Sun Will Add Sparkle To Bonnets On Easter

The sun will add a sparkle to Midland's Easter Bonnet in Midland Sunday. And she'll have only slight wind to arouse her fear of losing it.

reach the upper 70's Sunday as compared to a high of 70 Saturday.

No personal injuries resulted from the Houston storm, which hit just before dawn and caused considerable damage to telephone and power lines in the north part of the city.

Winds were clocked in gusts as high as 65 miles an hour in Dallas when a cool front from the west moved through about 5 p.m. Saturday, but no damage was reported.

Drenching rains soaked into dry top soil in scattered cities in Central and East Texas Saturday, but the drought stricken West Texas area received only light amounts of rain.

Almost every weather station in the state reported some rain in the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Texarkana had 2.29 inches and Tyler had 2.24. Dallas reported 1.82, Houston 1.77, Austin 1.83, Lubbock 1.58, College Station 1.49, Beaumont 1.80, Palestine 1.30 and Fort Worth 1.33.

Other cities with rain were San Antonio .53, Waco .33, Galveston .58, Victoria .30, Mineral Wells .96, Palacios .32, Junction .14, Amarillo .08, Brownsville .02, El Paso .03, Corpus Christi .15, Lubbock .06, Dalhart .01, Midland .04, and Cotulla .02. Traces fell in Wichita Falls and Big Spring.

Maximum temperatures Saturday ranged from 92 in Brownsville to 81 in Amarillo.

The heaviest rain reported Friday night and Saturday morning was 4.90 inches at Katy in Harris County. Parts of the Hill Country got what was called the best rain in months.

The rains had let up by late Saturday and blowing sand was reported at Midland, San Angelo and Big Spring.

New People, Old Legends Mark Texas Easter Rites

New people and old legends will mark observance in Texas Sunday of the Resurrection of Christ.

The legendary include the spectacular Easter fires in the hills around Fredericksburg, the pilgrimage to a mountain top near Brownwood, the great gatherings in such stadia as the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

The new people are represented in greatest number by the thousands of soldiers and airmen who took part in Exercise Long Horn. The big armed forces maneuvers ended Thursday. Uniforms of blue and brown will be more numerous than usual among the brighter colors—the new Easter hats and dresses, the men's fine civilian attire.

The 2,500 worshippers who attended the Heart of Texas services near Brownwood last year came from 17 states and Canada.

A rough-hewn cross, center of the service and on the edge of a natural amphitheater, is almost the exact geographical center of Texas.

The Fredericksburg Easter fires traditionally are lighted on the Saturday night preceding Easter. Children are told they are lighted by the Easter rabbit, who gathers colors from wild flowers and cooks and dyes his eggs over the dancing flames.

Texas churches opened their doors for the Long Horn maneuver troops—and the troops returned the compliment. An announcement from Fort Hood said:

"In a last gesture of appreciation to Texas citizens who have welcomed in many ways the soldiers and airmen during their Long Horn stay, many units are inviting residents of the area to attend their military services."

Among such sunrise services planned was one on an airstrip near San Angelo. It will be conducted by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Ernest D. Ebbetts of the 31st (Dist.) Division, with all the division's chaplains.

The Greater Dallas Council of Churches, which planned to stage its sunrise service in the Cotton Bowl, isn't taking any chances on the weather.

The organization has purchased rain insurance to cover the cost of staging the service. And to prevent any arguments, there will be an official, probably from the Weather Bureau, on hand to measure any rain that might fall.

Oil Worker Suffers Broken Leg, Shock In Plunge From Rig

A 25-year-old Midland man miraculously escaped critical injury at 12:15 p.m. Saturday when he fell approximately 81 feet from a drilling rig and plummeted feet first toward the ground.

Treated at Midland Memorial Hospital for a badly broken right leg and shock was Gilbert Spinks, Jr., of 1501 South Big Spring Street. Spinks reportedly had started down from the monkey board of American Republic-Wimberley Rig No. 1, located in Reagan County 56 miles southeast of Midland, when the accident occurred.

As he started down the ladder from the monkey board, a strong gust of wind caused him to lose his grip and slip from the ladder.

As he plummeted toward the earth, Spinks grabbed for the derrick pipe, grasping it only occasionally on his descent, but enough to check his fall.

A Newell W. Ellis ambulance covered the distance of better than 100 miles to rush the injured man to the Midland hospital.

Spinks is a derrick man for Donald Drilling Company of Odessa.

Union Peace Feeler Given Cold Shoulder By Western Union

NEW YORK — (AP) — A union peace feeler seeking to reopen talks in the 11-day old nation-wide telegraph strike was rejected abruptly Saturday by Western Union.

The company's position was set forth in a statement answering a letter from the AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union to Federal Mediator J. R. Mandelbaum.

"The company refused to consider the ridiculous demands of 50 cents an hour originally presented by this union and it is not interested in any minor modification of such outlandish demands," Western Union asserted.

"The company's only immediate interest is in expanding service and providing jobs for the steady stream of employees who continue to disregard the absurd strike call of their union bosses."

Officials Hopeful Of Truce By May 1

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Officials guiding truce negotiations in Korea said Saturday an armistice probably will be agreed on fairly soon, possibly by May 1.

The chief reason for this new optimism is the belief that a solution will be found for the United Nations-Communist deadlock over release of prisoners of war.

The issue has been under active study in both Allied and Communist capitals, as well as in closed sessions of truce negotiators at Panmunjom, it was reported.

It is understood a formula has been evolved, but not yet fully agreed to, which would:

- (1) Avoid forcible return to North Korea and China of prisoners held by UN forces.
- (2) Assure release of American and Allied prisoners by the Reds.
- (3) Save face all around.

Diplomats here said the UN would never compromise the right of prisoners of war who turned against communism to choose not to go home again. The problem has been to secure this right in a formula acceptable to the Reds.

The brevity of recent negotiating sessions in Korea, though giving rise to some concern there, was described here as of no great significance.

Floods Drive 40,000 Persons From Homes In Seven States

OMAHA — (AP) — Spring floods, scouring seven Midwest states, Saturday had driven 40,000 families—perhaps 30,000 to 40,000 persons—from their homes, and more were evacuating by the hour.

For another 7,500 families, displacement was only a matter of time, the Red Cross said.

The worst lashing was coming from the muddy Missouri River, swollen beyond all precedent along almost 1,000 of its miles from South Dakota to Kansas and Missouri.

Slou City, Iowa, and its cross-river neighbor, South Sioux City, Neb., were taking the worst of the Missouri's rampages, with still another three-foot rise expected before the flood "hump" arrives Monday night.

Downstream, Omaha and its twin city, Council Bluffs, Iowa, worked feverishly in a slim hope levees could be raised enough to hold back a gigantic, 30-foot crest expected next Thursday. Total evacuation of a Council Bluffs area containing almost 5,000 persons was ordered and hundreds more on the Omaha side were getting out.

In Minnesota, the Mississippi River surged to an all-time high at St. Paul, ousting about 700 families and all but closing Holman Airport.

In North Dakota, the Red River of the North rampaged along a 150-mile course from Wahpeton to Grand Forks in what shaped up as a potential worst flood of the current century.

Fargo, with its 38,256 population, was a focal point. St. John's Hospital in Fargo was surrounded by water up to five feet deep and 107 patients were evacuated with the help of National Guard "ducks."

At South Sioux City, Neb., the mayor urged the total evacuation of the city's 5,557 persons but decided to keep the refuge center in the high school open, moving everyone up to the second floor.

One-third of South Sioux City already was covered with water averaging eight feet deep and the crest promised to leave not a dry spot in the town. Only one highway out of town remained open.

The Missouri River bridge linking Sioux City and its Nebraska neighbor was cut off, but special trains ferried evacuees across the bubbling, boiling river.

Iowa's Gov. William S. Beardsley ordered six more Iowa National Guard units into action, bringing to 13 companies and one platoon the number on flood duty.

Nebraska's Gov. Val Peterson proclaimed a state of emergency in the affected Nebraska areas. States of emergency had been declared for cities as far downstream as St. Joseph, Mo.

The firemen, after assuring themselves there was no further fire danger, left the scene. So did the remaining occupant, but in the custody of police. He was lodged in jail charged with drunkenness.

State To Ask Life Term For Mrs. Doswell

DALLAS — (AP) — The prosecution will ask life imprisonment for Mrs. Rebecca Doswell when she goes on trial April 21 for murder in the shooting of her wealthy oil man husband, Bailey said Saturday.

Mrs. Doswell is charged in the shooting of Tom W. Doswell, last August 30, after the couple had returned to a residential hotel from an out-of-town trip.

His statement was made to about 200 reporters, radio and television representatives at SHAPE. President Truman Friday announced the general had asked to be relieved of his command about June 1.

In the letter asking relief, the general suggested his major task here was finished.

Now, Eisenhower said, he wants to be relieved of all political pressures possible while he gets on with his job at SHAPE.

"I must prevent politics from affecting this vital job during the weeks I remain in service," he said.

"I have not submitted my resignation from the American Army," he said. "I have forwarded a request that I be relieved from my current military assignment and placed on an inactive status."

"If, however, I should—through the current effort now going on at home—be nominated in July to political office, I shall promptly submit to the President my resignation as an officer of the Army. From that point on, I would be free to act and speak as any other citizen, without any of the limitations imposed by the traditions of the military establishment."

"I should like to point out that this would mean complete separation from the Army of the United States. For example, I would not be entitled, thereafter, to wear the uniform."

Next Wednesday, Eisenhower will begin a farewell tour of his North Atlantic Command with a trip to Brussels. Thereafter he will visit The Hague April 18, Oslo April 21, Copenhagen April 22 and other capitals of the 14 member nations at dates yet to be arranged.

Eisenhower's separation from SHAPE already has begun to be an emotional business. About 70 generals, admirals and other high ranking officers listened tearfully Friday while Eisenhower told them of his plans. The officers, representing all 14 nations, had been talking

Midland Bell Workers Go Back To Jobs

Midland telephone workers joined those in many Texas cities Saturday night in returning to work after a district judge here ordered pickets withdrawn from Southwestern Bell exchanges.

District Judge R. W. Hamilton issued a temporary restraining order against the Communication Workers of America, CIO, whose picket lines were set up on a hit and run basis at different exchanges over Texas.

The first Midland switchboard operators returned at 10 p.m. Saturday. Western Electric employees went on strike at 6 a.m., Monday but did not post pickets in Midland until noon Wednesday.

Leo Meers of Midland, chairman of Local 4127 of CWA-CIO, announced at 8:30 p.m. Saturday that all members of the organization had been ordered back to work. Members number 550 with 200 in Midland and 200 in Odessa. Other cities represented in the membership include Monahans, Pecos, Seminole, Kermit, Marfa, Fort Stockton and McCombs.

Meers reported the "continuous meetings" ended early Saturday night in Midland as formal action carried out orders received from state headquarters in Dallas. Apparently, national headquarters had sent down the decision, Meers revealed.

"There was no indication from union circles in Midland or elsewhere over the state that the end of their 'continuous meetings' had anything to do with the injunction."

Workers also had returned to work Saturday night in Cotulla, Marshall, Galveston and other scattered points. Meanwhile, striking Western Electric workers threw pickets around the Corpus Christi exchange and long distance service was slowed when 365 employees honored the lines. It was the first picketing there during the present strike.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company asked for the restraining order in a suit which also seeks $500,000 damages against the CWA. It was filed in 70th District Court about 11 a.m. by Ed Gossett, general attorney for the telephone firm with offices in Dallas and his assistant, C. G. English, and the Michigan settlement this week brought an average 12.7-cent wage boost for an estimated 18,000 Bell System workers. But 33,000 Bell workers still are out in New Jersey, Ohio and Northern California.

And 16,000 production and maintenance workers in plants of the Western Electric Company—a Bell System subsidiary—still are on strike in 43 states and the District of Columbia.

Nation-Wide 'Phone Strike Threat Eases

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The threat of an immediate nation-wide telephone strike vanished late Saturday, but union officials indicated they were ready to "declare the Bell System strikebound" if labor settlements aren't reached soon in three states.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the CIO Communication Workers Union, met all day with top union officials, then emerged with the statement:

"Some movement by the company in negotiations since the Michigan settlement has caused the CWA to defer action on a nation-wide strike call."

Christian Soldiers In Korea Worship In Field, Crude Chapels

SEOUL — (AP) — Christian soldiers along Korea's twisted battlefield knelt in the early morning haze at sunrise Sunday to welcome Easter with the prayers of fighting men for peace.

Sunday is not Easter for every man in the many-nationed UN Army. But the hope for peace is shared by all.

Easter services were held in crude chapels almost on the battlefield, in Seoul's war-scarred churches, in quonset huts, at airfields and often in the open fields where a chaplain could convert the hood of his jeep to an altar.

But some United Nations troops spent the day without any special observance. The Third Battalion is all Buddhist. The Turkish Brigade is Moslem except for five members, who attended Christian services at nearby units.

The Greek Orthodox members of the Greek Expeditionary Force and the Coptic Christians of the Ethiopian Battalion will observe Easter on April 20.

Bolivian Revolt Ends In Apparent Victory For Rebels

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA — (AP) — Bolivia's bloody three-day revolution appeared ended Saturday with the rebels' victory and most of the defeated government's regimental officers held prisoner.

First aid still was being administered at public hospitals and private clinics to a great many persons injured in the fighting.

Reports from Oruro, Bolivia, said 1,800 had been killed and more than 3,000 wounded in the revolt.

CHILD STUMPS EASTER BUNNY

RICHMOND, VA. — (AP) — The Easter Bunny, his ears winking a trifle in the heat, was holding forth in a department store Saturday night just prior to beginning his appointed rounds.

A small, unidentified, freckle-faced boy appeared on the scene, towing a rather uncomfortable-looking father. While the father waited uneasily, the son approached the big "rabbit" for the usual interview.

"Have you been a good boy?" asked the Easter bunny.

"Yes," replied the youth. "Now let's see you lay an egg."

Ike Snubs Pre-Convention Campaign But Will Shed Uniform If Nominated

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED POWERS, EUROPE — (AP) — General Eisenhower said Saturday that if he wins the Republican nomination he will shed his Army uniform and "be free to speak and act as any other citizen" in quest of the presidency.

It was a clear indication he intends to take as little part as possible in the pre-convention campaign now being waged for his nomination.

He plans to make one appearance, at a ceremony of the Eisenhower Foundation at Abilene, Kan., June 4. Aside from this, he said, he and Mrs. Eisenhower "are eagerly looking forward to a short vacation—if we may be allowed one."

Until he meets newsmen in a farewell visit, possibly 48 hours before departure, "I'm not going to discuss any kind of political question," Eisenhower said. And he declared he had no information— "not the slightest"—on his successor as supreme commander.

His statement was made to about 200 reporters, radio and television representatives at SHAPE. President Truman Friday announced the general had asked to be relieved of his command about June 1.

In the letter asking relief, the general suggested his major task here was finished.

Eisenhower's separation from SHAPE already has begun to be an emotional business. About 70 generals, admirals and other high ranking officers listened tearfully Friday while Eisenhower told them of his plans. The officers, representing all 14 nations, had been talking part in a paper exercise on how to repel a Russian invasion.

Brig. Gen. Anthony Drexel Biddle, Eisenhower's diplomatic advisor, described it as "one of the most dramatic and moving incidents of my experience."

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, Eisenhower's British deputy and wartime collaborator, hugged the general to his breast. Handkerchiefs were pulled out all over the room, Biddle said. Then Eisenhower walked out, turning only at the door to lift his hands over his head in a boxer's salute. Then he, too, reached for his handkerchief.

Montgomery, it was learned, had pleaded with the general not to allow himself to be dragged into politics, but to end his career still a military man. Soldiers, he told the general, were not trained to the abusive business of politics.

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Rita Hayworth may be headed for a vacation in Mexico, but you can win money betting her ultimate destination will be Reno to pick up those divorce papers. She's due back at Columbia May 19 for "Salome," and she's telling pals: "I'm not going to meet Aly any place."

Kirk Douglas isn't talking about the actress he's seeking for his costar in "The Shadow." Her initials, however, are Sarah Churchill.

Franchesa de Scaffa is now admitting that she and Bruce Cabot reconciled for a few months, but that the patch-up job didn't work. She will tell it to the divorce court judge again.

Area High School Students In Scholarship Competition

Two Midland area high school students are among the 90 boys and girls qualifying for the first competition for scholarships from the Educational Fund for Children of Phillips Petroleum Company Employees.

They have qualified for the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board to be given May 17, 1952, after which final selection of 50 winners will be made. Students who will take the entrance test are Nancy Oliphant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Oliphant, Midland, and Wayne Fair, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Fair, Andrews.

The scholarship fund, which was created for the purpose of aiding children of employees of Phillips Petroleum Company and its subsidiaries in obtaining a college or university education, was established on November 28, 1939, on the occasion of the late Frank Phillips 66th birthday by a gift of $66,000 from the Frank Phillips Foundation, Inc. It has since been supported by additional gifts from both the Foundation and Phillips Petroleum Company.

In November, 1951, K. S. Adams, chairman of Phillips, announced that 90 children would be awarded scholarships each year instead of only 12, as the result of a substantial grant by Phillips Petroleum Company to the fund. Each scholarship provides $500 annually, paying $2,000 during the four years of college attendance, subject to the satisfactory accomplishments of the awardee.

Since the fund was established, 138 scholarships have been awarded, and at present there are 40 children in college under such scholarships.

High school students from 57 towns in 16 states will take the aptitude test. Of these 90 students, 50 will be selected to receive scholarship awards. Qualifying students who do not receive scholarships are eligible for loans for higher education from the separate Educational Loan Fund.

Many religious hermits lived in the early Christian centuries who outdid any modern flagpole sitters. St. Simeon Stylites who lived on a 30-foot pillar for 30 years without ever coming down is believed to have been the first.

 CITY MANAGER W. H. OSWALT SAID Saturday the proposed trailer ordinance is being readied for presentation to the City Council at its Thursday meeting.
 The primary purpose of the ordinance, said Oswalt, is to help clear up the sanitation problem in the city as well as to protect citizens' property rights.
 Among other things, the ordinance would regulate the location, spacing and sanitary facilities of trailers located within the city limits.
 Once the ordinance is adopted by the City Council, Oswalt said city officials would insist on compliance. He said it also would become necessary for persons who own trailers to obtain permits for them.

Freak B-36 Mishap Takes Airman's Life

SPOKANE, WASH. —(P)—An Air Force lieutenant was killed Friday in a plunge from a huge B-36 bomber that was coming in for a landing.
 The Air Force said his parachute apparently popped open as he was checking the landing gear. Pulling him out and hurling him against the side of the plane. He was believed dead before he hit the ground. The chute blossomed out perfectly but witnesses said his body appeared lifeless as it drifted slowly to earth.
 The victim was first Lt. Edward Kosel, 29, of Detroit, Mich. He was the flight engineer on the big bomber.
 A board of inquiry was set up to investigate the accident, first fatality in almost a year of B-36 operations here. His body fell in a field near the west city limits.
 Kosel was checking the wheel well, a routine procedure before landing.

'He Is Risen!'
'He is not here; for He is risen, as He said...' (Matt. 28:6)
What a startling yet joyful announcement—heard that first Easter morning by Mary Magdalene and the other Mary who 'came to see the sepulchre.'

Yes, what a great and joyous day that first Easter Sunday must have been. And what an impact it had upon the followers of Jesus then and what it has meant to Christians through the succeeding centuries.

The joyful cry, 'He is risen,' indeed means just as much to Christians this Easter Sunday as it did back in Jesus' time—the anniversary of the Resurrection strengthening the realization of the truth that God reigns supreme.

As the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, president of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., declared in a special Easter message: 'We are too greatly governed by our prejudices and anxieties and need some rock of reality upon which to stand.'

As the impact of the Resurrection gave insight, courage and spiritual power to the first disciples, so does the anniversary of the Resurrection bring a complete understanding to today's disciples of the true meaning and purpose of God and of life.

Yes, Easter is a wonderful and meaningful occasion—an occasion which gives inward peace and strength to citizens of a troubled world.

'He is not here; for He is risen, as He said...'
The biggest noise in the business world usually is smart enough to keep quiet about it.

When you're willing to take things just as they come, that's why the good ones don't.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Attempted assassination helped decide Truman retirement; Bolch collected from former Harding gang member; McKellar and Connolly clash over military aid.

WASHINGTON—An unreported factor behind President Truman's decision to retire was the anguish and strain the Truman family still feels over the attempted assassination of the President on Nov. 1, 1950, when Secret Service Agent Leslie Coffelt was killed.

Truman sadly recalled the incident during a chat with Democratic Congressman Morgan Moulder of Missouri just before he announced he would not run again. Moulder had asked the 64 question but hardly expected the revealing reply that followed.

'I have been a candidate for public office since 1922,' Truman began. 'In every election since that time I have been actively engaged in the campaign. I think that Boss and myself are now entitled to a rest. We have about 10 remaining good years of our lives left and we're entitled to enjoy them without any more of the stress and strain of this job.'

