

Charges, Counter-Charges Fly As GOP Candidates Fight Over Texas Delegates

By The Associated Press
Counter-charges by Republican presidential candidates over Texas' 38 delegates to the GOP national convention held the political stage center Monday.

Veteran Finance Committeeman Marra McLean of San Antonio, a backer of Senator Robert Taft, said the Republicans were only carrying out their responsibilities at Mineral Wells when they seated pro-Taft delegates.

Former U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, who says he is a candidate for President himself, charged in his regular Sunday afternoon radio address that "New Dealers are trying to see to it that Eisenhower gets the Republican nomination."

O'Daniel, one-time hill-billy fiddle band politician who climbed to the governorship and the senate via barnstorming musical tours and radio, did not elaborate on his statement.

Wants Truth Facts
In a Detroit press conference, General Eisenhower, who comes to Texas this weekend, called for the "truth and the facts" about the choice of disputed GOP delegates in Texas.

Labelling himself a "No-Deal" candidate, Eisenhower was asked if he was backing up charges by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, that Taft supporters tried to "steal" the 38 Texas delegates.

He said all he knew about it was what he read in the papers.

But he said that if the Republicans "are going to talk about clean-cut administration" of the government "they must make certain that the operation of government machinery is clean." He said that extended to primaries and political conventions.

Taft said in Washington that the newspapers and Time Magazine "grossly and deliberately" misrepresented the situation in Texas.

The Ohio senator—rarely ill-tempered—thumped a table with his fist as he made the charge.

Last Time For Taft
The Ohio Senator, who said during the day he would never run for President again if he struck out this time, told reporters he didn't have all the facts but he does know there was "a definite effort by the Democrats to swamp the primary convention."

The thing to do, Taft said, is to look at the facts. If it turns out that it was Republicans who voted in a district primary, Taft said, then let Eisenhower have the delegate.

Joining the delegate fuss, McLean disputed charges that the GOP state convention at Mineral Wells was conducted improperly.

"This picture of dishonesty on the part of the Taft forces in Texas is definitely and positively not true," McLean said. "It has been handed to the people of the United States and Texas continuously and emphatically by refusal of press associations and many papers in Texas to let the public know facts that would show the Eisenhower forces are the would-be thieves who didn't get away with what they undertook to do."

"Eisenhower backers tried to control the Republican precinct meetings and county conventions in Texas with Democrat voters who had no right in the Republican precinct meetings."

Four Outstanding Newcomers Thumbnailed For Movie Fans

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — New stars are rising to shine from the nation's movie screens. Here are thumbnailed four of the outstanding newcomers.

SUZANNE CLOUTIER: Lana Turner was discovered on a Hollywood drug store stool and French-Canadian Suzanne Cloutier was discovered by a model agent sitting at a lunch counter in New York's Grand Central Station. Then movie makers discovered her on the cover of Vogue magazine.

She has starred in four European-made films—"The Sinners," "Othello," in which she plays Desdemona, "Derby Day," an English comedy with Michael Wilding and Anna Neagle.

Now it's a Hollywood career at Paramount for Suzanne, the only daughter of a high foreign government official to be signed to a Hollywood film contract, other than Sarah Churchill. Her father is Edmund Cloutier, the Queen's Printer in Canada.

If there's a revival of the old song hit, "Five-Foot Two," Suzanne can take the boss. She's five-foot two with—yes—eyes of blue.

Gun-Shy "Soldier"
NEVILLE BRAND The nation's fourth most decorated soldier of World War II, who reaches star magnitude in the film version of "Stalag 17," after playing featured roles in eight movies.

Bug, husky and tough, Neville became an actor to forget his harrowing war experiences from 1939

Suzanne Cloutier

Rosemary Clooney

My House" put Rosemary's name in bright lights. But she still blushes about the William Saroyan novelty number which became the nation's top tune in 1951.

Rosemary says: "I didn't want to record the song. I didn't think it would be a hit."

Full Steam Ahead
JACK KELLY: Brother of actress Nancy Kelly, with a "full-steam-ahead" sticker on his file in U.S.'s young talent bank. He began his career as a child in New York, modeling for clean face soap ads and playing kiddie roles in Broadway plays.

When he reached the leading man age, he came to Hollywood "cold," as he puts it, and landed a small part in RKO's "Where Danger Lives." U's "Bronco Buster" and "Red Ball Express" are meatier acting assignments.

"I don't like to be referred to as Nancy's brother," Jack growls. "I want to stand on my own name."

RICHARD EGAN: Three years in the school of drama at Stanford University won Richard an MA degree in theater history and dramatic literature and a chance in Hollywood. Now he believes that dramatic training can sometimes be a handicap to screen success.

"It's more important for a young actor to project his personality onto the screen than to act."

Dick's big break came as Bob Mitchum's executive officer in "One Minute to Zero." And now Edmund O'Rourke, who produced the film, is saying:

"Egan has the quality to be either a hero or a heavy on the screen—the combination that made stars of Clark Gable, Vic Mature, Kirk Douglas and Bob Ryan."

Television Program Dedicated To Youth Doomed By Cancer

CHELSEA, OKLA. — (AP) — A 13-year-old cancer victim who isn't aware that doctors have given him only three weeks to live is waiting to watch an hour-long television program Monday night dedicated to him.

