Opening Of New Area From Spraberry In Reagan Indicated

Opening of a new area for Spraberry production in Northeast Reagan County has been indicated at the Southwest Natural Production Company and Lonnie Glascock, Jr., No. 1 Green-Carter.

This wildcat is three and one-half miles east of the closest completed Spraberry producer in the Seven D area. It is 600 feet from south and 900 feet from west lines of section 77, block 2, T&P survey and two and one-half miles west of the Tom Green County line.

Flows From Perforations

The prospector had flowed new, clean oil from perforated section at 6,032-42 feet, after that interval had been fractured with 3,000 gallons of the formation breaking material.

Operator used a 75-barrel oil load in connection with the fracturing. After the well had been left shut in for eight hours, following the treatment, it was opened up and it kicked out some of the load.

In 10 hours of swabbing and flowing all of the load was recovered.

Through Open Tubing

The well then was flowing new oil. In the first seven hours it produced 19 barrels of new oil. In the next eight hours the flow was 14 barrels of new oil and in the following eight hours the wildcat made 10 barrels of new oil.

The flowing was through open two inch tubing. Operator representatives said that the well was not showing any formation water.

It was continuing to flow to test and complete at last report.

Coline Will Drill Clear Fork Wildcat At SE Yoakum Site

Coline Oil Corporation of Amarillo is to start drilling at once on its No. 1-821 N. W. Willard, which is slated to be a 7,500-foot wildcat in extreme Southeast Yoakum County.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 881, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Is Test, Clear Fork

The scheduled destination of 7,500 feet for this project is calculated to take it into the Clear Fork-Permian line.

It is four miles northwest of Seagraves and it is about five miles east of the nearest production from the San Andres-Permian on the southeast side of the Wagon field. That production is from pay above 8,900 feet.

Seaboard Completes Cisco Discovery In Vealmoor Field

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware has completed a small pumping discovery from the Cisco line section of the upper Pennsylvanian on the northwest side of the Vealmoor field in Central-North Howard County.

The new pay opener is an old well which was originally completed from the Canyon reef lime—the main pay in the Vealmoor field.

Lower Pay Depleted

Production from that zone, which was at 7,300-40 feet, was depleted. Operator plugged back and perforated the casing at 7,500-75 feet and re-completed it there as the first well to show production from that pay in the field.

The 7,500-75 foot section was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. On the official potential test it pumped 35.11 barrels of 29-gravity oil and no water. It showed a gas-oil ratio of 875-1, but the gas would not flow the oil steadily and the pump was installed.

Location Given

The 51/2-inch casing in this well was set above the Canyon pay at 7,822.26 feet, when the project was originally completed.

Location is 600 feet from south and 500 feet from east lines of the north half of the southwest quarter of section 29, block 22, T-3-N, T&P survey.

Two Explorations Are Spotted In Val Verde Areas

Dan Auld of Kerrville and Petrocel Corporation of Corpus Christi each staked location for a wildcat exploration in Val Verde County.

Twenty miles southeast of the Vinings gas area of the northeast portion of the county, Auld will drill No. 1 C. B. Wardlow and G. H. Whitehead as a 12,000-foot test. Driftline is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 76, block D, CC&P survey. That puts it three-quarters of a mile north of the Edwards County line.

Petrocel will dig No. 1 Bluff Creek Ranch as a 2,000-foot test seven

Oil Man Dies In Hotel Room Here

President Pleads For Aid Billions

WASHINGTON — (P) — President Truman asked a critical Congress Thursday to vote every penny of his $7,900,000,000 new global foreign aid program to meet a Soviet threat against the "survival of civilization."

Thursday night, the President, fully aware of mounting congressional ire over foreign aid spending, will go on every major radio and television network at 9:30 GMT to carry his plea to the people.

Talk of withdrawing to the Western Hemisphere "has momentary seductiveness," the President said, "because it would seem to relieve us of the contributions we are now making to collective defense."

'Mandate For Suicide'

But he said the adoption of such a policy would be a "mandate for national suicide."

The President said the money he is asking would be spent to send arms to America's allies in Europe, to build up Allied nations in the Middle and Far East, to help European countries manufacture their own arms, and to raise the living standards of Red-threatened nations in Africa and Asia.

Not a single dollar should be cut out of the proposed program, the President asserted, lest this nation be guilty of "false economy" of "too little and too late."

In a special 7,500 word message, Truman anticipated the attacks of critics and economy advocates. He built his argument for carrying on the mutual security program around four basic reasons, which he set forth in these words:

"First, the plain fact is that we cannot achieve lasting security for ourselves except in association with other nations.

"Second, the funds provided by the United States under the mutual

HUMBLE'S NEW MIDLAND HOME—This four-story building, division headquarters of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, will be opened officially at 11 a.m. Friday with top company officials on hand. The building will be opened for public inspection Friday afternoon.

Humble Oil & Refining Company Will Dedicate New Office Building Friday

The Humble Oil & Refining Company Friday will open formally its new home here—a magnificent $1,250,000 addition to the ever-growing Headquarters City of the Permian Basin Empire.

In the presence of President Hines H. Baker of Houston and other top officials, formal opening ceremonies at 11 a.m. Friday will climax a day-long series of open-house, a luncheon and a banquet.

Mayor Perry Pickett will perform the traditional ribbon-cutting job which will place the four-story division headquarters building at West Missouri and A Streets into operation.

On hand for the occasion will be eight members of the board of directors of the Humble Oil and Refining Company and three members of the Humble Pipe Line Company board.

Representing the first company will be Baker, Board Chairman L. T. Barrow, Vice Presidents David Frame, H. W. Ferguson, Rex G. Baker and Morgan J. Davis and Board Members C. E. Reistle, J. A. and Dr. R. J. Gonzales.

Representing the pipe line company will be President O. Q. Lomax, Vice President A. E. Pecore and Treasurer C. D. Voss.

The executives of the company will arrive in Midland Thursday to participate in the opening event Thursday evening, a banquet at 6 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

Guests at this banquet will include the 191 employees of Humble who will work in the new office building.

J. W. House, division production superintendent of the West Texas division, will be the master of ceremonies and Baker will deliver the principal address.

The festivities Friday will begin at 10 a.m. when company executives and newspaper representatives will be taken on a tour of the building, from which will be directed the activities of some 1,200 employees in West Texas and New Mexico.

At 11 a.m., the satin ribbon will be cut by Mayor Pickett, and 300 business leaders of Midland as well as other invited guests will inspect the new structure.

At noon, they will be taken by bus to the Midland Country Club for a buffet luncheon.

Jack E. Wicker, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will deliver the welcome address, and the response will be voiced by Baker.

The building will be thrown open to the public from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

There will be employees on hand to guide the visitors through the building, light refreshments will be served and souvenir booklets will be given away.

Though not a part of the official opening ceremonies, the company's annual banquet for all foremen in the West Texas division will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

House will preside at the banquet. Baker will deliver a short talk and the principal address will be given by Whiting Williams of Cleveland, Ohio, noted lecturer and author.

Martin Land Owners Oppose Restrictions On Sale Of Water

AUSTIN — (P) — Testimony dug deeper into technical data Thursday in the court test of Martin County's authority to regulate its vast underground water field.

William F. Guyton, Austin consulting ground water hydrologist, and Walter N. White were to testify at the hearing went into its third day in 126th District Court.

Wednesday, attorneys for the Colorado River Municipal Water District presented more evidence to the need for using Martin County water in thriving nearby cities. They also called four land owners in Martin County, who testified they wanted to sell the water under their land as had been planned prior to the Martin County regulations.

The Colorado River District seeks a permanent injunction that would invalidate the Martin County District and permit use of Martin County water wells to supply Odessa and Big Spring for 10 and five years, respectively, while a new reservoir created by a Colorado River dam is being filled.

Land owners who said they wish to sell water underlying their Martin County lands are Henry G. Orson, O. C. Hazlewood, L. C. Hazlewood and Lloyd Hastings.

The Colorado District had contracted to purchase water from wells on their property.

WTCC Leader Urges West Texans To Lead Fight For Oil Depletion Allowance

An appeal for West Texans to take the offense in an all-out campaign to let the people of the United States know that the oil man is not getting something for nothing through the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance, was sounded here Wednesday night by Frank H. Kelley, Colorado City oil man and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Kelley addressed a gathering of more than 100 WTCC members and guests from 14 area cities who were here to attend a three-district meeting of the regional organization in Hotel Scharbauer. Bill Collyns of Midland presided at the dinner-meeting, and the address of welcome was given by Mayor Perry Pickett. Burvin Hines, assistant manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, gave the invocation.

"People in the North and East," Kelley declared, "have been led to believe that the oil man is getting rich at their expense as a result of the depletion allowance. The allowance is justified and we should let the people of non-oil producing sections know why it is justified."

"The government doesn't give us the depletion allowance. They don't give us anything. Actually the government takes away."

"I do not think the government will take over the oil business, it will just take over our income if

Collins, Switzer, Bullock New WTCC District Officials

Vice presidents of District 6, 7 and 8 of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for 1952 were elected at a membership meeting of the three districts here Wednesday night.

Bill Collyns, editor of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, was named vice president of District 6, to succeed Charrell Jobe of Lamesa; and Charles Switzer of Monahans, president of the First National Bank and the Chamber of Commerce there, was elected District 7 vice president. He succeeds J. L. Pinkerton of Monahans. Maurice Bullock, Fort Stockton attorney, is the new District 8 vice president, succeeding Dr. R. M. Hawkins of Alpine.

District 6 includes Andrews, Big Spring, Coahoma, Denver City, Kermit, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, Seagraves, Seminole, Stanton and Wink. Affiliated cities of District 7 are Monahans, Pecos, Ysleta and El Paso.

The District 8 cities are Alpine, Big Lake, Crane, Del Rio, Fort Stockton, Marfa, McAdams, Ozona, Rankin and Texon.

Autopsy Set To Determine Death Cause

Sheriff Ed Darnell said Thursday afternoon a brother of W. McKinley Harris had told him he "was satisfied" his brother had died of natural causes. Darnell said the brother, an Oklahoma City physician, told him Harris had been suffering from a heart ailment.

W. McKinley Harris, wealthy Oklahoma City oil man and attorney, died early Thursday in a downtown hotel under what officers described as "mysterious circumstances."

Harris, about 50 years old and once a business associate of former Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma, died in his hotel room while awaiting the arrival of a Fire Department respirator.

Three Hurt In Two-Car Road Mishap

Three members of a Snyder family were injured, one seriously, at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday when the car in which they were riding and another automobile collided on U. S. Highway 80 approximately seven miles east of Midland.

Admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital for treatment of injuries were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wayne Henderson of Snyder. Their daughter, three-year-old Shirley Janene, received lacerations of the left hand.

Henderson suffered a fractured rib and shoulder and internal injuries in the spectacular accident while his wife received lacerations of the head.

The mishap occurred when the Henderson car, traveling toward Midland, struck the right front end of a car driven by William Henry Hale, 50, of Stanton as Hale reportedly made a left turn into the path of their vehicle. Hale was not injured in the accident.

A charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle was filed Thursday against Hale in Midland County Court.

Witnesses to the collision said the Henderson car appeared to "leap six to eight feet in the air" on first impact before rolling over several times.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pinkerton and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Minter McReynolds, said the Henderson car "looked like a huge piece of paper being blown along by the wind" as it turned over and over.

Henderson, who was driving one of the cars, was thrown clear of the wreckage.

Three Hurt In Two-Car Road Mishap

An autopsy was ordered by Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson to determine the cause of death.

Stephenson said Harris' face and body were swollen badly and "there are some indications of foul play." However, he added, it is possible Harris died of "natural causes because of the swollen condition of his entire body."

Deputy Sheriff Ed Edwards said Harris' brother, an Oklahoma City physician, was flying to Midland to assist in the investigation of the man's death.

The autopsy was scheduled to be performed Thursday afternoon, after the arrival of the brother.

Police Chief Rube Hemingway, who joined sheriff's deputies in investigating the death, said Harris and his wife, Neva, checked into Hotel Scharbauer Sunday.

Hands, Face Swollen

Wednesday evening they visited, along with Ray Manion and K. J. Manion, also hotel guests, in a Midland home and returned to the hotel about 8 p.m.

About 11 p.m., Hemingway said, the Manions also returned to the hotel and stopped by the Harris' room, a short distance down the hallway from their own.

The police chief said they told him they found Harris sitting in a

Crewmen Escape As Flames Destroy Giant B-36 Bomber

PORT WORTH — (P) — Flames destroyed a $3,500,000 B-36 Thursday shortly after the giant craft landed at Carswell Air Force Base. Maj. Frederick E. Bachmann, Jr., Baltimore, Md., the airplane commander, suffered a sprained ankle. The other 13 crew members escaped unhurt.

A fire fighter, Pfc. Wesley L. Johnson, Longview, received second degree burns when a magnesium portion of the left wing flared up in a blinding burst.

The bomber took off at 8 p.m. Wednesday on a training mission. It made a perfect landing at 6:55 a.m. and was rolling to a stop when the engine in the center of the left wing burst into flames.

"Everything was normal and working perfectly," Bachmann said, "there was no indication of anything wrong as we came in. I have no idea what caused the fire."

Lt. Col. Finlay Ross said the plane tilted to the left and the jet pod on that side touched the runway as the flames shot through the wing toward the fuselage. The three engines in the right wing continued to run for a time while the other wing burned and dropped to the pavement.

How Large Is Midland? Survey May Give Answer

How large is Midland? That question is asked a hundred times daily and no one is sure of the answer.

The population was 21,756 when the census count was made in 1950 but, obviously, Midland now is the home of thousands of newcomers.

So staff members of The Reporter-Telegram have made a careful survey of the city, examining every factor in an effort to determine with reasonable accuracy the city's present population.

The results will be published Sunday as one of the features of the 1952 Petroleum Progress Edition, the largest and most complete ever published in the Permian Basin Empire.

The price will be the same as usual—10 cents—with an extra 15-cent charge for papers which are mailed.

Midland Memorial Hospital Trustees Pick Dallas Man As New Administrator

Burton Newcomb Sears of Dallas was named Wednesday afternoon as the new administrator of Midland Memorial Hospital.

Announcement of the appointment of the 34-year-old administrator was made by George T. Abell, president of the board of trustees of the Midland Memorial Foundation, parent organization of the hospital.

Sears will take over his duties on March 17, succeeding Dr. Richard Harrell, who recently resigned to enter private business.

"We feel that Mr. Sears' qualifications as well as his background and his record fit him for the job of administering Midland Memorial Hospital," said Abell.

"We received applications from more than a dozen persons and we feel we are fortunate in getting such a man as this."

Trained in hospital administrative work, Sears has served as administrative assistant of the Dallas City-County Hospital System the last four years and holds a master's degree in hospital administration from Northwestern University.

Abell explained that from the more than 12 applicants for the post, five were selected for personal interviews with the board last Monday.

"They were all well qualified and well recommended," said Abell, "but we felt Mr. Sears would be in a better position, because of his record and background, to fill the job here."

A native of Wellesley, Mass., Sears was graduated from Brown University in 1941 with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

The following year, he entered the U. S. Army as a private and was attached to the medical department. Within a year he was commissioned a second lieutenant and was performing various administrative duties in station and regional hospitals.

He was discharged a first lieutenant in 1946 and began work on his master's degree at Northwestern, working part-time at St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago.

In 1947, he entered a one-year administrative residency in hospital administration at Baylor University in Dallas as a requirement for his master's degree.

His work there consisted of rotation through all departments of the hospital and three months with the administrator, performing the various administrative functions.

In 1948, he joined the Dallas City-County System, his principal duties consisting of direction of the activities of the business office and the social service department.

While Sears will report to his new position on March 17, he will be joined here later by his wife and two children.

During his university days, he served as resident during 1940-41 of the Brown Chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

His professional affiliations include: past president, Brown University Hospital Club; past president, Alpha Delta Eta, professional fraternity in hospital administration; 1953 president, 1951 vice president and 1950 secretary-treasurer, Dallas Hospital Council; member, Blacklands Area Hospital Council; member, American Hospital Association, and member, Civitan Club, Dallas.

Five Americans Are Nominated For Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO, NORWAY.—(AP)—The Nobel Committee announced Thursday that 27 individuals, including five Americans, have been nominated for the 1952 Nobel Peace Prize. The Americans: Frank Buchman, noted for his work with the Oxford Group on Moral Rearmament; Ewing Cockrell, Warrensburg, Mo., jurist now living in Washington, D. C.; Raphael Lemkin, Yale University, an authority on international law and the man who coined the word genocide for race murder; James Shotwell, historian and former president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and Clarence Streit, advocate of American union with Great Britain. Winner of the prize last year was Leon Jouhaux, the anti-Communist French labor leader. Others nominated include two prominent Canadians—Lester B. Pearson, external (foreign) affairs minister, and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent. Sir Benegal N. Rau, the Indian diplomat, and President Miguel Alemán of Mexico were among the others who will be considered for the award, usually made in the Fall.

Doomed Greek Spies Win Execution Stay

ATHENS, GREECE.—(AP)—Eight Greek Communists sentenced to die have won a stay of execution until their cases can be reviewed by a pardons board. A military court convicted the eight Saturday of leading a Red spy ring that radiated military secrets to neighboring Iron Curtain countries. A government spokesman Wednesday night said a pardons board will begin operating as soon as possible. Previously military court decisions had not been subject to such review.

