New Yorkers Stake 8,500-Foot Test In Midland Region

Horvath Mills, Inc., and George Roche, Jr., both of New York, will drill an 8,500-foot Spraberry wildcat in South-Central Midland County, eight miles northwest of Spraberry production in the Midland field of Southeast Midland County.

Location for the drillsite has been made 600 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block 39, T-4-S, 7&P survey and 17 miles south of the city of Midland.

It will be drilled on a checker-boarded spread of 3,500 acres secured from Gulf Oil Corporation, R. L. York and H. B. (Red) Rouse. Operations are to start at once.

The prospector will be drilled as No. 1 Wilson Bryant. Exploration Drilling Company has the rotary contract.

Abo Oil Flows At Wildcat In SE Lea Sector

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has a flowing discovery from the Abo at its No. 1 Roy Barton, wildcat in the Drinkard field of Southeast Lea County, N. M.

On a drillsite test in that formation from 6,975 to 7,973 feet, gas surfaced in five minutes and mud and oil started flowing in 18 minutes. It was flowed to pits to clean for an unreported length of time and then turned to tanks.

On last report it was flowing to tanks. No estimate or gauge has been made on the flow.

This prospector is one and three-quarters miles north and three-quarters mile east of Shell Oil Company No. 1 Chasler, recently completed Abo discovery.

Exact location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 23-21a-37e.

Hissom Will Drill 5,200-Foot Test In C-N Ward Area

Hissom Drilling Company of Midland staked location for a 5,200-foot rotary wildcat Central-North Ward County, 10 miles north of Bartow.

It will be drilled as No. 1 T. B. Frutts, Jr. 600 feet from north and west lines of section 20, block 1, W&NW survey.

Elevation at drillsite is 2,700 feet. It will be dug on a 160-acre lease. Operations are to start by April 22.

McCutchen Stakes San Andres Wildcat In S-C Yoakum Area

Seven miles north of Denver City and in South-Central Yoakum County, Alma McCutchen of Dallas will drill No. 1 Pearl Dillard as a 5,300-foot San Andres wildcat.

It will be dug 600 feet from south and west lines of section 637, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is on a farmplot from Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

Standstill turned the acreage to D. H. Roe of Fort Worth who turned it to McCutchen to drill the wildcat.

Drillsite is two miles west of a long north extension to the central-north portion of the Watson field and one and one-half miles north of production in the same portion of the pool.

Operations are to start at once. Elevation at drillsite is 3,847 feet.

Houston Man To Dig Wildcat In NW-C Concho

H. C. Spoor of Houston will drill his No. 1 P. R. Speck as a 3,600-foot wildcat in Northwest-Central Concho County, 10 miles northwest of Eden.

It is to be dug 1,282 feet from south and 1,650 feet from east lines of block 1, GC&SF survey and on a 3,976-acre block.

Echols, Coville Schedule Shallow Test In Tom Green

One and one-quarter miles southeast of the discovery well of the Rape-Clear Fork field of Central-West Tom Green County, P. Q. Echols and James E. Coville of Crane will drill No. 1 Otto Bubentk (Continued On Page 12)

Ike Sweeps To Victory In Jersey

General Tops Ohio Senator In Vote Flood

NEWARK, N. J.—(P)—A flood of votes carried Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower towards a 150,000 victory margin in New Jersey Wednesday, and established him as the leading Republican presidential candidate on the Atlantic Seaboard.

It was the second consecutive time he has defeated Senator Robert A. Taft in the East in an election where both men's names were on the ballot.

Stevenson Says No To Party Draft

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(P)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said Wednesday, "I could not accept" the Democratic nomination for President.

Stevenson issued his statement shortly before his scheduled takeoff for a flight to Omaha and a conference with President Truman on flood conditions.

"I have repeatedly said that I was a candidate for governor of Illinois and had no other ambition," Stevenson said.

"I must now add that in view of my prior commitment to run for governor and my desire and the desire of many who have given me their help and confidence in our unfinished work in Illinois, I could not accept the nomination for any other office this summer."

Two Texans Hurry Home To Consider U. S. Senate Race

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two Texas congressmen sped homeward Wednesday for talks which may lead to their entering the race for the Senate seat which Senator Tom Connally will give up next January.

Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen left by plane at mid-morning and expected to be in Austin late Wednesday to confer with Gov. Allan Shivers.

Rep. Wingate Lucas of Grapevine left by train Tuesday night. He is scheduled to arrive in Fort Worth Thursday to meet with friends.

Both are Democrats and World War II veterans. Both are understood to have been urged to run by friends who heretofore have supported Connally.

FASHION LIKES IKE—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's imminent homecoming and his New Jersey victory have had more than political repercussions. Fashion designers, alert to a "good thing," have decided they "like Ike." Radio and television actress Maggi McNellis models a new "I like Ike" circle skirt and an "Ike" choker of black velvet.

Reservists Blast Randolph Program

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Eight reserve flying officers at Randolph Air Force Base told a San Antonio Light reporter the base was seething with discontent.

They demanded a congressional investigation of Randolph and the Air Force reserve program.

The officers had asked the reporter to meet them at a roadside restaurant Tuesday night. All but one appeared in civilian clothing.

They said they were not among the six Randolph officers who face a court martial for refusal to obey orders to fly.

"They told the reporter in the restaurant, deliberate discrimination against reservists was taking place in the B-29 combat crew training program and claimed that their regular Air Force instructors and officers were sending recalls to Korea to fight but staying state-side themselves and that many of them had yet to log an hour of combat time.

"One said, 'We think all regulars should make a combat tour before we go back the second time. Everyone of us here had World War II combat time. Randolph now is stacked up with high ranking, free-loading regulars who never had any overseas time.'

All had suggestions for additions to a formal statement. They agreed on this one:

"We are not protesting flying B-29 aircraft or combat in Korea, although we're not overjoyed about fighting. This interview is caused by the deliberate, gross mismanagement of this B-29 program by a group of incompetent regulars."

Army Engineers Optimistic As Greatest Missouri Flood In History Nears Omaha

OMAHA, NEB.—(P)—The guard was up Wednesday against a flood punch hardly anyone thought the mad Missouri River could throw.

And the river was ready with that punch after leaving much of its valley in misery.

The slashing and tearing river—most savage of several now creating havoc in the rich Midwest area—due to hit the Omaha and Council Bluffs area early Thursday with a crest of 31.5 feet, much more than man built his best flood walls and levees to stand normally against the Missouri. The walls originally were built for a 26.6 crest.

To meet the Missouri's maddened march, the walls and levees have been hiked by flash boards, more dirt, sandbags, almost everything that an estimated 14,600 workers—Army men and civilians—could throw up.

In this area the Army Engineers have staked a lot, and some 34,000 persons have been moved out of sections of Council Bluffs that will be flooded if there is a "blowout" and 5,000 in Omaha. In the Bluffs, that is two-thirds of the population.

This is the scene President Truman was to view by air at mid-day as he flew into Omaha to talk over the job of putting the displaced back on their feet once the water is gone. He will meet with the governors of seven of the states that have been or may expect to be punished by the Missouri, the Mississippi and other smaller mauling rivers.

The big question is whether the Omaha-Council Bluffs protections will be able to hold back the biggest Missouri flood the white man ever has seen, and which already has ravaged areas of the Dakotas, Nebraska and Iowa.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the Army Engineers, thinks there's a good chance the Missouri can be handled here. If it can't, then the river has scored its biggest victory—for every effort has been made here to stop the marauder.

Not only does the general, who drew these plans against the river when he was Missouri Basin engineer, think the river can be contained in this metropolitan area.

But he believes it can be stopped from mauling man's homes and lands on southward.

He will throw his manpower unsparingly into the fight, not only on the federal walls and levees, but, he said, on any levee in the rich farmland that lies southward—regardless of who built it.

General Pick sees victory within reach for the men and machines, provided there is no sudden "blowout" of any wall or levee or an unexpected downpour of rain.

Upstream, the Missouri has lashed the land a terrific trouncing, although the loss of life has been at a very minimum. So has the Mississippi in areas in Minnesota and Wisconsin and the Red River of the North in Minnesota. Further, the Mississippi has a spearhead poised to rip into Iowa and possibly Illinois cities along its southward route to the sea.

While everything that could be done in threatened areas was being done, another big job was just beginning. That was rehabilitation of the homeless.

Here is the magnitude of the cleanup job: The rivers have, the Red Cross estimates, forced 36,629 (Continued On Page Two)

Slayer Of Radio Man Ends Life By Hanging

HUNTSVILLE—(P)—Sam Smithwick, the big husky South Texas deputy sheriff serving a life sentence for the shooting death of radio broadcaster W. H. (Bill) Mason, committed suicide by hanging in his prison cell Tuesday night.

He had taken a towel, twisted it, tied it around his neck and anchored it to the top bunk of double-decker beds in his cell. A guard checked at 11 p.m. found everything okay. Another check at midnight, and there was the hanging body.

Mrs. Ernest Flanklow, who is serving out the term of her late husband as justice of the peace here, returned a verdict of suicide.

Nobody could say why Smithwick did it. Prison officials made a complete investigation covering guards, inmates and others who saw him regularly, and no one could say. Relatives in Alice were notified and the body was taken to a funeral home here.

Smithwick was a lumbering 250-pounder. He was 64 years old and suffered from rheumatism. Because of his age and illness he had been given a cell all his own. He told Don Reid of the Huntsville Item about 10 days ago he was "getting along pretty well."

Smithwick hadn't done any work at the prison in several months—he'd just been sitting around, basking in the sun when possible.

Mason, 51, a veteran newspaperman who had turned to radio broadcasting, was shot to death July 29, 1949, as he sat in his automobile on a street in Alice.

Smithwick gave himself up the same day. He claimed self-defense but was convicted on Jan. 25, 1950. His trial had been moved to Belton on a change of venue.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

EL PASO—(P)—Lt. Verne Goodwin of Peabody, Mass., an Air Force reservist, Wednesday was sentenced to two years in prison for refusing to fly. A Biggs AFB court martial dismissed Goodwin from the Air Force and ordered his entire pay forfeited for the two years he will be in confinement.

LONDON—(P)—Britain agreed Wednesday to bind herself to automatic and immediate war to help any of the six nations in the proposed European Army if they are attacked in Europe.

OMAHA, NEB.—(P)—President Truman declared here Wednesday afternoon, after a survey of the flood-stricken Midwest, that he would review his demands upon Congress for enactment of a national flood control program, embracing flood control insurance.

BEAUMONT—(P)—Dr. F. L. McDonald, head of the journalism department of the Texas State College for Women at Denton, Wednesday was named president of Lamar State College of Technology here.

Murphy Nominated First Post-War Envoy To Japan

WASHINGTON—(P)—Robert D. Murphy of Milwaukee was nominated by President Truman Wednesday to be the first post-war ambassador to Japan.

The President sent the nomination to the Senate in a follow-up action to his signing Tuesday of the Japanese peace treaty, which is to be put into effect April 28.

Murphy, now ambassador to Belgium, was chosen for the important post because of a varied 31-year career which has made him one of the country's most experienced diplomats.

Tall, bald and affable, the 57-year-old envoy is a veteran of difficult overseas assignments—almost all in Europe. But for the last month, he has been undergoing intensive briefing at the State Department on the complex problems expected in the new phase of Japanese-American relations.

He has been envoy to Belgium the last two years. Before that Murphy was a top authority on German affairs. He served mostly in Germany and France until he went to Algiers after the German invasion of France. He helped pave the way for the World War II Allied invasion of North Africa. Murphy is a native of Milwaukee.

Japan's new ambassador to the U. S. is expected to be Vice Foreign Minister Sadao Iguchi, first secretary at the embassy here when the attack on Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, 1941, plunged his country into war with America.

Tuesday's informal signing by the President will be followed by a more formal ceremony April 28 depositing the treaty in the State Department's archives.

The Japanese treaty is not in full effect until at least seven of the 13 nations who signed the document in San Francisco last year have ratified and deposited it with the State Department.

Four nations have completed action—Japan, Britain, Australia and New Zealand. The U. S. depositing will leave action by only two nations needed to make Japan a sovereign state again.

Canada, Pakistan and possibly France and Ceylon may complete action in the next few days. The Netherlands, Philippines and Indonesia have not approved the treaty.

Pair Arrested In Post Office Robbery

A 22-year-old Terminal woman and a 30-year-old Quitaque man were placed in the Midland County jail Wednesday for questioning in the recent robbery of the Mullin Post Office in Mills County.

The pair was arrested at Terminal Tuesday. Officers said the auto which was used in the robbery is being held by Odessa authorities.

Another suspect, officers declared, is being held in Lubbock for questioning in the robbery.

'52 Cancer Crusade Opens Officially Here Wednesday

Midland County's 1952 Cancer Crusade was underway Wednesday, with considerable interest on the part of Midlanders in the finance campaign being reported by George S. Cone, Crusade chairman.

Contribution booths were opened in the lobbies of The Midland National Bank, The First National Bank and Hotel Scharbauer. Ruth Penneycook is in charge of this phase of the campaign.

Although house-to-house and store-to-store solicitations will not be conducted, Cone said drives are underway in the city's major office buildings.

Captains of the solicitation efforts in the office buildings were announced by Cone as follows: James R. Sharp, First National Building; Thomas Ingram, McClintic; Harlan Howell, Central; H. D. Bushnell, Petroleum; Butler Hurley, Midland Tower; John Ashmun, V-J Tower; J. Hugh Ledtke, Wilkinson-Foster; Edward M. Oldson, Humble; Virgil Lilly, Magnolia; Francis J. Kingdon, Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line; Ralph Osborne, Honolulu; L. A. Kuykendall, Stanolind; H. H. Kaderil, Skelly, and W. G. Terry, Permian.

Olin Prather is chairman of the Big Gifts Committee.

Third Series Of Tremors Shakes Area In Oklahoma

EL RENO, OKLA.—(P)—For the third time in a week this city held onto its hat as the ground shook in two distinct earthquakes.

The tremors, which struck at about midnight and 12:05 a.m. Wednesday, were felt in parts of Oklahoma City and nearby Union City. Other cities in the vicinity did not feel the quake. No damage has been reported.

A week ago Wednesday, the first earthquake of the current series hit the Midwest. That one shook buildings in seven states.

Seismologists placed the center of the first disturbance near Oklahoma City and said it was caused by a four-inch shift in a deeply buried mountain range which stretches from Texas to Nebraska.

W. E. Maughn, Oklahoma City weather observer, said additional light quakes can be expected following the first one.

"It will be another earth smoothing out her blanket from Iowa to Texas," said Maughn.

Telephone operators at El Reno reported the new tremor knocked out every drop line on the board. The reformatory here said all the inmates were awakened.

Observers described it as about half as strong as the original shocks last week.

A woman at Oklahoma City reported to police she awoke and saw the bed move. She wanted the officers to find out if there was a man hiding underneath.

Keep Japan Friendly To America, Retired Admiral Urges In Midland

America's policy in the Far East must be to keep Japan strong and friendly to the United States and out of the hands of Russia, Rear Adm. Benton W. Decker, USN Retired, told members of the Midland Knife & Fork Club at their final meeting of the 1951-52 season Tuesday night in the high school cafeteria.

