

House Economy Bloc Faces Acid Test In Attempt To Slash Veteran's Funds

WASHINGTON—(P)—A budget-cutting drive in the House faced its acid test Friday—on a recommended cut of $242,840,370 in the Veterans Administration's funds.

That's the amount the House Appropriations Committee said should be trimmed from the $4,064,873,500 President Truman requested for the VA for the year starting July 1.

Friends of the VA claim the cut would have a disastrous effect. Representative Thomas (D-Texas), chairman of the subcommittee that wrote the bill, says it wouldn't.

Efforts to restore all or part of the committee reduction started Friday when the House resumed consideration of a $5,371,138,348 bill financing the VA and a score of other federal agencies.

It chopped the bill substantially Thursday, cutting the public housing program to 5,000 new units and refusing to restore any of the $174,000,000 committee slash in the Atomic Energy Commission budget.

But funds for veterans pose a political problem to House members in an election year in which all 435 seats are at stake.

Members seeking restoration of part of the VA cut claim to have a letter from Carl Gray, VA administrator, saying the committee action would mean a reduction of 8,000 personnel, including about 6,000 in the department of medicine and surgery.

Fraternity Takes In Area Students

EL PASO—Students from three West Texas communities have been initiated into Alpha Chi, national honorary scholastic fraternity, at Texas Western College.

They are Otis Gallias of Kermit, Neill B. Longley of Andrews, and Harriet Janet Ross of Pecos.

Members of Alpha Chi are chosen from the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes, with A minus the minimum grade average for their entire college record.

The Appropriations Committee ordered a ceiling of 20,000 on new starts, with a 25,000 limit on starts that may be made in future years without express congressional approval.

The House cut it to 5,000 for next year and the same number in succeeding years. The standing vote of 143 to 127 could be reversed on a roll-call vote Friday. The amendment cutting the program was offered by Representative Fisher (D-Texas).

the state of war with its once bitter foe.

The treaty is expected to be flown to Key West, Fla., for the President's signature. Officials believe he will act early next week.

The document provides that it must be approved by at least seven of 12 nations, all with vital interests in the Pacific.

Fay Wray Is Still Film Beauty After Career Span Of 20 Years

By ESKKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Gays and Dolls: If Gloria Swanson can come back, so can Fay Wray, the beauty who was called the spitting image of Gloria back in the roaring '20's at Paramount.

Fay, who retired in 1941 after becoming Mrs. Robert Riskin, is flashing her square-mouth smile again in Fox's "Condor's Nest," and saying to people who ask if the new movie speed-up methods worry her:

"Speed? Back in 1933, I made 12 pictures in a single year. Matter of fact, I was playing Fay Wray in one picture after another. And each picture was a carbon, too. It's stultifying to an actress."

A big hunk of Hollywood history has been written since Fay made westerns with Arj Acord, two-reelers for Hal Roach, then graduated to starring status in Erich Von Stroheim's "The Wedding March."

"I'm getting fan mail again," 44-year-old Fay chuckled. "Some of it from very young men who must have started going to the movies early in life. My small daughter is very impressed."

It's Election Year

In killing UMT for 1952, the House of Representatives has maintained intact its reputation for avoiding measures which demand unpopular sacrifice in an election year.

Almost unanimously, American military men are convinced this training program is the wisest and fairest we could possibly have.

But UMT, of course, is a permanent conscription program, and the House apparently believes it is enough to knock down the symbol of continuing sacrifice—even though the sacrifice goes on daily in homes all over the nation.

There can be little doubt that UMT is unpopular in certain groups, and that their protests have been highly vocal. But most of the objections have little or nothing to do with the security of the United States.

Many simply don't like the idea of "our boys" being permanently committed—in peace or war—to military service.

Others assail the plan on grounds it will do irreparable moral harm to our youth and that we must not tolerate this.

Still others envision the program as a vehicle of military dictatorship, or at least much stiffer government control over the population.

The newness of the idea and the enlarged scope given to the military are matters which legitimately can trouble American citizens. The moral argument is largely false.

Sincere doubts may be had on the other counts. But in the end they must be washed aside by the overwhelming need to get a trained pool of military manpower ready to fight or almost ready to fight the kind of war that is likely in this advanced technical age.

In that war the emphasis will be on speed, on high technical competence, on special skills for virtually every soldier in the armed forces. We have entered the era of the genuine professional soldier, whether we like it or not.

