44 Persons Die In German Air Crash

At Least Two Are American

FURFURT, GERMANY—(AP)—The KYM airliner Dutch Queen Juliana planned to use on her state visit to the U. S. crashed explosively on a rain-fogged landing attempt Saturday and killed 44 of 47 persons on board.

There were four immediate survivors but one, an Egyptian named Ghisla Fouad, died Saturday night from body burns.

The plane, named the Queen Juliana, hit in a suburban thicket. It was the worst plane disaster in German history.

Bound from Johannesburg to Amsterdam, the four-engined DC-6 mowed tree-tops for a quarter-mile in an instrument approach to the Rhine-Main Airport through murky weather and then slammed into the ground with a loud explosion two miles short of the runway.

Flames licked swiftly across the wreckage and into spindling evergreens around it, hissing under a drizzling rain.

Four Survivors Injured
All four survivors, two men and two women, were injured. Three of these were passengers. The other was the Dutch stewardess, A. J. G. Goutier. All were rushed to a U. S. Air Force hospital at the airport, which handles both military and civilian traffic. Physicians said they did not expect the two men, a German and an Egyptian, to live.

Royal Dutch Airlines (KLM) officials said the craft carried 37 passengers and a crew of 10 on the fatal flight.

The plane's pilot was L. E. J. Poot, a Dutchman. One of the victims listed by Rome airport authorities was an American, John Bickford. They did not have his home address. He was among 13 who boarded the plane at Rome. Dutch, Englishmen, Frenchmen, Italians, Germans and Egyptians were among the dead.

A partial list of the dead passengers released by KLM in Amsterdam Saturday night included the names of Bickford and Lt. Col. E. Angle of the U. S. Air Force, stationed in Wiesbaden. Also listed were E. Oberber and J. Jaffe, nationality unknown, whose destination was New York.

Some Bodies Decapitated
Two German truck drivers, Willibald Hoffman and Konrad Beutel, saw the crash and hustled to the rescue. They risked their lives to pull survivors out of the burning fuselage.

"It was a horrible sight," Hoffman said.

Fire and rescue equipment was rushed to the scene by the U. S. Air Force and German authorities. U. S. Army bulldozers broke a path through the evergreens from a paved road 100 yards away.

Hours after the crash which occurred about 11 a. m., mangled, charred bodies still were being pulled out of the smoldering wreckage. Some were decapitated.

Midland Building Hits $5,608,900

Despite a week of howling sandstorms, construction in Midland climbed to $5,608,900 last week with the issuance of $974,650 in permits.

And, with eight days remaining in the month of March, construction threatened to set a monthly record here.

The total of permits recorded so far this month is $2,553,910, slightly under the record $2,779,010 issued here last September.

Topping last week's list was a group of 33 permits, amounting to $318,000, issued to Dream Houses, Inc., for Raymond Thomason to construct one-family residences in the 3200 block of Travis Street and the 3100 and 3200 blocks of Franklin Street.

Other permits included one to Rees Construction Company for C. H. Vaughn and Sons, $269,500, for a concrete, tile, steel and brick building to be used for shops and parking at 400 West Texas Street; 10 permits to King Construction Company for R. M. King, $112,000, for 10 two-family residences on Plaza Street and East Circle Drive.

Twenty permits, amounting to $80,000, were issued to C. L. Cunningham, for 20 one-family bungalow block residences in the 100 and 200 blocks on East Spruce Street. Eight permits, amounting to $57,000, were issued to R. L. Bowling for residences in the 2600 block of Kessler Street.

Additional permits include: A. A. Wilson for John D. Wilson, $1,000, one-room and bath addition at rear of home, 700 West Griffin Street; J. B. Lowrey for Otelia Fortune, $3,300, one-family residence at 907

Court Kills Martin Water Regulations

AUSTIN—(AP)—District Judge Jack Roberts Saturday knocked out the Martin County Water Conservation District's right to operate.

He said an order of the State Board of Water Engineers defining boundaries of the Martin County reservoir was not supported reasonably by substantial evidence.

His ruling was a victory for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which won a permanent injunction against the Martin County district.

An appeal will be carried to a higher court, Austin attorney Roger B. Tyler Jr. said immediately on behalf of the Board of Water Engineers.

Judge Roberts said in his judgment his decision does not "directly" affect other ground water conservation districts heretofore organized.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District brought suit when the Martin County district adopted regulations which shut off much of the water supply of the county's wells which CRMWD had intended to use to supply Odessa and Big Spring pending filling of a new Colorado River reservoir.

Formal Ruling Delayed
Formal judgment will not be entered in 126th District Court probably until late next week, Judge Roberts said.

He said attorneys for the winning side, the CRMWD, will prepare the judgment and submit it to attorneys for the Martin County district and the Board of Water Engineers to approve as to form. This is customary procedure.

Judge Roberts' comment on the effect of his decision indicated he did not think it would interfere with operation of districts similar to the Martin County district which have been created in Sherman County and in the Plainview-Lubbock area under authority of the same 1949 law.

He said his ruling was aimed solely at the Board of Water Engineers order "delineating or defining the boundaries of a subdivision of the Ogalala Formation" underlying Martin County.

This order, he explained to a reporter, "was not reasonably supported by substantial evidence."

Three Area Residents Held In Oklahoma Bank Burglary

A 27-year-old accused Odessa slayer, his wife and his stepfather faced federal charges in Lubbock Saturday in connection with the January 2 burglary of a bank in Oklahoma.

Named in Charge
Named in the charge of receiving and concealing stocks and bonds taken in the $97,000 robbery of the First National Bank of Carter, Okla., were Donald Wells Hall, his wife, Wilma Sue Hall, and his stepfather, Steven Higgs.

Higgs, who lives at Terminal, was held under $10,000 bond in Lubbock while Hall still is being questioned by Lubbock officers.

Hall's wife was arrested in Odessa Saturday afternoon by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Texas Ranger John Wood.

Officers said Hall and his wife were picked up in Lubbock Thursday on routine investigation and the 31-year-old woman was released a short time later.

As officers questioned Hall, who is scheduled to go on trial Monday in Odessa on a murder charge, his automobile was searched and $24,275 in negotiable bonds were found in the rear seat.

They said Higgs was arrested Friday when he tried to claim the automobile in Lubbock.
An FBI announcement Saturday night revealed the arrest of Mrs. Hall on the downtown streets of Odessa.

Her automobile was spotted by Wood and the federal agents and they waited for her to return to make the arrest.

Officers said she and her husband had been living in Odessa and at Terminal.

Burglars took $22,000 in bonds and $3,212 in cash from the Oklahoma bank, entering through a rear door and boring a hole in an outer wall.
Hall also had been indicted by an Odessa County grand jury on habitual criminal charges as well as on a burglary charge.

Complete records of protracted Korean truce talks form this man-sized pile of records, as Chief Yeoman John J. RED CROSS FUND UP TO $14,316

Midland County's 1952 Red Cross fund drive failed to reach its $16,000 quota Saturday as planned, although the goal was in sight as the week ended.

Receipts totaled $14,316.88, just $1,683.12 short of quota, Treasurer Murray Fasken reported.

R. L. Miller, general chairman, said the campaign will continue in full force this week, predicting the goal will be exceeded within the next several days.

He called attention to the devastating tornadoes which hit a five-state area Friday night and said the Red Cross already is on the job with emergency relief in the stricken sectors.

"This is just an example of the disaster relief role played by your American Red Cross," he stated. Contributions may be mailed to Red Cross, Box 1700, Midland.

Leonard Howell Seeks County Attorney Post

Leonard Howell, a practicing attorney here, announced Saturday he will be a candidate for the office of Midland County attorney in the July 26 Democratic primary.

A native of Midland, Howell received his BS degree from Southwest Texas State Teachers College and his law degree from the Baylor University Law School in 1950. He practiced law in the office of the Falls County attorney before returning to Midland to open a law office last August. He served in the Air Force almost five years during World War II.

Howell is married and has a seven-year-old son.

He said that if elected he will strive to carry out the duties of the county attorney's office to the very best of his ability.

Symington To Run For U. S. Senate

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—W. Stuart Symington of St. Louis, former aide of President Truman, announced Saturday he will seek the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator from Missouri.

Whether he will get the President's active support is a matter that has politicians guessing.

Until his recent resignation as head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Symington was one of Truman's top trouble-shooters. And while the President hasn't expressed himself openly on any candidate, his Jackson County Pendergast organization already has come out for Attorney General J. E. (Buck) Taylor.

Floyd Maxwell Is Sheriff Candidate

Floyd Maxwell, a Midland resident since 1938, announced Saturday as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Midland County in the July 26 Democratic primary. He and Mrs. Maxwell reside at 1110 South Big Spring Street.

Maxwell, an experienced law enforcement officer, was a member of the Midland Police Department five years before resigning his position in 1950. He was an unsuccessful candidate for the office of sheriff two years ago, and since that time has engaged in carpentry work here.

He plans an active campaign and said he personally will contact as many voters as possible between now and election time. If elected, Maxwell said he will devote his best efforts to fulfilling the duties of the office.

New Tornado Warnings Fly In Southeast

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(AP)—The dark threat of new tornadoes kept the Southeast on the alert Saturday night as dazed and stricken communities, recording a dreadful toll of storm dead, found a measure of relief.

Casualty figures revised by the American Red Cross lowered the cost in human life of storms that scourged a six-state area Friday and Saturday to 206. An earlier count had named 250.

The Red Cross said it was impossible to set a figure for the damage done to widespread sections of Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri and Alabama.

Estimates, however, already had overpassed the multi-million dollar mark as quick surveys were made of leveled homes and other structures, damaged buildings and equipment, ravaged crops, and the loss of livestock.

While the latest death toll of 206 brought a sharp revision downward of earlier counts, some rescue workers feared additional dead might be found amid wreckage and twisted debris yet to be probed.

The possibility of additional misery for the South came in a special bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau at Atlanta at 7:15 p. m.

The bulletin noted that showers and heavy thunderstorms were occurring in parts of Alabama and Georgia, and added the ominous note: "There is a possibility of some tornadoes developing tonight in Georgia, extreme Eastern Alabama, and Western South Carolina."

An earlier weather advisory issued at Washington carried the threat that tornadoes might plunge anew in Tennessee and Alabama and spill over into Kentucky—already damaged by rampant flood waters—Virginia, and West Virginia.

The latest addition to the frightful list of the storm's dead came from Alabama, where three storms within a few hours late Saturday killed six persons, demolished homes, and added to the wretched group of the homeless.

The dead were reported at Huntsville in the northwestern quarter of the state, and in the Wintona Community. Also hit in Alabama were Jenison and Tuscaloosa.

The latest roster of the dead by states: Arkansas, 112; Tennessee, 82 (Continued On Page Five)

Midland Youth, 14, Companion Killed When Hit By Car

SEMINOLE—(AP)—James Earl Ward, 14, of Midland, and Noble Murphree, 14, of Seminole, were killed instantly when they were struck by a car as they walked along Highway 61 just inside Seminole city limits about 9 p. m. Saturday.

The youths, returning to Murphree's home after a movie, were struck by a car driven by M. D. Green, 21, Seminole police said. He was held for questioning.

Murphree was the son of Mrs. Grace Murphree of Seminole. Officers said Ward was the son of W. H. Ward, who resides in a tourist court at Midland.

Boxcar Near Depot Damaged By Flames

A boxcar on a siding west of the Texas and Pacific passenger depot was damaged by fire early Saturday.

City Fire Marshall Bill Klatt said a hobnob apparently built a small fire in the car to keep warm and then fled when it spread beyond his control.

The blaze was extinguished by city firemen.

Turbulence That Spawned Tornado Flurry Kicks Up Sand, Levels Houses In Texas

By The Associated Press
Strong winds buffeted Texas Saturday and started sand swirling again in the western portion.

They were behind a cold front that had slammed violent windstorms and one apparent tornado at East Texas before dawn.

Forecasts called for readings as low as 14 degrees in the Panhandle and South Plains early Sunday and for freeing weather as far south as Central Texas.

At noon Saturday the chill north winds had kicked up so much sand visibility was down to one mile at Midland and four miles at Childress.

The turbulent weather Saturday in East Texas was caused by the same pressure system that sent tornadoes wreaking death across Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri and Louisiana and moved on eastward. No injuries were reported in Texas, but property damage was in the thousands of dollars.

At Alto, 60 miles south of Tyler, what apparently was a tornado heavily damaged 25 houses and left an uncounted toll in ruined timber. The storm struck from the northwest about 1 a. m. The Lublin Daily News estimated property damage at $35,000.

Electric power was off for four hours.

A Baptist church was lifted from its foundation and dropped about 15 feet away. Giant trees were torn out by the roots.

At Duren Lake, boat houses were flattened and boats beached and thrown into felled trees. Many other buildings had shingles ripped off by wind or flying debris.

Pecos Prisoner Confesses Slaying Man In California

PECOS—Officers still are checking on the story told here last week by 29-year-old Marvin Lee Watson that he had killed a man in California last December and buried him in a landslide.

No body has been found in the place described by Watson, held here in connection with an automobile theft, but the search is continuing because so many other points of his story check.

Watson was arrested here more than a week ago in connection with the theft of the automobile from an Abilene man but it was not until late last week that he made his "confession" to Sheriff Charlie Fitzgerald of Reeves County.

In a long statement dictated to Fitzgerald, Watson claimed he came upon the man on Skyline Boulevard in San Francisco.

The other man, known to him only as "Hank," was fixing a flat tire and had him he was in California looking for a job. Watson said he was driving a 1947 Chevrolet bearing a Mississippi license.

Watson said he struck "Hank" in the back of the head with a stone and "three or four times in the face." After taking $470 from the victim's wallet, he said, he loaded the body into the back seat of his own car and drove away, visiting one bar

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation late Saturday declared the five Southern states struck by tornadoes and flood a disaster area, opening the way for government loans to the storm victims.

KEY WEST, FLA.—(AP)—President Truman Saturday night directed an immediate federal survey of tornado damage with a view to extending relief under the Emergency Disaster Act to the mid-South area.

GOODLAND, KAN.—(AP)—Thirty passengers, stranded more than 15 hours on a snowbound bus 12 miles east of here, were rescued late Saturday by a rescue crew which first had to retrieve another crew and a snowplow which became bogged down in the huge drifts.

Government Sues Dallas Meat Plant

DALLAS —(AP)—The government has filed suit against a Dallas meat packing firm asking $180,023.81 damages for alleged meat sales overcharges.

U. S. District Attorney Frank B. Potter filed the suit against the Neuhoff Brothers Packers Friday.

The government also is asking that the firm be restrained from any future violation of price control laws.

March Blizzard Halts Traffic, Breaks Communications in Kansas, Nebraska

GOODLAND, KAN. —(AP)—A March blizzard, spawned in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado and Wyoming two days ago, swept eastward Saturday, bringing Northwest Kansas, Nebraska, and parts of Iowa their worst storm of the winter.

Flood Wipes Out Family Of Seven

SCOTTSVILLE, KY. —(AP)—Seven members of one family were feared drowned here Saturday when their home was washed away by rising water of Garrett's Creek.

The victims were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Albert O'Neal and their five children. Names and ages of the children were not available.

Garrett's Creek overflowed as the result of heavy rain during the night.

Two bodies have been recovered and search continued for the others.

Twelve persons have been stranded on a stalled bus 12 miles east of here since Friday night, and at least 28 towns were without any phone service.

Because of the disrupted communications, no information was available on the plight of the stranded bus passengers. The meager reports available indicated they had spent the night in the bus and an appeal was received for additional fuel. Presumably the vehicle's fuel supply had been exhausted in an effort to keep the motor running and supply heat in the 11-degree weather.

So far as was known the passengers were without food.

A transport truck, and at least one other automobile was stalled near the bus.

All Roads Closed

With all roads in Northwestern Kansas closed and communication lines down there was no way of knowing immediately whether other motorists might be stranded on the highways.

The snowfall in the Kansas-Nebraska area ran up to 10-15 inches. Winds ranged up to 65 miles in Nebraska and 30-40 miles an hour in Northwestern Kansas.

Northeastern Iowa was snow-bound by one of its worst spring blizzards in years. Visibility was zero and highways were blocked by snow up to eight inches.

Many Nebraska communities reported that foot travel was the only way to get about in the towns. Main line trains were running, but hours late.

The Weather Bureau reported the sustained force of the winds in Nebraska was exceptional. In some points in Central Nebraska gales of 50 miles an hour had been blowing 36 hours.

The Weather Bureau warned Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa to brace for the storm. Five to ten inches of snow and heavy winds were forecast for those states.

Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, first to feel the storm's lash, had clearing and warmer weather Saturday with up to two feet of snow on the ground and many impassable drifts.

Eastern Kansas and Missouri missed the brunt of the storm.

Barbara Payton Set For Battle Royal In Divorce Courts

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Voluptuous Barbara Payton Friday filed a scathing answer to actor Pranchot Toney's divorce suit, claiming her weakly husband is trying to cheat her out of her marital rights.

Miss Payton also filed a cross-complaint for divorce and gave every evidence that she is prepared for a battle royal in the courts as a clinax to her hectic marriage with Toney.

Her attorney also filed notice that she will ask that Toney's request for a default divorce be set aside.

The buxom blonde's legal moves came after reports from her friends that her affections again have shifted in the direction of husky Tom Neal. Miss Payton married Toney after he had been given a beating by Neal.

Miss Payton, in her answer to Toney's divorce action, charged her husband is planning "to conceal his assets from her for the purpose of cheating her of her marital rights." She asked that a receiver be appointed to take control of cash, estimated at one million dollars.

Texas Oil Well Drilling Spurts

AUSTIN —(AP)—A new spurt in Texas oil drilling activity produced 263 wells last week and catapulted the year's total to 2,767, more than 300 ahead of the year-ago figure.

The week's completions were well above the previous week's total of 220.

The Railroad Commission reported 12 gas well completions, double the previous week's number, but the year's total remained far behind last year's comparable figure, 169 to 218.

Operators reported dry holes on 126 drilling locations.

Wildcatting brought in 21 oil wells, one gas well, and 75 dry holes. Plugged wells included 122 dry two gas and 52 oil.

The total average calendar day crude allowable Saturday was 3,177,918 barrels, up 18,442 from a week ago.

Orson Outdone By H. G. Wells' Science-Fiction Thrill Film

NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Movie Without Popcorn: Order the smelling salts and spike the popcorn with sedatives. Mr. Movie Exhibitor—Paramount's filming H. G. Wells' science-fiction masterpiece, "War of the Worlds" as a fright opera that will make the Orson Welles radio version seem as gentle as the story of "Goldilocks and the Three Bears."

I watched a scene in which U. S. Marines fire upon a nest of weird, lobster-red goggle-eyed Martians entrenched in a wooded area. The marines have a rocket launcher and the projectiles burst from the cylinders with fiery, deafening whooshes. When it's over, a sigh of relief comes from the throats of actors and crew members. One technician whispers to Producer George Pal:

"That does it. I hear that Orson Welles just surrendered."

John Derek, his manly chest exposed by a plunging shirt-front that goes Alan Ladd one better, is up to some traditional heroics in Sam Katzman's swashbuckler, "Prince of Pirates," at Columbia.

It's a historical yarn about Spain's attempt to enter France through Holland in the mid-16th century. At a signal from Director Sidney Salkow, John leaps over tables to brandish his sword at his enemies. Barbara Rush and Carla Balenda, his leading ladies, scurry about nervously like a couple of movie queens caught in a brawl at a cabaret.

Salkow interrupts the scene and faces the extras.

"You and you and you die," he orders.

Only in Hollywood can one man say "Drop dead" to another without inviting a punch in the nose!

Censors "Plumb" Film

"Just Across the Street," a comedy about a plumber and his secretary, is shooting at UI with Anr. Sheridan and John Lund. The stars are huddling with Director Joseph Pevney over changes in the script ordered by the movie censors. Comedy lines about certain bathroom fixtures have been deleted. A scene involving a privy is also out.

An assistant director sighs:

"The censors are watching like hawks on this one. We had to let one actress go this morning. She had porcelain fillings in her teeth."

George Raft is back before the cameras in Bernard Lubat's independent production of "Loan Shark." While George and Helen learn of the death of her husband, a series of pretty girls, all piloted by their agents, arrives on the set for a casting call.

"Watch this," a grip whispers, pointing to an empty chair. One by one, the beauties glance at it, look startled and move away.

Movie actresses are the most superstitious women in the world.

For lettered on the chair are these words:

"Jean Bennett."

The wolf calls are sounding at 20th Century-Fox as Ginger Rogers emerges from her dressing room in a form-fitting gown to play a sequence with Clifton Webb and Fred Clark in "Dream Boat."

It's a comedy about a staid college professor whose past catches up with him when his silent films are shown on TV. I ask Webb about his playing a much younger man for the soundless inserts made for the film.

"They straightened my nose and fixed me up to look younger," he says. "I come out looking just like John Gilbert."

Prayer And Faith

"And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive." Matt. 21:22

The above Scripture well might be the text of the prayer marathon for rain scheduled Wednesday in the First Baptist Church.

"All things" doubtless includes rain and it surely is time for believers of all denominations to join in calling upon the Almighty to terminate the history-making drouth in this section of West Texas.

