

Welcome Showers Fall In West Texas

All Cities In Midland Area Get Moisture

Gloomy skies prevailed over this section of West Texas Saturday night but the light to heavy downpours lightened the gloom of many a drought-ridden ranchman.

Rain continued late Saturday night in Midland and the moisture belt mushroomed over the general area.

Water gushed down some inverted streets. Pedestrians sloshed in ankle-deep pools at street intersections.

The Midland Air Terminal measured .37 inch at 11 p.m.

Light showers started falling in Midland early Saturday afternoon.

The tempo had increased to pelting downpours by 8 p.m. Roofs thudded with occasional deluges.

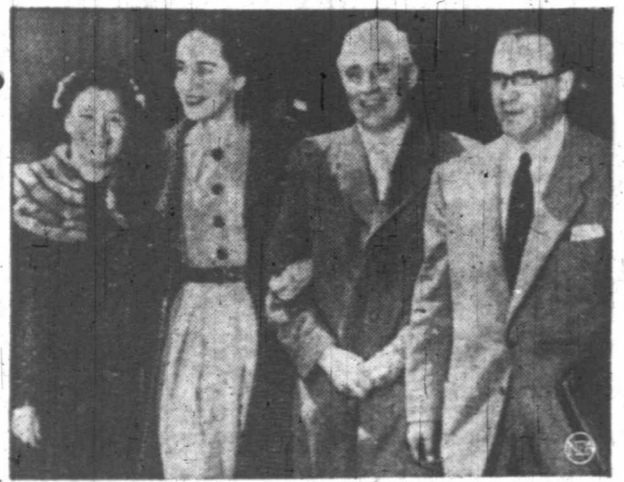

Southern Glasscock County reported as much as two inches. The Concho River was on a rise between Garden City and Sterling City where .75 inch of rain fell Saturday night.

Precipitation appeared heavy west and southwest of Midland, too. Fort Stockton had gauged an inch by 10 p.m. Saturday. Pecos listed .75 inch at 8 p.m. The Humble Pipe Line Company's telegraph office in Midland had reports of continuing light rain at Iran, McCamey and Crane. The same picture prevailed at Odessa, Monahans, Bartow and other points west of Midland. Wink had .44 inch.

Thunderstorms brought a disruption of electrical service in Midland. The Texas Electric Service Company rushed emergency workers to some parts of the city drenched by transformer failures. Service was restored quickly.

Some new sewer ditches eased in. Stanton joined the list of rain.

Mad Missouri Spreads Over Farming Area

OMAHA —(AP)— Flood fighters squelched a new threat to Omaha Saturday and pressure eased here. But the wild Missouri River—overburdened along 700 of its Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri miles—still mauled the Midwest.

As if not to be outdone, the Mississippi provoked new troubles in Iowa and Illinois.

Iowa National Guardsmen went on flood duty in Iowa's Mississippi River Valley. Three units were sent to Mukwonago, Wapello and Grandview. The water peering down on these river towns is the water that last week assaulted St. Paul, Minn., with its worst flood of record.

Later, two more guard companies were ordered to duty in the Muscatine area and two were sent to the Mississippi River "island village" of Sabula near Clinton. Upstream at Dubuque, 250 families had been evacuated from lowland residences and industrial firms employing 2,000 persons had closed down because of the flood. Two firms at Clinton also had closed down and pressure of flood waters was causing sewers to back up in hundreds of basements.

New Threat Suppressed

The Missouri's crest rolled Saturday along the Iowa-Nebraska reaches downstream from Omaha and Council Bluffs, Iowa—the only river cities so far able to strait-jacket the Missouri monster.

The new scare at Omaha developed Friday night just a few hours after the crest had passed. River pressure blew open and underground sewer in an industrial-railroad riverfront area. Water backed up in (Continued On Page Eight)

CONVICTS RIOT—A prison guard at Rahway, N. J., Prison Farm points his gun into the courtyard of the farm, where 231 rioting convicts seized nine guards as hostages and barricaded themselves in a dormitory. In the latest revolt of the state's troubled penal institutions, inmates are demanding reforms in the state prison system.

Thirst May Bring End Of New Jersey Convict Rebellion

RAHWAY, N. J. —(AP)— A band of 231 hungry and thirsty convicts, rebelling against prison conditions, Saturday released one of nine hostage guards from a dormitory where they have been holding out two days behind barricades.

The guard, Marlon Dan of East Trenton, suffering from ulcers, was released late Saturday when he became ill.

He reported that the desperate convicts had broken up dormitory radiators to suck out water as their thirst increased. The convicts have pleaded for water since Friday.

Dunn said he and the eight other captive guards were well treated by the rioters and that food, sent to the dormitory for them by prison authorities had reached the guards.

Meanwhile, authorities said they saw hopes for an early end to the mutiny, which started Thursday night.

The state's top prison officials arrived at the New Jersey Prison Farm Saturday as the mutineers showed some signs of organizing a committee to discuss terms for the end of the revolt.

Indications that the demonstrators were weakening were highlighted by the display of a bed sheet sign reading "Water" fluttering from a glass-shattered window of the red brick dormitory.

Temperatures near 80 heightened the plight of the convicts—and their hostages—who have been besieged in the dormitory since 9 p.m. Thursday. (Continued On Page Eight)

County Demos Set Precinct Meetings

Frank Bezoni, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee for Midland County, Saturday announced precinct conventions in Midland County will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 3.

A meeting of the County Executive Committee was held in Bezoni's office in the McClintic Building Saturday noon to agree on locations for precinct and county conventions.

In addition to Bezoni, members attending were B. T. Graham, C. T. King, Arthur Yeager and Joe Sims. County Judge Clifford Keith also was present at the meeting.

It was announced to the committee that under the new state election code, one delegate is authorized per voting precinct for each 25 votes cast for governor in the last general election at precinct conventions, and that one delegate is authorized for each 300 votes cast for governor at the last general election at the county convention.

The following locations were selected for precinct conventions on May 3: Commissioner's Precinct No. 1—Voting precinct No. 1, district courtroom, Midland County Courthouse; Voting precinct No. 5, Community Theater, 301 West Missouri Street; Voting precinct No. 6, Girl Scout Little House, 1100 West Washington Street; Voting precinct No. 7, Midland Youth Center, 808 West Illinois Street; Commissioner's Precinct No. 2—Voting precinct No. 2, Greenwood School House; Commissioner's Precinct No. 3; Voting (Continued On Page Eight)

GOP Solon Talks Ouster Of President

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Representative Bender (R-Ohio) Saturday proposed the appointment of a bipartisan House committee to "explore fully the possibility of bringing successful impeachment proceedings" against President Truman.

Bender said in a statement the seizure of the steel industry and the President's remarks implying he has authority to take over newspapers had raised "a constitutional question of the utmost gravity."

Bender is a backer of Senator Taft of Ohio, who said in Boston April 17 that members of Congress should consider impeachment of Truman for his seizure of the steel industry.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) predicted Saturday that a blast Truman delivered at Congress Friday would lead to renewed demands for his impeachment. Truman threatened to keep Congress in constant session until New Year's unless it approves all the bills he has asked for defense.

Although Mundt predicted an impeachment move, he told a reporter he doubts it "will get past the stage of introduction of a resolution in the House bringing charges against Mr. Truman, plus a lot of pretty stormy debate."

"I don't think the Senate ever will sit in judgment on Harry Truman on charges voted by the House in an impeachment case," the senator told a reporter. "But his recent actions surely will bring a stronger move to impeach the President, and of course all things are possible."

Representative Bender proposed a joint committee of Democrats and Republicans to consider possible impeachment proceedings.

Workers Appeal For Aid In Compiling City Directory Data

Work on the new city directory for Midland is progressing rapidly. LaJohna Cooper, office manager of the Hudspeith Directory Company of Dallas, the company which is compiling the Midland Directory, reported Saturday.

Miss Cooper appeals to all persons who have received absentee slips to please fill them out and return to the office at 502 West Missouri Street, or phone the information to the office. The telephone number is 3-3815.

She explained that in canvassing a city to compile information for a directory it is necessary that every family be contacted in order that correct addresses and occupations will be listed. The company urges everyone who finds an absentee slip in the mailbox to fill it out promptly, otherwise, it means foot-sore and leg-weary clerks will have to return time and again in order to find someone at home.

The new directory will contain a complete list of all residents and their occupations plus a full list of all businesses and industries in Midland.

The new telephone directory is due for distribution about May 26, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company officials said Saturday. April 21 has been set as the closing date for entries. An additional month will be required by the printers.

Crash Pilot May Have Been Victim Of Heart Seizure

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— An autopsy surgeon said Saturday the pilot of a New York to Los Angeles airliner which crashed Friday killing 29, may have suffered a heart seizure just before the wreck.

The dead pilot was Louis Powell, 44, La Crescenta, Calif.

A post mortem examination of his body was made by Dr. Victor Cefalu, assistant chief autopsy surgeon of Los Angeles. Thereafter, Dr. Cefalu said there was evidence Powell recently had suffered a coronary occlusion.

School Merger Out For Stanton, Lomax

STANTON —Proposed merger of the Stanton and Lomax School Districts lost at the polls Saturday. Stanton favored the consolidation, 113 to 0, while Lomax rejected the proposition, 20 to 16.

Consolidation required passage at the ballot boxes by both districts involved.

Pecos School Bond Issue Of $525,000 Gets Big Majority

PECOS — The proposed $525,000 school bond issue received a better than 5 to 1 margin at the Pecos polls Saturday.

A total of 223 voters favored the proposal as compared to 37 against it. Only two small boxes, Orla and Saragosa, remained unreported Saturday night.

Improvements to be provided by the bonds include a new junior high school in East Pecos.

Other items in the projected program are:

- 1. Purchase of one and one half blocks of land in North Pecos for a future school site.
- 2. Addition of four rooms to Pecos High School.
- 3. Construction of a shop building and conversion of present shop building into a vocational agricultural shop.
- 4. Repairs to present junior high school.
- 5. Building of a negro school.
- 6. Repairs and addition to present field house.

$900 Contributed As Cancer Crusade Goes Into High Gear

Midland's 1952 Cancer Crusade just now is getting into high gear, with wide and generous response to the worthy cause expected during the coming week, Chairman George S. Cone Jr., said Saturday.

He reported contributions, totaling $900, of which $700 came from First National Bank and First National Building contributors. Only scattered reports have been received from other office buildings, he stated.

The Crusade opened here Wednesday and will continue through the remainder of the month. Contribution booths were operated Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the lobbies of The Midland and First National Banks and Hotel Scharbauer.

Mail Contributions

Cone called upon all Midland County residents to contribute to the 1952 Crusade. He stressed the fact that no house-to-house or store-to-store solicitations will be made, although drives are being conducted in each of the city's major office buildings.

Business firms, organizations and individuals are urged to mail their contributions to "Cancer, Midland, Texas."

"Cancer Strikes One In Five. Strike Back! Join The Texas Cancer Crusade" is the campaign slogan.

Bell Installers End Strike; Injunction Suit Not Affected

NEW YORK —(AP)— The major phase of a nation-wide telephone workers strike ended Saturday with a compromise wage agreement. Negotiators strove to end two smaller disputes.

Agreement was reached between the Western Electric Company, manufacturing affiliate of the Bell Telephone System, and 10,000 equipment installers of the CIO Communications Workers of America.

Negotiators were in session here to end a strike of 6,000 Western Electric salesmen, distributors and warehousemen, members of the same union.

The union estimated 8,500 CWA members were on strike separately against the Bell affiliate in Northern California and Nevada.

Another communications strike, a walkout of 31,000 AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union members seeking higher wages from the Western Union Telegraph Company, passed its seventeenth day with no settlement in sight.

The new pact between Western Electric and the installers provided a basic average wage increase of 14.1 cents an hour and fringe benefits of 17 cents for an overall package of 31.1 cents an hour. The union had asked a 23-cent-an-hour basic wage increase and unspecified fringe benefits.

DALLAS —(AP)— A compromise wage settlement between Western Electric Company and 10,000 CIO Communications Workers of America equipment installers will have no effect on an injunction suit Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has brought against strikers in Texas. Bell attorneys said Saturday.

Southwestern Bell obtained a temporary restraining order April 22 to keep Western Electric strikers from picketing Bell installations in Texas. A hearing has been set at 9 p.m. Monday in 70th District Court at Midland. Bell also sought $500,000 damages from the union.

Air Force To End Use Of Point System For Determining Overseas Assignments

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Air Force Saturday said it will abolish on June 1 the point system of credit for overseas service which it has been using in part to determine whether fliers should be assigned to foreign duty.

A spokesman said the projected replacement of the point system by a method based upon an individual's date of return from his most recent foreign tour had nothing to do with the recent refusals by some officers to fly.

An Air Force spokesman said the new plan for selecting men for overseas duty has been under preparation for months, and that advance copies already have been distributed to a limited number of persons in the Air Force.

The spokesman explained the proposed new method to a reporter this way:

- 1. No officer or airman will serve more than 28 months overseas separated from his dependents.
- 2. No person who has less than 12 months still to serve will be eligible for overseas duty.
- 3. An individual returned from foreign duty may not be assigned overseas again until he has served at least two years in the United States.
- 4. In cases where Air Force men decide to pass up the 18-month provision and wait overseas for their dependents, the complete foreign tour will be the prescribed tour or 12 months before the arrival of dependents, whichever is longer.

The present point system originally was developed during World War II to determine when men were eligible for return to the U. S. It also has been used as one factor in assigning men overseas since. Men were given fixed numbers of points for combat duty, overseas service and so on.

The Air Force acknowledges the system has defects. Officials said, for example, that it might have been possible for an Air Force officer—regular or reservist—to amass as many points in two years of foreign duty after World War II as one who saw three years' service in the war. On the other hand, they said, a man serving in Korea generally would pile up points much more rapidly than one on foreign duty elsewhere.

A spokesman said the point system was set up to meet war conditions and has never been regarded as fully satisfactory for permanent use.

Some Air Force officers at Randolph Air Force Base in Texas and elsewhere recently have refused to fly, some of them claiming they had had a full share of combat. One has been court-martialed and others face disciplinary action.

Midlanders Get JayCee Offices

AUSTIN —(AP)— Raymond Roberts of Grand Prairie was elected state president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce here Saturday as the organization closed its annual convention.

Elected national directors were Rocky Ford of Midland, Roy Thrash of Dallas, Frank Lang of Corpus Christi and Sam Gibbons of Tyler.

Mrs. Ford was elected president of the Texas JayCees. Ford has served as a state director.

Assaulted By Pair, Midlander Suffers Severe Head Injury

A 46-year-old Midland man, self-styled victim of a vicious attack and beating Friday night, was reported by Midland Memorial Hospital attendants to have serious head injuries.

Terry M. Shelton, 218 North Weatherford Street, told hospital authorities that while he was walking at the intersection of Baird and Texas Streets about 11:30 p.m. Friday, two men jumped him, took his watch, ring and about $8 in cash, and beat him severely about the head and face.

Counterfeit Bill Passed At Store

Police Saturday were investigating the possibility that additional counterfeit money may be circulating in Midland after a crude counterfeit bill was passed at the H&H Food Store.

A $20 figure was stamped crudely on one side of the bill but the figure was $1 on the other side.

Col. James G. Hall, Midland, Dies In New York City Hotel

Col. James Goodwin Hall of Midland, head of the Southwestern operations of Graham-Paige Corporation, with headquarters here, died Friday night of a heart ailment in a New York City hotel, according to information received here.

He had been in the North and East the last month and was to have returned to Midland this weekend, business associates here said.

He was vice president of the Graham-Paige Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiary, the R. Olsen Oil Company, which maintains offices here.

Funeral services will be held Monday in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D. C., friends here were advised.

Colonel Hall was the possessor of a highly-regarded war decorations which reflected an outstanding flying and military record. His accomplishments represented combat participation in both World Wars.

During World War II, he was commander of the U. S. "Aerial Spies" in the European Theater before being promoted to the staff of the commanding general of the Air Force in Washington. He was charged with the responsibility for the staff direction of all aerial reconnaissance, photography, photographic interpretation, and mapping service in all theaters of operation. Previously, he had commanded photographic reconnaissance groups of the 8th and 9th Air Forces.

Following V-E Day, Colonel Hall held a similar assignment with the European Occupation Air Force. From Jennes Te Jels During two tours of duty in England and on the Continent, he flew 41 combat missions in photographic reconnaissance. Colonel Hall had maintained his flying status since 1917, and had logged thousands of hours as a pilot. He had flown the gamut of military and commercial aircraft from Jennes (World War I trainers) to jets.

He attended Georgia Tech and majored in electrical engineering. He was a member of the New York Stock Exchange from 1928 to 1944. He resided in Texas before World War II, and was one of the organizers of the American Quarterhorse Association. He was the first president of the Quarterhorse Racing Association. The colonel was awarded the French Croix de Guerre during World War I. "His U. S. decorations in World War II included the Legion of Merit, Distinguished Flying Cross with five Oak Leaf Clusters, the Bronze Star, Commendation Medal and Victory Medal. He also held numerous foreign decorations.

No Headlines On Her 'Loves' In Europe, Is Fontaine Vow

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Joan Fontaine is heading for Europe soon to star in "The Loves of Boccaccio," but she vows her public won't be reading the kind of overseas headlines about the loves of Joan as when she dated Aly Kahn last year.

"That gay-girl copy," she told me, "None of it was true. You go to a party that Elsa Maxwell gives with an assigned escort and all of sudden it's international news. You're a madcap and you're guilty of terrible misbehavior. When I saw what was printed after three dates with Aly Kahn, I shut myself up and refused to go out any more."

Virginia Grey is still amazed. An east coast TV critic said, after seeing her on his home screen, "I predict that Hollywood will sign this beautiful actress without delay and bless TV for having discovered her."

Virginia's been in films since Lassie was a pup.

Well Completions In State Decline

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas oil well completions dropped last week from the previous week's 251 to 213.

Total wells completed so far this year are 3,811 compared with 3,994 last year, the Railroad Commission's weekly drilling report showed.

There were fewer dry holes—108 compared with 127 the previous week.

There were nine wildcats, down from 14.

Seven Arrests Smash Waco Marihuana Ring

WACO—(AP)—Federal narcotic agents who have been working under cover three weeks picked up seven men Friday night and early Saturday in the Waco area.

They said six of the men are Waco negroes who had been retailing marihuana and the seventh is a Latin American who had been bringing the marihuana from the border.

Police Chief J. V. Gunterman said the arrests broke up a ring which had been selling cigarettes mostly to Waco negroes, although some white people were the buyers. He said the Latin American was arrested at Mart, 15 miles southeast of Waco, and the negroes were arrested here.

Platform Of National Party Born In Precinct Convention

(This is one of two articles provided by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce as a public service to encourage attendance at party precinct conventions May 3.)

It is in the precinct convention that the party's national platform has its origin. It is there, also, that the ultimate strategy of the state's delegation to the national party convention has its beginnings.

Mainly because Texas is a one party state, few voters have in the past bothered to attend the Precinct Convention.

The result has been that the party platforms have been formed, in most cases, by a small minority of party members, as Texas is concerned.

The first article explained how one must take part in the Precinct Convention if his vote is to be effective in choosing the party's candidates for President and Vice President of the United States. It also noted the times and places of the Precinct Conventions, and those eligible to vote in them.

If one is to function effectively in the Precinct Convention, he needs to know something about how such a convention should be conducted.

The Precinct Chairman elected in the party primary last July is charged with the duty of calling the Precinct Convention to order. He is to preside until the Permanent Chairman is elected.

If the Precinct Chairman does not arrive in time to open the convention at the duly designated moment, any qualified voter living in the precinct may be selected to serve as temporary chairman and preside until the permanent chairman is named.

If one wishes to have an active part in getting his Precinct Convention to follow his political views in its selections and decisions, he should do some preliminary work—at least a week before the convention.

This can best be done by arranging a preliminary caucus among friends and neighbors. There, proposed candidates for permanent chairman and permanent secretary should be selected. A floor leader and assistants should be designated to make motions in the convention on election of the permanent chairman, the permanent secretary, the Committee on Delegates (to the county convention) and the Committee on Resolutions.

Midland High Band Concert Set Friday

The Midland High School Concert Band will present its third concert of the year at 8 p.m. Friday in the High School auditorium.

It will be the first public appearance for the band since they won sweepstakes honors in a meet at Kermit recently.

The Junior High School Band, also a sweepstakes winner at the Kermit meet, will be guests of the Senior High Band and will play the opening selection.

Featured on the program will be classical numbers with a slightly Latin-American theme, including the renowned "Begin the Beguine."

Included in the 11 selections which the band will play will be the classical favorite, "Morning, Noon and Night, In Vienna," and Sousa's famous march, "Hands Across the Sea."

The high school band is under the direction of Ralph Mills. Admission will be 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

Brooklyn Loses Citizen-Texas Acquires New One

HAPLES, ITALY—(AP)—Texas acquired a new citizen and Brooklyn lost one in a ceremony Saturday aboard the ship Adlon.

Thomas M. Graham, a sailor from Brooklyn, proudly received from Capt. Roland F. Price three documents which accomplished the change.

1. A certificate of honorary citizenship signed by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

2. Another from Mayor C. W. McCollum of Odessa, Texas.

3. A letter of welcome from Ray Brasley, secretary of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

Standing by during the ceremony was Graham's buddy, Coy L. Tucker, roymen third class, of Odessa. Tucker bragged so much about his state that Graham decided he wanted to switch over. Tucker wrote home and arranged it.

Teen-Ager Blasts Older Generation

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(AP)—Eighteen-year-old Ted Vestal of Sherman, Texas, president of Key Club International, criticized the older generation in a speech here Friday. He told a district meeting of the youth organization that scandals "leave the youth wondering about the importance of the morals that have been preached to them all their lives."

Optimists To Hold Family Night Event

The Midland Optimist Club will hold Family Night at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Boys Factory, Lamessa Road and New York Street.

A pot-luck supper is planned, in addition to entertainment. All members are invited and urged to bring guests.

The regular noon luncheon will not be held Tuesday.

'Acting' Sheriffs Make Real Grab

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D.—(AP)—Two high school boys who served as "sheriffs" during American Legion Government Day got a taste of the real thing.

Marvin Fenton and Dan West were given a deputy sheriff's car and a "pickup" order for three Faith residents. The two youths made the "arrests."

When they returned to the county jail with the trio, they were surprised to learn their "prisoners" were actually wanted. They were accused of failing to pay a cafe bill.

Rigler Gets TSCW Journalism Post

DENTON—(AP)—Frank C. Rigler has been named professor and director of Journalism at Texas State College for Women, effective June 1.

Rigler succeeds Dr. F. L. McDonald, newly-elected president of Lamar College of Technology at Beaumont.

Rigler worked on various daily newspapers in Texas. He came to TSCW in 1931 as an instructor and for six years has held the rank of associate professor. He is a former president of the Southwestern Journalism Congress.

Midland Woman's Father Is Dead

WINTERS—M. J. Golden, 75, father of Mrs. Leroy Hale of Midland, died of a heart attack at his home here Friday. He had been in ill health for four years.

Golden was born Dec. 3, 1876, in Alabama. He came to Texas in 1906 and settled east of Winters for four years. He moved to Hatchel and later to Wingate, and then to Robert Lee. After retiring 10 years ago, he moved back to Winters.

Survivors include the widow; four daughters, Mrs. Ben Berry of Bo-nora, Mrs. W. G. Hurt of Maverick; Mrs. Maureen Thompson of Winters; and Mrs. Hale; 10 grandchildren; 18 great-grandchildren; one brother, D. D. Golden, of Odessa, Ala.; one sister, Mrs. Mollie Stewart of Tallapoosa, Ala.

Golden was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Hill Funeral Chapel with the Primitive Baptist pastor of Tuscola officiating. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

'Play Ball!'

The man in blue will yell, "Play Ball!" at Indian Park Monday night and the Midland Indians of the Longhorn League will swing into what is expected to be a championship season—perhaps the best and most successful in the club's history.

Yes, baseball time again has rolled around and Midland fans anxiously await the official opening of the 1952 season Monday night.

The opposition on the playing field at the season opener, incidentally, will be furnished by none other than the Oilers from our neighboring city of Odessa. What an opening game it will be—a natural if there ever was one. Of course every loyal Midlander will want to be on hand to see the Indians scalp the Oilers to start the season off right. It should be a colorful and sensational encounter.

Never before has public interest in baseball been higher in this headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire, and never before have the Indians' chances for a Longhorn League pennant been brighter at the start of a season. Everything appears to be just right.

A record-breaking attendance at the Monday night opener appears to be all that is needed at this point. Midland can win—Midland should win—the opening night attendance banner. It is up to YOU and YOU and YOU!

The Midland Indians will be out there doing their very best to win the opener, and it will help tremendously if Midlanders are out there doing their best to cop attendance honors while cheering the Indians to victory.

The manager, the players, the officers, directors and stockholders of the home-owned Midland Indians Baseball Club deserve top-notch support on opening night and throughout the 1952 season. Let's support our Midland Indians as never before this season by attending as many home games as possible.

And to Manager Zeke Bonura and his Midland Indians, welcome back home for the 1952 season. The home town still is yours and we want every member of the club to feel perfectly at home in this friendly, headquarters city. Midland is with you and for you, and Midlanders join in wishing for each of you and for the club as a whole all the success and good fortune possible.

We will be at Indian Park to see you open the season Monday night.

It's "Play Ball," and Midland is ready to swing into action.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: House-Senate tax jealousies bubble to surface; Steel negotiations may be dumped on Secretary Sawyer; Doctors don't mix well with politics.

WASHINGTON—Jealousy between House and Senate tax-probers bubbled to the surface the other day during the closed-door questioning of ex-Internal Revenue Commissioner Joe Numan.

Both House and Senate investigators (not to mention a federal grand jury) have been hot on Numan's trail. But it was the efficient King-fraud subcommittee that finally nailed him with a subpoena and grilled him for eight hours behind closed doors.

For the most part, the committee pulled no punches—except when a case came up that already had been exposed by Senator John Williams, Delaware Republican. Williams also has been doing some tax-probing and Chairman Cecil King, California Democrat, proceeded to take a crack at his Senate rival for giving Numan a "pushing around."

The case was that of the Indianapolis Brewing Company, which allegedly charged over-the-ceiling prices for beer, then neglected to pay full taxes on the profits. Williams had claimed in a Senate speech that Numan defended the company from the tax rap after obtaining a special waiver to get around a regulation that is supposed to keep ex-Internal Revenue employees from handling tax cases for a two-year period.

Following the Williams speech, Numan had denied flatly to the press that he had represented the Indianapolis Brewing Company at all; and he repeated this denial to the House tax-fraud subcommittee. However, he did admit representing one of the Indianapolis Brewing Company partners, Lawrence Hardin, on his personal taxes. This led to King's out at his Senate rival.

"I do not mind stating for the record," observed King, "that we have known, or at least feel, that you have had enough in the way of pushing around. I feel that fellows in your position are at least entitled to the chair.

"I am aware of all of the technicalities made or the speech" made by Senator Williams. I do not know Senator Williams, and I have no reason to believe he is anything but a gentleman," continued the congressman from California. "But, only on the basis of what information I have been supplied . . . On your participation, I left this conference with the feeling with, and at a time when a maximum amount of harm could come to you. I believe, inasmuch as we are the only committee actually going into these matters as thoroughly as we have, that the least we could ask for you was that this thing be made clear."

A midget who was in a sideshow fell in love with another member of the troupe—the gnatless. They were strolling through a town and he asked for a kiss. She said, "Just one" so he climbed up on an old anvil which was nearby and kissed her. They strolled on for another half hour and he begged for another kiss. She said, "No, and he replied, "Well, I guess I might as well quit carrying this anvil then."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Shed a tear for poor East in the hand shown today. He made a very natural defensive play, and South very treacherously took advantage of him.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and dummy won with the trump trick, so his contract depended on guessing which opponent had the queen of hearts. The South player happened to be Larceny Lou, who prefers a sure thing to a guess. So he proceeded to turn the play into a sure-thing proposition.

At the second trick he simply led the jack of spades from the dummy. This simple play had far-reaching effects.

East quickly, but not too quickly, played his low spade. He hoped that South lacked the queen of spades as well as the ace, in which case declarer might let the jack of spades ride for a losing finesse.

This was a fairly natural defensive play, but it backfired disastrously: When the jack of spades won the second trick, Larceny Lou led a diamond to dummy's ace, ruffed the diamond in his hand, cashed the top clubs, and ruffed a club in dummy.

This series of plays stripped the diamonds and clubs out of declarer's hand and the dummy. Now Lou led a second trump, giving East his ace.

What could East do at this point? If he returned a heart, Lou would get a free finesse. If East returned anything but a heart, dummy would ruff while Lou discarded a heart. Either way, of course, declarer had the rest of the tricks.

If East had stepped up with the ace of spades at the second trick, he could have exited safely with a diamond, a club, or his remaining trump. Then South would have had to guess the heart situation for himself, and the wrong guess would have cost him the slam.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West
1 Spade Pass 2 Hearts Pass
3 Diamonds Pass ?
You, South, hold: Spade 2, Hearts A-Q-J-9-5, Diamonds Q-10-7-6, Clubs 8-3-2. What do you do?
A—Bid four diamonds. This is the big old obvious bid. If your partner has a real diamond suit, he will go on. If he has heart support, he will show it.

TODAY'S QUESTION

THE STORY: Private Detective George Kendall has been retained by the wealthy Albert P. Sutworth and his daughter Marilyn's romance is being investigated. Max is in a hurry to get to New York. Although he has been unsuccessful in getting Arno to drop his investigation, George has succeeded in getting Arno to drop his investigation.

It was a small cafe with soft lights, a neat row of booths on one side. They sat at one of the booths near the back.

"I hope Max doesn't get angry because I ran off with you," Marilyn Sutworth said. "But we'll go back later and I'll explain."

"You care quite a bit for him, don't you?" George Kendall wanted to hear the answer, but a waitress appeared before she could make a reply.

They ordered sandwiches and Manhattans, a ghastly combination at any other time, but tonight it seemed quite in order. He was conscious of slipping the Manhattan. He was conscious of her hair, the soft lights and the music from the juke box. But George was also conscious of a guilty feeling.

He told himself that he was doing this because it was his business as a private detective, as Old Man Sutworth's hired hand. This was supposed to be part of his job, but it wasn't right. It wasn't right to try to make this girl fall for him, when he didn't mean it. But gradually, George seemed to gather that he did mean it. Perhaps it was really falling for this charming, unpredictable creature. He kissed her cheek. She didn't get mad, she didn't slap him. She just wrinkled her nose at him. "You're naughty," she said, "but I like you, George Kendall."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Pss-t, Stevenson Totes Own Golf Clubs—Have You Heard?

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—When Illinois Gov. Adlai Stevenson first was mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential candidate, an old friend from Chicago made the claim that, "Stevenson won't get any place because he just isn't the big-time type."

To prove his point, this friend told the story about the last time he played golf with Stevenson at the very exclusive and high-priced country club resort at French Lick, Ind.

Governor Stevenson, he said, showed up at this swank place with a couple of old and beat-up clubs in a small and dirty golf bag. The Chicago hot shot said the governor should have known better than to show up at such an exclusive place with such shoddy looking equipment, where everybody who was anybody would see him.

But the worst of it was that Stevenson, he said, instead of hiring an expensive caddy, insisted on carrying his own clubs.

When this story was told to one Illinois political leader he observed: "Mister, tell that story every chance you get. That's the kind of stuff that makes Presidents—h carries his own clubs."

As James A. Farley was leaving the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Washington, after President Truman had taken himself out of the presidential race, somebody called to the former postmaster general and Democratic National Committee chairman: "Jim, who you for?"

Farley turned around and answered: "Farley."

Later, running onto Judge Louis Goldstein of New York, Farley said, "Judge, there's nobody down here to manage my campaign. Maybe you'd better take over."

New York state's two congressional by-elections so far this year have offset each other, so far as forecasting November results is concerned.

On February 19, in the Fifth (Queens) District, Republican Robert Tripp won Democrat T. Vincent Quinn's vacated seat by 17,300 votes to his three opponents 15,200. That was hailed as a great Republican victory over Trumanism.

But on April 2, in the normally Republican Thirty-Second (Albany) District, Leo W. O'Brien, a Democrat, won the late William T. Byrne Democratic seat, 66,000 to 27,000.

Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana apparently is worried about his chances of reelection next November, for a big money-raising drive already has been started to finance his campaign.

Letters soliciting contributions have been mailed out to prominent Hoosiers and ex-Hoosiers by John H. Bookwalter of Indianapolis, treasurer of the "Jenner for Senator" committee, and by Senator Homer E. Capehart, who doesn't have to run again until 1956.

The Capehart letter stresses that "Senator Jenner faces a very difficult campaign." The Bookwalter letter says that Jenner is on the Democrats' purge list, and that a tremendous amount of "out-of-state money" will be "poured in our midst."

All this early worry is considered unusual in view of the fact that no leading one, but now it was out and he waited silently for her answer.

"Yes," she whispered, "more than Max."

That shocked him. He hadn't expected that kind of an answer and he wasn't sure that he believed her. "You fall in and out of love easily, don't you?"

