Hi-Lonesome Outpost In NW-C Midland Is Flowing Oil On DST

The Texas Company No. 3-A Scharbauer, one mile west of Eisen production in the Hi-Lonesome field of Northwest-Central Midland County, was flowing oil on a drill-stem test at last report.

The interval being tested is from 10,350 to 10,400 feet. Gas surfaced in three minutes and oil started flowing out at the top at a rate of nine barrels hourly in two hours and 23 minutes. Tool was still open at last report.

Location for No. 3-A Scharbauer is 1,900 feet from south and west lines of section 24, block 41, T-3-B, T&P survey.

Gravity of the oil is 47.2 degrees.

McAlester Is Slated To Complete Scurry Strawn Discovery

McAlester Fuel Company is due to complete its No. 1-A T. P. Allen, Southwest Scurry wildcat as a flowing discovery from the Strawn reef line of the Pennsylvanian.

The completion will be undertaken on perforated section at 7,449-51 feet. That section had flowed 267.12 barrels of oil in 33 hours, naturally, on a drill-stem test.

Small Shakedown

There was a shakedown of two-tenths of one per cent drilling water and drilling mud.

It is understood that operator will not try to produce the well from some other streaks of pay which is drilled through in the Pennsylvanian but will take only the oil from the 7,449-51 foot interval, at least at the present time.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 75, block 20, Lavaca Navigation survey.

Southwest Of Snyder

It is 18 miles southwest of Snyder and five miles south of the nearest completed producers on the south-east side of the Diamond M-Canyon field.

It drilled to a total depth of 8,410 feet in barren Ellenburger. The hole was then plugged and the 1 1/2 inch casing was cemented at 7,504 feet for the completion try in the Pennsylvanian.

Humble Is To Explore Ellenburger Zone At SE Crockett Wildcat

Humble Oil & Refining Company is to start operations at once at a 10,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Crockett County.

The prospector will be Humble No. 1 Charles E. Davidson. It is 15 miles south of Canyon and 600 feet from north and east lines of section 5, block F, G&S-P survey.

Rotary tools will be used.

Texaco Completes Strawn Discovery In Scurry Sector

The Texas Company No. 198 P. L. Fuller has been completed as a pumping discovery from the Strawn in East-Central Scurry County.

Located 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 1, J. A. Kuykendall survey and two and one-half miles east of the Kelly-Snyder field. It was completed for daily potential of 129.92 barrels of oil plus 13.08 barrels of water.

Production was through perforations opposite the Strawn at 7,110-20 feet after 200 gallons of acid had been injected into the formation.

Gas-oil ratio was 324-1 and gravity of the oil was 33.8 degrees.

Texaco No. 202 P. L. Fuller, East-Central Scurry County wildcat, was drilling below 7,585 feet in line after a drill-stem test from 7,518 to 7,538 feet.

Tool was open one hour and 20 minutes. Recovery was 196 feet of water-cut drilling mud.

Location is 467 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 496, block 97, H&TC survey and 12 miles north of Snyder.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House Friday announced the release of General Eisenhower as supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe, effective June 1.

First Break Appears In 'Phone Strike

DETROIT—(AP)—Michigan's strike of 18,000 telephone workers was settled Friday, apparently opening the way to peace nationally in the telephone industry.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the CIO Communications Workers of America jointly announced the settlement.

Full details were not revealed immediately, but the basis for agreement was reported by the union as a 12.7-cent hourly wage increase.

Any settlement in Michigan, key state in negotiations, was expected to form the pattern for agreements generally.

200,000 Workers Idle

A union spokesman said the company's last general increase offer $4 to $7 a week would stand, with adjustments.

Upwards of 200,000 telephone workers across the nation have been idled in the strike. The majority of these are non-strikers who stayed off the job in respect of strikers' picket lines. Bell System employees have been on strike since

Road Crash Kills Four Monahans Men

Another Injured Critically

ODESSA—Four Monahans men died and another was injured critically at midnight Thursday in a head-on collision between two automobiles on Highway 80 three miles west of Odessa.

Dead on arrival at Medical Center Hospital in Odessa were Roy E. Cheek, 51, and John Fruediger, 59. Ernest Lee, 31, died an hour later and Edward Stewart, 32, died at 4 a.m. Friday.

A fifth man, Lee C. Gully, 28, is in critical condition in the Odessa hospital.

According to the report of investigating highway patrolmen, Stewart was driving alone in an automobile on the wrong side of the highway when he collided with the automobile driven by Lee.

Patrolmen said Stewart earlier had sidestepped a car driven by Donald Raymond Lorenz of Santa Clara, Calif., near Penwell but had not stopped.

Lorenz had obtained Stewart's license number and reported it to police. Odessa police had a pick-up order on his automobile when the accident occurred.

Government Wage Deal With CIO Steel Union Said Brewing

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Floundering negotiations for a settlement of the steel labor dispute led to reports Friday that the Administration may go ahead and make its own wage deal with CIO President Philip Murray.

Any such move is certain to provoke another quick court attack from the steel industry.

At the moment the industry is under government operation, there is no steel strike, the steel companies are managing their own plants and finances under nominal federal rule, and the vital defense metal is flowing.

How long this "status quo" will remain is anyone's guess.

The steel industry already has lost two attempts for fast court review of the legality of President Truman's seizure orders and attorneys are rushing new moves. But for the moment it seemed the government was firmly in control.

It was plain, however, that the Truman Administration recognized it had a bear by the tail and wanted to let loose as soon as possible.

Red Radio Claims Mass Tortures By Yankees, Allies

TOKYO—(AP)—The North Korean Red radio Friday night slackened its barrage of germ warfare charges and came up with a tale of mass tortures inflicted on prisoners of war by Americans and South Koreans.

The Pyongyang radio, in a broadcast heard here, charged that Communist prisoners were beaten, tortured and killed. The Red radio quoted one Kim Chin Sop, Korean private first class, as its authority.

It quoted Kim as saying "Every prisoner is subjected to vicious tortures until he divulges military information."

Moreover, the Red radio quoted Kim. "The Americans also use prisoners for atom bomb, poison gas and germ warfare experiments."

And in addition to all that, the Red broadcast said Kim divulged, all Red prisoners who have announced they don't want to return to North Korea were forced to say so by torture.

Property Damage Soars As Flood Crest Sweeps Toward Iowa, Nebraska Areas

By The Associated Press

Flood dangers appeared mounting in five Midwest states Friday as big rivers swirled overflows across cities and farmlands, leaving thousands homeless. Property damage soared into the millions of dollars.

South Dakota was the hardest-hit by the flooding Missouri River and its tributaries, with property damage and homeless reported in 13 counties.

Pierre, the capital city, and nearby Fort Pierre were dealt staggering blows as the worst flood in history swept water over most of the two communities. The Missouri's muddy waters spread over five miles in the Pierre area where it normally is 1,000 feet wide.

The swollen stream also flooded areas in Iowa and Nebraska, with further damage in prospect next week. Twelve counties in the two states were declared disaster areas by the Red Cross.

In Minnesota, the Mississippi was on the rise in the twin cities; the Minnesota River was on a rampage in the southwestern part of the state and the Red River of the North headed for a crest in at Moorhead. It was seven and one-half feet above the 23.38 foot flood stage at nearby Fargo, N. D.

Although the crest of the Mis-

Beer Battle Brings Unslated Fireworks At Council Session

A new City Council—composed of two new members and four whose terms have another year to run—took over the reigns of Midland's city government Thursday afternoon.

Swinging quickly into action after J. T. Baker and Ray O. Howard, the new members, took the oath of office, the council:

Formally approved the rezoning of a 15-block area in the southern section of the city.

Heard a protest by four beer distributors to the outlawing of in-home beer consumption on South Main Street.

Prepared for early action on an ordinance regulating house trailers in the city.

The zoning change, urged by a large number of residents in the area, provides for a G zone, in which a wide range of commercial structures will be permitted.

The area is that bounded on the north by the alley between New York and Washington Streets, on the south by the alley between California and Florida Streets, on the west by the alley between Baird and Main Streets, and on the east by the alley between Terrell and Mineola Streets.

"Pearl Harbor Sneak"

While the zoning action was routine, a discussion with four beer distributors over the Main Street beer situation brought several flareups.

The group which appeared before the council included Robert Minton, Sr., Robert Minton, Jr., C. A. Churchill and R. G. Brantley.

The senior Minton said the group was there simply to listen to any discussion about the beer situation and was informed it was not on the council's agenda.

He then described the council's action of last Tuesday in amending the city's beer ordinance as a "Pearl Harbor Sneak."

Consumers' Prices Again Inch Upward

NEW YORK—(AP)—Consumers' prices climbed two-tenths of one per cent from February to March, according to a survey of 10 major U. S. cities released Friday by the National Industrial Conference Board.

The rise in prices lowered the purchasing value of the dollar to 56.6 cents for March, using the dollar of January, 1930, as a standard 100 cents. In March, 1951, the dollar was worth 57.9 cents.

Lone Star Steel reached agreement early Friday with workers who had been out on strike since mid-February, remained static.

Picketing of telephone exchanges by striking Western Electric workers, members of the Communications Workers of America (CWA), melted away in some places and spread to others. Picket lines remained up in the larger cities.

In Dallas, R. W. Staley, international representative for CWA, said, "It looks like this thing is snowballing."

Late Thursday, Southwestern Bell gave this list of cities where CWA-CIO picketing had curtailed telephone service:

Dallas, Houston, Tyler, Fort Worth, Amarillo, Seminole, Austin, McAllen, Mission, Pharr, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Waco, McKinney, Celina, Cisco, Ranger, McGregor, McCamey, Marshall, Rockdale, Freeport, Smithville, Lake Jackson.

Rains End Drouth In Much Of State

By The Associated Press

Farmers in many parts of Texas were getting what they wanted Friday-rain. And the farmer's wife may get the weather she wants Sunday for her new Easter bonnet-clearing skies.

Light rains, promising a measure of drouth relief, were falling over a large part of the state and were expected to continue Saturday. But the U. S. Weather Bureau said that by Sunday the weather should be milder and only partly cloudy.

Rain fell Thursday night in some places, most of them points that needed it least. Houston had 1.61 inches and Beaumont got 1.28 inches. Other Thursday totals included: Corpus Christi .74, Victoria .65, Galveston .63, Palestine .59, and Austin .25.