But the really important word in the verse of Scripture quoted above is "believing," and those who plan to participate in the prayer marathon would do well to weigh that one word thoughtfully and carefully in their minds before going into the House of the Lord to ask His blessing in bringing much-needed moisture to Midland and the Permian Basin Empire.

Over in Waco recently a similar prayer service was held and according to a news release, "One lady carried a raincoat." It can be concluded from that statement that the others attending the service did not have raincoats.

And yet the faith of this one woman was justified. According to reports, the heavens opened up and rain came down in torrents for a full hour following the meeting.

This is in no way intended to belittle the idea of praying for rain. We only wish to emphasize the importance of the word "believing."

Baptist pastors of Midland County are to be commended for arranging and staging the 24-hour appeal for moisture, and it is hoped that large crowds representing all denominations will flock to the First Baptist Church Wednesday to pray sincerely and faithfully for rain.

What gums up most family budgets is the necessity of borrowing from them until next pay day.

A lot of the better things come to people who wait—on themselves.

Another trouble with a perfect nuisance is that he likely gets a kick out of being perfect.

There seems to be only one sure way for everybody to be happy—just let the oil and the young change places.

It's our guess that a poor man knows how to spend more good time than a rich man.

Never Can Tell

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman visualizes his place in history; British ambassador to Egypt may resign; McCarran's "Iron Curtain Bill" booby-traps freedom.

WASHINGTON—One reason why the President privately is for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois to be the Democratic nominee for President is illustrated by a remark Truman once made to Col. Jake Arvey, Chicago's astute Democratic leader.

"Stevenson," remarked the President, "is about the best-informed man I know on foreign affairs."

He was referring to the fact that Stevenson, after serving as assistant to the late Frank Knox when he was secretary of the Navy, later joined the State Department and played an energetic part at the United Nations conference in San Francisco.

The remark also illustrates an increasingly obvious pride which the President takes in his foreign policy. He believes that his place in history will be made by the fact that he took an unflinching stand against communist aggression and built up the defense of Western Europe.

The bickering of domestic politics, he is convinced, will be passed over by historians, who will not, however, forget Truman's courageous battle against the encroachment of Russia.

Churchill On Egypt The United States is so engrossed in its own political squabbles and domestic problems that less and less attention is focused on some of the sore spots where wars can brew.

In Egypt, for instance, it isn't generally known that the British ambassador in Cairo is so sore at Prime Minister Churchill's reactionary policies that he is about ready to resign.

Churchill, who once covered the Sudan War as a young newspaperman, is determined that the Sudan, which controls the Upper Nile, shall not unite with Egypt, and has followed such tough policies that Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson has notified London that, if Churchill continues to ignore his advice, he will resign.

Ambassador Stevenson thinks Churchill is driving Egypt slowly into the arms of Communist Russia—just as he drove the Greeks to 1944 to General Scobie to "treat Athens as a conquered city."

Iron Curtain Bill Senator Pat McCarran, powerful chairman of the Judiciary Committee, has learned from long experience on Capitol Hill that one way to get a bill through Congress is to make it so long and involved that colleagues won't take the trouble to read it.

McCarran's latest contribution, due for consideration by both Houses soon, is a record in this respect—902 pages long and with no less than 406 "sections." It's also loaded with enough booby-traps against our constitutional freedoms to cause the founding fathers to do a mass turnover in their graves.

The Nevada senator calls the voluminous measure a "recoffication" of our immigration and naturalization laws. However, such stalwart congressmen who have managed to

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"Every bridge player must listen to my tale of woe," writes a sad Chicago fan. "There never was such a fixing since bridge has been played."

"I got to my optimistic contract of five clubs, and West opened the four of spades. East took the queen of spades and the ace of spades. Then he quickly led another card from his hand."

"As he led this new card from his hand, he looked at the dummy and said, 'This is a misdeal. There are two kings of spades in this deck.' Then he looked down at the card he had led and turned a bright shade of green. As you've undoubtedly guessed, he had led the king of clubs under the impression that he was leading the king of spades.

"Well, he grabbed his king of clubs to try to put it back in his hand, and I didn't try to stop him, but my partner insisted that East couldn't take it back. Since North also happens to be my boss, and since I'm not a complete nitwit, I didn't argue the point. That king of clubs had to stand as a lead."

"The payoff, as you can see, is that the king of clubs is the only card that East can lead to defeat me. With that lead I get no ruffs in dummy, and I can win only ten tricks in high cards: a spade, a heart, two diamonds, and six clubs."

"If East leads any of the remaining ten cards in his hand (but not the king of clubs), I can make the contract. For example, if East leads a third spade, I throw a diamond from my hand and win in dummy."

"Then I finesse the queen of diamonds, take the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond in dummy with the queen of clubs, and finesse clubs to return to my hand. All the finesses work, and all the right cards drop."

"The play is much the same no matter what East returns—just as long as he doesn't get a brainstem and return that king of clubs. Do I have a right to howl and gnash my teeth or don't I?"

Permission to howl is hereby granted. Sympathetic bridge players are urged not to sob too loudly over this sad tale.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Truman's Views Are Revealed In New Book About Presidency

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Truman keeps a diary. He keeps it at home, not in his office. It is written in his own handwriting. There is a volume for every year that he has been in the White House. And before that there are many loose notes and memos that he has written to himself, for his own records and later use.

One of the first of these notes is a memo he wrote in 1934. He then was considering whether he should be a candidate for the U. S. Senate. In this paper he put down his own thoughts on what he had learned from history and his political and moral philosophy as of that time. Only he didn't call it that then. They were simply his ideas.

Truman hasn't made daily entries in his diaries. There are many big gaps of a week or more. But often he has filled in these gaps by memos on his principal problems of the time.

The President never kept this diary "for history" or with any idea that it might ultimately be published. It is too incomplete to make a full and connected story of his administration.

Excerpts from these White House personal diaries, however, make up the bulk of William Hillman's new book, "Mr. President," just published by Farrar, Straus and Young. The volume is sure to become one of the most controversial documents of the 1952 political campaign.

"Big Bill" Hillman, the author-editor of this book, has been a Washington radio commentator on several networks and Washington editor of Collier's magazine the last 10 years.

President Gave Him Idea Hillman's book, "Mr. President," started out to be something entirely different, he says. Hillman entirely has been interested in foreign affairs. He claims he was one of the first to use the name "Truman doctrine" for the President's policy on containment of communism in Greece and Turkey.

Hillman knew that the busy President had to delegate much responsibility to others. But the final decisions had to be made by Harry Truman himself. What influenced his decisions? What papers and facts did he have before him when he made up his mind?

Pursuing this line, the President showed Hillman a memo written to Secretary of State James F. Byrnes in 1946. It demanded a firmer stand against Russia. It criticized Byrnes for not keeping the President informed on what went on at the Moscow conference.

Impressed by this memo, Hillman asked if he could use it. The President gave his approval. Out of that incident grew the entirely different kind of book that now emerges.

Its aim is to reveal in the President's own words what is typical of the man—his life, his thoughts, his actions. "There are no sensational revelations," says Hillman. "No of-was good enough for a response at the level of two will never pass this jump re-bid.

So They Say

It is my guess that the Russians do not want to risk the future of Communism by starting a war.

It seems deplorable that with all we cherish ultimately at stake... there should still be questioning at home as to why we are in Korea.

His (Sgt. Cornelius Charlton's) death makes a liar out of Paul Robeson and others who have claimed the negro will not fight for our country.

Our Democratic system is founded on the fullest dissemination of information. Any ruling impairing this is contrary to American principles.

The Peacock Path

He waited, a surprised look on his face, until I had closed the door. Then he asked, in a quick low voice: "Anything wrong, Orth?"

"N-no," I said hesitantly. "But I'm afraid we've got to have an other talk. You'll remember that you okayed an investigation I wanted to make? Well, it's been made. And the results don't make very pleasant telling."

"He closed his book, deliberately. "I wouldn't have expected pleasantness. Well, sit down and let's have it."

I drew a straightbacked chair close to him, so that I could keep my voice down. "First," I began, "I might as well say that I'm 99 per cent sure of who killed Ames Warburton and how it was done."

Cravath was not the man to brook preambles. He jerked erect. "Well, who?" he demanded impatiently.

"But there's one per cent of doubt in my mind. So I have to ask you a pretty embarrassing question. You won't like it."

He was staring at me, blue eyes bulging. "Well, ask it, man."

"Okay," I said, and let him have it. "Mr. Cravath, did you take two attempts on your own life and then kill Ames Warburton because he discovered that you'd taken 50 thousand in bonds from your office safe?"

He came out of his chair like a bull from the corral. "Why—why, y-you..." The spluttering syllables fell over themselves and stopped, because Marston Cravath was essentially speechless. But I got my answer.

Have a Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE Every year, Raymondville, Texas, holds an onion festival. There are bands, floats, pretty girls in costumes and crowds of thousands—all to glorify the onion.

A visitor to the festival went into a quick lunch stand and said, "Give me a hamburger with onions." The waiter said, "Sorry, mister, but we're out of onions."

Q—Who was the "vagabond poet"? A—Francis Villon, great French lyric poet. He was arrested for many crimes and in 1463 he was banished for ten years. Nothing more was ever heard of him.

Q—Which city has held the most presidential conventions? A—Chicago, with eighteen.

Q—Where did policemen get the nickname "cops"? A—Early in the 1900's police were called constables. An entry on the police blotter which read "William Smith, C. O. P." meant that Smith was a constable on patrol. The initials C. O. P. soon became the word "cop" now used as slang for policeman.

Q—What animal can look backward without turning its head? A—The chameleon has bulging eyes that roll about separately to look in all directions, even backward.

Q—In what year was the Naval Academy at Annapolis opened? A—1845.

Storms—

Missouri, 13; Mississippi, 11; Kentucky, 7; and Alabama, four. Dead Task Continues

The dread task of counting and interring the dead, and searching through the twisted wreckage of homes and other buildings, continued throughout the day.

In one area alone, centered at Dyersburg, Tenn., the property damage was estimated by City Judge Lyman Ingram as edging toward $1,000,000. This huge loss included a quarter of a million dollars worth of property leveled by the high winds and fire at the Municipal Airport.

There, the hangar was demolished, together with the 27 small planes it housed. National Guardsmen aided the weary and bewildered populace.

Kentucky's death toll was recorded at Scottsville, where seven members of one family drowned when flood waters of Garrett's Creek washed away their home.

Homes in the six afflicted states were ripped apart by the swirling, black, angry winds. Tangled skeins of power lines were strewn pell mell. Spring crops were inundated, livestock died.

With Terrible Fury
The storms burst out of black skies Friday afternoon with a terrible fury. There were at least a dozen separate tornadoes in West Tennessee alone. They came skipping up from Mississippi.

A series of tornadoes raged through Arkansas, bisecting the state from the southeast corner to the northwest tip on a 45-degree angle.

Small tornadoes also were spawned in Texas and Kentucky, where they ran a short but destructive course, but killed no one.

Arkansas put 440 National Guardsmen on active duty in the stricken area, while schools, churches and armories—anything with a roof—were converted into aid stations.

Hospitals were filled to overflowing as emergency crews of doctors and nurses worked to patch the injured. The Red Cross sent 50 disaster workers, including medical teams, into the 19 afflicted counties.

In addition, the Red Cross shipped in 224 units of whole blood and 274 units of plasma.

Associated Press staff writer Ray Stephens, a combat veteran, reported from Seary, Ark., in White County, where 92 died, that the scene resembled one of war.

"Refugees," he said, "are streaming into White County from all directions. An Army detachment is directing traffic and won't let any one pass except emergency vehicles. Traffic is packed for miles on U. S. Highway 47 south of Seary."

Through "Tornado Alley"
It was the worst storm ever to hit Arkansas. The deadliest previous storm was June 5, 1946, when 86 died.

The nation's worst tornado disaster occurred March 18, 1925, when in a single day 689 persons died in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

The tornadoes plunged into Arkansas through "tornado alley," given that name because of the frequency of the big winds in the past. They blitzed the state in a line running from the southwest corner to the northwest tip.

Heart of the stricken area was at Judsonia, near Seary.

From there Jack Hogan, Associated Press photographer, reported half the town was wiped out and that, overall, 75 per cent of it was damaged.

From an airplane in which he was making pictures, Hogan said he could see families grouped around small fires seeking to keep warm. Broken timbers of their homes furnished the fuel.

Students from the University of Arkansas Medical School at Little Rock were helping Greenwood community, and other students were serving as stretcher bearers.

Eyewitnesses at Caruthersville, Mo., said there was rain, thunder and lightning, a terrifying roar, and then silence, just before the storm hit.

All Greenwood of Cottonwood Point observed, "Houses were toppled and blown to bits and fields were leveled, just like there had been an invisible claw."

Dulles To Sever Ties With Truman

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
The Republican foreign affairs expert and the man who put over the Japanese peace treaty for President Truman, is cutting his ties with the Truman Administration immediately.

With the presidential campaign heating up, Dulles reportedly wants a completely free hand to attack the Administration's foreign policies, where he disagrees with them, and to influence as far as he can the shaping of Republican Party proposals in this field.

He is an advocate of an ultimatum policy toward Russia—of warning the Kremlin that if it starts any more Korea-type wars it will face conflict with the United States.

Dulles is understood to have advised Truman and Secretary of State Acheson this week of his decision to break off any fixed, official links with the Administration. Senate approval on Thursday of the Japanese peace treaty, which the President is expected to ratify formally this week, cleared away the final obstacle to Dulles' action.

An official announcement on Dulles' status, probably in the form of an exchange of correspondence, is expected early this week.

VA Reports Record In GI Home Loans

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Veterans Administration reported Saturday to record $3,614,000,000 was loaned to veterans in GI home loans during 1951. The previous record was $3,286,000,000 in 1947.

However, the VA noted that the 447,373 GI home loans made last year were far less than the record number of 541,922 in 1947 and the 497,596 in 1950.

When the program was started in 1944 and 1945, only 43,256 loans were made, totaling $192,000,000. The number jumped to 412,037 totaling $2,302,000,000 in 1948. The lowest year since was 1949, with 276,793 loans totaling $1,424,000,000. At present, GI home loan applications are running at about 25,000 to 30,000 a month, the VA said, compared with an average of more than 60,000 a month during part of 1950.

The VA under law can guarantee private lenders against loss up to 60 per cent of each GI home loan, with a maximum guarantee of $7,500.

There also is provision for the VA to make direct government loans to eligible veterans in areas where the VA finds private mortgage financing for homes at four per cent is not available.

Through the end of 1951, the VA had made 16,788 direct home loans amounting to almost $108,000,000. Officials said the remainder of the VA's revolving fund has been reserved for loans in process. Funds now available for such loans "are extremely limited," they added.

Under law, eligible veterans and veterans' widows who have not remarried have until July 25, 1957, to apply for GI home loans.

Allied Infantrymen Smash Red Attack

SEOUL, KOREA—(P)—Allied infantrymen smashed a company-sized Communist attack on the Western Korean front Saturday. An Eighth Army spokesman said the Reds fled in disorder.

Overcast skies limited aerial action to a few close-support strikes against Communist positions on the Eastern front. Fifth Air Force pilots reported several Red supply buildings near Kosong were destroyed.

The eighth Army reported a reinforced Red company—about 250 men—attacked Allied advance positions west of Chorwon in pre-dawn darkness Saturday.

Within 10 minutes, the Reds had cut communications to the main Allied line. They used recoilless rifle fire, hand grenades, mortars and machine guns.

Allied reinforcements rushed up and artillery blasted the Reds. Frontline officers reported the Communists broke and ran.

Allies Search For Compromise Basis In Reds' Proposal

MUNSAN—(P)—Puzzled but patient Allied negotiators Saturday gave another careful look at the newest Communist plan on prisoner exchange in hopes of finding a solution to the truce-blocking issue.

The Reds insisted their two-sentence proposal of Friday contained something new and embodied a solution to the exhausting deadlock.

Allied negotiators again questioned them in talks beginning at 11 a.m. Sunday (8 p.m. CST Saturday) at Panmunjom.

Diligent searching earlier had failed to unearth any switch in the old Communist demand for forced repatriation of all prisoners of the Korean war.

L. M. Freels ... the Man and His Ideas

Here is the proud record and the straightforward platform presented to the voters by L. M. Freels, candidate for Place No. 4 in the April 7 City Council Election.

Freels—The Man His is a well-rounded background which peculiarly suits him for the job and the responsibility of helping to guide the orderly growth of Midland. His qualities of leadership have asserted themselves since his school days, when he graduated from High School at Denison as one of the student leaders and with the highest scholastic average among the boys. Again at Baylor, where he starred at football, baseball and track, he was graduated as president of his Senior Class. One year as a representative of the Texas Company and two years as an oil scout for the Seaboard Oil Company have acquainted him with the problems of that industry. As a teacher and coach in Midland public schools, he observed the problems of the children and became convinced of the need for providing them with a year-round recreation program. His leadership further asserted itself in World War II when he enlisted as a recruit and was discharged four years later with the rank of lieutenant. Fresh from the Navy, he returned to the Midland which has been his home since 1936. He helped establish and build a successful business in The JFS Ranch House and has fitted well into the community life of Midland.

Freels—His Ideas His platform is simple and yet it is vital to the continued progress of the City of Midland.

WATER—"It is my belief that a continued and adequate supply of good water is essential to the growth of Midland. I will direct my efforts toward not just an immediate solution but toward a long-range water-supply program."

SANITATION—"Great progress has been made in the past year in bringing water and sewer facilities to every part of the city. It is my desire to continue this work, fitting it into a comprehensive sanitation program which will make Midland the healthiest city in Texas."

RECREATION—"I believe that this is a phase of our city's responsibility which has been slighted. We must furnish our children with a whole, some supervised program not only during the school year but the entire 12 months. My efforts will be directed largely to building additional swimming pools and playgrounds for every section of the city."

BUSINESS—"The City Council must work hand-in-hand with our business men in developing Midland as a shopping, industrial, medical and cultural center of West Texas."

50 BUSINESS LEADERS MOVE OUT

C Of C Membership Drive To Seek $26,719 Goal

The Midland Chamber of Commerce will stage its first post-war membership campaign Wednesday, when more than 50 business leaders will contact prospective members in an all-out effort to meet the Chamber's $26,719 budget for 1952.

Joe T. Dickerson, chairman of the Chamber's Membership Committee, said team captains and their workers will assemble at 4 p.m. Tuesday in Hotel Scharbauer, for a briefing session. Campaign materials and assignments will be made at that time.

The campaign calls will be made Wednesday, with reports up to be made

"I give up! I'll join!" was the message received Saturday by the Chamber of Commerce from a non-member who had received the fourth of a series of giant postcards mailed out by the Chamber during recent weeks to prospective members; inviting them to affiliate with the organization.

"That's the spirit!" C. of C. staff members said. "We hope many others will give up, too!"

by all teams at the end of the day.

The actual solicitation follows the mailing of the last of a series of four giant postcards designed to tell prospective members something about the organization.

The final card was headed, "We're Ready to Build... Let's Get Together!" Two clever cartoons are printed on the card. One shows a workman about to start building a house by himself. He is loaded down with many types of tools for the job ahead. The other drawing shows a number of workmen putting up a house. The caption says, "One man can build a house... But not as fast or as well as a full crew. That's the way it is with the Chamber of Commerce, an organization devoted to the task of building the economic, cultural and educational facilities of our city. Active participation in the Chamber of Commerce is good insurance for your business future."

Several business firms already have joined the organization since the postcards went out. "We'll Get More Done If We Get Together" is the general theme of the campaign.

U. S. Trims Iron Curtain Propaganda

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The State Department Saturday threatened more crackdowns on Iron Curtain embassies and legations in this country which distribute abusive propaganda against the United States.

Department informants said the shutdown Friday of a magazine published by the Polish Embassy was intended partly as a warning to other Red governments. Behind the American attitude appears the basic policy belief that the maintenance of U. S. diplomatic relations behind the Iron Curtain is desirable—but not at any price.

Jack Wicker, C. of C. president, termed the membership campaign the most important function of the Chamber of Commerce in 1952. He stressed the fact membership and income of the Chamber have not kept pace with the rapid growth of the community and that additional funds must be had if the organization is to accomplish the goals set out for it.

