Magnolia Slakes Von Roeder Test In Scurry Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company will try to extend the Von Roeder field of Southeast Borden County into Southwest Scurry County with its No. 3-D Conrad, 6,900-foot Canyon reef line test.

The location has been staked 660 feet from south and east lines of section 71, block 25, HATC survey and seven and one-half miles north-east of Vincent.

It is 4,174 feet southeast of Magnolia No. 1-D Conrad, recently completed producer at the extreme southeast edge of the Von Roeder field.

Phillips Gets More Ellenburger Pay In Andrews Discovery

Phillips Petroleum Company continues to find more pay at its No. 1-EE Texas University. Ellenburger discovery in Southwest Andrews County.

The new pay is at 10,970-11,015 feet. That zone was drilled and tested for two hours and 20 minutes. A 2,335-foot water blanket was used. Flows Oil At Top

The water blanket started flowing out in one hour and two minutes. Oil surfaced in one hour and 14 minutes.

The fluid went to pits for six minutes and it then flowed 52 barrels of oil in one hour. Shakeout was 8/10ths of one per cent basic sediment and drilling water.

Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees. The gas volume was at the rate of 676,000 cubic feet per day to give a gas-oil ratio of 542-1. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 2,475 pounds to 3,225 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 30 minutes was 4,025 pounds.

Drilling Deeper

Recovery after the flowing was 3,100 feet of free oil from the drill pipe. Operator is to drill 25 feet deeper and then take another drill-stem test.

This project now has 360 feet of Ellenburger pay and it has not found any water in that formation.

Location is 1,800 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of the west half of section 17, block 13, University survey. It is 39 miles southwest of the town of Andrews.

Pure Spuds Wildcat To Test Ellenburger At C-W Coleman Site

The Pure Oil Company has started drilling at an Ellenburger wildcat in Central-West Coleman County.

It is that concern's No. 1 Derryman. Location is 3,200 feet from west and 2,818 feet from south lines of Burnett County School Land survey No. 708.

That makes its four miles west of Valera. The project has spudded to 225 feet in white line and is drilling ahead.

British-American Pumper Extends Tex-Harvey Pool

The British-American Oil Producing Company has completed a small Spraberry pumper one-half mile east of production in the extreme northeast edge of the Tex-Harvey field of Midland County.

The new oiler is No. 1 Alice Bergstrom, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 33, block 36, T-2-S, T&P survey.

It was completed from open hole at 4,977-7,918 feet for a daily pumping potential of 26 barrels of 38.8-gravity oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 650-1. The well made 21 per cent water on the completion test.

Kimble, Concho Failures Plugged

Wildcat failures have been reported in Kimble and Concho Counties—both on the southeast side of the Permian Basin.

Ahazac Oil Corporation of Coleman No. 1 H. H. Lawler is the Kimble County failure. It was two miles west of the town of Junction and 400 feet from south and 1,440 feet from west lines of Kimble County School Land survey No. 871.

It drilled to total depth of 2,178 feet in an unidentified formation. No shows of oil or gas were reported. It has been plugged and abandoned.

Rails Granted Heavy Freight Rate Increase

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission Monday granted the railroads a further freight rate increase, estimated to hike charges about $678,000,000 a year. The rise is nine per cent in the South and West and six per cent in the East.

The order boosts rates 15 per cent above what they were at this time last year.

The railroads applied last year for a 15 per cent increase. The ICC last August ruled that instead of a straight 15 per cent hike, the charges should be raised nine per cent in the East and six per cent in the South and West.

Monday's order, issued after reconsideration, allows the full 15 per cent across the country.

This means the rates now will be raised nine per cent in the South and West and six per cent in the East.

This is the twelfth general freight rate increase allowed since the end of World War II.

The increases may be put into effect upon 15 days' notice to the public, except for grains and grain products, on which a 30-day rate-revision notice will be required.

Over OPS Protests

The ICC said domestic water carriers may apply to their charges the same revisions authorized for the rails.

As in the case of the rate increases granted last August, the ICC termed the new revisions "surcharges" which automatically will expire February 28, 1954, unless continued on a permanent basis through further action by the commission.

The new rate increases were granted in response to a plea by the railroads that their revenues had failed to keep pace with a continuing upswing in wage and material costs.

The Office of Price Stabilization, during the hearings, took the position that any new general increase would bring fresh pressure against the inflationary spiral. Other government departments, principally the Agriculture Department, strenuously opposed any further rise in rates at this time.

County Help Sought For Health Unit

City Manager W. H. Oswalt Monday asked the Midland County Commissioners Court for $30,000 as the county's "share" in the operation of a city-county health unit, adding that the city would participate to the tune of $18,730.

Appearing before the commissioners in their regular session, Oswalt said the estimated cost of $48,730 was based on the proposed operation of the health unit apart from Howard and Ector Counties. The setup now is operated as the Midland-Howard-Ector Health Unit.

Reviews Developments

Oswalt reviewed developments covering the last few months which included the resignation of Dr. F. E. Sadler, director of the three-county unit after it had been decided that "owing to the rapid expansion of the area the director couldn't provide the direction needed."

He said the prospect of operating as a single unit had been explored and that the city had "after due course" decided it is desirable to provide for a more effective means to combat present and future sanitation problems.

He added that he felt if the county would participate in the expense of operation then its cost to the public would be compensated by the resulting benefits.

Oswalt added that one of the main sanitation problems is posed by the influx of people who can find no living quarters with the proper sanitary facilities.

He cited the continued rapid growth in the city and at the outskirts as well as the fact that several new communities have sprung up in the county because of oil activity.

French Reds Fight Against Ridgway As Ike's Successor

PARIS—(AP)—The French Communists threatened Monday to react violently if Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway is named successor to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme Allied commander in Europe.

The Communist Party organ "Humanite" branded Ridgway "a criminal" and "killer of the Korean people" and "the individual who ordered the germ raids."

United Nations officials repeatedly have denied the frequent Communist charges that UN forces are dropping germ-laden bombs on Korea and Red China.

74,000 Homeless As Raging Missouri's Flood Crest Rises

OMAHA, NEB.—(AP)—The flood-furious Missouri River threw its record-breaking flood crest at the Sioux City, Iowa, area Monday while forecasters heaped new discouragement on the downstream Omaha-Council Bluffs, Iowa, area by raising the predicted flood crest another foot and a half.

The new schedule calls for the arrival early Thursday of a monstrous, 31.5-foot crest at Omaha, compared with flood stage of 19 feet.

With other rivers rampaging, too, the Red Cross reported 19,548 families in eight or nine Midwest states are homeless or about to be displaced by floods. This was estimated to represent about 74,000 persons.

Army Engineers estimated a total of 1,340,000 acres of land are under water along the Missouri and its tributaries from North Dakota to Southern Nebraska.

For Sioux City, with 64,000 persons, and neighboring South Sioux City, Neb., with 5,500, the crest's arrival was only inch deep injury. Surcharges had come days earlier and inundation had been a creeping, progressive thing.

Downstream, town after town was either prostrate or abandoned. But Omaha and Council Bluffs, whose combined metropolitan areas takes in 336,000 persons, were fighting it out—prepared for the worst but determined to forestall it.

This was the picture in the twin cities:

About two-thirds of Council Bluffs' 45,000 persons had fled or were pulling out of their homes. Across the river, in the East Omaha and Carter Lake, Iowa, areas, homes of perhaps 5,000 more similarly were deserted.

These were ghost areas, patrolled only by soldiers, police and civil guards. Not even the persons who live there were permitted to enter much of the area.

Experienced relief workers called the exodus one of the biggest disaster movements in memory.

But other states, and other rivers, also figured in a grim Midwest flood picture.