'Why a fellow can't even go out in the garden without a Secret Service escort,' the President replied, half joking.

Then his face became grimly serious as he recalled 'that shooting scrape that upset my wife so much and has caused us all so much worry and anguish.'

'Did you ever stop to think how you would feel if another man laid down his life for you? Well, that's the way I feel about Leslie Coffelt. It's men like him or some other good man who is really in danger in situations like this—not the President, but the men entrusted with his protection.'

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

South needed four club tricks to make his contract of three no-trump. He could be sure of four clubs against any distribution if he could only guess which opponent was long in the suit.

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH (D), and a list of cards and points.

himself with a second round of clubs. He let the opponents win the first two diamond tricks and took the third trick with dummy's ace of diamonds. He then entered his hand with the ace of clubs and led a low spade towards dummy.

Once more West played low, for the best of reasons. Once more dummy's ten was finessed, and again East won. South hadn't expected to win the trick; he was just out for information.

When South now took his top cards in hearts and spades he discovered that West had begun with only two hearts and only two spades. He knew from the play of the first three tricks that West had started with five diamonds. This accounted for only nine cards of the West hand, and the other four were bound to be clubs.

Hence South could safely win the second club trick with the king in his own hand and continue by finessing through West's jack.

GOP Nomination Tougher For Ike To Get Than Presidency

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—General Eisenhower will have a tougher time winning the Republican National Convention's nomination for the presidency than he will have in the election if he gets the nomination.

This is the conclusion drawn from the amazing strength Eisenhower has shown by write-ins on the mid-western preferential primaries.

There's been no question that up to now, Senator Taft has had greatest support of the Republican Old Guard and the machine politicians. Ordinarily they control the delegates and they control the convention. That gives Taft the advantage for the nomination.

Twenty-six states authorize write-ins on primary ballots. Write-ins specifically are prohibited in Arkansas, Kentucky, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Rhode Island.

There is no provision for counting write-ins in Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

Both Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, speaking for himself, and Senator James Duff of Pennsylvania, speaking for Eisenhower, are credited with having gunned things up for their favorites in Arizona. Speaking in Phoenix, both gave the state a beautiful kick in the teeth by coming out flat-footedly against the $778,000,000 Central Arizona project.

Now that the battle is all over, Albert J. Loveland, former Undersecretary of Agriculture, has come up with this story from his unsuccessful campaign against Bourke B. Hickenlooper for the Iowa senatorship:

Loveland had just finished a campaign speech in an Iowa town. A man in the crowd came up and shook his hand warmly. 'You made a mighty fine speech,' he said, 'but I'm goin' to vote for Hickenlooper, because he's a God-fearin', prayin' man.'

So They Say Have a Laugh

When you doctor a show you get paid very well, but you don't talk about it. It's like you're walking down the street with a doctor and you see a beautiful girl. Does he say, 'You shoulda seen her before I took over her kidney?'

When a parent practices permissiveness to a point of indulgence, which is actually one of neglect, symptoms of a severe nature (in a child) are bound to result.

Many athletes (20 members of Ohio State University's 1951 football team) select physical education as their major area of study. We wish there were more of them.

It is getting more difficult all the time for an aggressor to attack (Western Europe), with any degree of success. The tide is flowing our way.

George looked at the three burly policemen and knew it was useless to protest any further. These small town police seldom ran into anything that smelled of murder.

Texas Quadruplets Are Bound For Korea
SEATTLE —(AP)— A, B, C and D of Texas are ready to go to Korea together.

They are Anthony, Bernard, Carl and Donald Perricone of Beaumont, the only quadruplets in the U. S. Army.

The 22-year-old quads—who don't look too much alike—wanted it that way.

A few weeks ago all were at Fort Benning, Ga., when Sgt. Carl got his overseas orders.

The other three, all privates first class, didn't want to break up the quartet.

"We are not asking any favors," one of them explained at their hotel, while the others nodded agreement. "We just want to stay together."

They told Army officers of their decision. Getting no reply, they notified their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Perricone, that they might be separated. A Texas congressman interceded—and overseas orders arrived for Pfc's A, B and D, too.

The Perricones didn't look like quadruplets as they checked into Fort Lawton's processing center here. They range from five feet six to six feet one inch.

They have five brothers.

Felony Theft Charge Filed On Midlander In Theft Of Tires

A 45-year-old Midland man who authorities said has served eight sentences in three states was arrested by Midland police Saturday and charged with the felony theft of five automobile tires and two tubes from a garage at 811 West Missouri Street.

Held in the Midland County Jail was Albert B. Green, who, according to police, has served six different terms in the Oklahoma State penitentiary at McAlester, one in the state penitentiary at Huntsville, Texas, and one in the penitentiary at Santa Fe, N. M.

Green was arrested after a woman in the neighborhood where the tires were stolen called police and told them that a man was "acting suspiciously."

After police apprehended Green, he admitted theft of the tires and led officers to the places where he reportedly had sold the tires. All of the stolen goods were recovered.

One Officer Hurt As Four Bail Out Of Faltering Plane

MINNOLA, TEXAS —(AP)— One of four Air Force officers who bailed out of their plane during a thunderstorm Friday night spent the night in the woods with a broken leg.

The other three landed uninjured. Their plane ran out of fuel and they jumped near East Texas city.

The injured man, Major Leopold Norman Aikalay, was spotted after he spread out his parachute. The other men were Major Bernor Bernard Garfinkel, Major D. C. Churchill and Capt. Thomas E. Duffy.

Churchill, attached to Gunter Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala., was piloting the plane from Moody Air Force Base, Ga. They were enroute from Memphis, Tenn., to Dallas on a routine training flight. The other three attend the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery.

CITY ATTORNEY, COP PAY OFF

Midland Policeman Herb Runyan is conscientious about his work.

Runyan spotted City Attorney L. D. McCormick's car parked by a meter with the time expired on it. The patrolman immediately wrote out a ticket and presented it to McCormick, who paid off.

A short time later, Runyan spotted another car (his own) with time elapsed on the meter.

He promptly wrote himself out a ticket and, accompanied by McCormick, stepped into City Hall and paid off his fine.

Non-Residential Building Boosts Texas State Totals

AUSTIN —(AP)— Large non-residential projects, including schools, stimulated Texas building last week.

Contracts totaling $27,911,223 were let, compared with $16,326,749 the previous week. The figures were compiled by the Texas Contractor, authoritative contracting trade journal.

Total non-residential for the week was more than $14,000,000. Schools accounted for more than $6,000,000 of this. Residential building totaled $4,000,000 plus.

The cumulative total of construction contracts this year has reached $282,463,592.

Death Cancels Deaf Mutes' Nuptial Plans

BRODERICK, CALIF. —(AP)— William Edmund Brown and Cherie Bond, both deaf mutes, were to have been married Saturday.

At daybreak Miss Bond went to Brown's apartment to awaken him for the wedding trip to Reno, Nev.

There was no response to her knock. She entered — and found Brown dead in his bath tub.

Coroner W. C. McNary said Brown apparently had reached from the tub to adjust an electric heater. Body burns indicated he had been electrocuted.

Miss Bond became hysterical and was taken to a hospital.

Texaco Faces 24 Hot Oil Charges

TYLER —(AP)— U. S. Attorney Warren G. Moore Saturday filed charges on 24 counts against The Texas Company alleging violation of the Connally Oil Act.

The charges were filed here in the U. S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.

The alleged violations go back to March of 1949.

The Connally Oil Act makes it illegal for oil produced in violation of Texas oil allowables to be moved in interstate commerce.

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE PLANNERS—Receipt of an NPA permit allotting controlled material for construction of a new Masonic Temple here brought smiles to the faces of members of the Building Committee of Midland Lodge No. 623 as they assembled recently. Preliminary plans and specifications for the new temple will be presented to the committee and other interested Masons at 5 p. m. Thursday in the directors' room of The First National Bank. Pictured, left to right, standing, are Frank Davidson, Perry Collins, John Allen Sewell and J. B. McCoy; seated, John P. Butler, R. B. (Bum) Cowden, general chairman, Roy McKee and Wallace Irwin. ## Truman Will Sign Tidelands Measure For Connally, Says Harris Democratic Chief HOUSTON —(AP)— County Democratic Chairman Bob Tucker Saturday said he has received information that President Truman will sign the bill giving the Tidelands to the states and give Senator Tom Connally credit for its passage.

Tucker declined to say exactly where he got the information.

But he said, "The President will sign the bill with Senator Connally looking over his shoulders for the benefit of photographers. Senator Connally won't do any campaigning until after this is done."

President Truman once before vetoed a bill giving the states title to the offshore marginal sea lands. He generally has been expected to duplicate the performance with this latest bill.

The Tidelands bill now pending in Congress has not yet been passed finally. Tucker, who long has been associated with Democratic politics, apparently feels its passage is foregone.

Suicide Plan Claims Two Innocent Victims

VANCOUVER, B. C. —(AP)— Three elderly men died here Friday, victims of the too-successful plan of one of them to die on Good Friday.

The planner, a 61-year-old rooming house resident, bought a wrench.

With it he uncoupled a gas line in his room and laid down to die. He did, and so did two other 65-year-olds in the rooms above as the gas seeped into their lodgings.

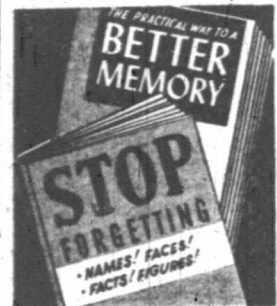

Police withheld names of the victims.

House May Challenge Steel Mill Seizure

CHICAGO —(AP)— Rep. Edgar A. Jonas (R-Ill.) said Saturday he plans to ask the House Judiciary Committee to determine whether President Truman acted within his powers in seizing the steel industry.

Jonas said he will present a resolution to the Judiciary Committee April 22 asking that Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) appoint a subcommittee to determine whether the President had authority for the steel seizure.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Never Seen Before

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was laughing and chuckling to himself. Laugh and chuckle, and a chuckle, chuckle. He was a very important fellow, he was, he was. He was even more important than he thought he was, he decided.

He was going home from a hunt for Easter Eggs. What fun it had been to look and find them, except he had never picked one up. He left them where the very little folks could find them, all but one. The Huffen had picked it up and brought it with him, all because it was very pretty, and he was a very important fellow, you know.

The Huffen carried the Easter Egg with him as he walked back home to his hollow tree house. He laughed and chuckled and chuckled and laughed some more, all as he walked and walked along the Elephant Path. What an important somebody he was, he was. He knew a secret, he did, and it was something he was going to do to make him even more important than he ever was before.

He had a something with him, he had, to help in his business of being an important somebody. He had a something he had never seen. Yes, and it was something that no one had ever seen. The Huffen was sure that no one ever had seen it. He was going to be the first somebody, he was, ever to look upon it. This is how he was going to be so extra special important. Oh yes, he was!

He came to his hollow tree house at last. He knocked on the door to see if he was home, but he wasn't, and so he went on in just the same. Quickly he locked the door, and the back door, and the windows. He was going to be the only one in the world, he was, to see the something he had that no one else had ever seen.

He went to the kitchen. He took the Easter egg out of his pocket. He cracked the shell, and peeled it off. There inside was the egg! Nobody else had ever seen it, because the shell had never been off before. The Huffen chuckled to think about it. Only he had seen this egg, and only he would see it. Just to be sure that no one would, the Huffen ate the egg, right then and there with a little salt to make it taste good.

Yes, and any time you crack open an egg—Easter egg or not—you're just as important as the Huffen was, for you see a something that no one has ever seen before. Happy day! And a happy Easter to all.

Shivers Foes Look Vainly For Top-Flight Candidate To Oppose Texas Governor

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN—Foes of Allan Shivers are trying to find a first string candidate to run against him for governor, so far without any success. Names mentioned in this connection recently have included Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, Supreme Court Justice Robert W. Calvert and Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney. Yarborough is regarded as a more probable opponent for John Ben Shepperd for attorney general. Giles told The Associated Press he had been "approached". Otherwise he had no comment. Calvert definitely is not out of it. He also has been a possibility in past races, but he is known to be happy in his Supreme Court job. May 9 is the deadline for filing for a place on the ballot in the July Democratic Primary. Leaders of the "Loyal Democrat" faction of the party, fighting Shivers on the pledge and unopposed delegation issues, would like to have a candidate—preferably a top-flight politico—at least to harass the governor. Attorney General Price Daniel announced Saturday he would formally open his state-wide campaign for the U. S. Senate in Waco May 29. Waco is just 28 miles from Marlin, home of Sen. Tom Connally, whom Daniel is seeking to unseat. Connally came home this week, saying he did not want to talk politics. He said chances for a truce in Korea are good, and that he will urge President Truman to sign the Tidelands bill. A showdown came nearer on the party loyalty pledge question. The State Democratic Executive Committee meets in the New Braunfels Friday to hear a report from a subcommittee on what effect the new election code has on the question. Generally in the past courts

TO SAVE OUR REPUBLIC MACARTHUR SPEAKS TO YOU

As I recall the South's mighty contributions to our beloved country, my heart is filled with pride that I, too, by right of birth may claim its great and noble traditions as my traditions, its lofty heritage of honor as my heritage. For when the past decade is adjudged by the historian of the future, he will surely record that in the forefront of the fight to preserve constitutional liberty to our country was the moral courage, the indomitable will and the broad vision of most of the statesmen of the South.

For many generations our country followed the constitutional pattern of a diffusion of political power. This was wisely designed to ensure development of a social order deriving strength and direction from the moral character, the dignity and the creative energy of the individual state, the individual community and the individual citizen. Those chosen to exercise the federal power accepted in spirit the political checks and balances designed to preserve inviolate the people's ultimate power of sovereignty.

Then, this constitutionally ordained balance in political affairs collapsed. The national administration came under a central direction by narrow vision and overriding personal ambition. Laws and clearly defined precedents which obstructed concentration of power were brushed aside and the democracy of representative government began to yield to the concept of governmental autocracy.

The Far Nobler Sentiment

In the ensuing movement toward the ascendancy of men over laws the meaning and intent of the Constitution became rapidly corrupted. Propaganda was the mighty weapon through which control was sought. The people were first brought to a state of bewilderment and confusion through the agitation among the masses of fear and misunderstanding. Then followed a mighty effort to inject upon the American scene a system of mass-thought control—a plan which failed of success only because of the rugged individualism still characteristic of the American people.

Our public opinion has not reflected partisan politics, but the far nobler sentiment known to us as Americanism. Indeed, as I have traveled through the country, I have found the sense of concern and outrage over the course of governmental leadership fully as deeply stirring the conscience of those adhering to the Democratic political faith as of those adhering to that of the opposition party. And this is as it should be. For, coming from those who compose the governing political party, it emphasizes the depth of the resentment for wrongs done America by all who love America. It reflects a sense of patriotism which far transcends any fealty to group or political party. It is indeed a measure of the great spiritual strength of the American people.

Sapping Our Strength

By the devious method of expenditure progressively beyond income and increasing taxation to keep pace with expenditure, these political leaders have been rapidly exhausting the remaining revenue-producing potential of the citizenry. This has rendered the states and other communities increasingly dependent upon the Federal government. It places the state in the position of a supplicant. This method of employing the power to tax is not only destroying the principle of state and community autonomy upon which is erected our constitutional system of representative government, but it is rapidly sapping the productive energies and the creative initiative of our people. If it continues, our economic system of free private enterprise, the great bulwark to political and economic freedom, must inevitably perish.

History records that human liberty has oftentimes been destroyed by the sword, but never before by a disingenuous application of constitutional powers expressly designed to ensure its preservation.

America now stands at a crossroads. Down one lies a return to those immutable principles and ideals upon which rested our country's past grandeur. Down the other lies the arbitrary rule of man leading to the ultimate loss of constitutional liberty.

The domestic scene has witnessed the greatest orgy of spending in history—a fantastic phenomenon which defies all reason—which has induced a tax burden upon the people, largely upon the lower and middle income groups, which has already destroyed the opportunity to build for future security and is rapidly destroying the will to work. Yet, our leaders show not the slightest concern for the stark tragedy which will descend upon the nation once the exhaustion of our resources brings this extravagance of spending to an abrupt end. Then, will our people face the reality that their energies and those of their children and children's children have been mortgaged for generations to come.

The corollary to this irresponsible handling of the national resource has been shocking disclosures of graft and corruption over a wide area of the public service. There has resulted a consequent deterioration in the traditional standards of American morals and ethics which heretofore had held us upon so high a spiritual plane. Even such disclosures fail to stir the conscience of our leaders.

The inner circles of government partake more and more of the nature of a pampered, exclusive club. Dangerous experiments with the public interest, creeping corruption in fiscal honesty and reckless gambling with the public security have led us inexorably down the road toward moral decadence and political disintegration.

When voices are raised in alarmed protest over the reckless dissipation of our national resource, answer is made by the half-truth method of pointing to the rise in our national income in terms of the present dollar, with its debased and devalued relativity with the dollar which existed during the normalcy of sound public administration carefully concealed. Or, we are warned of the great peril to this country from Soviet attack of the devastation of our great cities unless our military might is restored as rapidly as it was dissipated. And we are told it is unpatriotic to question expenditures no matter how fantastic.

All this propaganda gives point to Benjamin Franklin's sage warning that "A half truth is often a great lie."

Where Wastrel Policies Lead

And, as we continue these wastrel policies without promise or hope for regaining normalcy, as we repudiate the economic concepts which raised our standard of life beyond all comparison with others; as we conduct confiscatory levies upon incomes, gifts and inheritances calculated to destroy the principle of private ownership of property; as we depart from American ideals and reverse the course which served us so long and benefited us so well, it becomes increasingly clear that the pattern of American fiscal policy is being brought into consonance with the Karl Marx communist theory that through a division of the existing wealth, mankind will be brought to a universal standard of life—a degree of mediocrity to which the communists and their fellow travelers seek to reduce the people of this great nation.

Whether it be by accident or design, such policy, formulated with reckless indifference to the preservation of constitutional liberty and our free enterprise economy, coupled with the rapid centralization of power in the hands of a few, is leading us toward a communist state, with a dreadful certainty as though the leaders of the Kremlin themselves were charting our course. It implements the blueprints of Marx and Lenin with unerring accuracy and gives stark warning that, unless the American people stem the present threatening tide, human liberty will inevitably perish from our land.

In the field of foreign policy, efforts are largely confined to the contribution of vast sums, which we do not have and must borrow, toward the rehabilitation of economies abroad, the rearming of other nations and the relief of foreign under-privileged and distressed. As a good neighbor we do desire to help the rest of the world in every reasonable way, but certainly that is no excuse either for the wrecking of our economy at home, or for covert encouragement of the terrible psychoses of war.

Let us concern ourselves first with our own underprivileged and distressed before we take further from the little they have; the will to be free either exists in the human heart or all the money in the world cannot buy it there.

Thus, despite the billions we have poured abroad, I doubt that we have gained a single communist convert to the cause of human freedom or inspired new or deeper friendships. And, as quite obviously the people of Western Europe do not generally share with our own leaders the fear of Soviet military designs, despite these billions we seem to have made little progress in convincing them that they themselves should vigorously act to shore up their own defenses. We hear no clamor to pledge their own lives, their own fortunes and their own sacred honor in defense of their own liberties.

How We Yielded Leadership

We had the leadership of the world at war's end—the spiritual leadership supported by the greatest relative military power in all history. But, we yielded that leadership. We dissipated our great spiritual influence through a succession of diplomatic moves by which we betrayed our wartime ally China into communist control, gave the Soviets a strategic hold upon areas and nations on the continent of Europe, and otherwise built it into its dominant position in world affairs. And even as we did so, we reduced our own military strength with reckless haste to a position of acknowledged impotence. Yet, the same leaders who bear responsibility for this catastrophic reversal of the world balance of power now attempt to justify the further depletion of our nation strength through vast sums they call upon us to send abroad under the guise of retaining world leadership.

Our leadership may only be regained if we ourselves are strong—spiritually as well

On this page is a document of historic importance because of the way it deals with fundamental issues confronting our country. It comprises a recent (March 22) address by Douglas MacArthur before the Mississippi State Legislature, and only in a few rare instances has it been reported in full.

The American people are beginning to appreciate the fact that out of World War II emerged two dynamic irreconcilable forces. No one knows those forces more intimately than General MacArthur, a great leader in three wars. For decisive defeat of an enemy, one must know thoroughly his designs and stratagems. To offer the last full measure of devotion to the cause of freedom, one must be consecrated to its ideals.

With the background of a lifetime of brilliant and dedicated service to his country, General MacArthur has been speaking from one end of the United States to the other. His inspired words have revitalized a nation. And under that title, "Revitalizing a Nation," a condensed, authentic compilation of his epoch-making addresses has been put into book form and published by the Heritage Foundation. Here, in eight eloquent chapters, is an incisive analysis of the present crisis comparable in clarity and statesmanship to the Federalist Papers which resolved the great public debate surrounding adoption of our Constitution.

