Steel Shutdown Only Hours Away

Wage 'Deal' Charged On Walkout Eve

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—A leading steelmaker Tuesday accused government and labor leaders of making a deal on a wage increase as the final hours before a nationwide steel strike ticked away.

The charge was hurled by Ernest T. Weir, board chairman of the National Steel Corporation, who told a news conference the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board for settling the steel dispute followed what he bluntly termed a deal.

Ernest T. Weir

In Washington, the Commerce Department was reported ready to take over the steel industry if President Truman gives the order for seizure.

"There must have been a deal between powers in the Administration and labor leaders in which the labor leaders received assurance their demands would have support," declared Weir, adding:

My own opinion is that there was a deal made—maybe not on a definite amount—but there was a hand-picked (Wage Stabilization) board for the purpose of supporting whatever deal was made.

The WSB recommended the CIO United Steelworkers get a 17 1/2-cent wage increase and other "fringe" benefits.

Weir called for use of the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act to avert the midnight strike by 650,000 unionists.

Under that law, President Truman can ask the courts for an order which would delay the strike 90 days.

Meanwhile, American steel industry pushed toward a complete shutdown with government, industry.

Large Part Of Store Loot Scorched, Officers Declare

The loot from the $3,500 Woolworth store safe robbery of three weeks ago may be so hot it's scorched.

That possibility appeared Monday afternoon as officers finally located the inner safe, which was stolen from the North Main Street store, in a lonely pasture 10 miles north of Rankin.

"There is a good possibility that a large part of the paper money was partially burned or at least scorched by the heat from the torch used in cutting open the safe," said Detective Harold Wallace.

Wallace, along with Texas Ranger John Wood and Deputy Sheriff F. S. Buckalew, brought the safe back to Midland Monday afternoon.

It first was spotted by Manuel Aguro, a ranch hand, who ran across it in the midst of some grazing land between here and Rankin.

A nest hole, barely large enough for inserting a hand, had been cut through the inch-thick steel.

Inside, Wallace said, they found a handful of charred remnants of $1 and $10 bills.

The inner compartment, about a foot and one-half square, had been taken after the safe had been "peeled" open by burglars while still in the store. The loot included both currency and silver.

City Fires Opening Gun In Beer Battle

The City of Midland fired the first shot Tuesday in the Main Street Beer Battle—a campaign designed to take that thoroughfare out of the zone in which on-the-premise beer consumption is permitted.

Its Corporation Court levied a $200 fine on J. R. Harrison for operating the Texas Club at 112 South Main Street without a city permit. And almost before the receipt for the fine had been written, Harrison announced he would go into court in an effort to force the city to issue him a permit.

At stake in the battle was not only the future of the Texas Club but at least three other cafes in the 100 block of South Main Street, in which beer now is sold for on-the-premise consumption.

At least one other place now is operating without a city permit, but no charges yet have been filed against its operator.

The first rumbling indications of the beer battle were heard last week when the City Council adopted a motion calling for excluding the area from the city's beer zone and instructed City Attorney Len McCormick to map the necessary strategy.

By Saturday, two complaints, based on sales on two succeeding days, had been filed against Harrison.

"It was just an over-enthusiasm on our part," said Charles Edwards, Jr., as he appeared before Judge Fred Hartman in answer to the complaint, to represent Harrison, his father-in-law.

He immediately applied to City Secretary J. C. Hudman for the $1250 permit, but Hudman, acting on instruction of the council, refused to issue it.

Tuesday morning, Harrison, having picked up two more complaints in the interim, appeared in court and pleaded guilty to the first two.

Trial on the latter two has been scheduled Friday and Harrison said by that time he would be represented by an attorney.

Meanwhile, City Manager W. H. Oswald said the matter will be referred to the State Liquor Control Board for possible revocation of Harrison's state retail license.

"We have refused to issue Mr.

City Water Consumption Starts Rising

Midland's water consumption began creeping upward again during March with indications pointing toward a record-breaking demand by mid-Summer.

Water Engineer Henry Nunn Tuesday reported 119,000,000 gallons of water were pumped during the month, an increase of almost 10 per cent over the same period a year ago.

More significant, however, was the 6,000,000 gallons pumped on the last day of the month as warm weather demands really were felt for the first time.

The 6,000,000 gallons represents about one-half the city's capacity, which is not expected to be reached for several months.

Since seasonal demands just now are beginning to be felt, most of the increase was credited to new water customers. Water connections at the end of the month totaled 6,812 as compared to 5,479 reported for March 31, 1951.

Nunn also said there now are 404 fire hydrants in the city, compared with 212 a year ago.

MISSING BUGS BUNNY RETURNS

We're terribly sorry, youngsters, but the final Bugs Bunny Easter Coloring Contest sketch inadvertently was left out of Monday afternoon's issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

Don't worry, though, because the No. 3 sketch appears in today's issue, so go ahead with your contest work right now. And remember, the deadline for getting your entries to this newspaper is Thursday midnight.

Elks Ruler Visits City

Howard R. Davis of Williamsport, Pa., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was to arrive in Midland late Tuesday for a brief visit before proceeding to Carlsbad, N. M., for a night speaking engagement.

The leader of the more than 1,000,000 Elks in the United States was to be met at Midland Air Terminal at 4:30 p.m. by officials of the Midland Elks Lodge, who were to bring him into the city for a two-hour visit.

Jack R. Mogie, retiring exalted ruler of the Midland lodge, said Davis would inspect the new Elks clubrooms in the Leggett Building during his visit here. A tour of the city also is scheduled.

The grand exalted ruler of Elksdom will be the honor guest and principal speaker at a meeting of New Mexico Elks Tuesday night in Carlsbad when officers of 15 New Mexico lodges will be installed.

New Grand Jury Convenes Tuesday

A new Midland County Grand Jury was sworn in before Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton Tuesday in 70th District Court.

With Roy Minear as foreman, the 12 men immediately went into executive session with District Attorney W. O. Shafer.

Other members of the investigating body include Fred S. Alexander, J. J. Bailey, J. Howard Hodge, Richard Hinkle, Frank Cowden, Jr., Ben Dancy, Jr., C. J. Kelly, W. E. Fig, J. C. Velvin, W. W. Barker and T. E. Bowers.

Hottest '52 Day Recorded

The mercury soared to the 1952 high of 89 degrees Monday afternoon as Midlanders felt the hot touch of summer. The minimum reading was 69.

Tuesday morning forecasts at the Midland Air Terminal called for little change in temperature. Blowing sand was due Tuesday afternoon.

WARMING UP

with 25 mile-an-hour wind with occasional stronger gusts.

The warm and lazy weather masked drought disaster that stalled the state. City water supply reservoirs over most of the state continued at increasingly low levels. Big Spring citizens, noting the low stage of the water in Moss Creek Lake, were concerned over possible outbreak of typhoid. But city officials assured them the municipal water supply still was safe.

Blowing sand again Tuesday in West Texas areas pointed up the increasing danger of drifting sand on West Texas highways and roads.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR—Jawad Khalili, director of petroleum production in the Ministry of Finance for Iran, arrived in Midland Monday night for a tour of Permian Basin oil activities. He talked with industry representatives Tuesday morning before going to Block 31 in Crane County to view the high pressure injection project of The Atlantic Refining Company. Seated with Khalili is Don Miller of Phillips Petroleum Company, left, and G. T. Lepley of Odessa, Atlantic host on Block 31 tour. Standing left to right are Robert I. Dickey, Forest Oil Corporation; Glen L. Shoemaker, Stanolind Oil Purchasing Company; Jack Chase, Lion Oil Company; John Younger, The Western Company, and Joe L. Greer, supervisor of the Midland District, Oil and Gas Division, Railroad Commission of Texas. Khalili will be in the Midland sector four or five days.

Planes Collide In Air As Brass Misses Last Big Air Jump In Long Horn Games

FORT HOOD—(AP)—Two fighter planes collided high in the air Tuesday in the midst of a mass parachute jump by 3,190 soldiers taking part in Exercise Long Horn.

Both planes spiraled to the ground, crashed and burned, but one pilot parachuted to safety. The other died in the blazing wreckage of his craft. Their names were withheld.

The F-51 single engine craft collided over the small town of Evant, on the northern edge of the 1,800-square-mile area where 115,000 soldiers are staging the biggest maneuvers in U. S. history.

The two planes were stacked to the 131st Fighter Bomber Wing from George Air Force Base, Victorville, Calif. During the maneuvers the wing has been based at Connally Air Force Base, Waco.

The mass parachute jump and plane crash caught newsmen—and many generals who had counted on seeing the spectacular air drop—here at maneuver headquarters, about 40 miles southwest of Evant.

A few hours earlier they had been told the mass jump had been cancelled because of high winds.

Apparently the decision to jump was made in the air as the planes headed over the drop zone.

Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of the Air Force, and other generals raced to the drop zone to get a late look.

Scores of fighter planes were taking part providing air cover for the troop transports and strafing the area in simulated fashion.

As far as could be ascertained, none of the official observers who had planned to watch the jump or scores of correspondents and photographers were there.

They had been notified shortly before dawn there would be no drop.

There was no immediate report of any casualties among the jumpers who dropped in a stiff wind that sent clouds of dust broiling over the Central Texas ranchland.

The paratroopers were from the 508th Regimental Combat Team. They were dropped on both sides of the Colorado River, 15 miles southwest of Goldthwaite, on Highway 16. Their mission was to trap 82 Airborne aggressor forces in a nutcracker operation with the First Armored Division moving in.

U-Boat Blast Sets Off New Speculation On Hitler Fate

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK—(AP)—A dynamite blast which raised rumors of a sunken German submarine brought Danish speculation Tuesday that leading Nazis—perhaps even Hitler—tried to flee the falling Reich in a U-Boat.

The sub was one of three bombed by the RAF on May 4, 1945. At least two were found sunk near the Danish coast. The fate of the third is unknown.

The dynamite charge, set off during salvage operations, broke a torpedo tube and raised huge amounts of rotting food. No corpses or skeletons have been found so far, although the blast raised a few pieces of bone. Investigation showed the U-boat was crammed with food, even in the torpedo tubes, and carried no munitions.

No papers were found to identify the occupants, not to prove the deduction the U-boat might have contained high Nazis escaping the doomed Reich. Some Danes wondered whether Hitler might have been one, although Allied investigation has indicated he probably died in a Berlin bunker, as the Germans said he did.

Most of the highest Nazis were caught and tried but the fate of at least one—Hitler's last deputy, Martin Bormann—never has been established.

No Written Clue

The mystery of "Submarine X," as it now is called in the Danish press, probably never will be solved.

Divers are blasting the ship in bits to salvage steel, lead and other materials. Corpses of those aboard have been carried away by the water, and only a few skulls have been left.

So far no sheet of paper with any clue has been found.

Port and salvage officials agree, however, that the submarine definitely was not bound on any war mission when it was sunk in 12 fathoms of water in Lillebaelt, a narrow Danish strait between Jutland and Funen Island. This opinion is based on the fact that the war then virtually was at an end and no ammunition was found aboard.

Texas Telephone Service Continues On Normal Pattern

By The Associated Press

Telephone service continued on a normal basis in Texas Tuesday. No picket lines by striking Western Electric Company employees were reported anywhere in the state.

Meanwhile, the Western Union strike neared the end of its first week, with the company claiming it had started limited service to six Texas cities.

Western Electric employees, who went on strike Monday morning, were delaying their Sunday punch—hit-and-run pickets—but the Western Union pickets surrounded major telephone offices.

The threat of hit-and-run pickets kept Southwestern Bell Telephone Company officials jittery as union officials said the pickets were "standing by."

