

Wild Storm Rakes Southern California

Rains, Snow Halt Traffic, Flood Homes

LOS ANGELES —(P)— A driving, windswept storm hit Southern California from the north Saturday, flooding homes in some areas, jamming traffic, causing one death and bringing a snow slide in the Sierra Nevada that smashed part of a tungsten mill and flattened four houses.

The huge slide, near Bishop, dropped without warning from crags north of Pine Creek Canyon. One report said one end of the U. S. Vanadium Corporation's two-story tungsten mill caved in.

But somehow none of the persons marooned in the mill or houses was killed. Sheriff's officers reported a 15-month-old baby was buried two hours by the avalanche but was rescued apparently unharmed.

Elsewhere in Southern California it was water in deluges that hurt. Santa Barbara and adjacent points got more than four inches of rain. Southern Pacific rail service from San Francisco to Los Angeles was interrupted when two bridges over a wash in Ventura County were flooded.

The southbound Southern Pacific Daylight, due in Los Angeles early Saturday night, was held at Santa Barbara. The railroad company started moving buses over warty highways to bring the 800 passengers here.

The coast and foothills of Southern California were raked by gusts up to 40 miles an hour which uprooted trees and caused damage in isolated areas. At Long Beach, a main highway into nearby Orange County was (Continued on Page Six)

Five Seek Three School Trusteeships

A last-minute entry Saturday brought the field of candidates to five in the April 5 school board election of the Midland Independent School District.

The latest candidate to file with the board secretary is Hugh A. West, division superintendent of the Atlantic Pipe Line Company here.

Three school board posts will be filed at the election. Candidates who previously have announced are Holt Jewell, the only board member seeking reelection; Thornton Hardie, Jr., Lynn D. Durham and Mrs. John J. Redfern, Jr.

West came to Midland with the pipe line company 24 years ago and has resided here since that time. He and Mrs. West, the former Margaret Francis of Midland, and their two children, both of whom attend public schools here, reside at the Atlantic tank farm east of Midland.

West said he is interested in the school system and in its continued expansion to meet the educational needs of the fast-growing community.

Taft Leading Ike In North Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C. —(P)— Senator Taft beat General Eisenhower four national convention votes to two as North Carolina Republicans elected delegates at congressional district meetings Saturday.

The cumulative total, following Saturday's seven meetings and three previous ones, is eight delegates for Taft, three for Eisenhower and seven uncommitted.

Truman's Pal, Finnegan, Convicted On Two Counts

ST. LOUIS —(P)— A federal court jury convicted former Internal Revenue Collector James P. Finnegan on two misconduct in office charges early Saturday.

The 11 men and one woman freed him of three other counts—including two of bribery.

Finnegan, 51, personal friend of President Truman, took the decision quietly, but members of his family in the courtroom, appeared stunned.

U. S. District Judge Rubey M. Hulen will pronounce sentence March 24. Maximum penalty under the conviction is four years in prison and $20,000 in fines.

The counts under which Finnegan was found guilty involved acceptance of $5,000 from the Warwick Hotel Corporation for helping the firm in a claim against the Coast Guard for damage during World War II occupancy, and for taking $3,000 from the American Lithofold Corporation to represent the St. Louis printing firm in connection with a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan.

The jurors found that Finnegan, by accepting these sums, violated a federal law prohibiting officers and employees from taking compensation from outside parties to represent them before government agencies.

Late Taxpayers Must Get Busy During Weekend

A busy weekend was in prospect Saturday for hundreds of taxpayers who waited until the last minute to fill out their income tax returns.

But at least they had an extra two days in which to complete the job.

Ordinarily, the returns become delinquent after March 15 but since Saturday officially was not a workday, taxpayers have until midnight Monday to file their returns.

The Midland office of the Internal Revenue Bureau, located on the third floor of the Midland County Courthouse, will be open until midnight Monday.

Youngsters Start Bringing Animals To Livestock Show

Sand-coated trucks will rumble into the Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80 Sunday morning with happy youngsters and their prized livestock. By nightfall, the stage will have been set for the annual Midland County Livestock Show Monday and Tuesday.

Four-H and FFA boys and girls of Midland County will show 175 entries in their quest for premiums totaling almost $1,000. This is the first exclusive county show; that is, without the district exhibits which in the past have started the second day.

Red Cross Finance Drive Takes Sudden Spurt To $10,596.97

The 1952 Red Cross finance drive in Midland County continued the rapid climb toward its $16,000 goal Saturday, as leaders mapped plans to complete the campaign this week.

Returns at the weekend totaled $10,596.97, an increase of almost $2,000 over the Friday figure. Treasurer Murray Fasken predicted the $5,403.03 needed to meet the quota will be subscribed this week.

R. L. (Bob) Miller, general campaign chairman, expressed satisfaction at the excellent response of Midland citizens in the campaign to date, and urged those who have not contributed to do so promptly.

Contributions may be mailed to the Red Cross, Box 1706, Midland. Calling attention to the campaign slogan, "Answer the Call," Miller said the call of the Red Cross is the call of suffering humanity everywhere.

"Here, surely, is a call we all must answer generously and with a full measure of warm-hearted approval," he stated.

Scores of volunteer workers, including more than 140 women, are conducting the campaign in the business and residential districts.

Division chairmen are Mrs. Raymond Leggett, residential; L. V. Bassham, commercial district; Hartman McCall and Paul Osborne, office buildings; Bill Miller, special gifts; Charles Mathews, public schools, and Woody Campbell, Terminal.

Drive To Slash Foreign Aid Budget Stirs Renewed Talk Of Ike's Return

WASHINGTON —(P)— A powerfully-backed drive to slash President Truman's request for $7,900,000,000 of new foreign aid may bring new pressure for return of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to present his views to Congress.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he will vote to cut out "all economic aid, amounting to two and a half billion dollars" from the Mutual Security Program for the year starting July 1.

Byrd said this country has provided 40 billions of foreign aid since World War II "and I believe straight military aid will produce enough economic benefits without the extra billions."

Committee action on the multi-billion dollar foreign aid program got underway in Congress last week. Administration leaders concede they face a tough battle for the full amount.

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has questioned publicly the need for any more economic aid. The Administration has contended the economic aid requested is in reality to boost military production and thus is in effect a part of the arms aid program.

On Monday, Connally's committee will consider in closed session a motion by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) to invite Eisenhower to return from his North Atlantic Treaty Organization Command for testimony.

When McMahon filed his motion both Democrats and Republicans agreed it would put the general on a political spot. The general is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, but has said he will not campaign for it and has no plans to return to the U. S. anytime soon.

Even if he returns here just to testify on the foreign aid requests, everyone concedes there would be political overtures.

McMahon has insisted that is not his purpose. "The general believes in this program and now is doing his all to aid it," McMahon said. "I believe his appearance now would be even more persuasive than he was last year when his testimony contributed so much to actual implementation of the Atlantic Pact."

Other Senate committeemen said they would vote against the McMahon motion on the ground it would embarrass Eisenhower.

On the House side, Chairman Richards (D-SC) has postponed a decision by the Foreign Affairs Committee on a suggestion that Eisenhower be invited to testify "as an official of the government."

Allies Offer One-Package Truce Trade

MUNSAN —(P)— Allied negotiators Sunday pinned their hopes of breaking partly the Korean truce supervision log-jam on a package deal which the Reds eyed warily.

The major issues still were stuck solidly. Both sides agreed Saturday to hand the one on voluntary or forced repatriation of war prisoners back to staff officers who earlier this year failed in 22 sessions to resolve it.

Both matters were discussed again in talks opening at 11 a.m. Sunday (8 p.m., CST, Saturday) at Panmunjom.

Three UN Concessions

In its package deal, the Allied team offered to accept a Communist plan for five instead of six ports of entry—wheats neutral inspectors could observe truce conditions. Other items in the "package" included an offer to yield on Allied demands for periodic reports on locations of major military units and a ban on concentrations of forces posing a threat to the other side.

In return, the Allies insisted that the Reds drop demands for inspection of secret weapons during a truce and deletion of the word "Korea" from a truce clause banning naval blockade.

The Reds quickly accepted the three Allied concessions but indicated they weren't interested in talking about the other two points, which would require them to compromise.

Warmer Weather Seen For Midland

Southern breezes are expected to lift temperature readings for the Midland area Sunday after the mercury dipped to a two-degree-above-freezing 34 Saturday. Sunday's high may reach 70 as compared to Saturday's maximum of 62 degrees.

Ground fog was indicated for Sunday morning in observations of the CAA staff at the Midland Air Terminal. Winds up to 20 miles-an-hour gusts loomed for the South Plains but continued respite from swirling sand seemed in Midland's weather menu Sunday.

Partly cloudy skies and generally mild temperatures were forecast Sunday throughout Texas. No rain was reported Saturday and recent dust storms had subsided everywhere in the state.

Petroleum Auto Garage and Shopping Center.

New, 200-Car Storage Garage Will Help Solve City's Downtown Parking Problem

Midland soon will have a four-story and basement, 200-car parking garage—its first—according to an announcement Saturday by Jack C. Vaughn and O. H. Vaughn, Jr., of Dallas, owners of the company which will erect the building and create the work storage business. The garage will be located at the corner of Texas and Big Spring Streets, across the street north from the new Midland National Bank Building, which now is under construction. The huge parking facility will be known as the Petroleum Auto Garage. A contract for the erection of the building, which will have more than 50,000 square feet of floor space, has been awarded to the Rose Construction Company of Abilene, and construction is scheduled to begin Monday. Wyatt C. Hendrick of Fort Worth and Midland is the architect, and the General Engineering Company of Fort Worth holds the mechanical and electrical contract. The building will face 140 feet on Texas Street and extend 77 feet on

Big Spring Street. The property was purchased last year from the Midland Masonic orders. Retail shops and offices will occupy the first floor, and the basement, second, third and fourth floors and roof will be used for automobile parking. The Spartan Drilling Company will occupy ground floor quarters. Tenants for the four ground floor shops have not been announced. Each shop and office will have individual air-conditioning and heating facilities. The building, which will have a foundation for 10 floors, will be of reinforced steel and concrete construction. Completely modern in design, the building will have no windows except on the ground floor.

Jack Vaughn said materials for the construction job are on hand and that no delay is anticipated in the erection of the structure. Completion is expected within 280 days.

He said he and his brother, O. H. Vaughn, Jr., have "a great deal of faith in Midland's future."

Continued Growth

Continued growth and development of the city and section may be expected, he said, due largely to the Spraberry Trend activity and to the deep drilling programs to the West and Southwest.

The Vaughn brothers are sons of Grady H. Vaughn of Dallas, well-known in oil circles throughout the Southwest.

Charles Cobb, Midland representative for Grady Vaughn and for the Spartan Drilling Company, will be in charge of the building's auto space rentals, and Barney Grafia will be in charge of commercial space rentals. They will be 5,800 square feet of commercial space in the building.

Complete auto service station facilities will be available in the parking garage, which is expected to aid materially in relieving Midland's downtown parking problem.

2,500 Cocky Paratroopers Spill From Skies In Texas' Greatest Mass 'Chute Drop

LOMETA, TEXAS —(P)— Twenty-five hundred cocky paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne Division spilled out of 73 C-47 planes Saturday, taking just six minutes for the biggest parachute drop ever made in Texas.

The planes poured over a ridge-line cutting the dusty, mesquite land of Central Texas, 25 to the wave, disgorging the troops at two-minute intervals.

An estimated 40,000 persons watched the jump, a practice drop that was a prelude to Operation Long Horn, the largest air-ground maneuver in the history of the U. S. armed forces. Some had waited since dawn.

Division officials said casualties were unusually low—25 troopers suffered fractures. An additional 23 were bruised enough to report for aid. But black eyes, minor cuts and light sprains weren't reported by the men.

Lands In Windmill

The jump was made at 1,000 feet in a cold, nine-mile wind that blew one man into a lonely windmill, hundreds of yards from the drop zone. A few others went into some low trees.

Lt. Col. Asa Back, commanding officer of the 319th Airborne Artillery Regiment, said "It was a good drop."

"I'm walking," he quipped. "That always makes it a good one." He made a quick check of the drop zone.

"None of my men were hurt," he said. "That's what counts."

Elements of the 319th and the 325th Airborne Infantry Regiments made the drop—a "pay" jump for some of the men. They needed it to get the extra $50 a month that goes to paratroopers.

The wind delayed the jump two hours and it was not until 10:10 a.m. that the "pathfinders" dropped. This specially trained team of 18 men makes the T-shaped panel that guides the main body of jumpers to the drop zone. The men jump when their plane crosses the intersection of the "T."

After the troops jumped, giant "Flying Box Cars" flew over in simulated dropping of cargo. A jeep and a three-fourth-ton truck were dropped by giant parachutes.

Helicopters to pick up the injured followed, then six power gliders landed in the plowed drop zone, bringing heavy guns—howitzers.

A simulated air strike by 11 P-47 fighter planes "neutralized" the drop zone before the pathfinder plane came over.

U. S. Brands Germ War Charges Lies

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. —(P)— The United States is planning steps to expose the falsity of Russia's charges that UN forces are using germ warfare in North Korea and China, Benjamin V. Cohen said Saturday.

The U. S. delegate to the 12-nation Disarmament Commission declared Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik knew the accusations were false when he made them before the commission Friday.

"We don't intend to let him get away with these dishonest, absurd and monstrous falsehoods," Cohen added.

He disclosed that Washington is considering what measures to take if the Communists reject a proposed inquiry by the International Red Cross requested by the United States.

No decision had been taken yet whether the United States will seek an inquiry by the Disarmament Commission or by some other agency, he said. It was pointed out that other bodies, particularly the Security Council, would be competent to deal with the question.

The test of Malik's sincerity, he said, is whether Russia will cooperate in arranging for an impartial inquiry. He pointed out the Communists already had been asked to let the Red Cross investigate the charges, but that the Red Cross had received no reply. In the past, the Communists have refused to permit representatives of the Red Cross to investigate prisoner of war camps of atrocity charges.

Red Radio Airs Threat Of Gallows

TOKYO —(P)— A Chinese Communist government official was quoted Sunday by the official Peking radio as saying "a gallows in the People's Court awaits that handful of savage war criminals" who are waging "germ warfare."

It quoted an article by Seto Mee Tong, identified as a commissioner of overseas affairs. The article bristled with such expressions as "enormous crimes," "American cannibals" and "murderers."

His threat of gallows executions was the first open death threat to Americans made in the steady series of Red germ broadcasts over the last 23 days.

LOOKS AS IF HARRY'S RUNNIN'

NEW YORK —(P)— President Truman started his guards Saturday when he alighted from his car, leaped over a railing and shook hands with a crippled, 87-year-old woman in a wheelchair.

As his car was leaving the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria driveway it was halted at the exit. On the sidewalk, separated from the driveway by a railing, was Mrs. Max Yankauer being wheeled by her nurse, Jessie Dunlop.

Mrs. Yankauer waved at the President. He returned the salutation and then got out of his car to lean across the railing to shake her hand.

Solon Promises Tax Cuts If GOP Wins

WASHINGTON —(P)— Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, ranking Republican of the House Ways and Means Committee, announced Saturday that if the Republicans win in November and there is no all-out war, he will move, on the opening day of the 83rd Congress, to cut taxes back to pre-Korea levels.

Reed would become chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee if the GOP captured control of Congress.

More Than 6,000 Buy Auto Plates

More than 6,000 automobile license tags had been issued Saturday as the March 31 deadline loomed only two weeks away.

County Tax Collector-Assessor J. M. Speed said the sale of the 1952 tags had picked up during the last week but predicted a heavy last-minute rush.

He has estimated that some 14,000 tags will be sold in the county before the deadline.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON —(P)— The FBI Saturday night announced the arrest of two additional men in Milwaukee in connection with the $1,500,000 burglary in Reno, Nev., February 29, bringing to five the number now under arrest in the case.

KEY WEST, FLA. —(P)— President Truman arrived at the nearby Boca Chica Naval Air Station Saturday night from a speech in New York to resume his Florida vacation.

NEW YORK —(P)— The city formally set aside $25,000 Saturday as a reward for the arrest and conviction of the killer of Arnold Schuster, tipster in the Willie Sutton case, who was shot to death a week ago.

WASHINGTON —(P)— Secretary of Defense Lovett warned the Communists Saturday night they are in for heavy losses if they start up large-scale attacks again in Korea.

Approach Of 'Oscar Time' Revives Memories Of Past

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—It's Oscar time again, and the signal for reminiscing about academy awards of the past.

Next Thursday night will bring a whole new set of memories, but meanwhile let's think about other years and other Oscars. I have witnessed eight other awards presentations and each one brings back sharp recollections.

For instance: 1943—Jennifer Jones was the star of this one, winning for her first big role, in "Song of Bernadette." No one was happier for her than her husband, the late Robert Walker. Oh yes, the actress' boss, David Selznick, now her husband, also was there.

1944—This was the year of the big "Going My Way" sweep. Bing Crosby was handed his Oscar by the emcee, Bob Hope, who then kidded while Bing was trying to make a serious speech. The other winner was a girl named Ingrid Bergman. Let McCarey picked up a couple of Oscars for directing and writing the original story for "Going My Way." The next day Crosby, Bergman and McCarey went back to work on their picture together, "Bells of St. Mary's."

1945—"The Lost Weekend" and Ray Milland won this year. I can recall Milland fortifying himself with a drink or two before the event. Joan Crawford was the star of a great comeback story, winning for "Mildred Pierce" after Hollywood had said she was washed up. She got her Oscar at home in bed, where she was ailing. I've often wondered whether it was a cold, or nerves, or Joan's natural showmanship.

1946—This even was noted for "The Best Years of Our Lives," and Harold Russell's holding an Oscar in each artificial hand. Also for Olivia de Havilland's snub of her sister, Joan Fontaine.

The Big Upset
1947—The year of the big upset. Rosalind Russell came prepared to win for "Mourning Becomes Electra," but her friend, Loretta Young, won the big prize for "The Farmer's Daughter."

1948—You couldn't forget John and Walter Huston, arm-in-arm with their three Oscars for "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre." It was a great father-and-son act that soon was to be broken up by Walter's death.

1949—Brod Crawford and "All the King's Men" swept the boards like an election for Willie Stark, the character he portrayed. Olivia de Havilland was on top again, this time for "The Heiress." Her confident and self-praising speech had the audience open-mouthed in amazement.

1950—This was the year of the absentee winners. Both Judy Holliday and Jose Ferrer got the news in New York. Only the supporting award winners, Josephine Hull and George Sanders, were present to receive their Oscars.

Stubborn Villagers Refuse To Evacuate Doomed French Town

TIGNES, FRANCE—(AP)—Water began backing up behind a huge new power dam here Saturday, but stubborn mountaineers stayed on in the Village of Tignes, which will be buried under 600 feet of water when the dam lake is full.

It will be several weeks before danger to the village is acute, as only Saturday were sluice gates of the dam closed.

Meanwhile, French government officials hoped to get the village's 497 inhabitants out peacefully. If that fails, police may be used to evacuate the village, high in the French Alps near the frontier of Italy.

Chill Descends On Clark Gable Freshened Affair With Grey

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Exclusively Yours: A chill has descended on Clark Gable's fresh-ended-up-romance with Virginia Grey. Pals who predicted a quick marriage when Gable was divorced from Lary Sylvia are now looking foolish about the whole thing.

The talk of an impending break-up between Jane Russell and Bob Waterfield has never been so high-geared. Long overdue, the tangle-waggers insist, with some eye-bugging reasons given.

The Hollywood models who know her best say that Barbara Freking will never wed dress designer Oleg Cassini, who's about to be divorced by Gene Tierney. I checked with Sylvia Sydney just before she left for New York, after completing "Les Miserables," on whether she'll marry again after her divorce from Carlton Alphonse Her answer: "There's a good chance. Where there's life, there's love."

There's a hilarious plot line to Cary Grant's next at Fox, "Darling, I Am Growing Younger." He plays a scientist who accidentally discovers a reversion-to-youth formula and winds up roller skating and playing cowboys and Indians with the kids. How about some still walking—Cary's first stage profession?

Stanley Kramer is spiking talk that the Rex Harrison-Lilli Palmer co-starrer, "The Four Poster," cost peanuts because of its one set, and cast of two. The final cost sheet, says Stanley, added up to $850,000.

Rosemarie Reid, the bathing suit designer, her three children, a maid, her sister-in-law and her mother all eloped to Las Vegas with Danny Malloy, singer and stunt man for John Wayne.

Corinne Calvet, the luscious French actress, and Zsa Zsa Gabor, the blonde Hungarian man-killer, finally met in the Fox studio cafe after weeks of hurling barbs at one another in newspaper interviews. Corinne's account of the event: "It was very peaceful. Everyone was horribly disappointed. Zsa Zsa suggested that we carry on the battle on her TV show. But I'm afraid to do that because I might let myself go."

Corinne's long hair frequently tumbles down over one eye, but she's denying any attempts at a Veronica Lake coiffure. "Darling," she let it fly, "I'm not hiding ANYTHING."

Fox has scheduled a movie titled "Something For the Birds." With Walter Pidgeon directed by Howard Hawks?

It's eye-popping, that's what it is, but Errol Flynn wants to team up with Charlie Chaplin in an independent movie. The script calls for them to play brothers. Oh, well, Hollywood's always said there's a little of Chaplin in Errol and a little of Errol in Chaplin.

Half Still Sails
It's full movie steam ahead for George Raft, now that he's junked his retirement blueprint. He will star in movies to be made in London and Rome before the year is out. I don't know what it signifies, but you can buy Dick Contino's accordion records at the reduced bargain price of 29 cents per platter at a Hollywood drug store.

Warners said NO to Maureen O'Hara's request to borrow Steve Cochran as her leading man for her first independent movie, "Jehad." Watch for Steve and Hedy Lamarr as a new twosome, by the way.

There's a buzz that Mickey Rooney will join Betty Hutton and Donald O'Connor in Paramount's "Look Ma, I'm Dancing." The very thought of all that combined energy makes me tired. The names of Peter Lawford and Rocky Cooper are being entwined again on the grapevine.

Note from a press agent: "Edgar Bergen just ordered a pine-and-cedar scented cologne for Charlie McCarthy and a new-mown hay fragrance for Mortimer Snerd."

OKAY SCHUMAN PLAN
ROME—(AP)—The Italian Senate Saturday approved Italy's participation in the Schuman economic plan. The vote was 148 to 97.

Angelo Mosquito Pilot Steers Jets Into Big Red Kill

FIFTH AIR FORCE KOREA—(AP)—Lt. Franklin Breckhold was moosey around on the eastern front in his Mosquito observation plane Saturday when he spotted a Communist mortar platoon. He counted about 70 Reds in bunkers.

Breckhold of San Angelo, Texas, called for Allied jets.

When four low-flying F-80 Shooting Stars turned up, Breckhold fired several rockets into the Communist mortar platoon to point out the target. The Shooting Stars swooped down with guns and rockets blazing.

Capt. Henry Gibbs, Las Vegas, Nev., leader of the jet flight, said "There was no flak to bother us and we really worked it over. We dropped eight 500-pounders on the target, hit it with eight five-inch rockets and generally ripped up the area."

Breckhold went back after the smoke cleared away.

His report: "They had destroyed all the mortars and bunkers and killed at least 40 of the enemy."

Navy Doctors Battle Diphtheria Outbreak

HONOLULU—(AP)—Nineteen crewmen from the Transport USS Bayfield were hospitalized as Navy medical experts Saturday continued their battle against an apparent outbreak of diphtheria.

Navy doctors said seven of the 19 definitely have diphtheria, and the others may have.

Brazil, U. S. Sign West Defense Pact

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Brazil and the U. S. Saturday signed an agreement to help each other in defense of the Western Hemisphere and the free world.

A bilateral military assistance pact was signed at the Foreign Office by U. S. Ambassador Herschel V. Johnson and Brazilian Foreign Minister Joao Neves da Fontoura.

In recent weeks, the U. S. has reached similar agreements with Peru, Ecuador and Cuba. In Mexico, efforts to get together on such a treaty were sabotaged by that country's Communist Party.

Under the accord signed here Saturday, both governments agree to furnish materials, service and other military assistance within the spirit of the United Nations Charter to promote Western Hemisphere defense.

Laughing Attacker Of Women Roams South San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A laughing attacker of women appeared again in South San Antonio Friday night.

Mrs. Raymon DeWitt, 45, told officers she fought off the attack of a man in the dark kitchen of her house while he tore her clothing, laughed, and yelled obscenities. She said her screams caused her dogs to begin barking and the man fled into a brushy area near the house.

"It's the same man for sure," Constable Ed Shafer said in reference to an attack on a woman Thursday morning only eight blocks from Mrs. DeWitt's home. In that instance also, the man fled when the woman screamed and dogs began barking.

Ike-For-President Movement Strikes Rapid Pace In Paris

PARIS—(AP)—The Eisenhower-for-President movement operated at full steam here Saturday, some 4,000 miles and four months away from the Chicago nominating conventions.

Republican standard bearer next November and the President next January had a chance to talk politics as dinner guests at his suburban home.

They were Paul G. Hoffman, who told reporters he believes the general can be nominated regardless of whether he returns home to campaign, and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who said the New Hampshire primary proved Eisenhower "has a real hold on the American people."

Hoffman, former chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration which put the Marshall Plan into practice, is co-chairman of the Citizens-for-Eisenhower Organization.

Clay, former chief of U. S. forces in Europe, describes himself as "a life-long Southern Democrat who puts the man above party."

Hoffman said "if General Eisenhower comes home before the convention, it's a walk," and made it clear he would like for Eisenhower to return to speak on election issues.

Development From Talk Clay reported much conflicting advice had developed from discussion of the subject among the general's supporters.

"No two agreed on the same thing," he said. "Some think he should stay over here and others think he should return. I myself am not too sure."

Clay and Hoffman agreed Eisenhower probably would make up his own mind on the question of his return—unless Congress makes it up for him sooner.

Clay told reporters that, if his testimony is needed for the success of the $7,900,000,000 foreign aid bill, "then no matter what it might cost him, General Eisenhower would go back."

SHAPE, commonly known in these parts as Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, remains officially off-limits to political talk.

Yet almost every conversation now begins with a question about when the general will return to the United States, to make a speech or to remain there and campaign.

With rare exceptions, the Americans at SHAPE seem to believe Eisenhower has the Republican nomination sewed up. Perhaps to a lesser degree that is true of the Americans in other parts of Paris, although by no means all of them support him.

The governmental organizations in France are peopled heavily by Democratic appointees. The exception is SHAPE, where probably not 25 of the 250 officers there vote at all.

Talks With Eisenhower Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, had a half-hour talk with Eisenhower Saturday. A basket of Senator Robert A. Taft, McCormick told reporters he would support Eisenhower if the general won the nomination.

"I would support the Republican candidate," he said. "I supported Dewey, for God's sake."

Eisenhower himself was delighted with the primary results. He exhibited this delight not only the day after with a happy "By golly," but subsequently in meetings with friends.