As the Rev. Norman Vincent Peale says in his introduction to "Revitalizing a Nation," reprinted here, General MacArthur's words should be read by all Americans, young and old. What you can do to help make that possible is described at the bottom of this page.

As physically—and have the moral courage and the vision to advance constructive ideas with the will ourselves to see them through. Ideas which will restore international business and credits to private hands; ideas which will free arbitrary restrictions upon the exchange of national currencies; ideas which will evolve sound methods for the advance of international trade and commerce among friendly nations; ideas which will chart a course toward the complete abolition of the scourge of war as an accepted instrument of international policy; and ideas which have for their purpose re-establishment of the integrity of national sovereignties, both of the weak and the strong, against external influences and pressures.

Indeed, it would be immediately helpful if we but purged our foreign policy of imperialistic tendencies—not imperialistic in the sense that we covet the territory of others—but imperialistic in the pressure we bring to bear upon the purely domestic affairs of others. For this is an era characterized by a universal sentiment of nationalism. This we must respect if we would gain the respect of others. The peoples of the world will only follow our leadership upon the basis of our moral integrity and spiritual as well as physical strength.

They will measure us not by the monies we recklessly give them, but by the general attitudes with which we face the common problems of mankind.

Possibly in Asia, where the record is more fully developed and events themselves have more plainly written the judgment, has the irresponsibility of our national policy been most pronounced. There our betrayal China will ever stand as a black mark upon our escutcheon. But the tragedy of Korea comes closer to the hearts of the American people. For there thousands of our beloved dead give mute evidence to the tragic failure of American leadership.

There, in the aftermath of victory in World War II, we first undertook the protection of the Korean people and the welding of their segments into a consolidated and free nation. Later, we repudiated that purpose and practically invited the aggression which ensued by withdrawing our forces, enunciating the policy that the defense and consolidation of Korea was no longer within our sphere of political and military interest.

'A SPIRITUAL REBIRTH OF FREEDOM AND FAITH'

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE, D.D.
(Introduction to "Revitalizing a Nation")

No man of our time is more authentically the voice of real American than Douglas MacArthur. To the millions who lined the streets of our great cities to cheer and weep as he passed, he is the personification of American tradition and history.

As he rode up great avenues 'midst vast throngs, the people though misty eyes saw in him the noble leaders of the past—Washington, Lee, Grant. And when he addressed the Congress of the United States, once again Americans heard the great truths which many, starved for them, never expected to hear again, and those who never heard them before wept unashamedly.

In this stalwart, romantic figure, the great hopes, dreams and ideals of our country come to life again. He stimulates renewed faith that the land of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln still lives in the hearts of the people.

I shall never forget the light on General MacArthur's face and the deep feeling in his voice when he said to me, "They are a wonderful people—the American people—quick, impulsive, generous, whole-hearted! You can always trust them and believe in them, for in their hearts they are good and true; in a crisis, they will do the right thing."

In the present crisis, this book outlines the sound, spiritual and practical thought of a great man who from a position of lofty eminence sees clearly the dangers facing us and gives of his rich wisdom to guide us. What he has to say reaches the spiritual side of our lives with a power found in the words of few of our leaders. Out of a lifetime experience of leadership and unsurpassed achievement, General MacArthur has gathered wisdom and insight into the great principles upon which our Republic was founded and only upon which it can endure.

This book will give you a spiritual rebirth of freedom and faith. Read it to your children so that the noble, incomparable sentences of our greatest master of English speech may fall like music upon their ears; that they, too, like yourself in your youth, may hear enunciated the immortal principles of God and country. These words will live in their hearts, and in yours, forever.

If American, land of the free, is to endure, we must rekindle on the altars of our hearts the ancient fires of faith, morality and patriotism. This book will greatly help in doing that. It is an American document. Regardless of party affiliation, it should go into every home in America to be read, cherished and heeded. Distributed widely, it can, with our help, save America.

and simultaneously withholding the arms needed adequately to prepare the South Korean defense force. Yet, still later after its southern half had been brought under attack from the north, we assumed its defense and consolidation.

We defeated the northern Korean armies. But in the wake of the commitment of Communist China against us, we again repudiated our purpose to weld all of Korea into a free nation and denied our own beleaguered forces the orthodox military means which offered promise of early victory. We had them fight to a stalemated position on the Peninsula and left them there to die in a deadlock struggle of position and attrition, while we entered into so-called "cease-fire negotiations" universally interpreted as our suing for peace.

How We Helped the Enemy

These negotiations have been underway for eight months, the only noticeable result being that the enemy has gained time to bring up artillery, air and mechanical transport and to perfect his anti-aircraft defenses and communications, all to gain strength where once his weakness was most pronounced. And the high and noble purpose which introduced us into the Korean conflict is now no nearer fruition than when our nation was first committed to the task. At that time, it was our stated intent to punish the aggressor, but through our strange and unprecedented war policies, we have inflicted the punishment, not upon the aggressor, but upon our own forces and upon the Korean nation.

We have permitted the enemy with impunity to prepare his blows against us from behind arbitrary and unreasonable sanctuary. We have protected him by holding inviolate his own soil, his war-making facilities and his own nearby bases of attack. And, while we afforded him this measure of protection, we enforced upon the Korean people the dreadful tragedy involved in the exclusive use of their soil as the sole battleground. As a consequence, death has come to hundreds of thousands of defenseless Korean civilians and a nation brought under our sacred protection has been devastated.

I repeat what I said many months ago—the first line of Freedom's defense is not the Elb, nor the Rhine, but it is in Korea on the Yalu. Prejudiced and willful voices scoffed at this warning, but there is where the communists elected to challenge our spiritual and military strength and there is where we have failed adequately to meet that challenge, even though we had the military resource and means at our command.

Our failure has been of the spirit, not of the arms—a bankruptcy of leadership in our American tradition. Yet this failure has furnished the Soviet the pass key to world conquest.

This glaring failure in Korea is but symptomatic of a general bankruptcy of leadership over many fronts, both foreign and domestic. Despite the hypocrisy of many platitudinous statements, our leadership is fundamentally lacking in a capacity and spirit to chart a course which will bring true and lasting peace. Just as it plunged us unprepared into the Korean War, it is now preparing us for a war in Europe. As it tears down our structure of constitutional liberty, it rears the threat of converting us into a military state. It is and has been and will continue to be a leadership of war.

Our Mightiest Resource

In this time of crisis when mounting taxes and prices point to the inevitability of ultimate human tragedy when the constant threat of imminent world war keynotes government propaganda designed to suppress criticism; when ever-mounting disclosures of scandal and corruption are seriously impairing popular faith in the integrity of the governmental process and making major inroads into pre-existing standards of private morals; when appointive officials in whom the people have lost all confidence continue contemptuously to conduct the public affairs; when our citizens abroad are subjected with impunity to duress and physical violence by foreign governments with whom we are at peace; when we submit to blackmail and extortion and pursue a policy of fear in the prosecution of a war to which we have committed our beloved sons; when we witness our institutions being weakened by drawing upon the fruits of our free enterprise economy to underwrite the deficits of socialist and communist economies abroad; when the principle of state and community autonomy established by the Constitution as safeguard against the undue centralization of political power in the Federal government is being corrupted; when our religious base is under constant pressure from communists at home and abroad; there is still that mightiest of resource which our nation possesses—the love of individual liberty and the spiritual strength rooted in American hearts.

I have faith that that mighty bulwark to representative government—the civic conscience—will shortly assert itself under the processes established by the Constitution and that the people will thus rechart the nation's course.

Let a leadership then emerge with the vision and moral courage to discard the dogma of political precedent which seeks to be all things to all people—a leadership firmly resolved to restore political morality; regain thrift and frugality as the cornerstone to national stability and progress; re-establish the diffusion of the political power; shore up the sagging beams of our free institutions; revitalize the battered remnants of our personal freedoms; reorient foreign policy to reality and reason; and renew a devotion to God and the religious base upon which our country was erected.

Bauers Hot In Weathervane

HOUSTON — (AP) — Betsy Rawls shot a 71 on water logged waterways to win the Houston round of the National Weathervane meet with a 36 hole total of 140.

Miss Rawls was three strokes better than runnerup Babe Zaharias with 70-73-148. Betsy's two fine rounds were worth $750. Mrs. Zaharias got $540.

But the lowest scores on the Brae Burn course Saturday were made by the Bauer sisters.

Marlene, 18, scored a record 68, four under par and one better than the previous record of 69 posted by Miss Rawls Friday. The older Bauer, Alice, played just as well as Marlene up to the greens but missed several putts under 10 feet and had to be satisfied with a two-under-par 70.

A par 78 Friday spotted Marlene's chances of a better finish. As it was, she finished in a fifth place tie with Alice, each with 146, and good for $340 apiece.

Babe Still Leads
Despite her second place finish here, the Babe still leads the cross country Weathervane by six strokes with a 72 hole total of 288. She had finished the first lap of the four city Weathervane at Miami Beach five strokes ahead of Louise Suggs and Betty Jameson.

Now at the halfway mark with tournaments in Seattle and New York City yet to come, the Babe leads by six strokes over Miss Suggs. Louise had 73-71 here for 144, giving her an overall total of 294. Her 144 here was good for third place money of $420. Miss Jameson scored 73-73-146 and collected fourth money of $390. She now is tied with Miss Rawls for third in overall play at 295.

Midland Tilt 'Stormed Out'

LUTHER, LA. — (AP) — A scheduled Midland-Abbeville, La., baseball game here Saturday was "stormed out."

Driving rains and lashing winds which started early Saturday turned the playing ground into a storm-lashed quagmire and made play impossible. It also cast a shadow of doubt on possibilities of a game here Sunday with New Iberia, La., unless a beaming sun comes out early.

The Sunday game is the last scheduled tilt for the Midland team in Luteher. Midland breaks camp Tuesday, playing in Natchez, Miss., that night and in Monroe, La., Wednesday night. Friday night the Midland team plays in Midland against Big Spring. The Indians are to arrive home late Thursday or early Friday.

Fred (Rip) Collins, former major league first baseman and outfielder, is now the player-manager of the Independence (Kan.) team, a Class D farm club of the St. Louis Browns.

Clyde Perry Has Perfect Night As Dallas Eagles Win

By The Associated Press
Shortstop Clyde Perry, who broke into organized baseball with Midland in the Longhorn League, had a perfect night at the plate with three hits and two walks Saturday night as the Dallas Eagles blasted Tulsa pitching for 15 hits and a 13-6 Texas League opening night victory. This performance delighted 6,235 hometown fans in damp, chilly weather.

Hard-hitting Houston, defending champion, pounded three San Antonio hurlers for 18 hits and a 13-2 victory to spoil the Mission's home debut.

At Oklahoma City, the Port Worth Cats scored three runs in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and defeat the home-field Indians 6 to 3. Port Worth outdid the Indians 14 to 10.

Shreveport nudged Beaumont, 9-4, to win its home opener.

RAY LEGGETT MEDALIST—MHS Golf Team Is Third In Tourney

AMARILLO — In the wind and in the rain, Coach Audrey Gill's Midland High School golf team slogged home second behind Amarillo here Saturday in the Sandie Relay Golf Tournament.

The winning Amarillo team came in 14 strokes ahead of Midland's 337 score in spite of a medalist performance by the Bulldogs' Ray Leggett.

Leggett posted a 75 to oust Amarillo's Rex Baxter who shot a 76, and Highland (Albuquerque), N. M., High School's Earl Puckett, NM state amateur champ, who fired a 76.

The Midland boy posted a 37 on the first nine and finished with a 38. Other Midland scores were: Marcelino Moreno, 43-43-86; David Breedlove, 43-44-87, and Lee Sneed, 45-44-89.

Pampa finished third in the soggy field, two strokes behind Midland with a 339 total.

Midland received a large team trophy for its efforts, while Leggett bagged the individual trophy.

Little Leaguers To Sell Opening Day Ducats Here Monday

Small-fry baseballers in Midland's Little League will carry on an intensive one-day drive Monday to sell tickets to the opening-night Midland Indian baseball game scheduled April 21 between the Indians and the visiting Odessa Oilers.

Business Manager Horace Busby said six players from each of the eight teams in the loop will be picked to handle the sales.

These boys will canvass downtown merchants and attempt to sell each merchant a ticket for every employee.

No door-to-door campaign in the residential section is planned, but the youngsters will be out Monday night to sell ducats at all homes which have porch lights burning to signify willingness to purchase the pastboards.

To Get Percentage
All boys participating will receive a percentage of the sales and the top two boys will be awarded a grand prize at home plate opening night. Marion Flynt, president of Midland Baseball, Inc., will present the award.

The youngsters will work in teams of two, and at least one member of each team will be dressed in a Little League baseball uniform.

The purpose of the scheme, said Busby, is to try for the league attendance trophy—an honor which Midland never has won.

Little League Commissioner, John Redfern, Jr., will choose the boys to participate.

Meanwhile, tickets to the opening night game will go on sale in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer at 9 a.m. until noon Monday and will continue throughout the week.

Stanton Buffs Open Spring Grid Drills

STANTON — Coaches Charles Reed and Melvin Robertson expect 30 to 35 delegates to report here Tuesday when the Stanton High School Buffaloes open their 1952 Spring football drills.

The Buffs, who failed to win a game in nine starts last season, expect to be stronger and more experienced this year than last year in spite of the loss of Billy Rowden, all-district back. Rowden was killed early this year in a tractor accident.

Stanton's main strength now appears to be in the line.

Nine-Hole Playoff Set Sunday At Pecos

PECOS — A nine-hole golf match playoff is slated at the Pecos Municipal Golf course at 2 p.m. Monday to determine the grand prize winner of a four-way tie in the local tournament which ended here this week.

Involved in the tie are Bill Knox, Mifford Johnson, Jack LeCroy and Melvin Cooksey.

The four men ended up in a tie on the "hidden bogey" play, featuring three holes which drawn from a hat and were kept secret from the players. Cooksey, LeCroy, Knox and Johnson shot low scores on the three holes.

Winning prize for high score on the three holes was James Richmond.

Pro E. H. Garrett invited the public to witness the playoff Sunday.

ARE YOU SAFE FROM ALL THREE DANGERS?

...ONLY ONE TIRE, THE Firestone SUPREME

GIVES YOU COMPLETE PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS AND PUNCTURES, PLUS MAXIMUM NON-SKID SAFETY

Now you can equip your car with the safest tire ever built! This revolutionary, blowout-safe, puncture-resisting, tubeless tire not only safeguards your life, but gives you longer mileage, ease of steering and riding comfort beyond anything you've ever known. The cost is surprisingly low... remember, there are no tubes to buy. Don't wait... trade today and get full allowance for your present tires and tubes.

BLOWOUTS... When an ordinary tire blows out it goes flat in one-tenth of a second... so fast that you hardly have time to prevent an accident. With the Firestone Supreme, blowout accidents can't happen because inside the tire is a safety diaphragm, which holds a reserve supply of air to give you complete control of your car after the blowout occurs.

PUNCTURES... With ordinary tires and tubes, punctures are dangerous too. A nail, a piece of glass, any sharp object and you can be caught in dangerous traffic with a flat. With the Firestone Supreme, this can't happen because inside this tire is a special puncture-sealing material which adheres to penetrating objects and prevents immediate air loss, enabling you to complete your trip without interruption.

SKIDDING... With ordinary tires, you are always in danger of a bad skid, especially when driving conditions are slippery. With Firestone Supreme, you get maximum protection against skidding because there are more square inches of tread gripping the road. Special traction boosters and skid resistors in the tread further increase your stopping power because they give more bite and take a firmer grip.

Midland Leads Loop Exhibitions

Tribe Sets Early Spring Game Pace

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

It won't help any when the march of time doles out the end of play in the Longhorn League come September, but the Midland Indians have been the most impressive team to date in Spring exhibition games.

With 10 games gone by, Zeke Bonura's Tribe has coped seven contests, thus bearing out the "watch-out-for-Midland" theme which went out around the loop in 1951 when the Indians blazed to 21 wins in their last 40 starts. The Indians have indeed made it rough on Louisiana teams from their Spring home in Lusher.

Victims have been New Orleans of the Class AA Southern Association, 5-4; New Iberia, 5-4; Houma, 13-2 and 19-6; Lafayette, 6-3; Thibodaux, 8-7; and Baton Rouge, 2-0. Losses were to Atlanta of the Southern Association, 9-1; Thibodaux, 2-1 and Lafayette, 10-6.

Only San Angelo remained an "unknown" team Saturday. The Colts returned home late Saturday from their Spring training site in Kistimnee, Fla., but Manager Mark Christman didn't recall his team's record.

"We won some and lost some and looked pretty fair," he told The Reporter-Telegram by telephone.

The Colts, who finished out front in regular season play last year, have most of their players returning and for that reason are highly respected again.

Big Spring Strong
Perennially strong Big Spring expects to be at or near the top again. The Broncs, according to Manager Pat Stacey, expect to have their best pitching and infield ever.

Stacey, senior manager in the loop, never has finished out of the first division and in 1947 won the whole cake. His team has won three, lost three in exhibitions thus far.

The Steeds defeated Lamesa of the West Texas-New Mexico League, 7-0. Blasted touring House of David, 2 to 2, and ousted Key West, Fla., 1 to 3.

Losses were to Santiago, Cuba, 8 to 1 and 6-5, and to Greenville, Miss., 4 to 1.

The Broncs play in Abilene Sunday, are hosts to Brooke Army Tuesday night and visit Midland Friday night.

Artesia's Drillers, under the guidance this year of Earl Perry, have copied two of three practice games. The Drillers hung one on Wealaco, 11 to 5, and then defeated Brownsville, 8 to 3, after losing, 4-3, to the latter team.

Perry has said he "may not win the pennant" but has warned: "We'll help decide the first four places."

Star of the Drillers thus far has been Centerfielder Jim Ackers, the young man with the rifle-shot arm who performed briefly with Midland last year but was released by then-Manager Harold Webb for falling to TRIBE POW-WOW—Manager Zeke Bonura calls his Midland Indians into a huddle for a strategy pow-wow in the Spring baseball camp at Lusher, La. The Tribe will break camp Tuesday, playing in Natchez, Miss., Tuesday night and in Monroe, La., Wednesday night. At 8 p.m. Friday Midland makes its first home appearance, meeting Big Spring in an exhibition affair in Indian Park.

Monahans Hi Begins Spring Grid Practice

MONAHANS—Minus only three boys from last year's light and inexperienced grid squad, Coach F. O. Scroggins will launch 1952 Spring football drills for the Monahans High School Lobos Tuesday.

Missing from last year's team will be Jimmy Jenkins, quarterback; Leon Green, center; and Larry Brooks, guard. Jenkins graduates, Green is too old for further competition and Brooks has joined the Marines.

The 1952 team, with more experience and left, definitely expects to improve over the previous one which lost six times and was tied once in 10 starts.

Returning players include: Dennis Collins and Doyle Watkins, centers; Charley Locke, Doug Creamer, Bill Shoemaker, Kenneth Reamy, Ray Yates, Dannie Conder, Jerry Vesels, Manuel Olgin, Jerry Lewis and Cliff Oles, backs; Bill Suggs, Red Reynolds, Finis Suggs, Arlen Green and Charles Cleveland, ends; Bill Busby, Harry Warner, W. H. Price, Jim Sparks, Lynn Sampson and Parker Roe, tackles; Sleepy Hughes, Joe Gibb, Hanson, Hilton Casey, Bill Thornton, Donald Outtrel and Bob James, guards.

Dallas Texans Sign Two Pro Gridders

DALLAS—Coach Jimmy Phelan announced Saturday he had signed two more players for the Dallas Texans in the National Football League.

They were Gino Marchetti, tackle from the University of San Francisco and second draft choice of the Texans, and Joe Soboleski, three-year pro veteran guard.

When a compact, 18-year-old boy accepts his diploma at Odessa High School a couple of months hence, track coaches and undergraduate runners throughout the state of Texas will have a collective sigh of relief.

For Joe Childress, the fastest schoolboy sprinter in the state—and perhaps the nation—will have ended one of the most brilliant schoolboy track careers in scholastic history.

The five-foot, 10-inch, 160-pound Odessa, who has lost only two races in his blazing career, may be ranked alongside such worthies as Mel Patton, Jesse Owens and Charley Parker before he hangs up his spikes for good. College scouts have virtually beaten a path to the Childress residence—and young Joe isn't saying just where he will go to school.

They all would like to have him—for he seems a good bet to be an Olympic candidate in 1956.

He holds 10 schoolboy records in the 100-yard dash, seven in the 220-yard dash. With more competition, he probably could hold at least a half-dozen more.

Speedy Joe is a competitive runner. I. e. he usually runs just fast enough to win. Still, he has posted 21.1 times in the 220-yard dash (twice), has been clocked at 9.6 in the 100-yard race on two occasions and five times has stepped off the same distance in 9.7.