Before dawn Friday drizzling rain was falling at Lufkin, Palacios, Houston, Galveston, Tyler and Longview.

The Weather Bureau said a southeasterly circulation of air was increasing over the state. Winds were rising in West Texas and southeast to south winds were expected to spread moisture and low clouds over much of the state by mid-afternoon. Temperatures were mild following about 48 hours of unseasonably frigid weather.

Texas Reports 28 New Cases Of Polio

AUSTIN—(AP)—The State Health Department Friday reported 28 new cases of polio in Texas last week, the largest number ever reported this time of year.

The seven-year average for the week is six cases.

The latest cases boosted the year's total to 325, compared to 111 for the same period a year ago.

Bexar County with seven cases was the major trouble area for the week.

Atomic Commission Plans Building New Billion-Dollar Plant

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission Friday announced it is planning construction of a new, billion-dollar plant. It said, its search for a suitable site now is concentrated in the Ohio River Valley.

This was the first official statement from the commission on the proposed plant, reports of which have been circulating in Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia.

AEC General Manager W. M. Boyer said in a statement the commission is surveying prospective locations for a site of 5,000 or 6,000 acres for a new gaseous diffusion plant "which is included in the AEC expansion program now being drafted for submission to Congress." It would employ 4,500 to 5,000 operating workers.

Boyer stressed that the commission has not yet decided on a site.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW YORK—(AP)—A Pan American Airways plane, commanded by Capt. John C. Burnas, husband of Jane Froman, radio and screen star, crashed into the San Juan, Puerto Rico, harbor Friday and sank. There was no immediate information on the fate of its 58 adult passengers, six infants and crew of five.

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA—(AP)—Loyal army troops and rebels still battled for possession of La Paz Friday-afternoon, the third day of a revolution which erupted at dawn Wednesday.

PIERRE, S. D.—(AP)—Flood refugees being fed in Pierre feasted on venison Thursday night.

Two of 17 deer attempting to swim from a flooded island suffered broken legs by huge ice cakes in the stream and had to be destroyed. Chief Game Warden Virgil Johnson ordered the meat turned over to the Red Cross.

Randolph Officers Balk At Flying; Others Seek Voluntary Suspension

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Other officers at Randolph Air Force Base have asked for voluntary suspension from flying, officials said Friday as a probe began of the refusal of six officers to fly.

Major Albert Hatcher, public information officer for the Crew Training Air Force, announced figures were being compiled on the number of officers seeking suspension from flying.

He said all six of the first lieutenants who have refused to fly previously had submitted applications for suspension.

Hatcher said various reasons could be given in the requests for suspension including fear of flying. He said he did not know what reasons were given by the six men or why they refused to fly.

Hatcher said their cases were being studied by Col. J. B. Olmstead, judge advocate general at the base. Hatcher said court martial charges had been preferred against one of the officers, a pilot.

This pilot had been restricted to the base for "disorderly conduct" but since has disappeared.

Hatcher said the disorder occurred Tuesday night at a downtown hotel when the officer was arrested as intoxicated.

Police Sgt. Frank Ballard said he arrested the man at the Bluebonnet Hotel after being called by the switchboard operator, who told him the man had been attempted to call Columnists Walter Winchell and Drew Pearson.

The public information officer said the AWOL lieutenant had submitted his application for suspension from flying but that it had been turned down by the Flying Evaluation Board of Review.

The applications of the other five officers still are awaiting review. Hatcher said officers are considered to be on flying status until their applications for suspension have been approved.

Hatcher said the men involved in the flying refusal were not all members of the same unit.

He said all were World War II veterans who had been recalled to active duty.

Randolph officials could give no reason for the refusal of the officers to fly.

Since activation of the B-28 training program at the base in August, 1950, eight of the huge bombers have crashed.

Collision of two of the bombers north of San Antonio last month resulted in death of 15 airmen.

Death Dims Dream Of Refugee Family

NEW YORK—(AP)—Death dimmed the dream of a brave new life for a displaced Pole and his family as a trans-atlantic plane neared Idlewild Airport Thursday.

With Edmund Matuszewski were his wife, Martha, their 16-month-old son, Joseph, and two daughters, Veronica and Angelika, four months old.

Only minutes from a landing, the girls began to turn blue. Stewardess Madeline Mullin administered oxygen. The pilot radioed the airport for stand-by help.

Doctors gave more oxygen. They said both babies had pneumonia.

Angelika survived but Veronica died.

The Matuszewski family was enroute, from Germany to Chicago, sponsored there by C. J. Pzyrenski. The father, tears in his eyes, murmured to an interpreter: "Strange to think we had dreamed of this day."

Indian Camping Ground Remains Found In Area

Remains of an Indian camping ground three miles northwest of Midland was revealed Friday by A. P. Jordan, who brought arrowheads, "skin scrapers," and "corn grinders" to town as evidence of his discovery.

Jordan said removal of sand by the wind exposed the campsite which extends one-half mile. Burned rocks may be seen over that distance.

The old camp "turned up" in a cultivated field. It has remains of pottery as well as other signs of former Indian activities.

Jordan has resided at his present home eight years but has been in and out of this territory almost 50 years. He visited Indian burying grounds near San Angelo and believes he'll uncover burying grounds one of these days in the Midland area.

Deanna Will Return To Films Only If She Gets 'Nylon' Roles

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—On the record: Deanna Durbin, talking about comeback plans:

"The story of the little girl who saves the situation by singing—no more of that for me. It's been done and re-done so often that people are sick of it, and I'm tired of playing it."

"If Hollywood wants me back, it will have to get me out of bobbysocks and into nylons. Schoolgirl parts are not my meat any more."

Gregory Peck, on being named one of the nation's 10 best-dressed men:

"I don't mind it, but I don't think I deserve it. I haven't anything against 200 suits. I just don't happen to own 200 suits. I think I have about 10."

Susan Hayward, on studio suspensions:

"What else can you do? They hit you over the head with some things and you have to do them. The best advice to an actor is to keep his mouth shut when stories are in preparation. I speak from experience. Something you think will turn out, well ends up as a dud."

Clifton Webb, about his new actor-director contract at Fox:

"Everybody salutes when I pass. Of course, I've always directed—but in a subtle sort of way. If you know what I mean. What kind of pictures would I like to direct? Passionate love tales, if you must know."

Zsa Zsa Gabor, on her marriage to George Sanders:

"George is a dear, sweet angel—at least this week. The press tries to build George up as a man who is impertinent to women. If he were really that way I wouldn't live with him for one moment."

Boris Karloff, on Hollywood's new economy:

"I've been in Hollywood for a long time. But I've never worked in a picture that took 26 weeks to film that couldn't have been shot in 12 weeks."

Jean Fontaine, on marriage plans to Collier Young, Ida Lupino's ex:

"I'm deeply devoted to him. And I think he is equally devoted to me. But we're both only recently divorced."

LITTLE WOMAN PLAYS ROUGH

TOKYO—(AP)—This is "Women's Week" in Japan. But National Political Reserve Officer Tadao Takase Friday protested some women "abuse equal status" granted women by occupation authorities.

His wife is one of these women he said in a divorce action. He said she "abused equal status" by walking out on him 40 times, tearing his underwear, ripping his uniforms when he planned to attend conventions, and chasing him off his beat.

Three Grabbed For Disturbing Graves Of Gunfight Victims

AMARILLO—(AP)—Three men accused of digging up the bones of a cowboy who died with his boots on in 1888 were in jail Friday.

Officers said they were looking for hidden money.

The grave is that of Fred B. Chilton, who was killed in a gun fight in the nearby ghost town of Tascosa.

Officers said a pit was sunk in old Boot Hill Cemetery between the graves of Chilton and Frank Valle, another man who died in the gun fight.

"I heard there was $75,000 buried in one of the graves," Sheriff Day Thompson quoted one of the men. The sheriff said bones were pulled from Chilton's grave.

The men were arrested Wednesday night after their car was seen parked near the cemetery.

Officers didn't know whether they will be charged with disturbing a dead body, which carries penalties up to 25 years, or desecrating a cemetery, a misdemeanor.

Gl's Use Assembly Lines Methods To Build Bunkers

U. S. THIRD DIVISION, KOREA—(AP)—Seven in the Korean mud, home is what you make it.

And the U. S. Seventh Infantry Regiment has come up with something new in battle line housing—a prefabricated bunker.

Bunkers are reinforced holes in the ground which give the foot soldiers a maximum of cover—in other words, a roof over their heads.

The Seventh's assembly line is just behind the front. Two platoons cut the lumber to specifications set by the forward soldiers.

The bunker kits are delivered complete. The assembly line even sends along a representative to explain how its put together.

All the infantrymen have to do is have a proper size hole dug.

The front line soldiers usually cut their own machine gun slots to fit their particular field of fire. Other openings are made beforehand.

Maj. Walter M. Turner, Sanford, Fla., First Battalion commander, thought of the prefab bunkers. The job was turned over to Lt. Henry D. Hoyle, West Kingston, R. I., and Sgt. John M. Healy, West Springfield, Mass.

The group met in the Band Hall, Mills also talked about the recent band contest in Kermit at which the high school band won the sweepstakes award with a rating of 98.5. Mills explained how the ratings were figured.

It was announced that the high school band will present a concert April 25. The junior high school band has been invited to be the older band's guest and to play the opening numbers. The Band Aides voted to sponsor the concert.

Mrs. J. T. Klingler, Mrs. Raymond Leggett and Mrs. E. H. Black were appointed to a nominating committee. Plans also were made to give a picnic for band members later on in the Spring. ## RUTH MILLETT

Which Kind Of Youthfulness Do You Want For Yourself?

"They've been little demons all day," the harassed mother confided as she turned over her two youngest to a friend, who had offered to look after the children while the mother entertained her study club for luncheon.

The two "little demons" were anxious for the friend. This sort of thing happens to mothers so often, there must be a logical explanation for the phenomenon.

Haven't you often had a grandparent, a baby-sitter or a neighbor tell you how well-behaved your children are, when you know they've been behaving like wild Indians around home?

Sure you have. Every mother has. So there must be a reason for it.

Perhaps it's that others see our children at their best because they treat the youngster with more courtesy, respect and tact than we do.

In the hurry and bustle of the day's work it is easy for a mother to start pushing her children around—to give orders, rather than courteous requests—to scold before waiting to get the whole story, to say "I'm too busy" when the child asks for companionship in a reasonable way.

