PAST AND PRESENT—
The new, attractive and elaborate Humble Oil & Refining Company Building in Midland, top photo, is a far cry from the adobe brick office building, bottom picture, one of two built by Humble in McCamey in 1927 as its first West Texas Division headquarters. Humble will open its new $1,000,000 building here Friday.

Humble Will Open New Building Here Friday

When Humble Oil & Refining Company's West Texas Division offices are opened officially in the new Humble Building in Midland Friday, 25 important years will have passed for the company and for West Texas.

In 1927 two modest adobe brick buildings, made of West Texas soil, went up in McCamey. They were the first division offices Humble built in the area. The discovery of oil fields in the Permian Basin had brought about great interest in West Texas by oil companies, and Humble was busy with exploration, production, refining, and sales operations there.

Humble Pipe Line Company already had constructed one major line in West Texas and was laying another.

By the late twenties and early thirties, drilling and producing had spread into many new counties in West Texas and eastern New Mexico. Humble's division headquarters were moved in 1935 to Midland, more centrally located for the region. Offices first were in the Petroleum Building and later in the Midland Tower Building.

In the 17 years since then, drilling has increased so that Humble's West Texas Division there now are eight districts—Stanton, McCamey, Means, Odessa, Snyder, Wasson, Wink and Hobbs, N. M.—and many sub-district field centers.

At the first of this year, the Production Department had almost 1,300 producing wells in the division. Daily production was about 45,000 barrels. Between 1925 and January 1, 1952, Humble Pipe Line Company transported more than one billion barrels of crude oil out of West Texas and New Mexico, approximately 25 per cent of the area's total production since oil first was discovered at Big Lake in 1923.

Humble's exploration, production, and pipe line employes in West Texas now total 1,100, of whom 191 work in the new building in Midland.

Negative Results
The test, seven miles east of Fort Stockton, flowed oil at a rate estimated at 100 barrels per hour on a drillstem test from 7,718 to 7,746 feet in lime, believed by some to be Wolfcamp.

When drilling had progressed to around 9,000 feet, casing was run and the section from which the oil had flowed was acidized through perforations with negative results, according to unofficial reports.

Location of No. 1 Stroman was 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 536, Comanche Creek Irrigation Company survey and seven and one-half miles east of Fort Stockton.

Production Started At Phillips Sulphur Plant At Goldsmith

Operation has been started at Phillips Chemical Company's sulphur extraction plant at Goldsmith in Ector County.

Phillips Chemical Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Phillips Petroleum Company.

The new plant is located in the Goldsmith oil field. It is designed to extract almost a quarter of a million pounds of elemental sulphur per day from natural gas.

Will Be Trucked Out
The sulphur from that plant will not be solidified but will be trucked in a molten state to Fort Worth where it will be converted into sulphuric acid for subsequent manufacture into ammonium sulfate at the company's plant near Houston.

In this way, greatly increased quantities of critically short fertilizer will be made available.

Phillips Chemical Company has under construction in Crane County a second sulphur extraction plant designed to produce more than 100,000 pounds of elemental sulphur per day, and is formulating plans for the erection of additional sulphur extraction plants in the near future.

THE HOWARD COMPANY IS PROUD TO HAVE BEEN CHOSEN A FINALIST IN COMPETITION FOR

THE AWARD OF 'BRAND NAME RETAILER OF THE YEAR'

IN THE OFFICE EQUIPMENT AND STATIONERY FIELD FROM AMONG OVER 6000 ENTRIES FROM OVER THE NATION

BY
Brand Names Foundation, Inc.
37 WEST 57th STREET
NEW YORK 19, NEW YORK

THE BRAND NAMES FOUNDATION is supported by over 750 progressive firms throughout the nation. Among its members are many manufacturers of leading brands you call for by name every day. You have seen their advertisements in all leading magazines. They have banded together under this foundation to help the buying public by stressing the importance of calling for the things you like and use by their brand names.

WHAT OUR NOMINATION MEANS TO YOU

At The Howard Company you will find leading brands of office furniture, office equipment and office supplies. When we recommend a "Brand Name" to you, you are assured the product is accepted by judicious buyers everywhere. Just to be nominated for this coveted award means that our integrity as representatives of national concerns has been recognized and that we are considered among the nation's leading retailers.

A STATEMENT OF POLICY OF THE HOWARD CO.

We try to sell only the best lines and do not care for business which is based on price alone. We try to maintain fair prices, but we believe you should be guided in your buying just as we are: we have found it unwise to pay too much, but it is worse to pay too little. When you pay too much you lose a little money ... that is all. But when you pay too little you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business prohibits paying a little and getting a lot ... it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better.

Intent Disqualified In Santa Anita; Miche Winner

ARCADIA, CALIF.—(AP)— A little grey horse from South America, Miche, scored the second and most memorable upset in his seven-year career Saturday when he captured a disputed decision in the fifteenth running of the famed Santa Anita Handicap.

With the heavy favorite of the race, Hill Prince, a badly beaten horse and listed fifth at the finish, Miche, who had the front place over a Maryland colt, Intent, in a ruling by the stewards that held up the official outcome for long, anxious minutes after the race had been run.

Intent, with Jack Westrope in the saddle, was disqualified from first and placed second by the stewards because of interference in the stretch—blocking the road as Jockey John Covall and the Argentine horse came up through the mud and stop on the rail.

Decision Reserved Intent's number had gone up on the board as the winner by a length over Miche, but the decision reversed the places and the Argentine captured the top money of $104,300.

The decision marked the first time a horse had been disqualified in the history of the Santa Anita Handicap.

Miche is owned by Mrs. John Payson Adams of San Francisco.

Be Fleet, racing for Andrew Crevelin of Los Angeles, rounded out the surprises by taking third.

The payoff found Miche rewarding his few backers to the tune of $55.40, $22.80 and $13.30. Intent paid $7.50 and $5.00, and Be Fleet $13.40.

The mare, Bed O'S, comes fourth. Hill Prince was fifth.

The order of finish behind the first five was: Phil D. Bryan G., Stormy Cloud, Simonset, Moonrush, Next Move, Lights Up, Interpretation, Pur Sang and Count Lahey.

Down in Victoria, where the San Angelo Colts are holding a school for prospective diamond performers, an old Longhorn Leaguer is making loud noises.

Jake McClain, who performed for San Angelo and Big Spring in the league before, dropped in at the school and promptly blasted six of 12 balls pitched to him out of the park.

Whether a hurler bearing down or a batting practice lopper was on the throwing end wasn't stated, but 'is said SA Manager Mark Christman was impressed by McClain.

According to eyewitnesses, McClain may end up at San Angelo or with some other Longhorn League club by the time men in blue give their familiar-cry April 21.

This school the Colts are sponsoring, by the way, drew 26 players its first day. Christman said "at least 25" of them look like they will eventually make professional players. That sounds good, but it would be amazing if it were so. The usual quota is about one in 20 at such try-out shindigs.

Mrs. Fay Davis of Monahans drops a letter telling us we were all wet in saying her son, Bennie, would enter the amateur boxing tournament here. She says Davis never intended to enter and was matched without being consulted.

His name was turned in to us by Bobby Powell, Odessa fight manager. Davis had fought on the Odessa team since the regional matches in Odessa, and as a member of same we didn't question Powell's authority in submitting him with the Odessa fight squad.

Anyway, he didn't intend to enter, didn't, and that takes care of that. Sorry the confusion came about.

Midland Earns Novice Biff Crown Open Division To Odessa Fight Squad

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegrams Sports Editor

Fighters from Midland and Odessa paced the card Friday night as the Optimist Club's amateur boxing show came to an end, the Midland team copping the Novice crown and Odessa winning the Open bracket.

The host Midland team furnished five Novice champions and one Open winner while Odessa had five Open champs but failed to scratch in the Novice bracket.

Junior division scraps were about even for the two-night stand, but did not count toward team titles.

San Angelo got two winners in the Novice and one in the Open class.

Larry Sapp, 113, Midland, took a unanimous decision from Demoy Daniels, 116, Odessa, for the flyweight championship in the Novice division. Daniels moved away throughout the bout, but Sapp managed to catch him twice to work him over nicely.