It is increasingly evident to observers that the excitement of the race has taken hold of him since a statement of January 6 said he would permit friends to enter his name in New Hampshire.

Moreover, it can be soundly surmised, that, being in the race and with a primary victory to his credit, he wants to win.

The chances are that if he must make some gesture to bring him victory he will make it.

TRUSTY JUST COULDN'T WAIT

HOUSTON—(AP)—With the help of baying bloodhounds, guards Saturday recaptured a trusty who escaped on horseback from Harlam Prison Farm Friday night.

Jose Ortiz Rios, 24, was to have been released in five months. Prison System Manager O. B. Ellis said Rios was ordered to put a horse in a stable Friday night but disappeared instead, riding another horse.

At daylight Saturday the horse was found loose several miles from the farm. Bloodhounds picked up Rios' trail and led guards to the fugitive. Rios was sentenced April 23, 1948, from Brooks and Cameron Counties on burglary charges.

The outbreak was the second in less than a month on this rocky island prison off the coast of Southeast Korea.

Seventy-eight interned Korean civilians and an American soldier were killed in a riot in the stockade February 18. Brig. Gen. Frank T. Todd, Koje commander, said the disturbance was a deliberately-planned Red riot in contrast to Thursday's "spontaneous" outbreak.

Leahy told correspondents the North Korean prisoners in Compound 93 had renounced communism about five days ago and had begun displaying Republic of Korea and United Nations flags. The prisoners in an adjacent compound, No. 92, evidently remained ardent Communists.

Pass Along Road Thursday morning a work party of about 150 prisoners from 93 passed along a dirt road paralleling the barbed wire fence of 92.

At the same time a group of some 60 South Korean soldiers were marching along the road immediately in front of the work party.

Leahy said the workers taunted the prisoners inside compound 92 and sang a South Korean marching song.

"I hopped in my jeep and raced to get to those prisoners in the working detail out of the area," Leahy said. "At the same time, I was watching those in 92 moving toward the fence."

When he reached the scene, "rocks were flying in all directions." There were conflicting reports as to which side threw the first stone.

Leahy shouted "Chung Jo"—"stop it"—and tried to get the work party moving. But the column had stopped and the men were heaving a hail of stones into the stockade.

The captain said then a shot rang out somewhere behind him and rifles started cracking all around the compound.

Leahy said he ran toward the guards, "knocking their guns up and shouting 'I'm not to fire.'" Blood streamed down his face.

Korean Vet Returns Home To Monterrey As Wetback

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—A U. S. Army veteran of the Korean war returned voluntarily to his Monterrey, Mexico, home Friday in lieu of deportation as an alien.

Alberto Gonzales, 21, was picked up by the Immigration Service as an illegal entrant after his discharge at Fort Sam Houston Monday. He is reported to have received the Purple Heart during a year's service in Korea.

W. L. Meulhauser, chief of the investigation section of the Immigration Office, said the ex-GI was liable to civilian laws just as soon as he was discharged.

Gonzales will be given an opportunity to enter this country legally. First, he must qualify as an immigrant and apply at the American consul's office in Monterrey for a visa.

The youth planned a March 23 wedding with a San Antonio girl.

Reds Perpetrated Katyn Massacre, Says Former Soviet Colonel, Now Living In U. S.

CHICAGO—(AP)—A former Russian colonel, says a "drunk and bragging" Soviet captain boasted to him he was a special executioner during the Katyn massacre, in which 10,000 Polish Army officers were slain.

Vasili Ershov, 45, testified Friday before a House committee trying to fix responsibility for the killings in the Katyn Forest, near Smolensk, Russia, in the early 1940's.

Ershov, now of New York, was the first wartime Russian officer to appear before the committee, which plans more hearings in Washington this week. It heard the last of a two-day parade of witnesses in Chicago Friday.

Ershov, who came to the United States three months ago from West Germany, said a Captain Borisov told him he was one of a group of special Soviet Army executioners at Katyn who took their orders directly from the Politburo and the minister of national security.

The Germans and Russians have accused each other of perpetrating the massacre. The Germans made public in 1943 discovery of mass graves containing an estimated 10,000 to 14,000 bodies of Polish officers.

Texas Quadruplets Face Separation In Transfer To Korea

BEAUMONT—(AP)—The Perricone quadruplets of Beaumont fear they won't be allowed to serve the rest of their time in the Army together.

When the four were drafted Jan. 5, 1951, they asked only that they not be separated. The 22-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Perricone now are at Fort Benning, Ga.

However, an older brother, Jesse Perricone of Beaumont, said one of the quads, Carl, recently was alerted for shipment to Korea. The other three, Anthony, Bernard and Donald, were not. The quads protested the breakup and Carl's name was removed temporarily from the shipment list.

Jesse Perricone said the four have been informed they all will be shipped out later but they were given no assurance they would go together or to the same place.

"They know they're in the Army," he said, "and they'll go willingly wherever the Army sends them. But they want to stay together."

The older brother said he planned to contact U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson to see if something could be done to keep the quartet intact.

Crop Duster Killed In Freak Accident

ARLINGTON—(AP)—Homer Eugene Gordon, 32, partner in a crop dusting company, was killed at a flying field southwest of here late Friday when struck by the tail wheel of a low-flying plane.

The plane was laying a test dust pattern at Lucas Flying Field. Gordon was attempting to take a photograph of the test. He straightened up from a crouching position as the plane neared and was struck in the head by the tail wheel.

POPULAR "TAX" STAMP—Harried income tax collectors have a new burden to bear as thousands of these "protest" stamps, right, printed in red ink, begin to show up on income tax return forms. They are issued by the Citizens' Public Expenditure Survey, an Albany, N. Y., private taxpayers' organization. The idea caught on and is sweeping the country. Anne DeGolyer, left, of Albany, has mailed out more than 100,000 stamps to date.

DETECTIVE HAS TROUBLES, TOO

HOUSTON —(P)— Chagrined burglary and theft detective Flasher McDade was taking a ribbing from his fellow officers Saturday when he showed up for work with only the keys to the police car he drove home Friday night.

Detective McDade, who takes the car home in case he gets a night call, reported he parked it in the driveway beside his house at 10 p.m. Saturday morning it was gone.

"The thief got my pair of hand-cuffs, too," Officer McDade said. "I left them hanging over the brake lever under the dash board."

Plans Progress On C-C Member Drive

Plans are progressing on schedule for the one-day, city-wide Chamber of Commerce membership campaign scheduled March 26, Joe T. Dickerson, chairman, announced Saturday.

He urged other members of the Membership Committee to select their campaign workers promptly and to list their names at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The drive is the first concerted membership effort made by the Chamber of Commerce since before the World War II years.

The immediate goal is to increase the Chamber's annual budget for $5,000 to meet its $36,719 budget for 1952. The membership committee's goal for the year is to increase the organization's income to $30,000 annually.

South, East Texas Democrats Reflect Mid-March Chaos Of Undecided Voters

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN —(P)— Texas Democratic leaders who are having a hard time getting together reflect the mid-March mental chaos of voters who don't know their own minds.

Violent cross-currents and conflicts that have their thinking in a turmoil formed the most vivid impression this reporter got on a tour of 17 counties in South-Central, East and Southeast Texas.

It included strictly agricultural counties where small industries are growing up and the big-industry regions from Houston south to the Gulf of Mexico and east to the Sabine River.

party talk in East Texas counties where the Democratic Party always has been as much a part of the landscape as white-flowered dog-woods and tall pine trees.

Most people whose pappies and grandpappies were Democrats want to keep on being Democrats, but they have an almost fanatical distrust of the national party leadership. They want new faces in high places.

They will once they get in the voting booth with the curtain pulled and nobody looking they would vote Democratic again no matter who the candidate is even Truman. They probably would be delighted to have someone else.

Many outspoken conservatives, especially in Gulf Coast industrial areas, would jump right over the party traces and take any Republican if Truman is renominated and if the national convention fails to make real concessions to the South.

Kermit, Crane High School Papers Among Winners In Columbia Press Competition

NEW YORK —(P)— The Columbia Scholastic Press Association announced Saturday awards to school publications Saturday in its twenty-eighth annual contest. There were several Texas winners.

Some 1,300 newspapers and 800 yearbooks were entered in the contest. They are published by elementary, junior high and senior schools and junior and teachers colleges.

The announcement was made at the association's annual convention on the Columbia University campus. More than 3,300 student editors and faculty advisors are attending.

Marine Airman, Duty Over, Ends Year-Long Deceit

FIRST MARINE AIR WING, KOREA —(P)— A Marine airman with 75 combat missions over Korea breathed a sigh of relief Saturday—his mother finally knows he isn't selling insurance in Jacksonville, Fla.

Lt. Joseph R. Schiavo, Rockford, Ill., began the masquerade a year ago when he was recalled to military service. His mother, Mrs. John Schiavo, Rockford, was in poor health and he didn't want her to worry.

For a whole year Shivo wrote letters to his mother describing his life as an insurance salesman. He sent them to his wife, Dorothy, who lives in the Florida City, and she remailed them.

Cleanup Man Stands Pat On Decision Not To Quit Under Fire

NEW YORK —(P)— Newbold Morris, the government's cleanup chief, said Saturday he did not intend to let his critics "bully" him into resigning his post.

"I wouldn't have much guts if I bowed to that sort of thing, would I?" he told an interviewer.

Morris was replying to criticism by Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) Friday night on the radio. Nixon predicted President Truman would have to replace Morris because of Morris' conduct before the Senate committee investigating ship deals.

Morris had denied any wrongdoing in connection with ship deals and he had been subjected to "character destruction."

"I am really a very well organized person, but sometimes when a person gets provoked enough he talks back," Morris commented Saturday at his home here.

"I'll say again as I've said before, I have no intention of quitting."

Culberson Suggests Crude Flow Cutback

AUSTIN —(P)— Railroad Commission Chairman Olin Culberson Friday suggested a two-day roll-back—which would mean a 100,000-barrel-a-day cut in Texas' permissive oil flow next month.

He said "warning signals" reflect too much crude on hand.

Among the signals he listed an 80,000-barrel daily reduction in gasoline stocks at the highest point in the industry's history.

Culberson said he believed demand would justify only 22 state-wide producing days and 19 days for East Texas during April.

It would give East Texas, now 19 days, a slight increase resulting from the 30 days in April compared to 31 days in March. The state-wide schedule now is 24 days.

Allowable flow has been at an all-time high this month.

Forecast of demand for Texas oil next month was placed at 2,880,000 barrels daily by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, unchanged from the March forecast.

Advance nominations for Texas oil totaled 3,125,621 barrels daily, up 24,277 barrels from a month ago despite the build-up of national stocks of products.

McLean Predicts Taft Will Win Nomination

SAN ANTONIO —(P)— Matts McLean, San Antonio oil man, came back home Saturday after touring Texas, New Mexico and Arizona with Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio) and predicted Taft will win the Republican presidential nomination by a 100-vote margin.

McLean, who is a member of the GOP National Finance Committee, predicted Taft would get 35 or perhaps all of Texas' 38 delegates to the National Republican Convention.

Junior High Band To Present Spring Concert Tuesday

A varied musical program, featuring marches, classical and popular music, will be presented by the John M. Cowden Junior High School Band at its annual Spring concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Midland High School Auditorium.

Under the direction of Robert Gans, the band will play selections ranging all the way from excerpts from a Beethoven symphony to the popular "Stormy Weather."

Marches played will include Sousa's "Washington Post March" and "Semper Parvulus."

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Walkout Halts Work On Atomic Project

PADUCAH, KY.—(P)—A walkout of AFL laborers led to a work stoppage at the half-billion dollar Paducah Atomic Energy Plant Saturday. About 15,000 workers were idled.

Work also was halted at an electric plant being built at nearby Joppa, Ill., to supply power for the atomic energy plant, reportedly because of a union jurisdictional dispute. The 90-million-dollar Joppa project across the Ohio River employs 2,500.

East Texas Teachers Advocate Tax Increase

HOUSTON —(P)— The District One Texas State Teachers Association Saturday recommended the school tax limit be raised "because of the extreme crisis existing in providing adequate school buildings."

They recommended raising the limit from its present $1.50 to $2.00. They also recommended that minimum salaries for teachers be raised to $3,000 from $2,600, and that $150 be allowed for each year of experience up to 12 years.

New picture frames, with enclosed hidden fluorescent lights, illuminate pictures made of translucent plastic sheet, giving life-like, three-dimensional effect. Pictures can be interchanged easily to blend with new decorating schemes, and come in a variety of colors and subjects.

Being President Is Fun, Despite All Its Troubles, Truman Tells Teen-Agers

NEW YORK—President Truman said Saturday it's "a wonderful experience indeed" to be President, but he shied no hint on whether he planned to seek reelection.

great republic depends on young people like you. And because in the past year, young people have been coming to see me at the White House.

In a short, off-the-cuff talk to student editors from across the country, he said he had had his eye on the White House since he was a boy and you know the trouble I'm in today.

He said hardly a week passed but what some group of youths dropped in to see him, and they got the same treatment his Waldorf-Astoria audience was getting.

He paused, while the audience of some 3,000 youths laughed, then he added: "But I'll say to you it's a wonderful experience indeed, in spite of all its troubles."

They had to listen, he said, as laughter swept the room.

Here on a whirlwind trip from his vacation in Florida, the President referred briefly to the country's foreign policy and jabbed it lightly at isolationism.

He said he could learn from the ideas of other countries, and that our present program of cooperation with the free world will, if successful, bring the "greatest age in the history of the world."

But it may take the next generation to accomplish the task, he said, and that responsibility will be on the shoulders of today's youths.

The President scoffed at "Russian propaganda that we are imperialistic."

"They Had To Listen" "We know the Soviet government is a menace to us," he said. "That's why we are building up our strength, not to march against them, but to prevent them from marching against us."

He was president at that time of the Garden City Grain and Seed Company, against which bankruptcy proceedings now are in progress.

Now - for you - a Paddock designed and equipped Swimming Pool. Here you can be among the thousands who own the finest of all swimming pools - a Paddock California Pool - with Paddock features and new construction methods.

He said he had to leave the room, but he would be back in a few minutes.

Sooner Schoolboys Snow Texans Under

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Ten records, two of them overall, were written into the books and a sturdy schoolboy from Oklahoma—Eddie Roberts—was the star Saturday as Southern Methodist, North Texas State, Texas, Victoria and Stillwater, Okla., won division titles of the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet.

Roberts established two records and won first place in Mill another event as Stillwater galloped in with the high school title.

Val Joe Walker, the Southern Methodist University footballer, ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.1 seconds with a 16-mile-per-hour wind at his back and Abilene Christian College turned in a 3:20.9 mile relay in handling up the overall records of the five-division meet which attracted more than 1,200 athletes.

Roberts did the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.3 to wipe out the record of 14.7 set by August Erfurth of Brackebridge (San Antonio) in 1945. Then he blistered the cinders with a 19.7 seconds 180-yard low hurdles to establish another mark. He had done 20.0 in this event in the preliminaries to set the record. It was a new event.

Roberts ran 100 yards in 10 flat to win this event easily.

Midland High School's Roy Kinsley swept to a triumph in the 440-yard schoolboy dash, circling the cinders in the time-winning form of 0:51.9.

Southern Methodist captured the University division with 55 1/2 points with Walker winning both the high and low hurdles as high point man of the class with 10. University of Houston was second with 32 points and Arkansas and Baylor tied for third with 15 apiece.

North Texas State won the college division with 38 1/2 points. Howard Payne was second with 34 and produced the high point man in Charles White. White won both hurdles and ran on the third-place mile relay team. He got 103.4 points.

Texas won the college freshman division with 39 1/2 points with Texas Christian second with 34. Oklahoma State

Ronald Clinkscale of Texas Christian was high point man with 10 1/4. He won the 220 and 100-yard dashes and was on the fourth-place mile relay team.

Victoria ran away with the junior college division, wrapping up 58 1/2 points. The next best team was Belhaven Institute with 18, mainly through the work of Charles Travis who got 11 points with first in the 100-yard dash and second in both the shot put and discus throw. Stillwater rolled up 22 points with Roberts' three first places the big threat.

Second was Classen of Oklahoma City with 9 1/4 points while Sunset (Dallas) was third with 9 1/2.

Mizzou Five Wraps Up NAIB Crown

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY —(AP)—The Southwest Missouri State Bears of Springfield outthrust and outshot Murray (Ky.) Thoroughbreds 73 to 64 to win the NAIB basketball championship and a berth in the Olympic playoffs Saturday night.

Coach Bon Van Natta's Springfield team, eighth seeded in the tournament, defeated Chadron (Neb.) Teachers, Indiana State, Morningside College of Sioux City, Ia. and Southwest Texas State before getting the Kentuckians.

Southwest Texas State's Bobcats of San Marcos, Texas, played a masterful keep-away game the last seven minutes to defeat Portland, Ore. University Pilots 78 to 68 for third place in the tournament.

A near-capacity crowd of more than 9,500 turned out for the windup Saturday, 32-team, small college meet that featured Murray College and Southwest Missouri State of Springfield.

Southwest Texas went in front on a free throw by J. C. (Spider) Maze, the game's leading scorer with 26 points, and the Bobcats never were caught by the courageous but well-beaten Portland team.

The Texans led 18-9 at the first quarter, 41-32 at the half and 66-56 at the end of the third.

Portland repeatedly trimmed its disadvantage to six or seven points in the last period but never was able to come within a challenging position as Maze personally controlled the rebounds under both baskets.

440-yard dash: 1. Bob Keck, Oklahoma Baptist; 2. Sam Volpe, ACC; 3. Walt Lindsay, North Texas State; 4. Buddy Garner, ACC. Time: 0:50.3.

LaSalle U's 'Fuzz Kids' Sweep To NIT Championship

NEW YORK —(AP)— LaSalle's unranked and unwanted "Fuzz Kids," paced by a pair of teen-aged freshmen, avenged a series of snubs Saturday night by smothering Dayton's towering, experienced Flyers, 75-64, for the 15th annual National Invitation basketball championship.

A standing-room-only crowd of 18,485 packed Madison Square Garden to see the climax to the year's most incredible Cinderella story.

Tom Gola, a muscular, good looking son of a Philadelphia policeman, and Fred Iehle, a slender one-handed pop-in artist who, like Gola, is just 19, provided the impetus for the triumph by scoring 40 points between them; Gola had 22 and Iehle 18.

Dead-eye shooting by Forwards Leo Corkery and Bill Kenville gave St. Bonaventure a 48-31 upset victory over lethargic Dequesne in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament's third place consolation game.

The Dukes were never in the ball game as their six-foot-six scoring ace, Dick Ricketts, was held to two points on free throws and was sent to the sidelines early in the last quarter for excessive fouling.

Corkery and Kenville accounted for 35 of St. Bonaventure's 48 points. Kenville registered 19, eleven of these on free throws, while Corkery, effective from the side court, hit for 16 points, including seven field goals.

Dequesne, which now goes to Chicago for the regional NCAA championship, used substitutes freely and showed none of the zip that characterized its 21 triumphs in 22 regular season games.

The Dukes' big men—Ricketts and six-foot-seven Jim Tucker—were kept from getting inside, thus nullifying the effectiveness of the Pittsburghers' dangerous double pivot.

AUSTIN —(AP)— Hamilton's tough Bulldogs outlasted Morton, 27-19, Saturday night to capture the Class AA state crown in the second annual Interscholastic League Girls Basketball Tournament.

AUSTIN —(AP)— Claude's fighting Mustangettes stopped high-scoring Duncanville 47-42 Saturday night to win their second straight state Class-B crown in the Texas Interscholastic League girls basketball tournament.

Claude overcame a 14-11 first quarter lead to go ahead by half-time 29-24. Jane Avery paced the Claude first half onslaught with 16 points. Duncanville's top point-maker Faye Wilson meshed 16.

Duncanville, who hadn't been beaten in 36 previous games, staged a rally in the third quarter which threatened to carry them to their 37th straight victory. The Dallas County six drew even just two minutes before the quarter ended but was never able to go into the lead. Claude led at the end of the third quarter 35-34.

The last quarter was all Claude's as they turned the desperate efforts of the Duncanville girls into points for themselves to pull away by eight points at one time.

Glenn Rose Signs As Arkansas Coach

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK. —(AP)— Glenn Rose will return to the University of Arkansas as head basketball coach, April 1 with the longest contract and highest salary ever given a holder of the job.

University Provost Joe E. Covington announced Saturday that Rose, now coach at Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, Texas, had signed a five-year contract at $7,000 a year to succeed Presley Askew, who resigned after a dismal 1952 season.

Braves, Phillies, Reds, Browns Win Grapefruit Games

SARASOTA, FLA. —(P)—The Braves hammered 18 hits and thumped the Red Sox, 12-2, in the year's first meeting between these Boston baseball clubs Saturday. It was the seventh straight exhibition loss for the Sox.

The Braves used 13 players and all except Relief Pitcher Jim Wilson shared in the slugging orgy. They socked Randy Gumpert for 10 hits and pairs of runs in the second, third and fourth innings and then punished Harry Taylor for six other tallies in the seventh and eighth.

Vern Bickford blanked the American Leaguers through five rounds. The Sox escaped a shutout in the sixth by bunching three of their nine hits against Wilson for two runs. Rookie Faye Thorneberry singled both across.

Ebba St. Claire led the Braves attack with three singles which drove in four runs.

LAKELAND, FLA. —(P)—Walloping three Detroit rookies for 17 hits, including five home runs, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the American League Tigers, 12-5, in an exhibition baseball game Saturday.

Ted Kluszewski polled two homers for the National Leaguers, while McMillan, Post and Dick Sisler added one each. Cliff Mape got a homer for Detroit.

After Erant allowed five Tiger runs in his fourth inning, Nuxhall and Blake blanked them the rest of the way. Detroit pitchers who took the beating were McLeland, Marlowe and Yaxlan.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. —(P)—The Philadelphia Phillies pushed across two runs in the twelfth inning Saturday to break a three-game losing streak and defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3.

The Cards scored both runs off Pitcher Robin Roberts in the first inning, but then were shutout by Russ Meyer. Steve Ristic and Andy Hanson. Ristic was credited with the victory.

The Phils nicked Starter Gerry Staley for a run in the third and knotted the game with another off Willard Schmidt in the sixth. The winning runs were scored off Jackie Collum, who entered the game in the tenth.

Manager Eddie Stanky played at second base for seven innings with Al (Red) Schoendienst at shortstop, a combination that may be used this season if Stanky stays in the lineup.

PHOENIX, ARIZ. —(P)—The St. Louis Browns scored three runs in the ninth inning to break a tie and defeat the New York Giants, 5-2 Saturday.

Vinny DiDomeno, rookie southpaw, was the victim of the Brownie uprising, giving up three hits, three walks and making a wild throw to third base in the one inning he pitched.

Before DiDomeno came on the mound, Lefty Dave Koala went five innings for the Giants and Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm three frames.

A home run by Third Baseman Leo Thomas gave the Browns a run off Koala in the fourth, while a single sacrifice and double brought a second run off Wilhelm.

Ned Garver started for the Browns and blanked the Giants on three hits in a five-inning stint. Cliff Fannin followed and was tapped for the two New York runs which tied the score in the eighth. Monte Irvin drove both across with a single. Bobby Thomson scoring the second run all the way from first base.

WORD FROM THE WISE—Infielder Jack Littrell, 22, youngest rookie on the Philadelphia Athletics roster, pays attention to President Connie Mack, 83, at West Palm Beach, Fla. Mr. Mack, who was the club's manager for 50 years, visited camp to get a line on the new recruits. (NEA)

PGA Group Comes Up With Suggestions To Speed-Up Play

CHICAGO —(P)—To eliminate one of golf's biggest headaches, slow play, the PGA Teaching Committee suggested Saturday a seven-point code.

The committee said it would be a great boon if the nation's five million golfers, country club and daily fee course players alike, would:

Be ready to play in turn.
Give up unnecessary practice swings ("It will do your score more harm than good").
Cooperate with a caddy serving two players, carrying a club or optional club when the caddy follows the other player and replacing divots.

Allow faster players to "play through."
Eliminate practice putts after holing out.
Do scorekeeping at the next tee.
Give up "Mulligan," the practice allowing a second shot to a player who drives poorly from the first tee.

The committee also urged greater cooperation in caring for courses. All divots should be replaced! Caddy carts should not be rolled across greens, and neither should clubs be dumped on the carpets.

Aggie Splashes Dunk Texas Tech

COLLEGE STATION —(P)—Texas A&M's swimming team walked away with its final dual in preparation for the Southwest Conference meet by swamping Texas Tech, 66-9, Saturday in part of A&M's All Sports Day. The SWO swimming meet will be held at A&M next weekend.

Using interscholastic rules to help the depleted Tech team, Coach Art Adamson saw his team capture all of the nine first places, and all second places but one. Tech's best came in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Sadowski To Umpire Home Exhibition Tilts

Steve Sadowski, former Longhorn League umpire, will officiate at all Midland exhibition games this season, the baseball club here announced Saturday.

Sadowski is employed with the Post-Office Department here at present.

Steve Dowden Signs Pro Pact With Lions

WACO —(P)—Steven Dowden, Baylor tackle, has signed to play professional football with the Detroit Lions. Dowden was starting offensive tackle for Baylor the past two seasons. He played high school football at Odessa.

HOUSTON UPSETS BUCKEYES

HOUSTON—University of Houston upset Ohio State, perennial baseball power, 10 to 5, here Friday night.

INDIAN OUTFIELDERS—These five players are fighting for three outfield positions with the Midland Indians in Spring drills at Litcher, La. Left to right: back row, they are: Rudy Escobar, who batted .269 with Midland in 1951; Roxie Humberson, six-year pro veteran, and Harry Thayer, rookie from New Orleans. In the front row, Hayden White, who hit .298 for Midland, is at left while Stan Wilcox, a .335 batter who played briefly with Midland in '51, kneels beside White.

Horace Busby, the front office head-man of Midland Baseball, Inc., arrived back in Midland late Friday from the Indians' Spring war-party in Litcher, La., and dropped around Saturday morning to give us the lowdown on the baseball situation in the deep South, suh.

"Cunnel" Busby sounded like a cross between a propaganda specialist and a chamber of commerce executive in his enthusiastic praise of the facilities afforded the Midland baseball club in its Spring antics. Everything from blackeyed peas to mint juleps seems to be available.

You can't, according to Busby, give enough credit to the good people of Litcher. "What they are doing for Midland and the Midland ball club defies description," he said. "I've never seen a better group of people, folks who go all out to make our players feel welcome and at home."

After a good half-hour praising of the good citizens of Litcher, we finally maneuvered Busby around to the subject of the Indians themselves.

"It's too early to go off the deep end and Zeke Bonura doesn't want us to be predicting a pennant winner, but on paper and from what I saw the week I was in camp, I'd say we'll have a doggone good club," he said.

Especially was he in praise of Rookie Shortstop Bobby Gordon, who, in a way, Busby "discovered."

Gordon, who was an all-state semi-pro player in New Mexico, showed up here on the eve of the Indians' departure to Louisiana and asked for a tryout and a trip to the Spring camp.

