brought before the Senate."

Connally said he hoped the Senate can pass, in substance, the bill for states' ownership which passed the House. He tried to get the committee to send that bill out to the Senate floor, but failed.

Atomic Survey May Touch East Texas

WASHINGTON —(P)— Representative Brooks (D-La.) says surveys by the Atomic Energy Commission for a possible atomic plant site may extend into East Texas.

Brooks told reporters Tuesday the commission is studying approximately 30 areas throughout the country.

"One of these areas is the region lying north and west and Alexandria, La.," he said. "The government doesn't operate on a state line basis, so it may very well be planning to extend this survey on over into East Texas."

He said little information could be released on the subject because of the danger of stirring up land speculation.

Baylor University Seeks Neff Mementos

WACO —(P)— Baylor University wants any documents or other material typical of the high points of the career of former Texas Gov. Pat Neff.

Neff, president of Baylor 15 years, died here Sunday.

The present Pat Neff collection is part of Baylor's Texas collection and now fills three rooms of the Pat Neff Building on the campus. It contains correspondence, writings, furniture and other historical matter turned over to Baylor several years ago by Neff.

Houston Dry Enters Race For Governor

HOUSTON —(P)— Former State Rep. Virgil E. Arnold, 62, says he plans an active campaign for governor, advocating state-wide liquor election in 1953.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

pany of Midland finished two Sprberry oilers.

One of the field extenders is No. 2 El Chico, and was completed for a daily flowing potential of 871 barrels of 34.7-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from perforations in casing at 7,030-7,230 feet. Tubing pressure was 75 pounds and gas-oil ratio was 1,007-1. Pay was topped at 7,030 feet, elevation 2,724 feet.

Location is 680 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 19, block D, EL&RR survey. One location east of No. 2 El Chico, El Capitan completed No. 3 El Chico for a daily flowing potential of 268 barrels of 34.9-gravity oil through a 3/4-inch tubing choke and from perforations in casing between 7,020 and 7,220 feet. Pay was topped at 7,020 feet, elevation 2,723 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 956-1 and tubing pressure was 100 pounds.

Location is 680 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 19, block D, EL&RR survey. Both these new oilers were treated with fracturing solution before completion.

Two Prospectors Slated For Runnels

Locations for two new wildcats in Runnels County have been reported. Drilling at each of them is due to begin at once.

George W. Strake of Houston No. 1 H. D. Thomas will be a 5,000-foot exploration. It is to be 1,291 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 83, CT survey.

That makes it one and three-quarters miles northwest of Winters in Central-North Runnels County and two miles southeast of the North Winters field.

Near Ballinger
Murray Petroleum Company and J. W. King of San Angelo No. 1 Elliott J. Kemp will be a 4,400-foot prospector.

It is three miles north of Ballinger in South-Central Runnels County and one and one-quarter miles south of the Patsy-Serratt sand field. There is a 4,410-foot dry hole between the location and the Patsy field.

The drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and 3,180 feet from east lines of section 178, M. Cotten survey.

Sun To Offset Reef Discovery In Fisher

Sun Oil Company No. 1 Mrs. W. A. Peters is to be a 6,900-foot operation to try for production in the Pennsylvanian lime reef in the new Claytonville field of Southwest Fisher County.

It is located 660 feet from south and 1,982.8 feet from west lines of section 209, block 3, H&TC survey.

That makes it a one-location north offset to General Crude Oil Company No. 1 Webb, recently completed flowing discovery which opened the Claytonville field.

Drilling at the Sun prospector is to start at once.

Pure Schedules Another Project In NW Schleicher

The Pure Oil Company No. 2 J. S. Roach is to be a 7,400-foot operation in Northwest Schleicher County to try for production in the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian.

It is 680 feet from north and east lines of section 1200, block B, Georgetown Railway Company survey.

The location is one and one-quarter miles southeast of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Pearl Williams, recently completed flowing discovery from the Strawn lime in Southeast Irion County.

Pure No. 2 Roach is three-quarters of a mile east of the same concern's No. 1 Roach, another Strawn wildcat which has just started making hole. That development is in the northwest corner of section 1300. Drilling at No. 2 Roach will begin shortly.

Another Offset Staked To Martin Devonian Opener

Pan American Production Company filed application to drill a southeast offset to a recently completed Devonian discovery in Northwest Martin County.

It is to be drilled as No. 4 F. D. Breedlove, and others, 680 feet from north and 5,940 feet from east lines of league 285, Biscoe County school land survey.

It offsets Pan American, Houston Oil Company of Texas and Forest Oil Corporation No. 1 F. D. Breedlove, the flowing discovery.

Contract depth for No. 4 Breedlove is 13,500 feet. Drillsite is 12 1/2 miles northwest of Tarzan.

Tom Green Given Shallow Venture

John D. Deane, Jr., of Stephenville No. 2 Texas Company-Homer Byrd is to be a 600-foot cable tool wildcat in Central-West Tom Green County.

