231 New Jersey Convicts Terminate Five-Day Munity

RAHWAY, N. J.—(AP)—Rebellious convicts at Rahway State Prison, N. J., surrendered meekly to authorities late Tuesday, ending a five-day mutiny.

The 231 rebels, who had been barricaded in a dormitory wing almost 115 hours, gave up after freeing eight guards they held as hostages. Unshaven and haggard, the convicts shuffled slowly in pairs out of the building from which they earlier had shouted defiance to prison authorities.

Just prior to their surrender, the rebels pulled down crudely lettered bedsheets signs which hung outside the dormitory windows, and burned them.

In a statement from Trenton after the convicts gave up to authorities, the New Jersey State Department of Institutions and Agencies said:

"The settlement includes the same agreement stipulated by the department Monday, namely, a survey of parole procedures and a promise there would be no corporal punishment visited on the inmates who lately barricaded themselves."

RED LOWDOWN ON DUNKERQUE

MOSCOW—(AP)—Russian readers got the Soviet dope Wednesday on the British evacuation from Dunkerque.

Neither heroism nor skill got the British troops off the sands of France—Hitler let them get away on purpose, wrote the Russian Navy newspaper Red Fleet.

The Fuehrer issued orders to let the British troops get away, the paper explained, in hope this would speed up an Anglo-German agreement on a joint war against the Soviet Union.

British Soldiers Occupy Small Arabian Territory

LONDON—(AP)—Britain announce- ed Wednesday her troops have occupied the tiny Arabian territory of Lahej, between British Aden and Yemen, after Lahej's one-eyed sultan fled to Yemen.

The British said the recent deaths of two of the sultan's cousins—whom he had exiled—caused uneasy stirrings among the population. News reports added the ruler also had been having trouble over some of the 42 wives he has acquired in a marrying marathon which started a year ago.

A quick protest from the Yemen legation here said that independent kingdom on the Arabian Peninsula's southwest coast viewed the British move with "complete surprise and astonishment" and charged it was not in accord with existing treaties.

Lahej is part of the Aden protectorate which surrounds the British colony at Aden, an important Arabian Peninsula bunkering port on the shipping route to the Far East. Britain controls the protectorate through the native sultans.

(NEA Telephoto) OPERATION BIGSHOT—The fireball from the "Operation Bigshot" atom blast rises slowly into the air at Yucca Flat, Nevada. At left, measuring rockets spiral upward, keeping pace with the mushrooming blast. Infantry troops employed in the operation, dug in three miles from "ground zero," were reported all safe after the explosion.

B-36 Launching Of Jet Announced

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The launching of an F-84 jet fighter plane from a B-36 bomber in flight has been announced by the Air Force.

It gave only that bare statement in reply to inquiries about a story in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram saying the big bombers now can carry jet fighters inside their A-bomb bellies, launch them in the air and recapture them in flight.

Lancaster Wants Dramatic Roles—Muscles Under Wraps

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Guys and Dolls: "I'll go on making swash-bucklers for my own company. But in my outside pictures, I want to do things that will help me as an actor against the time when I have to give up all this jumping around."

Burt Lancaster, at 38, explaining his reason for biting off a chunk of solid drama in Hal Wallis' "Come Back, Little Sheba" and concealing his muscles under a business suit for a change.

"Anyhow," he continued, "I don't understand people who talk about a Burt Lancaster type of picture. I've done a variety of roles. I remember when I went to Columbia with 'The Flame and The Arrow.' They weren't interested in making such a film and told me they wanted a Lancaster type of picture—like 'The Killers.'"

"Not too long ago, I went back to Columbia with an idea for a tender story about parents and children. The same executive howled that the studio was only interested in a typical Lancaster picture. 'Like what?' I asked. 'Why, 'briest the executive, 'like 'The Flame and the Arrow,' of course.'"

Monica Lewis, a new movie goddess, whispered the "bad" news about her career—she's losing pots and pots of money as a flicker lovely.

Her show business pals got the idea that Monica was being offered $1. Knox and Bing Crosby's money belt when Hollywood Pied Pipered her right out of night club stardom.

But now, a little over a year later, Monica is confiding:

"I make a third of what I used to make in night clubs alone. That's not counting what I used to get in radio, TV and recordings. I wanted to be a movie actress, that's all. I had to choose between making big money and doing what I loved best. It was an emotional kind of decision and I won't make any claims to being intelligent. All I know is that it's emotionally satisfying."

Her current chore: A line role in MGM's "Everything I Have Is Yours."

This Is Hush-Hush. It's been kept a secret that Dana Andrews is turning over the $100,000 he's being paid by Columbia for "Assignment-Paris" to Producer Sam Goldwyn as the price for his freedom from a Goldwyn contract.

But Dana slipped me the news and added:

"I'm reaching the age at which I can't afford to make mediocre movies. You can't blame a producer for wanting to get an actor off the books if there's a chance for a loan-out for him. But it's bad for the actor most of the time. I've been under contract to Goldwyn for 12 years. I think that's a record for a Goldwyn star. We're parting good friends."

As he sees his future: "I have enough money so that I don't have to do a picture in order to keep eating. If I can't get top grade movies, I won't do any. Hollywood's changing. Pot-holders don't bolt the pot any more."

Dallas Gambler Is Wounded Critically In Mystery Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—Ivy Howard Miller, 59, Dallas gambler, was shot and wounded critically at his estate north of Dallas Tuesday and remained in a critical condition Wednesday.

Miller's 33-year-old son, Ivy Howard (Peck) Miller, Jr., was taken into custody by sheriff's deputies. He said, "I have nothing to say."

Miller reputedly was a gambling operator in Dallas during World War II and a one-time associate of Nevada gambler Benny Binion, under indictment in Dallas for operation of policy games.

The elder Miller had little to say about the shooting. He told Sheriff Bill Decker, "All I know is that I heard a sound in the next room and the next thing I know is that I'm shot."

He made news 12 years ago when he shot and killed Sam Murray, 34-year-old ex-convict and gambler, in a downtown Dallas doorway. Charged with murder and indicted, the case was dismissed on a motion by former District Attorney Andrew Patton on Patton's last day in office.

The motion said evidence was "insufficient to support prosecution."

Young Miller was free on a $1,500 Federal District Court bond on a marijuana possession charge at the time of the shooting.

Texas Well Digger Is Cavein Victim

CALVERT (AP)—Ed Gilbert, 48, was killed Tuesday when four feet of sand caved in on him as he dug a water well near here.

The body of Gilbert, a resident of Gause, Texas, was recovered four and one-half hours after the accident, which occurred about 1 p.m.

A nephew who was helping Gilbert hand dig the well, ran for help when the cavein occurred. He was A. W. Gilbert, about 30, who said he heard weak cries after he returned to the site.

"They didn't last very long," the younger Gilbert said.

Midlander Receives Full Military Burial Honors

Col. James Goodwin Hall, 55, vice president of Graham-Paige Corporation, who headed the R. Olsen Oil Company interests in the Permian Basin, was buried Tuesday with full military honors in Arlington Cemetery.

In World War I as a member of the 111th Escadrille, Hall shot down three German planes and was awarded the Croix de Guerre with two palms and a star.

The colonel, who made a brilliant record as a flier in both world wars, died Saturday in New York after suffering a heart attack. Funeral services were held Monday in New York City.