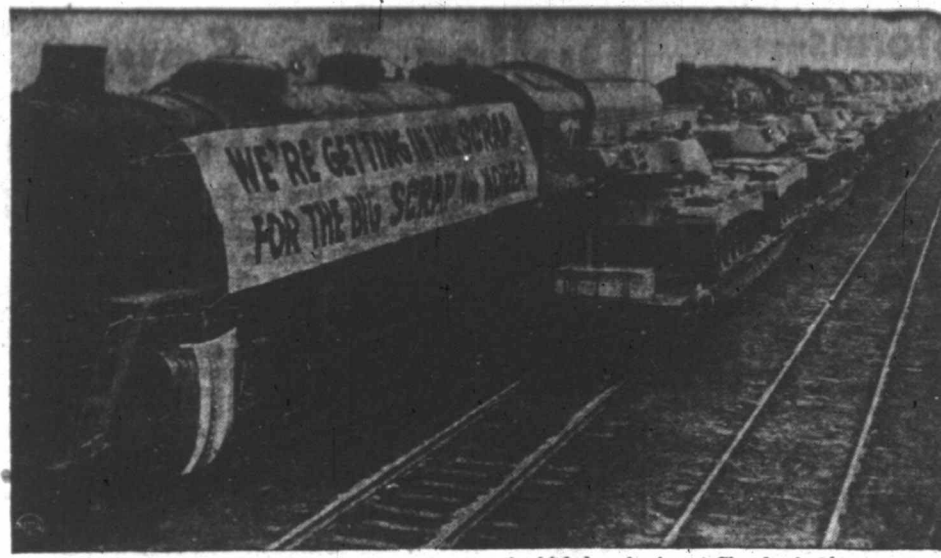

Budget 'Noticeably Low' Dickerson explained that the budget of the Midland Chamber is "noticeably low" in comparison with other chambers, whose budgets in most instances average $1 per capita. This scale would put the Midland budget in excess of $30,000, he said.

The budget of the Midland Chamber last year was $21,098.08.

The income of the C. of C. is derived solely from membership dues, officials explained, in stressing the importance of members to the organization.

An effort will be made to subscribe the budget through additional members rather than calling upon present members to increase their dues.

Team captains in the membership drive are Dickerson, C. E. (Bud) Bissell, Jack Wilkinson, Emil Rasmussen, J. M. Cox, Jerome Grayum, Cal Boykin, Clyde Sharras, C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Earl Chapman, J. T. Baker, Bill Hutcheson, Malcolm Brenneisen, J. M. McDonald and Bill Collins.

"GETTING IN THE SCRAP"—The last trip over the high-iron begins at Cleveland, Ohio, for 11 Erie Railroad locomotives, which will eventually be in the Korean "scrap" after they have been reduced to scrap. They will contribute to the manufacture of steel sufficient to fabricate 500 light tanks, such as those standing beside the iron horses. Donation of the locomotives featured observance of Railroad Scrap Day.

Congressional Fire Results In Shakeup Of Army Engineers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Army Pace Friday announced a shakeup in the Army engineers in charge of building secret North African air bases that have been under fire of congressional investigators.

At the same time Pace informed Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) of the Senate Preparedness Investigating Committee that six big contractors involved in the multi-million dollar construction projects will be called on the carpet this week.

Johnson, after lengthy testimony and special investigations here and in Africa had charged "waste, inefficiency and downright graft" permeated the work.

Secretary Pace promised Johnson remedial action, concerning both the Army Engineers and Atlas Constructors, a combine of six big private contractors doing the work.

Pace ordered a new set of Army Engineer officers, headed by Brig. Gen. Horvill E. Walsh, to French Morocco to take charge of the air-bases project.

He said they would relieve Col. George Derby and Lt. Col. Leonard Haseman, now in charge.

Quadruple Amputee Expects To Tread Aisle With Bride

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Werner Reininger expects to walk down the aisle with his new bride following his wedding next Saturday at the Naval Hospital Chapel at Oakland, Calif.

In a cheerful letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reininger of San Antonio, received Saturday, Werner said, "If I keep on I'm sure I'll be able to walk out of the church with Jeanette."

The second quadruple amputee of the Korean war, the 22-year-old Marine sergeant will be wed to Jeanette Streeter, in a ceremony to which all his buddies of the hospital together with her friends, have been invited.

Werner, who lost both legs and a portion of all fingers and thumbs from grenade wounds and frostbite in the bitter fighting in the cold December weather of 1950 has plans to return here in June with his bride. They plan to build a new home with the more than $11,000 given them by readers of the San Antonio Express and Evening News.

State Warns Of Fox Rabies Threat In Central Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—Central Texas is threatened with a serious fox rabies epidemic this Spring unless the population of foxes is cut down, the State Health Department warned Saturday.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said the fox population should be cut 50 per cent to avoid the danger.

Livestock owners, fox hunters and the general public were urged to "get on the ball" and stamp out foxes.

Dr. Cox said five rabid foxes have been killed in or near Austin since January 1. The disease has been reported from Fayette County for the first time.

Central Texas rabies had been all but eliminated except for a small area of Milam County, Dr. Cox said. Thinning efforts were relaxed and the disease began spreading west and southwest.

SAIGON, INDOCHINA—(AP)—The French high command announced Saturday 100 Communist Vietminh soldiers were killed in an unsuccessful attack on the French military outpost of Nam Dong, about 500 miles northeast of Saigon on the Annam Coast. French losses were placed at 46 killed.

"Do you play boggie-woggie?" the little blonde boy asked.

"No," replied the seventy-year-old musician.

"I do," the boy informed him.

"I can play it pretty good."

"That's nice," Grainger began, but the interview was over. His musical colleague, now disadorned, had scampered out of the room.

Non-residential building accounted for $10,372,442.

Residential lettings lagged at $4,199,250, reported the Texas Contractor, trade journal.

The year's total reached $219,438,262.

Court Throws Out City Rule Requiring Bangs Disease Tests

TAYLOR, TEXAS—(AP)—Texas cities no longer can require a Bangs disease test on Grade A pasteurized milk sold for consumption within their corporate limits, District Judge D. B. Wood ruled Saturday.

In the 26th District Court case, Judge Wood ruled the milk ordinance of the City of Taylor in conflict with state law, declaring the ordinance invalid and granting Southland Corporation of Austin (Oak Farms) an injunction against the city.

The state law requires dairy herds to be Bangs-tested when the milk is to be sold as Grade A raw on the retail market but does not require a Bangs test on Grade A pasteurized.

Southland Corporation, whose milk is processed in Dallas, filed for an injunction against Taylor in December. Dr. Edmond Doak, Taylor health officer, turned down Southland's permit to sell milk in Taylor.

The City of Georgetown offered Taylor its legal counsel in fighting the suit. Georgetown also has a milk ordinance which requires the Bangs disease test.

John O. Russell, Wright's Trailer Court, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital Friday for treatment of a back and shoulder injury received while working.

Arizona Man, Wife Robbed, Beaten Fatally In Mexico

MAZATLAN, MEXICO—(AP)—The U. S. Consul reported Saturday Cullen G. Dunnam of Tombstone, Ariz., and his wife were robbed and beaten to death Wednesday.

Consul Charley L. Rice said the bodies were found Wednesday morning and the murderer has been traced as far as Tepic. The two apparently were killed by a hitchhiker picked up along the road as Dunnam, about 50, was driving to Tepic.

Dunnam's daughter, Lora, of Los Angeles, Calif., now is enroute here to make the official identification of her father's body. Rice said she did not know of her father's marriage about three months ago to the other victim, Maria de la Luz Cisneros of Nogales, Sonora.

Rice said Dunnam, enroute to check on an investment in Tepic, 200 miles south of here, had picked up two hitchhikers. When Dunnam decided to camp about an hour's drive north of here, one hitchhiker came into Mazatlan by bus. The other stayed with the couple.

He had disappeared when the couple was found beaten to death the next morning. Dunnam's skull had been crushed and he had then been strangled by a rope around his neck. Rice said the slayer had attempted to destroy all Dunnam's identification but had overlooked a letter from his daughter. The victim's pockets had been turned inside out and the money he was carrying had been taken.

Rice said the slayer came into Mazatlan and gave $10 bills to waitresses in saloons here. He then hired a taxi to take him to Tepic, where he bought new clothes and left his old ones in the taxi. Police here said they found spots of human blood on the old clothes.

The icebergs of the Atlantic area always have come from the 18 glaciers of Greenland.

Steel Firm To Negotiate Separately On Wage Hikes

NEW YORK—(AP)—A possible break in the solid front of the steel companies appeared Saturday with announcement they would negotiate separately with the CIO United Steelworkers on Wage Stabilization Board recommendations.

The union accepted the WSB recommendations, including an 17 1/2 cent-an-hour basic pay increase and a union shop, and threatened an industry-wide strike of its 650,000 steelworkers on April 8 unless the companies comply.

The announcement they would negotiate separately, starting Monday, raised the possibility the companies might come to varying decisions.

This could mean a strike, if called, would apply only to companies which did not come to terms with the union instead of to the steel industry as a whole.

The steel companies acted in concert throughout the lengthy Washington and New York hearings before a WSB panel on the contract dispute. Only Friday they issued a joint statement denouncing the WSB recommendations.

But Saturday a spokesman for the steel industry said:

"There will be no industry-wide bargaining. The bargaining will be company by company."

The companies in their joint statement Friday, argued the WSB wage proposals would cost them a billion dollars a year and would require an increase up to $12 a ton in the price of steel.

Government price regulations would not permit such an increase.

DIPS AT OCEAN WITH TEASPOON

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Here's a fellow who either was drunk or an incurable optimist.

He was trying to open the front door of the Bexar County National Bank early Saturday with a pocket knife.

A cab driver watched in amazement, then, impressed by the fellow's determined efforts to open the massive door, called his office, which in turn notified police.

Policeman Dave Alsbury went to the scene, and found the man, intent on his work and completely oblivious to traffic, passer-by, and the approaching policeman, still working away with his pocket knife.

Alsbury tapped the fellow on the shoulder, then hauled him away to the city jail, where he was booked for vagrancy.

O'Sullivan, Romack Get Fem Semi-Final Golf Tourney Wins

PINEBURST, N. C.—(P)—Pat O'Sullivan, the smiling slugger from Orange, Conn., and 19-year-old Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., Saturday scored impressive North and South golf tournament final victories.

Personable Pat, seeking a record-equalling third straight title, threw five birdies at Mrs. H. S. Covington of Orangeburg, S. C., and finished even with par to take a 4 and 2 decision. Little Barbara also finished even with par as she scored a 44 and 3 victory over Margy Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich.

Scheduled Sunday
The 18-hole championship match will be played at 12:30 p.m. (CST) Sunday.

Both Barbara and Pat led by three up at the turn with a 37, par from the 5,915-yard No. 2 country club course.

Barbara never trailed after opening with four fouls for an early three up lead.

Pat lost the first hole to a par four as she missed a six-foot putt for a half, but then she grabbed the next five to continue her pattern of the last two years. She usually has raced into a comfortable front side lead and then fought off her challengers on the back nine.

From the second through the sixth, 25-year-old Pat was unbeatable as she birdied three holes and parred two others to win them all.

Wynn Looks Sharp In Exhibition Tilt

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Early Wynn, who would have sued the Cleveland Indians for "non-support" last year, appears headed for another banner season.

Wynn has looked as sharp as ever this Spring and with some batting support figures to improve on his 20-13 record of 1951.

The 32-year-old right-hander was strictly a fast ball pitcher until Cleveland lured him away from Washington. Now, thanks to Coach Mel Harder, Wynn's repertoire includes a knuckleball and curve. He won nine games and lost only two during the final two months of the season. Weak hitting prevented Wynn from posting a better record. In 12 of his 13 defeats the Indians were limited to three runs or less.

Wynn turned in another fine performance Friday as the Indian defeated the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, at Los Angeles. Wynn pitched the first five innings and didn't permit a hit until the fourth.

The Indians enjoyed a 5-0 lead going into the fourth when Wynn eased up a bit and Eddie Robinson tagged him for a three-run homer.

Minnie Minoso of the Sox was struck on the hand by one of Wynn's pitches at the first inning and removed from the game. The injury was not believed to be serious.

Hooks Fred Hahn, Ralph Beard also came up with some excellent pitching as the St. Louis Cardinals downed the Cincinnati Reds, 3-0, at St. Petersburg, Fla. Hahn checked the Reds on four hits in six innings and Beard allowed only one over the final three.

The Chicago Cubs won a 3-2 squeaker from the Pittsburgh Pirates at San Bernardino, Calif. Roy Smalley tripled home the winning run in the ninth inning. Ralph Kiner accounted for both Pittsburgh runs by clouting his first homer of the Spring, a belt off Warren Hacker in the sixth. Hacker fanned seven Pirates in six innings. The Cubs' squad trounced Los Angeles, 8-4, at Fullerton, Calif.

Sam Jethroe, Boston's speedy outfielder, was slightly injured as the Braves outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies, 13-11, at Clearwater, Fla. Jethroe suffered a sprained left wrist as he crashed into the fence in a bid to catch a drive by rookie Mel Clark of the Phils. Sid Gordon featured Boston's 13-hit attack with a grand slam homer.

The Braves' American League rivals, the Red Sox, came from behind to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-3, at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Little Bobby Shantz blanked the Red Sox on one single for five innings, but Boston jumped on Carl Scheib for four runs in the seventh to pull it out.

The Detroit Tigers also came from behind to win, beating the New York Yankees, 3-1, at Lakeland, Fla. The Tigers sailed into Frank Shea for three runs in the seventh inning to wipe out a 1-0 deficit. Ted Gray and Wayne McLeland limited the Yanks to six hits.

Washington jumped on John Podres, Brooklyn's highly regarded rookie left-hander, for six runs in the three innings and went on to down the Dodgers 8-2 in a night game at Miami. Fla. Podres yielded eight hits and a walk but all the Senators were unharmed due to three Brooklyn errors.

Rookie Gilbert's three-run homer in the fifth inning gave the New York Giants a 5-2 triumph over the Oakland Pacific Coast League club in another night tilt at San Francisco. The St. Louis Browns whipped the Coast League Seals, 8-5.

SMU Sweeps Triangular Track Meet

DALLAS —(AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs won 15 first places here Friday to defeat Baylor and Texas Christian soundly in a triangular meet.

SMU had a total of 115 2/5 to 35 1/5 for Baylor and 19 2/5 for TCU. SMU freshmen racked up 80 1/6 points to 58 5/6 for TCU frosh and 23 for the Bears.

High point honors in the varsity meet went to Val Joe Walker and Buddy Goode, both of SMU. Each had 11 1/4 points. Walker ran a leg on the winning 440-yard relay and won both the low and high hurdles. Goode also was on the 440-yard relay team and won in the 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Howard Payne Downs ACC In Track Meet

ABILENE —(AP)—Howard Payne downed Abilene Christian College, 65-62, in a dual track meet Friday. The Yellow Jackets won first in seven of nine running events. ACC won all but two of the field events.

NTSC To Hold First Annual Relay Tuesday

DENTON —(AP)—The first North Texas State College relays will be held here Tuesday with entries received from six schools and tentative entries from others.

So far teams will compete from Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, University of Houston, East Texas State, Abilene Christian, Howard Payne and North Texas State.

EX-MIDLAND, STANTON STARS—Jack Burris, left, and LeRoy (Red) Gibson, right, starred in the Texas Western Intra-squad football game which ended the Miner Spring season last week. Burris, a Midland High School product, scored one touchdown. Gibson, of Stanton, had a 10-yard-per-carry average, high of the game. Both expect to be regulars for the Miners next Fall, with Gibson slated for both offensive and defensive duty.

By the time the most avid of Sunday morning early birds read this, we'll be—if everything has gone according to schedule—in Lutecher, La., ready to attend Zeke Bonura's School of Hard Knocks—the Midland Indian Spring baseball camp, if you please.

Not that we're hopeful of beating Gabby Blumenthal, Hayden White or any of the Braves out of their means of livelihood. We're content to merely sit semi-idly by and watch the goings-on.

This minor league baseball life, as we have often been told, pretty hard to take.

Never one to believe the early bird gets the worm—we personally think all early worms are for the birds—we haven't been enthusiastic about hanging around baseball camps.

But all that changed when a fellow recently gave us the normal Spring schedule. These guys have more time on their hands than the homeliest of wall flowers.

What, for instance, is so rugged about sleeping until 9 a.m., or well past, rising for a leisurely breakfast and then knocking off in mid-afternoon after a Spring game? Or, if the game is at night, sleeping in until noon or better and then chewing the rag until late in the afternoon?

Oh yeah, pity the poor ball player—chances are he's better off than you and I.

There are, of course, a few rubs—such as lengthy bus trips, crowded locker rooms, fuming fans, anemic paychecks, weeks without pay during Spring training, boosing with umpires, bean balls, second-rate hotels and restaurants and daily workouts.

These are normal minor league occupational hazards, and that's the part which kept us from ever casting covetous eyes toward a job in the game.

It is, however, a fine profession if a boy can rise to the top—and if he can't, then he probably has a lot of fun trying.

So perhaps, all things considered, we're not so bad off after all. We'll get to sleep late without fear of Zeke Bonura loping us around a sandy track for hours, which is more than the Indian players can say.

In our absence, by the way, Bob Adams is holding down the home-front sports desk. Bob stepped in as a pinch-hitter for King's Row a couple of months ago when we ended our athletic career after a couple of sprained muscles and cracked ribs put us in the sack for awhile. He did okay, this Adams, and we have no qualms about leaving him in charge. Bob will bring you results of bowling, golf, track meet, junior baseball and the like while we shoot baseball news and pictures to Midland from the Louisiana Indian-stronghold.

We're going to get around some of the oldtimers in Louisiana, get some dope on this fellow Bonura's early life and bring you up-to-date on the Midland players in camp. We'll also send play-by-play and box scores of the Midland games and, in fact, give doggone good coverage throughout.

That is, of course, if Bonura and his boys can get us out of the sack and away from that shade-tree by the fish's hole. Water and trees, son, they have 'em in Louisiana—and here's a bone-dry West Texan who's a-bankin' to see 'em.

Odessa Likes Idea Of Match Between 'Babe' And Maxwell

ODESSA —(AP)—Odessa Country Club officials like the idea of Babe Didrikson Zaharias, leading money-winner among women golfers, playing national amateur champion Billy Maxwell in a special match here.

The benefit match was proposed by Fred Cororan, manager of the women golfers' tournament tour.

Balle Griffith, Odessa country club president, sent word to Cororan to get in touch with him. He suggested the match be played for the benefit of a polo fund.

An innovation this season at the Hialeah race track is an automatic electric indicator board for the bleacher section.

Spider Maze Gets Offer To Turn Pro

SAN MARCOS —(AP)—J. C. (Spider) Maze, called the "best big man" in the NAIB tournament last week, has received an offer to play pro basketball with the Baltimore Bullets.

The national basketball league club made the offer to the Southwest Texas State NAIB little 'all-America center while Maze was competing in the Kansas City tourney.

Maze said uncertainty over his military status is the chief obstacle of his playing pro ball. Last Summer he was measured for the draft and found to be a legal 6-4 tall. Later the Marines measured him as 6-7, too tall for that branch of service.

Maze led his team to a record of 30 victories against one defeat last season by hitting field goals at a 46.97 per cent rate. He scored 488 points for a game average of 15.74.

Victor Of Track Meet Questioned

LAREDO, TEXAS. —(AP)—A protest must be filed before the Border Olympics can decide whether Odessa should be its high school champion instead of Amarillo.

Amarillo found it had used an ineligible man in beating Odessa out by a single point in the recent meet.

"Of course, we don't want an ineligible athlete competing but officials can do nothing until a protest is filed," Bob Cohen, president of the olympics, said.

Thus far there has been no protest from Odessa or any other team, Cohen added.

Old Saying Holds True In Panhandle Football

AMARILLO —(AP)—As the saying goes, "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer," and there's no arguing the point if you're speaking of schoolboy football in the Texas Panhandle.

Perhaps you're one of those dreamy characters who leans back and says, "Well, Sasfras High's playing 10 games this year. They'll drag down a mint, then have enough left over to pay for basketball, baseball and track."

Climb down out of the clouds, buddy, before you fall down. If you lived in one town in the Panhandle, you shelled out three bucks for every person in your family, just so your high school team could field a football team. Of course, it's exceptional there. Some schools even made money.

If you lived in a town that had a Class A or Class B school, football probably didn't come near paying for itself. Say your town supported a Class AA team, chances are it made a little money.

But then you're in a city with a Class AAAA team, then you're really living. It's money in the bank. The rich, indeed, are getting richer.

Let's take a look at the quadruple A's, the "super conference" of Texas. They've got a lot of boys, a big coaching staff, a fine stadium and a lot of people to watch them play football.

Lubbock, the 1951 state champion, grossed $183,943.24 during its 13-game season and wound up with a net profit of $43,598.46. Odessa, with a better-than-average team, took in $95,093.20 and cleared a respectable $30,485.20. Amarillo, another 1-AAAA club with a fair-to-middling season, had a surplus of $19,241.19.

It's in schools like these that expenses run highest. Amarillo's medical bills were $1,716.85; equipment for Odessa cost $10,476.94; Lubbock paid $13,934.30 in taxes.

But everybody can't play in the super conference. That's the only hitch.

In Class AA football pays its own way and leaves a little surplus with which to start the next season. The double A's can make or lose a couple of grand. It's according, of course, to the won-lost record.

About 65 per cent of the Panhandle's AA schools made money in 1951. The average school in this classification grossed $9,179.83 during the season, and after all expenses had been taken care of, netted $617.74.

Thakoka, the 6-AA champion, showed a net of $2,324.56. Morton of 7-AA lost $1,182, but won only one game. Childress, the 3-AA winner, grossed $20,700, but it cost $2,134 to patch up its injured athletes, $6,498 to armor them in equipment and $2,562.82 for scouting and travel expenses. Childress netted only $700.

The average AA school spent $566.04 for medical bills, $3,021.84 for equipment and $549.05 for officials.

