Pennsylvanian Oil Flows At Sinclair Wildcat In Upton

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1-126 University, wildcat in Southeast Upton County, six miles southeast of Rankin, has indicated as a discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

A drillstem test in the interval from 9,582 to 9,632 feet developed flowing oil at the estimated rate of 10 barrels hourly.

With tool open four hours and five minutes, gas surfaced in 11 minutes and drilling mud in three hours. Oil flowed out at the top in three hours and five minutes. It flowed for one hour at the estimated rate of 10 barrels per hour. The oil was but with salt water.

Recovery was 4,300 feet of clean oil and 730 feet of salt water. Gravity of the oil is 41.6 degrees. Operator will drill ahead and then take another drillstem test.

The Pennsylvanian was topped at 9,515 feet, elevation 3,948 feet. Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block 4, University survey.

Gulf Spots Three Outposts To Possible Opener In Andrews

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked three outposts to a possible Permian discovery in Central-South Andrews County.

The new explorations will be drilled as No. 1-III Texas, No. 1-IIIJ Texas and No. 1-KKK Texas.

No. 1-III will be drilled one mile north of Gulf No. 1-LLL Texas which flowed oil on a drillstem test above 8,250 feet in a Permian formation, probably Wolfcamp.

No. 1-LLL Texas was drilled to 13,070 feet in the Ellenburger where it failed to make an oil well. Operator was preparing to plug back to 2,350 feet at last report, and test.

Another Location

No. 1-III is 1,997 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 36, block 9, University survey and 11 miles south of Andrews. It is to drill to 8,500 feet.

Gulf No. 1-IIIJ Texas will be dug three-quarters of a mile northeast of No. 1-LLL Texas and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 34, block 9, University survey.

Gulf No. 1-KKK Texas will be drilled 660 feet from south and west lines of section 36, block 9, University survey and one-half mile north of No. 1-LLL.

No. 1-IIIJ is contracted to 8,300 feet and No. 1-KKK is to go to 8,500 feet.

Texaco Develops Canyon Shows In Scrapy Explorer

Interesting shows of possible production from the Canyon reef were found on a drillstem test in The Texas Company No. 309 P. L. Fuller, wildcat in East-Central Curry County.

The prospecter was drilled stem test from 9,844 to 9,855 feet. With tool open two hours and 15 minutes, recovery was 10 feet or drilling mud, 90 feet of oil-cut mud and 90 feet of heavily oil-cut mud.

Operator cored 10 feet deeper to 9,955 feet and was taking another drillstem test.

No water was found on the above test.

Location is 467 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 48, block 97, H&TC survey and 1 1/2 miles north of Snyder.

Magnolia Sets Long NW Stepout To C-N Andrews Reef Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A S. E. Nolley is to be a long northerly stepout to the same concern's No. 1 S. E. Nolley, Central-North Andrews County exploration which is due to complete soon from the Wolfcamp reef ledge.

Location of Magnolia No. 1-A S. E. Nolley is 660 feet from north and 1,603.33 feet from east lines of section 8, block 314, Gaines County School Land survey.

Northwest of Florey

It is projected to 9,300 feet, which will take it into the reef line. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once. The location is one and one-half miles northwest of Florey.

Magnolia's No. 1 S. E. Nolley is one-quarter of a mile north and three-quarters of a mile west of the same concern's No. 1 Tom Fear, the opener of the Nolley-Wolfcamp field. It is bottomed at 9,013 feet, and is waiting for cement to cure.

NEW YORK—(P)—Formal notice was served on the steel industry Friday that 700,000 steelworkers will strike Wednesday for higher wages and a union shop.

An industry spokesman said mills would start cooling furnaces immediately.

David G. McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Steelworkers of America, dropped the strike notices in the mail late Thursday night.

Trustee Election, Presidential Straw Vote Set Saturday

Midland voters will go to the polls Saturday for the second time in less than a week and their mission will have a two-fold purpose.

First, they will select three persons from a field of five to serve as trustees of the Midland Independent School District.

Second, they will state their preference of candidates in the national presidential race.

Elliotts Get Jury Verdict

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Elliott were awarded a $20,000 judgment Friday in 70th District Court as the result of an explosion which damaged their North M Street home here in 1949.

The judgment was returned by a 12-man jury against A. W. Jones and the Jones Butane Service.

The verdict of the jury, coming at the end of four days of testimony, awarded $6,000 for damages to the house and $14,000 for injuries suffered by Mrs. Elliott.

The Elliotts were represented by Attorneys Edwin T. Stitt and Frank Bezon.

Fasken Home Blaze Does Minor Damage

Slight damage was reported shortly before noon Friday when fire broke out in the home of A. Fasken, 1511 West Missouri Street.

Police said the fire apparently was confined to a bedroom and was quickly extinguished by city firemen.

Western Union Now Taking Messages In 40 Key Cities

NEW YORK—(P)—Western Union announced telegraph and money order service was resumed Friday among 40 major cities, despite a strike the union claims is almost 100 per cent effective.

A spokesman said the company hoped to extend its service to additional points by Saturday.

Some 31,000 WU workers, members of the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union, struck at 12:01 a.m. Thursday in the first nation-wide telegraph walkout since 1919.

A separate threat of a telephone strike set for Monday by 37,000 workers in Michigan, Ohio and Northern California threatens further to snarl the country's communication systems.

The initial impact of the telegraph walkout, over a wage dispute, cut the usual wire message flood to a trickle. But later in the day the company announced its "key city" message circuit plan because "employees are disregarding the strike call."

The company explains its "key-city" set-up this way:

"The public at any one of 40 large cities throughout the country can send telegrams and money orders to any one of the other 39 cities."

Dallas, Houston, Tulsa

"Messages to and from the cities will be accepted between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., with delivery of incoming messages continuing beyond these hours as required by differing time zones."

The 40 cities are Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston; Buffalo, Charlotte, Columbus (Ga.), Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Dallas, Denver, Detroit, Houston, Indianapolis, Kansas City (Mo.), Los Angeles, Memphis, Miami, Milwaukee, Louisville, Minneapolis, Newark, New Orleans, New York, Oakland, Omaha, Oklahoma City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Richmond, Portland, St. Louis, San Antonio, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle, Syracuse, Tulsa, Washington and Wichita (Kan.).

The company said the cities listed will send messages to all points in Canada, Alaska and Mexico and all parts of the world. Cable operations are not involved in the current work stoppage.

Winds Kick Up West Texas Sand, Scatter Rain, Hail Eastward

By The Associated Press

Brisk north winds brought more flying sand for West Texans Friday after miniature tornadoes Thursday and Thursday night caused widespread damage in Montague and Grayson Counties.

Nocona, Ringgold and Belcher in Montague County caught the brunt of tornado winds that accompanied a cool front across the state Thursday. But Pottsboro, where one man was reported injured slightly, also got some of the destructive wind.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Jeff Henderson of Nocona said damage in his city of 2,605 persons might reach "three million dollars—it's terrific."

Henderson said wind and pounding hail knocked out downtown sky-lights, smashed auto windshields and dented car bodies, and knocked window panes out. One school, he said, lost 153 windows.

At Ringgold, population 350, a twister narrowly missed a school where 75 children were huddled in the basement. Teachers said the storm passed over the building but failed to dip.

Haltstones also did extensive damage at Belcherville, near Nocona.

Early Friday, the storm front had moved eastward into Louisiana, but not before Dallas, Texarkana, Fort Worth, Terrell, Lufkin, College Station and Palestine had rain. The rains ranged from heavy to light.

Texas Reports 23 New Cases Of Polio

AUSTIN—(P)—Polio tagged 23 Texans last week, almost six times the seven-year average for this period of the year.

The state's total polio cases for the year reached 297.

Twin Firings Blow Truman's Cleanup Program Sky High

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Truman Administration's we-can-clean-up-the-government-ourselves program — as organized two months ago — has blown sky high.

And a federal judge from Philadelphia, friendly, 56-year-old James P. McGranery, was called in Friday to serve as the nation's attorney general and try to pick up the pieces of the anti-corruption drive.

McGranery—if confirmed by the Senate, and it looks as if he will be—must come to Washington in the slippery aftermath of the biggest governmental explosion to rock the capital since President Truman's, middle-of-the-night dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Two Texans Die In Blast

SPRINGER, N.M.—(P)—Two men died early Friday as exploding gas leveled a farm home, six miles northwest of Springer.

Victims of the jarring blast and fire were A. W. Williams, 38, and Jesse P. Williams, 34, both of Sunray, Texas.

Volunteer firemen recovered the bodies from blazing wreckage of a dwelling occupied until two months ago by parents of the two men, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Williams, now of Borger, Texas.

Neighbors reported a terrific explosion about 1 a.m. to State Police Capt. Penn Winston, who relayed word to the Springer firemen.

First to reach the burning house were Bob Decker and J. R. Johnson, both living nearby. They said walls of the frame dwelling were blown out, the roof drolled in and it was a mass of flames within seconds.

Winston, after checking with firemen, said it was believed leaking artificial gas was to blame for the explosion. They theorized a gas tank valve remained partly open after a kitchen stove was moved out of the place about two weeks ago.