Meanwhile, W. W. Keith, Western Union superintendent at Dallas, said telephone service had been restored at Dallas, Austin, Sweetwater, Texas, Houston and San Antonio.

PARIS—(AP)—Officers at General Eisenhower's headquarters here Tuesday seemed to think the general has asked to be released from his post as supreme Allied commander in Europe, although no one wanted to be quoted.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Lovett's office reported Tuesday he had not received any resignation letter from Eisenhower. Aides said Lovett would not comment on reports that such a letter had been sent or was expected.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Judiciary Committee Tuesday approved a 60-day extension of President Truman's wartime emergency powers. Leaders hope to speed it through the House before recessing Thursday.

DETROIT—(AP)—Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer interrupted his fact-finding tour of 10 Midwestern cities Tuesday and flew back to Washington on orders of President Truman to lend a hand in the steel strike situation.

Plymouth To Dig Shallow Wildcat In C-E Glasscock

Plymouth Oil Company No. 4 S. C. Currie is to be drilled as a 3,300-foot rotary wildcat in Central-East Glasscock County, 18 miles west of Sterling City.

Drill site is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 43, block 32, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Operations are to commence at once.

Grisham Moves Off Rig; To Complete Big Gas Discovery

The drilling rig is being moved off at M. A. Grisham and associates No. 1 Grisham fee, Central-West Glasscock County gas discovery and the wildcat is now in process of being completed.

It will be put on regular production as soon as El Paso Natural Gas Company can lay a 25-mile pipe line to connect it with the concern's big gas carrier from Jal. N. M., to El Paso.

Swabbed Open Hole

After drilling the plug on 7-inch casing which had been cemented at the top of the pay at 9,030 feet, when the total depth was at 9,654 feet, operator replaced the drilling mud-in the hole with water and then moved in a swab unit.

After pulling the swab nine times the well kicked off and started flowing to clean itself. It was allowed to flow for approximately three days and it was then tested for approximately nine and one-half million cubic feet of dry gas per day. There was no formation water produced with the gas.

However, some drilling mud and some of the load water was being sprayed out with the gas when the well was shut in to allow moving off the rig.

The open hole at 9,030-54 feet had been washed with approximately 145 gallons of mud acid before the well was tested for the nine and one-half million cubic feet per day gas flow.

Operator started to wash the hole with 600 gallons of mud acid. That amount of the chemical solution was pumped into the well—but approximately 235 gallons of it was immediately pumped out and operator representatives say that only the 165 gallons left in the hole had any re-action on the gas-making formation.

Idea Was Abandoned

Some thought had been given to injecting a 3,000-gallon shot of regular acid into the pay section, after the acid washing. That idea was abandoned.

El Paso Natural Gas Company has contracted to take the gas production of the Grisham discovery and is to start immediately to lay a line to the well.

It is reported by informed sources that plans are in the formative stage for the drilling in the near future of at least three new explorations in the area adjacent to the new gas well.

New Tests Proposed

All three of these proposed prospectors will test the zone which is making the gas in the Grisham wildcat. No details of those possible developments are available.

Identity of the zone making the gas has not been definitely established. Some observers, think it is Siluro-Devonian lime.

It is others of the opinion that it is Mississippian shale. Operator representatives will not make any comment on either of those ideas.

Location is 600 feet from south and west lines of section 10, block 60, T-5, T&P survey. It is 30 miles north of Kent and 30 miles northwest of Toyah.

Texaco Veterans Observe Concern's 50th Anniversary

Veteran employes and officials of The Texas Company and its affiliate the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico observed the 50th anniversary of the concern at a dinner in Midland Monday night.

In attendance were 35 persons. Of that group, 48 had been with the concern for 25 years or more. The other eight were special guests.

Baker Was Chairman

The party was held at Midland Country Club. L. I. Baker, supervisor of the West Texas-New Mexico gas-gathering department of Texaco, was chairman of arrangements and master-of-ceremonies for the meeting.

In addition to observing the 50th birthday of the company, the Mon-

Bridge players as a group are highly charitable people, and the American Contract Bridge League has had great success with its nationwide charity drive. When one of many charity tournaments was held in White Plains, New York, all the contestants contributed handsomely to a good cause; and for good measure, many of them also contributed several tricks to their opponents.

In the hand shown today, for example, East handed the game to South of the proverbial silver plate.

AMI Spokesman Denounces Price Controls On Meat

SAN ANTONIO — A top meat packing official charged Monday price controls cannot work and said it is good for the nation they don't.

H. H. Corey, board chairman of the American Meat Institute, declared if government could control prices "that would be bad for the government control would be successful and individual liberty and enterprise would wither from the earth."

Corey addressed more than 50 packing firms executives who compose the AMI board of directors. He heads the Geo. A. Hormel & Company packing firm in Austin, Minn.

"But fortunately no set government men, however bright and well-intentioned, can control prices, or at least meat prices," Corey said. "Supply and demand control prices — not government law."

This was not exactly the charity that East had come there to support.

West opened the king of clubs, and South ruffed. Declarer laid down the ace of spades, entered dummy with the king of hearts, and led the seven of spades from dummy.

East played the five of spades.

Senate Rejects Barkley Selections On Tideland Panel

WASHINGTON — The Senate has rejected five of its members picked to represent it in conferences with the House on legislation to give lands beneath the marginal seas to the states.

Vice President Barkley had named as Senate conferees Senators O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), McFarland (D-Mont.), Gordon (R-Ore.) and Butler (D-Neb.).

The Senate Monday agreed with a motion of Senator Long (D-La.) to withdraw the conferees.

Long said the three democrats named had voted against the bill passed by the Senate to give the submerged lands to the states, and did not represent the majority view of the body on the issue.

Both the House and the Senate have approved giving the oil-rich lands to the states. The House bill also would give the coastal states 37 1/2 per cent of revenues from lands on the continental shelf beyond the three-mile limit. Differences between the two bills must be worked out in the conferees.

Jane Russell Gets Grooming To Join The Grable Leg League

By ESKINE JOHNSON
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Jane Russell's moving into Betty Grable's league as a leggy, prancing, singing musical queen!

Producer Bob Welch and Director Frank Tashlin, who moulded a new Jane for "Son of Paleface," lowered the camera and discovered her legs — told me that they've written her a starring film musical. The title: "Bustles and Bows."

"This girl is going to make Grable look like nothing," Welch declared. "And she's got," said Tashlin, "Even Howard Hughes is raving that we've given him a new girl."

"Son of Paleface" co-stars Jane, Bob Hope and Roy Rogers in a spicy western plot that Welch describes as a quadrangle. "Jane loves Roy, Roy loves Trigger, Trigger hates Hope, Jane gets Hope."

Sample feuding between Hope and Trigger: Hope and the horse in bed together fighting for the covers like an old married couple.

Peter Lind Hayes is bolting mad at 20th Century-Fox for the sequence in "Phone Call From A Stranger" that has to do with a veteran vaudeville star, her chip-off-the-block son and his wife.

"I don't appreciate it at all," Peter told me, admitting that the sequence hits too close to home for comfort. "I don't like to talk about it. I think I almost have grounds for a lawsuit."

The Army has sent greetings to David Andrews, Dana's son, who has just turned 18. . . Rita Hayworth referred to Kirk Douglas as an old friend, but intimates as they met just a few hours before their big date — a publicity-engineered stunt.

It's definite that Columbia will re-issue "The Jolson Story" and "Jolson Sings Again." Al's widow, who is now Mrs. Norman Krauss, holds the mammy singer's residual rights in the pictures as part of her community property and stands to make a cool million from the re-issue.

That "wedding ring" Charles O'Curran slipped on Betty Hutton's finger at their unscheduled Las Vegas marriage was a dinner ring Betty's mother gave her last Christmas. A Hollywood jeweler is designing the official band.

"Split Second," based on the Nevada atomic bomb tests, is in the production mill at RKO. About a couple of convicts who try to retrieve a fortune in cash hidden in a Nevada ghost town before the place is reduced to dust.

Jack Beutel and Howard Hughes have called it a day, ending one of Hollywood's strangest contracts. After starting in "The Outlaw," Jack never faced a camera for seven years. During nine years on Hughes' payroll, he worked in only four films.

There's an eyebrow-lifting note over songstress Peggy Lee's replacement of movie star Jane Powell at New York's plush Copacabana. Jane was drawing $9,000 a week.

Even the starlets are having rip-roaring feuds in Hollywood these days. Latest entries in the sweepstakes: Claudette Thornton, Bob Stack's flame, in one corner and Mona Knox, a Nippy Hilton favorite, in the other.

Columbia's denying that Rita Hayworth will play the oldest-profession girl in "From Here to Eternity." The part's too small and the character's hardly of the desired moral fibre.

It's election year, so movietown publicist Gordon Gordon and his wife have titled their new "whodunit," due this Fall, "Campaign Train." . . . Cary Grant is saying that the deal's still on for him to co-star with Cantinflas, Mexican comedy king, in "Don Quixote" for Walt Disney.

Evelyn Keys and Paulette Goddard got together in Paris to talk about co-starring in a picture to be shot in Barcelona this Summer. . . . Alida Valli and Orson Wells are being beckoned by rubber actress Elizabeth Firestone for "The Madrid Story," which she'll shoot in Spain. . . . Gary Cooper's New Orleans operation for hernia was his second. He still has to face the knife for his ulcer condition.

Lisa Ferraday is preparing a romantic announcement that will surprise her closest friends.

Shelley Winters plays a wino with a $11 wardrobe in MGM's "Letter From the President" — first character of the type to come her way since "A Place in the Sun." . . . Ray Milland's next at Paramount will be "Jamaica Run." Run, not rum.

AVA JUST TOO MUCH FOR PECK

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Actress Ava Gardner apparently was too much of an armful for actor Gregory Peck.

Carrying her over rough terrain on a studio back lot, Peck stumbled and tore ligaments in his left knee. It is not only spoiled the movie scene, but halted production on the film pending his recovery, expected late this week.

Jane Wyman, Fiance Cancel Marriage Plans

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Actress Jane Wyman, 36, and Travis Kleefeld, 26, wealthy building contractor, have decided not to get married after all.

The couple announced their engagement several weeks ago. But Monday Miss Wyman said they talked it over and concluded matrimony — to each other is not for them. She didn't say why.

The actress is divorced from Actor Ronald Reagan.

The Investigative 82nd

The power of Congress to investigate is inherent in its power to make laws. But it has been apparent that in recent years Congress has devoted a disproportionate share of its time to investigating, and too little to law-making.

A recent survey by the New York Times gives some fresh substance to this complaint. The Times found that since 1950 there have been 225 investigations launched, and that 60 currently are in progress.

This makes the 82nd Congress the most investigative one in U. S. history, and before it, the 80th and the 81st had established new peaks. The upward trend is unmistakable.

Money voted for these inquiries by the 82nd Congress comes to $4,100,000 in addition to funds regularly allotted for normal committee work. This is about $600,000 more than the sum allowed for the 81st.

Right now about 20 proposals for new inquiries are pending. They call for outlay of almost $1,000,000 more.

There are so many separate probes that Congress, no longer can house them all. It has begun renting hotel rooms in downtown Washington. The old Supreme Court chamber in the Capitol used to be just a sightseer's delight. Today it's in steady demand as a hearing room.

Often the investigating groups hold both morning and afternoon sessions, thus limiting the average legislator's "law-making" to an occasional chase to the Senate or House floor for a roll call. This hardly seems a system designed to produce good laws.

Another complaint is an old one but it's still valid. Investigations of the executive departments and agencies are so numerous that many federal officials devote a good part of their time to Capitol Hill.