Class A football was profitable to 65 per cent of the Panhandle's schools but the deficits incurred by the other 35 per cent tumbled the average net to a minus $362.35.

The big pull-down in this class was White Deer, which wound up $4,322.97 in the hole. White Deer paid out $3,802 for equipment (most of the equipment on hand was destroyed by a tornado last Spring) and $1,802.06 for injuries. The

St. John's Stuns Kentucky Underdogs Snap Long Win Streak

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—Center Bob Zawoluk led an amazing St. John's of Brooklyn team to a brilliant 64-57 victory over highly favored Kentucky Saturday in the title game of the eastern NCAA regional play-offs. Zawoluk set a new NCAA individual scoring record with 32 points. The Redmen thus will represent the East in the national finals at Seattle, Wash., next week.

In the first game of Saturday's doubleheader North Carolina State whipped Penn State, 69-60, to capture third place.

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—All-American Clyde Lovellette hit a record-breaking 44 points Saturday night in bulldozing the University of Kansas Jayhawks (a 74 to 55 victory over St. Louis University for the championship of the NCAA regional playoffs here.

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs beat the ice-cold New Mexico A&M Aggie (62-30) to 44 for consolation honors in the NCAA's district one basketball playoffs tonight.

The University of Kansas Jayhawks (23-2) and St. Louis University Billikins (23-7) met for the right to play in the national finals at Seattle next week.

A sellout crowd of more than 10,500 jammed Municipal Auditorium for the second straight night of the district playoffs.

It was strictly no contest after Texas Christian sprinted to a 17-9 lead at the quarter. The Southwest Conference champions were in front 25-16 at the half after both teams had come up with a very cool shooting percentage.

Sandies Keep Relays Title

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—Amarillo High School repeated as champion of the Bluebonnet Relays Saturday night, scoring 247 1/2 points. Austin was second with 19 and Forest (Dallas) was third with 16.

Two records fell. The Austin sprint relay team did 43.8 to beat the record of 44.1 set by Austin in 1941. Alvin Frieden of Austin smashed the 220-yard record of 22.3 set by Joe Childress of Odessa last year by doing it in 22.0 in the preliminaries but he was defeated in the final by Larry Schwartz of Forest (Dallas) in 22.5.

Sunset (Dallas) was third with 13 points. North Dallas was fourth with 10 1/2, Haskell next with 10. Weatherford 7 1/2, Brady 5 1/2 and Lampasas five.

The 120-yard low hurdles also went to the books as a record since it was a new event. Eldon Amoneit of Haskell ran it in 20.8. He also won the 130-yard high hurdles in 1.4 and was high point man of the meet with 10. Frieden was next with 8 1/4.

Pecos Completes New Water Well

PECOS—The City of Pecos has completed a new water well near its supply field 12 miles southeast of town, and has authorized drillers to proceed to still another location in a race with the approaching summer months to obtain a safe water supply.

Emmett Beauchamp, mayor pro tempore, told council members that the new well "looks good." Drilled to 193 feet, it boasts a water level at 73 feet.

Beauchamp predicted that the well will ultimately provide between 200 and 300 gallons per minute.

Water Supt. John Oglesby said that if the new well proves to be a producer, it will make a total of nine water wells in operation, providing an estimated output of 225 million gallons daily.

The driller, J. L. Trotter of Tuhay, has been authorized to move his cable tool rig to a new location.

White Sox Triumph On Pirate's Error

PASADENA, CALIF.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored three runs in the first inning after a Pittsburgh Pirates infielder threw the ball away and went on to a 4-2 exhibition victory Saturday.

With the bases loaded and one out, the Sox Eddie Robinson knocked an easy grounder to Second Baseman John Merson, who, trying for a double play, threw the ball into left field. All three runners scored.

Houston Buffs Tag Roughnecks, 10-5

TYLER—(AP)—The Houston Buffs handed the Beaumont Roughnecks a 10 to 5 defeat in an exhibition baseball game Saturday.

Houston staged a five-run uprising in the sixth inning to break a 4 to 4 deadlock.

Right-hander Jim Kirk was the winning pitcher. Bob Marucca was charged with the loss.

Ford Leads In Florida Golf Tourney

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—(AP)—Doug Ford, former amateur star from Harrison, N. Y., drove to the half-way lead in the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par 137 here Saturday.

Ford backed up his first-round 69 with a 68 early in the day and the rest of the star-laden field whacked away all day without denting it.

Bob Toole, 25-year-old Northampton, Mass., professional, and the veteran Jim Turnesa at 139, one stroke back of Ford, Toole had a 71 and Turnesa 68 on their second round over the 6,500-yard Hyde Park course.

Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were bracketed with Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., at 139.

Jack Burke, the Texan who is gunning for his fifth straight PGA tournament victory, made up a little ground with a 69 for a 36-hole total of 141.

The third round is scheduled Sunday and the wind-up of the 72-hole tournament comes Monday.

Phil D. Captures Fleming Handicap

ALBANY, CALIF.—(AP)—Phil D. closed with a shifting stretch run Saturday to win the $7,500 Point Fleming handicap, first of twin features at Golden Gate Fields.

Aegean ran second, and Reighs Bull, the favorite, was third.

Phil D. owned by W. C. Martin, of Stratford, Texas, was ridden by Ray York of San Diego. The four-year-old colt packed high weight of 122 pounds and was second choice in the wagering. He won by a length and a quarter. The time for the six furlongs was 1:14 5/8.

Phil D. paid $6.90, $3.90 and $2.80; Aegean $4.30 and $2.80; Reighs Bull $2.50.

Jim Hearn Subdues Pacific Coast Club

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Big Jim Hearn became the first pitcher of the New York Giants to go as far as seven innings as the National League champions defeated the Pacific Coast League, 8-3, Saturday.

Hearn gave up seven hits, three walks and all three San Francisco runs before Southpaw Montie Kennedy took over to hurl two scoreless innings.

Gene Bearden Debut Ruined By Oakland

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(AP)—Oakland produced a storm of trouble in the fifth inning for Southpaw Gene Bearden in his season's debut Saturday as the Oaks defeated the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 3.

The Pacific Coast League club collected five of its six hits in that five-run frame with a former major leaguer, Danny Litwiler, hitting the crowning blow—a base cleaning double.

Phils Show Mood For Pennant Talk

CLEARWATER, FLA.—(AP)—Maybe it's the dreamy Florida gloaming, but at any rate the Philadelphia Phillies really are in the mood for pennant talk.

The boys are keenly aware of an "Oh yeah?" attitude among many fans back home. Among winning the National League flag in 1950, the Phils faltered to a mediocre fifth place finish last year.

Their routers still are pretty unhappy about it.

All of which leads to the inevitable questions—what happened to the Phils last year? And why does the club think it has a good chance to come out on top this season?

Manager Eddie Sawyer had a couple of answers Saturday.

In yet another post-mortem on the dismal 1951 showing, Sawyer said "We didn't have a number two pitcher."

Naturally the thoughts of his listeners sped back to Curt Simmons' brilliant work in 1950. Before that memorable season ended Simmons was in Army uniform, and his baseball services were missed a great deal indeed.

Simmons is expected back with the team this Summer. But Sawyer is by no means building high hopes on that alone.

And who is the pitcher he thinks may be his number two man of destiny?

None other than Russ Meyer, the mercurial moundsman who has the master touch when he's in top form and untruffled, and is as futile as a whiplash in a whirlwind when he's floundered.

"Meyer is the man I am dependent on," Sawyer said. "If he comes up to what I expect, we'll be off and rushing from the beginning of the race."

Explosion Remembered

Pardon my skepticism was the reaction of some of those in camp not fully acquainted with all sides of the Meyer personality.

They granted that Russ can win when he is right. But they couldn't forget the Meyer who exploded when something went wrong.

Asked if Meyer is in better condition this year than he has been in the last few seasons, Sawyer asserted:

"Meyer is always in good shape. I've never had to worry about that. He's had things preying on his mind in the past that have now been taken care of. I think he'll be okay this year."

Spring Grid Practice Ends At Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Spring football practice ended at Texas A&M Friday with the Whites downing the Maroons, 20-14, in a scrimmage session.

Quarterback Ray Graves ran and passed for much of the yardage that set up the three white touchdowns.

Sophomore Quarterback Don Ellis pushed through center and went 81 yards for the first maroon touchdown.

LAMPASAS WINS

Solons To Visit Remodeled White House On Sunday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The $5,700,000 face-lifting job done on the 150-year-old White House will be unveiled Sunday to about 1,000 persons.

Members of the White House staff and their families, newspaper women accredited to Truman's news conference, and members of Congress and their wives will be taken through the completely renovated mansion from basement to attic.

The general public will be permitted its first inspection—of the two lower floors—in about another month.

The grounds now are being maintained—new sod, gardens and boxwood—and the President and first lady will move back in from the Blair House next weekend, when President Truman returns from Key West, Fla.

Meatoni and vanilla were introduced into the United States by Thomas Jefferson, third President.

Albaugh To Drill Three Wildcats On Matador Property In Oldham

Ray A. Albaugh, independent oil operator of Midland, has contracted to drill three wildcat petroleum explorations on the 395,709.80-acre Matador Land & Cattle Company Alamogordo Ranch in Oldham County.

Drilling on the first of the three prospectors is to be started immediately. Each of them is due to go 5,500 feet, or granite, or commercial production at a lesser depth.

Contract Filed For Record

Details of the contract between Albaugh and The Superior Oil Company, for the drilling of the three wildcats were revealed by an instrument filed for record Saturday in the office of the county clerk of Oldham County at Vega.

According to the terms of the instrument, Albaugh, in the event production is developed, is to receive an overriding interest in any oil and gas which is produced on the Oldham County part of the Matador property in return for his having drilled the wells.

He also is to be reimbursed for his actual cost of drilling the wells — if production is developed. If one or all of the three wells, or any of them, fail to produce oil or gas, he will get no remuneration for drilling the wells.

Albaugh Has No Comment

Albaugh, whose headquarters are in Midland, was in Amarillo Saturday. When contacted by telephone he declined to make any comment on the agreement.

According to the contract he is to select the locations for each of the three Matador wildcats he has agreed to drill. In the telephone conversation Saturday he declined to give any information regarding the sites at which the three prospectors are to be drilled.

The agreement calls for the second well to be started within 30 days after the completion of the first exploration — regardless of whether the initial effort is a producer or a failure.

Other Wells Due

The third wildcat is likewise to be started within 30 days after the completion of the second project.

Superior Oil has held an oil and gas lease on all of the Matador acreage in Oldham and Hartley Counties since December 30, 1950.

That concern has already done considerable exploratory work on the property. None of its has found any petroleum production up to now.

Albaugh's trade with Superior covers the bulk of the Alamogordo Ranch — being that part of it which is in Oldham County.

There is approximately 8,000 acres of the ranch in Hartley County which is not covered by the Albaugh contract.

Officials of Superior in Midland, where that concern maintains a division headquarters, would not comment on the Albaugh contract.

All of the Matador Land & Cattle Company properties were recently acquired by an American Syndicate from the original Scottish firm for more than $20,000,000.

The original owners retained 50 per cent of the mineral rights under all of the properties. Those mineral interests are now held for the original owners by the Torador Royalty Corporation.

Those retained mineral rights are not only under the ranch in Oldham and Hartley Counties but also under the Matador ranch in Motley, Dickens and adjoining counties. That property also covers in excess of 400,000 acres.

Humble Oil & Refining Company holds the oil and gas lease on most of that ranch. It also has drilled several dry holes in its Matador leases.

The new owners of the Matador properties recently obtained a loan of $6,700,000 on the two ranches from the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn.

The loan was secured by a first mortgage on the entire property.

Anderson-Prichard Will Drill 14,000-Foot Andrews Tester

Fourteen miles south and slightly east of the town of Andrews and in south-central Andrews County, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation is to start drilling by May 1 on a 14,000-foot wildcat.

The deep test will be drilled as No. 1-24 David and Inez Pasken, 800 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 24, block 42, T-1-N, G&MM&A survey. It is a twin to a producer from the Grayburg-San Andres on the north-west side of the Midland Farms field.

This wildcat is being drilled on a spread of leases which Anderson-Prichard recently secured on the Midland Farms acreage from David and Inez Pasken. The leases are the northwest quarter and the south half of each of sections 21, 22, 23, 24 and in block 42, T-1-N, G&MM&A and a survey.

The Paskens retained the lease on the northeast quarter of each section.

Midland Oilmen Now In Central Building

E. A. Wahlstrom and Burton Atkinson, of Midland petroleum consultants, have moved their offices to the Central Building.

Wahlstrom has practiced petroleum and geological engineering in the Permian Basin since 1927.

Atkinson recently resigned from the Humble Oil and Refining Company. In Midland since 1940, he has been a member of Humble's petroleum engineering staff working on reservoir engineering and production practices.

Harris Is Back In Midland; To Work As Independent

H. R. (Randall) Harris has returned to Midland and is now working as an independent oil operator, broker and trader.

He is associated with James Walton. Offices of the two are at 131 Allen Building in this city.

Harris had previously lived in Midland seven and one-half years. During that time he was a scout and land man for Sun Oil Company.

Harris moved to Mississippi that concern transferred him to Jackson, Miss., in January 1951. He did land work and scouting in the southeastern states while located at Jackson.

He resigned from Sun a few weeks ago in order to return to Midland and form the association with Walton.

Private Flight Regulations Eased By U. S., Mexico

Pilots of private and non-scheduled aircraft of Mexico and the United States will find it much easier to cross the border after June 1.

The Midland office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration Saturday explained some of the terms of the new agreement being negotiated by the two governments.

A "memorandum of understanding" already has been signed.

Under the new procedure, a pilot preparing to enter either country files one notification message instead of the three separate notifications that were previously required by governmental agencies.

On a northbound flight, RAMSA, the Mexican Aeronautical Communications Agency, accepts the notification message and transmits it to a CAA communications station, which notifies the U. S. customs office at the airport of entry.

On southbound flights, the procedure is reversed.

The notification procedures apply only when the first intended landing is at an airport of entry. If a pilot wishes to land elsewhere, he must make his own arrangements with the U. S. or Mexican services involved.

Oil Independents Will Meet In Fort Worth March 27-28

AUSTIN—Oil independents will map their course March 27 and 28 in Fort Worth when some 400 gather from every part of Texas at the sixth annual meeting of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Eight working committees will meet throughout Thursday March 27, to compile reports for consideration of the membership the following day. They are committees on price, imports, tax, resolutions, gas, nominations, membership and by-laws.

Midlanders who will take part in the meeting as committee members include: W. P. Z. German, Jr., nomination committee; Ben Danby, tax; C. E. Lowe, imports; R. G. Carr and H. E. (Buddy) Chiles, membership and finance; A. A. Jack Bradford, price, and German, resolutions committee.

Brig. Gen. Alfred H. Johnson, chairman and executive secretary of the Munitions Board Joint Petroleum committee and chief of the Office of Petroleum Programs, will be the dinner speaker March 28.

Oil In Defense

General Johnson, an outspoken defender of a free enterprise petroleum industry who is lavish in his praises for its initiative and far-sightedness in making possible oil for all needs in peace and war, will discuss the role of petroleum in the defense program.

His military career, practically all of which has been devoted to the development of aviation from which both civilian and military aviation has profited, was launched in 1922. Today he holds the rating of command pilot.

Through the price committee, Association policy will be made on the issue of decontrol of crude oil. That group is expected to include in its report a recommendation that Congress, in considering extension of the Defense Production Act, than he does for transportation, and that while pipeline companies are experiencing a "rags to riches" boom producers, royalty owners and the State government are not benefitting directly in the vast markets expansion.

Practices To Continue

TIPRO in the past has contended that until the monopoly-dictated prices at the point of production are relaxed and trend toward alarming exports and excessive storage of gas in underground reservoirs in the East will continue. OPS action in fixing a ceiling on gas at the wellhead may also be deplored as contrary to the public interest and sound conservation principles.

The tax committee may concentrate its report on means for securing fairer treatment of royalty owners by county tax equalization boards in setting ad valorem taxes. It may include a recommendation that the principle of a gathering tax on natural gas, as opposed to increased production taxes, be sustained either by the courts or legislature.

State Taxes

In the matter of state taxes generally, attention may be called to the Texas Legislative Council recommendation that a broader tax base be established to prevent fluctuations caused by drops in oil production. On the national scene, the necessity of retaining the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance may be pointed up and irresponsible attacks upon it answered.

The resolutions committee may reaffirm Association policy on a number of issues now current. The committee report may condemn compulsory features of some unitization proposals, characterizing them as akin to socialism in the government police powers would be used to deny individuals their property rights.

Efforts of some to force government-subsidized fuels upon the nation long before any indication of need may receive committee attention. The National Petroleum Council study refuting widely-publicized government estimates of gasoline from coal costs at 11 cents may be cited, pointing out evidence that the NPC figure of 41 cents is more in keeping with the facts.

The committee, among other issues, which it may consider, likely will cite implications of the effort of a small group within the executive department to grab the Texas tidelands. Danger of federal control to the development of oil properties within this area may be described, and propaganda intended to build public support for the grab through promises of distribution of funds to various projects roundly condemned.

OIIC Chairmen In West Texas Area Plan 1952 Work

Showing employees the personal stake they have in keeping the petroleum industry strong is the basic goal toward which the industry's public relations program should strive, in the opinion of J. M. Sappington of Big Lake, vice president of Barnhart Hydrocarbon Corporation.

Sappington is Reagan County chairman for the American Petroleum Institute sponsored program, which operates under the name of the Oil Industry Information Committee, and which relies upon volunteer workers from all segments of petroleum to function.

He made his remarks during the course of an OIIC meeting of County chairmen for the 24-county West Texas area and held Friday in this city by Area Chairman Joe T. Dickerson of Midland, vice president, Shell Oil Company.

Roy M. Stephens, Texas OIIC chairman and assistant sales manager for Humble Oil & Refining Company, defined public relations as "doing good and getting credit for it." He asked the West Texas oil men in their OIIC work this year to enlist active support of the service station dealers and then carry the program to school and rural audiences.

Frank Kelley of Colorado City, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and who is OIIC chairman for Mitchell County, pledged WTCC support to the information program being fostered by the petroleum industry.

He said the WTCC felt the service station man was such an influential member of each community that part of the continuing chamber program was supplying detailed information about towns to dealers so they could do even better jobs as community goodwill ambassadors through their customers.

Dickerson laid emphasis upon year-round operation of the OIIC program and said he would shortly make personal visits to each town in his area.

John H. Cooper, vice president and general sales manager of the Western Company, is Midland County chairman for the OIIC program.

He reported at the Friday meeting that plans for carrying on the work of the committee in this county during the current year were being formulated and that several activities would be underway in the near future.

Earnings Reported For Gulf, Phillips

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—A worldwide output of 231,168,000 barrels of crude oil gave Gulf Oil Corporation its highest production level in history last year.

Gulf said its production was 21 per cent higher over 1950 and averaged 633,337 barrels daily.

Net income for Gulf was $140,071,000, equal to $6.17 per share. Earnings were the second best in the company's 56 years with sales totaling $1,439,375,000 in 1951.

Phillips Petroleum Company reported 1951 net earnings of $79,711,329, equal to $3.45 per share.

The 1951 figure compares with $51,587,264, or $4.35 per share, in 1950.

Phillips reported record gross income of $610,770,667 last year compared with $534,063,553 in 1950, previous high year.

WICHITA, KAN.—(AP)—G. C. MacDonald of Tulsa was elected chairman of the Mid-Continent district of the American Petroleum Institute production division.

MacDonald, of Gulf Oil Corporation, succeeds Harold Berg of Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Tulsa.

Vice Chairmen elected for their respective sub-districts included: Texas Panhandle—Fred Neslage of the West Pampa Pressure Association, Pampa.

Southwestern Oklahoma—Herdon Leonard of Magnolia Petroleum Company, Duncan.

Herbert M. Colley of Bethlehem Supply Company, Tulsa, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Wilshire To Start Production Tests At C-E Lea Opener

HOBBS, N. M.—The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. is preparing to start production tests on its No. 1 Townsend, Central-East Lea County, New Mexico wildcat which has found flowing oil in the Wolfcamp of the Permian and in the Strawn zone of the Pennsylvanian.

Operator plans to set casing and test the various pays which have been encountered through perforations.

The prospector drilled to a total depth of 13,803 feet in barren Devonian. That formation made salty, sulphur water in a drillstem test at 13,514-803 feet.

On that investigation the tool was open four hours. Recovery was the 2,160-foot water blanket and 6,510 feet of salty, sulphur water. No shows of oil or gas were found in that test.

Top of the Devonian is at 13,368 feet. Elevation is 4,029 feet.

This discovery is six and one-half miles west of the town of Lovington; six miles northwest of the shallow Lovington field and 17 miles southwest of the multipay Denton field.

Wilshire No. 1 Townsend flowed oil from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian in a drillstem test at 11,470-529 feet. It developed free oil and had gas at the surface in a test higher in the Strawn at 11,378-456 feet.

It also flowed oil on a drillstem test at 10,410-500 feet in the Wolfcamp section of the lower Permian.