Friends reported the two brothers were on a fishing trip.

Although the two carried a flashlight, one apparently struck a match as they entered a side door into the kitchen. Hats of both were found more than 50 feet from that point.

Winston said the men apparently had just arrived and were planning to spend the night in the unoccupied farm dwelling.

Allen Heads Rain-Makers

LAMESA—Sam Allen of Lamesa Friday was announced as manager of the West Texas Weather Improvement Association, which has entered a contract with a Denver rain-inducing organization. He is head of the Dawson County Farm Bureau and has resigned his position as manager of the Poca Lamb-REA Association of Tahoka.

Directors of the weather organization have set aside $3,000 for a three-month period for the manager and his staff and other district office expense in Lamesa. Mrs. Ernestine Sellers will be secretary in the office, located in the Alexander Building.

Representatives of Dr. Irving Krick's firm of Denver were to be in Midland Friday for talks with Clarence Schabarber, Jr., major landowner in Midland County. Midland is the only one of 11 counties which has not met its quota in the $60,000 annual rain-seeking charge for the area association.

Five other counties seek admittance to the weather association. They are Scurry, Garza, Fisher, Kent and Stonewall.

HOUSEWIVES, ATTENTION!

Midland housewives don't have it as bad when one of those sand-storms roll across West Texas.

Consider the sad plight of City Water Engineer Henry Nunn and his million-gallon Cola Park reservoir.

Only two days ago, Nunn proudly watched as workmen scraped the last of a three-inch coating of sand from the uncovered reservoir.

No sooner had he filled it again with clear, cool water than it happened; the sand came swirling in again Thursday and Friday morning.

Warning Sounded On Overcharging For Taxi Rides

The City Council ordered a crackdown Thursday afternoon on taxicab operators who have been overcharging on fares.

"I've had a lot of complaints," said Mayor Perry Fickel. "One lady told me she paid three different fares for the same trip."

Under a fare-increase agreement made with the city several months ago, the taxicab companies promised to keep posted in the cab a map of the city, showing the various zones and the charges.

Five Reds Sentenced To Terms In Prison On Conspiracy Count

BALTIMORE—(P)—Five Communists and a party lawyer were sentenced to prison terms of two to five years and each fined $1,000 for conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

Philip Frankfeld, Moscow-trained district party leader, received the maximum penal sentence of five years.

Other sentences were:

Regina Frankfeld, Frankfeld's wife, two years; George A. Meyers, former Cumberland, Md., textile worker and Frankfeld's successor as district chairman, four years; Leroy H. Wood, party chairman of the District of Columbia, Maurice L. Braverman and Mrs. Dorothy Rose Blumberg, three years each.

Reports Of Jury Tampering May Throw Out Second Trial Of Gambler Costello

NEW YORK—(P)—The foreman of the jury trying gambler Frank Costello for contempt of the Senate said Friday, after she was abruptly excused from service, that she had been accused of agreeing to accept a payoff.

"It is ridiculous," declared Helen Louise Mason, the jury foreman.

Shortly after court opened Friday, Federal Judge Sylvester Ryan announced that two jurors had been removed from the jury. He gave no explanation.

But Mrs. Mason, a negro, later said she was called into the judge's chambers, and that the judge told her he had been informed she "had been approached" and had agreed to accept money.

"It's very embarrassing and it's ridiculous," she told reporters.

The excusing of the two jurors, coupled with the reported illness of a third one, made it doubtful whether the trial would continue.

The jury was to begin considering a verdict Friday. It was the second trial of Costello on charges of contempt of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee last year.

The first one ended with the jury deadlocked 11 to 1 for conviction.

Judge Ryan said, "We will be unable to determine whether we can proceed" until a physician checks the reportedly ill juror. Two alternates could replace the two summarily excused by him at the brief, dramatic court session Friday morning.

On this uncertain note, Judge Ryan adjourned the case until Friday afternoon.

The other juror excused was identified as Julius A. Fox, a textile contractor.

Judge Ryan said he had received a call from juror Joseph Mosny's wife saying he had become ill overnight, and had been advised by a doctor to stay in bed.

The case could go to an 11-man jury, if the defense consented, but the judge said the defense had declined to permit this.

MEAT IN THE COCONUT— Double-Barreled Firing In Cleanup Drive Leaves Two Questions Hanging

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Truman Administration's attempt to clean up government corruption Friday looked about as pretty as a dove that fell in a tar barrel.

Months have passed and still no investigation, although there's been a little excitement and some big talk.

When the noise subsides over Thursday's double-firing of Newbold Morris and Attorney General McGrath—Morris by McGrath and McGrath by President Truman—you get to the meat in the coconut with two questions.

1. The heat was on McGrath and his Justice Department, but why did it take him so long to get hot?

2. Does Morris know what his limit is? For that matter, who does?

outside McGrath and the President?

On February 1, McGrath appointed Morris to investigate the government. Morris said he'd start with McGrath's own Justice Department. On February 25, he said he'd send government officials a sharp questionnaire about their financial sources.

A couple of weeks later he sent the questionnaire to McGrath and his Justice Department first. McGrath had a whole month to decide whether Morris was right or wrong with the questionnaire.

So why, knowing all about the questionnaire so long, did it take McGrath so long to get hot, an indication that he sacked Morris, especially since only last February 1 he had promised Morris "complete, enthusiastic and unlimited cooperation."

Babe In The Woods
Morris has been a kind of babe in the woods ever since he came here. He's issued a number of statements which got him headlines but could hardly improve his investigatory technique; he's quarreled with members of Congress who denounced and investigated him; and after two months on the job he had a staff of only 10 lawyers, plus some other help, and had investigated essentially nobody.

Morris seemed to think he had an answer to what hit him, although it's doubtful if he has the right one. He said McGrath hired him in the belief he was a soft touch and never would really investigate anyone.

This hardly jibes with the Administration's attempt to hire, before Morris agreed to take the job, men who could hardly be described as soft touches, men like the late Robert Patterson, former secretary of War, Montana's former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, and Federal Judge Thomas F. Murphy, who sent Alger Hiss to jail when Murphy was a government prosecutor.

Mind-Changing Record
And both McGrath and Morris established some kind of record for men who change their minds about one another.

On February 1, Morris told newsmen he was impressed by McGrath's "sincerity and good faith" in helping him in the investigation. Thursday, he said of his brief Washington career: "It isn't accomplishing anything else, we have gotten rid of Howard McGrath."

On February 1, McGrath told newsmen, "Mr. Newbold Morris is a distinguished lawyer with a reputation for courage, firmness and fairness in dealing with problems that affect the integrity of public service. I earnestly ask the American people to place their trust in the rectitude of his efforts."

Earlier this week, McGrath told a committee of Congress—which was quizzing McGrath about his Justice Department and wants to see his income tax returns—that he'd never have hired Morris if he had it to do over again.

Maybe if McGrath is mad enough, he'll let the cat out of the bag. Or maybe the cat will be pulled out by that same committee whose chairman, Representative Cliff Kentucky Democrat, said his group may call both McGrath and Morris for questioning.

Meanwhile the investigation of government corruption is back where it started months ago, which is no place.

EXERCISE LONG HORN— Army Medics Show How To Handle Atomic Attack

PORT HOOD —(AP)—The Army Medical Service showed in record time Thursday what it would do to handle soldier victims of an atomic attack.

It was an impressive performance: Six hundred eighty simulated injured taken to clearing stations and hospitals by helicopter and ground ambulances in less than seven hours.

One helicopter, 19 field ambulances, and nine two and one-half ton trucks were used in the first maneuver medical evacuation of Exercise Long Horn, biggest military maneuver of its type in United States history.

The mock atomic attack an A-bomb delivered by an aggressor aircraft in the area of the 138th Infantry Regiment of the 47th Division, was a well-kept secret. So was the medical evacuation.

A headquarters officer first announced it Thursday night, giving the figure evacuated as an estimated 1,000, one-third by helicopter. Later Col. David E. Liston, maneuver surgeon, gave exact figures: 680 evacuated.

coated—69 by an H-19 helicopter. An estimated four per cent of the simulated wounded were flown to San Antonio.

Doctors, nurses and medics went through full dress rehearsal on techniques of treating and evacuating the men, who were strapped to litters or stretchers and placed in the helicopter or in trucks and ambulances.

Triumph For Copier
Liston termed the exercise a "distinct triumph" for the H-19 helicopter, which can carry six litter patients, a medic and a crew of two.

The timing on the loading and unloading of helicopter was amazing; six minutes to load six patients, five minutes to unload.

The trip for the big-bladed craft from the site of the pickup to clearing station, including time to load and unload, was about 15 minutes. In a test, it took 24 minutes to unload four litter patients from a regular motor ambulance.

The 204th Medical Battalion of the 47th Infantry Division, the Third Mobile Surgical Hospital, the Fifth Evacuation Hospital and a field hospital at Fort Hood participated in the problem.

Forty "critically wounded" patients were admitted to the mobile hospital as part of the problem. The make-believe casualties were returned to their units after the exercise ended.

"Battle" action was more or less routine Thursday with aggressor forces continuing pressure on U. S. defense positions.