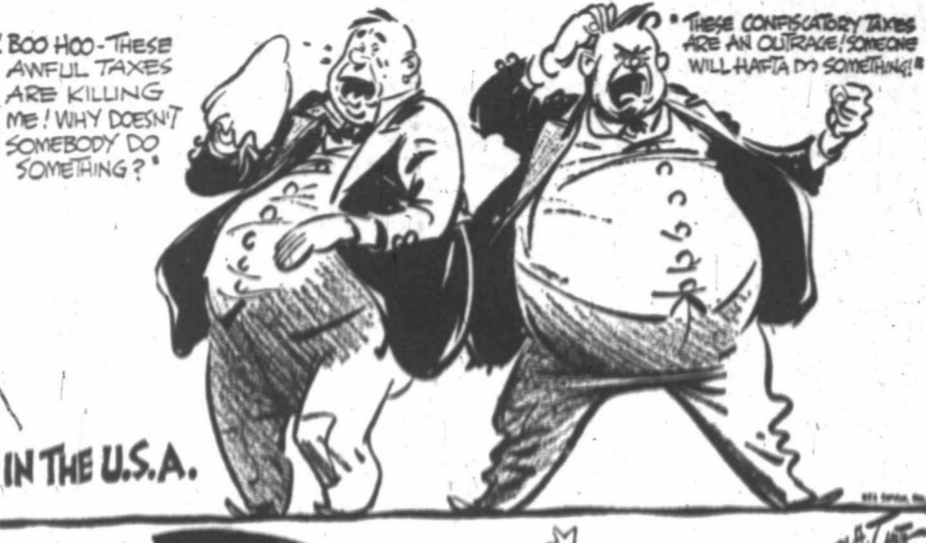

It is singular that few if any objectors show any recognition of how vastly war has changed. One is forced inevitably to question whether they understand the facts of 1952 military life.

The House action on UMT is really no surprise. Courage is something most lawmakers find themselves able to muster only when the country is being backed against a wall. It isn't national security that worries them now; it's their own security next November.

All people have worries because they are either single or married.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
"Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc."
Drew Pearson says: Politics dominated debate on Eisenhower's return; Ike's backers want to keep him in Paris; Senator McMahon led move to extend invitation to Eisenhower.
WASHINGTON — Politics wasn't mentioned during the backstage debate on bringing General Eisenhower home, but it hung over almost every word of the discussion. Except with a handful of senators, the real question—the security of Europe—was lost sight of.

But suddenly, after Ike's victory in New Hampshire, they had a change of heart. Suddenly they figured their man could win without coming back to the U. S. A. Suddenly also they decided that the risk of having Ike testify on the controversial question of foreign aid was such that he should remain in Paris.

That was why Senator Lodge, the Eisenhower campaign manager, voted by proxy in the Foreign Relations Committee to keep Ike in Paris; also why Smith of New Jersey, an Eisenhower Republican, did likewise.

George Say No
No matter what you think of Harry Truman, however, in this case involving the all-important question of foreign policy, he played the game straight. Truman's main idea is to get foreign aid passed.

Having already invited Eisenhower to come home and testify, he assumed this would be done. So also did the joint chiefs of staff, who, until last weekend, were making plans for Ike's arrival.

However, some White House advisers thought it would be more diplomatic to have the two congressional committees which must pass on foreign aid extend the official invitation to Eisenhower rather than have the President "order" him back.

So Senator McMahon of Connecticut, one of the administration leaders in the Senate, picked up the ball and demanded that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee...

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Hard luck Joe sometimes gets my sincere sympathy. He manages to pitch a lot of easy hands down the drain, and nobody sheds any tears about those; but he also flubs some really difficult hands, and then he gets a sympathetic nod from his friends.

Take the hand shown today as an example. Most average players would miss the point, and even many really good players would land in the red ink. Test yourself by covering up the East-West cards, and see how you would play the hand.

West opened the device of diamonds, and Joe won with dummy's ace. He immediately led the jack of spades from dummy, and East won with the ace. East continued by leading the king of diamonds, and BRIDGE hand diagram showing North, South, East, and West cards and a solution.

Joe ruffed with the nine of spades. Do you still agree with all that?

South must discard the jack of hearts, since he's sure to lose the heart trick eventually anyway. The advantage of throwing the trick away now is that when South is eventually over-ruffed on a diamond, there will be no more diamonds led through him.

East will be unable to regain the lead (because his ace of hearts will no longer be an entry), and South will lose only two trumps, and the trick that he allowed East to win in diamonds.

When the hand was actually played, Joe ruffed this king of diamonds with the nine of spades. West over-ruffed with the ten of spades and led a heart to his partner's ace. Now East led another diamond through Joe, and there was no way to prevent West from winning another trump trick.

Additional high cards make up the difference. This kind of hand is the typical jump re-bid in the original suit—a strong six-card suit, with more than a minimum open-

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Spade Pass 2 Clubs Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-4-3, Hearts A-2, Diamonds K-Q-8, Clubs 5-3. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This hand is much stronger in high cards than the hand shown yesterday, but the recommended bid is the same.

In this case, the suit is not so long, and the fit with partner is not as good.

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-4-2, Heart A, Diamonds A-6-5-3, Club 8. What do you do?

Cuba Has Had Long Record Of Corruption In Government

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Gen. Fulgencio Batista spoke a mouthful when, after seizing power in Cuba for the second time, he said, "It has been impossible to suffer any longer a government of thievery and crimes."