It is to be 7,660 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the F. Denecker survey No. 875. That puts it about 10 miles southwest of San Angelo. Operations are to start soon.

Unofficial Report
Deane No. 1 Texas-Byrd, 660 feet from south and 100 feet from east lines of the F. Denecker survey No. 875 is reported by unofficial sources to have been abandoned.

It is started out to go to 600 feet, but the reports are that it stopped before reaching that point. There is no official verification of that report.

Hunt Spots Another Shallow Pecos Test

Hunt Oil Company of Dallas has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill another 3,000-foot cable tool wildcat in Pecos County.

The new project will be Hunt No. 37 Elsinore Royalty Company. It is to be 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 67, block D, OC&SP survey.

That makes it 17 miles southeast of Chancellor and puts it in South-Central Pecos County. Digging is slated to start at once.

Paralyzed By Hunting Accident, Ohioan Fires, Fishes While Lying Flat On Back

BAGS FROM BED—Woody Sanders is paralyzed from the waist down, but hunts squirrels while lying flat on his back. (NEA)

LEESBURG, OHIO—(NEA)—The title of "Ohio's Most Ardent Hunter" should go to Woodrow Sanders.

Woody Sanders, paralyzed over three-fourths of his body, hunts squirrels while lying flat on his back.

Sanders, who lives in Leesburg, near Washington Court House, has the use of his arms, shoulders and head only.

He also fishes, earns his living repairing radios. The town in which he lives has 1,000 residents, and all of them know Woody. His parents are dead. There are no immediate relatives.

A restaurant man delivers meals to his home. Neighbors help with the cleaning. A cousin, Lisa Sanders, shops.

You probably are asking: How can this man hunt? Here again the neighbors help, and Woody goes squirrel hunting eight or nine times each season.

Friends carry him on a special cot into the woods in the morning, leave him till late afternoon. Upon returning from work, friends pick him up.

All during the day he is powerless to move and is alone, usually. Was he ever scared?

"One time, in the early morning I was on a woodlot and I heard something walking behind me," Randy Guthrie tells the story in "It was moving slowly, so slowly that I could not tell whether it was an animal or another hunter. Pretty soon it was so close behind me that I could hear breathing."

"I knew then it was a large animal. Probably a cow or a horse. "It was a big Jersey bull. "He started to nose around the head of the cot. "He hooked his horns under the

Leaders In Both Parties Applaud Proposal By Ike
WASHINGTON—(AP)—General Eisenhower's proposal for a constitutional convention to unify Europe drew applause Wednesday from Republicans and Democrats—including other potential presidential candidates.

It was Eisenhower's first public statement since his dramatic announcement that he would accept the Republican presidential nomination but would not campaign for it.

Senators of both parties said they agreed with General Eisenhower. 1. Russia may plan a global war eventually but right now could not win at a single stroke. "It would not look to me to be a sensible thing to provoke a global war, and I think that also includes the Russians."

2. The mere call for a European unity convention "would mean a lot in the United States," which cannot alone bear the entire burden of the North Atlantic Treaty. 3. Long-term defensive security in Europe "can not gain strength and stability if it (Europe) is to remain split up in a number of independent economies."

'Piggy Bond' Sale Suggested To Ease Shortage Of Coins

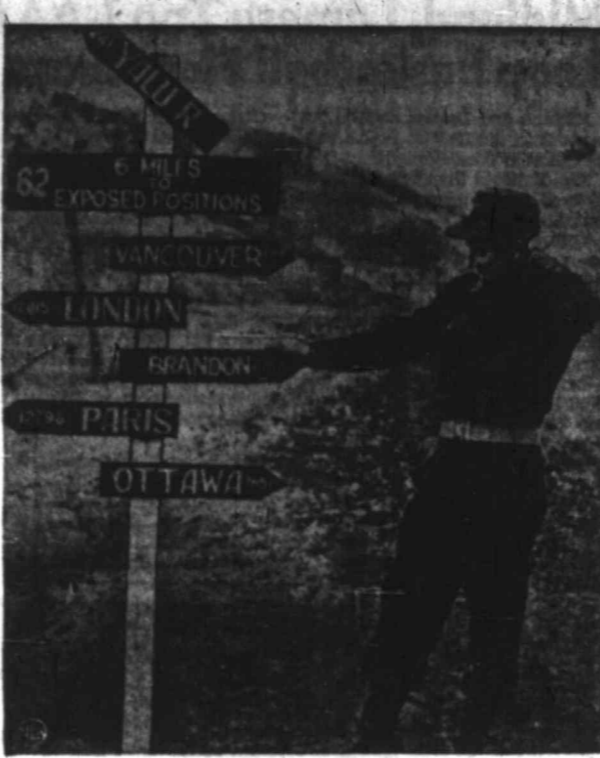

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A congressional committee suggests the sale of "piggy bonds"—purchased with the kids' pennies—to encourage juvenile thrift and to cope with a coin shortage.