Bobby Shaw, amazed by all the publicity and gifts he has received, has told his mother continually: "I don't deserve it. I'm not good enough for someone to do all this for me."

But Mrs. Earl Shaw says she tells him Bobby he's been a good boy who has had a tough time of it, and everyone is trying to help him get well soon.

Bobby is expected to slip into a coma in about three weeks and never recover. He has had three operations in a Tulsa hospital but doctors finally have given up hope.

Stations Join Forces
Television station KOTV at Tulsa and the Tulsa World joined forces to put on the big show for Bobby at 11:30 p.m. (EST). A large cast of entertainers and well-wishers will be headed by Gov. Johnson Murray who, by letter, will make him an honorary commodore in Oklahoma's mythical navy.

Bobby's father has returned from California to be with his son during the last weeks.

"He's so appreciative," said Mrs. Shaw. "He came home from the hospital the last time June 6 and started crying when he saw a brand new television set which friends had bought for him. He didn't think he deserved it. Since then he has become an avid television fan."

Special Arrangement
Newspaper articles describing Bobby's plight have been kept from him. By special arrangement, captions on pictures do not mention that the youngster is doomed, and these are shown to him.

Radio stations here have agreed not to broadcast the story.

The Shaw television set will be turned off at the start of the program. Mrs. Shaw will be in telephone contact with the station. During the first five minutes of the show the announcer will tell the audience what has happened.

After that, Mrs. Shaw will turn her set on and no one will mention again that Bobby will not recover.

"They'll just say he's a good kid who has had a rough time of it," said Program Director Don Thompson.

Allied Infantrymen Smash Red Thrust; Three MIG's Felled

SEOUL, KOREA — (AP) — Infantrymen of the U. S. 48th Division Monday smashed an artillery-supported Chinese attack on a hill formation on the Western Front. The five-day-old battle has cost the Reds more than 1,000 casualties.

The reinforced Americans knocked back about 750 Chinese in a bitter, seven-hour scrap. The Reds' objective was the bottom part of a T-shaped hill west of Chorwon. U. S. troops hold three knobs of the hill.

Fighting also continued at a stepped-up pace at other friction spots on the 185-mile front. There were brief clashes Sunday near Panmunjom, Korango and Yonchon in the West; around Kumhwa Kimsong and the Pukhan River in the center, and near the Punch Bowl in the East.

New Ace Emerges
U. S. Eighth Army staff officers have offered no explanation of the stepped-up fighting, the toughest of the year.

American Sabre jet pilots reported three Communist jets destroyed and one damaged in two fights Sunday south of the Manchurian border.

Second Lt. James Low of Sausalito, Calif., only six months out of pilot school, shot down one and became America's seventeenth jet ace with a total of five MIG kills. He has been in Korea only six weeks.

Boy Falls 1,500 Feet Down Cliff Without Breaking Single Bone

LAKE ARROWHEAD, CALIF. — (AP) — A 10-year-old boy who tumbled down a 1,500-foot cliff and didn't break a bone was recovering Monday.

Attendants at Santa Anita Hospital said Kenneth Wright, Jr., suffered a concussion, cuts and bruises and possible internal injuries in his fall Sunday but is expected to be all right.

Kenneth, of Compton, Calif., was playing atop the cliff with two companions when he slipped. His playmates, Ralph and Gary Sangster, said he dropped 300 feet virtually straight down, landing on an almost vertical rockslide more than 1,000 feet long.

He rolled and tumbled down the slide then took another drop and roll before catching the foot of the cliff.

Patty Berg, Louise Suggs Favored In Women's Western

CHICAGO — (AP) — Young amateurs were conceded a fair chance to give the nation's top women golf professionals a run for the title, if not for the money, in the 32nd annual Women's Western Open.

The tourney, won the last 13 years by pros, started Monday at suburban Skokie Country Club with a field of 125 entered.

Patty Berg, sturdy redhead from Minneapolis, was after her fifth Western title.

If Patty stumbles, experts looked to Louise Suggs, three-time champion, as the next best bet, with Betty Rawls, recent winner of the $5,000 Westermans Tourney, regarded as dangerous.

BITERS BOAST ATOMIC STING

SANIBEL ISLAND, FLA. — (AP) — Biologists planned to recast more than one and one-half million mosquitoes here Monday.

It's part of an experiment to study the range and habits of the aedes taeniorhynchus, the notorious biter from the coastal marshes, according to Dr. Maurice Provost.

"They've been made radioactive by a soluble uranium by-product and biologists hope they'll wind up in traps set from Everglades, 40 miles south, through Alva, 41 miles east, to Punta Gorda, 41 miles north."

Taft, Kefauver Slug It Out In Red-Hot Television Interview

WASHINGTON — (AP) — If it should be Taft of Ohio vs. Kefauver of Tennessee in the main presidential bout, you can look for a free-swinging battle right up to the knockout.

The two senators staged a glove-off demonstration of this on television Sunday night. When it ended, the peripatetic Taft called it the hottest broadcast of the year—and apparently he wasn't talking about the weather.

"Shut!" Republican Taft cried at one point.

"Then I'll take it back," Democrat Kefauver offered.

This easily was the greatest display of senatorial courtesy that occurred as the legislators—each leading his party in the number of convention delegates—debated foreign policy and a slate full of other issues on "American Forum of the Air."

