

Magnolia Gets Oil
Show In Glasscock
Test In Deep Zone

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 J. C. Bryans, Southwest Glasscock County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Garden City has logged some interesting shows of oil in an unidentified dolomite at 10,990-11,020 feet.

Operator is preparing to take a drillstem test on that interval. Some observers think the section with the shows is Fusselman. Others are inclined to the belief that it is in the top of the Ellenburger. No Official Call Operator representatives have not officially identified the section. Location is 1,900 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 35, T-4-S, T&P survey. This wildcat failed to find any possibilities of production in the Spraberry. It had some slight shows of oil in a Permian zone below the Spraberry.

Big Ellenburger
Flow Reported Near
Rankin In Upton

Cities Service Oil Company and Continental Oil Company No. 2-AH University, Southeast Upton County exploration, one location east of the discovery well of the Flat Rock-Ellenburger field has flowed oil and showed a good gas volume in a drillstem test at 10,897-743 feet.

It is eight miles east of Rankin and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 29, block 3, University survey. The No. 1-AH University, which flowed oil for a time from the Ellenburger, and then became water flooded, was plugged back and completed as Spraberry producer.

Cities Service and Conoco No. 2-AH University ran a one-hour and 49-minute drillstem test at 10,897-743 feet in the Ellenburger. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes. The 1,000-foot water blanket started flowing out in 21 minutes.

Oil came to the top in 37 minutes. It was flowed to pits for 12 minutes and then turned to tanks for one hour. The well flowed 74.44 barrels of 28.2 gravity oil in that one hour. Shalecuts were 2.10ths of one per cent basic sediment.

There was no water. Gas volume was at the rate of 2,305,000 cubic feet per day. Gas-oil ratio was 12-35-1. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 1,523 pounds to 3,225 pounds.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure after one hour and 15 minutes was 4,625 pounds. The drill pipe unloaded 49 barrels of oil after the tool was closed. There was no water in the fluid which was recovered when the drill pipe was pulled.

Operators are preparing to take electric log surveys and will then probably run casing and make production tests and try to complete the project as a producer.

HW Lea Prospector
Has Gas And Water;
To Back Up, Test

Jackson, Douglas & Ritchie No. 1 State, Northwest Lea County wildcat found salt water in the top of the Devonian and is to plug back and try to complete as a discovery from a section in the Permian.

The prospector ran a drillstem test at 10,129-129 feet. The tool was open 12 hours. Recovery was the 2,200-foot water blanket and 6,450 feet of gas cut salt water. There were no shows of oil.

Operators are to plug back to about 8,430 feet and test the section at 8,340-8,430 feet in the Permian line.

Had Clean Oil That zone had some clean oil and some gas in a drillstem test. Some slight shows of oil and gas were also logged in some zones in the Permian below the section which is to be tested. However none of the lower shows were as good as the one at 8,340-8,430 feet.

Depleted Reagan
Well Flows Oil
From Lower Zone

General American Oil Company No. 1-49 Proctor, depleted upper Spraberry well in Northwest Reagan County, is now at total depth 7,828 feet in lower Spraberry showing clean oil to test.

Gas has not been reported. The flow is coming from open hole section at 7,801-7,839 feet. That section was fractured with 3,000 gallons.

No. 1-49 Proctor was completed in the upper Spraberry for a daily pumping potential of 36 barrels of oil.

Midland Poll
Tax Payments
Total 14,000

A heavy last-minute rush Thursday sent Midland County poll tax payments to an estimated 14,000 to more than double the previous record established a year ago.

The estimate came Friday from County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed, who worked until midnight with his staff, handling the last-minute flood of potential voters.

The last two receipts Thursday night were issued to Bernard Ray, 1911 West Brunson Street, Midland geologist, and his wife.

Speed said the last-minute rush exhausted the supply of poll tax receipts while a total of more than 1,500 exemption certificates were issued.

Since the county had a supply of 10,000 receipts on hand, that means 2,500 applications will be processed as soon as an additional supply of receipt blanks is received.

The estimated 14,000 figure compares with the 5,670 who obtained receipts in the last presidential election, 1948.

Factor County reported a record payment of 18,258, doubling the number in the last presidential election year.

At least 11,500 receipts or exemption certificates have been issued. And Speed estimated an additional 2,500 applications will be processed as soon as an additional supply of receipt blanks is received.

Mothers Collect $6,268 Here
But Bow To Odessa's $10,053

Midland County's gifts to the annual March of Dimes soared to $16,500 Friday with a $8,268 injection from the mothers' porch light campaign Thursday night.

Drive Chairman James L. Daugherty praised the mothers as "doing a wonderful job" in such a short time. Mrs. W. Harry Rhodes, chairman of the Mothers march, also expressed her appreciation to Thursday night's workers. Both Mrs. Rhodes and Daugherty urged homes missed in the one-hour push Thursday night to phone Mrs. Rhodes at 4-5912. Contributions will be picked up immediately.

Daugherty appealed for a continuation of gifts by mail to the March of Dimes, P. O. Box 3000.

Midland The Midland County goal is $18,500 and campaign leaders hope to receive $20,000 for the worthy cause.

Odessans bested Midland with a total of $10,053 in the Mothers' March. But Daugherty hoped this city and county will outdo Odessa and Ector in the final aggregate.

Mrs. Rhodes reported the Mothers' March breakdown as:

Table with 2 columns: Location and Amount. West Elementary $ 869.10, South Elementary 1,159.95, North Elementary (including downtown) 2,078.78, San Houston 1,955.54, David Crockett 741.12.

Mrs. Rhodes emphasized that she is grateful to each contributor as well as the individual worker.

Odessa Youth, Out Cold In Motor Mishap,
Revives To Serve 60 Days In County Jail

A 19-year-old Odessan, who appeared to come back from the dead Thursday night, was sitting out a 60-day sentence in the Midland County jail Friday.

Police said the man was the driver of a passenger automobile which crashed head-on into a big oil field truck on West Highway 80 at the city limits.

"We pulled him out of the car and laid him on the pavement," reported Police Officer J. W. Arnold. "His head was cut, he had the pallor of death on his face and we were unable to detect any sign of a pulse beat. "I've seen a lot of dead men and I figured he was one of them."

A few seconds after his body was placed on an ambulance stretcher, however, the man opened his eyes, sat up and wanted to know what had happened.

Arnold and Officer C. A. Thurman brought him to jail. Friday morning the pleaded guilty to drunken driving charges before County Judge Clifford C. Keith, who handed him a 60-day jail sentence and fined him $100 and costs.

UN Assembly Okays
Resolution Labeling
Russia Pact Breaker

PARIS (AP)—The UN General Assembly Friday approved an American-backed resolution labeling Russia a treaty breaker for failing to live up to its 1945 friendship pact with Nationalist China.

With almost half the members not voting, the ballot was 25 to nine, with 24 abstentions and two members not present.

The assembly's action in approving the relatively mild rebuke represented a triumph for Nationalist China's delegate, Dr. T. F. Tsiang, who has been trying three years to get some sort of UN condemnation of Russia's part in the downfall of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Blamed On Ejection The Nationalists charged Russia violated the treaty to aid the Chinese Communists and that this aid was responsible for Chiang's ejection from the mainland.

The watered-down resolution merely noted Russia "failed to carry out" its 1945 treaty. Even in this weakened form, however, many countries, including some of America's staunchest Allies, refused to have anything to do with it. They included Britain, Mexico, The Netherlands and the Scandinavian countries, plus many of the Asian and Arab nations. All these abstained from voting.

Burma, India, Indonesia and Israel voted with the Soviet bloc against the Chinese complaint.

Texas Voter
List To Set
New Record

A record number of Texans qualified themselves to vote this year in the crucial national and state elections.

Until the deadline at midnight Thursday, tax collectors and their deputies were swamped in almost every city writing out poll tax receipts.

Poll tax payment records were smashed in every section of the state.

The state's record of 1,700,000 qualified voters in the presidential election year of 1948 seemed sure to topple.

The big cities of Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth alone, the midnight estimates of poll tax sales plus exemptions totaled 780,000. This compares to a voter strength of only 587,000 in the same four cities in 1948.

The picture over the rest of the state: Tom Green County (San Angelo) estimated 20,253 receipts and exemptions as against 13,718 in 1948 and 10,311 last year.

Beaumont — Jefferson County Tax Assessor-Collector W. T. Blackmon estimated 60,000 total, compared to 52,961 in 1948.