Atom-Bombed Babies Join Primary School

TOKYO —(AP)—Thirty-three children who survived the A-bomb attack on Nagasaki a few months after their birth joined primary school Friday, Kyodo News Agency reported from Nagasaki.

School doctors said the 33 appeared normal compared with others who were not exposed to the blast. Two of the surviving children were found underneath bodies of their mothers, who died with the babies in their arms.

Laborites Hand Churchill's Tories Election Setbacks

LONDON —(AP)—The Labor Party handed Prime Minister Churchill's Conservatives a sharp setback in the triennial English County Council elections, returns showed Friday.

Worst drubbing suffered by the Conservatives in Thursday's voting came in London County, where the Laborites won 92 out of the 129 seats and Churchill's followers only 37. In the old council they held 64 apiece. The odd man was a Liberal.

Conservative leaders described the vote as an inevitable reaction from Churchill's victory in the national election last October.

Labor won 11 seats in Buckinghamshire and gained 10 others in Middlesex. Both counties lie near London. In Cumberland, far to the north, Labor gained four, and in Northamptonshire, center of the shoe-making industry, Labor gained 14 seats.

Britain's Reserves Sink Dangerously

LONDON —(AP)—Britain disclosed Friday the gold and dollar reserves which pay for her life-giving trade have sunk below crisis level with a loss of $35 million dollars in the first three months of this year.

Since the war Britain has considered a two billion dollar reserve rock bottom for financial safety. Friday, Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler told the House of Commons, the reserve are down to only $1,700,000,000.

That's the lowest level since a similar crisis forced a 30 per cent devaluation of the pound sterling on Sept. 18, 1949. The rapid decline of the reserves has cut them by more than half since they stood at $3,000,000,000 nine months ago.

Labor Asks Floor For Bracero Wages

WASHINGTON —(AP)—An 18-man committee representing the American Federation of Labor and the CIO has recommended to Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin that imported farm workers be paid a minimum wage of 75 cents an hour.

The labor committee asked Thursday that such a provision be written into a new labor importation treaty to be worked out with Mexico in the near future.

★ IN HOLLYWOOD ★ Liz And Mike Already Hiring Nursery, London Reports Say

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Zsa Zsa Gabor will go as far as the movie censors will allow in her strip-tease scene in MGM's "Lil", but she's pouting:

"No cheesecake pictures, please! I don't sink I have to do cheesecake. Why should I? I don't want it. It's enough as Hollywood undresses me in my fourth movie."

The Gabor answer to moviegoing snow-girls who say that her anti-cheesecake policy is dictated by a realization that the rest of Zsa Zsa doesn't match her Helen-of-Troyish face:

"I have a very good figure! I had to wear a bathing suit and be approved by six producers before I got my new part. One producer looked at me and said it was a pity she didn't sell tickets for his event."

Liz Taylor's new hubby can start blushing. A local theater is billing him as "Michael Wilding—Mr. Elizabeth Taylor." Big buzz in London, incidentally, is that Liz and Mike already are hiring the nursery.

Director Arthur Lubin's given up trying to snag Mae West for a movie "mother" role. She's saying she'll do a "Diamond Lil" character, or none at all.

Marjorie Reynolds Sues For Divorce

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Actress Marjorie Reynolds has sued her husband of more than 15 years for divorce.

She charged John Wesley Reynolds, television director, with cruelty in her complaint filed Thursday. The actress, 34, and Reynolds, 42, were married in 1936.

She asked custody of their daughter, Linda, five, and said a property settlement has been made.

Women Could Be Happier If They Correct Some Faults

If women only wouldn't try so hard to keep up with each other, instead of each woman figuring out for herself what is really important to her and what she really wants from life.

Get such a cool, appraising look in their eyes when they are introduced to each other for the first time.

Make such a problem out of their in-law relationships.

Be so stung in their admiration for other women.

Make such a job of entertaining that they grow to dread it instead of anticipating it with pleasure.

Worry so much about holding their men.

Boss their children around like petty tyrants.

If Women Wouldn't Gossip

Take such delight in conversationally picking each other to pieces.

Take up so much time talking about tragedies and misfortunes.

Take on more than they can possibly manage and then go around breathlessly complaining about how fretted they are.

Fret and fume over problems they never intend to try to solve for problems that can't be solved and might as well be calmly accepted.

So often fall to get the most pleasure out of the full, busy years.

Always look forward to the time when they will be "free"—only to eventually discover that a woman needs to be needed far more than she needs to be free.

If women wouldn't so often make these mistakes how much happier they would be.

Civic Music Hears Famous Met Star

Midland music lovers Thursday night were glad because six years ago in Canton, Ohio, a young secretary, had exchanged her office for opera.

The secretary was Blanche Thebom, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera. And she appeared

Thursday night in the high school auditorium under the sponsorship of the Midland Civic Music Association.

Miss Thebom established her popularity immediately, not only with her voice, but also with her charming stage personality and wit.

Three numbers by Handel formed the first portion of the program. They were "Hear Me, Ye Winds and Waves," the despairing cry of a man who yearns for death; "Let Me Not Wander Unseen," and "Arioso: Dank sei Dir, Herr," a hymn of thanks to God.

Sister Emerita Gives Program On 'Holland'

Sister Emerita presented a program on Holland at the St. Ann's Mothers Club meeting held Thursday in the school hall.

The club voted to sponsor an Easter egg hunt for pre-school kindergarten and first grade children of the Parish at 3 p.m. April 12 at the park at L. and Holloway Streets. Mrs. Vester Collins is in charge of the arrangements.

A picnic will be held for the school Thursday. Mrs. Henry Krauss was appointed to use funds to purchase kitchen equipment. Members of the club were invited to attend the DCCW meeting April 28 in Sweetwater. Reservations must be made with Mrs. Joe Brodigan by April 23.

A committee was appointed to make plans for playground supervision. Committee members are Mrs. Collins, chairman, Mrs. George Byrne and Mrs. J. H. Hollnhausen.

Mrs. Ed Anderson, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Edwin Ferrell, hostesses, served refreshments to 37 members and four guests.

Guests were Mrs. Marilyn T. Conroy, Mrs. Curtis Warren, Mrs. W. H. Mann and Mrs. C. P. Yador.

Pilot Club Will Hold Initial Meet

The Pilot Club of Lubbock has extended an invitation to 30 Midland women to attend an organizational dinner Friday in Hotel Scharbauer. The club hopes to launch a Midland unit, Lubbock officers said.

Pilot International is one of the five international classified civic and service organizations for business and professional women. Non-partisan and non-sectarian, it is organized on a basis similar to such men's service clubs as Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions.

Local Pilot Clubs cooperate with existing agencies and national and international drives for worthwhile causes. Projects covering such fields as health, youth, old age, library and dental assistance also are sponsored by the group.

Membership in the Pilot Club is limited to two thoroughly representative women from each classification. The club's object is to develop friendship as a means of broadening the field of opportunity for service and to encourage and promote international peace and cultural relations.

There are now more than 300 Pilot Clubs with a membership of 7,000.

Painful cramps of "Monthly Periods" stopped or amazingly relieved

In 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' own tests!

Women and girls who suffer from those functionally-caused cramps, backaches and headaches of menstruation—who feel upset and irritable on certain "particular days"—may often be suffering quite unnecessarily!

Such is the conclusion from tests by doctors in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases tested!

Yes! Medical evidence shows Lydia Pinkham's thoroughly modern medicine has a remarkably calming effect on the uterus—without the use of pain-deadening drugs!

The effectiveness of Lydia Pinkham's needs no proof to the millions of women and girls whom it has benefited. But how about you? Do you know what it may do for you? Take Lydia Pinkham's through the month. See if you don't get the same relief from the pain and weakness of "those days" if you don't feel better before and during your period!

Get either Lydia Pinkham's Compound, or new improved Tablets, with added iron! If you're troubled with "hot flashes" and other functional distress of "change of life"—see if Lydia Pinkham's wonderful medicine does the trick!

Tiny Toys Of Colored Day Nursery Will Parade Easter Finery Sunday Afternoon

The tiny toys of the Colored Day Nursery will parade in all their Easter finery Sunday afternoon. Plans for the Tiny Easter Parade were announced Thursday by the Jay-Cee-ettes, who are sponsoring the event as a benefit for the nursery.

by the Community Chest but those funds are for operating expenses. They need additional funds for capital improvements and this Tiny Easter Parade will help raise some money. Midland merchants have donated prizes for first, second and third place winners in the boys' and the girls' divisions. Judges will include Mayor Perry Pickett and Duke Jimerson. The show will begin at 2 p.m. and admission prices are 50 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. The show is open to the public.