Deserve Courtesy

Perhaps, if we tried always to treat our own children with as much courtesy as we treat other people's children, it would be a different story.

Instead, we too often shrug off the problem by saying that we are with the children constantly, and that if anyone else had them for any length of time, the youngsters would act the same way.

That's the accepted explanation. Isn't it just an excuse we mothers have concocted for forgetting that children are really little people, who resent unjust scolding, being pushed aside, and being made to feel "in the way"?

No wonder they act like demons! (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Short-Term Service—

Looking for a steady job? Then do not apply for a cabinet post in President Truman's administration. That sort of thing has proved to be just about the most insecure employment you could hold.

There was a time, not too long ago, when a fellow picked by a President for the cabinet had reasonable assurance of sticking in there throughout the President's term of office, whether it be four years or eight. It was, in fact, the rule rather than the exception.

Today all that is changed. Maybe it's the stress and strain of the times. Whatever it is, short-term service is standard. Cabinet members come and go like offensive and defensive football platoons.

Some get fired, some get worn out by it all, some deliberately restrict their tenure to two years or three. In many quarters this kind of duty is looked upon as the most hazardous front-line combat. It's something you don't take too much of if you want to preserve life and limb.

The recent "resignation" of Attorney General McGrath puts the matter in fresh focus. James McGranery, McGrath's successor, will be the fourth attorney general under Truman—if he should manage to win confirmation from the Senate.

Remember Francis Biddle, President Roosevelt's last appointee to that job? Then there was Tom Clark, who served just long enough to be regarded as socially acceptable in the rarier atmosphere of the Supreme Court. McGrath was next in line.

Truman has had four secretaries of State—Stettinius, Byrnes, Marshall and Acheson. He's had the same number of Defense secretaries—Forrestal, Johnson, Marshall and Lovett.

The turnover pace isn't quite so swift in some of the quieter cabinet backwaters. There have been but three secretaries of Agriculture, three secretaries of Commerce, three secretaries of the Interior, three of Labor.

Of course, the President acted in accord with tradition when he ousted most of the Roosevelt cabinet he inherited. A Chief Executive is expected to surround himself with men of his own choosing.

Yet, no one quite imagined when he did this that he was opening the gates to a flood. He's fixed it so that setting down the names of his full cabinet is about the foughest parlor game you can play.

When the Internal Revenue scandals were at their peak last year, there were a lot of demands for the resignation of Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. But he wouldn't quit. If he had, he would have had to yield up his honors. For though he shares with Postmaster General Donaldson the rare distinction of having been the sole Truman appointee to his job, Snyder has more oak leaf clusters on his chest. He's manned his post almost from the start.

In later years, not only the historians but the psychologists may be keenly interested to learn what peculiar qualities Snyder possessed that enabled him to stay in there fighting while his colleagues were dropping like flies.

Drew Pearson says: Dan Bolich pleaded poverty before congressional investigators: In five years Bolich spent $63,000 more than he reported; Bolich admitted intervening in Patullo Modes case.

WASHINGTON—Dan Bolich, the No. 2 tax collector who bought $21 shirts and developed a special taste for $3.50 monogrammed handkerchiefs, pleaded poverty when he testified secretly before congressional investigators.

Later, when Bolich was called to a public session of the King tax-fraud subcommittee, he refused to answer on the ground of self-incrimination. But before he knew that committee-probers had the goods on him, he testified freely in private. This column now has obtained a copy of the secret cross-examination.

Two and a half years ago, this columnist, attempting to expose scandals in Internal Revenue, pointed to Bolich (Dec. 17, 1949) as an acquaintance of gambler Frankie Costello and told how Bolich had killed prosecution of the biggest tax-fraud case against Los Angeles gamblers—the Guaranty Finance Company. Another column told how Bolich mysteriously intervened to prevent prosecution in a $6,000,000 tax case against Mid-Continent Petroleum.

This was the deputy commissioner of Internal Revenue, later revealed to have spent in five years $63,000 more than his government salary. Mysterious Friend

Grilled secretly under oath, however, he talked freely but mentioned no monogrammed shirts or handkerchiefs.

"I am really behind the eight ball financially," he pleaded. "There is no doubt but that living in Washington I overextended myself financially, and the net result is that I am quite inclined to question as to whether it was worth even the inconvenience as well as the financial loss."

Bolich also explained his friendship with the mysterious Carl Routsahn, 73-year-old Mansfield, Ohio, merchant, who paid Bolich $400 a month—totaling more than $30,000.

"He (Routsahn) was a very old and dear friend of the family and my particular benefactor," the big tax collector told the investigators.

"Mr. and Mrs. Routsahn had no children. And after her death, Mr. Routsahn made an arrangement with Mrs. Bolich and I that he would have a home with us for life and could have use of all of the facilities that are ours. The commitment was made, not in writing, but morally binding and forever will be a home with Mr. Routsahn will have a home with us, which he does have."

But, in public session, he refused to say more.

"My best recollection of that particular case is my connection with it as assistant commissioner," recalled Bolich. "That has to do with the tax laws."

The investigators also inquired about the notorious $250,000 Patullo Modes case. Bolich refused to comment on the case in public session, but admitted to investigators that he had ruled against criminal prosecution.

"Who invented the accordion?" A—Its invention has been credited to both Friedrich Buschmann of Berlin and Damian of Vienna in 1829.

Q—When was smokeless powder invented? A—In 1884. By the early 1900's it had replaced gunpowder for use in firing shells.

Q—How many Pullman cars would be needed to carry the number of passengers who can be accommodated on the "Queen Mary"? A—Sixty-five Pullman cars would be needed to carry the ship's 3,075 passengers. The crew alone would occupy 15 Pullman cars.

Every experienced player knows that he must give his partner a certain amount of leeway in competitive bidding situations. In today's hand, for example, it should have been clear that South was just competing for a part score. South expected to find some slight values in the North hand since the opponents would otherwise bid more energetically.

North should have passed throughout. There could be no game in the hand when his partner failed to make a jump bid at any point.

North didn't realize what was going on, however, and went to game on the theory that his partner had contracted for nine tricks single-handed and that the ace of clubs must be worth the tenth trick. A final contract of three spades would have been very simple, but four spades was unmakeable.

That is—four spades should have been unmakeable. Actually, South connected a swindle and managed to win ten tricks.

West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit. South ruffing the third round with the ten of spades, South next led the Queen of clubs to the ace and returned a low club towards his hand.

East couldn't tell whether South was ready to play the jack of clubs or a trump. After anxious thought, he played low, and South won with the jack of clubs.

South still wasn't out of trouble. What was he going to do about the diamond loser?

He found the solution by leading the three of trumps from his hand and finessing the seven of spades from dummy. This deep finesse forced out East's ace and gave South a trump entry to dummy.

When South got to dummy, later, with the nine of spades, he could lead a diamond and finesse the jack from his hand. The success of that finesse assured the game contract.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Spade Pass 2 Clubs Pass 3 Diamonds Pass 2 N. T. Pass

You, South, hold: Spades A-K-J-10-2, Heart 6, Diamonds A-J-9-4, Clubs 8-5-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This bid shows limited strength and allows partner to pass. At the same time you show a strong re-biddable spade suit and a hand that is not good for play at no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-K-J-10-8-2, Hearts

'Stretch-Out' Production Plan Calls For 900 Aircraft Monthly

WASHINGTON—U. S. military aircraft production now is more than 135 planes a week. This fact now can be revealed from statements by two top defense officials, Roewell L. Gilpatrick, undersecretary of the Air Force, reveals that peak U. S. plane production will be 900 planes a month. Charles E. Wilson, former director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, revealed that production in February was 60 per cent of the planned peak. This would be 540 planes a month. At the end of 1951 the rate was around 450 a month.

This new production goal of 900 planes a month takes into account the "stretch-out" of defense rearmament to four years instead of three. The original goal was 1,200 planes a month.

The 900-a-month figure is on one-shift production for all presently-planned aircraft manufacturing facilities. By stepping up operations to two or three shifts, as in war-time, production could be doubled or tripled.

Russian aircraft production now is estimated variously at 1,900 to 1,600 planes a month, or up to double U. S. output. One reason given for higher Russian production is that the Soviet has frozen its design and turned to mass production of existing models—basically the MIG-15 jet interceptor.

Newer Models Held Back It is known that the Russians have other aircraft—later and better models—under development. But whether the Russians would have to shut down their present production and retool for mass production of newer designs is not known.

In contrast to the Russian program, the U. S. is holding back on some current models in order to get newer and better planes into production. This puts U. S. Air Force and Naval Aviation at a disadvantage for the present.

The hope is that within a year, when peak production is reached, or by the end of the present program in 1954, the U. S. will have the advantage of planes as much superior to the new Russian models as the P-56 Sabrejet is superior to the MIG-15 today.

This is of course a calculated risk. If World War II should break out tomorrow, present U. S. aircraft production policy would be proven short-sighted.

In addition to present one-shift aircraft production operation, U. S. plane output is much lower than World War II because of greater complexity of new plane design.

On a typical fighter, the total weight today is 14,000 pounds as against 9,500 pounds for World War II planes. Maximum power today is more than 10,000 horsepower thrust, as against an equivalent of 1,500 horsepower thrust for a World War II propeller-driven plane.

Maximum speed of today's planes is more than 600-700 miles an hour as compared with 400-500 in World War II. Maximum altitude are in excess of 45,000 feet today, as against 35,000 feet in World War II.

Cost of fighters has risen from $25,000 to $179,000 each. In bombers, the B-17 of World War II weighed about 53,000

J-5-2, Diamonds A-J-9-4, Clubs None. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

Power of the new plane is eight times greater. Combat radius is double. Yet the new plane operates with a crew of three men, as compared to eight on a B-17.

Electronics Add Time, Money Electronic gear—radar, rocket-firing and navigational equipment—have added greatly to complexity, cost and production time on the newer aircraft. A typical fighter in the last war had 615 electrical wires, as compared to 3,500 now. This gear adds $77,000 to the cost of the finished plane.

While the stretch-out of the defense production program has relieved some of the shortages and bottlenecks in the aircraft industry, not all problems have been solved. Adm. DeWitt C. Ramsey, head of the Aircraft Industries Association, says delivery time on machine tools still is six to 18 months. And some critical materials still are in short supply.

The manpower shortage has been eased somewhat by the stretchout, but there still aren't enough engineers and technical experts. Engineering time on a new plane is more than a million man-hours, as compared with about 42,000 on a typical World-War II plane.