He was General Vandenberg's air staff chief of reconnaissance and mapping in England in the last world war. In 1945 Hall was made commander of the Legion of Honor and given another Croix de Guerre with palm in Paris ceremonies honoring his World War II service.

Federal Judge R. Ewing Thomas said the petition in bond session would be held during the normal court run at Pecos.

The Western Electric Division of Communication Workers of America (CIO) filed the petition Tuesday in an attempt to remove an injunction granted April 12 in Midland's 70th District Court.

Strike Shuts Down Italy's Newspapers

ROME —(AP)—All Italy was without newspapers Wednesday because of a 24-hour strike for higher pay for newsmen and printers.

The Italian radio network broadcast only brief bulletins. Writers of regular radio news programs and Italian translating staffs of foreign agencies supplying news to Italy also were affected by the strike.

The work stoppage was scheduled to end at 8 p.m. It began after a breakdown Tuesday of negotiations between government representatives and the National Federation of Journalists.

Bread Sales To Aid Flooded Breadbasket

RENO —(AP)—Bread will be on sale at 56 cents a loaf here this week-end to raise money to help flood victims in the Midwest, the nation's "breadbasket."

Under the "Bread for the Breadbasket" plan, shoppers wanting to help Missouri and Mississippi River flood victims purchase the 50-cent bread, and grocers turn the excess price over to the Red Cross.

Red Cross officials said the plan may be tried nationally.

Coke Stevenson Talks Of 1954 Renewal Of Political Fued With Lyndon Johnson

By The Associated Press
Renewal of the Coke Stevenson-Lyndon Johnson feud—the showdown two years away—overshadowed all other political developments in Texas Wednesday.

Stevenson said he intended to run against Senator Johnson in 1954.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Price Daniel moved a day nearer the U. S. Senate seat to be vacated by Tom Connally with no announced opposition. But a chance remained he might get an opponent before the 1954 race.

Former Governor Stevenson said, "If I feel as good as I do now, I intend to get into the (1954) race. And I believe I can run that fellow a race." He was speaking of Lyndon B. Johnson who eked out a slender, 87-vote victory over Stevenson in 1948 when block-voting Duval County gave him a tremendous, one-sided victory.

Former Rep. Martin Dies, in a self-imposed deadline setting 10 days ago, said he would make his intentions for 1952 known "within the next 10 days." He has said he would run either for senator or congressman-at-large.

Wednesday, however, it appeared Dies might run again for his old seat in the House which he relinquished without a campaign in 1944 to Rep. J. M. Combe of Beaumont.

Combs said Tuesday he would not be a candidate for reelection and Dies said he was "seriously considering" making the race for the Second District seat.

Coke Stevenson told a Dallas News reporter he turned down urging of friends to run for congressman-at-large. They wanted him to run for a warm-up race for the 1952 Senate campaign.

But the former governor said he believed the disadvantages of a freshman representative without a district outweighed any advantage he might gain.

Stevenson put one string on his decision to run. His health, he said had to be good. But he said it never had been otherwise.

GOP Tiff In Houston

Meanwhile, a visit in Houston by Texas' national Republican committeeman, Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, brought on a GOP tiff.

Mrs. B. H. J. Osborne, Jr., GOP committeewoman from Harris County, said Zweifel was in Houston to drum up support for a bolt of Taft-Zweifel supporters at the county convention.

Zweifel said he knew nothing about rumored bolts in Harris County or anywhere else. "I am here (in Houston) as the Taft manager in Texas," he said. Houston is the hometown of oil man Jack Porter, state campaign manager for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for President.

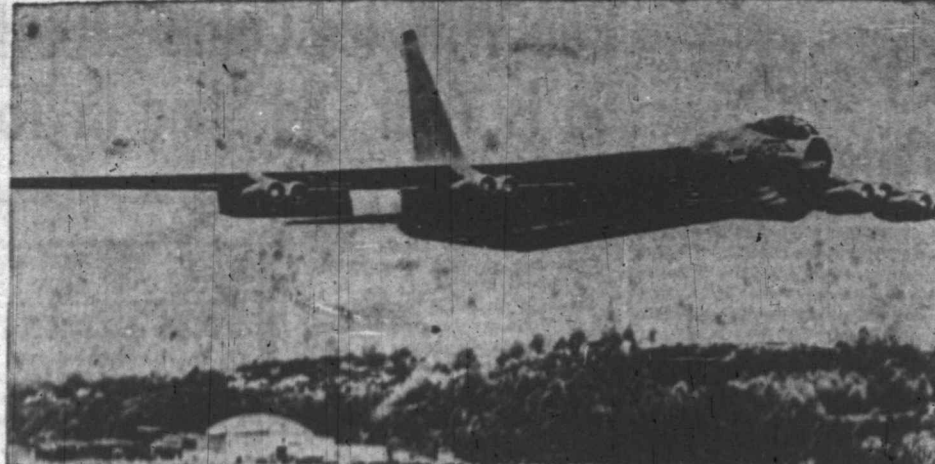

Harris County Republicans are divided into two factions, one wanting Porter as national committeeman instead of Zweifel, the other supporting Zweifel and Taft.

In other political developments: 1. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, mentioned as a possible Democratic presidential nominee despite his avowed intention of running only for reelection as governor of Illinois, spoke in Dallas.

The Illinois governor rebuked "those ambitious men in search of votes" who describe the Korean conflict as "Truman's war" or a "useless" war. But he said we must "end the arms race before its puts an end to us."

He continued, "We cannot accept as everlasting this era of staggering taxes, towering budgets, and falling dollars."

2. Democratic National Committeeman Wright Morrow said he would attend a dinner in Atlanta, Ga., for Senator Richard Russell, Russell, announced candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, is a Southern Democratic leader. Gov. Allan Shivers has said he would like to see Russell gain the nomination and be elected.

Tidelands Measure May Be Discussed Friday By Conferees

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senate and House conferees may meet Friday in an effort to settle differences in the bill to give the states ownership of submerged coastal oil lands.

Under the Senate version of the bill the states would get clear title to the submerged lands three miles from shore. The House version in addition would give the states 37 1/2 per cent of all revenues from oil development out to the edge of the continental shelf.

Declining to be quoted by name, a congressional legislative official said some of the House leaders feel confident the President will veto the legislation. He said they therefore are willing to agree to the Senate version in order to hasten the time when the question of overriding a veto can be brought to a vote.

This official expressed belief the House could muster the necessary two-thirds vote to override a veto, but said he had heard Senate supporters of states ownership would find themselves about nine votes short.

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Oklahoma City of the Texas League sent two pitchers to leagues of lower classification Tuesday in trimming its squad to 21 players—just two over the limit for the May 15 player deadline.

Left-hander Vic Michalec was optioned to Temple, Texas, of the Class B Big State League and Right-hander Morris Shipman was sent to Pampa of the Class C West Texas-New Mexico League.

Kennon Is Elected Louisiana Governor

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—Robert F. Kennon of Minden is Louisiana's new governor—to no one's surprise.

The Democratic nominee swamped his Republican opponent, Harrison Bagwell, the first GOP candidate in 12 years, in Tuesday's general election. C. E. Barham, state senator from Ruston and the Democratic choice for lieutenant governor, also was elected without trouble.