Fair And Warmer Is Weather Pattern In Most Of Nation

By The Associated Press
It was fair weather with temperatures climbing to near normal levels, over most of the country Wednesday.

Light showers hit areas in the Central Atlantic states and in the Eastern Rockies and Central Plains. But skies were mostly clear in other areas.

No heavy rain was forecast for the Midwest flood areas, where some 100,000 persons have been made homeless. Warmer weather was predicted for most of the central part of the country.

The Weather Bureau in Washington expects the next 30 days will be a little cooler than seasonal in most of the eastern half of the country but warmer than normal in the West. In a forecast for the next month, the bureau said readings were expected to be near normal in New England and the Upper Great Lakes. Above normal rainfall was predicted from the Appalachians eastward; subnormal over the Northern Plains and Western Mountain States, and about normal in other areas.

families or more than 100,000 persons to leave their homes. Not all of these have seen the waters as yet surge through their dwellings, but most have and those who haven't rest their hopes and man's money and muscle that went into protective dikes behind which the homes will stand unscathed.

The experts say there is farm damage of the worst sort, to land and buildings, with more to come. There are cities that will need financial aid to get back into operation such things as utilities and sanitation systems. There are industries that may need the helping hand of federal funds.

LICENSED TO WED

Marriage licenses have been issued by the county clerk to Robert Burman and Eula Jean Ferguson, and Lorenzo Richardson and Thelma Tyler.

MacArthur in the occupation of Japan, was introduced by County Attorney Reagan Legg, Thornton Hardie, Jr., K&F Club president.

The admiral spoke at length concerning the occupation of Japan, which he termed "the most unique and most successful in history."

The Christian-benevolent occupation, directed by Douglas MacArthur, gave Japan a new philosophy of life based upon Christianity, he said.

Admiral Decker questioned the wisdom of the President in relieving General MacArthur of his Japanese command, and lashed out bitterly at State Department officials and others, whom he said "sabotaged many of our former friends and allies in the Far East."

"Had we followed Gen. Albert Wedemeyer's recommendations, or had General MacArthur been placed in command of the entire Far East, we probably would not have lost China and perhaps would not have been engaged in a war in Korea," he declared.

Colonel Goldenberg said the officers had been suspended pending results of an investigation of their requests by a flying evaluation board. He did not reveal their names.

Chairman Hunt (D-Wyo) of the Senate Armed Services subcommittee called his group together to consider extra pay given servicemen who perform "hazardous" duty. But he said the Air Force sidestep incidents were certain to figure prominently in the inquiry.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), leading a fight to reduce or eliminate the extra pay, contends there is less danger in modern submarines and combat airplanes than in many other military, naval or air assignments.

Douglas, wounded as a Marine lieutenant colonel in World War II, said between 200 and 300 million dollars a year could be saved by dropping the extra pay.

There has been criticism in both the Senate and House about air officers, assigned to desk or other routine jobs, collecting hazard pay by flying passengers for as few as four hours a month.

Officers, Friends Puzzled By Bomb Death At Childress

CHILDRESS—Officers and friends were puzzled Wednesday at the death of a dairy farmer, killed by a bomb cleverly wired to his pickup truck's starter.

Fort Hill, 40, died in a traffic explosion about dawn Tuesday when he pressed the starter button. Friends of the big, friendly farmer—as well as police—could give no clues as to why he was slain.

Fort Hill, Okla., demolition experts, Texas Rangers and Sheriff Kermit Walters joined in an investigation of the blast, which shook this panhandle town and blew the truck to bits.

Rabbit Drive On In Martin County

STANTON—Rabbit killers moved over the Lenorah area Wednesday in opening the two-day drive.

The hunters left the Lenorah store at 9 a.m. and were to return to the Lenorah school at noon for a beef barbecue. The same schedule will prevail Thursday.

More than 6,000 rabbits were killed two weeks ago in a drive in the Tarzan Community.

the retired admiral stated. "Our open door policy in China, which had been successful more than 100 years, was destroyed at the Yalta Conference in February of 1945.

"The Korean war, incidentally, has taught us Russia cannot be trusted, and that we cannot do business with Russia."

He said the truce negotiations underway in Korea today "cannot possibly bear fruit."

Discussing the costly mistakes and blunders the U. S. has made in the Far East, Decker called for a strong and consistent foreign policy which will advance the best interests of the United States.

"Asia is just as important as Europe today, and 50 years from now it will be much more important," he declared.

On the current political front, Admiral Decker said General MacArthur definitely is not a presidential candidate, and that the general undoubtedly will support Taft for the high office.

The admiral declared his Republican party affiliation and left no doubt in the minds of his listeners that he favors Taft over General Eisenhower, whom he termed a great man.

"But I will cast my vote for whomever the Republicans nominate," he declared.

Bergman's Letter Tells Of Love Affair With Roberto

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—"It was not my intention to fall in love and go to Italy forever. After all our plans and dreams, you know that is true. But how can I help it or change it?"

So wrote Ingrid Bergman to her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, in a letter confessing her love for Roberto Rossellini, the Italian movie director.

The letter, dated April 3, 1949, was filed in court Tuesday on an affidavit as Lindstrom began a fight to keep their daughter, Jenny Ann, 13, from visiting the actress in Italy this summer.

"I know how this letter falls like a bomb on our house... our future, our past, so filled with sacrifice and help on your part,"

Miss Bergman wrote. "And now you stand alone in the ruins and I am unable to help you."

Miss Bergman had a child by Rossellini after she went to Italy to make a film for him. Three months later he announced they had been married by proxy in Mexico, after she had obtained a small order divorce. Dr. Lindstrom was awarded a divorce here Nov. 2, 1950, with the custody of Jenny Ann.

The actress had asked for Jenny Ann's visit sometime after July 15, the date she is expecting a second child by Rossellini. Superior Judge Mildred Lillie continued the case until June 3 and said she intends to question Jenny Ann about her feelings on the proposed visit.

Steel Mills Seizure In Hands Of Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—It was up to the federal courts Wednesday to decide whether President Truman's seizure of the nation's steel mills was constitutional.

The Justice Department, speaking for the Truman Administration set forth its views of the legality of the seizure in a brief filed with the U. S. District Court Tuesday.

The Justice Department contended:

1. The seizure was fully in accordance with constitutional law;

2. There are a number of precedents for Truman's action.

Five leading steel companies had challenged the seizure. They asked the court for a permanent injunction that would prohibit the president from taking over the mills.

The steel companies said the action was unconstitutional, that it caused them "irreparable damage" and that it was a step toward nationalization of the industry.

Convict Rioters Defy Keepers In New Jersey Prison

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—A handsome but vicious life-term convict and 67 followers continued Wednesday to defy their keepers in the third riot inside New Jersey's State Prison within the last month.

August Bernard Deak, described by the judge who sentenced him to life imprisonment for kidnaping as a "menace to society," led the revolt, which broke out at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the prison's print shop.

The 68 convicts barricaded themselves within the print shop, holding four prison employes hostages. They had not smashed any of the shop's equipment, a pattern set by some 30 convicts who rioted 46 hours three weeks ago in a segregation building.

Injured Odessa Enters Hospital

Jean Cox, 1017 East County Road, Odessa, was injured in an automobile accident about 10 miles south of Hadoack Corner Tuesday afternoon.

Reports said a truck driven by Cox was in collision with another vehicle. Cox was removed to the Midland Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for fractured right ribs, lacerations of the left knee and contusions and abrasions of the right side of his face and head.

Hospital officials described his condition Wednesday morning as "good."

Details of the collision were not available in Midland Wednesday.

Midlander Injures Back In Accident

W. C. Pierce of Midland, an employe of the John Drilling Company, was injured Tuesday while at work. He slipped and fell off a platform to the ground, a distance of about seven feet. As he was falling, he struck his back on a hand railing of the platform.

Pierce was knocked unconscious by the fall and was removed to the Midland Memorial Hospital, where he is being treated for shock and back injuries.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mrs. Fanny Brown of North Cowden Street entered the Midland Memorial Hospital Tuesday for medical treatment.

Penney's Midland Manager Has Been With Firm 22 Years

George Grayum, a veteran of 22 years service with the J. C. Penney Company, is manager of Penney's Midland store which will open its gala Golden Jubilee celebration Thursday.

Grayum started his career with the Penney firm in Paducah, Texas, trained in several other stores, and came to Midland in 1947 from Cisco, where he had served as store manager.

The Midland store was established in 1936, with the late Paul Nelson as its first manager.

Grayum, who is active in civic and service club affairs here, serves as interviewing manager for the company's college trainee program in West Texas and New Mexico. He will be in Lubbock late this week to interview members of the graduating class of Texas Tech. Grayum, incidentally, attended the Lubbock college.

He also is group leader for store managers in the West Texas-New Mexico, and conducts buying meetings held in this area.

Ed Gardner Says He's A Ham So 'Duffy's Tavern' Goes TV

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Exclusively Yours: Ed Gardner is ready to bring "Archie" and his "Duffy's Tavern" characters to television from Hollywood.

But he's not moving to Flickerville from Puerto Rico, the U. S. island possession where he's worked and made his home for the last three years to enjoy a more favorable income tax bracket.

In Hollywood to film the first Duffy's Tavern show for NBC's hour-long All Star Revue on May 31, Ed told me:

"We're not moving back to Hollywood. We plan to live in Puerto Rico for the rest of our lives. My wife loves it and so do the boys. We pay servants $50 a month and Simone (Mrs. G.) doesn't need any kids. It's wonderful even if my kids (age 4 and 8) do speak Spanish and I don't know what they're talking about."

If the filmed video format works out, Ed will drop his radio show and do from six to 10 telefilms for NBC next season, commuting to Hollywood from Puerto Rico.

But there will be no income tax break for him on his video salary. He'll be paying tax to both the U. S. and Puerto Rico.

Ed on reports he's become a millionaire since leaving Hollywood: A grinning "No comment."

Why his sudden leap into TV? "I went to New York a couple of weeks ago and had dinner with Abe Burrows. A guy came up and asked for his autograph but didn't recognize me. That did it. I'm a big ham."

Muffled Blast
Vivien Leigh is the dark horse in the race for "My Cousin Rachel." Both Joan Fontaine and Olivia de Havilland will burn if she lands the role. That blast from James Mason and Pamela Kellino about Hollywood's social cliques was an eye-opener, the reports say that the printed version was tame compared to what they really said.

Montgomery Clift is set for the role of a priest, falsely accused of murder, in Alfred Hitchcock's next thriller.

Claudette Colbert's London-made movie, "White Planet," has been retitled "The Painter's Wife" to avoid the impression of racial discrimination. . . . A Washington, D. C. theater owner is planning to fill burlesque strip teases and blackouts for national distribution. The guy's name is Bernard Lust. . . . MGM and Dorothy Dandridge are huddling on a long term contract.

Andy Wilson, the comic, says he's going to give a "Come-as-you-are" show.

It is said that the North Pole is moving southward at a rate of approximately six inches a year.

Dialog to think about in Paramount's new thriller, "The Atomic City," filmed at Los Alamos. As the son of an atomic scientist, eight-year-old Lee Aaker changes the famous juvenile words, "When I grow up," to:

Note to the censor: One of Lisa Lanchester's ballads at a Hollywood night-club is: "Vic Is So Nice."

Broderick Crawford's off-beat quotes:

"I'm going to raise my two sons to be actors—if they want to be. I think acting is the most worthwhile, exciting and character-building career in the world."

Just Like Mother Made
If you've wondered about those revealing bathing suits worn by Terry Moore in the fan mags, here's her frank explanation: "My mother makes them right on me."

Burt Lancaster, on the get of "Come Back Little Sheba," is denying reports he'll play the New York Palace theater this summer with his acrobatic act. He'll be in the South Seas filming "His Majesty O'Keefe," story of the man who ruled the private island empire of Yap in 1870's.

Mary Pickford is denying that her comeback movie, "The Library," is anti-Communist in theme. She told me:

"It's not anti-anything. It's pro-American and intelligent."

Jeanne Crain's hubby, ex-actor Paul Brinkman, is building another plant for his high precision war munitions work.

The camera will be trained on Ray Milland for every inch of footage in Hollywood's first "talkies" picture, the Clarc Greene-Russell Rouse production of "The Thiel." There will be a sound track to record noises and distant conversational murmur, but not one line of dialog.

Jean Howard Feted With Three Parties

PECOS—Jean Howard, bride-elect of Gus Hartgrove, was feted recently with a series of pre-nuptial parties.

Betty Daniel and Harriet Ross were hostesses Friday in Miss Ross' home at a cokes party for the bride-to-be.

A linen cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with a Spring bouquet of iris, gladiolus and ranunculus.

Guests were Mary Toll, Joyce Brocat, Joyce Otto, Sara and Mary Margaret Sample, Jan Arthur, Paula Windham of Oplin, May Jo Watson of Knox City, Anne Coffey, Jo Evelyn Ponville, Patty Sue Armstrong, Martha Holmes, Faye Hammett, Barbara Thompson, Natalie Guster and Jacqueline McCutcheon of Malmoreha, Mrs. Johnny Wallace of College Station, Mrs. Bud Halseh, Mrs. Bobby Burkholder, Mrs. Don Holder and the hostesses' mothers, Mrs. Harry Ross and Mrs. C. A. Daniel.

The bride-elect was honored with a spinster party Saturday in the home of Mrs. J. H. Arthur and daughter, Jan.

The group played games of "Old Maid." A pottery container on the refreshment table held an arrangement of pussy willow, locust leaves and vegetables.

Guests were Annabel Lee, Mary Toll, Barbara Camp, Jo Evelyn Ponville, Anne Coffey, Patty Sue Armstrong, Harriet Ross, Lucia Hartgrove of San Angelo, Betty Daniel, Mary Joe Watson of Knox City, Paula Windham of Oplin and the honoree.

An informal buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hunt at the Pecos Valley Country Club complimented the engaged couple Friday night.

Those attending were Miss Howard, Hartgrove, Mr. and Mrs. Don Holder, Jo Evelyn Ponville, Anne Coffey, Mary Jo Watson of Knox City, Betty Daniel, Faye Hammett, Paula Windham of Oplin, Ronnie Mayer, Laddie Linthicum, Jack Emel, Roland Hoyt, Jimmy Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Burkholder.

First Lady Spruces Up White House For Feminine Invasions

By RUTH COWAN
WASHINGTON—Mrs. Harry Truman is just as anxious as any other wife to impress visitors—especially women—with her house-keeping.

So she's sprucing up the White House for its biggest batch of women guests since the Trumans moved back into the recently-refurbished mansion.

That event comes Friday, when an expected 5,000 Daughters of the American Revolution troop through. They're holding their annual convention here.

The daughters, American history-minded, keep a special eye on the White House.

They can be expected to be quite vocal on what they think about the green paint on the oak paneling in the state dining room.

They will want to be sure the portrait of Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, wife of the twenty-third President of the United States and first president of the DAR, is hanging in a place of honor.