Area Reserve Due AF Consideration

Another step in the new long range Reserve Program of the United States Air Force takes place Monday at 8 a.m. at Building T-215 (Officers Club) Midland Airpark, when the Midland Reserve Inventory begins. The aim of the survey is to interview every Air Force Reservist in Andrews, Martin, Howard, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Ward, Crane, Upton and Reagan counties not on active duty with the military forces at this time. As a primary purpose the survey will seek to bring the military files of these reservists up to date, thus providing the Air Force with a more accurate picture of its Reserve manpower.

dated information did not accurately reflect their new skills in private life. Many Air Force people went back to school after the war, completed degrees and began entirely new careers, many of them in vitally needed professional fields. Every Air Force Reservist residing in the Midland area has received notice of the survey. In that letter the reservist has been given a date and an hour of the day to come to Survey Headquarters at Midland Airpark for an interview. Each interview requires about an hour to an hour and a half to complete. Briefly the survey is designed to do three things—first to bring the Reservist's record up to date, to find out where he is, what he is doing and what his current skills are; secondly to find out his physical condition, and thirdly, to determine what his availability for active duty might be in the event he is recalled.

The Air Force, after the Korean war started, began pulling in its Reservists, on the basis of records five years old, to fill immediate demands for men. Hardships Created Hardships were created at every turn as family men were called, and business and industry suffered from the loss of key men suddenly called to active duty. These men were called as a result of information in their records showing their former skills. In a number of cases this out-

This is not a recall program in any sense of the word. This is an inventory to bring the Air Force up to date by means of personal interviews with reservists, and has nothing to do with any individual or group being called to active duty. In fact, there is no authorization at this time for Air Reservists to be called to active duty involuntarily. The availability classification that reservists will receive as a result of this survey, will be used to determine the amount of delay he can expect in case he is needed in his specialty. It can be readily understood what this information will mean in planning warpower requirements.

Planning To Result For reservists and their families the availability classification will permit some degree of personal planning with regard to possible future Air Force service. For employers this classification will provide a means of gauging the particular manpower needs of his own firm with relation to the number of Air Force Reservists employed. The Air Force feels that such information, while subject to change in total mobilization, will provide a more realistic gauge, not only to the Air Force, but also in terms of industrial manpower planning. Project office for the Midland Reserve Inventory is First Lieutenant Lewis B. Senter, who worked with the original survey experiment in Dallas, and has just come from a similar project in Houston. Lieutenant Senter urges all employers to permit their Air Force Reservist employees time off from work, if necessary, so they can appear for their personal interview. Information concerning the survey may be obtained by calling 2-1878 in Midland.

McCamey Record Seen

MCCAMEY — A red-hot school trustee election and a straw ballot on leading presidential aspirants are expected to bring out a record vote in the school election scheduled here Saturday. In the school election, incumbents Mrs. Anna Wolf, Buck Jones and A. L. Collins are seeking reelection. They are opposed by Paul M. McCamey, Mrs. Lawrence English and L. R. Spraberry. Twenty absentee ballots were cast. The unofficial presidential preferential election is sponsored by McCamey merchants, the McCamey News and school officials. The names of leading candidates of both the Democratic and Republican Parties will be listed on a separate ballot.

A BOY AT CALVARY

Gentle, though violence swirled about him; majestic, though sores and blows ruined upon his head—this was Sokrov's impression of the dark-eyed, ivory-skinned figure surrounded by soldiers.

Learning that Jesus had been found guilty of blasphemy by the high priests, and was being taken to Procurator Pontius Pilate, Sokrov exulted. He was being led to the palace where Barabbas was imprisoned.

Upon a high throne sat the heavily jeweled Procurator. The youngsters, who had wriggled their way to the inner rim of the crowd, watched anxiously flicker across Pilate's face as the bearded Nazarene was pushed before him.

Tax Hike Up In Andrews Election

ANDREWS—A proposed 50-cent increase in the tax rate of the Andrews Independent School District, and two new trustees will be voted on Saturday.

An increase from $1.00 to $1.50 on each $100 valuation has been asked by the Board of Trustees, Supt. T. D. Hamilton announced.

Hamilton said the oil companies, which pay approximately 95 percent of the taxes in the school district, had asked the board for a boost in the tax rate rather than a raise in the tax valuations.

Total valuation for the county-wide-school district last year was $2,000,000. Although 247 wells were brought in last year, oil production in the county is less than in 1951.

Hamilton said the board did not intend to use the full $1.50 tax rate if the proposal passed, but it would give the board a margin in preparing the budget from year to year.

Ballots for the trustee election will carry the names of Louie Madison, P. C. Houston and Carl Ham. Two will be elected to serve with Charles Carruth, Johnny Smith, Clyde Brown, J. F. Singleton and J. E. McNeil.

Terms of A. L. Rhodes and Carl Ham expire.

Trash Fire Breaks Bell System Circuits

DALLAS—(AP)—Service was back to normal Friday after a debris fire under a bridge damaged the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's transcontinental coaxial cable.

Telephone, teletype and radio service was disrupted temporarily Thursday until repairs found the damaged spot and spliced it. A total of 1,140 long distance circuits across the nation were affected.

Firing of Morris-McGrath—

imony from McGrath and may want to hear Morris as well.

Morris already has given stormy testimony before a Senate committee that wanted to know about his connection with a multi-million dollar deal in wartime surplus tankers.

Will Tell 'The People'
Morris announced he would tell "the people" how he planned to clean up the government. He said in a broadcast interview (Mutual) Thursday night he would make details of his program public in a speech next week before the National Press Club here.

"I found no interest in any department of the federal government or any real desire to follow the President's order" that government officials cooperate in the cleanup effort, Morris said in the broadcast.

He said he had not talked with the President or been invited to since his dismissal. He left word at the White House he would be available for a talk before he returns to New York, Morris added.

Truman said and repeated that McGrath resigned voluntarily. But this turned out to be just a polite gesture toward a longtime political ally.

Republicans Hoot
McGrath himself made it plain he'd been forced out for disagreeing with the boss—Truman—over the conduct of Morris' cleanup campaign.

Republicans hooted at the whole performance.

It came 24 hours after Truman, McGrath and Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short held a heated, sometimes first-poundinging huddle in plain view but out of hearing of top officials and diplomats at airport welcoming ceremonies for Queen Juliana of The Netherlands.

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, running for the Republican nomination to succeed Truman, said Morris' ouster "proved the investigation (of government corruption) was not undertaken in good faith."

"The only way to clean up matters in Washington is a complete change of administration," Taft said in Urbana, Ill., where he was campaigning.

Some Democrats put forward the view that the whole thing had happened for the best.

"Public confidence in the government will be strengthened," said Senator Lehman (D-Ill.-N.Y.).

Morris, a self-styled "Abraham Lincoln Republican" who was president of the New York City Council under the late Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, seemed to share Taft's sentiments in part at least.

No Illusions
Although crediting Truman with "enthusiasm" for a real cleanup, Morris blasted McGrath to a fare-thee-well. He said he'd leave behind a bunch of suggestions for keeping the government honest, but declared:

"I have no illusions that these x x will become law during the life of this Administration."

T&P Income Second Highest In History

DALLAS—(AP)—Despite mounting taxes and higher operating expenses, the Texas and Pacific Railway Company during 1951 earned a net income of $8,509,851, second highest in the railroad's history, the T&P annual report showed Friday.

President W. G. Voliver, in his report to stockholders, said "notwithstanding increased wage and tax rates and higher costs of materials and supplies, the company was able to earn a net income of $8,509,851, an increase of 3.1 per cent over 1950 and exceeded only in the year of 1942 when net was $9,009,541."

He attributed the increase in net income largely to the railroad's modernization and dieselization program.

Toliver Resigns Manager's Post In TEC Offices

PECOS—B. A. Toliver has resigned as manager of the Texas Employment Commission here, after opening the office eight years ago. He will continue with the office, however, as an interviewer.

Replacing Toliver as manager is G. W. Modesette, who has been associated as a farm placement representative. Modesette has been with the TEC about four years. He formerly was attached to the TEC office in Monahans.

Toliver, who completed his eighth year as manager Tuesday, requested the office change from state headquarters because of health.

He has served a total of 15 years as mayor of Pecos. He was unopposed in his candidacy for reelection when his appointment with the TEC came through.

Assisting Modesette and Toliver is Mrs. Nadine Cooper.

Domestic Crude Stocks Increase

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Mines reported Friday stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum totaled 236,661,000 barrels on March 29, a net increase of 1,493,999 barrels for the week. Domestic crude increased 1,578,000. Foreign crude decreased 85,000.

Daily average production was 6,402,000 barrels, a decrease of 21,000. Runs to still averaged 6,590,000 barrels, an increase of 48,000.

Taft, Ike Supporters Angle For Delegates In Iowa And Michigan

By The Associated Press
Supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower maneuvered busily Friday for delegates in two important Midwest Republican state conventions—Iowa and Michigan.

The odds appeared about evenly divided for both presidential aspirants in each state. Backers of other candidates were not so active.

Michigan's GOP Convention doesn't open until Saturday in Detroit but the backstage was abuzz with cautious horse trading.

Iowa Republicans met in Des Moines Friday to select 26 delegates to the Chicago National Convention. Informal caucuses by counties and congressional districts left the outlook muddled.

But it appeared from preliminary commitments that Taft and Eisenhower were running neck and neck, backers of each claiming four of the eight districts. Each district picks two delegates and 10 will be chosen at large.

The 3,000 Republicans also will be asked to support a proposed Republican national farm plank.

In Michigan Republicans appeared agreed to compromise on dividing the state's 46-vote delegation rather than risk a showdown fight.