The two top state posts and 11 seats in the Legislature from New Orleans were the only spots where the GOP entered opposition to the Democrats in this traditional one-party state.

The Democratic nominees for these legislative posts, five in the Senate and six in the House, didn't have any trouble being elected, either.

Scheduled May 13

Kennon's inauguration is scheduled for May 13.

No state-wide tabulation of the voting was recorded but a few representative parishes showed:

Orleans—Kennon, 44,508; Bagwell, 2,184.

East Baton Rouge Parish—Kennon, 4,718; Bagwell, 633.

West Baton Rouge Parish—Kennon, 480; Bagwell, 24.

With nothing of interest to attract voters the balloting was extremely light throughout the state except in New Orleans, where voters turned down daylight saving time for the city by a vote of 37,008 to 9,184.

Braceros To Get Prevailing Wage, Says Labor Chief

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Tobin notified Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) Wednesday imported Mexican farm workers are to be paid at the wage rate prevailing where they work.

This is provided, he said, under the 1951 agricultural labor agreement with Mexico. A new agreement now is being negotiated for this year.

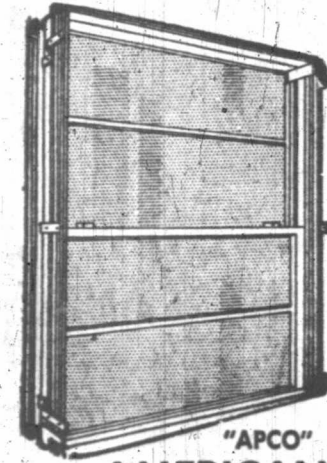

Fulbright had forwarded to Tobin complaints of Arkansas farmers that last year the Mexican government insisted on 50 cents an hour for Mexican farm workers. This was above the prevailing rate in some cases.

"The responsibility for ascertaining the prevailing wage rate is in fact that of the Department of Labor," Tobin wrote Fulbright.

But he said the department had had trouble fixing rates last year "because of the rapid fluctuations in wage rates in the various agricultural activities."

Ilse Koch Ordered To Serve Out Term

KARLSRUHE, GERMANY—(AP)—Ilse Koch, known as the Witch of Buchenwald, still must serve out a life term for Nazi concentration camp atrocities.

The West German Supreme Court Tuesday night threw out her contention she had been convicted twice of the same crime. Hans Richter, president of the court, said the convictions were for different offenses.

A U. S. court's life sentence, later reduced to four years, was assessed for crimes against Allied prisoners, he said. The German life sentence, which stands, was for crimes against Germans and Austrians.

Mrs. Koch, now 45, was represented at the hearing by a lawyer while she remained in her cell at Aichbach Prison.

Python Takes French Leave From Carnival

FORT SMITH, ARK.—(AP)—An Indian python, 22 feet long, was absent without leave Wednesday from a carnival which has been appearing at nearby Mulberry.

Its owner said the snake wasn't dangerous to humans or livestock. But at Little Rock, Zoo Director Raymond Gray said he wasn't so sure about that.

The non-venomous reptile, which kills its prey with its crushing coils, apparently slithered out of its glass-topped cage at the Moore Shows sometime Tuesday night.

Left Unlocked

Carnival operator Joe Moore and Brown Harn, the snake's owner, said they thought the cage must have been accidentally left unlocked.

The more daring residents of the little village of Mulberry, armed with firearms and heavy sticks, went snake hunting after the disappearance was reported.

Dogs and cats were locked indoors by owners fearful for their pets.

Harn said the snake was harmless except to birds and small animals. He asked that it not be killed.

Gray said the well-fed pythons of captivity customarily are docile and easily handled, but that a hungry python "won't discriminate in its choice of animals it might come across."

He declared a 22-foot python could kill a grown cow—or a man.

Visitors Enthusiastic After In-Person Inspection Of Refurnished White House

By ED CREAGH
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — "Wonderful," "Beautiful," "Magnificent." That's the reaction of John Taxpayer, his wife and the kids Wednesday to their first in-person look at the reconstructed White House. They had read about the $5,700,000 cellar-to-garret rebuilding job, and they had seen published pictures of the new interior. But not until Tuesday did all corners get a chance to see for themselves what the carpenters and decorators had done with all that tax money.

And the exclamations of delight would have gladdened the heart of householder Harry Truman if he had come over from the executive offices to hear them.

"I saw the old White House six years ago and I saw the new one today," said Mrs. Mabel Hargrave of South San Francisco, Calif. "It's much more beautiful now. The chandeliers are magnificent."

"It's simply beautiful," agreed Mrs. Clarence L. Fox of Hammond, Ind. "I couldn't say what impressed me most—the flower arrangements, perhaps. I'm going through again and have another look!"

All told, 5,844 persons were clocked in the first public showing of the new decor. They came from all over the country and from lands as far away as Iran and India. Reporters who mingled with them heard barely a word of dissatisfaction.

One thing the visitors couldn't agree on was what they liked best. Some thought the Blue Room handsome, some preferred the Green or the Red, some the stately East Room, still others the historic State Dining Room.

"Personally," said H. P. Thomas of Sullivan County, Mo., a man who likes a bit of comfort, "I like the East Room best. It has four fireplaces."

Thomas and his wife were the first out-of-town sightseers to glimpse the new furnishings. Their daughter, who lives in Washington, held the head of the line for them beginning at 6:30 a.m., although the doors didn't open until 10 a.m.

From 10 a.m. to noon, Tuesdays through Saturdays, will be the regular visiting hours hereafter. You don't need a ticket, a letter from your congressman or anything else. Just go to the east gate and say you want in.

After all, it's your $3,700,000 that paid for it.

Canadian law says purchasers must put down one-third in cash. It also allows trade-ins as part or all of this down payment. But it doesn't specify what can or cannot be taken as a trade-in.

That was all the loophole smart Toronto merchants needed. With appliances moving slowly, they seized on the trade-in gimmick to hype business. They're allowing almost all of the down payment to be in the form of trade-in, and they're deliberately not fussy.

One Toronto store advertised a nine-cubic-foot refrigerator at $378, with a trade-in allowance on "anything" of $110, leaving a cash down payment of only $16.80 — and 18 months to pay the balance. If the store had simply cut the price that $110, making it $268, the required one-third cash down payment would have been $89.66.

Although the trade-in routine has become ludicrous, no action has yet been taken officially to put an end to it. And there can be no doubt it's helped business: a survey of stores that feature such deals show their business is up from 25 to 40 per cent over the previous non-trade-in month.

Worker Suffers Crushed Finger

James Graves of Houston, employe of a construction company, was treated at the Midland Memorial Hospital late Tuesday afternoon for a crushed index finger of the left hand.

Graves told attendants at the hospital that while setting steel in the Pegasus field, he noticed his left arm swelling and becoming numb. He removed his glove and saw that his finger was injured. He could not explain how the injury occurred.

Graves was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

Joy Ride By Odessa Girls Ends With Midland Crash

A joy ride by three Odessa teenagers ended abruptly in Midland Tuesday afternoon when the car in which they were riding went out of control and plowed into three cars near the Hill Food Store, 605 West Texas Street, causing damage estimated at $248.