The suggestion was passed on to the Treasury by a House Appropriations subcommittee after it heard of a growing coin shortage caused by increased use of metal in defense programs.

Author of the idea, Representative Stenmark (D-N.J.) said the "piggy bonds" would cost $3.75 in pennies, presumably taken from piggy banks, and would pay off $5 in 10 years. The interest rate would be the same as on Series E bonds.

"Not only would this encourage the kids to save their pennies," he said, "but it would reduce hoarding of pennies in piggy banks and help finance the government."

Stenmark told newsmen Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, promised to consider the plan.

Rotary, Plastics Due To Win Games

It's supposed to be just a formality Wednesday night in Midland JayCee Independent Basketball League action, with Rotary Engineering Company and Western Plastic Company expected to take easy contests.

Rotary takes on Borden's in the first game at 7:30 p.m., and Western Plastic gets winless Shell Oil in the second contest.

If Rotary comes through as expected—and why not?—the Engineers once again will lead the league. They lost the lead awhile back when Phillips Petroleum Company handed them their only loss in the history of Midland city loop play, 53-47. But since then, the Engineers have thumped everything else in sight and Phillips was forced to forfeit a 2-0 game to the JayCees, for not appearing for a scheduled contest.

At present, Rotary and Phillips are deadlocked for the lead with 5-1 won-lost records.

The Engineers' J. B. Collins leads the league in scoring with 36 points, and Leland Hoffman of the same team is third with 29 tallies.

Borden's has some high scorers too. Roy Price has tallied 85 points—good for second in the conference—and brother Howard has 57, good for fifth in the league. However, Rotary won last time by a 56-23 margin and there isn't much reason to believe it won't be about like that again.

Western Plastic still is a contender with a 4-2 record and should have little, if any, trouble with a Shell outfit which has dropped six straight. WP took the same team early in the season, 26 to 22. This time it should be by even more.

Brahoney High

Frank Brahoney of Western Plastic has tallied 60 points, good for fourth in the league. Ware is Shell's high man. He has 46 for the season.

Tax Danger To Texas Oil Economy Cited

HOUSTON—(AP)—Robert F. Windforth, Fort Worth, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, says excessive taxation is endangering Texas' oil economy.

He spoke Tuesday night at a dinner given in his honor.

"It is about time somebody started closing the blowout preventers because the pressure on this industry is building up fast through rising operations costs, increasing state and federal taxes and an arbitrarily low government-pegged price for our oil, gas and other products."

New Senate Fight On Truman's Negro Appointee Looms

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Kansas City negro friend of President Truman named headed Wednesday toward another fight for the Washington job to which the President has named him.

At issue are the background and qualifications of Earl Wayne Bekk, one-time head of a Kansas City negro children's school, to become recorder of deeds in Washington.

The Senate District of Columbia Committee shelved Bekk's nomination October 19 after he had testified he did not know what duties a recorder of deeds must perform, or how much the job would pay him.

The committee sent two staff members to Kansas City to inquire into charges that Bekk had been ousted from the children's school job for beating some students and ill-feeding most of them. The study was made on the chance that the President might renew the nomination, which expired after Congress adjourned its 1951 session. Truman renewed the nomination Tuesday.

Spring Grid Drills To Start Soon

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor
The last guns of the football campaign were pounded only a little more than three weeks ago but the grid game is moving back into the picture already.

Southwest Conference schools start falling into the Spring training grind next week. Baylor is the first to open Spring workouts, the Bears starting practice next Tuesday.

Most of the other schools have set their Spring training dates. Texas opens practice February 7, Southern Methodist and Rice February 11 and Arkansas will probably be the last, setting its start for March 1. Spring football is limited to 18 seasons in a 25-day period this year.

While many things can happen between now and next September, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist and Rice are being boomed as the big three for 1952. And there's an ominous optimism from Arkansas.

Coach Otis Douglas of Arkansas has publicly stated that "We'll be shooting for the championship" and made it clear that he feels the Razorbacks have the ammunition to shoot.

Douglas points to more numerical strength of capable men than ever before, that there won't be much difference between the starters and the other squadmen. "At some positions," he says, "boys on the sixth team will be pushing those on the first team."

He said Lamar McHan, his sensational sophomore of 1951, would be the quarterback.

Champion Texas Christian comes up with 29 lettersmen including its great backs, Ray McKown and Bobby Floyd, and some fine boys from the freshman team, including the fleet and devastating Ronald Clinkscale.

Southern Methodist will have 27 lettersmen and one of the finest flocks of sophomores ever to come to the Hilltop school. Among them is Frank Eldem, Duane Nix and Mal Bowers, the latter two top passers. Jerry Norton, a great runner and punter, features the returning lettersmen.

Rice has 21 lettersmen. The Owls were primarily a sophomore team last season and made a fine race for the championship. Rice should be stronger on defense.

Baylor has lost heaviest of all, including the talented All-American Larry Isbell, its best offensive ends Hal Riley and Stan Williams, and tackle Ken Casner. But it has Bill Athey, a great guard, to anchor the line and such running backs as Jerry Coody and Dick Parma. Dawson returns.