Bantamweight Luther Mooney pulled an iron-man stunt. After taking Bobby Armstrong of Odessa in a tough three-rounder for the Novice title, the tough little Midlander came back to lick Sah Angelo's Open bantamweight champ—Dargel Robles—in another three-round affair.

Mooney got in close to Armstrong—who had the longer reach—with a nice body attack in the third round to swing the decision his way. Against Robles, the aggressive little puncher ran up a nice margin the first two rounds and coasted in. The Novice lightweight crown went to Jesse Hatfield, 136, Midland, who kept Don Hudson, 134, Midland, from repeating Mooney's iron-man trick.

Hudson, very well-conditioned, came from behind in the semi-final fight to trounce tough Boyce McKnight, 132, Midland. The game youngster gave Hatfield a blow-for-blow return the first two rounds but Hatfield carried in a brutal body attack in the last round to win. Charles Crites, Midland, earned the welterweight Novice honors by waiting past Robert Whitaker, also of Midland. The winner cuffed Whitaker around at will, was never in danger and easily took all three rounds.

Abel Cardenas, San Angelo, got the Novice middleweight crown with no opposition Friday night.

In taking the light heavyweight title, Bobby (Red) Cast, 174, Midland, exhibited a punch with the kick of a mule in getting a TKO over C. W. McCurry, 177, Midland. Cast landed heavily in the first round and McCurry failed to come out for the second.

Duano Guerrero, San Angelo, 184, was awarded the Novice light heavyweight title when no opponent showed Friday night.

The Open Division saw Charles (Chill) Reeves, Midland, gain revenge for a previous loss to Connis Fisher, San Angelo, for the flyweight crown.

Reeves had a bit the better of the first round, then really turned it on in the second. He staggered Fisher, who repeated punching blows to the face and head until the San Angelo boy was helpless and Referee Red Worley stopped it at 2:08 of the second round.

Robert Rigby, Odessa' featherweight, won the Open title by taking two wins in the last night of action.

Tough Rigby found a rugged foe in Army Gutierrez, 125, San Angelo in the first round. Gutierrez got inside and took the round by a large margin.

But early in the second, Rigby found the range and popped Gutierrez' head around at will. He floored the Latin-American with a right cross to get a knockout at 1:32 of the second frame.

Rigby then valiantly by Henry Chavez, 127, San Angelo, in a later bout for the title, getting an unanimous decision.

Chavez had won an earlier bout over Ed Ritter, 127, Odessa, with a strong final-round attack.

Lightweight Gerald Reeves, Odessa won the Open crown by default. Welterweight Rex Maxwell, Odessa, did the same and light heavyweight Bruce Price, Odessa, copped his division with no opponent.

Bruce Smith, Odessa, had won the heavyweight title Thursday night by getting a first-round TKO over Marshall Patton, Midland.

Record Field Set To Enter Border Meet

LAREDO — (AP) — More than 60 universities, colleges, junior colleges and high schools have entered the twentieth annual Border Olympics to be held here next Friday and Saturday.

M. R. Davis, meet director, said there had been 920 individual entries and that he expected more than 1,000, which would be a new record. Never before has there been 1,000 entries.

There are nine universities, 14 colleges, nine junior colleges and some 31 high schools that have entered teams.

All sorts of records in the university division are forecast by Davis. Oklahoma A&M, an entry in the university division, has Frederick Eckhoff, who has done the mile in 4:21, Johnny Peery, who has vaulted 14 feet 2 inches, and Wayne Kroutill, who has pitched the javelin over 200 feet. All these marks either better or near records of the Border Olympic.

Other records in danger include the shot put mark of 51 feet 11-1/2 inches which Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M set last year; the high jump mark of 6 feet 11/4 inches, which Charles Holding of East Texas State and Walter Davis of Texas A&M exceeded last season with leaps of 6 feet 9 inches or better, and the 120-yard high hurdles record of 14.3 which Val Joe Walker of Southern Methodist beat last season. Walker has done 141.1. Hooper has thrown the shot better than 54 feet.

Teams entered in the university class are Oklahoma A&M, Texas and TCU.

Entered in the college class are Abilene Christian, East Texas State, Hardin-Simmons, Howard Payne, McMurry, North Texas State, Stephen F. Austin, Texas Tech, Texas Western, Trinity, Texas A&I, Southwestern and Sul Ross.

Junior colleges entered are Del Mar (Corpus Christi), Edinburg, Laredo, San Antonio, Schreiner Institute, Southwest Texas Junior, Victoria, Texas Southmost and Tarleton State.

Heading the high school entries is Odessa, the defending state schoolboy champion, with its great sprinter, Joe Childress.

A golf tournament has been added to the Border Olympics this year.

Five schools have entered teams, among them North Texas State, the NCAA champion for three seasons, National Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell is on the North Texas State team. Other teams will be from Baylor, Hardin-Simmons, Stephen F. Austin and Trinity University.

Chico Vejar Gets Win Over Fitzie Pruden In Garden

NEW YORK — (AP) — Chico Vejar, the fighting freshman from N.Y.U., defeated experienced Fitzie Pruden in a fast, action-packed ten rounder Friday night.

His Madison Square Garden victory over the Paterson, N. J., veteran was his fourth of the year, his eighth straight triumph and his fourth win in 41 bouts. He started boxing as a pro on March 25, 1950.

The swarthy, Stamford, Conn., youngster had to put on a strong finish to keep his latest winning streak intact. Pruden dropped him for six with a long left to the jaw in the first round and staggered the Connecticut kid several other times.

But Chico roared back with flying fists and made the transplanted Canadian break ground. In the final round, Chico, a 2 to 1 favorite, chased Pruden all over the ring, besting him with left jab and short rights to the head.

Midlanders Attend Dinner Honoring Lamesa CC Manager

A group of Midlanders Friday night attended an Appreciation Dinner honoring Mrs. Matt McCall, retiring manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, in the Lamesa High School Cafeteria. Included in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Erskine, Delbert Downing, Burvin Hines and Bill Collins.

Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker at the function, which attracted approximately 400 persons from the Lamesa and neighboring cities.

Mrs. McCall recently resigned the C. C. managership, which she had held for the last 10 years. She has been active in area and state chambers of commerce and highway affairs and is well known over the Southwest. She was presented a silver service and a life membership in the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce at the Appreciation Dinner.

DeWayne Davis, who has been named to succeed Mrs. McCall at Lamesa, was presented at the gathering. He is a former assistant manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and more recently has been associated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Midland Company Selected Finalist In National Event

NEW YORK—The Howard Co., Midland, Texas, has been named a finalist and will compete for the 4th annual "Brand Name Retailer of the Year" awards in the office equipment and stationery field. It was announced Saturday by Henry E. Abt, president of Brand Names Foundation, Inc. There are 12 finalists in this category.

The Foundation will present a "Brand Name Retailer of the Year" plaque to the outstanding merchant in each of 20 different retail categories for leadership in distributing famous product brands. Four other retailers in each of the twenty categories will receive "Certificates of Distinction." In all, 100 "Brand Name Retailer of the Year" awards will be presented at a dinner on Brand Names Day—April 16, 1952, in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City before an audience of more than 1,500 of the nation's leading business and retailing executives.

In announcing the names of the finalists, Abt said, "This year's more than 6,000 entries from stores in all categories of retailing tripled the number submitted for the highly successful 1950 awards. It is certain that the tremendous interest in the 'Brand Name Retailer of the Year' awards indicates ever-increasing emphasis on manufacturers' brands throughout every field of retailing."

Arts Association Slates Statewide Fair In April

The Texas Fine Arts Association of Austin has announced its second statewide arts and crafts fair to be held April 26 and 27 in the City Coliseum in Austin.

The primary purpose of the fair is to bridge the gap between the artist and his market.

Space in the Coliseum may be reserved for individuals or groups exhibiting or demonstrating their work. The entry fee is $2 and a 10 per cent commission will be charged on sales effected during the fair.