Midland cars which the wayward automobile struck were owned by Donald Lewis, 406 West Florida street; Dr. Milton J. Loring, 901 Harvard Street, and Thelma Lorene Williamson, Terminal.

The tearful trio, one of whom told police she was a 13-year-old bride of less than 24 hours, had skipped school to make the trip to Midland.

The young bride, driving the car of her 18-year-old husband, said to be a machinist in Odessa, apparently lost control of the vehicle as it plowed into the trio of automobiles.

Two of the girls were 14, although one said she "was going on 15."

All of the girls were turned over to the Midland County Juvenile Bureau.

Cab Drivers Ask Ban On Gangster Movies

PARIS — (AP) — Paris taxi drivers Wednesday said they want gangster films banned.

Such movies, said the Taxi Drivers' Union, give people ideas about beating up drivers and robbing them. There has been a growing number of such attacks on drivers here.

The primitive home for Strasbourg, Germany, was "Strasbourg" which means "Town-on-the-Routes."

Pan With Ice Cubes $100 Refrigerator; So Is Your Old Shoe In Toronto Now

TORONTO, CANADA — (NEA) — If you don't have an old radio or washing machine to trade in on a new appliance that's quite all right. Toronto's stores will gladly accept a worn pair of shoes or a broken tennis racket instead.

"Trade in anything," scream the ads in Toronto newspapers—"anything from an old broom to your old straw hat on these sensational buys." It isn't a sudden attack of galloping Canadian generosity; it's just the Toronto businessmen's answer to credit restrictions.

Canadian law says purchasers must put down one-third in cash. It also allows trade-ins as part or all of this down payment. But it doesn't specify what can or cannot be taken as a trade-in.

Anything goes as a trade-in these days in Toronto, Canada, where ads like these show the way around credit restrictions.

They pick up bargains. One man, a doctor, wanted a new refrigerator, which was advertised in connection with a trade-in offer. The store would give $100 on an old ice box.

The doctor, however, didn't have an old ice box. That didn't stop the deal. The salesman asked him if he had an old cake tin. Sure, said the doctor, he had an old cake tin around somewhere.

61 West German Firms Blacklisted

BONN, GERMANY — (AP) — The U. S. high commission has blacklisted 61 West German firms suspected of selling strategic material to Soviet bloc nations.

American officials said the Bonn government plans to prosecute some of the firms for violation of currency and export regulations if the illegal trade charges are confirmed.

The blacklisting denies the companies' ECA counterpart funds, contracts from the U. S. Army and High Commission, and critical imports from America.

The U. S. officials declined to say what vital materials allegedly were sold to the East. But the undercover traffic to the Soviet bloc is known to include power equipment, steel tubing, raw steel, oil exploration equipment, chemicals, steel mill parts and refinery equipment.

Western officials have said that this illegal traffic amounts to at least $0 million dollars a year.

Case Of Air Force Captain Slated For Appeal, Say Lawyers

HATTIESBURG, MISS. — (AP) — The case of Capt. Carl Izard of Magnolia, convicted by a court martial of manslaughter, will be appealed, says his defense attorney, State Senator Stanton Hall of Hattiesburg.

Izard was sentenced to dismissal under dishonorable conditions, forfeiture of pay and allowances and to three months imprisonment.

Announcement of the verdict and sentence came from Secretary of Air Finletter at a special news conference at Washington.

Izard, who was assistant county agent of Pike County, Miss., at the time of his recall to active duty, could not be reached at Keesler Field for comment.

His wife, a high school teacher, said her husband did not actually refuse to fly, but requested to be grounded when he "developed a nervous condition and lost weight."

In Any Capacity
 Mrs. Izard, who lives at Columbia, Miss., said her husband offered to serve his country "at any time, in any place, in any capacity if they just wouldn't make him fly."

She said her husband made no attempt to obtain a deferment at the time of his involuntary recall although he gave up a good-paying job. They have no children.

Mrs. Izard said a Keesler Field surgeon advised Captain Izard to ask relief from flying "before he became dangerous to himself and others in the air."

Air Secretary Finletter said a memo he had prepared for his personnel policy council and the air force represented no change in policy regarding fear or refusal to fly.

Pistol-Packing Lad Kidnaps Youth From State Boys School

GATESVILLE —(P)— A teen-aged, pistol-packing jail-breaker held a guard at bay Tuesday night and kidnaped an inmate of the State School for boys.

The youth, 17-year-old Nicodemo San Miguel, was shot in the elbow and captured after exchanging shots with a posse, hastily formed for the chase. He gave up only after his own gun jammed.

Assistant Supt. M. B. Kendrick of the Gatesville school said San Miguel appeared at the school, held up an attendant and forced Alexander Aguerie of Harlingen to accompany him.

Sheriff Joe White said San Miguel broke out of the Galveston jail, where he was being held charged with slaying a grocerman.

The two abandoned a maroon car in which they fled about eight miles north of here and west of Waco.

Police found Aguerie walking along a highway near here.

Highway patrolmen, some 50 citizens, Sheriff White, Police Chief Leland Dyes and Deputy Sheriff Jim Nichols made up the posse that made the capture.

Air Force Declares Pioneer's Profits On Planes 'In Line'

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Air Force has indicated $718,000 profit made by Pioneer Air Lines on the sale of eleven C-47 transport planes was not out of line.

The armed service branch said Tuesday its purchase of the planes for $1,100,000 "represents a fair price on today's market."

The comment was made in answer to a question as to whether Pioneer's profit on the deal was considered unusually high.

Pioneer President Robert Smith had made the estimate of profit.

War Assets Administration sold the planes in 1946 and 1947 when they were plentiful and cheap.

Senator Quotes Ike's Views On Tax Power Abuse, Controls

WASHINGTON —(P)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was quoted Wednesday as saying the government's answer "to excessive control is more control" and that there has been federal "abuse of the taxing power."

Senator Carlson of Kansas, who is supporting Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, said the general recently made the statements in a letter to a friend. The senator did not name the friend in a speech prepared for delivery at a Rotary Club meeting here.

Carlson said the statements he quoted are examples showing where Eisenhower stands on domestic issues. He added that the general has made his views known "equally clear on a great number of our fundamental issues," and that opponents who say he hasn't are making "such false charges for only one reason: They see the nomination slipping away from them and they are desperate."

Carlson said Eisenhower wrote: "Extravagance in public spending brings ever-increasing taxes—taxes which, if not continued, will strangle incentive, the very quality that built the nation. Meanwhile, the government debt rises. 'The value of our money becomes the football of politicians—subjected to the political whim of the moment.'"

"The government penetrates more and more into our daily living; its answer to excessive control is more control. In this whole process, the abuse of the taxing power has been one of the chief weapons the government has used."

Meanwhile, Senator Nixon of California urged Eisenhower to "repudiate unequivocally" President Truman's seizure of the steel industry.

"As a candidate for the Republican nomination he should do so just as soon as he goes on inactive status June 1," Nixon told a reporter.

Nixon, who is backing Gov. Earl Warren of California for the nomination, said all aspirants for the presidency should make their position known on the controversial seizure issue, and that most of them are.

Senator Ives of New York, an Eisenhower supporter, disagreed, saying: "After all, Eisenhower won't be in a position to state his views until he gets out of uniform the first of June. This whole steel controversy is likely to have blown over by then."