Big Spring — total 11,315, compared to previous record of 9,228 in 1951.

Del Rio — Val Verde County issued 3,710 poll tax receipts and 791 exemptions, compared to 3,908 receipts and 1,000 exemptions in 1948.

Galveston — estimated total 27,500, compared to 25,857 in 1948.

Lubbock — Lubbock County estimated total 28,000 payments plus 4,200 exemptions. In 1948, some 16,000 poll taxes were paid.

Odessa — Ector County more than doubled poll tax payments this year over those of 1948. Unofficial tally Friday showed 18,258 qualified voters, compared to 8,869 in 1948.

Midland — County payments estimated at 14,000, double the 7,000 of 1948.

Abilene — Estimated 17,000 total payments with final voting strength estimated at 21,000, at least 4,000 more than previous record.

POLL TAX HIGH
SET FOR CRANE

CRANE — Poll tax payments in Crane County established a new record, Morris Lear, sheriff and tax assessor-collector reported Friday.

He estimated 1,800 voting slips issued for 1952 as compared to last year's total of 1,156.

Quick Break
Expected In Pay Dispute

By The Associated Press Texas truck drivers Friday joined thousands of others in 10 Southern states in a walkout shortly after midnight, but a break in the strike appeared quickly.

In addition to those in the Southern states, AFL drivers also walked out in three Midwestern states—Kansas, Missouri and Ohio.

Last minute agreements between the union and operators in nine other Midwest states averted a walkout of another 36,000 drivers.

Operators' representatives in Dallas said negotiations to end the strike of 7,000 truck transport workers in four Southwestern states are expected to open soon in Dallas.

And in Dallas, where 24 motor freight lines were hit, picket signs were removed from four freight lines after the companies reached agreement with the AFL Teamsters Union. Operators said all other lines have given power of attorney to a negotiating committee and no further breakaways are expected.

Four-State Negotiations The negotiations in Dallas will cover motor freight operations in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Other Southern states affected are Tennessee, Kentucky, Florida, Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi.

Union negotiators Thursday met with companies in Memphis. Frank E. Bacon of the M&D Motor Freight Service in Dallas said negotiations in Memphis are expected to be resumed in Dallas.

Two express lines in San Antonio reported they had reached agreements with the unions and were operating. Union members, who used picket lines for eight other San Antonio motor freight lines. Almost 1,000 truckers and warehousemen were affected there.

Three Houston truck lines signed contracts with union employees within three hours after the strike was called. Eleven others in Houston were closed. Some 700 workers were affected.

In the Southwestern states, drivers asked pay increases of about 19 cents more than the $1.46 hourly wage. They had been offered 12 cents an hour plus a boost in mileage rates and a two-year contract.

W. W. Saunders, who is an agent for the Merchants Fast Motor Lines here, said, "We expect to have more freight than we can handle as long as the drivers are on strike."

Gene Shelburne, Jr., an agent for Alamo Freight Lines, said, "This strike is going to be hard on men who receive daily shipments of oil field equipment from Houston."

However, Shelburne said he didn't think the full effect of the strike would be felt here until Saturday.

Meanwhile motor freight lines not involved in the strike prepared to take up the slack caused by the striking drivers.

W. W. Saunders, who is an agent for the Merchants Fast Motor Lines here, said, "We expect to have more freight than we can handle as long as the drivers are on strike."

County Agent Charles Green said Friday he is making plans to attend a conference Tuesday night in Lamesa, to discuss the possibility of trying rain-making efforts in this area.

"I don't know what can be done," he said, "but I thought I would at least go up there and see what happens."

The meeting, to be held in the Dawson County Courthouse, has been called by County Agent Lee Roy Colgan of Lamesa.

He said Ford Hubbard, a representative of Dr. I. P. Krick, the noted Colorado "rain maker," will be on hand to discuss the situation.

Representatives have been invited from Midland, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Galnes, Andrews, Martin, Howard and Borden counties.

Any Midland County farmer or business man interested in attending the meeting is requested to contact Green at the Midland County Courthouse.

Flu Strikes Hard
As Polio Declines

AUSTIN (AP)—Influenza hit hard at Texas again last week but polio dipped almost to half the incidence of the previous week, the State Health Department reported Friday.

New cases of flu were counted at 19,464, compared to an average of 3,765 cases for the comparable week during the last seven years.

Ector and Wilbarger Counties suffered the highest incidence. Ector totaled its new cases at 1,646 and Wilbarger counted 1,530.

The week's polio total was 22 cases in 13 counties, down from 40 cases a week earlier. Seven of the new cases were in Harris County.

SEATTLE (AP)—Allied airmen shot down 31 Red jets in January and lost 52 of their own planes, Far East Air Forces reported Friday.

The Allied loss was the greatest in any month of the 20-month-old Korean war.

Increasingly accurate Communist anti-aircraft fire destroyed 23 United Nations jets and 21 propeller planes. Five F-56 Sabre jets were shot down in air battles. One Sabre and two B-29 Superfortresses were lost because of mechanical failures.

In addition to the 31 Russian-type MIG-15 jets shot down, Allied pilots were credited with probably destroying two and damaging 30.

Russian-Built Radar FEAF said during the entire war the Allies have lost 478 planes compared to 850 Red aircraft destroyed, or damaged, including 611 MIG's.

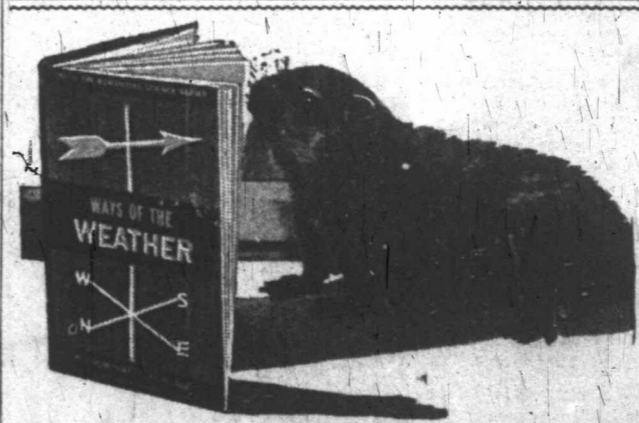

The Reds have concentrated most of their anti-aircraft batteries—including Russian-built radar detectors—at such key points as Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, Sarayon, Sinanju, Snuju and other vital road and rail junctions. These have accounted for most of the Allied losses.

Snow and overcast skies grounded most Allied planes Friday morning. The Fifth Air Force said only a few fighter-bombers went out on "Operation Strangle," designed to cut Communist lifelines.

No major ground action was reported.

Lesser California Reds Go On Trial LOS ANGELES (AP)—Trial of 18 Californians depicted by the government as the American Communist Party's second team opened Friday. They face the same conspiracy charges which tripped up the party's national heads in the famed 1949 New York trial.

The tedious job of jury selection was slated to get underway at 1 p.m. with a preliminary panel of 100 veniremen. The task may take several days or several weeks. It took three months in New York.

Groundhog To Take Annual
Peek From Burrow Saturday

If the groundhog sticks his head out of his hole in West Texas Saturday, he'll probably cast a shadow.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast calls for partly cloudy and mild conditions here Saturday. And no indication of moisture is seen.

The theory behind the quaint custom is that had weather is ahead if the groundhog sees his shadow. U. S. weather forecasters, however, point out that the groundhog's predictions are not infallible.

Last year when the groundhog emerged, he found snow and ice in most of Texas and sub-freezing temperatures.

Midlanders hope the groundhog sees his shadow and brings a break to the current fair weather spell with much-needed precipitation.

New Mexico Painting Is On Exhibit At First National Bank

"View Near Santa Fe," a beautiful painting by Frank Gervasi, is on display at the First National Bank as its "Picture of the Month" for February.

The artist was born in Italy, but came to the United States as a youth. He studied at the New York School of Industrial Design where he quickly displayed great promise in his chosen mediums—oil and water color.

World War I came when Gervasi was 20, and he promptly enlisted in the New York National Guard. He served overseas with an infantry division, and was wounded in the Battle of the Somme. As a result of the wounds, he lost his right arm. Even this, however, did not end his painting career. By the time he was discharged after long months in veterans' hospital he could use his left arm as well as he had been able to use his right one. Frank Gervasi could paint again.

He later studied at the Art Student's League before going abroad in 1927, traveling and painting in France and Italy. He now spends most of his time in New York, but several years ago he visited New Mexico and his work since then has revealed him as an inspired interpreter of the Southwest.