"Who said I was in love with you?"

"I merely said I liked you."

"Well, you were in love with Max, weren't you?"

"Love? No, not really. I don't guess I've ever really been in love." She sighed. "I'm just a spoiled little rich girl. Why don't you jake me home?"

"NOT until you've answered some more questions," he said. He wanted to get at the bottom of this thing now. "Max gave me the idea that you two might get married. How about that?"

"I guess he thought so," she said, "but I was just doing it to get even with Dad."

"Why did you want to get even with him?"

"It's a long story," she said, "and I'm afraid you wouldn't understand."

"I like long stories," he said, and ordered two more drinks.

She started slowly, uncertain, but gradually her words took on flesh and blood and the story came to life. Her father was naturally domineering. Her mother had died when she was only 12, and they had then moved from Boston down to Seneca Springs. Everything that was done had to be done in his way. The family name had to be upheld and the path of dignity and social decorum was followed to the T.

"I didn't mind it so much when I was a kid," she said, "but when I started to grow up and Dad kept telling me what to do, I began to resent it. I had a lot of puppy love affairs like any other girl, but while I was in college I finally did meet a fellow that amounted to more than puppy love. We were going to be married, only Dad paid him off to quit the college and leave town.

"Well he couldn't have been so wonderful if he accepted your father's money."

"He was wonderful, but Dad started talking in five figures. How could he resist the temptation?"

George stole a glance at the bare lines of her throat, and then his eyes swept the thin, provocative lips, the small oval-like face and finally his eyes rested on hers. "You know what, Marilyn? I wouldn't have taken six figures, seven figures, or any amount to give up a girl I was in love with."

"That's right, George," she took his hand in hers. "You probably think I'm crazy and maybe I am, but I think you're the nicest guy I've ever met."

HE knew he should tell her the truth about himself, but he didn't know how to begin.

"I should have been a farmer," he said pensively. "Farming sounds nice to people who live in a city," Marilyn replied. "But would you like it as much as you think you would?"

"Would you like to be a farmer's wife?" George hadn't intended to ask that question in just that way. He expected it to sound impersonal, academic, strictly theory. But the way it came out it sounded like a proposal.

"I'll think it over," said Marilyn. It wasn't the answer he expected, either. To tell the truth, what happened later was quite hazy. He seemed to be in the clouds. Perhaps it was the magic of the juke box, or perhaps it was the girl who danced with him. Or it might have been a goodnight kiss, that seemed to make his head spin.

George's conscience did not keep him awake after he returned to his hotel that night. Thoughts of Marilyn didn't either. George was tired. Dead tired. And so quite soon after turning in, he was sound asleep. He had completely forgotten asking an impersonal question of Marilyn that had sounded like a proposal of marriage.

Pig-Tailed Korean Girls Fly To Scatter Leaflets, Propaganda Behind Red Lines

By GEORGE A. McARTHUR
SEOUL, KOREA —(P)— The silence of the night over Communist North Korea is broken by the voices of two shy, pigtailed Korean girls. Their voices are boomed from a loudspeaker carried by a slowly circling twin-engine C-47, one of the Allies' psychological warfare planes. The girls, one 19 and the other 21, are members of the team that daily delivers leaflets, broadcasts and a weekly newspaper to the Reds. Tracers, and anti-aircraft bursts are common sights in the "psy war" aircraft.

to go home. The two girls, whose names must be kept secret, volunteered for their job. "We think we should for our country," one answered bashfully. Their broadcasts are only a small part of the psychological warfare campaign that showers millions of propaganda leaflets on the Reds, scatters broadcasts over strategic spots and each week delivers a million and a half tiny newspapers behind Red lines. The girls alternate on the broadcasts with two Korean men. All have been classified as war criminals by the Reds. The broadcasts by the girls serve a double purpose. Their voices travel farther over the loudspeaker than a man's and "psy war" figures a girl's voice sending propaganda messages will do more harm to Red morale than a male broadcast. The actual effect of the broadcasts and leaflet drops is a secret, but the fliers are happy with their jobs. To see at first hand what the "psy pilots" were up against, AP Photographer Fred Waters and I went on a leaflet drop Saturday with Lt. Bill Sweidel of Collingswood, N. J., and Co-pilot Lt. Judge Brady of San Antonio, Texas. The mission was on five target areas on the front. Five long sweeping passes would be necessary to get the leaflets where Red soldiers—and anti aircraft weapons—were known to be. The navigator, Capt. Joseph Polowe, Jr. of Batavia, N. Y., figured it would take the slow C-47 20 minutes to cover the actual target areas. Altogether, it would be about 45 minutes over the Red lines. The Communists sent word when the plane swept over the front—small white shellbursts appeared below.

WEAPONS VARY AS DUO FIGHTS

Midland police were called to separate two highly-incensed Midland men Friday after one reportedly spat tobacco juice in the other's eye. When officers arrived on the scene, one of the men had an ice pick in hand and the other a knife. The pair agreed to shake hands and forget the fight after the policemen talked them into laying knife, ice pick and tobacco quid aside.

All 29 Aboard C-46 Airliner Dead After Crash In California

LOS ANGELES —(P)— A non-scheduled New York-Los Angeles airliner crashed and burned Friday in the Puente Hills, 25 miles from its destination, killing all 29 persons aboard. The plane, a C-46 two-engine transport operated by North Continental Airways, smashed into a low hill as the pilot, Capt. Lewis Powell of Los Angeles, was trying to find his way through a thick early-morning fog to the Los Angeles International Airport. Harry Bachelor, secretary of the airline, said it was impossible to say what might have caused the crash. The plane left New York Thursday and made stops at Chicago, Kansas City, Amarillo, Texas, and Phoenix, Ariz. It apparently scraped the top of a 400-foot hill, then plunged into another. There were grooves on the first hilltop barely 6 feet from the top, apparently from the plane's landing gear. Bits of wreckage were scattered down the two hillsides and the intervening ravine, but perhaps 95 per cent of the plane was in a tangled heap, the bodies torn and charred. A few were thrown clear. The pilot, identified by the airline as Louis Powell, 44, La Crescenta, Calif., still was strapped in his seat. His body was charred. The airline said the co-pilot was Charles Waldron, 37, Los Angeles, and the stewardess, Toni Bradford, 21, Burbank. The only part of the plane undamaged by fire was the broken tail assembly. It stuck up with the number "N-8404-C" showing plainly.

'52 Building Total Nears $ 8,000,000

Although only $137,200 in building permits was issued in Midland last week, April construction figures passed the million dollar mark to $1,247,180, pushing the 1952 construction total to $7,997,931. The figures were verified by the city building inspector's office.

Weather Stifles Korean Air Action

SEOUL, KOREA —(P)— An Allied raiding party blasted three Communist platoons with hand grenades on the Korean central front Saturday and pulled back after a 20-minute scrap. The U. S. Eighth Army communique said the raiders struck at Red advanced positions north of Choryong. There was no estimate of Communist casualties. Only light patrol contacts were reported elsewhere on the Saturday shrouded, rain-swept front Saturday. The thick weather grounded most Allied warplanes. One flight of fighter-bombers struck at Communist rail lines near Suncheon, in Northwest Korea, but visibility was so poor only three cuts in the tracks were observed.

Field Worker Dies In Oil Well Blaze

SNYDER —(P)— A young Snyder oil field worker died Friday night after he and five co-workers were burned when an oil well caught fire. W. T. Waller, 20, died in a Snyder hospital a few hours after the fire. J. F. Pierce, about 43, was injured critically. Burned less seriously were A. G. Petty, 24; J. F. Stewart, 20; Eldon Carroll, about 23, and R. C. Rainwater, 32. The men were running a derrickman test on the J. W. Arledge No. 4 when gas from the well caught fire. The well is about 10 miles southwest of here. The first was put out about an hour after it started. All equipment at the well was destroyed.

INDIA'S WIVES FIND ANSWER

CALCUTTA, INDIA —(P)— Wives of garden laborers and coalminers in Margherita, Assam, have formed a union to control their husbands. After the village headman pledged inability to redress the wives' grievances, the women cornered Friday and decided not to tolerate their husbands' insults, to punish collectively husbands who beat wives, to refuse to prepare their husbands' homebrew liquor, and to discourage absenteeism from work. One habitual absentee coalminer returned to work Saturday despite having a fever.

Witness Says Stalin's Son Confirms Massacre By Reds

LONDON —(P)— A son of Prime Minister Stalin was quoted Saturday as having said the Russians "probably" exterminated Polish intellectuals in the Katyn Forest massacre. Testimony to this effect, purportedly given by a former Polish Army officer, was disclosed to a news conference by the American congressional committee investigating the wartime massacre. The committee has completed four days of closed hearings in London. The son quoted was Jacob Stalin (or Djughashvili), elder son of the Soviet boss. Jacob has been missing since 1941, when he was captured by the Germans while serving as a senior lieutenant in the Soviet Army. The witness, testifying under oath, was George Lewszcki. Lewszcki said he met Jacob in Luebeck Prison Camp, L. Northeast Germany. Lewszcki testified he asked Stalin about the Katyn Forest Massacre after receiving letters blaming it on the Russians. According to Lewszcki, Stalin said the reports were "probably correct," that he had heard in Russia of the "extermination of intellectuals in one camp near Smolensk after there had been an uprising in camp."

Stalin was rumored to have offered a huge reward for information as to the whereabouts of Jacob, his eldest son by his first marriage, but his whereabouts remain a mystery and there have been reports he died at Luebeck.

House Prober Says Some Vets' Homes Tomorrow's Slums

CORPUS CHRISTI —(P)— A member of the House subcommittee investigating complaints of defective GI-home construction described some new homes of veterans here as "the slums of tomorrow." Rep. Albert M. Cole (R-Kan.) made the comment after the group inspected a number of houses completed in a hearing Friday. The subcommittee moved to New Orleans Saturday for a similar hearing. During the hearing here Cole observed that the Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Authority have not given the consideration they should to complaints of poor construction. "I do not mean that loans should not have been made after a complaint was received," he said, "but I have a feeling that the attention they should have been given the complaints was not given." He described his tour of a group of houses here as "inspiring—or discouraging—to go there and see the slums of tomorrow."

West Texas Rains Build Up Demand For Stocker Cattle

FORT WORTH —(P)— Rains last week improved pastures in some areas of West Texas to such an extent there was revived demand for stocker cattle and calves and prices ranged 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds higher at the Fort Worth Stockyards. Especially in demand were thin and lightweight stockers with some quality. A few extreme lightweights calves moved at prices from $40 to $50 a hundred pounds, but those of normal weights grading good and choice went for $32 to $38. Prices ranging from $24 to $35 were paid on stocker steer yearlings.

Shivers Wins Victory In Battle Against Loyalty Pledge In Precinct Conventions

NEW BRAUNFELS —(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers' plan to use Texas' 52 Democratic convention votes as a tool to help the South remodel the national party had new strength Saturday.

It had the overwhelming approval of the State Democratic Executive Committee, which rolled powerfully over a minority of loudly protesting "Loyal Democrats" here Friday.

They shouted that the committee's action opening precinct conventions to "any qualified voter" was aimed at destroying the loyalty principle on which the party's unit depends. They contended it was not legal either under state or party law, and promised to carry their battle to the precinct, county, state and national conventions.

The "Loyal Democrats" organized to make sure the organization in Texas stays hitched to the national party, already have worked out a pattern of walk-outs on Texas conventions that don't insist on the loyalty pledge.

Walter G. Hall of Dickinson, their chairman, said the action of the executive committee means that the Texas party organization now is "in the hands of the Dixiecrats."

"Any Qualified Voter"

The state's new election code says "any qualified voter" may take part in precinct conventions. A subcommittee named to study the new law reported that those words mean just what they say and the executive committee has no power to add anything. The subcommittee recommended that the precinct and county conventions may or not require the loyalty pledge after they are organized but not before.

The whole executive committee agreed to this with a rousing vote and the "Loyalists" yelled their noes. But there weren't enough noes to win.

Shivers said the committee is fighting for restoration of basic Democratic principles, those of Jefferson and Jackson. He said he is fighting "creeping socialism" that threatens to engulf the national party, and to combat such ideas as compulsory FEPC "or any similar hate-breeding and trouble-making legislation."

Shivers said he wants Texas and the South to have a louder voice in national party affairs, that he is battling for state title to the Tideland, and for a "reformed and revitalized" national Democratic Party.

To get that, he said, Texas should send its delegates uninducted to Chicago and not pledge all-out loyalty in advance. If the convention then does not make concessions, he wants a referendum here to shape the party's future action this presidential election year.

The Loyalists, led by John Coker of Austin and Hall, protested that there is no separating the state Democratic Party and the national party, that they can not be differentiated. Coker said he would agree with everything Shivers said, except that he didn't want anything done that would open the party's ranks to Republicans, Socialists and members of other parties.

Coker said Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers wanted to come into Texas conventions, and back a weak candidate so Eisenhower could win. Hard-Hitting Speech Shivers in his hard-hitting speech, urged "uncertain and faltering" Texas Democrats to return to the fold.

"Neither an impotent and warring Texas Republican Party nor a national Republican Party—historically a stranger to our state, its people, and their needs—is the way for Texas," the governor said.

Coker told the committee it was under instructions, never rescinded, by the last two state conventions to impose the party pledge.

There was some speculation the "Loyalists" planned a lawsuit to force the executive committee to follow such instructions, but it could not be confirmed. Several Loyalists said they believed their best way to fight now would be through the precinct conventions.

The committee adopted a resolution calling for a presidential preference primary in Texas, and for direct election of presidential electors at those primaries.

It was offered by Hall, but met no objection, either in the resolutions subcommittee or on the floor.

Scores In Midland Area See New Elks Clubrooms

Scores of Midland and area residents visited the new and elaborate clubrooms of the Midland Elks Lodge in the Leggett Building annex during its formal opening Saturday afternoon and night.

Open house hours were observed from 2 to 6 p.m., followed by a Grand Opening Dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Both events were well attended.

Lodge officials, headed by R. F. Rood, and members of a special hostess committee received the guests and escorted them through the clubrooms. Refreshments were served during the open house hours.

Many of the visitors marveled at the splendor and beauty of the furnishings and decorations of the well-arranged quarters, which include a lounge, ladies powder room, dining room, kitchen, clubroom and lodge room.

The quarters are furnished from front to back in Ranch Oak furniture, the pieces including sofas, chairs, tables, end tables, dining tables, lamps and picture frames. The walls are done in complimentary colors of rose and green, with matching draperies.

The interior decorating was planned and accomplished by the Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

A loud speaking system extends through the lodge rooms.

Lee Powers and his orchestra furnished music for the Saturday night dancing.

Members of the Hostess Committee at the Saturday afternoon function included Mrs. Red Leonard, Mrs. Jim Flanagan, Mrs. Eddie Flanagan, Mrs. Jack Petosky, Mrs. Jerry Dunham, Mrs. Billy Moore, Mrs. R. F. Rood, Mrs. James Grimes, Mrs. Jack Mogie, Mrs. Phil Hayes,

QUICK, DOCTOR, THE PENICILLIN

FORT WORTH —(AP)—Dr. J. Shirley Sweeney of Gainesville used a joke to describe what he called "indiscriminate use of antibiotics" to the Texas Dietetic Association.

He told of the doctor who, after running through the list of antibiotics he had used on a patient with no success, finally said: "I believe I'll examine the patient."

"Apparently the only indication needed for using an anti-biotic today is for somebody to have a fever," Dr. Sweeney told the dietitians Friday. "This is a terrible commentary on our medical profession."

Patrol, Police Help Rush Mother To Son

McKINNEY —(AP)—The Oklahoma Highway Patrol and Tulsa police helped rush a mother to the bedside of her critically ill son in a McKinney hospital.

Three Oklahoma troopers sped Mrs. Ida Farchau from her home in Tonkawa, Okla., the 110 miles to the Tulsa Airport Friday after she received word of her son's illness. Meanwhile Tulsa officers held up a plane due to leave at 3:30 p.m. until she arrived at 3:13 p.m.

Officials at the Army General Hospital in McKinney reported Friday night she was at the bedside of her son.

San Jacinto Story Involves 'Twin Sisters,' Iron Cannon

HOUSTON —(AP)—The cold hand of history, dealer in finely sifted facts, may not embrace this story in its full-bodied essence.

This San Jacinto Day tale hangs on the twin sisters, two iron cannons; the origin of their name; their disappearance; and a $500 reward for their recovery still exists.

What Texas doesn't know about San Houston's daylight attack on Santa Anna on April 21, 1837?

To the strains of "Won't you come to the Bower?" and the pounding fury of the twin sisters, the Texans swapped down at siesta time on the frijole-stuffed Mexican Army.

The importance of the twin sisters never has been minimized since their noble service on the ringing battlefield.

Now a man named C. S. Mitchell of La Ward, Texas, tells how the sobriquet, "Twin sisters," was tacked on the two non-famous six-pounders.

History accepts that the cannon were a gift from the citizens of Cincinnati to the Republic of Texas. Termed Coincidence

Mitchell relates that when the cannon were shipped south "it was by pure coincidence" that a Dr. Charles W. Rice and family, including his two little twin daughters, rode on the same Texas-bound coach from Cincinnati.

The two cannon and the Rices arrived together somewhere in Texas in 1836. The twins, Mitchell says, made a little speech in presenting the guns of Texas. Thus the name.

"This is a fact," Mitchell relates. "Because one of those little girls, Elizabeth, was to become my maternal grandmother."

What was the fate of the twin sisters after their contribution in shaping the destiny of an infant republic?

Mitchell will pardon this interruption of his story.

History says the two cannon were sold for scrap iron. Some 25 years later they were discovered in a New Orleans junk yard.

State Heritage

There the rust-chewed cannon were recognized as a parcel of a new state's heritage. On March 4, 1861, the guns, buffed to a gloss, returned to Texas. Each bore this inscription:

"This gun used with terrible effect at the Battle of San Jacinto, presented to the State of Texas by the State of Louisiana." The twin sisters arrived at a railway depot in Houston. History concedes, also, that they were forgotten during the turmoil of the Civil War.

The general theory is that the cannon were dismantled and sold for scrap a second time.

Now it's Mitchell's turn to interrupt. He feels that the two cannon still are somewhere in Houston. He bases his claim on a now yellowed letter he received in 1909 from a Dr. H. M. Graves, a Confederate veteran.

Recognize Sisters

Graves claimed he and several other returning rebel soldiers recognized the twin sisters at the depot in Houston.

"We rolled the guns off some distance, burned the woodwork and threw the iron work into a bayou," Graves wrote Mitchell. "We did this to insure that the guns would forever remain in Texas where they belonged. We took an oath, swearing secrecy, to prevent the guns from falling in Yankee hands."

What bayou? Mitchell narrows the search down to either Bray's or

Carbide Explosion Brings Eye Burns For Midland Trio

Three young Midland boys received painful burns about their eyes Friday night after an episode of playing with matches and carbide.

Dean Breeding, eight, and Charles Breeding, 10, both of 2100 Garden City Highway, and Wesley Waldro, eight, of 3000-Garden City Highway, late Friday night found some pieces of carbide and attempted burning it with matches. The carbide exploded in their faces. All three boys were taken to the Midland Memorial Hospital for treatment.

After being treated for temporary blindness and burns in and about their eyes, the youngsters were returned to their homes.

MAKES NEWS, THEN WRITES

CARDIFF, WALES —(AP)—Harry Keyson, an 18-year-old newspaper reporter, was always first to write about thefts from houses in his neighborhood.

When rival reporters asked how he managed to beat them every time, Harry said, "I robbed the places myself."

He had, too.

Cardiff Magistrates Court sentenced him to two years' probation Friday after testimony he had given back all the loot from 13 robberies.

Change Of Russian Policy Viewed If Eisenhower Elected

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Election of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as President would force a change of Russian policy or compel an entire change of Red leadership, former ECA Administrator Paul O. Hoffman said Friday night.

Hoffman, head of the Ford Foundation, told an Eisenhower-for-President rally that "the Russian leaders fear and respect him (Eisenhower). The people of the free world respect him and hold him in deep affection."

The best way to end the cold war, Hoffman said, is to wage peace so vigorously, with such imagination and boldness that we can create conditions within Russia and her satellite nations, and with free nations—particularly the United States—which will in time result in acceptance by leaders of Russia of a live-and-let-live philosophy.

CHEAP ROSES GROW COSTLY

BRADY—Prospects of roses for a student banquet at Abilene Christian College Saturday night looked a bit dim to six ACC students Saturday morning. The six came to Brady Friday night and picked every rose from the State Highway Department's rose garden here. The law caught them—with a No. 3 wash tub full of roses.

They spent the night in city jail. Saturday morning, City Marshal Tommy Clay decorated their breakfast plates with pink roses. Then each pleaded guilty to charges of disturbing the peace, paid a $10 fine and went free.

Midland Scouts Capture Share Of Roundup Honors

Midland Boy Scouts returned Saturday from the twenty-sixth annual Big Spring Roundup with more than their share of honors. The Midlanders won first, second and third places in five of nine events. A total of 922 Scouts from the 17-county Buffalo Trail Council attended the roundup along with 87 leaders. They included 47 different troops with eight from Midland. One hundred ten Scouts and 16 leaders made up the Midland delegation.

Kefauver Leader Raps Shivers Stand On Loyalty Pledge

FORT WORTH—The state campaign manager for Senator Estes Kefauver, Democratic presidential hopeful, Saturday took a poke at Gov. Allan Shivers' stand on the party loyalty oath question. E. O. Gilliam of Fort Worth issued a written statement criticizing Shivers' speech Friday at the State Democratic Executive Committee meeting in New Braunfels. Shivers had called for the National Democratic Convention in Chicago.

Gilliam urged Kefauver supporters to snub any convention not requiring a party loyalty pledge.

Top Brass Has Tough Decision In Choosing Ike's Successor

WASHINGTON—Top military leaders are finding the decision on a successor to General Dwight D. Eisenhower extraordinarily difficult—except though they are reported to feel Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway is the man for the job. Officials Saturday said one of the complications in making a final decision is the fact that Korean truce negotiations are in a very critical phase. No one can tell whether Ridgway a few weeks hence will be conducting a limited war, continuing peace talks or managing the United Nations' side of an armistice.

Another difficulty is the fact that General Eisenhower's present chief of staff, in the North Atlantic Alliance Command in Europe, Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has powerful supporters as Eisenhower's successor. These supporters include Eisenhower himself, members of Congress and men in the Pentagon. A third factor is that 13 other nations have a voice in the decision and they have not yet been heard from officially. They are America's Allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, all of whom Eisenhower has served as commander of American and NATO forces in Europe.

Eisenhower is due home by June 1, a few weeks before his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination reaches its climax in that party's national convention. The best information indicates that the joint chiefs of staff concluded a week or more ago that Ridgway should be given the NATO assignment when Eisenhower puts it aside. Their determination, however, does not stand as a final decision because of the uncertain factors which might affect the situation before action could be taken. Anyway, informed officials pointed out that the JCS opinion, if and when made formally, would have to go to Secretary of Defense Lovett and, with his okay, to President Truman, who would make the final determination.

The state department expects the NATO countries will be heard from about April 28. There is to be a meeting of NATO representatives in Paris at that time and the organization's secretary, Lord Ismay of Britain, is responsible for placing before the nations a notice that armistice probable according to some estimates and with Japanese occupation due to end April 28, the military leaders would like to have an important post to transfer the general to in the near future. It does not want to leave him in Japan exercising far more restricted authority than he has had during the time that he commanded the UN fighting force and the Japanese occupation.

There has been no official explanation of why the military chiefs prefer Ridgway over Gruenther. But indications have been that if normal army procedure is followed that is the way the assignment would go. Both men have excellent records but Gruenther lacks Ridgway's command experience.

Members of the Communist Party, banned in South Africa, are actively supporting the campaign for mass disobedience, but they do not dominate it. There are but three known former Communists among the 20 leaders of the negro, Indian, and colored (mixed blood) organizations. Angry parliamentary debate seemed to dispel rumors that moderates in Malan's Nationalist Party and the opposition United Party were hunting a compromise. No compromise. There is no room for compromise whatsoever, cried United Party Leader J. G. N. Strauss in Parliament. He demanded new general elections.

Both are designed as inter-continental bombers considerably faster than the B-36 which has a speed of more than 435 miles per hour. The Air Force has announced the B-52 can be refueled in flight, thus, presumably, it has a bomb load range of 10,000 miles, equivalent to that of the B-36.

Both the B-52 and the B-60 have eight J-37 Pratt and Whitney turbojet engines. The B-52, and the elaboration of the six-jet B-47, is in production. The Air Force has not announced its production plans concerning the B-60.

PEARL'S NEW BOSS—Rear Admiral Stuart B. Murray, USN, Atlantic Submarine Force commander since June, 1950, will soon be appointed Commandant of the 14th Naval District at Pearl Harbor, according to an announcement made at New London, Conn. He will replace Rear Admiral Charles H. McMorris in the command. Successor to Murray's present post will be Admiral George C. Crawford, now commander of the Norfolk, Va., Naval Base.

Cripps Siad Seriously Ill

ZURICH, SWITZERLAND—Sir Stafford Cripps, former chancellor of the British Exchequer, was reported in "extremely serious condition" Saturday at the clinic where he is under treatment for a spine infection.

Dr. Dagmar Leicht, head of the Living Strength Clinic here, reported the deterioration in Cripps' condition in a surprise communication Saturday night. "His heart and circulation are beginning to feel the strain as the disease spreads to various parts of the body. Any further changes in the patient's condition will be reported."

Duke Of Edinburgh Plans 'Upheaval' In Palace System

LONDON—The Duke of Edinburgh plans a "palace upheaval" to reform a servant caste system in Buckingham Palace and cut costs and red tape of royal court life, the Sunday Pictorial said Saturday.

'Fear Of Flying' Used As Excuse, AF Officials Say

EL PASO—Air Force officials say Lt. Verne Goodwin, 29, given a two-year prison sentence for refusing to fly, used "fear of flying" as an excuse for not making a flight to England. Relatives have said the lieutenant refused to go as co-pilot on the overseas flight because he feared his 26-year-old wife would lose their expected baby if he made the December flight.

Duke Of Edinburgh Plans 'Upheaval' In Palace System

The mass-circulation London tabloid said Queen Elizabeth welcomes her husband's "tactful" reforms on the reforms. "He wants to bring her closer to her people," the pictorial said. The story indicated, as some have suspected, that the Mountbatten influence will be felt considerably in the reign of Elizabeth II.

Jet Ace Amazed At Reserve Pilots' Stay-Down Strike

HOUSTON—The ninth U. S. jet airplane ace said Saturday he "just can't see why a pilot wouldn't want to fly." First Lt. Robert Moore, 27, who shot down five Red jets in Korea, commented on stay-down strikes of some recalled Air Force fliers. "We had a lot of recalled reservists in our outfit and they are doing one helluva job," he said. "As for a pilot who refused to fly—I... well just can't see it."

Intent To Rape Charges Lodged Against Worker

A 30-year-old roughneck whose home is at Shawnee, Okla., was being questioned by city police Saturday after two Midland women filed a complaint against him in County Court on a charge of breaking and entering with intent to rape. Police arrested the suspect only minutes after the women called about 11:30 p.m. Friday to report a man had forced his way into their house and "ordered them to undress."

Ex-Demos Invited To Take Part In GOP Conventions

By DAVE CHEAVENS Associated Press Staff

Former Democrats who are sick and tired of the current national government were given a jolly invitation Saturday to take part in Republican precinct conventions May 2.

Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, chairman of the GOP Executive Committee, reminded them the Republicans have adopted their own version of a party loyalty statement which simply says: "I am a Republican and desire to participate in Republican Party activities in the year 1952."

Zweifel said unhappy Democrats who are willing to go that far this year in protesting "high taxes, wanton waste and corruption in high officialdom" are not only invited, but they are welcome this year. Zweifel's bid came after Texas Democrats once more when through the process of falling out with each other, this time on the question of party loyalty. The State Executive Committee said Friday precinct conventions may or may not require the pledge after they have organized and by majority vote. Sharply Challenged

This point was sharply challenged by the "Loyal Democrats" who said they would carry their battle for insistence on an iron-clad pledge right on through the precinct, county, state and national conventions. The prospect is they will cut loose and hold their own conventions if the loyalty pledge is not taken. The executive committee's action came after Gov. Allan Shivers ripped into the Loyalists with a sharp-

Records Fall As Olympic Fight Develops In Relays

LAWRENCE, KAN.—(AP)—Four records were broken and another tied as Olympic-conscious triathletes matched spikes in the 27th annual Kansas Relays Saturday.

New records in the baton events went to host Kansas in the four-mile relay and Oklahoma in the one-mile relay. Texas University tied the 880-yard relay mark. A crowd of more than 9,000 watched some 600 athletes compete on cinders left wet and heavy by Friday's rain.

Lee Yoder of Arkansas cracked the 400 meter hurdles mark in 52.5 seconds after Kansas' Bob Devinney had altered the old mark at 52.8 in the preliminaries.

Jim Gerhart, former Rice star now attending graduate school at the University of Texas, posted a new standard for the hop, step and jump at 47 feet, 2 inches.

Kansas' great four mile team failed by 2.5 seconds of equalling the American record of 17 minutes, 16.1 seconds set by Indiana in 1937, but managed to break its own relays mark in 17:18.3. The Jayhawks set the previous record of 17:54.3 two years ago.

Oklahoma's Harry Lee, Quannah Cox, Charles Coleman and J. W. Mashburn ran the mile relay in 3:14.8 to better the old record of 3:15 by Rice in 1950.

Texas, with Dean Smith, Carl Mayes, Jim Brownhill and Charles Thomas carrying the stick, was clocked at a record-equalling 1:39.3 in the university 880 relay mark.

Defending champions had their ups and downs. Darrow Hooper, Texas A&M, defended both his shotput and discus titles. Hooper put the shot 59 feet 9 inches and took the discus—throw at 192 feet 8 1/4 inches.

Thane Baker of Kansas State repeated in the 100-yard dash, upsetting Dean Smith of Texas in the fast time of 9.5 seconds.

Indian Game Rained Out; No Tilt Set Until Monday Night

Drizzling rains up to 8 p.m. Saturday night have helped area ranchers and farmers, but it did cancel the scheduled Midland-Odessa exhibition game.

Business Manager Horace Busby and Field Pilot Zeke Bonura called the whole thing off at 7:13 p.m. when the playing field became wet and stands were moisture-covered.

No game is scheduled Sunday either, since all umpires will be attending a meeting in Abilene to hear instructions from Hal Staley, loop proxy.

So Midland's Indians see no more action until 8 p.m. Monday, when they square off with the Odessa Oilers here to open the official Longhorn League season.

Boston Red Sox Hand Athletics Double Defeat, 11-2, 6-1

BOSTON—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox celebrated Patriot's Day with a four-run first inning and Lefty Maury McDermott's seven-hit pitching for a 6-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the afternoon game after taking the morning contest 11-2.

The win gave the Red Sox a three game sweep over the A's and a four game winning streak.

The A's pitcher, Morris Martin settled down and pitched six-hit ball over the next six innings, allowing a single run in the fourth and Ted Lepore's homer in the sixth, but the A's were shackled by McDermott, who fanned six while walking two.

A single by Gus Zernial, a walk and Pete Suder's double to right gave the Athletics their only marker in the seventh.

In the morning game the Red Sox produced a big seven-run fourth inning, featured by Lenhardt's inside-the-park grand-slammer and Harry Taylor's seven hit pitching to curb the A's despite Joe Tipton's first homer of the season.

Wehmeier, Reds Lick Pirates By 9-3 Count

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Big Herm Wehmeier, aided by three Cincinnati home runs, pitched the Reds to a 9-3 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

Wehmeier, 200-pound right-hander, gave up eight hits, one of them a round tripper by Buc Second Baseman Jack Kerson in the second inning. The Reds collected 13 hits. Graddy Hatton and Bobby Adams belted successive home runs for the Reds in the first inning off starter Mel Queen. Andy Seminick got his second homer of the season in the fifth.

In the second inning, the Reds chased Queen and reliever Eddie Wolfe to score five more runs on two walks, a hit batsman, an error and three hits.

The Reds added single tallies in the fifth and eighth innings, bringing over the runs on two hits each time.

Wehmeier was in trouble only once. That was in the eighth inning. Ted Beard opened the inning with a triple and Ralph Kinner singled him home. Then Joe Garagiola doubled, sending Kinner to third. Wehmeier walked Merson to fill the bases but Glenn Kosierek popped up.

Gehrmann Is Top Indoor Track Man

NEW YORK—(AP)—Doc Gehrmann, America's premier miler, was voted the outstanding indoor track athlete of 1952 by the New York Track Writers Association.

At the same time the writers honored Peter L. Waters of Woodside, N. Y. former Manhattan College coach, for his long-time service to track and field. Trophies will be presented later.

America's best miler, Gehrmann bettered the world indoor record for the 1,000-yard dash when he ran the distance in 2:05.3 in the national AAU championships. The ex-Wisconsin star later ran the 880 in 1:51 in the Olympic Carnival at Madison Square Garden for an all-time half-mile mark on an 11-lap track.