Wives of cabinet members will take turns giving Mrs. Truman's handshaking hand a rest. Mrs. Fred Vinson, wife of the chief justice, will spell Mrs. Truman at the reception on Saturday for the members of the National Society, Children of the American Revolution.

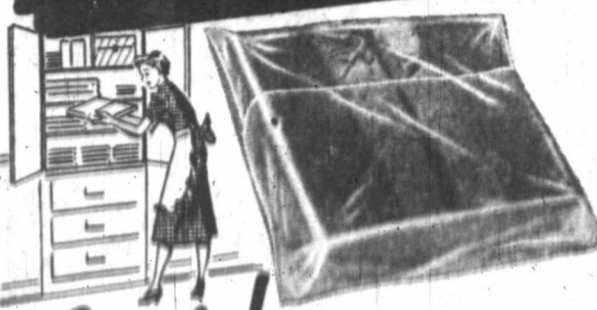

Mrs. Truman has a "double header" that day. The children—about 2,000—are expected—scheduled at 3 p.m. At 4 p.m., comes the members of the Associate Council, National Society of United States Daughters of 1812. Fortunately, that group is small.

Two Scout Troops Have Meetings

Two Girl Scout troop meetings Tuesday featured badge work and an election of officers. The girls met in the Girl Scout Little House.

Iris Sullivan was elected chairman of Brownie Troop 68; Molly Baldwin, program and refreshment chairman; Sharon Binham and Mary Dunham, housekeepers, and Judy Glass, monitor. Intermediate Troop 23 worked on badges.

Dr. Penn Is David Crockett P-TA Speaker

"Children's Problems in Eating and Sleeping" was discussed by Dr. R. L. Penn at the David Crockett Parent-Teacher Association meeting Tuesday.

Dr. Penn was introduced by Mrs. W. N. Mathews, program chairman. A short skit, "Attend Your Precinct Meeting," was given by members of the League of Women Voters.

A chorus of 30 fifth and sixth grade students, under the direction of Juanita Stinnet, sang three numbers. Another group of students played two numbers on flutes. Those playing included Frayzie Hardgrave, Wilma Gill, Mollie Mosher, Robert Bruton, David May and Joe Chapman.

During the business meeting it was voted to buy a film strip for the school. Frank Blackwell, principal, described how the film strips would be used in connection with the children's study courses.

Room count prizes were won by Mrs. June King's second grade room and Mrs. Margie Kolhofer's fifth grade.

Fifty members attended the meeting.

Midland To Be Convention Host

"Christ-Preminent in All Things" will be the theme of the 47th annual meeting of the Women of the Church of El Paso Presbytery. The meeting will be held Thursday and Friday in the First Presbyterian Church.

Banquet Launches Civic Music's Annual Membership Campaign

The Midland Civic Music Association inaugurated its fifth annual membership campaign with a banquet Tuesday in Hotel Schaubert.

Approximately 100 workers, captains, drive leaders and guests of the non-profit association attended.

Mrs. J. E. Beakey, Civic Music president, acted as toastmaster, introducing other officers and individuals taking an active part in the week-long campaign.

The greatest number of mail subscriptions ever received from old members has been received this season, Mrs. Beakey said, but there are still an estimated 900 vacancies which must be filled by the end of the drive Saturday.

Mrs. Beakey urged workers to make daily reports to campaign headquarters at Wemple-May Music Company. Headquarters will remain open from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. throughout the drive, she said.

The talent committee is considering a proposal to book only five concerts this season, Mrs. Beakey announced in order to have more money available to secure "big name" attractions. The association is holding an option on Arthur Rubinstein she added and he will appear in Midland if another sell-out membership is reached.

John Brakehill, western manager of the Civic Concert Service and guest speaker, compared the Midland association favorably, both in the quality and the number of artists engaged each season, with such long established association as the Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston groups.

Because of the lower cost of concert presentation in Midland, he said, a much larger proportion of the annual budget can be devoted to engaging artists.

Beckner Speaks On 'Hobbies'

Neil Beckner spoke on "Hobbies" at the North Elementary Parent-Teacher Association meeting Tuesday in the school.

Beckner outlined unusual hobbies and displayed a purse made of knots. Beckner said he spent 7,000 hours making the purse. He said hobbies teach you patience, explained that there is no better companionship between parents and children than through a hobby.

Children brought various hobbies to the meeting and they were on display.

Mrs. James Peck was elected secretary of the association.

Scouts Schedule Panel Discussion

A panel discussion on "The Transition of Girls from Elementary School to Junior High School" will be held from 9 to 11 a. m. Thursday in the Girl Scout Little House.

The announcement was made by Mrs. A. B. Jenks, training chairman. Those participating will be Mrs. J. J. Black, director of Camp Mite Peak; the Rev. Clyde Lindley, pastor of the First Christian Church; and Mrs. Holly Woolcock, Junior High School teacher. The mothers of all sixth grade Scouts are invited.

'Trial Of Christ' Is P-T-A Topic

Emil Rasmann, Midland attorney, spoke to the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday on the subject, "The Trial of Christ."

The meeting was held in the school auditorium. Rasmann showed from a legal angle what gross miscarriage of justice the crucifixion was. Carlton B. Downing, principal, gave the devotional, "Four Words to Trails Flowed Under," based on Will Rogers' letter to Charles Russell.

Mrs. Jack Wicker of the Midland Service League extended an invitation to the group to attend the Children's Theater production of "All Baba and the Forty Thieves." The play is scheduled for April 26 and 28.

Downing was presented with a life membership by Mrs. E. J. Murphy and Mrs. T. J. Melton received a past president's pen from Mrs. John Redfern. Mrs. Helena Grant's room with the room count and Martha Scott's room placed second.

Engineers Arrive For Airpark Check
Representatives from the District Corps of Army Engineers in Fort Worth arrived Wednesday to make a routine inspection of Midland Airpark. City Manager W. H. Oswald reported Wednesday.

Their arrival to inspect the Airpark facilities follows a decision made by the Air Force March 30 to recapture the field over the protests of the Midland City Council.

"It's customary," said Oswald, "for the Army engineers to inspect fields which the Air Force intends to use before they begin full scale operations."

Representatives from the City of Midland who will assist in the inspection include G. G. Sharrer, aviation director, and Newell Hughes, design engineer.

More Dentists Face Armed Forces Call

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—The armed forces are faced with a shrinking supply of dentists and by July 1 will start calling up those in Priority III, says Brig. Gen. Louis Renfrow.

Renfrow, deputy director of selective service, said Tuesday the pool of Priority I and II dentists is diminishing rapidly. Dentists in all three categories have been trained partly or entirely at government expense and have had less than the required amount of military service after professional training.

"In the next year we not only have to start replacing about 3,000 armed forces dentists who have served their time but we also have to start building up to a goal of about 6,500," Renfrow told the Wisconsin State Dental Association.

Priority III includes all dentists, except veterans, who are under 30 years of age and veterans, if their service was prior to dentistry training.

Biggs Reservist Added To List Of Refusals To Fly

EL PASO—(AP)—Another reservist's refusal to fly has been made known here with the revelation that the case of Lt. Verne Goodwin, 30, was before a court martial.

The Peabody, Mass., reserve officer's grounds for refusal to fly were not made public. Goodwin's wife lives at Las Cruces, N. M., where he operated an auto agency four years.

Biggs Air Force Base officials said Goodwin refused a direct order to fly last December. The lieutenant was not available for comment.

Other reservists at Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio, and Mather Field, Calif., recently have refused orders to fly.

C. Of C. Membership Campaign Workers To Meet Thursday

Volunteer workers in the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign will assemble at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Private Dining Room of Hotel Scharbauer for a report meeting. Chairman Joe Dickerson said Tuesday.

The membership effort, underway since March 26, has resulted in more than 90 new members and a budget increase of more than $3,100 annually.

More than 50 businessmen are assisting in the drive, which now is in the follow-up stage.

Chicago Hotelman Gives Up Political Dreams For 1956

CHICAGO—(AP)—Riley Alvin Bender, 61, a three-time loser in Illinois presidential primary elections, says he has given up and will not be a candidate in 1956.

Bender, a Chicago hotel manager, polled about 22,000 votes in the Republican presidential preference primary April 8. In 1948, when he was the only Illinois Republican entry, his vote was 324,029. In 1944, in his first bid for the GOP presidential nomination, he received 37,875 votes.

"The public seems to want to change to world government," Bender said in announcing his retirement as a presidential candidate.

All-Night Huddle Ends In 'No Progress' Report On CIO Western Electric Walkout

NEW YORK—An all-night, all-out federal mediation huddle with union and management representatives was adjourned early Wednesday with no progress reported in the key telephone strike in 43 states.

But Federal Mediator Francis L. Maher told newsmen the parties would resume talks Wednesday afternoon. He did not give details of the negotiations.

The mediators, at the start of round-the-clock talks Tuesday night, said they intended to keep the CIO Communications Workers of America and the Western Electric Company "in continuous session with the hope of arriving at an agreement."

Agreement in the Western Electric wage dispute would be the biggest stride yet to labor peace in the nation's wire communications field.

Only 14,000 CIO-CWA members, mostly installers, are striking against Western Electric, the manufacturing subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

But their hit-and-run tactic of shifting picket lines from place to place has threatened to tie up telephone exchanges in Washington, D. C., and the 43 states where Western Electric has plants. The union claimed hundreds of thousands of phone workers were prepared to honor the strikers' lines.

This picket line maneuver also has resulted in an uneasy phone communications peace in Ohio, Michigan and New Jersey, where more than 40,000 CIO-CWA striking telephone operators and other personnel already have settled with other AT&T subsidiaries.

Workers in these states agreed to work after obtaining pay rises of $4 to $7 a week, but the Western Electric picket lines continued to threaten service at some times. Old wage scales varied.

Another telephone dispute, still unsettled, involves Bell System employees in Northern California and Nevada. They also are CIO-CWA members seeking wage increases.

Telegraphers Still Out

The Western Electric dispute and the Bell System wage fights are not related. The CIO-CWA has separate contracts with each of the subsidiaries. However, some 47,000 union members struck simultaneously in the dispute the morning of April 7.

Meanwhile, no immediate break was in sight Wednesday in the strike of the Western Union Telegraph system by some 30,000 AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union members. This tieup was in its fourteenth day with the company claiming service restored in more than 1,000 cities, and the union insisting the wire firm "is not handling more than five per cent of normal business."

Federal mediators working on the Western Union strike announced here Tuesday a joint conciliation session with the two sides will be held in Washington Thursday. The AFL union also is seeking wage increases.

In the Western Electric dispute, federal mediators in New York launched the marathon negotiations Tuesday night with the announcement they "have gotten to the stage where we hope to reach a settlement."

Earlier, an AT&T spokesman in New York said fewer pickets marched outside telephone offices Tuesday than on other days of the strike, and that service was normal or almost normal in most cities.

He Prefers U. S. Army

OKLAHOMA CITY — It's not that Robert Lucien Puzin is a draft dodger.

The 19-year-old Oklahoma City student just doesn't believe he is legally required to answer a draft call—from the French government.

Puzin, a naturalized American, is a native of Paris, France. He has received insistent letters from French authorities to report for a physical in Paris.

Puzin went to his draft board, which went to the U. S. district attorney at Oklahoma City, who turned the matter over to French immigration authorities at Kansas City.

In the U. S. A., Puzin is classified 1-A. He is attending military school at Bryan, Texas, and plans later to study at Texas A&M. He hopes to finish his studies before serving in the Army—the U. S. Army.

Jersey Victory Bolsters View Ike Can Win Without Drive

By JACK BELL

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's smashing New Jersey primary victory, appeared Wednesday to have convinced some of his backers he won't have to campaign vigorously for the Republican presidential nomination.

Before New Jersey Republicans gave the five-star general a heavy margin over Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, one influential Eisenhower campaigner told this reporter he believed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander had "pulled a better" last week in saying he had no plans to campaign.

This Eisenhower backer, who didn't want to be quoted by name, said he regarded it as a mistake for the general to say he wouldn't resign from the Army unless or until he were nominated at Chicago.

But the New Jersey results appear to have bolstered the belief of many of the Eisenhower backers that the general can come home in June, make a few selected speeches and go into the convention with a good chance for the nomination.

They argue that campaigning such as Taft has done across the land would only involve Eisenhower in detailed domestic issues which he otherwise could treat with broad brush strokes. Primary tests in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Oregon and several state conventions will shed more light on this theory before Eisenhower's return.

The Ohio senator appeared to have salvaged from three of six of the state's 38 delegates, besides running up a respectable vote total for a candidate who tried to get his name off the ballot and, failing that,

MISSOURI TRUCK CRASH KILLS TEXAS DRIVER HOBERG, MO. — (AP) — A transport truck overturned and caught fire near Hoberg Wednesday, killing the driver.

He said he would consider "emergency measures" to extend the planting deadline only if rains came within a week in the valley.

didn't campaign.

John D. M. Hamilton, Taft's Eastern manager, claimed a "total victory" for whatever "kind of a victory" is worth.

Even if his attempted political withdrawal was only a political maneuver—as the Eisenhower forces charged and Taft men denied—the Ohioan took the sting out of the loss—that might have been a serious setback if it had come after he had campaigned actively in New Jersey.

Although he has ruled out any write-in efforts in his behalf in Pennsylvania, Taft plans a three-day tour of Massachusetts before that state's April 29 primary. He and Eisenhower may meet on a write-in basis there.

ITALIANS BAN COKE POSTERS

ROME — (AP) — Posters advertising Coca-Cola, along with Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's "The Great Caruso," have been ordered removed from Italian streets by Rome's tribunal.

The posters show Marie Lanza, in the title role of the film, drinking the beverage.

The action against the posters was brought by Caruso's heirs in Italy, who claimed they injured the reputation of the great tenor.

Two Justices Dissent On Elector Loyalty Decision

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two Supreme Court justices consider the electoral college method of electing a President and vice president a "mystifying and distorting" system.

At worst it is open to local corruption and manipulation," Justice Jackson wrote Tuesday in a dissenting opinion concurred in by Justice Douglas.

The 5-2 majority opinion, held April 3 that a candidate for presidential elector may be compelled to pledge that he will support the national ticket chosen by his party.

Specifically, the decision reversed that of the Alabama Supreme Court ordering that States' Righter Edmund Blair's name be placed on the ballot as a Democratic elector over the protest of State Democratic Chairman Ben F. Hay.

Blair had said he would not pledge his vote for President Truman.

man or anyone who advocates the Truman civil rights program.

The Supreme Court's majority opinion, by Justice Reed, said the Constitution does not bar a political party from requiring a pledge from electors to support the party's national convention nominee.

In presidential elections under the electoral college system, the people vote for electors instead of directly for the presidential candidates. Although an elector is not bound to vote for the popular choice, traditionally a presidential candidate getting the highest number of popular votes in a state gets all that state's electoral vote.

Long Drouth Dims Outlook For Texas' 1952 Cotton Crop

AUSTIN — (AP) — State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White painted a gloom outlook for cotton planting Tuesday, declaring two million bales of the potential Texas crop is threatened by drouth.