"View Near Santa Fe" is said to be one of his finest New Mexico paintings.

Texan Convicted In Virginia Slaying
FAIRFAX, VA.—(AP)—Rupert Julian Turbeville, 34, Galveston, Texas, was sentenced to 18 years in prison after his conviction Thursday of second degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Ellen Floy Moody, 36.

Mrs. Moody was slain last August 29 in a tourist cabin near Fort Belvoir, Va., where she lived with her husband and a son by a former marriage.

Turbeville testified that he and Mrs. Moody had lived as man and wife several years before she married Sgt. Oscar Moody early last year. He testified he carried a gun on the day of the shooting because of threats made by Sergeant Moody.

The defense attorneys argued Mrs. Moody died in "an altercation initiated by herself."

Harvey Oil Field, Stanton Road Link Paving Programmed

STANTON—Chamber of Commerce and other civic officials here this week lauded the inclusion by the State Highway Department of a seven-mile stretch of road linking Stanton and the Tex Harvey Oil field.

Completion of the strip will leave only three miles of unpaved road (all in Glasscock County) between the Harvey field and the City of Stanton.

Highway authorities notified Martin County Judge James McMorris of plans to pave the seven-mile stretch under its 1952-53 program. Glasscock County commissioners are at work obtaining commitments on right-of-way needed for the project.

Two and three-fourths miles of the road in Martin County linking this area with the oil field district already have been paved. Approximately four miles of the road within Midland County is now in the process of being paved.

Civic groups in this area have urged for several months the complete paving of the road.

Air freight boarded on Pioneer's planes in Midland reached 84,019 pounds while 201,566 pounds was shipped for local concerns, the district traffic and sales manager reported.

Some 18,473 pounds of air express was boarded by Pioneer in Midland in 1951 and 41,894 pounds was received.

Spring Draft Quotas Due To Decline, Not Rise, Officials say

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Draft quotas for the Spring months may be far lower than expected due to a drop in Korea casualties and an increase in enlistments.

This is the latest Selective Service prediction following a mixup Thursday in which Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey first forecast a sharp increase for the April-May-June period but later said a mistake had been made.

Instead of Hershey's original estimate of 90,000 a month, the figure probably will be between 40,000 and 50,000 men called monthly during the period, officials said.

This compares with the January call of 60,000, February 52,500, March 28,600, and the monthly average of 46,000 since the draft was reactivated in September, 1950.

Officials said Hershey had used old information on which to base his estimates. They said conditions had changed since, due to the Korean lull and because enlistments had climbed.

Big Red won the grand champion honors Thursday night. Reserve honors went to the 1,065-pound Hereford shown by Dana Saylor of Goldthwaite.

Also up for auction Friday was the champion Southdown lamb, shown by Freddie Mac Stuart, Roby. Thursday, Stuart sold the reserve champion, a 113-pound Southdown, for $2 a pound.

MGM, With Fingers Crossed, To Release Parks-Taylor Film

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Exclusively Yours: MGM's blowing the dust off "Love Is Better Than Ever" and, after crossing all fingers, will release the picture in April. The film, co-starring Larry Parks and Lis Taylor, has been on the shelf, marked "Too Hot to Handle" ever since Larry went to Washington as a Red probe witness.

Charlie Chaplin, who never talked about retirement seriously before, is saying that "Limelight" will be his last movie. . . . Sylvia Mangano, the woo-woo doll in "Bitter Rice," is expecting Signor Stork again. Her condition cost her the lead role in John Huston's "Moulin Rouge." . . . Zsa Zsa Gabor will play the part instead.

Hollywood studio heads are sending memos forbidding poodle haircuts to contract glamor stars. The short, doggy locks create a problem in costume period films.

Clifton Webb's new 14-year contract with Fox gives him the right to direct whenever he decides to give up acting.

A line of purple prose that would make even Kathleen Winsor jealous, from the script of "Dream Boat":

"Now he begins the kiss of kisses, traveling from fingertips to arm to shoulder to neck to mouth as Margarita wilts like a convulsive flower." The author is Claude Binyon.

Paramount won't give Mona Freeman sexy roles, but Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis insist. Mona had the lead in two of their 16-mm. funnies; as the gangsters' moll in "The Reinforcer," and as the rejected one in "A Spot in the Shade," a take-off on you-know-what.

IT Can't Be Done
Movies are hotter than ever deit. Describing a George Raft-Gail Russell love scene on the beach for Bernie Luber's "Loan Shark," the script says: "They hold the embrace until the film ignites, and we fade out."

It's labeled "top secret" at U.I. but I discovered that four feature films and 100 shorts will be produced for television within a year's span when the studio's big video program starts.

Stage 12 has been converted into two floors of offices for the sound and dubbing TV schedule, the back lot is undergoing sweeping changes and the equipment is pouring into the studio.

June Havoc and Celeste Holm, whom she replaced in "Affairs of State" on Broadway, are feuding. Celeste predicted the show wouldn't run three weeks, with June in the lead.

Van Johnson will play John Alden in Spencer Tracy's "Master of the Mayflower." Cameras turn when Spence completes the current "Pat and Mike" opposite Katharine Hepburn. Katie's still wide-eyed over the success of "African Queen." She told me:

"It was such fun to do, and so congenial, that we thought maybe it would be a fiasco."
No TV For Katharine
Hepburn on television?
"Not me," she said. "I still don't like radio. I don't think I've done over 10 radio shows in my life." . . . John Lund will play a romantic plumber as Ann Sheridan's co-star in U.I.'s "The Girl Across the Street." . . . Every art movie house in Hollywood is getting ready to replay Vittorio Gassman's old Italian movies if Shelley Winters weds the

"VIEW NEAR SANTA FE" By Frank Gervasi

Frank Gervasi was born in Italy and came to the United States as a youth. He always had wanted to study wood carving, but when he reached Stuyvesant High School, his art teacher there inspired him to turn his talents to the fine arts. With the help and encouragement of his teachers, first at high school and later at the New York School of Industrial Design, the young artist quickly displayed great promise in his chosen mediums—oil and water color.

During World War I, he served overseas with the 105th U.S. Infantry of the 27th Division, and was wounded in the Battle of the Somme. As a result of those wounds, he lost his right arm. Even this, however, did not end his painting career. When he finally was discharged after long months in veterans' hospitals, he could use his left arm as well as he had been able to use his right one. Frank Gervasi could paint again!

He studied four years at the Art Student's League, before going abroad in 1927, spending three years traveling and painting in France and Italy.

Gervasi now spends most of his time in his New York City studios and at Cornwallville in the upper Catskills. He spent four months in New Mexico in 1949, and his exhibits since then have revealed him as an inspired interpreter of the Southwest.

His New Mexico painting now on display here is said to be one of his best.

A Great American

One day during World War II, Mrs. Robert P. Patterson asked her husband, then assistant secretary of War, to find out where their soldier son was stationed.

Patterson refused to make a special inquiry. He told his wife he would not seek any information that was not equally available to every other father of a soldier.

Nothing could better illustrate the complete integrity of this man who served his country so valiantly in war and after. His death in an air crash near New York is a deep loss for all Americans.

In World War I he won a Distinguished Service Cross for leading a daylight patrol against two German machine gun nests and staying behind to cover his men's retreat.

Twice he was cited in "general orders" and he received the Silver Star for "gallant" conduct. He was wounded when he walked through enemy fire to direct his men to cover. Yet he never wanted to talk about his combat days.

After the war he practiced law until President Hoover named him a federal judge in New York. But his interest in Army affairs never flagged.

In July, 1940, President Roosevelt wired him to offer him the assistant secretaryship of War. When the message was delivered, Patterson was doing KP as part of his reserve officers' refresher course at Plattsburg, N. Y.

With characteristic humility he said: "They could get a better man, but if they want me, I'll accept." Patterson served in that post under Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, himself a devoted and able public servant.

But Stimson by that time was in his 70's, and much of the real burden of his job fell on Patterson's shoulders. His performance was magnificent and selfless.

Upon Stimson's resignation in 1945, President Truman gave Patterson his choice of that job or a berth on the Supreme Court. Patterson replied he would serve wherever the President thought him best fitted.

Truman thereupon appointed him secretary of War, and awarded him a Distinguished Service Medal.

From then until his retirement on July 24, 1947, Patterson slaved tirelessly to effect unification of the armed services. After that he went back to private law practice, but his voice frequently was raised in behalf of measures he considered important to the country.