Texas A&M has 17 lettersmen but only one offensive starter in the backfield will return—Quarterback Ray Graves. The Aggie line should be stronger, however, featuring Jack Little, all-purpose tackle and Darrow Hooper, goal-kicking wingman. Don Ellis, transfers from LSU, is one of the brightest prospects for quarterback.

Texas will have 21 lettersmen but loses heavily on defense and in offense linemen. Regular Quarterback Dan Page also is gone and so are those great defensive men, All-American Bobby Dillon, June Davis, Don Messico and Jim Lantzford. Billy Quinn, up from the freshmen, is expected to give the backfield offensive punch. All-Conference Gib Dawson returns.

Rankin Cops First Half Cage Crown

RANKIN—The Rankin Red Devils won the first half championship of District 90-B here Tuesday night by swamping Imperial, 83 to 15. The Red Devils have won all their first-half loop games, having a 13-3 record for the season.

Dee Gamblin was high for Rankin with 16 points against Imperial. The Red Devils also took the B game, 36-16.

Marlin Youth Faces Calf Theft Charges

He was arrested Monday by sheriff's deputies, and charged Tuesday in Justice court.

Midland, Lamesa Top 1-AAA Loop Basketball Flag Chase

Midland and Lamesa stepped out in front in the District 1-AAA basketball race Tuesday night. The Bulldogs thumped Plainview, 50 to 39, and Lamesa routed Sweetwater, 43 to 23.

Indeed wacky is the way things are going in loop play. The team which has won the most games over the full season—Sweetwater—has yet to scratch in conference action. The team with the best percentage for season's play—Vernon—has suffered a conference loss. And the team considered the weakest of all—and with one of the lower records when season play started—Midland—is at the top.

In another Tuesday night game, Big Spring upset Vernon, 38 to 36, with Eugene Carpenier scoring 18 points. James Tull got 14 for Vernon and Lester Dye tallied 13.

Carlos Berry scored 12 for Lamesa and Don Stevens 10 in the win over Sweetwater. The Mustangs' Carl Anderson—who still isn't in top form because of influenza—paced his club with 11 points. Spec Culpepper's 27 points paced Midland while Rex Jordan got 14 for Plainview.

Midland and Lamesa play Thursday night in Midland, and perhaps a clear-cut leader will come from the winner of that game. Friday night, Sweetwater goes to Big Spring and Plainview plays at Vernon.

The standings in conference play:

	W	L
Midland	2	0
Lamesa	2	0
Vernon	1	1
Big Spring	1	1
Plainview	0	2
Sweetwater	0	2

KING'S ROW

by LARRY KING

Football for the coming season already is being discussed around, even with Golden Gloves and basketball hot and baseball to come, along with track.

We've received a letter from Putt Powell, Amarillo sports scribe, asking for the 1952 Midland schedule. Putt says Amarillo might have a good team in 1953, but states: "Right now it looks pretty bad for the coming season."

Powell says the Sandies will have only three of its 22 offensive-defensive starters returning for the 1952 season.

And, did you notice, SWC teams are getting ready to start Spring training?

Midland High School begins its own Spring workouts along about February 18 this year.

Congrats to Coach Red Rutledge and his MHS basketballers. The Canines are off to a good start with district wins over Big Spring, 33 to 32, and Plainview, 50 to 39.

They play Lamesa here Thursday night, and all Midlanders who haven't made Golden Glove plans definitely should attend. Lamesa also has two conference wins, and this one will determine—temporarily, at least—the 1-AAA leader.

With the additional of Spec Culpepper, and the improved Midland defensive play, the Bulldogs may surprise a lot of teams. Last year, they didn't win a loop game. This season, they may contend for the crown.

Well, it was rags to riches for Midland in football, so why not in basketball too?

The Booster Club's annual football banquet is scheduled Friday night in the Midland High School cafeteria. Tickets may be obtained at Tex Carleton's Athletic Supply, or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dutch Meyer, TCU's foxy grid mentor, will be the main speaker.

An expenditure of $231.95 in its Golden Gloves project has been announced by the Optimist Club.

Officials reported $261.95 was spent for equipment, and materials and services. A credit of $30 was allowed the Midland team as its expense money for practice bouts at San Angelo, cutting the "out" total to the first figure cited.

What a busy week for us! Golden Gloves Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights; basketball Thursday night and that banquet Friday night. How will we be everywhere at once?

To top it off, we're taking care of young daughter Cheryl Ann now since the wife sliced a finger almost off while washing dishes Tuesday night and required a flock of stitches.

The Optimists are sponsoring the Midland team.

Bulldogs Romp By Plainview, 50-39

PLAINVIEW—On the strength of a 20-point second quarter and 27 points by Spec Culpepper, the Midland High School Bulldogs trounced the Plainview Bulldogs, 50 to 39, here Tuesday night in a District 1-AAA basketball game.