After sleeping on it, Busby decided to take the boy along and let Zeke take a look at him.

The first day the New Mexico lad picked up the bat he knocked two balls out of the park and bounced a couple more off the wall in a total of four pitches.

"He's a good fielder too," gushes Busby. "He'll end up with a better fielding average than Scooter Hughes, I think. He's not as fast as Scooter, and may not go in the hole for some of those spectacular stops—but I don't believe he'll boot some of the easy chances Scooter sometimes misjudges, those balls that are double-play balls."

Keith Nicolls, the pitcher acquired from Erie, Pa., looks like the "best hurler in the camp," says the Midland business manager. He is, according to Busby, a very likely bet to win 25 games. That's a lot of ball games, but the kid won 13 last season with Erie and only played the last half of the race.

If Nicolls is a potential 25-game winner, it certainly will boost Midland's pitching fortunes. Eddie Jacobs, who won 29 and lost 13 with the Indians, definitely will be back. The latest word is that Jacobs will report next weekend. He was drafted by Corpus Christi, but will be turned back. Now if Cuban Enrique Gonzalez, an 18-2 hurler last year, can report, that's a pretty good mound threesome.

Dave McKenzie, streamlined from his chubby countenance of last season, is another pitcher looking fine in the drills. He's "all business" this Spring, they say, and hopes to improve on his 9-10 record of last season.

Two well-known baseball men guide teams which meet the Indians in exhibition games in Louisiana. Danny Martough, ex-Pittsburgher, is manager of the New Orleans Pelicans while Dick Walker of Brooklyn fame is the Atlanta pilot.

Neither of these illustrious diamond artists tops Bonura in popularity in the New Orleans area. Natives of Litcher and New Orleans entertain the Midland players and officials with stories of Bonura's athletic exploits.

And it wasn't all in baseball, either. Fans tell the visitors that Bonura, while a high-school boy, set a mark in the javelin throw which even colleges couldn't top for 10 years.

Also, he once scored 21 points against the famed New York Celtics while still a high school basketballer and he was known as one of the best football passers in the South. The Bonura to Marty Schwartz (later of Notre Dame fame) was the top passing combination in those parts at one time, 'tis said.

Hal Sayles, Longhorn League president, is to be in New Orleans this week and has notified Bonura he will be a visitor in the Midland tryout camp.

Litcher and Midland officials all have extended an invitation to fans from this area to drop around for a look-see if in that vicinity. Which isn't a bad idea, and which is exactly what we'll do starting next Saturday.

Odessa Sweeps To Victory In San Angelo Track Meet

SAN ANGELO—Odessa High School's fleet Bronchos made a shambles of the San Angelo Invitational Track and Field Meet here Saturday, amassing 67 points in sweeping to top-place honors.

Far behind in second with 17 points was the Wildcats of Wink, Junction finished third with nine and San Angelo fourth with eight.

Traveler-Rotary Ducats To Go On Sale

Advance tickets for the Arkansas Traveler-Rotary Engineer basketball game here Wednesday night will go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday.

Principal Don Mitchell said the ducats will be available in his office at Midland High School, while the Chamber of Commerce office also will handle tickets.

Adult ducats go at 75 cents each, with student tickets 50 cents each. Door sale of tickets will begin at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the high school gym.

Isbell's Blow Gives Baylor Win Over Texas Longhorns, 8-5

AUSTIN, TEXAS —(P)—Baylor's Bears spoiled the Texas Longhorns 1952 baseball debut Saturday hammering out an 8-5 victory.

Early season wildness by starter Riley Verdine cost the Longhorns four runs in the second inning. The Bears combined one hit and five bases on balls to take command, 4-1.

Texas had counted a run in the bottom of the first on a pair of Bruin errors.

The Steers got two more runs in the third off Baylor Starter Milton Isenberg but never went ahead as Baylor scored three in the sixth on Larry Isbell's three-bagger with the bases filled. Baylor added another run for insurance in the ninth.

The Longhorns staged a rally in their half of the ninth, producing two runs, but Reliever Joe Mac Gresham struck out Catcher Randy Biesenback to retire the side.

Isenberg, who pitched seven innings, got the win while Verdine took the loss.

Brooke Comets Rip Texas Aggies, 9 To 6

COLLEGE STATION —(P)—The Brooke Field Medics made it two in a row over the Texas Aggies Saturday as they slammed out a 9-6 victory.

Texas A&M tallied one run without a hit in the second to take a 1-0 lead, only to see the Comets split wide open with five runs in the third frame.

After Brooke Catcher Ken Staples' homerun raised the score to 6-1, A&M came back with four runs as the Brooke defense fell apart. Three errors and one Aggie hit accounted for the runs.

A base on balls, sacrifice, and a double accounted for another Brooke run in the eighth. They tallied two more in the ninth on only one hit, a double by first baseman Gus Triandos.

An Aggie rally which accounted for one run fell short in the bottom of the ninth. With the bases loaded and none out, Shortstop Charles Lelscher hit into a force play to account for the single tally. A strikeout and another force play retired the side.

Roy Thompson, Florida State University halfback, returned six kickoffs for an average of 27.8 yards during the '51 grid season.

Joe Conrad Strokes To Victory In Southwest Tourney

FORT WORTH —(P)—Joe Conrad, the Texas Amateur Champion from North Texas State College, won the golf tournament of the Southwestern Recreation meet Saturday with a four-under-par 67.

George Bigham of Oklahoma A&M and Buster Reed of North Texas State tied for second with 68.

North Texas State, the National Collegiate champion, won the team title with 281. North Texas' second team was next with 285. Oklahoma A&M was third with 291.

Colts Swap Petchow To Harlingen Team

SAN ANGELO—Catcher Don Petchow of the San Angelo Colts has been traded to Harlingen of the Gulf Coast League.

Petchow, a holdout all Spring, was part of the deal which sent Jake McClain to the Colts.

GAL HOOPSTER—Georgia Mullins is a member of the Arkansas Travelers fem basketball team which appears here Wednesday night. Midland's Rotary Engineers will face the Travelers at 8 p.m. in the Midland High School Gym.

Worley Defends Title With Knockout Win

AUSTIN—William (Red) Worley of San Angelo still wears the light-heavyweight boxing crown of the State of Texas after successfully knocking out the man he won it from three months ago here Friday night.

Worley KO'd Johnny Burke of Killeen Field in his first title defense. The end came in the seventh round when Worley jabbed Burke off-balance with a left, hooked him with the same hand and then smashed an overhead right to Burke's jaw for the clincher.

Worley, well-known in West Texas sports circles, is a former Golden Gloves champion. He acted as referee for the recent amateur boxing bouts held in Midland by the Optimist club.

San Angelo To Host Independent Track And Field Event

SAN ANGELO — This city will host an independent track and field meet here April 5, with ex-collegiate, collegiate and any non-high school athletes eligible to participate.

Officials said only boys who have no high school eligibility left will be allowed to enter. Included in the teams to come here is a group from Midland, organized by Dick Berginbach, ex-Lafayette performer.

Triple Hold Develops On Bowling Top

A three-way deadlock for first place exists in the red-hot action of the Petroleum Bowling League with Honolulu Oil, West Texas Reproduction and Phillips 66 each owning a third of the top spot.

West Texas and Honolulu Oil both lost last week, the Reproduction outfit dropping two of three to Superior Oil and Honolulu taking the same sort of trimming from American Trading and Production.

Phillips 66 made hay with two wins in three tilts against Midland Reproduction to climb into the tri-angler tie.

Other results saw State Exploration roll over Seaboard Oil in three games while Core Lab smashed Tex-Harvey three straight. Shell Oil took a 2-1 split from West End Magnolia. Rotary Engineers defeated Tide Water 2-1. Stuart's Photo failed to win in three games with Blatz Pearl. Midland Country Club defeated Plymouth Oil by the same score and Seaboard of Texas beat Core Oil 2-1.

Superior Oil topped high team series honors with 2,510 total pins. Oil rolled a record 907 for high team game.

Joe Williams scored best individual, scoring 368 points for high individual series. A 216 game in the series gave him best individual game honors.

Back row, left to right: Dick Cassidy, Minneapolis, who may play some in the outfield; Bill Crumley, second baseman who batted .269 with Midland last season, and Woody Pennington, third baseman, a .241 hitter with the Indians last year. These five Indians will be joined by two or three more in the fight for infield slots.

Indians Slate Big Intra-Squad Game In Lutchter Sunday

LUTCHTER, LA.—The first intra-squad game of the year for the Midland Indians is scheduled here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Manager Zeke Bonura has named no starting pitchers but probably will send Keith Nicolls (13-2) against Dave McKenzie (9-10) at the outset of action.

Hobbs Golfers To Vie With Midland In Matches Sunday

Midland Country Club members Sunday will be just to a group of golfers from the Hobbs, N. M. Country Club.

Gold-jay Boyd Huff said 40 members of each club will vie in an intra-squad tournament beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The tourney will be played on the new MCC golf course.

NO WINTER RULES — Ben Hogan drives from first tee at Tamarisk, with grapefruit trees, date palms and snow-capped San Jacinto Mountains as a backdrop. It's virgin desert all around—except on the course and hotel grounds (NEA).

McMurry Gets Three Men On All-Texas Conference Outfit

SHERMAN — McMurry placed three men on the All-Texas Conference basketball team, it was announced Saturday by Conference Statistician Zeke Atkins of Sherman. Selection was made by the coaches.

Besides McMurry with three men, Abilene Christian and Austin College each placed two and Howard Payne one on the first team. In the balloting four players tied for the fifth position, which gave the conference an eight-man first team.

Carl Howell, McMurry's center who led the scoring among individual players for the season with 833 points, was the only player who was unanimous choice.

Other McMurry players on the team are Jack Henderson, guard, and Dick Richey, forward. Henderson was second high scorer for the season with 428 points and Richey fourth with 356 points.

Abilene Christian college players nominated were Bill Johnson, center, and Harold Thomas, forward. Johnson, a junior, was the third high scorer in the circuit with 380 points. Thomas was seventh with 298 points.

Lone Seniors
Thomas and McMurry's Henderson and Richey are the lone seniors on the mythical squad.

Floyd Cash, center, and Dempsey Watkins, guard, both juniors, made the first team from Austin College. Cash with 329 points was fifth leading point-maker in the conference. Watkins scored 244 for the season.

From Howard Payne, Damon Miller, 6-6 sophomore from Early (Brownwood), was named. Miller tallied 264 points for the season.

Dallas Texans Sign For Exhibition Grid Tilt In San Antonio

DALLAS — The Dallas Texans of the National Football League Saturday announced their second exhibition game. They will play the Washington Redskins at San Antonio Friday night, September 5.

The game, sponsored by the San Antonio Express-Evening News Athletic Association, will be the week before the first exhibition arranged by the Texans—with Detroit at Dallas September 12.

Other exhibitions are to be announced shortly.

The San Antonio game may be the last on in Texas for Sammy Baugh, the former Texas Christian University star who has been with the Redskins for 15 years. Baugh is expected to end his career this year. He is 37 years old.

The Redskins also have the draft rights to Larry Isbell, Baylor All-American quarterback; Doug Conaway, Texas Christian tackle, and Ben White, Southern Methodist end.

San Antonio will be staging its fourth consecutive professional game in Alamo Stadium which seats 34,000.

Dallas has signed to meet the Philadelphia Eagles in Odessa the night of August 29, but this game has not been "officially" announced by the Texans' front office.

Babe Nears Record For Titleholder's Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, GA. — Babe Zaharias, shooting like she had a compass on every ball and gaining ground on every round, looked like a sure bet to set a new Titleholders Golf Tournament scoring record.

The output Saturday in the third round for the all-time queen of golf was a 73—the best score of the day. Her 54-hole total is 220—seven big strokes better than anyone else has managed on this long, windy Augusta Country Club course.

All the Babe needs Sunday to set a new Titleholders record is to shoot a 77 or less. From the way her shots are going and her putts are falling, that should not be too big an order. Mrs. Zaharias set the 298 Titleholder record in 1950.

Louise Buggs came in with a fancy 74 Saturday—two over men's par on the 36-36-72 country club course which stretches over 6,619 yards of East Georgia sandlands. But her 74 wasn't good enough to gain on the Babe.

Mrs. Zaharias opened the meet Thursday with a 74—best of the day.

She got a 73 Friday—best of the round. And, her 63 Saturday again was the best of the round.

Betsy Rawls of Austin, Texas, was third with a 228—slump from second place. And, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., was fourth with 230. Miss Faulk is low amateur thus far after a fast fade by several other promising amateurs.

Patty Berg and Marilyn Smith, both professionals, are tied with 231's.

Miss Rawls had a 76 Saturday; Miss Faulk a 75—lowest single round score for an amateur all week.

Felix Castro Back With Odessa Oilers
ODESSA—Felix Castro, hard-hitting catcher, has been secured for the Odessa entry in the Longhorn League baseball game.

Castro came from Corpus Christi in a trade which sent Oiler Shortstop Eloy Berrera, good fielder, but light hitter, to Corpus. Castro performed for the Oilers last season.

Bone has twice the strength of oak.

PALM BEACH, FLA. — The New York Yankees out off a Dodger rally in the final inning Friday night to turn back the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-3, in an exhibition baseball game.

The Dodgers loaded the bases in the last frame but a double play for the Yanks brought the second and third out.

Big Spring Signs For Exhibition Contest With Tribe April 18

An attractive exhibition baseball game was added to the Midland Indians' home schedule Saturday with the announcement Pat Stacey's Big Spring Broncos will play here at 8 p.m. April 18.

Artiecia was to have met the Indians here that night but notified Midland officials it could not make it here for the game due to another commitment.

This will be the only opportunity for Midland fans to see Big Spring and Midland clash until sometime in May when the Broncos appear here for a scheduled series.

Saxton 'Winner' Over Disqualified Lester Felton

NEW YORK — "Minelli ran Felton held. I just hope Bratton fights."

A moaning-low Johnny Saxton made the remark after he was named the "winner" over disqualified Lester Felton of Detroit in a boring clutchfest in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Many of the 3,568 customers, who booted from the third round on, walked out before Referee Harry Keasler disqualified Felton at 1:31 of the sixth round for continuous holding. It was that bad. Felton's purse of about $5,000 was ordered held up.

In his last appearance in the Garden on January 25, Saxton was awarded a technical knockout over Livio Minelli of Italy. Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped that pursuit race in the seventh round, filling the Italian was "overmatched." Johnny was awarded a TKO then; Friday night it was just ruled "a victory but not a technical knockout."

Saxton's next effort will be against former NBA Welterweight Champion Johnny Bratton in the Garden, March 26. Bratton originally was scheduled to fight Saxton Friday night but bowed out because of an injured left hand. Felton, a veteran veteran who holds victories over Kid Gavilan and Bobby Dykes among others, subdued on five days notice. He had been idle four months. As a result, Saxton was made a 4 to 1 favorite.

Two full brother horses, Staton-town and Repeater, won races the same day recently at Hialeah race track. Their parents were Staton and Come Again.

Nine Longhorns Earn Basketball Numerals

AUSTIN, TEXAS — Nine University of Texas basketballers won letters for the 1952 season. Dr. Vernon Schubart, athletic council chairman, announced Saturday. Reserve letters were awarded Dick Harris and Luther Scarborough, seniors, and Carroll Minor, junior.

CHAMPION STEERS IN 1951 COUNTY SHOW—Norman Drake's 915-pound calf, "Big Un," left, captured champion drylot steer honors at the Midland County Livestock Show last year. Tech Honors Midland Trio Livestock Association Forms To Sponsor Annual Exposition

Three students from Midland will be honored at the All-College Recognition Service at Texas Tech Wednesday, March 19.

James A. Oates, son of N. M. Oates, will receive individual honors for scholastic achievement during the Spring and Fall semesters of 1951. He is a senior in the Division of Arts and Sciences.

James McGraw, a junior in Arts and Sciences, will be given Leadership Honors as a Student Council representative and as associate judge of the Student Traffic Court. He is the son of S. D. McGraw.

Larry Bedford will receive Leadership Honors for his work as "flash card" leader at between-halves of football games last Fall. A senior in the Division of Engineering, he is the son of A. J. Bedford.

The Midland County Livestock Association was chartered last January 7 as the sponsoring organization of the annual county show. Application for the charter had been filed six months earlier.

The county show will be an exclusive affair this year. For a decade, the county exposition was held a day before the district show as Midland winners moved into higher competition. The Chamber of Commerce, with a special livestock committee, worked with local agricultural leaders, ranchmen and other interested individuals in staging the combination county-district show.

The livestock association presently is made up of 45 business and 45 individual memberships. Business membership fee is $25 with $5 as the charge per individual.

L. E. Floyd is president of the association. Other officers include: A. O. Bohannon, vice president; Burvin Hines, secretary, and Robert H. Coffey, treasurer.

They are serving on the board of directors along with John Dublin, Jr., Charles Green, R. L. Miller, L. T. Sledge and J. R. Cuffman.

Directors select the officers from their own ranks with members voting on the directors.

Purpose of the livestock association is best set forth in its charter. It reads: "... to unite in one local organization those persons who were interested in advancement of livestock growing methods and to sponsor a livestock exhibition each year that a fair comparison of livestock and farm products of the county may be noted."

The association membership rolls include Texas Electric Service Company (four memberships), Midland Production Credit Association, First National Bank, J. C. Penney & Company, Reporter-Telegram, Hargrove Motors, Basin Supply, Dick Jones Boot Shop, Tractor Equipment Supply, Birkhead Feed Store, Williams Feed Store, Midland Drug Company, Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber Company, The Spot, Mims & Stephens, Haley and Roberson.

Midland 4-H Youths Win $190 in Angelo

Midland County 4-H Club boys won a total of $190 in prize money at the recent San Angelo Livestock Exposition.

They brought home $155 from steer entries, $30 in hog winnings and $5 for place in the lamb bracket. Midland youths entered six steers, five lambs and three fat hogs.

Outstanding Judges Set For Midland

Some of the best livestock judges in the Southwest will be seen in action at the Midland County exposition Monday and Tuesday.

County Agent Frank Newsom of Alpine will judge the steers. He has judged at the biggest shows in Texas in addition to a record string of county and regional expositions.

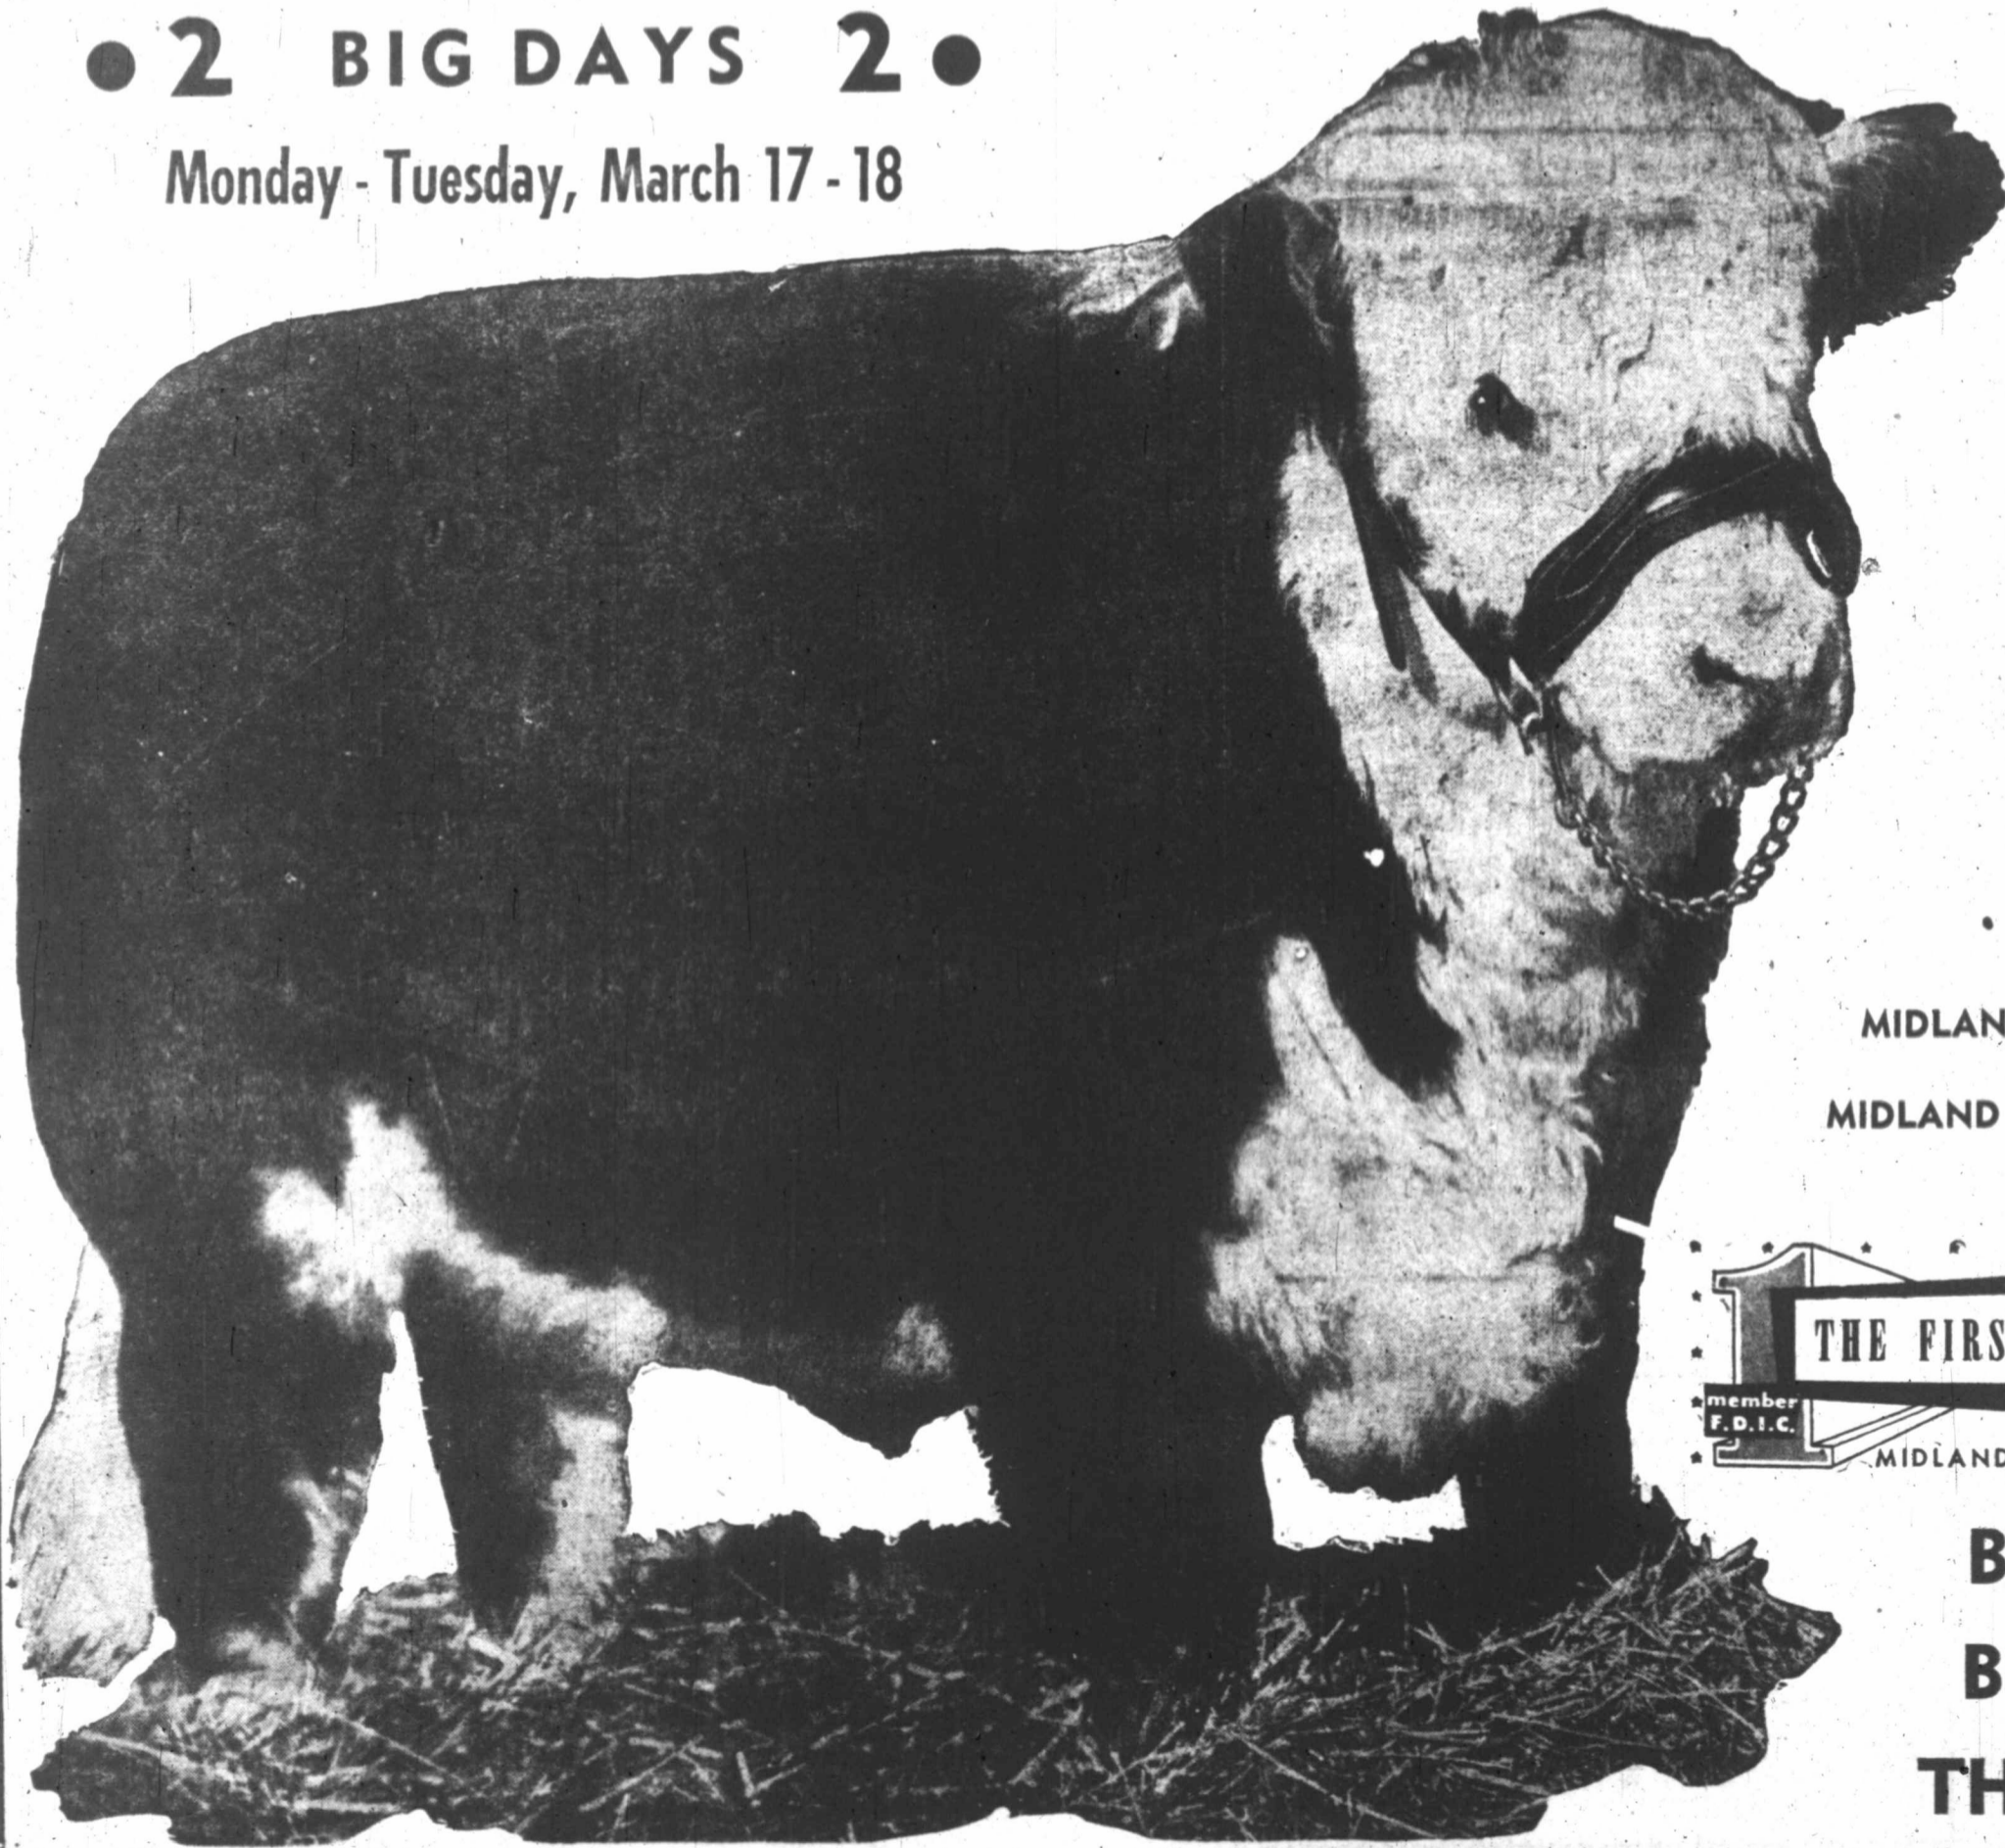

L. M. Hargraves of the Texas Tech agricultural department helped make history at the Lubbock institution while a student. He was a member of student livestock judging teams which took top honors at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago as well as regional judging laurels.