The convention will choose 10 delegates-at-large and districts will select the other 36 in pre-convention sessions.

Leaders of both the Taft and Eisenhower forces issued statements claiming an edge, but each said they would oppose a resolution favoring convention endorsement of any candidate. They said there was general agreement that Michigan would have an uninstruted delegation.

Junior High Band Leaves For Kermit

The John M. Cowden Junior High School Band, under the direction of Robert Gans, left Friday for Kermit to compete in the Texas Interscholastic League Region 8 Band Festival.

The Midland High School Band, under the direction of Ralph Mills, will leave Saturday to compete in the same event.

A radio broadcast from the Kermit radio station KERRB at 5:30 p.m. Saturday will feature the Midland High School Band.

CENTENARIAN DANCES

KELWOOD, MANITOBA—(AP)—Andrew McCutcheon celebrated his 100th birthday at a party and dance, during which he did a lively step-dance for the audience. He was born in Arthur, Ont., and came west in 1896.

Firemen Find Discouragement

City firemen had a discouraging day Thursday.

At 11:30 p.m., they were sent rushing to the 188 block of North Jefferson Street, where smoke was pouring from the house.

It was only a roost burning in the oven.

At 8 p.m., they roared through the business district to the 400 block of West Wall.

It was only an overturned flare that had scattered burning oil on the pavement.

Juliana, Truman Join In NATO Celebration

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman and Queen Juliana of The Netherlands Friday joined representatives of 12 other member nations in celebrating the third birthday of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The colorful ceremony at Constitution Hall also was attended by Secretary of State Acheson and other cabinet members.

Acheson on April 4, 1949, signed the pact which launched the United States, Canada, Iceland, Britain, and the Western European nations on their defense build-up against the threat of Communist aggression.

The recent admission of Turkey and Greece expanded the alliance to 14 members.

Military Funds Measure Is Target Of Economy Drive

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Already cut $4,340,538,500, a $46,880,264,270 defense appropriation bill for 1953 became the main target Friday of a House budget-cutting drive.

But before members demanding additional military fund cuts of up to 1 1/2 billion dollars can swing into action with votes, the House first must settle fights over diplomatic representation to the Vatican and money for the controversial "Voice of America" program.

"The military bill will be debated next week, assuming the House can dispose of a $1,000,000,000 measure financing the State, Justice and Commerce Departments and the federal courts."

MEDICAL PATIENTS

Medical patients in Midland Memorial Hospital Friday included Mrs. Elizabeth Reichard, 402 East Cowden Street and Dwayne Chestnutt, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Chestnutt, 402 North D Street.

Air Force Denies Any New 'Flying Saucer' Conclusions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Air Force says it is continuing to check all "flying saucer" reports and welcomes them. But "checking now is done through 'normal staff channels' rather than as a special project."

"In most cases," an Air Force spokesman said, "the findings have proved to be weather balloons and natural phenomena."

"There remains, however, a number of reported sightings that cannot be thus explained, and as long as this is true, the Air Force will continue to study the problem."

All reports are turned over to the Air Technical Intelligence Center at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

The spokesman said this continued interest should not be interpreted by the public "that new evaluations have been made or that new conclusions have been reached. This is not the case."

The statement was in answer to queries concerning a Life magazine report that the Air Force is taking new, serious interest in "flying saucers."

The article said the Air Force had changed from its previous policy of "official calm" and now is maintaining constant intelligence investigation of unidentified aerial objects.

Visitors From Space?
"The Air Force is now ready to concede that many saucer and fireball sightings still defy explanation," Life said.

The magazine's 11-page article entitled "Have we visitors from space?" said Life's own investigation indicated solid objects have existed and may still exist in the earth's atmosphere which are not of earthly origin.

It is "plausible," the magazine said, that they originated on other planets and the answer may "come in a generation—or tomorrow."

In Arizona Thursday, at least four men connected with the Marana Air Force Base near Tucson reported seeing a strange, oval-shaped object.

Chick Logan, a civilian flight commander, described it as five or six times as large as a B-29 Superfortress.

"It was not like a saucer, but more oblong x x x. I flew as high as I could to 14,000 feet and it appeared to be at least 40,000 feet higher than that," Logan said.

"It was real bright and shone like polished aluminum. I'll tell you, I have been flying for 25 years now, and I have never seen anything like it."

Davis-Monthan AFB officials at Tucson said B-29s, B-50s and B-36s had been flying in the area at the time.

THE FIVE DAYS

The Palms and the Cross were but five days apart! On Sunday, down a road strewn with palms, Christ rode triumphantly into Jerusalem . . . and men hailed Him as their King. On Friday He climbed the rugged slope of Calvary . . . and they nailed Him to a Cross. How suddenly good turns to evil! How quickly we sometimes lose our vision of God! The paradox of those five days is history's striking lesson in the importance of a constant faith. The faltering, hot and cold sort of religion made possible the Crucifixion! Palm Sunday you'll be going to Church. In a quiet moment in the sanctuary remember those five days . . . resolve to worship EVERY Sunday, and to live your faith EVERY day.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Republican Labels New Attorney General Greatest Whitewash Artist Of All Time

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The man President Truman has chosen as his new attorney general was described by a Republican congressman Friday as "the whitewash artist" in the seven-year-old investigation of Amerasia and communists-in-government.

Representative Velde of Illinois said Truman's appointment of James F. McGranery is "a cruel hoax on the American people."

In a statement, Velde said "McGranery, while assistant to the attorney general, was a key figure in one of the most shocking whitewashes of all time—the Amerasia case."

McGranery now is a U. S. district judge in Philadelphia. He formerly served as assistant U. S. attorney general and as a Democratic congressman. Truman Thursday picked McGranery to succeed J. Howard McGrath as boss of the Justice Department.

The Amerasia case was the springboard used by Senator McCarthy

(R-W) for his series of sensational charges of Communist influences in the State Department.

Amerasia was the name of a magazine which quit publishing in the summer of 1948. It specialized in articles on the Far East.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1945 arrested five men and a woman connected with the magazine and charged them with conspiracy to commit espionage during the latter part of the war with Japan.

Four Cases Dropped

Two of those persons were convicted, not of conspiring to spy against this country, but on lesser charges. They were Philip J. Jaffe, an editor of Amerasia, and Ammanuel S. Larsen, a State Department employee.

Charges against the other four persons were dropped. They were Kate Mitchell, an editor of Amerasia, John S. Service, a high-ranking diplomat in the State Department, Mark J. Gayn, a New York magazine writer, and Andrew Roth, a lieutenant in Naval Intelligence.

Jeffre pleaded guilty to conspiring to remove government documents illegally. Larsen pleaded no defense to the same charges. Jaffe was fined $2,500 and Larsen $500.

The Justice Department recommended the fines with the statement that their action "did not involve any element of delinquency."

McGranery was the Justice Department official who handled the bulk of the prosecution of those accused in the Amerasia case.

McCarthy, in bringing forth his charges, said "Amerasia was revealed as the center of a group of active and enthusiastic Communists or fellow-travelers." Owen Lattimore formerly was an editor of Amerasia, and Frederick Vanderbilt Field, a writer for the Daily Worker, was the magazine head.

Both Lattimore and Field have been questioned time and again by the Senate Internal Security (McCarthy) subcommittee investigating associations of Communist influences on U. S. Far Eastern policy.

In his statement Friday, Velde said:

"When the House Committee of the House conducted in 1948 the first investigation of why prosecution of the Amerasia defendants had collapsed, McGranery appeared as the Justice Department's whitewash artist.

"He belittled the importance of the top-secret government documents which had been found in the offices of the Red-slanted magazine, and lamely tried to shift the blame for collapse of prosecution to the FBI.

"In fact, he smeared the FBI with the statement that its investigation of Amerasia had been clumsily handled."

All the details of the Amerasia case have never been made public, since much of the testimony before the Justice Department and the congressional committees which investigated, was behind closed doors.

The record shows, however, that the House committee under Representative Hobbs (D-Ala) came up with a majority decision in 1946 that the case had been properly handled by the Justice Department.

The committee reported:

"Few if any of the identifiable classified documents involved in this case had any real importance in our national defense or our war effort."

Justice Department officials labeled the case closed. They said they did the best they could with the evidence they could obtain.

Cartoonist Gives Chalk Talk For Midland JayCees

Midland JayCees became cartoonwise at their regular luncheon Friday in Hotel Scharbauer.

Joe Malone, former sports cartoonist for the Dallas Times Herald and syndicate cartoonist for the Texas Newspaper Syndicate, gave a chalk talk. His creations included some of the works of comic strip artists.

Rocky Ford, a state vice president, reviewed the program for the nearing state JayCee convention. The four-day event will be held in Austin, beginning April 17. More than 15 Midland JayCees will attend.

Eulon Brown reminded the large attendance Zogi the Magician will perform in the Midland High School auditorium the evening of April 30 under the sponsorship of the Midland JayCees.

Jim Lee introduced Cartoonist Malone.

EASTBOUND GREYHOUND

Only one slight change will result in Midland because of Greyhound schedule alterations between Dallas and El Paso.

The eastbound bus leaving now at 11:19 a.m. daily will depart at 11:38 a.m., effective April 18.