Cubs Pound Out 8-1 Victory Over Cards; Lown Gets Four-Hitter

CHICAGO—(AP)—Omar (Turk) Lown made his 1952 pitching debut a sharp four-hitter and Hank Sauer and Frankie Baumholtz homered across five runs as the Chicago Cubs beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1, Saturday.

The second place Cubs, winning their third game in four starts, joined three Cardinal pitchers for 10 hits.

Lown, a four-game winner last season, yielded an eight-inning Cardinal run or a walk, Red Schoendienst's double to left and a long fly by Stan Musial.

The smooth-working Cub right-hander allowed only one hit the first five innings, a weak double by Del Rice in the third.

Sauer smashed a three-run homer in the first inning which sealed the doom of Cardinal starter George Munger.

Munger still was around when Baumholtz, who hit only two homers all last season, drilled a circuit wallop over the right field screen with one aboard in a three-run Cub fifth. Just before, Bob Ramazotti tripled and scored on Dee Fondy's single.

The fifth inning uprising finished Munger, who gave up seven hits. He was followed by Willard Schmidt and Fred Hahn who started the seventh. An error, walk and singles by Fondy and Ransom Jackson gave the Cubs two unearned runs in the seventh.

Kermit, Odessa High Netters Sweep To Regional Victories

LUBBOCK—Odessa and Kermit made a shambles of the regional tennis tournament here Saturday, as netters tried for positions in the state meet.

The Odessa boys sewed up Class AA singles and doubles honors, while Kermit swept the A and B Division.

Chuck Williams, Odessa, took Fred Farmer of Plainview, 6-4, 6-1, 1-6, 6-0, for singles honors while Mack Baine and Roy Hill of the same city swept David Kent and Bob Kerr, Amarillo, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.

Bob Speers of Kermit whipped Dean Weese of Higgins, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, for the singles title in the A and B class. Speers then teamed with Charles Williams to romp over the Brewer-Sherrod duo of Phillips, 6-0, 6-3, 6-0.

White Sox Tumble St. Louis Brownies

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The sky-rocketing St. Louis Browns finally tumbled back to earth Saturday as veteran Joe Dobson and the Chicago White Sox doused the Browns' winning streak at four to win, 8-3.

The defeat pushed the Browns out of their first place tie with Cleveland and dropped them to second.

By way of contrast to the surprising record run up by the Browns thus far, Saturday's victory was the first for the White Sox. And the credit went to Dobson, with special mention to Eddie Robinson's home run and two-run singles by Nelson Fox and Chico Carrasquel.

Entering the game with the bases loaded and only one out in the second inning, Dobson retired the side without allowing a run.

Then he went on to give up one run while permitting just four hits the rest of the way.

Dobson was the third Chicago pitcher, relieving Lou Kretlow—who pitched over for starter Saul Rogovin who gave up two of the St. Louis scores in their big second.

The Browns never did bring in a pitcher that matched Dobson. Rookie John Hetki started, but by the time he was pulled for a pinch hitter in the fourth he already was charged with the defeat as the Browns trailed, 5-3.

Gene Bearden walked in to do the pitching in the fifth and promptly walked Robinson. Walking seemed to be the style for Bearden. He walked Hec Rodriguez after Sherrin Lollar beat out a slow roller to fill the bases and then Carrasquel delivered his two-run single.

Lou Sleater came in to pitch at that point and retired the side, but only after jamming the bases again.

The Browns slugged their way out of their losing depression early, bringing home three runs in the second as Robinson smacked his first 1952 home run and the Browns obliged with a two-run error. The bobble came with two-out as Rodriguez singled and galloped all the way around behind Jim Busby as the ball rolled through the legs of Rightfielder George Schmees.

The Browns put up their runs in the second and third, scoring the first two on a bases loaded single by Catcher Clint Courtney.

The score:

Chicago	032	030	000-8 10 1
St. Louis	021	000	000-3 7 2

Dodgers Hit Five Homers; Thump Giants

BROOKLYN — (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants staged a home run spree Saturday with the powerful, still undefeated Dodgers winning the slugger duel and also the ball game, 11-6, before 21,301 fans.

Brooklyn exploded for five home runs, a club record, and the Giants smashed four. The nine homers fell two shy of the major league record for most home runs in one game. The mark of 11 was set last year on June 23 by the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers.

The Dodgers, winning their fifth straight game, also tied a major league record when Roy Campanella, Andy Pafko and Duke Snider hammered successive home runs in the seventh inning. This feat, the 27th since 1890, marked the first time it had been performed by a Brooklyn club.

Pafko also homered in the second inning, boosting his output for the season to five.

Carl Furillo accounted for the other Brooklyn homer, a grand slam poke in the fourth inning. Whitey Lockman ejected two homers for the Giants and Willie Mays and West Westrum accounted for the others.

Max Lauer, veteran import from the St. Louis Cardinals, bore the brunt of the vicious Dodger assault. Lauer, a former Dodger killer, was tagged for four of the Dodger home runs. Rookie George Bamberg gave up the other.

Ralph Branca went all the way for the Dodgers.

KING'S ROW

After the Midland Indians had appeared here Friday night before the home folks for the first time this season, we managed to get around and question some of the fans about the club.

Just what, we asked, did they like or not like about the team?

We expected to hear much complaining, as baseball fans pay 40 per cent to see the game and 60 per cent to complain, but surprisingly enough we didn't get too many dissenting votes.

Most of the fans were extremely enthusiastic about the glove work turned in at first base by rookie Tito Santeigo.

"He's as good with that glove as anyone I've seen in the Texas League," gushed one fan.

We didn't ask how many Texas Leaguers the fan has seen, but this indeed is high praise.

Santeigo particularly pleased the fans once by taking a hard toss from Catcher Bill Brown, while flat on his back. He managed to keep a toe hooked on the base, however, for the put-out.

Brown made a good recovery to throw down to first after a third strike, had caromed away from him.

Other items the fans liked were the three double plays Midland turned in and the slick work of Second Baseman Billy Crumley and Third Baseman Woody Pennington.

One fan in particular cited Bobby Gordon, rookie right fielder, for the way he cuts at the ball. Young Bob slammed out a pair of hits.

When the Indians had that third-run called back in the fifth inning and Eddie Jacobs was declared out at third, it was because he failed to touch the third sack on the way home.

Had this run been allowed, two more might have crossed that inning also. Runners were at second and third with two outs.

We still need apartments for Indian players. If you have anything, call us at The Reporter-Telegram or contact Business Manager Horace Busby.

Busby, by the way, tells us tickets for the opening night game will be on sale Monday in the lobby of Hotel Schaubauer.

Hayden White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester White of Post Worth, attended the Friday and Saturday night games here.

The senior White once played semi-pro ball at Paris with C. E. (Oke) Johnson, press foreman of The Reporter-Telegram.

11,000 To See Openers Longhorn Teams Are Lined Up

ABILENE — (AP) — With prospects of the best balanced race in the circuit's six-year history, the Class C Longhorn League opens a new 140-game campaign Monday night.

Approximately 11,000 fans are expected to turn out for openers at Big Spring, Sweetwater, Roswell and Midland.

League President Hal Sayles says every club in the loop appears to be stronger now than this time last year.

Holdovers are Pat Stasey at Big Spring, Al Monchak at Roswell, Pepper Martin at Odessa and Zeke Bonura at Midland.

Here's how they will line up for the openers Monday night:

Odessa at Midland: Evelio Ortega (20-8) vs. Keith Nicolls (13-2). Estimated attendance: 3,000.

San Angelo at Big Spring: Lew Lozano (20-7) vs. Gil Guerra. Estimated attendance: 1,800.

Vernon at Sweetwater: Audie Malone (1-8) vs. Jesse Torres (10-17). Estimated attendance: 2,500.

Artesia at Roswell: Ray Riley (11-14) vs. Robert Weaver (14-6). Estimated attendance: 2,500.

Thursday night, Big Spring will go to San Angelo, Midland to Odessa and Roswell to Artesia for a new set of openers. Vernon will remain in Sweetwater Tuesday night and open at home Wednesday night with the Braves.

Midland, San Angelo, Big Spring and Roswell are the popular choices for first division berths.

Lawson Little, Skee Riegel Bring Field In Colonial To 34

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Lawson Little and Skee Riegel entered the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament Saturday, bringing the field to 34.

Little and Riegel, who entered professional golf after winning the National Amateur championship, will join a Colonial field that already includes two former National Amateur kings—Billy Maxwell, the winner last year, and Charles Coe, the titlist in 1949.

Maxwell, of North Texas State College, and Coe, of Oklahoma City are the only amateurs thus far in the Colonial Tournament which is scheduled for May 21-25.

Little has played in all six previous Colonial Tournaments. Riegel appeared here for the first time last year.

The Colonial field now is made up of the following:

Tribe Cops Fifth Game Without Loss

CLEVELAND — (AP) — With a 12-hit attack that included home runs by Larry Doby and Luke Easter, the Cleveland Indians annexed their fifth straight victory Sunday by whipping the Detroit Tigers, 7-5, before 11,829.

The Tigers, beaten for the fifth straight time, chased Starter Early Wynn in a three-run rally in the seventh, but were stopped by relievers Lou Brusse and Mike Garcia. Wynn got credit for the victory.

The Indians scored five runs in less than three full innings against Virgil Trucks, who made his first start of the year and was charged with the loss. He was removed soon after Doby and Easter hit homers on successive pitches. Vic Wertz had homered for Detroit the inning before.

Harry Simpson, who singled three times for the Indians, scored what proved to be the winning run in the sixth after going from first to third on a sacrifice by Bob Avila. Doby's long fly to right brought him in.

STAN HOLLIM'G GOES TO MINORS

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced Saturday they have optioned Texan Outfielder Stan Hollimig, 23, to Schenectady in the Eastern League effective immediately. Hollimig has been with the National League Phillies for the last three years.

Braves Rally Late, Whip Philadelphia Phillies By 9-7 Tally

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — For the second straight day, the Boston Braves rallied in the ninth inning to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday. The Braves strung together three singles and a sacrifice to outslug the hometown National Leaguers, 9-7, before 9,466 at Shibe Park.

It was a slugfest practically from the start, punctuated by four Boston errors. Each team used four pitchers with Bert Thiel, who retired for a pinch-hitter in the rally-winning ninth, getting credit for his first 1952 triumph.

Andy Hansen, who had relieved another reliever, Ken Heintzelman in the eighth when the Braves scored three runs, was the victim of the decisive three-run Boston splash.

The Boston cause was championed by Sam Jethroe, who homered with one on base and Ed Matthews who pummeled one over the right field wall with two aboard. These homers, plus the ninth inning's tallies, were enough to clinch the victory.

The score:

City Bowling Tourney Now Underway At Plamor Lanes

Play got underway Saturday night in the Men's City Bowling Championship Tournament at Plamor Lanes, with five-man team action starting.

The tourney resumes at 2 p.m. Sunday with double teams seeing action. Singles events begin at 3 p.m., more double bowling comes at 6 p.m. and another round of singles events at 7 p.m. rounds out the first weekend of action.

April 26 and 27, the tourney continues at the same site.

Officials Saturday said the Saturday night and Sunday results would not be available until Monday.

Prize money goes to the top bowlers, along with trophies and money to the outright winners.

These teams entered the Saturday five-man team action: Hotel Scharbauer, Willig Engineering Company, Muldrow Reproduction, Phillips Petroleum, Speed's Paint & Body Shop, Nelson Cigarette Agency, Eagles Club and Banner Dairies.

22 Out For Humble Softball Outfit

A 22-man squad has been working out with the Humble Oil softball team, preparing for play in the City-Major league here this Summer.

The team is managed by Charles Mason. Leland Huffman is assistant manager.

Gene Ashmore's Humble Service Station and the Humble Club will sponsor the team.

Infield candidates are Forest Spry, Max Walthall, Menta Wallace, George Bailey, Kenneth Bounds, Vaughn Young, Joe Wirshing, Wendell Westfield, J. A. Blackwell, Bill Groseclose and Huffman.

Outfield hopefuls are Neal Walker, Al Kelly, Jack Strickland, Herman Burnett, Reese Smith, E. W. Purdy, and Jim Saucum.

Third Mason and Manager Charles Mason are the catchers with lefty Barney Hightower and John O'Donohue to share pitching duties.

Indians Romp Past Big Spring, 9 To 4

Take away the seventh inning and Midland's Indians turned in a pleasing performance Friday night in their first home exhibition appearance.

Even so, a five-run outburst in the bottom-eighth by the Indians gave them a 9 to 4 victory over the Big Spring Broncs and sent 1,000 Midland fans home happy.

Bill Crumley highlighted the eighth inning outburst, slamming out a two-run single to break a 4-4 tie. Crumley, in fact, was the big stick all night. The smooth-fielding second sacker blasted out three hits—one a double—and drove in four runs for the night.

Veteran Eddie Jacome hurried the win, blanking the Broncs except for the seventh inning when they got to him for three of their nine hits. These bingles, coupled with an error and a questionable bit of infield play when an Indian failed to cover a base, gave the Broncs a 4-4 tie.

Midland had led 4-0, scoring two runs each in the fifth and sixth innings. In the fifth, they got five hits and a walk, only scoring two runs. Jacome was the third out, although he had crossed home plate. He failed to touch third and was out there by the umpire's decision.

Catcher Bill Brown, Crumley, Woody Pennington, Jacome and Rightfielder Bobby Gordon slammed out the hits. In the sixth, Crumley brought in two runs with a double.

Big Spring then tied up in the seventh, but the five-run outburst

46 Out For Football Drills At Kermit High

KERMIT—A squad of 46 Yellow Jackets reported last week to Coach Neil Dillman at Kermit High School started its grid drill.

Eight lettermen return from the team which won the bi-district championship in 1951.

The Jackets have top backs returning in Don Handlin, Bobby Almond, James Schlosser, Benny Carr and Don Hixson.

Keith Wharton, Frank Briggs, James Burns and James Bolf return to the line.

Red, White Squad Members Tie In Texas Tech Game

ODESSA—Red and White Texas Tech gridgers tied 21-21 in an intra-squad game here Friday night, witnessed by 2,000 fans.

The Reds tallied two touchdowns late in the final quarter, after trailing 21 to 7.

Halfback Jim Turner of Oiney scored all three White touchdowns, going two yards in the first quarter, one yard in the second and two yards in the fourth. Guard Paul Whitaker kicked three extra points for the Whites.

Fullback Sandy Welton smashed one yard in the second to score for the Reds following a 73-yard drive. John Moughan kicked all three points for his Red team.

Midway in the fourth stanza, Welton scored from the two-yard line. With only seconds to go, and trailing 21 to 14, the Reds took to the air to earn a tie. The score came on a 66-yard pass play from Quarterback Jerry Johnson to End Dean White.

Rick Spinks, former Kermit High School star, carried the ball five times for the Reds and gained a total of 56 yards.

Midland and Odessa Kiwanis Clubs sponsored the tie. All proceeds went to needy children.

BOWLING

Phillips 66 and Plymouth Oil remained deadlocked for the top spot in the Petroleum Bowling League after action last week.

Phillips defeated Union Oil, 3-0, while Plymouth took Seaboard Oil by the same margin. Other results: American Trading 3, Standard of Texas 6; Superior Oil over Shell Oil, West Texas Reproduction over Rotary Engineers, West End Magnolia over Ohio Oil, Honolulu Oil over Tide-Water, Muldrow Reproduction over Core Lab, State Exploration over Stuart's Photo and Tex-Harvey over West End Magnolia, all by 2-1 splits.

Phillips 66 scored 2,584 points for high team series while the same team scored 899 for high team game. Stanley Hall's 581 was good for high individual series and Bob Wortman's 218 cooped high individual games.

Tech Directors Decide To Increase Stadium To 30,000

LUBBOCK—(P)—Increase in the seating capacity of Texas Tech's Jones Stadium to 30,000 and the issuance of $200,000 in revenue bonds to finance the additional construction was authorized by the college board of directors in a meeting here Saturday.

The Tech board also accepted a grant of $24,000 on a three-year period from the Ford Foundation for the establishment of a Department of Adult Education at the college and the setting up of a Department of Americanism through the Charles Ernest Maedgen Foundation.

The Charles Ernest Maedgen Foundation was established by the Lubbock banker and his wife and sets up a trust estate exclusively for educational purposes. The trust fund income was augmented by a gift of $15,000 a year for five years by an anonymous Lubbock business man.

The Department of Americanism "shall teach and emphasize to a large portion, if not all of the college, both male and female and to the public generally the American system of free enterprise and the inherent values of our American way of life, as well as those fundamental concepts of our founding fathers under which and by which this country has prospered to an amazing extent unknown elsewhere in the world." Its plans provide:

A distinguished professor will be sought to head the department.

First-Division Finish Expected

Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

It took just six short weeks last season for Zeke Bonura to put himself on the spot for 1952.

Taking over a last-place ball club, Bonura blazed to 31 wins in his last 40 starts, an amazing .775 percentage, and pulled the Midland baseball club to within a couple of games of the playoffs.

This made a lot of faithful ball fans happy here in Midland—but it also caused rival Longhorn League managers to send out the wary watchword: "Look out for Midland in 1952."

And, on the basis of last year's record and exhibition showings this season, Midland might indeed bear watching during the hot, torrid months ahead. Pride and joy of the Midland manager is his pitching staff, which has no lefthanders but is long on experience and skill.

Candidates include: Eddie Jacome, who won 29, lost 13 last year.

Keith Nicolls, a 13-2 hurler with Erie, Pa., in 1951.

Bruce (Gabby) Blumenthal, 14-9 with the Indians.

Israel Ten, 14-11 with Artesia and Midland.

Emil Ogden, 0-1, last season.

Rookies Mike de la Torre and Jack Black.

The first base position is held down by rookie Tito Santeigo, light-hitting but good fielding Cuban.

Second base is in the hands of Bill Crumley, limited service glove expert who shows signs of blossoming into a real hitter. Woody Pennington, rookie, is at third base with Veteran Julio de la Torre at shortstop.

Left field is handled by Hayden White, who had a great rookie season with the club last year. Veteran Stan Wilcox is in centerfield with Rookies Bobby Gordon and Dick Cassidy fassin' over the right orchard.

All these outfielders are long ball hitters.

Catchers include Bill Brown, limited service from Erie and Gordon Tanner, returns, limited service. Both batted around .375 last season. Also on the squad is rookie Ed Menapace who was kept out of much Spring action due to a hand injury. Summed up, the club looks definitely like first division material. The pitching looks as if it will be superb. Hitting power seems to be present to a good degree.

A long-ball hitter at first base and an additional shortstop to release de la Torre for third base duties, and the Indians could scalp 'em all.

Oilers Figure To Be Top-Flight Loop Team

By SPECK GAMMON
Sports Editor, The American

ODESSA—The need of additional pitching strength is the biggest problem facing the Odessa Oilers as they open the 1952 campaign in quest of their third consecutive Longhorn League championship.

Afield and at bat, the Oilers are set, showing more all-around power and finesse than they did this time a year ago. Their pitching, however, lacks experience and depth.

Mgr. Bob (Pepper) Martin, who faces a personal battle with rookie Roberto Fabian for his third base post, can call on only three proven pitchers.

They are Evelio Ortega, the lanky southpaw who won 21 last year; Juan Guerrero, the hefty right-hander whose "soft" tosses netted him 16 wins in 1951; and Francis Mehal, veteran righthander who helped Brownsville to the Gulf Coast League title last year.

Mehal, however, was late in reporting and may not round into top condition for some time.

Wes Ortiz, short, stocky right-hander, may come through in fine style but his steadiness hasn't been fully proven yet. He stopped Russell with four hits for a 4-2 win in a pre-season exhibition fray.

Mike Lopez, Joe Bill Criswell and Carlos Perez are other mound staff members, but all are untested, rookies.

Odesa's inner defense should be much better, especially around the vital keystone sack. Rookie Raul Dieppa possesses more speed and a greater arm than did Eloy Barrera, last year's shortstop. At second, Charles Weber is a better fielder and has much more poise than rookie Floyd Martin displayed in 1951.

Barney Batson still holds forth at first base and should be improved with a year's more experience behind him. Martin and Fabian, as mentioned before, are battling for third. Both are power hitters and one may wind up in the outfield.

Midland Rookie
Leo Eastham, the base on balls expert, is back to patrol the right-field position. Other outfielders include Roman Loyko, who played with Brownsville last year; Kermit Luckenbach, a flashy rookie and Marion Treadway, another rookie. Treadway also can fill in nicely at shortstop. He is a Midland native. Oiler officials still are searching for a couple of experienced pitchers. If they acquire them, they'll have a much stronger club. Even so, Odessans don't figure to finish much better than third, because of the overall improvement of all clubs in the league.

Indian Players Get Nicknames From Mates

Nicknames crop up on every ball club, and the 1952 Midland team is no exception.

Bobby Gordon naturally is "Flash," Dick Cassidy, by the same token, is "Hopalong." Bruce Blumenthal talked himself into the moniker of "Gabby." Keith Nicolls is "Nick," Israel Ten is "Izzy," Woodrow Pennington, is "Woody" and Tito Santeigo is "Santy."

There's a story behind Zeke Bonura's nickname, too. When he was a well-built college athlete a sportswriter referred to him as Henry (The Physique) Bonura. Finally it was shortened to "Zeke" and has stuck ever since.

AIN'T WHAT SHE USED TO BE—Indian Park looked like this until recently, but: 60 feet have been added to both ends of the stand down the first and third base lines, the stands have been repainted completely, a 16-man press box has been built atop the stands, tops have been removed from the player dugouts, two concessions have been added and work has been done on the infield and outfield. The park now seats 3,000.

Cats, Eagles Keep Goose-Egging Each Other; Necks Win

By The Associated Press

When Fort Worth and Dallas get together it's all or nothing—and their three games in the Texas League race to date illustrate the point.

Fort Worth beat Dallas, 5-0, and 7-0 the first two games but Friday night Dallas whipped the Cats, 9-0. In other words they go after each other with that old killer instinct and the one that gets a lead goes all out to add to it.

Dallas' victory moved the Eagles into a tie for second place just one game back of front-running Fort Worth.

Don Mossi outpitched the Cats into submission as he allowed them only four scattered hits. Meanwhile Dallas was breaking loose with a 14-hit attack against five Fort Worth pitchers.

Beaumont pushed into a tie for second by blasting Houston, 11-2, as Emil Patrick held the Buffs to five hits. The Roughnecks slammed over seven runs in the third inning to win going away.

San Antonio edged Shreveport, 1-0, with an unearned run in the ninth. Max Peterson yielded only two hits while Hugh Sooter gave San Antonio seven. A bobble in the outfield by Joe Szekely and a wild heave by Third Baseman Jim Ackereit combined to give San Antonio its run.

Tulsa downed Oklahoma City, 13-4, to push the Indians into the league cellar. The Oilers slugged 14 hits to send four Oklahoma City pitchers to the showers. Bub Zieser kept eight hits well scattered.

San Angelo Colts Have Vet Team Returning For Season

By BOB MILBURN
Standard-Times Sports Staff

SAN ANGELO—Baseball experts say you can't stay pat on a winner and repeat but the San Angelo Colts, season-long champions of the Longhorn League by 10 1/2 games in 1951, will try to put the lie to the old axiom with basically the same team in 1952.

A new manager, Mark Christman, and a new catcher along with the return of Jack McClain from Harlingen of the Gulf Coast League will be the major changes in the Colt lineup of the season's start against Big Spring Monday night.

Christman, nine-year man in the major leagues with Detroit, St. Louis and Washington, will have the same pitching staff that performed so capably throughout 1951. Added to the staff will be one or two rookies who might make the grade.

Christman's lineup through most of the exhibition games has been the one which he will probably open the season with. Working at first base himself, the manager appears to be right at home. As good as Wayne was in 1951 the position should be handled just as capably or better this year. Christman, though never any great shakes as a major league hitter, should find Class C hitting to his liking.

A change on the infield finds John Tayoan, 377 hitter and all-star selection at third base in 1951, shifting to second base, his first love. Tayoan has always like to work around the keystone and has shown adeptness at the double play during the training grind.

Just as good in the field as Charley Young, the 1951 keystone guardian, Tayoan will add many batting points to the position during the current run.

Shortstop goes again to Tony Guerrero, light hitter but effective glove man. Guerrero has been working well with Tayoan on the twin killings and though he won't be expected to add materially to his 230 batting average, the peppery little fielder will cut down many base hits intended for left field. Guerrero was head and shoulders above all other shortfielders defensively last season, leading the position with .944.

Ken Kowalik, currently suffering with a sore shoulder, has returned to third base, a position he patrolled through the first half of 1951 before being benched. The lanky, limited service competitor fielded a respectable .946 at the hot corner in 37 games but it is his long-ball power that will be the biggest asset to the Colts.

The return of Steve Follett from Birmingham of the Southern Association about a month ago gave Colt hopes a tremendous boost. Follett slugged out a .350 average and drove in 118 runs in the 1951 season. He also possessed an arm that held the respect of every base runner in the league.

Shifted from right to center field, Follett has found it tough going this Spring. He injured his throwing arm when he fell on his right shoulder in an early exhibition game with the Colts. Besides, Follett may be overtrained, having been in baseball activity since January when he went to the Boston Red Sox rookie school. He is 10 pounds underweight but hopes to have this back soon. A sound Follett in center field could mean the difference for the San Angolians.

Jack McClain, a member of the Colts in 1948-49 but with Harlingen the past two seasons, falls heir to the right field job. The big boy, happy to be back in the Comch city, has been looking great this Spring. He has been meeting the ball with regularity, has hit for distance and has been dynamic in the clutch. While not a fancy Dan in the field, McClain won't do the club any harm in the right field pasture.

Catching, long a sore spot on the local front, may still be unsettled at the season's start. A rookie and two limited service men are battling for the post. Both Armando Flores and W. R. Arbuckle have been looking good with Demby in the chase because of his tremendous power.

Flores, with two years experience in the Mexican League, has just started to hit and may be given first chance at the job.

Arbuckle handles pitchers well, has a good arm and possesses the desire but his hitting is a question. If two catchers are carried, Flores and Arbuckle will probably get the jobs, at least until one or the other or both show they can't handle it.

Pitching is where Manager Christman breaks into smiles. He has five hurlers back from last season plus Cotton Russell, long a standout with Vernon. Add several likely looking rookie prospects and chances are the Colts won't have to bow to anyone from the mound standpoint.

In Lew Lozano, he has a 20-game winner returning and a pitcher who already this year has hurled a no-hit, no-run contest against Abilene. Lozano, still only a limited service player, should be the steady man on the staff, the hurler who can serve as a "stopper."

Indie Beltran, with the second best earned-run average in the league in 1951, is back to haunt Longhorn swingers. His 18-7 mark of last year doesn't begin to tell of his value to the squad. Beltran, a rubber-armed righthander, can take a regular turn and still relieve if needed.

Russell, a star hurler at Vernon under Joe Berry, suddenly lost his effectiveness in 1951 and couldn't win, either for Vernon or the Colts. Seriously thinking of changing to fulltime outfielding, Russell this Spring seemed to rediscover his mound touch and now is counted on as a Colt starter. Hindered by a sprained ankle, his conditioning has been slowed but he is now about ready to move.

Bob Garza, 18 and 6 last year, pitched winner ball on the West Coast and reported late to the Colts. But the Winter pitching kept the righthander in good shape and he should be ready within a week to take his regular turn.

Clarence Tinkler, the old Robert Lee rabbit twister, is back with his low ball and should provide the Colts with a topnotch relief artist. Tinkler wasn't given much steady work in 1951 but seemed to thrive on what he did obtain. He will probably see much more action this year.

Of the newcomers, Marie Blackman and Lawrence Henke have shown to the best advantage. Each Longhorn team will have to retain at least three rookies. One of the Colt rookies will surely be a catcher with the other two coming from the pitching staff or the pitching and outfield.

Kermit Sakowitz, vying for an outfield position, is another rookie who may stick. The youngster has impressed while filling in place of the regular outfielders. He may not be quite ready for C ball but may be retained, at least until the return of Kiser, out with a broken ankle.

Another semi-newcomer, Jimmy Price, seems a sure shot to be retained as a lefthanded starter on the pitching staff. Price, with the Colts in 1950, returns. He has a world of stuff and could be a big winner. The fact that he tosses them in from the portside is also in his favor.

Probably the greatest Colt need, as it was last season, is lefthanded hitting power. Again the starting lineup is without a lefty.

The Colts, attendance leaders the past two seasons, hope to duplicate the mark in 1952. They would like very much to surpass the 116,000 they drew last year, but with the drought and other conditions, this is doubtful.

The Longhorn All-Star game returns to Quinn Field July 25 after a year at Roswell. San Angelo is again looking forward to provide top entertainment on this activity.

As to the Colt's eventual finish? Like weather forecasters, only foreigners and fools predict.

Big Spring Has Been In Playoffs Each Year

Big Spring has finished in the Longhorn League's first division each year since the loop first was organized in 1947.

Sweetwater, on the other hand, has been in the playoffs only once—the inaugural year.

In many animals the same sense organs are used for both taste and smell.

FORMER SKIPPER—Roly-poly Harold Webb managed the Midland Indians from the time the Longhorn League was started in 1947 until he sold to Midland Baseball, Inc., last year in midseason.

Scooter Hughes Is Injured; Out Of Lineup For Awhile

WICHITA FALLS—The Wichita Falls Spudders have purchased Shortstop Jackie Wilcox from Lamesa in the West Texas-New Mexico League to replace the injured Stan (Scooter) Hughes.

Hughes, who was hit by a pitched ball on the left shoulder in a recent Wichita Falls game, had his shoulder lanced Friday and developed a blood clot.

He is expected to be out of the lineup a week or 10 days.

Blue Sox Clobber Sweetwater, 17-0

ABILENE—The Abilene Blue Sox pounded out 18 hits here Friday night and buried Sweetwater of the Longhorn League under a 17-0 avalanche.

Sweetwater managed seven hits, and used three pitchers in an unsuccessful attempt to halt the tide.

Johnny Clune, Navy's basketball ace, set five individual scoring records and tied another during the recently concluded court season.

Dusters Appear Weak; Chet Fowler Looking For Help

By RUSTY AYERS
Daily Record Sports Editor

VERNON—A rebuilding job from owners right down through players is being worked on by the Vernon Dusters in preparation for the 1952 Longhorn Baseball League pennant chase.

Six members of the 1951 squad returned for Spring training, including Al Richardson and Audie Malone, pitchers; Leon English and John Reimold, infielders; Lou Ehlinger, outfielder and Bill Herring, catcher.

Vernon will operate under new management and ownership this season. Chet Fowler, ex-player and umpire, will be at the helm. A stockholder group forms the ownership of the Wilbarger County Baseball club.

At this stage of the game the Dusters look little like top-flight pennant contenders, but one more infielder, outfielder, plus a pair of elbowers and the dark picture will take on a rosy tint.

Second base, pitching and left field are the main worry spots for Fowler. Three aspirants are fighting for the keystone, but so far the trio has not filled the bill. They are Art Neal, rookie; Don Weir, rookie, and Cuban Armando Hernandez.

Lou Ehlinger, a .297 hitter in 1951, seems to have the center gardens under control. Fowler has been using another Cuban rookie, Ernie Klein, in right but may shift him to the infield.

Leon English has been doing a good job at the hot corner during exhibitions, but may be moved to second. If this happens, Klein will be moved in to play third.

Reimold is holding down the initial sack duties, but has failed to find his batting eye. He has hit five times in 22 trips to the plate; for an anemic 227 percentage.

Bill Herring is having trouble on defense and at the plate. He was injured last season, almost losing an eye. His right eye is still partially paralyzed, making it look doubtful if he can make it in Class-C ball.

SMU GOLFERS WIN

DALLAS—(P)—Southern Methodist turned back Baylor, 6-0, Friday in a Southwest Conference golf match. Ross Mitchell of the Methodists fired a two-under-par 69, bagging one eagle over the Northwood Club Course.

Vernon's Old Pro, Al Richardson, is in good shape and has been displaying plenty of stuff on the ball. He will not join the club for road trips until school is out in June as he is a coach at Burkburnett High School.

A rookie southpaw, Lloyd Wallis, seems to be one of the young members of the Duster mound staff to watch. He has impressed Vernon "rail-birds" and the management with his curves, hooks and sliders. He has that natural lefthander's weakness—control, but not as serious a case as many have.

If Wallis can get his control down, he should be a 20-game winner for the Vernonites.

There are several other hurling hopefuls out for a berth, but so far none have been on the impressive side.

Vernon has no direct working agreement with a higher classification club, but Fowler has been promised help, and expects position fillers any day.

By April 21 the Vernon Dusters will be ready, and with perhaps an altogether different ball club from where it now stands.

Artesia Not In Title Class, But Will Be Dangerous

ARTESIA, N. M.—Last year in Artesia's inaugural season in the Longhorn League, it was warned the Drillers might be the league "sleeper."

And they were, although not in the manner in which the statement generally is used. The 1951 Drillers simply didn't have it and "slept" far down in the second division the entire year.