E. L. Tiner of Big Spring will judge the fat lambs. While a vocational agriculture instructor at Alpine his ability as a judge attracted wide attention. His record in this field and other VA activities resulted in Tiner's selection as vocational agriculture supervisor for Area Two.

Special Rules Listed For Commercial Class

The commercial/dry lot steer feed-in class, introduced to the Midland County Livestock Show program last year, is included for the 1952 edition.

Goal of the two-year-old division is to teach youngsters to feed commercial steers at a profit, buying and selling at market prices.

A separate set of rules and regulations have been announced for the commercial drylot steer division.

They are:

Rule 1. Members of the FFA Chapter or 4-H Club in Midland County will be eligible to enter this program.

Rule 2. All animals will be dry lot fed after the 15th of September, 1951. The calf must be weaned by this date.

Rule 3. There shall be no maximum limit placed on the calves entered.

Rule 4. The calf must be started on feed between September 1, and Oct. 15, 1951.

Rule 5. All animals must be weighed at the start of the program in the presence of the vocational agriculture teacher, the county agent or a qualified adult.

Rule 6. Home grown feeds will be used as far as possible. These feeds will be charged at prevailing market prices at the time of purchase. Accurate accounting of all home grown feeds will be kept according to prevailing market prices.

Rule 7. Non-home grown feed will be charged at the prevailing market prices in Midland County.

Rule 8. Inspection for classification will be made by judges selected by the committee (show). Animals will be classified according to market grades. (Prime, choice, good, etc.) and ribbons awarded.

Rule 9. Calves will be shown classified and graded in pens by judges appointed by committee.

Rule 10. Calves will be offered for sale in the regular auction following the show in group lots according to market grades.

Free Chest X-Rays Planned In Ward

BARSTOW — Sponsored by the Barstow Lions Club and paid for by the Commissioners Court of Ward County, a private-owned TB Mobile Unit with X-ray equipment will be in Barstow March 24 for free chest X-rays of citizens. It will be set up at the Community Center.

The unit will be in Proyle, March 25; at Grandfalls March 26 and in Monahans, March 27, 28 and 29.

Commissioners contracted the privately-owned unit in El Paso, bringing it to Ward County at an expense of $100 per day. It is a follow-up to the school-health program being fostered in Ward County this year.

COLOR QUIRK

When two blue Andalusian fowls are mated, only one-half the brood is blue, one-quarter is black, and one-quarter white. To produce an all-blue brood, it is necessary to cross black Andalusians with white ones.

A penny and a cannon ball, dropped from a high place, would reach the ground at the same time.

Good Prices Paid For Stock Entered In 1951 Exposition

Youthful exhibitors in the Midland County and district livestock show last year received what was considered good prices as a reward for their feeding efforts.

Records of County Agent Charles Green here show that twenty-eight steers sold for an average of 74.25 cents per pound with $2 per pound as the top quotation. Another steer sold for $1.90 a pound with three others bringing $1 or better.

Eighty-six Don Estes lambs averaged 72.12 cents per pound with the grand champion going for $2 per pound. Ten other lambs brought $1 or above.

An average of better than 48 cents per pound was paid for 36 hogs offered in the auction which climaxed the county and district exhibits.

Auction of this year's county show will be held at 1 p.m. Tuesday following a full day of judging Monday. Don Estes, peppery, cigar-smoking auctioneer, will handle the hammer at the sale at the Midland Sales Barn across the highway from Midland Fair Park, site of the county show.

American farmers this year will use 178,000,000 horsepower, twice as much oil-driven horsepower as the total power consumed in the nation's factories.

Cattle raising for many years was the principal business of West Texas. Midland and West Texas have long been known for fine cattle and sheep and your efforts in improving livestock raising and breeding will insure continued progress in an industry the nation depends on.

Premiums Tripled For 1952 Stock Show

Premium money has been more than tripled for this year's Midland County Livestock show. Prize cash will total $922 for the 1952 edition of the county-wide exposition. This compares to $235 listed last year. Steer premiums have been jumped from $39 to $100, lamb money from $106 to $358.50, and hog cash from $90 to $308.50. The sponsoring Midland County Livestock Association brought about the heavy boost in the paraff.

4-H TO RUN CONCESSIONS

Exhibitors, officials and visitors won't go hungry and thirsty at the annual Midland County Livestock show Monday and Tuesday. Four H club boys and girls have charge of the concession stands at this year's exhibits. They plan a full array of offerings. Operation of the concessions alternates yearly between the 4-H and FFA organizations.

Rules, Regulations Announced For Annual Midland Exhibits

Regulations and rules for the annual Midland County Livestock Show Monday and Tuesday were drafted in a meeting of officials for the event.

They include:
1. This show shall be known as the Midland Livestock Show.
2. Entry in the show will be limited to Midland County.

3. All entries must be weighed, entered, and in their respective barns by 5 p.m. Sunday, March 16.

4. The show reserves to the show committee the final and absolute right to interpret these rules and determine all matters, questions, or differences in regard thereto, or otherwise arising out of or connected with or incident to the show.

5. All calves entered in the dry lot division must have been taken off their mothers or nurse cows by Nov. 1, 1951.

6. All calves entered in the show must have been born after Sept. 1, 1950 and prior to Sept. 1, 1951.

7. Classes will be provided for dry lot and milk fed calves.

8. There will be a County class for Commercial Dry Lot Steers.

9. All animals exhibited in the show must be owned by a regularly enrolled 4-H or Vocational Agriculture member. He must have personally fed and tended to his animals, under the supervision of the County Agent, a staff member of the Extension Service or a teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

10. All lambs or hogs entered in the show must have been owned by the exhibitor since Dec. 1, 1951.

11. Date of the show is March 17-18. Sale will be Tuesday, March 18, at the Sales Barn.

12. Judging for the Midland County Livestock Show will begin at 9 a.m. March 17, 1952.

13. All protests must be made in writing to the Show Committee and accompanied by $15. If the protest is proven, the money will be returned to the one making the protest. If the protest is not proven, the money goes into the general show fund.

14. All sheep entered in the show must be wether lambs. Classes will be provided for fine wool, fine wool crossbred & Southdown Lambs. Only first crosses in crossbreds will be shown. A lamb to be eligible for the show must retain all of his lamb teeth.

15. All hogs entered in this show must be top market hogs and shall weigh 160 to 325 pounds.

COMMEMORATIVE POSTAL STAMP GOES ON SALE

A three-cent postage stamp, commemorating the first trans-continental railroad run in the United States in 1827, is on sale at the Midland Post Office.

Illustrated on the pale blue postage stamp as pictures of the old and new locomotives of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

The stamp gained a measure of distinction before it was ever issued when an Eastern trucking firm, a competitor of the railroads, protested that the stamp would give railroads free publicity.

Congress Aspirant From Texas Former Resident In County

Roy Selman, county judge of Houston County, who has announced as a candidate for congressman-at-large from Texas, is a former Midland County resident.

The candidate grew up in Midland County from where he joined the Marine Corps during World War I.

Merritt Hines, Midland attorney, recalls that he attended school with Selman at the old Cotton Flat school, which was located about six miles southwest of Midland.

The Selman family, Hines said, resided on what is now the Elmer Bizzell place on the Rankin highway.

Thomas Jefferson was the first U. S. Secretary of State.

Mail Service To Begin Tuesday For Persons On City's Fringe

A mounted mail delivery route will start here Tuesday for residents who live on the outskirts of the city, according to an announcement by Postmaster N. G. Oates.

Covering an area which previously had not been serviced by the Post Office, the new route will be served by a truck recently purchased by the Post Office.

Oates said persons served by the route should put up rural type mail boxes, with their names and addresses and should check with city officials to get their correct house numbers.

If they live outside the city limits, the mail carriers will assist them in numbering their houses properly, Oates said.

The postmaster explained the carrier must cover many miles each day so delivery of mail cannot start until the house is numbered and the box is up.

The mounted route differs from a rural route in that the area covered is inside the city limits. It has to be serviced by a truck because the houses are so widely scattered they do not warrant delivery by a postman on foot.

The streets which the new delivery will cover are listed by blocks as follows: 1100 to 1500 blocks on East Garden Lane, East Maiden Lane, East Hackberry Lane, North Lee, Tyler, Madison, Carver, and Adams; 2200 to 2500 on South West Front Street and North West Front Street.

Through the 2500 blocks on the following streets: West Florida, West Dakota, West New Jersey, West State, West Carter, and West Collins; West Griffin—West from the Rankin Highway; West Taylor—West from Rankin Highway; West Francis.

Through the 1600 blocks on the following streets: West Connell, West Camp, West McKinsey, West Marlon, West Pratt, West Johnson, West Gould, and West Burlington, and 1400 block on Rankin Highway through Jones Butane Service.

From 1700 through 2400 blocks on South Baird, South Weatherford, and South Fort Worth; from the 100 to 400 blocks on East Stokes, East Wolcott, East Summit, and East Longview; 1900 to 3200 block on North Big Spring; 300 to 3200 on Loma Drive; from the 300 to 400 blocks on the following streets, Walton, Dorsey, Alta, Neely, Stanford, Avery, Horton, Dormard, Denger, and Shandon.

From 3000 to 3500 blocks on Lockhead, Sentinel and Douglas; 3000 to 3200 on Piper; 1000 to 1100 on Boeing, Cessna, Whitney and Northrup.

From the 1000 to 1500 blocks on Culver, Austin, Upland, Tarleton, Alpine, Denton, and Lacky; 2700 to 3900 blocks on Cuthbert; 100 to 500 blocks on Potter, Driver, Preston and Mabry; Garden City Highway to Tank Farm Road; 1100 to 1700 on East Illinois; 900 to 1700, East Texas; 1200 to 1700, East Wall; 600 to 1700 on East Missouri, East Indiana, East Kentucky, East Washington, East New York and East Pennsylvania; 1100 to 1300 on East Houston; 1100 to 1500 on East South, East Orchard Lane, East Mesquite Lane, East Mulberry Lane and East Walnut Lane.

Telephone Company Turns In $10,616 To City As Taxes

A check in payment of gross receipts taxes amounting to $10,616.82 was turned over to City Tax Collector W. I. Pratt Saturday by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company District Manager Billy O. Yeatts.

The payment represents two per cent on the gross receipts of the company in Midland for 1951, Yeatts said.

The check for last year's tax compares with a payment of $8,399.67 for the preceding year. It is more than triple the amount paid only five years ago, the district manager stated, when the city collected $2,900.12.

This year's payment, coupled with a check for $21,923.94 made in January for the company's property taxes to the city, brings the total payment for 1951 taxes in Midland to $32,540.76.

Dash Of Cheerful Philosophy Brings Relief From Traffic Tensions In Dallas These Days

DALLAS — Many Dallas motorists get a dash of cheerful philosophy to relieve traffic tensions these days.

Customers who drive into Hulon C. Robinson's down-town parking garage each morning are greeted by a carefully chalked-in message on a blackboard which might read:

"The human is the only animal that can be skinned twice."

Robinson offers a new expression daily. It has earned him steady readers all over town and contributions from as far away as Chicago.

Robinson started it four years ago. He bought a small blackboard from a toy store and began posting such morning greetings as "Wet outside today, isn't it?" The messages quickly lengthened into such things as: "Many a man goes broke trying to bluff with two queens," and "He who laughs—Lasts."

The customers looked for them. Robinson got complaints by the dozens if he failed to change the sign each day.

He tries to observe holidays. On Lincoln's birthday last month, he wrote: "Abe Lincoln never won any beauty contest, but his face sure looks good on a $5 bill."

His customers furnish most of the quips now. One man mailed him three typewritten pages full. Another gave him an expensive daybook for the year with a quotation for each date. Robinson was a little disappointed in that.

"Mostly Socrates stuff," he said.

He thinks his most successful quotation may have been: "Be friendly with the folks you know. It weren't for them, you'd be a total stranger."

Visitors From Alaska Fear U. S. Unprepared In North

LOREDO — Harmon R. and Constance Helmericks have lived ten years above the Arctic Circle.

They say they believe the United States isn't prepared for the sort of war that could develop over the Polar Regions.

The young couple has been on tour, lecturing about the North Pole and how to live on floating ice fields. They tell of living as long as six months on such fields, without suffering from cold or hunger.

They say U. S. fliers and other personnel seem to lack proper clothing, as well as psychological training for the sort of war the Helmericks think could develop with Russia.

The Helmericks made their statements while visiting here. Tom Green, staff writer for the Laredo Times, found them after they had just returned from a trip of over 300 miles into Mexico.

Green wrote that as explorers the Helmericks wanted to make the trip to Mexico "because the world has become so small with air travel and air wars, that they wanted to visualize what the area would be like in a defensive war, not only on the part of the U. S., but a defensive war on the part of Mexico if U. S. armies were forced to retreat into Mexico."

In May the Helmericks and their 22-month-old daughter, Connie Jean, will go to their home in the Brooks Mountain Range in Alaska. Before that, says Green, they will go to Washington, where they are on the advisory board of the U. S. Army concerning Arctic clothing.

The Helmericks, in an interview published by the Laredo Times, gave this estimate of the situation:

"People fail to realize that if war with Russia comes it will be fought along the shortest route, which is over the Polar basin. It is likely that in such a war thousands of our fliers would be shot down. With their present psychological and technical training, says the Helmericks, most of them would not be able to survive.

But with the proper clothing and the right psychological and technical training fliers could survive on ice fields.

The Helmericks said a greater air force is needed in the region of Alaska and the North Pole. They said air preparedness in that region is not more than 10 per cent of what it should be.

"The Arctic is so vast that Russia could have a whole floating city the size of Laredo and we wouldn't even know it," the explorer said. He said they could use the floating ice fields for refueling and taking off.

"The Russians are as familiar with that area as can be. To them the pole is not psychologically remote. For that reason Connie and I feel that we are unprepared," Helmericks said.

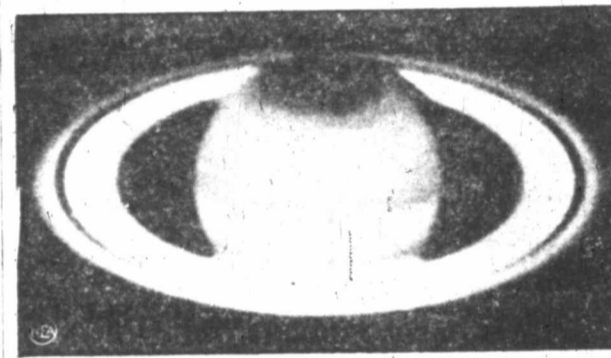

Helmericks, a tall, husky blond, said he felt their secluded valley log cabin in the Brooks Mountain range would never be found by the Russians in event of an all-out war.

"I am not as afraid of their bombing Shaugri-La, our home, as I am that they will bomb Mexico City," he said.

Helmericks, born in Illinois, was with the U. S. Army engineers in Alaska in World War II. Mrs. Helmericks is from Binghamton, N. Y. They met at the University of Arizona.

SECOND CENTURY CAR—The first Studebaker passenger car to be sold in Midland from the Studebaker company's production in its Second Century as a vehicle manufacturer, is delivered by Goodrich Hejl of Broadway Motors, right, to Harry Russell of Midland. The model is a V-8 Commander. Studebaker rounded out its First Century in February, after producing 7,130,874 vehicles. Studebaker is the only automobile company with a history of success that is older than the automobile itself. The firm started in South Bend, Ind., as a manufacturer of automobiles in 1852, and began turning out "horseless" vehicles 50 years later.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright 1952 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: New Hampshire primary defeat may decide Truman to run again; Sincere Senator Kefauver won New Hampshire hearts as well as votes.

WASHINGTON — What worries some of the elder statesmen in the Democratic Party is that the Kefauver victory in New Hampshire will get the President's dander up, make him determined to run again.

When he left for Key West, Truman, according to close friends, definitely was in a frame of mind not to run. Chief Justice Fred Vinson and Speaker Sam Rayburn, two of the most patriotic and potent figures in the Democratic Party, had dropped hints at the White House that if the President did run it would jeopardize his courageous policies in the field of foreign affairs and split the Democratic Party wide open.

Taking a contrary view have been the palace guard, the men immediately around the President, who for reasons of self-preservation, want him to run and who bring to his desk every little news item that might disrupt his relations with Senator Kefauver.

When Kefauver first went to the White House to tell the President about his plans, Truman was more than cordial. He spoke about the need of bringing younger Democratic leaders to the front, even advised Kefauver on how to handle his campaign.

But since then, those who know how to fan the President's ire and ego have done their best to make trouble between him and the senator from Tennessee. That's why elder statesmen in the Democratic Party are watching to see whether the Truman defeat in New Hampshire may prod the President into doing what they think would be disastrous to the party—run again.

Highlights

It was Senator Kefauver's humility and sincerity that won New Hampshire's hearts—and votes. For example, after Kefauver finished a dull television speech, his wife asked in a whisper how he thought it went. Kefauver whispered back sadly that it hadn't gone so well, that he just couldn't make the words come out the way he wanted. What Kefauver didn't know was that the television camera and mike picked up this private husband-and-wife conversation. Kefauver's speech didn't impress the people, but his humility afterward did. . . . New Hampshire's hardy folk, coming out in the rain and snow to vote, also didn't like the idea of President Truman tanning himself under the Key West sun. They muttered about the President taking too many vacations and spending almost as much time in Florida as Washington. . . . Democratic leaders are worried over the way rank-and-file workers ignored labor-leader orders to vote for Truman and voted for Kefauver instead. . . . The large Eisenhower vote was a bigger blow to the Taft camp than they admit. The Taft stumproller moved in high gear through New Hampshire, was steered expertly by veteran politicians.

Private Prediction
Taft privately predicted he would win the popular vote, would pick up at least four delegates. Taft was counting on three things: (1) Conservative support in the small towns and rural areas; (2) The editorial drumbeating of the Manchester Union-Leader, which has close ties with the China Lobby; (3) Personal handshaking which appeals to New Hampshire voters. . . . but Taft showed that his political appeal was not as great as Kefauver's, because the Tennesseean's handshaking won votes, while Taft's didn't. . . . Taft's defeat was a double blow to young West Powell, who tried to out-Taft Taft in New Hampshire. It also was an indirect blow to Powell's political mentor, Senator Styles Bridges, who kept his nose officially out of the primary but secretly backed Taft.

Richardson Of H-SU To Speak At Annual Meeting Of TIPRO

AUSTIN—Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, president of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, will be the luncheon speaker at the sixth annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association in Fort Worth, March 28.

Richardson has been described as "a scholar whose learning is liberally flavored with down-to-earth wit, a historian who lives and thinks in the present."
He will speak on the general topic of "oil and education." Richardson has a deep understanding of oil fields.
Opposed Olds
His testimony before Congress in 1949 when Leland Olds was up for reappointment to the Federal Power Commission was credited with helping remove the threat of unwarranted federal jurisdiction over independent gas production and gathering.
Approximately 700 association members from every part of the state are expected to attend. The meeting begins March 27, with committee meetings. The full membership gathers the following day for business meetings, luncheon, and the annual dinner.

Spraberry Crude Price Ceiling Is Upped Seven Cents

Producers of oil in the Spraberry trend areas of West Texas are due to start receiving seven cents per barrel more for their oil in the near future.
The Office of Price Stabilization of the federal government has announced that the price ceiling on Spraberry crude has been lifted from $2.54 to $2.61 per barrel.
Effective date of the adjustment is awaiting issuance of the official order which is expected Monday or Tuesday.

Film Library Is To Be Collected By UT Bureau

A special film library on petroleum subjects will be collected by the University of Texas Visual Instruction Bureau, Director Ernest Tiemann announced.
A catalog will be prepared and issued to the oil industry following a survey now in progress.
Oil and oil supply concerns may deposit films in the collection. Pictures will be available throughout the industry, without rental charge, but a nominal service charge will be made for maintenance and repair.
Tiemann invited individuals and companies having films to add to the collection, or needing films for specific purposes, to communicate with him at the division of extension, University of Texas, Austin 12.

Magnolia Is Testing Pennsylvanian In No. 1 Klapproth

Magnolia Petroleum Company is to try to develop commercial production from the Pennsylvanian section in its No. 1 C. L. Klapproth, Northwest Central Midland County exploration, two miles south of the southeast side of the city of Midland.
The 7-inch casing has been perforated at 10,896-936 feet and operator is to swab and test on that zone. The casing is cemented at 10,950 feet.
Lost Swab In Hole
After perforating in the 10,896-936 foot interval operator loaded the hole with oil. Most of that fluid had been swabbed out when the swab was lost.
It has now been fished out and swabbing is to be resumed.
The section which is being swabbed had recovered 200 feet of heavily gas cut drilling mud and 180 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud during a two and one-half hour drillstem test.
There were no signs of foaming water in that zone. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 150 pounds and 180 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 1.835 pounds.
Had Best Show
That was the best show for production found in this development. It drilled through the Devonian and into the Ellenburger and did not find any possibilities of making an oil well in either of those horizons.
Location is 660 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 14, block 38, T-2-S, T&P survey.
It is one location west of Moore Exploration Company No. 1 Baumann, discovery well of the Baumann-Pennsylvanian field.
Magnolia No. 1 Klapproth drilled to total depth of 12,863 feet in barren Ellenburger. That formation was topped at 12,770 feet. Elevation is 2,587 feet.

Hemphill To Become President Of Texas Eastern Production

SHREVEPORT — H. A. (Bert) Hemphill, widely known geologist in West Texas and veteran of 22 years experience there, has been appointed, effective April 1, president of Texas Eastern Production Corporation, wholly owned subsidiary of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, according to an announcement by George R. Brown, chairman of the board of the parent company. Hemphill has resigned from Magnolia Petroleum Company at Midland to accept this new post.
He is a native of Hattiesburg, Miss., and majored in geology at the University of Texas, where he also served as geological assistant to Dr. E. H. Sellards, then director of the Bureau of Economic Geology. Started in 1930.
In 1930 Hemphill was employed as a sub-surface geologist for University Lands in West Texas with headquarters in San Angelo.
After four and one-half years he began work with Magnolia Petroleum Company as an assistant geologist at Midland, later becoming district geologist there. As district geologist his area covered most of that part of the vast Permian Basin that is in West Texas.
During Hemphill's 17 1/2 years' service with Magnolia he played an important part in that company's exploration and development activities in West Texas and contributed substantially to the oil industry's knowledge of the geology of that area.
Succeeds Hargrove
R. H. Hargrove, president of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, whom Hemphill succeeds to the presidency of Texas Eastern Production Corporation, requested the board of that company to accept his resignation in order that he might devote his time fully to the administration of the parent company, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, of which he remains president and a director. Hargrove will also continue as a director of the production corporation.
"We feel most fortunate in securing the services of a man so well qualified as Mr. Hemphill to direct the expanded exploration and production activities of our subsidiary," Brown stated in announcing the change.
Active In Organizations
Hemphill has been active in numerous oil industry organizations. He is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, a member and former president of the West Texas Geological Society, and a member of the Petroleum Division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.
In his new position he will locate in the main offices of the production corporation in the Republic Building, Houston. Those offices will be moved to the San Jacinto Building in Houston when it is completed.
Here Since 1934
Hemphill came to Midland in September 1934. He became Magnolia's district geologist in this city in January, 1944, when Fred H. Wilcox was promoted to the concern's headquarters at Dallas.
For many years Magnolia's district geological office in Midland handled the concern's work in all of New Mexico. Hemphill is well acquainted with New Mexico, as well as West Texas.
Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill, she being the former Helen Sellards, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Sellards of Austin, are the parents of three children.
Have Three Children
They are H. A. (Bert), Jr., and Nancy Carolyn Hemphill and Mrs. William Bosworth.
"Bert," Jr., is district manager for Sharples Oil Corporation for the Permian Basin with district offices in Midland. He and his wife, the former Phoebe Lewis are the parents of a one year old daughter, Cheryl Leigh. He is a graduate geologist.
Mrs. Bosworth is the former Susan Hemphill. Her husband is a landman for Phillips Petroleum Company in that concern's Midland district office. William Bosworth, Jr. is about eight months old.
Nancy Carolyn, the Hemphill's third child, is five years of age.