FROM DALLAS

Harding Lawrence of Dallas, vice president of Pioneer Air Lines, was a Midland visitor Friday.

Jerry Brown, veteran wingman of the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League, is champion of the Cornwall, Ontario Country Club golf course.

Damyankees Rule Navy As Stars And Bars Come Down

ROME—(AP)—Four U. S. destroyers Friday admitted the damyankees rule the waves. And they won't fly the Confederate Stars and Bars no more.

The four ships—destroyer Hyman, Purdy, Beatty and Bristol—in Korea were known as the Dixie Division because their commanding officers all were from the South.

When they sailed from Hong Kong home recently, the Bristol hoisted the Confederate flag. Quite a flap in Washington followed.

"We made a mistake, violated Navy regulations and quite properly were called on it," the division commander, Capt. William Groverman of Newport, R. I., said here Friday.

The four ships now are in Naples. Groverman and many crew members are sightseeing in Rome.

Groverman blamed an over-ambitious public-relations officer for the Bristol's hoisting of anything but the Stars and Stripes.

"Navy regulations directly forbid flying any other flag except that of the United States," he explained. "We were wrong and a stop was put to it after that one time."

"It's a very sensitive subject," he continued. "I can't discuss it further since the correspondence was classified 'restricted.'"

Actually, it has a Confederate flag were set of false colors anyway. The four skippers were from the South and the flags were their personal property; but most of the crewmen were from New England.

Magnolia Buys Half Of Perkins Property

DALLAS—(AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum Company has purchased a one-half interest in the J. J. Perkins property in Wichita County.

John Ferrell, Magnolia public relations manager, said Thursday the property includes about 2,600 acres and 180 wells. He declined to give the purchase price.

COTTON

NEW YORK—(AP)—Friday noon cotton prices were $1 to $1.50 a bale lower than the previous close. May 41.40, July 40.43 and October 37.47.

The Detroit Tigers have had 13 managers since the 1900 season.

Servicemen Need No Poll Tax Receipt, Says Attorney General

AUSTIN—(AP)—No poll tax payment or exemption is needed by Texas servicemen who otherwise are qualified to vote, Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd is advising county clerks.

The State Constitution prohibits members of the regular or permanent military services from voting, but reserves, draftees, National Guardsmen and retired regular servicemen may cast ballots while on extended active duty.

Shepperd said a three-page summary of election laws on the subject is being mailed to all county clerks to eliminate confusion.

Scurry Tract Gets Directional Test To Canyon Zone

The Railroad Commission of Texas had granted E. J. Muth of Dallas permission to drill a 7,000-foot Canyon reef test on a four-acre unit in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County.

The well is to be drilled as No. 1 Moore Creek Missionary Baptist Church. Surface location is 2083 feet from north and west lines of section 246, block 97, H&TC survey, Directional Hole.

Operator plans to drill a directional hole, with the bottom to be located 341.67 feet from north and west lines of the section.

The RRC granted Muth permission on April 1, but he must wait 15 days before starting operations.

The 15-day waiting period was set up to give interested persons a chance to file applications opposing the drilling of the well.

Operator will have six months after the waiting period before he has to start operations.

Depleted Well On Tract

Ted Weiner, et al of Fort Worth completed a small pumper from the Canyon on the four-acre unit more than a year ago. It since has been depleted.

Sun Oil Company owns the lease rights on the remainder of the northwest quarter of section 246. Pure Oil Company offsets the drilling site to the west. Lone Star Producing Company offsets it to the northwest and Pure and Pan American own the lease rights to the north.

TO HAVE BARBECUE

The Ranchland Hill Country Club will hold a barbecue at 6 p.m. Friday for members and prospective members. Plans for a swimming pool will be discussed.

Swell Prizes For Kids In Bugs Bunny Easter Coloring And Jingle Contest

Here is something that means real fun for all youngsters in Midland—a BUGS BUNNY EASTER COLORING AND JINGLE CONTEST that gives every boy and girl up to 12 years old a chance to color three sketches with crayons or paints and write a last line for three jingles. And best of all, every boy and girl has an equal opportunity to win a prize!

Today we present the first of the BUGS BUNNY sketches, with Bugs playing the part of the Easter bunny. All you have to do is color this sketch, add a last line to the jingle that appears with it, and write your name, age and address in the space provided.

Then watch for the next two sketches and jingles, and get busy with your coloring and jingle-line writing again.

When you have all three sketches completed, mail them together in one batch to the BUGS BUNNY CONTEST EDITOR of The Reporter-Telegram. DON'T send the sketches in separately, and be sure to sign your name, age and address on each one. It's all very simple, youngsters, if you follow the rules which appear below.

And now, of course, you'll be interested in the list of prizes to be awarded for the best coloring jobs and the best jingle lines. Here they are:

First Prize	$10.00
Second Prize	5.00
Third Prize	3.00
Fourth Prize	2.00

As Bugs Bunny spreads Eastertime cheer, He is to be startled, we fear. The eggs that he'll hide A meal will provide

CONTEST RULES

1. Every boy and girl up to 12 years old, except relatives or employees of this newspaper, is eligible.
2. Clip all three Bugs Bunny sketches and color them.
3. Write a last line for each jingle.
4. Fill in your name, age and address, clip the three colored sketches together, and mail to the BUGS BUNNY EASTER COLORING CONTEST EDITOR of The Reporter-Telegram.
5. All entries must be received by midnight Thursday, April 18.
6. Judging will be on the basis of neatness and nice coloring and the best jingle lines. Winners will be announced Easter Sunday.

WHAT'S THE MOST VITAL THING ADVERTISING DOES FOR YOU?

- ★ BRINGS INFORMATION TO MAKE SHOPPING EASY.
- ★ GIVES YOU BETTER GOODS FOR LESS MONEY.
- ★ RAISES STANDARD OF LIVING.
- ★ MAKES JOBS MORE SECURE.

This Case History Shows How Advertising Gives You Greater Personal Security

TAKE this actual case of a brand of soap. A big company had developed a better, faster-acting soap powder that washes dishes faster, makes clothes whiter with less work.

How could they sell it at such a low cost as to be able to sell it cheaply? Only through advertising.

Today they sell millions of dollars of this soap powder per year—making hundreds of new jobs in a huge factory, hundreds of jobs with firms who supply the raw materials, more and better jobs in stores that handle that soap—and in banks, railroads, truck lines, insurance companies, all of whom have more work to do—and more money coming in—because of this added soap business.

Nobody Lost

For the amazing fact is—this new brand of soap didn't take money from other soap companies. The product and its advertising increased the total consumption of soap. So there was more business, better business—more and better jobs.

You're More Secure

Apply this very prosaic soap story to the more glamorous fields of automobiles, refrigerators, clothing, furniture—everything you buy. You'll see plainly how advertising acts as the spark plug of business. You'll see how advertising—today and tomorrow—is creating opportunity for you, and making your present job more secure.

What Others Say:

LABORER—There are no layoffs when things are busy. A rush means overtime for me. So when advertising sells goods for my firm, I get more in my pay envelope.

EXPRESSMAN—My job depends on goods being shipped. And the main reason goods are shipped is because they are sold. So by selling goods, advertising helps me be sure of steady work.

HOUSEWIFE—It's a perfect circle. When advertising makes us women go to the store to buy, we stimulate business. And it's when business is good that our husbands are secure in their jobs. So let's be grateful for advertising.

SAILOR—A ship's business is to transport goods. Always there has to be a buyer—or we tie up. So advertising to sell goods is important in giving sailors steady work and a chance to get ahead.

Advertising... Makes your job more secure

BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE

Widow's Plea Saves Teen-Age Slayer From Death Penalty

LOS ANGELES—A teen-ager killer was sentenced to life imprisonment after the widow of a policeman he shot pleaded against the death penalty.
Michael Meehan, a young transient from Denver, admitted the shooting of Police Sgt. Marvin Haney, 31, in a gun duel after a robbery in February.
Mrs. Elaine Haney asked that Meehan's life be spared.
Superior Judge William B. Neasey, who sentenced Thursday said, "I am very deeply moved by the position of Mrs. Haney in this case."
Meehan had pleaded guilty to murder and robbery. He is believed to be innocent although his exact birth date is uncertain.

Graduate Student Admits Wife Slaying

CHICAGO—The wife of a graduate student at the University of Chicago was found shot fatally in her home Thursday night and her husband, police said, admitted killing her a week ago.
Frank O'Sullivan, acting chief of detectives, said Harold Roland Markham, 35, said he had continued living in the couple's two-room home since the shooting on March 27.
O'Sullivan quoted Markham as saying he shot and killed his wife, Mary Elizabeth, 35, a law clerk, during a quarrel. Police said Mrs. Markham was shot twice in the face and once in the back.
The shooting, O'Sullivan said, Markham resisted, followed a heated quarrel.
O'Sullivan said Markham appeared at the detective bureau Thursday night and told of the shooting.

New Odessa C-C Manager Named

ODESSA—Jesse Owens, 34, manager of the Vicksburg, Miss., Chamber of Commerce, has been named manager of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce to succeed Houston Crump, who resigned earlier this year. The new manager will report for duty here before May 1.
Owens, a native Texan, is a graduate of Texas A&M College. He formerly was secretary of the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce.