They frequently bring large staffs with them. This fact plus repeated committee demands for more data, reports and other supplemental work cuts heavily into the departments' regular operating funds. Certainly government service must be impaired in at least some of these cases.

Thus we have the spectacle of Congress in effect compelling a diversion of department funds at the very moment it is inquiring into that department's methods of spending.

No question about it, congressional investigating now is out of hand. Not only is it far too time-consuming in ratio to the law-making process, but it many times is without serious purpose.

The Times survey is a useful start toward showing the American people how their Congress spends its time. The next step is equally important.

We need to know how many of the hundreds of investigations conducted by Congress in recent years actually have led to useful legislation. And how many have been publicity circuses largely wasteful of lawmakers' time and the taxpayers' money.

Don't We Get Into The Queerest Predicaments?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: New attorney general is honest, but political-minded; McGranery may be guided by political winds in cleaning up corruption; had fine record in Justice Department.

WASHINGTON — James Patrick McGranery, new attorney general of the United States, has several interesting attributes. He is as honest as the day is long; he is married to one of the most beautiful and brilliant women attorneys who ever practiced law, and he is so loyal to Harry Truman that every political whim the President has will be anticipated in advance.

Jim also knows where most of the bodies are buried in the Justice Department. And having his knowledge, he probably could dig them up—if he wants to. But the chances are he won't.

For the new attorney general also knows that the Justice Department has become the most important political arm of the Democratic Party.

There was a time when the Post Office was the great political doghouse of the political party in power. But no more. Today, postmasters largely are under civil service and the postmaster general is a career man.

But the Justice Department, which has the power to put men in jail or save them from jail; which has the power to grant pardons, prosecute for tax frauds, compromise taxes, collect claims against corporations, settle war contracts, bring anti-trust suits against the motion-picture industry, the investment bankers, the newspapers and any other industry has become by all odds the most potent civil arm of government.

White House Friend That's why the man who runs it must be one of the trusted friends of the White House. That's why also it took courage on Truman's part to fire Howard McGrath; for Howard likewise knows where the bodies are buried—and might remember some of them.

Finally that's why Jim McGranery, an old and intimate friend of the President's, was picked for this all-important job.

The new attorney general is not only a friend of the President's, but almost equally important, he is the friend of Kingmaker Matt Connelly, the White House secretary, who has become one of the busiest busybodies in Washington.

Originally Connelly picked his old friend McGranery to become chairman of the Democratic National Committee, replacing Bill Boyle. Then he discovered that ex-Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania and Democratic Committeeman David Lawrence, the mayor of Pittsburgh, were down on McGranery, so Connelly boosted Frank McKinney into the party chairmanship instead.

McGranery also is a first-hand eyewitness of the grab which the politicians made for the Justice Department one month after Harry Truman came into office. At that time Jim was assistant to the attorney general, the No. 2 spot in the Justice Department, and was doing an A-1 job.

His chief, another Philadelphian, was Francis Biddle, a straight-laced Pennsylvania blue blood who gave the Justice Department an honest and forthright administration. Puritan Biddle and Irishman McGranery were an effective, efficient team.

Shortly after Vice President Truman became President of the United States, he was the politicians round him cast hungry eyes on the Justice Department. They decided Biddle would have to go.

But Biddle embarrassed Truman by going down to the White House, telling him he quite understood that a new President would want to have his own attorney general, reminded him that he already had submitted his resignation, and pointedly asked him who his successor was going to be. Biddle was interested in having Justice Department efficiency continued.

His successor, Truman said, would be Tom Clark.

At this Biddle almost dropped dead. He had been on the verge of firing Tom Clark as chief of his criminal division.

"Don't take my word for it," he told the President, "call in your friend Jim McGranery and ask him what he thinks of Clark."

McGranery did go down to the White House. But Jim is smart. He did not make a full report.

Shortly thereafter, his new boss, the man whom he did not criticize to Truman recommended him for appointment as a federal judge in Philadelphia.

Irish Humor

The new attorney general began his political life as a refreshing new congressman during the early days of the New Deal, shocked Republican leaders in rock-ribbed Philadelphia by voting for labor, civil rights, public housing and other Roosevelt policies.

McGranery has saved his money, invested it wisely, how is moderate-

Regional Boards Handle Most Of WSB Cases, But Big Ones Go To Washington

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Wage Stabilization Board and its 14 regional boards scattered around the country have solved more than 31,000 dispute cases in the year and four months they have been in existence. Most of these cases have been handled without more than a ripple of excitement in local areas.

It's the big cases it isn't able to solve readily, like the steel wage case, that cause WSB to be criticized. Also, there's the fact that the boards have a backlog of some 15,000 cases on file that they haven't been able to get to for lack of time.

Most WSB cases are handled by regional boards and never get to Washington. Only the big ones, involving some national principle, are taken on appeal to the capital.

So far, President Truman has referred 12 cases to WSB headquarters. Labor and management voluntarily have submitted eight more cases for settlement.

They include Douglas Aircraft, Wright Aeronautical, Atomic Energy Commission construction workers in Northwest, Todd Shipping, Borg-Warner, the brass industry and the oil industry wage case which is the big one now before the board.

Ryan Aeronautical withdrew its case after an outside settlement was effected. Reds Lose Cold-War Phase Soviet Russia's so-called world conference on business, in Moscow, now is staked up as a propaganda protest against export control regulations of the non-Communist nations.

This can be taken as a great compliment from the Communist countries on the effectiveness of the export control program.

It took more than six months after the outbreak of the Korean war to get the non-Communist countries to go along on this program. Some of them, like Great Britain, really need such Russian exports as lumber and coarse grains.

They must give raw materials like rubber and wool in exchange. But quantities are limited to prevent civilian consumption. Strategic materials necessary for the Russian rearmament effort are strictly banned. That's why the Communists are screaming now for free trade.

It's another cold-war battle they're losing. No Doubt About It Senator Fred Seaton of Nebraska got a letter the other day from one of his constituents. It was addressed to: The Hon. Fred Seaton, City of Mink.

District of Confusion. The letter was delivered to his office without delay. Toned Down Tourist Reports American tourists in Mexico repeatedly have brought back reports that the U. S. Embassy in Mexico City has 3,000 employees and fills a skyscraper.

State Department, after a check, says the total number of U. S. employees in all of Mexico, and not just the capital, is 1,310—of whom 932 are Americans and 378 are Mexicans.

Of this number, 469 Americans and 13 Mexicans are employed by the U. S. "Atocha" mission, which has been fighting hoof-and-mouth disease. If this mission can be liquidated by September 15, as now planned, U. S. employees in Mexico will be reduced to 835—470 Americans and 365 Mexicans.

The Foreign Service has 145 Americans in Mexico City, plus the nine Marine guards and 73 Mexicans.

A thousand screams racked his brain. Fingers flew in every direction and the earth shook as George opened the door. This was a woman's locker room, whether the sign said so, or not. His face flushed, he slammed the door shut and dashed up the stairs.

Free Yourself from laxative slavery

Try this delightful family breakfast treat! Eat a generous bowlful (about 1/2 cup) of crisp, toasty Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with sugar and cream. Drink plenty of liquids. ALL-BRAN is the natural laxative cereal that may help you back to youthful regularity, lost because of lack of bulk in your diet. It's the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. High in cereal protein, rich in iron, provides essential B and D vitamins. Not habit-forming. Why don't you try it? Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

Barstow News

BARSTOW—Pfc. William C. Trott, son of Mrs. Lorraine Trott, has been assigned to Yuma, Ariz., following his graduation from Lackland AP Base in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Pemberthy of Sharp Park, Calif., recently visited in Barstow with Mrs. Pemberthy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Echols. The Pemberthys, accompanied by Mrs. Echols, left Thursday for a trip to other points in Texas.

They plan to return to Barstow for the Easter holidays.

"Operation April Fool" was held recently on the Barstow High School grounds. Students who wanted to take part in the campus clean-up and beautifying campaign were excused from classes during the afternoon. The workers planted new trees, hauled off drifted sand, raked and cleared off the grounds and built a retaining wall of soil in an effort to help the grass grow.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Miller have as their guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. E. Shaver of Denver, Colo. Mrs. Shaver is Mrs. Miller's sister. The guests stopped by Barstow en route to Tennessee.

Provide Funds To Enforce Gambling Tax Or Repeal It, Tax Bureau Boss Demands

WASHINGTON (AP)—Revenue Commissioner John E. Dunlap has called on Congress to provide money to enforce the new gambling tax law or repeal the law immediately. In fact, Dunlap said, the entire federal tax system is "balancing precariously on the brink" of collapse through lack of funds to enforce payment. Failure to enforce the gambling tax would be "the final straw," Dunlap added, and "the result will be widespread cynicism and contempt for all types of taxes."

Air Force Proposes Airpark Cost Plan

BIG SPRING—The Air Force will assume the major portion of maintenance costs on Midland Airpark during USAF joint-occupancy of the installation, under a plan proposed by Air Force officials and the Corps of Engineers. Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz, Jr., commanding officer of Big Spring Air Force Base, Tuesday spelled out the terms of the maintenance proposal offered to the City of Midland by the government.

"The Air Force recognizes its responsibilities, and certainly does not plan to penalize the people of Midland," Colonel Wackwitz declared. As explained by the colonel, the government will enter into a maintenance agreement with city officials, under the terms of which maintenance costs will be borne jointly by the city and the Air Force. The percentage to be paid by each party to the agreement will be determined by use of a "weight-frequency" table. In essence, this system provides that the proportion of costs to be paid by the city and by the Air Force will be in direct relation of the number of landings and take-offs made by civilian and Air Force planes. The proportionate weight of the aircraft involved is also a factor in determining costs. "The Airpark's commercial operator has said civil aircraft landings and take-offs at the Airpark approximate 25 per day. At maximum use the Air Force will probably make upwards of 500 landings per day. Simple arithmetic applied to these figures indicates the Air Force will pay the major percentage of maintenance costs," the colonel declared.

Payment Limited
Under the proposed agreement the Air Force would on June 30 effect an annual payment to the city for the government's share of maintenance costs for the preceding year or portion thereof. This payment would be limited by a ceiling previously established by both parties to the agreement. In the event unanticipated maintenance costs should force the government's share above the established ceiling, the ceiling itself would be renegotiated. "The basis for the whole agreement," Colonel Wackwitz emphasized, "is mutual understanding and satisfaction between both the city and the Air Force."

"This same basic agreement is being successfully employed at other joint-USAF-civilian-use airports across the country," the colonel added. The plan offered by the Air Force proposes no interruption to the activities of the commercial operator at the Airpark.

sheer mockery." The funds asked by Dunlap would be used mostly to add enforcement agents to the bureau. The commissioner said the average revenue agent—paid a salary of $5,330—now brings in $181,347 in delinquent taxes annually. Last year, Dunlap said, there was only one revenue employe for every 1,300 tax returns filed, and only one out of 20 tax returns could be examined. In the last five years, Dunlap added, the number of corporation tax returns has increased 80 per cent and the number of individual returns for more than $10,000 income has doubled—but the revenue staff has increased only two and one-half per cent. More Returns, Less Men
"The fact is, he said, "We are now confronted with the largest number of upper income bracket returns ever received, the largest number of corporate income and excess profits tax returns of all times, the highest tax rates in recent years—and yet the manpower available to us for audit purposes, if this cut stands, will be less than we had in 1950."

He said one billion dollars in government assessments for additional taxes is tied up now simply because the bureau doesn't have personnel to hear taxpayer appeals in these cases. "Less enforcement means more tax evasion," the tax collection chief said. "More evasions means less revenue and higher tax rates x x x."