By the end of 1952, however, AIA predicts the U. S. aircraft industry will be the nation's biggest, with 750,000 employes. This compares with 2,000,000 on the job at the peak of World War II.

odds of it happening?" She set the book down and got up. "I'll show you a graph I was working on last night. It shows you exactly what the mathematical probability of my getting married is."

He knew nothing of charts or graphs, and cared less, but he was certain that her mathematical chances were extremely high, as long as there were men on earth.

She returned with her purse. She opened it and removed a piece of paper with a lot of lines crisscrossing it. "The lines on this paper are rather fine," she said. "I guess I'll need my glasses."

Suddenly, the doorknob rang. "That must be Max now," she said. She pressed a buzzer near the front door and then came back into the living room and began wiping her glasses.

He could hear heavy footsteps pounding up the stairs and the sound of muffled voices. Max had company with him and Kendall suddenly wished he'd brought a gun.

THERE was a loud knocking at the door. "That doesn't sound like Max." She opened the door and three policemen spilled into the front room.

George, Kendall bit his tongue and the trigonometry book fell to the floor.

"What's going on here?" the taller of the three policemen asked. "Going on?" the girl asked. "Nothing, why?"

"We got a report that there was a crime committed here," the tall one said, looking behind the window drapes. "Where's the body?"

"There must be some mistake, officer," the girl said.

"Maybe so," he said, lifting his cap and scratching his head. "but we want to investigate."

The officers began to search through the apartment. They looked in closets, behind doors, under the sink and in cupboards. One of them got down on his hands and knees. "May be blood-stains," he exclaimed.

George saw that the men were in earnest and he felt weak and tremble in his arms and legs.

Well look at you! You don't make me think of trigonometry, you know."

For the first time since he'd entered the apartment, her smile disappeared. She walked away from him and moved toward the windows. "Apparently, I've given you the wrong impression," she turned to face him. "I was only trying to entertain you until Max arrived. Perhaps, you'll better leave."

"No sooner said than done," he snapped up his hat.

"No, wait a minute," she said. "Maybe I'm the one who's at fault."

"It's getting late. I'd better leave anyway."

"Please don't. I'll feel very guilty if you do. You came to see Max, so stay and see him. And I'll tell you what—just so that things are kept on an academic basis we'll thrash through my trig book while we're waiting for Max."

GEORGE started to protest, but it was of no avail. In a minute she was back with the trigonometry book, dragging him to the divan, preaching the excitement and thrills of sines and cosines.

He pretended to be interested, but he wished that this girl would not sit so close to him. She was attractive, he had to admit, but it was her erratic, unpredictable nature that was unnerving him. She was complex; she was different. One minute she seemed to be a school teacher of superior intelligence, and in the next instance she was a seductive, empty-headed coquette.

"Do you know anything about probability curves?" she asked. He studied her slender, white neck, the softly molded shoulders. "Not as much as I'd like to," he said soberly.

"Then you've overlooked one of the most interesting phases in the field. Do you know that you can chart the mathematical possibility of practically anything and the

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Easter Bunny

Mugwump Monkey was dreaming a dream of talking with Mother Ringtail about the Easter Bunny. "Here's the basket," said Mother Ringtail in the dream. She gave him a striped basket with grass inside.

"Now you can hunt for Easter Eggs." "Sure," said Mugwump. The morning was really Easter Morning, and there isn't a happier time for hunting Easter Eggs. Yes, and if anyone ever is to catch an Easter Bunny, Easter morning is the time to do it. "But Mother Ringtail," said Mugwump. "Don't you think I ought to leave the Easter Eggs for the little children to find?"

"Now, now," said Mother Ringtail. "You may as well have some fun yourself." Mugwump hurried out with the Easter basket.

While he stood wondering where to look, out from the bushes hopped a big rabbit. The rabbit hopped on her two back feet, and in one of her paws she carried a basket. How fat and cute she was! She hopped and reached behind a bush, and there! Out came her hand with an Easter egg in it, speckled and spotted with gold. The rabbit chuckled to herself, and she smiled to show her big front teeth. She put the Easter egg in her basket, and started to hop away. "Wait!" shouted Mugwump.

The rabbit turned impatiently to see who it was who had told her to wait. "My name's Mugwump," said Mugwump, "and you put the egg right back where you got it." The rabbit giggled a rabbit giggle. She shook her head. She would not put the egg back beneath the bush. "Now you see here," said Mugwump.

"an Easter bunny ought to put Easter eggs out for people to find. She has no business with finding the eggs herself. Put it back, I say." But the rabbit wouldn't do it. Instead she kicked a good swift kick with her foot, right in Mugwump's stomach. She kicked hard enough to wake him up, and he woke up sure enough. "I dreamed an Easter dream, I did," he said to himself. Happy Easter next Sunday! Happy day.

Newspaper Poll Says Taft Will Grab Good Vote In New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will win New Jersey's preferential primary Tuesday—in the opinion of New Jersey newspapers—but Senator Robert A. Taft, who tried to withdraw from the election, nevertheless will poll a sizable vote.

Harold E. Stassen, third entrant on the Republican presidential popularity ballot, will trail badly, believe the editors canvassed by The Associated Press.

In a nutshell, the newspaper reports, based on soundings among voters in their own counties, forecast:

Eisenhower will receive about 56 per cent of the vote; Taft, whose name remains on the ballot despite his attempted withdrawal, will get about 34 per cent; Stassen, nine per cent, and write-ins for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren of California, and others, one per cent.

These figures are based on percentage estimates made by newspaper editors and political writers in 17 of New Jersey's 21 counties. Newspapers in the four counties which did not provide percentages all predicted an Eisenhower win in their areas.

Newspapers in seven counties did not estimate Stassen's vote, saying he was not considered a serious contender.

The survey covered 21 daily and seven weekly newspapers which circulate in all sections of the state. A county-by-county breakdown showed newspapermen in 19 counties forecast an Eisenhower victory, ranging from a tight squeeze to a landslide. It was predicted two counties would be in the Taft column by narrow margins.

Senator Estes Kefauver is the lone candidate on the Democratic ballot. No survey was made of sentiment among registered Democrats.

THESE HITLER DIDN'T CHEW

MUNICH, GERMANY — (AP) — The legend says Adolf Hitler used to chew carpets in his fits of rage. History so far has not verified this.

But an exhibition in Munich proved that the fuhrer had at least an extraordinary interest in carpets.

On display are 16 super-size rugs which Hitler ordered in Iran during World War II for his Reich Chancellery. But Hitler wasn't around to take delivery when they were completed, in 1946.

The big rugs are shown with 100 or so other valuable carpets and wall tapestries in an exhibition sponsored by one of Munich's leading carpet merchants.

East-West Impasse Unbroken On Free German Elections

GENEVA — (AP) — UN commission Friday gave Russia until April 27 to let the commission into Germany's Soviet zone to study the possibility of free elections throughout Germany.

The commission set the deadline in a fourth letter requesting admission from Gen. V. I. Chulikov, Soviet zone commander. He failed to answer the other three.

Unless he lets the group in by the deadline, they said they would wind up their work and report failure to the UN. The commission already has visited West Germany.

A Russian note, published Thursday night, to Britain, France and the United States emphasized the UN investigators have almost no chance of a favorable reply. The Russians said they want elections to unify Germany—but stuck to their stand they should be run by the Big Four, not the UN.

In Washington, meanwhile, diplomats Friday predicted the Western powers, very probably, will reject Russia's new demand.

Three Servicemen Get Honor Medals In Joint Ceremony

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two soldiers and a Marine Friday joined the select ranks of Medal of Honor winners.

President Truman presented the nation's highest award to the new Korean war heroes in a White House ceremony.

The winners are Army Lt. Lloyd L. Burke, Stuttgart, Ark., Army Cpl. Rodolfo P. Hernandez, Fowler, Calif., and Marine M. Sgt. Harold E. Wilson, Birmingham, Ala.

Members of their families were expected to attend the ceremony.

Lieutenant Burke won the medal while fighting with the 1st Cavalry Division last October. Burke, who now is assigned to the Infantry Center at Fort Benning, Ga., won the Distinguished Service Cross, Bronze Star and Purple Heart for earlier heroism in Korea.

Paratrooper Hernandez of the 18th Airborne Regiment climaxed a lone stand with a one-man bayonet charge against attacking Reds in nighttime battle last May.

Sergeant Wilson was everywhere in the thick of the fight in Korea last April. Wounded four times, he refused to take time out for treatment or to leave his platoon.

Air Force To Use Newark Airport On Limited Basis

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — Newark Airport, shut down two months ago after three plane crashes in nearby Elizabeth, is expected to be reopened Monday on a limited basis for military use.

The Port of New York Authority, which operates the sprawling airport, approved its reopening Thursday for limited use by the U. S. Air Force.

Port authority officials padlocked the airport on February 11, just three hours after the third Elizabeth plane crashed. A total of 119 persons died in the three disasters, which happened over a 58-day period.

Spinster Shoots Down Aged Father, Burns Ranch Home

AUBURN, CALIF. — (AP) — A middle-aged spinster Thursday told Sheriff Charles Ward she killed her 78-year-old father and then burned her life-long home because she was driven frantic over losing it through government condemnation.

The sheriff said he found Etta Dickinson, 50, standing at the edge of a clump of woods near the ruins of her adobe house—watching deputies search for her body. They already had found the body of her father, Peter, 78, and surmised that she also had died in the blaze.

The sheriff gave this background and account of Miss Dickinson's actions.

Plans for the new Folsom Dam call for the flooding of the Dickinson ranch property.

Government agents persuaded the Dickinsons to accept a $25,000 check for the property. Later, she returned the check without cashing it and the government began condemnation proceedings.

Prospects of the family home vanishing drove the woman frantic. The family had lived on the ranch 59 years.

"I could see us losing everything, property, money — everything," she cried to Sheriff Ward Thursday night.

She told Ward she got up Thursday morning, cooked breakfast for her father, and then shot him with a double-barreled shotgun, while he ate.

Then she sprinkled the house with kerosene and set it on fire.

She planned to kill herself, she told Ward, but after reloading the gun, was unable to pull the trigger.

Miss Dickinson, her father's sole survivor, was held for investigation of murder. She was examined by psychiatrists in the county jail. Later she was expected to be taken to DeWitt State Hospital for further mental tests.