This year, however, the Drillers do expect to improve. No talk about winning the pennant is coming out of the Artesia camp, but Manager Earl Perry does make this statement: "We may not be the top team, but we'll help decide the first four places."

Perry, a second sacker, will see some action during the season. One player counted heavily on is Joe Bauman, first baseman, who slugged out 48 home runs with the Amarillo Gold Sox in the W-T-NM league five years ago.

Johnny Alonso returns for some outfield action, with Chuck Cline returning at third base. Cline performed briefly with Midland last season.

Another ex-Midland Indian is the real Artesia big gun. He is Jim Ackers the power-hitting boy with the rifle-shot arm. Ackers, if he can be coaxed into observing training rules, could be one of the league's outstanding players.

Another outfielder is Eldon Pichan, right fielder.

The drillers best pitchers are Melvin Miller and Ray Riley. Miller, as an 18-year-old rookie, had a good season with the Artesia team last time out. He is counted on as a potential 20-game winner by Perry this year.

The team seems to be set in hitting power, but is questionable defensively. If a couple of more pitchers come through the Drillers could be a pleasant surprise to the home folks.

This isn't, however, a championship outfit. But it will be a troublemaker for other teams with pennant designs.

Pioneer Business Manager Returns

AUSTIN — Austin Pioneer Business Manager Harry Voelker is back at his job with the Austin ball club.

Thursday he announced he was quitting. He gave no reason. Saturday he said matters had been worked out and withdrew his resignation.

His contract runs through November 25.

Broncs Will Be Stronger Than In '52

By TOMMY HART
Daily-Herald Sports Editor

BIG SPRING — The Big Spring Broncs will make every effort to scale the heights in Longhorn League standings this year.

It used to be that the Big Spring club and first place in the league standings were synonymous, but no more. The Cuban-flavored club wound up first the first three years the league was in operation. But, in 1950, the Broncs slumped to third place and last year wound up second, 10 1/2 games off the pace of the San Angelo Colts.

The Broncs can claim a unique record. They have finished in the playoffs every season, something no other team in the league has been able to do. Only in 1949, however, did they win the post-season play-offs.

At the present time, Manager Pat Stasey—oldest skipper in the league from point of experience—has a team long on defensive skill, somewhat shy of hitting power and one with adequate pitching.

The hurling is bound to improve, as soon as the Broncs' parent club, Havana, starts to cut down. Whether the Steeds' attack will gain more authority is problematical. The past Bronc clubs have never been famous for knocking down the fences.

At Valdes has returned to don the catching harness. He's peering at handling pitchers and managed to hit 304 last year. Frank Valdivia appears to have won the reserve catcher's berth, although Buddy Grimes of Stephenville is a possibility.

The Broncs' inner cordon looks great. Witty Quintana, a peppercorn, in back at the hot corner. Al Costa has returned to play shortstop. Quintana hit 305 last year, Costa 303.

Rookies beat out hold-overs for the other two infield berths. Ossie Alvarez so impressed Stasey as a second baseman that the manager didn't bring the veteran Mike Lastra back from Cuba. At first, the Big Springers will have Rick Gonzales, who replaced Gus Ungo. Gonzales is a leftie all the way.

Stasey himself will again be in right field. He has led the league three times in hitting, last year punished Longhorn hurling with a .387 clip. David Mier and Jesus Morina are the other fly-chasers at the moment. Mier in left and Morino in center. Morino is given the better chance of sticking, although Mier has more power.

Aramis Arencibia, a fine knuckleball hurler; the veteran Bertie Baez and Gil Guerra are the mainstays of the mound staff at the moment. Guerra was the star of the 1950 Longhorn League playoffs. He'll win his share of games. Frank Fernandez, Lefty Bringas, Regal Corrales and Tommy Schaffer are other hill possibilities. Stasey is due more help in the form of Manny Estrada and Rolly Peralta. Potato Pascual might return as a pitcher, too. Stasey was more impressed with Peralta than any one he saw on his recent trip to Cuba. Estrada is almost as good, he says.

Monchak Faces Big Rebuilding Job With Rosewell Nine

By ROBERT GREEN
Daily Record Sports Editor

ROSWELL, N. M.—With only three players, himself included, returning from last year's team, Roswell-Rocket manager, Al Monchak, has had a major rebuilding job on his hands in Roswell's Spring training camp in Pleasanton, Texas.

Lost from the 1951 edition of the Rockets are such outstanding performers as Dean Franks, Roswell's 30-game winner, Bobby West, rookie of the year who punched out a .359 average, and third baseman George (Gabby) Delles, the Rockets' fine third sacker who clubbed the ball at a .349 pace.

Though almost all of last year's team is gone, Monchak has come up with a good nucleus of proven veterans and a fine crop of rookies. His biggest problem at the present is a lack of limited service players. Only three are now available.

Along with Monchak, big Bill Cearley and Ray Hill, both outfielders, return this year. Cearley led the league in runs batted in last season and clouted the ball for a .356 batting average. Hill topped the circuit in triples and batted .310.

Monchak, Roswell's playing-manager second baseman, batted .311 last season.

Teaming up with him at shortstop is a little fireball named Hayden (Stubby) Greer, last year's manager of the Artesia Drillers. The veteran Greer, tried a "pro in every respect" by Monchak, has turned in consistent outstanding plays at short in exhibition games this year and is hitting the ball well. Greer hit .331 last year.

Monchak has predicted that if he and Greer are "right" they will comprise the finest double play combination the Longhorn league has ever seen.

Three veteran pitchers head up Roswell's pitching staff. They include Robert Weaver, a righthander who won 18 for Erie Pa., last year in a class C league. Jimmy McClure, a 13 game winner with San Angelo last year, and Ed Norton just returned from service in Korea with the armed services. McClure is a southpaw and Norton is a righthander.

The only limited service hurler now in camp is Jack Kirk, a left-hander who won eight and lost four with York, Pa., a last place club, in the class B Inter-State league last year.

And there are three fine rookie pitchers, one of whom may turn out to be the ace of the staff—Aldres Alonso.

Alonso, a Panamanian, is making his debut in organized ball after 11 years of pitching in Central and South America in Winter baseball against class AA and AAA American professionals. This 30-year-old righthander pitched and won a game in the Pan American World Series last winter.

The two other rookie hurlers who are looking up are Ronald Peterson, a righthander who Monchak says is the "classiest young rookie I have

Child Expert Picks Tribe, Colts, Broncs, Oilers As First-Division Clubs

By LARRY KING
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

Picking the Longhorn League finish is a job which could be done blindfolded. And that's exactly how we did it. We were aided, of course, by the well-known crystal ball, our six-month-old daughter, Cheryl Ann, and Major Hoopie's law of falling heavenly bodies.

By this we don't mean that position. Jesse Torres, pitcher; Tony Trauspeio, catcher; Gus Ungo, outfielder, and Warren Sliter, first baseman, will put 'em there.

Roswell will finish sixth, according to the girl's plan. We reminded her that Al Monchak is a terrific builder, and she came back with "He'll be so busy building he won't have time to win." After observing the Rockets' record of nine straight exhibition losses and recalling the fact Monchak has only three returns, we are kinda inclined to agree.

Artesia is pretty much in the dark, but has what Manager Earl Perry calls a "dangerous ball club." With Jim Ackers in centerfield and Ray Riley and Melvin Miller doing the pitching, the Drillers will be dangerous—but only on certain nights. Seventh, the little lady emphatically states.

Between bottles, Cheryl Ann picks Vernon to finish last. "No pitchin', no fieldin', no hittin'." No team, she commented.

Maybe, but we wouldn't want to bet.

Aggie Fresh Win On Hartung's Heels

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Harley Hartung copped both hurdle events and was a member of the sprint relay team as he paced Texas A&M's freshmen to a track victory Friday over four junior colleges.

Hartung's 11 1/2 points was the individual high. A&M tallied 89 points in all and was followed by Navarro Junior College with 25, Blinn JC with 19, Lon Morris with 10 and Allen Academy with 8 1/4.

The St. Louis Cardinals have 19 scouts listed—plus a chief scout and a supervisor for Class B, C and D clubs.

Sports Writers Put 'Kiss Of Death' On Indians And Bonura

ABILENE—Sports writers in the Longhorn League have put the "kiss of death" on Zeke Bonura's Midland Indians.

A pre-season poll taken by Hal Sayles, Longhorn League president, Saturday revealed the Indians are the writing fraternity's choice for 1953 glory.

Four of the seven writers polled picked Midland for first, with all writers placing the Indians in the first division.

The reason for this is Midland's amazing 31 wins in its last 40 starts last season, and its record of 19 wins, five losses in exhibition play. This mark was the league's best.

San Angelo, also picked for the first division on each ballot in the poll, was rated second with Big Spring third and Roswell fourth.

Odessa, last year's Shaughnessy winner, rated fifth while Sweetwater, Artesia and Vernon fell in that order for the other second-division places.

The Class C loop's 140-game schedule opens Monday night.

Sweetwater Braves Baseball Outlook 'Best Ever' For Team In Longhorn Loop

By BID WORSHAM
Sweetwater Reporter-Sports Editor

SWEETWATER—The professional baseball outlook at Sweetwater is brighter than it's ever been. The club has a new nickname (the Braves), a new owner (Arturo C. Gonzalez of Del Rio), a new manager (Alex Carrasquel) and virtually all "new" players for the 1952 Longhorn League season.

Heavy financial losses last year under civic management, the "Sweetwater" officials sold the club to Gonzalez, prominent Del Rio attorney and owner of Radio Station XERF, less than three months ago.

The wealthy, sports-minded Gonzalez vowed to give Sweetwater a "winner" this season.

At Echola, Greenville sports writer, was chosen business manager of the Sweetwater Braves and Alex Carrasquel of Venezuela was selected player-manager.

Gonzalez owns three other baseball clubs, Part of the Class B Big State League; Chickasha, Okla., of the Class D Sooner State and Decatur, Ill., of the Class D Mississippi-Ohio Valley.

Carrasquel, an uncle of the Chicago White Sox' sensational shortstop, Chico Carrasquel, is an ex-major league pitcher.

He played with the Washington Senators from 1930 through 1945 and was sold to the White Sox at the close of the '45 season. Alex, like many other major leaguers, jumped to the Mexican Leagues in 1946 because of the higher salaries.

As a result, Carrasquel was suspended for three years from organized baseball. He was a relief pitcher for Buffalo of the Triple-A International League during 1949, '50 and '51, joining Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League the last month of last season.

Manager Carrasquel will do most of the relief pitching for the Braves this summer.

The Braves' infield is "set," with veteran Warren Sliter at first base, rookie Kenny Hughes at second, Armando Galban at shortstop and Luis Suarez at third.

Sliter has made the Longhorn League's "All-Star" team for the past three seasons. He batted .311 for Sweetwater last year. Suarez played at Panama in '51, hitting .301 and compiling one of the best defensive marks in the West Texas-New Mexico circuit.

Manager Carrasquel has four outfielders who all hit above .300 last season: Charlie Tuttle, who batted .323 at Chickasha; Emil (Rocky) Carlini, .331 at Lima, Ohio; Gus Ungo, a converted first baseman who hit .357 with Big Spring; and Carlos Perez, .308 hitter with Laredo and Brownsville last year.

Topping the Sweetwater pitching staff is Jesse Torres, who posted a 16-17 record here last season. Tony Estrella, who has pitched for several years in the Cuban leagues, will probably give Torres a tough fight for the number one hurling position.

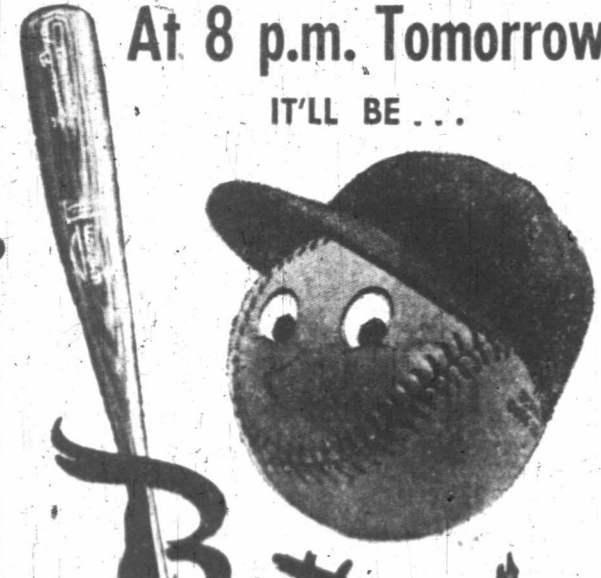

Other hurlers are Oil Grajeda, Ernie Sadler, Ted Szymanski, Rolando Rodriguez, Lewis Saum and Jesse Zavala.

Szymanski, only left-hander on the staff, was in the Navy last year. In 1950, he won 11, lost nine with Pauls Valley and Ada. Saum allowed the Big Spring Broncs only three hits and no runs in a five-inning exhibition stint this Spring, while Zavala notched a victory over Abilene.

Sweetwater's number one catcher is Tony Trauspeio, the ex-Big Spring receiver who played at Sherman-Denison and Havana last trip. Rookie George Kovalik is the reserve catcher.

The Braves will open league play at home April 21 against the Vernon Dusters.

Buzzer-Using Jockey Suspended For Life By Florida Committee

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)—Nunzio Pariso, 32-year-old jockey from Buffalo, N. Y., was suspended for life by the Florida State Racing Commission Friday for attempting to use an electric buzzer on his horse in a race at Gulfstream Park.

The buzzer, an electrical device used to excite a horse into greater speed, was detected before the race and Pariso's mount, Violinist, was scratched by the track stewards.

Pariso was quoted as telling the stewards the buzzer was his own idea. He said he hadn't had a single winner during the Gulfstream meeting and hoped, by bringing Violinist home first, to earn enough to pay his way to Northern tracks.

City Issues Call For Summer Help At Pagoda Pool

Assistant City Manager Morris Howard sent out an appeal Saturday for three high school-age boys to man the Pagoda swimming pool this summer.

The pool will open the first week in June. Howard needs a combination manager and life guard.

Interested persons should have completed the American Red Cross Life-Saving program.

Howard said the pool probably will be open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

Applicants may contact Howard in his office in the City Hall.

Coroco Finds More Pay In C-W Terry Wildcat

Coroco Drilling Company No. 1 Atlas Life Insurance Company fee, Central-West Terry County flowing discovery from the top of the Devonian at 12,700-730 feet found more shows of possible production in 30 feet of new hole at 12,730-760 feet.

Operator tried a drillstem test on the interval. The packer failed and there was no test. The tools were to be pulled out and the hole conditioned and another try for a test was to be undertaken.

Had Good Shows

Top of the Devonian has been tentatively picked to be at 12,700 feet. That is on a datum of minus 9,243 feet.

This wildcat has shown possibilities of producing in three zones in the lower Permian. Those shows were at 8,292-8,351 feet; at 9,194-9,245 feet, and at 10,057-10,117 feet.

The new field opener is 12 miles west of Brownfield, four and one-half miles east of Tokio and 1,980 feet from south and west line of section 92, block D-11, CAMRR survey.

Watson Quits Snowden, Is On His Own

James R. Watson, formerly with James H. Snowden and Associates in Midland, resigned as that concern's production superintendent and is now an independent operator.

Watson, who was with Snowden five years, with the last one and one-half being spent in the Midland office, will operate in the Oregon, Washington and Eastern Nevada regions.

He will make his headquarters in Reno, Nev., where he will deal in leases and royalties.

Robertson Promoted To Be Ohio's Nortex District Landman

G. P. (Pink) Robertson of Midland is the new district landman for The Ohio Oil Company for North Texas. He will headquarter at Wichita Falls and has already moved to that city.

Robertson has been with Ohio more than 15 years. Most of that time has been spent in Midland as a scout and landman. He worked in Louisiana for about three years.

Prior to going to work for Ohio he put in some time with Sinclair Oil & Gas Company.

Mexico Makes Good On Proud Oil Boast

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexico has made good on her proud boast that she would get her nationalized oil industry clicking all on her own—and without the help of a U. S. loan.

The latest figures released by Pemex, the government petroleum monopoly, show she is well out of the squeeze between static production and soaring consumption that loomed five years ago.

Crude production for 1951 was at a record peak for government operation, 78,780,387 barrels, and the trend is still upward. Average production at the close of 1951 was 230,000 barrels a day.

Home consumption, never much of a problem when U. S. and British companies dominated Mexican petroleum before 1938, still was booming. In 1951 it was 80,850,000 barrels, a 52 per cent jump in six years.

Between the two figures was a comfortable margin of 27,000,000 barrels last year which Mexico can export for cash or barter for scarce materials and machinery she needs in her industrialization program.

The figures also fit Mexico's long range petroleum policy: conservation; adequate supplies for the home market; a modest exportable surplus. A secondary goal is to export only refined products, carrying out all processing at home plants.

Though the 1951 figures show success in a tough five year program, they conceal much hard work, able and honest administration, and bootstrap pulling—all touched off by a U. S. oil loan which fell through.

Perplexing Problems

When Mexico expropriated most foreign oil holdings in 1938 she took over some perplexing problems. She had to consolidate a lot of former independent units into a single government-operated industry. She had to revamp a huge operation originally designed to export crude oil abroad into one that could produce and distribute refined products for home use. She had to make friends and supporters of oil workers whose hostility toward the former foreign owners forced the final act of expropriation. And finally she had to break through an international boycott against Mexican oil, settle foreign claims arising from expropriation, and make friends again in

WTGS Will Meet Tuesday In Midland To See Films On Past Geological Trips

The West Texas Geological Society will meet in Midland at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in Junior High School Cafeteria to see movies of the 1951 Spring and Fall field trips of the society and to discuss the coming 1952 field trip.

The films will be shown by Bert R. Haigh, geologist in charge of the Midland district for University Lands.

All members are urged to attend. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the close of the meeting.

The Spring field trip is slated for May 23-24 in the Marathon region of Texas. Emphasis will be on the Pennsylvanian sediments. The leaders of the trip will be John Emery Adams of Standard Oil Company of Texas and Hugh N. Frennell of Ryan, Hays and Burke.

May 23 will be devoted to Carboniferous outcrops south and west of Marathon with short stops at points to view pre-Pennsylvanian beds.

May 24 Carboniferous outcrops east and north of Marathon will be visited, and the trip terminated with stops to view lower Permian sediments at Gaptank and Sierra Madre.

Registration will start at 3:00 p.m. May 22 in the lobby of the Holland Hotel in Alpine. Registration is to be made with William A. Adent, Bankline Oil Company, box 61, Midland or phone 2-3760. All attending the trip will be required to register. The registration fee will include cost of a copy of the guidebook. A technical discussion of the area and trip will be held at 8:00 p.m. at a place to be announced at time of registration.

Balbin Is Named Boss Of Stanolind Geophysical Work

Paul D. Balbin has been named to head Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's geophysical operations in the North Texas-New Mexico Division, with headquarters in Fort Worth, Texas.

Balbin was formerly geophysical supervisor in Stanolind's Tulsa general office, and is being transferred to Fort Worth due to the expanded geophysical activities in that division. Under the company's decentralization program, active responsibility for all geophysical field work is centered in the division offices. Balbin will assume his duties in Fort Worth effective April 16.

Balbin received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1933, and joined Geophysical Research Corporation following graduation. In November of 1936 he was employed by Western Geophysical Company, transferring to Stanolind in 1938.

In February of 1942, Balbin, a member of the officers reserve corps, was called to active duty and served with the VII Fighting Command in the Pacific. During the war, he participated in the occupation of the Ellice Islands and the invasions of the Gilberts, Marshalls and Marianas, receiving the Marine Corps Legion of Merit and U. S. Navy Combat V.

Following his discharge as a lieutenant colonel in October, 1945, Balbin returned to Stanolind and has been in Tulsa since 1948. He is a recent graduate of the advanced management program at Harvard University, having completed the Fall session in December 1951.

Balbin is a member of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists and the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

Kipley, Stewart Are Made Assistants To Grimes At Ohio Oil

D. V. Kipley and Paul Stewart are new assistant district production superintendents for The Ohio Oil Company in the Permian Basin district, which has its headquarters in Midland.

They work with J. A. Grimes, the concern's district superintendent in this city.

Back From Service

Kipley has recently returned from military service. He was a petroleum engineer for Ohio in the Midland district office before he took his last service hitch.

He was released as a major in the infantry.

Stewart came to Midland from Hobbs, N. M., where he had been a production supervisor for the company. He is a veteran employee of the company.

Bartley, Crawford Move Their Offices

Offices of J. H. (Jerry) Bartley and R. R. Crawford are now at 227 Central Building, in Midland. They were formerly at 208 East Wall Street.

Bartley is a consulting geologist and oil operator and Crawford is a broker and trader in the oil business.

J. W. (Jay) Skrabanek is a geologist on Bartley's staff.

API Groups Will Meet In Fort Worth

The accident prevention and fire protection committees of the American Petroleum Institute will hold their fifth midyear meeting at Fort Worth. Sessions will get underway on Sunday in Hotel Texas and will continue through Thursday.

One of the highlights of the five-day meeting will be a joint session with API's Products-Pipe Line Conference, which is being held concurrently in Fort Worth, on Monday. This will be held in the Longhorn Room of Hotel Texas and is expected to draw a large audience of safety experts and pipe line men, as well as other interested oil men.

Speakers

Featured speakers for this joint session will be H. H. Anderson, vice president and general manager of Shell Pipe Line Company, Houston, who will discuss "The Human Factor in Safety Promotion," and James E. Moss, director of the API's division of transportation, Washington, whose subject will be "Safety in Transportation."

Heavy Schedule

The safety men have a heavy schedule of meetings for their five-day meeting. Topics to be discussed include tank cleaning, visual aids, pipe line safety, accident statistics, fire protection regulations, natural gasoline, safe marketing practices, fire protection engineering, and program plans for the 1952 annual meeting in November.

The central committee on fire protection will hold its regular meeting Wednesday morning, and the central committee on accident prevention will meet Thursday afternoon. Both committees will hold a joint session Thursday morning.

Discussion by the committee will be part of a general session on western hemisphere oil. Two government officials will participate as speakers. They are Bruce K. Brown, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, and William H. Farrand, director of foreign production division of PAD.

Brown, as deputy to Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, who serves as petroleum administrator, was instrumental in organizing the government agency, PAD is claimant agency for the petroleum industry in the defense production program.

Farrand has directed the PAD foreign production division since May, 1951. Before joining PAD, which he serves without compensation, he was general manager of the foreign producing departments of The Texas Company.

All sessions of the IPAA meeting will be in the Resher-Wallick Hotel. Kenneth P. Milliken, chairman of an Ohio arrangements committee, said oil men from throughout the nation have registered for the meeting.

Reservations For Landmen's Party Must Be In Quick

Members of the Permian Basin Landmen's Association are urged to make their reservations immediately for the organization's Spring Dinner-Dance to be held Friday night. Officials of the association said Saturday that a large attendance was assured, but they said further that several members had not yet made their reservations.

All requests for reservations for the party, together with checks to cover them, must be in the hands of Frank E. Curtis, Jr., secretary of the organization, by Tuesday.

The dinner-dance will be held at Midland Country Club. Attendance is limited to members and their ladies and out-of-town guests.

Lea Still Is Most Active Area In PB; Midland In Texas

Lea County, N. M., for the fifth consecutive time, topped all other counties in the Permian Basin on the latest Reed Roller Bit Company semi-monthly survey of active rotary operations.

With 125 rigs going on April 10, Lea showed a drop of two during the 15-day period ended on that date and showed a 26 count bulge over second place, Midland County where 99 rigs were going.

Midland replaced Upton as the leader in Texas. Upton had 98 rotary drillings on April 10, according to the Reed survey.

The entire Permian Basin, which includes West Texas and Southeast New Mexico, had 750 units drilling, an increase of two over the March 25 figure and 198 more than was reported one year ago.

The most active area continues to be the Spraberry Trend's Four Corner area which includes Midland, Upton, Reagan and Glasscock Counties. That region accounted for 371, or 36 plus per cent of all the active rotary drilling in the Permian Basin.

Counties covered by the survey are:

IPAA Committee Will Report On Western Resources

Reports on a comprehensive study of western hemisphere oil resources will be made by a committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which meets in Columbus, Ohio, April 28-29.

C. H. Lyons, "Bireport," La., president of IPAA, is chairman of a Western Hemisphere oil study committee which is conducting a thorough study of Western Hemisphere petroleum resources in relation to Western defense.

First reports on results of the survey will be made in a rapid discussion by Lyons and chairman of four sub-committees which are conducting various phases of the study.

Chairmen of the sub-committees, and subjects assigned to them, are: A. I. Levorsen, Tulsa, geologist, production, productive capacity and reserves; J. P. Coleman, Wichita Falls, supply and demand; W. L. Stewart, Fort Worth, materials, and A. C. Mattel, San Francisco, government policies and laws.

Discussion by the committee will be part of a general session on western hemisphere oil. Two government officials will participate as speakers. They are Bruce K. Brown, deputy administrator of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, and William H. Farrand, director of foreign production division of PAD.

NACE Meeting Is To Be Held At New Orleans

A technical program and committee meetings of the South-Central Region of the National Association of Carbon Engineers will be held in New Orleans on October 1, 2 and 3.

The meetings will be at the Jung Hotel. Announcement of the affair was made by A. B. Campbell, of San Antonio, executive secretary of the national association.

Glahn Joins Buffalo; Is To Be Manager Of Its Land Department

John W. Glahn, veteran oil man, is taking a new job, effective Monday. He is to become manager of the land department of Buffalo Oil Company.

Main offices of that concern are in Dallas. However, Glahn will make his headquarters at Buffalo's Permian Basin division offices in the V&J Tower in Midland.

Announced By Taubman

Announcement of Glahn's new connection was made in Midland Saturday by M. E. Taubman of this city, vice president of Buffalo Oil Company.

Other units are to be added in the near future. The concern plans to concentrate its work in West Texas and Latin America.

Alexander is president of International, Inc., and Head is vice president.

Both men had been associated with International Derrick & Equipment Company for a number of years before they resigned from that concern to organize their new drilling company.

Formerly with IDECO

Alexander formerly represented IDECO in Venezuela in its technical service department.

After leaving that assignment he represented the same concern at Dallas as manager of its central service department. He is a petroleum engineering graduate of the University of Texas.

Head spent five years in South America. During the first part of that period he was superintendent for International Petroleum Company and was later with Gansol Anul Oil Company in Peru.

In Supply Business

He also was interested in the South American Supply Company of Lima, Peru.

Prior to the formation of International, Inc., he represented the technical service department of IDECO in West Texas.

Head is a graduate in petroleum engineering of the University of Oklahoma. His first job after leaving the university was with Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc.

Company, and manager of the Permian Basin division of the concern.

Addition of Glahn to the executive personnel of Buffalo indicates the concern is planning to expand its activities and operations, Taubman said.

Glahn has resigned a position as West Texas-New Mexico division landman for Warren Oil Corporation. He has also been manager of Warren's office in Midland.

He held that position three and one-half years.

Started 21 Years Ago

Glahn started in the oil business 21 years ago in the title section of the old Indian Territories Illuminating Oil Company, at Bartlesville, Okla.

Shortly thereafter he was sent to Burlington, Colo., as a scout-landman.

Since then he has been located at Garden City, Kan.; Wichita, Kan.; Abilene, Texas; Mattoon, Ill.; Evansville, Ind.; Oklahoma City; Fort Worth; Houston; Jackson, Miss.; Monroe, La., and Midland, in Midland Three Times

He has lived and headquartered in Midland three different times as landman for ITTO, Cities Service Oil Company and Warren.

He left Cities Service, which had absorbed ITTO and Glahn in 1944, and went to Jackson, Miss., with Warren. He returned to this city three and one-half years ago with the same concern.

During the last 12 months he has supervised leasing plays for Warren in North and South Dakota, Colorado, Alabama and Florida.

Reared In Oklahoma

Glahn was reared at Enid, Okla. He is a graduate of Phillips University. While a student in that institution he was quarterback on the varsity football team for three years.

He was coach at St. Gregory's College at Shawnee, Okla., for one year.

Mr. and Mrs. Glahn, she being the former Louise Higgins of Oklahoma City, are the parents of three children. They are Mary Jane and Carol, students at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and Johnny, Jr., nine, who is at home.

Humble To Final Gas-Distillate Well In Central Lea

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Federal-Elliott, Central Lea County, New Mexico wildcat, nine miles west of Lovington is preparing to try to complete as a gas-distillate discovery and producer from the Pennsylvanian lime.

This prospector drilled to a bottom of 14,783 feet in barren Devonian. That is a corrected total depth from the 14,750 feet which had previously been reported.

The project is to plug back to approximately 13,100 feet and set casing and try to make a commercial producer from pay sections above that point.

It has had interesting shows of gas and distillate in streaks from 11,285 feet down to 13,178 feet. It is thought that a commercial well can be completed from some of those sections.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of lot 1, section 7-16-34E. That puts it eight miles southeast of the South Saunders field.

Sohio Will Deepen Upton Producer To Ellenburger Zone

Sohio Petroleum Company is preparing to re-enter a Spraberry producer in the Pembroke field of East-Central Upton County and deepen to the Ellenburger.

The project is No. 1 Ell Bernstein, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block M, HR&WT survey. Bottomed at 8,767 feet in the Strawn, it was plugged back to 7,335 feet and completed as a Spraberry producer.

New destination is 12,800 feet.

DST Scheduled For Signal Prospector In C-W Tom Green

Signal Oil & Gas Company No. 1 W. E. Shulkey, Central-West Tom Green County wildcat, one mile northwest of Knickerbocker was bottomed at 5,433 feet in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime and is preparing to take a drillstem test.

When the project reached a total depth of 5,433 feet, by drillers measurement, a steel line was run

Bryant Resigns Job As AT&PC Landman In Permian Basin

Thurman W. Bryant has resigned as district landman in Midland for American Trading & Production Corporation. He has not announced his plans for the future.

He had been with American Trading & Production about six years. He started as a scout and was shortly thereafter moved to Abilene as district landman for the concern at that point.

He returned to Midland more than two years ago as district landman for the Permian Basin.

Before his connection with that concern he worked for Schermerhorn Oil Corporation for eight years. Most of that service was in West Texas.

Shell Stakes Clear Fork Test In Ward

Shell Oil Company has spotted location for a long stepout to production from the Clear Fork in the Monahans field along the south line of Winkler and the north line of Ward Counties.

The prospector will be drilled north of the field in Winkler County, four miles northeast of Monahans and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 46, block A, G&MNE&A survey.

It is slated to go 5,300 feet. Elevation at drillsite is 2,723 feet.

The project will be drilled as Shell No. 51 Sealy Smith Foundation.

Alexander, Head Are Executives Of New Drilling Concern

T. J. (Tom) Alexander of Dallas and John C. Head of Midland are the executives of a new oil well drilling concern which is now operating in this area.

The new company is International, Inc. It now has one rotary rig drilling for Plymouth Oil Company on a wildcat in Glasscock County.

Others To Be Added

Other units are to be added in the near future. The concern plans to concentrate its work in West Texas and Latin America.

Alexander is president of International, Inc., and Head is vice president.

Both men had been associated with International Derrick & Equipment Company for a number of years before they resigned from that concern to organize their new drilling company.

Magnolia Selects Texas Tech To Be Scholarship School

Texas Technological College has been selected as one of twelve institutions and colleges over the nation at which a "Magnolia Petroleum Company Scholarship" for the school year 1952-53 will be placed.

The scholarship at Texas Technological College, an award of $750 for study in the field of petroleum engineering, follows a policy of Magnolia to encourage, assist and recognize outstanding students in the fields of petroleum engineering, geophysics and geology.

Any student of petroleum engineering entering his senior year next Fall is eligible for this grant, and the recipient will be selected jointly by the college and the company.

More Than 1,500 Wells Producing In Trend Areas

The Spraberry Trend of the Midland Basin has more than 1,500 producing wells.

As of Saturday there were 1,504 oilers in the Trend's 30 widely separated fields, with the Tex-Harvey spot of Midland and Glasscock Counties accounting for 486 of the wells and the Drifter area listed with 270.

Twenty-eight new wells were added to the Trend during the six-day period ended Saturday.

New Oiler Fined In W-C Upton Field

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 21-129 McElroy Ranch Company recently was completed as a prolific flowing producer in the Wilshire-Ellenburger field of West-Central Upton County, 18 miles northwest of Rankin.

The new oiler was fined for a daily potential of 3,056 barrels of oil per day through a three-quarter-inch tubing choke and from open hole at 12,012-12,235 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 571-1 and tubing pressure was 860 pounds.

The well was completed natural. Gravity of the oil gauged 64.3 degrees.

Locations is 1,980 feet from west and 660 feet from north lines of section 126, block D, OCS&B&O survey.

It is at the northwest edge of the field.

WASHINGTON OIL— 'Coal-To-Gasoline' Cost Analysis May Touch Off Fireworks At NPA Session

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A new cost analysis of coal-to-gasoline plants may touch off a lively session of the National Petroleum Council Tuesday.

The analysis, prepared by Ebasco Services, Inc., New York research organization, under a $25,000 Interior Department contract, goes down the middle between earlier estimates of the petroleum council and Interior's Bureau of Mines.