The Mississippi was at a record high and climbing at St. Paul, Minn. Livestock shipments to the South St. Paul stockyards were embargoed, thousands were homeless

In that case, General Gruenther might take over Gen. Mark Clark's post as chief of Army Ground Forces and General Clark would get Ridgway's Far Eastern command.

Bank Deposits In Midland Again Set All-Time Record

Midland bank deposits were at an all-time high at the close of business March 31, 1952, reaching a total of $97,877,117.43, officials of The First National Bank and The Midland National Bank reported Monday in response to a national bank call by the comptroller of the currency.

The March 31 figure represents a gain of $18,227,946.74 since April 9, 1951, and $3,582,010.43 since Dec. 31, 1951. Combined deposits a year ago totaled $49,349,170.59, and $64,065,107.01 at the end of last year.

Loans and discounts of the two financial institutions also were up $9,004,334.41 since April 9, 1951, and $1,808,500.36 since the first of this year. Combined loans totaled $18,287,177.50, as compared with $11,278,883.34 a year ago, and $18,389,417.39 on Dec. 31, 1951.

Twenty years ago, Midland's combined bank deposits totaled $1,273,832.01. Steady increases have been recorded through the intervening years, with tremendous gains having

Texas 'Phone Service Back Near Normal

By The Associated Press
Telephone service was back almost to normal in Texas Monday as operators made a slow return to work following a court order that dissolved picket lines.

Only in El Paso were pickets still marching.

The return to work started after the 70th District Court at Midland granted a temporary restraining order Saturday against picketing by Western Electric's division of the Communication Workers of America (CWA).

Telephone workers who were CWA members had refused to cross Western Electric-CWA picket lines in some cities. In other cities, where there were no picket lines, telephone operators left work for "continuous meetings."

Southwestern Bell Telephone officials said here Monday telephone service is normal in the Midland area.

E. S. Ridge, district traffic manager for the company, said that although there is still some difficulty in placing calls, it is not due to lack of help. A tremendous backlog of telephone calls of persons trying to catch up with business brought the rash of long distance calls.

Ridge reported that Southwestern Bell employees have all returned to their jobs and that the operating procedure of the company is on a regular schedule.

The first Midland switchboard operators returned to work at 10 p.m. Saturday. Since that time, all shifts have been staffed fully.

Fifth Man Is Hurt Critically At Andrews

ANDREWS—(AP)—Four men were killed and another was injured critically Monday in an explosion at the Martin Pool Gasoline Plant, 20 miles southwest of here.

Three of the dead were: Carl Gilmore of Andrews, superintendent of the plant; Dee Arnold of Andrews; Keeton Hensley of Andrews.

U. S. Airmen Raze Big Red Supply Base

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—U. S. jet fighter-bombers Monday smashed a huge Red supply point near the western coast of North Korea.

One pilot, Capt. Charles E. Brown, Birmingham, Ala., said "I bet we destroyed a division's worth of supplies."

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported 22 buildings destroyed and 11 damaged in the attack west of Haeju. The road and rail hub is four miles north of the 38th parallel, near the base of the Ongjin Peninsula.

Other fighter-bombers attacked the Communist rail system in North Korea from dawn Monday until early afternoon, when bad weather closed in.

WTCC Executive Designates 1952 'Year Of Progress' In Breakfast Meeting Here

This is "Progress Year" in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Fred H. Husbands of Abilene, executive vice president and general manager of the regional organization, told a group of Midland business and civic leaders attending a breakfast held Monday in Hotel Scharbauer.

"The general purpose of the WTCC is to represent the varied interests of the area and to develop the many advantages of West Texas," Husbands declared.

Frank Kelley of Colorado City, WTCC president, also addressed the meeting, which was presided over by Bill Collins of Midland, vice president of District 6. The session was arranged by Collins and Tom Sealy, Midland's WTCC director.

Kelley, in his talk, termed land, water and oil the major assets of West Texas, and explained what the West Texas Chamber is doing to further the general economy of the territory.

Draft Delinquency Decreases In Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—Draft delinquency dropped in Texas during the first quarter of 1952, State Selective Service Director Paul E. Wakefield reported Monday.

Wakefield said the boards added 257 men to their delinquent rolls and disposed of 317 cases during the quarter.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

ELIZABETH, N. J.—(AP)—Two silk-smooth bandits—operating with the cool precision of a Willie Sutton—robbed the Elmore Branch of the Union County Trust Company of $15,750 in cash Monday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—I. A. Smoot of Salt Lake City said President Truman told him during a White House talk Monday he will veto legislation to give title to submerged coastal oil areas to California, Texas and Louisiana.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the best organization to foster and carry out programs of general interest and benefits to this great empire," Kelley stated in a motivating sound and unselfish thinking and planning on community and area levels.

He said the support of every businessman in West Texas is needed in carrying out the program of work of the revitalized WTCC.

New York Legal Officer Writes Korean Truce Agreement; Nine Items Unsolved

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—Dozens of voices have harangued more than nine months in trying to reach an armistice in Korea. But the truce agreement itself is being written mostly by one man.

He is Lt. Col. Howard S. LeVie, legal officer of the Allied truce delegation. LeVie, a good natured, 44-year-old New Yorker, is charged with writing the actual words of the document that will be signed when and if an agreement is reached. "There never has been a situation such as this one before," LeVie said.

However, he said he has been able to borrow piecemeal from other armistice agreements of modern times on the paragraphs dealing with a demilitarized zone.

The wording of the cease-fire paragraphs stems from the 1938 Bolivia-Paraguay agreement. Some phrases on prisoner exchange—still being debated—come from the settlements reached on prisoners at the end of World War I.

Once agreement with the Communists at Panmunjom is reached on a principle, it becomes LeVie's job to put it in writing.

A general principle may involve 10 to 15 paragraphs in the truce document. More often than not, they will require repeated revisions before final agreement on wording is reached.

So far, the entire armistice document has been overhauled seven times. In its present form, it runs 26 legal size typewritten pages containing 63 paragraphs, many with subparagraphs. Of these, only five remain completely unresolved, while only tentative agreement has been reached on another four, leaving a total of nine between the negotiators and the end of the war.

"We have to be very careful that there are no oddities in the armistice that could be misconstrued later," LeVie says. "Not only must it be legally correct, but it must be correct in common sense, grammar and everything else."

LeVie, a 1930 graduate of Cornell University Law School who has 10 years service in the Army, has practically memorized the armistice draft.

Ask him to give the provisions of Paragraph 53 and he will tell you quickly that it says, "Seriously sick and seriously injured prisoners of war shall be repatriated with priority."

LeVie's colleagues on the UN Command delegation readily will agree he is one of the most brilliant officers participating in the negotiations.

As a staff officer, he has attended almost all of the parties and more than once his alertness has paid off in whispered advice to UN delegates confronted with vague and often puzzling statements by Red negotiators.

LeVie's work has not only been confined to staff officer duties. Indeed, he has become something of a "gent of all trades" for the UN delegation.

He has served as a liaison officer in investigations of actual and alleged neutrality violations and, at times, as the official UN spokesman. In the latter role, he has conducted briefings on the negotiations for Allied correspondents.

After more than nine months of almost daily, face-to-face meetings with the Communists, LeVie describes the job of negotiations with the Reds as "very frustrating."

He says they are "predictably unpredictable and vice versa. After nine months, I've learned never to try to guess what they will do next."

But, he asserts, there is a definite pattern to Communist tactics at the conference table which may not be evident in day-to-day negotiations but which show up over an extended period.

These tactics, he says, are based on the principle that the "end justifies the means."