From the Membership Show running concurrently, a jury will choose 30 entries which will hang in the Coliseum adjacent to the 39 selected by the arts and crafts jury from the Coliseum exhibits. A third jury will make up a special exhibit of craft entries. From these three groups, prizes of $2,000 will be awarded. One person may enter both shows.

The annual members exhibit of the Texas Fine Arts Association will be held from April 28 until May 25 in the association's two museums, Elizabeth Ney Museum and Laguna Gloria. Final date for the receipt of entries is April 14.

For additional information and entry blanks, those interested may write or telephone Nell Shaw, 706 West Michigan Street, telephone No. 4-6968. Information also can be obtained by writing to the Texas Fine Arts Association, Box 5023, Austin 31, Texas.

The MATURE PARENT

Tell Your Youngster All About Your Work

By MUREL LAWRENCE

My friend writes fiction for a living. He has a six-year-old son named Matt.

Every day, since Matt can remember, he has seen his father disappear every morning after breakfast into what he calls "The Room." It is a sacred place, to be approached only by his mother with a lunch tray or with the news of cosmic upheavals like earthquakes.

Matt never makes a noise near "The Room." When he was three, his father told him why silence was important. In a drawer of his file cabinet, Matt's father said, there lived one Dennis, an Irish leprechaun of peevish temper who slept all day and had adventures all night.

Man-to-man, Matt's father put it to his son—this leprechaun operating on a night shift as he did would strongly resent any noise near "The Room" as an outrage upon his daytime slumbers.

Matt's reward for this consideration has been a pre-dinner report on Dennis' escapades the previous night. His unorthodox attention has encouraged his father until he has come to regard himself as a fancier of leprechauns and an expert on fairies in general.

So he was alarmed a week or so ago when Matt interrupted a specially juicy account of Dennis' goings-on the night before. "When Matt said, 'Stop talking about Dennis, daddy,' my friend was as astonished as Vishinsky might be were someone to get up in the United Nations and say, 'Look, no more Russian proverbs, Mr. Vishinsky.'"

"What magazine do you write for, daddy?"

"My friend is fast on a comeback. When he had answered this question, his child said, 'I want a copy of a magazine with a story you wrote in it. I want to show it to a boy at school. He said I was a liar and that you did not write stories for magazines because he never saw your name in one.'"

Matt got his magazine. When he came home from school the next day, jubilant at having floored his father's detractor, he was invited into "The Room" and introduced to its mysteries. Was he disappointed when he found stacks of old magazines, instead of a teaty Irish fairy in the file cabinet drawer? He didn't seem to be. His eyes shining with pride, he looked up at his father and said, "Oee, is your name in all those magazines, daddy?"

Children should be let in on our jobs, what they are and how we do them. If we want quiet when we come home, we should tell our little daughter what we mean when we say, "I have taken dictation all day."

We should tell a small son what a "commission" is, so that he will understand why we are sad when we failed to get one. We should tell them what we do when we think up angles, pull proofs, work new territories, prepare briefs, are late for consultations, sign on dotted lines and take inventory.

If we don't, they won't appreciate our courage when our cryptic activities go wrong or take pride in us when they go well. And this is a lesson to them. We are their examples of how to behave when things go wrong and well.

Time was when parents could say, "I shall churn butter this morning" or "I shall prune the west acre this afternoon"—and the young ones saw us pound the churn and sweat at our pruning. When the cow fell sick or when an early frost killed the fruit, they understood. They came near and close because they had witnessed the investment of hope and effort.

It's not like that now. Let's remember.

Have you heard the story of the little girl who burst into tears when she heard that her father was "sent up" at his office and begged her mother to rush into town with the scissors to cut him loose?

Petticoats For Quick Change Fashions

These are the versatile petticoats that are worn on the outside this year. Black velvet pants (left) are topped by a Chinese silk flower-printed gold cloth circle skirt. Matador pants in red wool jersey (above) come to the knees, are worn with plaid petticoat that opens down the front. Sweater slip in green wool jersey (right) is full length, is worn with striped petticoat.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Stretching wardrobe, with the aid of the new petticoats designed to be worn outside, is easy as pie. A single petticoat can be transferred from leotards to sheath dress or a single sheath dress can change its appearance with each new petticoat!

The advantages, then, are obvious. Several of these petticoats will work such magic that, not even other women will guess that you're employing just one or two basic costumes.

Black velvet, when it's teamed into leotards, takes readily to a petticoat. Designed for speed in donning, the leotards are sleeveless, have a zippered fastening that makes it possible to get into them and petticoats as well in just 60 seconds. Petticoat is a Chinese silk flower-printed gold cloth circle skirt.

Leotards in red wool jersey are cut like a sweater, zippered down the back, terminate just below the knee. Sleeves have a full and easy cut, are worn shoved up above the elbow. The petticoat is red, blue and white plaid. It opens down the front and is lined with blue taffeta.

For the girl with petticoat fever, a very useful investment would be a sweater slip in wool jersey. Cut straight up and down and sleeveless, it has a sweater neck. It's done in green, among other colors, and is worn with a bright red, white and green striped petticoat. But the color choices are up to the wearer, to be mixed as basic ingredients in a petticoat wardrobe.

Approximately 15 guests attended.

Scout Cookie Sale Will Be Held Saturday

This year approximately a half a million cookies were ordered for the Girl Scout Cookie sale. Orders for the cookies will be taken Saturday and delivery will be made March 15.

It will take all of the money received from the sales to maintain the Little House during 1952.

The Little House is open five days a week with a minimum of 10 troops meeting there each day. There are six troops that meet elsewhere because of the overcrowded conditions.

There are overnights held at the house every weekend. Four to five cook-outs are held by troops each week and the kitchen is in constant use.

At night the Little House is used for dances by the senior troops, board of directors meetings and the Girl Scout Association meetings as well as the meetings of the Senior Girl Scouts.

In the morning, coffees and training courses for Girl Scout leaders are held.

This year there were two troops whose members graduated from Scouting, but 12 new troops were formed. The same will be true this Spring. Only two troops will graduate and many more will be formed.

The cookies are sold in order to maintain the upkeep of the Little House and to furnish it with the supplies necessary to properly train the girls.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK—U. S. Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, here to address the National Editorial Association, proved to be a charming and intelligent woman. I found on talking with her. She said much of the future of this country depends on the continued good work of its free press. The attractive senator, herself a former newspaper woman, told a story about a speaker who was being complimented by a long line of people who all praised his speech highly, except a small boy who was near the end of the line. This youngster said he thought it was a very bad speech, that there was absolutely nothing good about it at all. Whereupon, his embarrassed father grabbed the boy's arm and apologized, "Oh you mustn't pay any attention to Johnny. He has no mind of his own yet, but just repeats what he has heard!"

A local gasoline company got all fired up about its employees not paying enough attention to the needs of motorists, and gave instructions accordingly. So the other day when a man drove into the filling station and asked for ten gallons of gas, three attendants hopped on his car, one wiping off the windshield, another checking air in the tires, and the third filling the radiator. The motorist, fascinated, drove off. Shortly he returned, however, and asked if anybody had put any gas in his car. The three looked at each other. No one had.

Overhead the reference expert at the New York Public Library telling a questioner that we never had a divorced President of the United States, although Andrew Jackson did marry a woman whom he thought was divorced—but the decree took a little longer than was expected. Also she said, Martin Van Buren was the first President to be born in the United States—that one's tricky—James Buchanan was the only bachelor President, several Presidents were married twice, their first wives having died, and John Adams was the first President to live in the White House.

Talking to taxi drivers can be a sort of education, I've found, though some would not class such learning under the head of liberal arts. W. John Kenney, new Mutual Security Administrator who took Paul Hoffman's place, talks to cab drivers so much that one of them wrote to President Truman saying "this guy Kennedy is a symbol of democracy." Since then, he has been known by the nickname of "Symbie." In the most recent evening ride I had in a cab, the driver was cursing the new regulations which require automobiles to have their lower-headlights on while in the city streets, instead of parking lights as previously required. "That was changed so the pedestrians could see us," griped the driver. "Now with these bright lights, we can't see them."