The actual cost of production, says Ebasco, would be 11.4 cents a gallon, against the bureau's estimate of 10.2 cents, and the petroleum council's of 18.4 cents.

To handle such a venture on a commercial basis, a return of 16 per cent would be needed on equity capital, said the report. This would call for a selling price of 16 to 18 cents a gallon above present prices. The alternative to this is a government subsidy of $30 to $50 million a year, it was hinted.

The figure compares with a petroleum council estimate of 14.4 cents a gallon as needed to make the venture pay as a private, commercial enterprise.

Private financing—While the Ebasco report disagrees both with the petroleum council and the bureau of mines, the government accepts it as support for its case that the time is near, if not now, when a commercial-scale plant can operate under private financing.

On this point, however, the Ebasco report is blunt: "We do not believe it would be feasible to finance the project described in the Bureau of Mines report dated Oct. 25, 1951, with private capital under conditions prevailing at Jan. 1, 1951."

Sober or later, the issue of coal-to-gasoline plants is going to Congress and other government agencies in requests for approval. The Congress will want the facts. Until now, there were only two widely-apart reports; now there is a third, reputedly impartial one, that is said to be closer to Bureau of Mines ideas than the petroleum industry's.

Other developments on synthetic petroleum are in the hopper. A report to the Munitions Board is due shortly naming some 200-odd sites that have adequate coal, water, power, labor and market areas to support a 30,000 barrel a day coal-to-oil plant. Ford, Bacon and Davis is making the report under contract.

Pending with the Defense Production Administration is Secretary Chapman's nine-month-old request for up to $400 million in guarantee funds to support coal-to-oil ventures. The secretary's future course on pressing this request may be determined largely by the vigor with which members of the petroleum council defend their cost analysis, and find errors in Ebasco's.

Otherwise, the petroleum council meeting shapes up as a routine affair. The council has been asked and probably will agree to get up more details on underground and above ground storage.

Secretary Chapman, who also is Petroleum Administration of Defense, is to address the council. So are Bruce K. Brown, his deputy, J. Ed Warren, who is slated to become deputy PAD head on June 1; Brig. Gen. Alfred Johnson of the Munitions Board's petroleum committee, and Cornelius J. Dwyer, head of the petroleum section of the Mutual Security Agency, who is to outline what's ahead for petroleum under the foreign aid program.

A 25-year outlook of the worldwide supply-demand outlook is scheduled for a "late Spring" release by the White House level President's Material Policy Commission.

As being published up now by Sidney S. Alexander of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the oil section of this report takes a dim view of supply over the long run. If issued as now drafted, the report might aid friends of coal-to-oil plants, of "feed use" controls, and of shutting in domestic production while emphasizing oil imports.

Operations of seven international petroleum companies are the subject of critical study by the Federal Power Commission staff.

The report carries a "secret" label, but the pressure is on for making it public. Senator Thomas C. Hennings, Jr. (D-Mo) wrote Chairman James Mead of the commission last week that the findings of the report should "be shouted from every roof top." If not, he said, he would like reason for keeping the report secret.

The Hennings letter came almost on the eve of the April 22 target date set by the commission for those opposing release to give their reasons. Presumably, the commission will decide shortly thereafter about it.

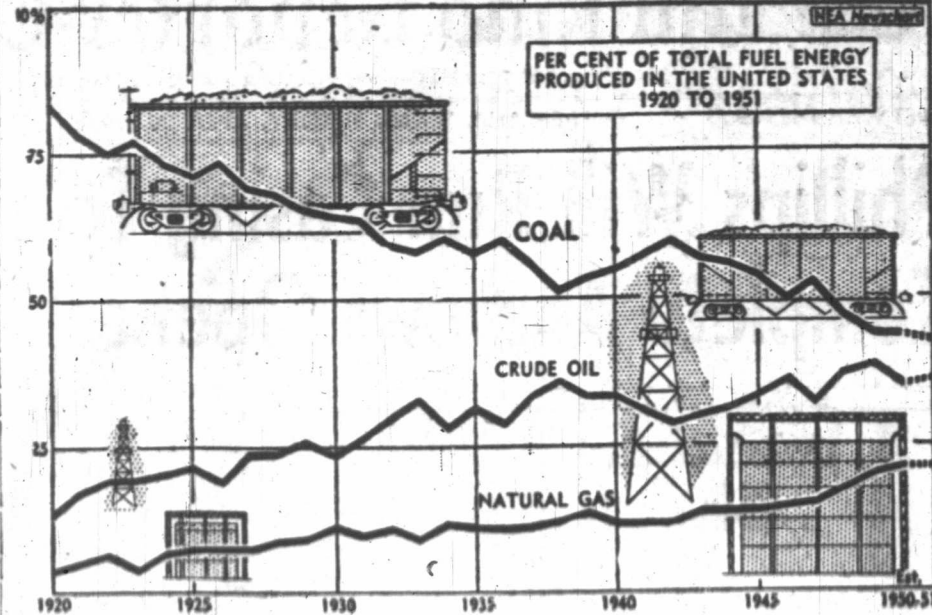

The State Department has warned that publication might inflame passions in the Middle East and Near East, but at least one assistant secretary of State is shifting to the other side.

As Hennings sees it, the report shows that oil companies "exploit the oil resources of the world in a monopolistic manner."

A go-ahead is being flashed by government for a proposed West Texas-California crude oil pipe line—West Coast Pipe Line Company of Dallas, is getting the approval. But hurdles are ahead. The company must prove it has the financing and crude to fill the line. Some bets are the company can't do this.

NAMED FOR SEAWEED—The Cape Verde islands received their name from the green seaweed which drifts into their numerous bays, not from the vegetation of the islands, which is very sparse.

FUEL REVOLUTION—"Now you're cooking with gas" is an expression with serious meaning to the fuel industry. For, as the accompanying chart shows, natural gas and oil have made startling inroads in the percentage of fuel energy supplied by coal three decades ago. While the proportion of energy produced by gas has expanded 400 per cent, and that of oil has increased 160 per cent, the proportion of coal energy production has been cut in half. Estimated production for 1951 shows coal's controlling hold on the industry slipping even further. It seems likely that this "fuel revolution" will continue in 1952 and future years.

Midland Rotarians Assume Top Role In Area Session

Members of the Midland Rotary Club will play a prominent role in the staging of the annual conference of District 183, Rotary International, opening Sunday in Odessa. The conclave will continue through Tuesday, with headquarters in the Lincoln Hotel.

District Gov. Percy F. Bridgewater of Midland will preside over the convention, and he and Mrs. Bridgewater will be guests of honor at various conference functions. W. Ily Pratt, a past president of the Midland Rotary Club, is co-chairman of the conference committee. He will call the conference to order Monday morning, and later will speak concerning "The Mexico City Convention."

Registration will open Sunday afternoon. A dinner is scheduled at 6 p.m., to be followed at 7:30 p.m. with a special service in the First Methodist Church. Primary sessions are slated Monday morning and afternoon and Tuesday morning in the Rio Theater. Luncheons are scheduled Monday and Tuesday, and the governor's banquet will be held Monday night.

A large delegation of Midland Rotarians and their Rotary-Anns, headed by Dr. J. O. Shannon, president, will attend the convention. Members of the Midland club are registered 100 per cent at the conference.

New Ward County Map Is Issued By Midland Concern

A new oil map of Ward County, Texas, has been issued by the Midland Map Company of this city. It gives fee, lease and mineral ownership of the lands in this county. It also shows all producing oil and gas wells, all dry holes, all drilling wells and all undrilled locations which have been reported. It also shows all towns, highways, and railroads. It is conventional size and scale of oil maps.

Top Of Line Corrected
That measurement also corrected the top of the Pennsylvanian lime which had previously been called at 5,428 feet to make that point 5,430 feet. Ground elevation is 2,928 feet.
A core was cut at 5,423-33 feet. Recovery was 10 feet of fossiliferous gray lime with a trace of porosity and a slight trace of oil staining.
Interval To Be Tested
The drillstem test which is up-coming is to be run at 5,420-33 feet. Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of W. Shirmacher survey No. 762, certificate No. 228, abstract No. 1911.

Superior Project Fails On DST Of Devonian Section

The Superior Oil Company No. 1-4-A University, wildcat in Central-North Andrews County was bottomed at 12,760 feet taking a drillstem test in the Devonian.
A previous test, from 12,735 to 12,750 feet, failed to develop shows of oil. With tool open one hour, recovery was 2,000-foot water blanket used and 240 feet of drilling fluid.
Operator cored from 12,750 feet to 12,760 feet. Recovery was 10 feet of dolomitic lime with some shows and very slight porosity.
No. 1-4-A University is 1,007 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 3, block 4, University survey and 10 miles northeast of Andrews.

Ellenburger DST Is Being Taken In SW Crockett

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Henderson, wildcat 25 miles southwest of Ozona and in Southwest Crockett County, was bottomed at 11,402 feet in the Ellenburger taking a drillstem test.
Operator has not released top on that formation.
The above test will be taken in the interval from 11,380 to 11,402 feet. This will be the second test since the Ellenburger was reached. The first did not develop oil.
Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 7, block 38, TC survey.

NE Reagan Field Gets East Offset

One location east of Wolfcamp production in the Seven D field of Northeast Reagan County, Kingwood Oil Company of Oklahoma City spotted location for No. 1 J. J. Hoff.
Contracted to 8,200 feet for tests of the Wolfcamp it will be dug 660 feet from north and west lines of section 138, Abstract 425, block 2, T&P survey.
It will be drilled on a 320-acre lease and 20 miles north of Big Lake.

Salt Water Found On Drillstem Test In C-N Culberson

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A Homer Cowden, wildcat in Central-North Culberson County, was drilling below 7,898 feet in line and a "bert" of an unidentified age after finding salt water on a drillstem test.
The formation was tested 7,700 to 7,771 feet. Open two hours and 34 minutes, recovery was 125 feet of gas-cut mud and 680 feet of salt water.
On the test, gas surfaced in 10 minutes. Volume was too small to measure.
Interested observers believe the formation tested to be Devonian, but no official call has been made on the age.

Location is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 12, block 63, T-3-N, T&P survey.
It is 10 miles east of Guadalupe Peak and about 25 miles southwest of Carlsbad, N.M.
Failure In Upton To Be Re-entered For Strawn Test
Oscar Bourg Drilling Company and Clark Development Company of Midland will re-enter Republic Natural Gas Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 2 University Lands and test a Strawn zone about 8,700 feet.
No. 2 University was plugged and abandoned on total depth of 11,260 feet in barren Ellenburger, however, it had showed gas at the surface and yielded 40 feet of heavily oil-cut mud and 508 feet of heavily gas-cut mud on a four-hour drillstem test of the Strawn from 8,558 to 8,600 feet.
Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 18, block 15, University land survey and six miles northeast of the Crockett pool in Central-South Upton County.

Wildcat Failures In Three West Texas Counties Plugged
Plugging for abandonment has been reported for two wildcat failures in Runnels County and for one each in Coke and Crockett Counties.
In East-Central Runnels County, six miles southwest of Crews and one mile northeast of McMillan field, Thomas D. Humphrey of Dallas No. 1 J. L. Elkins estate drilled to a dry bottom of 4,267 feet.
Had No Prospects
It did not report any prospects of making an oil or gas producer. Location was 330 feet from north and east lines of Nathan Travis survey No. 533, Abstract No. 449. It quit in lower Pennsylvanian.
No Commercial Signs
E. B. Fletcher of Dallas No. 1 Mittie Rives, 330 feet from north and east lines of a 40-acre tract in the T. J. Hardeman survey No. 334, in the northeast part of Runnels County, drilled to total depth of 4,486 feet. It did not find any commercial signs of oil or gas and has been abandoned.
It was four miles northwest of the Cires-Byers fields.
A Failure In Coke
In Southwest Coke County, Richard King, Jr. No. 1 A. R. Counts, drilled to 7,353 feet in dry Ellenburger. It has been abandoned.
Location was 2,173 feet from west and 467 feet from south lines of section 15, block W, T&P survey. It was four and one-half miles southeast of the Millican-Strawn field.
Elevation was 2,176 feet. Top of the Coleman Junction lime was at 3,540 feet; top of the Home Creek lime was at 5,330 feet; base of the Canyon, and top of the Strawn was at 6,640 feet; top of the Mississippian was at 7,085 feet and corrected top of the Ellenburger was at 7,194 feet, instead of 7,986 feet, as had previously been reported.
Crockett Test Plugged
In Central-North Crockett County, 16 miles southwest of Big Lake, Lion Oil Company No. 1 Neal, old shallow failure at 7,429 feet, which was deepened to 9,810 feet in the Ellenburger, has been plugged and abandoned.
It did not find any shows of possible production in any of the new sections it penetrated.
Made Only Water
The Ellenburger made only salty, sulphur water. Top of that formation was at 9,555 feet. Elevation is 2,600 feet.
Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 68, block BB, TCR survey. It was three and one-half miles east of the shallow Crockett field.

SW Borden Wildcat Gets Salt Water In Pennsylvanian DST
Baker & Taylor Drilling Company of Amarillo No. 1 W. D. Johnson, wildcat in Southwest Borden County, is waiting on orders after taking two drillstem tests in the Pennsylvanian reef lime.
Operator ran a test over the interval at 8,309-8,334 feet. Tool was open two hours. There was a steady flow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 500 feet of salt water and 135 feet of salty mud.
Had Salt Water
The second drillstem test was from 8,450 to 8,470 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 7,200 feet of salt water and there was a strong flow of air throughout the test.
Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 41, block 32, T-5-N, T&P survey and 19 miles southwest of Gall. That makes it one and three-quarter miles northwest of Don Ameche No. 1 W. D. Johnson, wildcat, failure on total depth of 9,734 feet.
Baker & Taylor No. 1 Johnson is on a farm out from Continental Oil Company.

NE Sutton Wildcat Swabs Oil And Mud From Pennsylvanian
W. P. Luce and C. B. Renaud No. 1 J. P. Relye, Northeast Sutton County wildcat, recovered oil and mud on swabbing tests through casing from the Pennsylvanian sand.
The fluid recovered was an emulsion which was cut from 10 to 50 per cent with oil. The swab was pulled one time each hour for an unreported length of time. Amount of fluid recovered was not reported. The project is still being swabbed. Location is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 13, block A, GWT&P survey.
Texaco Is Testing Pennsylvanian Reef In Scurry Wildcat
Slightly more than one mile east of Pennsylvania Canyon production in the Kelley-Snyder field of Scurry County, The Texas Company was swabbing to test the Canyon reef through perforations.
The interval being tested is from 6,844 to 6,968 feet. That set has been treated with 500 gallons of mud acid and 5,000 gallons of regular acid.
Operator reversed out acid load and was swabbing 80 per cent salt water at last report. The rest of the fluid was reported to be oil.
Location is 467 feet from south and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 498, block 97, H&TC survey and 12 miles north of Snyder.

Correct Fee Name, Location Listed For Hudspeth Test

The wildcat to be drilled in East Central Hudspeth County by Edwin W. Pauley of Los Angeles and associates is to be their No. 1-9 Gene Stillier, and not No. 1 Gene Stillier, as had previously been reported.
The project will be 1,650 feet from south and east lines of section 9, block 38, pel survey. The location previously reported through error was shown as 650 feet from south and east lines of section 9, block 38, pel survey.
The correct location is in the same quarter as the one originally reported—but at a slightly different point in the quarter.
The wildcat is 15 miles north and five and one-half miles east of Sierra Blanca. It is projected to 5,000 feet and will start soon.
Rotary tools will be used. The 5,000-foot destination is expected to take the wildcat through the Permian formations.

Sites For Two Nolan Prospectors Are Set

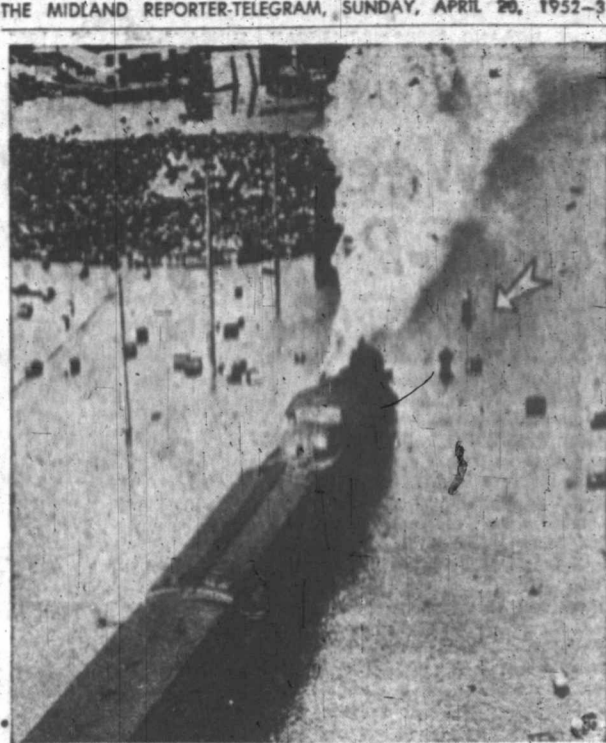

Drilling is to begin on two new wildcats in Nolan County immediately.
Rowan & Hope of San Antonio No. 1 E. H. Harkins is to be a 6,000-foot prospector in Central-North Nolan County. It is one mile west of Sweetwater and two miles north-east of the Rowan & Hope-Canyon reef oil field.
The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 40, block 22, T&P survey.

Stanolind Finals Drinkard Opener In SE Lea Field

HOBBS, N. M.—Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 11-X-A-1 State as a pumping discovery from the Drinkard in the Hobbs field of Southeast Lea County.
Operator reported a daily potential of 65 barrels of oil plus 84 barrels of water. Production on the potential test was from perforations at 6,380-6,988 feet.
Completion came after the pay section had been treated with 20,000 gallons of acid.
Location is 890 feet from north and 2,030 feet from west lines of section 4-19-38e.
Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr. No. 1-A State, project in Central-East Lea County, has plugged back to 7,580 feet for tests in the lower Drinkard and set and cemented seven-inch casing at 7,580 feet.
This operation came after the wildcat was drilled to total depth of 9,724 feet in granite. The Ellenburger was topped at 9,580 feet and granite was found at 9,695 feet. Elevation is 3,576 feet.
A drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 9,605-9,724 feet, with tool open one hour, developed 1,390 feet of salt water with no shows of oil or gas.
Operator will perforate casing and test the section from 7,340 to 7,580 feet where it had some free oil in a drillstem test.
No. 1-A State is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 21-20e-38e and nine miles south of Hobbs.
Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr. No. 1 Kornegay, wildcat in Central-East Lea County, has been plugged back to 4,870 feet and will make production tests of the San Andres.

This test was drilled to 9,505 feet in Devonian which failed to show for possible production. It also was barren in the Pennsylvanian.
Operator will make production tests from 4,470 to 4,570 feet. The wildcat had some shows of possible production in that zone.
No. 1 Kornegay is about three miles southwest of the House field which is the nearest San Andres production.
Drillsite is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 21-20e-38e and nine miles south of Hobbs.
Sweetman, Farnell and Aday No. 1 DeSpain is to be drilled as a 4,000-foot cable tool wildcat in Torrance County. Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 12-6n-6e.
J. Taylor No. 1 Smith is to be dug as a granite test in Guadalupe County. Location has been staked 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 15-7n-22e. It will be dug with rotary tools.
Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-AC State is to be dug as a one-half-mile west stepout to production in the Saunders field of Central-West Lea County. Drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 9-15d-33e. It is to drill to 9,760 feet to test for production in the regular Pennsylvanian pay of the field.
The Texas Company has staked two long stepouts to its No. 1 Moore, recently completed Devonian discovery in Northwest Lea County.

Three-quarters of one mile to the southwest, the concern will drill No. 1-B0 State. It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 24-11s-32e. It will try for production in the Devonian found by No. 1 Moore.
One-half mile south of No. 1 Moore, Texaco will dig No. 1-BN State. It is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 20-11s-32e.
Sunray Oil Corporation No. 4 Maggie Caylor is to be drilled as an Abo project in the area of Central-East Lea County recently opened by Shelly Oil Company No. 9-0 State. It is 660 feet from east and 1,985 feet from north lines of section 6-16e-37e.
In the same area, Sunray No. 3 Maggie Caylor was completed from the Abo for a daily flowing potential of 324 barrels of 40-gravity oil from perforations at 8,390-8,440 feet. Completion was natural. The flow was gauged on a 17/64-inch tubing choke.
Location is 660 feet from north and 665 feet from west lines of section 6-17s-37e.
Atlantic Refining Company spotted locations for two prospectors in the Denton-Devonian pool of Central-East Lea County.
The firm's No. 4-T State is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2-15s-37e.
No. 3 Dickenson is 660 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of section 12-15s-37e.
Both are contracted to 12,750 feet.
Fred Bond No. 1 G. G. Isom, wildcat in Eddy County has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 1,004 feet, elevation 3,138 feet. It was drilled 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 24-21s-27e.
Keohane-Saunders No. 3-B C. E. Hinkle, another Eddy County wildcat, will not be drilled. Operator announced intention to drill several weeks ago, but abandoned the location before equipment was moved in. Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of section 27-18s-31e.

After extending testing, The Texas Company has abandoned its No. 1-AZ State, wildcat in Central-West Lea County. This prospector had some shows of oil in the Wolfcamp, but could not be finalized as a commercial producer. It was abandoned after plugging back 5,290 feet. Location was 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 20-14s-32e.

How you can make a profit of $27,295,971 and go in the hole!

1. According to our accountants, Union Oil made a net profit during 1951 of $27,295,971. If this bookkeeping profit represented the company's actual "take" our 33,347 common share owners would be overjoyed. But after paying dividends of $11,444,259, we actually ended up on the minus side of the ledger to the sum of $7,534,000 in working capital.
2. Here's the reason: In 1951 we had to spend $82,421,000 for replacement of worn-out equipment and oil properties and to enlarge our facilities to meet the greatly increased demand in the West for petroleum products. This money came from three sources.
3. $40,281,000 of it came from the "depreciation and depletion" allowance. (The sums a corporation sets aside each year to replace equipment and oil properties when they're worn out.) $14,606,000 of it was made up out of profits. $7,534,000 of it was taken from working capital—the "checking account" a business keeps on hand for day-to-day expenditures.
4. We obviously can't keep dipping into our working capital indefinitely and stay in business. For if we do we'll eventually run out of money to carry our receivables, inventories, etc., and pay our daily operating expenses. That's why something has to be done about a situation that affects not only us but every U. S. corporation.
5. Briefly it is this: The sums the tax collector allows you to set aside for depreciation and depletion are based on what things cost when you acquired them—not what it costs to replace them today. Since these depreciation funds aren't adequate to replace equipment and oil properties at today's prices, we have to make up the difference somewhere—or go out of business.
6. On top of this, extremely heavy taxes on corporate earnings make it almost impossible to retain enough profits to make up the difference. So we have to take it from working capital. That's why we must have a tax policy that will permit corporations to earn enough for the replacement and expansion necessary to maintain the productivity and economic growth of the nation.

TATOM RECOUNT EARLY DAY EXPERIENCES

Two-Week Job Lasts 35 Years For T&P Telegraph Operator

By CONNIE MOYNIHAN
Reporter-Telegram Staff

In 1918, the United States Army discharged a young fellow for a physical disability claiming that he would be unable to stand the rigors of Army life. So the young fellow came out of uniform and went to work for the Texas and Pacific Railroad and for the past 35 years has not missed a day's work.

That young fellow of 1918 is William C. Tatom, Midland telegrapher for the T&P.

Tatom was born in San Angelo where his father was a rancher. When he was about ten years old, his family moved to the area now known as Monahans.

As a youngster he began to hang around the railroad station and became friends of the telegraphers there. Gradually he learned the Morse code and, although he was working as a cowpuncher for his father, he became adept in sending and receiving messages in his spare time.

When America entered World War I, Tatom went into the Army Signal Corps because of his knowledge of the Morse code. Army doctors decided that he did not have the necessary stamina to stand up to military service. In 1918, he received a medical discharge.

He returned to his home in Monahans, with the intention of resuming his work as a rancher. At that time, the flu epidemic was rampant throughout the country and the T&P telegraph operator at Pecos was taken sick. The agent at Monahans hired Tatom as telegrapher at Pecos for two weeks to fill in for the sick regular operator. Tatom has been with the railroad ever since.

For the last 33 years he has been at Midland and in his own words, "I haven't missed a single day's work due to sickness." He said that about 20 years of the work was seven days a week, and holidays were just another day in the week.

Tatom is married and makes his home at 1700 College street. The Tatoms have one son, W. C. Tatom, Jr., who is a junior in Midland High School.

During his 35 years of railroad-ing, he has had many interesting and exciting experiences, but one he remembers most vividly happened in 1921.

Operator Summoned

In those days, the only means of communication along the railroads from station to station was by telegraph. There were no telephones, and, when a wreck occurred, a telegraph operator was sent to the scene. He climbed a pole and tied into the telegraph line and thus kept the dispatchers office informed of the progress of cleaning up the wreck.

Tatom said that in January of 1921 a wreck occurred at Pecos. He was the telegrapher ordered to the scene. When he arrived, it was 2 a.m. and the temperature was hovering near the zero mark.

STILL ON THE JOB—William C. Tatom, veteran telegrapher of the Texas and Pacific Railroad, is shown hard at work in the Midland Railroad Station, a job he has held continuously for the last 35 years.

He stayed on the scene for three days with just a few cat-naps and, he said, "I nearly froze to death."

But the best part of that trip was the money he earned. At that time, a telegraph operator was paid $75 a month. But for those three days of continuous work, "I got a check for $75, as much as I would ordinarily earn in a whole month's work," Tatom said.

His duties now consist mainly of copying train orders from the dispatcher's office in Big Spring, and, what with telephones, union wages, and a shorter working week, he said, he feels that he is good for another 35 years.

In all of his years in the Midland office, Tatom said that the busiest times he had seen were during the years of the second World War from 1941 to 1945.

Orders Come Fast

With oil machinery and troops continuously moving by rail and orders from the dispatchers office flew thick and fast. He said that troop trains averaged about two extras a day through Midland. There were days when as many as ten extra trains passed over his section.

Tatom is eligible for retirement now, but still has four more years to serve the T&P in order to draw a full pension. He has not decided yet whether he will work out the next four years. He said he has a section of land about three and a half miles southeast of Midland. When the retirement day arrives, he plans to settle down to ranching that he had originally planned to do in 1918 when he took a job for two weeks with the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

the world oil market and industry. Most of these problems were overcome by 1946, including settlements and prompt cash payments to U. S. and British companies. But meanwhile production was stagnant. Old wells were running out. There was little new drilling and practically no exploration. It looked as though home needs, sparked by a huge road building program and the industrialization and modernization farming plans of the Aleman administration, would overtake production.

A conference of foreign and Mexican geologists here in 1948 predicted that the critical year would be 1950. A lot had to be done, and quickly.

The obvious solution was a U. S. loan. Mexico began negotiations, and late in 1948 a U. S. committee headed by Charles A. Wolverton (Rep.-N.J.) came here to investigate. The report was highly favorable; an efficient oil-producing neighbor seemed to the committee to be a necessary link in any national defense or hemisphere defense program. Mexico set the figure at $209,000,000.

The final result was obscured by charges, counter-charges, and diplomatic hush-hush. Apparently, at the suggestion of the U. S. State Department, two strings were tied to the projected loan: settlement of a $300,000,000 claim of the Sabalo Transportation Company, a U. S. firm that got $800,000 for its expropriated properties but filed for damages suffered from the cancellation of drilling rights and contracts; an open door for U. S. private operators to get back into Mexican oil.

Too Much For Mexico

Whatever the real strings, they were too much for Mexico. She curtly withdrew the loan application, and announced she would go ahead on her own in a more modest way. The five-year program was revised.

Pemex began spending scarce dollars—Mexico was expecting a post-war dollar shortage which eventually cut down the peso to about half its value—to bring in U. S. drilling crews and equipment. This operation proved to be too expensive and led to the next step—letting in foreign operators for a share of new oil discovered.

In his annual report on the fourteenth anniversary of expropriation March 18, Director General Antonio J. Bermudez, Pemex chief, called the new policy "a triumph for Mexican petroleum policy." Bermudez said the acceptance of the new drilling contracts by some Mexicans, but mostly by U. S. concerns "fully shows that the way to invest private capital in our petroleum industry is to do so in full accord with our laws."

He called the drilling contracts "attractive," and reported that 16 now are in operation. "The results are beginning to be apparent," Bermudez said, "not only in the valuable information the new drilling has provided, but in the additional production."

Bermudez reported five new fields were discovered in 1951. The gas fields of Trevino and Lomitas, in Northeast Mexico; the Tamiahua oil field in Vera Cruz; the Concepcion and Rabon Grande fields on the Tehuantepec Isthmus also oil producers; and the new Jose Colmo oil and distillate field near Chilapa, Tabasco state. The last one he termed "the most important of all."

Bermudez announced 24 producing fields have been discovered by Pemex in the last five years, and that 178 favorable structures have been located and await test drilling. He put the countries proven reserves at 1,424,000,000 barrels, a record high. Adding gas and distillate, he calculated the total hydrocarbon reserves at the equivalent of 1,799,860,000 barrels.

Midland Group To Attend West Texas Drug Meet

Midland is expected to have a good-sized delegation at the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association convention in Abilene next Thursday and Friday.

Lester Short, past president of the regional organization, estimated Saturday that as many as 10 Midlanders may go to Abilene.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Windsor Hotel. The opening ceremony is to start at 2 p.m. Thursday. Immediately following, two colored sound movies, sponsored by the Owens-Illinois Glass Company, will be shown. One pertains to displaying, merchandising and arranging of a drug store, and the other will show the process of manufacturing prescription bottles.

At 4 p.m., the original Dr. I. Q. program will be presented. That evening at 7 o'clock, is the first banquet, with a dance following at 9 p.m. and a breakfast at 1 a.m.

Friday holds another full day of activities with an address at 9:30 a.m. by H. C. Patterson, president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, and following him, Max Roesch, secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. At 11:30 a.m., visiting ladies will be feted with a luncheon in the Abilene Club at the Wooten Hotel.

In the afternoon the schedule shows, at 2 p.m. Walter R. Moses, federal pure food and drug administrator, will speak to be followed by Inspector for the State Board Pharmacy Al Raethel. Again at 4 p.m. another gala program will be presented with prizes.

The President's Banquet and Dance is set at 9 p.m. with a breakfast to follow at 1 a.m.

U. S. Lifts Controls On Use Of Rubber, Effective April 21

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Saturday announced the removal of almost all controls on the use of natural and synthetic rubber, effective April 21.

But the door was left open for a quick clampdown should the nation's rubber stockpile fall dangerously low or prices skyrocket again.

Provision also was made to guarantee that government-built synthetic rubber plants are kept operating at peak so they can shift readily into emergency production if necessary.

The National Production Authority, in announcing the end of the 10-year-old restriction on how much rubber may be used in each product, said this removes the last World War II allocation control.

The government's action "will provide relatively free competition between natural and synthetic rubber," said Henry H. Fowler, NPA administrator, in a statement.

"The natural rubber supply in the United States," he said, "now enables us to lift all the restrictions on the consumption of natural rubber with the exception of pale and sole crepe, which remain in short supply."

"Pale crepe" and "sole crepe" are types of dry natural rubber produced from natural latex and used in tires, shoes, shoe soles, wetting and wrappers.

Georgian Elected ASNE President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Wright Bryan of the Atlanta Journal Saturday was elected president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, succeeding Alexander P. Jones of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald-Journal.

Delegates to the ASNE annual meeting, which closed here Saturday, elected five directors, of whom two were new to the board—J. Russell Wiggin, managing editor of the Washington Post, and Felix R. McKnight, managing editor of the Dallas Morning News.

Texan Admits Staging Gunless Bank Holdup

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(AP)—A 26-year-old Alford, Texas, man told officers he staged the gunless holdup of a downtown bank.

Police Chief Ed Reeves said Leland Harold Veach signed a statement saying he pulled the daring $11,140 robbery Thursday. He was arrested 20 minutes later as he sat sipping beer in a cafe just around the corner from the bank.

Reeves said Veach told him he was almost penniless and needed money to rejoin his wife and two children now living in Drumright, Okla.

Judge Mixes Horse Sense, Law To Free Five Newsmen

LAKE CHARLES, LA.—(AP)—A judge who says he likes to "mix a little horse sense with the law" made a board defense of freedom of the press Friday in an opinion freeing five Lake Charles newsmen of defamation charges.

New Orleans Judge J. Bernard Cocks, who tried the highly publicized defamation case in the absence of the regular district judge last December, restated several of the principles in his 181-page decision.

He began with the observation that "any citizen or newspaper has the right to criticize the public acts of officials. Without that right, we would have a dictatorial form of government and the discussion of important public issues would be only such as might be permitted by those holding authority."

Cocks said it "rebounds to the public good" to have issues laid before it by newspaper comment on subjects of public interest.

"The general law relating to slander and libel, as well as the Louisiana defamation statute, clearly protects that right."

