Sinclair Wildcat Has Heavy Flow From Upton Wolfcamp

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has a striking discovery from the Wolfcamp in Southeast Upton County, six miles southeast of Rankin and five miles southwest of the Flat Rock-multiphase field.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing gauge of 451 barrels of new oil and 99 barrels of water after acidizing perforations from 9,575 to 9,585 feet with 1,500 gallons of acid.

The flow was gauged through a 20/64-inch tubing choke. Operator was continuing to test the well.

Gravity of the oil recovered is 41.5 degrees.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block 4, diversity survey.

Superior And Intex Have Run DSTs On Scurry Prospectors

The Superior Oil Company and Intex Oil Company have run drill-stem tests on two Northwest Scurry County wildcats. One of the prospectors showed possibilities of making an oil well in the section investigated and the other found sulphur water in a zone which might have made petroleum.

Both explorations are making more holes.

Superior and Intex No. 13-578 R. H. Jordan, one-half of a mile southeast of the lone producer in the Windfield-Mississippi field, ran a test at 8,193-8,216 feet in the Mississippi.

No Water

The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 87 feet of heavily gas cut mud with a trace of oil. There were no signs of formation water.

It is now preparing to core ahead from 8,216 feet in lime. This wildcat has shown possibilities of discovering some sort of production from the Pennsylvanian reef lime in the section at 7,803 feet in lime.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 578, block 97, H&TC survey. It is two and one-half miles northwest of the town of Fluvanna.

Tested Strawn

Superior and Intex No. 1 Laws, one and one-half miles northwest of Fluvanna and 690 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 118, block 97, H&TC survey, took a one-hour drillstem test in the Strawn lime at 7,766-7,804 feet.

Gas surfaced in 16 minutes. No fluid came to the top while the tool was open. Recovery was 20 feet of water-cut drilling mud and 400 feet of mud-cut sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

Top of the Strawn is at 7,766 feet. Elevation is 2,719 feet. The wildcat is now drilling ahead below 7,835 feet in the Strawn lime.

It is slated to continue drilling until it finds and tests the Ellenburger.

Carter Is To Drill 8,200-Foot Wildcat At NE Regan Site

B. B. Carter Drilling Company No. 1 B. B. Carter is to be a 8,200-foot wildcat in Northeast Reagan County.

Drillsite has been staked 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 79, block 2, T&P survey and 25 miles northeast of Big Lake.

Operations are to start at once.

Extender Completed

Lomax Brothers Production Company No. 6-1 Moore is a one and one-half-mile south extender to production in the Weiner-Floyd field of Northwest Reagan County.

It was finished for a daily flowing potential of 133 barrels of oil through a three-eighths-inch tubing choke and from perforations above 7,656 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 1, block C, L&SV survey.

Shell Spots Three Outpost To Shutin Gasser In Sutton

Shell Oil Company has spotted three outposts to a shutin gas well in Southeast Sutton County.

Seven-eighths mile north of the main well, Shell will dig No. 2 Duke Wilson, 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block 14, TW&NO survey.

The concern will dig No. 3 Duke Wilson, 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 40, block 14, TW&NO survey and one and seven-eighths miles northwest of the gas field.

On Drillsite Set

Shell No. 1 J. M. VanderStucken will drill 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 37, block 14, TW&NO survey. It is two-thirds of one mile southeast.

All three tests will drill to around 7,000 feet.

Carefree Tater Decker of Antlers, Okla., stuffed $917 into the deep pockets of his blue denim trousers Monday, his reward as the all-around champion cowboy of the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

Decker took off the lion's share of the $10,445 in prize money with second places in both the saddle bronc riding and bulldogging finals and fourth in the bareback bronc riding. He consistently had placed high in all three events, finishing first in steer wrestling Saturday night.

Decker had the show's swiftest time of 5.4 seconds in bulldogging. His biggest purse was $197.10 for second in the bulldogging finals.

Troy Fort of Loving, N. M., former world champion calf roper, was the only titlist to repeat this year. He wrapped up a calf in 13.5 seconds before the closing performance crowd of almost 5,000 Sunday night to maintain his leading average. His total time on two calves was 28.5 seconds for $749.

Ray Wharton of Bandera was runnerup in the calf roping with a total time of 30.2 seconds. Third came Jack Newton of Abilene with 30.3. A total of 30.7 seconds gave fourth honors to Doyle Riley of Ballinger.

Comin' Outta Chute Number Five

Sunday well might have been designated All-West Texas night at Midland Rodeo. Delegations were in attendance from numerous West Texas cities.

Among those from Stanton here for the Sunday night show were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, O. B. Bryan, June Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Hall, John Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bennett and Garvis P. Ross.

A full moon coming up over the old south corral Sunday night attracted almost as much attention and comment as did the bucking broncs.

More Midland Cowboys participated in Midland Rodeo this year than ever before. One of them, Max Reid, a Scharbauer cowhand, won the championship in wild cow milking.

Sheriff Gene Eckols and family of Sheriff attended the Sunday night rodeo performance.

Arena Secretary Pete Kerscher of Dublin knows his airplanes, too. He holds a private pilot's license as well as a CAA permit as an aviation mechanic. Kerscher spent 18 months overseas with the Air Force in the last world war.

Rodeo Producer Everett Colborn owns about 1,000 acres of land in the sprawling Lightning C Ranch near Dublin. The spread also includes 35,000 acres of leased pastures, where the rodeo stock vacations between shows.

Bill McGuire of Fort Worth received a leg injury in his bulldogging activities Sunday night. A horn caught his right leg. But he was back in the arena after emergency treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital. McGuire was a riding judge this year.

During the last month, the plant had a remarkable growth and now is about 23 feet in height. Mr. and Mrs. Shirley came to Midland in 1943, when he was transferred here by the Air Force. They purchased their attractive home in 1944. He is employed as chief clerk at Superior Oil Company. She formerly was clerk at the ration board.

Democratic Bigwigs Dodge Expense Filing Issue, Pick Amarillo For State Meet

AUSTIN—(AP)—The State Democratic Executive Committee Monday refused to bar candidates who have not complied with campaign expense provisions of the new election law.

It approved a list of candidates who had asked for a place on the ballot and paid their filing fees by May 5. These are the candidates who will appear on the ballot in the July 28 primary.

The committee tabled a resolution criticizing the campaign expenditure section of the new law as void and contrary to the State Bill of Rights. This resolution was offered by Committeeman Edwin Hayes Jr. of Wharton.

The resolution, on campaign expenditures noted that the new election code does not authorize the State Executive Committee "to determine the rights of any candidate to have his name placed on the ballot for non-compliance with the provisions dealing with campaign expenditures."

The committee said the new election code provides for special judicial proceedings should anyone want to determine the right of any candidate alleged to have violated any provisions of the code. It said that quo warranto proceedings to enforce the law or to determine the right of any candidate alleged to have violated it may be instituted.

These proceedings could question the right of such candidate to have his name placed on the primary ballot or the right of any nominee alleged to have violated the law to have his name placed on the official ballot in the general election.

Third Looting Nets Cafe Burglars $77

Burglars broke into the Park Inn Cafe on West Highway 80 Sunday night for the third time in a month and escaped with $77 in cash.

Police reported they gained entrance by forcing a lock on a side door.

They reported $50 was taken from one cigarette machine and $27 from another.

The committee said any citizen may bring such proceedings in a district court.

The committee also recommended that a similar course be followed by county executive committees in making up the primary ballot locally.

Amarillo was selected unanimously as the site for the September 9 State Democratic Convention.

Reds Appeal To Top Level In UN Ranks

MUNSAN, KOREA—(AP)—The top Communist commanders Monday sent a letter to Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations Far East commander, through liaison officers to the tightly deadlocked Korean armistice talks.

Contents of the multi-page letter—signed by North Korean Gen. Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh Hua—were not disclosed.

The Manila envelope was turned over to Col. James C. Murray, Allied liaison officer, at Panmunjom, where truce talks are in a three-day recess forced by Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior UN negotiator.

Harrison called the three-day recess Saturday without consent of the Communist delegation. Since then the Reds daily have sent a staff officer to the truce site to demand immediate resumption of the talks.

Harrison ignored the requests.

He said he will meet the Reds before 11 a.m. Wednesday only if they offer in writing specific proposals for settling the truce blocking issue of prisoner exchange.

Two-Year Contract To End Long Steel Dispute Seems Near

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An agreement running perhaps two years to mid-1954 appeared near Monday in the steel strike.

Negotiators representing the industry and the striking CIO Steelworkers Union were reported on the verge of a compromise that would give the workers a boost in wages and other benefits worth about 22 cents an hour a man.

A source close to the peace talks in the White House told a reporter Monday's mid-afternoon meeting of the three-man negotiating teams representing both sides was "likely to be crucial, with a 'yes or no' answer."

This source said Union President Philip Murray probably will get some form of the union shop, an arrangement under which all the industry's workers would have to pay union dues.

This is the fifth straight day of negotiations which John R. Steilman, assistant to President Truman, described as "earnest bargaining."

It looked like the parties were determined to reach an agreement.

A two-year contract deal, besides solving the present crisis and restoring vital steel production, would insure peace in the industry for a long time to come.

Summer Heat May Produce Real Shortage

Rapidly-mounting hot-weather water consumption is bringing the annual threat of a summertime water shortage in Midland.

On two days last week, it passed the 9,000,000-gallon daily mark and approached the peak consumption recorded for Midland last August.

City officials are beginning to worry about the situation, although consumption still is several million gallons below the estimated capacity, of 12,000,000 gallons a day.

"I think we can hold that 12,000,000 gallons at an occasional peak demand," said Henry E. Nunn, city sewer and water engineer, "although it will be impossible to produce at that rate over any sustained period."