Once Kefauver called Taft an isolationist.

"Oh, no! no!" the Ohioan objected.

Again, Kefauver—who gained fame as a televised crime-proper—said it's necessary to weed out racketeers and fixers at all levels.

"Senator Kefauver and I seem to agree," Taft interjected, "that we ought to throw the Administration out on the issue of dishonesty."

The series of barbed exchanges wound up a busy day for both candidates.

Two Sunday Fires Bring No Damage

Suspect Held In Shooting At Andrews

ANDREWS — J. M. Daily, Jr., 28, was returned here Monday to face a charge of murder after a widespread search resulted in his arrest at 4 a.m. Sunday in Liberal, Kan.

He had been sought since June 11 after Ethel Adams, 21, died in an Andrews hospital from a shotgun wound which two witnesses said was inflicted by Daily. Both resided in Andrews.

Sheriff Floyd Paddock and Chief Deputy John Suggs left for Kansas as soon as they were notified of the arrest to return the suspect to face the charge, which Deputy Sheriff Ray Phillips said was filed Monday.

Daily at first was believed bound for his former home in Arkansas. He was accompanied by his wife and three-year-old daughter. They were with him at the time of his arrest by Liberal peace officers.

The two witnesses, G. W. Harper and Lloyd Roberts, both of Andrews, said the shooting occurred in front of Daily's home. Adams was shot in the groin and died 12 hours later in a hospital. They said they left Daily at the scene as they drove to the hospital for aid.

Cure, Treatment Of Rare Muscle Disease Improved

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Myasthenia gravis is a rather uncommon disease. Its cause still is unknown but its treatment, if not cure, has been improved upon enormously. It is generally evidenced by a combination of fatigue, weakness and frequently wasting of muscles, particularly those in the upper part of the body.

Although the disease does not act upon any two patients exactly alike, a vivid description was given by an anonymous patient a few years ago in a British medical journal.

The patient was 18 years old in 1925. She first noticed seeing double and felt fatigued. After several months of this, while she was ironing a dress, she suddenly found that she could not hold up her head, which kept drooping forward.

Soon thereafter her knees started giving way underneath her at odd times and her eyelids would droop as soon as she became the least bit tired.

She became weaker and weaker. Many drugs were tried and many doctors consulted without any real improvement. This went on for 10 years, and as she said, "I had no real hope of recovery, but I eventually became resigned to my fate."

Ten years after the first symptoms began, the patient's fiancé, who was a medical student, told her that he had something new for her to try. Her first thought, she said, "Oh bother! Another injection and another false hope."

"I submitted to the injection," she said, "and within a few minutes began to feel very strange. When I tried my arms, exerting the effort which I had become accustomed, they shot into the air. My upper eyelids were strangely attracted (pulled up), and every movement I attempted was grotesquely magnified until I had learned to make less exertion."

"I had simply regained relatively normal strength—it was strange, wonderful, and at first very frightening."

The drug was neostigmine which the patient continued to take almost every day for the next 14 years.

Drug Offers Relief

In the summer of 1937 the patient married her medical fiancé. With an additional drug started in 1940, she became so well that in 1942 she began work in a tank factory.

"During my three years at a bench in the view room," she said, "I often was picked out by the foreman for a heavy job, on the grounds that I was 'one of the tough ones.'"

Although myasthenia gravis does not always respond as well as this, the medicine which this patient took, together with others, is offering a great measure of relief to many sufferers from this curious disorder.

Some Things Wives Can Do To Boost Their Husbands' Egos

Things a husband may not tell a wife, but which every woman ought to know:

That having a well-kept, attractive home is important to a man. Next to his work that's his most important way of saying to the world: "I'm somebody."

That his wife's appearance is always important to him. And that doesn't mean just when they're going to a party. She is always his wife and therefore always his representation, even if she is just doing the family marketing. (Wives who do their shopping at the nearest community center in blue jeans or shorts certainly fail to realize that fact.)

That he prefers to be treated as a man and not as a husband when the two are together in public. That means that he is "Jim" not "Darling."

And at the other extreme he prefers that his wife gives him a build-up, rather than tearing him down.

That he doesn't want to be reminded all the time about how hard his wife works. That makes him feel like a failure, for it always implies that her lot is harder than that of other women.

That he likes to be consulted on important family matters BEFORE his wife makes up her mind about what is going to be done—not afterward. You can't keep a man feeling that he is the real head of the family if you just make a pretense of talking things over with him and asking his advice.

That he loves being catered to a little at home. That may be his only chance of being made to feel that he really is a pretty important guy.

That he hates useless or long drawn-out discussions of unpleasant topics or situations. Women derive a sort of pleasure from such discussions, but most men hate them like poison.

That he hates being questioned about why he is late getting home to dinner. No matter how legitimate his excuse may be, he prefers to mention it casually himself, rather than having to offer his explanation like an apology. That makes him feel henpecked, and no man likes to feel henpecked, even if he is too henpecked to say so. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

Anti-Inflation Scramble

Evidently we are on our way out of a period of fairly rigid economic controls, and responsible leaders both in Congress and the business world sketch out plans that would promote continuance of this trend without opening the door to ruinous inflation.

The Senate compromised with the "no controls" forces and voted an extension of the government machinery until March 1, 1953. They were helped in this action by the fact that the Administration voluntarily had undertaken so many de-control measures.