"What they do on any one day might seem contrary to what you would expect them to do or to their own interests, but you will find that in the long run, it is designed to get them where they want to go."

RUSSIAN PHOBIA WELL FOUNDED

DALLAS — (AP)—No friend of Russia—nor anything Russian—is 15-year-old Wayne Miller. Wayne was bitten on the right knee and ankle here Sunday by two Russian bears at the Marshall Park Zoo. All Wayne had done was climb over a three-foot guard fence to feed popcorn to the ungrateful bears.

Hospital attendants said he had a broken cartilage in his knee but was not in serious condition. Another son visitor, Harry Oxford, got the boy away from the bears.

Barber Maps Appeal From 50-Year Term Assessed In Slaying

FORT WORTH — (AP)—Defense lawyers Monday prepared an appeal for Robert H. Barber, 26. He was assessed a 50-year prison term by a Criminal District Court jury Sunday for the fatal shooting of a Fort Worth detective.

Barber was found guilty of murder in the February 7 shooting of Detective H. E. Cleveland in the Barber home.

Only Barber's wife, previously acquitted by the grand jury in the case, showed any emotion as the verdict was read by Judge Dave McGee. She put her head into her arms and sobbed as Barber turned pale.

Cleveland was shot after he and three other detectives from Fort Worth and Dallas went to the house to question Barber about a Dallas safe robbery.

Announcement that the case would be appealed came from Defense Attorneys R. C. Green and Earl Johnson as Barber left the court room.

Barber told reporters: "I didn't expect that much."

Spinster Who Slew Father Takes Own Life With Stocking

AUBURN, CALIF.—(AP)—A spinster strangled herself Sunday with a stocking, three days after she had killed her father and burned their ranch home because the government had condemned it for a flood control project.

The body of Rita Mae Dickinson, 50, a stocking cinched tight around her neck, was found at DeWitt State Hospital.

She had been taken there for observation.

She was found Thursday, dazed and wild-eyed, watching the burning house on their 226-acre cattle ranch.

She was charged with murdering her father, James Peter Dickinson, 78. Authorities said she related she killed her father with a shotgun, then fired the house with kerosene.

The Dickinsons had resented leaving their ranch, which the father had worked 55 years. The government condemned and bought it for $26,250. Folsom Dam, being built on the American River a few miles away, will bury their ranch under many feet of water.

Chimp Flees Zoo, Creates Near-Havoc On Golf Course

LOS ANGELES — (AP)—Dick only did what any nine-year-old might have done if a strange man punched him in the face. He started running. But because Dick is a chimpanzee—better than a 100 pounds worth—and had just escaped from his Griffith Park Zoo cage when he was clouted on the snout by a panicky bystander, what happened Sunday was a sight to behold.

Scattering the big Easter-crowd ahead of him like chickens, the ape lit out for a nearby golf course. Sunday picnickers around its edge fled in panic.

An amateur photographer, who moved in too close for a closeup of the runaway, was knocked sprawling.

Another man got in his way. Dick spun him around three times and sent him flying.

Golfer Ellis Klein was floored by a roundhouse right to the stomach. Then a shiny putter in the hands of a woman golfer caught Dick's eye. He grabbed it and shook it threateningly at the gathering crowd.

Everyone jumped back, respectfully.

Bolivian Rebels Prepare For Return Of Exiled President

LA PAZ, BOLIVIA — (AP)—Revolt-bloodied Bolivia, burying more than 300 dead and tending some 1,500 wounded, appeared Monday under firm control of its new revolutionary government. Awaited was Victor Paz Estenssoro, long-exiled leader who is due to return from Argentina Wednesday to head the new regime.

After installing a 15-man cabinet of the National Revolutionary Party (MNR), the victorious rebels Sunday night sent a delegation by plane to Buenos Aires to invite Paz Estenssoro, the party's chief, to return. He said he would accept the bid.

Paz Estenssoro won the greatest number of votes—almost half—in presidential elections 11 months ago but failed to win an overall majority. Before the Legislature could choose between three leading candidates, a military junta headed by Gen. Hugo Ballivian moved in by force.

It was this clique which Paz Estenssoro's supporters swept from power in a three-day battle starting last Wednesday.

The party leader fled the country in 1946, when Rebels overthrew the MNR government and hanged President Gualberto Villarroel from a lamp post here in the capital.

General Ballivian was believed to have taken asylum in a foreign embassy, reported Venezuela's. There was no immediate information on the whereabouts of Gen. Humberto Torres Ortiz, his army chief of staff, who led the government forces and who signed the formal surrender to the Rebels Friday afternoon.

Refugee Kills Self And Four Children

TORONTO — (AP)—A Russian-born refugee from Yugoslavia piped gas into his rooming house bedroom Monday, carefully sealed the doors and windows and snuffed out his own life and those of his four children.

Police identified the dead as Sergius, Akluk, 38, who fled Russia in 1918 and lived in Yugoslavia until he brought his family here two months ago; his three sons, aged eight to 15 years, and a seven-year-old daughter.

The bodies were found by Akluk's wife, Nina, when she returned from work shortly after midnight.

Investigators could give no immediate explanation for the man's action, which they termed a case of murder and suicide.

A number of applicants for membership in the lodge also will be voted upon, according to Secretary Melvin C. Robertson.

Joan Fontaine Would Swap Six Movies For Lead In 'Rachel'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Joan Fontaine, who jumped from being Olivia de Havilland's eager-beaver kid-sister to big-time stardom when she made "Rebecca" for David O. Selznick in 1940, is admitting that she'd swap her next six pictures for the chance to star in Daphne Du Maurier's new best-seller, "My Cousin Rachel."

"Finding great women's roles is tough," whined Joan. "The stories simply aren't being written. It's easier for me to do a 'Rebecca' or a 'Letter From An Unknown Woman' than to play an ingenue or a girl who sits on a piano bench while somebody sings to her."

She told me: "My heroine was a bad, bad girl. I'm a good girl. Really!"

FUND-RAISING DRIVE FIZZLES

TOKYO — (AP)—The newspaper Yomiuri reported Monday that a campaign to build a memorial to Gen. Douglas MacArthur has collected only $225—although $1,500 has been spent for publicity and advertising, and it owes $1,425 for other expenses.

The project was begun last July by the Association for Construction of a Pavilion in Commemoration of General MacArthur, former Allied and occupational commander. In February, it turned over fund raising to a professional collecting firm.

"Yeah," sneered the rival, "all she needs is a lawn mower."

Teresa Wright's unhappy. Her Broadway-bound play, "Salt of the Earth," folded in Boston.

It's a stalemate between John Derek and Columbia in their squabble. John wants bigger and better roles—the studio wants him to sign a new contract before the plums are tossed his way.

It missed making headlines, but Gloria Swanson was trapped in a burning car the other night and escaped in the nick of time. With Producer Edward Alperson, her mother and a companion, Virginia Stubbs, Gloria was driving back from a sneak preview of her new movie "Three For Bedroom C," when the rented limousine caught fire. The windows of the fiery car were smashed just in time.

Grable Gets Her Way
Assignment of Jack Cole as dance director on Fox's "The Farmer Takes A Wife," is a victory for Betty Grable. It's Betty's claim that her 1951 squabble with the studio and her long suspension came about because she insisted that Cole do the choreography on "Meet Me After the Show" in the face of high-brass arguments that he was too expensive.

It could happen only in Hollywood: There's a stationary ship on the set of "Yankee Buccaneer" at UI but on the screen the ship will seem to roll and pitch in approved at-sea fashion. The secret:

A painted canvas sky in the background moves up and down on rollers, and actors sway from side to side on cue from two red lights which blink on and off just outside of camera range.