On last Friday, Nunn reported, 9,200,000 gallons of water were pumped from the city's well fields at Wadley, Cole Park and Rosedale.

On the following day, which normally sees a sharp drop, the pumping still exceeded the 9,000,000-gallon mark and on Sunday, the lightest day of the week as far as water use is concerned, the figure was more than 8,000,000 gallons.

Wells Holding Up

The peak pumping of last year was the 9,870,000 gallons pumped on August 7.

In spite of the heavy pumping, the wells are holding up "fairly well," said Nunn.

"The wells are holding up good at Cole Park," he said, "and Wadley is still going strong although the wells there never fully recovered from last Summer's heavy demand."

Nunn predicted the city's demand will equal the 12,000,000-gallon estimated capacity before the Summer is over.

"And if we have a long stretch of dry, hot weather," he added, "we'll be in a tight spot."

The city currently is working on a program to develop a new water well field northwest of the city but (Continued On Page 14)

51-Day Fast Brings Death For Preacher

CHERRYVILLE, MO.—(AP)—The fasting preacher of the Ozarks died Monday—the fifty-first day since he vowed he would eat nothing until his prayers were answered for "the more perfect will of God for my own life."

The Rev. J. J. Ivie, 57-year-old minister of the Assembly of God church, died early Monday in his modest home at the edge of a woods in this crossroads village of 36 persons, some 80 miles south of St. Louis.

His wife, herself an ordained minister, said Ivie was conscious until the end. Five sons and a daughter were at his bedside. The family took the death calmly.

From the beginning, his wife said, Ivie had insisted that "If the Lord wants me to die, I am ready to go."

Ivie had signed a statement to protect his family from possible legal action in case of his death. Mrs. Ivie said her husband, a minister since he was 17 years old, also had given strict orders not to let a physician in his home, even if he should lapse into unconsciousness.

Ivie had insisted he was not fasting to "save the world from sin" although he had expressed concern about communism in two recordings he had made since he announced the fast.

"I am seeking the more perfect will of God for my own life and asking God to show me why the signs do not follow my ministry as Jesus said they would," he wrote in a note clarifying the reason for his fast.

Twelve days ago Ivie was reported weakening. At the time he had lost 38 pounds and had wasted away to about 130 pounds.

Victims Of Crash Remain 'Critical'

Condition of two Houston oilfield equipment firm executives, who were hurt in a plane crash Saturday at Midland Air Terminal, remained critical Monday morning, hospital attaches said.

J. J. Butler, sales manager of the Oil Tool Equipment Company, was reported "a little worse," while O. W. Sanders' condition "remains about the same."

Both suffered burns when their private plane crashed on a takeoff from the terminal. They were admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital.

Butler suffered second and third degree burns over his entire body, while Sanders, president of the company, suffered second degree burns over his face, arms and legs.

Midland Grand Jury Opens Deliberations

A Midland County grand jury, which was sworn in a week ago, began deliberations Monday morning.

Headed by J. T. Baker as foreman, the group reported to Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton in 70th District Court and then went into a closed session with District Attorney W. O. Shafer.

High Court Accepts Cases On Segregation In Schools

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday agreed to say whether segregation of white and negro children in elementary public schools should be outlawed.

The court granted hearings on two appeals by negro parents who claim segregation is a "stigmatizing badge of inferiority" which has a bad effect upon their children. They contended segregation therefore violates the constitutional guarantee of equal protection of the laws.

The appeals contest the validity of segregation only in schools in Topeka, Kan., and Clarendon County, S. C. However, the outcome of the cases will affect public school segregation generally.

The high tribunal will hear arguments on both appeals during its new term which begins October 6 and may hand down a decision late this year or early in 1953.

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina had said that if his state loses its fight in the courts to maintain segregation, the public school systems there will be abandoned.

Other Southern states— notably Georgia, Virginia and Alabama— have taken steps which could lead to abolition of the public school system in favor of privately-operated classrooms.

New Rules Cut Home Down Payments By Margins Of Five To 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Monday relaxed its restrictions on how much you must pay down to buy a new house.

Under the new program, effective Wednesday, purchasers will be allowed to make down payments 20 to 50 per cent less than those now required under Regulation X, which has been in effect almost two years.

On the least expensive homes, down payment requirements were cut in half. On the most expensive, they were reduced 20 per cent.

The relaxed controls program means that only five per cent will be needed in down payments on some houses and that the maximum required will be 40 per cent.

The action was announced Monday by the Federal Reserve Board. Here is what the board order will do:

1. On house costing $7,000 or less, five per cent down payment will be required; it has been 10 per cent.
2. On houses costing $25,000 or more, 40 per cent will be required; it has been 50.
3. On houses between these figures, a sliding scale fixes requirements at sums between 10 and 40 per cent of the sale price.

The order applies only to new housing, that is, private residences built since October, 1950, when Regulation X went into effect.

There were no controls on houses built before the effective date of Regulation X.

Time limits for paying off mortgage credits were not changed. The maximum period for paying off mortgages on houses costing less than $12,000 remains 25 years; on high priced properties, 30 years.

The only exception permits veterans to have a longer period if the Veterans Administration finds that a shorter payoff period would cause hardship.

With home construction already booming toward the mark of one million homes this year, a level topped only twice in the past, officials expressed doubt the easier terms would do much to stimulate construction.

The new terms were expected, however, to make it easier for many people to buy and sell houses, especially the more costly ones.

The Federal Reserve Board also granted easier terms to servicemen able to get mortgages guaranteed by the VA. This was in line with provisions of the Defense Production Act granting preferential treatment to veterans.

No down payments will be required on veterans housing costing $7,000 or less although closing— or settlement—costs must be paid in cash.

The down payment for houses costing $25,000 or more and financed with a VA mortgage will be 25 per cent compared with the previous top of 45 per cent.

The easier terms apply to credit on houses for one to four families and apartment houses. No change was made in controls affecting non-residential properties, but the board said such a change is "still under consideration."

For apartment houses containing more than four family units, down payments will now range from 10 to 40 per cent as against the previous schedule of 17 to 50 per cent.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

PARIS—(AP)—Dick Chapman, 41-year-old veteran from Pinehurst, N. C., Monday won his second French Amateur Golf Championship by defeating Billy Maxwell, U. S. Amateur champ from Odessa, four and three.

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The State Republican Executive Committee Monday selected San Antonio for the state GOP nominating convention on August 26. Committeemen selected the San Pedro Playhouse for the convention and the Mungler Hotel for convention headquarters.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman, saying there is "at least a reasonable hope" the steel dispute will be settled by direct negotiation, asked the Senate Monday to take no action in connection with it.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department Monday gave farmers until August 1 to pay off price-support loans and redeem their cotton. Cotton not redeemed by that date will be pooled and sold in an "orderly manner" by the department.

Automobile Gunman Sought By Officers In State-Wide Hunt

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. — (AP) — State police intensified their search Monday for the "blue phantom" gunman of the Illinois highways as the number of motorists fired upon in two weeks mounted to 13.

Two motorists reported Sunday they had been the targets of the mysterious gunman. Both escaped without injury.

State police said 13 persons have reported being victims of apparently unprovoked sniping on Illinois highways. The shootings, first reported two weeks ago, have been labeled the work of a "blue phantom" because most of the victims said they were fired upon by the occupant or occupants of a dark blue automobile.

Two of the 13 targets suffered minor injuries from glass fragments of splintered windows.

The shootings have been reported as far north as Volo, in Lake County, to Bejeville, near St. Louis.

State police have set up roadblocks in Central Illinois and an airplane was placed on patrol duty over highways in an effort to snare the mysterious sniper.

Red Offer To Free Japanese Prisoners Labeled Propaganda

TOKYO — (AP) — A report that Russia would repatriate 182,000 Japanese prisoners "if Japan concludes a separate peace treaty with Russia" was written off Monday by the Foreign Office as "just more Soviet propaganda."

The report was received in a message from Hong Kong signed by Mrs. Tomi Kora, a Japanese Parliament member who last week signed in Peiping a "people's trade agreement" with Red China. The Japanese government has termed the pact worthless.

The American-educated woman messaged Konakichi Matsuo, rightwing Socialist leader:

"We received yesterday reliable information the Soviet government would propose repatriation of 182,000 Japanese prisoners held in Russia if Japan concludes a separate peace with the Soviet."

A Foreign Office spokesman commented:

"This is just more Soviet propaganda. The Soviet Union would not hesitate to say it will repatriate 1,000,000 Japanese if Japan abrogates the U. S.-Japan security pact."

'Maniac' Not So Dumb In Higher Mathematics

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. — (AP) — The MANIAC at this atomic center solves problems that would drive a scientist crazy.

MANIAC is the nickname for the latest thing in electronic brains designed by scientists to work out the intricate problems involved in atomic research.

The letters stand for "mathematical analyzer, numerical integrator and computer." That means it's a sort of distant cousin to an adding machine.

It works along the same general lines—but much more complicated—as your radio or television set. Its designers, staff members of the University of California scientific laboratory, make these claims for it: Feed a number into its memory in eight-millionths of a second—fastest yet for such a machine.

Take the number out at a later time for use in the same split second. Work about 100,000 times as fast as a trained computer using a desk calculating machine.

MANIAC uses the binary arithmetical system instead of the standard decimal system. But it can take problems in the decimal system, transpose them and solve them in the binary system, and give the answer in the decimal system. The binary system uses only two digits, zero and one.

The machine took more than three years to build and cost about $300,000. With it, scientists will be able to solve their problems here instead of sending them to other parts of the country where such machines are available.

Wonder what the MANIAC could do with an income tax return?

Britain Again Hit By Cattle Disease

LONDON — (AP) — The Ministry of Agriculture Monday announced two new outbreaks in an epidemic of foot and mouth disease which hit the United Kingdom last November.