"If ever the tax evasion problem is permitted to get out of hand, our country is definitely on the road to fiscal ruin. Ever since the close of the war, we have been balancing precariously on the brink of this abyss. "Thus far we have tried to stretch our enforcement coverage a little bit further with each new assignment. The result has been thinner coverage across the board, with a general decline in the level of our efforts to enforce the statutes." The gambling tax law was passed by Congress last year and went into effect in November. It requires bookmakers, numbers and lottery operators and punch board handlers to register with the federal government, buy a $50-a-year occupational stamp tax and pay 10 per cent of their take each month to the Revenue Bureau. The law produced a little more than two million dollars through February, far under congressional estimates of 400 million dollars a year.

Cuba Is Denounced By Moscow Radio

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union, which has severed diplomatic relations with Cuba, denounced that nation Tuesday as "a colony of the U. S. monopolists." Moscow Radio declared both President Fulgenio Batista and the man he overthrew recently, Carlos Prío Socarras, were only "obedient puppets" of Washington. The Soviet Union broke off diplomatic relations with Cuba last Thursday because customs men at Havana insisted on searching the baggage of two Soviet diplomatic couriers who arrived there from Mexico City. Cuba, in her reply to the Soviet Union, said the couriers came without previous notice required to arrange inspection—free clearance of their luggage.

AF Reserve Survey High

The Midland area resurvey of Air Force reservists marked up a percentage of 79.1 in its opening day. First Lt. O. R. Crawford, public information officer, Tuesday reported 130 reservists either were processed or surveyed Monday in the inventory being conducted at the Midland Airpark, north of the city. The Officers Club is the site for the work. Reservists came from distant points Monday to fulfill appointments. Cities represented included Del Rio, Marathon, Sanderson and Comstock. The number reporting was considered especially high in view of the extensive territory included in the Midland survey. Lieutenant Crawford pointed out. The inventory continued at a pleasing pace Tuesday. Reservists who have not received resurvey forms or appointment dates were urged to contact the project leaders at Telephone 2-1878 or come to the Officers Club at the Midland Airpark.

KERMIT WOMAN ILL

Mrs. Virginia Wright, Kermit, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Monday for surgery.

John M. Hendrix, Pioneer West Texan, Author, Dies; Services Slated Wednesday

SWEETWATER—Funeral services for John M. Hendrix, 64, pioneer West Texan and author, will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Timothy Guthrie, the Rev. O. P. Clark and the Rev. J. B. Culwell officiating. Interment will be in the Sweetwater Cemetery.

Hendrix died at 8:30 p.m. Monday in the Sweetwater Hospital. He had been in ill health some time but entered the hospital only last Saturday following a stroke.

Hendrix, a native of Gainesville, was born Sept. 16, 1887. He spent much of his youth and early manhood on ranches in Hardeman and Ford Counties and was considered an authority on Texas brands. He was the author of "Texas Brands."

In 1936, Hendrix became assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and assumed title of director of publicity. He was assigned to MTCO's Fort Worth branch office. Hendrix was reared in Gainesville and in Ardmore, Okla., until he was 12 years old. He returned to West Texas at that time. He entered the automobile business in 1909, having experience both in the retail and wholesale divisions, with headquarters successively in Quanah, Galveston, Waco, Dallas, Tyler and Sweetwater. He moved here in 1929.

In 1931, he entered chamber of commerce work as manager of the Sweetwater Board of City Development, serving two and a half years. During 1931, he was public relations counsel for the Lone Star Gas Company. In 1932, he returned to the Sweetwater BCD to put on the WTCC convention that year.

In 1934, he was a staffman with "The Cattleman" magazine of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

In 1935, he joined the Works Progress Administration as assistant director of District 13, operating in 12 counties in Central West Texas.

Texas Jet Pilots Help Make History In Ocean Flights

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP)—Two Texas jet pilots helped make aviation history by flying jets across both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

They are Maj. L. H. Carrington of Austin and Capt. Jack Trapp, San Antonio, identified Monday by the Air Force.

The two flew in a mass flight of six RB-45 jets from Sculthorpe, England, to Lockbourne Air Force Base. The trip took less than 16 hours flying time with stops at Iceland and Labrador. The last ship, landed Sunday.

The same six men flew the giant four-engine jet bombers across the Pacific in 1950. All won the Distinguished Flying Cross for the Pacific flight.

Duval Grand Jury Ordered To Probe Poll Tax Payments

SAN DIEGO — A grand jury investigation of election irregularities in Duval County was ordered Monday by Judge Sam O. Reams of the 7th District Court.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Reams said he would call in the Texas Rangers if jurors needed help.

The charge came at the opening of the April term of the jury. Judge Reams told them to investigate "the payment of poll taxes by persons other than the voters, the holding and reporting of elections and any intimidation of voters."

Duval County Sheriff George Parr, reported political boss of the area, attended the opening of the jury term. Parr and Judge Reams are political foes. Parr resigned as county judge last week to become sheriff.

"If you are molested in any way," Judge Reams told the jury, "appropriate action will be taken."

The court appointed J. L. MacDonald of Benavides and Pedro Sendejo of San Diego as court bailiffs. MacDonald is a leader of the anti-Parr Freedom Party. Sendejo recently was fired by Parr as deputy sheriff.

The Most Important Question Put to Jesus

There is deep meaning for us all in Jesus' answer to John's searching question (Luke 7). "Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?"

He gave his words as proof of the truth of his words: "Go you away, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached" (Luke 7).

In the same way Christian Science is presenting to the modern world unmistakable proof, through many authenticated cases of healing, that it is the demonstrable truth taught by Jesus.

It shows that spiritual understanding is natural to man. It helps him. It heals him, as Jesus proved and promised. Study of the Christian Science textbook

Ike Leading Taft In New York State GOP Delegate Poll

ALBANY, N. Y. — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is a 17-to-14 presidential choice over Senator Taft in an Associated Press poll of New Yorkers seeking election as delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Thirty-six of 101 qualified candidates for delegates responded to the mail poll.

Eisenhower received six second-place and six third-place "votes."

Taft was the second choice of eight questionnaires and third choice on two others.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential nominee in 1944 and 1948 and an all-out Eisenhower supporter, is expected to control a substantial, if not overwhelming majority of New York's 96 delegate votes at Chicago.

Under New York law, delegates are unpledged and uninstructed.

Automatic Deferment Of Fathers Protested By Manpower Council

NEW YORK — Becoming a father should not be a cause for automatic deferment from military service, the National Manpower Council says.

The council announced Monday it had called upon President Truman to abolish such deferments for those who become fathers after a specified future date. It made the proposal in a report on "student deferment and national manpower policy."

"It would indeed be unfortunate if many young men married and became fathers merely to escape military service," the report said.

The council is a non-partisan organization operated at Columbia University under a Ford Foundation grant.

Mysterious Blazes Terrorize Villagers

CALCUTTA, INDIA — Reports from the village of Bihars Durgan Tuesday said villagers are terror-stricken by a mysterious outbreak of fire exactly at noon every day.

A different hut has been going up in flames each day for the last week.

They have sacrificed goats and chickens to the fire god and have called on both Hindu and Moslem religious leaders, for help in appeasing the "evil spirit." The village is 300 miles west of Calcutta.

Morris Labels McGranery Whitewasher; Congress Issues Swift Demand For Proof

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Newbold Morris' charge that James P. McGranery, attorney-general designate, "is a real whitewasher" drew swift demands in Congress Tuesday that he tell under oath the basis for his words.

McGranery's hotly-disputed nomination is before the Senate Judiciary committee, which has scheduled a full hearing in about two weeks.

Committee members said this would provide Morris an opportunity to support the whitewasher accusation if he can. Morris' statement was made in an interview Monday in New York, where he returned after being fired as the Administration's corruption investigator.

"I'd be very much interested to know what he has to back this up," said Chairman McCarran (D-Nev). "I don't think, personally, that he always knows what he's talking about."

Senator Kilgore of West Virginia, the ranking Democratic member under McCarran, told a reporter: "If a man is willing to make such grave charges in the public press, he ought to be willing to say them before a responsible body which can submit his statements to a check. I imagine in all probability we will want his testimony, whether he volunteers it or not."

Another committee member, Senator Eastland (D-Miss), said: "Morris certainly should come before the committee if he has facts which bear out his allegations, but we are not going to listen to a lot of unsubstantiated charges."

Senator Watkins (R-Utah), also on the committee, said Morris "must be subpoenaed to tell what he knows about this."

Watkins said he expects the committee in any event will want to hear McGranery's replies to what Morris has said.

Morris wrangled bitterly with Congress before Attorney General McGranery fired him last Thursday, four hours before McGranery himself was axed by President Truman. The dispute revolved around Morris' attempt to look into the private affairs of McGranery and other high Administration officials. Morris, as cleanup man, was a special assistant to McGranery.

McGranery stepped out of his job officially Monday with a smiling farewell to a gathering of more than 2,000 Justice Department employees. He wound up by saying, "God bless the Justice Department. God bless the President of the United States."

"No one carries a greater burden than the President of the United States," McGranery said, "with all the world looking to him for help. He needs it. You work for a great government, a great Administration, led by a great President."

McGranery called his successor, McGranery, "a fine character, of high intellect." He did not mention Morris by name, but remarked, "I have just undergone political surgery myself."

Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman was named to act as attorney general until the job is filled. All Perlman would tell newsmen was: "I am just filling in a gap."

Meanwhile, objection grew to McGranery's proposal that the FBI take over Morris' government-cleanup job.

Senator Watkins told a reporter FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover "ought to refuse" to accept the task.

Representative Keating (R-NY) said the FBI didn't want the job.

Wage Strike Closes Texas Steel Plant

LONE STAR, TEXAS — Pickets marched Tuesday at the six entrances to the Lone Star Steel Company's plant here after a mid-night strike for higher wages.

Some 900 members of the CIO International Steelworkers struck after rejecting a last-minute company proposal and voting 100 per cent for the walkout.

Earlier, the union had rejected an offer of a seven and one-half cent an hour wage increase, retroactive to March 7, plus a two and one-half cent raise in six months and a similar boost six months later.

The plant emptied its last coke oven at noon Monday and banked furnaces Monday night for the shutdown.

Bryan Murphy, Hughes Spring newsmen who attended Monday night's union meeting, said he expected no violence in the strike if it ended within 10 days.

"But if it goes longer than that," he said, "anything could happen."

W. P. Mason, Pioneer Texas Oil Man, Dies

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. — Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for William Peyton Mason, 88, pioneer Texas oil man.

Mason was one of the developers of the Burburnett and Wichita oil fields before his retirement in 1940. He also was active in developing Southern California oil fields.

He died at his home here Sunday.

Try this "Challenge Drive"

SEE IF YOU CAN RESIST AMERICA'S MOST CONVINCING ROAD TEST!

EVER seen a man with a smile a mile wide? Could be you taking your first "Challenge Drive." Or it might be us. For we're the folks who sell this great car. And that's nice work, too, for it's the most popular Mercury we've ever had. And that's saying plenty!

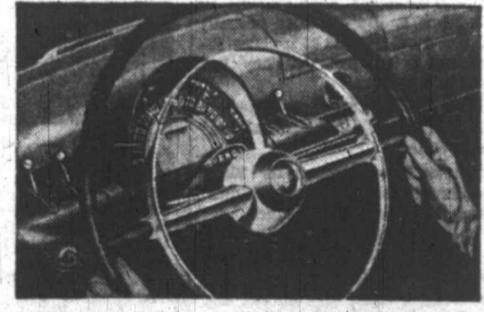

It makes you feel good just looking at this beauty. Its "Fore-runner" styling has a "Let's Go" look—from the sweep of its "Jet-scoop" hood to the flair of its distinctive rear deck.