America has had many devoted public servants in recent decades. But a few stand out above the rest. Robert Patterson belongs on the mountain tops with Henry Stimson and James Forrestal.

A nation can command no higher service than it gains from men of his lofty character and talents.

No Way To Hunt Ducks

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sometimes I tell Mrs. P. that it just doesn't pay to go out to parties in Washington. She meets some of the nicest people, but also some of the darnedest people.

And if you're not awfully careful and awfully hard-boiled, you end up thinking that the people you've taken the hide off are not so bad after all.

The other day, for instance, I dropped in on a reception at the Cuban Embassy. I didn't know exactly what the reception was all about, but Louey Machado, the ambassador, is a great friend of the U. S. A., and I have been going around there ever since I went to cover news for El Mundo in Havana.

On this occasion no sooner had I checked my hat and got upstairs to the receiving line than I got a faint perception of what the reception was all about.

In the receiving line was a long and glittering row of American brass with more stars on their shoulders than there are in the Milky Way, and more decorations on their bosoms than on a Christmas tree.

Waste Vs. Glimmer
With a gulp I remembered that, on the radio the night before, I had blasted military waste—from the Aleutian Islands to the Pentagon and from Fort Huachuca, Arizona, to Morocco.

However, taking a hitch in my belt, I started down the line. The ambassador, an old friend, was easy to talk to. I noticed, however, that he seemed amused, and, glancing up at the man alongside him, I readily understood why.

The next guest on the receiving line was Gen. "Lightnin' Joe" Collins, Army chief of staff, who, only the night before, I had told some million people, used four able-bodied GIs as personal servants. Lightnin' Joe grinned. I complimented him on his youthful appearance and had no alternative but to continue down the glittering line.

Next was Rear Adm. Robert Lee Dennison, naval aide to President Truman. Just the night before I had told how the Navy had accumulated enough anchors to last 50 years, plus 132,000 oyster forks, was hoarding machine tools and had spent $215,000,000 on 91 planes for "administrative purposes," which usually means rides for brass hats. However, the admiral looked quite cordial, possibly even amused at my discomfiture. We shook hands and I continued with as brave a show as possible down the receiving line.

Then Brig. Gen. Robert Landry, Air Force aide to the President, just 24 hours before, I had told how the Air Force kept a pool of 82 planes for the purpose of taking generals and congressmen on special flights; also had ordered 900 machine lathes although it needed only eight. The general grinned. We shook hands.

General Vaughan congratulated me. I was now somewhat like the fraternity initiate who faces a gleeful line of paddlers. Fore and aft of me was a gleeful line of generals and admirals. I couldn't retreat. I had to go forward.

Coming up next, right in front of me, was Maj. Gen. Wallace Graham, the President's personal physician. "All those critical things I have written about his commodity speculation!" I moaned to myself. "And just last night I wrote another one about his intervention to keep Malaxa, the famous Rumanian, in the United States."

Fortunately, General Graham although able to read patients' symptoms, was not able to read my mind. He smiled. I smiled. We shook hands, and I passed down what seemed like the endless line.

By this time my dazzled brain began to catch up with what was going on. Obviously I had not read the Spanish on my invitation carefully. The beautiful new ribbons and medals on the bosoms of the generals could mean only one thing. They had just been decorated by the Cuban government.

Just as I realized this, I glimpsed straight ahead, and right in my course—my old friend, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan.

A lot of memories flashed back in that split second before we met —my protest four years before when he accepted a decoration from Dictator Peron of Argentina.

Q—Why is a nut especially prized by birds in winter time?
A—It is one of the best of fuel-foods to keep their small bodies warm against the cold in which they are always exposed, even on relatively good winter days.

Q—How many volcanoes are a constant threat to the world today?
A—About 450, any of which can erupt destructively.

Q—Were music stores once referred to as music depots?
A—About 1860 the name depot was often used for stores.

Q—Were pensions granted to soldiers of the American Revolution?
A—On March 18, 1818, Congress authorized life pensions of $20 per month for officers and eight dollars for privates.

trumps to my net. This was still another chance: the jack of spades might fall on this trick.

"Then I led a heart from my own hand, and West naturally stepped up with the jack of spades to set the contract.

"Was my line of play correct but unlucky, or incorrect and unlucky?" Incorrect, I am sorry to say.

The best play is to run four rounds of trumps at once, discarding low diamonds from the dummy. This beginning gives the opponents some light chance to make a mistake.

South then cashes the top clubs and ruffs a club, hoping for a 4-3 break. If the clubs are 4-3, he can set up a long club in dummy.

If the clubs fall to break, South leads a heart to dummy's ace, hoping that the queen will drop. If this break fails to materialize, South ruffs another low club and then leads his last trump in the hope of developing a squeeze.

As the cards lie, with all suits breaking badly, South still makes his grand slam. When the last trump is led, West has the high club and two diamonds. He must keep the club, so he discards a diamond.

Dummy can then discard the six of clubs, keeping ace-jack of diamonds. This puts it up to East, who has the queen of hearts and two diamonds. If he discards the queen of hearts, South's jack wins a trick. If he discards a diamond, dummy's ace clears the suit, and the jack of diamond wins the last trick.

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade 2 Clubs

You, South hold: Spades 9-7-5-2, Hearts A-K-9-4-2, Diamonds K-Q-8, Club 4. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. This shows slightly more than a minimum opening bid and four-card support for spades. If you fall to show your support while it is cheap to do so, you may never get an inexpensive chance later on.

When A Government Program Pays Its Way, That's News

By FETEB EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Any time a government program pays its own way and returns a profit of $190,000 to the U. S. Treasury, brother, that's news. But it actually has happened.

It has happened, of all places, in what used to be the Marshall Plan Economic Cooperation Administration, now the Mutual Security Agency.

They have been described variously by their opponents as international give-away and do-good programs, financed by the American taxpayer.

It should not be understood that the whole Marshall Plan has paid off with a profit. Only one small part of it.

This particular part had to do with dollar guarantees on the sale of American magazines abroad. It has been frequently and heavily criticized as a government subsidy to certain favored American publishing firms.

But the way it has worked out, to almost everyone's surprise, is that it has turned out as a profitable enterprise for the Marshall Plan.

So it now is being expanded by MSA to the Middle East, Asia and all the free world to combat the flood of Communist publications found there.

Here's How It Began
The whole thing began in a little-noticed section of the Economic Recovery Act of 1948. It authorized the Marshall Plan administration to make contracts with American publishers, guaranteeing that any foreign money they received from the sale of their magazines, books or movies abroad could be converted into U. S. dollars.

The Marshall Plan of course would furnish the dollars. On this basis, contracts were made with such magazines as Harper's, Omnibook, Collier's, Saturday Evening Post, Reader's Digest, Time and Life.

Knopf, Doubleday, Harcourt Brace, Lippincott, Bantam Books, Pocket Books and other publishing houses got in on the act.

Harvard, Princeton and Yale University Press, McGraw Hill, American Chemical Society and other publishers of scientific works were included.

Even the movies cashed in on it, with such companies as Columbia, Paramount, Republic, RKO, Goldwin, Twentieth Century-Fox, Universal Pictures and Warner Brothers signing contracts. Most of their trouble in converting foreign profits into dollars was in Germany.

But as the movie companies have been increasing the number of films made abroad, they have been solving their own currency convertibility problem, and they're gradually dropping out of the government guarantee program.

Contracts to convert up to $12,000,000 worth of foreign currencies have been signed in the almost four years the program has been working.

Only $5,000,000 has been paid out, however, as some of the contracting companies have found uses for their earnings abroad to cover foreign expenses.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-5-2, Hearts A-K-9-4-2, Diamonds A-Q-8, Club 4. What do you do?

A rancher retired and moved to the city. An enterprising theater manager announced he was going to advertise a motion picture called "Lady Godiva" by having a beautiful woman, clad only in long, golden tresses and a smile, ride a white horse down the main street. The retired rancher said to a friend, "Bill, I think I'll be on hand; I ain't seen a horse for years."

staccato demand until Peter decided that in decency to the gesture of the tossed keys he was not gone.

"I have an emergency call for Dr. Pelletier," the hospital operator said.

"I'm sorry, he's not here. The office is closed. You better leave a message with Dr. Pelletier's exchange."

"Is this Dr. Dunning?"
"No, this is Surinow. Dr. Dunning's gone too, and I'm just about to lock up. What's the emergency?"

"A patient of his just committed suicide—or tried to. I can't get it straight—the nurse who called in is in a tizzy. Dr. Logan's wife."