One out of three acres of land requested for cotton in the lower Rio Grande Valley either has been seeded on a "strictly gambling basis" or passed up as "not worth the risk," he reported.

Planting permits were issued on approximately 950,000 acres of valley land, but only about 600,000 to 625,000 acres had been reported seeded before the planting deadline at midnight Tuesday.

"Every stalk of the estimated 425,000 acres of cotton already up is in jeopardy," White said.

He said he would consider "emergency measures" to extend the planting deadline only if rains came within a week in the valley.

Vets Steal Major League Show

Garver, Williams, Roe, Parnell Shine

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who said youth must be served? Apparently that doesn't go in baseball. At least it didn't in Tuesday's major league inaugurals.

Two dozen rookies, the most in more than 20 years, saw action as the 1952 season got underway. And while the majority of them did little more than fight off their nervousness, up stepped the grizzled veterans to steal the show.

Here's how the oldesters practically blanked the youngsters:

Boston—A chilled gathering of 4,694 watched 34-year-old Preacher Roe still the Braves' bats with seven hits as Brooklyn edged out a 3-2 victory. Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's 21-year-old catcher, rapped out three hits, the last scoring two mates to highlight the Dodgers' three-run uprising against Southpaw Warren Spahn in the fifth.

Chicago—Early Wynn, Cleveland's 32-year-old right-hander, saddened 25,037 Windy City spectators, outpitching Lefty Pierce to give the Indians a 3-2 triumph over the White Sox. Wynn doled out six hits, holding rookies Hec Rodriguez and Bill Wilson to a harmless double.

Browns Win—St. Louis unveiled five freshmen in its opener against the Tigers but it was the pitching of veteran Ned Garver and the hitting of 34-year-old Marty Marion that was responsible in the 3-0 victory over the Brangals. Garver allowed only six singles, one of them to rookie Bob Taylor. He fanned nine.

The day's largest crowd, 43,112 including Queen Juliana of the Netherlands, saw Garver help his own cause with two singles.

St. Louis—Red Schoendienst, one of the Cardinals' "old guard," hammered a first-inning homer to get the Redbirds off to a lead they never relinquished. Pittsburgh came within one run of wiping out St. Louis' early 3-0 lead behind right-hander Gerry Staley but 37-year-old Relief Pitcher Alpha Brazil stopped the Pirates cold, retiring the last four batters to give the Cards a 3-2 victory. A night game crowd of 15,850 saw the Pirates use four freshmen but it was a homer by Ralph Kiner that accounted for the Buc's first run and a single by the much-traveled George Metkovich that scored the other.

Washington—Walt Drogo doubled in two runs and Ted Williams triple accounted for the other as the Boston Red Sox shut out the Senators, 3-0. Mel Parnell, the sterling southpaw, issued only three hits as he whipped the Nats for the fifteenth straight time. They haven't beaten him since May 28, 1948. Rookies Faye Thorneberry, Jimmy Piersall and Ted Lepcio of the Red Sox collected two hits among them but the most notable achievement of this trio probably was Lepcio's catch of the first ball tossed out by President Harry S. Truman. Incidentally, the President also is a veteran. It was his seventh and probably his last presidential tour. A crowd of 25,869 attended.

Cincinnati—Four rookies appeared in the lineup—two each for Chicago and Cincinnati—but it was a third-inning grand slam homer by 33-year-old Hank Bauer and a run-scoring pinch hit single by 31-year-old Gene Hermanski that enabled the Cubs to beat the Reds, 5-3, in 10 innings. Heavy rain, cold and wet weather ruined the opening day attempt of the New York Giants and Philadelphia Athletics. Weather permitting, the Giants will inaugurate their season Wednesday night against the Philadelphia Phillies while the Athletics will stick to daylight with the New York Yankees as their opponents.

Raider Tilt Set Friday

Will Be Held In Odessa

A DAY WITH THE GIANTS—Laraine Day peeks under a box seat railing and shouts encouragement to Husband Leo Durocher and his Giants during an exhibition game with the Indians. (NEA)

Odessa—Texas Tech's Red Raiders flash their wares before Permian Basin football fans Friday night in Broncho Stadium here.

Coach DeWitt Weaver has split his team into two outfits and will present them in a rugged, game-condition scrimmage.

The tilt is being sponsored by the Odessa and Midland Kiwanis Clubs. Texas Tech does not share in the profits of the game. Receipts will go to underprivileged children.

All area footballers in high school, if accompanied by their coach, may enter free through the south gate of Broncho Stadium.

Odessa's Paul Erwin, Monahan's Alton Linne, Lubbock's Dean White, Pampa's Elmer Wilson and Kermit's Rick Spinks are West Texans who will participate in the game here.

Best known in this vicinity are Erwin, Linne and Spinks.

Erwin was a standout end at Odessa High School two years ago, and made all-district selection. Linne was an all-state product on the Monahan High School Class A state championship outfit in 1948.

Spinks, hampered at Tech by illness and injury last year, was Texas' highest-scoring back while at Kermit in 1950, was all-state, all-

Cats, Sports In Texas Loop Lead

By CHARLEY ESKEW
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fort Worth's Cats and Shreveport's Sports led the Texas League Wednesday, taking the opposite means of getting to the top.

Fort Worth banked on the one-hit pitching of 21-year-old James Melton. Shreveport went on a 15-hit rampage.

Tuesday night, Fort Worth blanked Dallas for the second successive time, winning 5-0. Shreveport pushed 10 runs across the plate in the second inning to whip Beaumont 12-4.

The other two games were typical Texas League hurling duels: San Antonio stopped Houston, 4-3, and Tulsa nudged out Oklahoma City, 3-1.

The night's results dropped Houston and Dallas back into a fourth-place tie while San Antonio moved up to third place. The pace-setting Fort Worth and Shreveport nines have won three while losing one.

Only Dallas' Clyde Perry, ordinarily a weak hitter, could get to Melton for a hit in the Fort Worth victory. And his single that ruined a no-hitter was of the powder-puff variety, dropping over Shortstop Bill Hunter's reach into short left field. Melton, a rookie up from Abilene, gave up two walks, both to Eagle Catcher Dick Aylward. He fanned four.

Meantime, the Cats scored four runs—two in both the second and sixth—off former Major League Jack Kramer, who took the loss in his Dallas debut. Odbert Hamric's inside-the-park homer off Kramer in the sixth and Wayne Belardi's double and two singles paced Fort Worth at bat.

George Brown's three-run homer highlighted Shreveport's seven-hit attack in the second inning against Beaumont. Hank Wyse, the loser, was routed in the second as the first of four Roughneck pitchers.

Southern and received mention on the high school All-American.

Kickoff time Friday is 8 p.m. Adult duets are $1.20, children's 50 cents.

second and two in the third on Earl York's homer. Bob Curley, the Tulsa hurler, batted Rudy Paynich in a duel that went the route. Tulsa managed five hits, Oklahoma City six. Russ Burns homered in the fifth for the losers.

Houston fell from a tie for the league lead when successive singles by Harry Schwegman and Jack O'Donnell drove in pinch runners Jim Post and Bill Hopkins with the deciding tallies in the ninth inning.

U Of Houston Knocks For Spot In SWC

HOUSTON—(AP)—Bustling, ambitious University of Houston is going after a spot in the Southwest Conference.

Seeking to rival Rice institute, already a member of the conference, for the sports affections of Houston, the school with 13,000 students—one of the biggest colleges in the Southwest—will make its bid when the faculty committee of the conference meets in Dallas May 9-10.

University of Houston is the second school to make application in less than three weeks. Texas Tech, long a bidder, entered a formal application March 29.

University of Houston will be seeking entrance in its fourth conference since football became a varsity sport in 1946. The Cougars started in the Lone Star Conference, then entered the Gulf Coast Conference and last year was in the Missouri Valley Conference.

It will be the second time for University of Houston to seek a place in the Southwest Conference. It made application in 1948 along with Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons.

At that time the conference voted not to expand and also not to consider any applications for admittance within three years.

A number of sports officials expressed the opinion that because University of Houston and Hardin-Simmons made application at the same time as Tech, it was a major reason Tech was not admitted. At that time the conference voted on the question of expansion and then turned the ballots. Unofficial sources said the vote was four to three with five needed to pass the motion for expansion.

At Lubbock, DeWitt Weaver, athletic director of Texas Tech, said: "It would be nice if Texas Tech or University of Houston—or both—was admitted to the Southwest Conference. We, however, are not concerned with University of Houston's application. We have asked for admittance on our merits." Weaver has toured all the conference schools and has expressed confidence Tech will have sufficient votes to be admitted to the conference.

The board of regents of the University of Houston Tuesday voted to apply for a place in the conference. Corbin Robertson, head of the regents' athletic committee, said: "We realize that if accepted it would be at least until 1956 before we could begin Southwest Conference play because several teams have completed their schedules through then. But we play three conference teams next season—Texas A&M, Baylor and Arkansas—and hope to add more."

Blind Athlete Bids For Olympic Position

LAWRENCE, KAN.—(AP)—Blind Bill Bangert, former University of Missouri and Purdue football star, will use the Kansas Relays here Saturday as a warmup ground in his bid for a berth on the United States Olympic team.

Bangert, who lost his eyesight in recent years because of a rare allergy, will participate in the shot put Saturday. While it's officially an exhibition here, Bangert is dead serious about winning a spot on the U. S. Olympic team.

The six foot, five inch, 265 pound athlete heaved the 16-pound iron ball, a 3 3/8 inches in an exhibition at the Missouri High School indoor track meet at Columbia, Mo., this Spring.

That toss compares with a putt of 34 feet, 7 3/4 inches by Darrow Hopper, the Relays defending champion from Texas A&M, at the Texas Relays.

Eddie Arcaro Sees 'No Outstanding' Horses For Derby

NEW YORK—(AP)—Eddie Arcaro, who has ridden more Kentucky Derby winners than any other jockey, said Wednesday, "I still don't see any standout horses" for the $100,000 gallop at Louisville's Churchill Downs May 3.

The 36-year-old Cincinnati boster, who will handle the Calumet Farm's Hill Gail this time, says it's impossible to go out on a limb for any of the three-year-olds.

"At this time, that is. No stickout may appear until just before the race because most of the top candidates have never hooked up with one another this year."

AGGIES EDGE

HOUSTON U, 7-6
COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—A pinch single in the bottom of the tenth by Charlie Russell scored Hank Candelari from third and let the Texas Aggies edge the University of Houston, 7-6 Tuesday in an exhibition baseball game.

The Aggies had tied the game up the eighth with an unearned run.

Truce Teams Hold 20-Second Session

MUNSAN—(AP)—Korean truce supervision negotiators took only 20 seconds Wednesday to decide they had nothing new to say on their double-barreled deadlock.
The delegates exchanged only 27 words. They agreed to meet again Thursday. In the last six sessions, they have met a total of only four minutes and 20 seconds.
The two sides are locked over Red nomination of Russia as a neutral truce observer and the Allied demand for a ban on the rebuilding of military airfields during an armistice.
FINGER FRACTURED
Louis Sullivan, 302 South Weatherford Street, caught his hand in machinery cogs while working Tuesday for the Keating Drilling Company. The middle finger of his right hand was fractured. He was dismissed from the Midland Memorial Hospital after emergency treatment.

Government Ready To Hike Wages Of CIO Steelworkers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Truman Administration Wednesday prepared to go over the head of the seized steel industry and give a wage boost to Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers.
Whatever the terms may be, the steel industry was ready to fight back. Its attorneys had papers already drawn seeking a court order to restrain any payment of increased wages out of industry funds.
A historic legal test was in the offing—a court fight climaxing a titanic economic struggle between one of the nation's biggest industries and one of its biggest unions.
More than 100 of the country's leading industrialists stand behind the steel companies in a fight to the finish. They, or their representatives, pledged all-out cooperation as a meeting Tuesday, called jointly by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.
Government-sponsored negotiation between the steel industry and Murray's union collapsed Tuesday night, with Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, boss of the steel industry under Truman's seizure, saying the time had come for the government to deal directly with the union.
"I shall proceed promptly, but not precipitately to consider the terms and conditions of employment as I was instructed to do," Sawyer said. The question therefore was not whether the government would deal directly with the union, but what the government would grant in the way of pay increases and other benefits. No industry-union deal seemed possible.

Forecasters Hold Little Rain Hope For Texas Farmers

By The Associated Press
A long-range forecast from the U. S. Weather Bureau gave a little hope to rain-hungry Texas farmers Wednesday.
The long-range forecast for the next 30 days—an experimental prediction made in Washington, D. C. by the Weather Bureau—said temperatures in Texas would be a little cooler than seasonal and that rainfall in the Gulf States would be "about normal."
Meanwhile, scattered showers were in the forecasts for East Texas and the northeast portion of South Central Texas Thursday. No rain fell Tuesday in the state.

Respect For Self, Government Cited As America's Need

Alan R. Fraser of Alpine, judge of the 83rd Judicial District, told Midland Lions Club members at their meeting Wednesday noon in Hotel Scharbauer. "The restoration of our own self respect and respect for our government is America's most important need today."
The judge, a noted authority on governmental and juvenile affairs, was the principal speaker at the luncheon, which was presided over by President Kit Carson, Frank Stubbeman introduced the speaker.
"It is no wonder that many of our young people are confused," Judge Fraser said, "when we teach them our nation is a 'nation by the people and for the people,' while we blame everything that goes wrong on Washington; when we teach them it is the duty of every American to take an interest in government affairs, and yet we turn our government over to a bunch of baby sitters while we take off to the show or to the club; when we teach them that our government is for the purpose of protecting people and property, yet while our government continues to take more and more of our liberties and our money."
"Our troubles are not serious and they can be solved, but it is time we do something about them."
"It is time that we Americans again become people, living as real Americans while assuming our rightful place of leadership at home and abroad."

MIDLAND AIDS FLOODED AREA

It is fortunate Midland residents oversubscribed their $16,000 quota in the 1952 Red Cross finance campaign.
The Midland County Red Cross Chapter already has been asked to increase its national quota by $635 to aid in financing the disaster relief program in the seven-state tornado area, and doubtless will be called upon for additional funds for Red Cross relief in the flooded areas of the Midwest.
The Midland County Red Cross quota was oversubscribed by more than $2,000 and official said funds are available to meet the current disaster relief calls.

Truce Teams Hold 20-Second Session

MUNSAN—(AP)—Korean truce supervision negotiators took only 20 seconds Wednesday to decide they had nothing new to say on their double-barreled deadlock.
The delegates exchanged only 27 words. They agreed to meet again Thursday. In the last six sessions, they have met a total of only four minutes and 20 seconds.
The two sides are locked over Red nomination of Russia as a neutral truce observer and the Allied demand for a ban on the rebuilding of military airfields during an armistice.