At this juncture the Committee for Economic Development, an enlightened business research group whose tone was set by Paul Hoffman, now a top adviser to General Eisenhower, has come up with a set of carefully worked-out proposals.

The CED recommends Dec. 31, 1952, as the expiration date for controls authority. There seems to be no great reason why this earlier date should not prevail, provided that another CED plan be adopted by Congress as a safeguard.

That plan calls upon Congress to approve a joint resolution authorizing the President to impose a 90-day freeze of wages and prices whenever a sudden new inflationary crisis should arise.

While the CED's suggested earlier expiration date makes its program more conservative than the Senate's, the stop-gap emergency freeze proposal goes beyond congressional thinking at this moment.

The important thing, apparently, is to have a veritable arsenal of anti-inflation weapons handy, but not to be trigger-happy.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY. Written for NEA Service. "Please clear up a bidding question for us," requests a Birmingham correspondent. "Should North raise to two no-trump on such a miserable hand?"

Bridge score table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH (D) and various card counts.

finest, but it lost to the king and a spade came back at me. West eventually got in with the ace of hearts to set me with the rest of the spades.

"If it is correct for North to raise to two no-trump, is there anything wrong with the South bidding? If nothing is wrong, was the hand just unlucky?"

The bidding was absolutely perfect by all expert standards. North has a very sound raise to two no-trump and South was right to open with one no-trump and also to go on to game at three no-trump.

Sometimes a hand is unlucky, and the contract is defeated even though it should be bid. This is not such a hand. It was correct to bid the game, and the contract should have been made.

After winning the first trick with the queen of spades, South should not take the diamond finesse. The correct play is to knock out the ace of hearts at once. If West refuses the first heart trick, South must lead a second heart.

Assuming West takes the first or second heart South must then hold up his ace of spades until the third round of that suit. Only after these plays have been made is it safe for South to take the diamond finesse.

Note that when East finally does win a trick with his king of diamonds he has no spades and his partner's ace of hearts has already been knocked out. He cannot get to the West hand, and the contract is therefore easily fulfilled.

The principle involved is that you must knock out the sure entry of the dangerous opponent before you play a suit in which that opponent has no entry. In this case the sure entry was the ace of hearts.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: East South West North 1 Heart ? You, South, hold: Spades K-5, Hearts K-Q-8, Diamonds A-J-4-7, Clubs A-Q-J-6. What do you do?

A—Double. If North responds with one spade, you will then bid one no-trump. If North responds with two of either minor suit, you will then bid two no-trump. The combination of the double and the Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss. THE STORY: Rosemary Curtis died murder instead of vacation relaxation in the Sierras. Mrs. Orde, wife of a college professor, has been stabbed, then her body mysteriously disappears. In talking to Professor Orde, Rosemary learned that on the ridge just above the vacation resort a lion hid some money left behind by immigrants. So far it has never been unearthed.

WHEN they returned the officers wrote endlessly in little notebooks, asked unending and apparently futile questions and noted all answers in writing.

Their questions came to no point. Oddly enough, and as if by a pre-arranged plan, no one mentioned the story of the buried treasure, of Elsie Martinson, and that apparently all the persons at Gold Lake were there for a single purpose.

There was, indeed, a mystery within a mystery. And I, it seemed, must either stay and play a dangerous and ungracious part in the story or take my life in my hands by driving a skidding car over impassable roads perhaps into the dark lake that lay below the cliffs.

Professor Orde returned after a half-hour and announced that he followed the echoes of footsteps to the lake but had caught no one.

I slipped into my coat and gloves and, approaching the sheriff, I said, "I have decided that I would like to leave, Sheriff. I shall go on to Tahoe..."

The sheriff grinned as he continued to pick his teeth carefully, with a splinter of wood. "Well, somebody's leaving here. Least of all, you. Why, it's you that you want mostly."

Most everyone slept a little as the night wore on. About dawn the sheriff awakened and went to the kitchen with Rumba, Dick, Bob, and Jeff to prepare breakfast.

Sergeant Duncan left his post at the door and went outside to stand by the window that had been shattered by the bullet. I followed him. He looked for tracks or evidence but the beating rain had made the large, broad tracks so red and

WASHINGTON COLUMN

GOP's 1950 Policy Statement Contains Eisenhower's Stand

By PETER EDSON. NEA Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON—Dwight Eisenhower says that "so far as principles are concerned" he is "in general accord" with the Republican policy statement of February, 1950.

This brings up the matter of how that statement was put together, and what's in it. This is the best way to get a condensed version of what Mr. Other Republican stands for, now a subject of endless controversy.

The idea for this 1950 GOP policy statement originated with General Eisenhower himself, in September, 1949. Eisenhower was then president of Columbia University.

He telephoned Republican National Committee Chairman Guy George Gabrielson, saying, "I hope the Republicans now will develop party principles so that even a person as dumb as I am will be able to tell the difference between the Republican and Democratic Parties."

Senator Robert A. Taft immediately took a crack at that one. In a speech at West Union, Ohio, Taft said, "I read in a newspaper that General Eisenhower wants to know what the Republican Party stands for. That's easy. The Republican Party is opposed to controls by the federal government over the activities of the American people."