He has won 32 of 34 individual races, and has paced the Broncho 440-yard relay team home first more times than area coaches like to remember.

And, just for the heck of it, a couple of times Childress has carried the baton on the anchor lap in the mile relay. Needless to say, when this happened, Odessa finished first.

It was Childress who paced Odessa High School to state track titles in 1950 and 1951, and it is Childress who is expected to gather most of the points this year as the Bronchos expect to sweep to their third track title.

This, however, wasn't expected early in the year. Last season in an early football game, Halfback Joe Childress carried the ball into the line and when the play unfolded he remained crumpled on the ground.

More than 15,000 fans crossed their fingers as Childress was carried from the field. Result: cracker vertebrae.

Fear of such an accident had prompted Spec Gammon, Odessa sports writer, to write Childress an open letter in his sports column.

"Dear Joe: (It began) Please give up football. . . . And the long-feared accident, now a reality, would halt this young speed demon the experts said.

But Joe Childress came up fighting, and went on to make monkeys of the experts.

Two of his recent races have equalled his best time. This is adequate testimony to his complete recovery.

Now, he is finishing his career. One young man who will be glad of it is Roy Kimsley, Midland's blond comet trackster who has finished second behind Childress for two years.

With Childress gone, Kimsley, who has another year of eligibility, can breathe easy.

For the chances are a billion to one against another Childress coming along in the near future.

Midland Relay Teams Cop Two Firsts; Bulldogs Fourth In Abilene Carnival

ABILENE—Paced by two speedy relay teams anchored by fleet Roy Kimsley, Tugboat Jones' Midland High School track team hung up 54 points and captured fourth place in the Abilene Invitational Relays here Friday.

Abilene won its own meet with 109 points, powerful little Stamford was second with 85, Brownwood had 68 and Wichita Falls, defending champion, finished fifth behind the Bulldogs with 46 points.

It was the 440-yard relay and mile relay teams which did most of the work for Midland.

The 440-yard team—with Dan Black, Roddy Braun, Johnny Kennedy and Roy Kimsley wearing the

Plymouth Oil In Tie For Bowling Lead

After three weeks of struggling for the lead, Plymouth Oil climbed into a tie for the Petroleum Bowling League top spot this weekend.

And the Plymouth kiegles did it without gripping the ball as Rotary Engineering Company forfeited three games when it could not find a team.

Other results saw Ohio Oil dispose of Tex-Harvey three straight and Stuart's Photo Flog American Trading and Production in the same manner. Standard of Texas split with Ralph Love, 2-1; Shell Oil rolled over Muldrow Reproduction by the same tally; Core Lab won two of three with West End Magnolia; Honolulu Oil defeated State Exploration, 2-1; Tide Water whipped Seaboard in a like manner and Union Oil likewise ousted West Texas Reproduction.

Union Oil rolled a team high for the year by racking up 2,736 points and had a 928 score for high team game.

Individually, smooth Ernie Crites scored 640 to win high series honors while Cliff Shambelen scored 223 to make a shambles of high individual game participation.

The standings:

|-------------------------|-------|
| Phillips 66             | 52 32 |

Eight Teams Set For Kickoff Of City-Major Softball Loop

Eight teams have filed for positions in the 1952 Midland City-Major softball league, officials of the sponsoring Jay-Cees said here Saturday.

Western Plastic, Rotary Engineers, Standard of Texas, Shell Oil, American Legion, Continental Oil, Humble Oil and The Rensdewous have indicated they will field teams.

Play opens April 28 and will be held at Wadley Park, north of the city on the Ranchland Hill road.

An organizational meeting is set at 7:30 p.m. April 22 in the Chamber of Commerce office. Also up for discussion at this meeting is repair on Wadley Park planned by the city and the Jay-Cees. The Junior Chamber expects to erect a new fence while the city is to repair the stands and recondition the playing field.

A rules committee which will hear disputes was named Saturday, with Ed Dillon appointed chairman. Others on the committee are Larry King, J. P. Marchioni, Jack Bliss and Doyle DeArman. League co-chairmen are Phil Fickman and Jack Turney.

Unattached players who want to participate are asked to contact representatives of the teams in the loop.

Western Plastic—winner for three straight years—again is favored to cop the title.

Brooks Whip Yanks, 4-1; Phillies Win

BROOKLYN—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers clinched their season series with the New York Yankees by beating the world champions for the fourth time in five games, 4-1, Saturday.

A chilled crowd of 8,409 saw Ben Wade, 29-year-old right-hander, hold the Yankees to one run on four hits for six innings. The former Cincinnati Reds' chucker allowed the Athletics four hits.

Reynolds became the loser in the fifth when singles by Carl Enslin, Bob Moran, Wes Reese and Duke Snider, the latter driving in two runs with two out, accounted for three runs.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Pirates defeated the Senators, 3 to 2, Saturday afternoon in a cool-weather inter-league baseball game. Rookie Dick Hall, the Swarthmore College Hercules, played third base for the first time for Pittsburgh. He had a costly error that paved the way for two runs in the sixth inning but he scored the winning run in the ninth.

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Right-handers Howie Fox and Andy Hansen combined to pitch six-hit ball as the Philadelphia Phillies handed the Philadelphia Athletics a 6-0 setback in the first of a two-game city series Saturday.

A crowd of 4,198 saw Fox aid his own cause with a second-inning home run while Del Ennis also banged a homer for the National League team.

Fox turned the pitching chores over to reliever Andy Hansen after Evansville, Ind.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored twice in the ninth inning Saturday with home out to nip the New York Giants, 3-2.

Pete Reiser tripled to start the rally against Monte Kennedy and Luke Easter followed with a double to tie the score. Johnny Bernardino beat out an infield hit and Jim Fridley was intentionally passed to load the bases. Pinch-hitter Bob Kennedy then walked to force home the winning run.

The Giants collected 14 hits to Cleveland's seven but left 13 men stranded.

Bob Lemon opened for Cleveland and pitched until the eighth when Lou Brisse took over. The Giants scored both of their runs in the sixth on a double by Bob Elliott and successive singles by Don Miller and Whitely Lockman and Wes Westrum.

Bronchos Romp To Sandie Relay Victory. AMARILLO—Odessa High School's track team remained unbeaten after whacking the Amarillo Sandies, 53 to 40, in the Sandie Relays Friday.

Sloppy grounds made the times slow. Only one meet record was listed—a 21.1 in the 100-yard hurdles, a new event, won by Odessa's Weldon Holley.

This leaves rookies Bobby Gordon and Dick Cassidy battling for the rightfield spot on the Midland team.

Escobar is to report to the Houston team immediately.

Workout Schedule For American Legion Loop Is Announced

The workout schedule for the American Legion Baseball League has been announced as follows by Charles D. Cobb, league secretary: Copper Daugherty-Jim Watson team: 5 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Tom Baker-Jack Hicks team: 10 a.m. Tuesday, Friday and Saturday.

The Rev. E. J. Murray-Ernie Nelson team: 1 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday.

All workouts are to be held at Borden Field.

Kimsey captured Midland's third first place, copping the 220-yard dash in 33.2. He was favored in the 440-yard dash, but was scratched in order that he might anchor the two Purple relay outfits.

Other points were gathered for Midland by Robert Keisling, who tossed the discus 132 feet, 5 1/2 inches for third place; Roddie Braun, who finished sixth in the

Porky Oliver Leads In Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—Pudgy Ed (Porky) Oliver, playing out of Lemont, Ill., turned in his second straight three-under par 68 Saturday to take the lead with 136 holes of the $10,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

But the big excitement of the day was furnished by long lean Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., who stroked a smoking putter on the backside for a course record 35-29—64 to move into second place tie at 137, one stroke off the top end, with Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y. Dave had seven threes and a pair of fours.

Douglas, 34-year-old Philadelphia native, rammed home 20-footers on 11 and 12, a 30-footer on 13 and a 15-footer for an eagle three on 14. His 64 knocked a stroke off the record for the $4,000-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course mark set three years ago by Clayton Heafner and Jerry Barber.

In fourth place tied at 138 were South Africa's Bobby Locke, 68 Saturday and Dick Mayer, 81, Petersburg, Fla., with a 71.

Five more players were knotted at 139. The group included Art Wall Jr., Honesdale, Pa.; Jim Ferrer, San Francisco; Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; and Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif. Kroll and Ford, with 67s, trailed Douglas for the day's low honors.

Close up at 140 were Riegel, who fell to 73 Saturday, and Frenais-Wingard, Atlantic City, N. J. Sam Sneed, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., posted a par 71 for a tie at 141 with Julius Baros, Southern Pines, N. C.; Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va.; and Johnny Bull, Verona, Pa.

There were 18 players under par for 36 holes, and four more were even going into Sunday's third round. The tournament winds up Monday. One of the 142 quartet was Marty Furgol, Atlanta, Ga., pro, who rallied from a 41 start to a finishing 32.

Low amateurs at 140 were Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, and John Whittle, Martinsville, Va.

All pros who completed 36 holes—56 of them—qualified for Sunday's play with 169 the high score. Twelve amateurs also remained in the field.

Midland Colts Open 1952 Baseball Year

First action for the Latin-American Midland Colt baseball team is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday in Colt Park, located in the 500 block of North Madison Street.

Alpine's Internationals will furnish the opposition.

Korean Air Power Delicately Balanced, Says FEAF Boss

TOKYO—(AP)—America's top air commander in the Far East Saturday said his forces could attack Communist bases in Manchuria at least once but probably could not sustain such attacks.

Gen. Otto P. Weyland said his Far East Air Force would need reinforcements if the Korean war were carried across the border to Red bases, as often has been advocated.

"We are tailored just about to the Korean war," Weyland told a news conference. "We are not tailored for a world war out here."

And, he said, an attack on Manchuria "would be liable to set off World War III."

The Reds have enough power to make a "strong bid" for mastery of the Korean skies, Weyland said. But they do not have that mastery now.

He said between December 21 and April 2, 116 Red jets were shot down or probably destroyed. FEAF lost 121 planes during the period but only 13 were shot down in air battles.

Weyland said his force has prevented the Reds from establishing air bases in North Korea or building for a new ground offensive.

Weyland noted four things showing growing opposition to Allied air power:

1—Red pilots are making better use of the MIG-15 jet. "They have

Truce Teams Again Set Brevity Record

MUNSEAN—(AP)—Korean truce supervision negotiators set a new record for brevity Saturday when they met for only one minute.

Their last seven sessions have averaged less than five minutes each. But they went through the motions again this Easter Sunday, traveling to the tiny town of Panmunjom for a session at 11 a.m.

"We're down to two basic issues," an Allied spokesman said after Saturday's brief meeting. "They've got to give."

The two issues are Red non-liquidation of Russia as a neutral truce observer and Communist insistence on the right to rebuild military airfields in North Korea during an armistice.

Captain Plays Human Yo-Yo With No Strings Attached

TOKYO—(AP)—A human yo-yo hundreds of feet in the air—without any strings attached.

That may have been how Air Force Capt. Fred C. Seals, Jr. of Dallas felt when he found himself a plaything of the air currents.

Seals was assisting crew members of the 31st Combat Cargo Air Division in a supply drop to a mountain-top radar unit from a C-46 transport over Korea.

One moment Captain Seals was standing near the open cargo door. The next moment he found himself thrown outside in space as the plane hit a sudden down-draft.

Then, before he could open his parachute, Seals was thrown back inside and knocked to the plane floor by another jolting air current.

But the elements weren't through having fun with Seals. A moment later the plane slammed into another air jet and Seals and cargo were thrown against the plane's ceiling. A falling water can broke his foot.

County TB Group To Elect Tuesday

The Midland County Tuberculosis Association will elect officers and directors for 1952-53 at its annual membership meeting Tuesday night in the commissioners' courtroom of the Midland Courthouse.

F. B. Rhodes, program chairman, pointed out Saturday that contributors to the 1951 Christmas Seal Sale are considered members of the association and are entitled to vote in the officer election.

Dr. Lex B. Smith is the retiring president of the association.

Deadline For Keg Meet Here Extended

The deadline for entering the annual City Bowling Tournament has been extended 24 hours to midnight Monday.

Haigh said entries have been coming in fast and that an exceptionally fine tournament is indicated.

The tournament will be bowled on the weekend of April 19-20 and 26-27.

Court Order—

The suit caught union officials in Dallas by surprise.

"Damn, can they do that?" said W. P. Hargrove, secretary-treasurer of Local 10677 for Texas and Oklahoma, when informed of the order.

In Dallas, Walter Prehm, manager of Southwestern Bell for Texas, explained his company's attitude:

Ike's Jersey Backers Work To Snap Taft's Win Streak

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—General Eisenhower's New Jersey supporters, determined to halt Senator Taft's three-state primary winning streak, worked through the Easter weekend in an eleventh hour drive for votes in Tuesday's presidential preference election.

Fearful that a tight turnout will favor the Ohio senator, the Eisenhower forces pressed for a record vote in the popularity poll which will pit their candidate against Taft for the first time in an Eastern industrial state.

Eisenhower, Taft and Harold E. Stassen are on the Republican ballot. Stassen is given little chance. Taft tried to withdraw from the contest but was not able to have his name stricken from the ballot.

Although Taft closed his headquarters, cancelled 20 scheduled appearances and officially ended his campaign here shortly after midnight, many of his supporters have carried on the fight.

Some members of the Taft camp say he will make a substantial showing both the presidential poll—which is not binding—and delegates.

However, former Rep. Fred A. Hartley, co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act and chairman of New Jersey "Independent Citizens for Taft," said it would be a political miracle if Senator Taft gets more than 20 per cent of the total vote.

The Republican electorate will name 26 delegates to the national convention in Chicago on July 7.

Houston Straw Poll Shows Taft, Daniel Top-Heavy Favorites

HOUSTON—(AP)—Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft is the first choice of Chronicle readers for next President of the United States.

Results of a straw vote, conducted by the Houston Chronicle on four days last week gave Taft a margin of almost 1,400 votes over his nearest rival, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur was in third place with Democratic Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia fourth, Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, fifth, and Vice President Alben W. Barkley, sixth.

Senator Taft topped all candidates with 3,433 votes.

General Eisenhower got a total of 2,361 while General MacArthur's total was 994.

Apart from the predominance of Republican votes over Democrats, the big surprise of the straw vote was the showing of Attorney General Price Daniel, who held an 11-1 lead at the finish over incumbent Senator Tom Connally in choice for U. S. Senator.

Two More Juarez Bank Bandits Held

EL PASO—(AP)—Capture of two more men in a bandit gang which took $176,000 from a Juarez, Mexico, bank was reported Saturday by the El Paso Herald-Post.

The newspaper said Juarez police announced the men were in custody in Mexico City and an unnamed accomplice had been arrested and taken there from Juarez, just across the Rio Grande from this border city.

It said the two were the remaining members of a six-man robber band which took the money in a daring holdup of Banco Nacional de Mexico in Juarez January 22. Police killed two of the bandits next day in a gun battle outside Juarez.

Two other men and a woman companion were captured then and now are in prison.

Last Jersey Crash Blamed On Improper Engine Assembly

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board Saturday blamed improperly installed cylinder nuts for the crash of an airliner at Elizabeth, N. J., last December 16 which took 56 lives.

In a 26-page report the CAB listed three infractions of aircraft regulations as contributing to the second worst air crash in this country's history.

These were the improper installation of the cylinder nuts, an overload and "informal, irregular and therefore inadequate" emergency training procedure.

The crash was the first of three within 58 days at Elizabeth which took a total of 118 passengers and residents of the city. After the third crash, Newark Airport was closed to traffic.

Kentucky GOP Hands 19 Delegates To Taft

LOUISVILLE, KY.—(AP)—Kentucky Republicans Saturday handed 19 of their 20 national convention delegates to Robert A. Taft.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower got one.

Conservative party forces backing Senator Taft for the GOP presidential nomination completed their virtual sweep of the Kentucky delegation at the party state convention.

AGGIE CHERNEMEN RIP LONGHORNS

Strike—

(Continued from Page One) nation-wide strike of all its members, even those still covered by unexpected contracts, to force the issue.

Progress reported in the Ohio negotiations was apparently the basis for Helme's "some movement" remark.

Helme said strikers would continue to picket "at all locations where striking employees work" and that non-striking workers would "continue to respect those picket lines."

"The only exception to this," he said, "is the fact that no picketing will take place in those areas where the company has obtained court injunctions against picketing."

AGGIE CHERNEMEN RIP LONGHORNS

These injunctions cover at least 145 towns and cities, many of them in the south. The union says it will fight the injunctions "clear up to the Supreme Court, if necessary."

Meanwhile, Western Union said it had managed to restore telegraph service to 550 cities despite the continuing strike of an estimated 30,000 telegraph workers.

Pauley Is To Drill To 5,000-Feet At Hudspeth Wildcat

Edwin W. Pauley of Los Angeles and associates are to start drilling at once at their No. 1 Gene Steeler, which is to be a 5,000-foot wildcat to test through the Permian formations in East-Central Hudspeth County on the west side of the Del-

Location is 650 feet from south and east lines of section 9, block 28, 1st survey. That makes it 18 miles north and five and one-half miles east of Sierra Blanca. The projected destination of 5,000 feet may take the prospector into a pre-Permian formation.

Albaugh Temporarily Quits Exploration In SW Mitchell

A Southwest Mitchell County wildcat which developed interesting shows of oil and gas in a Pennsylvanian reef and also in the Ellenburger—but neither of which were developed for commercial production, has been temporarily abandoned.

The prospector was Ray A. Albaugh of Midland No. 1 Will T.

Wolfcamp Oil Developed In Gaines Test

The Texas Company No. 1 R. A. Cox, wildcat in Central-South Gaines County four miles east of the southeast side of the Robertson field, has indicated as a discovery from the Wolfcamp lime.

Operator took a drillstem test in the first time encountered in that formation from 9,211 to 9,200 feet. Tool was open three and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in two hours and 18 minutes at the estimated rate of 75,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 450 feet of clean oil, 370 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 400 feet of salt water. Open flowing bottom hole pressure ranged from 45 up to 844 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 2,985 pounds.

Operator was drilling ahead. Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of the south half of section 12, block C-45, 1st survey and 10 miles southeast of Seminole.

OPS Will Discuss Oil And Gas Prices With IPAA Group

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) has an April 23 date with officials of the Independent Petroleum Association of America to discuss the association's request for removal of controls on oil and gas prices.

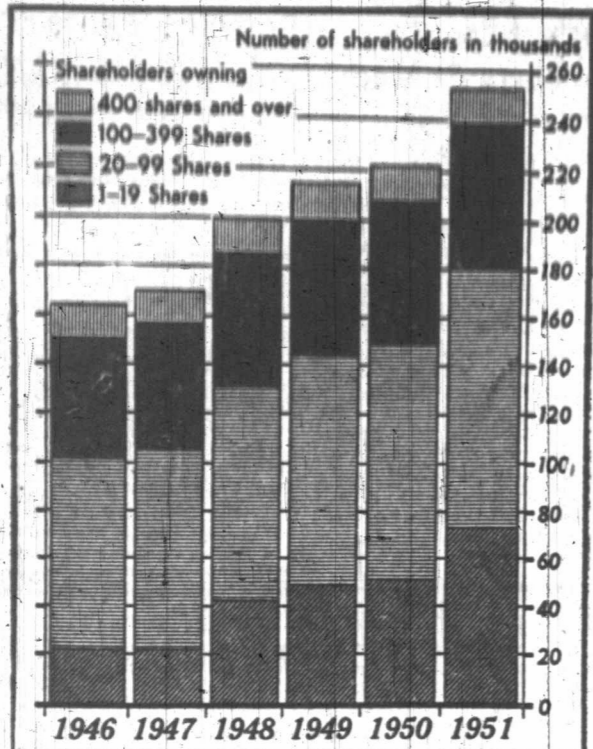

The association contends prices of petroleum and natural gas are not subject to control under the defense production act. OPS recently threw out a protest from the association, holding that trade associations have no authority to seek relief from price controls and that the protest was not filed within the six-month time limit after issuance of the price orders.

But the price agency agreed, according to an association official, to consider the protest as a petition for decontrol instead of as a protest.

"OPS now wants us to come in April 23 and talk over the situation," the official told a reporter. He added: "Up to now we haven't asked for a price increase but have been proposing complete decontrol of crude and natural gas prices."

Petitions for exemption of oil and gas prices from controls have been placed before the House and Senate Banking Committees by the association for consideration when the committees act on legislation extending the defense production act.

OIL OWNERSHIP SPREADS—The above chart, from the 1951 annual report of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), illustrates how the ownership of the tools of production is spreading to greater numbers of people. During this period, while the total number of shareholders was rising 54 per cent, the number owning fewer than 20 shares each rose 217 per cent.