Dropped into the Caswell-Massey drug store at 49th Street and Lexington and found they were celebrating their 200th anniversary. The store first opened in Newport, Rhode Island, in 1752, and the present owners told me it is the oldest drug store in America. The New York store is comparatively young, having been opened in 1890. Orders and prescriptions with the names of Diamond Jim Brady, Lillian Russell, Sara Bernhardt, Edgar Allan Poe, Herbert Hoover, Vanderbilt and Astors were shown to me as being customers of the place. Naturally the owners are proud of their long record. They have frequent calls, I learned, for a powerful pre-breakfast pick-me-up called "Massey's Morning Tonic," and admitted that quite a few of the calls come from the nearby Barclay and Waldorf-Astoria Hotels. Also sold by the venerable drug store, with no questions asked, are leeches for black eyes, bear grease, goose grease, turtle oil for pomade and a time-honored elder-flower and cucumber cream for the ladies' complexions.

Significant of the climb of an immigrant boy in America is the Pulitzer School of Journalism at 116th Street and Broadway. For when Joseph Pulitzer first came to America from Hungary he was practically penniless. A rapid rise in newspaper work in St. Louis, then the purchase of the old New York World made his name famous in journalism. But in his later years in New York, Pulitzer was blind. He hired a staff of intelligent secretaries to sift through the enormous mass of news each day and read the important and interesting items aloud to him. Even blindness did not stop this colorful man as he worked in his building downtown; how Joseph Pulitzer has come uptown.

Plans Are Underway For Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp

Girl Scouts in the Permian Basin Council will have another big camping program this Summer. The Mitre Peak Camp in the Davis Mountains is being made ready for the first group that will arrive June 8.

M. W. Collie of Midland, who with his wife heads the subcommittee in charge of camp arrangements, said the camp recently was inspected by a sanitary engineer of the State Health Department and that the lodge which houses the mess hall and all other facilities on the 74-acre-camp site will be in good shape for the Summer program.

Plans call for five camping periods, the first three for two weeks each and the second two for one week each. Activities will run through August 3 and applications for registration will be accepted beginning March 15.

An illustrated folder, containing details of the camp, registration information and the program for the Summer, will be mailed early in March to all Girl Scouts and adult leaders.

Mrs. J. J. Black will be the camp director for the fourth year and will have a trained staff of about 16 adult supervisors and counselors. She said camp activities will include swimming, hiking, nature study, handicrafts, campfire singing and outdoor cooking.

The camp has a capacity of 56 girls. The Permian Basin Council includes 15 counties from Midland to Van Horn, and from Andrews to Marfa, Alpine and Sanderson.

First parachute descent from a height was made in 1895, it is claimed.

Continental Gains Cited

DENVER—Continental Air Lines net income for 1931 was $383,848.74, a 100.71 per cent increase over the $1,246,888 figure for 1930. Robert F. Six, president of the airline, announced in the airline's annual report to stockholders.

The 1931 net income represents $1.24 earned per share, a 100 per cent increase over the 62 cents earned per share by the airline in 1930.

Continental Air Lines accomplished this huge increase in earnings, in spite of a 31.22 per cent reduction in air mail revenue from the government. Likewise, in spite of a reduction in mail revenue, the airline flew 405,016 ton miles of mail in 1931, a 96.95 per cent increase over the 205,955 pounds of mail flown the previous year. Six said it was a "100 per cent" year for Continental Air Lines in other categories. Two dividends of 25 cents a share each were declared during 1931, which was a 100 per cent increase over the dividends paid out to stockholders during 1930. In addition, the airline again set the pace for the domestic airlines of the nation with 99.60 per cent of scheduled miles completed in 1931, compared with 99.57 for 1930.

Continental Air Lines carried 291,385 revenue passengers in 1931, a 39.51 per cent increase over 1930. Passenger miles increased 50.48 per cent, from 74,289,000 in 1930 to 111,789,077 in 1931.

Plaids Are Needed For Sophistication

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor
NEW YORK — Plaids, as seen in the cottons coming through for cruise wear, are fashion news. It's not just because they're plaids since plaids are always with us in some form. It's because they've taken on a new sophistication.

These plaids for resort wear are bold and handsome. They present new and striking color combinations, as when beige, black and white are used together. This is plaid that is fresh and sparkling, free from hackneyed ideas about what plaid should be.

Dark plaids look new, too, particularly when they're overlaid with touches of clean white linen in lapels or cuffs. Deep purple is a ready foil for white and so are the browns and dark blues.

A bold plaid (right) is done in the new black, beige and white combination. This is a simple shirt-waist dress with full skirt, shirred sleeves and bow-tied neckline. The design makes the most of the plaid.

It will, its makers claim, shed wrinkles and remain permanently porous.

A second plaid with these same qualities (left) is cut into a sleeveless dress with matching bolero. Both are in a deep purple. The dress has wide lapels of white pique and a full, graceful skirt that hides roomy side pockets. The white touch appears again in the jacket cuffs.

Physical Therapy Clinic Holds Formal Opening In Midland

The official open house of the Physical Therapy Clinic, 1711 West Wall Street, was held Saturday. More than 75 persons attended, including Midland area doctors and friends of Alma Fern Green.

Red Cross Has $85,000,000 Goal

ANSWER THE CALL—OF THE 1952 RED CROSS DRIVE—This year's Red Cross fund campaign has a goal of $85,000,000 to carry on its greatly extended services to the armed forces, its vital blood program, its disaster services and other activities. When you "answer the call" by giving to the Red Cross YOU are there when disaster strikes and YOU aid the victims. When a wounded soldier, a mother in childbirth or an injured workman needs blood, YOU are there to give it. YOU are there to help service men's families faced with anxieties, to bring hope and comfort to bedridden war veterans. Answer the call—and BE where help is needed by giving.

Last year Red Cross spent $13,900,000 in Kansas-Missouri floods. Fourth costliest domestic relief operation in Red Cross history.

From August, 1950, to October, 1951, the National Blood Program provided 125,000 pints of blood for Korea. Red Cross takes care of service men in many ways, such as writing letters for wounded.

In 1951, Red Cross trained 5,995 people as nurse's aides to offset the growing shortage of nurses. Youngsters at right are among 19,000,000 in 89,000 schools enrolled in the Junior Red Cross.

Last year, Junior Red Cross youngsters sent needy children abroad 226,000 gift boxes valued at $560,000.

A meeting and speech contest for Toastmaster Clubs of Area II, District 25, Toastmaster International, will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Ranchland Hill Country Club, Paul Hicks, Midland, area governor, announced Saturday.

The Midland Toastmaster Club, of which Dr. Henry Schlichting is president, will be the host organization.

Outstanding Woman, Man To Be Chosen; Texans' Help Asked

WORTHAM—Texans have been invited to help choose the United States' outstanding man and woman of the year.

Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs of Wortham, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, explained that the honor of "Man and Woman of the Year" will be bestowed by the General Federation in May as a high point of the national convention in Minneapolis.

The award is to go to the two persons, selected by the nation's clubs and clubwomen. Recommendations must be based on service in the community, state, nation and world.

Either individuals or clubs may nominate candidates by mailing their choice to federation headquarters in Austin by March 25. The federation's executive committee will select the one to be the state's nominee for each honor.

Through the press, Mrs. Stubbs appealed for each club to cooperate by naming its selection for these awards. She expressed special interest in the award for citizenship, as her administration is stressing citizenship as a cornerstone of democracy.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY,
Written for NEA Service

"Perhaps you can tell me if there is a rule that covers this situation," requests a Henderson, Kentucky, reader.

"My partner had three, nine, three seven, two sixes, two fives, and a deuce. We needed 90 points to go down.

"The opponent to my partner's right discarded a five. The discard pile was quite large. My partner put down her entire hand, counting 85 points, and took the five at the top of the discard pile to complete the count of 90 points.

"The opponents said it was not legal to put down every card from the hand. They said that if she melded all the cards in her hand she would be out, because the cards in the discard pile cannot be considered in her hand. However, she was not allowed to meld out without a canasta.

"My partner and I maintain that when she uses the top card of the discard pile the rest of the cards in that pile automatically become part of her hand.