West Texas Leaders Of OIIC Work To Meet In Midland On Friday

A meeting of the county chairmen in the West Texas area of the Oil Industry Information Committee will be held in Midland Friday.
The affair will be at the Petroleum Club of Midland and will start with a business session at 10 a. m. A luncheon will be served at noon.
There are 24 counties in the West Texas area of the OIIC and each of them is represented in the organization by a chairman. Joe T. Dickerson of Midland is chairman for the Permian Basin.
Full Attendance Expected
He expects each of the county chairmen to be present for the meeting. Representatives from the Dallas regional office of the OIIC will attend and assist Dickerson in getting the program of the committee started in this area for 1952.
The Oil Industry Information Committee is a branch of the American Petroleum Institute which has the responsibility of distributing factual information about the oil business to the public.
The meeting on Friday is being held to arrange to carry on that work in West Texas during the current year.
Dickerson, the West Texas area chairman is vice president of Shell Oil Company and is manager of that concern's Midland area.

Deep Prospector In N-C Brewster Has Been Abandoned

The Ohio Oil Company No. 1-C A. L. Baugh, Schleicher County exploration, seven and one-half miles northeast of Eldorado, took a two-hour drillstem test at 5,751-97 feet in the Pennsylvanian reef lime.
Gas surfaced in 31 minutes. There was a weak, steady blow of air for the remainder of the test period.
Recovery was the 200-foot water blanket, 150 feet of gas cut drilling mud and one-half of a gallon of free oil.
Is Going Down
There were no signs of formation water. The project is being deeper.
Top of the lime reef was called at 5,750 feet from samples. Elevation is 2,411 feet.
Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 17, block M, GH&SA survey. It is one location northeast of Ohio's No. 1-A Baugh, the opener and lone producer in the Baugh-Strawn field in Central Schleicher County.

NE Runnels Area Is Location For 3,970-Foot Test

C. U. Bay will drill a 3,970-foot wildcat in Northeast Runnels County, two and one-half miles southeast of the Cree-Sykes pool.
It is No. 1 O. O. McWilliams and will be drilled 330 feet from south and 1,263 feet from west lines of block 324, G Hall survey. It is one-half mile west of Ray & Woolf No. 1 McWilliams, a 4,000-foot failure.

Humble Sets Test Near Marvin Pool In SE Sterling

Humble Oil & Refining Company staked location for No. 1 Mrs. Marvin Dayvault in Southeast Sterling County.
It will be drilled as a wildcat to 4,500 feet to test the Wichita-Albany formation. It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 18, H&TC survey and one and three-quarter miles northeast of the Marvin-Wichita Albany field.

Wolfcamp Shows Are Logged In Crockett Tester

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1-76 University, wildcat in Central-North Crockett County was bottomed on total depth of 6,555 feet in a Wolfcamp sand string with operator preparing to run a drillstem test.
Drilling samples from the stringer had good shows of oil.

GETTING HIS AWARD—Joe T. Dickerson of Midland, left, vice president of Shell Oil Company in charge of that concern's Midland area, is inspecting a diamond-set 25-year service emblem and a diamond set watch which is being presented to him by A. J. Galloway of New York, Shell vice president in charge of all exploration and production activities. The presentation was made recently at a meeting of Shell officials in New York.

Tickets Go On Sale Soon For API Meeting

Tickets for the March 25 meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will be placed on sale early this week.
The session will be at 6:30 p. m. at the Ector County Auditorium in Odessa. This will be the first meeting of the chapter for 1952.
Early N. Spiars of Midland, new chairman of the organization will preside.
Movie Set
John E. Cooper, also of Midland, who is first vice chairman and head of the program committee announced that the sound-color movie, "Rolling Rigs," will be shown. Other entertainment will be provided.
The picture to be screened at the meeting was made by The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. in the Wilshire-Ellenburger field of Central-West Upton County.
Other News
It shows the moving of large rotary rigs and also other scenes of drilling and production operations in that area. It has been shown to a number of audiences and has attracted much favorable comment on account of the interesting matter in which it presents oil field operations.
A barbecue dinner will be served after the presentation of the program.

Dickerson And Dickey Receive 25-Year Awards For Service With Shell

Joe T. Dickerson and E. D. Dickey, both of Midland have been awarded diamond-set service emblems and watches for having completed 25 years of service with Shell Oil Company.

Applications Still Being Accepted For WTGS Membership

The membership committee of the West Texas Geological Society is still urging all geologists in the Permian Basin area to submit applications for 1952 memberships to the society.
Application cards, with checks for dues, should be mailed to Paul H. Kolm, box 1595, Midland, secretary of the organization and chairman of the membership committee. Checks should be made payable to the WTGS.
If the executive committee of the society considers the matter feasible after the directory committee has made a thorough examination of all matters entering into the publishing of a directory with pictures of all geologists, this year's directory will be as comprehensive a list as can be assembled.
The membership committee is anxious to contact every geologist in the West Texas-Southeast New Mexico area with regard to the membership drive.

Callaway Is Made British-American Exploration Boss

William O. Callaway has been appointed district exploration manager for British-American Oil Producing Company's southwestern division with offices in Fort Worth.
The appointment is effective March 1.
Callaway, who is a University of Texas graduate with a degree in geology, was formerly with Sun Oil Company in Dallas, and later was geologist for the Chicago Corporation with headquarters in Abilene.

CSC Offices Now In Midland Tower

Cities Service Oil Company's Midland headquarters are now in the Midland Tower.
The Midland District office formerly was located in the Permian Building.

Midland Tops Again As Most Active WT Exploration Sector

Midland County edged Upton for the second straight time as the most active rotary drilling area in West Texas, according to the semi-monthly survey of operations conducted by Reed Roller Bit Company.
Midland stayed ahead with 107 operations as compared to Upton's 103.
The latest Reed survey covered the 10 day period from March 1 to 10. Previously all Reed surveys were ended on the first and fifteenth of each month. That concern now has adopted the policy of reporting on the tenth and twentieth of each month.
Lea On Top
Lea County remained at the top with 114 operations, a decrease of seven rotaries during the 10-day period.
Midland slipped from 112 to 107 during the same period while Upton gained three from 100.
The overall area covered by the Reed survey lost 27 rigs. There were 714 rigs running March 10 as compared to 741 March 1.
March 15, 1951 saw only 250 rotary units drilling in the area which includes all of the Permian Basin in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.
Other counties included in the survey are:

Conoco Again Wins Top Safety Awards

HOUSTON—Continental Oil Company has won its 36th and 37th annual National Safety Council awards for outstanding industrial safety records, the council has informed J. E. Borjan, director of Continental's safety division.
Both the manufacturing and marketing departments of Continental were judged to have had the best 1951 safety records in the petroleum industry. Conoco's record topped that of 43 other oil firms in the manufacturing category, and surpassed the marketing safety records of 24 other companies entering the contest.
In addition, Continental's development and research department, which had a perfect safety score in 1951, tied with similar departments in three other companies in the National Safety Council competition.

A FIGHTING OIL MAN—Robert F. Windfohr, independent oil operator of Fort Worth, is president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. He is shown speaking at a recent dinner meeting in Midland which was held in his honor. Windfohr is leading the fight in Texas to prevent further encroachment of federal controls on the oil industry and for trying to keep the tax burden on the business from becoming any greater.

WASHINGTON OIL— Producers Face Uphill Fight In Price Hike And Decontrol Efforts

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER

Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The American crude oil producer faces an uphill fight if he is to win a crude oil price rise—or suspension of price controls.

While both the Congress and the Office of Price Stabilization are thinking of removing some price controls, they don't have crude oil and natural gas on their list.

Instead, they hint of limiting relief to commodities selling at less than ceilings. This is not the case with crude oil, where the actual price on a national average is $2.56, smack against ceilings.

The chief hope of substantial relief may lie in the argument that the higher the price, the more chance to build up reserve of crude capacity by record well drilling.

Russell B. Brown, counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, hit this theme last week when he testified before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, studying change in the price, wage and allocations controls.

"This matter is of such importance to the defense effort that it should not be left to the discretion of the agency concerned only with price authority."

A 42-cent barrel price increase right now and 30 cents more next year is needed, says IPAA. If the new well defense goals are to be met.

In his 20-minute appearance, Brown asserted:

1. There is plenty of crude oil and natural gas, so no threat of a "runaway" price.

2. The price line has been held in crude oil for the last four and a half years.

Questions were sympathetic. Senator Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) asked: "A price increase when it comes is by rather small stages, isn't it?"

Brown replied, "Yes, in this competitive economy."

Senator Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) asked: "Is crude oil at the ceiling price?"

Brown: "Yes."

Capehart: "What about gasoline?"

Brown: "It fluctuates, but most of it is under ceilings."

Capehart: "What about inventories?"

Brown: "They are high, some of them the highest ever."

Capehart: "You recommend taking off price controls?"

Brown: "Yes, when a commodity is in good supply and basic to defense."

Capehart: "You'd write decontrol into the law?"

Brown: "I'm afraid if you don't, the OPS won't take it off."

Afterwards, Senator Burnet R. Maybank (D-S. C.), committee chairman, said:

"They say there's plenty of oil and that the price hasn't gone up. I don't know, but that's what they say. If so, we better take a look."

Senator Capehart said:

"I'm highly in favor of writing a decontrol formula, making it mandatory upon OPS in certain instances. This would apply to crude oil and natural gas if we can find the right formula."

Formula Suggested

A suggested formula came from Rep. Omar Burleson, (D-Texas). Offering an amendment to the Defense Production Act, he would suspend price controls over certain commodities when the supply is "adequate" or the commodity is selling below ceilings.

The test of adequate supply would be whether the commodity is being allocated, as is steel, under the Burleson plan.

Between sympathetic statements and real action, there is a big gap. Thus, before moving, the senators want to know:

1. Are all American crude oil producers united in the drive for higher prices, or for decontrol?

2. Would gasoline and fuel oil prices have to be decontrolled, along with crude oil? The National Oil Jobbers Council and the Atlantic Coast Oil Conference say yes.

3. Would waste controls have to go off, too?

4. Would beef, grocery, steel and other products have to be freed?

Oil Industry Expected To Get Third Quarter Steel Increase

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Petroleum Administration for Defense is hoping there's a good foundation for unverified reports the oil and gas industry will get a substantial increase in steel for the third quarter of 1952.

The Defense Production Administration is the agency which takes the over-all steel output of the nation and allocates it among users. The PAD takes over the petroleum industry's share and distributes it for such purposes as drilling, pipelines, tank cars, tankage.

For the last half of 1952 the PAD has asked that allocations of steel be increased 46 per cent over the average rate of the past four quarters. For Canadian export, on the same basis, a 42 per cent increase is sought; for shipment to other foreign producing areas an increase of 36 per cent is requested.

Big Per Cent
Although the DPA is not expected to have its data for July-August-September allocations ready before the end of next week, and won't comment officially, prospects are PAD will get at least 80 per cent of the steel it requested as compared with 70 to 75 per cent in the past.

DPA officials' only comment was that in the over-all picture, the supply situation steadily is improving. They emphasize that the tight squeeze remains in heavy plate needed for high pressure purposes such as liquefied gas and pipelines.

Good Case
Some concede that, among all demands made upon the DPA for steel, the petroleum industry makes the best case. The defense program is geared to gasoline and oil so far as fueling the military machine is concerned.

Notwithstanding past allocations which have permitted expansion of the petroleum industry, PAD officials say that reserve capacities for production, refining and transportation as a whole are only about five to 10 per cent now as compared with 25 per cent at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Capacity Increased
That reserve ratio—which is a cushion for immediate stepped-up delivery of refined products in an emergency, dropped to about five to 10 per cent during the post World War II days. Capacities have been

New Manager Named For Midland Firm

Stanley Steinmetz has been named as the new manager of The United, Inc., 121 North Main Street. He was formerly assistant manager of the Columbia Department Store in San Francisco.

Steinmetz served in the maritime service during the last war. Mrs. Steinmetz, formerly of El Paso, and their seven-week-old baby, will join Steinmetz within a few days.

1951. The goal is an additional 475,000 barrels per day within the next year.

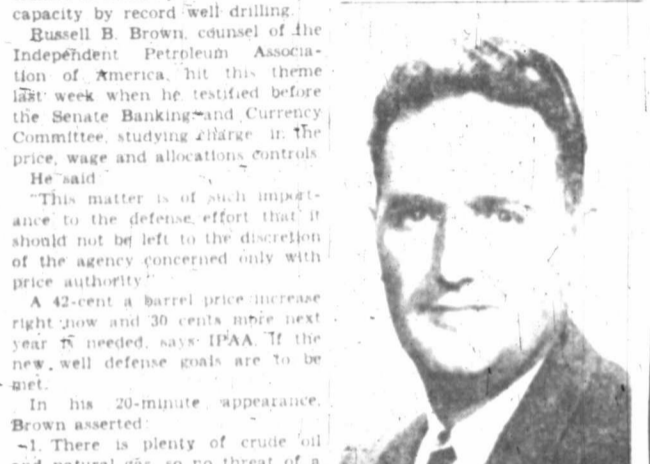

Steel requests by PAD contemplate construction of an additional 19,700 miles of crude oil and products pipelines in the United States within the 18-month period beginning July 1, and an additional 3,800 miles in foreign countries.

Monahans-Midland Air Service Plea Soon Before Board

DALLAS—The Civil Aeronautics Board has announced that a hearing soon will be held to determine local air service to more than 20 cities in Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana.

To be heard at the Civil Aeronautics Board proceeding will be Pioneer Air Lines' applications to provide service from Midland to Monahans; from Shreveport to San Antonio; from Dallas-Fort Worth to Amarillo; from Amarillo to El Paso, and to other cities.

Joseph Neely

Neely Named District Magnolia Geologist For West Texas Area

Joseph Neely is to be district geologist in Midland for Magnolia Petroleum Company after April 1.

He will succeed H. A. (Bert) Hemphill, who has resigned from Magnolia to become president of Texas Eastern Production Corporation, with headquarters at Houston.

Neely will come to Midland from Tyler, where he has been Magnolia's district geologist for East Texas.

On his new job in Midland he will supervise the geological work of the company in the West Texas district, Native of Wyoming.

Neely, a native of Lovell, Wyo., received both his bachelor's and master's degrees in geology from the University of Wyoming and, after his graduation in 1934 was a part time professor at John Marshall College in Jersey City, N. J., while studying for a doctorate degree at Columbia University.

The next year he became an instructor in geology at the University of Wyoming, and after two semesters at that school was employed by Magnolia in June, 1937, as a geologist for the Oklahoma district with headquarters at Oklahoma City.

After three years at Oklahoma City he was transferred to Jackson, Miss., and then in October, 1941 was moved to Youngstown, Ohio, to head Army Service.

In February, 1942, Neely was called to active duty with the Infantry as first lieutenant but later was in aerial photo intelligence and then was with the Military Government in Japan and Korea. He was released in April, 1946, with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

After about a year as geologist at Jackson, Miss., he was transferred to St. Vernon, Ill., as district geologist for the Illinois area.

After three years there he had a year's service in Dallas as an exploration geologist and was then made head of the Shreveport geological district with headquarters at Tyler.

Member of Organization
Neely is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Paleontological Society and is a Fellow of the Geological Society of America. During his work at Columbia University he was elected a member of Sigma Xi, an honorary scientific fraternity.

The Oil Pusher

Government Price Fixers Must Move Quickly On Oil Price Adjustments

Editor's Note: The following is reprinted with the permission of Core Laboratories, Inc., of Dallas. It appeared in the March Petroleum Newsletter published by that concern.

By H. J. STRUTH
Petroleum Economist

Government price fixers have an urgent job on their hands that brooks no further delay. The job involves prompt upward adjustments in oil price ceilings, by application of the Capehart formula and also by recognition of the inequities extant in basic price relationships. Prices of crude oil and petroleum products are far out of line with other commodities, and it takes no more than ordinary intelligence to figure that out.

Measured by any standard, prices of petroleum and its products have lagged far behind those of all other commodities.

If you use 1928 as a base period, crude oil prices today are 40.4 per cent higher, while the all-commodity index of the U. S. Bureau of Labor has advanced 75.9 per cent. Between 1935-39 and 1948, the crude price index advanced 137.7, while all commodities rose to 163.1. Since the outbreak of the Korean conflict, crude oil prices have advanced less than 10 1/2 per cent while the all-commodity index rose 9 per cent.

Meanwhile, prices of refinery products and retail gasoline, ex-tax, have lagged behind the all-commodity index by differentials ranging from 53.7 to 79.0.

Oil men are not seeking any special privileges, or premiums for their efforts to provide the nation with its essential petroleum needs in times of peace or war.

There is preponderant evidence to support the need for higher oil prices, not only because they are below parity, as measured by all other commodities, but because replacement costs today are considerably higher than pre-war levels. Profits made from oil today come from underground reserves found in earlier years, when finding costs were one-fifth of what they are now.

This industry must now spend five dollars for every dollar spent formerly to replace with new discoveries the underground reserves needed for tomorrow.

Consideration by government price fixers of a new cost-price formula for the steel industry, involving advances ranging from $7 to $10 per ton, prescribes further proof of the need for higher oil prices. The oil industry consumes 11,000,000 tons of steel a year.

Steel prices have advanced $6.00 a ton since mid-1950. This means that the oil industry's steel costs are higher by some $7.4 million. Any further upward adjustment in steel prices will increase the cost burdens of the oil industry. Increased costs of steel and other materials used by our industry have not been compensated by higher oil prices.

Prices of crude oil and refinery products have remained almost stationary since 1948. The price of crude averaged $2.59 in 1948; $2.55 in 1949; $2.54 in 1950, and is now $2.56. The wholesale value of products in a barrel of crude oil at refineries was $3.70 in 1948, dropped to $3.34 in 1949, and now averages $3.70. Retail gasoline prices, ex-tax, have advanced from 19.54 cents in 1948 to 20.32 cents per gallon.

What the public may not realize fully is that while today's retail price of gasoline is actually below the level of 1936, the retail tax on this product has more than doubled, from 2.41 cents in 1946 to 7.32 cents per gallon today.

The petroleum industry has no desire to foster inflation. It asks only for a reasonable increase in oil prices, an increase that will compensate for the higher costs of doing business. The records of the industry will sustain the need—not to meet inflated "parity" prices, as measured by the all-commodity index—but prices that are adequate to promote the continued, vigorous growth of the American petroleum industry.

Permian Basin AIME Meeting Is Slated In Midland Monday

Michael L. Haider, president of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, and deputy coordinator of world-wide producing activities for Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, will address members of the Permian Basin Section of AIME in Midland Monday.

Haider received his present appointment with Standard Oil Company March 1. He was previously with Imperial Oil Company, Ltd., in Toronto, Canada.

His talks will center mainly on the affairs of the AIME, emphasizing the part the petroleum engineer plays in the Institute.

Others Here
Haider will be accompanied by Harold Decker, president of the Houston Oil Company of Texas; Carl E. Reistle, Jr., director and manager of Humble Oil and Refining Company's production department; W. S. Morris, vice president and general manager of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal Company; Joe B. Aiford, executive secretary of the Petroleum Branch, AIME; and Jess E. Adams, editor of the Journal of Petroleum Technology. Decker, Morris and Reistle are members of the board of directors of AIME.

Michael L. Haider

Haider is a native of Mandan, N. D., and has had extensive experience in petroleum research and production. Following his graduation from Stanford University in 1927 as a chemical engineer, he became gas testing engineer for a West Coast oil company and two years later joined the Carter Oil Company at Tulsa. He joined Standard in 1938.

He advanced to chief petroleum engineer for Carter in 1935 and a year later was made chief engineer in charge of all engineering phases of the company. Aiford, a native of Baylor County and a graduate of Texas Technological College, will speak on "Petroleum Branch Affairs."

R. E. Howard is chairman of the Permian Basin Section of AIME, and J. C. Blackwood is vice chairman. J. T. Estes is secretary-treasurer.

The dinner-meeting will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Schaubauer.

Texas Directory Being Distributed By Tulsa Concern

The Texas directory of the 1952 Midwest Oil Register is now being distributed.

The handy size book contains a list of all producers and drilling contractors in Texas, listing the address and personnel of each concern.

This book is published annually by C. L. Cooper of Tulsa. The producers and contractors are listed in the book in alphabetical order regardless of type of business. At the end of each listing is a designation denoting whether producer, rotary or cable tool drilling contractor.

Other Books
Cooper also publishes directories on Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi, Georgia and Florida; Rocky Mountain Region and New Mexico; Kansas, California, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky and Latin American Countries.

Cooper also has made available a directory of Refining, Natural Gasoline and Cycling plants in the United States, Canada and Latin America in addition to a directory of pipe line personnel in the United States and Canada.

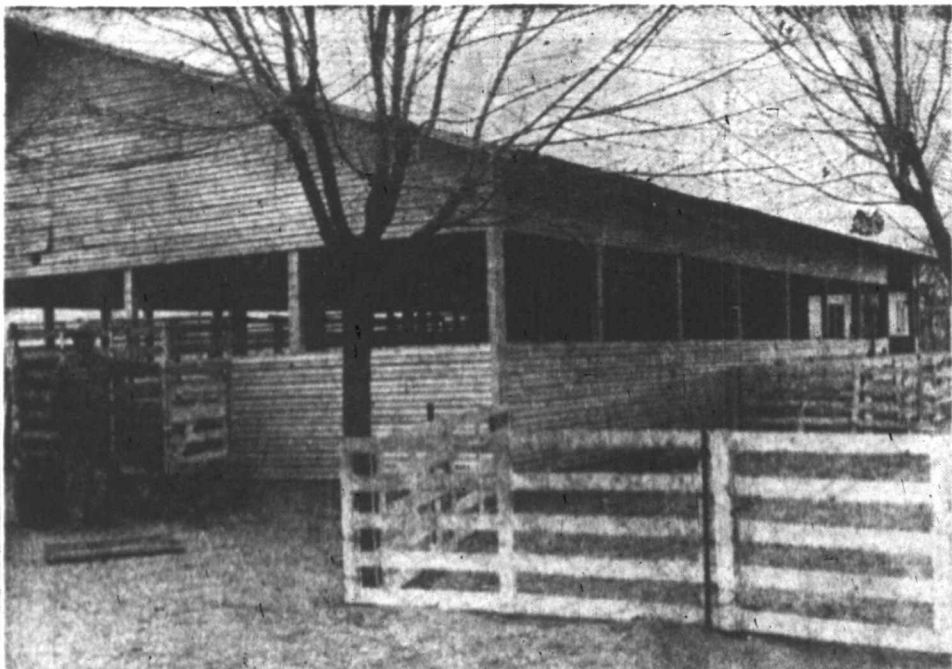

Midland Students To Hear Discussion On Narcotic Evils

Midland High School students will hear the narcotic problem discussed in a general assembly at 9 a.m. Monday. Principal Don Mitchell announced Saturday.

The speaker will be Dr. George Robinson of Washington, D. C., a representative of the General Temperance Board of the Methodist Church. He will meet with small interested groups of students the remainder of the day after his 50-minute lecture to the general assembly.

Dr. Robinson called the narcotic situation one of the top social problems of the United States in a speech to the Midland Rotary Club last Thursday.

If we lived on the moon, we would be able to see the sun and the stars at the same time.

Education-Business Day Scheduled Wednesday

Businessmen participating in the Education-Business Day observance Wednesday will have the opportunity of visiting the schools of their choice. School Supt. Frank Monroe announced Saturday. He urged persons who have not returned the school preference slips to his office to do so promptly.

E-B Day, the reverse of Business-Education Day which was observed here last Fall, will afford businessmen the opportunity to see the school program in action, the superintendent stated.

The program will start with a general assembly at 9:30 a.m. in the high school auditorium. Following a short briefing period, representatives of the participating business firms will divide into groups for visits to the various schools. Host principals have arranged interesting and informative programs to reach visiting groups. Luncheon will be served at noon in the school cafeteria.

The concluding assembly is scheduled at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium when the school story from the administrative department levels will be discussed. Dismissal is scheduled at 2 p.m.

The observance is sponsored by the public schools in cooperation with the Education Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

More than 200 teachers were the special guests of business firms last Fall when E-B Day was observed. The story of business and how it operates under America's system of free enterprise was told at that time.

"Now the school teacher has the opportunity of relating the school story to the businessmen of our city," Monroe said.

McCamey News

MCCAMEY—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carl visited relatives in Benders over the weekend.

Mrs. Paul Moore and daughters left Thursday for a visit in Dallas where they formerly lived.

Mrs. W. G. Ingram, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Howard of Midland, returned Wednesday night from Louisiana where the two had attended the funeral of Mrs. Ingram's sister-in-law.

Plans for the TDHA district meeting to be held in McCamey April 29 were discussed at a meeting of the Upton County Home Demonstration Council recently. Approximately 200 members and delegates are expected to attend.

A special committee is making plans for the annual Easter Sunrise Prayer Service to be held on King's Mountain Easter morning. Committee members are Mrs. F. R. Barnett, Mrs. J. W. C. Hayes and Mrs. Burley McCollum. They will be assisted by the Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Fred J. Brucks, superintendent of the San Angelo District, will be the speaker at the Sunday morning services in the First Methodist Church. He also will conduct the year's last quarterly conference at which the church officials will make their reports. A nominating committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Adams, Mrs. R. F. Coston, Derwood Langston and the pastor will submit the names of officers to serve during the coming year.

Girl Scout Troop 4 elected the following officers at a recent meeting in the Girl Scout Hut: Barbara Hoffield, president; Susie Havens, vice president; Connie Coker, secretary; Carolyn Clinton, treasurer, and Jacquelyn Lucado, reporter. A fly-up ceremony was held for LaQuita Helms and Patricia Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ashcraft of Big Lake are the parents of a son born March 6 in the Clinic Hospital in San Angelo. The baby has been named Glenn Allen. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Hampton of McCamey and the paternal grandfather is H. T. Ashcraft of Texas City.

Don Driskill was honored on his second birthday recently with a party given by his mother, Mrs. Fred Driskill, assisted by Mrs. Thearon Elliott. Guests were Dannie Elliott, Stevie and Johnny Teel, Stevie Rowell, David Webb, Charles Mabry, Frankie Cooksey, Pat and Peggy Weddie, Mrs. Frank Cooksey, Mrs. Bernice Rowell, Mrs. Elmer Teel, Mrs. Howard Webb and Mrs. H. C. Mabry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Loyd recently announced the birth of a daughter, D'Linda Dian, born March 6 in Snyder. The child weighed six pounds, 14 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. C. K. West of McCamey are the maternal grandparents and Mrs. Bill Loyd of Snyder is the paternal grandmother.

Mrs. J. T. Gibbs, Mrs. Ott Haley and Mrs. Leo Plumlee attended OES Friendship Night Monday in Crane.

Sherrill Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Davis, and Jack Perry, son of Mrs. Marguerite Perry, of McCamey will take part in the Army Military Exercises to be held in Lampasas soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Gilliland are the parents of a son, Brick Allen, born March 6 in Odessa. The infant weighed six pounds, 10 ounces. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Shaffer of McCamey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gilliland of Odessa are the paternal grandparents.