Harry Cimring reports this dialog between two movie dolls:

"How do you like her mongrel hairdo?"
"Mongrel?"
"Yes, half poodle and half shaggy dog."

If Your Husband Is Shy, Don't Do Talking For Both Of You

"I know I talk a lot," a wife recently confided, "but Jim seems to freeze up when he gets in a crowd. He takes so little part in conversations, I get embarrassed and try to talk enough for both of us."

That reaction may momentarily make Jim's wife feel more at ease. But it isn't going to help Jim's shyness any.

What else can the wife do besides try to make up for her husband's shyness by being the vivacious, talkative, dominant member of the marriage?

Well, she can begin a long, slow process of helping her husband overcome his shyness.

In doing this there are any number of tricks she can use.

Quote Husband's Opinion

She can start out by quoting his opinions part of the time instead of always voicing her own. This will give the people the idea that though Jim doesn't talk a lot, he does his own thinking and that his wife, for one, respects his opinions and thinks them worth repeating.

Then she can often steer the conversation until it gets around to something her husband is vitally interested in. If he is interested enough in a subject, he will forget his shyness to speak his piece.

She can also encourage him to become expert at something, whether it is wood-working or gardening or any other pastime. That will not only give him confidence in himself, but will give him a chance to share his knowledge with others. Even the shyest person can usually talk interestingly on something he knows a great deal about.

Many a clever wife has helped a shy, socially inadequate husband gain self-confidence. And many a short-sighted wife has made an inarticulate man even more so by deciding that she has to do the talking for both of them.

The President's Powers

The legal actions under way as a result of President Truman's seizure of the steel industry promise to be as complex as were the circumstances which brought about his action.

The President said he took over in the public interest to prevent a threatened strike and keep production moving. As the basis for his extraordinary action, the President cited "the authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws" and his position as President and commander in chief of the armed forces.

The crux of the storm of controversy which resulted from Truman's move is whether or not the Constitution really gives him the power he believes it does in this case.

Steel companies say it does not, and have taken their case to the courts. Many others agree. At least two officials of the Justice Department believe such powers, inherent in the Constitution but not specifically stated in regard to strikes, could be used only if the country really was falling apart.

But as for settling a steel strike, they say, the President has oversteered himself.

The President says he didn't use the Taft-Hartley procedure because it couldn't have prevented a steel shutdown of at least a week or two. Critics of the President's action say, all right, but why didn't he get the Taft-Hartley machinery rolling sooner, thereby probably averting the period of shutdown?

The President was concerned about the effects of a steel strike on the defense effort. That's a serious matter, of course, but what about the government's recent action in releasing more steel for civilian use?

The respective merits of the cases of the disputing steel companies and the steelworkers union have been submerged for the time by the explosive reaction to the President's move. Ironically, though, it has been reported reliably that the disputants were only a couple of points away from agreement two days before the seizure order.

The overriding issue, whether the President acted within his constitutional rights, now is before the courts, the steel companies charging that what he did was illegal. The court action promises to be of epic proportions.

Laughs On Dad

Harry Truman has bowed out, but daughter Margaret has decided to run for another term. Encouraged by a radio-TV network, she has signed a nice fat contract for more singing and acting performances next year.

Since Margaret is no Dorothy Kirsten and hardly can be said to be bucking for an Academy award, the move has puzzling aspects. Maybe they figure jokes about her daddy will be good for a year or two even after he becomes an "ex."

The Tree That Bears The Fruits Of Free Enterprise

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman's stand on steel strike based on Putnam-Wilson conversation; How history can repeat itself; William Howard Taft, III, liked Ireland, not the Marshall Plan.

WASHINGTON—One of the most important factors in convincing the President to take a strong stand on the steel strike was a private conversation with Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam and Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, just before the latter resigned.

Putnam, in private life a Springfield, Mass., manufacturer, was arguing against his boss, Wilson, former head of the giant General Electric Company. The wage boost for steelworkers, Putnam claimed, was not unreasonable.

"Look here, Charlie," said Putnam. "Look what G.E. has done. G.E. has given the same wage boost that's now recommended for steel, yet G.E. didn't boost prices."

It was obvious that Charlie Wilson didn't want to listen. But Putnam persisted: "I've got it right here," he continued eagerly. "It's a news letter issued by our own company. It says: 'It's been about fifteen months since the steelworkers had an adjustment. In that time G.E. hourly employees have averaged over fifteen cents pay increase allowed, and another possible two to three cents offered currently.'"

"That," concluded Putnam, "is more than we're recommending for the steelworkers."

Defense Mobilizer Wilson waved a big, brawny hand. It was a gesture of pushing something very unpleasant to one side.

Steel Arithmetic
Another thing that impressed Truman at a subsequent steel conference was some arithmetic placed before him by Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall, ex-governor of Georgia. Briefly, they showed that the steel companies had been making $19.50 a ton profit since the Korean war started. Best profits prior to Korea were $11 a ton from '47 to '49.

Governor Arnall estimated that the new pay increase would cost the industry a total of $4.035 per ton for one year, and that steel could get it now develops that William Howard Taft, III, grandson of the late President and son of the senatorial GOP candidate for President, was sent to Ireland under the Marshall Plan because of his knowledge of the Gaelic language.

But when young Taft got to Dublin, it also developed that the only language he knew was classical Gaelic. He could no more speak modern Gaelic than a modern Englishman can speak Chaucer.

However, Marshall Plan administrators apparently were so anxious to win over the support of Senator Taft that they kept his son on the ECA payroll for three years as an alleged expert on Irish tours. This was considered rather a pleasant job. Tourists came to Ireland for the fishing, for fox-hunting and the horse shows. It is a limited and select group. Some tourists bring their own horses.

This column was in error when it recently speculated that young Taft disagreed with his father about the usefulness of the Marshall Plan, the senator having been a consistent critic. Friends who served with young Taft in Ireland say he agreed with his father that the Marshall Plan was a waste of money, but he liked Ireland and stayed on. His salary ranged from $7,000 to $9,500.

Young Taft finally left after another ECA official was promoted over his head. More recently he served as advisor to Adm. Lewis Strauss in the Pentagon on the expense allowance of $40 a day, but has resigned.

Capital News Capsules
Ike and Commies—General Eisenhower's last official recommendation before resigning to urge all Atlantic Pact countries to adopt far stricter security measures to weed out the Communists in their armies. More than 150 Communist officers and enlisted men have been discovered in the French, Belgian and Italian armies in the last two months alone.

And Eisenhower, I can reveal, believes there may be hundreds more acting as Russian spies. So he's recommended that the Europeans pattern their security checks after that used by the American Army, and that this be done immediately.

Korean trece nearer—Assistant Secretary of State John Allison has been alerted to be ready to fly to Korea at one hour's notice. Allison is the State Department's Korean trece expert and Secretary Acheson has him standing by for a rush trip to Korea. This is the most hopeful sign in the trece talks for several months.

Price Lobbyists—Lobbyists for higher prices now are swarming over Capitol Hill in a drive to kill price controls. They point to the slight sag in the cost of living as an excuse for killing controls altogether. These are the same lobbyists who fought against controls at the outbreak of the Korean war.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Written for NEA Service

From Miami, where an important bridge tournament is being held all this week, comes a letter from a non-expert.

"Please criticize the bidding of the accompanying hand," he writes. "All four players in the game are retired businessmen, and none of us will ever be an expert. Despite our limitations, we try to play seriously, and this hand has upset us."

"His diamonds was set, of course, since South was bound to win two heart tricks if he just sat tight and waited for the tricks to fall into his lap. But six clubs would have been set if West had only passed instead of running out to six diamonds. And five spades would have been set, if West had passed instead of doubling."