The outbreaks, in Cheshire and Hampshire, forced inspectors to slaughter 90 animals. The ministry has now slaughtered 24,794 cattle, 15,432 sheep, 9,775 pigs and 31 goats on a total of 418 farms. Compensation paid to farmers so far totals 1,319,943 pounds or $3,095,840.

★ JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD ★ Goldwyn Sidetracks Budget To Film Spectacular Film

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen: Samuel Goldwyn has de-throned Errol Flynn as Hollywood's bravest man.

While movietown is slashing budgets and swinging the economy axe in circles to meet TV competition, Sam's pouring $3,000,000 into a super-colossal Technicolor fairy tale about a fairy tale teller, "Hans Christian Andersen." His reasoning:

"Only great motion pictures count today," he told me. "I'm doing something unusual I'm going to show people things they've never seen on the screen."

Co-starring Danny Kaye and French ballerina Jeanne Marie, "Hans" features 40 minutes of ballet, including a 15-minute, eye-popping "Little Mermaid" number in which Jeanne Marie dances on ocean waves and in an undersea grove.

And take it from Goldwyn: "It's the most effective I've ever put on the screen."

As an independent producer, Goldwyn's free to sell his tremendous library of films to TV and he admits he's had "fabulous" offers. "But I'm turning them all down," he said. "I still believe great motion pictures belong in theaters."

"Embarassing" Fuss

Diana Lynn is bristling over the out-loud guessing that her busy likeness on the cover of a national magazine has put gallons of zip and sing into her movie career.

If she's way out in front in the flicker again, it's not because Hollywood suddenly discovered that she was Jane Russell-ish in the mustard plaster region.

She'd like to think, Diana remarked, that she earned her new role in U.I.'s "The Great Companion" by dint of hard work on the stage and in television during the past year.

"It's all kind of embarrassing," shuddered Diana. "Suddenly, I'm a sexy flash. About that cover, I looked like a girl. And I am a girl. What's all the fuss about?"

Esio Finns may have his doubts about making another great love movie with Lana Turner, but he's ready to gamble with any Hollywood studio that will star him in a filmed opera.

And gamble is just what Esio means.

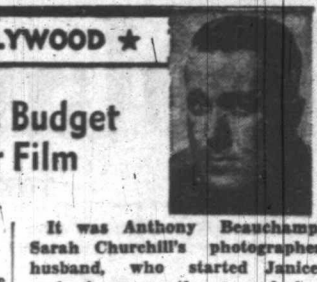

"I'll do eet for nawtheing and take per cent," roared the Enchanted Evening man, who's starring as Feodor Chaliapin in Fox's "Tonight We Sing." "I think I make more money. We are too afraid sen Hollywood. Ees not a question that the pooblec ees not raddy. The pooblec ees raddy. If Fox or MGM do a movie opera, the pooblec weel rosh to see eet."

Finns's playing Chaliapin in a blond wig and doesn't buss a single dame. He explained: "Ees comeddy side of heem I play, but eet does not mean Chaliapin was not romantec. Ees all hees life. Chaliapin never passed up a beautiful woman."

Pass The Smelling Salts

Fasten your seat straps, readers—there's a dazler in movietown who's asked her studio not to refer to her as a beauty.

She's gorgeous Janice Rule of MGM, who has me popping my eyes like Eddie Cantor over her "Tinted-Hey" cry. Janice, who's Peter Lawford's co-star in "Rogue's March," told me that "I want to be known as a good dancer and a capable actress. But I can do without this raving beauty stuff. I don't see how it can help me."

It was Anthony Beauchamp, Sarah Churchill's photographer husband, who started Janice squirming over the super-looker tag when he named her as one of Hollywood's 10 greatest beauties last year in a national magazine.

"It was a very embarrassing thing," sighed Janice. "Thank goodness, most people have forgotten about it."

Myrtle, the smelling salts, please. Here's a confession. Joining Dru didn't get dead-earnest about acting until after she became a star. Honest! That's what the girl said.

Co-starring with Richard Widmark in Fox's "Big Man" as a Topaz blonde, she declared:

"I began acting because I was plain bored. Even when I did Red River it was just fun. Then I started doing stage plays with John (hubby John Ireland), things way over my head, and suddenly became serious about acting."

Someone asked Spike Jones, just back from a tour, if he did a satire on Johnnie Ray.

"Did we?" flashed Spike. "We almost drowned the first two rows in Portland."

Buddy Boetticher, directing a character actor in a death scene for "City Beneath the Sea," quipped: "Let's try it once more. And when you die this time, please put some life into it."

Doctors Describe Use Of Sandpaper In Plastic Surgery

CHICAGO—Sandpaper offers an aid in treating various facial disfigurements, the American Medical Association was told Monday.

Dr. Claire L. Strath and several plastic surgery colleagues of Detroit said sandpapering of the skin—usually as a follow-up to surgery—offered help towards erasing pimple pits, pock marks, tattoos, cinder-marks or carbon marks from explosions.

The doctors told about the technique in a scientific exhibit at the AMA's annual meeting, opening Monday for a week-long session with an expected attendance of some 15,000 of the nation's doctors.

The meeting constitutes organized medicine's "big show," with side-lights ranging from coast-to-coast telecasts of medical advances down to simulated rowboat rescues of "drowning" persons from Lake Michigan to illustrate latest methods in artificial resuscitation.

The Detroit surgeons said that in their sandpapering technique they sometimes used "coarse, sterile sandpaper rolled on a sterile bandage" and applied by hand—or a mechanically-operated emery stone.

In another exhibit, Dr. Winfred Overholser, superintendent of the government's St. Elizabeth Hospital for the mentally-ill in Washington, D. C., declared that by 1960, the United States would have a population of 26 million over the age of 65 and that 10 per cent of them would develop emotional illness requiring hospitalization.

He said hospitals for the mentally-ill should make special plans to care for this particular age group.

Executive Powers Defined

In ruling President Truman's seizure of the steel industry illegal, the U. S. Supreme Court went directly to the heart of the matter. It declared that the President has neither specific authority derived from statutes nor inherent power derived from the Constitution to seize properties.

The court said in plain words that the Constitution leaves clearly to Congress the law-making power "in both good and bad times."

It added: "The President's power to see that the laws are faithfully executed refutes the idea that he is to be a law-maker. The Constitution limits his functions in the law-making process to the recommending of laws he thinks wise and the vetoing of laws he thinks bad."

Nor could the court see the seizure order as a proper use of the President's military power as commander in chief of the armed forces. Defense production stoppages are a problem for Congress, it said, not the nation's military authorities.

These pointed but unpretentious phrases add up to an historic decision. They put well-defined limits on the free-ranging executive authority of the President. They in effect deny the doctrine of inherent powers, a theory that has been employed conveniently in recent years to justify many unprecedented White House directives.

Furthermore, the court's ruling reaffirms strongly the power and independence of Congress in fields of action marked out for it by the Constitution. Such a restatement is wholesome and useful at a time when Executive powers are being enlarged steadily at the expense of the legislature in many corners of the world.

It is really quite remarkable that the Supreme Court has met this issue head on. Before the decision was handed down, constitutional experts were predicting widely that, whatever the court decided, it would not delve deeply into the shadowy zone where the President's powers bump squarely up against those of Congress.

It was argued that the high court, as a matter of historical record, consistently has avoided defining the respective powers of Congress and the Executive too sharply, apparently on the theory that this vagueness gave to both sides a certain assurance of flexibility. This maneuvering ground was extensive enough to allow for a substantial expansion of presidential authority when the situation warranted.

The Supreme Court now has eliminated that vagueness, although three justices obviously consider this a gross mistake. The court has said in effect that the way to deal with an issue like the steel crisis is for the President to obtain specific grants of power from Congress.

We all know that the nature of modern warfare puts a premium on speed in an emergency. Inasmuch as the court now has restricted the President's area of discretionary action, it is incumbent upon him to request—and upon Congress to consider fairly—whatever standby powers he might reasonably need to cope with an emergency.

It also is incumbent upon him to use the authority he already has. As Justice Clark noted in a concurring opinion, Truman failed to use the Taft-Hartley law in dealing with the steel crisis. This does not give him the power to seize, but it does provide machinery for handling a stubborn labor dispute.

The President's refusal to use Taft-Hartley was founded on political considerations, since the act is a red flag to labor leaders. But the President clearly has a responsibility to execute all the laws, not just the ones he happens to like.

The court properly has rebuked Truman for resorting to the extremity of seizure when he had not called into play all available lesser remedies.

But, more important than this, it has declared that the Constitution, not the President, is the supreme law of the land. It has taken government out of the realm of Executive whim and tied it firmly to the rock of written law.