Mrs. C. K. West returned from Snyder after a ten-day visit in the home of her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Loyd.

Mrs. F. D. Powell of San Angelo visited until Tuesday in the home of her sister, Mrs. A. F. McNamara. The Rev. Morris Bratton, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church in San Angelo, was a guest speaker for the March meeting of the Methodist Men at the church.

The Rev. Ross T. Welch, pastor of the First Methodist Church was in San Antonio last week for a meeting of the Board of Ministerial Training in preparation for the session of the Southwest Texas Annual Conference to be held the latter part of May.

A training session for vacation school workers will be held at the First Methodist Church in San Angelo Tuesday, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Local workers plan to attend.

PROMOTED AT THE FRONT—At a front-line ceremony in Korea, John P. Matthews, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Matthews, 1211 Austin Street, receives the silver bar insignia of a first lieutenant from his regimental commander, Lt. Col. Hal D. McCown. The Midland officer is serving as a platoon leader with I Company of the 17th "Buffalo" Infantry Regiment on the east-central front.

With The Services—

Crane Seaman Takes Part In Huge Fleet Exercise

G. M. McCully, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Plate of Crane, recently participated in the largest Pacific Fleet training exercise held since the Korean outbreak.

McCully is a member of the crew of the USS Mount McKinley, the flagship of the amphibious force participating in the exercises.

The exercises, called "Lex Baker One," took place off the coast of Southern California with more than 70 ships and 15,000 men of the Navy and the newly-activated Third Marines taking part.

Really was added to the mock war games by assuming that lower California and several islands off the shore had been captured by an aggressor "enemy." The Navy's problem was the re-taking of the enemy-held islands through amphibious assaults.

Undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., is Henry M. Cook, airman recruit, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Corley of Crane. Cook entered the naval service January 18. He is a graduate of Crane High School.

Pfc. Glenn R. Wallace, Jr., is home on furlough after being graduated from the Engine Specialist School at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

He will report on March 18 to the Missile Test Wing at Holloman Field, N. M.

Wallace is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Wallace, Sr., 304 North D Street.

Elijah W. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker of Garden City, was promoted recently to sergeant for outstanding performance of duty in Korea.

Sergeant Baker entered the Army in June, 1948, was assigned to the Far East in October, 1950, and arrived in Korea the following month. He is a cook in the 8069th Replacement Battalion.

Sgt. Bill N. Lovelace is the weekend guest in the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stultz, 423 South Fort Worth. He is stationed with the 633rd Field Artillery Observation Battalion at Fort Hood, Texas.

Second Lt. James S. Allega, son of S. T. Allega of Midland, is now assigned to the installations squadron at Reese Air Force Base for duty as squadron adjutant. Lieutenant Allega has been in the Air Force since September, 1950. He attended high school at Odessa and Denver City and received his BS degree from Texas A&M College in 1950.

Reese is an advanced pilot training school. Aviation cadets and student officers take the last six months of their pilot training course at this base.

Court Dispute Over Martin Water Goes Into Its Third Week

AUSTIN—(AP)—Trial in the dispute over Martin County underground waters will go into its third week Monday.

Judge Jack Roberts Friday recessed the 126th District Court hearing for the weekend. Resumption was set at 9 a.m. Monday.

Also scheduled for hearing at that time is the first in a series of suits contesting constitutionality of the state's new gas gathering tax. Judge Roberts did not indicate how the conflict would be handled.

Three or four more defense witnesses are to be heard in the Martin County water suit. The Colorado River Municipal Water District seeks to invalidate the Martin County Conservation District, contending its creation was without sufficient evidence to define the boundaries of the underlying water table.

The Hawaiian Islands were formerly the Sandwich Islands.

He was born in Corsicana but spent most of his early life in Ennis, where he attended high school. He was graduated from the law school at the University of Texas in 1914 and after practicing law for three years in Ennis and Waxahachie, Brown moved to Tulsa, Okla., where he practiced until 1920. From Tulsa, he moved to Ardmore and five years later became associated with a firm that represented Magnolia in Southern Oklahoma. In 1936 he joined the company's legal staff at Oklahoma City and in 1939 was transferred to Magnolia's general offices in Dallas as assistant general counsel.

Spoon Lure Began As A Teaspoon

By AL MCLEANE
Fishing Editor

We sat up through the wee hours this morning listening to a fellow talk about a new lure he's putting on the market.

It's a spoon whose shape provides a high-lift hydrofoil, allowing for maximum motion through any speed range. Because of its calculated instability under induced spin, it breaks rotation from one direction to the other.

A spoon, in case you forget, is a metal blade looking much like the business end of a sawed-off teaspoon. Fish grab a spoon under the impression that they are grabbing a smaller fish who's suffering from a hankering or a broken landing gear as he wobbles under the cannibal's nose.

Getting just the right wobble is not simple these days—because fish and fishermen demand more realism in their baits. Modern lure makers spend months calculating the relation of curvatures before marketing a finished product.

Spoons are the oldest fishing lures in the world. The probable date of their origin is about 3000 B. C. The ancient Romans used polished clam shells equipped with various types of metal and stone hooks, later using crudely carved metal discs.

The progress of spoon design never was along well-defined lines. It wasn't until 1834 that an American angler really did something to qualify for the title of "spoon inventor."

The student was, one Julio T. Buel, a man of unlimited and extravagant imagination. Julio selected pure silver for his artificials, as he reasoned that this was the nearest to the color of a fish's belly. But this is getting ahead of the story.

Around 1819, young Julio tossed some white pebbles in a brook as kius will, but the Vermont youngster noticed trout rising to them. The seed of invention was sown. While he was eating his lunch on a lake one day, he accidentally dropped a teaspoon, overboard. As the spoon sank, he noticed the peculiar twists and turns it made in the water.

Julio had been experimenting on bits of bright tin with a hook soldered aft, which revolved in the water when retrieved, but the convex face was a new idea.

Young Julio's first effort was in Lake Bomoseen, the lure—an old brass teaspoon on which he had soldered a hook. The line was tied to the broken handle end. His catch was phenomenal. Nobody reported what he caught, but we can assume the kid knocked himself out, as he always did things in a big way.

Being a perfectionist, Julio spent several years in working over the finest details of proper spoon design. He applied for, and received, the first patent for trolling baits in 1834. The result was that the manufacture of spoons was begun by him in 1848 at Whitehall, New York. To this day Buel spoons are still taking fish.

YOUNG UNCLE SAM—Bruce Bastian, 11, takes time from his age flying in Chicago to look over a new picturization of Uncle Sam. "Uncle Sam, 1952" is the $2000 prize-winning conception of Elliot Freeman of North Hollywood, Calif., who was one of 402 artists to submit entries in a contest sponsored by a Chicago community newspaper. The youthful "Uncle" wears a red-and-white-striped business suit, and a star-studded vest.

Conoco Is To Drill—

1948 at 3,315 feet, was recently re-entered by Sinclair with plans to take it to 3,300 feet for a test of the Ellenburger.
Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 27, block 7, University lands survey.

Cable Tool Test Staked By Pure In SW Crockett

Pure Oil Company staked location for a 1,500-foot cable tool wildcat in Southwest Crockett County, 18 miles southeast of Sheffield.
It will be drilled as No. 1 L. B. Cox, 330 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 7, John H. Gibson survey.

Shallow Wildcat To Be Drilled In North McCulloch

Lee, Harp of Dallas will drill No. 1-A Hershfield, located on a 2,200-foot wildcat in North McCulloch County, three miles southeast of Waldrop.
Location is 1,640 feet from south and 2,960 feet from east lines of block 1080, J. Patton survey, abstract A-1124.

Outpost Staked To Flat Rock Pool In Upton

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 1-B-SU University is to be drilled as a three-quarter-mile southwest outpost to Spraberry production in the multiphase Flat Rock field of Southeast Upton County.
Drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 33, block 3, University survey. It is to go to 7,500 feet.

North Offset Is Staked To Open In SW Sterling

Honolulu Oil Corporation spotted location for a north offset to its No. 1-A C. H. Bink Spraberry discovery in extreme Southeast Sterling County.
The new project is No. 2-A C. H. Bink, 1,862 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 53, block 2, T&P survey.

DST Scheduled For Indicated Scurry Opener

McAlester Fuel Company No. 1-A Allen, indicated Scurry well discovery in Southwest Scurry County, was at total depth of 7,256 feet preparing to run a drillstem test.
Operator cores from 7,235 feet to 7,356 feet. Recovery was 100 per cent lime. It had fair porosity, some vugs, fair order and spotted fluorescence. No water was present on the core.

This project recovered 55 feet of clean oil and 355 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test in the top of the reef from 7,309 to 7,334 feet. The reef was topped at 7,304 feet, elevation 2,279 feet.
Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 75, block 20, Lavaca Navigation Company survey.

Shell Is To Drill Stepout To Opener Of Bledsoe Field

Shell Oil Company No. 1 Moore is to be a one-half mile south stepout to the discovery well of the Bledsoe-San Andres field in Central-West Cochran County.
Drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of tract 60, section 6, block Y, pd survey. That makes it one-half of a mile south of the same concern's No. 1 Putman, opener of the field.

It is one mile east of the town of Bledsoe and almost on the east line of Roosevelt County, New Mexico.
Drillsite to 4,815 feet with rotary tools is to start immediately.

C-E Yoakum Tester To Dig To Glorieta

Whaley Company, Inc. No. 1 Fred M. Allison, Jr. and others, one-half mile east outpost to the Owens field of Central-East Yoakum County, is scheduled to open to the surface.
The project was originally drilled to 5,336 feet in the San Andres. That formation was acidized with 15,000 gallons, after which the well pumped 4000 bbl. oil.

Nearest Glorieta production is five miles northeast in the Cobb-multiphase field.

No. 1 Allison is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 556, block D, John H. Gibson survey and 10 miles southeast of Plains.

NE Borden Wildcat Deepening To Test

The Superior Oil Company No. 6-507 C. D. Jones, discovery from the Mississippian in extreme Northeast Borden County, is deepening 10 feet from 7,900 feet, present total depth.
Previously fractured with 3,000 and 4,000 gallons in open hole from 7,961 to 7,990 feet, a one and one-half hour swabbing test recovered 14.55 barrels of oil cut 8.1 per cent water.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 2,270 feet from west lines of section 497, block 97 H&TC survey. That puts it four miles northwest of Fluvanna.

Central Kent Field Gets East Outpost

Sun Oil Company has staked location for a half-mile east outpost to the north side of the Clairmont-lower Pennsylvanian field in Central Kent County.
It is No. 3-C Billy Wallace and is located 660 feet from north and west lines of northeast quarter of section 9, block 98, H&TC survey.
Projected depth is 7,200 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Phillips Employees To Be Fed For Stock Purchasing Record

The 364 employees in the gaudy department of Phillips Petroleum Company in the Midland and Odessa areas will be honor guests at a dinner-dance in Odessa on March 27.
The party will be given by the Frank Phillips Men's Club and is being held to recognize the 100 per cent participation of the gasoline department employees in this region in the club's stock purchase plan.

North Offset Is Staked To Open In SW Sterling

Honolulu Oil Corporation spotted location for a north offset to its No. 1-A C. H. Bink Spraberry discovery in extreme Southeast Sterling County.

FOREIGNER GOES FOR LONE STAR STATE Frenchman Finds Texans Rough, Kind

(Editor's Note: The following is a letter written to J. L. (Joe) Greer, deputy supervisor for the Railroad Commission of Texas, District 8 office in Midland, by Pierre Albert, one of three French oil men, who recently made an extensive tour of oil and gas installations in Texas. They were here under the sponsorship of the Economic Cooperation Administration.)
"Dear 'Uncle Joe':
"I was at home in France when I received your letter, first sent to Berkeley to the University of California. I thank you very much for your wishes and hope to see you again in sometime. After my visit to about 18 states of your country, I wish to say Texas was certainly the most impressive. I tell you that not to be kind to you but because it is the truth, Texas was impressive by several characteristics.
"First, by the tremendous industrial development; I am personally convinced you'll be some day, not too far, the heart of the industrial power of the United States. Moreover, your work to improve the agricultural conditions of the Rio Grande Valley can sustain easily the comparison with the San Joaquin Valley of California.
"But I think the most astonishing thing to see is your will to develop in parallel with the instruction and education of your people. It is very surprising to think only 150 years ago, pioneers, often gun in hand, were busy to explore and to discover the most important part of Texas. And now you have one of the most important Universities; you have too excellent colleges like Texas A&M.
"The cow-boy and the student are not now very different, and I do think that it is one of the most important reasons for you to be proud of yourself and your future.
"Second by the warm friendship of you Texans I am from the southern part of France where people are so different from Parisian people than you are from 'damned yankees'. And if sometimes you are 'rough', you have your heart easily accessible, and for me it was very easy.
"In conclusion, you have the qualities and the defaults of young people and I do know I like the future belongs to young people. And if sometimes in France, the French do not understand the reactions of you Americans, I'll try to destroy such misunderstanding because during my visit in the United States I have learned to like Americans, and you Texans are very much responsible of that.
"Dear 'Uncle Joe' I want to tell you again, how much I appreciated to meet you and your assistants in the Railroad Commission. You can see my English is not very correct, but I hope it is good enough to tell you all—Thank you very much. Hope to see you later folks.
"Pierre Albert, "366 Avenue Napoleon Bonaparte, "Rueil Malmaison (Section 0), France."

Jerome Heads Union Of California's New Salt Lake City Office

D. A. Jerome of Midland is the manager of the new district land and geological office Union Oil Company of California has established at Salt Lake City, Utah.
That office will handle Union of California's operations in Utah and adjacent areas.
The office is now open and doing business, according to Jerome, who was in Midland Saturday visiting with his family. He does not plan to move his residence to the Utah capital at this time.
Jerome has extensive experience in different branches of the oil industry.
Union is to start drilling at a deep wildcat in the Strawberry Reservoir area on the west flank of the Uintah Basin in Wasatch County, Utah, late in the first quarter of this year.
It will be drilled on acreage secured by Union in a farmout deal with Carter Oil Company.
Other concerns there.
Several major oil companies and a number of independent operators have opened offices in Salt Lake City in recent years.
Union's district office there is under the direction of its new Rocky Mountain division headquarters in Denver.

Mid-Continent Earnings Told

NEW YORK—Net earnings of $17,062,182, equal to $9.18 a share, were reported by Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation for 1951.
In 1950 the company earned $15,662,632 or $8.43 a share.
Gross operating income for 1951 was $157,597,466, compared with $136,697,579 the year before. Profits before taxes were $33,400,582 against $23,758,632 in 1950.
Mid-Continent owned oil and gas leases on 1,379,823 acres of undeveloped territory, including 127,706 acres in the Williston Basin of North Dakota, at the end of 1951. This was a net gain of 37,303 acres for the year.

Shells 1951 Expenditures Are Highest Is Concern's History

The consolidated financial results cover all Shell's wholly owned subsidiaries, Shell Pipe Line Corporation being included for the first time since 1941 to make the report comprehensive. Figures in the report relating to previous years have been adjusted to include Shell Pipe Line Corporation for comparison purposes.
Acceleration in tax payments, under this policy, the statement of financial condition listed separately for the first time, the government securities set aside for payment of federal income and excess taxes totaling $107,000,000, the balance of $85,174,000 being available for general purposes.
39 Discoveries
The company's exploration and production activity in 1951 led to some 30 discoveries, the most important of which are two located in the Montana part of the Williston Basin. Previously discovered fields in California, Colorado, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas were further developed with good results. Shell's average net crude oil production reached a new high of 236,000 barrels a day in 1951, compared with 196,000 barrels a day in 1950 and a previous record of 215,000 barrels a day in 1948. The company's underground reserve position was improved during the year, despite record withdrawals of 66,221,000 barrels.

Power Is Made New Chairman Of AIME Education Division

Dr. Harry H. Power, University of Texas petroleum engineering professor, is the new chairman of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers' Mineral Industries education division.
During 1952-53, the division will seek ways to fill the unprecedented demand for mineral industries engineers and to push research toward better utilization of the nation's mineral supplies. Power said.
The division's work covers training and research in petroleum, mining, geological, ceramic, geophysical and metallurgical engineering.

True, Ford Moved Up As Top Executives Of Magnolia Pipe Line

Leslie H. True has been elected president of Magnolia Pipe Line Company. He succeeds J. L. Latimer who has been elevated to be chairman of the board of the concern. Latimer is also president of Magnolia Petroleum Company.
Don R. Ford, assistant manager of pipe lines and board member, was elected vice president of Magnolia Pipe Line Company and A. T. Glover, general superintendent, was made a member of the board of directors.

Leslie H. True
True has been with the Magnolia organization for almost 24 years. He had served as pipe liner, time keeper, gauger, pipe line scout, and as a district superintendent before being transferred to Magnolia's general offices in Dallas 15 years ago. True was made a vice president in October, 1945, and on January 1, 1946 was made manager of pipe lines.

Don R. Ford
Ford has been with Magnolia Pipe Line Company for almost 25 years, during which time he has been pipe liner, district gauger, chief gauger and has held various supervisory positions in many areas served by the company's pipe line network.
In August, 1949 he was transferred to Dallas to be assistant manager of pipe lines from division superintendent of the company's southern division at Houston. Ford was made a member of Magnolia Pipe Line Company's board of directors a year ago.
Has Varied Experience
A. T. Glover has been general superintendent of the pipe line company 10 years. During his early service with the company he assisted in the construction of some of the first pump stations of Magnolia's pipe line system.
After serving as construction foreman at various places in Texas he was moved to Oklahoma where he later became district superintendent at Wekoka and then superintendent of the Oklahoma division with headquarters at Oklahoma City. Glover was transferred to the company's general offices in Dallas in 1942 and promoted to general superintendent.

Gore Is Promoted To Sales Boss In Borger For Western

L. O. (Red) Gore has been promoted to be district sales manager for the Western Company for the concern's Panhandle-Western Kansas district. His headquarters are at Borger.
Wallace McBrayer has been transferred to Liberal, Kansas, as sales representative for Western at that point.
Gore was one of the two original employees of Western when it started operating in 1939.
The concern's general offices are in Midland.
Raindrops that fell millions of years ago have left their prints on slabs of stone that once were mud.

Well Completions Ahead Of 1951's Comparable Total

AUSTIN—Texas oil well completions for the year jumped far ahead of last year's comparable total as 220 producing wells were completed last week.
The year's total jumped to 2,413, more than 250 ahead of the year-ago figure of 2,162. The Texas Railroad Commission said Saturday in its weekly report.
Gas well completions did not match the pace of oil operations. Only six gas wells were brought in, making the year's total 157 compared with 199 a year ago.
The number of drilling failures remained high—116.
Wildcatting produced 13 oil wells, no gasers, and 68 dry holes.
Wells plugged included 111 dry, 6 gas, and 41 oil wells.
The state's total number of wells Saturday stood at 134,018, an increase of 468 from last week.
The total average calendar day crude allowable Saturday was 3,159,477 barrels, a jump of 21,548 barrels from a week ago.

Hughes Is Moved By Halliburton To WT Office In Midland

William L. Hughes has assumed the position as assistant manager in Midland of the West Texas division of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Company.
He was transferred here from Houston, succeeding LeRoy Muse, who went to the Halliburton office at Lubbock.

Magnolia Is To Deepen Depleted Discovery In Lea

HOBBS, N. M.—Magnolia Petroleum Company made plans to re-enter and deepen a depleted Pennsylvanian lime discovery in Central-East Lea County, and spotted location for an 8,100-foot wildcat in Northeast Chaves County this week.
The depleted discovery which is to be deepened is No. 1 J. D. Black, 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 9-15a-36e. It is five and one-half miles northeast of Lovington and nine miles west of the Denton-multiphase field.
It was completed in 1951 on total depth of 11,502 feet for a daily pumping potential of 156.40 barrels of oil. Since its completion it became depleted and has been shut in for some time.
The new 13,600-foot destination should take it into the Devonian.

The new Magnolia wildcat is No. 1 Burt-Federal, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 5-8s-30e. It is one mile west of the Lightcap field.
American Liberty Oil Company of Dallas spotted location for a 10,500-foot Devonian wildcat in Central Lea County. It is 12 miles west and slightly south of the Denton-multiphase field.
It will be drilled as No. 1 State-Sun, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 12-16s-35e.

George P. Livermore of Lubbock No. 1 David O. Billberry, San Andres failure in Southeast Roosevelt County is being deepened by Great Western Drilling Company of Lubbock. It was abandoned in July of 1951 on total depth of 4,450 feet. It is to be deepened to 9,000 feet for a test of the Siluro-Devonian.
Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 1-7s-37e.

Operator was drilling below 6,000 feet on last report.
Joseph J. O'Neill, Jr. of Midland and associates No. 1-A State, re-located 10,000-foot wildcat to try for production in the Ellenburger in Central-East Lea County. It has found good indications of making an oil well in the lower Drinkard zone of the Wichita-Albany formation.
The show came in a drillstem test at 7,438-79 feet. The tool was open three hours and ten minutes. There was a strong blow of air and gas throughout the period.
Recovery was 3,789 feet of free gas in the drillpipe—50 feet of free oil and 120 feet of very heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

There was no sign of formation water. The prospector is to drill deeper. It will complete its Ellenburger contract regardless of what it may encounter before reaching that horizon.
Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 35-20s-35e. It is two miles northeast of the Fullerton Oil Company No. 1 Elliott, recently completed lower Drinkard discovery, and three-quarters of one mile southwest of the opener of the Warren-McKee field.
The wildcat is eight miles south and slightly east of Nadine.

Lower Pennsylvanian gas was developed on a drillstem test in Continental Oil Company No. 1 Duffield, wildcat in Central-North Eddy County, four miles north-west of the Empire field.
Open one hour, gas was at the surface in four minutes and mud in 18. Gas volume was estimated at 4,600,000 cubic feet per day. The interval tested was from 8,540 to 8,660 feet. Drilling continued below 8,803 feet.
Operator drilled ahead to 8,750 feet and took another drillstem test with packer set at 8,590 feet. With tool open two hours, gas surfaced in 20 minutes. Recovery was 90 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut drilling mud. No gauge on the gas was made or estimated.
Operator is now drilling below 8,880 feet in shale.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 21-16s-27e. Fullerton Oil Company No. 3-L-2 Elliott-Federal is to be drilled as a one location northeast offset to the same concern's No. 1 Elliott-Federal, recently completed Simpson discovery in Central-East Lea County.
Drillsite is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 1-21s-37e. It will drill to 6,000 feet with rotary equipment.
Fullerton Oil Company No. 2 Elliott-Federal, exploration one location north of Fullerton No. 1 Elliott-Federal, has been completed for a daily flowing potential of 135 barrels of 39.3-gravity, oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and perforations at 5,849-5,970 feet. They had been washed with 7,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 700-1.

No. 2 Elliott-Federal was completed from the Clear Fork formation. Location is 1,650 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 1-21s-37e.
McAlester Fuel Company No. 2-B Brownfield is to be drilled as a 9,800-foot test, in the Gladiola-multiphase field of Northeast Lea County. ADD NEW MEXICO OIL.
Operator staked location 1,750 feet from north and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 2-12s-37e.
Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-TV State is another new exploration in the Gladiola area. It is to be drilled 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19-12s-38e.
It will operate under permit to 11,500 feet.

McAlester Fuel Company No. 2-A State is to be due in the Denton-multiphase field of Central-East Lea County as a 9,000-foot Wolfcamp test. Drillsite is 2,210 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 2-15s-37e.
Skelly Oil Company No. 7-F Mexico will be drilled in the Denton field as a 9,300-foot test. Location was staked 2,130 feet from north and 1,830 feet from east lines of section 7-15s-37e.
Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 4-BTC is a new producer in the Bagley-Pennsylvanian field of Northwest Lea County. It was completed for a daily flowing potential of 434 barrels of 46.6-gravity oil through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke and from perforations at 8,940-9,090 feet.
Tubing pressure was 10 pounds and casing pressure was 750 pounds. Operator washed perforations with 11,500 gallons of acid. Pay was topped at 8,914 feet and five and one-half-inch casing was set at 9,400 feet.
Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 35-11s-35e.

Amerada No. 7-Cable is another new producer in the Bagley-Pennsylvanian field. It was completed for a daily natural flowing potential of 548 barrels of 44.7-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke and from perforations at 9,081-89 feet.
Gas-oil ratio was 2,104-1 and tubing pressure was 600 pounds.
Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 3-12s-33e.
Six miles southwest of the Dayton field of West-Central Eddy County, Malco Refineries, Inc., No. 1 W. M. Boyd has been abandoned on total depth of 4,779 feet after plugged back to 2,722 feet and testing extensively.
The failure is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 14-19s-25e.
Southern Production Company No. 1-A State, east offset to The Texas Company No. 1-AR State, flowing discovery from the Devonian completed several months ago to open the Echols field in Northeast Lea County, has been completed for a daily flowing potential of 1,282 barrels of high-gravity oil through a one-half-inch tubing choke.
Production came from perforations in casing, opposite the Devonian, at 11,608-69 feet. That set had been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid.
Location for this confirmation producer is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 2-11s-37e.

Teachers Of Area Attend Two-Day Odessa Meeting

The West Texas Teachers Association attracted the teachers of this area to Odessa Friday and Saturday for a get-together that featured eminent speakers in three general sessions and different types of discussions in sectional meetings.

These sectional meetings, held in different classroom buildings in Odessa, included a place for almost every teacher where there were demonstrations and discussions on the particular subject that the teacher may be interested in.

The art sectional meeting included a demonstration of the way in which art projects may be related to the teaching of reading.

The chairman was Dr. Elizabeth Skidmore Sasser, Lubbock.

Discussed in the audio-visual sectional meeting was "Audio-visual Aids in the Improvement of Reading".

The English meeting was led by Gwen Gordon of Midland High School which included "A Remedial Reading Program" and discussions of what English teachers are doing and can do to encourage effective reading and to stimulate interest in reading and reading problems from the English teacher's viewpoint.

Mrs. Jewel Witt, Plainview, led a discussion on the development of reading ability and making reading serve broad educational objectives.

The discussion also included speakers from Lamesa and another from Plainview. This was the foreign languages meeting.

A Young Man's Fancy

In Spring a young man's fancy is turned to thoughts of love, which is all well and good if it doesn't keep him from doing his school work.

Spring is the season when even the most hard-boiled bachelor wants to forget his school work for a while, maybe to fish, hunt, work, or maybe just loaf.

Slide rule will be represented by Fred Meisner, Clayton Tatum and Wesley Pittman.

Education-Business Week Observance Is Scheduled March 19

Education-Business Day, the reverse of Business-Education Day, which was held in Midland last Fall, will be observed in Midland March 19.

The program will begin at the Midland High School Auditorium at 9:30 a.m. when all the businessmen participating in the program will meet for a brief orientation period and receive their assignments to various schools.

Each group will visit one school building, and will be shown through the building and see classroom demonstrations. At noon, they will have lunch in the various schools cafeterias.