The win gives Midland a 2-0 conference record, and was the third straight win for the improving Bulldogs who now have won six and lost eight.

Midland's team—coached by Red Rutledge—got off to a 14-7 first quarter lead with Corky Moss and Roy Kinsey hitting from outside. In that torrid second quarter, smooth little Culpepper tallied 14 points as Midland piled up a 34-18 halftime lead.

Plainview chopped the margin to 39-31 at the end of three quarters, but Midland outscored the home team, 11 to 8, in the final quarter for the 50 to 39 margin.

Plainview's star—Tom Caskey—was held to two points by Midland. Rex Jordan topped the losers with 14 tallies.

The Midland B team lost, 30 to 27, after leading at halftime by a 22-19 margin. Jim Hammett scored even and Joe Bowman six for Midland.

Lamesa plays the Bulldogs in a conference game in Midland Thursday night. The B game starts at 8:30 with the Midland and Lamesa varsity fives playing immediately thereafter.

H-SU, Tennessee Win Cage Clashes

NEW YORK—(AP)—There was little activity in college basketball Tuesday night due to midyear exams. Unbeaten St. Bonaventure won its eleventh straight with a second half rally to beat the Sampson AFB, 81-71. The Bonnies were behind by 10 points at halftime, 35-25.

Tennessee beat Vanderbilt, 68-50, in the Southeastern Conference. In the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference Washington State took Oregon State, 45-37.

Detroit snapped a four-game losing streak by whipping Georgetown, 80 to 74, while Xavier of Cincinnati ended Belmont's three-year string of 39 straight home court victories, 84-70.

In other games North Carolina State swamped Baltimore Loyola, 74-32, and Mercer drubbed Georgia, 63-48.

Hardin-Simmons easily routed Walters AFB, 84 to 32; Widwestern outlasted Trinity U, 61-53, and Brooke Army nudged Howard Payne, 72 to 70.

Odessa Is Site Of Meet

Odessa's sixth annual regional Golden Gloves tournament takes over the sports spotlight this week, starting Thursday night and running through Saturday night.

The bouts—to be held in the Odessa High School fieldhouse—will begin at 8 p.m.

Midland will enter an eight-man team in the tournament, six shy of full strength. A flu epidemic cut the squad last week. The entire Midland team missed drills for the full week, and it didn't help their conditioning any.

"We won't be at full strength, but we'll take our eight boys over there and do the best we can," Coach Nolan McKean said Wednesday.

Last year, Midland won the novice title and was expected to fight it out with Odessa for the same crown this year. However, that seems unlikely now since the turn of events which staggered the local squad. All eight of the Midland fighters entering are novices. They are:

Paperweight LeRoy Reeves, 85 pounds; Flyweight E. F. Birt-head, 105; Bantamweights Charles (Chili) Reeves, 118, and John Skidmore, 116; Lightweight Russell Cox, 135; Welterweight Robert Whitaker, 147; Middleweight Fred Bilbo, 154, and Lightweight Bill Leonard, 166.

Definitely out because of influenza are these fighters: Featherweight Luther Mooney; Welterweight Terry Fuglar; Middleweights Charles Crites, Ray Williams, Jerry Lands and Loren Roberts.

Another boy—Heavyweight Rudy Venator—suffered a nose injury in a San Angelo bout recently and probably won't see action.

The entire Midland team, however, will enter the regional meet at San Angelo February 6, thus the boys will have two more weeks of training after the Odessa bouts are over.

Tickets for the Golden Gloves may be obtained here at the Chamber of Commerce office, for the bouts in Odessa.

Fighters from all over the Permian Basin area are expected for the three-day fistfight tourney. In addition to Midland and Odessa, fighters are expected from Brownfield, Kermit, Wink, Pecos, Monahans, Iraan, Sul Ross College, Fort Stockton and possibly other cities.

The open division fighters will be awarded robes, trophies and expense-paid trips to the state Golden Gloves meet in Fort Worth, Odessa—with Ed Ritter, Rex Maxwell, Loy Messo and Pat McCarthy returning as open class champions—is expected to breeze in to the team title in that division.

Harrison Wins Top Money In Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, CALIF.—(AP)—The major share of the Thunderbird Club's $5,000 amateur-pro golf tournament was won by Little Rock's Dutch Harrison.

Harrison collected $1,083.33 Tuesday with his 87-58—115 for best ball honors, aided by his amateur partners, Grant Withers of North Hollywood, Paul Prom of Sacramento and Paris Letsinger of Visalia, Calif.

Yet, Harrison wasn't the low scorer for the 36-hole tourney. Two of the country's hardest golf campaigners, Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Australia's Jim Frier, had 134's. They won't play off the tie. Al Besselink of Merchantville, N. J., won second money in the tournament with $500, and Middlecoff took third, $483.33.

Fullback Bob Goode To Be Inducted

28 Die In Plane Crash—

The plane had started its landing approach to Newark Airport's runway 6 at 3:39 p.m. from a height of about 1,500 feet, using an instrument-landing system, with an assist from Newark Airport's radar. The ceiling was down to 400 feet and visibility was cut to three-fourths of a mile.