"Who is right?"

"The play was perfectly legal and proper. You are allowed to put down all eleven of your cards in order to obtain the discard pile. After you have melded and discarded you must then have one or more cards left in your hand (unless you meld out legally). The rule does not require you to have a card in your hand during the meld.

Q—In the game of samba, I have four queens and two wild cards down on the table as a meld. The discard pile is frozen, and the player at my right throws a queen, can I take the discard pile and add the three queens to my previous meld, thus making a nine-card canasta?

A—Yes. This play is perfectly legal both in canasta and also in samba.

Synthetic Chemistry Does In Hours What Old Mother Nature Does In Centuries

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK—(AP)—One of the great secrets, how nature makes virgin soil, has been discovered, imitated and improved by a team of scientific farmers.

Nature does it with a substance known by the vague name of humus, made by decaying vegetation, nature takes thousands of years. The scientific farmers do it in a few hours, by the ton, with synthetic chemistry.

A multi-million dollar chemical plant is building in Texas City, to produce this new synthetic in thousands of tons.

If this man-made humus—a yellow powder—becomes cheap enough, it will be one of the great agricultural achievements, ranking with the plow, harvester, fertilizer, insecticides and hybrid breeding.

History Of Matador Ranch Is Published

MATADOR—A father-son writing and publishing team, composed of Colquett Warren and his son John Warren, both of Matador, has produced a 35-page book which went on sale recently.

The book is "The Matadors," a history of the famous Matador Ranch, based on legal records and other sources of information. The booklet is copyrighted.

Both father and son are former employees of the ranch and were employed simultaneously. John was 12 years old when he went on the ranch payroll, one of the youngest of the thousands of employees whose names have appeared on the ranch payroll during the last 71 years.

The Warrens have been engaged in abstract work here the last eight years.

The book tells where, when, how and why the ranch was founded, and why it was the most successful and long-lasting of the many foreign-owned ranches in the Southwest.

Several original drawings by John L. Koonman of Dickens appear in the book.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing. How quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe your own. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Baracrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the results, don't lose heart. It takes more than one bottle to get rid of excess fat. In three or four bottles, you will see your face, chest, waist and hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 35 POUNDS
"I have lost 35 pounds taking Baracrate and my health is so much better," writes Mrs. W. A. Gearhart, 811 Orange Ave., Maize, Texas.

NURSE LOST 20 POUNDS
"One August, 1951, I weighed 173 pounds. I was nursing in a hospital and on my feet 16-hour days. I decided I must lose weight. I heard about Baracrate and decided to try it. On the first bottle, I lost five pounds; used four bottles and lost 20 pounds. I think Baracrate is wonderful!" Mrs. Willie Choucrie, 714 Keshier Court, San Antonio, Texas.

Dirt, Squire and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The cattle market was steady to strong on most classes at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. Stocker calves were 30 cents to $1 a hundred higher on good and choice grades. One group of 18 two-year-old heifers that averaged 700 pounds brought $223 each.

Fat calves and yearlings sold for $29 to $34, mediums $29 to $29, com-mons and culls $20 to $26. Fat cows cleared at $21 to $23, mediums $19 to $21, canners and cutters $15 to $19. Bulls auctioned for $24 to $27. One lot of 400 Hereford bull calves went to $38.25.

Stocker steer calves drew $35 to $38 and heifer calves $33 to $37. H. B. Eudaly, Grandfalls, got $36.25 for a bunch of 300-pound heifer calves and up to $38 for his steer calves. Ed Cox, Monahans, sold 21 mixed calves that averaged 200 pounds for $92.50 a head. Receipts were 433 head.

Paul Davis, Midland oil man and rancher, says he got an inch-and-a-half of rain on his ranch in the Leakey-Rock Springs-Uvalde County last week.

"It was the first moisture in a long time," Davis stated.

And speaking of rain, a columnist in Stanley Frank's West Texas Livestock Weekly says a No. 2 washtub and a No. 2 tomato can are his favorite musical instruments.

"You turn the tub upside down just outside your bedroom window, with one edge propped up on a rock so it will vibrate just right. Then you put the empty tomato can right side up beside the tub. Sometime, if you live long enough, you'll hear rain begin to play a tune on that washtub. After it's gone on long enough so the tomato can is running over, you know you've heard the prettiest music in the world," Amen, says DSQ.

Cattle and calves on Texas farms and ranches Jan. 1, 1952, estimated at 8,940,000 head, were two per cent above the 8,765,000 on farms and ranches a year earlier, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported. Increased numbers of stock on farms, particularly in East Texas and along the upper coast, more than offset decreased cattle inventories in southern and western ranching areas. Drought conditions and a lack of range feed forced a sharp reduction in herds in the Plateau, Trans-Pecos and southern counties, the USDA report said.

The total cow herd, estimated at 4,808,000 head, was practically unchanged from a year ago. Milk cow numbers at 1,053,000 head, however, were seven per cent below last year's inventory number, but a two per cent larger beef cow herd—set at 3,755,000 head on January 1—more than offset the decreased number of milk cows. A 13 per cent increase in the number of yearling heifers points to the increased number of breeding stock for this year.

Martin Farmers, Ranchmen To Talk Rain-Making Try

STANTON—Rain-making will be discussed in a meeting of Martin County farmers and ranchmen in the district courtroom in Stanton at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Martin County is included in the 11-county region considering the special weather service as a means of breaking the prolonged drought. Under the plan, Martin County would be assessed $8,000 of the $78,000 total for the service. It would involve the erection of large generators at strategic points over the county in the efforts from the ground to excite rain clouds.

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce called the meeting to give the farmers and ranchmen an opportunity to make a collective decision.

Stock sheep numbers estimated at 6,071,000 head on Jan. 1, 1952.

BIG, FAT JOVIAL EX-DALLASITE— Texas Missionary Backslides In Canada

UXBRIDGE, CANADA—(AP)—Texas has a missionary in Uxbridge, but he's backsliding.

"He's got to speak Canadian—yes so well, ah's gonna stay heah," he declares.

He's big, fat, jovial John Wall of Dallas, who came up to Uxbridge for an oil and chemical equipment firm and right off became vice-president of the chamber of commerce.

Uxbridge is a farming town of 1,801 boosters—counting the hearty Texans—some 30 miles north of Toronto.

It has two factories. One makes sheen hides into mouton skins. The other is "Wall's" — the Canadian branch and the only branch of the Frits W. Gilitch Company of Dallas. It employs 15 local men.

Wall came here from Dallas in May, 1950. Down south he had two main extra-curricular activities—minstrel shows and playing Santa Claus.

Up north, so far he's gotten to play only Santa Claus. He's still going around hoping somebody will show up to ask him to play in a minstrel show, but not too many people here have ever heard about them.

Santa Claus—that's different. Wall got to ride in a real sleigh last year. Had to, in fact, since that's the only mode of transportation when the snow lies deep.

He's a natural for Santa Claus—red cheeks, white hair and an appropriate waistline. "But ah'm really gettin' thin," he says. "Ah'm down to 250 pounds now."

He used to play Santa Claus for his church in Dallas every year but had only make-believe sleighs.

Down in Dallas, B. W. Berry, chief accountant for the Gilitch firm, says, "Wall has a way of getting on the good side of people. He loves it up here, and they love him. And they've treated him mighty fine, considering that he's a foreigner."

Mrs. Vance is here seeking a sponsor. She wants the permanent place for Santa Claus so children can address their yearly letters there.

North Pole Nellie is Audra Vance. She is the woman who had much to do with dropping a large candy-striped cylinder and letters to Santa at the North Pole last Christmas.

Kernville, Calif. — (AP)—Professional hunter Ronnie Vaughan says California mountain lions are on the increase because bounty prices have not kept up with inflation. Vaughan brought in five pelts recently from the nearby mountains to prove the big cats are abundant. Fifteen years ago there were about 30 professional hunters, says Vaughan. Now there are only one or two left.

His uninflated bounty on the five pelts will amount to $510, he said.