Sylvia Sidney's Not Possessive; She Doesn't Cherish Past Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—Guys and Dolls: Sylvia Sidney, still younger than many reigning movie queens, told me: "I finally got aged-up enough to play a character part in Hollywood." The big-eyed star who was at her film peak two decades ago is playing Pantine in Fox's "Les Miserables" and denies comeback plans with: "I come out and haunt Hollywood every few years." Back in 1931, Sylvia played the factory girl who gets pushed into the lake in Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." She's unable to comment on Shelley Winters' acting in the same role in "A Place in the Sun."

"I didn't see the new version," Sylvia confessed, "and I didn't see the one I was in, either. Some actresses have a proprietary feeling about the roles they've played. When I finish a part, I'm through with it." "I want to know all there is to know about television. I want to become a real knowledgeable man in the field." Eddie Albert gave this as his reason for accepting a million-dollar deal as the star of a local Hollywood marathon daytime show in which he's called upon to munch his sponsors' cookies and cheese, indulge in homey chatter and pitch in with commercials.

Fred Allen

"Fred Allen," Eddie said, "once cracked that it may well be that the television comedian of the future will simply pull up a chair and talk casually to people. I think he was right." Eddie's contract allows him to make movies, produce documentaries for his own production company and even star in dramatic TV.

Louisiana Jet Ace, 100-Mission Man, To Come Home Soon

FIFTH AIR FORCE, KOREA.—(AP)—A veteran jet ace rounded out his 100 missions over Korea Wednesday and will head for home in a few days. He is Lt. Col. Richard D. Creighton, Baton Rouge, La. He became an ace last November 27 when he shot down his fifth MIG-15. The only remaining jet ace in Korea is Maj. William T. Whisner, Jr., Shreveport, La. He earned the coveted title a week ago on his eighty-fourth mission. Creighton was a close friend of Maj. George A. Davis, Jr., Lubbock, Texas, who was killed after becoming the nation's greatest jet ace with 14 enemy planes.

Creighton said all members of the Fourth Fighter Interceptor Wing, including Davis, felt it was fair to have all pilots fly 100 combat missions, whether or not they became aces. Creighton became an ace three days before Davis bagged his fifth plane and was the first U. S. pilot not sent home after becoming an ace in Korea. He, Davis and Lt. Col. Winton W. Marshall, Manhattan Beach, Calif., were "too valuable," the Air Force said. All were ordered to stay in action until they completed 100 missions.

Crane Newest City In WTCC's Ranks

CRANE—Crane is the newest affiliated city in the ranks of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Fifteen members already have been signed up for the regional organization, and Ted Thompson, who moved here recently from Midland, has been named Crane's WTCC director. Additional members are being sought to meet an enlarged quota accepted by the membership here. A delegation of Crane businessmen attended a three-district meeting of the West Texas Chamber Wednesday night in Midland.

Eight-Year-Old Girl Home Again, Still Unspanked

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(AP)—An unspanked eight-year-old girl was tucked snugly in her bed Wednesday night—and she was glad to be there. Janice Kay Carroll feared the spanking her mother had promised her more than the night, the wind, and sub-freezing weather. She spent Tuesday night huddled between two houses, afraid to go home. When she showed up for school—right on schedule—Wednesday morning, she had a tearful reunion with her mother, Mrs. Lois Carroll. Mrs. Carroll says she and her daughter have reached an understanding, "kind of 50-50." Janice Kay has promised not to stay away from home without first telling her mother—and Mrs. Carroll has ruled out spankings.

State-Ownership Backers Push Views In Debate On Senate Tideland Measure

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Advocates of state ownership of submerged offshore oil lands pushed their views Thursday as the Senate began its third day of debate on the issue. Senator Connally (D-Texas) was first in line to speak after the Senate convened. Declaring the states are the rightful owners of the lands off their coasts, he told a reporter he would propose that the Senate substitute a House-passed bill for its own bill to establish temporary supervision over the lands. The House measure would release all federal claim to the disputed lands. But he said his amendment probably wouldn't be acted upon until various other minor amendments are accepted or rejected.

Senators Long (D-La) and Holland (D-Fla) also were standing by to speak on behalf of state control. Holland has proposed an amendment differing only in degree to that pressed by Connally. His proposal, endorsed by 34 other senators, would give the states clear title and all revenue from oil and gas development on lands out to three miles from shore—10 1/2 miles in the case of Texas because of special conditions under which she joined the union. The House bill backed by Connally would give the states all this, plus 37 1/2 per cent of all revenues from development between the three-mile limit and the edge of the continental shelf. "I think our proposal has a better chance of passing," Holland said in an interview. But some sentiment was expressed Wednesday for denying to the individual states even the three-eighths share of royalties they would receive under the pending Senate proposal.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said he could see no reason for giving the states anything if the off-shore lands belong to the federal government and called the proposed payment "a pretty stiff effort to buy them off." Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), a co-sponsor of the Senate measure, said he considered the offer "a generous compromise." The producing states had been getting all the revenue, he said, until the Supreme Court ruled the federal government had a paramount interest in the land. Senator Cain (R-Wash) warned the Senate of expanding federal claims, reporting Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman had requested the State of Washington to cease issuing oil and gas drilling permits off its shores. He said senators should "bear this warning fact in mind: Every state in the union is equally subject to the strange and dangerous doctrine of 'paramount power' which the federal government believes that it was."

The Insurance Women of Midland met Wednesday in Hotel Scharbauer for a luncheon and business session.

Laura Jesse, president, presented the members with binders of the constitution and the by-laws of the organization.

Fern Kelly, vice president, was elected to serve on the state pin committee. Committee reports were made.

Vesta Sutherland was in charge of the program. The constitution and by-laws were read and approved, then discussed by the group.

Guests of the club were Marie Culver and Freda Phillips. Twelve members were present.

MAKE-UP WON'T HIDE CALENDAR LOOK

but this scientific way may avoid showing monthly "marryes"

All the make-up in this world can't take that drawn, nervous look out of your eyes each month. But here's a modern way that has helped many women and girls who suffer from calendar "marryes" and the signs. It's Cardui, a tested medicine that helps build strength and relaxes each month. After a time, many women feel no monthly change at all. Also helps relax liver and sleep better. Look for your normal, happy self. Ask your dealer for Cardui, they "get-it-right".

Study Club Federation Tea Features Two-Part Program

The annual Federation Tea of the Modern Study Club was held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Earl Johnson.

The program was given in two parts. Mrs. Douglas Edman talked on the "Importance of the Individual Club Woman." Mrs. Edman said the club woman is the conscience of America because she is concerned with education, fine arts, youth, welfare, and the extension of democracy.

"Individual women are the foundation of the entire international organization of clubs," she stated. "There are 5,000,000 women in the General Federation of Club Women."

Mrs. K. C. Slough gave the second part of the program on "Why Federate?" She compared the federation to the early colonies in America in gaining strength in union.

She said that since the federation had such a wide acceptance it must have something in its power.

Mrs. Bryan Denson, vice president, presided over the business meeting, in the absence of Mrs. Carl Westlund, president, who is in Hawaii.

The club was asked by the Texas Federation to put emphasis on Pan American relations and to observe Pan American Day, April 14.

It was announced that an essay contest on "Clean Waters for Our Towns" was being offered by the GFWC. The awards will be made in May.

The club also was asked to give aid to the Indians in Texas who were in need. For more international understanding, the women of the club were requested to write to women abroad.

The decorations for the meeting were in pink and green. The table was laid in a lace cloth with a centerpiece of pink carnations. Pink candles in silver adorned the table.

Guests of the meeting were Mrs. Ed Frustermaker, Mrs. Ole Westlund, Mrs. R. E. Gillespie, Mrs. B. G. Hubner, Mrs. Richard Adams, Mrs. John W. Skinner, Mrs. Harry Denton, Mrs. H. O. Stewart, Mrs. Morgan Gist and Mrs. J. M. Orman.

Members present were Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mrs. John Casselman, Mrs. Denson, Mrs. Edman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Keith, Mrs. R. E. Morgan, Mrs. Lee B. Park, Mrs. Brandon Rea, Mrs. Ed Shakely, Mrs. Slough, Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Mrs. W. B. Anders, Mrs. J. T. Gist, Mrs. J. W. Carroll and Mrs. C. L. Sherwood.

Gift Tea Honors Bride-Elect

Genora Brown, bride-elect of Kenneth Watson of Groves, was honored Tuesday with a gift tea in the home of Mrs. T.N.E. Neeley.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. H. S. Collings, Mrs. K. C. Slough and Sarah Hunter.

Those in the house party were Mrs. Barbara A. Wall, grandmother of the honoree, Mrs. B. E. Payne of Carlsbad, N. M., aunt of the honoree, Mrs. Forrest Hunter, Mrs. James Short and Mrs. R. W. Herington.

Mrs. Slough, Mrs. Collings, Mrs. Neeley, Mrs. E. Yates Brown and the honoree were in the receiving line. Miss Hunter presided at the guest register and Mrs. Payne served refreshments.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, stock and greenery. The arrangement was flanked with light green tapers. An arrangement of pink gladioli was on the buffet.

Approximately 100 guests attended.

4—THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, THURSDAY, MARCH 6, 1952

Community Theater And Music Club To Present 'The Mikado'

"The Mikado," a Gilbert and Sullivan light opera, will be presented March 13, 14 and 15 in the City-County Auditorium. The opera will be produced by the Midland Community Theater, Inc., in cooperation with the Midland Music Club. It is the first musical to be presented by the Community Theater. The solo parts in the opera are Yum-Yum (soprano), the romantic lead; Pitti-Sing and Peep-Bo (meso-sopranos), companions of Yum-Yum and the other members of the famous "Three Little Maids From School"; Kaitisha (contralto), a formidable lady of the "Mikado's court" who is determined to maintain her status as "daughter-in-law-elect." Nanki-Poo (tenor), a noble youth disguised as a wandering minstrel; Ko-Ko (baritone), an ex-tailor who has been elevated to the office of lord high executioner; Poo-Bah (baritone), a pompous bureaucrat who holds all the other offices; Fish-Tush (high baritone), a noble lord, and the Mikado (bass-baritone), the exemplar of regal grandeur.

Tickets On Sale For Forthcoming Grainger Recital

Tickets now are on sale at Wemple's for the Percy Grainger concert to be given March 21 in the high school auditorium.

Grainger, well-known pianist and composer, will give two performances under the auspices of the Midland Woman's Club, Inc. The first will be a student's concert at 4:30 p.m. and the second a public performance at 8:15 p.m.

Mrs. Leonard Thomas is general chairman for the project. Henry T. Finck of the New York Evening Post and Philip Hale of the Boston Herald were among the first to recognize Grainger's talent. Following Grainger's first American piano recital, Finck wrote: "Hats off! A genius."

In a more technical commentary, Hale said: "Grainger is a fascinating pianist. He has a singularly agreeable touch. In passages of tender sentiment his tone is never effeminate; in robust moments he respects the limitations of the instrument. His tonal variety allows him to color at will. His sense of rhythm is keen; his technique, peculiarly individual, suits his musical and poetic nature. He has that rare quality—self control. The hearer feels at once that this pianist has something to say, and is abundantly able to say it."

Playing these parts will be Sheila Thompson, Yum-Yum; Jans Parker, Pitti-Sing; Betty Skrabec, Peep-Bo; Edith Hall, Kaitisha; George DeHart, Nanki-Poo; Duke Jmerson, Ko-Ko; Wesley Davis, Poo-Bah; Max Schumann, Fish-Tush, and C. O. Cooper, the Mikado. Art Cole will be the stage director, R. C. Michener, musical director, Joanne Himmels, assistant musical director, and Pat O'Brien, accompanist.

Guest Lecturer Talks On Writing

Eleanor Graham Vance of Alva, Okla., poet, lecturer and free-lance writer, spoke to the Midland Writers Group Wednesday night on the technical aspects of writing poems, children's fiction and magazine articles.

She also read some of her poetry. Mrs. Vance is a contributor to the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies' Home Journal, New Yorker, Good Housekeeping and Hollands, as well as to publications for children. During the last two years she has won several prizes offered by the Poetry Society of Texas and the Poetry Society of Oklahoma.

She also has authored a number of adaptations of fairy tales and classics in the children's field. One of Mrs. Vance's most recent publications was an article in Good Housekeeping entitled "What Ought You to Afford?"

St. Andrews Circles Have Bible Study

The Morning and Evening Circles of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church met Tuesday for Bible study in the home of Mrs. Lewis Waterstreet.

Mrs. Charles Gaylord discussed the Ten Commandments at the Morning Circle meeting and Mrs. Max Schulte led the discussion at the meeting of the Evening Circle.

The Morning Circle also studied the survey article on "Evangelism," led by Mrs. R. L. Gray. Mrs. James Grimes was named circle chairman for the coming year. It was announced that the Presbyterial will be held April 18 and 17 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Others attending the morning meeting were Mrs. C. A. McClintic, Mrs. Charles Dobbs, Mrs. R. F. Carroll, Mrs. C. E. Bissell, Mrs. Edward Jenni and Mrs. James I. Trot.

Registered Nurses Attend Stanton Meet

District 21 of the Texas Graduate Nurses Association voted Tuesday at a meeting in Stanton to increase private duty nurses' charges to $1.37 1/2 an hour.

A special guest at the meeting was Beulah Miles of St. Louis, Mo., nursing representative of the American Red Cross. Bessie Love of Big Spring discussed proposed changes in the structure of the nursing program and Betty Gaddis of Stanton presided over an idea exchange on nursing techniques.

Midlanders attending were Mary Lokey, Jayne Olsen, Frances Clark, Mrs. Helen Lusk, Mrs. Ruth Rhodes, Mrs. Mildred Robinson, Mrs. Peggy Rose and Mrs. Irma Day. Forty members were present.

Mrs. Bill Fowler Is Circle Hostess

Mrs. Bill Fowler was hostess to the Edwina Kirk Circle when it met in her home Wednesday. Mrs. R. K. Kimberlin, Jr., gave the opening prayer and the minutes were read by the secretary.

It was announced that 10 Korean Bibles had been bought and that a pot plant had been sent to Mrs. Paul C. Reid. It was suggested that something for the new parsonage be brought to the next meeting.

Mrs. Fowler gave the lesson. She was assisted by Mrs. T. R. McAden. Mrs. William J. Nutto discussed "Let Courage Rise With Danger." Mrs. R. L. Kirk gave the closing prayer.

Others attending were Mrs. E. W. Reed, Mrs. Brooks Williams, Mrs. W. R. Bryant, Jr., Mrs. H. E. Wilson, Mrs. L. B. Windham, Mrs. W. M. Harris and a guest, Mrs. J. H. Franier.

Martin Boy Shows Grand Champ Steer In Odessa Exhibits

ODESSA—Bobby Owen Kelly, 16-year-old Martin County 4-H Club boy, exhibited the grand champion steer in the boys baby beef show Wednesday in the Sand Hills Hereford and Quarter Horse Show.

Kelly's 960-pound milkfed Hereford was first among 115 steers shown here the opening day. There were 90 lambs and 55 sheep.

More than 100 horses are entered in the Quarter Horse show set Friday.

The reserve champion steer was shown by Jerry Allen of Mason.

In the boys' fine wool lamb show, Quentin Lyles, 11, of McCamey had the champion.

Theodore Roosevelt's picture appears on the $1,000,000 U. S. Treasury Bond.

Shell Shock Victim Admits Murder Of 62-Year-Old Mother

CLARKDALE, ARIZ.—(AP)—Searl M. Ward, 26-year-old Idaho, man who admitted killing his mother and then stuffing her body in the trunk compartment of his car, Thursday was to be returned to Idaho authorities after he waived extradition.

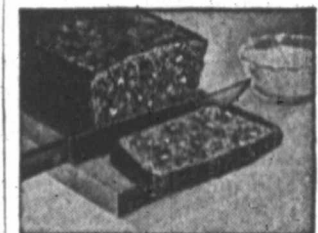

Ward was arrested here Wednesday without offering resistance although he had a loaded .22 caliber rifle and several hundred rounds of ammunition in the car.

Ward said he killed his 62-year-old mother, Mrs. Alice Ward, during a fight at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Idaho. Ward said he quarreled with his mother because of his 10-week growth of beard and that she objected to his contemplated trip to Alaska.

A service station attendant noticed blood dripping from the car and notified a state highway patrolman.

Ward spent five months in an Army mental hospital at Cheyenne, Wyo., and had been discharged but a short time. Sheriff Saul Clark at Burley, Idaho, said Ward was a victim of shell shock in World War II.

FLU REMEDY IS 80 PROOF

NOBLESVILLE, IND.—(AP)—A 28-year-old factory worker's efforts to combat the influenza epidemic didn't get much sympathy from state police.

Jesse Carter told the police he was making "flu medicine" in five-gallon cans, copper tubing and 50-gallon wooden drums they confiscated at his cabin Wednesday.

Two gallons of the "medicine" they also confiscated, tested 80 proof. They charged Carter with possessing untaxed liquor and with owning a still.

13-Year-Old Boy Confesses Slaying Pretty Classmate

SMITHTOWN, N. Y.—(AP)—A 13-year-old boy was held in jail Thursday, accused of killing a pretty classmate when she resisted his advances as they walked together.

Harold Lorentson, an honor student, was charged with first degree murder Wednesday night.

Suffolk County District Attorney Lindsay R. Henry said the boy admitted in a signed statement that he killed 13-year-old Lydie Kitchner, who had sat next to him in a seventh grade class.

The brown-eyed girl's bruised body, the clothing in disarray, was found in a Long Island wooded area last November 29. She had been strangled with her own scarf. Police questioned scores of her schoolmates.