Warren Denies Interest In Second Place On Ticket

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gov. Earl Warren said on a radio program Thursday night he is "not interested" in the vice presidency.

The Republican White House aspirant made the statement in answer to a question on the CBS "Presidential Profiles" interview program.

The California governor ran for vice president in 1948 with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. Warren told newsmen last February his endorsement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's foreign policies was "in no sense of the word" an implication that he leaned toward an Eisenhower-Warren ticket.

Youth Accidentally Shot In Knee By .22 Caliber Pistol

An 18-year-old Midland youth was accidentally shot in the right knee late Thursday when a .22 caliber pistol which he had been using for target practice discharged.

Admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital for treatment was Manuel Fernandez of 908 Walnut Lane.

According to police, Fernandez and a companion, Max Lopes of 1005 North Lee Street, had been target shooting at tin cans at the city dump on Mississippi Street when the mishap occurred.

The youths told officers the gun was owned by Raymond Velarde of 900 North Dallas Street, who reportedly had found it at the city dump about two weeks ago.

Kentucky Gives Taft Six Convention Votes

LOUISVILLE, KY. — (AP) — Robert A. Taft won six GOP National Convention delegate votes in Kentucky Thursday, and his forces predicted he would grab off eight more Friday.

Kentucky Republicans will send 20 delegates to their national convention in Chicago July 7. Sixteen of the delegates are being chosen in district conventions and four will be named in the state convention here Saturday.

The six delegates already pledged to support the Ohio senator for Republican nomination for President as long as he has a chance were chosen in the Fourth Congressional District Convention at Bardonia, the fifth at Newport, and the sixth in Lexington.

Sabre Jets Machine Gun Red Supply Train

SEOUL — (AP) — American Sabre jets on the prow for Red jets, couldn't find any Friday morning so they shot up a Communist supply train with their machine guns.

The Fifth Air Force said 34 Sabres spotted a long train shortly after it crossed over the Manchurian border. The airmen swept down and worked the train over. They reported they destroyed the locomotive and crippled 17 box cars.

Ground hase covered most North Korean targets later in the day and other jets concentrated on Red frontline positions.

Infantry action Friday morning was limited to several small and abortive Red attacks near Kumhwa on the central front and a pre-dawn UN sortie on a Red hill near Yonchon in the West.

Midland School Youngsters Learn To Aid Unfortunates

This was Easter Seal Week in the Midland schools with youngsters in every grade turning their pockets inside out to help other children less fortunate than themselves.

Learning to be concerned about the welfare of others and feeling a sense of one's responsibility in the community is an important part of education. Apparently, Midland's boys and girls are learning this lesson well.

They have contributed $302.10 to the American Heart Association, $218.42 for the Tuberculosis Association at Christmas, $246.55 for the Community Chest, $305 for the Junior Red Cross, and $1,000.73 for the March of Dimes, officials announced Friday.

An effort is made to help each child understand how his pennies will be used. School assemblies, classroom reports and discussions, designing posters, and writing themes foster interest in the campaigns.

They like to give and are proud of the stickers or buttons that indicate their pennies have been well spent, teachers point out.

Taft Sets Careful Campaign In Ohio Before Primary

COLUMBUS, OHIO — (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft says he plans a "careful" campaign in his home state of Ohio before the May 8 primary contest with Harold E. Stassen for delegates to the Republican Convention.

Ohio's complicated ballot will require "teaching the people how to vote," Taft told a meeting of 240 Republicans here Thursday.

Taft said he will concentrate on the districts where he lost delegates to Stassen in 1948—mainly Northern Ohio industrial centers.

Only Taft and Stassen delegates are on the ballot, and Ohio law bars write-ins. Taft has a full slate of 56 delegates, but Stassen is contesting only 47. Stassen won nine delegates in 1948.

Taft declined comment to reporters on the possibility of the Stassen Ohio campaign turning into one for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. A group of Ohio Eisenhower supporters announced last week they would not consider a "deal" with Stassen.

Taft assailed President Truman's seizure of the steel industry as "a step toward totalitarian dictatorship," and said he would make it an issue "so long as it remains an issue."

Taft returned to Washington, His Ohio speaking tour starts April 21.

SCALPEL BOWS TO HACKSAW

CHICAGO—(AP)—The chief machinist at the Illinois Masonic Hospital—not a physician—was called to attend a young patient Thursday.

Freddie Nobis, seven, was taken to the hospital with a metal gear casing caught on his fingers. Chief Machinist Edward W. Thomas, with assistance from a nurse, used a hacksaw to remove the casing. Freddie had picked up the casing in his home and inserted his fingers in an opening. He went home without a need for medical attention.

OPS Grants Price Increase On Pies, Bread, Cakes, Rolls

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Bread, cake and pie prices are going up during the next 30 days.

The Office of Price Stabilization Thursday announced new ceiling prices which will boost the price of a loaf of bread about one cent, more expensive cakes as much as five cents.

The new regulation covers bread, rolls, fresh-baked cookies, pastries, sweet-yeast-raised goods, doughnuts, crullers, pies and frozen bakery items.

It does not cover generally less perishable items such as packaged crackers, biscuits, pretzels or cookies. Those prices remain unchanged.

The ceilings are based on how much bakers have raised prices during the last two years, and will vary across the country. Bakers may charge 16 per cent more than the highest 1949 prices. Those who have been selling for more than this will have to cut prices.

Bakers may figure out the new prices and put them into effect immediately if they desire, but they must compute new ceilings by May 10.

When the alligator roars, it emits a musky scent that can be detected miles away.

Grapevine Reports Indicate Bolivian Rebels Losing Out To Military Junta's Forces

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA—(AP)—Direct communications with Bolivia's revolt-torn capital, La Paz, still were blacked out early Friday, but round-about reports indicated the military government of Gen. Hugo Ballivan was whipping a rebel force.

The Bolivian Embassy here said it had received word 200 persons have been killed in the fighting, which still was going on. The report originated with the Chilean ambassador in La Paz and was relayed via Chile.

Rebels seized the government radio station and some other key points in La Paz at dawn Wednesday and broadcast that they had taken over the government without bloodshed. They said they were preparing for the return of Victor Paz Estenssoro, leader of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR) now in exile in Buenos Aires.

Government forces rallied as reinforcements moved in. Mortars, machine guns and small arms pounded in the mountain capital through the night. The last direct reports Wednesday night listed a total of 18 dead and 60 injured and indicated the growing government forces were getting the upper hand.

Radio, Telephones Silent

Then La Paz radio went off the air and telephone lines deadened. No planes or trains have arrived in neighboring countries.

A radio broadcast from an Army-controlled station in Bolivia's second capital at Sucre claimed the rebels almost were beaten down. The broadcast, heard in Lima, Peru, said the insurgent leader, Brig. Gen. Antonio Seleme, had offered to give up but had taken refuge in the Vatican Embassy when his unconditional surrender was demanded.

Earlier, another Sucre station, then under revolutionary control, said the revolution had triumphed. But it went off the air shortly after Seleme was interior minister in the government, a military junta which came into power 11 months ago through a coup.

The opposition political chief, Paz Estenssoro, although exiled outside the country, won more votes than any other candidate in last year's presidential election. His total—54,129 of the 126,125 ballots cast—was short, however, of an overall majority.

Before the Congress could pick a president from the three leading candidates, the present military government forced its way into power.

Aftosa Outbreak Not Planted, Says Government Expert

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government hasn't been able to find any evidence that a 1950 outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Mexico was planted, an Agriculture Department spokesman said Thursday.

Dr. B. T. Simms, chief of the department's Bureau of Animal Industry, declared investigations of both American and Mexican governments failed to indicate the disease got its start from other than natural causes.

The outbreak came in 1950—almost 18 months after a joint Mexican-American commission thought it had cleared up earlier outbreaks. Dr. Simms said reports in Mexico at the time had it the outbreak was started by persons who stood to profit. He said these persons were not identified.

Wednesday, Republican Poage (D-Texas) hinted unscrupulous persons might have helped spread the disease.

The U. S. government has spent almost 125 million dollars to help Mexico clear out the hoof and mouth virus. The U. S. border and mouth to Mexican livestock when the first outbreak was discovered in 1948.

Dutch Royal Party Vacations In Georgia

SEA ISLAND, GA.—(AP)—Queen Juliana came to this secluded ocean-side resort for a brief Easter vacation.

The queen of the Netherlands, her husband, Prince Bernhard, and their party arrived Thursday aboard President Truman's personal plane, "The Independence." They will remain here until Monday afternoon, when they will fly to Detroit.

Pioneer Names New Fleet 'Pacemasters'

Pioneer Air Lines will name the nine planes in its new fleet the Pioneer Pacemasters, according to Gen. Robert J. Smith, president.

The nine planes, which cruise at 270 miles an hour and transport 36 passengers, were manufactured by The Glenn L. Martin Company of Baltimore, Md.

Five of the nine are already at the TEMCO Manufacturing Company in Greenville for complete modification to suit Pioneer's operations and passenger needs. The remaining four Pacemasters will be delivered to TEMCO in the next few days for modification.

No Juggling—

Justice Garwood Asks Reelection To Supreme Court

AUSTIN—(AP)—Justice W. S. John Garwood of the State Supreme Court doesn't like the idea of juggling names for political purposes.

He said in announcing Thursday for reelection that he does not intend to follow advice of some of his friends that he would get more votes if his name went on the ballot as "W. S. Garwood."

He noted that when he was in the Navy in World War II he was called W. S. Garwood.

"However, I have usually gone by my full name, as my good mother wanted it, and it caused me so many fist fights when I was a boy that somehow I wouldn't feel right if I suppressed it now," his announcement explained.

"Besides, I don't like the idea of a judge juggling with his own name for political purposes, and doubt if the good people of Texas would like it either."

Justice Garwood asked reelection for his first full six-year elective term in Place 3 of the court. He originally was named to the bench in 1948 by the late Gov. Beauford H. Jester, and was elected to the four-year unexpired term.

Stevenson To Tell Plans Next Week

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, mentioned prominently as a Democratic presidential possibility, is to clarify his political plans next week.

Stevenson repeatedly has said he is a candidate for "governor of Illinois and that is all," and that he has no ambitions nationally. He was nominated without opposition for his second four-year term in Tuesday's Illinois primary. He also received write-in votes for President.

William I. Flanagan, Stevenson's press secretary, said the governor's formal statement next week apparently will end speculation about his future political plans.