Operator will set and cement 5 1/2-inch casing at 11,970 feet. The lower Strawn pay will be tested first through perforations. If that interval makes a commercial oil well the project will be completed from that formation.

Should it fail to produce enough oil to make the allowable for such explorations it will then test one or more of the higher sections which have shown as producing horizons.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 4-16-35e. Austral Oil Exploration Company will drill a 9,500-foot wildcat in West-Central Roosevelt County as No. 1 Cora A. Sadler.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 29-4e-32e. It is three miles east of Elda and two and one-half miles northeast of the Spartan Drilling Company and others No. 1-36 State, dry hole on total depth of 7,263 feet in Granite.

New exploratory projects which have been drilled in Lea County, for immediate striking include:

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-AT Lea-Steale, to be at the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 21-15-32e.

It is projected to 2,900 feet to test for production in the Wolfcamp lime. The project is west of the proven area of the Saunders field in Northwest Lea County.

Shell Oil Company No. 1 J. H. Smith will be a 7,500-foot exploration in Central-East Lea County. It is called to test the lower Permian limb.

Location is to be at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 14-21a-37e.

Tide Water Associated Oil Company and others No. 1 H. T. Monteth is to be a 11,500-foot wildcat to try for production in the Devonian in East-Central Lea County.

It is about five miles southeast of Lovington and only a short dis-

Phillips To Test Deep Pay Section In West Oklahoma

Phillips Petroleum Company and associates are running casing to test a deep pay zone in the Anadarko Basin of West Oklahoma at their No. 1 Flynn.

Logs indicate approximately 200 feet of porous potential oil or gas pay in the Pennsylvanian Deese granite wash section between 14,200 and 15,077 feet.

At the total depth this zone has not been completely penetrated but due to the hazard of high gas pressure encountered below 15,000 feet, operators have elected to complete the well at the present depth rather than drill ahead to determine the full extent of the zone.

Beckham County

The well is located at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 27-11n-23w, Beckham County. It is six miles north of Bayre and six and one-half miles northwest of the deep Elk City field.

Phillips has a 38.5 per cent interest in the 2,130-acre lease unit on which the well is located. Phillips holds an additional 2,640 acres in the immediate vicinity of the wellhead.

Houston Oil Moves Littlejohn To Job In Williston Basin

Henry F. Littlejohn is leaving Midland and going to the Williston Basin, North Dakota.

He will represent Houston Oil Company of Texas in that area and will be assigned the job of trying to get that concern in the oil business in that region.

Littlejohn has been a resident of Midland six years. He is being transferred from the position of assistant district landman for Houston Oil of Texas for the Permian Basin to the new assignment.

Other Connections

He has been with that concern since June 1950. He had previously worked as a scout and landman for Barnsdall Oil Company and for Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

Littlejohn has drawn the "Permian Pete" cartoons which have appeared in the Sunday oil section of The Reporter-Telegram for more than two years.

With his transfer a new arrangement for the cartoons will have to be made. It is hoped that they can be resumed in the near future.

Pecos School Growth Cited

PECOS—With a capacity enrollment of 2,322 students and expected population increases, the Pecos school system will be "forced into a continuous building program," reports Alton Hughes, Chamber of Commerce manager.

There are 1,147 pupils at the elementary school, 854 at junior high, and 221 at high school.

An analysis of these figures shows clearly "what we are going to face in the years to come," Hughes warns.

He added that the high school enrollment will increase next year from 321 to a new high of 443 students, allowing nothing for overall growth in population.

"By 1956, we should have a minimum of 1,379 students at high school," he predicted.

Hughes concluded that "there will be the same proportional increase in the other schools, and it is very evident that we will be forced into a continuous building program for at least the next four years."

Presently there are 80 teachers in the Pecos system, which includes schools at Saragosa and Patada. The system also employs a student counselor, Warren Bonney, who confers with students on post-graduate vocations and educational pursuits.

Doctor Picks Right Spot To Break Leg

HERRIN, ILL.—(AP)—Dr. W. I. Lewis couldn't have picked a much better spot to break a leg. He did it getting out of a car with Dr. W. A. Miller, head of Herrin Hospital, after a meeting of physicians and surgeons.

Dr. Miller took Dr. Lewis to his hospital and put the leg in a cast for several weeks.

Previous to the horseshoe method of hoof protection for horses, socks or sandals were used for the horse's feet.

U. S. Producers Want To Pipe Gas To East Canada

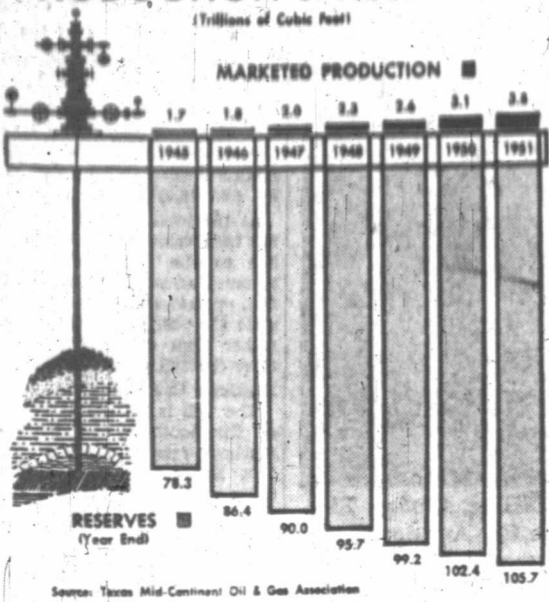

WASHINGTON —(AP)—United States producers want to pipe gas from Texas to Eastern Canada while others seek to pipe Canadian gas to this country's Pacific Northwest.

The power commission said yesterday Tennessee Gas Transmission Company and the Niagara Gas Company or Toronto filed a joint application Wednesday for permission to export Texas gas to Ontario.

Several other proposals, officials said, are pending to bring gas from Canada to supply the Northwestern United States, now without natural gas.

The commission set hearings on the gas-from-Canada proposals for April 8, and a spokesman said it was possible the Tennessee-Niagara application would be considered at the same time.

TEXAS NATURAL GAS PRODUCTION & RESERVES

TEXAS GAS GAINS—Texas reserves of natural gas, largest in the United States, now total 105.7 trillion cubic feet, a record high, according to recent estimates by the American Gas Association. The survey shows that the state's growing supply of gas continues to dwarf, by comparison, the amount needed to supply present markets.

WASHINGTON OIL—Tidelands Ownership And Operation May Be Major Issue In 1952 Elections

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The ownership and operation of the tidelands, which is up for debate this week on the Senate floor, promises to be an issue, perhaps a major one, in the forthcoming national elections.

Only thing that could prevent this would be for Congress to complete action and the President to sign a bill giving the states full authority over the offshore areas and the oil and gas wealth beneath. Otherwise, the states will carry their fight into political party conventions.

The President has promised that he never would sign such a measure. If the states are to have title, thus, Congress must override a Presidential veto. Even enthusiastic advocates of state title have difficulty counting a two-thirds vote to override a veto.

A compromise measure, or a stalemate bringing no bill whatsoever, well could result, which would throw the tidelands issue squarely into politics.

In either event, the Republican National Committee would be certain to recognize the issue in its party plank to be written this mid-year, just as it did in 1948, when it called for state title.

On the one hand, the GOP might call for a law giving the states title; on the other hand, in the event a compromise measure that does not fully satisfy the states has been enacted by convention time, the Republicans might call for revision in favor of the states.

Demos Favor State Title
The Democratic National Committee, both this year and in 1948, appears more friendly toward federal control over the areas. Thus, those Democrats who favor state title will press for the party to ignore the issue altogether, just as it did four years ago.

The drive for legislation to settle the matter, a perennial post-war issue in which the U. S. Supreme Court three times ruled for the federal government, fast is coming to a climax in the Senate. The coming week may spell out whether there will be a law, and if so, what kind of law. Last year the House voted for a state title bill by a heavy majority, making only Senate action and a possible House-Senate compromise needed before the measure goes to the White House.

The significant development of importance in the future, are hinted in the recent site and take of debate on tidelands.

"Conservation" Reasons
One is the agreement between several petroleum companies and the Interior Department recently to go ahead with new drilling in limited areas of the offshore lands for "conservation" reasons. A total of 11 new wells off the Louisiana coast recently received federal approval, it has been disclosed. The companies which applied for and received permits for the drilling—the first permits since Dec. 11, 1950, when Interior assumed control of the offshore lands—include: Magnolia Petroleum Company, Peps Oil Company, Shell Oil Company, Phillips Petroleum Company, and Sun Oil Company.

The resumption of tidelands drilling may indicate not only the need for oil companies to get their idle equipment into use, and a desire to drill offset wells lest oil reservoirs be lost, but a "break-the-ice" pattern that could grow. Significantly, Secretary Chapman has warned he cannot stand idly by and wring his hands waiting for a law.

The other development is the growing concern by senators that if the federal government can take over the offshore lands and the mineral wealth beneath, it also can take over the mineral wealth beneath land areas of the U. S. Pointing this out, Senator Harry P. Cain, (R-Wash.), says there is not a single state that does not have some oil, coal, or other mineral wealth thus in jeopardy.

Petroleum Industry Must Continue To Explore, Develop

WICHITA—Despite the remarkable performance of the petroleum industry in increasing oil production in the past two years, it must continue to intensify its efforts in exploration and development, J. C. Donnell II, president of The Ohio Oil Company and vice-president for production of the American Petroleum Institute, declared.

Speaking to members of the Mid-Continent district of the API's division of production, Donnell emphasized that "adequate supplies of steel and money and without undue interference and excessive taxation by government" the industry will continue to provide an adequate continuous supply of petroleum to meet the nation's requirements.

The Findlay, Ohio, executive was introduced by Harold E. Berg, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Tulsa, Mid-Continent district chairman.

Big Boost
Donnell cited the accomplishments of the quarter-million people engaged in petroleum production in boosting the nation's output from 5,300,000 barrels per day in early 1950 to 7,000,000 barrels per day at the end of 1951, while at the same time increasing proved reserves by almost four billion barrels.

Nevertheless, for the next few years at least, an annual increase of 5,000 well completions should be programmed over the 45,000 wells drilled in 1951, he declared. This is necessary, Donnell said, to provide a productive capacity adequate to meet rising demands and to build up a larger margin in terms of excess productive capacity.

To Go Up
Although expecting the trend of petroleum consumption to continue upward, he noted that there is evidence that demands in any particular year will henceforth be affected by the level of industrial activity more than it has been in the past. He urged that any temporary slackening in demand should not result in curtailed exploration and development drilling until a substantial backlog of excess productive capacity has been built. Under no conditions, he said, should geological and geophysical exploration be reduced.

"A discouraging Washington point of view stems from the presidency of certain governmental personnel in pressing for alleged commercial synthetic oil development," Donnell said.

"While the industry has favored and supported experimental efforts of the U. S. Bureau of Mines to produce liquid fuel from oil shale, governmental intervention should be economic factors rather than governmental factors. The future of synthetic oil production and the end use of the nation's fuel resources," Donnell said.

Money Spent
Discussing the need for adequate funds to develop productive capacity, Donnell pointed out that capital expenditures of about $3,000,000,000 have been made by the production branch of the industry in the past two years.

While the cost of finding new sources of oil had increased through the necessity for greater scientific effort and deeper drilling the most significant factor has been the impact of inflation, he declared. As a result, capital expenditures are far from adequate to cover replacement costs and the deficiency must be made up from earnings.

Depletion
"Percentage depletion makes it possible to reserve funds which would otherwise be paid as income taxes to replace the crude oil reserves being currently produced. The depletion allowance has been criticized as an unwarranted subsidy, but independent studies of the rate of return on investment in the oil industry as compared with other industries refute that allegation," Donnell said.

"Elimination or reduction of this long-established allowance would deprive the industry of funds for the vital, but increasingly costly job of seeking new sources of oil."

Lichens is found all over the world, with only a few species thriving in polar regions. But the same species are found in both Arctic and Antarctic regions.

 block A-28, psi survey, it was finalized for a daily flowing potential of 158-46 barrels of 31-gravity oil through a 1/64-inch tubing choke.
 The discovery made 50 per cent water plus oil on the full 24 hour potential test. Casing pressure was 1,250 pounds and tubing pressure was 300 pounds. The open hole section from 4,310 to 4,390 feet was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.
 This new producer is slightly more than one mile southeast of Hitchcock and Elder No. 1 Dunbar which was completed several weeks ago as a small producer from the San Andres pay above 4,313 feet.

Grisham Deepens One Foot In Gas Well In Culberson

M. A. Grisham No. 1 Grisham fee, Central-East Culberson County wildcat which showed a gas-volume of 40 million cubic feet per day in a one-hour drillstem test at 9,030-54 feet in a lime thought to possibly be Devonian was reported to have deepened one foot to a new bottom at 9,055 feet and was due to take a 12-hour test to that total depth. The operator, located 30 miles northward of Kuyah blew all fluid out of the drill pipe during the test and there was no recovery of pay sort when all of the string was reeled.
 It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 10, block 60, T-2-S, T&P survey. It was started out to go to 9,000 feet or a test of the Devonian at a lesser depth.
 A corrected report on pressures on the drillstem test at 9,030-54 feet showed the open flowing bottom hole pressure to have been from 1,275 pounds to 1,300 pounds. The 22-minute shut-in bottom hole pressure was 4,355 pounds and the hydrostatic pressure was 4,475 pounds.

Peck And Hall Sell Shallow Producers In Crockett Field

Sale of 14 shallow producers in the World field of Central-North Crockett County has been reported. The sale was made by H. C. Peck and G. E. (Blondie) Hall, independent oil operators of Midland to Jack L. Chrysler of the Chrysler Corporation of New York City.
 The producers are on the L. P. Powell leases. They get their oil from the Grayburg of the Permian above 2,600 feet.
 Most of them have been on production for eight or nine years.
 No official information regarding consideration involved in the sale has been released. Unofficial sources say that Chrysler paid approximately $600,000 for the properties.

Mosser Wildcat In East Pecos Drilling After Drillstem Test

H. J. Mosser and others were drilling below 5,263 feet at their No. 1 University, wildcat in East Pecos County, eight miles southeast of Curvan after oil, mud and salt water flowed on a drillstem test in the Pennsylvania.
 The interval tested was from 5-116 to 5,205 feet. Tool was open 50 minutes. Gas surfaced in seven minutes, mud in eight and oil and mud in 15, with the well flowing oil, mud and salt water during the remainder of the test.
 The flow was estimated to be 20 per cent oil and 80 per cent salty mud. Recovery was 3,200 feet of oil-cut salt water.
 Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block 20, University survey.

 A 12-hour swabbing test of the upper Spraberry through perforations from 5,478 to 5,510 feet recovered 14 1/2 barrels of salt water.
 Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 77, block 2, T&P survey.

Wildcats Are Quit In Crockett Area

Two Gulf Stream wildcats six miles south of Barnhart in Crockett County have been plugged and abandoned. The firm's No. 1 University was plugged at 11,803 feet after giving only a slight show of oil in the O'Brien sand at 1,190 feet. Location is 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 22-40-U.
 Gulf Stream No. 2 University was plugged at 1,879 feet after logging the top of the O'Brien at 1,195 feet and the top of the San Andres at 1,875 feet. Location is 2,870 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 22-40-U.
 Malco Refining, Inc., No. 1 Boyd, North Central Eddy County wildcat, six miles southwest of the Dayton field and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14-19-25E, has been abandoned and plugged on total depth of 4,719 feet in lower Permian lime.
 It did not log any shows of possible production.
 Malco No. 2 Boyd is to be an 800-foot exploration in the same section in which the same operator's No. 1 Boyd was drilled. It will be 150 feet west of No. 1 Boyd.
 That puts it 660 feet from south and 1,830 feet from west lines of section 14-19-25E.
 The No. 1 Boyd logged some slight shows of oil in the section above 800 feet—but extended testing on that zone failed to develop any possibilities of commercial production.
 Apparently operator thinks that a new hole might do a better job of making a producer from the shallow zone. Operations are to start at No. 2 Boyd at once.
 George Washington owned a set of the third edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica.
 Bathrooms were first installed in the White House in 1932.

 Malco No. 2 Boyd is to be an 800-foot exploration in the same section in which the same operator's No. 1 Boyd was drilled. It will be 150 feet west of No. 1 Boyd.
 That puts it 660 feet from south and 1,830 feet from west lines of section 14-19-25E.
 The No. 1 Boyd logged some slight shows of oil in the section above 800 feet—but extended testing on that zone failed to develop any possibilities of commercial production.
 Apparently operator thinks that a new hole might do a better job of making a producer from the shallow zone. Operations are to start at No. 2 Boyd at once.

Newbold Morris Is Not Party-Bound, But Truman's Cleanup Man Has Political Ideas

Newbold Morris: Keeps getting his silver foot in his mouth.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—If not being bound to any political party will help, Newbold Morris, new special U. S. attorney charged with cleaning up corruption in federal government, is the man for the job.

Years ago he might have been taken for a Republican. His father was one. And Newbold's first political office was an appointment in 1934 to a Republican-held seat in New York City's Board of Aldermen.

Since then no one, not even the towering 50-year-old Morris himself, seems quite sure of the political convictions of this descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

This apparent instability is traceable to three important influences in Morris' early career:

His almost fanatical worship of New York's late Mayor La Guardia, whose masterful political maneuvering Morris didn't understand but thought he did.

His first wife's devotion to tournament bridge, which Morris didn't enjoy.

The depression, which tied up the Morris wealth somewhat and caused the young scion to seek an outlet for his energy.

Era of Change

The outlet just happened to be politics in an era of political change which put La Guardia in office. Morris has tried to follow the La Guardia pattern. The result has been two defeats as candidate for mayor of New York while running under the entwined banners of the Republican - Fusion - Independent-Liberal and New Deal parties.

While he has been suffering defeats at the polls, Morris has been supporting Republican candidates who have run against the wishes of the party leaders; liberal and independent candidates of many kinds, and even indirectly and directly, Democratic candidates.

Morris says simply: "I'm non-political."

But to those who know him, he is very political. They know he burns with the ambition to be mayor of New York. They know that, if his-

The patch test for tuberculosis will be offered to students of the first, fifth, eighth and twelfth grades beginning at 9 a.m. Monday, Dr. Lex B. Smith, president of the Midland County TB Association, announced Saturday.

A student must have his parents' permission before taking the test, however. Graduate nurses, physicians and the Parent-Teach Association will assist in the testing.

J. C. WILLIAMSON

The Drouth Won't Last Forever

Of course it won't. And we hope it ends soon. When the rains come again, the ranges will bloom, the cattle will be well fed and the sandstorms of our day will be something for our children to tell their grandchildren. But the rains will have very little effect on the amount of water which can be pumped from the ground that gives Midland its own water supply. Midland is drawing its water from an underground reservoir that is not a flowing stream fed by any melting snow and swollen rain-fed streams. This reservoir was accumulated from generations of water seeping slowly through the sands until it hit the impenetrable red-beds. Most of the water is caught by the hot sun and lifted into the atmosphere and that which finally finds refuge in the lower sands is inadequate to fill the continued needs of a growing city like Midland. The problem of finding additional water supplies is a problem facing the city government.

The problem is not solved. I propose to devote considerable time to its solution.

Written By The Journalism Class Of Midland High School

23 Students Will Attend Meeting At Corpus Christi

Twenty-three Midland High School students will journey to Corpus Christi to attend the Texas Association of Student Council meeting which will be held March 27, 28, and 29.

With this group will go Midland's bid for the nomination for vice president of the Texas Association of Student Councils. Although this is MHS's first bid for a state office, Midland's participation in state Student Council work has been outstanding.

MHS's Student Council is the leading and most active organization in the school. The Midland Student Council also has done outstanding work in the West Texas Forum and the South Plains Division of Student Councils.

An extensive program has been planned for the convention by the hosts, Roy Miller High School, Student Council, with the assistance of the United States Navy. Besides the regular program, the Navy has planned a special program. This includes a display of crash boats, an exhibition of aircraft of past and future, and a spectacular air show.

Registration will begin at noon Thursday. This will be followed by a "get-acquainted" party, sponsor's dinner, and a picture show. On the agenda for Friday is breakfast, general assembly, Litchstein's style show, barbecue dinner, discussion groups, sponsors' discussion group, turkey dinner, sponsor's dinner and a dance. Bost rides may be taken throughout the convention. On Saturday the "Navy takes over" with a very special and interesting program.

How Good Is Your Excuse?

"Better think up a good excuse today" could well be the motto of 100 or more students marked tardy over a recent period of 25 days.

One would think that "overslept" and "car trouble" would be put of use after a period of generations, but you stand in the office some morning and listen to some of the excuses.

However, several "modern" students have come up with "didn't have time to eat" and "had to walk clear from the gym."

Humorous though they may seem, these "tardies," caused by a few students, affect almost everyone in school. Tardiness disrupts classes, causing students to completely withdraw their attention from what they are doing. For the teacher it means a loss of planned time for the class and going back over the previous session.

In most cases, for the one who is tardy, it means only a few minutes extra sleep, a good meal, and a gradual development of inefficiency that may mean failure later in life.

Remember, neither tardiness no excuses will buy "bread and butter" when textbooks at Midland High are only memories. Have any better excuses?