"I looks bad for West, but the truth is that nobody at the table had any clear idea of what contract could be made and what couldn't. We were playing blind man's bluff instead of bridge, and this disturbs us."

"How would the experts handle this type of hand?"

If the experts got off to a bad start, they would probably have to do their share of guessing at the end. An expert West would pass five spades, however, since he would foresee that a runout to six clubs would give him a headache.

The principal reason for a non-expert comes at North's first chance to bid. If he acts wisely at that time there will be no more guesswork in the bidding.

South's opening bid of three clubs (not a bad idea, despite the fact that the hand is likewise a legitimate opening bid of one club) indicates a long, strong club suit in a hand that has very little defensive strength. Such a bid usually shows less top-card strength than is required for a normal opening bid of one.

North looks at his own hand and sees that his own defensive strength consists of a possible spade trick. (He can hardly count the ace of clubs when South has announced a very long club holding, and when North also has four in the suit.) In short, North can see at once that his side is practically defenseless against the opponents but that his side ought to have a good play for ten or eleven tricks at clubs.

North should therefore jump at once to five clubs as a combination shot. Such a bid will surely keep the enemy out, and there will probably be a good play for the contract.

Government Finds It Can Save By Increasing Service Charges

NEA Washington Correspondent
By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—At long last, your slow-moving, cumbersome federal government is getting around to raising the rates on some of the fancy services it has been giving away free or selling for less than cost.

This project has been kicking around for two years. The Bureau of the Budget sent out a questionnaire—which is the usual way these things start. The answers which came back showed that $9 government agencies were now in the business of furnishing 1,772 special services of one kind and another to the citizenry.

The law specified that some of these services should be free. In other cases only nominal charges were made. Even so, the government will collect about $300,000,000 for such services this year.

By upping the rates a little, however, Budget Director Frederick J. Lawton estimates that another $50,000,000 can be collected. And by passing a few new laws, the charges might be raised further to collect $100,000,000 more next year.

This is a case where $50,000,000 or $100,000,000 saved is $50,000,000 or $100,000,000 earned, with the tax bill reduced accordingly.

The nature of these services is extremely varied. Most of them are of benefit to special groups of citizens only, and not to the general public. That's the reason for congressional interest in seeing that the charges are raised to cover costs at least.

Laugh On Mink
Among 39 specific increases which are being put into effect, there's one which indicates that somebody in Washington finally has found a way to get even with the mink that have been causing so much trouble around here. The interest rate on Farmers' Home Administration loans to fur farmers is to be raised from three to five per cent a year. It will net the federal government $8,000 a year more.

Department of Agriculture charges for inspecting meat, fresh fruits and vegetables, are to be raised from $3 to $5 an hour. It will increase government receipts by $28,000 a year.

Forest service will raise the grazing charges from 40 cents to 80 cents a cow-month. A cow-month is the charge made for grazing one critter for one month on public lands. Similarly, sheep-month charges are to be raised from 10 3/4 cents to 13 1/2 cents. The increased take for the government will be $70,000 a year.

Tom Connally, Senator Who Looks Most Like A Senator, Not To Seek Reelection

By The Associated Press

The senators who look most like a senator—Tom Connally of Texas—will not be a candidate for reelection.

His announcement Sunday night that he "does not desire to be a candidate again" boomed across Texas and the nation like a political A-bomb. It left a wide range of campaign possibilities facing the state, and these varied facts:

1. Ended with the demise of the 82nd Congress almost half a lifetime of congressional service—12 years as representative, 24 years as a senator—for the colorful, 74-year-old Connally.

2. Gave Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas another chance to announce for Connally's seat. Shivers had been mentioned widely earlier as a possible candidate. But he declined the race in January with the assertion that he liked Texas and wanted "to raise my children here." Sunday night, he said, "I have no present plans of changing my present intentions."

3. Left, for the time at least, the field wide open for Attorney General Price Daniel, who is the only announced candidate for the Connally post. Daniel Sunday night made what could have been a bid for Connally's support with the statement that "I hope to have his good will and cooperation" if elected senator.

4. Makes Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, serving his first term, senior senator from Texas. The designation will increase Johnson's patronage possibilities, which increases his political stature and influence. He already has become widely known as chairman of the Armed Forces subcommittee on National Preparedness.

5. Will, if the Democrats control the 83rd Congress, put Senator George (D-Or.) in line for the chairmanship of the powerful Foreign Relations Committee which Connally ruled in iron fashion during the years of World War II, Marshall Plan, Korea, and North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

6. Left to conjecture the part such political figures as former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, former Rep. Martin Dies, and former Rep. Maury Maverick might play in political maneuverings of the coming weeks.

7. Governor Shivers speaks in Dallas Monday night before a Founders Day dinner of Sigma Delta Chi honorary journalism fraternity. In the speech he is expected to tell just what he and those with him in a fight for an uninstructed delegation to the National Democratic Convention in Chicago are trying to do. That he would not mention the Connally withdrawal hardly is probable.

8. Dies, former chairman of the original House Committee on Un-American Activities, said Sunday night, "It is more likely now" that he will try for the U. S. Senate seat.

9. Some persons reading the Dies statement from his home at Jasper, said it "aimed" put him in the race against Daniel. "The withdrawal of Senator Connally will certainly have a bearing on my decision." He repeated an earlier announcement that he will run either for the Senate or for congressman-at-large.

10. But renitied of an earlier statement that he would not seek the U. S. Senate seat unless he could raise $100,000 for campaign expenses, Dies said: "I may not need that now. I may finance my own campaign. It would not cost so much now. Connally would have been a formidable candidate." He added that it "may be revealed on election night" whether Daniel would be a "formidable candidate."

There was no reported comment on possible races by Maverick or Stevenson. Maverick withdrew from the congressman-at-large race recently, but before announcing for that post had toyed with the idea of a state-wide race.

Sharp Tongue, Quick Wit

Stevenson, defeated by an 87-vote margin for the Senate in 1950 by Lyndon Johnson, probably could make a strong campaign.

Connally's sharp tongue, colorful invective, quick wit and dignified appearance endeared him to thousands and made enemies for him.

Most recently, he turned his vivid speech guns on Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who seeks the Republican presidential nomination. He called the usually staid Taft a "chameleone senator" willing to "subordinate his integrity . . . to grasp a few slimy votes."

Before, nobody had ever heard Connally speak disparagingly of votes. The comment followed a report of Taft's campaigning in Texas. He said that a month before the start of the Korean war Connally had said the U. S. would do nothing about an invasion of South Korea. Connally answered that Taft talk like "a rubbing-oil-in-the-hair politician."

Connally, in previous years, had been criticized for his stand on so-called civil rights measures. He answered that he had "never had much truck with the nigras."

On the night Dec. 7, 1941, a few hours after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, he was one of the angriest men in Washington. The late President Roosevelt had called cabinet and congressional leaders to a White House conference. Roosevelt read off a long list of things the Japs had done.

Finally, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee could stand it no longer. "Have't we done anything?" he shouted. "What are we waiting on?"

Honolulu Housewife Tells Tax Gatherer Tale Of Woe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Honolulu housewife says her husband ran away with another woman after winning $139,285 in the Irish Sweepstakes. And now, she says, the government is trying to take away "the relative pittance he left her."

Mrs. Dorothy Marie Soyack told of her plight in a brief filed in the U. S. Tax Court here. Her account: Her husband pilfered some money from her household funds, bought a ticket in the Irish Sweepstakes and won $139,285.

Two days later (last May 20), he boarded a liner for the United States with another woman "who reportedly traveled with said John L. Soyack and posed as his wife."

