"Hey, you!" burst out Tully, "why didn't you signal?" "Because," chirped the doll, "I always turn here, silly!"

Wayne Belardi phoned in for two cheeseburgers and a milk shake. This last call, we and Gene Clough singled consecupresume, was a wrong number. But to get back to sports, we've had ample opportunity to speculate on the Indian-Oiler opener here Monday night and there's only one hits by Houston as Shreveport lost inclusion at which we may arrive:

The Oilers just got there fustest with the mostest, and for the night had the superior ball club. All Winter long reports coming from the Broncho City said the Oilers' hitting would be better than last year-and it was, in our sleepy opinion, the best around these parts in 1951. Any doubts we may have had along these lines rapidly disappeared Three Hopefuls Tie after the 12-hit assault they staged here in the lid-blaster.

established fact that Evello Ortega was capable, after his 21-8 record last year. Who are we to dispute after his three-hit effort here, which, by all rights, should have been a shutcut? by all rights, should have been a shutout?

Juan Guerrero (he hurls against the Tribe Tuesday night) is the other "proven" Oiler with a 14-13 figure last time out. They say Wes Oritz could be OK for the Odessa team, but he's not tested as of now If he comes through, then the Otlers have three first-line pitchers. With another, they could sack up the laurels voted for Midland by generous, loop sports scribes. This isn't, however, a blistering tirade at the local club. To win the opener before such a large gathering here (almost 4,000 fans) would have been great indeed. But no one expected the Indians to win 140 games when the season started. They have 139 more in which to redeem themselves. We aren't going to try to brazen it out and say no weak spots on the Midland team-a couple such spots do exist. We know them, you probably know them and you can bet your bottom dollars Manager Zeke Bonura knows them.

And you can stake out the family bank roll on this fact: They will be corrected before the league opposition has too much opportunity to know them.

TREE OF DISASTER—Resembling a grotesque tree, the heavy black lines on Newsmap above trace the courses of the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers, now swollen with flood waters, and their most important tributary "branches." Black arrows show how spring rains and melting snows in Montana, the Dakotas and other upland areas are carried by one river after another into the overburdened Mississippi and Missouri mainstems. Diagonally shaded lines enclose the six major areas that pour water down into the Missouri and Mississippi valleys. Not indicated are the myriad twig-like brooks and leaf-like swamps, ponds and marshes that feed—often with disastrous results—America's six biggest river basins.

The Equitable Reports

The need and the demand of the American people for life insurance service are greater than ever. During 1951, new business written by the Society totalled $1,200,000,000. To policyowners and beneficiaries, The Equitable paid out $423,742,000 during the year.

Life insurance is a very personal matter. Its services must be adjusted to the individual needs of the policy-owner. We, in The Equitable, take special pride in the great field force of competent and enthusiastic agents and agency managers who perform this personal service. Indeed, the greatest single contribution of life insurance to the American public has been the development of a large force of intelligent, trained and enthusiastic field underwriters who are prepared to serve the American people in attaining their goals of individual and family

At The Equitable, much time and effort are devoted to the selection and training of our agents and their managers. We think there is no better adult education in the country than that which Equitable makes available to them. We regret, though, that our present policyowners and those who have need of insurance protection and estate planning are not making as much use as they should of the services that this great organization can furnish. Policyowners and their beneficiaries, as well as the insurance buying public who expect to realize the full measure of insurance protection, should consult one of our 8,000 Equitable field representatives and keep

During 1951 The Equitable continued to increase its financial capacity to meet its existing obligations and to take on additional ones. Premium income during the year amounted to $727,003,016 and net earnings from investment operations amounted to $167,459,000. After paying all claims and expenses of operation—including a greatly increased Federal Income Tax and the additions to our policy reserves required by the nature of our business—the margin remaining was $134,000,000. Our of this total we made extraordinary additions to our reserves of $19,100,000, paid or set aside $100,300,000 for dividends and added $23,600,000 to surplus funds. Haskins & Sells, Certified Public Accountants, who have maintained a continuous audit of our transactions during the year, have issued their certificate stating that our accounts and transactions are in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles and with regulations prescribed by the Insurance Department of the State of New York.

Taking a closer look at taxes we find that the Revenue Act of 1951 imposed a new tax on the life insurance companies which cost The Equitable $11,350,000, an increase of $5,100,000 over our tax for 1950. This increase in the 1951 tax took all of the increase in the rate of the Society's investment earnings during the year.

Like everyone else in the land, we feel this increasing contribution to the cost of Government because our Federal Tax payment for 1951 was approximately one fifth of the Ordinary dividends which we set aside for distribution to our policyowners during the current year.

Then too, like everyone else in the land, we are suffering from the continued inflation of our money supply—now in excess of $190 billions, up more than $10 billions during 1951-and the consequent depreciation of the purchasing value of our insurance dollar.

It is for these reasons that we in The Equitable have been critical of the monetary policies which shirk the grave duty of controlling the supply of money in these days, when it is principally inconvertible paper. Those who took us off the gold standard, whether they realized it or not, tremendously increased the need for compe-tent, courageous Federal Peserve policies with respect to credit and the supply of money. At least the loosening of the peg on market prices of Government Bonds during 1951 was a step in the right direction.

Quick-Change Act

It is amusing to see some Texas newspapers who formerly had endorsed Senator Tom Connally for reelection, do a quick-change act and scramble aboard the Price Daniel bandwagon, now that Senator Tom has decided not to seek reelection,

Some 16 or 18 newspapers had completed the switchover by the first of this week.

And the reasons some of them give for at first supporting Senator Connally and why they now believe Price Daniel is the man for the Senate post, make exceptionally interesting reading.

It is a matter of being caught short, and then trying to recoup one's losses with one quick sweep of the editorial Candidate Daniel surely must be getting quite a laugh out of the quick-change act.

The McGranery Case And so it comes to pass that Washington, in its wisdom, will have a cabinet appointee passed upon by the department he is supposed to become head of and in which he once was the No. 2 man. The man is U. S. District Court Judge James P. Mc-Granery of Philadelphia, named by President Truman to be U. S. attorney general, succeeding J. Howard McGrath.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which must approve the appointment, has asked to see a full and up-to-date FBI check on McGranery, particularly his connection with the Amerasia case. Some senators are predicting privately the committee's look at the record may take weeks.

The Americal case, it will be recalled, concerned the World War II theft of secret government documents. Mc-Granery, then with the Justice Department, was in charge der which a newspaperman can ficer of the British War Ministry, of the prosecution of the case.

McGranery later testified before a congressional committee that he made a "deal" with the principal defendant, Philip J. Jaffe, in which the latter pleaded guilty and was fined $2,500.

Testimony at the hearings, held in 1946, was withheld from the public for four years, although the committee did issue a general report.

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI head, isn't likely to forget that criticism, which could bring on a situation not entirely conducive to good Justice Department morale.

But the main thing is that the people of America are getting pretty well fed up with the kind of bungling and worse which has been taking place in Washington.

They deserve better and sooner or later they're going to get it. If the appointment of McGranery is a step in the right direction, all right. But if it isn't, the people responsible should make every effort to establish that fact.