"In some cases, the mere exercise of the right of criticism of public officials might naturally dispense such public officials a x x nevertheless, the right to criticize may be exercised and a discussion of the contrary beliefs may well rebound to the benefit of the general public, x x x The public expression of differences in opinions is something to be expected and encouraged in a democracy."

Black Gold Flows In Williston's Wheat

WILLISTON, N. D. — (NEA) — It was Friday the thirteenth, July 13, 1951. There was a hot sun beating down on Newell Berry's wheat fields in Dawson County, Mont. What happened in a corner of his 4,000 sun-swept acres on that lucky day may change men's lives for years to come.

Northern Pacific No. 1 came in. That means oil. On that first day, 1,888 barrels flowed out, black gold gushing up from the ground that had known only the hoofbeats of Indian ponies and the rumble of Berry's diesel-driven combine.

To Berry and his neighbors the discovery meant a slight easing of their total dependence on wheat and their great fear of a wheat-billing drought. To geologists, it meant added proof that the famous Williston Basin was a vast, untapped source of crude oil.

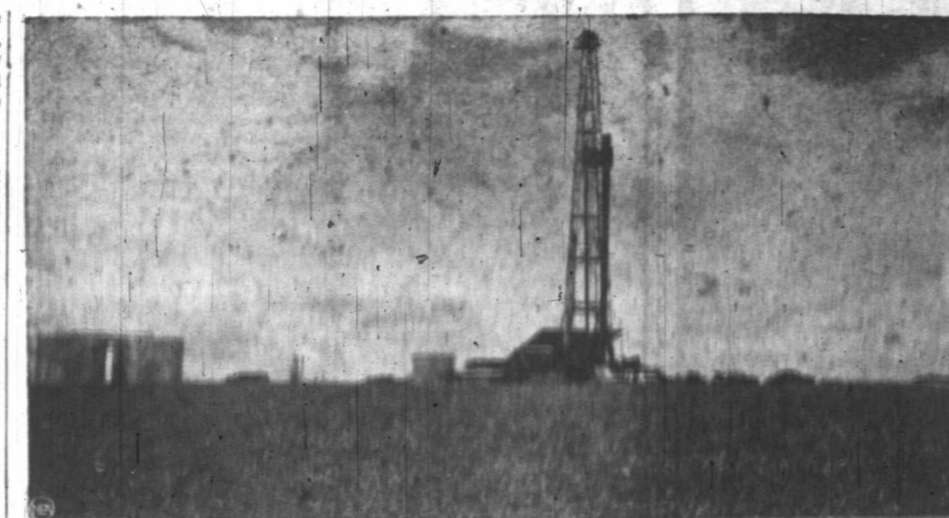

It meant most to America, however. It meant strength. Oil is possibly the most vital natural resource, vital both to a civilian economy and to the machinery of war. Oil in the Williston Basin is another powerful weapon in the arsenal of democracy.

35 miles from Williston, N. D., the center of the basin. Since then, Amerada's stock, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, has gushed from 94 to a high of 234. It went up 11 points that first day.

Alfred Jacobsen, Amerada's president, compares the Williston area to a saucer. Viewed as a cross-section, it's deeper in the center and slopes upward at the edges. Around the rim of the saucer, the deposits are so shallow that there are often outcroppings of oil-bearing rock on the surface.

"The area," says Jacobsen, "is not defined by a line, where you can say here is the Williston Basin and here is not. There's no place where you can have your right foot in oil and your left foot out."

It's such an indefinite area that the rolling Williston Basin country is dotted with dozens of "dry wells." Hundreds of thousands of dollars were poured into wells which didn't produce, even though they are in the basin. But each non-productive effort contributed something to the overall geological knowledge of the area.

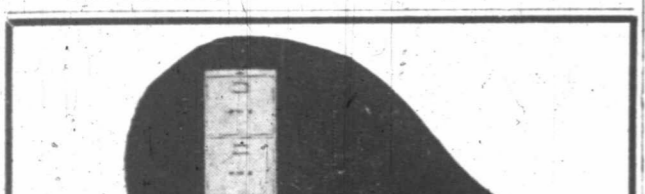

Tall grows the derrick of Northern Pacific No. 1, looming high over Newell Berry's wheat fields in Dawson County, Mont. Around the 136-foot rig, Berry keeps on growing his wheat.

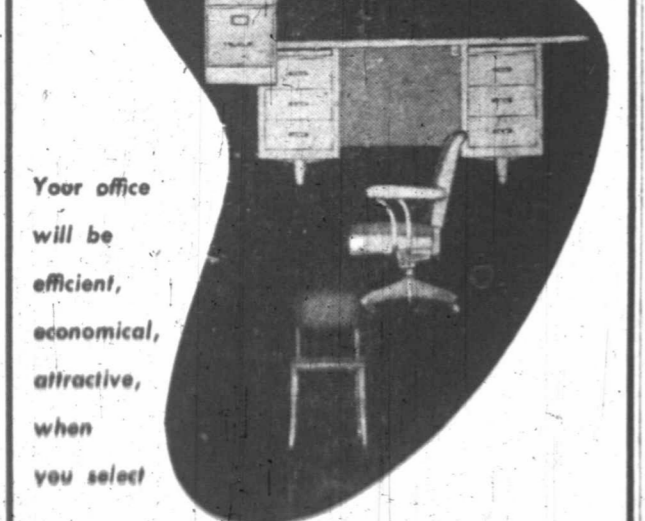

But the basinites weren't unloading wildly; one man sold just enough of his mineral rights to give him the $6,000 he needed for a new barn. Nevertheless, more than 80 per cent of North Dakota is currently under lease, with the oil companies' lease-seeking land men bidding furiously against each other.

Most of the basin is divided into farms. There are no huge one-man tracts like existed in Louisiana, where a timber company owned 200,000 acres that proved to be oil land.

Boomtown Editor Ben M. Larsen sees success of Northern Pacific No. 1 well making his town of Circle, Mont., an oil center.

Boom gusher for Williston Basin was this first well, brought in a year ago near Tioga, 35 miles from Williston, N. D.

60 Editors Name Ike Most Likely Next President

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was named Saturday as the "most likely" next President of the United States, in a straw poll of 61 newspaper editors.

Eisenhower also finished first in balloting on a second question: Who is your personal first choice? Members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors voted by secret ballot, while attending a breakfast conducted by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Eisenhower received 60 votes for "most likely," next President with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) was runner-up with 13 votes.

Others named in balloting on this question were Senator Russell (D-Cal.), three votes; Gov. Earl Warren of California, two; and President Truman, Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Averell Harriman, one each.

On the matter of the editors' personal choice, 79 editors voted: 31 for Eisenhower, 24 for Taft, seven for Russell, four for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, three each for Kefauver and Warren, two for Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.), and one each for Senator Mundt (R-SD), Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), Speaker Rayburn, Paul Hoffman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

With The Services— Wounded Midlander Arrives In States

Sgt. 1/C Charles Williams, son of Mrs. G. W. Williams, 1211 Camp Street, arrived in San Francisco Friday aboard a hospital ship after several months' Army service in Korea.

Sergeant Williams telephoned his mother an arm wound he suffered in combat is healing. He will be flown to an Army hospital nearest to his home.

Marine Sgt. James E. Dickinson, husband of Mrs. Carolyn Joy Dickinson, 204 East Estes Avenue, Midland, has been released to inactive duty by the Marine Corps at San Diego, Calif.

Dickinson was recalled by the Marines in October, 1950, and, since his recall to active Marine service, has served with the First Marine Division in Korea as a forward observer for a 4.2 inch mortar unit. He served previously in the Marines from March, 1949, to March, 1950.

Pfc. Ferrel D. Waddle, 1309 North Colorado Street, Midland, was with U. S. forces which routed the "aggressor" army to conclude Exercise Long Horn in Central Texas on April 9.

His unit, the First Armored Division, formed the spearhead of the U. S. force that drove the "aggressor" across the Colorado River, completing the destruction of the invading "enemy" two days ahead of schedule.

LANDS SAKES!
WITHOUT ADVERTISING,
WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good value. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Who Would I Be?

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, came out on the porch of the monkey house. For a minute he looked way down on the ground and along the Elephant Path. He didn't see anybody to play with so he went over to sit in the swing beside Daddy Ringtail.

Daddy Ringtail was reading his newspaper, but he put it down when he saw that Mugwump was wanting to talk. Daddy Ringtail listened, and Mugwump said: "Daddy Ringtail, who would I be if I weren't me?"

Daddy Ringtail smiled and said: "You mean to say: 'Who would I be if I weren't I?'"

"Nossir," Mugwump answered, "I wasn't talking about you. I want to know who I would be if I were somebody else!"

Daddy Ringtail said he knew what it was that Mugwump was saying, but the way to say it was: "Who would I be if I weren't I?"

"Oh!" said Mugwump, and then he waited for Daddy Ringtail to think about the answer to the question.

"Just who would Mugwump be if you were somebody else? Who would anybody be if they were not the people they are? It was quite a problem, you see. Mugwump saw it. So did Daddy Ringtail.

Mugwump wondered if maybe he would be a lion. Daddy Ringtail said:

"Yes, it was quite a problem, but Mugwump decided he would rather be just who he was—he would rather be Mugwump Monkey than anyone else he knew.

"Oh my yes, he was sure about it, and it's just as well that he was sure. Everyone should be glad to be the one he is, because that is who everyone will always be.

"Yessir," said Mugwump, "I'm happy that I am who I am, and I'm going to do the very best job I can of being me to make me proud of myself. Yessir. That's what I'll do." flappy day.

no, he didn't think that Mugwump Monkey would be a lion, even if Mugwump weren't Mugwump.

"Maybe an elephant?" Mugwump suggested.

"No," Daddy Ringtail answered. "Not an elephant."

"Maybe a bird or a fish or even a people boy?"

Daddy Ringtail smiled to hear all this, but again he shook his head from side to side in the way that

BUFFALO, N.Y.—(AP)—The cub is six months old now and doesn't know its own strength.

For this reason, Mrs. Sidney Lewin thinks she made a wise decision in sending the little lion to the zoo. She said Sheba was given to her son, Donn, a professional wrestler, while he was "campaigning" in Texas in December.

Donn and his wife, Harriet, used to take Sheba out for walks on a leash. At home, the "kitten" would play with their German shepherd dog. But Mrs. Lewin thought the cub was getting too big to play with her 18-month-old grandson.

Another New Town Springs Up In Midland Territory

Another new town has sprung up in the Midland area. It is the town of Bigby, located approximately 25 miles southeast of Midland, or about 12 miles east of Hadoac Corner. Bigby was named for J. A. (Shorty) Bigby, who owns a large ranch in the area.

Presently located at Bigby are a cafe, filling station, a modern trailer park and a grocery store. Bigby now boasts of 40 residents, most of whom are oil and water haulers, welders and construction men. Two construction companies are located at Bigby.

BIG 12 OFFICIALS—A series of important executive changes have been announced by the Big 12 Corporation of Dallas. Three men who have had wide experience in the drug field now are associated with the corporation in executive capacities. Pictured above, are Richard L. Brown, center, president and general manager; H. B. Bickers, left, chairman of the board, and L. H. Towner of Houston, advertising consultant. Towner also operates the Majestic Advertising Agency, which formerly handled the Hadoac account. Big 12 plans to market and merchandise a number of proprietary remedies.

Social Security Benefits Higher On Current Claims

Social security benefits for many people now filing claims will generally be higher. Jack Calvert, manager of the Odessa social security office, said Saturday. "Payments to a retired worker will range between $20 and $50 monthly with the average expected to be around $50 to $60."

Calvert explained that the amendments to the Social Security Act passed in 1950 provided for a year and a half of work after 1950. The new benefit formula bases the social security benefit on the average monthly wage beginning January 1, 1951, instead of averaging the wage all the way back to January 1, 1937. In most cases the wages during 1951 and 1952 have averaged one per month more than during the past 15 years, and a higher social security benefit results.

Calvert pointed out that this is not an automatic increase for people already receiving benefits. Their rate will stay the same unless they are under 75 and should return to work for about a year and a half to requalify under the new formula.

During 1952 they may be a difference in the benefit amount depending on when the application is filed, Calvert said. He urged everyone who is 65 or over and who plans to retire in 1952 to consult the social security office for the figures applying to his case. He can then decide when would be the best time for him to file his application. In the case of self-employed people retiring this year, their benefits will generally be lower if they apply for benefits before January 1, 1953.

WOULDN'T TREAT

In 1775, James Madison, who later became President of the United States, refused to treat the electors to rum and punch, after the custom of the time, and consequently was not reelected to his state convention.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The market was strong and active on all classes of cattle at Midland Livestock Auction Company sale Thursday. Butcher cattle were up $1 to $2 a hundred from the week before. Four hundred and thirty head were consigned.

Fat calves and yearlings were bid from $30 to $34.50, mediums $27 to $30, commons and culls $20 to $27. Fat cows drew $21 to $24, mediums $19 to $21, canners and cutters $15 to $19. Fat bulls auctioned for $23 to $25.50 and light bulls for $20 to $22.

Stocker steer calves, no good or choice kinds offered, cleared at $30 to $34, and medium grade heifer calves for $25 to $32. Hereford cow and calf pairs sold for $175 to $200. Mixed breed steer yearlings brought $24 to $27.50 and mixed heifer yearlings $22 to $26. Fifty-six hogs ranged up to $17 cwt.

Texas home demonstration club women will join in the observance of the seventh National Home Demonstration Week, April 27 to May 3, announced Maurine Hearn, state home demonstration leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The theme, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World," was adopted for the first national week in 1946 and now is accepted as the theme for home demonstration work. Home demonstration work is that part of the Extension Service that deals with the home. Of the 3,107 counties in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, 2,565 counties employ one or more home demonstration agents and assistants, a total of 3,600. Of this number, 255 are in Texas.

During the week the more than 41,000 Texas members in 2,023 home demonstration clubs will observe the week by informing the public on the work offered by the organization. Special effort will be made to organize new clubs and obtain new members in old clubs.

W. B. Hamilton, a former mayor of Wichita Falls and a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has been elected president of the Texas-Oklahoma Hereford Breeders Association. Other new officers include Moss Patterson, vice president; Earl Burch, secretary, and Alf M. Miller, treasurer.

Re-inauguration of Texas' most famous race, the Texas Derby, has been announced by the Texas Horse Breeders Association, with headquarters at Big Spring. The Derby, planned on a modest scale, will be the feature race on the Friday, May 16, program of the "Texas Futurity" meet which will be held in San Angelo May 10, 16 and 17.

During the racing heyday in Texas, the Texas Derby was its most famous attraction, with the nation's top three-year-olds competing in it each year.

The revised version already has attracted some of the best of the current crop of Texas three-year-olds and handicapping restrictions to limit the field apparently will be needed.

Forecasts, based on surveys and actual egg bed counts indicate that grasshoppers will not be a threat to cropland and pastures in Texas this year. In only a few spots were enough eggs found to rate the areas as threatening, says Allen C. Gunter, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The areas are small and are found in the upper northwest Panhandle; in the Trinity bottoms of Ellis and Kaufman counties; in Hill, Falls, Milam, Robertson and Washington Counties along the Brazos River. In these areas farmers should watch for the early hatches and if the young hoppers show up in large numbers, they should be controlled before they leave the egg bed areas, says Gunter.

Other counties in these same general areas may expect light infestations and some damage is possible. Serious damage develops in the fall if the weather is hot and dry.

Gunter advises farmers and ranchmen that control measures, if needed, should be used before the grasshoppers leave the egg beds and scatter. Wiping out this year's hatches will reduce the chances for major outbreaks next year, points out the specialist, and from this standpoint, the use of control measures is justified.

A workshop on Home Grounds Improvement will be held at Texas A&M, April 28 and 29. Sadie Hatfield, homestead improvement specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, announced. This is the first such event to be held at College Station. Homestead improvement problems will highlight the program.

Miss Hatfield says method demonstrations will be used in the workshop and "talk" will be held to a minimum. Those attending will be divided into groups for the several programs that will be going on at the same time.

Generally the program will include information on selection, planting and care of shrubs, lawns, trees, flowers, recreation and outdoor equipment, safety around the homestead and making corsages and flower arrangement.

Committee members have been named to stage the Sixth Annual Hardin-Simmons University Intercollegiate Rodeo to be held in Abilene Thursday through Saturday.

More than 125 cowboys and cowgirls from a dozen western colleges and universities have been invited to the big three-day affair, which will be held in the Carl Myers Memorial Arena on the western outskirts of the campus.

Serving on the grounds committee are Bob Berry, Anson, chairman; Don Smith, New Home; Wade Burroughs, Burkett; Pierre Muller, El Paso; Don Logan, Lamesa; Melvin J. Millan, Yeso, N. M.; Joe Simpson, Spur; Charlie Rushing, Abilene; David Ray, Abilene; Herschall Shuttlesworth, Troup; Bob Boyd, Anson; and Jack Smarrt, Abilene.

On the prize committee are Bill Guest of Abilene, president of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, and Harold Wicker, Pecos, president of the H-SU Rodeo Association.

Teachers Get Pay Raises In Andrews

ANDREWS—Teachers of the Andrews Independent School Board have received a cost-of-living bonus and pay raise for the 1952-53 term. M. O. Woolam, high school principal and teacher in the Andrews school system for the past 12 years, has been elevated to the office of assistant superintendent, leaving a vacancy for principal for the coming year.

This year the teachers will receive a bonus of $200 which will be distributed in the remaining pay checks this term.

Other employees at the schools also will receive the bonus.

A pay increase of $600 for beginning teachers was authorized by the board for next year's basic salary. It will raise the beginning teachers salary from $2,800 to $3,400.

Salaries of teachers other than beginners will be adjusted upward accordingly.

Salary adjustments for the next year for the school administrator, coaches and band instructors will be set at a later meeting of the school board.

Andrews County Fair Planned In October

ANDREWS—October 3 and 4 are the dates selected for the annual Andrews County Fair, announced E. L. Hurley, president of the Andrews County Fair Association.

Mrs. J. A. Roach has been named general fair chairman, and Mrs. Gene Irwin will serve as treasurer. I. C. Millikan, county agent, and Gordon Cox will be in charge of agriculture entries. J. A. Roach will head the booth building committee.

be Delton Galloway, Peacock; Charlotte Lamb, Olney; and Billie Ray, Archer City.

Pre-Trial Parleys, Oral Instructions Urged For Judges

DALLAS (AP)—Trial judges in Texas should make more use of pre-trial conferences and the common-law performance of oral instructions, a State Supreme Court justice said Saturday.

The speaker, Associate Justice Clyde E. Smith, declared, "The trial judge must constantly retain his position as the only lawyer in the trial of a law suit who is personally disinterested in the outcome of the case."

Justice Smith spoke to a group of lawyers at a meeting honoring State Supreme Court justices.

It was sponsored by the Dallas Bar Association and the Southwestern Legal Foundation.

Other justices attending included Chief Justice John E. Hickman and Associate Justices Few Brewster, John H. Sharp, Meade Griffin and Will Wilson.

"The only purpose of any law suit," Judge Smith told the lawyers, "is to ascertain the truth and justice of any given situation."

"It happens too often this ancient approach has been disregarded and that law suits degenerate into fight between attorneys who are so interested in their clients and winning that justice and right become secondary."

Cattlemen Turn To Safer Subject In Annual Contest

MADISONVILLE (AP)—The Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association Saturday announced the subject of its annual letter-writing contest. It's less wacky than usual.

"Why I Would Like to Live in Texas" was announced as the winning entry in a preliminary contest to name the subject of the contest itself. The title was suggested by Sgt. Charles E. Rogers of Shreveport, La. He will get a pair of $75 handmade cowboy boots and a Western style hat.

Those who want to try for the big prize—which usually includes a tour of Texas sights and some special honors at the association's big barbecue and rodeo June 8—now can write their letters. Entries for the contest must be postmarked not later than May 30 and addressed to the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen, Madisonville, Texas.

Training Wing Called To Duty

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' 904th Reserve Training Wing will be called to active duty for two weeks, May 4-18 inclusive, the Air Force announced Saturday.

Col. Jerry W. Davidson of Fort Worth, commanding officer, in announcing the tour of active duty, said some 164 officers, airmen and WAF's will be called.

They will report to Hensley Field, Dallas, for the two weeks of duty on their regular jobs.

'Friendship Doll' Given To Daughter Of Texas Jet Ace

BORGER (AP)—The eight-year-old daughter of a Texas jet ace missing in action in Korea was given a "doll of international friendship" by the seventh District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Friday.

Mary Margaret Davis, daughter of Major George A. Davis of Lubbock, missing in action in Korea since February, stole the show from more experienced speakers when she was given the doll at the federation's convention.

A Madame "babe" of Paris, France, sent the little, red-caped doll to Mrs. U. L. Wylie of Matador last year, asking that it be given to a daughter of a Korean veteran.

More than 400 women are attending the three-day convention. It ended Saturday.

Italy, Germany Sign 1955 Trade Agreement

It calls for the largest trade exchange the two countries have had since the war.

Former President Of Switzerland Dies

FRIBOURG, SWITZERLAND (AP)—Jean-Marie Musy, former president of Switzerland, died Saturday at the age of 76.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Tax-scandal clue disappears; Missing recording implied money paid to Nunan and Bolich; Bolich vigorously denied taking money.

WASHINGTON—House investigators have lashed it up, but a hot clue in the tax scandal mysteriously has disappeared. It is a secret recording of a telephone call from a Treasury informant, charging that ex-Internal Revenue Commissioner Joe Nunan and Assistant Commissioner Bolich were paid money in two tax cases.

The story was spread on the King's Committee's record when Bolich answered investigators' questions behind closed doors. Later he refused to talk at a public session on the grounds of self-incrimination. Under cross-examination by investigators, however, Bolich vigorously denied taking money but admitted knowing about the missing record.

This was a recording of a telephone conversation from a Treasury informant, who previously had tipped off T-Man Bert Young that Marlin Schwaeber, former law partner of ex-Congressman T. Vincent Quinn, had paid money to Nunan and Bolich. Quite recently, Quinn, a former high-ranking member of the Justice Department, was called before the King subcommittee and admitted intervening with the Treasury in 28 different tax cases while he was a member of Congress. He also admitted receiving revenue from his law firm at that time. Many legal experts consider this a violation of the law, although James McInerney, a friend of Quinn's and his successor as assistant attorney general, testified that the law was "fuzzy."

Quinn now is district attorney for Queens County, New York, where he is supposed to set an example for law enforcement.

After the Treasury tipster had repeated his charge over the telephone, a transcript of the conversation was put in Treasury files.

The alleged payment was supposed to have occurred while Nunan was still the nation's tax chief and before Bolich's promotion to the No. 2 spot in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Forgotten Record

"Now, it is the damndest thing in the world," blurted Bolich when the investigators sprung the story on him. "I had never thought of that thing from years ago until I am plastered with it . . . well, I mean, I had completely forgotten about the record."

"Do you have any knowledge of the disposition of that record?" snapped Chief Counsel Adlan De Wind.

"My recollection of what happened to the record, Mr. De Wind, is that it was left in the file case in the front office. It was a very small little disc, and it was put in an envelope and put in front there," recalled Bolich.

"When Mr. Young informed you of this matter with respect to the passage of money, did he mention any other individuals that were involved?" asked investigator Stanley Surrey.

"Yes, I mean, he also said that in this particular situation, he (Schwaeber) was going to give money to Commissioner Nunan," testified Bolich.

"I gather Mr. Nunan's reaction was that the informant was lying," remarked Surrey.

"Oh, yes," quickly agreed Bolich. "Did you ask Mr. Young as to his opinion of the reliability of this informant?" pressed Surrey.

"He said he had quite a bit of regard for him," admitted Bolich. Reconstructing the episode, the ex-tax official told in his own words how he learned of it.

Delicate Information

"I walked into Mr. Murphy's office, and Young walked off," he began. "And then Murphy told me that Mr. Young had just given him some information which was very delicate, and he wanted me to know it. He said, 'It involves you—meaning me. He said that Young had an informant who had told him that Mr. Schwaeber had said that he had given me money. It was supposed to be on two cases, the Circle Wire and Cable case and the Leary case.' At this point, Bolich turned nervously to the official stenographer and pleaded: 'This should be kept off the record for a moment, because what I said and how I expressed myself would not look good on the record.'"

But the stenographer continued to take down every word.

"Mr. Murphy's immediate reaction," continued Bolich, "was that it was a hell of a slander—because of three things. To use a figure of speech, the red lights were up on Mr. Schwaeber and had been up for a long time. In this particular case, the Circle Wire and Cable case, my attitude was one to push it to a grand jury so that we could make a complete investigation and it is possible come up with prosecution. In the other case, the Leary case, I had never had anything to do with the Leary Case."

Confidential Source

"I afterwards discussed it with Mr. Young and asked him if he could give me his source of information," added Bolich. "He said he couldn't because the fellow had sworn him to secrecy, and he had to be treated as a confidential source of information. Afterwards, Mr. Young came up with this record."

Bolich said he let the matter drop, never called Schwaeber on the carpet.

"What was the reason you decided not to talk to Schwaeber about this particular matter?" demanded Investigator Surrey.

"Because of Mr. Young's promise to his informant that he would not give him up," shrugged Bolich. "My immediate reaction to the story was that we should send for Schwaeber, and Young's reaction was that his opinion of Schwaeber.

"I don't have to tell you that I wasn't impressed with Schwaeber at all," declared Bolich. "That is, there was no count on the favorable side at all, but there was plenty on the unfavorable side."

Meanwhile, the House investigators would like to get hold of the missing record and listen to the mysterious telephone conversation.

Note—Queried by this column, Schwaeber admitted representing both the Circle Wire and Cable and the Leary tax cases, but denied that he had ever paid out money in any form to Nunan or Bolich.

"I swear by all that's holy that the story is absolutely, unequivocally without foundation," Schwaeber told this column.

Hospital Bonds Sold By Rankin

RANKIN—In the recent sale to Rankin, $300,000 in hospital bonds were sold for an average of 2.05456 per cent in the firms of Rawles Wilson Company of Houston and Dewar Robertson Company of San Antonio in a joint bid.

Under the terms of the sale, Upton County will have an option to redeem the 15-year bonds after seven years.

Ten companies submitted bids. Following the sale, the Commission's Court voted to levy a nine cent tax to service the bonds. However, the levy probably will be scaled down after the meeting of the Board of Equalization in July and all taxable values are on the roll. The nine cents had to be figured on the last year's valuation of $90 million, while this year the figure is expected to be around $50 million.

If you are planning to do any drapery or upholstery sewing, use the special threads that have been made expressly for that purpose. Slightly heavier than regular thread, they are fast in color and matched to the latest hues in home furnishing fabrics.

'No Business Like Show Business' Say Youthful Actors

LEFT—Bill Lees practices his part as reader for "Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves," the Spring production of the Children's Theater. The play will be presented Friday and Saturday in the City-County Auditorium. As the reader, Bill tells the background of the play and comments on the plot between scenes.

RIGHT—Jim Wilcox, as Ameer, registers the Arabic equivalent of "ouch!" as his mother, played by Janeda Wilcox, scolds him for talking to the beautiful slave girl, Morgiana. The slave girl is portrayed by Carol Chiles. In addition to its regular performances, the theater has scheduled a special presentation for Carver School students Thursday.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Jean Howard, S. A. Hartgrove

PECOS—Jean Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford S. Howard of Pecos, was married to Schultz Augustus Hartgrove of San Angelo April 13 in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Paul Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated over the double ring ceremony.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Travis E. Baker and the late Schultz A. Hartgrove.

Beverly Cochran, organist, played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. H. W. Martin who sang "I Love Thee" and "Because." Ann Coffey was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lucia Hartgrove, Jo Evelyn Ponville and the junior bridesmaid was Jane Bossman.

Attendees Listed
Laddie Linthicum of Barnhart was the best man. Candle lighters were Len Slaughter and Roland Hoyt of San Angelo. Groomsmen were Ronnie Mayer of Roswell and James M. Howard.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace with a high neckline of net. The bodice was accented with applique of lace and came to a point over the waistline. The bouffant skirt was scalloped at the bottom. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a circle of tiny seed pearls. She carried a white orchid on a white ribbon.

The bride's attendants wore identical ballerina length dresses of peach silk-organza. They carried colonial bouquets of roses and blue iris.

A reception was held in the Pecos Valley Country-Club. The bride's table was centered with the bridal cake flanked with white tapers.

Reception Held
"Those in the house party were Mrs. Lois Sherek, Mrs. Sid Slaughter, Mrs. S. A. Hartgrove, Lucia Walker, Dorothy Dean, Mrs. Wesley Hart, Mrs. Nat Ounter, Mrs. Oage Van Horn, Jr., and Mrs. D. W. Bossman.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico, Mrs. Hartgrove was wearing a navy blue suit and white accessories and a white orchid corsage. After the wedding trip the couple will be at home on the Hartgrove Ranch near Paint Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Baker of San Angelo gave a rehearsal dinner for the couple in the Steak House.

The tables were covered with white linen and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. Thirty guests attended.

Censoring Child's Books Won't Wipe Out Bad Ones

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
There was a certain studied insouciance in the manner of Meg's new friend, Penny, that made Meg's mother uncomfortable.

So she was not surprised the morning she discovered the book. It lay open on the bottom shelf of Meg's bedside table, and on its cover was printed the title and of a classic, famous as it is hardly under its author's name was the word "Un-expurgated."

In her child's sunny gingham-curtained bedroom, Mrs. Baldwin stood turning the pages thoughtfully. Then she put aside her dust-mop, sat down on Meg's bed and began to read.

When her high school sophomore came bursting in from her practice, Mrs. Baldwin placidly was preparing a saline mix. As Meg opened the book, she said: "That's quite a book you've been reading yourself to sleep with."

"The hand that had been reaching for the milk bottle paused. Then Meg said lightly, "Isn't it something? Penny loaned it to me she says it's part of my education to read it."

"Well, let's hope you find it educational," said Mrs. Baldwin. "Just don't find it so educational that you miss the point."

"Point?" echoed Meg.
"Yes, point," her mother told her, nodding. "The people who told each other those naughty stories were scared. Scared and maybe a little ashamed. There was the plague raging in that city where they left their families and friends—and they ran out on them. I guess telling each other tales about sex shenanigans was the only way they could forget how scared and ashamed they were."

There was one of those pauses. Then Meg gulped down her mouthful of milk. "Good; that's an angle, isn't it?" she said. A little hesitantly, she added, "There are a lot of angles. I've missed in that book, mother. Maybe I'm stupid, but there's something I want to show you. Wait a minute."

So Meg brought down the book and she and her mother talked quite a while about sex and love between men and women. The next morning

Pioneer Air Lines Gains In Passengers

DALLAS—Pioneer Air Lines transported 39,173 passengers in the first quarter of 1952 for a gain of 14 per cent over the 34,405 passengers flown in the same period of 1951. Harding L. Lawrence, vice president of traffic and sales, has announced.

Passenger miles (passenger times miles traveled) increased 11 per cent from 9,107,248 in the first three months of 1951 to 10,089,138 in the 1952 period.

Nineteen per cent more mail ton miles were flown in the 1952 period than in the first quarter of 1951. The volume increased from 24,928 ton miles in the earlier period to 29,847 ton miles this year.

Air cargo, both freight and express, increased 18 per cent in the first quarter of 1952 over the same period in 1951. Some 45,701 ton miles in 1951 to 53,980 ton miles in 1952, Lawrence said.

Blouses Have Feminine Air

New sleeve treatments are apparent in these very feminine blouses for Spring. Wide cuffed sleeves and collar in double layers of organza (left) provide femininity without frills. Blouse is in Swiss woven tuck organza. The bell sleeve (center) blossoms in transparent Swiss organza with scalloped, embroidery trimming and tucked front. Baby soft imported cotton batiste (right) makes blouse with new lantern sleeve. Detailing is in lace.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor
NEW YORK—The very definite change in the appearance of the 1952 Spring blouse is mostly a matter of sleeves. It's the Gibson Girl blouse that's getting attention, with its frilly, feminine look and its voluminous sleeves.

With these balloon, belled, lantern or leg-of-mutton sleeves, there's a new, natural shoulder line, often a dropped shoulder. Most wearable with suits is the lantern sleeve that has fullness just above the elbow.

The more frilly the blouse, the better it looks with quilted skirts or skirts with a petticoat air. Sleeve ruffs and fancy cuffs are nearly as important as the Gibson Girl styling. Neat, small black bows trim necklines and set off lace detailing.

Most often, these blouses are done in silky Swiss batiste or in organza that's permanently crisp. These have appeal because of their fresh, cool look and their washability.

Novelty voiles and striped shirtings get emphasis and so does woven-tuck sheer cotton that seems to be pleated.

Blouse trim this year is borrowed from lingerie or baby dresses and imparts a sweet, girlish air.

Midland Brother And Sister Reunited On Visits In Japan

A Midland brother and sister have been re-united in Japan for the first time in two years.

Leona Meisner and Cpl. Melvin Meisner, the daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Meisner, Route 1, Midland, recently were able to spend two weekends together in a Japanese resort.