Young Lorentson was arrested at Smithtown Junior High School Wednesday. Upon arraignment, he waived examination and was held for grand jury action Tuesday or Wednesday.

Henry said the boy's parents, Mr. & Mrs. Harry Lorentson, were separated and the boy lived with his mother.

Tennessee Company Reports On Income

HOUSTON—The Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, operator of the nation's longest natural gas pipeline system, in its annual report to stockholders Thursday reported 1951 net income of $13,472,320, highest in its seven-year history, completion of a 1951 construction program that raised delivery capacity by 20 per cent and plans for further expansion of facilities in 1952.

The 1951 net income was equivalent to $1.63 per share of the 8,110,245 shares of common stock outstanding after providing for preferred stock dividends. This compared with 1950 net earnings of $12,654,643, which also were equivalent to $1.63 per share on the same number of common shares, after dividend provisions for the lesser amount of preferred stock then outstanding.

Expansion of subsidiary company activity also was shown in the report. This included the Tennessee Production Company, an oil and gas exploration and production firm.

This subsidiary in December purchased oil and gas properties in Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas from the Frankel interests. In January, 1952, it bought all of the outstanding stock of York & Harper, Inc., independent oil company of Midland, Texas, owning extensive properties in the Permian Basin area, of West Texas and New Mexico.

Mother Hangs Three Children, Then Ends Own Life Same Way

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N. Y.—(AP)—A Long Island mother hanged her three small children with their cowboy belts Wednesday and then took her own life the same way.

Neighbors found the children hanging from the bed posts in their downstairs bedroom. Upstairs, the mother had used another cowboy belt to take her own life.

The victims were Mrs. Mary G. Klemm, 30, and Frank, Jr., six, Richard, four, and Margaret, 13 months.

The father, Frank J. Klemm, a draftsman, was working in New York City when the tragedy occurred.

Later, Klemm told police his wife had been "acting nervous" and had an appointment to see a psychiatrist next week. He said she had threatened several times to take her life. Contents of notes left by the woman to her husband and parents were not disclosed.

BASEBALL BRIEFS—

Schoendienst Back At Second; Cubans Late For Training

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(P)—Whitey Lockman, the new No. 1 hitter on the New York Giants, is perfectly happy being assigned to the top of the batting order.

"I think my hitting No. 1 is going to improve my average," commented the first baseman. "Most of the time I'm going to be up there on my own and won't be required to push anyone around."

Lockman hit .282 last year and drove in 73 runs.

VERO BEACH, FLA.—(P)—Newest of the phenoms in the Brooklyn camp is Johnny Podres, a teen-ager. Johnny, who has had only Class D experience, has hurled six scoreless innings in intra-squad games and has not given up a walk.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(P)—"Junkman" Bob Hogue, the only unscared-on pitcher in the majors last year, is going to have to fight for a spot on the 1952 New York Yankee pitching staff.

Hogue, a reliever who throws a variety of stuff with no outstanding pitch—hence the name "Junkman"—made nine appearances for the bombers in '51 and didn't give up a run. But there's so much mound talent around, he may have his troubles sticking.

BRADENTON, FLA.—(P)—National League infielders better be on their toes this season against fleet Sam Jethroe of the Boston Braves—he's going to bunt in every game. Swift Sam bunted safely and also belted a triple in a practice contest Wednesday and Manager Tommy Holmes said Jethroe's bunting might be the answer to the Tribe's many one-run losses a year ago.

"He's going to bunt at least once in every game for us," said Holmes. "I think he's learned he must do it more often to make himself a better ball player."

LAKELAND, FLA.—(P)—The Detroit Tigers lined up against each other Thursday for their first intra-squad game with Outfielder Vic Wertz continuing his first base experiment.

And as Jerry Priddy remained a holdout, Manager Red Rolfe said Rookie Al Federoff would get the second base assignment for the exhibition schedule starting Saturday.

PASADENA, CALIF.—(P)—Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox Thursday awaited the appearance of his "Cuban Delegation" at training headquarters. Minnie Mino, Willie Miranda and Hector Rodriguez had been ex-

Colts Sign McClain, Lose Wayne Wallace

SAN ANGELO—Jake McClain, former San Angelo and Big Spring player, is San Angelo property again. The former infielder turned outfielder was purchased from Harlingen Wednesday and promptly signed a 1952 Colt contract.

The Colt management also has signed Wayne Wallace, hard-hitting first baseman, who will not be back with San Angelo. He is to play with Corpus Christi.

Four More Indians Sign 1952 Contracts

Midland Baseball, Inc., Thursday announced the names of four more players who have signed 1952 contracts.

The latest to ink, according to General Manager Horace Busby, are Outfielder Stan Wilcox, Pitcher Keith Nicholls, Catcher-Outfielder Edwin Mennepace and Second Baseman Bill Crumley.

This brings the total signed to 11. Previously, Pitchers Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal, Billy Reed, Israel Ten; Outfielders Hyden White and Rudy Escobar; Third Baseman Julio de la Torre and Catcher Gordon Tanner had signed.

TAAF Cage Tourney Friday In Odessa

ODESSA.—(P)—The state TAAF Basketball Tournament starts here Friday morning, with Kelly Manufacturing of Houston, defending champ, one of the pre-tournament favorites.

Another standout among the 22 teams entered is McCamey News Publishing Company, with a record of 20 wins against one loss this season.

Quarter-finals are slated Friday night, semi-finals Saturday morning and finals Saturday night. Midland's Rotary Engineers play the Brownfield-Waco winner at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Ex-UT Grid Great Escapes Serious Car Crash Injury

Two former University of Texas football players escaped serious injuries late Tuesday night when their car overturned 12 miles east of Midland on the Stanton highway.

Authorities Thursday identified them as Jack Crain, great Longhorn scabback, and Joe Parker. They were enroute to Midland. Their car apparently overturned after a tire blowout. It was damaged badly. Crain and Parker were said to be with the Texas land department.

J. Edgar Hoover became director of the FBI in 1924.

The 1952 All-America basketball squad was named Wednesday and Midland didn't land a player on it, but one Midlander did make All-America in another field.

George Holt Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Glass, has been named by Jimmy Robinson, editor of Sports and Field magazine, as a member of the All-America skeet shoot team.

Young Glass, who now is attending SMU at Dallas, formerly was national junior champion in skeet shooting.

A man who has seen Earl Rossberry, the recently-purchased Midland first baseman, came through Midland Wednesday and talked with Horace Busby, front-office head of the Midland baseball club.

Busby said the fan watched Rossberry in Louisiana last season and said he's one of the smoothest operators he's seen at first base. The talented young man has notified the club he can't report here until June 1, but officials are trying to work something out so he will be able to play before that date.

The old "Nocona Nugget," Cowboy Jack Crain of U of Texas gridiron fame, was here Wednesday along with another ex-Longhorn, Joe Parker.

They conversed with "Bull" Rankin who played at Texas Tech under Pete Cawthon and then did a pro stint or so with the Chicago Cardinals. Rankin now is associated with the Car-Trucks rental agency here.

That Leon Brinkopf who is trying for a third-base position with the Chicago Cubs is the same boy who played for Odessa in the Longhorn League here a few years ago. Last season, Brinkopf was with Los Angeles.

Nine Slots For NCAA Are Unfilled

NEW YORK.—(P)—The regular-season action among the college basketball teams is practically over and only seven of the 16 teams which will play in the NCAA tournament had been decided Thursday.

Kentucky, Illinois, Texas Christian, St. Louis and Wyoming, all champions of their conferences, are in, along with Santa Clara and Oklahoma City, two Western at-large teams.

That leaves nine selections still to be made for the tournament that begins in four cities March 21. Four of them will be at-large fives, while the winners of the Ivy League, Southern Conference, Border Conference, Big Seven and Pacific Coast Conference remain to be settled.

Kentucky, the Southern Conference champion, and two at-large teams will start play in Raleigh, N. C. In action at Chicago will be Illinois, the Ivy League titleholder and the other two teams selected-at-large in the East.

The Western regional play will start at Kansas City and Corvallis, Ore. At Kansas City will be Texas Christian, St. Louis and the Big Seven and Border Conference champions. The Pacific Coast Conference and Skyline winners will meet Santa Clara and Oklahoma City, elected at-large, at Corvallis.

The semi-final and final rounds will be played at Seattle March 25-26.

The Ivy League is nip and tuck between Cornell and Princeton, each beaten only once with Penn, 7-2, still in the running. If it finishes in a tie, a playoff will be required. The Southern Conference winner will be decided at the end of its tournament starting Thursday.

In the Border Conference, West Texas State and New Mexico A&M, are tied with 12-2 and meet in a playoff Friday. The Big Seven race probably also will be settled Thursday when Kansas and Kansas State, each boasting 9-1 records, clash in Lawrence, Kan.

The two-out-of-three scramble for the right to represent the Pacific Coast Conference gets under way

15 MHS Gridders Sent Back To Classes; Captains Named

Fifteen Midland High School grid prospects were cut from the squad and Spring training by coaches Wednesday because of unsatisfactory grades.

No names were released by officials, but Head Coach Tugboat Jones said none of the boys were top flight performers. He did say, however, that several of the boys

Friday with Northern Division winner Washington playing UCLA, Southern section victor.

The remaining four at-large teams probably won't be determined until the end of the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden. Some of the top prospects are Penn State, Duquesne, Boston College, Holy Cross and Loyola of Chicago. Duquesne and Holy Cross are in the NIT.

As for the NAIB journey which opens Monday at Kansas City, Indiana State, the 1951 winner, again qualified by beating Indiana Central Wednesday night, 68-55.

Millikin also qualified by upsetting previously unbeaten Eastern Illinois, 74-71. Clarion (Pa) Teachers, unbeaten in 19 games, ripped Millersville, 50-49, for the right to represent Pennsylvania while Whitworth walloped Gonzaga, 90-65, in the district one final.

There were several upsets Wednesday night. Manhattan took Fordham 64-56; Syracuse upended Penn, 94-76; Niagara surprised Colgate in overtime, 68-66; aid Tufts downed Harvard, 79-76. In other games Wyoming beat Colorado A&M, 89-57, and East Tennessee won the Smoky Mountain Tourney by beating Union (Ky) 86-47.

were up from the B team and had been counted on for action next season.

Jones hastened to point out the action will not keep them from playing next season. "When they bring up their grades, they can come back to the squad," the Midland mentor stated.

Included in the 15 were B and C team players, he said.

Otherwise, the Spring workouts are progressing smoothly. Hall birds Wednesday commented the workouts looked sharper than at any time this Spring. A Spring game is on tap for 3:30 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium.

Squad members have elected Larry Friday, blocking back and Red East, tackle, as captains for the 1952 season.

Midland High School will take a four-man track team to Fort Worth next weekend for the annual Southwest relay. Roy Kinsey, Johnny Kennedy, Dan Black and Robert Keating will make the trip. Marcelino Moreno, Lee Sneed, Luke McFarland and Raymond Leggett will head the Midland golf team in the same meet.

SMU Outfielder Lost By Injuries

DALLAS.—(P)—Southern Methodist's baseball team will have to get along without Outfielder Verde Dickey of Dallas.

It was discovered Thursday that Dickey fractured his collar bone in an attempt to catch Tuesday in San Antonio when SMU played Brooke Army Medical.

Schoolboy State Meet Is Underway

AUSTIN.—(P)—The cream of Texas schoolboy basketball opened battle Thursday when tourney veteran Sliedell opposed newcomer Balmorhea at 8:45 a.m. in the first game of the Texas Interscholastic League Boys Basketball Tournament.

Sliedell, making its fourth trip to the tournament, was seeking to repeat its Class B championship feats of 1942 and 1943. Balmorhea, from the Big Bend country, was making its first appearance in the giant cage tourney on the University of Texas campus. Sliedell had a 33-1 season record while Balmorhea had won 23 against 10 losses.

Sammorwood, with Class B's top record of 34-1, vied with tough Laneville (43-7) in the second game of the day. Laneville ousted 1951 Class B champion Cayuga, 76-56, in regional play.

Perennially strong Big Sandy (39-4) began afternoon play against Hawley (36-3). Runner-up in both 1949 and 1951. Big Sandy is rated the strongest team in Class B. Big Glenn Fields, a 1951 all-tournament selection, leads the Big Sandy scorers.

Dimmitt, the only undefeated team in the tournament, kicked off play in division 11 when it met Sweeny at 3:10 p.m. Dimmitt has lost but two games in the last two years, while winning more than 60.

Piano and Lovelady completed the Class A half of Division 11 when they met at 4:35 p.m. to end the afternoon play.

Moving into the Class AA half, Levelland (31-4) meets the French Bulls of Beaumont (31-3) in the first game Thursday night. Levelland lost to Pasadena in the Class A finals in 1946. French, back for the fifth straight time, finished second in 1949 and third in 1950.

The only returning champion from last year, the Bowie Jackrabbits, take on the speedy Madisonville Mustangs in the final game Thursday. The Jackrabbits have a 27-2 record even though not a member of their championship starting five is back.

Division 1 (Classes AAA and AAAA) play opens Friday afternoon, with the first round running through the Friday night games. Brownwood and Gladewater vie in the first game followed by Bryan and Alamo Heights of San Antonio. Fort Worth Poly and Sam Houston of Houston and Waco and Borger are matched in the Friday night tilt.

La Motta, Hairston Fight To Draw Verdict

DETROIT.—(P)—Jake La Motta, former middleweight champion, showing the strain of 12 years campaigning in the professional ring, got a 10-round draw with up-and-coming Eugene Hairston Wednesday night.

On the eve of the bout, La Motta let it be known he would retire for good if the 23-year-old Hairston beat him decisively.

Now La Motta says he is going to keep on fighting. He wants a shot at Joe Maxim's light heavyweight title.

La Motta's tactic of putting on a dazzling flurry at the end of each round paid off. Both judges scored it as even 50 points for each boxer. Referee Morris Sherman gave the verdict to Hairston by a 52-38 margin. Under Michigan boxing rules the majority decision made it a draw.

Joe DiMaggio is the only man to ever play on four straight World Championship clubs in his first four years in baseball.

Midland Farmers Vote $7,000 For Rain-Making Try

A group of drought-discouraged Midland County farmers and ranchers are going to put $7,000 on the line to see if they can get some rain.

"Now, we don't make it rain," Clyde Hoyt of Denver made it clear to them Wednesday night in a meeting at the Courthouse.

"We only increase the amount of rain which would fall normally."

That was enough for the more than 50 men who attended the meeting and they voted unanimously to join the West Texas Weather Improvement District.

Farmer B. J. Graham and Rancher John Dublin were named as directors of the district's board, which will include representatives from at least nine other West Texas Counties.

Hoyt appeared at the meeting as a representative of Dr. Irving Krick, who last year worked his rain-increasing methods on some 350,000,000 acres throughout the United States.

"We're not absolutely sure we brought any rain," he said, "but all reports have shown an increase in rainfall in the target areas."

"This year, with a few exceptions, we will work those same areas plus a number of new areas."

Hoyt traced the history of rain-making efforts and said, "They've known for 100 years that it could be done."

"And they have found it possible to seed clouds by injecting silver iodide crystals," he added. "For some reason these crystals attract larger raindrops."

It is with Dr. Krick's organization that the district will discuss a contract Monday night at a meeting in Lamesa.

The price for the 10-county area, said Hoyt, will be $60,000, with the member counties sharing the expense. Midland County will be assessed $6,000 with an additional $1,000 for office and other expense.

The individual farmers and ranchers will contribute on the basis of five cents an acre for cultivated farm land and two cents an acre for grazing land.

Business men, too, may contribute by assuming the cost of any given number of acres.

Better Than Roster Fight

"Aren't there 700 people in the county," asked Dublin, "who'd give $10 apiece for rain?"

"Nobody's promised any rain yet," someone yelled from the back of the room.

"Well," replied Dublin, "there's a lot of people that'd bet $10 on a roster fight and think nothing of it."

The enthusiasm of the group finally reached the point, where one farmer seriously inquired:

"How to we stop the rain once it gets started?"

Hoyt replied just as seriously:

"In our contract, we reserve the right to stop the seeding anytime it looks like the situation is becoming dangerous."

Brooks Pulls Out Of Commissioner Race

J. C. Brooks, Midland County farm operator, Thursday announced he is withdrawing from the race for county commissioner, Precinct 1.

Brooks, who announced early in January he would be a candidate for the office, said he will not have time to campaign for the position due to the press of private business. He is a former commissioner of Precinct 2.

He expressed appreciation to friends and acquaintances who had volunteered their support in the July 26 Democratic primary, but said it will be impossible for him to continue in the race.

Brooks' withdrawal leaves six candidates in the Precinct 1 race.

WTCC—

We will stand for it," he stated.

"We have been on the defensive too long. Let's take the offense in this important matter."

The administration for a number of years has attempted to abolish the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance or to cut it to 15 per cent.

Kelley lambasted the confused state of affairs in Washington and called for a general awakening of citizens at the grass roots in order to straighten out "the state of affairs in which we live ourselves."

"I don't think the nation is going communist, but we are headed into some kind of authoritative form of government which puts all the power in Washington."

"The trend of government is to take away from those that have and give to those who don't have. Bigger Budget Needed"

"West Texans should lead the way in a program to rid the nation of confusion," he declared.

Fred Husband, executive vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber, also spoke concerning the accomplishments and objectives of the regional organization, and stressed the need of increasing the WTCC's 1952 budget to $138,000 to finance adequately its overall program of work.

Among the WTCC projects listed by Husband were water resources, taxation and legislation, citizenship and government studies, industrial development, public education, highway development, Mexican relations, soil conservation, livestock-agriculture and public relations.