Carlson said "the odds against a Republican victory" in November "are tremendous unless Eisenhower is nominated." He added that Eisenhower is "the only Republican who has a good chance of winning by a landslide."

"The polls show that Eisenhower leads his nearest nomination opponent by a two to one margin among the independent voters," Carlson said.

"That clearly was a reference to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, a top contender for the Republican nomination along with Eisenhower."

Detective Is Shot Twice During Raid On Tavern In Dallas

DALLAS —(P)— A Dallas detective was shot twice Wednesday as he crawled through a window into a West Dallas tavern during a narcotic raid.

Detective Harvey W. Totten was not critically wounded. One bullet struck him in the hand, another pierced his cheek, ranged through his mouth and emerged from his neck.

A five-time ex-convict, Floyd Leslie Bentley, 39, was arrested by another detective and two deputy sheriffs. They said they found 100 capsules of a white powdery substance believed to be heroin.

Bentley operates the tavern. His wife, Orelia Thompson Bentley, 39, a former wife of slain Lois Green, also was taken into custody.

Detectives Totten and W. B. Frazier and Deputy Sheriff W. E. Playford and C. L. Lewis reported they went to the tavern with a warrant to carry out the raid.

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business, And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this: Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good value. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

Byrne And Browns Halt Tribe Streak; Cubs Get Tougher

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say the St. Louis Browns "Byrne up" the Cleveland Indians.

Tommy Byrne, the ex-Yankee wildman, who found control on the banks of the muddy Mississippi, can't stand to see the Tribe on a winning war dance.

Last August, the Indians came to St. Louis with a wampum string of 13 straight wins. Along came Byrne. And then there was none. Tuesday night, the Indians brought a near-record seven-game win streak to town. Once again Byrne got out his old left-handed tomahawk. No record. No win streak. Almost no lead.

Byrne's eight-hitter and 8-3 victory left the Browns only a half-game behind the tripping Tribe. It was tough enough to make a crowd of 15,119 sit through a drizzle.

When the Browns' early, 3-0 lead narrowed to 3-2 on Al Rosen's homer in the seventh, Roker Hornsby's giddy crew piled up five more runs in the seventh. Rosen, with a homer, triple and double, was the only Indian who troubled Byrne. The 32-year-old lefty walked only one and hit only one as Cleveland lost its first game.

Another budding streak was kept alive when Chicago dumped Detroit, 2-0, for the Tigers' eighth straight loss. Five more and the Tigers can tie their own major league record of 13 consecutive defeats at the start of the 1930 season.

Saul Rogovin, an ex-teammate, blanked the reeling Tigers with six hits while Nelson Fox touched Ted Gray for a double and two singles. Johnny Lipon's error and Fox's double that bounced off Don Kolloway's glove broke up a scoreless duel in the eighth.

The "new-faces" campaign continued to pay off for Lou Boudreau's Boston Red Sox as Rookie Bill Henry, a 24-year-old, lefty from Shreveport, won his second straight, 10-5 over Washington. Jim Piersall, the kid shortstop, collected three hits and Don DiMaggio had four, including a home run.

Johnny Sain, given a curve ball ace in the National League, came through with a fine three-hitter for the New York Yankees to hand the Philadelphia A's their sixth loss, 3-1. After Elmer Valo homered in the first, Sain retired 20 in a row before he walked Fejos Paul.

Like the toughest kids in the block as they hammered Pittsburgh pitching for 17 hits in a 13-2 romp. Dee Fondy was the ring leader with four hits.

Brooklyn threw its southpaw punch against the Boston Braves again and swept a two-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 3-1, behind Chris Van Cuyk and Preacher Roe. Although Max Surkont and Jim Wilson struck out a total of 17 Dodgers they couldn't win.

Surkont, who fanned eight men in the first four innings of the opener, escaped the job when he faded for a pinch-hitter. Relief Bert Thiel was touched for Roy Campanella's game-winning single in the ninth after himself fanning two Dodgers. Duke Snider's two run double ruined Wilson in the sixth inning of the second game.

Bobby Thomson, starting to hit after a slow start, racked up the Phil's Russ Meyer, with a bases-loaded triple in the New York Giants' 4-1 win. Larry Jansen scattered eight hits and had a shutout until Willie Jones homered in the eighth.

Promoter Picks Ben Hogan As Top '52 Sports Earner

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Vagrant quotes—Lost, strayed and stolen:

Casey Stengel, Yankees' manager: "It's that shortstop fellow (Marty Marion) who has given the Browns their big lift this year. He's getting old, all right, but it's been years since the Browns had a good man there. Also that Hornsby (Manager Rogers Hornsby) has the boys all fired up. They could be tough."

Fred Corcoran, sports promoter: "Who do you think is going to be the highest man in sports this year—Stan Musial, Jersey Joe Walcott, Sugar Ray Robinson? No, sir, I'll be golfer Ben Hogan. Besides his regular earnings and that bus-company settlement for his accident (reportedly $35,000 a year for 10 years), Ben is picking up about $5,000 a week on exhibitions."

Chuck Dressen, Dodgers manager: "It's getting harder than ever for major league clubs to keep a good man at every position. The old boys like Joe DiMaggio are wearing out and the armed services are grabbing the young men who ordinarily would be topflight replacements."

Gene Sarazen, former golf champion: "Don't be surprised in the next few years if all our golf champions have degrees. With caddy carts and other gadgets replacing caddies, the best players now are coming from colleges rather than from the bag-toting ranks."

Rocky Graziano, middleweight fighter describing his historic bouts with Tony Zale: "When Tony went to work on my body it felt like he was pouring concrete blocks at my stomach. After every fight with him I had to go to the hospital to stop internal bleeding."

Vic Raschi, Yankee pitcher who has beaten the Athletics 23 out of 24 times: "It's just one of those things—luck. I guess. I always have good stuff on the days I meet them, and good support."

Jockey Ted Atkinson, upon learning his mount Tom Fool was out of the Kentucky Derby: "I couldn't feel worse if one of my children got sick."

Fred M. Saigh, St. Louis Cardinal Owner, Faces Tax Evasion Charges

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fred M. Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals and a business associate of the late Robert E. Hannegan, former postmaster general, has been named in a federal indictment charging income tax evasion of $49,520.

The federal grand jury accused the 47-year-old attorney in a surprise action Tuesday. He is charged with evading taxes on $108,823 unreported income for the years 1946 through 1949.

There had been no suspicion Saigh was under investigation. It was during those years Saigh came into public prominence, first as a high-time real estate operator and later as owner of the Cardinal ball club.

In 1947, following his co-purchase of several St. Louis buildings, he became a national figure when he became a part owner of the Cardinals. Then in 1948, he bought controlling interest in the ball club, replacing Hannegan as president.

Saigh had been a member of a syndicate headed by Hannegan which purchased the club from Sam Breadon. Hannegan died in October, 1949.

The indictment against Saigh carries five counts providing a maximum penalty, if convicted, of 25 years imprisonment and a total of $50,000 in fines. Each of the counts cites a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

The grand jury which returned the indictment is the same jury which indicted James P. Finnegan, resigned St. Louis Internal Revenue collector.

Two of the counts claim alleged discrepancies in Saigh's personal income. A third claims a fraudulent joint return for himself on the corporation's income when he served as vice president of the ball club.