Midland Stock Show Is Declared Success

Although the weather was bad, the annual Midland Stock Show turned out to be quite a success, the wind having blown both days of the show hampered the attendance considerably.

The grand champion of the show in the Lamb Division was shown by Forrar Hedges, while reserve champion honors went to Tommy Brown.

Clublicity

The Music Appreciation Club was called to order by Betty Campbell, who also called the roll. Evelyn Keel then took over the program. Carol Ann Wilkinson gave the life of Cole Porter, the topic of the program. Joan Lipscomb and Virginia Wilkinson played a duet, "Begin the Beguine," by Cole Porter. Kay Colwick played "The Flight of the Bumble Bee." This piece concluded the program.

The Thespians Play was called to order by the president, Joe Turner, and the roll called by the secretary, Maxine Hill. Vera Harris then gave a financial report on the Thespians Play which was a big hit.

In Brush & Palette the students worked on various projects that had started at some earlier date. Some of these projects are tooling portraits for the contest play, and posters for the cheerleader try-outs. There is some very good work done in our art classes and everybody is invited to come up and see it whenever they can.

Posters Request Students To Vote For Cheerleaders

Many attractive posters have been in the halls of Midland High School for the last two weeks. These posters urge students to vote for cheerleaders.

Tryouts for this important position will be held Tuesday. It is undecided whether four or five positions will be open. Sadie Nugent will serve as head cheerleader.

Requirements for this outstanding office are: the student must be passing three solid subjects and cannot make below an "F" in citizenship.

Those trying out are Carole Loop, Nona Lynn, Faye Henshaw, Tommie Underwood, Barbara McMillan, Sharon Herrell, Othanna Gaddberry, Diana Nichols, Grace Boles, Anna Bess Doyle, Tom Dyer, Bill Crenshaw, Eddie Tanner, Donna Howard, Phyllis Pryor, Betty Sivalis, Bill Mayfield, Mary Ann Hill, Bobbie Elliott, Shirley Burnham, Charles Worthen and Jim TenEyck.

If there are those who wish to try out and have not given their name to Sadie Nugent, please do so as soon as possible.

TO CONDUCT CLINIC Delbert Bowles of Hardin-Simmons University will conduct a clinic for the Cappella Choir March 24. He conducted a clinic for the choir last year and members of the choir are looking forward to his return visit.

part in the discussion are Larry Mayfield, Corky Moss, Virginia Kroenline and Roberta Stewart.

Alan Harris and his band will go with the Midland delegation. The band is scheduled to provide entertainment during the meal on Friday. The band consists of Pat Douglass, Horace Greenstreet, Alan Harris, Charles Worthen, Jimmy McClatchy and Jimmy Smith.

The group will leave Midland early Wednesday morning by bus and expects to arrive in Corpus Christi that night. They will return Sunday.

Students Make Up Chorus For Community Theater

A chorus in Japanese costumes, singing story-telling songs, furnished a background for the story of the Mikado. In the make-up of Japanese actors it was difficult to recognize Midland High School students in the chorus: Sally Breeze, Sherry Page, Mona Sue Biggs, Earline Hancock, James Weathered, and Robert Stubbsman who joined the Community Theater players in the presentation of the Mikado this last week.

The Gilbert and Sullivan light opera was gay and entertaining. It portrayed the troubles of Nanki-Poo's love affair with Yum-Yum. Ko-Ko, Lord High Commissioner, her guardian, wished to marry her himself. Nanki-Poo posed as a minstrel but was really the son of the Mikado of Japan. Katisha, an el-

Presenting Patsy Edgmon, a freshman, who enjoys activities of the Half-Timers, also likes to bowl and see the movies especially June Allyson. Tropical countries appeal to Patsy, Florida and Hawaii, where she can swim the year around.

Carol Franks, enjoys many activities which include sewing, 4-H Club, swimming, art, typing, window-shopping, dancing, and music. This junior hopes to become an efficient secretary and live in Midland.

Mary Kobels has a brother, Chester, graduating this year. Mary, a sophomore, expects to go to New York this summer and she will long remember the tour of 11 southern states last summer. Art interests Mary and she hopes to pursue it for a livelihood.

Has Three Hobbies Franklin Easley, a sophomore, who has always attended Midland schools has three hobbies: girls, football and ping pong. Coach Higdon and the sports program interest Franklin more than anything else in school.

Bessie Franks, a sophomore and native Midlander, likes the life on a ranch and specializes in home economics. She has been preceded in school by Ila Merle in 1946; Alfred and Bill. Volley ball is her favorite sport.

Don Forrest is a junior and brother of Marjann of 1951 who will be remembered for her activities in MHS. Don hopes to study at Texas Tech and become an engineer. He enjoys working on cars, hunting, and football.

Charlotte Frasher who comes from Kilgore is a sophomore and has a sense of humor. She lists one of her teachers as her favorite historical figure. Tennis, horseback riding, Spanish, John Wayne, Oklahoma, and Chryslers are rated tops with Charlotte.

Martha Forest, a sophomore, has an unusual hobby: "studying Texas history." She hopes to become a singer, attend Baylor, travel Alaska, live in California and play golf. Mexican food is enjoyed after seeing a movie of Clark Gable.

Robinson Addresses MHS Students On 'Liberty, Justice'

In an assembly March 17, George B. Robinson, Sr., spoke to the student body. Robinson's speech was illustrated by a set of charts entitled, "Liberty and Justice for All!"

Topics which were discussed and displayed on the charts were: "Good Americans Practice Liberty and Justice for All," "Alcohol and Safe Driving," "Alcohol Impairs Thinking," "Alcohol and Your Job," "Alcohol and Economics," and "Alcohol and Social Problems," and "Alcohol and Athletics."

Robinson has been working in the field of narcotics education for 15 years. He has also served as a Boy Scout executive for 18 years and worked in public recreation for five years. His home is in Lincoln, Neb., and he worked from Washington, D. C.

He presented a book, "Some Notes on the Alcohol Problem," to the Midland High School Library. During the last week, Robinson spoke to several classes in Midland High School.

Speech Classes Are Busy Again

The first year speech classes are once again busy with their annual story telling. This is the time of year the first year speech students prepare children's stories for which they not only get a grade but also have the opportunity to tell their stories with audiences made up of students from the elementary schools.

These stories are mostly the ones that we all heard as a child. Some of the students are adding a little ingenuity and writing a story of their own. Art ability also is required in this course as most of the students are drawing illustrations to add interest to their story, and a few ambitious art students are being kind enough to draw the illustrations for them.

The third period speech class also is working on an assembly which they will probably present in the near future. It will be constituted of choral reading, something that will be new in Midland High School.

Of these she lists dramatics and journalism her favorite subjects. Madelon also is society editor of your school paper.

When asked what school she plans to attend next year she said Gulf Park. But, no matter where she goes we know she will always be an outstanding example to others.

By HAROLD ATKINSON The Midland High School golf and track team journeyed to Fort Worth for the Southwestern high school meet. The golf team placed fifth with Marcelino Moreno shooting the lowest score. The track team failed to place in the meet with the exception of Roy Kinsey who won first place in the 440-yard dash.

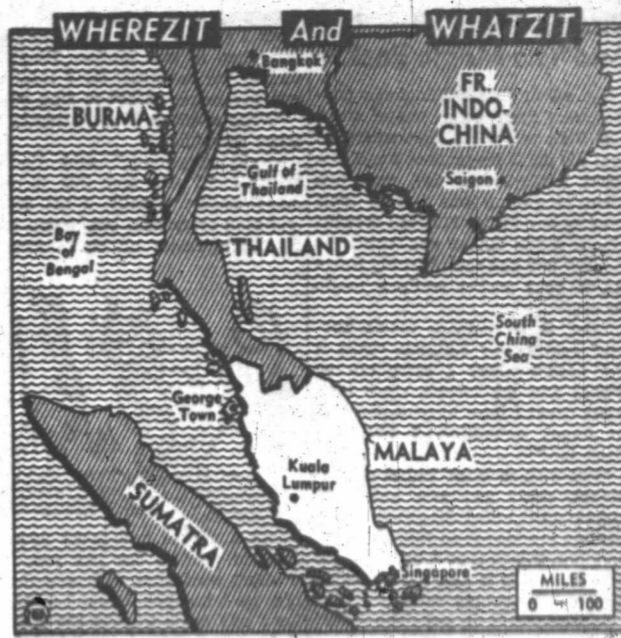

The golf team expects to improve as the season moves on and many of the boys on the track team have just finished Spring training drills and are not yet in their best form.

The tennis team is practicing for a meet to be held in San Angelo. As yet only the girls have finished qualifying for the meet. Pat Boles and Nancy Roberts qualified for the girls senior doubles, Fifi Pryor qualified for the senior girls singles, and the boys still have to finish their qualifying matches.

Junior High Band Presents Concert

Tuesday night, the 120 members of the Junior high school band, under the direction of Robert Glans, presented their annual concert in the high school auditorium.

The program consisted of: "Bempe Fiddles," a march, by Sousa; "Eroica," by Beethoven; "Autumn Nocturne Overture," by Merle Isaac; "Bride of the Waves," by Clark, a cornet solo by Bill Summers; "Excerpts from Tchaikowsky's Fifth Symphony;" "Two Moods Overture" by Grundeman; "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," by Guy; a bass solo played by Gene Adkins; "Three Bears," a novelty arrangement by Yoder; "Stormy Weather," a fantasy, by Koehler, and "Washington Post" a march by Sousa.

THE FEDERATION OF MALAYA, born in a state of emergency under the British crown in 1948, is the scene of one of the "little wars" of Southeast Asia. Some 3000 to 5000 Communist guerrillas have kept up a reign of terror, despite efforts of 100,000-plus British regulars, colonial and native forces to wipe them out. Malaya came under British protection in the early 18th century and under British rule near the end of the century it was our own Auto Age that saw the country develop into one of the world's richest suppliers of raw materials—most notably rubber and tin. In Malaya's roaring Twenties and Thirties, the capital city of Kuala Lumpur ("rubber capital of the world") doubled in size, to 140,000, and took on a strong European flavor. Just before World War II, Malaya was supplying three-fourths of our tin and three-fifths of our rubber—economic facts that proved extremely disconcerting when the Japanese overran the entire peninsula, including the highly-valued British naval base at Singapore. Despite the terrorism of Red guerrillas, Malaya manages to keep its economy going. It is still the British Empire's chief earner of dollars. British planters live in flood-lighted, barbed-wire enclosures, and travel in armored cars, against Red ambush—such as that which killed the British High Commissioner, Sir Henry Gurney, last fall. And the 2,500,000 native Malaysians and 1,800,000 Chinese continue to plod their leisurely way, not taking with great fervor to either side in the East-West struggle that swirls about them.

Free Lance

By THE EDITOR What are you giving to God? A very wise prophet once said, "What we are is God's gift to us; what we become is our gift to God."

Have you ever seriously thought about that? Try to imagine if you were wrapped in a foil paper, tied with a satin ribbon, and presented to God, would you be aglow with kindness, good deeds, clean thoughts and actions, and an unwavering love for your Maker, or would you be tarnished by your smutty thoughts and your unbecoming actions which would be evidence to the fact that you could not have much love for God, nor could you deserve his love for you?

In this day when wars, crimes, juvenile delinquency cases, and other forms of corruption are at an all-time high, it would help many of us to feed on these words of wisdom, which are really good food for thought, before embarking on any new adventure.

Try To Decide Ask yourself if what you are about to do will be an asset to you, or if it will serve only as a blot against your character. Try to—decide whether you are adorning yourself as a beautiful package for the Heavenly Father, or whether you are merely wrapping yourself in a dirty brown paper bag.

If you really haven't begun to formulate your gift to God, you should start now. Begin this very minute so that when the time for your presentation arrives, you will be a bright, shining, wholesome gift that will indeed please the Receiver, our Creator—The Westerner World.

Senior girls, remember if you are interested in the scholarship offered by the AAUW, send your letters to the chairman by April 12.

Small Talk

By THE SNOOPER The biggest job of writing a column of this type is trying to think up an appropriate beginning, and the most appropriate beginning I know "Hi, So, Hi!"

Well, happy St. Patrick's Day! I almost forgot to wear green. Heard many comments on Ann Arick's little St. Patrick's Day emblem that she was wearing. It was a tiny St. Patrick's Cathedral carved with all the tiny little details. Very cute.

Have you noticed the way Emily Hamilton waves her hands when she talks? If you haven't, make a special point to do it. Speaking of Emily, why not ask her if she enjoyed her Monday night bath?

If you want to stay on the good side of Mrs. Inez Winton, Librarian, don't mention flat tires in her presence. It seems that while Mrs. Winton was in Odessa at the recent teacher's meeting, some people with an odd sense of humor let all the air out of three of her tires, and punctured the fourth one.

The current fad in MHS is changing the color of one's hair. John Skidmore dyed his blonde hair black. Don Roderick peroxidized the front of his brown hair, and Basil Weaver gave his crowning glory a complete peroxide job.

Billy Jewell's brand new hot-rod has been the subject of many of the boys' admiring glances lately. That crafty little bumber has all the "hot-rod" trimmings including dual carburetors, dual exhausts and dual manifolds. Girls get some mechanic-missed boy to explain these terms to you, as I wouldn't attempt. It was explained in detail to me, but it was all I could do to spell them out.

Will somebody please tell me what holds Virginia Webb's interest in Amarillo so well? Virginia has made a trip to that town for the last two weekends.

Many MHS students took part in the "Mikado," a light opera presented by the Community Theater and Midland Music Club. It was a very enjoyable and entertaining performance.

"Decking the halls with campaign posters" has been the slogan of a great many students lately. Cheerleader tryouts will be held sometime this month, and everyone is putting out their best to win. Noticed a very original poster in the downstairs hall. It was done entirely in small matches! The matches formed the design, and the "vote for" slogan.

Education-Business Week in Midland was celebrated in MHS by visiting downtown business people to visit the school.

Thought for the week: It is better to give than to lend, and it costs about the same. Bye now...

Remember When?

One year ago: The MHS golf team, consisting of Graham Mackey, John Ward, Roan Pruitt, and Ray Leggett took top honors at the Fort Worth meet. Corky (Horace Volt) Moss was the featured student. Cheerleaders were to try out Wednesday of the coming week. Students were enjoying their Easter holidays. Seventeen teachers left town for the Easter holidays.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And The Magic Pocket

Not all of Daddy Ringtail's pockets were magic—just one of them was. This was the pocket where he kept his tickle finger that I told you about Friday. One day, long ago when Mugwump was a very little monkey boy, Daddy Ringtail brought him a tickle finger and the little monkey boy had said: "Daddy Ringtail, is your pocket really a magic pocket?"

"Yes, it is really a magic pocket," said Daddy Ringtail. "This is the pocket where I carry all my wishes and my secrets. Once in a while when I have to remember not to forget something, I put that there too."

"But with so many things in your pocket, don't you ever get them mixed up?" asked Mugwump. "My pockets are always so full of strings and just things that I have to take everything out to find the one thing I want," Mugwump said.

"Sometimes I do get them mixed up," Daddy Ringtail said. "Let me tell you. One day, just as I was leaving the monkey house, Mother Ringtail told me to bring home something when I came back. But when I started home I had forgotten what it was. Mother Ringtail wanted me to bring. So I reached into my magic pocket to find out.

"What is there, Daddy Ringtail?" asked Mugwump.

"Well, Mugwump," said Daddy Ringtail. "I felt and felt in my magic pocket. Finally, I sat down and took everything out. There was my tickle finger all right. And I found a wish I had made upon a star for a little boy like you, but I didn't need that wish any more, because I had you. I found a promise I had made to take the Hufflepuff to the seashore. I had carried that promise so long it was almost worn out, but I tucked it back in my pocket and the very next day I took the Hufflepuff to the seashore. Finally, down at the very bottom of my magic pocket I found what it was I had been trying to remember. So I went to the coconut tree and got two of the biggest coconuts I could find, because that was what Mother Ringtail had asked me to bring home."

And that's the story of Daddy Ringtail and his magic pocket—just as he told it to Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, when he was a very little fellow. Has anyone at your house a magic pocket? You might ask about it, if you don't know.

Threat Of Sharp Cutback In Light Construction Fades

The threat of a further sharp cutback in home building and other light construction in Midland has disappeared as a result of decisions announced in Washington, according to Paul McHargue, general manager of the A&L Housing and Lumber Company and a member of the Public Affairs Committee of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

"Allotments of copper for homes using a copper plumbing system have been reduced slightly, but, on the other hand, contractors can self-certify more carbon steel than was permitted in recent months for stores, schools, farm structures, and other non-residential buildings," McHargue said.

"Structural steel and aluminum will not be used for home building, except where the metals come in manufactured building products for which the government makes special allotments.

"However, the quantities of non-structural steel and copper which builders can acquire through the self-certification plan are sufficient to permit the construction of quality homes containing as many as three bedrooms and two complete bathrooms if the scarce metals are used only where necessary.

"Lumber and other non-controlled materials are in ample supply for use in any type of building.

"Nationally, it is expected that as many as 900,000 new homes will be built this year, or about 75 to 80 per cent as many as in 1951. Locally, as many or more will be built.

"The more liberal allowance of steel for commercial construction will make it possible to undertake somewhat larger buildings than could be started in the last six months," the Midland lumberman said.

Many Ways To Fix Sticking Door

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

There are few things more exasperating than a sticking door. Until you learn whether to put your weight on the knob or to lift up on it to open the door, you may lose several finger nails and the better part of your disposition.

Prime cause of sticking doors is poorly-placed hinges. Doors also stick when the door has warped out of shape and doesn't fit the frame, and when the frame has changed shape until it no longer fits the door.

To check, push the door closed and examine the gap between the door and the frame all the way around. If the space is narrow on one side and wide on the other the hinges may be set wrong on the door. Doors that fit correctly when hung may swell until they are too large for the opening of the frame. Check for cracks in the plaster around the door. Cracks usually are evidence that the frame has shrunk or settled and is binding the door at one or more points.

There isn't much to be done with a frame that has changed shape without dismantling it. Make the corrections on the door itself.

Check Hinges
Check the hinges by removing the pins and taking the door out of the frame. If the hinge plates on either the door or the frame are loose, they must be tightened. If the wood is too worn around the screws, either use longer screws or plug the holes and reset the hinge plates.

If the door sticks along the "lock" side, cut the hinge recesses longer on the door and reset. If the high spot on the door is on the "hinge" side, it is probably because the hinges are set too deeply. Remove both plates of the hinge and put cardboard under them and replace. If the lower outside corner sticks, put cardboard under the lower hinge to lift the corner.

Plane Off Edge
If the door is swollen because of moisture, remove the door from the frame and plane it down on the hinge side until it fits the frame freely. If it still hangs at the top, lower it on the hinges or if it sticks at the bottom because of a warped or damaged threshold, plane off the bottom edge. As you will be planing across the grain, be careful or you will split the edge. If the amount to be removed is slight, it will be better to use sandpaper or a block.

In adjusting the door so that it will open, you may have raised or lowered it to the point where the lock misses the plate on the frame. Remove the plate from the frame and enlarge the square hole in the frame and replace the plate in the proper position.

Homeowner Should Plan Now For Painting Outside Porches

Plans should be made now for painting the porch of the house, so that work can be done and the porch ready for the family to enjoy in the mild weather ahead.

Best time to paint the porch is during a dry spell when the ground has a minimum of moisture. To avoid moisture seepage later, coat the underside of floor and steps with fibrated roof coating. If steps are cupped, drilled a few half-inch holes in the treads to aid water drainage.

Proper preparation of surfaces is important for a good, durable job. Porch and steps should be washed with soap and water and rinsed. Scrape off loose particles with a stiff scraping knife, and remove any grease with paint thinner. To give the new enamel a "tooth" on which to cling, sand all surfaces lightly with No. 00 sandpaper.

MARBLES—Mike Capon, left, winces a little as his companion, Walter John Miller, takes careful aim at one of Mike's best marbles. Playing marbles is one of the youngsters' favorite seasonal pastimes, but it must share the limelight with roller skating, kite flying and a host of other Springtime games.

SPRING'S HERE—Spring made its official entrance Thursday. And, in spite of March's wind and sand, there were several sure signs that it was here. When a fellow gets sweet on a girl, for instance, that's one sign of Spring. And when his gallantry goes so far as to include totin' her books—as depicted by Jeff Edwards and Virginia Katherine Ross—well, you can be sure the season is at hand. There are other unmistakable signs of Spring, of course. Flowers, trees and lawns in Midland show the effect of "green-up" time. Little boys day dream in classes and big boys think wistfully of taking a day off for golf or fishing. Thoughts of housewives turn to Spring cleaning and Easter outfits. Love, though, is the season's first and most traditional sign. Jeff and Virginia, who consented to model for the picture, are students at North Elementary School.

IT'S A HOMER!—The batter gets ready to strike at a high one, while a couple of feminine admirers watch the action closely. Such after-school games, complete with the feminine spectators, are typical Springtime scenes in almost every city.