Traffic Snowball

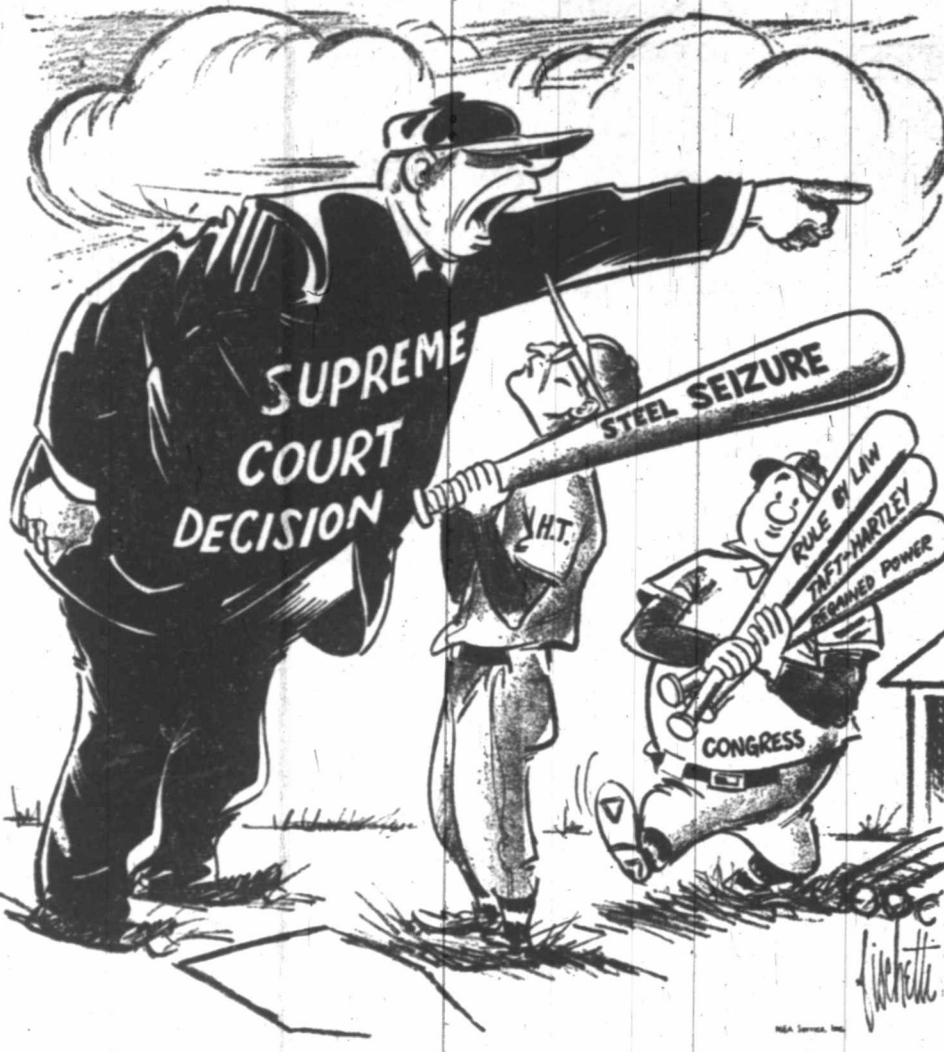

Driving along in the open country, you've probably noticed occasionally a thin strand of rubber tubing stretched across the highway. The tubing contains wires attached to electric counting devices which are used to measure traffic loads and permit forecasts of future traffic density.

Well, some of the forecasters are ready to throw in the towel, electric counters notwithstanding. They've decided things are getting out of hand.

The experience on the New Jersey Turnpike is one good reason why. That roadway opened in November. It was expected to have an average load of 23,000 cars daily by 1956. It reached that level this April. One peak day tallied 70,000. Officials now think the toll road may pay off its revenue bonds in 15 years instead of 35.

This will give you some idea of the magnitude of the nation-wide traffic problem which we are not successfully grappling with.

"Yer Out—Batter Up!"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: King Committee gingerly probes Congressman Keough; Legislator received law fees from Franco lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark; Keough lost pants and cash while visiting France.

WASHINGTON — The King Committee, which has done a remarkably good job of probing tax frauds, is about to wind up its career on June 30. Before doing so, however, it has explored—very gingerly—the tax returns and business operations of one of its own members.

This is almost unheard of in Congress. Members of the House and Senate for the most part follow an unwritten rule that they do not pry into each other's business. Nevertheless, the King Committee has done some quiet probing of its own members—none other than Congressman Eugene Keough, Democrat, who is elected from plebeian Brooklyn but lives on swank Park Avenue.

It happens that this columnist has kept weather eye on Congressman Keough during the last two years and his record is interesting. Keough was elected to Congress in 1938, but for 11 years he took no appreciable interest in Spain. His career in Congress featured a plan to send the Congressional Record to federal judges and to grant free postage to the armed forces. Not one speech did he make on Spain.

Then suddenly, after 11 silent years in Congress, Keough suddenly became the champion of Dictator Franco. He littered the Congressional Record with statements and editorials favorable to Spain. He interrupted congressional debates to defend Spain. He offered an amendment to include Spain in Marshall Plan handouts.

France Lobbyist This began in 1949. It was in 1949 also that Congressman Keough was seen frequently in the company of Franco's lobbyist, amiable, likable Charles Patrick Clark, who now draws $100,000 annually from the Spanish Embassy although in 1949 he drew only $50,000.

On Oct. 8, 1949, Congressman Keough paid a visit to Dictator Franco in Madrid in company with another Franco enthusiast Senator Owen Brewster of Maine. Lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark was in Madrid with them.

Traveling on a Spanish train that night, Congressman Keough was reported to have had $5,000 stolen, together with his pants, when he hung the pants too near a window in a sleeping car.

Prior to 1949, also, Congressman Keough opposed the natural gas lobby and voted against the Riskey bill, which would have hiked gas rates. The bill would have meant higher gas bills to the Brooklyn housewives who elected him, and he voted for the housewives.

But in 1949, Keough and Charles Clark, lobbyist for a gas pipe line company, as well as for Spain, had become friendly and Keough reversed himself. He not only followed the gas lobby's line during hearings in committee, but actually introduced two amendments which would have made the Kerr bill just as strong as the Riskey bill which he previously had voted against.

After failing to strengthen the bill, and probably to protect himself with Brooklyn housewives, Keough finally voted "no" on final passage.

At about this time, Congressman Keough began to receive a series of checks from lobbyist Charles Clark. They were listed as payments by Clark for legal advice on a tax case which the federal government had against Elias E. Chambers of Miami. The first check was dated March 6, 1950, for $1,500; another on March 24, 1950, was for $1,000; April 5, $500; May 3, $500; and June 15, $1,000.

The interesting thing was that Keough, as a member of Congress, had no business accepting a law fee in connection with a tax case. Such law practice against the federal government by a member of Congress is illegal.

In September, 1950, some months after the checks had passed, I handed the information to the Justice Department, whereupon both Keough and Clark were quizzed by the FBI.

our firm has withdrawn and consider that the fee which you previously paid us will be in full." When the congressman and Lobbyist Clark were interviewed by this columnist regarding the purpose of these fees, they told different stories.

According to Keough, Clark merely had dealt with his New York law firm, Halpin, Keough, and St. John, not with him. But when Clark was asked how Keough had earned these fees he explained that Keough had given very helpful advice.

"Then it was Keough who advised you on this case?" Clark was asked. "Yes." A short time later, the King Tax Fraud Committee of which Keough is a member, rightly reprimanded Congressman Vincent Quinn of New York for taking fees in connection with tax cases while he was a member of Congress.

"How did Keough happen to lose his pants in Spain?" I asked Clark. "He hung 'em too near the window," Clark explained. "Someone pulled them out at a railroad station. But he only had $2,000 in his pocket—not $5,000 as reported in the press. They'd collected some money to pay for the importation of autos, and Keough was going down to the port to arrange for it."

Congressman Keough in turn was asked why he happened to support legislation which Lobbyist Clark was interested in. "I don't think I should comment," he replied.

"Why have you made so many speeches favoring Spain?" Keough was asked. "I don't think I've had much to say about Spain," he countered. Reminded that the Congressional Record was full of his speeches, he declined to comment.

Asked about the reversal of his position regarding natural gas after Clark got into the picture, the congressman said he preferred not to go into the arguments of the gas legislation but he didn't see anything inconsistent in his position.

Questioned about the fees he had received from Clark's law firm in connection with the Elias Chambers tax matter, Keough at first replied that a lawyer's relations with his client was strictly private. Later he claimed—counter to what Clark said—that Clark's relations were with his law firm, not with him.

That is part of the record of a member of the King Committee now probing tax frauds. It will be interesting to see if the King probes proceed with their investigation of their own member.

Children's Train Crashes; 21 Hurt BUFFALO, NEW YORK —(AP)—The gaudily painted miniature train at the zoo picked up speed. In Sunday passengers—mostly children—shouted gaily to their friends.

Suddenly there were screams from 200 onlookers as the tiny train lurched from the rails at 10 miles an hour. Two cars overturned.

Twenty-one persons were injured—but the most seriously hurt was six-year-old Sheryl Warren, who had a compound fracture of the leg.

Zoo Curator Joseph A. Abbott said about 60 persons were aboard the amusement train. The cause of the wreck was not determined immediately.

Officers Win Touchy Battle With Flood Of Loosed Gasoline

DALLAS —(AP)—Firemen and police won a touchy, six-hour battle Sunday against a flood of more than 1,000 gallons of highly inflammable gasoline.

A spokesman for the Gulf Oil Corporation bulk plant in the business area at Second Avenue and Hickory Street said between 1,000 and 1,500 gallons of gasoline flowed from the plant because a workman left a valve open Saturday night. The flow started about 9 a.m. Sunday when a tank truck began pumping fuel into a overhead storage tank.

A passerby finally noticed the gasoline escaping.

When firemen and police arrived gasoline almost covered the tracks of a railroad siding.

Police roped off a four-block area and ordered switch engines to stay clear. Firemen and workmen dug a 50-foot ditch from the plant to the street so the gasoline could be drained into the gutter. Then firemen from two companies hosed water into the gasoline and flushed it into storm sewers. The sewers were flooded from fire hydrants to minimize the possibility of an explosion.

Finally everyone gave a sigh of relief.

When today's hand was played in the recent tournament at Asbury Park some North-South pairs wound up at three no-trumps. They all live to regret it since there was practically no play at all for nine tricks against a spade opening.

At some tables the superior contract of four hearts was reached, usually with the help of the Stayman Convention. North's response of two clubs did not show a suit, but merely asked South to show a biddable major, if he could. After that it was easy to reach a game contract in hearts.