Government Ready To Hike Wages Of CIO Steelworkers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Truman Administration Wednesday prepared to go over the head of the seized steel industry and give a wage boost to Philip Murray's CIO Steelworkers.
Whatever the terms may be, the steel industry was ready to fight back. Its attorneys had papers already drawn seeking a court order to restrain any payment of increased wages out of industry funds.
A historic legal test was in the offing—a court fight climaxing a titanic economic struggle between one of the nation's biggest industries and one of its biggest unions.
More than 100 of the country's leading industrialists stand behind the steel companies in a fight to the finish. They, or their representatives, pledged all-out cooperation as a meeting Tuesday, called jointly by the National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.
Government-sponsored negotiation between the steel industry and Murray's union collapsed Tuesday night, with Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, boss of the steel industry under Truman's seizure, saying the time had come for the government to deal directly with the union.
"I shall proceed promptly, but not precipitately to consider the terms and conditions of employment as I was instructed to do," Sawyer said. The question therefore was not whether the government would deal directly with the union, but what the government would grant in the way of pay increases and other benefits. No industry-union deal seemed possible.

The body of Marion Keeton Hensley was sent Tuesday to Cement, Okla., where funeral services were scheduled at 3 p.m. Wednesday. Interment was to be in an Oklahoma City cemetery.
Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hensley of Cement; three brothers, including Max Hensley of Andrews, and three sisters.
Funeral services for Bob Groves, 33, will be held in Shamrock, his former home. He is survived by the widow; two children, Bobby, nine, and Seaborn, seven; the mother, and a brother, Douglas Groves of McClain.

Funeral Rites Set For Blast Victims

ANDREWS—Funeral arrangements had been completed Wednesday for the five victims of the explosion at the Martinport Gasoline Plant, 20 miles southwest of Andrews. The blast occurred Monday morning.
Joint funeral services were to be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church for Dempsey Leonard Davis, 49, and Paul Wesley Gilmore, 51. The Rev. Raymond Van Zandt, Methodist pastor here, and the Rev. H. F. James of the Emmanuel Baptist Church were to have charge.
Survivors of Davis include the widow's daughter, Willie Mae; four stepchildren; the father, Leonard Davis, Brockridge, and

Acceptance Of TEA Funds Brings Dean's Resignation

DEMAREST, N. J.—(AP)—Acceptance of money from the Texas Education Association resulted in the resignation Tuesday of the dean of a faculty meeting with the resignation of Dean Van Cleave. Dr. A. R. Van Cleave, 61, resigned at a faculty meeting with the resignation of Dean Van Cleave. "I fear fascism, as much as I do communism."

Northeast Georgia college and his resignation threatened to split the faculty and student body. A trustee of the school, Josephine Wilkins, quit last February over the TEA grants. Since the row started, alumni of the college have voted "no confidence" in the college president, James E. Walter. Jefferson Military College, Natchez, Miss., three years ago rejected a $50,000,000 endowment from TEA when it was conditioned upon limiting enrollment to "white Christians" and the teaching of "constitutional government."

Formal Opening Of Bob's 5 & 10 Is Slated Thursday

Bob's 5 & 10, Midland's variety store, will have its formal opening Thursday. Manager Bob Baker announced Wednesday. The new store is located at 313 Dodson Street, in the new Permian Shopping Village. The store occupies a new and modern building which was designed and erected especially for its use. Baker said the store will be one of the finest and most complete of its kind in West Texas. A general variety line, including school supplies, light hardware, toys, novelties and gift items, is stocked at Bob's 5 & 10. Baker, who is well known in business, civic and church circles of Midland, invites residents of Midland and area cities to visit the new store at their convenience.

Jersey Editors Call Turn In Forecasting Eisenhower Victory

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—New Jersey newspaper editors called the turn in forecasting General Eisenhower's victory Tuesday in the state's Republican presidential preference primary. They also predicted—correctly—that Senator Taft would poll a sizable vote and Harold E. Stassen, third man on the ballot, would finish far behind. In a state-wide survey made last week by The Associated Press, the editors and political writers said soundings in their counties showed Eisenhower would capture about 56 per cent of the vote, Taft, 34, Stassen, about nine, and write-ins for other candidates, one per cent. On the basis of near-complete returns Wednesday, Eisenhower received about 60 per cent, Taft, 37 per cent and Stassen and write-ins, three per cent. The editors were four per cent off on Eisenhower and three per cent on Taft but overestimated Stassen's strength. Final returns were expected to swell somewhat the write-in vote. The original figures were based on percentage estimates made by the newsmen in 17 of New Jersey's 21 counties. Newspapers in the other four counties did not provide percentages but said they looked for Eisenhower to win, with Taft and Stassen following in that order. The canvass covered 21 daily and seven weekly newspapers which circulate in New Jersey and cover all sections of the state. No survey was made of sentiment among Democratic voters. Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was the only candidate on the ballot.

Witness Describes Moscow Training For U. S. Commies
LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A group of American Communists who went to Moscow in 1932 were taught proficiency in small arms and machine guns and how to build street barricades and overturn autos and streetcars, says a former party member. Leonard Patterson, 46, New York negro and former Youth Communist League leader, told the conspiracy trial of 15 California Communist leaders Tuesday the purpose of the training was to make the Americans better revolutionaries. He testified that one of the persons he recruited for the Moscow trip was defendant Loretta S. Stack. He said she was rifle-shooting prizes at a Communist school and was taught to use a "bayonet" by Red Army instructors. The defendants are charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the federal government.

U. S. Education In Rut, Declares Texas Publisher

CHICAGO—(AP)—American education has been striving too long for a uniformity of mental outlook, Mrs. Ovetta Culp Hobby said Tuesday. "Too long America has bowed to the cult of the average and common man," the former commander of the Women's Army Corps said. "What we need is education to produce more uncommon men." Mrs. Hobby, vice president of the Houston Post and executive director of radio station KPRC, addressed the Chicago Women's Division, National Conference of Christians and Jews, Spring meeting. "Education, to fill its obligation, must place great emphasis on brotherhood," she said. "One of the ways in which education can create and preserve the ideals of brotherhood is by making our youth invulnerable to the onslaughts of mass propaganda. Just as one reckless or venal driver on the highway can cause a traffic jam, stalling thousands of cars, so a small group, controlling mass education and mass propaganda, can halt or divert the mental and spiritual progress of millions of people."

Widow's Plea Wins Leniency For Young Slayer Of Husband

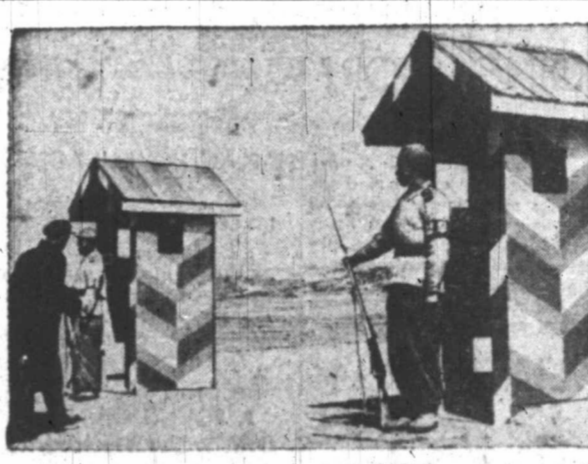

NEW YORK—(AP)—A widowed mother has won leniency for her husband's slayer and the tearful gratitude of the killer's mother. "She is a saint," said Mrs. Bridget Kerrane Tuesday of Mrs. Sophie Finger. Earlier, Judge John Scilleppi sentenced Mrs. Kerrane's son, Jack, to an indefinite term, with a maximum of three years. "I could have sent you to prison for 15 long years," he judge said. Mrs. Kerrane's 19-year-old son wandered by mistake into the Finger home in January, 1951, after an evening of drinking. He accosted Joseph Finger, 62, a shopkeeper and former interpreter of Russian for the United Nations. The youth thought Finger an intruder in the Kerrane home which was on the next street. In the struggle, Finger was choked to death. Mrs. Finger consulted with her two sons, then made a plea for leniency for the youth.

Borden, Howard Firm Gets Tax Certificate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Several Texas projects were listed Tuesday by the Defense Production Administration as receiving federal tax benefits. The certificates approved and the percentage of each to which the write-off may be applied included: Reef Fields Gasoline Corporation, in Borden and Howard Counties, natural gasoline, two certificates, one for $4,900,485 at 65 per cent and the other for $1,246,980 at 40 per cent.

MURDERED BY REDS

KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYA—(AP)—A Chinese assistant resettlement officer was shot dead by three unidentified Communist terrorists who walked into his bungalow to murder him.

Nest, but gaudy.

The proper somber look.

THE LAUGH WAS ON THEM—Communist guard shanties at the Panmunjom, Korea, truce talks, recently blossomed out in a gala combination of orange, white and olive-drab stripes, as seen above. The circus-like decor brought chuckles from UN correspondents and military personnel. Not willing to give opposition even a laugh on the house, the Reds, overnight, re-painted the structures a somber brown, bottom photo. For good measure they added a few fir trees.

Free Loan Society, Now 60 Years Old, Boasts Low Losses

NEW YORK—(AP)—A bank that lends money free, and never has turned away an applicant for a loan, is celebrating its sixtieth birthday with a loss record of less than 1/4 of one per cent. The Hebrew Free Loan Society of New York's Lower East Side lends up to $500 for six months to anyone who can get endorsements from two reputable business men. It has loaned $40,000,000 in its 60 years, paying operating expenses from private contributions. Many of these come from former borrowers. The 725,000 persons to whom it has loaned money include the ill, the unemployed, students, former convicts, bankrupts and refugees. They were asked only for name, address and occupation. President Joseph Durst estimates that two out of three borrowers are Jews, but adds: "That's only a guess. We never have asked a borrower his religious affiliation."

Philadelphian Heads Methodist Bishops

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Bishop Yred Pierce Corson of Philadelphia is the new president of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church in America. Bishop Corson was elected Tuesday to succeed Bishop Arthur J. Moore of Atlanta, Ga. The council supervises the church in America. Other officers elected included Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, vice president.

FIRST PENNEY STORE—Believing Golden Rule principles should be applied in business as well as personal life, J. C. Penney called his first stores "The Golden Rule." Pictured, "The Golden Rule" in Kemmerer, Wyo., as it appeared in the early 1900's. From a single store eventually grew the largest department store chain in the world, with total sales last year of more than $1,000,000,000.

Penney Company's Golden Jubilee Opens Thursday

Gerome Grayum, manager of the J. C. Penney Company here, announced Wednesday the formal opening Thursday of the company's Golden Jubilee.

"This is a great occasion for us, a time for celebration," Grayum declared. "In just 50 years this company has grown from a single tiny store in Northwestern Wyoming to a great retail merchandising organization—the largest of its kind in the world—with more than 1,600 stores and 70,000 associates serving almost 40,000,000 persons.

"That's a monumental achievement in which all of us can take pride. For where else, but in our own United States of America, could such an achievement be possible? In the words inscribed on our medallion, the Penney Company has grown— is growing—with this nation.

"Ours is a success story, not of one man alone but of many men. Early in his career our founder, J.

FOUNDER—J. C. Penney, founder and board chairman of the department store chain bearing his name, personifies an American success story in the best tradition. He opened his first store in Kemmerer, Wyo., in 1902, investing $500 savings and $1,500 borrowed capital. Today that store has grown to more than 1,600 and the name J. C. Penney is known to millions.

C. Penney, realized he would succeed only if others found success with him. Eventually he became known as the "man with a thousand partners"—and thereby pioneered a profit-sharing idea which contributed much to the company's success.

Objectives Cited
"Thoughtful consideration for customers, associates, suppliers and stockholders always has been a Penney Company objective; also stressed have been value and quality—a fact which led eventually to establishment of a research and testing laboratory to make sure Penney merchandise standards would be consistently met and maintained.

"Today the company has a staff of 206 buyers, highly trained and alert to people's needs, combing the merchandise markets of the world. All are specialists, in fields ranging from women's fashions to boys' jeans; from blankets to work shoes; from hosiery to infants' wear. And all have the responsibility and determination to see that Penney stores have the merchandise people need at prices they can afford to pay.

"As our Jubilee gets underway we believe our customers will benefit more than ever by the great values which have been planned for them. All the accumulated experience and 'know-how' of 50 years of successful merchandising have been brought into play to see that for our customers, as well as ourselves, this truly will be a 'golden year.'"

Indonesian Art Faces Bankruptcy

JOGJAKARTA, INDONESIA—(AP)—The world-famous silver art industry in this Central Java town is facing bankruptcy for lack of a market, according to reports.

About 2,000 artisans, 3 to 10 in each enterprise, have hammered a precarious living out of this specialist trade which requires years of training, a steady hand, and a feeling for art.

Immediately after the war the dark-colored silver plates, cigarette cases, teaspoons and ash trays found many buyers in souvenir-hunting Dutch army troops, United Nations diplomats and military trace observers. But now that they have gone home, the tourist trade is not sufficient to keep business going.

Calf-Feeding Plans Start In 4-H Clubs

PECOS—Reeves and Loving County 4-H club members have launched their calf-feeding program in preparation for annual livestock shows throughout this area early next Spring.

County Agent Jimmy Taylor reported there are 15 baby calves already on feed, with two others expected. In addition, club members have four hold-over steers from the past season, all of which were outstanding in their class. They will compete either at the State Fair in Dallas this Fall or at the American Royal in Kansas City, Mo.

Taylor announced that the new calves are the best group he's seen in a long time.

Boys with hold-over steers include: George Boyd, who took second in the Pecos show and second at Monahans; Otis Lee Henson, whose steer was champion of the local exhibition and second in El Paso; Charles and Don Weinacht, who won third at Fort Worth and first in the El Paso show.

Members who have started feeding baby calves are Doug Miller, Mary Dale Miller, George Boyd, Billy Joe Needles, Otis Lee Henson, Joe Campbell, Barwick Watta, Arnold Turk, Don Weinacht and Charles Weinacht.

All the new calves were obtained from prominent breeders, including the Winston Brothers of Snyder, Kimbell of Alpine, Layne of Alpine, T-Bone Ranch at Wichita Falls, Lee Campbell of Dublin, Seth Campbell of Kermit, and Lige Hall of Mentone.

Toll-Gate Protest Meets With Failure

SAN PEDRO, CALIF.—(AP)—When the city built a parking toll-gate at nearby Cabrillo Beach recently, bathers used swim suits in protest.

Inside the swim suits, the anti-toll-gate protesters placed their most beautiful bathing girls who carried placards protesting the parking charge.

However, the bathing beauties failed to impress the City Council which put the toll into effect anyway.

COMMISSION WORKS OUT LONG RANGE PROGRAM--

pets and marionettes.

The park areas in which such a project would be started might be separated from the older children, but adjacent to the adult recreation area where the smaller children could be kept under the watchful eye of their parents.

Similar projects would be set up for such age groups as six to 11 years of age, 12 to 19, 20 to 25 and 25 and older.

Suggested activities for the older groups might include facilities for golf, horseshoes, shuffleboard or a picnic area. Indoor facilities would include arrangements for such things as leathercraft, needlecraft, card clubs, forums or discussion groups.

And to oversee the operations of such a park project, a Park Board would be set up to organize it, and to have authority and responsibility for it.