Best American estimates of the situation are that there has been only one reasonably honest administration in Cuba in the 50 years of its independence. That one honest administration was Cuba's first. It ran from 1902 to 1906 under Estrada Palma, just after Gen. Leonard Wood pulled out as U. S. military governor.

The general indictment of Cuba's political corruptness includes the previous administrations of General Batista. He was the strong man, the dictator, the maker of presidents from 1934 to 1940. He was president himself from 1940 to 1944.

There are two schools of thought about General Batista today. When he first seized power, he was an Army sergeant, with a sergeant's pay. When he left the presidency and retired to Daytona Beach, Fla., he is supposed to have had a fortune of $7,000,000 to $8,000,000.

One theory today is that his money is about all gone and he seized power to recoup his fortune. The other theory is that he still has enough money to be independent and he really could give Cuba an honest government—if he wanted to. Which course he follows, he will himself show.

U. S. Blamed For Corruption
Some Cubans like to blame the United States for all Cuba's political crookedness. They say that the American political ward heeler who came to Cuba after the Spanish-American War taught the Cubans all the dirty tricks of political graft.

But long before that, it was the custom for old Spanish families to send their sons to Cuba to make the fortunes in graft. After that they retired, to Spain.

Graft has been the expected and the accepted thing in Cuba. The name for an honest man, in Spanish, was "chobo"—the fool. The name for a crook was "liso"—the smart one. There was no stigma to it.

The move wealth a man had, the higher his social standing. Each succeeding Cuban administration has been reported worse than its predecessor. They probably reached their peak, however, in the days of President Grau San Martin, 1944 to 1948. His administration was charged with stealing some $174,000,000.

The case never was proved, however, because part of the evidence was stolen from the courthouse. A fire in the Ministry of Finance destroyed more. The case still is in court.

As Cuba's wealth has been increasing steadily, the chances for graft have increased. In General Batista's original heydays, the Cuban government budget was about $80,000,000 a year. In Dr. Grau's administration it was $200,000,000. In the last few years, under President Prío Socarras it was $300,000,000.

Batista Initiated Reforms
To give credit where credit is due, not every official has been all crooked. Sergeant Batista put in some much-needed reforms after his first revolution which ousted dictator Gerardo Machado.

President Prío, now driven out of the country by Batista, had a reputation for personal integrity. He established a Cuban national bank and currency. He started a development bank for agricultural and industrial loans. He put in a Tribunal of Accounts, to audit government expenditures. He maintained civil liberties. And he was making progress in suppressing communism.

His secretary of Treasury, Jose Bosch, tried to run an honest government. His $20,000,000 bond issue for public works was administered to provide maximum benefits in roads, schools, waterworks and sewage systems.

Carlos Hevia, his secretary of Agriculture, tried to run an honest price control system. But he was forced out of office because he wouldn't play ball on granting price increases.

Hevia, an Annapolis graduate, was the six-party coalition candidate for the presidency in the now-postponed June elections. With more than a million votes in this combination, Hevia probably would have won, if Batista had not staged his coup.

General Batista, himself was a candidate in this contest. But his National Action party had a backing of only 200,000 votes. He could not have won in any free election, according to the experts.

In staging his revolution, Batista claimed that Hevia could not have won and that President Prío himself was planning a coup to put Hevia in office.

Cuba has been torn by political gangsterism of splinter parties ever since the last years. General Batista may have suppressed that by denying all civil liberties, at least temporarily. There probably will be no June election. The whole business is a step backward for Cuba, from whatever angle the situation is viewed.

What's RIGHT? A man asks your son a question, and he answers with a "Yes" or "No." WRONG: Interrupt to tell him he should say "Yes Sir" or "No Sir." RIGHT: Wait until you are alone with him and then remind him that he should say "Yes Sir" and "No Sir." instead of embarrassing him in front of others.

FORT WORTH BANKER HERE Allen Rhodes, vice president of the Continental National Bank of Fort Worth, was a Midland visitor Thursday.

The Peacock Path

By Edwin Ross
At Windover a late-morning bridge game was in progress. Sally and Eve, Cravath and Sladen were the participants. Cravath evidently eschewing work for the time being at least, Dolly Dumont, I supposed, was still upstairs, either relapsing or hiding in shame. Jack Dumont must have been with her.

Well, banally, no time like the present. And The Ferret's reassurance and promise to meet me tonight had made me doubly anxious to get to work on my latest angle down here.

I tried to decide where to begin my ransacking of Windover. The attic, of course. Where else does the householder, rich or poor, mighty or humble, stow away things which he may, or may never, use again?

So, feeling like a thief in broad daylight, I sneaked up to the third floor of the house. I found that the attic was divided, roughly, in two sections.

The first I came to, was apparently devoted to sleeping quarters for servants. Several doors were ajar and well-made beds and tidy rooms testified to the watchfulness of Mrs. Ring. It was clear that the housekeeper oversaw this part of the establishment with the same eagle eye that kept the more imposing arrangements below impeccable.