At one table the game in hearts was defeated by a fine defensive play. West opened a low spade and South won with the ace. Declarer properly led the eight of hearts and let it ride for a finesse. When it held he continued with the four of hearts. West put up the jack, and dummy won with the ace.

East's discard gave the declarer a nasty jolt. With a normal 3-2 trump break his game contract would have been very easy. With the actual break he was in trouble.

Declarer now switched to clubs, knocking out West's ace. At this point, West was tempted to lay down the king of hearts and continue with his low heart to clean up the trump suit. Such a defense would have permitted declarer to take ten tricks.

West saw the light in time. Instead of leading out the trumps he cashed the queen of spades and led a third spade, forcing dummy to ruff.

Death in the Sierras By Doris Hudson Moss

My lights showed a black void to my left, evidently a great chasm or deep canyon.

As I drove at a mad speed equal to the pounding of my heart, I tried to analyze what had happened. Obviously the rifle shot was meant for the old man who had whispered his warning to me. He said there had been a murder.

How did he know about it? He was the shot in the dark fired by a demented fiend who roamed the forest with his deadly rifle, shooting at any living thing?

I pressed the accelerator down dangerously as we tore around those mountain curves. My lights showed a black void to my left, evidently a great chasm or deep canyon.

Then Susie leaned forward more than ever, while she continued to snarl and at that moment I thought I heard a faint crashing sound. I only saw that it was a green coupe, similar to mine, and driven by a woman.

Rounding a curve, I finally saw a feeble light hanging to a pole near a watering trough. Faintly I discerned a gasoline pump and my headlights shone on a sign: Horseshoe Springs.

I drew up and sounded the horn. A door opened a crack, sending a thin line of light across the dark earth. Someone peered out. "Who's there?" quavered the high-pitched voice of an old man.

"I'm a woman alone on my way to Gold Lake and I need some gasoline."

It seemed odd to find it necessary to explain myself. I was thankful for warm, furry Susie, who pressed guardedly against my shoulder.

Apparently reassured, the old man hobbled out, carrying an electric lantern.

He filled my tank. As I paid him he turned the light from the lantern upon me and as he counted

AND then as I shifted the gear into high I saw a woman standing behind an out-cropping of granite, away from the sight of the gatekeeper. I looked back but she was gone. I wondered if she had slipped through the gate behind my car while the old man was talking and if she could be the same woman who had stood by the felled tree. But that seemed impossible since I was miles from that spot. She was probably a member of his family.

I followed a meadow road and in a few moments I stopped before the door of Gold Lodge. The proprietors of the resort were a Mr. and Mrs. Rodney James. Mrs. James offered me a late supper.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Eggomania

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, has a black hen whose name is Hickety Pickety. Daddy Ringtail says, "Hickety Pickety, my black hen, will you lay an egg for a gentleman?" and then she will lay one in her nest. Why, she keeps her apron pockets all full of eggs to lay one down in any nest whenever a gentleman asks her.

Hickety Pickety indeed is a very smart hen, as you can plainly see.

There was once a time when she could sing and even talk. That was before she made her sad, sad visit to the sad, sad land of Eggomania. That's what I want to tell you about. It all began on a Summer's day when a traveler traveled by. He told strange tales of the strange land of Eggomania, where eggs were worth a price of $5 each. Five dollars! For just one egg? That's what the traveling traveler said.

"Just imagine!" said Hickety Pickety to Daddy Ringtail, for she was a chicken who knew how to talk in the faraway day I am telling about.

"Daddy Ringtail," said she, "here at home in the Great Forest, an egg is worth no more than enough to buy my supper."

"I know," said Daddy Ringtail. He listened while Hickety Pickety said she would now go away to Eggomania and sell an egg for five whole dollars. She would be rich! rich for a chicken I mean.

Daddy Ringtail begged her not to do it, but she wouldn't listen. He knew she would meet some trouble, and sure enough she did. After a long, long walk, she arrived in Eggomania at just the time for her to eat her supper.

"I'll go into the restaurant here and buy some supper," said Hickety Pickety to herself, and she did. She ate a fine bowl of chicken feed with milk over it, and then she reached in her apron pocket for the five pennies that was always enough to buy her supper at home.

"Five pennies?" shouted the man. "Why your supper cost you five dollars." And so Hickety sold him one of her eggs for five dollars, and paid him for her supper, and she knew she was no better off than if she had stayed at home where a five-cent egg would always pay for her supper and dessert too. But her troubles were only beginning. More tomorrow. Happy day!

Rampaging Broncs Maul Indians, 14-2

Roswell Sweeps Three-Game Series From Vernon Dusters

ROSWELL—(P)—After being held to one scratch hit for five innings, the Roswell Rockets exploded for seven runs in the sixth inning to pave the way for their 14-7 conquest of the Vernon Dusters here Sunday night. It gave the Rockets a sweep of their three-game series with the Dusters.

Lloyd Wallace had the Rockets on his hip, though troubled by wildness, through the first five innings as he set them down with only a scratch single by Stubby Greer spoiling his bid for a no-hitter.

Then, in the sixth, the roof fell in. Sparked by Manager Al Monchak's homer, the Rockets shoved across seven runs in this frame to go far ahead, 9-6. They were not headed after that.

Roswell's two first runs, single tallies in the first and third, came when Wallace walked Bill Gearyley with the bases loaded in both innings. Wallace issued 10 walks in the five innings he pitched.

The Rockets also picked up three runs in the seventh and a pair in the eighth to glide to the win behind the fine relief pitching of Andy Alonso.

Alonso notched his second win in three nights with his victory Sunday night. Starter Lloyd Wallace was charged with the defeat.

There were a total of 22 bases on balls given up in the two hour, 48 minute marathon.

Gil Guerra Slows Tribe Batters To Rack Up Victory

Manager Zeke Bonura has nominated Mound Ace Eddie Jacome (8-3) to go against the Big Spring Broncs Monday night in the second match of their three-game series here. The game starts at 8:15 p.m. in Indian Park.

The rampaging Big Spring Broncs piled up a four-run lead off the Midland Indians in the first inning here Sunday afternoon, then coasted to a 14 to 2 victory behind the five-hit relief hurling of Gil Guerra.

The Steers jumped on lefty John Harrison, a rookie making his first start for the Indians, for three hits and four runs in the first inning before Indian Hurler Keith Nicolls came on to put out the fire.

However Nicolls was unable to hold the Broncs in check long as they added a single tally in the third, three in the sixth, two in the seventh and four in the ninth to breeze to victory.

The Broncs' starter, Charles Ratliff, held the Indians scoreless during three and one-third innings he worked. But he walked three men to load the bases in the fourth frame and Big Spring Manager Pat Stasey pulled 'em and inserted Guerra.

Before Guerra could work himself out of difficulty, the Tribe scored a lone tally, when Julio de la Torre scored on an infield out.

Midland combined a double by Pat O'Keefe and successive singles by De La Torre and Dick Cassidy for its only other run in the sixth inning.

But Guerra struck out Hayden White and forced the next two batters to fly out to get out of trouble.

The big fellow seemed to get stronger as he went along then, spacing only two hits for the remainder of the route.

First Baseman Enrique Gonzales led the Broncs' hitting spree, collecting four hits in four trips to the plate. Manager Pat Stasey and third baseman Witty Quintana each collected three hits in six times at bat.

Sweetwater Survives Home Run Blast To Defeat Artesia, 9-8

SWEETWATER—(P)—Sweetwater survived a three-home run blast by Artesia here Sunday afternoon to eke out a 9-8 victory. The Braves snapped a 3-3 tie in the third inning on Rock Carlini's two-run homer and held on to take the third game of the series.

Big Joe Bauman of Artesia smashed his seventeenth home run of the season in the third inning with one mate aboard. Pete Pichan collected his thirteenth and fourteenth homers, his first in the fifth with two men on, the second in the eighth with one on.

Sweetwater scored the deciding run in the seventh on a walk by Hank Galban, a triple by Charles Buck and Rock Carlini's single.

The Braves took a 3-1 lead in the first inning on four singles and an error, then Bauman came up to tie it, 3-3, in the third with a homer over the scoreboard in right field.

Dean Higgins, who needed help from Rolando Rodriguez, achieved his third pitching victory for Sweetwater.

In a fourth-inning rhabarb, Manager Earl Perry and catcher Rudy Briner were evicted for protesting too long and loudly a decision at the plate.

The score: Artesia 102 030 020-8 9 3
Sweetwater 302 200 20x-9 9 0

San Angelo Flattens League Leading Odessa Oilers, 14-5

SAN ANGELO—(P)—Using Odessa's own weapon, the long ball, the San Angelo Colts Sunday put together a 16-hit attack on two Odessa pitchers to defeat the Longhorn League leaders, 14-5.

Eight of the Colts' 16 hits were for extra bases, four home runs, one triple and three doubles. Most of the damage was off Juan Guerrero, starting Odessa hurler who went the first seven innings.

Meanwhile Parks Thomas and Clarence Tinkler were combining their hurling talents to hold the hardhitting Oilers to 10 safeties. Thomas, though he was relieved at the end of five innings because of a sore arm, gained credit for his second win against one defeat since joining the Colts.

The Colts spotted Odessa three runs in the fourth inning when the Oilers combined a triple by Felix Castro, a double by Roberto Fabian, singles by Lefty Loyko and Leo Eastham and an error by Colt Third Baseman Mart Dooley for the markers.

San Angelo salted the game in the seventh with another five-run assault on five hits, including homers by Cervantes Capetillo and Greg Solis. Three more Colts runs in the bottom of the eighth finished the day's scoring, two of the tallies coming on John Tavano's homer.

The score: San Angelo 000 090 53x-14 16 1
Odessa 000 301 100-5 10 2

Roughs Regain Loop Lead As Ocee Tribe Drops Pair

By The Associated Press
You don't have to do much to advance in this closer-than-a-grammar-school-boy's-first-shave Texas League race. Beaumont split a double-header and took over first place Sunday.