Oil Is Reported On Pennsylvanian DST In Chaves Wildcat

HOBBES, N. M.—Hassie Hunt Trust Estate No. 1 L. V. Manry-Elliott, wildcat in Southeast Chaves County, according to unofficial and unverified sources, has proven as a flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

Latest drillstem test taken in the prospector was from 10,860 to 10,988 feet. With tool open four hours, water blanketed and gas and distillate flowed out at the top in 20 minutes. The gas volume was at the estimated rate of 5,000,000 cubic feet per day. It flowed distillate for three hours and 40 minutes at the rate of 23 barrels hourly. Recovery was 180 feet of distillate and an undisclosed amount of distillate and gas-cut mud. No formation water was present.

Only the recovery on the above test has been verified by the operator. At last report, the wildcat was bottomed at 11,066 feet, with operator fishing for lost drillpipe.

This prospector is 12 miles north of the Cap Rock field on the Chaves and Lea County lines and 960 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 22-11a-21c.

Three miles west of Texas No. 1-AR State, recently completed Devonian discovery and opener of the Echols field of Northeast Lea County, Champlin Refining Company and Harry Bass Drilling Company completed its No. 1-A State for a daily flowing potential of 288 barrels of 46.2-gravity oil.

Completion was from open hole at 11,631-11,725 feet. Operator used 500 gallons of mud acid to final the hole. It was completed through a one-quarter-inch tubing choke. Location is 600 feet from south and 1,979 feet from east lines of section 32-10c-37c.

Phillips Chemical Company No. 1 State, wildcat in Northwest Lea County, two miles east of The Texas Company No. 1-AS State, recently completed Wolfcamp opener of the Wolf field, was drilled ahead after taking a drillstem test in the Wolfcamp from 9,721 to 9,795 feet.

With tool open three hours, recovery was 1,550-foot water blanket, 278 feet of heavily gas cut mud, 920 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud, 186 feet of free oil and 90 feet of sulphur water. The oil tested 42.8 degrees.

Location is 785 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 4-15a-32c.

Atlantic Refining Company, Skelly Oil Company and Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Melba Goins, north offset to Amon Carter No. 1 Hill-Federal, recently completed five-eighths-south extension to Ellenburger production in the Teague field of Central-East Lea County, was taking drillstem test at total depth of 7,248 feet in line.

A drillstem test from 7,100 to 7,175 feet in the Devonian developed 3,000 feet of gas in drilpipe on recovery plus 45 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

Location is 330 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of section 27-33a-37c.

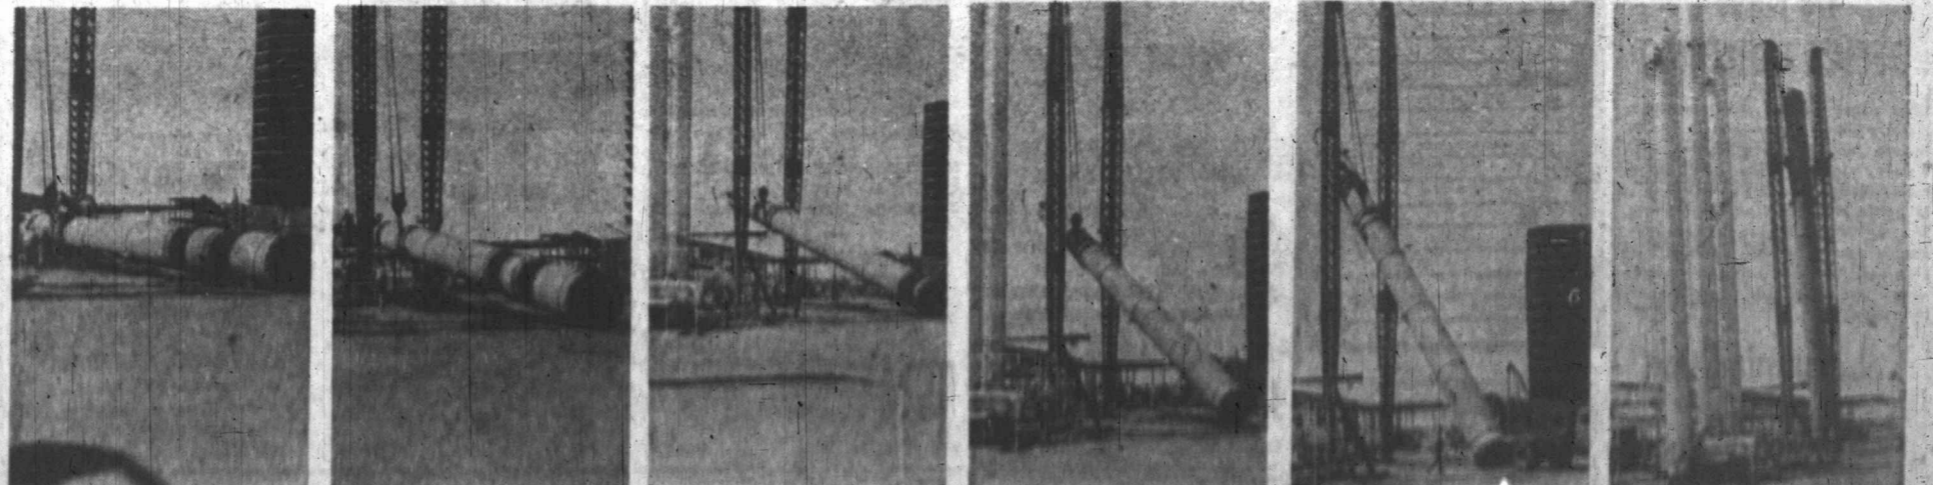

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1-D-State is a new project in the Bagley-Silur-Devonian field of Northwest Lea County. Drilfile was staked 660 feet from north and east lines of section 2-12a-32c. It is to drill to 11,000 feet.

Great Western No. 1-20-AP State, wildcat in Northeast Lea County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 11,801 feet in an unidentified formation.

This was an old well being deepened to 12,500 feet. Operator found the formations running low and decided to give up on the venture. Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2-11a-37c.

GOING UP—Panel shows various stages of raising at 72-foot stripping still at the Tex-Harvey Gasoline Plant near Midland. Three more new stills are to be lifted at the plant including one 105-footer. The plant is a joint project of Tex-Harvey Oil Company and the Anchor Gasoline Corporation. C. D. Sorrels is manager. Attesting the know-how required in raising the tall still is the fact it was done in a raging sandstorm.

Iranian Oil Not To Endanger U. S. Economy, Khalili Claims

"Whenever Iranian oil comes into the market, it is not going to replace or endanger the Texas oil or the oil produced in any of the other states," said Iran's Jawad Khalili when he conferred with oil men of this area during the past week.

Khalili is director of the Petroleum Department, Ministry of Finance of the government of Iran and resides in Tehran.

Journal Publishes Official Document On Iranian Case

That the Iranian people and their Parliament are not yet awakened to the seriousness of their plight, nor do they realize that they were sold a very misleading bill of goods, is implied by A. H. T. Chisholm, manager of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company Ltd., a general department, in a pertinent letter and in an accompanying 38,000-word rebuttal document presented in the April issue of The Oil Forum.

Filling 19 pages of the international petroleum industry magazine, this vivid presentation was especially prepared as an official answer to the "extraordinary" contentions of an Iranian government official that were given in a 16 page "white paper" released exclusively through the March issue of The Oil Forum.

Good Record

In his introductory letter, Chisholm says that the AIOC deplors the Iranian charge of continuous bad faith, financial mispractices and political intrigues, as these were founded on the strength of palpably erroneous data.

Chisholm lists four major factors, and these cast grave doubts on Iranian contentions by pricking the bubble of illusion on which the latter have been built.

1. The original D'Arcy Concession did not give Iran a 10 per cent ownership in the operating oil company, and such rights are imaginary.

2. All the evidence, including the files of the League of Nations and its investigators, provide convincing proof of the charges that AIOC deliberately engineered the 1931 cancellation of the D'Arcy Concession of 1901 are unwarranted.

3. There not only has been no concealment of earnings through the AIOC's 59 subsidiaries and allied companies for the purpose of denying the government its rightful and contracted share of net profits; but in addition to the consolidated income statistics in the parent company's annual report the Iranian Government has been provided each year with the individual accounts of such affiliated concerns.

4. The International Labor Office report on workers' welfare in the Iranian oil industry show the company to have maintained the highest standards in respect of pay scales, working conditions and housing.

There is but little doubt leading Iranians believe that strategic and economic interests of democracy in the free world are dependent upon Iranian oil reaching the market in crude and refined forms, and that time is in favor of Iran in the year old dispute.

Regarding the claimed ability of Iran to undercut prices with expropriated oil now willing the storage tanks in the Persian Gulf, Chisholm wryly observes, "It is easy to make a profit on stolen property - if you can find a market."

"This is the first time in history that a government of one country, and a government-controlled oil company of another country have utilized the past of a trade-publication to present in full their respective cases to the entire free world with all diplomatic measures failed to find a satisfactory settlement of a vital problem seriously affecting the economies of both countries.

The unusual step probably will prove very wise, and should help to persuade the most experienced oil men and government officials—at present reluctant to interfere—to put forward constructive proposals to find the unfortunate impasse.

When Iranian oil starts flowing, in all probability it will not be dumped on the market, but will be produced when it is most needed.

One very vital item concerning Iranian oil production and its effect on American oil was ably related by the Iranian director.

"Now, we must also take into consideration that the geographical situation of Iran is such that it is not possible for us to compete with American oil in your markets here because the tanker rates from the Persian Gulf make this prohibitive.

"The natural markets for our products are those which are near the Persian Gulf and which, for the same reasons, cannot be economically supplied from the United States under a competitive system."

He was asked what he meant by static and dynamic point of view.

"Well, from the static point of view," he replied, "it may seem quite likely that when Iran comes into the market, you will sell less. That would be quite correct if the world petroleum market was in a static condition, instead of a highly dynamic one that it is.

"We are normally refining a large proportion of our production. We are not suppliers of crude oil to the market, therefore, in the general sense, but suppliers of refined products. And that again puts us in a position where we don't have to compete even with any of our neighbors, or any country, because we have products they cannot adequately supply."

"You might think that when Iran goes into production, we might compete with Saudi Arabia, but that will not be the case because Saudi Arabia has only a refining capacity of 175,000 barrels a day—the rest of it is crude. They can increase the crude capacity as much as they like, but they cannot produce more refined products at this time. Let me say that what Iran is going to give the world market is a supply that cannot be furnished elsewhere.

Consequently, we are not competitors for our neighbors, much less anybody else.

"That is my firm belief," he reiterated. "I believe that the sooner the Iranian products come into the world market, the more it will help prevent the present uneconomic long tanker haulages and arrive at ultimate stability in the world markets. It will also help to eliminate poverty and create a higher standard of living for the Iranian people which will have a very important stabilizing effect on conditions in that part of the world."

Khalili concluded his visit Friday with a trip to the Bexley County oil fields and then departed for New Mexico which has been scheduled as a part of his itinerary on a two-month observation tour of oil-producing states in America.

He is exceptionally well qualified to make such a tour and to bring to the oil producing persons of this state his views of the Iranian oil situation. Khalili, a chemical engineer, received his college education at the University of Tehran, the capital of his country, and at Birmingham University in England.

products has been constantly increasing by about 10 per cent every year and apparently the world now consumes in the neighborhood of 10 million barrels a day. So you can conclude that one year from now the world would be using another one million barrels of oil and oil products and in six months time probably about half a million barrels. The Iranian production at its peak was only about 850,000 barrels a day.

Runnels Gets Two Wildcat Projects; Three Are Plugged

Locations have been staked for two new wildcats in Runnels County. Three prospectors in that county have been abandoned and plugged as failures.

S. C. Herring of Abilene No. 1 Bryan Williams is to be the deeper of the two wildcats. It is to dig to 4,750 feet to test the Morris sand. Nead Dry Hole

Location is 1,320 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of block 15 1/2, E. H. Willingham survey. That makes it one mile northeast of the Sykes-Morris sand field and separated from it by a 4,380-foot dry hole. Drilling is to start soon at the new exploration.

O. P. Leonard of Talpa No. 1 A. V. Livingston estate and Sealy-Smith is to be a 2,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Runnels County.

Location is 467 feet from south and west lines of section 51, GH&H survey. It is four miles south of Talpa and two miles south and slightly west of the Leonard field. Operations are due to start soon at this prospect.

Murray Petroleum Company and O. W. Strake No. 1 Curry and David, Northwest Runnels County wildcat, eight miles north of Winters and one and one-half miles northeast of the Lloyd-Fray sand field drilled to 4,774 feet in sand and failed to find any production.

It was 2,320 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 102, block 64, HATO survey.

Another Failure

Miami Operating Company No. 1 A. Brookshire, five-eighths of a mile southwest of the Clayton field in Runnels County has been abandoned at total depth of 3,835 feet in sand.

It was 1,575 feet from south and 917 feet from west lines of the F. E. Clayton survey No. 138. No shows of possible production were reported from the project.

Found No Possibilities

Heep Oil Corporation and Herman F. Heep No. 1 H. L. Speer, in Northwest Runnels County drilled to 4,481 feet in lime and shale and has been abandoned on account of finding no possibilities of making an oil well.

Location was 330 feet from south and east lines of the J. E. Garvin survey No. 402. That made it seven miles west of Winters and five-eighths of a mile northeast of Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 G. W. Poe, recently completed flowing discovery from the Goens lime at 4,442-48 feet.

another 14 hours and recovered 32 barrels of new oil and 12 barrels of salt water.

Swabbing was continuing with 600 feet of fluid in the hole. The 10,815-831 foot interval probably will be reacidified with 1,500 gallons and the section then tested further.

The zone now being tested had swabbed seven hours naturally, before the first acid treatment and during that period it recovered 11 barrels of new oil and seven barrels of salt water.

No. 1 Klapproth had tested for an extended period on perforations in the lower Pennsylvanian at 10,890-938 feet. That zone had been given three acid treatments. The best test of that zone was flowing 30 barrels of oil by heads in 15 hours.

Location is 860 feet from south and 487 feet from east lines of section 14, block 38, T-2-S, T&P survey. It is one location west of Moore Exploration Company No. 1 A. R. Harrison, discovery well and one producer in the Baumann-Pennsylvanian.

The Magnolia project drilled to a total depth of 10,863 feet in barren Ellenburger. The Devonian was also void of any possibilities of producing petroleum.

Pennsylvanian Tests Slated For Wildcat In C-E Lea Region

The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Townsend, Devonian failure on total depth of 13,481 feet in Central-East Lea County, N. M., has been plugged back for tests of the Pennsylvanian.

No. 1 Townsend, which flowed oil from the Wolfcamp on drillstem tests when that formation drilled, also had good shows for possible production in the Canyon. Recovery on a drillstem test in that formation from 11,470 to 11,532 feet was 3,400 feet of free oil and heavily oil and gas-cut fluid.

Location is 680 feet from south and east lines of section 4-16-35e.

Draft registrants who have received pre-induction notice may enlist in the Marine up to the actual time they receive their final induction notice, according to information received from the Odessa recruiting office.

M/Sgt. Art Taylor, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Odessa office, stated that this authority extends until June 30, 1952, and covers those men who have received their pre-induction notice or physical examination.

Cpl. Billy W. Whittington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dora Whittington, Kermit, recently returned to the 31st Infantry Regiment in Korea after a five-day rest and recuperation leave in Kogura, Japan.

A machine gunner in Company I, 31st Infantry Regiment, Corporal Whittington entered the Army in January, 1951. He received his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge.

Doyle W. Rector, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry D. Rector of Kermit, is attached to Utility Squadron Five at the Naval Air Station, Atsugi, Japan.

Here Rector utilizes his training in the repairing of aircraft engines.

Marine Pfc. Jesse D. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Simpson, 1610 South Big Spring Street, Midland, has graduated from Sea School at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

This school prepares Marines for duty aboard ships of the Navy as a permanent part of the ship's detachment.

Also at San Diego are Carl W. Emerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Emerson, Midland, and Billy G. Nix, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Nix of 700 North Baird Street.

Roy E. Douglas, airman, USN, son of Mrs. Ines Douglas of 1600 West Indiana Avenue, Midland, is serving aboard the escort aircraft carrier USS Bairoko, now operating in the Korean combat area.

CARLYLE, ILL. — (AP) — Citizens won't have to pay for parking in order to vote.

For 52 elections parking meters for the first time encircle Clinton county's courthouse which for years had housed Carlyle's polls. The county fathers had fought metered parking around the courthouse, but lost.

They struck back by removing polling places so voters could park freely at polls in residential areas.

FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS

The cattle market was stronger on the few stocker calves consigned but remained weak on most classes of butcher cattle at the Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. Lightweight stocker steer calves sold as high as $40 and others for $33 to $37. Light heifer calves went to $41 and sold generally for $32 to $34. Top price for calves went to Waddell Brothers of Kermit.

Stocker steer yearlings brought $28 to $30 and heifer yearlings $26 to $28. Cows ranged from $18 to $22 and cow and calf pairs for $200 to $250.

Fat calves and yearlings drew $31 to $32.50, mediums $28 to $31, commons $25 to $28. Fat cows cashed for $19 to $21.50, mediums $17 to $19, canners and cullers $13 to $17. Bulls auctioned for $23 to $25. Receipts were 312 head.

Officials have announced that the second annual Seminoe High School Invitational Rodeo has been postponed indefinitely.

The show was slated April 18 and 19 at the Gaines County Fair Grounds, under the sponsorship of the Seminoe High Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

"Due to the increased number of schools showing interest in this year's show, it is felt the rodeo couldn't be handled on a weekend. Therefore, arrangements have been made to have it at a later date," C. J. Murphy, vocational agriculture instructor for Seminoe High School announced.

Some thirty schools throughout the Permian Basin area had accepted invitations to compete.

"All arena fees that have been paid will be returned," Murphy said.

In all probability, the rodeo will be held sometime in mid-September.

The annual Texas 4-H Club Roundup will be held at Texas A&M College June 9-10. The statewide gathering, sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service, for years has been recognized as one of the highlights of the year for 4-H Club members.

According to information released by Extension Director C. C. Gibson, each county will send as official delegates two boys, two girls and two local adult leaders. This number does not include members who will participate in the many judging and team demonstration contests. Only one team from each Extension district may participate in each of the 14 announced contests. District winning teams are to be selected in district contests.

Since the annual Extension Conference will be held later in the year, only a limited number of county Extension agents will attend.

In addition to the contests, delegates will participate in recreation programs, assemblies, training meetings and visit points of interest on the college campus. The State 4-H Council will meet during the Roundup to make plans for other activities covering the remainder of the year.

The Sul Ross College rodeo team piled up more than 150 points above the nearest competitor to win the Intercollegiate Rodeo held at Texas A&M College last week.

Tex Martin of Sul Ross was named All-Round Cowboy after individually totaling 182 points. Sul Ross totaled 463 points.

New Mexico A&M College was second with 310 points.

Other teams by points were Hardin-Simmons University, 170; Southwest Texas Junior College, 154; Baylor University, 127; Sam Houston State, 97 1/2; Texas A&M, 80; Oklahoma A&M, 77; Texas Western, 45; Texas A&I, 20; Odessa Junior College, 10; Arlington State, 7 1/2.

Joe Chase, of Hardin-Simmons, a native of Elbowoods, N. D., and regional director of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, won his fourth title in saddle bronc riding in as many shows for the year, at the A&M event. Other first place honors were won at the Sul Ross, Sam Houston, and Baylor University rodeos.

Chase now leads the nation as the top intercollegiate saddle bronc rider and will defend his title at the national championship show to be held in Oregon in May.

Other Hardin-Simmons winners at A&M were David Rushing, Abilene, who placed second in the bull riding event, and Eldon Dudley, Apache, Okla. NIRA vice president, who placed second in bulldogging and tied for fourth in the last go-around in team roping. Other members of the team, Bill Guest, Ben Everett and Bill Murry, failed to place.

The twelfth annual $6,000 scholarship competition of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association was declared officially open for Texas farm youth by John E. Hutchison, Extension Horticulturist, Texas A&M College, and state adult leader of NJVGA.

Hutchison announced that boys and girls age 12 through 21, with at least one year of garden project work are eligible to compete in this vegetable production and marketing contest.

He described NJVGA as a nationwide, self-governed, rural youth organization which supplements 4-H and FFA programs by offering specialized training in efficient commercial methods of vegetable production and merchandising.

Last year, Hutchison said, boys and girls in 44 states competed for the scholarship grants, donated by A&P Food Stores under a plan that provides a number of awards in each state as well as in sectional, regional and national levels.

Pasture plants in most sections of the state have taken a beating from the weather during the last several months. Rain and more rain is needed badly before the hard hit range plants even can begin their comeback. A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says even under normal conditions the Spring season is the most critical period for range plants.

He says pasture plants need a rest period to regain their vigor and to allow them to produce a seed crop. He encourages livestock producers to graze supplemental pastures, if available, to give ranges a rest for a month or six weeks. This Spring rest will give vigor to native drouth stunted and over-grazed plants. He points out that the usual practice, following a drouth, is to start grazing the range just as soon as the first plants appear and this is not good for the range vegetation.