"We have sought to equalize labor-management relations. We have opposed universal military training. We have opposed socialized medicine. We are against the Brannan farm plan. . . . We are against the Fair Deal program which can only result in setting up in this country a Labor-Socialist government, which has failed in England."

In spite of this brush-off, Chairman Gabrielson proceeded to make the drafting of a 1950 campaign statement of principles his first order of business. He wanted a group made up of members of the National committee and the Senate and House Republican Policy Committees to do the drafting.

Senator Taft informed Gabrielson he was flatly opposed to the whole idea of drafting a new statement of party policy. Taft refused to name a subcommittee of senators for Gabrielson.

Chairman Gabrielson then decided to go ahead on his own. He named a 15-member committee of state leaders to draw up a mid-term platform. On it were such Republicans as Clarence Boddington Kelland of Arizona, Harrison Spangler of Iowa, Ralph Clark of Oregon, McIntyre Farley of California, Arthur Summerfield of Michigan and Mrs. F. Weaver Hoffelinger of Minnesota.

They produced a draft early in January. And when Senator Taft and House Republican Leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts saw that Gabrielson was going ahead with his project, they decided to name independent committees to make other drafts.

So-trump bid shows a hand that was too strong for an immediate bid of one no-trump over one heart. TODAY'S QUESTION: The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades 7-2, Hearts K-Q-9-8-4, Diamonds K-8-3, Clubs A-J-5. What do you do? Answer Tomorrow

64 TIMES A FATHER. CAIRO, EGYPT (AP)—The newspaper Al Akhbar reported Monday that Saad Arabia's King Ibn Saud, 75, has become a father for the sixty-fourth time.

Friends drop by for an evening and though they have never expressed any interest in home movies, you have some new ones of your children you would like to show them.

WRONG: Spend the evening showing home movies. RIGHT: Realize that home movies of children are rarely appreciated by anyone but the family—and save your home movies for family nights.

TOGETHER he and I, with Sue following, walked across the meadow to the barn. The James car was there as were the several other motors of the others at the lodge. The horses that the officers and the sheriff had ridden were at their stalls, comfortably nibbling hay. A fourth horse was muddled, and showed every sign of having been hard ridden. I saw that Duncan looked at him closely and measured the length of the stirrup strap of a saddle on the floor.

But my car was gone! "You wouldn't kid me, would you?" Duncan inquired a bit sarcastically as he watched me closely in the unmerciful light of the new day.

"No, I wouldn't. The fact is, I was let in for something when I came to this horrible place. I want to get out!"

Because it had been such a bad night and because I seemed hedged about with damaging evidence of which I was innocent and knew nothing, I burst into hysterical weeping. And in between the sobs that relieved my nerves and racked my body, I told Sergeant Duncan the story of the treasure.

He listened quietly and gave me his very clean handkerchief with which to mop up my hysterics. When I gasped had myself in hand, he said to me in a matter-of-fact tone as he watched me closely to see the effect of his words, "Sure you didn't murder your own sister?"

I gasped, "I have no sister!" "No? Well, you used to have before she died of a bullet hole through her head. She had some red hair and blue eyes."

Marine Hitchhiker Held Without Bond In Slaying

BEAUMONT—(P)—A young marine who told officers he shot a motorist who gave him a lift and left the man to die in a ditch was held without bond Monday.

Vincent Paul Pavlik, 19, of Bridgeport, Conn., was charged Sunday with murder in the slaying of S. Mason Jones, 37, of Leesville, La. Jones' body was found about midnight in a ditch near Beaumont.

Pavlik was arrested in Houston by officers who became suspicious when he showed them Jones' driver's license for identification. The license was driving Jones' car.

A statement admitting the slaying was signed by Pavlik, who offered to take the police to the scene of the shooting.

Pavlik told Sheriff Buster Kern of Harris County that Jones stopped the car and got out and walked into a ditch.

"He was standing with his back to the car," Pavlik said. Then, I took the pistol and shot him twice.

"Then I got out and shot him again as he lay in the ditch."

"Did he say anything to you while you were shooting him?" Kern asked.

"Naw."

"Do you mean to tell me that the man said absolutely nothing to you?"

"Oh, yeah," Pavlik said, "he did beg me not to shoot him again while he was laying in the ditch just before I shot him the last time."

Pavlik said he dropped the gun in his pocket, took Jones' wallet which contained $37 and drove off. The youth told officers he has been absent without leave from Camp LeJeune, N. C., since March 10.

Japanese Woman Denies Message On Russian Treaty

TOKYO—(P)—The newspaper Yomiuri Monday said Mrs. Tomi Kora had denied sending a message from Hong Kong which said Russia would repatriate 100,000 Japanese prisoners of World War II if Japan would conclude a separate peace treaty with Russia.

The message disowned by Mrs. Kora created a sensation in Japan on June 9. It was addressed to Komakichi Matsuoka, a member of the right wing Socialist Party.

Mrs. Kora's denial was received by Yomiuri Sunday night in reply to an inquiry. She said that on June 9 she was with a party, heading toward Kankow by plane.

Mrs. Kora, a member of the upper house of Parliament, entered Russia in April without Japanese government permit. She was the only Japanese to attend the Russian-sponsored International Economic Conference in Moscow.

Hot Weather Responsible For Four Deaths In Texas

By The Associated Press

Hot weather and efforts to escape it cost at least four of 10 lives lost in violent manners over Texas during the weekend.