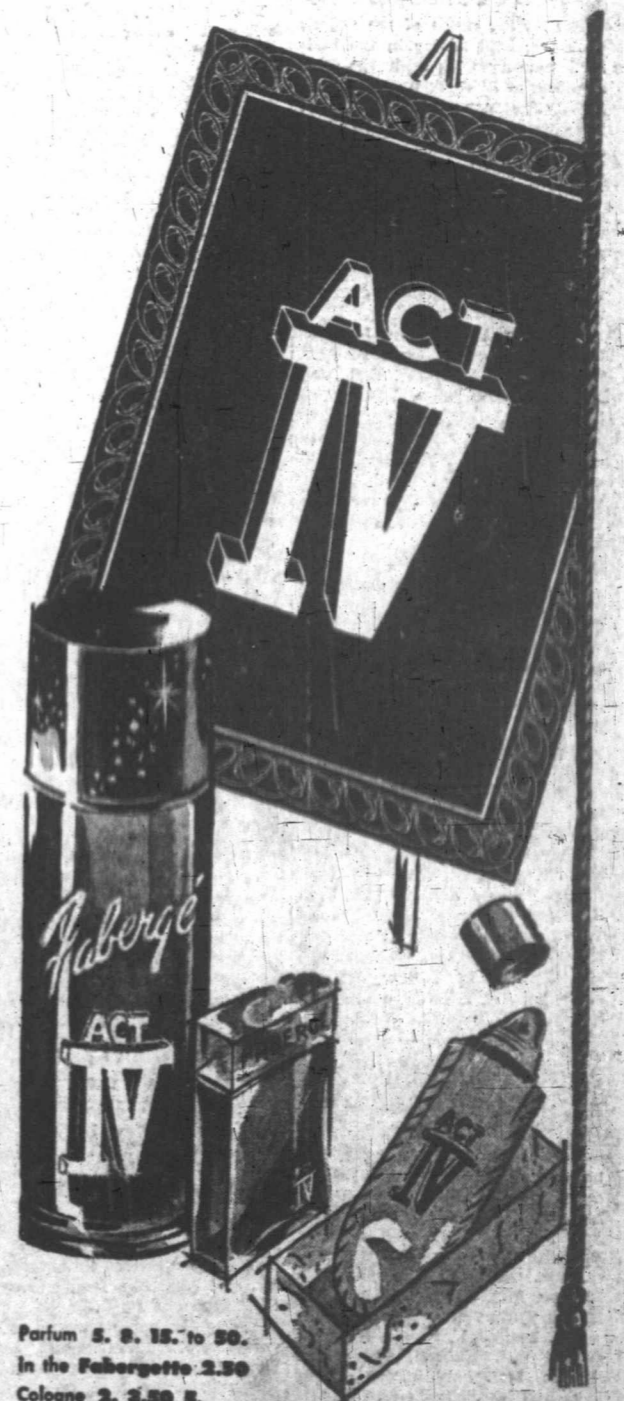

Sure Signs Of Spring

PICNIC WEATHER—There's something about those first warm days that encourages every family to pack a picnic lunch and head for the great outdoors. Here, four-year-old Randy Jones and his sister, Diane, help their mother, Mrs. A. W. Jones, pack a picnic basket for a family outing. Judging from the look on Randy's face, the basket must be filled with such picnic favorites as fried chicken and potato salad. The picture was taken in the Jones home at 410 West Parker Street. Diane, just turned seven years old, is a first grader at David Crockett Elementary School.

BLOSSOM TIME—High on the list of popular Springtime activities is gardening. As soon as the last freeze thaws, the gardeners begin collecting hoes, rakes and other equipment for their annual expedition into the yard. Mrs. B. R. Mathews, pictured above, tries out her "green thumb" on some iris plants. Mrs. Mathews is interested in all kinds of gardening, but her special hobby is growing asters, a plant which often is difficult to grow in this area. A member of the Yucca Garden Club, she is pictured in the yard of her home at 1901 West Ohio Street.

Miss Garner Will Represent Texas in Europe Scout Camp

Dorothy Garner, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Gervais J. Garner of San Antonio, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Porter of Midland, is one of four girls to represent the U. S. in the International encampment of Girl Scouts in Denmark this summer.

The pretty 19-year-old is a sophomore at Texas State College for Women. She was chosen by the National Committee of Girl Scouts to attend the Ekskildstrup, Sealand, Denmark, Danish National Camp, July 8 through 17.

Miss Garner was selected on merit qualifications of Girl Scouts and community services.

Others attending the encampment will be Sonja Mae Hess of Huntington, W. Va., Patricia Jane Field of Pleasant Garden, N. C. and Norma Jean Adams of Portland, Ore.

The girls will sail from New York June 30, aboard the SS America.

Born in Fort Sam Houston in 1933, Miss Garner was graduated from Jefferson High School in San Antonio. While in high school she was a bluebonnet girl at the state meeting in Austin which is sponsored by the American Legion.

In the girls state government she was a city chairman, county judge of the county government and secretary of the state in state government.

She was elected parliamentarian of the high school Student Council in Mobile, Abilene and El Paso. In her sophomore year she won a tennis letter and the Daughters of the American Revolution good citizenship award in 1950.

She was the Jefferson High School representative in the TGIA coronation at Kingsville and a colonel in the Girls Cadet Corps.

The sociology major at TSCW is president of the sophomore class and is one of the four delegates to the state convention of the government association at El Paso.

Before attending TSCW, she was president of the Senior Girl Scouts and attended the counselor training course at Camp La Jita.

She recently was one of the Rosebud princesses at college.

BOUND FOR EUROPE—The six Midlanders shown above scan the world globe for the names of places they will visit on their forthcoming trip to Europe. They are, left to right, Alma Faye Cowden, Norma Jean Hubbard, Essie Stafford, Mary Lee Cowden, Elizabeth Ann Cowden and Barbara York. The group will leave Wednesday for New York where they will spend five days before sailing on the USS Constitution for Europe. Countries to be visited include Spain, France, Italy, Belgium, England, Scotland, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Norway, Denmark and Sweden. They plan to return on the Queen Elizabeth.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK — Joe Smith walked into his office last week with a smile on his face. Into a staff meeting he went, still wearing that grin—and when Joe grins, he just seems to radiate sunshine. The other fellows in the meeting looked downcast, tired and even sleepy. They stared at Joe in wonder. One of them muttered something about wondering how in the world a man could look so cheerful just after paying his income tax. Joe felt he owed them an explanation. "You see, my friends," he said sincerely, "I'm one of those odd persons who likes to give back to my government some of the value it has given me. Sure, it has its faults, so have I. But the government is US, you know. And anything that is changed about it will have to be done by us. All of us."

The baseball season hasn't started yet, but the local nnyons have a run in Women shoppers and office workers in the neighborhood of Pennsylvania Station complain of an unusual number of holes and runs in their nylon stockings, all in the space of a few hours after they enter the section. A convention at one of the hotels there reported that a fourth of the women present had unplained runs in their nylon socks. It has been suggested that gas or smoke fumes might have affected the hose, as has been known to be the case in other cities at times. Anyway, as they say at the end of a baseball game—the run's are in.

A local editor was telling a young man aspiring to be a writer how Zane Grey wrote continuously for seven years before he sold a word; whereas, the height of his fame, he made $300,000 a year. E. Phillips Oppenheim wrote a book when he was twenty but did not sell his writings to amount to anything until he was forty. Edgar Wallace tried to sell a book to a publisher for $25, but was refused. Since then, that book has sold four million copies. To which the young man answered that these men were geniuses, that he was just an ordinary writer, so he guessed he'd go back to selling shoes.

Varsitians Play For Dance Of Coterie Club

The Spring dance of the Coterie Club was held Friday in the Midland County Club with the Varsity of Lubbock furnishing the music. Most couples for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paup, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom West and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore.

Now men can wear coats comparable to minks. In the 5th Avenue shop window, I saw an overcoat advertised for the mere sum of $385 so I went inside and asked how much it cost to look at it. The clerk was good-natured. He'd heard that remark before. But he did explain that the coat was made from the fur of a vicuña, a South American animal with scarce fur and that is hard to catch to boot. I thanked him—especially for his last remark: "Don't buy one if the government is going to investigate you!"

The magazine, American Business, feeling that eating is an important business of the people of this country—especially when it now is such an expensive habit—conducted a poll to see what were the most popular restaurants in the U. S. Seven thousand replies were received. Here are the top ten restaurants in the order of their popularity: Old Original Bookbinders, Philadelphia; Antonio's, New Orleans; Miller Brothers, Baltimore; Arnolds, New Orleans; Locke-Ober Cafe, Boston; Keen's Chop House, New York City; Barney's Market Grill, Chicago; Charlie's Cafe, Minneapolis; Durgin Park, Boston; Mader's, Milwaukee; Krebs, Skaneateles, N. Y.; Harry's Cafe, Minneapolis; Pump Room, Chicago; and Occidental, Washington, D. C.

Well, it's been about 1,500 years now since that man Herodotus made his famous remark about our mailmen: "Neither rain, nor hail, nor snow nor gloom of night, stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," but his words are just as true as ever. Not that our mailmen existed then, but somebody's did. And somehow I think it's pretty nice when that public servant in grey jogs up to the front door in all weather, using the same means of transportation that Herodotus did, bringing your letters and your newspaper. He's as American as pumpkin pie and just as welcome.

It's getting harder than ever to drive a car in New York City. Most folks leave their cars at home. Look Magazine is doing a commendable job of calling attention to the fact that in the U. S. motorists wear out two miles of highway for every mile being built. That our streets were made for horses and buggies; and that the money we pay for highways is not being used by the states for them as it should.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert LeBlond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chambers, Wesson Harris, Anne Tolbert, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Linehan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayes, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Younger and Mr. and Mrs. Bol Bunnell.

Seventy-five per cent of the proceeds will be used to aid Midland County Children, Mrs. Douglas said. Presbyterian Class Adopts Tiny Greek Child, Evangelia

Evangelia Karkoura, a four-year-old Greek girl, has been adopted. And her foster parents live in Midland.

The Circle Sunday School Class of the First Presbyterian Church adopted Evangelia through the

Evangelia Karkoura

Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc. The class is taught by Mrs. Ernest Sidwell.

The Foster Parents' Plan does not do mass relief but treats each child as an individual. The "adoption" is financial. The Sunday School Class will send $15 a month toward the child's support.

At present the Circle L Class is preparing a box of food and clothing to send to their "adopted daughter."

Evangelia is the youngest of four children, born in Ghorghlanades, a village of Karpenisak, where the father worked in the fields.

Area Attacked

Before the baby was born the area was attacked by the rebel forces and the father fled for Karpenisak to avoid being seized by them. His wife and children stayed in the village awaiting the child's birth.

When the father returned for his family he was shot by a rebel sniper. The rebels stole all their animals and the mother and children fled to Karpenisak to live with a relative.

Later they were able to return to their native village and they are living in a two-room house with the grandmother. The floor is of wood and the roof leaks. There is no furniture and the six people sleep, eat and cook on the floor. They have a cow, donkey and a few chickens and a little land from which they try to make a living.

Through the generosity of the Midlanders who have adopted Evangelia will be assured of the nourishing food, clothing and medical care she needs.

"I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," O'Hara. Will be sung by Everett Shippi, bass. The First Presbyterian Church Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Miller, will sing "Them We Adore," an ancient plain song by Fandlyn, and "God, Be In My Head," Davies.

Other selections on the program will be "Twenty-third Psalm," Creation, sung by Mary Jane Noland, soprano; "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte-Maisedo, Joy Shaw, harpist; and "Psalms," sung by George Van Huen, tenor.

Garden Club Council To Sponsor Flower Show Judging School

The Midland Council of Garden Clubs will sponsor a Flower Show Judging School Wednesday and Thursday in the Midland Officers Club. The school will be held from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. each day.

The MATURE PARENT

Recognize Your Envy Of Carefree Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

From 6:30 a.m. to 4:05 p.m.; I have done these things: Prepared two school lunches and four breakfasts; located a mislaid mitten and income tax blank; washed dishes; dusted; dust-mopped; made three beds; hung up bathrobes and pajamas; sewed on two loose buttons; emptied three wastebaskets and collected clothes for the cleaner; polished the bathroom mirror; screwed the top on the toothpaste; mopped under the washbowl and sorted tomorrow's laundry; eaten a sandwich and swallowed two mouthfuls of tea; delivered the clothes to the cleaner; and bought meat, vegetables, fruit, detergent and a roll of waxpaper.

With these spoils of my supermarket battle spilling over a large brown bag in my arms, I stagger home at 4:05 p.m. to behold my daughter sprawled on the living room rug. She is absorbed in a story about a Persian Prince and a winged horse of ebony. Around her are the crumbs of oatmeal cookies.

In her hand a glass that has held milk and her nine-year-old feet prance the air.

Even in my own ears, I sound like a shrew. "Get up off the floor!" I cry. "What do you think I am—a slave in this house? Wash that glass! Get those crumbs swept up! Move!"

Were the young creature in the living room a puppy, not a child, I would not be enraged by his play. No matter how heavy my grocery bag, the sight of him chasing cats would fill me with warm and benign emotion. Why do you suppose the sight of my human young's entranced face and empty cookie tin fill me with such ferocity?

It could not possibly be that I envy the child's fun as I could not possibly envy the puppy, could it? It could not be that I who have worked so hard all day to prove myself a fine, conscientious wife and mother have felt sudden, violent jealousy of someone who can lie on her stomach, read fairy tales and kick her legs in the air—or could it?

ner with which we have treated his irresponsibility.

Thus, what I do, as my daughter sweeps up the crumbs from the rug, is to hold the dustpan for her and say, "I lost my temper just now because I was jealous of you. When I saw you having such a good time with your book and the cookies, I wanted to be reading a fairy tale myself instead of holding an armful of groceries. Just for a minute, I wanted to be nine years old like you. It didn't last long because I really enjoy being grownup. If I weren't grown up, for instance, how could I have you?"

The bad thing about this envy of childhood is that, unchecked, it can get out of control. Then we really get to thinking of ourselves as broken-spirited truck horses. This is not too good an image of oneself to have—it makes us behave as though we think we're good for nothing but carrying heavy loads. That's an idea that even our closest and dearest should never be permitted to entertain.

The total result is that we get so fouled up in feeling sorry for ourselves that the young give us up as poor propositions for trust or confidence. Our envy of childhood ends up by romanticizing it so that we become blind to the very real struggles and hardships of this time of life—and our term of leadership is over.

Preacher Builds Church And Congregation, Too

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—(AP)—A hosiery mill worker-turned Church of God preacher—has become something of a 20th century Johnny Appleseed who plants churches.

When John D. Smith heard the call to preach seven years ago, he had no church and no congregation. With 10 friends who formed his original flock, he set out to build his own church.

Some of the friends had connections in the construction business. They were invaluable in the building of a stone structure which was named the Alton (Chattanooga) Church of God.

Smith, who had never before laid a stone, was on the job every day as a laborer.

The new preacher's sermons and spirit attracted followers rapidly. But when the congregation had grown to 351 members, three years ago, Smith set out for new fields. He chose the nearby East Ridge district, where he had been born.

Smith borrowed money to buy a lot. A short time later he was offered a $900 profit for the property. He sold it and bought several lots.

Started In Tent
Again without a congregation, he erected a tent and held Sunday meetings, working weekdays on the foundation of his church.

He had never laid a brick but one of his new followers gave him lessons. Soon he was working late into the night. Youngsters of the neighborhood dropped by to watch and Smith persuaded them to mix mortar and carry bricks.

The church was completed recently, three years after it was started. Smith says "If the church has 50,000 bricks in it, I guess I laid 45,000." Building Worth $75,000.

Members of the congregation, now grown to 254, estimate the value of the building at $75,000. Smith, who doesn't count his own labor, says the cost to his followers will be $35,000.

The congregation had expected Smith to settle down after building a church in the place of his boyhood. A few days ago, however, they were surprised by an announcement:

Their preacher is leaving to build up a church near Decatur, Ala.

Princess Of Choctaw Indian Tribe Is Midland Visitor

Midland had a distinguished visitor last week—a real Indian princess. She is Princess Star of Evening, princess of the Choctaw Indian Tribe. Her legal name is Mrs. Tony Lyons.

Mrs. Lyons was a guest of Mrs. Charles Sherwood, Mr. and Mrs. Lyons live at Evening Star Lodge, Tepee Trail, Holdenville, Okla. Mrs. Lyons is an authentic Indian Princess, having documents to that effect from two official Chiefs of the Choctaw Indian Nation. She also is the "Official Good Will Ambassador" of the Choctaws.

In the role of good will ambassador Mrs. Lyons has lectured before many clubs in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. In the Fall Mrs. Lyons will speak to the L. William Brewer Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Midland. She also collects contributions for the Choctaw Indian Orphanage in Goodland, Okla. The orphanage is supported by the Presbyterian Churches.

Her lectures are demonstrated by a large collection of jewelry, costumes, game implements and Indian handicraft. While in Midland her costumes and jewelry were on display in Mrs. Sherwood's home. Princess Star of Evening was born in Choctaw Indian Nation, Indian Territory, USA. This location now is known as Hilltop, Okla. Her parents were Dr. and Mrs. P. J. McClure. Her mother was the first woman postmaster of the Choctaw Nation, Indian Territory in 1897.

An ancient tradition in the history of the Choctaw is the custom of the chief naming the Choctaw. He is named in relation to some outstanding incident of early life, some achievement or prominent trait possessed by the individual.

A proud and sensitive descendant of the mighty Choctaws came one day to her chief. She was young and chose to be true to her birth. She was eager to serve her people and continue their traditions. The chief named this descendant Star of Evening. The Choctaw interpretation of this is a purpose for high endeavor and lofty ideals. Mrs. Lyons has two sons and one daughter, Pale Moon, White Eagle and Rising Sun.

Mrs. Lyons has just completed a lecture tour. She and her husband will return to their home in Holdenville.

New Order Plans Pygmies' Conversion

LEOPOLDVILLE, BELGIAN CONGO—(AP)—A newly-founded order of nuns is undertaking, with the approval of the Vatican, to Christianize the Belgian Congo pygmies.

Because of their shyness and lack of stability, they have so far escaped any missionary work among them. The Little Sisters of Jesus, have now established their first mission station in the Central Congo jungle near Beni. Their first task will be to nurse sick pygmies brought to the mission hospitals in order to learn their languages. They will later move to their base camp in the jungle and visit the small settlements of pygmies.

Electronic Brain Is Taught To Sing

NEW YORK—(AP)—The electronic brain at Manchester University in England has been taught to sing "God Save the Queen," the British Information Service reports.

"The mechanical creature is given a coded version of the score, which interprets, then constructs the necessary waveform to give effect to its interpretation. There is no sort of recording or phonograph in the machine," said the Earl of Halsbury, managing director of the National Research Development Corporation.

Lengthy 'Drip-Drop Method' Often Gets Desired Results

In the current Ladies Home Journal, Marceline Cox speaks of a woman who "when she wants to get something accomplished never turns her request on full force, but uses the "drip-drop method."

That's a satisfactory description of the way the average wife accomplishes most of her purposes.

Mrs. Smith makes up her mind one day that they can well afford an electric dishwasher and she doesn't intend to do without one much longer.

Does she make that announcement to Mr. Smith? Of course, she doesn't.

She uses the "drip-drop method." And it's likely to go something like this:

First while reading a newspaper or magazine, (on an evening when

Mr. Smith is in a genial frame of mind) she makes the innocent sounding remark that when they get a dishwasher she wants such and such a kind, pointing out all the advantages of that particular make, listed in the ad.

Exhaustion Aids Cause

The next time they have 12 guests for a buffet supper and Mr. Smith, dead on his feet, is helping with the dishes, she points out how quickly the job could be done with a dish-washer.

When a friend buys one, she drags Mr. Smith out to the friend's kitchen to watch it work, and stands back to let the host and hostess do a selling job for her.

The last, and final step, is when Mrs. Smith lures Mr. Smith into a store that sells dishwashers under the pretext of buying some simple little gadget.

On their way-out of the store Mrs. Smith drags Mr. Smith over to inspect a dishwasher and the salesman does the rest.

The "drip-drop method" may have taken three months or even a year from the first drip to the last drop.

But its outcome was always certain. The woman with the patience to use the "drip-drop method" of getting what she wants almost never fails.

Midland Junior, Senior High Students Make Own Gifts

Having trouble making the budget stretch to include those gifts for anniversaries and birthdays? Shop students in Midland's junior and senior high schools have a solution. They make their own.

It takes some advance planning, a great deal of patience (on the part of both student and teacher), and hours of hard work, but the results are worth the effort.

More than $7,500 has been spent on new equipment in the two shops this year enabling the students to do a wide variety of work not possible before. The Junior High School shop has a new drill press, band saw, lathe saw, lathe, jig saw and sander. There is also a new table saw that Bill Bralley, shop instructor, uses to prepare work for the boys and girls. Because of the possibility of an accident, students are not allowed to work with the saw.

Emily Hamilton To Receive DAR Annual Award

Emily Hamilton, daughter of Judge and Mrs. R. W. Hamilton, has been named the DAR "Good Citizenship Girl for 1952." She was selected by the students and faculty of Midland High School.

The Lt. William Brewer Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will award her the medal at commencement.