My luck was in that morning. All the help was, presumably, below. Nonetheless I walked cautiously along the hall until it ended abruptly at a door.

The door wasn't locked. The knob gave beneath my fingers and I stepped into a region which would have delighted a collector, an antiquarian and a junk dealer alike.

The place was crammed with stuff of all kinds, evidently the discarded possessions of many generations of Cravaths. Here, doubtless, was where Windover's white elephants were buried.

TRYING to work methodically, I had started operations near the door and moved slowly down one wall of the big article-choked room. This brought me, at last, laboriously, to the far end of the attic. Here, under a small window facing almost due east, there was a carved oak chest.

I flopped down on it, thinking fleetingly that the thing was large enough and old enough to contain the fabled treasure of Captain Kidd. That thought made me get up and lift the lid.

The chest contained treasure, certainly, but not what I was looking for. It was packed with old pewter, though I had to tear the tissue paper around several of the pieces to ascertain that. Every time I engaged in this minor unsavory task, I found more pewter. Presumably there was nothing else in the chest. I closed the lid and sat down on it again.

Humor Is Oil Of Gladness, Declares Rotary Club Speaker

Humor is where you find it. Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, told a large group of men and women attending the annual ladies night banquet of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday night in Hotel Scharbauer.

"The Place of Humor in Life" was the subject of Dr. O'Brien's address, but it could have been, "The Place of Humor in the Service Club" since the noted after-dinner speaker kept his listeners laughing almost from start to finish.

Dr. J. O. Shannon, club president, presided at the banquet, and the Rev. Luther Kirk, pastor of the First Methodist Church, was the toastmaster. He introduced the special guests, including Rotary-Anns, members of the Midland Altruism Club and visitors representing the Big Spring Rotary Club. He also presented District Governor and Mrs. P. F. Bridgewater of Midland.

Musical Selections
Lillian Christopher, soloist, was presented in two vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Miller, as a feature of the musical program. Group singing was led by Lee Woods, with Wallace Wimberly at the piano. The invocation was given by W. H. Pratt.

Dr. O'Brien, who was making his six hundred and sixtieth after-dinner speech, referred to humor as the oil of gladness and said "what oil is to machinery, humor is to life."

He said the proper kind and the proper amount of humor is a tonic and is beneficial in the home, in business and in religion.

To the businessmen present, he said: "You will sell more of everything if you speak it in humor. 'Let's keep on smiling and keep our souls on top,'" he concluded.

SOCIETY

Concert To Feature Music Of Chopin, Bach, Grainger

The program for the Friday evening concert of Percy Grainger, pianist-composer, will feature music by Chopin, Bach and the composer himself.

Grainger, appearing under the auspices of the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., will play two concerts in the high school auditorium. The first, a student's concert, is scheduled for 4:30 p. m. and the second for 8:15.

Members of the Pyracontha Garden Club will serve as usher and hostesses for the evening performance. General chairman is Mrs. Leonard Thomas.

Selections will include: "The Carman's Whistle," Byrd; "Fantasia and Fugue, O Minor," Bach, transcribed for piano by Liszt; "Etude, F Major, Op. 10, No. 8," "Etude, C Sharp Minor, Op. 25, No. 7," and "Polonaise, A Flat Major, Op. 53," Chopin; "Shepherd's Hey," "Colonial Song," "Scotch Strathspeil and Reel," "Irish Tune from County Derry" and "Spoon River," Grainger, and "Piano Sonata, Op. 66," Scott.

Born in Melbourne, Australia, Grainger began taking music lessons from his mother at an early age. He gave his first solo recital when he was 10 years old and when he was 12 his mother took him to Germany to study.

In 1914 he came to the United States and has since taken out citizenship papers here. Grainger has published more than 400 compositions, including his best-known short pieces, "Country Gardens," "Londonderry Air," "Shepherd's Hey," "Molly on the Shore," "Morris" and "Tribute to Foster."

Of his recent appearance as soloist with the Hollywood Symphony Orchestra, the Los Angeles Examiner wrote: "Percy Grainger rolled through a program of his own compositions with such contagious charm that the audience would probably have kept him at the keyboard indefinitely."

Tickets for the performances now are on sale at Wemple's, Tailor and the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

Members present were Mrs. Ewing Hill, Mrs. Horace Burton, Mrs. Raymond Howard, Mrs. Frank Hawk, Mrs. Clarence Keith, Mrs. John Rhoden, Mrs. Howard Ford, Mrs. Delmar Aday and Mrs. Mims.

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved in 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

• Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"—may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern in action. It exerts a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-deadening drugs! The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pains and weakness of "those days"! See if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or size, improved Tablets, with added Iron! If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"—you'll find Lydia Pinkham's wonderful for that, too!