Miss Meisner sailed for Japan in September of 1950 to serve as an Army librarian of the Special Services Section for two years. When she arrived in Japan, she was assigned as librarian at the Osaka Army Hospital. Five months later, she was transferred to Saebou where she was librarian of the Camp Mower and Saebou Replacement Depot Libraries. In June of 1951, she was transferred to her present assignment at Camp Chickamauga at Beppu, Japan.

Corporal Meisner entered the Army in January, 1951, and received his basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He was sent to Korea in June of 1951. From Korea he was sent to the Eta Jima Specialist school in Japan. After finishing the course early in April, he was returned to Korea.

While Corporal Meisner was in Eta Jima, he contacted his sister at Beppu, and she was able to make two visits to Eta Jima. "They visited nearby Hiroshima and

Bedding Plants Can Replace Gaps In Flower Borders

(First of a series of articles on "Gardening in Midland" prepared by members of the Midland Garden Clubs.)

Now that Spring freezes for the year may be about over, flower borders can be rejuvenated by replacing with bedding plants the gaps left there by the Winter drought and the late Spring frosts. In fact, many Midlanders do most of their plantings with bedding plants, since the hazards of wind, blowing sand, drought and the late Spring frosts make growing from seeds a somewhat laborious and uncertain task. Bedding plants can do much to provide continuous color and beauty in flower beds, and many of them now are at the store easiest to transplant. They also will have ample time to become established against Summer heat.

Some of the plants recommended as being available and also among the most dependable to be set out in this area now are snapdragons, carnations, verbenas, perennial annuals, phlox, catenulas, petunias, shasta, maroon and Esther Reid daisies, salvia, dwarf and large marigolds, coleus, geraniums, periwinkles, violets, plumbago, lantana, hollyhocks, candytuft, feverfew, gallardia, gerbera daisies, Joseph's coat and chrysanthemums.

Be sure to shade these newly set plants for a few days with flowerpots, cans or old berry boxes, and to water them well until they are adapted to their new locations. Several inches of mulch applied about the plant helps retain moisture thus keeping it to develop a strong root system.

Carefully plan the garden before selecting plants, taking into consideration the color of the home, the garden fence or other background, and the amount of time and labor one can devote to maintenance. Select flowers for beds in colors that will present the harmonious pictures desired for garden and for home arrangements. For this reason, it usually is better to select plants whose bloom colors are known, than to select plants in unknown assorted colors.

Dahlias and cannas may be planted at this time. Gladiolus still can be planted, and when they develop fourth and fifth leaves, water them heavily, for it is then that the blossoms begin forming.

Produce Rich Awards
Tulips, daffodils, and hyacinths planted with care and skill last Fall now are producing rich rewards. For best results from these another year, pinch off their faded blooms so that no seed pods develop and the strength of the plants will go into making new bulbs for another year. Iris fast are coming into flower, with many of the very best varieties being grown in Midland. Each member of one garden club has been asked to grow one iris from the list of 100 best varieties as determined by the American Iris Society and report back to the club-members as to how well that iris bloomed for her this year.

Wall Paper Designs Add Beauty

Today's wallpapers are used to furnishings of every type. Bedroom of ranch-type house (above) gets paper in small all-over design to blend with and provide suitable background for furniture. Accessories can be in pottery, pewter and wood. For Early American home (lower center) there's wallpaper in simple floral design, harmonizing with simple furniture and pewter accessories, hanging spice boxes.

BY GAILE DUGAN
 NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—The present trend to more wall decoration, after years of stark, bare walls, brings wall paper sharply into focus once more. And in the 1952 wall paper trends, color is a highlight.

Deep tones are stressed in papers keyed to furnishings in every period. Small-scale florals and toile types are shown for formal interiors while delicate Oriental motifs traced on backgrounds of celadon green, grey, honey beige or carbon black are meant expressly for the traditional home.

Provincial patterns have been smartened up this year. Those that simulate fabrics look especially right with provincial furniture and similarly, papers in calico and gingham designs provide a proper setting for early American pieces. One Pennsylvania Dutch pattern, that's both fresh and sophisticated has a chocolate background against which the traditional figures are sketched free-hand style.

The popularity of clean-lined modern furniture is on the increase. For it, there are geometrics and abstract designs in the new dark shades. These create a third-dimensional feeling. And for tailored types, papers have been done in modernistic architectural motifs, alternating neutral shades with deep tones for a monochromatic effect. The old favorite damasks, florals and small all-over designs are still with us. But they've taken on a new and different look through the use of flashing color combinations. Florals frequently appear against sophisticated black and charcoal backgrounds and once-neutral damasks bloom rich with color. Striped wall paper, the backbone of much home decorating for a good many years, has new life in designs with a decorative moaning. Sometimes, the stripes are varied in width to create a colonnade effect. Or, they're narrow as a pin and done up in the freshness of navy blue and white. The textured look, so important to home decoration, appears in wall papers, too. Sometimes it's a grained and woven surface with a tweedy appearance. With this look, there's color. Lots of it. Gold, silver and copper, increasingly popular, give these papers the Midas touch.

Midlanders Take Part In Chorus

Tom Clark, Bill Lillis and Garry Kelly, Midland boys studying at Price College in Amarillo, are members of the chorus in the annual Cardinal Roundup to be staged there April 25 and 27.

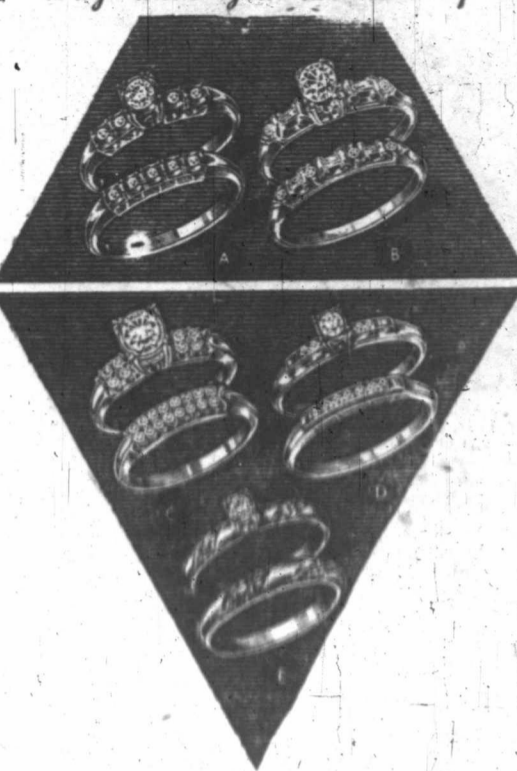

Tom is the son of S. P. Clark, Box 841. He is a senior this year and will be graduated May 28. Bill's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dan P. Lillis, 1000 West Kentucky. Bill is a sophomore. Garry, a junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Kelly, 4108 West Missouri Street.

Clark is a clown in a song and dance routine, "Doh! What Comes Naturally." Lillis and Kelly are fishermen in the chorus, doing the famous fishermen's hornpipe.

WILSON'S

Famed Cosmetologist Outlines Care

Here's a new theory on complexion care developed by a world-famous cosmetologist, who recommends soap and water washings (above) as an absolute beauty essential. He also advises that you apply creams with only the forefinger (upper center), since he believes you achieve a greater heat in the single finger. The expert advocates leaving the creams on for no longer than 15 minutes to achieve maximum benefits.

An important part of this revolutionary new beauty ritual is the use of a stimulating lotion (lower center). First it is applied with a saturated cotton pad, and then you blot your face dry with a towel. The special face powder created by the expert should be removed with a pad of cotton (above). The powder is professionally and scientifically formulated to help your skin to vibrant, glowing beauty.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor.

No matter what your age, your skin type, or climate you live in, you can achieve complexion beauty.

This is advice straight from a world-famous cosmetologist who has devoted a great part of his life to the study of skin problems. Out of this study has come a complete new approach to beauty care.

This expert's theories on the skin are in some instances basic, and in others revolutionary. He insists first and foremost that you realize the skin is a vital organ of the body.

Besides being the organ of the sense of touch, the skin protects your body from the elements, helps to regulate your temperature and aids in the elimination of body wastes.

As for appearance, he explains, the beautiful skin is one which is functioning perfectly, as nature intended. But unfortunately, from the day you are born, your skin is subject to many factors—emotional and physical—which may upset the balance. Because the skin of your face is constantly exposed, it is always in danger of becoming affected by external irritants, and it is the first area to show unwanted signs of aging.

This expert has faced these problems of the skin with a three-point program. Above all is the importance of cleanliness. Whether your skin tends to be oil, dry, or a combination of both, he has his own names for each skin type, soap and water are absolutely requisites.

Even the temperature of the water must be taken into consideration, in the opinion of this cosmetologist, if your skin is going to respond to treatment.

Cold water must not be used on any skin under this particular beauty regime. Warm water, according to him, is essential to dry skins; hot water for cleansing oily skins.

Another "don't" he is firm about is never using a washcloth on the face. It "drags" the muscles. Your own fingertips are the best beautifying adjunct you have. When using soap always rubs the suds gently, firmly and tirelessly over the face. The friction and warmth of your hands is all to the good on achieving skin beauty.

The second point in this new beauty ritual is to use controlling preparations that will not only alleviate the surface symptoms, but will also prevent their reappearance. This expert wants it understood, however, that these preparations will not cure any skin condition that is caused by an organic disorder. They will work only on the surface of the skin.

Since no two skins are alike, he stresses that no two preparations (soaps, creams or make-up) can be of value to all women. Each skin must have individual attention and treatment.

leviate the symptoms of dry skin and thus keep the skin soft and oiled, preventing premature aging.

He explodes the myth that blackheads consist of ingrained dirt. They are caused by an obstruction in the follicle, he explains, which prevents the free excretion of the natural skin lubricant—sebum. This obstruction may be an anatomical inheritance. Not everybody possesses the same size follicles in relation to their sebum secretion.

The final step in this three-point program is focused on your make-up. Here again this cosmetologist believes that such preparations should control in addition to beautifying your skin. That is why he recommends that you apply powder before you go to sleep.

With the introduction of this expert's theories, exciting new inroads are being made into the cosmetic field. For you they hold the hope of longer-lasting beauty.

Midland Is Host To Annual Meeting

Final registration totaled 153 delegates at the forty-seventh annual convention of the Women of the Church of the El Paso Presbyterial, Presbyterian Church of the United States, held Thursday and Friday in the First Presbyterian Church in Midland.

The theme of the meeting was "Christ—Preeminent in All Things."

During the business meeting Friday Mrs. W. L. Hester of Lubbock was elected president. Other officers are Mrs. George Bennett of Lubbock, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cecil Wasson of Big Spring, secretary of spiritual growth; Mrs. Paul Garrison of Clovis, N. M., secretary of annuities and relief, and Mrs. R. T. Maddox of Midland, secretary of business women.

It was decided that the 1953 meeting will be held in the First Presbyterian Church in Odessa.

Mrs. Foulks Speaks
Mrs. R. L. Foulks of Sherman, field director of Austin College, spoke during the morning session on "Austin College." Other speakers Thursday were Mrs. Joe B. Moore of Port Lavaca, synodical president, and Myrtle Williamson, director of religious education at Stillman Institute in Tuscaloosa, Ala. Louanna Rouch, director of religious education of the El Paso Presbytery, spoke on "Sunday School Extension."

Mrs. E. L. Bessert of Fort Worth gave the Bible study and both the morning and afternoon sessions. Her morning topic was "The Holy Spirit of 'Today'" and in the afternoon she spoke on "Colossians."

At the Friday night meeting the Rev. Tom Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Lubbock, spoke on "Christ, Preeminent in Evangelism."

A negro choir from the Masonic Baptist Church in Midland presented the music. A buffet supper preceded the evening service.

Mrs. G. G. Hazel Is Class Hostess

Mrs. G. G. Hazel was hostess to the Althean Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church Friday. The Rev. J. Q. Woodward, assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the devotional, "Enduring Foundations," and discussed the types of church architecture most conducive to worship. Mrs. George Phillips gave the opening prayer and Mrs. W. B. Preston presided over the business session.

A report was given on the progress of the girl in Recife, Brazil, who is being supported by the class. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Josephine Ligon. Guests were Mrs. Barbara Wall and Mrs. C. A. Travelstead.

An arrangement of California poppies decorated the living room. The dining table was covered with lace over green and centered with an arrangement of white and yellow lilies. Mrs. Fred Wyckoff presided over the refreshment table. Others attending were Mrs. J. A. Tuttle, Ida Faye Cowden, Mrs. George Phillips, Mrs. C. M. Goldsmith, Mrs. T. P. Drew, Mrs. W. A. Stall, Mrs. Kyle Taylor, Mrs. J. A. Harrison, Mrs. Elliott Barron, Mrs. O. A. Buttz, Mrs. Leonard Proctor, Mrs. Tom Bobo and Mrs. Zeb Wilkins.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is a question I'd like you to settle," writes a correspondent who asks me not to mention her name or town.

"We were playing a friendly game of two-handed Canasta. My opponent had five kings and five jacks on the table. She added two wild cards to the jacks but had not finished her play.

She then picked up the wild cards and added them to the kings, saying she had made an error. She had just noticed that I had melded three kings, so it was clear that she would surely need wild cards for her kings but might not need them for her jacks.

"I said that she couldn't move the wild cards from the jacks to the kings; that once the cards were down on the table they could not be shifted.

"My opponent put the wild cards back with the jacks, saying that she did this not because she was wrong but because I was her guest. She made me feel like two cents.

"Was my statement of the law correct? Was it proper for me to state the law? Was it proper for my opponent to act as she did when I stated the law?"

Only one of these questions is easy to answer. My correspondent's understanding of the law was absolutely correct. When those three cards were put down on the table in a legal meld they could not be shifted. They had to stay with the jacks.

The other questions have to do with human relations and friendship as much as they have to do with the rules of card games. It's very hard to answer the questions without knowing the people and the situation.

In a tournament, the laws are strictly enforced. Even in an ordinary club game, every player expects the rules to be enforced. The same principle holds when people who sometimes play in somebody's home instead of a club. They are still the sort of people who follow rules carefully.

But there are thousands of other people who never play in clubs or tournaments and who never have any exact knowledge of rules or penalize an opponent, and they expect other people to be equally lenient with them.

In theory, they should know the rules and be bound by them—but we have to face facts rather than theories. Against such an opponent just forget about the rules and strictness. It's better to keep your friends than to win a card game.

Midland Aggies To Attend Annual Muster In Odessa

A large number of Midlanders plan to attend the annual Aggie Muster of former students of Texas A&M College in the Permian Basin at Odessa Monday night. The tradition is 49 years old.

Scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. with an hour of fellowship, the 1952 Muster program will be held in the Ector County Auditorium.

A muster is held each year by former students of Texas A&M to pay their respects to fellow Aggies who have died and also as a humble tribute to the Texans who won the freedom of the state at the Battle of San Jacinto near Houston 118 years ago.

The Permian Basin A&M Club Muster will be one of more than 375 ceremonies held by thousands of former students and friends of A&M over the world.

C. V. Millburn, chairman of the muster, will serve as master of ceremonies for the Odessa events. Others scheduled to appear on the program are George Lovett, B. W. White, Ed Martin and A. G. (Johnny) Bassett.

The Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will serve a barbecue dinner and the entertainment program will be headed by Bob Clark. A juke box dance will follow the program.

James Newton, president of the Odessa A&M Club, invites all A&M men in the area and friends of the college to attend the muster.

Johnson, Blalock Call For Dance

Jay Johnson and Charlie Blalock called for the Tel-A-Bel Square Dance Club when it met Thursday night in the Midland Officers Club.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Oliver became new members. Other members attending were Bill Cutbirth, June Pile, John Rosebock of Odessa, George Faria, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cagle, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Day and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Caster, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Frensch, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Sause, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Pugh, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Still and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Webb.

Mrs. R. L. Bogardus Is Artist Of Week

Mrs. R. L. Bogardus, 303 East Maple Street, has been chosen artist of the week by the Midland Palette Club Art Center.

Several of her paintings, including two still-life water color paintings and a pastel portrait of a young girl, will be displayed this week in the art center's window. Also on display will be two craft pieces, a ceramic bowl and a woven cane basket.

Mrs. Bogardus is corresponding secretary of the Art Center. In addition to teaching an art class for children on Fridays, she also directs a crafts class and a water color, still-life painting group.

Mrs. Bogardus was born and educated in England. She attended the Horsey School of Arts and Crafts in London.

Don't shake or snap small throw rugs out windows or doors trying to "dust" them. The snapping action may break the yarns in the rug backing.

Mrs. Dickerson Is Yucca Club Speaker

Mrs. M. S. Dickerson spoke to the Yucca Garden Club Thursday on "Mums."

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. John House. The group accepted the resignation of Mrs. Robert White who is moving away. It was announced that Tejas Garden Club will have a flower show April 28. Committees were appointed for the Yucca flower show to be held in May.

Approximately 15 members attended.

If You Always Take The Easy Way, Expect To Be Frustrated

Martha has intelligence, charm and a good disposition. She has an ambitious husband and three children. Life has offered her a chance to be a successful woman. But she is falling down on the job. Why?

For just one reason. Martha always makes the mistake of looking for the easy way rather than for the best way whenever she is forced to make a decision.

With her intelligence and charm, Martha could be a real help to her husband. But she isn't. He is at the place in his career where it is important that they entertain. But entertaining isn't easy and so Martha keeps putting it off with the excuse that with three children she just can't manage to entertain.

Her husband should have a well-run home, too. The place he is making for himself justifies that kind of good living. But again that would take more work and management than Martha is willing to shoulder. The easy way is to "let things go." So Martha lets things go.

Martha's children are completely undisciplined. It is much harder to say "No" and make it stick than to say it half-heartedly and then weaken. So Martha weakens so often the children know they can whine and get their way or they deliberately disobey and get away with it.

Martha's natural good looks are slipping fast. It is easier to gain weight than to keep it at the right place so Martha has let herself gain.

Martha talks a lot about all the things she is going to do when the children are older, because it is easier to talk than to do a few of those things right now.

If Martha were happy, it might be possible to excuse her always looking for the easy way instead of the right way. But she isn't happy. The consequences of always taking the easy way are pretty frustrating. And so Martha is not at all pleased with herself or with her life. She could change it. But it is easier to let things go along as they are.

ONE OF THE GREATEST COLLECTIONS OF FINE HOME FURNISHINGS EVER
PRESENTED IN THE SOUTHWEST

Under the auspices of Mr. Bart Mann of the Mayflower Warehouse, the Samuel Hart Galleries of Dallas and Houston will present a magnificent Fine Arts auction event in Odessa, Texas, at the Mayflower Warehouse, 2105 N. Andrews Highway. The greater portion of the presentation has never been seen in America before, having been shipped to Odessa direct from the Houston Port of Entry.

Whether you wish to returnish your entire home or are just in the market for a wedding gift, we urge you to avail yourself of the opportunity to obtain the rare and beautiful. And now — as always — we guarantee you can bid wisely and buy safely at a Hart fine arts auction.

This is why the gallery auctions are attended by the most discriminating clientele in the Southwest — dealers, decorators, collectors and particular home furnishers who appreciate traditional decor — who desire the unusual — who recognize beauty and know value.

The gallery will hold a three-day preview exhibition Friday, April 18 thru Sunday, April 20. During the preview you can browse leisurely and inspect these wonderful home furnishings. Bring your decorator or your appraiser — they also will thrill to the countless treasures that exemplify the beauty and charm of traditional furniture and objects of art for your home.

Asians Are Warned More Rice Needed

SINGAPORE—(AP)—The people of Asia have been warned that they must starve unless they grow more rice at once.

The director general of the UN Food and Agriculture Organization, Norris E. Dodd, who issued the warning, suggested two solutions: "Increase your production of rice, or cut down on the number of people eating rice."

Dodd said FAO, since its inception, had taken steps to increase rice production in this part of the world. It had boosted by nine per cent, but meantime the population of rice eating Asian countries had climbed 12 per cent.

Midland Teachers, Pupils Preview Films In Selecting 50 For Library Additions

More than 400 films are being previewed by Midland teachers and their pupils in order to choose 50 to be added to the Midland School Film Library next year.

The films are on every grade level and cover a full range of subject matter. Those chosen must fill a definite need in the school program.

Students in the Midland schools have kept the 100 films now available to them busy this year. The "three R's" take on new importance when seen through such films as "How to Read a Book," "Improve Your Handwriting" and "Multiplication Is Easy." Designs for character building are found in the films, "Am I Trustworthy," "Are You a Good Citizen?" and "How Honest Are You?"

Others help the students solve their everyday problems. "Appreciating Our Parents," "Do Better on Your Examinations," "How To Be Well-Groomed" and "Making the Most Out of School" are samples. There is even one on "The Baby Sitter."

Films of a technical nature for various age groups are included. Subjects range from "Airplanes and How They Fly" for elementary grades to "The Life Cycle of the Mosquito" and "Transmission of Rotary Motion" for high school.

The films are checked out from the high school library, but each school has its own projector. The films can be shown in any of the high school classrooms through the use of a new daylight screen. The elementary schools use their auditoriums for projection rooms.

there are sleek cottons for school-wear fashions as smartly styled as those in her big sister's wardrobe. They're practical, too, taking easily to soap and water.

Colors for these cottons are as fresh and clear as a Spring sky. There's apricot, smoke gray, green, and pean. Touches of sparkling white appear often in these Kate Greenaway designs.

The girl (left) who's playing teacher wears a broadcloth dress in smoke gray that's banded and trimmed in white pique. The pique bands of the bodice are continued at right angles down the side of the full skirt.

Her companion (right) has a sleeveless sheath in apricot cloque cotton. A clever left-side closing is fastened with shiny, white buttons. White also bands the armholes, collarless neckline and the two left-hand patch pockets that are set above and below the self-belt.

To make potato croquettes add a beaten egg and a teaspoon of grated onion to two cups of leftover mashed potatoes. Shape and roll in buttered crumbs and brown in a moderate oven.

'Party Time' To Be Flower Show Theme

"Party Time" will be the theme of the schedule committee. Others in the committee are Mrs. Conard Reaves, Mrs. Sam Preston and Mrs. Floyd Boles. The staging committee includes Mrs. Miles Hall, chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Smith. Mrs. John L. Smith is chairman of the publicity. On the hospitality committee are Mrs. D. E. Smith, chairman of the committee, Mrs. Harry Krist, Mrs. James Pipkin, Mrs. W. C. Murray and Mrs. G. T. Buskirk. Other committees and their chairmen are awards, Mrs. Al Olsen, tickets, Mrs. Fred Girdley; properties, Mrs. K. W. Edmondson; entries, Mrs. Frank Wood, Jr.; classification, Mrs. Floyd Boles, and judging, Mrs. Russell Hayes.

Woman's Club Meeting Features Style Show Of Table Settings

A style show of table settings was held Thursday when the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., met in the home of Mrs. H. H. Rachal, with 100 members and guests attending.

The Midland Council of Garden Clubs was the hostess group. Greeting the guests at the door were the following garden club representatives: Mrs. Willard Bumpass, Pyracontha Garden Club; Mrs. C. H. March, Midland Garden Club; Mrs. M. R. Hayes, Tejas; Mrs. Joe A. Koogler, Yucca, and Mrs. T. R. Smith, Welcome Wagon.

Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. Sam Preston, Mrs. Nelson Puett, Mrs. Sol Bunnell, Mrs. P. N. Shriver, Mrs. E. V. Mitchell, Mrs. Richard Hinkle, Mrs. Miles Hall, Mrs. Poy Proctor, Mrs. K. W. Edmondson and Mrs. J. O. Gooch.

Mrs. Rachal told which club or business firm was responsible for each individual table and explained where the materials used in the decorations were obtained.

Mrs. E. W. Cowden, president of the Garden Club Council, presided over the punch bowl and Mrs. W. H. Rhodes, Woman's Club president, served the coffee.

Decorations Feature Pink
The refreshment table, decorated by Quincy Belle Flowers, was covered with a frosty pink organza cloth. The silver candelabra, holding frosty pink candles, were entwined with falls of pink satin ribbon ropes trimmed with pink carnation florettes and maline fluff. The ribbons extended to the sides and ends of the table where they terminated in more carnation florettes.

Pink organza butterflies covered with multi-colored glitter were perched on the carnations and the candles.

A table with a tropical theme was decorated by Midland Floral Company. The glass-topped, bamboo table was draped with a fish net festooned with picardy glamellas. At one end of the table was a coconut tree fashioned of graduated corks, green leaves and artificial coconuts. Figurines of natives stood at the base of the tree. Brown pottery, amber glasses and brown linen napkins completed the setting.

In the sun room was a table decorated by Bernard's Flowers. Central interest was built around a large wicker basket which hung from the ceiling over the center of the table. Filling the basket was an arrangement of Fimbristylis, heather, jade fern, cyclot leaves and bells of Ireland. Pottery and bamboo flatware completed the decorations.

The tea cart in the living room was decorated by Mrs. J. O. Gooch and Mrs. W. H. Black of the Yucca Garden Club. The arrangement featured yellow jonquils and tulips in shades of yellow and brown.

Mrs. Joe C. Smith of the Pyracontha Garden Club created the arrangement for the coffee table. Violets and coral in a low container highlighted the decorations.

In the patio stood a glass-topped, iron table decorated by Mrs. R. W. Walls of the Welcome Wagon Garden Club. A black iron skillet at one corner of the table held an arrangement of red geraniums. White pottery, black and white plaid placemats and homespun red napkins also were used.

A family arrangement was styled by Mrs. Frank Wood and Mrs. Conard Reaves of the Tejas Garden Club. The arrangement featured a piece of driftwood in a green pottery container on a grass mat. Fansies were used at the base of the driftwood and china figurines of birds, squirrels and worms highlighted the arrangement. The setting was rounded out with beige pottery, designed with a colonial scene, and green goblets.

Green was the predominant color in the Midland Garden Club arrangement fashioned by Mrs. E. A.

Shampoo Brush Treats Hair, Scalp

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Consider the way you shampoo your hair. Soap and water sudings followed by a vigorous finger massage may seem like the ideal technique, but actually it does not do a thorough job of cleaning and conditioning your hair and scalp.

What's missing from your hair-care ritual is a shampoo brush that not only works suds through every strand of hair, but massages the scalp itself, easing out dry scallings and stimulating circulation.

Since you won't want to use just any brush on your hair, here's news of a special shampoo brush, made all in one piece of a sturdy flexible plastic, that has one hundred-needle-like prongs. The next time the brush man comes to your door, ask him to show it to you.

You'll find the brush easy to use, too. As soon as you apply shampoo to your wet head, press the brush against your scalp, and work up a lather by moving the brush in a circular motion. Put only as much pressure on the brush as feels comfortable.

There's certainly no limit to the length of time you should use the brush at each shampooing. When your scalp begins to tingle, and your hair feels immaculately clean, you'll know the brush is performing effectively, and there is nothing left to be desired.

Church Council To Sponsor May Fellowship Day

The United Council of Church Women will sponsor May Fellowship Day May 9 in the First Christian Church. A covered dish luncheon will be served at 1 p.m.

The theme of the program will be "Spiritual Security For Today's Families." A nursery will be provided.

Concerning May Fellowship Day an article in "The Church Woman" said "It is hoped that this May Fellowship Day observed in hundreds of communities across the country may serve to point up a concern for community resources available or not available to the families of the nation. A spiritual concern which results, in practical action may make a new contribution to the family security in this country."

Your steam iron should be emptied as quickly as possible after using, and while the iron is still hot. This will dry out any water remaining in the iron.

Valley View Home Club Reorganizes

The Valley View Home Demonstration Club held a meeting Friday for the purpose of reorganizing a community program.

The group, which included around 75 persons, played games and were served refreshments.

Midland County Agent Charles Green and home demonstration agent, Miss Pauline Williams, showed films on ways in which community building can be improved in rural areas.

The group voted to hold its next meeting May 9 in the Valley View Community Hall.

Correct Posture Week Chairman Named In City

Dr. M. C. Williams of Midland Saturday was advised of his appointment as Correct Posture Week chairman for Midland.

The appointment was made by Dr. J. Dow Scott of Midland, who is serving as Correct Posture Week chairman for West Texas area.

This city will be one of the 150 in the State that will be observing Correct Posture Week in Texas May 1-7, Dr. Williams said. Posture Week is being sponsored in the State for the third straight year by the Chiropractic Public Health Committee of Texas.

Dr. Williams said the week was being sponsored by the Chiropractors of Texas in order to emphasize the importance of good posture and good health.

Joyce Otto, Sam Ashmore Exchange Vows

PECOS—In a double-ring ceremony April 13, Joyce Otto became the bride of Sam Ashmore. The Rev. M. Smigelskis of St. Catherine's Catholic Church officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Otto. Ashmore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Ashmore of Fort Stockton.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar decorated with Easter lilies and white-sandies. The chancel rail was decorated with jade leaves.

Beverly Cothrun, organist, played "The Panis Angelicus" and the traditional wedding marches. Jimmie Buchanan sang "Ave Maria" and "Vergin Tutta Amor."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported French lace and nylon tulle over satin. Her gown was designed with a lace bodice with a bolero. Her crown was trimmed with seed pearls and tulle.

She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and stephanotis.

Joyce Brocat was the maid of honor. She wore a dress of pink and lavender net over pink satin.

Bartley Atkins of Fort Stockton was the groomsmen and Ruben Talley was the usher.

Odessa Music Club To Present Program

The Odessa Music Club will present the program at the Midland Music Club meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the North Elementary School Auditorium.

The program is open to the public. After the program a reception will be held in the home of Mrs. W. W. West, 711 West Storey Street.

Senior Class Gives Annual Production

The Senior play, "January Thaw," was presented Thursday and Friday at the Midland High School Auditorium.

The play took place in the remodeled living room of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gage in Connecticut. The excitement began when the elderly Yankee couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Rockwood, arrived in September. They still held a right to live in their former home.

High School Honor Roll Announced

Free Lance

In a recent education magazine from Africa point out that, contrary to popular belief, spelling among American students has improved greatly in the past century.

The housekeeper was played by Nancy Steedman; Herbert and Marge Gage by Tommy Vannaman and Martha Stone; their children Sarah, Paula and Barbara, by Joan Turner, Madelon Schabarum and Emily Studdert. Jonathan and Mathilda Rockwood were played by Loren Roberts and Mary Ann Searles and their son, Matt, by Corky Moss.

Small Talk

Well, did the Easter bunny come to see you and you? I am sure that everyone was a very good little boy or girl.

Don't anyone tell this, but I saw Mary Ann Searles in a dime store last Saturday buying a wedding ring! But don't get excited, she was buying it to wear in the Senior play.

Nancy Steedman, assisted by Emily Studdert, entertained about 25 girls at a Coke party last week. Several "exes" came and the girls seemed to enjoy hearing about their college experiences.

Anytime you are in the mood for a good chuckle, just ask Marion Sevier to relate her episode with the sea gulls in Corpus to you. I guarantee it will tickle your ribs.

There were so many eyes home for the Easter holidays that I could not and would not even try to name them all, but a few I saw around school and the youth center were: Jack Mobley, Norman Drake, Roy Ripley, Shirley Harrison, Joyce Howell, Mary Jan Forest, Lynn Nicholson, Daffy Tabor, Lynn Griffith, Mary Jo Heil, Joe Barnett, Duane Abel, Maggie Craner, Jereilyn Joyal, Ted Studdert, Lloyd Henderson, Goss Yeager, June Haslip, and Joe Collins.

Inez Parker, MHS art director has returned from the National Art Convention in Columbus, Missouri, where she participated in the program by being on a panel of two of the major discussion areas on the supervision of art in schools of cities under 200,000.

Mrs. Parker also entered a water color in an exhibit of the art alumni of West Texas State College, and won a first place. She won a lot of praise on her entry.

Mrs. Gwen Gordon's Senior English classes have been having old time spelling bees. From what I have heard (and experienced) the students get a big kick out of spelling in this way.

The Acappella Choir had a distinguished visitor last week in the form of a little cocker spaniel dog. Aren't you getting a little desperate, Mr. Michener?

Fashion note: There will be little change in men's pockets this year.

FHA News

The Midland chapter of the Future Homemakers of America recently elected officers for the 1952-53 school year. They are Maria Schiefer, president; Betty Dobson, vice president; and Cornelia Ramsey, secretary-treasurer.

A very interesting program was held during a recent FHA meet. The club had the privilege of hearing a guest speaker, Mrs. Lenora Abernathy. Mrs. Abernathy spoke on the history of Mexico.

The homemaking classes of MHS have been invited by the division of home economics of Texas Technological College to attend its fifteenth annual open house.

Mrs. Fay Massey and Mrs. Cox, homemaking instructors, attended the in-service training meeting for homemaking teachers Saturday in Sweetwater.

Coming Events

Friday — Assembly.

A Fine Student Body

In the space devoted to editorials, you almost always are sure to find pointed out to you the weaknesses of our student body, ways to improve our school, or a "Bulldog's" fable carrying a worthy moral.

However, as you lean back in your chair, put your feet on the teacher's desk, remove your spectacles, and begin to reminisce and dreamily recall the outstanding events of this school year, you realize that as a whole we do have a fine and talented student body.

The first thing that you would undoubtedly recall would be the winning of the district championship by our football team. The basketball team improved greatly over last year's team and we have won our share of the points in track meets.