Two other counts accuse him of filing fraudulent returns for himself and his wife.

Dallas Youth Is Schoolboy Medalist

DALLAS (AP)—Medalist Hal McCommas of Dallas' Woodrow Wilson High School met Charlie McCrone of Adamson, Dallas, in the opening round of the Texas High School Open Golf Tournament Wednesday.

McCommas took medalist honors Tuesday with a burning five-under-par 65 over the rain-soaked Tenison Golf Course.

Saigh had little to say about the indictment other than it came "as a complete surprise. I knew an investigation had been going on," he said. "But I was of the opinion the case was in process of settlement. This is a personal matter and has nothing to do with the ball club."

Saigh remained in Cincinnati Tuesday night, where his Cardinals are playing at Crosley Field. He plans to return to St. Louis Wednesday night.

What effect, if any, the indictment will have on Saigh's future as a baseball owner is unknown. Both Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, and Warren Giles, president of the National League, made no comment.

Two Favorites Bite Dust In North-South Amateur

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Wednesday was "D Day"—doubly dangerous—in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament. Two 18-hole rounds cut the field to the eight quarter-finalists for Thursday's play.

Of the 32 first-round contestants Tuesday, there were only two surprises—but they were real stingers. Two Walker Cuppers of last year, Dick Chapman of Pinehurst and

New Buses Ordered

The Midland Transportation Company Tuesday placed an order with the General Motors Corporation Division in Dallas for two more new 31-passenger coaches.

Delivery is expected sometime in July of this year, said Gene Thummel, general manager of the company. The two new coaches will be pressed into service over the city just as soon as possible after they are received.

"The new coaches were ordered on the strength that the growth of Midland this year would justify inauguration of new service to some sections of the city and better service to certain sections now being served," Thummel declared.

He said there would be no changes at this time in the present 30-minute schedules on any of the routes.

"Midland needs more service of this type and we shall always strive to do the best job possible," added Thummel, "in order to maintain our objectives of a safe, convenient, and economical service."

"We feel very warmly toward our present customers and are confident many more soon will ride our coaches."

Thummel revealed that the company has transported almost 22,350 passengers, some 1,500,250 passenger miles since the near city-wide service was inaugurated February 20 without a case of personal injury.

Blackboard In The Sand

SEOUL, KOREA—(NEA)—In the distance, the rattle of small arms fire was constant and nerve-racking. It might have been UN troops or Communist troops firing for practice—or it might have been a real and bloody skirmish.

Whatever it was, the young woman standing on the hillside did not stop talking. And the group of children squatting around her continued to listen.

The young woman was a Korean school teacher and the group of intent children were her pupils. The scene is repeated daily on dozens of similar hillside, as well as in river beds, parks, warehouses, public stairways and woodlands—in fact, wherever the teachers have been able to find space enough to set up shop.

In two years of fighting, nearly half of all the schools in Korea have been destroyed. Buildings that somehow managed to escape bombing and shelling by air forces and artillery were pock-marked and chartered in infantry skirmishes as the battle lines surged back and forth.

Lines Stabilized
 When peace talks began and the battle lines were stabilized about a year ago, Korea's Minister of Education, Dr. L. George Park, ordered the republic's teachers to reopen their schools.

The teachers replied that there were no schools to reopen. Those that had not been destroyed were being used as hospitals, barracks and refugee camps. But Park told them to set up classes anywhere they could find free space. "They carried out the order literally," he says. And Korea's children are going on with their education, using little boards for desks, straw mats for chairs, and a patch of sandy ground and a stick instead of paper and pencils.

Relief is on the way from America in the form of tennis and "school units" sent by the Save the Children Federation.

The Korean children have accepted the improvised school program. After long months of danger, wandering and death, they have had to become experts in the business of staying alive.

As an illustration of their courage, Dr. Y. C. Yang, Korean ambassador to the U. S., tells of two orphans he saw in Seoul.

"Poking around in the ruins was an eight-year-old girl," he says. "On her back was strapped a four-year-old boy. A policeman asked if the boy was her brother. She said 'no.' She said her entire family had been killed in a bombardment that destroyed their home.

"When the raid was over, she found this little boy following her and crying. He said he had lost his father and mother and had nothing to eat and no place to go. So the little girl gathered the little boy up on her back and took him along with her. She hunted for food enough to keep them both alive. Then Seoul was recaptured and the friendly policeman found her and took them both to an orphanage."

A volcano often will erupt mud.

Assets Of Equitable Society Reported At New All-Time High

NEW YORK—The assets of the Equitable Society passed the $6 billion mark in 1951, "a year of outstanding accomplishment," President Thomas J. Parkinson announced in the Society's Ninety-second Annual Report. Total insurance in force exceeded the sum of $17 billion. New business in 1951 totalled $1.3 billion, of which $781 million was individual life insurance. This latter figure represents the greatest volume in more than two decades and a larger percentage increase than the general average for the industry.

"The strong financial condition of the Society today," said Parkinson, "represents one of the great contributions to the cause of safeguarding voluntary cooperation in the use of savings."

During 1951 the Society paid out almost $424 million to policyholders and beneficiaries. Of this total, about $133 million was death claims, but an even larger amount, $291 million, went to living policyholders. Included in the latter payments was $98 million in dividend refunds, substantially reducing the cost of life insurance.

39 Per Cent Of AF Reserve In Area Available On Call

The Air Force has completed its survey in the Midland area, and found that 39 per cent of the reservists interviewed would be immediately available for active duty in an all-out mobilization. An additional 31 per cent would be ready in less than 90 days.

The Midland Survey Personnel interviewed 624 reservists out of 818 known reservists residing in Midland and 12 adjoining counties. Another 191 were eliminated for such reasons as permanent address changes or previously surveyed.

"The survey here was a tremendous success," Lt. Lewis B. Senter, project officer said Wednesday. "We appreciate the fine cooperation given by the people of the Midland area, especially the newspapers, radio stations, telephone company and chambers of commerce."

All reservists interviewed were awarded "availability codes" which determine the amount of delay they

Israel Students Returning Home

JERUSALEM — (P) — Many Israel students now attending foreign universities in Europe or the United States will have to return to Israel and continue their studies here, because the government cannot grant them the foreign currency needed.

may expect if and when all-out mobilization should be necessary. This information enables the reservists to tell their employers and families where they stand in the Air Force.

All reservists interviewed had their service specialties brought up to date—the jobs they would do in the event of return to active duty. Nearly 70 per cent of the men had some action—detention, additions or changes—taken on their duty specialties.

"The large number of these specialty changes," Lt. Senter said, "underscores the great importance of the survey, both to the Air Force and to the reservist himself."

Reservists' post-war education and changing requirements of the nation's Air Force since World War II were given as the two major causes for the duty specialty changes.

First In Program
The Midland survey is one of the first in the USAF's recently announced long-range reserve program. The entire country eventually will be covered by similar surveys.

Headquarters of the 3d Air Reserve District, Austin, has received service records of some 22,500 USAF reservists' throughout the two-state district embracing Texas and New Mexico, as a part of the USAF's decentralization of the reserve program. Heretofore, records of all Texas and New Mexico Air Reservists were maintained at Headquarters, 14th Air Force at Robins Air Force Base, Georgia.