Lydia Pinkham's has a quieting effect on the uterine contractions which often cause menstrual pain.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And The Tickle Finger

It had been such a long rainy day there in the monkey house in the Great Forest. You know how long rainy days can be sometimes. Mugwump Monkey, just couldn't find anything to play with and he was lonesome. "Mother Ringtail!" said Mugwump. "Do you think Daddy Ringtail might bring me a present when he comes home? You know, like he used to when I was a little boy?" Mother Ringtail smiled and said: "Well, I don't know. Daddy Ringtail may have had a busy day out in the forest and maybe he hasn't had time to find a present for you."

"Well, I sure do hope he brings me one," said Mugwump, "because I can feel myself getting cross already if he doesn't."

"Why, Mugwump. What an unhappy thing to say and what an unhappy way to feel," Mother Ringtail said. Oh Mugwump knew he shouldn't be cross, but he certainly did need a present, a something new to play with, a something that would make the rest of the rainy day seem not so long.

By WESLEY DAVIS

When Daddy Ringtail finally came home, Mugwump met him at the door and said, "Oh, Daddy Ringtail! I sure do hope you brought me a present; I'm having such a long day."

Daddy Ringtail sat down. He was tired. He had been so busy—much too busy to look for a present. He was just about to say that he didn't have one—but then he saw how lonesome and unhappy Mugwump was.

"Let me see!" Daddy Ringtail said. "I may have a little present here in my pocket, but don't expect too much!"

Mugwump said that any kind of present at all would do.

"Well," Daddy Ringtail said, "here it is!" He took his hand out of his pocket. He looked at his finger and wiggled it. "It's a Tickle Finger!" Daddy Ringtail said, and he tickled Mugwump with it.

It made Mugwump laugh and he didn't feel cross any more. He could remember when he was a very little monkey how Daddy Ringtail always seemed to have a Tickle Finger for him. And somehow, it made Mugwump feel all warm inside to know that Daddy Ringtail would still play with him as if he were a little boy. Happy day!

Lone Star To Build Fort Chadbourne Gasoline Plant

DALLAS —(P)— The Lone Star Producing Company said Thursday it has completed plans for construction of a $3,000,000 gasoline plant which will process casinghead gas from the Fort Chadbourne oil field in West Texas.

President D. A. Hulcy of Dallas said construction will begin immediately. The plant will be located at a point approximately 10 miles north of Bronte and 10 miles west of Winters.

The Fort Chadbourne field is in the extreme north sections of Runnels and Coke Counties and it contains approximately 290 oil wells operated by 11 producing companies. Hulcy pointed out.

The field was "shut-in" last February 1 by order of the Railroad Commission of Texas, as a measure to prevent gas wastage by flaring. The Lone Star Producing Company's plant will have capacity to process thirty million cubic feet of casinghead gas per day and it will produce natural gasoline and propane and butane gas. As an oil and gas conservation measure, facilities will also be provided to inject the residue casinghead gas into the reservoir for repressuring.

Child of Europe

There is something strange and captivating in this youthful face.

The shadow of an early fear...
The hint of deep loneliness...
The ray of new-born hope...
Above all, a yearning for Love!

His picture has come to us without name, nationality, or family history. A child of Europe, that's all.

But for Him, and for suffering humanity the world over, the churches ask your prayers, and your gifts of money and clothing in a great hour of sharing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship... strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his community and nation. (2) For his sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Four Veteran Continental Air Line Pilots Elevated

Four veteran pilots of Continental Air Lines have been promoted to executive positions, according to O. B. (Ted) Haueter, vice president in charge of operations of the airline.

J. F. Weiler has been named director of flying. Weiler, who began barnstorming in 1931 and owned and operated the El Paso Flying Service from 1932 to 1938 joined Continental in 1937. Well known in the southwest as a professional wrestler, fight promoter and referee, Weiler was made a captain in 1938 and chief pilot in 1942.

Harry D. Tanehill will assume the position of chief pilot of the El Paso division of the airline. Formerly assistant chief pilot in 1949, Tanehill was first employed by Continental as a co-pilot in September, 1940, and became a full captain in 1942. In his new post,

J. F. Weiler

Tanehill will be in charge of the 33 pilots based in El Paso, who fly the El Paso-Houston segment of the American-Continental Houston to the west coast interchange as well as the Southwestern routes.

George E. Cramp and R. S. Grigsby will alternate at the airline's Denver headquarters as assistant chief pilot. Cramp and Grigsby will be responsible for pilot training, instrument check flights and route check flights.

Heart Massage Saves Infant Boy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Tony Gale Hatt, youngest baby ever known to have been revived by heart massage by a surgeon, was reported recovering Friday.

The baby was only 17 days old when his heart stopped beating in the middle of an eye operation. A surgeon at the Indiana University Medical Center cut into the baby's chest, inserted his fingers and got the heart to beat after four minutes' massaging.

The American Medical Association said medical literature contains no reports of any child so young being revived by heart massage. The youngest such patient reported previously was a two-month-old baby in New York state in June, 1950.