A 40-year-old Mexican bracer, Jarramillo Olmos, died Sunday night in Pecos from heat stroke suffered in 107-degree heat while chopping cotton on the R. D. Whittington farm. Whittington saw the man fall and brought him to Pecos, where a doctor pronounced him dead.

Three persons drowned as they sought relief from the heat.

Robert Banks, 34, drowned in a lake in Balmorea State Park, 40 miles south of Pecos, Saturday. Efforts to revive Banks failed after his body was found floating. The body was sent to Snyder for burial.

Charles Hankins, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hankins of Bowie, died in Lake Bridgeport while swimming Sunday.

Robert L. Huff, 37, Galveston, drowned after he fell in deep water while crabbing in the Gulf Saturday.

Heroic Daughter, Aged Mother Die When Home Burns

BEDFORD, PA.—(P)—A 48-year-old woman's heroic effort to save her 82-year-old mother from fire cost her own life as both women died Sunday in flames which destroyed their home at nearby Six-Mile Run.

The victims were Mrs. Daniel McKnight, the mother, and Ada McKnight, the daughter.

Fire broke out in the six room, frame house about 4 a.m. All members of the household had reached safety when the daughter discovered the older woman was not outside.

Miss McKnight ran inside, helped her mother out of her room and down the stairway, where both were trapped.

Egyptian Dancer's Mother-In-Law Dies

HOUSTON—(P)—Mrs. Bonner King, 52, whose son married an Egyptian dancer, died Sunday.

The son, Sheppard King III, took the Moslem name of Abdullah to wed the dancer, Samia Gamal.

Her son's courtship of the beautiful Samia attracted wide interest in the United States and abroad.

At one time, Mrs. King opposed the romance and threatened to disinherit her son but forgave him when he returned from Cairo with his bride.

Other survivors include a daughter, Patricia, Bonner King, a sister, Mrs. George Howard, and a grandson, Sheppard King IV.

Mrs. King was a native of Houston.

The funeral was to be held Monday.

UN Charges Reds Direct POW Riots

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—The senior United Nations truce negotiator Monday charged the Communists with responsibility for Red prisoner of war riots and for continuing "a bloody and profitless war."

Mr. Gen. William K. Harrison accused the Red delegates at a fruitless, 22-minute session of directing "your captured personnel at Koje Island to endanger their lives to further your nefarious schemes."

Hundreds of captured Reds have been killed or wounded on Koje in Communist-led riots.

The key issue blocking a truce is the UN stand that no prisoner be forcibly repatriated. Only 70,000 of 169,000 captured Reds have expressed willingness to return to Red rule.

Harrison said refusal of the Reds to accept this stand was intolerable. He added:

"You must realize that you are choosing between an honorable armistice and the continuation of a bloody and profitless conflict."

North Korean Gen. Nam II replied in stiffened tones. He accused the UN of "incessant atrocities" and "slaughtering" of war prisoners. It was the first time in five days he had repeated these charges.

Nam brushed aside Harrison's suggestion that a recess be held to give the Reds "time to reconsider your unteachable decision." Nam II said he wanted to meet again Tuesday.

ITS ENGINE ADDS MUSCLE TO EVERY DROP OF GAS!

To many owners, the mighty 180 H.P. V-8 engine that powers the Chrysler New Yorker is the most remarkable feature of this remarkable car. It is certainly the most discussed automobile engine in many, many years.

This is the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers . . . the engine that gets more power out of every drop of gas. And non-premium gas at that!

Actually, it puts you in control of more power than you'll probably ever need use. You'll sense this . . . together with its unequalled response . . . the very first yards you drive. It runs smoother, more quietly, and with less wear than any other engine ever built into an American automobile.

... and it makes driving (both cruising and the short runs) more fun than you have ever known it to be!

But that's not all. Along with this engine there are scores of other reasons, too, for driving a New Yorker before resolving on any new car. Like Full-time Power Steering that makes steering five times easier . . . and your control five times greater . . . than in ordinary cars. Like Power Brakes that cut needed pedal pressure by as much as two-thirds.

Like Oriflow shock absorbers that make even bad roads feel "newly paved" . . . restful chair-high seats . . . big, wide-opening doors . . . big windows that let you see more.

It's true . . . until you drive a Chrysler New Yorker you won't know what you're missing. Why not stop in today?

Daddy Ringtail And Big Dog Bark

Toowit Toowoo is the wise old owl who came from China, because he thought that China would be a very happy place to come from. Toowit Toowoo was now the teacher at the school for the animal-children in the Great Forest. Yes, and happy day, because now was the afternoon for the school picnic, way up on the Whispering River.

All was fine as fine could be, except—oh, oh, someone had forgotten to bring the sugar to sweeten the lemonade. No one wants to drink lemonade that isn't sweet, I guess, if sweet lemonade is the kind that everyone wants, and so what oh what to do?

"I know!" said Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy. "I will hurry back to the monkey house, and get some sugar, and bring us some."

"Very well," said Toowit Toowoo in his wise and kind old voice. "Just be careful of one of the dogs who meet along the way."

"Sure," said Mugwump, "but which dog is it? I ought to be careful about?"