Officers might include a park director or superintendent, a recreation director and other full or part-time employees.

And the Park Board would have an annual budget with full authority in line with the budget.

The commission has tried to include everything for a definite, workable program. Such a system of parks here is no pipe dream.

Blueprints Ready

The Park Advisory Commission has some of the blueprints and sketches right now which they will show you.

But, being merely an advisory body, they can only submit their recommendations to the City Council when completed and the council must take action on the type of long-range policy which the city will pursue.

The commission estimates that it will take from six to eight more months to work such a program up in a definite form which can be submitted to the council.

After that, it would take an estimated five years to get such a program in full operation—provided the City Council places its stamp of approval on it.

Midland VFW Chieftain Faces Odessa Jail Term

As a result of a spirited membership drive between the Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts of Midland and Odessa, John Henderson, past commander of Post 4149, Midland, faces a term in jail—in Odessa.

Waldo Carson, commander of Post 4372, Odessa faces a more pleasant prospect—he is to have a weekend in one of the best hotel suites in Midland at the expense of Commander Henderson and the Midland post.

Also involved in the contest was a barbecue or banquet with the winning post members being the guests of the losers.

The drive ended on March 31 and the results were as close as they could possibly be.

When the contest started the first of the year, Midland had 229 members and Odessa had 189. As of midnight on March 31, Odessa boasted 416 members as against 401 for Midland.

Members of the Odessa post and Commander Carson are eagerly awaiting the fruits of their "hard-earned victory" at the expense of the Midland post and Henderson.

While Carson is relaxing in a luxurious Midland hotel suite it is expected that Henderson will be relaxing, but probably not as luxuriously, in an Odessa jail cell.

There are approximately two birds to the acre in the United States.

FIERY CEREMONIAL—Almost a million spectators stood with bared heads as flames from an elaborate funeral pyre consumed the body of the late Prime Minister of Ceylon, D. S. Senanayake. Five thousand school children led the mile-long funeral procession in Colombo.

Brand Names Day

America Wednesday is celebrating its seventh annual Brand Names Day—an observance which has real meaning for all American citizens.

Its purpose, according to Brand Names Foundation, incorporated, is to call attention to two important American institutions just about everybody takes for granted.

Why are they important to us? Principally because, together, they have helped make our standard of living the highest in the world.

A wise man once said, "The big change that has occurred in our span of life is reflected in the fact that the real commodity which most businesses have to offer is not animal, vegetable or mineral, but spiritual."

This is so because every reputable manufacturer and business organization is founded on public faith which centers around a symbol or word—the trademark or brand name.

The great majority of Americans rely on makers' brands and brand advertising for sound purchasing and better living. In that way, brand manufacturers perform an enormous service, for who would have the expert knowledge needed to make these purchases if there were no such things as brands and trademarks purchasers can trust.

In this nation, where the consumer is the boss, brand manufacturers must serve their customers well, give them exactly what they want, to keep their faith, and stay in business.

Most of your biggest troubles are so small other people can't see them.

Wishing for things is more fun than having them, says a college professor. Maybe it pays to be poor.

Four beauty shops in an Illinois town were robbed in two weeks. Let's hope it's not a permanent wave.

There is one sure way of cutting down on criticism—do away with all second guessers.

The Only Real Germ In The 'Germ War'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Stevenson's friends believe it would not hurt him. Meanwhile the question of whether Stevenson will or will not run will be answered Thursday.

Two trends are shaping up in the two political parties. Among Republicans it looks more and more like a Taft-Eisenhower deadlock in convention.

According to Senate colleagues, this was why McCarran was so hostile toward Morris and refused to give him subpoena powers for his corruption cleanup.

Again, when Columnists Joseph and Stewart Alop dared criticize McCarran for his high-handed handling of the Internal Security Committee.

This is the man who now has stymied the Justice Department by going back to Nevada for a month, letting the new attorney general cool his heels waiting for confirmation.

Not—Another thing that worries McCarran is Nevada opposition to his old law partner Alan Bible whom McCarran wants in the Senate.

Gloom continues to hang over the place guard—the boys immediately around the President—who now see themselves out of office, out of limousines, out of other lush perquisites come next year.

Gloom was deepest immediately after the Jackson-Jefferson Day Dinner when their chief broke the bombshell. That evening they lingered on, gazing in their cups and talking hopefully of another possible candidate on whose costails they might cling.

Only prospect that appealed to them was Gov. Adlai Stevenson. But even this thought ended gloomily, for they agreed that the governor of Illinois had two great handicaps: (1) His divorce; (2) The fact that he testified for Alger Hiss.

Actually, Stevenson's divorce was not of his choosing. His wife laid down an ultimatum that he get out of politics or she would go Reno, and he felt that his job of being governor of Illinois was not something he could drop, once elected.

His record on Hiss is contained in a deposition dated June 21, 1948, and is based on Stevenson's association with Hiss when they both served in the State Department. Most of

It was the first time McCarran has shown that his middle initial should be "V." for "Vindictive." When Denver Dickerson of the Nevada Labor News dared criticize McCarran, the senator also brought pressure on advertisers.

More recently, McCarran discovered that Newbold Morris, the ex-epine-buster, was a member of the "Committee on National Affairs," which has sought to improve the quality of the U. S. Senate. To this end, it contributed to Senator McCarran's opponent at his last election.

For the Democratic ear of Nevada suddenly has found that his vindictiveness has got him into trouble—namely, into a million-dollar suit for the restraint of trade.

Last month, McCarran got on the long distance telephone to Las Vegas and gave an ultimatum to gambling friends to yank their advertising out of the Las Vegas Sun. Reason was the Sun's support of a young Democratic candidate for the Senate, Tom Mechling, who has dared challenge McCarran and his former law partner, Alan Bible, also aspiring to the Senate.

Following McCarran's telephone call, the gamblers, hotels, bars and restaurants did yank their advertising out of the Sun. But Hank Green-spun, publisher of the Sun, is not a man to take things lying down.

Last week he fired back with a lawsuit against the senator, plus his secretary Eva Adams, plus various members of the Las Vegas gambling world. It's a conspiracy in restraint of trade suit which may be hard for McCarran to beat.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service. "There must be a way to make six spades with this hand," writes a Pittsburgh correspondent. "If there is a way, however, it has managed to hide from us."

"When the hand was actually played, West led the ten of clubs. South won in the dummy with the king of clubs and led a trump to the ace, discovering the bad news. Except for the bad trump break, he could have drawn trumps and still have ruffed his last heart in dummy."

"South drew the rest of the trumps and then led the nine of diamonds and let it ride around to East. This lost to the ten of diamonds, and East returned a club.

"South now played for some sort of squeeze or for the hearts to break. The only heart that broke was in his own, and no squeeze developed.

"Isn't there some way to squeeze the twelfth trick out of this hand?" There's a fairly simple way to make twelve tricks, but squeezing has nothing to do with it.

It's the sort of hand that hits most players in their blind spot, so maybe you'll have fun working it out for yourself before you read on. It's all right to look at the East and West hands. Just find a sure way of winning twelve tricks against good defense.

South can count three sure hearts, a diamond, and two clubs, a total of six tricks in the side suits. He needs six trump tricks to make his slam.

The normal way of winning six trump tricks is to get one ruff in dummy and then make the five trumps in the South hand. That plan is doomed when it is revealed that West has all the trumps. South must therefore plan to get two ruffs in his own hand and then make the four trumps in the dummy.

Declarer wins the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs and leads a small trump to the ace. Then he leads a diamond to dummy's ace, discards a diamond on the ace of clubs, ruffs a club with the king of spades, and leads his remaining low diamond.

A defender can win this diamond trick and return a heart (best defense). Dummy wins with the queen of hearts and returns the jack of diamonds for South to ruff with the queen of spades. Now South leads a low trump and draws the rest of the trumps with dummy's jack, ten, and nine. South wins the last two tricks with the ace and king of hearts, making the slam.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

'Run Or Not?' Is Stevenson's Problem Now—Not Truman's

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—All the pressures, doubts and uncertainties formerly heaped on President Harry Truman—"To run, or not to run?"—now have been transferred automatically to the desk of Gov. Adlai Stevenson in Springfield, Ill.

The result is that the Illinois governor today is probably the most perplexed man in America. All his personal inclinations are against running for the presidency—this year.

He has an unfinished job to do in Illinois. He likes it there. Getting into the presidential campaign will be dirty business. He would have to defend the record of the Democratic administrations of the last 20 years.

Opposing Taft or Eisenhower or Warren will be tough. Winning even the Democratic nomination from Kefauver, Russell, et al will be tough for Governor Stevenson, entering the race at this late date when the others have a head start.

Confronted by all these and other complexities, President Truman decided not to run. Four years from now, Governor Stevenson's riddle might be a lot easier to answer. His job in Illinois will be nearer completion. He then will be only 56 years old, still young enough to stand the strain of four years in the White House.

In 1954, Governor Stevenson will have the advantage of being able to organize earlier for a campaign. He will be better known, nationally, by reason of a four-year build-up.

And assuming that a Republican will be elected President in 1952, the Democratic candidate will have the advantage of being able to criticize, instead of having to defend.

Pro-His Testimony. The fact that Governor Stevenson gave a deposition favorable to Alger Hiss during his trial for perjury is being whispered about so much that a look at this testimony itself becomes in order.

Following is the court record of the sworn statement made by Governor Stevenson in Springfield, Ill., June 2, 1949, before U. S. Commissioner William B. Chittenden. This record was read to the U. S. Court in New York, June 22, 1949.

Q—How long have you known Mr. Alger Hiss, the defendant? A—Since June or July, 1933. We served together in the Legal Division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington in 1933. . . . Our contact was frequent but not close or daily. I had no further contact with him until I met him again in the State Department when I went to work there in 1945. . . . I met him mostly in intra-departmental meetings. . . . Q—How did the early Egyptian farmer water his fields? A—By hand. He raised water from the Nile by a shadoof, or water lift, with a bucket on one end.

Q—What eventually became of the Stone of Scone? A—The Stone, ancient symbol of Scottish nationalism, is back in its old place under the coronation chair.

Q—What Presidents of the United States were married while holding that office? A—John Tyler, Grover Cleveland, and Woodrow Wilson.

Five Inmates Attack Sheriff, Flee From Cottle County Jail

PADUCAH (AP)—West Texas police searched Wednesday for five jail-breakers, two negroes and three white men, who overpowered Sheriff Elmer Clark Tuesday night.

The five men escaped in the Cottle County sheriff's 1950 Oldsmobile in which he had left a .38 caliber revolver.

Mrs. Clark said her husband was attacked by a group of prisoners when he took a prisoner to the second floor jail quarters. She said he was struck on the head several times when he opened a cell door. Lubbock police who monitored a police radio broadcast identified the escapees as Earl Flynn, 36, several burn scars on his body; Doris Earl Johnson, 31, long black hair; Paul Pharr, 21, red hair; Don Brooks, 39, a light-complexioned negro; and 35-year-old Carl Collins, also identified as a negro.

George Kendall thought of the phone call and hoped Max Arno wouldn't remember it. He was working for her father, the whole scheme would go up in smoke.

"Lots of people mistake me for someone else," George said, passing over it lightly. He sat down in a chair opposite Max Arno, while Marilyn went into the kitchen to make some coffee.

He tried to relax and look comfortable, but he could feel Arno's dark eyes probing him, staring, trying to remember.

"You have a nice place here. Mr. Arno," he said, forcing the conversation. Arno granted. Without offering George one, he removed the telephone from a cigar and struck a match to light it. It was plainly evident that he resented George's presence.

"What did you want to see me about?" Max Arno said through a haze of cigar smoke. "An' what about all those cops that came here yesterday?" George had been expecting the question and he was ready. The cops were guilty of mistaking him for someone else, George said. They came to the wrong address. "As for me," George went on, "I'm a free lance writer. He lied. "I'm looking around for stories about little towns to sell to 'big newspapers."

"A newspaper guy, huh?" Max's manner became respectful. "Of a sort. Naturally when I poked around Seneca Springs I heard of you. People here think you're quite a man." Marilyn came into the room and sat down close to Arno. "Your career isn't quite a story. And it's worth something you operate in worth something in this day and age when women think about reducing. So I came down to your place to get a personal interview. What do you think of the idea?" "Newspaper guys always make me talk like I didn't use good English," said Max. "You know, these and dose."

"Max!" Marilyn squeezed Max's arm. "It's a wonderful idea. Your whole life story in print and Dad will see what a big wonderful man you really are."

George Kendall nodded and hoped it wouldn't make Marilyn think Max was more wonderful, but it wouldn't be printed anyhow. Max Arno's face lit up as he began to see the possibilities and his hesitation vanished.

Soon Max was talking and there was no way to stop him. His thick lips rambled endlessly, never-ending stream. He loved to talk about himself and George found himself running out of paper in his notebook. He shuddered slightly as he listened to Max Arno and ring conquests. He boasted of broken arms and twisted necks, of cheering crowds and victories by the dozen.

And then, he related, he had grown tired of it all and was now

He went on for an hour and the girl never once left his side. She yawned, her eyes grew heavy, but she stayed with him.

"Well I didn't bring my camera with me," Kendall said, "but I'd like to get some pictures of you and the gymnasium and also a few shots of Seneca Springs."

Arno rolled up his sleeve and glanced at his watch. "I can't give you no more time. There's gonna be a carnival benefit tomorrow night and I'm on the athletic committee and we have to have a meeting."

"Maybe later tonight!" Kendall suggested.

"Now, I'm taking sweetie pie," he pointed at Marilyn "be a dance." "Wait a minute," Marilyn put in. "Why can't Mr. Kendall sit down to the dance. He can take pictures there, in fact, while you're at the meeting I could show Mr. Kendall our little town and then we'll both meet you back at the dance hall."

Arno granted. "It's all right with me," Kendall said.

"Good!" Marilyn exclaimed, without waiting for Arno's comment, "then it's settled."

MARILYN put on her jacket and Kendall started for the door.

"Aren't you gonna shake hands 'good-by'?" Arno asked, getting off the divan.

George was surprised by Arno's sudden politeness. "Of course, I am. It's been awfully nice meeting you," and he extended his hand.

The floor spun from under his feet, furniture whirled by and he was flying through space. He crashed at the far end of the room, knocking over a book case littered with pottery.

George was stunned and then as he heard Arno's raucous laughter filling the room, he was flooded with anger. The blood rushed to his face. He threw aside the broken pieces of pottery and jumped to his feet.

Romping Dogs Play Havoc With Lawns And Flowers

In the Spring a young female canine's fancy turns toward love. If you need proof—spend a day with City Humane Officer Earl Hart "helping to round up the strays."

Hart says he now is receiving from 30 to 50 calls a day from Midland citizens and adds "the population at the dog pound is on the increase."

"It wouldn't be so bad," observes

Hart, "except that female dogs and their suitors go tromping unceremoniously through newly planted lawns and flowers."

Lawns suffer more when they occasionally get the urge to dig. The result of such destruction is that the city is going to clamp down on all dogs which are running loose.