Elks Lodge No. 1828, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will initiate 41 applicants into membership in the order at its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Elks Home on West Highway 80, Secretary Melvin Robertson announced.

Resolutions to increase annual dues, increase initiation fee, and to incorporate the lodge under the laws of the State of Texas, will be acted upon at the meeting.

Jack R. Moyle, exalted ruler, urged a large attendance of members at the session.

Crane Student Gets Plaudits

CRANE—Ellen Walling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walling of the Gulf camp, is making a name with her dancing talent at TSCW at Denton.

Ellen Walling was selected with only one other freshman to appear in the front row of an organized dance group to make appearance in various programs in surrounding territories.

She has also accepted a position as councillor of a group of youngsters to learn dancing in Kerrville this summer. The position usually requires a girl of more experience than Ellen, but her talent prompted the proposition offered her.

Ellen was recently over-seer and trainee for a group of freshman girls for the annual class stunt program presented at the college.

Hundreds of visitors were present for the occasion, including ex-students, since stunts to TSCW are what homecoming eagles are to most other colleges. Beginning with a circus frolic 37 years ago, class stunts gradually grew into a college tradition and became an annual all-college event in 1938.

The stunts are made up of skits from TSCW's freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. The skits are all-musical productions, with dances, individual numbers and choral work.

Choir Present Operetta

A sparkling version of the operetta, "Erminie," was presented Friday by the A Cappella Choir. A fortune and title had been stolen from Count Marcel and his sister, Cerise. The Count was secretary to the Marquis de Pomvert, and his sister, a companion of the Marquis' daughter, Erminie. The story began with the opening of the Fair, the chosen time for announcing the betrothal of Erminie to a stranger, the Viscount de Brisacc, chosen by her father. Erminie had other ideas on this matter, being in love with Count Marcel, known as Eugene. The viscount has been "detained" by a couple of vagabonds. Ravannes assumed his role, causing a great deal of confusion.

When the real Viscount established his identity, the whole situation was cleared. Lost titles and fortune were returned. Erminie married her true love and all ended well. Members of the cast were: Marie, a village maiden, Charles Heidelberg; Javotte, a maid at the Chateau Pomvert; Jo Ann Basaham; Simon, a waiter at Lion d'Or; Tommy Vanaman; the Marquis de Pomvert; Robert Stubbeman, with Ruth Ann Rhodes playing the part of his daughter, Erminie. Cerise Marcel, Erminie's companion, was played by Mona Sue Biggs. Eugene, secretary to the Marquis, was played by Charles Whitmire. Captain de Laune, captain of the guards, was played by Dwayne Chesnut. The Vagabonds, Ravannes and Cadeaux, were played by Freddy Hulbo and Loren Roberts, respectively. Shirley Pulliam played the part of Princess de Grampeaux, guest at the Chateau. Sergeant Andre, of the Palace Guards, was played by David Brieth. Ernest, Viscount de Brisacc, a friend of Eugene, was played by Royce Measures. Members of the chorus were Camilla Birkhead, Glenda Breeze, Thelma Deel, Martha Forrest, Evelyn Heil, Mary Kay Henry, Elaine Johnson, Mary Jane Miller, Peggy Reed, Dana Roper, Yvonne Shalin, Virginia Webb, Barbara Wilson, Norma Adams, Kitty Lou Leaton, Jane Beakey, Melba Bender, Doris Carden, Barbara Delay, Earline Hancock, Ann Kenamer, Wanda Moore, Barbara Smith, Jane Umberon.

Thespians To Present Play; Rehearsals Already Underway

With announcement of the players who will take the various parts, construction of the setting begun and rehearsals started, the production of "Night of January 16," scheduled for March 11, is now well under way, according to Director Verna Harris and Student Director Martha Stone. This production is under the sponsorship of Thespian Troupe 845 which will be in charge of the sale of tickets. The subject of the play is a murder trial, and an unusual feature of it is the recruiting of 12 members of the audience to serve as a jury. These members will not be "planted" in the audience, but chosen by lot. Jurors selected will be on a professional basis, for they will be paid by a refund amounting to the price of their ticket to the show. Strictly speaking, this is a play without a heroine, but Madeleine Schabarum has been chosen for the feminine part, that of Karen Adren, defendant in the murder trial. Nor has it a hero, the principal male role being that of the prosecuting attorney, which will be taken by Charles Whitmire. Nancy Lee Faulkner, wife of the murdered man, will be played by Betty Campbell while her father will be portrayed by John Petty. Tom Vannaman will take the part of the defense attorney. The presiding judge, the Honorable Judge William Heath, will be portrayed by Stan Coker. Other roles portrayed will be the prison warden by Virginia Kroehnen; bailiff, Benny Bedford; district attorney's secretary, Maxine Hill; court clerk, Bill Robitsek; Dr. Kirkland, Bobby Hudson; Mrs. John Hutchins, Pat Boles; Homer Van Fleet, James Johnson; Elmer Sweeney, Harry Harrison; Madge Sweeney, Mary Ann Seales; Jane Chandler, Emily Hamilton; Sigurd Jungquist, Walter Cremin; Larry Regan, Raymond Leggett; Roberta Van Rensselaer, Ann Arick, and stenographer, Sue Francis. Working on the production staff are Stage Managers James Johnson and Katherine Carter. Their assistants are Jerry Wallace, Barbara Ware, Sue Talkington, Waldo Leggett, Randall Gibson and Ann Matlock.

How Tough Are You?

Are you tough enough to take the blame? To most people this question means very little, and, if asked, they answer an unqualified "Yes" without realizing what they are saying.

Many teen-age boys and girls measure toughness by the amount of trouble they can cause, but very few are tough enough to confess and take their rightful blame. It isn't a tough person who throws the blame on innocent people; it's a coward. A tough soldier doesn't turn and run; he faces whatever is before him. That is what makes a true hero.

So, rate yourself on how tough you are, not by how much you dare to do, but by how much of the blame you dare to take, afterwards.

Free Lance

Have you ever tried to write a column? Anyone can write one column, or two or three, but after that you begin to believe that it takes the patience of Job and the learning of Gamaliel to write one week after week. You sit at the typewriter, peck a few keys, scratch your head, stare out the window, and do just about everything—except conceive an idea for this week's effusion. Thoughts—none of them suitable for the purpose—enter your mind. Tasmanna, the gold fields, the Four Horsemen, Charlie McCarthy—all pass through your brain. But not any of these will do. Finally, when you have pulled out the last handful of hair, and scratched the bald spot bare, an idea occurs, and you fan it and pet it as a small flame in wet wood. Thus you postpone your reprieve for another week.

News Events Are Reviewed In Film

Thumbnail Sketches

By MARY ANN SEALES
Have you wished that you knew more of the students in Midland High School? Here is an opportunity. "Thumb-Nail Sketches" will publish biographical material, on freshmen, sophomores, and juniors for the remainder of the school term. Fisher Adams, a freshman who likes oysters, golf, Oldsmobiles, fishing and John Wayne has a yen to go to San Antonio and the Smoky Mountains. He plans to become a doctor. Speech and the speech making is her greatest interest and she has written her thesis on the subject with Fisher while mathematics hits a low note. Carrie Anderson, who likes New Mexico and hopes to return for college days, is a freshman who enjoys many things including chocolate, horses, PE, Chevrolet, Dean Martin, blue and Wanda Myrick. Sharon Lee Braswell attended school in Hobbs, N. M. before entering Midland as a freshman. Sharon's hobby of collecting rocks and match books and her interest in ping-pong and eating (especially fried chicken) keeps her leisure time filled. Chinese food is her strongest dislike. Shirley Brooks has lived in six states and is a freshman. Home-making is her greatest interest and she rates steak, blue, baseball, June Allyson, Alan Ladd, and Mary B. Phillipus as her favorites, while cooked carrots and algebra are disliked. Interested in Electricity Horace Adams, a sophomore, has a great interest in electricity and if his plans materialize he will earn enough money to go around the world. When his fortune is made he expects to indulge his appetite for steak and potatoes, Mercurys, dogs and fishing. Daria Adamson, who comes from Wink, is especially interested in music, collecting postcards, sports news and cactus. This sophomore lists liver and prunes as unhealthful and tuna fish, green and gold, Theresa Klapproth, algebra, and all sports as favorites. John Blackman is the sophomore brother of former Midland Students Billy, Kingsley and Adele. He hopes to become an engineer, Minnie Jackson and Spanish are favorites of John. He thinks to buy a car and take a trip to Old Mexico would be exciting. Karis Baxter, with ambitions to be a lawyer, is a sophomore. Her favorites are bananas, sweetbread, Oldsmobiles, Midland, baseball, English, Dorothy Perkins, Peaches are spinach, cabbage, eggs, golf and people who gossip.