Rain Must Come First
Such practice may reduce annual forage production by as much as 40 per cent, says the specialist. Such a reduction means that a ranchman could run only 60 head of cows instead of 100 head on an annual basis if he had used better management during the Spring season.

Walker says he realizes that unless weather conditions change very materially in the near future, the Spring growing season will just not happen on a lot of the state's range lands. But when the drouth finally is broken, he urges ranchmen to give the range vegetation a chance to become reestablished. The drouth has sapped their vigor and stopped root development. A good general rain right now would help tremendously.

"Marty" means literally "witness" and acquired its present connotation of "one who dies for a cause" when many early Christians testified to the truth of their convictions by their deaths.

Texas Congressmen Think State Should Adopt Plan Of Preferential Primaries

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 1952 presidential race is focusing attention on the preferential primary system of voting, and Texas congressmen as a whole think their state should adopt the plan.

In fact, every one of them available for comment agrees on the subject.

Only 15 states now have preferential primaries—wherein the individual voter gets to indicate his preference in the selection of the man who will head his party's ticket.

Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson and Abilene is chairman of the House Elections Committee which has been studying legislation designed to bring about establishment of such a voting system in every state through federal aid.

"I'm against the legislation," Burleson said when questioned on the subject. "I'll do everything I can to kill it in committee."

That, of course, is only a part, and a misleading part, of his answer. "I think state preferential primary elections are a good thing," he continued. "But, I also think the states themselves should establish such procedure without any prodding or incentive from Washington."

He said the bill under study by his committee would provide a 20 cents per ballot federal payment to those states which hold preferential primaries.

Acceptance of this subsidy from the government, he says, would take the props out from under him and other Southerners who have opposed a federal anti-poll tax law on the grounds that all such legislation should come exclusively within the provinces of the states. Their own state legislature should provide for the preferential primary and fix rules as to how a man's name would get on the ticket—by petition, convention, write-in or otherwise, the Lone Star State congressman felt.

Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls, who was judge of the 18th Judicial District of Texas before coming to Congress last year, thinks the preferential voting system would give the average citizen a lot of the power now held by a few politicians.

Observing that throughout Texas the delegates to the State Democratic Convention generally are hand-picked, Icard added:

"This is not in any sense a reflection on the honesty or integrity of these leaders.

"It is just a system that has grown up over the years in all but a few counties, and largely through the neglect of the average citizen to take an active enough interest in politics."

He went on to say teachers in public schools should stress that civic responsibility includes not only voting in statewide elections but participation in precinct conventions, where delegates are chosen to start up the ladder toward national assemblies of the party faithful.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa called attention to the primaries already held in New Hampshire and a few other states and the publicity they have received because of the wide-open race among both Democratic and Republican hopefuls.

"This is certainly a most encouraging note," he added. "I have had many heated arguments on the subject because I have always felt that a true democratic form of government demanded an expression from each individual in naming the person to serve as president and vice president."

Agrees With Colleagues
Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston, agreeing with his colleagues from the Panhandle, said:

"There ought to be some way for people to have a say in the selection of the party nominee. They certainly do not now. For practical purposes, they get no choice, that is between the one man who heads the Democrats and the one picked at the Republican National Convention."

Adoption of the preferential voting plan, says Rep. Ken Regan of Midland, would take some of the wind out of the sails of Communists and fellow travelers.

"The preferential primary system would stir up greater interest on the part of the average citizen in selection of the men who run our government," he added.

"At present too many of our good, conservative citizens, the merchant, banker and steady workman, just sit by and let that other crowd dominate politics."

San Angelo's Congressman Clark Fisher, expressing the hope that Texas would adopt preferential balloting, said:

"Although we talk about being a free nation, the average person under the present system has little to say about the selection of the president. Too few of them participate in conventions."

Others who endorsed the preferential voting system and said they thought it would be good in their state included Reps. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi, W. R. Poage of Waco and Wright Patman of Texasarkana.

UNCLE EF

Aunt Molly Harmsworth snorted in disgust when she heard some of the younger women complaining that they couldn't get new Easter dresses because of high prices. She said she remembered when she had to go without a new dress because her late beloved husband's trotter needed a new blanket.

Area Officers Arrest Two Deserters

The arrests in Midland and Iran of two deserters from the armed forces were announced Friday night by Harvey G. Foster, special agent in charge of the El Paso office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

William James McIlwain, a deserter from the U. S. Navy, was taken into custody at Iran by Deputy Sheriff Wayne Cummings of Pecos County and special agents of the FBI. He deserted from Seattle, Wash., Jan. 4, 1952, Foster said, and was employed in the oil fields near Iran when apprehended by officers.

Weldon Edward Piere, a deserter from the U. S. Air Force, was taken into custody by FBI agents while at work in Midland. The FBI official said Piere deserted Keesler Air Force Base, Miss., Dec. 9, 1951. He is being held in the Midland County jail, and will be released to Air Force authorities, according to the FBI agent.

Senior Play Is Scheduled In MHS Auditorium April 17-18

The Senior play, "January Thaw" will be held in the Midland High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. April 17 and 18. Admission will be 40 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

Seniors With Main Roles In Play Have Drama Background

The leading roles of "January Thaw" are being played by two deserving seniors, Martha Stone and Tom Vannaman. As Mr. and Mrs. Gage, these two seem to have a great deal of trouble keeping their active household on an even keel.

Both seniors have been active in dramatics throughout high school. Martha and Tom both took part in the Junior play, "Growing Pains." In the recent Thespian play, "Night of January Sixteenth," Martha was student director while Tom was the defense attorney. Tom has taken part in several literary events as debates and contest plays, while Martha has taken part in one-act plays.

Martha moved to Midland two years ago from California where she lived for eight years. She was born on February 10th, 1935. In Tulsa, Okla., where she also lived for several years, Martha's likes and dislikes are numerous. She prefers dancing, bowling, the color green, to sleep late, and to play tennis. If she ever learns how, she dislikes cowboy hats, people without a sense of humor and olives.

Martha's schedule consists of typing, shorthand, homemaking, American history and office. She is a member of the National Thespian Society. After graduation, Martha plans to attend San Angelo Junior College where she will study business.

Tom's schedule is especially full as he is taking A Cappella English, typing, debate and algebra this year. He also is a member of the National Thespian, National Honor and Forensic Societies.

Tom has attended Midland schools throughout the entire 12 grades. At an early age, he moved from Fort Worth, where he was born July 11, 1934. His likes are many and dislikes are few, if any. The color brown and fried chicken rate top with him, while he likes all of his subjects and teachers. Tom has decided to study business law after his graduation from the University of Texas.

Clublicity

The Future Business Leaders gathered material to start the construction of their scrap book. They decided on the size and color of the cover. Barbara Long and Virginia Webb will print the name on the scrap book. The other members will work on material for the scrap book.

The Altrusa Club had Miss Barker from the First National Bank to talk about the opportunities offered in the banking business.

The Junior Classical League was called to order by the vice president, Buzzy Bray, and the last meeting's minutes were read by the secretary, Ann Grayson. Reports were then given by Joan Fitzgerald, Nancy Crosswell and Mary Ann Seales. The rest of the period was devoted to studying for six-weeks test.

Roane Puett Gets Navy Scholarship

Roane Puett, 1951 graduate of Midland High School, recently qualified for a scholarship given by the United States Navy. He secured the scholarship through competitive tests taken at the University of Texas.

Puett is now a freshman in the university. At the time of the completion of his work with the Navy, he will be commissioned as an ensign.

Band Wins Sweepstakes In Interscholastic Contest

The Midland High School band won a sweepstakes trophy at the Interscholastic League Band Contest in Kermit recently. This trophy symbolizes a first division in each of the three required events: concert, sight-reading and marching.

Small Talk

Well, once again, I see there have been no casualties over six-weeks exams. Have you ever stopped to think that we have only one more six-weeks left before those long-awaited Summer holidays arrive?

The Seniors were proudly, though a little half-heartedly, showing off their invitations to graduation last week. The invitations are very pretty, with white backgrounds, and a sketch of the school shown on front.

If you went to the Youth Center last Wednesday or Tuesday, you had to dodge flying pimps, mop pails, duct rags, and paint brushes, as YC members were busy giving the building a real spring cleaning. Pete English surely does make a good floor-mopper. (I mean, of course, that he is very handy with a mop.)

Our Bulldog Band came home from Kermit last Saturday sporting a "sweepstakes" trophy. It was presented in assembly Wednesday. Congratulations, Mr. Mills, and band members!

Here's hoping that you are making the most of the Easter holidays. Many students made plans to go out of town. Betty Pitzer is going to Oklahoma City. Evelyn Adams and Vera Beasley have interests in Tyler and Dallas. Basil Weaver is contemplating a couple of days in Odessa. Janel Bollin is going to Oklahoma City, and Jerry Wallace is going to Fort Worth and general vicinity.

Special messages: Marion Sever wishes to extend a very happy birthday to Pat Boles. A little bird told me that Marion Sever had a real cute book cover on her radio speech book. It seems that the design is unusual. Well, Marion?

The senior play cast has, in a sense, been taking life easy. For two days last week they got to miss fifth and sixth period classes. Of course, they were working hard on the play.

We had a day or two of cool weather last week, but nevertheless, people are coming out in Spring clothes. The girls' favorite costume for school seems to be sleeveless blouses and cotton skirts, while the boys seem to favor cotton sport shirts and blue jeans.

Spring fever is not the only thing students are breaking out with lately. A number of students have broken out with measles, sore throats, and mumps.

Well, the deadline is just around the corner, so I guess that I better sign off for now. See you around!

Band Plays For Assembly Program

In an assembly April 4, the Midland High School band, under the direction of Ralph B. Mills, played the three contest numbers that were played for the contest in the Kermit contest.

The numbers played were: "Amoroso Roco," "Italian in Algiers," and "Au Pays Lorrain." Following the numbers by the band, a film on narcotics was shown.

In assembly April 9, awards from the band contest in Kermit were presented. Ice hockey first was played in documentary form in Europe in the 18th century, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sarah, Paula and Barbara by Joan Turner, Madelon Schabarum and Emily Studdert. Jonathan and Madelon Rockwood are played by Lilla Roberts and Mary Ann Seales, and their son, Matt, by Corky Moss. George Husted is Joe Turner. Mr. Loomis is Harold Atkinson. Uncle Walter is Harry Harrison; Carson is Stan Coker and the Constable is Pete English.

sight-reading of a march and an overture. Saturday night the band performed a five-minute marching drill including the required precision movements. Announcements of the band ratings were made at the close of the marching contest.

In addition to the band's first divisions, 40 band members received first division medals for solo and ensemble work. Awards went to the following: Jackie Matthews, piccolo solo; Rip Griffith, oboe solo; Barbara Wilson, clarinet solo; Wanda Steele, clarinet solo; Larry Lindsey, trombone solo; Bill Fannin, trombone solo; Jack Michener, trombone solo; Bill Aldrich, baritone solo; Phillip McFadden, snare drum solo; Anna Bess Doyle, snare drum solo; Janice Michener, snare drum solo.

Phillip McFadden, marimba solo; Marshall Chase, Pat Rutledge, Skipper Clements, and Ronald Pope, clarinet quartet; Bobby Jean Willig, Wanda Steele, Barbara Wilson, and Brownie Queen, clarinet quartet; Alan Harris, Jimmy Smith, Horace Greenstreet, and Vincent Bounds, saxophone quartet; Nathan Tinkle, Larry Lindsey, Bob St. Clair, and Bill Aldrich; Fred Haase, and Edwin Patterson, brass sextet; Phillip McFadden, Anna Bess Doyle, Juanice Michener, Jimmy McClatchy, Larry Pierce, drum quintet, Claudia Hammer, Sue Michener, and Jackie Matthews, woodwind trio; Larry Mayfield, student conductor; and Alan Harris, student conductor.

Free Lance

Holy Week, the week preceding Easter, has brought out in most of us a renewal of interest in the great Christian teachings and principles.

One of the most forceful and penetrating themes taught by Christ was that of forgiveness. This theme runs throughout all of his teachings and is most strikingly presented in the parable of the "Unforgiving Servant." In this story a king forgave a debtor, and then the debtor was not willing to pass the same forgiveness on to one indebted to him.

One of Shakespeare's greatest writings, "The Merchant of Venice," also highlights this theme of forgiveness—its strongest feature being Portia's speech on "The Quality of Mercy," as Shakespeare terms it. It is very appropriate that at this time we "take stock" of ourselves to see if we are asking forgiveness and failing to give it.

"How shalt thou hope for mercy, rendering none?"

Adults, Children Alike Are Happy For Easter Season

Easter, to many people, is a time of commemoration of the resurrection of Christ; while to others it is a mere observance of American customs and traditions.

Young children look forward eagerly to the bright colored eggs and things the Easter bunny will bring. They enjoy the stories and activities of Easter.

Adults enjoy the beauty of the Easter lily and other spring flowers. Few ladies are seen on Easter morning without a new bonnet. Little girls are seen in fluffy dresses and small boys are seen sporting new suits.

Bulldog Barks

Congratulations should be extended to our Midland High School track team which placed second in the district meet held at Odessa. Midland placed first in the mile relay and in the 440-yard dash; second in the 440-yard relay; third in the 100-yard high hurdle and 180-yard low hurdle; and 230-yard dash; fourth in the 100-yard dash, the discus throw, and the mile run. Midland tied for first in the pole vault. Midland, along with Lubbock, who placed third in the meet, and Odessa, who won the meet, will be eligible to compete in the regional meet in Lubbock April 19. Good luck to the tracksters in the coming meet.

The tennis team failed to win any matches in the district meet. Odessa won all of the matches in both boys and girls events.

Meaning Of Freedom

(An Editorial) What does freedom mean to you? It was for freedom that our ancestors came to America. It was for freedom that we have fought two major and innumerable minor wars. Do not think that we have freedom from want, for there is much poverty in America. Rather, we have freedom to strive against want, to protect ourselves, our families and our homes against danger. Very few other countries can honestly boast this.

Often freedom is not appreciated until it is taken away. And once one has practiced freedom, he cannot do without it. He has lost his chance for improvement and his desire for success, which goes hand in hand with freedom. Sometimes people get a wrong conception of freedom. Freedom is not the right to do as one pleases, but the right to do as one pleases as long as it does not inflict upon others. So enjoy freedom, respect freedom, and value freedom highly; for once it is lost, the right to regain it is lost also.

John W. Zant Is Likeable Senior

Sometimes, if you see a quiet, good-natured, black-haired, brown-eyed boy playing a hard game of tennis, chances are that he is John Zant, an easy-going, but likeable senior.

John William Zant was born in Midland, April 29, 1934. John's favorites include cars, photography and food for pastimes; while he says a good steak with French fries is his favorite dish; tennis and football rate high in the line of sports; and his favorites in music are hillbilly and Dixieland.

John has played on the tennis team for four years and played football on the B squad when he was a sophomore.

John's subjects this year include English, physics, trigonometry, algebra, typing and tennis. His favorite teacher is Mr. Bollin while he says that his pet peeve is "people who don't like hillbilly music."

John plans to attend Texas Tech next and major in engineering.

Remember When?

One year ago: Larry Mayfield was selected to represent Midland at Boys State. Rosemond Turner was the featured female.

Tommy Vannaman won UN Student Contest. The radio speech class presented a program.

On Monday the cafeteria featured steaks. Thirteen MHS students took top honors at the Inter-Scholastic League Contest in Lubbock. Patay Pyle was named the All-Tournament player in volleyball at Lamesa.

Two years ago: Nancy Klingler was the featured student. The date for the senior play was announced.

Two Make Second All-District Team

Two Midland girls made the second all-district volleyball team at Odessa recently. They are Lelia Norwood and Louise Bralley. The two received silver volleyballs.

There were four schools entered in the tournament: Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, and Lamesa. Big Spring took the first place trophy and Odessa took second place.

The girls played Big Spring. The line-up was: Gibbs, Crawford, Switzer, Bralley, Henson and Norwood. The girls lost by a score of 23-15.

Scores for the other games were: Odessa-Lamesa, 24-17, and Big Spring Odessa, 23-17.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Wilson are working hard on the Gymboree that will be held in the near future.

John Senior Finally Gets Invitations

There he was, John Q. Senior sat at his desk with bowed head and an open book before him. Little did John realize that he was soon to embark upon a trip.

Suddenly the loud speaker of the inter-communication system boomed and our John sat rigid with ears tuned. He strained his ears as the last whistle died away and the rasping of a man's voice carried through the little brown box on the wall. He made the announcement that John was to pack up and go on this adventurous trip.

Excitedly he closed his book and dug up his notebook from under desk. He hopped out of his chair and tore through the door, much to the amusement of Miss Mary English, and began his long trek through the halls of good old MHS.

And as he had suspected, it did turn out to be an adventurous trip. As he walked past the many doors he stopped periodically and glanced in the window to see one of his friends hard at work. And as he continued he would meet other acquaintances walking down toward him, and John was thrilled, for he hadn't seen Sue Senior since last class.

Upon reaching the stairs, he hiked his leg over the bannister and slid down with the glee of a four-year-old on his first tricycle. He then made a sharp turn and entered the door which led into a room filled with sewing machines and other paraphernalia that he had seen his mother use so often.

He stopped with a jerk and his startled eyes beheld a large brown box containing envelopes and white cards. At last! He had his senior invitations.

Barbara Kiatt has a brother Ernest who also is a sophomore. If she can become an efficient secretary she expects to own a new Plymouth. Jane Wyman and Audie Murphy are her favorite cinema stars. Miss Klapproth and algebra are enjoyed by Barbara.

Theresa Jones is an ambitious freshman who is especially interested in music, speech and English and plans on following these interests at SMU. There is seldom a square-dance without Theresa being a participant. She thoroughly enjoys school and its activities.

Coming Events

- Monday—No school! Easter holiday.
- Tuesday—Clubs, Group I, Wednesday—Assembly.
- Thursday—Advisory rooms.
- Friday—Advisory rooms.

BUCKET-SIZE EDITION—Believed to be the smallest printed books in the world, two volumes of a German publication are compared in size to a postage stamp. Each tiny book approximately one-quarter-inch square, contains 20 pages printed with the Lord's Prayer and 19 blank pages. A strong magnifying glass is needed to read the microscopic printing in the volumes, printed in Munich.

Shuttle Ferry For Lake Texoma Is Due To Oil Man's Action

DENISON—(P)—Shuttle ferry service for Lake Texoma between Gordonville and Willis, Okla., is expected to be started this Summer all because an oil-rich West Texan got tired of driving an extra 100 miles every time he went to Oklahoma to visit his property.

The ferry godfather is Claud McCormick of Snyder, who has revealed his plans to return ferry service between Willis and Gordonville for the first time since the mid-1930's, when the Engineer Corps started its survey that led to the construction of the Denison Dam.

McCormick, a strapping West Texan who is the father of five sons and a daughter, got clearance for his project from the Grayson County Commissioners' Court Saturday and is due to get a similar okay from Marshall County in Oklahoma.

Judge J. N. Dickson of Sherman said the court passed a resolution agreeing to put in and maintain a road to the Gordonville approach to the ferry and to properly license the ferry after it passed federal safety standards.

Plan Is Endorsed Marshall County Judge George L. Sneed at Madill, Okla., also endorsed the plan and said the county court was slated to meet soon and agree to put in a road and to otherwise push the plan.

That's all that McCormick is waiting on—his permission from the two states. Once he gets that, he said he was ready to start operating.

"I plan to use a pontoon type barge that will hold some 12 passenger cars at one time," he said. "I plan now to have this built at the lake."

To propel the ferry-barge across the two-mile strip of water, McCormick plans to get a tug boat. He will go to the Gulf Coast and try and find one around New Orleans, bringing it up the Mississippi and Red River to the foot of the Denison Dam and then over the dam into the lake.

In this respect, he will be following the pattern set by Denison's Wilburn brothers, who brought a 90-foot excursion craft, the Wanderer, from Greenville, Miss., to Texoma, and G. E. Hibarger of St. Louis, who brought the 72-foot Idle-Time from the Lake of the Ozarks to Texoma.

The Wanderer burned and sank. The Idle-Time is still in operation. McCormick said he had no idea of what it would cost to complete his project, saying it would be "quite expensive."

"Anyway," he added, "I am tired of that extra 100 miles I have to travel every time I go to Oklahoma to check my property!"

Fastest bird known to man is the swift. Some species of this bird attain speeds estimated at 200 miles per hour.

SETTLED—Harry Ferguson, British inventor, settled his $341,600,000 patent infringement and anti-trust against the Ford Motor Company for $9,250,000. Judge Gregory F. Noonan, who handled the claim in New York, believes it to be the largest ever brought to court in this country.

Agao Khan Donation Is Reported Lost

BOMBAY—(P)—More than a third of the $1,339,719 which the Aga Khan donated to his Khilja Moslem followers in 1946 has been lost to the beneficiaries.