Ike, Stevenson Camps Start Write-In Drives

CHICAGO—Eisenhower and Stevenson supporters, encouraged by write-in votes in other states, Friday worked to bring out big write-in votes for their men in Illinois Tuesday.
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's name will not be printed on the Republican ballot in the Illinois primary. Nor will that of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois be listed in the presidential portion of the Democratic ballot. Stevenson's name is printed on the ballot for governor. He is unopposed for the nomination.

WHOA, COME BACK HERE!—A Japanese rigger, working on a 100-foot cargo-type parachute, finds himself aloft unexpectedly as a high wind balloons the fabric. Other workers and UN personnel nearby run to grab the ganging shroud lines. The unwilling passenger was brought back to earth safely.

Violent Wind Hits New Orleans, Area

NEW ORLEANS—A violent windstorm struck parts of New Orleans and adjoining Jefferson Parish County just before dawn Friday, injuring at least two persons and causing heavy property damage.
The Weather Bureau said reports indicated the storm reached proportions of a small tornado at Bridge City, a community near the Mississippi River Bridge at New Orleans.
Six men were reported marooned aboard a powerless barge cast adrift by the winds and strong current of the river.
In Gretna, across the river from New Orleans, a family of seven escaped injury when their three-room cottage was lifted from its foundation by strong winds and carried 10 feet across a road.
Those reported injured were Sullivan Gaudry of Bridge City and Felix Gautreaux of Gretna.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

on casing which has been set on bottom.
Is To Core Deeper
When the plug is punctured operator plans to core deeper.
The project has already flowed oil from that zone at 8,879-9,018 feet. It made 39.89 barrels of oil in two hours, flowing through a 5/8th inch bottom hole choke.
There was no water. The No. 1 S. E. Nollety found the top of the reef 260 feet high to the same point in the Magnolia No. 1 Tom Peay, the field opener.

Jim Adams-Fry sand field was to get casing and make production tests.
The prospector is at total depth of 4,653 feet in the Goens lime. The 5 1/8-inch casing is to be cemented at 4,624 feet and completion will be attempted in open hole.
Flowed On Test
That section had flowing production at the estimated rate of 28 to 30 barrels per hour during a drillstem test. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,240 pounds and shut-in bottom hole pressure was 1,864 pounds.
Location is 5,900 feet from north and 5,000 feet from west lines of the H. L. Bays survey No. 444.
It is three miles northwest of the nearest production from the Goens lime. That is in Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 G. W. Poe, in section 71, CT survey, recently completed as a discovery from pay at 4,440-48 feet.

Driver Extension Is Completed In Glasscock Area

Tex-Harvey Oil Company has completed its No. 1 Steph as a one-half-mile north extension to the Bigby portion of the Driver-Spraberry field of Southwest Glasscock County. Operator reported a daily flowing potential of 207.70 barrels of 38-gravity oil through a 24/64-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 6,710-7,030 feet.
Gas-oil ratio was 596-1 and tubing pressure ranged from 100 up to 175 pounds.
No. 1 Steph originally was staked as Tex-Harvey No. 5-4 Cox. Location is 661 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 4, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey.

Gulf Is To Abandon Ellenburger Failure At NE Dawson Site

Gulf Oil Corporation is preparing to plug and abandon its No. 1 Robert Reeves, Northeast Dawson County wildcat on a total depth of 10,507 feet in barren Ellenburger lime.
This prospector ran a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 10,458-10,507 feet. The tool was open three hours. Recovery was 180 feet of sulphur water cut drilling mud and 6,220 feet of black sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.
High To Discovery
Top of the Ellenburger was at 10,480 feet. That was on a datum of minus 7,545 feet. That made the No. 1 Reeves 238 feet high on the top of the Ellenburger to the same point in Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Adcock, three miles to the northwest.
The Amerada project was the opener of the Adcock, Siluro-Devonian field. The Gulf failure did not find any Siluro-Devonian material.
Location was 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 6, block 1, T-6-S, J. Polite survey. It was seven miles south of O'Donnell and 15 miles northeast of Lamesa.

Tex-Harvey To Dig Four Holes To Store LPG Plan Products

Plans have been made to drill Midland County's first liquid petroleum gas - storage wells.
Four of the projects will be started at once at the Tex-Harvey gasoline plant site in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County, 15 miles southeast of the city of Midland.
Tex-Harvey plans to bottom the storage wells at approximately 2,000 feet. They are No. 1, 2, 3 and 4 Tex-Harvey Gasoline Plant.
To Store Products
They will be used to store LPG products produced by the recently opened plant.
No. 1 Tex-Harvey Gasoline Plant will be 800 feet from south and 150 feet from west lines of the east half of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 14, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.
No. 2 is 890 feet from south and 200 feet from east lines of the section. No. 3 is 390 feet from south and 500 feet from east lines of the section and No. 4 is 390 feet from south and 150 feet from east lines of the section.

Aboriginal residents of Easter Island called it "Rapa Nui"—"The Big Paddle," presumably in memory of the long canoe trip which brought the first people to the islands.

NE Runnels To Get 4,500-Foot Project

Bert Fields of Dallas No. 1 B. Porch is to be a 4,500-foot wildcat in Northeast Runnels County.
It is 330 feet from north and east lines of a 50-acre lease in block 527, H. W. Matthews survey.
That makes it three miles east of the Cree-Sykes field.

Runnels Wildcat Flows Oil; To Set Casing And Test

Midwest Oil Corporation of Fort Worth No. 1 Ralph Burns, Northeast Runnels County wildcat, one mile north of Wilmett and one and three-quarters miles west of the

New West Texas Pipe Line Planned

HOUSTON—Pacific Northwest Pipe Line Corporation will file an application with the Federal Power Commission to build a natural gas line from North and West Texas to Washington State, Ray C. Fish, executive board chairman said Friday.
Original plans of the company to build a line from South Texas to Washington have been shelved, he said.
Present plans call for laying a 36-inch main from the rich gas fields of North and West Texas as a cost of about $130,000,000. It will be close to 1,400 miles long, Fish said, and will have a capacity of 300 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.—Prov. 22:17.

Dulles Is True American

John Foster Dulles has done a wise thing in retiring at this time from Administration service in foreign affairs. He can take the step gracefully, since his major project is accomplished with Senate ratification of the Japanese peace treaty which he helped so mightily to draft and put across.

No case needs to be made out for Dulles' qualifications in the foreign field. He is an expert, and the Republican Party can be grateful that a man of such experience now is available for future duty should the GOP win the presidency this Fall.

That is the significant point about his withdrawal. Had he remained identified with Administration foreign policy up to and perhaps beyond the November elections, it would have been difficult for a victorious Republican Party to have put him to early use in prosecuting a different policy.

This way, a decent interval will elapse before change in the White House, and Dulles in that period will have detached himself successfully from all close contact with the Administration.

More than that, he now will be able to emphasize his separateness from the Democratic regime by openly criticizing various phases of both its foreign and domestic program. Evidently he intends to do just that.

If there are men in GOP councils who distrust Dulles because of past links with the Administration, this feeling in many cases likely is to be wiped out by the criticisms of Democratic policy he is expected to utter in the months ahead. He can win broad party loyalty by speaking out in support of a new foreign affairs approach.

Inasmuch as the Japanese treaty had the substantial backing of men in both parties, his identity with that pact will be no handicap, but rather the proof that Dulles has all the makings of a genuine diplomat.

It is to Dulles' credit that he has found it possible to work with an opposition party without crippling his usefulness to his own party. Because real foreign affairs specialists are all too few, this skill is one for which not only Republicans but all Americans must be thankful. It assures his continued availability at a time when we can ill afford to be without his services.

Should the Republicans not win in the Fall, no one should be greatly surprised if once more Dulles is put to work by the opposing party. This switch occurred when he entered the U. S. Senate briefly a few years ago, and could very well happen again.

Although Dulles is deeply concerned to assert his Republicanism, he is even more determined to dedicate his service continuously to the cause of America.

Ill Wind For Senator Taft

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Copyright, 1952, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Cabinet revolts against Newbold Morris' questionnaire; Politics busts out all over; Easter political paraders provide healthy competition.

WASHINGTON — Probably Attorney General McGrath would not have spoken out so vigorously against the Newbold Morris questionnaire if he had not known there already was quite a revolt against the questionnaire inside the cabinet.

Leader of the revolt is Secretary of Defense Bob Lovett who, in a recent Cabinet meeting, virtually told the cabinet in substance, "I have no secrets I would keep from you, Mr. President. But this questionnaire goes into intimate details regarding my business which could be of great value to my competitors."

Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma—age 55. A big oil and gas man, Kerr traded all sorts of votes on vital issues in order to pass his Kerr Natural Gas Bill permitting an increase in the price of gas. Although a delightful personality and good campaigner, any inspection of his lobbying record during an election campaign would result in certain defeat.

Senator Russell of Georgia—age 54. Able and highly respected, he has been the leader of the Republican-Democratic coalition which has fought successfully Truman on civil rights and his name automatically would eliminate big blocs of negro votes which can swing elections in New York, Chicago and other Northern cities.

Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois—age 53. JACOBY ON BRIDGE

ive partner, who will surely go on to four. A jump to four hearts is essential, however, if South is the sort of timid player who may regret that he has climbed an high and may suddenly decide to stop under game.

I would bid four hearts myself which my very best partners. A scientific partner knows that I have a good hand, almost enough for a free bid over one spade, but that I do not have king or ace of diamonds.

If the king of spades, for example, happened to be the king of diamonds, North should bid three diamonds over three clubs.

He would raise the hearts at his next turn, thus completing his story. His failure to make this bid indicates that he does not hold a high diamond. Hence South does not go on to slam.

This may sound fairly complicated, but this sort of reasoning is actually the soul of expert bridge. It's just as important to think of the bids your partner did not make as to remember the bids that he did make.

I would also ensure West for his opening lead. He has heard South barge confidently into a slam although spades have been bid against him. The chances are very strong that South expects a spade opening lead—and that he does not fear it.

In such a situation, West should switch to the other suit—diamonds. No guarantee goes with such a lead, since South conceivably might be counting on such a switch. In the long run, however, the diamond opening should be more productive than a spade opening.

Governor Mennen Williams of Michigan—age 41. One of the coming men in the Democratic Party. He started normally Republican Michigan in 1948, and repeated in 1950. Few Democratic governors get re-elected in that state. Reason for Williams' political success is a record which makes many Republicans vote for him. Son of the Williams-Mennen sharing soap family, he's called "Soapy" learned about government under the late Justice and Attorney General Frank Murphy. Williams says he doesn't want to run, but he'd be a great vote getter as vice president.

Round-Robin 'Vetoes' Stalled Last WSB Steel Wage Hearings

WASHINGTON—The inside story of how the Wage Stabilization Board arrived at its recommendations in the now-celebrated steel wage case will provide its main defense in the coming WSB investigation just voted by Congress.

The full record of the three-month steel wage case hearing and Wage Board deliberations far into the night fills many a volume of testimony. But the highlights of these proceedings on the principal issues show how the job was tackled and why a majority of the 12 board members came to the decisions reached in their final recommendations.

In the first place, it is contended that the steel companies' representatives and the CIO steelworkers' union had done no real bargaining up to the time the case was given to WSB on January 7. In passing the case to the board, many issues were included which were not just wage questions.

These were contract issues, such as the union shop, incentives, seniority and local working conditions. Yet all were just as important and just as controversial as the money questions.

WSB set up a special panel to hear all these points argued on their merits. Harry Shulman of Yale was chairman. Industry members were John Curry Bane, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Adm. Earl Mills of New York. Union members were Eli Oliver of the railway brotherhoods and Arnold Campo of the steelworkers.

WSB members agree this was as high class a panel as was ever assembled to handle any dispute case. It handled the case fast, completing hearings in New York, February 16. Then it reported to the full board, orally and in writing. Another month was required for the board's decision.

World War II Case Incidentally, the comparable steel wage case in World War II took more than a year to settle. It, too, was decided by an 8-4 vote, public and labor members approving, industry members disapproving.

The problem of WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger and the four public members in the present steel wage case was to reach fair and equitable recommendations by majority vote, since the actual bargaining had been transferred to the board by labor and management.

This was illustrated when the union shop issue came up for consideration. The first three motions all failed. Labor union representatives first moved that union shops be provided for. Public and industry members voted against it.

Industry members then moved that the union shop be referred back to the unions and the committee.

smile so frequently. Perhaps, too, he shouldn't shave so often. He put on his hat and pulled the brim down over his eyes. He was still not satisfied. He let a cigarette dangle from the corner of his mouth, out the reflection still fell short of expectations. Finally, he put one hand on the side pocket of his coat and fished a bulge resembling a gun. He pointed the bulge at the mirror, and through a thick screen of cigarette smoke and speaking from the corner of his mouth, he cracked, "Don't move, Chief. Big Boss, as I'll fill that fat hole of yours with more holes than a bank of Swiss cheese."

The performance was corny and it made him angry. He mashed the cigarette into a tray. "I should've stayed on a farm," he thought, "but it's too late now." He picked up the suitcase, looked the door and half-slowly mumbled, "Seneca Springs, here I come!"

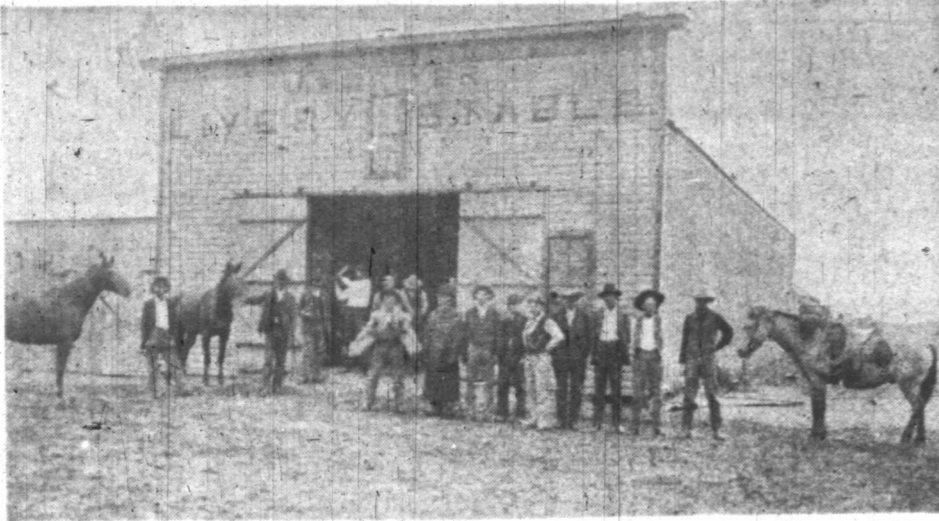

THE driver took them to the Seneca Springs Hotel, and though Vera remained silent when they entered the lobby, Kendall noted that her eyes were dry and she seemed composed. He got her a room and himself one on the same floor, and the porter took them upstairs, first unlocking Vera's room. He set her suitcase just inside the door, handed her the keys and then motioned down the hallway for George Kendall to follow.

George started to say good-night, but Vera closed the door before the words got out. If the porter had not been there, he would have opened a door, maybe straightened things out. He stared blankly at the door, feeling both irritated and foolish, but when he heard the porter unlocking another door, he turned slowly and walked away.

George entered the room, tipped the porter as he left, then fell across the bed. (To Be Continued)

Dallas Schoolteacher Writes Expose Of Political Schemes

DALLAS—(AP)—When a Dallas schoolteacher thought he recognized in Texans a "growing sense of futility" about political machinations, he set out to write an expose of the election system.

David S. Switzer's expose is the unsensational type in which he neither calls anyone names nor links any person to unpopular causes. In fact, his pamphlet, "Voting Responsibility," doesn't even deal with personalities.

All he exposes is that Texas voters have a chance to do more than cast a ballot on election day, and then he tells them how.

"Everybody thinks there isn't any chance to pick the people who run for office," Switzer says. He believes most voters think they have to sit back and wait for a candidate to be served up to them on a platter—furnished by the hands of professional politicians.

"Then they go out and vote and think they've been good citizens," he adds, expressing a bit of futility himself.

'Opens The Door'

So in his book Switzer says he has tried to open the door—a door he says political profiteers have closed and locked tight—to the election system.

Briefly (in 30 some pages) and graphically (with nearly 20 cartoons, graphs and charts) Switzer explains how an election proceeds, from the neighborhood precinct election May 3 to the general election in November.

The neighborhood precinct election is the clue to Switzer's argument. This is the place where he thinks "the people" fall down.

Until they start using the precinct meetings and elections as a lever, they'll never wrest control of tickets, parties and governments from the boys in the smoke-filled rooms, he points out.

It's the "grassroots" way, he says, and "you and your neighbors are the grassroots."

Booklet Issued

Switzer's booklet is the second low-cost one he's done in a series he calls Citizenship Responsibility.

His first book was a presentation of Texas' motor vehicle inspection laws passed by the last state Legislature.

His series is not the first crack at writing Switzer has taken. Although he has been a teacher in the Dallas Public Schools for nearly 20 years, he has taken time out for writing textbooks and newspaper features. He is co-author of "Fundamentals of Citizenship" the standard Texas textbook for eighth grade civics classes. Another book, "Self Government by Texans," was written before the Citizenship Responsibility series began.

Features, combining educational and entertainment ideas were written by Switzer for the Dallas Morning News during the last war. He has also worked for the Associated Press in its Dallas Bureau.

Although Switzer wrote "Voting Responsibility" and published the booklet himself he says he had the advice of many practical politicians in compiling the information, charts, and important election dates he made a part of the book.

Sell For Dime
After the Citizenship books are written and published, Switzer turns them over to the Lone Star Book Depository in Dallas for distribution. The little paper-bound books sell for ten cents.

Not satisfied with merely teaching the youngsters in his social sciences classes, Switzer thinks his Citizenship Responsibility series can reach the older folks—the ones who can really do something about now.

"I want to help bring the government back to the people. Maybe it will help," he adds hopefully.