"West Texas offers tremendous opportunities for development, and the only limitations of the WTCC are leadership and funds to do an adequate job."

"We can get the leadership and we must get the funds," he stated.

Cities represented at the meeting included Midland, Andrews, Big Spring, Kermit, Lamesa, Odessa, Seminole, Stanton, Crane, Monahan, Pecos, Alpine, Big Lake and Fort Stockton.

Senate Will Probe State Department's Security Program

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Without even waiting to decide which committee will conduct it, senators mapped plans Thursday for a full-scale investigation of the State Department's loyalty-security program.

Senators McCarran (D-Nev.) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) said there will be such an inquiry, with Secretary of State Acheson testifying under oath.

The only question was whether the investigation will be made by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee or the Appropriations subcommittee handling State Department funds. McCarran is chairman of both groups and Ferguson is a member of both.

Demands by McCarran and Ferguson for the inquiry followed Acheson's announcement that he had reversed the findings of the department's loyalty-security board in the case of Career Diplomat Oliver Edmund Clubb.

The board found Clubb was a security risk, although there was no adverse finding as to Clubb's loyalty.

Acheson's action allowed Clubb to retire on pension.

Deadlocked Truce Talks Bog Deeper

MUNSAN, KOREA —(AP)— The deadlocked Korean truce talks bogged down even further Thursday as Communist negotiators insisted that neutral terms, including Russians, be permitted to inspect secret equipment during an armistice.

Staff officers wrangled fruitlessly more than an hour, but the prisoner exchange subcommittee called it a day after only 12 minutes. Negotiators agreed there was no point in rehearsing old arguments.

The deadlock has become so serious observers here said they believe only action at the top level could end the stalemate.

Balmerhea Ousted In State Cage Play

AUSTIN —(AP)— Sliedell's Greyhounds walloped Balmerhea, 44-19, Thursday to advance into the second round of the State Schoolboy Basketball Tournament in Class B.

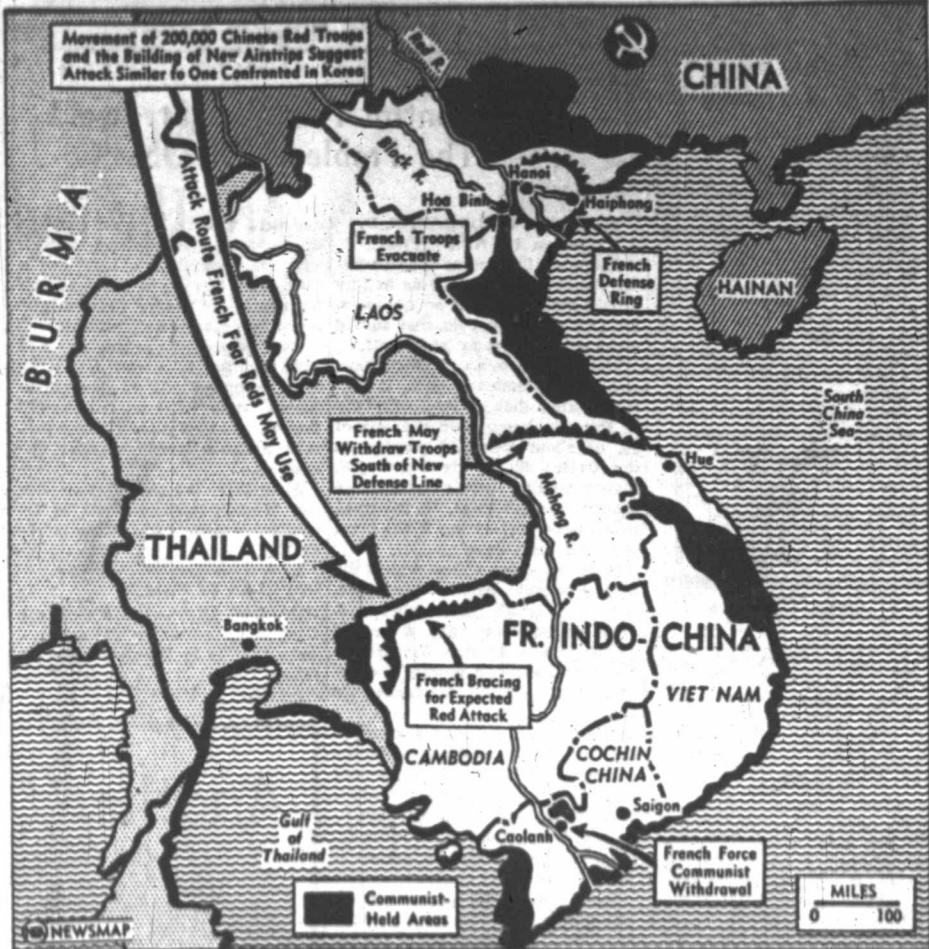

Sliedell was never behind as it capitalized on superior height and an impenetrable zone defense.

FRENCH FEAR RED DRIVE IN INDO-CHINA—Newsmag above shows critical situation in Indo-China, where Viet Minh Communists are advancing at a rate imperiling the whole French position in the north to the point where the defenders may have to make a major withdrawal. Most grave recent setback was loss of the fortress city of Hoa Binh, necessitating a "last ditch" defense ring around Hanoi and its port Haiphong. With Chinese Red troops massed on Indo-China's northern border, French fear a Korea-type invasion, possible through an "end run" through Thailand to attack Cambodia and Cochin China.

THEY SNIFF, NOT SMOKE

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Police are having sniff sessions at every roll call to recognize the aroma of a burning marijuana cigarette.

A lighted "reefer" is passed around to all police for a smell. No one takes a puff. The flag is kept burning by an atomizer attachment.

Red Cross Drive Opens

Midland's Red Cross finance campaign was launched Thursday in the residential sections following a coffee held at the Ranch House.

More than 100 women attended the session, which was presided over by Mrs. Raymond Leggett, chairman of the residential division.

R. L. Miller, general chairman of the campaign, spoke briefly at the meeting, expressing appreciation to the volunteer workers for their interest in the Red Cross.

The house-to-house canvass will continue the remainder of this week. Meanwhile, the drive in the business district was continuing full blast. Workers are urged to complete their assignments and to report to team captains as promptly as possible.

American Sabres Kill Another MIG

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— American Sabre jets destroyed a Communist MIG and damaged another Thursday in a 10-minute battle. The dogfight ranged as far south as the North Korean capital, Pyongyang, just 70 miles north of Parallel 38.

Allied fighter-bombers cut Communist rail lines in 92 places and destroyed or damaged 50 boxcars, the Fifth Air Force said. Marine Corsair pilots reported destroying two Communist tanks northeast of Pyongyang.

On the ground, hit-and-run Allied raiders killed 40 Communists and wounded 30 in four firefights in Eastern Korea.

An artillery and infantrymen pinched off a Chinese Communist attack near the old Iron Triangle on the central front Thursday morning.

Reds Get Parts Of Diary Pinned By U. S. General

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Parts of a diary of the former military attaché to the American Embassy in Moscow have been obtained by the Communists, a U. S. Army spokesman disclosed Thursday.

Brig. Gen. Frank Dorn, deputy chief of information, said Iron Curtain sources have been circulating extracts from the diary as part of their propaganda drive against the U. S.

He said the Army is investigating to find out how the Reds got extracts from the diary.

Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow, its author, was reassigned to duty in Washington in January when the Army found out about the extracts, Dorn said.

Grow was not available immediately for comment.

In a copyrighted story Thursday, the Washington Post said photographs of the extracts are reproduced in a book recently published in Communist-controlled East Germany. It said the book is "aimed at convincing Germans that America is a 'war-monger.'"

Villemain Favored Over Joey De John

SYRACUSE, N. Y. —(AP)— Robert Villemain, the busy French middleweight, is rated a 3-to-1 favorite to beat Joey De John, Syracuse slugger, in their 10-rounder Thursday night.

Villemain weighed 162 1/2 pounds and De John 165 when they finished training Wednesday.

Texas Refineries Prepare To Close

By The Associated Press

Some of the mammoth refineries along the Texas coast were preparing Thursday to shut down in anticipation of the oil strike scheduled Sunday midnight.

Preparations went ahead despite continued—but rather mysterious—activity on the part of a government mediator at Port Arthur, an industry concentration point.

The coordinated strike of 22 unions was set originally for last Sunday midnight. The unions, seeking a 25 cents an hour wage increase, assented to a government plea for a week's postponement.

James O. Hubbard, Houston, regional government mediator, scheduled a meeting Thursday afternoon at the Goodhue Hotel in Port Arthur. Who would attend or the purpose of the meeting was not explained in advance.

Hubbard talked in Beaumont Wednesday night with Elro Brown, District 4 director of the Oil Workers International Union (O.I.O.). Most of the Texas oil workers involved are O.I.W.U. members. Neither Hubbard nor Brown would comment on the talk.

The shutdown of Magnolia's huge Beaumont refinery was scheduled to begin at one minute after midnight Friday unless word of a settlement or another postponement is received.

Gulf Oil Corporation said it will begin shutting down its big Port Arthur plant Saturday night.

Frank Wallace, manager of the big Texas Company refinery at Port Arthur, would not give the exact time to start shutting it down but said it would take about two days. That would mean the shutdown would have to begin Saturday night, at least.

Magnolia's industrial relations department in Beaumont reported Thursday it did not know of any further negotiations planned in Beaumont. The strike would affect about 2,600 Magnolia plant and office workers but some 500 others—executives, supervisors and office staff—and about 500 watchmen would continue to work.

Education Means Progress, Downing Tells Rotarians

The history of Texas and its public school system was discussed by Delbert Downing at the meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer, as a special feature of Texas Public School Week.

"The history of Texas and the history of our public schools are so inter-related that one cannot talk about one without the other," Downing stated.

"It is through the process of education that we have progressed in all walks of life."

The speaker discussed developments in agriculture, transportation and industry and the resulting changes in community and family life.

The mentioned Gilmer-Aiken legislation and the Foundation Program under which public schools now operate.

He urged Rotarians to cooperate in the Education-Business Day observance scheduled March 19.

Members of the club voted to register 100 per cent for the Rotary Conference to be held April 20-22 in Odessa.

Charles Comiskey Goes To Liberty

DALLAS —(AP)— Charles A. Comiskey II, scion of the Chicago White Sox family, Monday becomes vice president in charge of all sports coverage of the Liberty Broadcasting System.

The man who quit as vice president of the White Sox in a dispute over what he called meager earnings and inadequate tenure guarantees thus will join the man who has sued major league baseball for 12 million dollars.

Gordon McLendon, president of Liberty, filed the suit recently, charging violation of the anti-trust laws. He named 13 major league clubs, Commissioner Ford Frick and the presidents of the American and National Leagues. The White Sox, Brooklyn and Cincinnati were not included in the suit which claimed Liberty's game-of-the-day broadcasts had been frozen out of the 13 ball parks.

Laundry In Germany Receives First Aid

WUERZBURG, GERMANY. —(AP)— Two little locomotives on a track that leads nowhere kept soldiers of this U. S. Military Post crisp and starched.

The two steam engines were pressed into service recently when the boiler in the post laundry wheezed and lost pressure.

The German railroad system was asked for help. First a track was laid up to the post laundry. Then a locomotive and a special car with boilers to heat passenger trains went into action. Presently the laundry mangles began to turn again and clean clothes rolled out to the troops.

Corruption Sleuth Newbold Morris Raked Over Coals In Tanker Deals

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Corruption sleuth Newbold Morris' role as a lawyer for Chinese Nationalists hauling goods to Communist China came under searching Senate study Thursday.

Houston H. Wasson, Morris' law partner, was called back to give the Senate Investigations subcommittee more details of the traffic.

Wasson testified Wednesday he and Morris were lawyers—but not chief counsel—for China Trading and Industrial Development Corporation, a Chinese Nationalist firm which, he said, delivered oil to the Reds almost up to the start of the Korean fighting, and other goods until the war was six months old.

A committee aide said Wasson's testimony "has made it certain" Morris himself will be called for questioning. Morris has said he wants to testify in reply to "innuendoes" about his connection with profitable surplus tanker deals.

Senator Robert (R-S.D.), a subcommittee member, said the group intends to try to find out why Chinese Nationalists, using tankers flying the U. S. flag, would haul oil to the Reds.

Wasson accepted as accurate evidence produced by the subcommittee that China Trading, through the New York shipping agency of Stelling & Jarvis, also sent or received 26 shipments of dry cargo goods in trade with the Reds between June, 1950, when the Korean war started, and mid-December, 1950.

Francis P. Flanagan, subcommittee counsel, said all 21 ships involved flew foreign flags, but that eight of them had been sold by the U. S. Maritime Commission from its war-surplus fleet.

Flanagan told Wasson that the day after the Treasury Department on Dec. 18, 1950, blocked all Chinese funds in this country, Stelling & Jarvis chartered the 21 dry cargo vessels to a British firm which Flanagan named as Lambert Bros. London.

In a raking examination of Wasson, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) accused Morris of "complete, dishonest deception" for his role in the deal. Wasson hotly replied, "I can see nothing deceptive about it."

McCarthy took issue with a letter Morris wrote to the Maritime Commission in 1947 urging that ships be made available to China Trading "as a means of assisting the (Nationalist) Chinese government."

McCarthy insisted that "this Chinese group x x x went out of its way to aid the Communists" after getting ships, and that Morris' letter had "misled the commission."

Humble To Open New Building Friday

Public Will Tour Fine Structure

The last brick is in place, the floors have been cleaned and even the door knobs have been given a last-minute shaking.

And Friday the Humble Oil and Refining Company will open its colorful new $1,250,000 home to the public's inspection.

First a group of invited guests and later the public at large will roam through its tiled corridors to inspect an oil company building of the most modern design and with unique features.

A year ago it was just a dream. And then the Tellepsen Construction Company of Houston began moving in its equipment and began molding together the building to the plans prepared by the Houston architectural firm of George Pierce and Abel Pierce.

Building Grows
For 11 1/2 months the building grew.

First it was a skeleton of reinforced concrete and then it began to fill out with its skin of pink bricks, aqua-colored terra-cotta, hundreds of glass windows and clean-looking aluminum trimming.

Francis Carroll, one of Humble's civil engineers, played nursemaid to the building as his supervising civil engineer and he carefully watched each bit of material go into place.

Now the building is finished and ready for high company officials to come to Midland Friday and formally open its doors for business.

The big move from the Midland Tower, former Midland home of Humble, has been completed.

Visitors to the new building should be pleased with what they see.

To begin with, there is a spacious parking lot at the rear of the building, paved to the same specifications of Midland's streets and with room enough for 120 automobiles.

Lobby Is Spacious
The entranceway leads into a spacious lobby and information desk with corridors opening on each side.

At one end of the corridor is the main conference room, designed to take care of 80 persons with comfortable theater-type seats facing a long conference table at the end of the room.

This room also is equipped with a movie projection booth with the latest movie projection equipment and a public address system.

The room is decorated with interesting murals executed by Dick Conaway of Houston, the company's visual aids supervisor.

Adjoining the conference room is the coffee lounge, a tastefully decorated room, complete with comfortable sofas and cocktail tables, where coffee is served daily from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. The coffee bar is operated by the employees' Humble Club with profits going into their own recreation program.

The first floor also provides offices for the employ relations department, the transportation department and the claims and right-of-way department.

The second floor is used by the pipe line company, the geophysical department, which has its own small laboratory, and the legal department.

On the third floor is the exploration department with its offices for land men and scouts as well as a conference room seating 25 persons.

On the fourth floor is the production department, which also has a conference room of the same size. The building is completely air-conditioned with refrigerated air in the summertime.

The numerous offices themselves are done in a soft green wall color with carpets in the offices of the executives. There are fluorescent lights throughout the buildings as well as acoustic tile ceilings.

On the side of the building facing the sun, there are long lines of concrete canopies which give the air-conditioned system a helping hand in keeping the offices cool in the summer.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Where Biggest Bass Come From

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Where do the biggest black bass come from? Florida, Georgia, Alabama, and lately Tennessee. This is based on the results of the Field & Stream National Fishing Contest, which is a very precise barometer in the stormy career of America's Number One fresh water gamefish.

Out of 171 prize winners taken in the past four years, over 60 per cent were reared in the deep south. What's the best bait? Plugs by a wide margin. No less than 110 were taken on the artificial minnow; live bait ran a remote second with 31 bass, while the spoon accounted for 20. Fly rod fans scored a low 10 with assorted popping bugs, flies and spinners.

It might be argued that more people cast plugs than any other type of bait designed for bass. Spoons didn't make a good showing because they never have been too popular in the South. A few specialists drape them with pork-rind and pitch them up cypress tunnels, but the average cracker works with a two-handed bait casting rod and a wooden minnow.

Fly rod talent is scarce throughout the nation, so it's no surprise to find fly-casters at the bottom of this league. But live bait fishing is just as popular as bait casting, and the final score blows a great big hole in the live bait myth.

The fact that barrel-sized bass are turned out of southern ponds with fair regularity is no surprise. There seem to be two main reasons why the growth is faster below the Mason-Dixon line.

First, they are in the South. Within normal limits fish grow faster in warm water. Secondly, the growing season is much longer in the South than in the North.

In most northern states, bass must make all of their growth in three or four months when the water is over 60 to 70 degrees, while in the South bass can fatten for six to nine months.

A third reason, which will show up with more and more prize winners coming from Tennessee, is that her reservoir lakes are new lakes, where there is comparatively little competition. Fish in new lakes usually show phenomenal growth.