The presentation came after the diamond jubilee celebration of the Aga Khan when he was weighed against diamonds in Bombay. The Aga Khan had given the money equal in value to the diamonds for the improvement of educational facilities.

Shortly after the deposit of $614,900 of the funds in a banking concern, the firm went into liquidation and the money was lost.

More House For Less Money Is Goal Of Home-Builders

Thousands of U. S. merchant home-builders are seeking to provide larger, houses at lower costs, one objective being to supply better homes in the below-$12,000 price range, according to the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.

One reason for this is that federal government rules require down payments on above-$12,000 homes to be considerably higher in proportion than on houses priced below $12,000. A war veteran must make an initial payment of $600 on a $12,000 house, but it jumps to $1,700 for a $19,000 home. For a $10,000 house, the down payment under veterans' terms is $600.

Quality Remains High
Much research has been carried on in recent years by builders, government agencies and materials manufacturers toward producing moderately-priced homes without lowering quality. This move has been accelerated by the shortage of steel and aluminum.

Kitchen and bathroom are being placed at the front of the house to bring them closer to the utility supply lines, saving substantial amounts of pipe and wire. This has resulted in locating the living room at the rear, permitting it to overlook an attractively landscaped rear garden and removing it from street noises.

Specific Dollar-Savers
Open room-planning, eliminating partitions between living room and dining room, and sometimes between these and the kitchen, is a cost-saver which results in more spacious living quarters. Greater storage space is provided at less cost by dividing rooms with storage walls instead of ordinary closets.

Garports instead of fully-enclosed garages now allow thousands of families in moderately-priced homes a place to keep their automobiles which they would not have otherwise.

Because of savings effected by countless other new construction techniques, the net result is that the building industry is attaining its goal of producing more livable homes, with more space and more conveniences than a few years ago.

Household Tools Should Be Kept In Convenient Place

COLLEGE STATION — Home-makers can save time and trouble by keeping a select number of household tools where they can be found. Gladys Darden, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests a household repair kit or a tool board for every home.

A fishing tackle or similar box makes an excellent container for all small tools and supplies. Tacks, nails, hooks, screws, glue and other such articles may be kept in the small divisions in the tray of the box. In the bottom, store such tools as the hammer, pliers, screw driver, small wrench, putty knife, awls, files, assorted bolts, washers, friction tape, sandpaper and a spool of wire. Large tools such as the saw and plane may be hung on a tool rack or kept in a special place.

If you prefer a tool board, Miss Darden suggests there be a place for each tool. If one is missing, the empty space shows the tool should be found. The board may be hung on the wall and brass hooks may be used to hold the tools. The appearance of the board is improved by giving it a coat of stain or paint.

For a long time, each 10 years has seen about two million more dairy cattle in the United States.

You'll find this hutch table attractive as well as a space-saver.

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

The hutch table is a throwback to our thirty colonial Yankee forebears who tried to make everything serve as least a double purpose. While a combination chair and table may be less expensive than a chair and a table, the principal virtue of the hutch table is the saving of space which usually is at a premium in today's compact average home.

This table may be built of any wood you choose but knotty pine would be more in keeping with the character of the seat. The wood used in the chair seat and the table top may be of random widths.

The first thing to build is the chair part, according to the dimensions given in the accompanying sketch. The four legs, two arms, four seat rails and four bottom rungs are made from 2x2 stock.

Assemble Sides
Assemble the sides of the chair first, countersink and recess the assembling screws and coat both surfaces of each joint with modern waterproof casein glue. Then draw the screws tightly into place.

Furniture clamps aren't absolutely necessary in this case but always are recommended in gluing up. Assuming that you have been careful in squaring up the sides until they match, the next step is to join the sides together with the remaining seat rails and bottom rungs. Use the same method of glue and screws as on the side assemblies. The seat planks may be of any width and are plug-screwed and glued into the supporting frame.

Clamps Or Wedges
The table top should be assembled carefully and may be made up of random widths. The planks should be edge-glued together to make a solid piece and furniture clamps at this point will save time. If you have none, the planks may be drawn together by wedges as shown in the sketch. If clamps are used, fasten the planks into the runners by the screw and plug method while they are under pressure. If the wedge method of applying pressure is used, the sketch is self-explanatory.

The finish of the piece is up to you since you'll probably want it to match existing pieces in your home.

Preventive Repair Now Saves Costly Home Bills Later

It's time to begin a check of the house for Spring repairs.

"Preventive maintenance" of trouble areas now will save major expenses later, the Title Council of America advises. Here are some things to look for and correct:

1. Replacement of plumbing can be costly, and many supplies are short due to the government restrictions. If you notice that water is flowing too slowly through pipes, check them for rust, corrosion and other clogging. In some cases, a cleaning compound will correct the matter; in others, replacement of pipe sections may be required.

2. Wooden floors rot from continuous exposure to water, as in bathroom, kitchen or laundry. It is wise to protect structures under the floor by removing old, crumbling surfaces and replacing them with waterproof, long-lasting material, using the same durable surface for wainscots.

"Start From Scratch"
3. If your kitchen or bathroom needs a lot of work, it probably would be wiser to "start from scratch" and undertake a complete remodeling job, including replacement of appliances, installation of easily cleaned and waterproof counters and work surfaces of clay tile, and rearrangement of facilities to provide for greatest efficiency.

4. Doors which fit badly, due to house-settling or old age, are fuel wasters as well as eyesores. Warping, loose hinges, and sagging frames are some of the faults to seek out.

5. Heat losses as high as 25 per cent can result from improper weatherstripping. The last winter probably has shown which windows and doors are guilty, not only of wasting heat, but also of admitting extra dust and dirt.

Main Purpose Of Boys' Training School Is Leading To Better Way Of Thinking

GATESVILLE—(P)—The kid said he was 15 years old and had been in the state training school for boys four months.

In for selling whiskey. Learn anything here? "Yes, Ma'am. I'm not gonna get in trouble no more."

How'd they teach that to you? A shrug of the shoulders—I'm just not gonna get in no more trouble."

Take another kid—he's 14 and has been in for six months for breaking into a service station.

"I ain't gonna do that no more," he volunteered.

The boy loafing nearer interrupted: "You'll pay for your own gasoline next time, won't you, bub?" "You betcha."

The superintendent of the school, S. L. Bellamy, says that's the primary purpose of the school — "to change the attitude of the boys sent here and lead them to a better way of thinking."

Administration officials would like more workers and a better physical plant to help them do that. And the Legislature has helped by appropriating money for a new gymnasium, now nearing completion, and repair of buildings.

Blank Dormitories
Right now the boys are living in bleak, unadorned dormitories — no frills, no curtains, no rugs on the concrete floors. Nothing but iron cots and board tables. A few have couches and game tables in the recreation room.

The cots are upstairs in one huge room, lined up in three rows. In the middle of the room is the floor-to-ceiling steel mesh enclosing the iron stairway. Against one wall are showers and bathroom facilities. In a box attached to the stairway mesh are numbered toothbrushes and toothpaste.

The boys have no closets, no place to put any personal belongings. Underneath their mattresses is the place for comic books, pictures, whatever a boy wants to keep.

Downstairs is the clothes room—wooden shelves on a wall. The school furnishes the khaki shirts and trousers for the boys. And a matron on duty only stays in the clothes room to keep things mended.

Divided Into Companies
There are about 430 boys at the school. They are divided into "companies," of an average of 40 boys each. Each company is assigned a dormitory.

The guards and supervisors at the dormitories and in the kitchen dining room, dairy bars, carpenter shop, mechanics shop and fields where the boys work are men.

Most of them look like former cowboys.

Just one day's visit at the school left an impression of an atmosphere of "we'll play fair with you—but you gotta play fair with us, too."

Superintendent Bellamy, who has been here less than a year, started a student council in February. A lot of taxpayers commented that's a bunch of mullarkey for thieves, forgers, rapists and murderers.

To that criticism, Bellamy replies: "We're going to do everything we can to help the individual kid." The school has had no whippings in years. Punishment means confinement in what everybody here calls the "bull pen." It's just one of those big barnlike rooms with iron cots, where boys must stay constantly under guard. They lose privileges such as having visitors on visiting days or going to the movies shown three nights a week on the campus.

Confinement may be anywhere from three to 30 days.

The punishment is decided by a committee of 10 members who are administrative officials of the school. The committee meets on each Monday and Friday and calls the boy before it.

One we'll call Tommy had been reported for cursing his supervisor in the kitchen detail where he had been assigned.

"Tell us about it, Tommy," said assistant superintendent M. B. Kindrick.

"Well he had that pan of hot biscuits, and I had my hand in the way and I burned by hand and cursed. I was mad at myself for being so stupid."

"Yes, sir."

Tommy went outside while the committee talked it over. He was called back to be notified that he'd get three days in the bull pen.

For Various Offenses
Other boys were up for various offenses—fighting with other boys, cursing, running away.

Last year the school had an average of some 27 runaways a month. Most of the boys are caught right on the campus.

One tousele-headed cotton-top about 15 was sitting at the sewing machine trying to mend a torn buttonhole. He'd been up for fighting the week before. He looked up from the sewing machine like any harassed mother with a million things to do and said to Kindrick:

"You know, I went into that committee expecting 10 days. Ten days in the bull pen. That's what I expected. And you gave me three. Why, why I got outside and then turned around and went back in and thanked you. That's what I did. Thanked you."

AFRICAN CRISIS—Prime Minister Daniel Malan, top, of the Union of South Africa, fighting proponent of racial segregation, faces a crisis as thousands of aroused European whites and native negroes demand new elections to remove his government from office. His chief critic, Senator George H. Nichols, below, accused Malan before Parliament of leading his country toward dictatorship with his discriminatory racial measures.

Moscow Claims Rose Oil Output Record

BELGRADE—(P)—For years, Bulgaria boasted a monopoly in production of attar of roses for the world market. To protect its two-century-old trade in that field, it had banned the export of Bulgarian roses from which the attar is made.

But Russia sniffed a pretty penny in the offing when, in the guise of protector, it took over domination of Bulgarian economic affairs. It began soon after the war sending Bulgarian rose seeds back home for planting, and production of the attar.

Now, it is Russia's turn to boast. The Soviets claim they have become the world's largest producer of the oil from rose petals—a statement recently vouched for by the Russian news agency "Tass." Responsible Yugoslav sources say Russia also markets the Bulgarian exports and pockets the profits.

Bullet-Proof Vests To Protect Planters

JOHORE BAHRU, MALAYA—(P)—American carbines and bullet-proof vests soon will be protecting Malaya's rubber planters against Red terrorist attacks.

H. A. Cides, chairman of the Johore Planters Association, said the United Planting Association of Malaya has carried out successful tests with a type of American bullet-proof vests. Malaya's rubber planters, who have lost 64 colleagues in the past three years in terrorist ambushes, have been demanding better protection.

It Just Might Be Your Fault If The Children Are Demons

There are two ways a woman can stay young-looking, despite the attrition of years. One way is to devote her life to "taking care of herself"—by never working very hard, making a ritual out of a beauty routine, never shouldering other people's troubles, unloading her own troubles on others, taking great pains in the selection of her clothes. You meet such women, and because they've made a life's work of "taking care of themselves," they do look remarkably young for their years. Looking young is about all they manage to get out of life, or give to it. However, there is a method of staying young-looking that really pays off. Women who follow it meet life courageously, and with enthusiasm. They lighten the load of others, and shoulder their own responsibilities. They cultivate many interests, make friendships, and keep up with the changing times.

Sunrise Service Slated At Kermit

KERMIT—A county-wide sunrise Easter service will be held in Walton at 8:15 Sunday. Members of the Winkler County Ministerial Alliance have extended invitations to all residents of the area to attend this service, which is the first such annual sunrise service.

The Rev. Clifford Spencer, pastor of the Wink First Baptist Church, will deliver the special Easter sermon. Sherwood Meredith, musical director of the Kermit First Baptist Church, will direct a large choir composed of all members of all the church choirs in the county.

The Rev. Charles Walker, pastor of the Kermit Methodist Church; the Rev. C. B. Harper, pastor of the Grace Temple Baptist Church, Kermit, and the Rev. Harvey Carol, pastor of the Wink First Methodist Church, are members of the program committee.

Hang pictures at eye level for the most dramatic and interesting effects.

Wishing You A glorious Easter

"O Calvary's Cross our Lord died so that we might have life everlasting. May you glory in the word of God and receive His blessings. DOWN TOWN BUCHE SERVICE, 107-09 North Main, offers this Easter greeting with best wishes from the management for peace and happiness. Dial 2-1711.

Hail The Blessed Resurrection

The solace of prayer... the beauty of Easter music... provide nourishment for the spirit in this time of chaos and strife. May you share again in the Easter miracle this Sunday. May you experience the spiritual exaltation of worshipping with those dear to you. It is especially fitting that we attend church today and hear and ponder again the blessed words of our Lord. On Easter, hallel of days, reaffirm the miracle of Christ's resurrection. ANCHOR FISH AND MEAT MARKET, 401 North Fort Worth.

The Spirit Of Easter

"Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ... The Easter story... the story of the crucifixion and resurrection, reveals that on Good Friday, sin, man's first enemy, was conquered. On Easter Sunday man's last enemy, death, was conquered. Because of this, we do not live in order to die; we die in order to live. May the teachings forever be in our hearts." WOOD SERVICE STATIONS, No. 1 East Highway, No. 3 West Highway, No. 3 501 East Texas, extends this thought for your Easter Day.

Easter Thoughts

Let us take our places in the house of the Lord, and lift up our voices with all who sing the praises of Him who died on Calvary's Cross. Let us glory in Him and find peace in His word. Christ the Lord has risen today. "Alleluia!" This thought for the Day is offered by BUDDY FLORES, 1506 West Wall, Call 4-7419 and the florist will deliver your floral gifts. There is always a complete selection of fresh, lovely flowers for every occasion.

Follow In His Light

"Let us worship God in the House of the Lord. Let us pray for divine guidance to follow in His light, so that we may be blessed with eternal life. May the glory and full meaning of Easter forever be in your hearts." PHILLIPS ELECTRIC, 218 North Main, has reserved this space in the column to express this thought for your happiness and well-being.

Easter Greetings

"Ring out the bells... our Lord has risen. Sing His praises on this glorious Easter Sunday, and rejoice in His word. May the blessings of this wondrous Easter season be upon you and yours." HORTON'S CASH GROCERY, 560 East Florida, extends this wish for your happiness on this glorious Easter Day and hopes you will join your friends and family on this most glorious occasion, in attending the services commemorating the anniversary of the Beloved Christ, risen.

Holy Easter

"The gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Rom. 6:23. May the risen Lord bless you and yours with peace and contentment, too, and the joy of this Holy Easter, bringing healing cheer to you. UMBERSON JEWELRY extends this thought for your Easter Day.

Why Easter

"Life takes on a new meaning... Spring blossoms forth... a new season is created. Easter means that people of all faiths can share in their beliefs. Only in the United States is freedom of worship a heritage. In these troubled times let us look to the meaning of Easter and help build our country stronger. Let us hope that every Easter will bring greater things to our country... so that we may continue our precious heritage." RICH AND LUCIOUS, PHILLIPS OF SERVICE, 500 West Wall, offers this message for Easter.

Altrusa Club Entertains Leila Cachola, Student From Manila

A girl from Manila who is taking up western ways is visiting in Midland this week.

Leila Cachola isn't exactly a cow-girl yet but she is partial to cow-boys and cowboy clothes.

Miss Cachola from Narvancana, Pecos, N.M., is a student at the University of Texas on a scholarship given by the Seventh District of Altrusa Clubs. She is spending the Easter holidays as a guest of the Midland Altrusa Club.

She came to the United States in August, 1935, on a Fulbright Scholarship and attended San Francisco College for Women for a year. Under the Fulbright scholarship surplus war materials are sold with the money being used to send students to school in other countries.

Under this scholarship Miss Cachola could attend school only one year. After that she was awarded the Seventh District Altrusa Scholarship. According to Mrs. H. M. Phillips, Altrusa will "see her through all the way."

Plans To Teach
Next year she will attend John Stille College of Nursing in Galveston, the medical-branch of Texas University. After that Miss Cachola says she will go back home and do clinical teaching in her hometown hospital. Among other things she will train nurses for rural work. When asked what differences she noticed in the United States she said the thing that impressed her was the informality on college campuses between the faculty and students. She said in Manila there is a barrier between them. Also she commented on the fact there is more organized extra-curricular activities here.

Commenting on the food, she said in her home they used a lot more spices and oils than we do. But she is very fond of American salads.

According to Miss Cachola, avocados are good for something besides salads. She said they grow very large in Manila and avocado ice cream is a favorite dish. Also ice cream is made from coconuts—the very young ones.

Diseases Prevalent
When asked about the health problems in Manila she said tuberculosis was the No. 1 cause of death. Also there is a lot of leprosy.

Leila Cachola

But through the aid of the United States malaria has been reduced to approximately three per cent.

At the University of Texas, Miss Cachola lives at Shangri-la House, a co-op house staffed by students. The students take turns doing all the duties.

While in Midland she will be entertained with a number of breakfasts and dinners. Friday night she was guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Altrusa Club in the home of Mrs. J. B. McCoy.

The Altrusa Clubs have educated 55 girls from South America. "So far Altrusa has never made a mistake—all the girls turn out to be excellent in their field," said Mrs. Phillips.

Camera Group Hears Lecture

The first in a series of photographic lectures, accompanied by projected slides, was presented by Hal Shaner, program chairman, at the Thursday meeting of the Midland Palette Club Camera Group.

These lectures, sponsored by the Eastman Kodak Company, will be presented once a month. The next lecture, "Snap That Picture," is scheduled for May 8.

Shaner announced the assignment for this week will be a picture-story consisting of three or more pictures which tell a story without benefit of text. The pictures are to be mounted, if possible.

To Receive Name

It was decided to give the group the official name of the Midland Camera Club, although it still will be a part of the Palette Club. Suggestions made for future programs included individual exhibits by members of the club, field trips for the purpose of taking pictures and group developing and printing.

Midland Artist Four Scout Troops To Exhibit Work Meet In Little House

Three oil paintings by Mrs. R. L. Clarke are to be exhibited this week in the display window of the Midland Palette Club Art Center.

The paintings, all done in the modern spirit, are termed by Mrs. Clarke as "studies in stylized painting."

Mrs. Clarke first came to Midland in 1935. She has exhibited her work in several Texas art shows and has won a number of first place ribbons. She has been active in the Palette Club since 1947 and also in the American Association of University Women. It was through Mrs. Clarke's work with the two clubs that the annual Midland Art Festival was begun.

Elections, scrapbook work and an Easter egg hunt were features of Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout troop meetings Thursday in the Little House.

Paula Ford was named chairman of Brownie Troop 55. Guests were Mrs. W. M. Osborn and Carol. The group made plans for a train trip to Odessa next week.

Intermediate Troop 41 worked on its Girl Scout scrapbook. Mrs. Carson-Wells was a guest. An Easter egg hunt was held by Brownie Troop 51. Visitors were Carolyn Mastings and Mrs. Sam Woods.

Intermediate Troop 57 made a badge chart and a caper chart. They also discussed plans for a cookout to be held May 25.

The surface of the human body is approximately 16 square feet.

TEEN TALK
 By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newswriter

If you want to be pretty and healthy in the coming years, don't strive to be as skinny as your favorite fashion model. That's the advice of Mary Jane Moore, R. N. Says she:

"The plumpness teen-agers develop will go away in time without resorting to drastic diet.

Some girls, of course, are really obese. But these girls can slim down to proper proportions for their age by sensible diet and exercise."

Miss Moore, a registered nurse, wrote "You Can Too" (J. J. Tepper), a book which was written to prescribe "a healthful path for the over-eater." She adds:

"When teen-agers ponder about being overweight, they must consider their skins, because the very things that make them fat, also are injurious to their skins. There are chocolate candies, ice cream, sauces, malted milks, sodas, fried and other rich foods."

"Instead of stopping at the local soda store for a fish malted milk or a bar of chocolate or soda, why not, she suggests, have tomato juice, apple juice, krait juice, vegetable juice or unsweetened lime or lemonade. If you can get your crowd interested in ordering these healthful juices, pretty soon the proprietor will have them on tap. She explains:

"Young people struggling between the 'eradic and adult stage' develop a 'herd complex,' a follow-the-leader kind of existence, mainly because they are not ready to stand on their own feet. They stuff themselves with sweets because they are unsure of themselves."

During this upsetting period, many teen-agers become unduly emotional, according to her. Worry is bad enough for the skin, she explains, but when it is combined with a weird diet and lack of exercise due to lethargy, the result is plumpness and bad skin—two more things to add to the teen-agers complexes.