To be sure, the Roughnecks had some good, solid help from Houston, which swiped Oklahoma City twice.

Dallas moved into a second-place tie with Oklahoma City by doing the same thing as Beaumont—splitting a double bill. And it so happened that the split was with Beaumont.

The Roughnecks won the first game, 3-0, on the steady twirling of Hank Wyse. Beaumont got all its runs in the sixth. In the nightcap, Dallas came through, 5-2, on the four-hit pitching of Hal Erickson. Wyse and Erickson each was winning his ninth game of the season.

Houston whipped Oklahoma City, 4-3 and 1-0, with Al Pappi also notching his ninth victory of the campaign in the first game. In the afterpiece, Jerry Witte, a home run hitter, did a perfect bunt job in the eighth to drive in the one run.

San Antonio and Tulsa divided a doubleheader. San Antonio won the first game, 4-0, as Cliff Fannin scattered six Oiler hits. Tulsa took the second game, 3-1, using four straight singles to get all its runs in the fifth inning.

Shreveport romped on Fort Worth, 10-6, in the only single game of the day.

JUST A LITTLE DIAMOND DUST
by Bob Adams

A winning ball club often is said to be one which is a running club. One that will gamble for that extra base to get a man in scoring position.

And such a statement seems to hold true at least in the case of the Odessa Oilers.

So far, according to league statistics on games played through June 2, the Oilers had pilfered 41 bases, nine more than the Sweetwater Bronco, who had stolen 32 and who reside in second place in the league standings.

However, and this always comes up, the lowly Vernon Dusters who are nesting in the cellar, are third in the number of stolen bases with 24. Midland is fourth with 20.

Other eyebrow raisers we picked up from the league statistics are as follows:

The Artesia Drillers are leading the league in number of home runs swatted, by far. They have slugged out 52 while the next club to them, the Odessa Oilers, have pounded out 29, with the Roswell team third with 25.

Under club fielding, we discovered that Roswell leads the loop in number of double plays executed with 59. San Angelo is second with 45 and Artesia is third with 44. Vernon has 43 and Midland 40.

Sweetwater has committed the most miscues afield with a whopping 126 errors charged against it. Vernon has committed 94 bobbles, Artesia 92 and Midland 85. Big Spring had the best fielding average, committing only 58 errors in 952 chances.

Hurler Keith Nicolls leads the league in strikeouts with 76. He is followed by Gil Guerra of Big Spring, who has 66, Ernie Sadler of Sweetwater with 65 and Israel Ten of Midland with 64.

Nicolls also has pitched the most number of complete games with nine. Eddie Jacome of Midland had pitched the most innings through June 2, hurling 97 frames.

Enough of statistics for now. Tobacco chewing Dave McKenzie, Indian hurler, has been working hard on his curve ball.

Dave has been having trouble getting started this season.

However, he has been working extra hours lately on his curve and he says he thinks he is breaking just about right.

Talorline Clothes is giving $10 in trade to the Indian who is the leading hitter on the road each month; $10 in trade to the leading fielder on the road each month; $10 in trade for the pitcher who hurls a five-hitter or a shut-out, and $20 in trade for the batter who swats a home run over the Service Club sign at the park.

Douglas Sacks Up $5,400 Cold Cash In Ardmore Open

ARDMORE, OKLA. —(AP)—A golf tournament dreamed up on the spur of the moment at the Toledo, Ohio, Inverness event last year developed suddenly into one of America's top links classics.

The Ardmore Open Golf Tournament, Oklahoma's first major professional tournament since the Tulsa Open in 1945, was billed for a $15,000 event.

However, when some of the nation's best professionals got through firing on Dornick Hills' tough par-70 layout, the final prizes totaled close to $24,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Waco Turner, golf lovers for many years, decided at Toledo last year that Oklahoma deserved a major tournament. Solid cooperation from Dornick Hills members made the event possible.

Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del., was the principal beneficiary from the Turner's oil millions. He was the only player to beat par in a four-day trek over Dornick Hills' rolling fairways and tricky greens, pocketing $5,400, the richest prize on the Professional Golfers' Association trail to date.

Douglas posted a one-under-par 279 total and was two strokes ahead of E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the host professional, who had 281 for second money of $1,800.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago romped home with a 69 after three rounds of 71 to pick up third money of $1,400.

The tournament assumed its richness when the Turners offered bonus awards.

Clovis Hangs On To Six-Tilt Lead In WT-NM Chase

By The Associated Press

The boys are so close together from second place down to seventh that the least little thing—like, say, losing a ball game—can make wholesale changes.

Sunday, Lubbock lost to Pampa, 5-1, and fell from a tie for second down to a tie for fourth. Borger beat Amarillo, 7-2, and went into undisputed second place. Lamesa took a 17-6 lacing from Abilene and tumbled for a tie for second to a tie for fourth.

The only clubs keeping their regular places were Clovis and Albuquerque. Clovis beat Albuquerque, 10-8, to retain a six-game lead at the top while Albuquerque continued in sixth place.

CAR GETS HIT, DRIVER ROBBED

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Everything's going to be okay, H. A. Bundy, 58, figured when the driver who sideswiped his car at Military Drive and Broadway Sunday stopped and came over to Bundy's car.

It didn't turn out that way.

The unidentified driver slugged Bundy and robbed him of between $50 and $60.

TEXAS EYES THIRD NATIONAL CROWN

OMAHA —(AP)— Texas, a two-time national college baseball champion, has its sights on a third title as it moves into Omaha this week for the annual National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament.

The Cincinnati Reds finished second to the New York Giants in pitching in 1951. The Red staff compiled a 3.70 earned-run average.

Hogan, Burke Sport Cricks On Eve Of National Event

DALLAS —(AP)— The National Open field moved in en masse Monday for the start of official practice over Northwood Course, where the big golf show goes on Thursday.

Around Northwood Monday they were talking about a couple of pains in the neck—ones on Ben Hogan, the defending champion from Palm Springs, Calif., and the other on Jack Burke of Houston, a top contender for the title.

Both developed "cricks" in the neck over the weekend. Burke had to give up a practice round Sunday and make a date with a doctor Monday. Hogan couldn't shoot a round Saturday and practiced lightly on Colonial Course at Fort Worth Sunday.

They said they got the cricks from sitting in the air-conditioned club house grill; then going out and playing in the hot sun.

Red Sox Grab AL Top As Tribe Bows Twice

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ott, those bases on balls!

Boston's Red Sox were the new occupants of first place in the American League Monday. The New York Yankees jumped from third to second and Cleveland plummeted from first to third. All three clubs could charge it to the pitchers' pet peeve—the free ticket to first.

Because of the walks, only three percentage points separated the three teams after Sunday's activities, which saw the Red Sox sweep a pair from Detroit by 5-2 margins; the Yankees take two from the St. Louis Browns, 5-2 and 3-0, and the Indians drop two to the Philadelphia Athletics, 12-4 and 11-3.

Sam Jones, Cleveland right-hander, started the day's "walkathon" by passing Elmer Valo with the bases loaded in the first inning at Philadelphia to force home the A's first run. In all, Jones walked five in two innings. Teammate Bobby Feller did even worse in the second game, walking seven in the first frame as the A's blitzed into a 5-0 lead.

Eddie Joost, veteran shortstop, was the big gun for the A's, smashing two home runs in the first game to make Bobby Shantz' tenth victory—his first big league hurler to get that many—an easy one.

At Yankee Stadium, Tommy Byrne, Browne left-hander, gave up only two hits in the first game but lost when three of seven walks came in to score. Bellefleur Bob Kuzava tossed six-hit ball for nine innings to win.

In the nightcap, another St. Louis southpaw, Shubby Overmire, gave up only two walks, but one of those turned into one of the Yanks' three runs. Overmire ran into a tough opponent, however, as Right-hander Vic Raschi fanned 13 in racking up his fifth victory for the champs.

At Boston, George Kell and Dizzy Trout, both ex-Tigers, sparked the Red Sox to their double triumph over their former teammates. Kell pounded out five hits, driving in two runs, while the veteran Trout made his first start for the Sox in the second game and pitched a six-hitter.

In the other American League game, Nellie Fox, with three hits, led Chicago to a 6-3 victory over Washington. It was Washington's fourth straight loss and dropped the Senators into fourth place, one point ahead of the White Sox.

Brooks Forge Ahead

Meanwhile, in the National League, Brooklyn continued to build up its lead by sweeping a doubleheader, from Cincinnati, 11-7 and 10-4. It gave the Brooks a four and one-half game bulge on the New York Giants, who trounced Pittsburgh, 9-1, behind Larry Jansen's seven-hitter and home runs by Al Dark and Bob Elliott.

Brooklyn won the first game against Cincinnati easy enough, scoring four times in the first inning and adding four more in the fifth. But it took a seven-run rally, featured by Carl Furillo's grand-slam homer, to pull out the nightcap.

The St. Louis Cards moved past Cincinnati into fourth place by trimming the Philadelphia Phillies, despite homers by Del Ennis, Grahny Hammer and Connie Ryan. Staj Mistal clubbed a three-run homer for the Birds in the first inning to give Rookie Willard Schmidt his first major league victory.

At Chicago, the Cubs split with the Boston Braves, winning the opener, 7-5, as Hank Sauer hit his fourteenth homer, but losing the second, 7-6, when Sam Jethroe poled a home run with the bases full.

At Yankee Stadium, Tommy Byrne, Browne left-hander, gave up only two hits in the first game but lost when three of seven walks came in to score. Bellefleur Bob Kuzava tossed six-hit ball for nine innings to win.