But best of all is to feel your pulse quicken when you guide this car out onto the open road. Remember all the things you've ever liked about any car you've ever driven. See if this Mercury doesn't do them better. "Cornering" or cruising, parking or climbing, starting or stopping. Name your own challenge!

The wheel is slim, cool, responsive under your hands; the accelerator needs no urging at all. Here's a new kind of performance, effortless performance, 1952 performance.

Just for the fun of it—even though you may not be in the market for a new car at the moment—drop around at our showroom for a test ride. No obligation whatever. After all, we know that you will be talking about Mercury, and that's a reward in itself.

EYE-OPENING 1952 PERFORMANCE—A smooth, silent sweep of power from a standing start to cruising. What a combination—Mercury's extra-horsepowered V-8 teamed with Merc-O-Matic Drive! No hesitation when the light goes green. No reluctance when the road goes up. Only challenging, up-and-at-'em power—thrifty, Mercury, 1952 power. It's got to be good. It's by the builders of more V-8's than all other companies combined.

Roy Kimsey Carries Midland Hopes In Regional Carnival

The hopes of Midland High School in the regional track and field meet at Lubbock April 19, rest upon the flashing feet of Roy Kimsey, Midland's "Blonde Comet".

Kimsey, in addition to running the anchor leg of the district championship mile relay team, also will try out his speed in the 200-yard and 400-yard dashes. He has won all but one race over this distance this year, and finished second when he failed to cop the event.

Joining Kimsey on the mile relay outfit is Johnny Kennedy, Bill Mims and Dan Black. This team ran a 3:17.7 in district competition.

The Bulldog thinsy clads go to Abilene this weekend to compete in the Abilene Relays as a prep meet for the regional carnival.

Other contestants include Robert Keisling in the high and low hurdles, discus and high jump; Terry Fuglaar, pole vault; Roddie Braun, Mims, Black and Kennedy in the 440-yard relay.

Jones Tuesday said his track squad has "shown great improvement" since the season opened.

"We are strong in the dash events, but need to pick up in the field events to do any good."

It is too late this year to develop any field men. But Jones said an all-out effort to uncover field event candidates for the track team next year already has started.

Odesa, as usual, will be heavily favored in the regional meet.

Appearing in the 18-hole tournament here will be Babe Zaharias, Betty MacKinnon, Betsy Regis, Patty Berg, Mildred and Alice Bauer, Louise Suga, Betty Dodd, Betty Jameson, Shirley Spork, Peggy Kirk, Betty Bush and Beverly Hanson.

Arkansas Coach Gets Gate While Away With Team

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS — (AP) — There's nothing new about it but it will still seem strange that a college can't fire a coach while he's at home and able to receive the news direct.

Arkansas Saturday let Johnny Morris, its track coach, out while he was at the Texas Relays in Austin with his track squad. Johnny is one of the few coaches ever to be fired through The Associated Press. Informed by that news service that he had been given the heave-ho at Arkansas, Morris said he knew absolutely nothing about it. In fact, he called the Arkansas publicity man, Bob Cheyne, to ask about it and Cheyne said he also knew nothing.

Arkansas Provost Joe Covington said it was an economy move and that Morris' duties would be assumed by another member of the coaching staff.

Bill Henderson, basketball coach at Baylor knows how it is to be fired through the press. It was in 1930 that Henderson, then coach of Temple High School, was handed the morning paper by his wife who hadn't read it. Bill opened up the paper and there was the headline saying he had been fired as football and basketball coach.

A fellow playing quarterback on the team by name of Sam Baugh went to bat for Henderson, as did many others. Baugh appeared before the school board in Bill's behalf. Civic clubs raised a big fuss. The result was that Henderson was given a new contract.

Charles Thomas, the great University of Texas sprinter, may be the No. 1 man from the Southwest for the Olympic games.

Thomas is a most unusual runner. He is as relaxed as a coach just given a new ten-year contract and never seems to be in a hurry to get where he's going, but he does the 220-yard dash in under 21 seconds and Saturday he ran the 200 meters in 20.3, which is just one-tenth of a second under the world's record.

Coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas told Thomas one day: "Why don't you put out?" It nettled Charles somewhat and he ran like a scared rabbit that day. But he soon settled back into his nonchalant style — still running like rabbit but not a nervous rabbit.

Wakefield To Get Another Major Chance

HOUSTON — (AP) — The Dick Wakefield story has entered a new chapter, perhaps the last.

Wakefield, baseball's so-called "problem child," has received another opportunity to prove he belongs in the major leagues.

The New York Giants, in dire straights due to the loss of outfielder Monte Irvin with a broken ankle and the impending induction of fly-chaser Willie Mays, will give Wakefield a "try out."

Manager Leo Durocher said Tuesday Wakefield "will play in the outfield someplace. I don't know, I just want to look him over and see what he's got."

Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians said: "He can help the Giants, if he really wants to play."

Dick was the first of the big bonus babies. He received around $65,000 and a new automobile when signed by the Detroit Tigers in 1941 while attending the University of Michigan.

Wakefield started off in grand style. He led the Texas League in hitting with Beaumont in 1942 and batted .316 in his first season with Detroit in 1943.

The following season found Wakefield in the Navy but he was released in mid-season and almost slugged Detroit to the 1944 pennant, belting 355 in 78 games.

The potential star was called back into the Navy in 1945 but returned to Detroit in 1946 and has been a problem ever since.

Detroit traded Wakefield to the Yanks. He held out in the Spring and the Yanks traded him to the Chicago White Sox shortly after the start of the season.

Chicago called the deal off when Wakefield demanded a $5,500 salary increase but former commissioner A. C. Chandler voided the deal and the stormy petrel returned to the Yanks.

The Yanks finally sold him to Oakland of the Pacific Coast League. He was released by Oakland in 1951 and since has been without a job.

General Manager Hank Greenberg gave the 29-year-old outfielder another chance this Spring but he failed to stick.

Perhaps Durocher is the man that can light a fire under Wakefield and tap his potential power.

Blinky Palermo Gets Suspension Lifted

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Illinois State Athletic Commission has lifted its suspension of Frank (Blinky) Palermo, manager of Heavyweight Clarence Henry and former light-weight champion Ike Williams.

Palermo has been on suspension since March 25 when the commission said it wanted to probe "mis-statements" made by him in obtaining a managerial license.

The commission Tuesday said Palermo now has been cleared of any hoodlum affiliations on information supplied by the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission and that Palermo's current record is "good."

California To Go On With Carter-Salas Bout; Illinois Upset

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Matchmaker Babe McCoy says he'll go ahead with attempts to book a Los Angeles rematch between Champion Jimmy Carter and Lauro Salas for a title of the lightweight title — despite Illinois objections.

McCoy carded the April 1 thriller in which Carter decided the little Mexican brawler in 15 rounds at the Olympic Auditorium. Lauro was behind in points but had Carter on the deck in the final stanza.

Monday the Illinois State Athletic Commission demanded the National Boxing Association disallow Carter's bout with Salas as a title defense. Contention was that Salas — California featherweight champion — lacked featherweight ranking.

The oldest player on the Detroit Tigers is pitcher Paul (Dizzy) Trout. He will be 37 years old next June 29.

Roberts Waltzes To State Crown

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — Bing Roberts was heavyweight boxing champion of Texas Tuesday after taking a split decision Monday night over Carl Shobe.

Roberts weighed in at 180 for the slow, dull bout with the 194-pound Shobe. There were no knockdowns and little action in the bout.

If you read the batting averages of the Midland Indians in their exhibition games, you may notice that First Baseman Tito Santeigo is hitting a weak .194.

It's hard to see just how a player with an average of that kind will make a ball club slated to be one of the best in the league this season.

Add the fact Santeigo doesn't savvy English, is "dead" to verbal signals on the bases and his chances seem even more remote of making the club.

But Manager Zeke Bonura is making plans to use the slight, thin Cuban at first base and he has no qualms about it.

The reason behind this lies in this simple fact: Santeigo is one of the best glove men we've seen, and Bonura—who has seen more high-caliber ball players than we've heard of—seconds the motion.

In three games the Indians won by close scores—two by one run and one by two runs—Santeigo was directly responsible for nine putouts by virtue of almost super-human stops. Although fairly short, he can and does go high into the air to spear the ball and he's a master at stretching to scoop one out of the dirt.

Another thing Bonura likes is his speed on the base paths. While not extremely fast, he has enough speed to swipe a base or two, occasionally, and that's in his favor.

Santeigo only has seven hits in 36 times at bat, but he has one double and a home run—enough to indicate to Bonura that he has possibilities of developing into an occasional long-ball hitter at least.

His English lessons are progressing rather slowly. He can say, "I gotta" when a pop fly comes near his territory and he understands "Turn it on," "Go down" and "Hold up."

We had a conversation with MHS coach Tugboat Jones Tuesday and he was especially proud of big Keys Curry winning fourth in the mile run at the district track meet last weekend in Odesa.

Curry, big tackle prospect on the Bulldog football team, is a hard worker and blessed with little natural speed.

But he ran, as Jones said, "on guts" and passed several boys on the last lap to finish fourth in Odesa. He missed third by inches—a distinction which would have qualified him for the regional track meet in Lubbock about 10 days hence.

Midland bowlers are doing all right in the State Bowling Tournament in Dallas.

Mackey Motors leads in the all-events bowling and several other Midlanders—especially Ernie Crites—are placing in the meet.

Bowling is becoming increasingly popular here and the caliber of play is improving.

Midland fans may take their choice the night of April 18; football or baseball. The Indians play Big Spring at 8 p.m. in their first home baseball exhibition. And over in Odesa, the Texas Tech Red Raiders will hook-up in an intra-squad grid game. Midland-Odesa Kiwanis Clubs sponsor this tilt.

Indians Tangle With Meridian, Miss., In Exhibition Affair

LUTCHER, LA. — Midland's Indians were to take on the Meridian, Miss., team of the Class C Cotton States League here Tuesday.

Manager Zeke Bonura was slated to send Rookie Mike de la Torre, Emil Ogden and possibly Dave McKenzie to the mound as the Tribe tried for its seventh win in 10 starts.

De la Torre has hurled seven innings this season, allowing 10 hits and four runs; Ogden has worked three frames, allowing three hits and two runs. McKenzie has pitched in several exhibition tilts this Spring. In his latest effort the chunky right-hander shut out the Baton Rouge Red Sicks, 1 to 0, on four scattered hits.

The Midland team was idle Monday after a brief early morning workout. The team attended a major league baseball game in New Orleans Monday night and saw the Chicago White Sox nose out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 3.

Segura Seeded No. 1 In Tennis Tourney

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF. — (AP) — Pancho Segura, the Ecuadorian, with the blazing forehand, has been seeded No. 1 in the $5,000 world hard-court professional tennis championships opening Saturday.

The colorful Segura tops the seedings released by Tournament Manager Frank Feltrop who announced that because of the large entry list the play starts two days ahead of the original schedule.

Second seeded is Richard Gonzales, who just finished whipping the field in a round robin tourney at Philadelphia. Frankie Kovacs is rated third and Veteran Don Budge fourth.

Labor Party Rolls Up Smashing Gains In County Elections

LONDON — (AP) — The Labor Party continued its smashing gains in British county elections Tuesday by winning control of the Lancashire Council for the first time in history.