It was reported coming in on its glide path. Suddenly, the plane dropped out of view of the radar scope and crashed at 3:45 p.m. While airport towermen frantically called the aircraft, it had plummeted out of the fog, narrowly missing Batin High School for girls and cut a fiery path close to the heart of this industrial city. The school's 1,000 pupils had been dismissed 45 minutes previously.

Terrific Explosion
The plane hit one building and immediately it disintegrated into a mass of bricks and fire. Seconds later, the house next door was all in flames. The 29-year-old high school art teacher Michael Truss, who was 75 feet away.

"There was a terrific explosion," said Mrs. Ann Wurth, a nearby resident. "I picked up my boy and ran as far away as I could go."
A soldier, who ran from his nearby home in stocking feet to try to reach the victims, said, "The people in the plane were beyond help." Pvt. Walter Z. Bukowski said he helped carry two persons out of one building, but his rescue efforts were halted because "the flames were so bad—it was just smoke and fire."

Peter Lesiak, a foundry worker, said he counted three explosions, followed by the screams of women and children. "I was there in a minute, but I couldn't do anything... I'll never forget the screams of the dying."
"It was a miracle any of the people got out of those houses," he added.

Quickly, disaster units rushed to the scene. Many of the rescue workers had been through all this in the December 16 crash. They worked in a slanting rain, sometimes ankle deep in mud, amid the white glare of floodlights. Despite the weather, a crowd of more than 4,000 persons gathered behind the police barriers.

Tear-Stained Faces
Some of those who lived near the scene hid tear-stained faces in handkerchiefs as they watched mangled bodies being lifted gently from the rubble of splintered wood and shattered plane metal.
A woman, restrained by neighbors, sobbed uncontrollably. "My baby is in there."
A few yards away, Albert Ragone, 34, wandered about in a daze. He came home from work to find his home in ruins, his wife and two young sons missing.

"I can't find them. I can't find them," he stammered.
The bodies of his wife, Anne, 30, and his sons, Emil, three, and Robert, 14 months, later were removed from the wreckage, where the plane had splintered through their home.
Among the 18 passenger victims was John F. Chester, 45, public relations director of the Carrier Air Conditioning Company of Syracuse, N. Y. He was a former general business editor of The Associated Press and a World War II war correspondent. Two other employees of the Carrier Corporation also were killed.

Four Syracuse University students, bound home for a mid-term vacation after exams, were among the victims.
The pilot, 33-year-old Capt. Thomas J. Reid, lived only three blocks from the spot where the plane crashed. His wife, Henrietta, said Reid had "just completed an air-lift to Japan."
Mrs. Reid, mother of two children, is expecting a third child next summer.

W. H. Little, 67, Of Andrews Dies; Rites Wednesday

ANDREWS—The body of W. H. Little, 67, was found here Tuesday in the alley behind Thames Motor Company. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.
Little's body was found by a Mr. Helm of Andrews after one of his children told him he had found a man asleep in the alley while on his way to school.
A resident of Andrews since 1945, Little was the father of Mrs. Tom Jefferys.
Funeral services were to be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Everett S. Martin officiating.
Survivors include the widow of Fort Stockton; four daughters, Mrs. Tom Jefferys of Andrews, Mrs. Henry Cook of Fort Stockton, Mrs. Mary Herrington of San Angelo and Mrs. Dave Crump of Dayton, Ohio; a son, Sandy Little of Big Spring; and a granddaughter, Mrs. Marvin Fisher, Jr., of Andrews.
Interment was to be in the Andrews Cemetery.

MIDLAND COUPLE LEAVES ON NEW YORK TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Williams of Apartment C, 611 Watson Street, were to leave Wednesday for Houston by automobile. They plan to continue to New York by plane Friday.
In Houston, Williams will visit with a former classmate at Annapolis, Rear Adm. James Sikes. Mr. and Mrs. Williams probably will be away from Midland for a month.

Blast Victim Still In Critical Condition

Charles Elton Kelly, 18, 602 South Mineola Street, remained in a critical condition Wednesday in Midland Memorial Hospital.
Attendants reported little change in the condition of Kelly who suffered a skull fracture and extensive burns when a powder-moulding machine exploded January 18. The blast occurred at the Western Company performing laboratory on West Highway 80.
Bill Lisbenb of Odessa, also injured in the explosion, has been dismissed from the hospital here. He was treated for burns of both arms.

Daniel Continues Attacks On Truman

HOUSTON—(AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel Wednesday hit again at "Trumanistic Washington" as he brought his campaign for U. S. senator to Texas' biggest city.
More than 800 persons overflowed two dining rooms at the Rice Hotel to start Daniel's Harris County campaign at a breakfast.
Daniel, who announced he was running against Senator Tom Connally Monday, hammered again at the same point he made in his announcement—that a new "broom" is needed in Washington.
Reuben Allison, president of the Chamber of Commerce at Daniel's hometown of Liberty, presented Daniel a flag of Texas and a broom as a symbol of this theme.
Daniel announced at the breakfast that Lloyd Gregory, Houston advertising man, will manage his south Texas campaign.