The city has an ordinance, now in effect, which states that all citizens must keep their dogs penned or chained up when they are not under the immediate care of the owner.

"In the future, we plan to give persons involved a warning and if they do not take care of the animals, they'll be issued a warrant and hauled into court," said Hart.

It is believed that gun powders made by the ancient Chinese were incendiary but not explosive and that true gunpowder was invented by Roger Bacon about 1248 A. D.

The MATURE PARENT

We May Blame Children For Others' Bad Traits

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
For a long minute Mrs. Jones stands at the bathroom door. She notes the puddle under the dripping washcloth, the damp towel flung on the hamper, the talcum all over the mat. Then, making her voice amiable, she calls down the hall, "You don't intend to go out tonight leaving the bathroom like this, do you?"

There's no answer. Mrs. Jones walks to the open door of the bedroom where her daughter is absorbed in removing hair curlers. "I asked you a question," her mother tells her. "I asked you if you planned to go to a movie tonight and leave me to tidy up that disgraceful bathroom?"

Jan does not look at her mother. "I'm in a hurry now," she says. "If I get-home in time, I'll fix it."

Mrs. Jones looks at the averted face, the jaw line, the nose of which Jan's grandmother, aunts and uncle have so often said, "It's the child's best feature. What a mercy she has the 'Jones nose' instead of yours, Alice!"

And Mrs. Jones, her eyes on the child who so resembles her father's family thinks, "You're not a Jones just in looks, my dear. You're one by nature. Take, take, take—but never give anything in return. Just get other people to solve your problems for you..."

With such thoughts in her mind, she finds it impossible to maintain her careful pretense of good feeling toward her child. When she says, her voice harsh, "Date or no date, you'll not put a foot out of this house tonight until you clean up that bathroom," Jan flings down her hairbrush.

"I'm not a child," Jan begins, her eyes blazing. "I'm old enough to go where I please and..."

And Jan and her mother are off on one of their scenes.

It is wrong for people of 18 to leave bathrooms in disorder. It is irresponsible of them. It also is wrong for us to react to such irresponsibility with violence. Although it is reasonable for Mrs. Jones to feel disappointment and annoyance at the bathroom's condition, it is not reasonable for her to feel fury. Why does she feel it? Does she have any especially violent emotions toward the trait of irresponsibility?

Symbol Of Injustices
She does, indeed. For years, Mrs. Jones has been furious with her in-laws' irresponsible habit of borrowing money from her husband. Jan's physical resemblance to her father's people made her mother unduly sensitive to any trace of the hated trait in her. As a result, Jan never was permitted normal carelessness—as a little girl.

To Mrs. Jones, a lost hair-ribbon could never be just that; like the untidy bathroom, it became a symbol of injustices put on her by other people's shortcomings.

It is not at all unusual for us to criticize children for traits they seem to share with people whom we dislike. If I have had a bad time with someone who lies, I can develop a crusading zeal against evasiveness that makes life very tough for the

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Whistling Arrow

It was quite a problem, as anyone could plainly see. Daddy Ringtail saw it was quite a problem.

So did the Featherman. So did the Indian man who had come to visit in the Great Forest. At first the Featherman had wanted the Indian feather that the Indian man was wearing in his hair. But Featherman had forgotten all about it when the Indian said he had come for a basket of feathers from the Featherman's nest.

"Give away a whole basket of my feathers?" asked the Featherman with a voice that trembled and shook. Why, all he could think about was feathers, feathers, and more feathers. No sir, he couldn't give a single feather away, and certainly not.

But the Indian explained that he didn't want the basket of feathers unless the Featherman would take the whistling arrow which the Indian man had brought him for a present.

"Whistling arrow?" the Featherman asked. "Mr. Indian Man," Daddy Ringtail said, "show the Featherman the whistling arrow."

The Indian took an arrow from the arrow thing he wore on his back.

He fitted the arrow to his bow, and away, way back he pulled the bowstring.

"Watch!" said Daddy Ringtail. "Watch now while he shoots the whistling arrow up high in the air."

"I don't hear a whistle," the Featherman said.

And the Indian answered: "Whistle whistle-um when I shoot-um." He was saying, of course, that the whistling arrow would whistle only when it was flying through the air.

The Indian shot the arrow from his bow. Up, up, up and up went the arrow. It went straight up. And with it went a loud whistle. "Eeeeeee-ooooo!" whistled the whistle with a shriek, and down came the arrow again because it was through with its going up. "Oooooo-eeee!"

The whistling arrow came whistling down past a bird who was flying by. The bird dropped every extra feather he was carrying, so he could fly away faster. Yes, and so the Featherman decided he wanted the whistling arrow after all—to use to frighten any bird to make it drop any feather that it wasn't using. And the Featherman gave the Indian man a basket of feathers for the whistling arrow, and they both were very happy, all on a very fine day.

Secrets Of Cowboy Hats Are Revealed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Ever wonder how the brim of a cowboy's hat got that way? Inquiry among 6,700 cattlemen here for an annual convention shows:

Bob Shores processed his hat in steam from his wife's pressure cooker.

Hunter Greer "just left his hat out in the rain until it curled."

"Nonsense," retorted J. Heilmann, "just sprinkle water on it and tie it with a string."

COTTON STILL KING—Newschart above shows how three times as much cotton was used by the average consumer last year as all other fibers combined, according to Department of Agriculture figures. Since the war over-all fiber consumption has been at a record high.

THERAPEUTIC MUD PIES—The occupational therapy department of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation seeks to discover a natural talent that can be adapted to the treatment of the crippled patient. Making mud pies was a cinch for little David Capps, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Capps, 807 West Louisiana Street, Midland, so part of the rehabilitation of his polo-ridden arms was built around this engaging activity. Most of his treatment, of course, took a more formal turn, but the mud pie part was the most fun. He was discharged last Saturday. Occupational Therapist Rose Elliott keeps a close watch on the mud pie activity.

Volcanic Fires Turn Wheels For Factories

LARDERELLO ITALY—Grumbling and the stench of rotten eggs announce Italy's "Valley of Hell," where volcanic power has been harnessed and put to work.

As you come over a last ridge in the beautiful Tuscan hills near Pisa the Valley of Larderello suddenly is below you—a fantastic, monstrous tentacled mass of metal pipes and a weirdly shaped bioated 200-foot-high chimneys.

Steam Cools Valley

Hundreds of pulleys and jets of steam issue from the brick and metal giant and merge into a cloud that hangs over chimneys and derricks. As you near them the rotten egg smell gets stronger and the grumbling becomes a roar.

This is Larderello, where apparently limitless volcanic power has been harnessed to help turn the industrial wheels of fuel-poor Italy.

Smashed by retreating German forces in the final days of World War II, the tangled mass of brick and metal tubes was fully restored by the Italians in two years with the help of European Recovery program loans. It now yields thousands of tons of chemicals and electric power for Italian railroads and industries.

Sits On Volcano

Larderello is a valley that sits uneasily on top of a volcano that apparently has a steady blast through the earth's crust. Some day it may die. At Larderello its boiling power comes so close to the earth's surface that it can be reached by drilling.

An ERP loan of $850,000 in November, 1948, was used to complete rotary drilling units that bored to a depth of 2,000 meters—more than a mile down into the molten mass of fire and steam.

With these units, Larderello's production of boric acid, ammonia and other chemicals rose from 5,290 tons in 1948 to 6,840 tons last year. More important, electric power production increased from 800 million to 1,800 million kilowatt hours.

Production Expanded

Another loan of $850,000 from the Export-Import Bank provided for three more rotary drilling units valley's production.

Larderello's power plants are about half the size of a city block. Inside them are rows of giant turbine generators. Steam is conducted to the blasted chimney structures where it is cooled and from them goes to plants where chemicals are extracted.

Outside the plants are transformers that generate electric power and then send it through the power lines that stalk like giants from the valley and over the Italian hills. Derricks dot the valley, giving it a slight resemblance to an American oil field.

First By Frenchman

The first efforts to use it was made by a French nobleman in 1814. A little later he collected some of the smoking valley's boric acid for commercial use.

Experiments to utilize its natural steam power began 80 years later. But the first big steam well was not drilled in until 1931. After that, the valley came under the control of the Italian State Railways.

Banned War Movie Returns To Germany

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—Twenty years and 200 white mice later, "All Quiet on the Western Front" has returned to Germany.

It was in the Spring of 1932 that Erich Maria Remarque's great anti-war sermon came out of Hollywood to Germany. Since Hitler had not yet attained complete power, devious means had to be used to keep young Germans from seeing war unglamorized.

Hitler's Brown Shirts accomplished their purpose by releasing 200 white mice among the audience. Women screamed and the theater emptied quickly in the ensuing riot, a German spectator recalled. The picture was a flop.

Recently a Frankfurt movie house brought the picture back with much fanfare. The theater manager reports that attendance was only fair. It wasn't that the people were afraid of mice this time. But most of them knew nearly all there was to know about war.

INDIA IMPORTS METALS

NEW DELHI, INDIA—India imported 129,000 tons of iron and steel during the period of April-November, 1951, official sources reported. The imports included 43,000 tons from the United Kingdom, 32,000 tons from Western Germany, 13,000 tons from the United States, and 11,000 tons from France.

BRIEF VICTORY—Ann Claire, of Miami Beach, Fla., voted "Miss Brevity" of 1952, models her "brevity" costume as she displays her victory trophy.

Musical Irishman Is Violin Maker

MALTA, MONT—In his Montana workshop a musical Irishman picks out a board and cuts across the grain with a knife. If the knife "ticks like a clock," he knows he has wood for violin with a fine, rich tone.

Henry Gwartney, builder of violins for 30 years, then starts to work with homemade tools and loving care. He is master of an art demanding the greatest craftsmanship and skill.

Henry carves his violins from Montana spruce. He likes the spruce near Troy, Mont., saying "It's the best in the world."

"Good wood, correctly shaped, makes a violin that is note-perfect and has a sweet, rich and vibrant tone," he says.

In his 24 years of working with violins, Henry has repaired 250 instruments and collected 150 violins, five violas, one cello and three guitars, many of his own make. He thinks he has the world's largest private collection of rare old violins.

Years ago a 90-year-old Italian gave him a violin which he said his father and grandfather had learned to play in Italy. On it a yellowed crumbling label reads, "Antonius Stradivarius Cremona 1711."

When Rubinoff, the concert violinist, visited Henry, he took one look at the old violin and remarked, "No one but Antonius Stradivarius could have cut out those F-holes."

TWO-MILE POWER SPAN

KASLO, B. C.—A 10,650-foot power span across Kootenay Lake, believed the longest of its type in the world, soon will be finished. Power lines carrying 170,000 volts from a hydroelectric plant at South Slokan to the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company at Kimberley will run from a 366-foot tower on the east side of the lake.

Tapeworm Signs Rarely Seen Immediately After Infestation

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A reader says that she has passed a long tapeworm and asks for a discussion on that subject.

Tapeworms or flat worms, of which there are several kinds, are one of several varieties of intestinal worms. All of the various kinds of tapeworms—the broad tapeworm, the dwarf, rat, beef, and the pork tapeworm—can invade human beings.

Tapeworms are present all over the world, but they are more common in some countries than in others, particularly among persons who have unfortunate eating habits.

The beef tapeworm is the most cosmopolitan. Both the adult worm and the larvae (which is the young stage in the life cycle of the worm) can become parasites of man. When first infested with adult worms, human beings usually do not show any symptoms. When symptoms do develop they are not always alike, but depend on the number of worms present, the susceptibility of the patient to the tapeworm's poisons and the size to which the worms grow.

Such symptoms as do appear usually consist of a vague feeling of discomfort, disturbed digestion, and frequent diarrhea, loss of weight, sleeplessness and vague pains in the stomach. Sometimes anemia is present or other signs in the blood.

The diagnosis, of course, depends on finding parts of the tapeworm or its eggs in the feces. All tapeworms are made up of a head, characteristic for each variety, and segments attached to the head like links of a chain. At the tail end, the segments contain eggs which are shed off. Of course, there are some differences in appearance and behavior of the different kinds of tapeworms.

Eggs Get in Food

Most infestations of human beings come from swallowing the eggs of a tapeworm in food. When the kind of tapeworm is identified by examination of the segments or eggs found in the feces, appropriate treatment can be begun. This consists of drugs which are called "anthelmintics." There are many of these, some of which have been used for centuries.

The choice of the proper drug to use is difficult and the first treatment is not always successful. Fortunately, the success of the treatment can be checked by finding the head of the parasite. Cure is not complete until the head has been separated from the intestinal wall to which it is attached and eliminated.

Tape Recording Gets Pastorate

MONTREAL—Rev. Alex B. Renton, of Scotland, received a call from the First Presbyterian Church of suburban Verdun after the congregation had listened to a tape recording of his voice.

Unable to come to Canada to preach, the Scotman had a tape recording made and mailed it to Verdun. The congregation met and listened to the play-back. As soon as the recording ended, the members voted to ask Mr. Renton to become minister.

The call to the Mr. Renton follows a decision of the church some years ago to select its pastors from outside Canada. Mr. Renton succeeds the late Rev. Donald M. Correal who was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and left a church at Plainfield, N. J., to become pastor at Verdun.

Tree decay mostly is caused by fungi, although it can be aided by certain bacteria.

GETS DEATH PENALTY

SAIGON, INDO-CHINA—It's risky business to toss hand grenades about in Saigon. Military courts now are imposing the supreme penalty. The Vietnam press agency reports that a man who hurled a grenade into a bar here has been sentenced to death.

GROW BIG LEMON

ROLAND, MANITOBA—H. V. Van Wyk who bought a tiny lemon plant two years ago now has a remarkable lemon. Two ordinary lemons dropped off the plant when ripe but a third grew to 12 inches in circumference, weighing three-quarters of a pound.

UNCLE EF

There's a lot of indignation in our county over the corruption and loose handling of money in Washington. To be honest, though, it's sort of divided. A majority are mad clear through about the crookedness and then some others are not so much stirred up over all the money that's being thrown around as they are over not knowing how to get any of it.

Total For Flood Relief $7,500,000

ROME—(AP)—Italy received $7,500,000 in flood relief for the stricken populations of the Po Valley, Calabria, Sicily and Sardinia. Last Fall all four regions were badly flooded. These figures, released by the Italian Foreign Ministry, are exclusive of contributions sent directly to the International Red Cross, and to the Pontifical Vatican Assistance Committee.

Howard Says Brand Names Pay Off In Midland Trade

The Howard Company of Midland was honored Tuesday when it was presented with a certificate of distinction as Brand Name Retailer of the Year in the office equipment and stationery stores classification in impressive ceremonies at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York by the Brand Names Foundation, Inc. The foundation is composed of over 700 national advertisers. Each year it honors those retailers who do outstanding work in promoting the integrity which goes into Brand Name merchandise, and the award is one of the most coveted in the retailing field.

At the presentation, Ray Howard, owner of the Howard Company said, "We like to promote and sell Brand

Name merchandise because such goods have such acceptance that the customer is more apt to be satisfied. The manufacturer who constantly advertises his product must have a good one, else soon public acceptance will force him from the field.