"What?" And then before the operator could talk again, he shouted, "I'll get her—I'll bring her in right away. Get me an ambulance at the emergency entrance. Call emergency surgery and tell them to get set up. Call the Mountside Chapel at once. Dr. Pelletier's there. Tell him to get here at once—tell him it's Jennet Logan."

"Mountside Chapel," the operator repeated as Peter slammed the phone and began to run.

IN the hall, he ran full tilt into old Dick, the janitor, whom he caught and set aside like a bowling-pin, and ran on, not hearing the shouted curses of old Dick any more than he heard the unrelenting siren of the ambulance as it careened around the bends of Sunset.

"Somebody you know, Doc?" questioned the driver who was not used to seeing white-coated figures show this degree of alarm. "It's Jennet Logan, Dr. Logan's wife. She's dying, you chump. Step on the gas!" "Sax, you want me to wear this...

City Gets Machine For Turning Out Blueprints, Plans

The City of Midland has started turning out its own copies of blue-prints, plans and specifications and other such forms.

The work is being done with a new $1,500 Bruning Copyflex, in-stalled in the drafting room at City Hall.

The work previously had been done by commercial reproduction firms.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said the machine would pay for itself, in reduced copying costs, within a year's time.

Name-Calling Poor Answers, Declares Senator McCarthy

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), called pathologi-cal and a character assassin by President Truman Thursday, says the President should answer a few questions about one of his aides in-stead of sidestepping the issue by "name-calling."

McCarthy recently said Phillo Nash, a White House special as-sistant on minority problems, had close associations with Communists in the 1940's. Nash denied McCarthy's charges.

Asked about this at his news con-ference Thursday, Truman referred to the Wisconsin senator as the pathological Mr. McCarthy, called him a character assassin, and said the attack on Nash was the type McCarthy makes on all government men he does not like.

"Instead of name - calling, the President should answer several questions," McCarthy said in re-ply. The questions:

"Did I properly quote from the loyalty board records (regarding Nash)? If not, where did I mis-quote? If he admits I properly quot-ed from the loyalty board hearings, why is he willing to keep Nash on as an adviser?"

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And A Chicken Feather

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was safe and warm in his monkey house, high in the top of the very tall tree, there in the middle of the Great Forest. Suddenly from down on the ground he heard the rooster crow once, twice — three-four-five-six times fast. This was the rooster's danger signal! Daddy Ringtail looked out the window and down on the ground just in time to see the chickens run inside the chicken house. Snick-snick-snick! The rooster had locked the chicken house door inside.

Listen! Daddy Ringtail heard a something else. He heard Featherman-music soft and dangerous in the air. Yes! The Featherman now was coming to try to grab away a feather from one of the chickens. Daddy Ringtail looked away down the Elephant Path and saw him coming.

Long tall hat with a feather in it. Long white whiskers. Long green coat. Oh, it was the Featherman, right, all right. He lives in a nest instead of a house, and all he thinks about is feathers, feathers, and more feathers. He takes them home to feather his nest. He makes them into feather soap, and some into feather sandwiches. He sleeps on a bed of feathers, with feathers here and there and everywhere in his nest. Oh, feathers! That's the Featherman.

Daddy Ringtail slid on down to the ground to meet the Featherman. "Featherman," said Daddy Ringtail,

"Shame, shame on you, Featherman. You shouldn't be trying to grab away a feather that one of the chickens is using."

"Yes, Daddy Ringtail," the Featherman said in his feathery voice. He sat down on a log and held his hands between his knees to show how sorry he was. He said he was sorry, but all he could think about was feathers, feathers, and more feathers.

All the while, Daddy Ringtail was thinking: "I need to make him think of happy things other than feathers. Then he will forget about feathers maybe a little."

"Featherman," said Daddy Ringtail. "Don't you know that a chicken feather isn't everything? Think!"

The Featherman thought a minute, and then he began to smile. He realized now that a chicken feather isn't everything. There are turkey feathers, and bird feathers, and duck feathers, and all kinds of happy feathers. Happy day!

YOUNG AMERICA

Integrity, confidence, and courage are reflected in the face of this lad. If all of America's youth were as assured of his heritage of happy, useful, unselfish, Christian citizenship, our nation need not fear the future. True, these are times of war and conflict and no one can foresee the outcome. It is therefore especially comforting to know that this Boy Scout and thousands like him are being trained to meet the challenge.

The Boy Scouts are taught and encouraged in every way to respect and to serve their fellow men and their country. Moral and spiritual training holds an important place in their program, and practical applications of all they learn are fostered.

And the Scout is taught to serve God too. He attends Church regularly and takes an active part in its work.

This then is at least a part of Young America that is receiving the blessings of Christian training. But there are millions more who are not. Won't you encourage the youngsters of your community to seek the Church? Take groups of them with you and make them feel that Sunday morning means Sunday School and Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

LAMESA—The Lamesa Golden Turbans continued to have things their own way in District 1-AAA Thursday night, clobbering Vernon High School, 61 to 34.

Don Stevens and Carlos Berry scored 27 each for the winners, with Ramon Towery and James Tull pacing Vernon with 11 each.

Lamesa led at halftime, 37 to 18. The B game was won by Lamesa, 49-42, after Vernon led by six points at halftime. Vernon plays in Midland Friday night.

Anderegg Named Crane's Head Coach

CRANE — Dan Anderegg, assistant football coach here last season, has been named head coach for the 1932 season.

Anderegg replaces Ted Kirby, who came to Crane from Eldorado last year. Kirby's resignation was accepted by the school board at his own request.

Spring grid training will start for Crane February 18 under Anderegg's direction. The Crane schedule for 1932 has been completed with the addition of a game against Ozona on September 26.

Anderegg was graduated from Fredericksburg High School, then played football at Texas A&I and Oklahoma U. After graduating from Oklahoma U. he went to Sherman for three years and then came here.

12 Midland Boys To Enter Angelo Golden Glove Meet

At least one dozen Midland mittmen are tuning up for the San Angelo regional Golden Glove boxing bouts to be held in the Concho Basin city next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Midland is rated as one of the stronger teams in the open division. That was true when it knocked a gaping hole in the Midland squad with the result the local team failed to tally heavily in the Odessa regional matches.

But the squad is back at full strength now, and Coach Nolan McKean Friday was optimistic about his Optimist team's chances in the coming San Angelo title-cliff tournament.

"The boys are in great shape now, and we expect to knock 'em for a loop next time out," he said.

Luther Mooney, hard-hitting bantamweight; Charles Crites, fine middleweight; Newcomer Don Stringer, featherweight; Light Heavyweight Bill Leonard and LeRoy Reeves, 84-pound junior scrapper, are counted as the team's best boys at present although any of the others are capable of going all the way, according to McKean.

All boys will enter the novice division with the possible exception of Lightweight Russell Cox, who may go into the open class.

The complete list of Midland boys who will see action at San Angelo: Flyweight: E. P. Birkhead; Bantamweight: Luther Mooney; Featherweight: Donald Evans and Don (Warhoss) Stringer; Lightweight: Russell Cox; Welterweight: Robert Whitaker and Don Wallace; Middleweight: Charles Crites, Fred Bilbo and Jay Schlichting; Light Heavyweight: Bill Leonard; Junior Division: LeRoy Reeves.

Exhibition Bout
Charles (Chill) Reeves, Midland's open class flyweight champion who will compete in the state GG tournament, may fight an exhibition bout at San Angelo, according to McKean.

The Midland fighters are the proud owners of a new ring recently completed. Workouts are being held at the Optimist Club's Boys Factory, located at the intersection of New York Street and Lamesa Road.

Fighters from San Angelo, Brownwood, Hamlin, Winters and Ballinger are expected to oppose Midland in the coming tournament. Odessa and others may enter also.

Warren Woodson To Arizona U As New Football Mentor

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(P)—Warren B. Woodson, head football coach at Hardin-Simmons University, will take over as head football coach at the University of Arizona.

The change was announced Thursday by Dr. Richard A. Harvill, university president.

Woodson is expected to arrive here within a week, in time to direct Spring football practice.

Woodson, a T-formation exponent, has seen his teams win one Border Conference championship and tie for the honor twice.

As athletic director at H-SU he has won 58 games, lost 23 and tied six. He has an overall coaching record of 151 wins, 11 losses, and 15 ties.