Graham Cites Need For Repentance

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham Monday told an audience of 5,700 persons he was like a Western Union boy, delivering "the message of God to the American people."
"Here in our City of Washington," Graham said at the National Guard Armory, "we've been reading in the headlines of corruption such as we've never known before."
"Tonight I see the judgment hand of God beginning to fold over this country. It will descend upon the American people with one mighty crushing blow, unless we repent."

Underwater Search For Plane Launched

LUKE AIR FORCE BASE, ARIZ.—(AP)—A diver Wednesday began an underwater search for a missing F-84 Thunderjet reported to have crashed into Lake Pleasant, north of here.
Several families said they heard a roar and a splash Tuesday, search teams found an oil slick on the water and a wing tank near the edge of the lake.
The base Public Information Office identified the missing pilot as Second Lt. Stephen W. Holly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Holly of Abilene, Texas.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Charles Martin Dickson of San Antonio is a candidate for congressman-at-large.
The 62-year-old San Antonio man Tuesday notified Chairman James E. Wheat of the State Democratic Executive Committee he wanted a place on the July primary ballot.
Dickson said he was a Democrat and would support the nominees of the primary. He reserved the right to disregard nominations of the Democratic Party in national convention.
He advocated a bipartisan ticket of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president and Senator Richard Russell (D-Ga) for vice president.

BOWLES WANTS MORE IMMIGRANTS

Chester Bowles, U. S. ambassador to India, wants our present restrictive immigration laws re-written to admit about 50 per cent more foreigners to the U. S. He also would scrap present "discriminatory" provisions, placing all applicants on an equal basis in regard to race, religion and nationality. Newschart above shows the number of immigrants admitted and their natural origin since 1850. Immigration was unrestricted until 1921, when a limit of 350,000 a year was set. In 1924, this quota was halved. The law was modified in 1929, but still forms the basis of our immigration policy.

West Virginians Study In Easy Chairs At Home

AP News Service

CHARLESTON, W. VA. — Relax at home in your easy chair, switch on the radio, and go to college. That implies much less work than actually is involved. Yet it is basically the way more than 100 southern West Virginia people are earning college credits.

They are students in the "Radio Classroom," a going educational concern established by Morris Harvey College and Radio Station WCHS.

The project was started the second semester in 1950 with a single course—Comparative Government.

Radio Classroom students registered at the college just as they would for an on-campus course. They received a course outline, reading assignments, and a schedule of reports due.

Panel Discussion On Radio
Then each Friday night at 10 o'clock the students tuned their radios to WCHS.

Morris Harvey faculty panel, usually of four members, discuss for 30 minutes the topic listed for the week in the course outline. Chairman of the lively give-and-take sessions was Harry W. Brawley. He is WCHS director of public affairs and a part-time associate professor of economics and political science at Morris Harvey.

The Comparative Government course covered 18 lapse-recorded Friday night broadcasts.

After each broadcast, students had textbook and outside reading to do and sometimes reports to write. Radio Classroom also required them to attend three on-campus meetings at Morris Harvey during the semester.

Set up to give further instruction and examinations, the on-campus meetings also developed into a discussion and answer period.

Forty-nine persons completed the first course satisfactorily and received three hours of residence credit at Morris Harvey.

Radio Classroom has expanded this semester to two courses—Modern Problems of Government and Christianity and American Democracy.

First Cavalry Named To Defend Nippon's Northernmost Island

CAMP CRAWFORD, HOKKAIDO, JAPAN — (AP) — The battle-hardened U. S. First Cavalry Division has been pulled out of Korea to defend Japan's northernmost island.

Russian troops on Habomai Island are only 3 1/2 miles away. The Russian-occupied Kuriles are 10 miles to the east. Russia's Sakhalin is less than 20 miles to the north.

Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Harrold, division commander, said, "I can assure you of this: If they land here we'll be ready for them with everything we have."

"We feel we are as much on the front line here as we ever were in Korea."

The division's move from Korea was completed New Year's Eve — but was withheld until Wednesday. The 4th Division, former Oklahoma National Guard unit, replaced the First Cavalry in Korea.

It is an ironic touch that the famed demoralized cavalry now is the key division in the U. S. defense force for Japan.

The cavalrymen were flown into Japan from the Philippines to cement the surrender in 1945.

Five years later the division was rushed to Korea to help stem the Red invasion.

Now, after 17 months of bitter combat, it is back in Japan — to defend a former enemy.

There is irony, too, in the division's present training program.

Men of the First Cavalry rode spirited horses on the wide plains of America. They rode tanks into Manila. They rode planes into Japan.

Now they are learning to fight in the mountains—on skis and snowshoes.