Spring Sets Politics Busting Out All Over State Of Texas

By The Associated Press
It was spring and about time for the dogwood to bloom.
Texas backers of presidential aspirants kept up support of their favorites with challenges, vocal broadsides, private conferences and plain country politicking.
An East Texas editor challenged Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) to take a stand on the controversial Tidelands question. The finance chairman of the group backing Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination conferred with the Texas leader of the movement. And a supporter of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) charged Eisenhower backers with "New Dealism."
The ghost of the 1948 U. S. Senate race walked the state's political stage with a grand jury report in Jim Wells County.

President Truman declined an invitation to speak in Dallas in June. Senators Russell and Kefauver accepted.
Beaumont voters found out they would not be able to hold a presidential preference primary as they had planned. But voters at Kountze decided they would.
How About Tidelands?
Publisher Charles Deval of the Kilgore News-Herald Thursday wired Senator Kefauver that "the hottest political issue in Texas is the confiscation of the Tidelands by the federal government. x x x The people of Texas are interested in knowing your position."
Deval pointed out that Senator Richard Russell (D-Ga) had answered a similar query by the newspaper that he was squarely on the side of the states and that Senator Taft also had taken a stand against "the revolutionary new doctrine of paramount rights."
Howard C. Petersen, chairman of the Eisenhower Finance Committee, was in Houston Friday after an unheralded conference Thursday night with Jack Porter. Porter is the Eisenhower leader in Texas who wants to unseat Henry Zweifel, Fort Worth, as GOP national committeeman from Texas.

As Petersen conferred with Porter and "other influential Houstonians," a member of the national GOP Finance Committee said "New Dealism" is tied to "practically all" of General Eisenhower's outstanding supporters.
He was Marrs McLean, veteran GOP fund raiser, who predicted the general's future primary victories would be few and far between.
But Petersen thought otherwise. "I've been following the headlines ever since I left New York," he said. "It's a vast underestimation to say that recent developments are greatly encouraging to General Eisenhower."

MRS. BAKER NAMED MEMBER OF BANK WOMEN'S GROUP
Mrs. Minnie L. Baker, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Midland, has been elected to membership in the Association of Bank Women, a national organization whose purpose is to bring together women bank executives for the mutual exchange of ideas and experiences.
The association has a total membership of almost 1,400, and includes women holding bank positions ranging from chairman of the board and president to department supervisor.

Taft Leader Talks Back
"The explosion in Minnesota ought to convince anyone who was doubtful after New Hampshire that the people want General Ike. Certainly Senator Taft's withdrawal from the field in New Jersey indicates he doesn't want to face another popularity contest."
But McLean said Taft never expected to win in Minnesota, California, Oregon, New York, New Jersey, and the New England States also had been written off. He claimed the Ohio senator does not need a vote in any of those states to win the nomination.

"When Republicans break away from the leadership of Dewey, Duff, Lodge, Saltonstall, Toley, Aiken, Morse et al, we will be on our way to working out the desperate situation we are now in," McLean stated.
"We don't need Eisenhower's services except as a military man," he added. And he said the Eisenhower-Taft factional battle was a "serious contest as to whether a conservative program shall prevail . . . or shall the New Deal continue?"
Meanwhile, it became known that Eisenhower had been invited to speak in Dallas next June. In Tulsa, Okla., headquarters of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce announced the invitation.
Lee Price, Jr., national JayCee president, cabled the general that all other presidential aspirants had been invited. So far, he said, Kefauver and Russell had accepted.
Truman Too Busy
Price said Senator Taft indicated he might be too busy campaigning at that particular time to come to Texas. But in a recent press conference in Dallas, Taft said he planned to make a Texas campaign speech if he were nominated.

President Truman, the JayCee president said, declined the invitation giving as his reason the press of business in the final days of the congressional session. "And, anyway," the President added, "there is no telling at this time who the Democratic candidate will be."
Mayor Otto Plummer of Beaumont said objections from county Democratic groups were the main reason an unofficial presidential preference primary had been called off in his city. It had been planned to hold the election in conjunction with Beaumont's city election. Plummer said the preference election might also jeopardize the legality of the city voting.
At Kountze, Election Judge Dean

Cruse said he would supervise a presidential preference ballot there. Publisher Arch Pullingham will denote the ballots and candidates of both major parties will be listed. The vote will be held in connection with the regular city election on April 1. Ballots will be separate.
The developments followed an announcement in Alice Thursday by a Jim Wells County grand jury that "Any election conducted in this county x x x shall be a true expression x x x of the voters."
The grand jury report followed a statement earlier in the week by Judge Sam Reams that was highly critical of Duval County Judge George Parr, reputed political boss of the four-county district.
An 87-vote majority that elected Lyndon B. Johnson in the 1948 U. S. Senate race came from the farm-farmed "Box 13" in Jim Wells County. Johnson's opponent, former Gov. Coke Stevenson, charged irregularities and Box 13 was locked up in the county jail. A recount gave Johnson his 87-vote margin.