We predicted last year that Dale Hollow Reservoir in Tennessee was going to produce the largest smallmouth bass in the nation for the next three years—and probably a world's record. This year, Dale dominated the smallmouth division with

Control Your Weight, Avoid The Problems Of Obesity

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

There are important reasons besides that of appearance as to why people should not put on too much fat, and why, if they do, they should make every effort to take it off.

The problem is an enormous one, (no pun intended), since it has been stated that at least one-fifth of the population over the age of 30, or about 15,000,000 persons in the United States are overweight. Many younger people weigh more than is good for them. It is agreed that simple over-eating is the main cause in most cases.

Here are a few things which the over-weight person can face. Among insured men, those who were over-weight have a higher death rate than the average at every age, and the greater the degree of over-weight, the higher the risk.

It has been stated, for example, that for men 20 to 29 years old, the mortality of those 25 to 34 per cent over-weight was 34 per cent above the general average, and approximately the same picture holds for other age groups, and for women as well as men.

Your chances for reasonable life expectancy, therefore, are better if you are of normal or under normal weight. But ill health as well as possible early death is also more likely for an obese person. One study of 74,000 industrial workers showed that at every age and for both sexes, there was a steady increase in average blood-pressure with increase in body weight for height.

The situation is the same for diabetes. It has been found that among patients 40 years and over at the beginning of active signs of this disease, 60 out of 100 were at least 20 per cent over the average weight and an additional 25 per cent were moderately over-weight. It is impossible to list all of the disorders which are more common in over-weight people than in those who are normal, but here are a few: Gall bladder disease, hernia, impairment of kidney function and probably degenerative arthritis.

The course of pregnancy and child-bearing is accompanied by more complications in the over-weight than the under-weight woman. An operation on obese persons presents special surgical difficulties.

Altogether, the person who carries excess poundage is asking for trouble which could readily be avoided.

on their spacious, modern new home in Midland!

Louver blades of ASBESTONE corrugated asbestos, erected by Straus-Frank for the cooling tower atop Humble's new building, do their part to fulfill the symmetry of line which keynotes this beautiful example of 20th-century architecture.

The Straus-Frank Company of Houston, contractors and erectors of corrugated asbestos, has been fortunate in adding the unique qualities of this product to hundreds of buildings around Texas and the nation. From the industrialist to the farmer, users of ASBESTONE corrugated asbestos unite in praise of its permanence, its attractiveness, and its complete freedom from maintenance considerations. Requiring no paint, corrugated asbestos in new lightweight designs is coming into greatly increased demand for farm and ranch use, especially in the Texas and Gulf Coast area. No other material offering such strength, permanence, and attractiveness can compete in cost.

Let competent Straus-Frank Company engineers discuss with you the many worthwhile, time-and-money-saving applications of ASBESTONE corrugated asbestos as they may apply to your own personal requirements. Just write Straus-Frank, ASBESTONE Dept., P. O. Box 358, Houston.

Top Humble Bosses In Midland Worked Up 'Through The Ranks'

Thirty-three years ago in the early-day oil fields around Ranger and Breckenridge, when Midland was nothing more than a whistle stop on a railroad, an oil company picked up a couple of new hands.

John House showed up one day in 1919 at Ranger and was hired right away as a tool dresser.

F. D. McMahan trudged down the eight miles of track from Ranger to Olden and signed on as a pipe line worker.

A lot of tools have been dressed since that year and an ocean of black gold has surged through the pipe lines of West Texas.

But those same two men will be hosts Friday when the Humble Oil and Refining Company opens its new building at West Missouri and A Streets.

Staff of 1,200

Along with the division exploration superintendent they ran the operations in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico of their companies and together they boss a staff of some 1,200 workers engaged in the job of searching for oil, getting it out of the ground and hurrying it along to the markets.

John W. House is production superintendent of the West Texas-New Mexico Division of the Humble Oil and Refining Company.

And McMahan is the superintendent for the West Texas-New Mexico Division of the Humble Pipe Line Company.

Both have come up "through the rank" and, although they wear clean collars and respectable ties now, they are familiar with their respective field problems.

And their story with Humble is multiplied time and again by other key personnel, who have started out in the field, learned the business from the ground up and eventually wound up in top company jobs.

House's two assistants are typical. J. P. (Pat) Ruckman, one of the assistant division superintendents, started out as a roustabout with Humble 27 years ago and was with the division office in McCamey before it was moved to Midland.

James H. Galloway, the other assistant division superintendent, is a graduate petroleum engineer but he, too, started out the hard way as a "student engineer." This title permitted him to swing a sledgehammer in a company blacksmith shop.

Galloway, incidentally, was sent to California three or four years ago to set up a district office there and after that assignment, in September of 1950, came to Midland.

Under these three men are the lieutenants in charge of the various departments of the production division.

Another department is the exploration department, which carries on the continuous hunt for new reserves of oil.

This department is headed by W. E. Dougherty, division geologist, who takes over his duties Monday morning. He was transferred here recently from Corpus Christi to succeed V. C. Maley, who will go to the Texas coast city.

Assistant division geologist is F. D. Richardson, who has spent many years with Humble, and came to Midland a year ago.

Included in the exploration department is the geophysical division, headed by R. P. Warren, with a staff including Charles Mason, J. C. Porter and Arthur Moore; the scouting division, headed by chief scout C. H. Ervin and the land division, headed by J. C. (Peck) Cunningham, with a staff including O. C. Arnold and J. S. Griffith.

Peters Heads Department

Another important department is the employes relations department, which serves not only the Humble Oil and Refining Company but the Humble Pipe Line Company.

This department is headed by Richard Peters, who started in production field work with the company 18 years ago and took over the employe relations job in 1941, three years after being transferred to Midland.

His assistant is Hartman McCall. There are other key division personnel and all have served most of their careers with Humble.

R. S. (Bob) Dewey, the division petroleum engineer, has been with Humble 26 years and supervises a large staff not only in Midland but in the district offices in Andrews, Denver City, Hobb, N. M., Wink, Odessa, McCamey, Stanton and Snyder.

Henry Meadows, the division civil engineer, has been with Humble since 1945 and has been in Midland since 1945.

A. J. Bedford, division chief clerk, has been in his present job since 1948 and has been with the company 26 years.

H. L. Hensley is division gas superintendent.

Although it doesn't have an office in the new building, the sales department, headed by Jack Kimbrough as district manager, is an important unit of Humble Oil and Refining Company.

The Humble Oil and Refining Company is only one company which can call the new building its division home.

The other is McMahan's Humble Pipe Line Company, which operates more than 2,200 miles of gathering lines and trunk lines which carry better than 200,000 barrels of crude oil daily out of West Texas.

Moves To Midland

McMahan first became a division superintendent in 1925 at Cisco and later was general superintendent with offices in Houston, coming to Midland in December of 1949.

H. E. Hensley is the assistant division superintendent and started in the company's engineering department at Cisco in 1927. While most of his career has been spent as an engineer, he entered the operating field in 1946 and has been in his present job since last December.

Other key division personnel in the pipe line company include O. P. Albright, general mechanical supervisor, a company employe 27 years; Harold Bahr, division engineer with 19 years with Humble; E. T. (Irah) Corbett, division chief gauger, who joined the company 32 years ago; B. R. Porman, division chief clerk and an employe 28 years, and Frank Witt, who joined Humble in 1922 and is division chief dispatcher.

Also holding an important post is A. L. Barr, the company's special agent in the district.

While the Humble office does not have a fully-staffed legal department, it has a full-time attorney, David Smith, who handles many of the company's legal problems.

Working out of this office, too, is E. M. Bradberry, the claims and right-of-way man.

Life Underwriters Training Facilities Offered In Midland

George F. Vannaman, president of the Permian Basin Association of Life Underwriters, announced Thursday that plans are being made to offer the Life Underwriters Training Council facilities to members of the Midland Association.

Vannaman has just returned from a regional meeting of L. U. T. C. chairmen and instructors in Dallas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Texas attended the two-day planning conference.

The Life Underwriters Training Council is a nation-wide organization with headquarters in New York City. Its courses are designed toward constant improvement of the quality of life underwriting through higher education.

Dentists To Hold Permian Basin Meet In Midland Monday

The Permian Basin District Dental Society of Texas, meeting at Midland will hear a discussion of "Oral Infections" at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The presentation will be the fifth and final monthly session of the University of Illinois College of Dentistry's 1951-52 telephone extension program.

Dr. Maury Maasler will serve as moderator of the 90-minute broadcast which will be transmitted from Chicago to 188 dental societies throughout the United States and Canada. Transmission arrangements are handled by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Rescue Plane's Radio Controls New Lifeboat

Here's how the new airborne lifeboat is dropped by parachute from an airplane. The 3,500-pound craft has provisions for 15 men for 10 days, fuel for an 800-mile cruise, water-distilling machine.

Guard protecting propeller and rudder is freed by radio control.

Stabilizing fins are dropped off by remote radio control after boat lands in water.

Master switch enables rescue plane to operate boat by radio.

New rescue insurance for survivors of plane crashes at sea or shipwrecks is seen in the radio-controlled lifeboat just perfected by joint efforts of the Wright Air Development Center at Dayton Air Force Base and Westinghouse Electric Corporation engineers.

Successful trial runs were made at Lake Pymatuning, near Sharon, Pa., and final Air Force tests at Mobile, Ala. The 30-foot-long boat is dropped by parachute into the sea from the rescue airplane. Then radio signals take over complete control, driving and steering the craft to survivors.

Radio impulses from the rescue plane open engine air, vents, crank and automatically choke the motor, engage the clutch, and advance the throttle. When the boat reaches the survivors, it stops. They climb aboard and, if their physical condition is good, they take over control. Simply by pushing certain buttons or operating switches, the survivors can start and stop the boat, steer it in any direction. If survivors are too weak, the airborne operator can guide the boat to shore or to a surface rescue ship.

3,833,000 Births Recorded In 1951

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Preliminary figures indicate a record of 3,833,000 births in the United States in 1951, the Public Health Service reported Thursday.

The previous high was 3,818,000 in 1947.

"Because of the small difference between the two figures, it is necessary to wait for final data for 1951 before determining whether 1951 definitely is the all-time high," the agency said in a news release.

The infant mortality rate dropped last year for the fifteenth straight year. The 1951 rate far 28.8 per thousand live births, contrasted with 47.4 in 1940 and 64.8 in 1930.

The national overall death rate last year was listed as 9.7 per thousand and population, practically the same as for 1950 and the fourth year in a row it has been below 10 deaths per thousand population.

AMARILLO—(P)—All records were smashed at the Panhandle Hereford Breeders' Association auction here Wednesday, when the grand champion bull sold for $5,150.

Consigned by Gerald Collier of Ralls, the animal—B Domino 9th—was bought by Turkey Track Ranch of Hutchinson County.

More than 100 animals moved through the ring in Wednesday's sale for a total of $85,505.

Humble Companies Among Pioneers In Development Of Permian Basin Fields

Most of the progress by the Texas oil industry during the first 30 years after the great Spindletop discovery of 1901 was the result of fields found on the Gulf Coast and in East Central and North Texas. Oil men had not yet seriously turned their eyes westward during those years. A few minor strikes had been made in the western part of the state, but it was the discovery of the Big Lake field in 1923 that focused attention on West Texas.

With an aggressiveness common to the oil business, the search for new fields spread quickly over that vast area known as the Permian Basin. And it was a rewarding search. Within three years important fields were found in the Upper Permian beds of Winkler,ecos, Ector, Crane and Upton Counties. The lower Permian beds of Howard, Glasscock, and Mitchell Counties also were contributing a significant amount of oil by 1925.

Thus, West Texas mushroomed into prominence within a few short years after the first major oil discovery. Development has continued steadily, and West Texas today is by far the most important oil producing area in the United States.

Faith In Area's Future

With faith in the future of the area, the young Humble Companies—then less than 10 years old—entered West Texas in 1924. In that year Humble opened an exploration office in San Angelo. Also in 1924, Humble Pipe Line Company built the first major pipe line into the new oil producing area. This eight-inch line connected the Big Lake field to the company's main line from the Panhandle to the Coast and gave the big new field a market outlet.

As other new oil fields were found in quick succession, Humble stepped up the pace of all operations. The flush production of the early Basin fields offered a major source of supply for railroad fuel oil, so Humble in 1925 began construction of a refinery at McCamey. This 18,000-barrel-a-day plant was operated until 1932.

In the following year the company organized the West Texas Division at McCamey and built division offices there and an employee community. Also in 1927, Humble Pipe Line Company laid an important new crude oil line from McCamey to Ingleside, near Corpus Christi. With a capacity of about 90,000 barrels a day of West Texas oil, this line offered an important outlet for the area's growing daily production.

It was in 1927, too, that Humble started marketing operations in the area. Bulk and service stations were built to supply the expanding oil industry and the thousands of car owners in the new and busy oil communities.

Move To Midland

In the late twenties and early thirties, drilling and producing operations spread into many new counties in West Texas and eastern New Mexico. This expansion prompted Humble in 1935 to move division headquarters from McCamey to Midland, a more central location for supervising the company's widespread operations. Offices first were maintained in the Petroleum Building and later in the Midland Tower, from where they were moved recently to the new Humble Building.

During the 17 years that the Humble division offices have been in Midland, expansion in all phases of operation has been steady.

There are today more employees engaged in exploration work than ever before.

Drilling and producing operations have grown so that the few small operating centers of earlier days have been increased to eight districts and a number of sub-district field centers in West Texas and southeastern New Mexico. District offices are located at Hobbs, N. M., and at McCamey, Means, Odessa, Snyder, Wason, Wink, and Stanton, Texas.

On Jan. 1, 1952, the Production Department was operating almost 1,300 producing wells in the division; daily production was about 45,000 barrels.

Humble Pipe Line Company today has two major district headquarters, at Odessa and McCamey. In these two districts the company operates 22 main line pump stations and a host of smaller pumping units on its extensive field gathering system.

Cumulative figures of total pipe line runs out of the West Texas area show that Humble Pipe Line Company had transported to market, from April, 1925, to Jan. 1, 1952, more than one billion, 108 million barrels of crude oil. That is approximately 30 per cent of the area's total production to Jan. 1, 1952, of three billion, 578 million barrels.

From a small localized operating group a quarter ago century ago West Texas Division has grown until Exploration and Production Departments and Humble Pipe Line Company now have more than 1,100 employees in the entire division. Of these, 191 work in the newly built division office building in Midland. Employees in the company's West Texas Sales division, with offices in Abilene, number 88. In addition there are more than 400 independent business men who market Humble products on the wholesale and retail levels.

Two Patients Hurt As Hospital Plane Crashes On Takeoff

TOKYO—(P)—A giant strato-cruiser hospital plane carrying 58 patients cracked up on a takeoff from Haneda Airport Thursday but only two were injured.

Pieces of propeller blades broke off and hit them when the props crashed on the runway. Their injuries were described as slight.

The plane never got off the ground. The landing gear collapsed as the C-97 was racing down the runway for its takeoff for Midway Island.

Maj. John D. Davis, the pilot, veered the plane to the right and reversed propellers, and thus kept it from crashing over a sea wall into Tokyo Bay, the Air Force said.

Passengers included 27 litter patients and 31 ambulatory.

Only 75 seconds after the big plane stopped, crash rescue crews were directing foam onto the plane to prevent possible fire.

Within three minutes, the patients were being removed under supervision of three flight nurses, who were members of the crew.

Less than three hours later, all but two of the patients had been transferred to another C-97 with the same three nurses. They took off for Midway.

Ike's Non-Partisan Organization Quits

DENISON—(P)—The non-partisan Texas for Eisenhower organization suspended operations Wednesday because Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is a "leading candidate" for the Republican nomination.

Robert Doss, chairman of the movement that began here last Fall, said the non-partisan backing "might harm rather than help" the general's chances.

He added that all former Texas for Eisenhower members who consider themselves Republicans should continue active work to promote Eisenhower's nomination at the GOP convention in Chicago next Summer.

Bob Short of Midland has been elected president of the Kappa Alpha fraternity at the University of Oklahoma in Norman. He is a junior student.

Short is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Short, 1011 West Louisiana Street. He was graduated from Midland High School.

George Williams, founded of the YMCA, was knighted by Queen Victoria.

Grain Dealer Found Guilty On 16 Counts

AMARILLO—(P)—Herman Dawson, Fort Worth, convicted on 16 counts of converting government grain to his own use, will be sentenced April 4.

The president of the Plains Grain and Storage Company broke down and cried Wednesday after a federal jury returned its verdict.

Judge Joe B. Dooley dismissed eight other counts before he gave the case to the jury because he found the government hadn't proved them.

The top penalty is five years and $100,000 bond on each count. Dawson's attorneys said he would appeal.

The government charged Dawson, 36, was short $400,000 worth of Commodity Credit Corporation grain stored in his warehouses.

The case was the first one tried since the Senate Agriculture Committee made public January 18 grain shortages it estimated exceeded $3,800,000.

Yogi-Practicing Moslems Held On Marihuana Charge

BROWNSVILLE—(P)—Two Yogi-practicing Moslems who claim they are American citizens are in jail accused of smuggling marihuana into the U. S.

The men, charged Wednesday, gave two names. Calvin Joseph Carroll, 23, Chicago, said his Moslem name is Aly Yusuf Al Boran. Eugene Webster Moore, 26, Kansas City, gave his moslem name as Ahmed Rasool.

Customs agent Bernard J. McLesiah took 14,000 grains of the narcotic, which he said was worth about $2,000, from the men.

The dark-complexioned men said they were born in the U. S. although they carried Texas poll tax receipts giving their birth places as India.