After six days at sea, the errant husband sent her $16,000 and this note—"After I pay my taxes at the end of the year, I will send you the rest—and I hope you can get over me."

In June and July, though, he gave $70,042.50 to the other woman. Further, in California, New York and elsewhere, he "squandered or transferred to third parties in excess of $16,300."

Then, her brief continues, the tax collector came around to call on Soyack in New York City with a bill for $64,698.08 back taxes. Soyack said he was broke and couldn't pay it.

So now the government has slapped a claim against Mrs. Soyack, demanding that she turn over the entire $16,000 the husband gave her—to help pay his tax bill.

Mrs. Soyack told the Tax Court her husband had plenty of money to pay his taxes when he sent her the $16,000. If he isn't able to pay now, she added, "his inability resulted from the aforementioned transfer" to the other woman and to his squandering.

In effect, she asked the court to order the tax collector to leave her alone with her memories—and her $16,000.

Violence Ends Nine Lives In Texas During Weekend

By The Associated Press

Seven of nine violent deaths in Texas over the weekend resulted from automobile accidents.

One person died in a shooting and another was crushed to death when a truck hoist fell on him.

Latest reported deaths include:
A Wichita Falls youth, Ted Lynn Anderson, was injured fatally Saturday when run over by an automobile in the driveway of a supermarket.

Three persons were killed Saturday near Galveston in separate accidents. All three died when the cars in which they were riding overturned. Killed were Milton Joe Buchman, 25, of Houston; Robert Bill Buchman, 25, of Pasadena; and Robert Bryan Blythe, 44, of Alvin.

H. A. Stark of Leakey, Texas, was killed in a three-car accident near Kerrville Saturday night.

A grain truck plunged off a bridge Saturday night on Highway 114 four miles east of Rhome in Wise County. Joe Bob Edwards, 29, of Frederick, Okla., was killed.

An 18-year-old construction worker from Seagoville, Ralph S. Eans, was killed in Dallas Friday when a 750-pound truck hoist fell on him.

Hugh Lee Batson, 47, of Beaumont was killed Saturday night when his car and a truck collided one mile south of Rusk.

Mac Hoxie, 32, San Antonio, was shot fatally Saturday night while handling a revolver in a San Antonio filling station. Witnesses said he removed four or five shells from a revolver, then put the gun to his temple. The gun fired the second time Hoxie pulled the trigger. An inquest verdict of accidental shooting was returned.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Feather In His Hair

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, looked out the window of his monkey house. He was high in the tip top of the very tall tree, there in the middle of the Great Forest. He could see far away and down the Whispering River. He looked and looked again.

"Mercy Me!" Daddy Ringtail said to himself. He looked out the window once again to be sure he saw what he thought he saw. Oh-oh! He saw it all right. He saw an Indian coming.

The Indian was big and tall and strong. A feather stuck out from his hair. He carried a bow in one of his hands. On his back was another bow, and some arrows, too.

And now the Indian had turned away from the river. He was walking along the Elephant Path, coming on to the monkey house. Yes, and a few minutes later, he stopped down below at the bottom of the very tall tree.

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground. "How," said the Indian. "Fine, thank you. How are you?" Daddy Ringtail asked. But before the Indian could answer, Daddy Ringtail heard a noise that was coming fast from somewhere down the Elephant Path. The noise was a duck who was running fast with a "Quack! Quack! Quack!"

Daddy Ringtail knew that the duck was one with the name of George. George was a duck with white George feathers. Yes, and close behind George, chasing him to grab away a white George feather, Featherman was running fast. He reached out his hand as he ran, all to grab a George feather away.

"Oh, that Featherman. All that he thinks about is feathers, feathers, and more feathers. He takes them home to a nest instead of a house." "Kerplatt!" Oh-oh, because there the Featherman now had stepped on his long white whiskers. He had fallen flat to the ground.

George got away, of course, but then the Featherman saw the feather in the Indian's hair. "Oh, feathers, feathers, feathers," said the Featherman to himself. He decided right then and there he was going to have that feather for himself, and if you think that something is about to happen, you are absolutely right. I'll tell you about it tomorrow. Happy day!

Shivers, Daniel Heap Praise Upon Retiring Connally

AUSTIN—(P)—Governor Shivers said Monday he considers his present work in Democratic Party matters more important than any personal campaign for the senatorship Senator Connally is vacating.

He repeated in a prepared statement that Connally's withdrawal does not change his personal plans to be a candidate for reelection as governor.

Shivers paid tribute to Connally's public service. Senator Connally has brought to the American scene one of the most colorful and charming political personalities the nation has known during this troubled century.

Under the draft law, local boards can grant deferments for only one year, except for certain high school students. In cases other than educational deferments, officials said, a deferment cannot be granted until the youth receives notice of induction.

Under the law, a youth not previously granted on educational deferment is entitled to one, upon his request, to finish an academic year he already has started in college, provided he maintains satisfactory class standing.

Officials at National Selective Service Headquarters told a reporter Monday this probably will involve upwards of 230,000 young men, probably all 19-year-olds or older.

Carrying on a 49-year-old tradition, the 1952 muster will be held in the Ector County Auditorium and festivities will start at 7 p.m. with an hour of fellowship.

A muster is held each year by former students of Texas A&M to pay their respects to fellow Aggies who have died and also as a humble tribute to the Texans who won the freedom of the state at the Battle of San Jacinto near Houston 116 years ago.

C. V. Milburn, chairman of the muster, will serve as master of ceremonies for the evening events. Others scheduled to appear on the program are George Lovett, E. W. White, Ed. Martin and A. C. (Johnny) Bassett.

The Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will serve a barbecue dinner and the entertainment program will be headed by Bob Clark. A juke box dance will follow the program.

Tickets in Midland may be obtained from Pat Stanford, county surveyor, who is president of Midland A&M Club. Stanford invites all A&M men in the area and friends of the college to attend the 1952 muster.

South Korea Fetes General Van Fleet's First Anniversary

SEOUL, KOREA—(P)—Seoul Monday gave the biggest party since its liberation for Gen. James A. Van Fleet, who for a year has commanded forces in Korea.

President Syngman Rhee wrote a poem for the general. School children banded the streets as he rode by at the head of a parade. "Happy Anniversary" banners were stretched across his path.

A special South Korean Army and Navy guard lined the more than two miles between Van Fleet's headquarters and Rhee's official residence, where the party was held.

Police estimated more than 40,000 flag-waving Koreans cheered along the route.

Despite drizzling rain, the 60-year-old general stood in an open jeep, standing and waving a small Korean flag. There were cheers, applause and the Korean equivalent of "Long live Van Fleet."

Rhee presented the general a pale ivory Korean screen with the poem inscribed in Korean characters.

The Korean Army presented the general an album of photographs covering his year in Korea, which began just before last year's Chinese April offensive.

The Rok Navy gave Van Fleet a black lacquer table with a victorious American eagle inlaid in mother of pearl.

Not "warmed over" but strictly brand new!

You owe it to your pocketbook to drive this Chrysler engine before you buy any fine car today.

It's not a "warmed-over" engine, but a basically brand-new one!

It gives a new kind of performance that means new value for every dollar you pay out for purchase, upkeep, or operation.

It was built brand-new around a hemispherical combustion chamber which makes better use of gasoline, and also permits sounder all-round engine structure, than any American motor car engine has had before.

It delivers 180 horsepower . . . without requiring you to buy premium gasoline. It runs with less waste, less heat, less friction and less wear than previous designs can equal. Its combustion is so clean it literally develops almost no carbon deposit at all.

It will last longer than any engine you've ever known. It will cost you less along the way. It will stay "young" in performance thousands of miles past the point where an ordinary engine shows old age.