In the other American League game, Nellie Fox, with three hits, led Chicago to a 6-3 victory over Washington. It was Washington's fourth straight loss and dropped the Senators into fourth place, one point ahead of the White Sox.

Maxwell, Chapman Battle In Finals Of French Golf Meet

PARIS —(AP)— Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., fought back to take the lead over Billy Maxwell, U. S. Amateur champ from Odessa, Monday at the three-quarter mark of their 36-hole final for the French Amateur Golf Championship.

On the dogleg fifteenth, Maxwell sank a 15-foot putt for an eagle three. Chapman went into a sand bunker at the back of his second shot, blasted out and then put away an 18-foot putt for a birdie four but lost the hole.

PARIS —(AP)— Billy Maxwell of Odessa Monday took a one-up lead over Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., at the half-way point of their 36-hole match for the French Amateur Golf Championship.

The 22-year-old student at North Texas State College and holder of the U. S. Amateur title, went into the lead for the first time in the match at the eighteenth hole.

Previously he twice had been down one hole, but each time came back to square the match.

There were few mistakes in the match over the Montfaucon course. When either played off the fairways, which are cleared from the forest, he usually lost the hole. Sand bunkers are around each hole to penalize errant shots, but the openings to all of the greens are clear. The course carries a lenient par of 37-37-74.

Chapman went one up on the twelfth, where Maxwell dove into heavy heather at the right of the fairway.

On the short thirteenth, where the players must shoot over a tree, Maxwell put his ball within four feet of the cup. Chapman was 15 feet away but sank his putt to retain his advantage.

Both won two matches to qualify. The French had a high regard for Bobby Knowles of Boston, the defending champion, and he had plenty of rooters. But Chapman, the 1951 British Amateur champion, put an end to his hopes by blasting him 2 and 1 in the semi-final. Earlier, Chapman had put out Billy Shields of Albany, N. Y., 5 and 4.

For his part, Maxwell had no trouble on his morning round when he trounced John Plant, the British champion from Egypt, 6 and 4, but in the afternoon, he had to fight every inch of the way to dispose of Kenneth Thom of Great Britain, 1-up.

St. George is believed to be the development of the ancient Pegasus myth.

'FENCE PARTY' TO CONTINUE

Efforts will be made from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday to complete erection of a fence around the Pony League, Jörn Redfern, Jr., commissioner of Little League baseball, announced Monday.

A fence party was held Saturday afternoon at the field, located at Carter and Johnson Streets, with about half of the task completed.

Redfern said he was sending out an "SOB" for anyone who can use a hammer to help finish the fence erection.

Vest Funeral Set Tuesday

ROSWELL, N. M.—Funeral services for John W. Vest, 83, father of Mrs. Mollie McCormick of Midland and former Midland County ranchman, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Westrum Chapel. Interment will be in the South Park Cemetery.

Vest died Saturday in a Roswell hospital, after becoming ill Friday night.

A prominent rancher of Chaves and Eddy Counties, he worked as a young man for the old Hat Ranch of Southeastern New Mexico before starting his own ranch. His ranch headquarters were located on the present site of Hobbs.

Vest formerly owned ranches near Carlsbad, Corona and Kenna.

He established the Vest Motel here about two years ago.

Born April 6, 1869, in Williamson County, Texas, Vest was married to the former Miss Ollie Rose April 5, 1896 in Midland.

Survivors include his wife; a son in California and a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Rogers of Carlsbad; five grandchildren and three great grandchildren; Mrs. McCormick; and three brothers, including Bill Vest of Monahans and Dock Vest of Carlsbad.

Tide, Tug Release Grounded Schooner

BANDON, ORE.—(AP)—A grounded lumber schooner, cracking up as heavy waves bounced it on a sandbar, was pulled free here late Sunday night.

The vessel, the Cynthia Olson, is manned by 28 seamen. They have remained on the ship since it ran aground while leaving this Southern Oregon harbor at midnight Saturday.

An incoming tide turned the out-bound ship around Sunday night, pointing its bow into the harbor. As it turned, the Coast Guard Cutter Bonham and the tug Port of Bandon got lines aboard and pulled it to safety.

As the tide increased, the ship buoyed up and was eased free of the rocky sandbar.

Less than an hour before the ship was freed, its captain, Anton Brix, radioed that he and his crew might have to abandon the ship which was beginning to break up in the waves. The waves were running four feet high and were shipped by 40-mile-an-hour winds.

An effort to pull the ship free Sunday afternoon failed when a Coast Guard cutter's 8-inch line snapped. The Cynthia Olson had been lightened when a large part of its 3 million feet of lumber was jettisoned.

Rescue efforts, halted as the tide started to ebb, were resumed again late Sunday night when the tide reversed itself.

Extent of damage to the ship could not be immediately learned. However, Brix's earlier radio messages said the vessel's bottom had been punctured and water was rushing in.

The Coast Guard also reported that the propeller had been damaged as the ship bounced on the bar.

The 329-foot, 3,117-ton vessel was aground for almost 24 hours on the bar which parallels a harbor jetty running out to sea. It was only 40 feet from the jetty and at no time was much concern felt for the safety of those aboard. They could have been removed from the ship by the jetty by breeches buoy had the ship broken up.

STORK SPECIAL FLIES ATLANTIC

NEW YORK (AP)—A chartered plane with 108 passengers—including 42 war brides, 65 children and a lone man—left for London Sunday night.

A British Overseas Airways Corporation spokesman said the 108 were the greatest number of passengers the line ever has carried on a four-engine plane of the type used for the trip.

Most of the mothers were going to England on a visit. The plane was stocked with diapers, three cases of baby food and 45 pints of milk for the 14-hour trip.

Learning that he was the only man passenger, Frank Braun of Philadelphia asked: "Do they have a bar on board?"

DA CANDIDATE—James Clay Hancock is one of three Odessa lawyers seeking the office of district attorney of the 70th Judicial District, which includes Midland and Ector Counties. The other candidates are Charles Butts and Warren Burnett.

Seventh Fleet Set To Defend Formosa

ABOARD USS BREMERTON, KEELUNG, FORMOSA.—(AP)—Vice Adm. Joseph J. Clark said Monday the U. S. Seventh Fleet could "cause havoc with any Communist attempt to invade Formosa."

Clark said dangers of such an invasion were remote, but they would increase if an armistice was signed in Korea and the Reds moved their forces down the mainland from Korea.

Clark was asked at a news conference aboard his flagship if the Seventh Fleet would take up the challenge should the Reds bomb Formosa.

The admiral replied the fleet's orders were to defend Formosa "and we could take whatever steps are required within the limits of our capacity and considering the war we are fighting in Korea."

Ike 'Knows Too Much' To Suit Pentagon As Chief Executive

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
 NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Reaction in the Pentagon to the possibility of General Eisenhower becoming President and commander in chief of all U. S. forces ranges from lukewarm enthusiasm to violent opposition.

Only in a few of the high places there do you find genuine support for Ike's candidacy.

At first glance this seems strange. You'd think that the brass would be delighted to see one of the starred brotherhood make good and be handed the military purse strings. The very least you'd expect is rejoicing among the Army brass.

The fact here isn't wild enthusiasm for Ike for President among the generals and admirals seems to boil down to one phenomenon. And it's got nothing to do with Ike personally. It would be the same with any military man. They realize that Ike knows too much about their business and that the chances of pulling the wool over his eyes are pretty slim.

This feeling in the Pentagon about Ike as President probably is Ike's backers' most exploitable answer to the criticism that a military man shouldn't be President. A darn good case can be made for this being the perfect time for electing a President with a real military background.

The military boys have gotten their firm grip on this town since the war by hammering away at one argument whenever they are challenged on anything. They say to senators, congressmen and budget experts the same thing: "Who are you to question us on military matters? We're the military experts you've created and you've got to take our word for it."

Fabulously expensive turkeys already have been sold to the American taxpayers on the basis of this argument. And the mistakes always can be covered up by slapping on security restrictions.

The Johnson Preparedness Committee has dug up enough dirt on the military's war waste, corruption and poor planning to point up just how serious this problem is.

If the Pentagon brass had their way they'd keep President Truman in the White House forever. His military background as an artillery officer in World War I indoctrinated him with just the right amount of reverence for stars on the shoulder.

As a result they've more or less had him in the palm of their hands. They didn't have it anywhere near that good with President Roosevelt.

Convict Trio Uses Dummies To Cover Escape In Nevada

CARSON CITY, NEV.—(AP)—California and Nevada authorities Monday hunted for three daring prison escapees who rigged dummies to get a seven-hour head start.

The fugitives from the Nevada State Prison here were reported headed west in a gray sedan stolen a few minutes after the escape early Sunday.

Prison officials said two of the convicts—Marshall Smith, 30, Reno burglar and Dallas B. Mallory, 23, serving five to seven and one-half years for attempted robbery at Reno—apparently made themselves sick by eating tobacco Saturday.

They were sent to the prison hospital on the fourth floor of the main cellblock under care of Trusty Francis L. Verdon, 24, Las Vegas burglar.

About midnight, investigation disclosed, the three rigged dummies in their beds, cut a hole in a ventilator and climbed to the roof.

They jumped about 20 feet to a two-story wing and another 20 feet to the ground, then scaled the wall undetected.

The escape wasn't discovered until 7 a.m.

Farmer Conducts Funeral For Himself Second Time

BURLINGTON, COLO.—(AP)—that one attracted 1,200 attendees. Gernhart dropped plans to fly a 65-piece band to the service Sunday because of the $5,000 charter fee for two planes and the cost of feeding the musicians.

"Besides," he added, "Christian folks might object to having a band at a funeral. After all, there's got to be some dignity about these things."

Gernhart held his first service—and recorded it for use after death—because he said he neither wanted to be buried "like a dog" or leave much of his estimated $75,000 estate to relatives. He said he repeated the performance this year because he enjoyed the first service.