Aside from sports, you can see that we have done well in the finer arts of the interscholastic league contests. Our debate teams have done a commendable job, and first places were brought back in several other speaking events. Our art students have also turned out excellent work. And of course, you have witnessed some very entertaining dramatic productions in our auditorium.

You then say, "Mmmmm, what a year!" and return your feet to the floor, your spectacles to your nose, and your nose to your book (we hope).

18 MHS Students Elected To Quill And Scroll Society

Eighteen members of the journalism class and the Catoteb staff recently were elected to the Quill and Scroll Society, an international honorary society for high school journalists.

Peggy Read, editor of the Catoteb, and Mary Ann McRae, editor of the Bulldog, already were members of the organization for work done during the 1950-1951 school term.

Betty Sivalls Active In Student Council

"Five foot two, Eyes of blue."

This description fits a cute little sophomore—Betty Sivalls. Betty's sparkling smile and vivacious personality delight all.

Betty has been very active in Student Council work. She recently accompanied this group to the Texas Association of Student Councils Convention held at Corpus Christi. She hopes she will be able to attend the national convention of Student Councils in Illinois.

Besides her many extra-curricular activities, Betty is kept busy with her school work which consists of speech, algebra, English, biology, Latin and golf. She also is program chairman of the Future Teachers of America Club and treasurer of the Junior Classical League.

Guadagnini Violin Still Is Being Used

PASADENA, CALIF.—(AP)—Stanley Plummer, concertmaster with the Pasadena Civic Orchestra, is using a rare 207-year-old Guadagnini violin.

Plummer, also a music student at Pasadena City College, was loaned the violin by his private teacher, Vera Barstow, former concert violinist.

The instrument was made, Plummer says, in Piacenza, Italy, by J. P. Guadagnini, a genius-craftsman of the 18th Century.

MAYO DOCTOR

ROCHESTER, MINN.—(AP)—Dr. Christopher Graham, only living member of the original Mayo Clinic staff, is 96, but still maintains an active interest in two hobbies—Holstein cattle breeding and flower gardening. Dr. Graham was the first intern in St. Mary's Hospital, one of several hospitals which operate closely with the famed clinic.

Thumtnail Sketches

May we present: Wayne Larsen, a freshman from Ohio who is inclined to enjoy life to its fullest extent by indulging in delicious foods, plenty of rest and resisting worry. Since he will probably live to a ripe old age he desires to be a certified public accountant and watch sports on TV.

Sandra McMath, a sophomore, is definitely seeking a career which requires mathematics. She has three ambitions—to make a million dollars, to play the piano and to swim. Winning a declamation contest and a trip to Chicago and receiving a horse when 12 were two exciting events.

Boyce McKnight, a sophomore, was preceded by Carroll who graduated in '51 and now is at Hardin. Mrs. Gary Cooper is his favorite screen actor. Algebra is less than interesting to this boy from Halweg.

Frank Lockhart expects to pursue the profession of engineering. After studying at Texas Tech he would like to live in Waco. Of his freshman studies, history is the most enjoyable.

Hampton Mosley is the first interviewee who has indicated he would like to follow the law profession. For relaxation he likes fishing and hunting. Sea food and western specialties are menu favorites. Freshman Mosley is the first to say that canasta is his leisure time activity.

Barney McClendon is a true Texan. He has lived in many sections of beautiful Texas and prefers Midland as his home town. Barbecue, football and attending A&M further qualify him. However, he yearns to see Alaska and prospect for gold after graduation in '53.

Bill Leonard has been preceded in Midland schools by seven brothers and sisters, viz: Louise, Jack, Carl Jr., Vivian, Evelyn, Frankie, Lola. Bill played on the B squad this year and hopes for a berth on the top team in his senior year, and then a chance at football at Tech. Fishing and hunting are favorite hobbies of Bill.

Bulldog Barks

At the Athlete Invitational Relay, the Midland track team placed fourth in the competition. The 440-yard relay and mile relay gave the Bulldogs most of their points. In the 440-yard relay the team consisting of Dan Black, Roddy Braun, Johnny Kennedy and Roy Kinsey finished first with a time of 45.3, barely ahead of the Athlete team.

In the last event of the meet, Midland barely edged out Athlete in the mile relay to take first place. Roy Kinsey captured Midland's third first place in the 300-yard dash. Robert Klesling hurled the discus 120 feet, 8 1/2 inches for third place. Roddy Braun finished sixth in the 300 yard dash. The relay team finished fourth.

In the golf meet at Lubbock, the golf team took second place.

Established defense college near Paris where officers and civilians of 12 NATO nations can take courses in advanced training methods.

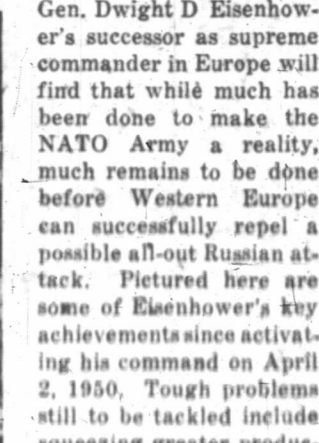

Gave NATO high caliber leadership, naming British Field Marshal Montgomery (above) Supreme Commander of Army; and other top men to key posts.

Was instrumental in getting European members of NATO to quadruple military production and double their military budgets since 1945.

Fought for inclusion of Greece and Turkey in NATO plans. Admission of two countries added 500,000 seasoned troops to Atlantic alliance.

Falcon Attacks Pigeons In Aviary

BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—Tony Bove thought he had bats in his belfry when he discovered a falcon in his pigeon aviary recently.

Bove sensed "fowl" play when he heard his squabs in a dither and rushed out to find the falcon alight. The bird of prey was finally captured, says Bove, after he suffered several painful wounds on his hands from its sharp talons.

"I would have killed it," says Bove, "but I noticed it had bands on its legs and must belong to some one."

Leather poles on shoes cannot ventilate feet properly if hampered by impermeable foot coverings, such as rubbers and galoshes, which should be removed when indoors.

Composite Prisoner Picture Presented

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—The State Prisons Department and the Paroles Commission have drawn up a composite picture of North Carolina's average prison inmate.

He is almost 28 but has a mental age of 14. Mr. Average Prisoner stands five feet, nine inches, is married, and dropped out of school after the fifth grade. He is serving about five year and nine months for a crime committed in a small or rural community.

The figures also show that throughout the state's prison system the number of white admissions is outnumbering negro admissions. This is a reversal of prewar trends and has caused Prisons Director Walter Anderson to state he must convert some of his negro camps to camps for whites.

HERE'S HOW ADS MAKE MONEY FOR YOU

USUALLY when you read or listen to advertising, you think only of the fact that it's trying to sell you something. And advertising's job certainly is to sell you something. That's what it's for.

But let's look at advertising in a broader sense. All the jobs and all the pay checks in America ultimately depend on people buying and selling. Yes, jobs depend on somebody selling something to somebody else.

So good, hard-working advertising is really the sparkplug of American business. And by stimulating business it makes jobs—more and better jobs for all.

In the last analysis, advertising does more than sell you something. It plays a big part in creating the job by which you get the money to buy.

So be glad there's plenty of advertising. Be glad Americans love to hear and read it. It plays a big part in American prosperity—a big part in making your job more secure.

OTHER WAYS ADVERTISING HELPS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

- 1 Brings you better goods for less money.
- 2 Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
- 3 Gears consumer demand to production, to create prosperity.

'Follow The Leader' Now Is Mechanized

ORANGE—(P)—The childish game of "Follow the Leader" has grown up and become mechanized. There was a time when it was played only by small fry squeezing through unaid sewer pipes, teetering precariously atop fences and shinnying manfully up tall trees. Nowadays the game is played mostly by youths in their late teens and early twenties—in automobiles.

They gang up at some favorite hangout, organize, and drive slowly—or rapidly if they are sure no officers are about—through crowded streets, bumper to bumper, sometimes with dozens of cars in the procession.

The fad started—as many others have—on the west coast. Officers here say the game sometimes gets pretty rough out there and have heard reports that several "players" have been killed in California.

About 100 Orange youths have begun playing the game and, oddly enough, blame its adoption here on a newspaper article which closed down gambling at night clubs in adjoining Calcasieu parish, La.

Talk To Reporters

Local "players" who have talked to reporters say the group of young people involved, mostly unmarried, once found satisfactory recreation at the nearby Louisiana night clubs.

The first game was played March 21 and 14 automobiles loaded with young people participated. That time they drove in and out of parking lots, through filling stations, across a school campus and all over the city until officers broke up the procession.

On March 26, this time with 30 cars, they played it again, but with a warning from Corporation Court Judge A. H. Prince that he would be hard on anybody caught violating the law while participating. Still fresh, they were careful to obey all the traffic rules.

While almost a dozen officers tore their hair and rained at the young drivers, the 30 automobiles paraded about the town for an hour and a half without a single ticket being issued.

The following day telephones in the office of the Orange Leader were kept busy by youths, who took part. All complained about the lack of what they considered suitable recreational facilities for their age group and all voiced complaints about the way the officers had conducted themselves while the game was being played.

Signed Statement

One 20-year-old boy brought in a signed statement. Here are quotes from it:

"What is there to do for recreation in this town—nothing, nothing at all but theaters and a dinner. As for the park—the city's mu-

Martin Chamber To Hold Annual Banquet April 29

STANTON—The Martin County Chamber of Commerce will hold its first annual meeting April 29 with the Rev. Dick O'Brien of Big Spring as the featured speaker.

Cecil Bridges, director of both the local and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of arrangements for the Stanton banquet in the high school gymnasium. A special musical program is being planned for the event opening at 7:30 p.m.

R. B. Whitaker is president of the Martin chamber which now has 113 members. Hila Weathers has served as the first secretary-manager. Other officers this year include S. W. Wheeler, vice president, and J. H. Pinkston, treasurer.

Dave Foreman, Joe Stewart and Phillip White are retiring directors. Balloting is in progress to fill the three positions.

Committees for the banquet include: Jack Arrington, chairman, Jack Bentley, Finley Rhodes, R. C. Vest and Glenn Brown, house committee; Jim Ellard, chairman, Coates Bentley, Ira Boothe and Joe Bauleh, program committee; Philip White, chairman, O. H. Goolbsy and James Jones, food and ticket committee, and wives of the directors, with Mrs. R. B. Whitaker, as chairman, decoration and reception committee.

"It's a terrible thing for a town of this size, with all its industries and businesses to have no place for the younger men and women to go for fun.

The Orange Leader, commenting that "it appears that our anti-gambling crusade has brought forth an unexpected problem," announced that it is launching another campaign—for a youth center with attendance limited to the "older teenagers" and those who still ought to be.

"turns out she was right after all"

"Jane kept harping about not having hot water enough for her new automatic washing machine. I said nonsense—we have a good water heater! But to keep peace I called our plumber. 'Only ONE automatic water heater heats fast enough to run these modern appliances,' he said, 'and it's Gas. It's 3 times faster than any other all-automatic fuel.' He said also a Gas heater would be cheaper to buy, install and run. Must say I've got hotter water for shaving, too! Ask your plumber—he'll tell you there's nothing like Gas for automatic water heating."

This is a Coleman automatic Gas water heater... one of several fine brands on the market today. Your merchant plumber or Gas appliance dealer will gladly advise you about the right size for your family.

And there's nothing like Gas for automatic cooking... refrigeration... house-heating... air-conditioning... clothes-drying... incineration.

Mix Your Own Stains To Finish Wood Paneling

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service.

If you are planning to finish your upstairs or recreation room in natural wood paneling or perhaps re-finish existing paneling, you will have an interesting variety of stains to choose from.

Dark stains should be used only in large rooms as the dark walls have a tendency to make the small room even smaller. Don't expect to get the soft glow of the pine paneling to be found in hundred-year-old New England homes. This finish is the result of oxidizing the surface fibers by exposure to light and air for a long period of time.

Stains are divided into several groups, including oil stains, water stains, alcohol stains and acid stains.

Popular Shade
A popular shade of oil stain is "pumpkin brown clear." Mix burnt sienna in boiled linseed oil which has been thinned with turpentine, cool with a touch of ultramarine blue, apply and let dry for 24 hours, then seal with shellac and wax.

"Light red-brown" oil stain is Vandyke brown with a spot of ultramarine blue in boiled linseed oil with japan drier. Shellac, seal and wax.

"Yellow-brown" is made of yellow ochre mixed with boiled linseed oil and toned down with burnt sienna and ultramarine blue. Thin with gasoline and apply thin coat. Seal with two coats white shellac and wax.

"Tawny brown antique" is simply a coat of light oak oil stain followed by a coat of flat gray paint. Wipe off gray paint before it dries, wax.

Of the water stains, one of the most popular is "red-brown," which is no more than chloride of iron in water. First raise the grain by sponging with water, sand when dry, apply stain, sand again, shellac and wax.

English Finish
An "English" finish is a thin coat of glue size colored with raw sienna, raw umber and a touch of Venetian red. After stain is thoroughly dry, wipe with damp cloth to soften tone. Seal with flat varnish or lacquer.

A popular acid stain is gray in color. Soak common nails in vinegar for 24 hours. Sponge the surface with water to which has been added a little of the vinegar. After surface is dry, sand and apply stain. Seal, sand and wax.

"Cafe au lait" is an alcohol stain whose color is derived from strong coffee. First seal the wood with a thin coat of clear lacquer over which the coffee is applied with cheese cloth. Blend and rub out with cheese cloth until the desired color is reached. Sand lightly and apply as an over-tone an alcohol stain made from alcohol-soluble fast scarlet, fast orange and jet black. Protect with wax.

Many finishing preparations are available in ready-to-use form, or you may mix your own preparation for that decorating job.

Keeping House In Excellent Repair Protects Investment

A family's investment in the home should be protected by keeping the house in first-class condition at all times.

This means constant attention to small details so that even with age and use there will be little impairment in value. The house should continue indefinitely to be as sturdy and attractive as when new.

Repairs should be made as soon as defects are discovered, to prevent small jobs becoming costly big ones. A split clapboard will rot quickly and damage the interior by admitting moisture. A few broken or displaced shingles soon will result in serious damage that may cost hundreds of dollars to repair. There should be frequent inspections of the house inside and out.

Paint Preserves
One of the most economical factors in maintaining the value of a house is regular painting of both exterior and interior. Exterior paint should be renewed at least every four years. Not only does this add beauty to the house, but more important is the fact that top-quality paint, properly applied, protects the wood and metal surfaces from rot, rust and corrosion. It is these enemies of wood and metal that cause the real damage to any structure. Where paint is kept in good condition, repair bills are kept down.

An attractive home with modern color treatment is always worth more than a drab house, although the drab house may be equally as sound structurally.

Easier To Apply
With manufacturers constantly making better paints that are easier to apply, more and more homeowners are saving money by doing their own painting. Sixty-five per cent of all interior paints now are sold for self-application by the customer. A few years ago, only 40 per cent was bought by householders.

Another step forward is that today's paint dries quicker and hence painting is not a long-time project. Roller-type applicators spread the paint faster and easier than brushes. New rollers have long handles so that one can paint a ceiling, a high wall or a floor with more ease.

Ways And Means To Simplify Housework Listed By Experts

The average American housewife spends 70 hours weekly at housework, says a recent college survey. Here are a few minute-saver suggestions that will lighten household chores:

1. Install window air filters or air-conditioning in your home, to eliminate outside dust, soot and pollen and cut down on dusting, sweeping and vacuuming, suggests the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information.
2. Wax wooden surfaces such as tables, chairs, door-frames, windowsills and cupboard doors. Occasional wiping then will keep these clean.
3. Use detergents for washing dishes, glassware and clothing. The chemical action does the work, eliminating physical effort.
4. Use stove-to-table and refrigerator-to-table utensils, allowing food to be served in the same container in which it was cooked. Cut down on the number of plates, pots and pans used for a meal.
5. Use a water-softener in bathroom, to avoid bathtub ring and other stains. Rinsing cleans the tub.

6. Use floor covering which does not originate dust, is impervious to spillage, moisture, alkalis.
7. Use plastic table tops. They clean easily and cut down the use of tablecloths.
8. Keep kitchen tools and pots in sight. Hang them on wall, hooks or racks within easy reach near where you use them.
9. Paint your walls. They are easier to clean, and last longer. Now that paint is available in 1,322 colors, you can match your draperies and upholstery fabrics regardless of their color.

Design Important To Top Efficiency Of Small House

The trend towards the too-small house may mean the sacrifice of efficiency, comfort and resale value, one building materials industry warns.

In a report on new home construction, the Tile Council of America notes that small houses have been increasing rapidly in number because of (a) pinched budgets of purchasers and (b) the rise in building costs. Too many of these new dwellings have no provision for expansion, or have eliminated favorable resale factors such as garages, says the council, and lists the following recommendations for the design of small homes:

1. Plans, including heating system, should provide for expansion, either on a second floor or by the addition of wings.

2. Only durable materials such as clay tile should be installed in critical areas which receive the greatest wear, like the kitchen and bathroom. Use of such materials when the house is built will eliminate costly repairs and replacements later.

Install The Best
3. Installation of inferior plumbing and fixtures should be avoided. The best will last as long as the house.

4. Even the small home can have a scientifically designed kitchen. This is the busiest room and should be planned to accommodate the needs of a growing family through many years.

5. Small houses have small bathrooms, but bathing "bottlenecks" can be eliminated by installation of an extra shower stall, using the same plumbing lines as the tub-shower combination.

6. Construction costs can be reduced by enlarging the living room and omitting a dining room. Meal service efficiency may be guaranteed by cutting pass-throughs in the wall between the kitchen and the living-dining area.

Laboratory To Make Smog Investigation

PASADENA, CALIF.—(P)—The Pasadena laboratory of the Stanford Research Institute has included Los Angeles smog in its scientific investigations.

Smog, a combination of smoke and fog, consists of 50 different substances, says Dr. A. M. Zarem, of the laboratory. These substances are produced by burning 30,000 tons of fuel and rubbish and by exhaust fumes from two million motor vehicles.

The scientist believes intense research is necessary to determine the effect of each substance and to reduce the most irritating at their source.

H-Boom Also Is Boom For House Movers

Saying goodbye to Ellenton, Jack Seymour and stepson, Martin Glover, stand by front door with dog awaiting house movers.

Out of the lot where Martin was born 13 years ago, Seymour house rolls onto Highway 28 while a patrolman stands watch.

Down Main Street of Ellenton, Seymour house is hauled past complicated signboard that shows H-Bomb plant's influence.

In pine-wooded lot in Jackson, Seymour and his stepson stand on new homestead as their house nears end of its journey.

ELLENTON, S. C. (NEA)—The H-Boom along the Savannah has also been a boom for house movers. When the first announcement of the location of the Hydrogen-bomb plant was made in November, 1950, professional house movers from as far away as Colorado cranked up their heavy equipment and headed East. Calvin Fowler, of Madill, Okla. for instance, has been moving

Occupation Housing Causes Complaints

AP Newsfeatures
BONN, GERMANY—They have the best furnished apartments in Germany—and rent free—yet the Americans here are turning their "Little America on the Rhine" into "Grieville on the Rhine." After four months in the U. S. High Commission's new nine million dollar housing project, many of the 1,000 Americans here are saying "What are we doing in this rat-hole?"

Some of the more dissatisfied go so far as "You can take Little America and drop it in the Rhine" 45th Apartments. The 45th-apartment residential area was built with American funds at Bad Godesberg, a nearby Rhine spa, when the High Commission decided to transfer its headquarters from Frankfurt to the West German capital. It's a self-contained community with a school, post exchange store, a self-service grocery, chapel, clothing store, beauty shop, valet and tailor service, liquor store and a news-stand loaded with American magazines and newspapers.

Looking out over the storied Rhine River, the apartments consist of 120 single-bedroom units, 144 two-bedroom, 144 three-bedroom and 30 larger ones. They're furnished to the last nail. Even glassware, silver services, flat irons, percolators and tarpel sweepers are provided. German newspapers call the newly-built quarters a "paradise." Not so the Americans. Their complaints range from the serious to the frivolous, from "we are isolated from the Germans whom we are supposed to work with and know" to "there's too much furniture in these apartments—I had to get rid of some."

High Commission officials say they had to throw up a special housing project for their employees since no other housing is available in the war-bombed Bonn area. Apartments isolated from "Little America" says: "Why did they build our apartments miles away from Bonn or Bad Godesberg? My husband has to take the car so I'm marooned at home all day."

Some other "Little America" complaints: "All the apartments are exactly alike. It's just like living in a dormitory." "There's no privacy here. Any time somebody starts his car everybody in the block is peeping out the window to look. That's because they're all so bored."

Entertainment Sparse
 For entertainment and dining out, there is one American-run hotel, a French night club and one good German hotel-restaurant. And that's it. Larger Cologne is about half an hour away for those who have cars. The lack of nearby resort areas is another sore spot with the recently transplanted Americans. In Frankfurt, they scamped out of town every weekend or so to such glittering vacation spots as Austria, Switzerland, Bavaria or Paris. Each of these could be reached by overnight train.

Lavishly Furnished
 Most of the "Little America" residents voice strong opinions about the apartments themselves. One diplomat remarks: "These places are so lavishly furnished that I feel self-conscious. Some people are still living in the wet cellars of bombed buildings in this country, you know. Why, I have a sofa in my living room which is 17 feet long and stuffed with eiderdown."

FRANCE IS BEST CUSTOMER
SAIGON, INDO-CHINA—France still is Indo-China's best customer for her exports of rice, tea, rubber, maize, cement and other products. Thirty-eight per cent of the total value of Indo-Chinese exports in 1951 went to France. This, however, was six per cent lower than in the preceding year.

Never try to clean an electric toaster by immersing it in water. Brush away any crumbs and wipe the outside with a well-wring-out soapy cloth. Repeat with a clean, damp cloth, and then rub the surface dry.

Remodeling Injects New Life Into Older Homes

The urge to put new life into the old house is behind the upsurge of remodeling now going on throughout the United States.

The best place to start injecting new life into the old home is in the kitchen and bathroom, for these are areas that most definitely date the home.

Of the 42,000,000 homes in the nation, it is estimated that 23,000,000 are 30 years old or older. Changes in design of kitchen and bathroom appliances in this period have been remarkable. But perhaps more remarkable is the change in the American housewife's demands for more useable space and more convenient appliances in her kitchen.

Family Needs
 The average family of four needs 36 square feet of shelf space in wall cabinets and seven linear feet of shelf space in base cabinets in the kitchen. Each kitchen divides itself naturally into three parts: the sink or cleaning center, the refrigerator or food storage center, and the range or cooking and serving center. Every newspaper offers new ideas on arrangement of the modern appliances for most efficient operation of the woman's workshop—her kitchen.

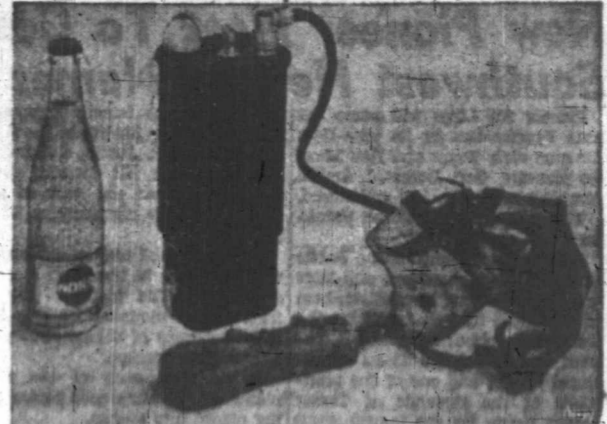

Today it is easy to tie the entire kitchen together in one attractive and efficient unit by the wise use of color on the walls and ceilings through the application of such materials as prefinished wallpanels which are as easy to keep shining and clean as the finish on the refrigerator or range.

Perfume 'Oomph' Comes From Italy

REGGIO CALABRIA, ITALY—(AP)—Few of the world's most fashionable women know when they apply a drop of precious perfume to their ear that its oomph comes from this poverty-stricken part of Southern Italy.

It comes from the bergamot tree. Calabria is the sole producer of the extracted essence of bergamot, essential for manufacture of perfumes. Calabria production of essence of bergamot, extracted from the pear-shaped citrus fruit of the tree, is about 34,000 tons annually.

Overloading a washing machine prevents the clothes from circulating freely enough in the water and produces an uneven or spotty washing action. It also produces excess wear due to friction.

PINT-SIZED WALKIE-TALKIE—Scarcely larger than a soda-pop bottle, the Norwegian walkie-talkie, above, is produced for use in Norway's rugged, wooded country. Earphones are worn like a cap, and the microphone may be hidden in a mitten. Five thousand sets, valued at $500,000, are being manufactured in Norway for her armed forces. Procurement of $15,000 worth of American radio tubes was made possible through Mutual Security Agency's defense support program to NATO nations. The sets would have cost 1 to 3 million dollars to import.

Home Owners Urged To Set Up Special Budget For Repairs

Whether your home is two years old or twenty, you should set aside money each month for its repair and maintenance. Saving $10 to $15 monthly for home repairs won't upset the average budget, but it will mean a lot when you want the bathroom tiled, the roof repaired and the water heater replaced, points out a Title Council of America report.

The report divides home repairs into three classes—the predictable, periodic ones; the unpredictable; and the ones needed because of obsolescence. Budgeting ahead for them is the easiest method of financing all three. The redecorating of rooms and exterior painting are done at fairly set intervals, the report points out. On the other hand, such repairs as new roofing, the rewiring of the house or the replacing of an old, inefficient heating plant can not always be anticipated, since they are usually needed only once in many years—and often are brought on by some semi-emergency.

Save Regularly
 Saving regularly for such repairs means that you can not only finance them easily, but also have the work done well. When a porch floor rots out, for instance, it's less expensive in the long run to replace it with clay tile, which will last the lifetime of the house and make the room more attractive. By saving in advance for such repairs, you do not have to exercise false economies on them.

The third type of repairs, those resulting from obsolescence, usually are expensive, and the money saved in your repair account over two or three years may be used up in one project. You may, for example, want to replace fixtures and install clay tile wainscots and floor in a bathroom that has become too old-fashioned. Maybe remodeling your kitchen would make it a more convenient and happier place in which to work. Perhaps the exterior of the house needs a real face lifting.

Hornblower's Son Is Sailor

AP Newsfeatures
SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—Seaman Recruit John Forester, son of British author C. S. Forester who created the fictional character, Horatio Hornblower, is learning his square knots and semaphore signals at the naval training center here.

The Hornblower of his father's books did his adventuring aboard England's sailing ships. He rose in rank and survived many a scrap with the author's help.

In the U. S. Navy, young Forester will progress on his own merits. A native of London and a graduate of the University of California, the 22-year-old Forester became a U. S. citizen last November. His home now is in Berkeley, Calif.

Seaman Recruit Forester says he has an application in for Navy officer candidate school.

New Pioneer Fleet To Get Southwest Heroes' Names

Pioneer Air Lines will name the nine Pacemasters in its new fleet for nine early Texas and New Mexico pioneers, Gen. Robert J. Smith, company president, has announced. The nine planes will be named for: Sam Houston, hero of the Battle of San Jacinto, president and later governor of Texas; Ben Milam, hero of the Battle for San Antonio in the Texas Revolution; Mirabeau B. Lamar, founder of the Texas educational system and one of the presidents of the Republic of Texas; James Bowie for the famous scout and fighter who lost his life in the Battle of the Alamo; James Fannin, hero of the Battle of Goliad; William B. Travis, commanding officer of the Alamo; David

Immigration Laws Waived To Let Three Texans Bring Families From Overseas

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—While Congress devotes most of its attention to weighty world and national problems, it also takes time to consider hundreds of personal bills that concern only individuals and their private lives.

Three Texans are named in a score or more of such measures involving servicemen. Approved by both House and Senate and sent to President Truman for his signature, they involve the adoption of orphaned children in Japan and Germany and waiving of immigration laws to permit their entry into the United States. M/Sgt. Albert Sidney Brisco, native of Ford City, Texas, and his wife Jennie Helms Brisco, born in Paris, Texas, are authorized under one of the bills to bring into the U. S. without regard to immigration quotas, little Hans Werner Brisco, born July 8, 1950, in Munich. Sgt. Juan M. Valdez of Edinburg and his Japanese wife are involved in another of the measures. It authorizes them to bring into the U. S. the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Valdez, who was officially adopted by the Texan after the marriage of the couple last year. As the wife of an American serviceman, Mrs. Valdez already was authorized to enter this country. Sgt. Edward W. Gentry and his wife, Fern, both of San Antonio, are authorized to bring in as their adopt 1 son, two-year old Kazumi Yamashita. The House Agriculture Committee people of movie actor Robert Montgomery regarding his adverse radio news comments on the foot-and-mouth disease control program was largely a verbal battle between the Hollywood celebrity and Waco's affable and very informal congressman Bob (The Farmer's Friend) Poage. Time and again when Poage would ask Montgomery a question, the latter would respond with a question. Unlike many congressmen who would sharply remind the witness he was present to answer questions and not to ask them, Poage would oblige with an informative reply. Montgomery, somewhat reluctantly, agreed to let Poage speak later on his radio broadcast program to tell about the foot-and-mouth disease control program in Mexico. He said he would much rather have Secretary of Agriculture Brannan appear. Throughout his testimony, Montgomery referred to Midland's Congressman Ken Regan as a source of his critical observations which precipitated the hearing. Regan, speaking out after Montgomery finished, supported the actor-commentator and declared that recurring outbreaks of the disease in Mexico were probably planted by individuals wanting to perpetuate their jobs. He exonerated top, responsible officials of blame. The hearing developed one those exceedingly rare situations in which members of the Texas congressional delegation differed openly. Most of the times they iron out their differences privately, but Poage and Regan clashed sharply for a moment as the rest of the committee and the spectators listened. Some of the earlier pictures of fairly large ships in Egypt date back to 2,800 B. C.

NEW YORK—Here in this big city nowadays we often cast our eyes upward at the gigantic airplanes which roar overhead, and wonder when the next one will fall into this honeycomb of humanity. Like any other case of increasing hysteria, the fear is exaggerated. But in time to come something undoubtedly will be done about the problem. Maybe the airports will be moved so far from big cities that quick-hopping helicopters can be used effectively to take passengers to them from handy metropolitan air-depots.

Forty years ago a lip-reading teacher here, himself hard of hearing, heard a deafened pupil remark that if his hearing loss continued to handicap him in finding work he would never be seen again. The alarmed teacher talked with other pupils and teachers and from these earnest talks grew the New York League for the Hard of Hearing, a non-profit institution at 490 Lexington Avenue, which helps members find jobs. Some of these have desperately serious loss of hearing. This fine social service agency last year served almost 19,000 hard-of-hearing men, women and children. One service is giving unbiased advice on hearing aids and for those who can't afford to buy one, used ones are furnished if they are available.

Down on lower 4th Avenue are the second-hand bookshops. There if one has time, one can browse among the dusty volumes without charge. The last time I was there, I found a copy of Hawthorne's "Blithedale Romance" for ten cents. Perhaps from his literary Elysian Fields, that great writer may have looked with scorn at one of his books bringing such a paltry sum. But he never was overly-concerned about money. Once when he had lost his job at the Boston customs house, he went home downcast, but his wife greeted him with a smile. "Now you can write your books," she said. "On What?" replied Hawthorne. Whereupon she opened the drawer of her dresser and showed him enough money for them to live on for a year—which she had saved out of her housekeeping allowance.

Dropped into the S. H. Kress and Company store on 5th Avenue and noted that it was one of the busiest and most attractive establishments on this great shopping thoroughfare. Of course, in these days, as most everyone knows, the name "five-and-ten-cent store" no longer applies, although a few items still are priced this low. Later an official of the company, C. H. Williamson, told me how the founder of the great chain started out as a $30-a-month school teacher in Slattington, Pa., about 65 years ago. He decided he wanted to go into business, took his two brothers in with him and they were almost knocked out by the depression of 1893. But they recovered, as will be evidenced by last year's sales of the 361 stores in 236 American cities, which totaled about 168 million dollars. The firm gives ambitious employees a correspondence course at home, grades them on it and enters this on their records. Time off cheerfully is allowed for the employees to vote, vacations are generous and all in all, it appears to be a well-run organization. It seems a coincidence, Williamson told me, that the founders of the Kress, Kresge and Woolworth stores all come originally from the same part of Pennsylvania. Ben Franklin really started something there.

The woman sat in a local restaurant looking pleasantly at her second cup of tea. There was sugar on the table, but the waistline of this aforementioned woman was the apparent reason she disdained the sweet. Instead, she took from her purse a bottle, extracted from it a small white tablet and dropped it into the tea cup. At the adjoining table another woman sprang up, rushed over and cried loudly, "Oh, lady, please don't take your own life! You have so much to live for!" The embarrassed tea drinker explained that it was not poison she put into her cup, but saccharin.

The first collective showing of new model automobiles since 1940 took place at the Waldorf-Astoria last week, and we had to wait several minutes on some long-lunchers to leave the room before the swanky 1952 cars could be rolled in and shown. Pretty female models vied for the crowd's attention, one prospect saying he'd buy the car if the blonde went with it.