By WESLEY DAVIS

Toowit Toowoo smiled to hear the question, but he wouldn't say which dog it was that Mugwump ought to be careful about, if he met a dog along the way. Toowit Toowoo was wanting Mugwump to decide for himself, so Mugwump could learn to be smart.

And so Mugwump started on his way, and sure enough, before long, from behind a bush that grew by the Elephant Path, out jumped a great big dog. Was this the dog that Mugwump ought to be careful about? While Mugwump was trying to decide, the great big dog began to bark. Now Mugwump knew! Oh yes he did. He decided that the great big dog who barked was not the dog he ought to be careful about.

No, because there came a little dog who wasn't barking at all. The dog was not barking a warning. Instead he walked right up to try to take a bit of Mugwump's hat. Why, the little dog opened wide to do it, look out!

The air, and you indeed, big dog bark and little dog bite you if he can, but this one couldn't. Mugwump was careful to run away fast. When he came back with the sugar for the picnic, the dogs had gone away. Happy day.

Lowly Vernon Slaps Down Midland, 5-2

Duster Uprising In Third Inning Tells Sad Story

VERNON—(P)—A four-run outburst in the third inning here Sunday afternoon sparked the Vernon Dusters to a 5-2 victory over the Midland Indians in the first of a three-game series.

Jesus Sosa went the distance for Vernon, spacing out nine hits to the Indians. Only one Tribesman collected an extra-base blow and that was a triple by Earl Bossenberry, in the first inning.

TRASPUESTO IS SUSPENDED

NBA Selects Midland As Site For Non-Pro Baseball Tournament

WICHITA, KAN.—The National Baseball Congress Monday announced the issuing of a franchise for sanctioned district baseball tournament for non-professional clubs in Midland, starting July 1.

John H. Lomas of Midland was named district commissioner to supervise the event, his appointment having been approved by Jerry Fells of Dallas, NBC Texas state commissioner.

Braves Fight Back; Overtake Colts, 8-4

SAN ANGELO—(P)—A late-game surge carried the Sweetwater Braves from behind to an 8-4 victory here Sunday afternoon.

Trailing 2-1 going into the top of the eighth, the Braves showed across four runs in this inning and added three more in the ninth to retain their third-place standing in Longhorn League.

Four Sweetwater pitchers issued a total of 17 walks but were tight in the pinches, stranding 15 Colts on the bases.

Colt starter Perry Ellis, the loser, and Gil Grajeda, who relieved Swatter starter Jon Miller in the first inning, hooked up in a tight pitcher's duel through seven innings.

Ellis, obviously tired, weakened in the intense heat in the eighth frame when the Braves put together three singles, a walk and squeeze bunt for four runs.

Bronc Rally Falls Short; Rockets Win

ROSWELL—(P)—The Big Spring Broncs rallied for two runs in the ninth inning, but fell one marker short of tying it up as they bowed to the Roswell Rockets, 6-5, here Sunday night.

Five pitchers saw duty in the game, three for Big Spring and a pair of elbow benders working on the mound for the Rockets. The starters, however, took credit for the win and loss. Rookie Gary Young, pitching six innings, won his fifth game against only one defeat. Bert Baer was the loser.

Enrique Gonzales led off with a single in Big Spring's ninth. After Ozzie Alvarez had grounded out and pushed Gonzales to second, Witty Quintana rattled the boards in left field with a double to plate Gonzales. Pat Stacey grounded out before Al Valdes lined a single to left to score Quintana for the second run of the inning. Juan Vistuer then grounded out to choke off the desperate rally and end the game.

The score: R H E
Big Spring 002 010 002—5 12 3
Roswell 001 320 004—6 9 1
Baer, Estrada, Corrales, and Valdes; Young, Peterson and Feneion.

Nothing, however, matched the St. Louis Cardinals' feat of overcoming the Giants' 11-0 lead to win, 14-12.

The proud Polo Grounds gained a split by winning the second game, 3-0. But oh, what a first game! Leading 11-0 after four innings with ace Sal Maglie on the mound and losing the game? The Giants still can't believe it.

The Redbirds, held runless for four innings, routed Maglie with a seven-run fifth, climaxed by Eno's Slaughter's three-run homer. Three more runs off Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh cut the Giants margin to one run. Solly Hemus' leadoff homer off George Spencer in the eighth tied the score 11-11, and Slaughter's single off loser Max Lanier in the same inning finally put the Cards in front, 12-11. Another homer by Hemus with one on in the ninth offset a Giant score in their half of the last frame.

The Yankees opened up a game and a half lead in the American, and a half lead in the National, by thrashing the Indians twice, 8-2 and 4-1. Ed Lopat coasted to the first game victory, Bob Kuzava, making his first start, won the

Maglie Blows 11-Run Lead To Cards; Yanks Win Pair

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer
Imagine a big league baseball team dissipating an 11-0 lead? Sounds incredible, doesn't it?

It happened, though. No later than Sunday and by none other than the National League Champion New York Giants.

Sunday produced lots of excitement as the New York Yankees increased their first place lead in the American League with two victories over the Cleveland Indians, the Boston Braves chilled the red-hot Chicago Cubs with a double defeat and the Cincinnati Reds won their first game of the season from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Nothing, however, matched the St. Louis Cardinals' feat of overcoming the Giants' 11-0 lead to win, 14-12.

Odessa's Joe Childress Is Olympic Hope

CHICAGO—(P)—A Texan is among six schoolboy athletes who were eyed Monday as Olympic track prospects.