A native of Fort Worth, Texas, he played football and basketball there. He was graduated from Baylor University. From 1927 to 1934 he coached at Texarkana Junior College, Texarkana, Texas. From there he went to Arkansas State Teacher's college, Conway, Ark., from 1935 to 1940.

His new salary was not announced.

Two K-State Players Ineligible After Recruiting Charges

MANHATTAN, KAN.—(P)—Kansas State, which has been booming in basketball on a combination of excellent coaching and good recruiting, may lose a couple of its latest finds.

The Kansas State Athletic Council Thursday declared ineligible two former Omaha High School players following a protest by the University of Nebraska. Nebraska said the boys had been recruited illegally.

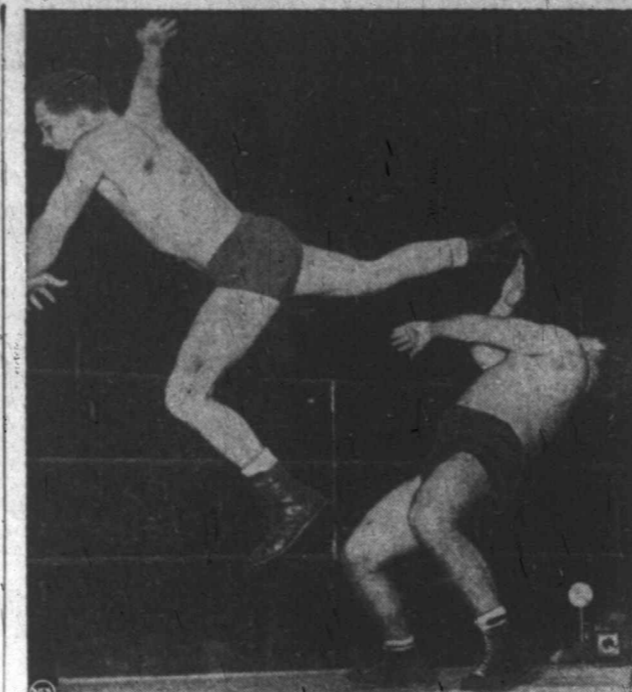

The players were identified as Stanley Schaezle and David Bell. Kansas State is rated No. 2 nationally in the Associated Press poll and leads the Big Seven conference with four victories and no losses.

Coach Jack Gardner has repeatedly come up with outstanding teams after having graduated as many as three or four starters from quintets of the previous season. His squad depth has been consistently best in the conference.

Dr. H. H. Haymaker, a member of the Kansas State Athletic Council and the school's representative on the Big Seven Conference's rules-making faculty committee, said the two boys were ruled ineligible last Monday and would remain that way until the faculty group meets in Kansas City February 29-March 1.

Gardner, who has turned out winning teams at Kansas State since 1948, said in his opinion the college was not in violation of the recruiting rule, "but an investigation is being made and it is up to the conference to decide."

The specific charge was that Kansas State violated a new Big Seven rule which prohibits "personal solicitation of athletes off the campus by members of the athletic staff or representatives of the athletic staff."

HIGH-JINKS—Dick Steinborn appears airborne as he takes a lofty leap over burly Mike Clancy during an Italian flood relief wrestling exhibition at Madison Square Garden. Steinborn's aerial tactics brought him victory after 12 minutes and 58 seconds. (NEA)

When the Phillips Petroleum Company sends its famed 66'ers from Bartlesville, Okla., here February 14 to play the Artesia (NM) Travelers in an AAU cage contest, the Midland High School Gym will be crowded with a lot of basketball talent.

Those boys can make the ole roundball do tricks, both plain and simple.

Here are thumb-nail sketches of the players who will be with the Phillips team.

JIM LINE—A former three-year letterman at Kentucky where he played on two national championship teams. Member of the Olympic team in 1948. Was All-State selection in Ohio during 1944. Line is no stranger to Midlanders. He was in Midland last winter and played with Rotary Engineering Company for awhile.

D. L. MILLER—U of Arkansas grad, All-Southwest Conference guard last season. All-State cager in 1946. Played on Van Buren, Ark. team which was unbeaten for three seasons.

BOB KURLAND—"Mr. Foothills," they call him. Seven-foot center, has been an AAU All-American the last five years. Was All-American three years at Oklahoma A&M. Once scored 58 points against St. Louis University. Hails from Jennings, Mo.

LOY DOTY—All-Skyline Six Conference choice for two years at Wyoming. From Greeley, Colo. Last year he scored 20 points as Phillips took Hardin-Simmons, 81-57, here.

PAUL COURTNEY—Third year with 66'ers. All-Big Seven for three years while at Oklahoma U. Graduated in 1948. Member of 1947 team which lost to Holy Cross in NCAA finals. Gerald Tucker, star of the local Phillips five, was on the same collegiate team with Courtney.

WAYNE GLASGOW—All Big Seven at Oklahoma for two years. Led Sooners scoring for 1949-50 season and has been with Phillips two seasons. All-State at Dacula, Okla. High School in 1943-44.

CLAUDE HOUGHIN—In second season with 66'ers. Captain of 1949-50 Kansas U team. Considered one of top rebound and defensive men ever turned out in Big Seven. Lettered four years at Kansas. Is from Turrier, Kan.

BOB LIKENS—Freshman year with 66'ers. Was on All-Oklahoma collegiate conference team three years while at Oklahoma Baptist University. Has scored 43 points in one game. Comes from Dale, Okla.

BILL KLEINE—Second tallest player on the squad at six feet, 10 inches. In third season with team. Lettered four years in basketball, three in football at Missouri Valley College. Was All-Conference center for two years. Hails from Slater, Mo.

BUS WHITEHEAD—U of Nebraska ex. Twice chosen on All-Big Seven team. Second high scorer in conference in 1949-50. Holds five individual records at Nebraska. Last season he was star here in win over H-SU. Hometown: Scottsbluff, Neb.

KEN PRYOR—Playing third season with Phillips. 1951 AAU All-American. All-Big Seven Conference choice in 1944, 1948 and 1949 at U of Oklahoma. Very fine set shot. All-state high school cager at Friendship, Okla., and Capitol Hill, Oklahoma City.

BOB PIERCE—First season with 66'ers. U of Nebraska graduate. Last year scored 30 points against South Dakota. Lettered three years at Nebraska. Was on state championship team at Lincoln, Neb.

LOYD HENDRIX—First season with Phillips. Led Missouri Valley scoring at U of Houston last season. Three-year letterman there. Only Texan on Phillips squad. Hometown: Honey Island, Texas.

And, did you notice, all the boys come from Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas and Nebraska schools? That should answer those who say good basketball is played only in the East.

In a few days, we'll give you a run-down on the New Mexico team which will oppose the 66'ers here.

Hall Of Fame Gets Two New Members

NEW YORK —(P)—For the second straight year power has overshadowed pitching prowess in selections for baseball's Hall of Fame.

The nation's baseball writers reached into each of the major leagues Thursday for the latest additions to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y. They honored the late Harry Heilmann, a great right-handed hitter for Detroit in the '20's, and Paul (Big Poison) Waner, who came along a decade later to belt out base-hits for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Two sluggers—Mel Ott of the New York Giants and Jimmy Fox of the Philadelphia Athletics—were last year's nominees and no one was picked in 1950.

The last pitcher to reach the Hall of Fame was Mordecai (Three-Finger) Brown, picked in 1949.

However, if this year's voting is a barometer of things to come, one of the pitching stars of the modern era probably will be honored in the near future.

That is Dizzy Dean, iron-winged right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals in the pre-World War II days, who was one of the four highest men in the balloting.

A total of 234 votes were cast with 75 per cent—176—needed for election. Heilmann with 203 and Waner with 195 got in easily.

Next in line were Bill Terry, former first baseman and manager of the New York Giants, and the fabulous Dean. Terry received 155 votes, Dean 152.

Then sentiment turned back to the hitters with Al Simmons, the oldtime Athletics' star, and Bill Dickey, the New York Yankees' brilliant catcher, following in that order.

Heilmann died of lung cancer last July 9 at the age of 56.

A native of San Francisco, Heilmann was a powerful six-footer who starred for the Tigers between 1914 and 1929. He won the American League batting championship four times—hitting .394 in 1921, .403 in 1923, .393 in 1925 and .389 in 1927. He had a lifetime average of .342.

Waner, also an outfielder, who with brother Lloyd formed the famous "Big and Little Poison" team of the Pirates, played in the majors for two decades.

He joined the Pirates in 1926 after breaking in with San Francisco in 1923. He played with the Pirates through 1940 and then did service with the Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Braves and New York Yankees before hanging up his glove in 1945.