And on top of all that, it makes driving a lot more pleasure! Its smooth response . . . its safety-power, in reserve for emergencies . . . its easy scorch for distance or hills . . . make you just plain feel good at the wheel as you've never felt before.

For the good of your purse and your pleasure too . . . we invite you to drive it, soon!

Major Teams Lead With Best Hurlers

Maglie, Parnell, Roe, Raschi In Opening Contests

NEW YORK—(AP)—Major league ball clubs will lead with their pitching aces Tuesday when the 1952 baseball season gets underway but the lineups otherwise will be dotted with new faces.

In New York, Sal Maglie (23-6), Giants' ace, will oppose Robin Roberts (21-13), Philadelphia's best. The Giants, however, will present a couple of new faces in Second Baseman Dave Williams and Left Fielder Bob Elliott. Williams succeeds the scrappy Eddie Stanky. Elliott was obtained from the Braves as an eleventh-hour fill-in for the injured Monte Irvin.

The Phillies' newcomers will be Connie Ryan, acquired during the winter trade to plug the second base gap, and Catcher Smokey Burgess, who came along in the same deal.

Boston fans will see a flock of newcomers in the lineup when the Braves' Warren Spahn (22-14) faces the Brooklyn Dodgers' Preacher Roe (22-3). Second Baseman Billy Reed, Shortstop Jack Cusick and Third Baseman Ed Mathews will appear in starting roles.

The Dodgers will field the same team that lost the pennant in a playoff with the Giants last year.

Jim Fridley, hard-hitting young outfielder, may be in the Cleveland lineup when the Indians, with Early Wynn (20-13) on the mound, tackle the Chicago White Sox. Lefty Billy Pierce (15-14) will pitch for the Sox, who will show their home town fans new faces in Third Baseman Hec Rodriguez and Catcher Sherman Lollar.

Lou Boudreau, confronted with the loss of Ted Williams, is grooming a couple of young hard-hitting outfielders and may start newcomers Faye Thorneberry and Gene Stephens when Boston faces the Senators in Washington. Mel Parnell (18-11) will hurl against the Nats' Bob Fotherfield (9-4).

The Browns will top them all when it comes to presenting new profiles. Manager Rogers Hornsby, back at the managerial helm, will feature a new team except for Pitches Ned Garver (20-12) when the Browns oppose Dixie Trout (9-14) and the Tigers in Detroit. Catcher Clint Courtney, Outfielder Jim Rivera, Bob Nieman and George Schmees and Infielders Marty Marion, Leo Thomas and Gordon Goldsberry are just some of the newcomers.

Jack Jensen will be in center field for the Yankees in Philadelphia when Vic Raschi (21-10) tries to continue his jinx over the Athletics. He has beaten them 20 times in 27 decisions.

The St. Louis Cardinals may use Rookie Steve Bilko at first against Pittsburgh when Gerry Staley (19-13) takes the mound against the Pirates' Murry Dickson (20-16). The Cubs will counter with some rookies of their own in Infielders Dick Hall and Jimmy Merson and Outfielder Bobby Del Greco.

Veteran right-handers Bob Ruoh (11-12) of the Cubs and Herm Wehrmeister (7-10) of the Reds will be the opposing pitchers in the Chicago-Cincinnati game which may feature the debut of Outfielder Wally Post of the Reds and Catcher Toby Atwell of the Cubs.

The Reds, one of the most active clubs in the winter trade part, will present new players in Catcher Andy Seminick and Outfielders Dick Sleser and Bob Borkowski.

The teams certainly aren't expected to finish in regular play the way they did in exhibitions.

Chicago's Cubs in the National and St. Louis' Browns in the American, led the loops—Chicago with a 20-8 mark and the Browns with 15-9.

Both these outfits actually are expected to finish in the second division in the play-for-keepers bracket.

Behind Chicago in the National came Brooklyn (20-12), Cincinnati (18-14), Philadelphia (20-10), St. Louis (13-14), Pittsburgh (16-13), New York (16-16) and Boston (16-19).

New York's Yankees had a 21-13 Spring mark, second in percentage to the Browns. The White Sox finished 20-14, Red Sox 17-13, Athletics 17-14, Indians 16-14, Tigers 14-15 and Senators, 11-13.

Dallas, Shreveport Win To Take Lead In Texas Loop Play

Dallas and Shreveport lead the Texas League as the clubs change stands for the second round of opening games.

The Eagles whipped Tulsa twice and Shreveport did the same to Beaumont over the weekend.

Meanwhile San Antonio was winning two out of three from Houston, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City were splitting and Tulsa and Beaumont, of course, went winless.

Sunday, found Dallas licking Tulsa, 4-2, as Dave Hoskins, the first negro ever to play in the Texas League, had a shaky start but managed to weather nine innings and hold Tulsa to eight hits. He was in trouble most of the time but got great help from his mates. Fourteen Olers were left on the sacks.

Shreveport which went three hours and fifteen minutes Saturday night before losing out Beaumont, 9-8, had to go 12 innings Sunday to take a 4-3 decision.

San Antonio twice got the winning run in the last inning in sweeping a doubleheader from Houston, 2-1 and 3-2. Second Baseman Earl Weaver committed errors to lead to the deciding tally.

Oklahoma City shoved eight runs across in the eighth to beat Fort Worth, 9-7, and split the two games played at Oklahoma City.

Indians Triumph, 7-5

NEW IBERIA—(AP)—Manager Zeke Bonura's Midland Indians closed out their Spring exhibitions in Lutchers Sunday with a 7 to 5 triumph over the New Iberia Pelicans.

It was the eighth win in 11 starts and the fifth straight for the Texas crew.

Tuesday night, the Indians play in Natchez, Miss., and go to Monroe, La., Wednesday. They play in Midland Friday against the Big Spring Broncs.

Keith Nicolls, limited service right-hander, went the distance on the mound for Midland. He allowed 10 hits, walked four and struck out 10.

One home run was hit by Midland—a solo homer by Catcher Bill Brown.

New Iberia hit two off Nicolls—in the third and fifth innings with a man on each time.

Midland got two runs in the first on a single by Bobby Gordon, a double by Stan Wilcox and a single by Julio de la Torre.

In the fourth, successive singles by Hayden White, Brown and Woody Pennington, plus a long fly-out by Bill Crumley, produced two more tallies.

Tito Santeigo walked in the sixth, Gordon singled and Santeigo then scored on an error. Wilcox drove Gordon home with a fly ball.

ACCIDENTALLY, OFFICIALS WONDER?

Promising Athletes Drafted For Service

NEW YORK—(AP)—Once in a while a chance phrase will get stuck in a man's mind, the same as one of those advertising jingles on the radio, and he will go nuts for several days trying to shake the thing. One of them has given us a hard time over the weekend.

It began when we read where Col. James E. Johnson, head Selective Service official in Alabama, and reminded young Willie Mays of the New York Giants that he "owes perhaps a greater obligation to his country than other boys because of his promise in the sports world."

The occasion was the turn-down of Willie's appeal against being drafted next month. The 20-year-old negro star had claimed he was the chief support of four of his 11 brothers and sisters, his step-dad being unemployed. Col. Johnson ruled it was not a true hardship case, and we accept his trained judgment there, but the "greater obligation" quote stuck like a needle in a cracked record.

Just why, we kept asking ourself, just why does Willie owe a greater debt to his country than the kid in the next block who can't clothesline tain he would not be in uniform to-day but for his athletic prominence. Don, who served a brief hitch in the Navy before receiving a medical discharge, has a whole catalogue of minor ailments.

Mantle's Case
Mickey Mantle of the Yankees practically commuted to Oklahoma last year while his draft board convinced itself—and the public—that osteomyelitis of the shin is a permanent condition and renders a youth unfit for Army service.