He is Joe Childress of Odessa, one of three current highly-regarded prep sprinters. The others are Herb Turner of Alameda, Calif., and Art Pollard of Olatheville, Pa.

The trio, by qualifying in the National AAU meet, June 20-21, and Olympic final trials, June 27-28, might taste the international glory that has gone to past prep stars.

The other three prospects, who are hurdlers, are Bill Curtis of Waukegan, Okla.; Eddie Robert of Sweetwater, Okla., and Milton Campbell of Plainfield, N. J.

Childress and Turner have speed the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds. Pollard has done the 220 in 21 seconds even and Childress in 21.1.

Curtis has made the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.3, which better the 14.8 with which George Salting of the U. S. won the Olympic title in 1932. Robert has sped the 200-meter low in 23.2. Campbell ran the 110-meter hurdles in 14.5 in London recently while touring with an AAU squad.

Odessa Wins 1-AAAA All-Sports Trophy

AMARILLO—(P)—Odessa High School capped the first annual Amarillo News-Globe District I-AAAA All-Sports Trophy, Sports Writer Puff Powell has announced.

The Broncos compiled 33 points to top the Amarillo Sandies by one-half point during the 1951-52 school year.

Abilene was third with 29 1/2, followed by Lubbock with 24. Borger had 17 1/2, Pampa 17, and San Angelo 12.

A first place in any sport counted seven points, second place six, third place five, fourth place four, and fifth place three points.

Odessa led in golf, track and tennis. The Broncos placed third in football, fourth in baseball and fifth in basketball.

Howie Pollet hurled the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates to a five-hit, 6-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies but Howie Fox came back to throttle the Pirates, 6-4, on four hits in the nightcap.

Browns, White Sox Exchange Players
ST LOUIS—(P)—The St. Louis Browns announced Sunday they have traded Third Baseman Leo Thomas and Outfielder Tom Wright to the Chicago White Sox.

In return, Browns' Owner Bill Veeck said, St. Louis received Outfielder Al Zarilla and Infielder Willie Miranda.

It was a straight player deal—no cash, Veeck added.

Midland High School Coach Thurmon L. (Tugboat) Jones will be at Hotel Scharbauer this week to talk to boys or parents of boys who are interested in attending a session of the Hidden Valley Boy's Camp between Breckendridge and Dillon, Colo.

For boys who want to spend a while enjoying outdoor life at its best, the trip would be an ideal one. Coach Jones can be contacted by calling the desk at Hotel Scharbauer for his room number.

Hal Sayles, president of the Longhorn Loop, has moved wisely in suspending Sweetwater catcher, Tony Traspuesto, for his actions in the Midland-Sweetwater game here Saturday night.

Traspuesto was suspended for hurrying spectators at the crowd which had been heckling him. Actually, it was the second night he had used vulgar language, but in Friday night's game, the umpire was not close enough to hear the remarks. However, they could be heard plainly all the way up in the press box.

Such obscenities could degrade the sport of baseball if they were allowed to persist.

We would understand a man flying off the handle one night, but to hear the same remark two nights in a row is inexcusable.

Big Spring Manager Pat Stacey has called Midland hurler Keith Nicolls a Class C hurler with a major league change-up pitch.

"He throws just the same when he changes up as he does when he uncorks a fast ball," said Stacey.

Incidentally, Frank Bridges, the Detroit scout who viewed a game here recently, called Stacey "the looney man he'd ever seen at the plate."

"It's pretty hard to catch that old boy off guard with any kind of a pitch," opined Bridges.

More about Stacey: When Witty Quintana was hurt early in the season, Pat said, just before the Broncs dropped a pair of games to Midland, "We sure miss that boy; he's a spark plug for the team."

It's now easy for us to see just what Stacey meant. Quintana is fast, has a good throwing arm and is really slugging the ball at this stage of the game.

He got three hits in five trips Sunday in the Broncs losing cause.

The Broncs manager has a philosophy about how to work pitchers that a good many other managers in the loop could well heed.

He says, "When a pitcher is pitching good ball for me, I'm gonna be sure that he gets plenty of rest between appearances on the mound."

"I'd rather get the devil beat out of us a night or two than to break up the pitching turn of one of my regular hurlers," said Stacey.

Crusaders Meet Penn Staters In Collegiate Finals

OMAHA—(P)—The slugging Crusaders from Holy Cross smashed their way into the finals of the National Collegiate baseball tournament with a 15-4 victory Sunday night over Penn State.

U. S. To Try For Enough Steel Flow To Head Off Halt In Weapons Output

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government will try this week to start enough steel flowing from the nation's strike-closed steel mills to prevent a crippling halt in the production of weapons.

The White House announced a four-man committee of the CIO United Steelworkers had been directed by Union President Philip Murray to help work out an acceptable plan for meeting defense needs for steel.

Both the union and industry agreed when wage negotiations collapsed last Monday to permit sufficient steel production for essential defense items.

The House still must act on the measure and is expected to follow the Senate.

If Truman does invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, which he detests, he was not expected to do so until the House votes on the amendment.

The partnership is to commence on the 24th day of May, 1952, and is to continue for a period of five years, unless sooner terminated by notice of such termination published in the same manner and for the same length of time as this certificate.