Lancashire is the heart of the British textile industry, recently hit by a growing depression. The Conservative government, which ousted Labor in the national election last October, so far has refused the industry's requests for sales tax cuts to stimulate buying.

Labor chalked up a net gain of 29 council seats, winning 65 to 80 for the Conservatives and six for Independents.

Over the weekend, the Laborites regained control of the Essex and West Riding Councils, which they lost in the last triennial county elections in 1949.

This followed a near-landslide victory by the party last week in the London County election. There, Labor gained 87 seats and a majority of 55 in the council.

Labor Party spokesmen have hailed the returns as a sign that the voters have turned against Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

Giants' Lanier, White Sox Stars Having It Rough

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON — (AP) — Max Lanier, counted on for "spot" pitching of the New York Giants' fourth starter, is having a rough time getting on the beam.

The former top left-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals was pounded hard for the third straight time Monday as the Giants dropped a 8-3 decision to Cleveland at San Antonio.

The Indians ambushed Lanier for six runs in the first inning, with Bob Kennedy supplying the punch with a grand-slam homer.

Ray Coleman in miserable bottling dumps, two rookie outfielders are making strong starting bids for the Chicago White Sox.

George Wilson, who hit .335 for Birmingham last year, is trying to nail down the right field spot. He hasn't much grace but is walloping the ball at a 391 pace.

Speedy Don Nicholas, with St. Paul and Mobile in 1941, looks good in center field. He hasn't got a long ball but he is a fine buster and one of the fastest men on the squad.

Orestes Minoza has left field cinched.

Among the regulars Busby presents the biggest problem. A year ago he was hitting well above .300. This Spring he has been having struggle to top .300.

French Premier Wins First In Series Of 10 Votes Of Confidence

PARIS — (AP) — Premier Antoine Pinay won the first of 10 confidence votes Tuesday in the National Assembly on his "no new loans" budget. The unofficial tally was 329 to 308.

The assembly approved Article Seven of the budget. This frees 95,000,000 francs ($27,000,000) in investment and reconstruction credits.

A negative vote on any of the remaining articles or on the budget as a whole would topple Pinay's month-old regime.

Purvis Takes Midland Club On Elk Hunt In Wyoming

Members of the Midland Gun Club and guests went on an elk hunt Monday night in the rugged country around Jackson Hole, Wyo.

Col. Tex Purvis showed motion pictures of a five-member party stalking the bull elk in the virgin wilderness. He discussed the regulations and outlook for hunting and fishing on the sprawling Wyoming reservations.

"Our country is basically an elk country," Purvis pointed out. "Last year we sent every hunter home with a bull elk he killed himself. We have also bear, silvertip grouse, big deer and sheep."

"But all are in different areas and you can't kill the whole works on a weekend. Don't let anyone sell you on that. It takes time. Don't buy any silly three-day kill 'em all trip."

Marshall Purvis was first a summer ranger in Yellowstone National Park. He had received a law degree at Southern Methodist University and practiced at Hot Springs, Ark., with Sid McMath, who later became governor of Arkansas. In the late thirties Purvis was in Southwest Texas in the oil business and when World War II came along went in to the Army at Alice.

Jones Playing Havoc With Card Hurling

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Sock a ballplayer where it hurts most, in the pocket-book, to make him toe the line," is an oft-proved adage. Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones, the fine third baseman of the Philadelphia Phillies, is the latest example that there's plenty of truth in the old saying.

Jones was fined $200 by Manager Eddie Sawyer on March 17 for breaking training rules. Since then, Willie has been a ball of fire both off and at the plate.

The "new" Jones has been especially hard on the St. Louis Cardinals.

He has smashed three home runs in the last four days against the Redbirds. Friday he clouted a two-run homer in Steve Riddick's 3-0 no-hit triumph and fielded brilliantly.

Saturday he socked another two-run four-bagger in the Phils' 9-4 romp. Sunday he failed to hit in the Phils' 9-8 victory but starred again Monday as the Phils made it four straight over the Cards with a 5-4 triumph at Raleigh, N. C. Willie homered in the eighth to launch a three-run rally that won the game. Catcher Del Rice slammed a pair of homers to keep the Cards in the game.

Home runs also were plentiful at High Point, N. C., where the Philadelphia Athletics outlasted the Boston Red Sox, 13-6. Eight homers were hit with Joe Astroth, Gus Zernial and Allie Clark connecting for the A's and Dom DiMaggio, Vern Stephens, Billy Goodman, Jim Piersall and Faye Thronberry for the Sox.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost a 1-0 no-hitter to the Braves Sunday, pounded out 11 hits to swamp the Boston Braves, 8-4, at Lynchburg, Va.

Rookie Bill Miller and veteran Joe Ostrowski almost turned in the Spring's fourth no-hit, no-run game. The left-handers pitched the New York Yankees to a 5-0, one-hit victory over the Columbus Cardinals of the Class A South Atlantic League at Columbus, Ga. Bill Harris singled in the sixth to spoil the bid.

The Cleveland Indians smared the New York Giants, 8-3, at San Antonio, Texas, for their ninth win in 11 starts against the National League champions. The Indians' Bob Kennedy hit a grand-slam homer.

Chicago's Cubs came up with seven runs in the fourth and defeated the St. Louis Browns, 8-6, at Shreveport, La. Ned Garver, the Browns' 20-game winner, was the victim of the big blast.

The Washington Senators edged the Cincinnati Reds, 8-7, at Roanoke, Va., thanks to Rookie Pitcher Raoul Sanchez. Sanchez took over in the ninth with none out, two runs in and two on, and retired the side.

In night games, the Chicago White Sox noosed out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3, at New Orleans and the Detroit Tigers nipped Atlanta of the Southern Association, 10-9, in 10 innings at Atlanta.

In seven seasons of pro football, Bob Waterfield has completed 763 passes and gained 11,238 yards.

NCAA Steps Up Efforts To Enforce Athletic Regulations

CHICAGO—(AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has stepped up its efforts to crack-down on violators of its academic and athletic requirements.

A four-man committee, headed by NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers, was named Monday at the final session of the NCAA council to handle complaints and investigate evidence of violations.

The other members are John Huriburt, Stanford; King Hendricks, Utah State, and Tom Hamilton, Pittsburgh.

The four can act only in advisory capacity, channeling reports to a new enforcement group to be made up of nine educators of the NCAA membership.

The 17-man council, the powerful policy-making body, will have final authority to determine whether a member school should be suspended or otherwise punished for code violation.

The council also clarified the new NCAA's limit of 30 Spring football practices in a 90 day period.

NCAA President Hugh Willett of Southern California said that "any activity on field or floor, movie demonstration, or chalk talk, or combination of the three, on a given day will constitute one session of the 30 seasons permitted."

At one time, hunting down and killing gypsies was a "legal sport" on the European continent.

Giants Sink Into Lethargy After Irving Laid Out

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—A week ago we were traveling across the western states with a pennant-bound ball club, the New York Giants. It seems a long time ago.

If ever a team exuded class and confidence, the Giants did. They had what it took, and there wasn't a man on the roster, from Manager Leo Durocher down, who didn't know it. There was great pleasure in traveling from city to city with as happy an outfit as the Giants.

Not even a series of close losses to the Cleveland Indians had shaken their confidence a particle. Durocher, a hard loser, was grumbling a bit about his catchers calling for wrong pitches at critical times, but that was all. Leo always was a little worrier, they said.

And then came Denver. Just six days ago, Monte Irvin, the club's most valuable player and possibly its most popular, slid into third and suffered a fractured ankle. The bones protruded through the sock. As the negro slugger was carried from the field, you knew you had witnessed the death of a baseball club.

An unbroken silence settled over the Giants bench and they played out the final seven innings as though they were in a trance. Several said later that they felt numb. There were men who not only had seen a friend painfully hurt, but had at the same time seen perhaps $6,000 apiece disappear into thin air.

The stricken athletes had few words to say as they returned to their hotel by bus. You would say "Tough," and they would mumble "Yeah." There were no smiles and the usual banter was all gone as they climbed aboard their special train for the next long haul to Wichita, Kan. Fortunately, it rained steadily all the next day, or the Wichita fans would have witnessed a sad exhibition.

No one knew better than Durocher. The little manager made no effort to conceal his anguish nor said anything about maybe winning without Monte when he told newsmen of his emergency plans to return Bob Thomson to the outfield and send Hank Thompson to third. It seems a lot longer than five days ago when Leo said that his pretty wife, Lorraine Day, had told him to get on his knees and pray.

It is not possible to compare any disaster which ever befell another club to that which struck the Giants. There have been other worse injuries, even death, but none which almost as surely cost a team a championship. It was a painful thing to have witnessed and will not soon be forgotten.

The later announcement at Dallas that Willie Mays would be called into the Army next month was pure anticlimax. The Giants knew all along that they were going to lose Willie and they were prepared to win without the Alabama kid.

George McLeod To Play In East-West Basketball Game

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Twenty of the nation's top ranking college stars will participate in the first annual East-West basketball game sponsored by the Ararat Shrine Temple here Saturday night.

All net proceeds will go to Shriner hospitals for crippled children.

Phog Allen, coach of the NCAA Champion Kansas Jayhawks, will coach the West team. Henry (Hank) BA, of Oklahoma A&M, will tutor the East team.

A near sellout crowd is assured for the all-star show in Municipal Auditorium.

Topping the list of name players is Clyde Lovellette, Kansas' All-America scoring Giant. Two other Kansas players, Bob Kenney and Bill Houghland, also will play with the West team.

Ronnie MacOlivary, star of St. John's, NCAA semi-finalist, and Don Johnson, of Oklahoma A&M, are among the East's standouts.

The squad rosters:

West—Dick Haas, Wyoming; Jim Buchanan, Nebraska; Jim Ramstead, Stanford; Bill Stauffer, Missouri; Jerry Romney, Brigham Young; George McLeod, Texas Christian; Olen Smith, Utah University, and Lovellette, Kenney and Houghland.

East—Joe Dean, Louisiana State; Edwin Miller, Syracuse; Don Metz, Okla.; Dayton, John Dilling, Holy Cross; Ray Steiner, St. Louis University; Tom Katampalis, Eastern Illinois; Charleston; Pete Darcey, Oklahoma A&M; Robert Watson, Kentucky, and MacOlivary and Johnson.

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Texas Tech Infra-Squad Contest

The Midland and Odessa Kiwanis clubs will co-sponsor an infra-squad football game between members of the Texas Tech Red Raider squad April 18, officials said here Tuesday.

All football players in area high schools and their coaches will be admitted free to the tilt, which is to be played in Broncho Stadium, Odessa. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

Tickets will sell for $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Texas Tech, Border Conference champion and 15 to 14 winner over College of Pacific in the Sun Bowl New Year's Day, has 33 lettermen returning for the 1933 season.

Zeke Martin Named Denton High Mentor

DENTON—(AP)—Zeke Martin, former North Texas State star football player, and lately in professional ranks, has been named head coach of Denton High School. He succeeds Johnny Guyer, who has entered the service.

Pecos Lawyer Asks Appeals Court Post

Henry Russell of Pecos, a long-time West Texas lawyer and former district judge, has announced his candidacy for the office of associate justice for the Court of Civil Appeals. The court is part of the Texas Eight Supreme Judicial District and sits at El Paso. The present judge has announced he will not seek reelection.

Judge Russell came to West Texas following his military service in World War I. He was county attorney of Ward County in 1919 and served as district attorney for Martin, Midland, Ector, Ward, Winkler and Reeves Counties in the late 1920's. Under a governor's appointment, Russell served out the unexpired term of William L. Kerr as judge of the 109th District of Texas. He was a member of a Midland law firm until 1921 when he moved to Pecos where he presently resides and practices law.