Dispute Over Dog Leads To Murder, Suicide In Texas

PORT WORTH, (AP)—Boyd S. Coffin, 39, loved his big German shepherd dog, Laddie.

That love seemed to increase, neighbors said, after his wife left him last month.

Sunday Coffin phoned police and told them he wanted the dog shipped to a relative in Salt Lake City.

"I thought the guy was demented," said Officer W. K. Moore. "He kept telling me about this dog."

"Then he said he was fixing to kill his brother and himself. We tried to trace the call but couldn't do it. While he was talking, I heard a shot in the background."

Then neighbors phoned police about shots in the Coffin apartment. Officers found Coffin and his brother, shot to death.

Neighbors said Boyd had been moody since his wife left him and often disturbed them by playing the phonograph. A large collection of classical music albums, mostly Wagner, was found in the apartment.

Edwin was discharged as a captain from the Army May 28. The brothers' parents lived at San Francisco. Justice of the Peace Whit Boyd said he would return a verdict of murder and suicide.

JENNIE TOSSES WICKED PUNCH

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Actress Jennifer Jones won't be throwing any more punches for a while. She broke a bone in her hand Sunday when she struck actor Charlton Heston during filming of a scene at Morro Bay, Calif. The blow was in the script but the fracture wasn't.

Miss Jones' husband, Producer David O. Selznick, brought her here for treatment. Filming of the picture, "Ruby Gentry," will continue with scenes in which the actress is not needed.

White Advocates Practical Policy On Mexican Labor

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas farmers must rely on help from "south of the border," State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said Monday as he advocated a more practical federal policy on the use of Mexican nationals.

Just back from a 2,000-mile, two-week tour of the state to study the 1952 crop outlook, White said immediate prospects for a bumper season look as favorable as during the record year of 1948.

"We just don't have any hand labor except what the farmer has in his own family," said White.

"The farm labor situation in this state grows just a little more critical every year, and it isn't being helped any by the confused and impractical policies set up by the federal government."

"I don't believe officials in Washington have any idea as to the conditions in Texas this year. And I know the Texas farmer is wondering how he can stay within the law and still get an adequate supply of labor during the coming harvest."

Howard proposed Monday that the City of Midland trade its proposed park program for Midland County's proposed new library.

The proposal came as Howard appeared as the principal speaker at the regular luncheon-meeting of the Midland Kiwanis Club in Hotel Scharbauer.

Howard discussed the proposed park improvement program, which include community parks in the west end of the city, at Wadley and in the north and Latin-American sectors.

"It's going to take a lot of money and we've had two conferences with county commissioners, urging their participation in financing the program."

"We've had no action and we're not very enthusiastic about the chances of any action on their part."

He pointed out the county was faced with a proposal to enlarge the Midland County Courthouse, mainly to provide larger quarters for the county library.

"I wonder," he said, "if it would not be practical if the county took over the building of all these parks and let the city take over the library."

Howard was introduced by Program Chairman Frank Bezon.

The club will meet next Monday at the Midland High School Cafeteria.

Park Your Guns, Mexico Decrees

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The government Monday ordered its customs officials to leave their guns home when they cross the border into the U. S.

It also reminded them that officials of other countries are not allowed to carry pistols into Mexico.

The order was sent by the Finance Ministry to all border customs houses without explanation. It said the customs men also must make sure that no Mexican federal or municipal police carry guns on trips out of the country.

Troopers Rehearse 'Operation Breakup' For Koje Prisoners

KOJE ISLAND, KOREA—(AP)—U. S. paratroopers used flame throwers, tanks and tear gas Monday in a second dress rehearsal for the imminent breakup of Koje's 17 prisoner-of-war compounds into smaller units.

Sullen Communists in bloody compound 78 watched the maneuver from their barbed wire enclosure—criss-crossed by chest-high trenches and the beds dug Sunday.

Dispersal of Koje's 80,000 riotous POW's into more manageable 500-man compounds will be Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner's main blow toward gaining uncontested control over the prisoner pens. Present stockades have POW populations up to 6,000.

Date for the start of "Operation Breakup" has not been announced.

Racketeer Dies In Prison Hospital

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—Salvatore (Solly) Moretti, 49-year-old gambler and racketeer of the New York-New Jersey underworld, died Sunday at the state prison hospital as a result of a cerebral hemorrhage.

He was stricken May 6—the day he was to have come up for a parole hearing. Moretti, whose brother Willie was shot to death, gangland style, in a restaurant last year, was serving a two-to-three-year sentence for operating a million dollar dice game in Bergen County, N. J.

Along with Moretti, Joe Adonis and several of his lieutenants were convicted and are now in the same prison.

Water Rate—

no supplies will be available from that source until next Summer at the earliest.

And, even then, the new supply is expected to just about meet the expected increase in demand by next Summer.

Sewer Troubles, Too The water situation is not the only worry facing Nunn and other city officials.

While work is being rushed on a new sewage disposal plant and new and larger sewer lines, the situation has reached a critical stage.

Within a few blocks of the business district—at Illinois and Dallas—the raw sewage already is overflowing the manholes and crews daily have to treat this sewage as it flows down the street.

The raw sewage also is overflowing at a manhole where the sewer line crosses the Atlantic tank farm.

The situation will continue to get worse, Nunn said, until a new intercepter line is completed and the new plant is placed in operation.

"In addition to the normal increase in the Summer," said Nunn, "we have been making more than 200 new sewer taps a month the last three months."

An interceptor line now is nearing completion and it will serve the south side of the city, relieving the current heavy load on the northside outfall line.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said it is hoped that at least a portion of the new plant can be used by July 15, although no complete unit of the new plant is not scheduled for completion until August 1.

Chute Five—

(Continued From Page One) members of their families were a long way down the road toward home or other arenas Monday morning. They pulled out shortly after Sunday night's finale. Many of the contestants here headed for Gatesville, next stop for the Lightning C outfit.

Jack Favor left his favorite mount, Old Sleepy, in the care of a Midland veterinarian. The horse became ill and was not used in the rodeo here. Favor, who resides at Arlington, plans to pick up Old Sleepy on his way to the Pecos Rodeo in July.

The Optimist Club did an excellent job in handling concessions at the 1952 rodeo. The club members worked hard at the job and some of them were pretty well whipped down at the conclusion of the show. But the organization should have a nice profit to turn over to its Boys' Workshop project.

Louis Bartha secretary-treasurer of Midland Fair, Inc., was on the job early and late in his office and at Fair Park during the rodeo. Day monies were paid promptly and final championship prize checks were issued before he called it a day sometime before daybreak Monday.

But his job still is not over. He now has to round up all bills and settle all accounts before closing the books on the 1952 show.

J. T. Baker and his ticket sales helpers also did a grand job as usual this year. They handled the gigantic task in an efficient manner and with a minimum of difficulties.

All the precision of the circus prevailed at the final performance Sunday. The wild broncs, steers, bulls and cows were loaded into trucks at the conclusion of each event and soon were drowsing peacefully as they cruised down the highway.

Congrats should go to O. J. Hubbard, Jim Daugherty and others of the grandstand committee for a job well done. They were assisted ably by uniformed Boy Scouts and their leaders. Thanks boys.

Clown George Mills took quite a ribbing from the MHS Band members Sunday night, but he managed to hold his own although outnumbered five to one. He even rang the bell on one occasion. A good time was had by all.

Bob Gans, Cowden Junior High School Band director, relieved MHS Band Director Ralph Mills, in directing the musicians at the concluding performance of Midland Rodeo.

Entry fees totaled $5,445 this year. This was $5 less than the 1951 total, principally because of a reduction in the number of calf ropers.

Arena Secretary Pete Kenzcher had all contestants paid off by 2 a.m. Monday. He started handing out checks immediately after the final event.

Pete reported some of the contestants planned to go to Des Moines, Iowa, and Salinas, Calif., rodeos.

Mrs. Crews Injured In Household Mishap

Mrs. Sam Crews, 404 West Jax Street, was treated Sunday at Midland Memorial Hospital for first and second degree burns of her arms and hands.

Attaches said she was baking a cake and hot icing spilled on her.

Courts To Decide Plane's Ownership

BROWNSVILLE—(AP)—It looks like a big transport plane may remain grounded here until the courts decide to whom it belongs.

Lloyd A. Webb, 32, of Bayside, N. Y., said Sunday he flew the DC-4 here and that it will stay until debts incurred on it are cleared up.

Webb said, "Debts have been incurred on the plane, so I brought it here until they are cleared up or the matter is decided by the courts."

He was accompanied by Leonard C. Mills, 36, of New York City on the 1,640-mile flight. Webb said Mills rodeoed along with the ride and to relieve me."

The four-engine plane belongs to Canamex Corporation of New York City and was leased to U. S. Overseas. Webb said, Webb's attorney, Frederick Silver, said in New York that Webb and Earl W. Clement of Richmond Hill, N. Y., are half owners of Canamex stock. Webb said a Dr. Ralph Cox, Sr., owns the other half of the company.

"We had a dispute over the sale of the plane to U. S. Overseas," Webb said. "Dr. Ralph W. Cox, Jr., president of the line, thought the plane was worth $450,000. But any airplane broker can sell it for $650,000 tomorrow."

Webb added that the plane is going to stay in a hangar "until the courts decide this."

"Mr. Silver, my attorney in New York, advised me to do this last week," Webb said, "and we made arrangements with Frontier then. All the steps I have taken have been on the advice of legal counsel."

"I wish they would file a charge," Webb said, "then I'd really do some suing. As it is, Norman is going to be sued for libel if he doesn't stop saying I was a disgruntled pilot and had been fired."

Webb and Mills were held by police several hours after they arrived here, but were released and the plane was turned over to Webb.