Mother Sends Eighth Child Into Services

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "You never get used to seeing one of them leave," sobbed Mrs. Blanche Sullivan, 53, as she said good-bye Thursday to her son, Kenneth, 20, her eighth child to enter military service.

Kenneth left for Marine training at San Diego. Two other sons are in the Air Force, one in the Army and one in the Navy. Two others are disabled Navy veterans, and a daughter, Mildred, served in the Waves.

"I'm awfully proud of them," Mrs. Sullivan said.

It Makes Your Dollars Feel Important too

THE Buick pictured here can match price tags with a lot of cars smaller in size and horsepower and win.

But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is.

Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim.

Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, even-keeled steadiness of the Million

Firemen Extinguish Apartment Blaze

Midland City Firemen extinguished a fire at 12:20 p.m. Friday at an apartment at 111 South Lamesa Street.

The apartment is owned by A. L. Brown and is rented by Lois Blacklock.

A cigarette apparently set a mattress on fire, according to firemen. The fire caused an estimated $700 damage.

Some species of wrasse fish lie flat on their sides at night, and sleep.

Rain-Maker—

if you like, we could wait until August to start."

"No, sir," answered Scharbauer, "let's get it started now."

It was Scharbauer who questioned Cox concerning the operation of the project, which will cost Midland County about $7,000 and the entire district approximately $80,000.

Cox reviewed this history of "rain-making" and explained that, under the system, the clouds simply are seeded with silver iodide crystals which, when conditions are right, will increase the amount of rain.

"Cloud-seeding itself," he said, "is not the answer. It's not the cure-all we'd like it to be but we think we can help. That is all."

"In the last two years we have had home projects which apparently have been successful. They are renewing their contracts, some of them for the third year."

He said one generator already has been set up at Wink. Four will be installed immediately at Crane, Sterling City, Big Spring and Goldsmith. Others will be located in New Mexico.

He added the generators were not set up within the district itself because it was necessary to begin seeding long before moisture clouds reached the district itself.

Forecast Service

In addition to the cloud-seeding operations, Cox said, the contract also provides for sending 80-day forecasts—with 30-day revisions—to every member of the district, along with a seven-day forecast and a frost prediction.

Scharbauer explained he was interested in the project because of large acreage, not only in Midland County but other counties in the district.

"I don't think these people are fly-by-nights," he said. "They apparently know what they're doing."

In charge of the meeting were County Agent Charles Green and B. T. Graham, who represents Midland County on the district's board of directors.

Crech Is Named VFW Commander

Clint Crech was elected 1952-53 commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4149 Thursday night at a meeting of the organization held in the VFW hall.

Other officers are Wilbur Ray, senior vice commander; John D. Henderson, quartermaster; Clifford Keith, post judge advocate; Howard Palmer, post chaplain; Tom Nix, post surgeon, and Art Grove, three-year trustee.

The new officers will be installed at a meeting April 3.

Also at that time, other appointive officers also will be named.

Building Code—

and was using such space.

In addition, the new Midland National Bank building at Texas and Big Spring Streets has begun the same type of excavation and the plans call for the same thing at the new parking garage directly across Texas Street from the new bank building.

"The property," explained Oswald, "actually belongs to the city and there's the question of whether rent should be paid for its use by private businesses."

He explained that such rent was charged in many cities and, in Dallas, a city rent is charged even for space above the sidewalks where there are projected balconies or other such construction.

One business in Midland, added Oswald, is considering putting a tunnel beneath a street in the business district and the question likely will come up again in that case.

"Well, since this thing has come up," said McMillen, "why don't we just prohibit the use of the ground altogether?"

Rental Charge Suggested

"I think we ought to charge them rent, if they do use it," said Cowden. "It doesn't have to be a big rent but the city owns it and we want to be sure that we continue to own it."

"We may not see it in our day, but the city may have use for it someday for a subway or something like that."

"The city owns it," added McCoy. "That's the important thing. Not the revenue."

Utility companies, it was pointed out, pay rental for ground use by their service lines throughout the city.

The council asked Black to discuss the situation with his committee and bring back a report on a method and charge for renting the space, to be included in the new building code.

Plane Crash—

officer, who first reported the crash of the big craft, called the PB4Y-2 by the Navy. He said he saw it going down behind the officers' housing area back of the naval base.

It had taken off a few minutes before for Alameda, Calif., on a routine training flight.

"Roaring Boom"

R. M. McDonald, a seaman in the NAS operations department, watched the plane go down from a window when he heard it pass over his home at a very low altitude.

"When I saw it," McDonald said, "it seemed to be in a slight climb, but all four engines seemed to be missing fire."

"It made a 75 to 90-degree turn," he continued, nosed down and then spun to the left." Seconds after he watched it pass from sight behind buildings at the air station he heard it crash with a roaring boom.

No reason for the crash had been advanced by naval authorities.

Area Pioneer Dies In Upton

McCAMEY—George Moss Brown, 81, McCamey resident since 1924, died Thursday in the home of a son, Ralph L. Brown, where he had resided several years. He was justice of the peace here.