Four Delegates Attend Meeting Of DE Clubs

Four delegates were selected by the DE students of Midland High School to attend the sixth annual convention of the Distributive Education Clubs of Texas. They are Joanne Jones, Ann Miles, Thomas White and Ardith Campbell. Ruth Donnell, the coordinator, escorted them on the trip. The convention was held at El Paso, and lasted three days. Thursday night a mixer party was held at the Cortez Hotel for the delegates to get acquainted. Friday morning they were taken on a tour of El Paso and Juarez, and had lunch at the Tivoli, where they saw a gay floor show. Four duchesses from different districts were nominated and the four voted on; top honors going to Rita Gilbert of McKinney for sweet-heart watch. She was awarded a beautiful wrist watch.

Now that I can breathe a bit easier after those near-fatal six-week exams, I will again start digging up bits of news around good old MHS. Everyone seems to be just a little quizzed after six-weeks tests. Surely hope that everyone passed.

Bulldog Barks

This week seems to be one that is lacking in sports news. Basketball season is over, the PE teams idle, and the track and tennis teams are practicing for coming meets and matches. The football Bulldogs are practicing hard for the 1952 season in their Spring training workouts. The golf team, which also hopes for another fine year, is practicing for coming matches. The trophies have arrived for the coming Youth Center table tennis tournament. Trophies are awarded for boys' and girls' singles, boys' and girls' doubles, and mixed doubles. Following the table tennis tournament there will be a Midland Youth Center pool tournament. The competition between pool players already is tight. The winner of this tournament will have to be tops with a cue stick.

Five Girls Eye Majorette Position

Five girls will try for the position of majorette in the Half-Timers Monday during the first period class. Next year there will be two positions open as Emily Hamilton and Barbara Long, present majorettes, will graduate. A head majorette will also be chosen from the present majorettes, Barbara Whitton, Barbara Ware, and Jean Waddill. The office of head majorette will be the equivalent of drum major and will shoulder much responsibility. These positions are open only to girls who have been in the Half-Timers. They will also be voted upon only by the Half-Timers. Girls trying for majorette are Lanetta Early, Rita Hazlip, Shirley Henderson, Margie Henaley, Jane Callaway and Penny Jones. If the atmosphere did not rotate with the earth there would be a constant westerly wind of 795 miles an hour at 40 degrees latitude.

Early-Rising Volleyball Girls Play At Grandfalls

The girls who went to Grandfalls really deserve a big congratulatory setting up at 4 a.m. and playing a ball game at 8 a.m. The starting line-up for the Midland-Crane game was as follows: Gibbs, Switzer, Norwood, Crawford, Braly and Henson. Subs were Pullian, Weddle, Smith and Acker. The girls lost the game by a score of 37-25. In the next game the girls played Grandfalls, the starting line-up was as follows: Gibbs, Acker, Norwood, Crawford, Braly and Henson. The girls won by a score of 41-11. The girls played a nice game. Big Spring won first in the tournament, Crane second and Grandfalls third. Volleyballs were awarded to the following: On spikes: Crane, two; Big Spring, two; Kermit, one; Fort Stockton, one; and for set-ups: Grandfalls, one.

Wasn't the operetta good? It was just about the cutest thing ever in my opinion. It was called "Erminie" and the little role was played by Ruth Ann Rhodes. It was a most enjoyable performance. Mr. Michener, as usual, was beaming proudly over his fine group of performers.

MOROCCO has been described as a part of the Arab World displaced by chance on the northwest corner of Africa. The country is a mixture of desert and rich, beautiful garden land where the river valleys cut through the mountains. Here, for centuries, nomadic tribal chieftains have led the Berbers and Arabs in war against French and Spanish colonialists. The Morocco monarchy, now divided into French and Spanish protectorates, with some 10,000,000 population, is but the remnant of the great Shereefian Empire carved up by the Arabs in Northwest Africa and Southwest Europe in the seventh century. Its natives are mostly Berbers, Arabs and mixtures of the two races called Moors. Morocco's economy is agricultural and pastoral, but because of its splendid climate and natural beauty, Morocco has become a tourist mecca. Now, its greatest importance to the free world is that it is the Western anchor of any Middle East Defense Command. The U. S. has several big air bases there with more planned. Morocco's restless tribesmen are presently caught up in the anti-colonialist, "nationalist" fever that has engulfed the Arab world. The powerful Sultan of Morocco himself has shown strong nationalist tendencies. Continued unrest and violence, most prevalent in the French protectorate, could develop into a dangerous revolt similar to that against Britain in Egypt's Suez Canal Zone, at the "other door" of the Mediterranean.

Fear Of Currency Devaluation Strong

VIENNA. (AP)—Fear of currency devaluation is so strong in Czechoslovakia that people are buying coffins they don't need, a Czech newspaper reported. The Bratislava paper, "Pravda" quoted a young woman as saying that, although her husband was well and alive, "I bought a coffin because of what may happen to the money." "If the coffin stands for 20 years, the worms won't eat it; entirely and it will be free from tax," she said.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Happy People

Today's happy adventure is about a little skunk whose name is Whiffy. Sometimes he brings flowers to Mother Ringtail. Ah me, because everyone knows that a whiff of Whiffy is a whiff too much. He smells terrible. But does that bother Whiffy? No sir, it doesn't.

Whiffy is a happy, cheerful little fellow. His two front teeth are bright and shiny, and they always show with the laughing he does.

Oh, he does have a terrible smell, everyone will tell you. But Whiffy likes the way he smells, and he likes to go walking alone in the evening late, laughing and chucking to himself with the things that people are saying for miles around. Whiffy knows the words they say "Mercy me," they say to their friends, "I do believe I smell a skunk, and what a terrible smell it is!"

But Whiffy laughs, louder than ever when people say these words. He likes the way he smells, and it tickles him that people don't. Yes, and the greatest fun of all, he thinks, is for people to wish he were miles away in another place from the place he is.

If you haven't smelled Whiffy yet, maybe you will. He does travel around, you know, especially at night and in the evenings late. If you ever smell a skunk who smells more like a skunk than any skunk you ever smelled before, that's Whiffy. He is laughing at you when you turn up your nose.

Sometimes, too, if you have chickens in a chicken year, Whiffy may stop for a chicken dinner. He really shouldn't do it, of course, except he says he never bothers a chicken who is sound asleep the way she should be sleeping at night.

Whiffy is never lonesome. He doesn't care that people don't want to play with him. In fact, there is only one thing that makes him unhappy. He doesn't like to be called a polecat. Well, I wouldn't either, would you? Even though a skunk and a polecat are the same thing, I think skunk is a much nicer name.

But you should never feel sorry for Whiffy, or for anyone as happy as Whiffy, no matter how much you would not want to be like them. Just remember that they may want to be like they are, just as Whiffy wants to smell like he does. Happy day!

Television Has Growing Pains

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — What television needs most today is an adult audience willing to help TV through its childhood and adolescence.

So says Jack Morrison, lecturer in theater arts at the University of California. Adults should be selective about their programs and should let the sponsor know by mail which show they like, says Morrison.

As a last resort representative organizations can ask the Federal Communications Commission for consumer hearings on television content matters.

This Year's Houses Low In Price, But High In Quality

Low- and medium-income families will find plenty of new houses available in 1952 at prices they can afford. Because financing under Regulation X is easier for houses selling for $12,000 and less than for high-priced units, homebuilders are planning lower-priced models this year, many to be priced as low as $6,000.