The elder Waner now 50, and a resident of Sarasota, Fla., led National League hitters three times, hitting .380 in 1927, .362 in 1934 and .373 in 1936. He was the National League's most valuable player in 1927.

Cleburne Grabs Two Temple Grid Mentors

CLEBURNE —(P)—Cleburne High School almost has wiped out Temple High School's football coaching staff.

Brooks Conover and Bentley Jones, assistant coaches at Temple, are coming here this year as head coach and line coach respectively. Cleburne hasn't gone after Head Coach Ted Dawson of Temple as yet.

Conover, former football star at North Dallas High School and Texas A&M, has been head coach at Ennis, Berger, Brownsville and Orange. He also was an assistant coach at Odessa.

He succeeds Jerry Sadler at Cleburne. Sadler has gone to Fort Worth as assistant coach at North Side High School.

Big Spring Relays Set For April 5

Don't Count Red Sox Out, Says Manager Lou Boudreau

BOSTON—(P)—Although he's not counting on slugger Ted Williams for the 1952 campaign, Manager Lou Boudreau still predicts a "one-two-three" finish for his Boston Red Sox.

The new Boston pilot left little doubt Thursday night that he has written off the Socker's $100,000-a-year star who faces recall to active duty with the Marine air arm. His physician examination is set for April 2.

"The loss of Williams is definitely a big one," Boudreau told the Boston Baseball Writers' annual dinner audience. "But I want to say we will definitely finish one-two or three—and we have our eyes on the No. 1 spot."

Just back from a good look at some of the youngsters attending the Sox' pre-training school in Sarasota, Fla., Boudreau was quite optimistic.

"We have some 35 boys down there," he said. "Some of them have had only one year of baseball experience. But I feel right now that I will keep at least six and possibly as many as 10 when the season starts."

Despite his acknowledged problems, including retirement of veteran Second Baseman Bobby Doerr, loss of promising Southpaw Pitcher Leo Kiely to the army, and what he feels is certain departure of Williams, Boudreau set a fighting keynote for next season.

"We are not going to give up until we are mathematically eliminated. We're not out of the crying towels. Don't count the Red Sox out."

Ted Williams' future in baseball still is as hazy to him as it is to everyone else.

The Red Sox slugger said Friday nothing definite has been decided as to whether he will take part in Spring practice or appear in early-season games prior to taking his physical examination for return to service as a Captain in the Marines.

"I have discussed my status with Red Sox officials and any announcement concerning my connection with the team must come from them," he said.

"I will return to Florida after appearing in the Boston sportsman's show and plan to talk to Joe Cronin there. Cronin is general manager of the Boston club.

"Any speculation as to my future in baseball after my service is pure speculation and not worth the breath."

Pal Garner Wins, Loses in Tourney

HOLLYWOOD —(P)—A major upset marked the opening round of the Hollywood four-ball golf tournament Thursday when the favored team—Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, Md., and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.—was sidelined.

Miss Downey and Miss Faulk, finalists in last week's Helen Lee Doherty Tournament at Miami, were ousted, 1-up, by Kathy McKinnon of Lake Worth, Fla., and Mrs. H. V. Stone of Ware Shoals, S. C.

Other first round results included: Marjorie Lindsay, Decatur, Ill., and Pat Garner, Midland, Texas, defeated Evelyn Odum, Miami, and Mrs. George Wilcox, 6 and 5.

In second round play, Edean Anderson and Grace DeMoss defeated Miss Garner and Miss Grey, 1-up.

Wyoming, St. Louis Win Cage Contests

DENVER —(P)—Wyoming's Cowboys tightened their larriat around second place in the Skyline Basketball Conference by romping, 58-45, over Colorado A&M Thursday night for their sixth win against one loss.

Montana moved up the ladder to fourth place, ahead of Denver and Utah State, by snatching a 74-64 triumph from New Mexico. It was the Grizzlies' third victory against four defeats.

St. Louis, the nation's 6th ranked team in this week's Associated Press poll, rolled over Ohio State of the Big Ten, 62-58. The Buckeyes staged a futile last quarter rally after trailing by 56-43.

Once beaten Penn State won its 10th straight, a 77 to 52 breeze over American University.

FORT WORTH—(P)—The Star-Telegram sports department called its Birdville correspondent to find out how many points Eugene Garland, the Buffs' high-scoring basketball star, had made this season.
"Gee, I don't know," replied a small voice after a long silence, "I'll have to go look it up and call you back."
The correspondent? Eugene Garland!
And he's scored 349 points in 26 games.

St. Louis Cardinals To Lose 'Vinegar Bend' To Army
LEAKESVILLE, MISS.—(P)—Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, Texas League strikeout artist, will report for military induction February 14; under orders announced Thursday.
The armed forces' gain will be the St. Louis Cardinals' loss. He had been tapped as a Card prospect after pacing the Texas League with 27 strikeouts last year.
He won 16 and lost 14 games, but hold opposing teams to a 1.96 earned run average.
The Green County Draft Board reported his Selective Service call. Mizell was classified 1-A after a physical examination last month. He said that he hoped he could play baseball in the Army to keep his pitching arm in shape, and have enough "stuff" left after two years of military service to play major league ball.
The lanky 21-year-old lefthander had been driving a dump truck at Mobile, Ala., until his troublesome tonsils were removed recently. He commuted daily from his home just across the Mississippi line from Vinegar Bend, Ala., 60 miles from Mobile.
The University of Arizona basketball team played before an estimated 47,500 spectators during its recent five-game eastern midwestern tour.

Testimony Continues In Welch Murder Case

RECORDS—State testimony continued Friday morning in the murder trial of John E. Welch, charged in the January, 1951, slaying of Cpl. Dennis E. Miller of Fort Bliss. Lt. Col. Robert L. Cavanaugh, Fort Bliss medical doctor, who examined Corporal Miller's body-decomposed body after it was discovered Feb.

15, 1951, testified Thursday that Miller had two "depressed fractures" of the skull. He said some blunt instrument caused the two injuries, either of which would have resulted in immediate unconsciousness. District Attorney John Dempson questioned the colonel: "What in your opinion caused Miller's death?"

"Multiple fractures of the skull with injuries to the brain," the Army doctor replied. Dempson introduced a blood-stained rock into the state exhibits. Cavanaugh said the two-pound rock could cause injuries similar to those suffered by Miller. Deputy Sheriff Heard was the first state witness. He told of photographing the soldier's body. Chemist C. H. Beardsley of the State Department of Public Safety testified that Miller's clothing held human blood (untyped) and the rock was stained with Miller's blood type, Type O.

Light Registration May Cancel Adult Education Courses

Unless more persons register for the adult education courses in typing and shorthand which are being offered for the Spring semester here the courses will not be held, Charles F. Mathews, director of the Curricular Services division said Friday. Mathews' statement followed an organizational meeting Thursday in the high school library among adults who are interested in taking the courses. "However, an insufficient number of people have expressed interest in the classes so far," Mathews said. He said only 21 persons have registered for classes in beginning and advanced shorthand and only 14 have registered for the typing courses.

Price Daniel Says He'll Beat Connally

AUSTIN—(AP)—Price Daniel re-emphasized his six-point program as a candidate for the U. S. Senate Thursday night and said 25,788 Texans had written endorsements of his stand the last 10 days. "Daniel's 15-minute statewide broadcast called for support from Texans who want a federal house-cleaning, lower taxes, an even-keel preparedness program, a positive and understandable foreign policy, freedom from socialist government interference, and clear Texas title to Tierras." Daniel predicted a victory which "will give our state a new senator who will speak the language of Texas while in Washington the same as while in Texas—a senator who will fight for Texas every year the same as during election years."

Churchill's Tories Win Confidence Vote

LONDON—(AP)—The Socialists Friday put pressure on their party leaders for another early attempt to defeat Winston Churchill's Conservative government in the House of Commons. Some Labor members of Parliament demanded that their party, chief Clement Attlee, try to unseat the government with a motion of no confidence during next week's debate on foreign policy. The bones of contention are Prime Minister Churchill's Far Eastern policy and commitments the Laborites fear he made on his recent visit to Washington. The conservatives Thursday night defeated a Socialist vote of censure on financial cuts designed to make Britain solvent within a year and which, among other things, imposed charges for use of Britain's socialized health services. Churchill's party won by a vote of 308-278. The House then adopted his fiscal program, 306-275. The Laborites voted with the Conservative Party, swelling its nominal majority of 14 votes.