Why the right power is so important to truck buyers

When a truck engine is too small for the job, you'll pay in poor performance and high upkeep. When it's too big, you'll waste money on operating costs.

To be sure of the right power on every job, Dodge builds eight great truck engines. There's one "Job-Rated" to fit your work.

In fact, you get a truck that's "Job-Rated" in every way. Every load-moving unit is factory-engineered to meet the most severe operating conditions. And every load-carrying unit is factory-engineered to provide the strength and capacity needed.

We'll gladly tell you all the facts about Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks.

"When power is needed, Dodge trucks have it!"

1118078 C.R. SHEARMAN, Hood Construction Co., Lynwood, Calif.

"We've been big Dodge users for many years, because our business demands trucks that are dependable, economical and rugged."

"We do most of our driving over rough ground, a lot of it in the mud. The trucks work with crews who are laying pipe in the field. This kind of hauling calls for plenty of power to carry equipment to the men."

"And when power is needed, Dodge trucks have it! They seem to be able to pull anything."

Records show low upkeep. For dependability and low repair costs, rugged Dodge truck engines have 4-ring pistons with chrome-plated top and heat-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.

Tests prove power with economy. To save gas, powerful Dodge truck engines employ compression ratios as high as 7.0 to 1. And on high-tonnage models, a twin carburetor and exhaust system is used.

Owners report, "Greater value!" You get all these plus values: Cycle-bond brake linings; easier handling, sharper turning; glycol Fluid Drive available on all 3/4-, 3/4- and 1-ton and Route-Van models.

Riddle Of Inconsistency

Three events in recent days must have left the people of certain backward and poverty-ridden areas of the world a little puzzled as to what's going on under Uncle Sam's tall puffed hat.

President Truman took occasion to praise the work of this country's Point Four Program of aid to underprivileged countries.

Point Four, based on the principle of helping others to help themselves—agriculturally, industrially and educationally—is one of this nation's strongest forces in combating the inroads of communism among peoples most susceptible to it.

Much of the work of the program has been concentrated in those countries from the Mediterranean eastward to the Pacific, along Russia's southern border.

The effect of this is by no means lost on other countries, similar in many ways to Tunisia, where we are trying to get results with our Point Four program.

It's true that for the sake of political and military unity in Europe at this time, the United States must get along with France. But the people of backward countries we are helping—many of which have just achieved self-determination—may well question how at the same time we can in effect back the French colonial policy.

Fortunately for us the balance was tipped somewhat in our favor by a third event which came about without much fanfare or public notice, but which nevertheless means a great deal in the subject under discussion.

The Ford Foundation, in announcing it had made grants totaling more than $22,000,000 last year for world betterment, disclosed that $6,550,000 went to improve the standard of living in India, Pakistan, and the Middle East.

That's money from a private source in the United States and it was spent without the encumbrances of diplomatic policy. It should carry some weight in those countries where we need all the weight we can get. Let's hope so.

Speeding From Land

Sometimes it seems that in our modern mania for speed we're hurtling directly away from a thing that can mean most to us—the land itself.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Draw Pearson says: Next six months may win permanent peace, but diplomatic lumbies now could plant seeds of another war; Russia dreads united Western European Army.

Ed. Note—Drew Pearson's continuing columns on Eisenhower's work in Europe and the Soviet drive to undercut European defense, today takes the form of a letter to Mrs. George L. Arnold of Los Angeles.

Dear Daughter: I have been sitting in my hotel room looking down at the park next to the Champs Elysees, watching French children playing and thinking of the many times when I have been in Paris before.

That was Christmas of 1938. You were with me then. But you didn't know; any more than the children playing in the park below my hotel window today know, that the seeds of war were already planted.

When people lose hope they turn to war. And the great depression from 1932 to 1938 had made Europe lose hope.

My next trip was for the Paris Peace Conference in 1946, when Americans generally had great hopes for peace—although Europe was skeptical.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

The accompanying hand puzzles us, writes a Cincinnati correspondent. "We can see the result clearly enough, but we don't understand it."

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, East, West cards and a bidding table.

er could run the heart, but he still had to go after the clubs, and when he did so East got in with the king of clubs to defeat the contract with the long spades.

"We see that South would have made his contract if he had tackled the clubs instead of the hearts at the second trick. What we don't understand is how South is supposed to guess which suit to begin on. Can you explain this?"

I can explain it, but I can't give a slick, easy answer in two or three words. The important point is that South must think in a situation of this kind.

South can tell from the nature of the lead and from the size of East's signal that West has led a short suit. There is no danger if East has only four spades, so South must consider the possibility that East has started with five spades headed by the ace.

If East also has the ace of hearts and the king of clubs, he will be able to clear the spades with one entry and run them with the other entry. South must therefore expect to be set if East has both of the missing key cards.

What if West has both of the key cards, but not the other? Any plan will work if East has the ace of hearts but not the king of clubs. It doesn't matter which suit South begins.

If East's one key card is the king of clubs, however, South must start the club at the second trick. East can win and can clear the spades, but he is then entryless. South can later develop the hearts without fearing the spades.

What if East has one of the key cards, but not the other? Any plan will work if East has the ace of hearts but not the king of clubs.

Flood Waters Refloat Plans For Missouri Basin Project

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—Flood waters swirling down the Missouri River have torn a few things loose in Washington, too. They have refloated the long-stranded plans for Missouri Basin development.

The Hoover Commission recommendations on reorganization of the federal government's water resources agencies are at last going to get some consideration in Congress.

President Truman's latest Missouri Basin Survey Commission held its first organization meeting early in April. The President announced he was appointing this new group in January. He named it in February. Its chairman, James E. Lawrence, is editor of the Lincoln (Neb.) Star. It will set up headquarters in the area and submit its report within the year.

This is the fifth planning group to tackle the Big Muddy problem. The first idea was for an MVA—Missouri Valley Authority for this one-sixth of the nation, modeled on the Tennessee Valley plan.

MVA was opposed by many special interests in the Army and Bureau of Reclamation in the Department of Interior then came up with the famous Pick-Sloan plan.

It called for some 300 dams and reservoirs for flood control, navigation, irrigation and electric power development. Total cost has been estimated as high as $4,500,000,000—$1,800,000,000 for Corps of Engineers, $2,700,000,000 for Bureau of Reclamation.

Can't Handle Snow-Water The $137,000,000 Fort Peck dam was completed in 1938 after the Pick-Sloan plan was born. Aside from this, Army Engineers are spending $200,000,000 on building a nine-foot navigation channel up to Sioux City, Iowa, and eight other dams to cost $800,000,000.

Bureau of Reclamation has completed nine smaller, upstream dams out of 80 authorized, to cost another $800,000,000. All dams built are reported holding back millions of acre-feet of water. But they aren't enough to hold back last winter's heavy snow-water runoff of the plains and the thaw in the mountains still to come.

While the Pick-Sloan plan has its critics, it is today the only complete plan in existence. Any new MVA or other flood control plans thought up after will have to be 9-6-4, Club 5, What do you do?