Tot Drowns As Car Plunges Into River

WELLSBURG, W. VA.—(AP)—A three-year-old boy drowned Thursday when the family car he was sitting in rolled down a wharf and into the Ohio River.

Police said Luther R. Williams told of leaving his son, Russell, in the parked car while he went on an errand.

Alert Officers Frustrate Plans Of Would-Be Jumpers

NEW YORK—(AP)—"I have too much trouble with the landlord. I can't stay any longer."

That was the reason given by chinatown restaurant worker Yim Nin, 43, for wanting to leap 10 stories to his death.

"I'm sick of life," said Max Gurspan, 53-year-old barber, who teetered on a third-floor ledge in Brooklyn.

Both men were rescued Thursday, in the following ways:

A crowd watched while Yim Nin dangled his feet over the roof edge of the Health Department Building in downtown Manhattan.

Patriotism James Brown, dressed in plain clothes, pulled out a camera and offered to take Nin's picture. As Nin posed, another patrolman grabbed him.

Gurspan was preparing to jump from a police station, where he had been taken for questioning after ripping a bus seat cushion with a pen knife.

As police and a crowd pleaded with Gurspan not to jump, a rescue net was placed beneath him. Efforts to seize him failed and Gurspan jumped—into the net.

Both men were taken to hospitals for observation.

Give the little lady a helping hand

THIS ad is addressed to husbands—husbands who've yearned for the thrill of sitting behind a broad hood packed with horsepower—and the pride of rolling down the street in a car that tells the world, "Here's a man who knows the finest thing on wheels."

But husbands have wives. And wives have been known to say, "No big cars for me. They're too hard to handle."

Well, we have an answer for that one. It's a ROADMASTER with Buick's new Power Steering.† And Power Steering takes over any time the steering gets tough—works like a helping hand—reduces the effort of turning the wheel of a car at a standstill to about the same effort it takes to pick up a mink coat.

BUT out on the open highway—with a clear straight stretch before you—your hands still have command of the wheel—you can feel that sure, firm, easy and eager responsiveness that's a part of the fun of driving.

The rest of the fun is in something else that's new this year—the highest horsepower that a Buick Fireball Engine has ever delivered—and an Airpower carburetor that lets loose an extra reserve of power when needed, and still adds extra miles to your cruising range on each tankful of gas.

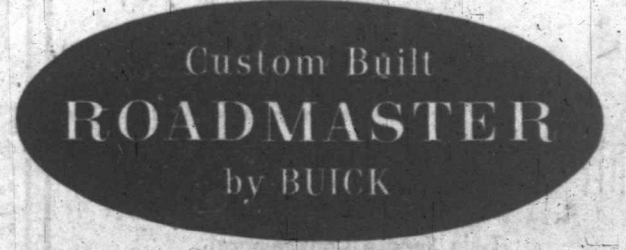

So we suggest a family demonstration. You'll both like the hushed and restful silence of this superbly able traveler. You'll like the harmonious beauty of its interior, and the deep and luxurious softness of its seats.

You'll like the velvet-gloved grip of its Wide-Band brakes, and the most capacious trunk in Buick history.

You'll like the smooth surge of Dynaflo Drive, and you'll like—but why waste time talking, when you could be finding out more than we can ever tell you? How about making a date to do that right now?

†Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. †Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Giant Show Signs Of Life, Blank Cleveland 4 To 0

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Seven National League managers were thinking that, well, maybe they could spare a little sympathy for Leo Durocher, the harassed manager of the champion New York Giants. He had lost Monte Irvin and Willie Mays, two-thirds of his regular outfield, and what manager can afford that sort of a blow?

But upon thinking it all over, they went back to feeling sorry for themselves—except Brooklyn's Chuck Dressa, who still thinks the Dodgers will win the pot.

Not only does Durocher have Bob Elliott to take Irvin's spot, but he has decided to give Dick Wakefield, who has played in just about all four corners of the country, a try-out. This will be the last one for the former University of Michigan bonus-boy. He was turned down by several other major league teams.

The way Durocher has been waving his magic wand, it wouldn't be a surprise to see Wakefield come through. Although The Lip is counting on his newest acquisition for pinch-hitting chores at the moment, Dick could fill Mays' shoes if he looks good. He's been pounding the ball with authority and has banged out three hits in his four trips to the plate including two in Thursday's 4-0 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

The Giants had been taking regular pastings from the Tribe in their cross-country tour, and the New York win was only the third in 14 games between the two teams, hardly a record to bring joy to the front office of the defending champions.

But it was a noteworthy one, at that, for the Giants. Larry Jansen and Max Lanier, a couple of Durocher's top elbowmen, demonstrated mid-season form in whitewashing the hard-hitting Indians. Jansen went the first six innings and turned back the first 10 Indians to face him. Lanier finished up.

The Dodgers managed to pull one out of the fire, overcoming the Washington Senators, 4-3, after trailing, 2-0, for three innings. Starter Chris Van Cuyk was the winner, Bobo Newjom, at 43, starting his fifth term with the Nats, hurled the last three innings and sent nine Dodgers in a row back to the bench.

The Boston Braves' Warren Spahn gave up nine hits, but they were scattered enough to enable his

Joe Walcott, Charles Back On Treadmill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Now suppose Ezzard Charles beats Jersey Joe Walcott when they meet for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world June 5.

Does Walcott then become the logical contender, entitled to the first chance at the title?

And then suppose this match is made, and Walcott wins, does Charles become the man most entitled to fight for the championship?

When, if ever, will this marathon match-making end?

This thought comes up now because of the National Boxing Association quarterly ratings.

These ratings announced Thursday, show Walcott at the top of the heap. Just beneath him is Charles, the man he fought five times and then finally defeated with a seventh round knockout in Pittsburgh July 18.

Still hanging around the fringes, hoping that either Walcott or Charles, or both, give up, are Rocky Marciano and Clarence Henry, rated at No. 3 and No. 4 among the heavyweights.

No Surprises
There were no particular surprises among the ratings, except perhaps that the NBA found such a large number of boxers worthy of special mention.

For example, take Sugar Ray Robinson, the middleweight king.

The NBA rated five boxers as logical contenders for his title, topped by Randolph Turpin of England. He held the title briefly losing it from Robinson and then losing it back again.

Rocky Graziano, who fights Sugar Ray for the title Wednesday night, got a poor report card from the NBA. He was set down as the tenth best of the middleweights, outstanding, but no logical contender.

Odessa Wins Border Olympics After 60-Day Controversy

LAREDO, TEXAS—(AP)—Odessa High School has been awarded the 1952 Border Olympics high school trophy originally given to Amarillo.

Olympics officials said Thursday that Amarillo High School officials had settled a controversy over their title to the trophy by sending it back here. The trophy then was forwarded to Odessa, and Odessa formally declared the winner.

Amarillo won the 1952 title by one point over Odessa but later it was learned one of the Panhandle city's athletes was ineligible. Olympics officials said a protest would have to be filed before the trophy changed hands. Amarillo's action in voluntarily returning the trophy made a protest unnecessary.

A personal friend of Truman, Fred J. Bowman, president of a sporting goods company, sent the special glove to the president in a mahogany chest with a sterling silver name plate.

Bowman served as an instrument sergeant during World War I under Truman, at that time a captain in the 38th Division.

Up in Wichita Falls, sports writer Herb Owens relates a tale of one Dick Hanna, a right-handed pitcher who is capable of making a catcher out of a pitcher, a third baseman into a first baseman and probably could make a shortstop into Florence Nightingale.

This Hanna, it seems, is endowed with a mysterious and mystic power known to the trade as hypnotism. Once he's subdued his victim under the spell, anything can happen.

Recently he related to Bobby Goff, Wichita Falls baseball mogul, some stories of his antics. It seems he took a pitcher in the Cuban Winter League, convinced him he was pitching against Cleveland in the World Series and put him on the mound. The pitcher, according to the story out of Wichita Falls, went through an entire nine-inning act, even screaming at the umpire and holding conferences with an imaginary catcher.

Then Hanna told of putting the evil-eye on a teammate in batting practice prior to a game.

"He was a weak hitter but he sprayed 'em all over the park and knocked several out of the place."

"What happened in the game?" gasped Goff, dreaming of a new secret weapon.

"He struck out five times," Hanna replied without blinking an eye.

And that was that. Wichita Falls will play regulation baseball this season with no time for mystic experiments.

Speaking of Wichita Falls, former Midland shortstop Scooter Hughes is toting with that team.

Hughes, however, doesn't have his heart in his work and has been booting 'em right and left in the spudder exhibition games.

He wants to return to Midland, and Zeke Bonura would like to have him. Right now, it is not known if he will be able to return or not.

One week from now, the Midland Indians will show their wares for the first time before the home folks with Big Spring here for an exhibition tilt.

Saturday afternoon the team meets Abbeville, and Sunday New Iberia. Both of these games will be played in Litcher, La.

Tuesday the team breaks camp and meets Natchez, Miss., in Natchez that night. Wednesday night the Indians play in Monroe, La.

Then next Friday they come here to battle Big Spring and Odessa comes here the following night. After a 2 p.m. game in Odessa April 25, the Indians open up here April 21 with the Oilers.

You had, by the way, better get your tickets for opening night—you probably can't stir them with a stick then.

The ducks go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer.

Slammin' Sammy To Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—The $10,000 Greater Greensboro Open, final event of the Winter golf tour, got under way Friday with the usual alignment—Sam Snead against the field.

Masters Champion Snead won the inaugural Greensboro Tournament 14 years ago and has added three more in the intervening years.

One 18-hole round will be played daily through Monday over the 6,000-yard Stimpson Forest Country Club course, a par 71 layout, before tournament officials get around to handing out the $2,000 top money.

The field listed, in addition to Snead, six other players who finished in the top 10 in the recent masters.

Tommy Bolt Durham, N. C.; Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., all tournament winners during the Winter swing, were on the premises ready to challenge Snead.

Most prominent absentee was Jackie Burke, the Texan, who won four straight Winter events, but is sitting this one out.

OAKLAND OPTIONS TWO TO FORT WORTH

OAKLAND, CALIF.—(AP)—Oakland of the Pacific Coast League has optioned southpaw pitcher Dave Dahl and shortstop Ernie Velasco to Fort Worth of the Texas League. It was announced Friday.

Bulldog Sprinters Favored In Abilene Relays Friday

ABILENE—Eight district champions and 16 other teams—representing 18 counties—started the Abilene Relays at 10 a.m. Friday. Finals were to be run off Friday night.