Robeson, Bridges Aide Denied Right To Enter Canada

SEATTLE—(AP)—Singer Paul Robeson and one of his labor leader Harry Bridges' lawyers were unable to keep a speaking engagement in Vancouver, B. C., Friday—they couldn't get across the border. Robeson and Vincent William Hallinan, traveling separately, were told Thursday by U. S. immigration officials they could not cross the border into Canada. Both were en route to a meeting of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, and were scheduled to address that group Friday. District Immigration Director John P. Boyd said legal authority for turning the pair back is found in a 1918 wartime act and a 1941 presidential proclamation prohibiting either citizens or aliens from leaving the country when such a ban is in the government's interest. Robeson has been aligned with many left wing causes. Hallinan represented Bridges when Bridges was tried for perjury after denying under oath he ever had been a communist.

Attorney Addresses Midland JayCees

Clifford Jones, Big Spring attorney, spoke to members of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday at the regular JayCee luncheon meeting. Jones' subject was: "Reforms in the Texas Penal Program."
"Texas has one of the best criminal court systems in the world," he said, "and we as citizens may be proud of that. But I believe other reforms could be made, which will improve our system even more."
Jones said he thought the ball-bond law should be changed as it "allows the man with a fat pocket-book to go scot free, guilty or innocent."
He said the "life" sentences in Texas is a "hoax." "You put a dangerous criminal away for life, you think, and then he is out after serving only a few years."
The speaker also said it is difficult to get a correct decision on sanity hearings because the jurors "just aren't capable of deciding whether or not a man is sane of insane. They aren't qualified, most of the time, to make such a decision."
Ed Dillon was awarded the membership drive prize at the meeting, with Hulon Brown getting the booby prize.
President Frank Hawk announced the annual JayCee election will be held the last Friday in this month.

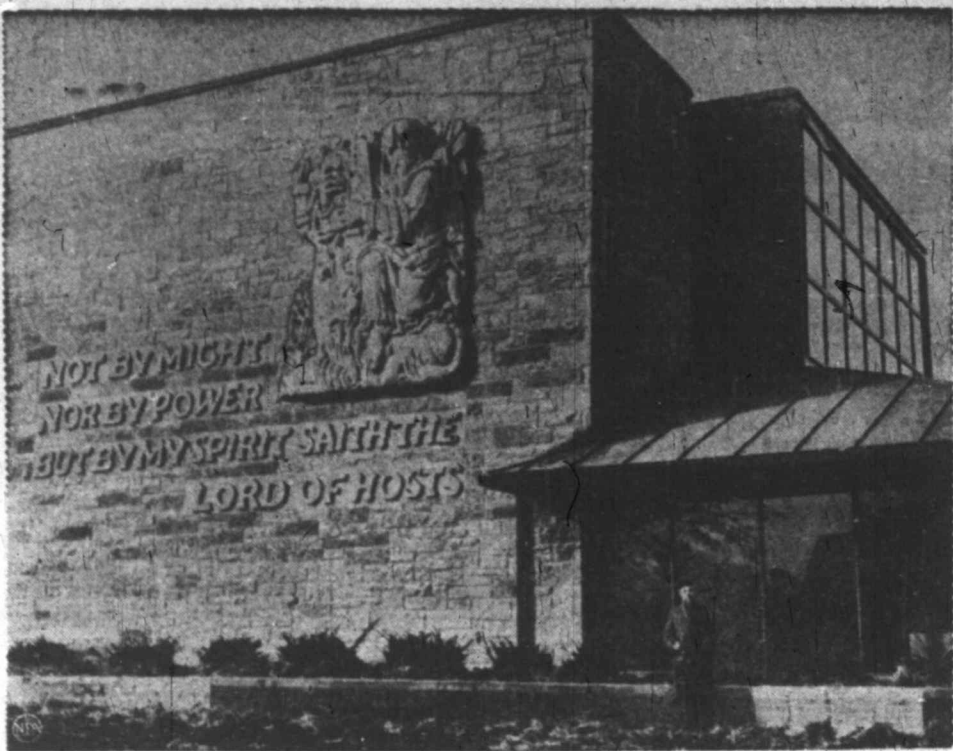

Legation Staff Puts Out Paper

SAIGON, INDOCHINA. — VP — Enterprising young men and women of the American legation in Indochina are publishing their own "newspaper."
They call it the "Sounding Board." It appears about every two weeks and contains all the latest news on the comings, goings and doings of U. S. government personnel in Saigon and elsewhere in Indochina. Its chief editor is Mrs. Libby Getz, of Moline, Ill., wife of the third secretary of the U. S. legation here.

SYNAGOGUE GETS A "GRAVEN IMAGE"—A Jewish congregation in Chicago has defied a centuries-old tradition by erecting a figurative sculpture of an outer wall of its modern synagogue in suburban River Forest, Ill. Some Jewish ecclesiastics believe such figures defy the commandment against worship of graven images. However, sculptor Milton Horn defends his work as being in the true tradition of the Hebrew religion. The work shows a winged figure with "flame-like head and four all-seeing eyes" holding aloft the tables of commandments and trampling the earth-bound behemoth.

Electric Marriage Machine Spurned By Girls, Who Prefer Old-Fashioned Plan

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Hugo Gernsback, go to the rear of the class, and take your electronic mating machine with you. An exhaustive survey of American womanhood (well, we talk to four girls, and that can be exhausting) proves unquestionably that they want no truck with machine-made marriage.
Gernsback is editor and publisher of Radio-Electronics magazine. In his annual forecast of things to come, he predicts the world of the future will see a contraption which will "tell prospective couples if it is safe for them to mate, or not."

Four of a kind are these "Guys and Dolls" chorus girls, who are all opposed to the idea of an electronic mating machine. In front are Barbara Ferguson, left, and Onna White; in rear are Marcia Maier, left, and Alicia Krug.

Clifford Jones, two married and two single—from "Guys and Dolls" didn't think much of the idea. In fact, cute and single Barbara Ferguson wrinkled up her cute and single nose and said, "Humph, I never did believe in electricity."
Onna White, tall, striking and married, was even briefer in her comments. She didn't even bother wrinkling her nose as she remarked, "It stinks."
On Two Tests
Gernsback's electronic marriage counselor would be based on two tests—first, an elaborate questionnaire to see if the couple meet proper standards for successful marriage, and, second, a "linked" test (taken while kissing, holding hands or otherwise in close contact) to see if they have what Gernsback call the proper "electric relationship."

Tom Sealy Elected Petroleum Club Head

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney, was named Friday as the new president of the Petroleum Club.
Sealy was elected at the first meeting of the new board of directors and succeeds Ray R. Rhodes as president of the organization.
Allen J. Watts was named vice president and Roy Minear was re-appointed secretary.
The election of the officers came following the annual meeting Thursday of the club's stockholders.
At that meeting the stockholders named R. S. Brennan, Jr., J. W. House and W. A. Yeager as new directors. Olen R. Prather was selected Friday to fill a vacancy on the board created by the resignation of J. Ed Warren, who will leave shortly for Washington to take over duties as deputy administrator of PAD.
Holdover directors include Watts, Sealy, W. D. Anderson, Paul L. Davis and W. W. LaForce.

Residents Of Two Texas Cities See 'Fireball' In Sky

By The Associated Press
Residents of two Texas cities told of brilliant lights which streaked overhead Thursday night.
F. E. Pierce, engineer and amateur astronomer, saw what he called a fireball just west of Dallas. He said the light could be seen about 12 seconds before it burst like a giant skyrocket.
Dozens of Dallas residents called police to ask about the object. They said it was bluish-green, traveling from southeast to southwest, with a trail behind it.
An unidentified pilot told the Civil Aeronautics Weather Bureau in Tyler of a brilliant "meteor" which flashed across the area southwest between Waco and Mexia. He said he saw the meteor around Shreveport and followed it 53 seconds before losing it.

Triple Shooting Puzzles Officers

STEPHENVILLE —(P)—Officers have been unable to reconstruct a shooting Thursday night in which Mrs. Duke C. Cogdell was shot to death and her husband and daughter wounded.
Mrs. Cogdell was slain in the bedroom of her home. The husband was in a critical condition with two bullets near his heart. Betty, 14, was shot in the hip.
District Attorney Sam Cleveland said Mrs. Cogdell was found on the bedroom floor, Cogdell on the bed, and a .22 caliber pistol on another bed. The daughter was in another bedroom.