He is a native Texan, 58 years of age. He prepared himself for the practice of law by study in the office of his father, the late Judge Gordon Russell, who was United States district judge in Beaumont. Russell is married and has three children. One son, Tommy, was killed last November while serving in the Navy aboard an aircraft carrier in Korean waters.

General Practice
Although his law practice has been general, Russell has spent the greater part of his time as a trial lawyer and in actual work in the courtroom.

In making his announcement for the office which he seeks, Russell emphasized the fact he is not experienced in the field of office-seeking. Except for his former terms as district attorney and as a member of the board of trustees of his school district, the other offices he has held were bestowed by appointment.

"If elected," Russell stated, "I will devote all my time and energies to the duties of the office in an effort to continue the court as one of the outstanding appellate courts in the state."

Stay-Put Carlsen To Have New Ship

MOBILE, ALA.—(AP)—A new ship will be ready for Capt. Kurt Carlsen when the "stay-put" skipper arrives here late this week.

The Isbrandtsen Company, Inc., is preparing the Flying Enterprise II, recently returned from military sea transportation service in Korea. Isbrandtsen purchased the 8,250-ton ship, formerly the Noonday, from Waterman Steamship Corporation here.

The first Flying Enterprise sank in the North Atlantic after Captain Carlsen lost a long, valiant battle against stormy seas.

Humble Reports Increased Earnings

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Humble Oil & Refining Company Monday reported a net income of $169,480,638, or $4.12 a share, for the 12 months ended December 31.

This compared with a net of $129,359,991 or $3.60 a share, the previous year for the company, an affiliate of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey).

Gross operating income was $851,051,052, against $793,417,807 in 1950. Federal income taxes totaled $51,500,000, against $32,000,000 the previous year. Gross assets at the end of the year were $1,060,413,344.

Brotherhood Hears Springer Discuss Baptist Program

World-wide work of Southern Baptists was reviewed Monday night by R. A. Springer of Dallas, treasurer of the executive board of the Texas Baptist Convention, in an hour-long discussion before the men of the First Baptist Church. The Brotherhood held its regular meeting in the church's recreation hall.

Texas Baptists give more than $6,000,000 annually to missions, Springer pointed out. Southern Baptists now have 800 missionaries operating in 37 foreign countries.

Springer called attention to the large number of institutions maintained by Texas Baptists. These include colleges and universities and hospitals.

"A great denomination must have great institutions to survive," Springer said.

T. Whitehead presided at the dinner meeting. Jess Lindsey was program chairman. J. Q. Woodward, associate pastor of the First Baptist Church, introduced Springer. They were classmates in seminary.

Guests included the Rev. J. W. Arnette of Big Spring, district missionary.

Two Brothers Shot Fatally In Quarrel Over Set Of Weights

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Two brothers, amateur weight lifters, were shot to death Monday night by a man who said they had quarreled over ownership of a set of weights.

The victims were Joseph, 28, a truck driver, and Anthony Skwarek, 26, a piano mover.

Detective Emil Demko said Chester Czarnecki, 26, unemployed truck driver, told him he shot the Skwarek brothers with a gun he had been carrying since a fist fight last Friday with Anthony. The quarrel was over a set of weights, Demko said.

Czarnecki was held for questioning. No charge was filed immediately.

Russell Predicts He'll Get 300 Votes On First Ballot

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia Tuesday predicted he will receive "no less than 300 and maybe as high as 400" first ballot votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

With 616 votes needed to nominate, Russell told reporters: "I think I will be in a very strong position going into the convention in July."

The Georgian indicated he doubts any other candidate will muster greater first ballot strength.

The other announced candidates for top place on the Democratic ticket are Senators Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma. With President Truman out of the race, the list quite likely will be longer by convention time.

In predicting he would roll up from 300 to 400 votes the first time around at the Democratic convention, Russell said he is counting on a clean sweep of the Southern states for about 285 of the total he expects.

Some 'Border' Backing
The Georgian said he figures he will pick up additional support from some of the "border" states, and added he is confident he will have the backing of some Northern delegates. He noted, for example, that Senator McCarran, Nevada Democrat, has said he will try to deliver his state's 10 votes to Russell.

In his bid for border state votes, Russell may be pitted against Vice President Barkley as well as Kefauver and Kerr. Barkley, a Kentuckian, is being urged by his friends to seek the presidential nomination. He has promised a decision soon.

Senator Long (D-La.) said, meanwhile, that although he praised Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) over the weekend as "presidential timber," "I am for Dick Russell" for the Democratic nomination.

"If I had to vote for a Northern liberal, I don't think there is a better one in the party than Paul Douglas," Long told newsmen. "But I want to vote for a Southerner and I believe Russell's ability is greater than that of any other candidate or potential candidates who have been mentioned."

McCloy Names New Assistant In Germany

BONN, GERMANY.—(AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy announced Tuesday the appointment of Samuel Reber, veteran U. S. diplomat, as American assistant high commissioner in Germany.

Reber will fill this post in addition to his duties as director of political affairs for the high commissioner. He succeeds Chauncey G. Parker, who left for the United States Tuesday to resume his post with the World Bank.

KILLINGS SEEMED PRETTY RARE—

Shootings Didn't Upset Pecos Settlers

PECOS — Wild shooting around town by celebrating cowboys in the old days here "didn't bother people much," recalls City Judge W. B. Glasscock, who moved out here in 1896. Shooting up the town was not an uncommon occurrence, but killings were pretty rare.

Toyah used to be the toughest town around these parts. It was not unusual to see cowboys firing at each other from behind telegraph poles, he said.

On one such occasion, Glasscock — or "Will," as most folks know him — called the sheriff at Pecos. It took the sheriff two hours to make the trip in his horse and buggy, and by that time all the trigger-happy noisemakers had disappeared.

Judge Glasscock has seen a lot of shooting in Pecos, too, although he doesn't remember anyone being killed by stray bullets.

He came here in 1896 to live with his aunt, Miss Ella Heath, a member of the two-teacher faculty in the Barstow schools.

Miss Heath was unable to find a

Balmorhea Facing Another Election On School Issue

BALMORHEA—A second school bond election has been called at Balmorhea on April 19, to decide upon a proposed $60,000 program, according to Maxine Oliver, assistant editor of Bear Facts, Balmorhea school newspaper.

The school board was confronted last week with a petition bearing 27 names of qualified taxpayers.

The first election on this proposal was held over two weeks ago. It failed to pass by a scant two-vote margin.

C. C. Boy was appointed election judge, along with M. L. Mauldin. Election clerks will be Mrs. Saesey Farrington and Mrs. Edith Stroede.

Only a simple bond issue has been tentatively earmarked to construct a physical education plant.

Another Hughes Edition Relates Pecos Advantages

PECOS—Alton Hughes, versatile Chamber of Commerce manager, has come up with another edition of "Facts About Pecos," a well-organized and thoroughly compiled book.

Hughes' work is fast becoming a standard reference for those seeking factual information about Pecos today.

The mimeographed book depicts a cowgirl in bright colors on its cover. Pecos is presented as "Headquarters for Opportunity."

It contains 30 pages of detailed information, plus an elaborate index.

The author declared in the foreword: "We invite industrial organizations to analyze this information in considering Pecos as an ideal location for certain types of establishments."

Hughes promised to promptly answer all inquiries about Pecos.

place to live in Barstow, so she bought a horse and buggy and drove back and forth from Pecos. One time after a rain, her rig bogged down at the Pecos River. She walked to school.

Rebust Boy Repelled

A large-robust boy in Barstow whose father was on the school board had on previous occasions completely disrupted school routines. He attempted to break up Miss Heath's class, only to be repelled by the spry, old maid schoolteacher.

The boy's father told her she would have to clear out, but Miss Heath confronted the trustee with her nine-month contract and refused to leave. The next day she wired for Glasscock to come. He was a dry goods store clerk in Cleburne, Texas.

"Will" immediately came out and went to school under his aunt for the remainder of the school year. Afterward, he secured a job as clerk here in the huge mercantile store of C. F. Thomason, located where the Pecos City Bakery now stands.

That store carried everything from guns to fancy lace. It was said to be the largest, best-stocked store between Abilene and El Paso.

Glasscock worked for $40 a month, $20 of which he paid for board. He slept at the store.

Everything was sold on a credit basis in those days, since the biggest customers were sheep or cattle raisers who depended on seasonal sales for their income. Time was when this was a big sheep country. A large warehouse near the T&P Railroad often held as much as a million pounds of wool, the judge estimated.

Glasscock remembers Jim Miller, the colorful figure who killed Bud Frazier, the county sheriff. The judge roomed with Miller for a time at the local hotel.

Trial Transferred

He said Miller's trial was transferred to Eastland, where he believes Miller was acquitted. Glasscock described Miller as a "nice-talking, good-looking fellow, who was reputed to have a gun for hire to dispose of any man for $1,000.

The judge never witnessed a gripping duel as depicted in many Western novels and motion pictures. He thought he was going to be on the wrong end of a killing one night, though.

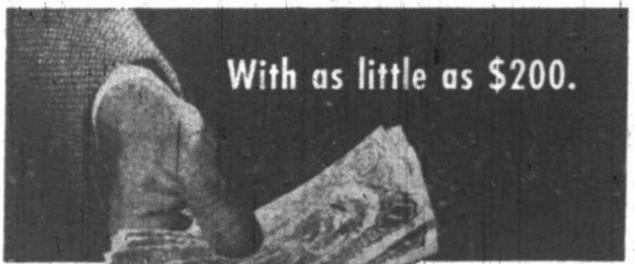

A man he considered his friend, a large cowboy, walked in where Glasscock was working, poked a pistol in his ribs and asserted coolly, "Will, I'm going to kill you."

Glasscock grabbed the pistol barrel and the two men struggled for control of the weapon until someone summoned the sheriff. Grand jury was in session then, but they failed to charge the man. Folks figured the man was either drunk or crazy.

Commented the judge: "I don't think he was drunk, the way he hung onto that pistol."

RECOGNIZE IT?—Here is Midland a long time ago. The scene, taken along Main Street, is a far cry from today's modern stores and paved streets.

West Texas Reproduction Assures Faster Service

The West Texas Reproduction Company, located at 209 North Colorado Street, believes that the papers and records of a business or industrial organization are as vital to its functioning as its building. Its offices or its equipment.

Legal documents, engineering drawings, business reports, contracts, correspondence — upon these and countless other documents it must depend, in order to maintain itself as a going concern.

And just as essential as the originals are the copies made from them for distribution, reference, filing and mailing.

Their legibility, their durability, the speed with which they can be produced, and the cost of making them are the matter of major importance.

To give business and industry the advantages of highly legible, long-lasting reproduction of invaluable original documents, drawings and papers—to provide faster, more economical copying processes, with maximum utilization of existing equipment and techniques are the purposes toward which West Texas Reproduction Company strives.

Originated in 1948, the partnership of M. Crawley and Charlene Koonce, have made quality photocopies, blueprints, maps, and drafting supplies available to their customers. The firm also is a dealer for Post Reproduction Supplies, Haloid Photographic supplies and Pect and Harvey Reproduction equipment.

Principal services rendered by the concern include photocopying, blue-inking and all other types of commercial reproduction. A pickup and delivery service also is provided by the firm.

The firm remodeled its office in 1950 and added a second floor to the front 80 feet of the building. A new number four Hi-Speed Photostat Machine also was installed at the time.

WTRC considers itself fully qualified to serve you. For free estimates on reproduction work, call them at 4-8261.