At 1 p.m., all the groups will reassemble in the MHS auditorium for a program on the pattern of operation of the total school system.

In charge of publication of the brochure, entitled "Education, the Basis for Freedom," were Sarah Cotton, English instructor, and Wesley Martin, director of special services.

The pamphlet contains general information of the operation of the Midland public schools.

Attention, senior girls!

Every year the Midland branch of the American Association of University Women offers a $100 scholarship to a senior girl who is planning to attend college next Fall.

In order to qualify for the award, a girl must have maintained an average of at least a B during her senior year, and must apply by letter stating her choice of college, probable course of study, and plans for the future.

Preference is given to those interested in entering the teaching profession, but this is not a requisite for the award.

Girls interested in applying for this scholarship should apply by letter to the AAUW Scholarship and Fellowship chairman, Mrs. H. O. Jones, 1506 Douglas Street, Midland, by April 12.

The scholarship will be awarded sometime in May at a meeting of the Midland AAUW branch.

Howard Becker Has Paintings Displayed At Midland High

Howard Becker, a prominent Midland artist, has on display in room 211 a number of his paintings.

The exhibit will last through the coming week. The paintings consist largely of water color and pastel landscapes.

Becker has been doing demonstrations for the art classes this past week. He has painted a water color portrait of Nancy Herold and a pastel portrait of Nancy Michener, and plans to do a demonstration in oil during this week.

This talented artist, who teaches art classes for the Palette Club of Midland, is a native of New York and has studied mostly in the East.

With Highest Honors—He graduated from the Pratt Institute of New York with highest honors and served with the Army Intelligence during World War II for which he painted pictures for historic records.

He has exhibited at the state art museums of Santa Fe, N. M., the Tiffany Foundation, New York City, Albany and Lake Placid, N. Y., Palm Beach and West Palm Beach, Fla., Oran, Algeria, Tunis, N. M., and Red River.

Inez Parker, the high school art teacher, said she thinks it wonderful that an artist of his high caliber has been able to give his demonstration here.

A nail driven into a tree trunk would be at the same height from the ground five years later.

Shirley Archer, Harold Roan Exchange Vows In McCamey

McCAMEY—Shirley Jean Archer became the bride of Harold Wayne Roan in a double-ring ceremony held recently in the First Presbyterian Church in McCamey. The Rev. Howard Holland, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Archer of Cody, Wyo. The bridegroom is the son of Floyd D. Roan of Lubbock.

Betty Ellis played traditional wedding music and Mrs. Jody Conger, soloist, sang "Through The Years" and "With This Ring."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of nylon net with accented skirt and bodice. The nylon net veil was attached to a pill box cap set with pink and seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of red roses.

Mrs. John Crosetto, Jr., of Seattle, Wash., was the matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Jean Stuart of Brownwood. Winn Murchison of Midland was the best man. Ushers were Joe Bob Rowell and Jerry Nye.

The bride's attendants wore pink nylon net ballerina length dresses with pink carnation bandeaus and carried pink carnation corsages.

After a wedding trip to Benders the couple will be at home in McCamey. For traveling the bride chose a royal blue gaumardi dress with matching accessories. She wore a red rose corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Cody High School in Cody, Wyo., and Texas Christian University. Roan is a graduate of McCamey High School and attended Texas A&M and North Texas State College. He is employed by the Humble Oil and Refining Company.

Mrs. James K. Newman

Marie Hemsell And James Newman Wed

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. James Kenneth Newman will be at home at 1205 West Wall Street, Midland.

The couple was married Saturday in the St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Bartlesville, Okla. The Rev. Richard C. Rodgers officiated.

The bride is the former Marie Hemsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Hemsell of Bartlesville. Newman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gavan Newman of Brisbane, Queensland, Australia.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white stock and branched candelabra. A bouquet of white stock was placed in the entry hall.

The musical program included "Adagio," Gullmunt, "Adrios," Bach, and "Ave Maria," Bach-Gounod.

Attendants Named
Mrs. Adrin Baltensperger of Denton was the matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Mrs. T. K. Millan of Denver, Colo. Martin Hagan was the best man and the ushers were Joseph L. Lindsay, Arden Baltensperger and David Hemsell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a dress of antique ivory satin. The entire bodice was covered with imported venetian lace. The train was cathedral length. Her wedding veil was a mantilla of heirloom rose point lace. She carried a Prayer Book topped with an orchid.

The bride's attendants were identically dressed in ballerina length dresses of blue gray net and lace over pink tulle. They were matching gray lace mantillas and carried bouquets of roses and heather.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue shantung suit with white accessories.
After the wedding a reception was held in the parish house. Greenery and woodwardia were used to create a garden effect. The bride's table was decorated with garlands of southern smilax and clusters of white freesias.

The house party included Mrs. Ed McClintock and Meredith, Mrs. H. C. Price, Mrs. C. G. Harbordt, Mrs. C. P. Allen, Mrs. Billy Parker, Mrs. Leo Brown, Mrs. J. S. Dewar, Mrs. Paul Endacott, Mrs. R. L. Foster, Mrs. C. O. Stark, Mrs. Walt Poupirt, Betty Brewer, Mrs. W. A. Hensley, Mrs. A. M. Hughes, Mrs. Bud Caldwell, Jean Dewar, Mrs. George Breidenbach, Mrs. Richard Allen, Betty Langford and Mrs. Roy Cunningham.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a navy blue shantung suit with navy and champagne accessories.

The bride is a graduate of College High School in Bartlesville and

The MATURE PARENT

Don't Be A Parent Who Has No Convictions

"No matter what I ask my daughter to do, I get an argument," a mother's letter complains. "It's getting so that I dread asking her to do anything. In the time I have to take to give her all my reasons for asking her to do a chore, I could have done it twice myself. I know that I am losing control of the situation and this frightens me . . ."

What is there to be frightened about? We have a youngster who has got the idea that her mother isn't sure that she makes good decisions. When this idea is corrected, she will stop arguing.

Children do not make a habit of questioning parents' orders or requests unless the parents themselves question them. If orders and requests are reinforced by convictions that seem just and good to us, our manner, the tone of our voice, our facial expression reveal this peaceful certainty.

Children think to themselves, "My mother must think she's right or she wouldn't be so quiet and certain I am going to do this thing. I guess maybe she has something in what she thinks I better trust it, too."

Parents with argumentative children are apt to rely far too much upon words. They tend to let other process their convictions for them so they have only words to give children who question their authority. Challenged, they have no real ammunition to defend their position. It's all been just flashy maneuver, a show of empty strength.

Authority, says Webster, is "power derived from esteem." Until we are certain of the steps by which we have reached a conclusion, the conclusion has no life for us. We can feel for it no true esteem, and we present it half-heartedly, doubtfully so that it carries no power.

Let's see how a real conviction makes an order acceptable to my daughter.

REINFORCED REQUESTS
Let's say she's seen a red plastic bracelet in a downtown window that she feels must have been especially designed to go with her new navy-and-red plaid skirt. Since she has overspent her allowance, she asks me to lend her the dollar she wants.

When I refuse it, she begins to protest. She calls me "mean." By the time she finishes her protest, I have found the conviction I wanted that assures me that I am not "mean" but kind to deny this loan.

Ignoring the personal element my daughter has tried to inject into our discussion, I say matter-of-factly, "Darling, grownups who borrow money to buy luxuries are considered untrustworthy people. If I

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK — There's a fellow here from England with a thick beard and curly hair to match who's giving "readings" from Charles Dickens on the stage of a Broadway theater. His name is Emily Williams and his portrayal of the famous writer in this old-fashioned way wouldn't be unusual, except that this man Williams does it so well. He acts out the classical words with such vivacious realism that the audience lives again in the old days of "Oliver Twist" and "David Copperfield." Williams reminded me of something Dickens said in the latter book, something quite appropriate right now. It was "as true as turnips is, as true as Isaac is. And nothing's truer than them."

Back in the depression days, a New York restaurant advertised for 50 waiters and stated that only Harvard graduates need apply. Two hundred answered the ad. Now a local department store has advertised for two young persons, male and female, and states that it wants only Phi Beta Kappa youngsters with "stylish" well-connected minds. The ad goes on to say that flashy academic records may scare some employers—but not this one! Well, this trend should encourage Junior in his home work.

Along the edge of upper Manhattan where it blends imperceptibly into the Bronx is an impressive sight. It is the George Washington Bridge, a familiar spectacle to those who drive to Gotham from the South. Two hundred feet above Hendrick Hudson's river it is suspended, thousands of tons of passengers and freight passing over it daily, yet the steel wires which combine to hold up the great span are each less in diameter than a lead pencil. There just happens to be enough of them to hold all that weight and more too.

Somebody has compared those full-blown crinoline skirts the ladies are wearing to inverted umbrellas, circular pup tents and cloth bells—for which hubby's pocketbook has tolled. It could be that with the war shortages, they really are hoopless hoop skirts. And it also could be that feminine styles have reached a full circle, so to speak, because these rounded wraps were introduced just about a century ago in Paris by a merchant who wanted to help the mills sell more cloth and to please Empress Eugenie, his best customer.

An old friend passed away here last week, a man known to many by his fine paintings, Howard Chandler Christy. I never will forget the first time I entered his apartment at 1 West 67th Street. It was like being in a famous art gallery, for all around the two-story studio were examples of his varied art, portraits of presidents, kings and just plain folks. Of course there were beautiful pictures of his famous Christy girls, and landscapes galore. He had a unique style, a kind of wavy, ethereal quality which immediately stamped the picture as his. And when you got through looking and gazing, there was Christy himself to tell you modestly about each one, how he chatted with Teddy Roosevelt or Mussolini or Will Rogers while he painted them. I asked him if there were not a book in his observations and experiences, but he smiled and shrugged away the idea.

A certain railroad station agent near this city says he feels like Diogenes looking for an honest man. He's the one, you know, who thought he could just let his newspaper customers make their own change out of an open box—that is he thought that until he began checking up short each day, and had to lock up the change. A local candy store gave away a huge box of candy to each customer-couple who had been married fifty years, and were getting along all right until one old couple with candy was discovered to be brother and sister instead. The store then asked that marriage certificate be shown. One man mumbled that he did not qualify, had been married for only ten years, but outside the hearing of the kite woman, he added "It seems like 50."

Sag-Resistant Jersey Tops Fashions

A wool jersey in a summer weight that holds its shape is used in three designs shown here, from top designers. Pale pink afternoon dress by J. Copeland converts (left) to short dinner dress with jacket off. L. has full skirt. Pearl honey bees, Claire McCardell does a dress (center) with bodice in pink jersey decorated in black popcorn knots. Skirt is black pique. From Mollie Parris (right) comes a white wool jersey dress with snug bodice and full skirt.

By GALE MUGLAS
NEW YORK — It's become increasingly known to one season. Men have accepted cotton for winter wear and lightweight wools for summer.

While rayon acetate and all the synthetic fibers march steadily through the four seasons. New fabric developments have accomplished these seemingly miracles (often in spite of give it).

With these developments there have come the just-ness that make fabrics wrinkle-resistant and sag-resistant. Thus an all-wool jersey that holds its shape and will not sag is in good company. Further, this wool jersey comes in lighter weights as well as in the heavier coat and suit weights. The very lightest weight is the for-luxury.

mid weather in the north or for tropical climates. To this jersey another quality has been added, its makers claim. This is a crease-resistant characteristic that makes it ideal for plane, train or car travel.

When you are baking drop cookies make them all about the same size so they'll brown evenly. If you measure the cookie dough with a teaspoon or tablespoon, according to the size you want, the cookies will be uniform.

Put No Trust In Office Romeo Who Says He's Misunderstood

A 28-year-old working girl who has decided she is in love with a wonderful man in her office wants to know what she ought to do. The man just happens to be married and just happens to have a wife who doesn't understand him as she does.

She undoubtedly knows what she ought to do. But in case there really is a doubt in her mind the answer is run, not walk to the nearest exit.

Looking at the situation from an entirely selfish point of view, and the "misunderstood husband" line is a dope.

That line is a dead give-away that a man is no good. It points out several unpleasant facts about him at once.

1. That he is completely lacking in loyalty. A man doesn't run down his wife to another woman, however subtle, if there is any loyalty in his nature.

2. That he is just an unscrupulous guy with a wandering eye. The man who uses the "misunderstood husband" line will use it on any attractive woman who will listen.

No Compliment
It's no compliment to play the role of "understanding woman" to the "misunderstood husband."

3. He likes to play the game of having his cake and eating it, too. He probably wouldn't get out of his marriage if he could. While enjoying the comforts of marriage, he intends to have a little fun on the side, with no real regard for either his wife or the other woman, and being willing to let both get hurt, as they eventually must.

That's the real picture from the "other woman's" viewpoint if she is willing to look at it honestly.

If she isn't willing to now, she'll probably have to some day when the "misunderstood husband" makes it quite plain that he has no intention of getting a divorce. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Golf Association Holds Brunch

The Women's Golf Association of the Midland Country Club held a brunch Friday, followed by a benefit bridge and canasta tournament in the clubhouse.

Bridge prizes were awarded as follows: Mrs. Roy Lockett and Mrs. C. M. Chase, first, and Mrs. F. H. Pannill and Mrs. Jack Walcher, second. First in canasta went to Katie Black and Marge Barber and second to Mrs. B. H. Blakney and Mrs. C. W. Chancellor. Other prizes went to Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. Chancellor, Mrs. B. L. McFarland, Mrs. Duncan Aldridge and Mrs. N. B. Gaines.

Decorations carried out a color scheme of pink and white. Mrs. J. I. O'Neill was in charge.

HD Council Has Business Session

The Midland County Home Demonstration Council met Friday in the Assembly Room of the courthouse for a business session.

Reports were heard from the Prairie Lee Home Demonstration Club, the Westside Home Demonstration Club and the Valley View Home Demonstration Club.

The group voted to serve refreshments at the stock show. The council decided to make and distribute a cook book for additional funds for the organization. Mrs. Owens of Odessa judged the aprons in the apron parade. Mrs. H. E. Benton won first place and Mrs. C. H. Pearson, second.

Mrs. Owens taught the members how to make ribbon corsages so the methods may be taught in each club.

Members present were Mrs. O. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. E. Cassidy, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Joe Heidelberg, Mrs. D. A. Cain, Mrs. J. D. Bartlett, Mrs. I. J. Howard, Mrs. W. B. Stanley, Mrs. H. A. Palmer, Mrs. L. H. Moncrief, Mrs. E. O. Messersmith, Mrs. Guy Greighton and Pauline McWilliams.

Midland Rotary Club Sets Annual Ladies Night Meet

The annual Ladies Night banquet of the Midland Rotary Club will be held at 7:15 p.m. Thursday in the Crystal Ballroom of the Schaefer Hotel.

Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, announced Saturday he said an attendance of more than 150 Rotarians and Rotary-Anns is expected.

Dr. P. D. (Dick) O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring and one of the best and most favorably known after-dinner speakers in the Southwest, will be the guest speaker at the banquet. He has spoken in Midland on several previous occasions and is well known here.

Several special entertainment features are planned. Dr. Shannon stated. Fun and fellowship will be stressed at the party.

The night meeting will supplant the regular Thursday noon session of the club this week, according to the Rev. W. R. Mann, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Shannon said the presidents of Rotary Clubs in neighboring cities have been invited to attend the Thursday night function. He urged all Midland Rotarians and their Rotary-Anns to attend.

Try wedging cubes of cooked ham, pineapple chunks, and one-inch pieces of cooked yams on skewers; brush with butter or margarine and broil until thoroughly hot. When you turn the skewers during broiling sprinkle a little brown sugar over the yams.

Ingram To Be Guest Speaker

Thomas L. Ingram will be the guest speaker at the regular program meeting of the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., when it meets at 3 p.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. T. E. Neely, 3108 Douglas Street.

Ingram will speak on "Rights of Women in Texas." The Twentieth Century Club will be the hostess club. Mrs. J. B. Bain is the program chairman.

Mrs. Raymond Leggett, social chairman, will be in charge of the tea hour. Mrs. W. Harry Rhodes will preside.

Home Arts Club Exchanges Gifts

McCAMEY—Mrs. A. F. McNamara was hostess to the members of the Home Arts Club when they met recently in the McCamey Park Building.

During the social hour each member brought a gift for her secret pal. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Fred Gibson, Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. N. C. House, Mrs. F. C. Reimers, Mrs. Maud Smith, Mrs. P. N. Scott, Mrs. Gertrude Gibbs, Mrs. Ed Cox and Mrs. J. L. Werst.

SUMMER BRIDE—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Maricle of Long Beach, Calif., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Reita Darlene, to Harvey Robin Hardison of Midland. Hardison is the son of Mrs. Harvey Hardison and the late Harvey Hardison of Midland. Miss Maricle is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach and attended Long Beach City College. Hardison is a graduate of San Jacinto High School in Houston and attended New Mexico School of Mines. He is employed by the Magnolia Oil Company. The marriage date will be announced later.

Club Has Four New Members

Four new members joined the photographic branch of the Palette Club at the group's Thursday night meeting.

They were Maria Spencer, William Carter, Randy Rubin and Robert Meyer. During the business session, members filled out questionnaires on the basis of which a committee will map out a series of programs.

A. V. Reid displayed two portraits, giving a short talk on the methods he used to get the desired effect for each. He explained the lighting, taking, developing, printing and finishing technique.

E. E. Reigle showed two color prints that had been made from color transparencies. One was of movie actor, Adolph Menjou, made up for his role of Pierre in "Across the Wide Missouri." Reigle took the picture while the company was on location in Colorado.

Others attending were Mrs. J. V. Birdwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reigle, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. A. Six, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Zabel, F. A. Douglass, G. G. McNary and Howard Becker.

Spirit Lake, Idaho, has a bottom of solid stone.

Austin College A Capella Choir To Appear At Big Spring Base

West Texas will be well-represented among the members of the Austin College A Capella Choir in its appearance at Big Spring Air Force Base next Saturday evening.

The singers who hail from the local area are Gloria Anguish and David Lavery of Midland and Mary Frances Evans of Odessa. Together with 48 other voices from many different parts of the United States, they make up a well-trained, highly talented organization of musical harmony.

The Austin College group is currently on tour of Air Force bases throughout Texas; their engagement here marks their fourth stop on this tour, being sponsored by Chief of Chaplains, United States Air Force.

Concert tours have taken the choir to more than 15 states and on completion of the current AF trip, they will have traveled 27,000 miles, making over 300 appearances.

To qualify as a member of the Austin College Choir, a vocalist must audition and be selected in competition performance. Once accepted, he then must maintain a rigorous training schedule imposed by the director, Dr. Bedford, that sometimes calls for as many as three rehearsals a day.

The choir will make its appearance in the auditorium of the new Academic Training Building at the Air Base. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a limited number of civilian guests.

McCamey OES Visits Iraan Dinner Meet

McCAMEY—A group of the McCamey Order of the Eastern Star members attended the Iraan OES Friendship banquet recently.

Those attending from McCamey were Mrs. J. T. Gibbs, worth matron; Mrs. Leo Plumlee, Mrs. Callie Fisher, Mrs. Jeff Smith and Mrs. A. W. Fisher.

Mrs. Bryan Denson Discusses Ceramics

Mrs. Bryan L. Denson gave a program on ceramics and copper work at the Thursday meeting of Nu Phi Mu, Unit 11. The meeting was held in the home of Ann Klebeid.

Each girl was shown how to work a design in copper and how different colors could be obtained by use of chemical solutions.

Plans for a social, to be held Monday, were discussed.

Those attending were Ramona Clark, Ruth Eckert, Mrs. Bob Roberts and Mrs. R. D. Rubin.

SCHEDULES GENERAL MEETING

The Women of the Church of the St. Andrews Presbyterian Church will have a general meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church. Officers reports will be heard and new officers will be installed by Mrs. Lewis Waterstreet. A nursery will be provided for small children.

Hallstones are made up of alternate layers of ice and snow.

Flying Business Looking Up At Big Spring Base

BIG SPRING—The flying business is looking up at Big Spring Air Force Base.

Base pilots Thursday completed the ferrying of five new T-28 Trainers from the North American Aviation Company factory, at Los Angeles, to the local installation.

The T-28 trainer is a two-place all-metal monoplane, equipped with tricycle landing gear, and generally acknowledged to deliver vastly superior performance to earlier type training craft. Powered by an 800-horsepower Wright radial engine, the T-28 has a top speed of 288 miles per hour, and cruises at 190 mph. The service ceiling of the T-28 is about 30,000 feet, and it has a range of more than 1,000 miles.

The T-28s will be utilized in the first phase of light training at the local base. Some sixty additional T-28s are scheduled for delivery in the near future.

Resort Gloves Are Shown In Various Styles

These gloves, designed for resort wear, will be in evidence for Spring, too. The striped glove in double-woven cotton (left) that's swept the country now has company in the form of matching ascot. White glove (upper right) in handwoven cotton has bracelet of embroidered applique leaves. For a turtle-neck blouse, there's a glove (lower center) with a turtle-top. It's white with green band. Dressy glove (lower right) is slightly longer length, has French knots and hand-façoning.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—Picking a glove from those now ready for resort wear can be as much fun as choosing your lucky number. The double-woven cotton glove that's endeared itself to American women is on hand in many moods, lady-like, stunning high fashion, frankly collegiate.

The gay little striped glove, designed in Paris by Hermes, now has constant companion in a matching ascot scarf. Against a background of such glowing color as champagne, foam pink raspberries and lemon yellow, charcoal stripes are posed. This is high fashion and yet one of the prettiest gloves in

A new, double-faced cotton shortie, from this same house, is in a sophisticated black lace pattern against white. Wrist-bone length, it's cut with sleek fit.

Another new glove, this with a ladylike air, is sparkling white. Its delicate look is achieved through use of French knots and hand-façoning.

A white glove that's unadorned except for unusual bracelet trim is new, too. It's encircled in embroidered applique leaves that focus attention on a pretty arm.

From the interest in blouses and sweaters with the turtle-neck springs a shortie with a turtle-top for campus wear. The glove itself is white while the turtle-top may be white or it may be a bright and contrasting color.

Vitamin Cream Improves Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

If your skin is looking a little winter-worn, now is the time to do something about it. Although Spring is almost here, it will still be a while before you can enjoy the warmth of the sun, and absorb its beneficial rays.

What your dried complexion needs is a vitamin diet—one that will beautify, moisten and firm your skin. Happily enough, a new and distinct type cream has just been developed that will leave your skin smoother, younger and feeling wonderfully firm and fresh.

This unusual beauty preparation combines Vitamin A, the very same vitamin found in butter, milk, cream and green and yellow vegetables, and Vitamin D, the "sunshine vitamin."

The skilled blending of these two important vitamins coupled with other active moisture-giving elements in the cream soak into your skin without leaving an oily residue. Application of the cream is simple. All you have to do is massage it over your face and throat with gentle upward strokes. Leave it on for several hours, and overnight, if possible.

Because of the vitamin content in this preparation, it will serve as an essential beauty aid if you are dieting. This is true because while you diet it is often necessary to cut down on dairy products, thereby, starving your complexion of its principle source of nutrition.

But regardless of whether you are dieting or not, if your skin is dry and lifeless, this is the cream that will make a big and important difference.

Copernicus, the astronomer, who is sometimes credited with the discovery that the earth revolves around the sun and not the sun around the earth, is believed to have revived suggestions first made by Aristarchus, a Greek who lived about 265 B. C.

YOUNG MODELS—Byron Dean Bartlett, left, one of the models for the David Crockett Elementary School Style Show, goes Western in a green cowboy suit, complete with red and green checked shirt and a big-brimmed hat, all from S&Q Clothiers. The show, sponsored by the schools' Parent-Teacher Association, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. Scouts Have Varied Program Girl Scout Troops met last week for a program of work. Some troops worked on badges, while others elected officers and played games.

Brownie Troop 27 met at St. Marks Methodist Church. The troop donated a large wastebasket to the church in appreciation for using the church as its meeting place.

Plans were made for a train ride. Mrs. L. G. Marsalis and Mrs. K. B. Elliott of Indiana were guests at the meeting of Brownie Troop 41. The members worked on the Flycup ceremony.

Jonna Headle is the chairman of Brownie Troop 31. Patsy Breith is assistant chairman. Sally Moore, hostess, Kisty Howell, monitor, Joyce Wilburn, reporter, and John Hamilton, flag bearer.

Baseball was played by the members of Intermediate Troop 34. Games of "spin and plait" and "find the ring" were played by the 10 persons present at the meeting of Brownie Troop 52.

Janan Hayes was a guest of Brownie Troop 30 when the members hiked from the school to the Little House for their meeting. Maps were made.

Reports on various activities were headed by the members of Brownie Troop 64. Songs were sung and the flag ceremony was given.

Joe David Clinton was a visitor of Intermediate Troop 15. Badge-work was discussed.

Old Door Can Be Converted Into Large Play Table

An old door can be easily and inexpensively converted into a large play table on which a child can color pictures, make cutouts and play games.

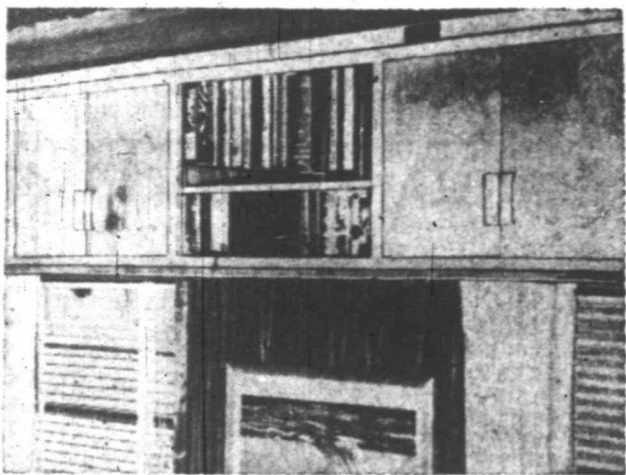

It will be sturdy enough to withstand hard use and large enough to so that the child will not feel cramped. It can be finished to match the room's decorative scheme. Mount the door on four 2x4's sanded smooth. Cover the top surface with a sheet of plywood or hardboard.

Or an old kitchen table can be used to make the play table. Needing only to have the legs cut down to suitable height. Kentele asphalt tile cemented over the top of either type of table will give a durable finish that can be cleaned easily. Colors may be used in a random scheme, or may be chosen to carry out a particular shade used elsewhere in the room.

If this material also is used on the floor of the room, matching tiles can be used on the table top thus achieving an attractive decorative unity. Finish off the table by painting the legs and edges the same color as the other furniture in the room.

The famous "Hobber Harms" were Andrew Carnegie, Jay Gould, James Fluke, John D. Rockefeller, Cornelius Vanderbilt and J. Piermont Morgan.

Built-Ins Suit Modern Living

This combination of a bookcase and cabinets shows how charmingly hardwood plywood built-in furniture fits into a modern living room.

Built-in furniture has become a mark of the most livable new American homes. Built-ins are liked because they suit the easy, casual manner of living that many people have adopted during the last few years.