"Brand Name merchandise usually is the best buy because competition among leading products is so keen that the manufacturer constantly must be improving his product to keep abreast. We can sell this kind of merchandise with the confidence that it is the best, and when sold it stays sold . . . and we like the way our good customers now call for products by their Brand Name. It does make our job easier."

The Howard Company does over 95 per cent of its business with oil companies in the Permian Basin. It is an outstanding success story, and a tribute to the private enterprise system. Starting the business with less than $500 capital on his release from the army in 1947, Howard has built one of the largest printing businesses in the Permian Basin, and a leading office supply and equipment businesses in the Southwest.

"We do not sell merchandise on price, but rather on quality," Howard says. "We have most of the best lines of office equipment available, and we believe that the product having the best quality always is the cheapest. If you buy on price alone, you must allow something for the risk you run, and if you make that allowance, you'll find it cheaper to buy a product you know will do the job."

James A. Farley, former Postmaster General and chairman of the Board of the Coca-Cola Export Corporation, made the keynote address at the Brand Names dinner where the presentations were made. His topic was "The Dark Alternatives to the Free Enterprise System." The dinner was attended by over 1,500 manufacturing, distributing, advertising and retailing executives. Host committee for the occasion included the presidents of more than fifteen of the largest corporations in America.

Brewing was practiced mainly as a household task by women until the 12th century, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

SIDE GLANCES

"I'll bring in my husband tomorrow—he'll like that dress very much if you show him some more expensive ones first!"

Congratulations To The HOWARD Company

We're mighty proud to be represented by a winner in the National competition for "Brand Name Retailer of the Year." We are pleased to join with other friends of the Howard Company in wishing continuing success in '52 in serving the Midland community with leading brands of office equipment that assure greater business efficiency.

Honors In Men's Wear Go To Firm In Texas

NEW YORK—Notification has been received by Jas. K. Wilson, President of the Jas. K. Wilson Company, Dallas, of this store's selection as a "Certificate of Distinction" winner in the men's wear field in the "Brand Name Retailer of the Year" national awards competition. The announcement was made by Henry E. Abt, President of the Brand Names Foundation, Incorporated, following the tabulation of scores at judging meetings in Chicago and New York City.

Jas. K. Wilson Company will receive a citation recognizing its outstanding service during 1951 in interpreting the story back of America's brand names to the public, Abt said. The citation will be given at the annual Brand Names Day Dinner in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, Wednesday.

Brand Names Day-1952 will include an extensive series of special activities to entertain the winners of the 4th annual "Brand Name Retailer of the Year" awards competition during their visit to New York City.

Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former Finance Minister of Hungary, will be a speaker at the Brand Names Day dinner. Dr. Nyaradi will speak on "The Dark Alternatives To The Free Enterprise System."

Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca will headline the "in person" entertainment at the dinner. Other "Your Show Of Shows" stars who will appear with them, through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company are Marguerite Piazza, The Hamilton Trio, Carl Reiner, and Charles Sanford and his "Your Show Of Shows" orchestra. The hour long production will be produced and directed by Max Liebman.

The Host Committee for the dinner will be headed by Richard E. Berlin, president of the Hearst Corporation, New York, and will also include: Bernard J. Gimbel, president, Gimbel Brothers, New York; Stanley C. Hope, president, Esso Standard Oil Company, New York; C. C. Humphrey, president, Mungingwear, Inc., Minneapolis; Raymond J. Hurley, chairman of the board, Thor Corporation, Chicago; R. Stewart Kliborne, Jr., president, William Skinner & Sons, New York; and Robert E. Kintner, president, American Broadcasting Company, New York.

Convertible Stops Harague Of Red

NEW YORK—(AP)—Actions often speak louder than words—even in the propaganda battle between East and West in Berlin.

In this case it was the action of a convertible top being run up and down several times which turned the attention of a Berlin crowd from the harangue of a Communist speaker. When he had diverted their attention, the driver of the convertible, James Flint, Religious Affairs Adviser for the West in Berlin, then told the crowd that a lot of average folks in the United States owned such automobiles.

The incident was reported by Al Crews, production chief for the Protestant Broadcasting and Film Commission, who recently returned from Berlin where he tape-recorded interviews with many East-zone refugees for use on a special church program.

Horse Trading Going To Dogs, Says Texan

GATESVILLE—(AP)—One of the last of the Texas horse traders says that the business is going to the dogs.

It was bad enough when old horses used to end up at the "glue factory," Walter Schaub opines, but it's downright humiliating for them to be consigned to modern day dog food plants.

During the last 12 years Schaub has owned 36,000 horses. Most of the 3,000 horses he buys and sells each year come from the 15 counties surrounding McClellan. Years ago he bought them in the county but now most of them come from auctions.

Schaub learned to tell the good ones from the bad ones when he was a kid on a farm near Gatesville. Successful horsetrading, he says, is based on the old rule of "buy 'em cheap and sell 'em high."

IS MOST PROUD TO ANNOUNCE ITS SELECTION BY THE
BRAND NAMES FOUNDATION, INC. AS WINNER OF PLACE
NO. 2 IN THE NATIONAL COMPETITION FOR

THE AWARD OF

BRAND NAME RETAILER of the YEAR

OFFICE EQUIPMENT AND STATIONERY STORES DIVISION

Selection of The Howard Company from over 6,000 entries from over the nation for this coveted award comes as a tremendous surprise to many West Texans, but it is no particular surprise to those who depend on The Howard Company for their office needs and fine printing . . . these customers know that unless the product is the most acceptable, The Howard Company will not handle it. They know that this West Texas organization has more leading Brand Names than any other company in West Texas, if not in the entire nation. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard are in New York today to accept the award at impressive ceremonies recognizing leading retailers of the nation. You are invited to tune in Mutual Broadcasting System tonight at 10:05 for the broadcast of a portion of the program.

Appreciation

THIS WEEK ONLY

You have made it possible for us to win the coveted award of BRAND NAME RETAILER OF THE YEAR . . . to show our appreciation we have asked manufacturers to cooperate with us to bring you these extra values as a token of our thanks. Only those quantities specified will be sold. This is not a store-wide sale. No deviation from groupings.

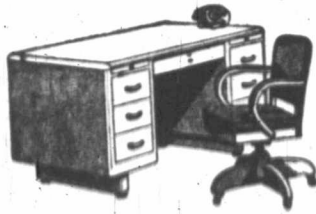

The Following Brand Name Office Equipment At These Very Exceptional Reduced Prices:

We try to sell only the best lines and do not care for business which is based on price alone. We try to maintain fair prices, but we believe you should be guided in your buying just as we are: we have found it unwise to pay too much, but it is worse to pay too little. When you pay too much you lose a little money . . . that is all. But when you pay too little you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business prohibits paying a little and getting a lot . . . it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that, you will have enough to pay for something better. The following items are priced for this event only.

Today is Brand Name Day

But Every Day Is Brand Name Day

At The Howard Co.

We feature BRAND NAMES every day because when you buy a brand name, you buy the best! A national manufacturer cannot stay in business unless he gives you and other shoppers what you want. Competition among brands is so keen that every manufacturer must constantly be improving his product, and as a result you get more and more quality.

You get more for your money, too. Value means more for your money, and if you don't get more and more value, you will turn to another product . . . it isn't how cheap, but how good.

When we sell you a BRAND NAME, we both are protected. You must be satisfied, or you won't buy that product again . . . that is why a good name is such a valuable asset . . . why you will return to us because you have been satisfied.

When you buy a product by brand, you know what you are getting. The product has to be good all of the time . . . every time you buy it . . . and you save a lot of time by buying the product that has long merited customer acceptance.

Baptist Leader Asks World-Wide Revival

LONGVIEW—(AP)—Dr. T. A. Holcomb, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board of Nashville, Tenn., Tuesday called for a world-wide evangelistic campaign. Dr. Holcomb spoke before about 5,000 delegates attending the opening of the State Baptist Sunday School Convention.

Use of shells as money was formerly very widespread, being traced in America, Asia, Africa and Australia.

Houston University Names New President

HOUSTON—(AP)—Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, who has served as acting president of the University of Houston since 1950, was named president of the school Tuesday. Kemmerer has been with the university since 1934, when it was chartered as a senior college. He is a native of Pennsylvania.

"Senate" originally meant an assembly of old men and the word derives from the same root as "senile."

Seventeen Million TV Eyes At Conventions In July Giving Politicos Advance Cases Of Stage-Fright

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The July political conventions at Chicago will be the biggest television show in history.

Some politicians, a little apprehensive of this TV tiger they have by the tail, are beginning to wish the thing would be just somewhat less colossal.

The four networks, who will televise the proceedings at Chicago's International Amphitheatre, estimate that 17 million TV sets in 62 cities will be tuned in. That compares with only a half-million sets in nine cities during the 1948 conventions.

Three networks have sold commercial sponsorship of convention and post-convention goings on for $8,800,000. This stacks up against the approximately $7,000,000 it will cost them to bring the big show into your home.

NBC alone will move 300 TV specialists and over $1,500,000 worth of equipment into Chicago.

To Watch Antics
Looming large before convention planners is the fact that more than 60 million people will be watching convention acts and antics on TV. About half of them will be voters. Enough to make a president or break a candidate.

Enough also to make headaches for politicians who are just as aware of TV's mighty power as they are unaware of how to use it on a mammoth convention scale.

A professional party drummer in Washington confessed with refreshing candor, "We want to use TV big, but we don't know just how yet."
Another preferred to dwell on the time-honored media of newspapers, magazines and radio. But when he did manager to touch lightly upon the television problem he summed it up neatly, if with some understatement.

"Both parties," he said, "will be confronted with the problem of what's good politics and what's good television."

Ought To Know
Enter now the party of the second part—the pros of the TV industry—who certainly ought to know what's good television and who, before the whole thing's over, may also be the ones who know what's good politics.

The television industry already carries plenty of weight and influence in convention planning.

In the first place, it was the TV boys who practically dictated the site of the conventions. Chicago's International Amphitheatre was picked because, from a television standpoint, it's about the best spot in the country.

A chilly critic of latter-day TV didoes might presume that what the industry would prefer in the way of a convention would be a wide-open Donnybrook with no holds barred. And he might be right.

Something Less
But what TV wants, for the record, is something a little less. NBC's Bill McAndrew says, "The smart party will have a well-organized but open convention."

This would mean that convention programs be tightened up—many speeches eliminated entirely, others cut in length—and that more of the convention business be conducted out in the open on the convention floor and less in the traditional but untelevised smoke-filled rooms.

All of which brings on the possibility of opening up convention proceedings to the voting public in a most revealing manner, a prospect that both saddens and gladdens.

It's been almost axiomatic that the great masses of voters have little or no control over the choice of Presidential nominees. These voters will be glad to know that they will have a good look-in on most of the proceedings at Chicago in July as if they were actually there.

"You'll be able to see a fly on the speaker's nose," says Sig Mickelson of CBS.

And if they don't like what they see, telegrams or phone calls to "The (Blank) State Delegation, International Amphitheatre, Chicago," will certainly have their effect.

All too familiar with the way TV can lift a man like Kefauver from relative obscurity to national renown, the party wheels may well wonder who and what else might be shoved down their throats by TV at convention time.

Kefauver's rise certainly was no result of a helping hand from President Truman. In the dear dead days before television such aloofness on the part of the party boss would certainly have spelled fins to any aspiring candidate.

The general skittishness of the politicians over the TV question is illustrated by the reported concern in GOP ranks over how to handle General MacArthur on convention TV.

Republicans feel that stand to benefit by a convention speech from the Old Warrior. But Taft and Eisenhower forces, aware of the power of his oratory, don't want too big a dose of him, and are firmly against MacArthur's speaking too close to balloting time.

Again this convention time the Democrats will be a television break from the tradition which calls for the Republicans to hold their assembly first. The Democrats can profit both from avoiding Republican TV mistakes and copying their good points.

List Assembled
In the 1948 conventions at Philadelphia, the Democrats hastily assembled a list of do's and don'ts for delegates after TV caught people at the Republican conclave sleeping, yawning, and reading newspapers while speeches were in progress.

"Television has a merciless and complete eye," the Democratic memo warned delegates with some concern. "All of us must remember that."

In a later booklet, marked for the "confidential" use of candidates and party officials, TV had become even more ominous. This time it was called merciless and "tough." Male speakers were admonished above all things to shave before facing a TV camera.

It's not a good idea, speakers were told, to look grim and scow, although "flashes of righteous indignation" were recommended.

How well they learned their lesson, only convention time and TV's tough and merciless eye will tell.

RECORDS APPROVED
GOA, PORTUGUESE INDIA—(AP)—The records for submission to Rome for the beatification of Father Jose Vas, Goan priest, have been approved, a seven-member Ceylonese committee has reported. The process of Father Vas's beatification was started in 1835 and the tri-centenary of his death recently was celebrated. Special Goan postage stamps have been issued on the tricentenary.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"It puts a crimp in their sales talk and I get rid of them in a hurry!"

New Mexico Hopes To Regulate Signs

SANTA FE, N. M.—A national feud has hit New Mexico, but this time it promises to produce a new twist or two.

New Mexico officials will bring out movies to support their contention that they have power to regulate signboards along the highways.

It's possible, too, that they will ask the courts to set a precedent for the whole country by settling the basic issue behind all the legal wrangling. The issue is: Can a state legally restrict signboards for esthetic purposes?

Movies Taken
The attorney general's office and highway department have taken pictures of the signs involved in the suit. They concentrated especially on the chain-type signs described by Zinn as "make-it" signs.

The shots—both movies and stills—will be used as exhibits in the trial. Some of the movies were taken from the angle of a motorist, in an effort to show that a driver who reads all the signs would have his eyes off the road too much of the time.

Before the litigation is finished, both sides will have their big brothers in up to their necks. Both the National Association of Outdoor Advertisers and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads—old foes on the issue—have offered help.

Sign Regulations
The regulations ban signs within 50 feet of the right of way; limit the size to not more than 12 by 25 feet and restrict them near intersections and curves.

The highway commission is defending its right to regulate signs mainly on grounds that its police power authorizes it to do so to enforce public safety and welfare.

The plaintiffs—a group of signboard people and their customers—say the New Mexico billboard regulations "are not designed, and are unnecessary, to protect the public peace, health and safety." They admit their 44 signs all violate state regulations. Some are within 50 feet of the right of way; some are too close together, and some are too long.

Regulations Suspended
Meanwhile, the state's signboard regulations—which make most signs in the state illegal—are not effective for the duration of a temporary injunction.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Frank Zinn announced recently that he was studying the advisability of basing a new defense on esthetic grounds. If he does so, he is expected to make this defense supplemental to the one claiming police power.

The plaintiffs contend the rules are based on a law which violates both the U. S. and New Mexico constitutions. They contend the due process clauses in both federal and state constitutions are violated. They ask that the temporary injunction be made permanent.

ON STAGE
On the night President Lincoln was assassinated there, the Ford theater, in Washington, D.C., was playing "Our American Cousin," starring Laura Keane, the English actress.