McLesiah arrested them near Harlingen after following them from Brownsville in a car.

Neither was able to post the $1,000 bond set.

Texas High Bidder In Lease Auction

WASHINGTON—(P)—A Fort Worth man, H. J. Lee, offered the government $40,948 for an oil and gas lease in the Square Lake field, New Mexico, Wednesday.

Lee's offer was the best received and is in addition to an annual rental of $1 an acre and royalties. The lease covers 513 acres of government owned land.

Veteran Minister Joins Texas Drys

DALLAS—(P)—A veteran Methodist minister, the Rev. Albert F. Tucker, became associate executive secretary of the United Texas Drys Wednesday.

The organization, which draws support from many Protestant churches, announced the appointment through its executive secretary, Dr. Walter H. McKensie.

Tucker succeeds H. Millard Jones, who resigned to head a North Carolina Quaker church.

Midland Students Aid Booklet Preparation

ABILENE—Three McMurry students from Midland, Kay Mathews, Peggy Whitson and Lynn Manning, are among the 47 students who contributed an original composition to a devotional booklet for Lent, published by the McMurry College Christian Foundation.

It has become an annual project of the Christian Foundation to publish the booklet for Lent, explained the Rev. H. Doyle Ragle, director of religious activities. "These short devotional readings were prepared in the hope that they will serve as a source of person enrichment and inspiration during the days of this Lenten season," he said.

Congratulations, Humble

The Humble Oil & Refining Company and the Humble Pipe Line Company formally will open their new $1,250,000 office building here Friday, and all Midland joins in congratulating the Humble companies on the completion of the elegant, ultra-modern and stately building.

Midland also is proud of Humble which long has been a leader in the growth and development of Midland and of the Permian Basin Empire.

This Humble joins the many other oil companies and affiliated concerns who have erected their own buildings in this headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire.

It was Humble, incidentally, that led in the "big move" of oil company offices to Midland by transferring its division offices here in 1935.

Any city would be proud to have Humble Oil & Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company as citizens, and Midland is fortunate in having these and many other enterprising oil companies as its leading citizens.

While congratulating Humble on its new building, one of the finest and most modern oil company office buildings in the nation today, Midland also welcomes the top officials of HO&R and HPL who are in Midland to participate in the grand opening festivities.

Again, congratulations to Humble Oil & Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company on the opening of their elegant Midland office building.

It's A Poor Epitaph

When Rep. Robert L. Doughton, 88, veteran North Carolina Democrat and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced his retirement the other day, much was made of the fact that he has presided over the drafting of the biggest tax bills in the history of the world.

We have not heard, however, that "Muely" Doughton is planning to note this fact on his epitaph. He could not be blamed if he decides to hold out for a few kinder thoughts.

Some Guys Have All The Fun

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Truman appealed to Newbold Morris not to quit; Senator Ferguson's memory fails; House Republicans wage hot battle over U.M.T.

WASHINGTON — The White House has hushed it up, but clean-up man Newbold Morris came within a whisker the other day of packing his bags and going home.

The inside story is that Morris, depressed over the rumor that he was getting, decided his assignment was "impossible." He announced his decision to quit at a routine conference with Justice Department officials.

"I'm going home," he declared simply. "This thing hasn't been thought through. For example, I'm supposed to report my investigations to the very man I'm supposed to be investigating."

Morris was referring, of course, to his boss—Attorney General McGrath. Within a few minutes, however, word of Morris' surprise decision was flashed to the White House, and presidential aide Charlie Murphy was rushed to Morris' office.

Talking fast, Murphy urged the new trouble-shooter to talk it over with President Truman, and promptly hustled him to the White House. Within half an hour, Morris was in the oval room conferring earnestly with the President.

Truman begged Morris to stay on, promised him a free hand and guaranteed full White House support. "You can have anything you want," the President offered.

It was a result of this dramatic, spur-of-the-moment meeting that the President personally appealed to Congress for subpoena power for Morris and moved Morris's headquarters out of the Justice Department into the old Washington Post Building.

Michigan's tousle-haired Senator Homer Ferguson would rather ask questions than answer them about the Institute of Pacific Relations. As a member of the Senate Internal Security Committee, which is trying to prove the I. P. R. is Communist-dominated, Ferguson fumed and snorted at Owen Lattimore last week about his association with I. P. R.

At the session's close, Ferguson lingered to chat with reporters and review his afternoon's triumph. But members of a ladies' bridge club got into a discussion as to whether the dealer should put the two stacks back together or the one making the cut should do so.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service Which suit should you try to develop when you are playing a hand at no-trump? The longest suit? The strongest suit? There is no easy answer to the question, but one of the guiding principles is illustrated in today's hand.

Hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and their suits.

Two suits were equally long—five cards opposite a doubleton. Clubs, however, were stronger, so South decided to go after four club tricks.

Declarer won the first spade in his own hand to lead a club. The finessing of the club jack lost to East, and East was unkind enough to return a heart.

Now South discovered that there were only three club tricks. He needed a diamond for his ninth trick, but East had time to knock out the other top heart and take two clubs, two diamonds, and two hearts.

South went down two tricks because he started on the wrong suit. The clubs were stronger than the diamonds, but the diamonds were more solid.

These three tricks plus the two top clubs would give him ample tricks for his contract. Correct play is to win the opening lead with dummy's king of spades and to return the king of diamonds at once.

"I do not want to see a bill for statehood passed until some of these questions are solved," Butler shot back. The senator from Nebraska is not supporting the bill for Alaska statehood?

"No," replied Butler, "I am an enemy of statehood for Alaska." "I am glad to hear that," said Connally, much subdued. "I agree with the senator."

And the fire-breathing Texan sat down, saving his thunder for someone debating on the other side. Here is another poignant example of the messages from American school children which are beamed behind the Iron Curtain via the Voice of America.

"I only wish I could take a look behind the so-called 'Iron Curtain,' or talk to a 16-year-old boy or girl who lives in the land that seems so far away. I think it is wonderful that we teen-agers have the right to speak to you and tell you about our land, but I wish you could talk back."

Q—How many children did John and Priscilla Mullins Alden have? A—John and Priscilla had 11 children. Among their descendants were Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, William Cullen Bryant, and John Quincy Adams.

Q—When was the first elephant exhibited in this country? A—The first one was brought from Bengal in 1798 by Captain Townshend, master of the America, out of Seima. It was shown to the public in a rented hall in New York City. Many believed the elephant to be a fake.

Railroads Can Control Rates If Two Bills Pass Congress

WASHINGTON—U. S. railroads would be given practically a free hand to put rate increases into effect under two new bills now before the Congress. They are among 20 new transportation bills on which the Senate Commerce Committee will begin hearings March 3. So far, these bills have gone completely unnoticed.

The two rate bills are far and away the most sensational of the lot. They are offered as amendments to the Interstate Commerce Act. In effect, they would take away from the Interstate Commerce Commission almost all the powers it now has over railroad rate-making.

Sponsors of the two amendments are principally Senators Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland, John W. Bricker of Ohio and Homer Capehart of Indiana. Senator O'Connor, a Democrat, is not running for reelection this year. Senator Bricker and Capehart, Republicans, have gained considerable reputation for sponsoring legislation favorable to business. But these bills were matter-minded by railroad lawyers.

First of these bills is a short and simple looking amendment, only 14 lines long. It would rewrite section 15, a (2) of the Interstate Commerce Act, striking out another important clause of the present law. This requires the ICC to give the due consideration to the effect of any proposed rate increase on the diversion of traffic to other competing forms of transportation like water, air or highways.

Furthermore, a requirement that the ICC consider furnishing adequate transportation "at the lowest cost" would be stricken out. From the railroads' point of view, the need for this amendment arises from recent experience in getting rate increases.

A year ago the roads applied for a 14 per cent freight rate increase. ICC held lengthy hearings. Much of the time consumed was in determining whether the increase would divert business to the railroads' competitors. The decision handed down last August granted eastern roads nine per cent, west and south six, average seven.

Spokesmen for the American Association of Railroads, principal Washington mouthpiece for the carriers, contend that the question of traffic diversion is not properly a concern of the ICC. AAR says this is the railroads' risk, and it is solely the business of railroad management.

This first O'Connor-Bricker-Capehart amendment goes even farther. It prescribes that rates set by the ICC shall enable the carriers to earn "sufficient revenues . . . establish and maintain sound credit, attract equity capital . . . and improve the art of transportation."

Although it doesn't say so in so many words, AAR officials interpret this to mean that the railroads must be given rates high enough for them to earn a profit of around six per cent. Background for this is that since the end of the war, railroad profits have averaged around 3 1/2 per cent.

Sally's lips thinned to a firm red line. "I issued an ultimatum. I've given him tonight to think it over. Then, if he doesn't come to his senses, I'm calling the police myself."

"What didn't he say?" "What didn't he say?" She gave me a wry smile. "And he said it all with his top blown. He bawled me out for 10 minutes straight and never stopped for breath."

"Listen," I said. "You picked a bad night for ultimatums, that's all. Your uncle's upset and I don't blame him. It was pretty rugged out there, with Mrs. Dumont."

"Oh! Her voice hardened. 'My uncle's upset, is he? Well, what about Ames . . . and Dolly? Himself too, for that matter.'"

I AROSE then, stood facing her. There was, between us, about two feet of floor space. "Okay, I'll probably cost me my job, but I'll make your uncle a few polite suggestions."

The Peacock Path

THE STORY: Jim Orth, private detective, posing as a guest at Wandover, home of the wealthy stockbroker Marney Cravath, winds up in a deal with a "clever" murderer. Two attempts have been made on Cravath's life, both unsuccessful. These were followed by the successful attempt to murder Mrs. Warburton, Cravath's partner, and then another failure in an attempt to murder Dolly Dumont, wife of Jack Dumont, Cravath's other partner.

SHE perched on the bed, drew her knees up, rested a small chin between them. "Don't be so humorous. But I think you'd call it that. Anyhow, I left that stubborn obstinate, pigheaded character in a hurry."

I saw then that she was indeed agitated. There was a trace of a flush beneath the tan-and-coral of her cheeks and her voice shook slightly. "Take it easy," I said.

"Look, Jim," she said, "I've been in there begging him to go to the police. It's obvious to me—and I know darn well to you too—that we should have called them hours ago. Will you please tell me what he's waiting for after this thing happening to Dolly? A bigger and better murder, maybe?"

"We haven't established one murder yet." "Oh, nuts. Let's not kid ourselves. Ames was killed and Dolly half-killed. And before that someone tried to get Uncle Marney."

Her face, a kind of lovely mask, was tilted toward me. Her lips were red, slightly parted. I lost hold. I burned up that two feet of floor space. Then, blue flowing thing and all, she was in my arms. For a moment, operations in the universe were suspended.

U. S. Eases Restrictions On Metals Use In Building

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Thursday eased building controls on housing, commercial, highway and school projects.

The National Production Authority issued:

1. A new, one-package housing order increasing by 500 pounds the steel which a home-builder may use without applying to NPA.

2. An order combining all other construction controls into a single document. It increases the tonnage of steel automatically allowed for commercial, school, and other small non-residential projects, as well as roads and highways.

An originally proposed, the orders were intended to curb construction. But they were revised frequently during two months of discussion with the construction industry. Meantime, shortages of steel and aluminum eased noticeably NPA's announcement Thursday said.

"Most of the changes in the construction regulations liberalize controls rather than tighten any of them or impose any further restrictions."

The major changes in the housing regulations, effective at once, include:

Livestock

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Cattle 600 calves 100; steady; common and good slaughter steers and heifers 20.00-31.50; choice yearlings 22.00-33.50; utility cows 21.00-23.50; good and choice slaughter calves 30.00-34.00; utility and common calves 24.00-30.00; medium and good stocker steer yearlings 26.00-31.00.

Hogs 700; butchers 50 lower; feeder pigs steady; choice 180-265 lb butchers 17.75-18.00; choice 160-175 lb and 275-400 lb-hogs 16.00-17.25; cull to good slaughter ewes 10.00-16.00; feeder lambs 17.00-24.00.

COTTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Thursday noon cotton prices were 40 cents to $1.20 a bale lower than the previous close, March 40.35, May 39.82 and July 38.72.

Fred Turner, Jr. of Midland No. 1 Fred Turner, and others-H. C. Moelke, Jr. is to be drilled as a 12,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northeast Terrell County, 11 miles southwest of Sheffield.

Drill site for the deep test is 690 feet from south and 654 feet from east lines of section 50, block B-2, CCSD&RNG survey.

Texas Pacific Spots Deep Test In S-C Upton

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company spotted site for a 12,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat two miles northeast of Rankin and in South-Central Upton County.

It is No. 1-A A. D. Neal, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 32, block B, C&M survey. That puts it seven miles southwest of the Benedum field.

Extension Indicated To Adair-Wolfcamp In S-C Terry Area

Cities Service Oil Company has an indicated one-half mile south-west extension to production in the Adair-Wolfcamp field of South-Central Terry County at its No. 1-B Newton.

A drillstem test of the Wolfcamp reef from 8,516 to 8,549 feet developed 8,500 feet of fluid on the recovery. Tool was open three hours. The fluid recovered was 6,929 feet of clean oil and 1,077 feet of oil, mud and water.

Operator was reaming out hole in preparation for coring ahead.

No. 1-B Newton is 467 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block C-32, pal survey.

Producer Added To Sweetie Peck In NW Upton Area

G. E. Hall and Halley Company No. 1-C Josie Pate Peck is a new Pennsylvania producer in the Sweetie Peck field of Northwest Upton County.

It was completed for a daily flowing potential of 25 barrels of 44-gravity oil from perforations at 10,390-480 feet. That section had been treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. The flow was gauged through a one-half-inch choke.

Location is 660 feet from north and 671 feet from west lines of the lease in section 20, block 41, T&P survey. Pay was topped at 10,390 feet, elevation 2,880 feet.

Gas-oil level was 11,000-1 and tubing pressure was 150 pounds.

Atlantic Abandons Failure In Gaines

The Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 R. L. Burleson, Central-East Gaines County wildcat has been plugged and abandoned at total depth of 11,760 feet in barren lower Mississippian lime, chert and shale.

This prospector failed to encounter any possibilities of commercial production in any formation it drilled through.

It was 23 miles southeast of Seminole and 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 10, league 286, Schleicher County School Land survey.

Wage Stabilization Meeting Scheduled Here Next Thursday

Operations and regulations of the federal government's wage stabilization program will be discussed in a public information meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday in the district courtroom. The session had been erroneously announced for this week.

The forum-type meeting will offer opportunities to employers, unions and workers in the Midland-Odessa-Big Spring region to discuss the application of WSB regulations to specific wage adjustment problems confronting them.

The session will be open to the general public and all interested persons are urged to attend. The Permian Basin Personnel Association and the Midland Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the meeting here.

Services Are Held For Claude Hicks

Funeral services were to be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Newline W. Ellis Chapel for Claude Hicks, 57, brother of Jack Hicks of 411 East Florida Avenue, Midland, who died Monday in a Texarkana, Texas, hospital.

Roy Jones, pastor of the Holiness Mission Church, was to officiate at the services.

Interment was to be in Fairview Cemetery.

Other survivors include the widow of Texarkana and a nephew and niece, both of Sacramento, Calif.

Funeral bearers were to be Jack Boyce, Ray Cain, J. W. Henley, Alton Collier, Ray Warner, Dub Warner and Mathie King.

Maine Republican Challenges Truman To Seek Reelection

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Maine) Thursday challenged President Truman to seek reelection, saying, "It's time to call his bluff."

The President previously has said Taft is his favorite candidate for the Republican nomination. Taft has said he would rather run against Truman than any other Democrat.

Superior Is To Core Ahead In Borden Wildcat

Superior Oil Company was preparing to core deeper into the Mississippi at its No. 6-597 C. D. Jones, indicated possible discovery from that formation in Northeast Borden County.

The open hole section from 7,961 to 7,979 feet had been fractured. After that operation the well was opened up and it flowed 46 barrels of oil and died. Operator then swabbed out 79.83 barrels of oil. It was not known how much of the oil was new oil and how much was load oil.

Location for No. 6-597 Jones is 1,980 feet from north and 2,330 feet from west lines of section 597, block 97, H&TC survey.

Crane High Group Attends Convention

CRANE—Five students of Crane High School, with Joel Williams as sponsor, attended the state convention of Future Teachers Association in Denton.

They were among 300 students representing 40 Texas schools. The two-year-old association has tripled its membership since the organization. The association is to encourage students to enter the teacher profession and to acquaint them with teacher problems and rewards.

Wanda LeClaire, as sweetheart of the Crane chapter, spoke on "Why I Want to Teach." Twenty-eight girls entered the contest, and were judged for beauty; ability, and speech. An Amarillo girl was winner.

Others attending were Louise Tomlinson, senior; Judy Mathis, junior; A. J. Smith, sophomore; and Mary Ted Sherrock, freshman.

WRIST RADIOS IN SIGHT?—The tiny transistor, smaller than a paper clip, may make possible wrist radios and tiny television sets, in the not-too-distant future. The transistor, developed by Bell Telephone Laboratories, can perform the functions of some types of electronic tubes many times its size, and is used to save weight and space in electronic equipment. A crystal of germanium, no larger than a pinhead, is described as being the working part of the device.

Try Paddies On 'Paddy's' Day

SHAMROCK "PADDIES" with parleyed potatoes and cabbage wedges are fine for the shank of the evening on St. Patrick's Day.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Shamrock paddies are a fine dish to serve on St. Patrick's Day. Made of chopped leftover ham, eggs, sweet fresh cucumber pickles and bread crumbs, they go well with parleyed potatoes and boiled cabbage wedges. With cloverleaf rolls and a dish of pickles, they make a fine meal.