Midland High School was considered one of the stronger teams in the meet in dashes and relays but the team is too weak in field events to challenge for the team crown.

The Bulldog mile relay team is far and away the favorite, after having ripped off a 3:31.7 in its district meet last week. Wichita Falls' best time has been 3:36.5, while Abilene and Stamford have been clocked in 3:39.5. Bill Mims, Johnny Kennedy, Dan Black and Roy Kimsey fashion the fast Midland outfit.

Kimsey is favored in the 440-yard dash here. He has turned in times of 51 flat and 51.4 this season, better than any other time in the meet. Jim Stockstill of Weatherford has done 51.9. Richard Maxwell of Stamford has stepped it off in 52.5 and Sweetwater's Frank Glass has a 53.1. Maxwell defeated Kimsey once this year, when the Midland runner turned in his slowest time of the season.

Also to be reckoned with is the Bulldog sprint relay team. Composed of Roddie Braun, Mims, Black and Kennedy, this outfit finished second to Odessa's blazing 43.8 last week. Abilene has a 45.1, Wichita Falls 45.3 and Winters 45.6. Weatherford, Stamford, Abilene and Wichita Falls are considered top candidates for the team title.

Louise Suggs and Betty Jamson were tied for second at 150.

The Babe posted a par 72 in a practice round on the 6,700-yard 18-hole Bras Burn Country Club course Wednesday.

Sixteen top women professionals and 30 amateurs are entered in the 144-hole competition. The tourney began at the Normandy Tals course at Miami Beach. After 36 holes here, the tourney will be completed with matches at Seattle and New York.

The winner of the match here will get $8,000. The winner of the overall tourney will receive $5,000.

The Spanish Armada was composed of 132 ships.

Senate Roars In Wrath At Truman's Plan To Put Postmasters Under Civil Service

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A roaring Senate argument has been fired up by President Truman's plan to shift more than 21,000 federal jobholders from political patronage status to Civil Service.

Unless either the House or Senate kills the surprise move within 60 days, it becomes law under terms of the Government Reorganization Act of 1949.

The battle is expected to be decided in the Senate, where since 1789 most senators have had the privilege of confirming federal officials "appointed by the President by and with the consent of the Senate."

The surprise reorganization plans submitted Thursday would apply to a long list of favorite political plums, including 21,438 postmasters, 84 United States marshals, 51 collectors of customs and a large number of other customs officials.

Some Republicans charged Truman with forsaking a Republican victory in the Fall elections and moving to blanket thousands of Democratic officials under Civil Service.

A veteran Democrat, Senator George of Georgia, promptly announced his opposition and added: "If the Senate has any respect for its responsibilities in selecting and confirming honest and efficient officials, the move will be defeated."

Strong support for the reorganization came from three younger Democratic senators, Monroney of Oklahoma, Moody of Michigan and Humphrey of Minnesota.

They previously had introduced an even broader bill that would put federal district attorneys as well as postmasters, marshals and customs officials under Civil Service.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), who often knows what the Senate will do, said:

"I'm fed up with political patronage and I have little or no faith in bureaucratic government, which is the child of Civil Service. So I guess I will vote with the President."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, which will handle the plans before a Senate vote, opposed them, saying:

"I think it's a mistake to let policy-making officials be selected by the Civil Service Commission without Senate confirmation."

The President, in his message to Congress covering the plans, said it was too great a burden on the President and the Congress to pass on all these appointments and confirmations, adding:

"Relations between the President and the Congress ought not to be complicated by the need for coming to agreement on the selection of a host of field officials in positions where policy it not made."

Republicans Green He said the plan would apply gradually over the next few years as terms of present officials expire, or the offices become vacant.

Truman said the plan cannot "rightly be opposed on the grounds that they help or harm any political group."

Republicans, who have not held the presidency since 1932, violently disagreed with this.

"It's obvious that Truman expects a Republican victory in November," Senator Mundt (R-SD) said. "I don't think Congress will adopt any legislative ledgerman by which are blanketed in a lot of patronage jobholders."

Republican Senate leader Bridges of New Hampshire agreed with Mundt that the Truman plan forecast "a Republican victory in the offing" and added:

"Civil service is not the answer to the problems that the President stresses."

Jackson Gets 12-Year Term In Har-Wil Courts Robbery

Eugene L. (Larry) Jackson, 24, of Odessa, one of three named in robbery charges growing out of the stickup of a Midland motor court, received a 12-year prison sentence Thursday on entering a plea of guilty in 70th District Court.

Jackson, S. M. Miller and Junior Brown were charged after a trio of men held up the Har-Wil Motor Courts on East Highway 80 at 11:10 p.m. last January 27. More than $100 in cash and two checks were taken.

The three men were arrested in Odessa last February 7, less than two weeks after the holdup. Miller is free under $15,000 bond and Brown has been turned over to Odessa officers.

Jackson was released to the custody of Odessa authorities Friday to face charges pending in Ector County.

Two others were assessed prison terms on guilty pleas before District Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton Thursday afternoon.

Freddie Mitchell, 20, of Cameron, received a three-year sentence in each of two counts charging forgery. The terms will run concurrently.

Nolen Glenn Frazier, 37, of Abilene was given a 10-year penitentiary sentence on incest charges. Others entered pleas of guilty and were handed probationary terms. They included:

Bobbie Lee Spurling, 18 of Midland, armed robbery charges reduced to robbery, five-year probation.

Homer Lee Hooks, 30, Saratoga, Texas, charged with felony theft, three-year probation.

Isaac B. Richardson, 24, of Mississippi, charged with swindling by bogus check, three-year probation.

Ferry Lynn Allen, Midland, charged with forgery, three-year probation.

Linda Benson, 27, Midland, charged with forgery, three-year probation.

Two reservists still were being sought Friday. Information as to their whereabouts is needed to complete records here. The reservists and their last listed addresses are Lt. Col. Melburn M. Holmes, Midland, and Pfc Charles R. Chester, Storey Street, Midland. Anyone knowing these reservists or their present addresses are requested to telephone 3-1878, number for Airpark headquarters of the survey.

Truce Talkers Set New Brevity Record

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—Truce negotiators set a new record for brevity Friday, disposing of their day's work in 90 seconds.

It was the sixth successive day like that.

Each day this week a negotiating subcommittee has gone through the formality of meeting, saying a few words and adjourning. Six sessions have taken a total of 32 minutes.

Friday's ultra-streamlined meeting followed the usual pattern. Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang delivered a 60-word oration. Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison replied with two words and it was over.

The substance of Hsieh's 60 words was that the Reds have the correct way to settle the troubles and if the UN command didn't have any new ideas let's recess until Saturday. Harrison agreed to the recess.

UNDERGOES TREATMENT Mrs. Louisa Mann, 710 South Big Spring Street, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital. She is the wife of H. R. Mann, a building engineer.

MEDICAL PATIENT Mrs. Viola Fowler, 111 West Ohio Street, was admitted to Western Clinic-Hospital Thursday as a medical patient.

Business Outlook Brighter Despite Industrial Trouble

By SAM DAWSON NEW YORK—(AP)—Easter is a time for optimism. Businessmen may have a hard time being cheerful in the midst of all the gloom in and out of industry. But there are bright spots.

Let's look at the ones in Friday's news.

Farmers, and consumers too, get the good news that this year's winter wheat crop is expected to be the third largest in history. And the yield per acre is expected to be much better than last year.

Auto output is on the way up again, too. Automotive news says both car and truck production will be higher this week than last, and it predicts that from April through June, output will be considerably higher than government-assigned quotas.

The Council of Economic Advisors to the President is also optimistic. It reports national output of all goods and services has climbed to a new high annual rate of $339,000,000. The annual total for 1951 was less than $328,000,000,000.

The nation's industries are stepping right ahead for their expansion for defense production. More than half of the program for industrial expansion for mobilization was in place by the end of March, the Defense Production Administration announces. Total cost of the new plant is put at more than $12,000,000,000.

Merchants are happier in many cities, too. Easter business has been good in many parts of the country. The Federal Reserve Board reports department store sales last week were eight per cent higher than a year ago for the nation as a whole. In the Atlantic district, sales were up by 28 per cent. Much of this, of course, is due to a later Easter this year being compared to a post-Easter week last year.

Other Equipment Other new equipment includes a one-and-one-half ton flat-bed truck and a two-ton truck for the street department; a pick-up truck which will be tentatively assigned to the city's fly control program, and two three-quarter ton trucks for utility purposes.

Oswalt explained the city has 79 pieces of equipment in operation now and the utility trucks would be used in the event of a breakdown on one of the other trucks. Equipment yet to arrive includes two pick-up trucks for the Engineering Department; two pick-up trucks for Terminal; four pick-up trucks for the water department and a two-ton dump truck for the Street Department.

PROBERS EYE MORRIS 'PLAN' WASHINGTON—(AP)—House investigators Friday considered borrowing Newbold Morris' questionable technique in their probe of the Justice Department.

Chairman Clegg (D-Ky.) of a Judiciary subcommittee told newsmen some thought would be given to adopting the questionnaire devised by the ex-corporation hunter.

It was this questionnaire—through which Morris proposed to find out all about government officials' outside income, their gambling activities if any, and how many fur coats their families had acquired—that helped get him fired with dazzling suddenness last week.

Members of Congress could use it with impunity, since it normally takes a lot of voters and a lot of doing to fire them.

Ike Set To Start Visits To Capitals Of European Allies SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED POWERS IN EUROPE—(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower soon will visit Belgium, The Netherlands, Denmark and Norway, SHAPE officers said Friday.

It is believed this trip will be the first leg of a farewell tour of the capitals of the United States' European Allies.

This belief is based on the assumption Eisenhower soon will resign his supreme Allied command and return to the United States, where he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Brussels newspapers reported Eisenhower would journey there next Wednesday. SHAPE would not confirm the date, but said Brussels would be the first stop on the projected trip.

Young Negro Slayer Adjudged Delinquent CORONA—(AP)—A 16-year-old negro boy, accused of slaying a beer-drinking companion, was adjudged a delinquent child in juvenile court here Thursday.

District Judge A. P. Mays ordered the youth committed to a state training school.

Although the youth failed to testify in his behalf, a signed statement related that he stabbed to death 44-year-old Arthur Miller, negro, at a night club in Corona last February 10. They had been drinking beer together, when an argument ensued, witnesses testified.