She suggests the following diet for a chubby teen-ager. This should give essential vitamins and minerals each day without excess fats:

At least 1 pint of milk (skimmed milk, buttermilk, or milk products such as cottage cheese)
 Eat 1 or 2 leafy vegetables a day
 1 egg a day
 1 serving of meat, fish or liver
 1 cereal or bread (enriched white bread or whole wheat)
 1 tomato or citrus fruit

Fresh fruit juices can be taken right at the soda shop. But Miss Moore reminds young people that while ice cream contains the quota of milk they might need in a day, it also contains fat, and it is better to skip it if you are overweight.

She advises that plenty of sleep, fresh water and outdoor exercise (hiking and swimming in particular) are important to a young girl's beauty. This indoor exercise is her favorite because she is of the opinion that most young people do not like to exercise on the floor.

Stand in a doorway with palms of the hands above the head and placed on either side of the door frame. Pretend you are in a barrel and roll hips as if you were attempting to hit each side of the barrel. Do not move feet or bend knees. Do this ten or fifteen times in one direction, then reverse to other direction.

Miss Moore cautions teen-agers against trying fad diets. One diet, she says, can't apply to everyone unless it has the basic essentials one needs for everyday good health.

Above all, during the teen years, keep the skin clean. She advises using a man's shaving brush, lathering the face gently. This is far preferable, she says, to using a wash cloth or heavy towel which might bruise the skin and rub dirt into the pores. She suggests washing the face while under the shower for best results.

If you have skin blemishes, leave them alone. And if you can't be persuaded to forego using cosmetics at least be sure that you remove make-up, carefully. Pores need to breathe if you want to keep the skin healthy, says Miss Moore. She adds:

"Another bad habit is letting the hair fall down on the forehead. Dirty hair can cause skin infections, and many times aggravates the forehead into a pimply condition."

Couple Repeats Vows In Graham Church

PROSPECTIVE-BRIDE—The engagement of Leora Mann to Charles Gilbert Bowles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Bowles of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. R. Mann of Midland. The wedding will take place May 30 in the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white lace for her wedding. It was styled with a strapless bodice and covered with a net capelet, edged with a wide banding of lace, extending to a deep V-shape in the back. The bouffant skirt was demi-tasse length in the front and extended to floor length in the back. She wore a sash of white velvet.

Lilies of the valley accented the sides of her shirred illusion bonnet. The shoulder length veil was of imported French illusion. She carried a white satin-covered Bible showered with white hyacinths and topped with an orchid.

Mrs. N. B. Greshaw played the nuptial music and Ray Herring of Burkburnett sang "Because."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brasel wore a cadet blue silk shantung suit with pink and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose a mauve shantung suit with black accessories. She wore a white carnation corsage.

Youngsters Give Gifts Of Beauty

The real joy of Mother's Day is sharing the warm affection of your children. This is their opportunity to show you in a tangible way how much they love you. Of course, you'd be satisfied with a hug and kiss, but it makes the youngsters feel so grown-up to be able to present a special gift. From all indications, the younger generation seems to feel fragrance presents are the best. The little boy (upper left) is sniffing the perfume he has given to his mother. He's surprised to find it has the true scent of delicate lilies-of-the-valley.

To the mother who revels in a pampering bath, this young lady (upper center) has given an eye-catching pink and gold polka-dot bag filled with cologne, dusting powder and leed cologne. Always remembered on Mother's Day is grandmother. She appears particularly pleased with the gift of a new powder-perfume which her granddaughter has just given her (upper right). In addition to using it as a body sachet, grandmother can tuck it in with her lingerie.—By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CALLAHAN

NEW YORK—Joe Susca paused in his hair cutting, ran his fingers through his own thinning hair and told me some of those whom he has served as barber during the last 40 years: Alexander de Seversky, Hendrik Willem van Loon, George Jean Nathan, Tito Schipa, Johnny the Phillip Morris boy, de Luca, Lauri-Volpi, Edward Corel and Rex Wyon, the insurance executive. Most of those still alive have remained as steady patrons, and when they get into the barber's chair, men are about all alike, Joe said. Most of them like to talk, and a smart barber learns to discuss what customers like—or be quiet. Joe is proud of the ornate shop at 20 West 48th Street. "Once pictures of it won the grand prize in an international contest held in his native Italy. And Joe has done something few people ever achieve: he has not tired of being an executive, said his shop to three alert young Italians, Albert, Jimmy and Roger, by first-name who now run it—and Joe works for them. It gives him more time for his gardening on Long Island, he said, and with less responsibility he expects to live longer.

It was nice to hear Edward Burk, local economic expert, predict that good business will put money in everybody's pocket in 1952 faster than taxes can take it out—that's going some. But this optimist went on to say that we will have more to spend but less to spend it on. We will eat and dress better, spend more on services and vacations and save and invest more than ever.

Even since college days, I've heard about Bo McMillin as if he were a legend instead of an athlete and coach. Now that he has passed away, sports fans everywhere feel a real emptiness. From the time he was a boy in Texas to the memorable occasion when he led his Centre College team to 6-0 score over then-mighty Harvard, he has been an outstanding personality, liked and respected. But even though dread cancer finally won in his last big contest, Bo's friends can have comfort in recalling that he was a model life. He did not smoke, drink or curse. The Lord can use a man like Bo McMillin.

Kathryn Grayson, the pretty singer from Winston-Salem, North Carolina, has created a kind of sensation in the amusement world by her blast at the temperament of Mario Lanza, who plays opposite her in a new film. She said he was hard to get along with—a trait also substantiated by studio officials in off-the-record comments to their personal friends. On the other hand, friends of Kathryn say she is likeable as well as pretty—which reminds me that a professor I once had said that temperament is mostly temper anyway.

Harry J. Loynd was making $8,000 a year as manager of a drug store, when he suddenly quit and took a job as salesman for Parke-Davis & Company—for $4,000 a year. Some folks thought he was nuts. But he didn't. In less than 20 years he was president of the company, making a salary in six figures. It took work, too, to get to the top of this firm, one of the largest pharmaceutical houses in the world. "I've noticed," says Loynd, looking back, that the harder I work, the more luck I have."

He was elected last week at a board of directors' meeting. Other officers include Dr. Byron Lackey, vice president, and J. V. Davis, secretary-treasurer.

Three new directors—Ferry Colwell, Jim Sample and J. V. Davis—were elected for three-year terms. About 250 persons attended the dinner and meeting.

Rubber-Tipped Bobby Pins Answer To Many Complaints

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

At long last something has been done about the problems that have

Rubber tips on bobby pins prevent scratched scalps, stay firmly in place for daily wear, anchor pins curls firmly.

plagued women ever since the bobby pin replaced the hair pin. And the solution is so surprisingly simple it's strange it's taken so long to remove the onerousness from this useful gadget.

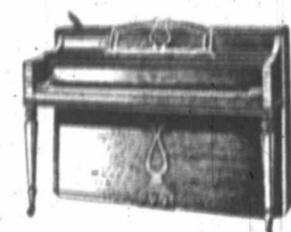

Just by tipping the ends of their bobby pins with a rounded blob of synthetic rubber, one company has found an answer to varied feminine complaints.

In one fell swoop they solved all the difficulties with pins that catch and snap garments as you pull them over your head, pins that scratch your scalp if you make an unskillful job, pins that chip your teeth or break your nails when you try to open them, and pins that slip and fall out of your hair.

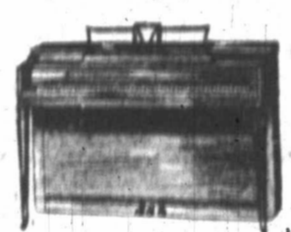

The new pins, which are made with a smooth, satiny finish, last longer and are available in black or brown, for a negligible sum.

Your curtains and drapes will hang straighter if you sew weighted tape in the bottom seams.

Children Like May Holiday

One of the nicest of May Day customs is the making of colorful May baskets. After they are finished, the children can fill them with candy, cookies or flowers, and then hang the baskets on doorknobs of favorite friends and neighbors. Everybody has a wonderful time, and a charming precedent is established for years to come.

ANNETTE GREEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—The wonderful quality about holidays is that no matter how times may change, they remain festive and gay for those who want them to be.

Take May Day, for instance. This sentimental holiday stems from the annual May Day festivities in England, and was brought to this country and popularized in pre-Revolutionary War days. It has undergone numerous hardships here in America, however. As you know only too well, in recent years, the Communists have been using May 1st as a day of nationalistic and war-like celebrations.

These celebrations have confused the real meaning of the holiday. But once again, there is a trend in America to recognize May Day as nothing other than what it really is—a day that belongs to the children.

Its customs are filled with love and affection. Friendliness and generosity are the order of the day. Furthermore, there are all kinds of delightful events to highlight the holiday.

A little girl must be chosen

Queen of the May by her friends. For all intents and purposes, she rules the day, and leads her "subjects" in the games and salety.

Then, there's dancing and fun around the Maypole. And in case you've forgotten, one of the most important symbols of May Day is the May basket. A May basket at your door promises "good luck" and is a charming gesture of friendship.

Once the baskets are made, the children will fill them with candy, cookies or flowers, and hang them on the doorknobs of friends and neighbors. The baskets offer an exceptionally good opportunity for a shy young avain to make an impression on the girl next door. All he has to do is hang the basket on the doorknob, ring her bell, cry out "May Basket for Mary," and scurry for cover. It's a slightly different version of a game of tag.

However, the gesture of basket giving need not have "romantic" connotations. The baskets also are intended to cheer shut-ins, the old folks in the neighborhood or to act as a special welcome to a new baby.

May baskets used to take much of labor and skill in the making, but thanks to the designers of one greeting card manufacturer, the chore now is simplified. This firm has created a series of colorful paper cut-outs that can be assembled by any school child, filled with favors and dispatched in short order.

The set of basket cut-outs includes five designs, each featuring a different color and field-flower motif, and children love the idea of putting them together.

This same greeting card company, in an effort to acquaint teachers and students throughout the country with the possibilities of a May Day pageant, is distributing to school principals 10,000 especially-

Shands Relected As Head Of School Board At Kermit

KERMIT—P. C. Shands was re-elected president of the Kermit School Board last week at its first meeting since the election of three members on April 8.

C. M. Sprull, a hold-over member of the board, was named vice president, and J. M. Waddell was re-named secretary.

Shands and Waddell both were re-elected to the board in the recent election and a new member, Gilbert Phillips, also was named. Other members are F. L. Ledbetter, Wayne Adams and Elmo Glass.

Sprull, Glass and Waddell were named as a committee to study faculty salaries for the next year and to report recommendations on these.

Bill Cameron, E. E. Spangler and Roy Charlesworth were named as the Kermit Independent School District and June 5 and 6 were named dates for the board meeting.

Admiral Decker To Address Midland K&F Club Tuesday

Members of the Midland Knits & Fork Club will hear Rear Adm. Benton W. Decker, USN, retired, at their regular meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

Thorton Hardie, Jr., club president, said advance reservations indicate a record attendance at the April dinner-meeting.

"The Story of a Successful Occupation" will be the subject of the speaker, who served under General MacArthur in Japan.

Admiral Decker graduated from the Naval Academy in 1919 and has had a distinguished career as an officer in the U. S. Navy. His two sons also are Naval Academy graduates. The admiral, a prominent Mason and a member of Rotary International, is a capable and forceful speaker.

World War II Record
During World War II, he was executive officer of the new battleship South Dakota; promoted to captain and assigned to the amphibious base at Panama City, Fla. From there he soon went to the Solomonas, fighting his way up to the capture of Palau, receiving two Legion of Merits for combat and Commendation Ribbon for combat and one Unit Commendation.

Early in 1946 he reported for duty in the Occupation of Japan under General MacArthur. For four years he was in command of the former number one Japanese Naval Base at Yokosuka, Tokyo Bay, just a few miles south of Tokyo and Yokohama. He was told by the Navy to destroy this base but, with the full support of the press and all visiting officials, such as congressmen and senior Naval officers, he developed it into the keystone of the U. S. Navy in the Far East.

DREW PEARSON ON THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman paradox is combination of courage and corruption; American people do not realize what Truman has accomplished; President's mistaken loyalty has undermined administration.

WASHINGTON — Last week the queen of Holland told the President that historians would credit two men with doing more than any others to stop the march of communism—Dean Acheson and Harry S. Truman.

In a sense newspapermen are day-to-day historians—although not always accurate ones. They have to write fast, make snap judgments; but, from piecing together these snap judgments and judging them through the vista of time, history books are written.

Seven years ago Saturday, this columnist was in Pittsburgh on a speaking engagement when called upon to make a snap judgment regarding current history. Franklin D. Roosevelt had died, and I had to go on the air immediately without a prepared script to predict the future of the new President of the United States.

I predicted that he would be another Andrew Johnson; that, like the turbulent days which followed Lincoln, his administration would be featured by strife and dissension; he would be almost impeached, but that his basic policies would be right.

Today, seven years after Truman took office, I believe both my prediction and the queen of Holland will be proved right.

Courage And Corruption
The paradox of Truman's administration is that he has shown great courage and wisdom on his major policies, but has sabotaged his own greatness by terrible public relations, personal spleen, and the appointment of mediocre—sometimes corrupt—men to carry out his policies.

And by so doing, he has helped sidetrack the course charted by the late Franklin Roosevelt; just as Andrew Johnson unwittingly sidetracked the reconstruction program of Abraham Lincoln, thereby setting the South back two decades.

For what Harry Truman doesn't realize is that when he doesn't clean up corruption, he undercuts his greatest goal—international cooperation. Or when he writes a slide letter to Bernard Baruch or to the Washington Post music critic, he undermines his program on civil rights, labor and everything else.

For, as any President loses prestige and popularity, in direct proportion he also loses the ability to push his program through Congress.

Statesmanship in the last analysis is the ability to look ahead and solve a problem before it becomes insolvable.

Herbert Hoover proved himself no statesman when he let unemployed veterans concentrate in Washington until they formed a bonus army of 20,000 and had to be driven out with cavalry and tanks. Franklin Roosevelt, later facing the same problem, never let the veterans concentrate in Washington. He sent them outside the city to Fort Hunt, Va., 100 a day, to be rehabilitated and returned to their homes. He met the problem before it became serious.

Likewise Harry Truman showed great statesmanship when he threw American weight behind Greece and Turkey in 1947 when those two key countries were about to topple into the arms of the Kremlin. He looked ahead.

Again Truman established a mighty milestone against communism when he had the courage to pioneer the Marshall Plan. Undoubtedly it saved Western Europe from Moscow's grip.

The same was true of the North Atlantic Pact and a United West

Midland Service Station Operators Attend State Meet

Several officers and members of the Midland Association of Service Stations are expected to attend the first annual convention of Texas Service Stations, Associated, scheduled Monday and Tuesday in San Antonio.

Among the Midlanders planning to attend are W. G. Keeler, a state director of the state association and secretary-treasurer of the Midland association; Elmer Watkins and John Lucious, president and vice president, respectively of the Midland association; Dewey Pope and R. E. McAlpine.

Frank A. Watts of Houston, sales manager of the Humble Oil & Refining Company, will be the principal speaker at the president's banquet Monday night. He will be introduced by Bob Fulgum of Fort Worth, state president. Gordon Griffin is the association's executive secretary.

Other Speakers
Other convention speakers include Mayor Sam Bell Steves of San Antonio, Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, Ray Touch and Don Agnew of the Oil Industry Information Center, Dallas; State Rep. W. R. Chambers, Dr. Alfred L. Seelye, OPS regional director, Dallas; and Mrs. Roy Milam Spence.

Service station operators from throughout the Southwest will attend the convales to coordinate and cooperate in certain policies of public service and planning for the welfare of the service station industry.

European Army. This was what Queen Juliana had in mind when she told the President that he and Dean Acheson would go down in history as doing more than any other two men to stop the march of communism.

She is right. And the paradox is that the American public, thanks to the fulminations of Senator McCarthy, probably doesn't appreciate it.

Mistaken Loyalty

By coupling the secretary of State with the President, the queen put her finger, probably without realizing it, on the fundamental key to Harry Truman's successes and failures. As he has picked good men, so he has succeeded. As he has picked poor men, so he has failed.

Dean Acheson, despite the McCarthy criticism and some personal idiosyncrasies, will go down in history as a great secretary of State.

Acheson once tried to have me jailed for contempt of court, at Felix Frankfurter's request, so I am not personally prejudiced in his favor. I am sure, however, that the above appraisal is correct.

On the other hand, the greatest scandals of the Truman administration have involved income taxes. And at the head of the Treasury Department, controlling taxes, sits a nice but complacent mediocrity, John Snyder, who holds office only because he is an old Missouri friend of the President.

The President has supported his secretary of the Treasury just as vigorously as he has supported his secretary of State. His loyalty to neither can ever be questioned. But sometimes loyalty to the country and loyalty to great policies must be placed before loyalty to friends. And loyalty to an old friend at the head of the Treasury Department has weakened Harry Truman's courageous major policies more than he himself will ever know.

Likewise, loyalty to another friend, Tom Pendergast of Kansas City, has weakened his effectiveness, hurt his prestige, sabotaged his own program. For, when Harry Truman flew to the funeral of Boss Pendergast, the ex-convict, using a government plane to do so, he set a pattern—a pattern for lesser men to follow.

And when he fired the U. S. attorney, Maurice Milligan, who convicted Pendergast, and ousted the attorney general, Francis Biddle, who insisted on retaining Milligan, Truman cut that pattern deeper. Every politician, every official right down the line, saw the precedent and many followed it.

Those two cases delineated the corruption pattern for this administration. And when President Truman cut it, he did not realize that he was setting back some of the great policies of the past two decades—international cooperation, civil rights, social welfare.

The tragedy is that he probably does not realize it even to this day.

Price Regulation 134 Will Be Explained In Midland Meeting

A meeting of all operators of restaurants and other eating and drinking establishments, including drug stores with soda fountains, has been called for 8 p.m. April 21 in the county court room of the Midland County Court House. Out of town cafe operators of this area also are urged to attend.

The new Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 134), which covers the operations of eating and drinking establishments, will be explained by officials of the Lubbock district OPS office.

Representing the price stabilization agency will be Alton Taylor, restaurant pricing specialist.

He reminded cafe operators that ceiling prices must be posted not later than April 25 by restaurants in a place where they will be easily visible to customers.

At February Levels

The new regulation freezes restaurant prices at the level shown on menus or charged during the week of February 3-9, 1952.

Price officials pointed out the new regulation specifically applies to restaurants, European-plan hotels (including room service), taverns, cafes, cafeterias, soda fountains, catering establishments, field kitchens, lunch wagons and delicatessens.

Dining cars, boarding houses and American plan hotels will continue under CPR 11. However, sales of food or beverages by these hotels and boarding houses where a separate charge is made will be covered by the new regulation. Institutions, hospitals and colleges are excluded.

BREEDING FARM OPENED

HUE, VIETNAM, INDO-CHINA—There's a new fowl-breeding farm in operation near this ancient former capital city of the Emperors of Annam. Equipment for establishing the farm was supplied through the American Mutual Security Administration program. The farm was formally opened by U. S. Minister, Donald R. Heath.

Coal mined in Pennsylvania is used in every state of the United States.

Two Midlanders To Attend Lutheran Meeting In Austin

H. B. Schauer and the Rev. Gilbert C. Becker, pastor, will represent the Grace Lutheran Church at the 32nd annual state convention of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod—to be held Monday through Friday in Austin.

Approximately 500 delegates from Texas will attend the convention to be held in the Concordia Lutheran College. Schauer is serving on the resolutions committee and Mr. Becker is on the committee for parish education.

One of the highlights of the convention will be the previewing of the first two television films the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod has produced. Immediate plans for the $750,000 television program of the church call for the filming of 36 programs.

Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis,

Mo., president of the Missouri Synod, will deliver the opening address Monday. During the convention Dr. Behnken will present a report on the national and international activities of the church body.

Winkler Hospital's Administrator Quits

KERMIT—Jack Shrode, administrator of Winkler County Memorial hospital since 1949, has resigned, according to John J. Moore, president of the hospital board of directors.

Shrode, who came here from Fort Worth, stated he has accepted a position as administrator for the 210-bed Wesley Hospital in Oklahoma City.

Moore stated the board has not yet had time to select a replacement for Shrode.

The theme of the convention is "God's Peace to Men Through Men." The study topic will be led by the Rev. George W. Wittmer of St. Louis, Mo. His subject will be "The Office of the Keys and the Church of Today."

The convention will consider proposals to increase Bible class and vacation Bible school attendance, to train lay Christian youth counselors and to adopt an all-purpose special offering envelope for the various benevolences of the church.

DR. LYNN TO ATTEND MEETING IN VIRGINIA

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will leave Wednesday for Richmond, Va., where he will attend a meeting of the Assembly's Board of Christian Education, of which he is a member.

LUTHERAN RALLY—The Concordia Seminary Chorus of Springfield, Ill., will present special music at the Lutheran Hour Rally to be held at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the City Auditorium in San Angelo. Dr. Eugene R. Bertermann, director of the International Lutheran Hour, will be the speaker. The Lutheran Hour is sponsored by the Lutheran churches of West Texas. The program will be broadcast in 80 languages.