Woman, 85, Takes Care Of 'Old' Person

LAWRENCEVILLE, ILL. —(AP)—An 85-year-old woman asked Lawrence County Clerk Bill Honsley for an absentee ballot. He suggested that she cast her vote then and get it over. But she replied, "I haven't time—must get back to my job."

"Your job?" said the clerk, glancing again at the 85 years she listed.

"Oh, I'm taking care of an old lady," she said, and hustled out.

'Hidden Payroll' In Pecos Cited By C-C's Manager

PECOS—Pecos is a town with a "hidden payroll," states Alton Hughes in his newly-published "Facts About Pecos," an informative Chamber of Commerce feature which is recognized as a thorough and up to date introduction to this growing city.

"For years people have wondered what made Pecos as good a town as it always has been, because there is an apparent lack of payroll," Hughes asserted.

But in addition to a tremendous farm payroll, he continued, there is a "hidden payroll that people were inclined to overlook when attempting to identify the Pecos payroll."

The Chamber of Commerce manager observes that Pecos is district headquarters for the State Highway Department, Highway Patrol, U. S.

District Court, Community Public Service, Southern Union Gas, Greyhound Lines, Soil Conservation Service and other agencies.

Hughes made a spot check of the payrolls of 11 large concerns, and discovered they experience a total payroll of $5,355,000 annually.

Of the 11 sources, the largest payroll is from farm labor, the second largest from Western Cottonoll Company, the third largest from Pecos Valley Southern Railroad and F. M. Reeves and Sons.

No retail or wholesale establishment was included in his check, nor were farm implement houses, machine shops or drilling companies.

Also, many Pecos Air Force Base workers live in Pecos and add to the "hidden payroll." Hughes estimates that tourists spend about $700,000 annually here.

He concluded: "An analysis of Pecos' economy will show that we have a very attractive payroll despite the fact that we have very little industry classed as purely manufacturing. The Pecos payroll increases a little each day."

A BOY AT CALVARY

Though Sabron winced with each whistling lash of the whip, Jesus' face betrayed no emotion. When at last he was scarcely able to stand, the soldiers dressed him in a purple cloak and crown of thorns, mocking him as King.

The sport quickly grew tiresome. Some inner gears seemed to separate Jesus from his tormentors. Returning his own robe, the Romans placed a huge wooden cross upon the Nazarene's shoulders. Through the streets of Jerusalem, toward Calvary, he tottered.

Sabron followed the procession. Near the mock man who stumbled and fell beneath his load, Sabron did not feel as if he were alone in a strange city. Was it because he had been near Jesus in Bethany? Or was it something more?

ASSIGNED HERE — A combat leader in the Korean campaign will set up a unit of the Organized Marine Corps Reserve in Midland. He is First Lt. Thomas W. Turner, a twice-wounded veteran of the Inchon invasion and the subsequent march to Seoul.

Former Nazi Pilot Pays Off Old Wager

SANTA ANA, CALIF. —(AP)— Early in 1943 a German Luftwaffe captain boasted the Nazis would sweep their foes out of the skies. A captured American bomber pilot wagered the best bottle of brandy available after the war that the German was wrong.

Early this month David Ferrell, Santa Ana, the wartime pilot, collected. The loser, Capt. Waldemar Wuebke, now living in Bogota, Columbia, remembered the bet when he met a New York woman in South America. He sent $10 back with her. She sent it to a sister in Compton, California, who gave it to Ferrell's father in Long Beach.

Since the former captain doesn't drink, he turned the winnings over to the boys' fund of the Santa Ana Optimist Club.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Modern Medicine Discredits The Old-Fashioned Remedies

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

Superstitions about medical matters die hard and once in a long while they later are shown to have scientific merit. In the latter group was the belief in certain South American regions that chewing the bark from a particular tree was good for chills and fever; the bark contained quinine and the fever was usually malaria. This superstition later became the basis for much scientific treatment of malaria all over the world.

One superstition that is quite far off the mark is the wide-spread belief which was held in the Scottish Highlands that insanity was caused by a person's heart getting out of place due to a sudden shock. It was also felt that another shock would bring the heart back to its former position, and thus restore the natural balance. Consequently sudden shock was one of the old remedies for insanity.

But it is interesting to recall this strange belief in the light of the modern developments of a different kind of shock treatment for certain varieties of mental disease.

An interesting letter on this subject recently came from a reader who mentions several old-fashioned remedies, most of which do not stand up very well as modern types of treatment. She says: "Recently, I had a bladder infection, and of course went to the doctor, who gave me some pills to combat it. A friend remarked that if I had only made myself some parsley tea and some flax-seed tea I should have saved myself a doctor bill."

"In my childhood we drank quarts of beef tea, took sulphur and molasses, or brimstone and treacle as it is called in England, and wore squares of camphor sewn into our clothes in the Wintertime. I can see the value of beef tea, because it is a protein. I am curious, however, as to why we used to have to eat calf's-foot jelly.

cactianha wine, but I can't recall what for. Camomile and poppy-head were made into a tea and used for something too, but my memory fails me on this one too.

"My husband insists that after all drug store remedies had failed to cure a childhood case of ring-worm, his grandmother cured it by applying the white, sticky substance that comes out of the cut end of figs."

No doubt, other readers can recall similar old-fashioned remedies, and the search for some easy way of curing disease is still easily apparent whenever anyone walks by almost any drugstore window.

ATTEND BANKERS MEET Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gregory, 1805 Harvard Street, have returned from Galveston where they attended the annual convention of the Texas Mortgage Bankers Association.

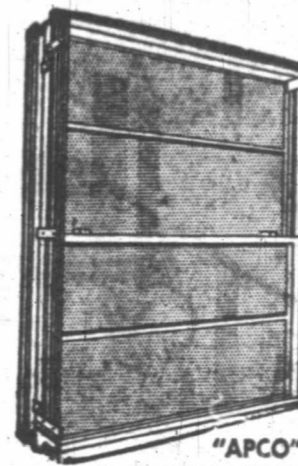

A shortage of sulphur makes a shortage of sulphuric acid, an essential chemical in many industrial processes.

Paratroopers, A Cocky, Confident Crew, Use Fierce Pride As Shield Against Fear

By WILBUR MARTIN

FORT HOOD—(AP)—The men who wear the paratrooper's wings wrap themselves in a fierce pride that is a protective shield against fear.

They laugh at danger, scoff at fear, admit only "apprehension" when they tumble into space and wait the three long, long seconds for the "shock" of a billowing parachute.

These men, youths and grandfathers, chant with fervor a gory song about "Blood Upon the River," the saga of a man "who ain't gonna jump no more." It almost is their battle cry.

For two weeks, hundreds of Texans have seen paratroopers fighting on the ground as aggressor troops in Exercise Long Horn, biggest military maneuver of its type in U. S. history. Some 40,000 watched 2,500 jump before the maneuver started March 25.

The big mock war being staged over 1,800 square miles of ranch land enters its last week Monday. When it ends Friday, the men of the 82nd Airborne and the 500th Regimental Combat Team—jumpers all—go back to bases in North Carolina and Georgia.

The best way to learn about these men is just to listen—as they drink, as they eat, as they remember.

They're all types, like Cpl. Floyd E. King of Clarksville, Ark., who served two years in the Navy, then switched to the 82nd because "you make more money."

Or like Maj. Chester B. McCoid, of Middleton, Conn., 29, a soldier since he was 16.

A fabulous fellow, this McCoid, who just "hasn't found time" to spend a month in traction splints to get his back straightened. He's been ailing at an angle—in biting pain—for months now. Why? He probably would have missed this maneuver and "You just don't quit."

McCoid's sidekick, Capt. Bruce Benedict, an OSS man in World War II and a reporter on the San Francisco Chronicle in civilian life, fills in the gaps in the major's story, the gaps McCoid never bridges.

"This character," Benedict says fondly, "got half his knee shot away while he was in a plane going to make a combi jump in Europe. So what does he do? He jumps with his men and then starts walking and fighting on the ground."

Why did you jump then, McCoid? His answer was simple to understand—if you're a paratrooper: "You jump if you're not a 'basket' case."

This feeling you must "jump" isn't just because the men like it, everybody is a little apprehensive when he climbs into the plane, even if he's a master parachutist with more than a hundred jumps.

Get "Hopped" Up
You start getting "hopped up" when you're in the air," McCoid explained. "The excitement, the tension takes hold. Your feet start pounding. When it's time to go you're 'high' all over and all you think of is getting to the 'door' and getting out."

The paratrooper, like the ones taking part in Long Horn, accepts broken bones and death in a casual manner. For it never will happen to the one you're talking to, only the "other guy," the one who gets a bad "body" position, or who "loses" his head.

The spectacular feats of one paratrooper catching another after his chute failed to open was awesome to civilian spectators watching the drop of 2,310 men on March 25. But it isn't an uncommon happening to the paratroopers.

"It takes guts, though," McCoid said. "The guy that does the grabbing is taking a chance on his own chute rupturing and collapsing. But, in training, it is done frequently, with no publicity."

As those hundreds of Central Texans know, the paratroopers are a cocky, confident crew, with fierce pride in their division and themselves.

THOUSANDS OF HOMES GO UP IN SMOKE!

Every year thousands of homes go up in smoke—before they are built. The cause is something we are all acquainted with—forest fires. The timber lost in forest fires in America each year would build all the houses in a city of a half-million population. Who is responsible for forest fires? Nine out of ten are caused by pure and simple carelessness... on the part of people like you. This terrible destruction must stop if we are to keep America strong. Please be careful. Remember—only you can prevent forest fires.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

You can be a big-game fisherman for $15 or $20, and if you start your career down at West Palm Beach, the chances are even that you will knock the buttons off a seven-foot sailfish.

A good many people are under the impression that big-game fishing is a rich man's sport, but the average vacation budget will allow few days on the Gulf Stream, provided you know the setup.

Boats draw an average of $60 per day, which is a low tariff when you realize that the captain has to buy gas, tackle, and insurance, pay a mate's salary and get his own outfit from the balance. Allowing an annual haul-out period, and the many days he can't get off-shore because of bad weather, the skipper is not loaded with chips as many observers might lead you to believe.

To keep business stable, most boats run "make-up" parties which means that two, three or four anglers split the bill. Your share runs between $30, $20 or $15, depending on how many you want to fish. More than one novice has invested $20 and locked horns with not one—but two or three sailfish.

This locale incidentally, is the "boot" camp for practicing sailfish. The fish concentrate so heavily from Stuart to the Palm Beaches that an average of seven out of every 10 sailfish are released at the end of the fight.

It just isn't cricket to hang one on the dock any more unless the fish is a record. Conservation is a potent word in these parts. The immediate project is tagging released fish so that more can be learned about them. Science can't do much without facts and figures, and getting these depends on everybody who ventures into a sailfish sector.

The "tag" is a neoprene ring which is simple to operate. Sailfish are never gaffed, but are "billed" instead. The guide grabs the fish by its tough, abrasive snout and removes the hook or cuts the leader. With the advent of neoprene rings, all he has to do now is clip one over the bill before releasing. The ring is locked securely in place by the rough texture of the bill gristle. The fish, of course, is not the least inconvenienced.

Some prophets felt that the gesture was futile, but not long ago a tagged sailfish was released off St. Lucie Inlet. The sail dashed off into the blue waters of the Gulf Stream and then turned up at the bait of a sport trolling 20 miles farther south. This second appearance was two months later—but there he was, a seven-foot, 11-inch bundle of dynamite wearing tag number 333. Isolated as this data may seem, enough of these catches will add up to fact—and better fishing for everybody.