Churchill Departs For Home Aboard Liner Queen Mary

NEW YORK — (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill left for home aboard the liner Queen Mary early Wednesday after 18 days in the United States and Canada.

The 77-year-old British statesman puffed a cigar and waved breezily to several hundred persons who came to see him off.

Among those bidding him farewell were financier Bernard Baruch; Churchill's actress-daughter, Sarah; and city representatives.

Churchill spent his last day in the U. S. nursing a cold. He remained at his friend Baruch's residence, where he stayed while here, and received visits from Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri and Francis Cardinal Spellman.

A civil reception and parade had been called off because of his cold, but Impellitteri still presented him with the city's Medal of Honor.

engineer on the project.
Oswalt said the 24-inch cast iron transmission line would be able to flow by gravity some 7,000,000 gallons of water daily, which probably will be the average production of the field. During peak periods, he added, the figure would be increased by pumping.

Largest Sewer Project
The sewer project, approved by the council, will be one of the largest ever undertaken here and calls for the construction of almost six miles of lines.

The lines will furnish service to the rapidly developing areas in Crestview and Baumman Heights as well as a portion of Garden Heights.

Oswalt said the project would bring sewerage service to approximately 700 lots, with approximately 300 of them already occupied.

Bids will be received on the project February 6.

The purchase of the tennis courts culminated several months of negotiations with the Midland Tennis Club. It involved the transfer of six lots on West Brunson Street, near Garfield Street.

The four tennis courts there, with their caliche base, have not been maintained for some time.

But under the purchase agreement, the city will assume some $2,500 in outstanding paving liens and will maintain the courts, either there or at a comparable location.

'Leave-Out' Faring
Oswalt said the city plans to put an asphalt topping on the courts.

The decision to proceed with the paving of "leave-outs" marks a departure from the city's present policy, but Oswalt said it should be done where such "leave-outs" present a traffic hazard or drainage problem.

In paving these areas, the city will take judgment against the property owners.

The decision Tuesday night approved the paving of one "leave-out" on North Marienfeld Street, between Storey and Whitaker Streets, two on Maiden Lane between Whitaker and Main Streets and one on Whitaker between Estes and Cowden Streets.

Paving of others, including one on Main Street between Ohio and Tennessee Streets, he said, will be placed in the next paving project.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Perry Pickett and Councilmen Jack Wilkinson, J. W. McMillen and Johnny Starr.

Armed Bandits Grab $116,000 In Holdup Of Bank At Juarez

JUAREZ, MEXICO — (AP) — Officers of United States and Mexico threw out a dragnet Wednesday for a gang of tall, well-dressed bandits who Tuesday held up the El Banco Nacional here and escaped with approximately 1,000,000 pesos ($116,000).

Millions more pesos were left behind. The bandits didn't bring sacks enough to carry the money away.

A search for six or seven of the gang was being made throughout Northern Mexico and the U. S. Southwest. Police said they had few clues—a New Mexico auto license number and a vague description of a truck in which the loot was speeded away.

El Banco Nacional, a private banking firm, is one of Mexico's largest with branches over the nation. It was the first robbery of the branch at Juarez, border city just across the Rio Grande from El Paso.

Employees Tied With Robbery
The robbers were armed with tommyguns, pistols and rifles. Only one spoke Spanish, bank employees said, and Cashier Rene Salinas is convinced the others were Americans. None was masked.

Salinas was one of 27 employees who were held up, tied with ropes, and laid on the floor of the bank as they reported for work.

Operating so quietly workers in other offices of the bank building didn't know what was happening. The bandits looted the vault, packed the money into sacks, and loaded it into the waiting truck. One of the offices in the bank building is the U. S. Consulate.

The truck was in an adjoining parking lot and the sacks of currency were dropped 30 feet in plain sight of passersby.

The New Mexico auto license was on a car which had been parked near the bank almost 24 hours.

Passed-Up Patrons Kill Woman On Bus

ORIZABA, MEXICO — (AP) — Two men, angered when a bus failed to stop for them, fired on it with pistols Tuesday, killing a woman passenger and wounding two men.

The bus driver said he did not stop because his brakes were in bad condition. City police arrested two men after a gun battle and held them for investigation.

Midland Lions Club members, at their meeting Wednesday noon in Hotel Scharbauer, heard about the 1952 March of Dimes and the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation in a program presented by James L. Daugherty and Roy Minear.

Daugherty is chairman of the Midland County March of Dimes and Minear is area finance chairman for the Gonzales Foundation.

"Texas Takes Care of Its Own" was the program theme.

Daugherty, in outlining the progress of the March of Dimes to date, said the help of every citizen is needed in meeting Midland's $18,500 goal.

He explained how March of Dimes funds are used from local to national levels in research, treatment, patient care and rehabilitation.

"Children do get well from polio—thanks to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which is supported by March of Dimes funds," he stated.

Minear explained briefly the financing, function, purpose and overall plan of operation of the Gonzales institution, before showing a motion picture film, "Courage Triumphs."

John Reid was the projectionist.