A-Bid two hearts. Your hand is rather poor for defensive purposes, especially against a club contract. If your partner has doubled on general strength, without too much in clubs (a type of double that is much used and that can be devastating), you will probably bid and make a game. This will be worth more than setting the opponents about one trick at two clubs doubled.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You South, hold: Spades K-7, Hearts A-Q-J-8-3, Diamonds K-J-9-6-4, Club 5. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

So They Say

What good would it do to have well-equipped American divisions fighting side by side with inadequately armed allied divisions?

I have an idea the Soviets want peace as much as we do, but they happen to believe there can only be a good world if the world is all the way they think it should be.

The failure of many Americans to achieve character traits through education, habit, and self-discipline, seem to me to be a basic cause of many of our current difficulties as a nation.

In a world dominated by cynicism and materialism, we need a resurgence of quiet determined faith that cannot be touched by physical force.

That fighter of many years ago that we were talking about yesterday, who didn't have much schooling acquired an interest in a saloon after his ring days were over.

One day, a man said, "I'll give you twelve hundred dollars for your interest." The ex-boxer replied, "No—I won't take a cent less than a thousand."

DADDY RINGTAIL

Daddy Ringtail And Dreams A Dream

Evening had come to the Great Forest. Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was sitting in the swing, up

In the top of the very tall tree, there on the porch of the monkey house. Mugwump Monkey's striped dog was asleep on the porch very close to Daddy Ringtail's feet. Striped was stretched out flat on his stomach with his head across his paws. Suddenly he barked a quick little bark.

Daddy Ringtail jumped to hear it. Quickly he looked to see what it was that Striped was barking at. Daddy Ringtail didn't see anything, and then Striped barked again. Again the bark was quick and short, but Striped never opened his eyes. He was still asleep. Striped was dreaming a dream. Daddy Ringtail decided. Striped was dreaming a dog dream, because a dog is what he was.

Daddy Ringtail wondered what was happening in the dog dream that Striped was dreaming. He wondered what a dog dream is all about, but he really didn't know, of course, because he had never been a dog. Only a dog can dream a dream which is really a dream for a dog.

By WENLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail wished—oh how he wished—that he could see or maybe could hear a dog dream happen. What a wonderful adventure it would be. And then, suddenly, Daddy Ringtail remembered. He remembered a something he had in the house. He went in to get it. The something was an audio-dream-vision, made to look like a hat. Then you put it on the head of someone dreaming a dream, you can hear the dream and see it happen.

Daddy Ringtail put the audio-dream-vision hat on top of Striped's head. Daddy Ringtail laughed a little happy laugh, and then he waited to see and hear the dream that Striped was dreaming. Nothing happened.

Daddy Ringtail turned the little knob that maybe wasn't working. He pushed the button that maybe wasn't working too. Happy music began to play the happy song of "Monkey Business" from the forest radio station. Daddy Ringtail had pushed the button the wrong way, and so he pushed it back again. There! The audio-dream-vision-hat was working now. Daddy Ringtail could see and hear the dream that Striped was dreaming. Why, Striped was dreaming that a bug was holding him fast by the end of the nose, and if you want to know what happened next in Striped's dream, be sure to look for tomorrow's adventure. Then I will tell you all about it. Happy day!

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

Walker Cay in the Bahamas is one of the world's best fishing spots. Like any other area of this caliber, it has much to recommend it besides the fish.

My guide took me out in a glass-bottomed boat one day, and as my lure dropped through the water, he told me what kind of fish the bait was passing, how big it was, and whether I should let the lure sink further for a more desirable species. You could look down and see horse-eye jack, yellowtail, gray snapper, mutton, and mangrove snapper, amberjack, grouper and a string of barracuda.

As the boat moved on, we passed doctor fish, trigger fish, sharks, rays, and porcupine fish. It was like fishing in a huge aquarium—the water diamond-clear and deceptively deep.

Walker Cay is isolated, yet it's easy to reach. A 45-minute plane ride from West Palm Beach puts you atop a 90-acre coral island.

There's no such thing as pesky insects, because the island is high for the Bahamas, with an elevation of about 80 feet. The rates, on the other hand, are comparatively low. Dishes like Bahamian fish pie, conch fritters, and crawfish salad are part of a culinary education.

Aside from the reef fishing, there's top draw big-game fishing, and plenty of bonefish on the flats. If you stay long enough, you'll get soaked in pirate treasure and malachite (shell collecting) which we learned under the tutelage of a 13-year-old native boy who had more savvy than a Harvard Ph. D.

The peculiar coral formations and lack of fishing pressure have made this area a fantastic fishing spot. I spent my time standing in the bow

MEXICO WANTS OLYMPICS

DALLAS—Mexico is going to make a determined bid for the 1960 Olympic Games. They will have the facilities for it, assures Joe Grossman, public relations director of the "Comité de las Americas" at Mexico City. Grossman, visiting friends in Dallas, said that a 110,000-seat stadium is under way in Mexico City and "nothing is being spared in an effort to obtain the 1960 Olympics."

DREAM BECOMES FACT

OKLAHOMA CITY—Mrs. Johnnie Carter awakened her husband before dawn and sent him to check their safe after dreaming it was burglarized, police reported. Carter found thieves had taken $78 and 800 packages of cigarettes.

of an inboard-casting a spinning lure ahead of the boat.

The object is to get the lure ahead of the boat, letting it sink, and by the time the boat is over the bait, you can reel straight up and see the fun. My quota in a half hour was six yellowtail snappers (one of the best eating fish in the ocean), two horse-eye jacks, and a big old mutton snapper.

Then I hooked a yellowtail of about three pounds, and suddenly a giant grouper detached himself from the coral and lastly cruised up to swallow my fish.

For 20 minutes I worked the rod frantically, trying to loosen the yellowtail from the grouper, or the grouper from the bottom. The grouper must have decided that my fish wasn't worth the effort, and went off to get one of his own.

These big groups, incidentally, will take any kind of an artificial lure, and even though most of them are far too heavy to handle, it's fun to think about.

Repeated X-Ray Shoe Fittings May Be Injurious To Feet

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The foot troubles with which so many people are afflicted today are the result of civilization. Few, if any, primitive people who walk without shoes have either flat feet or bunions.

Since we cannot go back to walking barefooted on soft, spongy ground, other methods should be sought to prevent the serious foot difficulties which affect so many. The most important thing to do is be sure that a person is well-shod, not some of the time, but all of the time.

Of course, keeping the feet dry and clean and giving the feet exercise—on the beach when possible, or even on the rug in the house—may help some, but the importance of choosing the right shoe is undoubtedly paramount.

It is probably not necessary in most instances to use an X-ray machine or fluoroscope as an aid to fitting shoes, but this is commonly done, and the question has been raised repeatedly as to whether it might harm either the customer or the salesperson.

Until recently it was difficult to answer this question correctly, but now a report on this problem has come from the American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists.

Possible Harm From X-ray
This report points out that the use of shoe-fitting fluoroscopic devices are potentially harmful for both salespersons and customers. The committee has consequently issued a "guide" designed to lessen the amount of radiation (X-ray) to which persons are exposed during the use of fluoroscopic shoe-fitting devices.

The recommendations are too long to quote here, but they should be carefully followed by every shoe store using such a device, and should carry a warning label reading something like this: "Exposure to X-ray may be harmful. Customers must not operate this machine. Limit for each customer: Five X-ray shoe fittings per day, yearly total not to exceed 20 fittings."