Among favorite kinds of built-in furniture are cabinets, cupboards, closets, bookcases, shelves, desks, radio and phonograph cabinets, tables, benches, storage walls, counters, banks, dressing tables, bars, built-in racks for toys, magazines, towels, phonograph records and sports equipment. Built-ins are popular for their attractiveness as well as for functional suitability. They usually are made in clean-lined designs that appeal to the modern taste. The hardwood plywood of which they often are constructed always has been prized for its beauty and decorative fitness.

Hardwood plywood is faced with wood veneer, which adds the attractiveness of wood grain figuring and color to a home interior. Wood veneers are cut to bring out the best-looking grain figures.

The smooth surface cleans easily. Occasional wiping with a soft cloth and periodic waxing usually are all that is required.

Housing History Reveals Remodeling Activity Heavy

MINNEAPOLIS—Largely because two out of every three of the nation's 46 million homes are at least 20 years old, residential remodeling will play a major role in home activity during 1952, Tom McDonald, vice president of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, declared.

"Any study of the pattern of housing activity during the last few years will show the tremendous activity on the part of homeowners in maintaining and improving their existing homes," McDonald said. "On a national average this work has amounted to about a billion dollars a year."

The 1,090,000 homes put up in the nation last year, plus the 850,000 or 900,000 estimated for this year—depending on whose figures you use—make up a pretty small minority in relation to the 29 million dwellings occupied today that were built back in the early 1930's. Although it's difficult to pinpoint just when obsolescence begins, McDonald said, it generally is agreed that a house 20 or more years old will have need of some remodeling or repairs. Obsolescence of such home appliances as a range or washing machine starts at about ten years while roofs, heating systems and plumbing usually need replacing in 20 years, he said, pointing out that many of these homes

Greater Care In Location Of Big Windows Advised

Builders should take greater care in the location of picture windows in homes, in the opinion of Mary Deputy Lamson, prominent landscape architect.

"I think the most obvious advice would be not to have all the picture windows in a development exactly the same size and in the same place in each house," she said. "The recently-developed panel window system for double-pane glazing seems to afford great flexibility in fenestration at moderate cost."

of a porch or vestibule entrance.

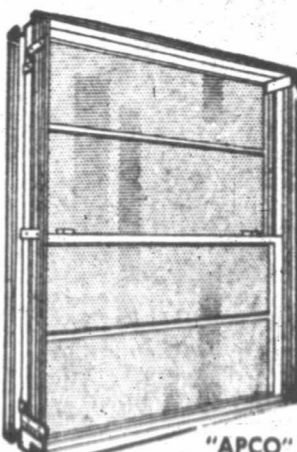

"Under today's price and material pressures modernization will continue to be a practical means for the average family to satisfy the urge for a better home," he added.

picture window," Mrs. Lamson suggests. It also would be preferable to put windows where the owner looks out on his property or on a pleasant scene, rather than on the street, as is often the case.

Surrounding Beauty
Failure to place the picture window in the best possible spot generally necessitates landscaping to a much costlier degree than if the builder took advantage of the surrounding beauty, she pointed out.

"With the new 'American Style' of architecture designed to unite the outdoors and indoors through a transparent wall, one acquires an outdoor picture that becomes an integral part of the home, she said. Thus, the same consideration should be given to it as to the materials and furnishings of the structure itself.

Big Kitchen Back, But Modern Design Gives Efficiency

The big kitchen once more is a feature of American homes—but with a difference.

It shares with Grandma's meal-preparation room that "family living" atmosphere, but its equipment and layout bear no resemblance whatever to the large, catch-all kitchen of 50 years ago.

To combine the compactness of the small kitchen and the friendliness of the big one, today's designs make use of "islands" of equipment and related clay tile work surfaces. For example, in former days the sink was placed conveniently along a wall. In modern planning, it occupies an island of "pier" and is situated at right angles to any of the four walls. This makes for accessibility from any part of the room.

The three primary work centers in the kitchen are likely to end up as "islands": cooking and serving, food preparation and storage, and clean-up centers. They more often than not form a triangle occupying an overall space of less than 22 square feet.

Another Revolution
Another revolution has taken place in today's kitchen. The stature and needs of the homemaker are the ruling guide. Most work surfaces and counters are 36 inches high, but recent research showed that a special mixing counter at a slightly lower level saves back-strain in certain kitchen tasks, such as baking. This lower surface also permits sitting down to work.

Storage areas, too, have undergone the changes resulting from research into the kitchen efficiency. It has been learned that the average housewife can conveniently reach a storage shelf installed at 72 inches. Architects and designers who set the pace in modern home construction are giving matters such as these serious thought, on the theory that doing it right is no more expensive than doing it in the ordinary matter.

Housewives will be cooking on glass in the future as the result of development of a new infrared stove lamp that can be fitted into standard space on electric stoves.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The cattle market was steady on 311 head sold at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. Stocker calves still were scarce. One group of 311 pound heifers sold for $36.50. A lot of 653 pound white-faced steer yearlings consigned by R. H. McCrummen, Seminole, was bid to $31.75 cwt.

Stocker steer calves brought $33 to $37, steer yearlings $29 to $32 and heifer yearlings $28 to $31. Stocker cows cleared at $18 to $23 and cow and calf pairs at $220 to $287.

Butcher steers auctioned for $31 to $32.50. Best offering was a group of 21 consigned by John Haley, Jr., Kermit, that averaged 912 pounds and went up to $32.75 and averaged $31.40.

Fat cows cashed for $21 to $23, mediums $19 to $21, canners and cutters $14 to $19. Fat calves and yearlings drew $32 to $34, mediums $29 to $32, commons and culls $23 to $29. Bulls went at $23 to $26.

Jim Wells Cox, Glasscock County ranchman for 45 years, has loaded up "lock, stock and barrel" and moved to West Point, Miss. He and his son-in-law, Bernard (Dan) Houston, have purchased ranch property in Mississippi.

Houston is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tode Houston, prominent Glasscock County ranch couple, who made their home in Stanton. Bernard lived in Stanton. After serving with the Navy in the South Pacific during World War Two, he entered business in Garden City.

Hope to see you at the Midland County Livestock Show and Sale Monday and Tuesday, Paduene! Arrangements for the big county-wide attraction are complete and stock will be in the pens at Fair Park Sunday night.

Then, bright and early Monday, the 1952 event will be opened to the public and the judging of the fat calves, lambs and swine will be underway. The auction sale is scheduled Tuesday afternoon at the Midland Livestock Auction Company arena.

It is an event staged exclusively for 4-H and FFA Club members of Midland County, and is deserving of the support of all residents of Midland County. The club youth will appreciate your attendance at the show and sale, and you will enjoy seeing the animals shown by the club youth.

The show is sponsored and staged by the Midland County Livestock Association, which was organized last year to work with and for 4-H and FFA members.

Some of the finest stock in West Texas will be exhibited at the show, which promises to be one of the outstanding events of the year in the Permian Basin Empire. We'll be looking for you out there Monday and Tuesday.

Garvis P. Ross, managing editor of The Stanton Reporter, tried to tell us one day last week that sandstorms are "bigger and better" over Martin County way.

Just how wrong can a man be? Why, Ross, Midland County is the home of the world championship sandstorms, and when "bigger and better" sandstorms blow up, Midland will have them.

Now that that little matter is settled (even though the sand is not) let it rain in Midland, Martin and adjacent counties.

Manager Delbert Downing of the Midland Chamber of Commerce yet may become an ardent bull fight fan, although he never has witnessed an exhibition of the popular Mexican sport.

Downing Thursday received a pass to attend all bull fights in Ciudad Acuña, Mexico, during 1952, the compliments of Jesus M. Ramon of that city.

Invitations to the second annual Seminole FFA and High School Invitational Rodeo, slated April 18 and 19 at Seminole, have been sent to 34 schools. C. J. Murphrey, vocational agriculture instructor at Seminole High School, announced.

The event will be held at the Gaines County Fair Grounds. "Only school teams are eligible to compete, with each team being composed of two boys and two girls," Murphrey said.

Each school has been invited to send two teams, with age limits established in Inter-scholastic League rules.

An arena fee of $5 per team must accompany entry blanks. Trophies for high scoring teams and awards for high point individuals will be presented.

Events for boys competition are bull riding, bareback bronc riding, ribbon roping and calf roping. Girls' contest includes the last two plus the hat race and a clover leaf barrel race.

Schools invited include: Andrews, Odessa, Kermit, Periwell, Monahans, Wink, Pecos, Crane, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Big Spring, Midland, Colorado City, Snyder, Stanton, Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka, Post, Lubbock, Morton, Seagraves, Denver City, Levelland, Littlefield, Plains, Brownfield, Whiteface, Ballinger, Texas, and Hobbs, Lovington, Tatum, Slaton, Jal and Carlsbad, N. M.

E. J. Simmons of Crane was at Lometa last week looking after ranching interests in that section.

For the 75th time cattlemen will gather for the annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association to be held Monday through Wednesday in Fort Worth.

The site of the 75th convention will be in modern Hotel Texas in contrast to the first meeting of the organization held under a large oak tree in the frontier village of Graham, Texas, in February of 1877.

Since its initial meeting the organization has grown from a handful of cattlemen in Northwest Texas to a membership of more than 10,000 in 16 states and has become the nation's largest association of cowmen, representing the ownership of more than three and a half million cattle.

Midland and West Texas will be well represented at the convention.

Although several types of leases are used for irrigated farms on the Texas High Plains, the third-and-fourth share agreement is by far the most common. Such arrangements call for payment of one-third of the grain and one-fourth of the cotton as rent.

A study of farm leases on irrigated farms of that area was completed recently by William G. Adkins, sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Cecil A. Parker, associate county agent, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Adkins and Parker found comparatively few straight cash leases — probably no more than two per cent. Share-cropping also is very limited.

The study shows that few tenants pay cash bonus in addition to the crop share. Payment of cash rent for the dwelling or other buildings is a rare practice.

In spite of the added capital investment for irrigation, little difference was noted between crop-share leases on irrigated land and dry land.

Capital investment items seldom are shared. It is a general practice for the landlord to furnish facilities which are not easily detached from the land. And the tenant supplies the more easily moved items.

Livestock

RUGGED and right for the job!

- Fact No. 1 Saves you money on purchase: Payload pound for payload pound, a Chevrolet truck lists for less. Here's an immediate, cash-in-the-bank saving that Chevrolet offers.
- Fact No. 2 Cuts operating costs: A Chevrolet truck works for rock-bottom "wages" on fuel and upkeep. You get the proved savings of Valve-in-Head, and many other features.
- Fact No. 3 The right truck for your job: Chevrolet trucks are factory matched to the job — tires, axles, frame, springs, engine, transmission, brakes. You get the truck you need.
- Fact No. 4 Saves by lower depreciation: Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more money on the used truck market — and that can mean more money for you when you trade or sell.

Just about two and a half million users of Chevrolet trucks are proving you can't buy a better truck to save your money. You save when you buy. You save on operation and upkeep. You save on getting the job done fast and right. You save when you trade. Come on in and let's talk over your hauling or delivery needs, and then take a look at the kind of truck you want on your job.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may occur in the columns of The Reporter-Telegram will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

It's Stock Show Time

It is livestock show time—Midland County Livestock Show time—in this headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire.

It is the time when the FFA and 4-H Club youths of Midland County proudly will parade their sleek calves, lambs and swine before the judges and spectators in one of the top club shows of West Texas.

Judges will select the show winners and the spectators will applaud the outstanding efforts of all the boys and girls who display animals in the annual attraction.

Yes, the gates at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80 will swing open bright and early Monday to signal the official opening of the annual Midland County Livestock Show. The judging will be completed Monday and the auction sale of the fine animals is scheduled at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the arena at the Midland Livestock Auction Company, just across the highway from Fair Park.

Although show entries are limited to Midland County animals, show attendance is open to the world, and it is hoped record crowds will be on hand to cheer the accomplishments of the club members in the raising, feeding, grooming and showing of their fine stock.

The boys and girls have worked hard in feeding out and developing their animals for public showing, the task having been all the more difficult this year because of the drought. They have done marvelous jobs, however, and from the looks of the steers, lambs and hogs, one never would guess the county has been plagued by drought over an extended period.

It has been valuable and worthwhile training for the club youths, who now are ready to put their animals on the judging line in the climaxing event of the club year.

The boys and girls deserve all the support it is possible for Midland County and its residents to give them. Perhaps the best way to show the club youths we are supporting them to the limit is by our attendance at the show Monday and the sale Tuesday. All residents of Midland and of West Texas are invited to attend the attraction. Let's not disappoint our boys and girls who are engaged in this worthwhile, vocational training program.

And while congratulating the club youths of the county on their fine accomplishments, congratulations also are in order for officers, committeemen and members of the Midland County Livestock Association, sponsor of the annual stock show, which has as its purpose the furthering of club youth projects in Midland County.

Time, effort and money in abundance have gone into the job of arranging and staging the Midland County Livestock Show, and to all who have aided in producing the big event, we say, Thank You.

The important thing now is to seek that previous attendance records are smashed at this week's club youth attraction.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Four U. S. fliers ransomed from Hungary almost court-martialed; Food processors plot end of price controls; Taft's most vulnerable point is arms voting record.

WASHINGTON—The complete story on how the four U. S. fliers were forced down over Hungary and later ransomed for $120,000 now has been reported to Washington.

The report came when the top Air Force command at Wiesbaden, Germany, proposed court-martialing the four men for incompetence.

The truth is that the four fliers were not on a secret mission as the Communists claimed, nor did they get lost in a fog, as the fliers claimed. Furthermore, their compass was not jammed by Russian radio, as the fliers claimed.

The official report forwarded to Washington by the Air Force in Wiesbaden shows that the trouble was stupid navigation. The Air Force crew was flying on a clear, sunlit day, but, as a result of poor navigation, got lost over Hungarian territory on a routine flight from Germany to Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

The official report also shows that the fliers signed a statement in either the Russian or Hungarian language which they couldn't read. Obviously they have no idea what was in the report, and Washington is waiting to have it blasted out on the air in the form of propaganda.

As a result of all this, the Air Force command in Germany proposed court-martialing the four men on a charge of losing a $75,000 plane and costing the United States $120,000 in ransom money. When this was referred to the Pentagon, however, the court-martial was ruled out on the ground that the men had suffered enough.

Subverting Price Controls. Premature publicity hampered but did not break up a meeting of businessmen and food processors in Chicago the other day, called to put the skids under price controls.

The meeting was held in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Sherman, at the invitation of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Association. Although some of the largest food groups in the nation had made plans to attend the "secret" meeting and 125 people had accepted, fewer than 40 people actually showed up.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

When today's hand was played in the recent Life Master Pair Championship, South was usually the declarer at a contract of two or three spades. South could easily win six spades and three diamonds, and these nine tricks were usually the limit of the hand.

At one table, however, my friend and associate, Alfred Sheinwold, found a way to bring in a tenth trick.

The defenders opened hearts and continued the suit, and Sheinwold ruffed the third round. It was obvious to him that East had the ace of clubs and that no straight-forward play would develop a club trick. He therefore tried for some sort of squeeze by running his five remaining trumps, discarding low clubs from the dummy.

West had to find three discards on the five rounds of trumps. He couldn't afford to part with a diamond, so he had to release the diamond and the ten of clubs. East had to find three discards on the trumps. He could afford one club and one heart, and he could really afford to discard a diamond. East was afraid, however, that a diamond discard would make the play easier for South if he happened to have something like J-9-X in the suit.

Hence East decided to get rid of his two "worthless" last hearts as his first discards on declarer's trumps.

This gave Sheinwold his chance to make the precious extra trick. After running all of the trumps, he simply led a low club, whereupon the queen, king, and ace of clubs fell together on the same trick. This set up his jack of clubs as a tenth trick.

If East had saved a heart, this maneuver would have failed. After South had taken all of the trumps, East would be able to get in with the ace of clubs in time to cash in last heart.

diamond and the ten of clubs. East had to find three discards on the trumps. He could afford one club and one heart, and he could really afford to discard a diamond. East was afraid, however, that a diamond discard would make the play easier for South if he happened to have something like J-9-X in the suit.

Hence East decided to get rid of his two "worthless" last hearts as his first discards on declarer's trumps.

This gave Sheinwold his chance to make the precious extra trick. After running all of the trumps, he simply led a low club, whereupon the queen, king, and ace of clubs fell together on the same trick. This set up his jack of clubs as a tenth trick.

If East had saved a heart, this maneuver would have failed. After South had taken all of the trumps, East would be able to get in with the ace of clubs in time to cash in last heart.

Truman Must Face Stiff Test If He Wants Aid Bill To Pass

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Truman administration now faces its meanest battle of the year in Congress. It is to get $8,000,000,000 worth of military and economic aid for friendly foreign governments.

The President's fireside chat and his special message to Congress were the opening guns of this campaign. Having shot them off—the last of his extra requests for a while, maybe—the President felt it was safe to go vacationing in Key West.

But while he is fishing off Florida, Congress will be fighting it out with Secretary of State Dean Acheson and staff, Defense Secretary Robert Lovett's top Pentagon brass and W. Averell Harriman's Mutual Security Agency experts.

The issue is analyzed in Washington as complicated by two main factors. The first is political. In a campaign year, the appeal of Truman's opponents for more money and less foreign aid is being played for all it's worth.

Secondly, the Truman administration so far has not done a good job in selling its program. Boasts about the great American victory at the recent North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Lisbon have been made in general terms.

It is impossible for Washington reporters to find out who in Europe is going to contribute what, and how much each country's share of the total burden will be. Cabled news dispatches from European capitals are obscured by an even thicker fog.

Military Aid Diplomacy. The reason given for all this mystery is that military security makes it necessary. European governments are said to be insisting that their military budgets and defense strengths be kept secret. And the U. S. government refuses to give a country-by-country breakdown on foreign aid for fear that one government might get jealous if it found another was getting more from "Uncle Sugar."

What does not seem to have penetrated is that this is no year for blank-check writing. It has to be proved to Congress that this expenditure is necessary. The folk at home have to be shown that European countries are doing all they can for their own defense.

There is a wave of pessimistic feeling in Congress and elsewhere that France is falling apart. Britain is believed by some to be ready for taking over by Mr. "Annoying" Bevan and his neutralists. Italy again is considered ripe for Communist picking. It is predicted Western Germany won't have any troops in uniform before 1954. And so on, country by country.

All the necessary facts and figures to disprove these allegations may be presented to Congressional Foreign Relations and Appropriations Committees considering the President's $8,000,000,000 request. But if these data are presented in executive session, the public will not be let in on what it's all about.

Troops Tripled In Year. One year ago, when General Eisenhower assumed his NATO command, he had to start from scratch. The progress he has made in this one year can be indicated by a comparison of forces available then and now, and what he can look forward to one year hence.

A year ago, General Eisenhower could scrape up only eight divisions. Two were American, three French, two British, one Belgian, plus miscellaneous brigades and battalions in Italy, Denmark, Norway, and The Netherlands. He had practically no air force.

Today General Eisenhower is believed to have the equivalent of some 25 divisions—a three-fold increase. They are identified as six American, five French, four British, three or four Italian, two to three Dutch, two to three Belgian plus scattered brigades in the smaller countries.

The 50 divisions envisaged for the end of this year would represent a doubling of the present ground forces. This does not include the 12 divisions earmarked for Germany. Nor does it include a possible 60 divisions in being in Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia. The total is 122, not counting neutral troops in Spain and Switzerland.

If this much progress can be made in a year, it is argued that the situation in Europe is not as hopeless as many pessimists have portrayed it.

General Eisenhower, from his Paris headquarters, continues to radiate optimism in his leadership. But so far, nobody on this side of the ocean has appeared to raise the sights of the American people as much as Ike has lifted them for the Europeans.

Q—What is the origin of the word derrick?

A—During the 17th century in England at the famous Tyburn gallows, there was a notorious hangman by the name of Derrick. This gallo, at first was called Tyburn Tree, came to be called a "derrick," and this was passed on to the hoisting device because of its resemblance to a gallows.

Q—Who owned the first dinner fork in America?

A—Governor John Winthrop, of Boston.

Q—Where was General Custer finally buried?

A—Originally, the general was buried where he fell at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. A year later he was reinterred at the United States Military Academy at West Point, where a statue was erected in his honor.

Q—What is meant by a custom-made garment?

A—It is one made to individual measurement.

Q—Which state leads in corn production?

A—Iowa, since 1880.

By BOYCE HOUSE

During World War II, Texans at Camp Wolters (Mineral Wells) used the expression, "Durnyankee," pretty freely.

One day, a colonel, a native Texan, called the Lone Star lads together and said: "Men, we must quit calling these fellows from the North 'Durnyankees.' We should remember that they are our allies now."

'JAG Journal' Prints Story On Texas Navy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The March issue of the "Jag Journal," monthly publication of the Navy's office of the Judge Advocate General, comes out with a story about the Texas Navy.

Author of the article is Lt. Comdr. William L. Storey of Dallas, on duty at the Pentagon. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Storey of Vernon.

Storey recalls that the Texas Navy fought and won one battle on horseback during the war of independence with Mexico. He says that a Mexican ship anchored in shallow water in Copano Bay, near Matagorda, was attacked by Texas who rode out on horses to climb aboard and seize the enemy ship.

Another interesting matter concerning the Texas navy, he says, is the attitude of the United States in taking over the youthful fleet. The U. S. was glad to take over the four or five ships, but didn't want its officers. As a result, 10 years later, Congress passed a bill granting some 20 of these officers leave pay, compensating them for salaries they would have received over the previous decade.

sent Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson data showing Texas' influence in Uncle Sam's present navy.

There are 2,369 officers in the Navy who hail from Texas, and 29,751 enlisted men. This comprises 3.43 per cent of all naval officers, 4.58 per cent of the enlisted personnel.

There are 766 Marine Corps officers who are Texans, 9,906 enlisted Marines, the ratio for them to the whole corps is 5.82 per cent and 6.64 per cent.

The following admirals are listed as hailing from Texas: Rear Admirals Albert J. Bledsoe, Tom B. Hill, James L. Holloway, Jr., Heber H. McLean, William K. Mendenhall, John B. Pearson, Ralph W. Riggs and Lorenzo B. Rubin, Jr.; Vice Adm. Albert G. Noble and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Two Marine Corp generals hail from Texas: Maj. Gen. John T. Walker and Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith.

Aside from the USS Texas, the battleship which has been retired and is anchored at San Jacinto Park near Houston, there are three other vessels named for Texas locations or persons:

ton all have cruisers named in their honor: Brownsville, El Paso, Orange, Corpus Christi, Beaumont all have large patrol vessels, of frigate or small destroyer size ships, named in their honor; Dahlhart is the name of an experimental ship, but details of the work in which she is engaged were not disclosed.

An aircraft carrier is named "San Jacinto" after the battle in the Texas war of independence.

The following counties have transport ships named after them—

some highly armed so they can forge into the thick of a fighting zone; most of them carry supplies and are freighters, some carry troops:

Duval, Hidalgo, Midland, Tarrant, Starr, Uvalde, Montague, Clay, Fayette, Knox, Lamar, Leon, Pecos, Borden, Dawson, Presidio, Shelby, Hansford, Haskell, Bandera, Bosque, Bowie, Collingsworth, Cottle, Crockett, Dickens, Eastland, Freestone, Karnes, Lavaca, Lubbock, Menard, Navarro, Randall, Rockwall, San Saba, McLennan, Bexar, Cameron and Nueces.

Naval oil tankers include those named after these Texas rivers: Brazos, Trinity, Sabine, Guadalupe, Neches, Pecos, Alamosa, Concho and Navasota. A naval gasoline tanker is named the Rio Grande.

An aviation tender vessel is named Matagorda, after the Texas bay of that name.

CAVE-DWELLING ITALIANS

ROME—(AP)—An estimated two million Italians live in caves, holes and walled-up arches of ancient viaducts.

The weekly newspaper, L'Europeo of Milan, said recent studies showed at least 130,000 Italians live in cellars and grottoes in cities. Another two million "cavemen" are scattered throughout country areas.

Federal Funds To Texas Aggregate $3,185,377,930

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The federal government has poured $3,185,377,930 into Texas in the last 18 years in various aid programs, a congressional report shows.

The report, prepared by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, shows that the largest slice of this money was $756,850,304 in various benefits for veterans of World War II.

The second largest item for the 18-year period was $697,750,024 distributed to farmers and ranchers by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and in related conservation programs.

Last year, according to the report, a total of $296,169,320 in federal funds went to Texas. The largest single item in this figure was $140,790,938 for veterans, including readjustment benefits, vocational rehabilitation and the GI training program.

Mrs. W. F. Hall read the stories at the Terminal Library Story hour held Friday in the library.

Stories read were "Rags," "Casey Joins The Circus," and "The Sky Colt."

Those attending were Janice Van Fossan, Glen Rogers, Lillian Ruth Rogers, Cheryl Cobb, Margaret and Ray Hunsinger, Stanley Hall, Bobby and Sandra Barrett, Diane Balter, Stephanie Ellison, Margaret England, Richard Atchley, Johnny and Jerry Smith, Larry Atchley, Steve McGregor, Neil Van Fossan and Sharon Russell.

When New England farmers cleared their land, they often piled loose stones found in the fields at the edges of the fields as fences. Thousands of miles of these stone fences are still in place.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"In a game of samba the other night," relates a San Francisco correspondent, "we had a natural canasta of seven kings on the table as our only meld. We also had put down two red threes. At this moment the opponents melded out. How do we count our score?"

"Some say we lose our meld because we don't have two canastas. Some say we keep our meld but lose the red threes. Some say we not only lose the red threes but also have them count against us. Which is the correct statement?"

To begin with, you don't lose the meld. You are entitled to 500 points for a natural canasta even though the opponents went out before you had two canastas. However, your red threes count against you. In other words, you must subtract 200 points for those two red threes. This leaves you with a bonus score of only 300 points +500 for the canasta, less 200 for the red threes.

Your first step is to write down 300 points in the bonus box of the score pad. Then you count the 70 points for the seven kings as an offset against the count of the cards in your hand and your partner's hand.

For example, let's suppose that the cards in your hand count 150 points and that the cards in your partner's hand count 175 points. The sum is 325 points that you must be debited for. However, the 70 points for the seven kings reduce your loss to 255 points.

Now you write minus 255 in the points box of the score pad. You are plus 300 in bonuses and minus 255 in points, so that your full score for the hand is a gain of 45 points.

Q—In a game of samba, the discard pile is frozen by a wild card. If I have a sequence on the table, can I use it to pick up a discard that fits directly on the end of that sequence?

A—No. When the pack is frozen, you can take a discard only with a pair of natural matching cards from your hand. Those three cards must be melded immediately, and you cannot use any of them in a sequence. However, if there are other usable cards in the discard pile (underneath the top card of the pile) you are allowed to add them to sequences if you wish to do so.

The titanotherium was one of the earth's misfits. This huge mammal once lived in North America, but there was not much room for brains in its thick skull, so the giant vanished, while smaller and smarter animals survived.