Shamrock Paddies
(Makes 4 servings)
One pound ground cooked ham, eggs, slightly beaten, 1 3/4 cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, freshly ground pepper.
In a bowl, blend ham and eggs. Add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Divide mixture into four parts. Shape into four rectangular loaves 1-inch thick and place on broilergrill. Broil 3 or 4 inches from heat 10-15 minutes, turning only once. Garnish each paddy with a large shamrock cut from pickle slice.

Emerald Isle Salad
(Makes 2-4 servings)
Two small green peppers, 6 ounces chive cream cheese, 1/4 cup finely chopped sweet gherkins, dash Tabasco.
Wash green peppers; cut off stem ends. Hollow out pepper, removing seeds and fiber; drain. In a small bowl, combine cheese, pickles and Tabasco; mix thoroughly. Fill peppers with cheese-pickle mixture.
Chill filled peppers until firm. Slice crosswise. Place 2 or 3 slices on crisp salad greens for each serving.

Bandit Accomplice Is Given Sentence
IPOH, MALAYA. —(AP)—A 21-year-old Chinese was sentenced recently to 15 years imprisonment on a charge of consorting with Communist terrorists. He was arrested in connection with the assassination of a British planter in 1948.
The arrest was made when two former bandits, now operating with a police jungle squad, saw him riding a bicycle in a nearby village. They testified at his trial that he was a member of the band which killed the planter.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER
"Howdy" to all of you out there for us. Now that you are here we can start telling you all about the latest happenings.
Well, it is report card time again for everyone. Some will be dreading to take their home. Well, we all can't be brags, can we?
"Frankenstein and the Wolf Man" finally got here and it was on the screen Saturday night. There was a huge crowd. But there still was more room on the floor for more of you to sit. So next week everyone be sure and attend. The show for this week will be "The Fabulous Dorseys," and then, of course, there will be some short films on sports and the news. See all of you Saturday.

The big parade was held Tuesday afternoon. It was staged as a part of Public School Week. The MHS Band, Half-Timers and Junior High Band participated. Other schools also were represented. The Bulldog bus and the school cars were in the procession. It was a very fine parade, even though it was a bit chilly out there for a while. The parade route was longer than the usual football parade routes because the streets were torn up and we had to march a block or two to avoid them. Oh well, it didn't hurt us to get a little tired.
Congratulations to Leora Crawford and Shirley Pulliam for being placed on the all-tournament volleyball team in Lamesa. That was real fine, girls. How about some more of them around MHS???

George Brown and Mr. Mills, all out of the building on the old football field, practicing for the parade. They arranged a new drum cadence. The name of it is the Downfall of Paris. That is a rather-unusual name for a cadence, but it also is a rather unusual cadence.
Wednesday in assembly, the Theatians presented skirts on their play. Everyone enjoyed them very much, so there probably will be a large turnout, and that is just what they want.
Say, Mary Jane Miller, just where did you get that cute little dog that was made out of balloons. The dog was a dachshund and his body was a white balloon and his ears were red, his legs were blue and his tail was red. It really was quite a fascinating dog and rather odd.
Have you ever seen Joan Turner dance?? Well you have really missed something if you haven't because she really can make those feet of hers move all over the floor. She is very good on the Samba, Rumba, Tango, Jitterbug and, of course, she is excellent on the Charleston. Why don't you give us a show some time on how you can dance???

Midland High School Band now is practicing on the concert pieces it will play when the Interscholastic League Contest comes around this year. Our band, just like others, is working to take the sweepstakes honors.
The Rainbow Girls will have a square dance Saturday night in the Community Theater. All Rainbow Girls and their dates are invited to attend.
There usually is someone who just has to have his name in capital letters and this week REX GREEN, STREET and BILL MAYFIELD are the ones who wanted them.
Stan Coker and Pete English visited SMU in Dallas last week. They report a fine time.
Not much more to report this week, so we remain your weekly reporter, and will see you again next week.

New Doll Hair Net Is Real Aid To Good Small Fry Grooming

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Good grooming will be a delightful game for your little girl, if you teach her to practice on her favorite dolls. Just give her a small-size comb and brush, mirror and nail-care kit, and you'll be amazed at how quickly and efficiently she puts them to use.
A newly designed accessory for the miniature mother to include in her "children's" beauty ritual are dolly hair nets. Made of long-lasting nylon with an elastic edge, these nets are easy to handle and always fit perfectly. They come in red-auburn, brown, blonde and black.
When your youngster uses the nets she can dress and undress the dolls to heart's content, without musing a strand of hair. Then, too, she will have the added pleasure of keeping her dolls' hair set in whatever style she prefers.
Little girls will be especially pleased because the nets are "just like Mommy wears." It might be a good idea to take advantage of this mimicry by allowing the youngsters to learn good grooming habits.

Little girls can really play grown-up with dolly hair nets made "just like the ones Mommy wears." It's a wonderful opportunity, too, for the youngsters to learn good grooming habits.
For miss to sit in on your hair styling sessions. Then she can see first-hand just what's to be done. It's never too soon to start the little lady in your home thinking about beauty. With careful training, it will become a natural and accepted part of her life.

Stars Gown In Twinkly Tradition

This is the wardrobe designed for actress Eleanor Parker by Don Loper for a personal appearance tour. Short evening gown (left) is gleaming gold sheath covered with cut-out gold-embroidered black velvet and topped with black velvet coat that has huge black fox cuffs. Costume for late-day (center) is raspberry red faille taffeta worn over pleated petticoat of moonstone blue. Cape-coat (right) in black-and-white wool is lined in red crepe to match slim sheath dress beneath.

By GALE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—There are stars in Hollywood who always adhere to the rule that when a movie star goes on a personal appearance tour, she should look like a movie star. Actress Eleanor Parker is one of these. No mink coats flung over slacks for her, no unkempt hair, no loafers.

On tour in connection with her newest picture, "A Millionaire for Christy," Miss Parker wears the wardrobe designed for her by Don Loper. The fashions in it are clothes any woman would like to own and might like to copy, adapting them to her way of life.

A favorite of Miss Parker's for evening wear is a short gown that's a gleaming gold sheath dramatized by cut-out gold-embroidered black velvet. Over this goes a black velvet coat, and the cuffs have huge circles of black fox trimmings.

For late-day wear, there's a full, flared skirt and a sleeveless wesket asymmetrically buttoned, both in raspberry red faille worn over a moonstone blue pleated petticoat. Neckline is cut wide and low; waistline is trim.

For travel, Miss Parker has a cape-coat in black-and-white check-board wool lined in red wool crepe to match the sheath dress that's worn underneath. The dress has a sabre neckline and narrow belt.

Miss America contenders may come from the U. S., Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Weight Of Jet Planes Reduced

EAST HARTFORD, CONN. —(AP)—There is a way, at least theoretically, to reduce the weight of jet airplanes, says William C. Schoolfield, chief of aerodynamics at Chance Vought Aircraft.

The pilot must fly at top speed, say about 600 miles an hour. He must maintain a constant altitude and he must head due east. If these simple directions are followed, the weight of a 25,000-pound fighter will decrease about 135 pounds, Schoolfield maintains.

If a pilot could fly at about 1,000 miles an hour, his plane would not weigh anything, he says. The reduction in weight is the result of a conflict between gravitational and centrifugal force.

Will Rogers was the "Cherokee Kidd" of Wirth's Circus in 1904.

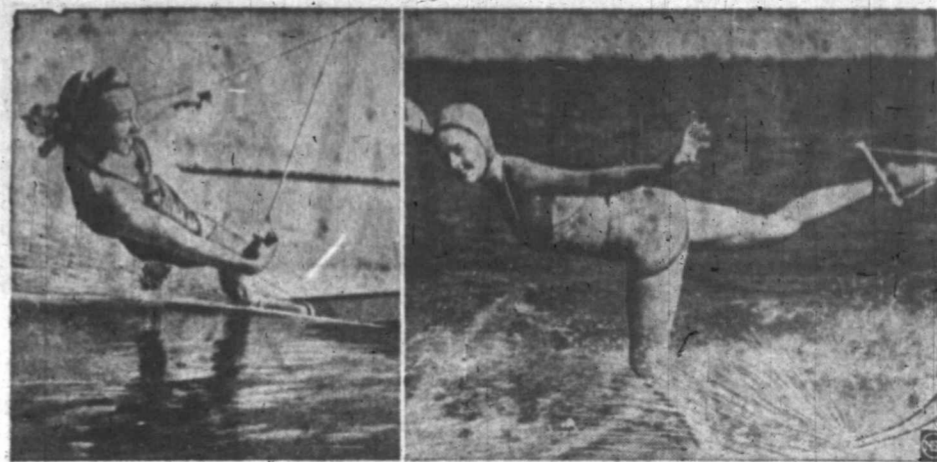

Potato Shortage Occurs In Canada

OTTAWA. —(AP)— An unusual potato shortage in Canada has pushed prices three times higher than a year ago, and placed new wealth in the hands of the successful potato grower.

It has also reversed a traditional trading pattern. Canada, which usually sells most of her surplus potatoes to the United States, is leaning more and more on American supplies to fill the gap in her needs.

The irony is that in this potato crop year which started last July, the United States had been prepared to allow a bigger quota of shipments of Canadian potatoes to the U. S. market.

The lower tip of South America is farther south than the tip of Africa.

IN THE TRIM—Lovely Willa Worthington McGuire, left, women's world water ski champion, cuts low as she speeds over the Lake Eloise slalom course at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Diane Van Dusen, Florida State College ski queen, does a backward swan. Both are members of Florida's crack water ski team which scored high in the Mexican Invitational Water Ski Tournament at Acapulco. (NEA)

Care Of Fingernails Aids Daily Beauty

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

If you're not satisfied with the shape your nails are in, there's no better time than right now to do something about it.

Because your hands and nails are in constant contact with objects that might mar their appearance, you simply can't overdo daily care. Pamper your cuticle with cream.

Stubborn hangnails should be snipped off, but never cut the cuticle. Once you start cutting, you create an endless and unattractive task.

Massage your hands and fingers with lotion. This helps to stimulate the circulation, and actually encourages a softer contour.

You might ask yourself, at this point, how you use your hands and nails. Do they double for pliers, screw driver and scissors?

Are you too busy to slip on rubber gloves when you are working around the house, or washing dishes? All the beauty care in the world will be to no avail, if you make a practice of abusing your nails and hands when you use them.

A manicure, regardless of how well it is applied, will rarely last beyond 10 days. To be sure that your nails are never chipped, why not re-polish them once a week?

A home manicure can look professional, with a little patience and know-how.

You will need a good nail enamel remover, cotton, emery boards, powder polish or paste polish, but fer, bowl of warm soapsuds, towel, orangewood stick, nail cream, cuticle remover, and base coat.

Then you'll need your favorite enamel (in whatever shade you prefer), and, finally, the top coat.

Once you have removed the old enamel and filed your nails with an emery board, (keeping them in a rounded oval shape), buff them with the powder or paste polish.

Next, soak the fingers of each hand in warm soapy water for about three minutes. Dry the fingertips and push the cuticle gently back with a towel. This is the moment to massage the nail cream around the base of the nails.

Before you begin to apply the base coat, wipe each nail with cotton moistened in remover to take away any remaining trace of oil or moisture.

Now you are ready to apply the enamel, and to decide on any shaping that may be necessary. Think of nail enamel as you do lipstick. Create illusions of width or narrowness with color.

If your nails, for instance, are too wide, don't extend the enamel to the sides. The short, stubby nail should be enameled from top to bottom, again leaving spaces at the sides.

The long, slender nail can afford a moon at the top, but may be entirely covered otherwise.

As for nails that are a bit "off center," you can apply your nail enamel in the usual way, but "cheat" a bit on the corner or side

It's so easy to give yourself a professional manicure at home, if you allow enough time, and follow the important basic steps. To stimulate circulation and make your nails healthier, buffing (upper left) with a nail powder or paste powder is an absolute necessity. Since cuticle has a habit of becoming unruly with little or no provocation, keep it in check by massaging a nail cream around the base of the nails (center left) using the cushion of your finger in a firm rotary motion. When you are ready to apply nail enamel (lower left), give some thought to the shape and general condition of your nails. With a little practice, you can actually reshape the nails, if necessary, and make them appear more beautiful. Don't limit your nail care to weekly manicures, only. Daily touch-ups and creamings will always keep them looking perfect.

that is out of line. After each coat of enamel is applied, wipe away a hairline edge at the tip, using the ball of the thumb or forefinger. The beveled edge prolongs the life of the nail enamel, and makes it less likely to chip.

St. Patrick's Day Marks Festive Time

DUBLIN—(AP)—St. Patrick's Day March 17—is one of Ireland's three big holidays. The others are Christmas and Good Friday. Although both a legal and religious holiday—it honors the saint who converted Ireland to Christianity—the celebrations resemble those in the United States on the Fourth of July, with parades and political speeches.

Irish pubs are closed on the three holidays, and in all the length and breadth of the Emerald Isle there's but one place to legally toast its patron saint: the Annual Dog Show at Bell's Bridge outside Dublin.

Revival Of Nazism Feared By Einsiedel

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(AP)—Carl D. H. von Einsiedel, who is a descendant of Germany's "Iron Chancellor," Otto von Bismarck, says the principle of Nazism is still widespread in Germany.

Von Einsiedel came to Canada from West Germany eight months ago. He fears the infiltration of the Communists and the rapidly growing neo-Nazi Socialist Reich Party perhaps disguised as non-partisan or members of other political groups.

If the Socialist Reich Party should ever lead the country it would only mean another dictatorship, he said.

Daddy Ringtail

By Wesley Davis

Daddy Ringtail And Butter, Eggs And Bread

Shagganappy (poor fellow!) has trouble remembering things. His rememberer doesn't work well at all. "Happy day there, Shagganappy!" said Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, Daddy Ringtail was standing close by his very tall tree, watching how the wind came blowing along and blowing along. But now the Shagganappy had come from the other way, leaning forward into the wind, holding his hat with one of his hands to keep it from blowing away.

Shagganappy (poor fellow!) had forgotten that the Shagganappy is who he was. Daddy Ringtail had to tell him, and he did tell him. Well, Daddy Ringtail told the Shagganappy how they were old friends who had known each other a long time. Daddy Ringtail had to tell him, and he did tell him. Well, Daddy Ringtail told the Shagganappy how they were old friends who had known each other a long time. Daddy Ringtail wanted to sit right down and talk over old times with the Shagganappy all for the fun of remembering old times, but the Shagganappy couldn't remember enough to talk about.

"I'm sorry," said the Shagganappy. "I just don't remember. I wish I could, but I don't." While Shagganappy shook his head to show how sorry he was about his rememberer, the wind of a sudden blew a mightier blow than all the rest of his blows together. It

And so Daddy Ringtail told the Shagganappy to forget the paper and just remember to take home the butter, eggs, and bread. The Shagganappy did take them home and Mrs. Shagganappy did not take a broom to him after all. Happy day! (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

MARSHALL IS HONORED - General of the Army George G. Marshall will receive this year's Four Freedoms Award, at a dinner to be given in his honor on March 14. Marshall was chosen for the honor by the vote of 15,000 persons from all walks of life, according to the Four Freedoms Foundation. The award is given annually in commemoration of the public service of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who gave his famous Four Freedoms speech to Congress in 1941.

A Shamrock Garden For You

A SHAM-ROCK GARDEN for St. Patrick's Day is made of raw fresh potatoes, asparagus greens, paper, shamrocks and ferns.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
When a young woman's name is Kelley and she is also a top food expert, she's the one to ask about a St. Patrick's Day menu.

So I discussed this article with Janette Kelley, head of the home service department of General Mills, while we were fellow passengers aboard a stratosphere, flying from New York to Minneapolis.

"For an appropriate center-piece, have a Sham-rock Garden," she suggested. "Arrange well-scrubbed Irish potatoes on a large mirror or glass plate to resemble a rock garden. Let sprigs of asparagus greens or maiden-hair fern peep out among the 'rocks'."

"Mount green paper shamrocks on stems of wooden picks tinted green with food coloring; plant them among the 'rocks.' More ferns make a border around the arrangement."

1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar. Beat in gradually 1 cup sugar. Continue beating until very stiff and glossy.

Spread in a lightly greased 9-inch pie pan, making a slight depression in the center. Bake 20 minutes in slow oven (275 degrees F.) then increase to 300 degrees F. and continue baking 40 minutes. Cool slowly.

Filling: Mix together 4 egg yolks, well beaten, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cup lime juice. Cook over hot water 10 minutes or until thick. Cool. Tint pale green with food coloring, if desired.

Fold in 1 teaspoon grated lime rind, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Spread over baked meringue shell. Whip 1 cup heavy cream. Sweeten, if desired. Spread over filling. Sprinkle with grated lime rind. Chill at least 4 hours.

Make the lakes far below us made Miss Kelley think of fish as she suggested crispy fried pike as the main dish.

Crispy Fried Pike (Serves 6)

Place in a shallow pan or dish 6 serving-sized pike filets. Add enough sour milk to cover and 1 teaspoon salt for each pound of filleted fish. Let stand for 20 to 45 minutes. Drain.

Dip each fillet in prepared biscuit mix. Pan-fry over low heat in 2 tablespoons butter and 2 tablespoons shortening. Cook until fish is well browned and slightly crisp on one side. Turn and repeat on second side.