This medal is an annual award offered to the senior girl who most nearly lives up to the ideals of citizenship. She must be patriotic, dependable, loyal in her relationships to her school and schoolmates.

Miss Hamilton was born in 1934 in Stanton. During her school life in Midland she has been major-ette for three years, business manager of the Catholic, secretary of the senior class, secretary of the National Honor Society, vice president of the Thespians Society and was selected "Best all around girl," Gatoico princess and football sweetheart.

New equipment at Senior High School includes an 18-inch motor driven jointer, a variable speed lathe, jig saw, and a disk and drum sander.

Girls enjoy the shop program in the junior high as much as the boys. At present, they are not included in the courses offered at senior high.

"The well-rounded program for the younger students they learn elementary mechanical drawing and the reading of blue prints, woodwork, leathercraft, metal work, plastic, and elementary wiring. In the latter, the boys and girls learn the principles of currents, how batteries work, and other fundamentals.

Bralley has 426 students enrolled in his classes. He teaches 210 of them each day.

Raymond H. Strub is the instructor at high school. He teaches both beginning and advanced woodwork and drafting. Next year he hopes to include a course in plastics.

During his first year course the high school student concentrates on simple but useful clip boards, wall shelves, and bed stools. He learns to handle all the tools and to operate the machines safely. When he has mastered these he tackles a gun rack, silver stand or shoe shine box he has designed himself.

The second year he designs and constructs three pieces of furniture. He learns wood-turning and makes wooden bowls, lamps and plates.

The student who takes drafting learns to letter, to draw instruments, to make layouts, and to draw house plans.

When he completes the course offered in junior and senior high school, the student isn't a professional, according to Strub. But he has learned the fundamentals that can lead to a profitable vocation or can provide for him an interesting hobby to enjoy in the future.

The Evening Look Is Covered Up

The freshness and newness of blue denim is seen in a short evening gown for Spring (left) by Jane Derby. Strapless top and jacket are in filigree lace over white organdy foundation. Skirt is completely pleated. Ball-gown by this same designer (right) combines Moyashee linen with pure silk net. Fitted bodice is white linen, has jeweled buttons, bracelet-length sleeves. Black net makes layered skirt that's belted in Lido red linen.

NEW YORK.—Fabric is one factor in the new evening gowns this Spring and the covered-up look is another. This covered look appears in both short evening gowns and in the very formal ball gowns. It's handled through draped shoulder-panels, little ruffy sleeves and interesting circular stoles that float down the back.

As for fabric, denim has become far more formal than it once was. It appears in short evening gowns in a collection by one famous designer, worked in combination with delicate filigree lace. Silk taffetas, organdies, nylon tulle and cottons are used, sometimes given tree-bark pleating, or chevron pleats. Embroidered short organdies are prominent; so are delicate floral silk prints.

Cover-up for evening appears in lace princess dresses that look new, in high halters, in shirt-waists. But despite this cover for shoulder areas, the illusion of formality is retained. The new

Suits Are Crisp And Warm

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK.—When a woman is lucky enough to take a winter vacation and to spend that vacation in the tropics, the first thing she thinks of is a suit.

She knows she will need it en-route and even after she arrives. There are times, even in the tropics, when the weather becomes downright chilly.

The suit she will dream of owning is one that won't wrinkle, will be neither too warm nor too light, that will maintain its crisp look.

A new and ideal suiting that has these assets is now available to women. It's made of 55 per cent spun rayon and 45 per cent wool. This means that it's highly wrinkle-resistant, that it stays crisp, that it's lightweight but warm enough to ward off a cool wind or a sudden drop in the temperature. From Ben Gaynes, left, comes a suit in this highly adaptable fabric. In tiny checks and the color gray, it has a neat fitted jacket with arched neckline. Skirt goes wide and full, has six gored.

Another suit from this house right, shows the skirt with the straight line. Done in a cruet point it has a double-breasted jacket with interesting curved and slash pockets.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Demands upon a congressman's time after the close of each day's business are so great he would seldom have an evening home with his family if he gave into more than a fraction of them.

The host was a newspaper correspondent. Before the Texan knew what was happening he was in the kitchen, bedecked in apron, frying chicken for everyone present. He had boasted of his ability in this department and the host called his hand.

The potential voting strength of women is greater than that of men, she said. The Dallas jurist declares there would be less corruption in government, more economy and more chances of world peace if the female of the species had a bigger hand in running the nation.

Hearst burden along this line undoubtedly falls on House Speaker Sam Rayburn. He isn't married, but there's a point of human endurance. He turns down far more invitations than he accepts.

At a recent private party, of the type the legislators usually enjoy, Rayburn really earned his meal.

He says that by the time the ban is lifted, Sept. 1, it will have been a year since the last occurrence of foot and mouth disease was stamped out in Mexico.

Poage praised the Agriculture Department for announcing the ban-lifting so far in advance, declaring that it would thus prevent speculators from rushing down to Mexico and buying up large numbers of cattle from ranchers there who might not know the U. S. markets were being opened to them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Truman lauds police guard to visiting Masons; President says his own job is public relations; Kefauver's financial angel tried to spare him disappointment.

WASHINGTON — The men who pack the most weight with President Truman are his aides and secretaries—the palace guard—supposed to do the routine chores around the White House but who don't hesitate to advise the President on high policy matters. Thus, a mere appointment secretary, such as Matt Connelly, has become one of the most powerful men in the nation.

For example, it was Connelly who overruled the President's small business advisers and persuaded him to strengthen the multimillion-dollar Pan American Airways monopoly by okaying its merger with American Overseas Airways. Connelly also influenced the President against opening up income-tax returns to the public, as is done in Wisconsin. Both were major policy decisions that had nothing to do with Connelly's job of being the President's personal doorkeeper.

Truman showed his affection for the palace guard the other day in introducing them to a group of Masons. He kidded and praised them fondly, and made it clear from his attitude that the palace guard is still 100 per cent solid with him.

Pointing to Connelly, the President chirped: "I brought him along to the White House to keep the door for me. He does a remarkable job. He can make every one of the Masons believe that he is a mason, and he can make every Knight of Columbus believe that he is a Knight of Columbus, and he can make every Knight of Pythias believe he is a Knight of Pythias. (Connelly is Catholic). It doesn't make any difference what sort of organization comes here for entrance. Matt knows all about how to treat them and what to do with them and whether to let them in or not."

Indispensable Men
Shipping to Correspondence Secretary Bill Hassett, the President continued gaily: "This correspondence secretary is an indispensable man around the White House. He decides on what days to celebrate, and what messages we will send to organizations, such as this, to make them feel that the President has a personal interest in them. He is a genius in this work."

"Now, John Steelman there—he is the assistant to the President," continued Truman, turning to another of his assistants. "He does a lot of things that the President couldn't get done if he had to do them himself. You see, the President's day starts at 5:30 in the morning and it ends about 11 o'clock at night. Even then he is not through."

The President also had a kind word for the newsmen on his staff — Press Secretary Joe Short.

"Mr. Short is the press secretary. He is a native of Mississippi, and he obtained his public-relations education on the Baltimore Sun. He is a good press secretary," praised Truman, then added softly: "And he succeeded a wonderful one, Charles G. Ross—I went to school with him. He was one of the real Missouri gang—Charlie was."

Then the President commented that his own job was chiefly public relations.

"The President of the United States is charged with being the most powerful executive in the world. He is the head of the most powerful nation in the world, but the office of the President of the United States is a public-relations office. He spends most of his time talking kindly and giving lectures to people and begging them to do what they ought to do without being begged. Those are the powers of the President."

Kefauver's Angel
Senator Kefauver stumbled on his most generous financial angel, Nathan Straus, in a peculiar manner. During the heyday of the Roosevelt Administration, Straus a close friend of FDR, was serving as housing administrator and was receiving the usual barrage of brickbats from Congress. One day a Tennessee drawl announced over the telephone:

"Mr. Straus, this is Ester Kefauver of Tennessee. I'm up here in Congress and I'd like to have some information about housing and slum clearance. Can you help me out?"

Straus jumped at the chance, went up to Congress where Kefauver was then serving in the House of Representatives, and got acquainted with the young congressman. Kefauver then became one of the staunchest backers for public housing. This was before Taft got behind public housing and helped put across the present housing bill.

Straus, vice-sal of the government and operating station WMCA in New York never forgot that help. He also came to have a high regard for Kefauver and spent days up in New Hampshire recently helping run his campaign.

On Monday one day before the New Hampshire primary, financial-father Straus was worried. He did not think his protégé from Tennessee had a chance to beat Truman.

"What do you think his chances are?" Straus asked newsmen, and then volunteered: "I think he'll get about 40 per cent of the popularity vote."

Newsmen generally agreed. But next day, election day, Straus was more pessimistic.

"I'm afraid he'll only get about 35 per cent of the vote," he said.

"What's your estimate down?" asked NBC Commentator Leon Pearson. "Yesterday you said Kefauver would get 40 per cent."

"I just don't want the senator to be too disappointed," Straus replied. "You see, ever since he heard your brother predict he would win on Sunday night, the senator really believes he's going to win."

Note — Although Kefauver has a few staunch financial friends such as Straus, his campaign headquarters is so short of funds it couldn't afford to pay rent at this Willard Hotel here and moved to a less expensive hotel. Reason is that Kefauver refuses to take contributions from suspicious sources.

Luckless Miner Digs Way Into Hospital

BOBTOWN, PA. — A 31-year-old miner may have set a new record — for accidents.

Thomas Kuriko, motorman in the Bobtown mine of Jones and Laughlin Coal Co., suffered no less than 27 accidents in the past year. Kuriko has been hospitalized 17 times. He now is in a Waynesburg hospital recovering from a neck injury.

The 27 accidents, which made him lose 70 working days, include being hit by a falling steel beam, squeezed by a locomotive, getting an electric flash in the face and being struck by flying steel in the leg.

But 1951 isn't the worst year in Kuriko's memory. A bullet put him in the hospital for 27 months while he was participating in the invasion of Europe with the U. S. Army.

'Dictator' Nation To Assume Control Of West Texas City

PORT HOOD — April Fool's Day will be no laughing matter in the nearby city of Lampasas.

The town and its 5,000 citizens will be under the absolute control of a "dictator" nation. It will be "ruled" by the rough and ruthless forces of a "foreign" army.

Actually, this catastrophe of circumstances is a prank in which Lampasas is cooperating with Exercise Long Horn, the big Army and Air Force training maneuver. But — it is a joke without humor.

Towns People Volunteer
While the townspeople will have a lot of fun in playing in the little "war game," they volunteered to take part in the operation in order to help show the rest of the nation "it can happen here." They agreed to submit their city to complete occupation by a "foreign" military government to provide an object lesson in military preparedness.

The small community, located about 30 miles west of this military post, usually is donating its property and its population for two four-day periods during the March 25-April 11 maneuver.

First, it will be taken over by the Aggressor force, an army representing a mythical foreign nation. The citizens will be subjected to military government at its worst — complete rule under the socialist system and dictatorial doctrine of Aggressor — from April 1 to 4.

Later, the date to be determined by the progress of the maneuver, the United States Fourth Field Army will stop the invading Aggressor and retake much of the ground he has gained.

Occupation Humane
The final occupation period will demonstrate a more humane type of military rule than the type which Aggressor's forces will use. The American Army occupation will be the same as that which customarily is employed in liberated and occupied territories, in an effort to restore order and prepare the community for its return to a more normal situation.

As for the mayor of the little Texas city, W. M. Brook, explained it in an official proclamation, "The Citizens of Lampasas will be given an on-the-spot opportunity to see what would happen if an enemy force did occupy the city and what would happen when liberated by U. S. Forces."

Participation of the city in the extensive four - division maneuver marks the first time in history that military government has been "played" by both sides of opposing forces. The pair of occupation periods, however, will be theoretically complete and absolute, yet they will not interfere with normal business operation. All restrictions which would affect such activities of the town's everyday life will be simulated or assumed.

In this manner, the strictest type of control can be enforced without harm to the city's economic life. Business will go on as usual even though, in theory, all key officials will be "jailed," industry will be "taken over," a curfew will be "imposed," newspapers and radio stations will be "controlled," and a concentration camp will be established by the Aggressor.

Signs Put Up
Signs posted on Lampasas' banks, churches, schools, theaters and even the drug stores will proclaim them to be closed during the invaders' four-day occupation. But its citizens have been instructed to ignore them, that they are only symbols to represent the activities of the military government.

The big April Fool's Day "joke" will not be without its humorous incidents, of course, but Lampasas regards it as a serious reminder of what could happen—even in America.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The cattle market was steady to 18, 19 and 20, Mrs. Ora Quigg, director, has announced. Purses of $300 each are to be added to the entry fees in calf roping, bareback bronc riding, bull riding, two-stand flag race, and team tying.

The Pecos County Sheriff's posse has just completed construction of a cover grandstand costing $12,000.

Livestock numbers, except cattle and chickens, on Texas farms and ranches at the beginning of 1952 were lower than a year ago. For the entire nation cattle numbers were seven per cent larger than on Jan. 1, 1952, while for Texas the increase was only two per cent. The severe drought over the state seriously has hampered livestock production and has hit hardest the sheep and goat producing sections, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Stock sheep numbers in Texas showed a slight upturn in 1952 but were down 10 per cent over Jan. 1, 1952, compared to a year earlier. There was six per cent fewer goats than a year ago and five per cent fewer hogs.

Reduced Feed Supplies This means livestock numbers have been kept relatively low, during a period of favorable returns, because of reduced feed supplies. Even now, Texas farms and ranches have almost 9,000,000 cattle, more than 6,000,000 stock sheep and 1,800,000 hogs. Also, at the start of 1952, Texas farms had about 23,000,000 chickens and a half million turkeys, which was an increase over the year before.

Feed reserves have been depleted because of abnormally heavy feeding during the last few months and feed supplies per animal unit now are at the lowest since 1947, Bates points out. This points up the need for the production of adequate feed crops this year.

What does treated-sewage irrigation do to soil? University of Texas scientists have launched a two-year research project to answer that question as a public service to the state's farmers, ranchers and municipalities.

Fifty-nine Texas communities, including Midland, Andrews, Odessa, Pecos and Stanton, are known to be using the special irrigation plan, which is particularly vital in the state's water-short areas.

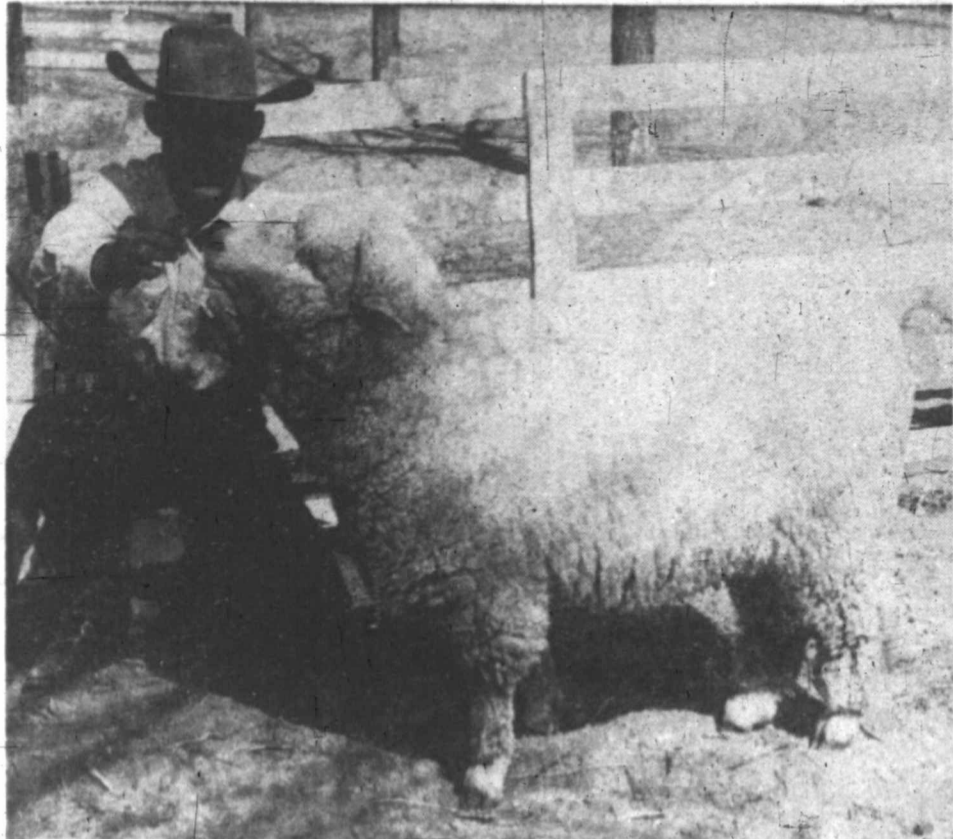

Professor Ernest W. Steel of the university's civil engineering department is conducting the research under a $6,000 U. S. Public Health Service grant. Assisting him is University chemist E. J. M. Berg.

Here is how the special irrigation works. Sewage is run into a sedimentation basin where solid particles settle through water to the bottom. The water then is run to fields for irrigation of any crop not to be eaten by humans.

Cotton varieties for the different areas of Texas are given in a new bulletin, "Performance of Cotton Varieties in Texas, 1948-50". This bulletin, published jointly by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, gives information obtained in the first three years of a state-wide cotton variety evaluation program. Other bulletins will be issued at the end of each succeeding three-year testing period.

Experiment station agronomists divided the state into three regions for systematic testing. The Extension Service designated 10 production areas to provide a practical basis for variety recommendations. Copies are available at county agents' offices.

New Wealth In Oil Flows Where Boom Dream Left

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— New wealth is flowing from the foundations of an elaborate dream, dead these 20 years. Oil has been discovered only 1,320 feet from the Wichita Falls city limits, on land which was partially developed during the boom-time 20's as exclusive residential section. The development was abandoned in 1931 when the owners of the 640-acre tract were unable to meet their interest payments on a loan advanced by Mrs. Frances Ann Dickinson. Now, amid mesquite-filled streets and ghostly water fountains and broken concrete curbs, crude oil is being pumped from a well that opens a new oil pool at the very doorstep of the city's western edge. The well is known as the No. 3 Dickinson.

FIELD and STREAM Scope Sights Make A Difference

By WARREN PAGE Shooting Editor

Once upon a time there lived a crusty character named Ray, which is only part of his true name, who was truly a thuddy-thuddy man. For him, none of these new-fangled scope sights, none of these super-accuracy shenanigans. If he needed a deer he'd take down his trusty lever gun and sneak in close to where he could spot his buck through the wings of a Rocky Mountain rear leaf sight, or just blast at him running and hope. If he craved to eliminate a garden-marauding woodchuck, he'd poke him dead with a .22 rimfire—maybe. And all that arithmetic about velocity and trajectory curves—that was tritely for people who liked their oatmeal sprinkled with decimal points.

And once upon a time this character went a-venoming with two dyed-in-the-wool woodchuckers, real gun nuts. He guffawed when they loaded the car with binoculars, with the nearest chucks mound. What kind of foolishness was this? thought Ray. Soon he learned. An incautious chuck popped out of his hole a full 300 yards for me. "That's for me," granted one gun nut, and shifted his rifle in the chuck-rest, closing the bolt on one of those wildcat loads. That's for the birds, scoffed Ray, who was sure the chuck was as safe as if he were in church. But the splitting crack of the 24 high-velocity job was instantly echoed by that water-melon-plop made by a 55-grain pellet slamming home, a plunk dear to every varmint hunter's ears. Ray began to think a bit. He thought harder when another chuck was executed fully as far from the gun—and when a careless crow exploded into black feathers 40 rods away. "Let me try that," exclaimed the not-so-crusty Ray when the next chuck stroled from his den. And so began either his salvation or his damnation as a gun nut.

On the journey home Ray's talk was of the whys of straight-taper barrels and 12X scopes, of what was full length case resins, and of how could his deer rifle be made to shoot like that. And so now he argues the 210 Wasp versus the 22-250 for accuracy, talks of throat erosion and slow-burning or double-base powders, mumbles in his sleep of swages and scope attachments, 6 mms. and .17 calibers. His children go hungry as this character loads his gunroom with super-accuracy equipment, his wallet stuffed only with prized targets. For he has become a gun nut.

26 rich new colors and two-tone combinations... widest choice in Chevrolet's field. New De Luxe interiors are color-matched.

Lowest priced in its field

No other low-priced car offers these fine features!

BODY BY FISHER
Fisher Body sets the standard for styling, for craftsmanship, for comfort and convenience! Fisher Unisteel construction is extra strong.

UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE
Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now even softer, smoother. New shock absorbers give even finer ride control.

WIDEST TREAD
Chevrolet measures 58 3/4 inches between centers of rear wheels—a broader base to give you more stability, less sway!

4-WAY ENGINE LUBRICATION
Chevrolet's exclusive engine lubricating system supplies exactly the right kind and amount of lubrication to each moving part.

CAST IRON ALLOY PISTONS
Pistons are formed from the same material as the cylinder block—expand and contract at the same rate. This reduces wear, saves oil!

SAFETY PLATE GLASS ALL AROUND
Chevrolet alone in its field gives you safety plate glass in windshield and all windows for a clearer, truer all-round view.