Oil Walkout Threat Again Stalks Nation

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A union spokesman said Friday a decision on whether a nation-wide strike of 125,000 oil industry workers will be ordered hinges on future action by the government.

Unions representing the workers are awaiting a decision by the Wage Stabilization Board, he said, on whether it will continue hearings ordered by President Truman in an effort to settle the dispute and avert a strike.

The spokesman is O. A. Knight of Denver, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union. Knight said he has authority to speak for all of the 23 unions involved.

"We certainly are not going to breach what we consider a moral commitment to the government, at least for a reasonable time," Knight said.

"If they don't go ahead with the (W.S.B.) hearings, then a strike deadline can be set."

"I understand the Wage Stabilization Board will announce a time and place for further hearings in the very near future."

Knight threatened a nation-wide strike when oil industry representatives failed to show up in St. Louis Thursday for a hearing by a W.S.B. panel seeking information for a recommendation for a settlement. The hearing was adjourned and referred to the W.S.B. in Washington.

About half of the 250,000 workers represented by the unions could be called out on strike now. Contracts covering the others still are in force, Knight explained.

A strike which would paralyze the nation's oil industry twice has been postponed, the last time March 6, when President Truman asked the W.S.B. to intervene and make a prompt recommendation for a settlement.

FLORIDA GAG GETS BACKING

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—California weather went along with the gag when three Florida mayors climbed out of a plane and donned ski, snowshoes, parkas, ice skates, umbrellas and raincoats.

Thunder, lightning, hail and rain greeted the mayors Thursday, and some of their equipment came in right handy.

Mayor Charles J. Stenscher of Miami accepted a key to the city. He formally rejected a Los Angeles suggestion that perhaps he may have brought the weather with him, Mayor Curtis Hixon of Tampa and Lee D. Powell of Miami Beach agreed with him.

Beer Battle—

"I wonder if you would amend that ordinance so that it would require you to give 10 days notice before pulling a Pearl Harbor sneak like that."

The councilmen suddenly jerked upright in their chairs.

"I object to that statement," said Mayor Percy Pickett heatedly. "It certainly was not sneaky tactic. Everything we do here is out in the open."

"Don't you accuse us of sneaking through anything," added Councilman J. B. McCoy.

Minton then explained that the group "has a big investment in our business."

"The citizens of Midland," retorted the mayor, "have a big investment in their city, too. We are trying to correct a bad situation before it gets worse."

"Well," answered Minton, "we fellows are as anxious as you are to clean up a bad situation."

"I'm sure you are," said Pickett. "We've had lots of complaints about things which have been going on around certain places and we're attempting to correct them."

"We're going to take a stand now and stick by it."

Brantley then explained that "We are concerned that this action might spread to include all places in Midland where beer is sold."

"Well," answered the mayor, "I will tell you this. There are four or five other places against which we are contemplating similar action—places where the situation has gotten out of control."

"Could you name those places?" asked Brantley.

"I'm sure you know where those places are," answered McCoy.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt named three of the places and said the city would be glad to supply the names of the others.

The mayor then said there had been numerous complaints of selling beer to minors.

"We're just as opposed to that as you are," said Minton. "We'll help you all we can. Anytime you hear of that happening, you give us the name of the place and we'll have a Liquor Control Board man there inside of an hour."

After the lengthy discussion, the four beer distributors departed and no further action was taken concerning the situation.

The councilmen discussed briefly the trader situation and instructed Oswalt to prepare for the "earliest possible action" an ordinance governing the house trailers in Midland.

The city manager said the proposed ordinance will be ready by the time the council meets next Thursday afternoon.

Oil Walkout Threat Again Stalks Nation

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A union spokesman said Friday a decision on whether a nation-wide strike of 125,000 oil industry workers will be ordered hinges on future action by the government.

Unions representing the workers are awaiting a decision by the Wage Stabilization Board, he said, on whether it will continue hearings ordered by President Truman in an effort to settle the dispute and avert a strike.

The spokesman is O. A. Knight of Denver, president of the CIO Oil Workers International Union. Knight said he has authority to speak for all of the 23 unions involved.

"We certainly are not going to breach what we consider a moral commitment to the government, at least for a reasonable time," Knight said.

"If they don't go ahead with the (W.S.B.) hearings, then a strike deadline can be set."

"I understand the Wage Stabilization Board will announce a time and place for further hearings in the very near future."

Knight threatened a nation-wide strike when oil industry representatives failed to show up in St. Louis Thursday for a hearing by a W.S.B. panel seeking information for a recommendation for a settlement. The hearing was adjourned and referred to the W.S.B. in Washington.

About half of the 250,000 workers represented by the unions could be called out on strike now. Contracts covering the others still are in force, Knight explained.

A strike which would paralyze the nation's oil industry twice has been postponed, the last time March 6, when President Truman asked the W.S.B. to intervene and make a prompt recommendation for a settlement.

Beer Battle—

"I wonder if you would amend that ordinance so that it would require you to give 10 days notice before pulling a Pearl Harbor sneak like that."

The councilmen suddenly jerked upright in their chairs.

"I object to that statement," said Mayor Percy Pickett heatedly. "It certainly was not sneaky tactic. Everything we do here is out in the open."

"Don't you accuse us of sneaking through anything," added Councilman J. B. McCoy.

Minton then explained that the group "has a big investment in our business."

"The citizens of Midland," retorted the mayor, "have a big investment in their city, too. We are trying to correct a bad situation before it gets worse."

"Well," answered Minton, "we fellows are as anxious as you are to clean up a bad situation."

"I'm sure you are," said Pickett. "We've had lots of complaints about things which have been going on around certain places and we're attempting to correct them."

"We're going to take a stand now and stick by it."

Brantley then explained that "We are concerned that this action might spread to include all places in Midland where beer is sold."

"Well," answered the mayor, "I will tell you this. There are four or five other places against which we are contemplating similar action—places where the situation has gotten out of control."

"Could you name those places?" asked Brantley.

"I'm sure you know where those places are," answered McCoy.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt named three of the places and said the city would be glad to supply the names of the others.

The mayor then said there had been numerous complaints of selling beer to minors.

"We're just as opposed to that as you are," said Minton. "We'll help you all we can. Anytime you hear of that happening, you give us the name of the place and we'll have a Liquor Control Board man there inside of an hour."

After the lengthy discussion, the four beer distributors departed and no further action was taken concerning the situation.

The councilmen discussed briefly the trader situation and instructed Oswalt to prepare for the "earliest possible action" an ordinance governing the house trailers in Midland.

The city manager said the proposed ordinance will be ready by the time the council meets next Thursday afternoon.

Two Minor Traffic Accidents Reported

Two minor accidents were reported in the city Thursday by police.

The first accident occurred at 5:51 p.m. when a car driven by Thomas Doyle Costes of Big Spring collided with an automobile driven by Rudy Robinson Jenkins of 407 Jax Street, at 3505 West Wall Street. No injuries were reported and each of the vehicles involved was damaged only slightly.

The second accident occurred at 10:32 p.m. Thursday when a car driven by Clinton E. Smith of Rising Star, Texas, collided with an automobile driven by J. D. Polk, Midland, at the intersection of Marfield and Missouri Streets. Only slight damage resulted.

INFANT IN HOSPITAL Shanna Seltzer, 10-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Seltzer, 415 Pecan Street, has entered the Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

THE Union of South Africa, a dominion within the British Commonwealth of Nations, is one of the world's richest and most advanced countries with one of the world's worst social problems. It is comprised of four provinces—Cape of Good Hope, Transvaal, Natal and the Orange Free State, and came into existence in 1910 when the United Kingdom passed the South African Act. The capital is Pretoria, but the legislature still meets in Capetown. Transvaal and Natal are rich in cotton and wool. Copper, tin and coal are abundant throughout the country. South Africa's social problem arises from its three main population groups—European white, native African and native Indian. The two million Europeans control the nine million Negroes and the 250,000 Indians and one faction, currently in power, is determined to maintain the status quo. Prime Minister Daniel Malan, an old Boer Afrikaner and advocate of apartheid (racial segregation) has dedicated his life to maintain white supremacy. In 1950 he introduced a bill removing 50,000 Cape Colored (half-castes) from white voting lists and assigned their votes to four white representatives. The reaction to the law was sharp. Violent race riots occurred. The Supreme Court handed Malan and apartheid its first setback by declaring the law null and void. Resentment by the victims of Malan's discriminatory laws mounted. It took expression in the form of organizations, sponsored by the African National Congress and dedicated to action "for defiance of unjust laws" by a select, trained group, to be followed by mass disobedience, reminiscent of Mahatma Gandhi's strategy in India. This is the stage set for what may be a long, bitter and possibly bloody battle against Malan's racial regime.

World Christians Fete Good Friday

By The Associated Press Christians throughout the world Friday commemorated the most solemn event of Holy Week—Christ's death on the cross.

Christian pilgrims in the greatest numbers since the Holy Land was annexed Jerusalem, Jews and Arabs relaxed somewhat their barred wire barriers separating the old and new cities to allow the pilgrims to visit the shrines marking Christ's last days.

The pilgrims retraced His torturous journey along the cobble via Dolorosa to Calvary. On Sunday the Roman Catholics will celebrate Easter at the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, a service marked by the joyous ringing of many bells at the resurrection. Many Protestants will attend an outdoor sunrise service Easter Morning at St. Andrew's churchyard.

In London, a three-hour service began at noon in Westminster Abbey. In Western Germany and elsewhere, business places closed and government offices shut up for the weekend.

Thousands of pilgrims from many parts of the world thronged St. Peter's Basilica in Vatican City and Rome's more than 400 other churches where the Mass of the Presanctified Host was celebrated.

In this mass the host, or eucharistic wafer, was consecrated on Holy Thursday and placed in a symbolic sepulchre to be consumed by the celebrants at Friday's services.

Later, torchbearers commemorating the death of Christ on the cross were celebrated in St. Peter's and other Roman churches. At this service 15 candles are snuffed out, one by one, amid deepening darkness until only the topmost remains lighted. It then is hidden behind the altar. Then there is a loud noise, representing the convulsion of nature at the time of Christ's death, and the lighted candle, representing Christ, is restored to its place.

Fine Spring weather gave London an almost deserted look, as thousands left for four-day Easter vacations in the countryside. Tens of thousands of Parisians also deserted their city, but their planes were taken by tourists flocking from Rumania, Holland, Belgium and Scandinavia.