Quizmaster Parks Is Unsuspecting Cupid

NEW YORK — Bert Parks and his CBS show, "Break the Bank," have played a starring role in the lives of at least one young couple.

Six years ago Alan Kluger met the girl he married 11 months ago when quizmaster Parks suggested that members of the studio audience introduce themselves to the one sitting alongside.

Recently Alan and Florence Kluger appeared on the Parks show again. They broke the bank for $2,050. The money went into the bank to "cushion" the arrival of the couple's baby this Summer.

Daylight saving time was first adopted in the U. S. in New York City in 1918.

Italian Communists Build 1952 Model Trojan Horse Inside Major Labor Unions

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
ROME — The Communists evidently are organizing furiously in Italy to build their Trojan horse. Moscow's 1952 version of the steed that broke the defenses of ancient Troy.

Germany Boost Beer Consumption

FRANKFURT, GERMANY. — Germany again is living up to her reputation as a nation of beer drinkers, latest federal statistics reveal. Beer consumption per head of the 49 million West Germans rose to 11.6 gallons in 1951 compared with 9.2 gallons in 1950.

The pre-war high was reached in 1929 when 22.5 gallons per person was consumed by the then 65 million inhabitants of Germany.

The chain of command from Cominform through the World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU) and into Italian labor is easily discernible.

Italian non-Communist political leaders profess to discount its importance, but foreigners in Rome do not.

The Communists, in control of the biggest labor federation, the General Confederation of Italian Labor (CGIL), have imposed a high-level, hard-core command over the unions, down to the factory level.

Giuseppe Di Vittorio, Moscow-trained Communist, has installed in each factory what he calls a "Peace Committee." This committee is the cell through which the Communists will exercise their control when and if the chips are down. The order which created the committees some time ago had the tone of a military command.

Foreign observers in Rome have little doubt these committees are the "Action Committees" of the future, ready to react swiftly in the event of crisis. The label "Peace Committee" clearly shows the influence of the Cominform and the WFTU.

The CGIL is one of three major labor organizations in Italy and by far the strongest. It claims more than five million members, although a more accurate figure probably would be 3,500,000. The non-Communist unions are represented by the Confederation of Italian Trade Unions, claiming more than two million members but probably having only 1,400,000, and the UIL, the United Italian Labor, with 400,000 members, mostly socialists.

Can Paralyze Nation

Italian government leaders are certain a large percentage of Italy's Communists are Communists of opportunity only, and a big part of the membership of the CGIL would be unreliable for the Communists at a showdown.

But the Communists already have shown they can paralyze Italy. They did so in 1948, after the attempt on the life of Communist boss Palmiro Togliatti. Di Vittorio, knowing his Italians, kept the general strike going only so long as he knew it would be supported. When Italian workers began to get restive, he called it off.

There is some indication Di Vittorio sometimes chafes under the Cominform's discipline and possibly his position would not be so secure if the Communist Party itself had more actual strength. While the party has two million members, the hard core probably is in the area of 100,000.

Porpoises Enter Fishing Waters

KITTY HAWK, N. C. — An old superstition among seafaring folk is preventing the annihilation of a school of ocean porpoises in lower Currituck Sound. Superstition says to kill a porpoise is "as unlucky as walking under a dozen ladders."

'Street Length' Gowns Are The New Look For Sleepers

The candle that lights you to bed can shed a light on a new kind of bedtime glamour. Shown here are three versions of the dress-length gown, with fitted waist and evening-gown top. All are budget-priced. Rayon crepe (left) makes pale blue gown with modified sweetheart neckline. Gown in nylon satin (center) is white, has Peter Pan collar of imported lace, sparkling buttons. Pale blue nylon satin (right) gown has nylon embroidery on sheer cap sleeves, neckline and waistline inset.

wear. It may have the covered-up look, with ruffle or collar at the neck. Or, it may have a neckline given a low and dramatic cut to make it first cousin to an evening gown.

Either way, it will have a full, graceful skirt, a tiny waist, small sleeves or no sleeves at all. In any case, it will require a minimum of care, will take the smallest corner in a suitcase, will be endlessly flattering.

The trend to the short gown really got its start on the campus. College girls were quick to take to the comfort of the short gown when, some seasons back, they donned flannel nightshirts. Now other women of all ages have donned the short gown. But it's sophisticated and sweet these days. The straight up-and-down look is gone.

Designer Dora Gottlieb has done a whole collection of these short, newly fitted gowns in vivid colors as well as the pretty pastels and the traditional white. Many of these are textured nylon satin, some are multifilament crepe.

Over these go frothy bedjackets in matching fabrics, frosted with the same trim that appears on the gowns: imported lace, nylon embroidery or nylon net.

The MATURE PARENT

Parents Are Ones To Blame For Spoiled, Naughty Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Helen fought often and violently with her little brother. One day after their mother had bought them lollipops, they began to bicker in the lobby of their apartment building. Showing Andy away from the box of candy, Helen was screaming, "The orange is always mine! It's mine! Make him let me have it, mother!"—when the elevator opened and from it stepped the stately old gentleman who lived on the floor above.

He paused for a moment to survey the screaming child. Then, ignoring Helen's mother, he rapped his gold-headed stick sharply on the floor, pointed it at Helen and in a voice, the like of which she had never heard in her nine years, thundered, "Silence! You are in a public place! Consider that, miss, if you are not too spoiled by your mother to consider anything else!"

As the elevator closed on them, Helen's mother burst into tears. "Oh, I'm so ashamed of you!" she sobbed. "To think that I have to stand such humiliation by strangers!"

Years later, Helen's psychiatrist used this experience to help her understand of why she disliked herself.

We should try not to let children dislike themselves so much that their conduct exposes them to reproof by strangers. When temper explosions in the home gain results for them, we cannot blame them if they believe that exploding temper will gain results outside the home.

We cannot be surprised if this belief begins to weave a wholly unrealistic atmosphere around them, so that seeing themselves suddenly through the cold, critical eyes of strangers is a violent shock.

I repeat—a violent shock, precisely as shocking as a too abrupt reduction of pressure for a deep-sea diver.

Unnatural Environment
The truth about herself is Helen's proper, natural environment, just as light, air and earth are the diver's natural environment. But Helen, like the diver on the bed of the harbor, has made an adjustment to an unnatural environment which has distorted her image of herself, her self-respect and self-love.

Though the stately old gentleman was quite right in his diagnosis of her as a spoiled child, his truth came to her cruelly, very cruelly. As the deep-sea diver collapses physically if drawn too suddenly to the water's surface, Helen's emotional collapse was speeded by this experience.

Protecting children against this type of thing is one of our reasons for refusing to "spoil" them—one of the reasons we should try to help them recognize their inflammatory fears and jealousies, so that they feel free to unburden them in private, words to us, instead of in public acts of violence.

Helen's mother was too frightened a creature herself to have any strength to give in this way to her little daughter, just as she was too self-absorbed to think of anyone but herself in the elevator.

If she had been a just or strong mother, she would have said, "The old gentleman was speaking to me, my dear, not to you. Though it's true that you are a pretty spoiled little girl, children aren't responsible when this happens. So you forget what was said until I tell you what we're going to do about it."

That's what we do when our neglect, disinterest, fear or boredom has placed our youngsters in a position where they are forced to accept public rebuke and criticism from strangers.

The awful thing is that parents who permit children's violence to get them their wants are cowardly people. That is why, instead of taking the stranger's rebuke to themselves, they turn on the youngster they have neglected and say, "There, you bad child, look what people think of you."

Getting Arrested Doesn't Mean Jail

LELAND, MISS. —(P)— Getting arrested about noon on Thursday is one of the nicest things happening to motorists passing through this Mississippi Delta town these days. Some unwary couple traveling with out-of-state license plates is pounced on by Police Officer W. G. Ray.

"You're under arrest," Ray announces. "Why?" the motorists ask in bewilderment.

Parrying the question, Ray asks if they are in a hurry. Most always the worrying couple says "No" and off to "trial" they go. Destination is not the jail house but the Leland Lions Club's weekly luncheon. The couple are told that for "punishment" they must enjoy the luncheon and accompanying she-manigans.

Afterwards, "sentence" is pronounced—the couple must promise to "come back this way again."

Spring And Summer Wardrobe Designs Will Be Two-Piece

For his resort-into-spring collection, designer Paul Farnes likes the slim coat dress, the softness of pale pastels, the brilliance of strong black-and-white. Coat dress (left) is pale pink linen, fastens down the front with rhinestones, has white collar and cuffs. White silk shantung (center) is coat dress also, has V-neckline and side pockets outlined in coral. Sheer black sheath dress (right) with pleated skirt has white pique bolero with black velvet collar. The coat dress, as shown here, is young and flattering.

NEW YORK — It's a wise woman who knows that she's providing for Spring and Summer to come when she buys resort fashions in Winter.

However, to buy well and get the most for her money, she should arm herself in advance with a knowledge of fashion significances.

With such knowledge, she can choose fashions that will take hold, that will not die in infancy. This run up against the problem of what to do with your good-grooming aids. If you pack the necessary preparations in your luggage, you may not see them again until you have reached your destination. Then, too, extra bulky bags will only get in the way. What you need is a compact kit, something you can slip into your hand luggage, to serve you while you are en route.

Fully aware of this need, a leading cosmetic authority has introduced just such a set. It comes in an upright rectangular shape in clear, sparkling plastic, with just a hint of pink design.

Inside you'll find an emery board and orange-wood stick for any last-minute nail repairs. Especially convenient are the four condensed wash cloths which expand as soon as they touch water.

Also included in the kit are an envelope of tissues, soap, in its own dish, and a plastic bottle of spray deodorant.

To protect and beautify your outer appearance, a lipstick, hand lotion and hand finishing cream are all neatly packed for your daily use.

As an extra added touch, there's an empty plastic jar for face cream, bobby pins or jewelry. And enough room is left over in the kit for a few basic beauty essentials like a comb, mascara and rouge.

Don't underestimate the versatility of this light-weight travel accessory, either. Just as much at home in your desk drawer as the office as it is on the open road or in the sky, it promises good grooming wherever you are.

Wrinkle-Proof Fibers Are Practical For Summer Wear

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—The fashions that can, through 1952, go into a traveler's luggage and come out looking crisp and fresh are likely to be in one of the new and highly practical man-made fibers.

The fashion possibilities inherent in these fibers are tremendous. It means something for everyone: coats in lightweight fleece and herringbone, duvety and satin negligees, pleated Winter-weight jerseys, functional shantung suits and dresses, bridal satins with a gleaming luster.

Among the newest of the man-made fibers is orlon. Its makers claim that in addition to adapting itself to fashion, it has maximum warmth combined with light weight, wrinkle resistance and easy washability. The convenience of these characteristics to the traveler, in the paycheck girl, to any woman on a limited budget, is obvious.

Daytime dress, left, is designed by Herbert Sondheim in an all-ornon pongee. It has the appearance of fine silk pongee and is, its makers claim, both washable and wrinkle-resistant.

California Summer Fashions Feature Sun Separates

Cruise and resort wear, designed in California, covers the span of a sunny day. Pair-offs (left) are wool jersey blouse with wool check trim and skirt with huge puffed pockets. Ramble jacket is worn with straight skirt, has turn back sleeves. Denim fabric in pink (center) is used for Spencer jacket worn with mid-length pants. Sundress has wide straps, can be worn with jacket. Tissue gingham cabana shirt (right) with cotton jersey trim is belted, worn over denim pants. Sleeveless stroller coat goes over one-piece playsuit that has camisole top. Both are in brown denim, gaining on faded blue as a favorite.

NEA Woman's Editor
SAN FRANCISCO—Cruise and resort clothes from California, those forerunners of 1952 Summer fashions, are marked by their easy wearability. The emphasis is again on coordinated separates since these are fashions most adaptable to life in the sun.

California designer Stephanie Koret, who has made these separates her hallmark, believes that sun fashions should be practical. Thus, her entire collection emphasizes washable fabrics.

Her clothes, typically Californian in feeling, stress denim in pair-offs that take to each other like needles to a magnet. These pair-offs depend on a smart basic styling, aimed

Moreland Distributes Home 'Laboratory' For Testing Water

A Midland businessman, acting on the theory that everyone secretly yearns to "dabble" in science, has launched a one-man public education program for housewives in the Midland area.

W. R. Moreland, owner of the Water Conditioning Company and a dealer for Lindsay automatic water softeners in Midland, plans to let housewives determine for themselves the merits of soft water by providing them with a simple, but accurate, "scientific" home "laboratory" for comparison of hard and soft water.

Moreland's home "laboratory" consists of three small vials set into a cardboard panel. The first holds 15 cc's of soft water; a second contains liquid soap and an eyedropper; a third empty vial is for the housewife's tap water.

The "laboratories" are being mailed from Moreland's office, 707 South Baird Street, to a sample group of women in this area.

at building up a practical wardrobe. Simultaneously, they are a far cry from the hit-or-miss "mix-matching" that used to characterize separates.

Brown denim, newly important, makes a sleeveless stroller coat that goes over a matching one-piece playsuit. Or, it appears in a one-piece dress that has its own brief Spencer jacket. The same jacket can pair with mid-calf length pants for bicycling or sunning.

These denim mid-length pants, shown throughout, are often paired with cabana shirts in pastel stripes. The cabana shirt, worn loose or belted, is also useful as a cover-up for a swim suit.

Fabrics form the foundation of this designer's collection. She likes a butcher-weave rayon-and-cotton that's completely washable. As a tie-in for this fabric, she uses a fine cotton lace with a boucle trim for blouses, jackets and cabana coats. Tissue gingham appears for wear with the brown, pink and faded blue denims. And there's a nylon-and-acetate fabric that takes to pleats and holds them for the life of the garment.

The colors for this collection are clear, both pastel and bright. Where stripes are used, and they appear often, they are usually muted pastels. There's a good deal of white, pink and sun yellow, all of them cued to outdoor living under blue skies.

Teen-Ager Gets Tips On Party Prettiness

This young teen-ager anticipates an important evening with self-confidence and poise, thanks to a planned-in-advance beauty routine that eliminates last-minute frenzy. To give shoulders pearly look, she brushes (left), applies vanishing cream for an opalescent finish (center). Last minute check-up in mirrored case (right) reveals her make-up is perfect, her expression radiant.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Now that the season's at hand for a new round of social activities, as bright as Autumn foliage and as exciting as the first snow fall, many teen-agers find themselves facing the festivities with mingled anticipation and apprehension.

The latter can be cut to a minimum if you avoid waiting until the zero hour on an important evening to plan your dressing make-up details. Last-minute frenzies can detract from your fun and your poise as well as from your appearance.

Begin at least a couple of days ahead of time by checking your party dress and all your evening accessories. Important on your checklist are your dancing slippers. Scuffed toes or run-down heels should be taken care of, not by hoping your long dress will hide them, but by the shoe repair man. The day before the party is the time to begin attending to your personal grooming chores. Shampoo your hair, and brush it until it glows before twisting it into pin-curly. This is better than a hurried hair-washing on the afternoon of "the" day, since freshly-set hair has a way of looking frizzy or being unexpectedly unmanageable.

This is a good time, too, for a leisurely manicure and pedicure. It's not enough to slap on a hasty coat of polish at the last minute to hide jagged nails or uncare-for cuticles.

At last, when the time has arrived actually to begin your dressing try tackling your final beauty chores in this order. A slow, thorough bath is the first step, with your hair pinned high on your head to protect the ends from becoming damp and limp.

If your curls are the type that wilt at the first touch of steam, a shower cap is a good protective item. Pay special attention to your neck, ears, arms, elbows—and above all, your back, if you're wearing strapless dance-time frocks. Lather and a back brush are indispensable aids for whisking away sticky bits of skin and toning up circulation.

When your skin is clean and glowing, slip into all your finery except for your evening gown, and apply your cosmetics. Strapless gowns often present a problem in this department. They show so clearly the line where your face and neck make-up come to an end. Or, if you attempt to apply foundation or powder over the entire surface of your back and shoulders, you usually find half of it on your dancing partner's suit before the evening's over.

Here's a better plan: Use an all-in-one foundation for your face and throat. It requires no separate base and no water for mixing and is easy to apply. It's also handy for touch-ups during the party if you choose the kind that is packaged in its own compact-like mirrored case. This all-in-one, you'll find, blends easily from your throat and neck into your shoulder make-up, which is simply a generous coating of vanishing cream which you have spread on and allowed to set for a full minute before tussling it off. When you've wiped away all but the thinnest film of cream, you'll find your skin has acquired a smooth finish and an opalescent glow that does not shine, and, best of all, will not rub off.

Delayed Tombstone Finally Is Located

LONG BEACH, CALIF. —(P)—A tombstone which has wandered about California for 62 years has finally been located, says Mrs. James K. Cooper.

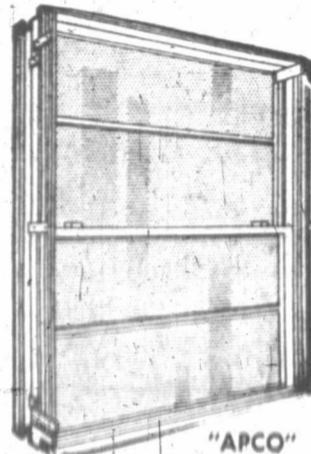

It was ordered from San Francisco by her grandfather, Juan Flores, of Santa Maria, after the death of his wife in 1888. Enroute, the stone somehow got detoured and spent the next 62 years standing in corners at several California railway stations.

Now Mrs. Cooper is not so sure she can find her grandmother's grave.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest American college Greek Letter fraternity. Mount Everest, the world's tallest, is known to the people of Tibet as Chomolungma.