There have been other recent cases of ball players recalled to the colors which have caused persons totally unconnected with the game to wonder out loud. The answer, now happily available, seems to be that they owed a "greater obligation."

There goes that record again.

Don Newcombe, the huge Brooklyn pitcher, told reporters at Norfolk the other day that he felt certain he would not be in uniform to-day but for his athletic prominence. Don, who served a brief hitch in the Navy before receiving a medical discharge, has a whole catalogue of minor ailments.

Mantle's Case
Mickey Mantle of the Yankees practically commuted to Oklahoma last year while his draft board convinced itself—and the public—that osteomyelitis of the shin is a permanent condition and renders a youth unfit for Army service.

'Hole-In-One' Wall Paces Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—Art Wall, Jr., the Pennsylvanian whose chief claim to fame has been a phenomenal record of 31 hole-in-ones, was on the threshold of his first big victory in a three-year professional golfing career Monday.

But standing squarely in Wall's path to the $2,000 first place payoff window of the $10,000 Greater Greensboro Open tournament was Sammy Sneed, an old hand at winning here.

Wall came in with a next-to-last threesome 67 in Sunday's third round for a 54-hole total of 206 and an one stroke lead over Sneed, whose earlier 66 had given him what appeared to be the eventual lead at 207 with which to start Monday's last round.

Sneed, winner here four times, including the first Greensboro Open in 1938, did it in 33-39 over the par 71, 6,630-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course while an Easter Sunday gallery trooped along at his heels all the way. But Wall, out in 34, matched Sammy's incoming 33 to move to the head of the pack.

It was far from a two-man scramble, however. There were two dangerous rivals at 206, only two strokes back of Wall—Bobby Locke, the South African smoothie, and long Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., whose 64 set a tournament record Saturday.

Only three strokes away at 205 were Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill., the 36-hole leader who fell from a pair of 68's to 73; and Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla.

And if you wanted a dark horse, there were three of them at 210—Julius Boros, Southern Pines, N. C.; Jim Furrier, San Francisco, and Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa.

Twenty-eight-year old Wall, like last year's winner here, Art Doering, does not have a club connection. Last year, after winning here for his first major victory, Doering landed a Cincinnati club job. Wall, playing from Honesdale, Pa., has his fingers crossed.

A source of some embarrassment to him has been his record of 31 aces, the last of which came only a week ago at Durham, where he was tuning up for this tournament. He's been subjected to some expected joshing over the run of holes-in-one, but there was nothing funny about his game Sunday as he came charging home with a needed birdie four on the last hole to wrest the lead from Sneed.

Wall has $710 in official PGA Winter tour earnings this year, last year his total pickup was a modest $580.

Sneed, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slugger, with the Augusta Masters Tournament last week to push his year's winning to more than $5,500, No. 4 on the list.

Sammy's pair of 33's gave him the best score of the third round. He finished the front side with three threes, including an eagle when he chipped it from 18 yards on No. 5.

Dale Hall's University of New Hampshire basketball team set a new University scoring record. This was Hall's first year as coach at the institution.

Germ Warfare Tales, Like Flying Saucer Yarns, Gain Power By Frequent Telling

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Remember the flying saucers? There were some weird tales about them. For a long while people laughed and shrugged off the stories. But the tale kept coming more fantastic each time. After a while, people weren't so sure. There might have been something to it. The experience may be the same with the fantastic Communist stories of bacteriological warfare in Korea.

... unless the United Nations can counter them dramatically. For the time being, in most of the non-Communist world, the stories are disbelieved. But they are being repeated over and over again, with a persistence recalling the big lie technique of the Nazis. The Communist campaign is not something to be shrugged off. It is one of the most concerted anti-American drives yet staged under Moscow direction. It is not confined by any means, to the Far East, but is hammered out daily in Red propaganda channels throughout Europe. There seems little doubt that the campaign was planned carefully by the Cominform. In fact, it can be demonstrated that this is the case. Prague, capital of communized Czechoslovakia, has become the fountainhead of major Cominform propaganda thrusts against the West. It has become a headquarters for Communist action and counteraction in the war of words.

Recently a curious piece of propaganda emanated from Prague. It was mailed to many persons in high places in non-Communist countries and governments. This was in the form of an engraved invitation, elaborately embossed. This card read as follows: "World Council of Peace, Secretariat. The general secretary of the World Council of Peace has the honor to submit for our appreciation the appeal launched by M. Frederic Joliot-Curie following the utilization of bacteriological weapons in Korea and China. Enclosed with this card was a four-page folder, containing the text of the Joliot-Curie 'appeal against the use of bacteriological weapons.' Joliot-Curie is the president of the Communist-directed World Council of Peace. He is a Communist who was removed from his office as head of the French Atomic Energy Commission for that reason. Joliot-Curie's 'appeal' first appeared in the Paris Communist daily Ce Soir, under great black headlines, and accompanied by a dispatch from a Communist correspondent in Korea which said that all Europe would be threatened by the spread of plague from the war area. Press Takes Up Cry. All the rest of the European Communist Press has taken up the cry and pursued it daily. The London Daily Worker has run articles such as 'How I Became a Germ Warfare Spy,' purporting to be an interview with a North Korean who confessed to spying in preparation for American germ warfare. A hand-picked 'commission' has reported for the Communist that the Americans were guilty of 10 counts of war crimes in Korea, including the use of bacteriological warfare. Daily the Chinese Communist press and radio lays on charge after fantastic charge against the Americans. The purpose is not at all obscure. The object is to depict the Americans in the role of the most horrid of criminals and the Soviet Union as the humane champion of peace. So far the campaign has had little effect in the West—but it looks like a job which requires a strong counter-barrage. Apparently there is raging disease in Northern China and North Korea. If so, the West should make it clear that the blame belongs in Peking.

Army Asks For More Money To Track Down Deserters

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Army wants more money to use for the apprehension of deserters, but it declines to disclose how many soldiers have "gone over the hill." Asked Monday how many desertions have occurred at home and overseas since the Korean war started, a spokesman told a reporter the figures are classified. (That means they bear one of these stamps: top secret, secret, confidential or restricted.) Members of a congressional committee who recently asked a somewhat similar question also apparently didn't get an answer, although they were told the information was classified. During hearings by a House Appropriations subcommittee on the military budget for the next fiscal year starting July 1, the Army asked for $1,807,000 for the apprehension and return of deserters, an increase of $500,000 over last year. Representative Bikes (D-Fla) asked the colonel testifying if that meant the cost was up "or do you have more deserters?" Col. V. M. Budge, chief of the Army's budget division, answered. "We do not maintain any statistics about deserters" in his office, that budget requests are estimated by the field armies and overseas commands on the basis of the information they have. The published report on the hearing indicates Bikes never did learn whether there are more deserters. The colonel subsequently explained that one item in the increase was accounted for by a change in law. The Army now bears the cost of sending men out to bring an apprehended deserter back. Until recently, the travel cost of the guard, plus that of the prisoner, was charged against the pay of the returned deserter.

Telephone Cable Cut In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS —(P)— A large telephone cable was cut 11 miles south of Alexandria in Central Louisiana, disrupting service between New Orleans and Shreveport several hours Sunday.

The cutting "was intentional," according to Charles Pearson, Jr., district manager for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company. Commenting on the cable cutting, J. I. Mahady, Louisiana head of the GWA, said, "The telephone company probably paid some of their goons to do it. I don't know anything about it. Naturally, no one in his right mind condones action of this kind." The company offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of the guilty persons. It took repairmen five hours to fix the cable. Calls were rerouted while repairs were made.