This will not mean a lowering in quality. Builders will cut costs, not by using inferior materials, but by building more efficiently and by calling in the nation's top-notch architects and designers to streamline home design.

Houses To Improve

As a result, 1952's low-priced houses actually will outrank in appearance, construction and livability those of years past.

The low ranch-type house will predominate, with main emphasis on floor plans that make for good family living. The trend, despite low prices, is toward larger rooms. Builders are learning they can increase over-all house size 10 per cent to 15 per cent with a 10 per cent to 20 per cent increase in living rooms and bedrooms, at only five per cent more cost.

Open floor plans are gaining, with flexible partitions separating areas. The kitchen is destined to follow the dining-room into obsolescence as a separate room.

Built-ins will add to efficiency in the new houses. One builder is using low-cost Swedish doors to form free-standing partitions and storage-wall panels. This also permits faster construction at lower cost.

Increased use of plywood; asphalt shingles; copper or brass piping for interior water systems; Kentele asphalt tile flooring; forced warm-air heating systems; and air conditioning all reflect the swing toward efficient, functional homes.

Expandability will be built into many 1952 homes. One example is a $5,000 house which has a future door opening framed into the rear wall of a storage closet. The closet easily becomes a hall when the house is expanded.

Other features to be shared by many of this year's low-priced houses include basementless construction; carpet instead of garage; lower-pitched roofs; fewer corners; elimination of service entrance; raised fireplace; sloping ceilings; and slim eave-lirns.

New ideas in design, some experimental to test public reaction, will abound.

The Bedouins of Yemen are not desert nomads but mountain farmers.

Fireplace Should Be Scheduled Early In Building Plans

That fireplace to be enjoyed next Fall and Winter should be built this Spring and Summer.

Whether it's a new house or an older one under modernization, it will benefit from a fireplace planned when remodeling or new construction is undertaken. Early scheduling of this addition to gracious living is less expensive than installation as an afterthought.

The time-honored place for the glowing logs is dead-center on one wall. Here are some newer ideas, assembled by the Tile Council of America as an idea guide for homeowners:

1. Give only half the wall to the fireplace. Let the other half house a recessed firewood bin lined with the same easily cleaned clay tile which faces the fireplace itself.

2. Locate the fireplace in a corner. This saves space in a small room.

3. For the sake of ease of cleaning, center the fireplace in an entire half-wall of clay tile, and let the hearth be either elevated or flush with the floor.

4. Use a fireplace as a room-divider. For example, the fireproof chimney may extend from ceiling to floor, with a hearth so built that the dining area on one side and the living room on the other share the glow from a fire.

5. Another new idea is a firebox with a wide, fireproof ledge, located in the middle of a large living room. Above it will hang a suspended fire.

6. The double-purpose fireplace may serve both a living room on one side and a bedroom or study on the other. It also may do duty by being on the wall separating the living-dining area from the kitchen.

Today's Houses Are Constructed To Aid Homemaker

Today's new homes are easier to clean and keep clean, and easier to work, cook and serve in, because the nation's builders are designing and equipping them with the homemaker's needs in mind.

This is especially important today, with family life and activities centering closely around the home.

Ordinarily this would make house-keeping more difficult. That it does not is due to the time and labor-saving conveniences built into new dwellings.

Filters Dust

Air condition is becoming a common feature in homes. Not only does it keep the house at a comfortable temperature, but it makes for less cleaning by filtering dust from the outside air, before circulating it in the room. Kitchen ventilators now are installed which completely change stale kitchen air in three minutes, insuring the homemaker a fresh atmosphere in which to work. These units can operate on less current than a 60-watt bulb.

Builders are incorporating new easy-to-clean windows which eliminate the bulky, draft-sash-weight boxes that admit large amounts of dirty into the house.

Single-story, basementless construction removes tiring stairs from the house; interiors are decorated with new, easily washable paints; kitchen surfaces are finished with stain-proof, non-marring plastics.

In the kitchen, where the homemaker spends a good part of her day, a housekeeping revolution is on. New fixtures and appliances sliminate back-bending, save steps, and out minutes and hours from performance time for various chores.

New kitchen cabinets have doors which lift up and out of the way at the touch of a finger, with lights in the cabinet going on automatically. Spring action holds the doors open.

Remodeling Of 'Older' Home Is Satisfying Hobby

Many of the bargain in the so-called "older" home. This particularly is true for the family of limited means but unlimited ambition. For modern building materials make it easy and inexpensive to "face-lift" drab walls or complete an unfinished attic.

Existing houses often are located in choice neighborhoods, where they are accessible to schools, shopping district and transportation. Their modernization usually is sound: Their modernization usually is a matter of time, energy, versatile materials and a modest investment of money. So widespread is the custom of home modernization by families that it might be termed a favorite American pastime. Working around the home to improve its appearance, comfort and value is a very satisfying hobby.

Safety Should Be Considered In New House Planning

COLLEGE STATION—Home accidents are costing Americans more than $900,000,000, annually in wage loss, medical expense and insurance overhead.

Thousands of new homes have been built in the last few years with little or no attention given to the elimination of accident hazards. This failure almost guarantees to make accident statistics out of the occupants.

Families planning to build should check house plans carefully for every possible hazard so they can be removed before they are built in.

Bernice Clayton, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says watch the slant of the stairs and be sure there are hand railings on all stairs inside and out; use adequate insulation around furnaces, pipes, fireplaces and chimneys; have sufficient numbers of wall plugs; install electric wall switches at top and bottom of stairs and in bathrooms; arrange kitchen equipment for elimination of fatigue; build adequate storage and closet space for family needs, especially utility and cleaning closets; have medicine chests which can be kept locked and out of reach of children.

If remodeling is planned, Mrs. Clayton says watch carefully and get expert advice so that accident causes are built out of your home. The majority of women do their own housework. If there are children, more hours are spent in the kitchen. So make the kitchen efficient as well as eye appealing.

Weavers In Burma Face Starvation

MANDALAY, BURMA — (AP) — Starvation has beset some 3,000 weavers in the Amrapura area, it has been reported.

The reason given for the reported famine is the closing down of a number of handloom factories. In order to keep their children fed, parents are reported to be starving themselves on alternate days. Although contributions of rice have been sent to the stricken area, the situation is said to be worsening.

Anti-Communists Are Aided By Movie

SINGAPORE — (AP) — A movie love story is being used to combat communism in Malaya.

The film, "From Darkness to Light," was shot in the jungles and rubber estates of Negri Sembilan. It depicts the true story of a Communist terrorist who revolted against Red rule because the bandit chieftain ordered him to shoot his sweetheart.

Several of the actors are actual bandits who have surrendered, and are now helping police hunt down their former comrades.

Split-Second Timing Results in Degree

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF. — (AP) — Attractive Betty Groebli used split-second timing to get her bachelor's degree.

Wife of a professor and mother of nine-year-old Gary Groebli, Betty worked out an exacting schedule to educate herself. Often she would attend an 8 a.m. class at Santa Barbara College then rush home to get Gary and hubby off to their respective schools.

Now that the pert young brunette has her BA degree, she plans to work out another schedule and try for her master's degree.

Intelligent Listening Set Up For Goal As Midland Classes Tune In Air School

Intelligent listening is the goal of Midland teachers as they tune "The Texas School of the Air" into their classrooms each day. The program is heard over KCHS at 2 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The five different series of programs for different grade levels are: Monday, "Your Story Parade" for the primary grades; Tuesday, "Stop, Look and Listen," a program on safety for all grades; Wednesday, "Reading is Adventure" for junior high; Thursday, "Is Anybody Home?" for senior high and P-TA study groups; Friday, "Music is Yours" for the elementary grades.

The Texas Educational Agency supplies teacher's manuals to enable the class to be prepared for the broadcast and to plan varied follow-up activities.

"Drawing" the story, dramatizing it, and letting a puppet show retell the story help to integrate the listening experience for the younger student. On the secondary level, panel discussions are used.

"Is Anybody Home" is of interest to adults as well as students. At present the series deals with the subject of fear and learning to live in a world in tension.

The broadcasts are in the sixth of a 12-week series.