Funeral services were to be held in the First Methodist Church in McCamey at 2 p.m. Friday with the Rev. Ross Welch officiating. Burial was to be in Glenrest Cemetery at Big Lake.

A native of Arkansas, Brown moved to San Saba County with his parents in early childhood. He and Elizabeth Agnes Murray were married in San Saba, Jan. 1, 1893.

He moved to Reagan County in 1923 and was in the oil leasing business prior to moving to McCamey. Before going to Reagan County, he served as county judge at Eldorado.

Survivors include three sons, Ralph L. and Beeler Brown, both of McCamey, and Moss Brown of Big Lake; two daughters, Mrs. Tom Brumett of McCamey and Mrs. William P. phs, Ark. said he objects to a proposal by Mexico that U. S. cotton growers be required to pay Mexican laborers 50 cents an hour for chopping cotton.

The new wetback bill signed by the President makes it a felony to transport, harbor or conceal an alien who is illegally in the United States. Violation of the statute is punishable by a maximum of five years imprisonment and a $2,000 fine.

One provision in the legislation says that employment of an illegal alien shall not constitute harboring or concealing.

With presidential approval of the measure, negotiations with Mexico for renewal of the U. S.-Mexican labor treaty are expected to start soon. Under the treaty Mexican nationals are recruited for work on farms and ranches in the United States.

The existing labor treaty, originally scheduled to expire February 11, was extended to May 11 so Congress would have time to comply with the President's request for Congress to tighten immigration laws.

Gathings said he had been told Mexico will insist on the pay provisions in this year's contract. Previous contracts, he said, specified that Mexican workers should receive the prevailing wage scale in the area they worked.

"A fiat requirement that growers pay Mexican laborers 50 cents an hour is a discrimination against our own laborers," Gathings said. He stated that the prevailing wage scale for chopping cotton varies from year to year and from area to area.

STANTON—Tom Cross, Jr., 66, former Martin County ranchman, died in a hospital at Harlingen Thursday. He had retired since moving from Stanton.

JayCeas Hear Talk By Dr. Kurt Lekisch

"More than 200,000 people die annually of cancer, and 70,000 might be saved by having a cancer diagnosis at an early date," Dr. Kurt Lekisch, Midland physician, told members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the regular JayCee luncheon in Hotel Scharbauer Friday.

The Southwest area has more than 80 times more skin cancer than the New England states, due to over-exposure to sun rays here," Dr. Lekisch stated. He said persons exposed to X-ray machines also are in danger of contracting cancer.

H. O. Bushnell introduced the speaker.

Ed Dillon presented individual trophies to 10 players who were named all-city in the JayCee-sponsored basketball league this year. Receiving the awards were J. B. Collins and Leland Huffman, Rotary Engineers; Gerald Tucker, Kenny Jastrow and Don Grove, Phillips Petroleum Company; Roy Price, Borden's; Ray Ware and Jim Fanning, Shell Oil; Copper Daugherty, JayCeas and Frank Brahaney, Western Plastic. Rotary coach Jack Locke received a set of book ends for tutoring the city championship team.

L. F. Oil Gets Flow Form Spraberry At Reagan Prospector

Another extension to Spraberry production in Northwest Reagan County appears to be assured at L. F. Oil Company of Houston No. 1 George L. Welch.

This exploration is two miles south of the Aldwell field and three and one-quarter miles east of the Pembroke field. Location is 660 feet from south and 1,890 feet from east lines of section 44, block C, L&SV survey. It is 11 miles northwest of Stiles.

Has Been Fractured
The zone at 6,665-6,730 feet had been fractured with 3,000 gallons. After that operation the well was kicked off and flowed 135 barrels of fluid in 24 hours through a three-eighths inch choke.

It is understood that most of that fluid was new oil. Testing to complete is continuing.

Anti-TB Drug If Offered Free To 255 Hospitals

NEW YORK—(AP)—Three million tablets of the new anti-tuberculosis drug were offered free Thursday to 255 hospitals for human tests—enough to treat 2,500 patients for six months.

The offer was made by the Schering Corporation, of Bloomfield, N. J.

Several other companies are making tablets of the drug, isonicotinic acid hydrazide, including Hoffman-La Roche of Nutley, N. J.; E. R. Squibb and Sons, New York, and the Nopora Chemical Company, of Yonkers, N. Y.

The drug has shown promising and even startling results in first trials on several hundred patients. But experts have warned it still is too early to tell all about the drug, including whether TB germs may become resistant to it.

J. C. WILLIAMSON

It's Time To Think of Midland

as a modern, growing city—a city that invites, and expects a large influx of new, vigorous citizenry. In this respect it is my contentions, based upon geological knowledge of Texas water reserves and resources, that Midland's water reservations are grossly inadequate to supply even our present needs for any appreciable length of Good, plentiful water . . . our most essential element for the growth of our city.

The problem is not solved. I propose to devote considerable time to its solution.
